

Miss Anderson crowned Miss Indiana

Christine Rhoades at Miss Indiana Pageant

The 24th annual Miss Indiana Pageant was held in Michigan City last Saturday, June 28, at Rogers Performing Arts Auditorium, with 27 women vying for the title.

After a week of preparation and judging that began Wednesday the 25th, ten girls were chosen as the semi-finalists for Saturday's competition. Miss Kosciusko, Christine Rhoades, Silver Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rhoades, was selected as one of the semi-finalists. Others chosen were: Miss Plymouth, Mary Coris; Miss Gary, Debra Styles; Miss Elkhart Co., Kimberly Kurtz; Miss Butler Univ., Mona Miller; Miss Indianapolis, Julie Meynars; Miss Anderson, Terri Kardatski; Miss Hoosier Hills Festival, Ilone Conway; Miss Delaware Co., Jennifer Morrow; and Miss Ft. Wayne, Vicki Barber.

Becky Graham Paul, 1972 Miss Indiana, and Nick Clooney, hosted the program, which featured swim suit, evening gown and talent competition for the ten semi-finalists. With the exceptions of Christine, who played "My Tribute" on the piano, and Misses Gary and Delaware Co., who danced, the semi-finalists sang for their talent competition.

1979 Miss Indiana, Ricky Ferrell, performed a dance routine for the capacity crowd at the auditorium, and the winner of a special talent award, Miss N. Central, Susan Lillavitch, also displayed her dance routine.

Judges for the pageant were from as far away as Haiti, as Haitian delegate to the U.N., Jean Claude Bourde, assisted in the difficult task of selecting Miss Indiana. Other judges were: Chairman Dr. Ed. Shellhouse, Cincinnati, Ohio; Jo Ann Delaiden, Illinois; Marie Hansen, Pratt, Kansas; and Jerry Backus, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

The results of the final judging showed Miss Ft. Wayne as fourth runner-up and Miss Indianapolis as third runner-up. Following as second and first runners-up were Miss Elkhart Co. and Miss Hoosier Hills, respectively, while Miss Anderson (Terri Kardatski) was crowned Miss Indiana.

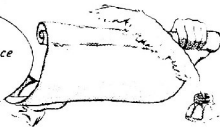

Miss Indiana will now be traveling to Atlantic City for the Miss America Pageant, which takes place over the labor day weekend.

Christine Rhoades

The principles in the Declaration of Independence are the cornerstone of America's freedom.

The God who gave us life, gave us liberty.

the SONS OF LIBERTY by RICHARD LYNN

Chosen to write a public paper justifying the action of Congress, Jefferson used the "natural rights" philosophy of Englishman John Locke, emphasizing that the purpose of government is to protect the natural God-given rights of the people.

Whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and institute new government...

Tyrants in every age have claimed to rule by the will of God, possessing more rights than their slaves, but the Declaration asserts that "...ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL, THAT THEY ARE ENDOWED BY THEIR CREATOR WITH CERTAIN UNALIENABLE RIGHTS..."

July 4, 1776: King George wrote in his diary, "Nothing happened today."

Meanwhile, John Hancock was making his signature large enough for the king to read without his spectacles.

Alexander Hamilton said: "The sacred rights of mankind are not to be rummaged for among old parchments or rusty records. They are written, as with a sunbeam, in the whole volume of human nature, by the hand of divinity itself, and can never be erased or obscured by mortal power."

Greg Utter enters Tournament of Knights

Greg Utter, son of Tim and Joann Utter, Mentone, has entered the 1980 Tournament of Knights. The tournament is held annually in conjunction with the Mermaid Festival in North Webster and is open to graduates of accredited high schools who are sponsored by non-profit organization. Each competes as a 'Knight' of their local community and on behalf of their sponsors for the $1000 to be granted to the sponsors.

Greg is 18 years old, weighs 175 pounds and is 5'10" tall. He is being sponsored by the Mentone Youth League, and he plans to attend Grand Valley State in Michigan this fall.

While at TVHS, Greg lettered three years in football and played on the 1979 State Champion Football team. He lettered two years in basketball and one year in track. Greg will be competing as the 'Knight of Mentone.'

SOUND OFF

I want to compliment Christine Rhoades for her excellent representation of our area in the Miss Indiana Pageant last week. Hopefully her fine example will encourage other young women to participate in next year's Miss Kosciusko Pageant.

Teresa Petrosky

Teresa Petrosky at "The Other End"

The NEWS would like to take this opportunity to introduce to our readers Teresa Petrosky, daughter of Rudy and Caroline Petrosky, Akron. Teresa, who will be a junior at Purdue University this fall, is home for the summer. She is currently working on a double major in psychology and journalism, as she hasn't yet made up her mind which field she will enter. She explained, "Writing is my first love, but I didn't think I'd be able to find a job as a journalist. I'm doing volunteer work at the Bowen Center this summer and I really like it. I may become a counselor. It all depends on where the jobs are."

Periodically this summer, the NEWS will print a column by Teresa entitled, "The Other End." It's a humorous column designed to alert us to the trials and tribulations of single, college-conditioned, career-minded young women in America. We're running the first column this week on page 5.

While at home, Teresa is working at Harvey's Dime Store in Akron, in addition to her volunteer work at the Bowen Center and writing a column. She also is a counselor at the Akron Church of God and sings in the choir, and she hopes to win a part in the church play later this summer. An honors student at Purdue, Teresa will be a "big sister" at Shreve dormitory to incoming freshmen next year, and she will continue her work as the Outreach Chairman at her church there. Teresa's experience with writing includes writing for the TVHS newspaper and acting as copy editor of the school yearbook her senior year at Valley.

So turn to page 5 and hold on to your hats, because anything goes on "The Other End."

Akron Town Board met

The Akron Town Board met Tuesday June 24 in the Town Office. Several citizens attended the meeting to discuss problems they have experienced with the sewer on East Rochester Street. Plans are being made to clean out the sewer sometime this summer.

Deputy Marshal Charles Clawson received the Town Board's approval to attend the Police Academy at Plainfield, Indiana. Maintenance of the town's trash compactor was discussed, and the Board studied traffic control problems anticipated during the Akron Fourth of July celebration.

The Town office will be closed Friday and Saturday for the July 4th holiday. The office will be open all day Thursday July 3.

Because of vandalism, the Board decided to discontinue supplying paper towels in the rest rooms at the Akron Park.

Unfortunately, vandals have been clogging the restroom plumbing with wads of paper towels. Someone else poured stones into the drinking fountain drain.

Ralph E. Daub, 64, R. 1, Akron, died at 1:20 p.m. Wednesday, June 25, 1980 at his home.

Also surviving are three sons, Scott, California, Arthur and John, both of Lake Tahoe, Nev.; one stepson, Gary Miller, Van Buren; and one grandchild.

He retired from Peabody Seating Co., North Manchester, in 1976. He lived in North Manchester and Wabash before moving to Akron.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Eel River Shrine Club, North Manchester, and the Scottish Rite and Mizpah Temple, Fort Wayne. He was a World War II veteran.

Services were Saturday in the Bender Funeral Home, North Manchester with Elder Lawrence Carter officiating. A graveside service was in Van Buren Cemetery.

Pike Lumber buys timber

Pike Lumber Company of Akron, Indiana, was the successful bidder on 19 tracts of choice timberland located in Southern Michigan, as announced by the company's president, Howard Utter. Dean Baker, Vice-President, and David Atkinson, manager of the company's timber buying, negotiated what Utter describes as the largest single purchase of fine hardwood forestland in the Indiana-Michigan-Ohio tri-state area and probably the last one due to the increased demand and diminishing supply of area forests. The company's 54 tree farms, operated by their own forestry department, assure a permanent future supply of fine hardwoods for the company's U.S. and overseas market.

Steam engine stop at Mentone

The Fort Wayne Railroad Historical Society will run two steam railway excursions from Ft. Wayne to Argos on July 12-13.

The excursion train will be pulled by ex-Nickel Plate Berkshire 765.

The Berkshire was delivered to the Nickel Plate Railroad (now Norfolk & Western) by the Lima Locomotive works in the fall of 1944 and worked only 14 years in Revenue Service before being retired due to dieselization by the Nickel Plate. On May 4, 1963, '765' was donated on request to the city of Ft. Wayne and placed in Lawton Park for display.

In 1973 the Ft. Wayne Railroad Historical Society, Inc., was founded and acquired the engine on a 20 year lease from the city.

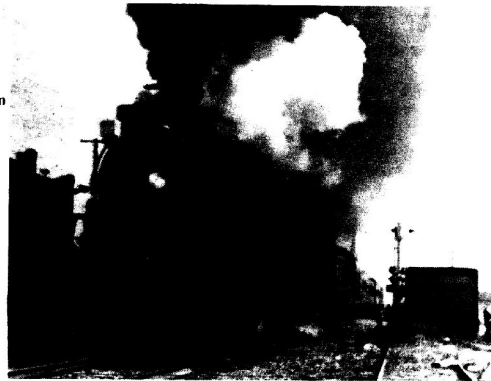

In 1974 the engine was moved from Lawton Park to the shops of the Ft. Wayne Railroad Museum near New Haven and the process of restoration began. After more than five years, the work was completed and the engine ran on its own steam on Sept. 1, 1979. It was also featured in the May 1980 issue of Trains Magazine.

The train will run in conjunction with the Ft. Wayne Three Rivers Festival and will be making a round trip of 120 miles each day. On it's way from Ft. Wayne to it's destination at Argos, the train will be traveling through Mentone. Although an exact time hasn't been established (it is assumed it will be in Mentone between 10:30 and 11:15 both days), the '765' will make a stop at Mentone for photos.

The engine will arrive in Argos about noon on both Saturday and Sunday, where there will be a lay-over of about two hours while the engine is serviced and readied for the return trip to Ft. Wayne. The Park and Recreation Department is planning a chicken barbecue dinner in the park for passengers on board and any other persons interested.

If you wish to be a passenger on old '765,' tickets are $29.50 for adults and $24.50 for children between the ages of 5-12. Children under 5 (not occupying a seat) ride free. Call the Three Rivers Festival Office at (219)745-5556 about the availability of tickets.

210 MAIN STREET NORTH MANCHESTER

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

Did you ever stop to realize that once a man has been married, he will remain married for the rest of his life? Not necessarily to the same woman, but he will always manage to find someone to be married to him-at any given moment.

And why not? I mean, a wife is a pretty good thing to have around. I wouldn't mind having a wife, too!

I want a wife who will take care of doctor and dental appointments for my son...and me too. My wife must make sure his and my clothes are clean and pressed, and she should serve us three nutritious, attractive meals daily. She will take care of us when we are ill, and of course will not herself succumb to illness, disease or pestilence.

I want a wife to work so I can go back to school and become economically independent. At the same time, I want my wife to take care of all my needs; she should keep my house clean, pick up after me, be a wonderful cook, buy the groceries and clean up the dishes after dinner so I can study or write. She should also thoughtfully keep my son out of my hair at night so I can relax after a hard day at school or the typewriter.

I want my wife to accompany me on vacation so she can continue to care for my son and me when I need a rest and a change of scenery.

I want a wife to take care of my social appointments. She should make all the baby-sitting arrangements when we go out. If I want to invite people home, she will cheerfully greet us with a spotless home and serve us a gourmet meal. Of course she will arrange it so my son eats early and doesn't bother the guests.

I want my wife to be sensitive to MY moods. Sometimes I need a night out with my friends. She should also know and understand my sexual needs and make sure I am satisfied. She should never make demands and should NEVER be jealous. I do not have the time to clutter up my life with petty jealousies.

When I finish my schooling, I will expect my wife to quit her job so she can stay at home and can more completely take care of a wife's duties.

My God, who WOULDN'T want a wife????????

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I came upon the scene of an accident the other night on my way home from work.

Deputy Jon Fultz soon arrived on the scene and I was very proud and in particular pleased with the way he handled those involved. He acted in a calm reassuring manner. His first concern was for the victim, but his follow up in dealing with the others involved was most courteous and kind.

The county can be well pleased with Deputy Fultz and I just wanted to express my appreciation of the excellent job he is doing.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Kruger

The Other End

by Teresa Petrosky

I don't want you to get me wrong, folks. I'm not knocking Erma Bombeck. On the contrary, I believe she's the Master in her field. But alas, the poor woman suffers one monumental setback: she's married. I mean really, how many funny stories can one woman write about the same boring husband and ungrateful children?

Oh, I realize Mrs. B. has a lot of appeal (especially among middle-aged women married to boring husbands and raising ungrateful children). She's unmatched in her ability to detail the exotic pleasures of the typical housewife, such as grabbing futilely at her last piece of good silverware as it slides down the sink's garbage disposal; chasing wildlife from the forests growing under Junior's bed; and discovering that in order to get the breath-freshening green stripes in her toothpaste (those that satisfy teen-aged daughters), she must pay 26 cents more per tube. We constantly hear her lament about 'independent' children who are forever borrowing car keys, sweaters, make-up and selected rooms of the house.

But when was the last time we heard Dear Aunt Erma crying over the dilemma of scheduling three dates on the same evening? How long has it been since every fiber of our harried homemaker's body screamed with excitement as Barry Gibb walked onto the stage at a concert? (If case you don't know, he's one of the Bee Gees, mom.)

By being an 'old married lady,' Mrs. Bombeck can't really relate to the co-ed or the young, single working girl. You see, by no means have those women bearing the title 'Mrs.' cornered the market on comical life situations. But who has ever stopped to look at 'the perils of being single'?

"At the Other End" is an unmarried woman's response to Erma Bombeck's column, "At Wit's End." It satirizes dating (mostly) and other crises that arise in the lives of those of us who, to put it in optimistic terms, are not yet tied down to the 'ho-hum' routine of married life (we have to sound like we don't want it).

The column is written from a co-ed's point of view, but I'm sure every single girl, student or not, will remember with a smile her own dating dilemmas as she reads it. Mom and Dad, too, might like to sneak a peek to find out what their college-aged youngsters are REALLY up to, and you fellas—this is the place to learn what you're doing wrong!

So, without further ado... make room Mrs. B., there's a 'semi-new' kid in town (and she's still single - darn it!).

New books at Carnegie

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

THE COURT OF SILVER SHADOWS by Beatrice Brandon. A novel of romantic suspense.

THE DAY OF THE BUTTERFLY by Norah Loftis. A wonderful novel of a woman whose beautiful spirit and faith in the future will delight Norah Loftis' legions of fans.

FAIR WIND OF LOVE by Douglas. Proud and poor, Sarah Kingsley has no choice but to leave her home in England and set out for the new world and a new life. During the trans-Atlantic voyage she becomes responsible for two children whose mother had just died aboard ship of typhoid fever. In Toronto, the sufferings of life of sea behind her, Sarah finds herself with no money, no food, little hope and two hungry mouths to feed. This is a colorful romantic tale set in Canada during the upheavals of the War of 1812.

MY SISTER'S KEEPER by Beverly Butler. The last thing on earth Mary James wanted was to be sent north to help out her older sister Clara who was expecting her fourth child. She arrived in the lumber town of Peshtigo, Wisconsin, in this drought year of 1871 to find shrieking sawmills, the air thick with smoke from fires in the surrounding forest, and Clara every bit as unreasonable and demanding as she remembered her. After a terrible forest fire Mary's life is altered forever. Survival is far more complicated than merely staying alive through one night of terror. Tomorrow would be shaped by choices only she could make.

The percentage of income tax paid by the average American family has more than doubled since 1953.

Baxter Paige hired as TVSC Superintendent

by Diana Streevey Bucher

In the final moments of Monday night's TVSC Board meeting, trustee Lee Norris moved to hire Dr. Baxter Paige, Plainfield, to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Lloyd Harrell's resignation of April 22. The board unanimously approved the motion, and it was agreed Dr. Paige will assume his duties as superintendent on July 21 this year.

