Cost estimates made for TVSC building alternatives

In addition to choosing two school board members in the May primary election, voters in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will cast their votes in a referendum to determine whether a centralized high school located between Mentone and Akron should be built or whether additional facilities should be provided at the schools in each town.

Knowing that residents of the corporations desired information on the cost of each of these proposals, the school board recently requested Superintendent Roberts Forbes to prepare a list of cost estimates. Forbes presented the figures to the board this week, saying they represented educated guesses but were based on current costs. Board members were divided in their opinions concerning these figures. Some felt the figures were unrealistic. The report is, however, being presented to the people so that they may have an opportunity to assess the cost of a building program.

High and low estimates were given for each type of construction and ranged from a low of $1,200,000 for two high school facilities to a top of $6,854,000 for one new high school.

In addition, Forbes presented a minimum program that would add classrooms at each school with a combined cost of $810,000. This report is also being published.

Forbes also reported on the money that is available and where it might be obtained. It showed the following:

1. Cumulative Building Fund on hand 320,000
2. Cumulative Building Fund year of 1968 170,000
3. Cumulative Building

Fund year of 1969	170,000
4. Cumulative Building Fund year of 1970	170,000
5. Veterans Memorial Fund --??	250,000
6. Interest expected to be earned 68 & 69	50,000
	1,130,000
7. Working Balance or Tax Rate - ?	70,000
	$1,200,000
The building program has been discussed for the past six years, but was brought to the decision-making point by the fire that destroyed the Beaver Dam school in January.

Editor's Viewpoint Letters to

The Editor

Six men seek two school board seats in the May primary election. Four of these seek to represent Harrison township. They are Thomas Harman, Dr. Donald Van Gilder, David Bowser, and Gale Creighton. Creighton, the incumbent, has been on the board for five and one half years. He had previously announced he would not seek re-election but changed his mind last week in time to beat the March 28 filing deadline.

Eldon Cumberland, current representative from Seward township, faces opposition from Richard Goshert.

Indications are that this will be one of the liveliest school board elections yet held, and candidates are expressing their sentiments concerning the advisability of one or school high schools. The dialog continues in this week's paper with Gale Creighton again speaking for one school and Dr. Donald Van Gilder presenting arguments in favor of two. In addition, letters to the editor have been received from other people who favor two schools.

This is the stuff of which democracy is made, and we welcome the dialog as a healthy indication of an aroused and aware citizenship.

BROWNIE TROOP

Brownie Troop 13 met after school Wednesday at the Mentone Methodist Church with eight girls present. After Tammy Stavedahl conducted the flag ceremony and the business meeting was finished, the girls went on a Discovery Trip to the creek. Since the weather was so nice the girls discovered many things starting to grow and trees and shrubs starting to get leaves. When they arrived back to the church they played games outside. Refreshments were served by Mindy Deal.

Brownie Troop 142

Brownie Troop 142 held their weekly meeting on Tuesday with 14 members present. After repeating the pledge to the flag, the Brownie and Girl Scout Promises were repeated. Attendance and dues were taken. Each Brownie took part in a sniff test. They each had to smell a number of different spices that are used in the home.

Fourteen Brownies completed their Brownie B work and each received the Brownie B handkerchief. A hike was then enjoyed by all. After returning to the church, games were played. Sherry Gray furnished cupcakes for refreshments. The meeting dismissed by singing "Taps."

On Saturday, March 30, ten Junior Scouts and two Cadettes met at the Jack Deal residence for their hike and cook-out. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deal and Mrs. Dale McGowen.

We hiked approximately three fourths of a mile along the river to a lovely spot for our camp fire. Along the way we saw some ducks swimming on the river, among other things as we hiked along.

We roasted hot dogs and had smores with potato chips, carrot and celery sticks and Kool Aid. Before leaving we gathered around the campfire to sing several songs. On our way back we found a snake (Harmless) which was very much more afraid of us than we were of him.

The weather was beautiful for our day outdoors, and we want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Deal for assisting with the hike.

After arriving back at the farm home, the girls enjoyed the baby lambs and playing tether ball.

Participating in the hike were Debbie Owens, Terry McGowen, Sandra Good, Leslie Senff, Jessica Gross, Wendy and Cindy Deal, Stacy Stavedahl, Lisa Owens, Paula Beck, Barbara Johnson, Amy Bowser, Mindy and Brad Deal, and Lori McGowen.

Jr. Troop 25

Junior Troop 25 met Thursday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist Church with 15 girls present. The ladies in charge were Mrs. Walter Kelley and Mrs. Dale McGowen, assisted by Mrs. Jack Deal. The girls sang "The Girl Scout Laws" for the opening.

Definite plans were made for our hike and cook-out on Saturday at the Deal home on State Road 25.

The following girls had badge work signed: Debra Kelley, Barbara Johnson, Lisa Owens, Sandra Good and Amy Bowser with Debra. Barbara and Lisa completing the hospitality badge. Sandra received the collector badge and Amy completed drawing and painting.

Cindy Deal furnished refreshments.

Erie Becomes Part Of N & W Line

The Erie Railroad became a part of the Norfolk and Western Railway System Monday. The inclusion of the Erie provides the N & W system with access to the port of New York, connections with the Delaware and Hudson railroad and, through it, connections with the Boston and Main railroad. The Erie also has multiple connections with the Reading and Central railroad of New Jersey.

It's My Opinion..

By Gale Creighton

No society has ever become bankrupt by investing in education.

Education does not cost, it pays.

Good teachers cost more, poor teachers cost most.

Professional educators prefer a centralized high school.

After State requirements are met, the cost of a centralized high school will be no more and possibly less than two high schools. In the long run, a centralized high school will be more efficient to operate.

The economic situation will get worse before it gets better. We will have more inflation, interest will go higher, competition will become more competitive. The good old days are now. The sooner we get started with a building program the better. It should have been done five years ago.

The T.V.S.C. will have to do more in the field of special education. We have a responsibility to students who are not capable of doing normal school work.

A school board member must be vitally concerned about the education of all the students. As a school board member for the past five years, I feel I have done this.

A school board member must be vitally concerned about the taxpayer who must pay the bill. I feel I have done this also.

Not enough people get involved deeply enough into the affairs of education.

In the future, the T.V. School Board has an obligation to furnish more information to its patrons.

Money invested in Beaver Dam, Talma, and grade additions would not have been necessary if we had constructed a centralized high school when the T.V.S.C. was first formed.

Delaying tactics of the past have been costly and any future tactics will be likewise.

Right or Wrong, school boards are traveling the same route as the trustee system and will soon become obsolete. Control is being vested more and more in the State.

The T.V. School Board should take the initiative now and build a centralized high school rather than spend money on additions then let the State dictate a centralized high school later.

Transportation is always a problem in rural areas. Busing children to grade schools and a centralized high school can be made to work efficiently and economically.

People are ready for changes in building policy.

People must and will vote for a centralized high school in May referendum.

It is unlawful to use school buses for any purposes other than transporting students to and from school and school activities.

It is unfair to taxpayers and unlawful to use school funds to furnish gas, and busses, to clubs and groups, not associated with the school. (The group using the bus must pay the driver for his labor)

In Favor of Two

Dr. Donald J. Van Gilder

Many years ago people decided that public education was the best means for society to maintain and improve itself. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS BELONG TO THE PUBLIC. The Public, in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation (TVSC), is represented by the registered voter living within the corporation boundaries. The objectives of the schools, the budgets, policy making, building plans, text books, courses of study etcetera are all public business. We, the public, have the authority, and I hope the wisdom, to determine the type school organization best suited to our needs in the TVSC.

Two plans of organization were outlined in the 1963 "Purdue Survey" (PS) for the TVSC, with the admonition that the school board of the TVSC is responsible for the final determination of the organization. (Page 62) PS. The school board can be very arbitrary in these matters; However, the present school board has displayed great wisdom in presenting a referendum, to be voted on 7 May 1968, to established guidance for the said school board.

On the one hand we have an option of indicating a new centralized high school to be built at the location of the Harrold farm, on state road 19, three miles south of Mentone. This plan requires the transportation of hundreds of pupils to a central point and the unnecessary expenditure of astronomical funds. This writer demurs from this course of action.

We may by our vote on the referendum indicate to the school board that we demand the continuance of a high school at Akron and a high school at Mentone. This plan establishes policy for the school board to use in the determination of the physical requirements necessary to accomplish the above task.

A positive vote, on May 7th, 1968, for the continuation of a high school at Akron and at Mentone, also indicates to this writer the desirability of providing facilities for grades one thru twelve at Akron and at Mentone.

