Rathbun heads new town board

William Rathbun was elected

Masons Will Honor Anniversary

Masons and their families from throughout Indiana will attend special ceremonies in Madison on January 12 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of Indiana's Masonic Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge was formed January 12, 1818 in Madison, just 13 months after Indiana had been admitted to the Union.

Included in the day's agenda will be morning worship with music being provided by the Indianapolis Scottish Rite Chorus and assistance being provided by members of the Order of DeMolay, a re-enactment of the founding of the Grand Lodge to take place at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, and the sale of a 600-page book depicting the 150 years of Masonry in Indiana. The Madison post office will also on that day postmark and mail a special event commemorative cachet bearing a steel-die engraving of the famed Schofield House, in which the Grand Lodge was formed.

The Grand Lodge was formed with less than 200 members in nine lodges but now boasts a membership of 180,000 in 549 lodges.

president of the Mentone Town Board Monday afternoon following swearing in ceremonies for the new board that were conducted at the Town Hall by T. Ethna Scott, county clerk.

Other board members include James M. Whetstone, Kenneth Bush, and James Tibbetts, clerk-treasurer.

Reappointment included: Gene Norton, chief of police; Harry Sullivan, superintendent of public works; Brooks Pinnick, town attorney; Mace Warren, cemetery caretaker; and Lyman Mollenhour, fire chief.

Norton, who also took the oath of office at this time, will be in charge of rentals and reservations for the Town Hall.

Palestine Church Hours Changed

The youth and adult services at the Palestine Ind. Church will be held the second and fourth Monday nights of each month, beginning Monday, January 14, according to an announcement by Rev. Garrett Phillips. He noted that these hours will be maintained until spring.

Rev. Phillips extends an invitation to everyone to attend these services, which will always be different.

Rathbun will serve as chairman of the Tri Township Cooperative Fire Control Board, which also reorganized. The clerk-treasurer of the town also serves the same capacity for the Fire Control Board.

The park board terms of Annabel Mentzer, Paul Rush and Dr. O. L. McFadden have expired, and replacements for them will be named at the next meeting. Other board members include Tom Fugate, whose appointment ends at the end of 1968, and Frank Smith, whose appointment runs until 1969.

Barrow Show Deadline Set

Deadline for entries to the Northeastern Indiana Pork Producers Barrow Show was set for January 10, 1968 at a recent meeting held in Albion.

Pork producers from eight countries - Allen, DeKalb, Elkhart, Kosciusko, LaGrange, Noble, Whitley and Steuben are eligible to show barrows weighing from 190 to 230 pounds.

The barrows will be shown on Saturday, January 20, at Producers Marketing Association Yards, south of Columbia City on State Road 9. Weigh in will be from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

A junior judging contest will be held in conjunction with the barrow show. All 4-H and FFA members are encouraged to participate.

Hogs will be slaughtered and carcass date taken at Elkhart Packing Company and reported on Saturday, January 27, at a meeting in the Avilla School starting at 11:00 a.m.

Glen Byler, buyer of Routh Packing Company, Sandusky, Ohio, will judge the barrows and Malcolm Grimme, Producers Marketing Association, will head the evaluation committee.

Totals entries are limited to 60 head with a maximum of two barrows per exhibitor. Each exhibitor will receive carcass cut-out data which is a tool for evaluating the breeding program.

Entry blanks are available at the County Extension Office and from the county committee-men.

Engine Burns Near Akron

Fire caused heavy damage to the middle engine of an Erie Lackawanna railroad freight train two miles west of Akron Sunday night. Akron firemen joined Rochester firemen in battling the blaze that burned for more than two hours after flames erupted in a battery section of the diesel engine.

The 135-car train continued to Chicago after the damaged engine was replaced. No injuries resulted and no property damage was done except to railroad property.

CALENDAR

Tuesday, January 9

Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR will meet at the Town Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, January 11

The Mentone Extension Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Eve Laird at 1:30 p.m.

Hospital Will Still Be Hot

Woodlawn hospital will still be hot according to a decision reached Thursday night by the board of trustees. They decided, after opening bids and discussing the project, that since the bids were almost double the engineer's estimate, the air conditioning project would have to be shelved at this time.

The board decided, however, to continue with some remodeling work that includes ventilating the kitchen and chinking the heating system form oil to gas. This work can be done without tax money as it has already been financed through donations and with interest earned on the money.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

I've heard it said that bragging ain't bragging if you can prove it. Well, our little church has the best arguments in town and I can prove it. Some churches keep up their attendance with chicken suppers, while others boost their interest with building programs. We keep folks on their toes at our church with controversy. When one argument begins to loose steam somebody always introduces another. You don't ever hear tell of our members going to a psychiatrist cause we offer free gripe sessions. Our latest battle was a real rip snorter.

Some time ago it came out in the paper that the National Council of Churches had backed a five-year study on alcohol. The report suggested that younguns oughta be taught how to drink in the homes - that alcoholies are people that ain't never been taught the proper way to drink. Well sir, that really stirred up our folks, but at the time when it hit the newspaper we were in the middle of a battle over our choir director, Ellie Nicklesinger wearing a micro-skirt in the choir. So, we just had to shelf "drinking" for a later date. Mr. Publisher, that time has arrived. At our men's meeting the other night the fellas unveiled a hole new arsenal of weapons.

Brother George started by saying that the National Councils stand on whiskey drinking was 100% proof that the church is now in a state of ferment. Big Slim, his nose red from a few snorts, wanted to know the difference between ferment and progress. Brother George swore that was a loaded question and revealed the ignorance of the asker. He allowed that any sober fool would know that ferment is just bubbling away, getting no place in a hurry.

Big Slim didn't go along with this. He told how the process of fermentation would keep things from spoiling, and maybe the church needed some insurance against just such a thing.

Mr. Publisher, this exchange between Slim and George went on for two hours til everybody felt like they had a hangover. Nothing was solved, except a full read of steam was let off.

I won't say anything about the drinking problem cause either stand I take will be unpopular. But, there's one conclusion I have reached - the church is anything but dead.

Gotta sign off for now - I got a tight schedule.

Brushing the snow off your evergreens will help keep their limbs from breaking, Purdue University extension horticulturists assert.

Editor's Viewpoint

I HEARD:

"So what if I am 10 miles over the speed limit, I'll be late for supper if I don't hurry."

I THOUGHT:

Almost every day I read in the paper or see on TV where some child has been injured or killed from being struck by an automobile. Next time it might be your child. Oh well, so what, supper is important.

Food For Thought

Watched them tearing a building down,
A gang of men in a busy town;
With a ho-heave-ho and lusty yell,
They swung a beam and the sidewalk fell.
I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled?"
As the men you'd hire if you had to build?"
He had a laugh and said "No, indeed!
Just common labor is all I need.
I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken a year to do!"
And I thought to myself as I went my way,
Which of these roles have I tried to play?
Am I a builder who works with care,
Measuring life by the rule and square?
Am I shaping my deeds to a well-made plan,
Patiently doing the best I can?
Or am I a wrecker, who walks the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?

I WAS THERE

1968. I was there. Leap year. February 29th. 366 days...one gone...365 left. All men created equal. No one left out. Not all have the same amount of money, but every one has 24 hours each day, 7 days a week, 365 per year. We can see. We can smell. We can taste. We taste. We feel. We all have a mind with which to think. We all live in the Mentone community. We can go to school. We can choose our church, our friends. We are free to go and come, we can be in debt, we all got to pay taxes. All are equal.

We have the biggest, little town in the world. Good stores...good post office...good bank...good restaurants...great churches. We have lots of youth. Changeable weather...four seasons. Dogs...cats...cows...sheep. We all have homes. We have government. We all eat good. We have freedom of speech. We have two newspapers...one local and one school. We have a town marshal, we all work, we send our children to high school and college.

We even die well, and are buried well. We have God. We have people who live by us. We sing, we play games, we dream dreams, we build air castles. We sleep well. We have two great doctors, two wonderful dentists. We have some great singers and musicians. Good farmers. Good hatcheries. Good egg men.

What more could we want? Life is good. We are all alive. Three hundred and sixty-five days left of 1968. Great Master, help me to make the most out of it. I was there. It's thrilling to be alive.

