A new beginning...

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

Day after day had passed toward the end of last year and each day the lunch topic was the same, "I have to lose some weight. My clothes don't fit." Oh sure, it changed a little from day to day, but basically it was "I refuse to buy a larger size, are you sure the dryer didn't shrink my slacks?"

Shortly after Christmas, my employer announced during lunch that he would "show us how to lose weight". Needless to say, all six of us girls thought he was kidding. After all, we knew how to lose weight - we had all done it several times before. We could do it again - if we had to. Looks of determination were painted on each face.

These determined looks quickly changed to looks of hopelessness as our employer entered the office carrying a jump rope! (Yes, he used it!) Obviously, this man meant business! Some were heard to say, "Are we in trouble if we don't lose weight, he'll never let us live it down!" Some said, "We can't cheat, suppose he really DOES lose weight and we don't?" We all sounded frantic.

That evening, the bikes were dusted off, the spas were visited, and one lady remembered having a Slim Gym in her garage. Determination had set in. Lose weight we would!

New Year's Day was the beginning of our weigh-ins and the result has been slimmer, healthier and happier employees. Keep in mind, these employees are just like everyone else, one has a love for chocolate and has been known to wear a shirt saying "I Kill For Chocolate", another struggles with desserts, one drools over pastries and another finds it hard to stay away from snack crackers (she has confessed to eating a half a box of them at one time).

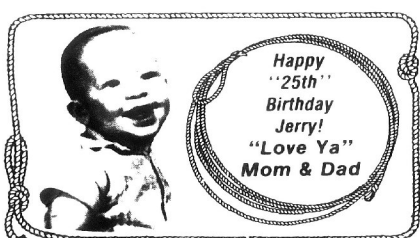

The keys to our success were (1) support from each other, (2) determination, (3) understanding when it got tough, (4) a sense of humor and, (5) encouragement. One story was written and has grown into a weekly article as encouragement as well as entertainment for other people who are attempting to reduce their calories.

Thanks to the buddy system, we managed to do well. Rare are people who are unselfish and caring enough about others to help with such a difficult task. May each of you be as fortunate as myself.

Legends of Easter

Reprinted from Hallmark's Mementoes
Edited by Ben W. Whitley

LEGEND OF THE VIOLET

That first glad Easter morn
When earth united to rejoice.

Christ walked into a garden
And each flower raised its voice.

And as they sang their hymns of joy
With happy, sweet accord,

A little violet tried in vain
To see the risen Lord.

And as He came, the violet sighed,
"If only I could be

As tall and bright as other flowers,
Then He might notice me!"

But when He reached the violet,
The Saviour paused awhile.

The violet blushed and bowed its head
Beneath the Master's smile.

And it really didn't matter,
Not being grand and tall,

For Jesus loves all living things
However great or small!

And to this day, all violets
Bow their faces toward the sod.

Remembering that meeting
With the Blessed Son of God!

Rural Rhymes
By Esther C. Adams
MARCH
March is a fickle month,
Just can't make up it's mind
To give us lots more winter
Or leave it all behind.

Now the sun is shining,
Now the wind doth blow,
Now it is cloudy
Just look at it snow.

Some days it is springtime,
And the frogs will croak.
Next day it is winter,
Spring was all a joke.

It Happened in Akron

IT HAPPENED IN AKRON TAKEN FROM THE AKRON NEWS FEBRUARY 20, 1968 20 YEARS AGO

There won't be too much activity in Akron Saturday as most of the businesses will close for all or part of the day as the Akron Flyers play in the Elkhart Regional Tourney.

Did you ever see a happier group of people? The Akron Flyers with their first sectional triumph in 12 years, pose proudly for a victory picture. Cheerleaders Martha Whittenberger, Louann Weber, Jacquie Hoffman and Cathy Love. Players Gary Groninger, Jeff McFarland, Dave Henson, Jim Weaver, Bob Bryant, Randy Schipper, Pete Sanders, Steve Cumberland, Ken Moudy and Chuck Drudge. Floyd Henson is certainly the man of the week in AKRON. In his fifth year of coaching at Akron, he has seen the team develop from one that won only three games the first year to one that has lost only two games this year and that has captured the sectional tourney crown. Championship teams are nothing new to Henson who led Odon to the semi-finals in 1959, Henson, a 1948 graduate of Indiana State and a 1939 graduate of Paris, Ill. High School, participated in three Illinois state finals. His team didn't win but placed second once and third another time.

Forst Dunnuck, guidance director and counselor at Akron High School was named winner of the Rochester Jaycees' first Outstanding Young Educator Award at ceremonies held in Rochester last night. Dunnuck was chosen on the basis of recommendations from a panel of educators and interested lay people from a list of outstanding teachers, both men and women, in the 21-35 age group. Dunnuck received a B.S. degree from Manchester College in 1954, an M.S. degree in high school administration from Indiana University in 1960, and a second M.S. in guidance, counseling and psychology from Purdue University in 1963.

IT HAPPENED IN MENTONE TAKEN FROM THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP NEWS MARCH 2, 1938 50 YEARS AGO

Thirty-two years ago Mentone Chapter No. 331, Order Eastern Star was instituted. Monday night, February 21, the chapter celebrated their anniversary at the Mason's Hall. The organizer and first Worthy Matron of this great order, Mrs. Kathryn Jefferies, was present as guest of honor. In honor of this occasion, an excellent program was planned by Mrs. Lois Fenstermaker and Miss Eileen Mollenhour. Mrs. Issabel Johns gave a reading entitled, "Home Folks", and Mrs. Ethel Nellans sang a beautiful number, "Not So Long Ago." Mrs. Edna Burns read a history of O.E.S. and of the local chapter. A beautiful tiered angel food cake adorned with thirty-two candles, all of which were contributed by Mrs. Fro Tucker, was presented by the Conductress and Associate Conductress. The cake was served with coffee and individual molds of ice cream. To Mr. Maurice Dudley goes the praise for the delicious coffee. This enjoyable occasion will long be cherished in the memory of all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swick who have spent the past several weeks in Florida with friends and relatives, have returned to their home near Mentone. They also spent a week with Rev. and Mrs. A.J. Bachman in Dickson, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ailer, Mr. and Mrs. John Alber and Mrs. Daisy Ailer were Wednesday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kimes.

Patty Vandermark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Vandermark of Mentone, underwent an operation for removal of appendix at the Murphy hospital in Warsaw last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Becker and the latter's mother, Mrs. John Harris were Mentone business callers Wednesday.

Down the straightaway they come; there's bound to be a winner, and there's going to be a loser. Although this refers to an automobile race, it's also true to school life. A good start doesn't always mean a good finish, and vice versa. When seniors, students, realize whether they have run the race at their best all the way, or whether they have been slackers. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors jump into the lead now and assure yourself a position among the winners. Remember the old phrase, "Work conquers all things."

"PRESCRIPTION FOR A LAUGH"

Just a line to say I am living
That I am not among the dead
Though I am getting more forgetful
And more mixed in the head.
For sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of the stairs
If I must go up for something
Or I've just come down from there.
And before the frig, so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt
Have I just put the food away or
Have I come to take some out?
And there are times when it's dark out
With my night cap on my head
I don't know if I'm retiring
Or just getting out of bed.
So if it's my turn to write you
There's no need in getting sore
I may think that I have written
And don't want to be a bore.
So remember that I do love you
And wish that you were here.
So I must say "Good-bye, dear"
There I stood beside the mail box
With a face so very red,
Instead of mailing you my letter
I opened it instead.

The above poem was submitted by Kate Jennens who received it via mail from a relative.

Chance to visit Japan through 4-H program

The Kosciusko County 4-H Club Program has had a rich history in the area of International 4-H opportunities for our members. 4-H families from Kosciusko County have hosted young people from Germany, Italy, The Netherlands and Japan in past years. Additionally, Kosciusko County 4-Hers have visited Switzerland, China, Japan and the Dominican Republic on various exchanges.

4-H members throughout Indiana will again have the opportunity to visit Japan on a four week home stay this summer as part of the Indiana 4-H Labo International Exchange Program. 4-H youth ages 12-19 are eligible for this once in a lifetime opportunity. This international exchange program offers 4-H members an opportunity to learn how other people live by actually living in their homes, learn to appreciate another country's culture and traditions, gain a better understanding of themselves and our own culture and have an exciting summer in Japan.

The total cost is $2,300.00. This includes roundtrip airfare from Indianapolis International to Tokyo's Natita International Airport. A three month course of orientation materials, Japanese language study materials, a three day orientation program in Indianapolis prior to departure and two additional days of orientation in Tokyo, all ground transportation in Japan, all taxes and insurance.

While in Japan, 4-Hers will live with a Japanese Labo family. Normally, this family will have children of similar age and sex to the Indiana 4-Her. Host families will have many activities planned during the stay, and 4-Hers will observe how a Japanese family lives from day to day.

The Indiana 4-H/Labo International exchange program is a truly unique educational experience for youth 12-19. Applications are available from the Extension Office. If you have questions about LABO, please contact the Kosciusko County Extension Office at 267-4444. Applications are due March 15.

Come Spring Again

When it is spring, and warmth replaces cold, I shall be young again, instead of old!

I'll seek the daisies growing in the field, and glimpse the nest the robin has concealed.

In spring beside the stream, I seem to hear,

The voices of my childhood, friends so dear.

I putter in the earth and turn the sod,

Then plant some seed and leave the rest to God!

There'll be a smoothness on my brow, come spring again.

For I who am so old, am ageless then.

Senior citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. If you are 60 yrs. of age or older, call 893-7204 the day before, for your meal reservation. March dates to remember: March 10 - Blood Pressures taken. Also all March birthdays celebrated. March 17 - Pitch-in-dinner. March 24 Nutrition Awareness Day. As always my thanks to all the volunteers and those people who donate to this program. For it is through your time and efforts, this program is working in your home town.

Monday - Cubed steak, baked potato, peas, wheat bread, bread pudding, coffee, milk.

Tuesday - Spaghetti and meat balls, tossed salad, garlic bread, applesauce, bread, milk.

Wednesday - Beef and noodles, potato rounds, green beans, brown bread, pineapple/cheese salad, milk, coffee.

One morning a little fellow stopped at a corner store and looked at the candy on display. His mouth began to water and he pressed his nose to the glass.

But the owner shouted, "Hey, kid; don't lick the window."

There are many people who stand outside the storehouse of God's provision, looking in and longing to make His good things theirs.

But you don't have to stand outside licking the window. The Bible invites, "Taste and see that the Lord is good."

In Him you'll have a life that can't die, a rest that can't be disturbed, a hope that can't be disappointed, a happiness that can't end, and resources that can't be exhausted.

So come in, won't you?

PSI seeking rate reduction

Public Service Indiana will ask for a two-step rate decrease totalling more than 9 percent.

The company had earlier estimated it could reduce rates 7 percent. When numbers were finalized, however, a larger decrease resulted.

PSI says it would reduce rates by giving customers the benefit of certain tax savings sooner than normal. A decrease of about 6 percent would take effect May 1. One of about 3 percent would take effect July 1.

Both decreases must be approved by the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission. Approval by the Internal Revenue Service is also required before the 3 percent decrease can take effect.

"If the reductions are approved, our customers would save a total of $131 million in 1988 and 1989," said Hugh A. Barker, chairman of PSI. "Normally, those tax savings would be spread over as many as 30 years."

PSI is to file testimony supporting the rate reductions March 7 and hearings begin April 11.

Orientation scheduled for March 10 at Valley

On Thursday, March 10, there will be an orientation meeting at Tippecanoe Valley High School at 7:30 p.m. for all 8th grade students and their parents. At this meeting, administration and guidance personnel will give students and parents information about what students should expect during their first year at Tippecanoe Valley. A representative from each department will explain subject offerings for freshmen. They will be available after the group presentation to answer any questions you may have. For those students and parents who are interested, high school students will take small groups on a tour of the building. Also at this time, parents will be able to sign up for a conference time to meet individually with a counselor to discuss your son's or daughter's final schedule for the freshman year. This conference is important to assure the most appropriate placement for your son or daughter.

Valley Vikings win sectional title

Winning the sectional last year was exciting, but repeating the thrill was even better for the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings. The Vikings overpowered the Triton Trojans in the championship sectional game Saturday to claim the 1988 title.

According to Coach Bob DuBois, the team was geared for a victory. The team wanted the sectional title; they went for it; and they got it.

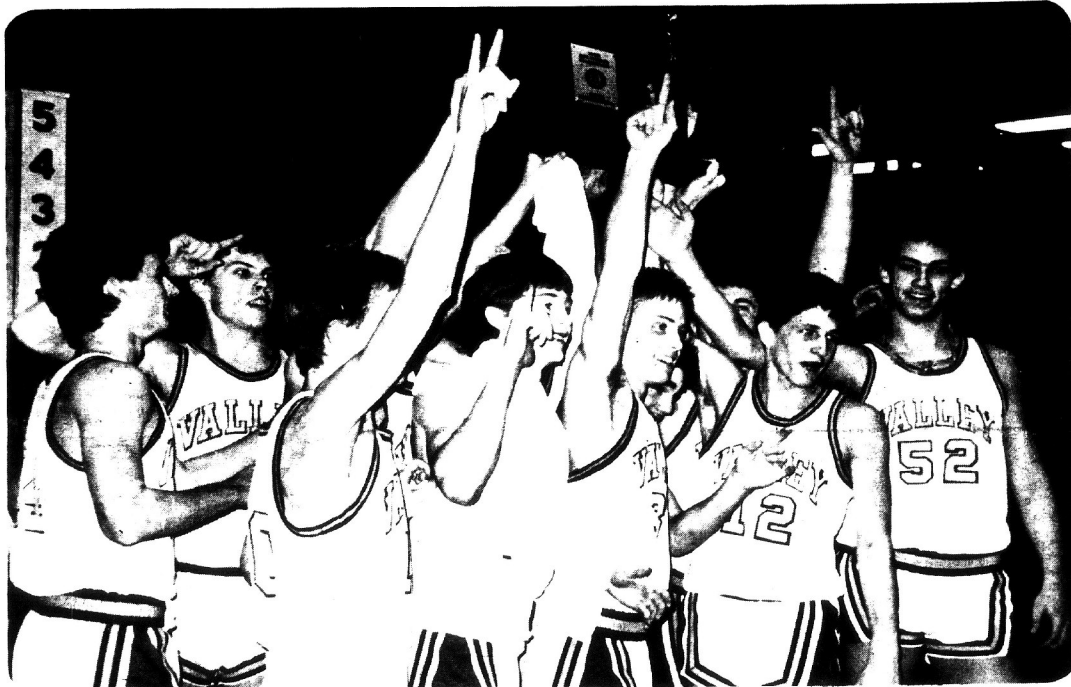

The 81-52 victory started to take shape in the second quarter. The Vikes broke the game open with a 21-4 command.

