Kathryn Hartzler retiring

Kathryn Hartzler

Kathryn Hartzler retires as Republican Chairman, after thirteen years in the party hierarchy, she will give up her chairmanship, when the vice chairmanship and precinct committeemen gather to meet on March 4, at city hall.

In a interview with Kathryn on Thursday she said, "It's time to leave when you have the support of the people you help put into office, and new blood and new ideas are always good in any organization."

Mrs. Hartzler joined the GOP as vice chairman in May of 1976.

There were many highlights in Mrs. Hartzler career, one was the Republican National Convention last year as an official delegate of Indiana. But her main concern has always been on the local level. Mrs. Hartzler said, "Today you have the most honest and civil minded politicians, they are ones that want to make a difference, the day of back room politics is a thing of the past."

Mrs. Hartzler was the first women GOP chairman in Fulton County and was 5th District republican secretary for six years.

Mrs. Hartzler will give advice if asked to the candidates and to whoever her successor is.

Easter Seals

James Atherton

James Atherton of Anderson, President of the Indiana Easter Seal Society, has announced the name of the 1989 Indiana Easter Seal Child.

Ryan Kempf of Huntingburg, Indiana, was selected as this year's state Easter Seal Child. Ryan will represent all those individuals that receive Easter Seal services throughout Indiana. Born with cerebral palsy, Ryan is the son of John and Janie Kempf.

Ryan, a first grade student, is a very outgoing child, who always has a smile for everyone. His personality is the reason the Dubois County Easter Seal Society submitted his name as a candidate for the Indiana Easter Seal Child. Ryan believes Easter made the right choice.

Ryan's first official function will take place on Wednesday, March 1, 1989, at 3:30 p.m.. Ryan will join the Easter Seal Society President James Atherton, to present the first sheet of Easter Seals for 1989 to Governor Evan Bayh. The presentation will mark the official beginning of the 1989 Easter Seal Campaign.

The campaign, to raise funds to provide direct assistance to individuals with disabilities in Indiana, will continue through Easter Sunday, March 26, 1989.

Indiana Flower and Patio Show

"The Magic of Spring" will fill the air early this year when The 31st Annual Flower & Patio Show opens in Indianapolis on March 11, 1989. Over 200,000 visitors are expected to come and see the Midwest's largest display of lawn and garden creations under one roof.

This annual Hoosier tradition will welcome winter-weary visitors to the sights and smells of beautiful fresh flowers, shrubs and blooming trees, and sounds of waterfalls and fountains.

Visitors to the show will be thrilled to see 15 all new Patio and Flower Gardens which have been designed by the outstanding landscaping professionals of the midwest, who will be available to answer questions.

This year the informative and entertaining cooking school will be entitled, "Simply Gourmet - It's His Turn." Sponsored by O'Malia Food Markets, the cooking school will feature Beverly Lynch and Tom Mathey. There will also be daily floral design demonstrations, and questions and answer sessions with Marion County Operative Extension Horticulturist, Dick Crum.

A shopping bonanza will be presented by 221 shops which will display the latest in new products, services and home decorations. Shoppers can stroll the carpeted aisles at their leisure and enjoy the variety of products on display.

Miss Indiana, Joni McMechan, will be crowned Queen on opening day, March 11th, at 2 p.m.

Want your tax return faster?

Did you know your tax return can be sent directly to the Internal Revenue Service's computers over telephone lines? Through the Electronic Filing Systems (EFS), taxpayers expecting a refund can have their check issued up to 3 weeks faster than the average "paper" tax return. In addition to faster processing, taxpayers who file electronically can elect to have their refunds deposited directly to their checking or savings accounts. Last year, over 62,000 Hoosiers took advantage of this system to speed up their refunds.

To participate in electronic filing, you must contact a professional who has met IRS requirements. Check local advertising for participating transmitters. IRS reports there are over 300 offices who have applied to participate in Indiana.

MARCH

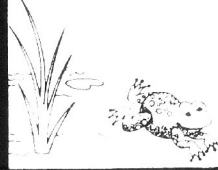

March is a fickle month,
Just can't make up it's mind.
To give us lots more winter
Or leave it all behind.

Now the sun is shining,
Now the wind doth blow.
Now it is cloudy,
Just look at it snow.

Some days it is springtime,
And the frogs will croak.
Next day it is winter
Spring was all a joke.

Church News

All area church organizations who are interested in participating in the food concessions at the 1989 Farm Progress Show that will take place 3 1/2 miles east of Rochester, IN on Hwy 14 and 1/2 mile north on Country Road 550E in Fulton County on September 26, 27, and 28; are invited to an introductory meeting. At this meeting the show manager, David Roepke, will explain the details of running a Farm Progress Show food tent.

The meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church in Rochester, Indiana. The First Baptist Church is located on 10th street and Main in Rochester. The Meeting will begin at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 8, 1989.

"I will go over details of the concessions and explain how a church can apply," explains show manager Roepke. "It has been a long standing Farm Progress Show policy to give concessions rights solely to local churches."

The food is sold through five food tents. In 1988, fifteen churches were needed to man the five food tents. Some of the larger churches have elected to man a food tent by themselves, while the smaller churches have combined with other churches to share the responsibility and the profits.

In recent years, the net income per church has averaged between $6,000 and $12,000. The fellowship developed within and between churches is oftentimes more important than the monetary opportunities.

"At the end of the meeting, I will hand out applications to interested churches," notes Roepke. "Applications will then be returned at a later meeting."

On January 4, the Fort Wayne Region began testing every unit of donated blood for the presence of HTLV-I antibodies. By February 1, all units of blood in inventory at 54 participating hospitals had also been tested.

HTLV-I is a retrovirus associated with a type of Adult T-cell lymphoma/leukemia as well as a neurological disease (tropical spastic paraparesis) causing paralysis and muscle spasticity. Both diseases are rare in the United States.

American National Red Cross' decision to implement HTLV-I testing resulted from research findings which demonstrated 10 out of 40,000 random blood donors in certain geographical areas may carry the virus. The study also estimated that, without intervention, the virus would be transmitted to perhaps 2,800 of the nation's roughly 4 million transfusion recipients. A small number of those infected could develop disease.

Most HTLV-I positive individuals in this country have been detected in intravenous drug users in New Orleans, New York City, Miami and Atlanta. HTLV-I infections are common in the Pacific Rim countries, the Caribbean basin and Africa.

According to the Region's Medical Director Ranie Koshy, M.D., one of the major reasons for implementing the HTLV-I test is that a person may not experience clinical symptoms of disease anywhere from 20-40 years after infection. If, at all, "The Red Cross is taking a conservative approach," explains Koshy.

"Because there is still much to be learned about HTLV-I. The Food and Drug Administration has a licensed test available and as a responsible organization we felt it would be prudent to utilize the test."

Testing for HTLV-I antibodies actually consists of two tests. The first is a screening test performed at each Regional Blood Center. If the test is repeatedly reactive, a second confirmatory test is conducted at American Red Cross National Headquarters in Washington, D. C. Blood donors will be notified of the possible presence of the HTLV-I virus if their test results are confirmed positives.

Northern Indiana

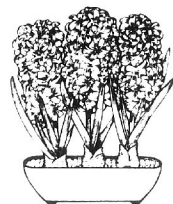

Northern Indiana Public Service Company has provided more than $2 million in loans over the past five years to help customers weatherize their homes.

Through the company's weatherization loan program, customers have received low, 6 percent interest loans for energy conservation projects. Loans are available for adding insulation, storm windows, caulking and weatherstripping as well as other conservation measures.

From $200 to $1,500 can be borrowed under the program with repayment terms of six months to three years, depending on the amount of the loan.

A home energy audit is required for loan recipients. The audit is done by a state-certified energy audit specialist, who spends about two hours examining the home. A written report of the findings and recommendations is made for the homeowner, along with a list of state-approved installers who can provide energy conservation systems.

More information about the weatherization loan program and energy audits can be obtained from a local Northern Indiana office.

LIKE THE MONTH OF MARCH, PEOPLE CAN BE UNPREDICTABLE

March is perhaps the most unpredictable month of the year. It can inflict more snow and freezing temperatures on an already winter-weary population, it can warm up for some balmy spring days, or it can turn unseasonably hot. Along with the inevitable wind, this has given rise to the lion/lamb description of its entry and exit. As we all know, there are some people like that. They can never make up their minds about what they want to do or where they want to go. They just drift along, without any roots or goals, and seldom accomplish anything worthwhile. If you have been floundering in this manner, help is at hand at your House of Worship. Just seek the Lord's guidance and let Him point you in the right direction. He put us all here for a reason, and He knows where we belong. All we have to do is trust Him.

HIGH HOPES FOR JR. HIGH WRESTLING

Jr. High wrestling has 24 boys in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades. The team is combined from both Mentone and Akron kids. "This sport is unique," said Coach Randall, "it puts a Mentone and Akron kids together on one team instead of competing against each other like other sports in Jr. high."

The team consist of weights between 95 and 245. Jason Engle, being the smallest did very well last year in wrestling. He ended the year in the White River Games in Indianapolis, he won the regional in Fort Wayne to advance to the games in Indianapolis. In the finals he got second in the state being beat by a national freestyle wrestler with the score of 6-3.

Coach Randall expects a lot out of Terry Runyan who is very aggressive and David Sleeth. Shawn Hammond lost 1 or two matches last year and Jason Haines and Dusty Caudill will be the backbone leaders of the team.

