L.T.L. Christmas

The L.T.L. met with their leader, Gloria Bowen, last Thursday night in the Akron Library basement. During the meeting, Diana Hartzler served as president; Kim Merley was secretary, and Eve Boggs was flag and pledge leader. The leader showed a Christmas film for devotions, and a lesson film. The group had grab-bag gift exchange, and also collected gifts for the Dessie Scott Childrens' Home. Refreshments were served by Gary Reese, Arissa Hammond and Reescilla Villalon.

Recycling Christmas trees

The holidays are over and you're wondering what to do with your Christmas tree. The town of Akron will pick up the tree at no cost. Just put your tree out with your trash. It may take a few days but they will pick it up.

PSI Energy offers payment services to military families

"Some customers may be experiencing financial hardships because family members have been called away to serve in the Middle East military operation," said Jim Holstein, PSI's customer services coordinator. "Thus, they may be having difficulty paying their electric bills. We encourage these customers to call or visit their local PSI office, and we'll work with them to address their needs."

PSI Energy has several payment programs to assist customers.

PSI Energy has been providing assistance to military families in other ways, as well. "During the past several weeks, our employees have sent about 200 care packages to soldiers stationed in Saudi Arabia," Holstein said. "Our efforts have been acknowledged by several thank-you notes from soldiers grateful for news from fellow Americans and items to make their military stay more comfortable."

Scenes Around Town

By Leafy Hudson

For a variation on that old theoretical question, do you know what Wasilla, Alaska; Indianapolis, Indiana; Ramona, California; Houston, Texas; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Fort Bragg, N. Carolina; Springfield, Missouri; Fayetteville, Pennsylvania; Tegucigalpa, Honduras; Bradenton, Florida; Olathe, Kansas; Berne Switzerland; Melbourne, Australia and a thousand other geographical locations around the world have in common? The life of these communities is enriched by having residents who grew up or, at least have lived in Mentone, Indiana! It's really a pleasure when Christmas time or vacation time roles around and we run into some of these people in church or in the street while they are home visiting. We had the opportunity to see several old friends this year who were home for Christmas, and the "Who's Who" column will feature some of them in the coming weeks.

Did you happen to notice the full parking lot at Dubois Distributors one day shortly before Christmas and wonder what was going on? So did I--so, a little snooping revealed this: Manager Emma Lou Hiers tried something new this year. She served lunch to her customers at an open house from 11:00-3:00 to honor them and to give them an opportunity to meet with and talk to representatives of eight companies supplying their products. Over 75 customers stopped in to enjoy food and social time. The day was so successful, Emma Lou is considering doing it again next year.

Helping Hands

Just before Christmas the News' roving camera caught the Helping Hands at work, packing food baskets for needy people for Christmas. Along with several staple products, most baskets included a ham. The Mentone Chamber of Commerce, as well as some individual downtown businesses, donated most of the hams. Manwarings donated 60 dozen eggs to help brighten many people's holiday. But, food wasn't all that was made available to people needing help. Zimmer's night shift collected enough money to buy 96 coats and several hats and pairs of mittens. There were also many toys available that have been donated since last summer, including dolls dressed by Doris Haney. Workers present on this particular day were: Jerry and Mary Secrist, Rick England, Karen Francis and Margaret Walker. (Photo by Hudson).

Palestine fire kills 3 children Parents of 2 injured

An LP gas range being used to heat the house is blamed for a fire at Palestine Lake that killed three small children and injured two adults.

The home of Kimberly and Noble Bolen, on Kingfisher Drive off CR 600 W, erupted in flames around 6 a.m. December 28.

Noble Bolen had left the house to help his father, who lived nearby, start a car. His wife, Kimberly, was awoken by smoke and ran to find her husband. By the time they returned the heat and smoke was too intense for them to reach the three children who were all sleeping in a north bedroom of the house. When firefighters arrived on the scene flames were shooting from every window.

Pronounced dead at the scene, from asphyxiation from smoke inhalation, by Kosciusko County Coroner John Sadler were Tasha Renee Bolen, 2, her brother James, four months, and their cousin Ashley Davis, 5, who was spending the night with the Bolens. Ashley was the daughter of Mark and Peggy Davis of rural Warsaw.

Kimberly Bolen suffered burns to her hand and Noble Bolen was burned on his face in attempts to rescue the children. They were treated and released from Kosciusko Community Hospital.

Investigators said the furnace in the home was not working, and since a kerosene heater quit working two weeks ago, the range was the only source of heat.

Firefighters from Burket and Mentone fought the blaze which was investigated by the State Fire Marshal's office, Indiana State Police and Kosciusko County Sheriff's Department.

Services for the three children were at 11 a.m. Monday at King Memorial Home of Mentone. The Rev. Chad Burkhardt officiated with burial in the Palestine Cemetery.

Ashley Davis was born on Aug. 31, 1985 in Warsaw to Mark W. and Peggy Bolen Davis, who survive.

Also surviving are a sister, Britnee Sue, 4; a brother, Zachary Eugene, two weeks; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, Warsaw; paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. German May, Leander, Ky.; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bolen, Mentone; maternal great-grandmother, Reba Isley, Kewanna.

Tasha Bolen was born Nov. 19, 1988 in Warsaw to Noble and Kimberly Whybrew Bolen.

Mr. Fred Secrist celebrated his 75th birthday last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Secrist had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Tea and Mr. and Mrs. George Rust and sons of Bourbon; Ira Cowen, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Eddy and family of South Bend; and Mr. and Mrs. Essel Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Schoff and family of Niles, Michigan.

The following letter was sent to the Mothers of World War II by Wayne Funnell, a member of the U.S. Marine Corps in Vietnam. The War Mothers annually send packages to overseas servicemen. Funnell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Funnell, Rt. 1, Mentone. Dear Mrs. Romine or Madame President: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for the package. Thank everyone who was concerned with the idea of this. This does more for the morale than a hundred R & R. For it shows that someone cares who is fighting this war. Loneliness is the hardest problem. So when a package comes everyone crowds around trying to see what is in the package. In fact, one Marine said to thank you personally so when I come home that is the first thing on the list. I don't know if my mother is a member or not, but I am glad that you cared enough to see that I got the package. I wrote one thank you note but it seems to lack something so I am writing this one. In fact, I don't think I can say enough to you. For the words "thank you" are all I can say at the present time. But somehow I will never forget that the War Mothers of Unit 106 never forget who is out fighting this war. You do more than just worry, you do something. This shows you care even though I have never met you personally. Thank you. It is time for me to go back on duty. Please pass the word. Keep the good work up. L/Cpl. Wayne Funnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis are the parents of a seven pound, eleven ounce daughter born Saturday, Dec. 23, at the Woodlawn hospital. The new girl has been named Sharon Kay.

A five pound nine ounce son was born to Pvt. and Mrs. Larry Flenar at the Murphy Medical Center Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith are the parents of a daughter born Friday, Dec. 22, at the Woodlawn hospital. The new daughter has been named Marilyn Louise.

Winners were chosen in the annual Christmas decorating contest which was sponsored again by the Mentone Merchants' Association. Much time was spent and a great deal of originality was shown in both the home and business Christmas displays. Enough cannot be said in favor of these displays. First, these displays do much to aid the community spirit, and second, they mark our community as outstanding in the eyes of travelers and neighboring communities. Such displays do take time and effort, but the appreciation and joy in the face of one child is compensation for all the effort and time spent. Winners in the home decorating are: Raymond Bare home, first; Rev. Gosser home, second; Fred Klingenhagen home, third. In the business displays winners were: The Country Print Shop, first; Bernice Beauty Shop, second; Uter's Standard Service and Mentone Lumber Company tied for third place.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boganwright expect to be moved into their new cafe building before the end of the week. They are giving a free fish fry Friday night. The Boganwrights have purchased the former Dave Ellsworth building and have made it into a modern cafe.

LET'S DO GOOD THINGS IN THIS LAST DECADE OF THE CENTURY

Our brand new year has now begun
It's number 1991,
And just nine years from now will be
The turning of the century.
The time has come to look ahead,
Forget the past and then, instead,
Decide which way we want to go
And let our good intentions show.
We'll shun bad habits, help the poor,
And make our future more secure;
And with environmental plans,
Recycle bottles, bags and cans.
Our House of Worship we'll attend,
While making sure we comprehend
Its lessons, which we'll keep in sight,
And thereby start the new year right.

Mentone Business Of The Week

Dale "Corny" Wallace and wife, Bobbie, by their Christmas tree. He says he picked up the nickname "Corny" in school while studying about General Cornwallis and the Revolutionary War.

Mollenhour Lumber Company

By Leafy Hudson

Mollenhour Lumber Company, owned and operated by Dale "Corny" Wallace, was started by Chauncy Mollenhour in 1914 as a sawmill and lumber company.

Before the onset of World War II, Mollenhour added the manufacture of cheese boxes to his business. Some of the boxes, made with two layers of wood, the outer layer being elm veneer, were about fourteen inches in diameter by about five inches high. These were known as "daisy" boxes. Another size box was about fourteen inches high. Large "hunks" of Longhorn cheese were stored in the boxes, four to a box, covered with cheesecloth and allowed to age. Some of their cheese box customers were: County Line, Allen Dairy in Fort Wayne, the Kraft Company and a company in Mulberry, Indiana.

The cheese boxes were made in an old building behind the present facility until 1958. In that year the old building was destroyed by fire. It was replaced the same year by a new building which was used for storage until fire destroyed it in 1985. The present building was built in 1942.

Mollenhour Lumber Company has had a variety of sideline businesses throughout the years. At one time they made dowels for popular clothes drying racks built by Russell Eber. They also made boat seats for the boat company Warsaw's Bill Warren operated at one time in the front end of the present building. At another time, Panel Craft made doors and aluminum siding in the front of the same building.

Early in 1945, the lumber company began the manufacture of pallets, which has become their primary business. Their pallet customers today come from as far away as Rochester, Peru, Warsaw, Kewanna and Elkhart. One of their customers uses over a truckload of pallets a day.

Corny Wallace, a Mentone native and present owner of Mollenhour Lumber Company, led an exciting life before settling down to business in Mentone.

When Corny was in high school, his dad ran a Chevrolet garage on the north side of Main Street, where Frank's east building is now. When his dad sold out, Corny, who had graduated in 1939, moved with his parents to Elkhart for six months, then worked in his aunt's Chevrolet garage in Milford, until he was hired at Gatke's in Warsaw.

Bleak times were ahead, however--war years. Corny and Bobbie Mollenhour, Chauncy's daughter, had stated dating in 1939. On Sunday, December 7, 1941, he and Bobbie took a friend to visit her Army husband at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis. They were on the Army base when they learned of the Japanese's sneak attack that morning on Pearl Harbor. Four days later, Corny enlisted in the U.S. Air Corps, leaving in January, 1942.

Following basic training at Biloxi, Mississippi, Corny went into the Airplane Mechanic School, graduating June 23, 1942. From there, he was assigned to Pope Field, Ft. Bragg, North Carolina. After training there, he went to Lubbock, Texas, where he and Bobbie were together just two months following their December, 1942 wedding in Bobbie's parents' home.

The couple had fond memories of their short time in Lubbock. "We lived near Texas Tech University," Corny reminisces. "I used to play basketball in their gym." Their wartime photo album shows Bobbie with a friend, another serviceman's wife, on the front steps of their apartment.

Corny soon found himself back at Pope Field, then overseas. Keeping on the move in those early months, he was in Oran, Casablanca, Tunis and Algiers. "That country, (Algiers) is just like Saudi Arabia," he says. "All sand and very hot."

Corny was an aerial engineer on a plane with just four crew members. Besides Corny, there were a pilot, co-pilot and radio operator. Their mission was to pull gliders carrying paratroopers, whom they dropped into war zones. The gliders carried about fifteen men each. They were attached to the U.S. Army 82nd Airborne.

"In those early months, we chased all the Germans out of Africa," Corny says, "then dropped paratroopers into Sicily."

During that time, he wasn't allowed to tell Bobbie his location. So, he made mention in a letter of a Mentone farmer, Oren Deaton, tipping her off in that way that he was in Oran.

Corny's plane sported two stars for General Gavin, the youngest major general of the Army, at that time. Corny has a picture of General Gavin's jeep being loaded into the plane. General Gavin, whose death occurred just recently, took command of the 82nd Airborne from General Ridgeway while they were in Sicily late in 1943. He was popularly known as the "fightingest general in the European Theater of Operations."

Other places Corny was stationed were Rheims, France and Sleaford, England. Part of the time they followed Patton, flying gas and supplies to him and his troops. At Rheims, the site of the Allied Supreme Headquarters, he saw General Eisenhower review the 82nd Airborne. He also saw the magnificent Rheims Cathedral.

From England, he flew paratroopers into Holland. Comparing notes many years later with Mentone's Dutch farmer, Bernard Peters, he believes he must have flown very close to where the Peters were living at the time.

Near the end of the war, in Germany, the 82nd Airborne presented a show, doing free jumps to impress visiting Russian officers. One young paratrooper jumped extremely close to the ground, making just one sweep. His daring badly frightened a Russian officer, who took a medal off his own chest and pinned it onto the paratrooper's uniform!

During the last eight months of the war, Corny flew supplies wherever they were needed. Seeming to always be "where the action was," their plane pulled gliders filled with paratroopers into Normandy on D-Day.

Corny was in London on V.E. Day. He has snapshots he took of the millions of people crowding the London streets that day to celebrate.

Corny came home from Europe expecting to be discharged. Instead of that, he was shipped to Camp Atterbury, then to Santa Anna, California, for Pacific duty. V.J. Day followed shortly, however, and Corny came home. At his discharge, he was a Technical Sergeant, had been awarded the Air Medal with three clusters and the Distinguished Unit Badge as a member of the 61st Troop Carrier Group.

Upon returning home in 1945, Corny went to work for his father-in-law in the Mollenhour Lumber Company. He bought the business in 1959 and has been "making pallets ever since."

Corny and Bobbie have one daughter, Mrs. Bob (Connie Jo) Schlag, of Warsaw, and three grandsons. Grandson Jeff Knisely, married to the former Tami Neer, is a serviceman stationed in Korea. Brad Knisely owns the Carpet Clinic in Warsaw. Grandson Shawn Schlag, a 7th grader at Warsaw, is active in the Wagon Wheel Playhouse. He played Tiny Tim's brother, Peter, in this year's presentation of a Christmas Carol.

Reflecting on his grandson in Korea, Corny says, "You know, it's a lot different being over there in the service, from sitting here thinking about him over there."

Corny used to be an avid golfer and he has held a ham radio operators license since 1953. At the present time he spends all his time running the business and denies having any plans to retire.

As for Mentone, he sees it as having a good future, "more or less as a bedroom community." "When you go away," Bobbie adds, "it's always good to get back to Mentone."

Club News

The Women's Fellowship of the Akron Church of the Brethren held their Christmas party recently at Teel's Restaurant in Mentone.

Following a delicious meal, Christine Tinkey opened the meeting by reading a poem, "Heart Gifts," and scripture from Psalms. She also told about "Mall Madness." She compared the busy stressful shopping to the quietness at the birth of the Christ Child.

Secret sisters were revealed with a gift exchange and names were drawn for the new year. A grab bag was enjoyed by guests and those who didn't have a secret sister. The little girls also received gifts.

Mrs. Tinkey gave each lady a sachet as her means of appreciation to the members for their participation the past year as she served as president. She also gave each girl a "button" to wear as a gift.

Christmas Carols were sung at the close of the meeting.

DISMISSALS: Ruth Blue, Rochester; Tammy Burrus and daughter, Akron; Tana Loeffler and daughter, Plymouth; Mark Metzger, Rochester; Eric Stevens, Rochester; Kristy Walsh and daughter, Kewanna.

Who's Who In Akron

Laura Bickel and Don Towle review the paste-up sheets for the The News one last time before it goes to press. (News Photo).

