Akron police car clubbed

Woodrow Ritchie, 28, Akron, was granted time to obtain counsel in Fulton circuit court Monday in defense of charges of drunken driving, malicious trespass and drawing a weapon while resisting arrest.

He was lodged in Fulton Co. jail Wednesday after being cited by Akron Marshal Ed Hauser. He was arrested for damaging the Akron police car after Hauser stopped him for investigation of his driving.

Ritchie failed to stop when flagged down by Hauser and drove to his mother's house in Akron where Hauser confronted him. Ritchie took a shotgun from the trunk of his car and smashed the red lights, windshield and two other windows on Hauser's patrol car, causing an estimated $600 damage.

Melvin Jordan, Akron deputy marshal, helped Hauser handcuff Ritchie and take him to jail.

Bidwells sell mobile home courts

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bidwell, owners of the Bidwell Mobile Home Sales and Court in Akron since 1955, announced this week they have sold both courts to Wilbur and Pauline Sorg of North Manchester. The Sorgs also own courts at Peru and North Manchester. The Akron courts will be managed by their son and daughter-in-law, Wayne and Donna Sorg, No. Manchester. The Bidwell name will be retained for the present time.

The Bidwells opened the west court in 1955 and have expanded until there are now 31 lots in two courts. Active in Akron business affairs since 1933 when they moved here from Roann to open a food market, the Bidwells also formerly owned the Tiosa Elevator. Mr. Bidwell was associated with the former Merchants Protective Association for 35 years.

The Bidwells retained ownership of their mobile home and travel trailer sales but plan to slow their schedule to allow more vacation time.

Interested persons may contact Cumberland by calling 893-4039.

OMAHA, northern Indiana's oldest good time rock and roll dance band, will provide their own special music for a teen dance planned at the Akron gym during this year's 4th of July celebration. The group, which features approximately 75 per cent original material, will play from 4 to 7 p.m. Their style of music includes soft acoustic numbers, steel guitar foot-stomping tunes and the fat dance floor boogie. Members of the group are Bob Longenecker, Sharie Stokes, Doug Pullman, Jim Brennan, Al Blauser, and Sid Phillips. They blend four vocalists into a sound for everyone, according to their publicity release.

An open letter to the Akron community

The following letter was received by the NEWS this week and is published as an open letter of appeal for concerned citizens to help with a very real problem, the town park:

Dear Ann:

As you undoubtedly know, the Town of Akron has had limited funds for the maintenance and operation of the City Park. However, with contributions of materials, and considerable assistance from private individuals and civic organizations, the Park has been improved a little bit each year.

I went up to the park early this spring to see what was needed in the way of clean-up and repairs, and was disheartened to see the abuse it had been given by some few individuals who apparently have little respect for community property. The outdoor toilets had been badly abused, beer cans, pop cans, and miscellaneous trash had been thrown in the charcoal pits, toilets, on the ground, and, one of the swing seats had been run up to the top of the flagpole and the flagpole rope then broken off the pulley. In short, the park showed the usual wear and tear that most community property does when there are not adequate funds for regular maintenance and surveillance.

With the cooperation of the Town Board, we did, however, set out to begin our annual spring clean-up and fix-up, and after about one week's work we were able to put the park up in tip-top shape ready for summer. I only hope we are able to keep it that way.

Last year I went to the park several times on weekends, and on many occasions found the shelter house crowded to capacity. This makes it apparent to me that the community might well benefit through the addition of more park facilities. I'm thinking now in terms of another shelter house, a double tennis court, a year-around enclosed recreation center which could be used by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, family reunion groups, church groups, etc., and possibly over in the well field directly west of the park, a baseball diamond which could be used by Little League and others. This, of course, requires some relatively elaborate long-range planning, as well as the backing of some individuals or organization who can see the proper planning is accomplished and that the project is financed and carried through. In addition, it would require funds for the maintenance and upkeep of these facilities.

I talked with the Las Donas Club and they expressed an interest in sponsoring such a project; however, they too were concerned that once these additional improvements were made to the park, how do we go about getting them cared for with the constant need for surveillance, maintenance, and repair.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor!

It's running! The 1902 Lincoln truck given to the Fulton Co. Historical Society by Carl Zartman is running now, thanks to the mechanical genius of C. F. McCarty, Cliff Downs and Clarence Hill. Cloris Barkman donated oil and gas and space in his auto agency to display the truck. John L. Ross of FMC Corporation, Indianapolis, donated two boxes of link belt chain needed to drive the truck. A great big thank you to all these men for their help.

Thanks also are extended to the people who shopped at Wilts during our Benefit Days, which brought us a check for $49.08. Thank you to the many sponsors of the Historical Quarterly. It is now being printed at the Sentinel and should be in the mail by the first of July.

The new Quarterly will be about Fulton Co. architecture and will contain about 45 pictures of old houses. To be sure you receive a copy, pay your annual dues of $3 to treasurer Ruth Richardson, R. 2, Rochester.

Greg Goodhew of Angola is photographing craftsmen of Indiana and wrote to ask the Historical Society for names. Call me if you have any suggestions.

Would you like to learn to spin thread on a spinning wheel or weave on a 120-year old loom or card wool? We are planning to hold a workshop soon at the museum to train people to do these things for the Round Barn Festival. We need someone to teach spinning and carding. Contact me if interested in teaching or learning. Shirley Willard, President Fulton Co. Historical Society

My purpose in writing this letter is that I am hopeful you can help get the folks here in the community who are using and enjoying the park to lend a hand to help keep it up in good condition (which right now is not being done). I am also in hopes that someone in the community will come up with an idea of how the Town of Akron can give our Park the necessary maintenance and upkeep so that it can be enjoyed in future years by everyone.

If you get any ideas, please let me know. Sincerely yours, Channing Utter Anyone with suggestions regarding the problem outlined by Utter is urged to contact him or the NEWS in hopes that something can be done to keep the park the useful and beautiful facility it now is.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ELLIS, KANS., REVIEW: "People are divided into threes. Those who know everything, those who don't know anything and those who think they do. A fourth could be added, those who think they know everything and are not afraid to say so."

ALBEMARLE, N.C., STANLEY NEWS & PRESS: "A junkyard near a railroad crossing in Colorado carries a sign directed to the motorist: 'Go ahead. Take a chance. We'll buy the car.'"

Who's On Third?

A potpourri of events on the local area and state scene....

Daryl Ball, an 11-year livestock auctioneer on the Bourbon area, will vie for the 1973 World Livestock Auctioneer Championship June 23 in Norfolk, Nebr. He was reserve champion in the 1972 contest.

Kermit Leininger, a former Beaver Dam teacher who has taught in the Fort Wayne Community School system for the past 32 years, has been named principal at Slocum Elementary School. He is a graduate of Manchester College and Indiana University.

Kosciusko Co. Council members voted unanimously last week to oppose granting Sunday sales permits for alcoholic beverage retailers.

Charles H. Rauschke, chairman of the Fulton Co. U.S. Savings Bond committee, has received a report showing that the county's savings bond sales for April were $7,923 compared with $4,883 for the corresponding period of last year.

Driving privileges for James M. Voris, R. 2, Silver Lake, have been suspended until Jan. 24, 1974 on a driving with a suspended license charge, according to the Indiana Motor Vehicle division.