Rick Manns, known as Ricky Sticky Manns, is the heavy weight of at 247 pounds.

The future Viking wrestlers have one major goal this year. It is to win the TRC Conference title at Whitko on Saturday, March 11. they also want to wrestle well and repeat the record from two years ago being undefeated.

The team won their first match 43-37, against Triton.

Business support

Partners in Education and Ivy Tech are currently in the process of developing a program which will provide local industries with much needed skilled machinists. The program will take place in two phases beginning with course work designed for entry level machining jobs. The second phase will address specialized courses in computer numerical controlled (CNC) machines. The curriculum has been developed for both phases.

This curriculum will be offered through both Ivy Tech and Warsaw High School's Vocational/Technical Department. Therefore, persons throughout the county will have access to the equipment being purchased.

In order for such a program to begin, however, financial assistance is needed to off-set the beginning costs. The Ivy Tech foundation has agreed to pay 33% of the $157,000 needed, if the remainder of the funds can be raised locally.

John Daffara, Chairman of the Partners in Education program and Advisory Board Member for Ivy Tech has this to say with regard to the program and the funds needed. "If we are successful during the fund-raising drive, then thirteen additional machines, along with accessories, would insure a turnout of qualified employees once they have completed the necessary courses. In addition, Ivy Tech is currently developing a machine polishing program which will be available to Warsaw and Ivy Tech students. Next week we will solicit funds for these programs. With the support of the Kosciusko Development, Inc., the Greater Warsaw Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Partners in Education Program, we should be successful in installing these programs for the community.

E. Multiple users on one meter will be billed at the minimum rate times the number of users for both the water and sewage. On the third month the meter reading will determine the bill for both utilities, but no case will be billed be less than the minimum for each service times the number of users for the period covered.

SUDDEN WISDOM-TOOTH PAIN

If you have a partially erupted wisdom tooth that suddenly begins causing you pain, you should contact your dentist immediately for help. Pericoronitis (infection in the wisdom tooth area) is often caused when food and bacteria are trapped under the gum line. Until a wisdom tooth is fully erupted, it may be difficult to keep it free of food particles which begin to decay and attract bacteria. Unfortunately, partially erupted wisdom teeth tend to decay easily. When the nerve is also infected this can cause the severe pain of toothache.

To help relieve the pain until you get to the dentist, you can rinse your mouth thoroughly with a solution of warm, salt water, usually one teaspoonful of salt to a glass of warm water. Normally, aspirin is not recommended to relieve this pain because it may cause bleeding problems if the tooth has to be extracted.

Any pain caused by a wisdom tooth infection is considered a dental emergency and should be treated as soon as possible by your dentist.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester. Phone 223-3121.

Johnny Rivers at Wagon Wheel

Wagon Wheel Theatre proudly presents one of America's rock and roll legends: Johnny Rivers. Rivers will appear in concert for 2 shows on Sunday, March 19 at 5:00 and 7:30 p.m. at the intimate theatre-in-the-round in Warsaw.

Johnny Rivers is some kind of legend all right. Discovered in the 50's, Rivers was soon writing songs for Ricky Nelson and discovering other talented artists such as Fifth Dimension, Glen Campbell, Jackson Browne and James Taylor.

But fans will know Johnny Rivers best for his string of Top-10 hits recorded in the 1960's and '70's like: "Poor Side of Town," "Secret Agent Man," "Baby, I Need Your Lovin'," "Seventh Son," "Rockin' Pneumonia And The Boogie Woogie Flu," "Tracks Of My Tears" and "Mountain Of Love."

Rivers has been recognized as a major artist in the recording industry with over 17 gold records and two Grammy Awards. He sold over 30 million records and continues to perform in concert with the same energy that propelled him to stardom.

Following the Johnny Rivers concert in March, the Wagon Wheel Theatre will produce the new hit musical "Little Shop of Horrors" on May 5, 6, 10, and 11. Tickets for these events are on sale now at the Wagon Wheel ticket office. Dinner and ticket reservations can be made by calling (219) 267-8041.

The Van Dells

It's a zany gathering of musical talents composed of four guys who actually enjoy their work, audiences, and never heard of the word clock. At times it appears that all are going bonkers on stage, but don't be misled while there is a certain amount of spontaneous adlibbing going on, the performance is tightly choreographed, the timing perfection and it is obvious that these guys are having a ball up there on stage. They are sharp musicians, fleet footed dancers and accomplished singers, with a vocal blend that is superb.

The Van-Dells emphasize the music of the 50's and listening to them one can only mourn the loss of the exuberant innocence and nutty humor which characterized that era. They give the audience a sense of fulfillment in that they select songs for everyone, be it yesterday, today or tomorrow.

Included in their show are tribute numbers to various groups such as the Everly Brothers and Righteous Brothers. Overall The Van-Dells are one act you must see to appreciate.

The Van-Dells will appear at Beef and Boards Dinner Theatre for two dinner shows on Monday and Tuesday, March 6th and 7th. Doors will open at 6:00 p.m. For tickets or more information, call 317-872-9664.

Nancy Honeytree in concert

Nationally known gospel artist, Nancy Honeytree, will be appearing in concert at the SWEETWATER ASSEMBLY OF GOD, Hwy. 114, E., North Manchester, on March 5, 1989 at 6:00 p.m.

Nancy is considered to be a pioneer in the field of contemporary Christian music, recording and singing original gospel songs since 1973. Her songs are a combination of rare honesty and sincere depth that flow from her Christian experience.

Honeytree's songs became theme songs to young Christians during the turbulent '70's. Now her ministry has expanded to include all ages, with a particular message to singles. In her ninth album, "Single Heart," Nancy shared through song how God is challenging her own singleness. Her 10th and best release yet, "Every Single Day," goes even deeper into issues of forgiveness, unconditional surrender to God, divorce recovery, and single parenting. People's hearts are being touched deeply through these sensitive songs, whether they are single or married.

A concert with Nancy Honeytree is a personal experience. Raised with classical and folk music, Nancy brings both musical excellence and relaxed style to the concert stage. The audience will warm to her unique vulnerability.

Plan now to come join the congregation at SWEETWATER ASSEMBLY OF GOD and enjoy a spiritually lifting evening with NANCY HONEYTREE. Refreshments and a nursery will be provided. See you then.

Farmers State Bank has new tax programs

Forrest D. Miner, President of Farmers State Bank, Mentone, announced the availability of tax sheltered savings programs at the bank. He commented that with the increasing need to plan for retirement, Farmers State felt it essential to broaden the services available to members of the community.

Customers will have access to professional counselors trained in retirement planning. Aided by personal computers these counselors will be able to help determine the tax savings generated through the use of various investments. Mr. Miner pointed out that income taxes have increased in 1989, for those over 65 due to the Catastrophic Health Care Act. "Our senior citizens need every tax break they can find!" Mr. Miner said.

Mr. Miner indicated that additional new, exciting financial services will soon be available to the Mentone and Warsaw community through Farmers State Bank and invited everyone to stop by. In closing, Mr. Miner re-emphasized this new service was another indication of Farmers State Bank's continued commitment to offer innovative financial services to the people of Kosciusko and Fulton Counties.

Indiana Board of Education

One year ago, Indiana had the shortest school year in the nation. As a result of action by the Indiana General Assembly, the state has lengthened its school year by five student days, and has reached the national average of 180 days.

Unfortunately for the boys and girls of Indiana, the General Assembly is now considering legislation, which in the aggregate, could cut as many as ten student days from the school year. If this legislation is enacted, our minimum school year would be shorter than it has been since 1967. Such action is educationally unacceptable because the lost student days would be replaced by noninstructional activities, which although important, cannot be as considered as important as classroom learning and achievement. Student learning and achievement must be our primary concern.

Reducing the number of student days is fiscally irresponsible because it represents a breaking of the faith that the state made with the taxpayers two years ago. Indiana taxpayers are paying for 180 student days, and anything less than that is unacceptable.

At a time when many states and nations already exceed 180 days or are considering adding to their school years, and at a time when many leading educators, educational organizations and business organizations are calling for more student time, it is ironic that the proposals presently being considered move Indiana in the opposite direction. Such a move backward assures that Indiana will continue to be a laggard in educational achievement.

The Indiana State Board of Education urges each member of the Indiana General Assembly to support Indiana's students by voting to keep the school year at 180 student days.

Mentone L.A.M.P. students

A group of 12 fifth and sixth grade students at Mentone School competed in the Elementary Knowledge Master Open academic contest on February 8. Fifth grade students were Heather Banghart, Michael Galatcanu, Brenda Jarvis, Quentin Law, Tony Newcomer, Missy Sexton and Heather Sweater. Sixth grade students were David Flora, Chris Jones, Melody Jones, Laura Melton, and Zach Randall. The students are in the school's L.A.M.P. The KMO is a computer disk competition; an Apple II computer asked 100 multiple-choice questions, and the team entered answers. Questions covered academic areas such as world and American history, math, health, fine arts, English and grammar, spelling, science and others. The students enjoyed their first year of competition very much, scoring above the average score of 851 teams participating.

A Classic Mother

A lady who had a daughter in first grade seemed disturbed as she related a question her daughter asked. It seemed her daughter had been studying the early settlers and had asked her mother, "Mom, what was it like to ride in a covered wagon?" I thought it was funny, when it happened to her. But....I got my just dues.

