ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

As soon as I found the card, I knew it was perfect for Loren. "Happy Father's Day to my husband who is celebrating the day...because of me."

"Perfect," I chuckled. "Absolutely right." "Pretty cute," he said later as he opened it and laughed. "Right, too," he added, and I grinned.

"Hey, Dad," our youngest said, bursting into the room before I could add any of the choice innuendoes husbands and wives reserve for each other on such occasions. "Let's get that fence fixed right now."

"Okay," my mate said tiredly, following our 12-year-old to the garage for barbed wire and nails, but not before he'd muttered over his shoulder, "Because of you."

"Hey, Dad, can you help with the battery charger?" our older son called to his father a bit later as the fence builders returned to the garage. "Because of you," my husband shouted, cupping his hands to form a megaphone to direct the sound to the house.

And when the phone rang and it was for one of the boys, as it usually is, he yelled, "Because of you," as he went in search of the person being called. And he said it later when the belt slipped off the lawnmower and when the truck had to be emptied so a bicycle could be loaded and when he was reminded it had been some time since he had gone fishing with his youngest or had helped work on any of his oldest's vehicles.

"Happy Father's Day," I said as he finally settled into his recliner for his Sunday afternoon nap.

"Because of you..." he said, his voice trailing off in a snore.

Because of me, I'm, going to be a lot more selective in the future when it comes to selecting Father's Day cards. The cute and so-called humorous ones are out. Next year, I'm going to look for something nice and practical--like a plain brown bag that is blank on the inside too so he can fill in his own message.

Then, if it doesn't turn out right, I can give him a wicked grin and say sweetly, "It's all because of you."

NOTE: My life seems to have fallen into the hands of two contradictory masters: time and space. This week's column is a good example of the clutches these two have me in: when it was time to use this column, there was no space; now, when there is space for a 4th of July-centered column, there was no time to prepare one. However, Father's Day was a happy time in our lives, as we hope it was in yours and as we hope this July 4th will be for all of us as we take extra time to honor the 200th birthday of this great space in which we live--the United States of America. We pastors in the Akron area are urging people, ATTEND CHURCH ON YOUR NATIONS BIRTHDAY! God has richly blessed us. One way to show our gratitude is to be in God's House on July 4th. Take your family to Church.

I am the nation

I was born on July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is my birth certificate. The bloodlines of the world run in my veins because I offered freedom to the oppressed. I am many things, and many people.

I am the nation.
I am more than two hundred million living souls--and the ghost of millions who have lived and died for me.

I am Nathan Hale and Paul Revere. I stood at Lexington and fired the shot heard around the world. I am Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry. I am John Paul Jones, the Green Mountain Boys and Davy Crockett. I am Lee and Grant and Abe Lincoln.
I remember the Alamo, the Maine and Pearl Harbor. When freedom called I answered and stayed until it was over, over there. I left my heroic dead in Flanders Field, on the rock of Corregidor, on the bleak slopes of Korea and in the steaming jungle of Vietnam.

I am the Brooklyn Bridge, the wheatlands of Kansas and the granite hills of Vermont. I am the coalfields of the Virginias and Pennsylvania, the fertile lands of the West, the Golden Gate and the Grand Canyon. I am Independence Hall, the Monitor and the Merrimac.

I am big. I sprawl from the Atlantic to the Pacific...my arms reach out to embrace Alaska and Hawaii...three million square miles throbbing with industry. I am more than five million farms. I am forest, field, mountain and desert. I am quiet villages, and cities that never sleep.

You can look at me and see Ben Franklin walking down the streets of Philadelphia with his breadloaf under his arm. You can see Betsy Ross with her needle. You can see the lights of Christmas, and hear the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" as the calendar turns.

I am Babe Ruth and the World Series. I am 130,000 schools and colleges, and 320,000 churches where my people worship God as they think best. I am a ballot dropped in a box, the roar of a crowd in a stadium and the voice of a choir in a cathedral. I am an editorial in a newspaper and a letter to a Congressman.

I am Eli Whitney and Stephen Foster. I am Tom Edison, Albert Einstein and Billy Graham. I am Horace Greeley, Will Rogers and the Wright brothers. I am George Washington Carver, Daniel Webster and Jonas Salk.

I am Longfellow, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Walt Whitman and Thomas Paine.

Yes, I am the nation, and these are the things that I am. I was conceived in freedom and, God willing, in freedom I will spend the rest of my days.

May I possess always the integrity, the courage and the strength to keep myself unshackled, to remain a citadel of freedom and a beacon of hope to the world.

This is my wish, my goal, my prayer in this year of 1976--two hundred years after I was born.

60 YEARS AGO

Wednesday afternoon was the day set to raise an elegant new barn on Mr. Robert Burn's farm two and one-half miles northwest of Akron. We recall the fact that the old barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground early this spring.

Miss Josephine Shaffer has a card from Mrs. Alice Valentine Newton, dated at Sebring, Ohio, stating that her heart is very sad along with other mothers of the country, whose sons have enlisted in the army to settle old Mexico. However, she is glad that her son Chester can stand for his country and that he is a willing soldier.

Mrs. M. L. Patterson has information that her nephew, Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma has been appointed commander in chief of the militia of the state of Oklahoma, and that they are preparing to move to the border at once for service as the fast changing events should demand. Col. Roy Hoffman has many Indiana relatives and this will be interesting news for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slaybaugh departed Tuesday morning for Albany, Georgia, in their new Studebaker machine. At Albany they expect to be joined by his sister, Mr. and Mrs. De Wolf and thence to Florida, on a pleasure trip expecting to be gone in all three or four weeks. This is a big overland trip to make in a machine.

Henry Meredith received a sack of salt by mail from his son Ralph and wife who are living in Salt Lake City. It was a very little sack attached to a postal card, and reached here last Friday.

39 YEARS AGO

News has come to Akron that a contract will be let in a few weeks to resurface Rochester street this summer. This street has needed attention for a long time, especially the east end of it, and the news that the state highway department will give it a surface treatment should be welcomed by all citizens of this community. Even the west end of the street will be worked on, and the job promises to be a good one.

The worst windstorm ever to hit this community struck about 9 o'clock Thursday night and did more than half a million dollars damage to the community.

Lee Marsh doesn't know whether he should equip his cows with parachutes, or should put parachutes on the stories that are being told about his experience during the storm. Fifteen head of milk cows were in the pasture east of his home when the storm hit. After the fury had subsided, he found them in the fields further east and the fence was not torn down between the two lots. There was one place along the fence where a post had been broken, supposedly during the storm. The wind either lifted the cows entirely over the fence, or blew them across the place where the post was broken. However, none of the valuable animals were injured by the experience.

Pvt. Max Gearhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearhart, received an expert rating in marksmanship with the M-1 rifle according to an announcement released from Fort Lee, V. Max was rated the top man in Company E with a score of 187 from a perfect 200, at 1,000 yd.

Mrs. Clauss is Anthony Nigo regent

Mrs. Glenn Clauss was installed as regent of Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Davis. Other officers installed by Mrs. James Bitting were Mrs. Wayne Smalley, vice-regent; Mrs. Arthur Brown, chaplain; Mrs. Loren Gross, secretary; Mrs. Wm. Cox, treasurer; Mrs. Ernest Igo, registrar; Rhonda Yazel, historian, and Annabel Mentzer, librarian.

In honor of Flay Day, Mrs. Thomas Fugate presented a program entitled "That Our Flag Was Still There" in which she noted Indiana's star is in the fourth row, second from the right. She said at one time there were 15 stripes until it was decided to have only 13 for the original states and to add only the star as new are admitted. The star is added to the flag on the 4th of July following the date the state is accepted into the union.

Mrs. Bill Ettinger read the president general's message, which reported on the 85th Continental Congress.

Thank you notes were read from the Jack and Jill Nursery School for the flag donated by the DAR. A membership certificate and thank you note were received from the Lawrence Bell Aircraft Museum. Mrs. Wm. Cox was appointed to represent the chapter at their June 15 meeting for election of directors.

The regent reported that at a recent northern district meeting, Mrs. Furel R. Burns said the $15,000 from the profit from Indiana's platter sale has been donated to Bacone and St. Mary's.

Mrs. Carl Metheny read the DAR resolution, "Immigration and Illegal Aliens," which stated 400,000 immigrants are legally admitted each year and four to 12 million illegally reside in the United States. Illegal aliens are filling at least one million jobs on which they seldom file income tax returns. The resolution asks the immediate reduction of immigration, restoration of the quota system and strengthening of laws and penalties pertaining to illegal entry and commends the Immigration and Naturalization Service for alerting the public to the extent of the problems of illegal immigration and to lack of funds for adequate personnel to apprehend and deport illegal aliens.

Members voted to meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month next year and to change the by-laws accordingly.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Davis and the co-hostess, Mrs. James Bitting, to members and one guest, Nancy Ettinger.

Mentone Scouts visit Chicago

Last Saturday morning very early, the Girl Scouts left Mentone at 6:30 a.m. to travel by car to So. Bend to catch a bus going to Chicago. We went through downtown Chicago and saw the Sears building. We spent the rest of the day at Brookfield Zoo. The people that went were chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Terry Spitler, Connie Julian and son. The Girl Scouts that went were Rhonda Briney, Penny Secrist, Julia Man-waring, Andrea LaMar, Dorinda Ross, Sonja Quier and Laura Cochran. On the way home we stopped and ate a delicious supper. We arrived back at Mentone at 9:30. We were very tired but glad we got to go. Thank you, Cindy! Reporter, Laura Cochran

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the July 2, 1947 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilvin Teel are parents of a son, James Arden.

Preparations for the big Fourth of July free celebration of Mentone Friday evening are all complete and everyone is very much satisfied that it is really going to be a big event. Many folks from neighboring towns have stated they were going to be here.

Robert Holloway returned Wednesday morning from Washington, D.C., where he has spent the past six weeks visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lentz. We understand that among the many interesting things Bob did, one of the most interesting was flying with his uncle.

Eunice Reed is moving to her farm located one-half mile this side of Collamer. She recently sold her home here to Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Stanford.

Several young friends gathered at the home of Sue Ellen Long Monday afternoon to help her celebrate her fifth birthday. Present were Sue Ann Fleck, Beverly Walburn, Mitzie Meredith, Donna Kay VanGilder, Carl Dillman and Linda Linn. (Sue Fenstermaker was to have been a guest but her daddy failed to bring her invitation home to her. She says he's in the dog house now.)

A pessimist is one who would complain about the noise if opportunity knocked.

Displays will be accepted from 1 until 4 p.m. Sunday and should be reclaimed after 6 p.m. Monday.