Currently the assistant superintendent at Avon Community School Corporation, Dr. Paige was one of seven applicants interviewed by the board for the position of superintendent. Dr. Paige began his career in education by holding three teaching positions between 1960-69 (Cannelton City School, 60-62; North White School Corporation, 62-66; and Clinton Prairie School, 66-69), teaching social studies and coaching track, baseball and football.

Between 1969-71 he was the assistant principal at Mitchell Community School Corporation and between 1971-75 served as principal at Mitchell. Dr. Paige accepted the position of principal at Avon for one year (1975-76) while he prepared for his Ed.S. degree from Indiana State University, and in the 76-77 school year he served as business manager at Avon. Since that time, Dr. Paige has held his current position at Avon as assistant superintendent.

Dr. Paige will move to our area with his wife Judy and son Keith. They have one daughter, Kimira, who is in college. He will sign a three-year contract at TVSC with a starting salary of $37,000.

Newly elected trustee Richard Long was sworn in Monday night and took his seat among the board replacing Everett Besson who had not sought re-election. After this formality was completed the trustees elected officers for the 1980-81 school year. New officers are: Con Shewman, retaining the office as president of the board; Lee Norris, vice-president; and Don Snipes, secretary.

The board appointed Judy Hively and Elenor Hoover to continue their duties as treasurer and deputy treasurer, respectively. They also agreed President Shewman should continue as board representative to the Special Ed Co-Op.

In other business: *The board unanimously approved submitting a Title 1 application for fiscal year 81 to pay for three teachers and one aide. The aide would work at Burket, while Akron and Mentone would each receive one teacher and the third teacher would work at all three schools to help alleviate the personnel problem.

*The board accepted the written resignations of three teachers. Sarah Boggs resigned to care for her newborn infant, Jim Martin resigned as he has accepted a teaching position at Heritage Christian High School and Robby Cussen has accepted a position at Metropolitan School District of Wabash County. In his letter to the board, Cussen urged the trustees to reconsider their decision on the building project, stating it was a prime factor in his decision to accept a position at another corporation.

*The trustees approved and signed supplementary summer contracts for Bill Ruppel and Floyd Henson.

*The board signed GEDs for Ora Grace Prater and Linda Sue Lester Gillman.

*The board approved the publishing of a Notice to Bidders on used buses for six buses no longer used by the corporation.

*Valley principal Loran Skinner gave the board a crop analysis prepared by FFA sponsor Mr. Kantner on the 20 acres of corn planted by the FFA. Dan Cramer and Jack Fisher, principals at Akron and Mentone, respectively, received permission to test children who do not meet the August 1 age requirement for entering kindergarten, but whose parents feel are prepared to enter school this year. Testing will take place Monday, July 14, and will be given by Mrs. Teel, kindergarten teacher at Mentone.

*Board unanimously approved increasing insurance coverage on the Akron Junior High building. Larry Murfitt of Akron Insurance Agency appraised the building at $552,000, but it was covered for only $267,000. For an additional $600 the coverage would be raised to 80%, or approximately $440,000. The trustees instructed Con Shewman to investigate the value of contents in the Akron schools so it could also be reviewed for a possible increase.

*Bernadine Howard, president of the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teacher's Association, asked the board if a spokesman would be appointed before Dr. Paige assumes his duties so teacher contract negotiations could resume. President Shewman said they would not appoint a spokesman but would remain silent until the new superintendent was on board.

The next meeting of the board will be held July 21.

Akron 4th provided day of fun

Although the weather threatened to cool things off last Friday morning, nothing could have dampened spirits as the crowds gathered to watch the annual July 4th parade in Akron.

There were an unusually large number of entries in this year's parade, which started at Pike's Lumber Company and ended at the grade school. Ray Doering acted as announcer for the parade.

At the school grounds, the crowd was treated to helicopter rides, a circus, baseball games, an art show, various games of chance and refreshment stands offering everything from watermelon to tacos.

In early afternoon there was a garden tractor pull contest, and winners were: 8 horse power (hp) stock - Ed Sarver, 1st; Jeff Novotney, 2nd; and Jeff Horn, 3rd. 9-16 hp stock - Jerry Sarver, 1st; Ed Sarver, 2nd; and Garret Jackson, 3rd. 8 hp modified - Brian Severns, 1st; Buster Hendry, 2nd; and Ted Hendry, 3rd. 9-16 hp, modified - Kent Miller, 1st; Jeff Novotney, 2nd; and Dan Severns, 3rd.

Next came the big wheel contests and the bicycle races. Winners there were: Big Wheel - 2 year, Travis Haynes; 4 year, Evan Schipper; 5 year, Rebecca Haynes; and 6 year, Kyle Howard. Bicycle Race - 6-7-8, Kyle Howard; 9-10, Gary Wagoner; 11, Danny Wagoner; and 12, Jamie Braun.

Mentone's Rita Simpson Price acted as MC for the Akron Queen Contest. Melinda Overmyer, Akron Didi Brewer, Rochester, and Kenneth Werking, N. Manchester judged the event that crowned Michele Sriver Miss Akron. Tina Sander was first runner-up, and Keri Slaby, Stacey Cumberland and Laurie Tilden finished as second, third and fourth runners-up.

Later in the day, Peggy Sue, Sonny Wright and Swanee River and the Country Boys presented a country music concert and, of course, the traditional fireworks capped off the evening.

Undoubtedly it was a hot, tired crowd that vacated the school grounds at the end of the long day, but already people are looking forward to next year's fourth of July with anticipation.

The crowd anxiously waiting for the parade to begin in downtown Akron. Though it looked for a while like it might rain, the bad weather passed us by and we enjoyed sunshine the rest of the day. (Other photos and story on page 2)

Trash pick-up to be discontinued in Mentone

At Monday night's Mentone Town Board budget meeting, town trustees Wayne Tombaugh, Jim Miller and Frank Hardesty voted to discontinue free trash pick-up in Mentone at the end of the current town contract. Larry Smith Trucking, Rochester, holds the current contract for trash pick-up, and it will expire on December 31 this year.

For the last several years, Mentone's fire protection has been funded by federal revenue-sharing funds (an average grant to Mentone of $11,000 per year). With the loss of revenue-sharing funds, in accordance with federal efforts to balance the federal budget, the town must pay for fire protection from its general fund. Cost of the garbage pick-up contract and fire protection are roughly the same in Mentone, thus the trustees made the decision to discontinue the free trash service so they could pay for fire protection.

The trustees will check into the possibility of a contractor continuing to pick-up trash at the residents' expense. More will be reported when they have examined all possibilities.

Slated as the general fund total for calendar year 1981 is $85,277. The trustees voted to raise police salaries to a total of $30,000 (including a raise of $500 each for Marshal John Hart and deputy Russell Hart) and to raise the clerk-treasurer's salary from $1150 to $1500.

$34,490 was budgeted for personal services, while $19,700 was budgeted for contractual services. $21,262 was budgeted for current charges (including insurance, hydrant rentals and a small appropriation for Mentzer Park), while $3800 was included for group insurance and FICA payments. The motor vehicle and highway fund received $11,600 in the budget, while the cemetery fund and accumulative capital improvement fund received $5400 and $5000 respectively. Finally, $9000 was budgeted for the local road and street fund.

All in all, $116,277 was budgeted for CY 1981.

It was reported that the bridge at Mentzer Park is completed and in use.

The next meeting of the town board is set for August 4.

Country music at Akron Fourth

by Richard Lynn

Copyright © 1980 Richard Lynn, All Rights Reserved

"What I like about Akron - any time you come here you'll have a good turnout."

Deacon Wells, originally from Frenchburg, Kentucky, has been in the music business for fifty years. "A lot of people have changed," he said, "but we still play country music. Some of the stars have changed their styles, and that's good, but we feel that a lot of people enjoy the old country music a little bit better."

Earlier, a vast crowd had gathered in Akron to celebrate the Fourth of July. In the evening, they were entertained by Peggy Sue, Sonny Wright, Swannee River and the Country Boys, plus the Jay Sisters.

"We had a big crowd last year," said Deacon, "and again this evening, and we're proud of it! We're comin' back again next year."

Deacon has been with Swannee River and the Country Boys for about six years. "I had my own TV show in Wichita, Kansas, and I came back here in 1963. I played with a local band around Cincinnati. Then one day, Swannee called me. I enjoy playing for him. He's a nice guy. He pays pretty good, too."

Swannee hails from Kingsport, Tennessee. Deacon describes him as "just a big hillbilly."

Deacon estimated the crowd at the Akron school grounds to be fifteen to twenty thousand in number. Drummer Jim Mundy, who has played with the group for three months, had a more conservative estimate. He guessed there were three thousand persons in Akron to see the show.

Tex Ferguson, from Waco, Texas, was unable to appear in Akron because of illness.

Joyce Moore, one of the Jay Sisters, said she enjoys traveling around the country.

"I like the people we meet - good country people. They don't seem to expect you to do a lot of weird things. All they want is some good music, and that's what we try to give them."

Following the show in Akron, Peggy Sue and her husband Sonny Wright left for Wabash to stay overnight with her mother Clara Butcher. Peggy Sue's stepfather, Tommy Bucher, was present at the Akron celebration.

Peggy Sue and her sister Loretta Lynn were born in Butcher Hollow, Kentucky, which is about two miles from Van Lear. Later the family moved to Wabash, Indiana, the home town of little sister, Crystal Gayle.

Peggy Sue worked at General Tire in Wabash before she became a professional entertainer, so this was not her first visit to Akron.

Many filmgoers have seen the recent film, "Coalminer's Daughter," based on the life of Loretta Lynn. I asked Loretta's stepfather if Loretta is happy with the movie. "Oh, my," he smiled, "she ought to be! She's making a fortune out of it!"

Peggy Sue said the film was true to life, except for the part where Patsy Cline and Ernest Tubbs took Loretta on tour.

"The Wilburn Brothers helped Loretta when she first came to Nashville. They put her on the TV show and she traveled the road, you know, with them, but they wouldn't give consent for that to be put into the movie, so she had to have Patsy Cline and Ernest Tubbs to take their part in the story. So, that's the only part of the movie that wasn't true, but it's true right up to there."

"I'm a husband who appreciated his wife and I was pleased with last week's Jabberwocky column. My wife works part time and cares for me and three healthy children, and I'm keeping the column lest I forget how much she does."

"I object to Diana Bucher taking God's name in vain in her Jabberwocky column, when she said 'My God, who wouldn't want a wife.' I also think the column is silly and unnecessary too."

"I would like to say I really enjoyed the Jabberwocky column last week. I'm not a militant, women's-lib advocate, but I feel credit should be given where credit is due."

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

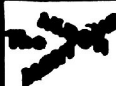

The other evening I went to bed early as I was simply exhausted. As is often the case, as soon as I hit the pillow, the proverbial lightbulb went off in my head and I couldn't sleep. For some unknown reason, it occurred to me that it would be fun to make up a word search involving local people and using clues to figure out their names.

As I laid there, I began thinking of well-known local people and possible clues to their names. The more I thought, the more I laughed, and I had to stuff sheets and blankets into my mouth to stifle the hysterics that threatened to wake up Jill. As you work on this, therefore, please remember I did it in an exhausted state of mind and with great discomfort to my person.

To get you started, I'll give you the first answer (it was an easy one anyway). The names are hidden across, backwards, up, down and diagonally. In one case, the same last name is used twice, though they belong to two different people. The A, M, S or SL indicates if they're best known in Akron, Montone, Surket or Silver Lake. The answers to the clues are on page 9, but don't peek until you're finished! Happy hunting.

Christine Rhoades

DEAR EDITOR:

I hope many local people watched the Miss Indiana contest on June 28th. I know everyone can say that it was an honor for Christine Rhoades to be among the top ten. I'm so mad, I could spit. Christine Rhoades should have been no less than first runner-up.

Christine answered the final question better than the other girls.

Christine was the best looking girl in the group.

Christine's appearance in the bathing suit was as good as Miss Anderson.

Many can do a song and dance, but it takes great efforts to play the piano as Christine played.

I voted for Christine Rhoades as Miss Indiana, not because she is from this area, but because she was really number one in my books.

The judges were out in left field when they voted. I'd like to know what they based their voting on.

Dog poisoned

EDITOR:

I have one question for a citizen or citizens around this community: "What if it had been a child that got the poison that was put down on my property instead of a german shepherd dog?"

The dog I refer to was on my property and chained. She had shots given to her by a local vet. Dog taxes were paid by me in the local trustees' office. She was fed and watered twice a day. She, of course liked to romp and play with anyone of any age, but yet someone cared enough to put poison in front of her.

The dog is now dead after she was seen by a vet who looked after her for three days to see if he could save her.

Be it known from this day forth, anyone caught on my premises to do harm to anyone or anything on my property will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. This is not the first time that this has happened, but it will be the LAST time.

Talma vs. Kewanna

DEAR EDITOR:

Responses are coming in from former Talma and Kewanna basketball players who will be coming to play in the Round Barn Festival Historical Basketball game.

However, we still need addresses for some of the players and coaches so we can invite them. If anyone knows the addresses of these people, please call the Fulton County Historical Society at 223-4436 or call me after 5 at 223-2352.

Addresses are needed for the following Talma coaches: Clarence Witham, Berlin Rowe, Larry Sparks, Bill Snyder, and Dean Day. Also needed is the address for Verna Weiger, Talma cheerleader.

Addresses needed for Kewanna folks: Coach Maurice Tolbert, Don Decker, Joseph Ray Zellers, Jerry Hilland, and Carl Foglesong.

From the letters from former players here are a few interesting quotes.

Gary Harvey, Talma '63, now of New Paris, wrote, "I was the last senior class president at Talma. In 1963 the two schools, Kewanna and Talma, took a senior class trip together. I look forward to seeing old friends."

Steve Coplen, Talma's 1957 team, now of Florence, Ky., wrote, "I would be honored to be placed on the list of those wishing to participate in the game."

Dick Carlson, Kewanna's 1962 team, graduate in '63, now of La-Fontaine, Ind., wrote that he was very interested in participating if eligible but was concerned because he also played in 1963 and thought that might make him ineligible.

Yes, Dick is eligible. By saying no substitutes after 1962 we meant to limit the players to those who are about that age and not allow young substitutes who would have an unfair age advantage. But playing on the team the next year or so would not disqualify any player if he started playing on the team by 1962.

This game between two teams that used to play in the Fulton County Tourney should prove very interesting. Talma School was destroyed by tornado in 1974 but Kewanna School is still standing strong against the winds of politics and controversy and those who would close it, now being the smallest high school in Indiana.

Who will win? Come to the Round Barn Festival's historical basketball game July 13 in the Whitmer gym, now the Fulton County Family Y, and see for yourself. Game time is 7 p.m. Admission is $1.

The NEWS Asks:

"Ronald Reagan announced that he and Republican leaders in Congress would fight for a $36 billion tax cut to take effect on January 1, 1981. This represents a 10% reduction on individual tax returns, or an average of $227 per family in America. In light of President Carter's attempt to balance the federal budget, do you think a tax cut is appropriate right now?"

Rosemary Bazini, Montone

"That's a difficult question to answer, and I imagine this is more or less a vote-getting scheme. It's a campaign promise, and whether he can actually do it or not if he's elected is another matter. It's a promise taxpayers want to hear, but we have to weigh things ourselves to decide if it's a vote-getter or something that would really happen."

Wayne Tombaugh, Montone

"I can see the reason it would be popular to cut taxes, but Carter doesn't think he can afford it. I think Reagan thinks that will be just that much off his shoulders if it passes."

Diana

John Loe, Akron "I can sit back at look at both sides. The common, working person needs a tax cut. The middle class people are footing all the bills of this country and are the ones hurt most. But with the President trying to balance the budget, a tax cut would be difficult. I don't think he'll achieve a balanced budget in his time, so in the long run the tax cut would be best."

David Cooper, Montone "I don't know. I'd like to see them balance the budget once, but I'd like to get the money too."