Akron High School was being demolished at the time. I told Chris and Collin their kids would never see where they attended school. I knew the look...."Big deal" they probably thought. So, I brought up Beaver Dam Junior High School where I spent the seventh and eighth grades as an example. They wanted to see where it had been so we drove past what was now an empty yard.

This led to stories of the loaner car my dad drove while his was being repaired. I told the boys the school was gone and so was that Edsel. Both the boys stared at me as if "you rode in a what?!" I repeated the story and Chris said, "They don't make those anymore, Mom." I suddenly realized not only the old school was gone but one make of automobile was also history.

Not to be put in an awkward position, I pointed out the fact that we had compact cars in the 60's just like now. "Oh yeah?" they challenged. "Yeah!" I shouted back and named the Corvair and Studebaker Lark for examples suddenly realizing they weren't made any more either. I cleared my throat and mentioned that old cars can be alright too, like my aunt's 1949 Chrysler with a nifty spotlight. "1949...that means if it's still around it would be almost your age, Mom," Chris said with a twinkle in his eye. "Yes, that must mean we're both classics, Chris" I said so Collin would also hear.

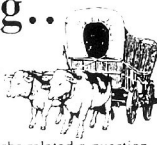

"What else strange has happened to you, Mom?" C.J. asked. I told him of the first time Kleenex tissues were made making handkerchiefs obsolete, 78 records, lawnmowers you had to push - without motors - no less, manual typewriters without correcting ribbons, black and white TV (one per family) instead of color sets...."Boy, it must have been rough" the kids said.

It was kind of nice. I told stories of hearing a train at night in the distance and the groan of windmill blades turning as I dropped off to sleep. The boys weren't bored any longer.

Before our trip ended we rode past where I grew up. The house and barn are gone, the picket fence I remember painting, absent, and trees dying that once made shade for playtime.

I told the boys they would go through this very same thing in the future. How did I know? Because I remember Mom telling me about eating her first hotdog and I'm sure I must have looked as astonished as the boys did the day of our ride. Besides, they already have started a list and haven't realized it included new math, Akron High School, and 45 records.

Me....I'm still trying to imagine life before hotdogs.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

About Feb. 10, 1989, Kenny Grant, president of the Indian Awareness Center, a branch of the Fulton County Historical Society, received word from South Dakota that the Sioux Indian's on the Rosebud Reservation were freezing. So he asked me to put a notice in the newspaper asking people to donate clothing for the Sioux. So I typed up a news release and sent it to the Rochester Sentinel, Shopping Guide News, and Kewanna Observer, also WROL Radio.

The response was tremendous. People came from all over bringing clothing. Matt Galvraith of the South Bend Tribune came and interviewed Kenny and put his picture in the Tribune. So people came down from South Bend to bring clothing too. And two donations of money came from South Bend too, to help pay for gasoline. The Alleluia Christian Lutheran Church, Mishawaka, donated $111. Arlene Trash, South Bend, sent $50.00.

Bob Smith, Farm & Home, Rochester, volunteered to drive his truck to take the clothing to the Indians. We gave him the money donated by the church and the South Bend lady to use for gasoline.

Bob brought an 18 foot trailer to the museum on Saturday, Feb. 18, and we loaded it clear full. He also had the topper on his pick-up truck full of clothes. He and his wife started west at 4 a.m. Sunday morning and arrived in South Dakota on Monday. The truck and trailer were unloaded at a Mormon Church on the Rosebud Sioux Reservation, and by evening all the clothing was gone. Bob reports that the Indians on the reservation are very poor, no jobs, no help from the government or the community. Some are living in empty cars.

Bill Tucker, Indianapolis, also took a pick-up truck full of clothing to the Sioux. He called the museum, got directions from Kenny Grant, left Saturday evening and arrived in Rosebud on Monday morning.

Kenny's sister, Pat Andrzejek, called me with thanks. She asked me to thank all you good people for donating the clothing. Also thanks from Agnes Whitemouth, the lady in charge of distributing the clothing on the reservation. And thank you from all those who received clothing. It was wonderful!

Shirley Willard, Pres.

Beginning at 2:01 a.m. Sunday, March 15, Mentone telephones will be connected to the Direct Distance Dialing network, which will include about one third of the telephones in the United States and Canada. All phone customers should now have information regarding this new service, and how it operates. Each area has been given a 3-digit number. Indiana is divided into three areas-219, 317, and 812. The first is the northern area of the state and at the present this number need not be dialed. To make a long distance dial call, merely dial the present 112 number, then the area number and then the two-letter, five-digit number of your party. If you get a wrong number, dial "O" and inform the operator otherwise you will be charged for a completed number.

Work was completed Wednesday afternoon for the installation of two new 25 horsepower blowers on their Hammill grinders, which will considerably speed up the grinding of feed. A Comforting Thing

Something primeval melts in my heart, When high in the sky the geese pass;

Soon the bare arms of trees will be clothed, And earth will be fringed with new grass.

My soul soars up and whirls with their wings, As homeward they soar from the south;

Something inside me suddenly sings, Green songs that God puts in my mouth.

Soon the orchards will blossom again, And all winter's snow will be gone;

A comforting thing, arrival of spring, As wild geese fly close to His throne.

PSI takes steps to stop aluminum thefts

Vandalism of large transmission towers which support power lines is not only a matter of money and inconvenience, it's a matter of life or death. Recently, several Public Service Indiana towers have been vandalized. For these reasons, PSI is taking extra steps to stop would-be vandals.

"We're running advertisements which talk about the problems that can result from transmission tower vandalism and giving scrap metal dealers information to help them identify aluminum pieces taken from transmission towers," said Robert E. Fox, PSI's director of customer operations support. "If someone tries to sell our aluminum, the dealers are asked to call the local police or sheriff. We're also offering a $2,500 reward for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of anyone who steals aluminum from our towers."

PSI says: Vandals face prosecution that can lead to jail terms and substantial fines.

The search for and repair of vandalized towers is costly in terms of materials and time.

Transmission towers support power lines that carry thousands of volts of electricity that can injure and kill not only the vandal but innocent bystanders.

Downed power lines can present a danger, as well as interrupt electricity to homes, businesses and vital services such as hospitals.

Power lines are not insulated with a covering and people should always stay away from power lines.

Anyone who notices vandalized utility equipment or suspicious activities is asked to contact local law officials or the nearest PSI office.

Rotary Chess Tournament winners

Ivin Flint of Kewanna won the youth division and John Mollencupp won a playoff for the adult division to become the first Fulton County Chess Champions in the Rotary sponsored tournament on Saturday, March 4, 1989.

Flint, age 15, was the only participant in either division to finish the day undefeated. Second place was won by Jack Grubbs, age 11, and third place by Brian Atchley who, at age 9, was the youngest player. Eight players from around the county participated in the youth division.

Competition in the adult division was evenly balanced so that after four of the five rounds, every player had lost at least one match. Of the five who had lost only once, three won in the fifth round to create a playoff. Mollencupp, also from Kewanna, won both playoff games to capture the championship. Mike Felke of Akron was second, while Mike Neff of Rochester was third. Twelve players participated in the adult division.

Prize money was provided by the First Bank and the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Rochester. Rotary plans to make the tournament an annual event.

YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP CAN LEAD YOU OUT OF TEMPTATION

You are basically a good person, but being a so-called "normal" human being, you have fallen into the trap of temptation somewhere along the way. Perhaps you are a worried but confirmed smoker, or the pressures of your job have caused you to drink too much or become involved with drugs. By now you may be addicted to the extent that it will take more than will power to overcome your habit, but don't give up. Try one of those treatment centers if you like, but also adopt a positive attitude. Think not how much fun your habit is, but instead, how nice it would be not to have to depend on it. For some real help, talk to the clergyman at your House of Worship. He will understand and not criticize or condemn. He knows you are sincere about it, or you wouldn't be there; and he can help you if you will let him.

Athletic scholarships

Over 100,000 Collegiate Athletic Scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be All State to qualify. Much of this money goes unused. A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of factual information is available for student athletes. It takes them step by step thru the important process of getting an athletic scholarship and includes college and conference listings.

For details on how to get a collegiate athletic scholarship, send a large self addressed, stamped envelope to the National Sports Foundation, Box 408, Matawan, NJ 07747.

Football Clinic

University of Notre Dame Offensive Coordinator Jim Strong and Defensive Coordinator Barry Alvarez top of the list of talent featured in The National Institute for Fitness and Sport (NIFS) Football Coaches Clinic, Saturday, April 29, in Indianapolis.

The clinic--open to all junior high, high school, and college football coaches--also features Indianapolis Colts Offensive Line Coach Dante Scarnecchia; Indiana State Champion Ben Davis High School Football Coach Dick Dullaghan; Purdue Head Coach Fred Akers; and members of the Indiana University football staff.

Highlights of the program will focus on strategy and organization for building a winning program, offensive and defensive lines and backfields, special teams, key positions, and athletic development.

To help coaches improve the overall athletic ability of their players--speed, strength, explosive power, endurance, and mental toughness--special presentations will be made by Dean Brittenham, director of athletic development, and Tom Crawford, director of youth development and sports psychologist for The National Institute for Fitness and Sport. Brittenham, who has served on the staffs of the New England Patriots, Minnesota Vikings, and Denver Broncos, is currently the strength and conditioning coach for the Indiana Pacers.

"This is the one chance Indiana coaches will have this spring to see and talk to the coaches of these winning programs all in one day before next season kicks off" said Brittenham.

