Notice

It has come to the attention of the Indiana Department of Revenue that elderly taxpayer's are being contacted by person(s) unknown, who are representing themselves as employees of the Revenue Department. These individuals are attempting to convince these elderly taxpayers that they will prepare their Individual Income Tax Returns and collect any taxes due at a discount. Commissioner M.F. Renner warned.

Commissioner Renner wants all taxpayers to know that the Department of Revenue does not solicit taxpayers by telephone for the purpose of preparing their returns and should someone contact you for that purpose, you should immediately contact the Department of Revenue's Criminal Investigations Division by calling 317-232-2106.

Allen chairs local campaign

Sheila Allen has been named Chairperson of the 1986 Leukemia Residential Campaign in Akron.

Sheila is currently in the process of recruiting volunteers to call on their neighbors to help educate the public about leukemia and to seek support for the programs of the Indiana Leukemia Society. These programs include research, direct patient aid, and education.

Leukemia is a disease of the blood-forming tissues, including the bone marrow, lymph nodes and the spleen. Leukemia and its allied illnesses — the lymphomas, multiple myeloma and Hodgkin's Disease — will strike approximately 64,000 Americans this year. An estimated 40,000 persons will die from these diseases. That includes and estimated 425 Hoosiers.

Leukemia kills more children than any other disease. And, it kills more adults than children.

The Leukemia Society of America is a voluntary health agency dedicated to seeking the cause and eventual cure of leukemia and related diseases.

The cause of leukemia remains unknown. However, the effectiveness of recently developed treatment methods and steady advances in research have created a sense of hope for victims of the disease.

Free literature about leukemia is available from the Leukemia Society's Indiana Headquarters, 4720 Kingsway Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana 46205.

Last Friday Akron Elementary School was the site of the theater production entitled: "Little Bear". The play was designed to give children information about, and the skills to deal with the subject of sexual abuse. Students from the first grade and special education classes viewed the play. ## Fulton Co. Historical Society

At the January 26 meeting the Fulton County Historical Society formed a committee to begin plans to build a new museum. The committee consists of Elsie Turner, Don Clark, Jeff Gelbaugh, Walter Van Meter, and Shirley Willard, all officers and members of the Board of Directors. Carl Davis, former board member, will also serve on the committee.

The new museum will be a pole building at the corner of New U.S. 31 and county road 375N at the north end of the Trail of Courage site. It will replace the rented rooms in the Civic Center and will be about twice as big as the section presently occupied by the museum. Suggestions and support from the community is needed.

Everyone is urged to go through their photo collection and bring in some for inclusion in the pictorial sesquicentennial history of Fulton County. There are still sesquicentennial T-shirts, plates, badges and stationery for sale in the museum.

The next meeting will be Feb. 23 at 2 p.m. Rev. Donald Bowman will tell about shipping on the Great Lakes: The Ship That Was Saved By A Book.

Akron tree planting

The displays in the Akron Bank and the Akron Town Office may require some explanation. Precautions are listed so that trees are not planted too close to sewer, water, and cable lines. Also avoid tree lawns and planting too close to sidewalks and driveways.

To make things easier for the planting crews, set a tall stake for each large type tree and a short one for each small one. Be sure to sign the note pad so track can be kept of who gets what.

Examples of what the trees can grow into can be found in the community. A medium size (about 35 years old)

Norway Spruce can be seen in the Dean Baker back yard. A large one is located in the Edith Rohr front yard. Note that this one has been pruned. A medium size Tulip Tree is located just east of the Ed Hauser home. The Fred Hanes's have several red buds in their front yard. This is the small type being offered. We have some White Pines as a backup if the spruce are sold out early. Medium sized ones are to be seen in the Kim Lewis yard. A large specimen is located in the Manuk Eryman front yard west of Akron on State Road 14.

The biggest pumpkin in the world will be displayed in Akron next November 10, 11, 12, and 13. At least that is the tentative plan of the committee in charge of the Northern Indiana Muck Crop show which is scheduled to be held here at that time. The committee plans to offer a prize of sufficient size to get some keen competition in pumpkin raising and to get plenty of big pumpkins for the show.

All plans for this feature of the show have not been completed, but the committee in charge will be appointed soon to work out details. In the meantime, if you think you are a big pumpkin raiser you better start deciding where you are going to grow this pumpkin so it will be easiest to load on a truck.

Education Briefs 'Back Home Again...'

A total of 3,274 Purdue University students received distinguished student rank for the fall semester of the 1985-86 school year.

To qualify for distinguished ranking, a student must have a grade index of at least 5.5 (B+) of a possible 6 (A) in no fewer than 14 academic credit hours. The student may have no grade below a 4 (C).

Following are lists of distinguished students in our area.

Richard Dean Goshert (Computer Tech.), Rt. 1, Claypool; Rhona Lee Broneberg (Hu. Soc. Sci. & Educ.), Rt. 4, Warsaw; Judith Anne P. Lafferty (Consumer & Family Sci.), Rt. 1, Mentone; DeShawn L. Rick Ralston, son of Jo Ann Ralston, 718 9th St., Covington, Ind., was among the 605 students named to the Harding University Dean's List for the fall semester, according to Virgil Beckett, registrar.

A sophomore Bible major, Ralston achieved a perfect "A" average on 16 semester hours of credit.

To achieve recognition on the Dean's honor roll, a student must carry at least 12 hours of credit, have no grade below a "C" and have no incomplete courses. Upperclassmen must have at least a 3.5 average and freshmen must post a minimum of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale.

Purdue University awarded 1,898 degrees during December commencement exercises on the West Lafayette campus.

Of those, 429 were advanced degrees, 94 of which went to foreign students. The university granted 1,228 bachelor's degrees and 241 associate (two-year) degrees. Nineteen of those bachelor's degrees went to foreign students.

Ninety-two students graduated with distinction. Ten percent of the graduates in each school who have the highest indexes, none with a grade-point average less than 5.3 of a possible 6, received their degrees with distinction.

Thirty-six students graduated with highest distinction, meaning they were the top students in the distinction group.

Area students receiving their degrees are:

Gary W. Berkey, (Aviation Tech.), Claypool; Richard D. Goshert (Computer Tech.), Claypool, and Brett D. Cumberland (Industrial Eng.), Mentone.

The white cross of Denmark is one of the oldest national flags. It has been used for over 750 years.

Indiana's flag and the invitation to come "BACK HOME AGAIN" are the main features on Indiana's new passenger car license plate. The new plate, which will be issued for a three year period beginning in January of 1987, was released by the Bureau of Motor vehicles recently.

The design of the new plate was the result of more than 400 suggestions from the general public. Numerous Hoosiers submitted suggestions which featured either the torch from the flag or the theme "back home again."