Freedom of Press Day

"The first freedom of a free man is freedom of the mind, but that freedom is of little value without access to information and the opinions of others," writes the Los Angeles Times. And that is precisely what Freedom of the Press Day, June 7, is all about.

An independent press remains the vital watchdog of individual freedom. Government grows more powerful, and more decisions are taken out of the hands of the average citizen everyday. Yet, in the independent press, public opinion can still be heard and remains instrumental in shaping local, state and national policies. As always, First Amendment protections of the press are under attack, the latest controversy centering around confidentiality of news sources. As Representative Paul Findly of Illinois has said, "By requiring reporters to reveal their sources and personal notes, the courts are turning reporters' press cards into policemen's badges. As this happens, news sources dry up and the public is less informed and less able to make decisions necessary for good government."

The course of action, then, is clear. To protect our democratic way of life, we must follow in the steps of our forefathers and always be willing to defend the guardian of good government--the press--and see that it retains its freedom from coercion and censorship.

60 YEARS AGO

Pursuant to previous arrangements, the voters of Henry township met at the polls Tuesday, June 3, to suggest that no open saloon was wanted in Akron just at this time. The weatherman was on his job early and provided the finest June day weather. The rains of Sunday had put the ground in such elegant condition to work it that the dries feared the farmer voter would not leave his work to come in and vote and the day would be lost to the dries on that account, and many did not come, possibly one hundred and fifty, but enough came to make the matter very decisive in favor of the dries--a majority of 183. Athens precinct cast 127 votes, 75 dry, 49 wet and four mutilated, giving the dry vote in that precinct a clear majority of 28 which was entirely unlooked for by either party so far as we could learn.

Winona is an incorporated town, having elected a full corps of officers last Saturday including a marshal. ### Meet The Mentone 4-H Girls

The oldest member of the Mentone club is Lynne Knoop, 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knoop. She is beginning her eighth year and has taken a variety of projects. Her favorite project is crafts and she earlier this year won the senior division achievement records in this category. She is a county junior leader, club teen leader, MYF secretary and is involved in many school clubs. She was voted "outstanding 4-H'er", a local club award, in 1972 and has attended 4-H Round-Up. She has also gone to state competition for her demonstration on macrame. Being in 4-H has helped her talk in front of groups and has given her a push in leadership. She would like to attend National 4-H Congress and become a good adult leader in the future. She believes in the line, "I haven't reached the top of the ladder, yet, but I'm still climbing."

Norma Knoop, Lynne's sister, is just beginning her many years in 4-H. Although she is starting her second year, she has already won a blue ribbon for achievement records. She is not only active in 4-H but is involved in band, Girl Scouts, church choir and plays baseball in the summer. She too, is looking towards the future years when she can take her projects to the state fair.

Kathleen King is beginning her first year of 4-H by taking the home furnishings project. She has many ideas and unlimited enthusiasm concerning this project and others she hopes to take in the future. Kathleen is nine years old and is a piano student and attends the First Mennonite Church in Nappanee. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell King are Kathleen's proud parents.

Summer Track Meet

A summer track meet is planned at Northfield High School Saturday.

The age group meet is open to any boy or girl in Indiana with junior high events for 10-14-year olds being set at 8:30 a.m. They will participate in all regular track events as will the 15-17 year old group during the 1 p.m. meet. There will also be a class for people over 17.

Mentone coach Jim Weber said any junior high school students needing transportation should meet at Dave Spiegel's house at 8 p.m. and any students of high school age needing rides should be at the school at 11:30 a.m.

A SOBERING THOUGHT

"Most people live their life as if it were a trial run for a second chance."

That observation in a recent publication was designed to get laughs, and it does. But that thought can be sobering.

It's easy to amble along, meaning to do many things, yet somehow never quite getting around to so many of them. Then suddenly the days we have are gone, and whatever was undone remains undone.

We don't get a second chance, so there's little time for trial runs.

Whatever is important in life should be firmly grasped. Whatever is to be done should receive our best. Whatever dreams we harbor should be pursued. Whatever joy and beauty we find should be shared and savored. And if misfortune finds us, it should be conquered quickly, lest precious days for living be lost forever.

Life is a frail and fragile gift that deserves our best. So make each day count, pursue your dreams, savor life's precious moments, for with the sunset they will be gone.

Bob Jaques' study of avia

By

Bob Jaques became a student pilot three years ago and within a year was deeply involved not only in learning to fly but in studying the history of aviation. This study took him to the Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio, where he saw Neil Armstrong's autograph on display. He knew immediately this was something he wanted and without realizing it, set himself on a course that was to lead to one of the finest aviation-space-related collections in the country.

Rather than simply writing Armstrong for his autograph, Jaques located an Apollo 11 patch and cut a picture related to the flight from a current publication, mounting these on a display board that he sent Armstrong along with a sincere letter praising the accomplishments of the first man to walk on the moon. Within a short time, the display board was returned with the astronaut's autograph. It has since been autographed by the other two members of the crew.

His success in obtaining these autographs prompted him to design similar display boards for other space explorers and he now has a collection of autographed display boards relating to each of the Apollo flights. This is no small accomplishment in that it involved not only writing to the men but creating an interesting display board to send them. This invariably consists of a cloth patch located in any large department store and a picture or drawing related to the flight. In some instances, the display contains original art work by Jaques himself.

"I follow a pretty set form in writing to these people," he says, noting that he only writes to individuals he has a real and genuine interest in, feeling that any insincerity on his part would be apparent in the letter. In addition, he tries to send them something, such as a display board or a photograph obtained from another source. Lacking these, he encloses another flight-related item such as commemorative first day covers. With the item to be autographed and his covering letter, he also sends a self-addressed, stamped envelope (SASE). He feels this helps ensure a response since the addressee in no way is obligated to him other than to spend a few minutes of time.

If he has any questions concerning that person's flight or accomplishments, he includes these with his letter and, to his delight, has received many detailed letters that shed new light on that individual's achievements. His favorite is a two-page letter from Scott Crossfield, who tested the X-15. Not only does he learn more about the person, he actually gets two autographs, one on the letter and the other on the picture or display board.

Aviation history leads to unusual collection

By Ann Sheetz

Jaques says 99 per cent of the people he queries are very co-operative and he has never had a request rejected although he has had to wait as long as 15 months for a reply. Patience and persistence are necessary prerequisites for his hobby, he notes, adding that his appreciation of the U. S. Postal Service is great as none of his material has been lost in the mails.

His interest in flight and the space program has helped him obtain between 150 and 200 autographs, including not only the complete Apollo program but a complete set of the Battle of Britain RAF fighter aces and a complete set of autographs from the Russian Cosmonauts. The latter is currently on display at the Huntsville, Alabama, space center.

The Jaques family now lives in Bourbon but will soon move to Alabama, a move that will force Bob Jaques to give up his position as a columnist for Public Aviation News. The column was a direct result of his study of aviation history and has featured such notables as Mentone's own Lawrence Bell as well as Amelia Earhart, who, though not a native Hoosier, was an instructor at Purdue University and practiced for her final flight there. His study of her log book there and the subsequent reading and research he did on the Earhart chapter of aviation history were compiled into a report for a college course and remain the basis for further study in the area.

