Richardson also reported the Indiana State Highway Department is making a survey to determine the placing of speed limit signs at the four entrances to the town, needed since annexation changed the town's former boundaries.

The Highway Department asked for and received permission to conduct a survey about the need for a traffic blinker light at Broadway and SR 25 and four-way stop signs at the intersection of SR 19 and Franklin St.

Also, discussed was the need for street repair now being surveyed by Harry Sullivan.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

The NEWS welcomes letters from its readers so long as they deal with subjects of general community interest. The NEWS reserves the right to reject letters in poor taste and to edit them without changing the writer's original meaning. Anonymous letters will not be published. The name of the writer must appear with his or her letter.

C of C

Dear Editor:

In my official capacity as the President of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce, and personally as a member of our community, I felt compelled to take out a few minutes to write you this letter to thank you for, and to let you know that we are very appreciative of your cooperation, help, interest and especially your participation in the Chamber's endeavors to make our community a better place for all of us. Without your participation, I am most certain of failure and frustration in our aims and under takings; with your excellent participation, I am most happy to report to you that, in my estimation, we are making progress.

As you know, the Chamber participates in or sponsors totally or partially the Mentone Egg Festival, the 4th and 5th grade basketball games for boys and girls, the Youth League, the Community Food Stand at the Warsaw Fair, the Bell Museum, among others.

I would be remiss were I not to mention the fact that our success, especially with respect to the food stand during the Warsaw Fair, is directly related to the able assistance we are blessed with from you and the citizens of our community.

Notwithstanding our success so far, I think that you would agree with me that there is still room for improvement. I would welcome your ideas and suggestions to help us make your Chamber of Commerce and our community even better. I realize that we have had our difficulties and misunderstandings in the past. I don't doubt that we shall have same in the future too. However, I appreciate your candid and open constructive criticism to keep us, your elected officers, in tune with our aims and realistic goals. I feel that our ability to reason together is a good sign. Once again, I want to emphasize that we welcome your comments, ideas and suggestions.

I would like to take a minute to urge you to help us secure the participation of an even greater number of business people as members of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce. As you know, the yearly membership is $25.00 per person; however, any other person from the same business entity only pays the additional sum of $5.00 per year. Also, as you may know, our organization provides for participation in it to non-business persons for a yearly contribution of $15.00. I feel that the Mentone Chamber of Commerce would be even more effective with greater number of members and friends and, therefore, I appeal to you to work for the enlistment in our ranks of those persons you think would be an asset to our membership.

Keep in mind that the Mentone Egg Festival is fast approaching. We are now in the process of making plans for it. In fact, some plans have already been formulated. Soon you will be hearing about them.

Once again, thank you for your cooperation, interest and participation in the Mentone Chamber of Commerce. Likewise, I thank you in advance for more of the same in the future. Sincerely,
Jim Miller

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

I gave up sweet and salty snacks and seconds for Lent.

Our church doesn't require that we give up anything; I just wanted to do something constructive, something that hurt a little, and denying myself food was as painful as anything I could think of, even if the selfish side of me knew that losing a few pounds wouldn't be much of a sacrifice.

And so instead of seconds, I simply ate bigger first helpings and instead of sweet and salty snacks, I drank a lot of tea and ate apples. But then came the final week of Lent, the one that is the saddest of all weeks, the one that began locally with rain, fog and general gloom, and the devil hit me where I am weakest--with an attack of chocolate-holism that could be treated only with a bag of chocolate-covered peanut clusters.

Washing down the last of the chocolate with cups of hot tea, I stared out my office window at the bulletin board on the church lawn across the street and read: "The values of Lent are not based in what we give up but what we take up."

I felt a little better because I knew I had given up one thing--a few hours of time for a prayer experiment group that had become one of the most meaningful experiences of my life, one in which I'd become closer to many people I had known, but not really known, all my life. It was a giving that resulted in my getting more than I gave.

I reflected on the prayer group, on the experiences we had shared and on our answered and unanswered prayers. And I thought again of the week that always seems so sad, that this year began with rain and gloom, that would end, as always, with the saddest day in Christendom--Good Friday. And I began to cry, which, for people who know me, is nothing unusual, except that these were tears of joy at a Good Friday story with a happy ending, a prayer dramatically answered.

The narrator was a woman whose husband was a minister. They lived full and active lives, but there had been a time during World War II when life had not been so happy. Her husband had been a prisoner of war. The men prayed for release, but days turned into weeks and months and it seemed they were destined to spend the rest of their lives in prison, their prayers unanswered.

"By the time Good Friday came," she recalled, "morale was at rock bottom."

"Then, just at the time Christ was suffering on the cross, there came a loud roar, and Gen. Patton's tanks knocked down the gates of the prison and the men were freed."

Talk about answered prayer, that was for real in a way more vivid than most of us will ever experience.

Remembering their misery, I wept at my weakness. I looked again at the bulletin board and wondered if it wasn't about time I took up something more positive than chocolate binges, something like tank driving maybe. And it was then in that gloomy moment that the real power of our prayer experiment group hit me, and I realized we were all, in effect, learning to be tank drivers. And some of us, by our own making, were prisoners too blinded by the present to see the joy and promise that marks the end of this sad week--Easter.

And I wasn't thinking about chocolate bunnies and marshmallow eggs.

60 YEARS AGO

Hay, grass, weeds and paper will clog up the manhole on the street drainage. This backs up the water. Every householder should avoid allowing litter of any kind to accumulate about their respective premises, and thus give all drainage a free flow for the water to get away. Just a little care on the part of the people will keep the town cleaner and keep all the drains open better.

Akron never emerged from a winter season in such a horrid condition as it does this spring. Most of this unkemptness was occasioned by putting in the water system. It wintered up even before the system was completed and there was no time to level things up nor down. The result is, Akron is disheveled. The city officials are busy dressing up the coarse places and all property owners are joining in the work and by the time grass grows and the birds sing Akron will be prettier than ever before. Akron is on two main thoroughfares, and scores of automobiles carrying strangers pass through every day. Under these conditions no one desires to be called shabby. We won't stand for that name.