P.S. Count your blessings. Name them one by one, and you will still be counting when your life is done.

Letters to The Editor

Now that the Christmas season is past, what happens? There were no carolers this year. However, let us hasten to state two very brave little girls, perhaps ten years of age, on a very cold evening a few days before Christmas called at our home and sang a carol for us. They also had a gift for us. After warming themselves they were on their way. We were thankful for their thoughtfulness.

We are happy in the thought that is this world of turmoil and strife we put our hope and trust in God, assured a loving father who will comfort and care for us and supply our every need. That there is a bright outlook for the really true Christian. I am not "Parson Jones", just "Plain Bill."

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

I realize that Christmas is over, but I can't seem to forget it. Like onions, there's some things about our Christmas celebration that leaves a bad taste in my mouth. Even the Christmas candy I got won't chase it away. May be if I tell you my problems the taste will go away, at least for another year.

First, there's the Christmas cards. I can't get nothing against the fine little reminders, its just the way they seem to have taken over and pushed the personal touch plumb out the window. Once a year folks get out their old dusty list of names and addresses and mail cards to people they ain't thought about all year. Its kinda like the draft, the forced to act. You gotta make sure you don't leave anybody out on account of hurting their feelings. You ain't exactly forced to send cards, but at least you feel obligated to do it. About the only thing personal in these things is the signature. They don't even mention your name. Its a production line affair. Now-a-days, lots folks don't even sign their names. They have 'em printed on the cards and then get their secretaries to mail 'em out. Its kinda like a mimeographed circular addressed to "occupant". Wouldn't it be nice, Mr. Publisher, if we would just drop folks a personal line anytime of the year we thought about 'em.

Another thing that kinda gets my goat is this regimented gift-giving at Christmas time. You feel obligated to give somebody something. The price you pay for it has gotta match what they'll spend on you. Not only that, you gotta get 'em something whether they need it or not. Every year me and the madam knock ourselves out trying to decide what to get my daddy, who already has everything he wants. So - we wind up getting him something that he'll never use, and can't trade in on anything else. My daddy gets me a necktie every Christmas and I already got enough neckties to rope off the state of Texas and still have a few left for Sunday.

Mr. Publisher, it looks to me like if we started thinking more about people and a little less about things, Christmas might be a joy instead of a burden. Course I don't see that possibility in the immediate future. So, until then bring on the tranquilizers. They go good with Christmas nuts.

KERMIT, TEXAS, NEWS: "... youngsters are beginning to realize that they are the ones who will have to pick up the tab for government's credit cards... Facing a fiscal 1968 deficit next June 30 which even the President has admitted may reach $28 billion, it is questionable whether even that new level will accommodate the credit card spending. Such a stratospheric total makes it obvious who is going to have to meet the payments of credit card government. It will be the generation of youngsters still in the classroom. And their children. No parent... could pyramid credit card charges with the understanding that they'd be paid by his children when they reach adulthood. Still, parents have tolerated $336 billion in government credit card debt for their children to pay. Is it really any wonder that the 'younger generation' protests? We're earning their disrespect by refusing to pay our own way.

WALDEN, N.Y., CITIZEN HERALD, "The Treasury Department has completed a tabulation of the debt still owed the United States by World War I debtor nations. As of the end of the fiscal year last June thirtieth, this debt had increased $324 million in interest and stood at $21,352,854,709. Only little Finland made any payments last year. $185,000 towards principal and $167,982 in interest. The others made no payment... The government of the United States had to borrow the money in the first place. And the taxpayers of this country have to pay interest on the government loans, even if debtor nations do not."

"Be Extra Alert In Bad Weather" is the message of the January school safety poster being sent by the Chicago Motor Club to more than 45,000 grade-school classrooms in Illinois and Indiana. Mothers always can be counted on to bundle up their school children on bad days for protection against the elements. But how often do they think to remind their children to be extra careful of traffic on blustery winter days? The Chicago Motor Club suggests that parents carefully explain to children how difficult it is for cars to stop on a wet or snow-packed street. Tell them it takes a car from three to 12 times as far to stop, and if they run in front of the car, it simply may not be able to stop in time.

It's A Slick Trick

One of our readers reports a new way to thaw frozen water pipes and to warm cold, hard to start cars. He uses the blower on his wife's Electrolux sweeper to warm the cold pipes and his cold car engine. All you need do, he notes, is to reverse the sweeper and let it blow instead of suck.

Might be a good idea to try. Might also save a fire.

Weed and Insect Control Conference Is Set

Farmers and dealers in agricultural chemical are invited to attend a Weed and Insect Control Conference on Thursday, January 18 at the Whitley County 4-H Club Building, Fairgrounds, Columbia City.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Extension Services of Kosciusko, Whitley and Allen Counties.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher:

We had a real lively Men's meeting last week - you should have been here, we talked about death.

Hezekiah opened up the grave subjects by pointing out that we didn't talk about death enough. He claimed we tried to cover up the hole subject. He said too many church members didn't know which end was up when it came to dying. He thought we should get the hole thing out in the open. Big Slim agreed, pointing out that all too often we look down on the subject.

Brother George didn't agree. He not only despised death, he considered the hole thing as a dead issue that shouldn't be brought up.

I butted in about that time to throw a little light on the matter. "It's true," I told 'em, "that we don't have to bring the subject up, but we're all gonna die sometime or other." Dr. Charge-wright allowed as how I was right, and instead of talking about it, we should make plans to be ready when it comes. Well sir, I appreciated the Doc's support, but I couldn't go along with that "preparing to die" business. It looks kinda ridiculous for a fella to go thru life concentrating on something that ain't gonna take but a couple of minutes to do. A body don't need dress rehearsals for such a small part. As a matter of fact, death is one thing you can't practice anyhow, cause only them that's been thru it have any idea what it's about.

I told the men it looked to me like a fella oughta concentrate on living and let death take care of itself. Anybody can die, but lotsa folks have trouble living. There's a gang of people never got the hang of it yet. Maybe if the church stopped talking so much about death and said a little more about life, religion wouldn't sound so morbid to so many folks. That way religion would be more like life insurance and less like death insurance.

Hezekiah didn't agree. He allowed as how if we took the fear of death away, folks would stop coming to church. Personally, Mr. Publisher, I don't see no reason in people coming to church if that's the only reason they come.

Well, we didn't solve the "death" problem, and we didn't even get close to the "life" problem, but we at least filled up time and got 45 minutes closer to the grave.

BROWNIE TROOP 13

The regular meeting of Brownie Troop 13 was held Wednesday, January 3, with all members present except Robin Secrist and the leader, Mrs. Surface. The girls told what they did during the Christmas holiday, and it seems a few of them had chicken pox.

Take your problems to Church this week -

Like Father, Like Son

He's going to be a writer, just like Daddy. He's playing the part down to the last detail, even to the pencil behind the ear. Boys are like that. Even while quite young they have a natural ambition to follow in their father's footsteps. Many of their growing years are spent trying to grow to be a man just like Dad. Such being the case a father's main efforts should be to set a fair, square and noble example.

To do this, regular attendance at church can be a source of great help to the father. He should avail himself of it, for the son watches everything that he does and if Dad goes to church he will want to go also. Then the second reason is that Dad himself will be getting a weekly inspiration in how to set the kind of example a model father should set. He will then be proud to have people say, "like father, like son."

A Heritage For The Worthy

Above all else, 1967 appeared to be a year when the verities were questioned—in politics, in economics, in religion and in virtually every other element of the structure of present-day society. What does it all mean? No one really seems to know. Some claim the tearing down of old standards reflects what might be called a healthy renaissance of advanced thought. Others view with foreboding a trend they feel is leading to a moral breakdown and anarchy. The experts are the most confused lot of all. Sometimes their judgements of coming events are ludicrous. Typical of their inability to assess the future was the recent statement of one of this country's leading financial authorities that de-valuation of the British pound was unlikely because the English program of austerity was so fundamentally reassuring as to make a crisis improbable. By the time this particular forecast was in print, the British pound had been devalued, and one one knows what the future holds for the monetary systems of the world.

