Attempts to call out to fellow employees failed to get their attention before the rope broke.

______ A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

A NEW BEGINNING IS...GOING TO THE DOGS!

Starting this week, A New Beginning will have a series of five dog stories. Yes... A New Beginning is going to the dogs. Be sure and catch up on the latest in dog stories, chances are you will be able to relate to some of these "tails".

Over the years, many people who find it difficult to converse with someone can break the ice by asking if they have a pet. Instantly, stories are told about the animal who has become a member of their family and the tension is gone. Animals not only have an amazing affect on people but are, indeed, amazing themselves.

First, Lamont. Lamont was a dog tail enough to set his barking was heard from one end of the house to another to alert his owners someone was there. Of course, that someone wouldn't dream of entering the house until the owners settled Lamont down first! Fierce dog you say? Not so. There were grandchildren who played with Lamont and the only danger was Lamont standing on top of their feet. (His paws were bigger than theirs for several years.) As we were leaving with Lamont's owners we noticed the T.V. had been turned on. They turned to Lamont and said, "Watch the house, Lamont. The T.V. is on." The dog promptly sat in his chair facing the door deeply engrossed in television. Lamont had earned his trophy over the years, his own Christmas stocking on the fireplace mantel at Christmastine!

Sue and Harley Greene have a dog named Blue. Blue Greene...catchy name. I've not met Blue but feel as if I know him. He was an anniversary present years ago and is truly a member of the family. Although a good sized dog, he still has a heart equally as big. Rumor has it he shows signs of depression when no one is around to spend time with him. After the owners arrive home and reassure Blue he is still loved, all is well. While a large dog who would appear a threat, he still runs to the barn during a storm. That's Blue!

Another dog named Joe owned by the VanLues, would lead one to believe he dislikes cats. However, the owners have found cat

An electric car, called the Mars II, was on display Friday in Rochester. The car, owned by Public Service Indiana, is an experimental model and is being developed in the interst of fumeless transportation and prevention of air pollution common with internal combustion engines. It is touring the utility's service area to demonstrate the progress that had made in this type of vehicle. The four-door, five-passenger Renault-10 chassis is powered by 20 lead-cobalt batteries installed under the hood and in the trunk. With a maximum speed of 60 miles per hour, the car's driving range is 70-120 miles. A built-in charger allows overnight recharging from a 230-volt household circuit. PARENT Ine Hospital Notes

By H. DEAN EVANS Superintendent of Public Instruction

The primary focus of this column has been parental involvement and what parents can do to help their children do well in school. In fact, the issue of involving parents in our educational system has been my top priority during the last year and will continue to be a priority for me and the Indiana Department of Education in future years. I have said that parents are a child's first and best teacher and that parents should resume a center stage position in the educational position in the educational process. The teaching role of parents cannot and should not be minimized - you are a crucial part in the education of our young people.

However, consider the value of active participation of the entire family. It stands to reason that if parental involvement greatly enhances a child's education, active participation of the entire family would be even more productive. A network of concerned, caring, and loving family members who nurture a healthy environ-ment for learning can be a tremendous asset to a young student.

The benefits of parental involvement are magnified when all family members are involved. The message that education and academic achievements are important will be received loud and clear when "Uncle John" reads to your child and regularly inquires about his or her progress in school. When "Sister Sue" attends school activities, your child knows his or her schooling matters. Grandparents, cousins, aunts, uncles, and all members of the extended amily have something worthwhile to contribute to the learning process; and this involvement is an excellent support system to parents trying to help their children get the most out of of parental involvement. In a recent speech entitled "The Family as Teacher", Bennett reiterates the need for strengthening the family institution. He believes that our children's educational health depends on our families' well-being.

"The decline of the traditional American family constitutes perhaps the greatest long-term threat to our children's well-being," Bennett said. "This country must not lose the most important educational institution of all, the one that has sustained and advanced our best ideals as a culture and as a civilization. This and as a civilization. Ims country must not lose the institution that has the unparalleled capacity to protect and nurture our children."

I wholeheartedly support and agree with Mr. Bennett's statement. We must return to the teaching of family values and to a society that believes in and supports the family structure. A family that fosters honesty, respect, hard work, love, creativity, and self-discipline builds a strong foundation upon which to send a child to school. This foundation provides the necessary base upon which a child can grow throughout his or her schooling years and later adult life.

Survey shows ISTEP opposition

Over 2,500 teachers recently responded to a survey on ISTEP - Indiana's statewide standardized testing program. Conducted by the Indiana State Teachers Association, the survey focused on the impact of the test on students. parents, and teachers.

ISTA's Instruction and Professional Development Committee found teachers from across the state not only completing the survey, but often attaching several pages of additional comments about the test.

Those comments and survey results indicate that "teachers, students and parents experienced various levels of frustration and anxiety for students and teachers," said ISTA Presi-Damon P. Moore.

Teachers reported students exhibited emotional and physical stress during the physical stress testing, sai said Moore 'Many teachers commented hat student behavior that student behavior problems ranged from crying problems ranged from crying to womiting, headaches, and general misbehavior."

A majority of respondents felt the need for more and better preparation for administering the 'test. Survey results indicate that some teachers received the test manual three weeks prior to testing while others had the materials handed to them only five minutes before test time. Many also minutes felt that Indiana "rushed into" the program without doing enough preliminary research.