During the electrical storm last Saturday morning, lightning cut a neat drank. It hit Charley Florh's silo on the old Dr. Case farm this side of Disko, passing on it touched Otto Groninger's barn to the damage of fifteen dollars and, passing on up into town hit the Ed Harman house, doing but little damage, but scared the occupants of the house a little, the W. E. Smith family who had recently moved into it. The Groninger barn was insured in the Farmer's Mutual and the damage was made good before the smoke cleared away. But the carpenters must do the mending.

39 YEARS AGO

The weather again became the chief topic for discussion this week when residents of Akron awoke to discover the damage done the night before. A cold rain which froze instantly was the main cause for worry, as trees, telephone and light poles, and shrubbery broke off under the added weight.

Akron's newly organized twenty-eight piece band will go to Plymouth Saturday to compete for honors in a district meeting. They will compete against other bands in Class D, which is the class designated for first year bands. They will wear their new gold and black uniforms for the first time.

Fire completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nicodemus Wednesday when sparks from the flu caught and ignited the roof. The place is known as the Elias Shriver farm, and is located on the Curtis road, southwest of town. Members of the local fire department went to the scene with chemicals, but a strong wind fanned the blaze, and it burned in about two hours time.

Sharon Louise McFarland was the guest of honor at a party given last Friday afternoon from three to five by her mother, Mrs. John McFarland. The occasion was Sharon's fourth birthday.

Four local students have won high honors in the Indiana University scholarship contests it was announced this week. Winners are: Alys Ault, Karen Gast, Rita Hopkins and Sharon Bowen. The contest, a regional affair, was held at Rochester last Saturday and Mrs. Walter Waechter is the instructor.

There's no April Fool about it - that date, April 1, on the calendar this year, 1952, means Uncle Sam is placing in effect the first of three 10 per cent increases congress authorized for mailing of second class matter. It'll be something to circle in red on the same days for 1953 and 1954 also, effective dates for the other two increases. Postal card rates climbed from a penny to two cents Feb. 1; special delivery fees from 15 to 20 cents, and July 1 third class rates on catalogs, circulars and other bulk mailing of advertising matter will jump from one cent to one and a half cents per piece.

Our seniors are employed with thoughts of another year. The life ahead is so close-and they feel it's time for decisions. College training and higher education is included in their thinking. The following list is not meant to include all who have their plans in the making. Dave Cooper, Jim Mollenhour, and Bill Reed this past week have visited the industrial college in Fort Wayne where they are interested in radio and television engineering, mechanical engineering, and aeronautical engineering respectively. Eddie Creighton plans to study agriculture at Purdue. Forst Dunnuck is taking up teaching and is debating between Purdue and Manchester College. Junior Emmons

Wrong price

A typesetter stuttered on the comma and zero keys last week and Eva Hartman, much to her surprise, found herself advertising smoke and fire detectors for one thousand times the right amount--$45,000 instead of $45, a sizeable difference in anyone's book and one for which the NEWS apologizes.

Tickets for the production can be reserved by calling the high school or may be purchased at the door.

60 YEARS AGO

On last Friday Prill school surprised Hawn and thus came for a spelling school. The two schools lined up around the room and in thirty-five minutes all were down except Marie Leininger of Hawn. They lined up again, and Hawn was victor the second time with Mildred Sheets, Nina Russell and Lloyd Heeter still standing.

Three ladies from the Akron telephone central, Mrs. Coma King, Miss Edna Miller and Miss Vera Shewman went to Mishawaka Wednesday to attend telephone operator's training lectures.

P. P. Hoffman celebrated his 75th birthday one day last week. Philip is a hustler for a man of his age. He works all the time, and when he takes a notion to come to town, he neither cranks up a machine, nor hitches to a carriage, but strikes out on foot and makes the round trip of 7 miles, 3 1/2 miles each way from Rueben Royers farm on the lake, in three hours and do some trading and visit around town. Philip might be good enough on foot to make a good soldier.

Russell Shipley and his neighbor Harry L. Vandemark north of town, over in Kosciusko county are two hustling, updatate farmers. Both have sugar camps and this year they opened up about nine hundred trees. From these they made 300 gallons of syrup which was sold as fast as it cooled in the evaporator. The quality sold it. A sample that reached this office proves the above statement to be correct. We appreciate their token of remembrance as we eat our bread and warm biscuits this week soaked thoroughly in the Shipley-Vandemark syrup.

The Akron Fair Board has announced that the 1938 Fair will be held on four days in Sept., starting on the 14th, and ending on the 17th.

Harry Herendeen has changed his Cities Service gas to Real Gas, and will handle Real Gas products from now on. A new hundred dollar sign was erected in front, pointing towards the station.

Peach and apple trees came through the recent sleet storm in pretty fair condition, according to R. N. Gast, veteran fruit and orchard man. The cherry and plum trees will suffer more than the apple trees.

The music department of the Akron schools, under Miss Reba Woods direction, presented a delightful concert Tuesday evening in the gym. The program was given to raise funds for the new band uniforms, and $32.80 was raised for that purpose. Solo numbers were given by John Hand, Billie Shipley, Leon Bidwell, Earl Rogers, Quentin Hand, Dick Gast, Patricia Troutman, Gus Judd and Margel Riley.

Mrs. Loyd Swick entertained the Faculty Wives Club at her home this afternoon.

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Vance Lytle and twin daughters, and Mrs. Orville Buckheister and daughter have returned home from Woodlawn hospital.

Channing Utter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Utter, left Monday for a weeks trip to New York City along with 500 other paper carrier boys all of whom had won their trips by getting new subscriptions. The boys left from Indianapolis and will make a stop over at Washington, D.C. enroute.

Beginning next week the Akron News will be printed in tabloid size, five 16 inch columns to a page. This week we are using up the remaining supply of newsprint and the next and following issues will be printed on the better grade of paper like we have been using in the past few weeks. The new size will be a smaller page size, but the same amount of news and advertising will be carried in each issue. It will mean more pages each week.

Five local boy scouts tied for first prize in the firemanship test they took recently, when Akron has a "fireproof" day. The prize, a $15 check, was divided among the five boys, who are: Alan Heeter, John Meredith, Wayne Huppert, Alan Kindig and Bill Hively.

