

Water tower repaired

On Tuesday afternoon, Leary Construction Company of Greenville, Indiana sent representatives to repair a hole in the Mentone water tower. During recent storms, the water that was leaking from the hole was blown clear across the road to the school yard.

Mentone plans clean-up week

The Mentone Town Board has proclaimed the week of April 24 through April 29 as Mentone Spring Clean-Up Week.

Acting on a recommendation made by Town Marshall Earl Beattie in the regular monthly board meeting held Monday, April 3, the board made the proclamation with the hope that Mentone residents will pitch in and help clean up alleys, yards and fields of litter and hazardous debris such as junk cars and old refrigerators.

Other meeting highlights:

Board president Frank Hardesty stated that he wants Mentone residents to know that "in no way, the town of Mentone is assuming any financial responsibilities" regarding the resurfacing project of the Mentone Airport. (The Mentone Flying Club and the State will finance the entire project.)

The Board approved the costs of repairing a hole in the water tower. (The hole, approximately 1½" in diameter was repaired Tuesday, April 4, at a cost of $450.)

A bill was received by the Board in March, stating that Town Liability Insurance will be $1300 this year. Last year's premium was $450. Catherine Whetstone, Clerk, stated that the increase was explained to her by the insurance company, that the increase was due to the Company's new method of determining rates by square mileage rather than by population. The Board approved a motion to obtain rate information from other companies.

Discussion was held on various methods to pay for the new fire truck tanker the town has ordered. The Board was advised that there will be a delay on delivery by the manufacturer due to unavailability of pump parts.

The Board heard a request from a representative of the Broadway Tavern that outdoor dancing be allowed one night a week in good weather. The Board stated they would consider and discuss the request at a later date.

Town Marshall Earl Beattie outlined the County Animal Humane Officer's policy to the Board. He stated that he was advised that all town calls for services must go through the Marshall's office for response.

Area tavern being sued

A woman whose family was killed in a 1976 traffic accident has sued a Wabash County man convicted of drunken driving and two area taverns for $2.1 million.

In the suit, filed this week in Wabash Circuit Court, Ellis Helton, Silver Lake, driver of the car that collided with the woman's vehicle, is named as a defendant. Also named are C.S.A. Inc., doing business as Bear's Den Tavern, Akron, and Herbert Euring, owner of Lakeview Tavern, Silver Lake.

The plaintiffs, Jo Ann Pethers and the Frances Slocum Bank and Trust Co., as administrator of the estate of Wm., Kevin and Billie Jo Pethers, allege the two bars served Helton alcohol which contributed or caused his intoxication, knowing that he was intoxicated and an habitual drunkard.

The suit alleges that on April 1, 1976, at about 7:30 p.m., a vehicle driven by Wm. Pethers was northbound on Ind. 15 about one mile north of Wabash when the vehicle Helton was driving crossed the center line, striking Pethers' vehicle and seriously injuring Jo Ann Pethers and killing her husband and two children.

The Pethers family was on its way home to Michigan when the accident occurred.

Helton was convicted in Wabash Circuit Court and sentenced May 7, 1976, to one-to-10 years on counts of involuntary manslaughter, driving while suspended and driving while intoxicated. He was released on parole about five months later.

Mrs. Pethers seeks $100,000 in damages for medical bills, damage to her vehicle and pain and suffering.

Historical marker survey underway

The Indiana Historical Bureau is conducting a survey of historical markers in the state, and has asked Fulton County Historical Society to list all markers in this county. Information and photos of all markers will be published in a book next year. The survey must be completed by September, so if anyone is planning to erect a historical marker, they should do it before then in order to be included in this survey.

There are 23 historical markers in Fulton County, according to Shirley Willard, president of FC HS. She lists them as follows:

Aubbeenaubee township: (1) Memorial to soldiers in Leiters Ford, (2) School bell marker in Ralph Stayton's yard, and (3) Site of original Leiter's Ford across the river, to be erected by Ralph Stayton this summer.

Henry Township: (1) Crossing of Indian trails on side of former Akron Bank, (2) Daniel Whittenberger, last of first settlers, also on side of former bank.

Liberty township: (1) Trail of Death marker where Mud Creek crosses Indiana 65, (2) Centennial rock in Fulton, northeast corner of Main and Aikens streets.

Newcastle township: (1) Joaquin Miller poet on Ind. 25 by Sheward bridge, (2) Talma marker in front of Newcastle Community Building.

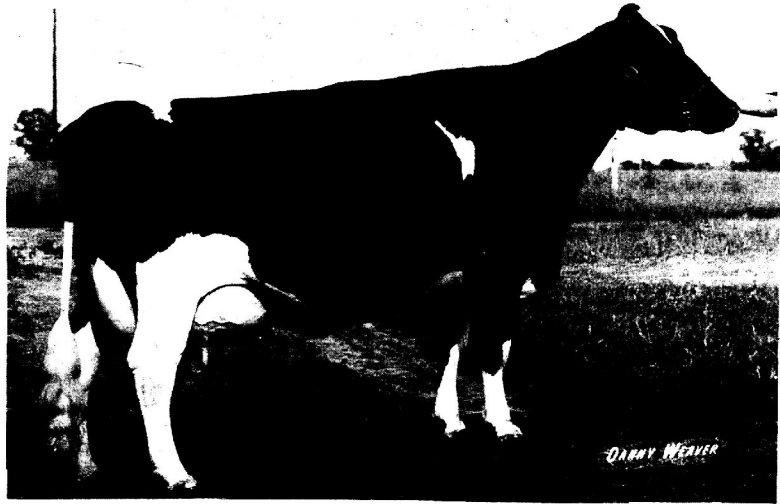

Richland township: (1) Richland Center school cornerstone, (2) William Polke House, third house north of Tippecanoe River on Old 31.

Rochester township: (1) Michigan Road on Old 31 by Tippecanoe River, (2) Site of Indian village, Chippewanong, where treaties were made on Tippecanoe River and Old 31, (3) Pioneer Park where 1974 tornado went, corner of No. Main and Monticello Road, (4) Col. Isaac Washington Brown, the Bird and Bee Man, in IOOF cemetery, (5) Herman Daake, founder of Safety Legion of America, in IOOF cemetery, (6) Rochester College in courthouse lawn, (7) War memorial on courthouse lawn, (8) World War I memorial inside west door of courthouse, (9) Mill Race on East 8th and Race Streets, (10) Grave of first white woman, Elizabeth Lindsey, in front of Rochester depot museum, (11) Pioneer Woman's Log Cabin Museum Bicentennial marker in Lakeview Park, (12) Lake Manitou and Tiptonville by the dam.

As far as Mrs. Willard knows, there are no historical markers in Wayne and Union townships. If anyone knows of any other markers that were erected by public subscription, they are asked to contact Mrs. Willard at the Civic Center museum, 9th and Pontiac, phone 223-4436.

Grave markers can be counted only if they were erected by public donations to memorialize the grave of a well-known or unusual person.

Akron youth wins award

Kevin L. Deardorff, 16, of Akron, recently won the 1977 Junior "All Indiana Award" in the "Aged Cow" category at the Goshen State Show. Kevin raised the cow named "Dorway Meadow Angel".

Dollar survival kit

After struggling through income tax forms, most people make a firm commitment to keep better records during the current year. All too often they make the same promise next year and the next.

"The best way to make yourself keep your promise is to start a personal household journal," advises Jan Armstrong, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Purdue University. "Though you can keep records by simply listing each bill, the date of payment, and check number, this method leaves much to be desired."

"You're the controller of your own money," says Armstrong. "You need to plan your spending and analyze your goals, as well as keep good records. These things go hand in hand."

Life styles and spending plans differ, so no one else can make a plan for you. No one else knows your dreams, plans or ambitions. Making such plans takes time, so set aside a few hours to organize yourself.

To help with record keeping, Armstrong and Jean Bauer, Extension family resource management specialist, have written a "Do-It-Yourself" Dollar Survival Book (HE 111). This 85-page personal household journal can be purchased at the Extension office in your country, or ordered from Mailing Room, AGAD Building, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN 47907. The price of $1 includes postage and handling.

"Your net worth — where you are now — and yearly expense estimates aren't overpowering if you know how to figure them," says Armstrong. "And at tax time, the records you kept can be invaluable."

Calendar

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12
Seward Home Extension Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the Burket UM social room.

NEW BOOKS

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include:

FIVE OF A KIND by Willim J. Plummer. This recounts the Plummer family's adventures as they met a challenge unique even in their long experience of animal adoption; the rearing of five young desert quail, from hatching to maturity.

SNOWBOUND SIX by Richard Martin Stern. This is a spectacular tale of survival, of man against nature, and himself-full of breathtaking adventure and suspense — masterfully evoking the fierce beauty of a mountain wilderness.

THE WEB OF ALLYNGROOD by Francesca Chimenti. This is a novel of romantic suspense.

THE EXPERIENCE OF INNER HEALING by Ruth Carter Stapleton. The author says that with the experience of inner healing we can be freed to live lives of wholeness, love and service to others.

THE LAURELS OF LAKE CONSTANCE by Marie Chaix. The time and place of this novel is Paris 1944. The author draws heavily on her father's wartime and prison diaries. As such, it is a unique document of the time, viewed from a very special viewpoint, a document that neither condemns nor absolves but seeks to elucidate the mystery of her father's life. But is, also very much a novel, beautifully written and carefully crafted, spanned three generations which re-creates the whole love and tenor of those troubled years.

DARE TO DISCIPLINE by Dr. James Dobson. Dr. Dobson shows how a healthy approach to the discipline of a child can yield the genuine love and affection which parents desire.

THE GOLDEN BAUBLE by Genevieve Slear. This is a novel of romantic suspense that has its setting in the Rocky Mountains.

MY PRAYER FOR YOU by Pat Robertson. Pat Robertson (Host of the 700 Club) has become deeply convinced that God is the solution to all your problems and the key to all your happiness.

60 YEARS AGO

Miss Mary Beik, a former compositor on this paper has gone into the poultry business on the Mrs. Kreig farm east of town, and she is in ecstasies now. One day this week, the incubator turned out 165 little chicks, which means nearly a bushel. If prices don't shrink on that kind of produce, it means half that many dollars in due time. And that ain't near all, she has several other "elevators" still setting. There are more to follow. Most of the government bonds will be sold.

Uncle Sam wants an army of three million men exclusive of all other army branches. Calls for men will issue thick and fast from now on. Secretary Baker's visit has been an eye opener to him and Uncle Sam. The taking of so many men from the vocations will reduce man power at home, but we will have to do with less man power at home and increase it in the army or lose we will. No man, who has enjoyed the liberties that Americans have enjoyed can afford to lose.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Utter and family are in Washington, D.C. this week.

Considerable damage was done by thieves either last Tuesday or early Wednesday morning when they broke into both the grade and high schools in search of money. The break-in was first discovered by Frank Gearhart, janitor, at 5:45 a.m. Wednesday when he found the high school safe in the hall outside the office. It was still unopened, and the tools, which they had borrowed from the shop, were lying on the floor. Teachers' desks were all ransacked, six door glasses were broken, and doors to the office, cafeteria, shop, home ec and coaches rooms were all broken open. Approximately $25 in cash is missing, according to an estimate of Trustee Vernon Cumberland. State police detectives are working on the case.

If you love to read . . . go to the library

by Renee Norlander

The old fashioned image of the lady librarian with her hair pulled tightly back in a bun, wearing a long tightly buttoned black dress, is certainly not reflective of the lady librarian in Mentone.

Eileen Bowser has been working at the Bell Memorial Public Library for 16 years, and she in no way resembles the old ideal of librarian, except in one - she loves books and loves to read.

Loves reading so much in fact that recently she told me that when her children were young she used to rise at 5 a.m. just so she could read for awhile before starting her day.

As a wife and mother of three, Eileen has kept busy, but 16 years ago she began working one day a week at the library to relieve the full time librarian. Now, she works four days a week, makes many important decisions, does bookkeeping, and loves most of it. The one thing she hates she says is going through overdue cards. As she put it, "If everyone knew how I hate going through those overdue cards..."

Eileen is not the head librarian, however. Several years ago, when a new head librarian was needed, Madeline Fisher came to the rescue for Mentone.

State law requires that a head librarian have two years of college education, and Mrs. Bowser had not attended college. Because Madeline wanted the library to remain open she accepted the position.

She teaches art at Triton High School, and holds a masters librarians select the books they wish to purchase. Eileen showed me several catalogs that she receives everyday that describe books that are available from publishers.

The library budget of $11,000 per year allows $3200 for the purchase of books. It may book selections carefully. How do they do it? "You have to know what your patrons want" says Eileen. Most are fiction, but they buy quite a few non-fiction, also. After 16 years, Eileen has quite a good idea of what people in Mentone want available.

