Couple building log cabin home

by Sherry Blankenship

Not far from Burket, in the country, a young couple are building a log cabin. Reminiscent of a time when wild animals roamed Indiana freely, the cabin sits on a knoll in a clearing hewed from the forest. Our conversation is hushed as if we are being careful not to disturb the stillness that surrounds the cabin. A neighbors rooster, being chased by a guinea fowl, is not as considerate of the quiet and his crowing is startling as its sharpness invades the stillness.

Eldon and Susie Kinney first developed an interest in building a log cabin after a trip West. They stayed in a log lodge while there. "As soon as we got back we started talking to people about what went into building a log home and looking for suitable acreage on which to build it," they stated. They wanted a special piece of ground on which to build the log cabin so its rustic beauty would be enhanced. They looked for sometime, they told me, before they found just the right spot. Their choice was an excellent one. Sitting on their porch talking to them, it was as if I were transported back to a more simple time when life seemed less hectic.

Much like their pioneer counterparts, Eldon and Susie cleared a spot from the forest on which to build their log cabin. "We worked for three months last fall clearing brush and trees. We had to decide which trees we wanted to leave and which trees we wanted to cut," they commented. Deciding where the best spot on their two acres to erect the log cabin was difficult they added.

The Kinneys purchased their log home, in a kit form, from a company based in Connecticut. The company has several models from which to choose. Individuals choose the one that best suits their tastes and life-style. "Different variations of the homes are offered," Susie and Eldon informed me. It took three semi-trucks to transport the 600 logs and the roofing material required to build the home they chose. "One semi was needed for our roofing package alone," Eldon said.

Responsibility for unloading the logs rested on the Kinneys shoulders. They told me that they had to rent a fork lift and be there to unload and they were expected to have it done in a reasonable amount of time also. "The truckers helped us to unload, so we were fortunate," they commented. Susie said that when she seen all the logs piled up that she thought they would never see the end of it.

The model they chose has 1,750 square feet of living space. The log home may be placed on a concrete slab, block foundation, or over a basement. The Kinneys opted for a full basement. "I applied all of the waterproofing around the basement," Susie said.

They commented that the guy who did the basement had done a super job. When everything was leveled and squared it was within 1/4" of being completely squared. In fact, they said everything has been fine. "The logs have all fit together perfectly," Eldon stated.

The majority of log cabin home kits offered by the company include, of course, the logs, rafters,

From the two previous examples it would seem that someone needs to rake the volunteer group over the proverbial coals and if these were all the facts, they would deserve raking. Actually the total story in each case is just a bit different. In the case of the collapsed gentleman, the facts are accurate as far as they go. The man did collapse and he was helped home before the ambulance arrived. However, the two bystanders were not just bystanders. They were EMT's on call, who had responded directly to the scene. The gentleman refused to be transported and as good neighbors, the EMT's helped him home. The time frame of the second incident pales considerably in light of the log kept by the hospital on radio communication between the hospital and the ambulance was "late again".

second floor joists, gable ends, windows, doors, spikes, blueprints, windstop, caulking, and a chemical to spray the logs. A separate roofing package and a flooring package is also available. Some kits come with more and some with less depending on the model and extra packages ordered. The windows have grills that give the appearance of many small panes that snap out for cleaning and the windows and the doors are pre-hung.

Labor, plumbing, electrical work, foundation, cabinets, fireplace, if desired, tools, and other incidentals are supplied by the buyer.

Telephone deadline announced

General Telephone Company of Indiana has announced the October 1979 General telephone directory will close to name and address changes on August 2, according to Ed Knafel, district service manager. The directory closing date will affect listings for Akron, Claypool, Macy, Silver Lake, Atwood, Burket, Mentone, and Tippecanoe.

Listing additional family members and commonly used first names are changes which are often thought about after a new directory reaches the home. However, these changes should be reported now so they will be properly ly listed in the new directory. Business addresses which will change prior to the August date should also be reported. To make the desired changes for 1979, General Telephone customers should contact the local business office printed in the front of the current directory.

"Your listing should read to best identify you and the individual members of your family," Knafel noted.

The August 2 closing date is necessary to assure telephone customers the directory is in their homes and businesses next October.

Free gospel concert

The "Wings of Joy", a San Diego based musical ministry, will present a free Gospel Concert, Wednesday, August 8, at 7:30 p.m., at the Akron School Gymnasium.

Kerry and Raynell, the "Wings of Joy" singers, will be sharing in this concert as they return home to San Diego from a ten day crusade which they held in Trinidad, West Indies.

Rev. Flohr was born and reared in the Akron-Disko area and attended the Akron schools until 1962 when his family moved to California.

Everyone is invited to this time of musical praise and joy.

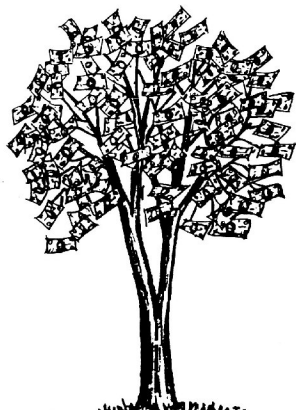

Youth League plans announced

The Mentone Youth League has completed another season of baseball, softball, and T-ball. Players can turn in their uniforms on Aug. 4, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

On Sunday, August 5, the Youth League will have its annual picnic. The picnic will begin at 12:30 with trophies being presented about 2:30. Three ball games are then on the agenda. There will be an All-Star T-ball game. The Pony League will play the male coaches and umpires and the senior girls will come up against the female coaches and umpires.

Holiday awarded

Mrs. Roger Moore, promotion coordinator, is working with Levart, Inc. in Ft. Wayne to insure the Purdy's have an enjoyable holiday and prepare for future holidays which she feels will be awarded in the near future. Mrs. Moore stated the two recipients thus far made large purchases at Harting Furniture explaining the short amount of time necessary for them to accumulate the $2500 goal. However, several others have recorded purchases from a variety of participating merchants and are approaching the required total surprisingly fast. The records available to date indicate that the promotion sponsors may have a couple honeymoons to their credit as well as providing several family holidays.

A rural Wabash man recently accepted the second holiday to be awarded by the North Manchester Get-A-Way - Give-A-Way sponsors. Richard P. Purdy, R. 5, Wabash, started last week making preparations to take his wife and grandchildren to Nashville in October. The Purdy's plan to visit Opryland, U.S.A. and attend a performance of Grand Ole Opry while in Nashville.

Participants in the promotion should request validation of their purchases promptly at each sponsor to facilitate up to date record keeping of their progress. Sponsors can be identified by the bright yellow posters in their windows. The promotion will continue through Nov. 15th at Snyder Ford, Harvey's Store, Mode-O-Day, Carpenter's Closet, Oppenheim's, Manchester Floor Covering, The Print Shoppe, Lance's Super Dollar, Harting Furniture, Snyder's Market, Wible's Shoes, Lady Bug Boutique, Hire's Electric and Gifts, Hansel and Gretel, Mr. Dave's, Manchester Greenhouse, Maynard's Mens Shop, Western Auto, The Inn, Mark's Hallmark and Gifts, and Coast to Coast Hardware.

New license fee

schedule now in effect

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles would like to remind Indiana drivers that effective August 1, 1979, the half fee schedule for Indiana license plates will be implemented.

This pertains only to license registration fees, not excise tax, which will continue to be prorated on a monthly basis. There are two different types of 1/2 fee schedules.

Passenger plates and house car plates, both of which expire on a staggered monthly basis, will be half fee only if a vehicle is purchased after the individual's registration month.

The following types of plates are always 1/2 fee, regardless of the vehicle purchase date, if the plate is purchased on or after August 1: motorcycles, trailers, buses, trucks, farm trailers, farm trucks, tractors, antiques, redeclared weights, and semi-trailers (with the exception of two-year semi-trailer plates, which are always full fee).

Log cabin home ...

Susie and Eldon on the porch of their log home.

When I asked if a person needed carpentry skills to erect the log cabin, Eldon replied that a general knowledge of carpentry was needed. He modestly admitted that he "kind of knew some" about it before they started. Susie interjected and said that he knew more than just a little.

"I have learned quite a bit about it as I have gone along," he stated. "I have also done a lot of reading and the logs are numbered and, of course, I have the blueprints. It is a home that one can build themselves," he commented.

They have both shared the work needed to clear the lot and build their home. "We work every evening and every weekend," they said. They now work in the morning instead of the evening as Eldon, an assistant pressman at Donnelly's, now works the afternoon shift.

"Both our fathers and our relatives have helped us faithfully," they stated. A friend, Pat Ihnen, has been particularly helpful and has spent many hours working with them. "We want to thank everyone who has helped," they said.

"A lot of times when we work at our jobs all day and work at the cabin too, it is 9:30 p.m. before we sit down to eat our dinner," Susie said. She brings a crock pot and plugs it into the electrical post so they can have hot food while they work.

Susie is a speech and hearing therapist for Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation and recently completed work on her masters degree. She keeps a diary of each days progress and also keeps a pictorial record as well.

The logs for their home are hand-peeled white pine and are 8-10" in diameter of varying lengths. They are soaked in an odorless and colorless preservative which prevents rot or insect damage. It is recommended that the owner spray this preservative on the logs periodically. In the North it is recommended that it be applied every two years. Application is done with a fruit sprayer.

Sealing of the logs is done with a spline of fiberboard that fits into a groove cut into the logs, a piece of foam, and some caulking. This insures a tight seal. A 10" spike is driven into the logs every 2 1/2 feet also, to further insure a snug fit. Eldon said that how are the logs sealed was one of the questions most frequently asked about the cabin.

The other question most frequently asked by the many people who stop to admire the Kinneys work is how do you insulate. "Wood is one of the best insulation materials you can have," Eldon informed me. The only other insulation besides the natural insulation of the wood is in the roof. There are two inch thick, four foot by eight foot sheets of urethane insulation placed beneath the roofing. This comes with the roofing package the Kinneys ordered. That, combined with the 2 inch tongue and groove planking, roofers felt, and the asphalt shingles that resemble wooden shake shingles, the roof components have an "R" value of 20.55. "R" value is a measurement used to evaluate an insulation material's resistance to heat loss. "It should be warm in the winter and cool in the summer," they commented. The Kinneys plan to heat their home with a wood burning heater that will sit in the main room of the home. A hot water, electric furnace in the basement will provide a back-up heat source.

The walls dividing the rooms within the home are regular stud walls. The plumbing goes in these walls. The bottom log of the home is flat and all the electrical wiring and outlets go here. "I had to drill a hole for electric wiring through each log in order to have a light on the outside," Eldon said.

will tell," Susie commented, "as to how much will be involved with keeping the interior walls clean."

