This is Fun

Fair skies and pleasant temperatures helped make the Mentone Festival a good place to be last week-end.

Well attended both days, the Festival drew many people to Mentone for a pancake supper on Friday night and a chicken barbecue Saturday night. The barbecue was a sell-out with 700 pieces of chicken being served.

In addition, there was a waterball championship, archery competition, parade (see pictures elsewhere), and a gospel sing.

Sidewalk sales by various merchants added to the festival-atmosphere and helped prompt one woman to remark, "Will the town do something like this every Saturday night? This is fun."

Granddaughter Miss Illinois

Miss Carolyn Kay Paulus, Elmhurst, Ill., the granddaughter of two former Mentone women, has been named Miss Illinois and will represent that state in the Miss America pageant in September.

Miss Paulus is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corlyle Kay Paulus and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Furel R. Burns, No. Manchester, and Mrs. Jess Whitmyre, Roann. She is a niece of Mrs. Robert Kinsey, Mentone.

Miss Paulus is a junior at Western Illinois College at Macomb, Ill. where she is majoring in vocal music education. She is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority.

Miss Paulus entered the contest as Miss Macomb and for her talent competition sang an aria from "Glitter and Be Gay" from Leonard Bernstein's "Candide". She received $2,750 in col-

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

Many, many years ago, a family lived in a log cabin in the corner of what is now our yard. The family was large and closely-knit. As each child married, the father built a cabin for the newlyweds, and soon many little houses dotted the area. It became known as Pucky Huddle, a community not to be found on any map but one that was complete with a store and a one-room school up the road.

In time, the houses of Pucky Huddle were vacated and one by one they were either torn down or burned. The original cabin was torn down sometime after the turn of the century when our house was built. Logs from it were used as sills in a machine shed, all that remains of the settlement.

We have lived in Pucky Huddle over 17 years, preserving the name and planning to erect a sign that says: Pucky Huddle --Pop 4. It is our refuge, a place to withdraw, restore and prepare for a new week. We love it dearly but we wage a constant battle with the primeval jungle that must have choked the little village to death. Horsetweeds with stalks as thick as a child's arm grow so tall a man standing on a tractor cannot see over them. Thistles as sharp as any acupuncture kit thrive in spite of our constant attempt to eradicate them. Rocks and pebbles dot the fields as if sprinkled from a giant salt shaker.

In the years we have battled the jungles of Pucky Huddle I have also tried to get a sun tan--with the same amount of success. Not being able to simply lie there with all those weeds around, I have tried to combine sunning with weeding.

Unfortunately, I'm not a physical creature, preferring reading or decorating to pulling weeds, and I don't really like the sun. I want a tan without being in the sun and I want the weeds pulled without losing my place in whatever book I happen to be reading.

As I tugged on horsetweeds and gingerly dug around thistles this week-end, my back bared to the sun, I grumbled,

"Every state or country has its tree and flower. Pucky Huddle's tree has to be the horsetweed and its flower must be the thistle." I could see the flag--horsetweed and thistle crossed against a field of stone.

As I became tired, not tanned, just exhausted, I alternated. Pull a wheelbarrow full of weeds, have a glass of lemonade and read in the shade. That made the work more enjoyable and time passed quickly. I finished a biography and started a mystery story. The epitaph on my tombstone, probably a rock from Pucky Huddle, will undoubtedly read:

Here lies Ann
Poor girl never did tan

She'd rather read in the shade
And drink lemonade.
And can there be any question as to what tree and flower will provide summer shade and winter thorns and stickers?

WHAT CONSUMERS CAN
Here are some things you as an individual can do to stretch your food dollars and fight inflation at the same time.

SHOP WITH A LIST — Check your needs carefully before you shop. Make a complete list and stick to it! Avoid impulse buying and purchasing items which might cost less at another type of store.

REALLY MAKE USE OF SPECIALS — Take fullest possible advantage of the advertised specials. Watch for experiment when you can save money. Keep an eye open for specials on in-house brands.

WATCH THOSE CHILDREN! — If you can avoid it, don't take the children along to the market; you'll save dollars right away. You will also find it easier to focus your attention on wise shopping. Another tip: Have a snack before you go to the store; it cuts down on impulse buying. If you have to take the children along, make sure they eat first, too.

USE THE BASE PRICE LIST — Larger stores are required to keep a list of the prices charged during last year's 90-day freeze. Ask to see this "base price list" and check the items you normally buy. Make up your own list of the base prices for those items. You only have to do this once, then you can compare base and current prices as you shop every week. It will help you spot price fluctuations, both up and down, and buy accordingly.

These are just a few ideas. You probably have others. Share them with your friends and neighbors. Remember, inflation is everybody's business.

COMPARE, COMPARE! — Try other stores and other brands. One market may

To The Editor

The NEWS welcomes letters for publication but prefers that they be kept under 200 words. The letters need not express the views of this paper; however, they should not be libelous or in poor taste. Anonymous letters will not be published. The name of the writer must appear with his letter.

Dear Ann,

I have a problem I'm hoping you or your friends can help me with. You see, I am a member of the Young Republicans of Fulton County, and we need more members from the Akron area. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 35 may join. All that is asked is that you attend some meetings and help support our candidates during election time.

As you know, the Kewanna Festival is coming up. In fact, August the 19th is the day of the parade, and we need people who are interested in joining the Young Republicans to ride with us in the parade. We have Bowen T-shirts that will be on sale at the license branch in Rochester for anyone who wishes to support Bowen with us.

If you do know of anyone who would be interested in joining Young Republicans, could you please have them contact either Steve Fleck or me as soon as possible?

We would really appreciate it. Thank you. Sincerely,
Marjorie Kendall

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank Bud Harris and Dick Day for buying my animal at the 4-H sale. It means alot to a 4-H'er to be supported.

Thanks again.

Max Stinson, a former well known young man, has just finished a service of four years in Uncle Sam's navy and word was received at this office that he is at home to remain. He is a brother to Miss Edna Stinson, a popular teacher in the Rochester schools, and a cousin to S. K. Stinson of this place and Dr. Stinson of Athens.

The Standard Oil station at this place will open up for business in a few days. Two big tanks are resting on cement pillars ready to be filled, and we are told a man will be here yet this week to open up the way for filling one with coal oil and the other with gasoline. There is a barn already and a wagon house on the grounds completed. It is said that James Showalter will, in all probability, be put in charge of the station. Jim is a good, straight forward fellow and we hope to see him land the posish.

Efforts are being made to impeach Mayor Feightner of Huntington because he seems to be in the way and is hindering progress in street paving. He ought to be the Mayor of Akron.

The fact that Akron is in the preliminary steps of paving its streets is attracting wide attention and eliciting complimentary remarks from citizens of other cities and towns, but who catch the glimmer of enterprise wherever they see it. These public enterprises always attract. They build favorable public sentiment. Akron has a state-wide reputation for its commercial importance and social and religious enterprise. Its street paving and a new library will be even more a source of public pride to the average Akronite.

Helen Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Pike, has received a great deal of publicity out of her record as a business woman. A feature story and picture of her remarkable success as manager of a sawmill first appeared in the Michigan City Dispatch. The same story later appeared in the Wabash Plain Dealer and the Rochester News-Sentinel. There was also a short feature item in the Wednesday issue of the Indianapolis News. The story told how Helen has the distinction of being the only woman operating a sawmill in LaPorte county and possibly the entire state. "She's the boss of the works and the 20-odd men she employs regard her as such. She knows her business too. She should, for she's been helping her father run his business since she was old enough to add and subtract," the article, in part, said.

Deaf Man Designs Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of one of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. So we suggest you write for yours now. No obligation whatsoever. Write to A. J. Wilder, 809 Steuben St., Wausau, Wis. 54401.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

When filling a lunch box, whether its for travel or picnics, business or school, keep in mind variety, nutrition, and food safety. The hot summer months present added problems for the homemaker who has to pack lunches each day. Especially if the lunch box is exposed to the hot humid temperatures all day.

Foods that spoil easily should not be packed especially in the summer. Sandwich spreads containing mayonnaise or salad dressing are especially susceptible to spoilage. Luncheon meats are also dangerous when left without refrigeration for several hours. Keep poultry, eggs, and mayonnaise mixtures such as ham and potato salads cool at all times. Keep creamed mixtures at serving temperatures—soups hot, puddings and custards cold.

For convenience, make a week's supply of sandwiches at once. Wrap individually placing all in one kind of a box; label with contents and date; freeze. Take wrapped sandwiches from the freezer in the morning. They'll be just right for eating at lunch. Freeze a can of vegetable or fruit juice overnight. It will be thawed by lunchtime and in the meantime, keeps the rest of the food cool.

When packing lettuce and tomato slices, wrap each in foil or clear plastic so they will stay fresh longer. Just before eating put them into the sandwich. Fresh fruits and vegetables are always lunch box pleasers since they add a variety of texture.

Lunch box meals can be interesting meals. Plan ahead so that you include a variety of foods.

The third week of Akron's Pounds Away Club started with a bang as a total loss of 18½ pounds was reported from 15 members present. The total loss for the last two weeks is 37 pounds. Also, five new members were welcomed into PAC. Discussion was held with members choosing friends to help them in their attempt to lose weight. All agreed that they would help their partners, as well as themselves, by having a steady weight loss each week.

The best losers for the week were Nancy Duzenberry and Crystal Weida, each with a four pound loss. The ladies received gifts.

Donna Loer, best loser for the month, received fresh vegetables and fruits as her award. Her loss was eight pounds.

The pig for the week chose fried foods as the willpower foods for the week. Each member will be fined a nickel for each time she eats a food fitting in that category.

Jean Kuhn, exercise leader for the week, enthusiastically led the members in exercises following the meeting with most members participating.

An amusing story, "Frank Facts For Fat Folks" was read by Lucile Doering. The members enjoyed the all too honest report and at least one of the facts seemed to fit each member in some way.

