On patrol with the Akron Police Department

By Laura Bickel

Akron Police Department has been through many changes since 1980. Many of the changes are due to the fact that the department has had eight different police officers, not including Marshal Tim Fleck and Deputy Marshal Les McFarland that presently man the department.

I patrolled with both the Deputy Marshal and the Marshal to find out what goes on during their shifts.

I was scared and excited all at the same time. I had never ridden in a police car before and feared what might or might not happen. I know it is only Akron but crime finds its way into small towns just as it finds its way into big cities.

It was Friday night, July 27, 1990 at 9:00 p.m. We had just entered a 10-41 (beginning tour of duty) when a call came in from Fulton County Sheriff's Department that two black cars were drag racing down State Road 19 and off we went to check out the complaint. Meanwhile Marshal Fleck had heard the call also and was in route as back-up. "This is something we always do, back each other up. We have to stick together because there are only two of us. Its just like when the County Police ask us for assistance, we always try to help them, because they are always willing to help us when we need it. It's like a brotherhood, all police officers stick together and help each other out." McFarland said. After checking the road out, no cars were spotted, and the pursuit was ended. Back to town we went and started the routine of checking businesses and surrounding areas. Many routine stops were made for such things as speeding, fictitious and false registrations, headlights and taillights out. These people were stopped and either given tickets or warnings.

As we patrolled the streets, I got a chance to ask Les a few questions about what made him choose the career of law enforcement. He said, "I have always known I wanted to become a police officer. Every since I was knee high to a grasshopper I knew that is what I wanted to do when I grew up." Les began his career working in the South Chicago Police Department in Will County where he left with a excellent recommendation. He also came with a high standing from the Police Academy. He is an Advanced EMT and advanced scuba diver. I asked why he wanted to come to a small town, he commented, "I like small towns, I was born and raised in a small town. The hardest thing about coming to a small town is that everyone knows everyone and many of the people have been here all their lives. If you are someone coming in that hasn't been here all your life and you don't know the people and you stop them for speeding or some other violation they think you are picking on them. Really you're not, your're just trying to do your job. That is what the taxpayers pay you for, to enforce the law, and the law applies to everyone, no matter who you are. If you are doing something wrong, I am going to stop you because I am paid to keep everyone safe. I really care about what I am doing."

Throughout the night, businesses are checked and streets are patrolled. As 11:00 p.m. neared it was time to check for kids out on the streets. The curfew for 15 and under is 11:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. for 15 to 18 years old. "Our biggest problem in this town is the kids. They are not properly supervised and they just always seem to find themselves getting into trouble. Every night we always have to make kids get off the street and go home. There is a curfew but that doesn't seem to matter to most of them, and kids out late at night seem to do nothing but find destructive things to do. It's hard for kids though. There isn't much for them to do around here and there are usually problems at home so that is the last place they want to be. When school gets out is when most of our problems seem to get worse." And sure enough, we found at least four kids that had to be told it was past curfew and to go home.

When asked what was the worst thing he had ever seen in this line of duty, McFarland replied, "drive by shootings in Chicago. People would just drive by and put a gun out the window and shoot whatever and whoever was in their path." And what is the best thing about this job? He replied, "when someone comes up

Nutrition site cutbacks

Akron Nutrition has recently gone through some pretty big changes. Due to federal and state funding the Akron Site was forced to cut back to serving meals only three days a week, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, except on holidays and the once a month pitch-in-dinner.

One more big change was that Nutrition Site Director Marilyn Stafford retired.

Since then Connie Ramsey of Akron has assumed that position.

Connie commented, "The site is a great thing for seniors, but the program need the seniors to take advantage of the meals served at dinner time these days for the program to stay alive in Akron. The program is in need of new people and new ideas."

The Rochester Site has given an open invitation to send a mini bus over to Akron to pick up any senior that would like to go to Rochester Nutrition Site on the days that Akron is not open. For more information on this you can contact Connie Ramsey.

The Akron Site is open to anyone under the age of 60 or handicapped for a fee of $2.59 a meal. There is no fee for seniors but donations are accepted.

Every third Wednesday of the month there is a free blood pressure clinic.

to you and tells you what a good job you are doing."

As we go through town one more time the patrolling is over for one more night. But the shift really never ends, because an Akron Police officer is always on call 24 hours a day.

The following evening I rode with Marshal Tim Fleck. He had been on duty since 2:30 that afternoon. I joined him at 9:00 p.m.

Marshal Fleck has been with the Akron P.D. for one year and was promoted to Marshal after David Lawson left.

The process of patrolling begins again, business are checked and streets are patrolled.

The first thing we did that night was help out a motorist in distress. It was a quiet evening so it gave me the chance to talk to Tim about his department. "It's really tough because you spend a lot more time at this job then people seem to think. One thing I pride myself on is the fact that we answer every call from a dog barking to a personal injury accident."

All the administrative responsibilities are very time consuming as well as the day to day responsibilities of patrolling and answering calls.

As the night progressed a call came in from a grandmother worried about her grandson who was at the ball game. She felt he should have already been home. Marshal Fleck responded to the call to find the boy already home. "You have to remember in this job that the simplest things mean a great deal to someone else and you have to handle each one with a lot of compassion. This job is made easier on me because of the fact I was born and raised in this town and I usually know everyone. But then again, it makes it one of the hardest parts of my job, when you have to pull someone over that you know really well and give them a ticket. They think you should just let them go because you do know them, but it just can't be that way all of the time."

Back on patrol again, two boys were told it was after curfew. Also a stop was made for a taillight out, he was warned and then let go.

Meanwhile I asked Tim what his goals for his department were. "Getting more involved with the school kids about drug prevention and possibly a neighborhood crime watch," he replied.

How does a family man deal with the off set hours and the time the job consumes; "It's really hard on my wife and daughter and with another child on the way, I'm sure it will be even harder," he answered.

I asked Tim the same questions I had asked Les the night before. The first one was what was the worst thing you had ever seen in the line of duty and he replied "it was three weeks ago, when there was an accident and a four year old boy was killed. When I got to the accident and the other officer told me he was already gone, I felt so helpless I knew there was nothing I could do, being a family man it really hit home." What was the best thing about his job? "I really like working with the people in the community and hope I am making a difference. I grew up with these people and they're people I really care about. This is the job I plan on doing as long as I can pay my bills by doing it."

As we patrolled the streets for one last routine check, my weekend with the Akron P.D. was over and it was a weekend I will not soon forget. I had a whole new respect for the men behind the badges and as I drove into my drive way, I truly felt safe in this community.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Congressman Jim Jontz's opponent in the fall election says that Jontz's constituent service is a waste of time. "The government should be able to function without such intervention," according to John Johnson in the Indianapolis Star.

What a bunch of _____. Let me tell you about the problem I had with the government that is supposed to run so smoothly.

There are more than one different ways Jim Jontz has helped us with the "so called smooth running government." The following is one that without his help, we probably would still be waiting on our check.

My husband and I are retired and on Medicare. In November of 1988, we were in Florida and I discovered I had cancer and had to be operated on immediately. I had the operation on November 22, 1988. All the papers for the doctors, hospital, etc., were sent in immediately to Medicare in Jacksonville, Florida. The hospital bill, the doctors that assisted the surgeon, medicine, etc. were all paid. The surgeon's bill for the operation had not been paid by January 1, 1989, so I called Jacksonville 4 or 5 times, only to hear it was being processed. I contacted Jim Jontz on or about June 10, 1989 about this. He immediately contacted Medicare in Jacksonville. Due to his help, on June 30th, I finally received payment. This is a case of the so called "smooth running government."

I appreciate the help that I got from Jim Jontz and his staff, and I tell you I couldn't have gotten it done without them. I'm going to vote for Jontz, because I know he'll fight to get the government back on the side of the average citizen.

The biggest smile, and biggest fish, in town belongs to Bill Hively with a three foot Northern Pike which he caught while on a fishing trip near Spooner, Wisconsin last week.

The picture caption describing the two new homes west of Akron was in error last week when it stated that the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haney Jr. was being built by Rex Rhodes. It is being built by Don Whittenberger. Our apologies to the Haney's and Mr. Whittenberger.

An impressive lawn ceremony at the farm home of the bride's parents, on Sunday, July 25th at 2:30 p.m. formed the setting for the marriage of Priscilla Van Buskirk and James Ross Burdge. The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Van Buskirk of Roann, Indiana. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Harry Burdge and the late Mr. Burdge of Akron. The Rev. Ralph McFadden of Lafayette officiated at the doubling ceremony before a trellis covered with greenery and flanked on each side by bouquets of white glads with pastel Killian daisies. Mrs. Ken Grandstaff of Roann provided the nuptial music. The bride is a graduate of Roann High School in 1961 and from Hanover College in 1965. She is a member of Phi Mu Social sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Akron High School and from Purdue University School of Agriculture in 1963. Mr. Burdge is employed in farming.

Mrs. Ina Brundige announces that Tuesday, August 6, will be the one hundredth anniversary of the home she now occupies. Her father, Jacob Whittenberger, and his first wife arrived August 6, 1840 in Newark, and tented that night on the hill which has since been the continuous residence of members of the immediate family. In commemoration of the event, Mrs. Brundige has invited the Methodist church organizations to her home next week for their regular meetings. Many years before a railroad was built, the itinerant Methodists sought this place as a refuge for rest and care when making trips from place to place in behalf of the pioneer church. A hearty welcome was always assured. The entire week will be virtually Open House and Mrs. Brundige will be glad to greet any old time friends of the family through the years, in commemoration of a Century Home.

Another Akronite whose early days were spent near royalty is Rose Potter. Her father was head gardener for an English Lord, and when she was born, in a rose covered cottage on the peer's estate, she was appropriately named "Rose". Her inherited love for flowers is still evident.

Those Harris boys, Walt and Buddy, are pretty tough. They had their tonsils removed Saturday morning and Saturday night Walt was up town helping the Silver Nite Committee with their drawing. INDIANA? WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME?

Good question. And it's a question we've heard in many languages. At PSI Energy we've joined with communities throughout Indiana to help them sell their advantages throughout the world. It's a partnership that creates growth and prosperity for all of us.

We believe Indiana's only as strong as its communities. And, through joint economic development efforts, we're helping communities by sharing our resources.

Economic development. We believe it's the energy of the future.

EVEN THE BUSIEST FAMILIES CAN FIND TIME FOR PRAYERS

Despite their best intentions, today's family members spend a lot more time apart than together. Dad is at work all day, and if he has to travel, for even longer periods. Mom may also work, or if the children are old enough to fend for themselves, she may get involved in community service or some other volunteer effort. The children have school, football practice, piano lessons, paper routes, and you name it. Family vacations? Yes, if they can be fitted in around summer school, year round school, campouts, etc. However, the one thing that families should try to do together is attend their House of Worship, so that they can bridge the chasm of all that time they must spend apart with a lasting bond of understanding and love.

Method and Good are married

Lisa Ann Method and Craig Allen Good were united in marriage on Saturday, June 16, 1990 in an afternoon ceremony at the Silver Lake Wesleyan Church. Rev. Jerald A. Travis performed the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Doug Method, Warsaw, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Good, Mentone.

The bride wore her mother-in-law's wedding gown. Her gown was chantly lace over taffeta. The bouffant dress was fashioned with a scalloped sabrine neckline touched with iridescent beads, a fitted bodice and long lace pointed sleeves. Scalloped tiers of lace formed the skirt, and cascaded into a chapel train. Pearl beads and white flowers held the bride's bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of peach and white flowers, accented with peach, white and mint green streamers. The bride made her own and the bridesmaids flower arrangements out of silk flowers.

Matron of honor was Lisa Heckathorn of Nappanee. Bridesmaids were Janet Slaughbough of Nappanee and the brides sister, Leah Ann Method of Warsaw. They all wore floor length peach gowns.

Bestman was Brent Benzinger of Warsaw. The brother of the groom, Mitch Good of Mentone served as groomsman. They also ushered the guests.

A reception was held in the basement of the church. Balloons and streamers of mint green, peach and white decorated the basement.

Following a weeks trip to the Bahamas, the couple is at home at 2441 West CR 250 South, Hiaway Hills, Warsaw.

PSI Energy president plans to retire

PSI Energy announced today that Darrell V. Menscer, the company's president and chief operating officer, will retire as an officer and director of the utility and its parent company, PSI Resources, on August 31, 1990.

"Darrell Menscer has given exemplary service to PSI Energy chairman and chief executive officer. "He is correctly regarded by his peers as one of the outstanding executives in our industry. It's obvious that his leadership and experience will be missed at PSI."

With Menscer's retirement, two of PSI Energy's senior officers will become chief operating officers of the utility's largest business units--Power and Customer Operations.

Larry E. Thomas will serve as both senior vice president and chief operating officer of Customer Operations. Joseph W. Messick Jr. will serve as both senior vice president and chief operating officer of Power System Operations. Rogers will assume the title of president.

"In recent months, it has become clear to me that Larry Thomas and Joe Messick are prepared to assume full authority over their respective operations," Menscer said. "This made it easier for me to choose retirement at this time."

Menscer, 56, joined PSI in May 1980 as the company's president and chief operating officer. Prior to coming to Indiana, he was an executive at Carolina Power & Light. He has worked in the electric utility industry for 30 years.

Tippecanoe Valley Aquatic Club

On August 3-5, 1990, the Indiana Swimming Long Course Age Group Championships will be held in Indianapolis at the IUPUI Natatorium, one of the finest swimming facilities in the world and home of such events as the Pan Am Games. Tippecanoe Valley Aquatic Club is fortunate to have four hard-working and talented swimmers qualify to attend this prestigious event.

Scott Whetstone, son of Mike and Cindy Whetstone of Mentone, will be representing TVAC in the 11-12 boys age group. One of the top swimmers in northern Indiana, Scott has had a very successful summer season, the highlight of which has been, winning a bronze medal (3rd place) in the 50 meter butterfly at the White River State Park Games finals. Scott will be swimming five events in the state championships-400 meter free, 50 and 100 meter butterfly, and the 50 and 100 meter free. Last summer Scott was able to win the 10 and under 50 meter butterfly, so we wish him lots of good luck in his attempt to repeat his title in the 11 and 12 year old age group.

