Akron Fourth of July draws huge crowd

A CROWD ESTIMATED OVER A thousand, took part in the Akron Fourth of July celebration.

A welcome, sunshiny break in the weather, coupled with a well organized schedule of fun events, ended in a successful Fourth of July celebration in Akron Wednesday.

Beginning with a gigantic parade starting at 11:00a.m. and ending with a colorful display of fireworks at dusk, the day was jam packed with activities organized by the Akron Fourth of July Committee.

Peggy Groninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Groninger, Akron, was crowned the 1979 Akron Queen by last years' Queen Melinda Sander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Felts, Akron.

Many floats and parade entries were named winners in various categories by the judges during the parade.

The Las Donas Club float won first place in the "Local" division, while the Kappa Delta Phi sorority float won a second place honor.

The Akron Library float placed third.

In the "Out of Town" category, the Macy Firefighters won a first place award, while the Miss Mentone Egg Queen float took second.

The Akron Bank float won first place in the "Commercial" division. Frank and the Hy Tymes place second.

"Novelty" float winners were the Wheelmen, Harold Collins, and the Manitou Moose Lodge, who placed first, second and third, respectively. Other parade winners were the North Miami band, the Wabash VFW, and the Peru Deb-Batons.

The "Cutie Float" winners were Scottie Backus and Kim Mooney.

"Little Chick and Mr. Rooster" from Mentone won the "Youth" float award.

The annual Cutie Contest had several youngsters between the ages of 3-6 vying for the titles of King

Burket resident recalls old fashioned Fourth

by Eula Romayne Smith

I would like to share W. G. Davis' memories of the Fourth of July, 1914.

The fourth of July celebration in Burket was well presented by the people of Burket. It began in the early forenoon, and lasted until late in the evening.

The parade was the first exhibit of original and comic acts. I cannot recall all of them, but a few remain with me. A Brass Band, led by Billie McCormick -- I think it was from Silver Lake -- marched in town. Following the band were the parade wagons which were well decorated, and other wagons advertising items sold in Burket. Next was a wagon which exhibited the skill of Mr. Jim Fudge, who was totally blind. He stood at a chopping block on a moving wagon, and split kindling wood, with an axe, from sections of stove wood.

Another comic thing was presented by Mr. Willie Moore. He had turned the body of his buggy around, facing the back. His mule was pulling the buggy, which seemed to make the buggy run backward.

Several men and women dressed in the old style clothing they once wore, and young children were also in costumes. A young boy by the name of Roger Hatfield carried a bird cage with a kitten in it.

After the parade, it was time to have lunch, and then go to the ball ground. (This was at the east end of town, across Road 700W, just north of the railroad.) Here was the location of the battle between the Indians and whitemen. The Indians were wearing costumes belonging to the Red Men Lodge. Some were walking and some were riding horses as they entered the north side of the woods east of the ball field. A log cabin had been built for the white parents and their daughter. The Indians slowly left the woods to capture the white family and burn the cabin. All the white men started firing their guns, which were loaded with blank shells. A few Indians got to the cabin, chased the father and mother away and captured the daughter. They set fire to the cabin and left. The daughter was restored to her parents.

As it began to get dark, the three Alexander Sisters stood in front of the Davis store and nicely sang several songs.

The people then walked west to the front of Mendel Store. Fireworks were to be shot from the roof of the two story store. Rev. Charles Modlin, who was in charge of the fireworks, placed a Roman candle on the ledge of the store. Someone lit it and it fell into a cab with a baby in it. Someone upset the cab, which no doubt could have save her life. She still retains scars from the burns she received.

Before the people went home, a wagon with a sign on each side which read "Bradway Bread and Burket Elgin Butter" came in view. Several women on the wagon were preparing Bradway Buns with Burket Elgin Butter, and everyone was entitled to one or more buns.

The battle between the Red Men and pioneers must have been a Burket tradition, because other area residents recall seeing Indians burn a cabin at a Fourth of July celebration in the 1920's. One year a man stood on the second floor and tossed Indian Head pennies to the people below.

New books at Akron Carnegie library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN THE ANTIQUES AND COLLECTIBLES BUSINESS by Elyse Sommer. This is a complete career guide to starting or expanding your own business.

THE HOSPITAL EXPERIENCE by Judith Nierenberg and Florence Janovic. This is a complete guide to understanding and participating in your own care.

GERMANS REMEMBER, A BACKWARD LOOK by Daniel Lang. This book makes no pretense at being a definitive study of the Third Reich. It is, rather, an impressionate odyssey that, in the hands of Daniel Lang, builds powerfully into an elegy on history and its vulnerability to the inroads of time. In one chapter, the author, visiting the grave of a friend buried in a Belgian military cemetery, wonders whether "we are condemned to think of Hitler's deeds as but a passing incident, whether time grinds all that befalls us into incidents, discrete and transient, fading in memory".

YOUR MOUTH, ORAL CARE FOR ALL AGES by Nguyen Thanh Nguyen.

HOME BEFORE DARK by Margaret Johnson. Janie Grimes was special. As a child she conquered polio and went on to be a high school homecoming queen. While in college she met and married Gary Iverson, who shared her deep faith in Christ. When their son, Nathan was born, he was different. He was a Down's Syndrome child. Even this unexpected event and her subsequent two-year walk through "a deep and hurting valley" did not stop Janie from loving, living, and growing in the Lord. This is a true story of a tragic accident which claims the lives of the entire family.

THE BASTARD KING by Jean Plaidy. This is the enthralling story of William the Conqueror's spectacular rise from "bastard" to king.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE IN WHO'S WHO TO KNOW WHAT'S WHAT by Sam Levenson. Humor itself tells us that "humor is no laughing matter", says Sam, and the content of this book concerns itself (albeit humorously) with some of the most serious, often painful aspects of human existence: love, marriage, family, religion, freedom, war, morality, poverty and wealth - subjects that, in fact, comprise the basic contents of the human comedy.

Merchants announce first trip winners in promotion

The North Manchester sponsors of the "Get-A-Way - Give-A-Way Promotion" announced recently arrangements have been made for the first holiday to be given as a result of the promotion. Bennie Craig of South Whitley, and his four children are eagerly anticipating their trip to Nashville, Tenn., the second week in July.

Mrs. Roger Moore, coordinator of the promotion, stated that a final check was made to Levart, Inc., the travel agents, this morning and they assured her that reservations have been confirmed for Mr. Craig and every effort has been made to provide a package he and his family will enjoy. Nashville was not one of the previously arranged holidays offered in the promotion. Mr. Craig, therefore, chose the $200 gift certificate which was applied toward the holiday he and the travel agent worked out. The Craig's holiday will include a performance of the Grand Ole Opry and Opryland, U.S.A.

Mrs. Moore pointed out that information to date indicates that well over one hundred people are accumulating purchases towards the various holidays with one person in particular over the $2000 mark and eleven others well on the way to $1000 in credited receipts. The response to this promotion has been gratifying and with more than four months remaining the sponsors expect to be sending several more on holidays. There is ample time to accumulate the required receipts and anyone interested should inquire at the participating merchants.

The following North Manchester merchants are participating in the promotion: Snyder Ford, Harvey's Store, Mode-O-Day, Lance's Super Dollar, Harting Furniture, Snyder's Market, Mr. Dave's, Manchester Greenhouse, Maynard's Men's Wear, Mark's Hallmark & Drugs, Coast to Coast Hardware, Manchester Floor Covering, Carpenter's Closet, The Print Shoppe, Lady Bug Boutique, Wible's Shoes, Oppenheim's, Hire's Electric & Gifts, Hansel & Gretel, Western Auto, and The Inn.

A candid look at funeral costs

by Sherry Blankenship

Death and funerals are subjects that one rarely discusses. Yet, dying and funerals are as surely a part of life as birth. One's first exposure with death is usually when an elderly member or friend of the family passes away. One attends the funeral and comments on how many people attended, on the flowers, the casket or how well the funeral director had done his or her job. However, one does not take the time to find what is involved in the planning and preparation of a funeral or the cost of this preparation until one is faced with the awesome task.

I spoke recently with Tom Haupt, funeral director at Haupt Funeral Home, Akron, and Darrell King, funeral director at King Memorial Home, Mentone, about death, funerals, and the costs incurred. They responded openly and candidly about their profession and the procedures involved in planning a funeral.

When a person dies, a death certificate is issued by the Board of Health that is to be signed by the attending physician or a coroner and the funeral director. The certificate is on record at the County Health Department. "The next of kin must be notified and issue burial instructions before a funeral director can embalm or do anything to the body. I can't do anything until notified by the next of kin," Haupt stated.

A burial permit for burial must also be obtained. Should the body have to be flown in from out of state or transported within the state this permit must accompany the body. If flown in from out of state, an Indiana permit must be obtained. The funeral director processes these necessary documents as part of his services.

Aiding the family in the selection of a casket is another of the services the director provides. The cost of this item is the cost of the funeral. The same services are provided regardless of the cost of the casket. Cost of a casket can range from $900 to $1800 and even beyond.

King informed me that the national average was $1500 to $1600. "It can be under or over this," he stated, "depending on what people want."

Both men felt it was of utmost importance to calm and console the family before attempting to choose a casket. Haupt and King are trained in comforting the bereaved family. King also felt that if the family has church connections it is helpful. The pastor can be very helpful in consoling the family.

As the task of choosing a casket can be a bewildering one, the directors advise is very valuable. King uses a three minute cassette film to better inform the family of the choices they have. The film is on the types of caskets and their construction. It is very informative and to the point. King felt that the film was a good one and had brought good results. After viewing the film, the customer was better informed and knew more what they wanted.

Haupt urges the family to only buy what they can afford. "I am not going to tell my customers they have to have this casket or that casket," King was adamant on this point also. "I try not to oversell. I advise them to buy only what they are financially able to handle."

Both men pointed out that every business, of course, has its overhead. "As in any field, there is a certain amount of professionalism, and a certain amount of business," King stated. "Without finances you can't operate." They stressed, however, that the peace of mind of the family and friendly relationships with the family afterwards were of prime concern.