The Other End

by Teresa Petrosky

IN MY FATHER'S HOUSE AGAIN

I'm sure you are all familiar with the ever-popular fifth commandment: "Honor thy father and thy mother." The collegiate interpretation, however, reads more like this: "Honor thy father and thy mother and their pocket-book ... and their car ... and their nerves, blood pressure, etc" In other words, while I am gracing their home with my presence this summer, I must succumb to the tyrannous rule of "The Parents."

Oh, perhaps I'm being a little melodramatic. Living with Mom and Dad again isn't that bad. There are, of course, some things that will drive me temporarily crazy until I readjust. After all, I've spent the past eight months at school, doing such scandalous parental no-nos as leaving dirty jeans draped across a chair until they walked to the washer themselves; neglecting to sweep my floor for so long that I could give my down jacket a complete trans-fusion of lint balls; and basically displaying my supposed sophomore superiority at every possible opportunity.

It's taken almost a month of living at home, but I think I've finally reached the point at which I no longer consider "Good Morning" an invasion of my privacy!

Thanks to my "incredible" capacity for patience (sarcasm intended), I've been able to ignore quietly the more petty requests of my folks. Included here are such things as "Hang up your clothes," "Turn out the light," and various other trivialities that I would do anyway - - - eventually (like after the electric bill arrives!).

There are certain things, however, that are just too annoying to tolerate. Here lies that profane pair of questions, "where are you going?/When will you be home?" (they always come attached to one another). This dynamic duo has sent home-from-college students into spastic convulsions on many occasions. The key to solving the problems here is learning to make your exit while both parents are occupied. Good times to depart include: Mom in the bathtub, Dad taking a nap; Mom in the garden, Dad in the garage; or Mom and Dad both behind a closed bedroom door (don't wait for this one, - at their ages, it may occur very rarely!).

You must remember, though, that even if you perfect the art of sneaking out, you aren't in the clear yet. Mothers, especially, have this nasty habit: they wait up for you. Consequently, if you aren't caught with "Where are you going?" as you leave, you'll be slapped with "where have you been?" as soon as you step in the door. In this unfortunate situation, there are two things you can do: 1) You can drop to the floor and fall asleep immediately, or 2) You can describe the fire, the train accident, the mugging, and the earthquake, and tell her to be thankful that you made it home at all.

"But there must be an easier way to avoid the unpleasanties associated with coming in late," you say. In my experience, I've found that if I come home extremely late, Mother will have gone to bed in hopes that I've eloped. The chances that she'll get up at 3:00 a.m. just to lecture me are slim, and by the time I roll out of bed around noon, she will have forgotten the entire situation.

It seems, then, that coming in at the most ungodly hour you possibly can will prove to be a very effective means of evading the issue. This maneuver, let me warn you, must be well-timed. Coming in just as Dad is sitting down to breakfast is NOT wise!

Oh, I imagine I'll complain about many things this summer while I'm living in my father's house. I'll use "I'm a big girl now," "I can think for myself," and other rebellious, young-adult statements of independence quite frequently. I must admit, though, it is rather nice having someone worry about me again - - - but for heaven's sake, DON'T let that get back to my parents!!!

Historical Society receives grant

The Fulton County Historical Society's exhibits at the Round Barn Festival received a shot in the arm from the Indiana Arts Commission in the form of a $400 grant this year. The grant is to pay pioneer craftsmen to demonstrate at the Pioneer Woman's Log Cabin Museum July 10-13 and also at the Trail of Courage Rendezvous September 20-21.

The pioneer craftsmen and their RFB schedules are as follows: Ike Lundberg of Lafayette - coopering (barrel making) Thursday, Friday, Saturday. Bonnie Fry of Logansport - spinning wheel and vegetable dyeing in tri-pod kettle over wood fire all four days. Polly Haaf of Logansport - tapestry weaving Saturday and Sunday.

Other crafts demonstrated at the log cabin will include Martha Wagoner of Talma, rug weaving; and Roy Frettinger of Rochester, wood carving. The Menominee Muzzle Loaders of Marshall County will set up a primitive camp Friday evening through Sunday.

Candle dipping will be demonstrated by Dawna and Vicki Justice of Akron. Visitors will be able to dip their own candles for a small fee. Children under 12 can dip one pair of candles free as long as the supply of beeswax lasts.

The Yellow Hair Trading Post will exhibit Indian beadwork and model pioneer costumes in a lean-to. FCHS members can purchase at cost patterns, easy-to-assemble kits, or ready-to-wear pioneer costumes for use at the Trail of Courage Rendezvous.

The historical society will be using their own food tent for the first time this year, having purchased a used tent from Army Surplus. The usual menu of buffalo burgers, ham and beans, cornbread and jelly, with cold pop and milk will again be offered.

Beside the food tent will be Nettie's Nick Nack Nook, contemporary crafts by Nettie Fisher of Talma.

The Rochester Depot museum, food tent and log cabin, all in Lakeview Park, will be open 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily except for closing Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

The Civic Center museum will have two special programs, both on Thursday. From 11 to noon, a player piano concert will be given by David "Red" Talbot and REACT. At 3 p.m., a slide program on "Historic Fort Wayne" will be shown by Doris Grandos, folk craft coordinator at Historic Fort Wayne and a member of the Haimbaugh round barn family.

The Civic Center museum, 7th and Pontiac, will be open Thursday and Friday from 9 to 5 and on Saturday and Sunday from 12-4. Guided tours will be given by volunteer hostesses.

A special exhibit on the Cole Brothers Circus which wintered in Rochester 1935-40 is on display from Greg Steffe of Warsaw, member of Circus Model Builders of America. This is in the Civic Center museum's north room.

The Leiters Ford Depot will be hosted by Stephanie Hinderlinder and Judy Stevens of Kewanna. It will be open Thursday and Friday 9 to 5 and Saturday and Sunday 1 to 5. This museum features railroad memorabilia and the history of Aubbeenaubee Township.

things
to know (and teach your kids)
about power lines

The most important thing to know and remember is to stay away from power lines.

If your children fly kites, be sure they fly them in open areas away from overhead power lines. And remind them to never try to retrieve a kite from a power line, pole or tree.

If you're installing a new TV or CB antenna, be sure it is at least twice its length from the nearest power line. If not, call us. Clearance is the key to safety. Look in all directions, including overhead, before you begin. And don't try to do the job on a windy day. If the antenna should fall on a power line, don't touch it! Call us immediately.

If you're trimming trees near power lines, don't! We urge you to call us first before you begin. And be careful when you're working with long metal objects such as tree-trimming shears, ladders, pipes, gutters or metal poles—they're all conductors of electricity.

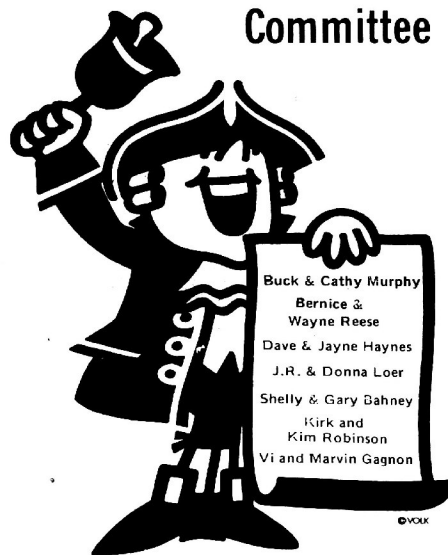

Caution the kids about climbing trees near power lines. It's important they they look for power lines before climbing and that they never touch a line under any circumstances.

We hope you'll play it safe this summer by following these simple safety rules. If you have questions, call us. Our business is to provide electricity. But our purpose is to help people.

New basketball coach at Valley

Roland Fletcher signs letter of intent

by D. S. Bucher

On Wednesday, July 9, Roland Fletcher, currently head basketball coach at Manchester College, signed a letter of intent at Tippecanoe Valley High School with Dr. Baxter Paige, new superintendent at the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. Fletcher comes to the corporation on a two-year contract to work as head basketball coach and freshman science teacher.

Fletcher brings plenty of coaching experience and winning records behind him in accepting the position at Valley. A 1963 graduate of Grace College, Warsaw, he obtained his masters degree from Ball State in 1966. Between 1963-68, Fletcher taught at the Warsaw Community School Corporation, two years at the elementary level and three years at the high school, where he was the assistant coach in both track and football.

Fletcher resigned from Warsaw in 1968 to work for the FBI, as his brothers and sister worked for the bureau, and he was ready to start the training needed when the Seven-day War broke out in Israel. His school was called off and he found himself without a job, so he accepted the position of assistant coach at Grace College. He remained there until 1972, when he moved to Greenville College, Illinois, as basketball coach, and since 1976 he has been with Manchester College.

One of the teachers in the Valley corporation contacted Fletcher about four weeks ago and told him the position was open, so he contacted the athletic director, Robert DuBois. Upon learning they needed a history teacher, Fletcher assumed he would not be needed. But on July 3, Loran Skinner called and asked if he would be interested in teaching science (which was his minor in college), and he met the school board on July 7.

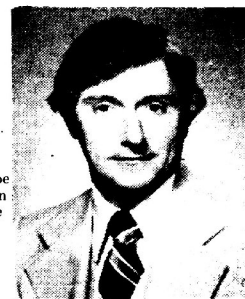

When asked why he decided to come back to high school coaching after collegiate coaching, Fletcher replied, "I started in high school and would have remained there if I hadn't been accepted for FBI training. I took the job at Grace College for lack of anything else to do...

"The main things that drew me back to high school coaching are the excitement generated by the crowds and the challenge of coaching high school athletes. I won't have to worry about recruiting players here, which can be difficult.

"I wouldn't have gone to just any high school, though. Tippecanoe Valley has a strong athletic tradition and a strong following. I want to be part of that tradition."

Fletcher and his wife Susan, who is a secretary at Manchester College, are living in Manchester and are expecting their first child in late August. They plan on moving into the school district late this year or early next.

First Valley class reunion planned

The 1975 graduating class of Tippecanoe Valley High School will be holding their fifth year reunion Saturday, August 9, 1980.

The Elks lodge at 910 East Center St. (across from the Public Library) in downtown Warsaw has been selected as the site for a dinner to be held at 7:00 p.m. Happy Hour will be from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. A cash bar will be available throughout the evening.

Graduates are asked to send checks for the amount of $6.25 per person to Doug Roberts, R. 5 Box 215, Warsaw, IN 46580. Reservations should be sent in no later than July 25.

Louise Mandrell

Louise Mandrell and R.C. Bannon to appear at Fulton 4-H Fair

One of the highlights of this year's Fulton County 4-H Fair, which starts this Sunday, July 20 and runs through Saturday, July 26, will be the performance of Louise Mandrell, sister of well-known country-western singer Barbara Mandrell. She started performing when she was 15, playing bass and violin (fiddle) for her sister, doing fairs, stage shows, military installations and clubs. Miss Mandrell worked for Stu Phillips on his syndicated television show after leaving her sister's group, and finally worked with Merle Haggard as a featured singer and backup vocalist. Now she has her own show and makes personal appearances throughout the U.S. and she records for Epic Records.

Appearing with Miss Mandrell will be R. C. Bannon, Columbia recording star and recent winner of the Most Promising Male Vocalist Award for 1980 by the West Coast Academy of Country Music. Bannon has been singing since the age of four for his father's church choir in Dallas, Texas. He worked in small bands, as a regular singer on a local television show, in night clubs, as a disc jockey and as the opening act for Marty Robbins before he ventured to Nashville. Once there, he worked for Warner Brothers before landing a contract with Columbia Records.

Mandrell and Bannon will perform two shows (one at 7:00 p.m. and the second at 9:00 p.m.) on Wednesday, July 23, at the fairgrounds in Rochester.

The week will hold attractions for everyone, with 4-H projects displayed in the Community Building and animal judging taking place most of the week.

The Queen Contest will be held Monday evening, the 21st, at 8:00 p.m., while an exhibition square dance and the Brandy Creek Band will provide Tuesday evening's entertainment.

On Thursday from 1:30 to 10:00 p.m., the Tractor Pull will provide heated competition as the contestants vie for the $3000 purse, and a Pick-up Pull will be featured at 6:00 p.m. for the first time. Miniature Harness Racing will be at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. Friday, with about 80 horses expected, and the popular Demolition Derby will again be held Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

The midway, as usual, will be a major attraction for the fair, and can be visited for all ages to enjoy.

Hearing to be held at town office

Ernest Smith announced there will be a proposed use hearing for general revenue sharing purposes on July 28, 1980 for all interested citizens of the town of Akron. The amount of general revenue sharing funds to be discussed for this fiscal year will be approximately $6,000.00.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the town office for the purpose of discussing possible uses of general revenue sharing. All interested citizens will have the opportunity to give written and oral comment on uses of the fund. Senior citizens are encouraged to attend and comment.

Meet the new owner of... the Tic Toc Trophy Shop

by D. S. Bucher

For years everyone in the Akron area knew if they needed a trophy or plaque, they could run down to Loyd Saner's Tic Toc Trophy Shop and Loyd would fix them up. On May 5, this year, Chad Hartzler took over the shop, however, and he is determined to uphold the traditions started by the Saner family.

Chad worked for Loyd for nine years before he bought the shop, so he isn't new to the business and it's many challenges. Besides himself, Chad employs four full-time workers to meet the demands of the business Saner started over twenty-five years ago.

At the present time, Chad is busy preparing trophies for five 4-H fairs in the area, and he explained that during the winter they are kept busy mainly preparing trophies for baton twirling contests.

The Tic Toc Shop handles most of the twirling contests in Indiana and Michigan, and from January thru May they attend contests almost weekly. They also supply all trophies and plaques for five national hog breeders, and in the spring they receive a lot of orders for area high schools and colleges.

One reason the trophies from the Tic Toc Shop are so much in demand is because they give their customers almost anything they may want. Most of their pieces are made right at the shop, instead of their buying trophies from another outlet and passing them on at a greater cost. Chad buys and cuts his own bases, inserts, metals and brass plates, they drill their own marble for most of the trophies, they do all the engraving and they can even paint figures and bases if the customer so desires. Chad still uses genuine marble and walnut bases for his trophies, and he has no intentions of ever using plastics. He explained they cost a little more for using top quality materials, but the finished products are worth much more and will last for a longer time.

Tic Toc Shop trophies and plaques have been shipped to every state in the U.S., and they even have a yearly shipment to an American living in Saudi Arabia. Chad keeps a file for special orders (plaques, medals and charms) for companies and organizations that sometimes have special awards, and occasionally he supplies other companies with trophy parts.

So if you ever have the need for a trophy, plaque or engraving, go down to see Chad. The Tic Toc Trophy Shop will still fix you up with whatever you need.

'Warwyck's Choice' at Carnegie library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

BEYOND THE SHINING MOUNTAINS by Doris Shannon. This is an epic of survival in the majestic Pacific Northwest; a spellbinding story of the forces that move mountains and men.

WHERE FLOWS THE GANGES by Juanita Owen. This is the true story of John Whipple who chose to let that light shine in a land of darkness, foregoing the comforts of home in New England for a mud-walled abode near the Ganges in the heart of rural India. Neither the scorching sun nor the weariness of flesh nor the pressure of other duties could abate his passion for spreading the gospel. His story will spur you on to a greater commitment to Christ and His cause.

LIVING WITH CANCER by Mary Beth Moser. This is the testimony of a woman with cancer who today is helping other cancer patients face life. It is a manual designed to be reassuring to both the cancer patient and his family. This information will serve to alleviate some of the fear of cancer.

THE LIFE I REALLY LIVED by Jessamyn West. This novel carries the unmistakable hallmark of Jessamyn West. It is aglow with radiant descriptions and startling perceptions of place, character and ideas. It moves with ease between the comic and tragic, illuminating not merely their interplay, but even their kinship. It pulses with cogent, sometimes explosive, often tender and haunting action. Miss West presents her most fascinating, original, touching and powerful novel.

THE OLD JEST by Jennifer Johnston. This is a beautifully crafted novel about a young woman's search for the truth about her life, her war-torn country and her parentage.