The Vikings balanced the game scales with good defense and good offense. The Vikings used a half-court trap on the Trojans and kept the Trojans scoreless for over five minutes.

On the offense, all but one of the Vikings scored at least two points. As a team, Valley shot over 50 percent from the floor. Dion Anglin and Dustin DuBois led in points with 20 apiece and Terpstra added 12 points. The Vikings held a 36-14 lead at halftime.

Valley made 55 percent of their field shots compared to Triton's 33 percent.

Valley kept adding points in the second half. Triton never got closer to the

Editorial

Dear Readers,

The Tippecanoe Valley basketball team has once again made its fans extremely proud to be Viking supporters. Congratulations to each ball player, manager, and coach!

A special round of applause should go to Coach DuBois. His ability to show good sportsmanship was exemplified Saturday evening during the championship game. He showed true compassion for the Triton Trojans and their fans. Coach DuBois demonstrated a good lesson in sportsmanship values.

Good job, Coach!

FIRST DANCE DILEMMA

While recently talking with a friend of mine, she mentioned her daughter was concerned about attending her first dance. I suggested the mother turn back the clock to her first dance and put herself in the boy's place. As I thought, she began to understand the dilemma.

Knowing times change and dances differ from the 60's, the situation is still much the same today. The daughter had worried about being asked to the dance, and the mother explained the poor boy was probably still trying to get over working up the courage to ask her out. The daughter was worried about stepping on her friend's toe while her mother hurriedly pointed out that the boy was probably taking dance lessons from his sister this very instant. The daughter was worried about DANCING in heels she wasn't even sure she could WALK in. The mother mentioned how awkward it must be for a boy to pin on a corsage. The situation seemed to be in hand, thanks to Mom.

I hated to mention some things that might happen which could prove to be disastrous. For instance, dancing a slow dance and not only stepping on your date's foot - but tripping over it! Yes...it happened to me! Somehow I managed to slide the tip of my open-toed shoe under his foot and lunged to the right! He caught me shortly before I would have fallen taking another couple with me! Having your date sing in your ear only to forget the words and have to mumble his way through the rest of the song. It didn't happen to me, but I know a girl who broke into laughter when it happened to her! How about the fast dances when you were so thankful to be on the floor only to find your date who slow dances beautifully can't fast dance worth 2¢. That's when you face another direction and pretend to be dancing with someone else. But, worst of all, is the date who refuses to dance. I'll bet most of the girls would rather be on the floor with someone who is at least trying to dance rather than sitting at the table all evening. Sometimes, the guys only need a gentle push and they dance quite well. The only real disaster on the dance floor is someone who insists on leaning from left to right with a slow song making his date feel like a rag doll swung back and forth for what seems an eternity! This is known as pumping water. Remember girls, tact. Lots and lots of tact.

The nicest part about that first dance is a boy and girl who overcome shyness and the risk of being teased to be together. The poor guy will be teased for opening her car door and she will be teased for putting up with Arthur Murray's nightmare.

Tips for the boys: Know the corsage your mother orders. I asked the type of flower and my date's mother responded. My date said, "Oh, so that's a gardenia!" It will give you away every time.

LEGEND OF THE BUTTERFLY

When our Lord was crucified, all nature wept. The very earth trembled in anguish, and every creature of God was filled with sorrow. The trees shed their leaves, the flowers lost their petals, and outside the tomb of the Lord, a tiny caterpillar spun itself a shroud of silk in preparation for death.

Then on the third day, Christ arose from the dead, gloriously and triumphantly and left the tomb to walk again among the beauties of nature that He loved so much. He saw the silken cocoon and touched it. Suddenly, the caterpillar burst forth in new splendor - a butterfly of breathtaking beauty, rising heavenward with new life.

Every customer on the Akron exchange received a new telephone number today as part of General Telephone Company's expansion program that has doubled the capacity of the Akron Exchange. The new facilities will provide clearer service, according to phone company officials who said they began installing the complicated apparatus in the Akron plant last October 17. Direct dialing will not become available until Rochester installs it, they said because Rochester is the tail center for this area. A future goal of the company is to limit party lines to two and four parties. The new equipment will permit an Akron patron to keep his same number any time he moves within the community and will permit the telephone company to change party lines at will, thereby permitting a variable number of customers on any line.

Akron Marshal Ed Hauser is shown with Akron's new police car, a 1968 Ford, that was put into operation last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Love, Akron, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Kay, to Mr. John R. Loer, son of Mrs. John C. Loer, Akron. Both Miss Love and Mr. Loer are 1965 graduates of Akron High School. Miss Love attended Anderson College and is a graduate of Warner Beauty College, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Mr. Loer is a graduate of South Bend College of Commerce, South Bend, Indiana. Both are presently employed by Sonoco Products Company of Akron.

As a result of Saturday's regional tourney play, only 16 teams remain in the battle for the state championship, but Akron fans are thoroughly convinced that our team is 17th even though it did get put out of the tourney by a strong Michigan City team. The Flyers squeaked by Penn in the afternoon game by a 67-64 score that had Akron fans scarcely breathing for a time, and they were tired in the evening encounter with the taller Michigan City crew. Akron led at the end of the first quarter but slipped behind never to regain the lead.

The volunteer firemen have completed building a new tank truck for the Henry Township Fire Department. The men donated approximately one thousand man hours over a 2½ month period to complete the project. The main construction of the truck was handled by firemen Mike Gearhart and Jack Fetrow, assisted by the other nine men in the department. Funds for the new truck were received from the Township Trustee through funds set up for fire fighting and revenue sharing. Approximate cost for the project was $2,500. The old tank was built in 1951 for transporting bulk fuels. It was removed from the Township's 1967 Ford truck and the new tank placed on the chassis after construction was completed by the volunteers who did the work in the back of the fire house. The performance of the new truck greatly exceeds that of the old one which took 15 minutes to empty. Now, equipped with a 10" Newton dump valve mounted in the rear, it can empty 1500 gallons in 1½ minutes into the department's Porta-tank.

Real benefits of Home Health Care explained

It is so easy to take good health for granted. No one plans to be injured, nor does anyone plan a serious illness. But all too often injuries and illnesses occur, especially when they are least expected.

How does one plan for such trials. No one can plan for these situations. They just happen. Fortunately, now there is an agency which can help with the care of patients in the home. The Home Health Care Program is gaining popularity throughout the country and especially in Kosciusko County. At the present time fund raising is being done for the building of a new Home Health Care building for Kosciusko County. The building will be located on Provident Drive, Warsaw, adjacent to the north end of the Mason Health Care facility.

Residents of Mentone have experienced the advantages of the home health care service, one of which is Olive Tucker. Before the death of Olive's husband Dearn, he was receiving care through the service.

Olive Tucker and Lois Lemier are discussing the advantages to the Home Health Care Program. Mrs. Tucker says, "don't ask me about the program if you do not want to hear a sermon!" (NEWS Photo)

In order for Dearn to return to his home following the amputation of his legs, the service of Home Health Care were required. A registered nurse visited daily for a period of time to check the health and progress of Dearn. Later on, nurse's aids started visiting in the Tucker home also. Their time with Dearn allowed Olive freedom to go to town to handle their personal business and to occasionally rest for short periods of time. "Their TLC (tender loving care) was the best therapy for Dearn. I don't know what I would have done without the services of Home Health Care," explained Olive. "I strongly recommend the service to everyone!" she added.

Wayne Bowser, also of Mentone, was not planning on needing the services of Home Health Care, but after suffering a stroke on July 30, 1987, the possibility of using the service became a reality. Wayne was dismissed from the hospital on September 19 and immediately started receiving therapy provided by Home Health Care. During the early part of Wayne's rehabilitation, therapists came to his home three times a week to administer physical therapy. Three different therapists are treating Wayne. He has a therapist for his leg, arm-and hand therapist, and a speech therapist. All are provided by Home Health Care. After five months of hard work, Wayne now receives the therapy every other week.

Wayne Bowser continues to show improvement with the help of the therapy program provided by Home Health Care. (NEWS Photo)

"The people of Home Health Care are all so wonderful. They are professionals and well trained individuals. I highly recommend the Home Health Care program to everyone. It sure has done a lot for me!" exclaimed Wayne. At the present time the service checks on Wayne testified, it is great to have readily available when it is needed.

Fulton County residents also have the benefits of such a service through the Woodlawn Home Health Care program. According to the project's director Karen Decker, several individuals in the Akron area have received care or are presently receiving care through Woodlawn Home Health Care. The facility has benefited Woodlawn Home Health Care. The facility benefits approximately 200 patients a month.

Home Health Care programs allows individuals who need medical care to be in their own homes or in the home of a loving relative. Love is a potent medicine. It cures many ailments that are untouchable by chemical drugs. All people need love, especially those who are seriously ill or requiring much care. Home Health Care helps families provide that special medicine. Can you afford to be without it?

Eggs, eggs, and more eggs!

The rate of lay at 2.263 eggs per 100 layers during January was 3 percent above last year. Indiana hatcheries produced 3.7 million egg-type chicks during January, 28 percent less than in January 1987.

Nationally, egg production for January totaled 5.96 billion eggs which includes 5.26 billion table or commercial-type eggs and 701 million hatchery eggs. January rate of lay per 100 layers for the total laying flock was 2.109 eggs. The average number of layers on hand during January was 283 million. ## Vikings defeat Zebras on way to sectional title

The Valley Vikings kept their winning streak going by defeating Rochester in the first game of sectional play on Friday evening. The Vikings kept their composure and were able to benefit on the turnovers made by the Rochester Zebras. The Valley Vikings defeated the Rochester players 69-65 to advance to the final game.

The Vikings had defeated the Zebras in their regular season of play in another close game winning by only two points (69-67). Twelve of Valley's games this season were decided by nine points or less.

Rochester took an early lead in the game with a 12-3 lead. But Valley quickly answered with 12 straight points and ended the first quarter with a 19-14 lead.

Neither team led by more than five points in the second quarter. The Zebras controlled the second quarter, however, to go to the dressing room with a 33-31 halftime lead. The Vikings were trailing also at the end of the third quarter with a score of 49-43.

With just under six minutes to play the Vikings decided to pour on the steam and change some of their defensive plays to catch the victory. The Zebras committed five straight turnovers and the Vikings scored on each opportunity.

Leading the way in individual efforts were Tippecanoe Valley junior Pete Terpstra and senior Dustin DuBois. The pair claimed 49 of the team's 69 points. Terpstra carried the team in the first half as he scored 17 of his game-high 29 points in the first 16 minutes of game play. DuBois was the man-of-the-hour in the second half as he scored 14 of his 20 points in the final half.

Neither team shot the ball well as Valley hit on just 41.9 percent of its shots. Rochester nailed only 43.7 percent of its field goal attempts.

Actually, Tippecanoe Valley lost in every statistical category. They were outshot both from the line and the field. They were outrebounded 42-30 and they committed more personal fouls than Rochester. The only statistical area the Vikings won was in turnovers, as they were charged with 11 and Rochester 20. But the Vikings won in the most important area - points, and at the right time - when the final buzzer sounded with a score of 69-65.

Akron scientists make space 'creations'

Space scientists and astronomers of the sixth grade at Akron Middle School have been busy in their workshops. Students have been constructing replicas of today's, yesterday's, and tomorrow's space creations for travel, experimentation, and exploration. Models were made from odds and ends that are located in everyone's house. Some examples are toilet paper cylinders, Pringle's cans, used flashcubes, bottle caps, toothpaste lids, aluminum foil, etc., etc.

In addition to constructing individual imaginative creations, students wrote essays on "The Benefits To Man," in daily life and use as a result of fallout from scientific variations. Drawing blueprints of their models and inflight exterior sketches were also of importance to the project. Now on display are magnificent satellites, rockets, and space stations. The display concludes a two-week study of space exploration.

Jeff Newton, Joe Pitts, Shannon Dittman, and Dustin Petrosky are proud of the models that they and their fellow classmates have made for the Space Vehicle Design studies. The projects are on display at the Akron School. (NEWS Photo)

Tornado Preparedness Week to be observed March 13-19

Governor Orr has proclaimed March 13-19 to be "Tornado Preparedness Week" in Indiana. The Tenth Annual Statewide Tornado Exercises will be conducted on Thursday, March 17, 1988 between 2 and 4 p.m. EST and again between 7 and 9 p.m. EST.

The first test will allow participation of schools and businesses, the second test will be geared to businesses with an evening shift, evening activities at schools and people in their homes. The drills provide a good way of testing warning and communications systems.

Indiana ranked third in the nation in number of tornadoes and third in the nation in number of tornado deaths per square mile for the period 1953-1986. Three of the worst tornado outbreaks in U.S. history have affected Indiana.

