Mentone Board to meet with MACOG representative

Michiana Area Council of Governments (MACOG) representative George Kruse will be invited to attend the August 25 meeting of the Mentone town board to discuss financial advantages available to member communities.

The decision to meet with Kruse was made at Monday evening's board meeting after a letter from Mary Jane Hill, a member of the Lawrence D. Bell Aircraft Museum Inc. committee, was read in which she asked that the board join other northcentral Indiana communities in becoming a member of MACOG.

Board members were of divided opinions as to the advisability of the plan but agreed to meet with Kruse and discuss the matter further.

The August 25 meeting will also be the budget hearing. The town's 1976 budget is published in this week's NEWS.

Board members reported Warsaw Asphalt would chip and seal the town's streets within three weeks.

In other action, the board:

- Tabled getting stop signs for Morgan St.
- Instructed Town Marshal Gene Norton to get estimates on new cars. Norton had suggested the board purchase a second-hand car for use as a police car.

- Decided to build a fence on the west side of the cemetery to keep people from driving into the grounds.

- Reappointed Dr. Wymond Wilson, Don Smythe, Darrell King and William Ettinger to the aviation board and heard King report on attempts to get financial assistance for maintaining the Mentone Airport.

- Requested an estimate on curbing repairs.

- Authorized clerk-treasurer Marie Coleman to invest $500 of the water meter deposit funds.

- Approved the purchase of 12 new water meters.

- Set September 2 as the next regular meeting since the normal meeting night, September 1, falls on Labor Day. Like the August 25 budget hearing, it will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Mentone town hall.

Plan 2d Akron tennis tournament

Steve Fleck, who promoted the Fourth of July tennis tournament in Akron, said this week a second tournament is being planned by popular request.

The tourney will be some time in September with girls playing in their own category if enough register. This will be a singles tournament only and, like the others, will be limited to those people residing in the Tippecanoe Valley school district.

All registrations are due to Fleck prior to September 1. He said no entries will be accepted after August 31. The one dollar entry fee will be used to purchase trophies.

Age categories are 10-13, 14-16, 17-20 and 21 and up. The entry fee for the 10-13 age group is fifty cents.

Football practice begins at TVHS

A football organizational meeting for all high school players is scheduled for tonight, August 7, at 7 p.m. at the Tippecanoe Valley high school gym.

Equipment will be issued and physical exams will be given by Dr. Charles Herrick and Dr. Wymond Wilson.

Any high school boy interested in playing football should plan to attend or may contact Coach Charles Smith, 342-7342.

Each boy must have his parents' family physician's certificate on file before he will be allowed to play, according to Smith.

Practice will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday, August 12, and it will last until 4:30 p.m. Each boy will be asked to take a sack lunch. Refrigerator space will be provided.

Smith said, "We are attempting to run a continuous practice with lunch eaten at school in order to cut down on transportation and to

The house, located outside Akron's city limits on Huffman Hill, is the sixth they have built in that addition and the 17th they have built since 1952. Five of these are located on the grounds of the old Akron grade school.

The Hartmans are assisted in their work by their daughter and son-in-law, Judy and Larry Howard.

Their latest house is completely carpeted and includes 1600 square feet of space with a 2 1/2-car garage as an added bonus.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

Being a basically healthy family, it's seldom one of us is in the hospital. Still, I have become acquainted with emergency room procedures, have known the sensation of realizing the ambulance's red light and siren are for one of us, that the traction equipment can only be used after a hole is drilled through a small boy's knee. My small boy. I've tried to hold my husband's arm quiet, the one with the intravenous feeding, while he hissed between parched lips, "If you really want to do something, get me a glass of water." And they've waited for me through assorted minor surgeries.

But the worst waiting of all is for one of them to come out of the operating room.

It's a sunny July Friday, and my baby is in surgery. Eleven, going on thirty, he'll always be my baby. The bright-eyed optimist, the constant worrier. The intense one. The one who knows all the answers. "Cousins shouldn't get married, he announces seriously, "because they could have pre-formed kids."

I smile as I remember and I try to relax. It is only tonsils. But there have been people who've told me about a child who died during a tonsilectomy or the one who later developed a heart murmur, and I worry. When they checked our family's background, the information was depressing. Heart trouble? Both sides. Diabetes? Both sides. Cancer? Dad's side. Kidney problems? My side.

And then I remember my genealogical research and the disquieting knowledge that my husband and I are sixth cousins. No problems genetically, but does this compound all those

"yes" answers on the doctor's chart? Did we, as Doug would say, have a "pre-formed" child, one with two families' medical histories squeezed into one eleven-year-old boy? By now I know if he survives he will have leukemia, need daily insulin the rest of his life and that it is only a matter of time until his first open heart surgery.

Why does it take so long to remove one set of tonsils? As if in answer to the question, they return my son.

"Tests all okay?" I ask, a tremor in my voice belying my calm. "Just great," the nurse replies.

His lips move. I strain to hear. "I wish I'd never had it done," he gasps, and I want to laugh and cry at the same time. Instead, I clutch his hand tightly. He glares at my hand on his and his lips contort in an effort to speak. "If you really want to do something, get me a glass of water."

And then I know. He was pre-formed after all. Like father, like son. He's a chip off the old block.

And the birds sing again, the day is still bright and my dark doubts disappear as I go in search of a nurse.

Things I Remember

By Goldie Kesler

Pug was dead; he would not breathe; how wouldn't he open his eyes. He was dead. He died a natural death of old age but he had been our playmate for a long time. He always went with us when we went to pick Johnny-jump ups, blackberries or apples for Grandmother's pies, bouncing along, barking at the bluebirds and goldfinches on the fence or snapping at all the grasshoppers, crickets or bugs in the grass. He loved to chase butterflies.

Now Pug was dead. Grandma gave us a nice box with a lid to put him in and we wrapped him in one of the older doll blankets. We went through the garden to the grape arbor and tried to dig a grave but the ground was too hard. My big brother, who was always so helpful, came with a barn shovel to help us and put the dirt back in the hole.

When a nice fat hen died, we had a funeral. The big shovel was the hearse and as we went along, we picked wild flowers to put on the grave. My brother, such a good actor, stopped at the water trough, to wet his blue handkerchief and put it under his hat to use at the right minute. The grave was dug and the hen placed in, then my brother would take off his hat very solemnly and say, "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust. If the good man won't have her the devil must." Wringing a lot of water trough tears from his handkerchief and we doing a lot of mourning, sang "Happy Day." It was all we could think up in a hurry. The grave was filled in, covered with flowers and we went back to our play.

A nice big, flat stone made a tombstone for Pug's grave and we covered the grave with little stones. We put flowers there every day for a long time. We couldn't sing the day Pug died. He had been so good to us and yet hated by others simply because he was part bull dog.

--$5,000 to so-called "novelist" Erica Jong for a book (Fear of Flying) which is so filthy that no family-read newspaper could print its contents. You paid for that, too.

--$113,417 spent to find out that mothers prefer children's clothing that needs no ironing. This newspaper would gladly have provided that information for a real bargain basement price. But, you paid top dollar.

Mr. Lambro, poking around in Foggy Bottom, found two commissions that had been set up during World War II to protect us from the Nazis. It is doubtful that they could protect us against anything, seeing that they have yet to discover that the war ended 30 years ago. But, you're still paying to keep them in business. What business, it is hard to say.

As this editorial is being written, the U.S. Congress is debating passage of a new "ceiling" on the national debt of $577 billion -- an increase of $46 billion. Lambro predicts that this will be pushed to over $600 billion before the end of the year, as Congress continues to pour more and more money down "the federal rathole."

Don't you think it is time to call a halt?

Salary increases

Dear Editor:

I noticed that in the new county budgets for the year of 1976 that Sheriff John Hammersley requested an increase of $2,106 over his present salary of $11,394. He knew when he ran for sheriff that his salary was $11,394. If this was not satisfactory he should have not run for the office. The county auditor-elect Jean Northen and the county treasurer, Kathryn Teel, are satisfied with their salaries.

It is time that some of this increase in budgets was stopped or people cannot pay their taxes. The county commissioners denied the increase of Sheriff Hammersley which was the thing to do. The other men in the Sheriff Department deserve all they can get because they are underpaid. H. Earl Boggs Taxpayer

It kills children

Dear Editor:

Cystic Fibrosis is a killer of many thousands of children each year. These C/F children are born with the disease and many fight for every breath they take. Some of them take up to 44 medications a day with the cost of one kind being $25 or more for one month's supply.

On September 7-13, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be holding a fund raising drive all over the state. This drive is to help raise money for research, aids to C/F children, public awareness and many other things necessary to get Cystic Fibrosis under control.

To those of us who work on this drive, making the public aware of the symptoms of C/F is as or more important than collecting money. For the sooner a child is detected and treatment is started, the longer a life he may have.

Please help us by reading the symptoms listed below. Contact us if you know anyone with any of the symptoms or if you have any questions.

The symptoms are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing, excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite, poor weight gain, clubbing (enlargement of finger-

60 YEARS AGO

We notice for several years that ladies and especially young ladies run about the streets bareheaded. We like to see them bareheaded. It makes them appear that they are their own masters and can wear a hat or wear none as they please. But it injures their eye sight and makes them squinty eyed, because in the sunlight their eyes are not properly shaded.

Notice a bareheaded person, man, woman, boy or girl bareheaded and you will see them squinted. Put a shady belled hat on them and the crow-tracks about the eyes will soon disappear.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford G. Kroft and two children are here visiting relatives. She was formerly well known as Miss Edith Stephey. They live at Mansfield, Ohio, and drive through in their old Ford touring car every year. This time they made a night trip of it, starting from home Thursday evening, drove all night and landed at his brother Fletcher's farm home near Manchester Friday morning. Rutherford calls it a pleasant trip made that night while it rained all time and the roads splashing muddy, but we would shrink from the job, though our Ford might be as brave as his Ford if it had as nervy a driver.