The beauty of the interior logs may be enhanced by applying Urethane or using boiled linseed oil.

"I plan to decorate with a rustic theme in mind throughout the house," Susie stated. "We plan to carpet the downstairs, but we are leaving the upstairs natural. I would like to have oval braided rugs for "A lot of people have stopped by just to look and ask questions," they said. "Where we bought the kit, the guy said that people would stop by. It has been fun showing our home off though," they smiled. The Kinneys informed me that homes such as theirs were not that uncommon anymore. Several are being built or have been built in the surrounding areas. I felt, however, that theirs would be unique, as they were such warm friendly people and they were putting a lot of themselves into their home. "It has been a lot of work," they said, "but it has been satisfying."

"I didn't know it would go up as fast as it has," Eldon commented.

"Hopefully, we can move in by the first of October."

After the interview as my son and I drove away, turning to wave goodbye I saw that the sunlight was shimmering down through the foliage of the trees onto the Kinneys as they returned to their work and I envied them.

"We had a difficult time getting financing for our home," they said. "The bank didn't want to loan us the money because our home was not a conventional one. Getting insurance was no problem whatsoever," they added.

I asked Susie how she intended to clean the interior of the logs. She said that she would use a whisk broom to remove the loose bits of bark and the dust and dirt that had accumulated. After that, she said, a vacuum cleaner would probably be used on the interior logs. "Time some of the floors and antiques to decorate with. When it comes to the large open loft the Kinneys are undecided on how to decorate it. Eldon has visions of a pool table and Susie envisions antiques gracing the log walls and natural floors.

Susie has plans for an old church pew and a swing for use on the porch. They also have some huge beams from an old corn crib that they plan to build the stairs with. They said that it would probably take a long time to get it decorated the way they planned.

Farming life is ever changing

by Eula Romayne Smith

About fifty or sixty years ago threshing machines were an important part of the summer farm scene. Strictly speaking, a threshing machine was a steam engine plus a separator, huller, or shredder, depending on the grain being harvested.

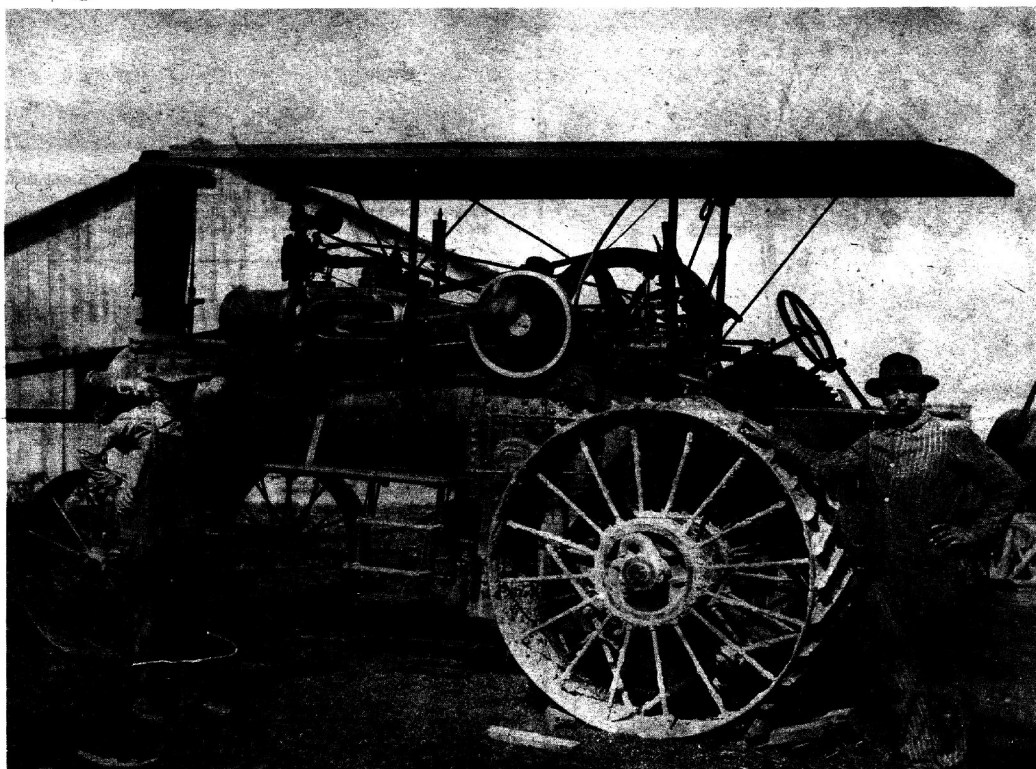

One steam engineer in the Mentone area was Granville Horn, who lived on Birch Road in Marshall County where Kenneth Horn lives now. Granville Horn worked for farmers within a couple of miles of his house. His son, Howard, shared some memories of threshing days.

The season lasted six or eight weeks. Wheat, rye, and perhaps a little barley were first, followed by oats. Later they hulled clover, and in late fall, they shredded corn. Now we have combines which move through the field, cutting and threshing the ripe grain, but then, although the threshing equipment was moved from farm to farm, it was necessary to haul the grain to the threshing place, and since ripe grain shatters during handling, harvest work started a week or two earlier.

"One time," Howard Horn said, "they started on July 4th, but that was especially early, because the grain had to be cut and shocked before that." First a horse- or tractor-drawn binder cut and tied the grain into bundles which were piled together to form shocks. Clover was cut and raked more like hay.

Granville Horn's first steam engine was a Case. Later he had a Keck-Gonnerman which had approximately twenty horsepower. Usually three men were needed to operate this equipment. Granville usually ran the separator, another man ran the engine, while the third hauled water. Now that we have switch keys and automatic starters, it seems strange that they needed to start about an hour early to build a coal or wood fire and heat the water to provide steam pressure. They banked the fires at night.

Each farmer needed five or six men with teams and wagons to keep the bundles moving from the field, and two or three more men in the field to pitch the bundles onto the wagons, so, often twelve or fifteen men joined together to form a threshing ring. They selected a captain who assigned tasks. Howard recalled that after he was old enough to drive a team, that was usually his assignment, and he continued,

"You feed and water the team at noon before you eat. It was nicer to drive over in a car."

Often the farmer was responsible for storing the grain as it came out the auger spout. If the farmer wanted to make a neat straw stack, the crew might also include a blower boy. His job was to control the deflector on the large exhaust pipe that the straw was blown through. When the straw was blown into the barn, and later when baled straw became common, a blower boy was not needed.

A child was given the task of carrying water to the crew. Sometimes for a joke, they put hot water into the jug. Another break in the routine occurred occasionally when a rattlesnake appeared in one of the shocks along the river.

Boys liked to blow the whistle on the steam engine. "What was the whistle used for?" I asked.

"To call the water boy, to hurry up the men from the field, and at noon. The noon whistle!" Howard exclaimed. "Now, that's the one!"

The tables were jammed full.

"With people or food?"
"Both. The women tried to outdo their neighbors." Three or four women helped the hostess prepare and cook great quantities of food. The menu might include fried chicken, gravy, mashed potatoes, beef and noodles, green beans, salads, homemade bread, butter, and apple butter, a big dish of prunes (These were special because they came from the store), and an assortment of pies and cakes.

Response is slow in Akron EMT random public survey

In last weeks edition of the NEWS we began a series of articles concerning public opinion and the Akron volunteer ambulance group. We concluded the first article by promising you the views of selected group members and also those of the general public. Well, for what may be the first time, there is very little public opinion.

Questionnaires were prepared and distributed at random but response has been spotty. All replies which have been received so far have been positive in their comments concerning the group in several areas. While we don't feel that enough response was obtained to give a true sampling, we will share some of the remarks given.

All responses so far felt that public opinion of the group at this time was positive with one adding, "I believe the public judges before they know the true facts." All expressed confidence in the group and there was even one "absolutely". The only suggestion which was made regarding improvement of the service was that the public get behind the group members and "make things easier for everyone concerned."

Perhaps the comment which must be given the most weight is the following by Pat Studebaker. "On August 16, 1978, our son was hurt in a motorcycle accident. Due to the quick and prompt service of the EMTs, he has both legs. So many times we judge before we put ourselves in someone else's shoes."

What we have so far may sound like a snow job to some people but

Do you remember this?

ONE OF THE FIRST dial telephones was installed back in August 1953 for Akron in the business office of the NEWS. Mrs. Claude Billings and H.L. Groninger, cashier of the Akron Exchange State Bank (r) looked on as Lloyd Hileman illustrated how the installations were made. On the left is Mr. Bud Parrett, Plant Supervisor of General Telephone Company of Indiana.

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the August 6, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mrs. Larry Flenar and two children left on Sunday afternoon for Honolulu, T. H. to join Larry, who is stationed there as a radio repairman with the Air Force. Carol was accompanied to Chicago by her mother, Mrs. Byron Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoover, of Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilvin Teel and family are moving to their farm on road 19 south of Mentone this week.

Here is some important information to all those who plan to enter eggs in the Mentone Egg Show. It comes from J. Holmes Martin, head of Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station. He urges that entrants do not wrap their eggs in newspapers because the print stains the egg shells. Pass this information on!

"Don't learn the hard way. Look up before using tall machinery near power lines."

Glenn R. Lee, superintendent

When it comes to personal safety, you can't be too cautious. Especially if you're working with tall machinery near power lines. Use extreme caution. Check the vertical clearance before operating cranes, booms, grain augers, conveyors and other "high rise" equipment. Never raise equipment higher than absolutely necessary. And remember to lower it before moving again. Above all, pay attention and think before you act. Your safety is in your own hands.

Newsview

by Bob Norlander

Sometimes it's hard to ignore coincidence. A couple weeks ago it overwhelmed me.

Two news releases came in the mail. One was from the old familiar National Rifle Association. The other came from an outfit called Handgun Control, Inc.

The Control people had issued their monthly "Handgun Body Count Bulletin."

This one showed another 630 Americans had been killed by handguns in May alone, bringing the total body count for the 1st five months of 1979 to at least 3,105.

The Rifle Association people on the other hand were ranting against the nomination of an Illinois congressman for the U.S. District Court of Appeals for Washington, DC.

Abner Mikva is unfit to serve, said the NRA, because he keeps introducing bills into Congress that would make people register their handguns.

The Control people told about some of the people who have been killed by guns:

"21-year-old Andrew Medosa was murdered by a driver who thought the victim had sideswiped his car to get to a shorter gas line in Brooklyn, NY. Medosa's pregnant wife was with him at the time."