On April 1965, the Palm Sunday Outbreak spawned 11 tornadoes over 20 counties and took the lives of 137 Hoosiers. On April 3, 1974, the Super Outbreak occurred. An unprecedented 148 tornadoes affected 13 states and Canada. 46 Indiana counties were affected by 21 tornadoes and 47 people were killed.

The most devastating tornado in U.S. history occurred on March 18, 1925. The Tri-State Tornado tore across 219 miles of southeast Missouri, southern Illinois, and southwest Indiana, for three and half hours at speeds of over 70 mph. 695 were killed, 70 of them in Indiana.

An average of 20 tornadoes per year strike Indiana, and Indiana averages six tornado deaths per year. Indiana's population is about four times as dense as the so called Tornado Alley states of Oklahoma and Kansas, making Hoosiers more vulnerable to a tornado disaster.

Last year 17 tornadoes touched down in Indiana including the Morocco tornado, which damaged 20 homes and injured three people. Fortunately there has been only one tornado death in the last seven years in Indiana, and only 12 in the last 13 years. However, tornado apathy among Hoosiers may be at an all time high!

Tornado Season in Indiana is from mid March through June. Although tornadoes are most frequent in June, the tornadoes that occur in March and April are generally larger and far more destructive. Tornadoes are most common in the afternoon and evening hours from 2 to 8 p.m.

Tornadoes aren't the only threat! Downburst winds, hail, lightning, and flash floods also pose a serious threat to the residents of Indiana.

There were more non-tornadic damaging windstorms in Indiana than any other state on a per square mile basis from 1955 to 1983. 62 people were killed by lightning in Indiana from 1959 to 1982. Flash Floods pose a greater threat to life and property nationwide than any other weather phenomena.

The following are recommended general safety instructions to follow during severe weather:

*Seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation, or a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction. Stay away from windows. Do not waste time opening windows, seek shelter immediately. The tornado will "open" the windows well before the pressure difference can cause any structural damage.

In cities or towns:

In office buildings and steel reinforced masonry structures, lie down in an interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably in the basement.

In factories, post a lookout. Workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection in accordance with advance plans.

In homes, the basement usually offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under a sturdy workbench or heavy table, if possible. In homes with no basement, take cover under heavy furniture in the center part of the home. Stay away from windows.

House trailers are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds. Trailer parks should have community shelter. Appoint a community leader responsible for constant radio monitoring during threatening weather or during Watch periods.

In Schools:

Whenever possible, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid auditorium and gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs, especially those which are not steel and concrete reinforced structures. Students should assume crouched position on floor along a wall with hands covering head.

In Open Country:

If a building is not of reinforced construction, go quickly to a nearby reinforced building, or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat. Move away from the tornado's path at right angles. If there is not time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.

Keep listening to the radio or television for the latest advisory information. Call the local law enforcement office to report a tornado. Remember, Tornado Watch means tornadoes are expected to develop. Tornado Warning means a tornado has actually been sighted.

Police Report

Cars driven by Melody A. Jackson, Rt. 1, Akron, and Christine A. Wright, Rt. 5, Rochester, collided in the Main Street Wilt's Food Center lot in Rochester at 5 p.m. Monday, Feb. 29.

A child writes on retirement

Editor's Note: The following article appeared in a Florida newspaper and was sent to the Akron-Mentone News office by Ruth McNear of Plymouth.

After a Christmas break, the teacher asked her small pupils how they spent their holidays. One small boy's reply went like this:

"We always spend Christmas with Grandpa and Grandma. They used to live up here in a big brick house, but Grandpa got retarded and they moved to Florida."

"They live in a place with a lot of retarded people. They live in tin huts. They ride big three-wheeled bicycles. They go to a big building they call the wrecked hall. But if it is a wrecked hall, it is fixed now. They play games there and do exercised, but they don't do them very good. There is a swimming pool and they go to it and just stand there in the water with their hats on. I guess they don't know how to swim. My Grandma used to bake cookies and stuff. But guess she forgot how. Nobody cooks - they all go to fast food restaurants."

"As you come into the park, there is a doll house with a man sitting in it. He watches all day, so they can't get out without him seeing them. They wear badges with their names on them. I guess they don't know who they are."

"My Grandma says Grandpa worked hard all his life and earned his retirement. I wish they would move back home, but I guess the man in the doll house won't let them out."

newsworthy trends

Americans fifty-five and over feel they're better off today than their parents were at the same point in their lives. A majority of seniors feel it's important to plan financially.

Here are four facts about senior citizens that should be of interest to both the elderly and those who hope to become elderly.

- More than 80 percent of people over 55 own their own home.
- According to the Johnson Wax Survey on the State of the American Home, the majority of senior citizens have health insurance.
- Seniors are more likely to hire household help than any other group. They spend less time, 8.3 hours a week, on home care than the average non-working woman, who spends 11.2 hours per week.
- It's expected that in the 1990s, despite increased lon-

Farm bill wrap-up

The passage of two bills by the State General Assembly will have an effect on Hoosier farmers.

The 1988 General Assembly, which ended its session last week, authorized Purdue University to construct and finance a new Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory.

Livestock makes up about 38% of Hoosier farm income, which makes this new facility vital to the future of Indiana's #1 industry.

Another agriculture bill that passed both houses is the RFD (Rural/Urban Diversification) program, which is designed to help Hoosier farmers and agribusinesses spread their risks.

The RFD program,

proposed in Phase 8 of the Orr/Mutz Economic Development Package, will allow the Indiana Agricultural Development Corporation (IADC) to provide intermediate and long-term loan guarantees to assist Indiana farmers and agribusinesses in diversifying their operations. Farmers and their bankers could apply for the guarantee from the IADC which could then guarantee fixed asset loans of $25,000 - 300,000 at 50-90% of the total loan.

The RFD program is step two in the state's Value-Added efforts. Last year, the General Assembly appropriated $800,000 for value-added industry promotion to help find new markets for Indiana's agricultural products.

IDEM approves plan for Mentone sewer project

Mark Harrison of Bonar & Associates was on hand at Monday night's Mentone Town Board meeting to report to IDEM (Indiana Department of Environmental Management) has approved the preliminary facilities plan for the Mentone sewer project.

According to Harrison, the plans can proceed as planned if there are no major negative findings.

If a meeting date for a pre-grant application meeting is received before April 1, the May 31 deadline can be met as according to state policies.

The town must keep on a definite set schedule. If, for some reason the town should fall behind on the scheduled project and is not the fault of the town then the town will not be penalized.

The schedule includes the date of April 30 for the grant application submittal to the state, and May 31 for final plans inspection. Contracts for the actual work will be bid in October, and a notice to proceed with construction will follow.

The town will be allowed 15 months for the actual construction, which should be ample time as long as problems do not develop. Concern has been voiced concerning the existing storm sewers. The location of the sewer lines must be determined.

Board members Wayne Tombaugh reported to the other members present that the Kosciusko County Court has made prisoner help available to the town. The workers could be used for painting buildings and curbs, sweeping streets, picking up the cemetery and park or a number of other tasks. A reserve officer would supervise the workers, who would be receiving meals and transportation, as well as mowers and other equipment.

The town board will be accepting applications for a full-time caretaker to oversee the cemetery and park grounds. Applications can be obtained by contacting Wayne Tombaugh at 353-7690.

Permission was given to water superintendent Brian Reed to purchase two fire extinguishers for the water department. Reed reported to the board the cost of switching the town water pumps to the telephone system will be approximately $1,300, plus hourly costs, and includes the alternator system and installation. The automatic transmitter sends signals from the water tower to the pump houses. No action was taken on the matter.

Lions give donation

Athletes to be honored

The winter sports banquet at Tippecanoe Valley High School has been set for Tuesday, March 22, beginning at 6:30 p.m. The banquet will be held at the high school.

The meat and drinks will be furnished for the pot luck meal. Those attending should bring a covered dish and their own table service.

Individuals to be honored include members of the girls gymnastic team, the wrestling team, the boys swim team, the cheerleading squad, and the boys basketball team. The awards program will begin at approximately 7:15 p.m.

Video available to TVSC patrons

A video entitled "Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" is now available for all patrons in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

The Drug Free Schools and Communities Local Advisory Committee of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has purchased copies of the video. These copies have been placed in the school libraries at Akron, Burket, Mentone, and Tippecanoe Valley High School.

"Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" offers practical suggestions on communicating with your child about Drug and Alcohol Use. The program, hosted by Ken Howard, shows parents how to recognize the warning signs affecting drug and alcohol use. Through role-playing, the video demonstrates the best techniques in talking with your child in three different situations: 1) If you have no reason to believe your child is involved in drug or alcohol use, 2) If your child shows some warning signs or, 3) If you know your child is involved in drug use.

This VHS video is a valuable resource for all parents. To check out "Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" contact your school's librarian.

Dear Editor:

There were 29 blood donors who gave blood for the first time at the recent American Red Cross bloodmobile at Tippecanoe Valley High School. The goal for the day was 80 units; 67 were collected and there were 12 persons deferred for medical reasons.

Forrest L. Kantner received special recognition for having given one gallon. Twenty-four students volunteered their services during the day. All the food served to blood donors was contributed by local clubs and organizations: Mentone Kiwanis Club, Mentone Firemen, Mentone United Methodist Church, Mentone Church of Christ, Beaver Dam United Methodist Church, Mentone Mothers World War II, Seward Home Extension Club, Burket United Methodist Women, Merry Mollies, Akron War Mothers, Jolly Good Neighbors, Jolly Janes, D.A.R.; Mentone Extension H.M. Club; Reading Club; and Burket Firemen's Auxiliary.

We wish to offer our sincere thanks to all these people who worked so hard to make the annual blood visit to Tippecanoe Valley High School profitable to the new donors; and to those who provided the food as donor snacks. This community effort is greatly appreciated by the Kosciusko County Chapter, American Red Cross. Thank you for your continued and much appreciated support.

Sincerely,
Norma J. Anglin
Executive Director

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

When The Going Gets Tough, You Just Keep On Trying!

It would seem that losing weight is an uphill procedure. It seems uphill just trying to begin. It seems uphill as you battle against snacking and eating fattening foods. It is also uphill when you hit your plateau.

Many times after a person has lost twenty pounds or so (this may vary) no more weight will be lost for several weeks. This is known as a plateau. This is sometimes the downfall of a person who has several pounds to lose and thinks they won't lose any more.

Now is the time to look at yourself and how far you've come since the beginning. Remember back, look at old pictures of yourself or whatever it takes to remember what you looked like 20 lbs. ago. By now, you feel better, as well as look better. Even though you haven't reached your goal, you have improved considerably, enough that you don't want to return to your former shape.

Each time you step on the scales, be proud of your accomplishment, thus far and be grateful you haven't gained weight. If you continue your eating habits as before and with continued exercise, in a month or two your weight will begin dropping as before. Don't become discouraged, this is the time when willpower and a positive attitude must prevail.

Take inventory of your clothes. Try on the clothes you wore when you were overweight and notice how loosely they fit, pride yourself on a job well done so far. Realize how much better you now look and remember how you felt physically as well as emotionally when you were overweight. If I were a betting person, I would bet you are much happier and feel much better now. Why give that up for excess food?

Talk with a good friend who will support your attempt at losing weight. Perhaps there is someone who has been thru this same situation and can give you some good advice. Perhaps the exercise you have been doing has gradually decreased. If this is so, try increasing your exercise and see what happens.

This may be a good time for a change of hair style. Sometimes when your weight doesn't change, a change elsewhere making you look better is enough of an incentive to keep you going until your plateau is over. Experiment, but don't give up.

As the commercial says, "You've come a long way, baby!"

Coming Up: March 23 - Adventureland!
March 30 - Maintaining Your Weight

I'm very grateful to everyone for their prayers, cards, flowers, and concerns during my illness. Thanks again for your support and kindness.

Hello Spring

Rural Rhymes

By Esther C. Adams

IT'S SPRINGTIME

Time for rakin' an' seedin'
Rake an' shovel you'll be needin',
Crocus an' tulips peekin' thru,
Garden seeds you'll be needin' too.

It's Springtime.

There's a cardinal in the maple tree,
Singin' his sweetest song for me.
An' a robin in the pear tree near,
Is lustily singin' a song of cheer.

It's Springtime.

Listen to the frogs a croakin',
Springs a comin', there's no jokin',
Baby lambs, pigs, calves an' chickens,
Be as busy as the chickens.

In Springtime.

Oh! It's good to be around,
To listen to the spring time sounds,
An' to feel the balmy breeze,
God sure knew how to please
When He made Springtime.

Awards were presented to the top winners in each division last night as the 6th annual Tippecanoe Valley Science Fair drew to a close. Officials noted that 13 of the 40 judges had been unable to attend because of the heavy snow storm that closed all corporation schools Wednesday but that the remainder of the judges had done a good job in making their selections. Dennis Spice, Akron senior, was named over-all champion of the fair and received a plaque. Primary winners: Rhonda Lowman, Burket, and James Smith, Mentone, tied for gold medal; Kevin Deardorff, Akron, silver; and Babette Horn, Akron, bronze medal. Intermediate Winners: Mark Harris, Akron gold medal; Tim Swick, Burket, bronze medal; and Kevin Duzenbery, Akron, silver medal. Senior Winners: Dan Groninger, Larry Hartman and Dennis Spice, all Akron, bronze, silver and gold medals respectively.

The annual battle of brawn, the Chamber of Commerce-Faculty basketball game, will be played Friday evening, March 22, in the high school gym. The starting line-ups for each team will be announced as soon as enough players can be persuaded to limber up some long un-tired muscles. It is expected that George "Gorgeous George" Stephen, Merrill "Mighty Mo" Kendall, Harvey "Hot Shot" Arthur, Earl "Sinker" Hoffman, John "Bounce-em In" Zimmerman, Randall "Muscles" Leininger, Harold "Long Shot" Groninger, Tom "Digger" O'Haupt, Dick "Whizzer" Day, Tom "Close Shave" Holloway, and Gil "Nimble Fingers" Jenkins will again play for the C of C and they may draft a few young ball handlers to round out the ranks. All proceeds of the game will go to the 4th of July fund.

