Joy is great

The fantastically cool Akron Flyers put it all together in a red hot game Saturday night to win the Warsaw sectional tournament by defeating previously unbeaten Rochester, 91-89. The Flyers earned their way to the championship game by defeating Triton, a team that had twice downed them in season play, and Warsaw, the defending champions.

The victory, cause for celebration in itself, was even more meaningful since this is the last year there will be an Akron Flyer team. In the fall, the Flyers and the Mentone Bulldogs, both already the result of mergers with Beaver Dam, Burket and Talma, will unite in the final stages of Tippecanoe Valley's consolidation to become the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings.

Evidence of Viking support was already apparent Saturday night with Mentone fans cheering lustily for Akron, a gesture team members said in the pep rally that followed meant a great deal to them. So grateful for their support were they that the Akron cheering section led a cheer for Mentone during the rally. Tickets for the regional were made available to students from both schools.

The Flyers, who entered the tourney 10-10, snapped Rochester's 21-game winning streak in an overtime game that spectators said was one of the best in years. Ron Dittman scored 37 points for the Flyers while Jeff Tilden added 29, making a total of 66 points for two players. Aiding the cause were Phil Adams with 16 and John Lash with 9.

FLYER coach Floyd Henson says it all with this No. 1 sign as his Flyers won the Warsaw sectional Saturday night. At a rally in the gym, he told the crowd it was the happiest night of his 26 years of coaching.

Nominated

Jerry Hudson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hudson, of Mentone, has been nominated to the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

In a telegram from U. S. Senator Birch Bayh, Hudson, a Mentone High School senior, was told he would later receive a letter from the Academy.

Active during his four years of high school in all phases of sports, he has also been in band and chorus and has been a member of the Speech and Dramatics Club. He is also president of the Lettermen's Club and of the Future Teachers organization.

C of C fund game Friday

Basketball, already king in Akron, will get emphasis from the younger set Friday night as members of third, fourth and fifth grades meet for championships in the annual Chamber of Commerce-sponsored basketball game to raise funds for the 4th of July celebration.

The preliminary games start at 6 p.m. and set the stage for the highlight of the evening, a contest between the Akron Exchange State Bank and Brookston Auto Sales independent teams.

The fund event is one of two sponsored each year to raise money for the 4th celebration, one of the largest in the area.

Ticket information can be found in an advertisement in this issue of the NEWS.

Akron Flyers Are No. 1

The fifth player, Mike Lewis, did not score, but coach Floyd Henson hailed him as a terrific floor leader who set everything up. The only reserve to see action, Mike Murphy, did not score but got several key rebounds.

The Flyers will now face the Elkhart Memorial Chargers in the Elkhart regional Saturday. The winner of that game will meet the winner of the Whitko-Plymouth game for the championship.

Jubilant fans mobbed the Flyers after the game and joined in a procession back to the school gym that included fire trucks and police cars, red lights and sirens in full operation. Team members and the coaches, Henson and Bob DuBois, spoke as did many of the fans.

By Monday, the noise had died down somewhat but it was time for another pep session and the presentation of the winners' trophy to the school, and then school was dismissed for the day while the celebration continued. Although school is now back in session, enthusiasm remains very high and the team has been taken out for a steak dinner by the Akron Chamber of Commerce and reportedly will be guests at other dinners.

As the team and its coaches are feted, some pre-tourney bets have been paid off. One of the more notable of these was a walk made by the Akron cooks who had promised the team to walk to Rochester if they won. They made the walk in Monday's rain, doing it in three stretches. (See pictures in this issue).

Akron's business district is awash with good luck messages, as it was last week, only this week, instead of the Trojans, the signs call for a victory over the Chargers.

Win or lose Saturday, the Flyers are No. 1 in Tippecanoe Valley, and this issue of the NEWS contains further proof that there is a united support for their cause -- enough to propel them right out of the regional and into the semifinals.

Fun's Fun But Not With A Gun

Fun is fun and a win is great, but don't celebrate with a gun, was the word from Akron Town Marshal Ed Hauser this week after he helped the Bob Dugan family dig a .30 calibre projectile from a window frame of their Akron Walnut St. home Saturday night.

He said the projectile lodged in the frame after passing through an aluminum storm window on the back of the house. He said the shot had apparently been fired from a distance and theorized a celebrant had fired into the air and that the shell was at the end of its course when it struck the house.

"Have fun, but don't use guns to celebrate," he cautioned.

Good luck Saturday, Flyers! You are great! Put Flyer Power on the map.

LET'S HEAR IT FOR THE FLYERS! Akron cheerleaders get enthusiastic support from fans Monday at a pep session, one of many that will give the Flyers proof of their backing this week as they prepare for the regional Saturday.

Our Readers Write

The NEWS welcomes letters for publication but prefers that they be kept under 200 words. The letters need not express the views of this paper; however, they should not be libelous or in poor taste. Anonymous letters will not be published. The name of the writer must appear with his letter.

Dear Editor:

Again, I am asking the people and parents of Akron High School and grade school students to join in on keeping the grade school in our last Akron yearbook.

Stop and think--those students of the grade school are just as important as the junior high and high school. Take your fifth and sixth grades. They have basketball as the high school does. If I remember right, the sixth grade hasn't lost one game. They also won the four-way tourney this year. Now isn't it time that the kids of those teams know that we are behind them by giving them recognition by putting their pictures in the annual the same as the high school pictures of their games. Some day they will be our varsity team.

I feel as though our grade school is forgotten too much. Their school pictures aren't even taken with the high school pictures anymore. Why? Now they want their pictures to be taken out of the annual completely. Why? Why aren't they just as important as the high school pictures?

It seems to me that the ones that really want to keep them out don't have much interest in our grade school and neither Miss Baker or Forst Dunnuck have any children in the Akron school.

Board members, superintendent, and bus drivers get their pictures in the annual. Are they more important than the grade school children? If it weren't for the grade school students, there would be no high school. So it all comes back to the grade school students being just as important as the high school.

It is very unfair to take the younger students out of the last annual of Akron High School.

I would appreciate all of the backing I can get to keep those kids in it. All that would have to be added is five or six pages. Is that too much? We still have time to make them see how important it is to us to see our grade school in it.

A Concerned Parent,
Mrs. Robert Osburn

Tribute To Akron Flyers

By Mr. and Mrs. Chick Gast

Here is Akron of small population, With a Flyer team with great determination. First there was Triton, who twice was victorious, But up rose the Flyers, whose win was glorious.

Then there was Warsaw, whose Tigers were tough, But here came the Flyers, with plenty of stuff. Warsaw at home, on their big floor, But little Akron came thru with the best score.

Then came the Zebras with their great team, For Akron to win seemed like a dream. To beat those Zebras, who thought they were No. 1, To win the Sectional, how could it be done?

It took lots of sweat and lots of guts, And it seemed all the fans had gone nuts. But win Akron did in a big way, And some can't believe it even today.

Our Akron Flyers have plenty of grit, They never ever seemed to quit. All of our fans are full of spirit, So come on Flyers go out and win it.

Our Coach Henson is a main attraction, Our cheerleaders give us plenty of action. So go get the regional with a big splash, Good luck to Tilden, Dittman, Lewis, Adams, and Lash!

Jolly Good Neighbors Hear Lessons

Nineteen Jolly Good Neighbors and three children met at the home of Mrs. Oscar Bowen for their February meeting. Mrs. Robert Bowen was co-hostess.

Mrs. Harold Hile read Psalm 134 for meditation. For health and safety, Mrs. Clarence Tinkey stressed the importance of remaining as active as possible. She said, "Use the energy you have for work, hobbies, etc., and do not neglect proper exercise for physical fitness." Mrs. Sands, in her garden remarks, suggested bringing indoors some branches from bushes and trees for forced early blooming. Bulbs that are in the ground may be dug up and potted for earlier indoor blooming.

In her citizenship lesson, Mrs. Hile demonstrated one of the county's new voting machines that will be used this year, and each person had a chance to "vote."

The lesson, "Protecting Your Home," was given by Mrs. Paul Reuter. Pointers on the best kinds of locks to use, the foolhardiness of putting notes on doors, keeping keys under doormats, etc. were explained. She cautioned, "Check your habits in relation to your home protection!"

