Board Explains Woodlawn Site Selection

Woodlawn Hospital's board of trustees said Wednesday that after re-examination of the acreage available at the present hospital site, no ambulance headquarters could be located on the grounds without dislodging needed patient and visitor parking space.

"The architects, who are experts at planning hospitals, state we need at least 15 acres," said Hal Hammel, board chairman. He added, "If we cram the hospital onto six acres, it will not only be more costly, but something will have to be sacrificed."

Trustees had considered the hospital to be the logical base for an ambulance system. Two way radio contact could be maintained with medical personnel and ambulance attendants, they said, and calls would come in to the hospital emergency room. Ambulances would be dispatched from a garage on the site. When not out on a run, emergency technicians could work in the hospital. Because of these reasons, board members said they sought additional space, finally selecting the Jones Woods site.

"Hospitals need space; they are growing rapidly and expanding in scope," trustees noted

BACKSTOP AND FOUL LINE FENCES have been installed at the new Akron Little League Park. ## Handicrafters To Organize

Area craftspeople--whether they be experts at knitting, bargello, weaving, crochet, bead work, quilling, quilting, raffia, eggery, scrimshaw, leatherwork or any other specialty--are eligible to participate in Handicrafters' Huddle, a display and sale of local crafts that will be an added attraction at this year's Mentone Egg Festival.

To help these craftspeople get acquainted with each other and with the scope of the project, a special organizational meeting has been called for 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 19, at the Mentone Town Hall. Linda Oden, who heads Handicrafters' Huddle, said at least one meeting of the group will be necessary, but it will be arranged for the convenience of everyone. "We will need to plan for 'manning' the booth," she said. "The length of time each person will have to work will depend on the number of participants." The ten-dollar booth fee will be divided equally among the group, meaning the more participants, the less it will cost each.

Anyone desiring additional information can contact Mrs. Oden by telephoning 353-6505.

Mentone Parking

Dear Editor:

In 1921 I came to make my home in the Mentone community. In those days it was not uncommon to look down main street and see several horses tied to the hitch racks that lined the north side of main street. From that time until the present, I have never driven my car to town and failed to find a parking place on main street.

Several years ago, members of the town board came up with an ordinance placing a time limit on main street parking. This ordinance was needed about as much as a drowning man needs a drink of water in a little town like Mentone. For a while the ordinance was enforced. It looked so unnecessary to see the town marshal walking up the street, marking the tires on ten or twenty cars. After a few weeks, the enforcement of the ordinance was faded out.

Now out of the clear blue sky the board gave the marshal orders to enforce the law again. Only recently a lady had an appointment for a permanent at a local beauty shop. She came in early to do some grocery shopping and transact other business before her appointment. When she left the beauty shop she was greeted with a parking ticket. Needless to say, she was more than slightly upset and swears she will never do any business in Mentone anymore. Results the beauty shoppe and food market and who knows who else has lost a good customer.

Now we all know that Mentone merchants are having a struggle trying to compete with the big supermarkets and shopping centers and we also know that the town board is not helping this situation by their actions. One board member spends the day on his job in Bourbon, another at the spring factory and the third one in school. How can they possibly know whether or not we have a parking problem in Mentone? Ninety percent of those parking on main street are in town for shopping or business transactions. Certainly they are not loafing since there is no place left in Mentone for loafing except for those who like to loaf in a tavern. Of course those who are transacting business can always check their watch and when their time is about ran out, they can always go move their car over a space or two and go on and finish their business. They are plenty of spaces to move into.

I don't recall any of the present board members being on the board when this ordinance was drawn up but the present board should think twice before they drive any more business out of town. If they are trying to make Mentone a better town, perhaps they should sit down with the Chamber of Commerce and between them look into the possibilities of getting a barber or plumber or electrician who will do home repair jobs to move in to Mentone.

I once heard a well-known farmer who is now deceased make a remark, "All we want in Mentone is a post office, a bank and the stockyards." If we are going to insist on driving our business to shopping centers, we will soon find it that way.

The blame for this should not be directed to the town marshal. He has a job working for the town and gets his orders from the town board and line any employee, do as the boss says or get fired.

Church Lists Opposition To ERA

The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), still under discussion after having been killed in Senate committee in the Indiana General Assembly, is very controversial.

Akron resident Lana Atkinson this week submitted the following points her church considers ungodly and immoral about the ERA:

ERA would bar a state from opposing greater liability for support on a husband than on a wife merely because of his sex.

Women would be subject to the draft and to combat duty equally with men. A woman will register for the draft at age 18 as a man now does.

Quoting a Professor Paul Fruend: ERA would require there be no segregation of the sexes in prison. And from Sam Ervin: Police practices by which a search involving the removal of clothing will be able to be performed by members of either sex without regard to the sex of the one to be searched; segregation by sex in sleeping quarters of prisons and similar public institutions would be outlined; segregation by sex of living conditions in the armed forces would be outlawed, including close quarter living in combat zones and in fox holes; segregation by sex in hospitals would be outlawed; physical exams in armed forces would have to be carried out on a sex neutral basis."

The list continues: ERA provides the wife and children would not be required to wear the last name of the husband or father. They can choose any name they wish. Under ERA, if a wife fails to support her husband, he can use it as grounds for divorce. ERA will abolish seduction laws and statutory rape laws.

Quoting Dr. Jonathan H. Pincus, professor of neurology, Yale Medical School, "A solid, happy family life is the foundation of mental health and happiness. I would predict ERA and many of the other goals of its proponents will bring social disruption, unhappiness and increasing rates of divorce and desertion. Weakening of family ties may also lead to increased rates of alcoholism, suicide, and possibly, sexual deviation."

The church (Church of Christ) also noted that in states where the ERA has been ratified His and Her rest rooms have been done away with at major truck stops and service stations. One rest room only is available to both sexes.

The church suggests anyone not ready for such consequences, write or telephone their representative.

Dr. Ferry has resigned the unthankable office of health officer and now Akron is without that very important officer. We understand the town board is up against a hard proposition as no one qualified for it will accept it, as it is a source of worry, responsibility and without any particular remuneration. It is a useful social function, and cannot be well dispensed with, but because of the whims of many people and their dislike to be government, makes it too mean a place to fill for most men of sensitive feelings, or who shrink from the gossip. Like the town marshal, that office must be obeyed. There must be authority in the laws that govern health. We regret that Dr. Ferry felt so aggrieved as to resign. We would like to see him tell the fellows who want to disobey health laws where to head in at, and then to see that they did head in. The health officer and the marshal orders should be heeded and obeyed.

Viking Score Board

By Ron Newlin, NEWS Sportswriter

Vikings Survive Triton Score

Tippecanoe Valley's basketball season almost came to a premature end Friday night but a never-say-die attitude and a wild finish - in fact, three wild finishes - allowed the Vikings to escape with a 67-65 double-overtime victory over Triton in their sectional opener.

Having both drawn the bye, Tippecanoe and Triton opened the Friday night session after the other four teams had squared off Wednesday. The capacity crowd was at a fever pitch from the announcing of line-ups on, and the teams responded with a fitting barnburner.

The Vikings got off to a slow start, trailing 6-4, three minutes into the opening quarter. Then Tippecanoe started doing everything right and during a 4-minute span outscored the Trojans 14-0 to open a commanding 18-6 lead. Triton closed to within 10 at the quarter, 18-8.

After the Trojans crept to within seven at 20-13 early in the second stanza, Tippecanoe went on another scoring binge, 10-0, to go up by 30-13 midway through the quarter, and it appeared that the rout was on. But at this point, the Trojans called time, and when play resumed, Triton was pressing and Valley was turning the ball over. Tippecanoe didn't score for the rest of the half and at the break, their once insurmountable lead had been reduced to five, 30-25.

Valley opened the second half ready to blow Triton out, and went ahead by 11, 42-31, late in the quarter. But Triton, behind the shooting of Terry Ganshorn, pulled back to within 44-37 at the end of the period and set the stage for a nightmare fourth quarter for the Vikings.

For five minutes of the quarter Tippecanoe, which had been getting balanced scoring from all five starters, did not get a single point and suddenly Triton was ahead, 46-44. Tippecanoe tied it at 46 but the Trojans took control and went ahead by four, a lead they kept till the final second. The lead was five at one point, and when Triton went to the foul line for a one-and-one with 30 seconds left and leading 53-49 things looked dark for the Vikings.

However, the Trojans missed the first shot and Tippecanoe rebounded and came down in a hurry. A rushed Viking shot went astray and Triton rebounded, but Ron Dittman swiped the ball and laid it in for a 53-51 deficit. In desperation the Vikings pressed and a Trojan full-court pass went out of bounds with 11 seconds left and the ball went back to Valley. Tippecanoe moved the ball upcourt through the Triton press and with two seconds left Jim Johnson put up a 10-foot baseline jumper from the right side that bounded around on the rim and fell in at the horn, tying the score at 53 and setting off a wild celebration.

In the first overtime, Tippecanoe fell behind by two twice but battled back to a 59-59 tie and had a chance to win with three seconds left and Ryan Williams at the free throw line for two shots. But both shots rimmed out, and Triton got the ball out of bounds with a second remaining. The Trojans fired a court-length pass that Ron Dittman picked off and threw up for an 80-footer at the buzzer that came remarkably close but left the score tied 59-59 and sent the game into a second overtime.