Registration, ($25 before April 3 and $35 afterwards), is limited to the first 200 coaches to sign up.

The clinic will be held in the auditorium of the American United Life Building, One American Square, located at the intersection of Capitol, New York, and Illinois streets in downtown Indianapolis.

To register, contact Terri Weddle at the National Institute for Fitness and Sport (317) 274-3432.

Tax abatements for veterans

The veterans Administration provides newly qualified tax veterans and surviving spouses with abatement certifications enabling them to save thousands of dollars in annual property taxes, according to VA Regional Director, Roy Bailey.

Bailey indicated that the amount of exemption for eligible veterans and spouses depends primarily upon disability status, age, and period of service. According to Bailey, the tax exemption is provided by Indiana law and ranges between $2,000 and 9,000, depending on the veterans or surviving spouses eligibility status.

Tax abatement certificates are no longer automatically mailed to eligible veterans and surviving spouses. Persons who have not previously furnished their County Auditor with the abatement form should contact the Regional Office to obtain the certificate.

The town with an Irish name

Continuing a 49 year tradition, the Erin, NY Post Office will cancel St. Patrick's Day Cards and postcards with their famous green postmark. This year, anyone who orders their cards from Shamrock Properties will receive something Extra... A certificate good for a "Limited Edition Silk Cachet" St. Patrick's Day cover to be issued next year in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of this tradition. This "Limited Edition" cover is a gold embossed envelope with a full color Irish scene on a silk background and is expected to sell next year for about fifty dollars with the postage.

A group of entrepreneurs from Long Island who recently purchased the ERIN Post Office and lease it to the U. S. Postal Service are encouraging this effort to bring attention to this forgotten town in Upstate NY. Part of the proceeds from this promotion will go to The ERIN Historical Society and The ERIN Volunteer Fire Company. Since St. Patrick himself once wished it upon this small community to have a good Irish name, it was named ERIN-GO-BRACH, meaning ERIN Forever (Ireland Forever) by Michael Robinson in the early 1800's. Since then, the GO-BRACH has been dropped, hence, ERIN.

ERIN is a small community with approximately 2000 people. In 1940 this tradition of selling St. Patrick's Day cards bearing the ERIN postmark was started by members of the Elmira Stamp Club and The ERIN Historical Society. In 1969 the ERIN Volunteer Fire Company Auxiliary took over the promotion because many of the members of the Erin Historical society had died. This year, the owners of the ERIN, NY Post office are pitching in to make this one of the biggest St. Patrick's Day celebrations that ERIN has ever seen.

All orders placed with Shamrock Properties will receive a certificate good for the 1990 "Limited Edition" silk cachet cover. There are four ways to order at $5.00 each:

(A) Three St. Patrick's Day covers, un-addressed, stamped, canceled March 17th in green ink and sent to you in a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

(B) Remailing of two of your own St. Patrick's Day Cards from ERIN NY. Postage will be supplied and they will be postmarked any day you wish (March 17, 1989 Postmark will be in green) Please enclose a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to receive your certificate for the "Limited Edition" silk cachet cover.

(C) Two St. Patrick's Day covers addressed, stamped, and mailed on March 17th to whomever you designate. Please enclose a long, self-addressed stamp envelope to receive your certificate for the "Limited Edition" silk cachet cover.

(D) Six St. Patrick's Day covers un-addressed, unstamped, uncanceled and sent to you in a long self-addressed stamped envelope.

Send orders early to: Shamrock Properties, Leprechaun Village, Erin, NY 14838-0070.

DID YOU KNOW? The Facts About Saint Patrick

It's no blame to say many people are pretty green when it comes to knowing fact from fiction about St. Patrick and his day. For example, did you know...

- St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was not an Irishman, but born in England the son of a Roman official.
- St. Patrick's day is more widely and enthusiastically celebrated here in the United States, especially in New York City, home of the magnificent St. Patrick's Cathedral, than in Dublin, Ireland.
- The Cathedral is the seat of the Archdiocese of New York and the first major neo-gothic-style Cathedral in the United States.

- Ireland's favorite spirit, Irish Mist Liqueur traces its heritage back 1200 years. A secret blend of four Irish Spirits aged in wood, heather honey and herbs, it is thought to be the "heather wine" that minstrels sang of centuries ago. St. Patrick lived c. 389 to 461 A.D.

- Many Americans say they're "bringing the best of Ireland" to their St. Patrick's Day celebrations when they toast with the traditional after-dinner liqueur, Irish Mist.

- The first St. Patrick's Day celebration in the United States was held in Boston in 1737. Today, over a hundred cities hold parades. New York City's parade is the largest.

OF EDUCATION

Installment Plan Can Help Pay College Expenses

Are you thinking about building a fund for college expenses for a child or grandchild? There's a handy new way to do this on the installment plan. A number of America's major corporations have joined with the non-profit, volunteer National Association of Investors to provide a way to accumulate their stock by making small investments over a period of time and with no commission charge.

Payments as little as $25 a month combined with reinvested dividends and possible growth in the stock values of the participating companies offer the opportunity to build a sizeable sum to defray costs in future years. The account can be put in the child's name so earnings can accumulate under the child's exemption or lower tax rate. It's also a great training program. The child gets practice accumulating stock, receiving dividends and filing tax returns.

Some of America's leading corporations like Disney, McDonald's and Chase Manhattan plus 40 others are in the plan.

Planning and Preparation is starting again for Bibletimes Marketplace A.D. With the combined efforts of the Silver Creek Church of God, Akron Church of the Brethren, Akron Church of God, Packerton Free Will Baptist, and the Akron United Methodist -- A unique experience is in store for children in the community who are Kindergarten through Sixth Grade, and preschoolers age 4-5. On June 15, 16 and 17 a typical Bibletimes Marketplace will be set up on the grounds of the Silver Creek Church of God. From 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each day, children will relive Bibletimes events, exploring and experiencing Bibletime occupations and relationships. From their family clusters, with a mother figure in charge, the children will venture forth into the Marketplace, where they will participate in the activities of the many and varied shops. In addition, they will experience Bibletime songs, games and dances. Bible stories will be dramatized in their midst.

This three day experience will be climaxed by a Celebration Festival on the afternoon of June 17, with the whole family participating. Take advantage of this opportunity for your children to learn that the Bible is about real people and that Christianity is a living relationship with God.

Registration forms are available by contracting Darla Shafer at 893-4806 or Carol Shepherd at 352-2215. Registration deadline is April 1.

First Baptist Church holds special meetings

March 12-17 has been set for a series of special meetings at 7:30 p.m., at the First Baptist Church, Broadway at Harrison, Mentone.

Rev. Joel Kettenring, Executive Director of Baptists for Israel Institute will be the speaker for the six days, with two services on Sunday.

Rev. Kettenring has been a missionary to Jamaica, and on returning to the states, has served with Baptist Mid-Missions for 24 years. The organization that he currently directs maintains workers in Israel, and holds seminars for college students in the Land where Jesus lived. The students live and work on a kibbutz, as they pursue their studies. Joel's experience in Israel, and his knowledge of the Old Testament scriptures, uniquely qualifies him to share a series of messages on the Jewish feasts that are presented in Leviticus chapter 23. These feasts teach of the work of Christ the Messiah from Calvary to His coming again.

The emphasis will be on evangelism and prophecy. Mrs. Kettenring, a music major, will be singing at these meetings. She has two gospel recordings to her credit.

Pastor Marken invites you to come and share in the blessing of their ministry during this series.

Notice

The Fulton County Assessor announces that the new, revised Regulation 16 for the assessment of business personal property is available in his office located at, 815 Main St. Court House.

Regulation 16 is the rule, promulgated by the State Board of Tax Commissioners pursuant to the provisions of IC 6-1.1-31-1, for use by all business taxpayers and assessing officials to determine the valuation and assessment of all business personal property located in the State of Indiana each year. (Personal property is approximately 25% of the property tax base.) The regulation is accounting oriented and fairly complex.

The new Regulation 16, was last revised for March 1, 1980. Since that time, amendments from legislative changes and court decision have resulted in five separate supplements. The new Regulation 16 incorporates all of the changes into one new Regulation.

In an effort to notify business taxpayers, the State Board of Tax Commissioners has had printed over 50,000 copies of the new Regulation 16 for distribution to all affected parties. The Regulation contains over 125 pages of material and is too voluminous to be mailed. Taxpayers wishing to obtain a copy of the new Regulation 16 may pick it up at the Fulton County Assessor's Office.

In order to conserve printing costs, taxpayers should retain the new Regulation 16 for future use.

St. Patrick's Day

New York's St. Patrick's Day Parade down Fifth Avenue is popularly known as "the world's largest parade without tanks." This year, for the first time in its history, the parade's grand marshal will be a woman, Dorothy Hayden Cudahy, who will lead 150,000 marchers down a 42-block route.

Mrs. Cudahy has broadcast on Manhattan radio since 1943. Her program "Irish Memories" combines Irish folk songs and news about Irish Americans.

The celebration of St. Patrick's Day in the United States is quite different from the observance in Ireland, where it is marked by somber, religious services.

Both countries honor the death in 461 of Ireland's patron saint. It was Bishop Patrick who had introduced Christianity to the Emerald Isle in 432.

But America's celebration of St. Patrick's Day, observed in certain areas of the country since Colonial times, is on a scale that might have surprised St. Patrick himself. In addition to New York's festivities, the people of Chicago have traditionally dyed their river a deep shamrock green since 1963.