John Dawson was out in South Dakota a couple of weeks looking after his landed interests out there. He returned a few days ago and says, although we are suffering with too much rain here, they are worse off out there. Such big rains out there that much livestock is drowned in places. That means more rain than here.

39 YEARS AGO

Akron farmers have commenced cutting corn stalks for fodder. It has been said that this is the worst weather for corn in 40 years. On the low ground the corn is still green, but a big shortage in corn is expected. The rain which came Wednesday afternoon will help crops in the low lands, but came too late for high ground corn.

County agent N. S. Hadley reports that already 200 State Fair tickets have been sold to Fulton County people. Part of this interest in the State Fair is accounted for by the fact that many local farmers and 4-H Club members will have exhibits in "Indiana's Show window for Agriculture." Approximately 25 of the best Home Economics exhibits displayed at our own 4-H Fair by Fulton County club girls will be sent to the great 4-H girls' exhibit at the State Fair. In addition probably six beef calves and one or two fine colts from Fulton County will learn the feel of the tanbark in the Coliseum.

The Stringtown threshing ring had their annual ice cream social Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Kuhn. Ice cream and cake was served to forty-nine guests.

25 YEARS AGO

Trouble came in big batches at the Haldeman Baum elevator this week. On Monday a load of corn was dumped into the sheller and there was a large rock hidden under the corn. When it got into the sheller things began to happen that shouldn't. After the machinery was stopped, Charles Irelan put a crew to work to see how much damage was done and to get the sheller back in running condition. While the men were working on this job, a two by four slipped and hit Byron Thompson across the forehead. The blow felled him on the spot and he was unconscious for several minutes. A local doctor was summoned to the establishment and soon Barney was revived and on his way to the hospital. After x-rays were taken he was brought home. Mr. Irelan announces that the machinery is now repaired and everything is back in working order, including Barney.

Friends and neighbors gathered at the farm of Allen Smith located south of Disko on Wednesday afternoon to help in combining his wheat crop. Mr. Smith is recovering from a broken leg.

10 YEARS AGO

Marvin Ruff was elected president of the Akron Little League last Friday night. Other officers elected were Richard Tilden, vice president, Jack Sausaman, secretary, and Larry Klein, player-agent. Members elected to the board of directors were Marvin Gagnon, Bill Balmer, Lee Murphy, Ernest Ballee, and Harold Harmon.

Lester Taylor, director of the "Wonderful World of Music," and the cast were given a standing ovation Saturday night as the two hour musical production ended. The cast was composed of local young people and members of the North Miami High School.

AKRON DID YOU KNOW?

Chalmer Hoffman, brother of Ruby Dawson, has returned to his home in Chicago after spending some time in Akron.

Recent callers at the home of Mary Lou Smith and Eva Eshelman were Mrs. Pauline Drudge, Warsaw; Eldon Rager, Silver Lake; Mrs. Larry Coon, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Dorothy Cox, Vulura Robinson, Martha Wymire and Kerry, Mrs. Marvin Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal Rager and Julian, Mrs. Lynn Smith and daughters Lisa and Holly and Bill Lytle, all of Akron; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Runge, of Ft. Wayne.

Eva Eshelman and Mary Lou were supper guests recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith, where they had a small party for Brett Slaybaugh. Mr. and Mrs. Terry Foust, parents of Brett also joined them. Home made ice cream and cake were served after the supper.

Eva Eshelman and Mary Lou Smith called on Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clinker a few minutes recently.

To note anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robinson, Akron, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday by accompanying their niece to Angola to visit Mrs. Robinson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grosham.

You can make the world a little better

How is a 260-pound bulldozer driver like a 110-pound college coed? If you expect the answer to be a joke, it isn't. It's a miracle.

Both can be blood donors. Size, strength, or sex doesn't matter. Neither does race nor creed nor color. Every blood donation is of equal value. Each donation can save a life. And with today's technology, one unit can help more than one person.

So the next time you think about the state of the world, and despair that one person alone can change anything, remember the importance of blood donations. There is something you can do to make the world a better place in which to live. One donation does matter--every donation matters. You don't have to be wealthy, but you do have to be healthy. You don't have to be the same age as Jack Benny, but you do have to be between 17 and 66 years of age. You don't have to be as beautiful as Helen of Troy, but you do need a good hemoglobin count. Finally you don't need hours and hours of spare time, but you do need less than an hour every eight weeks, up to five times a year.

Being a blood donor isn't fattening or costly or difficult. You rest for a few minutes on a donor table, have a cup of coffee and some cookies, and receive the thanks of all the Red Cross workers. But you get something else, too -- a warm inner glow that comes from knowing that you have done a job that you know matters.

Visit the Red Cross blood mobile Friday, August 8, at Rochester high school. It may hurt a little to give.. but it will hurt a lot more if you don't. The hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the Aug. 10, 1949, issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith are parents of a daughter born Thursday at the McDonald hospital in Warsaw.

Ed Raymer, Elkhart, has taken over his duties at the former Tom Wright barber shop.

Ike Bierwagen, famed pitcher on the South Bend Tribune softball team, attracted quite a crowd at the Mentone softball park Friday evening. True to the pre-game build-up, Bierwagen could pitch. He allowed only one hit—a loop between the pitcher's mound and second by Kenny Drudge. The Tribune team won the game two to nothing, which was a very good game.

The Jolly Janes Home Economics club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Ellsworth. Mrs. Harold Markley was co-hostess.

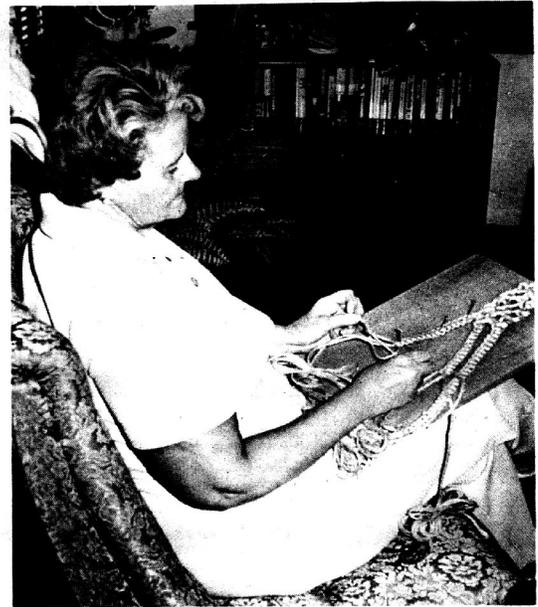

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Romine and daughter Janet of near Mentone and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas of No. Webster returned Wednesday from a 12 day trip into South Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado.

A group of local men including Fred Horn and sons Dewayne, Ralph, Paul, Harold and Richard; Lowell Whetstone, Ernest Dillman and son Richard attended a double header baseball game Sunday at Wrigley Field.

Mrs. Earl Meredith took Sunday dinner with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meredith, of Akron.

Louise Groninger relaxes by tying knots

By Ann Sheetz

Feeling tense, up-tight? Relax by tying knots.

These words of advice come from Louise Groninger, a macrame artist who practices what she preaches. After a hard day's work in her immaculate garden or carefully groomed lawn, she likes to unwind by doing macrame.

But macrame isn't restricted to being just an unwinder. It's the perfect hobby as far as Mrs. Groninger is concerned, and her home east of Akron reflects the results of her artistry.

"Anyone who can tie knots can do it," she says.

It sounds like an oversimplification, but she swears it is true, qualifying her statement by adding that four kinds of knots are used: square, half, Chinese crown and lantern.

Tools of her trade are simple--balls of rug yarn, jute or cotton siene, a variety of beads, mostly wooden, and a large, stocking-covered piece of ceiling tile on which she works. And they're highly portable. "I just pick up my latest project and take it with me," she laughs.

Working at the craft for a year, she has learned to vary her techniques and constantly searches for new ideas and projects. Next on the agenda will be a macrame lamp shade, although she loves the flowing plant holders that have become her specialty and that have in turn led to a second hobby--collecting unusual plants.

Travels to Florida and California, the state in which she learned macrame while visiting son Gary and daughter-in-law Marsha, often yield attractive pots, but she does not hesitate to try any container, including large sea shells or antique pots. If the pot's color is not right, she simply stains it to suit her needs.

Her macrame exhibit was a popular attraction at the 4th of July art show, and many viewers expressed surprise at noting some of the pots had been wired. Used one above the other, the top one was inverted over a light bulb that not only showed off the plant in the bottom container to its best advantage but also could provide a bit of light in an otherwise dark corner.

"It's not hard," she told them. "It's just a lot of knots."

New books at Akron Carnegie Public Library

AND A CREDIT TO HIS RACE by Gerald Astor. This is the story not only of Joe Louis the heavyweight champion of the world, but also of Louis the black. And in revealing the story of Louis, Gerald Astor tells us something about ourselves and about this nation the past 40 years.

THE MOON-SPINNERS by Mary Stewart. The author, in her magical way, evokes Crete as she has Provence, Northumberland and the Scottish Hebrides in her earlier books. In addition, there is keen delineation of character and an eviable blend of suspense and romance.

BEYOND THE DARK HILLS by Jesse Stuart. This is an autobiography of Jesse Stuart. There are here, as you might expect, memories of his grandparents, parents, his brothers and sisters: of cutting corn in the fertile bottoms of the Ohio River Valley when he was 12; of depression times and working for 11 meals a week at Vanderbilt; and hymns to the land.

