Kiwanis to sponsor program on Occults

The Tippecanoe Valley Kiwanis would like to invite you, to a discussion on the occult.

On April 11, 1990 at 6:30 p.m., Mr. Jerry Custer, an expert on the occult will be speaking in the High School gym.

As parents and community members, you have a great impact on the kids of today. We believe this program would be of great importance to you, in helping to better understand this problem.

Mr. Custer will be discussing, how kids get into these groups, what we can do to keep kids out of these groups, what signs to look for, what we can do to shut these groups down in our schools and community.

It can be hard, as parents, to admit this type of problem may exist in our community. However, if there is a problem, wouldn't it be better if we were all informed and educated, on how we can help keep our kids clean.

Kids, are why we want you to attend this meeting. As Kiwanis and parents, we are proud of our community, and hope, with programs like this, we can make it even better.

You are strongly encouraged to attend this meeting. It is open to any adult, who has a concern for our youth. This meeting is for adults only, and no one under 21, will be allowed in.

Susan Kinney, the speech and hearing therapist, will also talk to parents. Mrs.

Brenda Vanlaningham will discuss the kindergarten program and answer any questions parents may have.

Parents are reminded to bring their child's birth certificate so that school officials can verify the child's age for the school's records. A child must be five years of age on or before August 1, 1990, in order to attend kindergarten.

Parents who cannot attend this meeting may send in the necessary information with another person. Anyone having questions concerning the pre-enrollment meeting should call the school office at 491-2555.

Many readers will begin to reminisce after reading the following bit of verse which was written by O. P. Hoover, 1803 Elizabeth Street, Elkhart. Mr. Hoover has friends and relatives in Akron who will enjoy this poem. MEMORIES: Mentally drifting back to youth, With its joys and hopes and pride I am now convinced it is the truth that time on wings doth ride. We pass from youth to middle age Still full of life's expression, But we realize we have turned a page. Though its hard to make Confessions. Now the record shows we're growing old, And that time has taken toll, We have had our choice of dross or gold. Why should we our lives condole. So back to youth with its golden age, And where I first went to school We mastered our Primer page by page, And were taught the Golden Rule. We were a happy bunch of girls and boys That attended school at Satan. Our teacher sharing in our joys We played Saint and Satan. We carried water in a pail From the Whittenberger home. We made ourselves a fence-rail jail That the wicked might not roam. More than fifty years have passed by Since those very important days I don not regret, I do not sign As I silently sit and gaze. One man is foremost in my mind An honorable upright creature A better pal one could not find Sammy Shesler was our teacher. O.P. Hoover.

FAITH SAYS REAL WEALTH IS NOT SHOWN ON OUR TAX RETURN

The love of money is the root
Of evil, we have read;
A fact that no one can dispute,
And yet a song once said
That money makes the world go 'round,
And when the bills come due,
It really helps if we have found
Some source of revenue;
But there's one bill we'll get some day
That's from excessive wealth:
It's higher taxes we must pay,
Plus damage to our health.
So what our loved ones really need,
As faith will help recall,
Is time to spend with us; indeed,
They want that most of all.

Indiana Census

The success of Indiana's upcoming 1990 census, the largest peacetime operation in our nation's history, depends on the response of Hoosier residents and thousands of behind-the-scenes census workers.

According to Perry Aberli, Indiana Regional Technician for the 1990 Census, the United States Department of Commerce and the Bureau of the Census sent census questionnaires to approximately 2,100,000 housing units in the state of Indiana, beginning March 23.

"The results will provide valuable information which will impact our state financially and politically for the next ten years," Aberli said.

Aberli works in the Midwest regional office of the Census Bureau, located in Westchester, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago. The regional office deals with census issues in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. Aberli, however, works only with the Hoosier state.

"Besides the regional office in Illinois, nine field offices are located throughout Indiana to handle the heavy workload generated by the 1990 Census. These offices are in Evansville, Fort Wayne, Gary, Jeffersonville, Lafayette, Muncie and two locations in Indianapolis," added Aberli.

Nearly 4,000 temporary employees will be hired in Indiana to handle the work created by the census. This includes field work for enumerators, clerical duties and supervisory positions. These job assignments will last from two to eight weeks.

"The workload for these temporary workers will be driven by non-response.

The more residents who fail to return their census forms, the more enumerators the Bureau will have to hire to gather the needed information," said Aberli.