Out of all the confusion of 1967, one fact has become clearly obvious—self-government itself is on trial. This is so because the very truths which are the mainstay of self-government are being altered or swept away one after another—truths that were once called "self-evident." These truths have to do with financial responsibility, the integrity of the family, the inviolate rights of persons and property under the law and concepts of individual self-reliance and initiative that are inseparable from freedom under representative government. A gradual decline in respect for these prerequisites of liberty was never more apparent in the observation of many people than during the crucial months of 1967.

Outwardly, the United States is invincible. But, the founding fathers warned nearly 200 years ago that the greatest danger to the American experiment in free government could well come from within. A debauched currency, a weakening pride in individual independence and the gradual ascendancy of state authority are undeniably changing the outlook for constitutional government as we have known it in the United States. Few now living have the capacity to view the present era as it will be recorded in the history books at some distant time in the future. Our present civilization, and more specifically our own country, measured by material progress and the potential for future progress, opens a vista that staggers the imagination. The precepts under which civilization has advanced to this point, and which have brought a greater measure of well-being to more people than has ever been known in the world before, must have a validity that the hippies, the malcontents and the anti-American demonstrators have failed to perceive.

No political party, no single group of citizens is solely to blame for the dismal drift that has put self-government on trial, and as the elections of 1968 approach, we should expect no miracles from our elected representatives. They but reflect the temper and attitudes of the electorate. The signs became abundant during 1967 that a turning point has been reached in the affairs of the world and of our country. As we enter 1968, everyone of us should resolve to be worthy of the heritage of self-government—a heritage for which 500,000 men in Viet Nam are laying their lives on the line.

Ruckelshaus Announces Senate Candidacy

William D. Ruckelshaus, majority floor leader in the State House of Representatives, this week announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate.

Saying that the future is Republican—the past is Democrat—Ruckelshaus described his Democratic opponent, Sen. Birch Bayh, as a man who talks economy in government and Indiana and votes spend in Washington and whose stand on Vietnam can only be understood by an expert in double talk and hieroglyphics. Ruckelshaus charged Bayh stands "for consistent support for a Federal solution to every problem—real or imagined."

Ruckelshaus, a partner in the law firm of Ruckelshaus, Bobbitt and O'Conner, is 35 and lives in Indianapolis with his wife, the former Jill Strickland, and their four children. An unsuccessful candidate for Congress in the May, 1964 primary, he ran for and was elected to the Indiana House of Representatives in 1966 and was named House Majority Floor Leader of the 1967 General Assembly. He was selected outstanding Republican legislator in the House by the working press, received the Indiana Broadcasters Association Award for Outstanding First Year Legislator in the House as voted by the entire House membership, and was named Indianapolis Jaycee Man of the Year in 1967.

Time To Begin '68 Christmas Shopping

Lafayette, Ind. While you are recuperating from this past holiday season is actually a good time to begin Christmas shopping for next year.

Jan Armstrong, Purdue University extension consumer specialist, suggests taking advantage of after-Christmas sales to begin buying for next year. For example, now is a good time to buy holiday gift wrapping, cards and decorations which stores sometimes offer at a loss rather than try to find storage space until next Christmas.

Over-stocked winter merchandise at a reduced price may solve some gift problems for next year—gloves for Aunt Jane who complains that she never has enough or a sled for the children who were disappointed at not receiving one this past Christmas.

But study the ads before you shop, cautions Miss Armstrong, and also look over sale merchandise carefully. Sale items are sometimes soiled, damaged or shopworn—it's better to find this out before you get home with your purchase because some stores enforce an "all sales final" rule on marked-down merchandise.

So, if you can find a little extra money in the youngsters' piggy banks, ask them for a loan and go shopping—then you can casually ask your friends, "Have you begun your Christmas shopping?"

Barrow Show Entry Blanks Available

The Northeastern Indiana Barrow Show is scheduled for January 20 at the Briggs Producers stockyards. Hogs will be judged on foot at the yards and later will be scored at the Elkhart Packing Co. for sale value.

Swine producers are invited to enter one or two barrows and entry blanks are available at the County Extension Office and the Raith Packing Company buying station at Milford. Hogs must be in the yards by 10:00 a.m. for weighing and judging will start at 12:00 noon. Exhibitors will meet at the Avilla High School on January 27 for evaluation and pictures of their livestock.

Judges will be Glen Byler of Milford and Malcolm Grime of the state Producers Commission Ass'n.

State Police List Requirements

Only one Indiana State Police recruit school will be held in 1968 and the deadline for application is March 8, according to an announcement this week by State Police Superintendent Robert A. O'Neal.

"We are particularly interested in attracting the attention of recently discharged military veterans," O'Neal said. "A trooper's career offers top benefits, good pay and the kind of challenge and excitement that young men are looking for."

Any man, regardless of where he resides in the United States, is eligible to join the ranks of the Indiana State Police if he can meet the following requirements:

1. A U.S. citizen.
2. At least a high school diploma.
3. A valid drivers license.
4. Age 21 and not yet 34 by July 1.
5. 5 feet 9 inches to 6 feet 7 inches tall.

The starting salary for Hoosier trooper is $525. After one year of service the pay is increased to $575 with a maximum trooper salary is furnished and the Department also provides and excellent pension and insurance program.

The 1968 recruit academy begins July 1 at Indiana University for a period of eight weeks. Successful candidates will be appointed to the ranks September 3 as probationary officers.

Indiana residents may obtain further information and applications at any State Police post. Non-residents may also obtain applications at any post or by writing to "Superintendent, Indiana State Police, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204."

Jolly Janes

Honor Anniversary

On Monday evening, Jan. 8, the Jolly Janes Homemakers Club met at Teel's Restaurant in Mentone to observe their 21st Anniversary. Seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. Kate Whetstone and Mrs. Carol Bibler, answered roll call by telling about the snowstorm they remember most. It was noted that there are eight charter members still with the Club.

After opening with "America The Beautiful" and the Pledge to the Flag, everyone joined in singing the song of the month, "The More We Get Together."

For Meditation Mary Tridle read a poem from an old schoolbook of hers entitled "Ring Out, Wild Bells." Health and Safety Remarks were given by Joan Welch, and she reminded everyone that since it is so slick under foot to be careful.

For her Garden Remarks Esther Markley said that since it has gotten so cold it would help to mulch the roses some more.

After closing the meeting with the Club Collect and the Club Prayer Song a game of making New Year's resolutions was played. The door prize of a lovely floral centerpiece was won by Carol Bibler. The hostesses for the evening were Joan Welch, Rosemary Bazzini and Grace Lewis.

New Airlift Posted Rate Benefits Overseas Servicemen's Families

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates.

Area residents using this new airlift service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas. The airlift is available on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special airlift rate.

Postal patrons can get the airlift service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The new airlift also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation from the Sectional Center post office South Bend, Ind. to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service.

In many instances the new airlift rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges, as per the following examples:

A mother here sending a 15 package to her son in Vietnam pays $4.30 for the new airlift service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $12.08.

An eight-pound package going from here to Frankfurt, Germany, costs $2.30 under the airlift service. The air parcel rate is $4.70.

It is not always to the mailers' advantage to use the airlift service. On some light packages air parcel post rates may be lower than the airlift rates. Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas.

The regular postage on parcels mailed to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is hauled within the United States. No charge is made for carrying the package between the U. S. port and the overseas base.

The new airlift service went into effect January 7, before January 7 airlift for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of the regular parcel post rates, these packages get service transportation to the port of embarkation and are air-lifted from there to the overseas posts on a space available basis.

There is no charge for this partial airlift and overseas parcels weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive this service.

Mentone Misses Championship By 3

Three little but important points kept the Mentone Bulldogs from being this year's county champions as they were defeated Saturday afternoon by So. Whitley in a tough final game. Three points were all that separated the Bulldogs from So. Whitley in their previous season's encounter, and Saturday's game was even closer, ending in a 78-76 verdict.

Mentone had battled its way to the final game by defeating Larwill and Piercetown.

Final game action was hot and heavy and was paced for the Mentone team by Dennis Meyer who collected 29 points. Other high scorers for the Bulldogs were Tim Holeslaw with 17 and Lee Ritchey with 14. Terry Zorger, Kosciusko county's top point-getter, tossed in 32 points for So. Whitley.

Mentone will meet Milford in regular season play Friday night at No. Webster.

Heavy snow adds beauty, hazard to area

The ten inch snowfall of the week-end added great beauty, but with the beauty came additional driving hazards.