TAKEN FROM THE AKRON NEWS
MARCH 17, 1938
50 YEARS AGO

A simple but impressive wedding was solemnized at three-thirty Sunday afternoon in the Methodist parsonage at Rochester by Rev. Ross Shannon when Clara Mae Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.J. Long, became the bride of Alvin Finney, son of J.D. Finney, all of near Rochester. The single ring ceremony was used. The bride was attended by her cousin, Marjorie Peterson, and the groom by Dale Wagoner, both of Rochester. The bride wore a bolero jacket frock of navy blue crepe with printed top, and navy blue accessories. The bridesmaid's frock was also navy blue printed crepe, with black accessories. The bride is a graduate of the Tippecanoe High School in the class of 1936. The groom graduated from the Talma High School in 1930. After the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the home of the groom's parents. Later the couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in their newly furnished farm home in Marshall county.

One of Akron's old residences, an eight-room Colonial structure built near the year 1855 by Alexander Curtis, was destroyed by fire last Friday noon. The building was known as the Edwin Landis farm and was located south of Akron just outside the corporate limits. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Slaybaugh were living in the house, having moved there last summer. George Baum owned the farm and had done considerable remodeling on the place to make it a suitable residence. Mr. Baum has already begun the task of clearing away the debris and plans to erect a new home on the same site. The Slaybaughs, who are staying for the present with George Slaybaugh, will move into the new home as soon as it is completed. Origin of the fire is believed to have started from a spark from the chimney. The roof burned first, and the rest of the building was soon blazing, fanned by a strong March wind. Practically all the furniture was saved. The Fire Department used chemicals, but were unable to check the blaze. The building was built on the site occupied now by Scott's Drug Store and Leininger's department store, and played a prominent part in early Akron's history. It was moved a few years ago to "Bunker Hill" where it has remained.

Flo White brought in a collection of some 20 old hats that she passed out some to her friends to wear during the day. Zella Bowman played on the piano some favorite tunes from days gone by. Pictures were taken by the NEWS and also by some participating in the days events for their own collections. One of the hobbies the Keen-Agers work on daily is working crossword puzzles. On the walls of the Lions Den there are several of these pictures displayed that have been completed and framed from old barn sidings. Mary Krouse displayed her hand made quilt that she has spent the winter creating. The Keen-Agers thank Akron Nutrition Site Manager, Marilyn Stafford and her volunteers for their planning of "The Good Old Days" as they all had an enjoyable day reminiscing.

Farmers need proper application licenses

Several private pesticide applicator licenses have expired and a few farmers now feel they need a license, so Fulton County has set up a training meeting to qualify farmers to renew or get a new license. The training will be identical for renewal or a new license and will consist of 5 to 6 hours in the classroom. One class will be held at the Fulton County Extension Office, 802 Jefferson St., Rochester, Tuesday, March 22, 9:00 a.m.

Times seem to be changing and a number of the granular corn insecticides are scheduled to be restricted use in 1988 and there are plans for additional herbicides to be included.

In order to purchase and use these restricted pesticides on land farmers own or operate, farmers will need the private applicator license. The training will be for 5 to 6 hours and there will be a charge of $15. This money will be collected on the day of the training session with any checks made payable to Fulton County Extension Service. The Extension will send the farmer's certification work sheet and $5.00 to the State Chemists Office for license approval. The license will be for a five-year period.

Please call the Fulton County Extension Office for reservations or any questions you might have - 219-223-3397.

Please bring a small hand calculator for working problems.

There will be an "open book" examination at the end of each session. Farm operators needing a private pesticide applicator license should plan to attend this pesticide use training session this season so that they can purchase and use the increasing number of restricted use pesticides. Farmers from other counties are welcome to attend this training session.

Be a part of history!

Hoosiers are invited to march through the streets of Indianapolis on Friday, April 29, 1988 as participants in a historical Torchlight Parade.

The purpose of the event, an official Hoosier Celebration '88 activity, is to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Benjamin Harrison's successful 1888 presidential campaign and the completion of Union Station and the Columbia Club in downtown Indianapolis.

Students, scout troops and other community groups are invited to dress up in Victorian attire, design a political banner in honor of the only Hoosier president, and bring specially designed torches to the parade. Prizes will be awarded based on a marching unit's appearance, originality, and use of Harrison and 1888 political issues on banners, costumes, torches, songs and chants.

For more information contact Sue Small at the Harrison Home (317) 631-1898 or write: ATTN: Torchlight Parade, President Benjamin Harrison Home, 1230 N. Delaware Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

System in business is a great asset if you can find someone to operate the system while you take it easy.

Indy Theatre begins 15th season

Singin' in the Rain, opened Beef and Boards Dinner Theater's spectacular 15th season. Like its predecessor, Singin' in the Rain is romantic and irresistibly funny and frivolous, with toe tapping songs and electrifying dances.

It is the story of the wild and wacky world of Hollywood in the 1920's when Don Lockwood, Hollywood's top leading man, and Lina Lament, the queen of the silver screen are forced to appear in a talking picture during the frantic transition from silent films. Appearing as Don Lockwood, the Gene Kelly role in the film, is one of the Beef and Boards favorites. Mr. Stephen Esser, who also choreographed the production, Singin' in the Rain opened at the Beef and Boards Dinner Theatre on Wednesday, March 2, and will continue through May 1st.

Tickets and information about Singin' in the Rain or any of the other attractions at Beef and Boards Dinner Theatre can be obtained by calling the box office at 317-872-9664.

Family tree of Kosciusko County Hospice/Home Health Care

Since Home Health Care's Hospice Program first started to provide nursing and companion service to the terminally ill and their families, there has been confusion about the lineage of Hospice.

"Hospice is a service of Home Health Care Services of Kosciusko County, Inc. We need to explain that," said Betty Lou Hartman, President of the Board of Directors.

"In Fact," continued Hartman, "You might say that Hospice is a member of the Home Health Care Services family - one part of the services we provide."

The Home Health Care Services family was organized in September of 1975, when a group of nurses recognized a need for taking health care into the home. A year later, October of 1976, Home Health Care nurses began home visits, providing doctor-directed, part-time professional nursing care patients whose doctors recommended it and whose families supported it.

When the nursing service was walking on its own, October 1978, home Health Care directors added a new family member: The Home-maker Home Health Aide service. Under the guidance of an R.N., the aide helped patients with personal care, dressing, and light housework.

In 1980, again in response to community needs, Home Health Care welcomed its Well Child Health Services Clinic to give free preventive health to children - ages birth to six years - of low income families.

Hospice, the fourth family member, was born in October 1982 to help the terminally ill and their families over the rough road of terminal illness. Its 24 hour on-call nursing, and volunteer companions who help patient and family through the illness and during bereavement were heartily embraced by Kosciusko County people.

Home Health Care Services of Kosciusko County, Inc. is proud of the way that Kosciusko County has accepted all their family of services, and, like all families proud of their offspring, would like a people to know that Hospice belongs to Home Health Care Services.

If you have need of any of Home Health Care's Services, or would like to help with Home Health Care's Building Fund Drive, currently in progress, call 267-3683 or send contributions to P.O. Box 496, Warsaw, Ind., 46580.

Vikes fall to Concord; gain admiration of fans

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings ended their 1987-88 basketball season 14-9 record in the Elkhart regional last weekend. The Vikings were defeated by the Concord Minutemen; better known as Shawn Kemp and team. Although the Vikings were defeated 69-58, the team held the respect of their fans and coach for their fine performance.

Junior center Pete Terpstra scored 21 points and was followed by junior forward Craven Lynn with 12, senior guard Dustin DuBois with 11 and senior guard Randy Cumberland with 10.

Shawn Kemp, Concord's 6-foot-11 All-American forward and Mr. Basketball candidate, certainly earned the most respect after scoring 32 points and leading the second-ranked and undefeated Minutemen to the victory.

Led by Terpstra's 10 points in the first half, Valley stayed close and tied the game at 25 midway through the second quarter on DuBois' three-point shot. The Minutemen then broke the game open with a 13-0 run, including seven straight from Kemp.

Valley went scoreless for almost three minutes as Kemp led the Concord charge with a spinning jumper in the lane, a free throw, a slam dunk off a lob from senior guard Steve Larkin and a reverse layup. By the time Lynn hit from the baseline with 1:56 left in the first half, Concord led 38-25. The Minutemen took a 42-29 lead at halftime.

Valley had a chance to get back into the game in the third quarter when Concord turned the ball over eight times and scored only eight points. But the Vikings made only three of 19 shots and they still trailed by 13 points, 50-37, heading into the final eight minutes.

Concord maintained leads of nine to 12 points until Terpstra sank a three-pointer from the left side to start a 9-2 run for the Vikings. Kemp answered Terpstra's three with a dunk, but DuBois connected from the wing, Lynn put an offensive rebound back in and Terpstra went inside for another field goal to cut Concord's lead to 63-58.

Kemp scored five of the last six points of the game, blocked two of Valley's last five shots and grabbed three straight rebounds. On the game, Kemp sank 14 of 18 shots, blocked six shots and pulled down 18 boards.

One thing is certain following the Vikes final game: The Vikings held their heads high going into what they knew would be a tough game. Even though the final score gave Concord the victory, the Vikings will be remembered as a tough, persistent basketball team.

Pearson says those who see their names on this list should contact his office to claim the property.

The property is held by banks and other businesses for seven years before being turned over to his office.

LEGEND OF THE THICKET ROSE

"I should like to bury Him in a tomb," said Joseph of Arimathea to Pilate. He had gone to the Roman governor to ask for the body of the crucified Jesus. Pilate granted his request and Joseph and some friends hurried back to Calvary to remove the lifeless form of the Saviour from the rough-hewn cross. Tenderly, Joseph took the cruel crown of thorns from Jesus' brow and tossed it aside. He and his friends then wrapped the body in clean white linen and took it to the tomb.

The bloodstained crown of thorns was left where it had fallen among the rocks that studded the barren hillside. Suddenly, miraculously, the crown took root in the dusty soil. Its thorny tendrils grew quickly toward the heavens. In just two days the crown became a bush. On the third day, very early in the morning, the bush burst forth with blossoms - blossoms as white as the glory of the resurrection, but tinged with the pink of the blood shed for all mankind.

Thicket roses bloom today in the hill country near Palestine. The bush's brambles remind us of the agony of the cross, but its beautiful flowers tell us of the purity and hope of Eternal Life.

Life on a desolate island

Story By David A. Losleben

Picture an island with white sandy beaches, palm trees swaying in the wind, and lush green tropical forest. This vision of paradise may have been what Army Spec. 4 John C. Berdine and more than 200 other servicemen pictured when they received orders for a one year tour of duty on Johnston Atoll.

However, this isolated, wind swept, coral atoll in the Pacific has few of the things the Department of Energy and the Defense Nuclear Agency in the event a return to atmospheric nuclear testing is necessary. The U.S. Army Chemical Activity - Western Command, manages toxic chemical warfare munitions stored here and the Johnston Atoll Chemical Agent Disposal System project. The atoll is also important to the Fish and Wild Life Service, which maintains a wild life refuge takes two weeks to get a letter from home. The phone system out here is poor too. We have a hard time receiving calls from home and making calls."

For many of the servicemen, being stationed on little more than one square mile of crushed coral creates a certain amount of stress. However, most seem to find ways of venting their frustrations.

"To relieve my stress I work out in the gym and swim," said Berdine.

"It would improve our stay if there were females out here and air conditioning in the rooms. If the Army had a special aircraft come in to provide mail service more often, it would help make things better too.

"When I go home, I'm going to go out to a real restaurant and shop at a mall."

Berdine is a 1985 graduate of Caston Educational Center, Fulton.

associated with an island paradise. From its drab, featureless buildings to its plutonium and Agent Orange contaminated sections of land, Johnston Atoll more closely resembles 'Devil's Island' than it does a fantasy one.

Located some 717 nautical miles southwest of Honolulu, Berdine, 21, son of Cedric L. and Barbara J. Berdine, Rural Route 1, Rochester, serves on the 'end of the earth,' a name used by many of the residents of these four desolate islands.

"In my job, I'm the assistant transportation movement officer," said Berdine. "I help coordinate all travel on and off the island."

The reason for Johnston's existence and importance to the government is to support on one of the islands that boast many species of birds and marine life.

"When I first arrived on Johnston, I was surprised at the lack of trees and the small size of the island," said Berdine.

Yet despite the island's reputation, many of the servicemen on Johnston found some surprising advantages to being stationed in the middle of the Pacific Ocean.

"People on the island are very friendly and the weather is always nice," said Berdine. "There are many recreational activities such as boating, swimming, bowling, baseball, golf, woodworking, and weight lifting."

"But the mail service is very slow here. It usually

Tornado drill set for Mar. 17

The Fulton County Board of Commissioners have proclaimed the week of March 13-19, 1988 as "Tornado Preparedness Week." This year, there will be a statewide warning exercise to be held on March 17, 1988. The warning exercise will be held between the hours of 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. If there is threatening weather on this date, the warning exercises will be held the next day. If you hear warning sirens during severe thunderstorms after this exercise, it means that a tornado has been sighted in Fulton County and to take shelter. The Board of Commissioners encourage your participation in the exercise and for all citizens to become more aware of tornado signs and how to safeguard the lives of their families and friends. Any questions concerning the tornado exercise can be directed to the Civil Defense office, telephone 223-6611.

