School Board re-organizes, elects

During last night's re-organization meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley school board, Dr. Wymond Wilson was sworn in as a new member, replacing Dr. Donald Van-Gilder and Richard Goshert was sworn in for his second four-year term.

Maurice Coplen was re-elected president with Goshert named vice-president and Dr. John McKee elected secretary.

The board re-appointed Judith H'vely as the treasurer and discussed salary schedules for the bus drivers, custodians and clerks. Bus drivers will continue to receive $11.50 per day for a 180-day year but the drivers who drive the "legs" from Burket to Mentone and from Mentone to Talma will now receive $2 per day instead of the previous $1.50. The custodians presently receiving $2.95 per hour will be increased to $3.10 for a $7936 yearly salary.

The people who work as sweepers on a part-time basis will be raised from $1.90 per hour to $2. The clerks were granted three percent wage increases, to be rounded to the nearest five cents per hour or dollar per week or month.

The board voted to attend a workshop at Purdue University July 26 and set a meeting, an executive session, with administrators on July 17 at 6:30 p.m., immediately prior to the regular meeting at 7:30. The preliminary budget will be presented during the regular meeting.

Charles Clawson was hired to replace Robert Koch as janitor at Talma and a teaching contract for Jean Elizabeth Branning, Akron, was approved.

Following an hour and 35-minute executive session, the board recon-vened to support Dr. McKee's motion to rescind a motion made in April to order Ogden and Associates to halt plans for buildings at Akron and at Mentone.

Richard Goshert's motion to build the centralized school within two miles of the population center of the corporation was defeated 3-2 with Goshert and Wilson casting the yes votes.

Fund Drives Help Cindy Rickel's Campaign To Be Fair Queen

A series of fund-raising events are being held throughout the Mentone area to help Cindy Rickel's campaign to be Queen of the Kosciusko County Fair.

Miss Rickel, a 16-year old Mentone senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rickel, R. 1, Mentone. A lively brunette with pretty brown eyes, the outgoing teen and her friends and family have organized several fund-raising affairs to buy votes at a penny each.

A bake sale already has been held. Tickets for a bicycle are being sold and a yard sale at her home on July 8 and a car wash at the Mentone Body Shop on July 15 will complete the organized fund-raising events. Miss Rickel and her friends will pick up all returnable pop bottles if persons having them will call.

Miss Rickel also wants to borrow a convertible for use in the parade.

All money raised by the girls entering the beauty contest goes to the Cardinal Learning Center in Warsaw.

In the past, the Center has used the money to buy buses and to pay for speech and hearing therapy.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

How many of us as parents have not looked at our children fondly and wondered to ourselves, "How can I raise that kid to be a decent person without a lot of problems?"

A lot of us, according to Dr. Dama Wilms, Extension human development specialist at Purdue University, who says parents seem to think it is their responsibility to guarantee perfect children with the security of a predictable future.

Right on, Dr. Wilms. They aren't perfect now but may with a little more polish...

But she goes on to say, "This has never happened for children in previous generations and parents today will breathe easier if they give up the illusion."

Young people of previous generations have entered adulthood with no certainty of jobs, financial security, a peaceful world or medical care. From the beginning of time, youth has had to give up the security of depending on mom and dad and face a world that held wars, injustice and a host of problems to grapple with," she says.

"Gee," we think, and as we pause, the good doctor continues, "This is not to say that things are the way they should be. It is to point out that today's parents are assuming an unrealistic burden if they think they should be able to eliminate life's uncertainties from the experience of their children."

"Instead of trying to influence or control their entire life situation, parents may find that they can more adequately help their children 'cut the apron strings' and become responsible adults if they --the parents--realize their limitations."

"Today's young people --like other generations--cannot expect guarantees. Young people must learn to live with the uncertainties of life--as their parents did."

I don't know if I feel any better for having read her remarks, but I don't feel quite as badly about saying, "Get up and get to work, your life is only what you, yourself make it."

One snowflake doesn't amount to much, but a whole skyful of them falling can stop a train. Successful lives and even empires have been built on the same philosophy.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

GLEN DIVE, MONT., RANGER-REVIEW: "You can criticize the President. You can criticize the Vice-President. You can criticize the Congress. But you've got to hand it to the Internal Revenue Service!"

FLORENCE, AL., HERALD "...since our government demands such strict accounting of every penny handled by every citizen, for taxing purposes, those taxpayers ...should be entitled to a strict accounting of how all those tax dollars are being spent."

TEN MOST WANTED MEN

1. The man who tries to be the right example to every child rather than talk about it.
2. The man who has a passion to help rather than a passion to be helped.
3. The man who is willing to say, "I was wrong. I'm sorry."
4. The man who will look at temptation squarely and say, "No."
5. The man who puts God's business above any other.
6. The man who throws himself totally into a project, then gives the credit for its success to his helpers.
7. The man who has a ready smile and a pat on the back for others.
8. The man who brings his children to church rather than sending them.
9. The man who can see his own faults before he sees the faults of others.
10. The man who gives his money, time and talent without thought of return. Why not be all ten!

Disaster Funds Are Needed

Kosciusko County has been asked to contribute $1,860 toward the total of 10 million dollars needed to carry on the American Red Cross's chartered responsibility of aiding helpless men, women and children who have been evicted from their homes by the disasters that have struck various parts of the country this year.

Checks for this fund should be made payable to the Kosciusko County Chapter of the American Red Cross and should be marked DISASTER.

Supplies of food and clothing are on hand. What is needed now is cash, according to Myron Ringo, head of the local campaign to raise the necessary amount. He has been informed that the absolute bottom of the Red Cross financial barrell has been scraped in helping the Rapid City flood victims. Besides the additional need there, the organization is now facing the need for millions of dollars for emergency care and recovery in the Eastern states with the strong probability of the Ohio River flooding bringing further demands.

Mrs. Inez Devenney, executive director of the Kosciusko Co. ARC chapter, has received word that the moratorium has been lifted and inquiries concerning members of immediate families in these areas can now be processed.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Pickle products add spice to meals and snacks. Due to the high cost of commercially processed pickles, home-making is returning to the brine. Home canned pickles and relishes are relatively easy to prepare.

Satisfactory pickle products can be obtained only when good quality ingredients are used and proper procedures are followed. Correct proportions of fruit or vegetable, sugar, salt, vinegar, and spices are essential. Alum and lime are not needed to make pickles crisp and firm if good quality ingredients and up-to-date procedures are used.

Use pure granulated salt if available. Uniodized table salt can be used, but the material added to the salt to prevent caking may make the brine cloudy. Do not use iodized table salt, it may darken pickles.

Brined pickles, also called fermented pickles, go through a curing process of about three weeks. Dilled cucumbers and sauerkraut belong in this. Curing changes cucumber color from a bright green to an olive or yellow green. The white interior of the fresh cucumber becomes uniformly translucent.

Fresh-pack or quick-process pickles, such as sweet gherkins and whole cucumber dills are bright for several hours or overnight, then drained and combined with boiling hot vinegar and spices and other seasonings. These are quick and easy to prepare.

Pickle products require heat treatment to destroy organisms that cause spoilage, and to inactivate enzymes that may affect flavor, color and texture. Adequate heating is best achieved by processing the filled jars in a boiling-water bath. Start to count processing time when water begins boiling.

In all types of home food preservation, be sure to follow your recipe carefully and the manufacturers instruction for equipment. If you have home processed food that you are not sure of - throw it out. When in doubt, throw it out. Pick up your copy of "Making Pickles and Relishes at Home" at the County Extension Office. It is a good reference book.

CROSSCUT PICKLE SLICES
Yield 7 pints

- 4 qts. cucumbers, med. size, (about 6 lbs.) sliced
- 1½ cups onions (12 to 15 small white, about 1 lb.) sliced
- 2 large garlic cloves
- 1/3 cup salt
- 2 qts. ice. (2 trays) crushed or cubed
- 4½ cups sugar
- 1½ t. Turmeric
- 1½ t. celery seed
- 2 Tablespoons mustard seed
- 3 cups vinegar, white

Wash cucumbers thoroughly, using a vegetable brush; drain on rack. Slice unpeeled cucumbers into 1/8" to ½" slices; discard ends. Add onions and garlic.

Add salt and mix thoroughly; cover with crushed ice or ice cubes; let stand 3 hours. Drain thoroughly; remove garlic cloves.

Combine sugar, spices and vinegar; heat just to boiling. Add drained cucumber and onion slices and heat 5 minutes.

Pack hot pickles loosely into clean, hot pint jars to ½" of top. Adjust jar lids.

Process in boiling water for 5 minutes (start to count processing time as soon as water in canned returns to boiling). Remove jars and complete seals if necessary. Set jars upright to cool. NOTE: Sugar may be reduced to 4 cups, if a less sweet pickle is desired.

Attend National Sorority Convention

On June 22, 23 and 24th, Alpha Tau Chapter of Petersburg hosted the 75th anniversary convention of Psi Iota Xi National Sorority at the French Lick Sheraton Hotel with 767 women registering. Attending from Beta Epsilon Chapter of Mentone were Marsha Scott, Sara Russell and Iris Dickert.

Members attending reported that on Friday a business meeting was held with dinner and entertainment in the form of a style show, "All Those Years," which was presented by Alpha Psi of Washington, Ind. Women of the chapter modeled clothes that were in style from 1897 to 1972.

Floyd Logan, field secretary for the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Association, showed a film about Riley Hospital and complimented the Psi Otes for raising, approximately $15,000 needed to buy the ERA (Evoked Response Audio-meter) for the Riley Hospital. This electronic device enables the audiology technician to determine hearing sensations not detectable by the usual means. The machine is particularly useful for children under three years of age.

On Saturday, there was another business meeting on national projects and at the buffet luncheon cultural, achievement and attendance awards were presented.

Although unable to attend, two women were honored for being active in the sorority for the most years. One had been a member 62 years and one had been active for 65 years. The delegates returned to remind fellow member Pauline Riner that she will "just have to keep plugging along!"

Installation of national officers was held and convention sites were selected. South Bend will be host in 1973 and Indianapolis will host the 1974 convention. In 1976 the convention will be in Seattle, Wash. and members will also have the opportunity to take charter trips to Hawaii, Alaska or Russia as well as special sightseeing tours of Seattle.

Special guests for the Saturday dinner were Mrs. Edgar D. Whitcomb and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borge. Dr. Frances E. Warner was master of ceremonies and Victor Borge presented "Comedy In Music." Mrs. Borge is a member of the Princeton, Ind., chapter.