A 1965 Chevrolet school bus owned by the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation sustained $100 damages Monday morning when it collided with a 1967 Chevrolet, bottom picture, driven by Mrs. Polly Finney, Akron, a teacher in the Mentone school.

Although school was held Monday, classes were dismissed Tuesday until further snow removal could be completed on county roads. Also cancelled was Monday night's meeting of the school board.

On Monday morning, Tippecanoe Valley school bus being driven by Thomas Haupt, 50, Akron, and carrying a load of 25 students collided 3 1/2 miles north of Akron with a car driven by Mentone teacher Mrs. Polly Finney, 23, Akron. A passenger in Mrs. Finney's car, Mrs. Florence Caldwell, Akron, also a Mentone teacher, was hospitalized with possible neck injuries.

Mrs. Caldwell returned to her home Tuesday.

Another teacher, Elizabeth Harkness, No. Manchester, also escaped injury.

The 1967 Chevrolet was northbound when it skidded after hitting snow on the side of the road. It slid 310 feet into the path of the southbound bus.

None of the students reported injuries, although all were shaken up according to Fulton Co. Sheriff Homer Carr. Another bus was sent to the scene and took the students to school.

Damage to the car was set at $800 and to the bus at $100.

Dr. Wilson Heads Flying Club

Dr. Wymond Wilson was elected president of the Mentone Flying Club at a meeting conducted Friday night. Other officers elected include Bob Miller, vice president; Bill Ettinger, secretary and treasurer; Chick Herendeen, safety officer; and Bob Hill, member-at-large.

Harrison Crabill, local flight instructor, was praised for the high percentage of his students who recently passed the FAA written examination.

Grover Burnworth of Roann was a Thursday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fowler.

Mrs. Miller Hosts Seward Club

Mrs. Kenneth Miller was hostess to members of the Seward Home Extension Club last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Donald Smalley was co-hostess.

The meeting, conducted by the new president, Mrs. Raymond Longbrake, opened with the club creed and the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Vernon Meredith read the constitution and by-laws and the amendments.

The history of the song of the month, "The More We Get Together," was given by Mrs. Frank Nelson, and the group joined in singing two verses.

Mrs. Wm. Kassen gave health and safety remarks entitled "Prevention of Falls."

Mrs. Clarence Tinkey presented several readings for meditations, and Mrs. Raymond Longbrake gave the garden lesson about daffodils for winter bloom.

The lesson, "Household Techniques," was presented by Mrs. Earl Lowman, and each member gave a household hint.

Reports were heard from the secretary, treasurer, and auditing committee. A letter from the mental health patient was read by Mrs. Harold Eaton.

An auction was conducted by Mrs. Clarence Tinkey, who acted as auctioneer.

Refreshments were served to fourteen members, two children, and two guests, Mrs. Wayne Smalley and Mrs. Robert Miller.

for using the black man to do his dirty and servile work and for borrowing his talk, music and his causes, leveled a charge of dishonesty at the president in his Vietnam dealings and said five and one-half million new guns had been sold in the US. Predicting that white homicides will increase 300 to 600 per cent in the next six to eight months and by 3,000 per cent in the next eighteen months, he continued his tongue lashing of white America.

In the lighter portion of the interview, Gregory, who makes his home in Chicago, said it would be impractical for the black man to enslave whites.

"Not that we wouldn't like to. But if we did, every black man would have to feed and clothe and house twelve white folks. It would take us two and a half years just to teach them the proper way to eat watermelon. In two days 180,000,000 whites could pick all of the cotton, and that would leave them the other 363 to sit around and plot against us."

"Bean Stringer," a U. S. First Fleet training exercise, was held on the coast of Southern California and lasted from January 4 through the 13th. It was planned to prepare the 23 ships and nine air units that participated, for conditions prevailing in Southeast Asia.

The exercise included advanced training in surface warfare tactics, anti-submarine, air and PT boat warfare operations, and shore bombardment. It was highlighted by surface-to-air missiles fired against drone aerial targets, live rockets and bombing attacks against targets in the San Clemente and Chocolate Mountain impact ranges, surface gunnery and air strikes to sink the target ship Ex-USS Abercrombie.

Social Security News Notes

Recent legislation included two important provisions in the Medicare program which have a March 31, 1968 deadline, according to Herbert O. Bultmeier, district manager of the Social Security Administration.

First, people over 65 who did not sign up for the voluntary medical insurance now have until March 31, 1968 to do so. Those who sign up during this general enrollment period will have their protection begin July 1, 1968. This provision affects a relatively small number of people as about 93% signed up when the law went into effect in 1966.

The other provision affected by the deadline involves the reimbursement of doctor bills and other expenses under Medicare. Reimbursement for those medical expenses that were incurred in July, August, and September of 1966 must be claimed by the March 31, 1968 deadline. Medical expenses incurred in the last three months of 1966 and during the year 1967 can be submitted for reimbursement anytime until December 31, 1968.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Barry Goldwater will appear at Manchester College as part of the Convocation Series, according to an announcement made this week by college spokesmen. Robert Mock, minister to students and in charge of arranging for convocation speakers, reports that King will speak February 1 and Goldwater, the 1964 presidential candidate, will speak Feb. 8.

King was scheduled to speak last May but failed to appear because the airport at Serbia was weatherbound. This time he plans to land at Ft. Wayne and should be able to be present regardless of the weather.

Mentone Is Praised By Serviceman

A local serviceman, Robert Nelson, wrote the following letter to members of the Mentone War Mothers, who asked that it be shared with our readers:

Dec. 13, 1967

Dear Mrs. Davis,

I would like to thank you and the Mothers of World War II for the Christmas card and the dollar bill. It means a lot to us servicemen who are far from home and to know that the people back home are thinking about us.

For many people throughout America, the popular trend today seems to be knocking and discrediting our men in the service and the various armed forces in themselves.

I, for one, feel very proud of my hometown of Mentone, because you people have refused to let this element influence your better judgement. I feel that the different clubs, organizations, school groups, and individuals in Mentone have done an outstanding job in contributing to the morale of the area servicemen. It is too bad that towns do not receive awards or medals for outstanding service. If they did I would place Mentone at the top of the list.

Because it is the Christmas season, I did not feel right in accepting your gift of money, so, I hope with your approval, I have matched your dollar and have given these to my favorite

ODDS and ENDS

by Ann Sheets

This is the time of year the accumulation of resolutions that I began in November usually takes shape, and by now I have usually broken all twenty nine of them, starting with "lose weight" and ending with "write the Great American Novel."

The only resolution I made this year was not to resolve anything. Goals, too, didn't seem too promising after I had bogged down on last year's goal of reading three chapters of the Bible every day and five on Sunday. I made it most of the way through the Old Testament, but that's a long way from completing last year's goal and doesn't leave much time to begin this year's plans.

This year I voted on a slogan, "Do Great In '68 So Everything Will Be Fine In '69." Loren has already paraphrased it, "Go Straight In '68," but then that's a husband for you. I suggested he "Lose Weight In '68," and we both dropped the subject.

So, along with having last year's goal to complete and a mangled slogan with which to begin this year, it seemed like a good idea to eat sauerkraut for dinner on New Year's Day to get the year off to a good start. The only trouble was, we all had flu and the idea of sauerkraut was so repulsive we waited until the 2nd to eat it. Already one day late beginning the year, I swore to myself that this year I would write regularly, turning out a column a week. Well, having two short work weeks coupled with the flu and three other interruptions named Loren, Todd and Doug, I missed the first two weeks.

deadline. At this rate, I'll never catch up last week's work let alone last year's goals.

Maybe I should re-phrase my goal to: Get Off The Slow Freight In '68!" At any rate, we all join in wishing you and yours the greatest '68 ever and in hoping that everything truly will be fine in '69.

Parson Jones Speaks

Dear Mr. Publisher

I don't know whether I ever told you or not, but I got a brother in California who's a preacher too. He's younger than me and he's working with a group of hippies. He's even growed a beard and wears beads around his neck. I got a letter from him the other day and he told me all about how these younguns behave. I couldn't help comparing it with when I was a kid. They say a fella starts thinking backward when he gets older, so I guess that's my problem.