Meanwhile the Rifle people charged:

"Mikva clearly views the nation's 50-million firearms owners as second-class citizens."

The Body Count Bulletin told about a 14-year-old Dallas boy who was shot and killed by a passing motorist as he sat on his bicycle talking with friends.

Meanwhile the Rifle people said:

"Abner Mikva has endorsed registration and licensing laws and federal data banks on gun owners, while opposing the same type of private information being kept on other citizens..."

"Mikva has also endorsed the nationwide adoption of stop-and-frisk laws aimed at confiscating firearms, even, when, as Mikva has stated, there is no commission of a crime."

The Body Count Bulletin told of a 69-year-old Salvation Army Store Clerk in Montgomery, Ala., who was gunned down and killed during a holdup.

"As an extremist in Congress, he (Mikva) can find little support among his 534 colleagues. But as an extremist on the Federal bench, he can exercise almost imperial power to achieve bias against gun owners."

The Body Count Bulletin told about little 4-year-old Shelby McQueen of Miami. Shelby was shot and killed by his 9-year-old cousin who thought the handgun he had picked up was a water pistol.

"Not only is Abner Mikva far out of step with gun owners, but also with the general public in his demands..." said the National Rifle Association release.

I never did hear if Mikva got the judgeship, but I sure hope so.

There's been a lot of talk lately about the commercial additives put into our food by manufacturing companies. Unfortunately, most people don't know what to watch for or why these things have been added to the food. And until you know why, it's not very easy to make a decision as to whether you approve or disapprove.

Many consumer advocates claim that our foods are sprinkled with unnecessary chemicals just to aid in processing and selling. The Federal Food and Drug Administration is in charge of determining the safety of all food additives. They recently proposed a ban on saccharin, an artificial sweetener.

Around 2,800 substances are added to food intentionally to produce a desired effect, according to the FDA; such things as residues from pesticides used to treat crops, and chemicals that transfer from plastic packaging to food.

The main reason for adding these substances is the eating demands of a largely urban society that lives long distances from its food supplies. Many consumers want their food conveniently packaged and prepared and available year around. To meet these demands additives are necessary.

In this small town, rural area we see less of a demand for such convenience and packaged foods because many people grow their own. Nevertheless, people everywhere are still demanding convenience over nutrition and that's where the controversy starts.

Here's a quick review of the four major purposes for additives. You can make your own decision:

- To maintain or improve nutritional value: For people's diets which may be lacking in vitamins and minerals - Ex.: Vitamin D in milk, Vitamin A in margarine, iodine in table salt.

- To maintain freshness: Foods that sit on the grocery shelf, in the kitchen cupboard or in the refrigerator last as long as they do because of additives that retard spoilage, loss of color and flavor, and keep fats and oils from turning rancid. Ex.: Nitrates are added to cured meats, fish and poultry, ascorbic acid (Vitamin C) keeps peaches from turning brown, and BHA and BHT prevent changes in color, flavor, and or texture when foods are exposed to air.

- To help in processing or preparation: Ex.: Emulsifiers are added to give peanut butter and mayonnaise texture and to keep it from separating; thickeners to prevent ice crystals from forming in ice cream; and leavening agents such as yeast and baking powder.

- To make food more appealing: Coloring agents, natural and synthetic flavors, Ex.: MSG (monosodium glutamate), and sweeteners.

We are all eating these chemicals. Some people manage to ingest only a little while others eat them at every meal.

Coping with child's fear

Your five-month-old baby cries when a babysitter comes, and tries to hide behind your legs when a neighbor says, "hello". And, most devastating, she screams whenever grandpa or grandma comes near.

"Most babies go through this phase," says Dena Targ, Extension child development and family studies specialist at Purdue University. "But a little information on the subject can make living through the difficult times easier for both baby and parent." It is useful to remember that some fear can be beneficial by discouraging the baby from wandering off or trying to make friends with unfriendly people.

To encourage a friendly response to strangers:

*Combine the familiar and unfamiliar. If a child meets a stranger when she is close to her parents, and they reassure her while she "checks out" the new person, she will probably be less afraid. It also helps if she is in her own home or another place she knows well, or if she has some of her favorite toys to play with.

*Introduce your child to a stranger when she is relaxed and happy.

When your child meets a new babysitter, you usually go away. When the child goes to the doctor, she is usually sick or needs a shot. If those are the only times she meets strangers it's no wonder she's afraid! Try to give your child the chance to meet strangers when everything is fine. Let her know that meeting new people can be fun!

Picnic planned

The Akron Youth League picnic will be Monday, August 13 at 6:30 p.m. at the Akron park. You are asked to bring a covered dish and your own table service.

Trophies will be presented to the 12 year old participants. This picnic is for both parents and children.

This series was never intended to take that turn. If you have any opinions which differ with those we've received, we'd love to hear them. We would also like to open this up to include the ambulance services in Mentone and Silver Lake. If you live in any of these areas or are involved with any of these services, let us hear from you. Remember, this is your paper and these are your ambulance services so here's your big chance to "speak now or forever hold your peace".

1979: The year of the Valley Viking's

by Vern Hucks
Sports Editor

With the Jamboree coming up on August 18, Tippecanoe Valley is ready to kick off their fourth full varsity season. After spending an hour with Head Coach Charlie Smith, you get the feeling that this year's edition may be the most successful yet. Carrying the state's longest regular season winning record (25 straight) and having never lost a home game (21-0), the 79 Vikings come well prepared.

Few teams could suffer the losses by graduation that Valley has and still come back with perhaps a stronger team. Valley lost 13 senior letter winners this spring who accounted for six offensive starting positions and three on defense. Those graduation losses include All-Staters Charles (Chewy) Secrist and Allen Utter, second team all-state back Brent Rutherford, and honorable mention center Mark Holt. Also lost are All-Conference tackle Doug Marburger, alternating guard Randy Riner, and the two big men 6'5", 245 lb. Mark Shriver and 6'3", 220 lb. Chuck Hurd.

Even with the graduation losses, Valley is returning the largest number of starters in the team's history. The Vikings have eight plus starters back on defense and six offensively. Returnees include AP first team all-staters Tim Alspaugh and David Rhodes. Both these men won their honors offensively but both double as defensive starters. Both also contributed over 1000 yards to the "78" offense. Tim by rushing and David by passing. Other returning seniors include two year starter Bill Jamison, Greg Utter, Mark Shireman, Greg Cumberland, David Newlin, Herb King, Steve Wagoner, Andy Shoemaker, and Joe Harter. Although the nucleus of the team is made up of seniors, junior Brett Arven (78 all-conference first team) and sophomore Gilbert Martens are expected to be key factors in 79.

Offensively the team only lacks depth at the tackle position. The starting tackles however are both quality, Greg Cumberland (who Smith feels has a shot at becoming the best tackle in Valley history) and last year's sophomore stand-out Brent Arven. Probable starters at end are David Newlin and Joe Harter with Jerry Bickel and Steve Wagoner coming on. The guard positions are solid with Mark Shireman and Gary McKee being backed up by Dan Roberts and Jerry Parker. The center position has the best depth in Viking history with Herb King solidly backed by Brent Arven and Dan Roberts. In the backfield will be David Rhodes at quarterback, Tim Alspaugh at tailback, Greg Utter at fullback and Bill Jamison at power back. Rhodes is backed up by junior David Leckrone with sophomore Gilbert Martens being the first substitute running back. The Viking backfield may well be the physically strongest in the state with all four running backs bench-pressing in the 275 pound neighborhood. Speed is not lacking in the backfield either with Alspaugh, Jamison, and Utter turning in legitimate 4.8 second 40 yard dashes.

Defensively, the Vikes look tough again with eight of the 11 starters returning from last season. The probable starting defensive linemen are Brent Arven and David Newlin at end with Greg Cumberland and Gilbert Martens at tackle. Both positions have solid depth with Hal May, Gary Wagoner, and Andy Shoemaker backing up the ends and Lynn Fuller beginning to emerge at tackle. If needed, Arven can also be switched from end to tackle. The linebacking corps includes Alsbaugh, King, Newlin, and Roberts at the outside position with Shireman, Utter, and McKee inside. Defensive backs include Jamison, Harter, Rhodes, juniors Jerry Bickel and Marlin Meredith, and David Leckrone.

The kicking game appears solid this season with Greg Utter doing the punting and competing with Gilbert Martens for place-kicking honors. The kick-off spot is three deep with Martens, Arven, and Gary Wagoner all having a shot at it.

The Vikings are lacking in size this year when compared with former teams but due to their weight program, have the strongest overall team in school history. The team also has fair height and good quickness all of which combine to give them better potential than last year.

Coach Smith feels that the toughest opponent on the schedule for this season will probably be Southwood, with Rochester, LaVillie, and Triton rounding out the top four.

No run-down of the Vikings would be complete without mentioning intangibles, all of which seem to favor them. The fact that none of these kids have ever played on a losing team means a great deal in confidence and emotion. The Valley also has one of the strongest crowd followings in the state which never hurts anything. Quoting Coach Smith in his report to HOOSIER GRIDIRON, "We have a winning tradition with a 34-6 overall record and 31-4 record for our three full years of varsity competition. If we stay on our toes and keep our Viking Pride alive, '79' could be the year for our Valley contingency and our long awaited state championship."

Ladson named Pride Seed dealer for area

Dale Ladson, Mentone area, has been named Pride Seed Dealer in the local area according to Richard Bair, Pride sales representative for this section of Indiana.

In making the announcement Mr. Bair pointed out that Dales assigned sales area will be Franklin Twp. Since its organization in 1934, Pride has expanded to become one of the nation's leading seed corn companies. Headquartered at Glen Haven, Wisconsin, the company has a Research Farm and Processing Plant at Glen Haven in addition to plants at DeWitt, Iowa and Amboy, Minnesota. Meet Valley's new assistant principal

by Sherry Blankenship

Keith W. Wortinger, 31, is the new assistant principal at Tippecanoe Valley High School. By his own definition he is from the old school and believes in Mom, Apple and the American way. Also by his own definition he is only two meters tall. "Two meters is just a shade under 6'7", he smiled.

Raised in the small town of French Lick, Indiana, he still likes the atmosphere of a small town, and the people in small towns. "I like the type of people I have met here," he says. "I feel comfortable with them. It is like being back home." "In a community such as this one you are a name not a number. People know you as a person. I like knowing my neighbor," he stated, "and walking down the street and calling people by their name and pausing a moment to chat about the weather or how your favorite big league team is doing in the ratings." "Typical of this friendliness, one of my neighbors, who I had only met a couple of times, brought a cabbage to us," he said.

