LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Turn on your T.V. or radio. Read your newspaper. Besides the war in Vietnam what are the two main subjects? For me, they are crime and the drug problem. Today in the mail I received a clipping from Phoenix, Arizona. It was taken from their evening paper on January 26, 1970. This article I think points out the seriousness of both problems. It also points out that juveniles are not responsible for all crimes committed as some would like to believe. The article was called "Box Score on Crime in Phoenix."

Phoenix police were dispatched on 1,527 calls and investigated 141 accidents, including 47 with injuries, during the 48-hour period ending at 10 a.m. today.

Juvenile report: 43 juveniles detailed, one for possession of marijuana and one for possession of dangerous drugs.

Major Crime: 127 burglaries, 34 grand thefts, 15 assaults, 4 robberies, and two rapes.

Makes you stop and think, doesn't it?

Putting A Lid On Air Pollution

A flying saucer? No, it's a novel way to contain and control odors, ice and fog associated with outdoor tanks at sewage disposal and water pollution control plants. Named Dow Domes by their originators, The Dow Chemical Company, the unusual structures are being used by an increasing number of municipalities. The domes, "spun" of Styrofoam plastic foam and covered with a thin layer of latex modified concrete, usually are constructed on the ground. When lifted into place they create an illusion of a flying saucer.

The circular structures improve the aesthetics of pollution control plants and eliminate obnoxious odors, hazardous, inefficient deicing procedures, and fog which sometimes is a safety hazard on adjacent roads. Because they insulate and contain materials so well, the domes improve the efficiencies of water pollution control facilities under all weather conditions.

Domes have been installed at Elmira, N.Y.; Fairfax, Va.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and other cities.

Born Too Soon

When I was a student,
I was quiet.
I didn't protest,
I didn't riot.
I wasn't unwashed,
I wasn't obscene,
I made no demands
On prexy or dean.
I sat in no sit-in,
I heckled no speaker,
I broke not a window...
Few students were meeker.
I'm forced to admit,
With some hesitation,
All I got out of school
Was an education.

Sanitary Landfills Can Be Sanitary

A sanitary landfill is a method of solid waste disposal in which soil resources are used as the storage medium. It is noted some soils are well suited for this use while others are poorly suited. Still other soils have varying kinds and degrees of limitations which need to be overcome in order to create satisfactory conditions. Unfortunately some sanitary landfills have been, and some are, operative in soils that are poorly suited or in which the limiting factor or factors have not been satisfactorily overcome. In such cases, a landfill is destined to seriously deteriorate the environment and can hardly be called "sanitary."

In today's affluent society, the need for the disposal of solid waste material such as garbage, paper, glass, metals of all kinds, polyethylene containers and waste from food processing to chemical manufacturing, is multiplying at a fantastic rate. Many problems associated with waste disposal are created as a result of the disposal method used. Some methods result in the creation of good habitats for flies, mosquitoes and rodents. Others pollute the air and water. Proper sanitary landfill location and management can avoid these undesirable features.

When a sanitary landfill is properly located and operated, odors, smoke, blowing papers, insect pests, rodents and water pollution are avoided. Materials placed in a sanitary landfill start decomposing almost at once and yield gases, liquids and heat as products of biochemical decomposition. The composition of these by-products depends on the ingredients of the fill and on moisture and air supplies in the fill. When wastes are placed below the watertable, putrefactive anaerobic decomposition takes place, with high proportions of unstable compounds formed which are likely to seep into water supplies.

A site that is considered good for a sanitary landfill needs to meet several requirements.

According to research information and experience reported from other states, it is desirable to locate sanitary landfills in a deep soil with at least four feet of soil material suitable for cover. The greater the depth, the greater the landfill capacity per acre. Also, authorities agree the site should be well drained, not subject to flooding, and the permeability of the soil should not be rapid enough to allow free flow of leachate to underground water supplies. Refuse often contains infectious material and other harmful substances and should not be permitted to come into contact with ground or surface runoff water.

The texture of the soil is an important feature from the standpoint of workability and for providing a suitable cover. Most landfill sites are used year around, which means the soil materials should be of a soil texture suitable for working with a wide range of moisture conditions.

A soil survey is an excellent tool to use in selecting suitable areas for sanitary landfills. In addition to indicating the kinds of soil, a soils map will show physical features such as topography, drainage, waterways and transportation routes, etc. Information about the soil resources in your county can be secured from soil surveys at the local Soil and Water Conservation District Office.

There are those in Akron who declare there are "blind tigers" in town. If our new town marshal would call on these people who make these declarations, he may be able to get tracks that would lead him to a den or the den or dens. An arrest on these lines will help to establish a nice credit to his office. It is now up to these people who know of these things to show up or shut up. Space Limited? Sleep In A Drawer

SPACE SOLVER—Even in limited space, brothers with different interests can find room for privacy. An ingenious bed-divider-drawer is the secret. Set in the middle of the room, the handsome red chest has pull-out drawers on either side. At bedtime, drawers with comfortable cotton and innerspring mattresses are pulled out to make cozy sleeping quarters. Designed by Ving Smith, A.I.D.

BOYPROOF DECOR—Decorative cotton fabrics and space-saving built-in furniture solve the question of boy-proof decor. Red gingham covers the beds and upholstered chair and brightens windows. A pegboard fitted atop the bed-desk adds privacy. Each boy has his own collection shelves and cabinet space.

the comfort conscious ground hog relied on his shadow for answers about heating and cooling needs. Humans are luckier. They can ask Public Service Indiana about the most modern route to year-round comfort—electric heating and cooling—and get accurate answers in the tradition of "Honest Abe" Lincoln and "Never Tell a Lie" George Washington. For example:

is electric heat really as inexpensive as the commercials say? It costs nothing to find out. Ask Public Service Indiana for a computer estimate of the cost of heating your home electrically. No obligation... and it might lead to one of the smartest decisions you've ever made!

why is electric heat cleaner? There is no combustion in the house. Since electric heating doesn't burn up oxygen, less air needs to be pulled in from outdoors—and outdoor air isn't what it used to be! Electric cooling extends this advantage year-round.

what kind of electric comfort conditioning is best? That depends on what your house is like and what you want from a heating and cooling system. If you already have a properly designed duct system, an electric furnace is an economical choice and convenient for adding central air conditioning. In new construction, radiant ceiling heat cable offers low-cost installation—and it takes up absolutely no floor space. Baseboard and wall panel heaters are easy to install which makes them logical for older homes and room additions. And if you want your indoor climate control completely automatic, winter and summer, there is nothing like a heat pump.

Rainbow reception honors Miss Maby

Miss Joyce Maby, Grand Immortality, International Order of Rainbow for Girls in Indiana, was honored recently at a reception held in the United Methodist Church at Athens.

Sue Johnson and Lynn Casey were in charge of the guest register and presented each guest a Hawaiian lei. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Mae Miller, Mother Advisor, who introduced Debbie Hunter, Worthy Advisor, who, after greeting the guests, instructed Deena Turner, Drill Leader, to escort the honored guest to the East, which was decorated as a Hawaiian beach. Rainbow girls Connie Carr, Debbie Beasley, Mary Sausaman, Sheri Schwier, Vicki Bouse and Pam Wagner, wearing the traditional Hawaiian grass skirts, formed an aisle through which Miss Maby walked as Mrs. Tad Henderson sang "The Impossible Dream."

Cristina Neese, Greenwood, Grand Worthy Advisor, was escorted East as Mrs. Henderson sang "I'll Walk With God," the song chosen by Miss Neese to be her inspiration during her year as Grand Worthy Advisor.

Other guests were present from Rochester, Warsaw, Rockville, Wabash, Bourbon, Winamac, Greenwood, Plymouth, Sharpville, No. Manchester, Claypool and Akron.

Brief remarks were given by the Grand Worthy Advisor and Miss Maby explained her reasons for choosing the Hourglass as her symbol. Her motto is "Faith Will Lead You On" and her watchwords are "Love and Service." Her colors are green, white and silver. She introduced her family and other special guests and thanked her assembly and the committees for their time and work planning the reception.

Guests were entertained with Hawaiian music furnished by Paul Hillsman of Nyona Lake and Delford Bowen of Rochester.

Following the benediction by Rev. Wayne Johnson, refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with a large wooden tray holding tropic fruit and a silver candelabra with green candles.

The Rainbow committee included Sheri Schwier, Sue Johnson, Lynn Casey, and Mrs. Mae Miller, Mother Advisor.

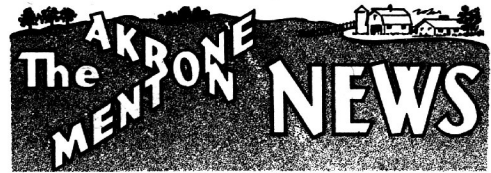

The serving committee was Mrs. James Norman and Diane Walters, Akron; Miss Judy Braman, Rochester, and Miss Barbara Little, No. Manchester. Mrs. Tad Henderson, Spencerville, was soloist and Mrs. Loyd Walters, Akron, was the accompanist.

Miss Neese introduced the appointive officers of the Grand Family: Mary Chancellor, Grand Chaplain, Kentland Assembly No. 56; Cynthia Hartman, Grand Drill Leader, Rockville Assembly 43; Mary Shaffer, Grand Nature, Decatur Assembly 24; Rachel Matcchett, Grand Service, Warren Assembly 49; Ann Thompson, Grand Patriotism, Winamac Assembly

68; Janelle Alderson, Grand American Flag Bearer, Sharpville Assembly 73; Pam Reingardt, Grand Indiana Flag Bearer, Monticello Assembly 42.

Other guests introduced were Leila Ferguson, Grand Representative to Florida, Walton Assembly 48; Maryanna Thousand, Grand Representative to Washington, Rochester Assembly 90; Beverly Fouts, Grand Ambassador of Good Will, Wabash Assembly 20; Mrs. Glendora Davis, Grand Deputy, District 3, Warsaw; Mrs. Irene Treat, Grand Deputy, District 25, Warren; Mrs. Catherine Bradfield, Assisting Grand Deputy, District 3, Donaldson; Virgil Bradfield, Grand Lecturer, District 3; Mrs. Norman Coffman, Grand Organizer and Mother Advisor of Warsaw Assembly

Boy Scouts To Collect Papers, Magazines

Anyone having papers to donate should leave them by his front door.

A rain date has been set for Feb. 21.

Proceeds from the drive will help pay for the summer camping activities.

Charity Ball Is Planned

The 11th annual charity ball sponsored by Akron's Kappa Delta Phi sorority will be held February 14 at 9:30 p.m. in the Moose Lodge at Rochester. Music will be furnished by Huck Funn. All proceeds will go to charity, the sorority says.

Recreational vehicles have come a long way in the past 100 years, as the contrast between these two conveyances shows. In 1869 and 1870 the United States was overcome by a craze for bicycles, or "velocipedes", according to newspaper accounts of that era. The frolicsome snowmobile is currently enjoying a similar burst of enthusiasm. However, the 19th century high-wheeler is not completely forsaken, as Clarence Hinzman of Appleton, Wis., (on bicycle) demonstrates. The snowmobile driver is Dick Klawitter of Fond du Lac, Wis.

February Is American History Month

During the month of February, American History Month, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, special emphasis is placed upon the encouragement of the study and reading of American History by all Americans.

An essay contest is sponsored in the schools each year. This year the title chosen is "Heroines of the American Revolution." Too often, when we think of the Revolutionary War, we think only of the heroes, members say. Through research for their essays, it is hoped that the children will become better acquainted with the lives of the heroines of that period. For instance, Milly Barrett, though only sixteen, superintended the young women of Concord in making all of the cartridges for the battle that took place in that town on April 19, 1775, notes the Manitou Chapter DAR.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

A Flag Is Born

In a little home in Philadelphia the ideas of several American patriots were made a reality by the nimble fingered seamstress, Betsy Ross, and a flag was born, emblem of a nation that was in the process of formation. It was a beautiful emblem and it came to mean much to the oppressed; to those seeking a land where there would be opportunity for all. The Nation that flag symbolizes has had many trials and has faced grave perils. It has had other things besides armed might to sustain it. Its leaders have relied upon prayer. Washington at Valley Forge, Lincoln after Antietam, prayed and the Nation came through. If prayers availed in the past they will serve in these critical times.

Regular attendance at your favorite church will aid in establishing the right relationship with the Creator so that our continued prayers will avail.