WARWYCK'S CHOICE by Rosalind Laker. The animosity and rivalry between Warwycks and Radcliffes was as legendary as their wealth was immense. But when Nicolette Radcliffe discovered Tom Warwyck hiding in the conservatory of her home, the event kindled a love that would rock the stately mansions and proud pavilions of Easthampton. This is a brilliant and romantic tale of the loves and struggles of two powerful families set against the backdrop of late Victorian England.

Bayh calls tax cut 'rip off'

Calling it a "rip off of the middle class," Senator Birch Bayh (D-Ind.) today voted against a Republican attempt to add a 10 percent tax cut to a bill pending on the Senate floor. At the same time, Bayh endorsed emergency hearings announced by the Senate Finance Committee, noting that a "more balanced and workable tax cut" has been promised by the Committee by September 1st.

"I believe that we need to cut the tax burden on the American people as a way of stimulating our economy and putting workers back on the job," Bayh said. "But this shabby and blatantly political attempt by the minority party to slip in a 'quick fix' solution to a complex problem is a rip off of the middle income Americans."

Bayh pointed out that under the proposal offered by the Republicans, a family of four with $100,000 of income would get 106 times as much tax relief as a family of four with $10,000 of income; and 17½ times as much as a $20,000 income family.

"A family of four with $10,000 of income would get a total tax reduction of only $37.40, which amounts to 4/10 of one percent, under the Republican proposal," Bayh noted. He added that if the tax reduction were distributed equally on a per capita basis, the same family would receive about $570.

"There seems to be no question that a tax cut of some sort is needed," Bayh said. "But it ought to be a responsible tax cut directed at middle income and low income Americans, not one that is politically contrived that hasn't had a day's worth of hearings to find out who would be helped and who would be harmed."

"Time after time, we see the benefits of tax reductions going to those who need it the least," Bayh asserted. "That is exactly what the Republicans were attempting to do with this plan, and I think it's just plain irresponsible and unfair to the millions of middle and lower income Americans who are struggling to make ends meet."

Bayh said that incentives are needed to encourage investment and increased productivity, particularly in the automotive and steel industries.

At the August meeting twin sisters will be the clubs guests.

Kaleen Kehoe read the secretary's minutes and Mary Price gave the treasurer's report. It was reported that cards had been sent to Beth Bowen.

Anne reminded the group to keep a list of all the hours spent on the election as this information will be used later. There is also a possibility of a tea at the Governor's residence later. Fulton Fun Days were on Saturday, June 21, with a parade. Liberty Township was in charge.

Kathryn Hartzler reported on Mary Price's chance of becoming a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Detroit. She also informed the group of a need to make a new voter list of Republicans and Independents. This will be used both for the candidates and for contributions. Each precinct will be canvassed.

Norma Smith reported on the Round Barn Festival, which will be held July 10-12. The Republicans will once again have a country store and will give away the Republican quilt. A motion was made by Ruth Skidmore and seconded by Orpha Herendeen that the group sell chances on the quilt at the festival and have the Country Store on Friday and Saturday. The motion passed.

Anne stated that the Indiana Republican Convention was June 12th and 13th. Fulton County was represented by thirteen delegates at the Convention Center in Indianapolis. In addition, Indiana will be represented by fifty-four delegates to the Republican National Convention in July in Detroit.

The Roast for Dr. Otis Bowen was Thursday, June 26th at the Indiana Convention Center. Jerry Ford, candidates, office holders and other Republicans were in attendance.

Kaleen Kehoe stated that there are still program books, if you still need one. In addition, the Fulton County Republican Women's Club will be represented in the upcoming parades with both individuals and signs. The Fulton County 4-H Fair will be July 20-26 while the Akron Festival Parade is July 4th.

It was decided to contribute $10.00 to the Fulton County Historical Society for microfilming the old newspapers of Fulton County.

Miami County and Fulton County Republican Women's Clubs will meet on Wednesday, August 20th. Nancy Oldham, the Fifth District Chairman of the Republican Women's Club, will be the speaker.

The next meeting will be Sunday, July 27th, with a family picnic at Phyllis Whitmore's home on Nyona Lake. Liberty Township will be the hostess.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

Well, the Republican Convention is taking place this week in Detroit, and I have to admit I sometimes wonder why they are even bothering with the formality. Ronald Reagan is their presidential candidate, but of course they must officially decide on their platform and on his running mate. It will be another splashy show with an emphasis on conservatism and unity, and we will all be suitably impressed. Or will we?

I sincerely hope that the behavior of this year's Republican delegates won't be a repeat of the 1976 convention. I will never forget my personal mortification in '76 when I saw Nelson Rockefeller (then the Vice-President of the U.S.) standing on a chair, waving a disconnected telephone in the air and leading the New York delegation in a rousing chant of "We want a phone" for international television. It was not one of the more dignified moments of a national party convention.

I really do hope that the delegates of BOTH parties (childishness is not confined to one party) remember why they are at the conventions this year and curb their spirit-ed playfulness until their Christmas office parties. After all, it's embarrassing to see grown-up boys and girls doing business that should be done by men and women.

I've had several people ask me how I come up with questions for the weekly NEWS Poll that is one of the features of the NEWS, and I don't mind revealing that sometimes it's as hard as pulling teeth! So please, if any of you want to take pity on an overworked mother (the mother ploy is great for sympathy) and have any ideas for future questions, write, call or send a message in a bottle. If you want, we'll keep your identity a secret, or we'll use a 'courtesy of' by-line. Any and all suggestions will be gratefully considered!

Manchester, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with an open house on Sunday, July 20, from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. in the Indiana Lawrence Bank community building in N. Manchester. Nieces Janet Manns of Arlington, Texas, and Wanda Flohr, Akron, will host the event.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the July 15, 1953 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Timmie Utter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Utter, won first place in his division at the Chevrolet Motor Company soap box derby held at Warsaw. His winning makes him eligible to compete at the National Races to be held at Akron, Ohio.

The Tucker Dairy sponsored Timmie, so if you may happen to get poor milk delivery - or even sour milk - about National Derby Day, just remember Rex and Timmie will be busy trying to win national honors. Larry Hatfield, another Mentone entry, was eliminated in the semi-finals in his division.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weirick and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemier left Sunday morning for Eagle River, Wisconsin where they took Leah Nell Lemier for a week's trip to girls camp. They returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Meredith and daughters, spent Sunday with Mrs. Rhoda Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Sprague, of Royal, Michigan, are spending several days with Dr. and Mrs. Orville McFadden and baby.

Dr. G. L. Sands, who has maintained a medical practice at Bourbon, has opened his Mentone office and will be in Mentone every morning except Wednesday. He is located in the Whetstone building formerly occupied by the Whetstone Tailor Shop.

Mailbag

DEAR SIR:

I have been watching, with extreme interest, the area news bulletins which depict the high rate of unemployment and short work weeks in many areas of our state. To keep the story in perspective, we should report to you what one of the better sawmills in the country is up to.

Cross-country, hardwood usage is down about 25%, with many operators either cut back, shut down, and some permanently out of business. Hardwood prices have fallen sharply on the market and operating at a profit is most difficult.

Down here in the southeast corner of Akron where we operate one of the largest hardwood centers in the Middle West, we are continuing to work a full 50 hour week, have added a couple of people during the last month, recently purchased 900 acres of prime timberland in lower Michigan, and are continuing to grow and expand.

As one of the old sawmill philosophers told me one time, "Any damn fool can shut down, but you've got to be pretty tough to keep runnin' when times is tough."

I am certainly proud of the men and women of Pike Lumber Company for making this all possible.

Sincerely yours,
PIKE LUMBER
CO., INC.

The NEWS Asks:

"The Republican Convention begins Monday, the 14th, in Detroit. By law, few of the delegates can switch their votes to another candidate, making this year's presidential nominees a foregone conclusion. Do you think the delegate system needs to be overhauled?"

Grace Rader, Akron: "I haven't given this a lot of thought. When you have a law, you abide by it."

"However, I think your primaries give the people a chance to speak out on which candidate they want. Since Governor Reagan got that support from the states, it's right they (the delegates) hold by it."

"Ordinarily they say the majority rules, and I think they have spoken. Once a law is made, I assume it's what the majority wants and I think the rest should respect it."

Sarah Boggs, Akron: "No, I don't. If I understand it correctly, they are committed on the first ballot. I think they should vote for the candidate they were elected to support on the first ballot, then if it's deadlocked they should be able to vote for whomever they like."

Ben Surface, Mentone: "I think we should be able to vote for whomever we want, but a long time ago they decided we weren't smart enough to choose for ourselves! I don't think it's right."

Diana

Jerry Seestr, Mentone: "You know something? I hate politics! I think they should be allowed to vote for the man they choose."

Judy Peterson, Mentone: "Yes, I think it should be changed. I'm not happy with the candidates (this year). It should be changed so there is a choice right up to the end."

Clarence Mark attends Conference

Clarence Mark of the Akron Church of the Brethren was one of 1,050 voting delegates to the Church of the Brethren Annual Conference. The conference, the highest legislative authority of the denomination, met June 24-29 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

In a hotly-debated item, the conference adopted a paper recognizing the "illegal actions of the United States in establishing the reign of the deposed Shah." While calling on the U. S. government to "offer a public apology to the Iranian people for its complicity in the Shah's repressive regime," the delegates also called for the release of the American hostages by the Iranians, calling their captivity "illegal."

Responding to the return to registration, the conference reaffirmed the pacifist denomination's support for conscientious objection to military service and pledged support to persons who refuse to cooperate with registration for reasons of conscience.

The conference business dealt more with the Christian response to the world political situation.

Homemakers enjoy picnic

The Mentone Extension Homemakers met at noon on July 10th for the annual picnic. Fourteen members and one guest were present to enjoy the dinner.

Betty Smith gave a 4-H demonstration on "All Tied Up" as her public speaking entry. Viola Funnell gave several hints on things to do and not to do during the hot weather for Health & Safety. Genevieve Warren spoke of Kosciusko County and the Indian lore connected with many lakes, especially Lake Wawasee and Papakeechee. Eula Smith also told of the Indian trails that were in our area. President Pearl Horn conducted a short business meeting.

The club will next meet on August 14 at Gertrude Hill's home.

however. In adopting a paper on Christian lifestyle, the delegates affirmed "open non-evasive withholding of war taxes" as a legitimate witness to the conscientious intention to follow the call of discipleship to Jesus Christ. That paper also addressed stewardship of personal material and financial resources, and natural resources.

Another controversial topic, discussed this year but not to be acted upon until next year, is decreasing membership in the Church of the Brethren. The denomination has dropped from a record of 200,000 members to about 175,000 during the past 20 years.

Business was only one part of the conference for the approximately 6,500 persons in attendance. Nightly worship, morning Bible study, exhibits, fellowship events and workshops on topics ranging from spiritual renewal to nuclear power were also featured.

The Other End

by Teresa Petrosky

I don't know where it's hidden, but if I ever find Purdue's campus clock, I'm going to drive a truck through it! Every evening at 7:00, Big Ben not only sang out the time for us, but also blessed our ears with a rousing rendition (all chimed, of course) of "The Marine Hymn" or some other chart-topping favorite. Many students did not particularly appreciate this experience of musical culture - myself included. It was especially nauseating, however, on Saturdays. You see, at 7:00 on Saturday night, I finally had to admit that my chances were gone. If Prince Charming hadn't called by THEN, he apparently wasn't going to ask me out for the weekend.

Boredom set in quickly.

Now, I honestly don't see how I could have become bored last year, because I lived in a "suite." Sounds fancy, huh? - Wrong! A suite is a cheap dorm's way of cramming ten people into a space that it normally tries to pass off as comfortable for eight, but which, in reality, can safely accommodate only six. (If you understood all of that, you've earned a Bachelor's Degree in Purdue Logic).

What it boils down to is this: ten girls shared four rooms. We were all sophomores, ranging from big city, street-wise, know-all, see-all and do-all Jenna to sweet, innocent, naive, small-town me; from dizzy, spacey, never-touch-a-book Candi to studious, conscientious, hard-working, live-in-the-library Rubi, and encompassing everything in-between. How could I possibly get bored? Well....

I recall one Saturday evening in particular. I had been staring at the same page of Statistics for 20 minutes when the symphonic strains of "Auld Lang Syne" (bell version) stirred me from my trance. I looked around the 12 x 12 cubicle that I called "home." Both of my roomies were gone for the weekend, four other suites were studying in the lounge, Jenna was taking a shower and Candi had walked to the drug store. Dee, the only "married" woman in our group, was out with her boyfriend (the thought totally depressed me). I was unmistakably and undeniably bored!

The phone had been silent all day, and I was convinced it was broken. After putting it to my ear and hearing a healthy dial tone, I changed my excuse to "They've all lost my number." (Incidentally, while I had the receiver in my hand, I called the weatherline so I could hear another voice!).

My next brilliant boredom - breaking idea was to go to the bathroom and steal Jenna's robe and towel while she was in the shower. It had been very amusing once before to see my soggy suitemate running down the hall wrapped in a shower curtain, and screaming obscenities all the way. It was not quite so funny, however, to find my underwear drawer filled with shaving cream the next morning. The thought of "Old Spice" scented panties didn't appeal to me this particular evening, so I canned that idea.

I thought of visiting Baskin-Robbins "31 ways-to-increase-your-waistline," but since my hips were filling my pockets to the point that I couldn't fit any money in them, I changed my mind.

I felt totally defeated. I played with my calculator for awhile, punching in digits that, when turned upside-down, spelled dirty words. You KNOW you're really bored when THAT entertains you! I was ready to give up my quest for excitement and go back to Stats when I heard the welcome sounds of "Paradise by the Dashboard Light" blaring through the wall. Candi was home!

"Ah-ha," I said as I slipped into her room. "There is intelligent life in this suite."

"Where?" she asked, looking over her shoulder.

Perhaps "intelligent" was an exaggeration, but at least there was life.

Jenna had returned from the bathroom by this time, and in desperation, I asked her to get out her guitar. The next two hours were filled with futile attempts at three-part harmony. We brutally assassinated the works of Dan Fogelberg, Jim Croce, Billy Joel, even our John Denver imitations sounded bad. As we were finishing my theme song, "Only the Good Die Young," Dee crept into the room and sank dejectedly into her chair.

"9:47," I read the clock. "My, we're staying out late these days."

The look she gave me could have stopped a train. "He wants to 'date around,'" she said, sarcastically emphasizing the last two words.

Now ladies, don't let the terminology fool you. When your guy tells you he wants to "date around" he really means that the cute, little blonde he's had an eye on all semester is finally available. They'll be an "item" in less than a month.

"Hey Dee Dee, how would you like to co-author my next book?" I asked. "I'm going to call it 'It's a Male, It's a Jerk.'"

No response.

Candi, Jenna, and I shrugged helplessly. I could hear boredom's footstep getting louder and louder in the hallway.

"We can't have this," I broke the uneasy silence. "Did I ever tell you about the last romantic crumble I went out with? This poor fella knew nothing about dating. I mean, he was socially inept...."

Another icy stare cut me off. "Have you ever lost a boyfriend?" Dee asked in a much-too-serious tone.

"Oh sure," I answered flippantly, "lots of times. I lost him at the amusement park, at football games, even at the supermarket. But he always turned up. Last time I found him in the 'Canned Fruit' section."

"Good place for him," Candi mumbled.

"Go ahead and laugh," Dee said soberly. "You don't know how it feels."

"Oh, but I do," I corrected her. "That's precisely why I can laugh."

She looked at me with a puzzled expression as we both tried to comprehend the profundity (or perhaps the profound ignorance) of what I'd just said. I evaded the issue by picking up the latest "Cosmo" magazine.

"Well," Jenna concluded, "it looks like we're back to 'Celebrate Suite 690' - assorted nuns and spinsters spanning various levels of purity." She reached down and flipped on the T.V.

"And now, live, from New York - it's 'Saturday Night!'"

"We know," our lonely little group sighed. "BOY, do we know!"

