Mentone Board accepts auction bid for backhoe sale

The Mentone Town Board met in regular session on Monday evening, December 4, at the Town Hall with all members present. Minutes of the November 6 meeting, read by Clerk-Treasurer Catherine Whetstone, were approved as read by trustees Frank Hardesty, Gerald Romine, and Wayne Tombaugh.

Town Attorney Lee Bazini re-ported to the Board, that he has been in contact with the administrator (First National Bank of Warsaw) of the estate of Edwin Bach in regards to the purchase

An agreement has been made to purchase a backhoe from the Bach estate for $12,000, with $5,000 to be paid this year, and the remainder in 1979. Bazini informed the Board, that he is hoping to close the deal next week. The Board had advertised for bids on the purchase of a backhoe last month, but none were

An auction was led by Board president Hardesty to sell the backhoe the town now owns. Attorney Bazini stressed to the bidders that it was to be sold "as is", and the Board reserved the right to reject any or all bids.

Bidders present included Garland Sparks, representing the Town of Akron, Bill Boardman of Mentone, and Ray Clark. Boardman was awarded the back-hoe for a bid of $2000 by a unanimous vote of the Board. Trustee Romine informed the Board that Bob Murphy, of Mur-phy and Associates in Warsaw, had contracted him regarding federal grants for improvement of Ment-

The Board contracted with Murphy in October to investigate the possibilities of getting state and/ or federal monies for improvements in Mentone.

Murphy told Romine that there are no monies available this year for park improvements, but money would be available for a community center for senior citi-

The Board showed some interest in this possibility, and Murphy will be asked to attend a future meeting to discuss the possibilities.

* An executive session for Wednesday, December 27, has been scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall. A special session, open to the public, will follow at 8 p.m.

There was some heated discussion over the payment of an invoice submitted by Marty Lantz, an employee at Romine Electric for a magnetic starter on the town water pump and labor costs for two men. The invoice, which had no company name on it, submitted two months ago, was never given a claim number by Clerk-Treasurer Whetstone, because of a "con-flict of interest". Turstees Har-desty and Tombaugh also refused to sign for the claim, because of a "conflict of interest". Attorney Bazini stressed that he hoped that there might be some legal way to work the problem out.

With no further business the meeting was adjourned. No date for a January meeting has been set at this time.

Milbern Historical Association compiling book for Centennial

by Marsha Scott

A meeting, sponsored by the Milbern School Historical Assn., was held in October to start work on gathering information about the history of Mentone. This informa-tion will eventually be edited and compiled into book form and will be ready for Mentone's Centennial Six divisions have been established. They are: I. Introduction: (territories-Indians); II. 1882-1907 (1st quarter); III. 1907-1932 (2nd quarter); IV. 1932-2957 (3rd quarter); V. 1957-1982 (4th quarter); VI Genealogy. In each of the first five division 14 topics will be covered. They are: Business; fire and police; organizations; churches and/or religion; schools; homes; railroads; interesting data; farming and egg business; senior citizens; commu-nity services; community enter-tainment; town officals and laws;

It was decided by the committee to include in the book, brief histo include in the book, prief his-tories of Sevastapool, Burket, Pa-lestine, and Tippecanoe. Freeman Gruenwald of Mentone is prepar ing the information on Palestine. Volunteers are still needed to prepare the information about the other three towns.

Pictures will be a big part of our book. Anyone who has pictures they are willing to share with us is asked to call Mrs. John Teel or

Mrs. E. Hoover. These ladies are in charge of a picture file we are setting up. All pictures will be xeroxed and the original returned to the owner. At press time the owner will be contacted for the original.

The committee feels that a book can be compiled that will be of interest to the present generation and many future generations. However, a project of this scope requires considerable time, research, and cooperation from everyone. The more people to volunteer to help, the less work for everyone. If you wish to vol-unteer or have information to contribute, please contact Mar-sha Scott at 353-7460 or Connie Haney at 353-7143.

An example of Mrs. Hoffman's fine worksmanship.

Mentone Police Report

Rebecca D. Fisher, R. 1, Mentone, was involved in a one car mishap on Saturday, December 2, at 6:15 p.m. when the auto she was driving went off the road and hit a fence, due to the icy condition of the roads. The accident occurred on State Road 19, three miles south of Mentone. Damage to the auto was minimal according to Mentone Marshal Earl Beat-, and the fence received no damage. No one was injured.

At 9:15 p.m. on Saturday, December 2, Dana Cook of E. Jack-son St., Mentone, went off the road on State Road 19, one and one-half miles south of Mentone, also because of the icy conditions of the road. According to Deputy Marshal John Hart, no one was injured in the mishap and Cook's vehicle received no damages.

The Wall Street Journal reports that supermarkets and food makers are promoting fast food meals that consumers can cook in their own kitchens.

Or, as the singers warble in a commercial for Hellman's Big H Burger Sauce: "Have it at home America. Have that restaurant-hamburger taste at home. . .

Like Mom made

The fast-food restaurants have educated the public to eat their stuff and to like it. Industry statistics show that about 25% of the family food dollar is now spend in restaurants.

One study indicates that 40% of Americans under 30 believe that restaurant food is at least as good as what they get at home.

So the supermarkets are turning to the age-old strategy: "If you can't beat'em, joim 'em.

Joining 'em means promoting fast-food meals that consumers can cook in their own homes and eat in their own dining rooms.

In some markets already there are frozen cheeseburgers and frozen hot dogs. Coming soon is a frozen breakfast on a bun (ala McDonald's). TV commercials for the Wear-Ever Chicken Bucket, a chicken cooker, promise that chicken from the appliance "tastes just like take-out.

It used to be that we wanted meals like Mother used to cook. Now, it seems people may soon be turning to meals just like Mother used to take out.

During the summers that I was in college, I worked at a well known restaurant in Niles as a waitress. I really enjoyed the work, though it can be very tiring and nerve wrecking at times, but found that most people are very considerate and friendly when they are out for dinner.

Most of my earnings did not come from by boss however. Because waitresses earn "tips", the employer (at that time anyway) was not required to pay minimum wage. Therefore, my "tips" were what kept me going.

For many of us though, as patrons, tipping is confusing, and we don't really know what type of service we should expect for out tip.

Robert D. Buchanan, extension specialist at Purdue University in restaurant, hotel and institutional management offers a guide to rate service and determine the amount to

A 10% or less tip is poor; 15% average; and 20% or more excellent.

Buchanan suggests considering four areas - the restaurant's facilities, personnel, service, and special situations - in determing what to tip.

In the restaurant, are the tables, menus, glassware and silverware neat and clean? Condiments, sauces, beverages, spoons and forks, etc. are available when needed?

Are the personnel clean and well groomed? Smiling, friendly, and helpful? Do they make you feel welcome

Is the service good? Are you seated promptly; is your order taken and served correctly; do the waitresses check to see if all is well after the meal is served; are water glasses and coffee cups kept full; is your check legible and accurate and delivered promptly without having to ask for

In special situations, do your children receive special attention; if a complaint is necessary, is it handled tactfully; are special requests or substitutions handled courteously and promptly?

Most restaurants, says Buchanan, strive to meet these

Singers to perform

Many college students have sought a creative way in which to share both the deep meaning and excitement they have found in their continuously maturing relationship with Christ. In the spring of 1977 a group in Anderson was formed called the "New Nature Singers." Suggesting they make up a program of mediamusic, drama, multi-media and puppetry, thus this group relates to the young and the old.

They have appeared in many other states this summer and will give a performance this Sunday, Dec. 10, at the Silver Creek Church Church of God 10:30 Worship Hour. They attempt to communicate and display the essence of a living life, in the spirit of Jesus Christ.

They will make you want to worship together. The Rev. Fred J. Landolt wishes to extend an invitation to everyone to attend.