The library, as of December 31, 1977, contains 22,677 books, with a selection of fiction and non-fiction for adults and children, reference materials including encyclopedias, magazines, newspapers, and historical books, and many biographies.

New books at the library are on display in front so that readers become aware of them, and Eileen knows many of her patrons so well that she can recommend books for them that she thinks they will enjoy. She even knows many of their register numbers without even looking at her card file!

Many towns the size of Mentone are not fortunate enough to have their own libraries. But as Eileen said, Mentone's founding fathers were wise enough to realize the needs of a library in any community, large or small.

The first library was started in 1916 in downtown Mentone, and in 1959 the new building was built. Lawrence Bell, well known aviator from Mentone, donated $20,000 at that time for a memorial to his parents. He did not specify what it should be used for, and the town decided to use the money for the new library building.

Funds were also raised through the sale of the old building, and in 1959 the new library became a reality.

The new shelves, purchased several years ago, were bought through community effort. The townspeople raised the money through donations, and they now have quite an accomplishment in their pockets.

The only requirement for using the library freely is that a person live in Mentone, Harrison, Franklin, or Seward Townships. Non-residents must pay $4.00 a year for the services.

Since I am a real reader (when time permits these days) I decided to register. It was very easy; Jennifer Pyle, part-time employee, gave me a card to fill out, and then gave me a registered number. All I have to do is present that number when I want to check out books. It's that simple.

A limit is put at six books per checkout, and two weeks is the time limit. Unless you live in the country. Then you may keep them for one month, if you so request. New books though are only available for two weeks.

My interview with Eileen was quite pleasant, and I was relieved to find that a librarian can be a "real person".

As a child, I had always feared librarians. Mainly because I always had overdue books and no money to pay the fines. My parents were strict about returning books on time, so I couldn't ask them for the money. The fines often waited until I had a babysitting job, and while the library waited, I sweat it out. Every night I would go to bed just knowing that the police would be coming for me the next day! As

by Renee Norlander

Take a moment and count up the glass containers in your kitchen closets, refrigerator and freezer. Surprised by the number? You have a veritable glassworks in your home! And glass works for you, too, doing double duty to make your life easier and prettier.

When your glass containers are empty, creative glassworks begin. Turn those jars from dinner into canisters. Keep your potato chips crunchy sealed tightly in jars. Safely store beans, cereals, nuts, flours and coffee. Decorate the caps and identify them with your own hand-designed labels.

How does your kitchen garden grow? In jars! Root clippings in water-filled glass containers. Then transfer them to larger jars covering the bottom with pebbles. Decorate your jars with rope or raffia or let them shine on their own, hung from the window with transparent twine.

Bring the beach to your kitchen with sandscapes. Experiment with different layers of colored sand.

Spotlight your rock or shell collections in glass. Place them front-center on your kitchen table.

Spice up your life with your own homemade spice rack. Glue tops to a piece of wood, screw in your jars and attach to a wall.

A terrarium? A vase? Candle creations? Yes, and all from the same containers that helped make your dinner fresh, flavorful and economical.

Snacks aren't all bad

The much maligned between meal snack is not really bad. Just ask Marcie Allen, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Purdue University.

People differ in their eating habits, she says. Some find three well-planned meals a day fit their way of living. Others find eating smaller, more frequent meals best.

It is not so much how you eat but what you eat, says Allen. All foods eaten, snacks included, have to be considered as part of the total diet. Too many high caloric snacks — cookies, cakes and potato chips, for example — can add up to a bulging waistline or poorly nourished children.

Consider instead: — Cooked liver or other organ meats made into a paste and mixed with sour cream to make a dip served with raw vegetables (carrots, celery, turnips, etc.).

Foods which can be easily made ready by those having a snack — cheese, cold meats and hard cooked eggs, for example.

— Chilled fruits in season. These are flavorful and nutritious. Their price is also good. — Frozen fruit juice served as a snack. Children especially like these treats.

— Milk, which is always good. Allen recommends keeping some snack foods on hand. Canned foods such as meats, fish and cheese spreads are always ready for munching. Canned or dried soups are also quick to make and nutritious. Peanut butter is not only good on sandwiches but can be used as a dip for crackers and vegetables if mixed with a little mayonnaise or fruit juice.

Canned fruit can be eaten as is or frozen for a special treat. Frozen fruits can also be purchased. "So don't be upset if the family wants snacks," says Allen. "Just be sure the foods are a nutritious part of their daily diet."

Tippecanoe News

A semi low boy loaded with steel, caused some excitement in Tippecanoe on Sunday evening when it became tangled with the rail at the Norfolk and Western crossing on SR 331. Because of the quick action of the driver and area residents, a Chicago bound freight train was stopped in time to avoid hitting the semi and causing greater damage and possible derailment. The township fire department was called to the scene when a flare left too close caught the canvas cover on fire. The large wrecker of Reichert-Monesmith of Bourbon pulled the semi from the track.

Indiana is risk area for tornadoes

"An unusually severe winter doesn't necessarily mean that Indiana is going to get more than its share of tornadoes this spring," says Stephen Justham, Ball State University meteorologist.

"The number of tornadoes varies on a weather system basis," he explains, "not according to the severity of the winter season."

Nevertheless, the Ball State professor considers Indiana a "high risk" state.

"Indiana averages about 23 tornadoes a year and ranks eighth or ninth among the states if the number of occurrences alone are considered. However, Indiana is fifth in terms of risk potential. Factors such as the number of tornadoes, population and size of the state help determine the risk potential."

Dr. Justham says that tornadoes are hard to predict because too little is known about how thunderstorms develop. He believes that increased knowledge and the development of new equipment within the next five years will make it possible to tell when a tornado is going to occur with 20 to 30 minutes lead time.

"Indiana's tornadoes are even trickier than those of the Great Plains," Justham says. "Midwestern tornadoes are often hidden by rain."

Dr. Justham adds that the "atmosphere doesn't pay any attention to statistics." It doesn't matter how few or how many times a community has been hit by a tornado. The next tornado will strike where it pleases, he said.

He also warned citizens to "take no comfort in such old wives' tales that a tornado will not strike a community on the bend of a river or because of the confluence of rivers."

Stressing that preparedness will save lives, Dr. Justham praised the State Department of Public Instruction for revamping its guidelines for construction of schools and its program of tornado drills.

The importance of warning systems and the necessity for keeping them up cannot be underestimated, he concludes.

"Sometimes a community that has experienced a tornado will set up a warning system and then as the danger seems to recede, the system falls into disrepair or people forget what the signal means. No one can predict when it will be needed," Justham warns.

soon as the money was in my hand, I would run to the library to save myself.

Meeting Eileen relieved my fears for children and myself. As the mother of three grown children, Rex, Reid, and Amy, and grandmother of two, I doubt very much that Eileen would ever send the police after an overdue book holder. Especially a child!

She really seems to enjoy her job, and knows very well what she is doing. If you have ever hesitated about going to this library - don't. You'll be very happy you did!

hats off to our customers

The longest coal strike in the country's history is finally over. Coal shipments have begun replenishing the stockpiles at our power plants. Most mandatory electric energy cutbacks have been lifted, but we urge our customers to continue to use energy wisely and comply with state requests for voluntary conservation.

Before the energy emergency becomes just a memory, we wish to thank a great number of people who helped us make it through the crisis.

Thanks to Governor Otis Bowen, his staff, the Energy Office and all the other state officials who helped keep the coal moving during the strike.

Thanks to the Indiana State Police for their protection and to the Indiana National Guardsmen who were called from their homes and jobs to help secure the coal shipments.

Thanks to the Public Service Commission for devising a responsible plan that stretched our coal reserves over the duration of the strike.

Thanks to the coal suppliers who kept our stockpiles from falling to more critical levels.

Our biggest thanks goes to you, our customer, whose spirit of cooperation during the strike was nothing short of wonderful. To those who suffered discomfort, inconvenience and even worse, loss of income and employment, the words "thank you" may not be adequate. We can only hope for your understanding.

Your sacrifice helped conserve the fuel that kept the power flowing. Without your cooperation, the coal strike might well have become a catastrophe. Because of you, it didn't.

"Where are they now?"

By Don Hard
Contributing Writer

A question was raised in a 60's song, "Where have all the young men gone?" We've found some of these young men, all who have graduated from Tippecanoe Valley.

Back in 1975 when the "Valley machine" was just beginning to roll, a young man by the name of Max Meiser was blazing the cross-country and track fields. Max is now at Purdue University majoring in engineering. Also at Purdue is Don Dickerhoff. Don was an instrumental part of the Valley's first baseball sectional crown, and was voted to the all-regional team.

In 1976 the Valley produced their first boys' state qualifier in track and field. Pat Stiffler went to the state meet in the pole vault. Pat is at Vincennes University majoring in accounting. Another stand-out in 1976 was Ryan Williams. Ryan, who played basketball, football and track, is now carrying on his ability to college. He plays defensive tackle for the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Tippecanoe Valley not only had some great athletes, it had good actors too. John Hill, who was the lead in several plays at the Valley, is now using his talent at Ball State University. John has had roles in major productions at Ball State. Not far from Ball State is Taylor University where Brett Hackworth, another "star" from the Valley, is using his acting ability in some Taylor University plays.

This paper would appreciate reader contributions of information regarding the whereabouts of other outstanding graduates of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Pictures that tell a story

Still sits the school-house by the road,
A ragged beggar sunning;
Around it still the sumachs grow,
And blackberry-vines are running.

Accident claims life of Frank Banghart

Franklin A. Banghart Sr., 36, of 212 N. Franklin, Mentone, assistant water superintendent for the town of Mentone, died shortly after arrival at Rochester's Woodlawn Hospital on Wednesday, April 5, as the result of internal injuries he received in a one truck accident on U.S. 31 just south of Rochester.

Harry Sullivan, 75, also of Mentone, and the town's water superintendent, was a passenger in the truck, and he received fractured ribs and abrasions to his face and the left side of his head when the loaded gravel truck that Banghart was driving blew a tire and flipped over two and one half times.

Police said the dump truck driven by Banghart was northbound on U.S. 31 traveling at approximately 60 miles per hour when a right rear tire blew out on the vehicle.

The truck went off the berm on the inside lane and flipped over two and a half times before it landed partially on the victim. Banghart was thrown out of the vehicle and Sullivan was pinned inside the cab, according to state police.

The 1970 single-axle dump truck was owned by the town of Mentone. The vehicle was damaged $20,000.

State Trooper John Dunn was assisted by Fulton County Police, and Rochester Police.

A firemen's memorial service was held Friday evening at 8 p.m. for Banghart, and several certificates were presented to Mrs. Banghart (the former Sandra Kain). One was from the Elkhart County Deputy Sheriff's Association for Banghart's dedication to his job as a law enforcement officer, and the other was a Certificate of Completion for law enforcement study from the Kosciusko County Sheriff's Association.

The funeral for Banghart was held on Saturday afternoon, with many local officials in attendance. Five police cars representing Mentone, and Kosciusko and Fulton Counties were present, along with representatives from the Mentone and Burket fire departments.

Pall bearers were Mentone Marshal Earl Beattie and Deputy Marshal Michael Trent; Roy Carlisle, Gene Norton, and Burdell Blackburn of the Kosciusko County Deputy Sheriffs; and Mentone firemen Chief Joe Good, Frank Hardesty, Bob Heckman, Roger Montel, Butch Warren, and Donny Smythe.

Burial was at the Mentone Cemetery. (See obituary on page 10)

Mr. Sullivan is now at home resting and recuperating. He was released from the hospital Tuesday, April 11.

Kindergarten pre-enrollment

On April 19, 1978 at 1 P.M. the Burket Grade School will have pre-enrollment for the 1978-1979 kindergarten class. The meeting will be in the kindergarten room.

Parents are reminded to bring their child's birth certificate so that school officials can verify the child's age for the school records. A child must be five years of age on or before August 1, 1978, in order to attend kindergarten.

Parents who cannot attend this meeting may send in the necessary information with another person. Anyone having questions concerning the pre-enrollment meeting should call the school office.

Trustees' hours

The Henry Township Trustee Office located at the Town Hall in Akron will be open on Monday, Friday, and Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon. For all other appointments, call 893-4703 or 893-4133.

Keep America Beautiful Day

The Akron Junior Girl Scouts will participate in the county-wide observance of the annual Keep America Beautiful campaign Saturday, April 22. Project plans were discussed at the regular meeting Tuesday in the Lions Den.

Fulton County Realtors Association has agreed to underwrite a portion of the cost of a 4-color KAB patch which each Girl Scout earns when she helps with the clean-up project, according to Mrs. Thule Alber of Rochester, who is County KAB chairman.