State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Michael M. Packard called the new plate a "very attractive design which will instill pride among Hoosiers. We are pleased at the response from many citizens of the state and proud of the fact that this plate was for the most part designed by the public."

The new white plate uses the golden torch and stars from Indiana's state flag as the background illustration for the deep blue registration number. "BACK HOME AGAIN" will be printed in white over a deep blue stripe at the top of the plate. "INDIANA" will be displayed prominently at the bottom of the plate, also in white letters on a deep blue stripe.

The plates will be manufactured at the Indiana State Prison in Michigan City, and will be issued to motorists when renewing their vehicle registrations in 1987. Renewal stickers will be issued

In Memory of William (Bill) Kreighbaum, who died February 5, 1986.

We often weep in silence for our loved one gone before.

And we must feel that it best, for God is over all; Let us lift our eyes to Heaven, and say, "Thy will be done."

For God will guide us to him at the setting of life's sun.

Dear Lord, please take this message, to our loved one up above.

Tell him how much we miss him, and give him all our love.

Although his soul is now at rest, and free from care and pain, the world would seem like heaven, if we had him back again.

Sadly missed by,

Tutoring Program

A small group of students at Akron Junior High are getting some useful experience and having fun at the same time. A new program started second semester at Akron training junior high students to be helpers within the school.

The original focus of the helping program was to train junior high students to tutor younger students. In order to start the program gradually, the first step was to identify areas within the school that could best utilize helpers. The areas identified were Kindergarten, Special Reading and Special Education. These are classes where children often need indi-dual attention.

School counselor, Lora Harp, went into junior high study halls to talk to students about the need within our schools for "helpers" and asked for volunteers. Because of the large number of students volunteering, it was a difficult process choosing those few who would be assigned to a job.

The helpers met twice with Mrs. Harp to discuss their assignments. They were told that an important part of learning is a good self-concept. As a helper, they can help children learn by developing a positive, caring relationship with those they help.

The junior high student helpers work four days a week during their study hall time. Following the teacher's directions, they work with individual students. Once a week the helpers meet with Mrs. Harp to discuss their helping assignment and to continue to improve interpersonal and communication skills.

The program has received many positive comments from all involved. In the future, Mrs. Harp hopes to eventually expand the program into other helping areas beyond tutoring.

The following students are involved currently in the helper program: Working in Kindergarten: Lori Malott, Heather Miller, Kassandra Shockey, Kenny Campbell, and Lori Baker; working in Special Reading: Shari Baumgartner, Jeff Ellenwood, Amy Swick, Rhonda Floyd, and Deanna Johnson, and working in Special Education: Jonna Weida.

Bears win again

The outcome was not decided until the final week of the season, but the Bears edged the Raiders 70-63 in Spelling football in Mr. Bogg's/Ms. Barden's fourth grade class. Beginning at the start of the professional Football season, the class was divided into two teams. Each week, students were given a specific number of yards towards their team's total depending on the grades each student made in Spelling. The team with the most yards each week scored a touch down.

Members of the winning Bear's team were Joey Barnes, Chrissy Homan, Rachel Saner, Angela Howard, Jessica Ellenwood, Brian Hill, Paul Craft, Stephanie Chilcutt, Chera Hathaway, Dustin Petrosly, and Shannon Dittman.

The losing team will now throw a party for the winners as well as serve as their slaves for one day.

Easter Seals of Indiana

David has won the hearts of everyone who knows him. He is a very friendly, energetic child that works hard and always has a smile. He has shown great maturity in accepting his limitations but has not let the limitations hinder his significantly. David always has friends at his side because of his glowing personality and determination to lead his life to the fullest.

He knows firsthand the difficulties of living with a disability. He learned this lesson in the months following a helicopter crash in which he broke his leg.

David and Paul will represent Easter Seals in many different activities throughout the year. The annual Easter Seal Campaign to raise funds for services in Indiana will be conducted from February 19th through Easter Sunday, March 30th.

Mystery car to 'Wander' Indiana

Lt. Governor John Mutz recently introduced a sleek, red mystery car called "The Wanderer", which provides a new look for Indiana's successful Wander Indiana tourism campaign.

The car makes its debut in Indiana's latest winter tourism television commercials beginning next week.

He also announced that Indiana has a new national 24-hour toll-free phone number for tourism information; it is: 1-800-2-WANDER.

Mutz said that tourism is an important part of the state's economy because it provides 60,000 jobs.

"The Wanderer will be in new commercials during each of the four seasons this year. The car and new theme music add a fresh sense of excitement to Wander Indiana," Mutz said. The make of The Wanderer, Indiana's newest TV "star", is not identified in the ads. It is a 1950 Studebaker, a product of the old Studebaker plant in South Bend. The Studebaker Museum is loaning the car to the state for commercials and promotional appearances related to "Wander Indiana".

The Wanderer was unveiled at a commercial preview held by Mutz at the museum in the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Money--despite immature thoughts to the contrary--does not always bring happiness or contentment.

Library Addition In Mentone Near Completion

The inside of the 13½-foot-by-17½ foot addition to Bell Memorial Library in Mentone. Needed storage space along with a staff area has now been created. (NEWS Photo)

From the outside, both the old section and recent addition features a new hip roof. The building was also insulated with foam during the construction. (NEWS Photo)

Bell Memorial Library Oren Home Receives Award

Through a three-part effort, a 13½-foot-by-17½ foot addition to the Bell Memorial Library in Mentone is near completion.

The addition, built at a cost of $46,700 will not be affecting the local taxes, according to Library Director Madeleine Fisher. She said the library used money that had accumulated in the library building improvement fund ($12,000), coupled with both a bank loan ($15,000) and a federal government grant ($19,700), to add on the needed space.

The bank loan will be paid off from the yearly library budget and thus, relieving citizens of tax increase.

This new addition will serve as both a staff and storage room.

The addition was designed by Don Skearce of Warsaw and Will Wagner of Mentone was the contractor.

The house of Chauncey and Hannah Oren, Rt. 2, Rochester, received the Century Award last week. Built in 1876, the house became eligible this year for the Century Home Award, sponsored by Fulton County Historical Society.

Hannah's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hood, bought the house and farm in March 1923. At that time Trella Harter told the new owners that the house had been hired built by her father, David Harter, in the summer of 1886.

The house has been owned by only two families. David Harter bought the farm in 1876. When Mr. Hood died in January 1950, his daughter, Hannah and son-in-law Chauncey Oren, bought the farm in the latter part of the same year, December 1950.

The house has five rooms upstairs and four rooms downstairs, all with the original woodwork. The only way the house has been changed was by installing a bathroom where a large pantry was, and moving the pantry storage into kitchen cupboards. Also the wood floors of the porches have been replaced by cement.

