

Day named to lead Akron parade

Leading the parade for Akron this year will be a man who might feel out of character for the day. The man serving as grand marshal of the 1987 Akron 4th of July Celebration would be found "behind the scenes" any other year of the festivities. The 1987 grand marshal will probably want to leave his honorary position and run to the parade lineups to help any last minute emergencies that might arise. The parade Grand Marshal at Akron is Dick Day.

Dick Day has served his community well for many years. Day has been loyal to this rural town since returning to Akron in 1963 from Hammond where he had worked on the railroad. Upon returning to Akron, Dick Day and his wife Julia purchased the hardware store from Max Leckrone. In 1966 they moved the business to its present ousiness to its present location on St. Rd. 114.

Both Julia and Dick are graduates of the old Akron High School, graduating in 1947. In 1948 Dick married Julia Bidwell. They have two children, Pam and Joe, and four grandchildren.

"When you have your own business, you don't have the time to spend with your family. You can be close to your family but that is not the same as being with your family", explained Dick. In a completed explanation, Dick added, "While parents and grandparents are with their families at 5:30, I'm still in the store. I am making myself take time to go to the park to see my grandchildren play ball this year. I've missed too many of the fun times in the past.''

Loyalty to Day Hardware has just been one side of Dick Day's life. For more years has been loyal to the Akron Chamber of Commerce and to the 4th of July committees upon which he has served over the years. Day has served as director, president and vice-president of the chamber. "It is time to let the 'young ones' have chance," voiced Day, "but I will help whenever needed." Being in charge of the electrical hookups on the day of the festivities has been Dick Day's main responsibility for nearly fifteen years. Everyone on the 4th of July committee works for approximately ten months in preparation of the festival. The committee is composed of people who work well together. National Peach Month Yes...July is National Peach Month. You may not realize it, but peaches are more common in our lives than you think. During July, many people relax at the beach, lake or at poolside. What a PEACHY.keen idea! However, for the overweight person this could be a major step in realizing just who she really is. For those who have just here

Set who she really is. For those who have just begun a reduction plan and feel they haven't reached the point where they can go to the lake and feel comfortable, please try this: Set aside a day to go shopping. The night before, have your hair styled in a carefree manner, do your nails and pamper yourself. The next day, go alone and try on several one-plece swim suits. Pick the most attractive, not necesarily the skimplest, but something in good taste, something flat-tering. (An irridescent turquoise or FEACH color is good). Remember, anticipate how it will look with a tan. Next, pur-chase tanning lotion, sun screen, a pretty cover-up, sandals and an attractive beach towel and bag. These needn't be ex-pensive, but will be yours, just for you. Spend the next couple of days tanning in the privacy of your own backyard. Finally, pack a diet soda and a juicy fresh FEACH and head for the lake! Remember, three will be so many people there, you won't be singled out. Keep your courage and act as though you have been there every day. Unfold your lounge chair and relax in the sun feeling its warmth and realizing how much you tave accomplished so far. Take your raft into the water and float with the breeze letting your cares disappear. At the end of the afternoon, golden as a Georgia FEACH, you return home feeling relaxed, healthy, tan and at peace with yourself and who you are. Getting back to nature is what it's all about, good food, exercise and the out-of-doors. Being content with yourself and making YOU as good as YOU can be, not trying to be 5'10" when you are 5'2" - just think of yourself as petite; for every say blond there is a sultry brunette and for every pair of beautiful blue eyes there are rich brow nexs. Continued From Page 1 Dick added, "I consider myself a peacemaker. I hate strife and trouble, and I don't get over excited about things either. I'd rather be the one in the middle.'

Being in the middle may be*why Dick Day has been involved in the Akron Chamber of Commerce for so many years. While on the Chamber, the town has managed to help keep industries growing in Akron, willingly encouraged Wens to locate in Akron, and has brought people into the Akron community for job placement. Dick was quick to add it was not Dick Was quick to succeeded, but the Chamber working together. "I believe a school system in a town is vital to the town's survival. People are victims of habit; they shop where they end up spending their time. Take the school -- take the businesses," added the emphatic Day.

The only other subject which quickly aroused Day was his golf game. Come Thursday afternoon you will find Dick on the golf course. Jokingly Dick remarked, "If I thought I could not play golf #### again, I'd die right now!"

Although Day admits he sometimes lives in a shell type life, he is aware of the pressures facing young people today. That is why he tries to put honesty and integrity at the top of his list of virtues. "If people do not remember me for anything but these two things, I hope they remember me as an honest, sincere man. Not only as a businessman, but also as a fellow human being," pondered Day.

Dick Day is a man who takes no credit for his success. He will quickly tell everyone that his family, especially his wife Julia, and the people of Akron have given him a good life and a successful business.

"This is a great com-munity," said Day. He is proud to be a part of Akron. Working with his fellow businessmen has been an honor for Dick Day. He especially considers the Sesquicentennial celebration a success and is proud to have been a part of it.

Recently Senator Dan Quayle proposed changing Webster's definition of "hoosier" to include, "one of highest integrity; upstanding individual''. Yes Dick Day is the man who should lead the 1987 Akron 4th of July parade.

Indiana's Cities and Towns

There is no "typical" Indiana city or town. Nor does an "average" munici-pality exist. No two are alike. They do, however, share the same set of rules by which to govern, the same limitations on what they can do, the same basic sources of revenue, the same chalof lenges to improving the quality of urban life; employment, environment, economic development, public safety and well being. Aside from that, each is unique; much like each individual resident. Some cities and towns provide trash pick up, water utilities, power utilities. cemetery maintenance. animal shelters, airports, hospitals and some do not. Each, however, strives to meet the needs of those persons who live within its boundaries.

It all goes to show that Home Rule works. Locally elected officials meet local challenges and goals by taking action locally. If that sentence appears to be redundant, it really is not. to be City and town officials are elected locally, work locally and decide issues locally. Of all persons elected to office in government, only city and town office holders conduc, their official business in the immediate center of the people who elected them. So to speak, all others leave town to perform their elected duties at the capitols of the state and nation.

