were accepted. Linda Newcomer, TVSC elementary music teacher, has accepted a position in South Bend, and Cynthia Carwill, of No. Manchester, has been hired as her replacement. Mary Rogers, Mentone kindergarten teacher, also presented her resignation statling that she is moving to Wisconsin in August and is planning to marry.

A proposal to expand the industrial arts and home economics programs at the Mentone and Akron junior high schools failed for the lack of a motion. The cost would have been $21,000. Twenty-four textbooks for the 1978-79 school year were adopted, but not without discussion on the textbook controversary taking place in Warsaw. A question was raised over who had selected the books, and Dr. Harrell replied that the teachers had. However, he also explained that providing teachers and parents to protest the selection of books. Defends guitar

DEAR EDITOR:

I was very much offended by the NEWSVIEW column in the June 29 issue of the Akron/Mentone News. I am not writing this letter to question the talents of Mr. Galway's talent as I have never been exposed to his music. However, I must defend myself when you shoot down my talent and my instrument, even though it is indirectly done. Yes, I play electric guitar. I don't claim to be proficient at playing the guitar, at the same time I wish to state that I do have more than three chords mastered. It takes a special talent to play an instrument, any instrument. I am not saying it is needed to play the "C" scale or even Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata". The talent is in relating to his/her listeners. The groups that make it big manage to give their audiences the same feeling that they received as the song was composed. I hope that the music I write or play conveys that feeling, whether it be a three chord progression of fif-teen. Glenn Miller's big hit way back when is just a three chord song...ever listen to "In the Mood"?

In closing I would like to say one final thing. I am proud to say I play mainly "Rock and Roll". I do however enjoy other types of music such as Jazz, Classical, Country and even Easy Listening. I try not to condemn any type of music or any style. If you condemn a style of music or claim that a certain instrument is bad, you will eventually become prejudiced against the peo-ple who play or enjoy that type of music

Sincerely, Jim Bazini

FCHS Quarterly largest yet

The latest Fulton County Historical Society Quarterly features photos and story of the Akron and Fulton 1947 and 1953 basketball teams which will play the old Fulton County Tourney in a historical replay July 9 to conclude the Round Barn Festival. The front cover has a photo of the Vestern Saddle Club of Roch-ester, England. Other stories in the new quarter-ly are about Fulton County's 25 historical markers, early county bridges, FCHS's four museums, Liberty Township's Bicentennial award-winning properties, and the Fulton cemetery record.

The largest Quarterly yet, Quar-terly 32 contains 48 pages. It is available at all the county banks, Rochester and Akron libraries, Rochester News Agency, and all four FCHS museums, which are open Monday through Friday Copies were mailed to FCHS members and members of the Fulton and Akron teams. Bicentennial stories include the Balley-Stephen house in Roches-ter, and the following in Liberty Township: stagecoach inn owned by Clyde Neff, Joe Northcutt shot house, Truman Long house, Harley McCroskey houses, Dwight Reed farm, Glen Zart-man's grist mill, Eugenia Cunning-ham house, and Dee Williams house Contributing authors were Ber tha Waltz, Lois Wagoner, Rose-mary Williams, Rev. Clyde Wal-ters about the Nafe threshing rig, Caroline Stephen, Mrs. Arthur Showley II, and Shirley Willard.

Another feature story is about the book by Kewanna authors, Alan and Sue McPherson: "Wild Food Plants of Indiana and Adja-cent States."

Bridge photos include Tom Wilson's covered bridge and a bridge made by the Rochester Bridge Factory photographed by John

"Vacation" for plants

Placing your houseplants outdoors during the summer can give them extra vigor, says John A. Wott, Purdue University extension home environment horticulturist

"Sunshine and fresh air can make many houseplants flower better during the winter," Wott says. Almost all houseplants, ex-cept for tender, hairy-leaved plants such as African violets and plants such as African violets and rex begonias, can be placed out-doors during the summer months. "Since most plants have been living indoors without direct sun-light, and because some plants actually resent too much light, place them in a protected spot away from direct sun," the horti-culturist advises. culturist advises.

Shrub borders and shaded patos are good outdoor spots for houseplants, Wott says. These locations will protect plants from su and driving wind and rain. Remember to check houseplants constantly for water because they may dry out faster than they would indoors.

Regularly inspect your "vaca-tioning" houseplants for signs of insect damage. And remember to protect these plants whenever you spray your garden.

"Spray your houseplants im-mediately before you bring them indoors at the end of the sum-mer," Wott says. "Otherwise, some insects may 'hitchhike' in-doors on your plants."

Parts of the Arabian Desert have only been seen from the air. Its name in Arabic means "the empty place."

Everyone of us has lived through events or happenings in our lives that cause stress, and most of us have lived through them, becoming stronger for them. Even simple tasks, that demand that we adjust, cause stress. According to Dr. Hans Selve, a physician and author of books on stress, calls these incidents "stressors". Even happy events can cause stress, like winning an award for your efforts, or asking a girl out on a date. But humans thrive on this because it "makes life more interesting". However, "distress" is another matter. A situation which causes us to constantly adjust or adopt is distress. Frustration at a job may cause distress, boredom can also provoke it. And these feelings can cause real harm to mind and body. To avoid distress, Dr. Selye recommends that you seek work or tasks that:

- A. you are capable of doing
- 3. you really enjoy

C. other people appreciate

Recognizing that stress has a lifelong influence on you, what else can you do to handle it? The National Institute on Mental Health recommends these actions: 1) Work off stress physically

- 2) Talk out your problems
- 3) Accept what you can not change
- 4) Get plenty of sleep and rest
- 5) Do something for others
- 6) Don't overwork
- Take one thing at a time
- 8) Give in once in awhile

Distress will only wear you out. So take it easy! You owe it to yourself.