Plan for holidays

The Tippecanoe Fireman's Auxiliary met at the home of Pat Kreft with Mary Rock as hostess. There were 14 members present. Final plans were made for the Christmas party at Teel's in Mentone. Everyone will meet at the fire house at 6 on December 11.

Becky Rush, Mildred Williams and Carlene Rabey are going to make the fruit baskets for the sick and shut-ins. Carol Baugher and Mandy Cowen are to audit the books. Pat Kreft and Flo Kreiter are in charge of the plans for seeing that Santa Claus gets here on December 16 from 2 till 4 at the firehouse.

New officers elected are president, Donna Blackford; vice-president, Pat Kreft; secretary, Mildred Williams, and treasurer, Helen Mc-Intyre. Lucky lady prize was won by Carlene Rabey, and the door prizes went to Carol Baugher and Helen McIntyre.

Mentone's firefighters dedicated to their job

by Renee Norlander

Volunteer organizations have always played an important ba role in the structure of a small town and Mentone is no excep tion. One of the very finest volunteer organizations I have ever seen is the Mentone Volunteer Fire Department.

A total of twenty-two men keep Mentone protected against fires, and last year they answered forty-two calls to serve. According to Fire Chief Joe Good, no men were injured at any of these fires, but we all know the risks these men take each time they answer a call. Last week, I met with several of the men to discuss the operation of a volunteer department. Present were Chief- Joe Good, Assistant Chief- Roger Montel, Captain and Vice-President of the Kosciusko County Firemen's Association

Butch Warren, and Lieutenant Ellis Shepherd. These men were chosen by all of the volunteers, and the position of Chief was ap proved by the Mentone Tri-town-ship Fire Control Board. One other officer, Lieutenant Chet Smith, was also elected at last January's election.

The men explained to me that anyone can become a firemen in Mentone, but when they join, they are on a six month probation in which time they are taught to use all of the fire fighting equipment, and are tested for their skills. They are also observed for good moral conduct, and enthusiasm for being a fire fighter.

A recent law passed by the State of Indiana, also requires that each new fireman must acquire eighty hours of instruction from a certified instructor to become a fireman. The "grandfather clause" allows experienced firemen to work without this certified instruction.

After a new man reaches the rank of "fireman", he may progress to 2nd class, 1st class, and then "Master firefighter". According to Butch Warren, a master firefighter has received about 240 hours of instruc-tion to acquire this rank. Fifteen of the volunteers in Mentone are "certified" firemen.

There are also two EMT's on the There are also two EMT's on the department — Kenny Bush and Gene Hughes — who are capable of taking care of persons injured in a fire. Many of the other men also have first aid training, and equipment for smoke inhalation is carried to every fire. Six of the men are also State Certified Radiological Monitors, which qualifies them to check for radiation in a case where nuclear radiation may be involved.

The men in the department are very proud of the equipment they have; apparently they are far bet-ter equipped than most volunteer departments. Besides two 750 gallon pumpers, they have a 1500 gallon portable tank, a grass fire truck with front sprayers, an emergency truck, and a water tank-er. They are also proud of the ori-ginal firetruck, a 1929 Dodge, that they show in parades.

Much of the equipment the department has, has been purchased through the volunteer's own efforts. The large pumpers were pur-chased by the Control Board, but the volunteers have raised enough money through fish fries and parkmoney through itsi free and parking cars at TVHS athletic games to purchase radios, uniforms, the grass truck, and $800 worth of apparatus for the water truck. They also give out candy on Christmas also give out candy on Christmas Eve, gave watermelons for the Youth League Picnic last summer and sponsored a child in the Spec-ial Olympics.

The 1978 budget for the fire department was set at $11,000, with about one third coming from Men-tone, one third from Harrison Township, and one third from New-castle and Franklin Townships. The three townships, along with Mentone, make up the Mentone Tri-township Fire Control Board. Serving on the Board are Frank Hardesty. Cathesia. Hardesty, Catherine Whetstone, Chester Clampitt Jr., Don Smalley, and Wendell Grass. The Board was formed in 1966, for the purpose of borrowing money to build the new fire station, and new members are elected each year.

The volunteers are allowed a $50 clothing allowance each year, and are given $10 for gas they use in their cars coming to and from town. At the end of the year, they all receive a check for their services depending on how many fires they fought, how many meetings they attended, and so on. This year's allowance averaged out to $1.50 per fire! So it's obvious that they're not doing it for the money!

Akron School chimney stands as monument

by E. Hammond

The Akron High School chimney was constructed along with a new boiler house and gymnasium in the summer of 1926.

Kindig and Sons of Rochester was the contractor and founda-tion work began before school was out.

The height of the chimney was to be 75 feet. Walls at the bottom near 28" thick or 7 courses of brick; the inside course of fire

I, only a lad of 16, removed and distributed all materials around the scaffold. I later rounded out a career in masonry myself.

Each four foot the scaffold was raised by two carpenters assisted by the two mason tenders.

" A MASTERPIECE IN CRAFTSMANSHIP

The scaffold consisted of 4" x 's scabbed end to end rimed with ship lap boards using three nails at the cross as well as at the ends. Two by ten planks for men and materials.

It stands today a work of art reflecting the integrity of the citizens and students in the area it emcompasses as well as those who went on to higher education or to serve their nation elsewhere. Truly our monument in memory and appreciation. A masterpiece in craftsmanship.

Plans underway for January's Hawaii month

Mrs. Hall's Puppet Show will be given to the Akron Lions Senior Citizens December 21. So all you senior citizens mark it on the cal-endar. The Christmas party will be December 22. Bring a home-made, old or antique or other low cost gift for a Christmas Grab Bag.

A site council will be organized on December 21. A coupon box has been added to the Akron Lions Senior Citizens site services Bring your unwanted coupons and #### in the cellar room The old Rag Bag

by Mary Jane Hill

December 14, 1978

The current energy crisis has caused many Americans to realize just what a wasteful nation we have become. Man seems to be by nature an extravagant animal and history has proven that unless man is restricted in some manner he will throw away anything that comes easy.

Many of us can remember the rag bag in the cellar-room. Our elders seldom threw away anything and they used rags in every conceivable manner.

With the first chill of winter, rags were stuffed in door jambs, window casings and any opening that might let in cold air or mice. Winter also brought on colds and the croup. I was blessed with a mother who reverently believed that a rag soaked in kerosene and vicks, and applied to the throad or chest would cure these ailments. The smell was something I'll never forget. A physicological recovery usually occured immedi-ately as I would do anything rather than wear that rag to school.
All those darling little girls pictured in the tin-types did not

Strands of hair were wound a-round rags at bedtime and in the morning the little miss had curls sweet enough to entice some lad into sticking them into an ink well. I've slept on rags, bobby pins, tin curlers and plastic rollers; rags sleep best.

Then, there was the good old hanky, an everyday rag used for blowing the nose. A really good woman saved her hankies for Sunday school. In today's lan-guage, these rags were recycled.

The handkerchiefs were always washed last, after the overalls. The only time I can remember a box of tissues in our home before World War II was the occasion of my brother coming home from the hospital after a tonsillectomy. My parents allowed such extravagance upon the suggestion of our family doctor.

The rag seemed to be invaluable in carpentry repair. It is rare to find an old piece of furniture, especially a chair, that doesn't have a tiny bit of a rag stuck in it somewhere. It wasn't too so-phisticated but it seemed to work.

Clean rags were stored in a drawer or cupboard for bandages. Adhesive tape had gained a place in Next is the long and steep decline into depression and stagnation.

It's happened already in other nations but the signs are ignored. As they used to say during Franklin Roosevelt's administration, who wants to kill Santa Claus?

No one alone. But the people in California, who voted to reduce taxes and spending, started a movement that spread to several states in November.

California has shown that while none among us will rise alone to shoot Santa Claus, the people of a state will act together to stop Santa.