Two separate activities will be involved in Akron's 5th of July celebration: those planned by the 4th of July committee and those planned by the Akron Bicentennial Commission. The two are entirely separate, each with different goals, although both are dedicated to celebrating the 200th birthday of the nation. The 4th of July committee also celebrates the 140th birthday of Akron, which was founded July 4, 1836.

Dora Miller, Mentone, a patient at Memorial hospital, So. Bend, was slated for surgery for kidney removal on June 24. She will be hospitalized approximately two weeks.

Money from the Bicentennial Commission's sale of patches and small cast iron anvils made and donated by the Akron Foundry will be used for some kind of lasting contribution to the Akron park as part of fulfilling its obligation for Akron's being approved as a Bicentennial community.

Colonial order of worship (almost) to apply Sunday at Mentone church

Except for the length, a colonial order of worship will be used Sunday at the Mentone United Methodist Church.

The church will be called to meeting by blowing a conch shell. The beadle will lead the way and the tything man will be afoot. The precentor will teach those attending to line a Psalm.

The minister, the Rev. Robert Heckman, and his congregation invite the public to join with them in this "Happy Birthday, America" service. Each should wear something colonial style or with Bicentennial colors, if possible.

"Come and worship with us in colonial style, seek with us the healing hand of God on the future of our nation," the Rev. Heckman said, as he noted the difference in the length of the service: A true colonial prayer lasted one and one-half hours, the sermon three hours. Sunday's service, which will begin at 9:30 a.m., should last one hour.

Akron tennis tournament pairings announced

Pairings for Akron's annual tennis tournament were made this week as follows:

Randy Mitterling vs Keith Haney, Beth Adams vs Scott Miller, Terry Walgamuth vs Mary Beth Gast, Rich Mitterling vs Dan Tibbets, Mike Porter vs Kent Adams, Mark Srivier vs David Rhodes, Pat Walgamuth vs Jeff Bickel, Jeff Beasley vs R. Hileman, K. Petrosky vs D. Fisher, J. Friedricks vs Mark Swick, J. Leckrone vs Bart Duzenberg, D. Cooper vs D. Creighton. Karl Strohschien drew the bye.

Girls registering are L. Friedricks vs Sherri Miller and K. Friedricks who drew the bye.

Steve Fleck, chairman, says all entrants must pay their entry fee before playing and that the best of three sets will determine the winner. He also noted that if anyone's name does not appear on the list who sent an entry, to contact him as he received one entry without a name.

Also needed, Fleck said, are three more line judges. All entrants must abide by the line judges' decisions.

The tournament will start promptly at 9 a.m. July 5 at the Tippecanoe Valley High School courts. Entrants will sign in at the entrance. Anyone not present when it is his turn to play will forfeit the game.

Abbey's shavings are

By Ann Sheetz

Denton Abbey didn't sell many of his shaved wood creations at the recent Mentone Bicentennial Egg Festival, but he created a lot of interest with his exhibit of wood chips and plaques.

"Wood is where you find it," one plaque announced, and other plaques and groupings of chips proved there is beauty in the grain of wood, even if it comes from small branches and knotholes.

Small limbs from trees in this area and from his native Pennsylvania are Abbey's favorites, and he slices them with an electric saw, salami-like, into thin chips. Crosscut to expose the grain, the chips are sanded, air dried and stored for later use. Some will be stained to bring out the grain; others will be left natural. The choice is determined by how a sample takes stain—some chips acquire vibrant tones with stain; others turn white. The difference is in the wood's texture and age, and only experimentation will tell how it will react to a finish. The chips are mounted on weathered barn siding or bur-lap-covered boards to form interesting plaques. If the chips permit, a thin coat of protective shellac or lacquer is sprayed over the entire arrangement.

"It's just something fun to play around with," Abbey says of the chip art. And it is by no means all of his woodworking hobby. A carefully appointed basement workshop in his home east of Mentone turns out furniture, music instruments, gadgets—you name it. When his daughter and son-in-law, Pam and Nate Everett, worked for Ken Anderson Studios and a new console was needed, Abbey was the one to whom they turned. And many other people with special needs have asked for his help.

No novice, as the in-layed tables and careful woodworking testify, Abbey, a retired laboratory and X-ray technician, got interested in wood in a rather round-about way.

"When I was about eight," he recalls, "my mother gave my brothers and me half a pound of nails and sent us to the basement to pound them into a board. This kept us busy for hours, and when we got all the nails in the board, we pulled them out and started over."

Fortified with his hammering techniques, Abbey and his father built houses in Pennsylvania during the Depression and he later built an ice sled powered with a motorcycle engine. "But the best one was the one I built with an airplane engine," he recalls. "It would go 110 miles per hour across a lake. A friend wrecked it," he adds sadly. "He didn't use chocks when he propped it and it got away from able to see a lot of your imagination," he possibilities and use says.

Abbey moved to Indiana in 1941 and he worked at Woodlawn hospital in Rochester until 1946 when he and his bride moved to Mentone and he began his association with the late Dr. Dan Urschel. He later worked for Dr. Thomas Keough in Warsaw and continued his woodworking hobby, although on smaller, less volatile pieces than the ice sled.

Many of the pieces reflect Abbey's ingenuity and sense of humor. A close inspection of some of the music instruments he built for his daughter when she and some of her friends had an all-girl band reveals pancake turners, old switches and bits of model railroad track put to practical use, but the base viol has eyes that roll as it is played and another contraption made of a washboard, irons, cowbells and what have you is topped with a cast iron skillet.

DENTON ABBEY demonstrates some of the musical instruments he has made. Close examination of the carefully veneered guitar he is holding reveals a pancake turner and model railroad track, and the bass viol's eyes can turn. The banjo shaped clock in the background is another of his creations as is the Spike Jones-type washboard-horn combination.

BEAUTIFULLY DETAILED cherry hutch was created in Abbey's workshop.

Girls' State reported

By Melva Smith

Hoosier Girls' State is a week spent at Indiana State University learning about government. Most of the 776 girls were sponsored by their local American Legion Auxiliary Unit. I represented Mentone Unit No. 425.

We were assigned to one of two political parties, Nationalists or Federalists. Each floor, of the three dorms, was a different city, named after past department presidents. There were about 50 citizens and one counselor for government and one social counselor in the city.

The first evening we voted for the precinct and vice precinct committeemen and city chairmen of the city. Three cities made up a county, and during the week we learned the duties and selected county and state officials.

We heard interesting speeches from Gov. Otis Bowen, Mrs. Lotys Schanel, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and several other people.

An inspiring part of each day was the flag raising and lowering ceremonies. The whole week was very enjoyable and we learned about government by doing.

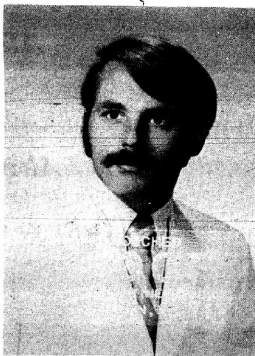

Money doesn't talk anymore. It just goes without saying.

Arts and crafts exhibit is planned

The Kosciusko Co. Bicentennial Art and Crafts exhibit will be on display July 4 and 5 at the fairgrounds in Warsaw as a part of Festival '76. Exhibits are requested to be brought to the Women's building not later than 4 p.m. Saturday, July 3.

Paintings, sketches and photographs of historic places in Kosciusko Co. are particularly desired. Other scenes of local interest will also be displayed. Early American crafts and skills will be featured and other crafts will also be shown. Commercial crafts by Kosciusko Co. residents will have a special location.

Persons having questions should contact Waldo Adams of Leesburg or Mrs. Jay Gardner or Tom Braddock of Warsaw, members of the county Bicentennial commission.

Earns PhD

George Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Koch, Carmen, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Smith, Akron, recently received the PhD degree in biology during baccalaureat exercises at the University of Virginia. Dr. Koch, who graduated in 1967 from Greenwood Community High School and received the BA degree from Wabash College in 1971, has been awarded a research fellowship at the Institute for Cancer Research in Philadelphia, Pa.

It is requested that all organizations and individuals throughout the county participate by joining in the ringing of bells at the exact hour as the Liberty Bell is rung in Philadelphia. The time will be 1 p.m. Sunday, July 4.

Blast burns area resident

Jean Walters, R. 2, Rochester, formerly of the Akron area, received second degree burns over 60 percent of her body Thursday evening when a bottle gas heater she and her husband, Loyd, were using to steam wallpaper off a wall in the bathroom exploded.

Mrs. Walters, who was holding the nozzle of the steam cleaner when the hose broke, was forced to escape through the window. Mr. Walters, who received a bad burn on his hand, was able to get out of the bathroom through the door and turn off the gas tank.

Mrs. Walters was taken to the burn center at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis where she was listed in critical condition.

Mrs. Walters may be addressed in care of Robert Long Hospital, 1100 West Michigan St., Room 605, Burn Center, Indianapolis 46202.

Firemen said damage to the bathroom was estimated at $2,500.

Vikings drop to second place

Tippecanoe Valley dropped a close decision at North Manchester last week, 1-0. Martin pitched a one-hitter while Chris Smalley allowed only five hits. The run was not scored until the seventh inning when McGee doubled to start the threat. Bill Hardesty relieved Smalley, but Goss singled for the only score.

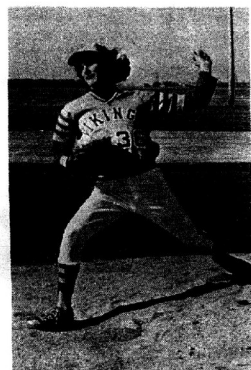

Southwood won a close victory over TVHS, 4-3, after being given their runs on errors. The Vikes came back on a double by Ray Rockhill, singles by Bret Hackworth and Randy Holt and a double by Jim Webb.

Last Friday, the Vikings defeated Triton 8-5 to make their conference record five wins and two losses. The pitching was divided by Bill Hardesty and Chris Smalley with Bill being the winning pitcher. Doug Miller blasted a homer in the first inning and had four runs batted in. Randy Holt hit a triple and Rockhill and Smalley hit doubles.

It's just begun

Dear Editor:

I, too, would like to say "thank-you" to the many volunteers in and around our community who graciously gave their time in order that all of us could enjoy a successful Bicentennial Egg Festival.

Although next year's festival is far away, at least in thoughts, we need to keep two questions in mind: 1. What has our citizens and community gained? 2. Where do we go from here?

One of the goals set by the planning committee was to promote community spirit and patriotism, not only during the year 1976, but for years to come. Our country's 200th birthday party is almost over, the party hats and candles will be stored away...but need this happen? As a community looking towards our own centennial in 1982, let us reflect back on our past, cherish the knowledge and wisdom we have acquired through others and use it to the best of our ability to achieve bigger and better goals in our community.