1971 Fall School Vacation Changed

The annual two-day holiday from school for public school students during the ISTA Conference on Instruction will be changed in 1971 because of the new Uniform Holiday Act.

Since Veterans Day will be observed the fourth Monday in October beginning in 1971, pupils and teachers would be in school only two days of the week. Therefore, the Teachers Association has decided to meet on the "first Thursday and the following day in November."

Dates for the next five years are: 1970-Oct. 22 and 23; 1971-Nov. 4-5; 1972-Nov. 2-3; 1973-Nov. 1-2; and 1974-Nov. 7-8.

Mentone's New Equipment Bldg. In Use

The building to house town equipment has been completed and is now in use, James Whetstone, Mentone town board member said at the regular board meeting Monday night. He said funds used came from the town state refund from cigarette taxes.

Board members approved a request by clerk-treasurer Clayton Holloway to purchase an electric adding machine and storage cabinets.

Also discussed was the repair of mowers and other equipment.

Dr. O.L. McFadden and Jerry Secrist, members of the Mentzer Park Board, asked if they might expect assistance from the board for the summer recreation program and were told that the budget would be the same as last summer.

Mrs. Tom Fugate was re-appointed to the Bell Library board for a 4-year term effective Jan. 1, 1970.

Soil Scientist Is Named

Frank R. Kirschner, a Soil Scientist, has been assigned the responsibility of the Progressive Soil Survey of Kosciusko County by the Soil Conservation Service, according to Myron R. Metzger, Chairman of the Kosciusko Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors. Kirschner, who has served in a similar capacity in completing the soil surveys in Allen and Elkhart counties, will be party leader for the Kosciusko survey.

This soil survey is a part of the National Cooperative Soil Survey with the Soil Conservation Service and the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station. The purpose of the survey is to obtain a complete inventory of the soil resources of Kosciusko county.

Metzger stated that there are nearly 900 different soil types in Indiana and over 100 different types are located in this county. It is expected that 10 man-years will be required to complete the job of mapping. This classification of the soils, along with the soil interpretative data, will benefit both rural and urban users. The limitations for the many common uses of the soil will be identified making it possible to anticipate and select alternatives in planning the use of each acre of land.

According to Metzger, a portion of the appropriations was secured from the county to carry out the survey program.

Because of the anticipated greater need due to the expected intense use of the land in this county, Kosciusko Co. was one of the few selected in Indiana for a pilot program, whereby, 25 percent of the cost is furnished by the county, 25 percent by the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, and 50 percent by the United States Soil Conservation Service.

Kirschner holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Botany from Utah State University and a Master's Degree in Agronomy from the University of Florida. He has been with the Soil Conservation Service for sixteen years, being located at Kendallville since 1957.

Mr. Metzger indicated the Soil Conservation Service in the future plans to assign a Soil Scientist to be located at the local Soil and Water Conservation Office.

Only AMIBEN can offer you

TWC

(TOTAL WEED CONTROL)

A MIBEN™ preemergence weedkiller killed grass for more soybean farmers than any other herbicide in 1969. And, it also was the first choice for broadleaf weeds by a wide margin.

This all-in-one, double action, Total Weed Control gives farmers with good management a truly outstanding tool. They can depend upon AMIBEN as the best way to cancel out grass and weeds as a limiting factor when it comes either to growing the beans, or harvesting the crop.

Does it make sense to buy a half-action grass herbicide? One that lets big weeds through (and yes, even some grasses) but costs a little less, or puts you through the work of soil incorporation? There are several such limited control products on the market. But farmers can easily end up looking at a hefty stand of weeds that "escaped" because of limited capability of the herbicide.

Weed control to be profitable to the farmer should keep everything out but the beans, and do it with ease of use and safety to the crop. Only AMIBEN makes this a realistic goal.

Note: Neither AMIBEN nor any other preemergence soybean herbicide kills cocklebur germinating below the treated soil layer, nor morning-glory, nor perennial weeds. AMIBEN is a Trade Mark of Amchem Products, Inc.

YOUR FAIR SHARE

Be sure to participate in our AMIBEN "Fair Share" Bonus Plan. No other herbicide manufacturer would offer you a share of its profits. No one but Amchem. Don't delay—the earlier you buy, and the more AMIBEN you use, the more you benefit. Come in and get the details from us today.

SOCIAL SECURITY Question Box

- Q. Must a registrant request a student deferment each year?
- A. No, one request will suffice. It is the registrant's duty, however, to provide his local board each year with evidence that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at his school.
- Q. My son is planning to enter a local junior college. Is such a college considered an institution of higher learning for which a II-S deferment may be authorized?
- A. A junior college is considered an institution of higher learning. If a student is taking a full-time course of study and the credits are acceptable by an institution granting a baccalaureate degree, the student is eligible for classification in Class II-S. If the student is taking only a vocational or two-year terminal course, his classification would be II-A if a deferment was granted.

The story of Valentine's Day is re-told

Cynical bachelors and little boys aren't the only ones who think Valentine's Day is for the birds--even romantics thought so.

In fact, at one time nearly everyone believed that February 14 was the day most birds mated. And though fact proved fancy false, the day stayed set aside--at least for lovebirds. Though not exclusively.

Lighthearted loafers used Valentine's Day as peaceful day to sleep. They took no chances that a common belief--that the first person of the opposite sex you saw became your loved one for the year--came true. No heartaches or aggravation for them.

Nor for the women, who like one 18th century lady, "Lay in bed and shut my eyes all morning until he came to our house. I would not have seen another man for all the world." It would appear that these ladies make sure that Cupid didn't interfere with their year's selection.

That chance, however, became more and more risky each year, and finally women decided to substitute a safer custom to celebrate the day. In the late 1700s, sweethearts began penning and decorating cards, some so elegant and beautiful, they are virtually museum pieces today.

And since neither mail service nor envelopes existed, "captured" colonists delivered their tokens of love--cards, candy, perfume--in person.

The more well-to-do sent their cards by coach, though they double wrapped and sealed them with wax, so only their beloved could read the message.

Then with the invention of lithographs and woodcuts--a boon to the inartistic competitors, but a burden to the mailman--nearly everyone began sending valentines.

Researchers at Shulton have come up with these two amusing facts:

Cards were even tailored to men in specific professions. The undertaker, for instance, could send a card which said, "Let Chloe smile upon her lover, who will never forsake her; Each day new charms she will discover. In her faithful undertaker."

Or the fruit grower, could write his beloved that "Sweeter than an orange grove, Is the charming maid I love, No grapes more luscious than your lips."

Lace-edged sentimental valentines also became popular.

Today, in addition to cards, flowers, candy and perfume have become common Valentine's Day gifts. According to department store surveys items boxed in hearts, or shaped like Cupid also are popular.

Among the most common valentine candies are the tiny sugar hearts with inscriptions like "Be My Valentine" on them, and among the most popular colognes for women are those which combine the provocative with the romantic. Men have found that ultra-feminine scents, such as Escapade, in the purse aerosol a perfect twentieth century way to express their love.

St. Valentine, however who lent his name to the holiday, actually had little to do with it. Two Saint Valentines--one a Roman priest and the other a bishop martyred in Rome about 270 --had birthdays February 14, and when the Christians tried to purify the Roman fertility festival Lupercalia, which also came in February, they changed the holiday's name to St.

Valentine's Day.

Also from the Luper-calian celebrations came the custom of dropping valentines into a box for distribution. At one point in the Luper-calian festival, Romans drew women's names from a box, though authorities are not sure why.

Christians, however, copied the custom, though they substituted the names of saints. Today in classrooms throughout the country, children continue the tradition. Remember "Guess Why" or "Secret Admirer"?

We Get Letters

Dear Editor:

This article should be of great concern to all Americans young or old. The senior citizens should well remember how their grandfather worked to build a future for themselves.

Most of them made a success of their efforts using just three principles: ambition, determination and courage. Doing this with an average of sixth grade education, those people built this great machine and named it success.

Pointing out another great feature with this man-made machine, those people were self supporting. So it's plain to see if the people of today would concentrate on just a few such rules, we too could be operating that great machine called success. Have our people forgotten the past, building no future, thinking there is only a today?

To take a look at the picture from the back side, we cannot deny seeing a faint image of a large white sheet turning into a large ghost. Behind this sheet I have peeped and here is what I have seen:

Killing of our boys in war by the thousands every so many years. There goes the very cream of our nation's strength. How well we know if the cream is taken out of milk it gets weaker. Men of Army age are our strength. We may have ever so many mechanical devices, but they will be ruled and operated by man.

Now for a few words on our population, which is growing so rapidly: When war is decreasing our population and the war on childbirth is too, could someone tell me where this increase of our American population is coming from?

Heart Drive Is Launched

Letters have been mailed to Henry Township residents by the Heart Fund stating that the drive is ready to begin in this area.

In the letter, Mrs. George Stephen, Henry Township Chairman, notes that heart and blood vessel diseases are responsible for more than 54% of deaths from all causes in the United States. It is also a major cause of disability in America, she notes, adding that the Fulton county death rate is about 7% higher than the national average.

Mrs. Stephen also noted that since 1950, the Heart Association has through research and education of professional and lay people, dramatically reduced the heart disease death rate. She used for an example, the death rate of heart, blood vessel diseases in age group 5 to 24 has been reduced by about 90% while the death rate from stroke among men 45 to 64 went down about 27%.

Anyone who did not receive a letter and who wants to make a contribution to the fund may do so by contacting Mrs. Stephen.

60 YEARS AGO
"Back to the farms" is heralded by Ft. Wayne merchants as the great solution of the big problem of increased living expenses. Twenty-five years ago, declared a merchant, 40 percent of the population of the country was located in the cities consuming, while 60 percent of the population was in the country producing. Now, these figures are exactly reversed. But 40 percent is now on the farms producing, while 60 percent is in the cities consuming. It is simply a case of supply is small and the demand is as great as they are at the present time, no lessening of the present high prices can be expected. The way to remedy matters is to return to the farm. Get out and make meat, potatoes and cabbage.

Driving Errors - Police Watchword

The Indiana State Police "Watchword" for February is "Driving Errors." Traditionally, the month of February in Indiana means a continuation of cold weather, ice and snow.

State Police Superintendent Robert K. Konkle reminded Hoosier motorists that "wintertime" driving demands extra caution and said leading causes for traffic accidents during past years for the month of February have been: failure to yield right of way, driving too fast and following the vehicle ahead too closely.

Konkle had these tips for the driver: On winter's icy roads, the motorist should decrease his speed—allow a greater distance when following a car or truck—give signals of intention to turn sooner than he would under normal driving conditions. And, he said, at least five cars, beside your own, should concern you while driving. They are the one ahead, the one behind, the one approaching in the opposite lane, the one ready to enter from a side street or road, and the one parked at the curb or side of the road.

He summed up by saying, "Be prepared for any of them to do anything without warning."

Mentone Lions Heard Herendeen

The Mentone Lions Club held its regularly scheduled meeting at Teel's Restaurant Wednesday evening, Feb. 4.

After the meal and business session, the guest speaker, Chick Herendeen, was introduced by the program chairman, Eldon Horn.

Mr. Herendeen showed slides and gave an interesting account of his trip to East Germany where he attended the World Aerobatic Championship.

It was announced that a box would be placed in the L & B Food Store to collect old eye glasses that anyone would care to donate. This is a Lions Club project and the glasses will be distributed to needy people who otherwise could not afford glasses.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rush and Barbara and Bill of Syracuse were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fowler.

A Chicago newspaper reported Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mollenhour (he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour) and their children were on hand to greet President Nixon when he visited the area.

Unknown to most people, is a group of 20-25 men who are dedicated to their job and who meet once a week to show their talents and boast of dazzling feats. The Utter Tire Kickers, Broadway Bottle Busters, Secret Thumb Bangers and Linn Gutter Ballers are some of the tallest tale-tellers on Thursday morning and their stories enliven Egg Town for hours.

There is no truth to the story that a group of sewer sniffers is forming, but it is true that several of the local firemen spent hours Friday night smelling sewer openings to track down a mysterious substance that had been put in the sewers.

CFS Store Robbed

Burglars broke into the Custom Farm Service building on Ind. 14 west of Akron sometime Thursday night or Friday morning and stole two tool boxes, each containing about $75 worth of tools, and some $4 in change.

