TVSC Orders Portables, Gives Teachers Pay Increase

Five relocatable classrooms costing $10,885 each will expand classroom space at the Akron school to include all grades, K-12, during the 1969-70 school year if the State Division of Schoolhouse Planning approves the project.

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board voted 4-1 (Richard Goshert casting the "No" vote) at Monday night's meeting to purchase the air conditioned, carpeted, self-contained units from National Homes. They will be used to house three sections of the sixth grade, one section of kindergarten and one other class, either high school or junior high. In addition, the board, by the same vote, approved a $5916.95 purchase order for draperies and Heywood-Wakefield furniture. Shelving and the cost of setting the structures will add several more thousand dollars to the cost, the exact amount as yet undetermined.

By returning junior high students to Akron from Talma, the board expects to cut off the extra "leg" bus route and hopes to reduce enrollment at crowded Talma Junior High School.

The meeting was attended by 25-30 parents of corporation children, many of whom favor a centralized high school. Represented by their spokesman, Larry Klein, they asked the board why Indianapolis attorneys had been hired to represent the board and were told the capital attorneys were closer to the action at the office of Public Instruction and, in response to another question, were told that it was not known whether the same attorneys would be employed for other corporation business.

Klein also asked if there was a change in administrative reimbursement for the next biennium and was told by Supt. Robt. Forbes that the recently legislated changes had not "been good" for this corporation.

In conclusion, Klein said the group hoped the board would make the best use of space in utilizing the relocatables and suggested that they be considered temporary and that it was hoped they reflected something more long-range than the next school year. Dr. O. L. McFadden, board member, interjected that he felt the state would "make it a temporary solution." Klein concluded by saying the group favored better education and hoped to see the joining of the two high schools in the future.

After much discussion, the board voted to offer the teachers a $300 across-the-board salary increase that would boost the pay of beginning teachers to $6600. This was a counter-proposal to a schedule presented by the teachers that called for a starting salary of $6550 but that included a 3% per year increase for each year of experience. The counter-proposal retained the present extra-curricular schedule. The teacher's salary committee had proposed changes in this schedule that would have included paying the teachers $25 per semester hour for graduate-level courses taken above the Masters level.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This newspaper welcomes letters on timely, pertinent public matters. Lack of space forces us to ask that they be limited to 200 words or less, if possible. Dear Mr. Editor:

I'd like to take this opportunity to personally thank all of those people who participated in "Finian's Rainbow" at Akron last weekend.

As a college student, involved in the "now" generation, and involved in the riots being staged by the supposedly jet set, it did me good to see something presented on stage that did not involve sex, riot, hate, and the ever-popular crime.

The kids who had an acting part were outstanding and deserve more credit than they'll receive. They worked hard and enjoyed every minute of it. Wouldn't it be great if everyone could work like that?

Thank you for letting me express myself this way. I know I speak for many of the people of this community.

NIPSCO Asks First General Gas Rate Increase In More Than 20 Years

Northern Indiana Public Service Company Wednesday asked the Public Service Commission of Indiana to approve a general increase in gas rates--the first since 1948--for gas customers served by the utility in the northern third of the state.

NIPSCO (The Gas Company) has approximately 107,000 gas customers in its St. Joseph Valley and Goshen Divisions which include the So. Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, Goshen, Plymouth, and Warsaw area. Residential customers in these districts who cook with gas and use it for automatic water heating will experience an increase of a little over 2¢ per day of 64¢ per month. Utility bills of those in the area who heat their homes with gas and also use it for cooking and water heating will go up about 5.6¢ per day depending on the quantity of gas used.

In a petition filed Wednesday by Dean H. Mitchell, NIPSCO chairman and chief executive officer, dramatically rising costs were cited as the reason for the request.

60th Wedding Anniversary Honored

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H.V. Nellans was celebrated recently at the Timbercrest home at No. Manchester, where the couple, former Mentone area residents, now reside.

A sister-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Johns sent a floral centerpiece of jonquils and tulips that highlighted the table reserved in their honor in the main dining room.

Helping their parents celebrate were their daughter, Helen Spitler, and her husband; son Max and his wife of Mentone and son Dale and wife and daughters, Marcia and Maranel of Warsaw. A grandson, Dr. Roger E. Nellans, Manhattan Beach, Calif., was unable to attend.

Orville Sherman, administrator of the home, introduced the party and asked Mr. Nellans to introduce the family by person, after which he continued his remarks and offered prayer.

The other residents enjoyed dessert of ice cream and cake from the wedding party, and the family enjoyed a cake, baked specially for her grandparents by Marcia Nellans.

Following the taking of several pictures, the family retired to the Nellans' room and adjoining lounge where the family greeted the residents.

The Nellanses were married March 13, 1909 in Wabash by Rev. Chas. Little. Mrs. Nellans is the former Mabel Singer of Wabash.

Discuss Akron community building

A meeting of a group representing Akron's civic organizations that is inquiring into the feasibility of obtaining a community building was held recently with Ralph Rader present to answer questions and offer suggestions on the subject. He suggested as a first step the formation of a permanent board of actively interested persons and the legal incorporation of this unit.

Rader also suggested the group investigate community buildings in surrounding towns and canvass Akron to see what financial and moral support could be expected.

Rader promised any assistance he might be able to give and stated he felt there was a definite need for such a building. He said a substantial fund remaining in the old Akron Fair funds might be obtained with state approval and it was noted that the Lions Club has set aside funds for a project of this kind. It was further noted that the Las Donas Jr. Woman's Club has pledged $500 and that the Boy Scouts have donated a hot water heater for the kitchen.

John and Jim Ramsey attended the meeting, helping estimate the costs of a pole building if that type of structure should be decided upon. Most of the group seemed to favor a pole building, feeling it would provide the most building for the least expense and that it could be erected in a short amount of time and would require less maintenance in the future.

It was suggested the building by 40 x 90 and it was estimated it would cost $4 to $5 a sq. foot, including heating, plumbing, electricity, etc., depending on the final facilities decided upon.

A location in the Pike Memorial Park was favored as it was felt it would allow sufficient parking space and other recreational areas now there would be nearby. It was noted that the project has the approval of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Utter who donated the park ground to the town in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Pike. The Utters offered the committee a suggested blue print for the project that would include several separate club rooms, a large activity room, lobby, kitchen and snack bar, utility and rest rooms.

The committee will meet again on Monday, May 12, and anyone interested in working with it or any other interested person is urged to attend.

Individual or club pledges should be addressed to the Lions Club or Larry Klein, the club secretary.

Tibbets resigns as Mentone clerk

Increased business responsibilities were given as the reason for James Tibbets' resignation as clerk-treasurer of Mentone. Tibbets resigned at Monday night's town board meeting.

The board designated the remainder of May as "clean-up" time for the town. Anyone wishing to discard bulk items should contact James Whetstone, a board member, at 353-3225 for removal.

Darrell King, who had been requested to study rules and regulations of other cemeteries and to present suggestions for the care of the Mentone cemetery, made the following suggestions:

Monuments must be placed in line at the head of the grave and must have at least four inch margin of concrete; they must have a foundation of concrete and the foundation must be constructed at ground level. Monument dealers or lot owners must landscape around foundations that protrude above the ground level.

No plantings, potted plants, vases, urns, shrubbery, etc. shall exist on the grave, with no exceptions. These items must be placed within the line of the headstone.

Concrete, metal or composition vaults must be used for all burials. An exception is that if wood or deteriorating enclosures are used, the owners will be assessed a maintenance charge.

Persons living outside the corporation limits of Mentone will be charged a slight extra fee for opening grave. (The Mentone residents pay taxes for cemetery care.)

Winter blankets may be permitted after mowing season is complete and will be removed after April 1 of each year. This includes all winter decorations.

O means only that she is out of sight
T is for the tears we've shed in grieving.

60 YEARS AGO

The Akron High schools are turning out their 9th class this year and the largest in numbers, seventeen, of any of its proud predecessors.

And school is out. That large building erected a dozen or fifteen years ago then thought entirely too large by many people, and by some an extravagant waste of money, must submit to an overhauling. Additions must be made to accommodate the growing needs of the children. Activity will begin very soon on the school grounds. All this activity would not be strange in a western town with a score or more of promoters, but in staid old Akron, where men thank a dozen times before they act or speak once, it is surprising even to the most sanguine. And to the stranger it is more than surprising to see Akron's commercial activity and its improvements going forward everywhere. But after all, nothing is being done, nothing is building but what is actually needed. That is the reason Akron is sound and solid, permanent in growth—not booming but steadily building only what is needed.

Basketball Camp Is Planned At Rochester

The first Rochester Basketball School will be held at the Rochester high school gym this spring from May 31 to June 6. Skip Collins, Rochester coach and president of the Indiana High School Coaches Association, will be the director.

All boys who are presently in grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 are invited to attend. This includes all area schools. Boys do not need to have been a member of any team. The seven sessions will be held mornings, with 7th and 8th graders on the floor from 8:30 to 10 a.m., and the older boys on from 10 to 11:30.

The school will attempt to foster good sportsmanship and teach all the fundamentals of basketball. The boys will also be divided into teams and play a league schedule with the winners receiving awards. A sportsmanship award, voted on by the boys, will be given to a boy in each group. Every boy will receive a Basketball School T-Shirt.