Our celebration isn't over...it's just begun. Gratefully, Connie Haney Bicentennial Egg Festival Co-chairman

Bigger crowds mean more cornbread

Dear Editor:

This year the Fulton Co. Historical Society is asking each of its members to bring two dozen cornbread muffins to the ham and bean tent at the Lakeview Park during the Round Barn Festival. Last year's crowds were so big that we ran out of cornbread on both Saturday and Sunday.

Another different thing this year is that the basketball game on Sunday evening will be between Woodrow and Burton, two Rochester Twp. schools that no longer exist. Clifford Baggerly, Woodrow coach, and Kenneth Overstreet, Burton coach, will be on hand to give the boys (now men) pointers. Bob Tobey will serve as captain of Woodrow and Ernie Miller as captain of Burton teams. Persons who attended these schools are eligible to play and should contact their captains. Love O'Dell and Shirley Tobey will be Woodrow cheerleaders. We need some former Burton cheerleaders to volunteer.

The basketball game will be at 7:30 p.m. on July 11 in front of the log cabin in Lakeview Park. We still need a referee, preferably one who really served as "ref" when Burton and Woodrow slugged it out on their tiny gyms. Call me if you are willing to tackle the job.

In case any Historical Society member did not get contacted by phone or postcard, this is the schedule for bringing cornbread in non-returnable wrapper: People with last names beginning with A-G bring cornbread muffins Friday, July 1, H-R Saturday, July 10, and S-Z Sunday, July 11. Please bring it by noon.

Workers too are needed to host the museums, cook and serve and cashier. When you receive that phone call, please don't say no. A few of us cannot carry the load. We need your help. Shirley Willard

Fulton Co. Historical Society

Dear Editor:

As July 4th of the Bicentennial year approaches, now is the time to support historical preservation by joining the Fulton Co. Historical Society.

Everyone can help the Society achieve its goal of preserving, protecting and recording county history by becoming a member. Adults dues are $5 a year; students under 18 $3, sponsoring member $10 and life member $50.

There are many activities within the Society for those interested in active participation. Research on such topics as one-room schools, old mills, Indians, ghost towns, churches and families are popular activities. Stories are published in the Society quarterly, a 40-page booklet published three to four times a year.

Monthly meetings feature topics of local interest, such as genealogical tips, county Indian artifacts, history of guns, antique photographs, etc.

Volunteers host the depot and log cabin on Sundays.

Won't you send your dues in the appropriate category today to the Fulton Co. Historical Society, 7th and Pontiac streets, Rochester. Shirley Willard

Mentone sewer project to be discussed at July 14 public meeting

Mentone's proposed wastewater collection system and treatment facilities will be discussed at a 7:30 p.m. public meeting Wednesday, July 14, at the Mentone town hall.

At that time, all interested persons wishing to be heard on the economic and social effects of the location, design and environmental impacts of the project will have an opportunity to speak.

There will be a discussion of the various project alternatives and a report that will include an analysis of alternative methods of wastewater treatment and collection.

Maps, drawings, an environmental assessment and other data relative to the proposed project are on display at the Farmers State Bank, and a map showing four possible plant site locations is published in this week's NEWS.

able plant site locations is published in this week's NEWS.

Thousands of people thronged the streets of Akron Monday for the town's combined Bicentennial-140th birthday parade, and most of them later moved to the school grounds for activities there.

The 145-unit parade lasted nearly two hours. Kappa Delta Phi sorority won top honors with its float, "The Birth of Our Nation," in in-town competition and received $75. Second place Harvey's Dime Store received $50, and the Beaver Dam Church's "Let Freedom Ring" float received $30 for placing third. Donnelly's received the $75 first place award in the out-of-town category for its "Let Freedom Ring" float; Roann Merchants' float, "Roann Remembers," won the $50 second place award, and the Mentone Bicentennial committee's "School Daze" won $30 for placing third.

Other awards went to Cub Scouts, first in children's floats; Mari Stephen and Angie Thompson as George and Martha Washington, second, and Cindy Sitts, third. Frank and the Hi-Tymes won the commercial trophy, and the band trophy went to Northfield High School. The baton corp trophy went to the Wabash Drum and Baton Corp.

Great community

Dear Editor:

The Bicentennial Commission would like to thank all the people who performed in the variety show, Dale Pace for putting it all together, Tom Roy, and Marie Stephen and Angie Thompson. We felt that it was a tremendous success.

We also want to thank the Federated Woman's Club and all the exhibitors in the antique and needlework display.

The Foundry and Ellenwoods deserve an extra big Thank You for donating the anvils we were selling. We have lots more and the money will go to a "lasting" park project.

Lots of thanks for those of you who attended and supported these projects. We have a great community. The Akron Bicentennial Commission

Thousands attend celebration

Judges were Rene Moore, Eloise Eberly, Barbara Remas, Joe Moore, Alan Welch and Harold Leckrone.

Becky Hughes, Mentone, and Jerrod Feldman, Akron, were crowned cutie king and queen in the afternoon and were introduced at the evening queen contest where Patricia Gearhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gearhart, Akron, was crowned queen. Pictures of both royal courts appear elsewhere in this week's NEWS.

Winners of the garden tractor pull, listed with their percentages in order of placing, were, lightweight: Terry Gagnon, Akron, 600; Brian Miller, Macy, 562; Sherri Smith, Akron, 557; Jerry Benson, No. Manchester, and Dave Pontious, Rochester, 526; Mike Moore, North Manchester, 520; Mike Norman, Akron, 519; Dana Lindsay, Silver Lake, 517, and Joe Gaerte, of Macy, 512.

A downpour at dusk failed to dampen the enthusiasm of many, and the fireworks display provided the finale as planned.

A new attraction

Dear Editor:

A new attraction to the Round Barn Festival July 9-10-11 will be a showing of Elmo Lincoln "Tarzan" movies and a slide and tape program on the space shuttle in the Civic Center museum.

The Civic Center museum will be open all three days of the RBF from 9 to 5. Movies and slides will be shown by the ATOM Rocket Club, which will also have a display of model rockets. Movies will be shown every half hour.

(ATOM stands for Astronautical Team of Man) The rocket club will have a contest June 17 at Bill Crabill's house on W. Sixth St., Rochester, beginning at 12:30. Interested persons may call the club secretary, Tom Willard, at 223-2352.

Several new items will interest the public at the Civic Center museum. A large doll house completely handmade by Sam Starr with old-fashioned handmade furniture and electric lights in every room was recently donated by Mrs. Lester Crabb. A special display of books written by Fulton Co. authors occupies an antique secretary.

Guests will be greeted by Manpower employees and the usual staff.

Another new feature this year is the Pioneer Woman's Log Cabin Museum in Lakeview Park. Claude Wagoner made a split-rail stake and rider fence. Manpower boys dug the hole and Morry's Ready Mix of Athens donated the cement for the base for a large rock that will soon have a plaque attached. Kathy and Cindy Lewis in pioneer costume will demonstrate carding and spinning wool.

And when you get hungry, don't forget the ham and beans served in a tent at the depot museum. Martha Wagoner will be weaving rugs again this year, so come on down and join the fun at the Historical Society. Shirley Willard

PUBLITORIAL

Everyone realizes how much community effort and time goes into making a successful event like Monday's 5th of July celebration, but I wonder how many of us take time to realize the real success must be attributed to the hard work of the 4th of July committee, without whose efforts the day would not have gone nearly as well. Why don't we each make it a point to say "thank you"?

Good People

To the Editor:

Good People I guess no one owes anyone else anything but life sure is better when we get help from others. A little church has a Father and Son Banquet every year, they put it on although they have very few men but do they put on a feed. In fact no King ever had it so good.

A family from farmland brings me three gallons of goats milk, I give it to people who need goats milk. Last night I took a large group out to a farm home and the family put on a picnic and furnished the food. The family was Catholic and we had those with no church and every kind. It didn't matter. Then a lovely man came and gave us a musical program on an instrument he had made himself.

We try to help others, one man came and shaved today, one came for coffee. God gave us show-ers. We buy, we pay, but the most beautiful is given to us. A smile, a city, a state, a world, it's all wonderful. A family, a school, a church. Why we have good people. A vacation bible school brought 5 big boxes of food to give out, the children have brought it each day, to give to others or to share is fun. As I write a lady just brought lots of good clothes. God gave, we can give. It's fun, it's real, it's worth while.

TVHS attendance policy adopted

The attendance policy adopted Friday night by the Tippecanoe Valley school board for TVHS allows a student to have eight unexcused absences from class during a semester with no formal action unless the absence involves a truancy.

Absences that are valid and legal, which will not count toward the eight day total are: 1. A written statement from a doctor indicating the student has been under his care for the period of the absence. The statement must be presented to the office when the student returns to school. 2. A death in the immediate family, which is to include grandparent, parent, brother, sister, wife, husband, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, legal guardian or child. 3. Absences approved by the principal or assistant principal for emergency situations.

On the ninth unexcused absence during a semester, the student will be withdrawn from the class and receive no credit. Three unexcused tardies will equal one unexcused absence.

If a student, because of attendance withdrawals, is enrolled in fewer than three regular classes, expulsion proceedings to expel a student for the remainder of the current semester will be initiated in accordance with the Indiana Student Due Process Code. The student may request re-entry for the next semester following the period of expulsion. All absences for such occasions as vacations, family trips, driver's tests, illnesses not covered by written statement from doctor, college visitations, military appointments and other absences not covered in the list of valid reasons will count toward the nine-day total. Although these absences count toward the nine day total, students will be encouraged to make up work missed by these absences. For vacations and family trips, students should arrange for make up work with their teacher at least one week prior to the start of the trip.

On all makeup work due to absence, it is the student's responsibility to contact the teacher as soon as he returns to school.

Any absence due to suspension or truancy will count toward the nine day total. Classroom work missed by these absences cannot be made up. If the suspension causes the student to accumulate nine days of unexcused absence for a class, withdrawal procedures will be initiated.

A letter will be sent to the parent or guardian to inform them when a student has five unexcused absences during a semester. They will also be notified when a student has accumulated the eighth unexcused absence, by letter, that on the next unexcused absence, the student will be withdrawn from the class.

Custer's Last Stand reported in old paper

General George Custer's last stand at the Battle of Little Big Horn was in the news of the day in a July 13, 1876 newspaper that Mrs. Chester Smith, Mentone, found recently. And, although it ranked as one of the great military disasters of all time, it only rated a small space on the back page. The front page was given over to a reprinting of the Star-Spangled Banner and a biographical sketch of King Charles, the Fourth of Spain.