In Savannah, Ga., the Savannah River and many of the foods also are colored green. And the St. Patrick's Day revelry in New Orleans rivals that of Mardi Gras.

An Irish Blessing

May love, light and laughter, All dance through your days.

May your heart lift with song and your soul sing its praise.

May the top o' the morning, Make the day come to life.

May your lips speak with kindness and banish all strife.

May the luck of the wee folk, Bring a joy you can hold,

And the peace of Saint Patrick, In your heart will unfold.

All these are the blessings, Which the Irish will say,

Colonial Promenade

Tiptoe through the tulips and into America's past at the Foellinger-Freimann Botanical Conservatory's spring bulb show entitled "Colonial Promenade."

Thousands of vibrant tulips, daffodils, Dutch iris, hyacinths, and Easter lilies are popping up and exploding into the rainbow of color we have all been waiting for. Replica of a colonial gatchouse with clapboard siding is reminiscent of another place in time. Bring a sack lunch and revel in the beauty!

The colonial garden show can be viewed from March 18 through April 16. Admission to the Conservatory (1100 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne) is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children 3-12. Guided tours can be arranged for groups of ten or more by calling 427-1267.

Wetlands video through DNR

A new, 13 minute, VHS, videotape, "Wetlands...Indiana's Endangered Natural Resource," may now be borrowed from the Department of Natural Resources' Division of Public Information.

Of the 5.6 million acres of wetlands that covered approximately one-quarter of Indiana 200 years ago, only about 787,000 acres, or 14 percent of the original area, remain today. The video explains the importance of wetlands for water quality, flood control, shoreline erosion control, fish and wildlife habitat, endangered species protection and recreation. It also outlines the steps that must be taken to conserve our remaining wetland resources.

To borrow the video, contact DRN's Division of Public Information, 612 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN, 46204.

GOD'S LOVE WILL ENCHANT US WITH THE BEAUTY OF SPRING

When winter snows no longer fall
And cold winds cease to blow,
There comes the nicest time of all,
When things begin to grow.
The grass will sprout its tiny blades
For carpeting the ground,
While blossoms in their pastel shades
Send perfume all around.
The insects hum and birds will sing,
Enlivening the skies,
Which then reveal the fluttering
Of gorgeous butterflies.
Now all this beauty here on earth
God's love will always bring:
The joy we feel with each rebirth
Of life that comes in spring.

Akron Students complete Campbell collection

The students of Akron Schools have completed this year's Campbell's Soup Labels for Education Program collection drive. We collected 18,798 labels during this years drive.

These labels will be used by Akron Schools to receive free computer programs that can be used by students in computers located throughout the school.

Akron Schools wishes to thank everyone who helped by collecting labels and Akron Exchange State Bank and Akron Town Offices for allowing collection containers in their locations. A special thank you goes to library aide, Bobbie Gingle, who supervised the cutting and counting of all labels.

Please be saving your labels for next year's drive which will begin in November.

Does 4-H have anything special to offer 4-H members? It sure does! 4-H offers many trips, awards and scholarships to 4-Hers, but in order to take advantage to them, 4-Hers must apply. The effort to apply is a small price to pay for an award trip or a scholarship. I encourage 4-H to complete and return their Kosciusko County Award Trip Application by March 17 in order to have priority on receiving an award trip this summer. Award trips that are available this summer are Conservation Camp, Animal Science Workshop, Plant Science Workshop, Farm Forestry Camp, National 4-H Dairy Conference, Natural Resources Workshops, Natural Resources Teen Leadership Workshop, Roundup, State Fair Youth Schools and State Junior Conference.

An opportunity that 1989 graduating seniors can apply for is Indiana 4-H Foundation Scholarships. Ten $250 scholarships will be presented to graduating seniors for use in education or training programs beyond high school. Awarded on the basis of achievement and participation in 4-H, the scholarships do not call for financial need. Interested 4-Hers must complete an Indiana 4-H Foundation Scholarship Application and submit it, along with a photo of themselves, by March 20 to the Department of 4-H Youth at Purdue University. I encourage seniors seeking post-high school education to apply.

Two other opportunities that 4-H members may apply for are serving as an Indiana State Fair worker and performing in the State 4-H Band. Applications 4-H workers in the Agriculture/Horticulture Building, University Building or the 4-H Exhibit Hall must be completed and returned to the State 4-H office by April 1. Applications for State 4-H Band members must be completed and returned to the State 4-H Office by April 15. I encourage interested 4-H members to apply for these activities.

PSI grant to promote math

Public Service Indiana is contributing $1,000 toward a program to help increase math competency among Indiana students and encourage interest in careers involving math and science.

Mathcounts is nationwide program which combines the efforts of education, business, government and the technological community to promote mathematics among seventh and eighth grade students. Sponsored in Indiana by the Indiana Society of Professional Engineers, Mathcounts is supported through funding from local businesses like PSI.

"We're giving to this program because it promotes math excellence at an age when students are formulating attitudes about math and technology," says Jeanna Keller, supervisor of public information for PSI. "Mathcounts builds math skills, promotes strategic problem-solving and teaches students to deal with complex problems."

Indiana's best "mathletes" face off March 11 at the statewide Mathcounts contest in Terre Haute. Competition starts at 9 a.m. at the Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. The four finalists will go on to represent Indiana at the national Mathcounts competition May 12 in Washington, D.C.

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

BITING YOUR CHEEK AT NIGHT

If you've noticed that you sometimes bit your cheek at night when you're sleeping, this may indicate a combination of problems, such as tension, irregularities in teeth surfaces, or improperly aligned teeth. Some people express tension by clenching or grinding their teeth, either while awake or unconsciously when they're asleep. When the lower teeth are rubbed against the upper teeth this is called bruxism. If you grind your teeth from side to side this may result in a bite or damage to your cheek or lips.

You may be able to relieve the emotional aspects of the problem by trying to eliminate whatever is causing the tension. The dental aspects can be helped by your dentist. For instance, he can check the relationship of your bite to see if there are any irregularities in your teeth that are causing problems. He may suggest that you wear a Hawley-type appliance or a night guard to help break the bruxing habit. This will also give him another way of checking your bite to find out what dental problems should be corrected.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

First Church of God presents Evangelist Frank Gonzales and the Freedom Sound

Evangelist Frank Gonzales is scheduled to be at the First Church of God, 3rd & Main, Rochester, In., on Sunday, March 19, 1989, at 10:30 a.m., Mon.-Fri. March 20-24, with morning Bible Study & Lesson at 9:30 a.m., evening services at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, March 25, 1989, there will be Teen-Olympics 2:00-4:00 p.m., evening services at 7:30 p.m.; Sunday, March 26, 1989, at 10:30 a.m.

Frank Gonzales has been conducting evangelistic crusades for 26 years in North and Central America. He has traveled extensively throughout the world, and has obtained a Masters Degree from Bob Jones University. His life took a dramatic turn from the Hollywood world of entertainment to a dynamic, evangelistic ministry following a two-year bout with tuberculosis.

Mr. Gonzales has been traveling for the past 18 years with a group of vibrant young people called Freedom Sound. They present the gospel in churches, prisons, nursing homes, and in plazas. Also, they go into schools with a Drug Abuse Program that has been instrumental in causing many young people to turn from a world of drugs, alcohol, and confusion, to an abundant life in Jesus Christ. Their medium is music coupled with sharing of personal experiences, some as drug and alcohol users. In addition to Church services, school drug assemblies, personal soul-winning on the street, radio and TV programs, the Frank Gonzales Evangelistic Association has built and Orphanage in Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico. There, abandoned children are loved, cared for, and taught, both academically and spiritually. Chris Rogers of Fulton, In., is a member of this team.

Services are open to the public. For more information contact Cathy Murphy at 219-893-7288.

The Zookeeper

One day our class went to the zoo and the zoo keeper was up in the tree trying to catch the monkey in the tree. I asked him if I could do anything. He said, "Get this snake off my foot." I got the snake off his foot. I saw the bears. Then I saw the seals. Then I was hungry. I ate five hotdogs. I want to feed the ducks. Then we fed the ducks. Then I saw the lions and tigers. Then I saw the monkeys. I fed the monkeys. I bought a souvenir.

Rabbit Goes to Outer Space

These rabbits went to outer space. Soon as they got there all the rabbits ran and shoved. All of the rabbits got their tails caught in the door of the space ship. This cut their tails and now they have short tails. Soon as they got to Saturn they thought the holes in the ground were their homes. Their ears got stuck in these holes. They pulled and pulled and finally they got their ears out and they had long ears.

Long Ears

This is how Besty Bunny got long ears. Her baby sisters, Brownie and Barky, pulled her ears. Then she got into a fight with a bear. The bear pulled her ears even longer. Then Besty got into a fight with a mountain cat. The mountain cat pulled her ears still longer. So now she and all rabbits have long ears.

How the Rabbit Got His Long Ears and a Short Tail

Do you know why a rabbit has long ears? This is what happened. His mom got mad at him. She pulled him by his ears. This is how he got such a short tail. His dad gave him a gun for a present. He accidentally shot his own tail off. This is how the rabbit got long ears and a short tail.

I really liked the Shrine Circus. I liked the clown when he jumped on the trampoline and his pants fell down. I liked the motorcycle that had a lady hanging on to the bottom and they were on the trapeze. I thought it was funny when a little bear rode a go-cart and when some dogs got on a pony and rode around the ring.