Take your problems to Church this week —

TO BE NURTURED, NOT DISCOURAGED

Careful Grandpa! Don't stifle the imagination of that little miss by chiding or scolding her for telling a "whopper." A child in innocence gives the imagination free rein. Don't curb it, just see that it is guided into channels that will insure a life filled with interest in worthwhile things; in usefulness. Educate to build upon that imagination a faith that will lead away from unwholesome falsehoods.

Teach the child the joy of faith to be gained from attending your church and as maturity arrives that baby imagination will blossom into a sound, steadfast concept of religion and of a useful life.

Games and contests were enjoyed by the children and refreshments were served.

Travel was the theme of the Reading Club this year. A map of the United States was given each child after two books were read. Colored states were added for each book read and the map was completed with eleven books. Stars were added for each additional book read.

Those receiving awards for outstanding reading were Penny Sausaman, Jill Fites, Dawn Slone, Virginia Mathias and Patty Doering.

Those receiving certificates for reading 11 or more books were Brian Deeds, Jackie Fites, Anita Holloway, Jerry Kindig, Marla Kindig, Traci Kline, Tracey Leiter, Rosemary Reed, Eddie Rose, Penny

Sp 4 Yeakley Killed In Vietnam

Sp4 Robin Ray Yeakley, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yeakley, South Bend, has been reported killed in action in Vietnam on June 11, 1972.

Mrs. Yeakley is the former Pauline Bradway of Akron.

Robin was an observer on a visual reconnaissance mission over Thua Thien Province, Republic of So. Vietnam, when the aircraft was fired upon by a hostile ground force and burst into flames. Crew members of other aircraft on the mission reported Robin's aircraft crashed immediately and continued to burn and that the ammunition aboard the aircraft exploded. Other aircraft flew over the crash site at low level and reported no one existed on the downed aircraft although they were unable to land and search the wreckage due to the heavy volume of enemy fire and the terrain. The continued presence of hostile forces has precluded a search of the crash site for any of the bodies, according to Maj. Gen. Verne L. Bowers.

He had earlier been reported missing in action but his status was changed following a review of the findings of a board of officers convened in Vietnam that investigated the circumstances surrounding his missing status.

Robin Yeakley

Robin was born July 24, 1948. He graduated from Central High School, attended Purdue University and Valparaiso University and graduated from Valparaiso Technical Institute. In 1971, at the time of his induction, he was employed at Bethlehem Steel at Portage. He had been in Vietnam since August, 1971.

Surviving with his parents are two brothers, Joe J., in Germany with the Army, and Gary Gay, at home, and a sister, Karen K. Brooks, South Bend.

Temper is a funny thing. It spoils children, ruins men and strengthens steel.

SHE DIED ON FEB. 31: Sue Kay Standiford, Akron, took this picture of the tombstone of a woman who died on Feb. 31, 1869, this summer as she visited a cemetery in Upper Sandusky, Ohio. Miss Standiford reports many interesting items at the cemetery including an old Methodist mission on the grounds that has been restored in keeping with the year it was started, 1916. It was founded by a Negro missionary, John Stewart, who was the first missionary to the Wyandot Indians. His grave is located behind the mission. The Standiford family has several pictures taken at this cemetery.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

"Look, Dad! I pulled a tooth," eight-year old Doug said, poking a baby tooth under his father's nose and pointing to his still bloody gum.

"That's great," Loren said, backing away from the grimy hand that continued to wave the tooth closer to his nose. "You put it under your pillow and maybe the Tooth Fairy will leave you some money tonight."

"Aw, Dad, why don't you just pay me now and skip that Tooth Fairy stuff," Doug pleaded. Somewhat shaken at this lack of confidence in the Tooth Fairy, Loren said, "Just what is the going rate for teeth?"

"Twenty-five cents for little ones; fifty cents for big ones," Doug said, neatly pocketing the quarter and rushing to deposit money and tooth in his bank.

"High cost of living has hit everything," Loren grumbled as he returned to his paper.

His attitude must reflect that of other fathers. At least, we now have one friend who is known as the "Cheap Fairy."

It seems the couple had forgotten to put any money under their eight-year old daughter's pillow. In the morning she cried because the Tooth Fairy had forgotten. Her mother quickly snatched a quarter from her purse, ran to the girl's room and after a bit of fumbling, "found" the quarter under the pillow, quieting the little girl's tears.

The little girl was happy enough with the situation until she lost another tooth. Again, her parents forgot about the Tooth Fairy. This time, however, her mother remembered it after the family had retired, rolled over and poked her husband, saying, "Okay, it's your turn to be the Tooth Fairy."

He dutifully went upstairs and slid a dime under his daughter's pillow.

Next morning, after her father had left the house, the little girl confided to her mother, "You know, I think Dad must have been the Tooth Fairy last night."

"What makes you think a thing like that?" her mother asked.

"Oh you know, he's kinda cheap about things like that," the eight-year old replied. "He only left a dime."

All of which makes us wonder if the eight-year olds of the country have formed a Tooth Fairy minimum scale.

We are indeed thankful being a witness and giving testimony for a faithful and loving Lord and Saviour Christ Jesus. Making a way for us, caring for us that our needs have been supplied.

The Commercial clerks in Rochester from every store are making strenuous efforts to enduce the merchants all to close at six o'clock every evening. The clerks failed once in their petition, but they are up and after it again, with better prospects of success.

If you want to smoke a clean cigar and without dope and nothing but pure tobacco, smoke a Kai Gee. They are kind for you and I to smoke. Kai Gee can be purchased of E. O. Strong, Chas. Flagg, Marion Fultz, Bright and E. L. Scott, W. C. Hosman, L.E. Daine, Stant Thompson and Fred Studebaker.

Jacob Kern, the Athens postmaster and merchant, is about the busiest man in Fulton county and has about as much to look after as a hen with thirteen ducklings near a pond. Jacob was in Akron last Monday morning long before the average Akronite had his breakfast. He was enroute to Disko where he has a Mr. Bucher taking in pickles for him. After visiting Mr. Bucher Jacob sailed on over to Claypool where Mr. Eph Ruth is the pickle agent and is taking in the fruit at that point. Mr. Kern also looks after the home pickle plant and one at Twelve Mile, too, making in all four pickle plants under Jacob's supervision besides all of his own business that needs his eagle eye's attention. No horse could take him to these four points of commercial interest at once and the same time, but his faithful auto does.

A bullet-proof Packard armed with a machine gun and the various other weapons of a young arsenal drove into Akron last Thursday evening, accompanied by Sheriff Boyd Peterson, County Prosecutor George Buchanan and a blue coated cop from Hammond. The occupants of the car were officers in the Milk-Wagon Drivers' Union of Hammond and their mission here was a friendly one. The armored bullet-proof car was merely a protection for themselves against Chicago gangster enemies with whom they are at war. Meeting in the State Bank, the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the situation in the local hauler-producer quarrel which has been going on for some time. They decided to set a later date for the final settlement of the dispute. Both the producers and the Hammond officials left in a good mood towards each other.

power shortages
energy crisis

Do all the headlines make you wonder if the electricity will be there next time you flick a switch?

Some parts of the country may have trouble getting by this summer as energy needs continue to soar and the weather gets hotter.

How about our area?

Public Service Indiana has installed new equipment capable of producing over 600,000 more kilowatts of energy just since last summer.

We are confident that we have enough capacity to meet this summer's peak power demands and still have a reserve.

While you may read about power shortages elsewhere, there's little likelihood of them happening here.

So use your electric servants to make life easier, more comfortable. Just don't waste electricity.

By the way, we're continuing to build new generating and transmission facilities to make sure there will always be enough electricity to meet the growing energy needs of you and your neighbors... and to help protect our environment.

Three New Members Join PAC

Members of Akron's Pounds Away Club welcomed three new members Wednesday evening, Janet Wood, Lucille Harrold and Phyllis Pearson. The total membership, 25.

Roll call was held with 26½ pounds being lost by 20 members with two members holding their previous weight. This week, four members were given gifts for being the "Best Losers of the Week" with each losing three pounds, Nancy Duzenbery, Marilyn Miller, Patty Hoffman and Marilyn Stafford.

The pig for the week drew sugar sweetened soft drinks as the will-power food for the week.

The August contest was started at last week's meeting. The 25 members were divided into three groups with Donna Loer, coach for Group I, and Joyce Moore, coach of Group II and Gloria Parson, coach of Group III. Each team has a poster picture to fill in. Sixteen objects and animals are missing from each picture and each token is worth five pounds. Group I must fill in a house, Group II must fill in a back yard scene and group III must fill in the cars of a circus train with animals. Each week the coaches will add up the number of pounds lost by members of her team. For each five pounds lost, an object will be placed on the poster of that team. However, each pound gained by a member will be subtracted from the total lost and may prevent the team from obtaining an article on their board. The first week's results are: Group I - 11½ lbs. lost and two objects added, and 1½ lbs. left over for next week. Group II - 13 lbs. lost and two objects added, and three lbs. left for next week. Group III - 2 lbs. lost, no animals added.

Winners of the previous contest ending this week were Lana Atkinson, Winnie Summe, Lillian Kamp, Lucile Doering, Donna Loer, and Marvus Zimmerman. These girls had to lose or hold their weight the same for three weeks in order to win.

After a short quiz, Shirley Bickel led exercises for the group.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the Aug. 10, 1938, issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

While driving along state road 25 Saturday noon, motorists were attracted by a burning threshing separator, on the Pontius farm east of Mentone. For the distance of a quarter of a mile cars had been hurriedly parked and their occupants, imagining the worst, had hurried across the field to witness this minor tragedy. The separator, however, was an old dilapidated affair that had been discarded by its owner three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Anderson and son and the Misses Mildred and Kathleen Anderson of Evanston, Ill. spent the week-end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Emery Anderson in Mentone.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fenstermaker, Miss Mary Mollenhour and Guido Shirey are visiting Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour's sister, Mrs. E.L. Wistman, at Peer Lake, Wisc.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Fenstermaker, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Mollenhour are spending some time at Carr Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemler and daughter Phyllis and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ballenger and daughter Patty left Saturday night to enjoy a week's fishing trip in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Tucker are caring for their two grandchildren while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Blessing of Elkhart, are spending some time in Chicago.