A plan providing complete school services at Akron and at Mentone envisions (a) the provision for the "academic" or "college preparatory" courses necessary to "keep the doors open" to any professional career, (b) it must provide for the vocational and/or the industrial arts training of pupils to insure a basic foundation for providing saleable skills, and (c) must continue to provide optimum courses in the fields of commerce, fine arts, and home economics.

The advantages of such a plan are many when projected into the 21st Century.

(1) We are conserving natural resources in that valuable farm land is not converted to other uses with the concurrent loss of tax money.

(2) We provide for future expansion of facilities in the natural centers of population. (Approx. one third of our pupil population reside in town corporation limits)

(3) In the matter of transportation of children shuttle-bussing will be eliminated with a saving in time and money by the TVSC and by the parents who now support school activities concurrently at several different locations. (impossible?)

(4) We must locate our fine school facilities in corporation limits to insure that fire and police protection, and medical service are readily available. Water, sewage disposal, etc. are also available.

(5) By this plan we prevent the unnecessary triplication of many facilities such as gymnasiums, cafeterias, shops, etc., and makes for their efficient use by all grades involved, with convenience for instructors.

(6) This writer is aware that the High School populations at Akron and at Mentone are almost ideal for effective and efficient education. The education process thrives on participation, enthusiasm, and responsibility. For example we may have two Latin Clubs, two Math Clubs, two Science Clubs, two Student Councils, two H.S. Bands, two sets of Class Officers, two Basket Ball Teams, etc., that require twice the student participation as compared to one high school. A like number of students is required to accept the responsibility for these activities.

The enthusiastic participation in positions of responsibility and importance must develop the attributes of leadership in a greater number of students as compared to a one high school system.

(7) Now we must become aware of the "Pocket Book Nerve". This writer believes that adequate facilities will be provided for a complete school, at Akron and at Mentone, at a fraction of the cost of one new central high school. This writer further believes that we must "pay as we go"; this too will save a lot of tax dollars. Millions of dollars saved should be a factor to encourage a vote for a two high school system when the referendum is presented to the voter May 7, 1968.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

When considering the education of our children, too many of us overlook the value of the extra curricular activities of the school, such as athletics, band, glee clubs, class plays, Hi-Y, Sunshine Society and others. These are the very tools with which we apply the academic side of our education. Nails are much more useful to us when we also have a hammer. This same principle also applies to college education. Then when we get out into the world on our own, these extra curricular activities have rounded us out and prepared us to grapple with work-a-day life and its competitive perplexities. Many hardships and frustrations can be avoided. We have already learned to get along with people, harmonize our efforts, and find our place in any social or business enterprise. Those few of us who fortunately walk into a family established business, do not understand or appreciate this very important segment of a child's preparation for life.

Presently in the Tippecanoe Valley School District we have two varsity basketball teams, two B. teams, two Freshman teams, two Junior High teams, two baseball teams, two bands, two class plays, two boys glee clubs, two girls glee clubs, two Hi-Y's, two Sunshine Societies, two National Honor Societies, two latin clubs, two spanish clubs, two pep clubs, two drivers clubs, two student councils, two sets of class officers for each High School grade, two salutatorians, two valedictorians, and several others. Now, my friends, please give this real good and honest thinking, - in a central high school there would be but one, and only one, of each of these activities. Thus, your child would have only one half the opportunity of taking part in, and realizing these very important advantages. Do you really want to so jeopardize your child's future success and happiness?

In Loving Memory of Our Dear
Wife and Mother, Georgia Cochran
Who Passed Away April 5, 1967.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
The voice is missed and still the heart,
That loved us well and true,
Ah, latter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are

As time goes by we miss you

Your loving smile, your gentle

Weed Control Publication Is Available

Lafayette, Ind. "Grass pastures are similar to lawns in that a good turf presents little problem with weeds," says
James L. Williams, Purdue University extension weed specialist.

Where there are weed problems, Williams points out, broadleaf plants are the greatest offenders. He advises an early application of 2, 4-D to control broadleaf weeds.

Herbicides should be used with a good maintenance program of seeding and fertilization, the Extension specialist adds.

tion, ID-1, "Weeding with Chemicals," prepared by Williams and other Purdue plant scientists, is a guide to herbicide application for forage crops, field crops, turf, waterweeds, vegetables and fruits and specialty crops.

"Weeding with Chemicals" also explains the use of 2, 4-D in controlling broadleaf pasture weeds. In addition, this publication discusses control of weeds in alfalfa, birdsfoot trefoil and clover.

"Weeding with Chemicals" is available to Indiana residents without charge from county Extension offices or Agricultural Publications, AES Building,

Purdue University, Lafayette,
Ind., 47907. Order by title and

Champs Of '68'

Cerola Vires, a seventh grade student at Talma Jr. High, wrote the following poem that was presented at Friday night's athletic banquet.

We don't have to boast,
Because we know we're the absolute most.

I'll now just state the simple facts,
Of our famous everlasting acts.

At first it was just a game,
We played it for fun.
But then it led us straight to fame,

For every game we played we won.
I'll never know quite how it happened,

Fans were cheering, their voices sounding.
The championship was coming to the end.

Just seconds were left, time was rounding.
But Lo, We got a jump!
Those Trojans, man, we had to get them dumped.

We got the ball, a few steps
we went,
We could not take any more,
our time was almost spent.

Conley had the ball,
It soared up, up, up, into the air.

The final gun had sounded,
But yet we did not care.

Conley made that ball,
It floated in just great.
We'll have to fight no more,
For the Tigers are,

"The Champs Of '68"

The next day assembly was called,
We were in the Tiger gym.

Mr. Acton thanked the cheerleaders and team,
For the pride they brought to him.

The people that I call,
Would you please come forth
tonight,

For these heroes brought fame
to our school,
For they had the will to fight.

So as I call each one,
Would you please give them a hand.

Because they fought and won,
And brought fame to "Tiger Land"

Barrett Comments

On Johnson's

Statement

David M. Barrett, Republican for Congress, today released the following statement:

"President Johnson's announcement in no way changes the basic issue that must be debated in the Third District of Indiana. That issue is not President Johnson himself but the policies of his administration and the unquestioning support that has been given those policies by Congressman John Brademas.

"In this campaign, the Congressman must defend the Johnson-Brademas record he helped to create. This is a record that the Congressman cannot ignore or refuse to discuss. In fact, the only way he can avoid facing up to his own performance is by following the example set Sunday night by his leader."

Centralized high school committee for TVSC formed

A large group of school patrons and taxpayers met on Monday evening April 8, and voted to organize the Tippecanoe Valley School Citizen Committee for the purpose of providing information concerning one centralized high school in TVSC and to encourage voters to vote for the one high school plan on the May 7 referendum. Harrison Bornman was chosen Chairman; Lloyd Bowerman, Vice chairman; Gerald Smalley, Secy.-Treas.; Del Nelson and Gale Creighton were named to take charge of information and publicity.

Mr. Creighton presented those present with a large amount of material he has compiled to help voters make an intelligent decision. These folders are ready for distribution and available to everyone.

The next meeting is tentatively set for Tuesday, April 16, in the Talma community. All voters interested in this important issue living in TVSC are urged to attend. Cash contributions of more than $400.00 by those taxpayers present was evidence of the serious concern for the one high school cause and the election of those candidates that favor that plan. Further information can be obtained by contacting Gerald Smalley, R. 1 Claypool.

The Long Flight Back Ends

From a story
By Ed Zuckerman in the Crown Point Citizen

The flight from Vietnam to Seattle, Wash. takes 18 long hours.

The servicemen, finally coming home after a year of battle, spent their time in a variety of ways. Mostly, they chat with each other about their experiences of the past year.

"Suddenly, the airplane pilot announces that we're almost in the United States and everyone in the plane becomes silent. You can almost hear a pin drop.

"And, finally, the plane's wheels touch ground and everyone on board shouts with excitement. We were home at last," said Sgt. David Grubbs of Crown Point who was on that long-awaited flight home.

Grubbs, an infantryman, was wounded three times and saw much action while in Vietnam.

When his tour of duty ended, his unit had just finished fighting back a North Vietnam army attack at Hue.

"I'm sure glad to be home but, at the same time, I didn't want to leave my buddies behind. I would like to see the war end right now so they could all come home," the 20-year old veteran said.

Grubbs won three Purple Heart Medals, two Bronze Stars, the Army Commendation Medal and the Air Assault Medal and several ribbons during his combat assignment. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grubbs of Mentone.

Grubbs was drafted for service in October, 1966, five days after his marriage. He and his wife are the parents of a nine-month old daughter, Kerri Jo.