The paper, The Spencer Republican, was a weekly, and, like many others of its period, contained local news on the inside of the four-page publication. In its columns is a story describing the death of a local woman who ate ice to cool a fever and another asking persons desiring shavings from the stove factory to leave their orders.

And on the back page, beneath a rundown on news from Washington, is the story of General Custer's death and Gen. Sherman's comment on learning of the massacre: "I don't believe it, and I don't want to believe it, if I can help it." Gen. Sheridan, however, said he would like very much to disbelieve it, but his fears that it was true were stronger than his hopes that it was not.

And right below it is an anecdote about Mark Twain meeting a pool shark.

Advertisements for Madame Foy's corset skirt supporter and for the Meriden Cutlery Co. rounded out the page.

News and advertising were varied in 1876, just as they are in 1976.

60 YEARS AGO

Though we had 5000 people here July 4, yet many of our nearest neighbors were making hay that day. The auto makes Akron bigger.

Instead of an auto jaunt it is now called an auto gallop when you go out on a joy ride. C. L. Kuhn is almost pining his life out because he is in school building over hard lessons instead of at home booming for the success of our big celebration. Cecil's heart is generally thumping on the right side at the right gait.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Harsh and their two uncles Joe Dilsaver and Eli Bunton, were here attending the big birthday party. There were scores of other visitors, but time and space cut out mention of all, but they were made welcome.

Henry township was organized April 2, 1838. The band concert last Thursday evening drew the largest crowd ever before in town on a similar occasion. Our band is some class winning favors wherever heard, under the leadership of Prof. Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rager were 4th of July guests at the Henry Harsh home.

D. D. Weaver and his little family came to Akron's birthday party and contributed to its success.

Mr. Norton Reed and daughter Mary went to Michigan City Sunday morning. Mr. Reed returned Sunday evening, but Mary will spend several weeks with friends.

39 YEARS AGO

In contrast with the centennial celebration which took place last year at this time, Akron will quietly observe its 101st birthday Sunday. Since no celebration of any kind is planned, and most of the business places will be closed Sunday and Monday, it is believed that the town will have a quiet Fourth of July.

As a special inducement to used car buyers, the Akron Motor Company will give away a barrel of gasoline with every used car purchased of them after July 4th, providing the car sells for $100 or more. Barney has a large stock of good used cars and is putting on a drive to sell them during the next few weeks.

A very pleasant surprise was given William Bammerlin Tuesday evening at his home in Akron in honor of his birthday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Dora Runkle and Teddy, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Shireman and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fites and son, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Bahney and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bammerlin and Grandpa and Grandma Bammerlin.

J. W. Bidwell and James Rittenhouse, president and secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, attended a dinner at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis Tuesday, given by the state Chamber of Commerce for its members Mrs. Rittenhouse spent the day in Indianapolis also.

25 YEARS AGO

Several members of the Happy Hour Home Ec Club and their families enjoyed a wiener roast and pot luck supper on Sunday evening in C. Smoker's yard. The evening was spent socially around the fire. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Doin Smoker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Ellis and daughter and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Heltzel and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marsh.

The world famous Hottentots, world's colored softball champions, will play a ball game here at the ball park. This star team is to be pitted against the Rochester All-Stars, composed largely of Akron players. The local team is composed of: Jack Hayden, Dick Landis, Bob Rhodes, Chick Gast, Jack Ringle, Gene Burch, Donnie Butt, Art Walker, Russ Miller, Ralph Copen, Alan Heeter, Stan Teel, Lowell Long, Bob Long, Bill Schroer, Owen Weiske, Floyd Palmer, Art Kennedy, Bud Zartman and Louis Schroer.

Dessie Henderson spent Sunday in Wabash Park attending a picnic in honor of the birthday of her sister, Hattie Bucher.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bacon, Larry and Phil Bacon, of Anderson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Friddle and sons of Wilkinson.

10 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Day, owners of the Day Hardware, this week purchased the Eber building from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eber and will move the hardware there in a few weeks.

Akron, with its heavy traffic on July 4, did not record any traffic accidents although one act of vandalism was reported to police. Tom Harger reported that someone threw a brick through the front door of his home and broke out the windshield and back glass of his truck during the time of the parade.

JUNE AUGINBAUGH, Mentone, recently returned to the Atkinson Hotel in Indianapolis for a visit. A former teacher who lived at the Atkinson while she taught in the capital city, Miss Aughinbaugh was surprised to find her name on the marquee as an extra bit of welcome from the management.

Fred Kindig re-elected

Bill Ennis for $33,500 was approved.

Bus bids opened at the June 21 meeting were tabulated, and Forbes recommended the purchase of nine buses from Jack Chaille, a bid he described as "best if you say lowest and best." He said it was a difficult decision since Leonard Supply, Silver Lake, had submitted a lower bid that specified five-speed transmissions instead of automatic. After discussion in which Con Shewman pointed out the high cost of maintaining buses with automatic transmissions, Forbes rescinded his recommendation, but a motion to purchase the buses from Leonard died for lack of second. Bidder Ed Kerlin asked that the buses be re-bid, and Shewman's motion to re-bid, the dealers to give a choice of five-speed or automatic transmissions, passed 4-1, and a notice to bidders was approved for publication.

In other action, the board approved the Title I program for the year and recommended an attendance policy for TVHS in which a student may have eight unexcused absences a semester. (A complete copy of the policy is published in this week's NEWS.)

The board heard a report from superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell about the educational programs offered by Channel 34 TV and signed additional copies of a lease agreement with Cardinal Center that was approved at an earlier meeting. Also signed were contracts for two of four teachers approved at the last meeting.

The next regular board meeting will be July 19 with re-opening of bus bids to be one item on the agenda.

Development rep to be in Akron

Akron homeowners with low incomes may apply for the winterization-energy program July 19 when a representative of the Fulton Co. Development Council Inc. is in Akron in a room over Akron Insurance Agency.

The Fulton Co. Development Council was chosen by the State Office of Community Services Administration (CSA) to show that with better insulation and home repairs, homes of the poor can be made to be more energy efficient, resulting in savings for those residents that can then be spent on other essentials. There is no cost to the homeowner and the work and repairs will be furnished in some instances.

Able-bodied men in the family will be expected to assist with repairs. Winterization materials will be furnished with no charge to the homeowner.

Further information can be obtained by calling 223-3701.

Survey shows readers like front pages, grocery ads

During the last two weeks of June, the NEWS published a survey to determine reader preference.

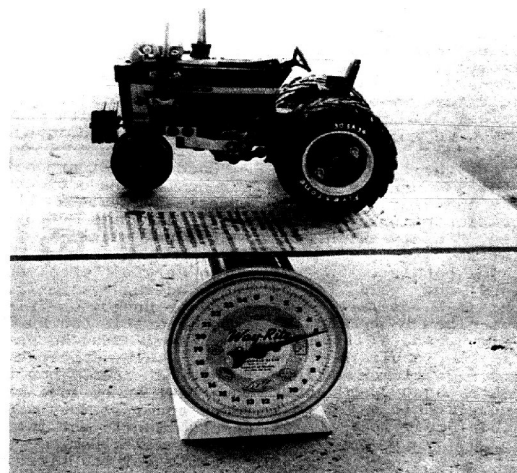

The results are in, and they are interesting. While only 43 households (one out of 50 subscribers) returned their surveys, newspaper people tell us this is a good response.

Easily the most popular is the front page, followed closely by the feature page and social items. While legal advertising doesn't rank high in the list of almost always read, it is interesting to note that 52 percent of the readers almost always or sometimes read this section, a clear indication to local, county and state officials that people are interested in learning where their money goes. And they are interested in news of town government, advertising and church news.

Space was allowed in the survey for readers

WEIGH-IN is easy when the tractor weighs five pounds. This is an International toy tractor with model airplane engine added. Additional weight comes from metal strips attached to the front and washers bolted to rear wheels. Gear system is from a barbecue rotisserie. Operating on remote control model fuel, this tractor has its own pressurized fuel system and it can pull up to 500% of its weight. See story and additional pictures in this week's "centerfold" article.

Meet the headline makers of the future

A series of area "Future Citizens" taken recently by Woltz Studio of Des Moines, Iowa, begins in this issue of the NEWS and will run on a space available basis until all the pictures are used. The photos taken at Mentone have not been received but will be added to the series later.

Additional information can be obtained from Smith at TVHS.

Two paper drives Saturday

There will be a paper drive in Akron Saturday to benefit the ambulance fund drive.

It is asked that papers be placed in grocery bags or tied in bundles for pick up or taken to the Scout cabin.

While money still talks, it appears to be becoming increasingly incoherent.

The Mentone Fire Department will have a newspaper pickup Saturday, July 17, at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Persons desiring country pickup should call 353-5785.

No magazines will be accepted.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

"See Spot. See Spot run. Run, Spot, run." Remember Spot? He was in our first grade books, running around with some insipid characters named Sally, Dick and Jane. None of them did much to pique our curiosities except to cause us to wonder who could get paid for writing such tripe.

Now we know. It was the "specialists" who wrote the Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration pamphlet entitled "Safety With Beef Cattle."

The booklet, 16 pages long and paid for by our tax dollars, was described by the Indiana Farm Bureau's Clark Lewis as an insult to farmers. Cattlemen and lawmakers heaped such scorn and ridicule on it that Labor Department officials have stopped its distribution.

In case you missed it, the booklet warned adult farmers: "Be careful you do not fall into manure pits.

"Hazards are one of the main causes of accidents. A hazard is anything that is dangerous.

"When floors are wet and slippery with manure, you could have a bad fall.

"Ladders that are not strong or have broken steps can cause a bad fall. If yours is broken, do not climb it.

"Be careful when you are handling animals. Tired or hungry or frightened cattle can hurt and trample you. Be patient, talk softly around the cows. Don't move fast or be loud around them. If they are upset, don't get into the pen with them.

"Don't get too tired. You can get too tired when working with cattle. Tired people make mistakes and can be hurt. Do not try to work with cows if you are very tired. But, if you use the right equipment and tools, you will be less tired. Then the job will be easier and safer."

Lewis said there is a saying about getting the hay down where the cows can get to it--which means we ought to speak or write so people can understand us. "Apparently," he said, "someone at OSHA went to the extreme--they put the hay down so low it's being trampled on!"

Someone traced the "specialists" to Purdue, but no one has yet named them publicly. And it's an understandable oversight.

After all, "Spot" looks pretty ridiculous as a by-line.

Cheerleaders to attend camp

Sheryl Stokes, Shelly Stokes, Chris Schwenk and Shelly Gross, cheerleaders at Mentone Junior High School, have been accepted at Taylor University for a July 18-21 educational workshop.

