Mentone is the setting for a book

Ed and Anne Kolaczyk, writing under the pen name Andrea Edwards, are the authors of more than 45 published romance novels. After hearing about the egg that graces Mentone's Main Street, they have chosen Mentone as the setting for their newest novel. The Kolaczyks live in South Bend and write books for Silhouette. One of their recent titles is Home Court Advantage, a romance story centering around basketball and set in Warsaw.

They have chosen the title Do Your Believe in Magic? for the Mentone-based novel. It is the story of a young widower whose 5 year old son lives in Mentone with his grandparents. The story unfolds as the man returns to Mentone for the holidays. Several Mentone residents are mentioned in the book, as well as familiar landmarks such as The Egg, Tippecanoe Valley High School, Death Valley, Teel's Restaurant, and King's Memorial Home. Mary Ann King's new rooster that stands on the corner across from her home plays an important part in the plot of this novel. Watch for this exciting and romantic Christmas story, sure to thrill Mentone residents. The book should make an appearance on the newsstands next November.

Mentone Town Council hires deputy

In the first ten minutes of the Tuesday, December 29th meeting of the Mentone Town Council, council members made two important announcements. The first was that they have decided to rescind the lease of the two new police cars and will, instead, purchase one car. The second order of business was to hire a deputy for Mentone. Lynn Phillips made a motion to hire Tim Carpenter and Mike Casper seconded the motion. Town Attorney Lee Bazini stepped in and Carpenter was sworn in.

In other business, $20,219.41 was transferred to the appropriate accounts in order for the town to begin 1993 business.

Council members had previously agreed to rotate the office of president and Lynn Phillips agreed to take over for 1993.

Council members discussed with Bazini a letter received from the Praters concerning the dog ordinance. Bazini stated that Mentone does have a valid ordinance and the council decided to pursue the matter in court on Jan. 8.

Mentone Marshal Curtis Ebersole told the council the applications for either the Marshal School or Indiana Law Enforcement Academy need to be submitted this week in order for him to attend in April. He recommended ILEA as he believes it will soon be required. The course is for twelve weeks and two days and Ebersole plans to return to Mentone for Friday and Saturday night patrol during this period.

The only expense to the town will be Ebersole's salary as the cost of attending the Academy is funded by the state.

Casper said he had learned that in 1994 the Academy would probably be required for the officers. The council decided to send Ebersole to the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy in April and Carpenter in July.

Ebersole requested the purchase of business cards for himself and Carpenter. "Cheap, basic, generic cards would be fine," said Ebersole. "They would cost about $9.00 for 500 cards." The decision was tabled until the next meeting. Ebersole was asked to get exact quotes by then.

Barb Ross reported one person still hasn't paid the town for sidewalk installation. She was advised to send another letter to the resident requesting payment.

Casper told the council he had a message from the Oak Cable Company representative stating he couldn't be at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be Jan. 4 at 7 p.m. in the clerk's office.

Who's Who in Akron

Bobbie Glingie still finds time for her art

by Tonia Weller

While her current schedule doesn't allow her much time to paint at home, or do commission work, art is a very important part of Bobbie Glingie's life.

The Akron mother of two works full-time as a secretary in the art department at Winona Lake's Grace College, is taking classes to complete her own double major in art history and graphic design, and also tutors other Grace students in painting.

"Most of what I do now is for assignments, or if we have a juried exhibit at the college, then I'll try to get something together to enter - a sketch, a drawing or a watercolor," she says.

Her entries have been very successful, winning first place in oil, watercolor, drawing and sculpture categories at various Grace shows. In addition, her art work has been awarded two champion and a reserve champion ribbons at the county fair, Best Copy at the Pulaski County show and Honorable Mention at the Bowen Center's Lakeland Art Fair.

During the month of December, her work, along with that of fellow Akron artists Jennie Michael and Patty Schultz, was chosen for the Artist of the Month display at the Fulton County Public Library in Rochester.

While she also works in acrylics, pastels, pencils and design markers, her favorite mediums are oils and watercolors. "I enjoy the watercolors a lot because I can do them quickly. They are a very fast medium," she says.

Raised in Ohio, Bobbie displayed a talent for drawing at a young age. She started kindergarten early and then, because of a change in age requirements, had to sit out a year before entering the first grade. So her parents enrolled her in pre-school art classes. "I don't remember that much about it, except that it was fun and we finger painted a lot," she says.

Throughout her high school years, art continued to be her favorite subject. "I was one of those kids who always had a notebook for sketching and drawing little cartoon characters," she recalls.

After graduation she attended Grace College for a year, where she met Rudy Glingie. She and Rudy were married and moved to Akron in the fall of 1977, when he accepted a teaching position at Akron School.

After the birth of their oldest daughter, Darcy, now 14, friends and family members encouraged Bobbie to study painting seriously. She took lessons from Marilyn Kruger for three years, before quitting to pursue her own style.

Bobbie worked as a teachers' aide at Akron School for several years before the teachers there convinced her she should return to college and complete her degree. "They said to me, 'Bobbie, you're doing the work of a teacher now, you might as well get paid for it,'" she remembers.

She began by taking night classes, but soon exhausted the available options and needed to find a job that would allow her to take classes during the day. "That's when Gary Neider, a photography and pottery professor at the school, suggested I check about a job as secretary in the art department at the college," she says. "They didn't have a full-time opening at the time, but two weeks after school started, they called me and I've been there four years now. It is about the most perfect job I could have."

If all goes according to plan, Bobbie will receive her degree in 1995. "My goal is to graduate before my daughters do," she laughs. In addition to Darcy, the Glingies also have another daughter, Tiffany, 13.

Concerning her double major, Bobbie says, "My preference is art education, but I've taken on the graphic design because I see more and more of it incorporated into the schools now. I love working on computers and I enjoy that aspect of layout, surprisingly so, because I didn't know I'd enjoy it as much as I do. I'd probably like to teach secondary or college level, but I'm an all-grade major, so I'll take what I can get!" Ideally, Bobbie hopes there might be a teaching opening at Grace after she graduates.

Besides her more serious art work, Bobbie is also well known for her very creative face painting, which she has done at the Akron School Carnival for the past four years, Grace's Fun Fest and Sonoco's family picnic. "The Ninja Turtles are the most popular," she says.

When asked about how she manages her busy life, she laughs and says, "There is no system, it's total chaos! One of my pet peeves is when someone complains they don't have time to do something. I work 40 hours a week, take college courses, tutor, keep house and help Rudy with the farm. He teaches a full week, is an assistant basketball coach, farms 95 acres and raises pure-bred hogs and cattle. We know about being busy! But when school lets out, that's family time. I treasure that time. We try to make up then for the busy times."

Bobbie doesn't have a favorite artist although she prefers more traditional styles and doesn't care for most modern artists. "I believe artists should be responsible for the art they produce. Truth needs to be expressed and it's not always pretty, but some so-called artists seem to take advantage of people for their own benefit. My life is based on the Bible and there is just too much beauty in the world to focus on the other aspects of life."