Teachers in general felt that the use of a standardized test is appropriate. However, they also expressed concerns about too much emphasis being placed on a single test

FAITH AND GOOD MANNERS CAN SAVE AN AILING MARRIAGE

A common sight in any newspaper is a picture of a beautiful bride or a starry-eved engaged couple. Yet in view of the mounting divorce statistics, we wonder how many of these marriages will last even a year, let alone a lifetime. The romantic euphoria can quickly melt in the heat of arguments about money, working wives, children and all the little everyday faults that went unnoticed during the courtship. If the couple would resume the good manners and good nature that united them in the first place, work out some areas of compromise and ignore minor irritations, they might have a chance. Above all, they should attend their House of Worship and be reminded of what love means. It is quite likely that their marital problems could be solved at the very altar where they exchanged their vows. It is certainly worth a try.

CAN SECRET

Staying married for a lifetime should rank among the fine arts.

business rates in state

Public Service Indiana wiii have lower commercial and industrial rates than any other investor-owned utility in Indiana, according to PSI President Darrell Menscer, if rate decreases now under consideration are approved.

The electric utility, the state's utility consumer counselor and a group of large industrial customers filed a plan last week that would reduce rates a total of 13.2 percent by October 1989. PSI customers would also receive one-time cash payments or "rebates" totaling $50 million. The Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission must approve the plan for it to take effect.

"Lower rates should help Indiana with economic development," Menscer said. "With lower rates, we'll be in an even better position to attract and keep husiness"

To illustrate the effect of the proposed reductions, PSI estimated the monthly savings for four specific customers - a fast food restaurant, a machine shop, a plastics factory and the city Terre Haute.

"These are specific customers and the estimates are based on past usage," Menscer said. "Each customer will save more or depending on their actual usage.

The fast food restaurant would save about $170 a month beginning in July and another $75 a month beginning in October 1989. This customer would receive $1,000. in September of this

For the machine shop, PSI estimates monthly savings at $410 in 1988 and an additional $245 beginning in 1989. This customer's rebate would total about $3,000.

The plastics company's monthly bill would go down about $3,400 in 1988 and another $1,600 in 1989. PSI would send a check to the company for about $21,000 in September of this year.

The largest city in PSI's service area, Terre Haute, would save about $8,000 a month this year and another $4,000 a month in 1989. The city would receive a rebate this September of about $60,000.

Menscer said a number of companies have already located in PSI's service area or expanded their operations there. In the past two years, projects have announced which will bring 6,000 manufacturing jobs to

"With lower rates, we'll be even more competitive," Menscer said. "When our rates are made permanent in 1989 or 1990, they are likely to remain relatively stable through the mid-1990's.'

Introducing the central air system that works nights, weekends and winters.

It's called Central Air Plus for a lot of good reasons. If you're looking for central air, this high-tech system will cool your home and save you money. But the biggest plus happens in the cooler weather. This same system uses advanced heat pump technology to heat your home more efficiently than gas or oil systems. Working in combination with your furnace, Central Air Plus will reduce winter heating bills.

For more information about year-round comfort, plus savings with Central Air Plus, call 1-800-622-HEAT or your local Public Service Indiana office.

Street Scene receives donation

The Mentone Chamber of Commerce has donated $1,000 to Street Scene. The money has been used to purchase the new benches seen in Mentone. Accepting the check from the Mentone Chamber president Orabelle Meredith is Lee Hudson who is the president of Street Scene. Looking on are Mary Sanders, Vi McGowen, and Karen Francis.

The Street Scene of Mentone, an incorporated body organized just a year ago for the purpose of making Mentone the "pret-tiest little town in Indiana," has met many of its goals in its year of life.

Last spring barrels filled with flowers were placed along Main Street. Several other flower beds, planted and maintained by Street Scene members and interested friends, helped to give Mentone a new charm. This spring, seven bunches, chosen for both beauty and comfort, have been placed Main Street sidewalks.

Street Scene has many more plans for Mentone. One future project being planned for is a mural to be painted on a downtown building. The mural will be designed to Authentically Mentone's represent heritage in street scenes of yesteryear.

To do this, your help is needed! Snapshots of scenes in Mentone from many years ago are needed to design an accurate historical picture of Mentone.

All photographs sub-mitted should be clearly labeled on an attached sheet labeled on an attached sheet of paper with the owner's name, address, and telephone number. Pictures can be left in the care of Jill Gross, Lake City Bank; Freida Witham, Farmer's State Bank; or mailed to Lea Hudson, P.O. Box 285, Mentone, 46539. All snap-(continued to page 6) residence on a farm outside Sliver Lake.

The combination was unbeatable; Clifford had lost a beagle of his own not long before that and took to Barney immediately. Clifford quickly mounted a "Watchdog" sign on the corner of his barn and the friendship grew.

We didn't lose touch with Barney; Doug, Chris, C.J. and Cliff would take him hunting but they had to be sure and hit the rabbit the first shot. Barney was gun shy! When the first shell rang out, the dog was back at the barn "in a shot".

Although Cliff and Hellen's family was grown. Barney got nis share of attention. When Helen would leave for a day or two, Barney was an invited guest into the house. This was forbidden, it was understood that Barney was an outside dog as long as Helen was home. But somehow, the dog managed to be in the house keeping Clifford company and was shooed outside upon Helen's arrival. Sounds like the dog had his way, doesn't it?

Eventually as the years past and we moved to the coun try, we brought Barney back to live with us. Clifford and Helen were spending their winters in Florida and finding someone to keep the dog was becoming a problem. Our taking Barney to live with us seemed the answer. I'll never forget the evening we took Barney; there was a mixture of happiness on our part and sadness on Clifford's part as we left their farm, doghouse and dog, bound for Akron. As he watched us leave, Barney and Clifford exchanged glances like good friends saying farewell.

The boys were delighted to have Barney home. He was allowed to be in the house of an evening and sat on my lap several times. Being an older dog, playfulness was gone, but companionship was there for all of us. He was an excellent first-time pet for the kids, although we knew he wouldn't be

As I look back on the afternoon we left Clifford's house and the look on his face and in Barney's eyes, as if saying farewell, it really was farewell. Barney died only several months later.