Haupt commented that the controversy over elaborate funerals and the criticism of the profession was asinine and unfounded. "What one person feels is adequate another person won't," he stated.

Basically there are two types of caskets, protective and non-protective. The protective ones are made of steel, copper, and brass; no water nor air can penetrate the casket as it is sealed with a rubber gasket. The non-protective ones are constructed of wood. The wood is soft or hardwood. A beauty can be obtained with wood that is not available with the use of metals. No two wood caskets are exactly alike. The caskets also come with warranties of varying periods.

"The metal caskets are manufactured in different gauges with 20 being the thinnest I carry," stated Haupt. Along with the 20 gauge I also carry 18 and 16 gauge in my showroom. The lower the number the thicker the metal. "Farmers and men who work in metal and know the real tensile strength, want the better grade," he said.

Caskets are used for the protection from the elements of the earth and for the peace of mind of the survivors.

As stated before, when a person buys a casket a variety of services are included with the price. Some of these are the use of motor equipment, the embalming, cosmetizing, dressing, counseling, notifying newspapers, use of the funeral home and conducting the funeral services. Included also is the preparation and filing of necessary papers such as death certificate and the filing of legal papers to obtain monies due from the social security, insurance claims, and retirement benefits. The director also cares for visitors. The register book, acknowledgment cards, salaries of personnel are other items included in the price of services. Other services are the notification of all personnel associated with the service such as the minister, casket bearers, organist, singers, florists, vault manufacturer, veterans associates, lodge brethren and sisters, and cemetery officials.

The price of the casket and the funeral directors services are not the only cost included in the total funeral bill, however. When one has chosen a casket, a proper vault is to be considered. Local cemeteries require that a vault be used. Prices of vaults range from approximately $300 to well over $1500. They are usually constructed of concrete with an inner liner of Stentex, a substance that is highly water resistant and also adds strength. Some final inner linings which are available are copper, which is the most expensive, stainless steel, a substance called Marbelon, a Stentex lining, or fiber-glass. The use of a tent is included in the price of the vault.

Costs of the cemetery plot and having the grave opened must also be considered as well. King said the price of a cemetery plot in Mentone is $50 and opening the grave is $90. Haupt, however, said that a two grave plot was $125 in Akron. "Twenty-five percent of this amount is kept for perpetual care and upkeep of the cemetery," he stated. "Furthermore, one is never assessed again for this upkeep," he added. The cost of a plot in a rural cemetery may be cheaper. The price of opening a grave in the Akron area may cost as much as $110. The price varies. The various cemeteries have their individual rules and regulations that must be followed. Both directors have clothing available at the funeral homes. The majority of people furnish the clothing, however. The burial garment need not be a suit and tie or a fancy dress, either. King said that people have requested burial in pajamas and robe. Trousers and sweaters are another outfit used. Shoes may or may not be used. The family's wishes are always considered down to the smallest detail.

King feels that make-up should be used sparingly as the use of it can make the deceased look artificial. "In a lot of cases the embalming process used can keep the need for make-up to a minimum. Why put make-up on someone who has never used make-up in their lifetime?" he asked.

Arranging and planning ones own funeral has been gaining in popularity in recent years. Haupt attributes this to the fact that people are beginning to deal with death more openly. Courses are offered in college on the subject and there are many books written about death. Whatever the reason, planning one's funeral is a reality.

They advise this when one is elderly and has no family living close by. They also advise it for the young people as well. This assures one that one is getting exactly what one wants. King keeps a file of people who have come in and talked with him and wrote down the way they wanted their funeral. "I can't do what people want unless I am aware of their needs," he advises people to tell their families if they want something special in their funerals. He will be glad to talk to anyone who is seriously interested in planning their own funeral and who is willing to write those plans down.

Another concept that goes along with planning one's funeral is paying for the funeral in advance. Haupt advises this for people who are widows or widowers or for those who are alone. To pay for one's funeral in advance, a trust that is irrevocable is used. The money is placed in a special trust at a financial institution. "No one can touch it, not even the one who set the trust up," King stated. Interest drawn on the money goes back into the fund. The money is actually the funeral directors and can only be used for funeral expenses. King informed me that he has twelve to fourteen of these trusts on file at the present time.

Should one decide that burial in the local cemetery is not for them, they may decide to be cremated. In this area the cost of cremation is as expensive as buying a vault and cemetery plot. The nearest crematories are in So. Bend, Kokomo, or Indianapolis. King said that he had two or three since he has been here. "Cremation is not as popular in an area like this as it is in the larger cities like New York. There, he said, 'a cemetery plot alone can cost $1000.' With the cost of a plot that high, cremation is usually cheaper.

As one cannot discuss funerals and death without wills coming into the picture, King told me that he would like for more young people to write wills. "They think it isn't necessary," he stated, "they feel they don't have that many possessions or that much property to dispose of, but they do. They have the most precious possession, their children. If a couple have under-age children, by all means have a will written stating who is to care for the children or who will oversee where they are to be placed," he advised. "Otherwise the courts will decide. It is more important that people with under-age children have wills than elderly people," he added.

Inmate warns young lawbreakers

TO THE EDITOR:

This is being written 35 feet inside four walls that isolate about 1,000 persons, many of them no older or worse in terms of character than you are. Just for the record this is Westville, Ind. Society refers to it as a reformatory. I call it a big house at the end of the road, for surely this is the end of the road for most of the people who come here.

Listen to the voice of experience. Crime doesn't pay enough money to compensate a person for all the heartaches he has to go through to serve even a single year in prison. Nobody could have made me believe this three years ago. I didn't want to listen. I had tasted the fruits of crime and found them sweet. Foolishly, I kept reaching for more, egotistically thinking I was the one guy in the world to get away with it. That was mistake number two. Prisons from Maine to Florida, from New York to California, and all around the world are filled with guys who thought they could get away with it too.

There really is much more in serving a prison term than just being locked up in a cell. First, there is the loss of character; and then comes debasement and ridicule from society. Then there is the loss of individuality, but there still is more—much more. The worst hurt of all is when you get a visit from a relative or friend. Dressed in typical prison garb, you find them separated by scant inches although actually you are years and worlds apart.

Visits are the same for all prisoners. We notice the tinge of gray in mothers' hair, the little indelible lines in the wife's or sweetheart's face, the little jagged streaks of red in their eyes. It twists some of us up inside. That is the final reward for hanging out in the road houses, for drinking, for accidentally killing someone in a drag race or for acting on impulse rather than sound reasoning.

I have only one piece of advice for teenagers. Stop and think before you act irrationally. Ask yourself: Am I prepared to sacrifice all? Can I live with loneliness, regret and heartache? If you can't, then you better turn back before it's too late because they will be your only companion in a prison cell.

Help needed for festival

DEAR EDITOR:

Help, help, we need help!

The Round Barn Festival will be July 12-15 so the Fulton County Historical Society needs help and food. As we have over 350 members to call, and sometimes they can't be reached, please print this in the paper so all may know of the schedule.

Please bring the following food in non-returnable container to the tent in Lakeview Park:

Thurs. - last names beginning with A-B bring 2 packages of 8 hamburger buns, C-E 2 doz. cornbread muffins, T-V 2 bottles catsup, members from Kewanna and Fulton bring one jar of jam.

Fri. - F-H 2 doz. cornbread muffins, I-L 2 packages of 8 hamburger buns.

Sat. - M-P 2 packages of 8 hamburger buns, Q-S 2 doz. cornbread muffins.

Sun. - W-Z 2 doz. cornbread muffins, X-Z 2 packages of 8 hamburger buns.

Volunteer workers are needed to serve the food and to host the museums. More help is needed this year because FCHS has no CETA and only one SPEDY employee this year. Saturday is the big day and more help is needed then.

Work shifts are four hours each: 9 to 1, 1 to 5, and 5 to 9 Thurs.-Sat., but on Sun. only one shift: 11 to 3. By closing at 3, we can all go to the historical basketball game at 4 p.m. at the Family Y between Lincoln and old Columbia.

If any member is not contacted, please call the museum office 223-4436 or call me at 223-2352 after 5. In Kewanna area call Wilma Berwanger, in Fulton call Bertha Waltz, in Akron call Kate Jennens. Thank You!

New owners at the Pill Box

BILL WINN, NEW OWNER of the Pill Box in Mentone, is pictured above with Bill Westerman, former owner, at left. Winn, and his wife Sherry, are registered pharmacists and 1974 graduates of Ball State University. They are now residing in Warsaw with their sixteen month old son Ashley, but plan to move to the Mentone area in the future. Although Winn has now assumed his duties at the Pill Box, Westerman will be helping to acquaint him with local patrons. Winn does not plan to make any major changes at the present time, and store hours will remain the same. Bill Westerman will be doing substitute work at different area drug stores in the future. We wish our best luck to both!

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the June 25, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

The Mentone fire department made two runs Sunday. About 8:30 Sunday morning they went to the former Cook Sawmill, south of town, where a fire had started in a building used by the Frank Mfg. Co. for storage of surplus machinery. There was little damage. At ten in the evening the firemen were called when a transformer near the Legion home burned out.

Ned Witham, 18, of Mentone, escaped with minor arm bruises Saturday night when his car went out of control on state road 25, southwest of Warsaw near the Devils backbone, and ran through a fence. The youth told Sheriff Carl Latta that an unidentified car forced him off the road. He was not hospitalized. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Witham, of Mentone.

The Floyd Dorsey Dodge skidded off the pavement and into a fence at the west edge of Palestine Tuesday evening. About the time the rain was coming down the hardest, Floyd met a car at the turn and got too close to the edge of the pavement. There was only minor damage to the auto and fence.

Cpl. Richard Boganwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boganwright, is now in this country, having been in a group of over 2800 soldiers to be rotated from Korea.

Mrs. David Johns arrived in San Diego, California, on Sunday where she joined her husband who is stationed there with the army.