Wortinger has a B.S. from Union College in Barbourville, Kentucky. He had a full basketball scholarship and the small private college appealed to him. He worked on his Masters Degree at Western Michigan University.

He has taught for the past ten years at South Haven, Michigan. "I taught high school level and I have taught fifth grade as well. I was also Math Department Chairman. I also coached some basketball and worked with the intramur-ral football program," he said. "This is the first time I have been on the other side of the desk," he stated.

His internship to become an administrator took him to three different schools, Paw Paw, Michigan; South Haven, Mich.; and Portage, Mich. "Each school system has a different approach," he said. "Before I became an administrator I wanted to understand the good and the bad points. It is a challenge, but I am looking forward to it," he commented.

Some of the duties Wortinger will take on at Valley are the disciplinary and attendance one. He will also supervise sports and extra-curricular activities and supervise the use of school buses at athletic events among other duties. He said that Loren Skinner, principal at Valley or himself will try to be at every school club meeting this coming school year. If the club needs a yes or no from the principal's office on a planned activity, the principal will be on hand to give or withhold authority. "Perhaps we can make the clubs more active, more a part of the school. Students learn a lot by doing something," he emphasized.

"I am impressed with the manner in which the school is constantly in use for school and community activities," he said. "That is using the school the way it was meant to be used. Schools are very expensive and it is gratifying to see taxpayers using it," he commented. "I like the community spirit here, too," he added. Wortinger has worked at Valley this past summer and has had an opportunity to meet many teachers and students as well as parents.

Sharing his philosophy with me, he said, "I feel if you are fair and honest with people they will be fair and honest with you." He plans to use this philosophy with the students. "I respect young people a lot and hold them in the highest esteem. I will approach any problem in a positive manner. No one likes to be put down," he commented.

Wortinger is married and has two children, Brian, 6, who will be a first grader at Mentone and Heather, 3. Joanne, his wife of eleven years, is a former teacher. One factor in his decision to locate in this area was that he wanted his children to grow up in the same type of community in which he was raised. Wortinger enjoys basketball, tennis, golf, and camping.

Akron appears to be pleased with EMT's work

For the past two weeks the NEWS has been running a series of articles on public opinion as regards the Akron volunteer ambulance service. Last week we dealt with how the public felt about the service. In this final article of the series, the EMT's get their turn. As with the general public, questionnaires were prepared and circulated to selected group members.

The first question asked how public opinion affected the individual in the performance of their duties. Most replied that public opinion didn't affect their performance at all. One said that it irritated him but didn't affect his performance, one felt that constructive criticism helped, and one said that public opinion affected him positively.

Dixie Summe, one of the newest members of the group, replied, "You cannot let public opinion affect what you have been trained to do. When on a call all you think about is the patient and procedure."

Next, we took that question a little further and asked how public opinion affected each as a member of the community. The general consensus of the members polled was that they didn't like being hassled but they pretty much ignored it. One said that he was "aware" of it, one felt respected, and it definitely bothered one member. One member, who wished to remain nameless, felt like this, "At times comments are made which do hurt me but I've learned to accept them by keeping in mind that I'm doing the very best I can."

Our third question was "How do you feel that the group as a whole rates with the local populace?" All but one seemed to feel that they were well accepted with the one merely stating "accepted". One unnamed member who felt that the group was well accepted elaborated, "...I don't feel that the community has the pride in the unit that we deserve. Other communities have immense pride in units whose records don't come close to ours."

For our final question, we expanded on the third by asking how the unit should rate with the community. This time it was unanimous for "well". Jon Fultz, group member from the beginning, explained his feelings. "Since we work with a government-funded service but receive none of the money directly, our EMS group should be rated in two ways. First, as a group of community volunteers, we should be rated by our concern for, and treatment of, our neighbors. Second, as an ambulance provider, we should be rated by the worth of our service in relation to the cost of that service. In both cases, I believe that we should rate well with the citizens of this area."

We also left space for additional comments and received several interesting ones. Most seemed to deal with the same problems so we have chosen two which seem to be representative. The first is by Phil Allen, an EMT in his fourth year of certification. "People in the Akron area should be able to go to visit other communities served by volunteer type services and come home confident that the Akron unit is one of the finest in the state." The other comment which seemed to be consensus was best said by current group president, John Weida. "Our largest problem is lack of public education on the role of EMS and EMT's in general, and a lack of willingness to get involved. We need more people to become EMT's, drivers, and supporters of this unit if it is to succeed in its goals. We need more of the business community to provide people time to be on call during the day. In general, we need the community behind us helping the volunteers do the best possible job."

A little more public response has trickled into the office since our last week's story and it too is all positive. Although there seems to be those few who are vocal in their criticism of anything different, the Akron community appears to be pretty well pleased with their volunteer ambulance and from what we've learned, they should be. From all the EMT's we talked with we got the overwhelming feeling that this is a group of people who really care about their neighbors and are willing to do their best to serve no matter what a handful think or say. Akron should be proud.

The Akron Chapter of Fulton County EMS recently presented local funeral directors Dale Sheetz and Tom Hauptert with plaques in honor of their many years of ambulance service to the Akron community. Shown presenting the plaques to Tom (L) and Dale (R) is Vern Hucks, former group president.

Akron EMS elects new officers

The Akron Chapter of Fulton County EMS was held on August 7, 1979 in the Akron ambulance garage with the main order of business being the election of new officers. Officers for the coming year are John Weida, president; Paul Teel, Vice-President/Training Officer; Wayne Cumberland, Secretary; Jon Fultz, Board Representative and Head Driver; and Vernon Hucks, Public Relations.

Discussion later in the meeting concerned itself with proper use of lights and siren, the current series of articles in THE NEWS, and problems which have been experienced with the telephone system when attempting to reach the emergency number.

Congratulations were extended to Brenda Waymire, Dixie Summe, and Kurt Waymire for recently passing the state EMT certification test.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

I recently found some tips that should make retirement easier for someone who is not looking forward to it. There are some traps you can fall into.

The first trap is domestic. Especially for a man who has never shared household duties with his wife. Husband and wife had better make friends and establish a peace about domestic duties immediately or the house may suddenly become too small.

The second trap is decompression. Going from a busy schedule to retirement does not have to mean a full stop. Idleness can cause a lot of problems.

The third trap, for some, may be drinking. Ah, leisure time, have a drink! For obvious reasons this trap can cause devastating problems.

The fourth trap: getting fat. Eating too much, exercising too little. Sitting in the old easy chair too many hours a day. Avoid this routine from the very beginning. Healthy living habits can make retirement feel a lot better.

The fifth trap: waiting for the world to come to you. You may have a long wait. If you want to look for a new job, full or part time, or pursue a favorite activity of yours, do so aggressively. If you wait to be asked, you may wait forever.

The sixth trap is selling yourself short. You're still the same woman or man as you were before retirement. Analyze what you want to do with the rest of your life and don't underestimate yourself. Tell yourself how wonderful you are.

If anyone has any helpful hints like these, send them to me.

The Chamberlin building in Akron.

Plant manager reports Chamberlin plant not to close

Owing to the rumors which have been running rampant around the area, the NEWS felt obliged to check out the possibility that Chamberlin Products might be terminating operations at the Akron plant.

The NEWS contacted Mr. Ted Clark, plant manager, and asked him if this was a possibility. Clark replied that as far as he was concerned, there was no substantiation for these rumors whatsoever.

The plant is now operating only one shift and has been for the past three weeks. Although the work force is somewhat lower than usual, plans are to add personnel slowly beginning Monday, August 20. Clark further told us that the month of September looks pretty good, but anything in the future depends on Chrysler and their reaction to the upcoming United Auto Workers negotiations with General Motors.

One of the more persistent rumors concerned the purchase of Chamberlin property by Pike Lumber Company. The NEWS attempted to contact Howard Utter about this but he was unavailable as of press time.

Board chooses architect

by Sherry Blankenship

In action taken Monday night the Tippecanoe Valley School Board chose the architectural firm of Daverman out of Grand Rapids, Michigan to make a feasibility study for the proposed middle school, gymnasium, and the repair of existing buildings.

Board members had previously narrowed the field to two architectural firms, Fanning and Howey, Selina, Ohio and Daverman, Grand Rapids. The board interviewed the firms and talked to present and former clients of each of the firms. They also viewed some projects of the respective firms before making their final choice.

Vice-president, Don Snipes, and Board member, Lee Norris, were split on which firm to choose. Norris was impressed with the engineering aspects of Fanning and Howey. Snipes said that overall he thought that Daverman had more to offer. Dr. Lloyd Harrell, superintendent of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, said that both firms were among the finest doing work for schools. He admitted that the decision was a difficult one to make. He also complemented the board on the thorough job they had done in researching the firms.

Snipes made a motion to choose Daverman and board member Vernon Meredith seconded. Norris was in opposition but President Con Shewman went with the majority and the Daverman firm was chosen. Secretary of the board, Everett Besson, was absent from the meeting.

Board members also gave Dr. Harrell authorization to publish the second notice of the cumulative building fund. The board had previously adopted a CBF of $1 per $100 of taxable property.

Dr. Harrell informed the board that an orientation day for teachers new to the corporation would be on Thursday, August 23 and a bus drivers meeting would be on the morning of the 23. Organization day for staff is Friday, Aug. 24.

Loren Skinner, TVHS principal, reported that two-thirds of the high school students were already enrolled. He also stated that a football game would be played on Friday. As school will not be in session, student tickets will be on sale at the gate for $1, the usual student price. Adult tickets will be $1.50. "We have kept our prices the same as last year," he commented, "so that families can come to the games." Season tickets are available for $6. Skinner also introduced Keith Wortinger, assistant principal at Valley. This was Wortinger's first board meeting.

Mentone principal, Jack Fisher, and Burket principal, Mark Barker, reported that they were enrolling students and taking book rental money this week. All reported that everything should be ready for the opening of school on August 27.

Dr. Harrell told the board that the school buildings were clean and ready to go. "At present we also have a full staff," he said. "Some of the boilers may need some additional work, however," he added.

He informed the board that a boiler inspector from the Hartford Ins. Co. had inspected the boilers. "A crack was found in one of the Mentone boilers. It can be repaired by welding. It is not unusual to find cracks in boilers," he said. "Three or four leaks were found in one Akron boiler but the high school one is okay."