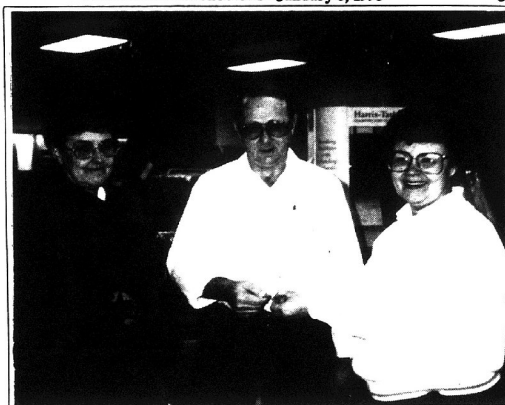

She explains her philosophy on teaching by saying, "I hope to help students to be more observant. To see what they're missing. To value their gift and to be able to express how they feel through their work. To look at a tree and see all the colors and the values and the form. To develop a healthy view of the world. The visual arts are all around us. And almost everything around is a product of artists or the arts."

New (?) sign above entrance to Mentone School

Four years ago, Arlie Hartman routed and stenciled a sign in Industrial Arts class at Mentone School. Arlie was an eighth grade student at the time and he wanted to donate something to the school that would leave a lasting impression.

Over the years, the sign was painted green and white, Mentone's school colors, but it didn't look right against the building so the paint was removed and it got placed aside.

Jon Parker, Mentone's new principal, saw the sign and decided it was time something was done with it. The sign was recently repainted to complement the brick facade of the building and has been proudly installed above the entrance doors of the school.

Marsha Scott and Gene Hughes accept the key to the EMS's new apartment from owner Rita Simpson.

Mentone EMS rents apartment

"We have had a problem drawing people from the outer part of the Mentone Community," said Gene Hughes, director of the 4-Way Ambulance Service. "Some people have said they would help but feel the ten minute or so it takes to get here from their homes would be too long. Also, we now have two people from outlying areas who are certified and it is difficult for them to be here on call when they live farther away."

The solution to the problem seemed to be renting an apartment for the use of EMT's on call in Mentone. So, the 4-Way Ambulance Service rented the front half of Valley Furnishing's warehouse, which has been converted into an apartment. This is the building that once house Elick Welding at 116 W. Main St.

Jack and Rita Simpson rented the apartment the them on a six month trial basis to give the EMS an opportunity to see if enough interest can be generated to make the project worthwhile.

Among the items still needed to furnish the apartment are a microwave, chest of drawers, night stand, end tables, and, of course, cash donations are always welcome. If you have an item you no longer need and feel they might be able to make use of it, call Marsha Scott at 353-7460.

More than just a deer

by Rosa Hatfield

Gael Johnson bagged a deer on December 13, during the second archery season. The deer weighed in at 119 pounds, field-dressed. But this was more than just a deer for Johnson; it was the first time since 1983 he has been able to hunt.

Johnson has had a problem with chronic bronchitis since his high school days.

"I lived with shortness of breath my entire life but didn't know anything was wrong," said Johnson. "It hindered me in sports during high school."

After graduation from Beaver Dam High School in 1955, the condition progressed to emphysema. By 1984, Johnson was unable to work and had to go on disability. Frequent trips to hospitals where he was hooked up to a ventilator and recuperative stays in nursing homes dominated his life for the next seven years.

March of 1991 brought an incident that changed Johnson's life. He became ill and, struggling to breathe, summoned help. The EMT that assisted Johnson, insisted on him being taken to Woodlawn Hospital in Rochester because it was closer than Plymouth, where he was usually treated. Dr. William Fish decided Johnson's case wasn't hopeless and that perhaps the IU Medical Center could repair his damaged lungs.

Repair was deemed too traumatic and Johnson was placed on a national organ transplant waiting list. Although Johnson now had reason to hope for life again, it was dimmed by the fact that he had a rare B-type blood, making the chances of a perfect organ match slim.

Johnson lived at Rochester's Life Care Center, receiving respiratory therapy every two hours to prepare for his new lungs and conserve what was left of his old ones.

On October 9, 1991, Johnson was told by his transplant coordinator that he would have to be taken off the transplant waiting list because his weight had dropped to just barely over 100 pounds and his condition was deteriorating rapidly. With that little hope he had taken away, Johnson's future looked bleak. Later that same morning, he received word that his new lungs were available. Johnson was taken to the Indiana University Medical Center where doctors were shocked at his condition. Fortunately for Johnson, they decided it was too late to reevaluate the case and decided to go ahead with the transplant. After all, he didn't have much to lose.

By noon the next day, Johnson's new lungs were functioning. Although Johnson knows his life will never be normal by many standards, to him it is a new chance. He will be on medications the rest of his life, but like he said, "At least now I have a life."

Side effects of some of the medications to prevent rejection have caused him back pain from compression fractures. He had to add a new medication to add calcium back into his system to prevent further bone deterioration. Johnson considers these minor irritations compared to what he was facing without the surgery.

"Life is great," said Johnson. "I can walk, drive a car, hunt...I still have to pace myself but I'm living again."

Johnson's avid interest in photography afforded him the first glimpse at the buck he shot. Last August, he saw it in a soybean field behind his home and was able to get close enough to get a picture. On December 13, he got his second shot at it, this time with a crossbow, which he has a special permit to use because of his disability.

"For me, it wasn't just getting the deer," said Johnson. "It was doing something normal again. I made up my mind last summer to try for this buck and I got him." Johnson knew it was the same deer because of a deformity of its antlers and a twisted knee on one of its front legs, things he had noticed when he photographed the animal.

Johnson resides near Mentone.

Business of the Week

Service on home becomes business

by Rosa Hatfield

When Rick Rogers brought a 500 pound pressure washer home from work to use on his house, he never thought he would be doing it for a living.

"Marcia saw me using it on our house and said maybe I should open a business doing it," said Rick.

In December of 1991, Rick and Marcia Rogers decided to do just that and started Roger's Power Wash. Rick does the manual labor and Marcia answers the phones and sets up appointments for him. Although Rick does most of the bookwork, Marcia helps with some of it and buys the supplies.

Rick does commercial and individual powerwashing. He also does liquid sand blasting and steam cleaning.

"I do farm equipment, semi trailers, houses, antique cars..." said Rick. "I sand blasted a boat lift over at Barbee, stripped a house at Denver this fall, and once, I sand blasted a barn that was 35 feet tall. For that kind of job, you fasten yourself to the ladder and have somebody holding the ladder."

Rick schedules jobs ahead and hires part time help for the big ones.

When asked why he got into this kind of business, Rick said, "No one else around was doing it, so I decided to give it a try."

The business started out slow the first winter but has picked up steadily since. Work is done on an hourly basis or bid by the job. Appointments may be made by calling 353-7915.

Wool producers asked to file

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reminds wool producers to file their 1992 sales receipts by January 31, so that the documents can be used in determining the national average market price.

Although the deadline for filing 1992 receipts to qualify for a 1992 price support payment is March 1, 1993, ASCS encourages wool producers to file in January because USDA's National Statistics Service needs the data in February to compute wool market prices.

"Since national average market prices are the basis for wool payment rates, producers are urged to submit their sales documents to us at least by the end of January," Steve Rodenberg said.

He reminds producers that "actively engaged in farming" and "person" determinations must be made to be eligible for a payment. "For 1992 and subsequent marketings, the status date for a wool producer's eligibility determination is the date the first application is submitted but no later than December 1 of the applicable marketing year," Rodenberg explained. "Additionally, the policy regarding payments to no more than three entities under the acreage reduction program applies to wool producers, as well."

Wool producers are required to certify that they are in compliance with highly erodible land and wetland conservation provisions.

"We encourage producers to bring in their 1992 sales receipts as soon as possible," the ASCS official said.