Don Towle-Publisher and Laura Bickel-Editor of The Akron-Mentone News

by Tonia Weller

Akron resident, Laura Bickel wears many hats in her role as editor of The Akron-Mentone News. As the newspaper's only full-time employee, she serves as reporter, photographer, darkroom technician, typesetter and paste-up artist as well as editor. Laura frequently puts in 45-50 hours a week, including many weekend and evening hours. Her "beeper" goes off at all hours, alerting her to fire and EMS runs. "This definitely isn't an eight to five job", she says.

Laura held a management level position with Bertsch Vending in Warsaw, before becoming editor of The News in December of 1988. She and her husband, Jeff, who works for Tri-State Feeding and Storage, have lived at Town Lake for four and a half years. They have two children, Kala, age two and Colby, age six, who attends Kindergarten at Akron School.

While Jeff, the son of Jim and Shirley Bickel, is originally from Akron, Laura was raised in Warsaw. In her freshman year, she moved, with her family, to Garrett, Kentucky where she later graduated from Allen Central High School. Laura's mother, Dixie Miles, lives in Atwood, and her father, Robert Marshall, lives in Warsaw, as do her three brothers and two sisters.

Besides her work on the paper, Laura is on the Akron 4th of July Committee and is in the talking stages of forming a five member committee to work on beautifying downtown Akron. "I'm so busy covering everyone else's activities, I have very little time left for my own. What spare time I do have, I spend with my family," she says.

Laura is very appreciative of all the help and support she receives from her husband, Jeff. "He's very patient and understanding," she says, and adds, "We really like the Akron community. We've chosen to raise our family here."

One part of her job that Laura enjoys the most is covering school activities, especially the grade schools. "I get to see all the good things kids do in school," Laura says.

The article she is most proud of since beginning her newspaper career, is one she wrote last summer on the Akron Police Department. "It was real exciting," she said, "to get a first hand look at what goes on."

Laura's biggest goal for the paper is for it to continue to grow. "I feel we're on the right track. I'm hearing good things on the street concerning recent changes in the paper. I'd still like to see more community participation and support, though," she added.

Don Towle, the publisher and co-owner of The News, has an extensive background in the newspaper and printing industries.

He began working for the Plymouth Pilot-News, making printing plates, in 1956 and later moved on to the pressroom as an assistant pressman. When the paper switched to offset, in 1963, Don was made assistant Production Manager. In 1977, he was promoted to Production Manager, putting him in charge of layout, pressroom, camera and typesetting. The Pilot-News, which had always been a family business, was bought out by Park Communications of New York, in 1980. According to Don,

Park was "only interested in the bottom line" and things began to change at the paper. Don had always wanted a commercial printing business of his own and so, in 1982, he purchased Bowen Printing, of Plymouth in partnership with Dave Ruff. Then in September of 1983, they purchased the Shopping Guide News and The Akron-Mentone News from Richard McKee. Don became publisher of both papers and Dave manages the commercial printing side of the business.

While working full-time at the Pilot-News, Don also worked part-time running printing presses for the Bourbon News Mirror and the Argos Reflector. He worked for and later owned Hampton Printing, which printed the labels for pickle jars for Pilgrim Farms. This business was later combined with Town and Country Press, which Don owned with a partner, Arch McLiver. In the late 70's, Don began a business called 'Towle's Typesetting', in South Bend, which did the typesetting and layout for IUSB's weekly newspaper in addition to several high school and church papers. Later the typesetting business was incorporated into Bowen Printing after Don purchased it.

Several members of Don's family have been involved in the printing business. His father, George Towle, was Production Manager and later Advertising Director for the Pilot-News and his uncle, Bob Bowen, was the original owner of Bowen Printing.

Don, and his wife, Bev, who is Office Manager of the Shopping Guide News, live in Plymouth. They have been married 34 years and have three grown sons and five grandchildren. In his spare time, Don enjoys bowling and is an avid golfer.

"I'm very glad that I purchased The Akron-Mentone News," says Don. "While there are a lot of headaches and worries, I've always enjoyed newspaper work."

Don hopes to be able to continue to build the paper's circulation. "Right now is a very difficult time for weekly newspapers. The economic climate and increases in postage and other expenses make it a struggle to keep a weekly paper afloat," Don explains. "We need the support of the community, both as advertisers and subscribers, in order for the paper to survive."

The News has been published continuously since November 20, 1889.

Under Don's guidance, the paper has undergone several changes. The computerized typesetters speed up production considerably. Laura uses a portable computer, which enables her to type copy at the Akron office or at home and then bring the disk to the Rochester office to be printed. All typesetting, darkroom work and paste-up are done at the Shopping Guide. Last summer the billing was computerized and this January the subscriptions are being put on computer, which cuts down on bookkeeping in the Akron office.

The office in Akron, located in the old Akron Hotel building is open Monday 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.; Wednesday, 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 to 2:00 p.m.; Thursday, 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.; Friday, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. The office is closed on Tuesdays. There is an answering machine and a drop box for classifieds and news items; when the office is closed. Mentone residents may drop off ads and news items at Miller's Hardware.

Both Don and Laura encourage Mentone and Akron area residents to let them know what they'd like to see in the paper. They agree that community input is vital to putting out a good paper.

Rural Rhymes

By Esther C. Adams

Winter

With sub-zero temperatures
The faucets are all froze.
By the time we thaw them
We have some frozen toes.
We chop and pry and dig and scoop,
To open froze up doors and gates.
And froze up trucks and tractors,
Are just a winter fate.
We pull the truck to start it,
Get stuck in a big drift.
So with two scoop shovels
Three foot of snow we lift.
We dig and scoop and shovel,
With each new snow fall,
While my neighbor with his snowmobile
Is having a grand ball.
This "Beautiful Winter Wonderland,"
Is for skiers and for such,
But this here "Old Farmer,"
Don't like it very much.

Akron Business of the Week

Hartzler Funeral Home

by Tonia Weller

The Hartzler Funeral Home, located west on Rochester Street in Akron, and owned by Mark and Deb Hartzler, helps the people of the community deal with one of life's most difficult tasks. There is probably nothing harder than facing the loss of a loved one and making the necessary arrangements and decisions that must be dealt with. The Hartzlers' knowledge and genuine, caring, concern is a great comfort to people in their time of grief.

Prior to the Hartzlers purchasing the business, six years ago, the large gracious house had served as a funeral home under other owners for many years.

It had been the Sheetz Funeral Home and later merged with the Hauptert Funeral Home from the other side of town. The house had been a private dwelling before Dale Sheetz purchased it and an interesting historical footnote, Mark's great-great grandparents, Gene and Emma Woolpert, lived in the house for a time when it was owned by Harvey Long.

Mark and Deb recently opened a second funeral home in Rochester. The new, modern facility, located on St. Rd. 25 just north of town, completed its successful first year of business in January.

Traditionally, in the funeral home industry, one generation will pass the business onto the next. One of the reasons the Hartzlers chose to expand to Rochester was to build a stronger business should one of their children choose to become a funeral director. Mark has a uncle who is a funeral director and was instrumental in his choice of funeral directing as a career.

Mark, the son of Steve and Kathryn Hartzler, was raised on a farm near Akron. He graduated from Akron High School in 1973. Mark is also a graduate of the Indiana College of Mortuary Science, in Indianapolis, now known as Mid-America College of Funeral Service.

Mark and Deb, who is also employed at Lake City Bank, have been married for 11 years. They have two children; Stacey, age nine, and Blaine, who is seven. Both attend Akron Elementary School. The Hartzlers live upstairs, above their funeral home.

"Raising two children in this business is kind of a challenge. There are definitely some drawbacks for them," Mark says, "I have to give my kids a lot of credit." The children are very understanding of the confining nature of the business. A funeral director is on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. So frequently, Mark is unable to attend school functions or has to postpone a planned trip to grandma's. Family vacations are nearly impossible. However, Mark's children have a acceptance and understanding that other children don't. "They see death altogether differently than other kids," he says. "But it's not easy for them."

Mark and Deb are very family oriented. They spend as much time together with their children as possible.

Mark is very thankful for all the help he has received from others. Several friends, neighbors and relatives occasionally answer the telephone for him so he can get away to handle details away from the home. Mark says he has three wonderful and helpful employees, Lucille Harrold, Ralph Miller, Jr. and Richard Slaybaugh, who work part-time when he needs them. Mark's mother often helps out, also.

Mark has had extensive experience in his profession. He worked for the McClosky, Hamilton, Gundrum Funeral Home in Logansport for many years, both while attending mortuary college and after.

Mark and Deb, who is originally from Logansport, purchased the Wolf Funeral Home in Walton, shortly after their marriage.

After changing the name to Wolf-Hartzler Funeral Home, they spent the next five years building an excellent reputation and successful business. When the funeral home in Akron became available for purchase, the Hartzlers faced a very difficult decision. A funeral business requires a very large financial investment. "We were very happy in Walton," Mark says. "But being from Fulton County and having the opportunity to move back...well coming home is coming home. It was probably the hardest decision I've ever had to make."

Mark and Deb decided to open the business under their own name, rather than rely on the reputation of previous owners. "That's our name on the shingle out front. We wanted to make it on our own."

Besides the purchase of the property, furnishings and equipment, a fleet of four vehicles is required for the business.

The funeral business in this area is very competitive, but Mark sees this as a positive challenge. "The better you can face your competition, the better off you are, yourself," he explains.

Mark feels good about being able to help people. "The most rewarding aspect of my profession," he says, "is knowing I've done my level best to make a most difficult time as comfortable for people as possible. When a family is pleased with the arrangements I've made, that's the biggest reward I can have. In this business people have to trust you." The family of the deceased can be assured that with a single phone call, all details will be taken care of.

The Hartzlers are very active in the community. Mark belongs to the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Gilead Masonic Lodge. He and Deb are both members of the Macy Order of the Eastern Star. The family is active in the Akron Church of God and Hartzler Funeral Home sponsors a T-Ball team in the Akron Youth League.

Mark stresses that he is just a common, ordinary guy with a different sort of job. "I'm as common as the next guy. I don't feel there's anything I'm too good to do."

"We're just a young family starting out in business in Fulton County. We're just doing our part and making an investment in the community." Mark is always proud when the community gives him the opportunity to do his job to the best of his ability. "Everyone crosses this path at some time," Mark says.

It's comforting to know the Hartzlers are standing by, ready to do everything in their power to make that painful time as easy for the family as possible.

Letters to the Editor

A letter from Akron native Bill Cornell Jr., stationed in Saudi Arabia.

Dear Dean and all,

17 Dec 90

How's everyone? I'm doing fine and hope ya'll are too!

Thanks for the Gatorade! I received the package this morning. I've yet to make it to the "Powder Puff" football games (Female Marines vs Navy). It's a great way to break up the monotony. We've been playing a lot of frisbee lately and tomorrow is the first day of the "Silver Bed Pan" Volleyball tournament. We'll probably be busy with lots of sprained body parts.

New temperature lows, 35 degrees. It got cold fast. We actually saw our breaths for a couple of hours. Its only getting up to the mid 80's during the day. But 45 and 50 degree changes in a day are enough for anyone.

We know what our Christmas present is from our C.O., at least a 15 mile hump (hike). We did an 11 mile last week over terrain that camels were afraid of. Busy work once again.

Since the forces are beefing up, our new mission is to help inside Kuwait after the bombing raid is over. Two of the visiting senators (Hawaii and New Jersey) stated if we get attacked by chemical weapons, we get to use our tactical nukes. Scary thought huh? Let's hope it doesn't come down to that.

We have a Special Ops hike tomorrow going for a speed record, 5 miles in 45 minutes or less. There goes my last pair of insoles!

I'd like to wish everyone a safe holiday season and as we say in Hawaii, Mele Kalikimaka (May-lay Kah-lee-Kay-mah-kah) Merry Christmas.

Take care, thanks again for the Gatorade.

Sincerely,

Bill Connell Jr. and family

Dear Editor,

After reading the article on "Mini-Mart Booze Permits" for Silver Lake and Mentone and soon Warsaw, I am quite concerned about the foot-in-the-door opening for many other gasoline stations also gaining permits.

My boycott of the business may not make a difference but if enough of us join hands we can make a difference.

A very MADD Mother and Grandmother in Mentone

Who's Who In Mentone

Norma Knoop by her mother's Christmas tree in Mentone. Norma says, "When I come back here it doesn't seem like such a time gap since I left. Then, when, I think of all the things I've done and places I've seen--it seems like a long time!"

Profile of Norma

by Leafy Hudson

"Swiss Miss" Norma Knoop has made her home in Switzerland for the last three years. Her roots, however, remain in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Norma, daughter of Eleanor and the late Paul Knoop, Mentone, graduated from Tippecanoe Valley High School in 1980, where she sang in choir, played flute in the band, played tennis and volleyball, and worked as a life guard. Norma remembers her senior year as very exciting. "That was the year we won the State Football Championship," she says. But, the highlight of the year for her was being chosen Homecoming Queen.

After graduation, Norma attended Indiana-Purdue University in Fort Wayne, where she majored in Dental Hygiene. To fulfill a class assignment, she wrote to several foreign countries requesting information on their job possibilities. She discovered a great demand for dental hygienists in several countries and learned that work permits for Americans are easiest to obtain in Switzerland. One requirement was two years work experience. "So, I kept that information in the back of my mind," she says.

Norma soon found jobs here and she worked the next two and one-half years in Fort Wayne, Warsaw and Mentone. "Those two and one-half years went by in a heartbeat," she says.

Meantime, she sent resumes to Switzerland and soon received six letters offering her work. "I didn't answer any," she says. "It was summer and I was having fun here." Norma's sister, Luann, however, who had traveled in Europe, encouraged her to consider it more seriously. "This might be your only chance to see Europe," she pointed out. "And it's beautiful."

So, when a Swiss Dentist called her, Norma accepted his offer--"just for one year. It took a lot of courage," she says now. "I didn't know anyone over there."

The biggest problem Norma faced in preparing to go was deciding what to take. She sold some of the furniture she had accumulated and sorted or loaned out the rest. "My whole family was supportive," she says, "and that was a big help."

Norma landed in Biel, Switzerland, in January, 1988. Lodging had been arranged for her by her new employer. It was a two-room "studio apartment" on the fifth floor with no elevator. Her mother, who visited that first year, claims there were 85 steps to Norma's door. "I never counted them, myself," Norma quickly adds. "I didn't want to know!"

Living in Biel was an interesting experience for Norma, who spoke no foreign language when she arrived there. Biel is unusual in that it is a city of two languages, German (actually a Swiss-German dialect) and French. Biel has both German-speaking and French-speaking schools. Half the populace speaks one language and half the other. It isn't unusual to hear, between two natives, a customer in a store address the clerk in French, only to be answered in German. Each person uses the language he knows best. Although the two languages are characterized by distinct cultural differences, the two cultures in Biel co-exist quite well.

Norma found forty to fifty percent of the people in Biel speak English with varying amounts of fluency, and she got along well. "But, I found myself using a lot of hand and facial gestures and quite often a dictionary." She has since taken a class in languages and now communicates well, both in speaking and writing. She has added a basic knowledge of Italian, "the necessary words," to her vocabulary.

Norma laughs about a language blunder that happened when she first arrived. It was her turn to provide morning rolls for her co-workers and not being able to communicate with the baker, she chose rolls that looked good without knowing what they were. When she discovered they had meat in the centers she asked a co-worker what they were eating. The co-worker responded by pointing to a word in the dictionary. The word she meant was "spech" meaning "bacon." But Norma looked at the word below it and nearly choked, thinking for a minute she was eating "specht", or "woodpecker!"

The biggest difficulty posed by her language barrier in those early days was in shopping. "I'd make a list in English, then use the dictionary to translate it. Then I'd spend two hours in the grocery store." She found things are packaged differently and measurements are in metric. They don't use soda to bake with over there, so to obtain it, one must go to the drugstore and ask for sodium bicarbonate.