Mrs. Gerald Parker conducted the business session. She reported on the tea to be given March 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Shrine Building for prospective new members.

Roll call was a quotation from Lincoln or Washington.

Everyone enjoyed "Who Is Who" guessing on baby pictures.

The next meeting will be March 27 at the home of Mrs. Robert Bowen at Hill Lake. Mrs. John Sands will be co-hostess. Members should take something for the annual seed and bulb silent auction.

Fern Taylor creates with art

By Ann Sh

SEEDS were the basis of these three wall hangings. The Madonna, center, was made of mustard seeds and the outlines of her flowing gown are carefully lined with the tiny seeds. The seeds are often painted different colors for pleasing contrasts. The raccoon is made of various beans.

Almost any material becomes an art form in the hands of Fern Taylor. The busy homemaker loves nothing better than the challenge of creating something from nothing, and her home is filled with unusual items she has made from old detergent bottles, tin cans and other discarded. By the time she finishes with them, they no longer resemble the original but have become something unique in themselves.

Adept at embroidery, crocheting and painting, her artistic bent also lends itself to making pictures from seeds, pasta products and buttons. Many of these are mounted on plywood backgrounds that she sawed herself since she is not afraid to tackle any project and has outdoor Christmas decorations and hanging shelves as proof of her versatility.

She loves nature and has collected boxes of fossils and rocks on her field trips around the family farm. It was this love that prompted her to turn to seeds as an art form, and she has used this unlikely source to create several unusual pictures. The first was the most complicated, she said. It was a madonna with a long, flowing robe, the outlines of it done in natural mustard seeds while the garment itself was made of blue mustard seeds. It was a painstaking job to get all of the seeds in the exact position. Mrs. Taylor, who has saved 75 kinds of seeds for future projects, prefers working with corn or beans because their size makes them easier to handle. One picture, a racoon, is done primarily in beans, even the eyes, which are lima beans with pupils added. Sunflower and radish seeds complete the large animal. Always ready to experiment with new effects, she wants to try lettuce seeds to see if she can create flowers with long petals.

The use of seeds led her to experiment with other materials, resulting in a striking picture of the Wise Men done in varieties of pasta products and two pictures done in buttons, their style giving them a sampler-like quality.

Although painting is her favorite hobby, Fern Taylor's love of nature will not let her discontinue her use of seeds or her search for more fossils and rocks. The latter are carefully tumbled and polished for use in future projects.

Her use of these materials proves that art need not be expensive, that its materials can be as simple as a box of macaroni or as available as a seed.

FERN TAYLOR works on a new picture, a rabbit on a black background. Surrounding her are jars of various seeds and two roosters, also made of seeds. She estimates she has 75 varieties of seeds stored for future projects.

MACARONI becomes an art form in the hands of Fern Taylor who used it to create the Wise Men.

AGO OF PROGRESS by C. Burchell.

OUR BASKETBALL LIVES by Tom and Dick Van Arsdale.

Tom and Dick Van Arsdale, the famous Hoosier identical twins of professional basketball, tell their own story in this book.

Starting out as look-alikes, they became think-alikes and do-alikes. As with all sports heroes, they began applying themselves to their game when young and never stopped trying to improve themselves.

With the assistance of Joel H. Cohen they tell the dramatic story of their struggles and success.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON a biography in his own words, edited by Mary Jo Kline.

GONE ARE THE DAYS by Harnett T. Kane. This is an illustrated history of the Old South.

AFTER THE CIVIL WAR by John S. Blay. This is a pictorial profile of America from 1865 to 1900.

MAKING USEFUL THINGS OF WOOD by Franklin H. Gottshall. In this how-to-do book, the author offers 33 new and unique projects which utilize a wide variety of materials, processes, and techniques suited to various degrees of skill.

THE DOLLS OF YESTERDAY by Eleanor St. George. This book tells about the kinds of dolls to look for, where to find them, and how to identify them. Although written especially for doll collectors, the material is presented in such an entertaining fashion that others who chance upon it are likely to be charmed into joining the ranks of the doll-collecting enthusiasts.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Some of his disciples began talking about the beautiful stonework of the Temple and the memorial decorations on the walls. But Jesus said, "The time is coming when all these things you are admiring will be knocked down, and not one stone will be left on top of another; all will become one vast heap of rubble." "Master," they exclaimed. "When? And will there be any warning ahead of time?"

To find out what Jesus says, turn to Luke 21:3 in your Bible.

NEW SPEED LIMIT: This week, as the statewide 55 mile per hour speed limit went into effect, marks the first time in 29 years that motorists have been forced to slow down on Hoosier highways. According to State Police Superintendent Robert L. De Bard, Indiana traffic laws required "reasonable and prudent" speeds on the open road beginning in 1939. A 35 mile per hour limit imposed during World War II was lifted in August, 1945. In 1953, the Indiana General Assembly added an amendment that fixed an absolute speed limit of 30 in urban zones and 65 on rural roads and highways. De Bard said the new speed limit will be "strictly enforced." He predicts reductions in the loss of life as a result of the new lowered speed limits.

You know it works!

Don't gamble with your soybeans! Keep them clean like you always have with DuPont LOROX linuron weed killer. After all, you're in LOROX Country where most soils average 1% to 4% organic matter. That means you'll control more broadleaf weeds and grasses at least cost with LOROX. And, you'll get rid of the tough ones like PIGWEED, BUTTONWEED (velvetleaf), FOXTAIL, LAMBSQUARTERS, CRABGRASS, FALL PANICUM and many others.

With any chemical, follow labeling instructions and warnings carefully.

OLIVE BETHEL MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Olive Bethel Missionary Society met for their February meeting Sunday evening.

Paul Kindig opened the meeting by leading the choir in singing, "Christ For the World Sing".

Devotions and prayer were given by Carrie Helterbride. Mrs. Helterbride stated that to have faith we must trust God in the darkest hours believing he is working and wait for the dawn to come knowing we will see results just as the children of Israel did when God parted the waters of the Red Sea.

Secretary and treasurer's reports were given and Minnie Ellison and Helen Nichols sang a duet, "Teach Me To Pray".

A special tape recording made by Rev. David Wilkerson was played for the group by James Goshert.

The meeting was dismissed by the pastor, Rev. Helterbride.

Don Frantz Announces Retirement

Don Frantz, Kosciusko County Extension Agent since 1958, announced his retirement last week. Effective May 1, it will end a career that began in 1947 at Vincennes. He moved to Bluffton in 1952 and to Kosciusko Co. in 1958.

The Extension Service is divided into four major areas, agriculture, community development, youth work and family living. The first two have been Frantz's primary responsibility and, in addition, he has served eight counties as area poultry agent since 1967. He has also served on a number of state and midwestern poultry committees.

Frantz has announced no plans for retirement but will remain in the area. He and his wife are the parents of two children, Mary Alice of Ft. Meade, Md., and Jim, at home.

In Defense Of Annual

Dear Editor:

Upon reading the letter printed in last week's Editor Column, I felt it was my obligation as a student and annual staff member, to express my feelings on the issue of the Akron Grade School being in the annual.

Being on the annual staff is not an easy job. To have enough money to even publish it is a problem. We must sell ads to raise money and many people turn us down. To add five or six pages for the grade school is too much to ask.

If the parents knew what was behind the annual, they would not be so eager to criticize Miss Baker or Mr. Dumnuck. It is the students who make the suggestions about what is in the annual. To ridicule two innocent people is a sign of ignorance about our school.

If the grade school was included, more than likely there would be no pictures concerning the fifth and sixth grade basketball teams. Those parents who want their child's class picture will find that they can be obtained with the individual pictures that are taken every year.

I feel that the annual is for the high school, the same as the prom and clubs, and therefore should be about the high school. Many schools have never included the grade school in their annuals. The parents should appreciate the years when their children could have had their pictures in it, and not complain when it can't be done. There are other more worthwhile community projects to put energy into, than arguments about the high school annual.

Flyers Were Great

The 1973-74 Flyers were really great. We have followed the Flyers for 40 some years but the most gratifying of all was the sectional win this 1974. To us they won the big game. We were proud of our team, coaches, cheering block, principal and fans at the regional tourney. Akron High School will soon be no more but we will have many wonderful memories to remember.