Parents wishing to enroll their sons in the school should submit the enrollment blank below by mail. The ten dollar tuition fee may be paid in full with the enrollment; or a one-half deposit will be accepted with the balance due on the opening day of the school. In order to maintain workable numbers, enrollment will be limited on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Farm Income Gap Seen As Challenge

A main hold of the Department of Agriculture will be closing the "farm income gap," Clem Good, chairman of the Fulton Co. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said this week.

"Secretary Clifford Hardin made this clear recently when he observed that the average person on a U.S. farm today has only three-fourths as much income as the average American nonfarmer," he said.

Hardin pointed out that "knowledge is the bedrock of U.S. agricultural progress," and added that dependence on knowledge will grow even greater as more and more people come to depend on fewer and fewer farmers for their most basic economic needs.

"The countries with the highest average level of education also have the highest average production—and the United States leads the list by a wide margin," Hardin said.

Good reports that the Secretary of Agriculture is seeking advice or directions for agricultural from farmers, ranchers, their organizations, and also urban people who depend on agriculture more than most of them realize.

L & B Foods sets opening

A total of 60 years of grocery merchandising experience is represented in Mentone's new L and B Foods Store.

Recently remodeled and enlarged into the room that formerly housed Romine Electric Co. in the Shinn building, Lemlers Market this week became L and B Foods with the partnership of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemler and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowser.

The Lemlers have been in business in Mentone for the past 37 years, coming here from Bourbon. Their first Mentone store was located in part of the building that now houses Cooper's Department Store.

Bowser has been associated with the store for the past 23 years and recently hired his brother, Dave, to manage L and B's expanded meat department.

Described as the fulfillment of a life-long dream, the remodeling followed months of planning and installation of new equipment in all departments.

The Lemlers and Bowers invite everyone in to see their new store and to register for the door prizes they will give away May 17.

Like all family stories, this, too, has some endings. Children grow up, marry and move away. This is the autobiography of a creative person, and Mrs. Kent's love for the people and places of her life is reflected in all she has done, her books, her delicious meals, her handiwork, etc.--but most of all in the fun she still gives her children and grandchildren, her friends, her readers. Here is another delightful story for Mrs. Kent's readers.

FACT, FICTION AND FOLKLORE OF SOUTHERN INDIANA by Margaret Sweeney. Indiana, in a real way, opened the frontiers of the great Northwest and the doors to the greatness of the then struggling young country. Margaret Sweeney, a daughter of the Hoosier State, a long-time teacher there, is bountifully gifted to bring us the legends, the songs, the games, as well as a justified pride in the history of the region.

THE WORLD IN 1968, HISTORY AS WE LIVED IT SONGS OF THE SEASONS by Crystal Shoemaker. This is a lovely collection of poetry that most everyone should enjoy. There are poems for each season of the year that will lift and inspire you.

DEMISE OF THE IRON HORSE by George S. Rainey. This is the history of the railroads of Indiana.

A YAK FOR CHRISTMAS by Louise Hillary. Few parents spent the Christmas holidays trekking through the Himalayas with their children. But that's precisely what Sir Edmund Hillary and his wife, Louise, did, and their experiences led to the writing of this thoroughly delightful book. The Hillary family journeyed to Nepal to attend the dedication of a much needed hospital in a remote mountain village. The trip's climax was the children's first white Christmas, complete with a willing Santa Claus on a reluctant yak.

Especially for Women

Woman's Club Installs Officers

Mrs. Beecher Weida was installed as president of the Akron Woman's Club Thursday afternoon.

The program for the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Val Pemberton, Mrs. Jack Lybarger and Mrs. Aaron Blossom, all of Rochester, who showed how to use "anything" to make a home more attractive. They displayed many items that had made using everything from old telephone boxes and pieces of chandeliers to corn dryers and drawers from old sewing machines. Their theme was interior decorating and the fact that an item did not have to be expensive to be attractive.

Style Show

The home economics students of Mentone High School will present a style show in the Mentone gym Wednesday evening, May 14, at 7:30 p.m.

add four years to your life

Washing dishes by hand consumes 1 to 1½ hours per day, thirty days per year, and over four years in a housewife's lifetime. An electric dishwasher gives you back that time. It's just like adding four years to your life.

a versatile appliance In addition to making everyday dishwashing an easier task, your electric dishwasher also serves as:

1. A storage place for soiled dishes. Your counter tops are uncluttered. Your kitchen is always ready for company.
2. A handy way to warm plates for dinner—using the dry cycle of the machine.
3. A quick, easy way to spruce-up dusty "company" dishes and special occasion crystal.

a beauty tip for your hands

Dishwashing liquids with hand lotion in them are all right, but the best advice is keeping your hands out of the dish-water altogether, with an electric dishwasher. And, your dishes are sterilized with water too hot for handwashing.

doing better Perfection lies in quality not quantity.

rejected the school board's proposal of a $300 across the board salary increase.

At the last regular school board meeting, the teachers had presented a salary schedule running from $6,550.00 a year to $11,201.00 with a schedule of extra curricular activities and fringe benefits. It was estimated that the schedule, as proposed by the teachers, would cost Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation an additional $50,167.00. The school board met a week later and countered with a proposal that started at $6,600.00 running to $10,800.00 with extra-curricular activities and fringe benefits that would raise teachers from $300 to as much as $475 per year, including their increment. The school board had estimated that this across the board raise would cost the school corporation approximately $35,000.00 additional.

Castaldi Heads Hospital Group

Lawrence Castaldi, manager of Mid West Spring Mfg. Co., Mentone, was named president of the not-for-profit Kosciusko Community Hospital at a meeting held Friday night at the Cardinal Learning Center in Warsaw.

Other officers are Darrel Frantz, Sidney, vice president; Joe Boggs, R. L. Mentone, secretary, and George Lenke, Warsaw, treasurer.

Members of the Kosciusko County Board of Commissioners Monday unanimously approved a renewed request for a $2 million Kosciusko county bond issue to assist with construction costs of a community not-for-profit hospital facility and thereby cleared the way for the group to apply for federal Hill-Burton funds.

The federal government will provide through Hill-Burton one third of the construction costs for not-for-profit facilities if it is assured that the remaining two thirds of the cost is available through a bond issue and private contributions.

The request for the bond issue was made by a KCH committee composed of John Snell, Robert Hoffman, Arch Baumgartner, Joe Boggs and Robt. Maish.

This year's pictures will be taken in color, although they will appear in black and white in the paper.

Appointments are not necessary, but they are considered helpful. In charge of local appointments are Mrs. Kenneth Ford shattered retail sales records in '68. '69 sales are even better than that and top all competition by plenty.

No mystery. Truck buyers go for pickups with Twin-I-Beam front suspension and new economy V-8's. Or vans with 23% more floor space in back. Or medium/heavies that can turn their wheels as sharply as 44° for superb maneuverability. Why settle for less?

On Things Dependable

"Yes son, this watch has been a very reliable timepiece. In all the years I've carried it it has neither gained or lost time. I can always rely upon it.

"I can't show you, but something else I have is every bit as dependable—more so. That something is my faith. Faith that contacts me with the Power from above.

"I'll tell you how I hold on to that faith. I attend church. You'll see me there at about every regular service, for my church means a lot to me. It is there that I keep my contact with God's power, and working with power, as I do, I can appreciate that faith the more. It is through the church fellowship and services that my faith is inspired and strengthened. It has helped me over many a rough grade and through many a close spot. And when you grow to manhood always remember it will do the same for you. Remember the tough old railroad engineer who told you that."

Sermon Series

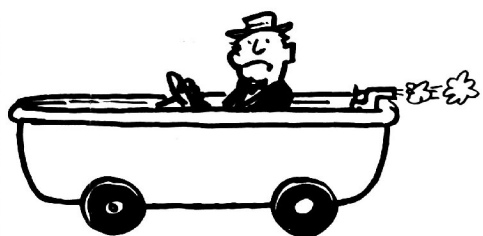

"The Holy Spirit As A Person and His Work" will be the first in a series of three messages on the general theme, "The Nature and the Work of the Holy Spirit" by Pastor J. F. Baldwin of the Akron Church of the Brethren.

The Holy Spirit is mentioned in the Old Testament 134 times in a supernatural way, 378 times in a practical way and in the New Testament 335 times. The words are in all the New Testament books except First and Second John.

The special mission of the Holy Spirit in our day is to invite sinners to Christ, lead believers through regeneration into the Body of Christ (the church). Show us the things presented such as Heirship, Forgiveness, Being Accepted, God's Grace, etc., assurance of His indwelling, impelled to be, to do and to go and assurance of eternal life. To hear and practice these messages will make us mature and rich in eternity.

Everyone is invited to hear these messages, which are designed to comfort, enlighten and help solve your various problems.

Three Former "500" Pole Winners Try Again

When the battle for the pole position in this year's Indianapolis 500-Mile Race gets under way Saturday, three popular veterans who have earned that distinction on one or more previous occasions, will be among the outstanding contenders.

They are: A. J. Foyt, who set a new qualifying record of 161.233 miles an hour in 1965; Mario Andretti, who jumped the speed to 165.899 and then to 168.982 in 1966 and 1967, respectively, and Joe Leonard, who holds the present record of 171.559, set a year ago.