I was born on the other side of the tracks, but didn't realize at the time that we was in the poverty bracket. We was so poor that even the depression didn't effect us. I guess when people on the bottom, you can't go any lower. I wore ragged clothes like the hippies, but I done it cause we didn't have anything better - not for kicks. I slept on the floor on a quilt in the summer time cause we didn't have air conditioning and it was cooler. Instead of LSD I used to ride the only elevator in town. The building was 12 stories tall so I could get pretty high. One place where I differed from the hippies was playing with flowers. My chief pastime was rummaging the garbage cans. Its a nazing how many unusual things you can find in a simple garbage container. I brought home more choice goodies. (Mama called it junk.) If these hippies would ever get in one good garbage can they'd never go back to sniffing flowers. For violence I used to hang people's porch furniture on top of telephone poles at Halloween. (We didn't have no trick or treat back then. We didn't give 'em a choice.)

The hippies seem to think the world is a pretty rotten place to live. I guess maybe we were too stupid to know any better, but the kids in my block thought it was great. Course that was before psychologists started analyzing everybody. I guess we were maladjusted and didn't know it. We were just too happy to realize that we were miserable.

Well, Mr. Publisher, so much for the ramblings of yesterday. I reckon its true that you can't put a square peg in a round hole. But, then I never really liked round holes too good anyways.

Your square friend,
Parson Jones

Q: When I reported for physical examination at the Armed Forces Examining Station, I was rejected for being ten pounds overweight. I am not now overweight. Am I expected to report that change to my local board?

A: Yes, within ten days of the date it is discovered that you are no longer overweight.

Q: I am in jail for 90 days and my birthday is coming up next week. How do I get registered so I don't get in some more trouble?

A: The superintendent of the institution is probably a Selective Service registrar and will register you on the way out. If not, register immediately after your release and explain the delay to your local board in writing.

Q: I am classified I-Y. Does this mean that I will be re-examined?

A: You may or may not be re-examined depending upon the reasons you are not currently qualified for military service. When other Registrants in your age group with similar classification and circumstances are examined, your local board will review your case.

Local Boy Quizzed

A young Mentone boy was questioned last week by Mentone Marshal Gene Norton, Deputy Sheriff Roger Fellows and Mentone school officials in connection with a number of thefts from Mentone homes in the past few weeks. The amount of the loss is considered minor.

I WAS THERE

Garrett H. Phillips

So, we had beautiful, white snow...with drifts in my garden where just a few weeks ago tomatoes, corn and other vegetables were growing. The setting of the sun...in the late gloaming often my family has spoken of the rare beauty of the prairies of Indiana.

The snow brings back memories of the great snow in New York City. Cars buried, buses running hour's late; people all seem to come out of those great apartments like bees coming out of their hives. Everybody talking. All pushing cars. It was a great world. For one hour New York City looked clean. Schools closed. People staying home from work. People playing in the snow. Not too cold, just right. The first time I heard people laughing together. All were happy. No bread at the store. Candy stores doing a good business. Pizza stands busy. Did you ever eat a pizza and drink an egg cream standing up to your knees or hips in new fallen snow?...with hundreds of people around you thinking, "This is the greatest day of my life." All are wet, all are trying to help the one car that is brave enough to try to get across the bridge.

Transistor radios reporting "More snow to come!" Jewish, Protestants, Catholics all saying their own prayers in their own way, saying "Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow."

It will be ten years before I will get to talk to as many people as on that day. All were young. All were kind. No one was in a hurry. It was New York City. I couldn't believe it. No one else could.

I now stand looking out across Indiana prairie snow. I can't believe it. I was there and I was glad.

P.S. Some beauty cannot be comprehended.

Oranges And Pork Chops—Good!

Pork chops, acorn squash, fresh oranges and orange juice concentrate blend their flavors in a delicious skillet dinner. This meat-vegetable-fruit dish can be prepared in a short time, and it's oh, so kind to your budget!

The chops and sliced squash simmer in a spicy, tart-sweet sauce of frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, brown sugar and ginger. Orange slices add bright, fresh flavor and texture.

Use Florida oranges frequently in cooking and baking as well as for juicing, and in fruit cups, salads, desserts, and for out-of-hand eating, too. They're full of valuable vitamin C, needed daily for good health and vitality.

Orange Pork Chop Skillet Dinner

- |   |                                  |
|---|----------------------------------|
| 1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted | 1 teaspoon salt                  |
| 2 tablespoons brown sugar   | 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco             |
| 2 teaspoons ground ginger   | 6 pork chops, cut 1/2-inch thick |
|   | 1 acorn squash                   |
|   | 2 Florida oranges                |

Combine undiluted orange juice concentrate, brown sugar, ginger, salt and Tabasco. Brown pork chops on both sides in skillet rubbed lightly with fat trimmings from chops. Drain all fat from pan. Wash and slice squash into rings 1/4-inch thick; remove seeds and cut rings in halves. Arrange squash with chops in skillet. Pour on orange juice mixture. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until chops are tender, spooning sauce over chops and squash several times during cooking. Slice oranges 1/4-inch thick; cut each slice in half. Add orange slices to skillet last 5 minutes of cooking time. YIELD: 6 servings.

MENTONE, INDIANA 46539

Wednesday, January 24, 1968

Beaver Dam Jr. High School was extensively damaged by fire last night. This series of pictures shows some of the aftermath of the fire. Left: A tangle of girders and a burned out stage are all that remain of the gymnasium. Center: A bus parked near the building was ruined. Right: The industrial shop is no more. The concrete block structure collapsed during the heat of the fire and all that remained today was the smoldering ruin. The fire is believed to have started in this section. --The Mentone News photos.

Fire damages Beaver Dam school

Fire, believed to have originated in the industrial arts shop at the rear of the Beaver Dam school, did extensive damage to both the shop and the gym of the school last night. The school, which had an enrollment of 203 students yesterday, was closed today, and a special meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley school board will be held tonight to determine placing of the students within existing corporation schools.

Superintendent Robert Forbes said this morning he had tentatively decided where the students could fit into existing buildings at Akron, Talma and Mentone, but that he would wait board approval before making the final placing.

Typewriters, money, and school records were carried from the building and housed in the Beaver Dam Church.

Will Appear On Wide World Of Sports

Mentone's Bob Herendeen will appear on "Wide World of Sports" Saturday afternoon. Bob, a champion aerobatic pilot, continues to wrack up impressive records with stunt flying.

The industrial arts shop above and below, is shown at the height of the blaze that consumed it last night.

Firemen from Mentone, Akron, Burket, Claypool, Silver Lake, Rochester, and Warsaw were called to the scene, and at the height of the fire eighteen pieces of firefighting equipment were in operation.

Firemen were able to confine most of the blaze to the gym and the shop although smoke and water damage was reported to the remainder of the building. Workmen began the process of cutting off heat and water lines to the damaged portions of the building this morning. Some windows in the main portion of the building were broken and a hole was knocked in the ceiling of one of the rooms. Heat has been restored to the main portion.

The original building was built in 1912 with the gym being added in 1929. It housed all twelve grades until Franklin township became a part of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. At that time it was remodeled and became a junior high school. Students in grades 6, 7, and 8 currently are using the building. At the time the building was remodeled five years ago, a five-year limit was set on its use, and some discussion has been carried on as to how long the building could continue to function as a junior high.

No more basketball games will be played in the Beaver Dam gym as a result of the disastrous fire that destroyed the building last night.

Chicken Fry Will Aid Runway Project

A chicken fry Saturday night will benefit the Mentone Airport's runway project. Sponsored by the Mentone Chamber of Commerce and the Mentone Flying Club, the chicken fry will be held in the Mentone Fire Station. All proceeds will be used for the all-weather strip at the Mentone Airport. Carry-outs will start at 4 p.m. and serving will continue from 5 until 8 p.m. Workers will include members and wives of both sponsoring groups.

Progress on the paved runway has been slowed by the same wet weather that has slowed everything else in this vicinity. As soon as it is dry enough to work, the necessary grading, etc. can be begun.

T.V.S.C. Science Fair Set March 12-13

Plans for the sixth annual Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation Science Fair are well under way. The corporation will hold its science fair in the Akron High School gym on March 12 and 13 this year. Wayne Cumberland, teacher at Akron and Mentone, is the director.

