To the Editor:

Just remembering the past I have in my lifetime often heard it said you have about as much chance flying to the moon as doing this or that or whatever, well what seemed very impossible has been accomplished, man has reached the moon and encircled it and the best part of all returned safely.

Now we are having a controversy regarding a community hospital. You may be assured regardless of how they get a hospital it will not benefit the aged, the poor and needy or indigent people, unless you are able to pay for the services you need you may as well forget it. In Wabash, just after World War One, when people wanted to do something patriotic, they abandoned the old hospital and through public subscription and tax money they built a new hospital, regardless of financial conditions no one would be refused needed and proper care. This was short-lived. You had to have the money, someone had to be responsible for payment or you would not be admitted for treatment. I speak from personal experience, not hearsay. It was plainly stated by the hospital they had to be certain where the money was coming from and they had received every cent before they would release me.

One of those hospitals built for the needs of everyone? The same thing happened in Mansfield, O. about the same time period. We know from personal experience tsk, tsk! Be patient, but firm, with anyone who tells you flame-type air-conditioning is cheaper to install than electric, if you already have a flame-type heating system. Not so! It is actually much cheaper to install an electric central air-conditioning unit in your present heating system.

We'll be glad to show you the figures.

"... nothing so rare as a day in June..." ... unless it's someone who wants to think about home heating in the summertime. But, June is the best time of year to convert, because installation service is most available at that time. If you are interested in air-conditioning right now, why not consider a total-electric environment? That's electric heat in the winter, electric air-conditioning in the summer. And, maximum comfort and convenience the year 'round.

*Maintenance problems are not "common" with electric heat. It eliminates many of the likely trouble spots: pilot light, flue, burner. Missing, too, is the expensive annual checkup.

anyway you want it Electric heating is not a single system, but a whole "family" of options. You can choose from heat pumps, ceiling cable, baseboard units, or an electric furnace. If you desire, you could have a thermostat in every room—just the right temperature for any activity.

Buck.

MCCARTHY by Roy Cohn. This portrait of Senator Joseph McCarthy by the young lawyer closest to him in the heyday of "McCarthyism" is an extraordinary mixture of the expected and unexpected.

EXCEPT FOR ME AND THEE by Jessamyn West. These further adventures of Jess and Eliza Birdwell, the beloved hero and heroine of "The Friendly Persuasion", are cause for celebration to the millions who have met them in the author's memorable book or in its enduring film, of which Miss West was co-author. TVSC appeal denied, new action is planned

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" has become the motto of the Tippecanoe Valley school board, and in a special meeting Friday night the board voted 3-1 (David Burkett was absent and Richard Goshert voted no) to file an appeal through the legal firm of Bowen, Northam, Myers and McGivern seeking a hearing with the General Commission of the State Board of Education in the matter of the project application for the construction of high school additions at Akron and Mentone that was filed May 13, 1968 and denied Jan. 31, 1969.

The law firm was given permission to file a suit to cause the General Commission to give the local board a hearing. The right to have such a hearing was denied in a recent letter from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Former Resident Is Ordained

Gene L. Kinney, a former resident of the Akron area, was ordained by the Lutheran Church during the annual convention of the Indiana-Kentucky Synod May 19 in Bloomington. His brother, the Rev. Keith L. Kinney, Brownsburg, assisted in the ceremony.

A 1951 graduate of Akron High School, Rev. Kinney was employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D.C. until he entered the U.S. Air Force. His military duty was spent in California and Wyoming. He later attended Purdue University where he majored in mathematics and science. He taught high school in Elkhart and he would "represent any school case—either side—if they have the money to pay for it."

The motion to file the appeal was made after a previous attempt to file an appeal was rejected and follows a series of events that began in January, 1968 when the Beaver Dam school burned, creating an overcrowded condition in the corporation. After much discussion and rewording, the question of one or two schools was put to a vote in May, 1968 with the final vote being 1,828 to 1,172 for two schools. Project approval for the additions was immediately sought but was not turned down until Jan. 31, 1969. The "discussion", however, had continued with members of each "side" appearing at the State Legislature seeking action favoring its cause and with greater than usual interest in the board meetings being stimulated.

The move followed considerable discussion in which Dr. Donald VanGilder, the secretary, read excerpts from minutes dating back to Jan. 26, 1968 when the referendum was first discussed. He followed with letters between the corporation and the state office and concluded by making the motion to file the appeal. Dr. O. L. McFadden seconded the motion. Van Gilder reminded Goshert that he had promised in his campaign to honor the results of the referendum, to which Goshert replied that although he had promised to honor the referendum, he had determined the education of his children was more important than the promise. To this, Van Gilder replied that the one vote to one person idea should overshadow personal conflicts. Goshert, saying that good sense, good taste and a desire to put the children first should count for something, added that one of the attorneys had been quoted as saying

Relocatable Classrooms Approved

Permission to locate five portable classrooms at the Akron school has been given by the State Department of Public Instruction. In a letter dated May 27, 1969 and sent to TVSC Superintendent Robert Forbes, Richard W. Morrison, Director of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, said he was recommending to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Richard D. Wells, approval of the request for permission to purchase the units. He added: "This approval is granted for two years; at the end of which time these units must be removed from the site." Wells approved the request the same day.

The local school board had by 4-1 vote on April 28 approved the locating of the five units, at a total cost of $54,425.00 on the Akron school grounds. In addition, they approved purchase orders for $5,916.95 for draperies and Heywood-Wakefield furniture for the units. It was understood that additional fees would be required to set the temporaries in place.

The move, made necessary by the Beaver Dam fire, would locate K-12 at Akron for the southern end of the corporation while the northern children would still attend Burket, Talma and Mentone schools.

Valedictory Address by John Romine

EDITOR'S NOTE: This address is run at the request of Mentone principal Ernest Holcslaw.

The past four years at Mentone High School have provided a unique and unforgettable experience for each of us in the class of 1969. Both the classroom and extracurricular activities have left distinct impressions on the personality of every student seated before you tonight and these effects will continue to be seen for years to come.

It would be highly optimistic to think that every student here had received all the knowledge and all the valuable experience that he could possibly attain from this school. It would, in fact, be equally optimistic to think that even one person had done this for no person has ever learned all he could learn or accomplished all he could accomplish nor will there ever be someone who shall. To some, this view of life, in which there is no chance for utter completeness, may seem pessimistic. This is quite a natural thought because we are all hopeful by nature. In hope we find God's gift to man, the key to happiness for each life.

Unfortunately, the mere possession of hope does not guarantee happiness. Happiness comes with a combination of hope and action involving work, perseverance, and self-sacrifice directed toward a goal which, having been reached, will be set higher.

Upon reaching each new goal we receive not only financial and material rewards but also the prize of self-esteem and the sense of accomplishment which comes from a job well done.

In high school we have become used to having most of our goals set for us in the forms of assignments and tests. Some students have realized competition in reaching these goals while others have been content to go at their own pace. In life, however, we shall discover that we will be compelled to set our own goals. Today more than ever before the doubtful methods used by some people to achieve their goals are becoming widely publicized.

The rise in campus unrest and disorders is disturbing to almost all of us because we pay taxes which are used to build some of the libraries that are being burned and the administration buildings that are being forcibly seized. It is just as disturbing for many members of the older generation at least to see young people with long hair and unconventional clothing walking the streets of our cities. These so-called hippies are becoming notorious because they do what they want to do when they want to do it without regard to written and unwritten laws that society has accepted for years.

They are searching for happiness and we could easily respect their quest if they didn't violate the codes and traditions which we hold to be sacred.

We, the class of 1969, have precisely the same goals as these radicals. We want to be happy.

It is perhaps unfortunate that all people do not have basically the same concepts of what happiness is. This difference in thought has probably added more than anything else to the widening of that chasm known as the generation gap.

Oddly enough, the younger generation varies greatly in what each member thinks. Some of us will be happy to go to college to become doctors or teachers, others of us may be content to be mechanics or carpenters, and still others want to be good homemakers and mothers. No matter what field we enter we ask that you will respect us not necessarily for our material gains for how well we use this education that you have given us in the field that gives us happiness. If we are happy being a teacher let us be the best teacher, if we enjoy mechanics, let us be the best mechanic that we can be.

We don't expect you to see every point of view that we have for to do that would be to intimidate your own happiness, we would merely want you to consider our ideas before passing judgment on us.

For the many opportunities you have provided us we are grateful, and, hopefully, we will show our appreciation to you in the lives we are about to enter.

With many fond memories we say good-bye to the sheltering halls of Mentone High. However, we cannot truthfully regret leaving, for our goals here have been reached and our aspirations for the future provide us with a taste of the happiness we seek.

Arnold E. Sheets, Akron, Ind., serving as radarman on the USS Estes writes about some highlights of a recent trip to Acapulco, Mexico.

On April 28, USS Estes, commanded by captain J. B. Hansen, with Commander Amphibious Group Three, Rear Admiral Edwin M. Rosenberg aboard, set sail for Acapulco and spent four days in the fun capital of Mexico.