"A pipe going beneath the street at Akron school has been dug up," he informed the board. It was found to have large holes in it. The pipe is being replaced. The inspector informed Dr. Harrell that the pipe must be wrapped in insulation and also a new condensation return pipe installed as well. "The state accepts the insurance inspectors recommendations so we must proceed," he said. The job had previously been estimated to cost approximately $4900. The cost probably will go over the $5000 mark now, however. The board is supposed to bid out any job over $5000. The board and Dr. Harrell agreed that there was nothing they could do as work had already begun on the project before the inspector ordered additional changes.

Snipes asked Dr. Harrell if he had visually inspected any of the buses for cleanliness. "The one I seen," Snipes said, "wasn't very well kept. Snipes inquired that wasn't it the drivers responsibility to keep the buses clean. Dr. Harrell replied that the cleanliness of the buses was the drivers responsibility. "I do see quite a few of the buses myself," he stated.

Snipes also inquired if drivers were bringing their buses into the bus garage to have them inspected and worked on. He said that when the drivers had to take the buses to service stations they always drove them in themselves. Dr. Harrell said that most of the drivers have brought their buses in on their own when they were scheduled to do so. "I think there may have been one occasion when the bus mechanic had to go get a bus himself, but it was because the driver had a prior appointment and could not cancel it." He stressed that no one had refused to bring their buses in themselves, however. The school board hired Steve Heller to replace Bud Dilts who resigned and Snipes didn't think that he (Heller) needed the additional chore of picking up buses on top of organizing and scheduling the buses for inspection.

Dr. Harrell was given permission by the board to submit a proposal to the state to become involved in an adult education project. The project is completely funded by the state and is designed to see if people would attend adult classes if a sitter were available. Dr. Harrell said that it was for day adult classes only.

In other action the board signed GEDs for Linda Hull, Vanessa Lea Reiseman, and Carma Lee Gagnon.

The board accepted Bob Hunt's resignation. Hunt was a fifth grade teacher at Mentone. They also accepted Janet Clevenger's resignation. She was a part-time kindergarten teacher at Akron. Cathy Suchecki was given a first semester child rearing leave. Mrs. Suchecki had a child in July.

Board members hired Larry Bibler for fifth grade at Akron. Bonnie Kramer (Ogburn) was hired to fill Suchecki's position, second grade at Mentone, for the first semester and to teach eighth grade language and reading the second semester. Aaron Greve was hired as a high school English and journalism teacher. Lynn Helvey was hired as fifth grade teacher at Mentone.

The board will hold another meeting on August 30 for the purpose of a local budget hearing. The meeting will be at 7:30 at TVHS.

A local firm was represented at the 40th American Convention of Meat Processors held this week at Caesars Palace, Las Vegas.

Representing Leininger & Sons Inc., of Akron, were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Leininger.

The Convention drew meat processors and industry representatives from throughout the United States and Canada for the four-day program, which featured displays of the latest in equipment, materials and services used by the local firm.

Conferees also participated in seminar programs and panel discussions which highlighted new trends in the industry and future marketing ideas.

Herendeen displays acrobatic skills to Mentone Flying Club

Honored guests at the Sunday afternoon Mentone Flying Club picnic were Robert Clupper, new owner of the Mentone Airport, and his son Mart.

A good attendance of 22 members, most of whom entered the contests, made the competition more challenging. Ralph Stolte, chairman, conducted the contests that included precision landing and target bombing. Bill Willard placed first and Harrison Crabill second in the landing competition.

Jeff Brovant, last years over-all winner, placed first and second in the bombing with Ralph Stolte placing third.

Everyone was treated to an acrobatic display performed by Bob Herendeen later in the day. A large crowd gathered to see the amazing exhibition.

The next meeting will feature a demonstration on the correct way to pre-heat an airplane in preparation for winter flight. Members and others interested in flying are urged to attend.

Newsview by Bob Norlander

This issue marks the last week that our feature writer, Sherry Blankenship, will work with us.

Sherry, a 1979 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, will be attending Manchester College this fall, to further her education.

Goodbye and hello

Many people have commented on how much they have enjoyed her stories this summer, and we all wish her success at school.

Joining us this week is Vern Hucks.

Vern, and his wife Carol, live northwest of Akron with their two children, Robin, 8, and Caleb, 6.

Vern, sometimes known as "Buster" will handle Sports news, and many of the other responsibilities that is involved in publishing a weekly newspaper.

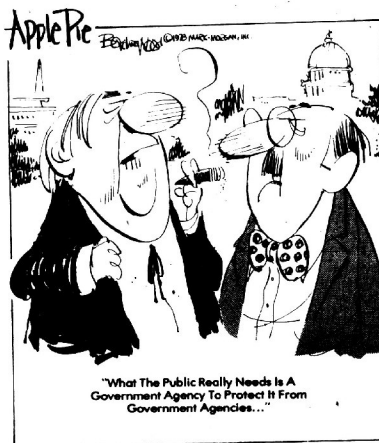

The cost of living is high. Or as the man said, maybe it's the cost of high living. That came to mind as we read that within a few years, the U.S. is expected to be drinking more soda pop than water.

Soda pop passed coffee as a beverage in 1975 and milk in 1976.

Per capita consumption of soft drinks is put at 36 gallons last year. It's climbing at the rate of about three gallons a year. Per capita consumption of water was 53 gallons last year and has been declining for years.

You're an old-timer if you remember when pop cost a nickel and, even at that price, was a special treat.

Let's not moan too much about how tough things are. It might give our ancestors a turn.

Akron Republicans to meet

A meeting of the Republican people of Akron will be Thursday, August 23, 1979 at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall for the purpose of selecting candidates for the Town Board in the November election. All Republicans are invited to attend.

Correction

In an earlier issue of the NEWS, we incorrectly stated that Jack and Kelli Easterday had purchased Tom and Dot's Drive-In in Akron.

They did not purchase the business, but are only leasing it for two years from Tom and Dot Harger.

My Side by Vern Hucks

President Carter recently set the world buzzing again by accepting the resignation of UN ambassador Andrew Young. Black leaders screamed loud and long and terms such as "patsy" and "fall guy" were tossed around extensively. Putting the whole incident in terms of the working man, I fail to see how their position can be defended at all. Mr. Young is an intelligent, well-educated young man with whom I have usually agreed in the past. However, in his position as the United States Ambassador to the United Nations, he is still merely another employee of the United States. Although Mr. Young may personally disagree with the official US position as regards the Palestine Liberation Organization, as an employee he must respect that position. If you or I blatantly disregarded a direct order from our employer, be we black or white, we would deserve to be dismissed. I wonder if black leaders have lost sight of the fact that the PLO is an organization which has spread terror the world over, destroying life and property indiscriminately. What would be their reaction if President Carter were to entertain the Imperial Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in the White House?

Letters to the Editor

Public Service

states their case

TO THE EDITOR:

With all the public attention given recently to construction at Public Service Indiana's Marble Hill nuclear plant, some troubling misconceptions appear.

The most erroneous one is that Public Service Indiana would be satisfied with a nuclear power plant that is less than the safest possible. That is simply not the case—for several reasons.

First, is our often-stated commitment to safety. Neither we nor the Nuclear Regulatory Commission will allow Marble Hill to go into operation unless we are absolutely confident that it will not pose undue risks to the public or to our employees.

A less well understood reason is that Public Service Indiana simply cannot afford to spend $2 billion on a plant that is not as reliable as possible. Safety and reliability go hand in hand. Any plant that isn't built safely can't be operated reliably. And electricity that cannot be generated cannot be sold.

Another misconception is that the Marble Hill plant is not necessary—that we don't need the electricity. Growth in customer demand has fallen slightly in recent times, but this country now faces electric energy shortages as early as the mid-1980s because of the difficulty in building new generating capacity. While it's true that we will have large reserves the day the plant goes on line, demand will quickly catch up with Marble Hill's added capacity. You can't wait until the last minute to build. It currently takes from 12-13 years to license and build a nuclear power plant and 9 to 10 years for a coal plant.

Public Service Indiana has recently announced major actions to provide confidence that Marble Hill is being built properly and will be operated safely. These steps should eliminate many misunderstandings about our intentions and help us get this vital energy source into production. Nuclear power remains a clean source of economical electricity. It is essential if we are to meet our national energy needs.

Sincerely,
Hugh A. Barker

60 YEARS AGO

The wooden awning in front of Strong's Store was taken down this week. Modern sun protection will be installed.

Akron and vicinity was visited by a real shower Sunday afternoon. Local residents assert that it was the first rain in Akron since June 13.

Akron's $10,000 theater, the new Argonne, will be formally opened to the public, Thursday, September 4th, when Manager Karl Gast will present Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs", a seven reel feature.

E. H. Henderson of Akron sold Monday to Ira Malley of Hoopston, Ill. The Downs farm south of Rochester for $212 per acre, which is probably the top mark for land in this county.

Many Akron people motored to Winona Sunday where they heard Billy Sunday, who opened a 10 day Evangelistic meeting there last Friday. Several thousand people were unable to secure seats.

A Ford, just purchased by Henry Smith, and which he was driving, left the road Monday at the Erie crossing near the depot and upset in the ditch. Glen King was a passenger. The boys were not injured, but the car was damaged to the extent of $75.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slaybaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Emahiser, and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Harsh left Thursday for a 10 day trip to southern Texas. Frank Madeford is taking a weeks vacation from his duties at Miller's Hardware.

Mrs. Agnes Bowen, 63, fell Monday morning at her farm home near Akron, breaking her right arm. Mrs. Bowen ran to catch her small nephew, who was about to fall, when she tripped and fell on the cement floor in the smoke house.

Henry Township citizens have arranged to give their soldiers and sailors a home-coming celebration Thursday, Sept. 11, when every man, woman, and child in the township and invited guests from other units will be asked to meet in Whittenberger's grove near Akron. A big chicken dinner will be served while an interesting program has also been prepared.

39 YEARS AGO

Bidwell's seventh anniversary in business in Akron is being observed this week by a sale which ends on Saturday, August 17. Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell came to Akron seven years ago from Roann, and have established themselves in civic and social affairs of the community.

The new home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Smith on Road 14 north of Akron, burned down Wednesday afternoon. It is believed that lightning struck the house. This is the second home of the Hudson Smith's to burn in recent months, and they lost a new car when a garage burned down several months ago.

4-H club members who exhibited at the fair last week were Billy Merley, Joe Wildermuth, Wallace Clinker, Howard Haldeman, Robert Kindig, Dean Gerig, Kenton Gast, Jack Lukens, Orville Burkett, Jean Burkett, and Richard Rader.

For Sale...7 room house. A real buy for somebody at $800. David Krieg.