All students in the corporation, kindergarten through grade 12, are eligible to participate. Projects can be shown in any of the following eleven categories: botany; microbiology; conservation; medicine and health; zoology; chemistry and biochemistry; mathematics and computers; astronomy and space; general physics; geology and meteorology; electronics, electricity and magnetism. Students will show their projects in an appropriate division based on their grade level.

There will be a Certificate of Participation for each student showing; 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place ribbons for grades kindergarten through six; ribbons for the first six placings in grades 7 through 12; gold, silver, and bronze medals for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place in each division; and finally, a trophy for the top overall exhibit.

Exhibits entered by students in kindergarten through grade 6 may be individual or group exhibits. Exhibits by students in grades 7 through 12 must be individual. The exhibits have a size limitation of table or floor space 30 inches front to back and 40 inches side to side.

Top exhibits at the TVSC fair will be selected to show at the Regional Science Fair to be held at Manchester College on March 30. First place winners of grades 4 through 12 will be eligible for the regional.

Editor's Viewpoint

The fire at the Beaver Dam school last night was a tragedy, but how thankful we should be that no students were in the building at the time. In light of the one or two school discussions, too, we think how nice that we still have schools left in which to house the 203 Beaver Dam students. One school and a fire, no school. Two schools and a fire, still one school even if it is crowded. Just a thought.

Forbes Gives TVSC Year-End Report

A financial report of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation given to the School Board at the January 15 meeting revealed that the School Corporation ended the year with a balance of $595,507.47. As of the end of the year, $182,237.22 was invested in long term bonds and $413,270.25 was on deposit in the Akron Exchange Bank and the Farmers State Bank. The Superintendent pointed out to the School Board that $233,855.56 was the working balance of the School Corporation as of December 31, 1967, and that $351,642.91 was the balance of the Cumulative Building Fund, and that about $30,000 of the Cumulative Building Fund was encumbered to pay the final 10% on the Elementary Additions.

The Superintendent advised the Board that since January 1, 1968, $95,000 has come to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation and since the first of the year, in accordance with board policy, Security Bills, amounting to $350,000 have been purchased for the School Corporation and that these were made in two separate purchases, $250,000 to mature on August 31, 1968 with a yield of 5.35 interest which will net $8,879.51 if held to maturity, and the other $100,000 to mature February 15, 1968, which will yield $472.78. The other $185,000 bond will mature May 15, 1968 with an interest of $3,584.38 and in addition we will receive $185,000 for these bonds which cost $182,237.22, for a gain of $2,762.78.

The Superintendent pointed out that the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation had ended the budgetary year with good balances in all appropriation accounts, pointing out that $40,792.56 of the operating budget had not been expended in this calendar year. He also pointed out the $93,471.09 of the Cumulative Building Fund appropriation for the Building Program had not been spent, but advised the Board of approximately $30,000 of this money was encumbered for future payments.

Haney-Teel Vows Are Exchanged

In a lovely candlelight ceremony at 7:00 P.M. Friday, January 5th, Miss Cornie Rae Teel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grubbs of Mentone, became the bride of Douglas Lane Haney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haney of R.R. Warsaw. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Garrett Phillips at the Mentone Methodist Church.

A musical prelude was presented by Mrs. George Youell of Atwood, organist, and Mr. Gail Hammond of Akron, soloist.

The bride appeared in a white floor-length gown of Rochelle lace. The high-rise waist featured an all lace bodice with a scalloped neckline and long bridal point sleeves. The floor-length chiffon skirt was topped at the back by a detachable chapel length train which fell from the shoulders. Her veil of pure silk English illusion was held by a forward headpiece of lace petals high-lighted with pearls and touched with sequins and crystals. Her bouquet consisted of a white poinsetta surrounded by small white Snowdrift pom-poms with blue velvet ribbon loops.

The maid of honor was Miss Cheryl Jones of Burket. She wore a floor length empire gown of royal blue velvet. The high-rise waist was enhanced by a scoop neckline and long sleeves with a bell-shape cuff. The A-line skirt was detailed at the back by an insertion of a royal blue satin panel. The ensemble was completed with a bunny-fur ring headpiece. She carried an arrangement of white Snowdrift pom-poms centered with a lighted candle.

The bridesmaids, Miss Donita Teel, sister of the bride, and Miss Kathy Boggs of Mentone wore gowns identical to the maid of honor.

Jill Haney, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. Her gown was also of royal blue velvet fashioned with white lace collar and cuffs.

The mother of the bride wore a gold two-piece knit dress with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Haney wore a pink dress with a red and white carnation corsage.

The best man was Everett Warren Jr. of Warsaw. Ronald Teel, brother of the bride, and Jack Keirn of Warsaw served as Groomsmen. Ushers were Steve Reed, Atwood, and Mike Whetstone of Mentone.

Serving at the reception in the church social rooms were Miss Karen Hanes, of Atwood, Mrs. Sherry Whetstone, of Mentone, and the Misses Peggy Whetstone and Linda Fawley, both of Mentone.

Nancy Keirn of Warsaw was in charge of the guest book.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Mentone High School. The bride is employed as bookkeeper at the Warsaw TV and Appliance and the groom is employed at the Valentine Elevator at Mentone and is also engaged in farming. Following a honeymoon in Florida and the Smokey Mountains, the couple will be at home on R.R. 5, Warsaw.

ODDS and ENDS

by Ann Sheets

Without our hall window none of us could start the day. Invariably the first one up, I blink sleepily as I count the calves, check for deer, and size up weather conditions. Loren staggers by it next, checking cloud formations, ground fog, cloud ceiling wind direction, the calves, and the soundness of the window. Next comes Todd who mopes past slowly as he checks for space ships and rockets, and, finding none, settles for stargazing.

Doug comes last, but we all wait to hear his pronouncement as he pauses to look out the window. To his three-year old mind each day is good for something, and he rarely starts a day without telling all of us what it is good for. It may be good for planting corn (in August) or picking corn (May, perhaps) or it might be a good day to go flying or to go to Charlie's house. Last week every day was a good day to play in the snow. The sight of all that white stuff sent his muscles quivering, and he bounded the stairs muttering to himself, "Nobody better tell me I can't go outdoors." Surely snow is never more fun than when you are three and have a strong, devoted brother to drag and push you around on a sled and to help build snowmen.

Once, passing the hall window on a return trip upstairs I saw Doug plopping his fat little self on the sled and signal to Todd to move on. Todd tried but couldn't move the sled. Doug very carefully stood up and then lay flat on his back with his hands crossed on his stomach as if that position would make him lighter. His smile as the sled slowly inched across the snow gave evidence that he had been right, it really was a good day to play in the snow, and we could predict what the next day's pronouncement would be as we each took our turn at the hall window.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mollenhour have returned from a visit with Mrs. Mollenhour's son, Bob Herendeen, in California.

I WAS THERE

Always I have heard that everyone in New York City was bad. "Keep your house locked." "Lock your car." "Don't go out at night." "Someone will stab you in the back." Then I was there.

First I went to take our children to the first day of school. All boys wore white shirts and dark ties, with black jackets. Is this the place where they train undertakers or bishops? All girls had on white blouses and dark skirts. Everybody was in a straight line. Then suddenly one boy stepped out of line. Out came charging the principal, who only five minutes before had told me she loved kids. She screamed as one who had lost her mind, and said to the frightened little boy, "If you ever do that again you will be expelled and never set your foot inside this school again."

Then in to school. Many a morning the teacher never came into the room, but stayed out in the hall and talked with another teacher. Often, as I got to know the youngsters, I would ask, "How do you like school?" They would say, "Reverend, why do they scream at me? I will drop out as soon as I can." A teacher I knew... I asked a little little girl if she liked her, she said "She's mean!" One of my daughters, when in the fifth grade, had a Jewish Rabbi as a teacher. He was wonderful. He let them be children. He loved them. He taught them. I visited his room, the children loved him. At the opening of school, mothers and fathers lined up asking for their child to be in his room.

New York children respond to love just as Mentone children respond to love. I never locked my door in the five years in New York, nor my car. No one ever bothered me. I have been in all sections day and night. Always I treated everyone with love and respect, and love and respect came in return. I was there.

