Drought bill explained to farmers

Frustration was evident at the meeting held at Tippecanoe Valley School between area farmers and 5th District Congressman Jim Jontz. Jontz held several of the meetings over the weekend throughout the 5th District to inform farmers of his amendment concerning a low-yield payment provision to the proposed Drought Relief Bill.

Farmers in the area are frustrated because of the drought conditions and because of the way the government is dealing with the situation. According to Jontz, he is one of the few congressmen who represent a district where farmers make up the larger percentage of the population. Jontz also stated that he understands the plight of the farmer yet he can only cast one vote when making decisions that will affect the farmer.

Jontz said he wants more government assistance for persons who suffer the greatest loss of crops due to drought.

The amendment would make producers who suffer crop losses in excess of 75 percent of yield eligible for an additional payment equal to 30 percent of the payment price for each unit of production loss below 75 percent. He stated this type of yield the bill is based on is established yield. He said a farmer dealing with non-farm program crop yields will have to use a county average system.

House Bill 5015 reads that there would be disaster payments for producers who lose 35 percent of their crop, and would provide soybeans and other non-program crops at a rate of

65 percent of the average producers market price of the last five years.

Farmers who decide to accept a disaster payment or forgiveness of advance deficiency payments under this program will be required to purchase the minimum amount of federal crop insurance for crop years 1989 and 1990. This requirement does not apply if the premium for federal crop insurance would exceed 25 percent of the benefits received or if the premium increased more than 25 percent between 1988 and 1989.

The bill also directs the USDA to increase the price support for milk 50 cents per hundredweight effective October 1, 1988. It also delays the planned January 1, 1989 price support cut to July 1, 1989, or January 1, 1990.

Assistance in the bill to aid livestock producers are:

*Establish a new program, effective 15 days after enactment, to replace current EFP/EFAP livestock assistance programs and authorize other forms of livestock assistance (e.g., feed donations, transportation assistance);

*Eligible livestock include cattle, sheep, goats, swine, poultry, (including egg producers), horses and mules (used for food or food production), fish for food, and other animals designated by USDA, that are part of a foundation herd or offspring or are purchased as a part of normal operations;

*Directs USDA to implement an emergency forage program for established pasture damaged by drought with USDA paying half the cost of overseeding or interseeding of forage crops on such land to facilitate late fall 1988 or early spring 1989 grazing and haying.

For livestock producers, federal assistance could not exceed $50,000 in benefits nor could combined benefits to each person (including livestock assistance) exceed $100,000.

Lightning causes fire

A hog barn owned by Rudy Gingle, at County Road 1075 East, south of County Road 225 South, caught fire at 8:08 p.m. Saturday after being hit by lightning.

Township firefighters fought the blaze and were assisted by the Rochester Fire Department.

Meeting called

The Adult Viking Club, Inc. will hold an organization meeting Monday, August 8, at Tippecanoe Valley High School.

The new club will be an all-sports booster club. All interested individuals are encouraged to attend.

School registration dates set

August has arrived and with August comes the beginning of school. The first full day of school for students will be August 23. All four schools in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation have announced their registration dates for the 1988-89 school year.

Akron School will register students Wednesday, Aug. 10 and Thurs., Aug. 11 from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. in the school library. Students may also register on Friday, Aug. 12 from 12:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. Akron registration will be held in the school library.

Kindergarten students need to present a birth certificate at the time of enrollment if one has not already been presented. Students must be 5 years of age on or before Aug. 1 for kindergarten and 1st grade students must be 6 years of age on or before Aug. 1.

Mentone students grade K-8 may register for the 1988-89 school year on Monday, Aug. 15 and Wednesday, Aug. 17 from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. On Tuesday, Aug. 16, students may register from 1:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m.

Registration will be held in the Mentone School library. Home room assignments will be given at registration.

Burket parents may enroll their children and pay textbook rental fees on Aug. 11 and 12 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. All kindergarten students will need to have a birth certificate and proof of immunizations unless they have previously presented these.

Registration for Tippecanoe Valley High School students will be Aug. 10 and 11. The building will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. each day. Students and parents will be able to pick up schedules and locker assignments and pay fees.

Textbook rental fees for grades K - 8 for Tippecanoe Valley Corporation students are: K - $25.00; First - $55.00; Second - $63.00; Third - $60.00; Fourth - $45.00; Fifth - $47.00; Sixth - $46.00; Seventh - $47.00; Eighth - $41.00. High school textbook rental fees may be found in the 1988 issue of the Valley Advance.

Cheerleaders bring home awards

The Tippecanoe Valley cheerleaders attended cheerleading camp July 6 - 9 and brought home their share of the awards and trophies. Awards were earned by the freshman squad as well as the varsity squad.

Becky Hughes, a varsity cheerleader, also received honors for her cheerleading ability. Becky was chosen an All-Star of the camp. This meant Becky was selected from the top 2 percent of the participating cheerleaders to receive the award. Becky now has the opportunity to travel to London to perform on New Year's Day.

As a squad, the varsity cheerleaders earned Superior ribbons for two of their nightly evaluations. The final evaluation included two Superior ribbons for cheers and sideline performances.

The Valley cheerleaders were also among the top three squads selected out of the 19 varsity squads at the camp. They ranked second in the dance competition and brought home the Spirit Stick.

The freshman squad brought home Excellent and Superior ratings for their nightly evaluations. Their final evaluation earned the girls two Superior ribbons. The young squad was also selected as one of the top three squads at the camp and a Spirit Stick was claimed by the girls.

Notice

Beginning with the August billing, the residents of Mentone will pay their water bills at the Clerk Treasurers Office located in the town hall. The office is open from 8 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Also, homeowners are reminded they should sign the easements and waivers.

A new beginning...

Big Families vs. Little Families

I never fail to be amazed at large families and how they cope with daily problems. It almost seems as if large families handle problems better than small ones. After all, they have many more clothes, many more dishes, many more children to keep track of and many, many more responsibilities. I guess they have learned to share the load.

But what about the small family? Don't two children have to pull together as much as six? True, a mother of two children can keep the laundry and ironing done up rather than rely on the kids, but that doesn't necessarily mean the kids won't pull together when needed.

Large and small families alike have told of times when sibling rivalry was at its peak, when tricks were played on each other as Mom's back was turned. I've heard tales about the boys who wrestled in the haymow instead of stacking hay, about girls having water fights trying to wash the dishes together and egg fights that got out of hand. Yet there were two sisters who fought fiercely over who used the last of the hair spray, but today are as close as any two sisters I know. Could it be the kids are testing each other? Large or small, it happens in both.

Still, there are the families who never seem to find one another. Although few and far between, it seems a shame. My husband's family including aunts, uncles, cousins and friends gather at different times while camping and remember the "good ole days". As far as I can tell, they did the same things my small family did - only more of them!

My family didn't camp, but they had the weekends full most of the time with the family coming back home to visit. Every Saturday night would be euchre time in the livingroom while the ladies visited in the kitchen. The kids would play badminton, croquet, etc. outside along with some of the pranks we played when we were younger. Thank heaven for a big yard, it was filled in the summer with games or one of our cook outs.

Families with a lot of children didn't have to look for someone to play with, they usually had enough right there at home whereas the families with 2 or 3 kids had to incorporate the neighbor kids in order to play games requiring a large number of people. The kids on Division Road played hide 'n seek in the corn field, croquet, softball, along with helping each other with chores so the fun could begin a little sooner. Of course, kids would stay for snacks or meals, but the mothers never seemed to mind. In fact, my mother made it an occasion by using parfait glasses for the pudding and cutting the same old everyday sandwich diagonally so it seemed special. Besides, we always had dessert from the weekend, and I think we were a help when it came to eating them up!

If I had to list the pros and cons of large and small families I imagine the lists would be equal in length. The reasons may be a little different but the end result the same. After all, having a large family or a small family isn't important...having your family, whatever the size, is what's important.

Rural Rhymes

By Esther C. Adams

COW BARN BLUES

Cows give milk, some folks say.
I work for mine twice a day.
I run to chase them in the barn,
I'm exhausted, don't give a darn.
I'm kicked and beat with their tail,
Then they set their feet in the pail.
Then it's mastitis, pneumonia and hardware disease.
Milking cows is no road of ease.
While my city friends relax in silk
I slave in the cow barn for some milk.

OUR OLD BLACK SOW

Our old black sow
Agravates me now.
Round the fence she goes
Hunting holes with her nose.
Can't find one for pigs to get out,
Makes one with her old snout.
Into the brooder house to pilage and plunder
I'd like to shoot the rascals, by thunder
There they scamper hither and thither
While I chase them all in a dither.
Into the posy bed, to root,
Oh! for a gun those pigs to shoot.

The 1938 Fulton County 4-H fair will undoubtedly be the finest one ever held. More than 600 Fulton County 4-H club members will have exhibits in the show. In addition to the 4-H exhibits the boy scouts of the county are preparing a show of comparable quality and interest. Local horsemen are preparing their entries for the annual Gold Medal colt show and the pulling contest. Approximately 40 Fulton County business firms will have attractive commercial displays at the fair. The WLS Barn Dance show will be conducted again this year. Arrangements have been made for a wild life exhibit to be displayed by the state department of conservation. The display will consist of birds, animals, and faish which are native of Indiana. The Indiana State Police will also have an educational display at the fair. On Tuesday, July 26, the Indiana Guernsey Breeders' J Association held its annual field day at Pine Manor Farm near Goshen. The morning session was given to judging for the 4-H club and the Older Youth's Dairy Judging teams. The judging contest consisted of four rings of outstanding Guernsey cattle. At no other Guernsey field day have the judging teams had the opportunity to judge such a fine selection of aged cows, three-year olds, two-year olds and yearling heifers. Written reasons were given on the aged cows while the other classes were for placing only. The Fulton County 4-H team consisted of Maurice Peterson, Clair Strong, and Bob Wentzel. Of the thirty teams represented, Bob Wentzel was the fourth high man, while the team ranked fourth, for which position they tied with the Tippecanoe County team.

The demonstration contests attracted a large audience on Friday afternoon. Girls representing 7 of the 11 clubs in the county, competed in this contest as follows: June Barts, member of the McKinley, gave the winning demonstration "Facts About Sacks". June told in a very interesting manner, the many uses for otherwise discarded feed, salt, and sugar sacks - how to remove the printing and bleach them, how to rip them apart and even modeled some of the articles made from sacks.

AN IDEA THAT WORKS FOR EVERYONE.

New Lower Rates is an idea that works for families, businesses and industries served by Public Service Indiana. Now our customers can heat and cool their homes and light up the nights more economically. New Lower Rates will also help keep Indiana business and industry competitive.

NEW LOWER RATES, STABLE RATES AND REBATES, TOO.

- Effective July 1, our electric rates went down an average of 9%.
- Next year electric rates are going down another 4.2%.
- This adds up to a 13.2% decrease.
- Rates are then expected to remain about the same through the mid-1990's.
- In early September, our customers will receive their portion of a $50 million rebate. The size of each customer's check will depend on usage.

At Public Service Indiana, we believe New Lower Rates is an idea that works for everyone in Indiana.

Former Akron girl honored for cooking ability

Ed.'s note: Portions of the article below were printed in the Fishers (Indiana) Sun-Herald. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ron Smith were originally from Akron. Shirley is the daughter of Marion and Howard Hunter. She graduated from Akron High School in 1969 and was also Miss Fulton County that year.

Although Shirley and Ron Smith had not lived in the Fisher area for a long period of time, Shirley's cooking abilities became well known quickly. Deb Carrell nominated Shirley as a feature cook for the local newspaper.

"Shirley bakes an excellent rhubarb pie, attested to by her son's fourth grade teacher, and she had her recipe for 'delectable' Amish Rolls chosen by her Home Ec Club for the Marion County/Washington Township luncheon.

"Besides being a great cook, gardener, and canner, Shirley is a super mother of a son and a daughter, wonderful decorator, as well as a seamstress and quilter. She recently served as chairman for the Country-Store at the Fisher Elementary Fundamentals.

Shirley was surprised to learn of the nomination.

"As a teenager, I fixed the Saturday night meal quite a bit of the time," Shirley began. "I would look in the freezer, cabinets and refrigerator to make up the menu. My mother didn't tell me how to prepare the food, but if I ran into any trouble, she was there to give advice. The hardest part at first was getting the food done all at the same time, vegetables, potatoes and meat.

"Mother wanted my sister and me to be cooks; she made sure we knew how, for she hadn't known how to cook at all when she was married. Dad knew more about cooking at first, for his mother, (an expert pie maker) had taught him. Mother learned from him and by experimenting. I'd say my mom was my role model for cooking...both of my grandmothers were good cooks, too."

Shirley said baking was always a favorite thing to do, making bread, pies, cakes, cobblers, and especially baking cookies. "The aroma of home baking filling the house is so much stronger than the normal cooking you do," said Shirley. "I think that's why I really enjoy it."

While she was at home, Shirley did lots of home canning. "Dad raised the garden, then we three kids (sister, brother, and I) helped Mother with the canning. None of us like to pull weeds but we did it, bringing buckets of food in, we also took hulls off strawberries and we washed the jars."

Shirley likes to cook from scratch. And she bakes most of the bread for her family. She explains, "I always measure, stick pretty close to recipes. I'm always looking for new ones, and always share the ones I have. Recipes are not something to hold back."

Shirley and her husband, Ronald Smith, are the parents of a son, 10-year-old Ryan, a fourth grader at Fishers Elementary School, and daughter Ashley, 5. "Both kids help with the cooking, especially baking cookies, and Ashley likes to roll out pie crust."

The family attends Church at the Crossing where the Smiths are guides for the Pioneer Club for third and fourth grade children.

The family likes to go camping and experiment over an open fire instead of grilling on a camp stove. "We have lots of fun. The kids help gather sticks, and everything smells so good. Of course, we're always hungry when we're out camping."

Shirley said one of the favorites of her kids are pizza meatballs. The recipe for the meatballs follows along with Shirley's raspberry cobbler recipe.

Pizza Meatballs

1 pound ground beef
1 cup dried bread crumbs
1/2 cup milk
2 T. minced onions
1 t. garlic salt
1/8 t. pepper
1/2-8 oz. pkg. mozzarella cheese (cubed into 12 pieces)
3 T. flour
2 T. oil
1-15 oz. jar pizza sauce
Mix first 6 ingredients.

Form into 12 large meatballs. Press 1 cube of cheese into center of meatball covering cheese completely. Coat each meatball with flour. Brown meatballs in oil in skillet. Add sauce, cover and simmer 10 min. Serve over a bed of rice.

Hoozier Black Raspberry Cobbler

1/2 c. melted butter
3/4 c. milk
2 c. sugar
1 c. flour
1-1/2 t. baking powder
2 c. black raspberries
Pour melted butter into bottom of 9x9 baking dish. Mix milk, 1 c. sugar, flour and baking powder. Pour this mixture over the butter in the bottom of dish. DO NOT STIR.
Pour berries over batter and butter. DO NOT STIR.
Pour remaining 1 cup of sugar over berries. DO NOT STIR.
Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 45 in. until crust is browned and set.

Just For You A Friend

When things are sad or just not right,

A friend comes - morning, noon, or night.

A friend is one who'll hold your hand

And softly say, "I understand".

And help you see the whole thing through

Doing all she can for you.

And on those days when skies are blue,

She's there to share the good times, too.

Glad for moments of success,

Never wishing any less.

Though life grows rough with fears and tears,

A friend grows better with the years.

Senior citizens, August dates to remember are:

Aug. 11 - Blood pressures will be taken by the Fulton County health nurse. August birthdays will be celebrated at this time.

Area 5 Council on Aging and Community Services, Inc. and the American Association of Retired Persons will offer a 55 Alive/Mature Driving course. This innovative, classroom driver's retraining program has been designed to help older persons improve their driving skills. This will be held Aug. 23 and 24 from 1:00 p.m. until 5 p.m. at the Cass Plaza Apartments, Logansport. Registration deadline is Aug. 18.

Aug. 25 - Area 5 Day at the Indiana State Fair. This will also be the day for the local pitch-in dinner.

Sincere thanks are extended to Kenneth Bright for the new dish towels and to Flossie Drudge and Zella Bain for the cakes.

The efforts of all those who donate to the Akron Nutrition Program are what makes this program work in the home town.

The menu for the week of Aug. 8-12 is:

Monday - Salisbury steak, chopped broccoli, corn, applesauce, white bread, milk or coffee.

Tuesday - Roast beef sandwich, pea salad, potato salad, raisins, bun, milk or coffee.

Wednesday - Beef stew, sliced tomatoes, cherry cobbler, white bread, milk or coffee.

Thursday - Chili dog, vegetable soup, peaches, bun, crackers, milk or coffee.

Friday - Fried chicken, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, whole wheat bread, cooked prunes, milk or coffee.

Gallery named

The Gallery in the new Fulton County Museum has been named the Barnhart Gallery, it was announced at the July 26 Historical Society meeting.

Donations by the nieces of the late Hugh and Martha Barnhart have made possible the naming of this special room to honor Henry A. Barnhart, his sons Dean and Hugh, and Hugh's wife, Martha.

This room is for special rented exhibits and displays on loan. It has fireproof walls and a security alarm. A big sign facing the highway will be erected that will advertise new exhibits.

Plans were made to complete the moving of the museum. Volunteers were asked to help at the Civil War Re-enactment Aug. 6 and 7. Call the FCHS office at 223-4436 to sign up. Free admission is given to those who work a four-hour shift, and to scout groups who pick up trash.

Joe Mathias, Fulton County native, was the speaker. He showed the Indiana History Kit he wrote and published and has sold over 3,000 of them. Joe is principal at Kokomo Elementary School and is currently making computer and video programs on Indiana history for school use.

Refreshments were served to 35 people, and the next meeting was set for Aug. 22. The Genealogy Section will meet Aug. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the new museum.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. What's the secret to English muffins that look like the ones I buy at the grocery store?

A. Cook muffins in 3 to 4 inch circles on a hot, ungreased griddle. Turn once while cooking. Cool on a rack. Before toasting, separate muffins into halves using a fork.