Cities and towns cannot rely on any single source of income to meet the costs of the services they provide. Local property taxes, local user fees, local option income taxes, state-collected fuel, tobacco and alcohol taxes, and shares of countycollected motor vehicle, financial institution, food and beverage, innkeeper and aircraft license taxes are traditional sources. Although a few federally funded pro-grams remain in municipalities, U.S. domestic program reductions and deletions have been so severe that cities and towns cannot rely on federal government agencies to help deliver local services

Reducing the federal deficit and cutting federal spending means increasing the tax load elsewhere. Tax payers are all the same. They may pay less in federal taxes. but the state and local costs will rise as a result of the

Young Athletes Need Help Too by Bill Brooks

Much publicity has been given lately to athletes with alcohol/drug problems.

The New England Patriots' drug hullabaloo is welldrug hullabaloo is well-known to readers of the sports pages. One former college basketball player had run-ins with the law on three occasions, two of which involved alleged drinking while under the influence. Len Bias, cager, and Don Rogers, NFL player, are dead of cocaine use.

The National Football League is in a big sweat about voluntary or mandatory urinalysis for team members to determine drug use. Coaches in high school and college are becoming more concerned about the devastating effects of drinking and drugging on their athletes. # "Street Scene" Progressing

Beautifying Mentone has been the goal of these ladies as they have planted the barrel tubs located in the downtown area. Pauline Riner, June Reed, Lea Hudson, and VI McGowen have all helped the flower planting. (NEWS Photo)

Have you noticed the new flower-filled barrels on Main Street in Mentone? They are the result of a new group formed in Mentone. The group organized as a result of a few individuals wanting to do something to improve the town. "The Street Scene", as the group has been named, became a reality when just a few interested people met for the first time a few weeks ago and started putting their ideas and goals into action.

Before the work even began, a $50 donation was made. Since then the ball has been rolling. The group organized with an election of officers. Vi McGowen serves as treasurer, Marj Sanders as secretary, June Reed as vice-president, and Lea Hudson as president.

According to Lea Hudson, the Street Scene's goal is to make Mentone the "prettiest little town in Indiana".

Members of the community have donated flowers, dirt, money, barrels and time to the project to make Mentone more beautiful. Anyone with

Are your fireworks legal? If you buy fireworks which are illegal in Indiana, are you committing a crime? If a vendor tells you fireworks which are illegal in Indiana can be purchased by promising to take them out of state, is he telling the truth? Hoosiers often are mistaken about the purchase and use of fireworks which are classified as illegal in Indiana

For many years, Fourth of July celebrants believed they were not doing anything wrong if they signed for fireworks labeled illegal in Indiana. Vendors often tell consumers they may buy the illegal fireworks by signing for them and promising to take them out of state.

A 1986 Indiana Supreme Court ruling discounts that belief by stating fireworks salesmen cannot have their customers "sign a form and then hand them a paper bag of cherry bombs."

The sale and purchase of fireworks not classified for sale in Indiana is illegal. Anyone who sells, uses or is in possession of illegal fireworks commits a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for up to one year and a fine of up to $5,000.

Fire Marshal Larry Bosell says the governor gives state police arrest powers at firevorks sites from June through the Fourth of July. Bosell says his office and the state police shut down an illegal operator in Lake illegal County in mid-June and says more raids are planned before the holiday.

Normally, arrests related to fireworks are made by the State Fire Marshal's office, but the state police assist during the holiday. Lt. Melvin Carraway says police will target the sale and use of illegal fireworks during their investigations.

Approved fireworks, which can be offered for sale to and for use by consumers, are dipped sticks or wire sparklers; cylindrical and cone fountains; illuminating torches; wheels; flitter sparklers; ground spinners; snakes or glow worms; smoke devices and trick noisemakers such as party poppers, booby traps, snappers and trick matches. Parents should examine fireworks purchased by their children to make certain they bought legal fireworks. The state fire marshal says child-ren of any age should be supervised when lighting fireworks

If children buy fireworks for use in Indiana, parents should notify police of the State Fire Marshal to assist in finding the source. Reputable dealers will not sell illegal fireworks to a young person, and probably realize that person will not be taking the fireworks out of state

Dealers who follow the law and have concern for public safety will have the required permit from the State Fire Marshal.

It is important that consumers follow these rules to keep themselves and their children from being injured on the Fourth of July. Violations of the law occur every year, resulting injuries to adults in and children.

Federal officials estimate 81 percent of fireworks injuries happen to people under age 25. Fifty-seven percent of those injuries happen to teenagers under age 15. Statistics show boys and young men receive the most injuries from accidents related to fireworks.

Hoosiers celebrating the Fourth of July should follow these safety tips:

*Store fireworks from direct sunlight in a dry, cool area.

*Keep a bucket of water to extinguish firehandy works which malfunction

*If fireworks malfunction or do not light, do not try to light them again. Pour water on them and throw them away

Tina Feldman and Rachelle Feldman are helping Pastor Jarboe in handling the American flag. Many of our young people have not been taught the proper way to respect a flag. How many times have you gone to a public event and heard all of the giggling, laughing, and talking when the National Anthem is being played or sung. Isn't it about time parents, teachers, and all adults teach respect for or flag? (NEWS Photo)

*Do not point fireworks at another person, or throw fireworks near others. *Read the dire directions before lighting the fireworks. *Light only one fuse at a time. Once the fuse is lit, step away. Make certain others are out of the way. *Do not ignite fireworks in a container.

*Do not allow unsuper-vised children to ignite fireworks or play with them in any manner. *Light fireworks outdoors in a clear area away from houses and flammable materials.

Mentone seeking law help

The Mentone Town Board is seeking the assistance of the Kosciusko County Sheriff's Department to provide law enforcement services to the town. Town Board President Miriam Boardman has requested a county deputy who would regularly patrol the town. The deputy's salary could be subsidized by the town of Mentone.