Old foot bridge at Mentzer Park to be replaced

The Mentone Town Board met in regular session on July 10 at the town hall with all members present. Minutes from the last meeting, June 5, were read by Clerk-Treasurer Kate Whetstone and were approved as read.

Board president, Frank Hardes-ty, opened the discussion of old business regarding the purchase of a truck to replace the one damaged in an accident. He has found two, one a 1972 Ford, the other a 1973 GMC, that he feels the Board should look into. Both are smaller than the old truck, but it was agreed that the extra equipment from the old would fit either of these two. Asking price for the Ford is $4,000 and for the GMC is $4,300. Board members will look into this further.

In other old business, trustee Wayne Tombaugh reported that NIPSCO has recommended that five new street lights be put up in town, instead of the request-ed four. The Board last month requested 3 at the east end of town and 1 at the west end. How ever, after looking at NIPSCO's recommendation, it was agreed that 3 he installed on the east end, and 2 be installed at the west edge. Tombaugh stated that NIPSCO assured him work should begin by mid-July. There is no charge for the installation. In new business, an area resident requested that gravel be put in the alley behind his home, as he uses it to get to his garage and in the spring it is full of mud. No gravel is available at this time, but the Board advised Water Dept. Superintendent, Harry Sullivan, to check into it. A representative from Larry Construction Co., that did emer-gency work on the water tank last winter, was present to ex-plain why he feels the water tank on N. Yale St. should be completely cleaned and repaint-ed. It has been eleven years since the tank was cleaned and painted, and pictures of the rust and mud inside were shown to the Board. He gave them figures on the cost of the work, and told the Board if they signed a contract then that they would save at least $250. The cost of repairs was not known, because struct-ural damage can't be seen until cleaning is finished. The Board declined to sign the contract because of financial restrictions, and decided that when the job is undertaken bids will probably be requested. In other action: * Dick Gross requested that the alleys north and east of his place of business be not used by the public. The alleys, however, are public property, and the trustees asked town Marshal Earl Beattie to notify Gross of this fact. * Residents are reminded that usinessmen may not. * Robert Whetstone, chairman of the Park Board, was given the okay to replace the old foot

Traffic report for July 4 holiday

The Indiana State Police at the Peru District have announced the following traffic report over the July 4th holiday in District 23. The report covers their activities in Wabash, Miami, Cass, Howard, and Fulton counties. This report is for June 30, July 1, 2, 3 and 4. 1978.

Three hundred twenty seven traffic arrests were effected. This total includes 66 truck arrests, and 9 motorcycle arrests. In addition, 236 warnings, 49 notice to repair defective vehi-cles, and 63 police services of various types were effected. First Sergeant John Gaylor stat-ed that a total of 14 special patrols were initiated on major roads in the area. Stationary and moving radar units were uti-lized, and some days off were cancelled. Also, the airplane was used on occasion. Nine accidents were investigated in the five counties, including one fatal accident which occurr-

First place winners in the "Cutie Float" category during the Akron

Fourth of July parade were Rebecca Haynes, left, and Aaron Schipper, right. Rebecca is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Haynes, Akron, and Aaron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schipper, also of Akron.

"Don't be so quick to criticize the members of the Fourth of July committee. We're too busy to just sit around and watch nude art. Please sign up for next year's Fourth of July committee. We need you and then you'll know what kind of people are on the committee.

"Let's keep the beer cans off the Little League diamonds!"

"It would really help out if the post office would have a drive-in window like the bank."

The Akron Town Board is scheduled to discuss plans to demolish the old Lamarie building pictured above at the next board meeting. The building has housed several businesses, the most recent being an antique shop.

Drunk driving law amended

Effective July 1, 1978, India-na's drunk driving law has been amended to provide either sus-pension of the operator's license for a minimum period of sixty (60) drue to a previous period (60) days to a maximum period of two (2) years, or a one (1) year probationary period for all convicted first offenders. If placed upon probation, the law fur-ther specifies the restrictions which may be placed upon the individual's driving privilege. So that these restrictions may be recorded upon the individual's operators license, the court shall forward the individual's license to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and the Bureau will subsequently issue the individual a restricted license.

As a result of the restriction being programmed into the com-puter, Indiana license branches will not be able to issue an opera-tor's license prior to the expira-tion of the probationary period. Consequently, any Indiana driver convicted of drunk driving and placed on probation whose li-cense expires prior to the term of probation must follow the new procedure. Thirty days prior to the expiration of his present driver's license, the driver should go to the license branch and apply for a non-valid operator's license at a cost of $6.00. This license will be forwarded to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles which will, in turn, is-sue a restricted license to the motorist.

One week prior to the conclu-sion of the probation period, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles will issue a letter of authorization to be taken to the local license branch. At this time, the branch will issue a valid operator's license

The driver whose license does not expire during this probation-ary period, will be issued a restricted license for the period of probation. His valid license will be returned to him by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles one week prior to the end of his probation.

Mentone Mothers of WW II

The Mentone Mothers of World War II met Wednesday, July 5, with Edith Young serving as hos-tess. At the noon hour all enjoyed a carry in dinner. The meeting was opened by Dora Norris with the usual rituals, and communi-cations were read by Mildred Fowler. A report was given on the State Convention that Mil-dred and Ethel Whetstone had attended in Michigan.