Dale Kelley, Don Rush, Pierre Ferwerda, and Merrill Peterson returned last Friday evening from a fishing trip at the Lionel Greene camp, Crom Lake, Ontario, Canada. We understand that Pierre had the honor of having a small lake named after him on the afternoon that he caught the most fish, 50 Northern pike, of anyone in the party. Lightning is believed responsible for a loss of a barn on the Mrs. Pearl Moore farm, about one and a half miles northeast of Athens between 8:30 and 9 o'clock Friday night. The structure was a total loss. The loss included approximately 150 bales of straw and a new garden tractor. The Akron Fire Department was called to the scene but was unable to save the building.

With the recent decision by the OPEC countries to raise the price of crude oil by 25 to 30%, we are all finally becoming aware of the necessity to conserve on fuel consumption. Not only for conservation sake, but also because we're feeling the crunch in our wallets.

I hate to wear this subject into the ground, but I came across an article in Good Housekeeping that has some good points for conserving during these crucial summer months.

Of course the lighter and smaller your car is the better your mileage will be. But even if you stick with your large car, you can help save yourself money by following these tips:

*Limit the use of your air conditioner, if you have one, to the hottest days.

*It's not necessary to warm up your engine by idling it. Just start out driving slowly.

*Have your engine completely tuned up every 15,000 to 20,000 miles. The money spent is soon offset by better fuel efficiency.

*Keep tires inflated to the proper pressure (too low pressure causes the car to drag and work harder) and have the front wheels checked to see that they are in proper alignment.

*Accelerate and brake gently. Jumpy starts, fast getaways and sudden stops use twice as much gasoline as smooth, easy starts and stops. Get into high gear quickly (if you have an automatic transmission, lift your foot off the accelerator to make it shift earlier).

*Drive at steady, moderate speeds. You'll get better mileage than if you constantly speed up and slow down to change lanes or pass other cars. While your car probably gets its best mileage around 35 mph, a speed you can maintain for city driving, you'll still economize on gas if you don't exceed 50 mph on highways.

*Don't let your engine idle more than one minute when parked. It takes less gas to shut it off and restart it.

And don't forget to walk as much as possible, or ride your bike. Even rollerskating is becoming popular again! You'll feel like a kid again, and your heart will love you!

Creative retirement was the topic when Mrs. Maxine Conrad, Mrs. Eva McHatton and Fred Hammond spoke to the Marionette Circle of the Women of the Akron Church of God. Mrs. Janet Wood was hostess for the June meeting with Mrs. Judith Hill assisting.

Mrs. McHatton goes each noon to the Akron nutrition site at the Lions Den to participate in the preparation of the meal and the hobby and information programs which follow. Mrs. Conrad, a seamstress, volunteers many hours in the education phase of the Church of God including heading up a Children's Church team. She is active with the Fulton Co. hospital auxiliary. Mr. Hammond read some of his poetry and told of his painting and work with animals, in addition to pursuit of his life-long craft, brick and stone masonry.

The president, Mrs. Diane Wildermuth, lead devotions. The roll call response was a display of a high school photograph. Committee assignments were announced and upcoming dates of interest included Yellowcreek Lake Camp Meeting, Aug. 13-19 and the annual Yellowcreek Women's Retreat, Aug. 7-8.

Board proposes budget; plan for second policeman

by Renee Norlander

Members of the Mentone Town Board spent a lengthy evening at their regularly scheduled meeting on Monday, July 9, preparing the town's budget for fiscal year 1980.

Board president Frank Hardesty, and trustees Gerald Romine and Wayne Tombaugh approved a total budget of $104,773.00 to be presented to the County Board of Tax Commissioners by Clerk-Treasurer Catherine Whetstone next month. This is an increase of $12,890.00 over the budget for 1979.

The trustees elected to raise the salary of town board members from the present $200 per year to $300 per year, and the Clerk-Treasurer salary was proposed at $1150 for 1980, which would be a $100 increase over 1979. As this is an election year, and all four positions will be open for next year, the trustees felt this would be a good time to approve of the increase.

It was unanimously agreed that a second full-time policeman is needed in Mentone and the trustees appropriated $25,000 for police protection in the new budget. This would include $11,000 for Marshal John Hart's salary, $3000 for the dispatcher's salary, and the remainder for full and part-time help. $4500 of this appropriation will come from Federal Revenue Sharing funds.

The remainder of Federal Revenue Sharing funds ($5100) has already been committed for fire protection. A complete break down of the proposed budget will be published in an August issue of the NEWS.

In other action:

The trustees listened intently as eight area residents complained of problems in their neighborhood, but as town attorney Lee Bazini pointed out, the difficulties can not be handled by the board, and the group was advised to see the county prosecutor and/or the county Board of Health.

*Ordinance 224, which will place a stop sign at the intersection of Jackson and Princeton Streets for northbound Princeton traffic, was adopted and signed.

The Board will meet again in regular session on Monday, August 6, at the Town Hall with business beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Board ratifies TVEO contract; 7% increases

by Sherry Blankenship

Tippecanoe Valley School Board members ratified the Tippecanoe Valley Educators Organization and board agreement Monday, July 9. The agreement called for 7% across the board salary raise and a 7% increase for personnel who work extra-curricular activities. Also, dental insurance in the amount of $12 per individual policy was added to the present insurance policy. Present life insurance policies were increased from $3000 to $10,000. Seventeen cents a mile for travel on official business was also included in the agreement.

On hand to sign the agreement were TVEO representatives, Dale Pace, president; Marsha Teel, treasurer; Karen Nelson, secretary; and Gary Stath and William Ruppel. Dr. Lloyd Harrell, TVSC Superintendent, commended the management team and the TVEO negotiators for the manner in which they had handled the negotiations.

Board members, Con Shewman, Don Snipes, Everett Besson, Vernon Meredith and Lee Norris re-elected Shewman to the office of president; Snipes, vice-president; Besson, secretary of board; and re-appointed Judy Hively as treasurer and Eleanor Hoover as deputy treasurer. The board set the time for board meetings at 7:30 every third Monday of each month in the Tippecanoe Valley

High School lecture room.

Shewman was appointed as board representative to the Special Education Co-Op.

Dr. Harrell recommended that the board create a girl's freshman basketball coach position, stating that "Quite a number of girls were interested in basketball". "The number of girls warrants creating this position," he added. Board member, Norris, stated that he felt they didn't have much choice, and the board voted to create the position. TVEO and the management team, which consists of Dr. Harrell and the principals will negotiate the salary for the newly created position. No one is being considered for the job as yet.

Lot number 20 in Tippecanoe estates, Mentone, was sold by the board to Mr. and Mrs. Zanna Hammer. The size of the lot was approximately 15,000 square feet and the selling price was $3750.

Revisions in the board policy manual were also brought out by Dr. Harrell. Some of the revisions in policy that were discussed were: Non-permanent and semi-permanent instructional personnel with less than five years with the corporation are to be given evaluation examinations before January 1. This is now a state law.

Dr. Harrell also recommended that two items be included in the board agenda. One coming under the heading of communication would include the reading of any communication that the board receives. Item two would allow principals to report to the board any significant happening in their respective schools.

Another revision added was the allocation of $325 for individual insurance and the addition of $12 per individual policy for dental insurance to the increase of life insurance to $10,000.

Also, teachers who did not use their two day personal leave time would be paid $35 for one day not used and $70 if both days are not used. Dr. Harrell stated, "Giving

Fallen Timbers

Sen William Proxmire's Golden Fleece award recently went to the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Economic Development Administration for "mindless funding and lack of oversight." The reason for the award was the spending of $279,000 to build a community center in the woods two miles from the nearest road. The building was so remote, reports the UPI, that when it collapsed three years later, none of the 300 residents in Merrill Township, Michigan, for whom the center had been built, noticed.

Price Hike for Poor

It now costs more to be poor. Recently the government raised the income level it uses to determine whether a person officially is living in poverty. An urban family of four now needs $6,700 to be poor whereas it used to take only $6,200. For rural families it's easier to be poor; they need only $5,700, up from $5,270 in 1978.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Proud of Fourth

DEAR EDITOR:

Akron's 4th of July Committee can surely be proud of the wonderful day which they put together this year. It seems each year they improve on the previous year. Only they know of the endless hours of preparation it took to create this celebration for all of us who attended to enjoy.

Our community is truly fortunate to have people like those who work on the 4th committee living in Akron and caring enough about our town to give of themselves.

Thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely,
Steve and Kathryn

Koma's philosophy to treat people decently

Reprinted by permission of the Argos Tribune

"She's still smiling"... is the way Conrad Singpiel proudly described his wife, Koma, who will be celebrating her 90th birthday on July 13.

Mrs. Koma Singpiel, 201 E. Walnut St., Argos, was born in Gilead, Indiana in 1889 to Amos and Sarah Sommer. She attended school in Gilead and at the age of 19 was stricken with polio, which left her paralyzed from the waist down. Despite this handicap, Koma went on to attend Rochester College which at that time was located in Rochester, Indiana. After leaving college, she went back to Gilead to teach. She also held the job of post mistress at the Gilead Post Office and worked as a telephone operator in Akron, Indiana. The telephone office was located at the top of a steep flight of stairs, but this spirited lady seemed to thrive on challenges.

In 1925 Koma married Warren Stokes and took on the task of raising his seven children. In 1939 the Stokes family moved to Argos where she helped her husband run his sewing machine business. Some time after, this remarkable lady began writing for the Argos Reflector, the South Bend Tribune and later for the Plymouth Pilot. In later years, as her eye sight began to fail, she limited her writing to the South Bend Tribune.

Koma was left a widow in 1960 and in 1963 she married her present husband, Conrad Singpiel. Four years ago a fall which injured her back left her immobile. She still enjoys meeting new people, having the company of her many friends in Argos and Akron, the many step-children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren who come to visit, and reading her Bible. She is a member of the Argos United Methodist Church. Her only sister, Jesse, died several years ago.

After 90 years of enthusiastic living Koma Singpiel has a philosophy of life which is both simple and beautiful, "If you treat people as decent human beings, they will, in turn, treat you the same."

Conrad and Koma Singpiel at home.

There will be a meeting of the Mentone Egg Show committees on Monday evening, July 14 at 7:30 at the Mentone school building, according to a call issued by Carroll M. Eiler, secretary.