According to Boardman, Mentone is often without law enforcement assistance because of the town's location. Mentone is located in the southwest corner of Kosciusko County with the county's law enforcement concentrating on the northern lakes area of the county. Mentone's most recent town marshal, Russell Hart, resigned his position in March, and two reserve officers have been used since then contractual agreement between Mentone and the sheriff's department would likely require approval by the commissioners, according to county auditor J.D. Geiger. The county council would also have to approve the agreements if county tax revenues are used.

The request was taken into consideration by the commis-sioners even though they speculated it would spark similar inquiries from other small towns in the county.

The commissioners must also untangle questions about the use of tax revenue monies for the proposed issue. Possible intergovern-mental unit agreements could be legally arranged. ccording to County Attorney Rex Reed.

 National Ice Cream Week July 1241

 Description

 In this world, there are two kinds of people, loce cream lovers and loc cream neaters. I am what Is diagnosed as a "seasonal ice cream neaters. I am what Is buds perk up at the thought of cold, smooth, sweet loc cream.

 National Ice Cream Week Is July 12-18, National Ice Cream Month is July and National Ice Cream Day is July 12. Many, many kinds of Ice cream are available, too numerous to runntious. Have you given thought to how many ways loc cream might be enjoyed? Here are just a few:

 We continue with soft serve and hard ice cream. Ice ream Mos be purchased in cartons, plastic tubs, in bars, on sticks, sandwiches, squares, sugar cones and plain cones as well as in a cake roll. Ice cream and so be used for malts, succompanied by fruit such as strawberries, cake, shortcake accompanied by fruit such as strawberries, cake, shortcake and cockles.

Various toppings can be added to ice cream although ce cream can be a topping itself such as on pie (ala mode), on brownies, on cobbler, on bananas for a banana split and waffles

No one knows when ice cream was first made, but English colonists probably brought recipes to America in the aardy 1700's. Almost all ice cream was made at home until 1851. That year, Jacob Fussell, a Baltimore milk dealer, stabilished the first ice cream plant. Ice cream became a na-ional favorite during the early 1900's after soda fountains in-roduced sodas, sundaes and other new ways of serving it. ce cream cones were first served at the 1904 World's Fair in 3t. Louis and ice cream bars appeared in 1921.

About half the ice cream sold in the United States is anilia. Chocolate and strawberry rank next in popularity. Ice ream is served in many parts of the world but Americans eat nore than anyone else with the average American eating bout 23 quarts per year. (My bet is they love every bite!) Ice cream, I'm sorry to say is high in calories. However, ecause of carbohydrates and fats, it is also a good source f energy. So, my advise to all you ice cream lovers is, if you vant to have your cake and eat it too, top it off with your avorite ice cream and exercise those calories away with a mile on your face!

Charles Irelan has announced that his firm has purchased the local Pure, Milk Association building, located just east of the elevator, and has already started to raze the building. Mr. Irelan plans to build a grain storage on the location and will enlarge the building he has just started to include the land he has just bought. When completed the new storage will be a steel and concrete structure 50 feet by 144 feet. The Public Library has received as a gift three volumes of "The Interpreter's Bible."

Volumes seven, eight and nine covering the first six books of the New Testament were given as a memorial to the late Rev. Emil O. Wannagat of Akron by the neighbors of his son, Paul, of Palatine, Ill. The library has a memorial shelf and if at anytime anyone is interested in placing a memorial in the Public Library, you may contact the librarian, Velma Bright. Barbara Waechter has accepted a teaching position in the Battle Creek city schools for the coming year. Barbara was graduated from Ball State Teachers College in June with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. She holds a special art degree also. While at college she was a member of the Kallistra Art Club, the Association of Childhood Education, and Pi Beta Phi national sorority.

Miss Susan Boswell was guest of honor at a surprise party on July 3rd, her fifteenth birthday. Her mother, Mrs. Joe Boswell, Barbara and Tommy Joe entertained Ann Wildermuth, Patsy Hartzler, Mary Ann Meredith, Karen Hammond, Sandra McCloughan, Sharon Masteller, Diane Drudge, Mrs. Lonzo Meredith, Suzanna Harter and Susan at a swimming party at Lukens Lake. Afterwards they returned to the Boswell home for supper.

Here's How! Revealing facts shown on county government costs

To help assure the best local government services for taxpayer money spent, the Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc., has released the 1987 County Government Statistical Report.

Included is the percentage of personal/real property in each of the state's 92 counties that is farm property. New laws passed by the 1987 General Assembly affecting county government are also explained.

The primary purpose of the report, printed in hand-book form, is to provide help in analyzing local tax and budget review problems.

The report makes it easy for people in one county to compare their expenditures with those in a similar county. In some instances, the handbook is being used by university government classes and school civics classes.

In this era of economic competition, the merger of these two related agencies will help keep Indiana competitive in attracting new industries to the state. In 1985, Governor Orr delegated responsibility for employment and training programs in Indiana to Mutz. Under Indiana statute, Mutz became director of the Department of Commerce, responsible for economic growth and development, when his term as lieutenant governor began in 1981. Since employment and training are both extremely vital to the state's economic growth it "makes perfect sense to bring employment, training, and economic growth into one house under one umbrella," said Mutz.

Agreeing with the state's goal to streamline services, many local and county employment and training branches are co-locating staff from both (IESD and JTPA)

Torch lighting ceremony to spark state games

Color and pageantry are magic words for the Opening Ceremonies of the White River Park State Games. The fifth-annual Games. The fifth-annual State Games Opening Ceremonies kick off Friday, July 10 at 7 p.m.

Held at the I.U. Track and Field Stadium on the IUPUI campus (1001 West New Street, Indianapolis), the Olympic-style festivities include a parade of athletes, bands and the lighting of the State Games flame.

"We've tried to develop a program that honors our Hoosier athletes by accenting the special nature of the Finals while providing an entertaining show as well," Brian Kimball, executive director of the State Games, says. "We have many talented people working on the ceremonies, and we're fortunate enough to have Jim Butz to put it all together.