The visit was made to show American goodwill to the Mexican people; but it was not all one-sided. Estes sailors soon learned why Acapulco is one of the jet set's favorite playgrounds.

Fifty men from Estes, including Rear Admiral Rosenberg, paid a visit to the Latin American Orphanage in Acapulco. The visit was organized by the ship's chaplain, Lieutenant Commander E. W. Epps. The men broke out paint brushes and paint, and touched up parts of the orphanage. It was not all work, however. The men had lunch with the children, sang songs, and took time to show the children a few games.

Acapulco is a souvenir hunter's paradise. Shops line the sidewalks and peddlers roam the streets with merchandise to sell. Jewelry is plentiful as are leather goods and paintings. Bargaining is quite acceptable and in most cases expected in Acapulco. Hence, shopping is an intriguing experience.

The climate is perfect for recreation. Whether swimming or water skiing or just laying on the beach, a deep tan is almost guaranteed. Whenever the sun and a beautiful beach are combined, there have to be young ladies. Acapulco's beaches were certainly no exception. Like true sailors, the men of the amphibious force flagship, USS Estes, were there to enjoy it.

You might summarize the visit by saying the men of USS Estes had joined the jet set... in their own 12,000 ton yacht... for a vacation before leaving on an extended tour of duty overseas.

The USS Estes will be sailing for Vietnam next month and will visit Hawaii on the way to their destination.

Jim Kendall, of Akron, left for overseas today (6/4/69) for his third tour of duty aboard the USS Prichett. It was a happy surprise to discover that his ship was docked next to ours. I went over this morning and bid him farewell.

A patient at Monon was informed by his doctor that he must give up both smoking and drinking. "Look here, doctor," said the patient. "I called you for the knowledge you are supposed to possess, and you are now talking just like my wife."

Mentone has a "town council" through which it can deal with corporations as well as with individuals. A town council is sorely needed at the head of an institutional town, the same as a family needs a head to whom the members of it can look to transact its business ventures and guide it safely to success. Recently, the town of Mentone wanted and no doubt needed some protection at the railroad crossing, at the Nickle Plate tracks. The citizens wanted a gate, and commenced negotiations through its council. But the railroad got off as cheap as it could and rather than to go into court, the railroad company agreed to put in an electrical bell as an agent to warn the people of danger when crossing the tracks.

Francis Kreig, conductor on the Winona Interurban from Peru to Chili, was here a day or two this week on business. He is getting very anxious to make the runs clear through to Winona.

Does Pop flop right on the living room couch, taking up the space of three people? Is he always growling that he's not comfortable even there? Does he look ill at ease? Do you often think something is bothering him? It could well be that he's perfectly miserable. There's one sure way to Pop flop happier and a lot more content. That way is to get him a lounge chair or recliner all his very own. We hear there is a good selection of these happy pop floppers at King's Furniture and Carpet in downtown Mentone.

ODDS & ENDS

by Ann Shoels

Ours was a working holiday; while the rest of the nation golfed or cheered Mario Andretti to victory or slaughtered themselves on the highway, we variously printed, worked on the monthly statements or mowed lawns. As printer and bookkeeper, Loren and I allowed ourselves a little breakfast-time leisure in which to discuss the affairs of the world and the book I'm currently reading—THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE. Although we are both conservatives, believing in an honest day's work in return for an honest living and in the merits of hard work as opposed to programs that aid the non-producer at the expense of the good worker, our shades of conservatism vary, and our discussions became rather involved, ranging from protective tariffs to social security and from the difference in communism and socialism to the differences in liberalism and conservatism. Added to this heavy discourse we piled caustic comments about White's switch from conservative republicanism to Bull Moose-ism. We applauded his 1896 "What's Wrong With Kansas?" editorial in which he bemoaned legislating the thriftless man into ease but could not agree with his later shift in opinion. In all, we found the discussion interesting, but, fully aware we had solved nothing, we turned to the more mundane task of attempting to earn a living in return for a hard day's work.

Seemingly the boys had not heard, but, later, as Todd prepared to mow my aunt's lawn, I heard Doug say wistfully, "Can I walk down there with you?" and Todd, a reincarnation of Tom Sawyer, stood back, eyed his five-year old shadow from the vantage of his eleven years, and answered slowly, "Well, I guess so—if you trim the edges." Then, remembering the bit about rewarding the good worker, he added, "If you do a real good job, I'll get you a pack of gum."

Doug, too, felt the influence of our discussion, for, later, when the rain seemed to come from all directions, and he had slammed shut a few windows, proud of his strength, I attempted to reward him with a kiss. Instead of his usual eager whoop, he stomped off in disgust, "Hugs and kisses again! I'd rather have money."

We are thinking of changing our breakfast topic this week to something more communal—like everyone in the family working together for the good of everyone else.

We have enjoyed "Happiness Is" and are grateful to its author for having suggested it. I am sorry that I cannot take credit for this column as so many people believe I write it. The credit goes to someone else who prefers to remain anonymous.

Local Students To Tour Europe

Mrs. Lois Shull, speech and English teacher at Akron High School, has been selected by International Cultural Exchange Schools, Inc. as a seminar leader and chaperone for a group of high school students in an European art, history and civilization tour this summer. Beverly Parker, Rick Parker, Byron Tinkey and Tom Runkle of Akron will be among the participants in this Old World Tour that will begin June 19.

Using lectures and orientation periods provided by International Cultural Exchange School of Salt Lake City, Utah, the students will be given opportunities to quicken their curiosities and deepen their compassion as they expand their horizons from Rome to London, with alternate trips to Spain or Austria.

In Italy they will visit the Sistine Chapel, St. Peter's Square, the restoration of Pompeii, and Florence where they will spend two days becoming acquainted with the works of Galileo, Michelangelo, Ghiberti and other Florentine greats through a visit to the Baptistery of San Giovanni and Santa Croce when the seriousness of past politics will be revealed in the Medici Riccardi Palace with its secret wall panels that once concealed vials of poison. Also to be visited is Venice, the city that is built on 119 islands.

In Austria, they will visit Innsbruck, view mountain beauty and visit the amazing castle of King Ludwig II that is the original from which the Disneyland castle is copied.

The tour will pass through Lucerne, Switzerland enroute to Paris, where five days will be spent seeing the city that is the center of world fashion, a haven for writers and artists and where they will visit many landmarks. The group will cross France to the coast where they will take a ferry boat across the English channel to England. Points of interest to be visited in England include London, Stratford-on-Avon and other sights. The trip will conclude in London, and the students and their teacher will fly to New York from there.

It's Complete Understanding That Makes For A Happy Father and Son Relationship

Fishing is an ideal recreation for maintaining and strengthening the bonds of love and affection between father and son. It provides a common playground and a common interest for both. It is a recreation that helps make close pals of "Dad" and son and may often prevent that indescribable "something" from coming between them - - - that "something" that places them in two different worlds.

The wise father, however, will keep the recreation within reasonable bounds. He will not let it interfere with the family's regular attendance at church services - - - for here, where His word is spoken, closer associations and good guidance are gained for both father and son.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY
 BELLWOOD by Elisabeth
 Ogilvie. In this great suspense novel Elisabeth
 Ogilvie has stunningly evoked the atmosphere of the Maine coast as a backdrop for a spellbinding Gothic romance.

THE GOLDEN COLLAR by Elizabeth Cadell. Elizabeth Cadell has been delighting readers for years with her novels.
 Here is a love story that will again delight her readers.

THE GIFT OF THE DEER
 by Helen Hoover. In the farthest wilds of Northeastern Minnesota, back in the Gunflint Range, the author of this book and her artist-husband have a two-room cabin home in the bush country. Beginning one Christmas Day when they first watched the starving deer they later named Peter, the Ho-overs had many opportunities, a passionate inclination, and the nature skills to observe this whitetail buck-joined later by his mate, and finally by several of their offspring through the changing seasons of four years, close as their relationship was to the generations of beautiful animals,
 the Hoovers did not consider them pets but fellow inhabitants of that wild country. Their observations reveal the rewards of living close to wild creatures; but more than that, they add valuable information to our knowledge of the cycle of life of the deer and other creatures native to the same world.

FARM NEWS

Elaine Marie Moore, 19, Bradenton, Florida, American Dairy Princess for 1968-69, salutes June Dairy Month with her favorite "summer cooler"—milk. Elaine, who's been using her $2,000 scholarship award to attend Manatee Junior College, will crown her successor in Chicago in July.

New-Fangled Cow Barn Has No Windows

You've heard of "high-rise" poodles and catered-to cats whose owners never let them nearer the wicked outside world than their favorite window sill.

Now cows are going the same pampered route.

Yes, cows. It's all due to a new trend in dairying called "total confinement housing."

What it means is summed up succinctly by Wisconsin dairy farmer, Leo TePoel: "My cows haven't been outside in the past year." Not only that, his dairy barn doesn't even have windows.

But, don't worry about the cows.

Breezes for the herd are supplied by 20-inch exhaust fans. In good weather, they pull in fresh air—when it gets chilly, tempered air. When was Nature so thoughtful to Bossy?