They will undergo extensive training in gymnastics, crowd control, new yells, jumps and use of the mini-tramp. They will also conduct a pep rally and participate in a variety show.

SICK LIST

Sandy Brown, who will be a freshman at Tippecanoe Valley High School, is a patient in room 406 at Kosciusko Community Hospital. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walston and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hudson of Argos, she would enjoy hearing from her friends. She may be addressed either at the hospital or in care of her parents, R. 5, Box 351, Warsaw.

This Was News

60 YEARS AGO

This office can keep a secret as profoundly secure as a bribed Judge. We knew Mrs. Otis Whittenberger, nee Pearl Hart, was to sustain the event of her life. Her friends and her family had planned a surprise for her to take place July 9. It was a complete success and a big dinner fit for kings and potentates was set before the happy guests.

Our Fourth of July party had so much local history in it, so many touching events, such good music, such eloquent papers were read and uplifting speeches made that would be all practically lost if no special effort was made to preserve them. Hence, we have decided to compile the whole business in pamphlet form as a souvenir of the event.

Miss Glen Thompson, the very obliging and efficient deputy postmistress has tendered her resignation to take effect with the close of business the last day of July. Along with patrons of the office we regret her resignation. She will be succeeded by Miss Cleo Waechter, a high school graduate and a clever young lady who will be as obliging and efficient as the lady whose place she has accepted.

Mr. Dice of Peru is here putting down the wells for Akron's water system. He has been experiencing considerable trouble, running against stone 25 feet below the surface. These had to be "shot."

Mothers will remember that an eclipse of the moon takes place tonight and they should hide the hammocks.

If Akron citizenship will allow its intelligence and good hard sense to govern instead of passion and personal pique over what some one has said or done, then would our little city set a pace for happy living that all races of man would do well to emulate. Don't bit any one.

Several merchants in Akron are sponsoring free moving pictures which are presented each Saturday night on the baseball diamond. A feature length talkie is presented at each show.

The first of a series of band concerts will begin next Wednesday night when the thirty-five piece Peru high school band will come to Akron for an hour's concert. Carter Brown is the band director. The free concerts are sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, who plan to secure different bands from neighbor towns for the remainder of the summer.

Farmers in this community have been very busy during the past week cutting wheat. Reports are that there is a lot of rust this season.

Fourteen girl scouts enjoyed a swimming party and picnic at Lake Manitou Tuesday afternoon. The girls went to the beach at Fairview for their swimming and later went to the Troutman cottage for a picnic. Mrs. Forrest Higgins, Mrs. Con Singpiel and Mrs. Earl Troutman chaperoned the party, and Kate Morris and Grethel Hutchinson were guests of the girls.

25 YEARS AGO

The tractor pulling contest, staged by the Akron Fair Board last Wednesday afternoon in connection with the Fourth of July festivities, drew a large crowd. Top prizes went to Don Kuhn, Claypool; Jim Schipper, Roann; and Paul Miller, Roann. Everett Shaffer and James Doc Newcomb of Rochester were the judges. The committee in charge was Al Jennens, Bill Craig, Howard Haldeman and Ed Hauser.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham, Mrs. Albert Smoker, and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Burns heard Dr. Billy Graham preach at Winona Lake Tuesday evening.

This community has had more than enough rain during the past few weeks, and the hay making and general farming is running far behind schedule.

Fred Martin upset his 1948 Chevrolet on the slick pavement west of town during the rain Wednesday. The car was considerably damaged, but Mr. Martin was not injured. The pavement is very dangerous when wet and the car skidded and turned over in the side ditch.

10 YEARS AGO

As an aid to the many people who are interested in family histories and genealogies, members of the Kappa Delta Phi sorority this week presented copies of the Old Grads Directories to the Indiana Room, the Indiana Historical Society rooms of the Indiana State Library, to the Fulton County Historical Society, the Rochester Public Library and the Akron Public Library.

Eldon Cumberland, the board member from Seward Township, was elected president of the re-organized Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation board at the group's Monday night meeting.

STARTING their engines are Mike Wildermuth with an International and Dale Hileman. Hileman, who has done most of the work on all the tractors, is starting Johnne Smith's "Solid Junk," which is patterned after a full-sized tractor that has won many pulls. Note that its extra weights hang from the radiator. (The rules say weights cannot extend further than 1½ inches from front-most part of tractor. If they fall off during pull, the pull will be measured at that point.) This tractor is powered by a toy dune buggy engine.

The trouble with being a good sport is that you have to lose to prove it.

MENTONE/AKRON NEWS
July 15, 1976

An adolescent is a kid who's old enough to dress himself--if he could just remember where he dropped his clothes.

Egotism is what makes a man in a rut think he's in the groove.

Marriage is a friendship that got out of hand.

Hileman creates little tractor

By Ann Sheetz

There is a roar. The engine has started! Nimble fingers quickly snap on a drive belt and attach the tractor to a weighted sled, the tractor inches forward, finally pops a wheelie and dies, but there is a happy cheer. The tractor has pulled 500 percent of its weight.

Tractor pulls have long been favorite forms of recreation for both participants and spectators. Lusty cheers are common when a gigantic tractor or even a powerful garden tractor has made a good pull. Percentages are often higher than 500, so why the happy cheer at this pull?

Because these tractors are different. None weighs more than six pounds, none less than three. For another thing, these are toys. Everyone knows toy tractors can't pull. They're only good for being pushed around by small boys who add their own sound effects and their own driving patterns.

Not so. If you don't believe it, check with Dale Hileman, Johnne Smith or Mike Wildermuth. Using toy tractors Hileman has customized with airplane engines and extra wide tires, these Akron teenagers regularly have pulls that, though short in duration, set records that would be the envy of many full-sized tractor operators.

"Any toy tractor will work," says Hileman, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hileman. "But internationals are best because there is more room in them."

Cutting the rivets that hold the two halves of the tractors together, Hileman opens the toys, grinds out bushings or other extra material, adds engines from regular or remote controlled model airplanes and gear systems. Imagination counts. For instance, one tractor has a gear box from a barbecue rotisserie and a completely pressurized fuel system. The tractors are bolted back together, pulleys attached to the engine where the propeller normally would be and the gear system completed. Belts are leather shoe-strings cut to size and wired together.

Working out a proper gear ratio is extremely important. A model airplane engine normally runs so fast it would hurtle the toy tractors at unbelievable speeds and would have no pulling ability. Hileman estimates the gear ratio is usually pulled down 500 and 1,000 to 1.

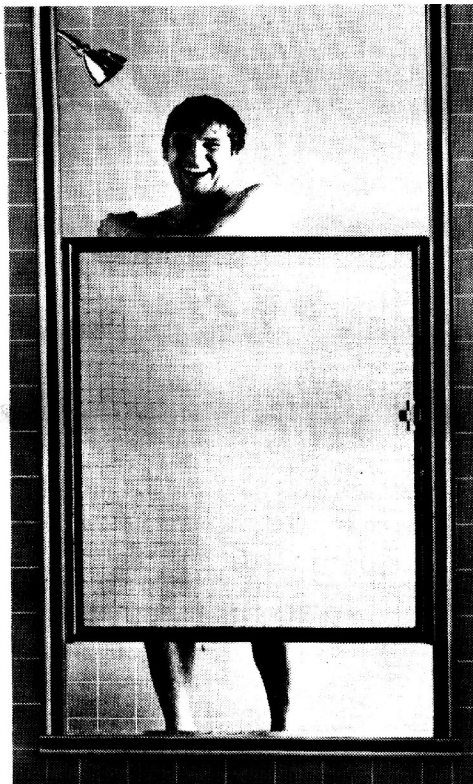

The biggest problem comes from the tiny engines' short range, although by the time the engine runs out of fuel, the tractor has usually popped a "wheelie" and is ready to spin out. Special wheelie bars are added to prevent engine damage if a tractor flips.

Each tractor has a base weight that can change with the addition of weights--washers that bolt over rear wheels. Others, such as Smith's "Solid Junk," which is

e tractors with big pulling power

patterned after a full-sized tractor that has won many awards for its owner, have weights dangling from the radiator as well as the wheels. This particular tractor is powered with an engine from a toy dune buggy.

Using scrap metal and a plexiglass box filled with 17 pounds of bolts and plaster, Hileman built the pull sled with two fishing reel gears that automatically put on more weight as the sled is pulled, just like at the "big" pulls. Believed to be the only toy pullers in the immediate area, the boys have participated in meets at Bourbon and know other pullers from Warsaw and Nappanee. "Most of them live further west," says Hileman, who got the idea from a pulling magazine.

All meets, even on the limited scale in which the three operate, are conducted according to rules described by American Model Distributors of Springfield, Ill., headquarters for the Central Illinois Mini Puller Association. First and foremost of these rules is that all tractors originate from farm tractor models 1/16 scale with all tractors retaining their tractor-like appearance, which includes seat, steering wheel and hood. Each must maintain a wheel base plus or minus 1/4 inch and must be powered by one reed valve engine no larger than .051 cubic inches. Electric, rotary or carburetor engines are forbidden, as are duals, four-wheel drive, chain or track-type tractors.

Actual requirements are simple--a toy tractor, an airplane engine costing six or seven dollars, a gear system (these can be expensive if they are purchased from a distributor specializing in toy tractor pulling supplies, hence the use of barbecue roisserie or other discarded gear systems). And an active imagination and a clear, hard surface on which to pull.

The rest is like any other tractor pull--a lot of fun for participants and spectators alike.

POPPING A WHEELIE. this tiny International tractor has successfully completed a pull. Note the extra wide tires, the result of splitting the stock tires and reassembling them with spacers and retreading with strips of inner tube. According to the rules, all tires must be 4 1/4 inches in diameter and no wider than 1-5/8 inches. Also note the customized tractor at left.

Energy Consultant John Sacchini, Connersville

Some air conditioners use more electricity than others to produce the same amount of cooling. So how do you know what air conditioning units are more efficient? Easy. Look for the EER tag in the appliance store. EER stands for Energy Efficiency Ratio—the measurement of cooling capacity in relation to the amount of energy used to run the unit. The higher the EER the more energy-saving the unit is. So look for the EER tag on the next air conditioner you buy. An EER reading of 8 or higher will save you the most money on electric bills.

SR 331 closed

State Road 331, from between US 6 and SR 10 in Marshall Co., was closed Monday, July 12, and will remain closed until a new diamond-shaped intersection at the junction of SR 331 and US 30 near Bourbon is built. Construction is expected to be completed by December.

Traffic will be routed on US 6 west to US 31, then south on US 31 to SR 10, then east on SR 10 and back to SR 331 for the official state route detour.