Grubbs, who said morale is exceptionally high among U.S. servicemen, said, "We're fighting a bunch of children," in referring to North Vietnamese soldiers, 50% of whom are between 12 and 15 years old. "But," he continued, "we're nothing compared to them. They're used to living in jungles and we just can't underestimate them."

With Silence...And Shouts

While fighting an able enemy force, the U.S. soldier in Vietnam must cope with less than adequate aid from civilians and their government.

Although the South Vietnamese won't draft 18-year olds for combat, there are some troops as young as 12 years old fighting alongside the U. S. infantrymen.

In some quarters, though, the combat troops receive little or no help from local citizens.

"Once, we were cutting down some trees to camouflage a bunker and a farmer run up to us and told us to stop cutting down his trees or else pay for them," Grubbs recalled.

"The farmer speaking through our interpreter, took his complaint to our commanding officer. Our officer ordered us to leave trees alone. He knew that if he didn't the farmer would go to the government and they would tell us to pay for the trees.

"In other words, the trees are more important than our lives," he said.

Grubbs, who said he personally had killed at least two dozen enemy troops, was wounded three times. In July he walked into a deadly punji stake that cut a deep wound into his skin. Last Jan. 7, his unit was caught in an ambush in the Que Son valley, and he received wounds that took him out of action for 48 hours. On Feb. 3, on the second day of the assault on Hue, he suffered more shrapnel wounds to the legs and face. These wounds kept him out of action for 17 days.

Grubbs arrived home last week and will remain at home for a month before reporting for duty at Ft. Campbell, Ky. for a five-month tour of duty until his two-year draft enlistment is up.

Just Plain Bill Says...

I was impressed and pleased by the logic and wisdom expressed in the letters written by Dr. Van Gilder, Dr. Miller, also Mr. Gast. I feel their opinions, observations, and conclusions were very sound and realistic regarding the existing school problem in the T.V.S.C.

I am sure new personnel is needed on the school board. The voters now have the opportunity to accomplish this by electing new and different members to the board.

Should you recall a letter written by me last summer I stated your school board was floundering and unstable. That the voters should think twice then take another long look when voting for school board members. I have not changed my thinking.

I trust the voters will give very thoughtful consideration

Let Us Walk In The Garden

by Rev. Garrett H. Phillips

A special message for Easter.

The day was finally still. As it in the hand of God and bring us together that we might be called the sons of God.

God was in Christ Jesus reconciling the world unto Himself. Even in the stillness of Good Friday, the resurrection was in full power. "Remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom." "This day."

Thus the brief life of Jesus is ended. He was wrapped in death, the last enemy. He was to use a borrowed tomb--to wait the three days to bring hope, to live, to make intercession for you and me.

Now the darkness is gone. The sun has now brought the splendor of its brightness to abide. Yet not the sun we know, but a greater light of the Son of God, Jesus Christ, to shine in the never, never-ending splendor of the new life of the Resurrection.

The voice of the turtle, the song of the birds, the straining of all the dew-kissed flowers, the waving of the palms, the bleating of the sheep, the call of the donkey, all give reveille as the first day of the week begins to dawn. The followers of Jesus had long since stirred and made ready to go to the borrowed tomb to anoint the body of Jesus.

Even if they had found Him not risen, their lives would never be the same. The lame were healed. The blind could see. The demons were cast out. The acceptable year of the Lord had been preached. The love in their hearts was flowing in the never, never-ending splendor of the perfect day.

Most people have only a few high moments in life. A graduation, a picture in the local paper, wedding, a child; but mostly a dull, monotonous life. Already His followers had felt His forgiveness, His great heart of love, the promise of the Holy Ghost. They had seen miracles. They had heard Him say, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." So life had not passed them by. They were on the winning side. They had felt redemption. They had gone out two by two to tell that Christ was here. They had heard The Sermon on the Mount. So if they were only to anoint the body of Jesus, they could never be thankful enough for what had happened in their individual lives. They would never be the same. They would love everyone. They would be without prejudice toward race or color. They would now drink of the water that the Samaritan woman would draw. They would be willing to eat with sinners.

BUT HE IS NOT DEAD! The Tomb is empty! Hell retreats! Heaven is aglow! The angelic chorus sang when He came into the world, a babe born of a virgin. The never, never-ending splendor had arrived. And now, just a few years later, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, has put death under His feet!

The enthroned hope of all the world has been loosened, to bring healing, to bring peace, to bring life, to bring victory, to bring understanding, to bring forgiveness, to bring sanctification. New Jesus reaches out and takes us by the hand to place

The songs! The hope! The shaft of splendor! The shaft of splendor from the voiceless resurrection shines forever.

Shut your eyes. Open your heart. And the shaft will drive out the darkness of sin and shame. You will become a part of the shaft of splendor and see again the nails, the spear, the crown of thorns, the cross, the borrowed tomb--and then see the resurrection!

Let us walk in the garden. The beauty of the early morning grasps the world as a stone moves, and a stirring is heard inside the tomb. Grave clothes are loosened. The firm footsteps of Jesus sound in the garden. His voice is heard, "I am He that liveth and was dead, but now I am alive forevermore, and I hold in my hands the keys of death." "Oh, death, where is thy sting?" Because I live, ye shall live!"

Area Residents Complete First Aid Course

Mrs. Howard Funnell, First Aid Chairman for the Kosciusko Chapter, American Red Cross, issued standard first aid certificates to residents of the Atwood and Etna Green communities who recently completed the 10 hour standard course.

The Etna Green E.U.B. Church, where the REACT Radio club and other citizens took the course, was arranged for by Mrs. Frances Melton. Twenty one of the 27 who enrolled completed the course. Those receiving their Standard First Aid Certificates at Etna Green were Loren Melton, Ronald Young, Mrs. Frances Helton, Sandra Hedington, Suvonne Braden, Beverly Long, Eva Ridenour, Shirley Nicodemus, Robert Swartz, Maurice McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Method, Jr., Mrs. Ross Miller, Roger Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kelley, Mike Kelley, Ruth Long, Eva Lyons, and Mrs. Charles Fletcher Sr. Boy Scouts taking the course were Jeff Klinefelter, Chad Rieweld, Curt Foster and Jim Fleagle.

Residents of the Atwood area met at the Atwood Fire Station for the Standard course with Al Rovenstine and other firemen arranging for the class. Twenty nine of the 35 enrolling at Atwood completed the course. Those receiving certificates were John W. Bolinger, Dick Swanson, Alberta Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harmon, Mrs. Pat Foreman, William Foreman, Joe Swanson, John W. Lutes, Chris Utes, Douglas W. Baker, Thomas Witham, Mr. and Mrs. Al Rovenstine, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clappitt Jr., Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Ray O. Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick and Mrs. Charlene Vogel.

Mrs. Mac Zellers and Mrs. Funnell were instructors for these classes and are currently teaching the advanced first aid course to 38 of the students who completed the standard course. This class is being held at the Atwood Fire Station.

A first aid class may be started when there are eight or more persons interested in taking the course. This might be members of a club, a group of neighbors, friends or anyone wanting to learn first aid. Call the local Red Cross office to enroll. When enough have enrolled a class will be set up and those on the list will be notified.

We Get Letters.....

First I wish to express my appreciation to Loren and Ann for permitting the candidates to use the Letter to the Editor column so freely. Being a weekly newspaper owner myself, I know hat often during campaigns of this sort, expressing views, etc., can be published under paid advertising. Last week, for instance, the News devoted 3/4 of their front page to the TVSC information and a total of one full page in Letters to the Editors.

The Mentone News and The Akron News are doing the communities a great service.

Now for the business at hand LET'S KEEP OUR CORPORATION PROGRESSIVE

Several surrounding area corporations have placed themselves in a precarious position concerning the stability of their system. These unfortunate circumstances are known to most of us. We in Tippecanoe Valley, as we read of the dilemma of these school patrons (and taxpayers) are grateful for at least one thing--that it hasn't happened to us!

But what assurance do we have that we shall continue to escape the financial pitfalls and lack of communication between personnel and administration being experienced at this time by our neighboring corporations?

Contentment among teachers and other personnel is vital. When complaints and dissatisfaction start to grow out in, and with these people, then a corporation structure begins to weaken. Because of open channels of communication between our personnel - school principals - and administration office - we have very little discontent among the personnel. Teachers give more of themselves to their teaching when these favorable conditions exist. Principals find their job easier and more pleasant, and consequently the student benefits, as well as the homes represented. This same thing applies in the area of non-teaching personnel.

Running a corporation, consisting of several schools, is similar to running a home, only on a much larger scale. It calls for a certain amount of money in its operation and maintenance. When a corporation has run smoothly and efficiently for many months, and when there seems to be satisfaction among the personnel - both teaching and non-teaching - talk of "cutting corners", financially speaking, is out of order!