Two 11-12 year old girls will be representing TVAC in the state meet. Rebecca Flora, daughter of Dave and Joy Flora of Burket, will be swimming the 50 and 100 meter butterfly at the state meet. Rebecca has been at TVAC swimmer since 1986 and this will be the fifth time she has qualified to attend the state meet. Rebecca also had fine summer season, qualifying for the White River State Park Games finals and winning the 50 meter butterfly in several meets this summer.

Jill Hunter, our second 11-12 year old girl to qualify, is the daughter of Larry and Lana Hunter of Akron.

Jill is coming off a great year for TVAC, having set 7 new team records in the 11-12 girls age group. Though the rules only allow her to swim 5 events, Jill has qualified for 7 events in the state meet-50,100,200 and 400 meter freestyle, 200 meter IM, 100 meter butterfly, and 100 meter breast stroke. Both Jill and Rebecca will represent our swim club in the 11-12 age group extremely well and we wish them both the best of luck.

One TVAC swimmer will represent the team in the 10 and under girls category. Eve Boggs, daughter of Brett and Sarah Boggs of Akron, will be swimming in the 50 meter butterfly at the state meet. Eve started swimming for TVAC in 1988 and last winter she was one of only seven 9-year-olds to qualify for the 50 fly. With much hard work, she hopes to improve her time at the state finals.

Coach Stephen Doerscher has done an excellent job coaching these four swimmers this summer season and will have four ready to go this weekend.

Congratulations, swimmers, for a job well done this summer and we wish you all the best of luck at the state championships.

HELP ME!

DON'T TORTURE YOUR DOG BY LEAVING HIM IN A HOT CAR

We know that Fido likes to go with you on those long car rides, but when temperatures are hot he's better off at home.

On a hot summer day a dog that is left unattended in a hot car could die. A closed car interferes with the dog's normal cooling process, that is evaporation through panting.

On an 85 degree day for example, the temperature inside your car (with the windows slightly opened) will reach 102 degrees in 10 minutes. In 30 minutes it could reach 120 degrees. On warmer days it could get even hotter.

A dog can withstand the extreme heat for only a very short time before suffering irreparable brain damage or death.

So the next time Fido wants to go for a ride, give him a treat and leave him at home, at least until cooler weather. Summer will be over soon and the whole family can enjoy a relaxing ride in the car.

Even your pet!

New Mentone Sewer near completion

The Mentone Treatment Plant has two lagoons that are 12 to 13 acres each. (News Photo)

Anyone driving through Mentone these days can tell something big is going on. The streets are torn up in many spots, yards have heavy equipment sitting in them and sometimes even a large round tank can be spotted. As Mentone residents know, only to well, a new sewage system is being installed. The state recently ordered Mentone to upgrade their present sewer system.

I caught up with Superintendent Brian Reed, to find out more about this project and found out what it has meant. Reed said, "Many people don't understand that we had to do this, either do this or be fined by the state for each day that the project wasn't started and near completion. The worst is almost over, more than 50% of all systems are hooked up and functioning. The contractors now are mostly planting grass and fixing alleys."

Some homeowners felt their septic tanks were just fine and didn't need replaced and Reed said, "Some septic tanks were in pretty good shape, but alot were not, and in order for the whole system to work they all had to be set up on the same city sewage plan." That is where the treatment plant comes into the plan. Sewage can be run out to it and treated. The whole new system is much better. The treatment plant has two lagoons that are 12 to 13 acres each.

"Along with this program the town will take care of the cleaning of the septic tanks. That will only need done every three to five years at no cost to the homeowner. A total of 385 homes are set up with the new system and for a project this big there really hasn't been that many major problems, mostly homeowners getting upset with the contractors," said Reed.

Reed concluded, "That all in all the new septic system is best for the community and will only make things better in the future. Mentone is really pretty fortunate to have a Town Council that is concerned about the well being of citizens in this community. We already have very good drinking water. It took a rate hike back in 1985 to make it possible that our water is treated so it is not rusty and has a good taste. That was not a popular decision back then but now in the long run it was well worth it and in the future the community will feel the same way about our new sewage system."

Many long hours have been put in by Superintendent Reed. Each home that is hooked to the new system has been checked by him to ensure it is working properly. Reed would also like the homeowners to know if they have any problems or questions please call the town office he will come out and take care of anything they feel has not been done properly.

Who's Who in Mentone

Profile of Darrell
by Leafy Hudson

Darrell King volunteered to pour the cement flower pots, replicas from long ago, that replaced Street Scene's flower tubs on Main Street this year. He devoted many hours to the project. (Photo by Jerry Hudson).

Ohio native Darrell King has been a pillar of the Mentone community since he and Mary Ann, with their nine-month old son, Herb, came to Mentone in 1962. Having finished his funeral director apprenticeship at Miller Funeral Home in Middlebury, Indiana, Darrell purchased both the Johns Funeral Home and Reed Memorial Home, and established one business, known today as the King Memorial Home, in the former Reed property on Main Street.

It would be difficult to list the many community activities Darrell has originated, supported, or participated in since then. He opened the King Furniture Store about 1967. During the next several years, Darrell delivered furniture to, or laid carpet in most homes in Mentone and the surrounding community. Seeing farm-life as excellent training for his growing family, Darrell established the King Family Farm, west of Mentone, about 1978. His picking patch provided Mentone housewives with strawberries for several years and fresh vegetables from the King farm are still available throughout the summer. Having enjoyed a woodworking hobby for many years, Darrell's latest venture is the complete renovation of a rental home next door to his own.

But juggling businesses wasn't enough for Darrell. Just a few of his other projects include: membership in the Mentone Chamber of Commerce; organization of the Mentone EMT's; sponsorship of a May/Asian family during the Vietnamese Boat-People crisis; and leadership of the Kosciuszko County 4-H Swine Club.

For several years, Darrell, Mary Ann, and their six children were popular throughout Northern Indiana as the Singing King Family. Darrell says those years of singing publicly have paid off for his children, helping them to communicate successfully with professors and prospective employers. As evidence, Herb is presently head coach and athletic director at North Putnam High School. He and wife, Nancy, have a three month old son, Matthew Jordan. Kathleen King Martin is a junior high school music teacher and is music director in the Presbyterian Church in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada. Marily King Kindig, a graduate nurse, is entering medical school in Des Moines, Iowa. Phillip is a high school math teacher, and assistant director of high school musicals in Parma, Ohio. John is beginning his senior year at Bluffton College, Bluffton, Ohio, and Sam is about to begin his freshman year at DePaw University, Greencastle, Indiana.

Life hasn't always been easy for Darrell and his family. At Christmastime, 1971, fire destroyed the second story of the King home. Fortunately, the whole family was safe and they soon rebuilt, creating the present structure of King Memorial Home.

Two years ago, Darrell was critically injured in a vehicular accident. Recovery has been slow and painful, but Darrell has met this challenge with the same unquenchable spirit that has prevailed all his life. He credits the people of the Mentone community with helping him reestablish a normal life. Referring to the blood bank that was organized in just one week on his behalf, Darrell said, "You could not have asked for any town to do the things they did. The Red Cross ladies from Fort Wayne said they had never seen anything like it--organized so fast, so many donors stood in line for so long on such a hot day--they gave a lot more blood than I needed. How do you express how it makes you feel?" Darrell added, "Mentone is a good place to raise a family."

On Mentone's future, Darrell is very optimistic. He says we have more industry and better employment rates than most people realize. Although the strict requirements of the EPA are difficult for all small towns like Mentone to meet, he foresees the new sewer system in Mentone as the catalyst that will help the town to grow.

Undoubtedly, Darrell King, with Mary Ann by his side, will continue to be an asset to the Mentone community as he has been for the past 28 years.

Tax Hot Line Equals Hot Seat

If you want to register your vote against higher taxes, a tax hot line set up by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the Coalition for Fiscal Restraint might interest you. The hot line has been set up for citizens who are concerned about possible tax increases and want to protest tax increases to President Bush, their senators and their representative.

The call will generate a personal message urging the four elected officials to oppose tax increases.

The hot line is a special Western Union line. According to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, each call costs $7.95 and will be billed to the caller's home phone. The hot line number is 1-800-325-4176, operator No. 9750.

NSDAR of Mentone

The lovely lakeside home of Mrs. Wayne Smalley was the site for the final meeting of Anthony Nigo Chapter, NSDAR, of Mentone. A delicious pot-luck supper was enjoyed by all preceding the meeting. Lena Igo served as co-Hostess.

The regent, Mrs. Diane Bitting, led the opening ritual, pledge to the flag, American creed and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and roll call was answered by the 13 members and 2 guests present.

In response to the questionnaire regarding the merging with Warsaw Chapter, 29 members answered yes, 1 responded no, 2 were not signed properly and 2 were not heard from. Regent, Diane Bitting read from the handbook the requirements on transfers and membership at large. Roll call was taken with each member present expressing their own desires.

The treasurer will send $10 to the Mentone School for the Science Fair, $10 to the Bell Museum, $20 to the Bell Memorial Library, $50 to the Historical Society and $20 to the EMT's.

A video tape was enjoyed by all on Tamassee DAR School in South Carolina. It started with 100 acres and one building and now has 1,000 acres and 30 buildings. This is a home for disadvantaged children of the area. It is called "The Place of the Sunlight of God."

Everyone enjoyed a birthday cake with ice cream in honor of Helen Brown's birthday. It was an enjoyable but sad evening as the chapter will be merging with Warsaw by next fall.

It was organized January 21, 1935 with 2 of the charter members still having membership, Mrs. Helen Brown and Dr. Ladouska Bunker. It was a wonderful and learning experience for all who have belonged during the past 55 years, but due to the declining membership and not enough interest of the youth to be officers, it is time to move forward.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK DAY HARDWARE

One of the best things about shopping at Day Hardware in Akron is knowing that in addition to a full service hardware, you also get the benefit of Dick Day's 27 years of experience in the hardware business. Day admits to dispensing almost as much good advice over the years as he has good merchandise.

Located on Rochester Street just west of the stoplight in Akron, Day Hardware has been owned by Dick and his wife Judy since 1963. Their son Joe joined them in 1975. They are open from 8:00 to 6:00 on Monday through Friday and from 8:00 to 5:00 on Saturday.

The store easily contains enough merchandise to stock a building twice its size. In addition to being a full line hardware store complete with electrical, plumbing and farm supplies, the Day's also offer housewares and many gift items.

The hardware section of the store contains all the nails, nuts and bolts, tools and plumbing and farm supplies you'd expect to find. There is also a complete line of paints and all the necessary supplies. While guns are no longer stocked, the store still carries ammunition and sporting goods. And to keep Fido happy, there is a good selection of pet supplies. Some of the extra services offered are pipe threading and window and screen repair.

A reminder for spring-in addition to gardening tools and supplies, Day Hardware also stocks bulk garden seeds and onion sets.

In the gift section the oak cases that line the east side of the store are chock full of items to add country charm to any home. There are several patterns of Pfaltzgraff stoneware on display and beautiful baskets are everywhere. Candles, silk flowers, oil lamps and other delightful gift items line the shelves. There is a Bridal Registry for your gift giving convenience.

The housewares section of the store also features many small kitchen appliances, cutlery and cookware. You can even rent a machine to shampoo your carpets.

Another feature of the giftware department is the Precious Moments Center. In addition to the hundreds of beautiful figurines there are also "Precious Moments" gift items such as mugs and china boxes. Being a "Precious Moments Center" means Judy is one of a select group of Precious Moments dealers. There are very few "Centers" in the country. This means the store carries the full line and has priority for shipments. Judy also deals in secondary "Precious Moments" collectibles on a national level. This involves selling retired, suspended or limited edition figurines, usually only to collectors.

Another valuable service Day Hardware provides to the community is the shipping of UPS packages.

So the next time you're in need of hardware items or an interesting gift, stop in and see Dick, Judy or Joe at Day Hardware. I'm sure you'll find just what you need and get pleasant service too, maybe even some helpful advice.

FACTS & FIGURES

Direct Deposit is the banking service that lets employers deposit employee paychecks directly into their bank accounts. Over 70 percent of federal employees now get paid by Direct Deposit, as do 50 percent of the nation's 43 million Social Security recipients. The estimated savings to the U.S. government is more than $100 million a year—savings passed along to all taxpayers.

Direct Deposit, reports the National Automated Clearing House Association (NACHA), costs employers ten to 23 cents less per payment than issuing a paycheck because of savings in preparation, distribution and reconciliation costs. In addition, American companies could increase productivity by four to five billion dollars a year if all employees were paid via Direct Deposit—workers would no longer need time off on payday to deposit their checks.

Direct Deposit is virtually error-proof. Of the 18 million Social Security payments made via Direct Deposit each month, not a single one has ever been lost. For a brochure on Direct Deposit, send 50 cents to: Federal Reserve Direct Deposit Brochure, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, CO 81009.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to applaud the person who wrote the letter to the Editor in the July 25th issue of the Akron/Mentone News. I was already aware of the false accusations and malicious lies that a handful of our "friends and neighbors" were spreading concerning our newest law officer. This same group of Akron's "finest" have also taken great delight in causing unjustified heartache and trouble for many other people in the community. Many of these people need to look in their own closets before they sling mud at others.

I have talked to members of the town council concerning the qualifications and character of our new officer and have found he comes to Akron with the highest of qualifications and recommendations. He seems to be a fine young man who cares a great deal about doing a good job for Akron and the community. I think we as a town should be happy we were able to hire someone so highly qualified for the pitifully small amount of money he is being paid. If this group of people continues to sling their mud and the rest of us continue to catch it, we will all get dirty and probably lose a good policeman.

I think all he would ask from us is a chance to be accepted as a friend. As far as I know he didn't know anyone when he came to Akron. Can't we all spend a little more effort in being friendly and reaching out to new people in our community, whether they be rich or poor, black, white or Hispanic, or from this country or another country.

Remember people, when you start to talk about someone else, you better check your own closet. Also, that person talking to you about somebody else might use you for his or her topic of conversation the next time.

Another Concerned Citizen.

Dear Editor:

Much criticism has been aimed at Congressman Jim Jontz for introducing the bill to ban, at least temporarily, logging of ancient forests in the Pacific Northwest. This criticism is unwarranted and misleading.

The critics ask: "Are trees more important than people?" They say we should look at the entire situation. That is exactly what Jontz wants done.