COMSTOCK, NEBR., NEWS: "There's a new doll on the market. It's called a welfare doll. You wind it up and it doesn't work. How true! How true. Certainly, there are people who are deserving of welfare and they should have it. But on the other side of the fence are those who do not need welfare but apply and get it just to keep from working. There should be some way of regulating this."

When The Lions Roar

By Claude Fawns

On Tuesday night, under the leadership of Lion President, Dean Baker, about 12 members of the Akron Lions Club roared into the city park and went into action. The victim attacked was the tennis courts. Added to the roar of the Lions were the clamor and clatter of many other sounds: buzzing of electric saws, clanging of hammers, digging and scraping and scooping of spades. Added to that were the gentler sounds coming from the swish of paint brushes and the stretching and replacing of the back-stop mesh wires.

Result: All the heavy, tall posts were evenly sawed off at the top, substantial timbers reaching from one post to the other were nailed into place, the back-stop wire mesh, with some new mesh added, was stretched into place and redwood treated to a coat of redwood finish, the court cleaned by removing weeds, grass and mud.

The other important item: Somebody sneaked coffee and watermelon into camp for the hungry lions.

But - but, the job was not all completed. So on Tuesday evening of August 29, at 6 o'clock, there will be another work night. It is hoped that the Lions who forgot to participate this time will come roaring in to help finish the job.

To Appear On TV

Francis E. Sanders, chairman of the 1972 Kewanna Harvest Festival and Esposition, and Mrs. Jerry Sisinger, head of the Kewanna United Methodist Church Country Bazaar at the Festival, will be interviewed on WSBT-TV's Homemakers

Time Monday, August 14, at 9 a.m. They will be interviewed by Dorothy Frisk and Mrs. Sisinger will show some of the products to be sold at the bazaar.

The service interruption explained.

You're talking to a friend on the phone. Suddenly, click — you're talking to yourself.

What happened? Fuses can blow, electromechanical equipment burn out or a switch can malfunction. If your conversation is interrupted call repair service. Your report will help us find the trouble. And help prevent its recurrence.

However, if your line goes dead we want you to know that a great many disconnects are caused by unpredictable acts of man or nature. For example: a tree falls and takes your phone line down with it; lightning strikes and burns up your conversation; or a builder excavating a site accidentally pulls up a line cutting off hundreds of calls at once.

Unfortunately these things can and do happen occasionally.

When they do our men are out rain or shine, day or night getting your lines back in service as fast as possible.

We know that any interruption in your phone service is a serious matter. For you. And for us. We urge your cooperation, and patience, when an interruption occurs while we strive to get you back on the line.

Marijuana Raid Results In Arrests, Confiscation

State and county authorities arrested seven people last Thursday night to climax two months of extensive surveillance by undercover agents.

Officers found a cultivated garden of marijuana in full bloom at the residence where Robert F. Crow, 23, R. 1, Culver lived. They said there were four or five rows of marijuana, each about 50 feet long, growing next to rows of sweet corn. They also found jars of marijuana seeds in the house and confiscated a bag of processed marijuana ready for sale at a value of $200.

Crow was charged on two counts of selling a dangerous drug. Three juvenile females were charged with common nuisance--frequenting a place where dangerous drugs were sold. They were from Indianapolis, Logansport and Bay Village, O.

James W. Rogers, 20, 801 Walnut St., Akron, was released from Fulton Co. jail on $500 bond last week following his arrest during a marijuana raid.

Also charged, in addition to Rogers, Crow, and the girls, were Jack A. Floyd, 20, R. 1, Culver, and June Chalk, 19, Rochester.

Chalk was fined $25 plus court costs when she appeared in Fulton circuit court Friday. Crow was released on a $2500 bond and Floyd was released on $1,000 bond.

Participating in the raid were State police detectives Don Smith and Robert Burns, State Troopers Earl McCullough, Jerry Jolly and Steve Jennings; Fulton Co. sheriff Homer Carr and deputies Bruce Baker and Richard Baker, and Fulton Co. prosecutor James O. Wells Jr.

The marijuana in the garden was uprooted by authorities and bagged. The sheriff's department is keeping the confiscated plant at its office.

IN MEMORY

IN LOVING MEMORY of Hershel Engle, who passed away Aug. 11, 1941.

Feel the emptiness within.
When we recall how happy
The years we were together had been.

LOVING CHILDREN & GRANDCHILDREN

8/10/1p

IN LOVING MEMORY of our darling daughter, Pauline Fleck, who left us 1929, her father, Floyd Fleck, Father and Mother, Jesse and Little Brooks.

Some say time heals all sorrow and helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved how much we miss them yet.

We never knew that hearts could ache with such bitter pain.

Long for a vanished face, to hear their voices again. We never knew that nights could be so lonely, cold or dim.

But we have learned so many things from our loss of them. When the family gets together, there is their faces we fail to see.

The chairs that will always be unfilled. And it fills our hearts with sadness, thinking of the way it used to be.

God gave us strength to face our grief and courage to stand the blow.

But what it meant to lose them, no one will ever know.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

"You go first," they said, those brave sons of mine who had joined their father in convincing me that soaring was what I really wanted to do.

I climbed into the glider with the grace of a cow climbing a fence, muttering that what I really wanted to do was take my Sunday afternoon nap.

Helping hands fastened straps around me that resembled a parachute harness. "I'm not going to jump," I said. "Just making certain," they laughed, tightening the harness.

With my feet stuck straight out in front and the harness securely locked, there was little left to move except my hands. I waved them bravely at my little family as the tow plane accelerated and our glider whished down the runway.

"We're now going about 40 miles per hour," the pilot, Carl Fuller of the Lafayette Soaring Society, said as the glider lifted off the ground even before the tow plane had taken off. It was a strange feeling to be higher than the craft that was pulling us.

Soon, however, the airplane was off the ground, towing the glider higher into the air. Like water skiers, we followed the plane's pattern. By the time the altimeter said 2300 feet, Carl decided the time had come to cut loose from the plane. "Pull that red knob in the middle," he said from the rear seat. It was strange, being a passenger and sitting up front. I obeyed his command, pulling the knob. A loud bang told us we were on our own. It was just like riding in an airplane but so much quieter. The only sounds were my heart beating three-quarter time and the light whish of air.

"See that shadow over there?" Carl asked. I nodded. Shadows mean clouds and clouds mean rough flying for light planes below. A cloud may look like a puff of cotton but the air around it can kick.

"We'll get under the cloud," Carl said. "I think there should be a thermal there."

I still don't understand thermals completely, but I did know thermal did not refer to a warm blanket on a cold night but to a mass of air rising from the ground. Glider pilots like the spring because of the thermals that rise from plowed fields. Fields that have recently been mowed or combined are second best. Least favorites are corn fields because the thermal activity is not as great over foliage.

"Ah, yes! There it is!" he said. "Do you feel it?" he asked, maneuvering the glider in tight circles, now rising, now dropping slightly, now circling, now back up.

"Yes," I replied. I hated to admit what I felt was my stomach tickling my wisdom teeth. I don't circle well.

We climbed another 400 feet, circling tightly to keep within the confines of our thermal. It was the highest flight of the afternoon, he said. Between circles, I learned that Carl had once soared all the way from Lafayette to So. Louis, Mo., a seven hour flight. He had climbed to 7500 feet that day. This time we were only at 2700 feet, but that wasn't bad, he said, considering the day.

"Do you see any buzzards or hawks?" he asked suddenly.

I gulped, looked around and reported none. He laughed, "They usually find a thermal before we can."

So that explains why those birds glide in circles, I thought, relaxing. The ease of flight, the quietness, it was almost as soothing as my nap would have been.

"Want to fly it?" he yelled.

"I guess so," I replied, snapping out of my reverie and taking hold of the stick as gingerly as if it were dynamite with a short fuse. At Carl's direction, I pushed on the pedals, used the stick, and we went through a series of easy circles. I wasn't scared about the circles, but I did worry plenty about smashing up a perfectly good glider.

"Hey, that was okay," he called. "You did it all by yourself for five minutes."

"Really?" I shouted so loud they could have heard me on the ground. "You must be kidding."

"It was great," he said, taking over his controls but letting me "follow through" on mine as we landed.

I was so busy getting the "feel" of the landing, I didn't have time to let go to wave at the boys, and I pretended not to hear later when they complained that all the clouds had dissipated by the time they went up. The other three soaring Sheetz had to cut loose from the airplane, turn around and come back. My 20-minute ride was the longest of the afternoon.

Carl deflated my bubble a little when he returned with Loren. "Mom is pretty good," he told the boys, "but you'd better stick with Dad. He's better."

He may be better, but I'll bet I know who had more fun than anyone else—Carl. He says he would rather soar than fly or almost anything else. And I'd have to admit that next to Sunday afternoon naps, he could be right.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

MUSIC IN THE HILLS by D. E. Stevenson. This is an appealing story of love set in the Scottish Border Country. It depicts Mamie and Jock Johnstone, a mature and happily married couple, whose pride and joy is Mureth Valley.

FEATHERS IN THE FIRE by Catherine Cookson. Set on a tenant farm in late nineteenth-century England, this is a story of love and cruelty, of passion and tragedy. Again the author has combined her keen narrative power with her penetrating insight into human character.

HENRY FORD AND GRASS-ROOTS AMERICA by Reynold M. Wik. This book reveals a new view of the controversial "Flivver King" and the myths which grew up around him.

1972-1973 TARBELL'S TEACHER'S GUIDE edited by Frank S. Mead.

THE HEADSTRONG HOUSEBOAT by William C. Anderson. This is the story of a headstrong, restless family bent on adventure and exploration. The Andersons go from land-lubbers to experienced mariners as they cross America by houseboat.