With a doggy bed in the garage, food and water bowls in the kitchen as reminders, an emptiness was felt. After ample time had passed, we were looking for another "Barney".

GOD IS EVERYWHERE

You can feel His presence near you,

As you breathe the soft spring air.

Crickets chriping, frogs a croaking,

Flowers blooming in the Summer

And the smell of new mown Hay, You feel Him there beside you,

You just know He's there near you,

Good crops of beans and pumpkins,

Why should one be lonely

When God is everywhere?

He is near you at Dawn,

When the sun begins to rise

Painted a Beautiful Picture,

In the Evening at Twilight

He's as close as He can be

Fireflies flitting round to see.

Walking with you all the day.

When you pick the corn in fall,

He is near to be right with you,

If you're lonely, seek your Maker

He's good company any time.

He has Blest us one and all.

Even in the Winter time.

H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. ARE CHILD'S TEETH ON SCHEDULE?

Children's teeth are somewhat like trains or airplanes. If they arrive on schedule, you (or rather your child) may be in for a problem. How do you know if the permanent teeth are replacing the primaries on schedule? Here's the "ballpark" timetable for you to use as a reference.

Between the age of 7 % to 10, he should have four permanent incisors in front as well as a primary canine, first and second molar, and a permanent 6-year molar on each side. This gives him a total of 12 teeth in each dental arch.

By the time he's 12, he should have lost the primary (baby) molars. The permanent premotars should have worked their way through his gums to replace them. So should the permanent canine teeth. The last step is for all four 12-year molars to emerge behind the 6-year molars. This should happen between the ages of 11 and 13.

There is no exact "date" when all permanent teeth should be in. But there is a normal schedule of events. If your child is not "on schedule" there may be a problem. You'll need a dentist's help to

Playhouse season begins

Wagon Wheel Theatre proudly announces the opening of the 1988 summer season. Along with the opening of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness!." Wagon Wheel opens the doors to its newest attraction: a dining establishment.

On Wednesday, June 8, Twenty-Five Seventeen Wagon Wheel, located in the original restaurant location, will be serving buffet dinners prior to every summer show. This new facility seats in excess of 400 patrons and will be available on a rental basis all year long.

basis all year long.

"We are offering the community something that they have deserved for a long time. I think they will be pleased with the whole facility." said Bruce Shaffner, restaurant manager and part owner. "Not only will we be open for dinner, we will serve gourmet desserts after each show. It should prove to be a convenient meeting place for everyone after our productions."

The first production, "Ah Wilderness!," opens the Wagon Wheel Theatre summer season. Performances begin on Wednesday, June 8 and run until Sunday, June 19. Tom Roland, managing artistic director, will portray the father in this comedy which looks at Eugene O'Neill's teenage years in 1906. Ann Whitney, Brian James, Troy West, Tony Beninati and Marcy Lynn will return to the theatre to perform in "Ah Wilderness!".

Written by one of America's greatest playwrights, "Ah Wilderness!" revolves around the good natured Miller family and the foibles of their adolescent son.

Limited seating is available and tickets are selling at a record pace. Patrons are urged to call the ticket office at 219-267-8041 for dinner and theatre reservations

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
THE BIBLE AND THE AMERICAN HOME

More than nineteen hundred years ago St. Paul wrote to a young man named Timothy: "And that from a child thou hast known the Holy Scripnast known the Holy Scrip-tures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 3:15).

Timothy was a fortunate young man. His father was not a believer in God, but his godly mother made up for the lack, and her mother helped, as day after day from his earliest childhood, they taught him the Word of God. As a result he came to know Christ as his Savior at an early age, and later became Paul's faithful co-worker and closest associate in making known the wonderful "gospel of the grace of God". In his very last letter, the great apostle recalls Timothy's "unfeigned faith...which dwelt first in thy grand-mother Lois, and thy mother Eunice" (II Tim. 1:5).

If only we had more such grandmothers today, with husbands to help them! If only our children were not set adrift our children were not set adrift on a tossing sea of human speculation, but were taught the eternal truths of that blessed Old Book, the Bible! Certainly the rebellion of so much of our youth against law and authority and moral-ity is directly related to the disappearance of the Bible fount the Aventican Bib. It is from the American life. It is not the young people who have been brought up in nave been brought up in Bible-reading homes and in church and Sunday School who are making us ashamed today; it is those, from backgrounds both rich and poor, who have been brought up without Bible teaching. We all need to "know the Holy Scriptures", not only Holy Scriptures, not only because they teach rever-ence for God and build moral character, but most of all because they "ARE ABLE TO MAKE [US] WISE ON-SALVATION THROUGH FAITH IN CHRIST JESUS."

The theme of the Bible, Old Testament as well as New, is the Lord Jesus Christ, the riches of whose saving grace are unfolded to us in the epistles of Paul, the chief of sinners saved by grace. It was to Paul that God first committed "the preaching of the cross". It is he who tells us of the riches that flow from Calvary. It is he who from Calvary, It is he who declares by divine inspiration: "WE HAVE REDEMP-TION THROUGH HIS [Christ's] BLOOD, THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS ... THAT IN THE AGES TO COME HE MIGHT SHOW THE EXCEEDING RICHES OF HIS GRACE IN HIS KINDNESS TOWARD US THROUGH CHRIST JESUS" (Eph. 1:7; 2:7).

Super Saturday set for June 11 at Woodlawn

Two balloon pilots from the Warsaw area will be offering balloon rides behind Woodlawn Hospital on Super Saturday to be held June 11.