David Bradway, manager of the store, reported the theft to the Fulton Co. sheriff's office Friday morning.

A window on the north side of the building was broken, and it appeared the burglars reached through it and unlocked the door to gain entry.

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Two children's books have been presented to the Akron Carnegie Public Library in memory of Loyd Riley. The books were presented by his grandson, Phillip A. Booher of Muncie.

PRESIDENTS IN UNIFORM by Donald E. Cooke. This book contains the biographies of the presidents of the United States who served in the armed forces of their country. A great deal has been written about some of them but not so much is known about others. These are individual accounts, but as one narrative follows another there emerges an overall picture of the growth and changes in our armed forces, from our first ragged, ill-equipped companies to our huge modern military set-up.

TUG, TOW AND BARGE by Walter Osborne. Every day tugboats are pulling ocean-going barges to distant lands, performing daring rescues at sea and helping to berth massive ocean liners. They and the towboats in inland waterways, have an interesting variety of tasks to perform while they keep million of tons of cargo moving from one place to another. Through photographs and clear, concise text the story of these busy boats is traced from the beginning of water transportation to the present.

Cullum-Helm Vows Are Said

Solemn ceremony Tuesday, February 3, joined in marriage Miss Martha Louise Helm, of Parker, and Mr. Jon Lee Cullum, of Mentone, at the chapel of the Methodist Home in Warren with only the immediate families present.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Loran W. Helm, Parker, and has been employed as a cashier at Ball's Collegienne Store in Muncie for two years. Mr. Cullum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Artley D. Cullum of Mentone and is an employee of the Country Print Shop in Bourbon.

The candlelight ceremony was somewhat unique since it was written by the bride and bridegroom and was primarily religious in character. Mrs. Wesley Bullis of Parker played several special prelude selections.

Rev. Wesley Bullis, pastor of the United Methodist Church of Parker, and Rev. Robt. Morgan of Flint, Mich., an evangelist with the Church of God, solemnized the couple's vows.

To the music of "Whither Thou Goest", the marriage procession was begun by the bridesmaid Miss Nancy Marie Helm, Parker, twin sister of the bride.

Accompanied by her father, the bride was attired in a simple white street-length princess style gown. She carried a white orchid attached to a white Bible, the gift of her paternal grandmother.

Prior to the procession of the father and the bride, the couple spoke in unison a verse from Isaiah concerning their praise and joy in God. "as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels." The bridegroom then sang "O Perfect Love", after which the father and bride continued the procession to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus."

Rev. Bullis called the small assembly to attend the seriousness of the ceremony of marriage, reviewing the Biblical basis for such union. Rev. Morgan then inquired of the couple their steadfast intention to the estate of matrimony, which the couple affirmed. Following the presentation of the bride to the groom by the father, the mother of the bride sang a selected hymn.

The couple then honored and gave thanks for their parents, their families and their friends, stepping to their parents to express particular appreciation for the Christian heritage given them. The charge to husband and wife was given from the letter on the Apostle Paul, followed by the exchange of rings as the vows were given. Kneeling in prayer, the couple sang a duet, and the groom's grandmother continued the spirit of petition by offering the prayer of consecration. Following scripture readings by the attending ministers, the couple was pronounced husband and wife and introduced to the assembly before recessing to a hymn.

Also present were the paternal grandmothers, Mrs. A.E. Helm, who resides in the Warren Methodist Home, and Mrs. Dorothea Cullum, of Mentone; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, and their daughter of Yorktown and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harman, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and two children, Tim and Lisa, of Mentone. Tom Harman represented the bridegroom as best man, and Tim Harman served as usher.

Assisting the bride in preparations was her cousin, Elaine Ruth Helm, Parker. Present also was Dorothy Morgan, wife of Rev. Robt. Morgan.

The ceremony was followed by a leisurely reception in the basement of the chapel. At the request of the bride and bridegroom, a special pound cake with gourmet sauce, prepared by Nancy Helm, was served with punch prepared by the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullum will live in Mentone.

Popovers Impress Guests

These Cheese-Herb Popovers are impressive fare. They're large and light, with puffed tops that resemble chefs' hats. The walls are firm and crisp, and the almost-hollow interior moist. For all their spectacular appearance, Cheese-Herb Popovers are amazingly easy to make. Start with a package of popover mix, and add milk and eggs; it's so easy and practically fool-proof. Herbs and a bit of Parmesan cheese add special flavor to these deep golden brown, crusty popovers. Serve hot, hot, hot, with butter, as a dinner accompaniment.

Cheese-Herb Popovers
Makes 6 popovers

- | | |
|----------------------------|--|
| One 6-oz. pkg. Popover Mix | 1/4 teaspoon oregano |
| 2 eggs | 1/4 teaspoon instant minced onion |
| 1 1/4 cups milk | 1 1/2 teaspoons grated Parmesan cheese |
| 1/4 teaspoon dill weed | |

Heat oven to very hot (450°F.). Empty contents of popover mix package into bowl. Add eggs, milk, dill weed, oregano and onion. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer about 3 minutes. Fill 6 well-greased 5-oz. custard cups 3/4 full. Sprinkle each cup of batter with 1/4 teaspoon Parmesan cheese. Place custard cups in racks or on cookie sheet.

Bake in preheated oven (450°F.) 20 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) and bake 30 minutes longer. Loosen edges and remove from cups. Serve piping hot with butter.

Akron Woman's Club Hears Gail Hammond Speak

The Akron Woman's Club met Thursday afternoon, and members were entertained by Gail Hammond who showed pictures of the recent study trip he made to southern Mexico where he studied the Mayan civilization.

The expedition began with a raft trip down the Usumacinta River, which forms the boundary between Mexico and Guatemala. The primitive sites of Bonampak, Yaxchilan, Piedras Negras and Palenque were visited from the river, it being the only means of access to these jungle ruins.

A rally of United Methodist churches in the Huntington district to begin Lent 1970 will be held Sunday, February 15, at the Honeywell Memorial. The theme will be "Celebration of the Good News".

The program has been developed by a task group experienced in "worship in the round" and other fresh approaches to worship.

Kathy Weber of Huntington will direct the choir composed of all church choirs in the district participating.

An unusual and dramatic processional and recessional will frame the service with deeply meaningful pageantry.

Leaders say the combination of the traditional and the freshly-new, the Celebration is just what they've been asking for...a fellowship of confident faith, a moving rally of Christians, a fresh start for the '70's.

Only AMIBEN can offer you

TWC

(TOTAL WEED CONTROL)

A MIBEN™ preemergence weedkiller killed grass for more soybean farmers than any other herbicide in 1969. And, it also was the first choice for broadleaf weeds by a wide margin.

This all-in-one, double action, Total Weed Control gives farmers with good management a truly outstanding tool. They can depend upon AMIBEN as the best way to cancel out grass and weeds as a limiting factor when it comes either to growing the beans, or harvesting the crop.

Does it make sense to buy a half-action grass herbicide? One that lets big weeds through (and yes, even some grasses) but costs a little less, or puts you through the work of soil incorporation? There are several such limited control products on the market. But farmers can easily end up looking at a hefty stand of weeds that "escaped" because of limited capability of the herbicide.

Weed control to be profitable to the farmer should keep everything out but the beans, and do it with ease of use and safety to the crop. Only AMIBEN makes this a realistic goal.

Note: Neither AMIBEN nor any other preemergence soybean herbicide kills cocklebur germinating below the treated soil layer, nor morning-glory, nor perennial weeds.

AMIBEN is a Trade Mark of Amchem Products, Inc.

YOUR FAIR SHARE

Be sure to participate in our AMIBEN "Fair Share" Bonus Plan. No other herbicide manufacturer would offer you a share of its profits. No one but Amchem. Don't delay—the earlier you buy, and the more AMIBEN you use, the more you benefit. Come in and get the details from us today.

Henson Breaks Records at Tech

Akron's Steve Henson continues to break scoring records while at Indiana Institute of Technology. Steve became the city college 6th leading scorer of all time as he hit for 24 points to lead the Warriors to an 82-62 Mid-Central-Conference win over Concordia last Tuesday. On the all time Tech scoring parade, he ranks number five on the list with 1313 points.

After a slow start due to a foot injury, Steve has averaged more than 29 points per game his last five outings. From the foul line the figures indicate a sudden use of Steve's percentage as he has hit 46 of his last 51 free throw attempts.

Improved rebounding and steady defense have improved Steve's overall value to the team this season. With more of the same it is hoped by Warrior fans the team can gain a berth in the upcoming N.A.I.A. District 21 playoff.

Beaver Dam school to be leveled

Bids for leveling the Beaver Dam school and topping it with a six-inch layer of dirt were opened at Monday night's TVSC board meeting, and a contract for $1,690 was let to Name Concrete Service of Kokomo. Other bids were received from Simons and Brady, Columbia City, $20,100; Beer-Slabough, Inc. of Nappanee, $6,300; Wm. E. Caudill, Silver Lake, $2,850; Warsaw Jaycees, $3,488 (they were to use the brick for a community building and to rebuild houses in Kosciusko county as well as to build fireplaces for the school corporation and a monument from the cornerstone if so desired) and Larry Carey, Warsaw, $5,925. The contract will become effective March 1 if the building has not been leveled by that time by Percy Cook who purchased it for $500 in November, 1968 and who failed to fulfill the stipulation that the building be razed within a year of purchased.

A representative of the firm was present and said that if the weather permits, the building will be dropped March 2 and anyone desiring used brick may scavenge for the next three days before leveling is begun.

In other board action, two Mentone students recently suspended by Ernest Holcslaw, school principal, for consuming alcoholic beverages, appeared and asked the board to "lessen" the penalty in order that they could return to school to complete their education.

Each said he knew he was wrong in drinking the beer (they said they split three cans of beer during their lunch hour) and knew that punishment was necessary but felt that a semester's suspension was too severe. They stated they had been in no previous trouble and would be willing to forego extra-curricular activities if allowed to return.

Akron Water Bills Past Due

Water users in Akron are reminded that their January bills are now past due and that if they are not paid the water service will be discontinued, according to Merrill Kendall, Akron Clerk-Treasurer.

The board questioned the boys at length and after an executive session voted to uphold the decision of the principal. They noted that both boys may return to school in September, 1970.

Also approved by the board were teaching contracts for Wendy Quine, Barbara Kay Titus and Priscilla Grenner. A supplemental contract for David Shively was approved and Elias Bazini was approved as golf coach for Mentone High School.

The Social Aspect Of The Balanced Life

The following article was prepared by Honey Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hudson, Mentone, and was presented during a special youth service Sunday at the Mentone United Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. Garrett Phillips, submitted it to the paper for publication:

Can you determine a Christian by his social life? Do you think God determines a Christian by his social life?

Paul said in Colossians 3:17: "Everything you do or say then, should be done in the name of the Lord Jesus, as you give thanks through him to God the Father."

Four parts make up our social life: Associations, activities, abilities, and actions. Let us first take a look at associations. The Good News for Modern Man says in I John 4:4: But you belong to God, my children, for the spirit that is in you is more powerful than the spirit in those who belong to the world." Everyone faces a fork in the road of life, and everyone knows that it is difficult to choose the right path. Many of us find this problem when it comes to choosing the right job, schools, or friends. We don't know which way to turn, to the job with the most money or the one with more personal satisfaction; the school of our choice or the one most beneficial to us; and sometimes, the good crowd or the bad crowd.

People judge you by the people you associate with. A Christian will associate with Christians, but a Christian is not afraid to befriend someone in need, because he knows he can always call on God to "pull him through. As long as you associate with good people you are never ashamed to be with, you can be sure God approves.

I Corinthians 10:31 reads: Well whatever you do, whether you eat or drink, do it all for God's glory. I believe a person can be judged by his activities. Let's face it. If people can determine your general personality by your clubs and hang-outs, just think what God knows about you! He knows if your activities all through the week are Christ-linked and will help you to grow strong both spiritually and physically. He also knows if you're a Christian only one day a week. Christians keep Christ in their heart in every activity all through the week and not just on Sunday morning. Maybe you're fooling your boss, your parents, or your friends, but you can't fool God.