The boys of the Mentone fire department request that we again announce that they have a hay thermometer and it was purchased for the purpose of preventing costly fires. If you suspect your new hay is heating, call the Mentone firemen and they will come out and test it for you. There's no charge for this service.

Mrs. Orpha Blue, of Mentone, and Sam Blue, of Martinsville, spent the 4th of July vacation at Richmond, Kentucky, with Dr. and Mrs. Max Blue and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Barkman and Mr. and Mrs. Chet Creighbaum arrived home Monday evening after a week's fishing trip to Scott's Lake, in Michigan. They report they caught more fish than they could eat.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whetstone and sons, and Mrs. Myrtle Whetstone returned last Thursday from a vacation trip with relatives and friends at Dayton, Middletown and Camden, Ohio.

A card from Bob and Mirabel Reiwoldt, mailed from California says: "We are having a wonderful trip. Picked up Bobby today. Went on board his ship this p.m." The Robt. Reiwoldts and Ivan Tuckers are on a 4 to 5 weeks' trip to the west coast.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

This past weekend, Bob and I attended our tenth year high school class reunion at Century Center in South Jend after months of contemplation about whether or not to go. In fact, it wasn't until Thursday night that we really decided that we were going to attend.

We had not attended the fifth, and we weren't too sure that we were ready to see all of the people that we had graduated from high school with. I suspect that we felt we would be the only ones present who really looked ten years older, ten pounds heavier, and a little grey or bald. So we were pleasantly surprised when we arrived and noticed that everyone had changed. In fact, when we first walked in, we didn't recognize anyone. I thought to myself, "I didn't go to school with these people!" Upon closer inspection however, sure enough, these were the guys and gals that I cheered with at football games, panicked with at exam time, danced with at proms, and dated.

Of course everyone didn't look old (not at 28, I hope!), just different. Some of the guys were bald, a lot of them had beards, the gals were prettier with make-up (which few wore in high school), and most of us looked better dressed without our blue jeans! But what was most important seemed to be the changes we had made within ourselves. Everyone was friendly with everyone—the old cliques seemed to dissolve, at least for the evening, and everyone had a fabulous time.

It was interesting to hear about what everyone is doing now, and to reminisce about the past. Of course we only recalled the happy-fun times, but we all remembered deep down that these were the friends who got us through our teenage years.

It really was a tremendously happy experience, and my suggestion to any of you who are contemplating over whether or not to go to a high school reunion is...GO!! You'll have the time of your life!

Combatting mildew in humid weather

As the weather turns hot and muggy, you may find a thin, whitish growth on things around the house. That's mildew, and left untreated it can discolor wood or upholstery and even rot shoes or clothing.

Basically, you must eliminate warm, moist, or soiled conditions that promote the mold growth that is mildew. If you find mildew, remove loose mold with a brush. Then use chlorine bleach, soap or detergent, or commercial preparations depending on the type of material being treated.

The molds that produce mildew are always in the air, but the right temperature and humidity promote their growth. Mildew occurs most frequently on cotton, linen, silk, wool, leather, wood, and paper in closed, humid, or poorly lit places like closets and basements.

To combat mildew, ventilate closed areas. Mechanical dehumidifiers or air conditioning, or heating the house briefly can remove moisture from large areas.

If you find mildew on fabrics, brush off surface mold right away. Do this outdoors so mold spores don't spread inside the house. Then if spots remain, dryclean non-washables or wash fabrics in plenty of soap or detergent and water. Rinse well and dry outdoors in the sun.

Any remaining stains can be treated with a mixture of lemon juice and salt or chlorine bleaches. For example, you can mix two tablespoons of chlorine bleach in one quart of water and soak the stain for five to fifteen minutes. Then rinse thoroughly. Remember, however, not to use chlorine bleach on silk, wool, or spandex fabrics. And always spot test first before using chlorine bleach on colored fabrics.

Mildewed furniture fabrics or mattresses are a special problem. After brushing off loose mildew, use a vacuum cleaner to draw out more of the mold. (Be sure to empty or dispose of the bag right away.) If spots remain, sponge lightly with thick soap or detergent suds then wipe with a clean damp cloth. Try to get as little water as possible on the fabric to protect the filling inside; then air out and dry in the sun to stop further mold growth.

To remove mildew on leather, wipe with a cloth wrung out with dilute alcohol, then dry. (Use one cup denatured or rubbing alcohol to one cup water.) If mildew remains, wash with suds made of detergent, saddle soap, or germicidal or fungicidal soap. Then wipe with a damp cloth and dry in an airy place. Shoes treated this way should be polished when dry.

Brenda Hunter and Jeff Ramseier were united in marriage at the Calvary Baptist Church, Wabash, on June 30 by the Rev. Gary Oser, Lakeview, Ohio, cousin of the groom.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, Roann, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ramseier, Servia.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white sheer crepe fabric and veil lace. The crepe bodice was covered with a lace bolero jacket edged with seed pearls. The bride also chose a full cathedral-length mantilla with delicate chantilly lace trim, which matched her dress. The bride's flowers were a cascade of white camellias, white roses, with yellow and peach rose buds with streamers of white, yellow and peach ribbons. All the flowers for the wedding were made by the bride.

The altar was decorated with candelabras, palms, and flowers. Candles were lit by Chris Cosby, Wabash, and Chris Gifford, Urbana, members of the bride's Sunday School class.

Organist was Mrs. Lee Kantenwein, Warsaw, and the soloist was Mrs. Dean Gifford, Urbana.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Patsy Hart, Seneca, So. Carolina. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Connie Almond, Danville, Ill., sister of the bride and Miss Mary Crusinberry, Rochester, Minn.

Miss Randi Stensel, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Ring-bearer was Master Andrew Garber, the groom's nephew.

James Garber, the groom's brother from Berne served the groom as bestman. Groomsmen were Tom Stensel, No. Manchester, brother-in-law of the groom and Geo. Howard, Wabash, friend of the groom. Ushers were Greg Karns, Kokomo, and Terry Oser, Ft. Wayne.

Approximately 300 guests attended the wedding and reception that followed the ceremony in the Church Fellowship Hall. The reception was catered by the brides' aunt, Mrs. Von Kochen-derfer, Rochester. Also serving were Chris Duzenberry, Terre Haute, Kim Duzenberry, Akron, and Mrs. Tom Stensel, North Manchester, sister of the groom.

Caring for the gifts were Judy Hunter, No. Manchester, Mrs. Deanna Schafer, Kokomo, Mrs. Loretta Janeick, Kokomo; Bonnie Kauffman, and Brenda Bayliss, Wabash. Registering guests was Kathy Rice, Wabash.

The bride graduated from Manchester High School and Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C. and is the owner of Brenda's Arts and Crafts, Etc., North Manchester, Ind. The groom graduated from Manchester High School and from New Mexico Military Institute, Rosewell, New Mexico. He is now employed as quality control inspector at Wabash Cast Aluminum, Wabash.

the teachers the money we would pay a substitute encourages teachers not to blatantly use their leave time."

Pay for bus drivers on extra-curricular trips is $2 with $5 minimum and $.10 per mile. The failure of a bus driver to plug in a bus during cold weather can result in a reprimand or punishment. State law also requires that bus drivers not exceed 55 MPH while driving a bus. Bus drivers must also be state certified and have a drivers license, and are also required to attend a state sponsored safety meeting. Failure to attend can result in loss of state certification and one days pay. Drivers work 177 hours and are paid for 180 hours.

Parent-teacher conferences will be held at the end of the first grading period and the third grading periods. Disaster and fire drills will both be held periodically with teachers required to take attendance books with them on the drills. Principals and the superintendent have the authority to suspend a child from riding the bus for five days, but can suspend a child no longer than five days without a hearing.

A revision to change full-time non-certified personnel's vacation time met with board rejection. The revision would have given non-certified personnel six days vacation after one year instead of the present five days, and twelve days after two years instead of the present ten days. This would have aided in figuring when each individual's vacation time occurred. Board member Meredith stated that he was in favor of leaving the policy as it was. Snipes backed up Meredith and said that was the way he looked at it also. The revision concerning vacation time was therefore not included in the revised policy manual.

In other action board members executed Daniel Kramer's contract. Kramer will be the principal at Akron. To fill the position of high school special education teacher, Dr. Harrell recommended that Katherine Ritter, Macy, Ind. be hired.

Board members accepted the resignation of Nancy Wagner, first grade teacher at Akron who said she wished to resign to fill a post in Huntington. Joyce Nichols, summer school primary reading teacher, also resigned. She gave personal reasons as her reason for resigning. Mika Leckrone, reading teacher at Akron was hired to fill the position vacated by Nichols.

Linda Mason, TVHS English/Journalism teacher, also tendered her resignation. In her letter of resignation she stated that she had been offered a teaching position in the British West Indies. She stated that the school was church affiliated and the position would give her the opportunity to try her hand at missionary work.

Vicki Gearhart, gymnastics coach, was given approval for maternity leave, and Lisa Boggs was given a temporary contract to fill the position of elementary

P.E. teacher and gymnastics coach. Phil Pratt was given an additional contract for 42 hours for driver's education and Wayne Cumberland was given six more hours.

The Board will meet again in regular session on Monday, July 16, at the TVHS lecture room with business beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Correction

Last week's NEWS incorrectly identified North Miami band as the first place winner in the Akron Fourth of July parade. The winner was North Manchester.

"To see if electricity is a good value, look at what it does."

Jerry Armstrong, superintendent

Sometimes it's easy to forget just how much you get when you pay your electric bill. Even though you can't see it, taste it, or smell it, electricity does a lot of jobs around the home. Think about it. The average home today has over 16 electric appliances. From the toaster, television and electric toothbrush to vacuum cleaners, clocks, stereo, blender, sewing machine, electric shaver, and coffee maker. The list is almost endless. And that's not including the major appliances such as the refrigerator, washer/dryer, and heating and cooling equipment.

The plain fact is that electricity is at the heart of just about everything. So the next time you pay your electric bill, look at what electricity does for you. Without it life becomes nearly impossible. With it our future brightens.