AEROBICS FOR WOMEN by Mildred and Kenneth Cooper.

VICKY, PRINCESS ROYAL OF ENGLAND AND GERMAN EMPRESS by Daphne Bennett. The author has woven a touchingly romantic narrative, without sacrificing historical insight and accuracy. Vicky herself remains the heroine of her story, a tragic princess whose generous spirit and love of life sustained her through a tragic time.

Dear Editor:

An item in last week's 39 years ago column triggered memories. I was present at the meeting between the Milk Drivers' Union officials and officials of the Pure Milk Association, held in the State Bank.

The armored bullet-proof car had a chauffeur, who kept the motor running for two hours, presumably ready to take off at a moment's notice.

The meeting did end amicably, but I am sure the union officials never forgot their trip to Akron. Aaron Berger, J. W. Swick, J. Elmer Landis and A. A. Gast had their own ideas of how to negotiate.

Sincerely,
Claude Billings
Former Publisher

Dear Editor:

For your consideration:

As I see it and my opinion and conclusion to a ridiculous spectacle. McGovern's nominating speech and Shriver's acceptance remarks, full of venom, hatred and disparaging remarks. A very personal attack against the president of the U.S., Mr. Nixon, ill conceived and advised. Who involved the U.S. in Vietnam with armed forces? As President Nixon has stated on different occasions, it was not his war, he inherited the war.

I cannot believe any patriotic, dedicated American citizen could make such a personal attack upon our president. All of this really must have pleased the Communists and encouraged them to refuse to make peace.

Trying to force the image of the Kennedy clan or dynasty as they called it as something to really look up to? I have my opinion about this.

The Congress enacts the legislation, not the president. After all was said, to me it was an insult to the intelligence of the American citizen and voter.

Thank you,
W. E. Fowler

The brick on Earl Leininger's new bungalow is up to the square and the masons will finish the brick work on the Henry Harsh bungalow this week with fair weather. These two latter named are side-by-side the eastern part of town and will be very modern in design and finish and will materially enhance property values in that locality. Lewis Leininger is awaiting the brickmen on his house. The masonry work will begin on the basement of the new school building in a few days, which all means that Akron is a busy place and making some substantial improvements. Added to all this, the painters have been busy all summer all over town, among the latest is on Mrs. Katie Cutshall's residence. Now if our streets were up to the standard and matched up with the lawns, the flowers and shrubbery about our handsome homes, things would look. But with all the beauty in modern homes and mud knee deep our tastes get warped.

North Miami School Registration Set, Enrollment, Attendance Information Given

Registration at North Miami schools will get underway Friday, August 18, according to a schedule released this week by school officials.

Grades 9 and 10 will register from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Friday.

On Monday, August 21, grades 11 and 12 will register from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 4 p.m.

On Tuesday, August 22, there will be an orientation period for all new staff members. The meeting will be at the high school and will begin at 9 a.m. with a lunch break from 12 to 1 p.m. The meeting will adjourn at 3:30 p.m.

An orientation period for the entire teaching staff will be held August 23 from 9 to 12. At 1 p.m., all teachers will report to their respective buildings and make preparations for the opening of school on Thursday, August 24, for the elementary and Friday, August 25, for the high school.

All junior and senior high school teachers will report to the high school at 8 a.m. on Aug. 24 to plan and prepare for the first day of school for all junior and senior high school classes, which will begin on August 25 at 8:24 a.m.

There will be no school on September 4 (Labor Day) but classes will resume Sept. 6 at the regular time.

All fees, including book rental, should be paid at the time of registration.

Elementary students (K-8) will enroll Thursday, Aug. 24, from 8 a.m. until 10:45 a.m. in their respective or assigned schools. All busses will run on the morning of Aug. 24 and will pick up the students at the same time as last year. All parents living in the No. Miami District for the first time or parents having children attending school in the district for the first time should either contact the superintendent's office to find which bus the child will ride or if they know which bus, they should contact the driver and ask the approximate time the children will be picked up.

At Macy, Chili and Gilead, all kindergarten students will attend school during the morning and transportation will be provided to the school. Parents should make arrangements to transport the students from school back home at noon.

At Mexico where there will be both morning and afternoon sessions for kindergarten students, transportation will be provided to school for the morning students and from school to home for the afternoon students.

Most students will attend the same school they attended last year, but a few changes will have to be made because some class would be very overcrowded. Where a change is going to have to be made, the students' parents will be notified. No family will have their elementary children (K-6) split if they do not wish it. Possibly, all the family's children may be transferred to another elementary building if the family chooses to do so.

All kindergarten students must be five years old on or before Sept. 1, 1972 and all first grade students must be six years old on or before September 1, 1972. All kindergarten students must have either presented a birth certificate and a record of immunization and a TB test record at the pre-enrollment held last spring or they must present them when they are enrolled on Aug. 24, 1972. The same records are needed for first grade students if they have not attended kindergarten before enrolling for the first grade.

All school cafeterias will operate as they did last year. As of the present time, all lunch prices will remain as they were last year except the price for all adult lunches will be 50 cents instead of 40 cents. This increase is in compliance with the School Lunch Division. Checks written in payment for school lunches and breakfasts should be made payable to the School Lunch Fund. All cafeterias will be in operation the first full day of school, August 25. Only one meal will be served that week and students should pay for only one day of Friday, August 25.

The textbook rental fees for No. Miami students for 1972-73 are: Kindergarten $7 per yr.;

grades 1-6, $11 plus miscellaneous fees; grades 7 and 8, $12 plus $4 fees; grades 9-12: to be determined by the course, number of courses taken, locker rental, lab fees, etc. All textbooks will be rented unless the student wishes to purchase the book.

All checks used to pay for book rentals should be made payable to the No. Miami School Corporation Book Rental Fund.

Arrangements are being made to offer all North Miami students a student accident program and they may take out the accident insurance on a voluntary basis.

The offices in all of the No. Miami elementary schools will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and the high school will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily when school is in session, commencing August 18.

Any patrons within the corporation boundaries having questions may contact either the building principal where their child will attend or the superintendent's office.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

The 1972 Kosciusko Co. Fair is now history. Although the weather didn't cooperate the fair was a big success. The Women's Department was an interesting and attractive part of this year's fair.

Mrs. Fred Kuhn, general superintendent reported that 1440 entries were made in the five departments. Judging for the Women's Department was held on Monday night. The judges worked until the wee hours of the morning to select the blue ribbon winners from the numerous excellent entries. The judges for the various areas were: Mrs. Barbara Chaille of No. Manchester, canning; Mrs. Philip Maxwell, Valparaiso and Mrs. Kelvin Prenkert, Wakarusa, clothing; Mrs. Norman Good, Columbia City, baking and candy; Mrs. Glen Frank, Columbia City, flowers; and Mrs. Ernest Hauth, Warsaw for needlework, Miss Marcie Wynns, Extension Home Economist in St. Joseph County judged the Extension Homemaker Educational Booths.

There were several first place ribbons awarded but only a select few received grand champion ribbons for best of show in each department.

Mrs. Lawrence Butts, R. 4, Warsaw, won two best of show ribbons in the flower department for her beautiful rose arrangement and single rose. A flowering cactus took a grand champion ribbon for house plants and was grown by Mrs. Clarence Gunter, R. 5, Warsaw. The best flower arrangement and snapdragon arrangement awards were presented to Mrs. Larry Swihart of Silver Lake. The grand champion clothing ribbon went to Mrs. John Rodgers, R. 2, Pierceton for a child's knicker outfit. A lovely crocheted bed spread made by Mrs. Gertrude Ball of R. 2, Akron, received the best of show award in the needlework department. Three grand champion ribbons were awarded in the baking and candy department: Mrs. Chas. Smoker, R. 7, Warsaw, apricot coffee cake; Mrs. James Earl, R. 4, Warsaw, decorated cake; and Mrs. Perry Hathaway, R. 1, Claypool for her butter toffee. Miss Cynthia Rapp, R. 2, Milford received the grand champion ribbon in canning for her canned cherries. The grand champion educational booth was displayed by the Monroe Twp. club on the topic of citizenship.

Only a few of the entries in the Women's Dept. receive awards. Every entrant deserves recognition for his or her interest in the department and help in making the building a beautiful display of varied talents. A big thank you to everyone who helped in any way to make this year's Women's Department one of the best.

Accident Report

A one-car accident resulted in $700 damage to a car driven by Gael C. Johnson, 34, R. 1, Mentone, early Thursday morning. The accident was investigated by the Kosciusko Co. sheriff's department.

Autos driven by Clarence D. Vining, Bourbon, and Loa J. Whetstone, R. 1, Akron, collided at the intersection of U.S. 30 and SR 19 north of Etna Green Monday afternoon with damages estimated at $140 to the Vining auto and $350 to the Whetstone car.

Police Report

Ray E. Warren, 29, R. 2, Akron, was booked at the Kosciusko Co. jail Monday on an assault and battery charge. Jailed on a charge of public intoxication was James M. Voris, 23, Box 52, Silver Lake.

Some people have made an art of being slow to pick up the check. You've really got to hand it to them.

THANK YOU

The Beaver Dam Agriculture 4-H Club would like to thank all of the buyers at the Kosciusko County 4-H Sale for buying their livestock.

We also want to thank the donors of the trophies we won.

Electric Energy is a

WORK PERKER

There are those who think that cutting down on the use of electric energy is one way of getting rid of some of our pollution problems.

Fact is electric energy, perhaps more than anything else, is the solution to a great deal of our pollution dilemma. And it's also a big factor in creating jobs for the millions of Americans who join the labor market each year.

Cutting back on the use of electric energy would stifle the industrial growth necessary to keep America economically healthy. New industry needs electric power. Established industries need it to grow and expand and become more efficient. And almost everybody's job and standard of living depend on it.

Energy is the key to our future. Right now, the American people are making a bet on growth and the American Future" recently published by the Federal government. "The reason per capita income in the U.S. is so high is that the average American worker has at his command more energy, chiefly in the form of electricity, than any other worker in the world," the report says.