I Corinthians 4:7 reads: Yet we who have this spiritual treasure are like clay pots, to show that the supreme power belongs to God, not to us." Every person has an ability. Most people search for it and then strive to strengthen and improve it. Many try, but fail, and would probably say something like this, "I just can't understand it. I've worked so hard and yet I've accomplished nothing. Heaven knows, I've tried every trick in the book. I give up!" This is a typical quitter. He just can't figure out why he lost that big account, failed that test, lost that game, or maybe a friend. He tried every trick in the book. And he probably did use every trick he knew; such as: double-crossing his customer, cheating on that test, thinking only of himself in that game, or stabbing his friend in the back. But, he still lost. It could best be that if he had used the right Book with the right guidance, he would have landed that account, passed that test, won that game, and maybe gained a new friend or two. Just think how differently many things would have turned out, if we had asked for guidance and used the abilities that God gave us, instead of taking advantage of the situation.

I Samuel 2:3 reads: Talk no more so very proudly; let not arrogance come from your mouth; for the Lord is a God of knowledge and by his actions are weighed." Everyone knows the saying "Actions speak louder than words." A person's conduct relates much about him. Although a person should stand up for his beliefs a Christian does not need to talk exceedingly about Christ, for his thoughts and actions will speak for him. A person need not feel that he must top the "Christian values" his friends tell him about. As long as he is sure of his own Christian values, he should not worry. More often than not, the one who consistently reminds his friends of his sureness of being saved is really afraid that he isn't and needs to do some soul-searching.

It's unavoidable—our social life tells much about us. Our associations, activities, abilities, and actions all help to show just what kind of a Christian we really are.

WARSAW: Governor Edgar Whitcomb, State Auditor Trudy Etherton, State Treasurer John K. Snyder, Secretary of State William Salin joined State Senator John Augsburger, State Representatives Arthur Coblenz and Thames Mauzy and Speaker of the House Otis Bowen at the annual Lincoln Day Republican Luncheon Saturday at Winona Lake.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

Fame and limelight are fleeting will-o'-the-wisps, highly satisfying while they last but deadly dangerous because they leave their victim more vulnerable to human fallibilities and to everyday living.

Saturday, for instance, was a glorious day. My friend Florence Stauffer and I drove to Indianapolis to attend a luncheon of the Women's Press Club of Indiana, and I congratulated myself on getting along amazingly well driving through the city for the first time even though the weather was so bad we had to turn on the lights. After the luncheon, when the annual writing awards were made, we were even happier to learn we had received a fistful of first place certificates and amid congratulations and best wishes from a number of the state's distaff writers we prepared for the drive home only to find that in my eagerness I'd left the car lights on and the battery was very dead. Ten minutes and $4.50 later, we were on our way, contemplating how we would celebrate with our families. I didn't have to look far for my family. All three of them were in the kitchen, dribs of ham salad and pieces of potato chips indicating they hadn't exactly starved in my absence. They had received a list of the winners and were beaming when I entered. Amid congratulations all around were hugs and kisses. It was a glorious moment, too good to be broken by mention of the battery, but then I've never been noted for my timing.

Loren said, "For that much money they should have thrown in the jumper too—which reminds me, you goofed in this week's paper when you said 'a man' noticed Fred Walgamuth's barn fire. You should have been more specific and said it was George Stephen. Also, what became of the C of C ball game news you were supposed to have?"

Todd was still excited and he kept saying, "Wow! I can hardly wait to tell the kids. Gary has been bragging about his prize-winning cow. I have a prize-winning mother!"

I said, "I'll make a pizza to celebrate."

Loren said to count him out as he had an appointment so I said the boys and I would celebrate with popcorn. They argued who should make it and had barely solved this crisis when their uncle invited them to attend a movie with their cousins. They accepted and I invited six-month old Ronnie to stay with me while they were gone—after all, someone should be there for my celebration.

For a time Ronnie was fascinated watching me do the week's laundry—prize winner or not, we needed clean clothes—but after a time the fascination wore off and his bottle didn't suit and he was dry and it seemed I'd lost the old touch and nothing would make him stop crying. At last, in desperation, I showed him my gold-edged prize certificates. He took a long, hard look at them, emitted two giant-sized "burps" and snuggled against my shoulder, sound asleep.

Sitting in the quiet house, listening to the tick of the clocks, the hum of the washer and dryer and the quiet breathing of the sleeping baby, his downy head still pushed against my cheek, I pondered my day of fame and limelight and knew that no matter what else ever happened to me, I was not a complete failure—I was as good as a prize cow and my writing certificates were the best thing for gas since the invention of baking soda.

American History Month

February, the birth month of Geo. Washington, is observed as American History Month by the Daughters of the American Revolution. One of the primary objectives of the DAR is to carry out the injunction of Washington in his Farewell Address to the American people, "To promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge." This has been done by establishing Tamassee DAR school in So. Carolina, 1919, and in 1924, Kate Duncan Smith DAR School in Alabama, both in secluded mountain areas. There are over 1200 children enrolled at these two schools. The DAR also contributes to five other schools where children are taught who otherwise might not have had an opportunity for an education, say members of the Manitou Chapter DAR.

During February, American History Month, The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, is endeavoring to instill within all Americans and especially the school children the importance of knowing and appreciating the history of our great nation.

Historic events occurring since the founding of our country are being observed in commemorative programs in fifty states and an historical essay contest is sponsored in the schools. That informed Americans will better safeguard and appreciate their heritage is the purpose of this observance.

One of the objectives is to perpetuate the memory and the spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence. We would pay special tribute to the Signers of the Declaration of Independence who sacrificed so much to establish our freedom. There were fifty six of them—men of means and education. They had security but they valued liberty more. They mutually pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor, placing their lives and fortunes in jeopardy to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Five were captured by the British and tortured before they died, 12 had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the Revolutionary War and another had two sons captured. Nine fought and died in the War. Several died in poverty and others died broken-hearted.

Such were their sacrifices for independence. We can best honor them by cherishing and preserving the freedom for which they risked their lives and fortunes.

—Written by Mrs. Walter Lackey, American History Month Chairman, Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, Mentone.

60 YEARS AGO

There is quite a change in clerical forces about town. Rev. Bender has severed his relationship with Leininger store to accept of a pastorate south of Indianapolis. He goes this week and will return soon for his family. Earl Bradway has resigned at Strong's store and will accept of a place in the Leininger store about March 1st. A Mr. Osborn has taken up Earl's place at Strong's store. And so the world wags and wags and we trust all will do well in their new posish.

Quite a number of people came up from Gilead Monday evening on the Interurban and attended the Children's Supper" at Shesler's Hall, among them being Messrs. Adam Waechter and Jesse Bright each have a sore hand this week. Each had a finger too long. Adam proceeded to saw his off, clipping a small part of the end, and Jesse held his finger on a barrel while Charley Hoover struck it a square lick with an old spade.

W. A. Pontius informs us that the combined ages of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Pontius, and the ages of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Young, all living, aggregate a sum of more than three hundred years, that his own age and that of a wife's age, combined make another hundred. Anthony thinks this is not a common incident as he is unable to recall any other three couples so related where the combined ages foot up more than 400 years.

This summer, in cooperation with Scientists of Tomorrow, eleven colleges and universities will offer nineteen one or two week educational and career guidance institutes in fields as diverse as engineering and science, communications arts (those studies relating to human relations), forestry and wildlife management, agricultural research, dentistry, law and medical technology.

Announcements, applications and detailed information for the institutes have been mailed to directors of guidance in every high school in the nation—more than 23,000 high schools—and to the editor of every high school newspaper. Information may also be had by writing Scientists of Tomorrow, P.O. Box 1349, Portland, Oregon

Mentone Postal Service May Be Expanded

Mentone Postmaster Kenneth Romine said this week that a new order from Postmaster General Winton M. Blount will mean substantial improvements in mail delivery services.

Postmaster General Blount has advised the local postmaster of provisions of a new order making home delivery services available for the first time to four million Americans.

The service improvement applies to persons served out of 18,700 first, second and third class post offices over the country that do not have city delivery services. Affected are those postal customers living more than a quarter mile away from these offices and less than a half a mile away. Persons living less than a half mile away previously had not been provided this service.

To get the new service, it is only necessary that those living in the eligible areas ask their postmasters to provide it, and a majority of those to be served must want the home service.

Under Blount's order, those living less than a quarter mile from the post office will continue to pick up their mail at these offices.

"But," the postmaster noted, "that's no more than a few blocks. This order, however, will make the home deliveries available wherever desired by the majority of those living beyond a quarter mile.

"This distance factor can be significant for much of the year in areas where severe weather conditions prevail; in areas where large numbers of older persons are living or in more remote sections where even a little distance may mean a lot in terms of travel difficulties."

The expansion of services should be virtually complete in all of the affected delivery service areas under actions taken by postal regional offices, acting on recommendations of local postmasters by Feb. 1, 1971.

It will be accomplished principally by adding delivery stops to already existing rural delivery routes, or by expanding the area served by some shorter rural route for the purpose, and, it was noted, a limited number of new rural routes may also be needed in other instances.

The fact that fewer persons will be calling at post offices for mail will not alter the independent status of any of the post offices where the service change is provided.

The couple and their children plan to move to Etna Green in the near future.

Retains Divorce Waiting Period

No decree for absolute or limited divorce will be granted by Fulton circuit court prior to 60 days after filing of the action, Judge Wendell Tombaugh said Wednesday after issuing a court order to that effect.

Noting that the state law establishing this 60-day waiting period had been repealed effective Jan. 1 of this year, he said he is retaining the 60-day period and explained the action with this statement:

"This Court finds that many divorce actions are dismissed within 60 days after filing; further, that the law recognizes marriage as the foundation upon which our very freedom rests, and that, rather than to encourage divorce, it is the duty of the court to aid parties to settle their differences, if possible, that they may resume their responsibilities to each other, to their children and to society."

"Further, that it is in the best interests of the parties, their children, and society to grant a divorce only after the parties have been given ample opportunity for reconciliation."

What Happened To The Merry Mollies?

by Emma Lou Hiers
First of all, we have new officers for 1970: President, Mrs. Joan Anglin; vice president, Mrs. Ruth Tucker; Treasurer, Mrs. Maxine Hol-loway and secretary, me. Second thing, we have three new members, Mrs. Linda Cochran, Mrs. Karen Reichart and Mrs. Mollie Fuller. At last a Molly in our group. Boy we can really live up to our name.

Third, our January meeting was held at Mrs. Pat Gross's home with Mrs. Betty Sarber as co-hostess serving delicious refreshments. The calorie free ones, you know, because everyone told their resolutions and most of us are on diets. Ha!

Fourth, our February meeting at Mrs. Betty Sarber's home with Mrs. Vi McGowan as co-hostess. A lesson on home emergencies was given by Lea Hudson and on medications by Pat Gross. Garden remarks were by Linda Cochran on how to select your seeds for your garden. But there is no remedy for weed-less gardens, only hard work.

Health and safety was a story on the case of the Wobbly Hen (beriberi?) by Eunice Leffert.

The group played 50-50 with high score earned by Helen Myers and low score by Kitty Alvey. Both received prizes.

There were twelve members and two guests, Mrs. Fred Mellott and Mrs. Kitty Alvey, present.

The door prize for the evening was won by Pat Gross.

This concludes our news until next month.

Seward Club Hears Lessons

The Seward Home Extension Club held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Clifford Eherenman with Mrs. Eherenman as hostess and Mrs. Vernon Meredith as co-hostess. "America, the Beautiful" was sung, and the pledge to the flag and club creed were given. The song of the month, "America" was given by Mrs. Eherenman. Meditations were given by Anna Williamson by reading several poems entitled, "The Men Born Too Soon" and "New Day". Mrs. Lester Bruner was in charge of garden remarks and gave an interesting talk on the improvement of garden flowers over the years, and also how to care for peonies. Health and safety remarks by Mrs. Vernon Meredith on the case of wobbly hens, and the discovery of Vitamin B. Mrs. Frank Nelson presented the lesson on Consumers Protection. Roll call was answered by eleven members on their idea for a club trip. Mrs. Wm. Kassen, vice pres., conducted the business part of the meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess. The March meeting will be held at the home of Anna Williamson.

whatever the dictionary may say, to most homemakers gourmet cooking means doing things fancier than for everyday meals. By fancier, we usually mean: "It takes skill"—and electricity can provide that! It keeps fondue the right temperature, blends soup ingredients so thoroughly they don't need to mellow, turns a roast over a grill, melts butter and brings a clam-bake indoors.

the electric fondue pot is one of the newest gourmet assistants. It keeps the traditional mixture of cheese and wine (or an adventure-some new dunk) hot without burning. It's easy to see why fondue is such a popular party food: it tastes good, is a break from everyday menus and brings guests together around the food. Hibachis also do their share in gathering guests around. There is an electric one now that eliminates the mess of building a fire and the smoke.

electric hot trays are an aid to cooking as well as serving. Butter in a flat bottomed pan on the tray melts without danger of burning. Foods can be kept warm while another part of a recipe is being prepared.

some cooks are dismayed by "whip by hand" instructions in some traditional recipes. They can use their electric mixers with excellent results by being careful of the speed. When beating eggs, a lower speed may take a little longer but you are surer to stop at that point of perfection when the egg whites are glossy and stand up in a little horn.

electric roasters have something in common with the pit New Englanders fill with coals for a beach clam-bake—it surrounds food with heat from five sides.

among the smuggest cooks are the ones replying to compliments with "I did it in the blender." They turn out foolproof mousse au chocolate in a few minutes, always have homemade hollandaise and have discovered cold soups.