10 YEARS AGO

"It's the electric company's fuel cost. Why should I get stuck with it?"

The fuel adjustment charge which shows up on your electric bill each month is a result of inflation. Fuels burned to generate electricity—coal in our case—have gone up so fast that electric rates just couldn't keep pace.

That's why most utilities were given approval to pass the additional fuel costs on to customers. If this sounds unfair, consider these facts.

The fuel charge is carefully reviewed monthly—and approved or not—by the Public Service Commission of Indiana, a state agency which regulates all utility rates.

All of the fuel adjustment charge goes to offset increased fuel costs.

If and when fuel costs decline, the reduction is reflected in the fuel adjustment, too.

Without the fuel adjustment charge, larger and more frequent rate increases would be needed. Costly full length hearings would only make your electric bill higher.

Why do you get stuck with a fuel adjustment charge? Because when it costs more to make the electricity you use, there's only one place to recover those costs. Like it or not, we all as consumers pay the bill.

His only hint to other fishermen is that they used night-crawlers for bait.

TVSC loses four administrators

By the time the final gavel sounded at Monday night's school board meeting, a 45-minute blitz veiled in the secrecy of three executive sessions, four Tippecanoe Valley school administrators had either resigned or been given non-administrative positions and the band director had been made an elementary music teacher.

Written letters of resignation were read from Dean Rager, principal at the Akron school, and Forst Dunnuck, Tippecanoe Valley High School principal. Rager, who resigned only from his duties as principal, did not give reasons for his decision. Dunnuck, who resigned as principal and a member of the high school faculty, said he was leaving to enter private business.

Superintendent Lloyd Harrell said he also had a letter from business manager Robert Forbes stating his services would end when his present contract expires on June 30. He indicated board members had copies of the letter, but it was not read. The board, which had met in executive session prior to the meeting, retired for a short conference, returning to vote unanimously in favor of Con Shewman's motion to make the resignation part of the minutes. Asked after the meeting what he planned to do, Forbes replied, "No comment."

Dr. Harrell recommended that John Hurst be relieved of his duties as principal at the Mentone school and be reassigned as a classroom teacher. The vote on a motion to do this was passed unanimously.

In further realignment of personnel, the board, on Harrell's suggestion, voted to relieve Kenneth Bush of his duties as instrumental music director for the junior high and high school bands and put him in charge of elementary music at Akron, Burket and

Cumberlands buy Freezer Fresh

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cumberland, Akron, have purchased the Freezer Fresh Dairy Bar from Mr. and Mrs. Al Jennens and assumed ownership Wednesday morning.

Mr. Jennens and his father, the late T. A. Jennens, built the soft ice cream facility in 1966 and since 1971 Al Jennens has operated it, recently remodeling to provide dining room and sheltered waiting areas.

The Cumberlands live near Akron with their three children, Stacey, Rob and Eric. Mrs. Cumberland will assume most of the management responsibilities while Mr. Cumberland continues his bulk milk pick up service.

Bell to be enshrined in Hall of Fame

Lawrence D. Bell

Lawrence D. Bell will be enshrined in the Aviation Hall of Fame in Dayton, Ohio, on July 23.

Bell, a native of Mentone, will be honored for his outstanding contributions as an experimenter, manufacturer and pioneer in the creation of new types of aircraft, including the United States' first jet-propelled aircraft, the world's first manned supersonic rocket plane, the world's fastest and highest flying airplane, the world's first aircraft with variable sweepback wings, the world's first commercially licensed helicopter, and for his contributions in the field of guided missiles and rocket motors.

Trash man will come to Mentone

The trash man will cometh, Mentone town board members learned this week after he failed to show for last Saturday's clean-up day. The hauling service reported its truck broke down, but repairs have been made and the truck will be in town both today (Thursday) and Saturday to assist anyone desiring to join in the spring clean-up.

PRESENTED SAFE DRIVING AWARDS at District Headquarters, Peru, recently were these state police officers: Lt. Dale Douglass, left, Area 2 Criminal Investigations Coordinator and a 25-year veteran of the department who has driven 900,000 accident-free miles, and Sgt. Larry Wagenknecht, second from right, a 22-year veteran of the force who have driven 700,000 accident-free miles. The presentations were made by Capt. Robert Davis and F/Sgt. John Gaylor, commanders of Area 2 and District 23.

Mentone schools, replacing Susan Schrader, who resigned.

A letter of resignation from Jocelyn Acker, high school business teacher, was also read. Mrs. Acker said she and her family would be moving from the state.

The only administrators remaining after the blitz are Harrell and Burket principal Oliver England.

Forbes had been with the corporation the longest, coming when it formed 15 years ago to serve as superintendent until two and one-half years ago when he was demoted to business manager and given a $2,500 a year salary increase, an action unpopular with many taxpayers. It was not specified whether his $24,000-a-year job will be filled with a new person or if his duties will be assumed by Harrell. During Forbes' tenure here, the new high school was built after years of dispute between one-school and two-school factions and he was an unsuccessful candidate in 1972 for the Republican nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

Rager had served as Akron principal for 12 years, first in the elementary and later combining his duties with the junior high when the high school was consolidated and Akron principal Dunnuck moved to the new building. Hurst, former principal at Beaver Dam Jr. High until the school was destroyed by fire, had been principal at Mentone High School, remaining to serve as elementary and junior high principal after the consolidation.

Dean Baker, Akron, expressed concern at the resignations of Rager and Dunnuck. "They've been outstanding leaders in our community," he said. "Did they resign under pressure?" Harrell replied, "One yes, one no." Pressed by Baker for a more specific answer, he replied, "We tried to talk Mr. Dunnuck out of his decision, but pressure was put on Rager."

One item not mentioned during the board's "spring cleaning" session was the list of teachers who will go on tenure or whose contracts will not be renewed. Traditionally, this is done at the last meeting prior to May 1. The item was on the agenda but was removed at Harrell's suggestion.

Other personnel matters discussed included: + Approving an adult education contract for Rudy Gling to teach a woman's physical education class, which, like other adult classes, will be self-supporting. + Approving three revised contracts for Norman Metzger, two for Arden McClure and two for Alberta Davis, teachers held below salary schedule several years ago but recently restored to the schedule and given back pay. + Revision of Becky Thomas's substitute contract.