Three times in the second extra period Tippecanoe went ahead only for Ganshorn to score and tie it. The third came with only 10 seconds left and knotted the score at 65. The Vikings called time and with five seconds left went for the winning shot. Ryan Williams took the shot from the right side. It bounced out but the omnipresent Jim Johnson again was there to put the shot back in as time ran out. There was too much noise to hear the buzzer or the gun, but the referees signalled "good shot" and the Vikings had a 67-65 victory.

The Vikings had their most balanced attack of the year, as Ron Dittman led four Vikings in double figures with 16 points. Jim Johnson, Ryan Williams and Mike Lewis each added 14 and Phil Adams chipped in nine. As usual the Vikings got a lot of rebounding from their front line. Johnson hauled in 14 rebounds, Williams speared 13, including 10 in the second half and overtimes, and Dittman grabbed 12.

The win put Tippecanoe in the sectional championship Saturday night against Rochester on the virtue of the Zebra's 64-54 upset of Warsaw. Triton 8 17 11 16 6 6-65 TVHS 18 12 14 9 6 8-67

Valley Drops Championship To Zebras

Tippecanoe Valley lost to the Rochester Zebras Saturday night in the championship game of the Triton Section by a score of 66-53.

The game was billed as a rematch of last year's Akron-Rochester spectacle and as a shoot-out between the Valley's big scorer, Ron Dittman, and Rochester's Dave McGowen who had burned Warsaw the night before. But in the end, it was the defenses and not the offenses of the two teams that made the game.

Tippecanoe got off to a good start as Phil Adams and Ron Dittman hit a pair of bombs to spark a quick 4-0 lead. Rochester battled back to take the lead but could not blow out the Vikings as they had Warsaw because of an unexpectedly tenacious Viking defense. The much-aligned Valley zone had perhaps its finest game, denying Rochester's John Carr inside and moving outside enough to throw off the deadly shooting of McGowen and Kevin Brown. And for almost every Rochester basket, Dittman answered with a jumper behind a pick. Nevertheless, Rochester rammed its way to a 14-10 lead with a minute to go, but then the Valley took over. Dittman drove for a basket and was fouled. He missed the free throw, but Ryan Williams pulled in the rebound and fired it back outside to Dittman who pumped one in for a 4-point play of sorts to knot the score. Seconds later, Mike Lewis hit a 30-footer at the buzzer and Tippecanoe led at the quarter, 16-14.

At the start of the second quarter, the Vikings brought the crowd to their feet with an 8-0 splurge that put them ahead by ten, 24-14. However, at this point Phil Adams, who along with Lewis, had been running circles around Rochester's futile zone press, had to sit down with foul trouble. The Zebras roared back with eight unanswered points to close the gap to two at 24-22. But Tippecanoe would not be caught and pulled back to a 5-point lead at halftime, 31-26. Dittman had 22 of the Valley's points at this time.

The third quarter, however, changed the completion of the game. While the Rochester defense began forcing Tippecanoe into bad shots, the Zebras themselves went unconscious and hit everything. And in the second half, the Vikings could not buy a break as every conceivable call went against them. Still, they held their lead for most of the quarter, until Rochester ran off ten straight points late in the period to secure a 46-41 margin going into the fourth stanza.

Throughout the fourth quarter, Tippecanoe tried in vain to narrow the gap. One big factor was that Ron Dittman managed only two fourth-quarter points, mainly because every time he got the ball he was hacked, hammered and otherwise harassed by at least one Zebra, but no fouls were called. Rochester collected a lot of points on free throws and "garbage" shots late in the game as Valley went for broke and this made the margin a lot wider than the game actually was.

Ron Dittman, who, along with Phil Adams, Mike Lewis and Jim Johnson played his final high school game, wound out a memorable career with a fitting 30-point effort. Unfortunately, no other Viking could consistently add to the scoring attack. Adams and Lewis chipped in six each as did John Lash. Ryan Williams added three points and Jim Webb collected two. Rochester hit 14 of 14 foul shots, while Valley connected on just three of six. Dave McGowen led Rochester with 20 and Jack Swank scored 16.

Tippecanoe Valley closed its first season ever with a very respectable 17-5 record. Rochester, 17-6, meets Columbia City in the Elkhart regional Saturday.

Area Lenten Services Begin

A good time to "be alive" and start living the rest of your life is March 8 at 7:00 p.m. when you can "Meet Your Missionary" right here at the Mentone United Methodist Church, according to church members planning this portion of special Lenten services.

The Mentone church is the "pick up" point for all area churches, and the March 8 program will afford the churches a chance to meet all the missionaries, particularly the ones they will take back to their own churches. Each will speak briefly. A fellowship hour with cookies and coffee will provide an informal "get acquainted" time.

The first missionary to speak at the Mentone church will do so at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, March 9. He is the Rev. Edward Ehresman, who with his wife, arrived at Red Bird Mission in 1958 after serving churches in the Dakota conference for 17 years. They spent nine years of committed service at Beech Fork. For the past four years, he has been assistant superintendent at Beverly, Ky.

The Rev. Ehresman's work consists of recruiting staff persons for three elementary schools, a high school, a hospital and ten community centers. Red Bird Mission's main purpose is to be the Gospel of Christ to the people so that it serves their needs in daily life. Mrs. Ehresman is active in this work as a part-time teacher and assistant librarian. The couple has six children, the youngest in high school.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 9, the Beaver Dam church will host churches involved in the Round Robin Mission series. The speaker will be the Rev. Thomas Long, a leader in the Oklahoma Indian Missionary Conference, an area of concern to the Mentone church since many of their people have worked there. The Rev. Long and his wife are both from the Creek tribe. They have eight children. Since he has become a minister, he has served numerous churches in urban and rural areas, all in Oklahoma or Kansas.

In connection with the mission program, there will be prayer vigil on Friday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The day will be divided into half-hour segments so that it offers many individuals an opportunity to participate in this part of the mission program.

A minister actively involved in work camps, youth activities, tutoring programs for college students and as a pastor of churches in Illinois, Dr. Virgil J. Hague, director of McCurdy Schools Project in New Mexico, will speak at the Talma United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 12.

Olive Hand, Warsaw, a missionary from Burundi, Africa, will speak at the 7:30 March 13 service at the Mentone church.

Mrs. Hand was a medical missionary in Burundi, Africa, for six years. Burundi is a new African country located between what was formerly the Congo and the nations of Tanzania and Uganda. She attended college in Seattle, Washington, and Goshen, Ind., and nurse's training in Canada. She will show pictures.

There will be no services on Friday, March 14, but on Saturday, March 15, there will be a 6:30 a.m. breakfast meeting at the Mentone church. Gerald Schmidt, a representative from U.M.C.O.R., will tell of the work being done by the United Methodist Committee on Relief. He will also be the 7:30 p.m. Saturday speaker.

Dr. Hague will address the church's young people at a 7:30 a.m. Sunday, March 16, breakfast meeting and will address the congregation in the 9:30 a.m. worship.

The March 16 7:30 p.m. service at Mentone will bring the mission program to a close. Hilda Clark, a native of Honduras who came to the United States to study music at Marion College and is now a teacher at Whit's Institute at Wabash, will present her witness through music and slides.

Everyone is invited to attend any or all of the sessions.

Getting someone else to do your work is the recipe for real "success."

Ned - JoAnn SCHULER MODULAR HOMES

1 MILE WEST OF JCT. 114 & 15 ON 114

No. Manchester, Indiana
982-2704

There's a lot to be said for Dutchland Estate Modular Homes. They're adaptable, they're FHA accepted, they have a greater inherent reliability factor and anybody can afford a Dutchland Estate Home. Here are some things you ought to know.

Dutchland Estate Homes have one indispensable attribute: They can be anything to anybody. They can be first homes, vacation homes or retirement retreats. Seven market tested models range from the 46' x 24' Stroudsburg (1104 square feet), which is the FHA accepted minimum, to the spacious Vilkhome (1296 square feet). Space wise these models and floor plans provide a complete spectrum from which to select what you need and more importantly, what you can afford.

There is nothing "cheap" about modular housing. Unfortunately, there are still too many people who associate manufactured housing with pre-fabricated construction. There is no justifiable base from which to draw a comparison of the two. All Dutchland Estate Homes feature quality components, manufactured by such respected names as Anderson (windows), Masonite (siding), Armstrong (flooring), Westinghouse, General Electric, Magic Chef (appliances) and Weyerhaeuser (structural timber), to mention just a few. At Heckaman Industries, Dutchland Estate Modular Homes are built by master craftsmen employing the hammer and nails method of construction. Since all construction conforms to rigid self-imposed standards and is done indoors away from problems caused by the elements, Dutchland Estates have a greater reliability index than conventional stick built structures.

BOTH MEASURE UP

Accurate to one-thousandth of an inch the micrometer caliper is a measuring instrument used when fine tolerance is a necessity. For example it is used in the making of delicate instruments, machines and tools. If a shaft is to be fitted to a pulley or wheel where exactness is a requirement, the micrometer is the measuring instrument used—it approaches perfection.

The Church is not a perfect institution or organization. It does not measure up to the micrometer in this quality because it is an organization of human beings, but it has done more to improve the lot of the human race and elevate the dignity of the individual than any other organization or institution. Also, a church that suits one individual best will not prove to be the best for his friend, neighbor or the native of another nation. But in free nations one may choose the church that suits and serves him to the fullest—that alone is a RARE PRIVILEGE.