It had to start at the grassroots. People in Sacramento or Indianapolis or Washington will not cut back their own power and their own jobs.

We think Californians started the biggest tea party since Boston, one that won't end until the lid is put on the pot at Washington.

Family Life

By Renee Norlander

It has been over 200 years now that the Declaration of Independence was established in the United States, and for all of those years, we Americans, have lived freely under the guidance of our country's Bill of Rights.

Of course the inequities that many persons in this country have suffered are unjust, and have caused much pain, but basically we all live pretty freely. Our rights to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and to the personal pursuit of happiness are all protected by law. There have been cases where these rights have been denied, but hopefully our judicial system keeps them in check.

Thirty years ago, the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights was established. The Declaration pledges us to promote "universal respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms". The document divides these rights into three categories:

The first is the guarantee of individual rights. We are protected against imprisonment without just cause; we may not be tortured or abducted by the State

* The second is the right for all persons to have the basic needs fulfilled such as food, shelter, health care, and educa-

Third is the right to civil and political liberties. We can think for ourselves, speak freely, buy a newspaper, practice our religion, travel in our country, and object to our govern-

In the United States, these rights are firmly guaranteed in our Bill of Rights, but it is our responsibility, as the Declaration pledges, for us to promote these rights internationally.

When George Washington became the first President of our country, it was the popular feeling at that time, that we only take care of ourselves. We had been through an agonizing war for freedom and we were going to remain out of foreign affairs. Could our ancestors have forgotten so quickly that the French had been our allies in our fight? It wasn't long before we realized that this isolation was from international problems was impossible.

Today, our nation is strong, rich, powerful, and free! And we are truly blessed. However, as we look around, we realize that globally, things are pretty bad. And as President Carter stated in his inaugural address: "Because we are free, we can never be indifferent to the fate of freedom elsewhere.

I for one, strongly support President Carter's push for human rights everywhere. I hate to imagine what it must be like to live where a person's rights are oppressed. To not be able to say what you think and feel. To face imprisonment for nonpopular beliefs. To not be provided with education.

It's important that we fight for human rights everywhere, not just in our own country. And because we are free - we know how wonderful it is. Let's support our government in its efforts to make all men free!

Doin Smoker: wood craftsman

by Carolyn Ramsey

A rural farm is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doin Smoker. Mr. Smoker is a retired farmer, who has now had a wood hobby for about the last five years. He has made easels (of all sizes), picture frames, pool tables, a gun rack, wood boxes, and two family cradles. Most of the wood Mr. Smoker uses is old scrap wood he has on the farm, or the farm where he grew up as a child. He's also been given wood from friends and relatives.

"I've made two picture frames

"I've made two picture frames from the original wood taken from a pole building on the farm where I grew up as a child. The wood may not be expensive, but I can't put a price on the scntimental value," he said.

VALLEY PEOPLE

Along with other picture frames, Mr. Smoker has made all sizes of easels. He's used many for his own use, and also sold quite a few of them.

"My son-in-law, who lives in Celina, Ohio, has sold some of my picture frames and easels in hardware stores. He told me people really love hand made items," he

Mr. Smoker has also made regulation size pool tables. He played pool at his son's home, and decided he'd like to make one for himself. He looked through catalogs until he found one he'd like to make. He started the table by cutting the pieces in one of his sheds, and then taking them into the room where he wanted the table. He then put the table together, added the finishing touches. He found that balancing the pool table one of the hardest parts.

"I used walnut wood I already had here on the farm. I worked on it whenever I wanted, so it took about six months to finish," he commented.

Mr. and Mrs. Smoker have a Ben Franklin fireplace in their home, and they needed someplace to store wood. Mr. Smoker got out the catalogs to get an idea how to make a wood box. He saw pictures of a Decon's bench the size and shape he wanted.

"My grandson gave me some old scrap wood to use. I like the looks of the Decon's bench, so I made my wood box similar to it," he

THE PICTURE frame in this picture, was made by Mr. Smoker from wood taken from a building where he grew up as a child.

Mr. Smoker's talent doesn't stop with the picture frames, or the wood box, not even the pool table. He's also made a gun rack. His father had given him two guns, and he needed something to hold

"I looked at some pictures until I got an idea how they should be made. I used some scrap walnut wood from the farm, and now I've got my father's guns displayed on a gun rack," he explained. Mr. Smoker's greatest handiwork has to be in the two family cradles he's made. He decided he wanted to make them with the understanding they will be passed down to each newborn child. They don't belong to one individual but to eacn child born into the Smoker family. Mr. Smoker had a plaque made and inscribed "Grandpa Smoker, 1976", placed on the one cradle, and on the other "Grandpa Smoker, 1977".

Mr. Smoker used white oak wood from his farm. He's made each cradle so it can be taken apart and moved easily. The cradle stands on a hanger so it can rock back and forth. Mr. Smoker hopes the cradles will be passed down for years to come. In fact, I would say you could call the cradles a family heirloom.

"I have to admit, the cradles, are my pride and joy," he replied.

"...wood may not be expensive, but I can't put a price on the sentimental value..."

MR. SMOKER used walnut wood to make this pool table, which took about six months to complete.

"I have to admit, the cradles are my pride and joy,"

Rochester downed Valley 61 - 59

Tippecanoe Valley varsity's defeat didn't come easy, as the played an away game recently at Rochester.

Valley battled against the Zebras in the first quarter before Rochester totaled a 18-13 score.

As the second quarter got under way, Scott Tilden canned a fielder and Coplen put the rebound back in. Things went well for the Vikes, matching the score 18-18, and on to a lead of 20-19. The Zebras got worried and stepped in to bring the second quarter to 34-26, in their favor.

The third quarter Valley showed they weren't giving up, Valley still trailed 36-34, but they were closing in.

Rochester though, not ready to be defeated, got a short scoring spurt, closing the third quarter in their favor, 49-42.

The fourth quarter, Secrist laid up a shot, bringing the score 57-54. The Zebras closed in with a winning score of 61-59.

Volunteer firemen...

One point that all of the men stressed over and over was that people give an accurate location of a fire when they call for help. Too many times, they said, people are so excited when they call that they hang up before the firemen get a good description of the type of fire or where it's at. And they waste valuable time looking for the fires.

They also explained that there is no dispatcher for the department, and twenty-two phones ring when a call is made to report a fire. It's understandable then, why they don't want people calling the fire number for information.

In all honesty, I would have to say that the department is great, say that the depetatment is great, and I think the people in our area should be very thankful for the services rendered. (The department does accept donations!!) We are fortunate to have such a well equipped force, and very fortunate for such dedications! for such dedications!

The Fulton County Soil and Water Conservation District will provide a no-tillage planter to lo-cal farmers interested in trying no-tillage management during the 1979 cropping season.

District Supervisors feel many of our farms are well adapted to minimum or no-tillage management systems, but local experience for handling this kind of cropping management is lacking. Charles Fear, vice chairman of the County SWCD, said, "local farmers do not want to gamble with major invest-ments needed to convert management systems; especially when they are not sure if it will work for them."

Joe Kroft, Akron, says, "A demonstration program is needed to evaluate advantages or disad-vantages this concept may have for local conditions". A lack of personal experience and know-ledge is certainly a handicap in making management decisions.

Joe, who will be assisting farmers with the no tillage plots, added efficiency of our farmers have improved dramatically the last 20 years, but most are not satisfied. Surveys by the USDA indicates a definite trend to no tillage systems, and predictions indicate that by the year 2,000 nearly 50% of our cropland would be planted by no till methods.

"a good demonstration program will enable farmers to gain valuable experience"

The purpose for giving this test is to gain a better understanding of what are each child's strengths and weaknesses. The test measures each child's achievement level. Your child is compared to other children from across the nation who have taken this test. The test results can be used by teachers to see where students need additional help.