When they do become Vikings instead of Flyers, we wish them even more success than they have had in the past.

We both hope to be there and help cheer them on.

Thanks to all who had a part in Akron High School and the Flyers' success.
Mr. and Mrs.
Lonzo Mercedith

From Rochester Fans

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was received too late for inclusion in last week's NEWS. It is a nice letter that is still timely although the regional tourney is now history:

To the Akron Flyers and Fans:

Congratulations on a hard won victory! Although we cannot possibly be as happy as you, it's nice to have Fulton County represented in the Regional.

Normally, we don't write letters like this, but felt this one was necessary. We wanted to let you know that not all Zebra fans are such poor sports. We hope because of what happened the other night after the game that you do not hold this against the whole community or team. It's too bad that just what a very few people do can ruin the reputation of a whole community and team. It was hard medicine to take after winning 21 in a row, but it had to end sometime and we couldn't have lost to a more deserving team.

Good luck Saturday against Elkhart Memorial.
Two devoted Zebra fans,
Mr. and Mrs. Ron Christman

Yes, The Sun Is Shining

Dear Editor:

I met a lady at the hospital at 10 p.m. last night. For five years I had great difficulty walking, sometimes I use a cane, sometimes I go down. I did not see the lady, so I was walking with a bigger limp than usual. She came up to me and asked, "What is the trouble, Rev. Phillips?" I seldom say anything about it. Then she asked, "Are you still looking on the bright side?" Then I thought for 50 years I had a great set of legs. I was almost 40 before I was beaten in a race. My work has not stopped. I preach more than ever. I have more ideas than ever before. Food tastes good most of the time. I can see to read. Friends are many. My wife has taught me to enjoy birds on the feeder. My little granddaughter takes care of my cane. She won't let anyone touch it but me. I have lovely church people. All of the police and court officers are so nice to me. Several honors have come my way unexpectedly. I still work with youth and children. Soon it will be time to plant--already onions are coming up.

I live in Muncie, a great town. God and people are so wonderful. Why shouldn't I look on the bright side? Life is good. I am busy. I am here and I am glad. Yes, the sun is shining.
Garrett H. Phillips.

Historical Society

Dear Editor:

The Fulton County Historical Society wishes to announce that the cover for the book, "Fulton County Folks Vol. 1" has been selected from sketches submitted by members of Fulton County Art Colony. The winning sketch was drawn by the pen of Betty Sweeney, R. 3, Rochester. It depicts the Haimbaugh round barn when it was first built in 1914 and the house that stood there then. Both the Haimbaugh and Kindig families are in the book, so this design was deemed most appropriate. The cover of the book will be white and blue, the first hard-cover book written about Fulton County for 50 years.

A few more families have finished their stories in time for "Fulton County Folks Vol. 1." They are Bright, Slaybaugh and Bowen of Akron, Thomas of Grass Creek and Deamer of Talma-Rochester area, McMahan, Hoffman, and Beyer stories are still being written and will probably be in this volume, too.

Everyone who wants a copy of this 200 page book is urged to get his order in soon. The Historical Society will order either 500 or 1,000 copies, depending on how many are ordered ahead of time. So to be sure there are enough for you to get one, order now. Just send $7.50 (if picked up at museum) or $8.50 (to receive thru the mail) to Ruth Richardson, R. 2, Rochester, Ind. We are asking that you pay in advance because the Historical Society has to pay for the books before delivery. Delivery date is July 1, 1974 - just in time for the Round Barn Festival.

Shirley Willard

Federal Funding

To The Editor:

Today we are seeing radical changes as a result of recent Supreme Court decisions. Traditional interpretations of the United States Constitution have been reversed to ban prayer in the schools, to legalize abortion and to force busing of school children for racial balance.

Yet the Constitution is being ignored to allow usurping of states rights in outright violation of the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Public education is a prime example.

With federal funding of education has come federal control. Through federally funded programs the traditional goals of education have all but been reversed. Basic education is suffering while experimental attitude changing programs are "in."

Fortunately Congress is being called up to take a good look at federal involvement in public education. This is being done through Congressman Earl Landgrebe bill to phase out the entire ESEA (Elementary and Secondary Education Act) within a period of four years. His bill, H.R. 10639, will be offered as a substitute for H.R. 69, the bill to extend funding of the ESEA, when H.R. 69 is brought to the floor of the House of Representatives.

If this fails, Congressman Landgrebe and other members of Congress will offer sections of his bill separately as amendments to the ESEA bill. What happens here will depend much on the public's response.

According to Human Events, the "Inside Washington" weekly newspaper, the measure is expected to reach the hour floor in Mid-March. So there is still time to let your own congressman know if you oppose continued federal funding of public education.

Your congressman needs to hear from you if you want him to vote to restore local control of public education as intended by the framers of our United States Constitution. Jean Harvey, president Indiana Chapter of the National Association of Pro America

You may have a wonderful excuse for your failure but the world pays cash for success.

If your old stove is getting you down why not replace it with a modern, easy-to-use new gas range. It will give you time-saving features that will help you operate more efficiently in your kitchen. Features like the burner-with-a-brain which saves gas energy, the automatic rotisserie and the cook'n hold oven.

And what a work-saver the new continuous cleaning oven is! It actually cleans itself automatically while it's roasting or baking. All this without using additional gas energy.

HILLIS DISCUSSES INTERNATIONAL OIL POLICY: Congressman William H. Hillis, above left, met with Stephen Wakefield, Assistant Administrator for International Energy Affairs, at the Federal Energy Office to discuss the energy crisis and the interrelationship of domestic and international energy policies. Wakefield, who was a member of the U.S. delegation to the February Washington Conference on problems facing major oil importing nations, briefed Hillis on that meeting and a second one scheduled in Brussels March 13-14. Presently no crude oil is coming into the United States from Arab nations and imports of refined products are also down. However, Hillis stated he personally believes the embargo will be lifted within the next few weeks.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

Since meat is an important part of the diet and is served at every meal in some form, it often consumes more than one fourth of the food budget. The average American consumes 180 pounds of meat a year.

Stew meat and less tender roasts are the less popular cuts of meat and usually the most economical. The more tender and more expensive cuts include ribs, T-bones, club, porterhouse, and sirloin steaks. The demand for steaks and rib roasts is especially high during the cook out season.

Price per pound should not be the only form of meat comparison. Some cuts contain only lean meat while others contain fat, bone, and gristle. Learn to judge how much you are paying per serving rather than just price per pound.

Price does not determine nutritive value. Meats contain high quality protein which aids in growth and repair of body tissues. They also provide iron, thiamin, riboflavin, and niacin. Lean meats are much the same in value whether from tender or less tender cuts, except that pork is a better source of thiamin. Liver is especially high in many nutrients as are variety meats - kidney and heart.

Dried beans and peas are valuable for many of the same nutrients and can be used in place of meat some of the time. Peanut butter is another good value price wise. Eggs and cheese also serve as meat substitutes.

Two or more servings should be chosen from the meat group each day. Count as one serving - two or three ounces of lean cooked meat, fish, or poultry, two eggs, one cup cooked dry beans, one cup cooked peas, and four tablespoons peanut butter.

THE AWARENESS PROGRAM
A new program is beginning for women interested in learning more about foods, interior decorating, fabrics, and management. The Awareness Program will be discussed at a special meeting March 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Shrine Bldg. The public is invited.

MEAT MARINADES
For a 2 pound chuck roast - 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup salad oil, 2 Tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon meat tenderizer salt. Pierce the meat with a fork several times on both sides so the mixture can penetrate. Refrigerate and soak for 8 hours turning every two hours. Drain and cook.

For a flank steak or chuck steak - 1 cup salad oil, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon garlic powder, 1 tablespoon oregano, pepper. Marinate 4-5 hours at room temperature.

NOTICE TO REDUCE CERTAIN EXISTING APPROPRIATIONS

Fund Game Boosts 4th

Friday night's Akron Chamber of Commerce sponsored basketball game netted $545 from gate proceeds and the cake walk. The funds will be used to defray the costs of this year's 4th of July celebration.