Cooking and baking in Switzerland took some relearning. American recipes have to be converted to metric measurements. And temperatures have to be converted to celsius. The higher altitudes make a difference in baking, too, requiring either more or less flour, sometimes resulting in "thin cookies." "Baking, at first, was a guess."

The age-old pastime of exchanging recipes was difficult, at first, for both Norma and her Swiss friends. For instance they don't have measuring cups for our recipes. Other differences include their predominant use of lard instead of vegetable shortening. Although Switzerland is famous for its chocolate, they don't have chocolate chips. Marshmallows are imported and all their cheese is white. Any cheddar or yellow cheese is imported from Holland. They make no peanut butter and vanilla does not come in extract form, but in sugar.

At the end of her first year in Switzerland, Norma moved from Biel, a town of about 50,000 people, to Berne with almost one million population. Norma says she enjoys living in Berne. She lives again in a studio apartment, but this one is bigger and nicer, with a view of the "guten" or town hill. People ride a cable car up the garten for a panoramic view of the Alps.

Norma finds Berne, Switzerland's capitol city, an exciting place to live. With the government there, she often sees important people who work there or pass through. Many of her dentist's clients are from embassies and the Tourism Department.

One of the biggest differences Norma notices there, from here, is their conservative attitude toward all kinds of pollution. "They recycle everything." They use garbage for compost and save newspapers, tin cans, even aluminum foil. They wish Americans were more conservation conscious.

Norma has a large group of friends in Berne, many of them Americans who provide "a touch of home over there."

With friends, she has traveled through all of Central Europe, to Germany, France, Austria, Italy, Greece, Tunisia, Cypress and Portugal.

The trip she enjoyed the most was to Egypt, where she was awed by the antiquity, the great size and the mystery, of the pyramids. During her stay there, a side trip took her and her friends down the Nile, for three days and three nights, in a flat-top sailboat. Sleeping in the open in sleeping bags, they watched the sky as they sailed along. "The stars were so bright and beautiful," she remembers. One night, which happened to be Norma's 28th birthday, they beached along the Nile and played Egyptian bongo drums. Her friends serenaded her with "Happy Birthday" and a cake in a tin--with candles--they had brought along. "It was the neatest birthday," she says with a sparkle in her eye.

A certified scuba diver, Norma has dived in many of the lands she's visited. "But the best," she claims, was diving into the Red Sea on her Egypt trip.

Norma found the antiquity of Greece and Cypress especially fascinating. She happened to be reading Greek mythology when she was there, so it seemed to come alive for her.

The canals of Venice, the castles, lakes and mountains of Southern Germany and Austria are favorite spots for Norma. "I've been on the Rhine several times," she says.

One of the most memorable of all Norma's travels was in October, 1988, when she visited London for a week, before her move to Europe. While she was there, a hurricane nearly paralyzed London. It was proclaimed by the newspapers "The worst storm ever." And Black Monday occurred while she was there. "I felt that trip was doomed," she laughs.

Norma's future plans are uncertain after this year. She plans to stay in her present position at least one more year. With her schedule of eight weeks vacation, she reasons, "I can visit all my family in the U.S. and still have time for more traveling than if I had a job here with one or two weeks vacation."

Norma has a "special friend," who was a patient she met her fifth week in Switzerland. They could barely communicate at first, but managed to agree to go together to the bookstore for books to teach each other German and English. Although they have helped each other learn their languages, have lots of fun together and are "good friends," Norma sees a marriage to a foreigner as potentially very difficult. "The cultures are so different and communication is so necessary for a good relationship--it's so difficult to put abstract feelings into words of a foreign language. Part of communication is knowing the background of little things that make jokes funny, knowing how things work--that might never come. It could handicap a relationship."

"However," Norma says, "knowing a different culture, seeing how others think and function, has really opened my eyes to the fact that other ways of thinking besides our own are possible."

Humanitarian Day

Many celebrated individuals have struggled and sacrificed — even given their lives — to ensure that the constitutional rights and privileges of all Americans are upheld.

Martin Luther King Jr., Rosa Parks, Thurgood Marshall and John F. Kennedy are among the most notable. However, countless others have fought and sacrificed in the name of the civil rights movement but have not been recognized for their efforts.

In conjunction with the national observance of the Martin Luther King holiday, Jan. 15 has been proclaimed Humanitarian Day. On this day — a day of respect and honor for all the unsung humanitarians who have fought institutional racism and contributed to the demise of segregation — we celebrate the courage and dedication of those who continue to fight for the rights guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution.

The Nineteenth State

Statewide Radio Series

Hoosiers stationed in the Mid-east will soon be hearing the sounds of home. Tape cassettes of The Nineteenth State, with episodes of the award-winning Hoosier history radio program, will be sent to Indiana personnel in Saudi Arabia and other locations who are part of Operation Desert Shield.

Stan Sollars, President of Media Indiana, the not-for-profit corporation which produces The Nineteenth State, announced that individual and business gifts to the Desert Shield Fund will make it possible to ship cassettes to Indiana military personnel for their enjoyment. "We need to demonstrate to our neighbors and loved ones in the Mid-east that our support extends beyond the holiday season," Sollars said. "The Nineteenth State presents Hoosier history in a dramatic and entertaining format which will remind Indiana sons and daughters of familiar themes and shared values which are important to our state," he said.

The Nineteenth State is broadcast on more than 30 Indiana radio stations each week. Numerous national and regional journalism and broadcasting with noted Hoosier Chris Schnekel narrating, events and personalities important to Indiana history are brought alive in 15 minute dramatized episodes.

"Four episodes (an hour of entertainment) will be on each tape sent to our forces overseas," Sollars explained. "Thousands of personal tape players have already been distributed to the troops. There are quiet times," he noted, "when a man or woman can benefit from an hour of reflection about home."

Individual, corporate, and foundations contributions will support this effort. A single tape (four 15-minute shows) to a specific person can be ordered by sending a check for $6.50 with the recipient's name and Desert Shield mailing address. The Nineteenth State will mail the tapes; postage is included in the price. Checks can be sent to The Nineteenth State, P.O. Box 501049, Indianapolis, IN 46250.

SAMPLE EPISODES

1987-1990 Broadcasts - Tape Album Volume II

6-1 "Pioneer Holiday Feasts" A visit to the Conner Prairie Settlement near Noblesville reveals the Christmastime menus of 1836 Hoosier Settlers.

6-2 "The Case of the Cardboard Boxes" Our own historical private detective, Bart Deco, tracks the story of dozens of misplaced boxes of Marion County Public records found in a downtown Indianapolis warehouse. The episode is performed in a 1940's radio mystery motif.

6-3 & 6-4 "Madame Walker, Parts I & II" A two-part series on the remarkable business leader who founded the Walker black cosmetic organization. She was the first American woman to become a self-made millionaire. A strong believer in charities, Walker supported many cases devoted to education and self-improvement. She also founded the Walker Theater in downtown Indianapolis. The first episode includes a dramatization featuring a character portrayed by actress/singer Cynda Williams, star of the 1990 Spike Lee film "Variations on the Mo' Better Blues."

6-5 "Evansville: The Inland Wonder" An account recalling the halcyon days of Evansville's "inland wonder" Ohio River shipyard. The facility held the distinction of being the world's largest inland producer of ocean-going ships. The yard built extraordinary numbers of LSTs (landing ship tanks) for U.S. Navy and Allied beach-landing efforts in Europe and the Pacific during World War II.

HELP YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP; IT'S A GOOD FRIEND OF YOURS

The finest way to show friendship is by means of reciprocity. When you need help, hopefully you have a friend to provide it, and that you are prepared to return the favor when it's your friend's turn to encounter some difficulty. The same relationship should be established with your House of Worship, which has been a source of help and guidance to you in the past. Unfortunately, many such religious institutions must rely heavily on volunteer assistance in order to function, and if yours has been a blessing to you, offer your services. Even such simple acts as making phone calls or typing can be of great value. Ask your clergyman what you can do. This will help you reciprocate the friendship of your House of Worship, by doing something for it in return.

The following are the rest of the letters Sgt. Robert Norman wrote to students in Mrs. Sander's class at Mentone Elementary. The students had written to him in the Persian Gulf and later sent a box of goodies. The News published Norman's letters to Mrs. Sanders and some to the students in its December 26 issue.

Dear Selina,

Hi, I hope you are fine. We have to drink a lot of water to keep from becoming dehydrated. I'm a helicopter mechanic, the kind I work on is called the Apache. It is very hot and boring here. Thanks for writing such a nice letter.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Alicia,

Hi, thanks for writing and the big American flag you drew at the bottom of the letter. I'm 25 years old, I'll be 26 next May. I think that eventually Saddam Hussein will give up because we'll make him. I've been here almost 3 months. We don't have any kind of entertainment except for our mail. Thanks for writing.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Thadd,

Hi, I hope you are fine and doing well in school. I don't think there will ever be a World War III because we won't let it get started. I don't fly a jet but I'm a helicopter mechanic and spend a lot of time around aircraft. Thanks for writing and the pictures of the jet and tank you drew at the bottom of your letter.

Your friend,
Sgt. Norman

Dear Tiffany,

Hi, thanks for the letter and allowing me the honor of having your first masterpiece. I have been here about 3 months. I'm a helicopter mechanic but I have flown in many airplanes. It would be very nice to receive a picture of you. Thanks again for writing and take care.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Zac,

Hi, thanks for writing. I've been here almost 3 months, hopefully I won't have to be here much longer. We eat food that comes in brown plastic bags called M.R.E.'s.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Brandy,

Hi, thanks for writing. There really isn't a war going on, that's why we're here, to keep one from starting. My birthday is on May 19th. I work on helicopters. Thanks for the flag you drew at the bottom of your letter.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Christy,

Hi, I'm fine and am glad to hear you are the same. It isn't very fun over here because there isn't anything to do. My birthday is May 19th, my brother's is April 22nd. I'm a helicopter mechanic but I work with a lot of pilots. Thanks for writing.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Heidi,

Hi, this is just a short note to say thanks for writing and answer a few of your questions. It is starting to get crowded, there are about 200,000 of us here. I like airplanes, I work on helicopters. Thanks again for writing and take care.

Sincerely,
Robert

Dear Brent,

Hi, thanks for writing. Your letter was the funniest one I've received so far. You're right it does stink over here, in more ways than one. I've been jumping out of planes for almost 6 years. It takes a lot of practice so you won't get hurt. I'm a helicopter mechanic and the one I work on has a big gun on it plus it carries five rockets and missiles. Thanks for writing again and stay out of trouble.

Sincerely,
Robert

Dear Eric,

Hi, I hope you are fine. It is very hot over here, about 110° or 120° during the day. We usually eat food that comes in brown plastic bags called M.R.E.'s, we try to drink a lot of water too. There are about 200,000 soldiers over here. I haven't been shot and hopefully won't. I've been here about 3 months.

Sincerely,
Robert

Dear Michael,

Hi, I hope you are fine. It is very hot here, around 100° or 120° during the day. I am 25 years old and my birthday is May 19th. I hope you enjoy living in Minnesota and your restaurant does well. Thanks for writing.

Your friend,
Sgt. Norman

Dear Adam,

Hi, hope you are fine, I'm okay but I'm ready to go back home. It is very hot and very boring over here. I'm not sure what is going to happen, it looks different every day. Thanks for writing and try to enjoy the weather for me.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Norman

Dear Jamie,

Hi, I hope that you are fine. We try to drink from 3 to 5 gallons of water a day because we sweat that much. We have very little time off but when we do we usually toss a football around or play volleyball. I'm a helicopter mechanic, the helicopter I work on is called the AH-64 Apache. Thanks for writing and take care.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Norman

Dear Shannon,

Hi, thanks for writing. We usually eat M.R.E.'s, they come in a brown plastic bag. It is very hot and dusty and windy here, especially during the day. We try to drink between 3 to 5 gallons of water a day. There are about 200,000 soldiers here now. It is pretty crowded, 20 of us live in a tent about the size of your classroom. I hope that nobody else will have to come over here but they probably will.

Your friend,
Robert

Dear Gretchen,

Hi, thanks for writing, you have very nice handwriting. It is very boring over here. Thanks for picking me, I love to get mail. We don't have to drink a gallon of water an hour but we try to drink 3 to 5 gallons a day. The trip across the ocean was okay, but I couldn't see anything because it was dark and we flew at 35,000 feet. I hope we don't have to stay very much longer. I miss my wife and Mom a lot. I like to read but we don't have hardly any books to read. I like animals too, especially dogs. Thanks again for the letter and for thinking of me.

Your friend,
Robert

Bill to ban radar detectors

Indianapolis--Legislation has been filed by State Representative Robert Sabatini (D-Logansport) to outlaw radar detectors in Indiana.

Under House Bill 1092, the Indiana Code concerning motor vehicles would bar Hoosiers from having mechanisms in their cars to detect police radar signals.

"Radar detectors must be prohibited in Indiana because it is clearly a deceptive practice, and it is breaking the law intentionally," Sabatini says.

"We must aid our law enforcement officers in protecting the safety of citizens on the road by making sure that the speed limit is obeyed."

Who's Who in Akron

Paul and Phyllis Steele display some of the many clocks they have made in the last five years. The Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse styles in the center, near the bottom, have been especially popular this year.

(News Photo)

Paul and Phyllis Steele-Clockmakers

by Tonia Weller

When Akron residents, Paul and Phyllis Steele are asked what time it is, they don't have any trouble seeing a clock. Their Main Street home is filled with hundreds of them. The Steeles began making clocks five years ago and produce approximately five hundred every year.

The plaque style wooden clocks have battery operated, quartz movements and are made in every conceivable shape from fish and Harley-Davidson wings to the Pillsbury Doughboy and Bart Simpson. They are very professional looking.

Paul cuts the shapes and sands the plaques in the shop, in his garage, behind the house. Phyllis draws the designs onto the plaque and applies the acrylic paint, which usually requires a base coat and a second coat for details. After the paint has dried, a thick, two-part, high gloss polymer finish is applied. Because the finish must be applied in a dust-free environment, the Steeles have a special filter on their furnace. After the polymer has cured for 72 hours, Paul installs the clock movement and fits the hands.

Paul also makes clocks from old saw blades, with scenes painted on them by Phyllis. They cross cut sections of cedar, cyprus or cherry to make natural woodgrain clocks, some with swinging pendulums. They also laminate photographs to pieces of wood to make picture plaques.

Paul got started in woodworking after his retirement from Monticelli in Warsaw, eleven years ago. He began making rocking horses and later branched out to rocking cows and elephants. When he and Phyllis began attending craft shows in other cities, the rocking horses were too heavy and bulky to haul around. That was when the Steeles started making the clocks, although, Paul still makes rocking horses on a special order basis.

Paul and Phyllis have sold their clocks to people from all 50 states and several foreign countries. A clock shaped like the state of Indiana was recently shipped to Germany.

They have displayed their clocks at craft shows in the malls at South Bend, Elkhart, Marion and Logansport and have had booths at the Rochester Round Barn, Plymouth Blueberry and Akron 4th of July Festivals, among others. The Steeles attend around a dozen shows a year, taking an inventory of 250 clocks, in the utility trailer pulled behind their motorhome to each show. This spring, Paul and Phyllis will open a booth at Burkholders, near Nappanee.

The Steeles get a great deal of pleasure from doing the craft shows. They have met and become good friends with several of their fellow "crafters." "They're all good people," says Paul. "We sure have a lot of fun."

The Steeles also do a brisk mail-order business on custom order clocks. They have a shop in their home that is open by appointment.

While Paul and Phyllis design all their own patterns, most of their ideas come from requests by their customers.

This year Mickey and Minnie Mouse clocks have been their most popular items. Clocks featuring Indiana colleges, such as IU, Notre Dame and Purdue are big sellers. When a college team has a winning season, the Steeles sell more of their clocks. "As long as they keep winning, then we've got a winner," laughs Paul.