Church of God Plans Singspiration

The Akron Church of God will have a singspiration Sunday evening, one of the all-musical services it plans every few months of the year.

Participating in the service will be the sanctuary choir, the Love trio, a group of children and youth singing several selections from the musical "It's Cool In The Furnace" that they presented several weeks ago. There will also be solos, duets and other small groups and/or instrumentals along with a lot of congregational singing and participation.

Everyone is invited.

During the entire month of March, the church's theme is "March To Church In March." Each Sunday morning there will be an attendance goal to reach. The first goal, 350, was passed last Sunday with 367. Final goal is 450 for Easter Sunday.

Will Address Akron Group

The Akron W.C.T.U. will meet Tuesday evening, March 11th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Akron library.

Mrs. B. B. Whitacre, state W.C.T.U. President will speak and show slides of her trip to Norway where she attended the World W.C.T.U. convention.

Velma Bright will be the devotional leader and hostesses will be Mary Krouse, Marie Hand and Eva Strong.

Gospel Singspiration Set Sunday

Whitey Gleason's Jubilee Quartet of Topeka, Kansas, the Helmsmen of the Calumet area and the Hallelujah quartet from Warsaw will be featured at the Plymouth Area Gospel Singathon Sunday, March 16, at 2 p.m. in the Triton High School auditorium, Bourbon.

Tickets for the sixth gospel singathon can be obtained from Dave Heiser, R. 2, Culver, 842-2438, or at the five and ten cent store in Bourbon.

The public is invited.

Plans Branch

A branch of the Leiters Ford State Bank to be located at the junction of state roads 25 and 14 east, near Rochester, will open in approximately three months according to tentative plans announced by Ed Stanley, bank president.

He said the Department of Financial Institutions recently gave approval to the bank to establish a Rochester branch. He said the bank will be open six days a week with extended hours to serve its customers. Stanley, associated in the banking field for ten years, purchased the bank last September.

Mrs. Shewman Club Woman Of Year

Mrs. Con Shewman, Akron, was chosen Fulton Co. Club Woman of the Year at the Fulton Co. Federation of Clubs convention in Akron Monday. Mrs. Shewman, who has been active in club, church and community work, was presented a corsage and a framed certificate for her outstanding work.

Mrs. Robert Ogle welcomed members to the convention. Response was by Mrs. Earl Barkman. Mrs. Virgil Biddinger gave devotions. Bernice Bowen was organist for the meeting.

Mrs. Earl Kuhn, county president, presided, reporting approximately $450 of blind goods were purchased by members during the year. Members also donated over 600 Betty Crocker coupons to the Mishawaka Women's Club towards the purchase of a kidney machine and gave 60 bags to Good Will.

Using "Keeping The Dream Alive" as her topic, Mrs. Conda Martin, 13th district president, urged members to take more vitamins A, E and C; A for attitude; E for enthusiasm and C for courage. Discussion was held concerning redistricting the state. Districts were formed years ago with the local clubs a part of the old 13th congressional district, but when the congressional districts were changed, club districts did not change. The 13th district is composed of Fulton, Marshall, Kosciusko, LaPorte, Starke, St. Joseph and Elkhart counties. A decision will be made at the Indiana Federation of Clubs meeting this summer on redistricting.

Mrs. Howard Francis, president of the Indiana Federation of Clubs, urged members to attend the state convention at Stouffers Inn in Indianapolis on April 16-18 and the Mid-Summer Council meeting July 29-30. She also discussed the energy crisis and membership and attendance problems.

Ruth Moore offered grace before the luncheon.

Mrs. Chloris Barkman conducted memorial services for members deceased during the past year: Mrs. John McKee, Mrs. Oscar Pites and Mrs. P. R. Lawson.

Mrs. Raymond Harris was guest speaker, using a charm bracelet as the object to teach understanding, contentment, peace of mind and tolerance. She stressed everyone has more of everything today and enjoys it less, attaching too much importance to money.

Mrs. Clair Moore reported the county music contest and said the district contest will be at the No. Liberty Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. on March 15.

Resolutions were presented asking members to continue interest in conservation; review textbooks and report undesirable material; complement radio and TV stations on good programs and complain about bad ones; cooperate and be active in local and state bicentennial programs.

Other 13th district officers introduced were Mrs. Lloyd Jefferies, first vice-president; Mrs. Wallace Stouder, third vice-president; Mildred Laird, secretary; Aileen Biddinger and Mrs. Lloyd Swoverland, past presidents; and the following county president; Mrs. Jay Gardner, Kosciusko; Mrs. Ward Redinger, Marshall; Mrs. Ned Bartlett, St. Joseph, and Mrs. Samuel Emerson, LaPorte.

Article Published

An article entitled "Some Christmas Gift Ideas for Genealogists Suggested" by Eula Smith of Mentone appeared in the December 21, 1974, issue of the Tri-State Trader. Mrs. Smith, a dedicated genealogist, described ideal gifts that anyone working on a family history would enjoy receiving.

"Why I'm Glad" Is Roll Call Response

The roll call response "Why I'm Glad I Live In America" was answered by members of the Omega Club in the home of Bernice Bowen. Mrs. Lillian Flohr and Bernice Bowen also responded and contributed to the various reasons why people feel so very fortunate, even with the many crises our country has undergone.

Meditations were given by Zenophia Burdge reading the "love" chapter: 1 Cor. 13, from the Bible and a poem entitled, "A Candy Heart". Articles about Abraham Lincoln and his mother and George Washington were also given.

An old favorite, "In the Gloaming", led the song fest followed by "Ginger Up" and "A Laugh Provoker".

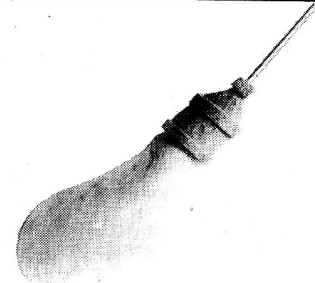

Gloria Bowen was in charge of entertainment conducting several contests. Prizes were won by Bernice Bowen, Anina Clemens and Emma Burns.

Refreshments were served to members and two guests.

The way the cost of living keeps going up, pretty soon taxes will be a bargain.

electricity isn't made by squirrels in a cage

It takes massive power plants, skilled manpower and a complex delivery system to provide dependable electric service.

None of it would be possible unless electric utilities were able—and remain able—to borrow massive amounts of money to build needed facilities.

Would you invest your money in an electric company that didn't pay a fair return competitive with other investments?

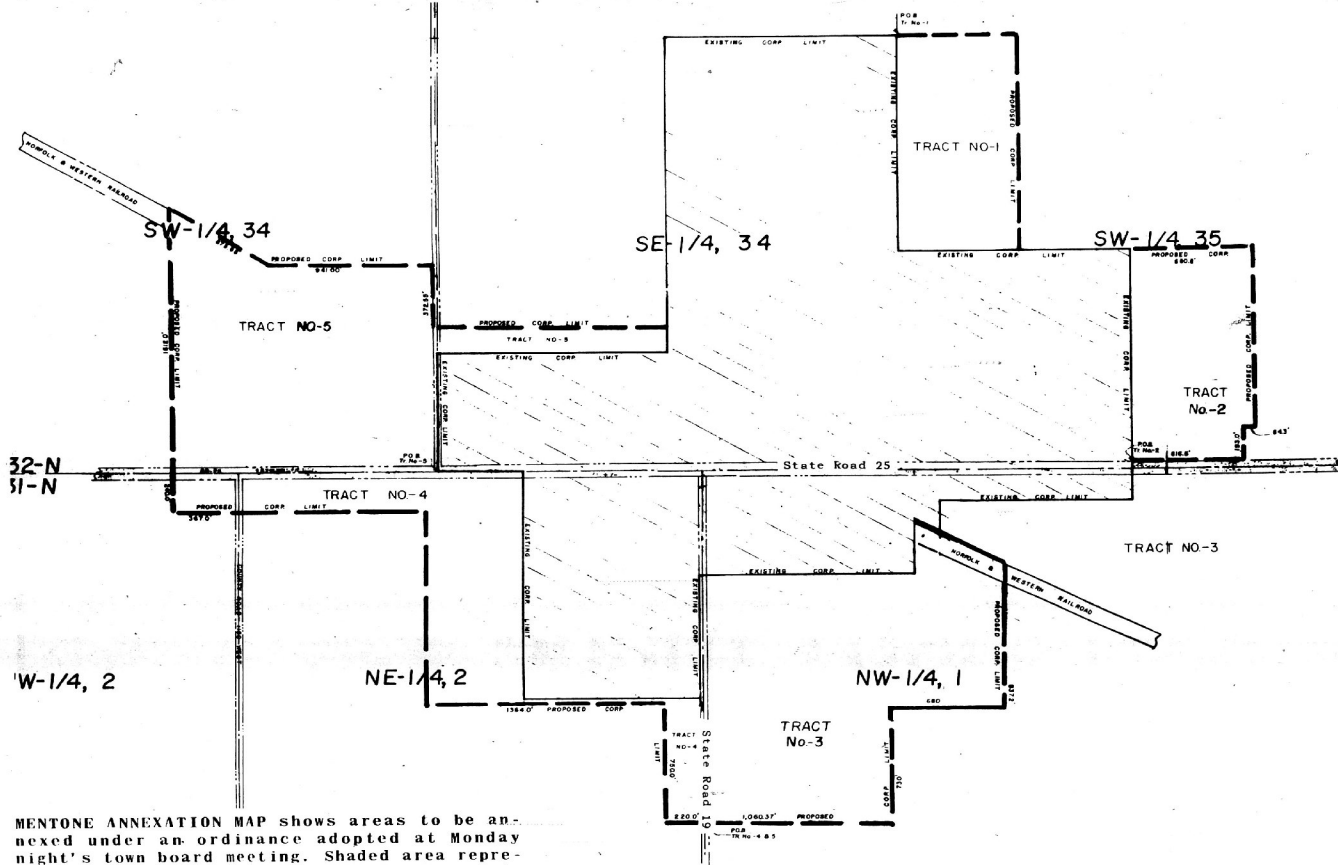

The fact is: sharply higher costs of manpower, materials, construction and money are eroding utilities' ability to attract adequate capital. Left uncorrected, this will produce a weak system unable to cope with rising energy demands and lead to brownouts and energy shortages.