Members of Akron's fourth, fifth and sixth grade teams played in a championship game that was followed by a game between the Akron Exchange State Bank independent team and Brookston Auto Sales, Peru. The Peru team won 107-105 in a double overtime.

A mid-game drawing for basketball and charms, sponsored by the Akron Exchange State Bank, saw the following children's names drawn: Mari Stephen, Brian Severn, Tom Zimmerman, Brian Deeds, Pam Horn, Jeanne Shoemaker, Debbie Dugan, DeWayne Moudy, Krista Ogle, Jill Fites, Ryan Murphy, Brad Jenkins, Jimmy Jones, Todd Peterson, Jane Kruger, Cheryl Howard, Ryan Teel, Randy Malott, Becky Kline, Joey Ellis, David Youngblood, Christa Rager and Laura Bradley. Children not present when their names were drawn did not receive the gifts, and other names were drawn in their place.

Following the independent game, a brief pep rally was conducted to send the Flyers off to the Elkhart regional. Short talks were given by Juna Graham, Robert Forbes, Forst Dunnuck, Bob DuBois, Floyd Henson, representing the Akron school and the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, and by Dick Day of the Akron Chamber of Commerce and Lloyd Bowerman of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce.

Accident Report

A Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation bus driven by Larry D. Sheetz, R. 2, Akron, was struck from the rear by a car driven by Muriel L. Burns, R. 2, Akron, Friday morning as the bus was taking children to school at Akron. The Fulton Co. sheriff's office said the accident, at the intersection of CR 825 East and the Old Ft. Wayne Road, occurred when Mrs. Burns started forward after the bus was stopped and struck the bus because she thought it was going faster than it was. The car sustained $150 damage but the bus was not damaged and no one was injured.

Vehicles driven by Cy A. Gates, 22, Mentone; Audie C. Gates, 20, also of Mentone, and Janis K. Clingman, 21, Warsaw, collided in a chain reaction accident Satur-

Every sixth Friday is Black Friday at our house.

You can tell it report card day if you want to, but around here it is Black Friday, the day we learn just how hard the boys have been working for the past six weeks.

Loren and I view the day with dread. We know their stories by heart. "I got the highest grade in the class. I would have gotten a better grade if the teacher had a better grading scale. That's really a dumb class you made me take."

For the boys' part, they await the day with a mixture of depression and anticipation, although most of their depression seems to stem from their anticipation of what Mom and Dad are going to say.

And we are not at loss for words. "You know you can do better than that. Why settle for a C when you can get a B or, even better, an A. You know you can do it. You have the ability if you'd just apply it. You start bringing some homework home or you'll be grounded if you have one more report card like this."

And they argue, "Competition is tough. The other kids are sharp."

"If makes no difference," we counter. "Get to work. Shape up."

Unfortunately, everyone gets his turn in the barrel once in a while, and when I returned from the recent awards luncheon of the Women's Press Club of Indiana, I was met by my sons. "How'd you do?" they demanded.

day morning on Co. Farm Road. Damage to the cars, all southbound, was estimated at $1,250, according to the sheriff's department.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

I waved the awards. One first, three seconds and a third. An A, three Bs and a C. "Not too badly," I said.

They looked over the awards. "Didn't you get six firsts one year?" they asked.

"Well, yes," I hedged, "but I didn't enter as many categories this year. Doesn't this A count for anything?"

"Well, that's okay. But what about these Bs and that C. You've gotten A's in every one of those categories at one time or another."

"I keep telling you, there's more competition. They're good. I work as hard as I can. Besides, last year Penny got one A. Not even a B or a C."

"Doesn't make any difference. You could do better."

"I guess I could. But I don't see how. I'm doing the best I can."

"You're not doing it well enough. You're going to have to spend more time working. Bring more of your work home. Improve your skills. You don't want to go through life writing about us all the time."

"Why not? Odds and Ends, which is mostly about you two, was the only thing I got an A on."

"Oh my gosh."

I thought I had shushed them but as I filed the awards, I heard one of them growl to the other, "What do you suppose we can do to shape her up? She's got to do better than that."

"I don't know. I think she has the ability. She just doesn't apply herself."

"Maybe if I drove her to more meetings and for interviews, she'd relax."

"She says your driving makes her want to climb a wall."

"That'd be a good subject for one of her articles, wouldn't it-- wall climbing, I mean."

"Yeah, I guess it would. She never has told all about you climbing a wall and ending up with a knee full of stitches. She might be able to work it in."

"We could help her with show and tell."

"Nothing doing. If we show her anything, she'll tell all. One of the columns she won an award with was about my driving."

Despite their struggle to shape up Mom, I think they gave me some new tactics for next Black Friday. They may have won this round but my turn comes more often and if we all work just a little harder who knows what might happen?

Two Texas farmers were always trying to outdo one another. One day the first said to his son, "Jimmy go over and tell Ezra I want to borrow his cross-cut saw to cut a melon." On returning, the youngster told his dad, "Ezra said he couldn't let you have the saw until afternoon. He's only half-way thru a cucumber."

School Board hears lively audience

"You're not accomplishing a damned thing with this line of questioning!" Richard Goshert exploded to fellow board member Dr. John McKee during Monday evening's Tippecanoe Valley school board meeting. Smashing his hand to the table for emphasis, he called for the question on a motion to pass the payroll claims, but president Maurice Coplen overruled and the discussion continued briefly. McKee had questioned approving the payroll, saying Superintendent Robert Forbes had said at the last meeting "we were operating illegally" because he (Forbes) did not have a signed contract. McKee said he did not know if Forbes had a contract or not and therefore could not approve a claim that might prove false. Forbes said he had a contract. McKee charged, "I have never seen it."

"It's signed by the three members who voted for it," Forbes said. "You can sign it, too, if you want to."

It was during this discussion that Goshert was overruled by Coplen who added that he also had not seen the contract.

Forbes said, "I could not find you. The other members signed here in the office."

The contract was not produced and the payroll was approved 4-1. McKee voted no. A similar vote was taken on the other claims, McKee again objecting, saying some of the claims were for Forbes and might be false.

The discussion came during an emotion-filled meeting attended by a near-capacity audience, many of whom had come to register complaints with board members and Forbes.

Wanda Reed questioned the lack of a school nurse, her remarks backed by Kathleen Miller. Forbes said he knew of no regulation requiring a nurse but said money had been allowed for one on at least a part-time basis next year. He said the nurse had been dropped because the county tax adjustment board dropped the appropriation and it was not restored by the state tax board.

Miss Reed also questioned loss of a guidance director at Akron and was told Forst Dumnuck served in the dual

Bob Bryant Is Tri-State Record Holder

Tri-State College's all time leading scorer is Akron's Bob Bryant, a 6'2", 180 pound senior guard who set the school scoring mark with 588 points this season. He made the record in three years while all the old records were set in four.

Bryant, a former Akron High School scoring ace, amassed 1983 points in his four years (one at Indiana Tech) and 1534 points at Tri-State and averaged 20.20 points per game this season. His 588 points were an all time Tri-State single season record.

A mechanical engineering student who carries a 3.153 average on a 4. scale, he will graduate in June and plans to be married to an Angola girl this summer. The Phoenix Suns have scouted Bryant several times and he is looking for a tryout with one or more of the pro teams.

He was named to the All Mid-Central Conference team during all four years of his career and was the third leading vote getter in the state's N.A.I.A. balloting this year.

120 pint quota set for blood visit

A quota of 120 pints of blood has been set for the Tuesday, March 26, visit of the American Red Cross blood mobile visit to Mentone.

Hours will be from noon until 6 p.m. at the Mentone gym.

Dwight Bechtol, past chairman of the Kosciuszko Co. Red Cross chapter, and John Hurst, Mentone High School principal, are recruiting "teen" donors. The Mentone faculty and the teen-age donors hold the record in Kosciuszko county in donor participation. Last year, 25 of the 35 eligible students presented themselves as donors.

According to a new law recently signed into effect, 17-year olds may donate blood for charitable organizations. Previously, donors had to be 18.

Mentone high school boys will set up the equipment. Members of the Mentone Fire Dept. will take it down in the evening.

Franklin and Harrison township representatives Mrs. Howard Horn and Mrs. George Reed will be chairman and co-chairman of the day.