The job is being done by Michael Construction Co., Frankfort, the contractor who submitted a low bid of $1,111,691 in the highway's June 22 bid letting. The contract also includes a bridge on SR 331 over US 30 north of Bourbon.

School board drops CBF, establishes debt service fund

Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's 12-year-old cumulative building fund, which expires this year, was not re-established at Monday night's school board meeting. Instead, a 97-cent debt service fund was established. Of this, 15 cents will be used to meet payments on the general obligation bonds purchased to finance nine new buses. The remaining 82 cents, the previous CBF rate, will be earmarked for the corporation's annual $298,000 lease rental payment to the holding corporation that financed the new high school. The balance of the present CBF will also be used to make lease rental payments.

Also approved was a $3.23 general rate. The combined $4.20 rate is 22 cents lower than last year's advertised rate. The budget, which is published in this week's NEWS, will be explained at a special meeting next week (see separate news item) and taxpayers will be given an opportunity to protest it at the August 26 hearing.

For the second time in a month, bids for nine school buses were opened and taken under consideration. Re-bidding according to the board's July 2 instructions to change specifications to note either a five-speed or an automatic transmission were Boardman Chevrolet, Weir of Plymouth, Kerlin Motors, W and W Truck Sales, Leonard Supply, Jack Chaillie, Imperial Equipment and Lee School Supply. The board is expected to reach a decision at the August 16 meeting.

In other action, the board:

* Adopted the policy manual with one change:

the deletion of the policy regarding transfers to other school corporations in order that a student might enroll in vocational agriculture. Since TVSC has its own vo-ag program, this policy was deemed unnecessary.

* Heard a report from business manager Robert Forbes that the recent auction of relocatables and surplus furniture and fixtures had netted $20,334.15.

Mentone residents hear sewage project outlined at public meeting

Mentone's proposed wastewater facilities project was described at a public meeting attended by approximately 20 people Wednesday evening. Speakers Jim Snyder and Ed Tinkle of Commonwealth Engineers, Greenwood, were accompanied by Ron Carter, who taped the proceedings.

Under terms of Public Law 92-500, passed by Congress in 1972, Mentone is eligible for financial assistance from the federal government for 75 percent of the project cost, which is estimated from totals of $1,464,000 to $1,848,000. Annual operation and maintenance costs for the six proposals described ranged from $19,200 to $27,000.

The state of Indiana will provide a grant of ten percent, leaving the remaining allowable project costs to be borne by the community either through the sale of revenue bonds or a Farmers Home Administration loan. The project will be financed solely by revenue obtained from monthly sewer bills.

Tinkle estimated Mentone would have 420 equivalent customers whose monthly bills would range from $12.77 to $13.57 if an FMHA

TVSC proposed budget to be discussed at public meeting

The 1977 proposed Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation budget will be discussed at an 8 p.m. July 27 meeting in the lecture room of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Representatives of all community organizations and interested individuals are urged to attend.

Couple returns to Australia loving America but without seeing Salem

By Ann Sheetz

"Americans are very warm, very kind," Frank Keioskie said, and his wife Hazel agreed.

It was the day before they were to return to their home in Australia, and the couple relaxed in the comfortable living room of their daughter and son-in-law, Janice and Lee Stubblefield, R. 2, Akron.

"It's been a good trip," Hazel Keioskie said. Her husband nodded and said, "But it will be good to be back home."

It was the Keioskies' first trip to America, a trip that also included several other firsts: the first time they had seen their daughter in 16 years, the first time they had met their son-in-law whom she married in the Philippines, and the first time they had seen the couple's six children. And the first time they had seen corn. Certainly the first time they had heard of people eating corn and the first time they'd had such American dishes as candied yams and cranberry sauce.

Their suitcases were bulging with American-made items for the daughter and four sons who live in Australia, although it had been difficult to find much that wasn't made in Hong Kong or Taiwan. And they hadn't been able to go to Salem. Salem, it seems, is the town in "Days of Our Lives," a television serial as popular in Australia as in America.

"I always watch it," Mr. Keioskie confessed. "My friends all told me to be sure to go to Salem." He also likes Gunsmoke. "We've had Gilligan's Island there for years," he said, poker-faced, "and now I see you have it here too."

"One thing I like better about TV at home is

Akron Bicentennial committee to prepare slide program

The Akron Bicentennial Commission will meet Thursday, July 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the library basement to begin work on the slide history of the town. Plans will be made for a fall showing.

Everyone interested in working on the project is urged to contact Pam Madeford.

AKRON 8th grade cheerleaders who recently attended National Cheerleader Clinic on the campus of St. Mary's College, So. Bend, are pictured on one of the mounts they learned. Pam Zimmerman is on top, Paula Ooley and Dara Weaver are in the middle and Staci Hartzler and Jenny Leininger are on the bottom. The cheerleaders studied new cheers, stunts, tumbling and crowd psychology.

THE MAIN DIFFERENCE between Indiana and Australia is the corn, Frank and Hazel Keioskie said. Shown here surrounded by sweet corn, the Keioskies, who were visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Janice and Lee Stubblefield, said cane is Australia's main crop. The couple returned home Friday after a six week visit in the area.

that some of the stations are owned by the government. That means no commercials. Sometimes there are so many here I could kick in the glass."

"America plays a terrible big part in our TV news at home," he noted, "but I've only heard Australia mentioned twice since I've been here."

"We're gamblers," he said, his eyes twinkling as he described the "casinets" in which residents buy chances on little gold caskets filled with winning numbers. The lotteries support their hospitals, but medicine itself is socialized. "My doctor gave me enough tablets to tide me over," Mrs. Keioskie said. "A good thing, too," her husband interjected, "Medicine is too high here." But other items are cheaper here, such as gasoline, which costs them an equivalent of $1 per gallon, clothing and bed linens. Eggs are $1.45 per dozen. Beef, however, is cheaper, and they recently purchased a side for 35 cents per pound.

Already converted to the metric system, they find some of their stores by the yard while others have converted to meters. "It's very confusing," Hazel Keioskie said.

"And we're ahead of you on some other things," Frank Keioskie said. "For instance, your stores stay open late at night and on weekends. Ours used to, but not anymore. They are open 40 hours a week, and that's all. It all works out better."

The Keioskies, sugar cane growers for 38 years, now live on Campwin Beach, just off the Barrier Reefs, on the Pacific Ocean in Queensland, Australia's second largest state. There is a high crime rate, and they are unable to leave their homes or go to bed without first bolting doors and windows. "And junk, you wouldn't believe the junk," Frank Keioskie said. "American roads are so clean, so neat. We have junk cars everywhere along the beach. A real disgrace."

During the couple's stay in America, they visited San Francisco, Denver and the wheatlands of Lee Stubblefield's native Kansas. They were in Akron for the 5th of July celebration and watched many of the Bicentennial events on television. "Absolutely wonderful," they said. "America is a great country."

Mentone residents hear sewage

loan were obtained or from $15.79 to $17.62 if sewer revenue bonds were sold.

Costs not covered by the grants include legal fees, site acquisition, interest, administrative, some rate consultant and all construction costs associated with individual sewer lines. This means all residents or business owners will be responsible for having their own sewer lines installed.

All persons within 100 feet of the sewer line will have to hook on to the system, and anyone wanting sewage facilities in his basement will have to purchase a pumping device of his own. "To provide the luxury of serving all basements in the town would increase the construction costs by approximately 50 percent," Tinkle said. All residents will be asked to disconnect basement drains as the proposed collection system and treatment plant are designed for sanitary sewage only.

Under consideration are four plant sites shown on a map published in the July 8 issue of the NEWS. Receiving Tinkle's nod was site No. 1, which is on land already owned by the town adjacent to the cemetery. This would be an extended aeration treatment plant and would require the lowest operating charges because of its proximity to the town. Other plant sites could be used for lagoons or oxidation processes, he said, but the cost would be higher because of the extra pumping.

Questions regarding the necessity of disconnecting basement-located washers were heard from Alonzo Baker, Dr. Donald VanGilder and Bernice Jones. Two said they felt most washers were in basements and protested the additional cost of installing pumping equipment. Engineers, however, agreed with Raymond Cooper, who said it would cost everyone more to hook on if the sewer had to be deepened.

Mentone attorney Lee Bazini said the town was under a mandate to build a sewage system, although Dr. VanGilder said tests had already proven the water was cleaner after it left town than when it entered. Commonwealth engineers said they had seen no reports that would back up his statement.

Estimated schedule for initiation and completion of the project includes a complete facilities plan by July 30, the start of plans and specifications by Nov. 1 with complete plans and specifications to be completed March 1, 1977, bids to be let June 1, 1977, construction to begin Oct. 1, 1977 and to be completed October 1, 1978. The facility should be ready to start operation Nov. 1, 1978, according to the schedule, which Tinkle described as "optimistic."

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

"Wow! What a cool trip!" Doug exclaimed. Loren and I stared at him in disbelief. Perspiration poured from all of us. I felt like we'd just been given a preview of what the hereafter would be like if we didn't shape up fast. Cool, it wasn't.

"Okay," he said, "it was pretty cool, even though it was awful hot."

Hot it was, but in a 12-year-old's jargon, it was cool. What we'd just done was take a bus and walking tour of U.S. Steel Corporation's Gary Works to see how iron ore, coke and limestone are turned into steel.

It was an awe-inspiring spectacle.

Absolutely overwhelming was the BOP (basic oxygen process) furnace. Even in the specially built observation deck, we could feel the heat. We couldn't possibly miss the brimstone effect created in the shop that refines 200-ton batches of molten steel every hour.

The next stop was the 46-inch slab mill where glowing ingots, heated to about 2,400 degrees, are squeezed by immense machines into slabs 3½ to 20 inches thick. The heat here and in the 84-inch hot strip mill where slabs are rolled into strips at speeds up to 4,000 feet per minute was overwhelming. Visitors trooped through the mill on catwalks high above the glowing steel.

And there was a visit to the 160/210-inch plate mill, the largest of its type in the world, where slabs are rolled into steel plates up to 200 inches wide. And a trip to the water purification plant where dirty Lake Michigan water is reclaimed after it's been used in the mills and purified, sent back in drinkable condition, which it wasn't when it was pumped from the lake.

Stops for hot dogs and pop were made as visitors alternated between walking through the overwhelmingly hot buildings and riding in air-conditioned buses around the sprawling complex, past Lake Michigan and past the more than 170 miles of railroad track in the yards.