Cold weather

precautions may

save your life

Picture this: It's cold, very cold. All of a sudden, you realize that t is getting cold inside the house, too. You have no heat. Would you know what to do to protect yourself and your house?

One way to stretch your budget so you will be sure you have enough fuel to last the winter is to turn the heat down. Dressed warmly, most people can tolerate 65 degrees during the day and 55 at night. However, some people 65 or over may have special problems with cooler temperatures. If you have a circulatory disease, or you are taking certain medicines, or you have hypothermia, a disease of the body's temperature regulating system, check with your doctor before you lower your thermostat.

If the heat should go off, it is important to have emergency heating equipment. A fireplace and plenty of wood is perfect. But you can get by with a small camp stove, as long as you have ventilation.

If you insulate your water pipes now, they will be protected from freezing should the heat go off. If you are without heat, and the temperature around the pipes is approaching freezing, let the faucets drip to keep the water moving. That way it is less likely to

To keep yourself warm in the unheated house, wear several layers of clothes for extra warmth. Since the body loses between half and three-quarters of its heat through the head, wear a warm hat-even in the house and especially when you are sleeping in an unheated house. And use several blankets for sleeping rather than one heated one. The air trapped between them is excellent insulation.

When you are going outside in cold weather, dress in loose-fitting, layered clothes. If they get wet, change them as quickly as possible. And don't have an alcoholic drink to warm up. You may feel warmer, but alcohol actually makes your body lose heat even faster.

If you are trapped in your car by a blizzard, stay put. You are much more likely to be spotted in your car than wandering around on your own. Cold weather puts a strain on your heart. So if the car is really stuck, leave it. Pushing the car, digging heavy snow, or trying to do other heavy work in the bitter cold of a blizzard could bring on a heart attack even for people who are in apparently good condition. Use the heater and motor sparingly, making sure the tail pipe isn't blocked. And always keep a window away from the wind slightly open, even when the motor is off. Finally, at night, keep watch and turn on the car's interior light to make the car more visible to work crews.

Harrell, almost $5 million has been paid out by the corporation this vear. He also asked the trustees to note that effective November 15, payroll is now on computer. Net payroll for November 15 was $59,978.61, and net for Nov. 30 was $55,559.06.

Upon the recommendation of Dr. Harrell, the Board agreed to begin the procedure of buying nine new school busses for the corporation. Harrell explained that it is the State's recommendation that no school busses in a system be over 10 years old, and with the time of acquiring new ones at least one year, Harrell re-commended that the Board begin procedures now.

There was considerable hesitation on the part of the trustees, due to the fact that the Corporation will become a controlled corporation under the Property Tax Control Board because General Obligation Bonds must be obtained to buy the busses. The controlled situation would exist only until the Bonds he corporation at this time owns 31 busses, and nine of them are at least eight to nine years old. With the purchase of nine new ones,

Board president Con Shewman es-approximately 16 to 17 thousand dollars. With $32,000 available in the general fund for the purchase, Harrell explained that there would be no way possible to purchase them outright. After considerable discussion of the pros and cons of buying over four years, and selling bonds, the Board finally agreed on a motion made by Vernon Meredith and seconded by Don Snipes to accept Harrell's recommendation to begin the procedure on buying nine.

The Board learned that Dr. Harrell has received word from the State Board of Accounts that they are very pleased with last month's decision by the trustees to discontinue payment of mileage for extra-curricular activities from the general fund. There was no discussion of the Boards plans for raising money for these activities in the future.

Due to the number of athletes that are out for track, and due to the number of track events, Dr. Harrell asked for the Boards approval of hiring a second assistant track coach for the upcoming season. He explained that if the pattern runs true to form, forty to sixty athletes will be involved in track and field this year, and a second assistant coach is really needed. Full Board approval was given for choosing someone to fill the position.

In other action:

*Dr. Harrell reported that the Future Farmers of America (FFA) at the high school reported a profit of $1609.70 from the corn project they had this year on the eleven acres of land near TVHS. The Corporation provides the land for the FFA, and will receive $475.60 of the profits in return.

*The water drainage problem at the Mentone Building site is still being investigated. Harrell reported that requests to sell three of the School Corporations lots on the site have been made, but he feels the water problem should be solved first. The trustees agreed.

*A special meeting was scheduled for January 3 at the TVHS lecture room to make the transfer of ap-propriations where needed. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m., and is open to the public.

*Permission was granted to the Akron and Mentone ele: ientary schools to have intramural basketball for sixth grade girls on Saturday mornings. The girls will have 4 practice sessions, and two games, with one at Akron and one at Mentone. Brett Boggs was approved as coach at Akron, and Bill Leininger at Mentone.

The next regular session of the Board is scheduled for January 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Mentone

8,000 lost lives in December '77 accidents

Accidents never take a holiday. In fact, they work overtime during the holiday seasons.

Indication of this is the fact that nearly 8,000 people lost their lives as a result of accidents in the United States during December 1977. Automobile accidents alone claimed the lives of approximately 3,600 with falls and fires also contributing to a significant number of deaths. In addition to lost lives, many thousands more were per-manently disabled due to holiday accidents.

Purdue University extension safety specialist, "that during the season of the year when we promote joy, goodwill and cappiness that we also have numerous tragedies. Ac-cidents often leave scars that mar Christmastime for many for years

So be especially cautious during the holidays ahead and urge your loved ones and friends to do likewise, says Field.

If you are traveling to visit friends and relatives, leave plenty of time to get there. Be alert for traveler's advisories, and make sure your car is in good running order. Drive defensively and don't forget to buckle up no matter ow short the trip is.

Statistics indicate that more than a third of the victims of fatal mo-tor vehicle accidents will be bete ween 15 and 24 years of age. And, according to special studies, drinking is indicated to be a factor in at least half of all fatal motor-vehicle accidents. Regardless of how worn out the warning may sound, says Field, the fact is, drinking and driving are not compatible under any circumstance.

Celebrating Christmas in the se-curity of your home also requires a few extra precautions. Fire safe-ty should be given a high priority by all family members. Field recommends that all special lighting carry the "U.L." label and be thoroughly checked for damage before installation. Christmas tree lights and outside decorative lighting should be unplugged before the family goes to bed.

Fireplaces and woodburning stoves should also be used with the utmost care. Christmas trees, decorations and Christmas morning wrappings should be kept well out of reach of any spark which might pop out of the fireplace.

Leaving youngsters alone, even for a brief time, is another risk Field suggests is too great for any family to take. If sitters are hired during the holidays, let them know where you can be reached and make sure emergency phone num-bers are clearly posted near the

With the holidays almost upon us we thought we'd reprint a Christmas form letter we received a couple of years ago from a newspaper association. It's a fun letter to read and I hope you agree.

Hi Folks!

It's time for our Christmas letter again and this has been a wonderful year at our household.

The baby - what's his name -- is teething. Dad sure was surprised to see him when he got out of the hospital. He bites anything he gets his hands on. The neighbor's cat won't come near him anymore since he ate half of one of her kittens. Goodness, but they were upset over that! And for no reason either. It wouldn't happen if they would have her taken care of - we say. He really is a sweet child and fun to hold - if you are careful.

Have any of you seen junior? It's gotten to be quite a joke around the house. It seems that he really meant it when he left this time in September. You know how it goes - we were exchanging views one evening and he left - saying it was for good. We can't understand it, both the police and the welfare worker say they weren't looking for him at the time. If he turns up at any of your homes - be nice to him and say hello but don't, under any circumstances, give him money to come home with.

We'd love to have you all come and see us this year. If you do, be sure to bring plenty of food - times are hard you know, and your own sleeping bags. We could put you up better, but Dad was doing some social drinking one night and lost and bedroom set and all the kitchen chairs in a bet on whether Eisenhower had been a General or an Admiral. He'd better not do that again - the louse!