Butz, director of Bands at Ben Davis High School, has produced and promoted numerous musical events in the Indianapolis area and has worked with several championship bands. During the past three years, he has directed Ben Davis to three state high school marching band championships.

Bob Gregory, weatherman for WTHR-TV (Indianapolis), will emcee the extravaganza which will include the Union Station Entertainment Company performing Indiana Music, the Anderson High School Band (State Fair champions in 1985-86) and a rainbow of color provided by more than 5,000 athletes on parade, clad in the colors of their regions.

The lighting of the State Games flame, a uniting of torch runs from each of the eight regions, caps off the evening as Jeff Keith and Sneakers administer the Athlete's Oath. Keith lost a leg to cancer and then ran across the country to raise money for cancer research. Keith's appearance is made possible by Brightwood Moving and Storage, Indian-apolis agent for United Van Lines. Brightwood was the

Sweltering temperatures may have slimmed the crowd at the Arts in the Park held last Saturday at Mentzer Park, but they did not reduce the talents and exhibited at the event. skills Various local craftsmen displayed their wares for the visitors. It was a time to chat with friendly people. For those who had a little energy, the nature trail provided an educational as well as an enjoyable type of entertainment. For those who chose to sit under a shade tree, various types of entertainment including vocalists, guitarists, cloggers and even a story teller were on hand.

Sponsored by the Lawrence Bell Museum, the event brought together many different types of cultural arts for the visitors. There were items ranging from paintings, sketchings, wood-working, and rug making just to name a few.

Several drawings were held throughout the day with

The Perils of Picnics
The season of picnics is now upon us whether it be at the beach, park or in our own yard. Along with the ants and various assorted insects come desserts and foods we may not have been allowing in our diets the past several months.
How do we make it thru the season and still remain at our present weight?
First, we don't necessarily have to consume all the foods at the picnic. But, it tempfation gets the best of us, be sure and exercise some of the calories away by hiking, swimming, walking paths, volleyball, softball, badminton, etc.
Let's face it, if we don't groan from exercise we will groan from earrying around excess pounds on frames which dessert. Fresh fruit such as strawberries, apples and oranges are easy to take. Chicken could be substituted for franks and hamburgers. However, if burgers are your passion, have one, just make it without the bun! Don't forget the loce tae with sweetener and die colas.

Be sure and put away food after the meal has been compieted. One big temptation is sitting at the picnic table with

HOME TOWN PAPER

- There's something about the most of us,
- No matter where we go
- We have within a longing; At least I've found it so:
- To keep in touch with loved ones While wandering up and down,
- And we love to see the paper From the old home town.

It receives a hearty welcome As it makes its regular round Telling us of our old friends, And where they may be found:

It just sorter keeps together-Heart strings once entwined:

It's the voice from our old home town Where town and paper seem combined.

The Indiana Department of Human Services won the 1987 Golden Apple Award for an innovative program to promote nutrition and fit-

The national organization recognized the Indiana Department of Human Services for its 1987 Nutrition Awareness Day program, which used a major sporting event, the Pan American Games, to stress the importance of nutrition and exercise.

Indiana's Nutrition Aware ness Day, sponsored by the Aging Services Division of the Indiana Department of Human Services, was held March 25, using the theme, "Peak Performance with Good Nutrition." The menu featured Latin American food dishes which were served to older Hoosiers at 450 meal sites across the state of which the local sites participated

To inform senior citizens about the countries participating in the games, each person who ate lunch received a package of 12 cards. A recipe for a popular food dish from 12 of the participating countries was featured on one side of the card and a description of the country was written on the other side Nutrition Awareness Day participants also were eligible for a drawing for 16 pairs of tickets to Pan American Games events.

Indiana to be site of filming

"Eight Men Out" a major motion picture will be filmed in Indiana this fall. Lt. Governor John Mutz has announced

Black Sox Inc., a pro duction company based in New York, will film the movie using various sites throughout Indiana. The film will focus on the 1919 World Series, which actually took place in Chicago. One of the reasons Black Sox Inc. selected Indiana over several other possible sites was because of the historical look of Bush Stadium.

"We're very excited that another major motion picture will be produced in Indiana," Governor Mutz, Lt. said LL. Governor Mutz, "With the success of 'Hoosiers.' we've realized what a successful motion picture can do for the economy of Indiana." "Eight Men Out" will be directed by John Sayles, who also wrote the script. Sayles, a well-respected writer and director, has written several other major motion picture scripts including "The scripts including Howling."

The production company will bring in approximately 100 production personnel from various other production centers, but the company will also hire crew cast members from and Indiana.

"While we cannot release exact dollar figures for this movie's budget, the movie will have approximately the which was $2.5 million," Mutz added. "Thirty to fourty percent of any production budget will stay in the state where the filming took place."

Black Sox Inc. has already begun pre-production in Indiana. The pre-production stage will continue through late September. Filming will begin in mid-September and continue for nine weeks.

The Indiana Film Commission has been working with Black Sox Inc. Film been scouting locations and researching this project since mid-April. The company made the final decision not only because of Bush Stadium, but also because only other necessary settings could be found within the state. "We already know what Indiana has to offer," Mutz continued. "The rest of the country is just beginning to find out!

THE AKRON-MENTONE NEWS - July 15, 1987 "Philadelphia Story" opens at Wagon Wheel

The richest comedy of the summer, "The Philadelphia Story," will be the next attraction at the Wagon Wheel Playhouse from July 15 through July 26.

When this comedy was first produced in New York, it ran for over a year and provided Katherine Hepburn with her most notable stage role: Tracy Lord. That role is to be portrayed by the equity actress Wendy Robie.

A view of the wealthy and A view of the wealthy and fashionable Philadelphia Lord family is afforded through the eyes of two magazine reporters, who push into the families activi-ties on the day before the ties on the day before the daughter's second marriage. Tracy finds herself, one hour prior to the wedding ceremony, in the dazzling dilemma of having to choose between three men eager to be her groom - her fiance, the former husband and the outrageous magazine reporter. Tom Roland and Ann Whitney will portray Tracy's aristocratic parents, while Laura Donnelly and Bill Bush will play the inquisitive reporters. Others in the Wagon Wheel Playhouse presentation will include: John Brett, Jim Tillet and Scott Mikita

The Philadelphia Story is the third show in the Wagon Wheel Playhouse summer line-up including "Show Boat," "Mister Roberts," Boat," "M and "Cole"

For ticket reservations and information, call the Wagon Wheel box office at 219-267-8041.