The spruce, Douglas fir and redwoods of the Pacific Northwest are the last great stand of forests in the United States. Many of these trees are 300 feet tall, 50 feet around, and 500 to 1,000 years old, or more. It takes just 90 seconds to cut one down.

Today, less than 10 percent of forests stand from the Pilgrim's time. Now, in the name of money, we want to finish off the last of them. And when these trees are cut, it is forever.

The TV commercials sponsored by the logging industry claiming reforestation are misleading. The actual replanting is minimal, better represented by barren mountainsides, where the industry has cut all trees, usable or not.

It's hard to justify trees against jobs. But if the cutting continues at its present rate, the jobs will be gone anyway - in less than 20 years. And so will the trees.

Of course jobs and families are important. The logging industry should have remembered that when they began shipping raw logs to Japan to be cut and processed, thereby giving away jobs. Also, the industry is eliminating hundreds of jobs annually due to automation.

Our tax dollars subsidize logging jobs in Alaska by building and maintaining roads in wilderness areas so trees are accessible. And remember these Northwest forests generated millions of tourism dollars and provide jobs which would also be endangered by too much cutting.

But let us not be shortsighted and emotional or we will end up with the worst of all scenarios by destroying the oldest forests on earth, driving other species to extinction, and still have unemployed loggers in 20 years.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I just want to let your readers know how much we in the North West appreciate what your congressman Jim Jontz is doing to help save what is left of our Ancient Forest. He is introducing a Bill in Congress to protect these Forests. If we continue to log at our current rates within very few years all our Forests will be gone - we may be left with a few "tree farms." The National Forests belong to all states for theirs and future generations. They do not belong to the Timber Industry.

I urge the people of Indiana to support their congressman in his unselfish efforts to save the Forests for all citizens.

Thank you for your attention

Davy Crockett

August 17 marks the birth anniversary of Davy Crockett, legendary American frontiersman, politician and adventurer. Crockett was born in Hawkins County, Tenn., in 1786. He first made a name for himself fighting in the Creek War from 1813 to 1815, a U.S. victory over Creek Indians in Tennessee who were actually British allies.

Crockett was elected to the Tennessee legislature in 1821 and served for two terms. He then was elected to the U.S. Congress in 1827 and served two consecutive terms. He lost the election in 1831 but was elected to serve a final term in 1833.

Crockett perhaps is best known for his last contribution to his country. He was part of the American forces that perished on March 6, 1836, defending the Alamo.

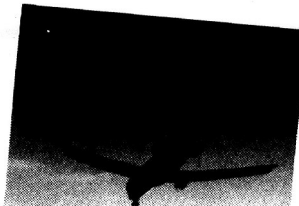

Good question. And it's a question we've heard in many languages. At PSI Energy we've joined with communities throughout Indiana to help them sell their advantages throughout the world. It's a partnership that creates growth and prosperity for all of us.

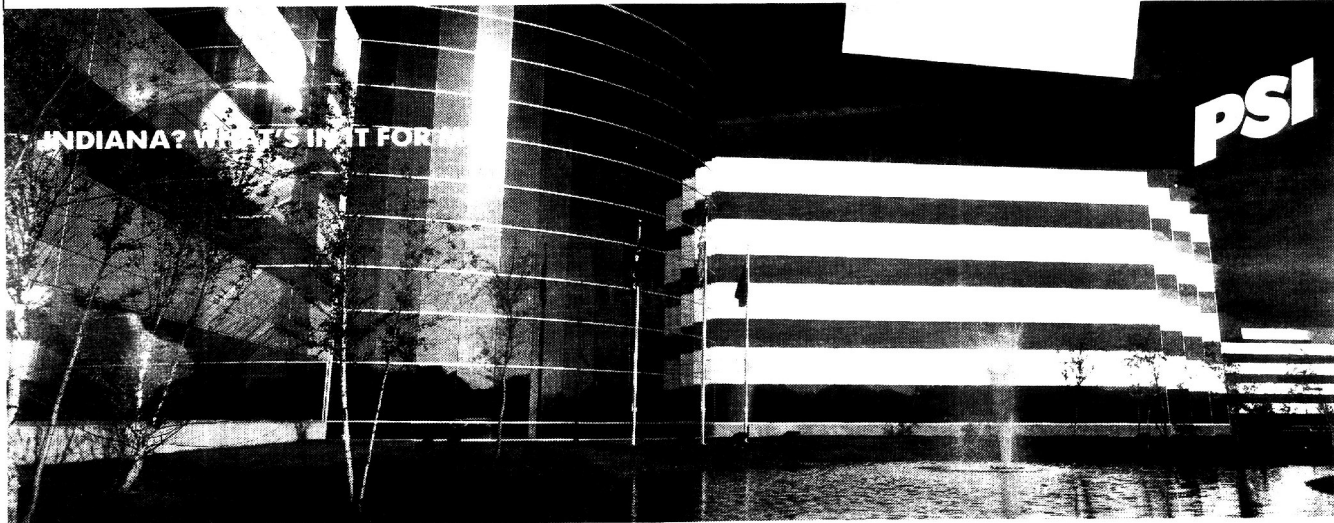

We believe Indiana's only as strong as its communities. And, through joint economic development efforts, we're helping communities by sharing our resources.

Economic development. We believe it's the energy of the future.

FAITH HELPS YOU COPE WITH REAL OR IMAGINARY WORRIES

You have probably spent many hours of your life in fear of some dreadful calamity. Would you have to go to the hospital, according to those Xrays and other tests? Would that repair job cost an arm and a leg? Were those rumors true that your plant was going to be shut down? Any of a thousand fears can throw our lives into a nail-biting turmoil. In all probability you've lost a lot of sleep for nothing, because most of these things didn't happen; but sooner or later some disaster will come along. In any case, you should attend your House of Worship and also talk to your clergyman. You will learn to dispel your needless anxieties and cope with the real ones. Faith is not a fair-weather friend, but a real source of help and comfort which is there whenever you need it.

REMINISCING WITH THE NEWS TAKEN FROM THE AKRON NEWS July 13, 1917 73 YEARS AGO

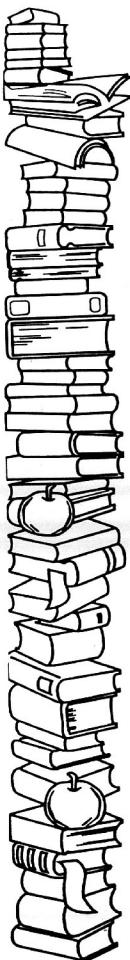

William D. Whittenberger was born to Daniel and Mary Whittenberger in Medina county, Ohio, February 2, 1836; died at his home in Akron, Indiana, Saturday morning, at 12:30, July 21, 1917, aged 81 years, 5 months, and 19 days. In 1837, he came as a child one year old to Indiana. The family settled near where George Whittenberger now lives and where the father Daniel entered upon 80 acres of land. There were seven children in this family two girls and five boys. This one of the pioneer families of this locality and bore the incidents of that pioneer age. In 1845 his father died and in 1855 his mother died, leaving a family of orphans in the woods. After the death of both parents the younger children made their home with their brother Reuben and wife, while the subject of this sketch and the other younger children lived with whomsoever they could earn their own living. William D. was the fifth born in the family, one sister, and one brother younger. George died in the army of the civil war at the age of 17 years. All have passed to the spirit world excepting John, of Peru, who is one and one-half years younger than the deceased. William was first married to Sarah Curtis. To that union three daughters were born, Flora, Vida and Daisy, the two former and the mother have passed on to the spirit world leaving Daisy and her three children and Thaddeus Burch, son of the eldest daughter. Later he was united in marriage with Miss Charlotte Anderson. To that union a boy was born only to pass on in a few days, the mother also passing on some four years ago. January 31, 1917, he was united in marriage with Mrs. Mary Teeter with whom he lived happily until the end came, and who gave him the care and sympathy during his last illness befitting a true wife. He was well known as a kind and indulgent husband, father and grand-father and always liberal with his means for the comfort of his family. The deceased through all his adversity improved a good farm west of town and was well and favorably known, through all his long, frugal, industrious life as an honest upright citizen, and most excellent neighbor. He commenced life under adverse circumstances but by careful management always protecting his integrity his home was among the most prominent in this community. The funeral took place from the M.E. church, Sunday, July 22, conducted by Rev. Giddwin and the remains laid to rest as per his own request in the Athens cemetery by the side of his late wife Charlotte.

DOLLAR VALUE CHANGES - The Indianapolis Star makes a strong point in financial economics, but did not see the point when it says The shift that has taken place in recent years in relation to the value of commodities is illustrated by the story of a Missouri farmer, as told in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He objected because a dealer asked him $90 for the same kind of buggy his father got for $50 twenty years ago. The merchant found that the father had paid 300 bushels of corn for the $50 buggy. He offered to give his customer, in exchange for 300 bushels of corn, a $90 buggy, a $75 wagon, a $20 suit of clothes, a $20 dress for the baby, a $5 crib for the baby, a $3 box of cigars, $10 worth of sugar, $10 worth of tea, $100 worth of gasoline and $15 worth of lubricating oil. The farmer paid $90 for the buggy and said nothing more.

Mrs. Emahiser sent two newspapers to this office with her compliments. One of them was a copy of the first issues of the Akron Tribune, edited by John Dilsaver, issued Thursday, November 24, 1910. The other was a copy of the New York Herald issued April 15, 1865, the next morning after President Lincoln had been assassinated. Washington was thrown into intense excitement over the tragedy, but it took a whole day and in many palaces a whole week for the news to reach the people. The lack of facilities like what we have today made the dissemination of news slower.

Mrs. Roy Groninger planned a neat little surprise on Roy Sunday evening by inviting a few of their friends in for the evening. Ice cream and cake were served and a good time enjoyed by all. Those present were Lawrence Smith and family, Russell Shipley, wife and son, Henry Smith and wife, Calvin Smith and wife, Emory Ferree and wife, Mrs. J. Z. Shipley and son of Chicago, Dollie Rupert, Thelma Krieg of Akron and Johnnie Ferree.

Pet Care

by Cleo & Brad Conrad

Q. My husband and I will be going on vacation next month, and we've decided to just drive to our destination. What we need to know is, can we take our dog with us? Once there, will we have to place him in a kennel? We hate to do this since the last time we tried it, the dog was very sick for two weeks afterward.

A. If you're driving, make sure you map out a detailed itinerary of stops. Check with the local chambers of commerce in those towns to see if there are motels which will accept pets. Believe it or not, more and more motels are offering this special accommodation. Also, check the chamber of commerce in your destination locale for the same information. We think you'll be pleasantly surprised.

As for kennels, we'll briefly say that the only way to make sure your animal is well-treated is to check out the place before boarding. Be sure it is clean, well-ventilated, and that the animal will be carefully exercised, fed and medicated (if necessary, in the case of sick animals). If the owners refuse to let you view the facilities, keep checking elsewhere. Kennels can very well be breeding grounds for disease if they are not operated correctly.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

THE X-RAY EXAMINATION

During a dental examination, the dentist will need to take x-rays in order to confirm the findings from his clinical examination. These x-rays should include films showing all the roots of the teeth, as well as clear views in between teeth where they contact each other. A full examination, recommended at first visit and then approximately every 3-5 yrs. (or when a problem is suspected) might include anywhere from sixteen to twenty-two films.

The reason for this many films is that the dentist needs to see clearly the following areas: all root tips, the sinuses, the bone around the teeth and behind the last teeth, and the contacts between all the teeth.

On the other hand, for periodic checks—approximately every six months—two bitewing x-rays should suffice. Though these will not show the root tips or bone very well, they will show any new cavities which have formed which cannot be seen visually.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Ph. 223-3121.

Recipe of the Week

Chocolate-Nut Zucchini Cake

Ingredients:

3 squares of unsweetened chocolate
3 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
3 cups finely grated zucchini
1 cup finely chopped walnuts or pecans
4 eggs
3 cups of sugar
1 1/2 salad oil
Melt chocolate over hot, not boiling water. Let cool. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease well and flour a 10" tube pan.

Sift flour with baking powder, soda, and salt set aside.

In large bowl of electric mixer, at high speed, beat eggs until thick and light. Gradually add sugar, 1/2 cup at a time, beating well after each addition. Add salad oil and cooled chocolate; beat until well blended. At low speed add sifted dry ingredients, mixing until well combined. Turn batter into prepared pan; bake one hour and 15 minutes or until surface springs back when pressed lightly with finger tip. Cool in pan on wire rack 15 minutes. Remove from pan; cool thoroughly on wire rack. Before serving, if desired, sprinkle with powdered sugar. Cut into thin slices.

This recipe was submitted by Roma VanLue of Gilead.

Note: If you have an abundance of zucchini now, freeze it and the oil together and it will be ready to add to other ingredients to bake this winter.

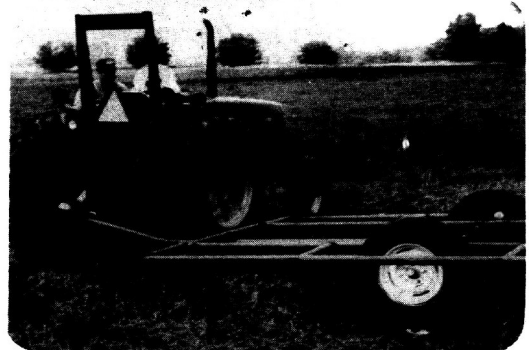

Communities Clean Up

"Sack it to me." This is what people around the nation are saying as they pitch in to clean up the litter in their communities. Milwaukee, Wis., whose annual citywide cleanup campaign is called, in fact, "Sack It To Me Saturday," has joined such diverse communities as Lake Hartwell, S.C., Azusa Canyon forest near Irwindale, Calif., and Chicago, Ill., in the trend toward establishing annual cleanup programs to encourage citizens to keep their communities beautiful.