An unusual feature about the house is that it has eight doors. Whenever someone knocks on the door, Orens run from door to door trying to figure which door they are knocking at. They closed off one door on the east.

There is a large summer kitchen on the back (north) where Mrs. Hood used to cook and do laundry. They had a Delco plant and so had electricity for a washing machine. The Delco plant consisted of two rows of six batteries on shelves in the basement. Battery water had to be added once a month. The batteries produced enough electricity for the washing machine once a week and for lights, but not enough to pump water.

Trella Harter died at the age of 100 a few years ago. Lorraine Parkhurst used to bring her out to see the old home place but Trella would not get out of the car, fearing that things would all look different.

Akron Library

New books available at the Akron Public Library are:

Barbra Streisand, The Woman, The Myth, The Music by Shaun Considine. She is one of the few celebrities today who can claim superstar status. Her face, her name and especially her voice are known the world over. She is adored by millions of fans who race to see her latest film or by her newest record; and despised by many more, who view her as cold and aloof, a woman with talent, but with no sincerity and little integrity. Somewhere between the two poles of opinion must lie the truth.

Hannah's Daughters by Bette M. Ross. This book continues the spellbinding saga of the Roebuck family, as Alissa and Molly MacGowan follow separate routes to California. Each daughter inherited her mother's beauty and passion for living, and her parent's courage and trust in God.

Alone, Alive & Well, How To Fight Loneliness and Win by Barbara Powell. People live alone for various reasons—sometimes by choice, sometimes through circumstances beyond their control. Many of those who are forced to live alone are lonely due to feelings of anger, self-pity, or frustration. In this book, Dr. Powell offers help in dealing with such feelings.

The Marquis' Secret by George MacDonald. A classic novel by a master storyteller; and a sequel to The Fisherman's Lady, a nineteenth century gothic romance.

Show Me No Mercy by Robert Perske. Paralyzed in an accident that kills his wife and daughter, Andy Banks, a bus driver, struggles to overcome his handicap to keep his teenage son with Down's Syndrome from being institutionalized. A stirring fiction story.

Garnet by Helen Ashfield. When Garnet Bradley, the beautiful shopkeeper, meets dashing young Jonathan Heatheote, Earl of Derebrook, it is a case of love at first sight. Although Jonathan must marry another to provide Derebrook with a proper heir, their passion burns fiercely despite all obstacles.

From Sea To Shining Sea by Peter Marshall and David

Manuel. As America stretched westward over the mountains and plains, her grand purpose was revealed. Reminded of our spiritual legacy, we are challenged to discover our own role in fulfilling God's plan for America.

TVHS Observes OEA Week

Vocational business and office education students at Tippecanoe Valley High School will join Office Education Assn. members across the nation in activities to make the community aware of the importance of vocational student organizations during OEA Week, Feb. 10-16. OEA Week is being observed concurrently with Vocational Education Week.

The purpose of this celebration is to inform the public of the meaning and objectives of vocational education. By doing this, the community will be aware of the important part that OEA plays in the local school and community. Many of the activities planned by the Tippecanoe Valley OEA chapter involve around this year's national theme, "OEA: A Score of Excellence."

The Office Education Assn. with a membership of more than 76,000 students, is designed to develop leadership abilities in the American business world and competency in office occupations. Through its professional, financial, civic, service, and social activities and projects, OEA is developing leaders of tomorrow, today.

The Office Education Assn. was established in 1966 and it promotes leadership, cooperation and citizenship among high school and post-secondary students. Vocational business and office education prepares students for clerical, secretarial, accounting, and data processing careers.

Tippecanoe Valley OEA chapter members have planned the following activities during OEA Week: participation in the district OEA contest at Warsaw; provide announcements promoting OEA activities.

NEWS OF HEALTH

In earlier times, many people relied on home remedies to relieve the symptoms of a cold. One old-time cure involved heating two tablespoons of castor oil and mixing it with one tablespoon of spirits of turpentine. The mixture was applied to the chest, rubbed in and covered with a warm cloth.

Fortunately, modern science has created remedies that can be relied on to alleviate some of the bothersome cold symptoms much of the time. Many parents choose to treat their child's runny nose, congestion, sneezing, and watery eyes with antihistamine/nasal decongestant syrups. These can provide temporary relief of nasal congestion due to colds. Even hay fever or sinusitis sufferers can obtain relief with such medicines. Doctors tend to recommend the syrups that are alcohol-free. Not only are they better for children, they can be had without a prescription.

One such medicine, Drixoral from the Schering Corporation, was introduced in 1967. In 1982 it was made available without a prescription. Now it's available in a pleasant-tasting wild cherry flavored syrup. A number of pharmacists involved in a taste panel determined that this wild cherry flavored product was better tasting than a competitor's product.

Ophthalmologists Take Steps To Improve Eye Care

An ophthalmologist, it's important to know, is a medical doctor specializing in eye care.

One eye disorder many ophthalmologists are concerned about lately is cataracts. A cataract is a clouding of the lens of the eye which obscures vision. Cataracts commonly occur after age 60 and can vary in the degree of visual handicap they cause. According to The Eyesight Information Center, over a million Americans undergo cataract surgery annually.

The Center has conducted surveys of eye physicians' across the country for the past three years. The surveys ask about equipment, type of cataract surgery performed, tests performed prior to surgery, fees, educational materials and extra services. The Center issues a plaque to those ophthalmologists it finds meet its qualifications in those areas.

An ophthalmologist is a medical doctor specializing in eye care. Removing cataracts is an important part of his or her work.

An estimated 95 percent of people who have cataract surgery have their vision restored by plastic lenses implanted within the eyes. This has been called the "miracle" surgery of the 1980's. For millions of people, the reasons for that are—now—easy to see.

You can learn more about cataract treatments from the booklet that's available from the Eyesight Information Center, 870 South Myrtle Ave., Monrovia, CA 91016.

New Maps Available

Governor Robert D. Orr received the first copy of the official 1986 Indiana State Highway Map on Thursday, January 24, in a ceremony in the Governor's Statehouse office. Indiana Department of Highways' Director John P. Isenbarger made the presentation.

Governor Orr stated that he was pleased that this year's map theme, "Dreams and Opportunities", focuses on Indiana's many educational institutions, commenting that "providing excellence in education throughout the state is a top priority of this administration." The Governor added that "the colorful photographs depicting Indiana's state colleges and universities present an appealing portrait of Hoosier heritage and is an attractive invitation for everyone to Wander Indiana."

The 1986 State Highway Map is now available, free of charge, from the Indiana Department of Highways' Public Information Office, 1106 State Office Building, 100 North Senate Avenue, Indianapolis, IN 46204-2249, (317) 232-5115. Maps will also be available at other sites around the state at a later date.