The open house, part of the Gary Works' Bicentennial celebration, was intended to give individuals, families, school and civic groups an idea of what goes on inside a steel mill. But employees found it interesting, too. One man said, "I've worked here 30 years, but I've never seen the rest of the place. This is a heck of a way to spend my day off but I want to see how the other departments operate." Another man had his wife, two children and mother in tow, pointing out sights not included in the guide's narration as the bus wound past the 13 blast furnaces that make the Gary Works unique. ("Nowhere in the world will you see so many blast furnaces in a row," the guide said. "And nowhere in the western hemisphere will you see one as tall as No. 13." He didn't say who in the eastern hemisphere had one taller.)

The tours will continue until July 25. Expected to attract more than 70,000 people, the facility was greeted by more than half that many in the first two days.

Our own wait from the time we arrived at Gary Career Center until we departed on the bus was 3½ hours; others waited as long as five. But it was an amazing spectacle; the people were friendly and everyone seemed to have fun.

If you want to go there's still time. Our advice would be to go very early in the day. The tours are scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the weekends and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. We went on Sunday, arriving at 10:30. The line seemed endless, but by noon it was stopped because there were already as many people as officials felt they could handle. If possible, try to go on a week day. If not, go early. Some people reported having been in line since 7 a.m. in order to be among the first on the buses.

The tour originates at Gary Career Center, 35th Avenue and Martin Luther King Drive. It is reached by exiting Interstate 65 at Ridge Road in Gary, traveling west to King Drive and north on 35th Avenue.

Buses chartered from the city and manned by US Steel personnel as guides leave the center and proceed through the mills to show the entire steelmaking process in sequence.

It depends on whether you are 12 or 40 if you think it's cool. (And if you're under 12, don't go; there's an age limit. Also, no shorts or open toed shoes allowed.) But regardless of whether you think it is cool or if you decide it's time to reform, it is a spectacle you won't soon forget.

* Heard a report of a July 15 session in Wabash Circuit Court in which oral arguments were made in an attempt to vacate an Indiana Educational Employment Relations Board ruling regarding recognition by the board of the Professional Teachers Organization. Superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell said September 17 has been set for a possible hearing.

* Received a report showing extra-curricular balances.

* Noted that a legal notice including a summary of the bond process will be published this week.

* Re-named Randall Leininger as a member of the Akron library board.

* Accepted the resignations of Billie and Alberta Davis and approved teaching contracts for Patricia Colon Beebe as an Akron fifth grade teacher and Philip See as Akron and Mentone junior high physical education teacher. They did not approve a contract submitted for a new Akron sixth grade teacher.

* Signed new contracts for Marsha Teel and Diane Sincraft, who have received master's degrees which automatically places them in a different salary schedule, and for Norman Metzger and Keith Mathias. President Fred Kindig asked that it be recorded he was doing this under protest since the two had been held below scale.

* Approved Raymond Grubbs as a custodian if a position becomes available.

* Heard remarks from Phyllis Gearhart and Bernadine Scott regarding the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association's willingness to meet with the board at any time to better relations between the board, teachers and students.

Have you noticed that there are comparatively few house flies in Akron this summer? If Akron had fewer weed corners, a little cleaner alleys and the hitch yards were solid floors and cleaned there would be still fewer flies. Still barrels and poorly kept barn yards about town send out a few flies yet. But Akron is slowly and gradually getting clean enough and sanitary enough to live without a single fly within the corporate limits. We will soon not need a single window or door screen. Yessir: There can be no dispute, Akron will be clean enough in a year or two more to live without a door screen or a window screen. The paving of the street has reduced the fly family in Akron 250 million a minute.

Bus drivers who are submitting bids for school hack routes will have to take the new weight tax law into consideration this year before submitting their bids. The new weight law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1938 and school buses are not exempt from the tax, which means that drivers will have to pay a tax averaging approximately fifty dollars, depending upon their truck, tires, etc. Considerable competition is foreseen this year in the bidding, as all contracts are to be let for two years, with the exception of Tal Richardson's route, from Athens. He received a two-year contract last year.

We are proud

Dear Editor:

The festival activities of Kosciusko Co.'s Bicentennial celebration are about over. Many important things have happened. There have been parks dedicated, historic schools restored, a museum established and town buildings initiated. The patriotic-religious July 4 program was momentous.

Things like these have happened all across the nation and while it will be the role of future generations to make final judgement, it is my belief that the Bicentennial may well mark a major turning point in the history of America.

We are proud that so many people here have participated, so many that it is impossible to name them. Their contributions have not gone unnoticed and as chairman of the county Bicentennial Commission may I take this means to say, "Thank you very much."

Stop by and see us

Dear Editor:

During the Round Barn Festival a man told us that the Fulton Co. Historical Society is getting a reputation of being one of the most active historical societies in the state. People say our Quarterly is one of the most interesting and informative published anywhere.

During the Round Barn Festival, 184 members brought cornbread muffins and 102 members worked at the museum, log cabin and ham and bean tent. Thank you for your support.

We want to thank the many people who help in special ways this year: Manitou Garden Club, Manpower, Morry's Ready Mix, Claude and Martha Wagoner, Florence Miller, the Bill Willard family, Fansler Lumber, Mrs. Mark Wakefield, Mary Sampsel, Berkway, Lois Ewen, Shirley Tobey.

Also, Ted Lewis, Herman Pattee, Willis Bowen, Carl Davis, Bill Crabill, Moose Lodge, St. John Lutheran church, Dean's Milk, First National Bank, Farmers and Merchants Bank.

And we want to thank the Sentinel, WROI, Akron/Mentone News, Shopping Guide and Kewanna Observer for printing our news.

Because of the rain, we had ham and beans and cornbread left over the last evening of the RBF. We are selling these as frozen carry-outs at half price at the Civic Center museum, 7th and Pontiac, Rochester. It is open Monday-Friday, 9 to 5.

We gave cornbread muffins to both nursing homes. We thank all the people who made muffins and want them to know none will go to waste, even if we have to keep them frozen to use during the Trail of Death Rendezvous. Too bad the weather was so hot this year, or sales would have been better.

Ernie Hiatt Electric Co. is giving us his booth at the 4-H fair in the commercial building, so stop by and see our display next week. --Shirley Willard

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the July 23, 1947 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Dale Hawley was in town Monday getting about on crutches. Dale had the misfortune of breaking his ankle three weeks ago in a fall at his farm.

Frank Saemann and six or seven of his friends are leaving Thursday on a short fishing trip in to Canada. The group will travel in the two Stinson planes owned by Mr. Saemann.

The Past Matrons Club of Wabash were the guests of Mrs. Ora McKinley Saturday.

Sheriff Ray Henderson and Deputy Sheriff Frank Lucas have recovered $98.87 in cash, the major portion of an amount stolen from Jack Shinn, Mentone, while he was swimming in Beaver Dam Lake on Thursday afternoon.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship held their regular meeting last Sunday evening and then afterwards six people went to the first meeting of the Bible Conference going on for six weeks. Doris Snider, Virginia Rush, Jody Culum, Ted Peterson, David Cooper and Rev. Irwin attended.

Our pet alligator managed to squeeze through a small opening in his pen and is now listed among the missing. He was very young, and also, a very small creature, but--there are some badly neglected flower beds in our end of town since his disappearance.

Iolene Sue Dudge is spending ten days with her grandparents.

CROP walkers sought

Fulton Co. residents will participate in the Bicentennial state-long relay hunger walk for CROP that began early in July at Lincoln City and will end at the national CROP office in Elkhart.

Local CROP leaders hope to have 100 walkers scheduled for July 25. Fulton Co. will be divided into two 10-mile sections, one beginning at Fulton and ending at the old 31 bridge, the other beginning there and ending at Argos.

Each walker will secure his own sponsors. All will be insured by CROP.

Indiana's goal is $50,000, and it is hoped there will be 1,976 walkers, one for each year since the birth of Christ.

CROP is the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service, which raises funds for world disasters and self-help programs in developing countries.

Phil and Connie See, Akron, 893-7258, have blanks for anyone wanting to walk and for their contributions.

New FCHS quarterly features Newcastle schools

The new Fulton County Historical Society quarterly has histories of Pinhook Grange, more Akron authors, Talma Bible Church, Newcastle township schools and the Fulton Leader.

Three more Akron authors are included—Dr. and Mrs. Charles Zunkel and John Hand. Their stories were compiled by Velma Bright, Akron librarian.

Charles Stavedahl wrote the history of the Talma Bible Church; Bertha Waltz the Fulton Leader story and Shirley Willard wrote the Pinhook Grange article.

Newcastle township schools included are Talma, Wright, Green Hill, Yale and Lakeview. Former students who aided research on these were Dr. Dow Haimbaugh, Edna Carey, Ralph Hatfield, Allene Biddinger, Charles Good, Willis Bowen, Flavilla Tracy, Mrs. Earl Zent, Joe and Clarence Peterson and Vance Fenstermaker.

A letter from Ann Sheetz to Shirley Willard describing Pucky Huddle was used as an article to describe the former village, and a special section of pictures features the town of Fulton is included.

The quarterly is on sale throughout the county, including the Akron bank and library, or may be purchased at either FCHS museums. Members whose dues are paid will receive them in the mail if they did not pick them up at the Round Barn Festival.

The circus has come to Peru for the past 17 summers, but it wasn't until this year that I went to see "the greatest amateur show on earth."

The combined effort of hundreds of Peru residents, the show is so good it has been featured on television and in scores of newspapers and magazines. Maybe if it had been 300 miles from home instead of less than 30 I would have gone sooner. After all, we all know Peru is the circus capital of the world, that it once was headquarters for some of the greatest shows in the world, that many performers still live there. Why get excited about a circus that close to home?

While some of us in the "outlying" areas don't get excited about the circus, Peru citizens do. The smell of sawdust and popcorn turns them on, and the bands, clowns and aerialists bring back fond memories of another era.

Excitement filled the air. "Sawdust just sort of gets in your veins," I heard someone say, and it seemed half the city was trying to prove it.

There were clowns everywhere. The silly one "directing" the band was a doctor. I recognized one as a travel agent, and it wasn't long until the ringmaster—a banker—announced that two ministrators were riggers, the strong-armed men who tore down and set up acts while the rest of us were still applauding. Members of the Altrusa Club sported circus print dresses and blouses as they took tickets. Former circus people, the only professionals there, didn't perform at all. Instead, they took obvious pride in the kids they had trained to do the difficult routines.

Somewhere between the first two acts, I muttered to myself, "I hope no kid of mine ever wants to do that." And by the time I'd seen them perform on unicycles, the web and a motorcycle routine in which the rider and the girl who rode underneath swung around a high wire, I knew there were a lot of parents with stomachs stronger than mine.