The world's oldest trees are California's bristlecone pines and giant sequoias: some bristlecone pines have lived between 4,000 and 5,000 years; the oldest sequoias are about 3,500 years old.

WE MUST PRAY FOR THE LEADERS THE PEOPLE HAVE CHOSEN

In any free nation, at regular intervals the people are called upon to choose their leaders, and there are always divergent views about who is best qualified to lead the nation and try to find the solutions to its problems. However, once the choices have been made, we must put aside any disappointments in the outcome of the election and unite behind the winners, whether they be incumbents re-elected or new ones, and wish them success. After all, their destiny is ours, so attend your House of Worship and pray that their actions and decisions, with God's guidance, will always be the right ones for our nation. Also, they're not mind-readers, so write to them about your concerns. Most of all, remember that they will need your prayers, as well as all the luck they can get.

—William Henry Harrison

"Behold, I have given him for...a leader and commander to the people."

Akron-Mentone News to cease publication January 27

Don Towle, publisher of The Akron-Mentone News, regretfully announced today that the January 27 issue will be the newspaper's last.

"Due to declining advertising revenue and the escalating cost of doing business, it is no longer feasible to continue operations," Towle said. "The same economic conditions have forced many small, weekly newspapers throughout the country to go out of business, and we are no exception."

"I want to thank our faithful, regular advertisers and our subscribers for their support over the past years," Towle added. "Without that support, we would not have been able to publish the paper as long as we have."

The closing of the newspaper marks the end of an era for the Akron and Mentone communities. The Akron News was first published November 20, 1889 and has been in continuous operation since that time. The Mentone News was first published in February of 1885 and was combined with the Akron paper in 1968.

Akron's first newspaper, The Globe, was published in 1866. In the 23 years before the founding of The News, five different papers came and went. They were the Globe, Signal, Echo, Eagle and The Fulton County News.

The latter, published by Roswell Kroft and Samuel Flora, was on its last legs when S.N. Shesler traded 80 acres of timberland in the Missouri Ozark Mountains for Flora's printing plant, sight unseen. The two men met Nov. 10, 1889 at ten o'clock, on a dark and rainy night, on the bridge south of Mentone to complete the transaction. Shesler's daughter later recalled that the land wasn't much good, but then neither was the printing press, so it was considered an even trade.

Shesler and his employee, Eddie Sausaman, named the paper The Akron News and published it from the second floor of an old frame building located where Karl Gast's theater later stood. Subscriptions grew steadily, but Shesler's success was short lived. On August 17, 1890 the building and all the printing equipment were destroyed by fire. Shesler had no insurance, but the town's residents passed the hat and raised $97.50 to help with the purchase of a new printing press. In October of 1909, the business moved to the newly constructed brick block building named "Akron News Home". That building is now the home of Doering's TV and Appliance business.

S.N. Shesler retired in 1919, selling The News to Bernard Clayton. Clayton later traded the paper to DeWitt Hosman for a Tipton County paper, who in turn sold the paper to Garland Kline.

In 1932, Claude and Esther Billings dropped into Akron to visit their old friend, Professor Roy Jones. They liked the town and ended up purchasing The Akron News from Kline. Their tenure as publisher and editor lasted 30 years. In 1957, the Billingses built a new building on Walnut Street and moved the business. Several years later Jack Miller bought the building and turned it into apartments.

In 1962, Loren and Ann Sheetz purchased the newspaper and the building from the Billingses. In 1964 they also purchased The Mentone News and, in 1968, combined the two publications into one, known as The Akron-Mentone News.

On October 8, 1977, Robert and Renee Norlander, of Niles, Michigan, purchased The News, with Renee running the Mentone office and Robert running the Akron office, which had been relocated to the last office along South Mishawaka St. in the back of what is now the Lake City Bank building.

In May of 1980 the Norlanders sold the publication to Richard Lynn, of Lagro. He published the paper for less than a year, with most of the typesetting being done on equipment owned by former owner Loren Sheetz.

On March 27, 1981, Richard and Mary Edith McKee, of Rochester, owners of the Shopping Guide, purchased The News, and moved it to the first building north of what is now Akron Video. The McKees closed the Mentone office and later purchased the old Akron Hotel building, moving The News to its present location.

In September of 1983, Don Towle and Dave Ruff, owners of Plymouth's Bowen Printing, bought both The Akron-Mentone News and the Shopping Guide, with Towle being named publisher.

While the various owners, publishers, editors and employees have worked hard to keep a paper in the community, it is ultimately the subscribers and the advertisers who deserve the credit for the paper's 104 years of success. Likewise, it is ultimately the lack of enough subscribers and advertisers which had led to the paper's demise.

The Akron office will remain open on Mondays from noon to 5 p.m. and Fridays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. until the end of January. Anyone wanting to place an ad or news item in the remaining issues, or with questions may contact the Akron office or the Shopping Guide News at 223-5417. Refunds on subscriptions will be handled on a pro-rated basis.

News items from Akron and Tippecanoe Valley High School Corporation will be published, in the future, in the Shopping Guide News.

Kos. County 4-H'ers to test curriculum

A Chinese proverb says, "I hear and I forget, I see and I remember, I do and I understand". 4-H programs echo this proverb by providing hands-on learning opportunities for our youth. The "I do and I understand" philosophy has been followed for the development of new 4-H curriculum materials. Kosciusko County 4-H'ers will have the opportunity to pilot test the 4-H Foods curriculum during 1993.

To follow the philosophy of "I do and I understand", a 4-H curriculum training workshop will be presented on Saturday, January 23 from 9:30-4:30 p.m. at Edgewood Middle School in Warsaw. This workshop will be conducted by State 4-H Staff and will give participants lots of hands-on experiences with the new curriculum. All 4-H leaders, junior leaders, parents and judges are welcome to attend this workshop. To attend, you need to submit your name and $5 to the Kosciusko County Extension Office by January 16th.

It is an exciting opportunity for Kosciusko County to pilot test the new 4-H Foods curriculum in 1993. The new 4-H project materials focus on helping youth learn both project and life skills. Those who will be in attendance at the workshop on January 23rd will be better prepared to answer questions and to assist in the implementation of the new foods curriculum.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

After serving on the Akron Unit of the EMS for 11 years, I have decided to retire off the unit for various reasons. There are several people that I would like to thank over those years.

First of all, I would like to thank the firemen that responded with the ambulance on calls that I was on. Their help in getting equipment, helping in lifting patients, and driving was invaluable at times.

I would like to thank the many police officers that were at the scenes. Their help was also greatly appreciated at scenes where more control was needed. They were almost always considerate and willing to help if they could.

I would like to thank the community of Akron. I have made a lot of friends from working on the EMS. And have enjoyed the time that I could serve the community. It has been a great experience for me.

I would like to thank the people on the unit themselves. The party the other night it was nice to be able to sit and talk about the runs that we had together. I would like to thank the group for the nice party that they gave for Carolyn Petrosky and myself. And a very special thanks for the very nice plaques that were given to us.

Most of all, I would like to thank my family for enduring the years that I was on. Sometimes it was a hassle and they gave up a lot so that I could take call. Now it's time for me to give something back to my family.

I have truly enjoyed the years I have served and it was good for me that I did something that I loved to do. I am still involved in EMS on another level and am enjoying that now. Akron is a good community and I strongly recommend that if others think they would like to help this community, they should think about volunteering. It was a good experience for me that I will never forget.