Q. What do you suggest to grease baking sheets?

A. Use solid shortening. Butter and margarine tend to burn and food tends to stick when they are used.

Q. What's the difference between sour cream and dairy sour cream?

A. Primarily the differences are consistency and who sours it. Cream is soured either by adding an acid or a bacteria culture. Dairy sour cream has been soured before you buy it. You can sour whipping cream by adding lemon juice or vinegar. Recipes normally call for dairy sour cream. Cream that has soured over a period of days or weeks in the refrigerator is not recommended for cooking.

Q. My jelly roll pan pops up on one side whether I use it for cookies, bars or jelly rolls. What will prevent this?

A. Nothing. The only solution is to replace with heavier quality pans. Many cookie sheets and jelly roll pans are made of lightweight materials that warp in the oven. Once a pan is warped, nothing can be done to straighten it.

Upper age limit lifted for blood donors

The American Red Cross Blood Services - Fort Wayne Region eliminated the upper age limit restriction for volunteer blood donors in its 37-county service area. The restriction was effective on Monday, August 1. Previously, donors at the age of 66 or older were required to obtain a physician's consent before giving unless they had been a regular donor prior to turning 66.

"At one time, 65 was considered 'old', but not any more," says Regions' Director Margaret J. Ball, M.D. "People are living longer and healthier lives. If an individual is healthy and wants to share his or her good health with someone less fortunate, the Red Cross welcomes the donation."

More and more of the American Red Cross' 56 Blood Services Regions are reevaluating the need for upper age limits. The local Region made its determination to change after consulting with Red Cross National Headquarters and interviewing other Regions who had eliminated the over age 65 eligibility requirement.

If you're in good health, at least 17 years of age, and weigh 110 pounds or more, chances are you can donate blood. Please call the Red Cross at (219) 480-8242 for additional information or donor eligibility.

Open house planned

In celebration of their 50th Wedding Anniversary, Cleo and Jessie Young of Akron, will be honored with an open house on Sunday August 14, 1988 from 3:00 until 6:00 p.m.

The event will be held in the Akron Church of God, by their daughters, Mrs. Loretta Black of Anderson and Mrs. Judy Burch of Indianapolis and their seven grandchildren.

They Young's invite all relatives and friends to share in this happy event with them.

A note sharing a memory or a picture for their memory album would please them.

Your presence at their celebration is the only gift they desire.

New school bus safety standards

Members of the State's School Bus Committee formally presented state police inspectors with new minimum safety specifications for school buses on July 25, 1988.

The new standards will not apply to buses built prior to June 30, 1988, and will affect only newly constructed school buses. The language in the rule reads: "The revisions of March 31, 1988 apply to all school buses which were ordered for purchase and initially placed in service on or after July 1, 1988."

The new rules governing school bus minimum specifications represent a total revision of the safety, construction and equipment standards and are the first revisions in the state's standards in 7 years.

Among the changes are:

- * New classification of school bus types, which will simplify identification of school buses. Engine and entrance door location will determine bus type, replacing the previous classification based on passenger capacity.

- * A change from a 4-way warning light system to an 8-way warning light system. The 8-way warning light system will warn other motorists with amber flashing lights that the bus is about to stop to load or unload students. This system will give other motorists more time to stop or pass the bus while the bus is slowing down. Now in use in 45 states, this system is considered a safer system than the 4-way system.

- * A change from 1 cross-over mirror to 2 cross-over mirrors. Cross-over mirrors are installed in the front of buses and are designed to provide the bus driver with improved vision in the front of the bus.

- * Larger stop and tail lights;

- * First aid kits will now require insect bite swabs;

- * All buses must now be painted with lead-free paint;

- * No asbestos material can be used in the construction of the buses;

- * Back-up warning alarms, roof ventilator safety vents, air conditioning engine compartment fire extinguishers, bodily fluid spills kits and other items have been added to the optional equipment list.

The Indiana School Bus Committee was established by the legislature to establish and administer school bus equipment and construction standards. In addition, the School Bus Committee, in cooperation with the Department of Education, is responsible for the training of school bus drivers.

The new rules have gone through the promulgation process, became effective July 1, 1988, and will affect new school buses in the upcoming 1988-89 school year.

Low income families eligible for school lunch and milk assistance

The Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has announced its policy for free and reduced meals and free meals or milk under the National School Lunch and milk for those students unable to pay the full price for Special Milk Programs. The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

FREE AND REDUCED PRICE INCOME ELIGIBILITY GUIDELINES (Effective from July 1, 1988 to June 30, 1989)

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free or reduced price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price benefits, households must complete the application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application for are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is:

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLD: If a household you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for their child, they need only to list the child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, and sign the application.

ALL OTHER HOUSEHOLDS: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the Income scale, children are eligible for free or reduced price meals or free milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the social security number, (3) total household income AND the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application for free or reduced price meals may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for meal or milk benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by more than $50 per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a Food Stamp or AFDC case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer received Food Stamps or AFDC for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not eligible now but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or a household member becomes unemployed, they should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for meal or milk benefits regardless of the household income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for meals or milk benefits for them, they should contact the school for help with the application.

Under the provisions of the policy each school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. Household dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Mr. Baxter Paige, Supt. Box 338, Mentone IN 46539 or phone 353-7741 in the operation of child of child feeding program, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Farm show to focus on drought

"Due to the extreme weather we're experiencing this growing season most of the information to be presented at the Northern Indiana Conservation Progress Show on August 9th will focus on the drought and how to cope with it," according to Dick Kyler, Show Manager. "We had planned to feature corn and bean variety plots, nitrogen comparison plots, conservation tillage and other agronomic management practices when we put field day plots out this spring, but Mother Nature has altered our plans. We're still going to have wagon tours of the plots, but we won't have the visual comparisons we had hoped for. When it doesn't rain, it really doesn't matter what variety you plant or how you apply your nitrogen—the results are the same and they're not good."

In an effort to respond to the questions that are on farmer's minds as a result of the drought, the show committee has organized two special information sessions on the drought. At 11:00 a.m. Jim McIntyre, Ag Meteorologist for the National Weather Service located at Purdue, will discuss how this drought compares to the droughts of 1934 and 1936, as well as look at the weather forecast for the balance of the season. Then Dr. Bill Uhrig, Ag Economist at Purdue, will provide an update on the impact of the drought on the size of the U.S. corn and soybean crop, and how it will affect commodity prices this fall and next year.

During the morning and afternoon specialists from Purdue, USDA and agribusiness will be at tour stops to talk about such things as: options for best utilization of the drought stricken corn crop, alternative forage crops, pesticide carry-over concerns, etc. Throughout the day a large tent will contain a number of commercial displays and large equipment will be on display just outside the tent. In the afternoon deep tillage equipment, no-till drills and hay making equipment will be operating in the demonstration area.

The field day is located on the Dayne Wilkinson Farm one mile north and two miles west of South

Whitley, Indiana at the intersection of Whitley County roads 400 South and 900 West. Registration and commercial displays open at 8:00 a.m. Wagon tours begin at 9:00 a.m. The show will end at 3:30 p.m. Lunch will be served by the Kosciusko Cattleman's Association, and lunch tickets are $2.00 per person. For more information, contact either Dick Kyler, Show Manager, or Nadean Eldien, Show Coordinator at the Whitley County Soil and Water Conservation District office in Columbia City (Phone 219-244-6780).

Drought affecting trees

Indiana's critical drought conditions have noticeably weakened many trees, said Jim Ridenour, director of the Department of Natural Resource. Discolored leaves and increasingly bare branches are the main signs of statewide tree injury.

Tree injury due to drought varies with species, site location and current health. Species that have shallow root systems located in parched surface soils or trees that typically lose leaves in early autumn are hardest hit. Buckeye, cottonwood, maple, tulip tree and sycamore already exhibit yellowing and dropping leaves. In addition, evergreens, such as white pine and Norway spruce that gradually lose needles, show marked defoliation.

Trees located in urban areas also adjust poorly to drought conditions. Soil compaction strangles root systems, while air pollution and excessive heat stress tree vigor. Combined with drought conditions, many urban trees quickly display diminished health.

Leaf discoloration and defoliation are the most vivid drought signs, because leaves rely upon water that travels from the tree's roots to produce starches, sugars and other carbohydrates that act as winter food stores. Moisture-starved leaves can become discolored and drop from the tree.

Although similar to the normal autumn cycle where shorter days, cooler temperatures and lack of moisture signal trees' seasonal change, conditions induced from the drought weakened trees that are unable to store enough food to last until spring. Healthy trees that lose more than 75 percent of their leaves should sprout new foliage to replenish food stores if water supplies become plentiful. Without water, trees that experience 75-percent defoliation might become dormant or die.

In addition, Hoosiers awaiting spectacular autumn colors might be disappointed by early leaf fall and few color changes.

Future Viking Football Players

The sun was hot for the afternoon sessions of the football camps, but it did not wilt the enthusiasm of these future Valley Vikings. (News Photo)

The 1988 Valley Football Camp has just been completed with approximately 40 future Viking football players participating.

The camp was conducted in two sessions for a total of four weeks. The morning session consisted of boys entering grades 7, 8, and 9; while the afternoon session consisted of boys entering grades 3, 4, 5, and 6.

The camp provided daily supervised instruction in both individual and team fundamentals of football. Objectives emphasized during the camp included increased fundamental development in all phases of the game, development of team concept, development of a positive self image, renewed enthusiasm for the game and learning the profile of champion.

A trip to Anderson College to see the Indianapolis Colts practice was taken on July 22. The campers also took a trip to Butler University to see the North-South High School All-Star Football game on July 30.

The following boys participated in the 1988 Valley Football Camp:

7th, 8th, and 9th grades: Brent Paxton, Steven Heller, Brian Hill, Ryan Owens, Ben Baker, Matt Rager, Jamie Hobbs, Scott Cooksey, David Shelton, Brandon Loer, Tyson Silveus, Jeff Grey, Jason Hively, Scott Backus, Rob Clark, Dylan Talbert, Marcus Hackworth, and David Madeford.

3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th grades: Jason Paris, Christopher Wilcox, Bret Torpy, Matt Tucker, Sam Roach, Travis Spencer, Chance Spencer, Adam Silveus, Aaron Leiningner, Kevin Owens, Rich Burdge, Jeb Makula, Kevin Miller, and Matt Schindler.

The children of the Kindergarten Reading Club held at the Akron Carnegie Public Library were entertained at a party in the library on Wednesday afternoon, July 27. The theme of the club this year was Dinosaurs.

A movie featuring the Color Cartoon Parade was shown after which games and contests were conducted. Refreshments of pudding pops, candy and strawberry pop were served.

Those participating in the club were Dustin Ruff, Rory Jewell, Haley Howard, Amy Spangle, Michael Purdy, Erica Pontius, Kristin Shoemaker, Jennifer Studebaker, Jayme Saner, Mary Martin, Billy Sitts, Wendy Tilden, Daniel Leon, Joshua Cabreva, Vickie Steen, Lucas Cox, Elizabeth Makula, Ray Zimpelman, Stephanie Tilden, Evan Boggs, Debbie Spivey and Travis Maple.

The Summer Reading

Club of the Akron Carnegie Public Library was climaxed with a party in the library on Tuesday afternoon, July 26.

Contests and games were enjoyed and refreshments of pudding pops, candy, and strawberry pop were enjoyed.

The theme of the Reading Club this year was The United States Presidents.

Certificates were presented for reading eleven or more books. Those receiving certificates were: Kevin Cooksey, Josh Cumberland, Erin Drudge, Barney Haney, Beth Petrosky, Eric Prater, Jane Randall, Alan Rensberger, Amy Runkle, Ashley Shepherd, Elyssa Shull, Serena Swick, Alyssa VanCleave, Stephanie Wilcox, Eve Boggs, Amanda Drudge, Orville Haney, Jason Nero, Shari Reese, Jessica Smith, Zachariah Waymire, Aubrey Bahney, Marc Ellenwood, Derra Ruff, Heather Wilcox, Angie Petrosky, Mandy Randall, Christopher Wilcox, Alisha Conner, Shannon Dittman and Angie Smith.

Those receiving special awards for outstanding reading were: Stephanie Wilcox, Orville Haney, Heather Wilcox, Angie Petrosky, Christopher Wilcox and Alisha Conner.

The children who will be in second grade this fall will be the grade to receive the special party. This is given to the grade who has the largest percent of their members reading in the Club.

We want to thank Insurance I Services for supplying coupons for the Freezer Fresh for the children reading this summer. It was greatly appreciated.

Mobile home destroyed

Fire destroyed the mobile home of Carl Minnix of Mentone Thursday, July 28. The home was located on South Broadway Street, Mentone. Firefighters were called to the scene at 6:45 p.m.

Damage to the home was estimated at $10,000. Minnix was at home at the time the fire started. No one was injured because of the blaze.

FFA member receives recognition at camp

Recently, members of the Tippecanoe Valley Chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended Indiana FFA Leadership/Orientation camps at the Indiana FFA Leadership Center near Trafalgar, Indiana. This year's camping program held July 25 - 27 was entitled "FFA--A Grand Champion Opportunity."

There were 121 participants from across the state. The local member attending was Charlotte Heiden, daughter of Patricia Heiden, Rochester. Charlotte was recognized for her outstanding participation in cooperation skills.

The purpose of the summer camping program, which is also the aim of the FFA, is to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship skills. Throughout the camp, FFA members participated in leadership sessions which instructed them on such things as specific FFA programs and activities, parliamentary procedure, and communications. Camp participants also competed in various contests designed to build leadership abilities.

Cooperation was stressed to members by taking part in recreational activities that promote team togetherness. The total experience of the Leadership Camping Program gives every FFA member present the tools to improve his or her local chapter. This will in turn improve their community. The Future Farmers of America are continually striving to provide effective agricultural leaders for tomorrow.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

PAIN IN THE JAW

If you've ever experienced a pain in the jaw, you know that it can be severe, almost unbearable, every time you open and close your mouth. Pain in the jaw is sometimes caused by a condition called TMJ syndrome or temporomandibular joint dysfunction. When the temporomandibular joints are thrown out of balance, this causes pressure on bone and muscle that can result in excruciating pain. These joints are located on each side of your head, just in front of your ear openings, and are connected to your lower jaw bone.

One of the unfortunate aspects of TMJ syndrome is that it may also cause referred pain to other parts of your body. Headaches, earaches, ringing, buzzing, clicking, popping, and scraping noises in the ears are sometimes symptoms of TMJ syndrome. So are stiff or aching neck or upper back muscles, shoulder pains, and other discomfort and pain in the upper part of your body.

At the first sign of pain in the jaw and any other symptoms that may be related to TMJ syndrome, see your dentist immediately for treatment.

tion program. Many manufacturers and hearing aid dispensers allow you to wear a hearing aid for up to 30 days so that you can decide on the hearing aid you want. Take advantage of such trial programs.

Answer: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) established national standards for the provision of hearing aids in 1977. These regulations are intended to assure that, before you purchase a hearing aid, you receive quality hearing health care and accurate information essential to the safe and effective use of a hearing aid.

The hearing aid system consists of a tiny microphone which picks up sound waves from the air and converts them into electrical signals. An amplifier increases the strength of the electrical signals and a battery provides the electrical energy to operate the hearing aid. A tiny loudspeaker called a "receiver" converts the amplified signals back into sound waves and directs them into the ear through a specially fitted ear mold.

There are several types of aids available, and these should be carefully chosen with the help of an ear specialist. Before a dispenser can sell you a hearing aid, you must present a written statement signed by a licensed physician stating that your hearing impairment has been medically evaluated and that you may be a candidate for a hearing aid. If you choose to waive the medical evaluation, the dispenser must advise you that the waiver is not in your best health interest. Dispensers are not allowed to encourage you to use this waiver.

Dispensers are also required to provide you with a copy of a brochure of instructions before they sell you a hearing aid. This brochure contains information about good health care practices and about the proper use and maintenance of the hearing aid. Dispensers must allow you time to read this brochure and must discuss its contents with you.

In selecting a particular hearing aid, you must take a major part of the responsibility. hearing tests and expert judgment can determine the type of aid you need, but your own personal feeling about the quality of sound the aid offers should be a major factor in making the final choice. Furthermore, only you can judge its comfort, convenience and benefit.

Bear in mind that you may need a month or more to adjust to wearing the aid. The instructional brochure will advise you to inquire about the availability of a trial-rental or purchase op-

People who extend liberal support to the churches seldom worry about what they get in return.

LEAD - DRINKING WATER AND YOU!
Lead in our environment is a public health issue about which we should all be concerned.
Lead is a soft metal which is now known to be harmful to human health if consumed or inhaled. Since lead accumulates in the body, its potential for harm depends upon the level of exposure from all sources.

There are three potential sources for lead to accumulate in the body. The major source is from food, and lead is also inhaled from the air. The other potential source of lead is from your drinking water.

To protect the public's health, public drinking water supplies are governed by the Safe Drinking Water Act under which the United States Environmental Protection Agency sets drinking water standards.

Although there is a high level of compliance with drinking water standards throughout the United States, there is still reason for some concern about certain contaminants which may get into public drinking water supplies, including lead. As your supplier of drinking water we have prepared this information piece to help educate you on this issue.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

- If your home or water system has lead pipes, or
- If your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- If the home is less than five years old, or
- If you have soft or acidic water, or
- If water sits in the pipes for several hours.

Typically, if lead is present in the drinking water, it enters after the water leaves the local water treatment plant. The most likely source for lead contamination is in the home or residence. The most common cause of lead entering drinking water is corrosion, a reaction between the water and the lead pipes or the lead-based solder.

When water stands in the pipes of a residence for several hours without use, there is a potential for lead to leach, or dissolve, into the water if a lead source is present.

Soft water (water that makes soap suds easily) can be more corrosive and therefore, has higher levels of dissolved lead. Some home water treatment devices may also make water more corrosive.

It was common practice in the United States through the early 1900s to use lead pipes for interior plumbing. Since the 1930s, copper pipe has been used for residential plumbing. Until 1986, however, lead-based solder was used widely to join copper pipes. Lead-free solder and lead-free materials are now required by plumbing codes in non-potable plumbing and in plumbing serving drinking water.