Indiana State Fair gears up

It's summertime in Indiana, and the advent of the State Fair is less than fifty days away.

Within that short period of time, the fairgrounds will undergo a series of renovations . . . in short, a facelift, in order to prepare for the 129th Indiana State Fair, August 14 through August 24.

According to Kenneth W. Harris, Indiana State Fair Board president, "We've consistently had record attendance except in 1979 due to inclement conditions. 1980 is sure to be another banner year . . . we are shooting for a million and a half." The Indiana State Fair is currently the 5th largest in North America and the largest 11-day fair in the world.

In anticipation of the throngs of visitors, the swift and convenient shuttle buses are being tuned-up for the continuous circuits they'll be making around the 235 acre fairgrounds. Each year these blessings to tired legs travel 6,750 miles during the 11-day event.

A completely new electrical system is being installed in Lincoln Theatre to accommodate the heavier loads of television coverage required of the 40 hours of broadcast . . . many on a state-wide network.

Paint brushes and hammers play a daytime tune as extra coats of paint and shingles are affixed to buildings around the fairgrounds. Soon to acquire a new look is the Universities Building, which will shed its current facade for a white-metal canopy entrance.

The Pioneer Farm Museum, which houses the largest and finest display of antique farm machinery in the United States dating back to the 1800's, will become even more spacious by Fair time when it acquires a 5400 square foot building nearby.

Gardeners are at work, dotting the fairgrounds with greenery and blossoms to create a well-manicured appearance, and ground crews are handling the numerous tasks that crop up as opening day approaches.

These are just outward signs of the activity taking place in preparation for this year's Indiana State Fair . . . the biggest summer event of its kind . . . the largest 11-day extravaganza in the world.

How to drive smarter and save gas

By Brad Byers
U.S. Department of Energy

The family automobile is about to become a first line of defense in the battle against oil imports.

About one-third of all the petroleum used in the U.S. is burned as gasoline in passenger cars. Nearly half of it is imported oil, at a cost to the nation of $1.0 million an hour or $90 billion a year.

President Carter has said: "The high level of consumption of gasoline is the most important cause of our dependence on foreign oil. Our consumption of gasoline can be reduced with less serious consequences to our economy than if similar action were taken with respect to other petroleum products, such as home heating oil."

The President set a goal of reducing gasoline consumption by 400,000 barrels a day, or 16,800,000 gallons a day by the end of 1980. He asked civic organizations, trade associations, unions, local governments, and employers to take the lead in encouraging people to drive less and to drive smarter—that is, to get more miles to the gallon.

Some of the ways to drive smarter are obvious—like observing the 55 miles-per-hour speed limit. Most cars use 20 percent less gas at 55 than at 70. That's like saving 25 cents a gallon on the gas you buy.

Other gas-savers may surprise some drivers. For example, each two pounds of pressure that you add to your non-radial tires (up to the maximum stated on the tire) will increase gas mileage about one percent. And removing 100 pounds of excess weight can add as much as four-tenths of a mile per gallon.

The average car in the U.S. gets 14 to 15 miles per gallon, based on a mix of city and highway driving. And it travels about 11,000 miles a year.

This means it uses about 800 gallons of gasoline, at a cost of nearly $1,000 ($1.20 per gallon, and rising all the time).

That cost suggests a big opportunity for the smart driver who wants to save money.

There are two good ways to save gasoline. Both are easy, with a little planning and record-keeping.

One: Calculate how many miles you drove in the past 12 months. Set a goal of reducing that mileage, say by 20 percent. If you cannot estimate how many miles you drove, set your goal at some point below the 11,000 mile national average, and try to improve on it each month.

Two: Set a goal of increasing your miles-per-gallon every three months, and promise yourself a dinner out or another reward every time you meet your mpg goal.

A 10 percent improvement should be attainable the first three months. This would be one-and-a-half miles per gallon if you now average 15. Five percent more, about seven-tenths of a mile per gallon, is reasonable for the next three months, because the first improvements are the easiest.

To monitor your miles-per-gallon, you must keep a record of the exact mileage and gallons each time you add gas. Then do your figuring over three fill-ups to allow for variations in driving patterns and different levels of "full." One tankful will not give an accurate measurement.

Use the first month's average as your baseline, and try to improve it.

In the next article we'll suggest ways to reduce the miles that you drive. Later articles will explain how you can improve your miles-per-gallon rating. In the meantime, you should start your record-keeping.

The Crusade for Justice

Terre Haute City Judge James A. Lewis and State Representative Darrell E. Felling (D-TH) announced today at a joint news conference their concern regarding the lack of available jail and penal facilities to house criminals in Indiana. The Judge in Terre Haute since taking office in January, 1980, has incarcerated a significant number of law violators in the Terre Haute area. Both Lewis and Felling have, for the past several weeks, been attending meetings regarding the need for additional jail capacity in Vigo County. Both agree the current jail being constructed needs to be expanded with an apparent additional floor being needed to meet the future jailing needs into the 1980s.

In May, Representative Felling sent a letter to the Commissioner, Gordon H. Fulkner, regarding information of a number of problems at the Putnamville State Farm. On June 24, 1980, the Commissioner responded, wherein the Commissioner admitted the Department is currently 21.9% above rated capacity for adult offenders in Indiana. Representative Felling stated, "The present situation is deplorable. Though we have toughened up a number of laws in Indiana in the past several years, and have judges who are willing to incarcerate offenders of the law, we now are lacking adequate jail and prison facilities to have these criminals placed in."

Both Judge Lewis and Representative Felling stated their opposition to a new law which will be taking effect in Indiana on October 1, 1980. This law, Public Law 120, which was passed in 1979, prohibits misdemeanants from being sentenced to the Department of Corrections unless it is for a period of longer than 180 days. Judge Lewis indicated, "This law will place an even heavier burden upon the local jails in Indiana, many of which are already overcrowded, and this is unfair to these local communities. I will be faced, as will my other colleagues in Vigo County, with a possible crisis situation later this year and certainly into 1981." Both Lewis and Felling indicated they hope the Legislature in 1981 will rescind or significantly modify this law. "The situation," Felling stated, "is that, if the State is going to place the burden of housing criminals more on the local level, then assistance should be provided by the State on at least a one-shot basis or on a loan basis in order to provide these needed facilities. If not, then the Department of Corrections must get with it and build at least one, if not two, new State prisons in order to handle the current and projected population in Indiana."

Lewis and Felling today are expanding their appeal for this penal reform throughout the entire State of Indiana. They announced their efforts will be referred to as "THE CRUSADE FOR JUSTICE" and they hope to gain support from other Judges, Prosecutors and Legislators around the State. Felling stated "It is most unfortunate that the current penal housing situation, which has been worsening since 1976 and is currently 1,088 above the approved rated bed capacity has been allowed to get out of hand. Obviously, the State Administration has failed to carry out their duties in a responsible manner. We are nearing the situation where criminals may be turned loose after conviction because there is not a proper facility in which to incarcerate them. This situation should not and can not be tolerated if we are going to get a firm handle on the law and order situation in our State."

Additional emergency money to be available to Indiana farmers

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will make available to Indiana farmers an additional $12 million through the Farmers' Home Administration (FmHA) Emergency Loan Program. The money supplements the $37 million originally made available in April to provide crucial operating funds for Hoosier farmers during the present period of tight credit.

According to information from the FmHA, approximately $3 million remains in the emergency loan fund; however, these funds are expected to be depleted by the end of the week. The Department of Agriculture stated that once Indiana's original allotment for the emergency loan program has been exhausted, an additional $12 million will be made available.

The Department of Agriculture was provided with authorization to make available $2 billion in emergency loans to the nation's financially-strapped farmers in April when Congress extended the Emergency Farm Loan authorization through 1982. The Agriculture Department, however, then decided to allocate only $1 billion immediately, and to withhold the remaining $1 billion until new regulations were formulated.

Baxter Paige assumes duties at Valley

by Diana Streevey Bucher

Baxter Paige, new superintendent of TVSC, assumed his duties on July 21 and was present at Monday night's meeting of the board.

President Con Shewman conducted an auction of five used school buses. Six buses had been advertised for sale, but Mr. Paige informed the trustees that the school bus mechanic felt bus No. 12 could be repaired and used as a spare. The board voted to remove No. 12 from the bidding. Mike McGill, of McGill Auto Parts in Mentone, was the highest bidder, paying $1666.67 for the five buses.

Mr. Paige reported he had met with a member of the state police concerning the use of strobe lights on corporation buses. A new law, which was to have gone into effect July 1, states that strobe lights will be used only in situations where necessary such as obstructions, emergency procedures or inclement weather). Because the law was poorly written, it has not gone into effect to date. Mr. Paige spoke with a member of the State Department of Public Instruction and was advised to comply with the request, and he has advised bus drivers to follow the law as it will be.

Mr. Paige reported that he had received a drafted proposal for the multipurpose building from Valley principal Loran Skinner, athletic director Robert DuBois and varsity coach Charles Smith. (It had been proposed at an earlier board meeting that the buildings trade class build a 'multi-purpose facility' at the back of the parking lot instead of another house this year.) Stating that while he would like to have a new superintendent's office, Mr. Paige continued, "The problem, as I see it, is we might have a class of students sitting idle (until plans can be finalized). I think we should go with the buildings trade class the way they have had it so we can have adequate planning and further study (on the multipurpose building).

"Let's give the boys a chance to start their building as they have planned. I would recommend they be given permission to start another house and begin to lay background for the multipurpose building for a later time."

The trustees, after further discussion as to building site, unanimously decided to have the buildings trade class construct a house in Akron during the next school year.

In other business:

*Mr. Paige reported he had received a letter from the State Department of Public Instruction informing him that Akron, Burket and Mentone had received continuous commissions.

*Madeline Fisher, Bell Memorial librarian, requested by letter that Rosalind Mentzer and Rosemary Bazini be appointed to the library board. Con Shewman said he had also received a request from Akron Carnegie librarian, Velma Bright, requesting Grace Waechter be appointed to the Akron library board. The board approved all three appointments.

*Mr. Paige reported that the status of the Indiana School Board's Association Seminar, slated for July 31, was uncertain at this time. The seminar was to have been at the Atkinson Hotel in Indianapolis, but it recently had a fire. None of the members expressed a desire to attend the seminar.

*Board approved hiring Roland Fletcher for science teacher and varsity coaching position, and Joyce Toetz for home economics position. They accepted the resignation of Cathy Suchecki.

*Burket principal, Oliver England, reported they have received textbooks and supplies, and preparations for school opening are going well. TVHS principal Loran Skinner praised the board for postponing the start of the multipurpose building, saying a better job can be done with further planning. He announced that Nancy Yeiter is working on

Burdge's home struck by lightning

Ross and Priscilla Burdge, R. 1, Akron, are still living at home after lightning struck their house and started a fire last Saturday morning during the lightning storm that passed our area.

Mrs. Burdge and the couple's three children were in Crawfordsville when lightning struck in the baby's bedroom. Mr. Burdge contacted the Akron Fire Department, and in a short time they arrived to get the blaze under control.

Mrs. Burdge explained, "The fire department did an excellent job and so did all the people who came and helped. It wasn't just neighbors; other local people came who heard about it or who followed the fire trucks. I'll never know who they all were and there's no way to thank them all.

"By the time I got home, the worst of the mess was already cleaned up. All the dishes were washed and put away and the carpet downstairs had been scrubbed.

"The upstairs is not liveable. While there is some fire damage, mostly it's smoke and heat damage. Two-thirds of the downstairs is water damaged, but we have kitchen, bath and laundry facilities, and we're able to sleep in a family room. We're crowded, but feel we're lucky when we think of all the 'ifs.'"

A Mentone woman and her unborn child were killed in a fall from a farm tractor Thursday afternoon, July 17, near the intersection of State Rd. 19 and County Rd. 500 South, one mile south of Mentone.

Dead on arrival at 4:10 p.m. at Kosciusko Community Hospital was Virginia Pearl Shoemaker, 32, R. 1, Mentone. The woman, who was eight months pregnant, was pronounced dead of massive internal injuries.

Mrs. Shoemaker and her family were delivering a wagon load weighing 7,820 pounds, filled with ear corn, to the mill in Mentone. Witnesses told police that the woman was riding on the seat of a tractor with her husband on her right side steering the tractor.

Paul Shoemaker told his wife to put on the brake as they were nearing the stop sign at State Rd. 19. The couple was traveling east on County Rd. 500 South when the fatal accident occurred at 3:40 p.m.

Mrs. Shoemaker stood up to apply the brake and fell backwards off the tractor and in front of the wagon they were pulling, police reported. The wagon apparently caught her and dragged her the length of the wagon of approximately 16 feet.

Two of the Shoemakers' children, Chad Kissinger and David Shoemaker, were sitting in wagon at the time.

Investigating were County Patrolman Jeffrey Bronsing, Mentone Marshal John Hart, Deputy Marshal Russell Hart and State Trooper Michael Barnett.

Mrs. Shoemaker, an employee of Hart, Schaffner and Marx clothing store in Rochester, was born April 26, 1948 in Delong, Ind. to Roy E. and Virginia (Haag) Rensberger. They survive.

Besides her husband, other survivors include three children: Chad Kissinger, Teresa Kissinger and John Lee Kissinger; five stepchildren: Diane Ogden, Kimberly Shoemaker, Candra Shoemaker, Jimmy Shoemaker and David Shoemaker; three brothers: Devon Rensberger, Nappanee, Carl Dean Rensberger, Macy, and John Lee Rensberger, Bremen; two sisters: Mrs. Robert (Peggy) Johnson, Ripon, Wis., and Mrs. Rosemary Powell, Rochester and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haag, Tyner, Ind.

Services were held on Sunday at the King Memorial Home, Mentone, with the Rev. Buel Meadows officiating. Burial followed in the Hamlett cemetery, Talma.

Three break-ins in Akron Sunday night

Sometime between 6:00 Sunday evening and 7:00 Monday morning, three break-ins were committed in the Akron area, resulting in approximately $188 loss in property and cash. State Police Detective Sgt. Don Smith and Akron Marshal Ed Hauser investigated the break-ins.

The Akron Feed and Grain Inc. plant, 419 South West St., was broken into between 6 p.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. today.

Police said that the thieves are believed to have entered the building through a basement window.

On the main floor of the building, an office window was broken, apparently in an unsuccessful attempt to enter the office. The office door was pried open and $30 in petty cash was stolen. A wall safe was damaged in an unsuccessful attempt to break into it.

The Franger Gas Inc. building, 1 1/2 miles east of Akron on Indiana 14 was broken into between 3 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 a.m. Monday.

A window in an overhead door was broken, through which the thieves entered the building. A desk and file cabinet in the manager's office were ransacked and $10 in soft drink money was stolen. Akron Farm Supply Inc., on County Road 1000 East was entered between 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday.

Two doors were damaged before the thieves apparently crawled through a window. In the manager's office, a desk and a file cabinet were ransacked and $20 in petty cash was stolen. Thieves also took 17 quarts of motor oil, valued at $18.

Chamberlin Products to close doors

Last Friday Chamberlin plant manager Ted Clark announced that the Akron factory will be phased out of business during the next four weeks. Chamberlin Products is a division of Essex Wire and employs about 150 people in our area.

According to other reports, the plant will be phased out with employees being released as they complete orders now on hand. It will be the 18th plant closed by Essex in recent months.

Harry Parker, the Akron plant's personnel manager, would give no reasons for the closing, no definite time period of the closing and no information of future plans of the company. This information was not released by the Dearborn offices either.

Steam engine treks to Argos

by Eula Romaine Smith

Natives of Europe identify American tourists as the people with all the cameras. Tourists were so plentiful at Argos when the Nickel Plate train stopped on Saturday, July 12, that a person wasn't really in style without a multi-colored ribbon around his neck or a camera case over his shoulder.

Speaking of styles, an elderly train buff from Detroit wore a jacket that was a real conversation piece. He had started with a typical railroad's coat of hickory striped denim and added colorful patches from the different rail lines he had ridden. These almost covered the front, back and sleeves.