After the retiring of the colors and prayer by the Chaplin, all joined in singing "God Bless America."

Correction

In last week's NEWS we incorrectly identified Akron Cutie Queen Rebecca Haynes' parents. Her parents are David and Jane Haynes of Akron. Also, Tom Finney and Karl Leininger were 1st place co-winners in the "Youth Float" category during the Fourth of July parade.

As far as thousands of people are concerned, he's still single.

That's because he's still listed as just "Michael W. Leon" in the telephone directory. There's no mention of his wife Joan. Nor their three teenagers. After all, don't they deserve their own listings?

Well now you can let everybody know about the great things happening in your life with the new edition of your telephone directory. It's going to press soon. So if you're about to make any changes or add a dual name listing, now's the time to do it.

Just call our business office and find out what the charges are, if any.

Mentone Police Report

Terry L. Rowland, age 35, of Burket, was involved in an acci-dent on Wednesday, July 5, at 11:45 p.m. when an auto he was passing on St. Rd. 25 swerved into the passing lane and forced his auto off the road into a fence and post. Estimated repair to the Rowland auto was $1150. Damage to the fence and post own-ed by Lester Kindig was $75. No arrest was made.

A four car mishap occured on Tinkey Road in front of Kralis Brothers on July 10 at 4:35 p. m. An auto driven by Henry L. Kiggins, age 57, of Millers Trailer Court, Mentone, was northbound on Tinkey when he slowed to on linkey when he slowed to make a left turn into Kralis Bro-thers. Floyd A. Swindle, age 19, of R. 5, Warsaw, failed to see the Kiggins auto in front of him making the turn and hit the turning vehicle. This caused the Kiging vehicle. This caused the Kig-gins auto to hit a parked auto, owned by Arthur S. Knotts, R. 1, Silver Lake, and the Swindle auto to hit an auto parked on the east side of Tinkey Rd, owned by Delmar Estep, also of Silver Lake.

Estimated repair: to the Kiggins auto was $250; to the Swindle auto was $500; to the Knotts auto was $250; and to the Estep auto was $300. No one was ser-iously injured in the accident, but Swindle was ticketed for fol-lowing the Kiggins auto too close-

Check your blood pressure

Why should you have your blood pressure checked? Because undetected and untreated, high blood pressure can be a killer. It can lead to heart disease, atherosclerosis, (a kind of hardening of the arteries), and eye disease, even blindness. But, you can control high blood pressure if it's detected and treated early. Getting your blood pressure checked is quick and painless. Just drop into your local health clinic or visit your doctor. If your blood pressure occasion-lly reads higher than the normal 120/80 it may not be something to worry about. But, if it goes up to 140/90 or higher, and stays that high, your doctor will probably suggest treatment.

Akron/Mentone News

High blood pressure makes your heart pump harder than normal. The arteries become less elastic. After a while, the heart may get larger, then weaken and stop pumping effectively In many cases, high blood pres sure is a painless disease and shows no symptoms. When a sign appears, it might be just a troublesome headache now and then, usually in the back of your head and upper part of your neck. Generally, these are most acute in the early morning when blood pressure is relatively low. Some people also experience dizziness or shortness of breath. or have excessive flushing of the face, fatigue or insomnia. But, the same "symptoms" can come from nervous tension or anxiety, as well.

So, it's not reliable to look solely at symptoms, or to attempt diagnosing and treating high the detective work to the professionals. The treatment for high blood pressure varies. Some people can be helped without medicine, by cutting calories and/or sodium. (The most common form of sodium is salt.) You may be told to stop smoking or to reduce, because loss of weight can lower your blood pressure. Mild exer-cise such as walking and light jogging can help relieve tension and lower blood pressure, too. But, more strenuous exercise can be hazardous.

If you do need medication, your doctor will decide which drug is particularly right for you The most important thing is to stop high blood pressure before it can cause damage, so follow your doctor's orders completely

YOUR BATTERY

YOUR BATTERY The car care experts at Sun Company suggest you heed these hints about batteries to help your car stay on the road to running well. 1. When replacing a bat-tery, be sure to get the same type and size you had. "Bar-gain" batteries can fail fast, and they can't handle air conditioning or other high-powered optional equipment.

HYDROMETER is an A nexpensive wav to measure your battery's charge and condition.

2. Use a hydrometer to help you keep track of your battery hife. Available at ser-vice stations it can tell you when to get a new battery before the old one dies. 3. Give your battery a visual once-over from time to time. See that it is securely held down, and inspect the battery terminals for cor-rosion and the cables and insulation for fraying. Check the top of the battery, the hold-down clamp and the bat-tery tray for rust, corrosion or deposits. 4. Most batteries need to have water added occasion-ally. Add enough to cover the plates. In cold weather only add water immediately before add water immediately before driving the car. This prevents freezing.

public speaking your fear of Overcome

Public speaking is the number one fear of many people -- out-stripping fear of death, heights, and flying. Just ask the average person to make a formal talk about a favorite sport! The per-son breaks into a cold sweat, stammers an excuse and runs for cover. That same person has just been regaling a room full of people with a description of his or her first golf game. "Many people interpret fear of public speaking as a sign that they are not good speakers," Ann Hancock, Extension proann harcock, Extension pro-gram organization specialist at Purdue University, told the annual Extension Homemakers Conference. "This is especially true for women. A woman's sel esteem is based on what others think of her. If she fails to do well as a speaker, she loses es-teem in the eyes of many people. She fears this loss of esteem. "Fear is natural and a little is good," Hancook said. "William Jennings Bryan refused to eat before important speaking en-gagements for fear his anxiety would make him physically ill. And he was one of America's great.orators!" A difference between expert speakers and beginners is the ability to handle fear. "To overcome fear, organize, prepare and rehearse," Hancook recommend-ed. "When preparing a speech, keep in mind that a speech is

"Though not everyone has a strong voice, make the most of what you have by practicing the speech aloud. If possible, tape record the speech. Place the re-corder some distance away and experiment with projecting your voice," Hancook suggested.