Dissolved lead cannot be seen in water. Testing by a state-approved laboratory is the only way to determine if drinking water has high levels of lead.

dissolved lead. Contact the local utility or health department for the name of an approved laboratory. The lab will provide the correct procedures to be followed for a water test. The U.S. EPA estimates that a test should cost somewhere between $20 and $75.

If the drinking water is determined to have high levels of dissolved lead, or if there is an abiding suspicion of lead contamination because of the presence of soft water, lead pipes, lead solder, and other lead-based plumbing materials, there are ways to minimize exposure.

One way is to "flush" each cold-water faucet in a home when water stands more than a few hours. Flushing cold water faucet means allowing the water to run until it gets as cold as it will get before each use. Normally this may take two or three minutes. Keep in mind that toilet and shower use or doing laundry with cold water will also move water through the plumbing system, and this will reduce the amount of time needed to flush the cold water faucets to five to 30 seconds.

Another way is one of avoidance: do not cook with or consume water from the hot water faucet. Hot water dissolves lead more quickly than cold water. Especially avoid using hot tap water for making baby formula. If hot water is needed for cooking or oral consumption, draw water from the cold water tap and heat it on the stove or in the microwave.

There are other actions which can be taken by household users to reduce the risk of lead in drinking water. For additional information, please contact the local utility, county or state health department, or the U.S. EPA. The U.S. EPA has a toll-free hotline dedicated to this subject - 1-800-426-4791 - and has also prepared a booklet that explains how to:

FAITH CALLS THE FAMILY THE BASIS OF OUR CIVILIZATION

Since the dawn of civilization, the family unit has always been the framework of our society; from cave dwelling and other simple lifestyles to our complex world of today. The family has lasted through the ages, although it now takes some strange forms. There are marriages and remarriages, children, step-children and adopted children. Many a couple, even with children of their own, have opened their homes and their hearts to others who may be handicapped, of different ethnic origin or that ultimate tragedy, the war orphans. At your House of Worship you will learn how the family structure has carried out the will of God, as the explicit instructions throughout the Bible would attest. A harmonious home is a haven to which family members return with joy in their hearts and meaning and security in their lives. It is our center of happiness here on earth.

Original flour mill still standing

On September 3, 1988, the landmark Stockdale Mill and contents located on the Eel River one mile west of Roann, on the Wabash-Miami County line, will be offered at auction.

One of the few remaining original water-powered flour mills is on Eel River, at the Wabash-Miami Co. line, in the old village of Stockdale, Ind. In 1836 John Anderson cut a trail through the wilderness and located just off Eel River.

He was soon followed by other settlers and it was probably in 1839 that Thomas Goudy started a sawmill on Eel River and saved the lumber with which he built a new flour mill and a flour runs of buhrs. Standing at the mill today, one cannot but feel wonder and admiration for the courage, foresight and judgment of those pioneers. What insight told them where to build a dam? Surveyors were few and far between. Yet the Stockdale dam is at one of the best power sites on Eel River. Oddly enough, Goudy never owned the mill site.

That section of land had been granted to Aubenaube, a Fulton County Indian chief, at the treaty of Tippecanoe, in 1832. In 1838, this grant was annulled and turned to Tippenokong (wife of Peter Longlois). Apparently the owners leased the mill site to Goudy.

In 1856 the mill built by Goudy was undermined and washed away by high waters roaring over the dam. Baker and Ranck, apparently partners, rebuilt, settling the new structure on the north bank and building a short mill race to operate the waterwheels. Hugh timbers support the floors. Sixty foot beams were hand-hewn by broad-axe from oak, walnut, and poplar, and one is of hickory elm. It is a marvel how the builders ever managed to raise those timbers to all floors without a hoist. No nails were used; rather the timbers are tightly fitted together by notches. During the Civil War, this mill, under lease to Holt & Son, supplied flour and meal to the Union Armies.

In 1881 James M. Deck came to Stockdale from Hamburg, Berks County, Pennsylvania. It seemed that he first worked for the owners and then entered into contract to purchase interests in the mill as he was able to do so. That year also, the old buhr mill was changed to a roller mill, and Mr. Deck named the flour "White Loaf Flour" with a picture on the sacks of a loaf of Vienna style bread.

His wife designed the picture and this was never changed. In 1886 Deck acquired his first interest in the mill and in 1902 became sole owner. He operated the mill until 1916. At that time a new dam was needed. He died before the new one was completed, and his son took over. James H. Deck operated the business for 35 years and at the time of his death in 1952, his daughter and son-in-law assumed management until 1964. At the present time, the fifth generation of the Deck family has an active interest in the old mill.

The mill had a capacity of fifty barrels of flour a day; in addition, commercial feed grinding was done by a hammermill. The superb engineering kept the four grinding evenly through the machinery on all floors by a belting system from a grinding evenly through the machinery on all floors by a belting system from a line shaft powered by three vertical turbines located in the water of the mill race in the basement. They developed about 75 horsepower. The wooden bevel gears were those installed in 1856. (The cogs in one had to be replaced in 1934.) This simple, yet complex, system ran the machinery which converted the wheat into flour. Starting in the first brake, the wheat was rolled a little finer in each subsequent operation through a series of eight brakes. The flour was constantly sifted through pure silk which was made on hand looms in Switzerland. This sifting is called bolting. All in all, the flour went through 64 silks before being bagged from the finishing sifter.

Water power from Indiana's rivers once operated over 2000 grist mills. There were 13 on Eel River alone, one about every six or seven miles. The Stockdale Mill operated commercially until 1964 when it was no longer profitable to operate; however, the machinery is intact and could be operated with a minimum of preparation.

KNOW THE WEATHER

Too much is being made over speculations of scientists about the greenhouse effect and 1988's drought. It's true that the first half of 1988 was about one half or even less of a degree hotter than any other year records have been kept, but this isn't necessarily the cause of the 1988 drought.

There is no assurance it has anything to do with the drought. An average rise in the temperature of a fraction of a degree over a period of six months could mean little or nothing. It could mean that either nights or days were slightly warmer.

It could mean pollution of the air has produced a greenhouse effect and that this trend is continuing and increasingly dangerous. In fact, that's the best guess. But what that has to do with the 1988 drought is matter of disagreement. Slightly warmer weather doesn't mean less rain. The jet stream and other facts are blamed for the lesser rainfall.

In other words, temperature and rainfall—at least this small difference in temperature—are not necessarily connected. The greenhouse effect, if it continues, is a serious problem and should be addressed.

Meanwhile, rainfall totals can be expected to return to normal or near normal as the cycle of weather patterns progresses, whatever the change in temperature this year.

Valley girl wins award

Students attending the 22nd annual Ball State University Journalism Workshops were honored recently at an awards ceremony which completed the week-long, intensive study workshop.

Jill Butt, from Tippecanoe Valley, received the Best All-Around award during the ceremony.

Other students from Tippecanoe Valley High School participated in the awards ceremony and received certificates for successfully completing the workshop.

Over 317 students participated in classes, lectures and lab sessions, learning to produce quality high school publications.

Practice to begin

Tippecanoe Valley High School Tennis practice will start Monday, August 8 for any High School boy who is interested. Practice will last from 6 - 8 p.m. at the High School Tennis Court.

Physicals are required before any boy is allowed to participate.

Finally, A CD That Follows Directions.

It's hard to keep a good investment down. Case in point: The Rate Riser Certificate of Deposit. It offers everything you'd expect from a traditional CD. Safety, security and a guaranteed return. With one extra advantage.

Namely the one-time opportunity to raise the interest rate should rates go up during the term of your CD. That means you can take advantage of the higher rate that comes with a longer term investment. Without being locked in if rates start to rise. So now it's easier than ever to point your investments in the right direction.

The Rate Riser CD.

- ONE-TIME OPTION TO INCREASE YOUR RATE SHOULD INTEREST RATES GO UP
- THREE TERMS TO CHOOSE FROM, EACH WITH A HIGHER RATE - BEGINNING AT 36 MONTHS
- MINIMUM DEPOSIT OF $2,500
- A GUARANTEED RETURN ON YOUR INVESTMENT

Kosciusko County 4-H Royalty Akron man

Katti Stroup and Paul Berkey were crowned as the Kosciusko County 4-H Fair royal couple on Monday, August 1.

The daughter of Jim and Linda Stroup, Atwood, Katti, 18, is a 1988 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School. Majoring in child psychology, she will be attending Purdue University this fall.

Stroup's 4-H projects include dog, horse and pony, junior leaders, food preservation, vet science, and foods. Her 4-H honors include a state demonstration trip, state achievement record book, key club, conservation award and she was selected to be on the state 4-H speaker's bureau. Stroup has been a member of the American Guys and Gals club for 10 years.

A nine-year 4-H member of the Burket Busy Bees, Paul Berkey, 18, is the son of Wayne and Carol Berkey of Rt. 1, Claypool.

Berkey's 4-H projects include rocketry, geology, fine arts, crafts, wildlife, photography, flowers and junior leaders. He has collected awards for citizenship, leadership and achievement and has won trips to Washington, D.C., Iowa, North Carolina, the State Fair school and junior leader conference.

Berkey plans to attend Indiana University, Purdue University at Indianapolis this fall to study commercial arts.

Runners-up were Rebecca VanScheper, 18-year-old daughter of Richard VanScheper and Mary O'Connor of Warsaw, and Rodney "Bo" Shepherd, 19-year-old son of Palmer and Phyllis Shepherd of Rt. 2, Claypool. Both are 10-year 4-H members.

Rebecca is a member of the Junior Neighbors 4-H club and Rodney is a member of the Claypool Classics.

Lawn care billing to continue

The Mentone Town Board agreed this past week that property owners will continue to be billed for mowing if the town has to cut grass on vacant lots and houses.

The board began mowing grass after receiving complaints from townspeople and billed the owners of the property for the service.

The billing is part of an effort to improve the looks of the community. If owners are not going to take care of their property, then someone will take care of it for them; and owners will be charged for the service.

It's been hot!

The heat continues along with the drought conditions. Temperatures hovered in the upper 90's and lower 100's most of last week. (continued on page 5)

Akron man killed while jogging

An Akron man was struck by a van and killed as he jogged down State Road 14 about a mile north of Akron Tuesday, August 2.

Stanley D. Davis, 25, Akron died from massive head and internal injuries at Woodlawn Hospital, Rochester.

The driver of the van was Grover W. England, 34, Peru.

Davis was southbound on St. Rd. 14 at 11 a.m., according to the Fulton County Sheriff's Department. England told police he saw the jogger southbound on the west end of the road and also saw a pickup truck northbound.

he said he slowed down and the pickup truck passed his van. He then pulled out to the left to go around the jogger. At that time, the jogger turned east to cross the road.

A witness who was northbound on the highway said as he passed the jogger, he saw the jogger cross the road in front of the van. The witness said Davis did not look.

Absentee ballots for pork voting available

Absentee ballots for the upcoming Pork Act Referendum are now available. The referendum, which will be held on September 7 and 8, will determine the future of the National Pork Act. Passage of the referendum nationally would cause the continuation of the Act, which among other things provides the funding mechanism for the pork industry's efforts nationwide.

To vote in the referendum a person must meet the following criteria:

(1) Producers who produced Porcine animals in the U.S. for sale in commerce and who are subject to assessment during the representative period of Nov. 1, 1986, through Sept. 6, 1988.

(2) Importers who imported Porcine animals, pork, or pork products during the period of Nov. 1, 1986, through Sept. 6, 1988.

(3) Any person who claims to be a producer or an importer shall be permitted to register to vote.

(4) A group of individuals, such as members of a family, joint tenants, tenants in common, a partnership, or owners of community property engaged in the production of Porcine animals, is a producer entity and shall be entitled to cast only one vote. 4-H, FFA, and other youth who buy and sell Porcine animals in their name, will be eligible to vote as well as their parents if they are also engaged in the production of Porcine animals.

(5) Any member of a group may register to vote as a producer or importer if he is an eligible producer or importer separate from the group.

Absentee ballots are available from the state coordinator of the referendum, Dr. Ellsworth Christmas, West Lafayette, Ind. Requests for the ballots may be received from August 1, 1988, until August 26, 1988. Producers may request an absentee ballot in writing, or in person. All absentee ballot requests must arrive in Dr. Christmas' office by August 26.

After pork producers have received and completed their absentee ballot, the ballot must be sent, or hand delivered, to the Cooperative Extension of-

THE SNIPE HUNT

Living in the country when I was growing up was great. We had a huge sandlepit under a shade tree with washed sand to play in, lots of yard, a barn with a haymow and a playhouse with rejected furniture from Mom, so I could play house with my dolls. Only one problem, being the only girl with two brothers, I needed someone to share the fun with. Down the road lived three boys about our ages and they spent a lot of time with us. The two older boys never seemed to mind the two middle age boys being along. Together they made a nice foursome. However, when us two small kids entered into the picture, problems arose.

As I said, being the youngest is hard. The two small kids tried to keep up with the older boys but always seemed to be in the way. We couldn't make baskets because we were too short; we could ride ponies but couldn't keep up with the older boys; we didn't want to play tag because we couldn't run as fast as the boys 8 and 11 years older than ourselves. We begged to go Halloweening, but our bedtime was too early. And on...and on...and on. The older boys tried to play with us, but at times their patience would end and they would inevitably dream up a way of getting rid of us. Hence, the snipe hunt!

The hunt was described as serious business. First an observation point was decided upon behind the barn, some place high so we could see the snipe before it's attack. Then a brown paper bag which was to be opened before we rounded the barn so we wouldn't scare the snipe away with the noise. Next, a stick to defend ourselves. Finally, we mustard the courage to ask for a description of the snipe.

The four boys roared. "You mean you've never seen a snipe?" Again, laughter from everyone but the two small children with big eyes and a paper bag. "You'll know it when you see it. You'll never forget it!" Away they went bending over with laughter.

We started around the barn, stick, bag and lots of nerve to our lookout spot and sat down carefully holding the bag in front of us. We had decided a snipe would resemble an eel, although much bigger and was probably a flesh eater. The snipe seemed to get uglier in our minds as the sun went down. Every weed that waved - we jumped. Every twig that snapped - we screamed. We finally called it quits and rushed to the house to get a description from my dad of the famous snipe.

I'll never forget the look on my dad's face when we stood breathless in front of his chair asking for a description of a snipe! For some reason he thought it was funny...then he asked who sent us on the hunt. Later that evening, four boys were counselled on how to treat siblings. It didn't sound like much of a lecture to me, there should have been some yelling. As a matter of fact, I think I heard Mom and Dad laughing about it while washing the dishes that night.

Even though my brothers are 44 and 49 years old, I'm still trying to think of something to top the snipe hunt. I guess that's something only older kids get to do. Ah... practical jokes!

THE FARMER'S WIFE

The Farmer's Wife, I'm telling you,
Never runs out of things to do,
With Chickens to feed, Cows to milk,
She wears blue jeans instead of silk.

With eggs to gather,
wash and case
She's scarcely time to wash her face.
She's nurse to calves,
pigs and cats,

In spare time she poisons rats.
There's errands to run, field work to do,
The garden and lawn to look after too.
The bills to pay, records to keep
If the jobs not done she's in trouble deep.
Pigs and cattle are bound to get out,
Chasing them keeps her healthy and stout,
With livestock and chickens there's no doubt in it.

The Farmer's Wife never has a dull minute.
The housework is still to be done,
If she's lucky she may have some fun.

She has a good life and feels she's blest,
When she has a minute to sit down to rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill are the parents of a seven pound 10 ounce son, John Robert, born at the Woodlawn hospital at 8:54 Tuesday morning.

They say if one waits long enough anything will happen, and the folks at the Farmers State Bank came to the conclusion it was their turn Saturday morning. The bank vault door refused to yield as it had been the custom, and it was necessary to go to another bank to secure sufficient cash to operate for the day. Fred Marty had a rough day, Saturday, as all blamed him for setting the time clock wrong. (And Fred never tried to deny it.) However, when it still refused to open Monday morning, someone decided to yank the big door off its hinges and it opened. The offending culprit was then found to be a kernel of caramel corn. The vault door weighs several tons, yet is machined to fit the opening so perfectly that it is practically airtight. We imagine some of the folks at the bank were surely praying Saturday that someone didn't decide to rob them. Not many such burglars would have believed them if someone told them the vault door just wouldn't open.

The Beaver Dam 4-H club did a wonderful job at the county fair last week. Karen Latimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Latimer won the grand champion fat lamb award. The Valentine boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Valentine, both his top honors with their steers. A black Angus shown by Marlin, 16, was chosen grand champion, and a Shorthorn exhibited by Darrell, 13, came in for the reserve champion award.

Bob Romine celebrated his 6th birthday Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Romine. Games were played and ice cream and cake were served to Sarah Jo Smith, Kathy Blalock, Lu Ann Miller, Susan and Gary Romine, Ernest and Gary Melborn, Mark Hunter, Brant Nellans, Ken and John Romine. Bob received many nice gifts.

Friday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark were Mr. and Mrs. P.W. Kizer of Warsaw and their daughter, Miss Julia Kizer of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Hol Slutz and son of Huntington, Ind., and Mrs. Broda Clark of Mentone.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes and son Bobby have returned to their home in San Diego, California after visiting for some time with Mr. and Mrs. Will Vernet.

Miss Luise Carey of Zanesville, Ind. is visiting this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith in Mentone.

Bob Cole, Emma Cook and Sam Blue were in charge of Mentzer's store while the Mentzer family enjoyed a few days in northern Michigan last week.

The Misses Annabel, Rosalind and Margaret Mentzer returned to their home in Mentone Tuesday evening after spending a few days with their aunt, Mrs. Rose Boggess of Mishawaka.

About thirty-five relatives and friends surprised Mr. Earl Davis Wednesday evening, August 3, at his home near Claypool. The occasion was in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Earl Davis and Margaret Powers of Mentone. Ice cream and cake was served and the evening was spent socially. ## Mrs. Sarah Blackford celebrates 90th birthday

Sarah A. Blackford, Tippecanoe, will celebrate her 90th birthday with an open house at the Tippecanoe Community Church (1813 Rd.) from 2 - 4 p.m., Tippecanoe. Her children will be hosting the event.