Beta Epsilon will not have a meeting in July but has plans to be busy during "Mentone Days."

Napoleon Etienne To Visit Akron

Napoleon Etienne

Napoleon Etienne, a native of Haiti, will speak at the 10:25 a.m. Sunday worship service at the Akron Church of God.

Known to most people in this area as Napo, he has established 30 Christian congregations and has radio programs. A self-taught medical doctor, he does a great deal of good by holding clinics in connection with the church. For a few years he has been a full-time employee of the Child Care Foundation which has done much good through the work of Grace Childrens hospital.

As a youngster, Napo was taken into the home of a missionary and there he was helped to grow in the areas of Christian love and education. After regular schooling, he went to Bible school and was married. He and his wife have had a great ministry for Christ. Mrs. Etienne works in a garment factory, using her salary to take children into their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Etienne are close friends of the Hugh Wildermuths and will stay in their home while in the Akron area.

The Rev. J. D. Thomason of the Akron Church of God extends an invitation to everyone to hear this gifted man.

GIVE BLOOD UNTO OTHERS. AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM GIVE UNTO YOU AND YOURS.

Lions Elect International President

GEORGE FRIEDRICHS

George Friedrichs of Anney, France, was elected president of Lions International at the association's 55th annual convention in Mexico City, June 28-July 1. Serving as the 56th president of the world's largest humanitarian service organization, Friedrichs leads over 979,000 members in 25,646 clubs located in 147 countries and geographical areas.

His 1972-1973 program stresses the need to increase understanding and cooperation between Lions Clubs through projects in international service. Increased participation by the clubs in the international youth exchange program is among the goals Friedrichs has set for his presidential year.

It's sad to realize that 20 years from now all of today's beautiful young women will be five years older.

In addition to the floats, several area bands and marching units participated along with antique cars, farm machinery, horses, bicycles and the usual assortment of entries.

An added feature this year was a fly-by by four search and destroy jets from Grissom Air Force Base.

Dr. Charles Miller, chairman of this year's celebration, said he was pleased with the outcome of the event, noting there seemed to be less confusion, more organization and a good quality of entries. He noted, too, that all the food tents sold out.

In addition to the parade and fireworks, there were contests for the kids, a teen dance in the gym, programs by the Country Travelers and a baseball game between Akron and Lafayette Jeff.

A smile can add a great deal to one's face value.

Round Barn Festival this week-end

Fulton county's Round Barn Festival, a three-day exposition of the pleasures of rural life, will be renewed for the first time Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 14-15-16, with Rochester as the focal point.

The first annual Festival last summer attracted 8,000 persons to its varied entertainment features. All of these have been retained for 1972, with some additions.

The Festival is anchored to the round barn these since Fulton Co. farms contain 15 of these examples of rural architecture--more than any other county in the state. Bus tours of the various barns will be held on regular schedule each day from the Courthouse in Rochester.

Climax of the Festival will come at 10 a.m. Saturday when a parade is held in downtown Rochester. Over 100 entries of all kinds are expected.

Among the special attractions of the Festival are a completely restored one-room schoolhouse as it appeared in the 19th century; a maple syrup camp in operation; displays of antique tractors, farm engines and farm implements; farmers' market of home-grown fruits and vegetables; flea market of countless items; over 50 booths displaying homemade foods, antiques, handcrafted items and artworks; and a Carnival of Arts with shows of paintings by county artists. Included in the latter is a unique do-it-yourself "spin-out" painting booth.

Air tours of the county will be available as well as carnival rides and numerous food stands offering such delicacies as chicken and noodles, barbecued chicken, pancake and sausage breakfasts and iron kettle ham and bean suppers.

Friday's events open the program with a Western square dance on the Courthouse square that attracts top dancers from throughout the state. It is at 8 p.m.

After the 10 a.m. parade, Saturday's program includes a horseshoe pitching contest, sky diving exhibition, pony trotting races, canoe race at Lake Manitou, fireman's waterball contest and a religious song service by the Saviour's Servants.

Sunday will open with a muzzle loading rifle contest, followed by a lawn church service, sky diving exhibition, boat parade and water ski show at Lake Manitou and an antique auction.

A slow-pitch softball tourney will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Entertainment events are located in downtown Rochester or at the city park, 4-H fairgrounds and Lake Manitou.

Mentone Festival Set July 28-29

Plans are being completed for the 1972 Mentone Festival, according to Robert J. Hill, president of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce, and details will be revealed later.

The two-day affair will be July 28 and 29 and will include some of the same events and some new activity, Hill said.

FRIDAY was Byron Leininger Day at the Fulton County Blood Bank in honor of the Akron man who donated his 72nd pint of blood, nine gallons. Shown with him are two Red Cross Gray Ladies who helped during the blood collection, Mrs. Harold E. Lowe, left, and Mrs. Charles Riddle. Fulton county went over its goal of 140 pints for the first time in quite awhile with 156 pints being donated.

Dear Editor, Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the 4th of July Celebration:

We, the people of Akron and parents of the Akron marching band, are wondering if you are so ashamed of our Akron boys and girls that they need to be put in the back of their own home town parade? Your excuse was that you didn't want to be partial; then why was the town marshal and the Akron fire department in front? This marching band has worked hard this summer. We, the parents, are proud of our kids and their band director and his wife. We feel like you gave us a dirty deal and we wouldn't be surprised or blame them if they marched somewhere else next 4th of July.

Dear Editor:

Teaching people how to combat crime can be training lessons for the would-be criminal. Maybe it would be better to remind them all the things they will be missing.

William R. Sullivan
Box 250
Vale, Ore. 97918

Dear Editor:

This is an open letter to all members and friends of the Fulton County Historical Society. I want to thank the many people who offered their assistance and advice about the loom. Mrs. Claude Waggoner, R. 5, Rochester, fixed and threaded it and wove a rag rug already to see that it is working properly. Her husband lent his help, too. Mrs. Waggoner is an expert weaver, having made up to 500 rugs in one year on her three looms in her home near Talma. She will weave at the museum all three days of the Round Barn Festival and anyone can try their hand at it and learn how.

With the help of 22 people, we have attempted to call all members of FCHS living in Fulton Co. to enlist their aid for the ham and bean supper. If you haven't been contacted, it's because you don't have a phone or weren't at home. We are asking all members to donate one dozen cornbread muffins. People with last names beginning with A thru G, bright them on Friday, H thru R on Saturday and S thru Z on Sunday unless specified otherwise or more convenient on another day. Please bring them to the museum by 3 p.m. in a non-returnable wrapper. Thank you.

Volunteers are still needed to act as hosts at the museum, cook and serve the ham and beans in iron kettles, tend the fire, weave on the loom, cashier, etc. If you can't help, try to come to eat as we need customers too. If we all work together, we can finish paying off that museum debt, which is now down to $400.

I want to especially thank those 22 people who helped me with the telephoning. Shirley Willard, President, Fulton Co. Historical Society Mobility is now considered one of our inalienable rights. However, it is not free, and sometimes it can be exercised beyond the point of practicality.

The Wells County Free Press of Fessenden, No. Dakota, makes the point very well. It says, "Did you ever drive 50 to 100 miles or more to take advantage of a super-duper special that was advertised somewhere? A local $50 item 50 miles away would have to sell for $34.50 in order for you to break even. The American Automobile Association certifies that 15.5 cents is what it costs to drive your car one mile. So if you've driven 100 miles round trip to pick up that special, you'll have to add $15.50 to that purchase. That sweet buy can suddenly turn quite sour.

"Local merchants, whether it is groceries, clothing, drugs, hardware, appliances or whatever, feature top line, nationally advertised products. And they are also at comparative prices. They also support your local schools, churches and organizations. They also help to pay for improvements to make this a better place to live. And they'll be here tomorrow to serve you personally."

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

Genealogy is a great hobby. We have spent many hours poring over old records, visiting cemeteries and libraries trying to learn more history connected with our respective families.

Naturally, the study of family names and their meanings enters into genealogy, and some of the advertisements we receive urging us to order the family crest and history are appealing.

We can only wonder if we knew the origin of all the names if we would be as surprised as the American manufacturer who bought an ancestral estate in Scotland named "Seldoon." He was intrigued with its name because it sounded lyrical, romantic and probably went back to the 11th Century. So, he preserved the name and had it embroidered on towels and linen and commissioned an artist to design a coat of arms to go with the name "Seldoon." One day the local historian came by and said, "You seem a mite interested in the name of your place. Would you like to be knowing something about it?" "I certainly would," said the American as he enthusiastically brought out his best brandy for the guest. "Well, let's start with the name 'Seldoon'....during the 30s the place was owned by a spaghetti manufacturer and 'Seldoon' is noodles spelled backwards."

The Scottish Daily Express didn't report what the American said or did next, but somehow we can imagine it was not good. If I didn't get a bunch of noodles on the crest, my application for a family crest would probably get stuck in a computer somewhere and come out like one Joseph Begley's request for a watch. Seems Begley saved 2,000 cigaret coupons and mailed them to a British cigaret company in exchange for a watch. When the watch did not arrive, he wrote and asked why. Back came three watches. He wanted only one so he mailed back the other two. Next day ten parcels arrived from the cigaret firm. The following day, 18 parcels arrived. The day after that the local post office telephoned and said ten more parcels were waiting for Begley. All of them were trade-in gifts given by the cigaret company in exchange for coupons Begley never had. Among the gifts were three tape recorders, a doll, a golf bag, two electric blankets, a cot, sauce pans, a pressure cooker and long playing records. Poor Begley sat down and wrote a long, pleading letter to the firm asking it to stop. In the return mail came a reply saying, "It was a computer error." The company gave Begley 10,000 coupons in compensation for his troubles. With these he ordered tools and a bedspread. He received a plant stand and two step ladders instead.

Since the spelling of our last name has already been changed by previous generations to make the original German acceptable English, it might be better to order a crest for Noodles Seldoon. By the time it worked through the computer, we might get a crest with some sheets on it or if we timed it just right, we might end up with a stepladder.

Tricky Statistics

Unemployment statistics are generally taken to mean that people are out of work because there are no jobs available. Yet in many parts of the country, employment is high; jobs are going begging. Danforth W. Austin, Staff Reporter of the Wall Street Journal, writes, "While the nation's unemployment hovers around 5.9 percent of the labor force, or about five million workers, thousands of jobs are empty for lack of takers; indeed, some estimates put the total as high as a million. Some 94,000 jobs in manufacturing were open in February, nearly a third of them for more than a month. And these didn't include vacancies among such large employers as the service industry, mining and exploration concerns, and building contractors."