IRVING BERLIN by Michael Freedland. He created over three thousand songs, yet never learned to play the piano properly. A composer who calls himself a songwriter, whose songs are to him no more than "tunes" he can't read music. When asked once what effect music education might have on his music, he replied, "Ruin it."

TRAVEL IN A DONKEY TRAP by Daisy Baker. For Daisy Baker, the acquisition of a donkey and trap at the age of 76 was a revelation. Written in the spirit of sharing a great and valuable gift, the story is to be savoured like the experience of geting to know a friend. GIANTS ALONG MY PATH by Dale Oldham. This is the story of Rev. Dale Oldham's 50 years in the ministry. He was pastor of the Akron and Rochester Church of Gods in the 1920s.

CANNING LIDS everywhere, but none here. Ball Corporation, Muncie, says it is producing three million replacement lids a day and is working seven days a week, but home canners in this area wonder where those lids are going and so do the grocers who have had them ordered since a year ago. According to Ball's estimates, each home in the country should use 70 replacement lids a year. Someone must be using more.

Where are the lids?

Everyone wants to know how to find canning lids, which are in very short supply this year. Nonexistent would be a better word.

Mary Krouse, Akron, wrote to Ball Corp. and received the following letter in reply:

Dear Mrs. Krouse, We appreciate your interest in our products and regret you are experiencing difficulty in obtaining them.

We cannot say with absolute certainty that there will be adequate home canning products in the 1975 canning season, but we can assure you we are doing our very best to manufacture an increased amount. Production lines are operating seven days a week and three shifts a day at Ball home canning supply manufacturing sites in order to meet the increased demand for home canning supplies.

We are sorry that we cannot accommodate your request for products to be shipped directly. Our policy has always been to let distribution be handled through brokers and distributors to supply the demand for our products. Since all 1975 production has been allocated to our present customers, we cannot, at this time, take the product from them for direct shipment.

It is not possible for us to specify what retail stores the lids are currently in, as you requested, because the strong demand has created many daily out-of-stock situations.

Again, we regret that you are experiencing problems in finding our products and we appreciate your patience during this difficult time. Sincerely, Betty Martin Consumer Services

New books at Bell Memorial Public Library

New books at the Bell Memorial Public Library include the following:
 CIRCUS by Alistair Mac Lean. This novel is targeted at the destruction of an "ultimate weapon" whose deadly secret is guarded within an impregnable fortress far behind the Iron Curtain. The world's greatest aerialist accepts the CIA assignment--for his own reasons of vengeance--never suspecting that his beautiful co-agent will provide more than liaison, or that an assassin will strike even before the traveling circus gets underway.

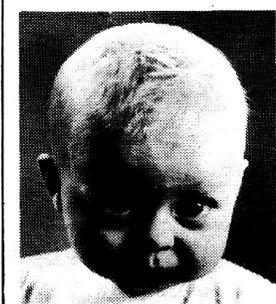

THE EAGLE HAS LANDED by Jack Higgins. Based largely on documented historical fact, this book tells of a German plot to capture Winston Churchill and the events surrounding that astonishing exploit. Suspense is enhanced by a cleverly devised plot, superb characterization and a good dialogue.

MADAME SERPENT by Jean Plaidy. Set in sixteenth century Europe, this is the story of Catherine de Medici, Queen of France. It is the story of a girl, growing up through bitterness and humiliation into a fantastic and unholy woman.

COLD RIVER by William Judson. When Lizzy, 14, and Tim, 13, set out on a long-awaited trip with their father into the majestic wilderness of the Adirondack Mountains, it promised to be the most spectacular event yet in their young lives. But how were HOW TO SAY NO TO A RAPIST AND SURVIVE by Frederic Storaska.

Anderson film to be shown at Akron church

Ken Anderson's film "In God We Trust" will be shown at the Akron Church of God Sunday, August 10, at 7:30 p.m.

It is described as a magnificent motion picture experience vital to every thinking and concerned American. It looks penetratingly and honestly at the traditions on which America was built. Song writer John Peterson provides the music.

The film was made to help the committed Christian evaluate his present citizenship responsibilities in the light of Bible teaching. The key Bible injunction is II Chronicles 7:14.

Questions such as "Does the U.S. have a valid Christian heritage?" "Did the founding fathers establish this nation as a truly Christian nation?" and "Have we a right to expect God to bless America?" are some of the thought-provoking questions explored in the film.

An ex-senator and his two grandsons set out on what might be called a patriotic pilgrimage across America visiting the places of early American history and examining documents that attest to Biblical faith in the lives of the founding fathers. A hitch-hiker is picked up along the way, a government office worker, and the story develops into one of new dimensions of thought for his consideration concerning both liberal and conservative viewpoints.

The public is invited to attend this showing in the church sanctuary.

60 YEARS AGO

Our postmaster received a mail sack Thursday morning the mail in which was a ruined, sticky mess. Some good friend of L. G. Welton's mailed him by parcel post a half gallon jar of extracted honey. The sender had slipped one over the Wisconsin postmaster by failing to pack his package securely and got it into the mails. The result was that the glass jar was broken, a lot of paper mail ruined and Mr. Welton has no honey, a present that he no doubt would have appreciated very much. Had this sack contained dry goods however valuable it would have been seriously damaged if not ruined altogether.

If Main street had not been paved this year, the amount of rain that we have had would have rendered them both impassible and very unhealthy.

We notice a new idea has hit some of artistically inclined people about town and some of them are building large wood vases filling them with pretty flowers and setting them on bases along the street side or cement walks. They are rustic in appearance and surely help the looks of things generally. There are many ways and means, simple in construction and design and inexpensive to beautify Akron. Study out these schemes and get in line for beautiful old Akron.

There are several real evidences that fall and winter is approaching. The coal man is filling the cellars about town and the bins. The rattle of the black diamonds rolling down his tin chutes causes us to chill. Then, too, the Fulton county fair opens in three weeks and the public schools open the 13th of September and all these are strong evidences.

39 YEARS AGO

A wind storm and showers which this community received Sunday night has been forgotten now, as the heat has descended once more upon the town to remind us that it is August and not yet time for top coats and football games.

Plans for Akron's sixth annual fair, which is to be staged September 23, 24, 25 and 26 are rapidly nearing completion and the board is meeting almost constantly in an effort to complete all details as soon as possible. This year's fair promises to be the biggest and best that Akron has ever staged and the fame of previous fairs will probably draw one of the largest crowds.

Akron's German band is playing at the Fulton county 4-H club which is being held in Rochester this week. Next Friday and Saturday they are scheduled to play for the annual Liar's celebration at Serbia.

Miss Rozella Dwer, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Dwer of Macy, won the title of Miss Indiana last Friday night in an elimination contest with 16 other beauties from over the state. The contest was conducted in Michigan City.

25 YEARS AGO

Richard Doub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Doub, was awarded third place in Indiana in the National Grange Essay Contest on "Soil Fertility and the Nation's Future" by the Grange Master at a meeting of the Columbus Grange last Wednesday night. Doub is 18 years of age and graduated from Akron High School this year. He has been active in 4-H work and at present is junior assistant scoutmaster with the rank of Life Scout.

The faculty for Gilead school was announced Monday by Trustee Glen R. Calloway and is as follows: Willis L. Bowen, principal, Rosella Buroker, Philip Lahr, Robert Burchler, Robert Shawhan, Florence Caldwell, Orville Ramsey, Arthur Tinkel, Nola Kotterman and Mary Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rader and Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Burch are on a week's vacation at Spider Lake in Michigan and also a trip into Canada.

The Akron Lions Club held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church basement with approximately 30 members present. Oscar Fites was in charge of the program. The next club meeting will be held in the new den, but a definite date will be decided later.

10 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Lyle Butt, the former LaVada McEvoy, was graduated with honors Sunday from the St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing. She received the Phy, an award given by the Allen Co. Mental Health Association and a $25 savings bond. After August 16, she will be associated with the Wabash Co. hospital.

Mr. Larry Straley received his Master of Science Degree in Agriculture at the University of Purdue recently. He is the Agriculture teacher in the North Miami High School. He is married to the former Margaret Ann Moore, and has two daughters, Elizabeth Ann and Mary Kathryn. They live on R. R. 2, Akron.

Jolly Janes spend day visiting

Ten members of the Jolly Janes Club recently had a busy day in which they toured Warsaw Cut Glass Co., visited Cardinal Center and then drove to Jones, Michigan, "The Good Ole Days Town." The town has been restored much the way it was in "olden days." Club members saw President Eisenhower's railroad car and went through Memory Lane.

They returned to Mentone via Goshen where they had supper.

The next meeting will be at Jo Gamble's home. Karen Roy will be co-hostess.

Free advice is worn out being passed along—not from use.

straight talk about

electric rates

No one likes to pay higher prices for anything—including electric energy. I don't like to. Our employees don't like to. And we all pay the same rates our customers do.

Why can't we simply hold the line and not raise electric rates? We wish somehow we could. But without a rate increase Public Service Indiana would have to do two things: Let the quality of its service slide and curtail expansion.

We could skimp on such things as tree trimming. We might shave some maintenance costs. But any temporary economies of this kind would simply create more serious problems and higher costs down the road.

We could cut back on expansion programs. But then we'd not have enough generating capacity to meet all customer demands for energy five or ten years from now or even sooner. The resulting energy shortage and brownouts would be unthinkable.

Without enough electric power, Hoosiers will not be able to bring new industry into the area or expand the old. New job opportunities and more paychecks would be hard to come by.

Energy shortages that hamper existing industrial and commercial activity could result in layoffs and short workweeks.

Indeed, the alternatives to having enough electric power when we need it are so grim that we have little choice but to go ahead with construction programs—even at a time when construction costs have soared.