In June we went to Yellowstone Park and camped there. We saw the Nelsons and weren't we surprised! They said they saw Pat and Evelyn and Shirley and Tiny's place. They told us all about Charles and Dorothy and their new house and Bill's new business. They wanted us to say hello to Maud. Hi! Maud!

That's all for now. We'll write again next year. It's bound to be an interesting one. We're all in good health - but Dad keeps peeking out the windows and seems very jumpy. He's probably nervous over foreign affairs. He's so public spirited. If things don't pick up in work here, we'll have to go calling, so we might be s

Is this season as jolly as past holidays?

by Carolyn Ramsey

Tis this the season to be jolly? For many that might be no, for some of us ves.

For the tikes, its the time to hang their stockings and to make their list for Santa, making sure they tell him they have been aw ful good this year.

For teenagers, it can mean a special gift they have been wanting, or giving a special gift. Their excitement is just as great as the tikes, may be not as mystical, but they are just as excited with anticipation

For the family separated with miles between them, its the chance to come home and see everyone, if only for a day or two. Everyone full of joy and closeness. They've got so much to say and yet so little time, but they are all together. Naturally all the giddishiness comes back like a youngster.

This year though, I haven't seen too much excitement. A lot of complaining about prices, so many gifts but so little money. Everyone rushing around, grumbling about the upcoming holiday.

One of the complaints I hear so often is "I've got to go to my families dinner on Christmas" or "I've got to get dinner for all of my family

The whole time we are complaining we forget about the yuletide cheer, and the closeness of Christmas. We are so lucky to have a family to share with. There are many people who spend Christmas with a TV dinner and possibly a faithful pet.

I know we are not to blame for people we don't know, having to spend the holidays alone, but many of us are guilty of not going to see someone we know, that going to be alone and hoping maybe we'll drop

Sure its depressing to go see someone who doesn't have a big dinner planned, or tree, or any gifts. Really though, all it would take is a fifteen minute visit and the dinner, tree, and presents really wouldn't be that important.

When it comes right down to it we're pretty selfish, and one of the biggest joys of Christmas is sharing, not with gifts, but with love.

I remember when I was about five years old, I would be awake

Christmas Eve waiting to hear Santa, I'd start getting worrled that he wouldn't come and leave me any gifts. Sure I was selfish, but I only a kid. I have no excuse for a year when I wanted a certain gift and I didn't get it, but now I realize how very lucky I've been. I've had a family to share my holidays with. A family that loves and cares about me. My family has given me the best gift of love.

I know I can't go out and change the world, or spend time with all the lonely people on Christmas, but maybe I can remind a few people that it only takes a few minutes to stop and say "Merry Christmas". If you can't take the time for a visit, maybe you could make a call, or mail a card, it only takes a few cents. Maybe its not worth it, but then maybe you should ask yourself "tis it the season to be jolly

Christmas similar around the world

People from all cultures give this greatest of Holy Days its meaning in rich traditions. Christmas around the world is similar in one respect—it is the celebration of the birth of Christ.

One of the most beautiful celebrations of Christmas is offered in Poland. When the first star is sighted in the evening on December 24, the Fast Day is ended and the family gathers around the table for Christmas supper. Barn straw is placed under the table, dishes, and table cloth, and one chair is left for the Christ Child. A "Peace Wafer", received from a priest and given to the head of the family to break and share with the family, symbolizes peace on earth. While eating the wafer, the family and guests exchange wishes for the guests exchange wisnes for the coming year. A very old custom, called "The Five Piles of Grain", takes place at midnight in Russia. A sleeping hen is quickly taken from its roost and brought to the kitchen. On the floor are five separate piles of grain, each representing the five fates:

Wealth, Poverty, Death, Marriage and a life of Single Blessedness. The hen is still sleepy when put on the floor in the five piles of grain, and its drowiness causes great laugh-begins to eat, pecking at the piles one by one to determine the fate of the family. It has been difficult for Russia to keep many of its Christmas traditions, but the family reunions for the children still re-

Following the parade there is a feast, with danc-ing and music provided for the remainder of the day. They do not have Christmas trees, but their homes are decorated lavishly with flags, bunting, palms and many flowers. A candle is also left burning all night, and on Christ-mas Day the celebrations are brought to a close with the last chime of the church bells.

SANTA CLAUS was in Akron Saturday to greet children and hear their Christmas lists and hopes. Little Brandon Williams, above, didn't say to much, however he was mighty glad to receive a surprise from Santa. Santa was "assisted" again this year by helper Larry Howard.

Merry Molly's homemakers met

by Virginia Romine, Secretary

Twenty-two members of the Merry Mollys Extension Home-makers Club met at the home of Mrs. Marion Smith for their annual Christmas party. The home was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season, and the napkin holders contained next years secret pal. The committee in charge of the carry-in dinner was Johanna Peters, Aretha Stiffler and Eva Belle Smith.

After a short business meeting, Santa appeared and passed out the gifts from the beautiful tree. Each gift revealed last years secret pal. The evening was spent in playing fifty-fifty. As each guest departed she was presented with a beautiful poinsettia plant.

The January meeting will be at the country home of Mrs. Carl Whetstone with Lea Hudson as co-hostess.

Yesterday's toys retain popularity

Toys, dolls and games for the children have always ranked high on the gift lists and exchanging gifts as Christmas is one of the most time-honored of customs.

In the not-so-long-ago, however, just one important present - a doll for a little girl, perhaps, and a toy accordian for the boy - was all that youngsters might expect at Christ-

Santa is more bountiful these days but the gifts he brings are like those of yesteryear in at least one way. They reflect the interests and fashions of their times.

Dalls, yesterday and today, dress in the favorite styles of the moment. Toys, too, show the influence of current events.

Toy racing cars, for instance, came in with the automobile, while today more complex types of wheel toys take advantage of modern technological developments.

Greetings.

Sincere wishes for a most successful New Year. Thanks for your patronage.

Christmas hymns have varied origins

O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM

A young clergyman named Phillips Brooks wrote the poem for this carol, basing it on his memory to the Holy Land one Christmas. The children of his Sunday School so loved the poem that they asked Lewis Redner, the organist, to write music for it. Legend has it that Mr. Redner promised to write the music within a week, but after several days had not yet composed a note. He awakened during a night and sensed a melody running through his mind and leapt from his bed to write it down. Next morning the song was presented to the Sunday School. The church was that of the Holy Trinity in Philadelphia, and the year was 1868.

O COME, ALL YE FAITHFUL (ADESTE FIDELES)

This is one of the oldest bymns in the Christmas service, the first manuscript known to scholars dating from 1751, although the melody is in fact much older. The translation of the Latin words now used in English-speaking countries was made in 1852.

One of the most famous stories of all time surrounds the composition of this beautiful carol. It was written on Christmas Eve, 1818 in the village of Oberndorf, Bavaria. The church organ had broken down, and organist Franz Gruber and vicar Joseph Mohr wanted music for the holiday services. Accordingly, Gruber wrote the music and Mohr the verses, and the carol was first heard the next day in a three-part arrangement, accompanied by a guitar.

THE FIRST NOEL

This carol is believed to be of French origin, probably about 1500, although no one is really certain. Sometimes "Noel" is used, sometimes "Nowell" in the old English usage. Europe knew the song in the seventeenth century, but it made its first known appearance in print in 1883.

JOY TO THE WORLD:

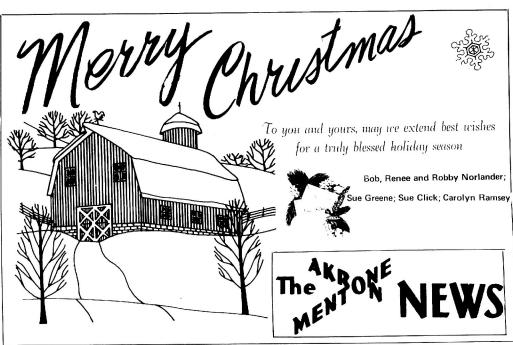

Lowell Mason arranged the music for this carol in 1830, using a theme from the "Intioch" portion of Handel's Messiah The words were written in 1719 by Isaac Watts, who did not intend them to apply to any special part of the church calendar.