Inside their atmosphere-controlled world, the sun always shines for farmer TePoel's herd—at least the fluorescent lights burn 24 hours

ATWOOD 4-H CLUB

The American Girls 4-H Club of Atwood, recently met at the home of Debbie Cormany.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Marg Hanes. Demonstrations were given by Debra Baker on Apple Salad; Debbie Cormany on Setting the Table; and Anitra and Rachel Thomas on a Telephone Conversation.

Roll call was answered by 15 members on, "My Summer Plans."

For new business, a "Fun Day" was planned for June. Health and Safety remarks were given by Linda Jorden on "Safety Points to Remember While Cooking."

Origin of Evaporated Milk Traced to Napoleonic Era

Because "an army travels on its stomach," Napoleon offered a prize of 12,000 francs in 1795 to anyone who could find a satisfactory method of preserving food.

It was 15 years before an obscure Paris confectioner named Nicholas Appert was awarded the prize. He had discovered that he could keep foods for long periods by cooking them, sealing them air-

Apprentice Economist Begins Duties

Miss Alicia McElwee of Veedersburg, Ind. will begin duties June 9th as apprentice Extension Home Economist in Kosciusko Co., according to Don Frantz, County Extension Agent. She will serve until Sept. 1 when she will leave for a six month assignment to Argentina as an International Farm Youth Exchange student.

Miss McElwee is a 1969 graduate of the Purdue University School of Home Economics, majoring in education. She is a ten-year 4-H club member and leader and is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

During her work in the county, Miss McElwee will assist with the programs of the 1500 member Extension Homemaker Clubs and the girls 4-H program. She will also work with young homemaker groups and other educational organizations.

tight and then cooking them once again.

Appert's evaporated milk was a far cry from today's, but he had demonstrated the practicality of concentrated milk.

Swiss-born dairymen in Illinois perfected the machinery and techniques for processing evaporated milk as we know it. Today it's pasteurized, concentrated, homogenized, fortified with vitamin D, sealed in cans and heat-sterilized to keep without refrigeration.

Cooks find it a handy shelf item. Napoleon would have loved it.

a day. The cows enjoy a scientifically figured three squares a day and enjoy their lack of problems with flies. Some have required manures, though, because long hooves built up under their "soft" living conditions.

According to the dairyman, the cows aren't the only ones who thrive on this new kind of care. It's a labor-saver for him and he expects even milk production year 'round to help offset the cost of his veritable "cow palace."

BURKET CHEERIOS

The Burket Cheerios 4-H Club met at the home of Brenda Loer for the June meeting. The pledge to the flag was led by Brenda Loer and the 4-H pledge by Cindy Baum.

The members decided that they would paint mail boxes on June 12, and on the 16th, have demonstrations and installation of the new members.

Refreshments were served by Brenda and Connie Loer.

IN MEMORY

IN MEMORY of my dear son, Rex Carr, who went to his home one year ago, June 14.

We loved you, yes we loved you, But Jesus loved you more And He has gently called you, To yonder shining shore.

The Golden Gates were opened, A loving voice said, "Come And with farewells unspoken, You calmly entered Home."

Missed so much by his mother Hazel, only brother Robert, and sisters, Mabel, Mary, Gladys and Beth.

6/12/1c

IN MEMORY of Hazel Plotner who left us June 13, 1967.

Please God, hold your arms around her Keep her in your loving care. Make up to her for all she suffered, And everything that was unfair.

To all of you who still have a mother, Cherish her with care. For you'll never know the heartache, Till you find she isn't there.

Sadly missed by children and families. 6/12/1p

Rainbow Officers Installed

Marion Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Kendall, was installed as Worthy Advisor of Akron Rainbow Assembly Saturday, June 7th, in the Akron Masonic Temple. Organ music was played as ushers Steve Kendall and Willard Mahoney seated the guests.

Installing officers were Judy Teeter, worthy advisor; Janet Moore, marshal; recorder; Joyce Maby, chaplain; Jenny Hackworth, marshal; Bernice Bowen, organist and Holly Kendall, soloist. The marshal escorted the officers into the assembly room following the reciting of the Lord's Prayer.

Marion, wearing a floor length formal of blue and white and a corsage of blue and white daisies, took her vows at the altar as the soloist sang the Lord's Prayer. She was escorted to the East by her father, who is Worshipful Master of Akron Lodge, 659, as the soloist sang "Let There Be Peace on Earth".

Other officers installed were Debra Hunter, worthy associate advisor; Marna Stephen, charity; Marjorie Kendall, hope; Sue Johnson, faith; Molly Kerlin, love; Vickie Bouse, religion; Marilyn Sellers, nature; Regan Richardson, immortality; Sheri Schweir, confidential observer; and Debbie Beasley, outer observer and Joyce Maby, prompter.

Faith then escorted Joyce Maby, junior past worthy advisor, to the altar to sign the Bible as the soloist sang,

"You'll Never Walk Alone". She was escorted to the East through an aisle of girls who presented her with carnations in the colors of the rainbow. These girls were Molly Kerlin, Regan Richardson, Marilyn Sellers, Sheri Schwiier, Vickie Bouse and Debbie Beasley. Marion presented Joyce with a gift from the assembly. Joyce presented Marion the assembly's traveling worthy advisor's pin.

Mrs. Lloyd Morgan presented the Majority Degrees to her daughter, Drusilla, and gave her a gift and her diploma.

Merit bars were given to Marjorie Kendall, Vickie Bouse, Sue Johnson, Joyce Maby, Marilyn Sellers, Sheri Schwiier, Debbie Beasley, Debra Hunter, Marna Stephen. Attendance bars went to Joyce Maby, Sheri Schwiier and Sue Johnson.

The East was decorated with a large white basket of blue and white daisies and Marion's motto: "Peace On Earth" in silver on a blue drape surrounded by white doves. The rainbow stations held low bowls of flowers in their respective colors. Other pedestals held bowls of blue and white daisies. The west held her Watchwords: "Freedom, Peace" in blue. Colored lights in the ceiling formed a blue cross.

Marion's programs were blue and white scrolls tied with silver cord. Her theme is Peace and her symbol, the dove.

Marion introduced her family, relatives and friends and thanked her committee.

Following the closing, guests were served cake, punch, nuts and mints from a table covered with a floor length white skirt. A three-tiered cake served as a centerpiece flanked by tall white tapers in silver candleabra. Serving were Diane Walters, Kathy Clemans, Mary Lou Smith, Jean Powers and Zelma McCloughan.

TVSC Board Has Long Session

Vocational study, legal action aired

By a 2-1 vote Monday night, members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board agreed to allow the corporation to take part in an area vocational feasibility study. Two board members, Dr. Donald Van Gilder and David Burkett, were absent. Board president Ralph Davis cast the no vote. George Welch, guidance counselor at the Mentone school, was approved as the corporation's representative on this study.

The board signed a new teacher's contract with Suzanne Dilling and approved salary increases for the janitors that would set the head janitor at $2.85 per hour and women janitors at $1.85. Raises were given the clerks, and bus driver and teacher contracts were signed. Elizabeth Gray was reappointed a member of the Akron Carnegie Library Board.

The administrators of the corporation, Marion Acton, Oliver England, Ernest Holeslaw, Dean Rager, Roy Meredith and Robert Forbes, asked the board to consider a 7% salary increase for the administrators. Lyle Edenburn Akron principal, was the spokesman. He praised the board for having one of the finest school systems in the area and for having given the teachers a 7% increase.

Dr. Orville McFadden noted that a suit had been filed in Fulton Circuit Court requesting the General Commission to hear the school board in its appeal to be allowed to follow the results of the referendum last May in which a majority of the voters said they favored maintaining high schools at Akron and Mentone. The suit names Richard Wells, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Richard Morrison, Director of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, as defendants, he said. He asked to present a proposal that would make the results of the hearing binding on the members of the board. He said, "If the judge finds for the board and the board appears before the General Commission, the board will abide by the decision of the Commission. If the hearing is not granted, the board will revert to board policy and will abide by the decision of the referendum until a new board is selected."

Davis said he felt the matter was too big for the three-member group to make and asked to let it go until the next meeting.

Board member Richard Goshert said he had been reminded at the last meeting of his pledge to honor the results of the referendum. He read a prepared statement entitled, "TVSC in Retrospect" in which he said the approach to an educational program that has been pursued leaves much to be desired, saying the board has been negligent and had deviated from recommendations that would have

Akron Town Board Passes Tree Regulations

A regulation that will control the planting and cutting of trees on the tree lawns, the area between the sidewalks and the streets, in Akron, was passed by the town board Tuesday night. This area is part of the right-of-way and as such comes under the jurisdiction of the town. Anyone planning to plant or cut a tree or erect a sign must have permission in the future. The regulation results from several discussions of the hazards to intersections that are created by the trees and because they also block out the street lights. In other board action, members passed a gun ordinance that sets a fine of $25 for anyone firing a firearm within the corporate limits and ordered mercury vapor lights for some of the busiest streets and intersections. This will be the first step in converting the whole town to this system, they said.

Tombaugh Joins U.S. Office of Education

Richard Tombaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh of Mentone, has joined the U.S. Office of Education in Washington, D.C.