Girl Scouts will observe the safety rules but it is good for the public to be aware that girls are out-of-doors, she said.

Outdoor Skills Workshop for volunteers will be April 19 at Camp Wildwood in Logansport. Mrs. Pat Trippendi and Mrs. Judith Hall will be attending with leaders from Rochester.

Registrations for Day Camp, resident, and core camping at Kokiwanee are being received in the Tribal Trails Council office at Logansport. Community support for the cookie sales help girls earn their camping.

Mentone Police Report

Mentone Marshal Earl Beattie and Deputy Marshal Michael Trent aided Kosciusko County police with a two car accident 2 1/2 miles south of Mentone on State Road 19 at 2 p.m. on April 6.

Involved in the accident were Joe Kline of R. 1, Silver Lake, and Phillip S. Studebaker, R. 1, Akron. Both vehicles were totaled in the accident, and Kline was taken to Wabash Hospital for treatment of a broken ankle. Studebaker was taken to a doctor of his choice in Peru by his parents for a checkup.

On April 6, at 6 p.m., Edwin W. Reeves of 208 S. Franklin, Mentone, was arrested by Beattie and Trent on a body attachment warrant.

Carso Tackett of 418 S. Union, Warsaw, was arrested at 8:30 p.m. on April 7 by Beattie and Trent for public intoxication. He was taken to Kosciusko County Sheriff's office in Warsaw and lodged there.

Thanks from Superintendent

DEAR EDITOR:

After such a hard winter, it is a pleasure for me to be writing this on a day when the temperature outside is almost 60 degrees. I just want to take this opportunity to thank everyone in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation who assisted the schools in surviving this most difficult winter. Especially on behalf of Leroy Combs, bus mechanic for TVSC, I want to thank the farmers and others who helped pull out stuck buses, those who made calls for the bus drivers and those who were just patient with all the inconveniences.

Despite what we may have thought at one particular moment in time, and as we all look back, both the Fulton and Kosciusko County Highway Departments did an excellent job and showed remarkable endurance and patience under the frustrations of mechanical breakdowns and impossible road conditions. Without exception when we called them, they responded with courtesy and assistance. We thank them for all the little extras they did for the schools and our school bus transportation program.

The students and parents with few exceptions were patient and courteous even when I made mistakes trying to outguess what the weather was going to be or do.

Again let me express my appreciation and thanks to all. We survived fairly well and should have a very enjoyable spring and summer.

—Lloyd W. Harrell, Superintendent

Hokus Pokus!

DEAR EDITOR:

Do you care to use the enclosed item in the weekly paper? If not, just skip it. But many people are asking me when the crocus will bloom.

Hokus Pokus! Here come the crocus! The crocus bed on the lawn of the Fred Haney home is coming alive, and if sunshine weather favors it, should be in full bloom by the weekend. The golden blossoms announce SPRING, in big letters. These flowers do not open fully on a cloudy day.

Yours truly,
Doris Haney

Volunteers will be calling "door-to-door" next week in Henry Township for the Cancer Crusade. Norma Barr, chairman, asks that persons who can not give money, possibly may give Top Value stamps.

The most important thing a father can do for his children is to love their mother.

Miss Mentone to be chosen

The Mentone youth leaders are once again planning a "get acquainted" tea for selected girls interested in being the Miss Mentone representative for the 1978 Kosciusko County Fair.

The chosen girls, selected by local adult leaders and youth representatives, are nominated by ballot and those interested return a questionnaire listing their school activities, goals, and a brief resume stating how they would conduct a campaign.

The Miss Mentone candidate will be chosen by ballot at the April 15th tea. Although it is an honor to be selected as this community's representative, it involves many hours of hard work and planning. All county candidates end their penny-a-vote campaign on Saturday of the county fair, with proceeds going to speech and hearing therapy along with programs at the Cardinal Learning Center. The contest is sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

"Oklahoma" scheduled

TRITON HIGH SCHOOL

The Triton High School choir is presently making preparations for their April 21 and 22 performances of "Oklahoma". This musical by Rodgers & Hammerstein is performed by a cast of over 30 students representing grades 9-12. The cast is headed by two seniors, Sally Witham as Laurey and her beau Curley, played by Mark Fettes. Others in the cast include: Rosalie Price as Ado Annie, Tim Livengood as Will Parker, and Kim Miller as Aunt Eller.

Reserved seats can be obtained by calling Triton High School. Tickets will also be available at the door of both performances.

Bike-a-thon planned for May

Leigh Copeland, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Copeland of Indianapolis, has been named the 1978 state poster child for the Indiana State Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Leigh was one of many young applicants from all over the state of Indiana who suffer from cystic fibrosis and other related lung-damaging diseases.

Diagnosed as cystic when she was 2 months old, Leigh's strict regimen of daily medication, inhalation and physical therapy twice a day, does not interfere with her participation in first grade activities or her interest in hula, ballet and tap dancing.

The Mentone area chairman for this year's campaign is Beulah "Bebe" Weirick. A bike-a-thon is being planned for May 27 with community volunteers and local organizations participating.

SERVING A PROGRESSIVE COMMUNITY SINCE 1892

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

I received in the mail several weeks ago an alert sent out by the U. S. Postal Service detailing ways that con artists are using the mailing and phone systems of this country for fraud and theft.

One group of thieves, posing as members of phony minority causes or organizations, headquartered in Los Angeles, bilked businessmen of $25 million last year.

How do they succeed at this illegal action?

* They call businessmen all over the country to solicit funds for nonexistent minority causes or organizations.

* They solicit payment on previously mailed bills for imaginary or useless business directories.

* And enforce payment of previously mailed invoices for office supplies or services that were never ordered by the company and never delivered by the thieves.

The average large company that is victimized in this way can pay of from $1000 to $3000 annually, says Postal Inspector Charles J. Lerable. One company actually paid out more than $29,000 in one year.

How can you avoid this telephone - mail fraud? The postal service gives this advice:

* Say no if a caller with a minority group accent asks you to contribute to a cause or organization unknown to you and refuses to give you information that you can verify.

* Say no if you are being dunned for a listing in a business directory you have never heard of.

* Say no if you are billed and pressed to pay for office supplies you never ordered and can not verify.

The thieves appear to be mainly after business persons who are too busy to take the time to say no or check their supplies, etc.

However, it is always possible that they may try to steal from individuals also. So be careful, everyone! And call the local postal service or phone company if you feel someone is fraudulent. It could save all of us a lot of wasted money!

New film is gripping story

SHIOKARI PASS, a new film from the producers of THE HIDING PLACE, will be shown at the Akron United Methodist Church this Sunday at 7:30 p. m. and will last one hour.

This movie is unique among World Wide Pictures productions. Although it has an English soundtrack, it was originally produced for showing to Japanese audiences. It was filmed entirely in Japan with a Japanese cast and crew, and depicts the delicate beauty of that country. The drama of the story unfolds against a backdrop of Japan's spring blossoms, snowcapped mountains, and whispering native music.

A true story, it is based on the international best seller by Ayaka Miura. Nearly two million readers have been touched by this story of the abiding love of a young couple at the turn of the century.

Crediting with creating a deeper understanding of the Christian faith among the Japanese people, the film tells of the love of Nubuo for Fujiko, and of his willingness to be guided by his personal faith, no matter how great the cost of commitment.

The Rev. John E. Moore extends an invitation to each member of the community to attend this special showing and added, "Shiokari Pass is the kind of film that will be enjoyed and remembered by the entire family."

There will be no admission charge for the film program.

Social security reports due

Time is getting short for those people getting social security checks who are required to file an annual report of their earnings for 1977.

The deadline for filing a report, when one is due, is April 17, 1978. Those missing the deadline may be subject to a penalty unless they receive a time extension.

People required to file an annual report are those who:

- Received one or more social security checks during 1977, and
- Did not reach age 72 before January 1977, and
- Had total earnings of $3,000 or more in 1977, and
- Did not have all benefits withheld during 1977.

If people in this group did not receive an annual report form in the mail, or if they lost the one they did receive, they can get another form at the South Bend social security office.

There are other groups of people who, although not required to file an annual report, probably should do so. These people may be due benefits for 1977. But social security has no way of knowing unless a report is filed.

The first group who should file are those who had some benefits withheld during 1977 because they expected to earn more than $3,000 during that year but whose actual earnings were less than $3,000. No back benefits can be paid unless a report is filed.

The other group who should file a report are those who had all benefits withheld because of expected high earnings and either earned less than expected or who earned $250 or less and did not perform substantial services in one or more months.

People in these groups must file an annual report of 1977 earnings in order to get any benefits they are due.

No benefits can be paid for a year, however, unless an annual report is filed within 3 years, 3 months, and 15 days after the end of the year in which benefits are due. For example, no benefits could be paid for 1977 unless an annual report is filed by April 15, 1981.

People can get more information about filing annual reports of earnings at the South Bend, Indiana social security office, located in Room 400 Sherland Bldg., 105 E. Jefferson Blvd. The telephone number is 234-4001. The office hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Born on August 31, 1941 at Warsaw, to Earl F. and Edith (Smith) Banghart, he had been a resident of Mentone for 15 years. On February 22, 1959 at Warsaw he married the former Sandra Kain.

He was a charter member of the Sons of the Legion in Warsaw, a member of the Mentone Volunteer Fire Department, and had worked for 3 1/2 years for the Mentone Town, Street, and Water Department, and the Mentone Police Department.

Survivors include his wife, Sandra; his mother, Edith, of Warsaw; three sons - Foy of Mentone, and Jim and Frank, at home; four daughters - Kathy, Beth, Penny, and Katina, all at home; two grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Marjorie Harrell of Warsaw.

Funeral services were Saturday April 8 at King Memorial Home in Mentone, with the Rev. E. Robert Heckman of the Mentone United Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery. The Firemen's Memorial was on Friday night at 8 p.m.

Wood burning stoves

Because of last winter's gas shortage and extremely cold weather and this winter's snow and electrical shortage, homeowners are looking to the past for home heating help - to woodburning stoves.

"If spring remodeling includes adding a wood-burning stove to the home, be sure to install it properly," advises Ella Jo Mood, Extension housing specialist at Purdue University.

If the stove is new, follow the manufacturer's instructions exactly. Deviating from these instructions could invite problems from a poorly burning fire to asphyxiation or a burned home.

The National Fire Protection Association has recommendations for the installation of antique stoves.

Check local building codes for stove installation requirements. The codes may or may not agree with the manufacturer's instructions. If they do not agree, discuss the problem with the local building inspector. In some areas a building permit is needed to install a wood-burning stove. That can also be obtained from the building inspector.

All stoves, but especially used ones, should be checked for defects in legs, hinges and dampers. Stove cement can repair small cracks, but large cracks should be welded by an expert.

Stoves can be installed closer to a fireproof wall than a combustible one. A shield of asbestos millboard with a one-inch air space is commonly recommended, but may be hard to find. Some building codes do not recognize sheet rock as fire retardant because its paper coat is flammable.

All floors, except concrete, require protection from heat, sparks and coals. Asbestos or metal stove pads should be used. These pads extend 6-12 inches on three sides and 18 inches to the front of the stove.

Stoves usually have legs 8-10 inches high to protect the floor. Legs should be at least 4 inches high.

The stovepipe that connects the stove to the chimney should be at least 24-gauge or thicker metal (the higher the gauge number the thinner the metal). The pipe should be the same diameter as the outlet from the stove, usually 6-8 inches. If a smaller pipe is used, the stove won't "draw" properly. The pipe should be as vertical as possible.

Chimneys should be bricked with tile or double-walled asbestos insulated. Triple wall, non-insulated types are not recommended because high flue temperatures are difficult to maintain and excessive creosote may build up.

The chimney should also match the stove and be as big as the stovepipe or bigger.

"Don't vent a second pipe into a chimney already in use," cautions Mood. "Also don't run the stovepipe out a window and up the side of the house. This could cause a fire," she adds.

Many people have believed they could make rain by imitating thunder.

Akron Clean-Up Days May 19-20

The Akron Board of Trustees has proclaimed May 19 and May 20 as Akron Clean-Up Days.

Acting on a recommendation made by board president Ron Fenimore in the regular monthly session held Tuesday, April 18, the proclamation was made with the request that Akron residents "show their community pride and spirit" and pitch in to help clean up alleys, yards, streets and fields of litter and hazardous debris such as old refrigerators and the like.

The town will have two or three trucks on special duty during the clean-up days to haul the litter.

Residents are asked to leave pick-ups next to the curb for disposal.

Other meeting highlights:

— The board received two bids regarding the price of a new truck, equipped with a dump bed, hoist, snow-plow & extra snow lights, South End Motors, Akron, bid $7,675, and Bahney Chevrolet, Akron, proposed $7,719. The board will consider and act on the bids at a later date.