+ Approval was given to conduct summer school much as it has been in the past--with driver ed, remedial reading and math, swimming, football, basketball, volleyball, etc.--with two additions, girls gymnastics to include younger participants and speech and hearing therapy for the corporation's ten most severely speech-handicapped children. The latter program will be conducted for three hours each morning at the high school at a cost estimated in excess of $600. The gymnastics program will cost approximately $700.

+ Permission was also given for special education teachers Linda Garver, Mary Behney and Carrie Dawson to take a group of children to the Special Olympics in Terre Haute on June 28, 29 and 30. Twenty-three students, accompanied by 15 adult chaperones, will make the trip in a bus driven by Charles Clawson.

In other business, the board heard a report by Forbes indicating the balance of the Burton contract at the high school is still unpaid because of a number of disagreements. He also said the school seems vulnerable to lightning and wondered if this might be the fault of the contractor.

Harrell reported a vocational agriculture co-op feasibility study is being made.

A notice to bidders (see legal advertisement in this week's NEWS) was approved for sale of the building trades house, which has been appraised at $35,000.

Board members Shewman, Snipes, Fred Kindig, Everett Besson and Vernon Meredith remained for a third executive session after the public meeting adjourned.

High school girls rank values

In a recent survey of values, goals and standards, the majority of a group of ninth grade girls enrolled in the interpersonal relationship classes at Tippecanoe Valley High School chose helpfulness as their highest choice and wealth as their lowest choice. Helpfulness was interpreted as meaning doing things for family and friends, while wealth meant to have as many good things as possible.

The test included 61 questions and rates 12 values with security ranking second in importance, followed by religion or to do what is right according to the individual's beliefs and trailed by wealth with influence ranking next to last.

Results of the survey are shown in the graph, and they, in turn, led to the study of the role of values in decision making.

The course is part of the curriculum taught by Janet Brooks, student teacher, and Barbara Smith, home economics teacher.

60 YEARS AGO

Roy Sheets has been having trouble to secure teams to draw logs to his saw mill. A few days ago he went to Mentone and there he found several teamsters who will come to Akron. In all there are four families who will shortly move to this place if they can find houses in which to live. Thus the sawmill is building up what we lost a couple of years ago.

The finale exercises of the Akron high school will be held Friday at the high school building at 1:30 p.m., the class day exercises will be given and the manual training work, cooking and sewing work will be on exhibit. The public is cordially invited. In the evening the commencement exercises will be given in the Opera House. Prof. Black of Indiana University will deliver the address. No one can afford to miss this.

Prof. Jones says there will be a grand horse shoe tournament at the Akron high school grounds Friday afternoon. This will be one of the features of the last day of school. The game will be called about two o'clock. All old horse shoe fans and those who enjoy the sport are cordially invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tracy are building a new kitchen to their country cottage home southeast of town.

Lost: Number plate 81948 from auto on east road from Akron to Mentone, via Burket. Finder will confer favor by reporting to Mrs. Caroline Hoover, Akron Hotel.

The Dan Leininger and Sons have completely remodeled their grocery department and have announced their new plan of self-service or we serve you. Many new prices of equipment have been installed and the old counters and shelves have been removed. One feature is a new modern vegetable and produce rack that makes a fine display place for these items. The plan is now being operated is that you wait on yourself and gather up what items you want and then one of the clerks will check you out, or you can place your order with one of them and they will gather it up for you. This system eliminates the standing in line and waiting to be checked out and will still accommodate those who wish to be waited on.

10 YEARS AGO

It was reported at the Tuesday night meeting of the Town Board that the dump has been misused and instances of out-of-town residents dumping junk into the buring pit were cited. In the future, the board said, the dump will be locked with the exception of a few hours each day. The possibility of hiring someone to oversee the dump was discussed. A hearing was held with representatives of Northern Indiana Public Service Company in regard to the issuance of a natural gas franchise for Akron.

Lukens-Drudge vows exchanged

Mary Elizabeth Lukens and Richard O. Drudge, both of Akron, exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony April 2 at the Akron United Methodist Church. The Rev. John Moore officiated.

Wedding music was provided by Alona Leining, organist, and Linda Cumberland, vocalist.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Clara Becktal, Hammond. Bridesmaids were Dorothy Enden, Dyer, and Cathie Lukens, Rochester, daughter-in-law of the bride.

Ted Cox, Akron, served as best man. Dennis F. Drudge and Charles D. Drudge, sons of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Aimee Vojtasek, Akron, and Christopher Drudge and Cori Drudge, Rochester, grandchildren of the bridegroom, served as flowergirl and ring-bearers.

Following the ceremony, the couple greeted guests in the church annex.

Following a trip to South America in which they will visit the bride's daughter and son-in-law, Linda and Federico Petersen, and their son, Christopher, the couple will reside in Akron.

Mr. Drudge is a retired Standard Oil Co. employee and the bride is a teacher at Columbia school in Hammond. In addition to the children who participated in the wedding ceremony and Mrs. Petersen, they are also the parents of Lincoln Lukens, Rochester, and Mrs. Don (Diane) Medlen, of Ocean Springs, Miss.

Dear Editor:

We are writing to the people of Akron, Mentone and vicinity asking them to support the Order of Rainbow for girls.

It's a character building organization and teaches girls how to be prepared for tomorrow and lead a better life. We are planning a tea at our next meeting to explain further for those interested. The date will be announced at a later time.

Thank you for your support and listening.

IN MEMORY

IN MEMORY of Cheryl Ellison, our loved one, who passed away ten years ago on April 21, 1967.

A million times we have needed you,
A million times we have cried.
If love alone could have saved you Cheryl,
You never would have died.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
For in our hearts you hold a place
No one else can ever fill.
It broke our hearts to loose you,
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God took you home.

Why a Bowl-a-thon? Because, say organizers, Americans are looking for new and better ways to help the world's hungry people. They cite that six percent of the world's population is consuming 45 percent of the world's total resources. "We are looking to new ways to share and care," they say.