As an Education Program Specialist in the Division of Student Financial Aid, Tombaugh will be involved in the preparation of legislative requests, guidelines for college use of federal financial aid funds, and research studies in the utilization of student aid funds.

He is on a leave of absence from Purdue University to participate in this one year experience that is designed to use the practical experience of a university financial aids officer in the development of federal policy.

Tombaugh has been the Director of Financial Aid at Purdue since 1967 and served as Director of Student Loans prior to that time. He is a 1956 graduate of Mentone High School and holds two degrees from Purdue University. He is in the process of completing a doctorate at Michigan State University.

TRANSMISSION LINE TO CUT THROUGH COUNTY: Dick Mayberry (in the shirt) and Joe Rayalty, both of Jackson, Miss. are shown constructing electrical towers that are part of the Indiana and Michigan Electric Company's new 1,200-mile, 765,000-volt transmission line that cuts across eastern Miami county and the central part of Fulton county. The towers are part of the line extending from Madison to South Bend, which, when completed, will be the largest such line in the United States. The estimated cost of the project, according to I & M officials, is $250 million. The grid, expected to be completed by mid-1970, was begun in April, 1966 after having been in the planning stages for more than five years.

To The Editor

What Is Akron's Future?

Dear Editor:

People talk a great deal about community growth and prosperity, but unfortunately they do not follow up such talk with actions. In fact, by their actions they often unconsciously obstruct and hold back the growth and prosperity of the community. There are men and women in this town who are moved by a spirit of friendliness toward our community and their devotion to their fellow man. Such people would like to see our town grow and prosper. They would like to see our facilities for public service expanded and new improvements introduced for the enjoyment, comfort, and welfare of all the people who live here. Such people are generally in the minority. The majority are usually indifferent, worse, they may have certain attitudes which cause them to obstruct the progress of the community and hold back our natural growth and development.

One of the harmful attitudes is possessed by what we might call the conservative group who are satisfied with conditions as they are, or who can see no benefits to themselves because they think they have already gone as far as they can possibly go.

No one should be satisfied with what he has or so conservative about making changes that he refuses to take a step along the road that leads to progress. Actually, there is no point at which a progressive town may stop and say that it has reached its full development and it can now rest where it is without concern over further developments.

The second attitude that proves an obstacle to progress comes from the younger and ambitious element of our town, when they are told by their friends and counselors that there is nothing for them in this town, they should repeat over and over again, the story of Paderewski. As a youth he was told that he had no future with the piano, yet for nearly half a century he was the most famous pianist in the world. The great triumphs of Paderewski were possible because he refused to listen to his friends and so-called experts who counseled him against his best intentions and tried to discourage him.

Our young people should not permit others to discourage them. They should meet the tests here and carve for themselves a richer and fuller life than they will meet elsewhere. If we can discourage the export of our youth and bring the older and conservative group into the spirit of progress we can expect bigger and better things for our town and all who live here.

Some of our people figure why should they waste their time and effort to help promote community progress as the town will go ahead anyway. If you want to enjoy community prosperity and progress, you may have to do something about it first. You want to share the good things your town offers, so you should be equally ready to share in the work, responsibilities, and possible self-sacrifice, which is necessary on the part of all of us if we are to have town progress.

Let's not look back at what our forefathers did for us, but look ahead for what we can do for our children and grandchildren. Let's move back with future tree planting, so they may enjoy clear view at intersections, street lights that shine down into the streets and sidewalks, level sidewalks, and neat curbs. Let's plant trees with a plan for safety and enjoyment of our children. Our fathers never dreamed that traffic in Akron would be as heavy as it is today.

People who live in small towns should be happy about this. They are now where most people of our country would really like to be. Furthermore, they will see their town grow in the years ahead. There are several good reasons for this. Small town homes have all the conveniences of big city homes: radio, television, natural gas, electric heat, good schools, police protection, fire protection, and automobiles combined with good roads. This gives the rural resident all the advantages of personal happiness and a satisfactory social life that had been found only in the cities in the past.

The future will see rapid development of our transportation methods. Location is going to become less important for a town's growth and development. Every town that makes adequate plans will be accessible. I can see a need in the near future for a helicopter landing area or small plane landing field. We will see the helicopter taking over a lot of the ambulance work to move injured and sick to large hospitals. Industry will use the air to move from plant to plant. It will be a gradual development taking place over a long period of time, but it is not too soon to think about it and plan for it. The change is now beginning and whatever plans we make now for our town will not be completed overnight.

We have plans for sanitary sewers and treatment and are waiting for financial assistance. We are ready to have a study made for water works improvements. We have plans, which in the future will eliminate blind corners at intersections. We have plans to study the lighting of the main streets and other points of heavy traffic. Interested groups are working on plans for a community building and need lots of support. Open dumps will be stopped by a state law Jan. 1, 1971 and plans to correct this are being worked on. Open burning will be stopped and plans to correct this must be done soon.

We must learn to pull together not only as individuals but through the various clubs, which are a part of our community. There should be no rivalry between these clubs and individuals except to see which can do the most and contribute to the greatest good of the community and the welfare of those who live here.

We need cooperation of the highest order to put across a unified program of improvements and developments which will make our town attractive not only in appearance but in the opportunities which it offers.

The war has slowed us down on an important first step. New ideas should be introduced with a view toward expansion and the growth of our town. We must bear in mind that everything that is good for the entire community is also good for every individual and every group. We move forward as a group. We must understand this, or we will be like the old-time doctor who was living in an age before our great scientific laboratories were created to conduct vast and complex experiments for the purpose of getting facts on treatment. This doctor was trying out a new prescription which had been offered to him. Nobody was quite sure of the result, or the effectiveness of the new remedy which was in the experimental stage.

One of his patients was a baker who was ill. He tried the medicine on the baker and he died. Then he tried the medicine on a sick blacksmith, who recovered. The doctor kept a record of his use of the medicine and wrote down in his book that it was good for blacksmiths but not for bakers.

His conclusions seem quite ridiculous to us now, but they are no more ridiculous than the reasoning we hear in some cases on town betterment. A real and promising future lies ahead for us and our community. If we pull together with a single mind and a single purpose; the time is ripe for great things.

"If in trying, we make an error, what matter, for nothing would be done if a man waited until he could do it so well that no one could find fault with it."

Merrill O. Kendall

One more year for our son, two more for our oldest daughter and four more years for our youngest. They only go through High School once.

I came to Mentone to get away from the large city for a while. I have found wonderful people here. But also I have found a fast dying school system because of having a continual argument over the issue of one school, or two. We have had some wonderful teachers and the system is no reflection on them. But instead of us, the people, getting busy and making our schools what they could be, we waste money by getting temporary units, and by paying lawyers to go to court. We are not obligated to fix up the Home Economics Department or enlarge the Commercial Department. Our Art Department suffers from lack of supplies, and our Science Studies remains sub-standard because of insufficient equipment.

We lose, consequently, the good teachers we have. I understand we are an unaccredited school. I visited a family once that had lived 20 years in one house. The lady said, "I do not have much unpacked. I'm waiting to see what we are going to do." Let's get busy and do some unpacking!

Several things might be done. First, we might fix up what we have and get the best teachers and equipment available, securing help for the handicapped or slow learners. Special teachers need to be on hand to work with those that we find more convenient just to expel. Yet stimulating curriculum for the advanced is needed.

Second, build a new school with the right equipment and teachers, as mentioned above.

Third, do away with the Corporation altogether and admit we cannot run it for the best education. Divide the Corporation. Let some students go to Warsaw, some to Triton, some to Rochester.

We are not a stupid people. Let's get on and give our children about the only thing we can give them—an education. Not ten years from now - BUT NOW!

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

PALACE OF HEALING
by Dorothy Clarke Wilson. This is the story of Dr. Clara Swain, first woman missionary doctor and the hospital she founded.

DEAREST MAMA edited by Roger Fulford. This is the second volume of the never-before published letters between Queen Victoria and her eldest daughter, Vicky, the Crown Princess of Prussia. Victoria, of course, was Queen of England, mother of Edward VII, Grandmother of the Kaiser of Germany and the Czar of Russia. This book gives intimate new perspectives on this crucially important woman, her nine children, their relatives and friends - the very people who were shaping the history of the world.

THE GOLD AND SILVER HOOKS by Ruth Moore. A fine family saga---tinged with salt air and rich with the struggle with life's problems.

A PRIVATE DISGRACE by Victoria Lincoln. This is a mystery story that is true. It is the story of Lizzie Borden of Fall River, Massachusetts who on a hot August morning in 1892, murdered her father and step-mother. Victoria Lincoln is a native of Fall River and thus knows the never-revealed "inside" story of the crime that insular community regarded as its "private disgrace". The Borden case is one of the most enduring—and perplexing—landmarks in American crime annals.

BUT WE DIDN'T GET THE FOX by Richard Llewellyn. This is a sophisticated spy story. If you want your suspense thrillers in a literary class, this is the one for you.