Eye contact is a practiced art. Some speakers talk to one or two directly at those people. Other speakers look at a variety of peo-ple, fixing on the eyebrows or forehead.

"Confidence and decisiveness also come with practice. The more a speaker practices the more she will become confident in her ability," she said.

Of course, traditionally, women have not been reared to be good speakers. Femininity is often despeakers. Femininity is often de-scribed as quiet, shy, soft and low -- the opposite of a good public speaker. But, with a little confidence and practice, women can acquire the needed skills. "Just take advantage of any op-portunity to speak," encouraged Hancook: "then pranare"

Max will keep your hair in style

by Renee Norlander

It isn't exactly like Floyd's Bar-ber Shop on the Andy Griffith show, with the town sheriff and show, with the town sheriff and a crazy deputy always hanging around, but Max Flenar's Barber Shop in Mentone does have only one chair and the atmosphere is relaxed and friendly.

relaxed and friendly. I talked to Max recently, and found that a lot of gossip does pass among the patrons, "but men don't gossip like women" he assured me. I'm not sure what that means, but I doubt if ERA supporters would like it.

Max has owned the shop in Mentone for 6 weeks, opening June 5 for business. He was raised in Mentone, and lives here now with his wife Linda and two children, Don, age 13, and Angie, age 8. He worked in Bourbon for 14 years as a barber, and attended International Barber College in Indianapolis for one year, or 1500 hours. He enjoys the busi-ness, or as he said "I wouldn't be in it".

CHEVROLET

Max and Gene Weirick didn't have a lot to gossip about while I was present. Max always steers away from discussions on politics and religion, but just about anything else goes.

Eric Nellans, age 4, is not really all smiles as he gets his haircut, but when Max finished he seemed pleased with the cut. Eric is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Nellans of Mentone. I don't know if men aren't as vain as women, but Max uusually cuts or styles hair only. Men ap-parently aren't into dyes and bleaches or perms, but one cus-tomer estimated that probably 30-40% of all men do touch up their grey. Max says you may find more of it in large cities, "but in a small town like Mentone, everyone would know" if you colored your hair.

Toupees are becoming more and more popular though. As Max said, "men don't like to lose their hair, just like you lose their hair, just like you don't want to lose your teeth, or hearing." And with the synthe-tic fibers used today, a toupee can look good if the color and cut are right. Max doesn't do cuts on the original fittings of toupees, however. He said he would call in someone who does it all the time, because the cut must blend in with the original hair.

Most of the cuts these days are shorter than in the past several years, but Max doesn't care for a butch sytle. He advised that a butch syde. He advised that men wear their hair the way its grows, because "that's the way it's going to lay. It has to lay natural or it won't look nice." He says he has argued with some people about the way they want their hair cut, but I got the feeling that the customer is usually right. Max has changed a few peoples minds though.

Baldness? Max hasn't found the prevention, and says no one else has either. But if anyone ever does they'll be rich for sure! It's usually hereditary, but nerves or medications can cause it too. So most men want to keep their hair, and I know Max wants it that way too, It's a good thing Telly Savalas' bald head didn't become too popular, or Max and a lot of other barbers would have been in trouble.

The

Before Robby was born, I needed a good 9 or 10 hours of sleep each night in order to be at all productive the following day. However, my ways have now changed, as any new parent can confirm.

The first three months of being a mommy found me sleeping about five hours a night. I wondered if I'd live through it. But now, with the baby sleeping all night, I get at least 7 or 8 hours. I still could use more, but I manage

One thing I hate though is insomnia. It keeps me from getting to sleep quickly when I really need to. I don't suffer from it often, but I know there are a lot of people who do. According to the National Institute of Mental Health, about 15% of our population does. There doesn't seem to be any "causes", but it can be treated. Unfavorable surroundings or circumstances, such as a noisy hi-fi or worry, may cause a few nights lack of sleep, but chronic insomnia may be serious.

What can a person do to overcome this problem? The NIMH makes several recommendations. The first is to get a medical check-up to be sure there isn't something organically wrong. To help your doctor along, you may think about the following:

When did the insomnia first occur? How long has it been going on?

- Are you worried about your job, money, school, or such?

How are your sleeping conditions? Do you live on a busy street? Is your bed comfortable?

Do you get some physical exercise?

Are you depressed or anxious?

Do you worry about your future?

Insomnia then falls into two categories: situational (bad sleeping area or physical problem) or chronic primary (where the cause is unknown).

Treatment may depend on what your doctor suggests. Perhaps simplifying your life will be the first step. Eating should be moderate and sensible - avoid late night meals and stimulants. Avoid daytime naps. Sleep in a cool room. And don't worry about sleeping. If you can't get out of bed and read or watch TV.

If the use of drugs is indicated, your physician will prescribe them. And follow his instructions.