HARK! THE HERALD ANGELS SING

The words to this carol came before the music. They were written in 1793 by Charles Wesley, brother of the founder of the Methodist church. One hundred and one years later, the melody appeared in a cantata by Felix Mendelssohn. The, fifteen years after that, the words and music were joined by Dr. W. H. Cummings, then organist of Waltham Abbey in England. It was presented for the first time on Christmas Day 1885.

Family Life

By Renee Norlander

I have to admit that I am not a snow lover, but I am getting concerned over whether or not we're going to have a "White Christmas". It will be a little difficult to sing the song on Christmas Eve if I look outside and see bare trees and dead grass.

I can't remember a single time that I've really wanted it to snow, but I hope by Sunday morning the world is brilliantly colored with white. It just won't be Christmas

I've never been able to figure out how people out west and down south get into the spirit without snow. How can you go carolling in 70 degree weather? And what do the kids do with their sleds that Grandma and Grandpa sent from Indiana?

I don't know; it just doesn't seem like it could possibly be as nice a holiday without snow. So - keep your fingers crossed. We're all "dreaming" of a white Christmas! Maybe Mother Nature will cooperate!

(I want it to melt on Tuesday!!)

I hope all of you will enjoy a blessed and happy holiday, and I pray that every child will receive the gifts he truly wants. And let's all remember, amid the gifts and food, why we are celebrating this day.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all of you!

Check Christmas lights for safe holidays

Be sure the lights on your Christmas tree are in good condition, caution Extension engineers at Purdue University. Check the strings for broken, cracked, frayed or brittle insulation. Also inspect wires at the lamp bases and plug ends. If you can see bare wire or exposed metal screw shells on the outside of the sockets, throw the set away. It is also wise to check lamp sockets and cord plugs.

The origin of Christmas card giving remains a mystery

Americans exchange billions of Christmas cards every year. There are conflicting reports on who sent the first one, however.

According to one source, John Calcott Horsley designed the first card for Sir Henry Cole in 1843. It is a triptych, the center panel of which shows a well fed family at which shows a well fed family at the table. They raise their glasses to toast, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year To You." Flank-ing them in the end panels are the poor and the hungry. According to another source, the origin of this custom is sometimes ascribed to the English Royal Aca-

HERE IS A YOUNG MAN who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was 30, and then for three years be was an itherant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never put his foot inside a big city. He never traveled 200 miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

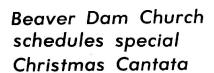

While he was still a young man, the tide of private opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. While he was dying his executuoners cambled for the only piece of property he had on executoners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth, and that was his coat. When he was dead, he was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race and the leader of the column of progress.

I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that were ever built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned put together, have not affected the life of man upon this earth as has that One Solitary Life.

This Sunday during the morning worship at 9:30 a.m. at the Beaver Dam United Methodist Church, a Dam United Methodist Church, a special Christmas Cantata, entitled "Night of Miracles", will be presented. Directed by Mrs. Miles Huffman, featured soloists will be Mrs. Vicky Harrold and Mike Raymar. Mrs. Wayne Smalley will be accompanist.

On Sunday evening at 7 p.m. the candlelight services will fea-ture services of music and verse. Bonnie Whittenberger, Vicky Harnors will be the featured soloists. Accompanists will be Mrs. Ed Bucher, Mrs. Jay Swick and Mrs. Mitchel Tucker.

The junior department of the Sunday School will also participate. Supervisors for the junior group are Mrs. Con Shewman, Alice Balmer, Mrs. Dan Quinlan, Janice Feldman, and Judy Feld-man. The service will end with

Christmas recipe for happiness

Take a quart of joy and gladness, A peck of folk and kin -A dash of Christmas spirit And toss some laughter in. Take a large amount of giving, And spread it generously; Read directions in the Good Book And apply them carefully. Garnish well with human kindness, On crystal leaves of cheer,
And you'll have a batch of Christ-

To last the coming year.

What to do with Christmas plant

Now that you have a beautiful Christmas poinsettia, begonia or azalea - how are you going to care

Unwrap the plant and be sure there is a drain hole in the bottom of the pot. Put the potted plant in a saucer that will hold water. Place the plant in a draftfree place where it will get plenty of light. Water the plant when the soil feels dry, with room temperature water. Let the water stand in the saucer no more than a half hour before emptving it.

If possible, the plant should be in a cooler place, 60 degrees at night, and at room temperature (70 to 75 degrees) during the day.

The south or southwest window away from radiators or any source of heat is the best place for the plant in the winter.

Holly: A Christmas tradition that dates back years

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without a touch of holly around the house or in a wreath.

Holly's association with the Christmas season dates back seve-ral centuries. Early man dwelt in places where holly grew abundantly; therefore, it was one of the first trees used in pagan worship. From a pagan item of worship, holly--through legends and songs--gradually became a Christian symbol at Christmastime.

"There are several varieties of holly," explains John A. Wott, Purdue University extension home environment horticulturist. "Most often used as Christmas decorations orten used as Christmas accoration are the English and American types," he adds, "but Japanese, Chinese and deciduous varieties are also known."

English holly orginated as seedlings so long ago its exact origins are unknown. Many plants are found in woodlands throughout Tound in woodlands throughout Europe. It comes from an ever-green tree that sometimes reaches 82 feet in height. The leaves are elliptical, glossy and green, with strongly developed spines. In the spring the tree produces tiny, slightly scented flowers.

A native plant, most American holly comes from the Pacific Northwest where it grows well.

Occasionally, it can be found in southern Indiana. There are many varieties or selections of the American species now in existence, says Wott. Some of the more popular Christmastime varieties are Cape Cod, Christmas Hedge and Christmas Spray.

At Christmastime, holly most of-ten finds its use in wreaths hung on doors and in windows. But it is also used in yuletime floral arrange-ments and as decoration inside the home. Wreaths made from Holly will remain attractive longer if kept in a cool place. Holly arrangements may be watered but also need cool temperatures for longer use. Although the berries may shrivel, they will retain their color if kept cool.

Some homeowners have used holly in their landscape planting. For berry production, two plants are needed-a male and female. Insects will transfer the pollen. Since the male plant produces no berries, it can be placed in a more inconspi-cuous location, if desired.

Holly should be planted in the early spring before growth starts, says the horticulturist. Select a well-drained site that will allow the plant to develop a full shape. Since holly plants prefer acid soil, most Indiana soils should be checked for acidity before planting. Holly trees need little pruning except to train branches or remove dead, diseased, or damaged branches. Dormant season pruning is usually recommended, so pruning at Christmastime is ideal.

If you're a holly fan, consider growing your own supply.

Christmas gift idea

Tools make useful gifts, remind Extension agricultural engineers at Purdue University. Wrenches, screwdrivers, a good pair of pliers, or a new hammer are only a few common hand tools that find a multitude of uses around the home. Keep these in mind as you Christ-mas shop. Power tools are also welcomed gifts for the more ex-perienced workman.

Board president, Ron Fenimore, opened the December 19 meeting at 7:45 p.m. and requested Ernest Smith, Clerk, to read the minutes of the November 21, 1978 meeting. The minutes were read and Garlen Sparks, town foreman, and Ed Hauser, marshal, brought up the subject of a pension plan for the town employees. This trigger ed a lengthly discussion. Town clerk, Ernest Smith, advised the members of the meeting of all information which had been received from P.E.R.F. in regards to the cost of the pension program, which would amount to approxi-mately $9,000 per year. Clerk Smith said it was impossible to go Smith said it was impossible to go into the program on the 1979 budget, as the money is not available. Board member, Vernon Waymire, is to investigate other programs that might be available.