Sarah Blackford

Sarah was born on Aug. 22, 1898, to Minerva (Bordner) and Henry Sievers in Peabody, In. She was married to Joseph Blackford, who is deceased. They had 15 children; Kathryn Montalbano, Bourbon; Robert Blackford, Warsaw; Mary Lozier, Carol Baugher, Dale and William Blackford, and Helen McIntyre, all of Tippecanoe; Charles, Las Vegas, Nevada; Dean and Rose Harroff, both of Warsaw; Vi Ward, Argos; Sara Kauffman, Etna Green; and Nancy Kreft, Plotterville, Wisconsin. Two children are deceased, Pauline Blackburn and Paul Blackford.

Sarah also has 58 grandchildren, 112 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren.

In earlier years, Sarah was active in the Tippecanoe Community Church by serving on the church board and teaching Sunday School, and was a member of the Progress Club, Firemen's Auxiliary, and the Rebecca Lodge. She worked many years in the school lunchroom.

Sarah is known to many as 'Grandma'. She especially likes babies and children. She appreciates visits from her grandchildren.

Sarah resides at the Pilgrim Manor Nursing Home, Plymouth, and would enjoy hearing from friends.

"I don't know, sir. Mother was 28 when I was born, but now she is only 24."

Using drought corn for livestock feed

Producers who are without pasture and feed for livestock and are wanting to use drought damaged corn as a feed should first consider greenchopping rather than ensiling. Harvesting and ensiling immature corn is likely to result in extremely high moisture material that will seep, have undesirable fermentation and thus, lower feed value. To reduce the potential for nitrate toxicity which can occur with drought damaged corn, start feeding greenchop gradually before pasture or hay supplies are depleted. This will allow animals to gradually adjust to the potentially higher nitrate feed. Don't allow hungry animals their fill of drought damaged greenchopped corn. Raise the cutter head when harvesting, especially when first beginning to feed the greenchop.

Levels of more than 0.5 percent nitrate on a dry matter basis should be viewed as potentially a problem feed. However, it is emphasized that this level and higher levels may be effectively utilized in beef and dairy cattle rations if introduced gradually into the ration. Ensiling reduces accumulated nitrate by 1/3 or 1/1 if harvest has taken place at the 60-70 percent moisture range. Do not make abrupt changes in the silage too early. Even when plants appear to be severely stressed, the stalk will still contain a high moisture content. Also, it is important to obtain any additional plant growth that may occur to increase yield. For ideal silage, the chopped plant should contain 60 to 70 percent moisture. Harvesting in this moisture range will result in good fermentation and the best quality silage. Plants with this moisture content will have dry, brown leaves at the bottom with some leaves starting to fall off. Another indicator is to squeeze a handful of chopped material into a ball. You should not be able to squeeze water out of the material and the ball should breakup slowly once pressure is released.

Although drought stressed corn generally does have a lower feeding value than normal corn, the major impact is one of yield reduction rather than feed value.

Competing for state title

Cheryl Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glover of Akron will be competing for the title of Miss Teen of Indiana in Lafayette August 12 and 13. The new Miss Teen of Indiana will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Miss Teen of America Pageant, a $1,000 cash scholarship, and other awards.

Cheryl Glover

The Miss Teen of Indiana Pageant is a scholarship program unique in its selection of state and national participants. The pageant utilizes six distinct judging categories to find the most outstanding young women from throughout the nation. These criteria are: Scholastic record, achievement and service to school and community, personal development of hobbies and interests, personality and poise projection, written awareness test and a judges interview.

The production rehearsals, judging activities, and other pageant events lead up to the Miss Teen of Indiana Pageant Finals to be held on Saturday, August 13 at 4:00 p.m. at the Lafayette Holiday Inn.

Cheryl is being sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glover, Ray's Service Station, Viking Foods, Ron's Garage, Ray and Rita Etzel, Becker-Mock Insurance, Akron Exchange State Bank, French's Furniture Store, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hazlett.

Cheryl still needs more sponsors. For more information you may call 893-4582.

1988 is on the wing—seven months have already passed into history.

Brothers celebrate birthdays

Other dinner guests included Delphia Shoemaker, Akron; Jack and Marjorie Brewer, Wabash; Norman and Virginia Thompson, Roann; Lawrence, Anna, and Kerry Keaffaber, Warsaw; Gary, Tami, and Jennifer Keaffaber, Urbana; Gerald Shoemaker, Vancouver, Wa.; Kristene Renkens, Green Bay, Wi.; and Kory Longfellow of Yorktown.

After dinner callers were Don and Nancy Brewer, Laketon; Cecil and Osie Shoemaker, Akron; Walter and Mirian Shoemaker, Claypool; Laura Hamilton, Rochester; Nancy McCarty of Roann; John and Martha Shoemaker, Wabash, and Donald's brother, Floyd Shoemaker of Urbana who will be 99 years old August 21st.

Marcos: 5 Billion

Politicians often claim their salaries are too low. Today many members of Congress claim they can't make it on $90,000 a year, free travel, $900,000 for office help, free mailing, and other freebies.

Even dictators say they have a hard time. Take Ferdinand Marcos, deposed ruler of the Philippines. The new regime doesn't want him back in that country. So he has offered it $5 billion to be allowed to return.

That's probably part of his savings, while he served as President of the Philippines. Not only is Marcos generous, but he obviously was one of the most frugal politicians in his history - to have saved that much. What an example for the young (starving) people of the Philippines, to have had such a thrifty leader!

Teacharama scheduled at Mentone

The Mentone Church of Christ is hosting a Teacharama on August 12, at 108 North Broadway, Mentone, at 7:30 p.m.

There will be songs, prayers, and Scripture readings followed by displays, posters, models, puppets, and a slide presentation about Bible related topics.

All ages are welcome to come and enjoy the evening with the congregation.

Akron Public Library

New books available at the Akron Public Library are:

Parenting Isn't for Cowards by Dr. James Dobson. A very challenging book dealing confidently with the frustrations of child-rearing.

Winning the Chemo Battle by Joyce Mitchell. The author, who herself has had breast cancer and has undergone chemotherapy, has written a unique volume that provides both information and inspiration on coping with the treatment whose side effects can be as devastating as the disease it is meant to cure.

Alaska by James Michener. A new great historical novel that places emphasis less on the historical events themselves than on the more than a hundred characters, real and fictional, who made them happen.

Showers of Blessings by Helen Steiner Rice. Even in the midst of life's trying times, God's blessings are evident; and the author reminds us of His promises of love and abiding joy.

Say Hey the autobiography of Willie Mays. Willie Mays tells the story of his life, both on and off the baseball diamond.

Outlaw Tamer by Max Brand. The author is at his stirring best in this story of a man of the wilderness pursued by trigger-happy enemies.

Loving Rachel, A Family's Journey from Grief by Jane Bernstein. A compelling love story of parental devotion, of a couple strong enough to seek out the unexpected joys of life with a 'special' child.

Johnnie Alone by Elizabeth Webster. The inspiring tale of a young boy's courageous odyssey, despite his partial deafness due to his stepfather's repeated beatings.

Hallapooza by Robert Newton Peck. It is 1931, the times have turned sour in lite Hallapooza, Florida. The Depression has put the turpentine mill on half shifts, and there are rumors it may close down all together. But for "Judge" Hiram MacHugh the town's money problems pale that day when a letter from a Jacksonville court drastically alters his life.

The Great Caruso by Michael Scott. The interweaving of the three crucial elements--the personal, the musical, and the technological, makes this book full of depth and authority.

Mentone News

NEW LOWER RATES

AN IDEA THAT WORKS FOR EVERYONE.

New Lower Rates is an idea that works for families, businesses and industries served by Public Service Indiana. Now our customers can heat and cool their homes and light up the nights more economically. New Lower Rates will also help keep Indiana business and industry competitive.

NEW LOWER RATES, STABLE RATES AND REBATES, TOO.

- Effective July 1, our electric rates went down an average of 9%.
- Next year, electric rates are going down another 4.2%.
- This adds up to a 13.2% decrease.
- Rates are then expected to remain about the same through the mid-1990's.
- In early September, our customers will receive their portion of a $50 million rebate. The size of each customer's check will depend on usage.

At Public Service Indiana, we believe New Lower Rates is an idea that works for everyone in Indiana.

Local artist conveying inner beauty with a brush

There is so much hidden deep inside an individual; so many thoughts, feelings, hurts, and impressions. Many of these traits are never seen on the outside. As an artist, Penny Leininger tries to bring out these and other traits that are hidden beneath the visual surface of a person.

Penny Leininger has been painting portraits and murals for over 15 years and still finds the art of painting to be a new challenge each time she works on a project.

as an interior designer. With her training at the Fort Wayne School of Art, she has combined her career with her talent to do unique decorating for people's homes. "I have taken the design from a rug and stenciled it in kitchens. I have also used that stencil design in a mural in the same room in some of the homes", said Penny.

Murals are more challenging to Penny. She has painted murals at the Peabody Nursing Home, North Manchester, for explained Penny. "Characters must be in proportion with the size of the wall and the scenery surrounding them. The life-size murals at the Akron Church of God have been my most challenging work. The task became overwhelming at times because of its size and also because of the message I was trying to convey to the children who would be viewing them in the Sunday School department."

According to Penny, the cement block walls in the church were difficult to paint because of the roughness and the indentations between blocks. She did not sketch her work first, she just started painting and let God direct her path. Spending two or three hours at a time, the murals took Penny approximately 55 hours to complete over a period of two or three months.

The mural of Moses with the Ten Commandments is Penny's favorite. Penny's goal was to convey to the children who view it that "this is business; this is the law". However, she did not want the children to be fearful of Moses but to see the seriousness of what God have given him through his (Moses) eyes.

"When I paint, I escape the world around me and divulge my total attention to my work. I must release everything around me in order to do my best work," added Penny.

Living with her family south of Disko, Penny finds herself wanting to do more portraits. Penny enjoys painting older people because of the impressions of life that are characterized in their faces. Penny explained, "wrinkles can show hard work, joy, trials, and inner strength. That is what I want to convey to people".

She has some ideas 'twirling' at the present time but is not working on any one subject. She does do paintings for people whether it be from photographs, actual scenery, or portraits. She also paints scenes on saws which have become popular the past

While referring to painting portraits, Penny explained, "There is more inside a person than what is visually seen. I try to put that inner beauty on the canvas for others to see and enjoy." She added, "God has given me this talent (ability to paint) and I believe I should show others the beauty God has created."

Holiday Inns, and has most recently painted murals of Bible stories for the Akron Church of God. Akron citizens are familiar with her mural of scenes of Akron found in French's Furniture Store, which is owned by her brother Kent French.

"Murals with characters help to keep me in perspective of what I am doing".

Penny started her career

The expression of love is portrayed in the mural of Christ's birth. Remember, the scenes were not pre-sketched, Penny painted as she was directed.

Penny's favorite Bible scene at the Akron Church of God is Moses with the Ten Commandments. The expression in Moses' eyes shows the seriousness of the laws he is holding.

The facial expression of Jesus shows concern and compassion while talking to Zacheus.

few years. Penny has never made two paintings which were the same. According to the artist, each subject should be from a specific time, place and have its own feeling.

Recalling some of her first art work, Penny can remember painting cartoons characters which were popular during her childhood which included Porky Pig and the Flintstones. As she matured, so did her painting.

If you have not had the opportunity to view Penny's work, you are invited to visit the Akron Church of God to see her murals. The murals are located in the basement of the church.

All-Star Team wins tourney

It was July 9 at Denver, Indiana, with the temperature hovering at 103 degrees and girls softball tourney action was making the day even hotter for the 9-10 year olds who were participating.

The ladies from Akron were playing the Mentone ladies in a very exciting game with Akron defeating Mentone 10-7.

The Mentone pitcher struck out 6 Akron batters. Akron's starting pitcher Angie Sheetz struck out 14 with Michelle Fall having the strike out.

Double hits were credited to Angie Howard, Carissa Manns, and Jessica Ellenwood. Earning singles were Cassey Pontious, Lichelle Paxton, Jennifer Lukens, Tammie Reese, Shannon Dittman, Shelly Day, Angie Sheetz, Michelle Fall, and Beth Rose.

In the championship game Akron took on Maconaquah to gain the victory 21 to 13.

Earning double plays were Tammie Reese, Jennifer Lukens, Angie Howard, and Lichelle Paxton. Michelle Paxton was credited with the win with seven strike outs with relief help from Cassey Pontious.

Jessica Ellenwood helped the team with a triple hit and Cassey Pontious, Carissa Manns, and Michelle Fall all had double hits. Adding to the statistics with singles were Angie Howard, Lichelle Paxton, Jennifer Lukens, Tammie Reese, Shannon Dittman, Shelly Day, and Angie Sheetz.

In the consolation game, Mentone defeated Denver to place third in the tourney.

Host families needed for exchange students

Host families are being sought for high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, W. Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Ecuador, Australia and Japan for the school year 1988-89 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange.

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in late August 1988, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in early July 1989. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their local school representatives in their home country and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families should enjoy teenagers and have a genuine interest in learning about the customs and culture of another country and a desire to share American Traditions with a foreign student.

For further information call the State Coordinator or toll free: 1-800-SIBLING.

State Fair features discount days

The Indiana State Fair boasts numerous special admission discounts during 1988's Aug. 17-28 schedule. Combined with a full slate of free activities and judging events, the discounts provide the most economical, fun-filled Hoosier showcase ever.

Listen to free musical entertainment at Gate 6, the Nationwide Sports Strip, the 4-H Free Stage and the Natural Resources Building. There's music and magic in Lincoln Theatre every day. The 4-H "hands on" display in the Universities Building offers free creative ideas for kids.

peoples Drug and 7-Up Day Wednesday, Aug. 17, is the Fair's first Carload Day. From opening to 5 p.m., each carload of fairgoers is admitted for $7 (including parking), and the Midway ride coupon book is discounted to $7. The day's highlights include Hollywood Stunt World, a Hank Williams Jr. concert, and agricultural horticultural exhibit judging. Don't miss steer and heifer judging, the goat competition and the first of six Celebrity Watermelon Seed Spitting Contests.

Amaz Coal Day on Thursday, Aug. 18, is another Carload Day, featuring Collegiate Day with discounts for students, faculty, staff, alumni and retirees. Go to the Universities Building and receive a wristband good for $2 off on Grandstand shows and free shuttle rides. The Midway ride coupon book, from noon - 6 p.m., is $7. Cheerleaders perform in the Farm Bureau Building, and 4-H grand champion livestock are selected in the evening.

Kroger Day on Friday, Aug. 19, is Senior Citizens' Day, marking the Senior Queen crowning and Senior Citizens' Dance. The Mid-night Madness Special from 10 p.m. - 2 a.m. admits fairgoers for $1 each ($1 for parking), with unlimited Midway rides for $8.

Saturday, Aug. 20, is 4-H and Indiana Farmers Mutual

Day. "Country is cook," with Taco Bell Grandstand performances by Randy Travis and The Judds. The Coliseum hosts the first of four professional Rodeo shows. Contests cover dahlias, gladioli, antique tractors, beef cattle and the 4-H English Horse & Pony Show. There are Latta Games for teenagers, the 4-H chicken, turkey and rabbit barbeque, and 4-H breeding ewe and feeder pig judging.

Fast Shake Day Sunday, Aug. 21, has a hot lineup with the Statler Brothers, Professional Rodeo, '88 Indiana State Fair Wrist Wrestling Championship and State Fair Pork Cook-Off. Watch the 4-H Highlight Sale in Lincoln Theatre.

Ladies Day at Fair Monday, Aug. 22, features free harness racing and the Celebrity Showmanship Contest combined with the Spoilite Sale of 4-H livestock.

Band Day competition and horse shows of every variety including the Rodeo, highlight Tuesday, Aug. 23, which is Public Service Indiana Day.

The Farmers' Day parade ushers in Farmers' FFA Appreciation Day Wednesday, Aug. 24, another Carload Day.

Lisa Lisa & Cult Jam and Full Force perform at an evening Taco Bell Grandstand concert. More 4-H horse and pony events and the final rodeo are in the Coliseum. The Rooster Crowing Contest resounds in the Poultry Building.

The fourth Carload Day and Midway specials open Carquest Day, Thursday, Aug. 25. Grand Circuit harness racing begins, the Nationwide Sports Strip hosts lightweight and heavyweight mule pulls and 4-H dairy judging continues in the Coliseum.

A Midnight Madness evening, more Grand Circuit harness racing and the Beach Boys headline Taco Bell Day on Friday, Aug. 26.

Coca-Cola sponsors Fox State, Former Directors' and Legislators' Day Saturday, Aug. 27. The AMA/Camel Pro Championship Motorcycle Races return after a year's absence, with a $96,500 purse. The Fox Stake, with a $200,000 purse, starts at noon. Fiddlers and banjo players pick and grin in the 4-H Exhibit Hall. Final auction sales take place in the sheep and swine barns.

Sunday, Aug. 28, winds up the '88 Fair with a $1 "Last Blast admission ($1 for parking) and unlimited Midway rides for $6. Outstanding concessions will be recognized, AMA motorcyclists take to the oval mile again, photography exhibits are critiqued, and the top pygmy goat is selected. Don't miss the Dynamite Demolition Derby, the shearing contest, or the Hog-Calling and Husband-Calling Contests.

Olive Bethel Briefs

J.E. Bouchell of San Francisco, California, spent the weekend with his mother Lillie Chambers and his sister Elaine Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams, Mentone, recently visited with Mrs. Brenda Crook, North Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cox and Devon Cox and children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Estep and children on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kindig and Marla Kindig of New Haven visited a week with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kindig of Roswell, New Mexico. While there they attended the wedding of their grandson Darrel.

We would like to express our most sincere gratitude to the many people of our community who helped and supported us in our time of need—God has truly blessed us with a wonderful family and with many wonderful friends and neighbors, and His blessings were so evident in the love and support expressed to us.