Citizen of year to be named

Mentone's second citizen of the year award will be given at Friday night's Chamber of Commerce sponsored scholarship basketball game.

Game time is 6:30 p.m. with members of the Mentone and Burket fourth and fifth grades being the leading participants. The winner of each of these games and the cheerleaders will also be recognized.

The third annual World's Championship Free throw contest will be staged at half-time and is open to all men and women who are of post-graduate age.

In addition to the Citizen of the Year award, another coveted honor, the one given the outstanding sports fan of the year, will also be presented.

Proceeds of the game will go to the Scholarship Fund to give a deserving student assistance. The winner of the scholarship will be announced later.

8 Seek 3 TVSC Board Seats

Eight people have announced their candidacy for three Tippecanoe Valley school board seats to be filled at the May 7 primary election.

Of these, only Dr. John McKee is an incumbent. Board members Maurice Coplen and Philip Lash did not file for re-election.

Candidates include McKee, Martha Thompson and Con Shewman from Henry township (District 4); Don Snipes and Claude Jameson, Newcastle (District 5) and Fred Kindig, Loren Cumberland and Carl B. Whetstone from Franklin township (District 3).

Board members elected from Franklin and Newcastle townships will take office July 1. The member representing Henry township will not take office until next year. The four-year terms of school board membership were established so that a majority of the board would not change during any election, making one member a "hold-over" until the following year.

Dr. Wymond Wilson and Richard Goshert are the two board members whose term of office does not expire this year.

Kite Flying Contest

A kite flying contest for children ages 5-16 has been set for 2-3 p.m. Sunday, March 31, at Prill School, northeast of Athens. Raindate is April 7. Prizes will be awarded in several categories. Entry fee is ten cents.

In Praise Of Akron

Dear Editor:

I'm reminiscing three years ago, March 24, and I'd like to share with everyone what's been in my heart.

Three years ago, I had a kidney transplant. I want everyone to know how proud I am to be a member of a little town called Akron.

First, I'd like to thank my dear sister Kathy and to everyone for the many, many prayers, to the churches and all the people.

Randall Leininger started it all by many phone calls to the doctors at I. U. Medical Center. He helped me get on the kidney program.

There are two very special people in my life I'll never forget, John and Marvus Zimmerman. Marvus took me to the clinic at Indianapolis before getting on the kidney machine. Then came the machine, Marvus would take me two times a week and would have to stay eight hours. Usually Suzie Baker and Marilyn Miller would go with us. Then after I had my transplant, she would take me to the clinic. She would never think of herself on those days. She was always there.

John had the patience to take care of the kids and furnish gas for me.

There were many young kids that took their time to help others. Steve Flick and Shelly Guarhart and many others had Bonnie Bickel Day. Many kids from the grade school sent get well cards. There was a group of kids that came to Indianapolis on a senior trip and took a taxi to visit me while I was on the machine.

When the young people from a small town such as Akron give just a small portion of their time to let you know they care, it makes you feel wonderful.

There were many people who contributed to my kidney fund. God Bless each and every one. Without it I don't know what we'd have done.

Also my relatives, my dear sisters and friends who watched my kids all those months. Florence Caldwell wrote about Kathy and I in a column that meant so much to both of us. While I was in both hospitals the cards would pour in and didn't stop. People from larger towns couldn't believe that so many people cared. I just told them, "It's the great town of Akron, Indiana."

Akron is such a friendly town. It seems like everyone knows everyone else. Unless you are a part of a small town, you'll never know the deep feeling to know everyone cares. I don't think there was a single person that didn't send a card or letter. Some of whom I didn't even know.

What a marvelous feeling to know someone cares for you and I'd like for everyone in the world to know. I'm proud to be from our little but powerful town of Akron. Bonnie Bickel

Neighborliness

Dear Editor:

Following our recent basketball success there was an amazing amount of neighborliness and goodwill expressed by the Chambers of Commerce, business places and citizens of Mentone, Warsaw and Rochester. The people of the Akron community were quite appreciative and very favorably impressed; and hopefully, this spirit will continue and grow in our most wonderful area to live and raise our families in the whole world. ## A.H.S. Annual

Dear Editor:

After reading the letter in last week's paper from the concerned student and annual staff member I felt it was my duty to write this letter.

The story which was written last week contradicted what Miss Baker told us the previous two meetings in which she spoke to us. The staff member stated that the students voted on taking the grade school children out of the last annual but high school students other than those on the staff had nothing to say about this matter.

We talked to Mr. Dunnuck and Miss Baker last week. At this time he told us that he didn't care one way or the other; he also stated that taking care of the high school was all he could do; that he was behind Miss Baker 100% and whatever she wanted to do was okay with him.

What kind of a leader do our young people have? He can't make a decision or so it seems. All he can do is stand behind the teacher 100% in whatever they decide.

In the same meeting we discussed keeping the grade school children in the final annual. Miss Baker stated that in no way would she leave the grade school children in this last annual. She also stated at this time that she wanted to print the best annual that Akron High School ever had.

She (Miss Baker) told us rudely that if we wanted an annual with the grade school children in it, to print it.

Our petition didn't have any effect on reversing the decision about the children on either Mr. Dunnuck, Miss Baker, or the board members. Mr. Dunnuck said that only one other parent besides myself and a friend of mine has come to him asking about the annual. Because only one other parent has complained, he feels that no one is interested because if they were, they too, would complain. If you can't get to school, at least get to a telephone and phone him. Let him know your feelings. Let him earn his money like you do. Don't let him avoid you. He doesn't like criticism.

Don't give up. We aren't.

Mrs. Robert Osburn

Fulton Co. Folks

Dear Editor:

The Fulton County Historical Society is now taking orders for the 200-page hard cover book "Fulton County Folks Volume 1" to be published July 1. This, the first book of Fulton County history to be published in 50 years, will contain stories of 66 families that lived in the county 50 to 100 years and contributed much to community development, and memories of life as it used to be.

Families included are Leininger, Arter, Waechter, Gast, Ferry, Stoner, Haldeman, Patterson, Emahiser, Pike, Sayger, Strong, Osgood, Kent, Dielman, Rentschler, Felder, Mayer, Barker, Shadle, Sparks, Blair, Wilson, Neff, Guise, Diveley, Pownall, Kumler, Lease, Thomas, Stayton, Bowen, Haimbaugh, Clymer, Jones, Walters, Palmer, Babcock, Minter, Bemenderfer, Shafer, Ross, Hill, Bailey, Mattice, Kindig, Smith, Paramore, Taylor, Essick, Bitters, Miller, Stinson, Sherrard, Shore, Moore, Brown, Downs, Noftsgar, Barnhart, Bright, Slaybaugh, Deamer, McMahon, Hoffman and Beyer.

One of the families is that of Governor Bowen, which may attract state-wide attention. This book is not just data and genealogy, but also contains much county history and anecdotes about persons such as the time Otis Bowen climbed on top of the barn to avoid being tossed into the horse tank by fellow basketball team members at Fulton High School.

Many amusing and pathetic tales make this book interesting to people who have never set foot in Fulton County, Indiana.

Because many of these families also lived in near-by counties, there is some history about surrounding counties too, such as Miami, Cass, Pulaski, Marshall, Kosciusko and Wabash. The Culver bank robbery, Roann general store, early lumber and tile business in Wabash County, soldiers catching a train from Logansport to World War I -- these are just a few incidents that involve neighboring counties.

Other stories are about Rochester town bands, Colonial and Fairview hotels and the "Big Band Era" at Lake Manitou, how electricity came to the eastern half of Fulton County, newspaper histories, etc.

The Fulton County Art Colony was asked to submit sketches for the cover design. A sketch by Betty (Mrs. Melvin) Sweaney, R. 3, Rochester, was chosen. It depicts the Haimbaugh round barn when it was built in 1914 and the house that stood there then. Both the Haimbaugh and Kindig families are included in the book. The Kindigs were builders of most of Fulton County's 15 round barns.

Persons wishing copies of "Fulton County Folks Volume 1" should order now. The Historical Society will order either 500 or 1000 copies depending upon the number of advance orders.