Vernon Waymire made a motion that consideration be given to enrolling in a pension program when preparing the 1980 budget. The motion was seconded by Charles Miller, and passed.

Town clerk advised the board that Gary Evers of the Ouabache Regional Development Commission had been in Akron on December 6, 1978 to discuss the possibility of filing a pre-application for a HUD Block Grant for sidewalks and a new sewer line.

A motion was made by Vernon Waymire, and seconded by Chas. Miller that the board approve the pre-application. Motion passed. A motion was made by Vernon Waymire and seconded by Chas. Miller to pay an extra four hours per day to Deputy Marshal Chas. Clawson during the week of Dec. 25, 1978, while he assumes the duties of Marshal Ed Hauser who will be on vacation. Motion passed.

A discussion was held regarding the need of the third man on the town crew. Mr. Sparks advised the board that without the third man, board that without the third man they would probably have to dis-continue the town trash pick up. A motion was made by Vernon Waymire and seconded by Chas. Miller that the third man, Mr. Swihart, be kept on for at least 90 days, starting Jan. 1, 1979, and then determine how it would effect the 1979 budget. Mr. Swi-hart had been terminated from the CETA payroll on October 31. 1978. The motion passed.

Ernest Smith, clerk, advised the board regarding a proposal for a new life insurance program. The new program would provide $5000 life insurance coverage instead of $2,500 per employee. The overall cost would be less than $5 per month. Board President Fenimore made a motion that the board accept the new plan, motion was seconded by Vernon Waymire. It was

Clerk Smith reported that the citizens living in the new Saner addi-tion had inquired about house numbers. It was said that it would be checked on and house numbers would be assigned.

Town Clerk reported to the board that Byron Leininger had been told by the State Board of Health that he had to clean up the effluent from the locker plant. Mr. Leininger is investigating different ways to accomplish the matter.

A discussion was held regarding rental fees for all industrial hydrants. An application for new fees was to be prepared by Jesse Brown, Town Attorney. Ron Fenimore is to check with Mr. Brown to see if it has been done.

The town board was told by Ernest Smith, clerk, that Charles Clawson had inquired about a pair of flashing red lights for the back window of the police car. Marshal Hauser is going to check on the matter. Marshal Ed Hauser presented his police report for the period of November 21 to December 19, 1978. That concluded the business of the meeting. The bills were approved and the meeting adjourned at 10:15 p.m.

Accident claims life of Silver Lake man

by Renee Norlander

A tragic three-vehicle accident A tragic three-vehicle accident at the west edge of Mentone, on State Road 25, claimed the life of 1. (Irvin) Joe Leckrone, of R. 1, Silver Lake, at approximately 2: 50 p.m. on Friday, December 22. Leckrone, age 65, was pronounced dead on arrival at Kosciusko Community Heavitel 4: 238 p.m.

Community Hospital at 3:28 p.m. by County Coroner Kenneth Wyman. Multiple internal injuries were reported as the cause of death.

According to County Patrolman Roger Fellows, the accident occurwhen Leckrone, who was drivred when Leckrone, who was driving a ditch digger east on State Road 25, was struck by a pickup truck driven by Jerry Lee Honeycutt, age 28, of R. R. 1, Akron.

An eyewitness to the accident re ported that Leckrone had just turned east onto 25 when two veing 130 feet, the Honeycutt truck then slammed into the rear of the ditch digger that Leckrone was

It was not determined at first who the driver of the pickup truck was, but police have since learned, upon investigation, that Honeycutt was the driver. All of the victims in the accident had been moved to an ambulance and taken to the hospital before police arrived at the

Castro Candido Cordero, age 42. of Juanajuato, Mexico, a passenger in Honeycutt's vehicle, received bumps and contusions on his head, and Honeycutt suffered facial bruises and cuts as a result of the accident

Fellows reported that Miller was not injured, however he was book-ed at the Kosciusko County Jail on charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating beverages and public intoxication. Bond was set at $100.

Estimated damage to the Miller auto was $150; to the Honeycutt auto, owned by Brenda L. Honeycutt, was $3500; and to the ditch digger, owned by Leckrone, was $500.

No arrests have been made at this time in connection with the cause of the accident, but speed cause of the accident, but speed has been determined to have been a contributing factor, according to assisting officer Earl Beattie, Mentone Marshal. Police will continue to investigate the fatal accident. Also assisting Fellows, is Tom Kitch, County Police Captain.

Greatest goal -"to be a writer"

by Carolyn Ramsey

Hi. I would like to introduce myself and to tell you a little bit about

On August 18, 1958 Mr. and Mrs. On August 18, 1938 Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey became the parents of a daughter, whom they named Carolyn Jo Ramsey, (thats me). I was lucky enough to already have an older sister and two brothers, and fortunate enough in later years to be an older sister of mother two sisters and brothers

I grew up on a farm near Akron. My father is a farmer and has his own building service. My mother has had a full time job helping my dad, and raising eight kids.

As I was growing up I belonged to Girl Scouts and 4-H. I went to Akron Schools and Tippecanoe Valley High School. I didn't really major in any special subjects, but I enjoyed English. I like to write, and I have written a couple short stories and shoe boxes full of poems. My greatest goal I hope to achieve is to become a writer.

I graduated from TVHS in 1976. I've worked as a car hop, soda jerk, New Feature Writer: Carolyn Ramsey and as a factory worker. I can't say I didn't enjoy those jobs, but as I've told you, I want to become a writer and I can't think of a better place to start than at this paper as a feature writer. Wish me luck, and look out I may be calling on you for a story.

The staff and I would like to wish you a Happy New Year, and to take this opportunity to thank you for letting us serve you over the past year. We hope you have enjoyed the paper, and continue to, over the up-coming year.

Our New Year's resolution is to try to make the paper more enjoyable for our readers. We hope to have some type of news that will interest each individual.

Let us hope the New Year is better than last year and that each of us takes one step forward and none backwards. There will be obstacles in each of our paths, but maybe none too big to work around. If we all work together, there should be nothing we can't accomplish.

May 1979 be a good and happy year for each and everyone of us. Happy New Year!!

Letters to the Editor

Support the Heart Assoc.

TO THE EDITOR:

Although February is commonly known as Heart month we are aknown as Heart month we are a-gain beginning our campaign in January having divided it into two parts as we did last year. During the last two full weeks in January beginning with the 14th and end-ing with the 28th calls will be made on our business and commercial friends. To the wives of our busifriends. To the wives of our business and professional men and manufacturing executive I would like to make a special appeal. Af-ter reading this please bring it to the attention of your husband. We want to give everyone ample time to consider their gift very carefully and have their check ready when our volunteer calls at the office or place of business. If home offices need to be contacted for your contribution please do so as soon as you are visited or better still as soon as you read this article. It has been said "Time is money" and we don't want our solicitors to make more than one call unless it is necessary wasting your and his or her time

We want to thank you Mr. or Mrs. Merchant, Doctor, Dentist,

Attorney, Real Estate Agent and Business Executive for the support we know you will give us. Remem-ber time loss whether it be short or permanent means loss of revenue for any type of business, be it manufacturing, wholesale or retail. Help us help you by educating peo-ple to better care for their wonder-ful and delicately made bodies. Support your heart association as we are working to save your life. Parking lot to replace historical building

Reverend Bob Heckman, of the Mentone United Methodist Church, has announced that the church has purchased the above pictured build-ing, located next to the church on Main Street in Mentone, effective December 21, 1978.

Purchased from Vincent Goodman, of Mentone, the building has been empty for approximately seven years, and was most recently used as a laundromat.

The building, which was moved to Mentone when the first railroad came through, was originally situated at "Little Chicago" where the first settlement here was started.