The twelfth Silver Nite was held in Akron Saturday night at nine o'clock and was climaxed with the awarding of sixteen $5.00 prizes and one $2.00 prize in addition to the regular awards. The winners were: $2.50, Ernest Harrold; $5.00 Simpson Boone; $10, Mrs. Carl Crockett; $5, Lula Riley, Robert Traver, Harry Frymire, Ed Gray, Mrs. Jack Morris, Clyde Hoffman, Frank Kercher, W. E. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Secor are the parents of a baby girl, Janice Elaine, born Wednesday, at Woodlawn Hospital. State Road 14 was resurfaced this week on Main Street, up to intersection with road 19. Traffic was blocked on West Rochester Street for four days to allow the road to "set".

One of the worst storms in years hit Akron at 11 p.m. Wednesday night, but little damage was reported. The fire department was called to the Howard Hunter home, in the Summit neighborhood where it was feared lightning had struck, but this proved to be a false alarm. Wind, rain, lightning, and hail pelted the area for an hour but surveys Thursday morning revealed the crops and gardens were still safe. Many residents, however, mopped up water as a result of the rain which came from the north. Abe Caldwell, local representative of the Public Service Company, was kept busy locally, but reported that crews were in Kokomo to help restore that city's electricity.

10 YEARS AGO

Melinda and Stephanie Hartzler, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hartzler, R. 1, Akron, sold their champion and reserve champion Hereford steers at the annual sale of 4-H livestock held Friday night. Melinda's grand champ steer, Tonto, was sold to State Representative Leo Sullivan for 76 cents a pound, a total of $710.65, while sister Stephanie saw her reserve grand champion steer go for 54 cents a pound to the Akron Exchange State Bank.

Michael Wise, a 1968 graduate of Akron High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonus Wise, R. 2, Rochester, is one of 23 new members who have been accepted into Purdue University's Varsity Glee Club.

Couple living coast-to-coast bike dream

by Vern Hucks

Once in a great while you meet some people who for one reason or another, become very special to you. Last Friday, thanks to a phone call from the Theo Turner family of Beaver Dam, I had the opportunity to meet two of those special people. On Thursday evening, the Turners were asked by a bread truck driver if they knew of any place a pair of bicyclists could pitch their tent for the night. The Turners allowed the couple to camp on an open lot across the road from their house and came to meet George and Jackie Gust. George and Jackie are a young couple from Sherwood, Oregon living out a dream.

George and Jackie, who by their own admission love adventure, the outdoors, and a special challenge, decided that the time for their adventure had come so they gave up their jobs (Jackie is an RN and George as a longshoreman), rented out their home and on June 7, departed from the Oregon coast on a bike trip which they hope will take them to Europe. Averaging roughly 70 miles per day, they had already traveled in excess of 3300 miles and hoped to arrive in Boston the third week of September. Their plans, which are flexible, are to possibly get up into Nova Scotia for a while and then arrange passage to Europe hopefully to spend nine months to a year touring there. Their trip so far has been anything but uneventful.

Shortly after leaving the coast, George and Jackie began hearing about a Japanese tourist who was making the cross-country passage on roller skates. They finally caught up with him in the Snake River Canyon in Oregon. This young man, accompanied by a Japanese reporter, speaks no English and is averaging about 40 miles per day. George told me that he already had callouses 3/8 of an inch thick on his George's grandmother in Des Moines. A local TV station wanted a filmed report on them and took almost two hours filming George and Jackie from the front, back, and both sides. George said they had to ride away from the camera three times before the crew was satisfied. "Whole thing will probably be reduced to about two minutes!" laughed George.

The first part of their trip was on the Bike-Centennial Trail, a cross-country bike trail opened in 1976 featuring rural and scenic America. When the Trail was established, a group of cyclists came from the East at the same time another group came from the West. When the two groups met, they exchanged golden bike spokes much the same as the driving of the golden spike when the East and West war united by rail. Approximately 4,000 people traveled the trail in 1976 with the totals being only slightly less for the last two years. George and Jackie followed the trail into mid-Kansas when they veered off for their visit in Des Moines.

When going through the Rockies, Jackie told me that they crossed the Continental Divide a total of nine times with one crossing coming at 11,600 feet, their highest elevation of the trip. High altitudes have not been much of a problem due to the fact that by the time they reached the heights, they were pretty much acclimated. The mountains in the Eastern United States will be a little different because although not as high as the Rockies, they rise from a lower elevation and tend to be steeper. Steep grades have not been a real problem as yet mostly due to the special gearing George installed on both bikes. He explained it to me as being a little like a 15 speed. They have climbed grades of as much as 60 degrees and haven't once walked their bikes or hitched a ride, a fact of which both are proud and rightfully so. Their bikes do, and one in Iowa. It was also pretty cool at night in the Rockies but the coolness was really appreciated during the day. According to Jackie, early morning riding has been the most pleasant part of the trip with late afternoon riding into the wind being the worst.

George and Jackie have promised to write when they get to Boston to let us know how they're doing and then later let us hear from them from Europe so we'll keep you posted. All of us have heard of people such as the Gusts but seldom get the chance to meet them. Believe me, meeting these two was an experience I'll never forget. George and Jackie, you're special people and I envy you.

"Haven't once walked our bikes" feet and still had almost the whole country to go. At that rate, he should grow about four inches by the time he reaches the East coast.

Another memorable experience for the couple was in Ordway, Colorado where they got caught up in Crowley County Days. George was asked to compete with a tug-of-war team. The team won their first day so George and Jackie had to stay over a day for the finals. George was wearing a "Pull Together...Crowley Co. Days" T-shirt when I talked to him.

Further down the road in Iowa, the Gusts arrived in Indianola for the National Hot Air Balloon Race. Jackie told me that they had signed up to participate on a chase crew but the weather didn't allow the actual race to take place on the day they were there. They did however get to see over 300 hot air balloons in the air at one time. Quite a sight according to Jackie.

One of the more humorous moments of their trip also occurred in Iowa when the pair were visiting are Sekais and weigh about 28 pounds apiece. Fully loaded with their tent, food, stove, clothing, tools, and spare parts, George's bike weighs about 80 pounds and Jackie's about 60 pounds. Mechanically, the trip has been pretty good with 6 flats (one of which was a blowout) and four bent or broken spokes all on George's rear wheel. Both bikes have also had to have their chains replaced due to stretching.

The pair is also proud of the fact that they haven't spent a single night in a motel. They have been camping in state parks, city parks, and residences. By doing this and adhering to a strict budget, they have been able to hold expenses to a minimum. Jackie estimated that they spent an average of $7.50 per day in June, $13 per day in July (when George was going through tubes and tires), and so far have averaged about $6 per day in August.

The weather so far has been surprisingly nice with rain only four days, two in Oregon, one in Color-

Tippecanoe Valley fans, prepare yourself for another season of class football. Even though three of the Viking's top players did not suit for the game due to injury, neither of their two opponents in last Saturday's Rochester High School Jamboree were in the same league. In their two quarters of play, Valley totaled an impressive 212 yards of offense while scoring on every possession. Using their rugged ground game liberally laced with the pass, the Vikings scored 22 points while giving up none.

Although the Vikes thoroughly dominated the contest, Coach Charlie Smith failed to be impressed. Qualifying his statement by saying that no football team ever plays at 100% efficiency, Smith felt that Valley played at "less than 50%" in the jamboree.

After viewing the game films Smith singled out Mark Shireman, Herb King, and Tim Alspaugh for praise. Shireman was a real animal and turned in perhaps the best performance of the night on defense. King was not far behind with Tim Alspaugh being the highlight of the offense. Alspaugh rushed for 86 yards and two touchdowns in 14 carries. Bill Jamison also had a good night gaining 35 yards in only 4 attempts and picking off the only Viking interception of the night to end the second quarter. Last year's all-state quarterback David Rhodes had an excellent night throwing the ball going 6 for 9 with the other three being dropped. Senior David Newlin was on the receiving end of four of Valley's six completions for a total of 61 yards. Newlin also showed the results of this summer's weightlifting at his defensive end position. Sophomore Gilbert Martens banged in a surprising 37 yard field goal in the final quarter against Rochester. Although unofficial, Martens' kick is the longest under game conditions in Valley history.

Coach Smith felt that the faking in the backfield was poor and that there were also too many missed blocks and assignments on offense. Defensively, he felt that the pursuit was poor and that the Vikes were lacking in second and third effort. If what we saw at Rochester was only 50%, that elusive Class A State Championship may not get away this year.

Valley gridders shine in jamboree

Tim Alspaugh appears to be stopped but reverses field to score.

Valley faces Triton in opener Friday

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings will officially open their 1979 varsity football season at home against the Trojans of Triton. Valley and Triton have enjoyed a spirited rivalry in the past and this season promises more of the same. With this being Triton's last season in the Three Rivers Conference, they'll be pulling all stops to try and upset perennial conference champs, Tippecanoe Valley. Viking Head Coach Charlie Smith is looking for a tough opponent in the Trojans and feels that they will be emotionally up for the game. "Triton would probably consider a 1-8 season successful if that one victory was over Valley," Smith said.

The Viking defense will probably see the triple option and wishbone formation the most from Triton. Split backs and counter plays will probably also be used by the Trojans. The Triton defensive strength is against the run which Valley employs so effectively. The Trojans have two strong defensive ends in Slough and Burcham and two excellent outside linebackers, Brunk and Showery. The weakest area of the Trojan defense would appear to be the secondary. They seem to be ineffective in coming up to stop the run and have only one player with good secondary height.

Hack's down Bourbon

Hack's Mobil Women's Softball team defeated Bourbon August 9th, 29-6. The winning pitcher was Joyce Harmon. Kathy Haney and Cathy Welch each had a home run.

Statistics:

	AB	R	H	RBI
K. Haney	6	4	3	3
J. Harmon	5	4	2	3
C. Welch	4	5	4	5
J. Hackworth	6	4	5	5
J. Bickel	2	2	1	2
K. Hivley	2	1	2	1
S. Hartzler	6	2	3	3
C. Strong	3	1	2	2
R. Bowers	2	1	0	1
M. Craft	4	2	3	1
P. Finney	6	3	3	2

Hack's Mobil came in second in the Logansport Tourney on August 11 and 12.

The next home game for Hack's is Thursday, August 23, with Kewanee at 6:30 p.m., and will compete in a Class B ASA State Tournament over Labor Day weekend.