TVSC plans next school year

As students are planning what to do over their summer vacation, the TVSC administration is busy planning the school year for 1988-89. At Monday's, March 14, regular school board meeting, the board adopted a school calendar to include 182 school days from August 23 through June 1 in the 1988-89 year.

While the state mandates that students attend school 180 days in a year, the Valley administration believed it would be wise to allow two extra days to allow for bad weather.

Three vacation days are also allowed on the calendar. They include: January 13, February 20, and June 2. These days could also be used as make-up days in the need should arise.

The school year would have to be extended for any other make-up days. Thus, the extra days worked into the planned schedule should prevent an extension of the school year.

Christmas vacation has been cut back for the coming year. The vacation will be from December 22 through January 2. Teachers have agreed with this adopted scheduling. Other major vacation days include Thanksgiving vacation from March 18 through March 27.

There are also four student seniors to visit Washington D.C., April 30-May 1.

The TVSC has received accreditation with the North Central Association for another year.

The construction company will be evaluating the dust collection system at Akron industrial arts room before submitting a recommendation. This, along with the progressing plans for the wall in the girl's dressing room at Mentone, were discussed in the building report.

The board unanimously approved a resolution commending and congratulating the high school boys' basketball team for their second sectional championship in two years.

Extra-curricular assignments made during the board meeting were:

*Michael Walters as Akron Junior High boys' track coach.
*Bryan Sponseller as assistant high school boys' track coach.

*Kevin Deardorff as high school girls' softball coach and Scott Tilden as assistant if two teams are formed.

*Deb Day as high school girls' tennis coach.

*Helen Parmalee as assistant high school musical director.

Easter Egg Hunts

Area Chambers of Commerce will sponsor Easter Egg Hunts on Saturday, April 2.

The Mentone Easter Egg Hunt will be at 9:30 a.m. at Mentzer Park.

Akron youngsters will be looking for their eggs at the Akron Town Park.

Kids should be at the Akron Town Park at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 2, for the fun.

James Moore named new deputy marshal

James Moore, who has recently moved to Akron from Lagro, has been hired as the new deputy marshal in Akron. The Akron Town Board hired Moore during a special meeting of the board held February 27. Moore is a graduate of the Town Marshal school. He has come to Akron highly recommended by law officers in Wabash County and also by recommendation of the clerk-treasurer in Lagro. Moore and his wife Wanda have a daughter who is five months old.

Town clerk Sarah Jane Sutton reported that help from a Rochester building inspector could be sought in conjunction with the sealing of buildings that are burned out in the town of Akron. Mrs. Sutton was given permission by the board during Monday's regular scheduled meeting to contact the inspector.

Superintendent Gearhart told the board that some of the new water meters will arrive later this week. The Akron hydrants have been flushed for the first time this year, according to Gearhart. It was also reported to the board that Leary Construction Company will be inspecting the Akron water tower at no cost to the town.

The town board has also decided to establish an improvement fund in the water department using 20 percent of the monthly receipts to establish the fund. The replacement work will then be funded from this account.

Parking problems on North Maple Street, Akron, hopefully will be remedied by a new ordinance being drawn up by town attorney Bob Peterson. The board has instructed the making of the ordinance to prohibit parking on the east side of the street.

In other matters: Mr. Jim Wilber, Public Service manager, presented the contract for the new street lights last summer. After proper explanation, the contract was signed by the board.

Bob Allen reported the need to provide an agree-

The 1988 Mentone Science Fair has come to a close. The knowledge the participants gained by participating in the seventh annual event will remain with the students for many years.

Coordinators for the Science Fair, Bill Leininger and Marsha Scott did a tremendous job in the organization and actual production of the fair. Other committee members who worked diligently for the success of the fair were Mike Humphreys, John Waymire, Linda Cochran, Elaine Fugate, Sue Pyle, Cindy Law, Lee Ann Rock, Bonnie Kramer, and Dan Hauser.

One student in each grade, 1-6, and in each category, 7-8, received a Grand Prize ribbon based on the highest points received out of 100 possible.

The four elementary and six junior high students who received the most points will go to the March 26, 1988, regional competition.

The Mentone Science Fair, which was held Tuesday, March 15, was well attended by students, parents, and friends. Winners of the elementary grades and division winners from the junior high level will compete at the F Wayne Regional Science Fair on Saturday, March 26.

A new beginning...

ADVENTURELAND

Whoever thought housework was ho-hum was definitely wrong! As any mother of boys will agree, life with two boys is anything but boring.

Several years ago, it was decided the boys should have rooms of their own. I was sure, well almost sure, one of the boys was making the mess, the other would be neat if he had a chance. Besides, our boys are five years apart in age and their personalities are as different as day and night. One would like to read in bed, the other wanted to listen to the radio, etc. Yes...two bedrooms instead of one would solve the problem.

Wrong! We don't have one messy bedroom, we now have two. I have found the messy bedroom was the result of both the boys. But as amazing as it may sound, they each have their own "type" of mess.

Soon after the rooms were assigned and each had their own belongings, I journeyed into the bedrooms to straighten up. As I entered the rooms, my breath was taken away! This clearly was no ho-hum trip, this was more like Adventureland! I should have been tipped off when I had to push extra hard on the door to enter the room! From there on in, it was downhill. I finally gave up and decided to walk on top of everything on the floor. If C.J. could do it, I could too! Wrong again! There must have been three layers of books, clothes, blankets, etc. As I stepped on the top layer I would slide! I made it into his room and then had to gain composure as well as courage before starting for the door to get out! I slipped three times and heaved a sigh of relief as I entered the hallway! I decided he could venture into "No Man's Land" and do a little straightening himself!

Next, Chris' room. I carefully opened the door, peeped through the opening trying not to be shocked. Strangely enough it didn't look too bad. "Now this is more like it!" I thought. However, this was a little premature. Closer inspection revealed clothes, books, tapes, socks (some of which I hadn't seen for two weeks) and papers all stuffed under the bed. I suddenly felt as if I had entered the Twilight Zone! Then, the closet caught my eye. The doors were closed - but I couldn't help but wonder what was waiting inside. Just as my hand reached for the door, Doug entered the room. There he stood with veins popping and eyes bulging. (I suspected he had just come from C.J.'s room). He instructed me to leave the room, "Let well enough alone" he put it. We clasped hands and made our way into the hallway. It seemed so bare, like Desert Land.

Luckily, the boys took garbage bags to their rooms followed by the sweeper. I had imagined heavy equipment with fork lifts needed by the end of the month to rescue them from their domains!

Now, to Swampland - the bathroom!

Rural Rhymes

By Esther C. Adams

REMINISCING

Back in 1924,
In the days of Model T,
Little did we imagine,
The things that we would see.
We saw The Great Depression,
Return of beer, then World War Two,
The Atomic Bomb, Penicillin,
Vitamins and The B Fifty Two.
Iron Shots and Heart Surgery,
Salk Vaccine and Kidney Transplants,
But who would ever thought,
We'd see women wearing pants.
Farming has made drastic changes,
To big business from a way of life.
Keeping books and tax records,
Even adds to the strife.
Fertilizers and hybrid seed,
Insecticides and weed spray,
Even artificial insemination,
To make the milk cow pay.
Tractors replaced horses,
Grain is harvested by combine,
But the greatest boom to farmers,
Was the Rural Electric line.
We enjoy television,
And travel around by jet.
The rockets that put man on the moon,
Was the greatest feat yet.
It's nice to have those memories
Of the quiet days gone by.
When we had few motors,
On land or in the sky.

Look to the STARS for Quality Heating and Cooling Service.

Another idea that works for Indiana.

STAR stands for Special Training and Recognition. It's a voluntary certification program developed by the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society (RSES). It thoroughly covers important aspects of electric heating and cooling, especially those relating to heat pump technology, installation, diagnosis and repair.

Heat pump and air conditioning technicians who pass a rigorous RSES testing program earn STAR status for their dealership. Next time you have a heating or cooling-related problem or question, look to the STARS for the answers, or call Public Service Indiana for more information.

LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD

There is a legend, that at the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood had been the size of the oak and other forest trees. So firm and strong was the tree, that it was chosen as the timber for the cross. To be used thus for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree, and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this, and in His gentle pity for all sorrowing and suffering said to it:

"Because of your regret and pity for My suffering, never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used as a cross. Henceforth it shall be slender and bent and twisted and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross...two long and two short petals. And in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with red, and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns and all who see it will remember..."

On behalf of the American Cancer Society, I'd like to thank the Akron Community for its generous response of $424.28 for the Cancer Society March 18 and 19.

Jontz scholarship deadline April 15

Graduating high school seniors who would like to be considered for scholarships to be awarded this year from the 5th Congressional District Scholarship Fund should submit their applications by April 15.

Scholarship application forms are available from the offices of Congressman Jim Jontz in Kokomo or Valparaiso (dial toll free at 1-800-544-1474) and should be returned to one of the offices by the April 15 date.

Funds for the scholarship come from the Congressional pay hike which Congressman Jontz turned down in 1987. Two scholarships, one of $1,000 and one of $500, were awarded from the 5th District Scholarship Fund in 1987.

A citizens committee chaired by Jack Williams of Kokomo and including representatives of all 14 counties in the 5th District meets to set criteria for the scholarship, develop application guidelines, and select the scholarship winners.

"I do not believe that Members of Congress should be increasing their salaries, and I was opposed to the pay hike which Congressmen received last year," Jontz explained. "By taking this pay hike and putting it into a scholarship fund, I can make at least a small investment in the future of the 5th District."

Education is critical to the future of our area and our young people, and there are few investments which return as much as an investment in a college education for one of the outstanding graduating seniors in our area."

Jontz is a member of the Education and Labor Committee of the House of Representatives, and is active in promoting education legislation.

VA Home Loan amended

The Indianapolis Veterans Administration Regional Office has announced that recent legislation signed by President Reagan will allow the Veterans Administration to relax downpayment requirements in the sale of certain homes acquired by the VA through foreclosure.

The Veterans Home Loan Program Emergency Amendments provides the VA with the authority to reduce or waive the five percent downpayment requirement on the purchase of VA-owned properties when it is determined necessary to market these properties competitively. This provision was effective February 29, 1988, the date the new bill was signed.

The measure also corrected a technical error in earlier legislation where the amount of a veteran's prior use of "entitlement" or loan guaranty benefits was subtracted from the potential guaranty on a new loan.

Instead, prior use of a veteran's entitlement will now be subtracted from $36,000, the maximum amount of loan guaranty benefits available to an eligible veteran, with the remainder for use on new loans.

The VA official said this provision applies to all loans closed on or after February 1, 1988, unless a guaranty commitment was made on or before December 31, 1987.

Drug Abuse play to be presented Thursday

The Drug Free Schools and Communities Local Advisory Committee of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation is sponsoring "The Case of the Blue Notes", a drug abuse prevention play. The play, written and produced by Bridgework Theater, will be shown to all sixth graders in the corporation on March 24 in the TVHS lecture room at 1:30 p.m. The program includes a teacher training program, the play, and follow-up classroom discussion.

"The Case of the Blue Notes" focuses on ways of assisting students to avoid drug and alcohol abuse. The play and discussion also help to promote critical thinking skills toward drug and alcohol related messages, messages that come from the media, adults, and from peers.

Bridgework Theater is an innovative, not for profit touring theater company that has committed two years to research, write, and produce "The Case of the Blue Notes." The play and supplemental teaching materials will contribute toward the prevention of substance abuse, provide teaching ideas and resources, and communicate with children in an affirming yet challenging manner.

Substance abuse discussed

Ms. Ellen Quick, adolescent evaluator at the KOALA CENTER in Plymouth returned to Akron to present a program on substance abuse to sixth grade students. The presentation consisted of a video, "All About Feelings," followed by a group discussion. The discussion focused on feelings and family problems created by the substance abuser, whether it be parent or child. Ms. Quick highlighted the discussion by sharing KOALA methods in assisting the abuser and other members of the family. KOALA ideals also accented the presentation.

This program is one of a series of substance abuse presentations to be viewed by Akron sixth grade. Upcoming events in the immediate future include viewing a play, "BLUE NOTES," at TVHS presented by Bridgework Theatre on Thursday, March 24. Indiana State Police Officer John Dunn will show two films and lead discussion on April 5 and April 8.

Road Gang Crew in Silver Lake

Picture taken August 15, 1922

After 18 months Mr. Charles Lawrence, Rt. 2, Warsaw, has identified the above individuals. They are: Charles Lamoree, then neighbor of Photographer P.M. Kinder of Akron, now living in Warsaw, 12 years old in picture; Bert Fuller, Silver Lake; Harley P. Rager, Silver Lake druggist; Wilson Crisler, Silver Lake; Ben Platt, Akron; George Waite (not certain of residence); E.E. Maurer, Akron (kneeling); Harry McIntyre, Akron (kneeling); Harry Montel, Silver Lake (on knees); Lewis Leckron, Silver Lake (sitting); Joe Bolley, Akron, son of contractor George Bolley (sitting); Herbert Hill, Silver Lake (sitting); Don Thacker, Silver Lake (sitting); On horse, unidentified; Jack Heiser, Silver Lake; Ira Burke (with stomper); Hollice VanLue, Akron; Clyde Sells, Silver Lake; Pete Riley, Akron (with pick); Chet Hanson, editor and part-owner of Silver Lake Record, weekly newspaper; Harry Strable, Silver Lake; Vern Nelson, Silver Lake; Ed Braude, Silver Lake (butter, cream and egg buyer); and Harry Kline, Silver Lake.

Ed's Note: Approximately one year ago we asked the readers to help identify the picture shown with this article. Mr. Charles Lawrence, Rt. 2, Warsaw, has spent much time in helping to identify the individuals in the picture. He also has provided this information concerning the event when this picture was taken.