Many of our hopes and dreams, seemingly, were lost in the fire, but through assisting wisdom, and the light of day, we realize that beyond the smoke, God has provided a clear sky and we need to just keep looking and stepping toward Him. Our loss is small compared to many and we have found a great treasure in the people around us.

Special thanks are extended to the friends, neighbors, and faces in the chaos and darkness that we did not recognize who helped with livestock and equipment. Also to the Akron E.M.S., Henry Twp. Fire Department, and the police, many of who are also good friends. And thanks to the Rochester Fire Department and other law enforcement agencies that assisted.

And extra-special thanks to Jim Aikman, Oren and Ruth Norman, Mike Norman, Jim Harsh family, Rick Miller family, Ron and Alice Opple, Lorraine Opple, Jim and Kathy Smith, Joe French family, Steve and Sheila Schipper and our other Brothers and Sisters in Christ of the Silver Creek Church of God. Our love and gratitude to you goes beyond measure.

God bless you all.

Love,
Rudy, Bobbie,
Darcy and Tiffany Glinge

Bell friends selling totes

Bell Memorial's Friends group has smart-looking totes for sale at the library in Mentone. Featuring the familiar "girl with a wheelbarrow of books" logo in bright blue, the natural canvas bags have heavy-duty stitching and generous proportions - just right for shopping, back-to-school, and of course library materials. The carry-all sell for $5.50.

Proceeds from past Friends of the Library projects have been expended for reading-corner furniture, shelving, a circulating VCR, a video tape collection, in-house television and radio sets, as well as many smaller items for use in the library.

FAITH'S WARNING SIGNAL SAYS TO STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

When everything seems out of whack
Because we've wandered off the track,
It's time we should be turning back;
So STOP and get on board.

Though good intentions will abound,
Temptation often gets around
And sidetracks us, until we've found
We LOOK to be restored.

So let's pretend we're engineers
And train ourselves to shift the gears
Away from sin; then use our ears
To LISTEN to the Lord.

By Michael A. Guide
Metter, Georgia

Malcolm MacTaggart of London was fired. The charge? Serious misconduct.

Angry and bitter, he changed his name to Serious Misconduct, and he carried it for thirty-four years.

Yet many people, while not changing their names, carry their guilt and grief to their graves.

But failure doesn't have to be final. Use it as a stepping stone to better things, not as a stumbling block to bitter things.

How? Confess it to God. He'll not only wipe away the mistake, but also the memory.

Let Him give you a life of freedom from badness and bitterness, won't you?

Senior Citizen Hotline

Starting Monday, August 1, two of the state's largest organizations serving older Hoosiers began providing 24-hour statewide telephone hotline service for persons needing information on Medicare and its new catastrophic illness benefits.

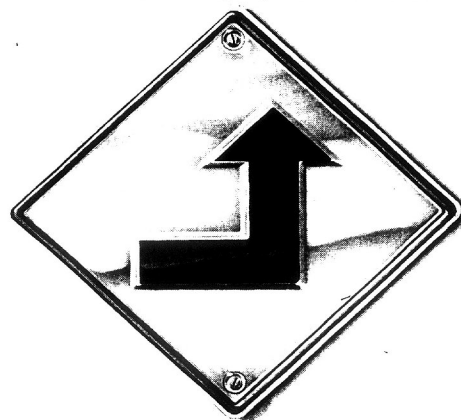

The Medicare changes hotline telephone number is 1-800-356-7748.

This special new service is a joint effort of the Indiana Federation of Older Hoosiers, which is made up of senior citizen groups throughout the state, and Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana.

Trained volunteers are answering hotline telephone calls during normal business hours. Special recorded messages describing the Medicare changes will be used at all other times.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana also will hold a series of 16 informational sessions on Medicare changes in September.

Finally, A CD That Follows Directions.

It's hard to keep a good investment down. Case in point: The Rate Riser Certificate of Deposit. It offers everything you'd expect from a traditional CD. Safety, security and a guaranteed return. With one extra advantage.

Namely the one-time opportunity to raise the interest rate should rates go up during the term of your CD. That means you can take advantage of the higher rate that comes with a longer term investment. Without being locked in if rates start to rise. So now it's easier than ever to point your investments in the right direction.

The Rate Riser CD.

- ONE-TIME OPTION TO INCREASE YOUR RATE SHOULD INTEREST RATES GO UP
- THREE TERMS TO CHOOSE FROM, EACH WITH A HIGHER RATE - BEGINNING AT 36 MONTHS
- MINIMUM DEPOSIT OF $2,500
- A GUARANTEED RETURN ON YOUR INVESTMENT

"School's Open Safety Week" set

Members of the Akron Town Board have proclaimed August 22 - 26 as "School's Open Safety Week" in Akron to help prevent school children from becoming victims of traffic accidents.

The "School's Open/DriveCarefully" campaign is part of a safety and awareness program coordinated for the 41st consecutive year by AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

In the proclamation, Akron Town Board said, "children size and unfamiliarity with traffic often puts them in dangerous situations as pedestrians."

The Town Board urges all citizens to cooperate fully with school personnel, school Safety Patrol members and law enforcement officials.

The Town Board also reminds all motorists and passengers to wear seat belts.

School bells to ring Tuesday

Registration of students at Akron, Burket and Tippecanoe Valley High School has been conducted over the past week. Mentone students are being registered this week with school beginning August 23 in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. Cheryl Heckaman is shown registering her children with the assistance of Beth Baker. Looking on are Amy, Andrew, and Adam Heckaman. (News Photo)

Jack 'n' Jill to begin fall schedule

Jack and Jill Nursery School, Mentone, will begin on Monday, August 29 for the three-year-old class, and Wednesday, August 31 for the four-year-old class.

There are a few openings in the three-year-old class and in the afternoon four-year-old class. The morning four year old class is full.

Children must be three or four on or before August 1 to enroll. Class size is limited. For further information about classes please call 353-7357.

Parent orientation night will be held Tuesday, August 23 at 7:00 p.m. for parents of all children enrolled in Jack and Jill. The orientation will be held in the basement of the Mentone United Methodist Church, where the nursery school is held.

Becky Hughes planning London trip

Being a cheerleader is as important to Becky Hughes as basketball and football are to the athletes. Becky has been leading cheers since she was in the sixth grade and has loved every minute of it.

Along with the rest of the Tippecanoe Valley cheerleading squad, Becky recently competed at the Universal Cheerleaders Association camp held at Indiana University. While there Becky was selected as an "All Star" cheerleader. In this competition, Becky had to perform a cheer and a dance learned while at camp. She was also judged while doing a tumbling pass.

As an "All Star" Becky is eligible to participate and perform in a group in the Lord Mayor's Parade in London. Attending this parade will be members of the Royal Family and Margaret Thatcher, Prime Minister of Great Britain. Becky will also be participating in an outstanding schedule of education, cultural, and recreational activities during this once in a lifetime opportunity.

Becky Hughes is shown performing one of her cheers as a Tippecanoe Valley cheerleader. Becky will need community support to travel to London for the Lord Mayor's Parade.

The tour will include both Houses of Parliament, Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace and many other sights that are unique to London.

Reaching this highlight of Becky's cheerleading career has been cultivated by many unique experiences. Becky recalls on of her most embarrassing moments as a cheerleader. "As a sophomore cheerleader, I returned to the school following the Nationals just in time to cheer at the Jamboree. Excited about the jamboree, I forgot my hair was still in messy pigtails. When I realized my hair was the way it was, I was really embarrassed," explained Becky. She also recalled falling from a circle flip and receiving a concussion. The concussion was not Becky's concern, just falling in front of the crowd!

Each game has a special memory, but for Becky being able to share the excitement of the Sectional championships has been worth all the hard work plus pulled muscles.

Becky will be just one of the cheerleaders who will be cheering on the Vikings beginning Saturday evening at the Rochester jamboree. But for Becky, this year will be a little special because of her preparation for the trip to London.

Many fundraisers and sponsors are being arranged for Becky since the expenses totaling $1,500 must be paid by the recipient.

Any donations would be greatly appreciated. For more information, or to make a donation, you may contact Becky or her parents at 353-7156, the cheerleading sponsor Linda Scretton at 223-3759, or the high school at 353-7031.

Get your trophies!

The Mentone Youth League still has several trophies that have not been picked up yet. If you still need your trophy call Juanita at 353-7091. Also there are some shirts not turned in yet. Please turn in your shirt to Juanita by August 31st.

More info on drought bill

Senate and House negotiators have approved a $3.9 billion assistance package for drought-stricken farmers.

The compromise bill, which is $2 billion less expensive than earlier estimates, will go before the Senate and House next week for what is expected to be perfunctory approval. President Reagan has pledged to sign the bill immediately.

The drought legislation was initially introduced by the four agriculture leaders in Congress, and it was the work of those four which finally brought about congressional agreement.

The Senate-House conference committee reached an impasse at mid-afternoon on August 4. The conference recessed for two hours (continued to page 12)

Do You Remember

In the early 60's Saturday night was the most exciting time on television. Lots of times my brothers would bring their girlfriends home to watch TV and Shock Theater with Frankenstein, the Mummy, the Invisible Man and various other characters. One time in particular stands out in my mind of brotherly love.

I must have been about 13 years old at the time. My dad was in the hospital and Mom was staying the night with him. My brother and his fiancé, Carol, gave me permission to stay up for Shock Theater and even ride along when he took her home afterward. Well, all started out just fine. I had given her a pillow to clutch to alleviate the pain in my arm from her iron grip. I desperately wanted a glass of pop from the kitchen but couldn't bring myself to go through the darkened doorway alone.

At last, a commercial! "Sis, you want anything from the kitchen?" Tom asked. Thank heaven, someone with enough nerve to enter the dark room. Carol and I both went along, but only after the light had been turned on first! (I suspect she didn't want to remain in the living room alone, I know I had no intention of staying there without Tom!)

Finally, the show was back on the air. As the final scenes took place with the storm, crazed monster and various people being strangled, I tried hard to keep my mind off how real it seemed. Then... all of a sudden, I heard a scream. I turned ready to say, "Carol, for heavens sake, get a grip on yourself!" when she touched my arm and asked, "Joyce, did you make that awful sound?" We looked at each other with wide eyes then turned to look at Tom who had gathered a pillow, hidden his face from the strangulation of Dr. Frankenstein and seemed to be laughing. We watched intently (Tom, not the television) as he peaked from behind the pillow long enough to let out a blood curdling scream which scared Carol and I within an inch of our lives! He claimed he was adding a little spice to the movie, atmosphere is how he put it! I'm not sure about that.

This, however, wasn't the end of the evening. Tom still had to take Carol home. We naturally sat in the car with Carol next to Tom and this time I wished I didn't have to be by the outside (closest to the outside where the monsters might be). What was worse, was when he walked her to the door to kiss her goodnight. I thought of suggesting I accompany them to the door, but thought Dr. Frankenstein might not be the only one strangled. I opted for staying in a locked car instead.

The next day Mom and Dad were told the story of the evening before with several nouns winking and patting Tom on the back as they left the room. I didn't know if it was for his bravery, imagination or for being a good big brother!

Coming Up: Moore's Medical Memorandum.

One of the unique religious services ever to be held in this community was conducted in Lakeside Open Air Chapel on the Church of God Campground, situated on the south shore of Yellow Creek Lake, last Thursday, August 11. The occasion was the dedication of a beautiful stone pulpit, constructed of cobble stone, built by the Hammond brothers, well-known in this community. The pulpit was donated to the youth of the church by E.E. Gerig, who personally selected the stones from different communities to get the proper selection. Mr. Gerig gave the pulpit as a memorial to the deceased ministers who so faithfully preached the gospel on the campground in days past with the fond anticipation that the youth of today and tomorrow would stand in defense of the Bible. Lakeside Open Air Chapel is built on the high sloping bank leading from the plateau of the campground to the level of the lake. As the name would indicate, it is an open air amphitheater. It seats nearly two hundred people, and is an ideal setting for vesper services. Adding much to the beauty of the chapel are two beautiful fir trees, one on either side of the pulpit. These trees were donated by Mr. Claude Billings, the editor of the Akron News. A portable organ was donated by the young people's societies of a number of the churches in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh are the parents of a nine pound son, born Tuesday evening, August 16th, at the McDonald hospital in Warsaw. The mother is the former Trella Kuhn, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Kuhn are the happy grandparents.

Lithotripter on display

For the first time in the history of north central Indiana, Howard Community Hospital in Kokomo, Indiana is inviting the public to a special viewing of the new tubless Dornier Kidney HM4 Lithotripter.

The HM4 lithotripter mobile unit will be on display Saturday, August 20, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. It will be located on the east parking lot of Howard Community Hospital.

The revolutionary tubless HM4 lithotripter offers kidney stone sufferers in north central Indiana an alternative to surgery. Through extensive clinical use, the Dornier Kidney Lithotripter has been proven effective for nine out of ten kidney stone cases recommended for surgery. More than 500,000 patients have been successfully treated worldwide.

Howard Community Hospital has made special arrangements to allow the public to view this new breakthrough in medical technology. Without this opportunity, only those who were actually being treated or the medical staff could see the lithotripter.

With the addition of the Dornier Kidney Lithotripter,

HM4, Howard Community Hospital continues its long history of healthcare commitment by making the most advanced medicine and technology available to all residents of north central Indiana.

Seward Club News

Seward Home Extension Club met Wednesday, August 10 at noon at the Mentone Park for their annual picnic. Meditation was given by Anna Williamson and President Mary Rose asked the blessing after which all enjoyed a delicious meal. Roll call was "County fair report" by 9 members and 4 guests. President Mary Rose asked all to remember the Camp Elko September 12 and 13 and also the Fall luncheon in October. The next meeting will be at the Burket Church September 14 with Irene Miller as hostess.

It's surprising how much work our friends think we can, and should do.

At the end of this happy life, the man with the most money will find it means very little.

Late summer seeding

The ideal seeding date for cool season turfgrass species in Indiana is from August 15 to September 15. These dates are a guideline and will vary from year to year depending on the weather. This year the weather is very favorable for a mid-to-late August seeding provided the site can be watered. In southern Indiana seeding should be scheduled for mid to late September because of a longer duration of high summer temperatures in that area.

A late summer-early fall seeding is most desirable for several reasons. At this time of year temperature and moisture conditions are the most favorable for seed germination and seedling growth. There is less competition from both grassy weeds, such as crabgrass, and broadleaf weeds. By seeding in late summer or early fall the turfgrass plants will have ample opportunity to mature and withstand the drought and high temperatures stress of the subsequent summer.

Seeding rates for cool season turfgrass species are given in the table below.

Species Seeding Rate lbs seed/1000 sq. ft.

Kentucky bluegrass 2

Red fescue 4

Perennial ryegrass 5

Turf type tall fescue 6-8

There is no advantage to seeding at higher rates. This will only delay the maturing of the turf stand and make the turf more susceptible to injury from disease or environmental stress.

This idea can help senior citizens when they need it most.

Our employees are learning to look for potential problems...

...If we find them, we'll notify Area Agencies on Aging.

Hundreds of Public Service Indiana employees are learning about an idea that works for Indiana's senior citizens. It's called Gatekeeper. It's a program that promotes awareness of certain danger signals that can point to trouble. Since our employees live throughout our 69-county service territory, they can help keep an eye out for such signals as:

- signs of confusion
- changes in appearance or behavior

- signs of disability
  - unattended lawns
  - uncollected mail
  - uncollected newspapers, etc.
- If we suspect trouble, we'll notify Area Agencies on Aging so they can follow up. Gatekeeper's an idea that can help Indiana's senior citizens when they need it the most. It's another idea that works for Indiana.

Comedy opens in Warsaw

Cast members Ann Whitney, Troy West, Rona Carter, and Menssa McFarlane are ready for their production of "The Royal Family" which begins tonight (August 17) and continues through August 28 at the Wagon Wheel Theatre, Warsaw.

There will be lively theatre, including fencing, dramatic entrances and exits and even a great dane on stage, when the Wagon Wheel Theatre opens the smashing comedy, "The Royal Family" on Wednesday, August 17. Running through August 28, Wagon Wheel presents its first show with special guest director, Steve Grill.

In the play, the family of the theatre is named Cavendish, but the show's flashy and impulsive Anthony Cavendish and his famous sister, Julia, are thinly disguised caricatures of John and Ethel Barrymore. Written by two of America's wittiest playwrights, George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, the audience will be treated to three generations of actors as they compete for attention and plenty of laughs.

The members of the legendary Cavendish clan will include: Ann Whitney as Fanny, the majestic grandmother, Troy West as Anthony, Rona Carter as Julia, Melissa McFarlane as Gwen, Julia's rebellious daughter and Robert Schwarz as Herbert, Fanny's conceited brother. Other key roles in "The Royal Family" will be portrayed by Tom Roland (Oscar), Tony Beninati (Perry), Nicholas Augustus (Gilbert) and Brian James (McDermott). The comedy is under the special guest direction of Steve Grillo, and the duplex apartment complete with 1920's decor is designed by Robert Groff.

"The Royal Family" is the second to the last production for the summer season at the Wagon Wheel Theatre. The final show will be the professional world premiere of a new musical entitled, "A Wonderful Life," running August 31 through September 11. Patrons are encouraged to call (219) 267-8041 for ticket reservations since tickets for both shows are going very fast.

Mentone Homemakers

The Mentone Extension Homemakers met August 11th at the home of Olive Tucker. Pearl Horn led the Pledges to the Flag and the Creed. The song of the month was "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Olive Tucker used two of Helen Stimer Rice's articles "How to Find Happiness Through the Year" and "Thank God for Little Things" for meditations.

Lois Perry stated it's time to make cuttings for winter plants for her Garden remarks and Health and Safety leader, Esther Sarber says that "Eyes are the Windows" of your body. Many different diseases can be detected by ones eyes.

Cultural Arts were read by Jo Blackwell on "In Search for Liberty" giving some history of the Statue of Liberty. Beth Holt gave a very interesting lesson on Stress. She described what stress is and how it can effect any age of people and the many things that can be done to lessen it's effects.