Electricity is costing you more than ever before. Because it's costing us more to produce and deliver it. But it's still a fair value when compared with anything else you can buy today.

We're getting taller and fatter

It's impossible to get a decent suit of armor that fits anyone, and chances are that grandmother's wedding gown and father's tuxedo are also too small.

In recent generations in Europe, North America and Japan, people are taller than their ancestors—taller even than their parents.

According to anthropologists and clothing manufacturers, adult Americans are taller today than ever before. Fatter and taller. They wear bigger shoes, bigger clothes and bigger underwear.

The average mature woman today is five feet four inches and the average man is five feet nine inches. That's a gain of one inch in 20 years in each case.

Anthropologists say this spurt is now tapering off. The gain, they say, was due to fewer childhood diseases and better nutrition.

"Height is determined by two things," explains anthropologist Michael Spence of the University of Western Ontario. "Genetics give you a potential height and nutrition determines whether you reach that potential."

The current standard of living in North America has added an obesity problem and extra weight to the larger frames.

Fashion usually dictates trouser, skirt and dress lengths, and even their sizes—depending on whether a tapered or "loose" look is in vogue. Garments worn closer to the skin, however, tell the real story of recent growth.

"If you look around at today's women—I look because it's my business—they seem to be bigger in the bust," says Lane Clark, garment sales manager for Playtex Co.

"Our average size and our best seller

(in brassieres) used to be 34B. That has now gone up to 36B.

In women's panties, the hot sizes, or biggest sellers, used to be small, medium and large. Now they're medium, large and extra-large. This same size change holds for the girdle."

In men's underwear, there is growing demand for longer long underwear and bigger briefs.

"In the basic brief, there's a trend away from small sizes," says Millie Crosby, a design supervisor at the Jockey underwear factory. In 1974, 22 percent of their market for underwear was for small sizes, she says, but that figure has fallen to 13 percent in 1978.

Feet appear to be growing to support this extra burden. Brown's Shoes stopped production of its 2 smallest women's sizes and sizes 11½ and 12 were added to the production schedule.

In men's shoes at Brown's, which achieved $1 billion in sales in North America last year, size 13 has been added and over the past 10 years, the average size has jumped one full size to 9½ or 10.

Growth in humans is nothing new to anthropologists. Man's earliest ancestor, australopithecus, was only four feet tall. Neanderthal man, our closest fossil ancestor hit a strapping five feet two inches. But that growth took place over five million years.

The size of men in the middle ages seems much smaller than today, judging from suits of armor and skeletons.

When's it going to stop? It probably already has, believes Spence, the Canadian anthropologist. He thinks man has just about reached his genetic potential.

TVSC Board hears opposition to CBF

by Sherry Blankenship

Tippecanoe Valley School Board members voted to adopt the Cumulative Building Fund (CBF) tax rate on Monday night. The tax rate is $1 per $100 of taxable property.

This meeting served the dual purpose of being a regularly scheduled meeting as well as serving as a local hearing that is required by law to adopt a CBF. A meeting had previously been held for this purpose but passage of a new law required another hearing. The new law expanded the purpose for which a CBF could be spent and required that any new expenditure be included after July 1.

Previously, a CBF could be adopted for classroom purposes only. The new law allows CBF monies to be used to repair buildings, pave parking lots and other legitimate school purposes. Dr. Lloyd Harrell, superintendent of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, stated that he thought the expansion of the law did not include administrative buildings.

Plans had been made to build an administration building, an auxiliary gym as well as a new middle school and the renovation of the Mentone and Akron grade schools with the CBF fund.

Should any portion of the proposed plans become a reality and should they not be covered by the

Akron Board met

In a short meeting Tuesday night, Akron Town Board President strongly stated that unless the vandalism in the new Akron park shelter house was stopped, the "doors will be locked".

The Board stated that they have received several reports of vandalism occurring at different times in the new restroom facilities at the park.

Only Town Clerk Ernie Smith and Fenimore were able to attend the meeting July 17. Police officers Ed Hauser and Charles Clawson were also in attendance.

Without a majority vote, the Board was unable to carry out some business items in the session.

Two area residents did show up, however, to give some ideas on how some of the 1980 budget monies should be used.

Joe Day, on behalf of the Akron Jaycees, asked the Board to consider allocating some funds to help "rejuvenate" the ball diamond located downtown. Day said that there is a growing interest locally in adult softball and the park is in such a condition that many repairs and modifications are required.

Fenimore said that the Board would consider the request when finalizing the budget this month.

Hugh Wildermuth, another resident, commented that the "terribly rough sidewalks" were something to consider in the budget also. The Board advised him that prior requests for federal financial aid was previously turned down. Fenimore said that the sidewalks were still a concern of the Board and would still be worked on.

Another resident complained that neighbors of his were parking on both sides of his narrow street causing a "safety hazard". Fenimore asked Marshal Ed Hauser to make a survey of the town streets to see what streets should be considered for one-side street parking for future action by the Board.

A budget hearing will be held on July 30, 1979 for all interested citizens of Akron Town to consider the budget as proposed for fiscal year 1980.

The meeting will be held at the Akron Town Office for the purpose of discussion of the proposed budget at 7:30 p.m. EST. The proposed budget may be examined on weekdays at the Town Office between 9-12 and 2-5. All interested citizens will have the opportunity to give written and oral comment. Senior citizens are encouraged to attend and comment.

Valley Board approves cumulative fund

CBF, there are other alternatives. The corporation can apply for a loan from the Veterans Memorial Fund or from the Common School Fund. The corporation can opt to turn to a public or private holding corporation or there could be another issue of general obligation bonds whose total amounts are limited to 2% of the assessed evaluation of the school corporation and 2% of the assessed evaluation of each township involved.

Dr. Dan VanGilder, dentist in Mentone and a former school board member, was in the audience and spoke out against adopting the CBF tax rate of $1. He felt the rate was too high and stated, "I want to formerly express my opposition to the CBF. I feel the board is asking for too much too fast."

Board members, Con Shewman, Don Snipes, Everett Besson, and Lee Norris listened intently as Dr. VanGilder registered further opposition to the CBF. "It is a waste of energy and 'sheer folly' to tear down buildings and to rebuild," Dr. VanGilder said. Dr. VanGilder stated that he felt a $.38 tax rate would be enough.

Snipes, vice-president of the board, reminded Dr. VanGilder that the board members paid taxes the same way that he did. "We can take it off (the extra $1 tax rate) if we don't need it," Snipes added.

Board member Norris asked Dr. VanGilder if he was opposed to the CBF or the rate. Dr. VanGilder replied that he was opposed to the rate of $1. He added that he felt it was like putting oil on the fire of expenditures. Dr. VanGilder brought up the figure of $.38 again and said, "This amount should get you off the ground to hire an architect and to see what needs to be done."

Shewman, president of the board, told Dr. VanGilder that something had to be done to make more room for students. "We had already decided to start with an architect to see if it is feasible to remodel," he stated. "But we have to have the money to start with and the heating plants in the older buildings definitely need to be repaired," Shewman added.

Besson, secretary of the Board said, "Why not have the money, rather than go out and borrow it." Besson added that he felt the establishment of a building fund was the, "only way we are going to get it (the money)."

Norris stated that the board would of course have to have hard facts before they decided what to do.

Tom Mahoney, maintenance supervisor for Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, was present at the meeting and gave a report to the board on the progress of clean-up on the boiler systems. Mahoney told the board that one boiler in Mentone had been rebuilt and they were working on the other one. "We are in deep trouble there," he stated. "We have cleaned thirteen coils and eight have been bad. With this percentage alone, less than 50% of the coils were heating," Mahoney informed the board.

Board members asked Mahoney if he felt they could get by with only repair work on the boilers. He stated, "Right now it is best. We should get them running and operate with what we have got until we see if remodeling is in the future."

Mahoney was instructed to have water softeners installed for the boiler's water. Without the softener lime deposits were very heavy thus cutting down the efficiency level of the boiler.

The board also instructed Mahoney to continue working on the boilers and to look into a price quoted by Johnson Control for rebuilding the coils. Johnson Control is a firm hired by the board that inspects the school's heating systems.

In other action taken by the board, Charlie Fellers was granted a disability leave. Upon Dr. Harrell's recommendation the board approved the revised Board Policy Manual and approved the 1980 budget for publication. The board also approved claims in the amount of $63,615.40 and a June 30 gross payroll of $84,522.04 and a July 15 gross payroll of $64,865.26.

Board member Vernon Meredith was absent from the meeting.

The board will meet again at its regularly scheduled meeting time on the third Monday of the month in the TVHS lecture room with business beginning at 7:30.

A golfer whose ball struck and wounded a rare goose, felt he was doing the goose a favor by relieving it of its misery. His act of mercy, however, was not viewed with such pleasure by the government and now Dr. Sherman Thomas is charged with killing the goose out of season. The charge carries a maximum sentence of six months in jail and a $500 fine.

HOT PANTS

Conn's taxi cab drivers spell relief s-h-o-r-t-s. For years company owners required drivers to dress decently while working which meant wearing long pants even on sultry summer days. Now, however, a judge, saying that today's fashions dictate that short pants are proper for many occasions, ruled that such a regulation is illegal and said drivers could wear shorts if they so desired.

THREE'S THE CHARM

In 1973 Greg Kerwin was a finalist in the national spelling bee, and his sister, Mary, reached that plateau two years later. So when sister Katie made the finals this year, it was old hat for the Kerwins. But Katie did something different. By correctly spelling "maculature," the 13-year old from Denver, Col., won the contest.

SPELLING LESSON

The U. S. Metric Association, Inc. has done all of America a great service. That group has released a 28-page booklet entitled "Statement on Spelling of Metre."

EXPENSIVE TASTE

The price per pound of many foods is skyrocketing. But the White Oak Federal Credit Union reports that there is a food that sells for $1,362 a pound. A gourmet's spice, saffron, sells for $3.99 for 3/64 ounce. That equals $85.12 for a full ounce, or $1,361.92 for a pound.

SOUR OWNER

Bill Gold of The Washington Post reports that an Indiana man, Herm Albright, sent him a note telling him of a bumper sticker that read, "If You Could Squeeze This Car, You'd Get Lemonade."