Electric energy—and more of it—is needed to help provide employment for millions of job-seekers, solve many of our pressing social questions, and obtain practical solutions to our pollution problems.

NIPSCO is planning and building today to meet these tremendous energy demands for a prosperous, healthy and clean tomorrow.

TVSC asks soil tests, borings be made

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board Monday night instructed Superintendent Robert Forbes to have soil tests and borings made on 40 acres located on the southwest corner of State Road 19 and Co. Road 800 So. If the borings should prove satisfactory for a building site, Forbes was instructed to begin con-

The land in question, part of the real estate of the late Gus Mollenhour whose family reportedly does not wish to sell, is located approximately four miles south of Mentone and six miles north of Akron on State Road 19, one mile north and across the road from a 40-acre site previously tested on the Waldo Adams property. The latter was refused when borings showed the land had a tendency to pond.

The decision to ask Forbes to begin the action came on a 5-0 vote after an hour and 40 minute executive session called by Richard Goshert who said he had information that could not be made public that would have bearing on the subject.

The motion to take the action was made by Dr.

Hills buy Kendall's Grocery in Akron

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hill Jr., Peru, have purchased Kendall's Grocery in Akron from Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Kendall and will assume ownership Monday, August 28.

Sale of the store, located in the middle of Akron at the corner of SR 19 and 14, ends 13 years of ownership for the Kendalls who purchased the business from the late Ed Fleck.

Mr. Kendall, who is clerk of the Fulton Circuit Court, plans to devote his time and efforts to the clerk's job. Mrs. Kendall, a licensed practical nurse, is employed by Dr. Dean K. Stinson, Rochester. The couple, parents of four children, recently purchased the residence formerly occupied by the late Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Whallon and will continue to live in Akron.

The Hills will continue to live in Peru until their daughter Linda, a junior, graduates from high school. They also have two married children, Jane, Mrs. Steve Benson, and John Hill, who is married to the former Becky Gast.

The Hills recently built a new home at L-Lake, southwest of Akron.

Both are graduates of Akron High School. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whittenberger, R. 1, Akron.

ten years has been associated with his brother Bill as owner of the Farmers Market at Peru.

Some remodeling of the store is planned but it will remain open.

Pat Studebaker, who was associated with the Hills in the Farmers Market, will be store manager.

Dear Ann,

I've been enjoying your column so much but the one several weeks ago brought back many memories. It was about you and Alan. I had so many similar experiences with my brother Kermit. I was from May to December plus two years older and in January after he was born Grandpa Leininger's house (located where Haney's live) burned. My mother stepped out of the house to watch it and I grabbed my new brother from his cradle and was rocking him in my chair with his head an inch or so from the stove when my mother came in. We fought each other over silly things but I took one boy down the alley (when we lived in South Bend) and "cleaned his clock" when he mistreated my brother. Our last fight was when I attempted to wash his mouth out with soap and couldn't do it! Age has mellowed us and Maxine and Buss and Ed and I thoroughly enjoy each other's company now.

Just now I want to thank you for the nice write-up and pictures about the Amicus Club. They were really fine. To thank your dad, too, for the fine picture taking with your camera. He said he was an amateur but we all had such good pictures--they couldn't have been better. It was a wonderful evening we'll all remember and your paper put a nice finishing touch on it.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Louise Bucher

Dear Editor:

Here is what I have experienced. "Do Not Be Fooled." In 1916 Wilson's propaganda plea fooled the women voters worried about their sons being sent to war. Wilson's by-word was "He kept us out of war." Democratic president Roosevelt and his New Deal--World War II. Democratic president No.

Two Truman and his Fair Deal sold out to the Russians and involved our country in the Korean War. Democratic president No. 3 Kennedy involved our country in the Vietnam war. Democratic president number four. His cry was "Not what my country can do for me, what can I do for my country. President Johnson, No. 5 Democrat, carried on that war for several years. Why blame Mr. Nixon?

You would not have to be very bright or smart, having a small amount of intelligence, to know all the many extravagant promises McGovern is making cannot and will not be fulfilled, by him. The Congress enacts the legislation.

I am not an alarmist. I am stating facts that cannot be denied. God willing, I will very soon be 78 years old, a war veteran struggling 52 years to live, father of a Korean veteran and son, a 100% American citizen, law abiding, believing in constitutional government and state's rights without Federal Control and bureaucrats.

A Christian, a gentleman and I maintain my integrity. A very, very concerned citizen of Mentone, Indiana, I sign my name.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

Dad's gourds are empty now and Mom can hang out clothes without being scolded.

Before you think my parents are feuding, let me explain that Dad raised the huge gourds last summer as a hobby, having been given the seed by a friend who later made a large martin apartment house from eight gourds.

To everyone's surprise, including the friend who has had little luck getting martins to move in, the house was soon occupied by eight pairs of martins. All sixteen martins took turns scolding Mom as she hung clothes on a nearby clothesline.

Dad thinks a lot of credit for the success of the martins' coming goes to the clothesline and a nearby light wire because these provided temporary perches for the birds as they surveyed the apartment house.

Apartment living is the only life for the social little birds. They like to sit on their little stoops and visit with each other. The friend used hardware cloth to make little front porches for the birds. Their chatter as they sat there made a lot of racket--so much that Dad taped the sounds and it sounds like the sound track from "Birds."

So social are the little birds that on Sundays there were often more than 20 birds around the house, making us wonder if they had invited their in-laws home for dinner.

The martins went south for the winter in July, leaving their apartments neat and clean. According to old-time martin watchers, this is a sign of an early winter.

In any case, the gourds are empty now, wait-

John McKee during a discussion of the board's building trades policy. He said he hoped the buildings trades students could build an administration building on the site of the proposed new high school. The board instructed Forbes to maintain a building trades program but the location and nature of the project was not determined pending results of the tests.

On a motion by Goshert, the board voted 4-1 to instruct the superintendent to initiate negotiations with the Everett I. Brown architectural firm of Indianapolis for the purpose of retaining their services for the construction of a new high school building. Dr. McKee abstained.

In other action, the board:

* Accepted a gasoline bid of 16.25 cents per gallon for Standard gasoline and 12.36 cents per gallon for Standard No. 2 fuel oil. Standard was the only bidder.

* Granted a request by Martha Shireman that her son Greg be allowed a transfer to Rochester in order that he might take German, a course not offered in TVSC. The motion carried 3-2 with McKee and Maurice Coplen voting against it. McKee argued that if one student were allowed to leave the corporation, others would also want out, provoking a hardship through the loss of state aid.

* Heard a financial report by Forbes that showed a total of $1,820,142.80 in all funds with $1,621,092.17 on investment.

* Approved teaching contracts for Linda Garver for special education, Mary Lee Mickelson for elementary music and Tana Kura for the fourth grade. Bus driver contracts were also approved, including one for Charles Hammer who had previously driven a bus before being seriously injured in an accident last winter. One opening was noted by Forbes, who said a substitute would fill the route at present.

* Contracted Martin Cantlon to work as janitor at Mentone at $3.10 per hour. His wife will assist him part-time.

* Discussed the school nurse's salary and voted 3-2 against offering a contract to a nurse who had offered to work at a lower pay scale than the present nurse. Dr. Wymond Wilson and Goshert voted to offer the new nurse a contract and McKee, Coplen and Philip Lash opposed the motion.

* Heard Forbes read a list of bus driver applicants that included Pat Vandewater, Donna Thompson, Charles Eaton and Kendal Rager.

* Moved to advertise for bidders for used typewriters to be sold during the September meeting.

* Adjourned at 11 p.m. to meet again August 31 for the annual budget hearing.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

By ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

The extension agent is the central arm of the home demonstration program. Young brides are confronted with all colors, shapes, sizes, and designs of pots and pans to choose from. She can find a matched set that's exactly what she wants, but by and large she would be better off to buy assorted wares to suit her needs.

Aluminum is practically unbeatable for all around use. It requires a bit more than average care to keep it clean and shiny, but it will more than compensate by giving even heat distribution which is especially important for frying. Stainless steel is somewhat more expensive but also a good serviceable metal. Stainless steel does not conduct heat as well as aluminum that is why it usually has copper bottoms.

Bright colorful enamelware and porcelain enameled ware are popular with young women especially. Enamelware is glass fused on metal and consequently needs careful handling to prevent cracking, chipping or discoloring. Heat distribution is not even in this type of utensil or it is best not to use enamelware for pudding or white sauces. The widest use is in teakettles, double boilers and small pans.

Cast iron is sturdy for skillet or Dutch oven use. It is not recommended since it is very heavy, rusts and needs to be seasoned. In season cast iron, spread melted shortening or salad oil on inside of utensil and on its cover. (Do not use any fat that contains salt). Place in a warm oven or over low heat for several hours, swabbing sides and cover occasionally with more fat. When cool wipe off excess fat or oil. The utensil is then ready to use. The seasoning is retained longer by washing with soap rather than a detergent.

Teflon coating is a nice feature for some pans. It makes cleanup surprisingly easy and foods can be cooked without fat. The Teflon surface is easily damaged and must be protected against scratching.

If you are shopping for pots and pans remember that variety is important. There are some foods that are cooked nicely in Teflon and others that are beautifully crisp in cast iron. Each type of cookware has a specific function. Variety is the answer when shopping for pots and pans.

Local Homemaker on Television - Mrs. Sherman Deaton, R. 2, Syracuse, is a regular feature on "Homemaker's Time" on South Bend television. "Homemaker's Time" is aired from 9-10 a.m., Monday through Friday. Mrs. Deaton will appear on the program, August 25 and September 22. Be sure to tune in.

Excuses, Excuses Are Heard

Yes, excuses were heard at Wednesday evenings meeting of the Pounds Away Club held at the Akron Library. Prior to the meeting as members weighed in, various ladies were wondering if a Best Loser award would be given. Although only five or six of the ladies lost weight, Gloria Parson was honored as the Best Loser for the week.