Take your problems to Church this week -

Go to Church - whoever preaches

If the statue of Benjamin Franklin should suddenly come to life and that fine old American patriot step down and take a look about him, would he be amazed at what he saw? Perhaps not as much as we might be inclined to think.

Dr. Franklin possessed vision—a vision that might have given him an insight into the future of his country. He possessed a scientific mind and might possibly have realized some of the future wonders of science. Moreover, he possessed wisdom and knowledge of fundamentals - - - the truths that never change.

Many people offer as their excuse for staying away from church - - - they "do not like the pastor" - - - they "do not like" this or that. "Listen" to what Franklin said in a letter to his niece:

"GO CONSTANTLY TO CHURCH, whoever preaches. The act of devotion in the Common Prayer Book is your principal business there and if properly attended to will do more toward amending the heart than sermons generally can do . . . yet I do not mean you should despise sermons, even of the pastors you dislike, for the discourse is often much better than the man - - - as sweet and clear waters come through very dirty earth."

Rev. Phillips Is Honored At Church

Rev. Garrett H. Phillips, pastor of the Mentone and Talma United Methodist Churches, was presented a new Bible during the Sunday morning worship hour on the occasion is his preaching his 13,000th sermon and the beginning of his 40th year in the ministry.

Rev. Phillips, who preached his first sermon at the age of 16, has preached in 31 different states and has had 35 men enter the ministry under his preaching.

The Bible was given by the Phillip's Bible School of which he is president.

Fellowship Is Hosted

Mrs. Rozella Tinkey was hostess to the Women's Fellowship of the Church of the Brethren for the February meeting.

The meeting was opened with the group singing a hymn. Lana Tinkey and Glenda Mark played a duet on their flutes. Mrs. Betty Gearhart was in charge of the devotions. The lesson was on "Hannah-The Prayerful Mother." Scripture was taken from the Books of Samuel. She dismissed with prayer. The president brought to attention that their group as well as women from other churches were needed in Nappanee to do sewing for relief work. After the business meeting was conducted, a Valentine exchange of baked goods was held. The receipt was included along with each baked item.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess in keeping with Valentine's Day.

A Valentine box of fruit was packed and taken to Mr. Owen Holmes, a patient at the Timbercrest Home at No. Manchester. Mr. Holmes is also remembered at various times of the year by the women's group.

Mrs. Norma Weaver will be hostess for the March meeting with Mrs. Velma Holloway in charge of devotions.

The Youth

Much has been written about the youth of today; immoral, smoking pot or grass, taking dope, hippies, longhair, short skirts. I am sure much is wrong with youth today.

However, several things of some worth have been my privilege to witness the past two weeks. I attended church Sunday where 15 youth gave the entire service, four youth gave the sermon. It was great! I attended Ash Wednesday breakfast where 60 youth came on a very cold morning to eat and worship. The entire basketball team with their coach was there. Then I listened to 60-some youth give the first Lenten Service at the Center Theater. It was really grand! I know 80 youth are getting ready to give the second Lenten Service. I listened to two youth who gave up their jobs last summer to go build a church on an Indian reservation.

I find the youth kind and helpful. I find they do not go along with everything. When one of our high school youths goes to the hospital, so many youth go to see him that the hospital must restrict them. I have three youth in my own home. No doubt the youth today is an improvement over the last generation.

Go Youth Go!

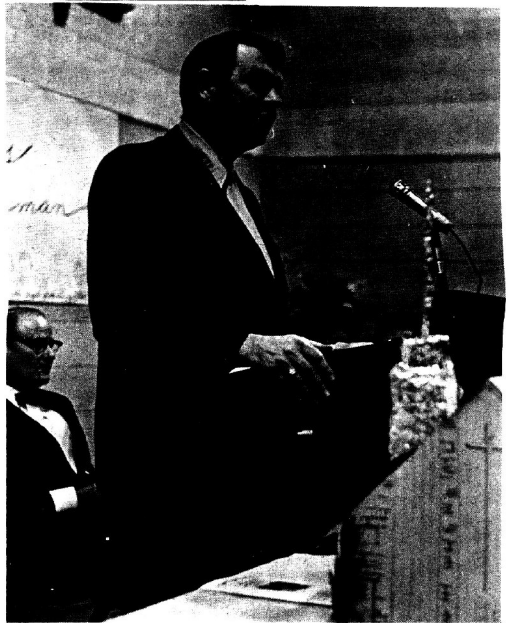

Garrett H. Phillips Hears Speakers

Speakers at the Akron Church of God Fellowship dinner in the school cafeteria Saturday evening were Charles Swick, Joe Wildermuth and J. Loyd Brown, guest director. Larry Klein served as master of ceremonies and Gail Hammond led the singing.

The congregation is currently engaged in an effort to raise funds to provide better Sunday School rooms.

A large team of workers is being trained by Rev. Brown, and each family in the congregation will be given an opportunity to participate in the endeavor.

Next Sunday is Visitation Sunday in which the church will try to reach a goal of $68,000 to be received in the next three years.

LARRY KLEIN, general chairman of the building program being launched by the Akron Church of God, served as master of ceremonies at a special dinner held Saturday to launch the program. A replica of the present church is in front of the speaker's stand. Rev. J. Loyd Brown, who is training a team of local workers, is shown at the left.

The plan offers "free" Amiben for part of the 1971 crop based upon how much a farmer buys and how early he buys it in 1970. According to industry sources, this is the first time a company has offered an early purchase plan structured to benefit the farmer, and the first time that profit sharing has entered into the picture.

War Mothers List Proects

Mrs. Cora Coplen, president of the Akron War Mothers, has prepared a yearly report for that organization that shows the following:

The Mothers of World War II meet the second Monday night of each month. Opening the meetings in ritualistic form, we have different ways of making our expenses. In January we were hostess to a Stanley party, receiving $48. We sell dish cloths and extracts at all times, $31.40. In July three mothers rode in the 4th of July parade, and we had a bazaar table and raffle on the grounds, taking in $132.24. In September, nine mothers went to Fort Wayne to the Veterans' hospital where they served homemade cookies and coffee to 65 patients and gave $15 worth of quarters as gifts. We sold 400 poinsettias in November, $103.43.

We have given 50 made over hospital shirts, six lap robes, ten pajamas and four pairs of scuffies to the hospital. The clothing was valued at $255 to the VA hospital. Also, we gave $10 for a picnic at the Old Soldiers home and $40 to needy families. $135 was given to various hospitals as a state project and $5 was given towards a memorial for soldiers buried at the soldiers home in Lafayette.

Also, $5 was given to the Community Fund, $5 to the Pepsi Fund for soldiers in Vietnam, $27 for raffles we have at meetings, flowers for memorial and others, $27.50, $50 for Christmas to boys in the service.

Mrs. Coplen concluded her report by thanking everyone who had helped the members in their work.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

MAN, HAVE I GOT PROBLEMS by David Wilkerson. Here is a new book by David Wilkerson whose parish is a large one, made up of a strange mixture of people. It stretches from coast to coast in this country, and into most every country of the world. He talks with college students, parents, ministers, teachers, businessmen, addicts, alcoholics, prostitutes, bookies and hippies. He knows what people are talking about when they say, "Man, have I got problems!"

FURNACE OF THE LORD by Elizabeth Elliot. In the Fall of 1967, Elizabeth Elliot, writer and missionary, visited Jerusalem. With extensive quotes from Arab interviews and an equal amount of sympathy for Arab and Israeli views, Furnace of the Lord presents an intimate portrait of life in the new Jerusalem, which is, above all, a picture of people and cultures in conflict.

THIS IS EARL NIGHTINGALE by Earl Nightingale. "Human beings rebel against anything simple", says Earl Nightingale. "It seems that in order to be properly impressed, people have to complicate things. We forget what the great teachers have told us; we forget to keep it simple." Earl Nightingale has not forgotten, and what he has to say in these pages he says in the same clear, friendly, nonsense manner that has won him the world's largest audience on radio.

THE THREE LIVES OF SHARON SPENCE by Elizabeth Corbett. This delightful novel tells the story of the outcome of Sharon Spence's decision with each of the three possible alternatives fully developed into a romantic story of its own, and a final conclusion which is sure to please all readers.

GERALD AND ELIZABETH by D.E. Stevenson. Expertly combining romance, inspiring relationships, warmth, and a generous helping of suspense, Miss Stevenson has created in Gerald and Elizabeth her most engrossing and exciting novel.

This Special Issue Salutes Sectional

This 28-page special issue is dedicated to the six high school basketball teams who will participate in the Indiana High School Athletic Association sectional tournament set to begin at Warsaw on Wednesday, Feb. 25, is our first annual effort.

A total of 10,000 copies have been printed. In addition to being stuffed into all copies of The Mail-Journal and The Akron-Mentone News some 4,000 copies are being distributed in the Akron, Mentone, Rochester, Triton, Warsaw and Wawasee high schools.

None of this would have been possible without the cooperation we received from the high schools involved. Their principals and coaches have done an outstanding job in supplying facts and figures.

This special tournament edition features scoring rundowns, season record lists, rosters, stories and pictures on the six participating teams and their cheerleaders plus an indication of the tremendous support for all of the squads through advertising provided by the business and industry of the area.

We hope you will enjoy reading about your favorite team and that you will support them in the coming tournament.

Sectional Tournament Winner May Go To Hinkle Field House In Indianapolis

The team that comes out on top at the Warsaw sectional next week end will be one step closer to playing in the now-famous Hinkle field house at Butler university in Indianapolis.

The winning team, however, will have to win the regional at Elkhart and the semi-state at Fort Wayne before it may join the fabled four in Indianapolis.

Hinkle field house was built in 1928 for the sum of $75,000. It is 330 feet long, 210 feet wide and 90 feet high.

Seating capacity: 14,943.

The field house also includes a 120 x 100 physical education gym, two classrooms, a band room and swimming pool.

Who Won The Sectional?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The Mail-Journal is interested in completing this list of tournament winners. If anyone knows of earlier winners or those we do not have we would appreciate a call).

Remember Championship Game Of 1969

Phenomenal — sensational — impossible! were the words one heard last year following Kim Essenberg's jumper at the buzzer that gave his Warsaw Tigers the 1969 sectional championship.

Warsaw and Triton were tied 49 all with six seconds remaining. Two passes got the ball to 6 foot 6½ inch Essenberg, the Tiger's center, who dribbled to the corner, went up and swish that was the ball game!

Triton got in the finals by beating Akron 63-62 in an afternoon thriller. Warsaw defeated Mentone on Thursday evening and Rochester Saturday afternoon to reach their final berth.

Triton's Don Long was high point man with 16 as teammate Randy Glinglie hit for 13.

Essenberg scored 13 and John Knisely added 12 for the Tigers.

Basketball Takes More Than Coaches And Players

The game of basketball takes more than a head basketball coach and 10 varsity basketball players to put a team on the floor and make it click. It takes:

THE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR AND PRINCIPAL — whose activities include scheduling games, coordinating sports at the various high schools, checking to see that players are not over age and have achieved high enough grades to be eligible to play in the sectional.

Many of the small details that take place behind the scenes of basketball are handled through the athletic director or principal of the various schools.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES — who keep track of fouls, time outs remaining, opposing team substitutions during a game, watching individual team players and checking to see they are carrying out their responsibility on the floor.