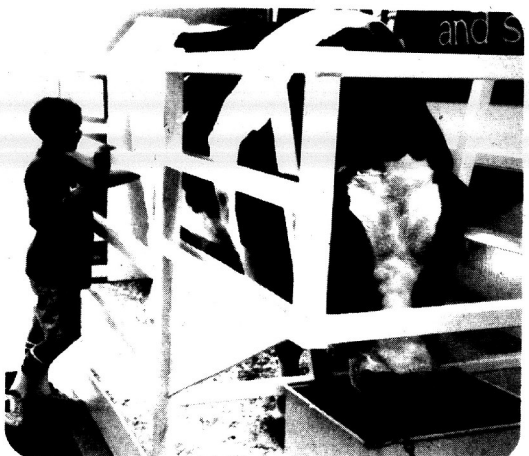

Companies are pitching in, too. For instance, the Miller Brewing Company donates over 100,000 plastic bags a year to these and other local cleanup efforts.

A little heart, a little elbow grease and a few cleanup bags are all it takes to have your community on the way. til

Programs at KCH Hospital

Did you know that Kosciusko Community Hospital is more than just a place to go when you are sick or have an emergency? In fact, KCH has many special programs and classes to teach you how to stay well and avoid accidents and injuries.

In this column over the next several months our staff members, including doctors and nurses, will describe some of these special programs and tell you how KCH can help.

For instance, we have both wellness programs and wellness classes. We perform tests to check for such things as high blood pressure, high cholesterol, high blood sugar, breathing difficulties and heart irregularities. You'll see our nurses performing these tests, some free of charge, at locations throughout the county as well as at the hospital.

Be sure to visit our KCH/MedPark booth at the Kosciusko County Fair in the Merchants Building August 6-11. We'll have free blood pressure screening and weigh-ins on Friday, August 10, and throughout the week we will be giving away lots of useful information about our services and about your health.

You can register for a free mammogram, with one to be given away each night, and if you have a business card, you can drop one in our drawing for a free executive physical.

The executive physical is just one of the many services offered to companies, both large and small, in our wellness program, which is called Synergy. The tests mentioned above are also a part of this program-all designed to keep you well! Hearing testing is yet another screening test we offer.

Whether you have had a health problem identified or if you are fit and would like to stay that way, our community education classes can help keep you informed. Offerings include weight reduction, stress management, smoking cessation and childbirth preparation. Our next diabetic education class runs Thursdays from September 6-27 at the hospital. And, our free blood pressure screening at KCH begins Friday, August 3, and runs 9 a.m. to noon every Friday thereafter in our ambulatory care waiting area just to the left inside the main entrance.

We have many medical specialties at KCH, including obstetrics, pediatrics, orthopedics and neurology. Some of our doctors will describe and explain their special practices in future articles in this column. But don't wait to read it here-if you have any questions about the services offered at KCH, or if you need medical assistance, call or come see us today. For more information, contact the hospital at 267-3200 or 1-800-828-5628, and watch for future articles.

Akron's Water Department takes a step into the 90's

by Laura Bickel

Do you ever really think about it when you turn on your water faucet? Or when you let your plug out in the your bath tub? Where does all that go?

With Mentone's recent headaches with a new sewer system and treatment plant, I set out to find out what Akron's water and sewer headaches are. What a perfect time. The new computerized water and sewage bills just came out last week.

The Akron Town office has been flooded with calls and concerns about the new computerized bills. The Water Department recently just went through a shake up. All water and sewage bills are now done on a computer, which is nothing more than a step into the 90's.

Superintendent Gearhart said, "All but 12 meters are changed. The new meters can be read from the outside now. Before we had to go into the home to read the meters and the folks that work the day shift made it harder to get inside to complete this task. This way all meters can read from the outside and will be read every month. This is another big change in the water department, all meters being read each month. That way customers are billed each month for the water that is being used that month. No more estimates." The only other change customers can expect is something that doesn't apply to everyone, just the ones that don't pay their bills on time.

At the bottom of each new bill is two lines. The first line is the one you pay, if you pay by the 20th of each month. The second line is the one you pay if you don't pay by the 20th of each month. There is a late charge added. After the 20th there are red late notices sent out. If you again do not pay your bill after the red notices are sent out, your water will be shut off. Gearhart commented, "That is one of the hardest things about my job, turning someone's water off."

Robert Allen, Akron Town Council President said, "If there is a problem with someone's bill, we will check into it. We're not trying to gouge anyone, if there is a problem, we will give credits were credits are due."

Jean Conner, Akron Town Clerk-Treasurer commented, "Not everyone understands that the water, sewage and trash departments are not tax-funded departments. They are businesses just like any other utility company, such as phone, gas and electric. The only difference is these departments are owned by the Town of Akron. They have to be self supporting businesses."

That is why it is so important that everyone pay their bills on time. If everyone chose not to pay their bills on time, that would cause a real mess. If a water line would break, there would be no funds to fix it.

You can't take a look at this department without mentioning Superintendent Gearhart. He has been with the town for three years and has enormous responsibilities. He's in charge of the sewage, water and street departments. I guess when you say town maintenance, the job is harder than it looks.

Marty begins his day each morning at 5:15 a.m. The first thing he does is check all the water lift stations to make sure everything is working.

The Treatment Plant is one other responsibility of the Superintendent. "Right now everything at the Treatment Plant is going pretty well. The State was down a couple of weeks ago and everything was up to regulation. The water samples are taken daily to make sure the lagoons are at the level they are suppose to be. Next spring we are looking at maybe cleaning one of our lagoons. Even though our sewage system was put in 20 years ago, it has kept up with the town pretty well," Gearhart said.

"The Water department is heading in good directions with the meters being updated. This is going to make the job much easier," said Gearhart.

The streets, mowing and snow removal are just some of the other responsibilities of the Town Maintenance Department. It would be impossible to name the endless responsibilities that Superintendent Gearhart has, but rest assured he never forgets them. Working seven days a week to keep the heartbeat of the town going is not always easy for a two man department.

40 YEARS AGO

The members of the 1938 graduating class of the Mentone high school held a picnic at the Warsaw City park on Sunday, July 30, with a fine attendance. Robert Tucker was president of the group and Betty Goshert was the secretary. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Beeson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Paulus, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stanford and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horn and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linn and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshert and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hoffer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Estep, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beeson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shinn and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Skeets Hammer and family. It was agreed that the group hold a reunion each year on the last Sunday in July.

According to word received Wednesday, three boys from the 1950 Mentone graduating class plan to attend Manchester College this fall. Forst Dunnuck received a scholarship, and plans to take teacher training. Junior Emmons has enrolled for a science course. David Cooper is taking a business and commerce course.

The First Baptist Church, of Mentone, will celebrated their first anniversary on the radio on Sunday, Aug. 13. It is hoped by the members of the church that many who have been listening to the morning service for the past year will be able to come to one or both of the services this coming Lord's Day.

Eli Julian is now night marshal at Mentone, having taken the place of Irvin Wagner, who resigned to resume his duties as school janitor.

The Mentone firemen are sparing no effort in arranging a program for Saturday evening, Aug. 19, that will be interesting to everyone. You'll be surprised with some of the ideas they are working on to make their parade of fire-fighting equipment novel and interesting in addition to the bands, color guard, etc. that will be in the parade. They have secured Miss Robbin Lee Howard, 8 year old piano protegee to put on a performance. This little lady has appeared on radio and television networks and those who have heard her comment that she is certainly capable. These firemen - and these are the words of your editor - do not hesitate to leave their work, their play and recreation, to go out and protect your home from fire, and pay little attention to the meager financial return they receive.

Who's who in Mentone? Profile of Pearl

by Leafy Hudson

Pearl misses her big garden since moving into town five years ago, but she still enjoys raising flowers, tomatoes, and cabbages. Like everyone else, she's anxious for the backyards of Mentone to be neat and pretty again. (Photo by Jerry Hudson)

"She always set me up to the table and gave me milk and cookies." That's how Pearl Hom's nephew, Jay Hom, fondly recalls his "Aunt Pearl." A resident of Mentone for over fifty years, Pearl has devoted her life to raising a family and helping others.

"I always worked since I was knee-high to a grasshopper," Pearl recalls. "I stood on a chair and washed dishes when I was a little girl." One of her earliest memories is an incident that occurred at about age five. Their Akron home had a step-down from the dining room to the kitchen. Carrying the family's dinner plates from the table to be washed, she stumbled on the step, and dropped them all. "Mom said I broke every plate we had," Pearl chuckles. "We had to go to town and buy new plates before we could eat another meal."

Serving others has been Pearl's life. At age nine she went to help a farmer, John Gill, and his ailing wife for a few weeks, east of Mentone, in the present Larry Pyle home. She did light housework and cooked for hired hands and family. Of that time, Pearl remembers they often ate Spanish rice for breakfast. And her few week stay stretched into the entire summer.

While still young, Pearl began caring for new mothers and babies in their homes. She started working for $3.00 a week. "Less than anyone makes an hour today," she notes. "Once I started working, I was busy all the time. There are lots of babies out there that I took care of." She regrets today that she didn't keep a record of them all. Her home-care career spanned many miles and many years. She worked as far away as Gas City. And college freshman Sam King was the last baby she cared for.

Pearl and husband, Howard, bought a forty acre farm at the south edge of Mentone on Road 19 about fifty years ago. They farmed for many years on land that is now residential and industrial property. They were blessed with a family of three children, Lester, Marilyn, and Jody. The children were all active in 4-H and Church. Lester now lives in Martinsburg, West Virginia, where he has three children of his own and a little granddaughter-Pearl's only great-granddaughter, Britany Nicole. Lester's sons live and work near him. His daughter, Nancy, is a freshman at Harvard this fall. Marilyn Hom Colbert and husband Mike, resides in Fort Wayne. Her son, David, is employed at ITT in Fort Wayne. Son Chad is in the Air Force at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Jody died in 1964 at age 16 in an automobile accident.

After World War II, Pearl worked part-time as a Mentone telephone operator. She worked both the 11:00 p.m. - 7:00 a.m. shift and 5:30 a.m. - 11:00 p.m. shift. Some of her co-workers were Georgia Teel Grubbs, Barbara Smith, Velma Hom, Martha Sullivan, Ruth Davis, Shirley Gross Nicodemus and Eleanor Wagner Com. Pearl remembers they would each donate about a quarter per month to a party fund. When they had enough, they would have a party or go out to eat together. Pearl was the last operator on the switchboard when Mentone cut to dial.

Another of her jobs that has lasted for many years is that of correspondent for the Akron/Mentone News.

Always active in church, Pearl has been a faithful member of the Mentone Church of Christ for forty-five years. She taught Sunday School for many years and always helped with Vacation Bible School. She still helps with refreshments for various church activities and enjoys the fellowship of her Bible Class. With other church members, Pearl helps present short worship services every other Sunday at Miller's Merry Manor. Each fifth Sunday they take their message to Prairie View Rest Home.

Pearl's volunteer activities are almost too lengthy to list. She has been a Red Cross volunteer for thirty years. She remembers when blood banks were often held at the old McDonald Hospital and Murphy Medical Center. She says she has done about all the jobs that need to be done at blood banks and "I'm still helping." She was especially thankful for her Red Cross work after Jody died. She found it gave her something to look forward to. It gets her out among people, which she feels she needs, and she enjoys it.

Every third month Pearl takes a turn at the difficult job of scheduling volunteer help for Mentone's Nutrition Site, where she is a member of both the Scrambled Egg Bank and the Golden Chimes.

As a member of the Mothers of World War II for many years, Pearl helps to brighten the birthdays and Christmases of local servicemen away from home with cards and welcome gifts of money.

Pearl, appropriately received some measure of thanks from her constant caring for others in 1974 when she was nominated by her club, the Mentone Home Ec Club, and selected by the county organization as the second recipient of the prestigious Jane Award. Criteria for the Jane Award are outstanding community service and concern for people.

Pearl says about Mentone, "It's a small town where people know each other and are friendly." It's also a town where, on almost any given day, one is likely to see Pearl scudding out of town on her way to a nursing home visit, or taking a friend to the doctor. At age 77, Pearl is still serving others.

Neurologist joins KCH Staff

Dr. Vadak H. Ranganathan, a neurologist, has joined the staff at Kosciusko Community Hospital and has begun accepting appointments. Dr. Nathan, as he prefers to be called, will be located in Suite D at 1000 Medpark Drive in Warsaw.

His specialties include the diagnosis and treatment of Alzheimer's Disease, epilepsy and multiple sclerosis as well as other neurological disorders, including headaches and backaches.

Dr. Nathan will be performing EEG's, mobile resonance imaging (MRI) and CT ('cat') scans at KCH as needed. He comes to KCH from Portland, Oregon, where he had served his residency at the Oregon Health Sciences University.

Who's Who in Akron

Velma Bright greets us from behind the front desk of her second home for the last 48 years, The Akron Carnegie Public Library. (News Photo).

Velma Bright and The Akron Carnegie Public Library

It doesn't seem possible to do a feature story on Velma Bright without including the Akron Public Library or vice versa. The two have gone hand in hand for 48 years, since Velma started working there as Mrs. Ferry's assistant right out of high school. Velma was made Director in 1950 and Mrs. Ferry continued as Velma's assistant until her death in 1958.

At present, Velma is assisted by Gloria Bowen and Gloria's two daughters, Janet Hawley and Carol Graham. Jenny Moore is also employed part-time.

Library services are available to all residents of Henry Township and the Town of Akron. The library is open from 9:00 a.m. to noon and from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. everyday except Sunday. In addition to hundreds of books, the library also lends periodicals, record albums and video tapes at no charge. Through membership in ALSA (Area Library Service Authority), books and materials can also be obtained from other libraries. With an Akron Library card, you can also get a reciprocal card for use in other area libraries.

The library has a very active children's program. The Summer Reading Club Program, which just ended, involved 113 children. There is also a Pre-School Story Program, including crafts, which will have both a fall and spring session. In November, to celebrate Book Week, classes through grade six from Akron Elementary School will come to the library to see films on literary subjects and receive bookmarks and treats.

The newly formed Friends of the Library group has been very active. They have held bakesales, book sales and have been successful in acquiring funds from the United Way, for the first time, to benefit the library. Their current project is to obtain a video player that will show videos on a large screen for group viewing.

The library first opened in 1912 in a store above what is now the Fashionette Beauty Salon. Some local people asked for books and went around town with a wheelbarrow collecting them. The town was trying to get a Carnegie Grant to build a library and one of the requirements was that you had an existing library. The grant was obtained and the cornerstone was laid in 1914 and the building occupied in 1915. The grant provided the building and shelving only. The money to run the library had to come from the community. This was done with a Library Tax, which is still the primary means of funding the library today. This year the library celebrates its 75th year. Plans are being finalized for an open house in October.