On June 11, Woodlawn Hospital in cooperation with other community orga-nizations, will sponsor the second Super Saturday. The day will be filled with a variety of events and health screenings designed to increase awareness of the relationship between lifestyle and health. In 1988, Woodlawn marks 83 years of health care service to the community. Woodlawn would like to say "thank you" to the community by helping the citizens live longer, healthier lives. 1988's Super Saturday will be a greatly expanded event. This is no ordinary health fair! There will be hot air balloon rides, a basketball contest, a golf tournament, Heritage tournament, Heritage Cablevision "Picture Them Safe" video identification program for kids and a helicopter prize drop. All these events are new this year.

In addition, the following will be back again by popular demand: volleyball tournament, ATA Tack-wondo Muscular Dystrophy Board Break-a-thon, health booths and literature under the big top, health screens (blood pressure, complete blood count, foot check body fat check and more), Port-a-Pit chicken watermelon seed lunch. spitting, obstacle run and balloon toss, raffle prizes. bicycle rodeo, runs and walks, and much, much

OUR DOG...GINGER

Feeling the loss of yet another dog, we watched the papers and one snowy December morning I made my way to the animal shelter for our next pet.

Upon arrival. I mentioned the male beagle advertised was our choice. We went into the cages and the dog shoperactive, standing in his dish then running around and barking in the cage. I turned around to find a female beagle sitting next to the gate with three tiny newborn pups which weren't even hers. "What a dog," I thought. From that time on she has been the fifth member of our household getting the same consideration as a person. She sets on the back step overlooking her domain, ears flapping in the breeze. She patrols with Babe, the neighbor dog in the field behind the house.

patrols with Babe, the neighbor dog in the field behind the house. Ginger is, of course, an outstanding dog. She is still active for her nine years hunting around the fields and triumphantly laying her catch at the patio door for us to see. Last year, Doug and C.J. took Ginger on a hunting expedition. As many times before, a jacket was left so she would return and wait to be picked up. But this time. She wasn't there. For nearly two weeks Ginger was lost. Ads were placed in papers and people visited with her description given to each one. Veterinarians were alerted and the animal shelter informed. Now all we could do was wait. Every day that passed we felt more discouraged sure that she had been shot mistakenly or had tracked so far she couldn't find her way back. The weather took a turn for the worse and worry set in.

Then one evening, a lady called saying she had our dog.

Then one evening, a lady called saying she had our dog. The more she described, the more certain I was it was Ginger. The next day she returned Ginger to us and in the ex-citement we failed to get her name. If she is reading this arti-cle, thank you for making a dog and her family very happy. With spring approaching, we once again drink our coffee and watch as the neighborhood dogs bark signals to one another and do their patrolling. We remember how Ginger opens C.J.'s bedroom door with her nose at bedtime, how she showed up at school one day, and says something which sounds a great deal like "Oh boy" when her dog food sack is rattled!

As our boys are spending more time away from home. As our boys are spending more time away from north, Ginger is feeling the changes, too. Her usual nap in the even-ing is interrupted by making her rounds of the bedrooms looking for the boys. When they can't be found, Doug and I seem second best as she lays down beside our chairs. When we "adopted" Ginger at the animal shelter, her time was almost up. We realize all dogs cannot be kept, but what a loss it would have been to be without such an anima you have a little love to share and a little time to put aside for a friend, visit the shelter and save a life. You'll find your love returned over and over unconditionally. Coming up: June 22 - The Story of Nemo.

PSI received approval from the Internal Revenue Service to pass certain tax benefits on to customers in 1988 and 1989, rather than over the next 30 to 40 years.

"With the okay from the IRS, we've cleared the final hurdle," said Darrell said Darrell the utility's Menscer, the utility's president. "Our customers will get a 9 percent rate decrease July 1, a $50 million rebate in September and another 4.2 percent rate decrease in October 1989."

Menscer said the effect on customer's bill depend on usage. Larger users, such as businesses and industry, will save more money.

"The September rebate will work similarly," he said. "It's been reported that customers will get a $50 rebate, but that's only an example. People who use less than 1,000 kilowatters with the sample. hours a month will get less. Those who use more will get

No rain means higher prices at markets

The drought plaguing Indiana and many of the Midwest growing states will inevitably take a toll on supermarket prices if a sub-stantial amount of rain is not received in the next few days. Local produce wholesalers have already raised the price of lettuce and cucumbers and the prices of other fresh produce are expected to follow.

Without rain the chance of salvaging local crops will doubtful and supermarket shoppers may be looking at a potential 50 percent increase in the cost of produce. Meat prices are up slightly, but this is not uncommon this time of year cook-outs when prevalent. Cattle are already being fed hay instead of grazing in the files and this cost will also eventually come back on customers. No additional rise in the cost of meat is expected, but if the drought continues a dramatic increase is expected by early fall.

At the moment price increases are minimal and holding steady, but shopper should be prepared "to ex-pect wild swings in the pect wild swings in the price of produce, and plan on paying higher prices when it happens: according to Joe Lackey, President of the Indiana Retail Grocers Association, "It is simply supply and demand. If the weather eliminates or significantly reduces the supp ly, then demand will push prices higher and higher.'

One of the best things about a vacation is the on portunity to get back home and rest.

Well-planned advertising works for intelligent users, regardless of the state of business.

TV Golf Team named TRC Champs

The Tippecanoe Valley Golf team ended a fine season on Tuesday, May 31 at the sectional by finishing in 5th place out of 13 teams. The team was hoping to finish in the top 3 so they could advance onto the regional competition.

We set our goal at the beginning of the season to accomplish 3 things, 1) to have a good winning sea-son, 2) to win the Three Rivers Conference, and 3) to place in the top 3 in the sectional so we could advance on to the regional. We fell short only on the third goal." Coach Parker added, "I am very, very proud of this year's golf team.