THE 900 DAYS, THE SEIGE OF LENINGRAD by Harrison E. Salisbury. The epic of the 900 days seige of Leningrad during World War II is known only in part inside Russia, and scarcely at all in the outside world. Harrison Salisbury has told it for all time, in a narrative whose range and power are commensurate with the subject.

heat wave The calendar says Summer and the thermometer are creeping up on us. That means most housewives will be looking for new ideas to keep cool in the kitchen during the hot weather ahead.

The secret of beating summer swelter is really no secret at all—it's low-cost electricity. Here's what we mean . . .

cool cookery Some ranges heat up the kitchen instead of concentrating on the work at hand. Electric units put the heat into the pot or pan placed on top of them—not out into the room. That's one way electric cooking is cool.

Still another is a snug-as-a-bug electric oven. All-sides insulation on electric ovens makes them just about as tight a box as there is. Even if they're not self-cleaning. An oven that isn't electric needs flues and oxygen to operate. That means not-so-snug containers for cooking. Well-insulated electric ovens are more efficient and they keep their heat to themselves. Your summertime bonus: a cooler kitchen.

Take your problems to Church this week -

A Poor Substitute

"Church services are dull, boresome and uninteresting. I derive much more good from getting close to nature, a walk through the woods, a trip to the lake or viewing the mountain." One often hears such statements from those who attend church only on special occasions, if at all.

People who make these statements simply do not know what they are missing. They do not know the deep inner satisfaction to be gained from regular church attendance. They have allowed a single experience or two, possibly at some ill conducted service, to warp their opinion about all church services.

No one will deny the joy and exhilaration of viewing nature's wonders but they no more take the place of the church service than they satisfy one's craving for good music. You are missing out if you don't attend church regularly.

WEEVIL ALERT SOUNDED FOR INDIANA ALFALFA GROWERS

This season whether you get a good stand of alfalfa (left) or severe crop damage (right) depends on detecting weevil early and treating promptly.

State entomologists are warning growers that heavy infestations of alfalfa weevil are predicted this season. Effective control is a must if you want to raise a useful crop, and this means timely application of an insecticide as well as good overall crop management.

Crop specialist point out that alfalfa now takes considerably more attention than it used to. But the rewards outweigh the cost. As one crop specialist put it, "If you raise alfalfa like a cash crop it will produce like one: substantially higher yields and profits!"

This year, weevil infestations will vary according to the number of overwintering adults and eggs already on the crop in a given area. The important thing is to detect them early and treat promptly.

Weevil eggs will start hatching soon depending on your locality and weather conditions. So from now on, frequent inspection of your alfalfa stand is essential.

When 30 to 50 per cent of the plants show leaf feeding and there are live larvae in the buds, it's time to spray. If treatment is delayed, you risk losing the crop!

Growers should treat with an insecticide such as Alfa-tox to protect the first cutting. Then, inspect the field after the first cutting has been removed. If larvae are present, spray Alfa-tox again - right over the stubble.

With effective weevil control, good fertilization, and good overall crop management, there is no reason why alfalfa can't be your top producing forage crop.

Alfalfa takes a little more to grow now, but top producers agree: you stand to get a lot more out of it!

COURT NEWS

Ernest L. Shively, 54, R. 2, Akron, pleaded guilty in Fulton Circuit Court Tuesday to charges of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident, driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license and failure to yield right of way. He was given a one-year sentence to the Indiana State Farm on the first count that was suspended. He was placed on probation for a year and will make reports to the probation officer, remain employed and support his mother and his aunt. Judge Wendell C. Tombaugh also gave Shively ten days in the county jail on the latter three counts, the sentences to run consecutively for a total of 30 days. The jail term will begin in ten days. His driver's license was suspended for one year.

Reed To Address Mental Health Meeting

consolidated the schools. He noted the renovation of the Beaver Dam and Talma buildings, the additional classrooms built at Akron and Mentone, described the referendum as a "mere abdication of your responsibility," noted that failure to receive approval for "our own selfish plans for school housing" reverted to the state legislature for passage of a law, H.B. 1558, that would have allowed TVSC to proceed with plans for maintaining two high schools and described the relocatable classrooms recently approved as another "stopgap" measure. He said the money spent on these programs could have been better spent on the consolidation of the high schools.

Goshert reminded his fellow board members that the office of School Trustee was created for the welfare of the public school children and not for the purpose of profit or of political or personal gain and asked Superintendent Robert Forbes where he had been for the past seven years. He reminded Forbes that he represented both the local school board and the State Department of Education. He closed by saying, "I often wonder about you, my colleagues, whether we want to be responsible for responsible education or are we stalling in favor of some of our pet ideas concerning education, or do we prefer to do nothing, or are we waiting until our term of office is over and pass this on to our successors. Do we want to be known as a rubber stamp non-progressive board? The boat has docked again—do we want to book passage or will we waive passage again? Remember Abraham Lincoln said, 'A house divided against itself cannot stand!' Also Robert E. Lee said, 'There is a true glory—the glory of duty done!'"

At the conclusion of his remarks, Goshert moved that Dr. McFadden's proposal be made a motion, and Davis, again saying he felt this was too big for three men, tabled the motion. A spectator, Howard Silveus, took exception with the tabling and rose to protest. Davis silenced him by reminding him that the time for audience had been earlier in the meeting. The board immediately went into executive session, the second of the evening, and reconvened at 1 a.m. for dismissal. The subject of administrators' salaries was tabled until another meeting.

The next meeting will be July 1 at 8 p.m. in the superintendent's office, Farmers State Bank Building, Mentone, for the purpose of reorganizing the board, a procedure required by law to be done the first of each July.

Goodwill Bags Are Needed

Mrs. Buddy Miller, R. 1, Tippecanoe, collection chairman for Goodwill Industries in this area, says that donations of usable clothing and other items are lagging due to the increased popularity of garage sales. She reminds area residents that items are still needed by Goodwill. Repairable donations are taken to the Goodwill shop where handicapped persons are given employment in restoring the items.

Goodwill bags are available at L & B Foods in Mentone, and co-owner Wayne Bowser says he will personally act as collection agent.

cal education activity; classes in law, speech, journalism and other fields; special assemblies, etc. Climaxing the week will be a final military review with Gov. Edgar Whitcomb present.

Can Lift You Above the Humdrum, Take You Out Of State of Tension

William Lyon Phelps, the celebrated educator and author, once remarked, "What I wouldn't give to read 'Huckleberry Finn' for the first time again." It was Phelps' way of yearning for the thrill of discovery, in this case one of America's greatest novels.

The typical motorist could well paraphrase Phelps' remarks, "What I wouldn't give to be driving for the first time." The thrill most of us felt the first time behind the wheel is hard to capture ever again.

Perhaps too much driving has jaded our appreciation of the miracle that is the automobile. Maybe too much time in traffic jams, too many through-the-windshield vistas of monotonous stretches of freeways have robbed us of our enthusiasm.

Just a Few Hours from Home

However, there is a way to bring back the joys of driving. Some time this year, get out of the traffic jams and off the super-highway. Take your family on some lightly traveled road. Even in the most populous areas of this nation, there still remain unspoiled stretches of green field, blue sky and water — just a few hours from home.

Travel through these areas with a light foot on the gas pedal, stopping often to enjoy the view and savor the fresh air. Make your car, not a conveyance to get you from here to there, but a kind of magic carpet to lift you above the humdrum and the state of tension.

There is also a way to bring the maximum enjoyment of motoring into everyday driving. And that is by maintaining your car in showroom condition. By doing so, your car can feel like a new car no matter how long you drive it.

Drive Better After a Wash

For example, there are those who swear that their cars seem to drive better after a wash. While this may be a matter of vivid imagination, it is no secret that a car that is running sluggish could feel like a new model after a thorough tune-up.

Also maintaining other vital-to-comfort components like tires, shocks, front-end alignment and smooth transmission are indispensable to a smooth, enjoyable ride.

There is at least one more factor in maximum enjoyment of a car. That is the security of mind in knowing that yours is a safe car.

It is not enough to know your car has just passed vehicle inspection. While passing inspection is a good sign that all basic safety components check out, there are other factors to be considered. The day after inspection, hitting a jarring pothole could help put headlights back out of alignment. An unexpected leak of brake fluid could pose a serious hazard.

To Help You Recapture the Pleasure

The answer is to stay attuned to the condition of your car. More important, maintain a regular system of car care to forestall possible troubles.

This Care For Your Car section is intended to help you recapture the total pleasure that motoring can offer.

Guess What Tops List of Careless Car-Owner Woes

The tip of this coil was so badly eroded it had completely disappeared on one side. Plastic tape to the rescue . . . temporarily.

When the air filter is so badly clogged with dirt it can't be cleaned any more, you have two choices: buy a new one or ventilate it, as was done here.

This is an oil filter cap. It is supposed to breathe through a wire mesh filter. This one choked to death long ago and its engine suffered the consequences.

What do you do when the spark plug insulator breaks? Wrap it with some plastic tape and keep on driving . . . but probably not for long.