One of the aspects of library work that Velma has developed a special interest in is genealogy research. Anyone wanting to research their ancestors will find the Akron Library particularly helpful. With the help of area clubs, a listing has been compiled of all of the graves in all of the cemeteries in Henry Township. Copies of the Akron-Mentone News and the Akron paper that preceded it, are on microfilm from 1893 to the present and all birth, marriage and death listings are indexed separately. Velma is quick to point out that this would not have been possible without the help of Roy Meredith and the former Women's Club. To help with research of local history there are census reports for Fulton, Kosciusko, Miami and Wabash Counties as well as several books by local author and researcher Wendell Tombaugh.

Velma's own roots go deep in the Akron community. She is descended from early settlers on both her mother's and her father's side of the family. Her ancestor, Joseph Whittenberger, was one of ten sons of William Whittenberger, one of Akron's first settlers in 1836.

In her crowded office, Velma proudly showed me the "Best Overall" trophy the library won at this year's Akron 4th of July Celebration. They have been entering floats in the parade since the library's 50th anniversary in 1965 and have won prizes several times.

Keeping up with the cataloging, budget making, programs and administration of such a big operation with such a small staff is a huge job, but one Velma is certainly equal to. "That's one of the things I've always liked best about this job" Velma says. "There's such a variety."

One of the things Velma dislikes is having to turn down some children when they want to get a library card and check out books. If your township doesn't belong to a library district you can't get library service. In the Tippecanoe Valley School District there are two townships in Kosciusko County (Seward and Franklin) that do not provide library service according to Velma. She explains that it was offered but township trustees turned it down. "I'd like to see a law that would require townships to charge the library tax and to provide library service" Velma said. "It is essential for the children." This is something Velma feels very strongly about. She feels that costs would be minimal compared to the benefits.

Besides her work with the library, Velma has been very active in the Church of God. She has been a teacher and Principal of the Children's Department, served on the Board of Christian Education and has been elected president and secretary of the Missionary Society.

Velma has had two children's books published. "What Would You Like to Be?" and "The Story of the Little Round Barn" were written by Velma and illustrated by Patty Schultz. Velma also helped Patty on a third book, "My Friend's ABC Book."

The library has become overcrowded and Velma feels the people of Akron must look to the future. The building is simply no longer large enough. There would be space to add on in front according to Velma. In the mid 1980's Velma worked to get a $100,000.00 grant to build an addition but was unable to muster enough community support for the project. The deadline past and that opportunity was lost. She hopes funding will be possible sometime in the near future.

The people of Akron and Henry Township are lucky to have such a nice library and are luckier still to have it under the very capable direction of Velma Bright.

The ABC's of Back-to-School

The lazy days of summer are over and the back-to-school race is here.

Running to school in the morning or from school in the afternoon, children run the risk of injury.

"Head injury is among the most dangerous of injuries, especially for children," according to Dr. James Wasco, medical director for the New Medico Head Injury System. "Any injury to the brain can significantly impair a child's ability to learn, concentrate or remember information and this can have a damaging effect on a child's development."

Before you send your children back to school, outfit them with a few safety reminders.

Walking to School

Most pedestrian accidents are the fault of the walker, not the driver, according to the National Safety Council, so:

* Be sure to allow enough time for your child to get to school without rushing.

* Plan your child's walking route to minimize the number of street crossings.

* Teach your child always to use sidewalks and to cross at crosswalks. Where there are no sidewalks, have your child walk facing traffic, so the child can see oncoming cars.

Riding the School Bus

Although school buses are much safer than family cars, statistic indicate that 40 students die and 7,000 are injured each year in school bus accidents. The majority of these accidents occur outside the bus, when students are boarding or exiting.

* Have your child wait for the bus to stop completely, then board carefully, using the handrail.

* Tell your children to take their seat quickly and stay in that seat for the entire ride - never putting head, arms or hands out the window.

* Teach your children to cross at least 10 feet in front of the bus so the driver can see them.

If you need more information about head injury and rehabilitation, call the New Medico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE TBI, ext. 3070.

"Going to school without parents is a sign of a child's independence," said Dr. Wasco, "but children must learn that practicing safety is a prerequisite for independence."

Lunch information

The school cafeteria will begin serving lunches on August 21st. The charge for lunch will be $1.00 per day. The charge for afternoon milk will 20 cents per carton or $1.00 per week. The charge for the first semester for kindergarten milk will be $7.00.

Free lunches will be made available to those students unable to pay. Reduced priced lunches are also available to those unable to pay full price. Free and reduced priced lunch applications may be obtained from the principal's office.

Akron School Kindergarten parents: Note changes

The loading/unloading procedure for morning and afternoon Kindergarten classes at Akron School has been changed. Parents are asked to enter the school area from North Johnson Street. Vehicles should circle the north faculty parking area and load/unload students at the Kindergarten doors, as illustrated below.

Football practice has begun. Valley Vikings will play their first game August 18. (Photo taken by Eric Biddinger).

BRING A FRIEND OR NEIGHBOR TO YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP

We are often asked by our House of Worship to try to persuade others to come and worship the Lord, thank Him for their blessings, and seek His help if they need it. This is an activity we might all pursue, even to providing transportation. However, many people tend to shy away from this recruitment project, saying, "I'm no expert; I wouldn't know what to tell them." Nonetheless, we can all be examples of the blessings we have received; not because we have no problems, but because we have learned through faith to solve them or cope with them. That's the most persuasive argument, along with a smile and an inner radiance that will convince others to join us in the faith which has brought us a form of happiness that we could never have found anywhere else on earth.

Parents-Key players in education

Parents and community members must play a greater role in education if schools are to improve, according to a report from the National Governors Association (NGA).

Governors who have developed national goals for education with President Bush for the first time in American history believe that various segments of society must come together to improve schools.

"The challenge is simply too big to be addressed exclusively by our education system," according to an early draft of an NGA report to implement the education goals. "We cannot ask the schools to compensate entirely for deficiencies elsewhere in society."

"As long as 23 percent of six-year-olds live in poverty, as long as seven percent of all live births are low-birth-weight babies, 23 percent of children live in single-parent families, 12 percent of births are to teenage mothers, and 20 percent of all high school seniors have used an illicit drug in the last month, no school in America will be able to address the enormous challenge," according to the draft document.

While parents have greater responsibilities today than ever before, it's essential that they support their child's education, according to Dr. Timothy J. Dyer, NASSP executive director.

"Certainly, time demands on parents are immense, but their influence on student attitudes also can be immense," Dyer said. "It's essential that parents emphasize the importance of an education to their youngsters. That message can be delivered in only a few minutes a day."

"Parents need to become involved in learning at an early age with students. Reading with children for a few minutes each day when they are very young will pay dividends throughout their lives."

Dyer urged parents to continue to be involved as youngsters progress through school.

"Students should understand that studying is an investment in their future," he explained. "That's an important message to share. The amount of time students spend reading or doing their homework will determine their quality of life as an adult."

Dyer suggested additional ways parents can help their students:

- * Know the principal and teachers where your children attend school. Check with them in an unthreatening manner regarding problems or rumors.

- * Ensure that interruptions to your youngster's class/school time are kept to a minimum.

- * Compliment your youngsters when they achieve successes in school. Recognition and moral support pay dividends.

- * Make sure that your youngsters have an appropriate place to study and that they complete homework assignments.

- * Limit the viewing of television on school nights.

Women check earnings records

Married women who are self-employed need to check their Social Security records to verify that all their earnings are credited. According to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), some married women who filed a joint tax return and were self-employed under their maiden names may not have their maiden names recorded correctly.

The reporting problem identified by IRS has been corrected for current tax returns, but past years of self-employment earnings may not appear on some women's earnings statements.

To get an earnings statement, call Social Security at 1-800-234-5555 (1-800-234-5772) and ask for a form SSA-7004. The best time to call is from 7 A.M. to 9 A.M. Complete the form and mail it in. The statement will be sent in a few weeks.

The Social Security Administration recommends that all workers send for the review their earnings statements every 3 years. Errors can usually be corrected if they are identified early.

There has been a dispute over the closing of Maple Street in Akron. (News Photo).

Statement from Town Council

The Akron Town Council wants to inform the citizens of Akron on the status of the situation of MAPLE STREET North near the Akron Concrete Plant. The short length of street being used for the continuation of MAPLE STREET, apparently, was never dedicated as a street. It has been, however, in continuous use for more than twenty years without any previous question regarding the free access to the land. There is a dedicated alley eight (8) feet wide along the north side of the disputed section, and there is a twelve (12) foot alley extending north from MAPLE STREET past the plant building. The Town has asked for a survey to establish these two alleys, which is expected to be completed by August 20.

At this time we are not certain regarding the legal status of the disputed section. We ask that the people work with us as we try to resolve this problem.

The Akron Town Council
R.L. Allen

Fitness Course dedicated

PSI Energy Dedicates

Wildlife Habitat

PSI Energy is dedicating 160 acres at its Gibson Generating Station, located near Princeton, Indiana, as a wetland habitat for plants and wildlife and opening it to the public.

"At PSI, we recognize and accept the responsibility we have to help protect and preserve the environment," said Jim Rogers, PSI Energy chairman. "Wetlands are an endangered natural resource. Our decision to set aside and maintain this area is an outward sign of our commitment to the environment. It's also just the start of a larger environmental stewardship plan our company will implement over time."

Owned and maintained by PSI Energy, the wetland area has been named the Gibson Lake Wildlife Habitat.

"Wetlands are important to wildlife, especially endangered species, because they provide food, shelter and water for both permanent and migratory animals," said Tim Hayes, an environmental scientist for PSI Energy. "Wetlands also provide flood control, help protect the quality of surface and ground water supplies and inhibit soil erosion. About 200 years ago, 5.6 million acres of wetlands covered 25 percent of Indiana. Today only about 757,000 acres of wetlands remain in our state."

Weather permitting, the Gibson Lake Wildlife Habitat will be open year-round to the public at no charge. Visitors, however, must stop at the security station to sign an admission agreement.

Pour marinade into small saucepan; add water and peanut butter and simmer 8 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile thread (weaving back and forth) beef strips on thin wooden skewers. Lake City Bank expands operations

R. Douglas Grant, President of Lake City Bank, Warsaw, and Thomas R. Ricketts, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Standard Federal Bank, Troy, Michigan (SFB:NYSE), announced today that Lake City and Standard Federal have executed a definitive agreement under the terms of which Standard Federal will sell its branch offices and related deposit accounts in Goshen and Nappanee, to Lake City.

The acquisition of these branch offices and deposit accounts by Lake City Bank is subject to approval by the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Department of Financial Institutions for the State of Indiana. Application for regulatory approval is expected to be made within the next two weeks by Standard and Lake City and acted upon within 90 to 120 days thereafter.

Commenting on the agreement, Mr. Ricketts stated, "This sale is part of Standard Federal's ongoing effort to maximize profitability in its branch office network by concentrating efforts in those markets we are most familiar with. Both the Goshen and Nappanee branches were acquired as part of Standard's acquisition of Tower Federal Savings of South Bend, and are geographically distant from Standard's primary market areas. We feel our customers in Goshen and Nappanee will be well served by Lake City Bank following this sale."

Mr. Grant added, "We are extremely pleased to make this announcement and to offer our full range of financial services to these attractive and growing communities in our market area. The $1,275,000 purchase price includes the branch facilities and approximately $30 Million in deposits. Lake City will not be purchasing any loans as part of this transaction except those loans related to the deposit accounts. Banking job opportunities for present Standard Federal personnel will be made available by Lake City."

Rochester's nightmare

The nightmare for Rochester residents seems to be coming to an end. A storm which ripped through Fulton County over the weekend, dumped over eight inches of rain in the area.

Mantiou Dam is where the real nightmare began. The dam seemed to cracking under all the pressure of the already swollen lake. Crews were called in to start sand bagging in an effort to hold back the lake. Reports were given if the dam broke a four foot wall of water would rush through Rochester. Woodlawn Hospital was in the most danger. The hospital was evacuated. Over 500 volunteers from everywhere answered the plea of Rochester to help in saving the dam from breaking. Over 13,000 sand bags were piled around the dam to hold back the rushing water.

The flooding has been reported all over Fulton County. Two more inches of rain fell on Monday.

On Tuesday, Rochester felt a little safer. The water continues to go down and the dam seems to be holding. No one for sure knows when the nightmare will really be over.

State Auditor distributes fuel tax money

State Auditor Ann DeVore announced she has distributed to Fulton County a check in the amount of $111,946.70. This is the first of three special distributions of gasoline and diesel fuel tax. The amount received represents a combined increase of 30% over what county and city streets departments normally receive for maintenance of their streets and highways.

Public Law 88 Acts of 1981 established a special distribution formula for 60% of the first 25 million dollars of gasoline tax and 60% of the first 25 million dollars of diesel fuel tax collected after July 1, 1990. Normally, county and city streets departments receive 47% of the gasoline and diesel fuel tax but due to a special distribution formula contained in the Public Law the amounts increased. As an average, city street departments realized an increase of 41% and county highway departments realized an increase of 24% over the normal distribution formula.

The total amount distributed by the state to all counties totaled $21,104,477.52 for the first period. This compares with $20,942,302.36 for the first period in 1989. The second distribution will be in September and the third in October.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

No sooner had I written a letter challenging Congressional candidate John Johnson to come clean on the income tax bubble loophole than I saw that has taken a position on taxes—he wants to raise them.

What's worse, he wants to raise taxes that hit the average citizen the hardest. He wants a national sales tax—he calls it a "value-added tax"—in addition to the sales taxes we're already paying to the state.

The logic of sales taxes is simple: everybody pays the same amount, the rich the same as the poor. An autoworker like me would pay the same that a millionaire like John Johnson would.

It's a new tax, and one that you'll pay on just about everything—your car, your kid's clothes, a new washing machine.

And to all you smokers out there—he wants to hike the excise tax on cigarettes too. Smokers didn't cause the budget deficit, and they shouldn't be expected to solve the problem either.

Who's Who in Mentone

Wanda Shand beside some of her delightful artwork. She started Tole painting but soon advanced to oils. "It's like anything else," she says. "The more you do the better you become."