While it's difficult to say which came first, the love of flying or the study of aviation history, Bob Jaques has created a collection that is irreplaceable and that will continue to grow in value. Now stored in safe deposit boxes when not on display at schools or meetings or the Alabama Space Center, it will be donated to a museum when Jaques is through with it. In fact, he stresses strongly in each of the letters he writes that he will in no way materially gain from the asked-for autograph and that it will not be used commercially. His collection is entirely for his own enjoyment and for the pleasure of various groups to which he speaks. It reflects much from the lives of the men and women involved in aviation as well as other fields and is the product of an inquiring individual whose quest to learn to fly took him beyond the present back into history and forward into the future. By the time the nation focused its attention on Skylab, Bob Jaques was already familiar with the project and acquainted with the men involved and their autographs had been added to his collection.

Lacking new space programs at the moment, he is attempting to get autographs of the German pilots who participated in the Battle of Britain. So far, the going has been slow, but he is patient.

Jeff Morris To Attend Hardwood Camp

Jeffrey Morris, Akron, will attend Farm Boys Forestry Camp at Versailles State Park during the week of June 10 to 16 as a selected and nominated representative of the Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen's Association of which Pike Lumber Co. Inc. is a member.

Lumbermen sponsoring this camp feel the training of rural youth in forestry and farm woods management is an excellent investment in the future of the country's valuable timber resources.

During the week the boys will observe and receive training in all phases of forestry from the raising of trees from seeds to the utilization of wood for such things as furniture, plywood, paper and other products. Methods of forest fire prevention and control, forest tree nursery practices, tree planting techniques, wood identification and timber estimation are a few of the subjects on the program.

Later in the week the boys will receive training in timber cruising and farm woods management. They will also observe operations in a sawmill and veneer plant and will have the opportunity to see these products manufactured into furniture. Industry foresters will help with this phase of the program and will conduct the trips through the wood-using industries.

The campers will learn much during their week of intensive farm forestry training. They are expected to report on the camp when they return to local 4-H groups and other organizations.

"We feel sure the campers will return home with a much greater appreciation of our Hoosier hardwood forests and the part they play in maintaining our environment as well as our economy," said Charles Pingleton, Bainbridge, president of the Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen's Association.

Also attending the camp will be Robert Redewick, Union township.

At the age of twenty young Elie Metchnikoff, son of an impoverished Russian aristocrat, had already written important scientific papers and was teaching students older than himself. Ill health, overwork, the tragic death of his young wife and the unrest and repression within tsarist Russia combined to drive him to the brink of nervous collapse and suicide; but a happy second marriage and an appointment to the Pasteur Institute in Paris finally ended the painful years of loneliness and wondering. While final victory eluded him, his brilliant pioneering made possible the success of others.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

We've come a long way from the 9 x 12 rugs that grandmother had in her parlor. Now you not only must decide which carpet to choose, but where you will use it, on the floor, around the pool, on the patio or on the sidewalk in front of your home.

Selecting carpet for your needs, with the money you have to spend is no easy task. You will be bewildered by the many fibers, colors, and styles from which you can select. Before you shop for carpet become as well informed as you can. Take along samples of colors already used in the room. When you have eliminated all but a few of the possible choices ask to take samples home with you to see if the carpet goes well with other things under different lights.

Buy the best carpet you can afford for the purpose. Wool is still the standard against which we measure all other carpet fibers. For most people the price of wool carpeting makes it not feasible. There are many different types of carpeting that will give you very satisfactory performance.

Nylon is noted for abrasion-resistance and offers outstanding value in medium priced carpets for heavy traffic use. There are two types of nylon, staple and continuous filament. Continuous filament eliminates pilling which is a problem with staple filament. Nylon has a tendency to generate static electricity also.

Acrylics are close to wool in appearance and feel. All acrylic fibers used in carpets have good abrasion resistance and resiliency. Acrylics compare favorably to wool in durability.

Other fibers used for carpeting include olefin and polyester. Properties for these may be found in a bulletin entitled "Buying Carpet" available at the County Extension Office.

Carpet padding protects your investment by adding many extra years of wear to the life of the carpet. Padding provides more comfort under foot, increases the capacity of the carpet to absorb noise, and insulates against extremes of heat and cold. Felt and rubber padding are available. Carpeting usually represent a sizeable investment so careful thought and research should be made before making your final decision.

EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS-The 1973-74 club books are ready and can be picked up in the Extension Office at your earliest convenience. The office is open 8-4 daily and 8-12 on Saturdays.

Mothers-Daughters Entertained With Magic

Ronald Kuhn's magic tricks kept the daughters squealing with joy and the mothers pondering the feat in amazement Thursday night at the Akron United Methodist women's mother-daughter tea.

Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kuhn and a graduate of Akron High School, now lives in Ft. Wayne where he is a teacher. His spare time is devoted to learning new magic tricks that he uses in giving shows for area groups.

Also participating in the evening's program were Mrs. Bob DuBois and daughter and Rene Rager and Sally Leckrone.

Refreshments were served in the church annex to approximately 100 members and guests.

Russell Named

Everett Russell, a resident of the Green Oak community south of Rochester for 27 years, has been named Fulton Co. assessor starting July 1. Appointed Monday by the Fulton Co. commissioners, subject to the approval of the State Tax Board, Russell will succeed Republican Oren B. Conrad, 67, Akron, who recently resigned because of poor health. Russell will serve the remainder of Conrad's term, to Dec. 31, 1974.

Sprinkle gelatin on the cold water to soften. Dissolve the softened gelatin in the very hot water. Add sweetener and lemon juice. Stir well. Chill to unbeaten egg white consistency. Fold in beaten egg white until smooth. Turn into one large mold or 4 individual molds. Chill until firm.

TVs, Appliances Reported Stolen

Officers are continuing their investigation of the theft of television sets and tape players valued at $3,600 missing from a Silver Lake firm last week along with a pick-up truck thought to have been used by burglars to haul the loot away.

Officials of Town and Country Sheet Metal, Silver Lake, reported Wednesday that a 1973 Ford F105 pick-up truck was missing from their business. Kosciusko Co. sheriff's deputy Stanley Holderman also received a report that the Russ Bauer TV sales building, located on SR 15 in town, had been burglarized.

Officers think it is possible the thieves stole the truck and used it to haul nine television sets, tape players and other merchandise from the Bauer building.

A Silver Lake area resident told police he saw a truck parked in front of the television sales building about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday and that the truck left town headed south on SR 15.

The pick-up was recovered in Wabash Co., parked at the intersection of CR 1400 No. and SR 15 late Friday. It is thought the Bauer merchandise was transferred to other vehicles from that spot.

Most of us worry too much about having something to live on--and too little about having something to live for.

Kosciusko Co. Gets Half of One Percent Local Income Tax

The Kosciusko Co. Council voted 4-3 last week to establish a local income tax of one-half of one per cent that will be effective July 1.

Voting for the tax, which is expected to raise about $600,000, half to be used to reduce local property taxes and the other half to fund raises for county programs, employees or other items not now budgeted, were Merle Wertenberger, C.L. (Tim) McCleary and Wayne Tombaugh. Opposed were Norman DeGood, Charles Menzie and Ralph Oyler.

Mentone Board Approves Fund Use

An additional appropriation in the amount of $7,807.50 was approved by the Mentone Town Board Monday night that will dissolve the remaining debt on a fire truck and pay for improvements at the town cemetery.

The town has a balance of $5,607.50 remaining on the fire truck and plans are to use federal revenue sharing funds to make the final payment.

The rest of the appropriation will be used to pay for limestone that has been spread on driveways in the cemetery and for trees and shrubs that have been removed and cleaned up.