The Viking golf team ended their season with a 14-4 record, the second best record in Valley's history. The golf team of 1982 ended their season at 16-2. This year's junior varsity team ended their season at 14-4 also, "It makes coaching fun when you have both talent and good young men to work with. These you men will all be very successful in everything they do." commented Parker

Receiving varsity letters this year were Keith Ruberg (44.29 average), Andy Mikesell (44.41), Donnie Fellows (44.59), Chad Brouvette (44.73),Ben Anderson (47.28), Busenburg (47.65), Troy Eaton (47.83). and Receiving junior varsity letters were Travis Scott (50.73), Neal Smythe (56.0), and Todd Biddinger (66.08).

Special awards were given to Keith Ruberg - low medalist, Chad Brouyette putting trophy, Donnie Fel-lows and Chad Brouyette co-captains, and Keith Ruberg and Chad Brouyette - all conference team.

Record breakers for the vear were Keith Ruberg -

9-hole freshman score (38), Chad Brouyette and Troy Busenburg - lowest putts in one round (12), and Keith Ruberg - lowest freshman average of 44.29.

Also, Donnie Fellows ended his career as a Viking golfer by becoming the 4th Viking golfer to qualify for the regional by shooting an 80 at the Rozella Ford golf course during the sectional. Donnie also became the second golfer in Valley's history to receive 4 varsity letters in golf. Dayne Manwaring turned the same feat just the year before.

Families sitting in the food court stop eating, briefly question the noise's source, then focus their attention back to the enter-tainment on the Main Stage. The woman shopping downstairs for a new dress looks perplexedly to the ceiling, unsure of what is happening above her.

Just as the noise arrived, it fades off into the dis-tance. Puzzled looks are quickly replaced by smiles as visitors recall where they are...the Indianapolis Union Station. Grandparents explain to young children, as do shop owners to first-time visitors, that the rumbling came from one of the mas sive iron horses that still utilizes the old tracks.

Upon entering the In-dianapolis Union Station, the first thing that comes to mind for a special group of people is a time when America's oldest "union" America's oldest "union" railway depot was bustling with locomotives and thousands of hurried travelers destinations around the United States.

For senior citizens those memories are still alive, especially when the growling hum of an occasional train makes its way through the "new" Union Station. Now, however, new memories are woven for the young and old alike when they visit the beautifully restored railway depot which reopened in 1986 as a festival marketplace. The Union Station of today, located in the heart of Indiana's capital, houses over 100 shops, eateries and nightclubs, as well as a vast array of entertainment.

But first let's start with the immense building itself and its rich historic background! When it opened in the Indianapolis Union Station was the first train depot in the country to house different railroad companies in one building; thus, it began the "union station concept that was eventually copied in cities across the United States. Rail travel had grown so fast that by 1888 the original structure was replaced by the present Romanesque Revival-styled building, which is consider-ed one of the finest examples of architecture in the Midwest. The two-block long elevated train shed, now housing the retail shops and trackside market was built in 1918 when some 200 trains each day clogged downtown streets.

With the growing use of automobiles and airplanes, railroading declined, and therefore, so did the use of Union Station. A majority of the building was closed in the early 1970's. After a decade-long search for an alternative use for the national historic landmark, the meticulous process of restoring the station to its former grandeur began in three-year, $50.6 million project was a multi-faceted undertaking. For example, over 3,000 sq. ft. of stained glass in the Grand Hall's ceiling had to be removed, cleaned and removed, cleaned and releaded. Plaster work in the Grand Hall, destroyed by water leakage, had to be recreated by making molds from surviving pieces and original blueprints. The original clock at the top of the 90-ft. tower, inoperable since 1949, was repaired after cleaning away 75 years of debris and replacing the original works with modern mechanics.

Efforts were also made to preserve the ambience of the historic depot. Over 30 'ghost people' are placed throughout the building to keep the spirit of the station's bustling past alive. The original information desk still stands at the entrance to the Grand Hall. Replica tracks in the Track-side Market level were placed there as a reminder of the station's great railroading history.

An awareness of the historic surroundings makes the current activities in the marketplace even more special. You can watch mounds of fudge being shaped or smell the irresistible aroma of freshly ground coffee. Have your portrait sketched

National Guard offers delayed entry program

The Indiana National Guard now has a 360 day delayed entry program available for students. The program is available to all individuals who are between the ages of 17 and 18½ years old that have completed their junior year in high school. They must also score between categories of 1 and 3a on the Armed Forces Vocational Battery of tests.

The 360 day delayed entry program allows students to program allows students to attend paid drills during their senior year, then complete basic training and Advanced Individual Training the summer after they graduate from high school. Students who have not completed their junior year are not eligible for the

There are various advantages to this new delayed entry program. One is that the individual can get in now. At the time of enlistment the 20-year retirement begins. The new recruit can also attend drill and will receive pay the last nine months before leaving for basic training. Another advantage of the program is that it allows the student to have a greater selection of military occupational specialties and dates for training.

The 360 day delay program is only one of several benefits available to Indiana National Guard members. The Guard offers enlistment bonuses of $2,000, student loans repayment up to $10,000, low cost life insurance up to $50,000, and space available travel on military aircraft within the United States. Members of the Indiana National Guard area also eligible to take both the CLEP and SAT tests at no cost. Add to those monetary enefits, the benefits of job kills, hands-on training, skills. vocational experience and other educational opportunities. Also included in the list of benefits is a guaran-teed retirement after 26 years of part-time service and a $2,000 state income tax exemption.