Thank you all again,
Debbie Clark

Conference to offer yard waste solutions

The Indiana Department of Environmental Management, Indiana Recycling Coalition and Purdue University Cooperative Extension Programs announced that the first conference on yard waste management will be held January 27-28, 1993, in conjunction with the Midwest Waste and Recycling Expo and Conference at the Indiana Convention Center.

During the next two years, one of the biggest challenges facing municipalities and homeowners is developing programs to divert yard waste from landfills and incinerators.

Yard waste - leaves, grass or limbs - makes up about 18 percent of the waste going into Indiana landfills, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Under terms of Senate Enrolled Act 25, yard waste will be banned from final disposal facilities at landfills and communities will need to have a complete diversion program ready by the fall of 1994.

The two-day conference is scheduled to go from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on January 27 and 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on January 28.

Registration fee for the conference will be $65 until January 17 and $80 after January 17.

For registration information, contact Janet Neltner, Indiana Recycling Coalition, P.O. Box 20444, Indianapolis, IN, 46220-0444, or call 317-283-6226.

Ag Census

Some area farmers are being asked to complete a 1992 Census of Agriculture report for the Bureau of the Census, US Department of Commerce. The agriculture census is conducted on five year intervals and provides vital statistical data about American agriculture. While individual information remains confidential, the data collected is valuable and useful for farmer and rancher associations; agricultural agencies; Congress; equipment, seed and chemical companies; university agriculture departments; and many others. Fulton County farmers are encouraged to complete and return the report form as soon as possible to the Census Bureau.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A hard-working ex-Akron Town employee felt he had to resign from his position due to a personal conflict that the town superintendent used to make his job more difficult. I have noticed that the person that caused the conflict in the first place is now working for the town of Akron. I wonder if anyone else was considered for this position or if this was the plan all along. I also wonder how qualified this new employee is to operate town equipment.

The town superintendent made a point of telling the people in the community that it was not a good idea to hire a friend. It was hard to be a boss when a friendship was involved. Now how can he justify hiring a relative or whatever this person is to him.

It seems to me there are plenty of more qualified people out there that need a job with families to support. It just shocks me that the town council can go along with something like this.

Street light progress questioned

Lois Miller appeared at the Monday, January 4, meeting of the Mentone Town Council to ask when the town will be installing street lights at Miller's Trailer Park in Mentone. She had appeared at the December meeting asking that the town keep its promise made when the trailer park was annexed into the town 15 years ago. At that time, they agreed to take over the cost of street lights and maintenance on the road. The council agreed in December to contact NIPSCO and have regular street lights installed with the town bearing the cost.

Lynn Phillips, town council president, told her at Monday's meeting that NIPSCO has been contacted but they haven't replied yet. The council agreed to reimburse her for the cost beginning with December and continuing until the proper lights are installed.

In other business: Sharon Heyvaert, owner of Broadway Tavern in Mentone, asked the council's permission to build a 22'x27' addition to be used as a cooler, office and storage area. Council advised her to check with Dick Webb of the Zoning Board for a permit.

Town marshal Curtis Ebersole presented the board with a leasing option for a second police car for Mentone. The option would provide for a total expense of $15,606; with payments of $5,202 each year for a period of three years. The council tabled the matter until a future meeting.

Brian Reed presented prices from Hoffman Simplicity for a used chainsaw. He said it had only been used for a couple of months and could be purchased for $250. The council asked Reed to check on whether it has a warranty and get back with them.

The council agreed to Reed's request for him and Darrell Miller to attend the American Water Works Association convention held in February at the Adams Mark Hotel in Indianapolis. Costs involved will be a $25 registration fee each, hotel room for two nights, meals, and transportation. The men will receive credit hours for their attendance.

Reed told the council he and Miller had been working with a lot of water problems lately. He said the main problems had been no pressure and low volume, and discussed replacing some of the goosenecks to try and alleviate the problems.

The council granted permission for Ebersole to purchase duty ammunition for deputy Tim Carpenter but decided against the purchase of training ammunition at this time. Ebersole had requested the purchase of training ammunition, saying Al Rovenstein had offered the use of facilities for the officers to qualify. The council instructed Ebersole to see if they can qualify at Indiana Law Enforcement Academy (ILEA).

Council reappointed members who are currently serving on the Park, Zoning and Cemetery Boards to continue. Also, the building inspector and sexton will remain the same.

Barb Ross was instructed to check with Marie Rathbun and see if she intends to continue taking care of the park reservations and donations. If she doesn't want to continue, they will need to find someone else to do the job.

Next meeting is February 1 at 7:00 p.m. in the clerk's office.

Lady Vikes emerge victorious at TRC match

The Tippecanoe Valley Lady Vikings earned a 50-39 victory against the Whitko Lady Wildcats Monday, January 4 at the Three Rivers Conference match in South Whitley.

Nicke Borem returned to play after missing games with a foot injury and contributed ten points for the Vikings along with a pair of steals and one blocked shot.

Julianne Tucker led all scorers with 12 points, pulled down 14 rebounds and blocked three shots.

Vanessa Gillman finished with nine steals and three assists. Betsy Bammerlin had three assists and scored six points.

The Vikings stand at 7-5 for the season and 2-0 in the TRC.

Valley's Renee Metzger hit a three pointer at the 3:38 mark. Valley Coach Duane Burkhardt said his four insiders, Tucker, Kalynn Parker, Addie Kramer, and Lisa Beery, did a nice job of containing Whitko's Holly Hathaway. Kramer came off the bench with four rebounds, a blocked shot and an assist.

Rochester Wrestling Invitational

Tippecanoe Valley, Rochester, and North Miami combined to win six weight classes at the Rochester Wrestling Invitational recently. The title was won by Knox with 206 points, followed by North Miami with 185-1/2. Rochester was next with 173-1/2, Maconaquah with 170-1/2, Bremen with 138, Culver Community with 78, Tippecanoe Valley with 65, and Caston with 30.

Winning for Valley were Jason Engle with a 14-1 decision over Wayne Krom of Rochester at 119 pounds and Jason Haines with a 9-4 decision over Jim Wildermuth of North Miami at 140. Engle jumped out to a 9-1 lead while Haines earned his victory late in the third period with a reversal.

PLAC replaces reciprocal borrowing

"Most of us aren't too happy with the Public Library Access Card (PLAC)," said Madeline Fisher, librarian at Bell Memorial Library in Mentone. "What we had before worked. I feel like if it isn't broken, why fix it?"

A state law that took effect January 1, 1993, put an end to reciprocal borrowing, which was provided at no cost to anyone who had a resident library card, enabling them to use the services of other libraries. Fisher said this was provided as part of the Library Service and Construction Act (LSCA) and was federally funded.

"Now," she said, "the Federal government has cut the funding and the state doesn't want to pick up the tab. They are hoping PLAC will fund itself."

To obtain a Public Library Access Card, resident card holders purchase the card from their local library, paying a fee of $16.77. They are then allowed to borrow books from any other Area Library Services Authority (ALSA) library in the state. Only resident card holders are eligible to purchase the card. Non-resident users must still purchase library service from each individual library they wish to patronize.

"This came about without input from the libraries," said Fisher. "Most of us feel the state should take it upon itself to provide this service. We are very uneasy about PLAC. Any time you take away something people were getting free, there will be unhappy people."