Another train buff came from North Liberty. "Did you ever know Russell Arnsberger?" we asked. (Russell Arnsberger was a cousin of Ralph and Lee Arnsberger and lived south of Mentone before he moved to North Liberty to work in the telegraph office.)

"Sure," the man replied. "Russell was one who had time for young people. Some train men didn't, so we knew when he worked and would go down to see him."

The young train attendants, both male and female, wore bright gold

T-shirts which presented quite a contrast to the somber dark suits worn by conductors of the past. Although the working crews in their dark blue T-shirts looked like 1980, they faced some of the problems of earlier train men. When the temperature is above 90 degrees in the shade, standing on top of a train car in the sun, scooping coal, must be hard work.

The fire that provided the steam gave off smoke and cinders, so one crewman's face was covered with smoke and grease except under his goggles. A few wore handkerchiefs around their necks and leather gloves protected their hands when they oiled some of the moving parts.

When steam engines were used regularly, they took on water from the lake near Claypool or the river at Tippecanoe, but the Argos Fire Department provided water for this run. It holds 22,000 gallons of water and 22 tons of coal.

A few hot coals dropped to the ground under the engine and reminded us of the potential fire hazard of the steam engines. The grate area was 90.3 square feet, and boiler pressure was 245.

It is no wonder the ground shook when the steam powered locomotive rolled through Mentone and the surrounding area. Engine No. 765 including the tender (tender is water and coal section of the train) weighed 440,800 pounds. That is just the engine, not the 15 cars that it pulled. No. 765 was built in 1944 in Lima, Ohio. Its cylinders were 25 inches across and moved 34 inches. It was Type 2-8-4 which means on each rail there is a small wheel followed by four driver wheels and then more small wheels. The driver wheels on this engine were about as tall as a man (69 inches), and the weight of them was 264,300 pounds. It had Timken roller bearing journals and driving and engine truck axles.

Even when the 765 was built to help with wartime transportation, train men were thinking about Diesel powered locomotives, so the Nickel Plate bought their last steam locomotive in 1949 and retired most of them ten or twelve years later. About twenty or twenty five years ago people hurried out to see a Diesel, but now the sound of the whistle and the smoke rising round the bend brings back memories to some and is a new experience to the younger generation.

Driving smarter - Is this trip really necessary?

By far the best way to save gas is to stay out of your car.

Without becoming a recluse, you can cut down on your driving enough to save a bundle of money if you go about it systematically.

First, keep a driving record. It can be a detailed record that would pass an audit by a CPA, or just a small notebook of mileage and gallons entries each time you buy gas. You'll get more benefit if you record the purpose of the longer trips and for a few weeks jot down every trip you make.

With the record, you'll be able to tell how much of your driving is essential. Then you can set a realistic target for reduction.

For many people, a 20 percent mileage reduction for the first three months makes sense. Until you have a month-by-month record for a full year, you won't be able to make steady reductions because your pattern of driving varies too much with the seasons.

It may help to divide your trips into categories such as:

*Work

*Home (shopping, school, errands)

*Recreation

Work

Only you can tell whether it is essential that you drive alone to work every day. But before you decide it is impossible to carpool and is unreasonable to take the bus, bike, or walk, ask yourself: "If gasoline were $10 a gallon, would I still drive?"

Even one day a week of carpooling or riding the bus could cut your work driving by nearly 20 percent.

Home

Household driving is easy to reduce, but only if you keep records. Without records, it is like trying to lose weight without ever stepping on the scales: You could spend a lot of time fooling yourself.

If you chauffeur the kids to school or to little league, work out a ride-sharing routine with a neighbor. Or, if it's safe, insist the kids ride their bikes three days a week, or that they walk every Friday.

If you run numerous errands for yourself or the children, set some limits. Like: only one trip a day, or three days a week, or only between four and five p.m.

When shopping for unusual items, call ahead to find a store that has them. Then jot down the miles you saved by not making a useless trip. And congratulate yourself.

You also can save gas by combining errands into one trip. A car that has been warmed up gets better mileage than one that is cold. Even if you have to make six stops on a trip, you get better mileage with the warmed-up car, and you'll probably save miles as well.

Recreation

Don't eliminate recreation. But do set a goal of reducing the amount of gas you burn. If you won a boat, reduce your use of it (and the drive to the lake) by one fourth. And reward yourself with a dinner out in a nearby restaurant or a visit with friends.

Study your pattern of recreational driving. Then set a modest goal. Each time you substitute a short recreational trip for a longer one, give yourself a miles-saved credit. And add up the credits once a month.

Goals and Rewards

Goals and rewards are very important, especially if there are several drivers in the household. You may want to keep a chart in the kitchen to record your progress. And, if there are teenage drivers, you may need to make the rewards fairly substantial.

Rewards should be frequent: once a month for children, perhaps once a quarter for adults.

In the next article, we'll tell you how to drive farther for less both in the city and on the highway.

For her devotions, Mrs. Claude Berger read Scriptures from Psalms, also a prayer poem, "Faith Is The Key To Heaven" by Helen Steiner Rice. She used the definition of democracy as the basis for her comments.

Members volunteered to work at the 4-H Fair Food Building Monday, July 21, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Mrs. Claude Berger and Mrs. Raymond Keim reported plans for entertaining the D.D. Doers E.H.C. next month. It will be a noon salad luncheon at the Ebenezer Church.

Mrs. Raymond Keim was the auctioneer for the food and miscellaneous sale. Cards signed by each lady present will be mailed to two members and a friend.

Mrs. Charles Eaton, a guest, became a member. She is the former Faye Hanger from near Gilead.

Mrs. Albert Bammerlin took individual blood pressures. Mrs. Lawrence Coon spoke about the cause and effect of high and low pressures.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served.

Republican women to meet

The Fulton County Republican Women's Club will hold a family picnic on Sun., July 27 at the home of Phyllis Whitmore, Box 202A, South Sunset Boulevard, Nyona Lake. A business meeting will be held at 3 p.m. At 4 p.m. state and local candidates will be introduced and the picnic will be at 5 p.m. All members are asked to bring a covered dish and table service; swim suit and fishing pole optional.

The committee for this event consists of Jana Lowe, chairman, Carmen Smith, Barbara Williams, Pat Jarvis, Helen Ehrhardt, Hannah Oren, Bev Suter and Ann Decius.

Blanche Whitmyer hosts meeting

The Mentone W.W. II Mothers met with Blanche Whitmyer at the Water Haven Apts. in Rochester for the July meeting. Five members and two guests were present.

The August meeting will be with Maude Romine with a change of time from August 6, to August 4. The District meeting will be in the Little League Building August 13, and all mothers are invited to attend.

Women's Fellowship elects officers

Betty Meredith was re-elected president, and Kay Brouette, co-president, Jean Neher, vice-president, and Edna Mae Shewman, secretary and treasurer, at the July meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Akron Church of the Brethren, when they met in the home of Paulene Ryman.

Betty Meredith opened the meeting with prayer. Vonda Ryman led devotions and the group sang a hymn. Mrs. Ryman served refreshments.

For the June meeting 18 persons traveled to Wabash and visited the Shalom Place, a home that helps needy children. A check from the Bible school offering was presented to the home to help in their work. Dinner was enjoyed by the group at the Clark Cafeteria prior to visiting the home.

Homeowners insurance - are you covered?

Floods and wind damage in recent weeks have demonstrated that many homes are seriously underinsured and that many homeowners do not know what their insurance covers.

Jean Bauer, Extension family resource management specialist at Purdue University, advises checking your insurance policies immediately. Inflation, particularly, has eroded the value of many policies, as it has increased the cost of replacing or repairing the home.

"The most common policy is a homeowners policy," says Bauer. The single package contract includes many features of several separate policies. It costs less than many separate protections, but you pay only one premium. The typical homeowners policy insures against fire, lightning, explosion, smoke and other perils to houses and buildings on the land. It also covers the contents of your house and may insure against theft, vandalism, falling objects, wind damage by flood, earthquakes, and man-made disasters such as nuclear attack.

If you are unsure what your insurance covers, check with your insurance agent, Bauer advises. During the past few weeks many people have been disappointed to learn that their insurance did not cover damage by floods. Normal flood-free areas were inundated by heavy rains, and the homeowners were uninsured for floods. However, damages caused by hail, wind or tornadoes were covered.

The most common problem encountered by people who have damage claims is underinsurance. Insurance companies require that you carry enough insurance to cover at least 80 percent of the cost to rebuild or replace the home. When you are insured for 80 percent, most insurance companies will give full replacement cost if 80 percent of your home is destroyed. However, if you are insured for less than 80 percent, expect only a percentage of the loss to be repaid. "Therefore," says Bauer, "it is important to review your policy yearly because, in today's economy, inflation takes its toll on insurance."

Some companies help the consumer by adjusting the homeowners insurance coverage each year to keep up with inflation. If your insurance does not have an inflation clause, it might be wise to investigate such coverage, Bauer advises.

Toll-free Medicare number

More than 270,000 elderly Hoosiers protected by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana Medicare Supplement insurance received something unusual in the mail this week—their new "plain language" insurance policies.

They also were notified of special toll-free telephone numbers they should call for information or service on their Medicare coverage and their Medicare Supplement insurance, an optional health insurance program offered to Medicare beneficiaries to help supplement their Federal coverage.

The telephone numbers for inquiries regarding the Federal Government's Medicare program are: 1-800-622-4792 (for those persons living outside the Indianapolis dialing area) and 634-8450 (within the Indianapolis area).

The special telephone numbers to call for information on Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana Medicare Supplement insurance are: 1-800-382-1121 (outside the Indianapolis dialing area) and 636-6611 (within the Indianapolis area).

Both the Medicare and Medicare Supplement insurance telephone service units can be called between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana began mailing the "plain language" policies to their Medicare Supplement members early this week and all of the 270,000 persons are expected to have received their policies by Monday, July 21.

Donald J. Van Dyke, vice president, Customer Administration, said the "plain language" policies are designed to help Blue Cross and Blue Shield Medicare Supplement members better understand their private insurance protection.

"We have tried to make their new Medicare Supplement policies much easier to understand by using common words to explain benefits and eligibility, rather than the usual insurance terminology," he said.

"It is our hope that these new 'plain language' policies not only will help members understand their own private insurance protection but may help them learn more about their benefits under the government's Medicare program as well," Van Dyke added.

He said the state's largest health care insurance companies developed the policies with the cooperation of the Indiana Department of Insurance.

Among the features of the new policies (aside from simplified language) are a booklet format, a table of contents and larger easier-to-read printing.

Heat, drought compared to thirties 'dust bowl'

by Diana Streevey Bucher

As the heat-related death toll in an 18 state area rose over the 1100 mark, residents of the Mentone-Akron area suffered another unrelieved weekend of hot sun and high humidity. Since mid-June, when a high pressure area settled over Texas and Oklahoma, the heat wave has spread to encompass an area including the south, southwest and midwest, with abnormally high temperatures pushing as far north as New York and Connecticut. In St. Louis alone over 100 people have died, and near Dallas a record-breaking 30 consecutive days of temperatures of 100 plus have taken an incredible toll in both human lives and agricultural loss.

Janet (Mrs. DeWayne) Manns, a resident of the Akron area until last March when she and her family moved, lives in Arlington, Texas, only 18 miles from Dallas. She was back last weekend to help celebrate the golden anniversary of relatives, and she told the NEWS about the heat in Texas.

"It's certainly hot, but it seems as hot here because of the humidity. When it's 107 degrees there, and the humidity is between 10 and 15 percent, the 'sweat' index is 94 degrees. This simply means it only feels like 94 degrees. Of course, the higher the humidity the hotter it is, but it's not usually any higher than 15 percent near the Dallas area.

Janet Manns

"It gets cooler at night, but it never gets below 80 degrees. As soon as the sun comes up, it starts climbing again. By the time I get to work at 9:00, it's up to 90 degrees.

"A lot of people have died, and they're mainly elderly people who won't plug in their fans or air conditioners because of their electric bills. Now people from the Red Cross and EMT units and such are going out and picking them up to take them to centers.

"One girl, who worked at a hospital, lost her babysitter, so she locked her two year old child in a pick-up truck for two and a half hours. The child died. I was sick when I heard that."

While the loss of life now is increasing daily by an average of 75, agricultural losses have already passed the $2 billion mark. Crops all along the heat wave have obviously suffered. Many, especially in the southern states, are already ruined. Area farmers, despite the small break in the weather at the first of the week, are predicting they must receive more rain soon, or their crops will be ruined also. Dr. L. Clark, Vice-President of the Indiana Veterinary Medical Association, said the largest livestock loss in Indiana has been swine. Elsewhere, millions of chickens have died and cattle are being sent to the slaughterhouses younger than is usually normal or shipped to other states where there is pasture.

There aren't a wide variety of ways to keep cool in this heat, but the obvious ways are: Limit physical exertion as much as possible; Stay out of the sun; Keep drapes or shades closed and use fans or air conditioning; Replenish body fluids by drinking lots of liquid.

Water is NOT recommended as the best liquid to drink, as it does not provide the nutrients needed during extremely hot weather. Gatorade, an electrolytic solution developed for athletes, replaces the nutrients the body requires when it's hot. It is even better to drink a liquid that provides some sugar, such as lemonade, iced tea or cola, which water again does not do.

Although some weather experts are predicting this heat wave may last through September, we can hope they're terribly wrong. As one gentleman told the NEWS, "I'm waiting for some 'Canada Cool.'" If it shows up, just send it on over to my house.

Olive Bethel celebrates centennial

A Homecoming and Centennial Celebration was held Sunday, July 13, at the Olive Bethel Church of God with a basket dinner and afternoon and evening services. Former pastors and members attended. The Rev. Hubert Johnston of Lapaz was the speaker in the morning service, while the Rev. Alvin Beason lead prayer.

Former pastors and members Rev. and Mrs. Johnston, Rev. and Mrs. Alvin of Lebanon, Mrs. Ted Deal, Todd and Troy of Marietta, Ill., Mrs. Herschel Teel of Bradenton, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Edison of Plainfield and Rev. Kenneth Leininger of Winona Lake were present.

After dinner, an old fashion sing of Church of God hymns and their history was given by song director Francis Sanders of Rochester, with Helen Nichols of Rochester as pianist and Bryan Kratzer as organist. A 'Singspiration' was held in the evening service by Mr. Sanders with Helen Nichols and Miriam Maddock pianists.

The Olive Bethel Church of God is the oldest Church of God building still in use and its pastor is the Rev. Hazel Comer. Letters were received from former pastors Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Snyder of Clearwater, Florida, and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Helterbride of Mercer, Wisconsin.

Preparations for State Fair

The gaiety of smiling clowns and calypso music will filter through the doors of the 4-H Exhibit Hall which will be trimmed with a circus motif for the Indiana State Fair, August 14 - 24th.

Yet, the carnival atmosphere of the building will not distract youths aged 10 to 19 who have spent countless hours preparing for their individual projects; to them, this is a serious matter.

According to Charles A. Gosney, extension specialist and building director, "Six different 4-H project areas will be housed under the Exhibit Hall roof and adjacent arena."

Judges will find it difficult to select a winner during the five to ten minute demonstrations made by 4-H'ers 15 years and older. Competition in 18 different categories ranging from mechanical science to dog training will be held August 14, 15, 16 and 18.

Advanced Foods competition will take place August 14 and 18th and include items from the following groups: bread and cereal, fruit and vegetable and dairy foods. Also included will be meat-product charts or bones and a new division, special occasion foods, which will test a hostess' skill at party planning and table displays.

Creative 10-yr-olds will display the colorful shapes and designs of mobiles and storage units in Home Environment competition on Tuesday, August 15th.