"Hopefully, everyone will fill out their census form and mail it back by Census Day, April 1. The more people who respond early, the fewer enumerators we'll need to send out to get information. We're anticipating that the Hoosier response to this year's census will be a positive one," Aberli concluded.

Wind Erosion school

Each spring when the air is dry and the soil is bare, dark clouds swell in the west and ominously move across Fulton County. Is it a tornado? Is it Orson Welles? Has the stock market crashed?Is this Armageddon?

The creepy feeling from seeing a dust storm may be from fear, but more likely from guilt - guilt from having fostered a situation that allows such a phenomenon to occur.

The Fulton County Soil and Water Conservation District will be conducting a Wind Erosion School. The training will take place at the SWCD office at 513 Main St. in Rochester on Tuesday, April 10 at 9 a.m. and again at 1 p.m. The training will be given by SWCD staff from the Division of Soil Conservation and the Soil Conservation Service with help of several well prepared videos.

The mechanics of wind erosion and specific methods for its control will be covered. Plenty of take home material will be included.

Roy Flint, SWCD Chairman, commented "About all of Fulton County's soils blow, some alot worse than others. We encourage all landusers to sit down with us for an hour and become informed about wind erosion. We want to have this fresh in our minds so when May comes, we'll be able to identify the changes needed to stop the blowing."

For more information, call the Soil and Water Conservation District at 223-3220.

The Indiana Wood Expo

The Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen's Association (IHLA) will sponsor the second annual Indiana Wood Expo at the Indiana Convention Center in Indianapolis April 20-21, 1990. Timed to coincide with Indiana's Arbor Day on April 20, the Wood Expo salutes Indiana's $2-billion-a-year hardwood industry with exhibits and visitors representing every aspect of that industry.

Open to the public, the Indiana Wood Expo will be held at the Indiana Convention Center and Hoosier Dome at 100 South Capitol Ave. in Indianapolis. The Expo will be open 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday, April 20 and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 21.

The 1989 Wood Expo drew more than 10,000 visitors from tree farmers, loggers, sawmill operators and pallet makers to furniture manufacturers, cabinetmakers and hobbyists. People involved in all areas of the wood industry came to Indianapolis to see exhibits featuring every specialty of the hardwood industry including lumber companies, machinery manufacturers, professional organizations, furniture manufacturers, plant equipment suppliers, artists, craftspeople and a myriad of others.

Show manager Keith Edison predicts

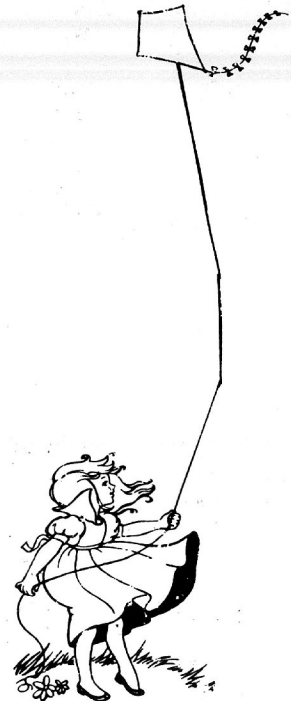

an even bigger turn-out for the 1990 Expo. "Response to the second annual Wood Expo has been great," Edison explains. "We are expecting twice as many exhibitors and a big increase in attendance for the 1990 show."

Both IHLA, Expo sponsor, and Trade Shows, Inc., Expo management team, have long histories in promoting wood products. IHLA was founded in 1899 and is the oldest state organization of its kind boasting more than 360 members from 32 states and provinces including sawmillers, wholesalers, equipment vendors and others who recognize the benefits of meeting and working together on projects of interest to the wood industry.

Related events sponsored and cosponsored by IHLA include the Indiana Forest Resources Institute (IFRI) which promotes forestry and lobbies for forest and environmental causes.

Scholarships awarded by IHLA provide monetary support for individuals interested in developing a career in the hardwood industry. The scholarships support a wide range of educational experiences from specialized seminars of four-year college programs.

Exhibit space is still available for the 1990 Indiana Wood Expo at the Indiana Convention Center in Indianapolis April 20-21. Admission charge for visitors is $2 at the door, but free passes are available by contacting Trade Shows.