Board members said an excellent response had come from a recent plea for donations to assist with the care of the cemetery, not only from local residents but from many living away from Mentone. The board thanked all contributors for their interest in maintaining a well-kept cemetery.

Board members also announced they would like to plan to have more curbing installed in the town this summer, saying the work can be done for $1 per foot. It is hoped many of the property owners will take an interest in the project. They can contact Harry Sullivan, street commissioner, for further information.

The next town board meeting will be July 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

Speeches are like steer horns, a point here, a point there, and a lot of bull in between.

Mentone Days set June 22 and 23

This year's Mentone Days will be June 22 and 23 and will feature a variety of entertainment plus good eating for everyone in the family.

Although most of the merchants will participate in sidewalk day sales on both days, the first scheduled activity is a pancake and sausage supper at 5 p.m. Friday. It will be followed by Little League and Pony League games at 6 p.m. at the Youth League Park and then by a tractor pull in the downtown area at 6:30 p.m. Weigh-in for the latter event will be from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Agri-Center.

Saturday's activities include a chicken barbecue from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and more ball games with a championship playoff in the evening. A water ball at 1 p.m. in the downtown area and a pony pull at the same time in Mentzer Park have been planned. An archery contest is set for 2 p.m. Hosted by Hoss Hill Bowman, Inc., it is an open shoot. Bows and arrows will be available and trophies will be presented.

A parade has been set for 4 p.m. The final activity of the day will be a drawing for prizes contributed by local merchants.

Many individuals, including Miss Mentone, campaigning for county fair queen, will have booths and concessions, and, for the first time, amusement-type rides will be provided.

Sponsor of the event is the Mentone Chamber of Commerce who will use the proceeds for worthwhile community projects.

Horse Show June 24 opens Akron 4th celebration

Plans have been completed for Akron's annual horseshow, which is always set for the Sunday prior to the 4th of July celebration and which is one of the major fund-raising projects involved in supporting the 4th celebration.

Co-chairman of the horse show are Terry Walgumuth and Dick Day. The halter classes will begin at 10 a.m.

Complete information regarding place and sponsors can be found in this week's NEWS.

A general schedule for this year's 4th of July celebration has been announced by Dick Day, general chairman.

The parade that traditionally opens the day of activity will begin at 11 a.m., making its way from Pike Lumber Co. through the downtown area to the school grounds.

Floats will be judged in three categories, out of town, adult and children.

Other events planned on the 4th include a Little League ballgame, children's games, a teen dance from 4 to 7 p.m., country and western music by the Knebel family from 3 to 5 and from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

There will also be kiddy rides, food booths and a pony pull in addition to a skydiving exhibition and an art show and sale.

Fireworks at dusk will complete the day's activities.

RIDING FROM PENNSYLVANIA to California are Lynn Lloyd and Tony Baptiste who stopped at Lowman's Corner north of Akron Wednesday afternoon with their two horses, pack pony and traveling companion dog, Puddles. They left Cresco, Pa., on May 1 and plan to arrive in San Diego, Calif., by the first of November with stop-overs in Chicago and Ft. Worth, Tex. Ms. Lloyd said the trip is something she has always wanted to do, and she has enjoyed it so much she plans to go into endurance racing when they return from the trip. She is a trainer of hunters and jumpers, and Baptiste is a blacksmith and a trainer, giving them a good background for their cross-country ride. Accommodations are no problem since they travel with sleeping bags and a tent, preparing their own food and sleeping in barns on rainy nights. Their worst problem has been the cold weather that preceded this week's heat wave with temperatures often dipping to 35 degrees.

No. Miami Teams Win State Contest

North Miami FFA and 4-H teams were big winners in the state dairy and poultry contests last week with the No. Miami 4-H club team winning first in dairy, and FFA and 4-H teams winning first in poultry and egg judging. The school also had the top six individual intrants in the state and a ninth place individual entrant.

Mel Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Klein, Akron, was a member of the winning FFA team and also placed second in the state in individual scoring.

The winning FFA team will participate in the national contest in Kansas City, and the winning 4-H team will go to national contests in Chicago and Richmond, Va. Each team received $250 expense money.

The teams were coached by Keith Overton and Terry Tomson.

Named Alternate

Anne Kendall, Akron, has been elected from the Fifth District as alternate delegate to the National Republican Women's convention in Los Angeles from Sept. 26-29.

Earlham Graduate

David Alan Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moore, Akron, received an A.B. degree at Earlham College Sunday, June 10.

THE KNEBEL FAMILY will provide country and western music for the entertainment of those attending this year's 4th of July celebration in Akron. The group is composed of the father, Neil, who plays the autoharp and sings; the mother, Sandy, who plays rhythm guitar, the harmonica and sings; children Steve, 17, who plays five-string banjo, Hawaiian steel guitar and the dobro guitar; Karla, 15, who plays the bass guitar and sings, and Debbie, 14, playing the mandolin and singing. Son Kerry, 12, plays the electric guitar and the harmonica, and Kathy, 11, plays rhythm guitar and sings. They describe their music as mostly country-western, bluegrass and country gospel.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

When I became an amateur genealogist, vowing to trace Loren's and my family trees to their very roots, well-meaning and more experienced friends cautioned, "Be prepared to find anything. Every family has something unusual in its background, so don't be horrified at anything your research may find."

With this bit of disquieting information tucked away, I proceeded in my usual enthusiastic style to research both trees at the same time. Although this proved utterly confusing, it also proved interesting because one name, Swartzlander, continued to reappear in each of our families. His was Philip; mine was George. They appeared to have been born only a few years apart and in the same area, and their children came to Indiana at the same time.

As months wore on and the two Swartzlanders appeared to grow farther apart, so did the two Sheetz kids. After a few fights, I threatened to take my half of the Swartzlanders and leave if they didn't get along better. Loren threatened to take his half after a couple more sibling-type brawls. Both boys acknowledged that being brothers was a drag; they liked their cousins better.

Finally, research at the state library indicated that one Johannes Phillip Swartzlander had come to the United States from Germany in 1752. He had many children, including one Conrad Swartzlander, who, with further research, proved to be the father of both Phillip and George.

Now we had something. For one thing, we had our oldest son, Todd, born in the same section of Germany his great-great-great-great-great-grandfather had left more than two hundred years before. Even more interesting, we had a lot of cousins. For instance, I had Loren; he had me, sixth cousins. We can't even take our half of the family and leave; we'd still be stuck with the other half. My brother's children and his brother's children are cousins. My father-in-law was my cousin and my father is Loren's cousin. Loren's nephews are my cousins and so is my brother-in-law, and Loren can claim as cousins my brother and his children.

But what really appealed to the boys was that they were cousins, albeit seventh cousins, and the fighting actually slowed for a few days while they basked in the glory of being more than just brothers but honest to goodness seventh cousins. Their own first cousins were now also their seventh cousins. They became so confused, the nine-year old decided he was his cousins' uncle.

Who knows? Maybe he is. I haven't gone another twig further on the family tree, because those friends proved prophetic when they said to beware anything found on the family tree. I found a sixth cousin I'm married to; another step could find almost anything. My cousin might be my uncle and it's hard to tell what his cousin might be.

The whole thing is sad, really. No longer can we glare at each other when one of the boys misbehaves and say, "He got that nasty temper (stubbornness, etc.) from your side of the family. It's all the same family now. What a drag."