The members who had lost weight during the week put their names in a hat and a name was drawn for a watermelon. Mrs. Pat Hoffman was the winner.

Needless to say, the club had a pig for the week, and nuts was chosen as the willpower food for this week.

The coaches for the poster contests have no reports to give. Although Gloria Parson's team added two animals to their train. The other two groups took a loss, and the coaches reminded teams that the idea was to lose weight, not gain!

The poster report was given by Mrs. Marya Neely telling members how some had to give blood and suggestions were offered to help out the contest.

Members who were asked to bring a letter had a poem to be read as well as played on the radio.

Members were given a letter with a poem to be read as well as played on the radio.

Mentone Club Takes Trip In Community

Members of the Mentone Home Extension club took their annual trip last week without getting out of the community. As one member noted, they found something of interest "right in their own back yard" by touring factories of which they all knew something but little of what actually was manufactured there.

They visited Black Oxide at Burket, M and R Egg Co., Midwest Spring Mfg. Co. and Manwaring Leghorn Farms, Inc., at Mentone.

Ten members and five children made the trip, stopping at Teel's Restaurant for lunch.

Did you notice that light bulb makers now list lumens and bulb life on each pack of bulbs?

Lumens measure the light output while watts indicate the electric energy the bulb uses. Twice the lumens, twice the light.

Light from some bulbs of equal wattage may give more light but may also cost more or have a shorter life.

Bulb life refers to the specific number of hours one can expect the bulb to last.

For reading, it makes sense to use the brighter light bulbs. For a night light, a dimmer bulb may prove the best choice. A night light bulb should be a low wattage bulb with a long life.

THE PILL BOX

We Helped Build A Church

By Mary Utter

During the last three weeks there has been a great deal of activity in the town of Jay, Oklahoma. The Isa-la-gi (native word for Cherokee) church was getting a new building! United Methodists from the Huntington and Marion districts had given $10,000 for materials, then those who could went to Jay to do whatever their hands found to do.

When I tried to write this, I found that I couldn't really tell it except in first person, for it is a very personal experience. Paul, Eva Mae and Jackie Haist and Hap and I arrived for the final week on Monday evening. There was still much to do and many families had to leave to get back to their jobs. We sanded seams on the dry wall. (Hap said he liked the work because he advanced so quickly--15 minutes after he started he was promoted to instructor and was showing others how to do it!) We refinished pews, stained and varnished woodwork, nailed roofing and siding, painted, laid floor tile, cooked and cleaned.

Helping for several days was a group of 16-18 year-old Jewish boys and girls from all over the United States who had come to Talleguah, Okla., to assist the Indians to get government housing. Robin, a girl from New York who worked with me, told me that to qualify, the Indians had to put in 500 hours of work. Since some of them were firm, these youngsters took their place, and had thus far put in more than 2000 man hours. They were brought over each day by a young doctor and nurse who were with VISTA.

Each night the last week, some worked until about 10 p.m. The townspeople of Jay were very co-operative, and quite often someone would come with a box of tomatoes, two or three cakes, chicken, a dish of dessert, and I was told that one man had put in 100 hours of eating, none of it.

There had been no sewer in the church, so the town ran over time each day, and on the final day, the new latrine was in and a sewer line was laid through the town.

On the last day, the church was left to us to Arleone to visit relatives. They blessed the wedding that anticipated the new church that evening. Not a peep time while the last ceiling beam was being put into place. Mrs. Vernon Cox of Atwood and I were washing the floor. It took more than waiting for them was much dust, sawdust and such on it. While I ate supper they carried in the pews, and after supper I was mopping the pulpit area when wedding guests started coming in. I finished at 8:10, and my big accomplishment was to get out to the trailer, get a bath, and get back to the wedding at 8:40. The Indian District Superintendent married an Indian girl, Dorothy Summerfield, to a white boy, Benny Price.

As family after family had to leave, the Indians became sad.

Many of them had been there working, eating and worshipping with us. Finally on Sunday, Aug. 13, only the Gene Gilbert family and Hap and I were left. Gene is the leader of the project, and he was staying until Monday so that he could pay the final bills. As we planned to leave after church, at the end of the service, they had Hap and me come up and they sang to us in Cherokee the song the Indians sang at the end of the "Trail of Tears." Then each of them talked to us, thanked us for our part and bade us goodbye. After lunch, fixed by the Indian women, we started home, gratified by the beautiful house of worship a group of amateurs serving as God's hands and face had been able to construct. In this group of farmers, shop keepers, office workers, factory workers, teachers and others, there was no professional carpenter, but we did have the services of an electrician and a plumber who worked tirelessly.

Other families from this area that I know were there are the families of Vernon Cox of Atwood, Harry Gigous and Jack Rife of Warsaw, the Ned Vogel family of Atwood and Larry Kuhn, formerly of Akron. There were probably others who left before we arrived.

They tell us that insanity in humans is decreasing. Could it be because so many things that used to be considered crazy are now quite common?

It Happened In Mentone

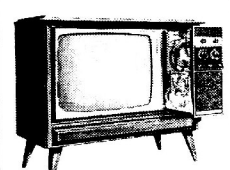

Taken from the Aug. 24, 1938, issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

their families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rush Wednesday night and enjoyed an ice-cream social. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Verl Taylor, Har-ley Boganwright, Murray Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Lohrer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jake McCrone and daughters, Mrs. Taylor and son Del Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Clark and family, Gene Way and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prill School Gets More Desks

The Prill School Museum Association has purchased more desks for the restored one-room building and for a $2,500 donation the name of the donor will be put on one of the desks. There are 13 original desks in the school and several of these have already been spoken for as memorials to former pupils. The rest will be reserved for this purpose.

Persons interested in this project should contact Charles Quackenbush, Rochester.

Mrs. Quackenbush conducted the recent meeting when this project was planned, and Joe Campbell and Ransford Peterson were elected trustees with Chester Utter as chairman. Mrs. Hazel Campbell was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee.

Serving on the nominating committee will be Ruth Utter, Mary Bowen and Thelma Safford with officers to be elected in October.

Dewey Zolman, the man who started the idea of restoring the school and who did much of the original work, announced his resignation this week as a three-year trustee of the Prill School Museum Association.

Civic organizations are reminded that the school is available for meetings. Interested groups should contact Mrs. Quackenbush or Mrs. Melvin Sweeney.

Organizations recently making donations to the museum are Kappa Delta Phi sorority, Mr. Peterson, Akron Exchange State Bank, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Dorothy Woodcox and Mrs. Elizabeth Markley.

2145 students enroll in TVSC schools

Unofficial enrollment figures taken the first day of school indicate 2,145 students enrolled in Tippecanoe Valley schools. Of these, 307 are at Talma, 167 at Burket, 675 at Mentone and 996 at Akron.

The eighth grade is the largest class with a total enrollment of 196 students while the senior class is the smallest with 111. There are 11 students enrolled in an M-1 special education class at Mentone.

The total enrollment is still not official and will not be for several weeks. However, it does not show a marked change from last year's official enrollment.

ment taken September 13, 1971, with a total of 2,144 students enrolled.

Unofficial enrollment taken last August 31 showed 2,113 students.

"HEY DAD! I found a two-headed snake," young Michael Yazel shouted Sunday while on a camping trip near Friendship with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yazel, Mentone. Sure enough, Michael, a snake fancier who has had several snakes for pets, had found a tiny, two-headed garter snake. The snake seems perfectly normal except that it has two heads. Both mouths eat and tongues lash out of both mouths. The snake, shown in a close-up view in the inset, is quite small compared to a teaspoon. Michael is raising it in an aquarium in his parents' living room. Here, he lets his friend Terry Menzie, left, see the snake by letting it crawl across Terry's hand.

Mentone Board Meeting Changed

The Mentone Town Board meeting scheduled for Monday night will be held Tuesday, September 5, at 7:30 p.m. because of the Labor Day holiday.

Sliver Is Outstanding Young Man

Randy Sliver, Bremen, has been selected for inclusion in the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America", according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the board of advisors of the national awards publication.

Criteria for inclusion in the publication are service to others, professional excellence, business advancement, charitable activities, and civic and professional recognition. The men chosen are between 21 and 35 years of age.

Sliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Sliver, Akron, is a teacher in the Bremen high school and is director of student activities. As director of student activities he aids in planning their programs and organizes the various clubs including Spanish, Hi-Y and others. He also directs all high school plays and is sponsor of the high school drama club.

A graduate of Manchester College with a Bachelor of Science degree in theater and social studies, he also holds a masters degree in education from Indiana University.

His older brother Gary was chosen for inclusion in the publication in 1967. Both are graduates of Akron High School.

Akron Town Board Adopts '73 Budget

Members of the Akron Town Board met Monday, and unanimously adopted the 1973 civil town budget calling for a tax rate of $2.23 per $100 assessed valuation. No taxpayers attended the scheduled meeting.

Virginia York, clerk-treasurer, said the 1973 rate is up 56 cents due to the previous board's spending $11,199.96 more in the last half of 1971 than was stated would be spent according to the approved figures that accompanied the drastically cut rate for this year. She said at the end of 1971 year $3,000 was permanently transferred from the C. C. I. fund, lowering to $8,199.96. She said the overspending of the stated amount for the last half of last year has greatly affected the operating balance for this year for the General Fund of the town and that with the greatly cut tax rate for this year, the revenue the

Unique Collection Of Decorated Eggs In Fun Fest Display

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article by Doug Frantz is reprinted with permission of the No. Manchester News-Journal. It appeared following No. Manchester's recent Fun Fest.

One of the freshest and most interesting areas of Fun Fest '72 was just off the Walnut St. Mall.

In new Wible's Shoe Store addition, towards the back, were a potter, a wool spinner and an egg lady.

The motions of throwing a pot, or spinning wool, immediately caught the visitor's eye. Less obvious were "Eggs By Bonnie," a unique collection of delicately decorated eggs.