The club won a blue ribbon for the Educational booth on "Learning to Say No." Roll call to "County Fair Report" was answered by 8 members and Mary Tudle, Mary Shirey, Leona Eber, Dorothy Krull, Donnis Fisher and Beth Holt.

The meeting closed with the Collect. Beth Holt won the door prize. The September meeting will be with Genevieve Warren.

H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.
FROM PARTIAL TO FIXED

Suppose you've been wearing a partial denture for several years and find it doesn't fit as well as it once did. This happens in normal use even if you only remove the partial to clean it. You may also prefer to have an appliance in your mouth that would be less trouble and more efficient than a partial denture. If that's your case, you should ask your dentist about the non-removable fixed bridge.

A fixed bridge is permanently cemented into place and helps complement the efficiency of your natural teeth in chewing food. But you must have enough natural teeth left to act as anchor teeth. In a three-unit fixed bridge, for example, the artificial tooth (or pontic) is firmly cemented to the natural teeth on either side by means of crowns. That is how the bridge is secured in place. The anchor teeth serve as abutments, similar to the engineering principle used in the construction of a bridge over a river. Again, sound natural teeth must be there to make the fixed bridge possible. Ask your dentist about the advantages as well as the feasibility of a fixed bridge for you.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

Burkett, Good repeat vows

Beth Ann (Burkett) and Jon Good

Beth Ann Burkett and Jon D. Good were united in marriage in the Grace United Methodist Church in Rochester on June 4, 1988. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fear, Rt. 1, Akron, and the late Bill Burkett. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Good, 517 Jefferson St., Rochester.

The Rev. Russ Wilbur of Grace United Methodist Church and the Rev. Marilyn Cox, of Akron United Methodist Church performed the double ring ceremony at 6:30 in the evening with the bride's parents giving her away.

The church sanctuary was decorated with Boston ferns, baskets of roses and carnations in pink, and white figi mums. Pink satin bows intertwined with roses, lily of the valley, ivy and seed pearls decorated each pew.

The bride's gown was of crystal organza, with the bodice of sheer illusion and lustered pearls neckline. The low plunging V back was accented with beaded embroidered motifs, and the short puffed sleeves and skirt were accented with satin roses. The cathedral train was of cascading ruffles caught at the dropped waistline by a satin bustle bow centered with satin roses. Her veil featured layers of tulle designed in a pouf at the back and was secured by a braided pearl band which featured delicate flowers, pearls and sequins. A cascading bouquet of gardenias, white dendrobium orchids, pink sweetheart roses, white stephanotis, English ivy and white lace ribbon was carried by the bride.

Soloist for the ceremony was Julie Emery, Macy and was Vicki Doering, Rochester. The bride's sister, Brenda Beasley of Naples, Italy was the Matron of Honor. She chose as her bridesmaids Jeri Good of Rochester, Viki Phillips of Rochester, Julie Bussard of Akron, Karla Sroufe, Rochester, Carey Gast, Akron, and Sandi Good of Rochester.

Her attendants wore pink taffeta gowns with contrasting white ruffle pick up on the skirt. The neckline was a sweetheart neckline accented at the shoulder by white bows and centered with self fabric roses. The flowers each girl carried were secured to white lace fans, centered with pink roses and freesia, baby's breath and ivy. They wore wreaths of fresh pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath in their hair with pink satin ribbons flowing from the back.

The groom wore an all white tuxedo, and his groomsmen also wore white tuxedos with pink cummerbunds and ties.

The groom's best man was his brother, Jeff Good, Rochester. Others in the wedding party were Joe Notz of Rochester, Mike Wenrick, Rochester, Mike Simpson, Valparaiso, Charlie Miller, Wabash, Steve Curtis of Rochester, David Mathias of Akron, and Kris Fear, South Carolina.

The flowergirl was Nichole Cox, Plymouth and she wore a gown of all white taffeta with an apron effect skirt, off the shoulder bodice and a pink sash and bow. She carried a white wicker basket with pink rose petals and ribbons. Ringbearer was Erik Cox of Plymouth.

After the wedding ceremony, the couple left in a horse-drawn carriage and arrived at the Moose Lodge where a reception followed. Approximately 300 guests were present and musical entertainment was provided by the Good Times Band. The balloon arch entrance was decorated with pink and white balloons and the tables were centered with mirrors, votive candles and springer.

The couple had a four-tiered cake which was topped with a crystal swan figurine. Stemmed glasses with fresh flowers separated the layers. There were miniature nosegays of fresh flowers on each layer in addition to the four side cakes. Servers included Lois Conrad, Hope Conrad and Faith Conrad, all from Rochester.

The bride graduated in 1984 from Tippicanoe Valley High School and in 1985 she graduated from Patricia Stevens Career College and Finishing School. She is employed at Woodlawn Hospital as well as Foster & Good Funeral Home, Inc.

The groom graduated from Rochester Community High School and from Manchester College with a Bachelor of Science Degree. He later graduated from Mid-America College of Funeral Service. He is associated with Foster and Good Funeral Home, Inc. and manages the Foster and Good Funeral Home in Akron.

The couple now reside at 908 East Rochester Street, Akron, after a honeymoon trip to Paradise Island, Bahamas.

Harman reunion enjoyed

The 66th Harman Reunion was held at the Rochester City Park Pavilion July 24, 1988 with 42 present. Those attending came from Claypool, Wabash, Roann, Rochester, Gilead, Grabill, Osceola, and South Bend. Russell Harman was the oldest one there at age 92. He returned thanks at noon and everyone had a delicious dinner.

Bonnie Prior took VCR pictures in the afternoon and talked to each family. The reunion will be held at the same place in 1989 on the fourth Sunday of July. Calvin Harman had 16 members of his family present.

Directions to Indiana State Fair

The 1988 Indiana State Fair opens August 16; gates open at 6 a.m. each day through August 28.

Sixteen entrance gates allow easy access to the Indiana State Fairgrounds. The Fairgrounds are bordered by 38th Street to the south, 42nd street to the north, Fall Creek Parkway to the east and Winthrop Avenue to the west.

Fairgoers can drive into the Fairgrounds at Gate 1 (38th Street Main Gate), Gate 4 (38th Street across from the Sheep Barn), Gate 6 (entering from Fall Creek Parkway entrance), entry from 42nd at Gate 9, Gate 12 (Truck Gate on 42nd Street near the Pioneer Farm and Home Show), Gate 16 at 4-H Exhibit Hall and Gate 18 (Midway Gate).

Exhibitors should enter through Gate 3 on 38th Street for easier unloading and loading.

The Fairgrounds Traffic Department advises the handicapped to enter through Gate 6 and stop at the Service Building where a special escort will drive them right up to the areas that interest them.

Parking in the Infield is accessed through the West Tunnel and the East Tunnel. Parking space also is available from the 4-H Building stretching east to the Sports Strip.

Pedestrians can walk into the Fairgrounds at several gate entrances: Gates 1, 6, 12, 13, 16, and 18.

The Fairgrounds Shuttle Bus provides transportation around the Fair, stopping at marked locations for easy travel for 25 cents per person.

For those who wish to leave their cars at home, Metro buses stop just east of the Main Gate on 38th Street. Yellow Cab has a dispatcher tent just inside the Main Gate.

Senior Issues.....

Dear Mrs. Meritt: I am interested in attending the Indiana Governor's conference on Aging. What can you tell me about it?

The 1988 Governor's Conference on Aging will be held October 24-26 at the Executive Inn in Evansville. The theme of the 32nd annual conference is "Hoosier Celebration '88: Celebrate Aging". You may register in advance for the conference by obtaining an

One of the most interesting features of the conference is its educational base. As originally conceived, the conference was intended to inform older Hoosiers of issues that affected them. That thrust remains as important, if not more important, today.

Among issues and subjects that will be explored at the conference are:

- * Nutrition: The Well-ness Connection.

- * Enhancing Care for Persons with Dementia.

- * Making Wise Decisions: Long Term Care and You.

- * Legal and Financial Issues Facing the Senior Citizen.

- * Update on Medical Care Benefits.

- * Defensive Driving Course for Mature Adults.

- * AIDS: It's Impact on the Elderly.

Continuing Education Units for attendance at conference workshops will be offered by Purdue University, The University of Evansville, and the Indiana State Board of Health Facility Administrators.

One of the highlights of the conference will be the presentation of the prestigious Older Hoosier of the Year Award. Governor Robert D. Orr will present the award at the conference banquet on October 24th to one of the sixteen nominees selected by the sixteen Area Agencies on Aging.

(If you have a question concerning problems facing the elderly, write to: Jean Meritt, Commissioner, Indiana Department of Human Services, P.O. Box 7083, Indianapolis, Indiana 46207-7083.)

advance registration form from a local senior center, your area Agency on Aging or by contacting the conference coordinator at the Indiana Department of Human Services at 1-800-545-7763. There are two advance registration options from which to select. One includes all session, six meals and special activities, with the exception of a cruise on the Ohio River. This option costs $50 for individuals who are 60 years of age or older and $60 for individuals under the age of 60.

The second option includes admittance to all sessions and special activities, but no meals. This option costs $15 for individuals who are 60 years of age or older and $25 for persons under the age of 60. Individuals who select this option may select which meals, if any, they wish to attend, at an additional cost. A separate $5 fee will be charged for the Ohio River Cruise.

The deadline for advance registration is October 3, 1988. Registrations postmarked after that date will not be accepted without payment of a late fee. On-site conference registration will be available at a fixed rate of $30 per person, regardless of age. Tickets to conference meals will not be available to on-site registrants.

The three day conference will feature a number of workshops and mini-conferences on a range of issues and subjects. This year, the conference program includes selections that are designed specifically for professionals who work with older adults and others that are of interest to all.

Mock trials scheduled

Mock trials featuring local attorneys and judges will highlight this year's Indiana State Fair.

Presented by the Indiana Trial Lawyers Association, "Trial By Jury: The Hoosier Lawyers' Craft" will conduct two trials daily, August 17-28, on the north side of the Machinery Field at the Indiana State Fairgrounds.

The trials, one criminal and one civil, are based on typical court cases involving homicide and wrongful death. Local attorneys from around Indiana will serve as counsel and real judges will hear each case. Actors courtesy of Indianapolis Civic Theatre will serve as witnesses and six-person jury will be selected from the audience at the beginning of each session.

Each session will last two hours, beginning at 2:30 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. The public is invited to participate in this educational and entertaining look at trial law which will include a discussion of legal strategies and stories of the attorneys' real-life courtroom experiences.

"Trial By Jury" is patterned after the mock trials presented at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival in Washington, D.C.

Service Notes

Navy Fireman Jimmie L. Johnson, son of Jimmie N. Johnson and Esther E. Swihart, both of Rochester, IN, recently returned from a six month deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Truxtun, homeported in San Diego.

While deployed, Johnson made port visits in Kenya, Hong Kong, the Republic of the Philippines and Korea.

A 1983 graduate of Rochester Community High School, Rochester, he joined the Navy in January 1986.

FAITH SHOWS YOU HOW TO BEAT THE LATE SUMMER DOLDRUMS

About this time every year, some of us experience a condition known as the late summer doldrums. Suddenly we long for the cooler, more colorful days of autumn that we see on the horizon, and this fills us with a listlessness and lack of purpose. If you are feeling these symptoms, there are remedies at hand. Do something! Write those letters you've been putting off. Clean out that closet and check your fall wardrobe. Take those things you never wear and give them to the poor. Above all, go to your House of Worship each week. It will help revive your spirits and renew your inspiration. Moreover, with a lot of the congregation still away on trips, your presence there will be appreciated more than ever. Faith knows no season, and there's no better time than now to reaffirm yours.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Gasko
Metter, Georgia

Unable to think of a suitable gift for his wife, the husband asked a clerk, "What do you have for a woman who has everything?" "Nothing but envy," she replied.

Envy grows in our hearts like weeds in a flower garden. And it doesn't help, it hinders.

Every time you're green with envy you're ripe for trouble. So let the God of love reign in your heart and the love of God will rule in your life.

14 questions that drive editors crazy

By Mary Nelson, editor
West Fargo (ND) Pioneer

1. "How come it wasn't in the paper? Oh, it was? It couldn't have been very big."

2. "We'd like this on the front page." (Someday we'll number all the pages 1 to please everybody.)

3. "I want to see it before you put it in the paper."

4. "We nominated you publicity chairman."

5. "I know it's past the deadline but just this once..."

6. "Not a picture of me, I'll break the camera."

7. "Come back on Thursday for your picture, after I get my hair done."

8. "I thought about calling you but I don't like to blow my own horn."

9. "Why didn't you get that story? Everybody on my block knew about it."

10. "I know we were married 6 months ago, but we couldn't decide on which picture."

11. "Please print this as written. Do not edit."

12. "I've got a great story, but it's off the record."

13. "The dinner is at 6:30, so you came about 7:15."

14. "You're invited. By the way, can you bring your camera."

Drought bill approved

so Sens. Richard G. Lugar (R-Ind.) and Patrick Leahy (D-Vt.), and Congressmen Kika de la Garza (D-Tx.) and Edward Madigan (R-Ill.) could meet behind closed doors to hammer out differences. They returned to the full conference with a leadership proposal that was accepted within 20 minutes.

"It is a responsible, compassionate and commonsense bill," said Lugar, the Ranking Member of the Senate Agriculture Committee. "This means there will be an income safety net for Indiana farmers hit by the devastation of the drought. Prior to this bill, there was no assurance for Indiana farmers or for the small town stores and economies relying on their business."

"The president has promised to sign the bill, and the cost is low enough that budget problems will not be triggered."

In the meeting of the four agriculture leaders, Lugar fought for a mandatory waiver of crop insurance requirements for emergency disaster loans. Such a provision had been opposed by Senate and some House conferees. Although a very small minority of Indiana farmers will qualify for these low interest loans, the provision was important because only 9-13 percent of Indiana farmers carry crop insurance.

A similar provision was altered by Lugar in the closed-door session -- the crop insurance requirement to receive disaster payments. The house bill would have required farmers to purchase crop insurance for the next three years if they receive disaster payments. The Senate bill had no requirements. Lugar's compromise was that only farmers with a loss of more than 65 percent of their crop would need to buy crop insurance, and then only for one year.

Ethanol provisions in the bill had been opposed by a majority of conferees. In the "meeting of four" Lugar offered a compromise that would give the Secretary of Agriculture discretion to sell a reduced supply of discounted corn to the ethanol producers, but only producers using less than 30 million bushels a year. This cut out the controversial subsidy to large ethanol producers, but still included small producers such as New Energy in South Bend, Indiana, which used 20-25 million bushels a year.

Huntington girl's death result of accident

A 15-year-old Huntington girl died as the result of a tragic incident which took place east of Akron on County Road 1475E Wednesday, August 17.

Karrie A. Darnel was pronounced dead at Woodlawn Hospital, Rochester. She was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Scott Shepherd, 21, North Manchester. Shepherd was admitted to the hospital for treatment.

The motorcycle failed to negotiate a curve on the county road during a chase by an Akron deputy marshal. The police car also failed to round the curve along with another motorcycle driven by Randall E. Hopkins, 23, Rt. 1, Roann. A passenger on the Hopkins motorcycle, Tina M. Kohnke, 17, Rt. 2, North Manchester, was treated and released from Woodlawn Hospital as was Hopkins.

According to Fulton County police, erratic driving on the part of the two motorcyclists may have been the reason the Akron deputy decided to investigate the chase. The chase involved speeds in excess of 80 mph, police said and continued for approximately three miles before the accident occurred.

The deputy was admitted to Wabash County Hospital for observation and has been released.

Further investigation continues and police have not made any more comments pending the results of that investigation.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

by Akron Town Board
Investigation into the tragic incident of August 16 is continuing and there is no official information presently available.

The Akron Town Board has complete confidence in the town's police officers and feels they are well trained and extremely competent to handle the difficult and often, thankless, duties of the job of law enforcement.

Physician coming to Akron

Dr. Francisco Negreros will open his general practitioner's office on Monday, August 29 in Akron. Dr. Negreros is familiar to the Akron community as looking forward to serving the area.

Joining Dr. Negreros will be his wife Natalie as receptionist - secretary. Mrs. Negreros is looking forward to renewing old friendships in the area.

Having come to the United States 11 years ago, Dr. Negreros' homeland is Mexico. He trained at St. Joseph's Hospital in Chicago before coming to Indiana. The doctor enjoys the Akron community and surrounding area very much. "I want to play an active part of this community," said Negreros, "as time permits, I will support and contribute to the Akron community."

Mrs. Jennifer Baldwin, registered nurse, will be working in the doctor's office to assist in providing medical care to the community. She will be in the office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

As a staff member of Woodlawn Hospital, Rochester, Negreros also speaks highly of the hospital's facilities. "Woodlawn Hospital is a good facility. I have visited other hospitals comparable to the size of Woodlawn; it (Woodlawn) rates as one of the best I have seen for service and as a physical plant", according to Negreros.

Committed to his pledge to provide good medical care to the community, Negreros plans to be available to the people at all times. Should patients call with concerns or questions when he is not at the office,

Mrs. Baldwin will be available to either answer the questions or relay them to the doctor. Negreros also plans to provide free physicals to the athletes of the Tippecanoe Valley High School starting with the 1989-90 school year.

With patient concern in mind, Dr. Negreros plans to attend medical seminars at least twice a year, to provide the most up-to-date medical care. He has also stated that Mrs. Baldwin will be involved in continued medical education for the care of the local patients.

The newly remodeled, new equipped office will be located at 105 W. Rochester, Street in Akron.

Hours for the facility are Monday 8:00 - 12:00; Tuesday 8:00 - 5:00; Wednesday 2:00 - 7:00; Thursday 8:00 - 5:00; Friday 3:00 - 8:00, and Saturday 8:00 - 1:00.

Hill and Brock resign; TV budget approved

The Monday, August 15, Tippecanoe Valley School Board meeting ended with two vacancies to be filled in the high school staff--namely the principal and vice-principal positions. Dr. John Hill and assistant principal Victoria Brock both resigned during the meeting. Hill has accepted a position as director of curriculum at Whitko School Corporation and Brock has taken a position as principal in the Michigan City School district.