PSI help celebrate Earth Day

Public Service Indiana and the Alliance To Save Energy are encouraging people to celebrate Earth Day on April 22 by committing to be more energy efficient.

"Using energy resources efficiently helps to protect the world we live in and prolong available resources," said James E. Rogers Jr., PSI chairman. "People who actively pursue energy conservation in their homes and businesses help defer the need to build new power plants and reduce air pollutants."

Headquartered in Washington, D.C.,

the Alliance To Save Energy is a national, nonprofit organization which helps protect the environment by encouraging wise energy use. Its membership includes leaders from government, business, labor, utilities and consumer and environmental groups.

Energy-efficient light bulbs are one way people can conserve electricity without sacrificing life-style. The Alliance is offering these bulbs to people who sign up during its special Earth Day membership drive. It provides the light of a 75-watt bulb, but uses only 16 watts of electricity. The bulb also lasts up to six years and can save about energy costs.

PSI is helping the Alliance tell about its offer in April through advertisements in major newspapers throughout the company's service area. To receive a bulb, just complete the form found in the ad. Then send it to the Alliance To Save Energy with a $15 membership fee. PSI says copies of the form will also be available starting April 9 at its offices.

When I think of Easter,
And Good Friday and The Cross,
How the Blessed Saviour
Gave His Life for souls so lost.

And each Blessed Easter
Brings faith and hope anew.
Strength to carry on life's battle
His help in all we do.

And with each Blessed Easter
How thankful we can be.
For The Blessed Saviour
Who died for me and thee.

DATES OF HOLIDAYS MAY CHANGE, BUT NOT THEIR MESSAGES

The calendar quite frequently
May have to change a date,
But those events of history
Are there to celebrate.
Two faiths will honor, with a feast
Which may not coincide,
The time of Hebrew slaves released,
Or when the Savior died.
Yet both occasions are the same,
As either faith explains;
With each occurrence in the name
Of freedom from our chains.
So let the joyful time begin,
And issue this decree,
That says from slavery or sin
All mankind must be free.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

"DISAPPEARING" DENTAL PROBLEMS

Have you reached the point where you think your dental problems would disappear if all your teeth were yanked and replaced with dentures? That's a dangerous myth in more ways than one. Even if all your teeth were extracted, your dentures would require care and so would the gums and bone that support them. Furthermore, no matter how well dentures may fit and look, they cannot replace the comfort and strength of your natural teeth. Complete denture wearers lose 85% of their chewing ability. You should do whatever you can to save and protect them. Rule number one: always save your natural teeth.

Perhaps your teeth are not as attractive as you would like them to be, and you find this discouraging. Your dentist can do many things to make your teeth look more attractive. If they protrude too much, they can be corrected or shortened. Gaps between teeth can be closed. Chipped and broken teeth can be repaired. Discuss these problems with your dentist and find out how he can make your mouth and smile attractive.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

The Way to Go, handsomely bound and illustrated in full-color is a collection of eight short stories. Written to appeal to young people in today's world, the stories reinforce traditional moral values. For instance, one of the stories emphasizes the importance of being a responsible person; another shows how highly honesty should be valued; another focuses on the danger of drugs and alcohol.

The Program is described as being a response to a growing concern felt by parents and others throughout the nation. Too often, it is maintained, young people are the innocent victims of harmful influences that undermine the sound values parents are trying to teach their children in the home. National statistics on drug and alcohol related accidents involving teenagers, on missing children, teenage pregnancies, teenage suicides, are cause for alarm. The great majority of parents do not have these problems. Nonetheless, they worry about them: peer pressure is a strong influence on young people.

The response of the local sponsors of this Program, when asked why they are participating in it, can be summed up as follows: "This community means a lot to me. Our young people are our most precious resource. They are our future. This Program is good for our young people, their parents, and our community."

"ACTIVE IN LEADERSHIP"

The Tippecanoe Valley FFA Organization recently had chapter members participate at the District 2 Leadership Convention. The convention gives the opportunity to young men and women to expand their leadership roles and activities. The TVHS Chapter had Eric Biddinger representing the Conservation Demonstration. Biddinger gave a demonstration about land and space conservation by sharing his hydroponic experience with the judges. He has been researching the use of this practice as it pertains to soybeans for the past 4 months within his research project for Mr. Schuler at school. Biddinger received second place and a plaque for his outstanding achievement. Meanwhile, Ryan Ladson and Mike Jones competed as a team in the "Quiz Bowl" contest. Together they participated by being quizzed over the history, activities, and importance of the FFA Organization. As a team they came away with second place also. They brought home plaques and ribbons.