If we decide to cut, delete, do away with, etc., we begin to destroy what has been built up over the past few years. A good, sound, solid corporation structure is not erected in a short while, but by the wrong kind of policies it can be ruined overnight.

To be progressive requires allowing, budgeting-for and spending in many areas in our corporation. Don't be misled by those who will tell you we CAN AFFORD to drastically cut spending in the efficient running of our corporation. This is NOT SO.

The entire operation of the corporation from personnel thru bus routes must be kept updated and in stride with today. --and possibly tomorrow!!

It costs more money, in many ways, to look back. Trying to run TODAY'S corporation on YESTERDAY'S budget won't work. We need to be wise and objective in our spending, this is true. The pendulum must not swing too far in either direction.

Let's continue moving forward and in stride with what is needed and required in the field of education. Let's keep Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation progressive.

Indiana Pig Crop Smaller Purdue Reports

Lafayette, Ind. Indiana hog raisers are reducing their production.

State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University report that the December, 1967-February pig crop totals 1,561,000 head. This is down one percent from the 1,579,000 total of the corresponding period last year.

A cut back in farrowing is planned for the March-May quarter. The statisticians estimate that 226,000 sows will farrow during that three-month period. This represents a four percent drop from the corresponding quarter of 1967.

Fewer sows are expected to farrow June through August. Based on farmers' breeding intentions, the number is expected to be 241,000 sows, compared to 254,000 during the same period of last year--a five percent decline.

Number of sows expected to farrow in the 10 Corn Belt states, which produce the bulk of the nation's pork, during the March-May quarter is three percent fewer than during the same period last year. Intentions for the June-August quarter indicate a three percent drop in the number of sows to farrow in the Corn Belt.

Hogs and pigs on Indiana farms March 1 totaled slightly more than four million, down four percent from the March 1, 1967, total. The number in the Corn Belt is up one percent from a year earlier.

We Get Letters ...

Rural School Parents Appeal

Shuttling school children is an undesirable practice in any school transportation plan. We who live in the farther out areas have been aware of this for the past several years.

Under the two High School plan our children simply get on the bus, ride to the Mentone or Akron school building and get off--and that's all. After school they simply board the bus at school and go directly home.

Under the one Central High School plan we have to get up about a half hour earlier to get the kiddies on the bus that much earlier, so that the high school pupils can shuttle to another bus and get to the central school building on time. Then after school we reverse this process, and consequently, the kiddies get home about a half hour later than under the two high school plan.

This also necessitates that the smaller children at the Akron and Mentone schools will be at school about an hour longer each day than the larger kids that shuttle to the central building. And there is still another undesirable feature here--farm boys will have about an hour less time each day to help their dads with chores and other work.

To those who live nearer a central school this poses no particular problem, but for us who live farther out it is very serious indeed, especially for the little tots who have to stand by the roadside in the dark in the mornings, waiting for the school bus while cars are whizzing by in both directions. Then too, what if we get our time changed to an hour earlier?

Thus, we farther out ones appeal to you closer in ones to be fair and considerate with us and our kiddies, and help us vote in the two High School plan on May 7th. We trust that the love thy neighbor spirit will prevail, and all of us out here will sincerely appreciate it.

TO

TIPPECANOE VALLEY SCHOOL BOARD

I am seeking the school board seat for Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation now held by Gale Creighton. The question in the minds of many people is concerning one high school or two high schools. This, of course, will be decided by you, the voters, in the referendum on May 7.

If elected to serve on the Tippecanoe Valley School Board, I will, within my power, abide by the decision turned in by the voters and the way outlined for the board to follow. I will give my support, energy, thoughts and time to pursue that course of action. I will not try to hinder in any way what has been decided--even though I may not fully agree. As a board member, I would feel it my duty and responsibility to join in and work with the rest of the school board--in full cooperation--for the benefit of the entire Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

Your consideration at the polls on May 7 would be appreciated. Thomas W. Harman, R. R. 1, Mentone, Indiana, phone 353-3841 (evening) or FI 2-2905 (daytime)

THE LURE OF "FOOL'S GOLD" by Gale Creighton

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gale Creighton, Harrison township representative on the Tippecanoe Valley school board, does not agree with the cost figures prepared by Robert Forbes, school superintendent, and published in last week's paper. Arguing the merits of a one-school system, he warns of the fallacy of depending on "Fool's Gold"--the cumulative building fund--and goes on to present his own estimate of the costs of a building program.

The T.V.S.C. voters are confronted with a problem, they make a decision at the polls next month without sufficient knowledge and information. The issue is a one high school system vs. a two high school system.

Professional educators recommend one high school. A very thorough survey was conducted by Purdue Univ. and one high school is their recommendation. The purpose of school reorganization in Indiana was to consolidate the inefficient small high schools into efficient updated modern high schools that could offer equal educational opportunities to all school age children. The State School House Planning Commission, through which all school construction must pass, frown upon operating two high schools in the T.V.S.C. One high school is better for the student, for the taxpayer, and for education. In spite of conclusive and obvious evidence the T.V.S.C. Board has failed to take action and is leaving the decision in the hands of the uninformed voters.

"Fools Gold" or more commonly known as the cumulative building fund is very tempting at the present time. The Board was tempted once before and used a portion to add grade school additions. The present fund amounts to some $650,000.00 and by the time additional facilities could be constructed would amount to approximately one million dollars. This is based on a twenty million dollar plus assessed valuation and the present 82¢ tax rate that has been in effect for some time. Of course most school corporations use a higher rate than this, at least while a building program is under consideration.

This million dollars plus two hundred and fifty thousand more that is possibly available at a low interest rate is sufficient cash to construct facilities at Mentone and Akron and eliminate the Jr. Highs at Talma and burned out Beaver Dam. This could be done provided the State School House Planning Commission gave their approval, which I doubt. This would also add some of the much needed science, shop, home economics, and commercial facilities. More important, to those who are supporting this "cash only" theory and "pay as you go" plan, it would assure them of a continued high school in the two "home towns" as it would never be economically sound to construct a centralized high school later after spending that much on additions to the present high schools. Good business judgment tells me it is good to purchase with cash whenever possible. When we purchase with cash it is necessary to start saving soon enough and hard enough that the cash is there when needed. Let's face it, we started with too little, too late.

I believe if the cumulative building fund money is spent in this manner for additions and a partial program it must be considered "fools gold" for various reasons:

- (1) The million dollar additions would take us beyond the point of return. The taxpayer will eventually find out this avenue is wrong and too costly to provide the facilities needed to compete with educational facilities in other areas but it would be too late and too costly to turn back.
- (2) Facilities are needed now, especially since the Beaver Dam fire. There is no assurance the State will allow these so-called additions. Let's let the present school children have the same educational opportunities as those in surrounding areas.
- (3) If the million dollar plus additions were approved and constructed the Jr. Highs would be returned to Mentone and Akron. Then it would be obvious the cafeteria in Mentone was not sufficient to handle the load.

This may or may not be the case in Akron. It would be obvious the gymnasiums are not adequate to handle the required physical education classes, the intra-mural programs, the Jr. High and High School basketball games and practices, the band practices, and grade school recesses. The first rainy day the grade school is not allowed in the gym there will be a cry for not one but two new gymnasiums. This item alone represents a million dollars the voter had not planned on. The intent was probably not to have this expenditure but none the less it will be there. One centralized gym would not cost this much. Because of the nature of things, what is constructed at one school must be duplicated at the other so there would be two gyms. This has to do with equal opportunity or "I don't want to sleep at the foot of the bed!"

(4) As indicated above, friction between towns exists and will continue on a larger scale if two schools are maintained. This results in petty politics and political maneuvering and this is never good for education.

(5) We live in an era of inflation. Building costs are going up some 5-10% yearly. Why wait and pay more for the facilities we need now.

(6) Experience in the T.V.S.C. has shown the students on the Jr. High level are happier, better adjusted, and better students when separated from the High School students. "Fools Gold" will bring them back together.

(7) In the future we will depend more and more on machines and technical equipment in the classroom, the same as industry. This expensive equipment will need be purchased in quantities of two to accommodate both schools.

(8) Size of student body and cost of operation will prohibit

Column 1 represents one school; column 2 represents what the additions to the two schools will cost provided they are allowed by the state; column 3 represents the vote getter for the referendum and kills the centralized high school. Don't be deceived by "Fool's Gold."

School board takes land option

Highlights of Monday night's TVSC board meeting included a hearing with corporation bus drivers, taking an option on a 40-acre tract of land and accepting a settlement of $109,065.00 for fire loss at Beaver Dam.