Lacquered, pearl-studded eggs rested on gold-plated pedestals. Doors swung open revealing entire scenes.

Speckled quail eggs, no larger than a robin's, held minutes figures. A deep, royal blue goose egg housed a nativity scene behind hinged double doors.

The "egg lady" is Mrs. Bonnie Burkett, R. 1, Akron, and she has practiced her craft for almost two years.

Urged to take up egg decorating as a hobby by her sister-in-law, a longtime egg lady, (Mrs. Jim Robbins, Palmyra, N.Y.) Bonnie has turned her talents into a small home-operated business.

Mrs. Burkett uses four kinds of eggs, all infertile, for decorating: quail, turkey, duck and goose.

Most popular and rarest of these is the double-yolk goose eggs, which is about the size of a softball, according to Mrs. Burkett.

The egg lady buys most of her stock from area hatcheries, and out of 600 goose eggs purchased this year, only six were double-yolk.

An offer of $50 was made for an egg Mrs. Burkett entered in the State Fair. She turned the money down, saying she wanted to keep that special egg.

The temptation to sell a prized egg has been placed before Mrs. Burkett many times and she admits to succumbing more than once.

"Each egg is unique and every so often there is one I want to keep," she said. "But friends usually coax them out of me."

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

"Have you ever hidden cookies in a clothes hamper?" the gal from Weight Watchers asked.

"No, but I've hidden them to eat while I clean," another said.

"Me, too," chimed another voice.

"Hey! You know this is the first time I've ever had the nerve to admit that I'm a compulsive eater before," a voice exclaimed in surprise.

"That's the secret of our program," the Weight Watcher representative said, "being able to talk to someone who understands, someone who was born loving food, who never wore a size 7 in her life."

"I'll never be a size 7," someone said, and the rest of us agreed.

"Anything is possible with our program," she said, her eyes snapping with enthusiasm.

There we were, a representative from Weight Watchers and a few local women. We didn't know her and she didn't know us, but we knew each other well. We all liked to eat. In short, we were food-aholics, using food as solace and comfort as an alcoholic might. We had all passed it off as having big bones, tendency to get irritable when we dieted, glandular over-activity, faulty metabolism. . . .

The Weight Watchers representative, interested in forming a class in Mentone for the surrounding area, was slim and trim. She ate a chef's salad, substituting tomato juice for the dressing, and had a piece of plain white bread.

"You'll be stuffed on this program," she said, "but you'll lose weight." She reminded us it was a program, not a diet.

We carefully picked at our salads and listened as she said, "I've never felt better. This is a whole new way of life. I have more energy than I ever did. My whole family has benefited!"

She showed us a picture of her at 205 pounds. It was difficult to imagine this size 13 having been that large. We were happy for her, amazed she had lost so much weight in less than four months and had kept it off.

"Stay in whatever diet club you belong to," she said. "But follow our program and you'll be queen of the week every week."

She left us feeling a strong desire to be slim and trim, a desire to try to be as confident as she was. Her happiness was contagious and put the rest of us in a convivial mood that extended into an afternoon of comparing notes, diet formulas and recipes.

Silly? No. There is at least one overweight person in four out of every five families in the United States. Fat kills more people than guns. Sensibly conducted, a fight against a killer cannot be considered silly.

Dear Folks,

The very pleasant memory of the Old Grads Reunion on May 13, so thoughtfully sponsored by Kappa Delta Phi, stays with me and leads me to ponder over what generates such a warm, vigorous, humanitarian spirit in Akron among its high school graduates of several generations.

Besides the pleasure of visiting relatives and meeting old classmates and other old friends and neighbors, there remains with me the refreshing and invigorating sense of a community that understands the roots of life and has true appreciation for those fellow townsmen who have led fundamentally, meaningful and service-filled lives there and in the wider world.

Looking back, many fortunate enough to have been present now express satisfaction that such precious and valuable citizens as Dessa Fultz and Earl Arter, both now regretfully passed, were able to get some rewards from the community that they were born and bred in and served with such just honor to themselves and benefit to others.

Yet it says something about a town that recognizes and honors such citizens for their humble goodness and daily giving of themselves in the modest way that these two, and of course many others, did and are now doing. It indeed takes goodness to recognize and reward goodness.

These thoughts lead me to feel that Akron

Neither should this be construed as an advertisement for Weight Watchers, but if any reader is interested, let me know. I'll send your name to Mrs. Penney and she'll enroll you in the program that is tentatively set to begin September 28 at the Mentone Youth League pavilion.

is truly singular among "small towns". One nagging thought bothers me: What is going to happen to this generous, vivacious, human spirit of Akron when there is no longer a high school, unique to this locality, for Old Grads to return to? How could this institution have been voted out of existence at a time when decentralization and a return to small units for promoting closer human relationships is the current trend?

My prayer is that the warmth and humanity of Akron's special kind of spirit will survive and continue to inspire not only sentimental Old Grads but young citizens now sprouting in that soil which is Akron. Fraternally, her craft into four steps and works on many eggs simultaneously.

Initial step is cutting openings. There may be hinged doors and a rear window. This, according to the egg lady, is the most delicate step. If the egg cracks, it must be thrown away, but only two dozen have been rejected in two years.

Cutting is done with a tiny electric saw, similar to a dentist's drill with its minute circular blade.

Application of the finish follows. Eggs to be left natural, quail and turkey, receive many coats of lacquer to harden the shell. Colored eggs take several lacquer coats, followed by up to ten coats of paint. Each application requires a one day drying time.

Hanging the doors is step three. Eggs may have single oval doors, zigzag cut double doors or the top half may fold back. Whatever the style, the lilliputian brass hinges are carefully attached with acrylic glue.

Decorating is the final process and makes each egg unique. Materials are varied and highly imaginative, ranging from cut stones and pearls to tiny figures and pictures.

Mrs. Burkett's most popular offering is the goose-egg jewel box. A painted egg is studded with Austrian cut stones and placed on a gold pedestal. The hinged top opens to a velvet center.

Several young men have presented engagement rings in these boxes, according to Mrs. Burkett.

The egg lady's husband was a dependable helper. He did the delicate cutting. However, his participation abruptly ended when he became ill... after cutting open two rotten eggs.

Since then, the egg lady has been on her own, except for occasional ideas from ten-year old daughter Brenda.

Custom work is Mrs. Burkett's specialty. She has made several double-yolk goose eggs, containing traditional bride and groom statues in miniature, for atop wedding cakes.

For the person who has everything, perhaps a decorated egg is the answer.

T. J. Burket and Samy Johnson returned late last week from their annual fishing expedition up in Michigan, while visiting the latter's sister. Jeff says fishing was not at its best during their stay, but they could use themselves and also furnished Mr. and Mrs. Scudder Wilson who are there with fish for their table. Mrs. Wilson is there to escape the ravages of the hay fever, but he will return home in a few days to begin his school work.

The Mentone business and its grand citizenship are putting up a resplendent effort to furnish the country folks around about a free annual entertainment that will be worthy the name. The promoters are in dead earnest and have faith in the matter that it will be a success and meet the approval of every visitor. We like Mentone's people. They are clever and congenial and we expect to attend their homecoming event tonight.

By the kindness of our friend S. L. Speck we met Mr. Grant Shimer of Antwerp, Ohio, Tuesday. Mr. Shimer has just purchased the Ed Shobe farm of 94 acres northwest of town at $125 per acre and some time about March 1 will make his home by moving his family thereto. Buckeyes make most excellent Hoosiers, as per se, the Akron News Editor. The deal was made through Mr. Speck's real estate agency.

The Akron jail was dedicated last Tuesday evening, August 27, when Marshall Thompson "jugged" a foreigner. Two fellows, foreigners landed in Akron Tuesday and one of them soon became drunk. Mr. Tucker complained to the marshall and he soon landed the fellow in jail. By Wednesday morning the fellow was sobered up and he was let out without further legal proceedings and he hiked out of town, perhaps thankful for an opportunity to sleep off his "drunk" in a bedless cottage provided by our town. The name given for this fellow was John Doe and it probably appears that way on the jail register.

Woodlawn Hospital to close 1935 section to patients

The 1935 wing of Woodlawn hospital will be closed to in-patient care starting Friday because of the cost of bringing the building up to fire safety standards is too high, according to an announcement made this week by the hospital's board of trustees.

Don Logue, hospital administrator, said the move would reduce the number of in-patient beds from 61 to 41 with 10 of these being for obstetrics patients. He said it would not affect the quality of patient care in any manner.

Logue said the hospital averaged 37 in-patients per day last year and noted Monday's census was 35, including two O.B. patients.

Board action followed receipt of a report from Hewitt and Royer of Kansas City, Mo., its architectural engineering firm, that estimated it would cost $314,734 to follow the 19 recommendations for fire safety made by State Fire Marshal Harvey Hacker on his May 4, 1972, inspection.

Logue said, "People will have to be sick to stay in the hospital. Doctors will have to see to it that their patients are dismissed when they no longer need hospital care." He noted, too, that closing the 1935 wing to in-patient care "might bring some temporary inconvenience to patients and visitors in case of unusually heavy use" and said there may be some occasions when patients will have to be kept in hallways for awhile.

There are 24 in-patient beds in the 1935 wing and 37 in the "new" section that was added in 1956.

Changes planned would include using the present two-bed recovery room for in-patients, moving the recovery patients to the present central supply room next to the surgical suite which would then be moved into the 1935 wing. The present treatment room would also become a two-bed in-patient room, the treatment room also moving to the old wing. He also noted some non-infectious female surgical patients might be placed in some of the obstetrics rooms.

Closing the 1935 wing would leave the hospital with only one private room as compared to 13 it now has.

The old wing will be used for administrative, clerical and out-patient functions.