The new map contains photographs of 10 of Indiana's educational facilities plus a complete listing of the various colleges and universities located in the state. Additionally, the map cover highlights the Indiana University-Purdue University campus in Indianapolis. The picturesque moonlight photo with the city's skyline in the background includes a quote from Hoosier author Wendell Willkie, "Because we have great dreams and because we have the opportunity to make those dreams come true."

To obtain additional facts about the many attractions Indiana has to offer, write to Wander Indiana, 1 North Capitol, Suite 700, Indianapolis, IN 46204 or in Indiana call 1-800-622-4464.

Date Set For TVHS Groundbreaking

Ground-breaking for the nearly $4 million construction and remodeling projects at Akron, Burket and Mentone School was set for Friday, March 7, at the Feb. 10 TVSC School Board meeting.

Principals and board members will visit the Akron school at 1 p.m., where the majority of the funding is being spent.

At 1:45 p.m. the ground-breaking crew will be at Burket and by 2:30 p.m. it will be at Mentone.

Construction is scheduled for this spring.

Superintendent Baxter Paige gave a progress report on the building program, saying no remonstrances have been filed. The school corporation will meet with the State Tax Control Board on Feb. 19 in Indianapolis.

In another matter for the future, the board approved the 1986-87 school year calendar proposed by the teachers, principals and Paige. The calendar calls for classes to begin on Friday, Aug. 22.

By starting on the Friday, classes are slated to end on May 29, the day before Memorial Day. However, Memorial Day is celebrated on Monday, May 25, which will be a holiday for the students.

Changes in the calendar include making the parent-teacher conference two days for kindergarten teachers instead of just one day.

The board also approved not observing Veteran's Day on Nov. 11 as a school vacation. Paige gave three reasons for the change, saying it was not a state mandated holiday; there are no local celebrations; and he said he felt the teachers could give more "credibility" to the day for students with special in-school programs. Students will get one extra day off on Good Friday before Easter. Spring vacation will start at the end of the school day on March 20 and will not include the Easter holiday.

Other vacations include Sept. 1, Labor Day; Oct. 8, parent-teacher conferences; Oct. 30-31, professional days; Nov. 27-28, Thanksgiving break; Dec. 19-Jan. 5, Christmas vacation; Jan. 16, teacher workday; March 4, parent-teacher conferences; March 20-29, spring vacation; April 17, Good Friday; May 25, Memorial Day and the last day of classes will be on May 28.

Students will be in school 175 days with 180 days scheduled for teachers.

Spelling Bee Winners Advance

Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 11 and 12 were the dates of the spelling bee finals for grades seven-eight and five-six at the Akron School. The champion of the seventh and eighth grade competition was Angie Merrill, daughter of Jerry and Diana Shoemaker of Rt. 1, Akron. Angie is 14 years old and is in the eighth grade. Her teacher is Keith Mathias.

Jill Butt was the runner-up. Her parents are Lyle and LaVada Butt of Rt. 2, Akron. Jill is also 14 years old and is in the eighth grade, and Keith Mathias is her teacher.

Others who competed as finalists were seventh grade students: Aaron Kindig, Amy Peterson, Lael Leminger, Cherie French, Charles Hughes, and eighth grades: Katie Ramsey, Kathy Overbey, Sarah Croushore, and Amy Randall. Kerrie Cumberland and Dana Feldman were chosen as finalists but were unable to compete due to illness.

Michael Harrold was the champion of grades five and six. He is the son of Ron and Wanda Bruner of Rt. 2, Rochester. Michael is 11 years old and a member of Van VanDusen's fifth grade class. Runner-up, Heather Grates, is the daughter of Dale and Michele Grates of Akron. Heather is 11 years old and is in Linda Studebaker's sixth grade class.

Both Angie and Michael will not compete in the Kosciusko County JOURNAL GAZETTE Spelling Bee. The fifth and sixth grade finals will be held at 7:00 p.m. on March 17, while the seventh and eighth grade finals will be on March 19, also at 7:00. The finals will take place in Warsaw and will be broadcast over WRSW radio.

Energy Booklets Available

The Agriculture Energy Management Program (AEMP) is now providing free farm energy booklets highlighting energy cost saving methods on the farm to all those involved in agriculture, announced Lt. Governor John Mitz.

Mitz, Indiana's commissioner of agriculture, said, "These booklets are aimed at helping Hoosier farmers cut their energy costs by following many 'low cost or no-cost' conservation measures that when combined together can make a substantial dent in current energy costs. For more information about these booklets, write AEMP program coordinator Doug Pineda, AEMP coordinator, Division of Energy Policy, Indiana Department of Commerce, One North Capitol Square, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204-2288, or call 317-232-8940.

Editorial

LOTTERY.

The mere mention of this word is enough to send a Hoosier's blood-a-boilin' regardless if they are for or against such a happening. The recent indication from downstate is that an Indiana lottery could be a reality in three years and, that is making some folks mighty upset.

This is indeed unfortunate.

Most of the opposition to a lottery say that any form of gambling is "immoral" and would lead to the eventual development of "organized crime". For these individuals who would enter the world of 1986.

It was estimated that a legal Indiana lottery could generate $10 million for the state tax coffers. Even that is a cautious estimate however, because Hoosiers now playing lotteries in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois plunk about $50 million into those three state economies.

Just think what an added $30 million could do in Indiana. For instance: 1.) On a state-wide level, money could be put into the education system to bring it up from its near-bottom yearly standings among its peers; 2.) Locally, you might see money earmarked for the sorely needed expansion of the Akron Library which would bring it up to the standards it deserves; 3.) Lastly, on a personal basis, I'd like to see a few of the lottery dollars go for cold patch to fill some of the more interesting potholes between Mentone and Akron that I try to avoid each day.

Would a lottery drastically change your life? Probably not. Would a lottery have some benefits for you as an individual? Maybe more than you think.

At any rate, I think the legislature should be commended on FINALLY "seeing the light" and continue to move towards a legal Indiana lottery.

field. V.U. continues to offer comprehensive high-quality occupational programs and liberal arts/transfer programs and is sought out by business and industry to develop educational programs to prepare highly-skilled personnel.

As President Reagan noted in his proclamation, community/junior colleges "have contributed enormously to the richness and availability of American higher education." Vincennes University is proud to be in the forefront of these colleges.

I invite all Hoosiers to visit the V.U. 87-acre campus located in historic Vincennes. The dynamic combination of Indiana's most modern high technology educational facilities, located adjacent to historic structures, makes a visit to V.U. a stimulating and enjoyable experience. You can visit on the V.U. campus the home of William Henry Harrison, the first Governor of the Indiana Territory and 9th President of the United States.