Employers as well as labor experts are puzzled by the unemployment, help wanted phenomenon. In many areas, there is a shortage of both skilled and unskilled workers. According to Mr. Austin, some authorities believe that "...welfare benefits and unemployment also dampen their enthusiasm to seek jobs beyond their own communities." There are other factors in the unemployment picture such as inadequate machinery for matching up job hunters with available jobs. Contrary to what the statistics say about unemployment, there is still evidence that the U.S. is a land of opportunity for those who are willing to work and to learn.

"Life is not like a sponge, to be squeezed, but a barrel to be filled. It is not what we get out of it, but what we put into it that counts. He who would drain the precious liquid to its dregs, who would drink its last drop to satisfy his own thirst is worse than a miser. He leaves life poorer but he himself is no richer. The man who gives of whatever he may have to the great storehouse of the world makes his life richer and the world a better dwelling place for all."

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Poor food handling practices in the home often cause illness in the family, even though the foods were safe to eat when purchased or just prepared.

Lack of sanitation, insufficient cooking and improper storage can allow bacteria in food to increase to dangerous levels. Some bacteria produce poisonous substances called toxins, that cause illness when the food is eaten.

Outbreaks of illness from food contaminated by harmful bacteria are especially common during hot summer months when perishable foods are carried on picnics and cook-outs without proper refrigeration.

You can help protect your family from food-borne illness by several simple steps in personal hygiene. Strict cleanliness of person and surroundings is the best way to prevent the contamination of foods. The cutting board should be washed in hot soapy water after each use. Chlorine laundry bleach destroys bacteria and is a good cleaner for your cutting board.

When using eggs raw in such foods as home-made ice cream, use only clean eggs with sound shells. Cracked or soiled eggs may contain harmful bacteria. Salads and sandwiches made with salad dressings containing eggs or milk products and an acid such as vinegar should not be allowed to stand at room temperature. If you carry foods of this type on summer outings, keep them in a cooler until served.

A few simple precautions can prevent a picnic from turning into a disaster. Most types of food poisoning are not fatal. But none of them leave you with fond memories. During the summer months be especially careful when handling and storing foods.

Thanks to Mrs. Viollette Tom, R.2, Leesburg, for sharing her recipe with us.

Mrs. Bowen Addresses GOP Women

Mrs. Otis Bowen told 150 women and guests attending the Fulton County Republican Woman's Club luncheon Thursday of the fun and not-so-fun times in the life of a gubernatorial candidate.

In her first speech of her husband's campaign, she said she dies a 1,000 deaths when her husband is slammed by his opponents but noted her husband refuses to run against a man but bases his campaign on issues rather than personalities.

She noted the Bowens traveled 58,000 miles in 1971 for the Republican party. Many times the meetings are across the state from each other, she noted.

Mrs. Bowen told the audience her husband would have an open door policy if elected governor. She said after 20 years in active practice as a physician he is used to working by appointment, an asset he would carry into the governor's office.

Young people are responding well to Bowen's campaign, she said, and noted that many of the 2,500 babies he estimates he has delivered wear "I'm A Bowen Baby" T-shirts to boost his candidacy.

In addition to the speaker, other dignitaries introduced were Mrs.

Vernie Bowen, Leiter's Ford, Dr. Bowen's mother; Jay Herrold, Grass Creek, county chairman, and Mrs. Herrold; Mrs. Charlene Haley, Loganport, director of district women's clubs, and Wayne Hittle, Rochester mayor, and Mrs. Hittle.

Candidates attending were Thames Mauzy of Warsaw, 17th district state representative; Kermit Burrous, Mexico, 22nd district state representative, and Mrs. Burrous; Mrs. Wendell Tombaugh, representing Judge Tombaugh of the circuit court; Mrs. Elwood Hillis, Kokomo, representing Congressman Hillis; Mrs. Leo Sullivan, Peru, representing State Sen. Sullivan, and Auditor and Mrs. Ernest Walters.

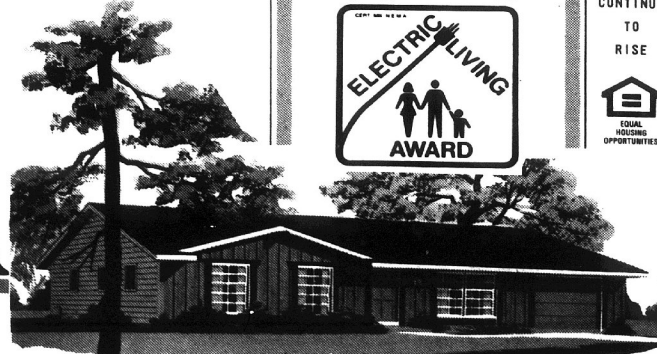

Others attending were Mrs. Margaret Burkett, candidate for county treasurer; Junior Good, candidate for coroner; Mrs. Marge Richter, representing Robert Cook, candidate for surveyor; Leroy Crippen, candidate for county commissioner and Mrs. Crippen, and George Craig, candidate for county commissioner and Mrs. Craig.

Mrs. Alta Rouch was presented a plaque by the club commemorating her many years of service as precinct vice committeewoman in Liberty township.

Friendly Neighbors Hear About Big Tomatoes

"America, the Beautiful" was the song sung by members of the Friendly Neighbors Extension Homemakers Club to open their Thursday afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett Beeson.

Mrs. Monroe Romine presided and observed the regular form of service.

The history of the song, "The Star Spangled Banner," was read by Mrs. M. O. Smith who also led the group in the singing of it.

"I Understand" was the title of a poem used for meditation by Mrs. Don Bunner.

Mrs. Oral Welch talked about the hazards of air pollution which is the cause of the deaths of thousands of people each year in other countries as well as in the U.S. and which cost it $11 billion last year.

Mrs. Kyle Gibson told of a man who lives in a town not far from Mentone who has grown and inbred different varieties of tomatoes until he has perfected a plant that grows very tall and yields tomatoes weighing three and four pounds each.

"Increasing Self-Understanding" was the subject of Mrs. Herman Olson's and Mrs. Kyle Gibson's discussion. They asked questions that provoked much comment.

Eleven members answered roll call. Miss Susan Walker, Chicago, was a guest.

The club closed by members singing the prayer song and repeating the collect.

MAPPING THE AKRON IOOF CEMETERY: Members of Psi Kappa Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi sorority, are making maps of the Akron cemetery as a civic project at the request of the cemetery association. The cemetery has never been mapped, and it was felt having this work done would be a benefit to genealogists and others interested in locating graves. Standing, left to right, are Anita Stephen, Betty Harris, Anne Kendall, Kate Jennens, Bonnie Holloway, Judy Walgamuth and Pam Madeford. Seated are Polly Finney, Marvus Zimmerman, Marge Sausaman, Margaret Straley, and Marilyn Adams. Not present when the picture was taken were Ethel Henderson and Bonnie Gearhart.

Sorority Will Map Akron Cemetery

At a recent business meeting of Psi Kappa Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi sorority, plans were made for the group to map the Akron cemetery. This work has never been undertaken before and some of the markers are becoming eroded and difficult to read. The names and dates will be recorded by sections with all members of the sorority working on the project.

Twenty dozen cookies were baked and donated by members for the Friday, July 7, Red Cross Blood Bank.

A picnic will be held in the Akron park on August for 12 patients of the Logansport State Hospital.

President Bonnie Gearhart reported on the 45th annual national convention held in June at Indianapolis. Also attending certain sections of the meetings were Kate Jennens, Betty Harris and Judy Walgamuth.

The group will sponsor a Sno-Cone-cotton candy concession at the Round Barn Festival in Rochester this week-end.

Attending the meeting were Bonnie Holloway, Polly Finney, Anita Stephen, Pam Madeford, Marilyn Adams, Betty Harris, Vivian Dudley, Kate Jennens, Judy Walgamuth, Priscilla Burdge, Joyce Stephen and Bonnie Gearhart.

Summer's Best Pie

Just in time for fresh peach season is this pie recipe. The blushing beauties of the fruit market are always luscious baked in a pie, but their goodness is emphasized in this splendid Struesel Peach Pie.

Peach preserves sweeten the fruit, lemon juice heightens the flavor and a spicy struesel sprinkled atop completes this peach-of-a-pie. Of course, it's the pastry that really makes any pie. You are assured of flaky, tender pastry by using a convenient pie crust mix.

STRUESEL PEACH PIE

Makes 8 servings

Pastry:		4 cups fresh or frozen peach slices, thawed and drained
One 10-oz. pkg. Pie Crust Mix
3 tablespoons cold water
Filling:		Topping:
1/2 cup peach preserves	1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons lemon juice	1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon cornstarch	1/4 cup sugar

Heat oven to hot (425°F.). For pastry, place all but 1/2 cup pie crust mix in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Gradually add water, tossing lightly with fork. Form into ball. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to fit 9-inch pie plate. Place in pie plate. Trim; flute edges high and prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Bake in preheated oven (425°F.) 10 minutes. Remove from oven. Lower temperature to moderate (375°F.).

For filling, combine preserves, lemon juice and cornstarch. Add peach slices, stirring just to combine. Pour into partially baked pie shell.

For topping, combine reserved 1/2 cup pie crust mix, cinnamon, nutmeg and sugar; sprinkle over filling. Bake in preheated oven (375°F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until bubbly. Cool on wire rack.

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

TEACH YOUR CHILD TO HANDLE MONEY

Training in the delicate art of handling money can't be started too soon. Here are a few good rules.

1. A regular allowance. Even a modest amount, received at regular intervals, helps a child learn the ABC's of regular income management and gives him the sense of independence that comes with being able to buy some small items on his own. This fixed amount should be something he can depend on; if you withhold part of his allowance regularly as punishment, you may be defeating this purpose. For the same reason, be firm about not giving unearned extra allowance.

2. The importance of credit. There are times, however, when a child may need extra money in addition to his regular allowance. Just as you may make purchases on the installment plan or borrow from a bank. You'll be teaching a very valuable lesson—how to borrow responsibly—if you let him borrow on future allowance and then hold him to the responsibility of paying it back. But if you find it's taking a long time to repay the debt, don't hesitate to wipe it out. The next time he borrows from you he may do better—and that's what training is all about!