The winner of Saturday's speed battle for the No. 1 starting position can earn $20,000 or more for his performance and several other veterans will be pushing the favorites to new records.

Gates to the grounds will be opened at 7 a.m. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), with an admission charge of $2 and all seats available on a first-come, first-served basis. The track will be available for practice at 9 o'clock and qualification attempts will get under way at 11 o'clock as determined by the luck of the draw on the previous evening.

Cash awards offered by the Speedway management for performance in the time trials total $19,500. Six prizes, ranging downward from $1,200 to $200, will be paid on each of the four time trial days, and additional awards amounting to $5,500 will go to the fastest 10 qualifiers regardless of the day on which they make their runs.

The pole-position winner also will receive a $6,000 check and trophy from Sprite and a check for $1,000 from Union Oil in connection with that company's participation in the premiere of Universal Studio's full-length auto racing feature picture, "Winning."

Postage Increase On July 1

An "inherited" postal deficit of $1.2 billion is responsible for the proposals to raise postage, local postal officials announce.

Postmaster General William Blount has said that the record $1.2 billion 1970 deficit compelled President Nixon to seek postage rate increases. Without the higher rates, the department will be left with a staggering deficit that would become an added public tax burden, they said.

In addition to increasing letter mail from 7 to 7 cents, as proposed by the Johnson Administration, Nixon also asked that second and third-class mailers help reduce the large postal deficit, and the rates for third-class and most magazines and newspapers would be increased 16 to 20 percent above the present levels. These percentages include rate hikes already scheduled by previous action on Congress.

It is hoped the president's recommended increases will reduce the 1970 postal deficit by more than $600 million.

The following details on the proposed increases have been released:

FIRST CLASS MAIL: Letters and post cards to be increased one cent, to 7 cents an ounce and 6 cents a piece, respectively, on July 1. Airmail postage to remain at 10 cents. This to yield $557.2 million in new revenues.

SECOND CLASS MAIL: A handling charge of 3/10 of a cent per piece for circulation outside home counties would become effective July 1, 1970. This would yield $15.3 million annually and would represent a 12 percent increase in addition to the 8 percent rise scheduled to take effect Jan. 1, 1970.

THIRD-CLASS MAIL: For single pieces, rates to be increased one cent per piece. This would yield $12.4 million. For regular bulk third-class, the minimum would yield $12.4 million. For regular bulk third-class the minimum would be increased to a uniform rate of 4.2 cents Jan. 1, 1970, as contrasted with the present rate of 3.6 cents. The 1970 increase would lift revenues by $46.8 million annually.

First Aid Course Will Be Given

Mrs. Howard Funnell, Kosciusko Co. American Red Cross First Aid Chairman, announced this week that a Standard First Aid Course will be offered at Warsaw at the Red Cross Chapter House at 501 No. Lake St.

The course, which began Tuesday night, is still open. It will be held at 7 p.m. each Tuesday and will be followed by the 16 year advanced First Aid course if eight or more are enrolled.

The fact that Kosciusko county has already experienced one drowning points out the need for knowledge of artificial respiration, the control of excessive bleeding and care in accidents which summertime brings, she said. She added, "Hopefully, the knowledge and skills will not be needed but should they be required, you will have the assurance of knowing just what to do."

Interested persons may call the Red Cross office to register or secure further information.

SWCD Reports Spring Activity

The Board of Supervisors of the Kosciusko Co. Soil and Water Conservation District met recently at the office with eight supervisors and two office personnel present.

Supervisors reported they had attended three meetings: a workshop for new supervisors at Columbia City; the Elkhart River Basin Study at Syracuse; the education meeting with county school officials at the Westminster Hotel.

Plans were made for a 4-H tour to be held June 10 with all 4-H members with conservation-related projects invited to attend. The district will charter a bus to show 4-Hers conservation do's and don't's within the area.

Sponsors for boys attending the conservation camps at Oliver and McClure Lakes will be contacted by individual supervisors. Dates for the two camps are: Oliver Lake, July 13 thru 17 and McClure Lake July 27 through Aug. 1.

Announcement was made of a conservation workshop for teachers to be held August 28 or 29. Conservation Education Supervisor, Joe Wright, from the office of public instruction will work in conjunction with local conservation officials to plan the workshop.

Five new cooperators were approved: Keith Smith, Monroe Twp., Joe Speicher, Jackson; Geraldine Perry, Harrison; Herschel Albert, Plain; and Russel Hibschan of Van Buren. One group project: George Williamson and William Engleberth, Washington.

The next meeting will be held June 3 at 8 p.m.

4-H Electric Meetings Are Set

Lloyd Butts, Fulton Co. 4-H Electric Project leader, has announced the following schedule of meetings for all 1969 4-H electric members in the county:

May 14, May 28, June 11, June 25, July 9 and July 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the 4-H Community Bldg. at the county fairgrounds.

All members are required to attend at least two of the meetings to complete the electric project requirement.

Such topics as electric demonstrations and judging, principles of electricity and safety, and exhibits and equipment for the 4-H electric project will be discussed at the meetings.

Parents are also invited to participate in the group of meetings.

The Army's General Educational Development program provides academic and vocational courses from elementary through college level for personnel who wish to continue their education while on active duty.

During 1968, colleges and universities participating in the ROTC program, produced over 17,000 new second lieutenants for the Army.

INDIANA CORN GROWERS ALERTED TO CONTROL GRASSES

Your choice of herbicide this year can make this much difference. Field on left — thick with grasses — was treated only for broadleaf weeds.

seeded small grains without fear of carryover injury.

Moving to a pre-emerge herbicide program on rotated corn means investing a little more in the crop. But as many growers found out last fall, it can pay off handsomely in extra bushels at harvest.

A warning is being sounded for the state's corn growers this spring. It's watch out for grassy weeds.

Recent university studies show that a heavy foxtail infestation can cut corn yields up to 23 bushels an acre... and grass problems like foxtail cannot be handled by supplementing cultivations with a spray of a contact weed killer. In the first place, while the spray used will control most broadleaf weeds, it won't bother the grasses.

Moreover, grower experience has shown that depending on a cultivator to get weeds after they emerge can create more problems than it solves.

For example, the weather doesn't always cooperate.

Then, too, time is too valuable to spend in cultivating corn, and the economics of hiring a hand to sit a cultivator is certainly questionable, providing the labor is available at all.

It's for reasons like this that state extension services are advising growers to use a herbicide that stops weeds before they emerge, and keeps them out all season.

Several new herbicides have been recently introduced that give summer-long control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in corn and still enables growers to follow with crops like soybeans...or spring-

Shallow planting can get your corn off to a fast and vigorous start. This picture shows the contrast in root development between shallow and deeply planted seed. According to tests conducted by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., corn planted at about 2 inches results in the best stands and produces the healthiest root system. This stronger root system has a better capacity to absorb water and nutrients and has the ability to help the plant bounce back faster if it should experience a late frost. Shallow planting is a way to boost profits without increasing expenses.

HUMOR IN THE NEWS

John S. Wagner skidded off the road in Berkeley Heights, New Jersey, and might have been seriously injured as his small sports car plunged into a deep ravine, but while soaring through the air it landed plump into the top of a big tree and Mr. Wagner climbed down unhurt.

Ray Hoover walked into his carport and found an elephant standing beside his station wagon. The discovery ended the hunt for Kim, a favorite at Knowland State Park, Oakland, California.

Speeds Climb During "500" Practice Sessions

On the basis of steadily increasing speeds by both veterans and rookies during recent practice sessions, a busy week-end is anticipated at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in preparation for the 53rd annual automobile classic on May 30.

A. J. Foyt, Al and Bobby Unser, Mario Andretti, Dan Gurney, Gordon Johncock, Johnny Rutherford and Jim McElreath head the array of USAC veterans who are determined to repulse the challenge from such world grand prix stars as Graham Hill, Denis Hulme and Jochen Rindt.

Last year's outstanding rookies, including Billy Vukovich and Gary Bettenhausen, also are on hand and the list of promising 1969 newcomers includes such candidates as Mark Donohue, George Follmer, "Jigger" Sirois, Rick Muther and Denny Zimmerman.

The track will continue to be available for daily practice sessions between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. (EDT), with an admission charge of only 50 cents; and official time trials to determine starting position in the 33-car lineup behind the Chevrolet Camaro pace car on May 30 have been scheduled for May 17-18 and May 24-25. Admission on time trial days will be $2 with all seats available on a first-come first-served basis.

The target will be the one-lap and four-lap track records of 171.953 and 171.559, respectively, set by Joe Leonard last year. Leonard still was "shopping for a good ride" when the daily practice sessions got under way last week.

Johnny Rutherford, who has participated in five of the last six Indianapolis 500-mile races, gives 1969 Rookie Rick Muther some pointers.

TVSC teachers get pay increase

The teachers in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will receive a 7% pay increase this year as a result of the Monday night board meeting in which the teachers' proposal, presented by Forst Dunnuck, was unanimously accepted by the board. This followed a period of proposals and counterproposals that had involved the board's offering the teachers a $300 "across the board increase" that was rejected by the instructors.