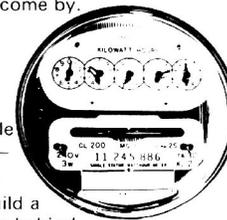

It takes eight to ten years to design, engineer and build a power plant and there's no way to catch up if we run behind.

Public Service Indiana is seeking the minimum increase it believes essential if it is to successfully attract the tremendous amounts of capital needed to build ahead.

We don't expect you to like it. We just hope that you will understand that we have no alternative.

As long as the cost of generating and delivering electricity goes up, so must the price of electricity.

Teachers given new salary schedule

A salary schedule, unilateral in scope and containing a final paragraph found objectionable by teachers since it was first implemented last year, was adopted by the Tippecanoe Valley school board Monday night. It replaces a previous agreement reached between the board and members of the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization because of an Indiana Education Employment Relations Board (IEERB) ruling asking the local board to cease negotiations with PTO. (See administrative explanation of this action elsewhere in this week's NEWS.)

The newly adopted salary schedule, which will be effective from Aug. 25, 1975 to Aug. 24, 1976, starts at $8,323 for beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree and goes to $13,098 for a teacher with a master's degree and 24 years' experience.

Negated by this action was the July 21 agreement between the board and PTO that called for ten per cent increases this year and seven and one-half per cent increases next year, based on last year's $7725 starting salary.

The paragraph to which teachers disagree is the one that reads: "This salary schedule is considered a floor, not a ceiling, with the exception that tenure teachers whom the board considers less than satisfactory for any reason may be held on their past salary instead of on the salary schedule."

Personnel matters occupied much of the meeting. Twenty minutes after the opening gavel sounded, members went into a two-hour executive session labeled by superintendent Lloyd Harrell as a time to discuss personnel, which he said is permitted by law. He said votes are not to be cast in such meetings.

Going into executive session with board members Fred Kindig, Dr. Wymond Wilson, Con Shewman, Don Snipes and Richard Goshert were Dr. Harrell, business manager Robert Forbes, central office employees Judy Hively and Eleanor Hoover and an attorney, K. C. Crook.

In other personnel action, resignations of Mary Jane Burkett and Donna Hall, fourth grade and business education teachers at Mentone, were reported. Contracts were signed for Joanne Welch, business ed; Mary Smith, special ed at the Mentone building; Rebecca Smith, Mentone sixth grade; Dennis Gilbert, industrial arts; Polly Finney, art at Mentone and Burket, and Ruth Horn, Mentone fourth grade. Harrell said this completed the staff for next week's school opening.

Bus drivers approved for routes were Jim Miller, Robert Hoffman, Sylvester Hedington, Marion Hunter, Leonard Beigh, Harriet Jameson, A. C. Prater, Evelyn Schipper, Thelma Eaton, Forrest Kamp, Linda Martin, Larry Sheetz, Patricia VanDeWater, Chas. Eaton, Irene Hoagland, Don Poyser, Bob Mattix, William Gagnon, Leah Lee, June Weber, Harvey Kamp, Charles Hammer,

Jordan is new Milford police chief

Melvin Jordan, pictured with his wife, the former Sandra Krieg, has been appointed chief of police in the town of Milford. Jordan, who has been deputy town marshal in Akron for the past five years, will begin his duties within the next two weeks.

"I've been appreciative of the opportunity of serving Akron as a policeman and I've gone about my duties in Akron with the betterment of the community at heart," Jordan said.

"I look forward to serving Milford and the increased responsibilities with the same purpose and attitude," he added.

Substituting officer Charles Clawson will serve as town marshal until Jordan begins active duty in Milford.

School opens Monday

Monday is back to school day for students in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

Organization will be from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Monday with classes resuming the following day.

Buses will arrive at the Burket school at 8:15 a.m., Akron and Mentone schools at 8:30 and the high school at 8:45 and will leave the high school at 3:15 p.m. Departure from Akron and Mentone junior highs will be 3:30 p.m. and Burket students will begin the homeward trip at 3:45 p.m.

Fees and rentals were announced in last week's NEWS.

Bikes, money stolen

Ten multi-speed bicycles were stolen in Akron, either Wednesday night or early Thursday morning, according to Akron police. In every instance, they reported the bikes had been left near the street, an open invitation for someone to take them. "If you value your bike, take care of it," police said in warning to other bike owners.

During the same time period, $50 cash was removed from Akron Pizza. Investigation continues.

Girls volley ball starts today

Girls' volley ball practice at Tippecanoe Valley High School will start this evening at 4 p.m. Girls planning to participate should take physical slips.

A member of the Kosciusko Co. Horse and Pony Club, Bret showed a seven-year-old quarter horse named "Smokey Four Sox."

Rozella VanCleave, Mary L. Groninger, Donna Thompson and Carol Sheetz.

Robert DuBois' summer contract was revised to give him five days of vacation and Robert Igney's and Floyd Henson's contracts were adjusted accordingly. All are driver education teachers.

Ten per cent salary increases were granted principals: Forst Dunnuck to $22,000; John Hurst to $19,500; Dean Rager to $17,600 and Oliver England to $16,500. Dunnuck and Hurst are on 11-month contracts while Rager's is for ten months and England's for nine and one-half months.

Dave Creighton was named tennis coach while Floyd Henson and Bob DuBois will continue as head basketball coach and assistant. Phil Pratt will be freshman basketball coach. Junior high basketball coaches include Creighton, Wayne Cumberland and Ed LaMar at Akron; Eaton, Hoyt and Parker at Mentone. Isaacs will be wrestling coach; Smith swimming; Eaton golf; Igney and Isaacs baseball and Smith will also be track coach, assisted by Parker. Ruppel and Gilbert will be Akron and Mentone track coaches.

Girls' coaching assignments were not made, a point objected to by at least one member of the audience, but board members said they would continue to weigh the desires of the girls and announce these positions later.

It matters not pertaining to personnel, the board:

- Signed a co-op lease with Warsaw Community School Corporation as part of a special education agreement.

- Heard progress reports from Bernie Snyder and Bill Proctor of the Everett I. Brown, architectural firm who said the new building is done and payment to contractors will continue as items on the punch list are completed. They said they are proud of the building and have taken representatives of other school corporations to see it.

- Heard Forbes report 134 shrubs at a cost of $3,758 had been planted around the high school by the Ben Hoskins firm.

- Heard Harrell report moving the central administrative office had been completed with a total cost of $447 for new draperies for the west side of the administrative suite and carpet in a ticket office. He said the four people working in the office were well pleased with the new surroundings.

- Approved forms for school lunches, commodity and special milk programs.

- Approved for advertising a notice to bidders for oil and gasoline. (See legal advertising section of NEWS.)

- Increased excess liability and property damage insurance coverage by one million dollars at a yearly cost of $600.

- Set Nov. 16 as the day to dedicate the new high school in a public ceremony.

- Heard remarks from the audience. Jean Roberts protested having so many boys' coaches and none for girls and asked why board members had lied to her in May when she had asked if a rumor that the administrative office would move was true. Board members angrily denied this. Phyllis Gearhart spoke against the final paragraph of the salary schedule, and Lewis Shoemaker, a member of TVPTO, questioned the status of the contract negotiated earlier. At the board's request, Crook said the contract is now invalid and the board will comply with LEERB's interlocutory order.

- Noted a special meeting on August 28 to discuss the budget. As all meetings now are, this one will be conducted in the teacher preparation area of the new high school.

Story with happy ending

Dear Editor,

On September 7-13, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be holding a money-raising drive in Akron. There will be many volunteers who will be going to the doors of the people in Akron. Because we need everyone's help, not only on raising money but also in alerting the public, I want to pass on to you a true story of a family affected by Cystic Fibrosis.

"On December 23, our little girl started running a fever. The next day she started having diarrhea. I thought it was just a flu virus and would soon be over. Although the fever was gone in a day or two the diarrhea remained and as the days went by it got worse. I called the doctor. He told me what to do for diarrhea. It'd worked for a day or two but the diarrhea kept returning. Finally, on January 29, I took her to the doctor. He had her admitted to the hospital for tests. Two days later we were told she had Cystic Fibrosis. Her sweat tests had been positive with counts of 80 and 100. A sweat chloride test is positive at anything over 50. It was the most terrible thing to be told your little baby was going to die, that her life may reach into the teens but chances are it would not. It was so hard to look at my beautiful, blue-eyed innocent child and not burst into tears. But I knew I had to face the facts and try to beat that disease. We were told that she had been born with C/F and that we were both carriers and that our eight-month-old may have it also. We had her tested and, thankfully, she was clear. Her count was 18. We were sent to a specialist who gave us more information, checked our little girl and wrote out prescriptions (one costing $25 for one month's supply). He also wanted her to be re-tested to make sure. I prayed, as I had been doing for two weeks, asking Him to let this all be a horrible mistake, all the time telling myself to face it and quit looking back. They tested her and Thank God it was negative at 25. Over the next months we had her tested several times, all being negative. It was so wonderful! The doctors couldn't really explain except to say it was a mistake; one that rarely happens. I like to think it was an answer to my prayers. Either way, it did happen. Our baby was going to live!"

I wanted to share this with you as it is very close to me because it was my little girl, Carrie. It was the most horrible few months of my life. We were fortunate. Most patients that test out as Cystic are. I know a very little of what those parents go through. They do have to face the fact their child is dying of Cystic Fibrosis.

Won't you please help by giving to us on September 7-13 so that the cure or control of C/F that we're so close to will come sooner. Also, if you know of anyone with any of the symptoms please call us.

We still need marchers. If you'd like to help please call us. Thank you.