You're Right — It's Ignition; Tests Reveal Critical Fault in Every Automobile Examined

In planning your car maintenance, it's wise to know where trouble is likely to strike. A list of the most frequent causes of trouble is contained in a survey of the Missouri Auto Club in the U.S.

The Club's recently opened St. Louis diagnostic center tabulated defects found on the first 1,603 cars to pass through its lanes. According to the results revealed by F. B. Oldham, Club technical services director, these were the most frequent critical faults:

1. IGNITION — (points, condenser, dwell and variation, coil, timing, spark plug performance, ignition under load) — 1,500 defects or .94 per car.
2. FRONT END — (including alignment, front suspension pivots and shocks) — 1,450 defects or .90 per car.
3. BRAKES — (including brake lining thickness and condition, adjustment, hand-brake, drum or disc condition, brake hoses, pedal pressure, brake balance and progression) — 1,354 or .85 defects per car.
4. HEADLAMPS — (including candle power, aim, warning lights and retraction) — 1,055 or .66 defects per car.
5. TIRES — (including tire pressure, tread depth and walls) — 922 or .58 per car.

6. STEERING LINKAGE — (including steering box, tie-rods, steering arm and ball joints) — 402 or .25 per car.

The St. Louis facility, first of its kind ever run by an Auto Club, performs only diagnostic work. Repairs, if needed, are performed at area facilities with the Club making no recommendations on where to go.

The Club will perform re-checks of work performed, consulting, on request, with the mechanic doing the repair work.

ROUGH DRIVING COSTS

An Australian television network staged a two-car run where one car was driven in a normal, safe manner and the other was driven hard to make faster time. While finishing the 238-mile course in 40 minutes quicker time, the hard-driving motorist used 86 percent more tire tread (91 cents worth); 55 cents more in fuel and 31 cents more in brake wear. So, the 40 minutes saved cost him $1.77. The moral: take it easy and save.

Sights to Be Seen from U.S. and Canadian Highways

National Park in Washington State; San Juan mountains in Colorado; or Hawaiian huts in Honolulu Park on Oahu. These are only a few of the beautiful views to be seen in North America as you travel along.

Beware! Shower Can Make Roads Slippery

Summer showers, especially after a long dry spell, can make road surfaces as slippery as winter ice, a special safety bulletin issued by the Rubber Manufacturers Association warns.

The danger of skidding is greatest, says the trade group, during the first 15 to 30 minutes after it starts to rain; up to an hour or more in a light drizzle.

This is due to the little-known fact that rain tends to float up onto the road surface a greasy film of oil, gasoline and rubber residue which becomes a treacherous ice-like lubricant between the tires and the road until enough rain falls to wash it away.

The possibility of an accident on a wet road, says the Association, is between 5 and 10 times as great as on a dry road, in terms of the likelihood of a skid and loss of control of a car. In terms of stopping distance, it may take up to four times as far to stop on a wet road as a dry road.

First Test Track

Proving grounds were introduced by the industry in 1924. But what probably was the first test track designed specifically to test and evaluate production vehicles was built by a Detroit auto maker back in 1915. A half-mile planked track circled a steel-fabricated "hill" more than 40 feet high, which cars had to climb prior to leaving the factory.

Cars were also required to plow through a sand pit and travel around the track at all speeds before being approved for shipment.

Driving is more fun... and safer... when your car is clean. Try our car wash. You'll be pleased with the results.

Drugs and Driving Don't Mix, Association Warns

Drugs and driving don't mix, says the National Association of Retail Druggists.

So important is respect for drugs in insuring highway safety that N.A.R.D. is providing fact sheets for driver education teachers in and out of high school, according to executive secretary Willard B. Simmons, who represents 40,000 independent drugstore owners.

Druggists are teaching the public the power of drugs. Drugs save lives, Simmons points out. He adds facts of interest to all drivers.

"When doctors prescribe some valuable medications they insist that no driving be done for a specified number of hours," he says. "Heed their advice and the advice of the druggist who reminds you of that fact."

In addition to urging respect for the life-saving drugs of daily life, members of N.A.R.D. are lending their professional efforts to schools to forward the work of drug education. The dangers of drug abuse are being brought to students' attention at the request of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs of the Department of Justice.

BARBITURATES, for example — known as "goofballs" and by other terms — produce slurred speech, impaired motor responses, sensory distortion and more. A person withdrawing from barbiturate abuse may have spasms and convulsions, particularly dangerous behind a car wheel. Barbiturate overuse plus alcohol can cause sudden death.

AMPHETAMINES — stimulants which have respected medical uses but are known as "pep pills" or "co-pilots" to drug abusers — can cause severe hallucinations on the road. Truck drivers, vacationers, long distance drivers may take too many amphetamines to stay awake. Too frequently the driver will then hear "voices," see "ghost vehicles" and have other aberrations that can cause a crash.

MARIJUANA, thought by some teens to be harmless, is a major villain when it comes to highway safety. Unlike an ordinary cigarette, "grass" causes sensory distortions. A car 10 feet away may seem 100 feet away. Sideswipe accidents are common and more serious collisions can occur.

LSD PRESENTS DOUBLE DANGER. Not only does taking it cause an immediate disoriented "high" and bizarre hallucinations, but the same effects can occur with no warning six months or a year later. The "afterflash" effect can jeopardize not only the driver but his passengers as well as other drivers and pedestrians nearby.

If a driver exhibits drunken behavior but there is no aroma of alcohol, drug abuse may be suspected.

These and other facts are being called to the attention of students and faculties at all schools as well as to concerned parent groups.

What can the safe driver do to protect against these hazards?

STUDENTS ARE BEING URGED to seek medical facts and study recent clinical research so that objective data can be given to all. Poster contests and slogan contests in high schools and other student efforts are being encouraged, to turn the cold light of reason on drug abuse. And parents, teachers and all adults are being urged to call for drug education in the schools.

EVERY PARENT CAN AID by checking his child's whereabouts, knowing the identity of group drivers, and making strict rules about car use, experts advise.

Camping Is Fun For All

Camping is a way of life everybody can enjoy. That's because camping, like nature, has universal appeal. It's relaxing. It's rewarding. It's economical.

And it doesn't matter if your income runs to many digits or a few. You can still thrill to the sound of a rushing mountain stream, the taste of cool water lifted from a deep well by an iron pump, or the smell of freshly-caught trout cooking over a crackling fire.

Camping does indeed have built-in democracy. Anyone can go and the equipment needed is practical, functional, and basic. As for campsites, they are either free or the same small fee applies to all. And, of course, there's the continuous performance by Mother Nature at no charge.

Another thing about camping equipment: it doesn't get obsolete. For a small outlay, you make an investment that provides pleasure for years to come.

The first requirement is a tent; more specifically, a cotton canvas tent which offers the very best in protective shelter. It keeps out heat, rain, and chill. It defends against insects and animals, preserves privacy, and creates a whole lot of fun.

Moreover, today's tents are compact and easily stored in your car. They're designed to be raised or lowered in seconds.

Nowadays there are many different tents to choose from, ranging from two-man models to the dormitory size that accommodates eight. And there's an exciting selection of new colors and styles.

Nearly all tents are made of cotton canvas fabric—duck, drill, twill poplin, or combed cotton. Cotton is so widely favored because it "breathes," permitting air to circulate freely throughout the tent. This keeps you comfortable and prevents moisture from dripping down inside.

Another plus: when cotton gets wet, it gains 25 per cent in strength and the threads swell to close even the tiniest holes. Special chemical finishes give cotton even greater resistance to wind, rain, and mildew.

More than 15 million Americans will go on camping trips this year. Some will travel by trailer, loaded down with boats, mini-bikes, TV, and two-way radios. Others will return to nature by foot or canoe with a stout canvas tent.

If you haven't tried it yet, why not make this your year for camping in the great outdoors?

Race Drivers Point Up Importance of 'Belts'

Young people, supposedly at odds with the older generation, have at least one area of agreement with their parents. Both are ignoring the life-saving use of car seat belts.

Champion Spark Plug Company, through its Highway Safety Program, queried nearly 12,000 high school seniors on seat belt wearing habits. In cars equipped with belts, well under 50 percent use the restraining devices.

Only 14.8 percent said they always use belts. Another 29.8 percent said they used them most of the time. The biggest percentage, 37.5, said they seldom used belts. Some 17.7 percent said they never used seat belts.

There was little difference in use between boys and girls, with less than a percentage point difference in their answers.

In addition to youngsters driving cars equipped with seat belts but not using them, large percentages are driving cars which have no seat belts. Of those driving their own cars, less than half of the vehicles are equipped with belts. Over 63.6% of all cars, including those belonging to parents, were equipped with belts.

The students' failure to wear seat belts was not because of their failure to recognize the consequences, the survey found. Almost two-thirds of them identified not wearing belts as a major contributing cause to traffic fatalities.

Estimates by the National Safety Council show that about one out of five fatalities could have been avoided if seat belts were being worn.

According to J. R. McGeorge, Champion's Public Relations Manager and Director of the Highway Safety Program, "In our presentation to school groups we have Indianapolis race drivers stress the responsibilities as well as the skills of operating a car."