P.S. Let's all have more love for one another.

Kathy Boggs Admitted To College "With Distinction"

Indiana Central College announced this week that Miss Kathy Ann Boggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Boggs, Mentone, has been admitted

Where Does Your Child Eat?

Mentone principal Ernest Holclaw, in an attempt to learn if all parents know where their children eat their noon meal, this week sent the following note to each parent:

Dear Parents:

I am getting the impression that many parents think their high school children are eating their lunch in the school cafeteria.

This is true with most students, but many that are supposed to be eating at school are not doing so. I have no objection what-so-ever to students eating downtown so long as their parents are aware of this. However, some students are deceiving their parents as to where they are eating and what their lunch consists of.

Possibly it would be wise for the parents to investigate this matter for the best interest of all concerned.

We at the Mentone School will be very happy to cooperate with any parent seeking information pertaining to their child. Please contact us at your convenience.

Hears JA Program

The Mentone Lions Club met Tuesday evening at Teel's Restaurant. The meeting opened with singing the "Star Spangled Banner", and the invocation was given by George Welch.

Following the business meeting, Lion George Welch introduced Hurley Gerard, program director of the Warsaw Junior Achievement, who told the history of the organization, which was organized by Matt Dalton. Mr. Gerard in turn introduced Bill Haldewang, who explained the principles of organizing a Junior Achievement company and his duties as president of Leutco, one of the JA companies. Christie Lancaster described her duties as treasurer, and Sue Carlson demonstrated her ability as a marketing executive.

The program was closed by Tweed Robinson, chairman of the board of directors. He told of the benefits of Junior Achievement and explained that Warsaw has one of the most active JA groups for a community of its size and operates on a smaller than average budget.

The award is being made for the first time this year and selections are made from all applicants who are admitted for the fall semester.

Kathy is a senior at Mentone High School. She has been a member of the band, chorus, student council, cheerleading squad, and National Honor Society.

Blood Bank Day Is Set

February 5 is the date of the next Bloodmobile visit to Mentone, according to Mrs. Joe Boggs. She said the goal has again been set at 145 pints and urges everyone to set aside a bit of time that day to donate blood. The collection center will again be located in the basement of the Mentone Methodist Church.

The blood supply is so short that the Ft. Wayne office reports they can no longer make regular hospital deliveries but must wait for a call to take it to the hospitals.

Kosciusko county is 180 pints of blood short for the year so it is hoped to have a record turn-out at the February 5 visit in order that part of the shortage can be replaced.

Shootings Are Reported

Several instances of misguided shooting have been reported locally. Broken windows, shattered mirrors, and holes in the walls of houses have been reported, and it is thought the shots were fired by youngsters shooting pellet guns.

Youngsters are cautioned that such guns are deadly weapons and should never be aimed at anything except a regulation target or as a weapon for hunting. Houses and windows are not considered fair game, and it is hoped parents will assist in ending this menace.

Andrews Asks PTA Members,

"Where Are Your Children Tonight?"

"Where are your children tonight?" Dave Andrews, Kosciusko county sheriff asked members of the Burket-Mentone-Talma PTA as the group met Wednesday night. Andrews described juvenile disregard for law and regulations and urged that parents find out what their children are doing.

A question and answer session followed the sheriff's talk, and he re-iterated points made in his speech.

The meeting was opened by the president, George Welch, and Ernest Holclaw, high school principal, led the pledge to the flag. Devotions were given by Rev. Edwards who also introduced the evening's speaker.

The February meeting will be announced at a later date and will be in charge of the ways and means committee. "The 5-D's of Delinquency" will be the topic for the March meeting.

Mrs. Tombaugh's 4th grade won the PATRICIA award, the traveling prize for classes whose parents have the best attendance.

145 blood donors needed

A critical blood shortage is being felt throughout the area according to volunteer Red Cross workers who are busy recruiting donors for Monday's Bloodmobile visit. It is hoped 145 donors will meet the quota of this year's drive. The Bloodmobile will be at the Mentone Methodist Church from noon until 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 5.

The blood shortage is felt so acutely that the Ft. Wayne office reports it can no longer make regular hospital deliveries but must wait for a call to take it to the hospitals.

A new program, known as the Teen Gallon program, will be tried this year by members of the Mentone High School senior class. In the event eight senior students who are over 18 donate blood, the school will be awarded a special poster for the trophy case designating the donor as a "Teen Gallon" group. Mentone principal Ernest Holtslaw has aided Red Cross workers in arranging for this special group effort. The project was begun in Ft. Wayne two years ago and has grown steadily each year, spreading into other schools.

To become a teen donor, a student must be 18 years of age or older and must have his parents sign a permission card.

In addition to donating blood for general use, many donors like to designate special people to receive their donations. It has been reported that Mrs. Ruth Boganwright Shafer, a lifetime resident of the Tippecanoe-Bourbon communities, needs blood, and it is hoped some donors will donate for her.

Referendum to decide building program

The taxpayers of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will determine whether the corporation shall build one new consolidated high school or two new high schools as a result of a special meeting of the school board held Thursday night. The unanimous decision of the board followed months of discussion of school needs and was prompted by the recent fire at the Beaver Dam Jr. High School, which pushed 203 students into the other corporation schools.

The motion, as it was passed, stated: Be it resolved that the school board have a referendum at the May 1968 primary, which referendum will be stated as follows: ☐ Approve one new high school for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation to be located near the geographic center of the school corporation. ☐ Approve two new high schools for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, one to be located at Akron, Indiana and one at Mentone, Indiana. Be it further resolved that the school board agree to abide by the decision of the referendum and proceed immediately with a building program.

All eligible voters may cast their ballots in this election, which will also determine two board posts presently occupied by Gale Creighton and Eldon Cumberland, both of whom are eligible to seek re-election. The building question will be answered by 50% plus one of the day's voters.

The geographic center of the corporation was determined to be an area between roads 700 and 800 South with State Road 19 as the center. The area is west of Sevastopol, which has long been mentioned as the center.

The building program, as it has been discussed, will consist of either one or two high schools. The elementary grades would remain in their present location, and the junior high grades would move into the existing high school building.

Following the referendum discussion, the board turned to thoughts of securing an architect-engineer and to doing all preliminary work that can be done prior to the decision of the referendum.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the group will be held February 12.

Will Erwin Announces For Second District House Seat

Will Erwin, a Republican State Senator from Ellettsburg, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Second District.

The announcement was made Saturday noon at a luncheon and press conference at the Holiday Inn in Lafayette.

Erwin's decision to run was precipitated by veteran Second District Congressman Charles Halleck's announcement on Tuesday, January 23, that he would not seek re-election.

"I have always had sincere admiration for Charlie Halleck and appreciation for his leadership," Erwin said.

In his announcement statement, the 42 year old legislator said that a Republican should fill the vacancy left by Charlie Halleck because "...the Republican record speaks for itself and because the opposition party's record in the State of Indiana and in The White House leaves so much to be desired."

Chicken Fry Aids Runway Project

Goats Are Almost As Versatile As Schmoos And They Have The Cutest Kids

by Ann Sheets

Al Capp's versatile little schmoos are the answer to everything according to the comic strip. Goats aren't the answer to everything, but they do produce top quality meat, milk that is already homogenized, and true affection according to the Lester Kindigs and Harold Hiles, who live east of Mentone and each of whom have sizeable goat herds.

The milk, say the Kindigs who can produce leaflets to back their statements, is so pure it doesn't have to be pasteurized and because the fat globules are small, the milk is already homogenized. Babies, invalids and persons allergic to cow milk can readily digest goat milk, they say, and point to instances where relief for ulcers and other gastric discomforts has come from goat milk.

Like schmoos, goats can be eaten and their meat is considered top-quality by people around the world. It can be roasted or broiled or fried or stewed, just like any other meat.

And goats aren't too bad to have around, the two families agree. A new process has been invented that enables goat owners to "deodorize" their billy goats, and this has greatly aided in making goats more socially acceptable. They're easy to care for although they do prefer to be kept dry and they do like good food. Contrary to popular opinion, goats don't eat tin cans. If one nibbles on a tin can it is because it looks like the glue on the label or because it is in need of additional calcium or minerals. Actually, goats eat little. Five goats will consume less feed than one cow and in return will produce proportionately more milk than the cow.