And this is why we've asked for a regulatory review of our present financial situation. None of us likes higher rates... but they're better than the crippling alternative.

Talma Church Will

was built in 1908. Extensively remodeled in 1915, it was moved to its present site in 1940 when SR 25 was widened and the church had to be moved. At that time a basement was dug and the church was moved on it, a new entrance was added and the interior was redecorated and a new furnace added. Remodeling in 1945 and 1953 was followed by another new furnace in 1955 and more remodeling in 1968. In 1972, the church was resided on the front and the rest of the building repainted. Then came the April 3, 1974 tornado, which severely damaged the church although it was used as a relief station during the massive clean-up that followed.

"Bye Bye Birdie" To Be TVHS Musical

Tippecanoe Valley High School will present the musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie" on April 11 and 12.

The play is a satire on the rock 'n roll period of the 1950s. Conrad Birdie, a rock 'n roll singer much like Elvis Presley, has been drafted into the Army, much to the dismay of his manager and screaming fans.

As a last publicity stunt, Birdie's manager, Albert Peterson, composes a final song "One Last Kiss" which Birdie will sing to one of his loyal fans, Kim MacAfee, in Sweet Apple, Ohio. The song and the kiss Birdie will bestow on Kim are to be televised nationally on the Ed Sullivan Show from Sweet Apple.

Needless to say, the kiss does not go as planned.

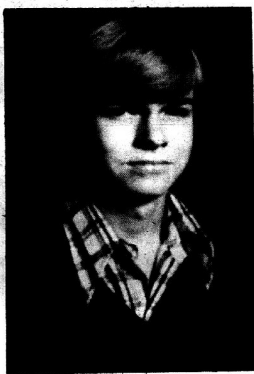

The musical comedy has an exceptionally large cast of major and minor speaking and singing parts. The hit songs featured are "Put On A Happy Face," "One Boy," and "A Lot of Livin' To Do."

Blackbirds

Dear Editor:

Knowing your interest and concern for community and national health and welfare, we knew you would be interested in this letter of March 7 to our Town Board.

"We need some ideas and help in the control of disease carrying blackbirds which, each year at this time, come in by the thousands determined to establish a rookery in the trees here at 'Possum Hollow."

Although this is outside the corporation limit, those people living in the corporation are probably more affected and just as susceptible to the diseases carried by these birds as those outside the corporation limit.

These hordes of blackbirds intermingled with starlings and grackles have definitely been established as carriers of Histoplasmosis (the lung disease), Cholera, and other related diseases of humans and livestock. In addition to carrying disease, they damage farm crops and trees along with the creation of offensive odor and noises.

Attached are two newspaper clippings from The New York Times reporting the United States Army's necessary removal of the birds for health and safety. Also, the article reports the incidents of Histoplasmosis, the lung disease, identified by Dr. P. D. Jones of Milan, Tenn.

In the past, we have continuously prevented most of these birds from establishing their nesting rookery by the use of noise producing bird bombs and occasional use of a shot gun. This has been, and still is, a lengthy and expensive process, but the only one we know of.

We have contacted several agencies, including Purdue University, for rodent and trash bird control methods without success and we need the help of your Board or anyone else who would have some effective, workable control ideas. Since this becomes a matter of health, we're all affected and the sooner we get started with an effective control, the less dangers there will be to all of us.

In our end of town, we have the finest crop of red-cheeked youngsters you ever saw who love to play and walk through the areas these birds infest; so, it becomes doubly more important that we find a solution.

When you have had an opportunity to think this over, we welcome any suggestions and ideas you may have. Cordially yours, Howard M. Utter

Methodists Plan Supper

The adult Sunday school class of the Akron United Methodist Church is sponsoring a soup-sandwich-salad-dessert at the church annex Saturday night. Time information can be obtained in their advertisement in this week's NEWS.

GOLDIE TEEL KESLER, seated, and her sister Nellie May Teel Wagner, the "we" of Goldie's sketches in the NEWS. Goldie, who did not want her picture taken anyway, reports a trifle of petticoat showing was very stylish.

Things I Remember

By Goldie Kesler

I cannot really understand why peoples in other countries seem to have nothing and we have such an abundance of everything.

Before I ever went to school at age five years Grandmother insisted we make two quilt patches every day with seams just so and center matching perfectly. We made enough patches and quilts so my great-granddaughters will still have a keepsake. We did our own sewing so there was always plenty of material to cut up. The chest and clothes press were running over with quilts, comforters, pillows and cushions. The everyday ones were four or nine patch affairs but the fancy ones were "worked" with feather stitching along the seams. Flowers, birds, and especially the names of all the young men in the neighborhood were embroidered on the patches. We had wool comforters and blankets, too. Wool was washed and picked or carded. A fleece off a big sheep would provide wool for two comforters.

We had some beds without springs. Ropes went crosswise and lengthwise of the bed frame to make a very comfortable beginning for what was put on top.

In the fall after the corn was cribbed we filled baskets with the clean inside husks and in the long winter evenings everyone worked at tearing the husks into strips and placing them in a tick. Some people used straw but it soon lost its buoyancy and Grandmother would have none of it. Husks for us.

When the days began to get warm Grandma said we must pick the geese. A few feathers were pulled out and if no blood shown on the quill, the feathers were ripe and the geese would pull them out themselves. We pulled a sock over a goose's head and tied their legs with a carpet rag. Grandmother sitting on a potato crate held their heads between her knees and stripped off the feathers. They looked much like a sheep just sheared but seemed like new feathers grew almost overnight. A dozen or so geese would make a feather bed in a season.

Most houses had a thimble in the ceiling of the living room and the stove pipe went thru the thimble and on to the chimney. It was one way of conserving fuel and warming the upstairs bedrooms.

A husk tick first and then a big fat feather bed made a most cuddly place to sleep in winter. We climbed into bed (and climb we had to) and sank down in the softness, with a warm flat iron at our feet one could sleep ten hours straight through. Refreshed and fortified with five pancakes and a bite of sausage, one was ready for any kind of "rat killing" as the saying goes.

Grandchildren, nieces and nephews, hired men, or what ever, we always had good places for everyone to sleep and keep warm. Even a tramp was given a cover so he could sleep in the barn after a stiff lecture from Grandfather that no one was allowed to smoke near the barn.

Grandma being the sturdy pioneer type never cried. She said she did just once when the boys took some of her quilts to put over their horses because it was storming when church was dismissed.

Cleotus Smith has broken ground for his new bungalow on Main street next door west from the public library building.

After nearly a year of very satisfactory service at the Corner Grocery in the employ of Walton and Stinson, Miss Mabel Bunn resigned last Saturday evening to take a place on the Hello force at Central for the Akron telephone company. Miss Bunn is an amiable young lady and more than an ordinary successful saleslady and the Walton & Stinson accepted of her resignation very reluctantly. But the work at Central evidently irritates her nerves as in her sleep she will yell out "number"--"line's busy" and adjust her sleeping cap thinking it was the iron bound receiver on her head. But we wish her success in her new job.

Miss Mary Beik has resigned her place as compositor on this paper, retiring last Saturday evening. We regret to lose her jolly disposition from our force and will miss her busiest endeavor to do everything just right whatever her hand and heart finds to do.

There's a lot to be said for Dutchland Estate Modular Homes. They're adaptable, they're FHA accepted, they have a greater inherent reliability factor and anybody can afford a Dutchland Estate Home. Here are some things you ought to know.

Dutchland Estate Homes have one indispensable attribute: They can be anything to anybody. They can be first homes, vacation homes or retirement retreats. Seven market tested models range from the 46' x 24' Stroudsburg (1104 square feet), which is the FHA accepted minimum, to the spacious Vilk-home (1296 square feet). Space wise these models and floor plans provide a complete spectrum from which to select what you need and more importantly, what you can afford.

There is nothing "cheap" about modular housing. Unfortunately, there are still too many people who associate manufactured housing with pre-fabricated construction. There is no justifiable base from which to draw a comparison of the two. All Dutchland Estate Homes feature quality components, manufactured by such respected names as Anderson (windows), Masonite (siding), Armstrong (flooring), Westinghouse, General Electric, Magic Chef (appliances) and Weyerhaeuser (structural timber), to mention just a few. At Heckaman Industries, Dutchland Modular Homes are built by master craftsmen employing the hammer and nails method of construction. Since all construction conforms to rigid self-imposed standards and is done indoors away from problems caused by the elements, Dutchland Estates have a greater reliability index than conventional stick built structures.

Marilyn King tops in hog judging

"Sometimes, if I didn't know for sure, I guessed," Marilyn King confessed when she came home from her first hog judging contest last week-end with a first-place trophy.