How does a Bowl-a-thon work? Each person participating should pick up a "sponsor sheet" from a participating church. Then each person will contact other people to sponsor them and pay the "Penny a pin" or more for their total score from

Mentone's new water rates in effect

Mentone's new water rates will go into effect with the current billing now being computed by clerk-treasurer Kate Whetstone.

Mrs. Whetstone said the billing will be based on the gallonage used during the same quarter last year since most residents let water run during the winter's deep-freeze. If, however, the current reading is lower than last year's, that figure will be used.

Penalties will be shown on the bills but will not be added unless payment is late. Penalties will be ten percent of the first $3 and three percent of the amount in excess of $3.

Mrs. Whetstone will be in the clerk's office all day Monday, May 9, to answer questions.

Trail of Courage

Dear Editor:

Plan now to participate in the Trail of Courage.

The second annual Trail of Courage Rendezvous (last year it was called Trail of Death) will be September 17 and 18 on the Tippecanoe River at Riverwood Acres. The two-day event will be bigger and better this year.

Mike and Liz Freece have sent invitations to 200 Buckskinners to bring teepees or lean-tos for the living history exhibit. Already 23 have sent in letters saying they will come.

We asked Tippecanoe Co. Historical Association for names of some of the craftsmen who exhibit at the Feast of the Hunters Moon. Sandy Hartlerode sent invitations to 45 of them. So far we have received yes answers from Nancy Sandy of Georgetown, O., candle making and feather; Daniel Gomes, Bloomington, leather; Esta Fehrenbach, Carmel, cornhusk weaving; Jim Strode, Dublin, pewter casting, and Robert Page, West Lafayette, silversmithing.

Also, James Sampson of Joliet, Ill., will bring his grist mill to stone-grind corn, wheat and buckwheat. Not only is it an interesting process to watch, but you'll want to buy some of the flour to take home and bake with.

The Trail of Courage Rendezvous is different from the other festivals in Fulton Co. in that it accepts only old-time handicrafts done in the authentic old-fashioned way. There are only two other events like it in the whole state: the Feast of the Hunters Moon at Lafayette and the Muzzle-loading Rifle Shoot at Friendship.

We are hoping for more participation from Fulton Co. residents. Individuals and clubs and churches are invited to plan a booth and demonstrate an old-time food or handicraft. Don't forget that lovely Bicentennial dress gather dust in the closet. Call 223-4436 or write the Fulton Co. Historical Society museum, 7th and

Pontiac Sts., Rochester, to reserve a booth and join in the fun Sept. 17 and 18 at the Trail of Courage. Shirley Willard, President, FCHS

Prison camps

Dear Editor:

If I am privileged I would like to express in a small way my observations and sentiments. Two weeks past we watched a program on T.V. It was of much interest to me especially because United States History was my very favorite subject while in school.

The title was, "The Andersonville Prison Trial." Covering the imprisonment and treatment of Union Soldiers in these southern prison camps where many thousands of our soldiers perished. I have a book copyrighted in 1882 written by a Union Soldier it was a very authentic and personal experience of a three time prisoner of that war.

The book I have was the property of My Father the title, "Battle Field and Prison Pen" a true account of those horrible conditions in taking the lives of many of our brave men. It would be well to read the historical facts regarding what happened in these prison camps. Words cannot describe the terrible treatment of the Union soldiers at Andersonville, Libby, Richmond, Monroe and other prison camps in these Secession States. Read up on your history.

Now we are confronted with plans to destroy our tried and true laws governing our people and the control of our very lives. I cannot believe it could happen in our wonderful country, the United States of America. Think about it. It's here, a reality, "Peace from the mouth, a bribe in the hand. Read the Bible. Respectfully, W. E. and Mrs. Fowler R. 1

Know warning system, what to do if tornadoes strike

There is no "fail-safe" protection against tornadoes, but knowing the warning system and what to do in case a twister hits are two things that might save a life or prevent injury, according to Bruce Hess, director of the Fulton County Department of Civil Defense.

With the tornado season underway, Hess urged the public to become familiar with the various warning plans and with protection measures.

Hess said that three agencies in Fulton county are concerned with tornado activity--Civil Defense, police departments and fire departments.

The most common warning device in case of the threat of a tornado is a fire siren, Hess said. If a community is in the path of a tornado, the fire siren will be sounded for several straight minutes at a time, with short intervals.

"A long, wailing siren means just one thing--take cover," Hess said. In addition to use of fire sirens, Fulton county residents will be informed of tornado danger by police cars moving about their communities using their sirens and public address systems.

Hess said that Rochester Radio Station WROI (an FM station) will broadcast tornado information every 7½ minutes when necessary, and more frequently than that if the situation requires. He said that owners of AM radios should tune to the Logansport or Plymouth stations for information about Fulton County.

Television can be of some help in alerting Fulton county, but residents should note that Fulton county lies within the Indianapolis jurisdiction of the National Weather Service while the county's primary television reception is from South Bend.

Sometimes the South Bend area television stations include Fulton county in their weather alert news and sometimes they do not.

Starting in May, Hess said, Indiana Cablevision which services the Rochester area will have an all-channel alert system through which it will be able to broadcast tornado information on each of its 12 channels.

Hess said that CB radios "can be a wireless partyline which can be helpful when used correctly and conditions are conducive for reception."

He said the Civil Defense department sponsored a weather watch service on CB Channel 5 last spring and summer and is expanding the coverage this year.

Civil Defense has established a link with the radar station at Grissom Air Force Base near Peru for quicker confirmation of a tornado report, Hess said. He said that the C.D. office also monitors the statewide two-meter ham weather networks for additional weather information.

"For the interest of persons who own scanners," Hess said, "Indiana plans to be one of the first states to achieve more than 80 percent coverage by NOAA Weather Radio."

He said that in May, transmitter sites in South Bend and Fort Wayne will begin operation and that a transmitter at Monticello is in the planning stage.

The effective range of weather transmitters is about 40 miles, so an outside antenna probably will be needed in Fulton county, he said.

Hess said that elderly and hard-of-hearing persons are of particular concern in case of tornado threat. He suggested that civil and social groups in the county might take on as a project the alerting of persons in these categories.