If any of the assistant coaches spots anything in the game that needs to be checked he immediately reports to the head coach whose responsibility it is to make the final decision and correct the problems that arise.

MANAGERS — who are responsible for seeing the team's uniforms and other basketball equipment is ready for use when it's needed. They are very busy young men and must see to it that this equipment and the uniforms are packed when the team is traveling and get things ready when the team is playing at home or practicing.

The manager is usually the first to arrive at the scene of a basketball game and the last to leave.

TRAINERS — are students who usually work under adult supervision. They are responsible for taping players before games and treating injuries that may occur during a game or practice. They must have their first aid supplies on hand and ready whenever the team meets to play or practice. They also assist with accident reports and keep records on injuries. At least one trainer must be present at every practice.

CHEERLEADERS — The cheerleaders and their sponsor are on hand at every game to lead the students and fans in yelling for their team and creating school spirit. These young ladies have a big and important job as they must keep the crowd under control and keep the spirits of the team high.

Many basketball games are won with the help of good cheerleaders who keep the crowd backing their team the entire year. Basketball team members who feel their fans are behind them respond to yells and often play a better game because of the interest shown in their game.

FANS — Every team needs fans to back them and give them support. The support the advertisers have shown every team in this special issue proves that they all will have plenty of support as they meet in Warsaw next week.

SHE FLIPPED — When the Akron Flyers defeated the Wawasee Warriors during regular season play 89-83 Akron cheerleader Jennell Geiger literally flipped.

She is shown above as she was caught in mid-air by a Mail-Journal photographer as she went through a gyration of sheer ecstasy.

Warsaw Tigers, Defending Champs, Favored In Sectional Tournament

"We could be defeated by anybody we play in the sectional," says "Boag" Johnson, coach of the Warsaw Tigers.

Although his Tigers are favored in the sectional tournament to be played Feb. 25-28 in the big (3409 seat capacity) Warsaw high school gym, this was the low key appraisal coach Johnson gave for the record.

The Tigers enter the tourney with a 13 win and six loss season record. One win was over Jeffersonville (67-53) in the four-way holiday tournament.

Coach Johnson's Tigers could carry off the lead spot in the Northern Lakes Conference (Warsaw, Rochester, Wawasee, Bremen, NorthWood and Concord), and are assured of a tie for first place.

Plenty of Height

The Tigers have plenty of height to carry them through the sectional, with the Essenburg brothers, Kim (6 foot 7 inches) and Brian (6 foot 6½ inches), leading the pack.

The two brothers are excellent rebounders and Kim is an especially good shot, according to coach Johnson.

The Tigers have a "win season" going for them as the sectional is about to begin, and they will certainly be the team to beat in anyone's hopes of advancing to the regional tournament at Elkhart in the week to follow the sectional, at which winners of the sectionals of Warsaw, Columbia City, LaVille and Elkhart will vie for a chance to compete in the semi-finals.

TIGER COACH, ASSISTANT — The coach of the highly touted Warsaw Tigers is David R. (better known as "Boag") Johnson, shown here on the right with his assistant Hugh Ressler, now in his first year with the Warsaw squad. Ressler came to Warsaw from Rochester.

Boag Johnson came to the Warsaw school in the fall of 1961 from Columbia City where he had been athletic director for three years. During the years as coach at Warsaw, Johnson's Tigers have held impressive records, winning sectional tournaments in 1965, '66, '67, and '69.

Johnson has a personal record of playing professional basketball for the Fort Wayne Zollner Pistons (three years), and for the Anderson Packers (two years).

THE ESSENBERG BOYS —
 The big threat to any basketball team facing the Warsaw Tigers in the forth-coming sectional tournament is the combination of the two tall Essenberg brothers, Kim, number 55, and Brian, 45. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Essenberg.

Kim is a senior who stands 6 foot 7 inches, while Brian is a junior who stands 6 foot 6½ inches.

Both boys have a remarkable scoring record, exceeded only by their combined effort as rebounders under the basket. More than one time, the tall twosome has kept the Tigers in the running with their excellence on the court. Kim is a consistent high scorer, coach Johnson stated.

Fans will remember another Essenberg brother, Jan, who graduated in 1967 from Warsaw high school, a member of the Tigers team that was at one time rated third in the state. He is now a junior in the Virginia Military Institute.

Vern Zurcher Leads Wawasee Warriors

Vernon Zurcher, in his second year at Wawasee, is the school's first basketball coach. He came to the Lakeland area from Adams Central high school of Monroe after five years there.

Zurcher also coached the Larwill Trojans for five years.

During his five years at Adams Central he compiled a 79 win, 37 loss record and won three sectional tournament crowns.

Zurcher received his BA degree from Huntington college and his MA degree from Ball State.

He is assisted in his coaching chores by Mike Kurtz and Jerry Minton. Both Kurtz and Minton taught and coached at North Webster before the construction of Wawasee high school.

Kurtz also heads the B-team at Wawasee and Minton's duties include the guidance of the freshman team.

Could This Be The Year Of The Warriors?

Could this be the year of the Warrior? Many fans hope it is. And, who knows, even though Wawasee doesn't sport the best season record of the tournament it may well be.

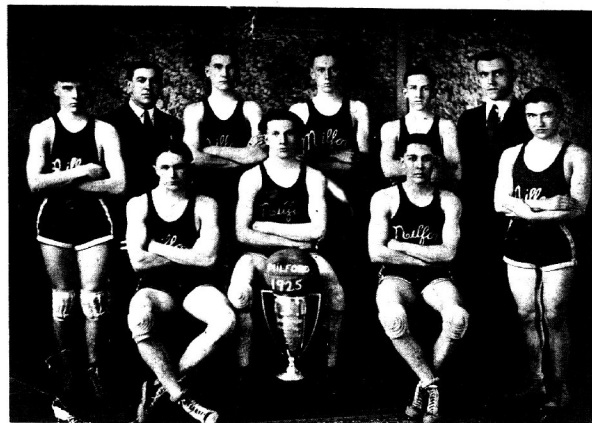

Anything goes when "Hoosier Hysteria" gets into full swing and the sectional gets underway and this may well be the year of the Warrior.

This is the time of the year when sportswriters and fans alike throw the record books out the window. Sectional tournament time is a time for basketball upsets. It is a time when the underdog often comes out on top and a time when no one knows who is going to be the champ until the final gun is sounded.

Yes, this could be the year of the Warrior! Milford, Syracuse and North Webster all have sectional trophies in their show cases and both Milford and Syracuse have played in the state tournament.

MHS in 1925

Back in 1925 Milford had a team that consisted of green farm boys. Green they may have been and farm boys they may have been but they were the team to beat in this area that year. They won the county, sectional and regional tournaments and found themselves in the "Sweet Sixteen" at Indianapolis. Vincennes upset Milford in the old Fairgrounds Cow Barn by a score of 26 to 31, with Birch

MILFORD 1925

Bayh, Sr., father of the current U.S. Senator of the same name, officiating.

The game was the state tourney opener, and the Indianapolis newspaper, new at carrying photographs showed tall, six foot, three inch, Clayton ("Si") Hollar jumping center. Hollar is still a resident of Milford.

SHS in 1926

The following year Syracuse sent its second team to the "Sweet Sixteen." Court Slabaugh was coach there then and sent two teams to the state in seven years, the first was in the early 20's.

Leon Connolly, Syracuse attorney, was captain of the 1926 team and recalls four of the starting five players went to Indianapolis with the flu. They lead 15-2 with only minutes to go in the first half but were defeated by Bedford.

With teams like this in the past and the potential Wawasee has this could be the year of the Warrior!

HITS 1,000 MARK — Indiana basketball is played at a much faster pace than it was in by-gone days. This faster pace combined with more accurate shooters has done much to increase scoring.

Even with this increase very few players hit the 1,000 point mark during their high school careers. This mark was surpassed this year by Wawasee's Steve Zurcher.

Zurcher, a six foot guard who can also play forward for the Warriors, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Zurcher and is a senior at Wawasee.

He began his basketball career at Adams Central in Monroe where he scored 261 points as a sophomore. Last year he hit 433 as a junior at Wawasee and won the Northern Lakes Conference scoring championship. He's well over the 300 point mark this year with the season not yet over.

Steve topped the coveted 1,000 point mark on January 31 when the Warriors downed a visiting Lakeland team in an exciting game.

During the first part of the season he averaged 27 points per game. An illness about mid-season has kept him from playing full-time in many games, however, he is still Wawasee's leading scorer for the year and is high in Northern Lakes Conference averages.

Wawasee Warriors: A Team To Watch

Because of their win-loss record Wawasee isn't expected to go far in the sectional tournament. The Warriors are, however, a team to watch and with a bit of luck and the right breaks the Warriors could surprise everyone and walk away with it all.

The Warriors have lost to Akron 83-89, Rochester 57-78 and Warsaw 54-75 and defeated Mentone 90-62. They do not play Triton during the regular season. One thing that does show in Wawasee's favor is the fact the Warriors defeated the North Manchester Squires 71-68 while Manchester in turn stopped Warsaw 59-62.

Last year Wawasee was in the first year of its existence and coach Vernon Zurcher faced a rebuilding task as well as the consolidation of three — Milford, North Webster and Syracuse — basketball teams into one.

Many Close Games

The team posted a 6-14 season in its first season and has improved on this during the current season. Both years the team lost several close games. This year the Warriors have played in three overtimes, losing two and winning one, and have lost six other games by less than eight points after leading in many of them.

Fairfield defeated the Warriors 49-51 in an overtime and Bremen defeated them 69-73 in a double overtime. Other close losses were to Carroll 53-57, Portage 56-63, Lakeland 70-75, Akron, and West Noble 55-58, and Nappanee 65-66.

Coach Zurcher feels his Warriors are capable of playing ball with most of the teams on their schedule and with so many close games this season feels his boys can give anyone trouble.

Two Problems

Zurcher says his team has two problems: Errors and fouls. In the last six or seven games they have cut down tremendously on fouls but still need to cut down on SENIORS HONORED — Senior members of the Wawasee high school basketball squad, cheerleaders and managers were honored between games Tuesday night.

The coach feels his Warriors have quite a bit of depth which usually helps in tournaments. Most of the Warriors' squad has played in a lot of games.

As of February 10 the Warriors had a field goal percentage of 38.5 against 40.1 for their opponents. They had scored a total of 1233 points while their opponents scored 1245.

In free throws Wawasee made 66.5 per cent while their opponents made 70.1 per cent.

Steve Zurcher is the top Warrior scorer for the year with 373 points to his credit as of the 10th of February. He is followed by Dave Elliott with 197, Mark Thomas with 121, Russ Mikel with 109, Keith Stichter with 100, Al Barrett with 90 and sophomore John Hamilton with 86. Elliott, Thomas and Mikel are juniors.

Thomas is the team's top offensive rebounder with 73 while Elliott leads with 142 defensive rebounds.

As basketball teams go these days Wawasee's club is comparatively short with Dave Elliott at 6 foot 3 inches being the tallest on the team. Barrett, Lundy, Stichter, and Thomas are all over the six foot mark, however, and Zurcher, Hamilton and Hughes are listed at six even.

Who knows, it's been an unusual year for the Warriors who have lost so many close games. They could settle down by sectional time and with less fouls and less errors could make the other participating teams step back and take notice!

In Indiana Basketball Is King

The game of basketball is only 79 years old, younger than Harry Truman or Maurice Chevalier, but just as durable and just as spell-binding to its fans.

The brain child of Dr. James A. Naismith, an instructor at the International Young Men's Christian Association Training School (now Springfield College) at Springfield, Massachusetts, the game came into being in 1891 when Dr. Naismith tacked peach baskets to the Y's balcony for the boys to pitch balls through. He had been searching for a game that would increase the club's attendance during the winter months and had concluded after much study that the game should include a ball and that it should be easily played indoors during the winter months. He chose a curved goal, rather than uprights as in football, and to avoid defensive clutter around the goal, the goal was placed above the players' heads. At first a soccer ball was used instead of the present 20-22 ounce basketball.

The game proved popular immediately and by 1894 the Amateur Athletic Union had joined the YMCA in administering the game. The first professional league was formed in 1898 with athletes being paid up to $225 per month. The game was played in the 1904 Olympics as an exhibition. It wasn't until 1906 that the peach baskets were replaced by metal hoops.