The drought broken

Dear Editor:

Beans on the fence, ripe tomatoes on the vine. Onions pulled for the winter. Beets ready to can.

And the rain has come! Now we can plant again. Radishes, lettuce, onions and turnips. The gentle, fall rain will again bring lovely tastes to one's table. Turnip greens cooked with a piece of jowl meat, with a bit of fried cornbread and a glass of buttermilk.

This is a great season of the year. Sweet peas in bloom. Morning glories on the fence. One hundred children eating cookies and sipping Kool-Aid at Bible School. High school students coming back from summer camp full of fun and in love with the great God of the Universe.

Taking children to skate, 100 or more with skates, one-half skating, one-half trying to get up off the floor. A bus-load getting ready to go to King's Island. NYC youth getting their pay. One girl said she had saved $300 to go to school this winter.

Grass green, lilac bush still alive. Beautiful flowers on the altar each Thursday noon service. Like a flower garden Sunday morning and Sunday night. The young man in a bad accident much better.

I would like to hear a rooster crow early each morning. Life is good. The world is wonderful. I am here and I am glad. Thanks to the Maker of the rain! Garrett H. Phillips

Log cabin

Dear Editor,

Log cabin watching has replaced girl watching in Rochester. The new roof is on the Fulton County Bicentennial log cabin now, thanks to Carl Davis of Talma and the Manpower boys from all over the county.

Several Senior Citizens helped put up the gabled ends: Hiram Ousley, Gilman Carlson, Elmer Miller, and Bob Ensign. Lumber approximately 100 years old was used on the gabled ends. It was donated by Henry Sherrard Sr. from the old Wm. Zimmerman/Amos Durbin house at 1317-19 Monroe street, which Sherrard tore down in 1956, and by Adam Rentschler from a shed southeast of Fulton.

Flooring has been donated by Fred Oden from a barn in Tiosa that used to belong to Dr. Mink, and by Charles Raushke from the barn on the former Noah Gottchalk/Jr. Towne farm east of Rochester.

Bricks from the Richland Center school were donated by Robert Cloud General Contractors to be used in the fireplace. The bricks will not show, as the outside will be field stones. Walter Jordon, who built the round houses by Talma of fieldstones, will start building the fireplace any day now.

Thanks to Bill Green, Jr. and Bill Willard for letting us use their trucks to haul lumber and bricks.

The new roof is on but not paid for. Please buy a Bicentennial Log Cabin Share at the bank or library or museum or Rochester news stand. This is a community project and we need your support.

Thank you to the First National Bank for publishing the Bicentennial Log Cabin Honor Roll. Those who contribute $10 or more will have their names placed in the cabin. So get in the Bicentennial mood and help us preserve the cabin. It's tax deductible!

60 YEARS AGO

The Fulton County Fair will open Wednesday, September 1st and continues four days. The promoters are in ecstasies over the prospects for success. The farm this year has been a success and all farm products have grown prolific. Any farmer can go to his field and select samples of any kind of grain that is far superior to anything he has heretofore produced. The livestock has also prospered. The pasture field has been a meat producer beyond all previous years. Everything and every body is fat.

Akron's first picnic happens tomorrow. Let every Akronite contribute to its success.

The great cement road leading east from Rochester will be open for traffic within three weeks. This will be a winner in favor of good and mighty good roads.

There were great crowds at the Saints camp-meeting last Sunday. Machine loads came from great distances. The auto shuts off distance and brings people together to visit.

R. L. Woolpert wants us to say that all threshers must carry plank and use them to cross the cement bridges. Mr. Woolpert is anxious to preserve these bridges and says he will enforce this order to protect the taxpayer who built them. Gene is right. Any other heavy load that might be injurious to bridges should also take warning.

Postmaster Fultz and his force have been having some pretty heavy mails of late, but last Thursday morning capped the climax. The morning trains brought 24 sacks of mail, some of them filled to bursting making a whole dray load. In the bunch were quite a number of Sears Roebuck bibles.

But few people are so timid that they will shrink from fame. Most men and women seek it in some way. But it takes a life time to attain it and then some times some people are forgotten in ten days after the funeral excepting that he has been so unfortunate, speaking in irony, as to force his heirs to pay inheritance tax.

Trustee Ralph Rader has set up a fund of $3,500 to pay for a hot lunch program in the local schools after January 1. The money is placed in the budget for the coming year and it is believed the state tax board will not object to it. For several years the local Mothers Study Club has been campaigning for a hot lunch program in the schools. Now, with the new grade school building completed and the new gymnasium and farm shop nearly completed there will be room at the building for an efficient program.

A petition from subscribers of the local telephone company has been filed at the State Public commission in Indianapolis. The petition seeks an investigation from the commission on the possible improvement or service to the local phone users. Horticulture School is five fun-filled days

By Melva Smith

AKRON/MENTONE NEWS
August 21, 1975

What is Horticulture School? It is five fun-filled days during the State Fair. As a 4-H delegate from Kosciusko County to Indiana State Fair Horticulture-Food Science School, I arrived there Wednesday morning. A highlight of orientation was a scavenger hunt which took our team all over the fair grounds.

Thursday, we traveled to Richmond to visit Hills Floral Products, one of the world's largest rose producers. They grow and ship over 20 million dozen hybrid tea roses a year. We watched the assembly line and were amazed that a dozen roses could be sorted by lengths and color and packed in one minute. They are placed on trucks and planes and shipped around the United States.

In the afternoon we went to Hayes Arboretum. Of the one hundred arboreta in the United States, Hayes is the only regional one. It contains only trees and woody plants that are native to the Whitewater River basin.

On Friday we visited Caito, which is a fruit and vegetable wholesaler. One huge storage freezer has 80 per cent humidity for storing radishes, broccoli, celery and carrots. Potatoes for baking, vacuum packed lettuce, grapes, avocados and muskmelons are kept at a lower humidity but the same temperature. Most potatoes and onions are stored at room temperature.

Mentone Merry 4-Hers and Harrison Hustlers 4-H Club

Our next stop was Allied Grocers. This wholesaler supplies Shurway grocers throughout Indiana. Their storage room looked the size of a football field and they told us it is emptied about 60 times a year.

At a Kroger's grocery we learned how the Universal Product Code operates. The UPC is the lines and numbers we see on many packages. It is amazing that a computer can scan the UPC, print the price and item on the checkout tape and update the inventory in less than a second.

Then to the Indianapolis Art Museum to tour the grounds. An outstanding feature of the landscaping was the use of different trees and shrubs to screen various areas.

Saturday's activities included a tour of the Agriculture Horticulture building at the State Fairgrounds. We were told why certain exhibits were selected as winners. We also learned to make macrame hanging baskets and corsages at the IUPUI building. The corsages we made were to wear to the graduation dinner that night. We made extras for the State Fair officials who attended.

Hook's Drug Stores were our main sponsor. They provided most of our meals. Evening programs included the 4-H chorus, the Hypnotist and the Mac Davis show. Good things must come to an end. Sunday morning we evaluated the school, selected counselors for 1976 and attended a religious service at the Coliseum.

"They're the real thing, real circus rats." Like all the other miniature circus equipment, this tent will be folded and loaded onto wagons, just as real circus equipment was, and the dining equipment will fit into packing cases. The man who created this circus plans to enlarge it so much this winter that the dining tent will have to be tripled in size to accommodate the size crew such a show would entail.

The red wagons, the gleaming gilt, the cotton candy and the side shows were all there. The nostalgic feel of the circus was undeniably present in each elephant, the truck loads of baled hay, the canvas tents.

7 Fulton Co. Council members ordered to court

The seven members of the Fulton Co. Council were charged in Fulton circuit court Friday with contempt of court and were ordered to appear at 2 p.m. on Sept. 3 to show cause why they should not be punished.

Signing the affidavit for criminal contempt was Judge Wendell C. Tombaugh, Fulton circuit court judge, who, in a concurrent action, disqualified himself as judge in the case and ordered a special judge to be agreed upon by the two opposing parties by August 22.

Filing the suit was Fulton Co. prosecutor Steven A. Stinson, who said he believes the case is a "first" in Indiana. He said he could find no record of a disagreement between a judge and a county council reaching the stage of an affidavit for contempt being filed.

Specifically, in a rule to show cause issued Friday, Tombaugh ordered Councilmen Earl Barkman, George Krom III, Leroy W. Rouch, Harold Showley, George Stephen, Robert Bridge and Simon Deeb to appear at 2 p.m. Sept. 3 in the temporary courtroom at Rochester City Hall.

At that time, they are to show cause why they should not be "punished for indirect criminal contempt of this court," according to the show cause.

At Tombaugh's order, Sheriff Robert Newgent served each council member a certified copy of the show cause order and of the affidavit for criminal contempt.

Tombaugh's action is a result of the Council's Aug. 5 refusal to obey a court mandate ordering the council to appropriate an additional $1,450 for the salary of Donna Carvey, Fulton circuit court reporter.

At that time, Barkman, Deeb, Bridge and Krom voted in favor of granting the additional appropriation while Rouch, Stephen and Showley voted against it. The 4-3 vote was not enough to grant the appropriation because it took a two-thirds majority—at least 5-2—to grant an additional appropriation.

Tombaugh requested the extra $1,450 because the fund to pay Mrs. Carvey will be depleted in October. On May 20, the council refused and on July 9 Tombaugh mandated the council to make the additional appropriation.

The fund for paying Mrs. Carvey will be depleted before the end of the year because Ernest Walters, Fulton Co. auditor, has been paying her on the basis of a $7,200 salary since last January.

Tombaugh had requested the $7,200 salary—a raise of $2,200—in his 1975 budget, but the council allowed only a 15 per cent raise, from $5,000 to $5,640, because other courthouse employees had been given only 15 per cent increases.