Fisher said the new law won't affect the Bell Memorial Public Library as much as it will affect the library users. Many Harrison Township residents work or actually live closer to Warsaw than to Mentone, and it is more convenient for them to use the Warsaw Library. Also, many Fulton County residents live near Mentone and use Bell Library. Without purchasing a PLAC, they won't be able to do this any longer.

Fisher said some area libraries are considering lending agreements but the state is strongly discouraging this.

"A small library like ours can't afford to lose the state funding we receive," said Fisher. "We don't have any choice but to go along with PLAC. Bell Memorial Public Library does require users from other areas to use PLAC."

Dave Ewick of the Fulton County Public Library said they, as well as many other local libraries, are taking a wait and see attitude. Since legislation has already been introduced to repeal PLAC, they are allowing users to continue going by the same rules as before. If the Indiana legislature rescinds PLAC in February, anyone who has paid the PLAC fee will receive a refund.

"If it is repealed, then what? We don't know," said Ewick. "Since the federal funding for reciprocal borrowing has been cut, we just don't know what will replace it. There are about five or six different ideas bouncing around but right now, nobody knows what will happen."

Ann Zydek, Warsaw Community Public Library director, said that if library directors feel reciprocal borrowing is a valid program, they should tell the state it should be funded.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale begins

Girl Scouts in Tribal Trails Council will be going door-to-door taking orders for their famous Girl Scout Cookies from Saturday, January 16 through Sunday, January 31. These delicious cookies sell for $2.50 a package and will be delivered February 22 through March 14.

Girl Scouts throughout the United States of America have been selling cookies for over fifty years for many reasons: to learn life, communication and business skills; to earn money for their troop activities, badges and patches, and community service projects; and to help fund the many exciting and educational girl opportunities offered by their council.

While participating in the Tribal Trails Cookie Sale Program, Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts may work toward earning recognitions and may also earn Cookie Credit to use toward handbooks, the official Girl Scout dress uniform, camp, and other program opportunities such as trips, badge workshops, and career exploration. The top sellers in each county will receive a free session (up to one week in length) at a 1993 Tribal Trails Day, Core, or Resident camp.

The Girl Scouts believe they have cookies for everyone, from the traditional 30-calorie Shortbread Cookies to the ever-popular Thin Mints, Peanut Butter Patties, Lemon Pastry Creme, Peanut Butter Sandwich, Caramel deLites, and the Praline Royal, which was introduced last year.

Mentone Town Council meets in special session

The Mentone Town Council met in a special session Thursday, January 7 at 7:00 p.m. to sign a lease agreement for a second police car for Mentone. The car is being leased from Allgood Chevrolet in Spencer, Indiana. Lease payments will be $5202 per year for three years. The car will be in Mentone as soon as Allgood can get it ready.

In other business, the council discussed the request of Jim and Lois Miller to have the town pay for the use of security lights at Miller's Trailer Park. The council members determined that only one of the lights qualifies as a street light. They agreed to pay the Millers $.38 per night beginning with December 1992 and continuing until Nipsco installs two regular street lights. Nipsco estimated the lights should be installed within two to three weeks. After that time, the town will cease paying for the use of the security light.

The council also discussed renaming the street that runs through the trailer park. It is currently called West Main. They will check with the Millers to see if they have a preference in naming it.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

Inherited Gum Disease

If one of your children's gums bleed occasionally, this may be an indication of gum disease. If this happens in spite of good oral hygiene, it may suggest that he or she has inherited a tendency to gum disease.

Juvenile periodontitis or gum disease can advance rapidly if left untreated. It can also result in loss of permanent teeth in children and teenagers who are otherwise healthy. If the tendency is inherited, it may be traced to an x-linked gene present in the mother's chromosomes. Both boys and girls can inherit this trait, though it is more common among girls.

In one case, the history was traced to a great-grandmother on the mother's side of the family and several other female family members. In the present generation there were four girls and one boy in the family. Three of the daughters showed evidence of gum disease before they reached their teens. Whether there is a history of gum disease in your family or not, prompt treatment of this condition is needed to prevent soft tissue involvement and loosening of permanent teeth.

Drawing Workshop offered

A workshop on basic drawing skills is being offered by the visual arts committee of the Rochester Arts Commission. It will be held on January 23, from 1 to 4 p.m. at Rochester High School.

Akron artist Marilyn Kruger will instruct the course, which is designed for both beginners and experienced artists. The class is a prerequisite for other workshops to be offered later by the Arts Commission.

The cost is $10 and those attending should bring pencil and paper. For more information, or to pre-register, contact Don Kegarise at 653-2355 after 5 p.m.

Local memories of WPA and sculptures wanted

Glory-June Greiff, Indianapolis, will present a program on WPA Projects in Indiana at the Fulton County Museum on Sunday, January 24 at 2 p.m. This is a Fulton County Historical Society meeting and the public is invited.

The airport, fish hatchery and its buildings and stone bridge, inventory of records in courthouse, building roads and the Lake Manitou dam, and a sewing project for women were some of the local projects in the 1930's.

An index of names was published for five histories of Fulton County, namely, Kingman Atlas 1883, Elia Peattie 1896, Marguerite Miller 1910, Henry Barnhart and Ida Brundidge 1923. FCHS wants to know if there were any others. People are urged to bring memories of WPA projects in Fulton County to share. These will be published in Fulton County Images.

Some counties hired artists on the WPA program. Were there any art works done by WPA in Fulton County?

Greiff is helping the Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana to inventory the outdoor sculptures of Indiana. The only ones known in Fulton County are the lions and stone faces on the courthouse. Bearing in mind that a sculpture is chipped from stone, does anyone know of any others in Fulton County?

If you can't come to the meeting and have information on WPA projects or outdoor sculptures, please contact FCHS at 223-4436.

The FCHS Board of Directors will meet at 1 p.m. on the same day, Sunday, January 24.

Valley board approves salary hikes

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board met Monday, January 11 in a public meeting scheduled between two private executive sessions.

The board approved salary increases for administrators and head coaches and voted for two resolutions to transfer funds.

With the exception of the salaries for superintendent Karen Boling and assistant superintendent Dr. Dan Kramer, the votes were all unanimous. Jeff Tilden and Forrest Kantner voted against those increases saying they felt the amounts were too large. Boling will earn $69,000, retroactive to Nov. 5, 1992, compared with $62,935 last year. Kramer's new salary, retroactive to July 1, 1992, is $62,000 compared to last year's $56,170.

Other salaries approved include: Brett Boggs, Akron principal, $52,000; Diane Gorman, Akron assistant principal, $40,000; Jon Parker, Mentone principal, $50,000; Charles Kitchell, Mentone assistant principal, $38,000; Charles Mills, high school principal, $56,000; Gary Bridwell, high school assistant principal, $44,000; and Ted Straiger, half-time Burket principal and half-time special program director, $40,777.

Coaching amounts are: Scott Bibler, varsity football, $4,720; Gregg Sciarra, boys' basketball, $5,449; Duane Burkhardt, girls' basketball, $4,250. Robert DuBois will receive $8,543 for his work as athletic director and Joyce Harmon, girls' high school assistant athletic director will receive $3,000.

Funds were transferred within the General, Transportation and Capital Project Funds.

In other action, the board: * Reorganized the Board of Finance, naming Joe Crill president and Mike McFarland secretary.

* Granted leave of absence to Bill Ruppel to serve in the Indiana legislature.