By 1913, the rules were printed in 30 languages throughout the world with an estimated 20,000,000 players taking part in the game.

Since the game was so easy to learn and because it didn't need the number of athletes required for football or baseball, it was quickly adapted to high school competition. The first teams consisted of seven players but later changed to nine, then to eight and finally settled on five.

Somewhere along the line, someone introduced the game to Indiana and the state took it to its heart so strongly that it is nicknamed "Hoosier Hysteria" and its devoted fans follow its progress through the winter months.

Described by one publication as "sweeping the state like Asian flu each year," the game's followers permit not even bad roads or the Asian flu itself to deter their participation.

Some experts say that the game received such favorable acceptance in the state because the residents needed additional diversion after the harvest was in and since the church and school traditionally provided this diversion, it was natural that high school basketball should gain a devoted following. This, coupled with the fact that the game could be played on an empty lot, in an old barn or any other place large enough to tack up two baskets, helped it gain popularity.

The early games were reported as riotous affairs with few rules and lots of spirit.

ROCHESTER ZEBRAS, 1909 — of which that year's school annual said: As winter and the basketball season approached, interest was aroused and school spirit grew, for basketball is the pet game of Rochester. Some pessimistic ones were sure that our team would not be as good this year as last, — that we had none who could equal last year's guards, Haimbaugh and Goss, and that Rees would be missed. But the optimists, who represent the spirit of the school, were just as sure that the stars of 1908-09 would outshine those of 1907-8. Soon after practice began in October, it was evident that they were right. Bob Shafer, who entered last fall, was just the man needed. Dudgeon and Karn proved that they had the making of fast guards. These three, with the two old men, Barr and Barnhart, made up the first team, while the three substitutes, Foglesong, Davis and Agster, pushed them for their positions. As the High School realized that it had a good team, the opening of the season was eagerly welcomed. That year, Rochester defeated Bremen 139-9, winning nine other games by more conventional scores.

Moving from barns and lots, the games were played in little crackerbox gymnasiums where players dodged low-hanging rafters and pot-bellied stoves as well as the feet and fists of overly partisan fans.

Better roads and communication coupled with the advent of the automobile, saw the local teams seek out competition from other towns with the loyal fans following right along.

The first Indiana championship tournament was held in 1911 at Indiana University where Crawfordsville, the school with the first bonafide gymnasium in the state, won a 24-17 victory over Lebanon.

The next year, 1912, there were four preliminary tourney sites around the state—at Muncie, Vincennes, Notre Dame and Indianapolis. That year, Lebanon defeated Franklin 51-11, and rivalries began forming.

Although World War I slowed the game's momentum slightly, its popularity remained high and in 1921 the tournament was moved to Indianapolis and came under the sponsorship of the Indiana High School Athletic Association.

Franklin won the tournament three straight years, 1920-23, and from that time on basketball was firmly entrenched as an institution in Indiana.

Huge gymnasiums began to appear along with basketball hoops on every available barn door, and fathers who had been champions coached their sons to follow in their footsteps or to excel even more. Towns came to be judged by their basketball team and rivalries continued to form as the game became "Hoosier Hysteria."

From 15 teams known to be participating in basketball in 1903, the number had grown to 774 high schools in 1954 with more than 9,000 games being scheduled throughout the winter.

Although outsiders often wonder at this madness, Hoosiers know that it is something more basic than that. It is boy against boy, team against team, town against town, little guy against big guy plus all the thrills, chills, excitement and noise thrown together, this wonderful thing, this Hoosier Hysteria where basketball is truly king!

Four file for school board posts

Four men have filed as candidates for three vacancies on the Tippecanoe Valley school board. They are Larry Klein from district 4 (Henry Twp.), Philip K. Lash and Dr. O.L. McFadden from district 3 (Franklin Twp.) and David L. Burkett from district 5 (Newcastle Twp.). Burkett and McFadden are incumbents, and McFadden is the vice president of the board.

Burkett owns the Burkett General Store in Talma. He and his wife are the parents of three daughters, two of whom attend the Mentone school. He is a graduate of Akron High School.

McFadden and his wife are the parents of five children, all of whom attend the Mentone school. The Mentone veterinarian is active in civic and community work.

Lash, a farmer, lives two miles south of Mentone and is married to the former Violet Jones. They are the parents of two children, John and Ann, who attend the Akron school. He is a graduate of Beaver Dam High School and Purdue University and taught at the Mentone school for five years.

Klein, a graduate of Beaver Dam High School and Anderson College, is a teacher in the North Miami school system. He and his wife Barbara are the parents of three children, Melvin, Kathy and Gary. Melvin and Kathy attend the Akron school.

The school board posts will be determined in the May primary election. Ralph Davis, president of the board and representative from Henry township, will hold over one year before a member from that district is sworn in. This insures that only two new members could go on the board at any given time.

Dan Manion Addresses Mentone C of C

"Your attitude is the most important thing in developing your community," Dan Manion told members of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce and their wives Monday evening at a dinner meeting in Teel's Restaurant.

Manion, Director of the Industrial Development Division, Indiana Department of Commerce, is the son of Dr. Clarence Manion, former Dean of the Notre Dame Law School, and is a graduate of Notre Dame and a Vietnam veteran. In his speech, Manion described himself as a conservative, saying a conservative is a person who builds constructively and that this is a way he likes to see a community build. He praised members of the Chamber of Commerce for the foresight shown in building the all-weather runway at the Mentone Airport, saying this was a good beginning in community development.

Manion also complimented Mr. and Mrs. Glen Denton who were honored by the Chamber for their 25 years of service to the community.

There are so many ideas dodging around in my brain since I read the NEWS. We are surely happy that you earned so many awards. You must have been so thrilled. Then your editorial of the family reception you received is just right:

families know we are wonderful and award us with love daily.

Last week, music contest awards were reported and it reminds us that this is the time when students and athletes bring honor to their community. May God keep blessing our youth.

Another Underhanded Scheme

In the name of environmental control, predictions are made that in coming years the government will direct land-use, including decisions on farm practices. Apparently, the constitutional right of the U.S. citizens to own property and to exercise that right, with a reasonable degree of freedom, is envisioned as superfluous and against the public interest. In the light of this, it is interesting to read about growing meat shortages and discontent among the Soviet people because of the harsh government farm policies. With minor exceptions, Russian peasants control neither their land nor crops. They own neither. They are told what to do by the state hierarchy, which is enmeshed in a maze of bureaucracy and political rivalry.

A great many underhanded schemes have been advanced for depriving U.S. citizens of their liberty. No scheme could do the job with greater finality than gradual emasculation of the right of property ownership. That right is the primary distinction between citizens and peasants—something of which our forefathers were well aware nearly two centuries ago.

"My Letter To The Governor" Contest Is Launched

Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb this week asked all the state's primary pupils in grades one through six to write him a letter expressing their thoughts about what is good about Indiana.

The competition, first of its kind to be sponsored by a Chief Executive in Indiana, will be known as "My Letter to the Governor," and will be judged by a panel of 13 newspaper publishers, editors, reporters, wire service and television executives

Words of Wisdom

"Yes, there are dirty plays, but not one has even approached the performance record of homey 'Oklahoma' or 'Fiddlers on the Roof.' Foreigners are scornful of our ghettos. Yet tens of millions are being spent by businesses to rebuild slums with modern homes, and the median Negro family income has risen to $5,360 a year and the number earning $7,000 has doubled in ten years. Forty-five percent of Americans attend church and 70 percent consider religion very important. More Americans finish high school than in true of any other nation, and we're getting ready to improve that even more by special programs (developed in America) for pre-school children. And the number of American adults who continue their schooling even into old age is the wonder of the world. Book buying has doubled in 10 years—good books. Fifty million Americans donate time and 14 billion dollars every year to charity. And you can add paragraphs of what else is good from your own experience. All of which makes a pretty good national anthem, doesn't it—a lot healthier than the sorry blues which too many love to sing." —Warner and Swasey, U.S. News & World Report, Feb. 2, 1970.

from throughout the state.

The young state winners will be taken to the state capitol with their parents and classroom teacher in Gov. Whitcomb's limousine with a state police escort for luncheon with Gov. and Mrs. Whitcomb April 14.

The contest requirements ask that all letters be no more than 200 words. Young students may draw pictures and these should be on 8½ by 11 inch paper.

INDIANAPOLIS: "The anguish that has been ruled by reassessment of reas estate in Indiana can be alleviated only by making drastic changes in our tax structure," George Doup, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau, told a group of 2,000 farm women recently. "Schools are for people, not property," he said, "and should be funded primarily by people, not property taxes." His solution is to establish a school district income tax that would be collected in the same manner that is now being done with school district property tax. "Local school boards would have the same control of their budgets that they now have, but a sizable portion of their funds would come from a local income tax rather than all of their local funds from the property tax," he explained.

Akron Church of God Tops Goal

The Akron Church of God achieved victory in its building fund drive last Sunday. The goal was $68,000 and as of Monday night $70,255.20 had been pledged. Beyond this, the church still has more than fifty contacts to make this week.

Pastor J. D. Thomason states that the achievement was due to the hard work and splendid co-operation of the congregation. More than fifty visitors were trained by Rev. J. Lloyd Brown and these people made many of their visits Sunday afternoon.

The aim of the drive was to provide better Sunday School facilities. The exact time of building is not known, but it may be within the next three years. All decisions will be made by the congregation on this venture.

Prices for milk in the city are such that more money can be made by selling milk with less labor than by making butter by 25 cents a lb.

One of the "HWI FRIENDLY ONES" Dick Day - Owner-Dealer

The best way to keep a teenage daughter out of hot water is to put some dirty dishes in it. The way girls wear their skirts now-a-days takes all the wonder out of under.

Overheard at one of the teen-dances: "Let's sit this one out. My arms are killing me". "Our youth now live in luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority, and disrespect for older people. Children today are tyrants. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble their food, and tyrannize their teachers". Sound familiar? It was written by Socrates in the 5th Century B.C.

Come in and talk to Dick when you need a Refrigerator, Stove, Washer, Dryer or Freezer. He can help you pick the right one to fit your home & pocket book from the many that Frigidaire and Amana produce.

Mini-skirts, low cut necklines, and bikinis sure makes it difficult to look a woman straight in the eye.

Dick says: "It's easy for the 'HWI FRIENDLY ONES' at DAY HARDWARE to look a customer straight in the eye. Being members of HWI (with tremendous volume buying power) we know we're giving our customers the very best in products for the very least in price".

Cook Electric ... 'cause it's Clean

An Electric Range is extra clean because it's flameless. There's no fumes or smoke to dirty your home. Many new models even feature self-cleaning ovens to save you that messy, thankless task.

But the real advantages of cooking electric are ease and speed. You select the "just right" temperature for every dish. Once you've established a superior recipe, you can repeat it time after time.

Small wonder so many "old fashion" cooks prefer the "new fashion" fuel... flameless electricity. With an Electric Range, better cooking is just a dial away.

Visit your favorite appliance store to find the Electric Range that is just right for your family.

You're certain to cook rings around the rest with a clean, flameless Electric Range!

Don't Steal Cars; Computer Is Watching

A New York State Police trooper uses a hand microphone to radio in to troop headquarters the license number of an automobile being followed. With the force's real-time computer system, inquiry checks on license plates can be completed in a total elapsed time of 2½ to 3 minutes.

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — Buck Rogers isn't the only comic strip character whose futuristic equipment has become a reality in the Space Age.

Many police departments in the United States are now starting to rival Dick Tracy in the sophisticated devices they are using to cope with the ever-increasing crime rate.

Probably the most important of these tools is the electronic computer containing in its memory information on stolen cars, stolen license plates, stolen property, missing persons, wanted fugitives and a host of other types of data.

The New York State Police system is perhaps typical of the application of the computer in this type of operation.

A trooper on patrol radios a suspect license number of a car he is checking to the nearest police post. At the station the inquiry message is entered into a teletype terminal and sent directly to a UNIVAC 418-Real Time Computer at the State Police Communications Center in Albany. Within approximately 17-20 seconds the computer searches its memory and reports whether the car is stolen.

If the car is from out-of-state, the message is automatically routed to the computer at the National Crime Information Center at the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D.C. This computer contains information on stolen vehicles, stolen property and wanted persons, etc. for 49 of the 50 states.

A teletype reply message is then transmitted to the originating police post and relayed by radio to the trooper informing him if the car is a "wanted" vehicle.