"Medigap" insurance may be needed to pay bills

If you are eligible for or eceive Medicare, do you receive need another insurance policy?

Medicare is the federal government program which pays hospital and medical expenses for the aged and needy.

Contrary to what many people think, Medicare does not cover long term nursing care. Medicare recipients might want to consider "medigap" insurance to pay for those items not covered by Medicare.

Medicare does not cover all hospitalization and skilled nursing costs. An insurance policy to bridge that gap might be a good idea to adequately cover all a patient's needs.

Consumers should use caution when determining which type of insurance is needed to bridge that gap. One policy should adequate. Minnesota passed legislation in 1983 3 pro-agents hibiting insurance agents from selling more than one "medigap" insurance policy to elderly consumers after learning some consumers had been taken advantage of. In one case there, an elderly consumer had been sold 70 and health insurance life policies in a five-year period.

Hospitalization benefits are paid for by Medicare for the first 50 days with the exception of deductibles. A supplemental policy should cover the deductible.

Qualifications for the supplemental insurance should be the same as those for Medicare.

Co-payments for skilled nursing care from the 21st through 100 days should be covered in the supplemental policy. Coverages should be examined, as they can vary with the policy. Supplemental insurance may or may not include a private duty nurse; extra charges, such as those for telephone and television; partial ambulance costs and pints of blood before Medicare covers the cost. Hospitalization benefits on supplemental policies usually supplement Medicare benefits. But, "medigap" insurance only supplements Medicare when Medicare is not enough - it will not pay where Medicare will not pay.

While Medicare does cover certain after-hospitali-zation care, this is only for skilled nursing home care There are other require requirements.

The facility must be certified and approved by Medicare. The patient must have been in a hospital for at east three days, then enter the health care facility within a month after discharge from the hospital. The stay in the skilled nursing home must be for the same illness that required the hospitalization.

Skilled nursing home care covered by Med includes the first 20 Medicare days with Medicare paying all the costs. The next 80 days require a deductible to be paid by the patient. Good "medigap" insurance policies will pay this copayment deductible.

Once more than 100 days have passed, the benefits of Medicare are gone unless patient is out of the facility 60 consecutive days After that, Medicare may again kick in if the other requirements are met. Medicare does pay for home health care after a patient has been discharged from the hospital.

Pearson says things to look for in supplemental insurance include: for *One good policy is better than several policies with overlapping coverage.

*Check the pre-existing clause which can eliminate or reduce coverage for present illness

*Take your time in deciding which policy is best for you

*Most companies give you at least 10 days to review the policy. You can always send it back if you change your mind.

*Do not switch policies unless your present policy is totally inadequate.

*Never pay cash for an insurance policy. Always pay by check, money order or bank draft.

*If a salesperson tells you he is from Medicare, or the government, call the authorities since such representation is illegal.

Burket plans fire station improvements

The Burket Town Board has decided to begin pricing materials for needed repairs at the fire station.

The board will be doing most of the work, including painting the back of the fire station, resealing the roof with tar and installing two new walk-in doors. The old doors are made of metal and have holes rusting through them

In addition, there is a need for a new eaves trough on the back of the fire station because water is currently running off into neighboring yards

The board plans to hire install the someone to trough.

In other business, it was reported that chipping and sealing is almost done for the vear, and there is enough money for one additional street. The board decided to chip and seal Railroad Street with the leftover funds

Next month, the board will begin writing town ordi-nances. The town board has consulted attorney Michael Valentine to determine "how to go about getting them started and made legal."

After the board writes the ordinances, they will re-contact Valentine so that he can write them using legal terminology before they are adopted.

Budget meetings have been tentatively set for Aug. 10 and 17.

The Akron Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring a Sidewalk Day on Saturday, August 1. Local citizens are invited to take advantage of the opportune time to have a garage sale or to sell their handmade items.

Part of SR 331 closed for some repairs

The Indiana Department of Highways (IDOH) has closed a section of SR. 331 in Fulton County. On Monday, that stretch of highway from its' intersection with SR, 110/SR to SR. 10 was closed to traffic.

The purpose of this closure is to repair the Norfolk and Western Railroad crossing in the town of Tippecanoe. During this closure, traffic is being detoured across SR. 25, SR, 19 and SR, 10, Work is expected to be completed and the road re-opened by July 31, 1987. Until then, motorists should be aware that this re-routing does add 8 miles driving distance and they should make whatever changes might be necessary in their travel plans

Do-It-Yourself Disaster Whoever said, "Don't throw away that lawn chair, reweb it yourself!" should be taken out and whipped! We have numerous lawn chairs at home and in the past I've rewebbed them with good results. However, my advise to anyone thinking of undertaking this project is...have concen-tration and peace and quiet. These things were missing as I attempted this simple task. The result - a chair like you've never seen before!

tration and peace and quiet. These things were missing as I attempted this simple task. The result - a chair like you've never seen before! After gathering all the necessary tools such as a screwdriver, scissors and a new roll of webbing, I went onto the deck where a pleasant breeze was blowing. Inspection of the chair revealed over half the strips of webbing torn or thin. So, wanting to be thorough, off came all the webbing screws - all at one time. The new webbing was in a roll and as I turn-ed to move the chair I caught the roll of webbing as it started to fall. WhewI Do you realize what might have happened if the roll were to have rolled away? Later I found out. At last, the first two rows were done and securely in place. "What a cinch," I thought to myself. (Rule number 1, don't brag until you have finished.) Then it happened, our dog decided to sit next to me and on top of the screwdriver. Of course, she wouldn't move, so I leaned over to push her to the side and the roll of webbing rolled off my lap, across the deck and down the steps! Naturally, I had to retrieve it. When I returned I was relieved to find the dog had moved. I quickly grabbed the screwdriver and placed another row of webbing in the chair. Problem: No scissors to cut the webbing. I look-ed high and low - NO SCISSORS! Suddenly as the dog yawn-d it dawned on me where they might be. You guessed it -under the dog! -under the dog!