The corporation's twenty seven bus drivers, represented by Ben McCloughan, Russel Bacon, Kenneth Bryant, and Alvin Finney, asked for a $2 per day increase in pay plus an additional fifty cents for the shuttle between Mentone and Talma. Drivers presently are paid $9.00 per day, $1.50 for the shuttle, and $2.50 for the shuttle between Akron and Talma. The drivers complimented the board for hiring competent teachers but said they thought competent bus drivers were equally important. They also thanked the board for extending health insurance to them a few years ago but said they had had only one raise in pay since the corporation was formed. The board took the matter under advisement and later in the meeting agreed that since the drivers had been extended insurance privileges in addition to a previous raise that a 22% pay increase would create too much of a strain on the budget at the present time. They, therefore, voted to allow the drivers an increase of $1.00 per day.

The board approved final settlements of fire loss at the Beaver Dam school in a total amount of $109,065.00. The board had previously accepted $1,000.00 for a school bus and at Monday night's meeting accepted $100,000.00 as fire loss to the school building, $6,000.00 as fire loss to furniture and $2,065.00 as fire loss to the band instruments.

The Beaver Dam school had received repairs of approximately $25,000.00 about 4½ years ago and it was thought at the time that this would permit the building to be used another five years. However, the building could have been used longer than that had it not been for the fire. The $109,065.00 has been added to the working balance. Superintendent Robert Forbes said.

After some discussion, the board voted 3-1 to take an option to purchase 40 acres of land for $28,000. The land is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Max Neilans and is located 2½ miles south of Mentone on State Road 19 and slightly north of County Road 700S. The option will be binding until after the May 7 referendum. At this time corporation residents will express their preference for a one-school or two-school corporation. The option is part of a continuing effort by board members to give the public as much information as possible concerning the location of a centralized school, cost estimates, etc.

In other board action, teacher contracts were discussed, payroll and claims approved, and bus No. 25 was sold for $400.

Richard Goshert, school board candidate from District 2, and Richard Dickerhoff were present at the meeting. Dickerhoff

Gale Creighton Will Leave

Gale Creighton, a member of the Tippecanoe Valley school board for the past five and one half years and an announced candidate for re-election, will move with his family from the state at the end of the school year and will not be in a position to serve on the school board. Creighton, who said his decision was based on personal reasons, has not resigned from the present board but says he will no longer be active on it.

His name, however, will still appear on the ballot.

He is presently secretary of the school board and has been active in promoting a centralized high school.

Board members will be elected May 7 and will assume office in July.

Members of the annual staff will be auctioned off for odd jobs at Wednesday night's PTA meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Mentone gym. The minimum wage has been set at 75¢ per hour with a minimum of three hours of work.

spoke strongly in favor of a one-school system and was reminded that voters would cast their preference in the May 7 primary and that a vote for two schools did not mean that two new high schools would be constructed but rather that two schools would be operated with additional building and/or improvements being determined by the board representing the will of the people and the need of the schools.

Board members present included Dr. O. L. McFadden, Eldon Cumberland, Ralph Davis, and David Burkett. Gale Creighton was not present.

Centralized High School Committee Hears Local School Discussed

The Centralized High School Committee for TVSC held a regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening April 16, in the Talma Gym. Thirty-five voters from all five districts were present and participated in the discussions concerning the need to broaden the curriculum.

The main topic was led by Mrs. Paul Shireman, a resident and school patron of this school corporation and a former Home ec. teacher here. She gave a report on the subjects offered in TVSC as compared with the many additional subjects offered in Warsaw and Rochester schools.

"We find we offer a very limited variety of physical Ed. and extra curricular activities, no accelerated classes, no vocational agriculture, no adult education. The commercial and industrial arts departments lack depth and variety. Language and college prep classes are too small and are sometimes combined or may be offered every other year", she said.

Other subjects reviewed were the student teacher ratio, added costs due to teacher duplication, and excessive number of School Principals. "Since we have failed to consolidate our small schools as was intended we now have six (6) principals for 2000 students. If we had a Centralized High School and less small units, 3 or 4 principals should be ample," she said.

Mrs. Shireman pointed out that expert studies show a four year high school must have at

WE RAN OUT OF SPACE

Unfortunately, our space and copy did not come out even this week, and some community items, club news, etc. will have to be held for next week. A great deal of space has been given to school news this week for we feel this is a topic of great concern to all our readers.

We Get Letters.....

To the VOTERS of
SCHOOL CORPORATION...

You are being called upon to make a multi-million dollar investment decision for our School Board. Although they have most of the necessary information and professional help available to them via the Purdue Survey of 1963 and other sources, the board has decided to ask the voter, to make the final decision for them with a referendum on MAY 7th.

Few of us have the chance to spend or invest a Million dollars in a lifetime, so it is quite a job to do so wisely in one day without the necessary facts. To this very important decision about purchasing new educational facilities must be added the far reaching effect it will have on the yearly school budget. No doubt you will recall that consolidation was necessary, because so many small high schools were giving such poor quality education for an inefficient high cost per student ratio. But the greatest risk involved, is in getting a second rate education for our MOST VALUABLE ASSET, our children.

We believe all of this, plus the future economic growth of the area is involved in the way you vote on MAY 7.

For one (1) Centralized High School, in which all 5 districts can take pride.

or
TWO (2) remodel and repair jobs. In the long run both of these costing about the same as one new unit, but requiring more additions and maintenance.

Most of Indiana's School Boards accepted the assigned responsibilities of the office and chose the route of State University surveys, professional consulting agencies, with a sincere desire to do what is best for the child.

Since we must vote on the issue, what will be the basis the voters will use to decide the matter for the Tippecanoe Valley students?

Will it be the emotional route? Such as how far the children ride on the bus, (by the way most kids love it); the basket ball team and other entertainment for the fans; the the pessimistic viewpoint "we are too poor to do anything now"; perhaps the old myth, "the high school leaves town, business goes to pot?"

OR RATHER, will it be what is best for our future citizens, in more modern education for our tax dollars, a broader curriculum and increased vocational training?

Our present School Board voted recently to take an option on 40 acres of the Max Neillans farm located 3 miles south of Montone on state road 19. We understand all candidates and present board members have agreed to accept the majority referendum vote as their future course regarding school building.

So now, let's get up to date. We especially encourage the young parents and progressive minded citizens to get out a LARGE VOTE for One (1) Centralized High School. Our neighbor School Corporations are forging ahead. They are not afraid of the future. Why should we be afraid?

Sincerely yours

Offended By Pandering Advertisements? Post Office Gives Return Instructions

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail through plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls, or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet --- How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements --- which is now available at the Mentone post office. In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children.

Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore mailable, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read.

As the law gives a mail patron the sole right to decide what is offensive, and does not deny others the right to receive the small mail, the Congress felt it does not violate Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech.

While the patron's complaint will only be directed to the sender, it is believed that one or two complaints will provide substantial protection because the great bulk of this advertising comes from fewer than 30 so-called "smut dealers" who are frequently swapping mailing lists.

If a mailer does not strike a complainant's name from this mailing list, and the patron receives a second mailing 30 days after the firm has received the prohibitory order, he may bring the matter to the attention of the postmaster issuing the initial order by writing him and enclosing the second pandering ad with its envelope. If the mailer still fails to respect the order, the Postmaster General may ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the order may be punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Biking Rules

In addition to complying with the laws for the drivers of motorized vehicles, i.e., riding with the flow of traffic and giving regulation arm signals, a bicyclist must:

1. Ride on the regular seat attached to the bike.
2. Carry only the number of persons for which the bike is designed and equipped.
3. Not attach the bike or himself to any vehicle upon the roadway. Hitching a ride can be disastrous.
4. Ride no more than two abreast on streets and highways.
5. Keep both hands on the handle bars.
6. Ride with lights on at night.

"Good bicycling habits may save the life of a bicyclist today, but they may also one day save the life when he is behind the wheel of a car" says Floyd A. Kline, Sr., Director of the Indiana Office of Traffic Safety.

We Get Letters ...

TO THE VOTERS OF
TIPPECANOE VALLEY
SCHOOL CORPORATION:

There are two issues pending this election-- Referendum & School Board Election

1. REFERENDUM VOTE
A. The referendum decision, (one high school vrs. two high schools) should be based on careful thought and consideration after studying the many facts and figures being presented in the newspapers and by other means. This question has been referred to you, the voters, to decide. The School Board, in all fairness to the patrons of the Corporation, should abide by the decision of the majority, as they agreed to do. (There was one vote against this Board move.) To reverse their decision, or re-vote it, would certainly be betraying the confidence of the people of the Corporation.