Tombaugh then ordered the auditor to pay Mrs. Carvey $600 a month all year, which represents a salary of $7,200, instead of the $5,640 put into the salary fund. The latter amount will be depleted in October.

In explaining the charges, Stinson said the affidavit against the councilmen is for criminal contempt because the action of the council in denying the additional appropriation is considered to be a defiance of the court's authority.

He said civil contempt involves a third party. A person who disobeys a court order to make child support payments is an example of civil contempt.

He also noted the show cause order is for indirect contempt of court because the alleged offense took place outside the courtroom. If the councilmen had been before the judge in a court session and refused to obey an order, that would constitute direct contempt.

Police Report

Marvin Davis, 18, Akron, was booked Tuesday morning at the Fulton Co. jail on charges of minor consuming alcohol and drunken driving. He was to appear in Akron justice of the peace court that afternoon.

Christeen Balard, R. 1, Silver Lake, told Warsaw city police she lost $120 while at the Holiday Inn in Warsaw Monday night. She is reported to have said she did not know how the money—five $20 bills, a $10 bill, a $5 bill and five $1 bills—became lost.

Merl Harrold, R. 2, Akron, reported to Warsaw City Police Monday the theft of a citizen's band antenna from his car while it was parked overnight Monday at Murphy Medical Center. It was described as a model M167 Antenna Specialists screw-in antenna and was valued at $25.

Gilbert D. Stock, R. 1, Akron, was charged with speeding by Rochester city police who said he was traveling 42 mph in a 30-mph zone. He will appear in Rochester city court next Monday.

Joe A. Fisher, 20, of Silver Lake, was released from Kosciusko County jail last week after posting $100 bond. He was charged with illegal consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Donald R. Jenkins, 18, Silver Lake, booked on charges of illegal possession of a controlled substance (marijuana) and illegal consumption of alcoholic beverages, was released from Kosciusko Co. jail after posting $400 bond.

their acts. But, no, they would never perform for this was circus or, rather, many circuses, created by circus enthusiasts who had recaptured the feel of the circus in minute detail, some an inch to a foot scale, others even smaller. Each was as exact in its duplication as the painstaking craftsmen could make it. Wood, metal, canvas and imagination offered challenge as they captured a dying folk art.

Specifically, this was a gathering of the Great Wallace Ring, an organization of circus enthusiasts from Indiana and surrounding states. In Peru's vast circus arena were examples of some of the finest miniature craftsmanship in the United States.

I talked to modelers from Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio. All described hopeless love affairs with the circus. Some had aspired to own their own shows; some had gotten as far as working for carnivals, but all had settled for reproducing favorite acts in miniature.

The man from Michigan duplicated the former Cole Bros. circus that once headquartered in Rochester. His cotton candy man moved, the armless lady painted with her feet, animals moved in their cages and his late friend, Terrell Jacobs, was immortalized in his famed act that combined his cats with those of Mabel Stark and Ringling Bros. He hadn't brought his big top but if he had he could have crawled inside it to erect the displays, it's that large. All his tents folded like real ones and fitted into his circus wagons that in turn could be loaded onto a special 20-car train, also done in 1/12 scale.

The man from Ohio had a big top lined with bleachers full of spectators--3,500 lead people he himself molded from scrap.

And from Illinois came a circus with dog acts, big top and a dining tent complete with red-checked table cloths.

"Didja see that? asked an elderly man who minutes before had been debating the merits of one cat act against another.

"What?" I asked. "Right there by the garbage cans," he said, pointing to two tiny rats. "Those are real circus rats," he beamed. "The real thing."

I looked at the rats and I looked again at the acts, the roustabouts playing cards behind a tent, the elephant being washed and realized someone was playing circus music. I'd come to this show because I like miniatures, but there was something so absolutely fascinating about the exhibits I hated to leave.

It was only after I was enroute home, still hearing the circus music, that I realized I had something in my shoe.

It was sawdust. I smiled, knowing I could dump it out. But the people I'd met could never get rid of it. It was in their veins.

IEERB orders school board to stop PTO negotiations

By way of explaining Monday night's decision by the school board to offer teachers a salary schedule not based upon negotiation and thereby nullifying recognition previously granted the Professional Teachers Organization, the administration has released the following information:

"The Indiana Education Employment Relations Board, pursuant to request of the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association, supported by the Indiana State Teachers Association, has ordered the Board of School Trustees of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation to "take affirmative action" to cease its recognition of the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization as the exclusive bargaining representative for teachers employed by the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. This order was issued even though the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization represents 70% of the teachers in TVSC. The interlocutory order, issued by the Indiana Education Employment Relations Board on July 23, 1975, also forbids the School Board from implementing the contract entered into with the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization on July 21, 1975. A hearing on the validity of such order will be held in early September. "The School Board recently took action to recognize the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization in accordance with Public Law 217 since the Tippecanoe Valley Professional Teachers Organization represents approximately 70 per cent of the teachers in the school corporation and evidenced such representation to the school board with appropriate authorizations. The school corporation and TVPTO proceeded to negotiate and on July 21, 1975, executed a contract providing for substantial increases in salaries and fringe benefits over a two-year period. The IEERB's order prevents this contract from becoming effective for school year 1975-76, thereby depriving the teachers of the benefits negotiated in such contract.

"The school board believes IEERB order is not in accordance with the law and is not in the best interests either of the teachers employed by TVSC or of the community in its efforts to maintain a highly qualified teaching staff. The school board will, however, abide by the order, which under law will not be final and appealable until after the results of a hearing to be held in September. The school board feels that it has followed the law and is hopeful that the decision after a full hearing on the matter, will be favorable to the school board. Meanwhile, the school board will issue individual contracts to the teachers, and will unilaterally implement salary increases and other fringe benefits as it deems appropriate."

Food survey reveals price differences

By Ann Hancock
 Extension Home Economist, Foods and Nutrition
 Kosciusko County

Our office surveyed four local supermarkets to determine how much difference exists in prices. The survey was conducted by Aletha Patrick, work study student. Ten different items were priced in each store. The stores included two chain stores and two independent grocers. The items priced included hamburger, eggs, milk, loaf cheese, peanut butter, canned green beans, cereal, detergent, sweet corn and tuna.

The total price for the ten items ranged from $8.87 to $8.17 at both locally owned supermarkets. The prices at the chain stores were $8.31 and $8.36.

The greatest variation in prices was for loaf cheese. None of the prices for cheese were specials; however, the prices ranged from $1.49 to $1.98 for two pounds. It would appear that it would be worth your time to shop around for this item.

There are so many types of hamburger on the market that it is difficult to compare prices. We found ground chuck, ground round, extra lean and soy protein hamburger available. Prices varied from $1.49 per pound to $1.79 per pound for hamburger with soy protein added.

At the four supermarkets survey there was a nine per cent over all difference in total prices from the most expensive to the least expensive. The greatest price variations were in protein foods--cheese and meat. However, milk prices did not vary over ten cents to a gallon. Locally, you would be money ahead to shop around for your protein foods.

RHS offers adult classes

A comprehensive adult education program will be offered at Rochester High School during the evening hours this fall. Classes will begin in September and continue for 14 weekly 7 to 10 p.m. sessions, Monday through Thursday.

Michael Sullivan, the school principal, emphasized the fact that all courses offered would be for high school credit. Young people as well as older citizens are urged to take advantage of the course offerings to complete high school and receive a diploma. However, students already enrolled in day school will need permission from the principal to attend night school. Anyone who would like to take a course for personal enhancement may do so.

Classes will be individualized to meet the needs of all students. A five-dollar fee will be charged to cover the cost of books, tests and other supplies. A minimum of 12 students must be enrolled for the class to be offered.

Persons interested in attending class should call Rochester High School, 223-2176, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and indicate the exact class desired.

The school will continue the interest survey until August 22, at which time results will be tabulated. After hiring fully-certified teachers, the school will have published the final class list, dates and class times, as well as registration directions.

Hoosiers discover their own state offers excellent vacation areas

Tourism in Indiana reflects a major trend in this country; people are discovering their home states.

The high price of rail and plane fare, the cost of gasoline, and poor economic conditions in many parts of the country are all reasons why people are traveling shorter distances but staying longer.

"We foresaw this trend more than a year ago and took steps to meet the needs of Indiana citizens," says Linda R. Jester, Director of the Tourism Development Division of the Indiana Department of Commerce.

In response to what they felt would be the demands of Indiana tourists, the Tourism Development Division staff began compiling information on all the scenic and historical sites in Indiana. The result of the research is the SenCircle Drives brochure, now available free of charge to the public.

Thirteen areas within Indiana are mapped out. Any area can be traveled readily by car in a day or a week depending upon the length of time the traveler wants to spend. The brochure also provides historical background and highlights the places of interest.

Providing the funds for research on package tours with the state was another effort of the division. Package tours include all elements of a trip: food, accomodation, transportation and admission to all attractions are under a single price.

Indiana residents are not the only tourists traveling the state. "The fact that Indiana is the only state west of the appalachian Mountains to have a national Bicentennial site, the George Rodgers Clark Memorial in Vincennes, will bring in tourists from surrounding states who otherwise would have traveled to the East to celebrate the event," Miss Jester says.

She notes fifty percent of the population of the United States lives within 600 miles of Indiana.

Mentone first county town to join MACOG

Mentone became the first area town to join the Michiana Area Council of Governments (MACOG) regional planning group Monday night. Final action to join the South Bend-based council will come from the Kosciusko Co. commissioners: Fred Gilliam, Gerald Smalley and Maurice Dorsey. Other MACOG member areas include LaPorte, St.