Not only are there advan-tages to the individual enlisting in the Indiana National Guard, but there are also advantages to the recruiters themselves. "In the past, you couldn't even talk to the individual until they were only 180 days before they could leave for basic training, says recruiting operations officer Major Patrick Gibson. "Now we can have a bit more even of a recruiting flow." An even recruiting flow would be approximately 175 to 200 recruits per month. This delay program will allow Major Gibson and his team of recruiters to stay consistently busy in the high schools throughout the year instead of having fall and spring

Emergency policies sought for drought area

The picture to the right was taken the latter part of June last year. Pictured are Walter Weber and his grandson, Scott, in a field of corn north of Akron. The picture below was taken last Friday within a mile radius of the location of the other picture. The drought conditions have stunted the growth of area crops. Although the Monday morning showers were appreciated, much more is needed to help the withering crops. (News Photo)

Congressman Jim Jontz announced Monday that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has revised its policy to allow emergency haying on set-aside acres planted with small feed grains which were allowed to stand after the June 1 cutoff date.

"Earlier when the USDA approved haying and grazing for set-aside acres for all Indiana counties, an apparent problem arose for producers who had signed up by June 1 to allow their small feed grains on set-aside acres to stand in the field as a cover crop". Jontz explained. "Producers who did not sign up for this were allowed to hay and graze oats, rye, and other small feed grains on their set-aside acres. But those who signed up by June 1 could not hay and graze on these acres. They didn't know that eight days later, most of Indiana would be approved for haying and grazing on set-aside acres."

Jontz said that producers interested in haying on land planted with small feed grains should contact their local ASCS office for details.

Jontz was in Indiana on Monday to inspect the drought conditions. He inspected farmland in Howard, Porter, and Lake counties. "The drought seems to have damaged the crops equally throughout the area including the crops here in Fulton County", said Jontz. "Significant losses are evident".

Joniz is serving on the Drought Task Force along with House members E. Kika De La Garza of Texas, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; Edward Madigan of Illinois; Jerry Huckaby (Louisiana); Charles Stenholm (Texas); Dan Glickman (Kansas); Tim Johnson (South Dakota); David Nagle (Iowa); Jim Jeffords (Vermont); E. Thomas Coleman (Missouri); Ron Marlenee (Montana); David Pryor (Arkansas); Thad Cochran (Mississippi); and Robert Done (Kansas).

The Senate members include Agriculture Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy of Vermont; Republican Lugar of Indiana; John Melcher (Montana); David Pryor (Arkansas); Thad Cochran (Mississippi; and Robert Dole (Kansas).

Welcomed rain came on Monday ranging in amounts from 1 1/2 inches in western Fulton County to less than 1/2 inch in Miami County. Much more rain is needed to help the drought conditions.

Rainfall is down more than 50% all across the Midwest, and conditions are now considered the worst since the Dust Bowl. According to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Purdue, 34% of Indiana pastures are in 'very poor' condition, and 55% are rated 'poor'. Topsoil moisture is 98% short, subsoil moisture is 93% short, and corn and soybean fields are in fair to

Valley School Board discusses projects

Over 200 Tippecanoe Valley students are taking advantage of the classes which are being offered at the high school this summer. During the June 13 school board meeting, Superintendent Baxter Paige reported 45-60 students are enrolled in the high school English, government and advanced physical education classes and between 150-175 elementary and junior high students are taking the various courses being offered to them.

Classes include foreign languages, fine arts, robotics, music, speech and hearing, and remedial math and reading.

competency tests is 22.

The board also approved the hiring of Cords Asbestos Inspection and Management Plan Service, Walton, to investigate and test for possible asbestos in the corporation buildings.

Cost of the inspection will range from $10,000 to $12,000 for the necessary testing.

According to Paige, the testing will be required throughout the country where asbestos has previously been found.

Companing the Cords firm with other companies, Paige reported Cords would be charging 2.5 cents per square foot for all buildings in the corporation compared to 4 and 7 cents per square foot quotes by the other firms.

$11,000 was spent for asbestos removal at Akron three years ago. A deadline of October 12 has been set by the federal program mandating the investigations and elimination of the asbestos.

Before the meeting adjourned, the board also:

Letters to the Editor

To the Mentone Community:

Last Monday we had a very tragic thing happen in our community. A few things kind of got out of hand, and I think if people were aware of a few of these things maybe it wouldn't happen again.

The EMTs were there within minutes and they were giving Darrell King excellent care to stabilize him before transporting him, the old way of throwing a patient on a cot and rolling is over.

One thing they do not need are hecklers. If you are on the scene of an accident and help get there, unless they ask you to help, the best help you can give is to remove yourself. They know what they are doing and don't need any one's opinion of what to do.

They now have a new piece of equipment called a mast trousers. When they put them on that it is to keep the Datient stable--not that they have two broken legs.

Unless you are sure of what really happened, the family does not need to hear all of the rumors going around.
In the past two years there have been six accidents in a small strip of St. Rd. 25 west of Mentone. It might help if we would all slow down and be more alert. We almost had another one on Saturday. This straight away does not mean it is a speedway.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

As any person who has a pet, we think our dog, Ginger, is the best dog around. Given the opportunity, we could tell an unlimited number of stories about the wonderful things she does each day. To those of you who have no pet, please consider getting one. You won't be sorry you did. They quickly become a member of the family.

Speaking of family, the latest additon to the Moore family is named Nemo. Nemo is a Samoyed and was purchased by Doug's brother and sister-in-law, Joe and Marie. Since they live in Indianapolis and would prefer the dog be kept indoors the first chore to develop is walking the dog.

Joe relates that walking Nemo has never been a problem. When he was a puppy, Joe sat the alarm a few minutes early allowing time for the walk and out they would go. But as time went by, and Nemo grew and grew and grew we asked Joe. "Are you still walking Nemo?" "Sure" was his answer. We thought different. Joe probably started walking Nemo and then Nemo took over and walked Joe! As Itime passed, Joe decided Nemo needed to enter school. Afterall, if the dog is a good size and on a leash, if you want him to stop.....he'd better stop! So...off to school.