The books cost $7.50 if picked up at the Historical Society Museum on Race Street, Rochester, and $8.50 if received by mail. Orders are to be sent to Ruth Richardson, R. 2, Rochester. Payment with orders is requested because the Historical Society must pay before delivery. Delivery date is July 1, 1974. Shirley Willard, Pres. Ful. Co. Hist. Society

Ummel To Speak At Akron Church

Richard Ummel

Richard L. Ummel, a missionary in Brazil since 1956, will speak at the 7:30 p.m. service at the Akron Church of God Sunday, March 26.

Working in pioneer areas of southwestern Parana in the south of Brazil, preaching, teaching and planting new churches have been his main work. The pioneer area has now been developed and there are large modern cities there, so extension Bible studies are receiving more emphasis as the modern way to train pastors and workers in Latin America.

Along with his wife, Jacquelyn, and their four children, Rick, Ted, Anita and Michael, he says they all feel more like they belong in Brazil than here.

The public is invited to hear the story of Brazil's tremendous opportunities for an expanding church ministry.

Take your problems to Church this week —

All Truth Cannot Be Seen

"I will have to see it before I'll believe."

How often we hear people make this statement. Yet there are things we cannot see that are harmful and injurious to us. There are also things which we cannot see that are good for us. Water from the flowing spring looks most enticing to a very thirsty person. Yet it could be contaminated with germs—which we cannot see—that would cause serious or perhaps fatal illness. A few drops of disinfectant or sterilizing agent makes that water wholesome again. Yet the action of the chemical agent cannot be seen.

So it is with the advantages and spiritual help that are to be had from regular church attendance. There is a moral support to be had from wisely choosing a church and then supporting it to the fullest. The added comfort and courage that may be yours for attendance cannot be seen, yet it provides a glorious lift toward a more wholesome life.

Mentone Baptists Plan Special Visual Crusade

Mel Stadt, Evangelist

Final preparations have been completed at the First Baptist Church of Mentone for a Visual Evangelism Crusade from March 24 to 31 at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Guest evangelist is the Rev. Mel W. Stadt of Union Grove, Wis.

Mr. Stadt will play his accorgan, a combination accordion-organ, each evening. His wife Eleanor, an accomplished pianist, organist and vocalist, will provide music in each service. The couple is well-known for their unusual presentations.

They will use oil-painted Scene-O-Felts portrayed in a large three foot Bible that come alive with color and interest when viewed under the color wheel and the black-lights.

For a new look at some basic Bible truths and an interesting listen to some practical helps for life today, Pastor Norman E. McVey and the church family invite everyone to attend the meetings.

Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR Hears Energy Crisis Discussion

Teel's Restaurant at Mentone was the site of the March meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Tom Fugate, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Brown in serving refreshments to members and two guests, Mrs. Edison Tucker and Mrs. Kenneth Plummer.

The DAR ritual opening was led by the regent, Mrs. James Bitting, and the secretary's report and roll call were given by Mrs. Donald Boggs.

Mrs. Eldred Paulus read the message from President General Mrs. Donald Spicer, who reported on progress of the National Bicentennial Project.

"Who Really Caused the Fuel Shortage?" was the topic of the national defense report given by Mrs. Charles Tucker. According to the American Taxpayers Association, the U.S. Geological Survey estimates that at current rates of consumption we have a 200 year supply of petroleum, a 300 year supply of natural gas, enough coal reserved for 1500 years, the capacity and raw materials to produce an almost inexhaustible supply of nuclear energy. She said that in reaction to the efforts and propaganda of the environmental and ecology radicals, the federal government and Congress had stopped the building of nuclear power plants, prevented new oil exploration on the continental shelf, sharply curtailed offshore oil field production, delayed construction of Alaskan pipeline, prevented leasing of oil shale lands for oil exploration and production, restricted use of high sulphur coal, put price ceilings on refined petroleum products, causing shortages, advocated cutting gasoline production as a remedy to the shortage problem, keeps price controls on natural gas at the wellhead. She said the government regulations and their interference in the economy have created the present energy shortages, adding, "what has been termed an energy crisis, could more appropriately be called a political leadership crisis. More government regulations, gasoline rationing and limitations on profits are not going to create new supplies of energy, and Congress can best serve to alleviate these shortages by undoing the acts they have taken to destroy the free market, the report said.

The DAR resolution on dangers of general and complete disarmament was given by Mrs. Loren Gross.

"Love is our Strength" was the title of a program presented by Mrs. Ferd Koenig, assisted by Mrs. Plummer at the piano.

The next meeting will be April 23 at the International Fellowship House at Winona Lake. Dinner reservations should be made in advance with Mrs. Bitting.

For second offense of drunken driving, Tombaugh fined Barnes $250 plus costs and sentenced him to 120 days at the farm, the sentence to run concurrently with the term set for driving on a restricted license.

James L. Ihnen, Akron, changed his plea from innocent to guilty of drunken driving when he appeared in Rochester city court Monday night. He was assessed $56 in fines and costs and given a one-year license restriction of driving only to and from work and while engaged in work as farm owner.

School Board Hears Lively Audience

role of principal and guidance director.

Jean Roberts asked why the new building was so late and was told the weather had slowed progress. Forbes said the eight weeks lost in remonstrances had cost the corporation eight months on the building. He said no new target date has been set to replace the September 1 date that cannot be met. "On August 15 we become one high school on two campuses," he said.

Vera Clark asked, "What can we count on? There are so many rumors about what is going to happen, we want to know what will actually take place." Board members laughed at the word "rumors" and she later admonished them, "Don't laugh at us; we are concerned. We want to know." Forbes told her there would be one annual, one graduation and one high school, Tippecanoe Valley High School north campus and TVHS south campus. He reiterated a previous statement that sports would be combined.

Mrs. Roberts asked, "Will you combine boys and girls athletics or just the boys?"

Forbes replied, "We will combine everything that comes under the Indiana High School Athletic Association."

"You'd better give the girls the same opportunities you give the boys," she replied.

Peggy Woolley asked, "Where do the girls practice?"

Forbes said he could make no positive statement; the decision would be made later by the principal.

Forbes reported the gymnasium at the new high school was being given priority so the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings can practice and possibly play in their own gym this fall. He said if the gym could not be finished, the team would probably practice at Mentone, possibly some at each school.

McKee said a rumor had it that giving the gym top priority was raising the cost $150,000, and Forbes said there was nothing to the rumor.

Olive Standiford asked what right a teacher had to tell a child where to buy clothing, citing girls' gym clothes. Charging it looked like a kick-back to her, she said it did little good to complain to school officials.

Lois Osburn reported she had presented a petition to Forst Dunnuck and Akron year book sponsor Freda Baker with no success in changing the decision to omit grade school children's pictures from it.

Coplen said the board could do nothing about a decision of this kind. Nila Earl, editor of the year book, said staff members had helped make the decision and that they would stick with it.

Mrs. Miller, after a short discussion with Miss Earl, presented two petitions, one from students and one from adults.

Alvin Ruff said a music teacher had threatened to fail anyone not making a music instrument, which, on questioning, was reported to be any simple instrument made from anything, the main stipulation being it make two notes. He protested the cost of the materials. Miss Woolley said a rubber band stretched around two nails would give two notes and Nila Earl reported seeing a boy drill holes in a rusty pipe to make an instrument.

In board action, bids were read for printing equipment, electronics and language labs from Varityper Corp., Bostwick-Braun, E.E. Equipment Co., IBM, Lee School Supply, Hampden Engineering Corp., A. B. Dick, Brodhead-Garrett, Addressograph - Multigraph and Newhouse Printers Supply. The bids were taken under advisement and will be let at the April 15 meeting.

Supplemental contracts were approved for Wayne C. Mberland for $465 for intramural and elementary coaching and to Dale Pace and Jerry Eaton, each for $225 for coaching golf.

Also approved was sale of the school building trades house to Royal W. and Karen Baum for $26, 640 and an application for Title III funds.

A contract for a total of $65,493 was approved for King Furniture and Carpet, Mentone, for the carpet for the new school. Of this, the corporation pays $2,612.66, the balance to be paid by the holding company.

"This is America" is 4th theme

"This Is America--Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow" will be the theme for this year's Akron Fourth of July celebration, according to plans formulated at a recent organizational meeting.