Meticulously handcrafted garments will be modeled and judged in the 4-H Fashion Review, Categories include school wear, suit or coat, separates, free choice, dress-up gear and formal wear, and will be presented in preliminary competition August 13-15 at Lawrence Central High School, 7300 E. 56th St., Indianapolis. The best of haute couture will then advance to the State 4-H Fashion Review Finals, Saturday August 16, at 11 a.m. in the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

"New Horizons through 4-H" will be the topic addressed in five to seven minute speeches delivered during the 4-H Public Speaking Contest, August 17th at 1 p.m., and Junior and Senior division contestants will rev-up their engines Monday, August 18th at 8 a.m. for the Tractor Operator Contest.

All first place winners will be awarded a seven-day Achievement Trip to our Nation's capitol, because the Indiana State Fair is proud of the contributions made by our 4-H youths, and encourages their participation in these worthwhile projects.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

Nothing, I repeat NOTHING, brings down my scorn quicker than a chain letter. In the past, I have absolutely refused to even read a chain letter through to its ending. I mean really, a chain letter shows fear and superstition in its' lowest form.

That was my attitude until yesterday. Then a wonderful thing happened to me. I received a chain letter that changed my life!

I am so enthusiastic about this wonderful letter, I decided to share it with as many of you as possible; thus, I decided to use my column as the perfect vehicle to reach you.

To protect my one and only sister (who sent it, to me but shall remain nameless), I'm using the salutation, Dear Friend:

This letter started with hope of bringing relief to tired and unhappy wives. Unlike other chain letters you have seen, this doesn't cost you any money. Simply send a copy of this letter to four of your married friends who are tired and unhappy, then bundle up your husband, send him to the woman at the top of the list and add your name to the bottom of the list.

"Some day you will be on the top!" When your name comes to the top of the list, you will receive 340 men, and some of those will be Dandies. Have faith in this letter. One woman broke the chain and got her husband back. Don't let this happen to you!

P.S. At the time of this letter, a friend of mine had received 89 men. They buried her yesterday.

I hope some of you utilize this wonderful letter also. It's not too difficult. The biggest problem I encountered, once I had Bill bundled up, was shoving him through that little slot at the post office.

Good luck, ladies!

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the July 22, 1953 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mrs. Ocie M. Blue and daughter Mrs. J. J. McClelland of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Meredith of Wabash, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haimbaugh, Columbia City were among the guests who helped celebrate the 93rd birthday of Obe Haimbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mollenhour and daughter Marjorie entertained as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Minear of Ft. Wayne, Rollin Grass and Miss Flora Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Miller and son Albert of Florida, Francis Miller and Francis Deso from Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and daughter of So. Bend, Miss Sue Barkman of Mentone and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Ft. Wayne.

Mrs. R. E. Riner entertained at supper Friday evening. Mrs. Sadie Black, Mrs. Eva Maderford, and Mrs. Grace Gifford. All three of these ladies are of the same age and attended school at the old schoolhouse east of Sevastople on the south side of the road.

The Stutch and Stir 4-H Club met at the home of Elaine Dunnuck for their final meeting for the year. The meeting was brought to order by president Rita Olson. Pledges to the American & 4-H flags were led by June Romine. Old and new business was discussed and it was decided to have a picnic August 4th. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mailbag

Former accompanist at Akron theatre passes away

DEAR FOLKS,

The following item under Obituaries might interest some of the old residents of Akron. I used to visit these two old sisters in Salem, Ore., since they were friends of the Gast family and the age of my older brother, Karl Gast.

Word has reached us of the passing of Tillie Burns Read, age 90, at Salem, Oregon, on July 1. She was the daughter of William and Martha (Bill and Mattie) Burns of Akron, grew up and attended school in Akron, and will be remembered as the pianist who accompanied the first moving pictures in Akron with "Hearts and Flowers" music. Also, she was office attendant to Dr. Hosman for years. She married a local boy, Ludd Read, who preceded her in death some years ago.

Survivors are her sister, Myrtle Burns Hoover, age 95, who lives in Portland, Oregon, near her son; a son, Bob, a journalist in San Francisco; a daughter and husband, Bob and Betty Cannon of Salem; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Tillie had been in poor health for several years and spent the last few years in a nursing home in Salem.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Marie (Gast) Talbot
formerly of California

Elect your ideas

DEAR EDITOR:

Several times I have heard people remark that they would vote for John Anderson, but they don't want to waste their vote. They assume that if they don't like Carter, they should vote for Reagan, and visa versa. But there is no such thing as a wasted vote. Just because a candidate doesn't win doesn't mean a vote for him is wasted.

Take Ed Clark for instance. He is running for President on the Libertarian Party ticket. And he is relatively unknown. But suppose he should get ten million votes this election. He still wouldn't win the election, but would those ten million votes be wasted? Not on your life. Politicians live and die by votes. And if Ed Clark garners ten million votes, politicians will start listening to what Ed Clark is saying. That many votes would give anyone a lot of political clout.

John Anderson has an outside chance of winning this election. In several states he has been in front of Carter and Reagan in the polls. But even if he doesn't win, every vote he receives increases his chances of influencing future policy.

The history of third parties in the U.S. is a curious one. With the exception of the Republicans in the mid 1800's, third parties are quite often beaten by their own success. When a third party starts to receive enough votes to worry the two major parties, the third party ideas are adopted by the major parties. The third party dissolves, but its ideas live on in the major party platforms. The people who supported those parties may not have elected many candidates, but they did elect a lot of ideas. Their votes were their statements on how they thought the country could be improved. That is not what I consider wasting votes.

I do not intend on endorsing Ed Clark or John Anderson for President. Nor is it my intention to rule out Reagan or Carter. I merely want to point out that a vote should go to the candidate whose ideas best represent your own, regardless of his party or his chances of winning.

This November 4th, don't vote. Cast your ballot, and make a political statement.

-Alan Strevey

MONDAY, JULY 28

Regular meeting of the Bell Memorial Library Board will be held at the library at 7 p.m. Proposed town-township taxable district will be discussed.

The Fulton County Historical Society will meet at the Civic Center museum, 7th and Pontiac, Rochester, at 7:30 p.m. to hear a talk by Florence Field, descendant of Henry Hoover, about the Hoover mills in Fulton County and elsewhere. Henry Township was named for Henry Hoover. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Sound off

"Since these big semis go through Akron's narrow streets in bunches of two to seven at a time, you can't have a conversation on the street.

"Since we have a governor who is sympathetic to Akron because his father lives near here, what does the community think about making a by-pass around Akron on the old defunct railroad for trucks only?

"The trucks don't stop here, they don't buy gas here, and they could by-pass the town completely."

WCTU and LTL have picnic

The Akron W.C.T.U. and L.T.L. held their joint meeting and picnic at the park at noon on Wednesday, July 16. After the meal the Church of God Puppeteers, with Mrs. Jennie Michaels, put on a puppet show lesson on smoking and health. Then the L.T.L. leader gave a devotional lesson, and the children enjoyed games and contests. There were 22 members present and 15 adults.

Mentone item

Betty Blackburn, from the Mentone office of the Akron/Mentone NEWS, spent Monday afternoon helping out at the Akron office.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Since America's talent for technology could help cure our ailing economy, it's fortunate high-technology complexes are springing up across the nation. Many are in a place where returns on investment can be four times those available elsewhere.

The place is Puerto Rico. Though part of the U.S., there's no federal income tax on corporate or individual earnings, except in the case of Federal employees or U.S. source income.

That little island, it seems, can offer an ocean of opportunity to companies that may help keep our economy afloat.

The Other End

by Teresa Petrosky

"If I climbed to the end of the rainbow as Dame Fortune would intend, Murphy would be there to tell me the pot's at the other end!"

Yes, I'm afraid Mr. Murphy has had his hidden camera focused on me for quite some time now. His "If anything can go wrong..." philosophies read like my life story, — up until college, that is. At this point, my beloved prophet of doom loses his ability to relate to my experiences. Therefore, I have found it necessary to formulate my own "Co-ed's Corollary to Murphy's Law." Simply stated, it goes like this: "Every guy and his brother, cousin, and uncle will ask me out EXCEPT the one I WANT to ask me out."

I met him on August 30, 1979, and I wasn't able to sleep again until December. Seriously, folks, this guy made Burt Reynolds look like Woody Allen! He was 6 feet, 3 inches of Heaven in its purest form, — big brown eyes, straight white teeth, feathered hair, broad bronzed shoulders....the works (excuse me while I drool). And talk about suave! This fella could charm a snake out of its basket without even touching a flute!

Face it, I'd given an arm and a leg and my first-born child to go out with him.

But alas, Fate had other plans. His roommate called me, his best friend called me, four other guys on his floor called me, but my prince called Sarah.

Now Sarah was the kind of girl who could take a 30 minute stroll in the sun and return with a beautiful, evenly distributed tan that lasted over a month. I, on the other hand, could lay out six hours a day for a week and still come up with no more than freckles, which, of course, faded with the first shower.

Never in her life had Sarah enjoyed eating chocolate, Danish pastries or other munchies that lead to the formulation of "mega-thighs" (or "mongo-thighs," for those of you who prefer the brute, jungle image). Her closet rejected any article of clothing without a designer label, and her hair-do NEVER gave in to humidity.

Pretty and petite Sarah was disgustingly perfect, and my "dream man" fell for her like I had fallen for him. Which brings me to the "Sour Grapes for Single Girls" theory, — "If the guy is ultra good-looking and charming to the max, but he DOESN'T ask you out, don't worry. He probably kisses like a Saint Bernard anyway!"

Profile of the typical Saint Bernard (you know the type): He calls on Monday to make plans for Saturday (no last-minute decisions for him!). Rather than just asking you "out" he asks you "out to dinner" and suggests some elegant dining establishment where he will, of course INSIST that you disregard the prices.

He then proceeds to show up at your place looking like Adonis in a three-piece suit. He politely holds every door for you, including your closet door as you get your coat.

Your very own Valentine knows exactly what to do all evening. He orders a little vino before dinner, and does so with such savior-faire that the cocktail waitress neglects to ask for an I.D. (which would prove that Casanova is only 19, and therefore, not yet legal). He smartly addresses the waiter as "Garçon," and says "the lady will have" when ordering.

By this time, you're so enchanted that you hear bells every time the man opens his mouth. He makes brilliant conversation, dances like a dream, and, in your eyes, can do no wrong.

As he drives you home, in his baby-blue Corvette, he comments on the beauty of the stars and other outrageously romantic subjects (the plot thickens). When he pulls into your driveway, he reaches over and gently touches your hand (anticipation builds). In his softest, most sincere voice, he tells you he's had a lovely evening, and that he'll call again soon (you start licking your lips). He slowly walks you up the steps, stopping you at the door. He gazes at you for a moment, as you try to look timid and naive. He leans down, tilts his head. You close your eyes.....and the next thing you know, you're rushing to the kitchen to grab a handful of "quicker-picker-uppers" before you drown!

Funny, — I always thought Indiana was too far inland to get hit by tidal waves!

Boys receive pay increase

the "Valley Advance," and that summer school is winding down.

*Ken Murphy, building trades educator, asked for a raise in pay for two boys who have assisted him and Tom Mahoney (corporation maintenance director) in repair work at Akron school. Con Shewman stated he had inspected the work and found they had worked on floors and ceilings doing carpentry work, plastering and painting, and that they had done a good job. They were presently receiving only $2.90 an hour, and Shewman suggested they be paid $4 an hour.

After questioning Murphy and Eleanor Hoover as to starting wages for sweepers, trustee Vern Meredith moved to pay the boys $3.10 an hour. On a roll call vote, Richard Long and Shewman voted no, with Meredith, Don Snipes and Lee Norris voting yes.

At the end of the meeting Murphy asked the board members what he should do about the Akron building, saying the two boys would quit work. Norris said the problem wasn't with the boys, rather he felt it was unfair to pay them more than others who have been working full-time for the corporation.

Eleanor Hoover, school treasurer, informed the trustees that while part-time sweepers (who work only two or three hours a day during the school year) receive only $2.90 an hour, the full-time sweeper starts at $4.52 an hour. The starting custodial rate is $4.84 an hour.

Richard Long moved to negate the former motion and raise the salaries to $4 an hour. It passed with Long, Snipes and Shewman voting yes.

The board will hold an executive session this Thursday to plan the budget.

Kosciusko Mental Health Association will be at fair

Fair Week takes on new emphasis for the Kosciusko Mental Health Association this year. The main purpose of the association's being at the Fair will remain one of education, with pamphlets, bumper stickers and a question and answer board available for the public. In addition, the public will be given the opportunity to make donations for tickets for our merchandise give-away. The association has many gifts, several which were donated by local merchants.

Board members will be taking turns working at the booth, which will be open each evening from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Plans are being made to open the booth for several afternoons as well. Space for the booth has again been made available to the association by Ray Monteith of Monteith Tire.

They invite everyone to take the opportunity to visit the booth and meet the Board members, ask questions and participate in the merchandise give-away. If anyone is interested in becoming involved with the association on a particular project, they can call Doug Garrard President, at 267-7389.

Ask for identification!

Appearances can be deceiving. Sometimes, people posing as utility employees attempt to enter homes uninvited. It's a common ruse to watch out for.

You may recognize the meter reader who regularly stops at your home. But if a stranger tells you he's an employee of Public Service Indiana, ask to see his identification card. Most of our meter readers wear uniforms, but remember that they'll be glad to show you an identification card too.

Whoever said women and sports don't mix didn't know Rita Simpson Price

by Diana Streevey Bucher

If you're a stay-at-home sports buff and listen to games on the Warsaw radio station WRSW, chances are you've heard Rita Simpson Price broadcasting live from wherever the game is being played. Rita does the 'color work' for Valley, Triton and Northwood football games (which means she supplies statistics and interviews), and for boys and girls basketball games she covers 'play-by-play' action.

"Last year I broadcast 22 girls and 24 boys basketball games in regular season, plus I cover tournaments right through to state championships. From mid-November until the first week in February, I'm really swamped. Some weeks I'll cover as many as five games, and I sell the games and advertising also."

Many of you know Rita as the manager of Valley Furnishings in Mentone, which she owns with her husband, Jack. They had both been involved in Akron and Mentone events for several years, as she worked for WRSW and Jack was (and is) a realtor in Plymouth who handled Mentone accounts. Darrell King listed Valley Furnishings for sale with Jack two years ago, and the Prices bought it within two days.

They moved to Mentone last year so they could be closer to the business, and Jack hopes to open a branch realty office in Mentone in the next year or two.

Rita was only 17 and still a student at Bourbon High School when she decided to approach the manager of WRSW for a job as a singer. She auditioned, was accepted and told them she'd like a half hour variety music show. At that time, WRSW was a 5000 watt station and hers was a live program. She wasn't paid for the program, but they offered her the chance to sell advertising for a commission. Baker's Electronic in Mentone was her first sponsor, and they still sponsor Rita today. Rita sold ads for two programs on a summer contract that first year and that fall expanded to Saturday mornings also.

That was 21 years ago. Today WRSW is a 50,000 watt station, and Rita has five regular shows in addition to her sports broadcasting. On Wednesday from 10:30 to noon, she hosts the Oldies but Goodies show on FM; on Thursday from 9:00 to 9:45 a.m. she has an Akron program, and from 11:00 to noon a Napanee show; on Saturday, from 9:00 to 10:00, she works as a disc jockey, and from 10:15 to noon hosts her Mentone show.

On top of her radio, marriage and businesswoman careers, Rita has three daughters. Tracey will be a sophomore at Grace College this fall, Kelley is entering Ball State University and Dana will be in the eighth grade at Mentone. And if all that isn't enough to make her life hectic, Rita also sings with Johny Keck and his band. They used to play most weekends, but she said now they mainly play private parties and country clubs in the South Bend/Elkhart area, and they don't accept engagements for every weekend. When I asked Rita how she had juggled her many interests, she laughed, "After you've done it for 21 years, it becomes easier. You get to the point that you can sort things out and make them fit. It's been easier since we moved to Mentone because I don't have all the driving."