Paul and Phyllis keep up with current trends, adding designs as fads change. Although, Bart Simpson clocks haven't proven to be as popular as the Steeles expected. It seems the kids all want one, but their parents don't like Bart, so won't purchase the clocks. At the current time, clocks depicting different branches of the armed services are in demand.

Phyllis, who was raised in Wabash, is very creative in her painting and decorating of the clocks. In one style, she sprinkles mustard seeds in the polymer to represent the seeds of a strawberry.

Paul, who is originally from Chesterton, learned woodworking in Manual Training class in high school. He served eleven years in the Army, in both World War II and Korea and was awarded the bronze star and the purple heart. Paul moved to Akron 19 years ago when he and Phyllis were married.

Phyllis's son, Tom Huffman, works at Hoffman Bodyshop in Akron and Max Huffman lives near the Tippecanoe Valley School. A third son, Ron, lives in Macy and her daughter, Bonnie Fields lives in North Manchester. The Steeles have a total of 21 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Some of Phyllis's other craft items include sea shell curio shelves and "pretty punch" sweatshirts. As far as other hobbies go, Phyllis says, "The clocks pretty much take up all my time."

In addition to the clocks, Paul makes wooden Barbie doll furniture for his granddaughters and model "T" cars. He also repairs battery operated clocks.

In the future, after Phyllis retires from Eaton Control, in North Manchester, the Steeles plan to do more traveling. They plan to take their shop on the road with them in their motorhome. "I can cut out the plaques, then Phyllis can paint them while I drive," Paul said.

In the meantime their "working hobby" takes up most of their time and keeps them quite busy.

Mozart Remembered

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born Jan. 27, 1756, in Salzburg, Austria. Considered one of the greatest composers of the classical period, Mozart left over 600 compositions when he died in 1791, just short of his 36th birthday.

Revered as a musical genius, Mozart began performing when he was only 3 years old and completed his first composition at the age of 5.

His brilliant compositions include sonatas, operas, symphonies, serenades, and piano and violin concertos — many of which are still performed throughout the world. One of Mozart's best known and admired works is the opera "Don Giovanni."

Mozart came from a musically gifted family. His father, Leopold Mozart, was a conductor with the Austrian Symphony.

Mozart never attended school. And while his genius is celebrated today, he died in poverty.

Send cards to Saudi Arabia

Love, it can go a long distance. All the way to Saudi Arabia, in fact, to the men and women in Operation Desert Shield. One of the things service people value most is being able to communicate with their loved ones back home. It's important to send cards and letters to service people so that they know we support them and are thinking of them.

As they did 50 years ago in World War II, members of the Greeting Card Association (GCA) are joining forces with the USO to send armed service members cards they can use to write home. It's all part of its "Oasis Package" Project. Cards will be sent to thousands of U.S. Service men and women bringing them a brief trip to an "oasis" of things they miss while on alert in the desert. You can send cards, too.

Even if you don't have a friend or relative overseas, you may want to send a card to a service person to show your support. To do so, use a 25 cent stamp and these addresses: For members of the Army, Air Force and Marines write to: Any Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, APO, NY 09848-0006. If you are writing to someone in the Navy or a member of the Marine Corps stationed aboard a ship, address your letter to: Any Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, FPO, NY 09866-0006.

The Chopping Block by Philomena Corradeno

You should be seeing less fat in fresh pork cuts in your markets. That's because meat processors and retailers have been trimming more closely. In the 1980s, the standard trim of external fat was one-quarter inch. Today, most cuts have an average of one-eighth inch. Also, because producers have made major changes in the breeding and feeding of pigs, the internal fat has been greatly reduced giving us lower total fat and calories. If you trim off all removable fat before cooking and eat only the lean, the fat consumed is further reduced by about 35 percent.

This means pork can and should be included in a healthy diet. It's an excellent source of thiamin and niacin and supplies about 10 percent of the daily requirement of iron.

Loin is the leanest cut and a popular Saturday or Sunday dinner.

bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in 325F. (slow) oven until thermometer registers 170F. for well done. Allow 26 to 30 minutes per pound well done, 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

SAUSAGE-CENTERED PORK LOIN ROAST 4-pound center loin roast (about 8 ribs) 9 to 10-inch piece "fully cooked" smoked, pork link sausage

Pepper, if desired

Place sausage link flat and straight on baking sheet (tape down if necessary) and freeze until firm (four hours or overnight). Insert a long, sharp-pointed knife (with narrow blade) in center of end of pork roast; push the knife into and through to other end of roast, turning the knife clockwise so that it cuts through the middle of the loin and comes out in the center of the muscle on opposite end. Remove knife with the small core of meat. Enlarge hole with the handle of a large wooden spoon. (If knife isn't long enough to extend through roast, leave spoon handle in roast and insert knife in other end to touch spoon handle. Remove knife and insert spoon handle in other end and push through roast.) Insert sausage in center hole in roast and push through gently. Place roast, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so bulb is centered in the thickest part, but not resting in fat. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in 325F. (slow) oven to 170 for well done 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Allow roast to stand 15 to 20 minutes before carving. Season with pepper. Carve and serve. Makes eight servings.

Note: Have butcher loosen chine (back) bone. When roasting is done, the back bone can be removed easily by running the carving knife along the edge of the roast before the meat is placed on the platter to be carved.

It's that time again

Now that over 2.4 million Hoosiers have received their 1990 federal tax forms, it's time to get ready to file them. Filing should be simple for retirees who, in many cases, will be able to use the simpler Form 1040A this year. Pension and annuity income, IRA distributions, and taxable social security benefits can now be reported on the shorter form. Also, estimated tax payments and credit for the elderly can be claimed on 1040A.

Other changes include: tax brackets indexed for inflation; increase personal exemption amount of $2,050 up from $2,000; increased standard deduction amount; increased earned income credit amount, new self-employment tax deduction; interest exclusion for college savings bonds.

Also new in Indiana is a test of the electronic filing system for returns with a balance due. Last year over 160,000 Hoosiers filed electronically and received a refund faster. This year, taxpayers who owe will be able to transmit electronically, get a notice from IRS, and pay the tax anytime before April 15.

IRS has a variety of assistance available to help Indiana taxpayers file early and accurately. The toll-free telephone assistance is the most popular with over 600,000 phone calls expected between January and April. IRS has a toll-free recorded message service. Tele-tax, giving callers brief messages on over 150 tax topics. Callers can also check on the status of expected refunds four weeks after a return is filed.

IRS assistance:
General tax information 1-800-TAX-1040. Hours: Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., beginning January 26, Saturdays 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and Sundays 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tele-tax 1-800-829-4477. Excise Taxes Extinguished

The votes are in — proposals to increase the consumer excise taxes on cigarettes were defeated by 25 state legislatures this year. In addition, when an initiative to increase cigarette excise taxes was put before Montana voters in November, the proposed measure was defeated 60 percent to 40 percent.

As the dust settled on the 1990 legislative sessions across the country, state legislators who looked to increased cigarette excise taxes as a means of reducing state budget deficits or for funding specific state programs were told to look elsewhere.

States defeating proposed legislation included: Alabama, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Vermont, Missouri, Mississippi, Michigan, Maryland, Kentucky, Kansas, Illinois and Iowa.

Pooh Day

"Happy birthday to you ... happy birthday A. A. Milne, happy birthday to you," sing Christopher Robin, Eeyore, Tigger, Rabbit, Piglet, Owl, Kanga and Roo, and Winnie the Pooh.

This cast of fictional characters will be celebrated on Jan. 18, the birth anniversary of their creator, Alan Alexander Milne.

Milne is most well-known for writing two of the most widely recognized and inspirational children's stories, "Winnie the Pooh" and "The House at Pooh Corner." Winnie the Pooh, the main character, is perhaps the most famous of lovable, huggable bears in children's stories, and each of his adventures, centers around his insatiable appetite for honey.

"Pooh books," as they are lovingly referred to, instill values of kindness, friendship and determination in the millions of children who read them. Milne, who died in 1956, continues to be praised for the extraordinary children's stories he created.

Veterans Post by Freddy Groves

UPDATING HELP FOR FORMER HOSTAGES: Last week, I noted that the Department of Veterans Affairs has offered to provide counseling services for returning hostages in dealing with the stress of their experiences in Iraq and Kuwait. I mentioned that if anyone is interested, they can contact a local VA office for assistance.

I can now report that if you prefer, you can phone the VA's National Center for Post Traumatic Stress Disorder in White River Junction, Vt. directly for referral to the nearest VA facility. Call: 1-802-295-9363. The number is staffed 24 hours a day.

TO JERRY: Your uncle's situation may come under a recently changed provision of the Budget Reconciliation Act which provides that payment of compensation to a non-hospitalized incompetent veteran with no spouse, child, or dependent parent be suspended in any case where the veteran's estate is valued over $25,000. (That includes his or her home.) This changes whenever the veteran's estate is reduced to less than $10,000.

Your uncle's local VA office can provide more information.

Pet Care

by Cleo & Brad Conrad

Much like ourselves, our pets have a higher incidence of disease as they age. However, unlike us, cats and dogs are often able to mask the changes that occur in their bodies, so we often miss what's going on with them.

This is one of the reasons for a yearly physical exam by a competent veterinarian. Make sure you tell your vet about any changes you may have noticed in your pet, such as increased urination or thirst, weight loss or gain, trouble getting up, difficulty walking, changes in vision or hearing, appetite changes. All these indicators could be early warning signs of disease.

It may also be a good idea to have a complete blood test done to be sure your pet's internal organs are functioning well. Of course, you should always bring a stool sample and a urine sample (preferably the first one of the morning, which can be refrigerated until going to the vet). The vet should also do a CHEMScreen.

Remember, early diagnosis can save your pet's life, and is especially important in older animals.

Mathias is the son of the late John and Belva Mathias. Mrs. Mathias is the daughter of the late William and Gertrude Wright.

Home Hints

WALLPAPER BORDER — When I decided I wanted a border for the wallpaper in my bathroom, I couldn't find one to match. My answer turned up in the fabric store — a very heavy ribbon. I used tacky glue to put it up. It looks great, and the cost was a lot more reasonable than conventional border — Jan T., Bartlett, Tenn.

DRYER SHEET USE — One day while I was doing laundry, I used a dryer sheet to wipe off a dusty table. It picked up the dust like a magnet, and now I use one for regular dusting. It is especially nice for the television screen because it doesn't leave any lint. Renee V., Youngstown, Ohio

MOM'S TOOLS — I keep a pair of pliers, a hammer and a screwdriver in a kitchen drawer, but every time I went to the drawer for one tool or another, it would be gone. So I painted a wide band of bright pink on each tool. This way, if the tool is misplaced, I can easily spot it. It works great! Helen S., Warren, Ohio

TEENAGE DRIVERS — When our teenage daughters started driving the family car, we gave each one her own set of car keys. This eliminated having to borrow ours. When they got their own cars, each person in the household got keys, so we each had keys to all the cars. Each key was color-coded to make finding the right one a snap.

There's no problem ever with being blocked in by another car. It comes in handy when a quick trip has to be made to the store. We simply drive the last car parked in the driveway. Linda P., Houston, Texas

RECORDING CHECKS — I have discovered a way to make sure that I never forget to record a check in my checkbook.

When I write a check while shopping, I collect all the receipts, note the check number quickly on each receipt, and place them in my checkbook. When I get home, I record all my purchases at one time and balance the amount. Georgia F., Louisville, Ky.

"And the Answer is: This state is the home of The Egg Festival, The Mermaid Festival and Vice President Dan Quayle." The question, of course, is "What is Indiana?" This question, I'm told, actually appeared on Jeopardy just before Christmas. Wow! folks, are we ready for national notoriety?

Many experts tell us that ninety percent of the things we worry about never happen, so don't tell me that worrying doesn't work! Being an experienced "professional worrier" myself, I like to think I've prevented many catastrophes in my career. But, I surely slipped up this time. I just didn't worry enough about son, David and the Middle East. He and wife, Lynn called to alert us--by the time this is printed--he will be in or on his way to Saudi, Arabia. This is too crucial for my puny worry efforts. Instead, please join me in prayer for David and his family, all our other service men and women over there and their families here at home.

Who's Who in Mentone

Mark and Sarah Fugate expect to make their home permanently in Indianapolis. But, for Mark, who grew up here, and Sarah, who was "adopted in," Mentone remains the home to come back to.

A Profile of Mark Fugate

by Leafy Hudson

Mark Fugate, who grew up in Mentone, and his wife, Sarah, are Indianapolis residents, but they both enjoy "coming home" to visit Mentone as much as possible.

Mark, son of Mentone elementary school first grade teacher, Elaine and the late Tom Fugate, was active in the Mentone United Methodist Church as he grew up. He was also active in sports: tennis, basketball and golf at Tippecanoe Valley High School. But, the activity "where his heart was," was band--the Tippecanoe Viking Guard--in which he played trombone.

Mark says he has many fond memories of those days in band. In his senior year, only the third year they had entered state marching band contest, the Tippecanoe Valley High School Band made it to the state finals and was among the top ten finalists. His sophomore year the band had taken 2nd at District Contest, and in his junior year they had placed 1st at District. It was an exhilarating experience for the young band members who had dedicated their time and efforts toward winning for Tippecanoe Valley.

In the summer following graduation, Mark and classmate Kathy Helmrich were privileged to be members of Hook's Allstate Band, marching in the Indianapolis 500 Parade. Seventeen trombones led "at least one hundred horns" down the checkered carpet. "I got to march in the front row," Mark recalls. "It was a thrill. A good way to culminate my high school years!"

Mark credits Kim Metcalf, his high school band director, for much of his later success. "He had good discipline, and insisted that we set goals. He had the whole band focused and working together. It was more than music. The good values he instilled in us helped carry through college and into life."

Another teacher Mark feels influenced him greatly is math teacher, Wayne Cumberland. "He pushed us very hard--but it was well worth it. It got me off on the right foot. I was well prepared for college."

After graduating third in the TVHS class of 1984, Mark attended Indiana University, where he intended to study optometry. "But, the more I looked at the required courses, the more science classes I saw. And I discovered I really didn't have much interest in that direction. They also required a lot of math. I took math courses and they were easy." So, Mark switched to a Math Ed major in his sophomore year and, he says, "I've never regretted it."

Through a college group in a church close to the I.U. campus, Mark met another new student, Sarah. "It was a good environment," he remembers. "There were lots of good group activities." By the time Mark and Sarah began dating they had been together in their group enough to feel natural and not experience those "first date jitters." "We dated four and one-half years in college," Mark says. "It was a fun time." They were married in July, 1989, shortly after both were graduated by Indiana University.

Although Mark had student-taught, and obtained a teaching certificate, he knew early that teaching was not what he wanted to do. Before student-teaching, he had passed his first two actuarial exams, a step in the direction of an insurance career. In March, before graduation, Mark was hired to work as an actuarial student at American United Life, Indianapolis, where he still works.

Mark speaks enthusiastically about his job. He has just been promoted to the position of actuarial assistant. The next step will be a certified actuary. Year of study and a schedule of passing another exam every six months, as he has done since commencing work at AUL, will be necessary for him to reach his goal of certified actuary.

In the meantime, he finds work for the insurance company stimulating and challenging. "Not knowing at first what to expect," he now gets involved in developing routines, helps calculate the amount of reserves needed by the company, premium amounts and many things involved with commission studies and claim payouts. "I get to see a lot of the operations of the insurance company," Mark says. "Except for routine monthly reports, much of my work involves new things."

"I've learned so much," he says. "When I started I knew nothing about insurance and I still have only seen the tip of the iceberg. Health insurance is always in a state of change, as society changes. One of my projects has been to evaluate future events and insurance needs."

"Right now," Mark says, "I deal more with the theoretical than the practical. But, that will change and I'm getting a good base of knowledge for the whole spectrum of the insurance business." He adds, "There's always more to learn about insurance--the sky's the limit!"