B. My position on one high school or two high schools is in favor of the latter. I prefer having two schools located in Akron and in Mentone. I feel this is the only way to keep our Corporation solvent. This also would insure a tax rate which the rural areas, older folks and businesses could afford. (This tax rate should be kept in mind, as it will be in effect for at least 30 years.)

Over 80 school corporations in Indiana are in grave financial difficulty at the present time. These systems are hoping the Legislature will raise the ceiling on the tax rate (now 4.95) so they can survive. Is this good business? We need to continue living within our means in Tippecanoe Valley. On a two school plan this can be done with monies on hand and with very little borrowed money needed.

Education need not suffer any. In fact, we would be able to give the students more help and individual attention if necessary.

2. BOARD MEMBER ELECTION

A. This also requires careful consideration. The men serving on our School Board must be able to keep the entire Corporation in mind at all times.

B. On financial matters, they should consider the taxpayers position. Careful and wise decisions are needed in spending.

C. Men elected to the School Board should be steadfast within themselves-- (not wavering, unsure, committed to a pressure group, or easily intimidated.) These men must possess quality traits of reasonableness, integrity and responsibility. School Board members face a big job, and thus it requires unusual men.-- Men who are willing to take the time to give of themselves to fill this civic responsibility.

The questions facing the voters of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation must not be confused -- they are TWO SEPARATE ISSUES and should be dealt with accordingly. Voters should approach them both objectively.-- 1. Decide which high school plan you favor, and 2. Select the man you feel is qualified to serve on our School Board.

If elected to serve on the Tippecanoe Valley School Board, I will, within my power, abide by the referendum decision turned in by the voters, and the way outlined for the Board to follow.

TERRE HAUTE, IND.--Indiana State University will hold 16 two-day summer orientation and registration sessions for all new 1968 students.

Students who will be entering ISU for the first time in the first summer term, second term or the fall term are required to attend one of the sessions to complete their course schedule for fall and get acquainted with the campus.

They will stay overnight and have their meals in university residence halls.

Parents are invited to accompany their sons and daughters to the campus to get a brief look at university life. They will be lodged on separate floors of residence halls and participate in parents' information sessions.

Scarves are popular accessories this spring. To prevent creases, Purdue University extension clothing and textiles specialists suggest hanging scarves over the cardboard roll of a pants hanger.

We Get Letters.....

Now more than ever before, we as parents, and students too, see the wisdom of advanced education or specialized training. Many students are not interested in four years of college or several more years to specialize in professional work. What does our corporation offer in the vocational field? Each year we are made more aware of the lack of competent men in the trade field. The vocational education is costly and certainly little would be available in two schools, but think what we could offer on a combined effort. This type of school program would especially appeal to many boys, holding their interests in school, and guaranteeing them good jobs and higher incomes after graduation.

In the sports department instead of losing one basketball team, we could offer football, which many parents would like to see in our system.

We believe petty little things are clouding our long range vision. Having lived in Seward Township, the first in this corporation to loose their high school, we can see the wisdom of an extra few minutes on the bus for better education. Some of our children have been crossing three townships by bus for Junior High. They would appreciate that "Love your Neighbor Spirit" right now. A Central High School would be much closer than Talma Junior High.

We have not had a consolidation, but a process of elimination. Three townships have sacrificed what was just as precious to them as the remaining two schools mean to their alumni and patrons.

Be Sensible not Sentimental.
Be for better education not against petty issues; but through careful planning can bring to our children the future, feel each parent wants for their child.

Vernon and Marcilla Meredith

Area Students On Dean's List

Four area students were among those listed on the Dean's List of Honor Students for the Winter term at Manchester College.

The Dean's List of Honor Students includes those students completing a term of fourteen or more credit hours who grades for the term place them in approximately the upper ten per cent of their respective classes.

Letters to The Editor

In addition to the many other higher costs of a central high school, the extra costs of transportation of school children stands out most.

Does anybody think that we can buy extra school buses, hire extra drivers, pay extra insurance, gas and maintenance for hauling the pupils from Akron and Mentone for less cost than they are now walking to school?

And how about those children that live in the four corners of the district and other far out areas? Will it cost more to haul them only to Akron and Mentone, or to haul them still farther to the center of the entire district. This again brings up the highly undesirable shuttle of pupils from one bus to another and from one school to another, and the longer hours imposed on the smaller kiddies that will be left at the Mentone and Akron schools.

REMEMBER - these extra costs and undesirable features will be upon us every day of the entire school year.

School group hears curriculum director

The Director of Curriculum for the Indiana State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. John Carr, talked to an attentive group of TVSC parents and voters for about 2 hours Monday evening in Mentone. The audience that filled the school cafeteria heard Dr. Carr give his personal professional opinions about today's concepts of learning. He said, "I we are going to provide an adequate education, we must expect to pay some money for it. Many times the facilities we get for a skimpy amount of money will be more costly than those which cost more."

He observed that today's teacher is perhaps the first generation of educators that is called upon to prepare the student for a world with which he is unfamiliar himself. Therefore he must give the pupil the tools with which to change his job two or three times during his lifetime and to retool his mind. The teacher inspires the child to have the ability to learn for himself, rather than to die out learning.

Thus the educator needs the environment that will create a good learning situation, such as adequate classrooms and proper number of students. This requires laboratories of several kinds and types, a place where the students can bring problems of all kinds for research. "We need libraries beyond what we have ever known before, so that the student can do more independent work and know how to get the facts," he said.

In the specific area of large group instruction versus individual attention, Dr. Carr noted that if a communication situation is developed where one student mind competes with another student mind, with the teacher directing the situation, more desirable results are often obtained this way than the older system of teacher-pupil individual relationship. This applies to high school teaching especially.

He believes that a high school student body of about 700 to 1600 is the smallest number possible today, to give the youngster all that he needs in secondary education, this size will usually make the classes average one teacher to 28 or 30 students. Such a high school can offer a total physical education and athletic program. It can provide more extra-curricular activities for more students. The State Director of Curriculum feels a larger student body offers the opportunity to not only teach the basic subjects with less teachers, but allows the enrichment subjects such as journalism, dramatics, and speech along with a broad spectrum of vocational studies to be offered economically. "We should not allow high schools under 1500 student to be split," he said.

During the question period, Dr. Carr was asked, "If we should vote on May 7 for 2 schools in our corporation, would the state give its approval?" His reply was, "In a similar situation recently, the state of turned down the request". He was very careful to state, since no application had yet been submitted from this corporation, that he could not guarantee that any official ruling would agree. Cont. on back page

TVSC Gets $225,000 Loan at 1% Interest

Announcement was made this week that the school board had received a commitment from the State of Indiana for a $225,000 loan at a rate of interest of only one percent. This loan can be paid off over a period of 20 years.

When needed, this amount will be received from the Veterans Memorial Fund. The Tippecanoe Valley School Board had claimed a waiver from regular rules, because of the Beaver Dam fire under the disaster clause of the state law.

The school board had applied for the maximum amount of $225,000, but a hearing on March 8 was tabled as some state officials were not yet convinced that the Beaver Dam fire, with an insurance collection of over $100,000, was considered a financial disaster. However, at a meeting on March 18 a loan commitment of $225,000 was approved by the state at one percent interest.

School board members estimate that this loan will save the school corporation over $100,000 in interest over other methods of borrowing.

The school board has the commitment but cannot get the $225,000 until building expenditures are due and payable. Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has some money invested at over 5% interest and stated that this money cannot be received until bills are due because the school corporations might borrow the money at 1% and then re-invest it at over 5%.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I learned to read when I was five years old on account of I heard it was the secret to happiness. Ever who told me that knew a awful lot about education, a awful little about happiness. As a matter of fact, the more I read the more I'm convinced there's a happiness gap in the world. Fact is, gap ain't the word for it--it's more like a gorge.

I'll fill you in on what I mean. I read the paper every day, except when the paper boy forgets me or else the dog chews it up. And, if what they write is true, it ain't no wonder folks is taking LSD.

Now you take ole Lyndon Johnson for instance. That fella has got more troubles than a tater in a tater bug circus. First, he got blamed for the worlds problems, and now he's catching you-know-what about all the riots in this country. Personally, I don't see how one fella could cause all that trouble. Well, be that like it will, now some hair stylist in New York has jumped all over LBJ for not wearing his hair right. This here hair doodler says Johnson looks like a picture without a frame with his hair slicked down. Personally, I don't blame the President cause he's been framed enough as it is. It wouldn't surprise me none to see this hair business brought before the U.N.