Joey Madeford will be chairman of this year's event. Working with him will be a committee composed of two members of each of the community's organizations. Present at the first meeting were Mrs. Miles Hoffman, Marvin Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Day and Mr. and Mrs. Joey Madeford.

Any organization or group wishing to participate should contact Joey Madeford or any committee member. As has been the custom, floats will be judged in three separate divisions: in town, out of town and children's. As an added incentive for bands, this year a trophy will be awarded to the best band as well as one to the best drum and bugle corps.

The committee hopes to stimulate a great deal of activity at the school grounds during the day. The second Arts and Crafts Show and Sale will be in the grade school building. Anyone interested in displaying paintings, artwork of crafts should contact Mrs. David Kruger, Mrs. Ronald Bascom or any committee member. It is hoped the size of this show can be increased each year.

Dear Ann:

Just a note to say "Thank You" for the nice article in the paper about the Partners meeting March 10. We sincerely appreciate your cooperation and concern.

There was a nice crowd at the meeting and Mr. Fraser is a most interesting speaker.

Thank you very much! Sincerely, Mitchell Tucker, Pres. Partners

As Jason Hart walked through the beautiful streets of Boston, he couldn't help but noticing how busy it was. All the people were gay and hurriedly going about their business on Long Wharf.

Jason had to hurry also, because he was an apprentice to Mr. Parkinson, a notable silversmith, and had to deliver a sugar bowl to a wealthy Bostonian, John Hancock. He was anxious, because Mr. Hancock always gave him a silver coin.

Jason is twelve years old. His parents had sent him to Mr. Parkinson when he was six, to receive an education and learn the trade of the silversmith. Jason has lived in Boston ever since.

Silversmiths thrived in the towns and villages of the northern colonies. Almost every town had one. They were employed for beautiful work, because people invested in silver. Silver could be identified. There was little cheating in the standard of silver, also.

According to social standards, silversmiths ranked high. They attended church activities and took part in their community.

When Jason returned to the workshop, it was late afternoon. Mr. Parkinson was cleaning the shop for the day. The shop was quaint, with tools hanging on the walls. As you enter, you sense the smell of charcoal and hot silver. The wares are displayed around the room. To one side is the charcoal furnace where the melting and molding was done. In the middle were barrells with stak- es in them for hammering out the silver. Iron crucibles were stored and used for pouring the silver into molds.

As Jason was looking at the fire in the furnace, Mr. Parkinson told him to come into the house. Jason wondered what he wanted. On the table was a drawing of a teacup to match a set of Mr. Hancock's.

"Jason," said Mr. Parkinson, "I have a surprise for you. You are going to make this teacup."

Jason was amazed. Could this be true? He had never made a piece for sale before! He was good with wax models, but real silver?

Jason was dazed all evening. He picked at his supper. He thought for hours before he fell asleep.

The next morning Jason worked on his wax model. He would work for hours, then dissatisfied, would start over. Finally, on the third day, his model was finished. Tomorrow he could start.

The first thing Jason did was to collect the best charcoal he could find. He must have the best to melt the silver coins. He melted them with caution and poured the melted silver into the mold. All he could do was wait now.

After it had gone through the mold, the shaping and designing was done. This was very delicate work and took a steady hand. The smoothing and finishing were then done. Finally, after long hours of work, Jason put his mark on the bottom.

Mr. Parkinson was very enthusiastic about Jason's work. Now only if Mr. Hancock liked it, Jason would earn the first money he had ever made for himself.

The next day as Jason walked on the way to Mr. Hancock's house, he was too busy to notice the hustle and bustle of Boston. All he could think about was whether Mr. Hancock would like the teacup or not. But as he knocked on the door, he found pride in his work and all nervousness was swept aside.

Mr. Hancock opened the door and Jason kindly handed him the cup with a smile. Mr. Hancock then motioned for Jason to follow him to a mantel on a fireplace beside a window in the front of the mansion. He set the cup up beside the other three and it was a perfect match.

"A fine job, my boy!" said Mr. Hancock.

Those were the nicest words Jason had ever heard. He ran back to the shop filled with joy. He didn't care about the money, just that feeling of pride and accomplishment.

Now, everytime Jason passes the Hancock mansion, he will stop and look through the front window at his beautiful cup and smile with joy.

WHISTLE SOFTLY

An old Russian peasant was going along the road one very cold morning when he saw a bird lying on the ground. At first, he thought it was dead, but when he picked it up, he felt a faint heartbeat.

He tried to revive the bird by blowing on it and putting it under his sheepskin coat, but to no avail.

He was about to throw it away, when he chanced upon a cow that had just dropped a large pancake of hot manure. The peasant buried the bird in the manure up to its little beak and went on his way. After a time, the hot manure did its work and the bird revived.

When it revived, it began to sing. A wolf heard it singing, pulled it out and ate it.

That is the end of the story, but remember — most Russian stories have a moral. This one, in fact, has three.

First moral: Whoever puts you in it is not necessarily your enemy.

Second moral: Whoever takes you out of it is not necessarily your friend.

Third and most important moral: If you are up to your neck in it, don't sing!

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

It is 4:45 p.m. on a typical working day. My desk is a mess; my mind is racing to figure a way to get it all done by five when the telephone rings. My son's excited voice shouts, "Mom!"

I grip the edge of my desk. One of them has cut his leg off and the other has run away from home. No, someone's calling; the other one must be dead. "What?" I shout.

"We're out of peanut butter! Get some on your way home."

Weakly, I hang up the telephone, scoop up the rest of the work to do later and go in search of peanut butter. Will not do. It has to be a specific brand and it must be chunky. None of that smooth, creamy stuff for those boys.

My sons are connoisseurs of peanut butter. In this day of specialization, everyone has his thing. The boys' thing is peanut butter.

Now, they don't eat it on their cereal or their cake or anything like that, but they do have their little specialties, inherited, no doubt from a father who absolutely loves peanut butter and tomato sandwiches. They aren't much on peanut butter and tomatoes, but, for instance, have you ever heard of peanut butter and brown sugar?

I went home a few nights ago to be greeted at the door by a dirty faced nine-year old clutching the most ominous looking sandwich I have ever seen. "What is that thing?" I gasped.

"Peanut butter and brown sugar," he said, peeling off the top slice of bread. "See."

I saw. The peanut butter was half an inch thick and was topped by an inch of brown sugar. My stomach reeled.

Our 16-year old is more sophisticated, he tells us. He prefers peanut butter on celery with lots of salt. You can imagine his disgust recently to learn we were out of celery. "What'll I do?" he asked. "All we've got is a lot of carrots."

"How do you know you don't like peanut butter on carrots until you've tried?" his father asked and before you could say "Jiff," the kid had smeared peanut butter on six carrots and munched them down.

"How are they?" I asked, and he mumbled, "Kinda crunchy."

"If the crunch bothers you, try bananas," I said. "They're supposed to be some sort of delicacy."

"Right on," he said and doused a banana with a heavy coating of his favorite spread. "How's that?" "Carrots are better," he mumbled, licking peanut butter and banana from the roof of his mouth.

Before you could say "crunchy," both boys and their father were eating carrots smeared with peanut butter. I maintained I was the only sensible person in the foursome and watched in silence.

Actually, I had just remembered melting peanut butter over popcorn when I was much younger. I thought it was pretty great stuff then, but, somehow, now it seemed better to be quiet. I didn't want to end up demonstrating--or eating peanut butter on a carrot.

60 YEARS AGO

As we go to press there are rumors that overtures are being made to suspend our local electric light plant and buy the juice necessary for light from Rochester. The change will give Akron day and night service and will be appreciated.

It became apparent to Rev. Stephens late in the week there were more souls to win and that could yet be won if the meetings were continued one more week. This idea became very strong as time rolled on and Sunday evening he decided he would continue another week. The Stephens party made a great sacrifice, but for the sake of the many new converts, they are here yet and will be until Sunday night. At Thursday's writing, there have been some over 300 converts, professional men, businessmen, their wives and families.

Mrs. Bert Gerard came down from Warsaw early this week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah King.

Myron Landis departed Friday for Chicago and the northwest.

Linc Lukens was in Akron Tuesday changing cars for his home at Disko.