Sarah, a native of Bloomington, Indiana, holds degrees in both French and Spanish, with a teaching certificate for both. She, however, has decided to return to school to study to be a paralegal.

Although Mark and Sarah admit it's been hard with their lack of free time, finding their "niche" in Indianapolis, they like being there very much. In spite of being a metropolitan area, it still has small town qualities. "We can see cornfields and horses from where we live," they laugh. And it situated midway between families. They visit both families as often as they can.

Mark doesn't have much time for hobbies, but he continues his interest in golf, belonging to the AUL Golf League. Sarah's free time goes to reading, mostly historical fiction. They both play tennis in the summer, and they have adopted a dachshund-beagle puppy they've named "Domino." They attend the Faith

Missionary Church in Indianapolis.

Both Mark and Sarah speak readily about Mentone. Mark says, "It's the best place to grow up. With the church and people in Mentone, I always enjoy coming back." He goes on to recall other college students who didn't have warm feelings about returning to their hometowns. "But, not me. I still consider Mentone my home."

Sarah says, "I'd never been in a town this small before I came to Mentone. Everybody was so friendly, they knew Mark and talked to me. I never met a friendlier bunch of folks! I feel like this is my home, too!"

Tots To Teens

by Sue Ellen Sullivan

Dear Sue: I have a problem. I can't stop being mad at my father. I just can't believe he could leave us and get his own apartment. He even has a girlfriend. How can he have a girlfriend when he is married to my mother? The worst part is that even though I'm mad at him, I still have to spend every Saturday with him. When I talk to my friends about my problems, I feel better, but soon after, I feel mad again. I don't want to be mad all the time. How can I get over this? Jennifer R.

Dear Jennifer: You already know that talking to your friends makes you feel better, so keep on talking about your feelings. Talk to your mother about how you feel and especially, to your father. Maybe he can explain his actions in a way that will make you feel better. Ask your mother about seeing a counselor. These professionals are trained to listen to people's problems and make them feel better. The most important thing to remember is that, although this does have a terrible effect on your life, it really involves just your mother and father. Your father didn't leave you, he left your mother. He still wants to see you every Saturday, and once you get over the anger, you will want to see him too. Meanwhile, don't be upset because you are angry. You have a right to be. Sometimes life just doesn't go the way we want it to.

CROWN, CAP OR JACKET?

Let's clear it up once and for all. What is the difference between a crown, cap and jacket? There is no difference. They're just different names for the type of restoration that completely surrounds a tooth.

Several types of material can be used for this purpose. Perhaps the most appealing aesthetically is the porcelain jacket, which is 100% porcelain and can look absolutely perfect. The problem is that it lasts only until the first time the porcelain hits the wrong thing in the wrong way.

The strongest type of crown is all gold, but it has obvious cosmetic drawbacks when used in the front of the mouth. Another combination for strength and beauty is porcelain fused to a gold or one of the newer metal backings. It is usually indistinguishable from the all-porcelain jacket.

Another two alternatives are the all-plastic crown and the gold crown with a plastic front. While these can be aesthetically acceptable, the plastic can wear out and discolor with time.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I think it would sure be nice if one of the Mentone non-profit groups such as Friends of the Library, Helping Hands, Ambulance, Fire, Girl or Boy Scouts, Valley Band, etc., would start a fund raiser by setting up collection boxes for paper, plastic, aluminum and glass.

I'm sure this area would respond overwhelmingly for a way to recycle and help to save our environment plus a non-profit organization might earn a little profit for their cause.

Sincerely,
A Mentone reader

Dear Editor:

I am a very confused and upset parent. Yesterday, our daughter, along with the rest of the girls in the freshman class at TVHS, was given a written Phys Ed semester exam. The exam consisted of approximately 50 multiple choice questions. One of the questions asked for the Phys Ed teacher's correct name. One of the questions asked who the head of the athletic department was. I thought those two questions were rather odd for an exam, but some of the other questions seemed even more peculiar. Such as: Names of the cooks in the school cafeteria, the name of the school song, the name of the ag teacher, the names of the freshmen cheerleaders, the school secretary, and who is the director of the Spring Concert?

I called the high school this morning to ask Mr. Shultz if he was aware of what was asked on this exam. He was unable to come to the telephone, but the lady who answered the telephone asked if she could take a message. I refused to give her my name, but I did tell her why I was calling. She told me that teachers do sometimes add questions such as these to relieve tension and to check to see if the kids are aware of what is going on around them. I told her I thought that was a very poor explanation.

If it is a somewhat common, or rather acceptable, practice for teachers to have questions such as these on semester exams, is it any wonder that kids are graduating unable to read, write, add and subtract?

In Akron the OUEST program has been added to help kids have a better self-image. I know of kids who have been kept off the honor roll because of getting C's in Phys Ed. How do you suppose that affected their self-image?

We are always hearing about how underpaid our teachers are and how we need to pour more money into our schools in Indiana so that our kids will receive better educations. Everyone can find someone who makes more money than they do. I'm sure young people have a pretty good idea of how much they will be paid before they go to college to become teachers. If they feel they are going to be underpaid then they should go into another area. Why set themselves up for such abuse?

I would welcome a response or explanation from anyone who can tell me why such questions were on a test.

Upset Parent

Dear Editor:

Akron has lost one of its greatest assets. Many of you may not know about the resignation of Deputy Les McFarland. He is the finest officer that Akron has and it is a disgrace that he was harassed by so many people. We had townspeople that would follow him around trying to find something to complain about, but never finding anything valid. One of those townspeople showed his real concern for the town when he built a fence down the middle of a street that had been used for over forty years. This fence blocks the quickest roadway to the homes on the other side for emergency vehicles such as fire trucks and ambulances. Where was his concern for the town then? Now he has even endangered more lives by being one of the reasons we are losing Deputy McFarland.

Deputy McFarland did more good for this town and did more than just "babysit". We were very lucky to have someone with the training and investigative ability that he possessed. He was always "on the job" and always listening. Maybe that is how he caught the guy that tried to rob Harris Drugs so quickly.

Well, you have gotten rid of Deputy McFarland and what do we have left? One Marshall with no training, no investigative experience, has used the town's car and gas for private use (unless driving your wife somewhere is police business), and one who bad mouths his fellow officer and other town employees to police officers in a neighboring city. Not very professional. This is really something to offer someone that is considering moving their family or business to Akron.

If Marshall Fleck hadn't let jealousy and immaturity get in his way, he and Deputy McFarland could have made a great team. I hope the Akron Town Board is listening, so steps can be taken to prevent this tragedy from happening again. If not, I am afraid it will do no good to hire someone unless they possess the same qualifications as our Marshall. If that is the case, they won't have to look very hard. There are plenty of out-of-work, non-educated people in need of a job.

On The National Scene Editorial Comment

by Leafy Hudson

"Those who can, do; those who can't, teach." Ask my college professor—he'll laugh at that old familiar "saw" he's heard a hundred times. But, it's being disproved in Washington, D.C. One of their universities' newest professors of Criminal Justice (if news reports are true), is former Mayor Marion Barry, who certainly "can do" the "criminal" part of his subject. It makes one wonder where we have gone wrong. In today's society, where people with valuable experience, excellent work records, and prestigious awards to their credit can't find employment, how does an arrogant, acknowledged, convicted criminal land a job in what should be a respected and respectable, influential position? Does anyone in America really approve of this man teaching his illegal arts? Where will it all end?

Boy Scout Troop 245 News

On Saturday, January 5th, Boy Scout Troop 245 hosted a Merit Badge Day at the Akron Church of God. Five other Troops attended including 227, 217, 226, 319 and 219. The Scouts of Troop 245 spent the day teaching merit badges to the other troops. The merit badges that were taught were Citizenship in the Community, Citizenship in the Nation, Citizenship in the World, and Communications. All of these merit badges are required to earn the Eagle Rank. To fulfill one of the requirements, Marianne Day gave all to the Scouts a tour of the Akron Post Office, explained the daily operations, and answered the questions that the Scouts had. Troop 245 would like to thank her and all of the troops who attended for a great day.

On Tuesday, January 7th, Wayne Smoker, Plant Manager at Sonoco in Louisiana, Missouri, gave a talk on the Safety merit badge to the Scouts of Troop 245. Mr. Smoker informed Scouts on dangers in and around the home and how to correct or avoid them. The Scouts would like to thank Mr. Smoker for an excellent presentation that left everyone Safety Conscious.

There are many reasons to commemorate the birth anniversary of Benjamin Franklin. Although he was known primarily as an American statesman of the Revolutionary period, he is also credited with an astonishing list of other accomplishments. He was a diplomat, a scientist, an author, a printer, a publisher, and a philanthropist. Moreover, he was self-educated. Perhaps his greatest legacy to us was his advice on how to live a healthy and sensible life, by acquiring such virtues as temperance and thrift. Indeed, all the world could profit by his example of this, as it has by his many achievements. At our House of Worship, we should express our thanks for such a man as Benjamin Franklin, who set the example for all of us in how to use our God-given intelligence.

ORDINANCE NO. 122890 - AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING THE FULTON COUNTY SOLID WASTE PLANNING FEE

WHEREAS, IC 13-9-5-2 requires each county in the State of Indiana, including Fulton County, to either establish itself as a county solid waste management district ("county district") or to join with one or more other counties in the formation of a joint solid waste management district ("joint district") no later than July 1, 1991; and WHEREAS, IC 13-9-5-4 and P.L. 10-1990, SECTION 21 require each solid waste management district so formed to adopt a district solid waste management plan no later than July 1, 1992; and

WHEREAS, IC 13-9-5-6 authorizes the county executive to impose fees on the disposal or incineration of solid waste at a final disposal facility located within the county, to pay costs associated with the preparation of a district solid waste management plan; and

WHEREAS, the task of preparing a district solid waste management plan involves the development of information about solid waste management activities and facilities in Fulton County to enable the County to make an informed decision about whether to become a county district or a joint district; and WHEREAS, the county executive held a public hearing in the Fulton County Courthouse in Rochester, Indiana, on December 16, 1990, pursuant to a notice published in accordance with IC 5-3-1; now, therefore:

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF FULTON COUNTY, INDIANA:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of this ordinance, the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them as follows:

- (a) "Final disposal facility" shall have the meaning prescribed at IC 13-9-5-1-4.
- (b) "Solid Waste" shall have the meaning prescribed at IC 13-9-5-1-26.
- (c) "Board of Commissioners" means the Fulton County Board of Commissioners.
- (d) "County auditor" means the auditor of Fulton County.

SECTION 2. A county solid waste planning fee is imposed at the rate of One Dollar ($1.00) per ton on each ton of solid waste disposed of at a final disposal facility in Fulton County.

SECTION 3. The owner or operator of a final disposal facility located in Fulton County is responsible for collecting the county solid waste planning fee imposed under Section 2 of this ordinance from persons delivering solid waste to the final disposal facility. The disposal facility owner or operator may deduct an amount equal to one percent (1%) of the fees collected and may retain this amount as compensation for collecting and remitting the fees.

SECTION 4. The remainder of the fees collected each month under Section 3 of this ordinance shall be remitted to the county auditor within ten (10) days after the last day of the month in which the fees are collected.

SECTION 5. The owner or operator of a final disposal facility shall make necessary records available to an employee designated by the Board of Commissioners for the purpose of verifying the amount of solid waste disposed of and the amount of fees being collected and remitted to the county auditor.

SECTION 6. The owner or operator of a final disposal facility that does not have a scale suitable for solid waste may determine the weight of the solid waste by conversion from the volume of the solid waste. In making this conversion, an owner or operator shall use the following conversion factors:

- (a) Three and three-tenths (3.3) cubic yards of compacted solid waste equals one (1) ton of solid waste.
- (b) Six (6) cubic yards of uncompacted solid waste equals one (1) ton of solid waste.

SECTION 7. (a) The fee imposed under Sec. 2 of this ordinance does not apply to solid waste that is received at a final disposal facility pursuant to a contract entered into before Jan. 1, 1990 unless the contract contains a pass-through provision by which the transporter of the solid waste may recover the fees from the transporter's client. (b) Any solid waste for which an exemption under this section is sought must be identified as to the particular contract which does not contain the pass-through provision. A copy of any contract for which the owner or operator of a final disposal facility desires to claim an exemption under this section must be filed with the Board of Commissioners.

SECTION 8. The fee imposed under Section 2 of this ordinance does not apply to solid waste disposed of at a final disposal facility by a person that:

- (1) generated the solid waste; and
- (2) disposed of the solid waste at a final disposal facility that is owned by that person and is limited, for the purposes of the disposal of solid waste, to use by that person for the disposal of solid waste generated by that person.

SECTION 9. The county auditor shall establish a fund to be known as the "Fulton County Solid Waste Planning Fund." The Fund shall be administered in the same manner as all other county funds.

SECTION 10. No money in the Fund may be used only for the following purposes:

- (1) to pay expenses of administering the Fund;
- (2) to pay costs associated with the development of a district solid waste management plan; including costs to develop information to enable the County to determine whether its plan should be implemented, or a county or joint solid waste district;
- (3) to pay costs of the actual disposal of solid waste.

SECTION 11. The fee imposed under this ordinance may not be imposed after the earlier of:

- (1) the date on which Fulton County is either designated a county district or joins into a joint district; or
- (2) December 31, 1992.

SECTION 12. (1) Any non-compliance with the conditions of this ordinance shall be a violation of this ordinance pursuant to IC 36-1-3-6(10). Akron Men in Operation Desert Storm

by Tonia Weller

The Akron community is well represented in Operation Desert Storm in the Persian Gulf. The News spoke with Bill Cornell Sr., father of William J. Cornell, Jr., a Second Class Hospital Corpsman in the U.S. Navy stationed with the 3rd Marines Regiment in Saudi Arabia. Bill Jr. is trained in combat medicine and has been in the Navy for eight years and in Saudi Arabia since September.

When he spoke with his parents the Sunday before the air strike began, Bill Jr. had said that it wouldn't be many hours after the deadline before they "went in." According to his father, Bill Jr. said, "Our adrenaline is flowing and we're all pumped up. We've got a job to do and we're going to do it!"

Bill Jr. grew up in Akron and graduated, in 1983, from Tippecanoe Valley High School, where he was a "A" student. Area residents may remember Bill playing in band. He and his wife, Mary, live in Hawaii, with their two sons, William Christopher and Shawn Michael, who are both preschoolers. Bill Jr. has two brothers, Ronnie and Norman, and a sister, Mary, who is a senior at Tippy Valley.

Since Bill Jr. is a medical corpsman in a M.A.S.H. unit, his father assumes he will be helicoptering back and forth over the Kuwaiti-Saudi border to tend wounded Marines. This puts him right on the front lines.

Bill Sr. said he and his wife, Christine, had a rough night Wednesday, after the start of the war with Iraq was confirmed. "We didn't sleep a wink. We were up all night watching T.V. It's awful rough not knowing where he is or what he's doing."

Bill Sr. said serving in the Navy fulfilled a lifetime dream for his son. "He's talked about being in the Navy since he was a small boy."

"We're darn proud of him!" Bill Sr. said and added, "We're pleased that people want to keep in in touch with him."

Tech Sergeant David J. Bowen (E-7), son of Paul and Gloria Bowen, of Akron, shipped out for Saudi Arabia on Dec. 24, Christmas Eve. "It made Christmas hard for all of us," said his sister, Janet Hawley.

Sgt. Bowen grew up in Akron and graduated from Akron High School in 1967. He will have been in the Army 20 years this September.

Prior to being sent to Saudi Arabia, he had been stationed in Germany, with his wife. Sgt. Bowen called his family around 1:30 in the morning on January 15. His job is to repair radio equipment and he explained to his family that he would most likely be about 100 miles behind the front lines. David told his parents he would try to call them in about a week.

The Bowens spoke on the telephone with David's wife, in Germany, and said she was "holding up pretty well."