Schooling went well for all concerned. Nemo learned to heel and various other commands and did well at the time of graduation. We were all relieved to hear the good news. Sudenly the morning walks didn't worry us quite so much!

Along with being a well behaved dog. Nemo seems to travel well. Joe and Marie have a mini van and Nemo rides in a bucket seat appearing to enjoy the scenery from the window. This seems nothing short of a miracle to us. Ginger

Along with being a well behaved oog, Netho seems to travel well, Joe and Marie have a mini van and Nemo rides in a bucket seat appearing to enjoy the scenery from the window. This seems nothing short of a miracle to us. Glinger would rather have her paws on the steering wheel and drive most of the time! (When she isn't sleeping!)

If a person is a true dog lover, every dog seems special in its own way. Whether if be a large dog, snow white and trained or the most recent tenant at the dog pound that needs some attention or a small, playful dog wanting a playmate, there seems to be a dog for every person.

With the hottest time of the year coming shortly, be sure and water your pets and protect them from the sun. Protect others as well as your pet by keeping shots current and have heart worm checks done by your veterinarian. Last, but not least, find some way of keeping identification on your dog. Sometimes this is difficult as we have found, but very, very necessary. Your dog doesn't want to get lost any more than you want to lose him

Coming up: June 29

Decisions needed

Getting a conservation plan developed on highly crodible land is serious business. There's about 270 farmers with over 10,000 crodible acres that require conservation plans that must be developed before December 31, 1989. If they are not done by that time, the farmer will not be allowed to participate in USDA programs, that is he will not get any government checks from ASCS, FmHA,

With this amount of work to be done, it must be started now. Highly Erodible Land determinations are now being sent out. Accompanying them are forms that ask about current cropping systems and outline the type of cropping systems that will reduce soil erosion enough to satisfy requirements. Those forms must be returned to the Soil Conservation Service.

There's no point in waiting, there is no physical way to write all these plans and have them approved if everyone waits.

Please, make the necessary decisions concerning your highly erodible land and return those forms.

Increased funding to aid college students

A record-breaking number of Indiana students will be offered state assistance to pursue a college education as a result of increased funding made to the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI) by the 1987 Indiana General Assembly, according to Senator Bill Justice (R-Logansport).

The $3.5 million increase

The $3.5 million increase over last year's appropriation brings the state-sponsored grant total to $51.7 million, allowing 3,771 more students to receive state aid. Funding in the amount of $9.2 million will be offered through the Lilly Endowment Educational Awards, bringing the total non-repayable higher education grants offered to 40,924 students.

The financial need-based state grant program is designed to assist students from families with limited discretionary incomes to attend institutions of higher learning. Students who attend a state-supported university, Indiana Vocational Technical College or any of Indiana's regionally accredited, non-profit private colleges or universities are eligible as are students attending hospital-based schools of nursing.

schools of nursing.

The amounts of individual grants will vary based on financial need and choice of college or university, with $1,436 being the average state grant offered, while the average Lilly Endowment award offered will be $515.

According to Justice, the grants will be offered to students planning to attend a college or university during the 1988-89 school year. Grant applications are distributed by educational institutions at the time of application for admittance.

While grant applications are due each year by March 1, Justice encourages students who will be attending college in the 1989-90 school year to begin collecting financial aid information now

"Higher education is becoming increasingly vital to the economic well-being of our citizens and of our state," Justice commented.

Construction of Health Care building starts

Groundbreaking for the new office building of Home Health Care Services of Kosciusko County, Inc. commenced last week on Provident Drive in Warsaw.

The new building, designed by project architect Phillip Panzica, will be constructed by Panzica Construction, Inc of South Bend, a triad of companies that guides construction from design to finished project and utilizes local contractors whenever possible.

Done in a post-modern design, the interior of the building features demountable walls for future reorganization of space, and a color scheme to promote a relaxed, unpressured environment.

Home Health Care Services is expecting that construction will take about four months.

Grass fire damages Claypool cemetery

A grass fire damaged the Claypool cemetery Saturday, June 19. The fire burned over 90 graves.

A Conrail car "hot box" is being blamed as the cause of the fire. Many of the shrubs were destroyed. Plastic flowers and containers on the grave stones were melted, causing black stains over the markers.

Petey was a small white dog owned by Doug's sister, Margaret Ann, for years. He was small but always on his toes. When I first met Petey, the first thing I saw were his toest. When I first met Petey, the first thing I saw were his teeth...all of them! It seemed he had an intense dislike for Doug. Each time Doug would visit Margaret, Petey would meet them at the door with teeth bared. Over they exars, the family has tried to understand what it was Petey didn't like. They have come to the conclusion it was Doug's car. They think, perhaps, as the car made noise making its way up the hill, it hurt the dog's ears and he started growling and when Doug appeared, he associated the noise with him. Whatever the reason, Petey never liked Doug and made sure everyone knew it.

the reason, Petey never liked Doug and made sure everyone knew it.

Dutchess was also a dog belonging to Margaret Ann. She was part German Shepherd and for as long as I had known her, walked with a stiff leg. (It had been broken and although her leg would always be stiff, the dog was fine.)

Dutchess truly lived up to her name. Although she was nearly as big as both of Doug's nieces, Beth and Kathy, she ever hurt the girls. This was not the case where skunks were concerned. One evening, Margaret remembers a skunk smell carried thru the open windows of the house. Sure enough, upon inspection, the culprit was Dutchess. Whether Dutchess won the battle with the skunk or not, she certainly lost the battle at home. No one could stand to be near her. Even though the evening was pleasant with a calm breeze blowing, the windows had to be closed. But, a solution was found...tomato juice. Little did Margaret know when she made tomato juice it would end up on the dog! Once again, Dutchess was her old self.