— Discussion was made regarding the repair of town sidewalks and how to best finance such a project at the lowest and fairest cost possible to citizens. Town Clerk Ernest Smith stated the possibility of having CETA (Federal) funding pick up the total labor costs, with property owners paying only the cost of cement. The board requested that he further investigate the possibility and advise his findings later.

— Clerk Smith advised the board that some complaints have been voiced regarding cars being parked in town, blocking sidewalks, so that pedestrians have to walk in the streets to get around them. The board approved a motion to re-paint yellow boundary lines and will request police to continue enforcement of existing laws regarding illegal parking.

Nellans appointed chairman

Realtor Larry Nellans, owner of Larry Nellans, Realtors, Warsaw, has been appointed Regional Membership Chairman for Region VII (Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin) of the Realtors National Marketing Institute. He will work with Vice-President-Chairman of Membership, William R. Moore, CCM, Denver, Colo., and the State Chairmen for States within his region to achieve the goals of the Institute for 1978.

Mentone park cleanup

All board members, coaches, and any other interested persons who would like to help get the Mentone Youth Park ready for the upcoming season should be at the park at 8 a.m. Saturday, April 22.

Please bring a rake, shovel, hammer, paint brush, grass clippers, or any other equipment you would be willing to use.

REMC selects directors

The Fulton County REMC selected three directors to three year terms Monday night during the electric cooperative's annual meeting in the Rochester High School gymnasium.

Returned to the board were Roy Schipper, R. 1, Akron District 6; Harold Showley, R. 2, Kewanna, District 8, and Bud Krohn Sr., R. 1, Winamac, District 10.

Immediately after the meeting, the board of directors reorganized for the current year and returned all officers, as follows: Schipper, president; Donald Showley, R. 1, Rochester, vice president, and Donald Pfeiffer, R. 5, Rochester, secretary-treasurer. Clarence Martens remains as manager.

Thirty-two persons received electrical appliance prizes during the meeting.

Mentone phone numbers changed

General Telephone Company of Indiana has completed work on a new $640,000 central switching office and related telephone facilities which provides Mentone telephone customers with an advanced computer-controlled switching system to process and route telephone calls effective last Saturday, April 15.

According to General Telephone District Service Manager Ed Knafel, the new switching system will, in its initial stage, be capable of handling 800 new telephone lines, and 900 new telephone numbers in the area, and can be expanded to meet future growth requirements. He added that the new central switching office was designed to meet area growth through the year 2002, and will allow for the upgrading of party line customers to one-, two-, or four-party service during the next three years.

Variety show April 30

Sunday, April 30 at 2 p.m. in the Triton High School auditorium is the time and place of the first in many events held to celebrate Old Town Pump Days '78.

Headlining the afternoon of music and merriment will be song stylist, Rita Price-Simpson and banjo virtuoso, Johnny Keck. Also on the program will be the prestidigitator of Rev. Jim Campbell for kids of all ages. Filling out the bill will be the songs of Nashville recording artist, Dave Robertson of Plymouth.

"South Pacific" this weekend

"South Pacific" cast members ran through their lines for the final time this week in preparation for Friday and Saturday nights presentation to be held in the high school commons area. Over 50 students are involved with and in the production.

Ennis retires as coach

Bill Ennis, TVHS varsity boys' swim coach and teacher of elementary boys and girls swim classes, submitted his letter of resignation to the TVSC School Board at their meeting Monday evening.

Ennis gave his main reason for leaving as one of not being physically able to teach, and he has decided to enter real estate sales.

Ennis' wife, Darlene, fourth grade teacher at the Mentone Elementary School, also submitted her resignation on Monday. They plan on leaving the community around June 1.

The Board accepted both resignations, with Dr. Lloyd W. Harrell, superintendent, saying that Ennis had not been pressured to resign.

Another request for retirement was also approved by the board. Mrs. Kathleen Jennens, fourth grade teacher at Akron Elementary School will retire May 26, after 10 years of teaching Akron students.

In related business, Brent Boggs of Mentone, was hired to fill Mrs. Jennens position. He is a graduate of Grace College in Warsaw.

The resignation of Charles Clawson, custodian at Mentone School was also accepted. He will resign effectively on May 28.

In other business, the board learned that an additional $39,000 for the Akron Elementary School boiler has been approved; the board approved Dr. Harrell's attendance at a management research conference in Detroit; and heard Principal Skinner's report on high school activities.

Recommendations for the tenure of teachers was cancelled, until the board can meet in executive session. This will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday evening, and a special public meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening at the high school.

All claims and payroll for March were approved.

Spring Cleanup in Mentone

The Mentone Town Board has proclaimed the week of April 24 through April 29 as Mentone Spring Clean-Up Week.

The board made the proclamation with the hope that Mentone residents will pitch in and help clean up alleys, yards and fields of litter and hazardous debris such as junk cars and old refrigerators.

Newsview

By Bob Norlander

Why is it, do you suppose, that the week can be beautiful and weekends can not conform to anybody's definition of a pleasant day?

People who keep statistics note that a majority of Saturdays and Sundays through the year are not family outdoor weekends.

In the spring weekends are filled by watching the rain run down window panes. Sometimes snow can be seen covering the backs of unappreciative robins.

Nice weather

In the summer that planned picnic is either in the car or on the living room rug instead of a picnic bench in the back yard or at a park.

Occasionally the Sunday turkey is barbecued in the garage instead of on the patio.

In the fall a walk in the autumn leaves turns out being an afternoon at the fireplace. Not that that is so bad, but if something else is planned it is second best.

The winter. What can be said about that season? When you plan a trip to relatives you don't know if you'll be stranded before you get there or while you are there and you don't know which is worse.

If you plan to be home the weather is terrific and you shovel that terrific white stuff wishing you had been stranded at your mother-in-law's place.

No matter what season or what the weather is like we look forward to the next weekend knowing full well that chances are it will be like the last misery but hoping the weatherman got his isobars crossed.

Money needed

DEAR EDITOR:

Members of the Mentone Park & Cemetery Board met last week to discuss needs of these facilities. There is a need for playground equipment at Mentone Park, also an immediate need for a new bridge across the creek, plus general park improvements.

The Cemetery is in need of a larger equipment storage building and the Board has wanted to build one for several years but like always, there is never enough money.

We are bringing these needs to your attention and feel each of you will respond in a positive manner. You may send your donations to: Clerk-Treasurer, Town of Mentone, Ind. 46539. You may specify your donation for either the Park or Cemetery or both.

Members of the Board are Robert Whetstone, Rosiland Mentzer, Annabelle Mentzer, Rosemary Bazini and Tom Fugate. We will be glad to talk with anyone about the needed improvements, and are always open to constructive suggestions.

Signed,

Members of Mentone Park and Cemetery Board

Mentone Police Report

Wesley Lee Carroll, of 1217 Sunset, Chicago, Ill., was arrested by Mentone Marshal Earl Beattie at 5:35 p.m. on April 15, and taken to the Kosciusko County Sheriff's Department for booking.

Charged with four counts, including, public intoxication, driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an accident and possession of marijuana, Carroll was released on bond, and is to appear before the Kosciusko County Court on April 26.

Dick Gross, owner of the Sonoco Station, reported that a bell-hose was stolen from his station. The reported worth was $50.

Marshal Beattie advised a young man to watch his language while using his CB. The FCC has strict regulations on the proper language communicated over citizen band radios. Marshal Beattie had overheard the young man using foul language on his police car CB. No arrest was made.

Beattie was called to speak to neighbor children about gun safety by an unidentified woman who complained that her children were shooting BB guns. They are illegal in the town of Mentone, and Beattie notified the boys of this.

Roger Barton reported to Beattie on Friday, April 14, at 7:15 p.m. that three young men were fighting in front of the Cigo Station in Mentone. Barton had asked them to leave, but when they would not, he called Beattie.

When the persons involved saw Beattie approaching in his car, they fled in a 1969 Chevy Impala, west on Highway 25. The Fulton County Sheriff's Department was notified, as they had left Beattie's jurisdiction.

Inspectors honored

Dr. Robert E. Miller, of Mentone, a veterinary meat inspector for the Federal Meat and Poultry Inspection Service, has recently been honored with a Certificate of Merit and a Letter of Commendation for sustained superior performance in carrying out his assignments for 1977.

Dr. Miller has been a Federal employee a little over seven years.

Also honored with a Certificate of Merit and a cash award for sustained superior performance in carrying out her assignments for 1977, was Dora M. Miller, also of Mentone.

"Jaws" registration

Wednesday evening the registration for the Tippecanoe Valley Aquatic Club was held at the Tippecanoe Valley High School. Practice for the summer season will begin earlier this year than in past years.

The "Jaws" team will attend many AAU swim meets this summer. As a result of this decision all team members will be required to have an AAU number. The team will also participate in regular dual meets as has been the case in years past.

Anyone who was unable to attend the meeting on Wednesday evening and is interested in joining the swim team please contact Sandy Daake, 223-3411, Alona Leininger, 893-1000, or Jo Manwaring, 353-7680.

Insurance for crops

Farmers can still protect themselves, if they hurry, with All-Risk Crop Insurance.

All-risk means that they are protected from any natural hazard which is unavoidable, whether it is foul weather, a plague of insects, or the blight of crop disease. And the policy can be tailored to this year's needs. Investment protection can be chosen from different levels.

When disaster strikes, the farmer can be sure that his investment does not get wiped out. By signing up for All-Risk Crop Insurance on corn by April 30 and soybeans by May 10, a lot of future grief can be avoided. For information write Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, 513 Main Street, Rochester, or call 219-223-6516.

Aid for paying fuel bills

Low income individuals are reminded that there is a program available to Fulton Co. residents to assist in paying delinquent fuel bills (heat related), when all other methods of paying these bills are exhausted.

Some of the income guidelines have changed from last year.

Some of the income guidelines have changed from last year. Also there is no longer a $50 rebate for having paid fuel bills for the previous year. Any interested individual can obtain more information by calling Fulton Co. Development Council at 223-3701.

Or an outreach worker is in Akron at the Akron Town Office, Thursdays from 9 to 12 noon.

New books at Akron Library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

MORAL STANDARD FOR THE NEW AGE by Majel Meyer. In this unusual book, the author challenges all of us - from the President to the average man in the street - to think about adopting a new moral standard for America. This book presents an entirely new direction in which our government can move if it wishes to solve the problem of moral decay which has swept our nation.

PENCARNAN by Jennifer Rigg. This is a suspense story that tells about a young heiress, Jane Gilbert, who is distraught when her sweetheart, Clive Denham, returns from the First World War a victim of shell shock, with no memory of her or of the love they shared before his departure. But in spite of his amnesia their feelings for each other are soon rekindled, and Jane, hoping his loss of memory is only temporary agrees to marry him and live with him in Pencarnan, the family house in Pembrokeshire, on the coast of Wales.

TROUBLED HERITAGE by Jeanne Wilson. A chronicle of plantation life in eighteenth-century Jamaica; a sage of three families - Vane, Wells and Lonsdale - whose English roots are inextricably grounded in the cane and coffee-rich land that was their refuge from Cromwell.

THE WISHING TREE by Sandra Parette. This is the epic saga of a determined woman and her faltering family by Germany's number one best selling novelist.

GUNS FOR REBELLION by F. Van Wyck Mason. The author has created another exciting tale set, this time, in Colonial America. It takes the reader from backwoods brawls to the quiet elegance of Cambridge, through the siege of Ticonderoga and to seething, spy-ridden Boston, introducing characters both real and fictional. The result is a deft blend of history and imagination that has become the hallmark of the Van Wyck Mason style - a style that has delighted readers all over the world.

60 YEARS AGO

We found Lafe Wilhoit one morning this week in town about as happy as a farmer could well be. His sons Bert and Cliff had planted twenty acres of corn last week. This had taken the cold rains over Sunday and some of the boys who had no corn planted were chaffing Lafe. But Lafe stuck to the proposition that his corn in the ground put there when the earth was mellow and warm had a two-fold chance to make a bumper crop than corn planted this week in the wet, cold earth. We believe Mr. Wilhoit is right and we will watch his results with interest.

The Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. John Dielman at her country home 3 1/2 miles southwest of town, Thursday afternoon of next week. There will be machines provided for all who will wish to go, by reporting prior to the day of going to Mrs. W. E. Hosman. Let there be a large attendance as a real welcome awaits all members and friends.

Cathy Welch is All-Star

BY DON HURD

"I'm all excited and can't wait," says Cathy Welch, the Valley's first all-state roundballer, about the upcoming All-Star Basketball Game June 17, at Louisville's Freedom Hall.