Pages sought

The 1993 General Assembly has begun and State Rep. Walter Roorda, R-DeMotte, is looking for pages to serve for a day during the session, which began January 5th and will run until April 30.

"Pages will spend the day at the Statehouse experiencing government in action," Roorda said. "It is a way for students to learn about the legislative process firsthand."

Working directly with Rep. Roorda on the House floor, pages will be responsible for responding to representatives' requests, relaying messages and running errands.

Anyone who resides in House District 16 and is interested in serving as a page should send their name, address, phone number, age, and school to: State Rep. Walt Roorda, Page Request, Statehouse Room 401-2, 200 W. Washington Street, Indianapolis, IN 46204. You may request a date to serve, which the page office will try to accommodate, or the page office will assign a date to you. Pages must be at least 14 years of age, and will be excused from school for the day.

Indian Awareness Center publishes newsletter

A 28-page newsletter reporting on the Trail of Courage Living History Festival and Apology to the Indigenous was published by the Indian Awareness Center, branch of the Fulton County Historical Society.

It also gives details on the plans for the Trail of Death Commemorative Caravan from Indiana to Kansas in September.

The newsletter contains a poem about Menominee by Robert Deamer, Rochester, and poems about Indians by two other members.

Tom Hamilton's speech at the Oswego store-museum dedication in Kosciusko County telling the story of Chief Mus-quabuck is included.

The newsletter sells for $2 and is available at the Fulton County Museum, open Monday - Saturday from 9 to 5.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Concerned Citizen

We do need many concerned citizens. However, we need to know all sides to a controversy.

1. You indicate there is another employee on the payroll. Has a paycheck been issued to the person you refer to? If not then this clearly is time donated by him/her.

2. Indeed, if this is the case, should we not be congratulating not condemning him/her. Seems a generous hearted good person is trying to help.

3. Is this the reason so few people are interested in community projects? Are too many people ready to find fault? Are we listening to gossip and half truths?

4. The "former employee", as I understand resigned. He was not terminated. I think he is responsible for his own actions. Is it too easy to blame others?

Can we stop this tearing down of our own community?

Marty Gearhart is one of the finest, most caring, honest, men in town. He is an example we can be proud of. He gives of himself unselfishly. Give him the trust he deserves.

There is a song "Let There Be Peace on Earth". A line of this song's is "Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with me."

Concerned citizen, maybe you and this community should learn this line from this song.

Another Concerned Citizen

Dear Concerned Citizen,

I am sure you were very proud of your letter in last week's paper. It must have taken a lot of time and intelligence to make so many inaccurate and slanderous statements, but then people like you have nothing better to do.

In the future please do us all a favor. Let the town take care of its business and you take care of your own.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Concerned Citizen,

To set the facts straight to your letter in the Akron-Mentone News on January 13th. First of all the ex-employee didn't resign from his job, he quit for another job.

The conflict was that I didn't get the respect as a boss from my employee that I thought I deserved. The other part about how his job was so difficult-I never asked him to do anything that I haven't done or wouldn't do myself.

Second your so called new town employee isn't an employee of the town. I would consider this person to be a true concerned citizen along with the other five citizens that helped clean up the 8" snow fall in the Akron downtown business area on a Sunday afternoon.

These people donated their time and equipment on a Sunday to clean the sidewalks and the parking area in front of all the businesses in the downtown area. This makes it easier for people to park and patronize our local merchants. As far as I am concerned the people who helped me were qualified to do the job.

Martin Gearhart
Superintendent

Dear Concerned Citizen,

First, there was more than just personal conflict involved in this matter. I believe that this ex-employee never had to do more work than the superintendent did. I don't know what or who caused the trouble besides the ex-employee himself, and as far as I know, the superintendent hasn't hired anyone to fill that position.

Sunday night a group of volunteers decided to help remove snow. It was done as a donation of our time, not for any monetary reason. Everyone that was out there has had experience in running the equipment they operated. Now, if this concerned citizen would like to see how the equipment is run and would like to help, I'm sure the superintendent can find something for you to do.

Regardless whether this volunteer is male or female, if they are qualified to run the equipment it shouldn't make a difference. The superintendent has been with the town for 8 years making wise decisions, with no reason to think that would change now.

There's also the extra duties he has done off the clock with no other reward other than knowing he wants to make Akron a better place to live for himself and everyone else. Too bad the concerned citizen doesn't have the same attitude.

Thanks,
Bridget Hoffman

Dear Concerned Citizen,

I and others were under the assumption that the Letter to the Editor columns were for making notice of things that concern the good of the town and not as a sounding board for personal grudges against any one individual.

The letter in the January 13 issue was incorrect in several aspects. First, the so called "new town employee" is not on the town payroll and has never received any money for any reason. Second, if there was a problem between the ex-employee and the superintendent, it was between them and had nothing to do with the third party. And finally the relationship between the town superintendent and the so called "new town employee" is their business and has nothing to do with anyone else or town business.

You're bringing personal feelings into the public forum where it has no business being, with the intent of starting rumors about the parties involved. What's worse, you're using so called "concern for the town" to do it. If you have something to say to these people, say it to their face and quit hiding behind the Letter to the Editor column.

Another Concerned Person

CONCERNED CITIZEN

First, thanks for being so concerned about WHO is doing WHAT in our town. BUT -- I believe -- you need to know the facts before you pass your judgment on the best town superintendent we have had.

The personal problems between the superintendent and the ex-employee are their problems. THEIR problems--not yours or mine. Most people have enough to handle in their own lives. They don't have time to be concerned with the town superintendent and his ex-employee.

As far as who has been helping with the snow removal, all that work was done a volunteer basis. The volunteers worked, without pay or thought of pay, to make shopping in our town more convenient. Maybe, you, CONCERNED CITIZEN would like to volunteer your time on Sunday. I'm sure the town would really appreciate your help.

Let's all support our town superintendent .. and just maybe give a word of thanks..once in a while.. instead of tearing him down. He does a lot for our town which is not in his job description. He gives up vacation time and weekends to be on duty in case an emergency comes up. He doesn't hesitate to begin his day in the wee hours of the morning (while you're sleeping) and he continues to work, when needed, through late hours at night.

AND YOU -- CONCERNED CITIZEN -- if you were any kind of a person at all - YOU would have signed your name. But maybe with a letter like that I would not have signed my name either.

Proud to sign my name and show support for our hard working town superintendent .. I am....

Lynn Kline

Akron Business of the Week

Marvin Whetstone is continually adding items to his stock at the Country Store.

Country Store opens near Akron

By Tonia Weller

The Country Store, owned by Marvin Whetstone, is somewhat like a general store from the past. It carries a little bit of everything, including grocery staples, candy, tools, toys and craft items.

Located on 1000E, a mile and a half south of St. Rd. 14, southwest of Akron, the store opened the day after Thanksgiving. Regular business hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday, but Whetstone, who lives next to the store, says, "I'm really open all the time. The only time I'm closed is when I have to go get something. If they catch me here other times, then I'm open." Whetstone usually travels to the wholesale houses in Chicago on Mondays or Tuesdays to get supplies for the store.

Whetstone is a meat cutter by profession. In the past he cut meat for Gearhart's grocery in Akron, Snyder's in North Manchester, and Frank & Jerry's Market in Mentone. He opened the Country Store when poor health forced him to give up other lines of work. "The doctor wanted me to go on disability, but I said, 'There ain't no way!' My wife wanted to open a craft store, so I opened a store."