In other words, see your doctor from time to time, and follow his advice. He'll be able to help you find out "why" you can't sleep, and his advice for your situation will be better than anyone elses! *****

Women can control fashion styles

Remember the 1950s when women wore shoes with spike heels and pointed foes? And in the 1960s when women from five to 75 wore skirts little longer than short shorts? Women vowed never again to be manipu-lated by fashion. But, in the '70s came the popularity of jeans and platform shoes, and women made the same vow.

"Women can control styles if they know how the fashion in-dustry works," Lois Gotwals, Extension clothing specialist at Purdue University, told the an-nual Homemakers Conference nual Homemakers Conference at Purdue University. "There is nothing mystical or magical about fashion," she said. Each time a woman purchases an article of clothing she is voting for a particular style of clothing. Designers create styles they hope will be right for the times and project a feeling which peo-ple will want. Each garment is individually made, not mass proindividually made, not mass produced. Because there is a high risk that some of the garments won't sell, prices are high. Fashion innovators buy these styles because they want something different, and are willing to ex-"This is how a style is intro-

standards set

New insulation standards for New insulation standards for housing in rural areas financed by the Farmers Home Adminis-tration (FmHA) will be put into effect, Glen E. Jones, County Supervisor announced today. Implementation of the standards, first scheduled for March 15, had been held up during federal court consideration of a suit by the National Association of Home Builders challenging the new code. After FmHA pre-pared additional environmental pared additional environmental material and a further hearing on the case was held, U.S. Dis-trict Judge George L. Hart, Jr., dissolved a preliminary injunc-tion. While certain aspects of the lawsuit remain to be resolv ed, the new insulation standards can now be implemented.

The new thermal standards are designed to provide for heavier insulation and other measures to make FmHA-financed housing less costly to heat or cool, and to conserve energy. They will apply to newly-built homes and apartments financed by Fm HA, and, insofar, as is economically feasible, to existing hous-ing purchased or repaired with FmHA loans. Better weatheriz ing through more effective insu-lation, storm doors and windows and other techniques will help families to reduce high fuel and energy expenses that jeopardize ability to afford adequate housing.

Details of the standards, which Details of the standards, which vary by climatic zones, are available from FmHA state or county office 513 Main St., Rochester, IN 46975. Housing loans administered by FmHA, a U.S. Department of Agriculture agency, serve all rural areas including towns of up to 10,000 to 20,000 that are not in Standard Metropolitan Statis-tical (SMSA) Areas and have a tical (SMSA) Areas and have a shortage of mortgage credit for families of low and moderate income.

"There is no clear-cut delineation between each of the five stages in the rise and fall of a style "If a style is to become fashionable, it then must be accepted, purchased and worn by many people -- the rising stage. During people -- the rising stage. Durin this phase, original styles or adaptations are accepted by a great number of people. Prices are a little lower. Exact copies of originals, are available, as well as adaptations which take less material, are easier to sew and have fewer pieces. Fashion is at its height of popularity at the culmination stage. It is much in demand, worn by many people, and thus, mass produced and distributed. Prices are within the reach of the majority of the population. Later, people become bored with the style and its decline be gins. Then early in the decline gins. Then early in the decline stage, a nigority of people may still wear the style; but they won't buy it. It is sold first "on sale" and later only sold in bargain stores. The less fashion conscious and "poor" may still buy, but they don't make up for the great numbers of customers who how't duving avalue stages. who bought during earlier stages Mass production slows or comes to a halt.

When the style reaches the obso-lescence stage, it can no longer be sold at any price.

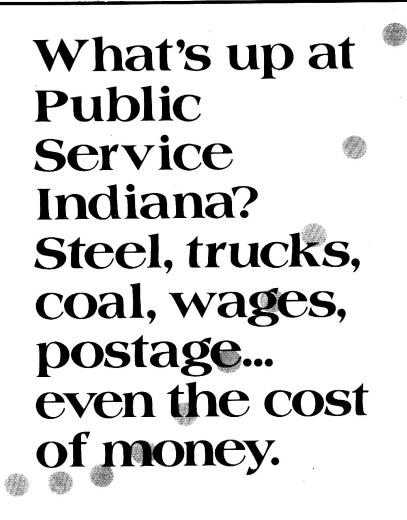

An example of the stages can be found in pant styles:

Introductory stage -- smooth vokes with full gathers at the hipline, very narrow at the ankle and hemmed.

Rising stage -- smooth yokes with fullness at the hip and a tapered leg. Culmination stage -- pleats in-stead of darts at the waistline, straight leg, long, with a hem touching the heel of the shoe. Decline stage -- flares. Obsolete stage -- flares. Obsolete stage -- bell bottoms. "Society keeps fashion cycles operating as well as determining how fast a style will travel from introduction to obsolescence -introduction to obsolescence and society is 'you', Gotwals said. "Everytime you make a clothing purchase you move the cycle along in your hometown. If one or two people buy a gar-ment, the fashion is introduced; a few more buy a similar gar-ment, and the fashion rises. The majority buy and it reaches cul-mination. The first people quit buying and the fashion begins buying and the fashion beens to decline. No one buys and the style is obsolete. Thus, you are very powerful. Every purchase you make votes. If enough peo-ple vote by purchasing a garment the retailer reorders and manu-facturers make more garments like it or only slightly different."

"So look upon your purchase as a vote for a garment. This is the way you control the fashion industry," Gotwals said.

You know it costs a lot more to shop today. So do we Nearly everything we buy to make and distribute electricity has shot out of sight. Since 1973, steel mill products have gone up 68%. Wages, up 42%. Coal (which we use to make 98% of our electricity) has more than doubled in cost. Even the interest we pay for money to build new power plants costs more. And when our bills go up, unfortunately so does your electric bill. It's our only alternative if we're to keep providing dependable electric service.