When asked about women's sports, she replied, "Women's sports are definitely making progress around the area. Year after year more people are beginning to come out and watch the girls, not just the boys."

"The Valley fans are great, more and more people are getting involved in the girls programs," she said. And added, "girls sports are just as exciting as boys." She would also advise any girl to take advantage of the sports program in their school.

College and basketball are definitely in her plans for the future. She has not committed herself to any college at this time.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

It is no secret that violence in America is on the rise, and it is no comfort to think anymore that "it can't happen to me", because it can.

People are more fearful now of physical harm than ever in our country's history, and shocking statistics show that violence in our homes as well as "on the streets", is at an all time high.

So violent is American family life that only a battlefield or riot are more devastating, according to a national survey of household violence.

Testifying before a congressional subcommittee recently, a University of New Hampshire researcher said:

"Violence occurs between family members more often than it occurs in any other setting except with armies in war and police during riots."

He could have added that a man is safer in a dark Detroit alley than in his own bedroom.

The national survey included these findings:

- * More than 1.8 million wives are beaten annually by their husbands - usually at least twice;
- * 2.3 million children have been attacked with a lethal weapon by their parents; and
- * About 2000 of the 20,000 murders annually in the United States involve husbands and wives.

What has happened to Americans?

What makes husbands beat their wives, and parents abuse their own children?

There are no simple answers! The pressures that society places on Americans these days is enormous. Money, self esteem, job security, religious beliefs ... all of these are contributors. A woman in Flint, Mich. allegedly killed her five year old son because she said the devil was working through him.

Phew! That is sickness I can not tolerate. No one can! Another man beat his son unmercifully because he was a bed wetter.

Now that I am the mother of a beautiful baby boy, it makes me nauseous to hear of these things. And I wonder HOW can anyone hurt a child? Or wife? Or husband? What can be done?

Plenty! But the first step should be taken by the parents themselves. I don't really think they want to hurt their own flesh and blood. They should seek professional help. See a psychiatrist, social worker, or doctor. Curing and caring is possible.

And neighbors, friends, and relatives should keep their eyes wide open! Don't be afraid to get involved. Call your local law enforcers if you feel someone is being harmed. You do have a moral responsibility to protect innocent people - especially children. And don't worry about your neighbors hating you. They may thank you in the end!

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hedington, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith, and Mrs. Gertrude Freyburg. Mrs. Leona Ralston is the great-great-grandmother.

Former Akron residents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Bradway, announce the arrival of their daughter, Carla Raelene. She was born April 2 and weighed five pounds, 14 ounces. The Bradways currently reside at 474 Northeast Ave., Tallmadge, Ohio 44278.

Garden tasks for April

Here are some hints to remind gardeners of the many tasks to be done during April. The reminders were prepared by Julie Chamberlain, Purdue University extension assistant in horticulture.

- Chemically control crabgrass when forsythia blooms.
- Fertilize shrubs in early spring. Use 2 pounds of 10-6-4 (or similar analysis fertilizer) per 100 square feet. Spread and rake in gently. Water the entire area.
- When the soil easily crumbles in your hand, plant ground covers under trees and shrubs in place of lawn. Shade loving ground covers are: myrtle, wintercreeper and pachysandra. Try sedum or honeysuckle in areas which receive full sun.
- Do not prune shapely evergreens such as spruce, hemlock and fir.
- Woodland violets are edible. Use a sprinkling of the blue flowers to brighten salads.

--Check house plants to see if they are potbound. If so, repot in a larger container with a drainage hole.

--Fertilize bulbs with 2 to 3 pounds of 4-12-4 fertilizer (or similar analysis) per 100 square feet (10x10) after the bloom has faded.

--Allow bulb foliage to die down naturally.

--Prune back roses to live wood. Apply shellac or a pruning compound to cut surfaces.

--Fruit trees girdled by mice should be bridge-grafted.

--Side-dress new strawberry plantings with 3 pounds of 12-12-12 fertilizer per 100-foot row.

Milbern School booklets hold valuable information

by Marsha Scott

The Milbern School house was built in 1888 and was used until 1925. Austin Milbern sold the land to Harrison township for the schoolhouse and as usually was done, the school was named after him. There were many schools with queer names such as - "Frogs Palace", "Dismal School", "Happy Corners", and "Buzzards Glory".

The Milbern School Historical Assn. has gathered some information about teachers who taught at the school and students who attended the school, but our information does not start until the year 1904 and we would like to find out about the earlier years of the school.

On the last day of school the teacher usually gave each pupil a Souvenir booklet. These contained a wealth of information because they gave the name of the school, the District number, the teacher's name, names of pupils, the County Supt., the Trustee, and the date of the booklet. Three of these booklets have been donated to the Assn. and this is how we have obtained names of teachers and students. The years of the booklets are 1904 through 1907.

The names of teachers taken from the booklets are: Edna J. Cretcher, Clyde F. Gault, Wm. Woodward, Jon McCullough and Mae Lash. Zelda Lash was also a teacher there.

Names of students from the booklet of the year 1906-07 are: Ethel Eaton, Huffer Milburn, Evert Hatfield, Ruth McCullough, Floyd Smith, Minnie Brown, Noama Harter, Connie Hipshire, Delpha and Millie Shoemaker, Victor, Grace, Glen and Cecil Cook, Clifford, Blanche Audrey, and Harry Eherenman, Roy and Earl Rush, Jessie and Lena Zent, and Ocar and Orpha Yarnan.

If anyone has information of any kind about the Milbern School, the Assn. would like to hear from you. Pictures, booklets, and even recollections from memory of how school was then would be greatly appreciated.

Call Marsha Scott at 353-7160 or write to her at R. 1, Box 208, Mentone, IN 46539.

DID YOU KNOW?

Most school boys carried pocketknives which were called "penknives". These penknives were originally used for making quill pens and they were a necessary part of early American school equipment. This would probably explain why old desks were carved so with knifed initials.

PROGRESS REPORT

The windows have been put in and the building is beginning to look like a schoolhouse again. Next step: clean up and scraping wallpaper.

Merry 4 Hers

Mentone Merry 4-Hers invited neighboring 4-H clubs to a recreation night which was held at Tippecanoe Valley High School. Gordon Jones, Purdue University recreation specialist, was in charge. Typical activities were Get Acquainted games and rounds. Robin Secrist conducted the opening ceremonies.

Choose fence, deck wood carefully

It's not too early to begin planning for those summer outdoor activities and yard parties. But privacy for these is sometimes hard to achieve since most residential houses are built on relatively small lots.

Addition of a "natural material" such as that used in a wooden yard fence or deck can help solve this problem while adding to the overall appearance and value of your property, says Daniel Cassens, Purdue University extension forest products specialist.

"Wood is an exceedingly variable material," Cassens points out. "As a result, you must understand some of the basic characteristics and compare prices for maximum satisfaction."

"The major problem with most wood used in exterior situations is decay," he continues. "In the manufacturing process, most lumber is dried and dry lumber does not decay. However, as soon as this lumber is put in contact with the soil or exposed to the weather for prolonged periods, it will begin to absorb moisture. Then decay will set in. At first, wood decay may progress slowly, but eventually it can completely destroy your project."

Fortunately, some wood does not decay. The heartwood of cedar and redwood is naturally resistant to decay and, as a result, is often used for fences, decks and other situations where decay is likely. Heartwood is the darker central core of a tree while sapwood is the light-colored outer band, the specialist explains. Sapwood has no resistance to decay.

Because the durability of even redwood and cedar varies greatly, and because these wood are in short supply and often contain some nondurable sapwood, lumber treated with a preservative is also a good choice for the homeowner.

Treated lumber is most often a nondurable wood such as the sapwood of pine which has been pressure treated with a preservative to prevent decay. Creosote is an old-time preservative; but due to its odor and color, it is not suitable for home use.

Today, inorganic salts are also used to treat lumber against decay and insect attack. This lumber is usually referred to by trade such as Wolmanized or Osmose-treated and is available at many retail lumber yards. Other trade names are Chemonite, Boliden, Erdalith, Langwood, Greensalt and Celcure. Any wood treated with these chemicals in accordance with American Wood Preservers Association (AWPA) standards is acceptable for above-ground uses such as decks and fence boards.

If the lumber is to be used in soil contact, such as fence posts or other high hazard areas, it must be treated with larger quantities of the chemicals. Wood treated with the inorganic salts is odorless, and is usually light green or brown in color. The dry wood can be painted or stained like standard lumber.

Most members of the wood preserving industry assure a quality product by voluntarily subscribing to the AWPA. The AWPA in conjunction with the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory and the Federal Housing Administration has issued quality control standards for pressure-treated lumber and plywood.

Products treated by these specified standards are labeled with the AWPA Quality Mark. This mark will appear on every piece of wood treated in accordance with the standards by a member company.

A typical mark will show the trade name of the chemical used, such as Wolmanized. Usually below that will be the initals AWPA and then additional letters and numbers such as LP2 or LP22. The LP2 indicates the wood is treated only with enough chemical for above ground use. If it is marked LP22, the material is suitable for fence posts or other high hazard uses.

To prevent rust stain and corrosion, galvanized nails or nails of nonferrous metals should be used when naturally durable wood or preservative-treated wood is being used.

Spring Campaign

Keep America

Beautiful

Keep America Beautiful Day is Saturday and Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts will see action in the out-of-doors as they take trash bags in hand to clean up streets and right-of-way areas along State Road 114 east of Akron.

Cub Scouts will be meeting at 9 a.m. to concentrate their efforts in the downtown area of Akron cleaning up streets, alleys and parking lots. They plan to eat lunch at the Akron park before dismissal at noon.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 221 will meet at 10 a.m. at the Lions Building heading out east to clean up paper, cans, bottles and other litter. They will eat lunch at Hillview Lake and continue cleaning until dismissal back at the Lions building at 2 p.m.

Adult leaders will be with the workers and patrolling the roadways. Mrs. Pat Trippendi is the leader of the Girl Scout Troop and Den Mother. Fulton Co. Realtors Association is underwriting part of the cost of the KAB patch each scout will earn and food is being furnished throughout Fulton Co. by Burger Chef and the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to this service project the Girl Scouts plan a work day serving their sponsor, the Akron Lions Club. Both scout groups meet in the Lions building weekly.

The Akron Church of God will hold a Spring Spiritual Life Campaign April 23 through April 28 each evening at 7:30 p.m. Guest Evangelist from Tennessee, the Rev. William C. Neece will speak, and The Love Trio as well as The Sanctuary choir will perform.

Mentone Airport sold

The Mentone Airport, owned and operated by Allen (Chick) and Dorothy Herendeen for 39 years, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Howell of Argos. The Howells took possession of the airport on Saturday, April 22, and they will soon be moving to Men-lighted and paved. Thirteen planes are at home in hangers rented there, and aviation fuel and oil are available for sale.

Howell owns two planes himself. One is a passenger plane, and the other a crop-duster. Howell intends not tone. At the present time they are still in Argos, but will take residency at the airport home as soon as they see their Argos home.

The Mentone Airport was started by Chick and Dorothy in 1939 with a grass strip.

Now the long runway is only to run the airport, but to also hire out as a crop-duster.

He and his wife, Betty, have two sons-Jeff, age 6, and Jimmy, age 1.

Mr. Herendeen will continue to run his charter service out of the airport.

Mentone Town Board

At a special meeting of the Mentone Town Board Monday evening, April 24, the Board decided that due to residents being asked to let their water drip during the severe cold weather and because of lack of personnel to read meters, water bills for this quarter will be billed at the same gallonage as last quarter OR gallons used at this quarter last year, whichever is the smaller amount.

The Board also will be taking applications for help in the Water & Street Department. Applications may be obtained at Romine Electric in Mentone.

Queen candidates sought

Again this year private individuals, merchants and organizations will be looking for girls to sponsor as queen candidates for the upcoming Mentone Egg Festival, to be June 8, 9, and 10.

The contest is open to any single girl between the ages of 14 and 18. A savings bond and trophy will be among the things won by the queen and the two runners up.

Further information and entry blanks may be obtained at Tippecanoe Valley High School, or by calling Jo Gamble at 353-7745.

Those wishing to enter or sponsor a candidate must contact or mail their entry form to Mrs. Gamble, Box 164, Mentone, on or before May 5.

"What really is puzzling is why do in-laws butt into their son or daughters lives? Along with everyone else why don't they just mind their business instead of causing waves. So they might not approve of what either member of the families doing but why do they have to run and tell the other one. They also think they can choose their son or daughters friends but do the kids tell them who to have for friends - heck no!! I'm sure they themselves don't appreciate their own in-laws noising in so why do it to their own kids? Butt out in-laws!!!"