DAR installs new officers

Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR met in the home of Mrs. David McGuire with Mrs. Donald Boggs as co-hostess. The regent, Mrs. Mary Cox, opened with the ritual and pledges. Mrs. Glenn Clauss gave the national defense on the Cost of Panama Canal treaty by Phyllis Shafley. Mrs. Frank Smith reported that the Bell Museum construction has started. Mrs. Yolande Riner gave the resolution on Trade Imbalance. Mrs. Lena Igo gave a short report on the district meeting.

Members were reminded of Flag Day and were also reminded that all should fly flags every day.

Rosie and Annabel Mentzer gave a talk on the history of Mentone and the upcoming centennial celebration.

Mentone filed for incorporation in 1882 and was granted it in 1886. The town was named after a town in France because of its beauty. At this time there were plank sidewalks and dirt streets. A town pump in front of the hotel provided water for the businesses and homes. The business district was planned after a railway route was established. There was no settlement except for a church and a school when talk of the railroad began during the 1880s. The church was located where the Legion now stands and the school was located where Ueters now stands.

Electric arches over the main street provided lights for the streets. The lights were turned on at dusk and turned off at 10:00. Homes and businesses were charged for electricity by the number of lamps they had in use. The town board worked hard for an electric plant to provide electricity for the town.

In June, 1899 the town board issued permission to put an electric railway in town. The railway was to be completed by September 1901, no further action was taken by the board and the railway did not become a reality. Eventually the taxes on the roads, schools, and dogs were turned over to the town board to distribute.

A school building was built for the sum of $8,000. Mentone started with a two year high school then progressed to a three year and finally to the now traditional four year high school. The first two year graduating class was in 1892. The first three year class to graduate was the class of 1896. In 1934 classes were moved to the present school. The completion of a gymnasium in 1926 made it possible for Mentone to host a county tourney.

The talk also included the reading of the minutes of the first town board meeting's minutes. Duties of the town board officers were listed in the minutes as well as the payments and the fines that were imposed on them.

Being a store clerk was considered to be a top job during this time. A store clerk worked twelve hours each weekday and fifteen hours on Saturday.

Fire has destroyed many of the buildings that stood long ago; consequently, much of the business district has been replaced. A. C. Manwaring was always interested and instrumental in pushing town interest.

Installation of officers was held by Elaine Fugate: Annabel Mentzer, regent; Shirley Smalley, vice regent; Jeannie Clauss, chaplain; Pat Gross, secretary; Mary Ettinger, treasurer; Agnes Tibbets, registrar; Lilly Tucker, historian; and Rita Funk, librarian.

Members closed by repeating the American Creed. Refreshments were served to the 16 members and 2 guests present.

The September meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Charles Tucker. The meeting date has been changed to the third Tuesday of the month, September 18.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

Have you ever looked around your home and wondered what it was that inspired you to buy the furniture you bought? If the furniture is new, you are probably very excited and happy with your purchase. If the couch is faded from Sunday naps, and your dog's favorite chair doesn't quite look like its mate anymore, you may be thinking about refurbishing.

The most important thing to remember when furnishing your home is your life style. If your family is accustomed to dining formally, you will probably want a formal dining room. And don't buy antique Chippendale chairs for your TV room if your four sons lounge in front of the set with popcorn. You can find any style of furniture to fit your needs if you are careful and don't get carried away by gorgeous styles that won't fit your needs.

Many young people find that buying "sets" of less expensive furniture is what fills their needs when trying to furnish their first home. The drawback with this is that less expensive furniture doesn't carry the materials or craftsmanship to last throughout the years. You'll probably end up spending more money because you'll have to replace. So if you can afford it, and have time to wait, your better bet is to buy one or two good pieces at a time.

Another factor to consider in buying furniture is upholstery. If you have young children, buy coverings that are durable, washable, strong, and won't show spills, spills, and more spills. And a Scotch-guard finish really does work at repelling liquids. You can even buy carpeting now with a Scotch-guard finish.

Of course if you're older and your children are gone, this may be the time to decorate as you always wanted to, but didn't dare. I know that sometime, when I'm a grandma, I'll have glass coffee and end tables like I've always wanted, but they wouldn't be very practical right now. And I'll get those velvet Queen Ann chairs, too.

Shopping for furniture is just fun in itself. Spend time comparing prices, fabrics, comfort, and looks. Be sure that what you buy is exactly what you want, because if you're like most of us, you'll be living with your purchases for a long time.

"Tin Goose" lands at Mentone

by Bob Norlander

Many area residents were lucky enough to see, or at least hear, a part of history Monday morning, when a Tri-Motor airplane landed at the Mentone Airport.

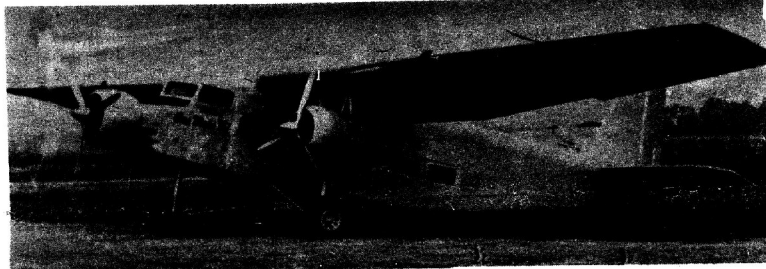

Owned by Chuck LeMaster of Ottawa, Kansas, the famous "Tin Goose" of aviation put down at the airport on its way from Dayton, Ohio to OshKosh, Wisconsin to take part in a major air show.

The history of this particular plane is especially interesting. In the mid-fifties, a small group of individuals, who worked in California's vast aircraft manufacturing complex, got together and formed the Hayden Aircraft Corporation. Many people were surprised when Hayden revealed that William B. Stout, designer of the Ford Tri-Motor and still active in aviation, although aging in years would be director of engineering for the new corporation.

A few days later, Stout startled everybody by announcing that they were going to start producing the Ford tri-motors again. The "Tin Goose" was being resurrected.

Because of his previous experience with The Ford Motor Company, Stout was able to obtain many of the original drawings from which the first 5-AT Ford tri-motor was produced. With these, and the help of the younger aeronautical engineers at Hayden, he started redesigning the basic 5-AT, taking advantage of Jet Age "Know-how" and technology. The "new" Ford was to be known as THE STOUT BUSHMASTER.

The prototype of the aircraft was to have been completed in 1957, and much of the engineering was, in fact, finished right on schedule. Bill Stout died suddenly in 1956, and the project suffered setbacks.

Motor Company. N-7501V is the only BUSHMASTER 2000, ever completed.

When the BUSHMASTER 2000 was finally completed and rolled out onto the ramp in August of 1966, she was a sight to behold. In profile, there was no question she was a Ford Tri-Motor. But a closer look showed many changes and improvements.

The plane, that landed in Mentone, is the fourth Tri-Motor owned and operated by LeMaster Inc., of Ottawa, Kansas. Offering passenger flights to the public at "Special Events" is their business throughout the U.S. N-7501V was purchased in Bethel, Alaska, where it was flying freight for eskimo villages along the Bering Sea. In September of 1977, it was flown to Ottawa, Kansas and completely restored.

The fact remains THE BUSHMASTER 2000 is still a Ford Tri-Motor; the Tin Goose simple refused to die.

Old Henry would like that.

"Old Henry would like that"

The modern version of the famous Ford Tri-Motor was the project of William B. Stout, the original designer. After his death the project was carried to completion by BUSHMASTER AIRCRAFT CORPORATION with the cooperation, but independently, of the Ford

Akron board changes street to Saner Drive

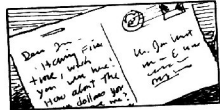

Due to a legal technicality the Akron Town Board has officially approved changing the name of Woodlawn Avenue to Saner Drive. The Board previously had accepted the name "Woodlawn Avenue" in their regular June session.

The street is being officially named Saner Drive as that is the name so designated on the original plat presented for County Commissioner approval in 1976 and has been recorded in deeds granted in Saner's Second Addition.

Akron Bible schoolers end session

These students were part of Mrs. Gene Hoover's 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th grade classes. The NEWS will run more pictures next week of the groups.

New books at Akron library

BROKEN PROMISE by Kent Hayes and Alex Lazzarino. What happens when five young children are abandoned by their parents on a highway in mid-America? In this incredible, emotion-charged drama, a courageous and resourceful eleven-year-old girl challenges a ruthlessly immutable bureaucracy - and society itself - to restore and preserve her own precious "family" of siblings - not to mention her own sense of dignity. The tenacity of the girl and the resulting trauma experienced by her "family" and all involved in her drama provoke a monumental response.

THE FALSE FACE OF DEATH by Anita Allen.

HELTER SHELTER by Ann Combs. Take one couple, their six children, and a wonderful white elephant of a house and you've got the makings of a six-year venture into do-it-yourself hilarity.

"Mini-honeymoon" can help couples with marriage problems

Has the drab weather gotten you down? Are you and your spouse fighting with each other? Then perhaps it is time for a "mini-honeymoon," says Dena Targ, Extension family studies specialist at Purdue University.

The mini-honeymoon doesn't have to be elaborate or expensive; it just has to provide the husband and wife with some time to themselves away from the pressures of parenthood, earning a living, and other day-to-day chores. It also means to revitalize the feelings that led to marriage in the first place.

It is easy to forget that intimacy of early marriage over the years, says Targ. Marriage is an ever-changing process and the marriage partners are ever-changing as individuals.

If the partners don't take some time for themselves as couples they can grow apart rather than together.

The mini-honeymoon can be of any length from a leisurely evening alone together including a late dinner with foods you both enjoy (but the kids term "yucky") to a weekend trip to a motel or vacation area.

The important thing is that you have time for each other when you can really listen and understand, make plans and dream.

Don't let the myth that "marriage is something you learn by instinct" stand in your way, advises Targ. Marriage is not necessarily "natural," and you can learn ways to make it more enjoyable. The first step is to take time to learn about each other and to build the relationship.