According to Deputy Superintendent for Administration, John J. McGuire of the New York State Police, the primary benefits of the new system are that "you can now alert a trooper to the facts of the situation before committing him to action, and additionally, you can catch the thief as well as locate a stolen car."

THERE GO OUR TREES

Thirty years ago one of the main attributes of our town of Akron was its trees.

Frequently, the town was remembered for and complimented on its rows of beautiful trees. Those trees made our town cool on a blistering hot summer day and were the homes of a beautiful array of songbirds and squirrels.

Today they are being savagely mutilated, neglected and destroyed.

We owe this God-given tree legacy to our forebearers who left us the custody of a beautiful village.

Apparently there is little interest in preserving or restoring our trees. A town ordinance was passed prohibiting tree planting between sidewalk and curbs (which is where our trees are principally located) and the only available tree location on some lots.

The Public Service Co. has a tree destruction machine with which they are roaming our streets and gradually destroying trees. They apparently are not interested in tree beauty but only in getting rid of them to avoid any possible conflict with their power lines.

No encouragement and little planting is taking place. If the present rate of tree destruction trend continues its acceleration, we will be a treeless town within ten years.

This is only one more step in the direction of our becoming a "Packerton" rural ghetto described in the February Farm Journal.

Tree and wild life den destruction, pollution, litter, water unfit for use, are increasingly becoming a hallmark of our village.

Are we going to settle for third place, arguing that we can't afford first?

It's up to you and me.

It's not too late YET.

Now and After

TREES

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her heavy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Brigadoon Roles Are Assigned

More leading role assignments have been made for Brigadoon, the musical to be presented by Akron High School, Apr. 23, 24 and 25.

Jeff will be portrayed by Dale Thomason, a junior, the son of Rev. and Mrs. J.D. Thomason, and Meg Brochie will be portrayed by Nancy Kuhn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Kuhn and a senior.

Jeff is a red-blooded all-American, who is the product of the New York cosmopolitan work a day society which is comfortably complacent about life. He adds a great deal of humor as he plays against Meg when she tries to convince him to be the real love of her life.

Indiana county was chosen to meet at Weir Cook airport in Indianapolis and travel aboard a Purdue Airlines jet-liner to Washington, D.C. for a one-day field trip to many of the nation's historical memorials and points of current governmental interest.

Accompanying the student group on the flight will be Gov. and Mrs. Whitcomb; Supt. and Mrs. Richard Wells; Joseph P. Minton, president of Purdue Airlines Inc. and Mrs. Minton; President of Imperial Educational Programs, Robert Q. Calloway and Mrs. Calloway; Dr. Lowell Rose, Executive secretary, Indiana School Boards Association; and Dr. Harmen Baldwin, executive secretary, Indiana School Superintendents Assoc.

American History Month

The month of February is observed annually as American History Month by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Many notable events have taken place in February, amongst them being the destruction of the battleship Maine in 1898 in Havana harbor; in 1899 the first U.S. Flag was raised on Guam; in 1945 General MacArthur entered Manila, opening the way to regain the Philippines, and in 1962 the first manned orbital flight occurred with John Glenn at the controls. February is the birth month of Presidents Lincoln, Washington and Harrison as well as Thomas Edison and Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, say members of the Manitou Chapter DAR.

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.

Tombaugh Outlines Juvenile Court Procedure

Judge Wendell C. Tombaugh of the Fulton Circuit Court recently issued the following statement regarding his court's juvenile policy:

The policies of this Court are now reduced to writing into the following Statement of Policy and made a matter of public record. They are intended as general guide lines and not as hard and fast rules. They shall be flexible and even subject to change so the Court can, in any given case, best carry out the spirit and intent of the Juvenile Act, (Burns' 9-3201), which gives the Court exclusive jurisdiction in all cases of delinquent, dependent and neglected children under 18 years of age. (Burns' 9-3103):

1. All petitions alleging delinquency shall be filed by the Probation Officer. All petitions alleging dependency or neglect shall be filed by the Fulton Co. Department of Public Welfare (Burns' 9-3208)

2. Upon authorization by the Court that a petition should be filed, the Probation Officer (or Dept. of Public Welfare) shall furnish sufficient information to the Prosecuting Attorney who shall draft said petition, setting forth the allegations with specificity.

3. The Court waives jurisdiction of any case against a child over 16 and under 18 years of age charged with violation of any traffic law of the state or traffic ordinance of a subdivision of the state; Provided, the Court does not waive jurisdiction of any traffic violation where the juvenile has allegedly committed other juvenile violation (s) related and in addition thereto (Burns' 9-3213).

4. The Court will not assume jurisdiction in any case involving an act of delinquency allegedly committed by a juvenile student, during school hours including school activities, on school property, at the school of enrollment of said juvenile, unless requested by the proper school official to assume jurisdiction; Provided, that the Court will not assume jurisdiction in any such case where the school has taken or indicates it plans to take any disciplinary action prior to a determination of delinquency by the Court.

5. The Prosecuting Attorney shall appear in every contested hearing.

6. Upon a determination of delinquency and imposition of probation, the Court, through the Probation Officer, will furnish a copy of the terms of probation to each of the following:

- Juvenile
- Parent (a), guardian or custodian
- Probation Officer
- Others as the Court may direct, including:

Sheriff, State Police, City Police, Town Marshal, School, Welfare Department, Attorneys or others.

7. The juvenile and his parent (s), guardian or custodian shall pick up their copies of the terms of probation at the office of the Probation Officer, and shall sign for same indicating that they have read and understood them.

8. A petition for Review of Probation shall be filed by the Probation Officer upon information received of any violation of probation at any time during the period of probation, even up to and including the last hour of the last day of probation.

9. After proper notice and hearing, and upon a finding and judgment by the Court of a violation of probation, all petitions and the docket sheet in the case will be released to the press including the names and addresses of the juvenile and his parent (s), guardian or custodian, the offenses in the original petition as well as those in the petition for review of probation, together with the dispositions of same. Release of same information as above will also be made in every case, where a juvenile is sent to Boys' School or Girls School. It is the opinion of this Court that at this point the public's right to know exceeds the juvenile's right to secrecy. Further, the Court will release information in the same manner in any other case where the Court finds that the public's right to know exceeds the juvenile's right to secrecy. However, under no circumstances will the Court release all or any of the pre-hearing investigation report of the Probation Officer, or the medical or psychiatric reports (Burns 9-3215.)

10. The Sheriff is directed to prohibit smoking and/or other use of tobacco by any juvenile while being interrogated or held in juvenile detention. He is further directed to limit visitation to attorneys and parents during juvenile detention.

11. If restitution is ordered, same shall be paid through the Probation Officer by bank draft or money order made payable directly to the person to whom restitution has been ordered.

12. Either by agreement or upon notice and hearing, the parent (s) of any child placed in a foster home or training school, will be ordered to pay to the limit of their ability, but not exceeding the actual cost to the Welfare Department, toward the care and maintenance, including medical and dental expense of said child; said payments to be made as ordered regularly into the Office of the Clerk of the Fulton Circuit Court. Parents, failing to comply will be ordered to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court.

Manitou DAR Honors February

The February meeting of the Manitou Chapter, DAR, was held at the home of Mrs. E. V. Herendeen. Mrs. James Henderson, regent, opened the meeting in ritualistic form and the salute to the flag was given.

Mrs. Ethel Snapp read the President General's message to the chapters.

This is National History Month. By a recently enacted law, this is the last year that Feb. 12 and 22 will be celebrated at the exact birthdates of Lincoln and Washington.

Members were told that in this month it seemed appropriate to quote some of Lincoln's famous statements to the world: "You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong." "You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence."

The Manitou chapter has sponsored a proclamation naming the month of February as American History Month by Mayor Halterman of Rochester.

The program, "From Dobbin to Appollo," was presented by Estel Bemenderfer who explained how paths were made by prehistoric man that gave the advance of transportation from then to the present time.

Impressive memorial services were conducted by Mrs. Nora Bell Bryant in memory of Mrs. Maleta Shyder.

The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem and by repeating the Mizpah.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Herendeen and her committee, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. Florence Miller and Mrs. Ernest Bryant.

Give fools their gold, and knaves their power,
Let fortune's bubble rise and fall;
Who sows a field, or trains a flower,
Or plants a tree, is more than all.

Viet Film To Be Shown At Akron

"No Greater Love," newest action film on Vietnam by World Vision International, will be shown locally at the Akron United Methodist Church on March 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Filmed under combat newsreel conditions in Vietnam, "No Greater Love" chronicles the heroism of people helping people in this war-torn land and continues the report on God at work in Vietnam which was begun in World Vision's earlier film, "Vietnam Profile."

Graphically and movingly, it unfolds the heartwarming, human story of people sharing, caring and loving deeply enough even to give their lives for someone else.

Typical of the extemporaneous, on-the-spot happenings which the New Camaro. Feb. 26th.

We've never announced a car at this time before. But then nobody's ever announced a car like this before.

Super Hugger

If it were an ordinary sportster, we'd have introduced it at the ordinary time.

Instead, we took the time to build a whole new Camaro.

We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance.

And added more hood. A faster fastback. Wider doors. And new deeply contoured bucket seats.

The instrument panel wraps around you. With enough dials to make you think you're piloting a 747.

There are four transmissions. And six power plants up to the Turbo-Jet 396 V8 that you can order.

Pick the one that best suits your driving. Then go pick on an open road.

And make it one with plenty of twisting turns. Because Camaro has a remarkable new suspension. And standard front disc brakes for a leech-like grip on the road.

New Camaro. The Super Hugger.

Other sportsters always feared it might come to this.

And they were right. Only their timing was wrong.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

See it. At your Chevrolet Sports Dept.

"Tapping the natural resources of this land," he says, "is not a rural problem, it is equally germane to our large metropolitan centers."

Mr. Erwin feels that people must have confidence and hope. There must be alternatives for a better life if the environment in which one finds himself is lacking or insufficient.

The development of rural America has become a dire need of our times according to Mr. Erwin.

When Stew You'd Quicken, Make It With Chicken

Stew has always been a slow poke dish, requiring long cooking. Now hear this! Make savory chicken stew and dumplings with a tender broiler-fryer and stew time shortcuts to only about 45 minutes. According to the National Broiler Council, a three pound chicken yields over a pound and a half of cooked edible meat—enough for 4 to 6 hearty servings. That makes chicken stew a fine, thrifty dish to serve today. Here is the easy art of delicious Chicken Stew with Herb Dumplings:

Chicken Stew

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in 1/2 teaspoon thyme serving pieces 1/2 cup diced celery
2 cups water 6 carrots, scraped and
2 teaspoons salt quartered
1/2 teaspoon pepper 12 small whole onions

Place chicken in saucepan or skillet with tight fitting lid. Add water, salt, pepper, thyme and celery. Bring to a boil. Cover; reduce heat to medium and cook 20 minutes. Add carrots and onions; cook 10 minutes. Drop Herb Dumplings* by spoonfuls
(6) on top of pieces of chicken or vegetable. Cook, uncovered, 10 minutes. Cover tightly and cook 10 minutes longer.
YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

*Herb Dumplings

2 cups prepared biscuit mix
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, savory or thyme
3/4 cup milk

Combine biscuit mix and desired herb in bowl. Add milk and mix well with fork.

Bill Ettinger, Forrest Miner and Jerry Secrist were elected to three-year terms as directors. They replace George Craip, David Cooper and Jim Miller on the board. Present board members are Larry Pyle, Gerald Romine, Jim Gates, Macy Nelson, Paul Haist and Bob Hibschan.

Dogs Will Be

dogs running loose will be strictly enforced from now on. Any dog found running loose will be picked up if possible and taken to the dog pound at Warsaw, and the owner will have to pay the charges if they want the dog back, and charges will be filed against the owner for dog running at large. This has been a big problem for the police department for several years. It has been made very clear to the officer of this department that the citizens of Mentone do not want your dog running over their property tearing up gardens, biting people, etc.

He concluded by saying, "If you care for your dog, take proper care of it. We expect full co-operation on this matter. If not, the state law will be enforced."

Norton arrested Tony March of the Senff Trailer Court for having a dog running loose. Norton and the humane officer took the dog to the dog pound and March appeared in Warsaw Justice of Peace Milo Clase's court where he paid a fine and costs totaling $25.00.