Newsview

By Bob Norlander

There's no doubt that farming has been one of the hard-luck stories of the American economy for most of the last 60 years. Profits have been crushed between low prices and high production costs.

The latest answer to come from Congress (so far passed only by the Senate) is just another turn of the same old wheel. It's a wheel that always comes up either Acreage

Farm story

Controls or Subsidies, or a mixture of both.

Back in the depression, in the days of Henry Wallace and FDR, it was called Ever Normal Granary. Farmers got paid for not selling their crops, the idea being that prices would go up if crops were kept off the market.

That program was about to break down under the weight of accumulated surpluses when World War II came along and solved the problem for a few years.

After the war, we had the Soil Bank, in which farmers were paid for not planting. Piled on top of that were special subsidies and controls for individual crops.

None of the tinkering worked. Consumers squawked that the government programs pushed up food prices. Farmers complained that they were going broke.

In the early 70's there was a brief respite. The politicians claimed credit for having solved the farm problem but the credit was really due to the bad crops in Russia, India and China that soaked up our surpluses.

Now, farmers are in trouble again. Congress is trying to quiet them with a program that will pay them to idle up to 50% of their land. Already, consumer groups are yowling that it will add $100 to the average family's food bill.

Through the 60 years of trouble, there have been a few basics that we all would do well to remember. We'll summarize them here:

—40 acres, a cow and a team would once provide a living for a farm family. Today, it's more like 400 acres and $100,000 worth of machinery. No government program can pay subsidies high enough, or push up food prices enough to provide a living for the man with 40 acres. So far, no one has devised a program that didn't help the big farmer more than it helped the small one.

—Food now takes less of the average wage-earner's dollar than at any time in history. That farmer gets only 31 cents of each dollar the consumer pays for food. Part of that big spread is the fault of the consumer himself. He doesn't buy dry beans and flour and oat meal anymore. He buys his food prepared and a couple of times a week he gets it at a restaurant.

—Attempts by farmers to organize and control the market have nearly always failed. A coal miner can simply stay home from work, collect food stamps and live on credit while his union bosses fight his economic war. A farmer can't shut off his cows or stop feeding his pigs. He can't even delay planting his wheat without losing an entire year. So far, the consumer has always been able to outwait the farmer.

—Land prices are going up. That's a blessing to some farmers who struggled all their lives to make a skimpy living, but eventually sold out for a big price and are now taking it easy in Florida. It's a curse for the young farmer who must expand his operation to make it profitable.

—So far, no one has been able to guarantee the farmer a profit. It can also be said that some farmers always seem to do pretty well, given good health, brains and a willingness to work. Unfortunately, it takes more of all those ingredients to make a go at farming than in almost any other business we know.

That's the way it's been. Until the day comes when we have more people than we have food, we suspect it's the way it will continue.

Saturday, April 22 to help get the ball park ready for our upcoming season. With the help of all of you we accomplished a lot and we really appreciated it.

A special thanks to Mike Hoyer for the use of his extension ladder.

James Barr promoted

Hal Fields, President of Gold Circle Discount Stores of Columbus, Ohio, has announced the promotion of James R. Barr to the position of vice-president and controller of that corporation.

Gold Circle, a subsidiary of Federated Dept. Stores, has 40 stores operating in the Midwest, New York, and California areas.

Jim is the son of Horace and Norma Barr of Akron and a 1961 graduate of Akron High School. He received his degree in Business Administration at the University of Mississippi and is now residing in Westerville, Ohio with his wife and three children. He returned there from Sunnyvale, Calif. where he spent a period of two years setting up business offices for their West Coast division.

NEW BOOKS

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

SERENGETI HOME by Kay Turner. This is one woman's compelling story of life and raising a family in the splendid isolation of Africa's Serengeti wilderness.

ALWAYS IS NOT FOREVER by Helen Van Slyke. This is a heartbreaking but inspiring story of devotion and despair set against the self-indulgent world of the wealthy, cultural elite.

AGAINST ALL ENEMIES by Ervin S. Duggan and Ben J. Wattenberg. This novel is a brilliant insiders' portrait of Washington, richly detailed and stunningly accurate - because the authors have lived in the exciting world they describe.

THE PERSECUTOR by Sergie Kouradakov. Here is a true story of a man whose job in the Russian police was to inflict terror and suffering on Christians, and he did it well. On the night of September 3, 1972 Sergie plunged into the raging sea and fought a desperate battle for survival in the North Pacific waters. He was found by the Canadians and rushed to the hospital. After his release he sought and found the powerful faith he once persecuted. He dedicated himself to enlisting support and aid for Christians in Russia as an act of sincere gratitude for their unknowing contribution to his own changing life.

STORM'S END by Rebecca James. This is a truly haunting tale of violent romance, intricate mystery and chilling suspense.

THE HAUNTED SISTERS by Jean Plaidy. In 1688 the princess Anne and Mary Stuart found their hearts torn between love for their father, James II, and allegiance to a protestant England. Betrayed by Parliament and forsaken by the daughters he dearly loved, the Catholic James made a perilous escape to France. The two sisters, destined to be crowned, the memory of the "King Across the Water" would haunt them forever. This is the stirring tale of a royal house sundered by political intrigue, religious strife, and its own hatreds and jealousies.

TVSC School Board candidates speak on issues

(Editor's note: Each candidate was contacted by telephone and asked why they are running for School Board. Below are a few of each candidate's comments and a brief background on each.)

CON SHEWMAN

Age: 37
Address: Akron, lifetime resident.
Education: Graduate of Akron High School, 1958.
Family: Wife, Sharon; two children - son, Ron, age 18, senior at TVHS, and daughter, Jennifer, age 10, 4th grader at Akron Elementary.
Occupation: Part owner of South End Motors, and farmer.

Mr. Shewman is a present member of the TVSC School Board, and his reason for running again is that he is "striving for better education for children".

He feels that "having children in school makes me aware of what is going on....I've been a taxpayer all of my life....and I'm experienced...."

An accomplishment that he feels is worth working for "is for children to get the best education possible with the money available." And as a Board Member he has helped to increase the guidance program at TVSC, so that college bound students are aware of their requirements and scholarships available. He has also helped to decrease the cost of bussing. He stated that TVSC is "running buses at less expense now than it did three years ago".

Mr. Shewman is a candidate in Henry Township.

Education: graduate of Akron High School.

Occupation: Foreman in the composing room at the Shopping Guide; was secretary for TVSC for 7 years.

Mrs. Cumberland chose to run for the School Board not because she's a staunch women's libber, but she does feel that "it is time for a woman to run. The women in our community need someone on the Board that they can relate to," she said.

She feels that having worked in the Akron schools for seven years gives her some knowledge of the buildings and teacher relations. And as a parent of five children who have attended TVSC schools she is aware of what is going on.

Her goals as a member would include, "better relations between the School Board and teachers"... "better classroom situations in relationship to class size"... and to "work more on basic education". As she ex-

And you thought YOU had a green thumb!!?

by BOB NORLANDER

If you've worried where you could pick up a "Platycerium Bifucatum Majus" on a moment's notice, worry no more. Help is here.

Doris and Carroll Hammond, owners of C & D Greenhouse, south of Athens, have the "PBM" in stock as well as 150,000 other plants to choose from.

The Hammond's started the greenhouse business in 1963, as a sideline, with Doris doing most of the gardening duties herself. Carroll, at the time, was a truck driver, worked at Day Hardware in Akron, and also did some electrical contracting prior to committing himself full-time to the business in 1971. They have lived in the Akron area for over 30 years.

The "Greenhouse" is actually made up of four separate greenhouse areas. Each houses species of plants requiring different temperatures for growing. In all, there is over 10,000 square feet of covered, sheltered growing area, heated and cooled the year around.

Grandson Sean often helps out in the greenhouse locating the "roots" of problems.

Doris and Carroll Hammond relax for a moment in the bedding plants area. There are over 53 different varieties of bedding plants and flowers maintained in this portion of this greenhouse alone.

Carroll mentioned that "During the coldest month of the winter, the heating bill alone was over $3,500". In the advent of a power failure, the Hammonds have several self contained heating units for backup.

The Hammond's son, Steve, and daughter-in-law, Betty, also help out in the operation of the business. Betty works in the greenhouse, tending plants, while Steve delivers daily shipments of plants to retail florists in the entire northern third portion of Indiana. There are customers in as far apart locations as Tipton, East Gary, and Fort Wayne. Carroll estimates aht 50% of their business is wholesale trade, the other 50% being retail sales to area residents.

Being the area's largest producer of foliage is, of course, no easy task.

Carroll displays a "Platycerium Bifucatum Majus," one of the rarest plants sold at the greenhouse. (P.S. if you can't pronounce it's latin name, it's also commonly called a "Staghorn Fern.")

The greenhouses were built personally by all the Hammonds pitching in to lend a hand. And everyday, they put in up to 12-16 hours, fertilizing, watering, pruning, planting, and cleaning their stock.

If variety is what you're looking for - variety is what they have. The Hammond's have over 125 different types of potted plants and 250 varieties of bedding plants under their roofs. Special plants that cannot begin life in unpredictable Indiana weather are shipped in from as diverse places as Canada, South America, and Guatemala.

In the Greenhouse industry, the Hammond's have surely "planted" the area on the map.

Choosing your "dieters" wardrobe

While looking for a new spring wardrobe, you might make a firm commitment to shed those extra pounds that have accumulated during the winter (and, sometimes, the past spring and summer, too).

"The number of pounds you plan to lose should influence the type of clothes you select," says Lois Gotwals, Extension clothing specialist at Purdue University. A 10 or 15 pound weight loss might only call for a size or so smaller, but a large weight loss takes some special planning for clothing. Baggy, droopy clothes can discourage any dieter. Well-fitted clothes show off hard-earned figure changes.

Select clothes that are easy to alter as your figure changes, suggests Gotwals. Generally, separates help bridge uneven weight loss in hips and bust better than one-piece designs.

Soft, full tops with raglan sleeves are suggested. Fitted tops and set-in sleeves tend to droop as "padding" is lost.

Princess-style dresses and tops can be easily altered to conform to the new figure. Curved seams can be taken in as needed.

The hip area is usually a problem for dieters. Fitted skirts and slacks bag and grow in length. To avoid some of the problems, select gored, A-line and softly gathered skirts.

One-piece dresses and outfits with fitted waistlines are not recommended because they are difficult to alter and can quickly get too big in the waist. Loose styles are more adaptable and can be worn with a belt to take in the slack and give the outfit some shape. The belt can also raise a too-long hemline.

Shoe sizes can also shrink. Insoles can help the fit for a while, but if a lot of weight is lost, be prepared to purchase new shoes.

Above all, keep checking the mirror, says Gotwals. A new you is emerging. Be sure it is not a dowdy you.

And you thought YOU had a green thumb!!?

by BOB NORLANDER

If you've worried where you could pick up a "Platycerium Bifucatum Majus" on a moment's notice, worry no more. Help is here.

Doris and Carroll Hammond, owners of C & D Greenhouse, south of Athens, have the "PBM" in stock as well as 150,000 other plants to choose from.

The Hammonds started the greenhouse business in 1963, as a sideline, with Doris doing most of the gardening duties herself. Carroll, at the time, was a truck driver, worked at Day Hardware in Akron, and also did some electrical contracting prior to committing himself full-time to the business in 1971. They have lived in the Akron area for over 30 years.

The "Greenhouse" is actually made up of four separate greenhouse areas. Each houses species of plants requiring different temperatures for growing. In all, there is over 10,000 square feet of covered, sheltered growing area, heated and cooled the year around.

Grandson Sean often helps out in the greenhouse locating the "roots" of problems.

Doris and Carroll Hammond relax for a moment in the bedding plants area. There are over 53 different varieties of bedding plants and flowers maintained in this portion of this greenhouse alone.

Carroll mentioned that "During the coldest month of the winter, the heating bill alone was over $3,500". In the advent of a power failure, the Hammonds have several self contained heating units for backup.

The Hammond's son, Steve, and daughter-in-law, Betty, also help out in the operation of the business. Betty works in the greenhouse, tending plants, while Steve delivers daily shipments of plants to retail florists in the entire northern third portion of Indiana. There are customers in as far apart locations as Tipton, East Gary, and Fort Wayne. Carroll estimates aht 50% of their business is wholesale trade, the other 50% being retail sales to area residents.

Being the area's largest producer of foliage is, of course, no easy task.

Carroll displays a "Platycerium Bifucatum Majus," one of the rarest plants sold at the greenhouse. (P.S. if you can't pronounce it's latin name, it's also commonly called a "Staghorn Fern.")

The greenhouses were built personally by all the Hammonds pitching in to lend a hand. And everyday, they put in up to 12-16 hours, fertilizing, watering, pruning, planting, and cleaning their stock.