County Ag Day committees being formed

Despite the important role that agriculture plays in our economy, a large sector of the public remains unaware of the contributions the farming community makes. For this reason, the state Ag Day Planning Committee is asking Indiana producers to help

In a 4-1 vote on Monday, July 17, the Tippecanoe Valley School Board adopted a policy handbook for the 78-79 school year. Changes in policy were based on recommendations of the board and Superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell.

Changes in the policy came as a result of some question over Dr. Harrell's authority to hire new teachers or change a teachers signment without board approval. A new rule states that new teach-A new rule states that new teach-ers must be approved by the board before they begin teaching. The board will also be notified of staff changes. They agreed that it is not their intent to assign personnel but they do want to be informed ed of changes. The board agreed that the sup-erintendent may reassign personnel within the school system by in-forming them at a meeting or by a letter In other policy changes, the board authorized the corporation to pre-pay claims when a proper bill has been submitted and if the corporation can receive a discount by paying early.

Board members voting for approval of the updated handbook were Lee Norris, Con Shewman, Don Snipes, and Everett Beeson. Vern Meredith opposed the adoption. Board members unanimously approved Dr. Harrells suggestion of moving an EMR(educable mental-Normg an Enriceducation tenthal ly retarded) class to Akron and establishing one learning disability class there. Also, approved was one learning disability classroom at Mentone school and one at TVHS. Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Dr. Harrell reported that the following personnel are needed: one EMR and one learning disabilty teacher at Akron; one fourth grade or reading teacher at Menon; one reading teacher at Akron; and one guidance counselor at the Akron and Mentone Junior High schools. At last months meeting, a couple had requested transportation for their daughter to the Cardinal Center in Warsaw. An official at the center told Dr. Harrell that a bus route might be established to solve the problem, but the board has learned that this has not been done. The board will makeadec-ision on this in August. In other action:

-Loran Skinner, TVHS principal, was given permission to attend a national conference on February 2-7 in Houston, Texas.

---Board member Snipes criticized the board for signing a special ed-ucation lease with the Cardinal Center. Snipes, last month, was the only trustee to vote against the approval last month. ---A special budget meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 27 in the TVHS lecture room. --Dr. Harrell has contracted Dr.

Norbert Nelson at Purdue Univer-sity to report that the board had approved a facility survey. Dr. Nelson said he would contact Dr. Merle Strom at Ball State, and the two of them will decide when they can begin the survey, The superintendent advised the board that they will have to draw up a contract.

Q - "How come all you have is Akron News?" --- we try each week to balance the space coverage between our communities. Sometimes, such as during the Egg Festival and Fourth of July time frames, more is going on in one area and receives added attention that week. we have this "palance of News" in our minds at all times when preparing each paper, and will continue to try to maintain an equal balance as best we can.

Q - "How come some papers are thicker than others?" --- The number of pages of each paper depends primarily on two things: 1) The amount of news we have, and 2) The amount of advertisements placed each week. For legal and economic reasons, we attempt to maintain a balance of 50% news, 50% advertising in each paper. Sometimes, during a lighter advertising period many newsworthy events occur that have lead to larger papers with a 65% news - 35% advertising ratio. On the other hand, there are weeks that are lighter as far as newsworthy and events go, and the advertisements placed are more numerous. we try for the 50-50% each week, however, as most true newspapers (not throwaway periodicals) do.

"Why don't you have more sports?" Q -

-- Plans are underway to increase coverage of sports next school year. High school, as well as the schools in Mentone, Akron, and surket will receive more deserved attention in all areas including sports.

63 YEARS AGO

With added machinery that farmers use now, harvesting is quickly done. We never saw a season when farmers put over as much, as hard work in so short a time broken as it has been by showers and even heavy rains, than they have this year. The wheat crop is great, the oats crop will be greater and the corn is growing two feet taller every week.

The threshers are busy in every direction and wheat and rye are both exceeding any previous yield. The lowest yield reported at this office on wheat is 25 bushels and some pieces will reach 38 to 45 bushels. Some sold as high as $1.06, but the market is on the decline and much of it will sell below the dollar market.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haldeman have moved into their elegant new home on Main Street, and are most handsomely situated with modern conveniences excepting those possible with city water works.

The local branch of the Budlong Pickle Company will open this Friday and Saturday to receive pickles and starting Monday will be open each day until the season closes according to an announcement from Chas. Future grid Vikings down North Miami 14-0

By Bob Norlander

After only eight days practice prior to last Fridays grid clash between next years TVHS fresh-man football hopefuls and North Miami's future Warriors, the Val-ley's future football stars defeat-od the uritiers 14.0 ed the visitors 14-0

Coaches Charlie Smith, Phil See, and Jon Parker, who are in charge of this years summer football camp program, arranged for games to be played between sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth graders from Tippecanoe Valley and North Miami.

The eighth and seventh grade future TV stars tied 0-0 with the North Miami squads, although Coach Smith and Coach See agreed the Tippecanoe Valley team "dominated play" throughout the games.

The sixth graders from TV were downed 0-14 by North Miami. Coach Smith felt his team played well, however, considering that the visitors from North Miami the have an earlier start tackle-foot-ball program. Tippecanoe Valley sixth graders are basically in the first stages of organization and training programs at this time.

There are some 77 kids involved in this years summer program, and attendance has averaged 68 kids per day which is exceptional according to Smith.

The football players are going to attend Notre Dame this week to view the football camp pro-gram underway there. While in attendance, they will see a film highlighting the National Champ-ionship drive of the Irish.