THE MODERN DAY TYRANNOSAURUS

"I am the greatest explorer of all time; my name - Wesly Addison. I am live from Africa in a daring feat to find the legendary, said to be still alive, Modern Day Tyrannosaurus!!! It is said to be a breakdancing Rex. Well, I'm going out alone so you'll get the story when I'm back! TA TA!!!"

Part 2 - LATER THAT YEAR...

"I'm back and boy, do I have a story for you!! I saw a Tyrannosaurus go into a dance club in the middle of an African jungle! He was mad when he discovered that I was looking for him and found him since no one had ever found him before!"

"He started chasing me with his shades, and his shirt with a skeleton on the back and rips on his sleeves, and torn jeans, and his gold earring. Oh yeah, he had a mohawk!!!"

"But let's get back to the story; he chased me on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on until I finally collapsed on the spot!!! I thought it was the end of me!!!!!! All of a sudden it towered over me and, and, and tapped me and said, "Your it!". And here's my friend, "HEAVY ROCKIN REX!"

Triceratops

It started out in the summer. All of a sudden a big blue ball came around me. It took me to the land of the dinosaur. I landed on a triceratops!

A triceratops had three horns on its head. It weighs over six tons. I could remember that from when Mrs. Sanders read a card about triceratops.

I was about ready to faint when the triceratops started to move quickly. I could hear a roar in the distance. I thought it was Tyrannosaurus Rex, the dangerous meat eater. The triceratops got to the woods - when all of a sudden guess who stepped out? It was Tyrannosaurus Rex! I looked up.. up.. up.. and there was his head! The triceratops killed Tyrannosaurus Rex just as the big blue ball took me back home.

Nikky's Problem

Once there was a boy named Bif. his real name was Nikky. He thought he was real cool. So one day I went to wash my face. I got marker on it. I saw the worst thing. Nikky was smoking. I went right back and told my teacher. But once again he got away with it. I was really worried about him. I told my mom right away. I said what if. I paused for a minute what if he dies. My mom said, "Well, just don't you do it."

Mom you know I would never" never. Well just don't. I saw it again so I told his Mother. She couldn't believe it. I didn't see it for six weeks so I told him, Nikky, please, please don't smoke any more. I took to the special help center. Nine months later Nikky was not hooked on any drugs or any thing Nikky never thought about it or done it ever again.

The Substitute Teacher

I couldn't believe what happened the day we had a Substitute Teacher. It all started when this lady walked into our classroom carrying a large, strange looking sack and we all looked at the bag. We asked what was in it. She said she would tell us in one hour. We waited. It was time so she opened the bag slowly. All of us were excited. She pulled it out slowly it was just her lunch. We all let out our breath from being relieved.

Easter

By Esther C. Adams

When I think of Easter,
And Good Friday and The Cross,
How the Blessed Saviour
Gave His Life for souls so lost.

And each Blessed Easter
Brings faith and hope anew.
Strength to carry on life's battle
His help in all we do.

And with each Blessed Easter
How thankful we can be.
For The Blessed Saviour
Who died for me and thee.

A new beginning...

Four Seasons Of A Woman's Life

While redecorating our bathroom several years ago, my mother gave me a set of four gold framed pictures measuring 4"x4". Each picture had a different aged female. Not realizing they were to be placed in any certain order, they were hung in their seemingly appropriate places. But...as I found out later, they had a definite story to be told.

One evening after a tiresome day, I relaxed in a hot tub. While glancing at the pictures they began to lay the framework of a woman's lifetime.

The first picture was that of a young child. It was the typical young girl dressed in ruffles and lace with the innocent eyes of someone who has yet to experience life. Someone who has her whole life ahead of her.

The second picture was of a young lady. She was adorned in her Sunday best clothing complete with wide-brimmed hat. The eyes were innocent but wide and open to the world and all the wonder that lay ahead. As if knowing a lot were before her, the eagerness to learn seems apparent.

The third picture is the young woman. Having progressed to the third stage of her life, this young woman shows the ambition it takes to meet the requirements of a homemaker, wife and possibly mother. Being the rock of the family, even though the man may be the man of the house, has been her role. The eyes, once again, show it all. Being able to now see what she had been innocent to before, she has dealt with and overcome the obstacles that preceded her. The picture hit home as I studied this woman looking thoughtful into what might have been her past or possibly her future that lay ahead.

The fourth, also interesting, picture was that of an adult, senior if you will, woman. The eyes followed me as I brushed my hair moving about the room. They were soft, thoughtful eyes. Eyes that had, indeed, seen an entire lifetime pass before them. There was a humble quality about this woman. Although strength was in the jaw, awareness in the eyes, the errors in the past caused the humbleness to show through. A graciousness shown, for undoubtedly, this lady had succeeded in her endeavors. I imagined this woman was a very patient person, having learned this quality over the course of many years. You could say the woman had a gentle, compassionate look. Could it be, this also comes with the years?

As each season holds something new and exciting, I wonder why people often dread the next stage. True, we can always wish we were younger but would we really want to relive all those times? Instead, we should enjoy what we have now.

Being at the third stage of these pictures, I brushed a few gray hairs looking at the pictures once again. My gray hairs didn't mean forty was approaching, they meant wisdom was upon me.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

Apparently a change in the governor's mansion still isn't enough to convince some of our more professional politicians that their job as citizen legislators is to represent the citizens of the state...not cut deals and wield influence in back door meetings.

The most recent example of this is the methods used by a few to bury a change in the speed limit.

The change would have set the same speed for trucks as for cars on rural stretches of interstate highway eliminating as much as possible variances in speed between different types of vehicles. The issue wasn't a special concession or benefit to trucking. It was a safety measure.

These are the facts: According to Purdue University Professor Patrick McCarthy, speed variation is more important to highway safety than average speed. In a study done for the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety, Professor McCarthy says, "An increase in speed variation increases the incidence of fatal and injury accidents as well as the number of fatalities and injuries." That's why interstates have posted minimum speeds.

The change wouldn't have been necessary in the first place, if a few politicians hadn't decided to drop the speed limit for trucks back to 55 mph in an eleventh hour session of the most of our lawmakers didn't even know they had voted for a change. Of those that did, their motives weren't about safety. The change was "get even" legislation designed to punish the trucking industry over protesting about unconstitutional taxes.

Besides the speed limit, diesel fuel taxes were also increased to make Indiana the highest in the nation at 27 cents per gallon tax. The average motorist won't know about this because 11 cents of this is paid through a surtax...a hidden tax.

At the third reading of the bill to restore the old speed limit, some of our state's finest killed the bill. House Speaker Pro Tem Chester Dobis called the vote "a matter of principle." Ways and Means Committee Chairman Patrick Kiely blasted the bill as "blackmail" from outsiders. Apparently, Kiely had forgotten the many town meetings that were set up by Indiana truck stop operators throughout the state to discuss these very issues. Kiely was invited to these meetings, but never showed up. Even Kiely's own constituent survey showed the very people that elected him to office supported the bill.

So, if these elected representatives didn't vote on the issues and they didn't vote their constituents wishes, who did they vote for?

The losers so far have been thousands of mostly small businesses whose livelihood directly depends on trucking. The truck fueling business alone employs more than 10,000 people statewide while contributing more than $750 million in sales each year to the state. The vast majority of trucking businesses in the state are small yet they are as essential to all of us in the state as water and electricity.

For our elected officials to play politics with the issues is absolutely outrageous. Ultimately, we all lose from this because just like water and electricity, transportation costs are paid by all of us through everything we eat, drink and purchase.

Ironically, this very approach to the issues is what got our state into trouble with unconstitutional taxes in the first place.

Tax Service

For Tax years starting after January 1, 1989, additional information will be required for any taxpayer claiming the child care credit on their individual Income Tax Return.

According to Paula Garcia local owner of the H & R Block office in Rochester, taxpayers can use Form W-10 to obtain the information from child care providers that will be required to be shown on the 1989 Form 2441.

Paula advises that you ask the provider to complete the form as soon as is practical, since in some cases the provider will move before it's time to prepare their 1989 Tax Return.

Mentone Sewer rate

The Mentone Town Board approved a Sewer plan for connection fees.

Local homeowners will be assessed at $306 per home, to help fund a $225,000 local share of the $2 million-plus sewer plan. The billing is planned to begin May 1 and will be paid over 17 month period in payments of $18 per month.

Umbaugh & Associates, Plymouth, had introduced two options to help fund the town project, but the board rejected the proposal because of the excessive cost, which would have hiked local residents payments. The board asked the Firm to come up with something that would keep the residents bill closer to $300.

A $1,000 easement to cross the Boyer property with a discharge line for the sewer treatment plant, the board agreed to pay.

A Kosciusko County Sheriff's office was contracted for another year.

Umbaugh & Associates accepted a contract was approved for a service agreement.

The town is still accepting applications for a water department employee and cemetery caretaker.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 3, at 7 p.m. at the clerk's office.

WHEN THE MUSIC STOPPED. By Elisabeth Ogilvie---The author is back with an absorbing new tale of mystery and suspense from her native Maine. In it, the novelist Eden Winter, finds herself caught up in a real-life mystery more chilling than any plot she could have devised.

WEALTH WITHOUT RISK. By Charles J. Givens---Charles Givens is becoming to personal finance what Dale Carnegie is to human relations. He tells how to develop a personal fortune without going out on a limb.