Parents, students, legislators, and interested Hoosiers are particularly welcomed during Community College Month at V.U. - one of the oldest and most modern community/junior colleges in our nation.

Sincerely,
Philip M. Summers
President

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Governor Orr has joined President Ronald Reagan and the Ninety-ninth Congress of the United States in proclaiming February "Community College Month." The designated month recognizes the significant contributions two-year colleges are making to the strength, vitality, and prosperity of our nation. Because Indiana has the distinction of having one of the first community/junior colleges in the nation Vincennes University - it is particularly appropriate that Hoosiers recognize this educational observance.

Community/junior colleges have been referred to as "democracy's colleges" because they are open and accessible to all potential students. Approximately half of all first-time freshmen in American colleges enroll in two-year colleges. Nearly 40 percent of all post-secondary students in the U.S. are enrolled in two-year colleges, making them the single largest component of all higher education. For example, Vincennes University, "Indiana's only comprehensive community/junior college," enrolls students from each of Indiana's 92 counties, as well as many other states and nations.

The success of V.U. graduates throughout the University's 185 year history documents the excellence that community/junior colleges are achieving. V.U. graduates have achieved success as transfer students in four-year colleges and universities, and as valuable employees in their career.

To the Editor:

If the income tax is on the up and up, why all the secrecy?

For over 3 years I have assisted Rachel Templeton and others in searching the law books and questioning the Internal Revenue Service, and still have not been able to come up with the section of the Internal Revenue Code that makes any sovereign individual a "person liable" for an income tax.

Oh, we got a lot of verbiage, and a lot of garbage, but when the rubber meets the road, the IRS either stutters or refuses to respond.

The facts are these:

As an alleged government agency, the IRS is required to inform each individual who they ask to fill out a form, whether it is voluntary or mandatory, before they fill out that form. (See The Privacy Act, 1974).

The IRS claims to comply with this requirement by their issuance of their Privacy Act Notice #609.

That Notice says: "Our legal right to ask for information is the IR Code, Sections 6001 and 6011 and their regulations. They say you must file a return or statement with us for any tax you are liable for."

Section 6001 says: "Every person liable for any tax imposed by this title...shall keep such records, render such statements, make such returns..." etc.

Section 6011 says: "...any person made liable for any tax imposed by this title...shall make a return or statement..."

So before you can be required, you must be "liable" and the liability must be stated clearly before anyone can be subject to the IR Code or to the IRS.

The Supreme Court said this quite eloquently in the case of Gould vs. Gould (245 US 153).

"In the interpretation of statutes levying taxes it is the established rule not to extend their provisions, by implication, beyond the clear import of the language used, or to enlarge their operations so as to embrace matters not specifically pointed out. In case of doubt they are construed most strongly against the Government, and in favor of the citizen."

Now, so there is no confusion as to terms, being "a person liable" means that the person has an obligation or duty, that person is answerable, or compellable to make satisfaction...he is bound or obliged in law. (See Blacks Law Dictionary).

There is a clear distinction between "having a tax liability" and being "a person liable". It is possible to be a "person liable" for a tax imposed by the IR Code but have no tax liability. However, it is impossible to have an income tax liability if one is not a person liable for any internal revenue tax.

So Rachel followed the lead of IRS Notice #609 and looked for a section of the Code that made her liable for a tax and that made her answerable to the IRS, and made her obliged to submit forms to the IRS under oath.

She couldn't find any section that imposed a liability upon her.

So she sent literally hundreds of requests, over 200 of them by certified mail, to the IRS, to Congressmen, to the President, the Supreme Court Justices, to attorneys, accountants and CPA's and tax preparers requesting this most basic information.

Most didn't even respond, but of those who did, none could document the Code to show how a person becomes liable for an income tax. Four attorneys, 1 CPA, and 1 tax preparer informed her there was no such section in the IR Code.

When she received no response from the IRS by mail, she set up a meeting with two special agents from the Criminal Investigation Division of the IRS, informing them in advance the question she would ask them, and then asked them personally at that meeting, "What section of the IR Code makes me a person liable for an income tax?" They didn't respond. They just stuttered and stammered and then terminated the meeting without giving her an answer.

She then sent a certified letter with certified copies going to each of the agents and their superiors including Indiana District Director Paul Williams and IRS Commissioner Roscoe Egger.

She asked them again for the documentation that made her a person liable, or in the alternative to set up an administrative hearing as per Title 5, Sections 553-559, to adjudicate the facts of the matter.

In over 3 months, no viable response has been received, and after 2 years, her search has been futile. She has been unable to find any section of the IR Code that makes her a person liable to pay or collect a tax or required to submit a form to the IRS. Yet the IRS continues to harass her, threatening to steal her property and indict her for some unknown crime.

Such tactics are not only unethical but outright illegal, but the IRS moves forward with impunity, as the people's federal prosecutor, the Justice Department just happens to be the IRS's defense counsel and the Federal Judges are "taxpayers" and subject to the IRS.

Rachel has stated that she won't submit to these "gestapo" tactics. She knows that submission, even out of fear, makes people the servants and the IRS their master. She has stated publicly that she would rather sit in jail a free person than walk in public as a slave. I agree with her conviction and I too will not submit to IRS tyranny.

I believe that if there was some requirement, then the section of the IR Code that makes me a "person liable" wouldn't be a secret.

I believe that any claimed mandatory requirement for an individual freeman to submit to an income tax is a fraud. The reason is quite simple. If there was a liability clause mandating compliance, it would not pass constitutional muster and would be struck down by the Supreme Court, as they have already ruled:

"It is clear, however, that the legislature and the people may not choose to deny a fundamental constitutional right as a means of collecting revenue." Lucas vs. Forty Fourth General Assembly (1964) 377 US 713.

I personally will not voluntarily waive my fundamental right to privacy by submitting a form to the IRS. Nor will I waive my right to trial by jury. I'll not be forced to take an oath against my will and over my objection. I'll not volunteer to become a "subject".

President Reagan set the record straight last May, when he stated:

"Our Federal tax system is in short, utterly impossible, utterly unjust and completely counter-productive. It's earned a rebellion, and it's time we rebelled."

So how about you? Will you continue to submit to the IRS the next time you're told to blindly waive your rights, simply because it's less controversial? Or will you demand to know what section of the IR Code makes you a person liable for an internal revenue tax, and makes you a "subject" to the IRS?

My feelings, and the feelings of many others I know can best be expressed in the words Patrick Henry, in his inspirational speech before the House of Burgess over 200 years ago.

"Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it almighty God. I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death."

Sincerely,
Robert L. "Bob" Minarik

Comment On Sports

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Super Bowl XX was the third successive flop as a football game. The New England Patriots looked intimidated from the beginning and never made a game of it. (Were some players on drugs?)