According to Superintendent Baxter Paige, school has begun without full-time replacements. Officials will be taking applications at the school during the next few weeks.

The Tippecanoe Valley Board also approved an estimated budget of more than $7 million.

The 1989 budget, estimated at $7,338,000 is broken down into three funds: general fund, $5,875,648; debt service, $856,000; and transportation fund, $605,925.

The proposed budget calls for a tax rate of $5.5206 per $100 of assessed valuation which will raise $3,010,228 in taxes for the corporation. The state-approved rate last year was $5.2195 per $100 assessed valuation.

The proposed purchase of three new school buses has caused a considerable increase in the transportation budget. Each bus is expected to cost $25,000 - $28,000. Bid have not yet been sought for the buses thus an exact cost figure is not available.

The budget will be approved tonight (Wednesday, August 25) in the administrative office at 7:30 p.m.

A mentor-teachers' program was also approved by the board. The program is being established to assist beginning teachers during their first year of teaching.

Each first year teacher will be assigned an experienced teacher to guide them. The veteran teacher will be available for advice and to give a year-end evaluation. Both teachers will not be working in one classroom, each will have an assigned class.

The approval of a teacher's retirement fund mandates the corporation to pay for the 3 percent retirement withdrawal currently being paid for by the teachers. The funds are handled on the state level and not by each school corporation.

Notice

The newly organized All Sports Booster Club (Adult Viking Club) will meet in the TV Lecture Room on Monday, August 29, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Administrative changes announced in TV School Corp

Baxter Paige, Superintendent of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, has announced the following administrative changes of the principal positions in the corporation schools.

Dr. Dan Kremer, former Akron School principal, is acting principal for the Mentone School. Dr. Kremer has been principal at Akron for nine years. He came to Akron after working in the West Lebanon School district for five years. He is received a doctorate degree from Purdue University and has also served in the U.S. Air Force.

Brett Boggs is the acting principal at Akron School after serving the school as assistant principal for the past three years. He has been associated with the Akron School since 1978 starting as a fourth grade teacher. Boggs graduated from Grace College and received his master's degree from Manchester College. He professionalized at Ball State University.

Michael Humphries, who resigned as principal of Mentone School, will be working in the North Lawrence School district at Bedford.

Superintendent Paige and his assistant, Karen Boling, will be performing the duties of principal and assistant principal at Tippecanoe High School until those positions are filled.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

MOORE'S MEDICAL MEMORANDUM

Recently while leafing through a magazine, I came across an advertisement for a home medical guide. I secretly laughed to myself thinking how useless that book really was for my household.

While these books may be helpful for some people, in order to be practical, they needed to deal with more common problems, like those of an everyday wife, mother and working woman.

I quickly jotted down from memory some of the illnesses and symptoms which have passed their way into our lives over the past several years. See if any of these ring a bell with you.

LOSS OF HEARING - Every teenager's parent suffers from a loss of hearing either from the increased volume of the music their child is playing or from forgetting to remove the ear plugs!

HOARSENESS - This ailment is commonly acquired from reading, and reading and reading Dr. Seuss books.

CHAPPED LIPS - Usually noticed by mothers of small children. This happens after repeated testing of the Apple Cobbler and Blueberry Buckle.

MOTION SICKNESS - Noticed after rocking your baby to sleep for the fourth time during the night.

CALLOUSED FEET - This condition is noticed by mother and father alike after their 16 year old has begun to drive. You may notice this from repeatedly pushing on the imaginary brake on the passenger side of the car.

IMAGINARY NOISES - Many times sufferers imagine the phone ringing...and the call being for them!

SPRAINED INDEX FINGERS - This can happen on either right or left hand depending which hand you use to tally the phone bill with.

RAMBO SYNDROME - When you have fought your way through the kids' bedrooms too many times.

ROCKY SYNDROME - When you've fought your way through the kids' bedrooms...and WON!

TENNIS ELBOW - This happens because the same old excuses have been sent from home court into the opponent's court and back again.

AMNESIA - What occurs when the kids ask, "Didn't you ever do anything like that when you were young?"

RUNNY NOSE - This condition is often accompanied by watery eyes and noticed especially on the first day of school.

LABOR PAINS - When you spent the day moving the furniture!

EUPHORIA - When you realize there is life after work!

NERVOUSNESS - Mothers experience this shortly after shopping for school clothes.

NECK PAIN - This comes after too much tilting of the head upward while asking, "Why me?"

I might add that after you've asked "Why" you take time to understand why these things happen. These items listed above happen because a person cares, communicates, works in the home and out of the home and gives of himself. It doesn't mean you suffer, you grow.

Remember, even Rocky came out a winner and made his "New Beginning".

Coming Up: Aug. 31 - The Lone Ranger Rides Again.

Peru to host Heritage 88

The thirteenth annual Heritage Days will be held around the Court House square in downtown Peru, on September 10 and 11, 1988. On Saturday a Farmers' Market features produce from the area. On Sunday an antique car show dazzles the visitor. Throughout Heritage '88 craftsmen demonstrate many skills from days gone by. Food booths supply a variety of goodies to eat.

The Miami County Museum in the historic Sengers building at the corner of Fifth and Broadway will feature many items that encompass the theme "Heritage '88".

It Happened in Akron

IT HAPPENED IN AKRON
TAKEN FROM THE AKRON NEWS
AUGUST 22, 1968
20 YEARS AGO

An old-fashioned threshing was held Saturday at the Wayne Drudge farm. Drudge and his grandson, Darwin Stafford, now in Vietnam, has cut the grain a few weeks ago and shocked it. Enjoying the old-fashioned threshing party and the threshing dinner served in the yard were: Wayne Drudge, Akron; John Bryon, Roann; Ray Harmon, Elkhart; Frank Coffman and Luther Vancleave and two grandsons of Claypool; Bob Whittenberger, Don Whittenberger, Merl Harrold, Tommie Lohr, Chuck Sagun, Glen Ault, Steve Fellers, Bud Stafford, Gene Miller and Robert Osborne of Akron; Don, Tim and Jake Baker, Silver Lake. Helping cook the dinner were Brenda Stafford, Flossie Drudge, Marilyn Stafford, Florence Whittenberger, Sharon Davis, Treva Whittenberger, Coleen Whittenberger, Joan Overlander, Lucille Harrold and Pat Baker. When you think of the Mentone Community Fair you automatically think of O.A. Highway, Chairman of the Board. His loyalty, his civic spirit and untiring efforts are outstanding in the success of Mentone's Annual Community Fair.

Jerry II, lion belonging to Paul Lowman of Winona Lake, escaped from his cage Monday noon, throwing the entire summer resort into a panic. He entered the Arcade Rooming house near his quarters, mounted the stairs and prowled around the second floor for some time. Orders were given to shoot on sight. Jerry, becoming frightened at the cries of the panic stricken residents, jumped through a window of the lower floor of the building. He was captured about a half hour later and returned to his cage. This is the second time this summer that Jerry II has terrorized the residents of Winona Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Darling of Mt. Vernon, Ohio visited relatives in Etna Green last week, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Melick.

KICKOFF '88

Dance Review

yard punt, the Vikings took the ball over on the RHS 20-yard line. Scott Smith cut over the middle to catch a 19-yard pass from Anglin and Andy Mikesel bowled over from the 1 for the TD. Anglin's conversion pass went over Smith's head.

The RHS defense set up the final touchdown. After Rochester turned the ball over on downs at the valley 28, Anglin received heavy pressure as he dropped back to pass. Shannon Pugh went around Anglin, the ball popped out and it started bouncing toward the Valley end zone. Troy Cowles recovered for Rochester at the 2-yard line. Larry Cripe went over the right side for the touchdown and McGriff added the extra point with 11 seconds left.

In the second quarter, Plymouth defeated Caston, 14-0.

Third quarter action found Plymouth surpassing the Zebras 3-0.

In the fourth period, Tippecanoe Valley gained 147 total yards and held Caston to 22.

Andy Mikesell touched the ball once for a 5-yard touchdown that proved to be the winning score. Valley also scored on a 22-yard pass from Anglin to Craven Lynn and a 4-yard run by Kim Lee. Aaron Norris kicked an extra point and Anglin ran in a two-point conversion.

August Ends

Early acorns fall in scraggly grass; the green of oak is spotted by the brown; sun steeps the morning's dew-drenched ground as butterflies, designer-winged, flit pass. Milkweeds spin white silk for parachutes and open wide their hangers for the flight of eager Progeny. The asters blossom bright. The shallow creek turns mute. Blue jays rob the sunflower's diadem of jewels precisely set for Autumn's reign. And in the sun-drenched peace of country lane The crickets fiddle summer's requiem.

Senior Citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For

This idea can help senior citizens when they need it most.

Our employees are learning to look for potential problems...

...If we find them, we'll notify Area Agencies on Aging.

Hundreds of Public Service Indiana employees are learning about an idea that works for Indiana's senior citizens. It's called Gatekeeper. It's a program that promotes awareness of certain danger signals that can point to trouble. Since our employees live throughout our 69-county service territory, they can help keep an eye out for such signals as:

- signs of confusion
- changes in appearance or behavior

- signs of disability
- unattended lawns
- uncollected mail
- uncollected newspapers, etc.

If we suspect trouble, we'll notify Area Agencies on Aging so they can follow up.

Gatekeeper's an idea that can help Indiana's senior citizens when they need it the most. It's another idea that works for Indiana.

ARE YOUR CHILDREN REALLY READY TO GO BACK TO SCHOOL?

With the new school year about to get underway, there is a lot of preliminary work to be done by the parents, and this preparation goes far beyond the basic requirements of clothes, shoes, eye examinations and reminders of discipline. Of course you teach your children manners and respect for authority, but there are other potential situations that call for special instructions. How would your son or daughter act toward a child in a wheelchair, or one with some other physical handicap? Or a child with a different ethnic background? Aside from your own example, a lot of help in these areas may be obtained from your House of Worship and its Sunday school; assuring the right answers to the above questions. You will then know that your children are truly ready for school — and to face the world.

Ready to Go!

Caleb Shewman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Shewman, and Jason Harrold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Harrold, are getting ready for Beaver Dam Nursery School. Both boys are from Akron. There are still a few openings for any child 3, 4, or 5 yrs. of age before August 1. Anyone interested may call Theresa Alber, 353-7157, or Bonnie Jarboe, 353-7290.

Beaver Dam church sets extra service

Beginning September 11, 1988, an early worship service will be held every Sunday at the Beaver Dam United Methodist Church beginning at 8:15 a.m., according to the Rev. Robert Jarboe who is pastor of the church.

Following the same style of service held at Beaver Dam Lake during the summer, it will be more informal and have less music.

The need for an early worship service arose to help alleviate the crowded sanctuary as well as be available for those who have a full day planned and would like to worship early.

The early service will continue until the first Sunday in June, 1989, when it will resume at Beaver Dam Lake.

We wish to thank our family, neighbors and friends who helped make our 50th wedding anniversary celebration a wonderful day--one we will never forget.

Thanks for the gifts, cards, and phone calls. May God bless each one of you!

Proposed salary ordinance approved by Akron Board

Increase in salaries were approved by the Akron Town Board for the town employees at the August 16 meeting of the board. Increases in salaries are as follows: General Superintendent - $18,900 (5% increase); Water Works Plant Operator $18,200 (4% increase); Town Marshal $17,510 (3% increase); and Deputy Marshal $16,480 (3% increase). The Akron billing clerk will be receiving $5.00 per hour which is an increase of 10%. There has not been an increase for this position for 3 years.

The town attorney will be receiving $750 per year with the salary for town board members and the town clerk-treasurer remaining the same at $780 and $6,700 respectively. Town board members as well as the town board president will receive $10.00 for each special meeting. The president of the town board receives a salary of $1,200.

Street repairs will begin the end of August. A proposal from Phend & Brown was approved by the board for the work. The firm will also be giving the board an estimate for the parking area at the new fire station. A decision for that work will be made at a later date.

Superintendent Gearhart was given permission from the board to move the underground gas tank from its present location to the area behind the new fire station.

in accordance with state regulations. He also mentioned taking care of the abandoned well on the old property and will see what can be done to make it safe.

Board members advised the superintendent to secure figures for the cost of a sewer cleaning machine.

An agreement was reached by board members for the fall clean-up in Akron. Free trash pick-up will be held on October 3 and 4 with the wards set up the same as last spring. Appliances and furniture will again need a special tag which can be purchased at the town office for $10.00.

Along with the board's efforts to clean-up the town, a decision was made to ask the town marshal to talk to a property owner on North Mishawaka Street concerning the appearance of his property. There are several old cars on the property and the marshal will see about getting them removed so that weeds can be mowed.

In other business, the board agreed to increase the fee for water shut-offs due to non-payment. At the present time citizens are charged $4.00, because of the large number of delinquent payments the fee will be increased. A definite decision and increased fee will be discussed at a later meeting.

Before the meeting was adjourned, Marshal Ron Dittman was presented his certificate of completion of Law Enforcement Training.

4-Hers attend Leadership School

Whetstone winner in state fair heifer chase

Gabriel Whetstone of the Tippecanoe Valley FFA Chapter was a winner in the Tenth Annual Indiana FFA Heifer Chase staged Wednesday, August 24, in conjunction with the Indiana State Fair Farmer's and FFA Day festivities.

To be a winner in the Heifer Chase, the Green-hand (first year FFA member) must successfully catch and halter a 350 pound beef animal running loose in a corral. No lassoing or rodeo-type catching methods are permitted.

Gibson, USDA make deal

Claypool Livestock Sales, Inc., Silver Lake, and its owner, James P. Gibson, have agreed to a 28-day suspension and a cease and desist order by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The suspension will be held in abeyance provided Gibson does not violate any of the provisions of the order for one year.

Calvin W. Watkins, deputy administrator of USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration, said the firm has agreed to the order to settle federal administrative charges of misusing custodial account funds and doing business while its current liabilities exceeded its current assets. He said the charges also included failing to pay shippers promptly for livestock consigned to the market, and failing to pay when due for livestock purchased on a dealer basis.

In agreeing to the penalties Gibson and the firm neither admitted nor denied the federal administrative charges filed under authority of the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act. The cease and desist order was issued to ensure future compliance with the P&S Act.

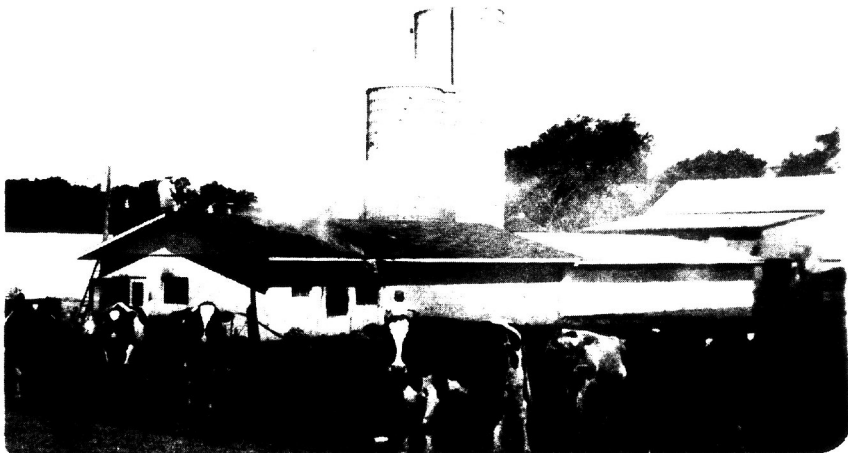

The P&S Act is an antitrust, fair trade practice, and payment protection law. It is designed to maintain integrity in the marketing of livestock, poultry, and meat, and economic law and order in the marketplace.

Chase will be awarded at a later date a beef or dairy heifer to take back home to their farm, or a $500.00 check to go towards the purchase of an excellent heifer. Three heifers were donated by past chase winners which came from offspring of a calf previously won through the Heifer Chase Program. Three past winners elected to fulfill their commitment by presenting checks for $500.00 each. Additional funding is received from the Rural Rehabilitation Fund administered through the Department of Commerce, Agricultural Division under the direction of Lt. Governor John Mutz. Donors were recognized in pre-Heifer Chase ceremonies.

The Heifer Chase is sponsored by the Indiana Association of Future Farmers of America (FFA) in conjunction with the Indiana Department of Commerce - Division of Agriculture along with the cooperation of the Indiana State Fair.

Fire damages milking parlor

The milking parlor owned by Darrell Jones, located five miles south of Akron on Co. Rd. 500E between 1400N and 1500N, was severely damaged by fire on Friday, August 26. A problem in the electrical wiring is what officials believe caused the fire that did approximately $25,000 to $30,000 in damages.

The vacuum pump, compressor, roof, and ceiling structure were all destroyed in the fire. Numerous other pieces of equipment were also destroyed by heat and smoke.

The Henry Twp. Fire Department answered the fire call and were assisted later by the Laketon Fire Dept.

Although the fire had the Jones' and area neighbors in turmoil, the cattle did not seem to mind the extra confusion. In fact, they were more interested in the camera than in the fire. One interesting note, a calf was born in the midst of the fire and the cattle surrounded the little one immediately as if to protect it from any harm. (News Photo)

All-sports booster club announces purpose

Organization of the Tippecanoe Valley All Sports Booster Club continued Monday, August 29, with the purpose of the organization being established.

The purpose of the said organization is to "unite all interested individuals in a fund raising effort to benefit all sports at Tippecanoe Valley high school". According to the club's members, it is not the intention of the club to become politically involved with the administrative process of the school in activities such as the hiring, reprimanding or dismissal of coaches, teachers or athletic directors.

Some of the benefits hoped to be attained through the club's efforts are:

United fund raising effort, banquets, scholarships, better equipment and uniforms, removal of the fund raising burden from the coaches and athletes, eliminate the pressure put on the business community by reducing the number of small fund raising projects, and a building of school spirit.

Further information concerning the club will be printed in this paper at a later date. Anyone interested in the athletic program at Tippecanoe Valley School is invited to attend the meetings. For more information, contact Lew Goodwin, Rt. 1 Box 279, Claypool (491-3272); LouAnn Parker, Rt. 1 Box 178, Silver Lake (352-2656); or Leslie Davis, P.O. Box 243, Warsaw (491-5395).