60 YEARS AGO

When the new school building is finished and the schools opened up in it and plenty of cement walks leading to it which will add several hundred per cent to our already splendid school facilities, and when the old school building is filled up with two hundred or three hundred happy, husky children, when the new library building is located, if possible on the Shriver block, the campus in solid green sword with cement walks approaching from two or four directions, the shelves filled with good books, tables for bric-a-brac, bouquets, etc. and our people young and old going in and out, to and fro with book in arm, who will not like to live in Akron then? And not an open saloon legalized within eleven miles of Akron, and the blind tigers so decrepit and weak, so that he will not be able to even stagger along the darkest ally in town, who will not like to live in Akron then? And who will not be truly happy to help bring these conditions about? Now is the time to help. We are dreaming now, dreaming of Akron's high state of culture and splendid opportunities to live in a pure atmosphere where everyone you meet is an uplift. But Mr., it is not all a dream. These very things, every one of them, are in process of maturing. They will attract a high class of citizenship and bring to our midst talent that will strengthen our own populace in character and in morality. It will build up commerce and strengthen the merchants bank account. We must quit here for we see no end of the good things coming to Akron. After a while we can go out after factories and build up that way; indeed, they will come almost unbidden. Can you build air castles? Can you see Akron in her Sunday clothes?

Jan Eikenberry To Be Sunday Speaker

Jan Eikenberry will describe her work with Campus Crusade for Christ Sunday morning at the 10:30 service in the Akron United Methodist Church.

Miss Eikenberry, granddaughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Claude Fawns, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Eikenberry, Granville, Ohio. She graduated from Indiana University in 1971 with an art major. During her senior year, she became vitally interested in Campus Crusade for Christ and dedicated her life to the purpose of "Helping to Change the World," a movement started several years ago by Dr. Bill Bright.

After getting all the Crusade training available at I.U., she enrolled for leadership training at Arrowhead Springs, Cal., where she completed the prescribed course for leadership plus post graduate work and was made a staff member.

Instead of working with college students, she chose to work with the young people in the high schools and was appointed to Kansas City. The quality of her organizational ability and dedicated witnessing service there has met with such favorable recognition that she has been reassigned to that city for the third year, and, beginning in September, she will be the head leader for the entire area.

Miss Eikenberry goes to many cities in different states to set up and conduct leadership training institutes and to witness for her Lord. She says the fruits of her labors have been most rewarding.

In addition to all the work and witnessing she does, she is responsible for raising the finances for her support.

Two of her helpers will be with her, and on Sunday afternoon, they will go to Purdue University where they will join 4,000 Crusaders who will spend two months in intensive training and witnessing. Miss Eikenberry will be one of the instructors and will also take some advance courses in leadership. All young people and adults are cordially invited to attend the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday.

RUBY DAWSON shows some of the bodies for the carefully constructed cloth dolls she makes. Thin ones, like the one she is holding, have reinforced legs. All of them have ears, a feature not provided for in patterns but added by Mrs. Dawson because she feels this makes them more authentic. Note the clowns in the background. She purchases their faces but makes the rest of their bodies.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the June 14, 1944 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-op News:

Mentone is to have a new eating house, starting Saturday morning. Two sisters, Mrs. Harry Gible and Mrs. Darrel Coplen, with the support of many local citizens, have been working feverishly the past few weeks remodeling the old Cochran grocery building preparatory to the establishment of a cafe and lunch room. The ladies promise Sunday dinners as well as regular meals throughout the week and lunches.

Kenneth Romine was acting corporal of the group of Selective Service boys who were inducted at Indianapolis on Monday.

The library will be open on Thursday evenings from 8 to 9 for the convenience of the people whose employment makes it difficult for them to come to the library at other times.

Sgt. Robert Kinsey expects to leave Monday for New Orleans following a short furlough here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith entertained at supper Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Paulus, daughter Louise and son Kay and Mr. and Mrs. Lum Smith of near Rochester.

Charles Manwaring, Maurice Dudley, F. B. Davison, Max Smith of Mentone and Jack Ursch-el of Tippecanoe attended the Shrine meeting in Ft. Wayne last Saturday.

You're an old-timer if you can remember when you could tell a youngster the facts of life without getting into a debate.

on family tradition

By Ann Sheetz

Ruby Dawson's mother and grandmother always thought Ruby and her sisters should have lots of handmade rag dolls, and, although Ruby has no children of her own, she happily keeps the tradition alive for her six nieces and assorted other children.

Mrs. Dawson's Akron home, cheerful with plants and keepsakes, sometimes takes on the appearance of a doll factory when she spreads out the assorted bodies and thoughtfully fingers bits of material given her by friends that she will make into dresses.

Each of the dolls is handmade, every stitch of the smaller dolls put in place by hand. Larger dolls are made on the sewing machine, but there is never any worry that the stuffing will spill out because she meticulously stitches and re-stitches the durable cotton to create dolls that will withstand wear. And because she noted so many arms and legs became weak points, she has devised a method of attaching these extremities by use of a button that keeps them from tearing off.

The dolls' bodies are carefully stitched and then turned to be stuffed. Some of the smaller dolls have such tiny arms and legs that she has to use a nut pick to turn the material. She reinforces these small legs with wire so the doll can stand. The dolls are tightly stuffed with cotton before the faces are carefully embroidered. Although patterns do not call for ears, she adds these features, often highlighting them with tiny earrings appropriate to the doll. She also stitches in elbows and fingers to give greater flexibility and to make them more realistic. She uses nylon thread for the latter, because it doesn't break as easily as cotton. "These dolls are made to last," she says.

The dolls are dressed in original fashions that she sews by hand. Some of them having tating on their panties and paticcoats and other decorative trim is used on the dresses. She often devises jewelry in addition to the tiny ear rings to highlight a particular outfit and has even added rings to the tiny fingers.

Although she often makes the dolls far ahead of dressing them, there is never any doubt as to how the doll will be dressed, because she carefully marks each body "boy dancer", "girl dancer", "Jack" or "Jill" or whatever she has in mind. The clothes are all made so that they can be taken off and washed, even the tiny black stockings and dainty undergarments.

Much in demand by clubs for talks and readings, Mrs. Dawson never sells her dolls, preferring to use them in her talks or giving them as gifts or loaning them to the Akron Carnegie Public Library where they are frequently on display. A favorite with children, she keeps a special basket of dolls ready for her young friends who frequently drop in to play games or eat cookies.

"They're really not hard to make," she says of the dolls, "and they bring so much enjoyment."

Sets Special Meeting Series

Edwin R. Williams of Bedford will be guest speaker at the Mentone Church of Christ for four meetings next week. Topics of his talks in the order of their presentation will be "God Holds Parents Responsible", "How High Can a Man Climb?", "Freedom From What?" and "Someone Blundered."

T.R. Jones of the local church has issued an invitation to all residents of the area to participate in these services.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Conventions

Ralph E. Funk, presiding minister of the Rochester congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced this week that most local delegates would attend a convention in Detroit, Mich., June 20 to 24, one of a series of conventions described as one of the largest in history.

In all, there will be 69 "Divine Victory" international assemblies in 46 countries around the world.

Funk made it clear that the conventions are not affiliated with any other religious movement and said they will provide Jehovah's Witnesses with a comprehensive program to build upon an already existing faith.

Trying to beat the red light is a gamble. You never know how much the hospital bill will be.