I can remember this day and the event. P.M. Kinder, an Akron photographer for many years, was our neighbor, living on what I remember as Cherry St., south of the old grade school that has been gone for years, and the entire block now owned, I believe, by the Church of God located on the next street west.

Kinder, with his second wife, Tressa, had no children, and I seemed to be in their favor. I spent lost of evenings in their kitchen, watching while they developed and printed pictures by hand. I dared not talk or touch anything.

On the day of the picture, "Punk" Kinder, as he was known, had been hired by road contractor George Bolley of Akron, who was building Main Street east-west through Silver Lake (now State Road 14) to take a photograph of his operation. Kinder called across the yard, inviting me to accompany him to Silver Lake. Mother consented, and we jumped into his RCA coupe (gray with black top). I'm not positive of the name of the car, but do know it was named with the initials of the makers, three partner who later became giants in the auto industry, each in his own name. Not many of the cars were ever built. Kinder's big box camera which took the photos of many of my generation around Akron in his sky-lighted studio just west of Dr. Hosmans' office, was in the trunk.

Road 14 between Akron and Silver Lake, was not even a dream yet, and in such poor condition that we went by way of South Pleasant Church south of Silver Lake, and then north on what is State Road 15.

In those days I was under-size, shy and quiet; thus I stood back watching proceedings until just before "Punk" ducked his head under the big black cloth to snap the picture, someone yelled, "Get your son in the picture," and I took my seat on the curb.

You'll notice it was quite an occasion for me to go out of town as far as Silver Lake. Mother made me put on shoes and long black stockings, with a tie and cap. My usual summer garb was overalls and a short-sleeved black shirt (sateen, I believe mother called the material). Shoes and stockings were strictly "ver boten" in summer. I was twelve that summer, and may be the only survivor. I have a copy of the picture, which is temporarily misplaced, as it seems are so many relics of my young days. I am at a loss to understand why George Bolley, the contractor, does not seem to be in the picture. His son, Joe, a year or two older than I, is in the front row, apparently employed as a water boy. Laboring men required a lot of water on a hot day, and a boy with a ten-quart bucket and a long-handled dipper, was kept scurrying.

Some of the identifications do not correspond with those of an individual in Akron; but I believe they are correct. I later lived in Silver Lake and published the Silver Lake Record for many years. Don Bouse of Silver Lake, my age, recently helped me with the identifications.

Arbor Day to be observed

Hoosiers, wanting to enhance their communities' heritage can join thousands of people planting trees on Arbor Day. In Indiana, Governor Robert D. Orr has proclaimed April 8 Arbor Day, and encourages participation in this official Hoosier Celebration '88 activity.

On Arbor Day, the Department of Natural Resources will conduct a special, tree-planting ceremony on the State House lawn in Indianapolis. Similar ceremonies will be held by local communities, schools and park and recreation departments statewide.

"Americans throughout the country will take time to celebrate Arbor Day," said Jim Ridenour, DNR director. "But this event is even more special in Indiana where we are celebrating our spirit, our past and our future through Hoosier Celebration '88."

"Trees are Indiana's living legacy," Ridenour added. "Those citizens who work to wisely manage our natural resources ensure the state's health and strength by planting trees."

The DNR's Division of Forestry will offer a free packet of information on the tree plantings and the Arbor Day celebration through their office at 613 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN 46204; 317-232-4015.

Drusilla Morgan attends U.S. Space Academy

Drusilla Morgan, of Akron explored the future of space travel while training for realistic Space Shuttle mission simulations at U.S. Space Academy, Level 1.

Space Academy trainees in grades seven through ten use mockups of the shuttle orbiter, cockpit, Spacelab, mission control, and the Space Station during realistic two-hour mission simulations.

Each team of 20 trainees participates in two missions. Half are in mission control, monitoring activities aboard the shuttle. Each person in mission control has a specific task: mission director, flight director, weather and tracking officer, principal investigator, and more. All must work as a team with the shuttle crew to ensure a successful mission.

More than 16,000 young people from all 50 states and around the world will participate in U.S. Space Camp programs this year, including Space Academy, Level 1. Trainees also tour NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, where the U.S. Space Station is being developed, and experience the sensations of Space Academy's astronaut training simulators.

The five-day program begins with an orientation in the shuttle cockpit and in ground control simulators developed exclusively for Space Academy. The full-scale Spacelab module uses hardware from the actual payload crew mockup used during training for the Spacelab 1 mission.

Help for unbelief at Easter An Easter message by Mary Fisher

On Sunday, April 3, people around the world will gather in their own house of worship to celebrate the resurrection of Christ. Nearly 2,000 years ago, a documented three day historical event changed the lives of people then and still is changing lives today.

The majority of today's population believes in the resurrection of Christ. They also believe in the works that he did while here on earth. The historical facts on which the Easter celebration is based, include Christ died an excruciating death. He was buried in a borrowed tomb, and on the third day He arose from the dead. This man Jesus appeared to his disciples and friends, and later ascended to heaven. For those who believe in Christ and the resurrection, these facts are easily accepted. To those who know Christ, these facts thrill the inner soul. Easter is a time of great excitement and anticipation for the Christian.

As one who claims to know Christ, I, too, am looking forward to Easter and celebrating Christ's resurrection. Yet, as a human being, I have found myself bogged down by the pressures of this world.

BMV reminds motorists to check plates

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles reminds motorists whose last names begin with C or D to avoid the last minute rush at their local license branch by planning to visit the branch before the end of the month to get their renewal stickers or plates. The expanded ten month registration schedule, implemented by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles last year, makes March 31 the registration expiration date for C and D registrants.

Motorists whose last names begin with E, F, and G are reminded that to receive their plates in the mail by the end of April, their registration expiration month, their pre-printed registration renewal form should be post-marked by April 5. If your last name begins with E, F, or G and you have not yet received a renewal form, contact the Department of Excise Tax and Registration in Indianapolis at (317) 232-2791 for assistance.

Sharing the joy of Easter is important to me, but the words have not come easily in recent days to express what I claim to be my deep faith. I do believe and yet at the same time my concerns demonstrate disbelief.

While contemplating my thoughts for an Easter story, I found myself raking winter's deaden debris from the flower beds. Working in the garden or in the flower beds has always been good therapy for my mind and my nervous system. The closer I can get to God's nature - and the dirtier I can get - the closer I feel to God. These are the times I can really feel His presence. The more I raked, the more I tried to think of a theme for an Easter story. But a mental block seemed to prevail. How could I possibly write an encouraging story while my own life seemed so complex? I wanted to tell readers that Easter brings new hope and that Easter was a time for a second chance at life. And yet, in my own life, I was struggling to hang on to my faith and to "practice what I wanted to preach".

Again, I concentrated on raking. I suddenly realized my therapy had become a difficult task. The rake was catching on something in the rose bed. Carefully, I removed the leaves and sticks with my hands. A rush of hope filled me. For there before me was my Easter message. Under all the debris of winter were young delicate spring flowers trying to push their way up to the warm sun. Out of winter's gloom was the rebirth of spring. I had forgotten that in the fall we had planted spring bulbs in the same flower bed as the roses. The young plants held tight as I had tried to force their secure roots from the soil with my rake. I saw my own faith deeply rooted and my disbelief trying to uproot my faith.

I realized the real message of Easter. No matter what debris we are buried in, whether it be family problems, financial burdens, or any other worldly pressure, the love of Christ is there pushing us up to conquer over any problem. Even when we forget what seeds of faith are planted deep within us, God remembers. When we think we are carrying the entire load of this world's problems, God is holding up our arms and moving us forward. We are human, and God knows that too!

Easter provides a chance to get a refill of Christian faith. Just as my little spring flowers brought renewed hope to me, Easter can do the same for you. It is an opportunity to celebrate our Christian belief. Easter will be an opportunity to conquer my unbeliefs.

MAINTAINING OUR WEIGHT - HOW DO WE DO THAT?

It would be interesting to find how many people think starting a weight reduction plan is the hardest part of dieting. There might be others who feel losing the hardest task. However, there may be many who feel the most difficult task is maintaining their desired weight once the pounds have been lost.

Perhaps the reason we feel maintaining our desired weight is hardest is because we know for many of us it will be never ending. It would seem once we have had a weight problem we will always have a weight problem. Therefore, it is important to learn to live with the situation. Living with the fact we can be overweight does not mean letting self pity take over. Sure, it would be nice to eat what ever we want and as much as we want but the fact is, we can't. So we have to pull ourselves up by our boot straps and get to work.

Once again, our attitude and behavior patterns come into play. During the time we were losing the weight we, no doubt, changed our behavior to include more exercise, more activities away from food and the kitchen, or if in the kitchen we learned to eat nutritious meals and choose our foods more wisely than before. We also taught ourselves that our lives do not revolve around food. While maintaining our weight we have to remember these important things and continue on with our patterns we have learned over the last few months until they become second nature.

Ask yourselves a few questions before diving into that ice cream. (1) Do you feel better eating nutritious foods rather than junk food? (2) Your stomach feels empty and you're tired of it, but do you feel better stuffed to the point of becoming sick? (3) Would you rather feel and look better as you are now or overeat and wear bigger clothes again? (4) Do you really want to give up your sense of pride over your new accomplishment? (5) Do you really want to be overweight? Really?

Give yourself some time, chances are if you really feel better now, this mood will pass. And, even if you slip and gain a couple of pounds, you can always begin again knowing you can do it and this time there won't be that much to lose. Each day is an opportunity for a "New Beginning".

LEGEND OF THE BLUEBELL

The earth was rich with beauty

That first Easter long ago.
For the Son of God had risen.

But the world was yet to know.

And so to tell of Jesus Christ.

The resurrected King.
God made a flower like a bell

And made each bell to ring.

The heavens' soft reflection

Turned each little bell to blue.

Then they pealed the heavenly message

Until the whole world knew!

LEGEND OF THE EASTER SUNRISE

On that fateful Friday when Christ died, the veil of the temple was rent, the earth quaked ominously and was plunged into a terrible darkness.

But three days after His death, Christ rose again from the dead, just as He had prophesied. The angel, standing guard at the tomb announced, "He is risen, He is not here." Suddenly over all the earth, a glorious dawn broke. The sky was streaked with many hues of rose and gold, the sun burst forth over the land, and the people were struck by its dazzling beauty. And although they were unaware of the miracle which had occurred, they marveled at this sight. Their spirits were lifted with new hope and promise, and they rejoiced.

And since that time, the Easter sunrise has been a glorious reminder that Christ, the Son of God, is truly risen.

A new printing press was installed at the Akron News office Saturday and is now in operation daily in the printing department of the shop. The new press a Little Giant manufactured by the Weberderfer-Wills Company of Mount Vernon, New York, is the last word in printing machinery. It is one of their eleven by seventeen inch sizes, and is often referred to as the "magic cylinder." The press is completely automatic and will feed sheets of paper up to 11 inch sizes, and is often referred to as the "Magic cylinder."

Once it is set in operation, all that the printer has to do is check the finished product and make minor operating adjustments. The machine was installed for the purpose of printing the school annuals which the local shop is getting out of several schools. Tedgie Bradway will operate the new machine.

LAMB CAKE IS EASY TO BAKE, DECORATE

Decorated lamb cake is Easter treat.

Add tradition to your Easter table with an appealing lamb cake that is easy to bake and decorate.

Even beginning bakers can create an attractive cake with a Lovable Lamb pan and other shaped pans made by Wilton, plus a box of cake mix and buttercream icing. Easy-to-follow baking and decorating instructions are included with the pan, so the baked cake can have a decorative coating of buttercream icing or can be simply trimmed with icing swirls, shredded coconut and jelly beans.

To make your Easter holiday sweeter, look for Wilton shaped pans, decorating bags and tips at local department, specialty, discount, supermarket, and drug stores.

Here's a simple Lemon Lamb Cake recipe.

LEMON LAMB CAKE

- 1 package 2-layer white cake mix
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
- 1/3 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 package (3 ounces) lemon pudding mix (not instant), prepared per package directions, cooled

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour Wilton lamb pan. Prepare cake mix as directed, substituting 1/2 cup thawed lemonade concentrate for 1/2 cup water. Stir in lemon rind. Pour into pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool on rack 10 minutes. Put wire rack over top of cake, hold the rack and pan together and flip over; lift off pan.

Mix remaining lemonade concentrate and confectioners' sugar. Gently pierce center of warm cake with fork; do not pierce within 1-inch of edge. Drizzle lemonade mixture over cake; spread with fork until liquid is absorbed. Let cake cool completely before filling, icing, and decorating.

To assemble cake, cut lamb cake horizontally into 2 layers. Use a cake board or flat cookie sheet as a large spatula to lift and transfer top layer. Put bottom layer on serving plate. Fill decorating bag with icing and squeeze out icing about 3/4-inch around outside edge of bottom layer to keep filling in place. Spread 3/4 cup lemon filling inside icing. Top with second layer.

Decorate according to instructions with pan or spread icing with spatula, sprinkle with coconut and decorate with candies.

Fingerprinting became a scientific method of identification in the 1880s, when Sir Francis Galton proved mathematically that no two persons could have exactly the same fingerprint patterns.

National Cooking Contest Hatches "Eggceptional" Recipes!

Culinary competitors across the country opened egg cartons and created "eggiting" recipes for American Egg Board's 1987 National Egg Cooking Contest!

State egg-promotion organizations held local contests to select the blue-ribbon main dish egg recipes that would represent their states in national competition.

A panel of food experts equally considered nutritional quality, ease of preparation, taste appeal, appearance and creativity when determining the winners of the $4,000 first prize, $2,000 second prize and $1,000 third prize in national contest adult and junior/senior high school divisions.

Mexitalian Egg Pizza, which combines a South-of-the-border egg filling with Italian-style toppings, won Laurie Ann Braun of Marietta, Georgia second place in the junior division. One taste and you'll agree that this cross-cultural dish is a winner!