The nine-year-old Mentone fourth grader guessed so well she scored 147 points out of a possible 150 in the junior judging contest at the Berkshire Five-Star Futurity Show in Bucyrus, Ohio. Topping 44 other 4-H and FFA contestants, including her 13-year-old brother, Herb, she also received $25 buying credit at the sale that followed. Attending were Berkshire breeders from Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Indiana and Michigan.

She did equally well in team judging, joining with Deborah and Colleen Yake of Carmel to win first in that category. Herb and his fellow teammates, Ronnie Haegele of Croton, Ohio, and Tim Steinhilber, Galion, Ohio, who called themselves Vikings because each came from a school using that mascot, placed second. There were 14 teams entered.

Attending the show and sale with the two were their father, Darrell, and sister Kathleen. The three youngsters are all members of the Harrison Hustler 4-H Club and are actively involved in the Berkshire hog project at their parent's farm.

The King family exhibited in two classes, placing tenth and twelfth in a class of 27 and eleventh and fourteenth in a class of 30.

Pessimists expect nothing on silver platters except tarnish.

Kathryn Louise Bellamy and James Michael Bellamy, Mentone, have filed petition in Kosciusko Superior Court for dissolution of their May 28, 1972 marriage. They separated Feb. 14, 1975. There are no children.

TVSC recognizes 'Professional Teachers'

After refusing for more than a year to recognize the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association (TVCTA) as bargaining representatives, members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board Monday night gave temporary recognition to a newly organized group calling itself "Professional Teachers of Tippecanoe Valley." Headed by Marna Riedel, a teacher in the Burket school, the group disavows any affiliation with Indiana State Teachers Association (ISTA) or American Federation of Teachers (AFT) or classroom teachers association (CTA) or any other state or national organization.

In making her presentation, Mrs. Riedel, sister of school board member Richard Goshert, said, "Many TVSC teachers have become disillusioned with the tactics of the TVCTA of the Indiana State Teachers Association." She cited statistics indicating TVCTA has only 27 members, some of whom reportedly do not approve of the group's tactics and are joining the new organization. She said, "Most corporation teachers are fine people, but they are being led astray by ISTA militants." She reported a recent questionnaire asked teachers if they could ever foresee any reason to consider the possibility of a strike by TVSC employees. "This is unacceptable to many teachers," she said. "Also a recruitment of 1,300 teachers outside of this area with 2,600 days of personal leave to be used supposedly as pickets or other use is unacceptable to the thinking of many of our teachers."

Estimating there were 79 professional people eligible for membership, she presented the board copies of authorization and designation cards signed by 50 teachers. This, she said, fulfilled legal requirements requiring a petition to have signatures of 20 per cent of corporation teachers.

The reading of the petition prompted Phyllis Gearhart, TVCTA president, to charge an unfair labor practice based on information she said had been sent only to board members and herself, apparently the reference to picket availability. She said it appeared Mrs. Riedel had gotten information not sent teachers.

Crusade opens re-built Talma church

The Talma Bible Church has scheduled a five-day crusade with the Singing Gardner family of Buchanan, Mich., in its newly re-built church, which was destroyed by last April's tornado. The basement of the church was made sixteen feet larger at the back to allow more room for classrooms and church activities. The 24 x 60 foot fellowship hall and kitchen are in the final stages of completion.

The auditorium was also enlarged 16 feet. It has new furniture and more pews have been added and a new baptistry installed. The building was constructed by Ralph Baker, contractor, with volunteer help.

Ladies first at Mentone C of C game

It'll be ladies first at the Mentone Chamber of Commerce sponsored basketball game Friday night.

Starting at 6:30 p.m., fourth and fifth grade girls and boys from Mentone and Burket will meet each other in five-minute quarter games. In the order of their appearance will be fourth grade girls, fifth grade girls, fourth grade boys and fifth grade boys.

All proceeds will be given to the Mentone Youth League.

Funds okayed for new Woodlawn

The Fulton Co. Council voted 6-1 Monday night to permit spending of $241,017 for a new hospital at Jones' Woods, a 33,488 site east of Rochester.

Voting for the expenditure were George Stephen, Si Deeb, Geo. Krom III, Robert Bridge, Harold Showley and Earl Barkman. LeRoy Rouch opposed.

Councilmen heard discussion for three hours prior to the vote, both for and against the site.

A breakdown of the costs presented at the hearing showed $20,000 for site and soil investigation and preparation; $40,000 for paving; $10,000 for exterior lighting; $100,464 for purchase of land;

$31,198 for architectural fees; $10,000 for legal fees; $10,000 for accounting fees, and $19,355 for contingencies.

Easter egg hunt set

Akron's annual Chamber of Commerce sponsored Easter egg hunt will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, March 29, in the Akron park. Prizes will be awarded in various categories. Members of the Las Donas Club will color the eggs.

ENLARGED and re-built, the Talma Bible Church will host a crusade next week. The church was extensively damaged during the April 3 tornado but has since been almost completely renovated.

The Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen's Association during its annual meeting at Indianapolis elected new officers for 1975. Shown (l. to r.) are Dean Baker, President, Pike Lumber Company, Akron; E. J. Lott, Secretary-Treasurer, State Extension Forester at Purdue University; and Max Cline, First Vice-President, Van Keulen and Winchester Lumber Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

FUNDS FOR YOUTH LEAGUE: Marsha Scott, center, treasurer of Beta Epsilon chapter of Psi Iota Xi sorority, presents a check for $100 to Ellen Secrist, treasurer of the Mentone Little League, as Dick Webb, Little League president, looks on. The donation is one of the sorority's philanthropic works.

a prepared resolution calling for the immediate (March 17) temporary recognition of the group as the employee representative, to become the exclusive bargaining representative whenever it becomes legally possible. His motion was seconded by Goshert. The action angered board member Fred Kindig who said, "It appears bargains have been made outside the board room. I'm backing off. This is a snow job," he charged. "I came in here and found this resolution in front of me; it's too cut and dried."

Wilson said he had asked superintendent Robert Forbes to prepare the resolution "so it would be worded properly."

Asked by board president Dr. John McKee if her group had prepared a similar petition, Mrs. Gearhart said much of the preliminary work had been done before she became president, but she "thought" everything had been done in accordance to Public Law 217. Forbes, denying her accusation that he had refused to talk to TVCTA until it was recognized but had helped the Professional Teachers, said TVCTA had never requested recognition via petition.

TVCTA member Duane Smith said 67 per cent of the teachers' unit did sign authorization cards, but that Forbes and Wilson had, at the Akron library, told them this would not be recognized, a charge both denied.

Temporary recognition was granted on a 3-2 roll call vote with McKee, Wilson and Goshert voting for it and Snipes and Kindig opposing it. In other action, the board:

- Approved a $97,758. 32 gross payroll and a supplemental payroll of $2,900.

- Approved supplemental contracts for Tom Roy, $900, varsity baseball; Robert Igney, $650 for assisting; Nancy Yeiter, $350 for play director and $250 for yearbook; Vic Gamble and Wayne Cumberland, $225 each for intramural; Jerry Eaton, $300 for golf; Dale Pace, $350, play director; Michael Hoyt, $450, varsity track; David Creighton and William Ruppel, $300 each for junior high varsity track.

- Told Jean Roberts and Jeri Davis "something would be done for girls' athletics, sometime." Both protested the lack of GAA activities and the lack of facilities for girls' athletics. Forbes said track and basketball are the only sports limited to boys and that girls could join the football team or any other team if they wanted to become more involved. He also challenged Mrs. Roberts' statement that girls cannot participate in contact sports. Goshert promised to try to validate GAA, but Wilson defended Forbes' statements and said the girls' programs would have to come later.

- Approved advertising for bus bids after hearing Con Shewman, an automotive dealer who will join the board in July, question use of air brakes. These were made additive alternates along with plywood sub-floors.

- Approved an overnight trip to southern Indiana and northern Kentucky by members of the boys' track and baseball teams on a 3-2 vote. McKee and Kindig voted no. "We shouldn't do this without providing something similar for the girls," McKee said, receiving a round of applause from a number of girls who were openly dejected because of the lack of attention to their programs. The boys, approximately 80 in all, will be accompanied by coaches Smith, Hoyt, Igney and Roy, their expenses paid by the athletic fund with the exception of gasoline, which will be paid by the corporation.

- Approved contracts with NIPSCO and Sentry.

- Decided to stay with their present fuel oil supplier in spite of Laketon Asphalt and Refinery's eight-cent per gallon cheaper quote. McKee questioned this move, but the other four members backed Forbes in saying they "should stick with the company that helped them out last winter when they could not get oil." "I know the sulphur content of their (Laketon's) oil is not right," Forbes said.

- Stuck to a decision to have commencement on Sunday, June 1, after hearing Linda Earl ask that it be stepped up so that graduating seniors would have a few more days to find a job. "You'll be working all your life; a few more days won't matter," they told her.

Blackbirds

Howard M. Utter
Akron, Indiana

Re: Your letter in the NEWS of March 7, 1975.

Dear Howard:

The birds to which you refer are primarily red-wing blackbirds, grackles and starlings. Ornithologically speaking - starlings are a year around nuisance while the other two species are only a migratory one and primarily in the spring.

As to the diseases mentioned, cholera is primarily limited to India and the far East.

Hog cholera, another possibility, is beyond my expertise and I would refer you to a veterinarian.