3. Your example. One of the strongest factors in your child's training in money management will be the example you set him. Do you tend to rely heavily on credit cards and charge accounts even when you have the cash? Does your family budget provide a realistic balance between cash for day-to-day needs, including emergencies, and money banked in either a savings or checking account?

To deal effectively with sudden emergencies and opportunities that demand substantial amounts of cash, it's a good idea to have $500 or at least $200 in travelers checks right at home. Put them in a safe place and keep track of their serial numbers because—unlike cash—they are quickly refundable if lost or stolen.

4. Saving. Open a savings account in his name, and let him keep the passbook so he can watch the totals increase.

A word of warning from the financial experts: don't insist that a youngster of any age save a large slice of his allowance. He needs practice in spending as well as in saving!

Fireman's Association Meets In Akron

Twenty-eight members of the Fulton Co. Fireman's Association met at the Akron Fire station Monday night and following the meeting went to the home of Mrs. George Stephen who, with the assistance of Mrs. John Zimmerman, Mrs. Terry Walgamuth and Mrs. Bob Gray, served dinner to the group.

BONIFAY, FLA., HOLMES CO. ADVERTISER: "Voters should be skeptical of candidates who promise pie in the sky, good incomes for everyone, welfare for all who want it, jobs for all, etc. It's impossible for any candidate to deliver on such promises. To lead lazy, gullible and untalented individuals to expect too much from government produces... unjustified frustrations, disillusionment and dissatisfaction."

One thoughtful way to rate with your mate is to take the courtesy initiative with his or her folks. Instead of leaving it to your spouse to remember their birthdays and anniversaries, buy the appropriate cards yourself, without having to be reminded, and suggest that your in-laws be invited to a dinner celebration.

When visiting your in-laws, it's both thoughtful and wise to stay at a hotel or motel instead of their home. Otherwise, they might go way overboard in trying to please you, and get overtired and anxious in the enthusiastic process.

School Board adopts lower tax rate

Executive sessions occupied the Tippecanoe Valley school board for two hours Monday night.

The first executive (closed door) session came prior to the regular meeting and had been set at a previous meeting as a time to meet with the corporation's administrators.

Following this session, the board assembled for its public meeting, during which time it adopted a budget that calls for a $3.65 rate. This establishes a $1,428,426 general fund and a debt service fund of $9,600. The $3.65 rates includes an 82 cent cumulative building fund and a general rate of $2.83. The rate dropped 77 cents from last year because of the low general fund rate, Superintendent Robert Forbes said. He described the budget as a conservative one.

Forbes noted that the corporation will end the 1972 fiscal year with a "good" working balance because some of the funds included in last year's budget were not appropriated.

During a period set aside for audience participation, board members heard comments from Robert J. Hill, Mrs. Jean Roberts and William Ettinger, all asking that consideration be given the geographic and population centers of the corporation before a site for a proposed centralized high school is chosen.

After discussion the board took no action on a proposal that had been made by Waldo Adams to sell the corporation 40 acres that borders SR 19. A report from the conservation department indicated the land had a tendency to form ponds and would not be suitable for the construction of a school.

Dr. Wymond Wilson moved to change the policy that limits the board to an area a mile on the either side of a half-way point between Akron and Mentone to a new policy that would be to select the best site as near to the geographical center of the corporation as possible. He was supported by Richard Goshert's vote, but the other three board members, Dr. John McKee, Philip Lash and Maurice Coplen, voted no. The latter three indicated a willingness to look at such a site and Dr. Wilson said he would have the geographical center located by the next meeting.

Mentone Festival Set

July 28-29

Highlighted by a Saturday afternoon children's parade and dawn to dusk sidewalk sales, Mentone's annual Festival will be held July 28 and 29 under the sponsorship of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce.

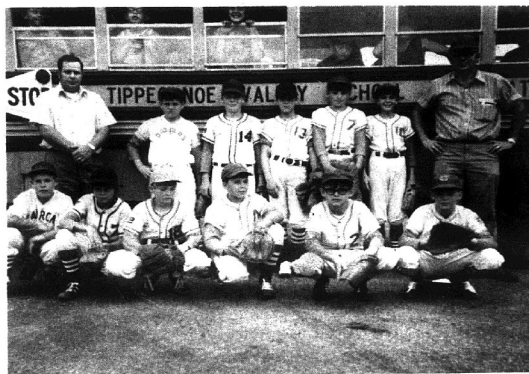

A pancake and sausage supper in the bank drive in will begin the evening activities on Friday and will be followed by a tractor pull and Little League ballgame.

A variety of activity is planned for Saturday, including a broadcast of the Rita Price show, done remote from downtown; a chicken barbecue, Little League championships, fire department water ball championship, archery contest, a gospel sing and an evening of games with prizes donated by merchants.

A complete schedule is included in this week's issue of the NEWS and will also be published next week for the convenience of those attending.

Mentone merchants will have sidewalk sales and other promotions, some of which are advertised this week and some of which will be listed in next week's NEWS.

Our Readers Write

The NEWS welcomes letters for publication but prefers that they be kept under 200 words. The letters need not express the views of this paper; however, they should not be libelous or in poor taste. Anonymous letters will not be published. The name of the writer must appear with his letter.

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank my many friends of Silver Lake who gave me gifts and wished me well on my move to the Peabody home. One gift was a subscription to your paper, which will be enjoyed weekly as I have friends in that area and though this is a friendly and wonderful place here, it will be nice hearing from that community and knowing what is going on there.

Thank You,

Dear Editor,

Murrah - the Fulton County Historical Society is out of debt, thanks to the successful ham and bean suppers at the Round Barn Festival. Visitors to the museum numbered over 1000 and about 800 people ate five big iron kettles full of ham and beans. The Afghan raffle was a success too, making us $59.50.

We want to thank all the people who brought in cornbread muffins, lent us needed items, and who worked at the museum, especially those who worked two shifts.

A special thanks to Mrs. Claude Wagoner who came to weave all three afternoons, to Mrs. Jack Lybarger and her daughters, and Bill Willard and sons, Bruce Hess, Lois Wagoner and Ted Lewis, who worked all three days, and to George McMillen who cooked the beans and watched the fire, and Joyce Bascom who made the Afghan.

We also thank the city park commissioners for letting us use the picnic tables, St. John Lutheran church for tables and chairs, Day Food Market for refrigeration, Berkway for special service and discount, and Mary Sampsel for soaking the beans at her house, and Moose Lodge for lending the tent.

A hearty thank you and three cheers to the Round Barn Festival committee for planning and carrying through this year's festival to a huge success. The loud speaker announcements alone were well worth the 15% share.

And last but not least, thank you to all the people who ate the ham and beans. Hope you enjoyed them and come back next year. Shirley Willard, president of Fulton Co. Historical Society

Dear Mr. Editor,

Once again I want to publically thank you for your splendid cooperation in promoting the blood bank. I think we were all very proud of the response in Henry Twp. Especially Byron Leininger, who gave his 72nd pint last Friday. Our quota being 21 pints, it was a big thrill to see the report that Henry Twp. had donated 38 pints and that the county had gone over their quota! Our thanks goes to many people; the many times donors, the new young donors and the nurses who donate their time.

I called on the factories in Akron and the spokesman for these invited me in to talk about our great need for blood donors to fill our quota. All these people pledged their support and I'm sure they did just that.

My personal thanks to all that donated and may we look for you to donate again at our next Blood Bank Day which is Oct. 21? Won't you who haven't donated yet, think about it, and go next time to assure you and yours that there is blood when your emergency arises.

Sincerely,
Violet Smoker
Blood Bank Chairman of Henry Twp.

Power Of The Press

The power of the press was brought out recently when a journalist from the Toronto Star toured 13 garages with a car that had a loose spark plug wire. Cecil Brenton, at Barney's Gulf Service, fixed the wire, charging nothing, saying: "I'm a Christian."

Ever since the garage has been flooded with cars, calls, letters and invitations to speak. "All I did," said Brenton, "was what I always do. There wasn't anything wrong with the car, so I didn't charge anything."

Three other garages also fixed the wire for nothing. The remaining nine charged varying amounts. Barney's is flooded with business, but "it will die down eventually," Brenton declared. "Some of these people coming in here now don't trust anybody. That's kind of sad, isn't it?"

The Star described him as "an honest man." Diogenes would have been proud of him.

It all goes to show the power of the press.

Do you have a story to tell.

It has to be a consolation for those of us who struggle to keep an automobile running, that even at that price, a fender fell off the rover."

A Tribute To Earl Arter

EARL ARTER and wife Lena in their store earlier this year.

For almost 60 years Earl Arter ministered to the Akron community's needs, whether it be to treat an illness, to provide a bit of advice or a friendly smile, a helping hand or a pat on the back.

In the words of an anonymous writer, he was a friend—one you know well and are fond of, one who is on your side.

There was never any doubt that he was on everyone's side. He was there when needed, dispensing medicine, wonderful ice cream concoctions or with his gentle manner making the problem seem somehow not quite as serious.

He loved young people and when he was interviewed in 1968 after having been honored by the Indiana Pharmaceutical Association for more than 50 years of service as a registered pharmacist, he said the one thing he had particularly enjoyed was watching the many generations of children who had grown up. And with a twinkle in his eye, he noted, "Today's children are really not too much different from the ones I watched back in 1914. They all have fun."

Although his health had been poor in recent months, Earl went to work as usual Monday, dying shortly afterwards. In spite of our grief, it seems suitable that his death came in the store he loved.

The community has suffered a tremendous loss in Earl's death and, while we are all richer for having known him, we will miss him.

Our sympathy goes to his devoted wife, Lena, and their family.

The new State bank is completing its moving into the elegant new quarters next door to this office as we go to press. It is quite a task to prepare a room as this one has been prepared and move a bank, safe, its books and papers all into it and get them in shape. As we write the expert from Indianapolis is here placing the new furniture and by Saturday everything will be in good shape for business.

A current newspaper carried the following account: "The wife of a Methodist minister in West Virginia has been married three times. Her maiden name was Partridge, her first husband was named Robin, her second, Sparrow, and the present one's name is Quayle. There are now two young Robins, one Sparrow and three little Quayles in the family. One grandfather was a Swann and another was a Jay, but he is dead and now a bird of Paradise. They live on Hawk Ave., Eagleville, Canary Islands, and the fellow who wrote this article is a Lyre bird and an interesting relative of the family."

Seth and family of wife, son and daughter came down from Chicago in his auto to visit the parental home in Rochester and embraced an opportunity to run over to Akron.