If variety is what you're looking for - variety is what they have. The Hammonds have over 125 different types of potted plants and 250 varieties of bedding plants under their roofs. Special plants that cannot begin life in unpredictable Indiana weather are shipped in from as diverse places as Canada, South America, and Guatemala.

In the Greenhouse industry, the Hammonds have surely "planted" the area on the map.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

A new word seems to have entered the vocabulary of scientists, researchers, media, and the public in general that upsets me to no end. The word is 'clone'.

The word refers to the possibility of creating, scientifically, new persons identical, physically, to already existing persons. Once referred to as "test-tube babies", the reality seems to be almost upon us.

And I can't understand why!

Is it because someone wants a basketball team made up of all Wilt Chamberlains? Or movie queens who look exactly like Elizabeth Taylor?

I mean, what is the point?

Are people so conceited that they want identical replicas of themselves to carry on after them? What is wrong with the wonderful, natural way babies have always been created before? Are we afraid that our children may be inferior if we leave it to nature's way?

There is apparently no evidence that these new clones will be like us in personality, and identical physically. There is no assurance that a clone of Billy Graham would not be a mass murder.

So, as I said, what is the point?!

I think that we should leave the creation of new persons to nature and God.

Xerox copies of us all would be boring!

"We must be willing to secure the voluntary retirement of incumbents of our party who have become vulnerable to the changing public mood."

That is a distressing chore, but it is better for an officeholder who has stayed too long at the fair to step aside for a fresher Republican candidate who can help insure that the office in question remains in our hands, rather than have the voters forcibly oust the officeholder and replace him with one of the opposition party."

This refreshing Frozen Peach Mēlba Pie is an easy, delicious way to beat the summer heat. It requires no cooking and includes corn syrup, an important ingredient in all frozen desserts. The corn syrup helps control the size of ice crystals thereby contributing to the smooth texture of this pie.

3/4 cup Karo light corn syrup
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pint raspberry sherbet, softened

1 cup vanilla ice cream, softened
2 drops yellow food color, optional
1 (9-inch) graham cracker crust

In blender container place peaches, corn syrup and lemon juice. Cover and blend 30 seconds or until liquefied. Fold 1 cup of the pureed peaches and red food color into raspberry sherbet. Pour into crust. Freeze about 1 hour or until firm. Fold remaining 1 cup pureed peaches and yellow food color into vanilla ice cream. Pour on top of raspberry layer. Freeze until firm. Remove from freezer and let stand at room temperature 10 minutes before serving. If desired, garnish with peach slices and berries. Makes 8 servings.

Occupation: Finishing department supervisor of Sonoco Products in Akron.

Mr. Harrold's reasons for running for election are two. As he said, "it would be nice for them to have a younger adults point of view, and ... I think they should put more emphasis on basic education."

His knowledge of resources and wish for a better school corporation are qualifications he feels he holds. His concern over students who can not read or write well are also of major importance to Harrold. He stated that "this is a time of communications. Everyone needs to be able to read, write, and speak effectively."

Mr. Harrold is a candidate in Franklin Township.

LEE NORRIS

Age: 48
Address: Mentone; lifetime resident of Franklin Township.
Education: Graduate of Beaver Dam High School
Family: Wife, Norene; five children - son, Daniel, 22, married; daughter, Connie Francis, 19, married; daughters, Cindy, 16, and Angela, 13; and son, Aaron, 7.
Occupation: Farmer and manufacturer of "belt-o-matic" grain driers.

Mr. Norris is running for school board because he feels that he "owe(s) a lot to the community"... and he wanted to give the citizens a "real choice." He feels his business experience has made him a very responsible person, and he has a "lot of experience in making decisions."

He doesn't feel that TVSC has any big problems, but stated that he's "concerned about teacher - board relations." "I don't think there should be the conflicts of teacher and board", he said, adding that "education has to be good for teachers and tax payers".

He also stated some concern over building repairs. He feels that good sound buildings should be maintained, and only when new ones are absolutely necessary should they be built.

Mr. Norris is a candidate in Franklin Township.

DON SNIPES

Age: 49
Address: R. 5, Rochester
Occupation: Owner of Snipes Feeds
Family: Wife, Bonnie Jean; three children, Gary, Terry, and Sherry, all graduates.

Mr. Snipes is incumbent in Newcastle Township, and decided to run again for election because, as he said, "when it got down to the time, I just decided to run. He feels he can do as good a job as anyone, and wants to do the best he can for the kids and community."

RICHARD DICKERHOFF

Age: 18
Address: Mentone; resident for 25 years.
Education: Attended Laketon High School and New Paris High School.
Family: Wife, Iris; four children - son, Don, and daughter, Alicia Ann, both students at Purdue University; son, Doug, 8th grader at Mentone Junior High; daughter, Amy Jo, 4th grader at Mentone Elementary.

Occupation: Owner of Dickerhoff Trucking, and farmer.

Mr. Dickerhoff chose to run for the TVSC School Board because as he stated, "I have always been interested in the school system because I have children in the schools, and I'm a concerned taxpayer... I'm a businessman ... and very interested in the vocational part of the school. I'm involved with trucking organizations, and I can help with that." As an employer, he also feels that he has a good understanding of working with employers, and as a farmer, feels he knows what farmers feel about education.

His goal as a member would be to "get all the education we can get for the dollar" ... also, "to have good instructors and good education for the money we spend", and "to update the transportation system."

Mr. Dickerhoff is a candidate in Franklin Township.

He travels fastest who travels with small children in need of a restroom.

WILLIAM GEARHART

Age: 49
Address: Akron
Family: Wife, Phyllis; three daughters - Lynn, 24, Jan, 22, and Pattie, 17.
Occupation: Self-employed contractor.
Education: Akron High School graduate; attended Huntington College 2 1/2 years.

Mr. Gearhart is a candidate because he feels "there are things that should be done that aren't being done".

As he stated, "the main thing I'm after is to get better communications between parents, administrators, teachers and students...a sort of open-door policy."

And he feels his job as a contractor would enable him to keep a close watch on building maintenance and repairs.

Mr. Gearhart is a candidate in Henry Township.

Robin Secrist was 4-H delegate

Robin Secrist, Mentone, returned home recently from Washington, D.C. where she was a delegate to the 48th annual National 4-H Conference April 1-7. Held at the National 4-H Center, the conference provided a forum for nearly 300 4-H members, leaders, supporters and staff members from 42 states, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands, District of Columbia and Canada, to have a voice in future 4-H programs.

Major portion of the conference was devoted to work sessions on contemporary concerns: economics, jobs and careers; food and fiber; parenting and family life; energy conservation and education; leisure education; teen programming and leadership; community development and citizenship education, and telling the 4-H story. Robin was a member of the parenting and family life consulting group.

Delegates spent Wednesday on Capitol Hill visiting legislators and learning how the federal government functions. Late that afternoon they heard Sec. of Agriculture Bob Bergland. Sec. Bergland said "New credit initiatives will be introduced to assist young people who are entering the business of agriculture."

Robin said other exciting parts of the conference included a night tour of Washington, seeing the performance of the musical "Showboat" and seeing the famous Gallaudet dancers.

Conference delegates represented the more than 5.3 million youth and 550,000 volunteer leaders and 10,000 field staff involved in 4-H nation-wide. The conference was conducted by members of the Science and Education Administration, Extension, USDA, the Cooperative Extension Service in the states, 4-H members and National 4-H Council.

Adult dental health

While most adults are aware that brushing helps prevent tooth decay, they often do not know that periodontal (gum) disease is the leading cause of tooth loss in adults.

"Periodontal disease is the chronic inflammation of the gum as well as the supporting bone and tissues which attach the tooth to the jawbone," says Jane Aycock, Extension food and nutrition specialist at Purdue University. "Both nutrition and plaque seem to be involved in the development of periodontal disease," she adds.

Bacteria which produce plaque are on the surface of teeth. In the presence of carbohydrate these bacteria produce a sticky gel-like substance called plaque.

Plaque formation can be reduced by eating less foods containing a lot of sugar and by avoiding sugar-rich foods that stick to teeth. Once formed, plaque can be removed by efficient brushing and flossing.

Good nutrition helps prevent gum disease by bolstering the body's defense mechanisms, says Aycock. The cells of the soft tissue surrounding the tooth have a rapid turnover rate and thus are particularly sensitive to changes in nutrients. This tissue needs adequate amounts of protein, vitamin C and zinc to protect against bacterial invasion. Bacteria are found within

Rural scene is not so tranquil anymore

"Movin' On," generally away from urban problems to rural tranquility, is a traditional sequence in the American dream, but an Indiana State University criminology professor says the rural scene isn't so tranquil any more.

Citing FBI figures, Edmund Grosskopf noted that while there is a slight decrease in urban crime nationally, there is also a sharp increase in rural crime.

In the past, the most common rural crime was against property: stolen farm equipment or vandalized buildings. Today, the types of crime are becoming more serious. Aggravated homicide and battery are on the increase.

The same wide open spaces which attract solid citizens provide the anonymity which appeals to criminals in every season but winter.

The typical offender is young (under 25) and male, and FBI statistics show that robbery involving the use of a knife is the most common crime in rural counties with over 25,000 population.

"Many drug culture activities transpire in the country. Narcotics-related crimes occur in the forest preserves as well as in urban areas," said the professor.

Open country is a plus for the criminal and a minus for the victim. Fewer people are likely to observe the crime and be able to identify the suspect. The death rate following crime is higher in rural areas since the response time for police and medical help to reach the victim is far greater than in the city where it may take only minutes.

However, once a suspect is found guilty, he will usually receive a stiffer sentence in the country than his urban counterpart would for a like crime, according to Grosskopf.

"Rural residents are serious about the crime problem. Crime has more of an impact in the country than in the city," he commented.

What can be done to counteract increasing crime in rural areas?

"Rural residents should practice a higher degree of crime prevention through increased lighting around their home and make good use of locks," said Grosskopf. He noted that the addition of alarm system to tighten security might also result in lower insurance costs. "Check it out with an insurance agent," he said.

"Rural residents can deal with stranded persons while still protecting themselves from intruders by making the phone calls for them--without letting them in," he stressed.

Using CB base stations and the telephone to maintain contact between neighboring farms and closer cooperation between farms and the local sheriff are other tips he gave.

"To combat the lack of manpower coverage some counties are moving toward the consolidation of city and county police agencies into metropolitan police forces," he said. The most notable Hoosier example is Marion County which is in the initial stages of reorganizing on a county-wide basis.

The professor discounted the use of posses. "The law must be understood before any force is used. Training is very important. The best approach is maintaining contact between neighbors," he said.

Despite the rise in rural crime, "a person is still safer in the country than in the city, but he or she should anticipate and be forewarned," he concluded.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the May 2, 1951 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Harrold are the parents of a daughter, Kathy Elaine, weighing seven pounds and 12 ounces, born at 8:26 a.m. Saturday at the Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Gail Harrold are the paternal grandparents.

Clayton Holloway, who has been doing canvas work for several months, has officially opened his Mentone Canvas Shop at his home in Mentone. For canvas work, tarpaulins, awnings or rug binding, call on Mr. Holloway.

The Sam Norris family spent Sunday at Fort Custer, Ill. visiting their son, Lee Edwin. All enjoyed a picnic dinner following the church services at the camp.

An old-fashioned "belling" was given to four newly-wed couples on Monday evening. They were: Elnora and Mike Lantz, Betty and Bob Hibsman, Dave and Doris Cooper and Dave and Monna Johns.

A terrific wind struck suddenly about 7:30 Saturday evening and did considerable damage in our town and county. A large limb blew from a tree near the Wm. Cook and Eli Julian residences on South Franklin Street and power and telephone lines were torn down.

Traffic was rerouted for nearly an hour until the street could be cleared. Danny Smith, arriving in town just after one of the emergency flares had burned out and at a moment when no guards were present, crashed into the fallen tree, doing minor damage to the front of the Plymouth.

C. O. Mollenhour and Ralph Warren, of Mentone; Cliff Ring, of Silver Lake; Mack McGary, of Piercetown; Charles Rupe, Silver Lake, and Bud Lawson, Leesburg, attended the State Conservation Conference held at Indiana University April 18.

Plans are underway for the annual reunion of the Mentone High School alumni. The date has been set for May 19 to be held at the Mentone Community building. A banquet honoring the 21 members of the 1951 graduating class will be served at 6:30 p.m.

We have two ears and one tongue—which means we should listen more and talk less.