"At the same time, we need to be thinking of grain farmers, who may not have anything to sell this fall," Jontz said. "We recognize that ultimately we will have to provide them with some type of relief, but right now, it's too early to assess the full impact on them, bethe drought isn't over.

"Although the Task Force has not yet made any specific recommendations to help grain farmers, we will be discussing several ways to offset their losses as the full extent of the damage becomes known," Jontz said. "There is a great deal of concern about vanced deficiency payments made to farmers when they signed up for the farm program in the spring. If com-modity prices continue to

Project Cool a success for hot Hoosiers

Stories of "comforting" success from every corner of the state have been received following the be-ginning of "Project Cool" by the Indiana Department of Human Services according to Jean Merritt, comof the agency.

"Project Cool," employing funds left over from the State Allowance for Energy (Project SAFE), provides fans for elderly and disabled Hoosiers who are suffering through the current heat wave.

Fans are available from the state's area agencies on aging and from community action agencies which serve all of Indiana's 92 counties. Those individuals who are either 60 years of age or older or who are disabled and who meet federal income guidelines are eligible to receive fans.

Income guidelines are: single person household, $8,250, and two person household, $11,100. For households with more than two people, $2,850 should be added for each additional person.

Those who are 60 years of age or older or those are disabled who qualified for Project SAFE during fiscal year 1988 are automatically eligible for "Project Cool is $85,000 of federal funds. Some areas of the state report additional funding is being sought from interested individuals and companies.

to Fred one can tell that his first love has been, and al-ways will be, his family. Recalling fond memories of Blanche, brings a smile to Fred's face. Fred was very dedicated to helping care for Blanche who died in 1983 following an extended illness. Many in the community will remember that Blanche taught school in the surrounding areas of Milford, Gilead, and Beaver Dam. She began her teach-ing career in Sidney before moving to the Akron area.

The grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Fred Walgamuth show love to their grandfather in return. The Walgamuths work, play, and share together as a family. This is one reason for their success. Every member of Fred's family is very proud that he is going to be leading the parade on July 4. Fred has not only gained the respect of his family but of the business community as well. He is a member of as well. He is a member of the Akron Chamber of Commerce and has served two terms on the Akron Town Board. Fred Walgamuth and Akron Concrete Products, Inc. has done much to help and support the town of Akron. Although Fred himself does not want to boast, residents should know that Akron Concrete Products, Inc. has helped with snow removal in the past and has been responsible for some of the repair work of sidewalks in the town.

"Akron is such a nice little town", commented Fred. He added, "I wish the little town continued success and hope that every citizen will continue to be proud of the town." While discussing the town and how it has changed over the years, Fred referred to Marty Gearhart as the "best thing that ever happened to Akron." According to Fred, Marty really cares about the town and believes he should be given recognition for his hard work.

Fred refers to himself as the official "go getter" for the business. Fred has been a "go getter" for several years for not only Akron Concrete Products, Inc., but for his other business adventures, his family, and his town. And on Monday, July 4, Fred will be a "go getter"--leading the parade through his favorite Hoosier

Fred's corrective nickel-plated horseshoe collection is his pride and joy. The collection was made in 1904

Pearson says dealers who follow the law and have concern for public safety will have the required permit from the state fire marshal.

"It is important that consumers follow these rules to keep themselves and their children from being injured on the Fourth of July," Pearson explains. "Viola-tions of the law occur every year, resulting in injurie happen to teenagers under age 15. Boys and young men receive the most injuries from accidents related to fireworks.

Claypool Livestock Sales, Inc., Silver Lake, and its owner, James P. Gibson, have been charged in a federal administrative com-plaint with misusing custodial account funds.

A U.S. Department of Agriculture official said the harges also include doing while current liabilities exceed current assets, failing to pay shippers promptly for livestock consigned to the market and failing to pay promptly for livestock purchased on a dealer basis.

Calvin W. Wati puty administrator Watkins, USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration, said the livestock sellers have since been paid and the market is not presently op-erating. A custodial account is a trust account designed to protect funds owed to consignors.

The corporation and its owner have a right to a hearing on the charges filed by the USDA under authority of the Packers and Stockyards Act.

If the charges are proven, they will be placed under a cease and desist order, similar to a permanent injunction. They could also be barred from doing business and assessed a civil penalty.

big weather story of 1988. Scientists disagree as to the cause. It's the second serious drought in three years-1986 was even worse than this year.

One theory is that recent dry years have left so much less moisture in the ground and in lakes and rivers that the normal recycling process has been slowed.

The usual pattern is for moisture to rise and form rain clouds but the earth is so dry the process is, in a way, self-perpetuating. This pattern can be changed by a good soaking rain, such as that which often accompa-

The hardest hit area in the southeast includes most of Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama and Georgia and parts of Mississippi, the Carolinas and Virginias.

Unless good rainfall arrives in these areas in the immediate future, crops will have been lost. In California, all but the extreme south is badly affected, as is most of Oregon and some of Washington.

Weather experts say moist fronts from the Pacific (rather than dry, cool fronts coming down from Canada) are badly needed and that this is the main hope of coming weeks. But few forecasters have predicted quick and sufficient relief. Some have even said they can see no immediate change in the present

PRESERVE OUR FREEDOM AND PRAY THAT OTHERS MAY ACHIEVE IT

Let one and all appreciate. That we are living in a state Of freedom, which we celebrate

With flag and marching band; For when our leaders raise a doubt, We have the right to vote them out; That's what our system's all about,

And this we understand; While other nations that we see Are living in captivity And longing one day to be free,

But need a helping hand. Now it would be our great reward To see their human rights restored; But meanwhile, let us thank the Lord For freedom in our land.