The most likely time of day for a tornado is between 3 and 7 p.m. and the movement of a twister is from southwest to northeast at an average speed of from 25 to 40 mph. Precipitation followed by hail often precedes a tornado.

Hess gives the following advice in case of tornado:

-If you are outside, move at right angles to the storm and take cover in a depression in the ground such as a ditch or ravine if you cannot reach safety indoors. If you are in a car or on a farm tractor, get out or off it and do not allow it to be between you and the approach of the tornado because the wind can push the vehicle onto you.

-Inside a building, the safest place is in the southwest corner of a basement or storm cellar. In buildings without a basement, the smallest ground floor area with stout walls, such as a bathroom, closet or hallway, is the best place to be. If nothing else is available, a tipped over coach in the central part of the home will provide protection.

-If there is time, open the windows away from the direction of the storm's approach to lessen the possibility of the house "exploding" due to the sudden drop of air pressure created by the partial vacuum of the funnel. -Evacuate mobile homes for a preselected place of safety. Tie-downs can prevent a mobile home from upsetting in some strong winds, but they are useless in a tornado which packs winds up to 300 miles an hour.

In recent Kosciusko Co. small claims court action, Earl and Verlie Lavone Bays, Talma, were ordered to return possession of property to Paul W. and Alice F. Surface.

A charge of improper use of backup lights was dismissed. Patricia A. 60 YEARS AGO

The spring is backward and cold but not wet. Wheat cannot make more than a half yield, according to most farmer's report in this locality.

Daniel Whittenberger celebrated his 92nd birthday Tuesday. This is the lad that played leapfrog and ran foot races with the red skinned boys 80 years ago here-a-bouts and whom we are grooming to live out to the century mark now only eight years hence. He is quite well and runs down town dragging his cane like a boy would a stick. We certainly feel emulated to be counted among his friends today.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Thompson was the chosen place for the annual banquet Thursday. The home was tastefully decorated in the national colors, flags and bunting were every where visible. Music on the Victrola added to the merriment during the serving of the community luncheon, served in buffet order. The social hour was a special feature of the evening and the committees congratulated for the successful management of the evening's program.

V. R. Miller was in town late last week buying material for a new house that he is building on his fourteen acre farm. The high-priced material that goes into a house at this time almost staggers Vern, but he does the carpenter work himself and that way holds his own. Vern is shifty and it will take a good one to down him in business. He purposes raising army beans and potatoes and he says he is sure of a good price, and the bigger his own crop is, the more money he will have when harvest time is over.

A fire of an unknown origin destroyed the D. A. Pike Sawmill early Sunday morning, causing an estimated damage of $15,000. Sunday night another fire broke out on Mr. Pike's farm west of Rochester and destroyed a new brooder house and several hundred baby chicks. The cause has not been determined for either fire.

D. A. Kroft has returned from an extensive 5171 mile trip to Washington. He visited in twenty-five homes, and attended church and Sunday school in five different churches.

NEW BOOKS

BELL MEMORIAL LIBRARY

New books at the Bell Memorial Library, Mentone, include the following:

THE GHOST FOX by James Houston. This is the account of a New England girl stolen during the French and Indian wars and forces into captivity by marauding Indians.

Although cast in novel form, with characters and story of the author's own devising, every factual detail of this narrative is based upon historical records and upon his one geographical exploration.

THIS OTHER EDEN by Marily Harris. First of a series of six books running from the 18th century to the present, this historical romance is framed by the French Revolution, by Lord Eden's dangerous smuggling ring, two marriage ceremonies and the birth of a legitimate heir.

UNDERFOOT by David Weitzman. An everyday guide to exploring and preserving the past--your family's past, the past of your city or town--America's past. With many genealogy tips.

EMERGENCY by Virginia Greer. The true story of a woman's faith and service as an emergency room volunteer.

SECRETS, SPIES AND SCHOLARS by Ray S. Cline. A former top-level CIA official puts the triumphs as well as the disasters of American intelligence into a meaningful perspective. This book contains many illustrative accounts of what espionage, counterespionage and other intelligence work at the top levels of government are really like.

A PLACE TO COME TO by Robert Penn Warren. By one of America's best-known authors, this novel tells the story of a country boy who becomes a literature professor, goes through college, war, two marriages, a love affair, fatherhood and extensive traveling before making peace with himself over his mother's grave.

THE POSITIVE PRINCIPLE TODAY by Norman Vincent Peale. In the author's own words, "This book is intended not only to inspire you and motivate you to think, act and live victoriously, but to help you always and under whatever circumstances to keep the 'positive principle' going."

What's Cooking?

By Patricia A. Braman
Extension Agent, Home Ec

Spring rains and warm weather bring out the hunters--mushroom hunters. Fresh mushrooms are unique in flavor, easy to prepare, and go well with a variety of foods. In addition, they are low in calories.

Good mushroom hunters have their own "secret" signs and spots for locating their prey. Actually the location of mushrooms is determined by their food supply. Because mushrooms contain no chlorophyll and can't produce their own food, they live off decaying organic matter in soil--tree roots, fallen logs, stumps, or leaf mold.

Mushrooms should be cleaned carefully to remove dirt and insects. Soaking in salt water is the best procedure.

Never use any mushroom that shows signs of decay. It harbors ptomaines and toxins just like any other decaying matter. As a precaution, wild mushrooms should never be eaten raw.

Mushrooms are actually very low in calories. But while cooking, they tend to absorb considerable amounts of butter, oil or cream which add calories.

To store mushrooms for a short period of time keep them refrigerated in a ventilated container. To keep them light in color, sprinkle them with lemon juice.

FRENCH FRIED MUSHROOMS

One lb. mushrooms, 1/2 cup flour, one tsp. salt, pepper, two eggs lightly beaten, 3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs.

Rinse, pat dry, trim mushrooms. Combine flour with salt and pepper. Dredge mushrooms first in flour mixture, then dip in eggs. Roll in bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat, preheated to 365°F until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Drain on paper toweling.

Perry Club hosts guests

Members of the Perry Improvement Club entertained the Peru Hoosier Homemakers at the Gilead Masonic Lodge building at their April meeting.