Janet said of the January 16 action, "It's funny, you know it's a possibility but...it still comes as a shock." Janet has been upset by the war protesters. "I feel like the time for that has past. Now is the time to show support for the men and women who are there fighting," she said. "We're all very supportive of what's happening over there. I'm certainly proud of everyone over there," she added.

Army Sergeant Robert Norman had been stationed with the 82nd Airborne in Saudi Arabia from August 2 until a couple of weeks ago, when his father-in-law passed away. His mother, Helen Norman of Akron, said he had returned to Fort Bragg, on an emergency leave to be with his wife, Colleen. She is uncertain at this time whether he has returned to the Persian Gulf. But she is sure if he hasn't, he soon will. Rob is a mechanic for the Apache attack helicopters.

He also graduated from Valley in 1983 and is a good friend of Bill Cornell, Jr.

Helen has another son, Pfc. Andrew Norman, stationed with the 160th Airborne. He was awaiting orders to report to Saudi Arabia when his mother last spoke with him.

Andrew, 20, graduated from Tippecanoe Valley in the Class of '88.

Helen has been unable to contact either of her sons since the fighting broke out. "I'm real worried about them," she said. "Especially when I can't get ahold of them. But I'll just keep trying."

In recent weeks, The News has printed letters from both Robert Norman and Bill Cornell, Jr.

The News wishes all our servicemen and women in the Persian Gulf a safe and speedy return.

Of course, Pastor Will was very proud that it was his own EMT team in question.

Gary Gross, a senior at Ball State University, has an unusual problem. He is down with chicken pox! Gary will be remembered for his participation in high school band, chorus, swing choir and drama. He expects to graduate this spring.

Remember, you heard it here first! Now I can tell you our great plans for Thursday night at the Egg Festival, June 6, 7, and 8, 1991. We're sponsoring an Old Timer's Baseball Game at the Youth League, featuring Chamber Players against The Teachers. Players of all ages beyond high school are welcome. Names of coaches will be announced later. If you want to participate in this, let any Chamber member know. I'm looking forward to it, but I already have my heating pad plugged in!

We have a lot more great plans for the Egg Festival cooking. We're hoping to reinstate the tractor pull, so popular in former years.

We're really excited about this year's theme. It will be patriotic and we'll honor our service men and women, and veterans. Akron School to participate in Children's Education Fund

The Akron School Parent Support Council announces that Akron School will be participating in the Children's Education Fund that last year contributed $4 million to 22,000 schools. Akron School received a total of $250 in 1990.

Sponsored by Jif Peanut Butter and Duncan Hines frostings and baking mixes, the Fund differs from other corporate school programs in that schools receive a contribution merely by registering.

Over and above the payment for registering, the Fund contributes 25 cents for every purchase of a Duncan Hines or Jif product substantiated by a cash register receipt collected between January 15 and May 15, 1991. Money received can be spent on anything that will benefit the students of Akron School.

The Akron School Parent Support Council urges all Akron area residents to support their school's fundraising effort by collecting cash register receipts for Jif and Duncan Hines products during the January 15-May 15 time period. Receipts should be marked to identify Jif and Duncan Hines purchases by circling each purchase. Marked register receipts may be given to any Akron School student who will deposit the receipt in either of two containers located in the school. Students pictured are first graders Sheena Miser and Blaine Harzler. (News Photo).

Valley board sets medication policy

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board adopted a medication policy and discussed drug testing for all students involved in extracurricular activities at their meeting on January 14.

Beginning February 1, written permission from a physician and/or parent must accompany any prescription or over-the-counter medication taken to school. All medication must be in its original container and be marked with the student's name, the name of the medication and the dosage. The medication will be dispensed by the school nurse or other school personnel. The policy covers all schools in the system.

A drug testing policy was put on hold until its legality has been decided. Originally, the board considered random testing of athletes only, but several board members favored mandatory testing of students involved in all extracurricular activities. The possibility of including faculty and administration members in the testing was also discussed. The board decided to investigate the situation further and wait to see how other area schools handle the situation.

In other matters the board:

- *Named John Mellott and Fred McSherry to the board of finance.

- *Named Brett Boggs, Diane Gorman, Dan Kramer and Jon Parker as legal representatives for the school in small claims court action for book rental fees.

- *Appointed Ned Anderson and Marjorie Sanders to Bell Memorial Library Board and Ed LaMar to the Area Library Services Authority Board.

- *Approved a curriculum change reducing the requirement for graduation from one year of government to one semester. High School students will have a choice of economics, psychology, sociology or current events for the second semester.

- *Observed a moment of silence in honor of Arden Moore, an employee who recently drown.

The board heard the following in principal reports:

- *All third graders will attend the Shrine Circus in Fort Wayne on February 1.

- *School pictures will be taken February 7 at Akron.

- *Freshman orientation will be February 19.

- *Burket's spelling bee is set for January 29; Akron's 7th and 8th grade spelling bee finals will be February 5 and 6 for grades 5 and 6.

Following the regular meeting the board met in executive session to discuss personnel.

Akron Business of The Week

Jeff's Automotive

by Tonia Weller

Jeff's Automotive, at 215 West Walnut Street, has provided quality mechanical repair, of all types, for automobiles and light trucks for the last nine years.

Owner, Jeff Tilden, began his business in the two car garage behind his house, in 1982. Within two and a half years, the business had grown enough to require the building of an addition. In 1988, Jeff purchased the property behind his and built on again. The resulting 4000 square foot building can house eight vehicles at one time.

Jeff has been interested in cars since he was about ten years old and hung around the gas station, pumping gas. He worked at Stephen's Garage through his high school years and was a mechanic at Louderback's, in Rochester, for seven years before becoming his own boss. "I enjoy working on cars," Jeff says. "It's all I've ever done and I'm proud of the work we do here."

Jeff has one, full-time employee, mechanic Bryan Sausaman, but jokes that his father-in-law, Fred Brown, "makes parts runs for me, when I can get him off the golf course."

Bryan and Jeff have both taken seminars and GM schooling on different mechanical processes.

Jeff's Automotive has made a large investment in several pieces of computerized equipment necessary to work on the newer cars. They also have a special lathe that enables them to turn brake drums and rotors. In addition to complete mechanical repair, Jeff's also offers "original equipment" AC Delco parts for over the counter purchase.

Jeff has an interesting solution to the problem of old oil disposal that plagues many garages...he uses it to heat his shop. In November, Jeff installed a special, 185,000 BTU "Cleanburn" furnace, that he purchased from John Zimmerman, of Akron. The furnace will burn old engine oil, transmission fluid, diesel fuel and any other oil up to 90 weight. The oil is poured directly into a special tank that contains filters. The furnace then preheats the oil before burning it. The unit is 90% efficient and produces virtually no smoke. In cold weather, the furnace burns about 55 gallons of waste oil per week. "I'm real happy with it," Jeff said. "It does a good job." He added, "It helps out with the pollution problem and saves me money, too."

Jeff, the son of Richard and Carolyn Tilden, is a life-time resident of Akron. He and his wife, Nancy, who is originally from Rochester, have two children. Their son, Ryan is 13 and a seventh grader and daughter, Wendy is eight and in the third grade. Nancy is a teacher's aid at Tippecanoe Valley High School. Ryan shares his dad's interest in working on cars and helps out around the garage by cleaning up. Jeff thinks there is a good chance Ryan will follow in his footsteps and pursue a career in auto mechanics.

Jeff was recently elected by Henry Township to serve on the Tippecanoe Valley School Board. His term begins in July, although he has already attended several meetings.

Some of Jeff's hobbies include a slow-pitch softball and golf. "Too much golf," he laughs. Jeff is looking forward to a two week golfing trip to Mississippi that he takes each year.

Jeff's Automotive also sponsors a little league team each year and Jeff has helped out by coaching in past years.

Jeff is glad that he started his business in Akron. He says, "I've always liked this community." Business has been very good and Jeff says he frequently has to work evenings to keep up. He feels the future looks good for the business community in Akron.

It is the confidence of ambitious young businessmen, like Jeff, that insure the continued success of the community.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Here we go again. Didn't we like our "young" deputy again? Boy I bet quite a few of you will be very happy to see him go, especially the ones who has condemned him for what he does in his spare time, where he goes for dinner or supper. You say, "condemned him! Oh yes people you have because he's young, single and good at his job! Yes good at it!

Alot of you think he likes to pick on people, well, he only picks on the ones who are breaking the law. You want him to leave you alone? Shape up! Quit breaking the law. Don't try to run your Police Department "Akron" because you're destroying a good thing, plus, you really don't care because you would have gotten your way! Some of you anyway. For the people who like Les, please tell him because right now, he, I think feels as though he's not liked too well because he did his job too well.

Les slowed down drugs, drunken driving, made people respect the law I would say!

Pretty good of Akron to hire him without a contract wasn't it? Protects a whole lot of people doesn't it? If he gets too close to home, "Wham," he's out of there! Teaches our young children of our community about control doesn't it?

From what I've heard, Les is leaving because he has no contract to work with all he wants is a contract to help secure his future with a community he really likes. Would you work without a contract if you were him? Les knows he could be fired at a "flick of a wrist" if someone gets mad at him. If someone feels threatened "wham" he's out of here! Just to protect someone else job.

Come on Akron! Wake up and smell the coffee!! You've got something that we don't have a cop that cares about his community!! Believe it or not he would like to stay if only he had a contract!!

Akron, are you that cheap that you can't afford to keep him? No way! I know quite a few of you Akron people and I have to agree when people say Akron likes their police department providing they can run it!!

Get smart Akron, offer Les a contract worth his while to stay. Make him an offer he can't refuse!!

Mad As H.

Dear Editor:

I have lived in Akron and the Akron area all my life. Many town Marshalls have come and gone during this time. Some people have agreed with the way they performed their duties and some have not. As to the letter about Deputy McFarland and Marshall Fleck people need to know all the facts before judging others capabilities. Heresay alone without fact can only destroy good judgment.

In support of Marshall Fleck, he has had the training in law enforcement and handles himself in a professional manner. He spends many thankless hours not only on the job but on his own time off the job. Trying to make our town of Akron a safer place to live and to raise our families. When needed he will help you all he can. Many times he has gone out of his way to help kids stay out of trouble. I think we the citizens of Akron and the Akron area should support Marshall Fleck in the thankless job he has to do. Why not start looking at the good side of things and stop knit picking at minor things. Why not stand behind and support our Police Department.

John W. Gray

Dear Editor:

I am writing in reference to the upset parent concerning the Phys. Ed. exam.

I am a junior at Tippy Valley. I have taken many exams. The Phys. Ed. teacher can't always judge you on your ability. Some students are better at sports than others. So the teacher through in some questions that may make it easier for some of the other students.

The teacher is doing his or her job as fairly as possible. Would you perhaps like to teach the class? It is not fair to bad mouth the teachers for trying to do their jobs. Our teachers get enough of that as it is. It is so easy for parents and students to be hypocritical of the teachers. They are only doing there jobs as best as they know how.

I personally have no complaints about our teachers. Maybe you should accept your daughters grade and go on! It seems like some people in Akron are always first to criticize and the last to compliment. I feel no danger or shame by signing my name.

Huntington North JV Tourney

On Saturday, January 12, Tippy Valley traveled to Huntington North to participate in the Huntington North JV Tourney. Huntington North hosted a total of three teams. Those teams were Whitko, Tippecanoe Valley and Fort Wayne Dwenger. TVHS played Ft. Wayne Dwenger in their first game.

"In our first game, we played excellent defense and hung tough the first three quarters and played well down the stretch for the victory," said JV Coach Terry Screeton.

Kendra Howard led the Lady Vikings with twelve points. In the second game Valley played Huntington North.

"In the second game, we used a balanced scoring attack along with excellent fourth quarter for a convincing win! I was pleased with our performance because we beat two quality basketball programs," said Coach Screeton. "It says good things about T.V.H.S. basketball," Screeton said.

Tippecanoe Valley won the Huntington Tourney taking first place.

FAITH POINTS TO LESSONS LEARNED FROM WEATHER DISASTERS

Last year's news was dominated to a great extent by the weather, at least during the spring and early summer. Depending on where you live, there was either too much or too little of it, ranging from the fifth year of a drought along the west coast to heavy flooding and an incredible parade of tornadoes in the midwest. However, one lesson emerges from all this excessive storm activity, which must be expected now and then: God gave us the ability to prepare for these periodic disasters; with better construction methods, storm shelters, and more accurate forecasting; and we learn this increasingly as time progresses. Attend your House of Worship, remembering that God did not put man on this earth to destroy him, but to teach him to cope with whatever comes along.

Who's Who in Mentone

Bob Herendeen was recently inducted into the International Aerobatic Hall of Fame at the International Council of Airshows in Las Vegas.

Profile of Bob

by Leafy Hudson

Bob Herendeen, Ramona, California, along with wife Jacque, spent his first Christmas in Indiana in over thirty-five years with his parents, Retha and Kenneth Mollenhour, Mentone.

Bob, who has accumulated many prestigious honors throughout the years of his flying career, was recently inducted into the International Aerobatic Hall of Fame in an impressive ceremony at the International Council of Airshows in Las Vegas, Nevada.

It was here in Indiana that Bob got his start in flying. "I had my first airplane ride at age five," he reminisces. Bob Kinsey took Bob, his brother, Don, and their father, Chich Herendeen, for a plane ride. "I wanted to bring the airplane back to my grandfather's farm," Bob says. Although he didn't get to go up again for about eight years, he never forgot the thrill of that first experience. From that time on, Bob wanted to fly!

Looking back, Bob feels he owes much of his success to being in the right place at the right time, but dedication and hard work have been very important, too.

During Bob's high school years in World War II, while Retha and Kenneth lived in North Carolina, courtesy of the U.S. Army, Bob spent time at the home of his high school coach, Kermit Bidding, near the Rochester Airport, and with the family of flight instructor Helen House, who, with her husband, ran the airport. He benefitted in two ways from this.

Bob worked at the airport, taking a portion of his pay in flying time. He soon learned to fly and soloed at age 16, going on to get his private license. He also joined the Civil Air Patrol. As a cadet, he learned to march and to take orders—both lessons extremely good preparation for military service later.

After graduation in 1945 from Talma High School, Bob entered Purdue University, where, as a country boy having had no advanced math, he found himself in a trigonometry class. Again taking advantage of the opportunity offered him, he joined ROTC. But, realizing he was unprepared for Purdue, and with the draft looming close, Bob joined the U.S. Army for eighteen months. After six weeks Basic Training in Fort Lewis, Washington, he went to Maryland, then to Alaska, where he spent almost a year, until his discharge in June, 1948.

Using the G.I. Bill, Bob next entered Airplane and Engine Mechanic School in Galesburg, Illinois, earning his Aircraft Mechanic License and Commercial Pilot License. Back at Mentone Airport in the summer, he earned his Instructor's License and did some instructing at Mentone. Then, he went back to Galesburg, where he obtained his Engine Mechanic rating.

Bob learned the Air Force Pilot Training Program had just reopened after a five year hiatus. So, he applied and was accepted in January, 1950.

A punctured eardrum caused Bob to extend the thirteen month training program to eighteen months. Luckily, the School of Aviation Medicine was at his training site, Randolph Field, Texas, and a doctor who was interested in his case experimented with his ear, successfully healing it.

Bob took advanced training in Alabama and Arizona before the war in Korea.

Bob flew 87 missions over Korea in a P51 Mustang, returning to the United States in July, 1952.

Bob recalls those Korean missions. "We dropped bombs and shot rockets on supply areas and railroads, but, when we flew back the next day, everything would be repaired." With abundant manpower at their disposal, the enemy would repair and use the railroads each night, after the destruction of the day.

Returning to Louisiana, Bob continued flying P51's for demonstration purpose and to retain proficiency until he made the transition into the F86 Saber Jet.

In 1954, Bob was part of the first fighter unit which took the F86 Jet Fighter to Europe to fulfill our NATO commitment there.