Joseph, Elkhart and Marshall counties in Indiana and Berrien and Cass counties in Michigan.

Voting in favor of the membership were Mentone town board president Kenneth Bush and member Jim Whetstone. The third board member, Bill Boardman, was absent.

According to George Kruse, MACOG executive director, MACOG offers its members three types of planning, which is 80 per cent federally fund-

Centennial Farm boundaries outlined

The progress of the centennial family farm search was the main order of business at the August meeting of the Bicentennial commission attended by representatives of 23 organizations. visual director, and made available for local club use. Anyone having interesting facts, stories, etc. about the community is urged to contact one of these persons.

Farms registered prior to August 31 will be sent an identification form.

The next meeting will be September 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Tippecanoe Valley High School. The public is invited.

Members voted to accept registrations from family farms only and established as boundaries Tippecanoe township in Marshall county and all the townships comprising Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, which are Henry and Newcastle in Fulton Co. and Harrison, Franklin and Seward in Kosciusko County.

All centennial farm owners will be recognized at the public bicentennial convocation set later this fall.

Gail Law, Lyman Mollenhour and Leroy Norris volunteered to look into various designs for the century farm signs. These will be made by the school shop classes.

WALTER JORDAN, Talma, puts finishing touches on a stone fireplace he constructed at the Fulton Co. Historical Society's partially restored log cabin. He plans to finish the fireplace inside the simple dwelling this week. Still needed is a mantle. Anyone having one to donate should contact a member of the Historical Society or call at the museum, which is located on Race St. in Rochester.

ed; mass transit planning that is also 80 percent federally funded, and environmental protection agency (EPA) water pollution control, 100 per cent federally funded.

Kosciusko Co. is presently one of seven state counties that have not joined a regional planning group. He said MACOG's purpose is only for planning assistance and for making recommendations as to where member communities should apply for funding and that it has no local authority.

According to Kruse, most small communities would be given a priority boost in gaining state and federal monies for projects by joining a regional group such as MACOG, which has now received clearance to seek consideration for such monies.

Based on a 10-cent per capita fee, the membership will cost Mentone $83 for one year's dues. Kruse said if the county joins MACOG, all communities within the county also become members and monies paid by member towns will be refunded if the county joins.

Kruse said MACOG has no authority on the local level, but it does have recognition for funding. He said there are no additional or hidden costs in MACOG membership and that travel and other expenses are picked up by MACOG, which is later reimbursed by the federal government.

Kruse stressed that local communities must be able and willing to pick up maintenance costs of the proposed projects for their town. The only exception, he said, was for urban mass transit programs in which communities can receive 50 per cent of the operating costs. Communities may withdraw their membership at any time.

According to Kruse, voting members of MACOG are the mayor of the largest member city, a county commissioner, a county council member, a town board president to be elected by board presidents of member towns and the mayors of towns with populations exceeding 10,000. Plan commission directors would act as technical advisors.

Bush and Whetstone said the town would probably seek monies through their membership for the proposed sewer project, the Bell Museum and the emergency medical service project.

The trouble with self-made men is that they insist on giving everybody their recipe.

TVCTA explains its side

The Indiana Education Employment Relations Board (IEERB) recently ruled that Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation could no longer negotiate with members of the Professional Teachers Organization, a group headed by Marna Riedel and said to be comprised of the majority of the corporation's teachers.

As pointed out in the report of last week's school board meeting, board members then offered teachers a salary schedule not based on negotiation since no bargaining unit now exists.

In an article published separately in that issue of the NEWS, the school administration explained its side of the longstanding legal procedures with members of the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association (TVCTA) that resulted in the IEERB ruling.

The latter group, whose officers are Phyllis Gearhart, Duane Smith, Bernadean Scott and Norman Metzger, this week offers its side of the matter and has prepared the following news release:

"Many people have asked us why our corporation is having problems between teachers and administration.

"Two years ago (1973) Indiana passed Public Law 217 giving teachers the right to bargain salary, wages, hours and fringe benefits as well as other agreed upon items.

"The TVSC administration has denied us this right; and for this reason we have found it necessary to defend our right guaranteed by law. "Court actions initiated by the administration have delayed legal negotiations with TVCTA and been at great expense to taxpayers and school programs, while the teachers defense has been from their own sources at no expense to taxpayers. To this date all legal proceedings have been in favor of the teachers.

"This conflict is primarily a power struggle between the TVSC administration and the law which granted TVCTA legal certification as exclusive representative of Tippecanoe Valley.

"Another conflict has stemmed from the illegal administrative action denying four teachers their raises. Merit pay in Indiana is illegal. As a result our organization has deemed it necessary to go to court to defend these teachers right. Again our action is at no expense to the corporation.

"These administrative decisions have not been in the best interest of the community, students or teachers. We are hopeful that the court will soon resolve these conflicts and meaningful negotiations between TVCTA and the school board can get under way.

"TVCTA has and will continue to represent the best interests of students and ALL teachers."

Home Folks

Dear Editor,

"Home Folks," a collection of stories of pioneer Fulton county as told by the old settlers themselves, has been reprinted by the Fulton County Historical Society. The books are on sale at the museum and the Rochester News Stand. Prepaid copies may be picked up at the museum, open Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m., week days 8 to 5 p.m.

The reprint contains both volumes one and two, which were written and published by Marguerite Miller in 1909-10. The book contains 266 pages, hard cover, photos of each old settler whose story is told, and the photo of the author.

Topics include a gang of thieves at Fulton, Indian burial customs and buried money, the first murder in the county, how to build a log cabin, spelling bees at Prill school, going west to hunt for gold, the miraculous spring that saved prisoners' lives in Andersonville prison during the Civil War, and much more.

Histories of the Odd-fellows and Knights of Pythias lodges, Fulton county soldiers who served in the Civil War, Methodist church, and the Rochester brass band are also told.

Hundreds of names of former residents are included in the telling of the stories, and often an anecdote about the person or where he lived and worked. Anyone whose ancestors lived in Fulton county will find this a valuable source of genealogy and interest.

Copies may be ordered from Fulton County Historical Society, 928 Jefferson, Rochester, for $10 plus $1 mailing fee.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

I never really understood the ominous sound of the words "He's living on borrowed time" until a storm put all our lights out for a quiet hour right after supper one hot summer evening.

When the storm was over, we resumed our lives as normal and a few days later someone remembered to set the kitchen clock. No one got around to the clock in the living room.

It was a great week, except I got up achingly tired every morning. "I'm not getting enough rest," I told my family. They nodded; they'd all heard the same tune before.

But the nights were so deliciously long and offered such great possibilities. For instance, there was always plenty of time to take a short ride after supper with plenty of time to spare for reading. I should have realized the situation the night we got home at eight and I settled in for reading, but all I said when the boys came home some time later was, "Home by eight, that's pretty good."

It's not that I didn't know the clock was off; I did. But it was so easy to forget. And so complicated. I'd go to bed and discover it was midnight when I meant to go to bed at 11 or I'd wake in the morning and convince myself it was actually the alarm that was off and I could roll over for another hour.

Late to bed, late everywhere. It would have been a miserable week if I hadn't been able to do so much. But finally the day came that I re-set the clock, barely able to see the hands because I was so sleepy. Borrowed time? Keep it. I can't afford the interest.

60 YEARS AGO

For some time we have noticed farmers going along the road with shovels in hand, filling up the ruts or low places in the grade or draining the little puddles after a shower. Last Saturday morning after the rain of two days, two farmers picked up their shovels and went along the highway by their farms and by others, too. We are not privileged to use these names because they do not want to be praised or seem that way for doing what they can in a small way to keep the roads in good shape. We have also known where farmers north of town get out with a drag after a shower and smooth down the bumps. It takes these kind of clever men who are not afraid of doing a favor for the public. Some men must be paid for all they do on the roads while others are liberal enough to want to do a small chore or even if it takes a whole day sometimes.

The war tax will cease on the first day of January next. The tax on imported sugar will cease on the first of May next. This will cause additional large reductions in the government's income. The government's expenses are larger than ever before. This either individuals or corporations; and yet not a word is said, not a thing is done by those responsible to the people for the management of the government, about mending this deplorable condition.

The Akron band concert last Thursday evening was attended by one of the largest crowds ever on like occasions. The program was indeed classical and won the closest attention throughout the evening. With such concerts and the automobile as a means of "getting there" is the reason for our Akron band's wide popularity and splendid audiences when the weather is at all propitious. A band helps to make a town as well as some other things.

Lightning struck a large barn on the Roy Jones farm north of Akron Wednesday morning, causing it to burn to the ground. The barn contained over a thousand dollars worth of new hay, which was destroyed by fire. Several farmers worked desperately to save the other buildings and with the aid of the rural fire departments from Mentone and Burket, were able to keep them from burning.

Mrs. Homer Kiser was hostess to the Pinochle Club at her home on East Rochester Street last Thursday afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Crockett, Mrs. Norman Swihart and Mrs. Chris Branning. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Norman Swihart will entertain the club next week.

East Rochester street will be resurfaced in the very near future. Work has already begun on leveling off some of the rougher intersections and preparatory steps are being made by the town board to get the street ready for its coat of treatment. The state highway department will do the work, once town authorities have finished their leveling job.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the August 31, 1949, issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Kosciusko county's poultry industry, one of the major producers of farm income, is being advertised and publicized at the Indiana State Fair, starting tomorrow at Indianapolis, through the joint efforts of the county's fourteen hatcheries and the county council of Home Economics.

An automobile belonging to Leslie Grubbs of north of Mentone was stolen Saturday night and later found, considerably damaged, as part of a series of events that seemed to point the trail of two or three men who started an evening of robberies in Peru. At last report, the bandits had not been captured.