Thus NBC and millions of views most of that Sunday didn't know how to make things interesting. Millions afterward felt like time had been wasted. Advertisers whose commercials ran late in the game must have felt "taken."

Last year the Forty-Niners beat the starch out of Miami. That Super Bowl was a flop also-but not as bad as 1986. In 1984 the Raiders bombed the Redskins 38-9 in a contest which was about as one sided as this year's.

The last close game was in 1982 (Forty-Niners 26-Bengals 21) but the year before Oakland bombed the Eagles in another flop as a football contest. Obviously, the league badly needs better games for the climax of pro football, with all its hype and buildup, leading up to a fizzle.

This year many fans were predicting another flop; many turned off their sets in the second quarter. For football is a game that is really dull when one team goes up four touchdowns with only minutes to play. Or when one team so thoroughly dominates the outcome is certain.

Dan Marino and Miami would have made it closer, one has to think

In memory of Eldon T. Cumberland.

Two long years have passed since our great sorrow fell. The grief we received that day we all remember well.

God gave us strength to bear it, and courage to fight the blow. But what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know.

We do not need a special day, to bring him to our mind. For the days we do not think of him, are very hard to find.

Love and missed very much.

NEWS

One of the richest—and many say tastiest—sources of dietary fiber is often overlooked. It's prunes. That humble fruit may bring a happy expression to the faces of millions of health-conscious Americans who've been looking for a good tasting, nutrient-dense high fiber food.

Americans are learning that a diet high in fiber-rich foods may protect against some types of cancer, perhaps because it helps move food quickly through the intestines and out of the body, prevents constipation and promotes a healthy digestive tract. Consider the following:

- The National Cancer Institute reports 35 percent of all cancer deaths may be related to diet.

- Recent studies have lead the National Cancer Institute to recommend a diet high in fiber and low in fat to reduce cancer risk.

- Americans currently eat between ten and 15 grams of fiber a day. Authorities agree this amount should be doubled to 25 to 35 grams for maximum benefit.

Besides being fiber-rich,

Prunes: an excellent source of fiber.

prunes are nutrient-dense with generous amounts of beta carotene (Vitamin A), which, like dietary fiber, may protect against cancer in humans, as well as potassium, iron and niacin and many other essential vitamins and minerals. Prunes have no cholesterol. They are convenient, keep well and can be purchased without pits.

You may have noticed today's prunes are different from those of yesteryear. New harvesting and drying techniques produce a delicious fruit that is moister, chewier and plumper than in the past. That makes prunes one excellent source of fiber that's especially easy to digest.

Duzenberg-Harris Exchange Vows

The Akron Church of God was the site of the Dec. 28 wedding of Lisa Renee Duzenberg and Mark S. Harris, O.D. Lights shone from garland and a Christmas tree trimmed with lavender bows. Lavender candles flickered in the windows as the Rev. Junior Bose conducted the 2:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Richard and Nancy Duzenbery, Akron. The groom's parents are Lyle and Betty Harris, Akron. Vicki Fultz, Lafayette, was soloist. Sally Day, Niles, Mich., sister of the groom, was flutist. Pat Mitterling, Akron, was organist and pianist. Beth Burkett, Rochester, registered guests.

The bride wore a peau-ganza gown trimmed in beaded silk and Venice lace. The off-the-shoulder full puffed sleeves were trimmed with flowers made of silk and Venice lace and beading. The gown featured a ruffled semi-cathedral train. Her headpiece, fashioned of tiny pearls, held a waist-length veil of English illusion with rolled edges.

She carried a cascade bouquet of lavender and white roses with gray accents and lily of the valley.

Sarah Baker, Akron, was maid of honor. Other attendants were Sherril Cameron, Urbana, Ill., and Kim Robinson, Akron, sister of the bride.

They wore full-length lavender satin gowns with puffed sleeves and embroidered fitted bodices. They carried bouquets of lavender and white roses with gray accents.

Jack, Shambaugh, Warsaw, and Ken Lawrence, O.D. Logansport, were groomsmen.

Mark Gast, Claypool, and Mike Petrosky, Warsaw, were ushers. Kyle Robinson, Akron, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

About 100 guests attended a reception for the couple in the officers' mess hall, but none of the guests knew the identity of the reception. The reception table was decorated with three "I Do's" and a large Red Cross letter from the officers' wives.

New Dental Film Reduces X-Ray Exposure Time

Your next dental exam may be a safer one, thanks to a new, high-speed x-ray film that cuts your exposure by up to fifty percent.

The new film for dental x-ray use works like the film in your camera. The faster the film, the less light required to take the picture. And the faster the film, the less likely the picture will be blurred if the patient, particularly a child, moves as the picture is taken.

The American Dental Association says that patients should be exposed to radiation only when the dentist has determined it to be necessary. When x-rays do become necessary, this safer x-ray film provides your dentist with images of excellent quality, experts say, to give your teeth the care they need. The new Ektaspeed dental film from Kodak is available for x-ray examinations and is in use now by a growing number of dentists.

The annual Blood visit will be at Tippecanoe Valley High School on Thursday, March 6.

The 8th grade girls were successful in their efforts to win the 1986 Camelot Tourney, held at Syracuse middle school gym, Feb. 13. The girls put together 3 fine games to take the tourney trophy.

Playing a tall North Webster team, the Akron girls started slow with a sluggish pattern for the first half. The first quarter ended with North Webster 8 - Akron 4. At half time the scoreboard read 14-11 in favor of North Webster. After three quarters of play North Webster still led by two with 20-18.

In a gallant fourth quarter rally Akron 8th grade girls out scored their opponents 16 to 3 which made the final tally Akron 34 - North Webster 23. Akron's constant full court press finally wore down the opponents offensive front and netted rewards for Akron. Planning Your Retirement

Retirement Communities: What You Should Know

The continuing care retirement community or "CCRC" has been called an extension of the American dream. It usually includes a comfortable apartment, gardens, companionship, and the security of medical attention. If you're considering moving into a CCRC, knowing what questions to ask now can protect your dream from turning sour in the future.

Ninety thousand elderly Americans live in CCRCs. They offer residents long-term guarantees for independent housing units and health and medical care for a one-time entry fee and periodic fees thereafter. A life-care contract, complete with medical assistance is much like an insurance policy. Yet a contract with a life-care facility is only as good as the financial plan behind it.

Since the mid-1970s, fifty of these life-care communities in the U.S. have declared bankruptcy or experienced financial difficulties. When these facilities fail, residents are often without legal recourse. Most CCRC failings are due to a miscalculation of contract buyer's needs and the costs of fulfilling these needs. Too few life-care communities use the expertise of a professional actuary in their long-range financial planning, according to the American Academy of Actuaries. An actuary could help "ascertain whether the money reserve of a CCRC is adequate to meet the promises made to residents. No existing or pending federal legislation mandates actuarial review, and industry-wide standards for actuarial examination don't exist.