Mrs. Charles Ream and granddaughter, Mildred Peters, of Disko, visited over last Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Herrenden and family at Huntington.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

THE ROMANCE OF THE PATCHWORK QUILT IN AMERICA by Carrie A. Hall and Rose G. Ketsinger. The romance of the patchwork quilt throughout America's past and the important part it plays in America's present are portrayed graphically with words and photographically with illustrations in Mrs. Hall's book.

PIECES OF ANOTHER WORLD, THE STORY OF MOON ROCKS by Franklin A. Branley. In simple but dramatic terms Franklin Branley describes how the moon rocks were gathered, the techniques employed to analyze them, and what they tell us about our natural satellite.

THE BRAVE WORLD OF HILARY POLE by Dorothy Clarke Wilson. At the age of twenty, British born Hilary Pole looked forward to a future replete with opportunities - then it struck. She fell victim to a rare disease, myasthenia gravis, which prevented nerve impulses from activating her voluntary muscles, making them useless. For the next seven years she existed in a literally "dead" world of silence and darkness. She could not breathe without a respirator, couldn't speak, or even open her eyelids. Roger Jefcoate and the Patient Operated Selector Mechanisms Research Project (usually called Possum) didn't consider her case hopeless. Roger discovered that Hilary's spirit was unbroken, she could feel and hear and was mentally keen and could flick her big toe almost one-sixteenth of an inch. Possum eventually developed a very sensitive microswitch machine which controls several machines, the most important being the electric typewriter. Hilary mastered the code in two days and was soon writing up to 40 words a minute. She now maintains a lively correspondence, writes poetry, serves on committees for the handicapped and listens to music - and never tires of meeting people. This is her story.

DAKTAR, DIPLOMAT IN BANGLADESH by Viggo Olsen, M.D. This is the dramatic story of Dr. Viggo B. Olson's surgical/diplomatic/wartime adventures and the blood birth of Bangladesh.

A friend is one who takes you to lunch, even though you are non-deductible.

Golf is a lot like taxes--you drive hard to get to the green and wind up in the hole.

Tombaugh Seeks Council Post

Wayne Tombaugh, 64, Mentone, has filed his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Kosciusko County Councilman at Large, seeking re-election to the seat to which he was appointed last June at the death of Ray Eckert.

One of Tombaugh's first actions on the Council was voting to adopt a half-percent option tax, a tax he explains by saying, "With the demands for financing all the agencies in county government of this day, we must find some way to have the money. Thus, the half-percent option tax was our only solution. When the governor deducted 20 per cent from property tax, it had to be replaced with something or we would have had to cut out many deserving wants for the need of money. We are only able to pay for those things most essential. The whole burden of taxes for county business is therefore paid for by the entire working population, not just the property owner. The option tax returns to our county and half goes to the County General Fund and the other half is allocated to the taxing units for the same purposes and reasons as if the 20 per cent had not been deducted from our real estate taxes."

A lifetime Republican and presently precinct committeeman, Tombaugh is a long-time resident of Mentone. He and his wife, the former Trella Kuhn, are parents of one son, Richard, now living in Washington, D.C. They have two grandsons. Tombaugh is employed by King Furniture and Carpet of Mentone and is a member of the Akron Church of God.

The group is composed of nine homes with non-profit church affiliations: Warren, Methodist; Swiss Village, Berne, Inter-denominational; Peabody, No. Manchester, Presbyterian; Timbercrest, North Manchester, Brethren; Ft. Wayne, Lutheran; Ft. Wayne, Towne House, Baptist; Kendallville, Lutheran; Avilla and Kneipp Springs, Catholic.

They meet several times a year, sometimes for meditation and other times for fun and games. There were 80 to 100 in attendance at this meeting. The retreat was led by Father Edward Kersten, a retired Augustinian missionary from Chicago. The services were in their beautiful chapel. Everything was so quiet and restful that it was worth attending even if there had been no sermons. At noon, lunch was enjoyed in their dining room. Each home brings a sack lunch for their members, but Kneipp Springs gave us a nice surprise by serving home made apple pie a la mode with home made ice cream. After the last session, we assembled in their large reception room where a question and answer period was led by Father Kersten and the sisters served punch and cookies. We were home just as our supper was being served and all were tired but very comforted by the meeting.

Kneipp Springs is a health spa and I think the only one in northern Indiana and many people come from Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, So. Bend and Chicago to enjoy the quietness and baths as it is one of the outstanding spas in the United States.

Kneipp Springs was founded in 1895 by Dr. W. Gerimann, a physician and enthusiastic Hydro Therapist. Soon financial difficulties made it impossible for him to continue his work, so he sold the ground and building to the Sisters of the Precious Blood in December of 1901. The Sisters acquired 80 acres of land on which was a ten bed building located 950 feet above sea level and over-looking Sylvan Lake.

There has been constant growth and now the Sisters have 300 acres of land and a beautiful modern building that can accommodate 120 guests and it is strictly a non-sectarian institution.

It is very inspiring just to go and sit and meditate in the Chapel. There are two services daily with a resident chaplain in charge. The lounges are restful and attractive and there is a lovely gift shop on the first floor.

I hope there will be another meeting there this summer for the grounds must be very beautiful with flowers, shrubs and trees.

Bill Humbane Will Speak Sunday

Bill Humbane will be guest speaker at the March 31 10:30 a.m. morning worship at the Akron United Methodist Church. He will also meet with the youth and adult classes that morning during Sunday School to show slides of his native Mozambique. The public is invited.

A native of Inhambane, Mozambique, he completed his elementary education there. He went to Rhodesia to learn English and to complete his secondary education by correspondence. While he was attending school he worked for Bishop Ralph E. Dodge of the United Methodist Church conference, an area then comprising Mozambique, Rhodesia and Angola. He was secretary and chauffeur to the bishop for ten years and with the bishop's help came to the United States with his family in 1966 to attend Taylor University.

He graduated from Taylor in 1971 with both B.A. and B.S. degrees. He completed his M.A. in education in 1972 and since then has been working on his doctoral degree in educational administration and supervision. He hopes to complete his program by August, after which he and his family hope to return to Mozambique where he will work in the mission school.

Because many people do not know about SSI or understand it, the meeting will attempt to get volunteers to help find the people who are in need.

HAPPINESS IS

GETTING THE BEST SERVICE OUT OF YOUR CAR

10 WAYS YOUR DRIVING AFFECTS YOUR GAS MILEAGE

1. A fast start is a sure gas waster.
2. Continuous stop and start driving means extra fuel costs.
3. Excessive idling gives you zero miles per gallon.
4. Don't pump the accelerator.
5. Don't ride your brakes or clutch.
6. Unnecessary weight decreases fuel economy.
7. Keep your speed down.
8. Make sure your tires are properly inflated.
9. A malfunctioning automatic choke can waste gas.
10. Spark plugs must fire correctly.

During this period of gas shortage we want our customers to know and understand these proven facts about excess gas consumption.

Most all cars properly maintained and driven at an average speed of 50-55 miles per hour will get good gas mileage.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of one of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. ## "Our Town" To Be Presented at MHS Mentone High School will present "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday night in the Mentone gym.

Depicting the lives of the Gibbs and Webb families, the play is set in Grover's Corner, N. H.

Emily Webb and George Gibbs are playmates as children, but romantic interest grows as the years pass. After their marriage, their happiness is short-lived when Emily dies. As the State Manager says, "This is the way we were in our growing-up and marrying and in our living and dying."

Principal cast members include Stan England, State Manager; Linda Decker, Emily Webb; Dan Cooper, George Gibbs; Candy Smythe, Mrs. Gibbs and Brian Kelley, Dr. Gibbs.

Also, Lee Ann Jones, Mrs. Webb, and Brett Hackworth, Editor Webb.

Other cast members are Nancy Ettinger, Darrell Hudson, John Hill, Brian Welch, Rex Wiley, Marla Leffert, Kevin Mc Sherry, Don Hurd, Max Meiser, Theresa Edwards and Don Dickerhoff.

Vicki Crissinger and Bill Boggs are assistant stage managers.

Trust is a treasured item in a relationship. Once it is tarnished, it is difficult to regain its glow.