PERFECTING FIONA. By Marion Chesney---A novel of Regency England, and is the second volume of The School for Manners. As the elderly Tribble sisters strive to train Fiona in the proper comportment of a lady, (As they did in "Refining Felicity"); she shocks them by behaving perfectly. National Awareness Day set

The 10th annual Nutrition awareness Day will encourage older Hoosiers to develop a healthier lifestyle by emphasizing the importance of nutrition and exercise, announced Barry Chambers, acting commissioner of the Indiana Department of Human Services.

Nutrition Awareness Day, sponsored by the Indiana Department of Human Services' Division of Aging Services in cooperation with the Indiana Nutrition Directors' Association and the Healthy Older People Initiative of the Governor's Health Project, will be held March 28 at group meal sites for older adults across the state. This year's theme is "Lifetime Decisions: Choose Exercise and Good Nutrition."

The special event will feature a pamphlet and other information that stresses the importance of the link between proper nutrition and exercise in developing a healthier lifestyle, Chambers said.

Vice President to showcase Indiana Art

Paintings from the Indiana State Museum's extensive collection of Hoosier art will adorn the walls of the official residence in Washington D.C. of Vice President and Mrs. Dan Quayle and the Vice President's office in the Capitol. Mrs. Quayle made the selections recently during a personal visit to the museum.

Mrs. Quayle, a long-time Indiana State Museum devotee, chose seven paintings which represent the work of three of Indiana's most celebrated artists -- T.C. Steele, Wayman Adams and William Forsyth. Two of these paintings are part of the Shortridge Collection which is on permanent loan to the ISM. Several were donated to Shortridge High School by Dr. Victor Keene, a relative of Mrs. Quayle.

Pieces loaned to the Quayles by the people of Indiana include: "The Whitewater" and "Pastoral" by T.C. Steele; "Dahlia" and "Summer Landscape" by William Forsyth; an untitled landscape by T. C. Steele, and an untitled figure study by Wayman Adams.

The Indiana State Museum owns the most comprehensive collection of art created by Hoosiers, totaling more than 2,000 pieces.

The ISM is a part of the Indiana State Museum and Historic Sites System which includes 17 historic sites throughout the state. The ISM - located one block north of Market Square Arena at 202 North Alabama Street in downtown Indianapolis - is open free daily. Museum hours are 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Saturday, noon to 4:45 p.m. Sunday. One hour free parking is available in the lot immediately north of the ISM.

DATES OF HOLIDAYS MAY CHANGE, BUT NOT THEIR MESSAGES

The calendar quite frequently
May have to change a date,
But those events of history
Are there to celebrate.
Two faiths will honor, with a feast
Which may not coincide,
The time of Hebrew slaves released,
Or when the Savior died.
Yet both occasions are the same,
As either faith explains;
With each occurrence in the name
Of freedom from our chains.
So let the joyful time begin,
And issue this decree,
That says from slavery or sin
All mankind must be free.

Applying for children's social security card

You must hurry if you are a Fulton County parent who still needs a Social Security number for a child. The Internal Revenue Service requires a number to be listed for all dependents age 5 and over on the tax returns due by April 17th. A small penalty will be charged for each one missing.

To get a Social Security number, you must provide proof of your son or daughter's date of birth, identity and U.S. citizenship. The best proof of age and citizenship is an official birth certificate issued by the Local or State Health Department.

A child's identity can easily be established by such records as a school record, report card, library card, doctor record, shot record, newspaper birth announcement, hospital I.D. band, insurance policy or any other document giving identifying data.

You cannot use a birth certificate to establish identity.

The parent that signs the applications must also supply proof of his or her own identity with things like a driver's license, state ID card, voter registration card, work badge, credit cards, etc. This is the case whether the application is mailed back to the South Bend office or brought in person.

Only original documents can be used. Photocopies cannot be accepted.

Apply as soon as possible if a new number is needed because it generally takes two to three weeks to receive a Social Security card. Processing delays can be expected if too many parents procrastinate too long and cause backlogs.

You may get an application for a Social Security Number (Form ss-5) and a return envelope by stopping in at the Akron Post Office or any other Fulton County Post Office. You may also call Social Security Toll-free at 1-800-234-5772 to have an application mailed to you.

Thank You

Henry Willing Workers 4-H Club would like to thank all businesses and people for their donations for the egg sale March 18.

Mentone Blue Gold Banquet

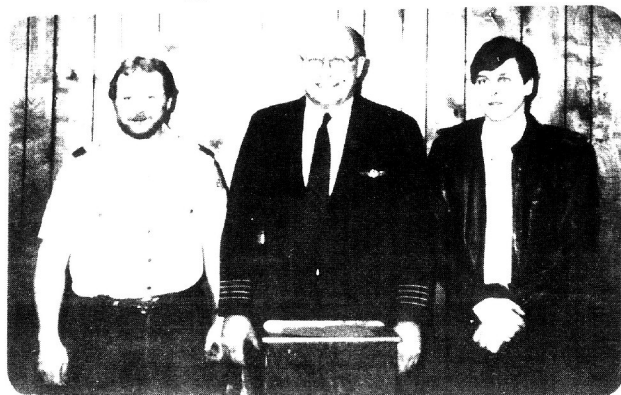

On February 23, 1989 Cub Scout Pack #3777 held its annual Blue/Gold Banquet. Approximately 96 Scouts and their families enjoyed a pot-luck supper.

After supper Captain Bob Clupper, owner of the Mentone Airport and retired Airlines pilot, spoke to the group about his experiences as an Eagle Scout and how scouting had influenced his life. He also gave the group a demonstration of his robot, Robby, and a slide presentation of sky-diving.

Mr. Jack Wilhite, a representative for the summer day camp program, gave a slide presentation of last summer's day camp program. He passed out registration forms for this year's camp program.

Awards were given to several of scouts for completing various requirements in their books.

The evening was completed with all the scouts and their families pitching in to clean up the building.

Women's Fellowship

The Women's Fellowship of the Church of the Brethren met at the home of Lana Bowser for the March meeting. Deb Whistler presided over the business meeting. Edna Mae Shewman gave the secretary and treasurers reports. Rozella Tinkey gave devotions, her theme was "Your Testimony to Others."

Each member wrote a memorable incident in their lives, the stories were exchanged and read, then everyone guessed who the story might have happened to.

Velma Holloway and Betty Meredith tied in guessing the most.

Mrs. Lavon Mark was presented a going away gift as she is moving to Ohio.

Mrs. Bowser served refreshments including a beautiful decorated cake honoring Mrs. Mark for her many years of dedication and work in the Women's Fellowship. There were fourteen members and several children present.

The April meeting will be at the home of Betty Meredith.

Our rates and safety records are headed in the right direction.

1988 was a very important year for our employees and our customers. While many will remember it as the year that brought New Lower Rates to 69 Indiana counties, there's a more important memory. Because it was also a year that showed a dramatic decline in on-the-job injuries.

The safety message is simple. At Public Service Indiana we believe safety begins with every employee every day of the year. Safe working conditions for co-workers, family and friends is another Idea that works for Indiana.

Early Basketball Days

Basketball and Indiana! Just as rightfully paired as ham and eggs. And so it has always been, at least in the lifetime of this writer, now in his eighth decade.

The game is such an integral part of Indiana that it has been played anywhere a barrel hoop could be attached to a wall or post, indoors or out. Only weather that stiffens fingers and when noses need constant wiping, can stop basketball out of doors. Before nets were invented, many and violent were the arguments as to whether the ball went inside or outside the hoop.

Fans who watch games in the comparative comfort of today's big gym, would not believe some of the old "courts" used for high school games 60 years ago. Old store buildings, church and barn lofts for pick-up games, and a floor little over half the size of today's regulation boards, served many early high schools. Space for a couple hundred fans was about average in a small high school. This writer's high school in the 1920's had a gym considerably undersized by today's standards, with either three of four rows of double-deck bleachers on only one side, and a few bleachers on one end. During school days it served as a "manual training" shop. Jim Riley, one-time Warsaw high principal, and Lester Davis, long-time Atwood principal, began their basketball careers in that little gym.

This is all a lead to the fact that Mentone High School, formed about 1908, like many other schools, had no place for basketball except vacant buildings and an old grist mill, until 1926. The community wanted a gymnasium, but Franklin and Harrison township trustees (Mentone lays in both townships) felt tax monies should not be spent just for a place to play games.

Someone took leadership, an organization was formed among the taxpayers and school patrons, many of whom bought stock, to finance a gymnasium. Costing $5,000, the frame building was erected in 1926, paying costs to the bone, labor was donated, and a part of the fence from Mentone's old baseball field was used in the new building.

Work went fast, because Mentone had been promised the county tourney (not to be confused with the sectional tourney) in 1926 if the building were ready. Officially named the Mentone Community Building, it was on land donated by Mrs. Susan Forst. Orla Hudson was trustee, and on the evening of January 2, 1926, 1200 people gathered in the new building for the dedication. A. I. Nelson, cashier of Mentone's Farmers State Bank, presided. Speeches were made by County School Supt. Harry Lewallen, and well known Mentone family physician, M. C. Yocum. A male quartet from Burket sang.

And the building opened none too soon. On January 29-30 the Kosciusko County Tourney was played, with Claypool and Milford meeting in the first game on Friday afternoon. Thirteen teams, including the two just named, plus Beaver Dam, Syracuse, Sidney, Burket, Atwood, Piercetown, Leesburg, Mentone, North Webster, Elma Green and Silver Lake. All in two days! So small were some of the schools in student count, that when the first five took the floor, it was hard to fill the bench!