Having decided against a military career, Bob wanted to continue flying. He applied to several airlines and was hired by

TWA. "Flying for the airlines was a very good job," Bob muses, looking back. The pay was good and he got lots of flight time, a high priority for him. Bob flew for TWA "thirty years, two months and two days," retiring in 1985.

Old timers in Mentone might remember the thrill, in the 1950's, when Bob, "bribed" by Dick Manwaring, buzzed the length of Mentone, east to west along the railroad track, in a P51. He later repeated the incident in a T33. "You couldn't get by with that today," Bob observes.

Bob's first aerobatic plane was a Clipped Wing Cub, purchased from Frank Price in Waco, Texas. "I played with that about a year," he says, "then sold it and looked for something else."

Fellow TWA pilot Pete Myers advised Bob that if he was serious about Aerobatic competition, he should look at the Pitts Special, a strong aerobatic airplane.

As a result, in July, 1964, Bob bought a home-built Pitts Special built by Dick Rice in Kennett, Missouri, and "that started it!" He now owns his fourth Pitts Special.

Bob introduced the Pitts Special to World Aerobatic Competition, the "Olympics of aerobatics," by taking it to Moscow, Russia, in 1966, where he placed 26th out of 65 contestants. He had won third place in the 1965 National Aerobatic Contest in Reno, Nevada, which entitled him to a place on the 1966 World Team.

Back from Russia, Bob won the 1966 National Aerobatic Championship in Reno. He continued entering the National Contest each year until 1971, always finishing fourth or above. In 1969, for the second time, he won the National Championship.

During those years, Bob flew on the United States Aerobatic Team in World Competition two more times. Participation in 1968 in East Germany provided other excitement than just flying. As the competition proceeded, Russian trucks and tanks could be observed moving down the road, beginning their historic invasion of Czechoslovakia. Confusion dampened the contest as some European teams were sent home early.

In 1970, Bob flew on the World Team in England, winning second place in the world. He was running in first place when a rare engine failure interfered with his performance, throwing him into a spin. "But, I was high enough, I was in no danger," he says coolly.

In 1971, Bob made the transition from competition to performing in air shows. He says he finds airshows lots of fun to do. He performs from California to New Jersey, from Ohio to Florida. He always performs two days at the EAA Flyin at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and has been a judge for the show for several years.

In 1984, Bob met Jacque Whitlock, a lady pilot he had met briefly before, and after a whirlwind courtship, they were married in March, 1985.

Sharing their mutual interest in flying, Bob and Jacque have performed in many airshows as an unusual husband and wife team, Bob in his Pitts and Jacque in her Christen Eagle. By chance, a short news video made of the Herendeens' aerobatic act near their California home was picked up last year by WSVN and run following the evening news. The film showed the ending highlight of their act, a heart formed in the sky by smoke from their two planes. Newscasters Mike Nikitas and Michelle Gary were surprised to receive several calls informing them the subjects of their news video had local roots.

In 1985, Bob was contacted to demonstrate a new airplane, the Stoddard-Hamilton Glasair. Bob liked the airplane so much, when a bigger and faster model was built, he decided he should have one. He purchased a Glasair III kit, and has been busy for some time building it. He anticipates it will be ready for the 1991 airshow season. His new routine, developed, with Jacque's help, for the Glasair, includes dashing attire of white top hat and tails and is accompanied by hauntingly beautiful music led off with "Putting On the Ritz."

Although Bob and Jacque's lives revolve around aviation, they find time for other interests. They built a new home atop a mountain ridge, overlooking the Pacific Ocean, in the Santa Maria Valley, near Ramona, California, in 1988. Having gained an instant family by marriage, of three daughters, a son-in-law, and three granddaughters, Bob, along with Jacque, enjoys filling their new house with family whenever possible.

During his career, Bob has seen most of the world, with perks along the way, such as skiing in Alaska and Garmish, Germany.

Attending World Aerobatic Competition as spectators in England in 1988, Bob and Jacque took in the famous sights of London, as well as Stonehenge.

This past fall, the Herendeens traveled to Greece and Italy, visiting the many antiquities there. "I was impressed by Rome in my younger years," Bob says, "but, I wasn't this time." His disillusionment was caused in part by the theft of his wallet by four "innocent looking" Gypsy children. All efforts to regain it proved futile. Another day, however, upon seeing another tourist relieved of his wallet, Bob joined him to chase the thieves and they courageously retrieved the other man's property.

Bob's future plans are to continue flying in airshows until "I get tired. I just can't get enough." He might instruct, also. He has been invited to possibly fly with two NASA pilots who are flight testing the F/A18 in slow speed regimes. If Bob is chosen, he will instruct them in executing spins, recovery and other aerobatic movements.

From the Editors Desk

A few questions and concerns have been raised about the Letter to the Editor section of the paper. The long standing policy at the News has been if a letter contains a name, address and phone number, the author could request to have their name withheld. Letters are always verified by the News office.

The personal opinion these letters express, are not necessarily the opinion of anyone on the News staff. We would hope that everyone would want to sign their names, however, at this time we feel no need to change our present policy unless there is an overwhelming demand to do so.

The Letter to the Editor column is featured in many newspapers and is available to readers to express their personal opinions on any topic. We would hope our readers would not use this column for vanity reasons, but to express genuine concerns. We continue to reserve the right to reject any letters we feel are in poor taste.

A sign that was left behind from a previous Editor states: If you ever see an Editor that pleases everyone, they will be neither sitting or standing and there will be a lot of flowers around them. I now understand completely what that sign means.

Laura Bickel
Editor

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to respond to two letters which have recently appeared in our local paper. The first letter was signed "Concerned Citizen" and the second, "Mad as H."

It is quite obvious that neither is in touch with what is actually happening in our community, nor does either individual have the facts.

First of all, Marshall Tim Fleck is a graduate of the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy and has had the necessary training to be a police officer. Also, having grown up in this area, he knows the citizens of Akron and is a great asset to this community. Furthermore, he devotes many hours, both day and night, serving this town. All of us can be certain that while we are comfortably snuggled in our beds during the night, Marshall Fleck is on duty, protecting the town of Akron.

Most of us do appreciate the duties performed by our town marshall because we realized the responsibilities involved with this position. However, unfortunately there are a few of our citizens who feel it is necessary to not only criticize, but to degrade our Town Marshall, Tim Fleck. Obviously, both of these individuals, who have been so critical, are ungrateful for the protection that we receive from Marshall Fleck.

Finally, why hasn't either of you had the courage to sign your name? Could it be that you realize you may not have all the facts and are judging without good reason?

Signed,
Shelly Walgamuth

To the Editor:

In reply to the recent articles on Les McFarland which put down Tim Fleck. It sounds to me as if the person writing the articles is not very grown up yet, just like Les. Les is a very neat appearing person and it seems he wants to be top dog, number 1 right off the bat. But we all know that position has to be earned. Bobby Knight didn't have his current status at age 22—he worked for it over a period of years.

We have seen in the past what young cops are like. And we have seen what qualifications and experience stand for. I hope the town soon learns its lesson and stays with mature and down to earth people like Tim Fleck.

I feel I knew Les as well as any one did and I wish him good luck in his new position.

Please notice that I feel strongly about this situation and am not afraid to signify that by signing my name.

Sincerely,
Jack Hartzler

Letter Policy

The Letter to the Editor policy of the News is as follows: Anyone wishing to express a personal opinion can write a letter to the Editor. The letter must contain the author's name, address and phone number for News office verification purposes only. If you wish to remain anonymous, please specify and your name will remain confidential.

It is the right of the News office to reject any letters that we feel are in poor taste.

Scenes Around Town

by Leafy Hudson

When Maca Ebersole (see this week's Business of the Week) was a little girl, and I was in high school, the farm near Sidney where she lived with her large, fun-loving family was across the road from my home. What a pleasure to write about that beautiful little girl today!

Mentone native, Marilyn Kindig, a Registered Nurse and medical student in Des Moines, Iowa, got lucky the other day. In a drawing, she won a gold-plated stethoscope, one of only fifty made.

It's Science Fair time again. Parents and kids will soon be working together frantically, trying to get that project completed in time for the deadline--and occasionally a lucky grandparent will get to help too!

Mentone Business of the Week

Marion (Maca) Ebersole in the shop of her business, The Added Touch. Maca says she thinks people have just now begun to realize there is a source for fresh and silk flower arrangements and balloons in Mentone. She has been in business on Main Street since 1985. (Photo by Leafy Hudson)

The Added Touch

by Leafy Hudson

The Added Touch, a full-service florist, has provided a valuable service to Mentone and surrounding community since March, 1985.

The business came into being to fill a specific need. When Marion (Maca) Ebersole tried to order flowers for a friend's funeral, she realized commercial flower arrangements were not available in the Mentone area.

So, Maca attended classes at Crossroad's Florist in Fort Wayne and opened The Added Touch, with crafts, gifts and flowers, on Main Street.

Although crafts and small gifts, placed in her shop on consignment, have always been a part of the business, Maca doesn't stock as much of that as she did at first. "I need the room for flowers and plants," she says.

"Now, flowers and balloons are the biggest part of the business. I don't see how people ever ran a flower business without balloons," she laughs. She sold almost 200 balloons for Valentine's day last year and expects to sell more this year. They are quite inexpensive and it's possible to order from dozens down to just one balloon. Maca can send Mylar (foil) balloons in special mailer boxes to anyplace in the United States and to some foreign countries.

The full gamut of flower products is available in Maca's Shop. She prepares cut flower arrangements, corsages, plants, silk arrangements, dried arrangements, decorated wreaths and hanging baskets.

An important aspect of the business is full funeral service, including funeral sprays, plants, casket sprays, grave blankets and perpetual cemetery care.

Other services Maca provides are full wedding floral service, with either fresh or silk flowers, and wire service.

Maca says she has worked hard to establish her growing business, but just in the last year it has really become steady. Finally, she feels, people are realizing, "Hey, we have a florist right here in town." She employs three part-time helpers, Rachel Stone, Kerri Defibaugh and Roxanne Beery.

A foray into Maca's workroom is a treat to the senses. Dried bunches of eucalyptus, money plant flowers and other, unidentifiable to the layperson, hang along one wall, with bare wreaths, pine cones and baskets waiting to be filled, below. A rainbow of ribbon rolls, all widths and colors, fill several rods across a window. Two open cupboards display vases in many colors, shapes and sizes. Several mugs, sitting on a work table, offer emblems on sticks proclaiming the various holidays. It is a veritable potpourri of color and scent.

Maca's busiest holiday, coming right up, is Valentine's Day, followed by Mother's Day, Prom time and Christmas, in that order.

A Chicagooan by birth, Maca came with her parents and several members of their large extended family to a farm near Sidney at age two. From there, they soon moved to Warsaw, where Maca grew up and was graduated from Warsaw Community High School.

Maca always kept busy before her flower shop days. For 17 years, she operated Maca's Beauty Salon in her home on Road 25, east of Mentone. Comparing the two businesses, Maca says, "I really enjoyed fixing hair, but I enjoy this more. There's no repetition in this business. Every day is different. And flowers don't talk back!" she laughs.

The oldest of five children, and the mother of four children herself, Maca enjoys children very much. During her beautician years, she also babysat, as many as seven children at a time. "I remember one snow day when the older brothers and sisters came to my house from school," she laughs. "I had 23 children in my house that time."

Over a period of five years, Maca was a foster mother to about 25 children. She still keeps in close touch with a girl she had for a year, Karie Netherland Henderson, Warsaw. She claims Karie's two daughters, Tiffani, four, and Jessica, two, as granddaughters (although she says she's much too young!) and proudly shows off their pictures along with her own children's.

Maca and her husband, Bill Ebersole, live between Bourbon and Bremen on a farm where it is "nice and quiet. I enjoy living there very much," she says.

Bill is a self-employed carpenter who has remodeled and added her shop area to the back of the rental home, at one time the home of the late Dr. Dan Urschel, where her business is located. "We hope to add on again this year," Maca says, "to double our shop space. That depends on how busy Bill is." He and partner Leon Beery have spent much of their extra time the past two years in remodeling and improving the former Ralph Beltz home on N. Tucker Street. They hope to finish it this summer.

"My kids are the most important things in my life," Maca says. Her four children are: Staff Sergeant John Perry, stationed at Royal Air Force Base in England; Kris Perry, a sophomore at St. Mary's College, South Bend; Anna Perry, a freshman at Triton High School; and Matthew, a seventh grader at Mentone Junior High School. She also has a step-son, Curt Ebersole, who lives in Indianapolis and works for the Indianapolis Police Department.

Although Maca has never had much time for hobbies, she used to bowl regularly. About ten years ago, she and her family took a memorable trip to Mexico, where they visited relatives in Mexico City, Guadalajara and Aguascalientes. The Ebersole family belongs to St. Dominic's Catholic Church, Bremen.

Maca is very much community minded. When she learned of a quicker than usual method of sending mail to service people overseas, she made it her business to relay that information to other people with relatives overseas. She has distributed many yards of red, white and blue ribbon free to friends and acquaintances to signal their support of Operation Desert Storm. She helps the local Chamber of Commerce in any way she can. And she has a dream—she'd like to see a Welcome Wagon program instituted in Mentone. She's working toward getting it started yet this spring. To start it effectively, she needs names and addresses of new people in the community. This information from anyone would be greatly appreciated. "I would prepare and donate a floral arrangement for each new family that moves in if we could get the program going," she promises enthusiastically.

Maca really appreciates having her business located in a small town. "The businesses have been super to support me," she says. "Especially the banks and Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, including students, faculty and staff. They know I know the local people—where they live and if they prefer roses or mums, which is one reason why I like the small town."

Maca adds, "This is a close, caring—first name basis community. I'm really glad I'm here."

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

WHEN TEETH LOOK CROWDED

If you're embarrassed because some of your teeth look crowded, it's a condition you don't have to endure. Sometimes crowded teeth are a matter of heredity, a condition you've had since you were born. Your teeth may be too large and your jawbones too small to accommodate them comfortably. When teeth don't have enough room, they tend to crowd up and become overlapped.

The condition may have been caused by the premature loss of "baby" teeth. Primary teeth serve an important purpose by helping to guide the permanent teeth into proper position. If some are lost through decay or accident long before the replacements are ready to erupt, this can cause positioning problems. That's why space maintainers are recommended when primary teeth are lost prematurely.

No matter what the cause of your crowded teeth, it's something that you don't have to endure any longer. It's a condition that can be corrected. Why not now?

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Ph. 223-3121.

Good Luck In The Sectional Lady

Vikings

Valley girls gear-up for sectional

On Thursday, January 31, 1991, the Tippecanoe Valley Lady Vikings will meet the 6th ranked Warsaw Lady Tigers in the Warsaw girls' Basketball Sectionals.

The Lady Vikings, who are under the direction of Coach Duane Burkhart, have set a new school record this year with 16 wins and 2 losses.

This year, the girls won their own Thanksgiving Classic Tournament and also came in second place in the Holiday Tournament at North Miami High School.

The Lady Vikes are the Three Rivers Conference Champions for the fourth consecutive win in a row. Their record is 7-0.

As far as the sectionals are concerned, Coach Burkhart feels that the girls are ready to play. "We have prepared them as well as we can, now it is up to them to execute," said Burkhart. "Warsaw is a good team who is ranked 6th in the state, and a fine opponent," commented Coach Burkhart.

Senior Amy Peterson, whose position is guard, has scored a total of 816 points during her four years of basketball. Some comments from the senior girls' are:

"I know we all want to win this sectional or else we wouldn't have spent all of our summer nights (for the past four years) in a hot, uncomfortable gym working so hard to become sectional champs of 1991," said Kerrie Cumberland.

"This game is very important to me, not only for our present team, but for all the teams in the past who deserved a sectional championship. I just want to play my best and show everyone else that we can do it," said Amy Peterson.