On July 29, the teams will travel to Indiana University to watch the Indiana North-South High School All-Star Game.

Rav Secrist (Rockhill) who was Ray Secret (Rockhil) who was selected to this years team will at-tend to watch the quarterbacks and assist in the on-field game duties.

These sixth and seventh graders looked on as the freshman Viking-team clashed with the Warriors. They later were downed 0-14 by the North Miami team.

The eighth grade team warmed up prior to battling to a 0-0 tie with the North Miami squad

Who reads ads back here

At least, that's what some adertising "experts" tell us. Position, they say, is everything in life. The pun amuses. But the truth suffers.

The fact is this: Readership studies (by Daniel Starch, McGraw-Hill, and others) prove that "position" can't help a bad ad or hurt a good one.

What's up front, or in back, doesn't count in the readership ratings. Right-hand pages aren't right, left-hand pages aren't wrong. It's the message that matters-not the number on the page.

We're in a position to know something about readership.

We get a lot of it for advertis ers. Our subscribers are intelli gent people who want to read ads that interest and inform them. And the readership rat them. And the readership rat ings in this newspaper are uni-formily high from cover to cover, for left-hand pages and right-hand pages alike.

Local libraries to receive state funds by August 1

State Senator Robert Peterson (D-Rochester) recently announc-ed that legislation enacted during the 1977 General Assembly will distribute approximately $16, 700 in state funds to eight (8) public libraries in his district. The counties included are Carroll, Cass, Fulton and Miami.

Commenting on the libraries' appropriations, Senator Peterson stated that under provisions of 1977 Public Laws 10 and 43 many of the public libraries in Indiana are eligible for state funds in accordance with the size of their current operating budgets.

The libraries receiving state monies are: Flora Public Library, 8663.84; Logansport Public Lib-rary, $8,583.81; Royal Center Public Library, $451.46; Akron Public Library, $689.39; Kewan na Public Library, $314.19; Ful-ton County Public Library, $3, 233.71; Peru Public Library, $1, 912.84; and Delphi Public Lib-rary, $865.97, totaling $16,715. 21

"This appropriation of state monies to the eight libraries is part of a program to assist the educational process through funding at the state level, rather than through increases in the property tax," Peterson said. "Public lib raries serve a vital function in the education of Indiana citizens, and I'm sure this action by the Gener-al Assembly will greatly benefit the people of my district."

Senator Peterson concluded by stating that state funds will be distributed to eligible libraries no later than August 1, 1978.

buy you precious little today will Two cents

By Bob Norlander

gan, County superintendent.

"Ah, for two cents I'd". How many times have you heard or said that phrase? Can't count the times? We heard someone say the phrase recently and it started us thinking about just what those "two cents" are actually worth today in our inflation-ridden life. We decided to ask some area businesses the question "what will two cents buy in your store?" The answers are interesting parti-cularly when compared with an old 1908 mail-order catalog we found.

"A nut and a washer is about all, although we'd rather not sell them less than a pound's worth" was the response of Dick Day, was the response of Dick Day, owner of Day's Hardware in Ak-ron. A quick glance for compari-son through the old mail-order catalog from 1908 didn't turn up any nuts or bolts, but we did find a screwdriver and apple-corer for two cents. Also, in the "hardware" section were 300 carpet tacks on sale for only two cents.

Need a pair of ladies stockings but you only have two cents to spend? Lori Baum, who works at Frank & Jerry's Market in Mentone, may have the answer for you. She will sell you the "toes of the right foot" for two cents if you purchase the rest of the knee-high stockings for 68 cents. She also said two cents would buy you a "small bite out of a candy bar", however we don't advise it without pay-ing for the rest of the candy. Aling for the rest of the candy. Al-though we couldn't find candy bars in the catalog, we did find ladies hosiery for 24 cents per pair back in 1908. Doris Cooper, of Cooper's De-partment Store in Mentone, says there isn't much you could buy for two couls there alither al. for two cents there either, al-though they sell "bubble gum and tootsie rolls for a penny, and two cents will get you a sucker"

Lori Baum says two cents is worth a small bite out of

And if you have four cents, "you can pay the tax on a dollar", Do-ris said. If you're considering new carpet for the inside of a matchbox, you could purchase a "1 inch by 1 inch" piece of rubber-backed kit-chen carpeting at Cooksey's Fur-niture and Carpet in Akron, says owner Jean Cooksey, installation is extra. Back in 1908 a bedroom suite went for $14.95, including a bed, small, and large dresser with mirror. Back in Mentone, we asked Jo Back in Mentone, we asked 30 and Ken Bush, owners of Bush's Music Shop, what "two cents would buy" there. "Only things near that we have are guitar picks for seven cents." "They're pretty said Jo. Mandolin picks in 1908 were a dime in the catalog, so Jo Bush shows a guitar pick you can buy for 7 cents.

Maybe you have two cents but would rather save it instead of spending it, Randall Leininger, president of The Akron Exchange State Bank, told us that if you were to invest that two cents in a regular passbook savings account for six months you "would earn 0.0005 cents" interest on it. We think we'd rather go for the bite out of the candy bar.