Profile of Wanda by Leafy Hudson

A homey cabin surrounded by snow in the moonlight. White smoke rising from the chimney. Welcoming lights in the window. Just such delightful artwork greets the visitor to the Wanda Shand home in Mentone. Wanda, homemaker, mother, and dental technician, still finds time to develop and enjoy her artistic talent.

Wanda grew up, with two younger brothers, in Camden, Alabama, where she graduated from Wilcox Academy. She met her husband, Steve, when he arrived in nearby Vredenburgh to help establish a Laminated Rafter plant. Courtship and marriage soon followed. Saying goodbye to home and family, Wanda made the move with Steve and their new son, Skipper, back to Steve's Indiana home twelve years ago.

Wanda remembers how lonesome Indiana was at first, before she became acquainted. "I don't know what I would have done without Steve's mom and dad," she says, referring fondly to Lester and Beulah Shand of near Atwood. Accustomed to only a few snow flurries in winter, she found our snow intimidating. "At first I wouldn't drive in it," she laughs. She drives in it now and it no longer bothers her, but still, she asks mischievously, "Do you ever really get used to snow?" Wanda remembers that in Alabama at Christmas, they usually didn't need coats.

Now that she's used to Indiana winters, however she finds she prefers the definite change of seasons.

Soon after Wanda's daughter, Shelley, was born in 1980, she began working for Dr. Moryl, an orthodontist in Warsaw. After nine years she opted for the convenience of a job nearer home. For over a year, she has worked as a dental technician in Mentone for Dr. Chris Doran.

While she enjoyed both jobs, she finds working for Chris totally different and more interesting. Before she worked in the lab and saw only dental hardware. Now she has patient contact, "Gets to talk to them," and really enjoys it.

Wanda has always had a flair for art. But it was while she was awaiting Skipper's arrival that she became interested in painting. She and a friend, just for fun, took classes in macramé, ceramics, and any other available craft classes. Tole painting really sparked her interest, but she soon went beyond that. "Painting strawberries and flowers isn't my thing," she laughs. Her teacher for that class was a friend of Bonnie Seaman, author of many art instruction and pattern books.

Wanda discovered a love for painting old barns, "and Bonnie Seaman does a lot of that."

Soon she was working in oils on boards, slates, saw blades, canvas almost anything. At first she bought instruction books for guidance in form and color. Now she has progressed in skill and confidence so that she uses her own judgment, painting things she likes, from photographs.

Wanda's husband, Steve, a long-time Mentone fireman and a fire and arson investigator for a Fort Wayne firm, has inspired some most unusual artwork. On one living room wall hangs an arrangement of firetrucks. The largest one features boots and a helmet resting on the back of the truck. The slightly compressed figures project an endearing whimsical appearance. On the opposite wall hangs an illustration of firemen burning the former Goldie Kessler home. Red-orange flames, some escaping into the air, color each window. Smoke billows forth while firemen spray water over the house. "Not everyone would have a painting like this in their home," observes Wanda about this tribute to Steve's career.

Other samples of Wanda's work include rustic scenes, "twenties-style" kids ice skating, early school room scenes, and an old barn surrounded by overgrown shrubbery advertising Mail Pouch Tobacco.

Many of her paintings reflect the Amish people's lifestyle. Wanda always likes doing something new, such as canvas stretched on embroidery hoops, pictures on coal buckets, benches, milk cans, and her favorite, saws blades. Each Christmas she and her family make bread-dough ornaments. Picturesque elongated town houses form a fireplace screen, a gift to her parents.

Wanda has sold a few items, but more often gives them for gifts. "That's all anyone gets from me for Christmas," she says.

Always restless to try something new, Wanda is now thinking about working with leaded-glass. Both children, Skipper, 12, and Shelley, 10, show artistic talent. These circumstances promise an abundance of beautiful artwork from the Shand household for many years to come.

Business of the Week

Marvin Gagnon, right and his son John are ready to help you with your automotive needs.

Gagnon Chevrolet

There has been a Gagnon Chevrolet at 309 West Rochester Street since 1981, but owner Marvin Gagnon has been employed at that address since 1950. At that time, he was hired as a mechanic for what was then Bahney Chevrolet. His son John joined the business in 1974. The father and son team took over the business in 1977, running it under the Bahney name until 1981. Marvin's wife Violet is the bookkeeper making Bahney Chevrolet truly a family business.

In addition to new cars, of which Chevrolet offers more makes and models than any other line, quality used cars are also available.

Gagnon's well trained mechanics service all General Motors makes. Mechanics, Ron Bradford and David Chilcutt, each attend GM schooling approximately four times a year to update their skills. The service department offers the latest in computer test equipment. When Chevrolet began computerizing automobiles in 1980, Marv invested in the necessary equipment to keep up with all the changes. In addition to the schooling the staff has access to a video center to view training films and review procedures.

Computers also play a big part in new car sales. Through a hook up with General Motors computer system, Gagnon's can locate a car with specific features anywhere in the country and have it delivered to Akron. Marvin says the last six cars he sold were located on the computer. This enables the small dealership to offer as big a selection of cars as the larger dealers.

This is also somewhat true with used cars. If you don't see what you're looking for, just let Marv, John or part-time salesman, Bob Stout, know what you'd like and chances are they can locate it for you.

Along with the mechanics, the service department also features body work by Stewart Swihart and a radiator and muffler shop with custom pipe bending for exhaust system work. General Motors parts are also available.

Through their affiliation with AAA and the Chicago Motor Club, Gagnon Chevrolet offers 24 hour wrecker service. Their wrecker is also pressed into after hours duty to assist the Akron Police Department.

All the new 1991 Chevrolets, except S-10 pickups and Caprices which are available now, will be released on September 27, 1990. That is also the date of Gagnon Chevrolet's Annual Fish Fry for past and future customers. In the last seven years this has become quite a local social event. Last year over 500 people were served. It's Marv's way of introducing the new cars and showing his appreciation to his customers. The event is held in the service area of the dealership.

When dealing locally you won't have to worry about add ons to the price of your new car. "At Gagnon Chevrolet, the price you're quoted is the price you pay," says Marvin. Many big city auto dealerships will add a $200.00 to $400.00 "document fee" after you think you've already closed the deal.

Besides their business, both the Gagnons are very active in the community. They both help out as much as time permits with the Akron 4th of July Celebration, with John being in charge of the fireworks. John also is a volunteer fireman. Marvin has worked with the Akron EMS from the beginning, first as an EMT and currently as a driver. He is also active in the Lion's Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

For your automotive needs think of Gagnon Chevrolet first. They offer all the services of a big city dealership with the added friendliness and security of dealing with someone you know.

Public Television makes GED on TV available to adults

Adults who have not graduated from high school will soon have a second chance. Beginning the week of October 8, 1990, the GED ON TV adult education program will offer a series of 42 half hour television programs to be broadcast on WFYI, Channel 20 in Indianapolis, as well as all of the other public television stations in Indiana. The programs cover the reading, writing, social studies, science and math skills needed to pass the GED high school equivalency test. The programs present dramatized learning situations with casts of characters, dialogue and humor and are designed for adults.

Many adults are very uneasy about letting people know that they did not graduate from high school. GED ON TV will make it possible for these people to enroll by telephone. The student will call an "800" toll-free telephone number for information. A pre-test and workbooks will be mailed so that the student does not have to go into a school or library to enroll. It is hoped that many students who were uneasy about going into a learning center to test and buy books will take advantage of this program.

When an adult calls to enroll they will be mailed a packet of information that must be returned with an $18 check or money order to cover the costs of the three workbooks, pre-tests, newsletters and post-tests.

At the end of the series the student will be mailed a voucher worth $18 to pay for the GED test.

Local public television stations will broadcast two lessons each week. Throughout the series, students are encouraged to call the "800" hotline to ask questions about things they don't understand on the TV or in the workbooks.

By watching GED ON TV many adults who are unable or unwilling to attend a regular adult learning center can study at home. The programs are ideal for those who have the responsibility for small children, those whose work schedule conflicts with regular classes, and especially for those who are embarrassed or uneasy about coming into their local adult education center.

Students should call right away so that there will be time to mail pre-tests and workbooks before the series begins. For information about GED ON TV and to learn how to enroll, adults should call 1-800-248-7999.

OUR CHILDREN MUST BE TAUGHT TO RESIST THE DRUG TRAP

Sadly, getting our children ready for the new school year now means a lot more than just clothes and eye exams. No matter how good a parent you are, you cannot be sure that your child won't succumb to the "peer pressure" to try drugs. With drug abuse rampant in this country, the best time to stop it is before it starts. Perhaps your local school system has an anti-drug program, in conjunction with the authorities. If not, get together with them and other parents and start one. Another source of prevention is your House of Worship and its Sunday school, where your children will learn to reject these negative influences. We may have already lost a large part of this generation of children to drugs, so let's do everything in our power to save the next one.

Jontz calls on President Bush

Fifth District Congressman Jim Jontz today joined colleagues from northeastern and midwestern states in sending a letter to President Bush asking for a full investigation of the dramatic increase in domestic gasoline prices which has followed the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait.

The letter requested that President launch a full investigation into the rapid price increases, which have jumped by as much as 15 cents per gallon in recent days. "A speedy and aggressive investigation by the Secretary of Energy would send a clear signal that engaging in price gouging will be investigated and exposed. This message could have a dampening effect upon those who may seek to profit from this national crisis."

"The federal government must take action to ensure that the petroleum industry does not use the Iraqi invasion as an excuse to raise prices and fatten its pockets," Jontz said.

"There is no reason that American consumers should be forced to pay higher prices sooner world conditions would dictate. In addition to the impact on individual consumers, unjustified immediate increases in energy prices threaten the American economy with the twin evils of inflation and stagnant economic growth," the letter said.

Jontz noted that the sudden price increase hit at a particularly bad time. "Hoosier farmers are preparing for the fall harvest, many families are taking vacations and the demand for gasoline is at its peak during the summer months. Rural areas and individuals on fixed incomes will be especially hard hit," Jontz said.

According to a leading weekly industry survey of gas suppliers, gasoline dealers were charged 9.5 cents more per gallon last week for regular unleaded gasoline. "Almost all of this increase is being passed on to consumers. I do not think this price increase is being driven by the laws of supply and demand. It's being driven by greed," Jontz said.

This price increase is going to hit hard everywhere, not just at the gas station," Jontz said. "Almost 90 percent of consumer goods in the United States are transported in trucks. This means higher prices for consumers in almost every segment of the economy."

SYMPTOMS OF PERIODONTAL DISEASE

When gum disease begins to destroy the bone that surrounds and supports the teeth, it is known as PERIODONTAL DISEASE, or PERIODONTITIS. This is a serious condition. Gradually, or not so gradually, you are beginning to lose bone, and this process is irreversible! Lost bone will not regenerate itself. Worse yet, bone loss causes no pain until very late in the disease. This means that you could lose more than half your bone and not know it.

Fortunately, while this process is not reversible, it can be stopped by effective and timely treatment. That's why it's so important to be on the lookout for symptoms of periodontal disease. These include: gums that are swollen and puffy; gums that have receded, leaving spaces where the teeth contact; openings or spaces between teeth that you didn't have as a youngster; and teeth that are loose. Then, if you have any of these symptoms, visit your dentist IMMEDIATELY.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., J.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Ph. 223-3121.

Grand Champion English Halter

Jana Murphy, a 10-year Fulton County Horse and Pony member, recently competed at the Indiana State Fair with her 5-year old Arabian mare, Blue Diamond Sparkle. Blue Diamond Sparkle is due to foal in March. Jana is a 1989 TVHS graduate and is a sophomore at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. She is the daughter of Maurice and Jane Murphy, and the granddaughter of Ralph Martin, Akron, and Nina Murphy, Mentone.

Akron Town Council meeting

The Akron Town Council held their regular meeting on Tuesday, August 21.

There were many angry homeowners that attended the meeting to ask for help from the Council on the closing of Maple Street. Akron Concrete Products recently fenced in their property. Akron Concrete Products deed to their land included part of Maple Street.

The homeowners felt that the Council should be able to do something about the closing. According to President Robert Allen, there is nothing the Council can do. They do not own the road. Apparently, Maple Street was never dedicated as a street. It has been however, in continuous use for more than twenty years without previous question regarding the free access to the land. There is a dedicated alley eight feet wide along the north side of the disputed section, and there is a twelve foot alley extending north from Maple Street past the Akron Concrete building. The Town has asked for a survey to establish these two alleys, which has been put on hold because of Rochester's recent flooding problems. It is up to the homeowners to ban together and hire a lawyer to plead their case in a court of law. They do have some rights but that is up to the homeowners to explore themselves.

In other business

*The Town received two bids on the town trash truck. The highest bid was $600.00 and was accepted.

*The Town Council also passed an ordinance to abolish wards. Council members can be voted in no matter what part of town they are living in.

*The Boy Scout recycling program begins this coming Saturday.

"Ag Day"

Mrs. Lisa Myers, along with 39 vocational Ag Business students from Tippecanoe Valley High School participated in "Agricultural Day at the state fair in Indianapolis on August 22.

Some of the activities they saw were a heifer scramble in which little calves were released in a pen and the object was to round them up. The students also watched the Farmers Day Parade.

Some other features were a Young McDonald's Farm and a Natural Resource Center.

Since the activities were based on F.F.A. (Future Farmers of America), students saw a variety of antique tractors as well.

Each student was also able to see individual sights which included a dairy farm, livestock farm and a horse farm.

No Endorsements by AARP

Being State Coordinator for AARP/VOTE, I have monitored many of the newspapers around the state, especially when those articles have something to do with the upcoming elections. There is however, a series of articles that I have read that do not coincide with AARP's position and would like to get this matter cleared up at once.

Mr. John Johnson, the Republican candidate for the 5th District in Congress has been campaigning around the district that AARP endorses his health care plan. This is NOT true. We do NOT endorse his plan or any other plan that a candidate might campaign on.

We do not want AARP misrepresented and that is exactly what is happening here.

Jean Seiber is the new office girl for the AKRON NEWS, and began work Monday morning. She replaces Mary Maxine Swick, who will be a freshman at Manchester College this fall. Jean graduated from Akron high school this spring, and was editor of the Akron Hi-Times. She is staying at the Stauffer home.