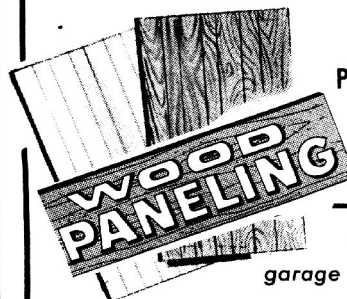

On the Valley side of the coin, every body will be ready to play with the exception of Brent Hoffman who is more than likely out for the season with two broken bones in his ankle. Hoffman can't be faulted on his courage however, as he sustained his injury attempting to bring down all-state running back Tim Alspaugh in a one on one tackling drill, a feat that few high school players will probably be able to pull off this season. Smith was unhappy with the conditioning of his team during last week's jamboree and after an extra half hour of sprints, assured the NEWS that this week would be different.

Kick-off for Friday's game will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Tippecanoe Valley football field but you'd better get there early or be ready to stand. With one of the largest crowd followings in the state, good seats go fast.

Valley's Gilbert Martens booted a 37-yard field goal in Saturday's football jamboree.

Swinging new year

Mentone Grade-Schooler Leslie VanDeWater enjoys the first recess of the new school year. Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curt VanDeWater, Atwood. Tippecanoe Valley students started school Monday.

Akron Town Board met

The Akron Town Board meeting of August was opened at 7:30 p.m. August 21 by Board President Ron Fenimore. Minutes of the June 19th, July 17th, and 30th were read and approved.

Mr. L.J. Arthur inquired about one sided street parking for Central Street and was advised that an ordinance was pending on a survey by Marshal Ed Hauser.

Ben Barnett reported that the Fulton County Conservation Club is placing trees in county parks and would plant some in Akron Park if desired.

Clerk Ernie Smith reported that Pike Lumber had inquired about connecting to the town sewer. President Fenimore will discuss this with Channing Utter.

Mr. Fenimore is to see about having repairs made to Richard Mim's driveway area.

The area Boy Scouts have volunteered to pick up the town parking lot debris and the board ok'd it. The meeting was adjourned at 9:30.

Marshal Ed Hauser submitted the following report for the period of July 17 to August 21, 1979.

35 complaints; 7 dog complaints; 1 welfare call; 2 house checks; 6 open door checks; 6 breaking and entering and thefts investigated;

5 car checks; 1 call to EMTs; 5 attempts to locate; 8 warning tickets; 6 accidents investigated; and 3 family fights settled. The police car was driven a total of 2476 miles during this period.

Mentone Chamber of Commerce discuss need for business

The Board of Directors of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce met at 7:30 p.m., August 22, at the Farmers State Bank with the following present: John Williams, Jim Miller, Guy Alspaugh, Paul Haist, Garry Clark, and president, Dr. Davis Cook.

The secretary and treasurer's report was given and approved. It was decided the Chamber of Commerce dinner would be at Teel's Restaurant, Tuesday, October 16th. Invitations will be mailed so reservations can be made.

A discussion was held on the deplorable condition of the Street Christmas ornaments. There is a need for new brackets, light sockets and new bulbs. Jim Miller will contact the company where they were purchased for the replacement parts. They need to be repaired now so they can be ready to put up in November.

It was brought to the directors attention, the arm for the Dump Tank has been lost and should be replaced. Craig Welding was to be contacted for the part.

Paul Haist brought up the need for a person or persons to help the Chamber of Commerce to promote Mentone. We would like a public spirited retired or semi-retired person to check on new business leads, renting of vacant buildings and take care of all inquiries regarding Mentone. At the present the Board of Directors cannot do justice to this need. Telephone Dr. David Cook for details.

No further business, the regular meeting was adjourned.

The outgoing members of the Board, Jim Miller, Paul Haist and Dr. Cook remained to prepare the slate for the election of three new members to the Board of Directors.

Akron firemen respond to call at Fear farm

The Akron Volunteer Fire Company got a work-out last Tuesday when they were called to a fire at the Ross Fear farm, R. 1, Akron.

Fortunately the group could chalk the response up to experience. The Fear's had torn down an old building and were in the process of burning the roof when a sudden wind shift fanned the flames out of control and threatened a power pole and transformer. The tarpaper and shingles of the old roof combined to produce an intense fire and billowing clouds of smoke. Thanks to the quick response of the Fire Department, no further property damage was reported.

Republicans select Japanese visitor met with Lions slate for elections

On Thursday evening, August 23, 1979 the Republican party of Akron held their convention in the Akron Town Office for the purpose of nominating a slate of officers for the Town for the four year period beginning January 1, 1980.

The convention was chaired by Mrs. Anne M. Kendall with Mr.

Merrill Kendall serving as vice-chairman and Randall Leininger acting as secretary.

The following slate of officers was nominated: Ernest Smith, Clerk-Treasurer; Vernon M. Waymire, for Trustee, Ward 1; Dr. Chas. E. Miller, for Trustee, Ward 2; and Ronald E. Fenimore, for Trustee, Ward 3.

The Akron Lions Club met on Tuesday, August 14, in the Lions' Den. President Howard VanScoy reported the food booth sponsored by the club on July 4th could be considered very successful. The funds generated by the booth will be used to maintain the club building. The building is the area site for the senior citizens nutrition program and is also used as a meeting place for various community organizations. The local Lions also contribute to such national programs as Seeing Eye Dog, Eye Bank, and Cancer Control at Indiana University Medical Center.

Randy Cumberland was inducted into the club by Dean Baker and welcomed by the members.

The program for the evening was provided by the Lion exchange youth from Japan, Atsuko Sakaguchi. Miss Sakaguchi, from Osaka, Japan, has been a guest of the Wayne Reese's for the past six weeks. She told the members about her father's sponsoring club and of her gratefulness for the opportunity to visit here. After presenting the local club with an exchange Lions' Club pennant, she gave each member a choice of a Japanese Lion Club pen or any of various other souvenirs. The Reese's shared that they have been host to seven girls from South America, Europe, and Japan and highly recommend the experience.

FCIC says policy can "customize" farmers finances

The latest development in investment risk management is an All-Risk Policy that USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation says wheat farmers can customize to their individual financial situation.

Under the new wheat insurance program which is being introduced for the 1980 crop year, a total of nine different protection possibilities are being offered according to Francis G. Hudkins, District Director for FCIC.

Even the premium rates are being computed to more closely reflect the individual policyholder's yield and loss experience Hudkins points out.

Farmers can qualify for a 5% premium discount after the first year. With additional favorable years of insurance experience the discount can climb as high as 50%. Policyholders who have large or frequent claims will pay higher premiums.

Wheat farmers can elect to be paid $2.50, $3, or $3.50 for each bushel his insured crop falls below the guarantee yield. Mr. Hudkins notes that the price elections indicated above are each 50 cents a bushel higher than a year ago in order to reflect wheat growers' increased cost of crop production. Hudkins suggests that the best way to make an intelligent decision about crop insurance is to weigh the cost against the benefits which are known. Some can have a dollar and cents value placed on them. With others, such as borrowing power, financial security, and peace of mind; it is difficult to know the real value.

The deadline to apply for insurance on 1980 wheat is September 30, 1979. Farmers can obtain information about the new customized All-Risk protection available on their farm by contacting the district office, 513 Main St., Rochester or call 219-223-6516.

In the immortal words of Red Buttons, strange things are happening.

Mostly they're happening between people and animals. Listen:

—In Brescia, Italy, farmer Battista Toninelli was bitten by a baby lion he bought believing it was a watchdog. When he bought the animal he was told it was a new breed of Africa dog.

Strange things are happening

—Californians are fighting off thousands of 5-inch African clawed frogs that have escaped from science labs. The frogs eat anything they can swallow or tear apart. "We even tried them out on alligators, and the alligators spit them out," said a California Dept. of Fish and Game spokesman despairingly.

—Singer John Davidson was hospitalized after being attacked by a buffalo. He suffered swollen bruises on the knee and hip and torn cartilage in his rib cage. "I guess what I've learned is, you can't play with a buffalo," he said. I presume the buffalo was maddened by Davidson's dimples.

—Two hunters in Blackfoot, Idaho told the sheriff's department they were attacked by a vicious rabbit. They said the animal - described as "a fairly large rabbit" - squared off, then charged. As one hunter tried to knock the rabbit away with his gun, he shot himself in the foot.

—Residents of Bad Swischenahn, West Germany, say that a giant catfish, weighing either 220 or 390 pounds, lives in their lake. The catfish, 11 to 14 feet long, eats about half his weight each day, consuming ducks and at least one dachshund. It's already eaten all the other fish in the lake.

—Things are so boring in Sioux Falls, S.D. that pigs have resorted to biting off the tails of their pen-mates. A livestock specialist says that pigs become cannibalistic when they're bored. Some farmers are giving their bored pigs bowling balls to play with. (What, no TV?)

—Nine million bees escaped when the trailer-truck carrying them was rear-ended by a van near Flintstone, Md. State police spent nine hours guiding motorists through clouds of buzzing bugs. Only a few bees elected to move into the empty hives left along the highway and in nearby fields.

—Scientists have discovered that a North American insect called the scorpion fly practices transvestism. In a normal scorpion fly courtship, the male catches an edible insect and offers it to the female, who droops her wings demurely to show interest. If she likes the gift, mating ensues. But some flaky male flies approach other males and act like females, until they can grab the food and fly away with it. This is the first known example of insect transvestism, an entomologist says. Watch out for flies in drag.

I gotta stop reading so much.

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the August 27, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News.

Dennis Fitzgerald and Max Friesner accompanied David Romine to Norfolk, Va., last Friday where they visited with Phillip Shilling. On the return they visited Washington, D. C. and also the Carpenter Bros. plant at Frostburg, Md. They returned Tuesday morning. While going through an Ohio city David failed to notice a stop sign until it was too late for him to completely stop and another motorist's fender rather ruined David's grill.

It took eleven men from the Manwaring Leghorn Farm to help the Chicago Cubs defeat Philadelphia 3 to 2 in 13 innings Tuesday. The Cubs have been having a tough time winning games this season, but I wouldn't think it would take thirteen innings to win when nine of the Manwaring employees, with Miles and Charles directing the "rooting" to win.

Mrs. Roy Cullum returned to her home in Franklin Park, Illinois, on Wednesday after spending a week with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Artley Cullum.

Mrs. Minnie Anderson, Mrs. Bertha Meredith, Mrs. Mary Barkman and Judy and Linda Barkman spent Thursday of last week at the John Laird home visiting with their Michigan cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Slagle and children of Van Buren, Indiana, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Don Kinkead.

The Talma Home Economics Club were guests of the County Neighbors Club at the home of Mrs. Roy Maxwell on August 21. Sunshine gifts were received by Helen Shunk, Arlene Walters, Mabel Norris, Marie Rathbun and Elnora Craig. Door prizes were received by Mrs. Lou Grove and Mrs. Lisette Notz. Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. Dorothy Herenden, Helen Weldy, Mabel and Dora Norris.