The 7% pay increase will set beginning teachers' salaries at $6,570 going to a maximum of $8,860 with 13 years of experience. The master's schedule starts at $6,990 and goes to $10,910 with 21 years of experience. The 7% increase also affected the extra-curricular schedule although some of the extra-curricular classifications, i.e. school paper, science fair committee, and art show director, were eliminated.

Present salaries are $6,300 for starting teachers and $6,700 for master's teachers, going to $8,280 in 12 years for the bachelor's degree and $10,300 for the master's in 20 yrs.

The board granted oil and gasoline contracts to Standard Oil Co. who bid 15.85 for gasoline and 11.45 for oil. The Harlan Coal Co. was given the coal bid at $19.50 per ton, and the bid of Rochester Building Service for accoustical tile was accepted. It was 26.5 cents per sq. foot.

Lamar Leffert asked the procedure for buying one of the building trades houses and was told that the houses will first be appraised and then sold to the highest bidder.

Teacher contracts signed included summer contracts with Floyd Henson for $1,730; Robert Stone for $1,475 and Kenneth Bush for $2,112.

Also contracted were Jerry Neil, a teacher and coach who will have the driver ed classes at Mentone beginning in June; David J. Shively, elementary and coaching; Barbara Smith, home economics, and Nancy Norton, elementary.

The board discussed a possible method of operation if the relocatable classrooms are not approved (it being noted that no official word has been received but that the relocatables had been verbally rejected) and decided on a plan whereby the junior high grades, 7 and 8, would remain at Talma. This plan would place all kindergarten

Akron C of C Hears Reports At Meeting

Members of the Akron Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday noon for a dinner meeting and heard reports that the fire-works have been ordered for the parade and that entries are still needed for the parade although several have already been received. Members of the 4th of July committee urged more float entries. They reported the horse show is underway.

The Chamber has said it will back the town board by writing a letter to the stream pollution board concerning the town's sewers and that it will do what it can to aid a possible community building.

Merrill Kendall, town clerk-treasurer, reported that a new ordinance is being proposed that would prohibit future plantings on the tree lawns. He noted that the trees are plucking the view, cutting out the street lights and allow no place for utility lines. He said, too, that box elder and poplar trees would not be allowed. He said the utility company will be in town soon to survey the lights around the schools and in other areas that have the old-type lights to consider the installation of mercury vapor lights.

It was voted to discontinue the dinner meetings during July and August.

children in the south end of the corporation at Akron and all in the north at Mentone, eliminating the section at Burket in favor of a full-time class.

Board member Richard Goshert again questioned the advisability of having outside attorneys check the appeal that the board recently ordered made and was told they "were doing a good job and had told Dr. Van Gilder the corporation stood better than

Giant Air Show Planned At Mentone

A gigantic air show will be staged at the Mentone Airport on Aug. 3 according to plans discussed at a recent meeting of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce. It will feature aerial maneuvers by Bob Herendeen, son of airport manager Chick Herendeen, and a champion aerobatic pilot. In addition, a number of other pilots will have their planes here and there will be a display of antique and home built planes. There will also be a display of radio-controlled models.

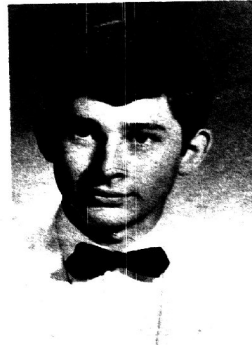

It was reported that work is underway on the hard surface runway at the airport and will be completed yet this week if the weather permits. Oiling was done on Tuesday and it was hoped that the paving would be done today. Work is being done by Brooks Construction Co. of Ft. Wayne.

The group also agreed to sponsor Park-A-Rama on July 26 and to give a color television this year instead of the traditional black and white set.

Raymond Cooper read a newsletter stating two of the big problems facing the country are crime and re-apportionment. He also suggested everyone write his Congressman prior to June 12 about pay TV. He invited them to attend a Bourbon town board meeting with him.

The Chamber reviewed the list of scholarship recipients and noted that three of the four

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING.

"The Supreme Court has told the states how they are to portion their legislatures; granted avowed communists the run of defense plants; made a criminal's confession almost impossible to use; approved even secondary school demonstrations against the South Vietnam war; banned prayers or reading of the Bible in public classrooms; rules that passports cannot be withheld from communists just because they are communists; and held that deserters from the armed forces even in war time cannot be stripped of citizenship. The fact is that the Supreme Court has arrogated to itself such legal power and legislative authority that the replacement of its justices is today a far more important matter than the election of Congressmen or Senators. No acts will alter the pattern of life in this country in the next 15 years as much as the appointments our new President will make to the court in the near future. May wisdom guide his hand!"

Community analysis

Self analysis is a very popular past-time and people are always interested in surveys and comparisons to see how they stack up with the rest of the people whether it is on the question of how does your marriage rate, how does your job rate, or how does your garden grow.

Community surveys are interesting also and we ran across one the other day which lists 32 virtues of a progressive community. Students of community development say that if a community can honestly answer "yes" to 24 or more of these items, then residents can be justly proud of the community.

How do you rate the community. And what can we do to change some of the "no" answers to a more positive rating?

- Most high school and college graduates stay in town.
- The local paper constantly pushes civic improvements.
- There's a place to swim within easy reach.
- Young couples have little trouble finding a place to live.
- The head of your city government is a "get-things-done" man.
- Teachers' salaries are better than the state average.
- There's a library with a good collection of new books.
- Service clubs and women's organizations team up on projects.
- A modern hospital is within your trading area.
- There's a hotel or motel you would enjoy, if you were a visitor.

- It's easy to find a parking space in the business section.
- Prompt, reasonable priced ambulance service is available.
- Streets throughout the community are well-lighted.
- There's as much interest in local as national elections.
- There's an active Parent-Teachers' Association.
- Citizens have a positive outlook and attitude about their town.
- Firemen must take regular training courses.
- There's an annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up week.
- More than half the church congregations are under 40 years of age.
- Local speeders pay the same fines as out-of-towners.
- Newcomers quickly feel they're a part of the town.
- Schools have plenty of room for students.
- All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good condition.
- At least one restaurant serves outstanding meals.
- It's easy to get volunteers for any worthwhile project.
- There's a livewire Chamber of Commerce.
- There's at least one doctor for each 800 people.
- Well-stocked stores keep shoppers in the town.
- There's an ample supply of good drinking water.
- The sewer extension programs keep pace with new housing.
- Good zoning keeps commercial firms away from residential areas.

Memories of the Beaver Dam School

It is a building that stands beside the road
In a community that is fine and good
It stood as a landmark for many years
To see it torn down almost brings you to tears
There is where my children grew up and did graduate

One by one until there were eight
So you can plainly see, why I feel it is a part of me.

For many years we had no gym
No place to hold our activities within.
Then one day our dream came true
Our building permit came through.

We enjoyed the gym as the days went by
Until a smoldering fire came in on the sly
Before they knew it, the flames were high
And destroyed the gym before its time
For it was built in Twenty nine
All the people were sick at heart
That with the gym they had to part
It brought a disaster all around
The pupils were hauled to different towns.
An auction was held. All the kitchen equipment they did sell

Now it stands there like an empty shell.
We had many trophies on display
They had to be moved and stored away.

No more school, Oh, what a shame
This place will never be the same
But we still have memories of the past
Which I hope will always last.

We had many ball games in this gym
Some we lost, and some we did win.
Twice we had a thrill that was great
Our team won the tournament and went to state
There was great rejoicing in the gym
When they learned the country school did win
We had our PTA suppers there from time to time

People would come and stand in line
Patiently waiting while they stood
For their plates to be filled with wonderful food

Many activities were held in the spring
Graduation time, class plays and many a thing
Parents would come and congratulate
The boys and girls that did graduate
If these walls could talk, I know very well
Many more things that they could tell.
The things that happened down through the years

Some brought joy, and perhaps some tears
If this building is torn down
As they say it will be

And there is nothing more left for me to see
Only grass where the building used to be
And all the rubbish hauled I know not where Fond memories will still linger there.

--A former resident of the Beaver Dam community,
Louise Swick

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

"THE VARIED AIRS OF SPRING" by Ilka Chase. This book details the adventures of the author and her husband in Africa, Greece, Spain and the Islands of Sicily, Dardina, Corsica and Elba. A high spot of their trip is a "proper safari" through the teaming game preserves of East Africa where, in addition to the flora and the fauna, they encounter Joy Adamson living in a one room shack papered with the jackets of her book "Born Free".

"HOPE AND HELP FOR YOUR NERVES" by Dr. Claire Weekes.

"MY LIFE AND MY CARS" by W. O. Bentley. Modern readers may think of the Bentley merely as a Rolls-Royce with a different radiator, designed mainly for those who might perhaps feel self-conscious about owning a Rolls. The fact is, however, that in the twenties and early thirties the Bentley was Rolls' chief competitor in the quality car field. W. O. Bentley, now in his eighties writes candidly and delightfully about the men and machines that made his car and his name famous; and he also discusses his later experiences after Rolls-Royce purchased the company that bore his name.

"GOD'S SMUGGLER" by Brother Andrew with John and Elizabeth Sherrill. Brother Andrew carried contraband Bibles past armed border guards to bring the love of Christ to the people behind the iron curtain. He has penetrated every communist country on the map, including Red China. The life story of this irrepressible Dutch missionary embodies a unique and heartening view of Eastern Europe's Christian communities. It is a book that carries an inspiring message for every Christian of the Free World.