Then came the flying trapeze act with 15 and 17-year-old girls as flyers and a 17-year-old boy as catcher. Hearts stopped as one did a back flip through the air and was caught by her feet and the other did a double somersault. Then they raised a nine-year-old girl so she could reach the bar, and she safely flew to the catcher and back to her perch with her fellow aerialists, including a 12-year-old boy who successfully—barely—made the trip. My heart froze, then warmed with relief as the little fellow was pulled to safety by the teenagers. "Not my kid," I muttered.

On the way out of the remodeled lumber building that is now a permanent big top, I heard my own 12-year-old ask, "How soon we moving?" "Huh?" I asked, my mind still on the trapeze.

"I asked you how soon we can move to Peru so I can be in some of the acts. That looks like fun."

"Let me see your fingers," I demanded. I checked the hand he reluctantly extended until I found it a bit of sawdust appeared to be stuck in a crease in his palm. I flicked it with my finger but it refused to budge; it seemed intent on being absorbed into his system.

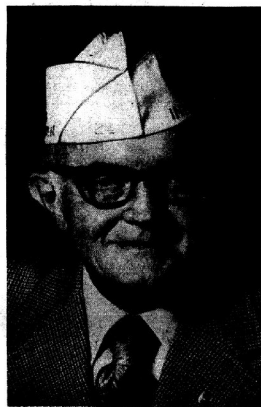

"We've gotta get a doctor," I said. "You need a doctor, lady?" a voice asked, and I nodded.

"He's right over there—the circus always has a doctor on duty."

"Good thinking," I said, but when I saw the doctor, I said, "Forget it. I'll take him home and soak his hand in Epsom salts."

After all, how can you expect a doctor dressed in a baggy suit and wearing a rubber nose, socks that don't match and shoes that are two feet long to get sawdust out of a kid's veins?

It can't be done.

Thursday morning, July 20, we received word from our paper house, the house from which we have been buying our newspaper paper ever since we have published this paper, that beginning August 1, 1916, there would be an advance of 35 percent in price. This being true there is no further escape for us. That to do the thing we have tried to avoid for over a year--raise the price of our subscription.

The result is they slipped home securely bound for life. Their many friends will join us in extending them liberal congratulations.

We are informed that Scott Whittenberger threshed 300 bushels of wheat from 12 to 14 acres this week. The machine men says this was the best yield they had found in that ring.

39 YEARS AGO

Poor quality and curtailed yield of wheat is costing Akron farmers thousands of dollars, if results obtained from wheat already threshed can be relied upon. Wheat is averaging about 20 bushels to the acre, which is considered a fairly good average, but is nothing to brag about. No. 2 wheat is quoted at $1.14 here in Akron, but most wheat is grading No. 3, 4 and even 5 which pays only 80c.

Jonny McFarland is enjoying the role of retailer and wholesaler, now that the tomatoes he and Bud Wade planted are ripened. The patch, located back of McFarlands is ripening fast and since the local tomato factory, for which the plants were contracted, is not open for business yet, John is selling them to the Kroger store.

Over two hundred relatives and friends attended the annual reunion of the Bowen family which was held Sunday in the John Dawson woods near the Olive Bethel church. Many were present from LaPorte, Hammond and Illinois. One of the speakers was Dorothy Bowen from Montana, who had been visiting her brother and family in New York, and whose wife and son were with her at the reunion. There was music and singing and election of officers. It was decided to hold the reunion at the same place next year.

Don't Call Me God; I'll Call You

A Ken Anderson film, "Don't Call Me, God; I'll Call You," will be shown at 7:30 Sunday at the Akron Church of God.

Set on a Christian college campus, the film is the story of Mark, one of the most likely-to-succeed types. Mark has planned to go to seminary after graduation, but he wasn't the usual kind of ministerial student. No small churches for him. He wanted to make it big as a clergyman. Through a series of personal events, he is forced to evaluate his motivations and see what his main purpose in life is.

The film has a message for all age groups and centers on a commitment to Christ.

Pastor J. D. Thomason encourages members and friends of the church to attend.

"I slept, ate and worked next to nuclear power plants for four years and I know they're safe," says Nuclear Engineer Harlan Sager.

Nuclear Quality Engineer Harlan Sager, Plainfield

Before Harlan joined Public Service Indiana's nuclear quality assurance section he served aboard the nuclear submarines U.S.S. James Madison and U.S.S. Plunger. There hasn't been a single fatality resulting from nuclear mishaps during more than 1,000 reactor-years' operation both in the Navy and in commercial power plants. No other industry comes close to this safety record. The chance of your being killed by a nuclear power plant is about the same as being struck by a meteor. Nuclear risks are far less than the risks to human life and well-being that would result from serious shortages of electric energy. That's why Public Service Indiana plans to have nuclear power at work by the 1980s.

Disko School Reunion

By Doris Lynch

The 1976 Disko School reunion was held at the Lions Club house in Silver Lake on July 18 with a carry-in dinner at noon. Leonard Clinker gave the noontime prayer. After the meal, it was decided to continue with the carry-in dinner as it is a time of fellowship and sharing. Frank Lukens, president, conducted the meeting. He mentioned the passing of two classmates--Earl Young and William Lukens.

Mrs. Lee Brubaker described what she is doing to update the history of Pleasant Township schools and would appreciate information and pictures pertaining to these schools.

Earl Davenport played a tape recording of a letter he received from Kenneth Nelson, Indianapolis. The 81-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nelson, he was unable to attend on account of health. He told many interesting things that happened while he was growing up in Disko.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bechtelheimer were unable to attend because Vernon has been hospitalized. He is improving now, so Earl Davenport taped "get well" messages to him from those present and the tape will be sent to him at his home in Venice, Fla.

Attending from Akron were Mr. and Mrs. DeVur LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukens, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robinson, Harold Groninger, Marjorie McColey, Goldie Ferree and Mrs. George Sheetz.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Ihnen, Roy Helser, Chas. Lukens, Mrs. Lee Brubaker, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hill, Carl Pingleton, Mrs. Robt. Thomas, all of No. Manchester; Herbert Harlan, Disko; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Young, Warsaw.

From Silver Lake were Mrs. Herman Ihnen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shipley, Doris Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bechtelheimer and Mrs. Richard Kerlin.

Also, Bessie Henry, a teacher, and Maxine Butler, Laketon; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Patanelli, Elkhart; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lukens, Venice, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schipper, Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brooks, Newton, O.; Leonard Clinker, Huntington; Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick, Mentone, also a teacher;

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Smith, Denver; Mr. and Mrs. John Groshon, Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shipley, Athens, a teacher, and another teacher, Frieda Freitag, Sarasota, Fla. Oscar Kroft, Merriweather Convalescent Center, Wabash, at 91 was the oldest person present. Also attending were Helen Kreiter, Chicago, and Mary Lukens, Hammond.

The reunion will be in the same place on the third Sunday in July, 1977.

Officers for the coming year are Frank Lukens, president; Artie Lowman, vice-president; Earl Davenport, secretary and treasurer, and Doris Lynch, assistant. Committee members are Bessie Henry, Doris Lynch, Carl and Grace Shipley and Ernest and Ruth Brooks.

Failure is the path of least persistence.

Love is the same old game it was ten thousand years ago except that diamonds have replaced clubs.

Celebrate 25th anniversary

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hileman, Akron, was honored July 17 at a surprise reception in the annex of the Akron United Methodist Church.

Hosts were the couple's children, Charles, Warsaw; Randy, Dale and Mrs. Garry (Christine) Barnes, Akron. The couple also has two grandsons.

Harold Hileman and the former Ruth Brookins were married in 1951 with the Rev. Claude W. Fawns officiating. Mr. Hileman is employed at Zimmers, Warsaw, and Mrs. Hileman is a public accountant.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNegie LIBRARY

THE CROSBY: GREATEST SHOW IN GOLF by Dwayne Netland. This is the first book ever written on the Crosby, a warm and humorous account spiced with some spectacular photos of courses and contestants and a trip through memory lane in an Epilogue containing capsule summaries of each tournament.

RECOLLECTIONS OF A COUNTRY GAL by Mabel E. Davidson. Although Mrs. Davidson is now over seventy years of age, she bridges the gap between the nostalgic period of her own childhood and the present fast-moving age in an unobtrusive, whimsical way that seems to obliterate the passage of time, telescoping the years and interposing on them those things of lasting value which are not confined to any particular age, but have that quality of perpetuity common to every age and to all humanity. Timelessness, the breathless quality of true existence, sparkles in her writings.

SHARLOT HALL ON THE ARIZONA STRIP by Sharlot M. Hall. This is a diary of a journey through Northern Arizona in 1911.
THE ROCKETS' RED GLARE by Wernher von Braun and Frederick I. Ordway II. This is an illustrated history of rocketry through the ages.

SEAVIEW MANOR by Elissa Grandower. A highly satisfying tale of romantic suspense in a palatial contemporary setting with a spirited heroine whose adventures are the kind she would never have dreamed of when she answered an ad in the "Times" that began--Female, young, single, personable.

DUEL BETWEEN THE FIRST IRONCLADS by William C. Davis. This is the story of the famous Civil War Battle at sea between the Union "Monitor" and the Confederate "Virginia", the redesigned and rebuilt U.S.S. Merrimack.

HORSEBACK HONEYMOON by Dorothy Ballard. This is the story of the vanishing Old West of 1907 through the eyes of two young artists in love.

Boys sports organizational meeting

Organizational meetings for all boys planning to participate in football, tennis and cross country at Tippecanoe Valley High School have been set for 7 p.m. August 4 at the school. Each will receive a free physical examination that night and will be asked to pay insurance fees: $5 for football and $1 for tennis and cross country.

Football players will be issued practice gear and will be asked to pay $12 for practice football shoes, if needed. Cross country and tennis players will be fitted for shoes.

Advice is like castor oil, easy enough to give but dreadful uneasy to take.

I Love America program slated

As the grand finale to a year and a half of community-oriented activities, the Mentone Bicentennial Commission will sponsor "I Love America," a musical program performed by the 50-member choir and 15-piece orchestra of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Warsaw, on November 11, Veterans' Day. The public is invited to the 8 p.m. program.

In other business at a recent meeting, Jerry Smith, chairwoman, announced the commission float won $30 for placing third at the Akron 5th of July parade.

Work will begin in the near future on the Milbern school project. Pictures have been found indicating the school originally had an addition on the front that housed cloak closets.

Members of the board of directors, chaired by Rosemary Bazini and officers and president Ron Severns will soon begin an intensive membership drive seeking support of those who are interested in preserving the past for the future. Hazel Linn, local historian, has done intensive research on Kosciusko Co. schoolhouses, including Milbern, and plans a historical program Sept. 12 in Warsaw.

The commission's cookbook is now available at Ruth Tucker's and Lucille Teel's beauty shops, the Lawrence D Bell library and Frank and Jerry's Market.