Tippecanoe Home Ec. Club

The Tippecanoe Home Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. Hollis Wiseley for the April meeting with eleven members and seven guests present. The guests were Mrs. Harold Jefferies and daughter Jody, Mrs. Ralph Jefferies, Mrs. James Gardner, Mrs. Wayne Lemler, Mrs. James Maurer and Mrs. Lloyd Heckaman.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Kenneth Weissert, who read the poem "Smile".

Inspiration time was given by Mrs. Dale Eylich who read "The March of Days" and also read Psalm 19, verses 1-6 and ended with a prayer.

The hostess verse was read by Mrs. Wiseley as follows "True happiness consists not in the multitude of friends but in the worth and choice."

Roll call was answered with "my favorite plant and why".

Mrs. Lloyd Heckaman then conducted a macrame demonstration and workshop. She had brought several hanging baskets and enough cord for each one present to try and make the knotted work for the baskets. Cards were to be sent to the clubs special guest at the County Home whose birthday is Apr. 29.

The meeting closed by all repeating the Lords Prayer.

The May club meeting and date is to be announced later.

A luncheon was served by the hostess.

Girl Scout

Troop 221

Girl Scout Troop 221 collected a pick-up load of trash in their Keep America Beautiful project Saturday. Twelve girls earned their patch by cleaning the roadside from the Lions Den east along road 114 to the Deardorff residence.

Lunch was eaten at Hillview and a hike to Summit Lake completed the day. Mrs. Judy Montague and Mrs. Kathy Smith were mothers who supervised with the leader, Mrs. Pat Trippel, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill.

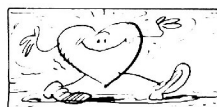

Cub Scouts, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Poholik and Roger Webb, cleaned along Akron streets and parking lots. They ended up at the city park where they had lunch.

Mrs. Glendola Alber, Fulton Co. KAB Chairman, had arranged for lunch to be furnished for the workers and adults by Burger Chef, Rochester, and the Rochester Kiwanis Club. Fulton Co. Realtors paid for the patches earned by the Girl Scouts. Sonoco Products Co. helped by hauling some of the collected trash to the county landfill.

Girl Scouts

We met April 18 and talked about keeping America beautiful. Angie Harsh talked about her badges. Next week we will have our meeting at the park and will have supper there and have some fun.

Parents can help children

By Mrs. Barbara Van Duyne,
Tippecanoe Valley Title I
Reading Coordinator

The Title I special reading classes at Mentone, Akron and Burket have attempted to help students gain self-confidence, gain an interest in reading and improve reading skills.

The students work in small groups which enables them to receive individual help. They work on word attack skills, vocabulary, comprehension and study skills. The work that is done in special reading is a reinforcement of skills taught in the regular classroom. The reinforcement is done by using supplementary materials.

We have placed an emphasis on reading directions carefully. It is difficult to make a cake if one can't read directions. Filling out a job application requires the ability to read directions. Doing work in the classroom requires reading directions.

We have also done activities which are important for everyday life. Reading the telephone book, ordering out of a mail order catalogue, writing checks, balancing a checkbook, reading a newspaper are some of the activities that we have done.

In April we took a field trip to Warsaw to see WRSW radio station. The Times Union and McDonalds. The students were able to see the different types of jobs people have in these areas and the importance of having reading, spelling, language and math skills.

We use a variety of materials to motivate students. Parents can also help motivate children to read. It is important for parents to read to preschoolers and beginning readers. Show children that reading is enjoyable. Let your child see that you enjoy reading and they will soon want to read themselves. Students spend many hours in front of the television. Watch some of the television shows with your child. Get your child to think and talk with you about what both of you have seen. Was it good or bad? Was it worth watching?

Television does not require much thinking or imagination on the part of the viewer. Everything is given to the viewer and as a result the viewer is inactive. Turn off the television in your home and encourage your family to read. Reading for enjoyment will help your child's creative thinking, reading skills, comprehension and spelling. Let your child read to you. Help them to read in phrases, read with expression and follow punctuation. If your child does not know a word, help them to discover what the new word is. Ask your child some questions about what he has read to you. This will help his comprehension. Most important, praise your child for doing well.

Some children may be having difficulty in reading because of physical defects in seeing or hearing. If you suspect your child having difficulty in one of these areas, have him checked by your doctor.

Summer will soon be here and your child will have some free time. Contact your local library and inquire about their summer reading program. Help your child to receive their own library card. The power to borrow books of one's own choice independently will build self-esteem and also instill the idea of books as good sources of entertainment and information.

There is much talk and research going on about why students can't read. Many parents are concerned about this and they too are asking "why?" For those parents that are looking for the answer, I have a question for you. "What are you doing at home to help your student become a better reader? Examine yourself!"

Ray Circle

The April meeting of the Ray Circle was held at the Akron United Methodist Church annex with Pam Madeford presiding.

Others attending were Shirley Gray, Karna DuBois, Ruth Moore, Susie Baker, Melissa Alexander, Marily Kruger and Becky Hill.

A book review was given by Mrs. Baker and refreshments were served to members by Mrs. Gray.

Plans were made to paint the Sunday school nursery on Apr. 17. Seven members have also volunteered to paint a cartoon mural on one wall of the nursery.

The next meeting will be in the Church annex May 4.

Silver Creek WCSC

The Silver Creek WCSC celebrated the nationwide 25th anniversary of the WCSC recently.

Former presidents from Silver Creek were presented and honored. Elisabeth Riley was Silver Creek's first president and Janice Yeager is the current president. Other former presidents were Ethel Bucher, Clara Yeager, Opal Tullis, Irene Shafer, Alice Tullis, Joyce Shafer, Karen Brown and Joyce Paxton.

The Silver anniversary theme was carried throughout with quarters only for offering to a beautiful double tier cake depicting the event.

The Mens Brotherhood joined the ladies for refreshments.

Enjoy Spring

Spring offers much for everyone. And, after a particularly long winter, such as Hoosiers have just experienced, spring is especially welcomed.

"In the spring, people work around the yard, plant a garden, wash windows, do fix-up chores, polish the car, or put the lawn mower in shape for the summer," says Douglas M. Knudson, Purdue University extension forest recreationist.

But there is more to spring than the home, yard and garden chores of the season, he adds.

"You owe it to yourself and your family to look beyond the property lines," Knudson continues. "A spring vacation or weekend away from the community can do much to refresh a family that has been confined to one area for the winter months."

One of the best times for camping is in the spring, the recreationist points out. You escape the mosquitos, flies and other nuisances of summer, often beat the crowds, and miss the extreme heat of the later months.

For entertainment you get to see the greatest show on earth—the rebirth of grandeur and beauty in spring flowers, budding trees, colorful birds and busy wildlife. In some places you can even see and hear a rushing brook or swift stream busily occupied with the spring thaw.

Many state parks, camping areas, and private preserves are open now and these make excellent places for weekend outings. Some of these even have a naturalist available who will share his knowledge of the outdoors and interpret the wonders of spring. This would be especially beneficial for individuals or groups who would like to make the trip an educational experience.

If you can't get away for a week or weekend, take a day off to go hiking, the recreationist suggests. Be sure to pick a place that offers some of the rewards of spring. Dress adequately. Knudson recommends heavy socks and rubber boots over your shoes. Warm, dry feet are essential to health and happiness, he says.

Of course, there are many ways to enjoy spring in addition to camping and hiking, the specialist admits. Bicycling is good exercise. And then there's the mushroom hunter who finds the cherished dreams of winter while tramping the hills and dales.

So enjoy this spring to its fullest by witnessing the beauty that surrounds you. But consider getting away from the homeplace long enough to take full advantage of the season.

Statewide women's conference

The Indiana State Federation of Republican Women's Clubs had a statewide meeting April 19 at Stouffer's Indianapolis Inn. Attending from the Rochester club were Margaret Burkett, Kathryn Hartzler, Ida Hittle, Kaleen Kehoe, Mary Price, and Sandy Sawyer.

The morning was spent in workshops. At the Club Presidents workshop, Kaleen learned that soon after the first of May Beth Bowen's Favorites, a cookbook of Beth's favorite recipes, will be available. It was also announced that the IFRW will purchase dishes for the Governor's residence. Ida attended the workshop on Fund Raising and Program, while Mary went to Membership and New Founders. The New Founders program is a new organization for the 18-30 year old Republican. Campaign was the fourth workshop and Kathryn, Margaret, and Sandy attended it. Campaigning is no longer a hit and miss effort, but can be organized to make maximum use of money and volunteer help. All workshops were very interesting and really helpful to locate clubs.

Betty Rendel of Mexico, President of IFRW, presided at the luncheon. Besides the approximately 450 members present, several guests were introduced, including Governor Otis Bowen, House Speaker Kermit Burrous, Indianapolis Mayor William Hudnut, and several candidates for state office. Following the meal Bruce Melchert, chairman of the Republican State Committee, gave a few remarks and then introduced the keynote speaker, Betty Heitman. Mrs. Heitman is from Baton Rouge, La., and is president of the National Federation of Republican Women. Her address was aimed at getting Republican women active in getting Republican candidates elected in November. The meeting was adjourned after Mayor Hudnut presented Mrs. Heitman a key to the city of Indianapolis.

Beware of "crash dieting"

by PATRICIA BRAMAN

People considering losing a lot of weight quickly should be aware that "crash dieting" can lead to a serious health problem, and may be a threat to life. Many strict diet regimes can lead to serious nutritional deficiencies. Although products often state that a diet should not be started before checking with a doctor, few heed the warning - crash diets seem appealing, with their promises of quick weight loss. Too many people want to shed too many pounds too quickly.

There are groups of people who shouldn't diet. These include pregnant and nursing women, people with kidney or liver problems, diabetics, older people, and very young people should avoid any kind of reducing diet without a doctor's approval. Teenagers should remember they are still growing, and crash diets could have permanent harmful effects.

When a diet is first undertaken, large drops in weight are often experienced. This is mostly water loss, which the body will eventually replace. The five or ten pounds lost in one or two weeks will return just as quickly when the diet is stopped. This is the yo-yo effect of crash diets. Losing weight suddenly only to gain it right back, is psychologically defeating, and a stress on the body.

Combining a diet that is deficient only in calories - not in required nutrients - with more physical activity is the most promising and safest weight loss plan. Getting at the reasons behind overeating, and changing poor eating patterns will help the lost weight from returning. Underactivity, instead of over-eating, could be the real problem in trying to keep weight off. Youth and adults sit all day at work or school and spend evenings watching TV.

Walking instead of driving short distances would burn up excess calories and is physical activity to most people. The sense of well-being achieved through a sensible exercise program cannot be obtained through a crash diet.

LOW CALORIE SOUR CREAM - Blend 1/4 cup water, 1 T. lemon juice, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1/4 tsp. salt in blender on high for 10 seconds or until smooth. 16 calories per tablespoon.

periodontal tissues only after the surface of soft tissue is broken down.

Liquid flows into the crevice between soft gum tissue and the tooth. This fluid which contains antimicrobial agents is also influenced by nutritional status. Good nutrition helps promote the growth of beneficial bacteria.

"To maintain a good nutritional state, eat a varied diet including foods from each of the Basic Four Food Groups," recommends Aycock. Foods from the meat and milk groups provide quality protein as well as vitamins and minerals. Foods from the bread and cereal and the fruit and vegetable groups provide important amounts of vitamins such as A and C as well as lesser amounts of protein.

Of course, milk and milk products are important sources of calcium. Adequate intake of calcium is needed not only to develop teeth in youngsters, but, according to some investigators, to prevent the resorption of the bone around the adult's tooth. A superabundance of phosphorus coupled with inadequate calcium intake from typical U.S. diets is also implicated in the resorption process, says Aycock.

"This is just further indication that a varied diet, including adequate amounts of milk, helps maintain both the health of the teeth and the body," says Aycock.

Springtime in the country

by DON L. HURD

We made it through the undesirable winter and spring has "finally" sprung.

With spring comes the rebirth of the landscape, which is awakening with a spectrum of colors. Spring showers purify the air we breathe, and by breathing deep one can smell the freshness of spring. A warm sensation runs up one's spine while walking barefoot through the winter forgotten green grass.

But lets not forget ourselves. We too put on a new face for spring. We bring out from the winter closet the shorts, sandals or we buy out the spring lines in our favorite catalog.

Spring in the rural areas is by far the best. (I may be a little prejudice, being a country boy). Driving down a country road, with chuckholes left from the winter, one can see farmers beginning to cultivate the fields after a winter of hibernation. One might see a new borne calf or lamb which expresses a new spirit for spring. While one is enjoying the country sights, do not forget the delicious mushrooms which pop up during the warmer weather of spring. Also the reviving of the wild flowers, with all the colors of the rainbow, brighten up the country side.

Whenever these country roads lead to "home sweet home" just remember, its spring in Indiana. So put a big smile on and enjoy the spring show.