"GRANT TAKES COMMAND" by Bruce Catton. This book gives us invaluable assistance in untangling the enigma of this remarkable Union warrior who has puzzled so many for so long. It gives a detailed and revealing portrait of Grant during the last year and a half of the Civil War.

"FOREVER THE SONG" by Milford E. Amness. Among the noblest stories of the American red man is that of Tecumseh, great Shawnee Chief, and his valiant efforts to build a Confederation of Indian tribes to stem the tide of the white man's advance across the American continent. This is one of the truest accounts of human bravery, courage, vision, hope, and struggle for possession of a homeland the world has ever known. The recounting of this story in novel form began in "Song of Metamoris" and is concluded in "Forever the Song".

Methodist Bible School Planned

Vacation Bible School will be held June 9th-June 20th at the Mentone United Methodist Church from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day. Mrs. Phil Surface and Mrs. May Blackburn are superintendents.

Rebekah Circle

The Rebekah Circle of the Center United Methodist Church met Tuesday evening with ten members present.

A clothing project for the needy in the community was set up and members voted to assist the Cardinal Learning Center financially.

The nominating committee reported general offices were the same as last year: Pres. Marie Heckaman, vice president Jean Grubb, secy. Bea Grimme, Treas. Jerry Parker.

Mrs. Alice Schilling presented the lesson, "What is a Christian?" The hostess, Mrs. Kenneth Cohee, served refreshments.

Mass Marriage at Manchester College Signifies "Self-Government Right"

A mass marriage ceremony Wednesday at which a group of 20 young men representing the family of men and another group of students representing sons and daughters of Manchester College was held at the college with Rev. Kenneth Brown performing the ceremony.

The purpose of the mass marriage was to "demonstrate the students' desire to initiate a new relationship which results with the freedom to govern their relationships and create rules in their residences."

Following the ceremony, a tent-in with 16 tents was held in the College Mall.

During the mass marriage ceremony, the 20 men representing the family of men awaited the coming of the sons and daughters of Manchester College who approached down a flower-strewn aisle. The Rev. Brown, preaching a marriage ceremony of non-violence, asked, "Do you oppose oppression?" and the answer was "Yes, Brother!" He then said, "Don't oppress."

He asked, "Do you dislike proletarianism?" the answer, "Yes, Brother!" He then said, "Don't be a proletarian."

He asked, "Do you dislike threats and inhumanity?" and was answered, "Yes, Brother." He then admonished them to "Love, Love, Love."

He asked the family of men, "Do you take them to be your brothers and sisters in the family of men for better or what is more likely worse-for richer or for tentless-in sickness, physical and mental; in failing and passing, 'till all men are brothers?" Amen."

He asked the sons and daughters, "Do you take this family of men to be our unlawfully declared siblings, brothers in this chaos of creation for better or worse, for richer or for marriage in pneumonia or paranoia; passing and in senior comps; in trepidation or in graduation until every man is kin?"

Then he said, "I now, be the authority which has not been invested in me, pronounce you brothers and sisters of the new community of freedom, equality and responsibility. We, students, administration and faculty, are one people. Amen, Amen, Amen. I present to you the family of men."

Following the marriage and the tent-in, the college released the following statement: Manchester College recognizes the right of members of the College Community to lawful protest. Forms of protest which do not interfere with the freedom of members or guests of the College Community to engage in the usual and scheduled activities are permitted. Persons violating the intent of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action. College personnel and campus security are responsible for the implementation of this policy, but civil authorities may be summoned.

Girl Scout News

On May 15, 1969, Jr. Troop 25 first talked about our camping trip.

Next we practiced our Flag Ceremony. While we were having our ceremony our leader, Nancy Smith, kept telling jokes. We were pretending to put on the pins of the new Girl Scouts and Nancy said, "I now pronounce you man and wife." Well there were three new Girl Scouts so she said, "I now pronounce you man and wife and child." The troop could not help but laugh. Then we sang our ceremony songs.

When we got through with the ceremony, we played a game called Queen's Headache. We played a few games of that and then played Pink Elephant.

When we got through with the games, we put Leslie Senff through the spanking machine because it was her birthday May 13. We formed two aisles and she walked through them and everyone spanked her. When she got through she said, "OUCH!"

Then we had refreshments, had our closing and left.

Glue canvas down with fabric cement. To give the natural-colored fabric a bright look as well as more durability, paint each step a different eye-catching color.

Mrs. Rex Clinker gave the Mothers' Welcome, and Brenda Clinker gave the response. Mrs. Carolyn Howie and Mrs. Sharon Snyder sang several numbers.

The tables and fellowship room were decorated in shades of pink.

There's color afoot in today's shoe styles. Give cotton canvas sneakers the bright touch of color with easy-to-use fabric dyes. Dye sneakers in your washing machine, following directions on the dye package.

Why should the rural community lose this $9,000 Investment?

Indiana educators report that the average cost to educate one child for the school year 1967-68, was $770.63. Based on that figure, a community has more than $9,000 invested in each pupil by the time he completes the 12th grade.

$9,000 is too big an investment for a rural community to lose because jobs aren't available when its young people start earning their own living.

Industry can locate its new plants in rural areas, knowing that man power is available and that REMC's offer dependable electric service. New industry will create the job opportunities needed to keep this "youth investment" at home.

Mentone WSCS Hears Letter

On Thursday, May 15, the Mentone Women's Society of Christian Service met at the church with Mrs. Pearl Lackey presiding over the business session. Mrs. Garrett Phillips reported on the annual WSCS meeting held May 14 at Ft. Wayne. Attending from the local society were Mrs. Ruth Urschel, Mrs. F. B. Davison, Mrs. Garrett Phillips and Mrs. Pearl Lackey.

Mrs. Carl Whetstone read an interesting letter from Miss Susan Gindelberger, formerly of Osceola who is now a teacher-missionary in the Congo, South Africa. Devotions were given by Mrs. Philip Lash. The play, "Voices From South Africa," proved informative concerning the ministry of the Church to the gold miners in Mozambique, South Africa. A large proportion of the gold used in the United States is from these So. African mines. The play's cast of characters included Mrs. David Bowser, Mrs. Raymond Cooper, Mrs. Eugene Sarber, Mrs. Marian Smith, Mrs. Paul Knoop, Mrs. Jerry Hudson, Mrs. Elmer Sarber, and Rev. Garrett Phillips.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bernard Rogers, Mrs. Merl Gibson, and Mrs. Ethel Shafer. The next meeting, on June 19, will be at the home of Mrs. Ralph Moltenhour.

Sunday is Student Day at Mentone United Methodist

Sunday, May 25, is Student Day at the Mentone United Methodist Church. The service will be held at 9:30 a.m. and each graduating student will be given a Holy Bible.

Rev. Garrett Phillips will speak on 2000 years of education. The Larry Stavedahl family will sing.

After the service, the congregation will go to the miniature cemetery on the church lawn where a special service will be held for all the soldiers who died in all the wars.

Everyone is invited to attend.

A MONUMENT to the founding church of the Church of God reformation has been erected on the corner of the Fred Haney farm. The plaque reads: On this site in the early 1880's the first building in "The Church of God Reformation" was erected and called "The Saints Church." A small band of "Saints" led by D. S. Warner built this church on ground donated by Elias and Amanda Leininger. The site, located directly west of the present Beaver Dam United Methodist Church, proved to be the inception of the present Church of God movement that includes 2300 congregations in this country with missions in twenty six countries around the world. In addition, the church has three major training schools, Anderson College and Seminary at Anderson, Ind., Warner-Pacific College in Oregon and Gulf Coast Bible College at Houston, Texas. The mission work has spread to all fields, home and foreign, and the church sponsors the Christian Brotherhood Hour radio program that is heard on 340 stations. The general offices of the church are maintained at Anderson, Ind. Indiana has 150 congregations. Warner, the central man in founding the movement, began the move in the building that is now the Beaver Dam church, building the resulting church on the corner that is now commemorated with this monument.

Soybean Champions Outline Plans To Increase Profits From 1969 Crop

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Four of the nation's leading soybean growers have met here with agricultural leaders to outline improved production guidelines for the 1969 soybean crop. Purpose of the top-level meeting was to help U.S. soybean growers increase net profits despite the possibility of lower soybean prices.

In briefing sessions with Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin and members of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees, the soybean champions told of the immediate need for increased production efficiency. The answer to increasing net soybean profits is better crop management, the champions told Secretary Hardin. Such improved management can double present net profits per acre in most soybean areas.

The four soybean champions, each representing a major soybean producing area of the U.S., presented agricultural leaders with copies of regionalized Champions' Plans for higher soybean yields. Each detailed plan consists of 12 separate steps designed to guide farmers toward increased production efficiency. Developed by the champions under the supervision of U.S. Department of Agriculture officials, the Plans are specially tailored for each of the nation's key soybean regions.

Handpicked as a result of production excellence in their respective areas, the champion growers included: Midwest region—Don J. Storeholder, Lyons, Ohio; Southern region—Bill Grimsley, Whiteville, North Carolina; Delta region—Charles Crawford, Eudora, Arkansas; and Western region—John A. Ludens, Davis, South Dakota.