Music Program Saturday At Akron United Methodist

Also planned are a sale of home-made ice cream during the 4th of July celebration. As in the past, a portion of the camp expense of its members is paid by the proceeds. There are many types of camping programs available for all age groups. Interested persons may contact the pastor, the Rev. John Moore.

Lynn Casey Heads Rainbow Girls

The Akron Masonic Temple was the scene of the installation of new officers of Akron Rainbow Assembly June 8th. The East was decorated with a large picture of Lynn Casey the newly elected worthy advisor under her motto: "One Man With Courage Makes a Majority". In the West were her watchwords: "Love and Peace" and her symbol: Lighted Praying Hands. On the pedestals were rose bowls of carnations in white and the Rainbow colors.

The installing officers were Worthy Advisor, Connie Carr Morris; Marshall, Helen Beigh; Chaplain, Mr. Floyd Christman; Recorder, Mae Miller; Organist, Bernice Bowen.

Lynn was escorted to the East by her fiancé, Mr. John Rucker, as the organist played "I Believe".

Other officers installed were Deena Turner, worthy associate advisor; Jean Pugh, charity; Sherry Bickel, Hope; Deborah Ramsey, faith; Angela Hartzler, recorder; Debbie Zimmerman, love; Melanie Turner, religion and Sherri Miller, confidential observer.

Faith escorted Angela Hartzler, junior past worthy advisor, to the Altar to sign the Bible as the organist played "May You Always Walk In Sunshine".

Angela then presented the Assembly's traveling worthy advisor's pin to Lynn. She then presented Merit Bars to Sherri Miller, Sherri Bickel, Deena Turner, Jean Pugh, Deborah Ramsey, Connie Morris, Lynn Casey and Angela Hartzler. An attendance bar went to Angela Hartzler.

Lynn introduced and thanked her installing officers and her decorating and serving committees, Debbie Sterk, Deborah Ramsey and Sherry Bickel. She presented her family, friends and special guests.

Following the closing march refreshments of cake, punch, coffee, nuts and mints were served in the dining room from a table holding as a centerpiece a large bowl of carnations in rainbow hues and flanked by tall tapers.

By the time a man is in shape to buy his wife beautiful clothes, she isn't.

Men build too many walls, and not enough bridges.

Astonished to see an announcement of his own death in the newspaper, the man rushed to phone his boss. "Did you see the announcement of my death in the newspaper?" he asked. "Yes," replied the boss, "Where are you calling from?"

His future depends on plenty of electric power.

But some people would have us stop building power plants.

Some people tell us we shouldn't build more power plants because they cause air pollution. That's true. We can filter out up to 99½% of the smoke and soot from our power plant stacks... but we can't stop all of it, anymore than we can stop the need for more power.

The people who tell us we shouldn't build for tomorrow don't tell us which new families shouldn't have electricity. Or, which new husbands shouldn't have jobs. Today, fully one-half of all power is used for industrial production. Forecasts say that by 1982, we'll need twice as much power. If it isn't available, jobs won't be.

Environmental cleanup projects, such as new sewage disposal plants, recycling operations, and air pollution control equipment must have more power to operate.

We have a responsibility to you, and future generations, to assure a reliable supply of electric power produced with a minimum of environmental disturbance.

We're doing our best to make sure people can live with our electric power plants. They certainly can't live without them.

Meet The Mentone 4-H Girls

The Johnson sisters, Shasta and Shana, are not unfamiliar with the many activities and projects of 4-H. Although this is Shana's first year in both the boys and girls' clubs, she is working hard on her foods, achievement records and horse and pony projects and dog. She is 10-years old and hopes she will perform well at this year's fair.

Shasta, age 13, has taken a variety of projects and won many honors, including grand champion with her pony at the 1972 county fair. She, too, is a member of the local boys club, treasurer of the girls' club and wants to work for a trip to National 4-H Congress.

Both Shasta and Shana are members of the county 4-H horse and pony and dog clubs. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gael Johnson.

Tina Long is a first year member and is 12 years old. She thinks 4-H is a fun club and says that she "would like to be a club officer someday." Her favorite hobby is drawing so it can be easily assumed crafts is one of her projects. She enjoys summer activities and is a member of the Talma Bible Church.

Susie Riner, 14-years old, is a freshman at Mentone School and leads the local girls' club in singing. She has been in 4-H four years and has received honors on her projects. She is not only involved in 4-H and the school band but is treasurer of MYF and a member of the United Methodist Church. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kent Riner.

Susie too has a sister in 4-H, Pam, 10-years old, is a second year member in foods. She likes to cook and is working towards a blue ribbon at the fair. Pam was co-chairman of the Christmas party and has participated in the club program. Pam likes to play summer softball and twirl the baton.

Girl Scouts, softball, church choir, baton lesson, plus boys and girls 4-H are the many activities that Sharon Surface, 11, is active in. This is Sharon's first year and she is very enthusiastic. She, too, hopes to be an officer in the future. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Surface.

Pounds Away Club Has

Members of the Pounds Away Club in Akron enjoyed a cook-out at the park Wednesday evening. The celebration concluded a contest between members who were divided into two teams. The Redbirds and Bluebirds kept records of losses, with the losers furnishing the food, hamburgers, salads and fruit, for the evening.

Queen of the Week was Lucille Doering with a seven pound loss.

Nancy Duzenbery was recognized for having reached her half-way point. Mrs. Duzenbery will receive a charm for her accomplishment.

Roll call was answered with gains and losses, and paper money and coins were given for weight lost. The money is to be saved and in future meetings auction gifts will be "sold" to the highest bidder with the play money used to pay for the item.

Winnifred Summe explained a new contest that was started at the meeting. Members were divided into two teams with each team having a broom. For each pound, or fraction of a pound not lower than  $\frac{1}{2}$ , straws will be cut from the broom. Members are hoping to "sweep" the pounds away!

The Pounds Away Club meets every Wednesday evening with weigh-in time at 6:30 p.m. Guests are welcome.

Child's curiosity often leads them to chew plant roots, fruits, flowers and stems, whether they happen to enjoy the taste or not. ## School bonds go for 5.07649 rate

Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's new high school came closer to reality Wednesday afternoon with the sale of $3,850,000 in first mortgage bonds to the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago. Net interest rate bid was 5.07649 per cent for a total of $2,775,572.50 to be paid by the Tippecanoe Valley School Building Corporation in fluctuating rates until 1997.

Other bidders were L. F. Rothschild and Co., New York, 5.2159; First National Bank of Chicago, 5.077498; Banc Northwest, 5.122302; City Securities Corporation, 5.1080; and American Fletcher National Bank, 5.1908.

Members of both the building corporation and the school corporation's board of trustees expressed satisfaction with the bids.

Money from the bond sale plus $1.5 million recently appropriated for the building program will finance construction, grounds and equipment for Tippecanoe Valley High School, a consolidated high school that will merge Akron and Mentone high schools into one at a site at the intersection of SR 19 and Kosciuszko Co. Rd. 800 South.

Horse Show June 24 opens Akron 4th celebration

The annual Akron Horse Show will be Sunday, June 24, at the school grounds in Akron.

The horse show has grown steadily since the first show in 1965. That show had 15 classes compared to this year's 39 classes. Each has P.H.B.A., N.A.P.I. and I.S.H.A. approval.

The morning classes will start with halter at 10 a.m. The performance classes will follow a lunch break.