The chapter is busy preparing for the spring activities of judging teams. This year we will have three teams; Horse and Pony, Dairy, and Livestock. There are county and district contest coming in the next three weeks for those individuals involved.

FFA is definitely—"Leading the Challenge."

Tree planting pledge

About ten years ago, two natives whose forebears were aborigines got together at their breakfast hour and in their discussion of how to improve the community, they lamented the loss of trees in the town.

They recalled that, at one time they could drive from one end of the town to the other on a sunny day and be in the shade all of the time. Today, however, they were alarmed over the fact that many of these trees are gone and little interest shown in taking care of those that were remaining and planting where replacements were needed.

They made a pledge on their own that they would take the responsibility of reforesting the town and, ensuing years, with their own time and their own money, have done a lot of replanting.

With some excellent volunteer help, including the Scouts, they planted several hundred shrubs for these people who would request them, at no charge.

The value of trees shows up frequently when a family fifty years ago was looking for a new home for their base camp and picked out Akron, with one of the main features being their beautiful trees. That family was the D.A. Pike Family.

MOTHER NATURE'S WASHING
Mother Nature has finished her washing and hung the air out to dry,

Then coaxed the sun from behind
The clouds that still fill the sky.
It's then I always go walking.
In a clean world I love to explore,
Looking for peace and contentment
and finding that and much more.

The grass always seems a shade greener,
Wet weather just makes mushrooms grow.

And sometimes, when I am lucky,
I'll glimpse at a stately rainbow.
It's on days like this I go walking
And watch a fresh world going by,
And I'm glad Nature has finished her washing

The hung the whole world out to dry.

NEW BOOKS AT THE AKRON PUBLIC LIBRARY

THE SOUND OF WINGS, The Life of Amelia Earhart---by Mary Lovell---Previous biographies have concentrated on trying to explain Earhart's disappearance, in this definitive biography, the author takes a different approach and delivers a brilliantly researched report of Earhart's life.

THE WORLD'S WILD SHORES, by the National Geographic Society---Wild costlines have many guises---barrier isles rumped with sand dunes; mountainsides plunging into surf; ice cliffs; black sand beaches. In their domain, wildlife finds safe haven, and the sea unfolds its bounty and power.

THE LIVING LEGEND OF ST. PATRICK, by Alannah Hopkin---Everyone knows he is the patron Saint of Ireland, and thousands of people celebrate St. Patrick's day with parades and parties. But what are the reasons for his fame?

THE WOODCHOPPER'S BALL, by Woody Herman---Woody's tale is moving, and a pure delight. In spite of his wife's battle with alcoholism, their forty-six year marriage was a great romance and a source of strength to him. This is Woody's autobiography.

INSIDE THE PLO, by Niel Livingstone---This book pierces the fog that the PLO has purposely generated. The United States, which needs a realistic policy toward the PLO, needs this book.

DRIVING THROUGH CUBA, by Carlo Gebler---Rare encounters in the land of sugar cane and revolution. The author paints a unique and eye-opening portrait of Cuba today.

PAINT THE WIND by Cathy Spellman---Wide as the continent and wild as the West, Paint the Wind is the epic saga of one unforgettable woman and the three strong men who risk everything to possess her.

Capt. James M. Christ, son of James E. and Janice K. Christ, of Rural Route 2, Silver Lake, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with 3rd Force Service Support Group, Okinawa, Japan.

He joined the Marine Corps in April 1989.

GOD TILTED THE EARTH JUST RIGHT FOR THE FOUR SEASONS

When we see a picture on a wall that is crooked, we are annoyed by someone's obvious carelessness. On the other hand, look at a world globe on a stand and notice the way it is tilted. The equator is not horizontal, but 23 degrees off. This was not divine carelessness, but rather it is God's way of giving us the four seasons that keep us alive. The earth's orbit of the sun brings the direct solar rays north to the Tropic of Cancer and south to the Tropic of Capricorn, named for their corresponding signs of the Zodiac. The result is that in each hemisphere we have a time of planting and of harvest; interspersed with the seasons of flourishing life and of complete dormancy beneath the snows that replenish the water supply. Thank the Lord for this arrangement that was no accident, but a vital part of His creation, without which we would not even be here.