"A race driver would no more think of operating a car without a seat belt than he would without a steering wheel," McGeorge said.

The 1968-69 Champion Highway Safety Program, to be conducted in schools throughout the U.S. and Canada, is stressing seat belt use as well as other safety aids.

Warranties Put More Responsibility on Car Owners

While some controversy rages over new car warranty provisions for 1969 cars, there is one area in which there is agreement. The motorist will bear more responsibility for keeping his car in condition.

Actually, even with the more liberal warranties of previous years, routine yet important maintenance was always the responsibility of the new car owner. However, in many instances the owner lulled himself into believing the warranty was a pay-all in case of trouble. This is not the case. The major difference in 1969 new car warranties lies in the length of time most parts (excluding tires and tubes) are covered. New provisions call for 12-month or 12,000 mile coverage. In 1968, the warranty called for two-year or 24,000 miles.

Still intact is the five-year or 50,000-mile protection on components generally referred to as the drive train. (Items like internal engine parts, transmission, rear axle and differential.)

To protect their warranties, motorists must do the following:

1. Change engine oil and oil filter and clean the filter cap at periods specified by the manufacturer. (Typically, every six months or 6,000 miles.)
2. Clean the carburetor air filter and replace it at specified intervals. (Usually, six months or 6,000 miles for cleaning; 24 months or 24,000 miles for replacing an eight-cylinder engine — 12 months or 12,000 miles for six-cylinder engines.)

3. Service the crankcase emission control system every six months or 6,000 miles and replacing the emission control valve every 12 months or 12,000 miles. Parts must be cleaned or replaced when needed.
4. Replace the engine coolant at recommended intervals. (Typically, every two years.)

Other owner responsibilities for service are vital to good operation but no time periods are specified.

One such item is tune-up including replacing spark plugs, points and condenser. Common recommended tune-up procedure is every 10,000 miles. Other typical services that are the motorists' responsibility, include the following:

Wiper blades, brake servicing including linings, lubrication, alignment of lights and front wheels, wheel balancing and other car components which are subject to normal wear.

Helpful Tips on . . .

How to Get More Miles Per Gallon

Two drivers of the same automobile may get different gas mileage due to the differences in driving habits. Other factors include driving conditions and mechanical condition of the automobile.

It costs almost 50% more to drive 80 mph than it does to drive 50 mph. Cost of driving 60 mph is 25% higher than cost of driving 30 mph.

- Wet driving conditions: Slowing down under wet or snowy conditions conserves fuel. Wet pavement can reduce mileage by 1 mile per gallon.

- When parked, turn off engine. One minute of idling uses more fuel than restarting uses.

- Starting and stopping. Avoid "jack rabbit" starts, sudden stopping and racing on the green light.

- Windy conditions. Drive slower if you're interested in better fuel economy.

Here are some suggestions on care and mechanical condition of your car for better fuel economy:

- Use good grade of gasoline recommended by the manufacturer of your automobile.

- Be sure the thermostat isn't stuck in the open position. A warm-running engine is more efficient (uses less fuel) than a cold-running engine.

- Be sure tires are inflated properly.

- Balance and align tires.

Akron's 133rd birthday party will be a public affair next week, as is its tradition, and will be celebrated in a two-day affair. The first day, this Sunday, June 29, will be the horse show. On the actual anniversary of the town's founding, July 4th, a day-long program has been planned by this year's committee headed by Willis Bowen. A complete program of events appears in this week's issue of the NEWS.

Special recognition will be given the more than 150 years of service to the community represented in the careers of Dr. E. A. Whallon, Dr. F. M. Belt and Earl Arter.

Dr. Whallon opened a veterinary practice in Akron in 1916, Dr. Belt opened his dental office in 1921, and Mr. Arter has been owner of his drug store since 1922 although he was associated with the late Emory Scott in 1907 when he was only 13 years old. Dr. Whallon has been retired for several years but Dr. Belt and Mr. Arter still maintain regular hours.

On an inside page can be found an early history of Akron and its founding as compiled in 1936 by the late Ina Brundige.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The picture of the "Stockdale Dam" in your recent paper refreshed our memories. The main feature of the picture should be the building, the grist mill operated by water power from the Eel River.

There is much fascinating and interesting history and folklore connected with the mill. I had much feed ground here, also flour and corn meal.

The trade name of the flour produced at the mill was "White Loaf", a fine flour.

Stockdale was quite a thriving village at one time; when the railroad came along it was forgotten and Roann became the trading center.

We lived in that community eighteen years, beginning in June 1926. James Deck was the owner-operator during this time.

Thanks.

Billy Fowler
Mentone

Dear Editor:

On Tuesday night, June the 24th, the residents of Mentone were engulfed by some 80 teenagers from Warsaw who performed, for an hour at the Mentone Town Hall.

The Mentone Lions Club had invited the Warsaw Up With People organization to bring their SING OUT WARSAW cast to entertain for their annual ladies night. This they did with zest that had the citizens of Mentone standing on their feet in thunderous ovation at the end of the program.

The SING OUT WARSAW cast is one of 600 local units in the country, 17 of which are in Indiana. These in turn are the offspring of three National Units that have played in every country of the globe.

The SING OUT WARSAW teenagers were presenting their 75th appearance on Tuesday night since they were formed on Oct. 2, 1967. They have been on TV both at Elkhart and Fort Wayne, plus numerous appearances at local festivals.

This group is dedicated to the principles of equality of man, the virtues of hard work and that music is the universal means of communications. Their motto is Love of God, Love of Man and Love of Country.

The average age of these boys and girls is the freshman level but to see them perform, they sang and acted more like professionals. Their bounce, talent and presentation was a credit to Mr. Robert Brennen, their director.

Mentone would like to thank the SING OUT WARSAW cast publicly for their time and effort in coming to Mentone. The next time they are in Mentone, which we are hoping will be soon—don't fail to see them as many did on June 24.

They will be in Akron on the 4th of July for the annual Akron 4th of July celebration.

One Hospital or Two?

Much has been written about the need for another hospital in Warsaw. I do not know what the need is nor am I familiar with the running of the present hospital.

Something like over two years ago I came to this community. There have been few days or nights that I have not visited or called in the present hospital. I can say that it is staffed with a dedicated staff. Only Sunday night I spent most of the night there waiting for one of our outstanding ladies to pass on. From one to four nurses attended her until death came. They did this with efficiency and without complaint.

I have found the cleaning ladies and the cooks to be wonderful. The only way that a new hospital could be better would be to hire the present staff from the old hospital, and transfer the present doctors to the new.

A word about doctors leaving the area. They are a little like mini-sters. They want to move. They go where the climate is better or where there is less work.

I made a sacrifice to come to this area because I wanted my children to experience a rural area, and not because there was much wrong with where I was. The doctors at Murphy are great. I'm sure we need more. We also need more teachers, more judges, more foundries and workers, more religion, more health.

Every day I give thanks for one good hospital, where I have offered so many prayers, and seen the great work of the doctors and all the personnel of Murphy Hospital. God bless them all including the gray ladies and the candy strikers.

Is a new hospital worth $4. a year?

The average taxpayer in Kosciusko County pays $200 in Real Estate and Personal Property Taxes each year. The new Hospital Bond Issue approved by the County Council and Commissioners will increase these taxes only $4 per year for the average taxpayer (that's only 2%). Use the table below to compute your share in building the new hospital:

Current County Taxes:	Extra Tax for Hospital:
$50	$1
$100	$2
$200	$4
$300	$6
$400	$8
$500	$10
$600	$12
$700	$14
$800	$16
$900	$18
$1000	$20

State laws prohibit the new hospital from requesting or using funds from State, County or local taxes for operating expenses. Therefore, it will never become a burden on the county tax rolls in the future.

The Kosciusko Community Hospital, Inc., is a legally authorized not-for-profit corporation with full approval from the Internal Revenue Service. It is the only hospital organization presently authorized by the Indiana State Board of Health to build a new hospital in this county!

Authorities recognized as competent by all medical and health groups have stated a minimum need for 150 hospital beds in Kosciusko County by 1975. The new hospital will not be ready for occupancy before 1973. Total beds in the new hospital in addition to beds in existing facilities will not exceed the minimum number recommended for 1975. Existing facilities of the Murphy Medical Center will not be wasted once the new hospital is in operation. There will be sufficient need for the utilization of both facilities in the total health care requirements of the citizens of the County.

DON'T BE TRICKED!

Consider the low cost of providing the security of first class hospital facilities for you and your loved ones when needed in the future! "Special Interest" groups may ask you to sign a petition against the new hospital, but don't be misled. Sign the petition titled "For the $2,000,000 Bond Issue For Kosciusko Community Hospital" which bears a picture like that above.

One Whale Of A Cavity

Dentists say that over half the toothbrushes in service are worn out and need replacement. One of the latest beneficiaries of this advice is Frances, a white whale, who opens her mouth daily for a regular scrubbing. The king-size brush is replaced by her keeper every four months—about the same toothbrush service life that the dental profession recommends for people.