While all states license and inspect nursing homes at life-care developments, only eleven states have broader statutes comprehensively regulating these communities. Consumers now rely on state laws for contract protection. Only seven states require reserve funds to cover unexpected costs a CCRC might experience.

To protect yourself, follow these tips:

- When considering a CCRC, look at its financial health, not just its plush carpets or activities calendar.
- See if an actuary has been involved in the formation of the CCRC. Ask to see his report. If the information is not available, skip that "dream" community for another that's more aware of financial reality.

Rev. Philpot To Speak In Mentone, Akron

The Rev. Danny Philpot of Lexington, Ky., will lead an area youth rally Saturday, March 1, at 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Mentone United Methodist Church.

The rally, for all young people in sixth grade or older, is the second in a series of meetings that are part of the Dr. Ford Philpot Area Crusade. The first, the February 11 kick-off banquet at the Mentone School, was attended by nearly 400 members of twenty area churches who had their first opportunity to hear Dr. Philpot, the leader of the June 8-15 Crusade scheduled at Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Danny Philpot is the son of Ford Philpot and, like his father, is a United Methodist minister whose work has taken him to Africa as well as across the United States.

An all-around athlete whose accomplishments have earned him a fistful of letters in high school and college, Danny Philpot has also been youth editor for Herald Magazine and has written numerous articles for various church and religious publications. Named an Outstanding Young Man of America every year since 1980 by the Jaycees, he has preached more than 150 revivals and is heard weekly on "The Story," a 30-minute Christian television program.

On Sunday, March 2, the Rev. Philpot will be speaking in both the 8:25 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services at the Akron Church of God.

LIFELINE Available In Fulton Co.

On Feb. 7th, a community based program called LIFELINE was introduced by its founder, Boston University's Dr. Andrew Dibner, at Canterbury Manor Convalescent Center in Rochester.

Canterbury is proud to be the first nursing home in the state of Indiana to host the program. The LIFELINE Systems help people live independently. The program is primarily geared for the elderly, but is also available to any age person who is living alone and may be in need of help. In the event of an emergency, one touch of a portable help button, that can be worn on a neck chain or wrist strap, will bring help within minutes. When the button is pressed, it places an automatic call for help through the phone lines. The system provides 24 hour service.

At this point, Canterbury has installed twelve units throughout Fulton County, and hope to continue to place LIFELINE Units to as many citizens of the county as are needed. The new wing at Canterbury represent the "New Generation" in nursing home and convalescent care. The new LIFELINE Program is just one more example of the continued growing of the "New Generation" at Canterbury Manor, Canterbury's desire has always been that a resident will find a home away from home, and that your loved ones will receive a little extra care for those you care for. Now, with LIFELINE, Canterbury Manor extends that "extra care" throughout the county. If you or anyone close to you can benefit from LIFELINE, call (219) 223-4331 at Canterbury Manor in Rochester, ask for LIFELINE.

Attorney Source Offered

Attorney General Linley Pearson has asked bar associations from across Indiana to help develop an attorney resource list for farm families.

The list, which would be available through a number of sources, is designed to help farm families who have need of legal help but don't know where to find attorneys with farm problem expertise. "We have been contacted by a number of farm families about problems they experienced," Pearson said. "In virtually every case, they indicated that attorneys with background in farm problems were hard to find."

"The farm families felt attorneys who did know about farm problems also represented farm creditors and obviously the farm families isn't going to seek help from someone who represents the other side," Pearson said.

"We are hopeful that bar associations will identify members who are willing and have the ability to deal with farm problems from the farmers' viewpoint," he said.

Pearson said the letters were sent to all county bar associations last week.

Responses will be developed into a list so that when a farmer needs help, they will be able to find an attorney with the expertise to provide that help, the attorney general said.

Pearson said if attorneys are not contacted by the local bar association, and want to be part of the referral service, they should contact his office by writing to Room 219, Statehouse, Indianapolis, IN, 46204.

National Teacher Day

Tuesday, March 4, 1986, is National Teacher Day, a special day that has been set aside to honor our community's teachers, the men and women who have devoted their professional lives to our children.

National Teacher Day is a time when we can say thanks for the many important contributions teachers make to our community.

It's also a time when we can encourage more of our students to consider teaching as a possible career for themselves—a career filled with community service and the reward of seeing young people reach their full potential.

And on National Teachers Day let's remind ourselves of something very important. The strength of our nation is founded on democracy. And our democracy could not survive without quality public education.

New Books At Akron Library

New books available at the Akron Public Library are:

Summer by Lisa Grunwald. A moving, rich, compelling novel about an extraordinary family, a family of charm, talent, and cultivation, during the summer when the glamorous mother they adore and admire is dying—about how each of them, privately and with the others, strives to let go and accept the limits of love.

When Comes The Spring by Janette Oke. When well-bred, sophisticated Elizabeth Thatcher, a city girl from Toronto, agreed to a term of teaching in the newly formed province of Alberta, it was more to please her mother and to become reacquainted with her half-brother, than from a sense of adventure on her part. She was more than a bit hesitant to leave the comfort and security there to mix with the rough and uncultured people of the new frontier. Then into her life came Wynn, the tall dedicated member of the Royal North West Mounted Police. Stagecoach Station 6: Santa Fe by Hank Mitchum. Many people came to Santa Fe; among them Clay Reiner, whose career as a troubleshooter was just a buildup. Beth Hamilton, caught between the man she is planning to marry and the man to whom she is drawn, Frank Darby, on the run from two secret crimes; and Amelia Winfield, led toward a dangerously remote outpost, by her love for her husband.

Halfway To Heaven by Nancy Johanson; The Disguise Of Love by Mary LaPietra; Tender Adversary by Judy Baer; and Hold Fast The Dream by Lurline McDaniel, four new romances by Serenade.

The Baked Bean Supper Murders by Virginia Rich. The Baked Bean Supper Murders portrays Mrs. Potter at her delightful best—an intriguing mystery, a shrewdly affectionate portrait of Down East Maine, and along the way, a new collection of delicious recipes for her fans in culinary crime.

Never Bring Her Roses by Susan Marie. Leaving the hectic life of the city for the peace of the rural countryside seemed a dream come true for Melody Kinsman, a talented young artist. But her search for artistic expression and independence would exact a heavy toll on her own heart.

Student Grant Information

College-bound high school seniors and their parents were reminded recently that March 1 is the deadline for filing applications for state higher education grants administered by the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI). College students who wish to be considered for renewal grants also must apply by the same date.

About 45 days after the deadline, or about May 15, the state agency will offer a record high total of more than $31 million in grants to graduates of Indiana high schools planning to attend or already attending private or public colleges and universities in the state.