In memory of Aletha Cox's birthday- April 19.

Looking at pictures in my album
Fond memories come to me.
Of my dear friend Aletha
And the days that used to be.
Our fishing trips up north
And the good times we had,
And the many little things she done
To make our lives glad.
Tho she's went to the world beyond
Her birthday we remember still
And the kind things she done
And, we always will.

Solid Waste Management Planning Public Meetings

Indiana's new comprehensive solid waste law, House Bill 1240, signed by Governor Bayh on March 20, 1990, requires Indiana counties to form solid waste districts, estimate waste generation rates, and plan for management of that waste for the next twenty years. It includes measures designed to certify and closely monitor out-of-state waste and sets statewide goals for reducing the amount of solid waste landfilled and incinerated by the year 2000. It also provides funding and taxing authority to solid waste districts.

The Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) will work with the firm of R.W. Beck and Associates, of Carmel, Indiana, to prepare a statewide solid waste management plan which will inventory the status of current solid waste management, identify alternative strategies, district planning and funding requirements, develop public information materials, and develop a model district plan. Because the plan will affect how each Indiana resident handles solid waste and pays for its disposal, citizen views and ideas are considered a crucial part of our research.

IDEM and R.W. Beck personnel will hold a series of public meetings throughout the state between April 23 and May 4. A schedule of the meeting locations, dates and times is attached.

We invite you to speak directly to the IDEM at these meetings. The citizens of Indiana will play a major role in the solid waste challenges. We welcome everyone's input and ideas on this important issue, and invite you to call or write to: Becky Schenk, Indiana Department of Environmental Management, P.O. Box 6015, Indianapolis, IN 46206-6015 (317)232-8165; or Rick Soderholm, R.W. Beck and Associates, 550 Congressional Boulevard, Suite 290, Carmel, IN 46032 (317) 575-2830.

All residents, legislators, public officials and decision makers in Indiana are invited to meet with the IDEM to discuss the future management of Indiana's solid waste and the implementation of Indiana's new solid waste law, House Bill 1240. The dates, locations and times of each meeting are as follows:

Monday, April 23: Fort Wayne-Fort Wayne Community Schools Education Center Auditorium, 1200 S. Barr St., 6:30-10:30 p.m. Columbus-Council Chambers, County Government Building, 440 3rd St., 6:30-10:30 p.m.

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

USING CROWNS TO SAVE TEETH

If you have a badly decayed or damaged tooth, your dentist may recommend a crown to save the tooth and make it properly functional again. He will have to X-ray the tooth first to find out if it can be saved. An X-ray will reveal many important facts, including whether the roots of the tooth are healthy and if there is sufficient bone to support the tooth. The X-ray will also show the size and location of the nerve canals within the tooth as well as the condition of your surrounding teeth.

Another tool your dentist may use is a study model or plaster mold of your mouth. Using this, he can examine and measure the size and shape of the tooth to be crowned. The model will also reveal the relationship of your upper jaw to your lower jaw. If a crown is to be made, it should fit properly in your mouth and improve your chewing efficiency.

Any natural tooth is far superior to the best artificial tooth that can be made, as long as it is carefully protected and restored to its natural shape. That's why crowns are often recommended to save teeth as well as to improve your appearance.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

THINKING OUT LOUD

That which is given to us by circumstances, accident or chance can be taken away by the same means. That which we have become is eternal.

It is true that some days are difficult, but can you remember any day in the past that you failed to survive?

Forgiveness is the quality of heart that forgets the injury and pardons the offender.

You can study your reflection in a mirror and still really not know how you look to others.

Most of us spend a lot of time and effort crossing bridges to which we never come.

Perhaps income tax should have been named outgo tax.

Senior Citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. If you are 60 years of age or older please call 893-7204 the day before you plan to join us between the hours of 9:00 A.M. - 12:30 P.M. The Akron Nutrition Site is located in the Lion's Building, 108 North Maple St., Akron.

As always a big thanks to all my volunteers for it is through your time and efforts this program is working in your home town. Your Great!!!