And, in true tradition, fierce winter weather moved in. The Winona Railroad Co. battled eight foot drifts between Mentone and Akron, and the mercury plunged just a few days before Friday's tourney start. But Mentone went "all out" to host the contests. The Warsaw Daily Times reported players were fed at "the restaurant" and by the Ladies Aid Society at the M.E. Church. Anyone who could get to Mentone could find lodging in a private home.

Atwood beat Milford in the final game, 45 to either 32 or 38. (The headline said 38, but a line in the news story said 32). Box scores weren't given.

So hospitable were Mentone and the Community Building that the county tourneys were held there until 1953, when a new gym, stage and handroom were added to the Mentone school building.

Out of use for many years, the old building was recently razed, but the hard games, screams, scraps and good basketball it saw will not soon be forgotten.

(And, slightly out of context, we have to mention Mentone's first high school team. Coached by Clark Mollenhour in 1908, the "Little Giant" starters included Mark Turner, Homer Mentzer, Earl Baker, Herbert Bennett and Emmet Dunlap.)

Akron Town Board Meeting

Old Business: Marshall Lawson reported that Mr. Goff is supposed to be proceeding with plans to remove his old barn on Adams St. It was decided to have Attorney Peterson write him a letter in an effort to move it faster. Also Supt. Gearhart will check on a septic tank there which is to be filled in.

Some cars have been removed from the Ted Lewis property and in other parts of town. The question of auto dealers and their old cars was brought up. Marshall Lawson will talk to these people.

Jim Saner, President of the Akron youth League asked about the need for another ball diamond at the park. It is a critical need because of the number of teams playing this year which means the children are at the park until very late at night. It is felt there is plenty of room at the south of the present diamond. John Weida said he would measure the area and report back. After discussion Bob Allen made the motion to allow space for a second diamond, motion was seconded and carried.

A question on the use of the Boy Scout cabin was brought up, as the Board received a request for use of it. Decision for the board to look it over was made.

Marshall Lawson presented some suggestions to improve the parking problem in the school house area. Also the question of parking in front of the old fire station, the Board decided to leave it as it is until they see what the building will be used for after it is sold. In regard to this meeting the final sale for the buildings has been changed to March 30, because Bob Peterson will be gone March 23 as planned. All bidders have been notified. Marshall Lawson presented a quote of $450 for an antenna and radio repair to operate inside of this metal building. He was given permission to purchase an antenna and to repair the radio.

John Carr asked about the possibility of renting a part of the old office for use as a video store. He was told the building will be offered for sale and the clerk was instructed to contact the appraisers so legal work can be done on the sale of that.

Supt. Gearhart reported the tornado siren is hooked up. He presented a quote of $900 for a divider and shelves for the van. After discussion, the Board gave him permission to order the divider and shelves. Supt. Gearhart also requested a trash pump that is on sale, this will be considered in April. He also requested permission to connect the down spouts on the west side of the new building to the storm sewer and was given permission to do so. Gearhart reported that the work on the ditch near the dump area is being delayed because of the condition of the ground but it will proceed when it is drier. Supt. Gearhart then made the suggestion that the Town remove old sidewalks when requested to do so by the property owner and to haul away in preparation of their installing a new sidewalk, other towns have decided to do this and it was felt it would help homeowners to replace badly needed sidewalks.

The dates of May 1 and 2 were set for annual clean up days. Discussion on the price the town pays at the landfill was held and the clerk was instructed to prepare figures on these costs for the next meeting. It was felt the town should offer it free at least once per year, preferably in the spring.

Smile....It's Good For You

Blissful

It's been said you use more muscles to frown than smile. Besides, who wants permanent creases from frowning? Giving serious thought to this declaration, I decided to prove the point with faces. Check them out and have a laugh!

If you are surly, just imagine all the lines that could form where you really don't want them.

Disgusted

Disgusted with the happenings during the daytime? Think twice. Just think how you must look to someone else. Frustrated about things? Don't just wrinkle up, do something about it and look a whole lot better.

Exhausted

Don't be jealous, either. What a waste of time when you could be bettering yourself instead.

Withdrawn

When there doesn't seem to be an answer to a situation, you might think of withdrawing the answer. Not really, problems seldom go away, they just wait along with you.

Confident

Be optimistic. It doesn't take too much to find the terrible happenings of the day but a little more effort to realize there are good people and pleasant happenings all the time.

Thankful

Last but not least, thank the people you haven't thanked for a long time. You just might make their day. Besides, many of these columns would never have been written without the ideas of others. My thanks to everyone of them for their ideas over the past two years and may you all have a new beginning in understanding and communicating with others either by talking together, writing, or just spending time with each other.

Thanks, Teresa. You make coffee breaks a high point in an otherwise seemingly ordinary day.

Surly

Enraged

Jealous

Disbelieving

Optimistic

Joyful

Akron Hi-Times: The pest extermination contest is over. It was one of the most interesting contests that has ever been held in the school and the most unusual as it was to get rid of farm pests. The main pest was of course, the sparrow. Then come rats, mice, pigeons, starling and last of all, crows. The high point boy was Homer Carr with 123 points and the high point girl was Wilma Traver with 385 points. So many points was given for each pest turned in, as follows: sparrows 3 points, starlings 4, mice 7, rats 10, pigeons 8 and crows 15 points. There was a total of 2770 pests killed and turned in to the captains of the teams. Everybody should be very proud of the fact that those boys and girls have helped rid the community of the much hated pests.

LET US PROTECT OUR PLANET; IT'S THE ONLY ONE WE HAVE

Do you ever take time to look at the world around you? In some places it is still very beautiful and unspoiled, but in all too many areas our civilization has taken its toll. In ever-increasing amounts we are polluting our air and water, turning the land into a gigantic trash dump and eradicating all forms of plant and animal life, at the rate of one species each year. Not all of these things can be helped, nor are they necessarily the result of negligence, but with our population growth and diminishing wilderness areas it behooves us to keep all of these unfortunate actions to a minimum. Learn at your House of Worship that God gave us our world and all its natural resources to use, but not to destroy. Thank Him for this evidence of His love which is all around us, and resolve to do all you can to help preserve it.

Lewis Salvage

Michael, Maurice, and Kim Lewis have been the owners of Lewis Salvage Company for five years. The business started over thirty years ago in Akron Indiana, by their father, Elmer Lewis. In 1986, Lewis Salvage moved to Warsaw to open its second location. The new location located on County Road 225, at the west edge of Boggs Industrial Park, opened in the middle of 1988.

"Our new location includes a 10,000 square foot building, two new electronic digital printing scales (one being a 70 foot 160,000 lb. capacity truck scale), a crane with a 55 inch diameter electric magnet which can lift over 2,000 lbs. at a time, and can flattening machine that has the capabilities to separate, flatten, and load up to 30,000 lbs. of aluminum cans into a 45 foot semi-trailer."

Along with their scrap and recycling, Lewis Salvage also houses Lewis Waste Disposal at their new location. Lewis Waste Disposal offers containers for trash removal from industrial, commercial, and construction sites. The containers vary in size for industrial, commercial, and construction sites. The containers available vary in size from a two cubic yard box to a 42 cubic yard container. Compaction equipment is available to compact the amount of trash. This helps in reducing the number of loads that might need to be hauled from the sites. Customized container services are available to fit customer needs.

Lewis Salvage Company and Lewis Waste Disposal are members of IRSI, Institute of Scrap Recycling Industries, and of NSWMA, National Solid Waste Management Association. Through these two organizations information on equipment, processes and changes will keep both Lewis Companies leaders in their fields throughout the futures.

Celebrate! Celebrate spring and celebrate your local Red Cross!

As the days become a little warmer and the sun shines a little brighter, put some spring in your step and visit the window display at Bailey's Hardware.

The colorful display reminds us of the many varied programs and services offered by your Red Cross. You can also see photos from the 1964 tornado. There are special items, too...like the certificate Sue Hudkins loaned Red Cross. Mrs. Hudkins' mother, Martha Martin, earned the honor for knitting sweaters for the servicemen during World War II. You can even see the instruction flyer for making the sweaters. You can see the uniforms worn by Red Cross volunteers, now and then.

While you're out enjoying the weather, stroll on over to the library. There you can enjoy more photos and another case display.

Take time to celebrate spring. Take time to celebrate the good life here in Rochester and in Fulton County. Take time to notice Red Cross, so we will be here if you need us. Spring can be deceiving.

Internal Revenue Service says beware of impostors

Indiana residents should beware of persons posing as employees of the Internal Revenue Service. According to the IRS, these impostors attempt to harass people or collect money for what they claim are unpaid taxes.

People should request to see the credentials of any individual claiming to represent the IRS. Every IRS employee who makes contact with the public is required to carry distinctive identification and must show this when conducting official business. Generally, people who owe money to the IRS will receive written notification before being contacted in person.

Last year in Indiana, IRS received 14 reports of individuals impersonating and employee of the Internal Revenue Service.

People who doubt the validity of credentials offered, or the identity of telephone callers, can verify the IRS contact by placing a collect call to the IRS' Internal Security Division, Office of Regional Inspector, in Indianapolis at (317) 226-6393. If there is no answer at the Indianapolis number, a collect call can be placed to the Cincinnati Office at (513) 684-3564.