0 Wayne Bowser says two cents is worth about one and one-half slices of bread.

some things, although made differently, do remain the same. At L & B Foods, also in Mentone, Wayne Bowser told us that the big paper sacks alone, "costs them about four cents each", them about four cents each, and to "wrap a piece of meat costs two cents." "We've got some candy and bubble gum you can still buy for pennies." Wayne also estimated two cents would be worth "about 1 and 1/2 slices of

Mean Sonagun, a 1,500-pound bull, gave Kansas City, Mo., police a rough time recently

Determined to beat the stockyards fate, the bull jumped seven fences and evaded eight motorcycle policemen while jogging toward the downtown area Police tried to use roundup tactics with their cycles, but the bull ignored them. Mean Sonagun drew cheers rom media-haters when he dropped a few tokens of is esteem on the lawn of the venerable Kansas City Star newspaper. Police finally had to shoot and kill the big animal to prevent it from plowing into interstate-: 5 traffic.

"He put Kansas City in perspective in that one ex-citing hour," Craig Ladwig wrote in the Star. "It's still a great big glorious cowtown after all; it just needs more cowboys."

Defends paintings

Dear Editor:

I wish to apologize to the Com-mittee who invited me to partici-pate in their July 4th Art Show, for any embarassment they may have been caused by my showing of two nudes. The first of these pictures, a nude with a skeleton, I scarcely need point out to read-ers, was taken from Wm. Faulk-ner's famous short story "A Rose for Emily" -- the second was in-spired by four heautiful old spired by four beautiful old photographs of nudes, taken some-sometime in the 1800's and depicting the four seasons. It is a preting the root seasons. It is a young girl wearing a long searf in which she carries the flowers that she is tossing over he shoul-ders into sunny fields behind her. There is a lamb at her feet, flow-ers and mushrooms and beside her a musical clef of thurbable her a musical clef of bluebells. The title "Welcome Sweet Spring-time." As an artist I do not feel that either of these paintings need an apology.

There is a wide gulf between pornogrphy and art, but those ignorant of Art and its history can scarcely be expected to dis-cern it. I have a book of nudes from the Old Masters down to Picasso. In fact nudes seems to have been a favored subject of the Old Masters. I wonder how this person who complained might react if she were suddenly confronted by Michelangelo's magnificient nude statue of Da-vid, which is, in my opinion, the grandest and most powerful piece of Art the world has ever seen.

I am presently working on a painting of a year-old boy, sitting on a rug with his pet cat. Both are nude, Would my critic's injured feeling be soothed if I were to put clothes on the cat?

College news

A total of 3.427 Purdue University students received distinguish-ed-student rank for the spring semester of the 1977-78 school year.

The students represented, scholastically, the top 14.85 percent of the 23,070 undergraduates on the West Lafayette campus during the second semester. Students from the area receiving the distinguished rating were Lee Ann Jones, of 403 N. Broad way, Mentone, and Brian Lewis Welch, also of Mentone. Both are majoring in the humanities.

"Who ever wrote the article about the barking dogs and caged dogs didn't really know what they were talking about. I would rather see a dog being kept caged up than run loose so they can tear open trash bags and bite little kids and make deposits in peoples yards. As for the dogs in the cage in the trailer park barking all the time, the next door neighbor has four dogs, and they bark too. But these dogs don't bark unless someone or something is messing around them. Too bad this person didn't think of something of value to holler about! (Like the ones running loose.)

I wish I had a nickel for every time someone else's dog messes in my yard or a kid cut across my yard. I have even taken a pan of water out to cool the cats that are carrying on under the street lights. Now use your head, most dogs bark for a reason -- they are called 'Watch Dogs'

Our customers will need about 8% more electricity every year for the next several years. And our present power plants just won't meet those needs. That's why we're planning and building new plants. If we didn't, the next generation would face power shortages, a crippled economy and few jobs. Building a power plant takes up to 12 years and a lot of money . . . five times as much as it did 15 years ago. As building costs climb, unfortunately so must your electric bills. Nobody likes to pay more for anything. But isn't the future of your children and their children worth the cost?

To attend Seattle convention

By Linda Mason

Joining in a gathering of over 3,500 youth and adults, thirteen representatives from the Akron Church of God will trek 2,500 miles by van to Seattle, Wash., to attend the 31st International Youth Convention of the Church of God. Delegates attending the bi-annual come from across the United States and Canada. Foreign countries to be represented this year include Australia, Bermuda, Guiana, Italy, Japan, Lebanon, Philip-pine Islands, and Puerto Rico. "Because Christ is, I am, I can, I will" is the theme of the August 3-6 convention which will be located in Seattle Center, home of the 1962 World's Fair. The convention is sponsored by the Board of Christian Education of the Church of God (Anderson) for the enrichment, inspiration.

and renewal of youth and adults. Associate Pastor Ken Tippin leads the group on the crosscountry tour of 13 states which begins this Friday at 5:00 a.m. Their tour route will enable them to see such places as Medi-cine Bo, Wy.; the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Ut.; Warner Pacific College, Mt. Hood, and the Pacific Ocean in Portland, Ore.; Yellowstone Nat'l. Park; Custard St. Park; and, Mt. Rushmore. Two days before the convention begins the group will be guests of Warner Pacific College, a sister college to Anderson (IN) College affiliated with the Church of God. As delegates to the international gathering, the Akron group has been invited to view the "Treasures of Tutankhamun" at the Seattle Art Museum.

Representing Akron at this Christian assembly will be: youth delegates - Doug Sheetz, Patty Doering, John Lerner (St. James Lutheran Church, Marion), Mark Shriver, John Stewart, Beth Daniels, Jo Ellen Schultz, and Heidi Rice (Logansport Church of God); counselors - Rev. Ken Tippin, Mrs. Lucille Doering, Chad Hartzler, Mark Daine, and Linda Mason. These young peo-