While maneuvering the dog to get the scissors, the wind picked up and yours truly found herself chasing old strips of webbing over what seemed like half the county. Exhausted, hot and out of sorts by then, I scolded the dog, anchored down anything that might blow away and preceded to add another strip to the chair.

Just then, Collin yelled the results of the Cubs game and caught me off guard dropping a screw which went between the boards in the deck Settling underneath in the gravel. After searching the junk drawer and having screws all sizes but what I needed, I gathered the yard stick and chewing gum. With the chewed gum on the end of the yard stick, I carefully lowered the stick thru the boards pressing the gum to the screw. I carefully lifted the stick back up on the deck and once again added another row of webbing. At last, done! As I checked the rows which were suppos-ed to be over-under-over-under-over. they somehow turned ed to be over-under-over-under-over, they somehow turned out to be over-over-under-over-under-under! In all the excitement, the webbing was in the wrong sequence! By the end of the afternoon, the family had closed the patio dcor due to my incessant complaining, the dog cowered in her house and sighs of relief echoed as I an-nounced, "The chair is done!"

PINS FOR ADDED STRENGTH?

If you've ever watched the construction of a concrete building you probably wondered why the concrete was poured over those reenforcing steel posts. The theory is simple - reenforced concrete is stronger and lasts longer. The same principle is often used in dentistry when a larger than normal restoration (filling or crown) is required to repair a hardly decayed tooth.

If sufficient tooth structure does not remain after all the decay is removed, there is a good chance that an ordinary silver amalgam filling will result in a poorly supported restoration with limited life capacity. To solve the problem, extra support can be added by the use of the threaded pin system. The dentist will screw in gold pins into the dentin (the part of the tooth just below the surface enamel). The more plins that can be "safely" inserted (with no nerve or tooth damage), the greater the chance of a long-lasting filling. The plins are then covered with the restorative material and shaped into the natural contour of the tooth.

Local dairy producers Ralph and Mary Dickey of Silver Lake, who were named district winners of Milk Marketing Inc.'s (MMI) Young Cooperator program, recently completed a three day educational seminar conducted for YC partici-pants from the eight state MMI area. The program was held in Strongsville, Ohio, near the headquarters location of MMI, the regional farmer owner cooperative.

The Dickeys along with 50 other dairy producers, heard reports from keynote speaker Congressman Dennis Eckart (D-11th District, Ohio), who told the producers that it's vital to stay involved in the political process because Congress needs professional guidance from those most experienced in their prospective industries. The YC winners also heard reports from MMI Board President Herman M. Brubaker and General Manager Gordon Riehl about the latest development within the dairy industry.

The Dickeys operate a 460-acre farm located three miles east of Silver Lake As MMI members, they cooperatively market the milk produced by their cow herd.

MMI is an 8,000 member dairy farmer owned cooperative encompassing an eight midwestern area including Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Michigan. York, Kentucky, Maryland and West Virginia. Last year MMI marketed more than 4.5 billion pounds or 523 million gallons of milk.

The Indiana Experience, or IND*EX for short, will open to the public on July 25, 1987. Located in the southeast corner of the Union station train shed, the 14,000 foot futuristically square designed museum will offer a comprehensive view of Indiana's past, present and future. The Indiana Experience is dedicated to stimulating informing and educating visitors about the state of Indiana. The festivities for the grand opening day will include Hoosier celebrities as well as national celebrities entertainment all red around the and centered around inaugural temporary exhibit dedicated to the Pan American festival entitled, "Universal Languages, Sports and Art."

The museum houses over 500 unique artifacts, displays and pieces of history and the future all from and about the Hoosier state. Included in the rare exhibits is a 1911 garage setting, complete with a 1911 Auburn auto-mobile, a 113 foot moving walkway, exhibits on famous Hoosiers, industry and commerce throughout the state, communications, and sports. The museum gift shop contains merchandise that is either made in Indiana or relates to Indiana. Visitors from out of state will hopefully get an idea of the community strength, growing technological advances and cultural in tours or the museum in general, please call 317-635-7933.

Kosciusko County Fair gets underway August 2

Sunday, August 2 marks the beginning of the 4-H Fair activities for nearly 950 Activities for hearly 950 Kosciusko County youth. This year's fair gets under-way on the 2nd, and promises fun, excitement, and keen competition for 4-H club members as well as spectators.

Many 4-H club members will be having their projects judged next week in the pre-fair judging activities taking place on the fairgrounds in Warsaw. Tuesday, July 28 marks the beginning of 4-H project judging for those club judging members participating in the 4-H General Projects. Some of the judging taking place on the 28th include: Small Engines, Electricity, Model Rocketry, Photography, Woodworking, Personality, Forestry, Wildlife and Forestry, Wildlife and Computers just to name a few. On Wednesday and Thursday, July 29 and 30, project judging for the Home Economics and Crafts projects will take place. Many Kosciusko County 4-H Club members will have their exhibits in Foods, Food Preservation, Clothing Construction, Cake Decorating and Gift Wrapping judged on those days.

Sunday, August 2 marks the beginning of the live animal judging contests. 4-H members who have trained their family dogs for the past 16 weeks will have the oppor-tunity to exhibit their dog's skills and their own skills as a trainer during the 4-H Dog Show on Sunday, Also on Sunday, 4-H members who participated in the 4-H Cat project will exhibit in the 4-H Cat Show on the Kosciusko County Fairgrounds.