Kings set Open House Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell King, Mentone, have announced plans for an open house Sunday in their newly re-built and remodeled funeral home. The house, formerly a two-story structure, was damaged extensively by a fire that swept the upper floor early last December 14, leaving the Kings and their five children temporarily homeless.

The house has been rebuilt as a one-story building with plenty of room for the couple's six children (Samuel joined the family during its stay in the Wayne Tombaugh home following the fire). In addition, the chapel has been re-done, new restrooms and many other new facilities have been added for the comfort and convenience of their patrons. In appreciation of the work done by members of the Mentone Fire Department, their wives and many other people, the Kings were hosts last Tuesday evening at a dinner held in the fire station.

NEWLY REMODELED King Funeral Home will be open for inspection during open house Sunday afternoon. The former two-story structure was converted into a one-story building following the December 14, 1971, fire that gutted the upper level.

Accident Report

Geraldine Prater, 32, R. 1, Mentone, and Louise Meade, 35, R. 1, Mentone, were listed in fair condition Monday at Murphy Medical Center. They sustained lacerations, bruises and sprains when a car driven by Willard Prater, 34, R. 1, Mentone, missed the end of a "T" road intersection of CR 500 No. and CR 400 W. Sunday morning. Prater and Ben Meade, 381, R. 1, Mentone, were treated and released for injuries they received as the southbound Prater auto missed the intersection. Investigating officers said the accident took place in foggy weather conditions. The Prater vehicle was listed as a total loss with $650 damage.

LICENSE SUSPENSION

According to the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles, the driving privileges of John E. Sexton, Box 81, Burket, have been suspended until March 31, 1973, for drunken driving.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Sandwiches, plain and fancy, are refreshing head liners for summer time menus. Surveys have shown that the sandwich is to be this country's favorite form of food. Americans consume ninety four billion sandwiches a year.

Sandwiches are an easy, tasty, portable solution to a quick meal. The sandwich was invented by Earl IV of Sandwich who couldn't tear himself away from the gaming tables long enough to eat. He instructed his servants to bring his dinner to him between slices of bread. Thus the sandwich was born and perhaps the first carry out food service.

Sandwiches reflect American creativity. They grew and changed from the simplicity of a few slices of meat on bread to elaborate Dogwood combinations. You always have the "fixins" for sandwiches by merely cleaning out the refrigerator. The rules are simple - anything that sounds good - try it!

Appropriately enough August is national sandwich month. During the hottest days of summer a sandwich is quick and easy, cool and refreshing and nutritious. There is no need to turn on the oven or spend hours in the kitchen over the stove; each member of the family can prepare a tailor made sandwich.

For a new flair to your sandwich try onion flavored buns to give a mild taste of onion. Or use English muffins rather than buns or bread for variety. Fresh spinach is a crisp addition to any sandwich and a good way to get children to eat some spinach if they don't like it cooked. Eggs, cottage cheese, or cheese slices increase the protein content of sandwiches. The variety is endless. Use your imagination to prepare interesting nutritious summertime meals. Remember - if it sounds good try it.

The Trail Driver
(yield 6 sandwiches)
1 cup smoke flavored barbecue sauce, 12 ounces cooked roast beef, thinly sliced, 6 enriched poppy seed hamburger er buns, split, butter, 6 tablespoons creamy cole slaw, 12 onion rings, thinly sliced, 18 dill pickle slices. Simmer barbecue sauce 10 minutes. Add beef; simmer 30 minutes longer. Toast and butter buns. Place beef mixture on bottoms. Spread cole slaw on each; top with 2 onion rings and 3 dill pickle slices. Cover with bun top.

Dates to Remember:
July 19 - President's Council Meeting, Woman's Building
Aug 1, 2 and 4 - Clean Up Days for the Fair. (If you'd like to help call Mrs. Fred Kuhn, 267-4663).
Aug. 7-12 - Kosciusko County Fair.

The son of Franklin and Sylvia Holmes Flenner, he was born Aug. 6, 1891, in Kosciusko Co. He was married to Edna Berger on Mar. 16, 1918. She survives.

A retired farmer and lifetime resident of the Macy area, he was a member of the Ebenezer United Methodist Church and the Miami Co. Farm Bureau.

Surviving in addition to his wife are three sons, Estel, of West Point; Donald, R. 2, Macy, Galen, at home; six grandchildren; two great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Marie Zartman of Fulton. Three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Sheetz funeral home, Akron, with the Rev. William Shewman officiating. Burial was in the Greenlawn cemetery at Mexico.

Welborn

Philip Alan Welborn, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Welborn, R. 1, Mentone, died Thursday at his home of complications following a serious illness of two weeks. He was an honor student at Talma Junior High School and would have been in the eighth grade there this fall.

A lifetime resident of the Mentone area, he was born Apr. 2, 1959 at Rochester, the son of Everett and Joan Honegger Welborn. He was a member of the Mentone First Baptist Church.

Nuclear Energy is an

ENVIRONMENT PRESERVER, AND FUEL CONSERVER

Preservation of the environment, conservation of fossil fuels and holding down the costs of electricity are three of the biggest challenges this country's electric companies have.

Generation of electricity by the atom is the most feasible means of achieving these goals. The environment is preserved, since nuclear energy is virtually pollution free. Nuclear power also helps conserve the nation's dwindling reserves of fossil fuels and the more favorable operating costs it promises will aid our continuing effort to hold down the price of electricity.

More electricity—a lot more—is needed to help solve our pollution problems, provide jobs, and maintain a high standard of living for all of society. Nuclear power is one way NIPSCO will continue to meet your demands for electric energy and make a cleaner, healthier world for us all.

Homecoming came first, now it's the Mentone Festival

The Mentone Homecoming, an affair of note in the early part of the century, has given way to the Mentone Festival of today.

Editor Sam Shesler of the Akron News had this word about the Homecoming in the Aug. 30, 1912 issue, giving one an idea of the promotion that was involved with the early festivals.

MENTONE HOMECOMING

The Mentone Business and its grand citizenship are putting up a resplendent effort to furnish the country folks around about a free annual entertainment that will be worthy of the name. The promoters are in dead earnest and have faith in the matter that it will be a success and meet the approval of every visitor.

Late last week they traveled the country in automobiles advertising the homecoming and its attractions and last Thursday evening three car loads of Mentone's citizens accompanied by their band came over to Akron and attended our open air concerts, each "comer" wore a silken badge that we night get acquainted with them and we trust they received a welcome among our people that made them feel at home.

Our band vacated the stand and for a while the genial Mentone band rendered some music for the edification of our people that pleased the crowds that filled the street and which met with fetching applause.

We like Mentone's people. They are clever and congenial and we expect to attend their homecoming event tonight.

Population Scare

The scare of a population "explosion" is as old as Multhus, who predicted early in the last century that there would be standing room only on this earth by 1890.

Dr. Karl Brandt at Stanford declares that many nations need more people, not less, to cultivate food products and build a sound economy. The solution for India, he points out, is not so much birth control as bird control, and above all, more efficient agricultural methods. Birds in India eat up enough food for twice as many people as there are in the country.

What farmers need is an end to restrictive government controls and the creation of a free agricultural market based on supply and demand.

There are three basic errors of the population doom "experts": 1) They fail to realize that more people mean more production; 2) They fail to see that progress is continually being made in soil fertility, food preservation and distribution; 3) They fail to realize that poverty is caused by the incompetency of governments, particularly in socialist countries.

Harvest Festival Plans Continue At Kewanna

Plans are in full swing for the 1972 Kewanna Harvest Festival and Exposition to be held Aug. 17, 18 and 19.

Francis E. Sanders, chairman, said there will be two museums this year, one in the town hall that is sponsored by the Fulton Co. Historical Society and one in the Masonic Hall sponsored by the Festival. The public is invited to take items to either of the museums, he said. The arts and crafts show to be held in the Kewanna gym will be sponsored by the festival. Entry blanks can be obtained by writing James Logue, R. 1, Kewanna. A display of arts, ceramic and hobbies in the basement of the library will be sponsored by the Welcome Neighbors Home Demonstration Club. Entries are open to area residents and blanks can be obtained by writing Mrs. Frank Cihak, Kewanna.

The Festival will have state police, army air force exhibits on the midway, a drug exhibit by the Logansport Police Department and other attractions, including eating stands, merchants tent, Country Bazaar, free circus acts each day, free merchants drawing each day and night, clowns, bands and calliope concerts daily and amusements on the midway.

Two parades, the kids parade and contests on Friday at 2 p.m. and the mammoth 500-unit parade on Saturday, Aug. 19, at 2 p.m., will be featured. Frank Fontaine, "Crazy Googenheim" will lead the parade and will do a show on stage during and after the parade.

Also participating in the parade will be three of the largest drum and bubble corps in the world --The Real Valiants, Colonels and Maple City Cadets, all from Chicago. The parade will also have a variety of interesting entries including the Navy Terrier Missile.

The Harveststair will stage the musical pageant in the Kay Theater dailey. Titled "The Forgotten Memorial," it tells the history of Kewanna.

The annual Festival is sponsored by the Kewanna Progressive Association, whose members invite area residents to be their guests during the week of Aug. 17-19.

Take your problems to Church this week —

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

You grown-ups have made a mighty muddle of world affairs, such a botch of things that we little folk, when we grow up and take over, are going to have a tremendous task of straightening things out, cleaning up the mess and getting the world back in its track. You thought that because of all the new "gadgets" of the scientists, inventors and manufacturers that you were sufficient unto yourselves and needed no help from anyone or from any power. But does it bring you happiness, contentment? Are you free from fear and resentment? No, you have wars and rumors of wars and you do not gain the proper happiness from your new discoveries—and faith in many instances has been replaced by fear. It will be a big task but we little folk can handle it because we have abiding trust and faith. Now you grown-ups need to find the same kind of faith. That is what was meant by "Unless ye become as a little child . . ." So start now to recapture your faith. Go to your church and put everything into it that you did in perfecting your "gadgets" and you will find faith—the kind that "can remove mountains."

TUESDAY, JULY 25

The L.T.L. and W.C.T.U. will meet at the Akron park for a picnic on Tuesday noon, July 25th. The W.C.T.U. ladies will bring the food, and the children just bring their own table service. After the picnic, there will be an L.T.L. Day Camp at the Church of God until 3:30 P.M.

Bill collectors meet many men of promise.

Brethren Women Have Meeting

The Women's Fellowship of the Church of the Brethren met at the Waverly park at No. Manchester for the June meeting.