Charles Williams has bought the Audra Putman house and will move it to a location just east of the filling station on road 14. The farm where the Putman house stood has been bought by Milo Cutshall.

J.R. (Tommy) Miller was hailed today as Chicagoland's Neatest dairy farmer. His 220-acre holstein and guemsey farm, located one mile east and two miles south of Akron won the grand championship in the seventh annual Chicagoland's Neatest Dairy Farm Contest sponsored by the Pure Milk Association. The title carries with it an 8-day vacation trip for Mr. and Mrs. Miller to the New York World's Fair and return via Atlantic City and Washington, D.C. A score of 99 1/4 % in the final judging brought the Miller's the coveted title from among the twenty PMA district winners. Not just the aluminum painted buildings, white fences or lovely lawns and flowerbeds, but the downright cleanliness of every building inside and out, of every odd corner where one might expect to find a cobweb or dust, were the things that gave the Miller farm the extra quarter point that meant winning. The white gravelled walks, the flowers, might mislead the casual visitor to think this a show farm, but it is an honest-to-goodness dairy enterprise where every cow produces Grade A. milk and, what more, pays her way. The production records posted above the twenty-four steel stanchions tell that story, as do the scales, the immaculate pails and cans racked in the milkhouse, and the milking machine parts in a sterilizing solution. It is a farm built up during the twenty six years the Millers have been dairy farmers, fifteen years of that time as Pure Milk farmers. Milk from the Miller farm goes to J. H. Pralle and sons' plant in Akron.

Weida and Kaser Wed

The Akron Church of God, Akron, was the setting for the marriage of Johna Lynelle Weida, daughter of John and Crystal Weida, Akron and Michael Lee Kaser, son of Lynn and Carolyn Kaser, Columbia City.

The Rev. Matthew Williams performed the 2:30 p.m. June 30, 1990 ceremony in the presence of 150 guests. The church sanctuary was decorated with two heart-shaped candelabra and pew decorations of greenery and mauve and ivory ribbons.

Donna Loer, Akron, was the soloist, and Patricia Mitterling, Akron, played the organ and piano.

The bride wore a floor-length satin gown. It featured a high illusion neckline and fitted basque waistline adorned with sequins and pearls. The full skirt was accented with embroidered lace motifs which flowed into the lace scalloped cathedral train. She wore a Victorian hat trimmed in pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and mauve roses, baby's breath and greenery accented with mauve and ivory lace ribbons.

The maid of honor was Amy Lemmon, Columbia City. The bridesmaids were Jena Weida, Akron, sister of the bride, and Shannon Sewell, Columbia City. They wore tea-length mauve taffeta dresses with an ivory lace overlay and short puffed sleeves. Each carried a fan covered with mauve and white roses accented with ivory and mauve lace ribbons.

The best man was Duane Crisp, Columbia City. The groomsmen were Andrew Williams and Tim Vice, both of Walkerton.

The ushers were Brad Schuman and Alan Williamson, both of Columbia City.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall, where a three-tiered heart-shaped cake and punch were served. The reception ended with the launch of 100 mauve and ivory balloons. Servers were Denise Shoemaker, Wabash; Shelly Davis and Lori Walker, Columbia City, and Hope Garrison, Akron.

The bride is a 1990 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School. She works at Ames Department Store, Columbia City. The groom is a graduate of Columbia City Joint High School. He works at Coast to Coast, Columbia City.

Following a honeymoon trip to Indianapolis, the couple lives at 221 Park Terrace Blvd., Columbia City.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Please allow me to ask a question of Mr. John Johnson, the republican candidate for the 5th District House Seat. Mr. Johnson, what is your stand on tax equity? Do you favor equal tax for all, regardless of income or do you favor the current system which allows anyone earning $210,000 or more per year to pay a 28% tax rate while everyone else pays the 33% maximum? Congressman Jim Jontz supports equal tax rates for everyone. He wants to close the tax rate "Bubble" loophole. Is it time for everyone to pay fair share or do the rich get richer and the poor pay more taxes?

Mark R. Doyle
Brookston, IN

Dear Editor:

I wish to congratulate Congressman Jim Jontz. I recently learned that he was given the "Big Spender" rating by the National Taxpayers Union in 1988. In 1987, Jontz voted AGAINST spending cuts 75% of the time. While voting against cuts, he has consistently voted for spending and tax increases.

In 1987, Bob Michel, R-IL, proposed an amendment to freeze spending and prevent a $11.9 billion tax increase. Jim Jontz voted against the Michel plan and chose the tax increase.

Now, he takes pride in being a sponsor of the balanced budget amendment. Jim Jontz proposing this amendment would have been like Al Capone proposing an amendment to stop bank robberies!

It is because of the spending of Congressmen like Jim Jontz that the budget is not balanced!

David Zahrt
Winamac, IN

Dear Editor:

Time are troubled with this war with Iraq going on. Our fighting men and women are in trouble over there.

With the gas price gouging and everything else going on over here, the economic times are troubled.

John Johnson has proposed a 13% National sales tax. Would you trust the fate of our nation to a man who wants to do that sort of damage to the American Economy?

Jean Christiansen

Dear Editor:

Everyone had better hold on to their wallets.

John Johnson wants to raise taxes by 38%. I, for one, don't feel that's the right thing to do. He says a sales tax that everyone pays on everything they buy will hit rich people harder. If someone can explain this, please write in.

As a proud, flag-waving, red-blooded member of the American middle class, I'm opposed to a 13% sales tax, I will not pay a 13% sales tax, and as sure as the sun shines, I will not vote for John Johnson.

Lisa Clerget
Monticello, IN

Dear Editor:

I feel the need to inform the locale concerning the work that Congressman Jim Jontz has been fighting for us in Washington to obtain funding for the Hoosier Heartland Highway again this year.

He's gotten $3.4 million appropriated for the highway over the last two years, and he just crossed the first hurdle toward getting another $3 million this year.

My family, being farmers, think the Hoosier Heartland Highway would be the best thing that could ever happen to improve the economic outlook for this industrial and highly agricultural community.

This community in north-central Indiana has no east-west heavy truck transportation artery which has been needed for twenty years.

With Jim's persistence, we can get the needed appropriations to finish the job that started two years ago.

With all the negative campaigning going on these days, it's about time that our Representative got a pat on the back.

Clyde E. Patty Royal Center, IN

Dear Editor:

Even though I do not live in the district served by Congressman Jim Jontz, I have supported him in the 1986 and 1988 campaigns and continue my support for him in 1990.

There are several reasons that I believe he does an excellent job of representing the citizens of the 5th district. One of them is his record of answering roll call votes. In 1989 he was present for all 379 votes and in my judgment, voted responsibly.

Jim Jontz voted against the congressional pay raise, and when it passed anyway he placed his increase in a scholarship fund for worthy college students. He has been an active supporter of environmental legislation which will help to make life a little better for future generations. He supported the worthwhile Family and Medical Leave bill which passed both the House and Senate but, sadly, was vetoed by President Bush. He opposes any tax increase for the "middle income" tax bracket, but he believes that people with annual incomes over $210,000 should be taxed at the 33% rate like those at the middle-income level, instead of at the current lower rate of 28%.

There are other reasons why I would like to vote for Jim Jontz, but since I can't, I would like to encourage the good people of the 5th district to again choose him, in the November election, to represent them.

Sincerely,
Robert S. Frantz
Silver Lake, IN

Dear Editor and Staff:

I want to commend you on the improvement of your change of format in your paper. There is more news and better reading.

Adding Jerry and Lea Hudson to your staff is also a plus. As a former resident of Mentone, I enjoy reading the news of that community.

Sincerely,
Iris Thompson

Dear Editor:

Why Won't John Johnson come clean on closing the income tax "bubble" loophole?

He has been publicly challenged by Congressman Jim Jontz to join him in closing this income tax "bubble" loophole. This is the one where middle income Americans pay a higher tax than those making more than $210,000 a year.

I suppose it's because he's a millionaire and would have to start paying his fair share if he did.

Sincerely,
C.M. Paulsen
Rensselaer, IN

To Whom It May Concern

I am young and feel as though it is my duty to my country is a loyal, law abiding citizen to take it upon myself to vote and have in some degree, a say in the way our country is governed. For this reason, I have been reading in newspapers to better my understanding of what each candidate stands for. As I was doing this, I ran across a conflict between John Johnson and the closing of the income tax "bubble" loophole. Johnson will not close the income tax "bubble" loophole for obvious reasons. This loophole allows anyone who makes over $200,000 a year to pay lower taxes than the average citizen. Johnson is not average, he is a millionaire. Therefore, it seems as though he is going to try to keep the loophole to keep his own taxes down and allow him to buy his way into the Fifth District Seat in Congress with personal funds. I also found in other news reports, that Johnson has already spent $191,455 of his own money on his run for the seat. How odd!!

To the Editor:

Where do I begin to say "Thank you". So many people stopped to help me on August 18, 1990 from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. It was so touching that a community could pull together and each one individually stopping asking if I was OK-If I needed anything, dried the spark plugs, distributor cap, celliod (Computer Brain) Box of my black w/brown panel station wagon on Route 19 south of downtown Akron, Indiana.

To each of you-Thank you for your help, kindness, and to one young woman who emotionally supported me with comforting words of encouragement.

Thank you to the 3 young men who called the Sheriff (to call a tow truck) to help me start my car after I plunged knee deep in a puddle. Thanks guys for not stopping just once but 3x's to be sure I was still OK.

Thank you to Officer Frick for his patience, understanding and unbiased commitment to help me to arrive and escorting me (after the car was started) to a new route #114 (to North Manchester) to directions home; Fort Wayne.

And never last thank you to the gentleman from the tow truck company that responded without the tow truck (knowing that I wouldn't need it), starting the car waiting for it to run for a while and for not even charging me for the starting (of the engine).

It turned out to be one of the greatest moments I will remember for a long time.

Thanks again everyone for showing me that Hoosier hospitality is still very much alive. God Bless each of you.

WORK AND PRAYERS HAVE MADE OUR LIFESTYLE WHAT IT IS

Throughout our life's productive years
We all perform our chores.
Now some develop their careers
In offices and stores,
Or work with a computer screen,
And thereby earn their bread;
While others choose the farming scene
To help them get ahead.
In any case, we have progressed
And raised our status quo;
Our living standard is the best,
Because we've made it so.
Our House of Worship says, "Well done!"
To all who work and pray;
You've earned the right to have some fun,
So Happy Labor Day!

At around 6:00 p.m. three students from Warsaw entered T.V.H.S., and vandalized lockers with X's, and vandalized a banner that was hung up in the hallway regarding the Valley-vs-Warsaw game that took place on Friday, August 24.

The three students were caught and were given until 3:10 p.m. on Friday to clean up the vandalism.

They were escorted to Valley, and were escorted down the hallway by the TVHS football players as they cleaned up the mess. They were also given a five day out-of-school suspension from Warsaw High School. No charges were filed.

Was it a game or a war?

Some would call it a war between school rivalries to see who was the better team.

Friday, August 24, the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings played against the Warsaw Tigers in a head-to-head competition to fight hard and win but, unfortunately, things didn't go as planned for the Vikings.

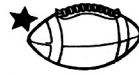

In the first few seconds, the Tigers received the ball, and that's where the struggle began for Valley.

"The Vikings didn't execute well because of a new system and a new coach," said Assistant Principal Mr. Bruce Gaylor "We expect them to be better later into the season," said Gaylor.

The Vikings struggled, and Warsaw ended up winning with a score of 29-0.

Valley's next game is at home. They will play Manchester.

Potawatomi Wildlife Park

by Leafy Hudson

A right turn into a prosaic lane just north of Old Tip Town on Indiana State Road 331 leads the traveler through the sublime glory of a sylvan arbor, into a grassy clearing surrounded by native Indiana trees. A neat brown building, the nature center, housing an office and meeting room, sits near the lane. Across the clearing, nestled against the high bank overlooking the Tippecanoe River, the caretaker's two-year old low, rustic dwelling, sided with wavy-edged western red cedar, blends into its background.

A lucky visitor might be forced to pause in his drive down the lane to allow young deer safe passage across the lane ahead.

This wildlife lover's dream is the entrance to the Potawatomi Wildlife Park in Marshall County, Indiana. Dedicated to free enjoyment by the public, especially children, the origin of the park is quite unusual.

When Vernon Romine, an elderly bachelor farmer, died about twelve years ago, five unsuspecting area service clubs discovered they were joint owners, by terms of his will, of Romine's considerable property. The heirs were: the Mentone Lions, Etna Green Lions, Bourbon Lions, Bremen Kiwanis, and Bourbon Kiwanis. As a result, Potawatomi Park, Inc., a private foundation, was formed. The presidents of each organization formed the first five member board. Other club members have since taken their turns. Through the sale of Romine's several farms, the board established a permanent fund to provide operating capital, which, in turn, made possible the development and maintenance of the one hundred-fifty acre swampland area which comprises the park. Since then, about fifty acres adjoining the original property have been added.

Development was slow at first, as the men responsible took their task very seriously. It took about two years to settle the will, establish non-profit status, and decide the best way to proceed. Romine's will stipulated the land should be used for a park--what kind of park wasn't specified--that it should be available to children, and admission must be free. With these directives in mind, considering the swampy features of the low river ground, the board members decided their charge was perfect for a wildlife refuge. Fortunately, one of the first directors (still a director) was Wayne Bessinger, of Bessinger's Wildlife Refuge. Having already spent many years in developing his own wildlife habitat, he was able to lend expertise to decisions regarding development of the land. "Those first board meetings often lasted until midnight," says Eldon Horn, who has been a director since the beginning. "There were so many decisions to be made and we were all (except Wayne) inexperienced. Now we just go and approve the reports--it only takes about an hour now."

The nature center was built to provide meeting room and office space. Wildlife and conservation posters adorn the walls. Many nature books fill the bookshelves in the office.

Six years ago Roger Sill, a native of Tippecanoe, was hired to keep the trails mowed and clean. Just back from Vincennes University, where he had studied to be a conservation officer, Roger worked part-time for three months, then was asked by the directors to become the full-time caretaker. Four years of development followed before Roger and the directors decided the park was ready for the June, 1988 opening. "Some of the jobs were good, and some were bad," Roger says. But, overall, he enjoys his work very much. He reports to the Board of Directors each month and is included in decision making.