Spokesman for the group, Robert Judd of the National Soybean Crop Improvement Council, cited data showing soybeans to rank far behind other U.S. cash crops in productivity. While farmers have increased the productivity of corn 86.6 percent, and wheat 56 percent since 1947, soybeans have increased a bare 18.5 percent in productivity—just over one percent per year. Many farmers are barely breaking even with yields of 20 bushels per acre, Judd pointed out.

Each detailed Plan consists of 12 separate steps to guide farmers toward increased production efficiency. Heavy emphasis is placed upon the following key management points:

Seed selection—Certified varieties proven for the local growing area are recommended. Varieties should be adapted for planned management, such as narrow rows, crop rotation, or length of growing season.

Pre-plant fertilization—Soil tests are absolutely necessary. Since soybeans respond readily to fertilizer applied to crops ahead of them in a rotation, a good fertilizer program is required. Best pH level varies from 6.3 to 7.2.

Seed bed preparation—Deep plowing ahead of soybeans is best. Seedbed should be worked shallow in the Spring, making a smooth, fine bed with good moisture.

Seed inoculation—Innoculation gives soybeans a faster start—at a low cost. "Good insurance" say the soybean champions.

Planting guide—Plant in a firm, moist seedbed when the temperature is between 70 to 80 degrees (first to middle of May). Maintain planting depth at between 1½ to 2 inches, a slow, uniform planting speed.

Row width—Narrow soybean rows, especially in the Midwest, help conserve moisture and facilitate better weed control. Best guide is to plant varieties adapted to the desired row width and plant population.

Seeds per foot of row—Key to high yields is correct number of seeds per foot of row. A good guide is one seed per inch; too thick planting results in lodging. Plant uniformly sized seeds, check them for proper drop in the row.

Post-planting fertilization—Soybeans may need micro-nutrients in some soils. Although phosphorus and potash are their basic elements, soybeans can respond to minor elements. Soil test to find their needs.

Weed and disease control—Weeds cut soybean yields drastically. A combination of chemical weed control and row cultivation is basic to increased yields. Best guide is to know the weed or disease problem, then select from commercial herbicides or other chemical controls.

Harvesting—"Go low and slow" the champions recommend. Begin harvesting when the moisture content is between 14 and 15 percent, then cut 1½ to 2 inches from the ground. Good ground speed is between 2.5 to 3 miles per hour. Best guide is to constantly check the combine for proper adjustment.

Soybean marketing—Aim for No. 1 grade soybeans with good management techniques. Weigh all economic factors before deciding to sell or store. Sell to reputable marketing co-operatives or dealers.

Profit planning—Twenty bushels per acre is an average break-even yield for farmers. With costs averaging between $45.00 and $60.00 per acre, farmers need 30 or more bushels per acre to begin making a profit.

New Park To Be Dedicated

Hoosiers seeking outdoor pleasure this year can add another area to their lists of favorite haunts. The Sullivan County Park and Recreation Board has announced that Lake Sullivan will be dedicated on May 25. The lake and park will officially open for public use May 30. On hand Sunday, May 25, to help dedicate the park will be Sen. Vance Hartke, Congressman John Meyers and Kenneth Grant administrator of the Soil Conservation Service. The official opening on May 30 will feature a boat and trailer show for the entire Memorial Day weekend.

The park boasts a large swimming area, a launching ramp and two large boat docks. Adequate parking areas are provided.

Campers may use 180 sites complete with electricity and shower centers. In addition, there are seven large picnic areas as well as group camping spots. A nominal charge will be made for use of facilities. Swimming is included with the entrance fee.

The park was built by the Sullivan Co. Park Board with the help of the Sullivan Soil and Water Conservation District, the Busseron Watershed Conservancy District, the Soil Conservation Service and the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

a 50-50 chance of mandating the results of the referendum to the state superintendent of public instruction." Dr. Van Gilder, who with Ralph Davis, prepared the appeal, said that a lot of time was lost in the last session of the Legislature but felt the case could soon move.

The board rejected an appeal by the corporation's bus drivers to grant them an additional 50c per day. The present rate is $10.00, and the board last month granted the drivers an additional 50c although the drivers had requested $11.00. Robert Huffman, spokesman for the bus drivers, also asked that the drivers be notified right away if they were to be re-hired for another year so that they could make their plans accordingly.

Goshert asked why the members of one grade at Talma school had not received books they had paid for and the group ordered Superintendent Robert Forbes to make an investigation. It was also noted that students were used to mow the grass during class time, and it too was to be investigated. Goshert asked why the board did not use Robert's Rules of Order, saying some of his constituents had asked him why the president could make motions, seconds and vote. He was told that the board had recently received a directive from the school boards association that said it was permissible for the president to so act.

Also discussed was the need for a special education class. Ralph Davis suggested it would be a good idea to check the possibility.

The Harrison Township 4-H club was granted permission to use a bus to go to a skating party at Rock Lake.

Race Cars Share Spotlight With Balloons

Drivers who failed to earn starting berths last week-end will have another opportunity Saturday and Sunday to qualify for one of the 33 spots in the lineup for the 53rd annual Indianapolis 500-mile race on May 30.

On both days, gates to the grounds will be opened to race fans at 9 o'clock (Eastern Daylight Time), when the track is made available for practice laps. Admission will be $2, with official time trials starting at 11 o'clock on Saturday and at noon on Sunday.

Saturday's program also will include the fourth annual Speedway balloon race involving approximately a dozen colorful entries from all parts of the United States. Defending Champion Don Kersten of Dodge City, Iowa, heads the list of contenders for prize money totalling $2,000.

The huge hot-air balloons will be inflated at 2 o'clock Saturday on the main straightaway and the winner will be the pilot who travels the greatest distance — and lands — in a period of one hour, without exceeding an altitude of 10,000 feet. Peter Krieg and David R. Thiel of Indianapolis will represent Indiana in the race.

Although several prominent veterans will be among the drivers attempting to earn starting positions this week-end, much of the interest will be centered on the rookies who have been increasing their lap speeds steadily in daily practice sessions. Some of them were handicapped during the early part of the month because their cars were not ready.

The usual "bumping" procedure will start as soon as 33 entrants have qualified.

After the field is complete, the track will be closed to the public until 6 o'clock (EDT) on May 30. The race will start at noon.

Church of God VBS Planned

Vacation Bible School will be held at the Akron Church of God, West and Center streets, June 3-6 and 10-13 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. daily.

Interested parents are asked to call 893-4756 if bus transportation is needed.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Is Set

A Sadie Hawkins dance will be held at the Mentone gym on Friday night May 23 from 8 to 11 p.m.

Building Trades Open House is planned

The Building Trades program, new in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation this year, was designed as a means by which boys in their junior and senior years of high school can gain practical pre-apprenticeship experience to help them make an advantageous entry into one of the various building trades as a career, say school administrators.

Although this was the first year of the program, the undertaking was a venturesome one that has resulted in the construction of two new houses.

The houses that the boys built at Akron and Mentone were not built in competition with professional contractors, but the on-the-job training of the program was designed to give the boys a competitive skill. Proof of the skills that the boys have learned will be displayed Saturday and Sunday when the public will have an opportunity to visit the houses.

The houses, all electric homes designed for ease in maintenance and upkeep, will be sold as soon as they are completed. Although some finishing work remains to be done, they will be ready for inspection and visitors are invited to examine them from 1 to 6 p.m. Saturday, May 24, and from 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday, May 25.

The vinyl-covered houses are identical in all respects with the only wood trim being on the doors and garage doors. No other exterior surface should need paint. Both houses have year-round climate controlled electric heat and air conditioning and each is carpeted.

Set on 100' x 250' lots in each town, each is 28' x 75' with an attached garage. The Mentone house is located just north of Mentone on SR 19 and the Akron house is located in the Saner addition north of Akron on SR 14. Each house has three bedrooms, one and one half baths, kitchen, dinette, utility room and hall space set on a crawl space. Underground electrical entrances were installed at each.

Section 4 May 22, 1969

An unique feature of this year's program was the old school bus that was outfitted as a mobile classroom and used to move materials, equipment and supplies back and forth in addition to transporting the boys from the school to the work site. On inclement days, classroom instruction was held in the bus. Among materials used were visual aids provided by the Bostwick-Braun Corporation, suppliers of the tools.

Akron boys enrolled in the program were Roger Allen, Daniel Backus, Jacob Baker, Steve Cumberland, James Doud, Mark Duzenbery, William Fairchild, Gary Harshman, Tommy Huntley, Steven Lane, DeWight Manns, Orville Reese, Peter Sanders, Rodney Severns, Darrell Slone, Russell Smith and Lee Sterk.

Mentone boys enrolled were James Barnhart, James Blosser, Robert Cleveland, Randel Cox, Larry Fore, William Foreman, Ronald Holloway, James Kelley, Allen Lowry, Richard Morrison, William Rathbun, Ralph Shotts, Ronald Teel and Bruce Wiard.