EARLY HISTORY OF AKRON

PROSPECTING

In 1835 Dr. Josephy Sippy of Medina county, Ohio, a native of Virginia and a veteran of the 1812 conflict, made a prospecting journey through the northwest territory with the purpose of selecting a location, where unclaimed land was available for homesteads. At this time Dr. Sippy was 44 years of age, and was the first white man that traversed this section of the territory.

While prospecting in this locality he was enamored with nature's bountiful resources. The mammoth timber of the dense forest, the wild game roaming therein, wild turkeys, the bountiful supply of wild berries of all kinds, wild plum, pear and crapple trees, grapes and rich nuts. The numerous springs of cold water, sugar and maple trees that would provide sugar and syrup, a good place to build cabins, abundance of fuel - "A vision of great opportunities for homes in a wilderness, where pioneers could carve homes for their families and establish civilization.

Upon his return to Medina county Ohio he gave such a glowing account of Northern Indiana, that seven families and one unmarried man began preparations immediately for the emigration the next year. Some of these people, natives of southeastern Pennsylvania and Virginia, had journeyed to Beaver, Pennsylvania over the perilous Alleghenies in 1816, to be nearer the Northwest territory when the Indian treaties would warrant the homesteading. In 1831 they made another to be nearer the land of promise. Preparations for the final journey were tedious, all work was done by hand, homespun were woven in quantities, wagons had to be built, garden seeds gathered, sprouts of all perennials and hardy shrubs must be brought with them. The lilac and snowball bushes must come to the new home. Their objective was carving homes in the wilderness, and preparations were made with undaunted courage, characteristic of pioneers.

PERSONNEL

Dr. Sippy, the leader, Wm. Whittenberger, Asher Welton, Alfred T. Welton, Moses Worden, Henry Bristol, Uriel Bragg, and their families and Nathaniel Cogswell, an unmarried man, numbering forty-seven people constituted the colony. It seemed like one large family, as all of them had relatives in the group. All of them were of Revolutionary ancestry which perhaps accounted for the determination of the venture.

Mr. Cogswell was a brother of Mrs. Sippy and Mrs. Bragg; their mother was a sister of General Gates of Revolutionary fame; Uriel Bragg was a nephew of Gen. Bragg of the American Forces; Mrs. Whittenberger was a sister of Dr. Sippy; their father, a native of France, came to America with Gen. De La Fayette's fleet and assisted in establishing American independence. The Weltons were brothers; Mrs. Bristol and Mrs. Worden were sisters.

JOURNEY

On June 1, 1836 these people loaded wagons with scanty household possessions yoked the oxen and turned their faces toward the setting sun. Each family bought pigs, sheep, and a cow which were driven by different members of the company.

Progress was slow, many miles of stiff black mud had been covered. A detour north of Fort Wayne through White Pigeon, Michigan was necessary as the road through Fort Wayne was a black swamp, impassable at the time for heavy wagons. The road over the trail from Michigan through Goshen was fairly good, from Warsaw it was partly cleared. From a point not far from where Mentone now is, only the Indian trail was visible, necessitating cutting hazel brush, and sapplings. They were now traveling where wagon wheels had never rolled.

A new era was beginning, the footpath vanished with the wailing of home seekers as, they were weary, footsore, and almost discouraged, yet hoped ere the night fall, they would reach their travel, they had obeyed the divine command "Remember the Sabbath Day and keep it Holy". At 4 p.m. on this day, the leader mounted on an Indian pony, halted the wagons as they approached the crossing of the Trails, (now known as the crossing of state roads 14 & 19), and announced, "This is the Place."

Immediately they climbed from the wagons and knelt in front of where the Methodist Methodist church now stands, and thanked the Heavenly Father for a safe journey, and arrival without the loss of anyone. This was a tedious journey but they were grateful. Think of it! Thirty days of travel with ox drawn wagon through brush and mud and a possible encounter with savages and yet thankful for temporal blessings, as well as the divine care of the Heavenly Father.

Today (1936), a century later, the journey could be made in four or five hours.

After the Thanksgiving the leader said, "This is the New Ark, consummating the covenant seeking homes in a new land."

The name given that day to the settlement, was continued for the name of the village, platted by Dr. Sippy and Hiram L. Welton in July 1836, after the organization of the township on April 2 of the same year: The first township election was held on the same date of the organization. History records twelve votes were cast.

SETTLEMENT

Poles were cut, tents pitched for temporary homes on the east side of the trail, from the present site of the Akron Exchange State Bank, northward to that of the Methodist church. This was the beginning of our present surroundings, luxurious in comparison with the privations and hardships of the Pioneers.

Homesteading commenced at once. They had the hostile Red Men to contend with. The majority of the natives were friendly and the colonists were careful to cultivate their good will.

PROGRES

Other home seekers soon found the settlement and were cordially welcomed. In 1837 Daniel Whittenberger, Sr., Stephen Sippy, L. G. Welton, Starling Crosby and their families came from Medina county, joining relatives and former neighbors. Isaac Sippy and Wm. Culver, a young man, both from Media, Ohio in 1838. Gardner Osgood put up a sawmill and operated it, which was a great project in a country of such wonderful walnut, oak hickory and popular timber. Mr. Crosby was the first shoe maker. His trade was well timed, as footwear had worn out or had been outgrown, and a new supply was in demand.

Isaac Sippy was a blacksmith, as was his brother Stephen. They put up a smithy on the lot of the southeast corner of Whittenberger and Rochester street. This industry was hailed with delight for repairs were always in demand. The sawmill was located on the pond that was between the Earl Shimer home and Milo Cutchall farm.

Jacob Whittenberger and his first wife arrived August 6, 1840. Mr. Whittenberger was the pioneer cabinet maker and undertaker of the community. He did not come with his father and brothers in '36, as he told me it was necessary for him to serve an apprenticeship in order to be of greater assistance in the new locality. Isaac Pontius located in 1840. The Jacob Cutchall family in 1841, Samuel Lane and Phillip Rader Sr. and family enrolled in 1842. The Kreighbaums and Bowler families in '43. The various Hoffman families located in 1844. Jacob Sippy and Alexander Curtis families in 1845. Dr. S. S. Terry in '46. Geo. McCloud and Wm. Shelt and families in 1847. Andrew Strong became a resident in 1849. The Jacob Strong and Adamson families came prior to the year 1849.

In the fifties many more people came, including the Gast, Yeagley, and Bitters and Andrew Kuhn families. All aided in the upbuilding of Newark and have descendants in our midst. Emory Day and Daniel Hoover came from Ohio on horseback in 1838.

IN MEMORY

IN MEMORY of Colleen Kankle, who died June 24, 1968.

We cannot say and we will not say
That she is dead - She is just away
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair
It must be, since she lingers there;
So think of the faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here.

Think of her still as the same, we say
She is not dead - She is just away.

Fido and Firecrackers

To any sensitive dog, the Glorious Fourth is a pain in the ear drum. Literally. If you could hear sounds two full octaves above the range of the human ear, you'd cower in the corner too.

Although in most states it is now illegal to sell fireworks, you may be sure at the dawn's early light bombs will be bursting in air—to the kiddies' delight and Fido's distress.

This national pastime is a hard habit to break, in spite of numerous injuries and frequent deaths, not only to human beings, but to dogs. Last year a puppy in Colorado suffered a burned leg and untold psychological trauma when youngsters tossed a Roman candle at him. And a German Shepherd, enjoying his fenced-in yard, was blinded when a lighted firecracker exploded in his face.

Even if your Fido is indoors during the celebrations, don't be surprised if he starts to howl at the first BANG, says Bob Bartes, Manager, Friskies Nutrition Research Kennels. He may be used to shotguns and the hunt, or the backfiring of city cars, but he can turn craven, coward when "crackers" start popping. If your pup shows stress on July 4, don't lecture him on fortitude. He can't help it. His nervous system is quivering, and what he needs most is solitude and a safe retreat, preferably under the bed or in a nice dark closet.

If Fido is a shambles even under this considerate treatment, ask your veterinarian for a sedative. He'll come through the holiday a little groggy, but better a sleepy pup than a canine casualty.

The huge baleen whale, sometimes nearly 100 feet long, feeds on shrimplike creatures only an inch or two in length.

Fireworks To Be Controlled

State Fire Marshal Norman M. Fesler and Robert K. Konkle, Superintendent of the State Police, announced this week that a joint effort is being conducted by their departments to insure compliance with the Indiana law concerning fireworks.

"In interpreting the fireworks statute, the superintendent and I are in agreement that certain items are unlawful and subject to seizure," Fesler said. "They include torpedoes, sky rockets, roman candles, daygobombs, tablets containing explosives, and all other exploding fireworks, except paper caps," he explained. The unlawful sale, use or possession of these items could result in a possible fine of $100 and up to 90 days in jail.

Other fireworks devices not listed but which contain magnesium or mercury, are also in violation of the Indiana law and could result in seizure and criminal prosecution.

Items that are legal and not subject to seizure include fixed ammunition for firearms, sparklers on wires which contain no magnesium, chlorate or perchlorate flitter sparklers in paper tubes up to 1/8th inch in diameter toy snakes containing no mercury and devices designed to use paper caps.