Goats were among the first of the wild animals to be domesticated and are the most widely distributed of all barnyard stock. Wild goats were first found almost ten million years ago, and today's docile barnyard pet is a descendant of these early wild goats.

There's not much wild about goats now and they respond to love and affection as easily as any other animal. They tend to get ornery if teased or abused, but it is easy to see that the Kindigs and Hiles have taken the best of care of their animals. Not only do they answer to a pet name but most of them are sloppily affectionate. On a recent visit to the Hile farm I attempted to photograph a goat who became so enamored that he put his feet on my shoulder and kissed me. Named Simba, he is a product of Carl Sandburg's famous Flat Rock, N. C. goat farm. The boys experienced similar bursts of affection from the goats. The little goat kids respond to hugs from little boys, and Doug squealed in delight as one planted a kiss on his face.

The Hile youngsters enjoy playing with their own goats and hope soon to have a cart that is similar to a pony cart but that uses goat power. In the meantime they have a wonderful time watching the playful antics of the little kids, surely the cutest of the barnyard set as they tumble their way through goat adolescence.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would like to use this medium in trying to thank the local firemen and the fire depts. from other nearby towns, for their efforts at the fire at the Beaver Dam School Tuesday evening. When one stands in their own back yard and the heat from a burning building is a bit to warm for comfort, you begin to wonder what might happen next. As the saying goes "My home is my castle" and I hope to keep it that way, not a heap of rubble like the remains of the Beaver Dam gymnasium. I was waiting and watching for the first truck. I'm quite sure it was less than five minutes after it arrived they were in action trying to control the fire. When I saw a fireman high up in a tree, spraying the roof on the township house, I felt a bit more safe. The last truck to leave, left from the front of the school house at a quarter of three. Wednesday morning. Thanks again for waiting and watching.

The loss of the building is a personal loss to me after having lived so close for so many years and a book could be written of the success of many graduates of the Beaver Dam High School. The fire may have brought the end of an era as far as education is concerned, but it will never erase the memories of happy times spent in association with the school and its activities. Since it is impossible to say "Thanks" to each one of the fireman, I want them all to know I'm grateful.

Anthony Nigo DAR Hears Folk Music Program

The Mentone Town Hall was the site of the January meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, D.A.R. Mrs. Thomas Fugate, regent, conducted the opening ceremony with responses by the chaplain, Mrs. Arthur Brown, and the chapter members.

Guests welcomed included Mrs. Loren Sheetz, Akron, and Mrs. Myron Blue, of Bourbon, and honored guests who presented the evening's musical program.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Frank Smith were elected alternate delegates to Continental Congress at Washington, D. C. A committee consisting of Mrs. Ray Linn, Mrs. Max Smith and Mrs. Brown was appointed to provide an American History Month display. Mrs. Walter Lackey and Mrs. Tucker were named to assist Mrs. Smalley, American History Essay Chairman, in selecting the winning history essays.

A nominating committee was appointed of Mrs. Dale Cook, Mrs. Ray Rush, and Miss Annabel Mentzer, to present a slate of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Glenn Clauss read the DAR Resolution which expresses "a firm conviction that the Congress of the United States should reassert its constitutional authority to develop defense projects to a level necessary for the safety of American lives and property."

Chapter registrar, Mrs. Ernest Igo, announced the papers of Miss Yvonne Rathfon had been approved as a new Junior Member.

Mrs. Igo, is giving National Defense news, quoted from Congressman Bob Wilson, "I have noted with some concern that the Administration has afforded the Russians what appears to be unilateral permission to make test lands at Dulles Airport here, virtually within shadow of the...headquarters of the United States Central Intelligence Agency...although the Russians have not accepted international liability requirements...Landings will be made at Boston and Philadelphia in addition to Dulles, and also at Kennedy International Airport in New York. The reason given is that the Russians need to check out these fields as alternate landing places in event of bad weather at Kennedy...I am asking the Secretary of State to disclose the security guarantees that are being arranged to make sure that the Soviet commercial airliners will not be used for purposes of strategic aerial photography and electronic espionage."

Mrs. Fred Surguy, vice regent, introduced Mrs. Robert Knepper of Etna Green, State Chairman of American Heritage, a committee formed in 1963 to acquaint and preserve not only American history but American culture. Presenting the musical program of American folk songs, Mrs. George Slabaugh of Bourbon, called the songs the "world's first newspaper", as many people depended on the roaming minstrels to relate events. The best example endured because of their haunting melodies and simple lyrics. Mrs. Slabaugh gave the history of many of the best known folk songs with Miss Cindi Stouder of Etna Green singing while accompanying herself on the guitar. Very pleasing renditions of several selections in the category of ballads and old favorites were, "I Am a Poor Wayfarer Stranger", "On Top of Old Smoky", "Careless Love", "Sweet Betsy from Pike", "Blue Tail Fly", "Down in the Valley", and "Lonesome Road".

Work songs, another type of folk music, were developed to make the labor easier and less painful. Miss Stouder sang examples of work songs, "Shenandoah", "John Henry", and "Green Grow the Lilacs."

Each war brings new folk songs, and for singing "Lili Marlene", Miss Stouder was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Slabaugh. All members joined in singing, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home", and "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Negro spirituals, gospel songs and Christmas carols form another category of folk music. Mrs. Slabaugh noted that Negro spirituals are probably America's greatest, true folk songs. "Go Down, Moses" and "Oh, Rock of My Soul" were sung by Miss Stouder. The group joined in singing "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" and "Shall We Gather at the River". The program ended with the most famous of all American folk songs, the National Anthem.

Preceding the social hour, Mrs. Blue entertained by playing some selections on her accordion. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Brown, and her assistants, Mrs. Everett Rathfon, Mrs. Lackey, and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Pastor Cohee Will Tour Middle East

Pastor K. B. Cohee, Silver Lake Center E.U.B. Church, is leaving for the Middle Eastern countries and England Sunday evening from Chicago via T.W.A. plane. The Pastor made a study trip of world wide scope about two years ago on which he covered more than 47000 miles and more than 30 countries. He also has made a penetrating study tour of Africa, but this trip is purely theological by nature. He will give some study to agriculture of the various regions and especially Israel.

Upon return in March he will appear at several places for travelogues and lectures. His traveling companion will be Rev. Wm. Don Ekstrom of Freeport, Illinois, a young man who resigned a High School teaching post, to enter the Seminary and Ministry from Pastor Cohee's ministerial charge.

Rev. Cohee will send some short news reports from time to time as his trip progresses.

The following girls had badge work signed: Cheryl Clappitt, Cindy Fawley, Pam Ecker, Kathy Greer, Debra Kelley, Leslie Seneff, and Lisa Owens. Cheryl Clappitt completed Dabbler, Sewing and Sign of the Arrow. We're so glad to see the girls working so hard on their badges. Not only are they attractive on their badge sash but their sense of accomplishment means so much.

Our song leaders, Wendy and Cindy Deal, delighted the girls with another new song called "The Cat Came Back."

Sandra Good furnished candy bars for refreshments.

BROWNIE TROOP 142

Jane Bach, Alicia Dickerhoff, Sherry Gray, Shasta Johnson, Cynthia Jordan, Teresa Kindig, Susan Riner, Melva Smith, Cecilia Alvey and Letitia Alvey received recognition for perfect attendance. Each received a treat. Debra Riner wore the birthday crown.

Plans were discussed for visiting Manwaring Hatchery at our next meeting. A get well card was sent to Shasta Johnson. Bird feeders were sent home with each Brownie. Games were played and then the group sang several songs. Letitia Alvey furnished cupcakes for refreshments. The meeting closed by singing, "Taps."

JR. TROOP 25

Junior Troop 25 met at the Methodist Church with 14 girls and the leaders, Mrs. Walter Kelley and Mrs. Dale McGowan, present.

Several girls had badge work signed and the following girls received badges: Cindy Fawley and Pam Ecker. Hospitality; Cheryl Clappitt, Active Citizen and Outdoor Cook. Pam Ecker also received her Housekeeper Badge.

Mrs. Jack Deal is now helping with the troop meeting, and she is also the troop committee chairman.

The Valentine party will be on February 8, and the girls may invite a guest to the meeting.