Histoplasmosis is caused by a fungus and is world-wide in distribution. However, it is most prevalent in the midwestern United States. It is an extremely common disease in this area and the probability is very good that both you and I have had it or do have it and do not even know it. It is very seldom fatal.

Factors related to its distribution are not clearly known, however, climate, soil conditions, birds, animal life, poultry, pigeons, decaying trees and stumps and caves, domestic animals, men, etc., as well as the birds in question may harbor and spread it.

As a solution to your problem, we might suggest:

- (1) Eliminate your rookery.
- (2) Have the Army Corp of engineers eliminate all possible sources - including mankind.

- (3) Keep doing what you are doing to frighten away the offending birds.
- (4) Wait - they will be bred, scattered and gone in 2-3 weeks anyway.

As you can see, public health problems can be very complex. We will cooperate in any way we can.

Sincerely,
Dr. Charles E. Miller

Thank You

Dear Ann,

We are taking this opportunity to say "thank you" for your support in our recent Film Festival at Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Programs such as this could never be successful without the support of people like you. Your co-operation and enthusiasm is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

GARDNER FAMILY of Buchanan, Mich., will participate in a five-day crusade at the newly rebuilt Talma Bible Church next week.

Crusade opens

Donations were received from many people in the area as well as from all parts of the United States, an act of generosity for which the church is grateful.

The crusade with the Gardners will start Friday and will continue until March 26, meeting at 7:30 each evening. Sunday has been set as attendance breaking day. The Rev. Joe Dayhoff will be speaker.

The public is invited.

Give memorial books

The Fulton County Federation of Clubs has placed the book, "Like A Mighty Wind" by Mel Tari in the Akron Carnegie Public Library in memory of Mrs. Lavonna McKee. Miracles performed in biblical times often have been written for the 1970s. But they are happening today as men, women and children simply believe God and act on His promises. The place is Indonesia - a network of islands in the Pacific now in the midst of what may be the greatest revival of the twentieth century. This is the story of that revival.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kuhn have placed the book, "How To Stay Younger While Growing Older" by Reuel L. Howe in the Akron Carnegie Public Library in memory of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Norris. Writing from the standpoint of one who has nearly reached the "three score years and ten", Reuel L. Howe draws upon his own life - his experience as a clergyman, pastoral counselor, and educator - to offer some helpful insights on how to stay younger while growing older.

Margaret Smith and Barbara Young, of Wabash, aunts of Mary and Frank Beik, have been visitors at this home the last two weeks.

We have a Simplex type setting machine setting on our office floor that we bought at Earlville, Iowa, March 1st. It arrived last Saturday, but its keyboard and most of its wire system was crushed to death in transportation, until it will take considerable time and money to put it in running order. It nearly breaks our heart to look at it in its dilapidated condition as we banked so faithfully in our own mind this week the Akron News would be set by machinery that is equal to the best in the country. But our hopes have been blasted for this time.

A. A. Tatman, his son-in-law, Ralph Robbins and wife, Homer Robbins and Royce Bemenderfer all started for the great northwest early last Tuesday morning. The two latter will stop off at Devils Lake, but the other three will land in Montana. Ralph and wife expect to make that country their permanent home, but Mr. Tatman is not quite sure of his future on that line.

Andrew Pontius will be the early worm this spring for lettuce. He sowed his seed last fall and it is now up and growing nicely taking advantage of every warm day. His father before followed that plan and Andrew did the same when yet on the farm the result being early garden truck on the table.

Brethren Holy Week services begin

Holy week and Easter services have been scheduled at the Akron Church of the Brethren, beginning Sunday, Palm Sunday, with a 9:30 a.m. church school followed by worship services at 10:30. Children of the church will participate by carrying in the palm leaves. Music will include a solo by Mrs. Stanley Shewman, "The Palms," and an anthem by the choir. The pastor's message will be on the subject, "The Fickle Crowd."

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday, the church will observe the Service of the Upper Room. This year, with world-wide hunger so great, the church will omit the meal and have meditation on the meaning of widespread hunger and death. The money usually spent for the meal, along with sacrificial gifts by participants, will be used to purchase a "Food Certificate" for the overseas hungry. This money is used to purchase seeds, fertilizer, dig wells and buy some food. The aim is to help people help themselves.

On Good Friday, from 1:30 until 2:30 p.m., the churches will join in their annual observance. Services will be at the United Methodist Church with a former pastor, the Rev. Dan Bengston, as speaker. Music will be provided by participating churches and their pastors will share in the liturgy.

Easter Sunday services will begin at 7 a.m. with a sunrise service planned and conducted by the Young Adults, followed by an all-church breakfast at 7:45 that will be served by the high school youth. The church school will convene at 8:30, and the Easter church worship will follow at 9:30 a.m. Music for this service will include a solo by Byron Tinkey and the choir's anthem. The children will join the youth in the choir anthem. The pastor's message will be on the subject, "Easter--God's Answer to Death." The morning worship will be aimed to conclude at 10:30 a.m. with "The Hallelujah Chorus."

If you heat your home electrically, Ben Franklin would be proud of you. You're already helping stretch America's fuel reserves. In this part of the country, electricity is made from abundant coal, not from the scarcer fuels we're shortest on.

Hammer credo: Talents are

By Ann Sheetz

NOELLE AND TERRY HAMMER relax in the living room of their Crystal Lake home. Married only six months, the couple delights in seeking innovative ways to use the items they collect. Note use of marshmallow tin for knitting basket.

If you have a talent, you should share it, be it in painting, singing or decorating, according to a philosophy shared by Terry and Noelle Hammer.

Newlyweds with a flair for individuality, their home on Crystal Lake reflects a love of the old as well as the new. Skeptics who think the younger generation can settle for nothing less than "all new" would do well to note that the Hammers own only one piece of new furniture—a sofa. Everything else is old, refinished to within an inch of its life.

"I was lucky," Noelle laughs. "I married the guy with everything. Terry had all this furniture and his collections. All I had was a cast iron skillet."

"And a set of salt and pepper shakers," Terry adds.

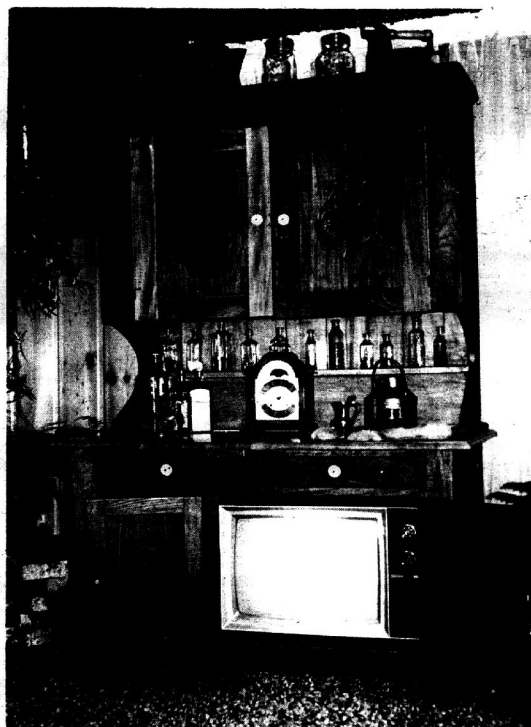

"Ah, well," she sighs,

"at least he let me arrange everything."

And it was in her arranging that the ability that has stood her in good stead as a teacher, an illustrator for Ken Anderson studio and Free Methodist Publishing House and as a free-lance artist was evidenced. A cupboard from her parents houses a television set and provides background for collections and wedding presents. Church pews

Bake Sale

A bake sale to be conducted simultaneously in Akron and Mentone has been scheduled for Saturday by members of the Tippecanoe Valley High School Sunshine Society. Location of the sale will depend on the weather, according to the girls.

AN OLD CUPBOARD from Noelle's family is referred to as her dowry. Painstakingly restored and refinished, it houses the couple's television set and displays a collection of antique medicine bottles along with an interesting assortment of wedding presents, a wire chicken, a clock from Switzerland, a copper milk pail from Greece and a fur piece from Canada. A granite kettle, antique fruit jars and an unusual charcoal-burning iron top the piece, now a focal point in the Hammer living room. Partially visible at left is part of the couple's thriving plant collection.

that Terry fashioned into a table and bench form a dining area. Reproductions of antique lamps blend with works of art, dried arrangements and other refinished furniture.

By the time Noelle had the house arranged, Terry upset the living room's scheme by bringing home a player piano he spent three months restoring and refinishing. Since both are talented musicians, she finally allowed him to move it in, and it now provides them hours of pleasure.