The young ladies of the church were in charge of the meeting. Following the picnic meal, Miss Sandra Gearhart was in charge of devotions. Her topic was on the life of The-lma Elfstrom. Miss Jo-an Kroft offered prayer. The August meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Rozella Tinkey. Election of officers will be held, and a white elephant auction.

What Is A Square?

I know a guy who's a real square. He's polite and God-respecting. He freely admits that he prays, openly weeps for joy, plays with little kids, kisses his mother, goes to his dad for advice, and thinks old folks are great. He puts savings in the bank, appreciates school, and avoids off-color discussions about sex. He goes to church regularly, drinks milk, drives within the speed limit, doesn't smoke, expects purity in girls and recognizes that the "in" crowd may be off-base.

As a result of his unusual behavior, he sometimes loses "friends" but he always wins the gratitude and admiration of his parents, family, teachers and many peers. He has an unpolluted imagination and exercises spiritual perception. To some he may seem a peculiar fellow. But his bearing suggests an enviable joy and peace of mind. I like him!

Easy Does It

On hot summer evenings even the best cooks can lose their enthusiasm for fixing family suppers. At such times an easy-to-make main dish salad may be the perfect choice. The Summer Salad Bowl pictured above is an appetizing combination of tomatoes, crisp greens, butter-flavored mushrooms, julienne of canned luncheon meat accented with packaged herb seasoned croutons and tossed with a tangy lemon and oil dressing. As a variation add Swiss cheese strips or hard-cooked egg slices. To accompany Summer Salad serve seeded rye bread, thinly sliced and buttered. Easy does it!

SUMMER SALAD BOWL

|---|--|
| 2 quarts salad greens, torn into bite-size pieces | 1 12-oz. can luncheon meat, cut in julienne strips |
| 2 cups herb seasoned stuffing croutons | 1 cup vegetable or olive oil |
| 2 3-oz. cans chopped broiled mushrooms, drained, reserving butter broth | 1/2 cup bottled lemon juice |
| 3 tomatoes, peeled, cut in wedges | 1 clove garlic, pressed |
| | 2 teaspoons Italian seasoning |
| | Salt and pepper |
- Place greens in large salad bowl. Add croutons, mushrooms, tomato wedges and luncheon meat strips. For dressing, place vegetable oil, bottled lemon juice, 1/2 cup of the reserved butter broth, garlic and Italian seasoning in a jar. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cover jar and shake well. Pour desired amount of dressing over salad; toss lightly. Serve immediately in chilled salad bowls.

Yield: 4-6 servings Summer Salad, 1 3/4 cups dressing

Kosciusko S.W.C. Wins Top Honors

The Kosciusko Soil and Water Conservation District has been named Indiana's first place winner in the 25th annual Goodyear Conservation Awards Contest.

The winning district was selected by an independent committee of conservation leaders on the basis of leadership, planning and achievements. The contest is sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in association with the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD).

Howard Silveus, Silver Lake, who was named the district's outstanding cooperator, and Myron R. Metzger, Claypool, member of the district's governing board, will be Goodyear's guests in December on a four-day vacation study trip to Marco Island, Fla. With representatives of other first-place districts throughout the nation, they will observe conservation projects and agriculture in the area and enjoy the island's recreational facilities.

The awards program gives recognition to first and second place conservation districts and to the outstanding cooperators of all competing districts in the 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Benton Soil and Water Conservation District is the runner-up in the Goodyear Contest and its outstanding cooperator is Dennis Sondgerath, Fowler.

Red Cross Appeals For Disaster Funds

Residents of Kosciusko County have contributed approximately $2,500 in response to the appeal of the American Red Cross for funds to aid the victims of Hurricane Agnes in the eastern states and flood victims in the west states. Myron Ringo reported today. Red Cross chapters all over the United States are urged to over-subscribe the amount first requested, he said, noting that due to the magnitude of the devastation the American Red Cross disaster budget of $10 million was wiped out and the slim reserves of the organization eaten up. He said there is no way to estimate the total cost to the Red Cross which has expended $14 million for the Eastern states plus the needs of flood sufferers in So. Dakota, California and Alaska at this point. Hundreds were killed when the floods and hurricane struck. Now that the water has receded, there are thousands who suffered losses of their businesses, their homes and all their personal property. As of July 10, he said, there were 41 Red Cross shelters still housing 3,889 people in Pennsylvania and six shelters housing 1,983 people in New York state. Thousands more were being fed, since cooking facilities were still disrupted in many places.

Saying somebody has to feed the men, women and children, clothe them and find homes for them, Ringo said campaign quotas were doubled when the gravity of the flood damage was surveyed. He said it is essential that chapters continue their special disaster campaign in order that quotas be substantially exceeded.

Checks may be made payable to Kosciusko Co. Chapter, American Red Cross, a United Fund partner.

Hillis Find Tippecanoe River Is Now "Fairly Clean"

Congressman Elwood H. "Bud" Hillis has reported he is "extremely optimistic" that the Tippecanoe River can be restocked with fish this fall.

The report came as Hillis evaluated the results of his four-hour canoe trip down the Tippecanoe recently. Although results on some laboratory tests of the water are still unavailable, the Congressman reported the water was surprisingly clear, with no physical signs of pollution.

Earlier, an oil leak and manure spill had polluted the river and killed off hundreds of fish. Hillis was integral in initiating corrective action against the two companies involved and in starting clean-up activities along the areas of river affected.

The Fifth District Congressman said the canoe caravan he led down the river had spotted deer tracks and several species of wildlife, and was pleased to find considerable vegetation and several species of fish in the river.

"I was extremely happy to see fish could survive in these waters -- this leads me to believe the river can be restocked with at least certain species for the next spawning season. In addition, I found out many of the fish served at a fish fry following the float had been caught in the Tippecanoe recently, Hillis said.

The Congressman, who used to paddle the river as a youth, noted: "The big difference in the river today is in the bank development. I noticed a lot more houses and cottages than several years ago, but these homes will not damage the river as long as proper steps are followed in disposing of waste products--I saw no evidence of this type of pollution."

"In fact, the entire float was quite scenic and peaceful. Only on two occasions did I see any man-made products sitting at the waters' edge and I was assured that with the exception of being an eye-sore, they were not polluting the stream," Hillis continued.

In addition to two water samples for lab inspection, the Congressman's float group ran a test with an oxygen meter, which measures the temperature of the water and indicates the amount of oxygen present in the water for animal life.

"I'm pleased to report that the water is well above the danger zone in terms of oxygen. On the meter, anything below four is critical. I understand the reading was about 0.2 when the river was polluted by liquid manure--the fish simply didn't have enough oxygen to live. But our reading on the canoe float was around 7.5--this is plenty of oxygen to support fish life," Hillis said.

The collection of essays in this book is an effort to portray the sights, sounds, aromas, sweat, tears, work and laughter that have gone into the growth and development of midwestern agriculture. They will strike a familiar chord in the minds of both country and city folk who have experienced them in the past, or who still know them as a reality. An effort has been made to record them before the colors fade.

Recognizing the need for overweight people to meet one evening each week, former TOPS members Gloria Parson, Donna Loer and Joyce Moore recently formed a new weight reducing club, the Pounds Away Club.

Membership is open to anyone wanting to shape up by attending regular meetings. Exercise, not required, is recommended as a way to firm up muscles and will be offered after each meeting.

Members will be weighed on doctor's scales and will receive a token for each pound lost to encourage further losses and games will be played for three or four weeks at a time with prizes being awarded the persons recording the best weight loss.

The meetings are held each Wednesday evening in the Akron library basement from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m. and the exercise period follows.

Monthly reports will be published in the NEWS.

In issuing the invitation to the club, its founders added as a word of caution: "Over-eating may be hazardous to your health."

Mentone Club Has Picnic At Akron

The Mentone Extension Homemakers Club met July 13 at the Akron park for a carry-in dinner.

After eating, over-eating, according to some members, the meeting was called to order by the vice president, Olive Tucker. Mary Borton read the history of the song of the month and led members in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Louise Jones gave meditation.

Sixteen members, five children and three guests, Mrs. Nell Decker, Mrs. Jones' mother, of Oklahoma, Mrs. Ballenger of Roann and Mrs. Joe Miller, Mentone, were present. A card was received from Esther Sarber, then on tour in Europe.

Eula Smith conducted the business session and the meeting closed with members repeating the club collect and singing the prayer song.

Olive Tucker conducted games.

The August meeting will be a lawn party at the home of Mae Bowerman with Mrs. Mildred Fowler as co-hostess.

CARD OF THANKS
To all who have been so thoughtful and understanding during the illness and subsequent passing of our husband and father, we wish to extend our heartfelt appreciation. Words can never fully express our gratitude for your many kindnesses.

Things don't just happen to us who love God, They're planned by His own dear hand.

Then moulded and shaped, and timed by His clock, Things don't just happen, They're planned.

We who love Jesus are walking by faith, Not seeing one step that's ahead.

Not doubting one moment what our lot might be, But looking to Jesus instead.

We praised our dear Saviour for loving us so, For planning each care of our life.

Then giving us faith to trust Him for all, The blessings, as well as the strife.

Things don't just happen to us who love God, To us that have taken our stand.

No matter the lot, the course or the price, Things don't just happen, They're planned.

Following the second hour-long executive session, the board called, in turn, each of the principals, talked with the, and then reconvened to approve salaries as follows: Oliver England $13,500; Dean Rager and George Welch, each $15,000; Forst Dunnuck $18,500 and John Hurst, $18,000.

Forbes reported on the role a project manager could play in supervising the construction of a building, based on his conversations with one hired by Everett I. Brown to work at Elwood. He said a project manager could be available through the architect-engineer selected for school construction and noted that in questioning the State Board of Accounts, he had been told that board questioned the legality of a school board entrusting school construction to one person.

The board voted to advertise for gasoline and fuel oil bidders, the bids to be opened at the August 21 meeting.

In other action, the board voted approval on a transfer for Melvin Klein to attend No. Miami High School so he can take vocational agriculture, a course not offered in TVSC, and also approved the appointment of Randall Leininger to the Akron Library board.

Don Poyser's name was added to a list of available school bus drivers.

The board will meet in special session next Monday evening, July 24, at 7:30 for four hour-long appointments with architect-engineers.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

My brother Alan and I formed a conspiracy soon after he was born. I was almost four and not much given to sharing, but I soon learned. For instance, when he cried and I jammed his bottle so far down his throat it almost knocked his tonsils out and got spanked, we cried together.