A referendum conducted in conjunction with last May's primary election resulted in 2,927 "no" votes and 2,893 "yes" votes on the question of building a new hospital which would have required federal funds. Following the referendum, the county council voted 5-2 against giving the necessary backing to get Hill-Burton funds and the three commissioners also voted against it.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

This is the age of nutrition awareness. Unfortunately much of what we hear and read is not good nutrition information. Adelle Davis and Dr. Sillman seem to get more publicity than the nutrition experts who rightly deserve it. Perhaps the reason for this is that Adelle Davis and Dr. Sillman make nutrition exciting but perhaps stretching the truth slightly.

One vitamin that Adelle Davis spends much of her time discussing is Vitamin E.

In 1922 two men at the University of California discovered an unknown fat-soluble substance reproduction in rats. It has been considered an important vitamin for man and animals since that time.

The exact functions of vitamin E have not been clearly defined. Vitamin E has been found to have antioxidant properties. So its function seems to be to protect other nutrients from destruction by oxidation. Research is continuing to pin point other functions.

The Food and Nutrition Board has not set a recommended allowance for vitamin E but suggests that between 10 to 30 mg. per day satisfies the requirement for adults. Vitamin E is widely distributed in nature which makes a deficiency most unlikely.

Vitamin E has been promoted as an "anti-sterility" vitamin and as an effective agent against heart attacks. Unfortunately, those claims are not based on results from around nutritional experiments.

By eating a well-rounded diet you are assured of getting an adequate supply of vitamin E. As function research is completed, we will learn more about the specific function of Vitamin E.

FROM INTERIOR DESIGNERS: INGENIOUS DECORATING IDEAS

No matter whether it's your new one-room apartment or last year's yacht, decisions about decorating are often some of the hardest you have to make. And with so much to choose from in today's "anything goes" approach to decorating, more than one person has become confused and discouraged about redoing his or her digs.

America's professional A.I.D. interior designers, however, are ingeniously "putting it all together" for lots of these people. Here are just a few examples of what they've done:

IN NEW YORK: The Flying Pierces, Walt and sandi who have based their summer air show operations at the Westchester Airport, are in New York this week to appear on "What's My Line?" sandi had previously appeared on "To Tell The Truth" in a show that will be televised later this fall. The Pierces, who perform in his Stearman and sandi's clipped wing Taylorcraft, are the only husband-wife team on the air show circuit. In addition, sandi does a wing ride high on the top wing of the Stearman.

Did you ever realize that before television no one really knew what a headache looked like.

Rainbow Girls Have Picnic

About 30 young people enjoyed a swimming party Sunday, August 27th as guests of the Akron Rainbow Assembly and their sponsors. They enjoyed swimming at the Manchester High School pool then returned to the Dr. Virgil Miller cottage on Rock Lake for a pot-luck supper, games and dancing to records.

Diane Martin, worthy advisor, presided at the stated meeting August 22nd with 16 members present. Cindy Benzing reported that she would have her installation of officers September 23rd at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Virgil Miller presented a Grand Representative to the Philippines pin to Lynn Casey who received her appointment to that Assembly at the Grand Assembly meeting in June. The girl plan to have a money making project to help defray the expenses of Lynn, who plans to attend the Grand Assembly of the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Floyd Owens took Lynn Casey, Deborah Ramsey, Shellie Bickel, Lu Ann Utter and Sherri Ann Miller to a School of Instruction at Walkerton Saturday.

On a modest budget, this screened porch has been transformed into a sophisticated extension of a home's main living and dining areas. For furniture, the designer combined inexpensive, canvas-backed director's chairs with white wicker pieces.

A subtle color scheme and an interesting background makes this bedroom light and airy. The silvery-pewter tones and patterned wallpaper are further enhanced by a mirror-paneled screen and cane armchair. The flooring is white vinyl tile.

Beware The Lions

By Claude Fawns

On Tuesday night, the town of Akron was alerted that 18 roaring Lions had escaped from their den. After some intensive search, they were surrounded and herded into the city park where they all went into action.

Under the skilled leadership of Lion president, Dean Baker, work was continued on the tennis courts. Also heavy beams were placed on the west side of the street marking off a new area for the parking of cars.

To the rhythm of clanging hammers, supported by the musical buzz of saws, the gentle swish of paint brushes was added the jobal sound of voices in comments, jibes and hearty laughter.

At the close of the work period, the hungry Lions roared into the shelter pavilion and greedily devoured quantities of watermelon, cake and coffee.

Sometime when you are out for a pleasure drive, please go to the park and see for yourself that the Lions Club really is a service club.

And Lions, lest you forget, the next work night will be Sept. 12.

Mrs. Jerry Kindig was welcomed as a new member of the Jolly Good Neighbors club at their August picnic held in the basement of the Burket church, with Mrs. Riley Parker as hostess and Mrs. John Sands as her assistant.

Following the bounteous noon meal the 15 members and two guests, Mrs. Gerald Hohman and Mrs. James Jamison, united in singing "America The Beautiful" and repeating the pledge to the flag and the club creed, then sang the song of the month, "In The Good Old Summertime".

For meditations, Mrs. Lawrence Hudson read a very timely article entitled, "The Twenty Third Channel", an inspiring poem entitled, "Under Our Skin" and a brief, humorous article entitled, "It Bounced".

Mrs. Deverl Jamison's health and safety remarks concerned first aids for poisons. Mrs. Oscar Bowen, garden leader, said now is the season for trimming and transplanting raspberries and iris. Her citizenship topic was entitled, "What Others Say".

Loughlin Stresses Right-to-Read

State Superintendent of Public Instruction John J. Loughlin Thursday stressed the importance of the Right-to-Read program at a preschool orientation meeting for teachers of the Fayette Co. School Corporation.

Loughlin said, "We have established the Right-to-Read program as the number one priority of this administration. Our goal is for every person in the state to develop the skills and desire necessary to read to the full limits of his ability."

Loughlin urged the educators to support a constitutional amendment which would remove his office from direct partisan politics.

Loughlin said, "There is a need for change in the attitude toward teachers' retirement. I pledge to continue support for adequate funding of the Teachers' Retirement Fund."

Loughlin also said Indiana badly needs a public employees' negotiating law.

What you can do if our toll billing machine slips a digit.

It's a "long distance" problem.

A billing mistake can happen, we're only human. When one does it's probably on a long-distance toll call. For example, part of a number might get reversed. Say someone calls Nome, Alaska from 564-1234. Then, man or machine slips up and records 654-1234. Unfortunately that's your number. So the call is billed to you. But, don't worry. You don't have to pay for a call you didn't make. (Of course, there are also other types of mistakes. Like a call you did make and then forgot.)

Call us and complain.

Call your local telephone business office and tell us if you think we goofed. We'll investigate and credit your account, if it's not your call.

Don't pay for mistakes.

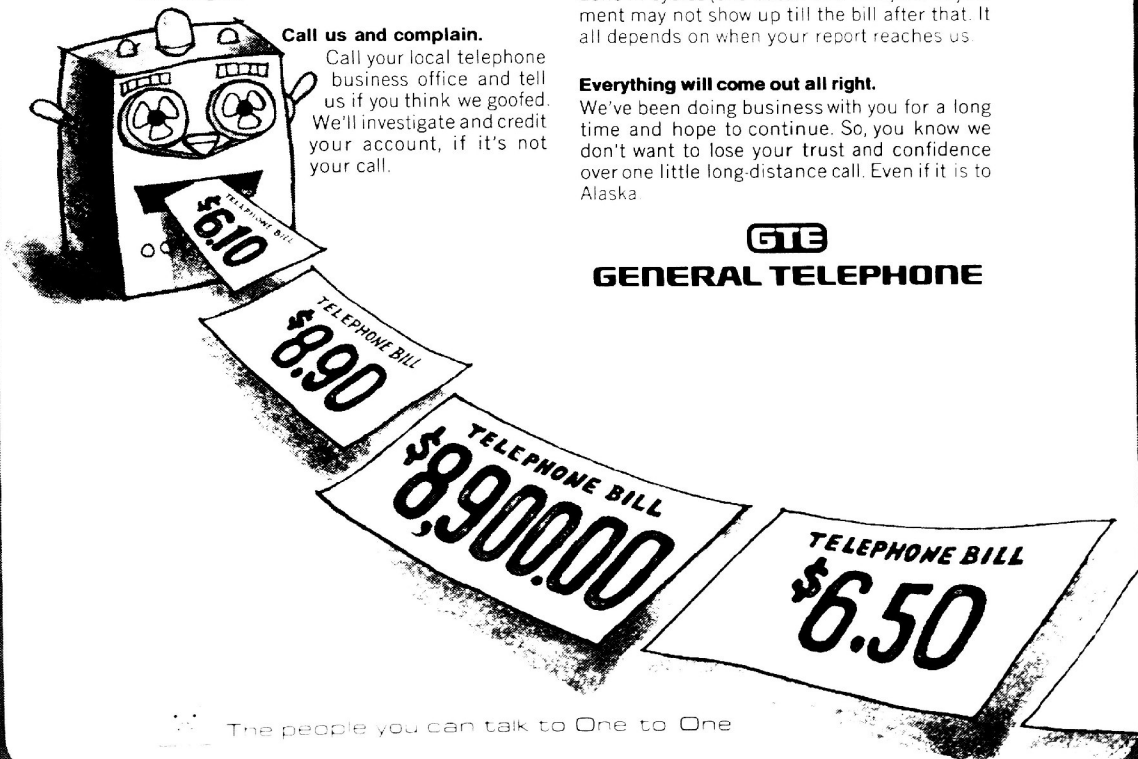

We don't expect you to pay for our slip-ups. In fact, we don't want you to pay for your own mistakes either. If you place or dial a long-distance number incorrectly tell the operator right away. She'll give you credit.

Wait till next month.

Once we know a charge is not right our billing people take over. If at all possible they'll get your next bill credited. However, because billing is done in cycles (one batch at a time) the adjustment may not show up till the bill after that. It all depends on when your report reaches us.

Everything will come out all right.

We've been doing business with you for a long time and hope to continue. So, you know we don't want to lose your trust and confidence over one little long-distance call. Even if it is to Alaska.