Then I read where the Ghana government is trying to get rid of their ousted president's limousine. Its got AM-FM radio, television, a bar, a refrigerator, writing desk, dictating machine, telephone, bulletproof glass, and a hidden gun compartment. They're only asking $47,275. for the thing. Personally, I think our government oughta but it cause Ghana is one a them depressed areas anyhow. It seems they're having a tough time buying the license tags for the thing.

Another thing Mr. Publisher, out there in California some newspaper folks have undermined the hole County fair structure. Seems like they bought some cheap food in a supermarket, put it in jars and won all the prizes for the best homemade foods. Now, we can't even trust the judges at county fairs no more.

And, I read where ole Orville Freeman claims the only way to stop riots in the big city is to send all them folks back to the farm.

I've finally come to the conclusion that the world is really as bad off as the Bible says.

So long and Amen!
Yours truly,
Parson Jones

Homemaking Hints

Butter or margarine may be substituted for vegetable shortening in baking, notes the Consumer and Marketing Service. However, butter and margarine contain only 80 percent fat. One cup of vegetable shortening is equal to one cup plus two tablespoons of butter or margarine.

A carefully planned shopping list will help you resist impulse buying at the grocery, say Extension foods and nutrition specialists at Purdue University.

Corned beef is made from the plate, flank, rump or chuck cuts of beef. It is salt-brine cured from 30 to 40 days. The Consumer and Marketing Service says that many stores sell corned beef with plain, mild or garlic flavors in 2 to 5-pound film bags.

Liquid honey or honeycombs keep best in covered containers at room temperature, suggests the Consumer and Marketing Service. The cover keeps in aroma and flavor and keeps out moisture and other odors.

W.S.C.S. Hears Japanese Program

It was like a visit to Japan for those who attended Woman's Society of Christian Service at the home of Mrs. Ruth Urschel April 18, 1968. The three ladies giving the lesson modeled the traditional Japanese kimono. Japanese arts were brought out in the many, many curios displayed by the members and beautifully arranged throughout the home by Mrs. Urschel. There were beautiful dishes, handpainted vases, Japanese architecture, dolls, fans, screen paintings, silk embroidered pictures, ceramics, wood carvings, weaving, Japanese literature, poetry, color prints, etc.

Mrs. Urschel spoke on "The Ferment and Change in Japan". Two favorite songs of the Japanese youth, "Be Still My Soul" and "I Would be True" were sung by the group. Mrs. Lea Hudson read Psalm 121, gave the Japanese version of the Twenty-third Psalm and the poem entitled "Change". Mrs. Pat Gross spoke on "People of Japan". The boys are given preference. Parents still arrange some marriages in Japan, but most young people choose their own mates. The parents generally let their children make the final decision. Few young people date before the age of about 18.

Mrs. Ruth Urschel continued the study with "The Response of the Church in Changing Japan". Christianity is in the minority. Of the 100 million population, 800,000 are Christian. Churches flourish more in the cities than in the country. Other religions are: Shintoism, Buddhism, Confucianism and Taoism.

The next meeting of The Woman's Society of Christian Service will be in the home of Mrs. Marjorie Cooper on May 16. The topic is "Whither the Methodist Church".

All mothers and daughters are invited to the May 5 Mother and Daughter Banquet at 5:30

P.M. in the Church basement. Tickets will be sold prior to the banquet. "Sonnets on Bonnets" will be given by Mrs. Manifold from Huntington.

The date of the next Methodist Men's Supper is May 7.

Lovely refreshments in keeping with the Japanese atmosphere (including "Fortune Cookies" which created great interest and amusement) were served by Mrs. Lois Davison, Mrs. Margaret Phillips and Mrs. Eva Belle Smith.

WINNSBORO, LA., FRANKLIN SUN: "Since the President has been unable to 'reason together' with labor and business, and wages and prices have continued to spiral, the Administration has hinted darkly that controls may be necessary. As a war measure, of course. Any Main Street merchant could spell chapter and verse on the idiocy of controls from Washington, and how the law-abiding citizens are the victims of the scheme, while blackmarketeers, buyer and seller, flourish. However, we greatly fear that controls there will be, this being a favorite gambit of politicians who confuse better government with bigger government."

GREENWOOD, MISS., COMMONWEALTH: "The freedoms guaranteed in the Bill of Rights are not a rock to cling to. They are a living bulwark, an ally against the stifling forces of repression. Because of this, each succeeding generation has a sacred duty to nurture and extend these freedoms so that they may continue as the core of the American heritage."

BOYNE CITY, MICH., CITIZEN: "It is generally conceded by knowledgeable postal employees themselves, particularly the more helpful ones, that bureaucratic regulation is the cancerous affliction which destroys initiative and efficiency in the service."

LEWISVILLE, TEXAS, LEADER: "We Americans have for so long felt smugly secure in our nation's economic stability that many can't come to grips with the fact that our national financial structure is on shaky ground indeed and other nations have the weapons to pull the rug out from under us completely if they lose confidence in the stability of the dollar."

Mrs. Nellie Julian spent a few days last week at the home of the Lester Bruners.

Review Your Life Insurance

Lafayette, Ind. How long has it been since you've reviewed your life insurance policies?

Maxine McManus, Extension home management specialist at Purdue University, suggests that you occasionally review the policies to be sure you have the amount and kind of insurance that fits the needs of your family.

An increase in the size of your family might mean that you need additional insurance. If you take on a large debt, such as home mortgage, you may need more life insurance to cover the debt until it is paid off.

On the other hand, if the children are grown and the house is paid for, you might not need as much life insurance.

While you are examining the policies, be sure the beneficiaries are up to date. Sometimes only the wife is listed when it might better to include young children as beneficiaries. Or, perhaps the first child is listed as a beneficiary but you have not included later children.

Occasionally the beneficiary dies before the policyholder. Then, when the insurance becomes payable, the beneficiary's heirs, rather than the policyholder's heirs, get the proceeds.

So, it's a good idea to discuss your life insurance program with your family or other beneficiaries and let them know the policies are kept.

Don't use household disinfectants around food, caution Extension safety specialists at Purdue University.

Sorority Hears Therapist

Members of the Beta Epsilon Chapter Psi Iota Xi recently met in the social room of the Farmers State Bank and heard Mrs. Mike Warren, speech and hearing therapist for the TVSC schools, describe her work and show some of the materials she uses.

Speech and hearing therapy has been a project of the sorority since 1938 when it helped start the mobile clinic that operated out of Indiana University. The national sorority also was one of the first to aid Riley Hospital, and it has contributed many thousands of dollars.

Miss Annabel Mentzer recently entertained the sorority in her home. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Martha Shireman, who announced that with the installation of a new chapter at Parker there are now 117 chapters.

A letter from Marion Acton thanking the sorority for its donation of Travelogue tickets for the Talma school was read. Plans were made to help with a breakfast for the seniors after the prom.

The next business meeting will be conducted May 7 at the home of Mrs. Archie Leckrone.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Look over old furniture carefully before you decide to re-finish it, suggest Purdue University home furnishings specialists. Sometimes old pieces only need a good cleaning.

When you are storing winter knits, Extension clothing and textiles specialists at Purdue University say to fold, not hang them. Hanging knits may distort their shape.

Brush chicken with lemon juice, then butter before broiling for a delicious taste treat, suggest USDA home economists.

Vehicle Inspection Plans Continues

State vehicle inspection department director Willard L. Walls announced this week that when the state's mandatory vehicle inspection program gets underway in January, 1969, motorists may voluntarily take their vehicles to any inspection station during January and February to get their certificate of inspection.

In March, motorists whose plate numbers end in digits 1 or 2 must have their vehicles inspected that month. In April, inspectors will check vehicles with license plate numbers ending in 3, 4 or 5. Motorists whose plate numbers end in 6, 7 or 8 will be inspected in May and those whose plate numbers end in 9 or 0 will be inspected in June. In 1970, motorists will be required to present a valid inspection certificate before they can purchase license plates. The inspection fee will be $2.50.

Walls also reported that many requests for applications are being received from garages, service stations and individuals interested in establishing inspection stations. Applicants must show they are mechanically qualified and that they can provide adequate space, personnel and equipment to inspect. In addition, they must pass investigation by the State Police motor vehicle inspection division.

Inspection stations, depending on their qualifications, may be licensed to inspect one, all or any combination of four classes of vehicles. The classes are as follows:

Class A -- Passenger vehicles and light commercial vehicles up to and including one ton weight.

Class B -- Commercial vehicles over one ton and oversize vehicles.

Class C -- Motorcycles.

General Phone Begins Long-Term Construction

General Telephone this week announced a $171 million five-year construction budget to continue the expansion of facilities throughout its territory.

Clifton E. McCormick, president, said, "This budget, which represents an average annual expenditure of over $34 million for the years 1968-1972, will enable General Telephone to continue moving at full speed in expanding and further improving facilities throughout our Indiana territory."