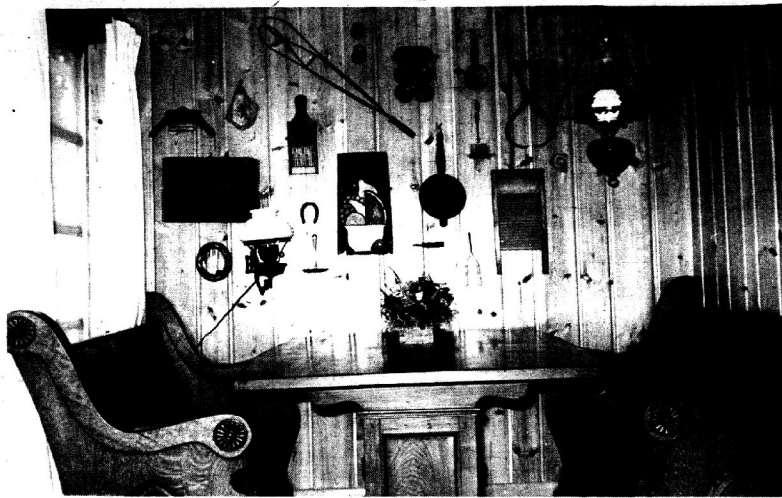

The Hammers met at Grace College. Following their graduation, Noelle went to Hawaii where she taught for a year and was a member of a Christian singing group. Terry joined his parents in Hammer Insurance Agency at Mentone, taking time for a vacation in Hawaii where he came to share Noelle's love for the island state. They later used a Hawaiian theme for their marriage in her Ohio hometown, but with the exception of favorite pictures, the islands were not used in their decorating.

The Hammers thoroughly enjoy their home. "But we're not materialistic," they add in unison. "We have nothing we could not live without."

Deeply religious, the couple firmly believes God gives everyone special talents. Their talents are showy, while others are less so. Because they are aware of their own talents, they feel their obligation is to help others find their talents.

And it is in this search that their own talents become most apparent in a house uniquely an extension of their own personalities.

COLLECTION OF PRIMITIVES highlights wall behind unusual table and benches created from old church pews. The durable table is topped with laminated oak from other pews, some of it pieced in half-inch strips. Collectibles on wall were located throughout the area. The primitive painting on a weathered board was Noelle's wedding gift to Terry. The lamps and dried flower arrangement were gifts.

A PAINTING by Noelle Hammer, who signs herself simply "Noelle" is but one way in which her artistic ability is put to use. She has illustrated books and publications in addition to teaching art and trying her hand at ceramics.

IEERB finds some TVSC practices unfair, some not

Michael I. Swygert, a Valparaiso attorney and law professor at DePaul University, Chicago, a hearing examiner for the Indiana Education Employment Relations Board (IEERB) has found that actions of the Tippecanoe Valley school board and TVSC superintendent Robert Forbes constituted unfair labor practices against corporation teachers and against the Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association (TVCTA). He also ruled other school board and administration action did not constitute unfair labor practices.

Swygert made the following recommendations that he proposed IEERB order the school board and administration to follow:

- Cease and desist from making any threats of reprisal or promises of benefit to teachers in an attempt to coerce teachers from their right of collective bargaining.

- That they stop making statements for the purpose of discouraging employee participation in the TVCTA.

- That they stop compiling and circulating alleged teacher "ratings" unless the ratings are based on merit and factors clearly other than the teachers' collective bargaining activities and membership in TVCTA.

- That they be demanded to post a notice for at least six weeks during the school year stating they will never again engage in an unfair labor practice proscribed by Public Law 217.

- That they cease and desist from discouraging membership in TVCTA through discrimination in regard to any term of condition of employment, including salaries paid. It will be up to IEERB to determine whether or not to order the school board to give back pay to five teachers not given a $500 raise this year that the other teachers received.

Decisions won by the school board included:

- It was not an unfair labor practice to abolish teacher preparation periods this school year.

- The transfer of a teacher or teachers from one school to another within the school corporation is not an unfair labor practice.

- Letters written by school board members Dr. Wymond Wilson and Richard Goshert that expressed anti-union views and published in local newspapers did not constitute an unfair labor practice because the board members and newspapers have a guaranteed right of free speech and press.

- The school board was not being unfair when it denied use of school facilities to TVCTA for meetings because the law prohibits the administration from supporting the establishment of a teacher bargaining agent through donations of funds or other means.

The findings and recommendations have been presented to IEERB, which will be required to accept or reject his recommendations and issue the cease and desist orders he suggested.

According to the Indiana State Teachers Association (ISTA), Tippecanoe Valley is the only school corporation in the state that does not have a recognized teacher bargaining unit to negotiate with the school board for teacher contracts, salaries and related fringe benefits.

TVCTA has requested and received permission from IEERB to conduct another teacher election to determine if it can gain support to represent all TVSC teachers in bargaining sessions. Because TVCTA representatives contend non-member teachers fear reprisals from the school administration, it is believed the ballot will be by mail. If a teacher does not vote, his or her vote is considered a "no" vote, and teachers reportedly fear administrators could interpret any teacher voting is in support of TVCTA.

pended sentence at the Indiana State Farm. He was fined $29 for public intoxication.

In recent Warsaw City Court action, Steve Norton, Mentone, was acquitted of charges of assault filed a year ago.

Mrs. Fugate hosts DAR members

Sixteen members and one guest attended the March meeting of the Anthony Nigo chapter, DAR at Elaine Fugate's home.

The ritualistic service, pledge to the flag and singing of the national anthem were led by the regent, Diane Bitting. Lena Igo read the President General's message and Shirley Smalley gave the resolution.

"Past Due, Please Remit" was the topic of the evening's national defense discussion. Included in this were observations that other countries owe the United States $60 billion without interest. Included in this debt is the oil-rich country of Iran, which borrowed $39.3 million to rebuild and modernize their country. To date, they have not repaid any of this. Another article by Sen. Sam Erwin said the ERA amendment is one of the most dangerous pieces of legislation to go through Congress. Officers for the coming year were elected.

They will be installed in June. Jerry Smith and Jeanie Clauss were elected as delegates to Continental Congress in Washington, D. C.

Hazel Linn presented a program entitled "Rivers of North America and Songs Pertaining to Them." She noted many familiar songs are related to rivers in this country. She closed with "On the Banks of the Wabash."

The April meeting will be at Teel's restaurant in connection with the Warsaw chapter. Reservations are due Apr. 4.

There's a lot to be said for Dutchland Estate Modular Homes. They're adaptable, they're FHA accepted, they have a greater inherent reliability factor and anybody can afford a Dutchland Estate Home. Here are some things you ought to know.

Dutchland Estate Homes have one indispensable attribute: They can be anything to anybody. They can be first homes, vacation homes or retirement retreats. Seven market tested models range from the 46' x 24' Stroudsburg (1104 square feet), which is the FHA accepted minimum, to the spacious Viking home (1296 square feet). Space wise these models and floor plans provide a complete spectrum from which to select what you need and more importantly, what you can afford.

There is nothing "cheap" about modular housing. Unfortunately, there are still too many people who associate mass-produced housing with pre-fabricated construction. There is no justifiable base from which to draw a comparison of the two. All Dutchland Estate Homes feature quality components, manufactured by such respected names as Anderson (windows), Masonite (siding), Armstrong (flooring), Westinghouse, General Electric, Magic Chef (appliances) and Weyerhaeuser (structural timber), to mention just a few. At Heckaman Industries, Dutchland Modular Homes are built by master craftsmen employing the hammer and nails method of construction. Since all construction conforms to rigid self-imposed standards and is done indoors away from problems caused by the elements, Dutchland Estates have a greater reliability index than conventional stick built structures.

Can't Say Anything Good

Dear Editor:

There is no use to have a council or board of county commissioners to make a budget and the state tax board ok this budget as to the salaries of the members of the Kosciusko Co. sheriff department then the new Sheriff-elect John E. Hammersley cut the salary of only one member of the sheriff's department. I am the oldest member of the sheriff's department. I have been here 12 years on the radio and I keep all the books. We have a merit board in this county that is of no use to see about this problem. I have talked to them and cannot get them to do anything as far as this trouble about the sheriff cutting my salary $510. I am now one of the three lowest paid members on the department. I think we have a fine group of men working for the sheriff's department, but I cannot say anything good for the sheriff after the treatment I received.

I also want the taxpayers of Kosciusko Co. to know that the sheriff sends a sheriff's car after one of the jail cooks in the morning and then takes her home in the evening after work. This is all done on gasoline bought by the taxpayers of the county. The three radio men have to furnish our own gasoline which is what we all should do. I was the only member of the sheriff's department that lived in the south part of Kosciusko Co. I have resigned because of the treatment I received at the hands of Sheriff Hammersley. The south half of the county now does not have anyone on the sheriff's department. This is not fair to the people in the south half of Kosciusko Co. I am sending this to the newspapers because I think it is something the taxpayers should know about. I have resigned as of Feb. 28, 1975.

The sheriff and I had a talk on Thursday, Feb. 27, and tells me that he is going to have the cooks move into the jail now to save the time and gasoline of going after her after the word got out that he was having her brought in and taking her home in the evening. He also said that I did not have a right to have my noon hour; that I should eat my lunch and run the radio and answer telephones and check car identification numbers. He also said that the county merit board did not have any say as to the radio operators.

I have been here since January 1, 1975, and I asked Sheriff Hammersley to furnish me a gun, but he failed to do so. He has the county furnish all the other men with guns.

I am sure the taxpayers of the county will consider this unfair treatment to me from Sheriff Hammersley. About the time I am eating my lunch, I get a call from the kitchen that they are ready to feed the prisoners. I have to leave my lunch and carry the plates of lunch upstairs and into different sections of the jail. Then I try to finish my lunch when I get a call that the cooks want the dishes picked up. I have done this most of the time for 12 years. If anyone thinks that this is untrue, I can name several persons that will say that this is true, because they have been here when this happened. Until two years ago I had to feed the prisoners in the mornings because I was the only one at the jail to feed them. During my lunch hour I was the one called to feed the prisoners even if there was other members of the department on station. Most of the time I get the call to feed the prisoners.