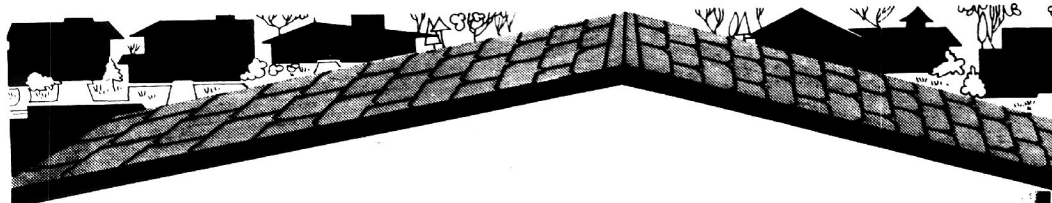

The program has been determined a success and the school board recently agreed to offer it again next year. In addition, the board has decided to offer a course in automotive mechanics. This new program will augment the present trades program and enrollment in it will not be open to anyone enrolled in the building trades program and vice versa in order that more boys may receive the training.

Raymond Pontius, a licensed teacher as well as carpenter, was hired to teach the building trades class, and he says that the boys have had to maintain tolerances much lower than would be permitted in industry to enable them to learn to do it right. He feels shortcuts can be learned later, that now is the time to learn to do it right.

Charles Fellers, a local electrician, was hired as an assistant at the latter part of the year to help supervise.

Several of the boys have already indicated they would like to take the course next year, and they will be valuable to the teacher for the assistance they can offer beginning students.

It is with pleasure that we devote this special section of this week's NEWS to this new program.

HOUSE

SATURDAY, MAY 24 12 NOON TO 8:00 P.M.

Changes made in the floor plan included omitting the living room fireplace and building on a crawl space rather than having a basement.

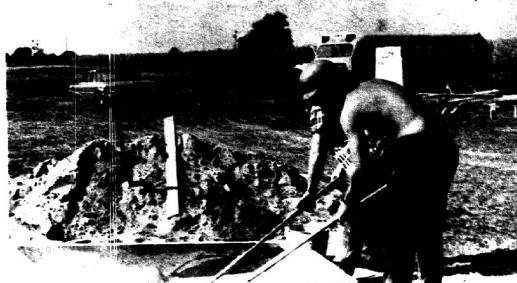

Electric Dryer Relaxes Wrinkles

The flameless electric clothes dryer is the great relaxer; it relaxes the wrinkles in permanent press clothes and helps its happy owner to relax, too.

And what homemaker wouldn't be more relaxed? With the combination of today's flameless electric clothes dryers and today's miraculous durable press fabrics, clothes come out of the dryer ready to wear to school, work or play. And clean, wrinkle-free permanent press sheets and pillow cases can be back on the beds they were stripped from in a matter of moments.

Flameless electric dryers have many other carefree qualities, too, according to the Live Better Electrically Program. They cost less to buy (up to $40.00 less) and because they have fewer moving parts, maintenance costs are less.

And add to this the fact that an electric dryer has no flame, pilot light or flue and you have many of the reasons why flameless electric clothes dryers are the 2 to 1 choice in American households.

TWO MENTONE students are shown mixing concrete for use in the house's foundation. In the background is the corporation's mobile classroom, a school bus used by building trades teacher Raymond Pontius to shuttle tools and equipment to the house sites and to transport students to the sites. Half the seats in the bus were removed to allow more room and to permit the bus to be used as a classroom on rainy days.

LEARNING THE BASICS the hard way, these Akron boys had just begun the hard job of laying up a solid and a straight foundation. So well did they learn that some of the boys have already had block-laying jobs.

Do Your Own Thing With Flameless Electric Heat

The time is early evening. The temperature is 72 degrees in the living room, where mom and dad are relaxing; 65 degrees where the children are asleep in their bedroom; 60 in the unused guest bedroom; 75 in the bathroom. . . .

This is a typical home, heated the new way, by flameless electricity with separate room-by-room comfort control.

The principle of clean, flameless electric heating is as basic as the light bulb. Electricity flows through resistance wires; greater flow creates more heat and lesser flow, lesser heat. And all it takes is a thermostat to control this type of heat precisely.

In this modern day of satisfying individual needs, each member of the family is best able to "do his own thing" if he has a comfortably heated environment—one that suits his own particular needs.

Flameless electric heating systems provide complete versatility in controls as well as in the type of heating units available. Mom and dad might prefer radiant heat in the living room. It's done with resistance wires hidden in the ceiling to radiate heat downward like sunshine.

Floor level electric heating might be preferred for the children's playroom. Baseboard radiators, chosen to match or blend with the room decor, can be selected.

Or, an inconspicuous wall panel heater can be used to provide radiant or fan-circulated, comfortable room heat.

Dad can do his own thing, too, if he decides to add a room to the house. He simply includes individual comfort control heating in the addition.

Most families choose flameless electric home heating because of eight major advantages over their older fuel-burning system:

1. It's clean, as clean as a light bulb.

2. It's flexible, with individual thermostats for room-by-room comfort control.

3. It's comfortable, eliminating cold spots, drafts and uneven temperatures.

4. It's low in maintenance cost, a simple operating system providing the lowest cost and longest life of any heating system.

5. It's fast, bringing desired heat to a room within minutes.

6. It's efficient, with no heat loss through flues or chimneys, no fuel loss through unnecessary heating of unused rooms.

7. Its operating cost is low, giving the homeowner the advantage of downward trends in electric rates.

With these advantages it's easy to see why each member of the family can do his own thing best with flameless electric home heating.

Room Dividers Linked to Chains

Making their mark in fashion as belts and necklaces, link chains now move on to link up with home fashion.

For home improvement projects, chains may be suspended from ceilings to hold shelves, planter baskets or lighting assemblies. They're effective, too, as window decorations or room dividers.

Unusual treatment for any large window might be created with brass sash chains used horizontally to form a circular curtain. This is most practically done in a foyer or living room, where there is no need to close out light completely.

Chains may also be hung straight from traverse rods, with drapery pins or S-shaped hooks to connect chains to rod openings.

If a decorative rod is attached to the ceiling, chains may be hung in the same way for use as room dividers.

OPEN AIR VIEW of these Mentone boys is afforded as they pause to exchange notes while working on the roof.

From inside, the patio should:

Serve as a house extension, opening rooms adjacent to the patio to the outdoors.

Provide an attractive view, which often becomes the visual highlight of the room.

Give a home-bound family a refreshing outdoor "feeling" on cold or inclement days.

The success of a patio's several "inside" jobs depends on the proper selection of windows and doors. As entries, gliding doors are attractive and practical. Their uninterrupted glass area gives an extensive outdoor view, and their easy operation allows convenient patio access.

In wood gliding doors, insulating glass units made from tempered glass provide a bonus of safety, suggests the Andersen Corporation, manufacturer of windows.

Gliding doors are also available with heat- and glare-reducing glass.

Painting chores can be avoided by choosing gliding doors with rigid vinyl sheathing over a preservative-treated wood core that does not require painting and will not pit, rust or corrode.

Welded insulating glass is standard with such units.

SELF-STICKING 3-D wall panels create look of hand-rubbed wood, in French Provincial pattern shown, or in Spanish Classic or Colonial. From Decor-Wall's Town House group.

Maintenance-free vinyl sheathing is also available with casement and awning windows, both of which are frequently used for patio enclosures. They give a good view, and allow maximum ventilation.

Modern Today & Tomorrow

It's obsolete! It's outdated! It's passe! In this fast moving world of rapid technological advances, obsolescence sets in fast. What is considered modern today can easily be outdated tomorrow.

This is one of many good reasons why a total-electric Gold Medallion home is a good investment. Medallion Home standards were designed with the future in view. The rigid requirements necessary for a home to qualify assures buyers that the extensive electrical values built into a Medallion Home will not become obsolete.

The plus features provided for modern electrical living add up to a good investment for the most scrupulous of home buyers and enhances the resale value for years to come.

After all, resale is a consideration. You may not live in your Gold Medallion Home forever, but in years to come when you decide to move, chances are it will be to another Gold Medallion home!

FOR REPAIRING eaves and downspouts, new aluminum tape makes airtight, watertight seal. Tape adheres to metal, wood, paper and similar materials.

Is Air Conditioning Good? Ask An Astronaut!

Is air conditioning a good idea? Ask an astronaut.

America's spacemen, using the ultimate in scientific materials and equipment, are air conditioned.

The facilities they train and work in, even their spacesuits, are air conditioned.

Why? Because air conditioning is no longer a simple matter of comfort; it's a matter of health as well. The greatest demands of any profession are placed upon the astronauts in the national space program. That's quite a testimonial for air conditioning.

Medical science has found that air conditioning's ability to maintain a stable temperature for the body, to filter out pollen and dust, and to dehumidify sticky warm air, provides better health and greater efficiency at work or play.

Fortunately, the average American doesn't need a costly space suit to enjoy the comfort and health benefits of air conditioning. Millions of homes, new and old, are being provided with the benefits of central electric air conditioning at a tiny fraction of the cost of a space suit.

The comfortable and dehumidified spring-like air of central electric air conditioning is just as important to America's families as it is to the space program.

Today, the cost of an air conditioned space suit is $100,000. Some day in the future, the cost of a space suit will be only a few hundred dollars. And there was a time when a central electric air conditioning installation in the home cost many times as much as it does now.

Today, the average-size, three bedroom home can have central electric air conditioning for less than $1,000 in many areas of the country, and not much more in other areas.