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

THE LONE RANGER RIDES AGAIN!

Being the parents of two boys, Doug and I felt the boys should be with us when we dined out not only to learn behavior but table manners. Our dining experiences consisted not only of fast food restaurants which the boys and myself frequently visit, but average restaurants on up to the nicer ones which require jackets and ties. The stunts that have happened, I would like to make clear, have happened once, and only once.

Let me start with the fast food restaurants. These make an excellent place to begin training. I'd like, at this point, to give Chris credit for having shown his brother the straw trick. You know the one... where the paper covering over the straw flies past your head as you're looking out the window. At once, your head turns all around looking to see how many people saw what happened! We still face temptation every time the end is torn from a paper enclosed straw. Chris, now 19, has hopefully outgrown blowing the coverings all around, but, C.J. still shows a glint in his eyes as he looks at my firmly set jaw.

We next graduated to the average restaurants that most people visit. By this time, the boys had learned to mind, we thought. Regardless of where we went, the boys chose the same things: coke, hamburger and fries. It was at this point, we discussed the smorgasbord, different soups, salad bars and eventually the kids have grown to choose other foods. However, in the beginning, the conversation between the boys and the waitress went something like this: Chris: "I'll have a plain tenderloin." Waitress: "Don't you want anything on it?" Chris: "I didn't know you put anything on a plain sandwich?" Waitress: "You don't want anything on your tenderloin?" Chris: "A bun would be nice." With Doug looking mortified the waitress turned to Collin. Their conversation was somewhat similar. Waitress: "What would you like this evening?" Collin: "A cheeseburger." Waitress: "What would you like on your cheeseburger?" Collin: "Cheese." (That familiar glint is back!) This has been called the doubletake. Every waitress which has encountered C.J. and his cheeseburger order does a doubletake. This is the only thing we can't seem to break Collin of. After this happened, I noticed Doug looking for an empty chair at another table!

Last but not least, the Lone Ranger impression. As the boys became older we next visited a more adult restaurant. We had warned the boys against using their ties as the Three Stooges did in their films, but the first mishap was mine. I tried to cross my legs and wrap my foot around the table leg only to discover it was Chris' leg instead. Right off the bat I knew we were in trouble. Putting my full concentration in the menu, the waitress stopped at Collin's place noting he was intrigued by the napkins which had started as triangles and had been folded to stand in our plates. Thinking nothing of it, I returned to the menu. All of a sudden Chris said, "Mom, you better look at Collin." I glanced across the table to see the triangular napkin covering the nose and mouth of C.J. with his hand holding it as a mask. "Hi Ho Silver" was what broke the waitress. After answering no to my question, I offered her mine. She was a good sport, better than me!

It could have been worse, at least he didn't call me Kemosabi!

Sorority holds picnic

The Pike Memorial Park, Akron, was the site of the annual Mental Health Picnic sponsored by the Kappa Delta Phi held August 25.

Thirty-five people from the Logansport State Hospital were present.

Bingo was enjoyed following the carry-in dinner which was served at noon. The guests were treated by the sorority at the Freezer Fresh later in the afternoon.

The sorority wishes to thank Maxine Bahney, Emeline Fites and Jenny Moore for their help with the picnic.

Readers, don't forget the style show scheduled for September 14 at TVHS. Tickets are available from any sorority member.

Worship on the lake

Labor Day Sunday, September 4, will be the last of the special lakeside services which have been held during the summer at Beaver Dam Lake.

Held at the public access site on the east side of Beaver Dam Lake, the early morning services have been under the direction of Beaver Dam United Methodist Church. Time for the service Sunday will be 8:15-8:45 a.m.

The singing group, The Heirborn, will be performing at this special service Sunday morning.

Rev. Jarboe invites the public to bring a boat and anchor in the bay or bring a lawn chair and worship from the bank. Coffee and donuts will be served.

Business as Usual

Dr. Dan Kramer of Mentone has settled in as principal for the Mentone School. According to Dr. Kramer, business is "as usual" for the beginning of a school year. Getting to know all the students and faculty members is a priority of Dr. Kramer. (News Photo)

Scholarships to be awarded

A $10,000 college scholarship awaits one high school senior this spring who demonstrates outstanding leadership, academic prowess, and problem solving skills.

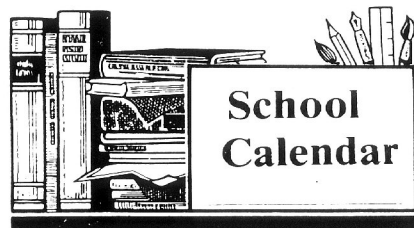

Century III leaders will award more than $249,000 in college scholarships. High school seniors in public and private schools are eligible, but must enter by Oct. 21. The program is funded by the Shell Oil Company Foundation and administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Students should check with their high school principal to receive application information. Entrants must complete an application form which focuses upon their school and community involvement, take a current events examination, and write a two-paragraph description of a problem facing America in its third century. School winners will be able to compete at the state level and will have to expand the description into a two-page Project for Innovative Leadership.

Two winners in each state and the District of Columbia will earn $1,500 college scholarships and all-expense paid trips to the Century III Leaders national conference in Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia. Two alternates in each state receive $500 college scholarships, and six state runners-up each get $100 scholarships.

During the national meeting, March 2-6, delegates will hear government and business leaders, debate national and international challenges and vie for additional scholarships.

Schools that have not received an entry kit by Sept. 1 should contact NASSP, (703) 860-0200.

Valley Vikings win at Knox

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings opened the football season with a strong victory over the host team, the Knox Redskins. The class 3-A ninth-ranked team won the game with a score of 20-6.

Leading the Valley effort were Dale Cave with 121 yards. Andy Mikesell took advantage of a Knox fumble to aid Cave's 26-yard run in the first quarter. Dion Anglin threw an aerial pass to Troy Busenbarg in the end zone from a distance of nine yards.

Knox went on the scoreboard in the third quarter with a 6-yard touchdown. Cave starred again with a 9-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter, and the Anglin-to-Busenbarg conversion was successful.

Mikesell led the Viking defense with 33 tackle points. Also aiding the Vikes were Tim Sleeth and Busenbarg with 20 tackle points each.

Hampering the Vikings were a pair of facemask calls and a penalty for roughing the passer.

Scoring Summary
TV-Dale Cave, 26-yd. run; kick failed.
TV-Troy Busenbarg, 9-yd. pass from Dion Anglin; pass failed.
K-Ken Kajer, 6-yd. run; run failed.

YOUR PUBLIC SERVICE INDIANA REBATE:

WHO, WHEN AND HOW MUCH?

By now, many of our customers are aware of our rebate program. For those of you who are not familiar with it, here are some details.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE? Anyone who was a residential customer of ours during the May, June and July billing periods is entitled to a check. Business customers will also receive their share of the rebate.

WHEN? The rebate will be mailed September 2, 1988. Most checks should arrive within a few days of Labor Day weekend.

HOW MUCH? The total amount is $50 million. Your portion will be determined by your usage.

New Lower Rates and now rebates, too. Ideas that work for Indiana's families and businesses.

PUBLIC SERVICE INDIANA

PSI says rebates due soon

Public Service Indiana customers in this area will soon be receiving rebates totaling $493,464.43 according to Jim Wilber, manager of the local PSI office.

In all, the utility is mailing checks totaling more than $50 million to customers throughout its 69-county service area.

The amount each customer receives depends on the electricity used during a specified period. For residential and commercial customers, the calculation is based on May, June and July bills. For industrial customers, it's based on usage during the 12-month period which ended in April.

"About half of our residential customers will receive between 35 and 60 dollars," Wilber said. "Some will receive less than that and some will receive more, depending on their usage. The checks for industrial customers will be much larger."

The rebate and rate decreases which took effect in July are signs that PSI is returning financial health, Wilber said. When yet another rate decrease takes effect next year, the company's rate will have been rolled back to where they were in 1983, before emergency rate increases were granted.

"We're glad to be able to eliminate those rate increases," Wilber said, "and we think the rebate checks, when you add them all up, will have a positive effect on the local economy."

Rebate checks will be mailed Sept. 2, so customers can expect them to arrive either Saturday, Sept. 3, or shortly after the Labor Day weekend.

Perry Improvement

by Aurel Musselman

The Perry Home Improvement Club recently met at the Golden Coral for their regular meeting and to enjoy a smorgasbord lunch. President Marie Nestleroad conducted the business meeting.

Pauline Miller gave the devotions by using the scripture I Corinthians 6:19. "Farmer's Role in Making of America" was read by Aurel Musselman for the family life lesson.

Enjoying the day and meeting were Pauline Miller, Alice Teel, Sherri Moore, Marie Berger, Aurel Musselman, Emma Burns, Betty Keim, Marie Nestleroad, Helen Miller, and Marjorie Miller.

Tentative plans for the September meeting include a lesson entitled "Preparing Meals in 30 Minutes or Less". Future plans include a lesson on time management.

Tax classes offered

Children are not the only ones who have the opportunity to further their education this fall. According to Mrs. Beverly J. Worth, this is the time for adults to consider expanding their education with a Worth Tax Service course.

During the 81 hour course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and gain practical experience by doing homework on cut forms. Classes will begin Sept. 7, and be available both morning and evening. The new tax laws are affecting every taxpayer and knowledge gained in the income tax course will give students the tools needed to so arrange their affairs to pay lesser tax legally.

The registration fee includes textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the course. The school is accredited by the Indiana Commission on Proprietary Education (AC-0210).

Registration brochures and further details may be obtained by contacting Worth Tax Service, located at 502 S. Buffalo St., Warsaw, IN 46580. The telephone number is 267-4687.

ROOT CANAL MYTH

If you think root canal therapy has something to do with extracting a tooth or that it makes a tooth turn black, you have a misconception about one of the most important dental procedures. Root canal therapy is often recommended to save a tooth and prolong its usefulness for many years.

What it really amounts to is taking the nerve out of the tooth. The tooth is not extracted, nor does it turn black. You may notice some discoloration in the tooth after root canal therapy, but your dentist can correct this, just as he can correct any discolored or stained tooth. He may use one of several procedures to make it match up with your teeth. One method involves bleaching. Another method is to bond a composite resin over the surface of the tooth. Also, a very thin veneer of plastic laminate can be applied.

If the tooth needs rebuilding so you can use it more efficiently for chewing, your dentist may recommend that the tooth be covered with a porcelain crown.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

Your presence at their celebration is the only gift they desire.

"It's A Wonderful Life" opens at Waraw

Wagon Wheel Theatre announces the professional premiere of a new musical, "A Wonderful Life," opening tonight, Wednesday, August 31.

Based on Frank Capra's great film, "It's A Wonderful Life," which starred James Stewart, this new musical has well-known roots. The music is composed by Joe Raposo who is known for his work on the national children's television show, "Sesame Street." Sheldon Harnick, who enchanted Broadway with "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Fiorello," has written the lyrics and adapted the script for the Wagon Wheel's upcoming production. Managing Artistic Director, Tom Roland, is a personal friend of Sheldon ever since their college days at Northwestern University.

"I am thrilled that Sheldon wants the Wagon Wheel to produce his show. It is such a beautiful story, one that appeals to all ages. And now, with the addition of music, the show is even more impressive than the movie," states Roland.

The story is a moving tale about George Bailey who, on Christmas Eve, discovers the meaning and importance of his life with the help of a fledgling angel named Clarence. Nicholas Augustus will portray George, while Robert Schwarz plays Clarence. Other characters in the town of Bedford Falls include: Goshen's Kim Johnson as George's wife, Mary, Tom Roland as the menacing Mr. Potter as well as locals Alison Streeter, Daniel J. Smythe Jr. and Jody Thompson as the Bailey's children.

"A Wonderful Life" is the last show of the summer season and will only run for two weeks ending on Sunday, September 11. As some nights are almost sold out, patrons are encouraged to make reservations early by calling the ticket office at: (219) 267-8041.

Day by Day

I'll really try hard to live for each day.

And not be afraid of what may come my way.

I'll try to be glad whatever I find.

for happiness starts with your own state of mind.

I'll try to accept whatever may be,

And not to think the world has to run to suit me.

I'll try to share things, as I really believe

It's truly more blessed to give than receive.

Senior Citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For your meal reservation, please call 893-7204 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. the day before you plan to join us. Thank you.

The menu for the week of Sept. 5 - 9 is:

In Fashion

The event of Mickey Mouse's 60th birthday is influencing much of the fall sportswear. Early teens will be wearing spectator sweats and lumberjack shirts adorned with Mickey's likeness.

Don't overlook the fashion, in this line, for the very young. Mickey and Minnie sweatshirts with bright colored ribbed collar and sleeve detail will be a "must" for youngsters. Mickey sweatshirts and sweatpants are also available. The elastic waisted poodle skirt featuring Mickey and Minnie returns.

Toy shelves are filled with Mickey and Minnie mementos of every description. Toddlers love them.

Wed in 1948

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Rt. 1, Akron, were honored at a family dinner to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. They were married August 22, 1948, in Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Lewis is the former Jeanette Magazine.

They are the parents of four sons: Sidney, Indianapolis; Kim, Mentone; Michael, Warsaw; and Maurice, Rochester. They also have six grandchildren.

To Wed September 3

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Godden of Wabash and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huffman of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Kay Huffman to Jeffrey Allen Baker.

Jeff graduated from Northfield High School in 1986 and is presently working in Fort Wayne as a finishing carpenter.

A senior at Northfield High School, Kim is employed as an Avon representative.

The couple plans to wed September 3. They will reside at Rt. 6, Wabash.

Public Service Indiana warns of con artists

Public Service Indiana says law enforcement officials have warned the company that con artists posing as utility employees may try to victimize PSI customers.

Authorities said two men "ripped off" elderly people in Springfield and Decatur, Ill., by telling them they were entitled to a refund from the local utility. Once inside the victims' homes, the men asked for change for $100 to find out where the money was kept. One man then distracted the victim while the other stole cash. The men have also gained access to homes by offering to do home repair work and driveway sealing.

Lt. Stephen Golden of the Hendricks County Sheriff's Department said authorities believe the men actually live in Indianapolis and they may try to rob customers of Public Service Indiana.

"One man is between 30 and 40 years old. The other is between 40 and 50," Golden said. "Both have dark hair and they were with a third man in an unmarked white van."

"If you have information about these men, you can call Crime Stoppers at 317-637-2323 24 hours a day," Golden said. "If the information you provide leads to the arrest or indictment of either man, you will be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000. You will remain anonymous and you do not have to testify."

Jim Wilber, local manager for Public Service Indiana, said the utility's customers will be getting rebate checks through the mail.

"If anyone comes to your door claiming to be from Public Service Indiana, ask to see identification or call our office to be sure," Wilber said. "PSI employees almost never enter a home except in an emergency. Our meter readers and service employees have no reason to come inside a home and they are not allowed to accept payments or give out cash."

Customer: "Make it half a dozen. I'm a man of few words."

New prize for poets

A trip top Hawaii for two is the grand prize in the American Poetry Association's latest poetry contest. There is also a $1,000 first prize. In all, 152 poets will win $11,000 worth of prizes. Contest entry is free. Everyone is welcome to enter.

"Poets deserve more rewards and recognitions," said Robert Nelson, the publisher for the Association. "New and little-known poets are the ones we are looking for. We can give them encouragement and a good start."

Poets may send up to five poems, no more than 20 lines each, with name and address on each page to American Poetry Association, Dept. CN-72, 250 A Potrero Street, P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Poems are judged on originality and sincerity. Every poem is also considered for publication.

In the last six years the American Poetry Association has sponsored 27 contests and awarded $101,000 to 2,700 winning poets.

Poems postmarked by December 31 are eligible to win. Prizes will be awarded by February 28, 1989.

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS E. STAM, PRES.
MIDWEST BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

MILES AND MILES OF SCRIPTURE

How much, I wonder, do the Christian parents among our readers show their children their love for the Word, and for Christ, and for the souls for whom He died?

For many years I worked with my father, first full-time, then part-time, as a city missionary in Paterson, New Jersey. All during these first years Dad and I walked to work together each morning—a little over a mile.

Do you know how we invariably occupied ourselves on the way? By quoting Scripture passages on some particular subject. One morning we would quote as many passages as we could on the deity of Christ, another on His death or resurrection, others on His love, power, grace, or other attributes and characteristics. Sometimes, for days or weeks on end Dad would use these morning walks to ply me with questions such as: "What Scriptures would you use to deal with a blaspheming unbeliever?" Or, "a self-righteous person," or "one who rejects Christ on intellectual grounds?"

In this way we covered "miles and miles of Scripture," as it were, and this in addition to Scripture reading before every meal at home, and again before we retired for the night. And all this again in addition to the oral and written Bible teaching of many of the great Bible expositors of that day, whose teachings we studied with the deepest interest.

What a precious heritage! We wish that more of our Christian young people today were as well off. Parents, it's strictly up to you. What are your priorities? What are you willing to pay—in terms of pleasure, ease or financial "success"? Do you set an example to your children—and others—by really putting God first?

Loren Betz to share talents

Loren Betz, Rochester, will share his talent and witness in song at the Mentone and Talma United Methodist Churches on Sunday, August 28.

Mr. Betz began his career as a music teacher and retired as a school superintendent. He is the "unofficial song leader" of the North Indiana Conference of The United Methodist Church.

A certified lay speaker in the United Methodist Church, Mr. Betz and his wife Naomi also spend several weeks a year in the Lay Witness Mission program. As members of the Grace United Methodist Church, Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Betz are also members of the Velda Rose United Methodist Church of Mesa, Arizona.

The public is invited to join the Mentone Church at 9:30 a.m. and the Talma Church at 10:45 a.m. for these special services.

Smoke stoppers class offered

A free orientation program for Smoke Stoppers will be offered at the Bowen Center, September 13, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Bowen Center and the Center for Health Promotion. The purpose of the orientation is to explain how the program works and its cost. To register for the free orientation session call, 267-7169 or toll free 1-800-342-5653. The center is located at 850 N. Harrison St., just off Highway 30 next to KCH.