Monday, August 3 is the date set for the 4-H Tenure Awards program scheduled for 7:00 p.m. at the Warsaw High School Auditorium. This annual awards program is sponsored by the Kosciusko County Farm Bureau, Inc. and gives recognition to many outstanding 4-H members who have members who have completed 7, 8, 9, or 10 years of 4-H club work. Also on Monday evening is the 4-H Fashion Revue and the coronation of the 1987 coronation of the 1987 Kosciusko County 4-H King and Queen. All of these activities mark the culmination of years of 4-H club work for many of the award recipients.

Livestock exhibitions and judging contest get under way on Tuesday. August 4 beginning with the judging of the 4-H Poultry. Pigeons and Waterfowl. Also being judged on Tuesday include the 4-H Rabbits and Swine 4-H Beef, Dairy Goats, Dairy Steers, Ponies and Sheep Classes will be judged on Wednesday during the fair. with the 4-H Dairy Show and the Supreme Showman the Contest on Thursday, August

Friday at the fair marks one of the highlights for many 4-H club members with the 4-H Club Livestock Auction beginning at 10:00 a m. The auction provides an opportunity for 4-H members to show their top animals and offer them for sale to the many 4-H Club supporters throughout the county. Many husinesses cornorations organizations and individuals show their support for 4-H club work through their support of this annual event.

Saturday is the last day of the fair, but there are certainly no fewer activities for the many fair spectators to observe and participate in. At the horse arena, there are 4-H and Open Class Horse Shows all day. Other Open Class livestock competitions on Saturday include the Open Class Dairy Show and Open Class Sheep Show both scheduled for Saturday, August 8, and the Open Class Dairy Goat Show on Sunday, August 9.

Exhibit buildings will be open all week from 10:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. each day of the fair for the viewing pleasure of our many 4-H fair and of course goers the livestock barns will be open to view 4-H members livestock exhibits as well. The 1987 Kosciusko County Fair promises something for everyone. Plan to participate in the many free contests and activities, stroll through the agriculture and home economics exhibits, and attend one or more of the exciting grandstand activities at the fair this year. The 1987 Kosciusko County Fair really does have something for everyone!

Citizens groups to monitor hazardous materials problems

Attorney General Linley Pearson says county commis sioners in Indiana are going to be responsible for co-ordinating the appointment of a citizens' group, which includes media represen-tatives, to monitor hazardous materials problems in local communities. Pearson says local planning committees will allow communities to coordinate emergency response plans, and establish procedures for handling environmental emergencies.

The committees are to be nominated in August by local commissioners and interested persons should contact the commissioners to express their willingness to serve.

Among those the commis sioners are to include in the committees are broadcast and print media representatives to help coordinate needed information on the extent of any environmental emergency situation.

Also the commissioners are expected to include elected local officials, law enforcement, firefighting, first aid, health and hospital personnel and others who would be helpful in handling environmental emergency.

Local committees will be expected to draft an emergency response plan by October, 1988

The attorney general says the local committees are part of an overall community awareness effort spurred by recent Congressional action and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on right-to-know requirements. The effort also incor-porates rules that require ponar-industries that use, or store one or more extremely dangerous chemicals to notify the local mergency state emergency response agency and local fire departments of the type of chemicals at the industry by March, 1988.

The state emergency response commission was appointed last April by Governor Orr. The State Emergency Response Commission was given the task of coordinating districts and insuring county commissioners follow through on establishing a emergency response local committee.

The effort toward local preparedness plans is to involve the community and media in finding out what chemicals are in the community and how to deal with problems involving those chemicals.

The media will serve as the public's conduit for information about any problem or emergency involving chemicals, Pearson says. In communication past, lapses left the media and, consequently, the public in the dark about the nature of an emergency and the steps being taken to deal with the emergency.

Local individuals must be nominated by county commissioners by August 10, 1987. The State Emergency Response Commission must officially appoint those people before August 17, 1987

The attorney general says some counties have existing emergency teams already, such as civil defense operations, which could incorporate environmental emergencies into its program. The local emergency response team will be expected to deal in four broad areas - hazard analysis and vulnerability, com-munity awareness, response and preparedness and training.

Dear fellow Hoosiers:

Nearly one year ago, an incredible event happened in In-diana that captured the hearts of this nation. It was called the "Hoosier Hay Express" and it was an outpouring of neighborliness that extended far beyond the Hoosier state the "Hoosier Hay Express and the Hoosier state neighborliness that extended far beyond the Hoosier state lines. Literally hundreds of Hoosiers volunteered their time and energy to help our neighbors in the southeast who were experiencing a devastating drought. Farmers from nearly every county in Indiana opened their hearts and their barns to their fellow farmers in South Carolina and donated over 2,000 tons of hay. Never have I been more proud to be the igreat state than I was on July 29, 1986 when a mile-long train of Hoosier hay pulled into Columbia, South Carolina. A year has passed, and although these are still challeng-ing times in agriculture, Mother Nature has blessed uss of an ion with a good growing season and we can be thankful that another hay train won't be needed this year. I hope every Hoosier will take a moment on July 29 and join with me in saluting those who made the "Hoosier Hay bond the instand for making the words "Hoosier Hospitality" more than just a slogan. Sincerely, John M. Muiz Lieutenant Governor Commissioner of Agriculture

The Dental Dispute My first dental visit with our oldest son went without op-position. The first visit with my second son, however, was quite different, one we will never forget, including the den-tist!

tist! As do other parents, we tend to believe one child will react to an experience much the same as another. We chang-ed our minds soon after Collin's first visit to see our dentist for his preschool check-up. Chris needed another exam and my thought was to have him show C.J. how to behave. Somehow Collin didn't take the hint. As the time approached, Chris and I went to the car, got in and noticed Collin wasn't with us. I went back to the house and found him declaring, "I'm not going!" Well, of course, he had to go and I set about escorting him to the back seat of the car.