According to Harry Sullivan, city water supervisor, that is approximately where the Harold Lucht residence now sits, at County Road 1200 West. The building at one time belonged to the uncle of Rosalind and Annabelle Ment-zger, E. A. Blue. Mr. Blue operated a general store in the building.

According to Rev. Heckman, the church plans to tear the building down, and build a parking lot. It is not known yet if the lot will be open to the public, but hopefully the work will be finished by spring, according to Heckman.

cheted a king size bedspread. She used a popcorn stitch, so that a colored bottom piece of material can show thru. It took 130 squares to complete the bedspread, which took a year to make.

"I want the bedspread to be passed down thru generations, so I asked my mother, who is 70 years old, to crochet fifteen of the squares," she replied.

Family Life

By Renee Norlander

I received this copy a few days ago, and because I believe in what Michael F. Wendland of the Detoit News has written, I decided to publish it as a guest editorial. You may or may not agree with Mr. Wendland, but I hope you'll read this column.

Guest Editorial by Michael F. Wendland of the Detroit News

We were up North the other weekend, in the woods of Ogemaw County. It was one of those glorious early autumn weekends. The sugar maples were just starting to turn, the sky was blue, the air crisp. Then we saw it - a deer blind.

Archery season is under way now. In a few weeks, rifle season opens. As many as a million Michigan people take part in the annual hunt. I used to be one of them. I've killed deer, duck, rabbit, pheasant and all sorts of other animals, but I quit when I had trouble explaining to my 11-year-old daughter how hunting was a sport.

And I remembered how beautiful the animals were. I now also realize that the prohunting claims from the $2 billion-a-year hunting industry make little, if any, sense.

It's not just deer. Even the animals that hunters call varmints - rabbits, racoons, squirrels - are being blown away in the state's forests. My family and I tramp through the woods almost every weekend, and we delight when our camp is "raided" by a couple of racoons at night.

A couple of Sundays ago, a short item appeared in a Detroit newspaper offering instructions on how to bag squirrels. Since squirrels are not nocturnal beasts and like to sleep at night, the hunter gets to the woods before sunrise and patiently waits for the animal to wake up. Then, when the squirrel pokes its head out of its nest, it's an easy kill, so the story advised.

The morning the story appeared we were up North. The treetop chatter of the squirrels stirred us out of our sleep. The forest is their home, not ours, and we were grateful to share it with them. To us, they are animals, not varmints.

to share it with them. To us, they are animals, not varmints. Hunters don't like to use the term "kill" they "harvest" animals. They also call them "game", explaining that what they are really doing is sparing the animals a cruel death from starvation by keeping the populations in line.

*Fact: Biologists and others who study animal behavior have filled volumes establishing that animal populations are a direct result of habitat.

*Fact: In Michigan, the Department of Natural Resources has cleared trees from hundreds of thousands of acres of woodland for the express purpose of creating new growth near the ground, where deer can easily browse. Thus, the lush new browse terrain creates larger deer populations.

*Conclusion: It seems, therefore, we artifically create large deer herds for the sole purpose of slaughtering them.

I've sold by guns and replaced them with a camera and a long lens. On our most recent trip into the woods, before the rest of the family was up, my daughter and I crept from the warmth of the camper and made our way to a deer blind we had spotted the week before.

Shortly after the sun rose, we saw two doe grazing in a nearby clearing. We shot two rolls of film before they became frightened and, white tails flagging, bounded back into the safety of the trees.

Then, before going back for breakfast, we left a note for the unknown hunter who had constructed the blind.

Using fingernail polish my daughter had lifted from her mother's purse, we painted on the gun rest inside the blind: "Don't shoot deer . . . unless they shoot first."

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. James Young, R. 1, Akron, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sheila, to Steve Schipper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schipper, R. 1, Akron.

Former Akron man now symphony conductor

Editors Note:

The following story is re-printed from the Columbus Dispatch, Sunday, September 24, 1978. Evan Whallon, former Akron resident, and graduate of Akron High School Harriet Whallon, living in Indianais now a conductor of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra. The performances under their respec-tive belts before the 1978-79 sub-scription series begins. Whallon, who lost 40 pounds during his summer work-travels in Salonika, Greece, and at the Chautauqua Opera Association in Pitts-burgh, joked about the conductor who takes an inauspicious bow after losing that much weight.

Regardless of that, Whallon is fit,

Whallon is coming into the season after another successful summer -his 11th - as music director of the opera association. Besides earning good reviews, the performances contribute ideas and personnel to Columbus' opera productions.

The conducting in Greece's second largest city apparently provided quite an experience, too. Whallon said he received a letter from a piano soloist telling him about an earthquake there two weeks after his appearance.

He said he wrote back, "I was glad to know it was a successful concert, but I didn't know it was going to shake them up that much."

The thrust of the new season focuses on new management peonle - assistant director Susan Ropie - assistant director susain Ros-senstock, formerly of the Dallas Symphony, and public relations director Robert Moon, formerly of Otterbein College - and on five full-time musicians

Whallon explained the significance of the salaried musicians. "We're now competing for players from other cities." A violinist from the San Antonio symphony has joined the CSO, for example.

"We are getting competitive, but we are (still) building," Whallon pointed out.

Asked what he has achieved in his 22 seasons, Whallon said, "It has a lot to do with where the city was when I came.

'In some cities, you inherit a tradition, but you don't inherit an opportunity."

With the Columbus Symphony, now in its 27th season, Whallon said, there was no tradition "except that the orchestras collapsed.

cept that the orchestras collapsed. So, that's a challenge. "It was plenty bitter still" when he arrived in Columbus, he said. "A lot of people remembered" incidences and feelings from the break-ups of previous orchestras. Now, Whallon emphasized, the symphony and Columbus continue symphony and Columbus continue to expand. This is one of the at-tractions that keeps Whallon in Columbus. "If it was status quo, you would just work to keep it at its peak."

With its Brown Bag concert and performances at Crescendo III and at today's Music for the Movies, the symphony has had plenty of warm-up for its first weekend of Ohio Theater subscription concerts.

The season officially gets under way Oct. 6-8 with an all orchestral program that will include Proko-fiev's Romeo and Juliet, Suites No. 1 and 2; Handel—Harty's Royal Fireworks Music; and Beethoven's 3rd Symphony.

Asked how he and the symphony arrive at the season's lineup, Whal-lon mentioned the obvious of schedules - those of the theater and of guest artists. Beyond that, he said, the CSO is "trying to do things that form a cafeteria ... We try to blend for appeal."

Balance is the big word in describing the season. "We try to have not only the familiar international artist, but the up and coming ones oo," Whallon said. The balance carries through to the selection of music, "so that the people who like only one type of music are not left out."

The rest of the season includes eight weekends with guest artists or guest conductors. Among this season's guests are soprano Shirley Verrett, whom Whallon conducted in at Spoleta, Italy, in her first Carmen; violinist Yehudi Menuhin; pianists Alicia De Larrocha, Jeffrey Siegel and Emanuel Ax; Con-ductor Robert Page; and pianist Sylvia Zaremba and the Ohio State University Symphonic Choir in a full staging of Daphnis et Chloe. For the second year the season includes four Sunday subscription concerts. The pops series with guest artists, begun last year, also con-

Whallon described such pops concert as another kind of balance -"artistic truth and financial solvency." The pops guests this year are trumpeter Doc Severinsen of the Tonight Show; Richard Hayman of the Boston Pops, who conducted Music Under the Stars this summer; and guitarist Chet Atkins.

Adding to the balance of the season will be three operas, all at the Ohio Theater, and the Battelle

The season is given direction by the symphony, but Whallon is ever-cognizant of those people sitting in the lush red seats of the "People sort of sense what they want," he said. And the smyphony senses what that is through its varied - and balanced - season