The store's grocery line is expanding all the time. Current items include milk, bread, margarine, cold meat, several kinds of cheese, bulk bacon, spare ribs, cereals, crackers, nuts and many types of bulk candies. In the near future, Whetstone plans to add canned goods, potato chips and candy bars. "If there's anything people want, if they'll let me know, I'll get it," he says.

The Country Store offers weekly specials on selected items in weekly ads in the Shopping Guide News. Whetstone is proud of his low prices on cold meat and cheese. "I sell cold meat for 99¢ a pound all the time," he says. "And I have people come from as far as Argos to buy cheese." The meats and cheeses are delivered fresh twice each week by the Troyer company.

In addition to grocery items, the store also stocks cigarettes, flashlight batteries, novelty items, toys, jewelry, socket sets, screw drivers and other tools. The attractive craft items are handmade by Whetstone's wife, LuAnn, his sister, and Charlie Engle.

Whetstone plans to build an addition onto the building at a later date, and possibly cut meat on the premises. He says, "Business has been pretty good. It kinda surprised me. But people don't want to drive all the way to town every time they need something."

Although he was raised in Tippecanoe, Whetstone has lived in the Akron area for nearly 40 years. LuAnn is a federal meat inspector, and does not work in the store. She was born and raised in the house that the Country Store now occupies. Her father, Bob Nicodemus, lived in the house until he passed away about a year ago.

The Whetstones added a parking area, sidewalk, porch railing, repainted and added shelving to transform the house into a store.

Whetstone feels some people have a misconception about his prices. "I had a fellow say, 'Well you can't buy as cheap as these big stores.' But I pay the same price they do. My prices are good, and cheaper than the big stores on some things." He stresses that he wants to stock the items people want and need. "If there's something they want, I'll get it one way or the other."

Ruppel proposes bill

The days of employers discharging or disciplining employees who are late for work because of commitments with emergency medical care or voluntary fire departments are over, at least as far as State Rep. William Ruppel, R-North Manchester, is concerned.

"Several constituents have notified me that they have been disciplined or even discharged due to their service with volunteer fire departments or emergency medical services," Ruppel said. "Often, emergencies occur before work and the volunteer is forced to be late to his or her job."

Ruppel's bill, if passed, would make it a Class B misdemeanor with a maximum fine of up to 180 days or $1,000 for a private employer to discharge or discipline an employee who is an emergency medical technician, a paramedic, a first responder, a member of a certified ambulance service, or a volunteer firefighter due to the employee's tardiness to work while making an emergency response.

"Much support has been given to this bill," Ruppel said. "Jerry Hauer, executive director of state Emergency Management Agency, has been very encouraging and helpful in the preparation of the bill. He and I both acknowledge the importance of providing a safeguard in protecting the full-time positions of volunteer firemen and other emergency workers."

The bill is currently waiting to be assigned to committee and will be voted on later in the month.

Vikings lose to Zebras

In an almost complete reversal of last month's Plymouth Holiday Tourney, the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings let an early 16 point lead slip away, to be defeated 74-66 by the Rochester Zebras. Rochester hosted the Three Rivers Conference match.

Valley had a good first half, leading by 19-6 at the end of the first quarter and 38-30 at the half. The Zebras took the lead 53-52 with 1:08 left in the third quarter. The final quarter began with a 54-54 tie.

Scott Finney, who had been a doubtful starter after a shoulder injury suffered in an auto accident, had a strong first quarter. He scored ten points, eight of them in a row. Finney also made a free throw at the 7:27 mark in the second quarter to give Valley their biggest lead of the game 22-6. He finished the game with a total of 13 points.

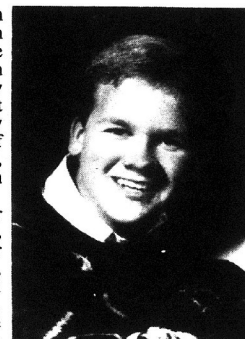

Ryan Bowers was the Viking's leading scorer with 16 points. Also scoring points for Valley were Brandon Loer and Brandon Hackworth with 11 each, Jeremy Cox with nine, Brent Paxton with four, and Justin Davis with two.

The Vikings are now 5-7 overall and 2-3 in the Three Rivers Conference. They will travel to Manchester on January 29.

4-H Horse project

What does most every kid wish for during their childhood? That's right, a pony or a horse. Although caring for a pony or a horse is a big responsibility, youth gain many personal benefits from the daily care of an animal. Raising a pony or a horse allows young people to acquire a sense of responsibility, accomplishment, self worth and independence, and it's fun. Nearly 100 Kosciusko County 4-Hers between the ages of 9-19 are involved in the 4-H Horse and Pony project each year.

The Kos. County 4-H Horse and Pony project offers youth an opportunity to spend much time working directly with their pony or horse. One learns about feeding, health care and diseases, equipment use and care, riding and training. The 4-H Horse and Pony Club offers monthly meetings and educational presentations to its members.

If you are interested in learning more about horses, ponies or the 4-H Horse and Pony Club, please contact the Kosciusko county Extension Office at 372-2340.

Letters to the Editor

To the people of Akron:

For the past 2-1/2 years I've been writing feature articles on people in and around the Akron community for The Akron-Mentone News. During that time I've had the opportunity to meet and get to know many wonderful and interesting people in the area. I would like to thank all of you for your hospitality and for allowing me the opportunity to work with you. It has been a rewarding experience, which I have greatly enjoyed.

I will continue to write human interest articles for the Shopping Guide News and would appreciate any suggestions you might have on people or subjects of interest in the Akron area.

Sincerely,
Tonina Weller

Dear Sir:

I was sorry to read in the Wednesday, January 13, 1993 issue of the Akron-Mentone News that you are ceasing publication on January 27, but I do recognize the problems you face and the necessity of your taking the action.

I was born in Mentone in 1911 and graduated from Indiana University in 1934, so I really haven't lived in Mentone since 1930, but we always have a soft spot in our hearts for the locale of our youth, particularly when we know about the past and our family involvement.

My father and grandfather started a store in Mentone around the turn of the century, but with the mobility of people increasing with development of the automobile and improvement of roads, etc. the business in a small town became more difficult and Dad finally sold out in 1940.

Fortunately I have maintained some ties with the community throughout the years and even after Dad died in the early '60s. My sister Annabel has lived in the community all these years and was joined by our sister Margaret Foulks when she retired from teaching in the schools in South Bend.

I still feel that I have a relationship with the community through the bank and I often visit with Forest Miner. When I am in town I regularly see Donald Van Gilder and consider him to be somewhat of an anchor.

I will have to admit that in reading the paper in recent years there wasn't much that was familiar to me, although I have found something from time to time in the column quoting from earlier issues of the papers that was familiar to me.

I hope the community will flourish in the future and send best wishes to all my acquaintances whom I hope to see from time to time when I get down to Mentone.

Sincerely,
James S. Mentzer

Letters to the Editor

Dear Concerned Citizen,
Your Letter to the Editor of January 13, 1993 sure has caused an emotional turmoil among other concerned citizens. I do have some questions for you.

1. Are you now or have you ever worked for the public?
2. " " " " " " volunteered for public service work or community projects.
3. Are you now or have you ever considered running for a political office? I.E. Town Clerk or Council Member?
4. Are you a registered voter? If not--Why not? Because item #3 requires you to be.
5. If you will not consider the above 4 items-why are criticizing one person? Who by the way was appointed.