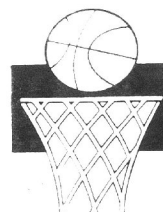

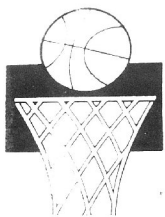

"This game is what we've worked so hard for all these years and we deserve it more than anyone in our sectional. I want for our team to play as a team like we did at the beginning of the year and to do the best we can. We just need our fans to believe in us and have a great team," said Heather Lentestey.

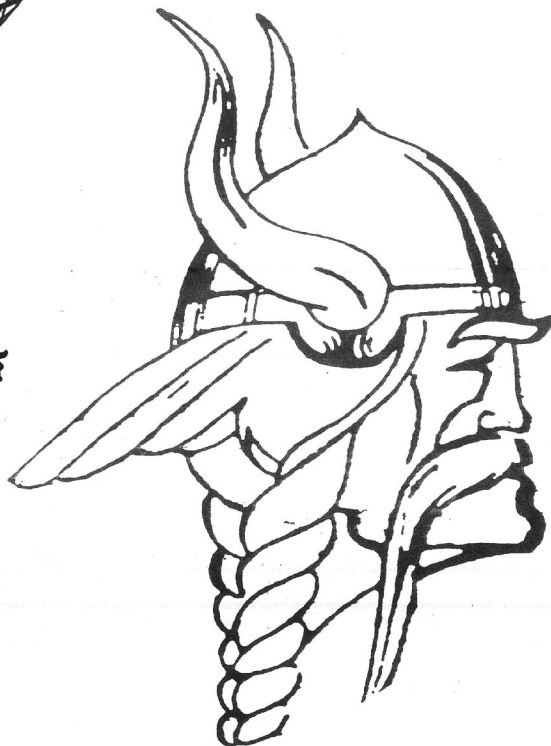

"This year's sectional is a really important game, not because we're seniors, but because we have worked together for four years and we deserve to win. I hope that we can play together as a team, like I know we can. I also hope that we have the support of our community and fans. Our fans are really important to us because they get us going and they lift our confidence," said Jennifer Hoyt.

"This is our last time together as seniors on a basketball team. We want to win this a lot. We have worked hard and deserve to win. We know we can win, but we also need the community to believe we can do it," said Cheri Tucker.

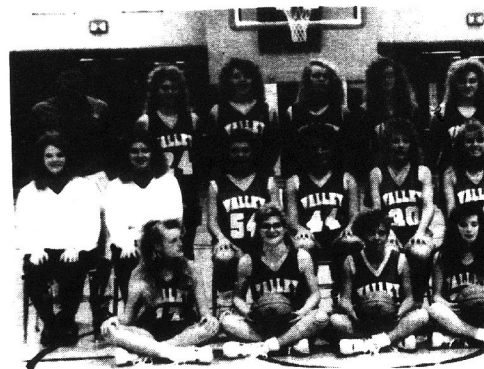

The Lady Vikings would greatly appreciate it if the community would come and support them on to a winning victory against Warsaw.

Indiana FFA Association

Members from the Tippecanoe Valley FFA Chapter participated in the 1991 Leadership Development Workshop entitled "Some Assembly Required." The workshop was held January 18-20, 1991, at the Indiana FFA Leadership Center near Trafalgar, IN.

Those members attending the leadership workshop from the chapter were: Eric Biddinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Biddinger, Rochester, and Carey Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lewis, Mentone.

These students joined 143 other chapter leaders from across the state to participate in this dynamic workshop.

The leaders were actively involved in sessions centered around personal development, individual and team goal setting, planning for chapter success, and chapter pride. These sessions were conducted by the 1989-90 State FFA Officers and current State FFA Officers.

During the workshop, personal development sessions stressed the improvement of individual self-image and a positive attitude. Members complete several inventories in order to discover what qualities and abilities they possess and how these abilities can be utilized for the chapters' benefit.

The team and chapter goal session focused on the importance of setting and attaining goals. The members met with their fellow chapter officers to develop their goals for the upcoming year.

Throughout the workshop, members learned the value of cooperation by working in groups with assigned objectives. The total experience of this workshop gave all members the tools to improve themselves and their local chapter which will in turn improve the local community.

Mrs. Bazini's second grade class has been keeping track of the days of school with a numbered paper chain this year. At the beginning of the year they tried to guess when the 100th day would arrive. After Christmas they began to realize it was getting near, so plans were made for a January 25th celebration.

Many activities were planned, including a 100-minute reading marathon, drawing portraits of themselves at age 100, counting off 100 steps in several directions from the classroom, and wearing 100 items to school. For refreshments cookies with the number 100 on them were served.

Who's Who in Akron

For Gerard de Vos hunting was a completely different experience. Guns are illegal in his native country of Holland. (News Photo).

Gerard de Vos Exchange student from Holland

by Tonia Weller

Gerard de Vos is a 17 year old with a shy but engaging smile. An exchange student from Holland, he arrived in this country August 17 and has been living with Mike and Dixie Summe, of Akron, while attending Tippecanoe Valley High School.

While he finds his classes at Valley much easier than what he is used to at home, he was surprised by all the rules and the need to be in class before the bell rings. In Holland, it is no problem if you are five or ten minutes late for class. In fact, the faster pace of American life in general has been difficult for Gerard to adjust to.

The small town of Koudekerk A/D Rijn, where Gerard lives with his 15 year old brother and his widowed mother, who is a substitute English teacher, is very close to two larger cities. The school Gerard attended was located in one of these cities. In Holland, students attend a low school for six years and then a middle or second school for five or six years. Gerard graduated from the middle school before coming to Akron and when he returns, he will attend high school, which is more like our colleges, for two to six years, depending on his course of study. In Gerard's case, most likely accounting and business.

Gerard speaks English very well. All Dutch students study English for several years, but the schools do not have competitive sports teams. According to Gerard, Dutch schools have less variety of classes. They do not offer courses such as auto mechanics or drivers training, but they do require more homework and studying.

In Holland you must be 18 to get a driver's license. You take lessons from a private driving school and it is very expensive.

The Summes introduced Gerard to one totally new experience—deer hunting. Using a muzzle loading rifle, Gerard shot a small deer this fall. He had never held a gun before. "Guns are illegal in Holland," Gerard explains. "You can get a permit for a hunting gun, but it is very hard." Almost no one hunts.

The lack of guns contributes to a lower rate of violent crimes, but theft of bicycles, which are the major mode of transportation, is rampant. Gerard explains that it is a common practice, if your bicycle is stolen, to simply steal someone else's. Almost everyone in Holland uses a bike to go to work, to school and for shopping.

While there are supermarkets, the average Dutch housewife does most of her shopping at smaller specialty shops, such as the bakery or butcher shop.

The number of meals Americans eat out in restaurants surprised Gerard. Eating out is not popular in Holland, even fast-food is taken home and eaten there. McDonald's is about the only American fast-food the Dutch are familiar with. According to Gerard, "There are no Wendy's and no Taco Bells."

American movies and television are popular in Holland, however, Dutch television does not broadcast commercials.

Clothing styles are the same in both countries, but much more expensive in Holland. Gerard says a regular pair of Levi's might cost $50 in Amsterdam.

Gerard has traveled extensively in Europe. He has gone skiing frequently in Switzerland and Austria and often visits his uncle in England for Christmas.

In Holland, Christmas is celebrated with a visit from Sinter Klaas on December 5, his birthday. Dressed all in red, like a bishop, Sinter Klaas brings presents and rides a white horse. The New Year comes in with a bang in Holland. The Dutch celebrate with lots and lots of fireworks. Gerard laughs, "You really need earplugs."

Holland's official name is the Netherlands, which means "low lands." The country is located on the North Sea and since the 10th Century, the Dutch have been building dikes and reclaiming land from the sea. Over 1/3 of the present country used to be under water. Gerard lives less than 30 miles from the ocean and like half the people in Holland, his home is below sea level. The windmills we all associate with Holland were once used to pump water out of an area after a dike had been built. This work is now done by diesel or electric pumps, but many of the windmills remain.

Holland's climate is affected by the sea. Summers are mild with highs in the mid 60's and winters are gray and rainy, much like the one we are having this year. The lows are usually in the mid 30's.

The Holsteins Gerard sees in Indiana remind him of home. The black and white cows are very prevalent in Holland, which is well known for its dairy products, such as Gouda and Edam cheese. Gerard's hometown is in the midst of the dairy region.

One of the experiences Gerard has enjoyed most, since being in this country, was a trip to Florida and Disney World with other exchange students in his sponsoring AISF group. Disney World reminded Gerard of "Efteling" which is a large amusement park in Amsterdam. The exchange group will also take a trip to New York and Washington D.C. this spring.

The anticipated fun and excitement, along with the fact that his cousin is also an exchange student, were the main reasons Gerard decided to spend this year in the United States. He has learned that Americans are more complicated and interesting than portrayed in their movies.

On June 28, Gerard will board a plane in Indianapolis to begin his return trip to Holland.

Gerard is not the first exchange student to live with the Summes. Last year they hosted a girl from Denmark for five weeks.

About the War

by Leafy Hudson

"Would you write some articles about the feelings of people with servicemen and women in the Gulf?" Editor Laura Bickel asked me. "Sure," I said. "That sounds easy." Then she added, "I'd like you to start with your own family's feelings." All of a sudden, that didn't sound easy at all.

David, a member of the 82nd Airborne, left his home base, Fort Bragg, N. Carolina, Monday, January 14, for Fort Jackson, S. Carolina, and after some additional training there, he left the United States, Friday, January 18.

Perhaps the place to start is with his wife, Lynn, who is still living at Fort Bragg with their two children, David, Jr., six, and Jessica, four. When we talk to her, Lynn is always positive and optimistic. She spends her time caring for the children and working two mornings a week, while Jessica is in school, at a job she likes very much, in a flower shop. But, it is lonely for the wives while the men are away, and Lynn says she appreciates very much the notes and calls she has received. Little David says, "My daddy is a long ways away. I miss him."

Our son, Jerry (Bud) says, "I'm not happy about my brother being over there in the infantry, but I'm extremely proud of him and all those who are willing to serve. I think it has to be done and we should do anything and everything it takes to accomplish the job." His wife, Jill, adds, "This is what David is trained to do. He wouldn't be happy if he weren't over there. We have to give them all our support, here at home, through this."

Our son, Darrell, says, "I have mixed emotions about it. On one hand, I feel left out. I feel patriotism like I haven't felt since I was in the service myself. I believe what we're doing is right, and we should write our Congressmen and Representatives about our feelings." Darrell's wife, Serrena, agrees with him.

Our daughter, Honey Kuhn, says, "This is what David wants to do. He and the other men over there are well trained and I feel better about him now than I did when he was fighting in Panama. I respect our leaders and I believe they know what they are doing." Her husband, Larry, says, "I think we are doing the right thing. I think we will be successful."

Our older grandchildren are very concerned about Uncle David and they are learning first hand the true meaning of sacrifice and patriotism.

As for Jerry and I, we are very proud of David, as well as all the other people we know over there. He is doing what he wants to do, doing his part in defending our world for the peace and safety of us all. We are overwhelmed by the support and concern shown by our church family, friends and relatives. We are keeping a candle burning in the window until he returns, and we pray it will be soon.

PSI News

PSI Energy Inc. and Destec Energy Inc. announced they plan to apply for Department of Energy funding for an Indiana clean-coal power generation facility fueled by gas made from Midwestern, high-sulfur coal.

"Within the next few weeks, the DOE is expected to issue a request for proposals for projects that would demonstrate technologies enabling America to burn coal more cleanly," said Joseph W. Messick Jr., senior vice president, power system operations for PSI Energy. "We believe our project is a viable and important one. PSI, like many other electric utilities, relies heavily on coal as powerplant fuel. Because of this and restrictions the nation's revised Clean Air Act places on the burning of coal, we need more ways to use local, high-sulfur coal in an environmentally responsible way. This technology could also bolster the regional coal market and help save miners' jobs."

The proposed 230-megawatt clean-coal power project uses proprietary technology developed by Dow. It would be built at PSI Energy's Wabash River Generating Station near West Terre Haute. The project will include a coal gasification plant, one gas turbine and "repowering" one of six steam-turbine generators at PSI's power plant. The estimated total project cost is more than $250 million.

"There are many environmental advantages to this project," said Stephen Jenkins, vice president of commercial development for Destec. "It will be designed to outperform recent sulfur-dioxide standards set by Congress and does not generate sulfate sludge as a by-product of the SO2 removal process. The sulfur and slag by-products it produces can be put to use in agricultural fertilizer or as aggregate in construction projects."

PSI Energy and Destec will submit their clean-coal proposal to DOE by late May.

Mentone Fourth Grade Stamp Collecting

Mr. Mike Skoczylas of the Mentone Post Office presented awards to Mentone's fourth grade students: Joy Stutzman, Carrie Wheatstone and Nick Girouard, for their winning stamp designs.

Mentone fourth graders are into Philately, the art of stamp collecting! Mr. Mike Skoczylas along with Jan Reickeart, area Benjamin Franklin Stamp Club Coordinator, have presented several programs on stamp collecting to the fourth grade classes at Mentone. The fourth grade Philatelists have learned how to soak stamps, use hinges, and display stamps. They've also learned that there are specific requirements that have to be met in order for an important person to be honored on a stamp. Each student then had the opportunity to design their own stamp.

"You can catch more flies with sugar than you can with vinegar"

The times are changing, just as the leaves of the trees in Autumn. We have changed from what we were yesterday to what we are today. We will be different tomorrow. Yet with all the changes, we, at times, have learned nothing at all.

It is obvious that we have not learned how to live with each other. Our world reeks with war. Murder and violent crimes are on the increase and we kill unborn babies. All of us participate in a different kind of "killing." We kill people with our mouth and the things that come out of it. We abuse and scold each other with words, only causing pain and anger. I have often heard the words that we use to describe each other. For example, when we are looking at people, we might say, "Look at that woman...the fat one in the ugly red dress." Perhaps the conversation with our children is something like this, "You're so stupid. Why are you so dumb?...Why can't you get better grades?" The constant degrading of our spouses, children, relatives, friends, and even our enemies, kills self-esteem and pride. When we kill self-esteem we allow individuals to work below their capabilities. They lose the desire to put pride into their work, pride in themselves, and pride into our world and community. Because we break no man-made law, we think it is alright to degrade, humiliate, and kill each other with words.

As citizens of the United States, we have the right to our opinion. We have the right to say what we feel, and some feel that they have the right to say "it" any way they desire. From my own personal experience I have found that you "get more flies with sugar than with vinegar." That you can get more accomplished with "positive bombardment" than you do with complete negativism. Although we have the "right" to our opinion and possibly to say "it" any way we feel, we should treat this "right" as carelessly as we do the right to vote.

For our nation to become "...one nation, under God..." we need to take the attitude of Jesus Christ. An attitude of love and compassion. An attitude of deep concern for our neighbors' well being, putting self second and other first. Jesus Christ did all that and much more. He treated the prostitute like a person. He did not condemn her, meet a negative action with a negative attitude, nor did he "cast the first stone." Instead, Jesus loved her and changed her life. She left Jesus a different person, because He cared enough to treat her right.

I am not suggesting that we leave things the way they are in our world, state, or community. I am suggesting that there are positive ways of making change. I am not suggesting that we accept the things that are wrong in our society, we have done that way too long. I am suggesting that we make a stand for the right and do away with the wrong. To praise people for their efforts, to gently correct the mistakes, and to boost self-esteem in our homes, places of employment, and in our community. Let us be like Jesus by treating people with love. Let us remember that we are far from perfect and that we often make mistakes. Let us treat people with respect so that we might be treated likewise.

I challenge you to meet the negative with positive, and to treat others with the treatment you would like to have. Let us make our community strong by standing behind each other, supporting each other, caring for each other and loving each other.

Indeed the times are changing, now we must learn something from the change. The past is gone but the future is in our hands. Let us make a difference for tomorrow by changing today.