Mexitalian Egg Pizza

6 servings

- 1 can (10 oz.) refrigerated pizza crust
- 4 eggs
- 1 can (4 oz.) chopped green chilies, well drained
- 2 teaspoons taco seasoning mix
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped broccoli, thawed, drained and pressed
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) sliced drained pitted ripe olives
- 1 medium tomato, thinly sliced and drained
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese
- Oregano to taste

Pat pizza dough evenly across bottom of greased 12-inch pizza pan and form a rim. Beat together 4 eggs, chilies and seasoning. Pour into dough-lined pan, spreading evenly. Top with hard-cooked eggs, broccoli and olives.

Bake in preheated 425° F. oven until eggs are set and crust is golden brown, about 18 to 20 minutes. Evenly top with tomato slices and sprinkle with cheese. Broil about 6 inches from heat until cheese is melted, about 3 to 4 minutes. Sprinkle with oregano. Cut into wedges and serve immediately.

To receive a copy of the "1987 National Egg Cooking Contest Winning Recipes" leaflet, simply send a stamped, self-addressed business-sized envelope to: The Incredible Edible Egg #16, P.O. Box 765, Park Ridge, IL 60068-0765. Planning to stir up your own recipe for success in 1988? The first step toward national honors is to enter your state egg cooking contest, if available. Each state holding a contest has specific guidelines and entry deadlines. Contact the egg promotion organization or Department of Agriculture in your state for more information.

Rural Rhymes

by Esther C. Adams

When I think of Easter
And Good Friday and The Cross,
How the Blessed Saviour
Gave His life for souls so lost.

And each Blessed Easter,
Brings faith and hope anew,
Strength to carry on life's battles,
His help in all we do.

And with each passing Easter,
How thankful we can be.
For the Blessed Saviour,
Who died for me and thee.

Severe weather definitions

1. Tornado. A violently rotating column of air usually forming a pendant from a cumulonimbus cloud, whose circulation reaches the ground. It nearly always starts as a funnel cloud and may be accompanied by a loud roaring noise. On a local scale it is the most destructive of all atmospheric phenomena.

2. Funnel Cloud. A rotating column of air forming a pendant from a cumulus or cumulonimbus cloud, whose circulation does not reach the ground.

Note: Using the phrase funnel cloud aloft is redundant. Do not use the phrase tornado aloft when talking about a funnel. By definition a tornado reaches the ground and cannot be aloft.

3. Severe Thunderstorm. A thunderstorm accompanied by winds (sustained or gusts) of 58 mph or more and hail of 3/4 inch diameter or larger. Structural wind damage may be used to infer the occurrence of a severe thunderstorm.

4. Squall Line. A line of thunderstorms or squalls which may extend over several hundred miles.

5. Waterspout. A rotating column of air usually forming a pendant from a cumulus or cumulonimbus cloud, which forms over a body of water, and whose circulation reaches the water.

6. Downburst. A strong downdraft from a cumulonimbus cloud which induces damaging winds on or near the ground.

7. Macroburst. A large downburst with the diameter of outflow 2 1/2 miles or larger and damaging winds lasting 5 to 20 minutes. Intense macrobursts can cause tornado-force damage.

8. Microburst. A small downburst with the diameter of outflow less than 2 1/2 miles and peak winds lasting only 2 to 5 minutes. They may induce dangerous wind and downflow wind shears which can affect aircraft performance.

9. Flash Flood. A flood which follows a heavy or excessive rainfall, a dam or levee failure, or sudden release of water impounded by an ice jam, within a few hours. There is nothing in the weather service definition that says a flash flood must be a "wall of water."

10. Tornado/Severe Thunderstorm Watch. A release for public, marine and aviation interests, prepared by the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, indicating Tornadoes/Severe Thunderstorms are possible. A Tornado Watch implies severe thunderstorms are possible or occurring.

11. Tornado/Severe Thunderstorm Warning. Releases issued by local National Weather Service Offices to warn the public of an existing tornado/severe thunderstorm or of one suspected to be in existence.

Easter, a principal ecclesiastical event of the year, gets its name from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess whose festival was celebrated in the spring.

Her name was given to the Christian festival because, according to legend, she opened the portals of Valhalla to receive the White God and Sun God representing purity and light.

The Christian observance, this year on April 3rd, is a symbol of the Resurrection; it is, however, intertwined with religious customs and observances dating back hundred of years before Christ.

The Easter egg became associated with Easter because eggs were forbidden to be eaten during Lent On Easter Sunday they were traditionally served.

The Easter egg, though, dates back to the Egyptians and Persians, ad also the Greeks and Romans, who ate eggs annually at spring festivals.

It's appropriate for Christians that Easter come in the spring, when the renewal of life is apparent. Sunrise services in churches, an observance of recent origin in most churches, symbolizes the Resurrection.

Scenic vacations offered in Indiana

Hoosiers who enjoy touring the state by automobile should take advantage of two officially designated scenic routes that highlight Indiana's breathtaking landscapes and retrace its rich history:

The Ohio River Scenic Route is a 58 mile trip that winds from Aurora to Madison, with State Roads 56 and 156 tying together these historic river towns. Travelers can enjoy viewing various bridges, Aurora's Hillforest Mansion, and numerous other sites reminiscent of the bustling river commerce that characterized the southeastern tip of Indiana.

In the northern section of the state, the Lake Michigan Circle Tour takes the traveler on a 1,100 mile trip of scenic beauty through Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. The drive along the southern tip of Lake Michigan on U.S. Highway 12 provides all types of features, from art galleries to zoos. Hoosier wanderers will encounter colorful local history, stately mansions and magnificent shoreline scenery.

Each scenic route is officially designated by the state highway department or is federally named, and is marked by specific "Scenic Route" signs.

In Fashion

Hats are making a strong comeback in this spring's fashion scene. With a more feminine trend in fashions, hats are necessary to complement this trend.

Hat fabrics range from straw, linen, and organza to leather and plastic which give a wide variety to enhance one's outfit. Flowers, fruit and ribbon are used for special effects.

Ladies' spring shawls are a must for cool spring nights. These 50-inch square shawls come in black, white and pastels. Some feature scalloped edges or fringe.

Businesses donate books

Aaron Taylor, Chrissy Homan, and Jeff Barnes are shown receiving their gift books from Marvin Gagnon and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Walgamuth. Mr. Gagnon and the Walgamuths have given the books to the children in conjunction with the Youth Development Program. (NEWS Photo)

The Sixth grade students at Akron Elementary School listed below received a gift-book titled The Way To Go. Those donating the books to the students were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Walgamuth of Akron Concrete Products and Mr. Marvin Gagnon of Gagnon Chevrolet.

Presented to them by the civic-minded leaders in this community, The Way To Go is the centerpiece of the Youth Development Program. Many communities throughout the nation are participating in this program.

The Program is described as being a response to a growing concern felt by parents and others throughout the nation. Too often, it is maintained, young people are the innocent victims of harmful influences that undermine the sound values parents are trying to teach their children in the home. National statistics on drug and alcohol related accidents involving teenagers, on missing children, teenage pregnancies, teenage suicides, are cause for alarm. The great majority of parents do not have these problems.

Nonetheless, they worry about them: peer pressure is a strong influence on young people.

Changes made in laws for commercial vehicles

Bureau of Motor Vehicles Commissioner, Charles Layton reminded commercial vehicle owner/operators of recent changes which affect their operations. The new regulations were adopted by the 1988 Indiana General Assembly.

Registrations for vehicles under the International Registration Plan for the 1987 plate year will expire on March 31, 1988. The March 31 extension is effective for plates expiring in 1988 and subsequent years. The extension was granted to aid owners who were unable to meet the application deadline established by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Beginning April 1, owners or lessees of Tractors used with a semitrailer will experience an increase in fees from $10 to $350, with the greater increase realized on heavier vehicles. The new fees are listed below and will also be posted in all license branch offices:

Declared Gross Weight (pounds).

Greater than 0 - Equal to or less than 20,000 - fee $170.; 20,000-26,000, $310.; 26,000-30,000, $390.; 30,000-36,000, $495.; 36,000-42,000 $545.; 42,000-48,000, $660.; 48,000-54,000, $715.; 54,000-60,000, $800.; 60,000-66,000 $865.; 66,000-72,000, $975.; 72,000-74,000, $1,050.; 74,000-76,000, $1,165.; 76,000-78,000, $1,240.; 78,000 and over, $1,350.

Trucks, intercity and intracity buses with a declared gross weight over 30,000 pounds are also subject to fee changes.

Beginning January 1, 1989 5-year commercial vehicle plates will be available in addition to one year plates.

Questions concerning fee changes may be directed to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles Registration department.

New advantage for farmers

Driving two tractors at once would be too much for most farmers to handle, but driving one machine that does the work of two is a different story.

A recent Ohio State University survey shows many farmers have taken advantage of new technology to save time, labor and fuel costs. Twenty-two percent of the Ohio grain producers answering the survey spent less than an hour working each of their acres, compared to an average of 1.8 hours. Farm machinery budgets currently in use often assume the farmer will spend three to four hours per acre.

One of the ways farmers are improving their productivity is through the use of tractors equipped with dual power take-off (PTO) shafts and three-point hitches. By mounting implements on the front and back of these machines, two jobs can be done in a single pass over a field.

"Doubling up field operations with front- and rear-mounted implements saves farmers a lot of time, labor and fuel," remarks Bill Templeton, Deutz-Allis vice president of marketing. "Pushing front-mounted equipment also provides better visibility and control, full use of tractor horsepower and traction and a shorter turning radius than pulling several units behind the machine."

"The applications are limited only by the operator's imagination," Templeton adds. "Possible combinations include a front chemical sprayer and rear row-crop planter; a front bale stacker and rear bale fork; front rotary stalk cutter and rear chisel plow; front hay rake and rear round baler; front snow-thrasher and rear blade; or front-and-back mowers."

Deutz-Allis introduced front and rear PTO machines to North America with its popular Twin-Power tractors. "See your Deutz-Allis dealer about this option on tractors for 43 to 122 PTO hp," Templeton says.

LAWN LORE

The Dandelion Wars And Other Springtime Activities

You witness it every spring. Across the suburban landscape, the stout-hearted troops of lawnowners diligently cutting, pulling, digging — trying to rid their lawns of springtime's perennial invader, the dandelion.

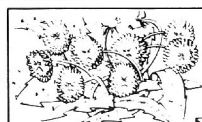

Never mind the hand-to-weed combat. Because pulling, cutting and digging just won't do the job, according to the lawn experts at The O.M. Scott & Sons Company. To get rid of dandelions once and for all, you have to eliminate the entire plant, including the taproot, which can penetrate the ground more than two feet. If part of it remains in the ground, the dandelion will simply grow back again.

So during the first days of spring, take a few minutes to spread a selective broadleaf control that destroys dandelions and other common broadleaf weeds such as clover, plantain, buckhorn and chickweed. According to the experts at Scott's, this will get rid of lawn spoilers without harming desirable turfgrasses.

The best time to rid your lawn of pesky dandelions in the spring is when they have blossomed but have not reached puffball stage. This is also an ideal time to spread a high quality weed-'n'-feed that not only destroys dandelions, but also fertilizes your lawn.

Scott's offers the following suggestions to ensure excellent results when using broadleaf weed controls:

- Apply the weed control on a calm day when the grass is wet from morning dew or sprinkling. (Dew provides the ideal application environment.)

- Pick a day when rain is not forecast for at least 24 hours. The weed control particles must adhere to the leaves that long to work effectively.

- Be sure to overlap applications so that no areas are missed.

- Stay off the lawn for at least a day, so that the weed control has ample time to do its job without disturbance.

Within a few days, you'll notice the dandelions will begin to shrivel. In a month, they'll be gone. To keep your lawn thick and green, keep it well fertilized and watered. Then the good grass will actually crowd out new dandelions and other weeds.

Modern weed control products make it simple and easy to win the dandelion war.

Scott's offers a wide range of lawn products that are custom-made for your region and its weather, soil, grass and weed conditions. These products are developed and tested on regional grass varieties at five Scott's research stations across the country.

Hoosier fishing's fine

The Department of Natural Resources is forecasting an excellent 1988 fishing season in Indiana. To help anglers locate the state's fishing hotspots, the DNR will again offer a fishing hotline, along with an April special on the department's nearly 300 depth maps of Hoosier lakes.

Beginning March 31, anglers can call 317-232-4002 to hear a report of what fish are biting where and when in Indiana waters. The report can be heard 24 hours daily and is updated each Thursday afternoon with information obtained from fisheries biologists and lake personnel. The call is not toll free.

Featured in the fishing report are DNR's reservoirs and lakes located at state fish and wildlife areas, forests, state parks. Also included in the report are lake depths, water conditions and successful baits.

During the month of April, the DNR's Map Sales Section is offering anglers a special map package. Any person buying five of the nearly 300 depth maps stocked gets an additional map of his or her choice free. The depth maps cost $2.10 each and show a lake's depths, shoreline contours and stream channels.

Financing program of incentives to be provided

An alternative financing demonstration program will provide low-interest money for energy savings to industrial and commercial businesses and agricultural producers.

The loans can be used for energy conservation, Indiana resource development and renewable energy projects.

Any for-profit business or agricultural producer currently doing business in Indiana or who will be operating in the state as a result of their proposed project is eligible to apply for this pilot program.

There are several eligible projects for this program, including boiler replacements, coal-fired gas turbine systems, biomass projects, heating, ventilation and air conditioning replacements or conversions, renewable energy grain-drying systems.

Ten million dollars in funds from the Exxon Oil Overcharge Settlement are available for this program.

The Indiana Energy Development Board, a group of government, business and education leaders from around the state, will approve the applications.