DIRECTORY of Churches

GOOD NEIGHBORS HAVE COMMON PROBLEMS, NOT DIFFERENCES

No matter how little we know them, when we talk to our neighbors next door it is usually about the problems we share with them, rather than any differences of opinion; and this is as it should be. As a result of this, we may even arrive at solutions that will be helpful to both of us. If this works with people, it should be even more advantageous with countries, and it has been that way from the first with our good neighbor across the border that spans the continent and has never been the cause of any friction. Even in sports, there are those who look forward to a real "World" Series, with a friendly contest between the Expos or the Blue Jays and a team from the U.S. Then the whole world could observe from the international grandstand the way that God meant for us all to live and help one another.

USING ENERGY TO CREATE THE FUTURE.

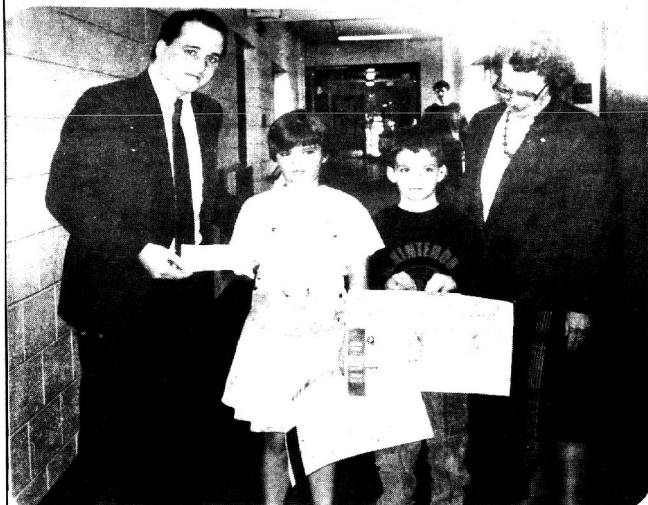

Industry leaders don't simply wait for the future to happen. They shape it with creative energy today. To this end, we're evolving from simply a power and light company to a low-cost supplier of energy and energy-related services. Our commitment to this is unrivaled in the industry.

Conventional wisdom says "make electricity—sell electricity." Our vision reaches far beyond this. Our goal is to become a leader in the energy arena by meeting a variety of customer needs, protecting the environment and creating growth and prosperity throughout the communities we serve.

THERE'S A NEW KIND OF ENERGY IN INDIANA. PUBLIC SERVICE INDIANA IS NOW PSI ENERGY.

The Tiger and the 1990 Census

Indianapolis, Indiana--How is the 1990 census different than the 1980 census? One answer is the TIGER (Topologically Integrated Geographic Encoding and Referencing), a new system that uses modern computer technology to avoid many of the errors that plagued the geographic program of the 1990 census in Indiana and across the country.

What exactly is the TIGER system? "Basically, the idea behind TIGER is to provide geographic information necessary to plot a detailed map. These maps show the tracts and blocks, or basic census boundaries, within a given town, county, state, or country," explained Carol Rogers, Public Information Manager of the Indiana Business Research Center at Indiana University. Without modern computers, there could be no modern census. Even as recently as 1980, the majority of the census operations were no computerized. Instead, census personnel prepared maps, address reference files, and geographic reference files. These three tools described the same areas in different ways. The challenge for census workers was to cross-reference the information properly, resulting in specific, detailed maps.

Unfortunately, the processes in 1980 and before were slow and far from error-free. This resulted in production delays, mistakes, and inconsistencies.

As Roger explained, the TIGER system and computerization of the census affects Hoosiers in 1990. "The main purpose is to provide map information that's critical to run the census. Just like we need a road map to get from one place to another, TIGER maps offer specific geographic information. These maps helped census personnel plan more efficiently for distribution of the 1990 census forms. The maps will also help field workers find all housing units in a given block area for census follow-up," said Rogers.

Besides helping to improve census operations, the TIGER system will make other computerized geographic products possible. For instance, in Indiana, the police and fire departments are using the system to improve police and fire protection. They create a map of their territory and then impose information from their files to indicate areas of high crime or fire risk.

"The Department of Natural Resources will also be using TIGER as part of their own geographic-based information system, along with census results, to determine where people live in Indiana and how this corresponds with our natural resources. They'll then use this information to better serve our Hoosier community," explained Rogers.

The TIGER system was created over the past ten years to simplify the geographic program for the 1990 census. "With good maps you get good coverage and find the locations you need to find," said Rogers. "Ultimately, the TIGER system will enhance a more complete count in Indiana and across the country."