and found him declaring. "I'm not going!" Well, of course, he had to go and I set about escorting him to the back seat of the car. All the way to Rochester, the longest 10 miles I've ever diven, he kept crying and saying. "I'm not going inside." I kept looking in the mirror with flashing eyes and flared nostrils and Chris sat staring straight ahead. At last, we arrived at the office. Chris got out, I got out and Collin sat with his arms crossed in the back seat! He immediately informed me that he wasn'i going in. I quickly pulled him out of the car riguring he would have to go in the office once outside. Wrong again! Finally, out of the car we made our way to the office and coared but got nowhere, He was n't solve the other of the day and coared but got nowhere. He was not to be maneuvered into the office. It was obvious that the unstop-pable force had met the immovible object! This was it...! HAD to get him inside. The song "I Am Woman" raced thru my mind as "I Am Mother, hear me roar" and believe me, I roared. My credability as a mother was at stake. All at one I told Chris to get inside the office and pull while I was outside pushing as Collin barred himself in the doorway! I was mortified as we entered the office I ull of a suden the dentist saw our predicament and announced to Collin hat low children to act like that in his office. CJ. Jinstantly stopped crying -for 15-20 seconds - and began again. The dentist saw our going in the hart hanks to an A-1 dentist, had two tiny cavities filled with no trouble. Little did we all know it would be a "New Beginning" in understanding our dentist and how understanding, heafth and how understanding, heafth and the all who further episodes like this.

Carol Ruth. There is always something new under the sun. The Akron News takes a genuine pride in being among the first to sponsor "The Bride Wakes Up" a full-length feature picture, directed and filmed in Hollywood, with a competent cast to interpert the appealing story of a Cooking School. Women young and old, and men too, will appreciate the humaness of this romantic screen story, in which home problems have been approached from an entirely new angle. In fact, there are close-ups of a new chocolate layer cake and a lemon chiffon pie that are destined to send the hungry audience hustling home to duplicate the cuinary triumphs. Free recip sheets each day will provide added incentive. Never the wizardry of the camera brought a subject more closely and naturally to the watchers. It will be a real cooking class, just as though the model kitchen were right on the stage, with the exception that the view actually will be more complete for each nerson in the andlence. The outers of The News in these actually will be more complete for each person in the audience. The guests of The News in the back rows will share the same close-ups of the busy mixing bowl which are being seen in the front of the theater. Not only will the picture be free, but there will be a host of daily gifts and surprises arranged by the News and, participating firms who are joining forces to make the unusual entertainment available to the community.

DENTAL PROBLEMS OF TEENAGERS

If you have a teenager at home, among your other concerns you probably want to do whatever you can to protect his dental health. The teenage years can be critical in protecting his permanent teeth

By the time a child reaches the age of thirteen he probably has all of his permanent teeth except his hird molars or wisdom teeth. But he may also be more prone to tooth decay and the damage it can do to his teeth through neglect and poor dental health habits. Accidental injuries are common in the teenage years, and often a broken or chipped tooth may be ignored. Injuries may also cause his teeth to be pushed out of alignment, causing a bad bite and other problems.

The teenage years are the growing up years, a period in which the child is learning to think for himself and to assume responsibili-This responsibility should include concern for his dental health Regular checkups and treatment when he needs it will help prevent serious and expensive problems from developing later.

Today

Today is here, I will start it with a smile, and resolve to be agreeable; I will not criticize.

Today has one thing in which we are all equal... time. Some have a short time...others a long time. Today I cannot waste my time: the minutes I wasted vesterday are lost.

Today I am determined to improve my life and to thank God for helping me this long. I must be prepared and not be found lacking. Today should do things to Today should do things to help others along their way. Today I must not waste my time, because tomorrow I cannot use the hours of today.

I have made my success with the materials that I have; I am very rich in health. Today I will keep that smile on my face, helping all people along the way, for tomorrow, I may be God's messenger.

"Tribute to Brownie" Walter "Brownie" Zimmerman Canterbury Nursing Home, Rochester 95 Years Old - July 16, 1987

I want to pay my respect to this dear good man, who was my bus driver and friend from my first year of school through high school; as he was for my brothers and sisters, as well as neighbors and friends of ours on our school route. He was everyone's friend. We came to love and respect this dear man we all called 'Brownie

He cared and loved each one of us (his kids). He He cared and loved each one of us (his kids). He was concerned about how we did in school and remembered us on holidays and the end of school. Others would say, "We wish we rode on your bus" - but it wasn't the gifts he gave us, that made "Brownie" speical, it was the kind heart and generous spirit he had. Even after retiring, he remembered the graduates and sent cards and gifts. I remember the school board wanting to change our route and we'd have to get an at first He said

Kids and Summer activities Police Report

Does your family speak in code? by Bill Brooks

Many families with an loohol or drug problem alcohol speak in code. Does yours? Some of the following questions or statements reflect far more than just the meaning of the words. Often the speaker has a hidden feeling that he or she is trying to get across but is, for reason or another, unable to do so.

Try some of these as they may apply to your family. "What happened to you?

You are actually helping out for once!" Does this mean the speaker is really pleased with a family member's cooperation or is the speaker merely venting some anger long held inside? Or is it surprise that the other family member sincerely cares about someone else?

swallow it." What do we have have -- anger, distrust, suspicion, mixed with a dash of hope, or a dashed hope?

'You yell even if I'm home on time!'' The speaker is saying, "Here I went and did what you want me to and I get hauled on the carpet!" But is the speaker feeling anger, self-pity, justified outrage, or frustration? I've heard drinkers say, "I might as well stay here and drink. She'll only holler at me, no matter what time I get home." (This is known as rationalization and is the alcoholic's favorite weapon in his arsenal of excuses.)

L. Stephens, 50, Akron, on Indiana 14 East at 9:52 p.m. Tuesday, July 21, 1987. Neither man was hurt seriously. Both drivers were going east and Hubbard was passing Stephens on the left when Stephens turned left for an undetermined reason. The police car's lights were flashing and siren was sounding at the time. The accident to which Hubbard was going, did not result in any injuries

Howard Kerr, Akron, told police at 7:46 a.m. Monday, July 27 that his vehicle hit a deer on Fort Wayne Road near County Road 900 East.

How do teenagers keep busy during the summer? One way is through school activities. Will Hodges has been involved in the summer school program at TVHS by getting his driver's training credit.