Check pans for recipes

by Patricia M. Braman

With the County Fair quickly approaching, many women are busy testing new recipes and perfecting old stand-bys to vie for that blue ribbon. While checking your recipe, don't forget the cake pan. The right pan influences the volume, texture, shape and color of the finished cake. And with so many types of pans on the market, it is difficult for cake bakers to know which type is best—aluminum, stainless steel, or glass.

An aluminum pan with a dull bottom and shiny sides is recommended for the best-all-around cakes. Cakes baked in this type of pan have a larger volume and the best possible shape and color. But not every aluminum pan will do as well. A shiny aluminum pan will produce a cake that has a good texture and excellent shape and color, but the volume will be small. The result will be the same for any shiny pan regardless of how thick the aluminum.

Some aluminum pans have been finished with brightly colored porcelain enamel and non-stick materials. These pans may be pretty to look at and easy to clean, but they seldom produce blue-ribbon winners. They tend to trap gases under cake batter which causes holes in the bottom of the cake. Cakes baked in these pans generally have a medium volume large air holes, a poor shape and uneven color.

Stainless steel cake pans turn out cakes with good shape, color, and texture and small volume. Cakes from glass pans are likely to be browner around the edges and rounded on the top.

What makes the different types of pans produce different types of cakes? It has to do with how the heat moves from the oven to the cake, and the pan has a lot to do with this transfer. In conventional gas and electric ovens heat is transferred to the cake by three methods - by direct contact of the pan

Cheerleaders attend camp

The eighth grade cheerleaders of Mentone Junior High School recently attended a Cheerleaders Workshop held at Taylor University, Upland. The girls learned new cheers, pom-pom routines, side line cheers, mounts, jumps and Crowd Leadership Techniques. They also participated in a talent show and presented a pep rally.

The program, under Nation-Wide Cheerleaders Association of Indiana, Pennsylvania, attracted 200 cheerleaders from several states.

Kelly Zimpelman, Tina Shepherd, Kim Martin, Sherry Lafferty, and Julie Manwaring attended the workshop. They placed first, second, and third in evaluations.

Marilyn Marr, senior electric living consultant

Marilyn's right. An Energy-Saver Home can help you conserve energy. And the more you conserve, the more you save on electric bills. Energy-Saver Homes have extra insulation, snug-fitting storm doors and windows, plus an efficient electric heating and cooling system adequately sized for the living space. So, if you're planning to build, consider the long-term advantages of an Energy-Saver Home. Talk to your builder or call your local Public Service Indiana office. We want to help you with energy costs by helping you save energy.

Like most writers who try to grind out a column I occasionally yearn for the greener grass on the other side of the fence.

Here's one for all you certified pet nuts. Each question has actually appeared in a daily newspaper's pet column, so I could try my hand at it.

Some of my pet peeves

Q - Our 2-year-old beagle eats its own waste. This is awful and I don't know what to do.

A - It IS awful and I don't know what to do either. Is your beagle still under warranty?

Q - Can I will things to my dog when I die?

A - Yes, but plan carefully. Do you want your dog to be the innocent prey of fortune hunters? Too often a bereaved and suddenly well-heeled dog is the victim of unscrupulous people who pass themselves off as affectionate "masters" only to callously walk out when they've stripped the dog of its assets. For my helpful booklet, "After You're Gone: Providing For Your Dog," send a self addressed stamped envelope and $500 to cover handling charges.

Q - Is it OK to feed my cat butter with its dry food?

A - Yes. If your cat has trouble buttering its own food, it is, of course, necessary for you to do it. We find a small flexible spatula preferable to a regular butter knife. A lightly chilled semi-dry white wine goes nicely with buttered cat food. If your cat's overweight, you might want to switch to diet margarine.

Q - What causes the green stuff along the walls in my aquarium?

A - Usually some green stuff is caused by a small child who hates spinach. But if you've also noticed furry little purple blobs in dark corners of your home, you may be subletting to aliens from outer space. Do your fish seem to be - well, communicating with the green stuff? If so, that's a very ominous sign.

Q - Every time a bird flies into our back yard it is attacked by a blue jay. Is the jay crazy?

A - No-o-o-o, probably not. Seriously disturbed, yes. Crazy, no. Have you considered getting your jay into psychotherapy? A number of factors could be involved here: early nest trauma, hatchmate rivalry, parental role confusion, possibly even a severe insect allergy.

Q - How can I stop my dog from barking?

A - There are many solutions to this common dog owner's problem, usually caused by boredom. Encourage your dog to watch afternoon soap operas. Simple hobbies, like macramé, are often helpful. Teach your dog a sport - roller skating, perhaps, or riding a stationary bicycle - to while away those idle hours.

Q - Our mixed Airedale and fox terrier has a scaling skin and smells bad. What's wrong?

A - I'm sorry. Your dog is dead.

Q - Do cats have heart attacks?

A - Occasionally. If your cat smokes, try to get it to quit, and watch those alcoholic beverages. A can of beer now and then after a brisk mouse stalking is all right, but don't let it become a habit. Cats are born knowing how to avoid stress, so that's one worry you don't have.

Q - My cat is totally independent. He never comes to me for loving unless he wants it. Any suggestions for making him more friendly?

A - You might try getting married. Then you can send the same complaint to Ann Landers.

"Is there any good reason why area laundromats cannot or do not have exhaust fans installed to carry off the excess heat in summer? Those are one of the most miserable places imaginable when the weather is hot."

"I have cut off my air conditioning belt and the air injection belt to get better mileage on my car and I carry 30 pounds of air pressure in my tires. They can stick these emission control systems up Carter's nose until we get lower prices."

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the July 23, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

An odd accident occurred at the Milo Fawley farm, south of town, some time ago when Mrs. Irene Nelson, of Plymouth, was taking 25 dogs to Bloomington to sell them. A Terrier bit her and before she knew what was happening she had driven into a telephone pole and out into the corn field. About $100 damage was done to the auto and she sent a check to Mr. Fawley for the damage to the fence.

The free movie to be shown in Mentone on Saturday evening, July 26, is to be "The Daltons Ride Again" starring Noah Berry, Jr. and Lon Chaney. This is a good western so don't fail to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smythe and daughter of Mentone and Mrs. Josie Smythe, of Palestine, returned Saturday afternoon after a week's trip in the east. Mr. Smythe visited his brother, Gene Earl at Camp Drum at Waterlawn, N.J. They stopped for a look at the Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Harold Horn has been appointed chief operator, cashier of the local telephone office. She will take the position held until recently by Mrs. Dewey Whetstone, who has resigned because of illness. Mrs. Horn took eight days of special training, 3 days at No. Manchester office, and 5 days at the Lafayette office. Mr. and Mrs. Whetstone will move from the telephone apartment soon, to their newly remodeled home, the former Frank Fisher property. Mrs. Horn stated that they do not plan to move into town.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper are in Port Austin, Michigan this week visiting their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper.

Now on display the new 1953 Bendix automatic washers which includes the new Economat and the Gyromatic. Baker's Jewelry and Appliances.

Rita Olson, a junior in the Mentone High School, was one of the champions in the 4-H Dress Revue held last Friday evening at the Warsaw high School. She modeled a dark aqua print with a white bolero. Her gift from the Warsaw merchants as a revue winner was a radio. Tomaline Witham, of Atwood, was selected as grand champion, and will represent Kosciusko county at the state dress revue during the state fair.

The contract to build the U. S. Kroft road will be sold August 5th. While in Wabash last Thursday, A. B. Slaybaugh took an airplane ride, flying for more than 20 minutes at an altitude of 2700 feet. He said that he enjoyed the trip.

The county commissioners last week ordered Trustee William Morrett to gravel the one half mile road leading east from Bear's crossing. W. C. Miller last Saturday secured the Oakland Agency for nearly all of Henry township and two other townships in Miami and Kosciusko counties.

A regular Kansas cyclone struck the Millark neighborhood Monday evening, doing damage estimated at nearly $5,000. The Laura Smith house was nearly unroofed. One end of the house was badly damaged. One end of the Frank Walters house was blown in and the roof partly carried away. The orchard on the Justin Masteller farm was nearly all destroyed. The shade trees were all blown down and the smoke house was carried away. Vern Miller's hen house was turned over and the barn belonging to Henry Hartman was nearly wrecked. Ivan Ramsey's barn also suffered some damage. The force of the wind may be judged by the fact that William King's binder, which was setting in the field, was moved at least 15 rods. The wind was followed by a heavy hail storm which did some damage.

Two hundred eight-week old pheasants will be released Sunday morning at seven o'clock by the Rock Lake Conservation Club. The pheasants were raised on the Foster Hoffman farm. They will be released in woods where hunting is permitted by the owner.

Easterday's are new owners of Akron drive-in Jack and Kelly Easterday are the new owners of the drive-in restaurant on 114 East of Akron, formerly known as Tom and Dots.

"We hadn't planned on buying a restaurant," they stated, "although we had been wanting a business of our own." Friends of the previous owners, when the Easterdays heard the restaurant was for lease they decided to try their hand at running a restaurant.

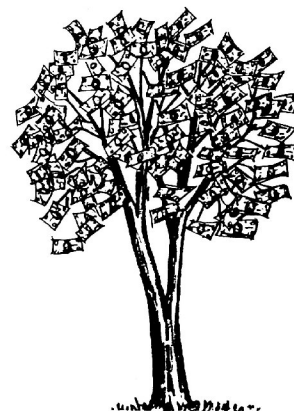

Jack was a grill cook in Tennessee for five years and Kelly had taken bookkeeping courses, so they felt they were prepared. Jack doesn't do the cooking at the restaurant, however, as he now drives a truck. Working for the Easterdays at the restaurant are Rita Mann and Madonna Clemons.

The Easterdays have a daughter, Jerri, 13, who is a seventh grader. Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tucker, reside in Akron also.

"We like the community," they commented, "everyone has been real nice and very helpful to us." They promise all their present and future customers prompt service, a clean restaurant, and good home cooked food. They also want to announce that the drive-in section of the restaurant is now open.