Marie Coon gave devotions, saying love for others must be genuine, and finished with prayer.

It was announced the club's mother-daughter banquet will be May 18 at the Pleasant Hill Church. Reservations are due to Alice Teel by May 11.

The secretary read the names of nine members who had perfect attendance this year and for a number of years. Included were Emma Burns, 10 years; Marie Coon, one year; Bea Fites, 15 years; June Merley, one year; Pauline Miller, five years; Auriel Musselman, five years, and Evelyn Shafer, two years.

Safety chairman Evelyn Shafer reminded of the need for special caution in using lawn mowers and pesticides.

Historical and antique plates used in the table decorations were held up by their owners and the story of each told.

Helen Byrt and Pauline Shoemaker were responsible for the table decorations and serving the salad bar.

Emma Burns and Marjorie Miller presented Ruby Dawson who recalled bygone days as she spoke of "The Preacher's Wife" and presented two of her poems, "Pictures of Mother" and "Instant Everything."

A skit was presented by Emma Burns who was dressed in overalls to play the part of a farmer with Arlene Gearhart as 'his' wife and Marie Crum as their daughter. The doctor, Alice Teel, cured Pa with a good homemaker tonic.

Elmira Kimpel and Helen Miller were the lucky ladies and contest winners were Iona Brock and Elmira Kimpel.

Other guests were Dorothy Cunningham, Doris Parker, Clara McGee, Ruby Fincher, Dona Parker, Margaret Puterbaugh, Beulah Lund, Lisa Lund, Lewella Fisher, Esther Wylie, Betty Kimpel, Letha Hook, Harriet Weaver, Grace Vance and Vera Shadinger.

Members not mentioned above were Beatrice Fites, Orna Glasford, Nellie Norman, Ruth Bammerlin, June Merley and Auriel Musselman.

ANTENNAS AND POWER LINES EQUAL TROUBLE

Handling TV or citizens band radio antennas on rooftops is a shocking experience for some people every year.

And in most cases, the tragedies needn't happen.

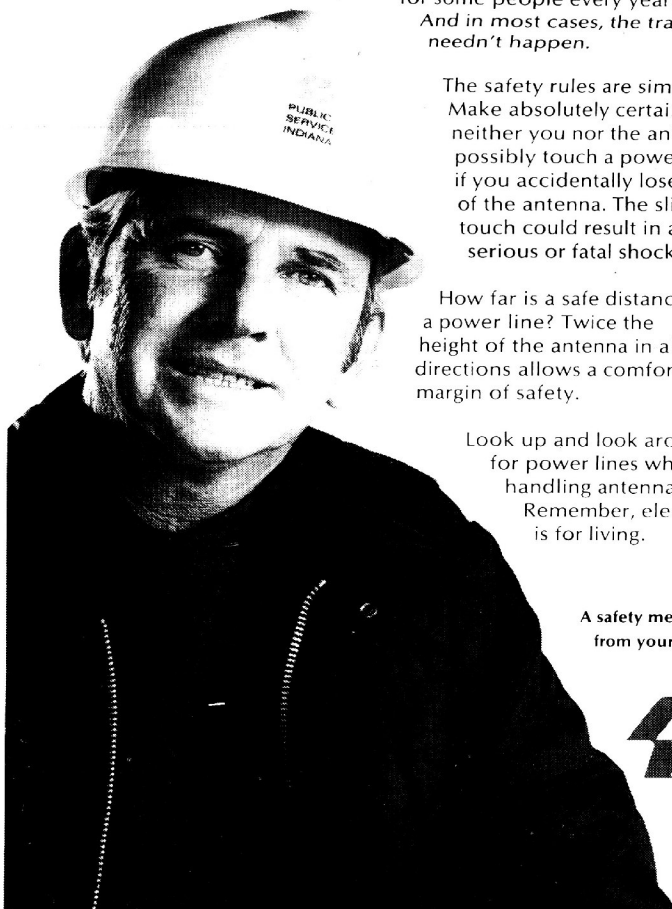

The safety rules are simple.

Make absolutely certain that neither you nor the antenna can possibly touch a power line, even if you accidentally lose control of the antenna. The slightest touch could result in a serious or fatal shock.

How far is a safe distance from a power line? Twice the height of the antenna in all directions allows a comfortable margin of safety.

Look up and look around for power lines when handling antennas.

Remember, electricity is for living.

House plants - warm accessories

Create a lively, warm atmosphere in your home with house plants! Tastefully used, plants create a feeling of closeness to nature and soften severe architectural structures.

"Plants make interesting accessories for the home," says Ezelle Johnson, Extension home furnishings specialist at Purdue University. "They add color, shape and texture and, as they grow, they change appearance, adding variety in a natural way," she says.

Plants are usually thought of as green but leaves may be streaked or spotted with ivory, yellow, gold, red or violet. Shapes vary---bunchy clusters (begonia), large-massive (rubber plants), trailing (ivy), upright-vertical (snake or sword plant). Textures can also vary from lacy and delicate to thick and rough, depending upon the plant chosen.

With all the varieties available, choosing the right plant for the right spot should be easy. Ms. Johnson suggests thinking of large, bush-like plants as background material for furniture or other plants. Set them on the floor, on low tables in the corner or by the window. Use them as screening for private areas or as space dividers. Match the size of the plant to the space available and allow plenty of room for air circulation and traffic lanes, she advises.

Use smaller plants alone or with other accessories. A plant on a table near the wall could complement a group of pictures on the wall.

Use plants to break up rows of books or other accessories in shelf space, Ms. Johnson advises. Leaving open space around the plants gives spaciousness and depth to these areas.

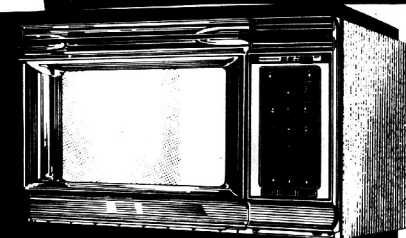

When plants are used on coffee or end tables, be sure they do not in-

Hanging plants can solve some decorating problems. Use them as part of window treatments, space dividers and screening. Hang plants carefully so they are not traffic hazards or head bumpers.