For the astronaut, air conditioning means greater comfort, a healthier attitude and peak working efficiency.

For the homeowner, central electric air conditioning also means greater comfort, a healthy attitude and a readiness to work, play or relax at the fullest.

ALL KINDS OF WEATHER was experienced by the boys and some of the Akron group is shown here sweeping frost from the roof prior to beginning the day's labors.

Sun Inspires New Heating For Home

Does the sun warm the air around us? Answer, no — we do! And that's one reason why, come fall and winter, people may feel chilly even when the furnace is going.

The sun shines down on people and the earth without warming intervening air. Objects are warmed first, then they warm the air.

Radiation is the answer. Heat flows from warm to colder surfaces—thus, loss of body heat in cold weather may be due to radiation of warmth to chillier objects.

One new idea based on solar radiation principles is overhead heating. Ceiling-mounted electric panels radiate heat from above. Located near doors and windows where heat loss is greatest, the panels reduce body heat loss.

Everything in the room is warmed directly by the rays — a chair, a table, the floor, the walls, an adult, a child. Then the air warms.

Electric radiant heating panels have no moving parts, may be positioned on or in the ceiling and may be painted to match. Thermostats can be installed for each room.

It's Flameless

Electric Air Conditioning Turns Off Heat of Old Man Sun

The trend toward air conditioning in today's homes isn't really a slap at Old Man Sun. Americans are still seeking the hot summer sun for leisure time activities. Sun worshippers lie for hours under its tanning rays, then take a dip in the pool or ocean surf to cool off. Convertibles whiz down the highways—tops down—and passengers enjoy the sun's sparkle while the breeze keeps them comfortably cool.

But there's another side of America, a busy side in the home and at work. When mother's busy with the ironing, when the kids are romping around the playroom, when dad is working in the den, there's no place for the penetrating, irritating heat of a muggy summer day.

Flameless electric air conditioning—either central systems or individual room air conditioners—make it possible to turn off the heat of Old Man Sun without really disputing his benefits.

Those benefits are fine when the family's ready for them. But in the home, electric air conditioning is the ticket. Here's why:

—You can keep the window closed, to exclude rain, pollen, dirt, noise AND prowlers.

—You're comfortable during the day and getting restful sleep at night, with the hot, muggy summer air outside and cool, dehumidified air inside.

—You find yourself with renewed energy, the summer doldrums fed by heat and humidity are eliminated.

—Gone too are the summer rashes, prickly heat and baby's diaper rash; the whole family is cool, dry and comfortable.

—Ended is the traditional summer parade to the refrigerator and soft drinks which can cost more per day than the cost of operating your flameless electric air conditioning.

—And, with electric air conditioning, you've made a sound investment, increased the resale value of your home.

America's leisure time is on the increase. There's time for Old Man Sun activities. But, when you stop to think of it, most of that extra leisure time is being spent in the home, where so many more activities take place today.

The trend toward electric air conditioning isn't a slap at Old Man Sun. It's simply America's way of saying that now you can have more fun by staying at home.

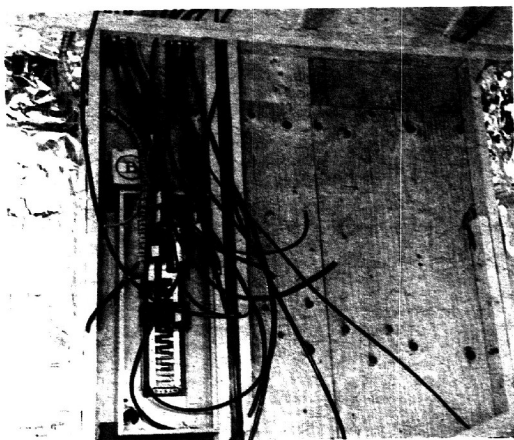

Caring For Pot Plants

When potted plants move to the outdoor garden, they need simple care. Check these points.

Keep plants in their sun-preference areas. Those plants which thrive in shade should not be exposed to direct sun. Place them where they will get protection.

Use porous clay pots as the basic container for all plants. The pots provide natural insulation for plant roots during hot weather, and allow any excess moisture collected in rootballs to drain out automatically.

Outdoor container plants need watering, too. Check plants often, and if topsoil in the pot looks or feels dry, water the plants.

JUMBLE OF WIRES at the Mentone house indicates the amount of wiring done by the boys and their instructor. Both houses were built as all-electric homes and each has year-round climate controlled electric heat and air conditioning.

IT GOES LIKE THIS, boys were told as they surveyed the network of wires at the Akron house. They are Gary Harshman, Darrel Stone, Roger Allen, Jim Doud and Tom Huntley.

We Get Letters.....

Dear Mr. Editor,

As I drove down Akron's beautiful tree lined Rochester Street this evening, after a long day on the road, I marveled that anybody could contemplate the extermination of those friendly arching trees. Of course, extermination can be the only possible result of a policy forbidding the planting of trees in our tree lawns as was suggested last week at the Chamber of Commerce meeting and reported in your paper. Trees do not live forever and particularly our Soft Maples which are large and beginning to deteriorate. They must be continuously replaced as old age takes its toll.

People born in a state such as Indiana, where traditionally there has been a great wealth of beautiful trees, are ungrateful. When my forebearers homesteaded the great prairies of So. Dakota, they learned to appreciate the comfort and beauty of a shade tree. Their first project was to build shelter, second, to secure food for winter, and third, to plant a grove of Box-elder, Elm or Cottonwood to protect and give comfort from the relentless summer sun and winter wind.

I have heard the comment that the trees make visibility on our streets more difficult. I agree and submit that if one wants unlimited visibility, the Bonneville Salt Flats are open for settlement. With traffic going past our home at up to 50 miles per hour, I doubt if a few trees have much to do with the accident rate.

Have you noticed the tremendous interest in wooded lots for building sites? Look at the land development ads. The highest priced lots are the wooded lots. And yet in Akron we have a proposal to provide for the ultimate death and removal of our beautiful shade trees.

If the highway and the auto are forcing us to deface our properties, remove these living history books, and lower our property values, then I suggest we legislate the highway out of our community to the rural area where it belongs, and begin to act like humans capable of the recognition of natural beauty rather than glorification of machines.

I recently planted two trees in my Tree Lawn which, in spite of the killing salt off the highway, should be offering considerable shade and beauty in 15 to 20 years. Consider this an invitation for those people who submit to the proposal not to plant and replace their trees: Come over to our house and we'll sit under these two trees and marvel at the way we humans made ourselves slaves to the homely, heartless machine in 1969, at the expense of the peace of mind gained from the beauty of a tree.

I recommend the city of Akron survey its shade tree population. Then prepare a long term plan of tree planting and implement this plan.

We have been shown a design for an upholstered front gate which seems destined to become very popular: The foot board is cushioned and there is a warm soapstone on each side; the inside step being adjustable, so that a short girl can bring her lips in line of any given moustache without trouble. If the gate is occupied at 10:30 p.m., an iron hand extends from one gate post, takes the young man by the left ear, turns him around and he is at once started towards home by a steel foot. The girl, if she likes, can set this part at a later hour than 10:30.

Lofty Thoughts - High Ideals

The eagle, because of its flying and perching habits, is a bird we associate with lofty places. It soars when it flies and seeks pinnacles upon which to perch.

There is a lesson in these habits of the eagle, namely, the keeping of our thinking upon a lofty plane. People whose thoughts are constantly lifted up are less likely to need the services of a psychiatrist than those whose thoughts are of self, or low, or ignoble. This in no way implies that we should shut our eyes to facts or, to use an old expression, not "keep our feet on the ground." But lofty thoughts materialize in lofty deeds and build high and stable character.

Good thoughts, like good deeds, are more likely to flow when our surroundings and associations are good. The "lofty thought habit" can best be aided by attendance at the church of one's choice.

Akron Methodists Plan VBS

Vacation Bible School will be held at the Akron United Methodist Church June 2-June 11.

Mrs. John McKee, director, has announced that the theme will be "Jesus Leads Me." All children in the community ages 4 through the sixth grade are eligible and are welcome.

An open house closing program will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 11.

WSCS Sees Hat Talk

Members and guests of the Akron WSCS enjoyed "Hat Talk," a program presented Thursday evening by Mrs. Orrin Manifold, who, through a series of poems and humorous readings, showed the way hats can affect their wearer. "A woman becomes a lady when she wears a hat," she said as she presented countless creations she had made herself and that illustrated the topic she was discussing.

The welcome to the annual mother-daughter tea was given by Mrs. Dean Rager with the response by her daughter, Christa.

Special music was provided by Marna Stephen, who sang a solo with the accompaniment of Teresa Mark.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Fannie Moore.

Members of the program committee were Alona Leininger, Miriam Cumberling, Grace Waechter and Sharon Miller.

Assisting with dainty refreshments served in the annex were Juanita Boswell, Grace Rader, Mabel Taylor, Lollie Davis, Mae Miller and Marilyn Miller.

Silver Creek DVBS Will Begin

The Silver Creek Church of God will begin a two-week daily vacation Bible school on Monday, June 2, at 8 a.m. Dismissal will be at 11. Mrs. Richard French, the director, reports nearly 100 students have been enrolled to date. The closing program will be Friday evening, June 13, at 7:30 p.m.