Maybe because:

1. I just live here.
2. I don't want to do anything or get involved.
3. I don't have the time.
4. I just like to gripe-period.
5. I pay my taxes so I have a right to gripe.
6. A personal vendetta.
7. And maybe all of the above-which is a cop out.

Your solution:

A combination of the first 4 questions asked of you. If your are not willing to do this-my father taught me at a very early age-if you can't say something nice about a person-don't say anything at all-it could be you they are talking about.

My summation:

1. Get yourself involved, whether it be volunteer or elected.
  2. Consider other citizens feelings above your own.
  3. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.
- The rules and regulations by State Statute are far different on this side of the desk.

Are you willing to find out what they are?

Sincerely,
Jean Connor

Dear Editor,

I want to know if this guy in the water office is on salary. The man is never in his office. Every month I have to make two or three trips to catch him in. I know what your thinking why not put it in the deposit box? Well I tried that one time and some how my bill got misplaced and I almost had to give up my first born to get it straightened up. And I won't send it due to it would probably get lost in all of his work also.

All I ask is for him to hang up a schedule and be there when he is supposed to. Or start making rounds to houses to collect! It's bad enough having to pay for this nasty water let alone getting the run around when you have to pay your bill.

I'm free during the day till 2:00 p.m. if the man needs help doing his job. Put me on the pay roll I could use some of this easy money too!!!

Signed,
Jerry Bucher

Dear Lynn Kline and Others

You said Marty was the best town superintendent that we ever had. "NOT".

Maybe you have already forgot Garland Sparks. Who in my eyes and others was the best person we ever had. He would help every person in town and not just a selected few.

As for the person riding with Marty, this should not be allowed. We pay for the truck and insurance not him. Its not for public persons to joy ride.

As for my name I don't care who knows.

Pedestrian Safety

Indiana's dark, gray days of winter are not only hard on the spirit, but also make it difficult for pedestrians to be seen. Over 40% of pedestrian accidents occur during darkness and considering how few days of sun Hoosiers have experienced lately, it is wise to be careful while walking. Special attention should be given to school age children on their way to and from school.

"Eighty percent of all child pedestrian accidents are caused by unsafe actions by the child," stated Dr. Marilyn Bull, Medical Director of the Automotive Safety for Children Program at Riley Hospital for Children. "And the majority of pedestrian accidents occur near the child's own home." Dr. Bull encourages parents to be actively involved in reinforcing safe pedestrian practices for their children. At this mid-point in the school year, it is a good time to make sure you and your children practice the following pedestrian safety tips.

Children should wear bright-colored clothing during the day and reflective clothing in bad weather and in the dark. Consider putting retroreflective tape on book bags and back packs. Drivers can see a person wearing retroreflective material from 744 feet away, 10 times sooner than a person wearing dark clothing. Also, a flashlight is a good idea in the dark, especially when the footing is rough.

Children often think cars can stop on a dime, but it takes about 300 feet to stop a car at 40 mph. Also remind your child that even though they might see the vehicle's headlights, the driver probably doesn't see them.

"Even though most parents were taught to 'look both ways' before crossing the street, that is not the message parents should pass on to their child," Dr. Bulls adds. She stresses that all pedestrians should follow the three step crossing procedure, "look left, then right, then left again before crossing the street. Be sure to continue to scan as you cross the street."

Over the past five years, 114 children were killed and almost 5,600 children were injured in pedestrian accidents in Indiana. For more information to help prevent future pedestrian accidents contact Automotive Safety for Children at Riley Hospital for Children at 1-800-543-6227.

"Our goal is to keep the customer happy by offering friendly service and lower prices," manager Sue Click says of D & C Country Video. The business, owned by Doug and Carol Beenblossom, is located in a red pole building on the Fulton-Miami County Line Road, 2-1/2 miles south of Akron. (Take St. Rd. 19 south of Akron to where it turns sharply to the east, take the road-Fulton CR 400S or Miami CR 1600N-west 1/4 mile to the second place on the south side. Signs are posted) Store hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 2-8 p.m. on Sundays. A drop box is available for after-hours returns.

D & C Country Video offers a selection of over 1700 tapes, including new releases, older classics and Nintendo tapes. Rental prices range from 50¢ to $2.00. VCR's, Nintendo and Super Nintendo units are also available for rental. Tapes and machines can be reserved by calling 219-893-7495.

The membership fee is one dollar per year. Any new member who signs up during the month of February will receive $1 off their first movie rental. On Saturday, January 30, any customer who rents two new movies will get a $1 movie free. There are also weekly drawings for $1 off rentals. Copies of previously viewed movies are available for purchase.

There are two Wolff tanning beds available at D & C for $2.50 per session, ten sessions for $20, or 20 sessions for $35. From February 1 through Feb. 13, customers who buy ten sessions will get an additional one free, or buy 20 and get two free. The store sells Caribbean Gold and Trevor Island tanning products. Any current customer who brings in a new tanning member will receive a free session. Tanning customers should call for an appointment.

In addition to videos and tanning, D & C Country Video also offers a large selection of candy bars, 12 packs of Pepsi products, posters, collector cards, and VCR covers. An outside pop machine is in operation and T-shirts and sweatshirts are sometimes offered for sale.

Besides the Beenblossoms and Sue Click, the store also employs Kathy Russell and Gerri Click. Since opening in April of 1989, D & C Country Video has established a solid clientele. It has also become a popular spot for school kids and area farmers to stop for a quick snack. D & C offers convenience, a huge selection, value, and friendly service.

Views On Dental Health

Stress and Dental Problems

Stress can affect you in many ways, sometimes leading to dental problems when habits such as grinding the teeth develop. Bruxism, or grinding of the teeth, is usually an unconscious activity, occurring during the night when you're sleeping. The results are often felt in the morning when you feel pain or a dull aching in your jaw joints. This is one of the symptoms of temporomandibular joint syndrome (TMJ), and the problems can intensify until the condition is treated by your dentist.

Many forms of treatment are available, including the use of relaxation drugs as well as exercises. The goal is to help return the jaw to its normal function, eliminating the muscle spasms that cause pain and discomfort. Treatment will also include attention to other dental problems caused by grinding of the teeth.

One of the most common is malocclusion or improperly aligned teeth, which can intensify the pain associated with temporomandibular joint syndrome and cause it to spread to other areas of the head and neck.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C., 1329 Main St., Rochester. Phone 223-3121.

Who Carved Courthouse Lions?

What was the name of the sculptor who carved the stone lions by the courthouse in 1896? Research has failed to bring the man's name to light because he was paid by the contractor instead of directly by the county.

Does anyone know this man's name? He was a German and could not speak English, his 10 year old son acted as interpreter. Call the Fulton County Museum at 223-4436 if you know the name.

This is one of the questions raised at the Fulton County Historical Society meeting January 24.

The Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana is conducting an inventory of out-door sculpture and needs the name of the sculptor of the stone lions at the Rochester courthouse.

Glory-June

Greiff.

Indianapolis, showed slides on WPA Projects in Indiana, a program she compiled for the Indiana Humanities Council. Greiff is also compiling the sculpture inventory.

Akron's town park and Fulton's two stone foot bridges were WPA projects. Bertha Waltz recalled that her father, Joe Hower, worked with WPA to erect posts for parking lot by Fulton School.