I am writing you this letter to let you know of the unfair treatment I have received at the orders of the new sheriff, John E. Hammersley. When the budget was made in July of 1974 for the year of 1975 under Sheriff David Andrews, he named me chief radio operator at a salary of $7,830 per year. He also named the sergeants, captain, radio men and patrolman and set their salaries for the year 1975. Mr. Hammersley left all the other salaries as they were made and he charged my salary back to $7,320, the same as the two radio men who have been here around two years.

I make all the returns on the circuit court summons and orders and citations and warrants, also I make all the returns on the superior court summons, orders, subpoena and warrants. I also send all the road viewers notices. I serve all the sales tax warrants, individual tax warrants, corporation tax warrants, and withholding tax warrants. I do all the sheriff sales and make out all the claims for payment of the bill for the jail and sheriff department each month. I do all the check writing and cash book records for the department. I make out most of the gun permits that are issued out of this office. I make out all the gun dealers licenses. I book prisoners oners in and out and help get prisoners out on bond. I have worked here for 12 years and never have been relieved during the noon hour but a very few times. I come in at 6:30 a.m. in the morning and work until 3 p.m. and sometimes until 4 p.m. when I have sheriff sales. The other radio men have been here two years and I get the same salary as they do. They do not keep any books. I think this is very unfair to me. I do not think Mr. Hammersley can cut my salary back after the county council set it and the state tax board okayed it. I also make out the payroll for the jail and the sheriff's department.

I talked to the county attorney and he said he checked the records and this is the first time that has ever been done. I thought I had some friends on the county council and board of commissioners and merit board, but I have to change my mind. None of them would do anything for me.

ROBERT LEWIS pauses at the side of a maple tree to show the way plastic hose has replaced buckets for collecting sugar water.

Robert Lewis

The freezing and thawing typical of late winter and early spring are vital for maple syrup producers. Unfortunately, this has not been a good year, according to Robert Lewis, owner and operator of a sugar camp south of Tiosa.

"There's been too much freezing," he said. "It got so cold a couple of nights, everything froze solid, and that's not good."

Lewis, who has more than 400 trees tapped this year, has tapped as many as 800 trees in his annual quest for sugar water that he boils down into fine quality maple syrup. His season will last as long as there is freezing and

TV track team competition begins

The Tippecanoe Valley track team competed in the Lake Central relays at St. Johns, north of Valparaiso, last week.

Local winners in the indoor meet included Max Meiser, whose 4:42 time was first in the mile run. Bryan Sponseller was second. Don Hurd was first in shot put with 44.9 and Ryan Williams was second. In the long jump, Ed Drudge was second and Fred Bowser was fifth.

In high jump, Mike Woodruff was fourth and Jim Bussard was fifth. Pat Stiffler was third in pole vault while his brother Steve was fifth.

In the 60-yard dash, Fred Bowser was third and Hal Hoffman was fifth.

In relays, Eric Alspaugh, Max Meiser, Ryan Williams and Hal Hoffman were third in shuttle hurdle; Kirk Robinson, Brent Merley, Alan Sterk and Mike Coughenour were second in 20-lap, and Mike Woodruff, Greg Bussard, Dan Koldyke and Skip Jameson were second in the freshman-sophomore four lap event.

Other relay winners included Ed Drudge, Fred Bowser, Hal Hoffman and Max Meiser, first in 10 lap relay and Woodruff, Bussard, Koldyke and Jameson, second in the final event, a six-lap relay.

On Thursday, Hal Hoffman, Fred Bowser, Ed Drudge and Max Meiser, with Tony Koser as alternate, placed fifth out of 70 teams in A and AA classes at the Boiler Bronco relays at Purdue. Each ran, in order, the 440, 220, 220 and 880, Meiser doing the latter in 2:02.3.

Charles Smith is the track coach and Michael Hoyt is the assistant. Together with members of the baseball team, the team will leave early today for a two-day trip to southern Indiana and northern Kentucky that will include track competition at Jefferson and Clarksville-Providence and baseball events at Louisville and Jeffersonville. They will return home later Saturday or early Sunday.

If the safety pin had been invented today instead of long ago it would probably have six moving parts and two transistors, and require a serviceman twice a year.

Robert Lewis makes maple syrup

By Ann Sheetz

thawing, and while it lasts, it will keep him very busy.

It is no small task to collect the gallons of sap water that flows from the trees and transport it to the building that houses furnace and evaporating equipment for its transformation into a waffle lover's delight.

Considering that it takes 40 gallons of sap water for each gallon of syrup, it's easy to see that a lot of water is handled, and that's work, no matter how you look at it. Constantly searching for ways to make the work easier, Lewis has for the past two years used plastic hose that crisscrosses the woods like giant rubber bands, carrying water from trees to collection tanks scattered throughout the woods. Using a tractor and tank wagon with a pump, Lewis will then collect the sugar water and haul it to the evaporating room, a big savings of time and labor over the traditional bucket and spile method still used in parts of the woods lacking enough fall to utilize the tubing. "It is a more sanitary system, too," Lewis adds.

Once at the evaporating room, the water is pumped into an elaborate system of tanks for its final processing. Frequent tests are made and when either Lewis or his assistant, Oran Leedy, determine it is "just right," the batch is drained off, filtered again and packed in sterilized containers.

Shower honors recent bride

Mrs. Wm. Cochran, Mentone, entertained Saturday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. James Wise. Games were led by Sally Witham and Mary Alice Brunner.

Present were Grace Sullivan, Betty Horn, Louise Jones, Mary Alice Brunner, Freda Witham and Sally, Mary Barkman, Eula Smith and Melva and Betty, Anabel Marshall, Esther Wise and Sandra, Golda Kesler, Pearl Horn, Dena Melott and Dedra, Linda Cochran and Lis and Laura and the guest of honor.

Dean's List

Joyce E. Moore, a University of Evansville junior from Akron, was one of 520 students named to the winter quarter Dean's List. Daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Moore, she was named to the list for the fourth time. To attain the Dean's List, a student must have earned a 3.5 or better grade point average on a 4.0 scale for the quarter while carrying 12 or more hours of credit.

While this sounds relatively simple, it represents even more hard work. The furnace requires constant stoking and consumes great amounts of firewood. Lewis estimates it takes four or five loads a day to keep the furnace going. He cuts the wood himself, using a self-designed hydraulic wood splitter to make the job easier. The wood is piled onto a small cart that is pushed into the furnace room on a steel track.

By March 17, Lewis had already bottled 175 gallons and despite the bad year expected to produce 250 or 300 gallons, enough to make waffle and pancake lovers happy for a long time.

MAPLE SYRUP TIME: As traditional as spring is the making of maple syrup, its advent hailed by buckets and spiles on the sides of trees. Now largely replaced by plastic hose, these buckets at the Robert Lewis sugar camp located south of Tiosa still collect sugar water that will be converted into flavorful maple syrup.

Jolly Good Neighbors meet

Mrs. Perry Hathaway, assisted by Mrs. Harold Hile, was hostess for the March meeting of the Jolly Good Neighbors.

For meditation, Mrs. Kenneth Hohman read several poems about spring and the Easter season written by a club member, Crystal Shoemaker.

Mrs. Tinkey's health and safety remarks gave standards for selecting nursing homes, whether for a short time or for a lengthy stay. Garden hints by Mrs. Sands told about the garden soy bean and green cauliflower. Mrs. Hile's citizenship lesson stressed hints for home citizens. The cultural art lesson by Mrs. Spangle included a report on music.

Mrs. Ray Hathaway gave a lesson, "Recycling Clothing," making good use examples, drawings, clippings, etc. She cautioned, "Just remember, recycling must make something wearable or useable if it is to be worthwhile."

Roll call response, "A good idea for our club," brought a variety of responses from the 14 members present. Also present were one guest and five children.

The president noted that Bicentennial quilt blocks must be in March 25 and that the county club trip will be April 24, leaving the Women's building at 7 a.m. Reservations are due April 12.

A silent seed and bulb auction followed the meeting. Door prizes were won by Leta Hathaway and Charlene Hohman.

The April 23 meeting will be at Mrs. Ralph Spangle's home on Road 500 West with Mrs. Carl Nettroer as co-hostess.

Take your problems to Church this week -

The Language Of Youth

The stimulation of children's interests in the things around and about them is a means of guiding them toward a down-to-earth, realistic and useful life. Then comes the training to get them to follow through with that interest, cultivating flowers and vegetables—getting things to grow, study of the birds and animals, the reading of good books. It should be the top ambition of every parent to encourage the youngsters to participate in all activities that will help turn out good useful citizens.

Your children's education can't be complete unless it includes an understanding of the Bible—so send them to Sunday School or Church School where that lesson may be learned from modern people who speak the language of youth. Then, too, going to church with father and mother will be entirely enjoyable, inspired by the true interest of the parents.

4th of July committee announces horse show

Although Old Man Winter still holds the area in firm grip, members of Akron's 4th of July committee are busy making plans for this summer's annual celebration.

Next on the agenda will be an ISHA approved horse show on June 29. Last year's show contained 42 classes, each sponsored by one or more businesses. Local business people will soon receive letters asking them to again sponsor classes. The committee decided to use this method in hopes it would save time.

Dr. James Morgan heads this year's committee and with other committee members hopes to have added attractions this year. They are already hoping for a really big Bicentennial celebration next year.

All local organizations are invited to send a representative to the meetings.

Men with a sense of humor have found the fountain of youth.