Major categories in the budget are:

Central office switching equipment, $58.4 million; telephone instruments and related equipment, $47.8 million; "outside plant" such as poles, cable and underground conduit, $50.9 million; and land and buildings, $9.8 million. Other types of general equipment comprise the remainder of the budget.

R. Edward Knafel, district manager, said the 1968 portion of the budget provides for extensive cable construction throughout the Wabash district.

Fat in bacon is necessary for the characteristic flavor and texture, remind Extension consumer marketing specialists at Purdue University.

Class D -- Foreign made vehicles.

The official inspection station sign will indicate at the bottom what type of inspections each station is qualified to conduct. Walls added that only one license is required regardless of how many classes of vehicles a station is equipped to inspect.

Walls urged that qualified persons interested in operating an inspection station apply as soon as possible. There will be approximately 4,000 inspection stations throughout the state, he said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

It has been said that the ideal school consists of a student sitting on one end of a log and the teacher on the other end. Of course this arrangement would be highly impractical in our modern complex society. Yet the individual teacher-pupil relationship is still an important part of the total education process and the bigger our schools become the farther we become removed from this person to person relationship. I think we will all agree that the very small high schools having enrollments well below 100 students, of which there were many in Indiana a few years ago, were totally inadequate from the standpoint of curriculum and course offerings. But when we begin to compare schools with enrollments of 300 students with those having enrollments of 500 to 600 students the difference in size becomes much less significant and one begins to see that many of the desirable characteristics of the smaller schools are lost when we move into a larger school situation.

If we did not have two incorporated towns within our school corporation, there might be some argument in favor of a centralized high school. But Akron and Mentone are and will continue to be the centers for community and business activity, and any community will grow and progress as its business centers grow and progress.

Since financial and transportation advantages of the two school system have been pretty thoroughly pointed out in previous articles I do not wish to include any remarks on these subjects in this discussion. May I conclude by saying that academic accomplishment and the development of basic vocational skills along with that intangible something which we might describe as the ability to become a good well adjusted citizen in the community in which we live are still the most important goals of our public schools. I am convinced that the two-school system in Tippecanoe Valley Corporation will achieve these goals just as efficiently and at much less over all cost than the Centralized High School. These convictions come as a result of forty years experience as a public school teacher and administrator.

Willis L. Bowen

Take your problems to Church this week -

Teacher Has The Right Idea

Her life has been filled with more work than play, more sacrifice than gain or acclaim, but she considers the results worth all she has given of herself. She has learned to fulfill responsibilities with a glad heart, finding contentment and tranquillity in accomplishments. Her brilliant mind and talents would have earned her much more in material endeavors. She chose teaching as her profession, with the conviction that if just one boy or one girl each year was turned about and started in the right direction it was worth more than all the material gain she had sacrificed.

She finds contentment too, in her regular attendance at church. It buoys her up to face the problems of each day and week. It restores her spirit, as the psalmist promised, and it renews her strength and convictions. It aids in many ways. It will do the same for you if you but give it a sincere trial.

Editor, Akron News:

I have been reading, with interest, your articles on the school situation in Akron and Henry Township. May I suggest that these articles are all biased according to the desires and thinking of the authors.

The question seems to be, "Shall Akron continue to have a High School?" I believe a large majority of the people of Akron and Henry Township will vote yes. Were they not promised that if Akron and Henry Township joined the Tippecanoe Valley organization that Akron would never lose their high school?

If they joined with Rochester they would immediately lose their high school and also their basketball team (a prime consideration).

There is little doubt but that consolidation was premature and ill-considered in many cases. Size of a school has little to do with the quality of education it produces. Many of our little "Red School Houses" turned out better educated pupils than some of our fine modern schools. At least they could read and write.

I believe in consolidation of our schools. I think it is a step in the right direction. But it should always be done for the benefit of the students, not to satisfy the prejudice or petty jealousies of communities. I doubt very much if a vote on this question will be of any constructive value. However, I admit that this is the democratic process. The question arises, "Will another mistake correct the original one?"

You have doubtless heard of the teachers strike in the Florida schools, and make no mistake, it was a strike, engineered by the N.E.A. and backed by A.F.L.-C.I.O. Its purpose was for the N.E.A. to take over the Florida school system, to dictate the curriculum, to bypass the school boards and even dictate the state legislature.

The strike failed, but it has set back education in Florida for a generation.

Too many of us tend to lose sight of the real purpose of our school systems. A half million dollar gymnasium or swimming pool may be very nice, but they contribute very little to the real purpose of education, which should be a preparation for the student to become a useful, upright citizen.

Respectfully,
Ralph Lukens

Motorists should not weave from one lane to another, warns the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. Such weaving in and out of traffic increases the risk of collision with other cars. Competent drivers choose their lane with care and move from it only when they are certain they can do so without endangering others.

CONTRAST MEDIA

A CONTRAST medium is a chemical injected or otherwise taken into the body to fill a particular organ with a dense, opaque material which x-rays cannot penetrate.

For many years x-ray has been used for outlining bony tissue only. Now, with contrast media, soft tissues can also be delineated on the x-ray plate.

Contrast media enables x-ray examination of the digestive tract for the diagnosis of diverticulosis and similar disorders. It is also used in examining the stomach, gallbladder, kidneys, bladder, lungs, and the brain and spinal cavities.

A recent new discovery is a substance which produces radiographs in which the blood vessels in the brain can be shown in detail; this procedure is known as cerebral angiography.

Undoubtedly the most familiar of the contrast media is barium, which has been in use for many years, but research is continuous, and while long, hard and tedious, it leads to discoveries which help mankind to stay alive and be healthy.

Canned Pineapple Topsy Turvy

Pineapple Growers Association Photo

This handsome pineapple pie turned up side down comes out looking more beautiful than right side up. Make the refreshing filling with a can of pineapple tidbits - sweetened and thickened - and a little lemon juice to accent the natural flavor. For an interesting and unusual glass, coat the pan bottom with butter, brown sugar and pecans before lining with pastry. When friends are invited for coffee and dessert, serve this handsome creation with ice cream.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN PIE

1 (1-pound 4 1/2-ounce) can pineapple tidbits 3/4 cup brown sugar (packed)
Water 6 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons cornstarch 1/2 cup pecan halves
2 tablespoons lemon juice Pastry for double 8-inch crust

To syrup drained from pineapple add water to make 1 1/4 cups liquid. Combine with cornstarch, lemon juice and 1/4 cup brown sugar. Cook, stirring, until clear and thickened. Blend in pineapple and 2 tablespoons butter. Cool slightly. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter in 8-inch pie pan. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup brown sugar and 1 tablespoon water. Arrange pecan halves, rounded side down, around bottom and sides of pan. Carefully line pan with pastry. Spoon in pineapple mixture. Cover with pastry; seal and flute edges. Prick top. Place pie on foil to catch drippings. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, until browned. Turn out on serving plate immediately. Cool. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

with the aforementioned decision or his own personal views.

Harry Bornman, chairman, again stated the purpose of the TVSC Citizens Committee for one Centralized high school is to inform the voters and to encourage them to vote for the one school plan on the May 7 referendum. Lloyd Bowerman commented on the ballot to be used on election day. Del-Nelson reported on some statistics developed by a former administrative school official now living in the district, showing that TVSC could finance a new centralized high school having an assumed cost of 3½ million dollars, less the money from the cumulative fund at the time of building completion of $1-130,000 by increasing the tax rate 3½¢ over the present cumulative rate of 82 cents. Tippecanoe Valley School Corp. has an assessed valuation of near 21 million dollars at present. The estimate assumes $2,370,000 of 20 year bonds could be sold at 5% interest.

The final information meeting in the series will be held at the Akron school on Monday evening, April 29, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Seventy-one per cent of Indiana's 1967 corn crop was harvested as shelled corn, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. In 1966 two-thirds of the crop harvest was shelled.

About one-third of the state's 1967 corn crop was marketed direct from the field, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. Ear Corn storage on farms accounted for 22 per cent of the crop; shelled corn storage on farms represented 29 per cent and 13 per cent was placed in commercial off-farm storage. Three per cent was fed during harvest.

Approximately 57 per cent of Indiana's 1967 corn crop was dried artificially on farms at harvest, say state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This is 10 per cent more than in 1966. Poor drying weather and the unfavorable harvest accounted for the increase.

Only 42 per cent of the corn harvested in Indiana last year was allowed to dry naturally in the field or in farm storage, compared to 51 per cent a year earlier, say state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

Food marketing provides many jobs and incomes. About five million workers assemble, process, and distribute farm-food products.