About two years ago, the directors decided the caretaker should live on the property. The next step was to build a house. Roger credits Bob Gottschalk of Bourbon Lumber with patience and concern in helping to frame the three bedroom home, a task completed before the first snowfall in 1988. It then fell to Roger to finish the house inside. "A winter project," he calls it.

The house was completed, and Roger, with his family, moved into it in May, 1989. Roger's wife Shelly, was a little leery at first, but now she, four year old Ashley, and nine-month old Adam enjoy living close to nature in their rustic home.

All wildlife nature to Indiana lives in the park. They have done no stocking. "Provide the habitat," says Roger, "and the game will find you." Rabbits, squirrels, and deer are some of the common species to appear. Even coyotes, a rarity in Indiana just five years ago, are plentiful now. Many species of birds appear in the park. Roger provides plenty of bluebird and woodduck houses. He knows of four pairs of bluebirds who took advantage of the shelter this summer. Tree swallows, wrens, orioles, and owls are just a few more.

A new problem emerged recently with the need for transportation around the park. Roger solved it by having a frame built on wheels. He finished it with a roof and twelve bus seats. Although the wagon theoretically seats twenty-four, as many as thirty-seven young people have crowded into it and enjoyed the ride.

Two goals have been defined for Potawatomi Wildlife Park. Goal #1: The first priority is to the park as a wildlife refuge--improvement and maintenance for the benefit of the animals. Goal #2: Make it available to people--expand on that as long as it doesn't infringe on Goal #1.

The public is welcome and encouraged to visit the park. They can either hike the trails or ride on the wagon. Although the sign at the entrance reads "By appointment only," no one will ever be turned away unless a scheduled group is already using it. There is a "One group at a time" rule in force.

Facilities include a shelter, picnic tables, meeting rooms and restrooms.

To date, over one thousand visitors have come from many schools in the area, as well as from Florida, Texas, California, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Alaska, and Kaiserslautern, Germany.

Development and maintenance of the park are dependent upon the income from the Romine estate and donations. Although admission is free, donations are always welcome.

A few hours spent in Potawatomi Wildlife Park is a magical way to temporarily escape the turmoil of everyday life and revel for a little while in peacefulness of nature.

Recipe from The Akron News July 25, 1940

Planning family menus to tempt hot weather appetites is an every day problem for homemakers. It is important that meals be substantial without being heavy. Many a person feels limp on a hot day because food is not tempting and there is an inclination to eat less than the body requires. The gold butter crust and tender crumb win the acclaim of those who appreciated delicious hot breads. As pretty as a picture is this luncheon plate of butter-biscuit egg shortcake served with buttered baby lima beans.

Butter Biscuits
2 cups sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
4 tablespoons butter

3/4 cup milk.
Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut or rub in butter. Add milk to make a soft dough, stirring just enough to make ingredients hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board, knead gently for a half minute. Roll out to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut and bake in hot oven (450 F) 10 to 12 minutes.

Yield: about 18 2-inch shortcakes.

Biscuit Filling
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
4 to 6 hard cooked eggs, sliced

1 cup cooked mushrooms
Melt butter, stir in flour to form a smooth paste. Add salt and milk and cook over low fire until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add sliced eggs and mushrooms. Split hot biscuits, cover with cream mixture. Replace tops of biscuit, add more creamed mixture. Garnish and serve. Yield: 6 servings.

Who's Who in Akron

Larry and Bernadean Howard celebrate the history of the Fur Trade Era

Kneeling next to his tipi, a bearded mountain man wearing leather pants and a coyote skin for a hat, with a large antler handled knife strapped to his side tends a turkey roasting over the coals of a campfire. The mountain man turns and...it's your neighbor Larry Howard! This scene has happened frequently to people attending the Trail of Courage in Rochester.

Howard, who lives south of Akron, his wife Bernadean and their son, Brad, 17, have been active participants in the hobby of buckskinning for about eight years. Another son, Kyle, also 17, and family friend Lyle Butt join them at some rendezvous.

Buckskinning is the study and re-creation of the life and times of the fur traders and mountain men who traded with the Indians from the mid 1700's to 1840. A rendezvous is a gathering of buckskinners who come together to camp, trade, swap stories and share their knowledge of history with others. There are private rendezvous as well as those open to the public.

The Howards' interest in buckskinning began with their interest in black powder hunting. Larry and his sons all enjoy deer hunting with muzzle loading rifles. Larry uses a .54 caliber Hawken. They attended some rendezvous and decided it was something they might like to participate in as a family.

Since authenticity is important, they began to research the time period. Through the library, books such as "The Book of Buckskinning", magazines including "Muzzle Blasts" and by attending rendezvous and observing other "skinners" the Howards began to gain a greater understanding of the 18th and 19th centuries.

Larry made the leather pants he and his sons wear. Bernadean's leather Blackfoot Indian style dress and the moccasins they all wear. Bernadean sewed the muslin and calico shirts and petticoats.

As the years have gone by, the Howards have perfected several skills and made many beautiful items for their trade blanket. Brad does beadwork for knife sheaths, leather pouches and gun scabbards (covers). He also made an otter pipe bag and knee high moccasins. Larry carves scrimshaw powder horns and makes jewelry from beads, porcupine quills, bear claws, buck-eyes and other items from nature. Bernadean contributes baskets and grapevine wreaths. Their trade blanket also offers leather, antlers, herbs and handmade "possibles" bags, which buckskinner uses to hold the items one would usually carry in a pocket.

While at a rendezvous, the Howards sleep on a feather tick inside a sixteen foot diameter canvas tipi decorated with Blackfoot Indian designs. Bernadean does all the cooking for her family in cast iron vessels over a campfire. Some family favorites are venison stew and chicken and dumplings. Breakfast usually consists of bacon and eggs with biscuits and there is always plenty of good strong campfire coffee.

Since fur traders spent so much time among the Indians they frequently adopted their style of dress. Larry's outfits are a combination of the style of the French Voyageur and the Blackfoot Indian. At the two day events, Bernadean will dress as a pioneer woman one day and as a Blackfoot Indian woman the next.

A great deal of time, thought and expense goes into having correct dress and campsite. Some of the forbidden items are: blue jeans, zippers, wrist watches, synthetic cloth, plastic buttons, screw cap bottles, plastic wrap, flashlights, cigarette lighter, matches, (fires are started with flint and steel) or any other item not around before 1840. Contest are held to select the most authentic camp.

There are rendezvous held every weekend somewhere in the country. A recent issue of "Black Powder News" list 41 events in the month of August alone. The Howards limit themselves to events held fairly locally. They attend the Baugo Creek Rendezvous at Osceola, The Reins of Life in Elkhart, Loveway in Middlebury and their favorite, the Trail of Courage in Rochester.

They always used to attend the Nationals at Friendship, IN to obtain supplies, but it and the Trail of Courage are now the same weekend, so they haven't been there for a couple of years.

"The thing I enjoy the most is the change of pace," Bernadean says. "I've gained a greater appreciation for the times and for the work the people had to do back then." She adds, "it's a lot of work but relaxing also, to step back in time." Evening is Bernadean's favorite time at rendezvous. After the public has gone and the evening meal is finished participants settle around the campfires to share knowledge, tell stories or sing. "Maybe someone will play the flute. It's a quiet social time," Bernadean explains.

The only unpleasant aspect is the weather sometimes. Once at Baugo Creek, which takes place the first weekend in May, it snowed. Another time at The Reins of Life, Larry was cooking a turkey outside when it began to rain. He moved the bird into the tipi and lit the fire in the center. Then it stopped raining and he moved it back outside. Then the rain began again so he had to take it back inside. This kept up all afternoon. "That bird flew more from campfire to campfire that day than it ever did while it was alive," laughs Larry.

Larry, a supervisor for Christman Construction, and Bernadean, a 4th grade teacher at Akron Elementary School, both particularly enjoy sharing their knowledge of history with children. Every year for Pioneer Days at the school, they give demonstrations of their skills, such as beading and leather work. They were also responsible for arranging the rendezvous held in Akron as part of the 4th of July/Sesquicentennial Celebration in 1886. Several primitive camps were set up south of the ball diamond and participants marched, with their muzzle loaders, in the parade.

The Howards recently completed the difficult task of making a buffalo robe. Larry tans his own deer hide, but this was his first time with buffalo. It took two or three days to "flesh out" the hide even with three people working on it. The hide was too large to fit in the barrel Larry uses for tanning deer hide so he soaked the skin in a casket lined with rubber. The wet hide was so heavy, a backhoe was needed to lift it. Larry also painted Indian designs on the buffalo skull to use to decorate his campsite at rendezvous.

The Howards are members of several organizations that promote buckskinning including "The Brothers of the Wind" and the National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association.

Both Larry and Bernadean have been very active in the community. In the past Larry has coached both softball and basketball. He has recently returned to another hobby, stock car racing. The Howards also been involved with the Akron 4th of July Committee.

For the last few years Bernadean has scheduled the entertainment for the Hillside Amphitheater at the Trail of Courage Acts have included pre-1840's music, historic fashion shows and demonstrations of crafts, such as finger weaving.

Larry, Bernadean and family would like to invite you to stop by to visit and share their knowledge of history at the Trail of Courage on September 15th and 16th. The living history festival will be held in the Fulton County Historical Society woods, located on U.S. 31 just north of the Tippecanoe River. Their tipi will be located in the Western Fur Trade Area of the primitive encampment. The Howards keep an "open lodge" meaning you will be welcome to come inside the tipi and look around anytime the door (or flap) is open.

Who's Who in Mentone

by Leafy Hudson

Chad's plans for the future, after high school graduation, spring, 1991, include matriculating to Manchester College, where he will major in Business Administration or Accounting.

Profile of Chad

Seventeen year old Chad Secrist is busy young man with many interests. A senior at Tippecanoe Valley High School, Chad lives with his father, Larry, on Main Street in Mentone. Older brother, Doug, is studying to be mechanical engineer at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in Terre Haute.

During the summer, Chad worked full-time in the engineering department of Sonoco Products in Akron. He went from that job to his part-time work at the Frank and Jerry's Grocery in Mentone, usually putting in an eleven hour workday. With school started, Chad still maintains long hours. Attending classes in the morning, he continues working at Sonoco afternoons in the school Co-Op program. As if that, along with his extra-curricular activities, isn't enough, he also continues to fill in at Frank and Jerry's.

Working is not new to Chad. He started mowing lawns as soon as he was tall enough to push the mower. He was so small, that, "Dad and Doug had to help me push." He considers picking strawberries for Darrell King his first real job, because, "for the first time, I had a boss."

His fourteenth summer, Chad cooked for Tom and Lori Harmon at the B & K east of Mentone, which led that fall to a two-year cooking stint for Joyce Bose at the Hometown Cafe.

About school, Chad says, "It's okay. But I've been ready to get out since I got into it. I want to get out and prove to people what I can really do." His school record seems to belie that attitude. Fourth in his class, he's a member of the National Honor Society, and was a member and president of the Junior National Honor Society at Mentone Junior High School.

Chad is especially proud of his participation in Tippecanoe Valley's Key Club, a community service organization sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs of America. Presently he serves on the State Board Special Emphasis Committee. Last year, as president of the local club, he led in organizing Helping Hands, a clearing-house for clothes and food. Club members collect donated items and anyone can go to the designated location to choose from the commodities. "What the community gives," Chad observes philosophically, "the community gets back." The local Key Club also helped raise money for the state Give the Kids the World project with car washes and other fundraisers.

Chad was honored this summer by being chosen to attend Hoosier Boys State by the local American Legion Auxiliary. This experience had a profound effect on him. Over 1000 Hoosier boys met at Indiana State University in Terre Haute and elected leaders to establish governments at city, county, and state levels. Chad was chosen the newspaper editor. The boys saw first hand how government works, even to the graft and "back-scratching" that goes on. But the best impression of the week was watching a representative from the Indiana School for the Deaf work enthusiastically, "without a handicap." Chad was one of the last eight boys to be considered for Hoosier Boys outstanding Citizen. The winner of this award attends Boys Nation in Washington, D.C.

Chad is in several other clubs, including the drama club. He has preformed in five high school productions, beginning when he was still in Junior High. He was student director of Pygmalion. Patrons will remember him last year in the lead role of Carl in Lavendar and Old Lace.

One of Chad's hobbies is collecting antiques. So far he has mostly family pieces, "things nobody else wanted," but he expects to acquire much more in time. His favorite antique is a cherished pair of bookends, sculptured horses in very old glass. They belonged originally to his great-great-grandmother. Photography, tennis, and skiing are also hobbies he enjoys.

Chad doesn't hesitate to discuss his being from a broken home. He gives his father credit for his "not cracking" as a result. "Other kids complain about having crazy parents. My dad treats me as a friend as well as fulfilling the parent role. He's always been there to support me, to tell me I can do it. Therefore, I saw it (the broken home) as a challenge to excel, not an excuse to fail."

About Mentone, Chad says, "Our town has style. There's no better place to grow up. When you have a personal triumph, the neighbors all gather round. It's so neat to feel so close to so many people."

He also noted how kind many of the neighbors were when the breakup of his parents occurred. He is thankful for firm friendships with many older people, and especially credits Pauline Starr for giving good advice and "always being willing to listen. It's really great when a seventeen year old and an eighty-one year old can be best friends."

Looking at Chad's many worthwhile activities and his mature attitude toward life, it seems he has already accomplished his goal of "proving to people what he can really do."

PSI customers will see rate reduction

PSI Energy customers will receive a rate reduction on their October through December electric bills because of the company's success in reducing its fuel costs and selling power to utilities outside of Indiana.

The typical residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours per month will get a rate reduction of about 4.5 percent.

"We are aggressively managing our business to control costs and increase our sales as we work under the performance incentive plan recently approved by the Indiana utility commission," said James E. Rogers Jr., PSI's chairman and chief executive officer. "We have been seeking buyers outside our electrical system, as well as pursuing economic development in the state. The additional revenue from these sales clearly benefit our customers."

The October through December credit for sales is based on those the company made during the May through July period. "Even though we had to buy power in June because of tornado damage to our transmission system," Rogers noted, "our May and July off system sales enable us to give our customers a sizable reduction."