Proceeds from the show makes possible the entertainment and prize money for the gala 4th of July celebration that is Akron's annual birthday party as well as a national holiday.

Members of the committee expressed their appreciation to residents of Akron, Rochester, Mentone and Silver Lake who sponsor the classes.

TVSC board orders buses and grants salary increases

Bus bids, a lack of gas and oil bids and a discussion of teachers' and non-instructional personnel salaries occupied much of the Tippecanoe Valley school board's attention Monday night.

The immediacy of a fuel shortage was indicated when no bids for either gas or oil were received.

Passing to bus bids, board members were soon made aware that a shortage exists in that area and that delivery dates are often uncertain. Bids were received from Bahney Chevrolet, Akron; Kerlin Motors, Silver Lake; Jack Shally Co., Indianapolis; Bluebird and Superior. Hammel Chrysler-Plymouth, Rochester, did not bid, explaining in a letter that no buses would be available by December 1, the date the board had specified. After a long discussion with bidders regarding time of delivery and following an executive session at the end of the meeting, the board agreed to buy one but from Bahney at $9,703.60 delivered and two buses from Kerlin, the latter to be Chevrolets at $9,545 each. Kerlin, a Ford dealer, had bid either Ford or Chevrolet in order to be certain of delivery, but neither bidder was able to guarantee more than the amount of buses approved for their companies. Shally bid bodies only at $4,809.23 each and Superior's bid was $4,884.71. Bluebird bid $9,518.88, and their bodies would be installed on Chevrolet chassis.

Co-sponsors were the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, Indiana Manufacturing Association and the Indiana Retail Council.

Selective Service Office Relocated

Selective Service Local Board 23, 100 W. 9th St., Rochester, initially scheduled to move in August, will close effective Wednesday, June 27, and the operation will be transferred to the Selective Service Office in the Plymouth Building, 310 No. Michigan St., Plymouth, according to an announcement made jointly by board members Robert Bridge, John Mathias, Edward Mercer, Gordon M. Beattie and Dennis J. Maloney and Col. Wayne E. Rhodes, state director of the Indiana Selective Service System.

The new office will serve Fulton, Marshall, Kosciusko, Pulaski and Starke counties after Aug. 24. Individual board records will be kept intact and separate at the new location, and each local board will continue to exercise all jurisdiction and responsibilities over the young men of their individual counties. The area office will be open Monday-Friday, 8 to 4:30 daily.

Col. Rhodes emphasized the move to a standby status and the relocation of the local board does not in any way relieve the young man of his obligation to register for the draft during the 60-day period either 30 days prior to or in the 30 day period following his 18th birthday.

Young men may register at the newly formed area office site or at additional places of registration being established in Fulton Co.

An Eulogy To Steve Nelson

By Garrett Phillips

Flowers (almost a million), music, scripture reading, prayer; then the minister saying, "Steve, we have tried with flowers, we are trying with words, choked with emotion, to say we loved you. We do not understand death, but we understand love."

Your lovely wife and your devoted parents, who have stayed long hours with you in your sickness and your loss, could not any more. They just waited, to continue the loss of their most precious gem...your life, your patience, your dreams, but most of all--you.

Now in the silence of your voice, the fixed smile on your face, we all believe that this day you are well again! The appointment today does not include a doctor or an operation. Just as you played in school or as you gathered your children around you when you taught, now God and well people are sharing your life..and bye and bye we shall meet you again! A laugh, a truth, a beautiful life, these will always be morning. The truth of our love will always be with you. Good night, Steve!

And "Good Morning, Steve!"

Akron is absolutely without a marshal this week, as Isaac Thompson has resigned. The reason he gave us for the sudden and unexpected action on his part was that at twenty-four cents per day he could not afford to mar his regular vocation. He urges better pay for that office and good nervy men will accept. In that statement Mr. Thompson is correct. But Mr. Thompson held the office long enough to catch the biggest blind tiger ever caught in Fulton Co. and staid by the deal from start to finish until the tiger was dead and buried in Dr. Ray Lamoree's gravel pit south of the Erie railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bolley enjoyed a visit from his brother, Henry Bolley, and wife from Fargo, North Dakota. Henry went to Fargo thirty years ago and has all the appearance of having prospered. He is fluent in conversation, even beats Tom and we are pleased to have met him.

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

THE TIMELESS TRAIL, ADVENTURES IN ARCHEOLOGY by Heinz Sponsel.

PRINTER'S DEVIL TO PUBLISHER by Doris Faber. This is the story of Adolph S. Ochs of the New York Times.

THE HOPEFULS by Lloyd Robinson. From the tense, noisy and heated atmosphere of the nominating conventions to the eager anticipation of Election Day, Presidential election campaigns are among the most exciting periods in American politics. Lloyd Robinson captures all the drama of these turbulent days in this lively survey of the last ten campaigns, as seen through the eyes of the losers - Al Smith, Herbert Hoover, Alf Landon, Wendell Wilkie, Thomas E. Dewey, Adlai Stevenson, Richard M. Nixon and Barry Goldwater.

POTS AND ROBBERS by Dora Jane Hamblin. In this book the author discusses the buried treasure of Sperlonga, the lost city of Spina, and the destruction and discovery of Pompeii, the world's most famous ruin, brings alive the fascination of archaeology and recreates the haunting memories of the past.

OCTOPUS AND SQUID by Jacques-Yves Cousteau and Philippe Diolo. The dazzling flow of life beneath the sea fills these pages with facts as intriguing as any fiction, as famed explorer Jacques-Yves Cousteau recounts his expeditions across the waterways of the world in search of the elusive truths about the escape artists of the deep.

DEFENDER OF HUMAN RIGHTS, CARL SCHURZ by James P. Terzian. Carl Schurz early learned the price of idealism when, as a supporter of a democratic uprising, he was forced to flee the autocratic Germany of 1848. As a proud citizen of the United States, he served as an ambassador, General, Senator, Cabinet Member, Crusading Editor and friend and advisor to presidents, his life offers vivid proof that devotion to principle, at whatever cost, is one of the highest forms of human courage.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Food habits of a lifetime are usually formed in childhood. So it is the parent's responsibility to provide an environment that will lead to good eating habits.

The pre-school child is often a frustration to his parents when it comes to meal time. At the age of two, children usually start expressing their independence by making choices and often refusing to eat. If the parent does not understand this as normal development, there can be unnecessary arguments.

The child's rate of growth, his activities, and how he feels, all influence how much he eats. His appetite may be affected when he is overtired, excited, in strange surroundings, or has had any unusual change in his life.

Most children pass through a period of stages in developing their attitudes toward food. Food "jags" are common with the pre-school child. He will request one particular food for several days. Usually these "jags" will end within a few days and he'll move on to something else. Refusing to eat is also a common occurrence. Don't force a child to eat. When he is hungry, he will regain his appetite. A child's attention span is very short. After his hunger is satisfied, he may dawdle.

Imitation is one of the strongest forms of learning. Small children imitate their siblings and parents in regard to food likes and dislikes. Other members of the family need to be careful not to express food dislikes at the table. A child will often refuse to eat something that his father will not eat.

To help your child develop good eating habits serve a variety of foods in an attractive manner. It is better to give a child a small helping and have him ask for more than to serve him too much. Finger foods which the child can pick up are well received. Remember that small children have very sensitive taste buds and usually prefer bland diets.

Mealtime in many families is the only time that the family sits down together. It should be a pleasant relaxing experience. This is not the time to settle family arguments or reprimand children. Help your child develop good food habits.