As we grew older we not only shared, we learned to take turns. When he fell out of the hay mow, a strictly forbidden area, I hid; when I fell out, he hid. When I hugged him (he said it was a strangulation attempt) and he bit my stomach, I told; when I learned the facts of life and shared my new knowledge with him, he told—right in front of a house full of guests.

We took turns riding down L-Lake hill at break-neck speeds on his bicycle and in other less awe-inspiring antics, such as watching a favorite plant of Mom's that drooped horribly when it needed water. Whoever found the plant drooping had only to shout for water and the other would race into the living room with a glassful. "Water! Ann! Bring some water!" Alan yelled one day as we came home from school. I sped to the kitchen and rushed back into the living room with a glass of water which he promptly drank, handed the glass back and said, "Thanks." I didn't kill him and I didn't drench him with another glass of water, although both alternatives crossed my mind. Rather, I waited my turn and got revenge in some equally sadistic way I've long since forgotten.

By the time I graduated from high school, we had shared and taken turns at heckling the other's friends, arguing about everything, fighting in general, reporting what we had seen and heard of the other one at school, catching insects for his 4-H projects and leading balky calves for mine. Even better, I could still beat him in a good scuffling match. By Thanksgiving of the same year, however, the balance of power had switched. When I came home from college for the holiday I discovered my little brother was suddenly over six feet tall. I wasn't about to face odds like that. We went back to sharing and taking turns.

When Loren and I were married, his brother joined Alan in helping decorate our car and in perpetrating a lot of practical jokes. "We'll get even," Loren said, proving likes DO marry.

Since we were busy establishing a home and working and Alan was still in high school, there was little to take turns about although we kept reminding him, "One of these times, you'll get married and it'll be our turn."

Instead, Loren got drafted, leaving for service the day Alan left for GE apprentice school.

As Alan kissed me good-bye the next spring we both wept. I was going to join Loren in Germany, and although I was eager to be with him again, I think Alan and I both sensed the 5,000 miles that would soon separate us were something more than mere miles, that somehow the distance marked the end of an old form of sharing and trading and that neither of us would ever be quite the same again.

In the fall, Alan got married. "Oh what a dirty trick," we protested as we joined German friends in drinking a toast to the newlyweds. "We've waited four years to get even." We partially evened the score a few months later by making him an uncle without his being able to spoil the baby.

Alan and his bride, Bev, met us in New York in the summer, laughing as Todd wet all over my new "coming home" suit and helping try to surprise our parents, a move that was fun but failed. They'd been used to our conspiracies so long they had supper ready when we got there, a place set for each of us.

Within the next few years, Alan and Bev added Tami and Greg to the family and we added Doug. It was different than before but we soon found a new form of sharing and trading was taking place, evidenced this summer as we watched Todd, Tami, Greg and Doug race at break-neck speeds on mini-bikes and saw 12-year old Tami read the boys' palms. "There is a water line," she said, her voice mysterious as she traced the line. "Sure enough, the water is starting to flow!" She spat in the palm she had just "read" and ran, the boys in hot pursuit. We listened to their shouts, "Todd's throwing toads!" "Doug's going too fast on the mini-bike!" and we ordered them out of the hay mow.

"We never did anything like that, did we?" I asked Alan, and he agreed we had been model children. If only we could do something to instill that same degree of good behavior in our children...

Last week it was our turn to say good-bye as they left to spend approximately six months in Singapore when Alan will train a Malaysian in his line of work in a factory being established there by General Electric. They plan stops in Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong and Bangkok. They should get to Singapore Saturday, 14 years to the day from the day they met us in New York.

"Bring us a four-year old Chinese girl," we told Tami and she dutifully wrote it in her notebook. "Make that a 36-24-36 Hawaiian girl," 14-year old Todd whispered and she looked doubtful. "I'll bring you some lizard guts," 11-year old Greg said, reminding us of the times we'd teased him he'd have to eat lizard. For once, our eight-year old Doug had little to say.

Since we never completely got even with Alan for getting married while we were in Germany, we're trying to think of something to do while he is in Singapore. To date, we've thought of nothing but there's still time. We did hear Todd, who is already taller than either of us, say, "I hope I can surprise them and be as tall as Uncle Alan when they get back."

They may be 10,000 miles from home but the conspiracy Alan and I formed almost 34 years ago will last a long time, for now instead of just Ann and Alan, there are Loren and Bev and Todd, Tami, Greg and Doug to continue it.

Vacation Trip Tips

Most motorists know that getting an engine tune-up before starting out on a vacation trip is a good idea.

But it's only half the battle when it comes to getting your car ready to perform at its best. A thorough inspection and repair, if necessary, of the car's suspension system is every bit as important, says Chuck Stroberg, chassis product manager of TRW Replacement division, Cleveland, Ohio.

Vacation driving means heavy loads, high speeds and a lot of miles — a real "command performance" for your car. Unless suspension system parts such as shock absorbers, springs, tie rods and ball joints are up to the task, the car owner may be in for an uncomfortable, unsafe journey and premature tire wear.

According to TRW, tell-tale signs of a suspension system in need of a tune-up include:

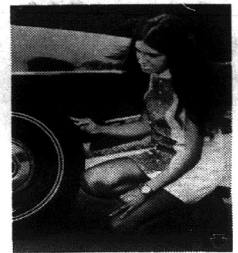

- "Pulling" to one side or the other
- Unusual noises coming from the suspension system
- Uneven tire wear
- Excessive "play" in the steering wheel
- Failure of the car to level out quickly after going over a bump
- Vibration or "shimmy"
- "Bottoming out" on bumps

"Motorists experiencing any of these conditions should take their car to an alignment specialist, or a neighborhood service station that performs this service, and have the suspension system — front and rear — checked out completely," says Mr. Stroberg.

The alignment specialist will check the curb height to insure that the springs or torsion bars are within allowable limits. He'll check for excessively worn, broken or leaking shocks. An inspection will be made of the steering linkage — tie rod ends, centerlink, pitman and idler arms — for wear and looseness that could allow changes in the "Toe" setting and extreme tire wear.

The suspension parts that hold the wheels on the vehicle, ball joints, control arms and bushings will also be thoroughly inspected for wear that can cause alignment problems and safety hazards. Wheel bearings will be inspected and adjusted. A good mechanic will also make a thorough check of the rear suspension control arms and bushings. Problems here can affect the steering, handling, and safety of your car.

After making his inspection, your mechanic will recommend replacement of the worn parts before he proceeds with the alignment. If he knows you are planning to tow a trailer, he may suggest a rear suspension overload support unit to help insure that your car will maintain a level attitude for good steering control and headlight aiming.

When all the suspension parts problems have been corrected he will do the alignment. "This is the 'tune-up' of the chassis that will prolong tire life, provide better handling and riding qualities for less driver fatigue and, most of all, the peace of mind that comes with knowing your vehicle is in peak driving condition," concludes Mr. Stroberg.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

NAPOLÉON, OHIO, NORTHWEST-SIGNAL: "What makes lemming-like candidates run? Do all of them think they are responding to a call from the people?... It would be nice to learn that most candidates are motivated by good and noble purposes: to serve their fellow citizens, to popularize a point of view, to improve the quality of government. And, to be sure, some do have such altruistic aims. Yet the fact remains that the chief motivation for most candidates even the apparent altruists, is far less lofty — a unique mixture of ambition and ego almost beyond the understanding of outsiders."

Where Did We Go Wrong?

Parents who find that their children are using drugs often ask themselves this question. Social workers tell them that is not their fault. But, says a Stanford University research team, it usually is their fault.

Their study of 101 families picked at random indicates that "permissive" families are more likely to have drug problems. The researchers, who describe themselves as "more or less permissive," broke down the probability of drug use into 39 high-risk, 29 moderate-risk and 33 low-risk families.

The low-risk ones tended to venerate God, country and family. Discipline and obedience were stressed, as was parental guidance in choosing friends, food and bedtime. These families had few pill and medicine bottles around, and fewer liquor bottles.

High-risk families, "fine people" says the report, valued family life little and usually had servants to care for the children. Freedom without guidance was the prevailing attitude toward the young ones. High-risk families had less religion but more alcohol, pills and speeding tickets.

"Just let the kiddies grow" was the prevailing high-risk attitude. This does not work for flowers, corn or money, says one scientist, and "it certainly doesn't work with children." Of the growing tendency of liberal parents to permit children to learn for themselves, trying LSD or marijuana for example, one psychologist says, "That can be costly for the child." It can kill him.

Amish Acres Sets Art Festival

Historic Amish Acres in Nappanee will present the 10th annual Art Festival Thursday thru Sunday, August 10-13, 9 a.m. until dusk daily.

The four-day week-end was originated by the Pletchers of Nappanee as a local sidewalk art exhibit. The event expanded each year and has now grown into a full-fledged festival of art, entertainment, food and attractions for the whole family. This is the third year the festival has been held at the farm, an 80-acre tourist attraction developed around a restored Amish house and farm, which now includes a family style restaurant, gift shop and bakery.

Ms. Jane Allen, art correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, has been selected to judge this year's competition. Ms. Allen is currently president of the Chicago New Art Association and a member of the Executive Board of the National Art Association. She was co-curator of a photographic show, "Chicago Like It Is and Was" and has authored a comprehensive article on the Soviet Union Arts and Crafts exhibit in Chicago Tribune Magazine.

Ms. Allen will present over 80 cash awards in adult, student and children's divisions, totaling more than $1,000 to artists in the competition, featuring a $200 Best of Show purchase prize. Nearly 1,000 paintings are expected, representing the work of over 300 artists. Nearly 200 artists and craftsmen are expected to establish booths offering their wares and works for sale in a market atmosphere.

In addition, many other activities of interest to the whole family are planned, including a puppet show, a sports car rallye, barbershop quartets, plays, square dancing and many food stands, including some that specialize in the seven sweets and sour of the Pennsylvania Dutch table.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Poor food handling practices in the home often cause illness in the family, even though the foods were safe to eat when purchased or just prepared.

Outbreaks of illness from food contaminated by harmful bacteria are especially common during hot summer months when perishable foods are carried on picnics and cookouts without proper refrigeration.

To avoid the spread of bacteria thoroughly clean all dishes, utensils and work surfaces with soap and water after each use. Bacteria can be destroyed by rinsing utensils and work surfaces with chlorine bleach in the proportion recommended on the package. Cutting boards, meat grinders, blenders and can openers particularly need this protection.