Plants can be lighted to enhance their shapes and textures and to highlight or create interesting shadows.

Several types of portable light fixtures are available. Small intensity lamps are generally available and are not too expensive.

Remember when using house plants, keep them healthy and in good condition by providing good soil, adequate water and ample light and space. To learn more about the care of plants, get a copy of Cooperative Extension publication HO-56, "Plants for Indoors." MACRAME HANGERS make plant display easy and fun.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the April 26, 1950 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Brett Jay, seven pound two ounce son, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flenar at the McDonald hospital at Warsaw Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crambalt and family, of Piercetown, have bought the Alpheus Smith farm east of Mentone. They stayed with Mr. and Mrs.

William Cook for two weeks while the house was being newly redecorated. Mrs. Crambalt is a niece of Mrs. Cook.

The Mentone School Band is serving fried chicken and ham dinners from 5 to 7 o'clock Saturday night in the school cafeteria. The public is urged to attend this supper and to support the band.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper are sponsoring an event next Tuesday that is a bit unusual for Mentone. It is what they term "Senior Day," and they expect that it will prove to be a profitable one for the members of the 1950 senior class. The students are to receive a percentage of all sales made that day and they will use their earnings to help finance their trip east. Merrill Peterson was the scout chosen by the local scout committee to represent the troop at the National Scout Camp at Valley Forge the last week in June and the first week in July. One week will be spent in camp and the second week will be spent on one or two sight-seeing trips.

WHO ARE WE?

This congregation is a group of people drawn together by a common faith in Jesus Christ for worship and service. It is a free fellowship, in that only those are members of it who choose to be. Its members wear no name but that of Christian. Yet we do not claim to have attained to everything this name represents.

We are a free, independent, self-governing congregation under Christ alone as Head, with no denominational affiliation or earthly headquarters, though we recognize a particular closeness to other churches of Christ. We are free to study, teach, and work as our conscience, directed by the Bible, leads us. We deplore the denominational divisions of today and pray for the time when all professed Christians shall divest themselves of all humanly devised barriers and come into the unity of the faith that is in Christ.

We carry on our work and worship as we understand the Scriptures to teach. According to apostolic precedent, we celebrate the Lord's Supper each Lord's Day. Our music is the praise of our lips without mechanical accompaniment. Our prayers, largely spontaneous, are intended for power, and not just a part of a program. The proclamation of the work of God is given a prominent place, for we believe that Christian worship God always speaks and we must be attuned to hear. Our giving is liberal and proportionate, symbolic of the dedication of all that we have and are. The entire worship is planned, but not rigid.

Acceptance into the congregation is by baptism or transfer of membership of a baptized believer from another congregation. Those not Christians are taught to believe in Jesus Christ with the whole heart, to repent of their sins, confess their faith in the Lord and be buried with Christ in baptism for the remission of their sins, just as men were taught to do in New Testament times. Baptizing believers only, we do not practice infant baptism. And, as baptism instituted by Jesus and practiced by the early church was immersion, symbolizing both the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ, and the death of the believer to self and sin, his burial of the old man, and his resurrection of new life, that is our practice, also.

We do not exist merely for selfish purposes, but to follow Him who came to minister and gave His life a ransom for many. To the extent we can, we help in mission work and benevolence.

Our marching orders are the Lord's world-wide commission. Our hope is His everlasting kingdom and the resurrection of the dead. Our message is "Jesus Christ and Him crucified." (1 Cor. 2:2)

Almond, Chocolate Elegance

Inspired by the renowned Vienna tortes, this enticing dessert combines almonds and chocolate for exciting eating. Moist and tender, the chocolate cake layers are baked in pans coated with crisp almond slices, and then filled and topped with a luscious, coffee-flavored whipped cream. The result is deliciously irresistible.

European Choco-Almond Cake

1/2 cup soft butter	1/2 cup wheat germ, toasted
1 1/3 cups sliced natural almonds	1 1/2 cups milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate	1 teaspoon almond extract
1 3/4 cups sifted flour	2 eggs
2 cups sugar	1 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee granules
2 teaspoons baking powder	1 1/2 cups whipping cream
1 teaspoon salt	3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon baking soda

Butter two 9-inch round layer cake pans, using 1 tablespoon butter for each. Sprinkle bottoms and sides of pans with 1 cup almonds. Chop remaining almonds and set aside. Melt chocolate over hot water; cool. Sift flour again with sugar, baking powder, salt and soda into a large mixing bowl; stir in wheat germ. Add remaining butter, milk and almond extract. Blend until moistened, then beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. Add eggs and cooled chocolate; beat 2 minutes longer; stir in the 1/3 cup chopped almonds. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes, just until layers test done. Let stand in pans 10 minutes, then cool thoroughly. In deep bowl, crush coffee granules. Add cream and 3 tablespoons sugar; beat stiff. Place 1 cake layer, almond side up, on serving plate; spread with 2/3 of the cream. Top with second layer, almond side down. Top with remaining whipped cream and additional almond slices.

We planned for booths at Mentone Days and money-making projects. We scheduled our mother's tea for May 1.

Share-the-Fun is coming soon, and we discussed an act for it.

Our roll call was given and we were to give the name of the animal we brought. The American pledge was led by Shelly Baker, and the 4-H pledge was led by Wendy Ross. After the meeting was over, we talked to friends and then left.

Antenna safety

Explicit safety measures must be followed in handling TV or citizens band radio antennas near any power lines, according to Jim Wilber, Public Service Indiana's local manager.

"Deaths and injuries have been reported both in Indiana and throughout the nation when these antennas have come in contact with power lines," Wilber said.

Public Service Indiana suggests that a safe distance from the nearest power line is twice the length of the over-all antenna. Wilber urged residents who have any questions about safely installing antennas to call their nearest electric company office.

Buying a house?

If you buy a house, what can you do to protect your investment? "Probably the most important thing," according to Jan Armstrong, Purdue University extension consumer marketing specialist, "is to keep your house in good condition so it will probably grow in value."

This may mean putting a lot of "sweat equity" into painting and repairing. Doing some of the labor yourself can cut the upkeep by literally thousands of dollars.