I expressed surprise and admiration for the fact Rita had gone out as a young girl and literally made a career for herself at a time when it wasn't 'fashionable' for a woman to do so. She agreed, adding, "One point I would like to make is that this station never made stipulations or set restrictions because I was a woman. They pushed me to do sports long before I wanted to!" "They have always been overly fair to me, while a lot of women in the broadcasting field have had to fight. Whenever I came in with a change of ideas or format, they were always fair and listened to me.

"I'll never forget when I covered my first state basketball tourney; I was the only woman on 'press row.' When they saw me put on headphones and move my mouth, they couldn't believe it! They've given me a lot of good experiences and it's been a real opportunity for me."

The next time you get the chance tune in to one of Rita's programs at WRSW. My hat's off to one gutsy lady.

Keith Wortinger acting principal

Loran Skinner goes to Pendleton Height school

On Thursday night, July 24, at the budget meeting of the school board, it was announced that Valley principal Loran Skinner would resign on July 31 to accept the position as principal of Pendleton Heights High School, near Indianapolis. Mr. Skinner had his initial interview with the Pendleton school board over three weeks ago, and he accepted the position after further discussions held Tuesday, July 22. Mr. Skinner has been with the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation for three years, and prior to that he was the assistant principal at Connersville.

Earlier this year Mr. Skinner received his Specialist in Education degree from Ball State University, having majored in School Superintendency. Pendleton Heights has an enrollment that is roughly double that of Valley, and he will head a staff of more than 60. He will be aided by two assistant principals, a Dean of Boys and a Dean of Girls.

When asked what had prompted his decision to leave Valley, he explained, "I completed my Ed.S. this year, and that enables me to do anything but be an elementary principal. Eventually I want to be a superintendent, and this is a stepping stone to attaining that goal."

"I don't care if it's a week, a month or ten years from now, I will always consider my three years here as one of the most important times of my life."

Until the Skinners can sell their home, Mr. Skinner will live in an apartment in Pendleton. Assistant principal at Valley, Keith Wortinger, will act as principal until definite plans can be made.

Teresa Wallace attends seminar

Two weeks of academic challenge and a sample of college life were on the agenda of 177 talented high school students enrolled in the July 13-25 session of Indiana State University's 1980 Summer Honors program. Attending from our area was Teresa Wallace, R. 2, Akron.

The young people, who were outstanding members of their class as juniors, engaged in a variety of activities in one of five seminars: art, English, government and politics, theatre and math and computer science. Teresa worked in the theatre seminar.

Scheduled annually, the ISU Summer Honors program provides the opportunity for young scholars to explore their academic interests and study with the university faculty. Those who successfully complete a seminar may earn two hours of university credit and become eligible for an ISU Talent Grant which waives a portion of their fees upon enrollment at ISU immediately following high school graduation.

Students from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and New Mexico participated in this session. Another session will take place July 27-Aug. 8 with seminars in archeology, electronics and computer technology, French, life sciences and radio-TV-film.

Accident on Bammerlin farm

An accident occurred on the Lyl-Bammerlin property, 3 1/2 miles east of Akron on SR 114, last Sunday at 12:30 p.m. John M. Jackson, 16, was charged with driving with no operator's license, driving left of center and reckless driving. His sister, who was a passenger in the car, Pamela Jackson was also charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Mr. Jackson was headed south on SR 114 when he tried to pass a car on a double yellow line. Losing control of his vehicle, he careened into an elevator owned by Mr.

Bammerlin and then crashed through the end of Bammerlin's milk house. No one was injured in the accident.

Mr. Bammerlin estimated that damages included $2700 to his elevator and $600 to his milk house, but investigating officer Roy Calvert estimated damages much higher. He reported damages to the elevator at $2000, damages to the barn at $250 and damages to the milk house at $4000.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

At the July 21 meeting of the TVSC School Board, there was an outburst of temper by one of the board members towards the president of the TVCTA, Bernadine Howard. I omitted reporting it in my article last week, mainly because it was an embarrassing little scene and I thought it would serve no purpose if I mentioned it. Apparently I was wrong, so I'll rectify my omission here.

At the close of the meeting (which was the first day of work for new Superintendent Baxter Paige), trustee Don Snipes verbally attacked Mrs. Howard, saying that she had willfully delayed negotiations towards the new teacher contracts despite protestations that she was anxious to settle the matter. Mrs. Howard tried to explain that the delays and cancellation of meetings had been due to former sup't. Lloyd Harrell's reluctance to proceed with negotiations, but Mr. Snipes dismissed her explanations out of hand. As I have stated, in my opinion it was an embarrassing, unnecessary scene.

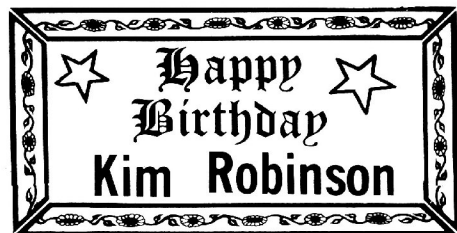

Those of us who have observed the events of the last several months can agree with Mrs. Howard that Dr. Harrell apparently lost interest in teacher contracts this next year. He publically fought, and lost, the election results of the TVCTA over the TVEO. Whether it was a clash of personalities or professional differences, from all appearances he didn't like the members of the TVCTA.

It is to be hoped that none of what has happened before will reflect on the teacher contract talks between the TVCTA and Mr. Paige. Surely negotiations between intelligent people, who have a common goal, can be just and reasonable and without bitterness. However, if that cannot be, I will console myself with thoughts of the terrific copy I'll get if there is a teacher strike at Valley.

I want to take this opportunity to wish Ruby Dawson of Akron a happy 57th birthday. She has been a very special person in my life, and I love her dearly. Have a happy day, Ruby.

Did any of you feel the shock waves from the earthquake on the Ohio-Kentucky border on Sunday? It happened at approximately 2:00 p.m., and I definitely felt it myself. I dismissed it as nothing, however, until I received two calls about it, asking if I thought we'd had an earth tremor. As it turns out, the earthquake registered 5.1 on the Richter scale and was felt from Alabama to Canada.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR:

Hot weather lowered our attendance and food sales at the Round Barn Festival, but we survived and wish to thank the many people who helped and who attended.

Actually our food tent, being in the shade and on grass instead of blacktop, was pleasant and breezy.

We tried to telephone all the Fulton County Historical Society members in the county and ask them to donate $2 toward purchasing the cornbread and buns. If any member was not reached, or has not sent his donation yet, please do.

A special thank you to the Bob Kuyoth family and Fred Shepherd for camping next to the log cabin and guarding things at night. Also to Doris Grandos, Rose Stoller and Bev Paul of Historic Fort Wayne for teaching us how to dip candles. And to Red Talbot and REACT for the player piano concert and their work at the parade.

Thank you to the craftsmen: Ike Lundberg, Dean Henderson, Bonnie Fry, Martha Wagoner, Nettie Fisher, Roy Frettinger, Rich Manuel of the Menominee Muzzle Loaders and the Yellow Hair Trading Post.

Thank you to the many volunteers who telephoned, worked at the food tent, gave guided tours, etc.

Sound off

"The Akron/Mentone NEWS must be having difficulty filling the paper when they devote a large space to such columns as 'The Other End' by T. Petrosky. I've read most of them out of curiosity and find it a big waste of time. Your subscribers deserve something more worthwhile than articles concerning one coed's campus romances and love life."

Pontius couple at home

Katrina Diane Tilden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin, R. 2, Akron, became the bride of Eric Lee Pontius, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pontius, R. 2, Macy on July 5 at 7:00 p.m. The double ring ceremony took place at the Olive Branch Church of God with the Reverend Lowell Burrus officiating.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a beige gown of embroidered lace with pearl trim. She wore a pearl chain necklace and pearl earrings that belonged to her maternal grandmother, and she carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, blue gardenias and baby's breathe.

Mrs. Maurice Murphy of Akron attended the bride as matron of honor, while the bride's daughter, Cassandra was flower girl. Guests were registered by Jana Murphy, niece of the bride.

Jerry Moore of Macy served as best man, while Justin Murphy, the bride's nephew, was the ring-bearer. Edward Martin, Akron, and Darrell Lewis, Wabash, served as ushers.

Mrs. Pontius is a graduate of Akron High School and is employed by Pike Lumber Company. Mr. Pontius graduated from North Miami High School and is a semi driver for Pike Lumber.

Following a wedding trip, the couple is residing at 307 N. Center Street, Akron.

Mentone birthday

Mrs. Ruby Smith of Mentone celebrated her 90th birthday the week of July 16th.

Many friends greeted her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Romine throughout the week. Luncheon guests on Wednesday were Mrs. Faye Bunner of Grace Retirement Village, Winona Lake; Florence Huffer, Warsaw; Golda Mollenhour, Maude Romine, Alice Brugh, Frances Olson and Gerry Clark of Mentone.

Present at a dinner on Saturday evening in her honor were Don Smith and Bob Higginbotham of Glenview, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Romine, Julie and Bev of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Romine of Indianapolis; Bob Romine of Anderson; and Maude Romine.

Ruby appreciates all the cards, gifts, telephone calls and visits she received during the week.

Meet the owners of The Country Grocer

On July 7 this year the husband-wife team of Joe Gady and Diane Weaver opened the Country Grocer, a natural food and products store, at their home south of Athens.

Their stock of items includes bulk products (such as flours, nuts and rice), juices, teas, soups, corn and potato chips, crackers, spices, pasta, sauces, snack foods, vitamins and personal care products. They have also added a refrigerated line of foods since their opening, and they now offer Kefir (a cultured milk), cold juices, Haagen-Dazs (a honey ice cream), cheeses, yogurt, salad dressings and cold snacks.

Diane and Joe decided to open the store because of the difficulty and expense of obtaining the natural foods they wanted for their personal use. They found the easiest way they could provide high quality, whole foods at a cheaper price, both for themselves and others, was to open the Country Grocer. They can and will special order products if they don't have them in stock.

The store is located in the couple's home, 1½ miles south of Athens on 650E, at the corner of 650E and 150S. Store hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

4-Hers prepare for state competition

by Eula Romayne Smith

The Perry Hathaway household is humming with activity this summer as the 4-Hers work on demonstrations. Senior division (high school students) competition is by category, so Darlene Hathaway chose both Clothing and Dairy Foods. The latter is quite appropriate since she lives on a dairy farm and has raised dairy animals during all of her nine years in 4-H. She will be showing six animals at the Kosciusko County fair this year.

In her Dairy Foods demonstration she makes a lime chiffon dessert which contains sweetened condensed milk, butter, and whipped cream.

"Frustrating Plaids" is the title of Darlene's clothing demonstration, in which she shows how to match plaid fabrics. She also used this information to make a rust and brown unbalanced plaid outfit for this year's Fashion Revue.

For her first year in senior division, a younger sister, Dorothy Hathaway, entered the Breads and Pastry demonstration contest and illustrated how to make different shapes of dinner rolls.

Another sister, Diane Hathaway, was in the Animal Science demonstration contest. She showed some of the things that a dairy farmer must do to sell good quality milk.

These three girls along with other Kosciusko County winners participated in the District Ten contest in Laporte County recently. This district is composed of counties north and west of Kosciusko. Darlene and Dorothy were district winners and will be competing at the state level during the first part of the Indiana State Fair.

These Hathaway girls are members of Burket Busy Bees 4-H Club, and their mother, Linda, is one of the leaders. Also helping with the many projects and activities of more than thirty members are Donald Hathaway and Becky and Ken Murphy.

Stephanie Murphy is another Busy Bee who won at district and will be taking her super shake with eggs to the state contest.

Younger members who have not completed a year of high school are in the Junior Division and compete against each other regardless of the topic selected. They are not eligible for state competition. Doug Hathaway selected goats as the topic for his county demonstration.

Another area club, the Mentone United 4-Hers, sent four participants to the junior division Kosciusko County demonstration contest. These were Chris Perry, Shawnee Earl, Connie West, and Betty Smith. Betty was in the district demonstration contest and also the public speaking contest.

4-H scholarships available

Young people planning careers in agriculture, or in related fields such as forestry, veterinary medicine or animal science, may be eligible for $5,000 in scholarship grants this year if they meet requirements set by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Valued at $1,000 each, the scholarships are provided by private-sector donors and are arranged by National 4-H Council, a not-for-profit organization serving the 4-H program.

One scholarship, donated by Educational Foundation of Alpha Gamma Rho, goes to a current 4-H member who will be enrolled as a college freshman this fall. The recipient must be planning to major in agriculture, forestry, veterinary medicine or a closely related field.

Allied Mills, Inc. donates scholarships to two present or former 4-Hers who will be enrolled as college juniors this fall and plan to major in animal science.

Two former 4-H members currently enrolled in a college of veterinary medicine can earn $1,000 scholarships provided by Champion Valley Farms, Inc., Recipe Division.

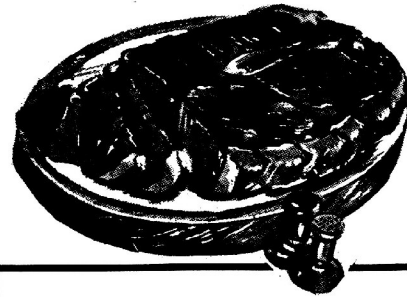

All scholarship applicants must have completed at least one year of 4-H work. Winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service and are announced prior to the 59th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30 - Dec. 4 in Chicago, Ill.

Sunflowers: an alternate energy

Waiting to be tapped as an alternate energy source in the 80's is none other than the ubiquitous sunflower. Researchers at Purdue University and throughout the country are proving that sunflower oil can be used as an effective component with diesel fuel, and may even eventually stand alone as a farm fuel.

"Sunflower oil makes sense as a fuel," Lt. Governor Orr said. "Processing the seeds is relatively simple because the fuel does not need to be fermented. All that is required is for the seeds to be crushed and for the oil to be extracted and filtered."

"Present tests have approved a blend of 25 percent sunflower oil to 75 percent diesel fuel. If further research proves it to be totally feasible, farmers could produce their own sunflower oil and blend it with diesel fuel right on their farms."

Some researchers speculate that eventually the oil may be used without diesel fuel added. The BTU content of sunflower oil is 132,000 BTU/gal., or closely equivalent to the 140,000 BTU/gal. content of diesel fuel.

The 80s may see the emergence of sunflowers as an important crop in Indiana. Sunflower crops are particularly suited to Indiana and other midwest states. Because of the short growing season, sunflowers can be doublecropped, and perhaps in some instances, even triple-cropped.

NEW 1980 PHONE BOOKS DUE IN OCTOBER

General Telephone Company of Indiana has announced the October 1980 North Manchester and Bourbon telephone directories will close to name and address changes on July 31, according to Ed Knafel, customer service manager for the company. The directory closing date will affect listings for North Manchester, Akron, Bippus, Claypool, Fulton, Macy, Sidney, Silver Lake, Burket, Mentone, Bourbon, Atwood (Etna Green), Millwood and Argos telephone customers.

Listing additional family members and commonly used first names are changes which are often thought about after a new directory reaches the home. However, these changes should be reported now so they will be properly listed in the new directory. Business addresses which will change prior to the October date should also be reported. To make the desired changes for 1980, General Telephone customers should contact the local business office indicated in the front of the current directory.

The July closing date is necessary to assure telephone customers the directory is in their homes and businesses in October.

Tips on saving fuel and money from experts at Mobil 1, a motor oil that saves gasoline.

Go easy on those brakes and save twice. Careful braking will save you the cost of buying new linings prematurely, and will also save you gasoline.

Watch what's coming up as you drive, so you can anticipate the need to slow down or stop. This enables you to dissipate energy gradually by letting the car coast to nearly a full stop, instead of jamming on the brakes at the last moment.

In fact, if a full stop isn't required, slowing down early is a real energy saver: it takes 20% more gasoline to start from a dead stop than from, say, 4 to 5 m.p.h.

Door prizes were won by Elizabeth Berkibile, Hannah Oren and Stephanie Heinzmann. Gene Matix served as chairman of this meeting for Rochester township. She was assisted by Mary Jane Van Duyn, Mary McKee, Joan Atkinson and Betty Martens.