DETAIL OF RECEIPTS
Auditor of State	8918.74
TOTAL OF RECEIPTS	8918.74

(Editor's Note: Ever wonder what happens to those "Miracle Cars" that pop up in the news periodically claiming mileage up to 100 miles per gallon? Do the automakers buy the patent and then shelve the whole thing? Here is a report we received regarding the recent Florida car that claimed 84 MPG.)

Though the much-publicized Moodymobile blew into the spring like a lion, it now appears that it has entered the summer like a lamb. In fact, the inventors say the car no longer exists.

The original vehicle was claimed to be capable of 84 MPG, though its fuel economy was never verified by any authentic source. Nor was it shown that the vehicle could pass the standard emissions tests required by the EPA. Press reports said that the inventors first scheduled, then canceled, plans to take the vehicle to the EPA for tests.

GM and other manufacturers were allowed brief glimpses of the Moody mobile at its Florida home. But no engineering evaluations were permitted by the owners. Nor would they detail what modifications had been made to the Perkins diesel engine which powered the car.

Now press reports say that the principals have dissolved their partnership, scrapped the original vehicle, and, in the case of one partner, moved on to other ventures.

Family Life

by Renee Norlander

Bunk beds are a common sight in children's bedrooms especially when space is cramped in a home, but their use (and misuse) contributes to the national accident rate each year, according to Michael Lee, Extension home furnishings specialist at Purdue University.

To help alleviate this problem, the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, the National Home Furnishings Association, and the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association are participating in a consumer education program. They plan to inform consumers of the potential hazards of bunk bed use and offer safety suggestions.

Bunk beds manufactured by members of these associations will carry the following label: "For the safety of your child use a mattress which is no more than 8 cm. (3 in.) below the bottom of the guard rail and at least 13 cm. (5 in.) below the top of the guard rail. Always use the ladder and guard rail."

In addition, each bed will be equipped with a hanging tag which will point out safety precautions.

Lee recommends that consumers follow these bunk bed safety rules:

- Discourage rough or physical play on the top bunk.
- Permit only children six years or older to use the top bunk.
- Periodically inspect guard rails and ladders to be sure they are secure and in place.
- Consider the use of a night-light when the top bunk is in use.

The continued cooperation of both manufacturers and consumers, Lee believes, will help reduce injuries resulting from bunk bed accidents. And I know that parents will keep up to date in preventing accidents.

Canine Castle—A salon for dogs

by Sherry Blankenship

"I have loved dogs since the day I was born," Marcia Nelson enthusiastically told me. Marcia, 25, is the owner of Canine Castle. She is in a good business for an animal lover as she grooms, clips, and bathes dogs at her shop in Palestine. The shop is a converted grocery store that her parents, Paul and Vina Nelson, previously owned.

Walking into Marcia's shop is much like entering a beauty salon. The difference being that her clients are canine instead of human beings. The shop is spotless and a pleasant scent wafts through the air. She assured me that if someone brings in a particularly dirty and smelly dog that the odor is not so pleasant.

Her equipment consists of a bathtub, mounted at waist level, two tables for clipping and doing the finishing work on the dogs, and several shiny metal cages. Blow dryers, clippers, and shears adorn the wall above the work tables. Cologne, nail polish in various shades, cornstarch and several other jars and bottles sit on shelves within easy reach. Trophies and ribbons she has won with her dogs and dog posters brighten the walls above the couch in the waiting area-alcove. The shop is not at all what one would expect a dog shop

Marcia stated that she preferred using a hand blow dryer as it adds a better finish to the dogs. There are shops that have the dryers attached to the sides of a cage. "I do not like them because they do not give the puffiness and fullness of a blow dryer," she commented. She then clips the nails if required, does the finishing up, smoothing, and does any extra clipping that may be needed.

Marcia has a regular dog cologne that she scents the dogs with. She also uses cornstarch on collies to whiten the hair and as an aid in brushing out tangles. "Whether I use nail polish on the toenails of the dogs and put bows on is up to the dog's owner. I usually do it to all of them unless asked not to. Some owners don't like the male poodles to have painted nails, others don't mind however. "I feel they look like they are more finished if the nails are painted," she stated.

Prices for these services can range from $10 to $15 depending upon the size of the dog or how badly matted the dog may be. A brush-out for a badly matted dog or for a large dog in extra bad shape usually falls in the higher price range.

Marcia became seriously interested in clipping and in the grooming just clip the dog and clean it up.

Marcia told me that she started her own business because she was dissatisfied with working at the job she was in. "I wanted to continue working with dogs and this was the only way I could figure out to do it. Having my own business has its advantages. Where I worked before

I was required to do the dog whether it was manageable or not. Now, if the dog is totally unmanageable I will not groom it. I do not use tranquilizers," she stated, "as I am leery of them. If a customer wants to bring a tranquilizer and take the responsibility for using it on the dog, I will use it, however," she added.

She recommend that poodles and other breeds that grow fast be clipped and groomed at least ever six to eight weeks. Snoozers and some mixed breeds that don't grow as fast don't need it as often. "The dogs should be bathed more often than this," she states. Poodles could even be bathed once a week, and many people do, as long as they don't develop dry skin. She does not recommend bathing shepherds and other dogs as frequently though, as their skin and hair are different and they can develop a dry flaky skin condition.

Not only are Marcia's work days filled with the canine set but so are her off hours. She teaches obedience training and grooming of dogs to local 4-H youngsters and until recently was the head of this section of the 4-H for this area. "I really enjoy teaching the 4-H classes," she smiled. She judges the dog shows at the county fairs, too. She has already judged Fulton County's and will also judge Elkhart County's. Marcia also teaches an obedience class at the Warsaw Fairgrounds. She teaches a spring and fall class and fall classes begin on August 7.

She told me that she was bit at one of these classes by a Great Dane that weighed 150 pounds. She said that the 9 month old dog did not know the meaning of "no!" Marcia avers that dogs are like children. They will do what you allow them to do. An ill-mannered dog will throw temper tantrums, show their teeth, and snap at you. They can't be trimmed or brushed without a fuss. A person has to make a dog respect them, using firm but reasonable guidance and training, of course. "Dogs who are not taught respect for their owners are the ones who usually bite their masters," she said. "My dogs know when I tell them to do something they had better do it. They are well-behaved. They are just like kids, though," she laughingly adds. Marcia said that she looked upon obedience training as more than a hobby and would like to figure out a way to earn a living at it.

Marcia has three shepherds. One, an eighty pound ten month female with the romantic name of Autumn's Amber Eve, she uses in dog shows. "I picked a large breed to have. I have always wanted a large dog but my parents didn't want me to have one when I lived at home." Her other dogs are a seven year male named Herr Eric Von Deutsch U.D.T., whom she refers to as "old man," and a four year female named Chena's Danika Von Deutsch C.D. "Both dogs are too old to show," she states. "They don't have the coordination and quickness anymore that is needed for shows." All her dogs are American Kennel Club registered.

She is especially proud of the fact that her male dog, Eric, is a Utility Dog Tracker which is the highest degree offered by the AKC. Eric had to successfully win the scent discrimination and hand signal portions at three different shows to even qualify for U.D.T. "It doesn't sound hard, but it is very difficult," she comments. In the scent discrimination test there are ten articles, five of metal and five of leather. The owner scents one and the judges scent the others. A dog must choose and retrieve the one article his owner has scented. "It is very difficult," she reiterates.

Eric then had to pass a test given by a certified licensed tracking judge. The test consists of setting a simple trail and the dog must follow it. The dog must pass this as certification that he passed must be sent with the entry fee.

Marcia traveled to Tennessee with Eric for the final test. The U.D.T. testing field was quite large," she stated. "They can only run ten dogs at once, however, as each dog has a separate track and an area that is quite large." The objective is to find a leather glove scented with human scent. The dog is on a 40' line. "It was easy for Eric, but I had trouble," she stated. "I had to learn to trust Eric's sense of direction and smell." To her knowledge, Eric is the only dog in the Ft. Wayne club that Marcia belongs to that has the distinction of being a Utility Dog Tracker.

"I have loved dogs since the day I was born" to be. "I wouldn't want to take my dogs to a dirty smelly shop so I try to keep my shop as neat as possible," she told me.

Marcia begins work at 7:30 a.m. although she does take an occasional 6:30 a.m. appointment. She tries not to schedule any appointments after 2:30. "I can do five or six dogs a day," she informed me. "Each dog takes an average of one and one-half hours to do depending upon the size." She will place the dogs in cages after an appointment during the day for customers for an hour or so but she does not keep any dogs overnight.

During an appointment the dogs will receive a general clean-up. She "rough clips" them first and bathes them. They are then blown dry.

of dogs when she worked at a veterinarian hospital in Warsaw. She learned some basic grooming and clipping in 4-H as a youngster. She stated that she also picked up a lot of ideas from the dog shows that she attends. "I pick out different breeds of dogs and observe how they are clipped and styled. Most of my work is done on poodles but I do all kinds of dogs. Cuts available to poodles are known as Lamb Out, Banded Dutch, Town and Country, Ponjola, Puppy Trim, Bolero Dutch, and Royal Dutch.

She said that her favorites to clip are the little mixed breed "mutt" dogs that people bring to her. I have more freedom with the styling as the people will tell me to use my own judgement or will tell me to Marcia's mother, Vina Nelson, a retired storekeeper, helps Marcia out occasionally.

Inflation - Fighting IDEAS

NEWS OF PROGRESS

Inflation's the major problem facing America—not just consumers but corporations as well. Higher costs concern and affect industry as much as they do consumers.

Fighting inflation is the job of all Americans.

Controlling inflation won't be quick or easy. The only viable control alternative is slowing down the economy. One method, voluntary wage and price guidelines, has already been announced to spell out business and labor contributions to solving this vital problem.

As one major company, Sun Company, put it in a recent publication, "...controlling inflation is in everyone's best interest. Past experience has shown that voluntary controls stifle productivity and lead to inequities. But we intend to support the program to the best of our ability."

The undesirable alternative, as Sun sees it, is mandatory wage and price controls. And the company adds, "...if we want to retain the maximum freedom possible for our economy, we must work together—government, business, labor and the public—to control inflation."