Staph is the most common type of food poisoning. This bacteria grows profusely between the temperatures of 44° and 115° F. Symptoms of the illness include vomiting, diarrhea, and abdominal cramps. Generally this is a mild illness and the person infected believes he had had the flu. Staph poisoning can be prevented by keeping cold foods cold and hot food hot.

Salmonellae a more severe food poisoning can be transmitted by several methods including household pets. Homemade ice cream made with cracked eggs that are not cooked is often a cause of salmonellae poisoning.

Cooked meats, gravies and meat dishes held without proper refrigeration can be the cause of Clostridium Perfringens poisoning. The symptoms include nausea without vomiting, diarrhea and acute stomach inflammation. The victim is usually well again within twenty-four hours.

The rarest and deadliest type of food poisoning is botulism. The fatality rate is high, in the United States about 65 percent. Botulism spores grow a produce toxin in the absence of oxygen, such as in a sealed container. Home canned foods are usually the source of this illness. Green beans are most often the source. Never use a hot water bath to can green beans, use a pressure canner. If you have used a hot water bath for beans in the past and have never had any problems you have been lucky. Botulism doesn't cause the food to smell or look spoiled.

Be especially careful during the hot summer months to protect your family against food borne illnesses. When attending picnics and carry in dinners, keep cold foods cold and hot foods hot.

PAC Meeting Attended by 17

Seventeen ladies attended the weekly meeting of Akron's Pounds Away Club Wednesday evening.

Each lady was given a chart to test her will-power strength. These "Test Your Strength" charts will be filled in each week as weight losers attain their goals. As each pound is lost a one pound section or two pound section will be colored in until finally they have won the battle and can ring the bell at the top for a new figure!

The best loser for the week was Donna Loer with a loss of five pounds.

Discussion followed with members suggesting that close consideration be given when drinking low calorie pop. Often times, some have as many calories as regular pop. Also, a sugar substitute was suggested instead of sugar for iced tea and other liquids and foods.

Measurements were taken and will be retaken each month, pictures were taken of new members and kept in six months will be taken again for members to see

Focus on Sick Cell Anemia

Attention throughout the state is being focused on the treatment of sickle cell anemia.

The Ft. Wayne Journal Gazette's Sunday paper contained an article about the work being done in that city to focus attention on the treatment of the disease and pictured former Akron resident Dixie Arter as one of the concerned citizens who hopes to organize a town meeting for the entire community to discuss what needs to be done in Ft. Wayne about the disease. She is working with the Neighborhood Services Association.

A new center for the treatment of exceptionally difficult sickle cell anemia cases has been established at Riley Hospital for Children at the Indiana University Medical Center with a $23,000 grant from the Indiana State Board of Health. It will be directed by Dr. Robert Baehner, associate professor of pediatrics at the Indiana School of Medicine and an authority on diseases of the blood in children.

Dr. Baehner said the center would serve the entire state as a referral center for victims of sickle cell anemia who are not responding to conventional treatment. The center will serve as a diagnostic unit in which the resources of the Medical Center can be coordinated to establish treatment programs for the difficult cases.

Dr. Baehner said the disease usually can be treated with great success with a variety of drugs, but the program of treatment must be developed individually for each patient. There is no standard treatment for the difficult cases, he said.

Sickle cell anemia is a hereditary disease that primarily afflicts blacks. Instead of their normal disc shapes, red blood cells have sickle shapes. The misshapen cells interfere with each other as they flow through the circulatory system and fail to deliver sufficient oxygen to the organs and muscles.

Dixie Arter ... hopes to organize a town meeting

TVSC Board Interviews Architects

The Tippecanoe Valley school board granted four hour-long interviews with many architectural firms Monday night to get their views on a proposed high school for the corporation.

In the order of their appearance were representatives of Everett I. Brown, Indianapolis; Fleck, Burkhart, Shropshire, Boots, Reid, Day and Associates of Indianapolis; The Shaver Partnership of Salina, Kansas with a branch in Michigan City, and Louis C. Kingscott Associates of Kalamazoo, Mi., with a branch office in Indianapolis.

Oliver H. Ogden and Associates of So. Bend is also being considered by the board, having been hired previously be a board to draw plans for maintaining high schools at Akron and at Mentone. He presented two sets of schematics to the board, but no action was taken on either set. The board later moved to abandon the two-school policy and pursue a one-school plan and instructed Ogden to discontinue work on schematics.

No decision was reached at Monday night's meeting.

The next regular meeting of the board will be Monday, Aug. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office.

Farm Safety Week Set

Despite all that is said and all that is done to prevent farm accidents, they still occur.

That is one reason National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, continues to be an important annual event, warranting public attention and thoughtful consideration.

A 1970 survey in 14 Indiana counties and involving 2,509 farms revealed that 406 accidents occurred, says F. R. Willsey, Purdue University extension safety specialist. Roughly, that's one accident to every six farms surveyed.

Farm machinery figured in 36 per cent of the accident, with tractors involved in one fourth of these. Falls accounted for about three of every 10 accidents.

Approximately 44 per cent of those injured required hospitalization, and 18 per cent of the accidents resulted in fracture. Members of the farm family were involved in 88 per cent of the accidents and 73 per cent of the injured were males.

Most accidents occurred in April, June and July, the survey noted, with Saturday the most accident prone day. Critical hours were 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Accident victims by age groups were about equally divided between four age groups, 5-14, 15-24, 25-44 and 45-64, Willsey says.

This year's Farm Safety Week theme is "Protective Equipment--Your Defense Against Injury."

So once again the emphasis is on preventing accidents. Not only are injuries painful, but they cost time and money.

Here are a few protective equipment suggestions:

Use "hard hats" to protect your head from flying and falling objects and from bumps. Even lightweight caps provide some protection.

Safety glasses, goggles and face shields can protect your eyes from flying objects, particles and chemicals.

Filter masks keep dust, chaff and other particles out of your lungs. Cartridge respirators or gas masks are recommended when you are applying pesticides. Use supplied air or self-contained breathing devices in a silo or manure tank or pit.

Ear muffs and plugs reduce hearing damage where long exposure to noisy equipment is necessary.

Gloves shield the hands, rubber and plastic garments can spare the skin from ag chemicals, and safety shoes may save the feet and toes.

Personal protective equipment could be the best farming investment you ever made. Spending a little may save a lot. But even the best safety equipment cannot prevent an accident if not used.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 1

Mentone Unit 106 War Mothers will meet at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Dora Norris.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2

Akron Pounds Away Club will meet in the Akron Library basement at 7 p.m. New members and guests are welcome.

Pink and Blue Shower Honors Mrs. Ralston

Mrs. Freda Witham was hostess at a pink and blue shower Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Rick (Joann) Ralston.

After games, the guest of honor and her son Ricky opened the gifts.

Refreshments were served to the Mesdames Shirley Sturgess, Elaine Bertch and Betty Horn of Warsaw, Goldia Kessler, Mary Kehoe, Esther Wise and Cynthia, Eula Smith and Melva and Betty, Linda Cochran, Louise Jones and Lea Ann, Nell Decker, Grace Sullivan, Pearl Horn and Mary Barkman and the Misses Ima Taylor and Janie and Sally Witham.

Church Meeting Is Cancelled

Announcement was made this week of the cancellation of a meeting scheduled at the Mentone Church of Christ. Due to Mentone Days this week-end, the meeting will be postponed until September at a time and date to be announced later.

There's A Moral Here

A man was being examined for Soviet citizenship. "If you had a thousand acres of land," asked the official, "would you give half of it to the state?" "Yes," said the applicant. "And if you had a herd of sheep, would you give half of that to the state?" "Sure," piped the Slav. "And if you had two pairs of pants would you share them?" "NO." "And why not?" "I've got two pairs of pants."

General Telephone is being invaded by a new cast of characters.

These friendly-faced little characters are infiltrating our company.

They're everywhere. On our trucks... our walls... our desks.

But, we're not worried. They're here to do some good for us. And for you.

You see, we're behind this invasion ourselves. The One to One symbol is our constant self-reminder that you, our customers, should be treated directly and personally. On a one to one basis.

It's sort of a spiritual revival with us. Doing unto others as you would have them do unto you.

It's an inspired idea that's worked wonders for centuries. We think it'll do the same for our relations with you. After all, it takes inspired people to do inspired work.

That's why we're sure our new attitude, plus all the money General Telephone is spending for new equipment, will result in the phone service we all want.

And, to make doubly sure, our invaders are always around to keep us on our toes.

The families and friends of the late Gus Bouse of Silver Lake held a get-together at Warvel Park on Sunday, July 23. Oldfather, Elkhart; Ruskin Oldfather and daughter, Lucinda, Goshen; Art Cerello of Downers Grove, Illinois.

Marsha Stanley, Silver Lake, has been granted a junior membership in the American Angus Association of St. Joseph, Mo. Her new junior membership entitles her to register purebred Angus at regular membership rates and to the privileges of the Association until she is 21 when she will be eligible to convert to lifetime membership. Travel SAFETY

When driving long distances, limit yourself to 300 miles per day-tops. Don't try to break your own endurance record or you might break something even more valuable.

If you're a poor plane traveler, get as much sleep during the trip as possible. Drink plenty of water and avoid alcohol, which tends to dry out the body, and you'll arrive in finer fettle.

Refreshing California Salad

The recipe for tempting "Golden Bartlett Pear Salad" calls for making only one orange gelatin mold to serve six persons. But the photo shows twin molds — simply a matter of doubling the amount of ingredients and using two molds, or one large mold, if you prefer, to serve 12 persons at a big company dinner.

GOLDEN BARTLETT PEAR SALAD

- | | |
|----------------------------------|---|
| 1 package (3 oz.) orange gelatin | 2 fresh California Bartlett pears |
| dash salt | 1/4 cup sliced celery |
| 1 cup boiling water | 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper (optional) |
| 1 teaspoon slivered orange rind | Western iceberg lettuce |
| 1/4 cup orange juice | |

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Stir in orange rind and juice. Chill 1/2 cup gelatin mixture until slightly thickened. Pare, halve and slice pears. Arrange part of slices against sides of 3 or 4-cup mold. Pour thickened gelatin carefully around pear slices. Chill until almost firm. Chill remaining gelatin until it mounds on spoon. Dice remaining pears and fold into gelatin with celery and green pepper. Turn into mold over chilled gelatin and sliced pears. Chill several hours until firm. To serve, dip mold into warm water a few seconds and invert onto lettuce-garnished serving platter. Cut into slices. Makes 6 servings.