Last Friday night the fire department was called to Burket where a house was burning. The fire siren sounded and within a few seconds the streets were completely jammed with cars. Cars were going east on Main street three abreast at high speed. They were pulling out on Main street and cutting in ahead of firemen's cars making it extremely difficult and hazardous for firemen to follow the fire truck... If the practice of endangering lives of firemen and hindering them from getting to the fire is not stopped, we intend to have the violators prosecuted. We hope this will not be necessary but we certainly do not intend to go on risking our lives just to be good fellows if the public does not wish to cooperate. - Mentone Fire Department

Insulation! Why didn't I think of that?

Insulation would have been a natural for the frugal, inventive Ben Franklin. It's a big key to conserving precious natural resources. Every American homeowner can help by making sure insulation is at least six inches thick in the attic, three and a half inches in the walls and two inches under floors.

Every dollar's worth of insulation will pay for itself in heating economy and comfort.

Besides saving energy, you'll get more for your money. As Ben Franklin says, "A penny saved is a penny earned."

If you're concerned about conservation, remember... every Hoosier home that's heated electrically helps ease the fuel squeeze.

Electricity made from abundant coal relieves the demand for the scarcer fuels we're running out of.

Help your country... help yourself.

Take your problems to Church this week—

Fear Is Useless

Many of the fears by which we allow ourselves to be haunted are as bogus as the sign the boy is placing on the fence that encloses his puppies. Many of us waste our energy in worries that turn out to be as groundless as the sign—"beware." They are emotions that should provoke a smile not despondence.

We cannot go forward, fulfilling our responsibilities if we permit ourselves to be lost in the throes of harbored fears and resentments which make for negative personalities. It is at a time such as this that faith and regular church attendance serve as a staff of strength. No matter the effort it may require we should brace our shoulders and go to church this week—and regularly thereafter. For here we may find solace, comfort and spiritual sustenance that will give the confidence with which we may face all the years ahead.

Silver Lake store robbed

More than $500 worth of items were reported stolen August 20 from the Kerlin Dept. Store, Silver Lake, and a bulk truck stolen from Strauss Elevator may have been used to haul the stolen goods.

State police, who are still investigating the incident, believe two persons were involved in the burglary, which netted several packages of meat, a canned ham and cheese, insulated jackets, blue jeans, work shoes, 30 cartons of cigarettes, cigarette papers, several pipes, 22 billfolds, numerous sunglasses and $13 in coins. Apparently disliking eggs, they broke at least 20 dozen during their time in the store.

Later tiring of the feed truck, the thieves abandoned it along a Wabash Co. road southeast of Silver Lake. It was found later by a Silver Lake resident.

TVSC adopts free lunch and milk policy Bridge-a-Rama deadline Sept. 1

AKRON/MENTONE NEWS
August 28, 1975

Tippecanoe Valley School Corp. today announced its policy for free meals and free milk for children unable to pay for meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size:	Required
Parents,	Income
Children &	Scale For
Others	Free Meals
	and Free
	Milk
1	$3,230
2	4,240
3	5,250
4	6,260
5	7,190
6	8,110
7	8,950
8	9,790
9	10,550
10	11,310
11	12,060
12	12,810
Each Additional
Family Member	750

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Robert Forbes, Mentone, Ind. 46539, Phone 353-6815 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the board of education administrative office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

C/F film to acquaint public

"It will help a lot if people understand what Cystic Fibrosis is," said Mrs. Devon Dunnuck, chairman of Mentone's "Breath of Life" campaign.

In order to help people better understand this disease, a film explaining and describing Cystic Fibrosis will be shown at the kickoff meeting Monday, September 8, at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend the film, which will be shown in the Youth League building.

The march is set for Sept. 9-12, with volunteers from the community taking mapped areas. "All donations of money, time or baked goods will put us that much nearer a cure," Mrs. Dunnuck said. She urges volunteers to contact either her at 353-4014 or Mrs. James M. Oden, 353-6505.

With the increased price of gasoline, the American dream of two cars in every garage is coming true.

Win Kentucky State Fair awards

Bill Merley and his sons Bill Jr., John and Brent and his father, Dewey Merley, attended the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville last week where they showed their spotted pigs. They won trophies for having the junior champion boar and grand champion gilt. They also won the Premier Sire and Premier Breeder's awards.

Jack and Jill pre-enrollment set

Pre-enrollment for the Jack and Jill Nursery School, a non-profit school operated by the Mentone United Methodist Church, will be Sept. 9 from 8:15 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The school is open to children ages three, four and five. Three-year-olds will attend two days a week and four and five-year-olds will have classes three days a week. Classes are from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

For additional information, call the teacher, Sarah Russell, 353-3505, or the assistant, Bev Surface, 353-3991.

School budget adopted without protest

Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's proposed budget was accepted without protest at a special meeting Thursday night. Only three board members, Dr. Wymond Wilson, Con Shewman and Don Snipes, were present, and the audience consisted of one spectator and two members of the press. Also present were Dr. Lloyd Harrell, school superintendent; Robert Forbes, business manager, and Judy Hively, deputy treasurer.

The budget was published in the July 31 and August 7 issues of the NEWS. It asked a tax rate of $4.42, of which 82 cents is earmarked for cumulative building fund.

In other business Thursday night, board members:

- Signed contracts for 86 teachers and four principals.

- Heard Dr. Harrell say school opening had been without event. (See enrollment figures in separate article.)

- Elected Dr. Wilson as delegate and Con Shewman as alternate to the Indiana School Boards Association meeting in French Lick on October 8, 9 and 10. Dr. Harrell will also attend.

- Approved an additional payroll for 15 student lifeguards who had inadvertently been paid on an incorrect salary schedule.

- Took note of Con Shewman's report that room 34 at Akron Junior High is leaking.

- Heard Dr. Harrell report elementary children are being bused to the high school for daily swim classes. He said this cost an additional $14.40 per day for transportation.

- Approved professional leave for Robert DuBois and Floyd Henson to attend a basketball clinic at Ft. Wayne on September 12 and 13.

- Accepted William Gagnon's resignation as a bus driver and signed a contract with Sue Gagnon as driver. Gagnon will be her substitute. Forbes reported that in the near future all bus drivers will prepare a list of their substitutes.

- Discussed the possibility of hiring a mechanic to work exclusively on corporation buses. It was noted the old bus barn at Mentone that in the past few years had been used for auto mechanics classes still has much of the equipment and could work well as a shop.

- Heard a report by Harrell concerning the Indiana Education Employment Relations board hearing he and Forbes attended in Indianapolis August 20. Primary concern of the hearing was the unfair labor practice suit filed because four people had been held $500 below schedule last year and a speech Forbes was supposed to have made in which he supposedly inferred his dislike for the Indiana State Teachers Association. Harrell said a second hearing will be scheduled in September to hear an unfair labor practice suit, which, like the first, was filed by the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association. It protests the board's posting and recognition of Professional Teachers Organization. The board has since been ordered to cease and desist from the latter.

- Accepted the resignation of Akron sixth grade teacher Michael Ann Burkett.

The next regular meeting will be September 15 in the preparation room of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Lewis goes to California school

Michael Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Akron, has been accepted at Santa Monica (California) Jr. College.

A 1975 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, Lewis was accompanied to California by Bart Duzenbury who will remain for two weeks before flying home.

Mentone Republicans choose candidates

Mentone Republicans caucused Wednesday evening, naming as town board candidates Kenneth Bush, Ward 3; Wayne Tombaugh, Ward 2, and Bill

Boardman, Ward 1. Bush and Boardman are incumbents.

Lea (Mrs. Jerry) Hudson was nominated for the post of clerk-treasurer.

Mentone Democrats pick fall slate

Twenty-two Mentone Democrats caucused last Thursday night at the Town Hall to slate candidates for the November 4 town election.

Town board candidates are Frank Hardesty, Ward 1; Richard Webb, Ward 2, and Gerald Romine, Ward 3. Jo Gamble was nominated for clerk-treasurer.

BIG ENOUGH FOR AN ARMY is this 104-pound watermelon grown by Ed Meredith, R. 1, Mentone. Meredith, shown checking the scales, planted special seed advertised to produce 100-pound melons, but he thinks this may be the only one to tip the scales over that mark.

Worry Clinic planned for area women

The third annual Women's Worry Clinic on September 24 at Trinity United Methodist Church in Warsaw will be open to all women in the area. It is designed to assist them by providing some of the tools needed to handle the stresses encountered in their daily lives.

A full day's activities have been announced by co-chairwomen Sue Blanner and Pat Burkey. Time will be included for talking and visiting as well as for learning. Workshops and question and answer sessions are scheduled.

Deanna Aquire Beall, drug consultant at the Northern Regional Service Center, So. Bend, will speak in the morning session. Her topic will be "Experiences in Living." Participants in her workshop will become involved in various exercises that will aid in coming to a better understanding of themselves and also of the process involved in making judgments and decisions.

Also available during the morning session will be a discussion of "Early Childhood Development" led by Dr. Ben Knott, executive director of the Five-County Mental Health Clinic.

Following a break for lunch, Dr. Darrel Kraft, coordinator of guidance and testing for the So-Bend Community School

2199 enroll in TVSC

When the bell sounded to open Tippecanoe Valley's 1975-6 school year last week, 2,199 students settled into class routines in four schools.

Of these, 682 are at Akron in grades K-8; 188 at Burket in K-5; 634 at Mentone in K-8 and 695 in 9-12 at Tippecanoe Valley High School.

The official enrollment will be taken later, according to Dr. Lloyd Harrell, who reported to school board members Thursday night that the school opening had gone well.

Yesterday is a cancelled check, tomorrow is a promissory note. Today is the only cash you have. Spend it wisely.