Application for the state higher education grants is made by filing a Financial Aid Form (FAF). Copies of the form and additional information are available from high school counselors, college financial aid offices, some libraries and the SSACI office at 964 N. Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis (telephone 317-232-2350).

For the 1985-86 academic year, SSACI's grants to students with the greatest financial need ranged from $779 at Indiana Vocational Technical College to $2,840 at many private colleges. The 1986-87 grants are expected to be substantially higher.

To be eligible, applicants must have been Indiana residents as of last Dec. 1, be planning to attend or now attending an approved Indiana institution of academic higher learning, be planning to work or be working toward a first undergraduate degree and demonstrate financial need.

Never be afraid of what other people say if you're sure that you approve what you have done.

Road Changes Noted

The Indiana Department of Highways will be closing a section of southbound U.S. 31 in Marshall County, beginning Monday, February 24, 1986 that stretch of highway from its intersection with old U.S. 31 to St. Rd. 10 will be closed to traffic.

The purpose of this closure is to repair the railroad crossing located 0.75 miles south of old U.S. 31. During this closure, traffic will be detoured across old U.S. 31 and State Road 10. Work is expected to be completed and the road reopened by Monday, March 10, 1986.

Man usually thinks well of himself.

Contentment is a matter of reducing your wants and desires.

Selfish individuals contribute very little toward a better world.

You can never tell when careful driving will save your life.

The gardener is now having a field day with expectations.

There's no way to accurately predict what people will do.

Never induce a person to make a promise that you know will not be kept.

Akron Women's Club

Mrs. Ray Doering shared a portion of the joy of her visit to Alaska to see her first grandchild when she showed slides at the Akron Women's Club Feb. 6.

Ray and Lucille Doering and her mother, Mrs. Lavon Bodkin of North Manchester, made the trip August, 1985, visiting David and Patricia Woodward and young Scott David. The baby was born July 4 at Anchorage.

The Woodwards serve as spiritual leaders and caretakers of the Church of God Camp Challenge located between Palmer and Wasilla, Alaska.

Points of interest visited included the largest communications satellite dish in the world, nearly 100 feet across; a gold mine, glaciers, mountains and experimental gardens. The scenery was spectacular and the Doerings got many good pictures.

Bernice Bowen was at the piano for the invocation. Helen Day offered devotions and prayer. Roll call response was a favorite 'confection'.

Preliminary arrangements were discussed for the Fulton County Federated Clubwomen Convention March 24 in Rochester. Mrs. Lorene Rauschke will preside. The 13th District Art Contest is March 15 in the Fulton Co. Library.

Rochester clubwomen will be the guests of the Akron club March 6 for their annual reciprocity meeting to be held in the Akron Church of God.

Joanna Van Scoy, Juana Sheetz and Violet Gagnon were in charge of the fund raiser food sale at the Lions Club fish fry in February.

Hostesses Helen Day, Imo Tucker and Joanna Van Scoy served confection cake and coffee following the Club Collect.

Perry Home Improvement Club

The Perry Home Improvement Home Ext. Club met at the Roann home of Neva Robison for the Valentine Party. Vice President Alice Teel presided. A thought for the day and an article about love was read.

Ruth Bammerlin led as the group sang, "I Would Be True" and "Happy Anniversary" to Emma Burns.

For her family life lesson Neva Robison read an article, "Love is affection in action" was stated in the article. Our deeds should always be loving deeds even if at the moment love is not felt.

Arlene Gearhart gave the lesson on convection ovens. The convection oven cooks with moving air and heat, thus moisture is sealed into foods. Cooking is done with less time and at lower temperatures.

Members were reminded Pancake Day is March 1st. The Home Economics creed was read in unison. A Valentine food exchange was enjoyed.

Lucille Personett was the Lucky Lady. Mrs. Robison served lovely refreshments. Others present were Marie Long, Marie Coon, Sherri Moore, Pauline Miller, and Aurel Musselman.

Mentone Extension

The Mentone Extension Homemakers met Feb. 13th with Jeannine Nellans. Vice-president Virginia Peterson led the pledges to the flags, the creed and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart", was sung.

Mrs. Nellans had the meditations. Roll call was "Something Special Someone Has Done For Me". A guest, Winifred Smith, was present.

The Health & Safety leader was absent. Citizenship leader, Virginia Peterson, continued to read of the Indians in our area. The main topic was about Lone Davis, a part Indian, living near Webster Lake. Civil Defense was also discussed.

The Garden Leader was absent also. The secretary and treasury reports were read and approved.

President Pearl Horn reported on the last president council meeting.

The club is preparing to help with the Blood Bank which is scheduled for March 6 at T.V.H.S. The date for the annual party is changed to April 17.

The meeting adjourned with the collect and Club Prayer Song. The March meeting is with Olive Tucker.

Helpful Facts From Experts At The National LP Gas Association

Propane Gas Versus the Electric Heat Pump

Some homeowners get hot under the collar over whether to have gas heat or an electric heat pump. Before you decide which system to purchase for your home, you may want to consider a few facts:

• Purchase Price: Typically, the purchase price of a propane gas-fired furnace is hundreds of dollars less than that of an electric heat pump, which usually is sold in conjunction with an electric strip heater to supplement the pump's heating power in colder weather. You may encounter an additional expense if modifications are necessary to accommodate the heat pump in your home. Propane Gas, which fires a conventional furnace, doesn't require custom work.

• Maintenance Costs: A gas furnace is based on simple technology and usually lasts for 17 to 20 years before it needs to be replaced. The electric heat pump, a relatively new invention, may require more expensive repairs and usually lasts only seven to ten years.

• Operating Expenses: Based on figures provided by the National LP Gas Association, allowing for 20,000,000 BTU for heating and 20,000,000 BTU for cooling, homeowners who regulate the temperature of their homes with a propane gas furnace can expect to save $120 more a year than those who use an electric heat pump to accomplish the same task.

Gas heaters are warmly received around the country

• Efficiency: Gas heat offers you a level of flexibility that electric heat pumps can't because the gas furnace and air conditioner are purchased as separate items. Consequently, if you don't want air conditioning, the cost of the gas furnace is even further reduced. If air conditioning is installed, you can size the unit to fit your needs. Heat pumps have fixed capabilities for both heating and cooling.

• Since electric heat pumps warm the home by extracting heat from the air outside, they are virtually unable to produce all the heat needed when the temperature drops to zero degrees. Propane gas heat, on the other hand, works efficiently in any temperature.

Further, gas heat offers you the option of a gas furnace, water heater, washer and dryer and stove, which can save money on electric bills.

These are some of the reasons many homeowners are giving propane gas heat a warm welcome.