This program is in its preliminary stages right now and the guidelines being set are contingent upon the number and rate of applications received.

Each application will be reviewed for technical and economic feasibility. The EDB will be particularly sensitive to the applicant's ability to secure additional financing to supplement the state's level of participation. This will serve to stretch Indiana's funding while ensuring that the applicant has a meaningful financial stake in the project they are proposing. Only projects which will be located within Indiana will be eligible for consideration.

Agricultural producers are required to match 25 percent of the project cost and industrial and commercial businesses must match 50 percent of the project cost. The loans must be repaid in ten years or less.

Before a loan is approved, the applicant will be required to participate in a technical energy analysis of the building or project in order to determine the conservation techniques that will be used to maximize the return on investment of renewable resources.

Projects involving this fund should demonstrate the ability to increase energy use efficiently, utilize Indiana's natural resources and the ability to utilize renewable energy resources.

The projects must use commercially available and reliable technologies with the minimum and maximum loan amounts ranging from $4,000 to $1,500,000. The projects must be completed within one year of the closing date of the loan with repayment made within ten years or less from the closing loan date.

For further information on the Alternative Financing Demonstration Program, contact the Indiana Energy Development Board, Division of Energy Policy, Indiana Department of Commerce, One North Capitol Suite, 700, Indianapolis, IN 46204-2288. Phone 317-232-8818.

Parents, peers, public hinder teen's recovery

by Bill Brooks

Teen years are tough. Ask any parent. Ask any teenager.

Adding alcohol or other drugs makes them worse. What are the main obstacles to teens trying to stay sober after treatment?

Terri Demoret, Crawfordsville (Indiana) Community School Corporation substance abuse counselor, lists them: 1. Parents; 2. Peers; 3. Public Attitude.

"By public attitude," Mrs. Demoret says, "I include school administrations but I hasten to add: Not ours! Our county is the only one in the state with a Say No to Drugs group in every school. But schools with no real backing for kids who try to recover and stay sober will find the same problems recurring."

Mrs. Demoret says parents and young people agree that while in treatment, they want family counseling, Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous, the whole bit, but when treatment is finished, the same apathy sets in as before, particularly with parents, the No. 1 problem.

"Parents put all the responsibility on the young person," she says, "without carrying through their own recovery as well. I was one of those parents who didn't follow through. When young people come out of treatment they are expected to have responsibility which they never had in the first place because they were never TAUGHT responsibility. This, of course, does not free the teenager from his/her responsibility of recovery."

She maintains that many parents say to a teenager just out of treatment, "Now it's up to you. Don't come whining to me." Parents, in her opinion, don't have an acceptance of the young person's feelings of helplessness and vulnerability. The urge to drink or use drugs is still there but parents think treatment removes all desire to drink/drug and "fixes" the young person, making him/her almost super-human.

"Young people won't go to parents who expect them to be perfect. They internalize this for so long that they finally fulfill the prophecy and DO drink or drug. I used to feel that, to be a good parent, I had to be a friend, then I found the quotation 'God made you parents, not friends, because friends will let your kids do things that you love them too much to let them do.'"

No. 2 obstacle, according to Mrs. Demoret, is peers. When teenagers come back from treatment to the old environment, peer groups are still the same. Drug users look down their nose on sober ones and non-users still find recovering friends hard to accept.

One high school sophomore put it this way: "My old drug-using friends want me to use with them. When I won't, they drop me. My new friends are the ones in A.A. and N.A. That's it. I have to change friends, lifestyle, everything. It's rough!"

Point No. 3: Public. "We have pigeonholed these youngsters," Mrs. Demoret says, "because they don't conform to our standards of respectability - dress, hair, etc. - and we keep believing 'once a druggie, always a druggie.' After a while the teenager thinks 'What do I have to DO to convince these people I've changed?' The public says, 'Change your appearance to what is acceptable and then we'll believe it', while the young people say there are 'acceptable' kids who are drinking and using."

Mrs. Demoret says A.A. and N.A. meetings are encouraged in middle school and high school. "If one of our drug-free support group members has a relapse for the first time, he or she is suspended from the group until he/she brings a signed slip from an adult member of an A.A. or N.A. group that he/she has attended at least one meeting. This is not punitive. It's just based on the fact that there is no long-term sobriety without A.A. or N.A."

She concludes: "The single most important thing for parents to remember is to forget sentences that start 'If it weren't for you...' and 'How can you...' and 'Because of you...' and 'If only you had...' and 'Why can't you be more like your brother (sister, cousin, etc.)?'"

Homes can be potential hazardous waste sites

Attorney General Linley Pearson says many Hoosiers have become concerned about hazardous wastes in the environment but do not realize their homes are potential hazardous waste sites.

"Many times people store chemicals such as cleaning solutions and weed killers in their basements and garages," Pearson says. "These chemicals can be deadly if ingested by children."

The same can be said for medicines in bathroom or kitchen cabinets. If they are used by the person for whom they were prescribed, they are safe. But if they are taken by the wrong person, tragedy can result.

Hoosiers should make a careful inspection of all potentially dangerous products in their bathrooms, kitchens and garages. When checking the garage, make certain automotive supplies, such as oil, antifreeze, transmission fluid and car wax are placed out of the reach of children. If gasoline or kerosene is kept in the garage, make sure it is properly labeled and stored away from a pilot light on a furnace.

Make certain all items are labeled and are in their original containers instead of soft drink bottles or other containers.

Consumers should also look for paint, paint thinner and turpentine, and make certain they are kept away from flames. Fumes can be poisonous when combined.

Potentially hazardous items should be stored in child-resistant containers, particularly those in kitchen cabinets and medicine cabinets, where children have easy access.

Cleaning products stored in kitchen or bathroom cabinets, such as furniture polish, drain cleaners, oven cleaners, bleach and detergents, should have safety packaging to keep children from opening the containers.

Consumers should make certain cleaning solutions are stored away from food.

In the bathroom, make certain medicines are disposed of if their expiration date has passed. When disposing of medicines which have passed their expiration date, flush them down the toilet instead of tossing them in a refuse can.

Medicine prescribed for adults should not be stored in a place where children can get to them.

All medicines should be stored in child-resistant caps if children are in the home. An exception to this rule might be an elderly person who has difficulty opening a prescription bottle.

Also, make certain all medicines are in their original containers, stating the time and dosage for the medication. Without the original label and container, a person could not be certain of what they were taking. Always turn on the light when taking medicines to insure a proper dosage.

"Hospitals in most communities have poison control centers and consumers should write down the telephone number and keep it near the phone in case of an emergency," Pearson says.

FIGHT HOUSEHOLD ODORS AND GERMS

You can fight germs in your home—even when you can't see them. There are many places—and ways—to fight back.

• Garbage cans can be deodorized and disinfected by mixing 3/4 cup liquid chlorine bleach to each gallon of water. Swish the solution over the inside. Wait five minutes, rinse.

• To deodorize the cat box: Empty box and scrape out clinging litter. Add 3/4 cup liquid chlorine bleach to each gallon of water. Scrub the inside of the box with the solution. Let stand five minutes and rinse with clear water.

• Your refrigerator can be cleaner if you use liquid chlorine bleach. To clean inside and outside your refrigerator simply wipe with a solution of 3/4 cup liquid chlorine bleach for each gallon of warm water. Rinse and air dry for a few minutes.

• Toilet bowl cleaning can be easier if you use 3/4 cup chlorine bleach and a long-handled toilet bowl brush. The bowl will be cleaner, smell fresher and stay disinfected longer.

One of the best-known, and trusted, brands of chlorine bleach is Clorox liquid bleach. Both Regular and Fresh Scent Clorox liquid bleach effectively kill germs and odors and can be used to economically clean, disinfect and remove tough stains all around the house.

CHILD WITH PERIODONTAL DISEASE

If you've noticed that your child has swollen gums that tend to bleed when he is brushing, this could be an early sign of periodontal disease and should be treated without delay.

Periodontal disease is an infection of the gums and other tissues that support the teeth. This is much more common in adults but no less serious when it happens to children. It is caused by plaque or bacteria that forms along the gum line, making the gums swollen and tender. Left untreated, the plaque will harden into calculus or tartar, increasing the decay area and infection. This causes the gums to separate from the teeth, leaving pockets for the further spread of decay and infection. Eventually periodontal disease attacks and destroys the bones that support the teeth, causing the affected teeth to loosen and fall out.

Protect your child's health with regular dental checkups and seek treatment whenever a sign of dental health problems, such as bleeding gums, appears.

By H. DEAN EVANS

For too long, Indiana's educational system has been driven by minimums. We operate within minimum graduation requirements, minimum instructional time requirements, minimum achievement standards for students and so forth. We have done little to provide incentives to students to achieve and perform above these minimums.

An incentive program for student achievement has been implemented to help change this pattern of relying on minimum standards. The Academic Honors Diploma, as approved by the State Board of Education, encourages and rewards students who pursue a rigorous, advanced course of study during the high school years. Beginning in the 1989-1990 school year, all schools will be required to offer this choice to students, but many schools are offering it beginning with the 1988 graduates.

I believe parents should be aware of this opportunity and encourage their children to consider this alternative. The extra effort students put forth to earn the Academic Honors Diploma will help them to develop strong character -- hard work builds self-esteem and determination, not to mention the benefits derived from a more rigorous curriculum. I am convinced this extra effort will carry throughout their lives and lead to other successes.

The Academic Honors Diploma is available to any and all students who wish to pursue the challenge expected of them. It is not intended to be limited to only the very few and top academically talented students; rather the State Board hopes a broad range of students will be encouraged to actively pursue this diploma.

Earning this diploma requires a student to earn at least nine credits over and above the 38 required for graduation, or a total of 47 credits. It is also understood that the course selected will be academically challenging. Specific requirements are:

English/Language Arts, 8 credits; Social Studies, 6 credits; Mathematics, 8 credits; Science, 6 credits; Foreign Language, 6 or 8 credits; Fine Arts, 2 credits; Health and Safety, 1 credit; Basic Physical Education, 1 credit; and Electives, 7 or 9 credits.

A student must have an accumulative grade point average of at least a "B" for all courses completed during the high school years to be eligible for the Academic Honors Diploma. Also, only courses in which a student has earned a grade of "C" or above may count toward this diploma. Each student who achieves these standards will be awarded a seal to be affixed to the diploma and each school corporation will note the awarding of an Academic Honors Diploma on the student's grade transcript.

The State Board recognizes that few students are academically talented in every subject area taught in high school; but that many students have the desire and ambition to seek the highest and most challenging opportunities of schooling available to them. The Academic Honors Diploma is one way to acknowledge their dedication and hard work.

This advanced course of study may become the standard, or "norm," curriculum in the 21st Century in Indiana and across the country. Increased graduation requirements are replacing outdated minimums and many states and schools are moving toward this rigorous curriculum. In fact, U.S. Secretary of Education William J. Bennett recently released his "core curriculum" and it is interesting to note that our Academic Honors Diploma closely parallels Secretary Bennett's proposals.

Parents and students should contact local school administrators and guidance counselors for more information about the Academic Honors Diploma.

April 1988

The second quarter of the year begins with April. Easter is on the 3rd.

On the 6th in 1917, Congress declared war on Germany, which doomed the Kaiser and the German monarchy. The punitive peace which followed eventually produced Adolf Hitler.

On the same day in 1830, the Mormon Church was founded.

On the 9th in 1865, General Robert E. Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia, at Appomattox, Virginia, to a generous U.S. Grant.

The 10th is the birthday anniversary of the founder of the Salvation Army, William Booth.

The famed Halifax (N.C.) resolutions, calling for independence, date from the 12th in 1776, and influenced the Continental Congress later that year to follow the Halifax example.

One of the greatest Americans and for eight years (1800-1808) President, Thomas Jefferson, was born at Shadwell, Virginia, on the 13th in 1743.

Choir to present Easter cantata

The choir of the Akron Church of God will be performing the cantata "The Third Day" Sunday, April 3, at 7:00 p.m. The public is invited.

Valley gals on TRC ball team

Co-Three Rivers Conference tying league champions Northfield and Tippecanoe Valley dominated the first team selections on the all-conference basketball team voted by the league's coaches.

The Vikings and Norsemen, accounted for five of the seven first-team selections.

The Vikings placed seniors Jody Yochum, Leslie Miller and Lori Gray on the first team. Joining the three Vikings were Northfield's Tina Hinrichsen and Bernadine Donaldson. Other members of the first team were Manchester's Jenny Freiden and Whitko's Angie Collier.

The Viking girls helped to lead their team to the most wins in a season in the school's history as the squad ended with a 15-4 record. The squad set 21 team and individual records this past season, with the three seniors leading the way.

Yochum ended her high school basketball career as the school's second all-time leading scorer. She led the team this season in scoring with a 16.6 average. She also was one of the top three-point shooters in the area as she made 32 of 74 from long range.

Miller ended her career in third place on the school's all-time scoring list. The 5-foot-9 senior averaged 15.2 points a game despite missing part of the season with an ankle injury.

Gray, a 5-8 senior, ended her career in eighth place on the TVHS all-time scoring list. She ended the season with a 12.1 average and was also slowed down part of the year with an ankle injury.

April Fool!

April Fool is a mystery in history. No one is quite sure how the custom began. One theory centers on ancient France.

April Fooling became customary in France after the adoption of the reformed calendar by Charles IX in 1564, which made the year begin January 1.

Previously, people had exchanged New Year's gifts on April 1 (under the old calendar).

Some objected to the change and were sometimes mocked by jokers who sent them gifts on April 1.

A person fooled on April 1 in France is known as a poisson d'avril - an April fish.

In the eighteenth century April Fool's Day became established in England, and was brought to America by early settlers.

In the U.S. it has become customary to fool one's associates, "for a laugh, on the first day of April.