Do you remember?

Do you remember when this series of pictures was taken?

The subject of the pictures is a giant tree that yielded many large logs. The tree, which measured sixty feet to the first limb and 23.5 feet in circumference, was the largest tree in Kosciusko Co.

An indication of the tree's immense size can be obtained in the picture with the woodsmen standing on it after it was cut.

The building in the background is Doran's Station, more recently Black's Store.

The pictures were loaned by Willis Higgins, whose father Tom is shown in the pictures--he's the man with the beard at the end of the fallen tree and on the flat car of logs.

PAC Members Discover Gold

The weekly meeting of the Pounds Away Club of Akron was conducted in the Akron Library basement Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Winnifred Summe explained a change in the most recent contest for the members. For each ounce lost a broom straw will be cut from a broom instead of each pound. Members had discussed the contest and decided that the two teams might finish the contest sooner if the pounds were altered to ounces because the brooms were so large.

A new contest to last for an undetermined length of time was started. Each member losing weight during the week will receive a gold brick for each pound lost. The gold bricks, charcoal bricks wrapped in gold foil, will be counted at the end of the contest and the member with the most gold will win. The gold bricks will then be donated by the members for a fall cook-out.

Also, as the meeting was brought to a close, Mrs. Summe reminded members that starting the following week anyone who stayed for five of the following six meetings would be eligible for a free ticket to a play at the Wagon Wheel Playhouse.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

REDWOOD FALLS, MINN., GAZETTE: "The American farmer is getting too little commendation for it, but economists are pointing out that agricultural products are fast becoming, or already are, the only thing which the United States can produce as cheaply as it is produced elsewhere in the world--free or otherwise. It's a peace factor, too. More than our armaments, our food, and their need for it, are believed by some observers to have kept China and Russia out of the Vietnam War."

Meet The Mentone 4-H Girls

Carol Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yates, is a second-year member enrolled in foods, crafts and health. She has had perfect club attendance, is an honor roll student and takes guitar lessons. One of her favorite hobbies is drawing and someday she would like to be a 4-H club officer.

Leigh Utter, 12-years old and a club teen leader, is not only an active 4-H member, but she participates in many school activities. She enrolled in the foods project, saying, "I enjoy baking and like to eat it afterwards." She believes she has learned to take responsibility by being in 4-H.

Leigh's sister, Lynn, is beginning her first year in 4-H. Like all first year members, it sometimes is confusing, but Lynn takes it in stride and says, "I'll get better." She is active in summer programs and attends the United Methodist Church. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Utter.

Although Kim Boardman, 14 and a first year member, got a late start in 4-H, she is anxious to make up for lost time. She was in charge of the Halloween party and participates in the club program. She thinks childcare will be one of her favorite projects because she loves children. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boardman.

Herbert Bowdoin To Be TV Crusade Evangelist

Herbert L. Bowdoin, an evangelist from Lexington, Ky., will be the speaker for the eight-night Tippecanoe Valley Crusade '73 from September 23-30 in the Mentone school gym. Twenty-two local churches will participate in this crusade and have been having series of meetings planning for it.

Mr. Bowdoin has been involved in radio and television work for 22 years. He originated the idea of The Story, which became America's first color religious television series. He served as president of The Story, Inc. from its beginning in 1959 until the spring of 1970 when he resigned to give full time to his own new radio ministry. The Story won several Emmy awards and has been seen on well over one hundred stations from coast to coast in the U.S. and in several foreign countries.

In addition, Mr. Bowdoin has written a book entitled "It Took A Miracle" that tells of the life and ministry of Evangelist Ford Philpot with whom Mr. Bowdoin has been associated for several years.

Local Crusade workers will meet Mr. Bowdoin at a banquet in the Mentone gym on June 26.

School Board

Martha Shireman requested a transfer to Rochester Community High School for her son Greg in order that he could take third year German. The boy was transferred to Rochester when he was a freshman in order to take German, and as a sophomore transferred to take vocation agriculture. He transferred last year to take second-year German and desired the third year course. The first transfer was granted by the State Commission on Education after the local board rejected it. After lengthy discussion, this year's request for transfer was denied on a 3-2 vote with Richard Goshert and Dr. Wymond Wilson voting in favor of it and Dr. John McKee, Philip Lash and Maurice Coplen opposing it. In voicing opposition, board members cited a recent policy manual adoption that says transfers can be granted only if required by state regulations, i.e. vocational agriculture or special education.

A financial report by Superintendent Forbes showed $1,399,364.34 in all funds with $1,353,450.47 on investment.

New teachers hired included Mary Ann Rogers, a Grace College graduate who will teach kindergarten at Mentone; Joyce Harmon, an Indiana State University graduate who will be in charge of girl's physical education at Mentone, and William Brian Johnson, an English and German teacher who will be assigned to the Akron school. In discussing the latter contract, Forbes said German would be offered students at Akron while Mentone students would have French as their second foreign language. Spanish is taught at both schools and Latin is offered at Akron although it was discontinued at Mentone this year for what Forbes described as a lack of interest.

What to do with the 15 acres of land at Mentone that was purchased a few years ago from the Lackey family was discussed without recommendations being made.

Also discussed was the building trades class. Forbes said no Akron boys had enrolled for the coming year and that the program would have to be offered on a half-time basis. He suggested a curtailed program and suggested the boys build some storage buildings at the site of the new high school. Board members expressed displeasure at this suggestion, feeling that building pole barns would be a better way to kill a course than to keep it alive and suggested Forbes investigate a program that would let the boys build a house in two years instead of one.

Forbes was also authorized to investigate risk insurance for the building program to begin soon on the Mollenhour farm southwest of Mentone.

A discussion of teacher and non-instructional personnel salary schedules tabled in the early part of the meeting was continued following the hour and 15-minute executive session. Board members approved raising bus drivers' salaries from $11.50 per day to $13 and giving six per cent increases to clerks and custodians. The board also adopted a salary schedule for teachers that would start beginners at $7400, increasing to $10,000 in 15 years with increments. The current pay scale is $7200 to $9605, the latter coming with 14 years' experience. Master teachers would begin at $7800 and peak at $12,000 in 23 years. The present schedule is $7,500 to $11,760 in 22 years. Teachers had argued the scale was more attractive to beginning teachers who were more likely to live outside the corporation than to experienced teachers who live within the corporation, send their children to local schools and pay local taxes.

The board will meet July 2 for the annual re-organization meeting.

On Dean's List

Sandra Flohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Flohr, Akron, and Michael Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Howard, R. 2, Silver Lake, were among those Manchester College students listed on the Dean's List of Honor Students for the spring term. The list is composed of students completing three or more courses whose grade for the term places them in approximately the upper ten percent of their respective classes.

J.P. Court News

Jerry Ray Duncan, 23, Goshen, charged by Akron police with public intoxication, fined $31.

Charles W. Young, 21, Goshen, and Ernest P. Duncan, 18, Goshen, arrested by Akron police Saturday, were unable to pay fine and costs and were sent to Fulton Co. jail to serve out payment. Young was assessed $29 for driving without a license, and Duncan was assessed $31 for public intoxication.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Richard Hiers Jr., R. 2, Rochester, and Sally Harris, Akron, recently applied for a marriage license in the Fulton Co. clerk's office. An optimist thinks we live in the best possible world, and a pessimist is afraid that may be right.