Pike's not in wire harness business

DEAR EDITOR:

I read, with interest, your article concerning the Chamberlin plant and its future.

I, too, had heard the rumor many, many times that Pike Lumber Company had purchased the Chamberlin plant.

While it is true that we are continuing to grow and expand, which this year includes the acquisition of a 35 acre site in Clay County for the construction of a new mill and log concentration area, it is also a fact that we have not gotten into the wire harness assembly business and do not, at this point in time, have a financial interest in the Chamberlin operation.

I did, however, hear the rumor that Sonoco was being taken over by the Akron/Mentone News, but as of press time, I have not been able to verify the accuracy of this report.

Keep on trucking,
PIKE LUMBER CO., INC.
Channing Utter

(Editors Note: There is no truth to the rumor we are acquiring Sonoco, however, watch for further developments in the NEWS - Coca Cola talks.)

Nursery school to begin

With fall just around the corner, so is school-not just High School but also Nursery School.

Nursery School is not a babysitting service, but it is a learning experience for pre-school children. It not only prepares the four year olds for Kindergarten but teaches them manners, cooperation, and how to get along with one another. In learning these things the child learns to handle problems and they begin to feel a relationship to the real world.

The children begin a day at Nursery School with free-play, although it really is not free. There are centers set up and the child is free to choose which center he or she wants to work (learn) at. The centers include blocks, books, paints, music, art, and nature, and a work bench being added last year.

The Jack and Jill Nursery School will hold registration on September 4, from 8:30 until 4:00 at the Mentone United Methodist Church. Classes will begin the week of Sept. 17, 8:45 - 11:15 for children ages 3 and 4 by August 1, 1979.

Family Life

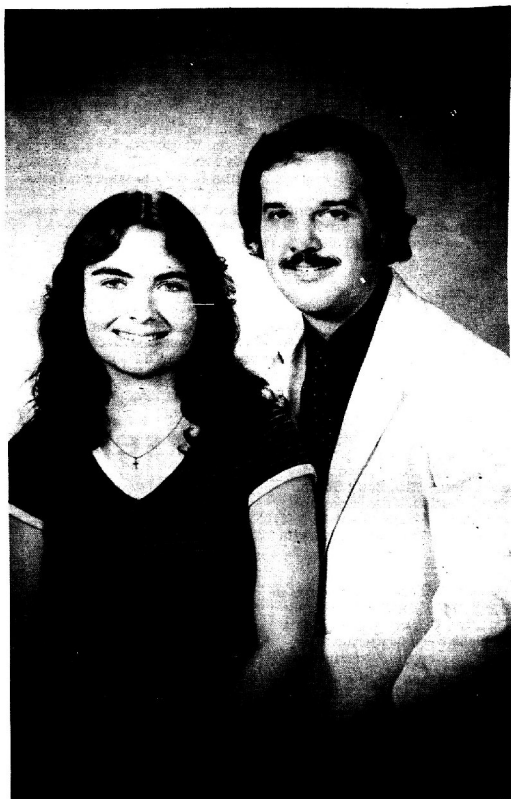

by Renee Norlander

Lowering your home thermostat to 65 degrees F. this winter need not lower your good-humor quotient or comfort if you make the most of the heat you have. According to the Georgia Institute of Technology, insulating floors with carpeting and carpet cushions can cut heat loss up to 72 percent over concrete slab floors and 54 percent over conventional ventilated crawl space.

An R-Rated carpet need not be "Restricted" to uninsulated floors, but its rating tells you how well your carpet "Resists" heat flow. Its "R" (Insulation) value is determined by adding that of carpeting to that of a carpet cushion.

The actual amount of energy and dollars you save also depends on home construction and geographic factors. In St. Louis, for instance, a 1,000 square foot concrete slab home cut 12.7 percent, or $61, from electric heating bills the first winter carpet/cushion with a combined "R" value of 4 was installed, but savings for almost identical homes in Chicago and Duluth were estimated to be almost twice as high.

The Merry Molly's had their August meeting recently in the home of Ontha Stiffler, with Dorothy Foltz as co-hostess.

Roll call was answered by telling what each person enjoyed about the fair.

Plans were made for an auction. Each member is to bring two pieces of clothing concealed in a bag and this will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. The lucky

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings opened their 1979 season against Triton last Friday evening and few if any fans left the stadium without realizing that they had seen one of the most powerful football teams in this area, regardless of class. Using an aggressive ground game featuring the running of Tim Alspaugh, the Vikes punished the Trojans to the tune of 456 yards of total offense. The defense did their job equally well limiting Triton's offensive unit to a total of 102 yards and one touchdown that Ripley would have loved for "Believe It or Not". After viewing films of the game, Head Coach Charlie Smith told us that the offense looked so good for an opening game that it was frightening. Smith said that the Triton game "was the best offensive performance by any Valley team as far as execution . . . and game films will bear me out".

Picking an offensive player of the game would seem easy when you realize that Tim Alspaugh gained an amazing 266 yards rushing, just one shy of the school record held by Derek Anglin. Alspaugh does, in fact, have to be the player of the game but you could just about take your pick of the others. Greg Utter's running contributed much but it was his blocking that was outstanding. Bill Jamison, before leaving the game early with a sprained toe, gained 27 yards on only two carries and also blocked well. David Newlin and Joe Harter took on Triton's two big (198 lbs. & 195 lbs.) outside linebackers and totally man-handled them, allowing Valley such success running off-tackle. Mark Shireman had his usual good game as did Herb King and Brent Arven. Gary McKee took on Triton's best defensive player in Randy Shirey and completely neutralized him. David Rhodes had a better night than his 4 for 10 completion record would lead you to believe. Three of his incompletions were dropped and one other was unloaded to prevent a loss. Rhodes also showed some improvement in his play-faking. Two of Rhodes' completions were good for touchdowns, one to Newlin and the other to Harter. Joe Harter realized one of his season goals by scoring that touchdown. Harter has been playing football since the seventh grade and this was his first score.

The defense was anchored by Greg Utter who led the team in tackle points and was seemingly everywhere. Gilbert Martens also looked impressive especially in the first half and the defensive ends, Newlin and Arven, both had strong games. As I mentioned in the first paragraph, Valley's defense really can't be faulted too much for Triton's lone score. The Trojan's originally fumbled the ball, and after considerable confusion, emerged both with the ball and a clear shot to the goal line. Their attempt for a two-point conversion never got off the ground thanks to a fired-up defensive stand.

Gilbert Martens was again excellent on the kicking game hitting 5 out of 6 conversion attempts. Kick-offs were generally a little short however.

Two sophomore non-starters which provided a pleasant surprise were Jimmie Jones and Doug Dickerhoff. With Dickerhoff blocking, Jones carried 7 times for 31 yards and one touchdown.

The only disappointing area of play was in hanging onto the ball. The Vikes fumbled three times and lost two of those three. One lost fumble cost the team a sure TD and the other negated a big gain. Overall the team looked like they deserved their No. 2 ranking in the state and I'm looking forward to the game with Rochester on Friday.

Valley to host Rochester Zebra's

by Vern Hucks

The basketball rivalry between Rochester High School and Tippecanoe has been going on since Valley opened its doors but last year was the first time it spilled over onto the football field. After taking it on the chin in the first half of last year's Rochester-Valley clash, the Vikings regrouped for a solid second half and a big victory which Zebra fans haven't yet forgotten. This year's contest promises to be no different. Although Valley walked on Rochester in the Z's own iambore, its doubtful that they'll be able to totally dominate them this time around.

Coach Steve Coplen of the Zebra's told us that in his opinion, Valley is the strongest offensive team that they'll see all year with good talent. His game plan defensively, seems to be to slow down the Valley offense.

Rochester is coming off a strong win (26-12) over Manchester and would love nothing better than to put a blemish on Valley's record. The two teams are similar in that both have a core made up of seniors. Rochester seniors who the Vikings will have to watch for this week include Jeff Brovont (defensive back), Jeff Puckett (defensive tackle), Bobby Waltz (corner back), and Brad Kelly (defensive guard) on the defense with Buddy Howard (half back), David Neil (quarterback), Gary Lebo (guard), and 6' 2" 195 pound Dan Showley (end) leading the offense. All eight of these players had solid performances in last week's game according to Coach Coplen. Both teams will probably be at full strength with Valley's Bill Jamison being the only question mark on either side. Jamison had x-rays taken of his foot last weekend which revealed no fractures so his playing is a possibility.

Valley Coach Charlie Smith isn't expecting a walk-over either. He told us that Rochester is really coming on and that they are spirited, enthusiastic, well coached, and disciplined. He expects to see a multiple offense out of the Zebras with a lot of motion and mis-direction with play action. Rochester's defense

Neither coach was willing to predict whether the game will be high or low scoring but Smith told us that no matter what "our kids will not lay down". If Rochester employs a ball control offense then the burden for the tempo of the game will fall to the Valley defense to regain possession.

One other interesting side note to this week's game came across my desk this week in the form of a routine release by the Indiana High School Athletic Association concerning "scratch games". Under this convoluted rule, a team is allowed to "scratch" the results of one game during the season as far as play-offs points go. Rochester has chosen to officially scratch the game with Valley. Maybe the outside world is starting to learn.

Mentone girls place second in tourney

On August 4 and 5 a girls travel team of 12-15 year olds from the Mentone Youth League traveled to Monticello to play in a United Girls Softball Inc. District Tournament. The girls came home with a second place trophy after playing four very good ballgames.

The first game was against Northwestern (Kokomo) with the final score of 19-5 in favor of Mentone.

The second game was against Monticello with a final score of 7-1 in favor of Monticello. The Monticello team had advanced by beating Rochester 29-5 in the morning.

On Sunday morning Mentone faced Rochester in a game that was very close. Mentone came out on top 6-5.

Since the tournament was double elimination, Mentone had to face Monticello again Sunday afternoon. Again Monticello came out the winner with a 9-3 score. (Monticello went on to win the State Championship at Merrillville.) The excellent pitching of Andrea Scott and Sonja Remfrey plus the great defensive playing of all the other players helped the Mentone team to the second place finish of which they were very proud. A team trophy was presented and each player and coach received an individual trophy.

The coaches of the team are Ed LaMar and Marsha Scott and the team had an overall season of 16 wins and 5 losses, which included winning the Mentone Egg Festival tournament and placing second at the Argos Fourth-A-Bratton tournament.
