Students seek discussion, get promise

Approximately 30 present and former students of Akron High School met informally in the street in front of Dr. Charles Miller's Akron home Friday night. Labeled a day night. Labeled a demonstration by some observers, it was more of a plea by the students for an open discussion and a state of the s cussion concerning Miller's opposition to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's proposed centralized high school.
The students, all of whom expressed support for the still un-named school, asked Miller, who had circulated a Tippecanoe Valley School petition asking for a hearing on the lease between the Tippecanoe valley School Building Corporation (the hold-ing company) and the Tippecance Valley Scho-ol Corporation ol Corporation. Filed days short of the dead-line, the petition re-sulted in the bond sale scheduled April 24 being cancelled.

The dialogue was primarily between Miller and Phil Runkle, president of the Akron senior class, who served as spokesman for the stuspokesman for the stu-dents. Both were re-strained in their re-marks and at no time did the discussion threaten to turn into a brawl.

On Saturday morning Dr. Miller contacted the NEWS and said that after the photographer had left the scene the night before, he and Runkle had agreed that if Runkle could get a statement signed by the majority of students in the upper four grades of both Akron and Mentone high schools in support of the proposed school, he would drop his opposition.

At Dr. Miller's suggestion, a meeting was arranged that afternoon at the NEWS office where Miller and Runkle, in the presence of this reporter and Runkle's father, Robert Runkle, a-greed that if Runkle could produce a list of students favoring centralized school, Miller would drop not only his part of a pe-tition for hearing with the State Board of Tax Commissioners but would also drop a proposed law suit against members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board. In explaining the legal action, Miller said the board had intimidated taxpayers by adopting an April 2 resolution to have attorney Fred Rakestraw study and be prepared to take legal action on behalf of the Tippecanoe Valley tax-payers to recover money that might be lost re-bidding bonds or rebidding construction con-tracts from individuals who might cause those delays in the TV school building program, Mill-er also said he would bow to the students! bow to the students' wishes even if the tax board acted in his favor at the May 9 hearing that was set after his petition caused Rake-straw to cancel the Ap-ril 24 bond sale.

Non-profit organizations, such as churches, fraternal organizations and others must file this application or be charged tax on property In making the agree-ment, both Miller and Runkle expressed satisfaction at the way the street meeting was handled and each praised the other for their control of their groups.

By Monday evening, Runkle had obtained sig-natures of 450 of the 562 students enrolled in the upper four grades of the two schools and said only lack of time had prevented his get-ting more. Confronted with the list, Miller said he Runkle asked Miller to sign a petition asking his name to be removed from the petition that had been filed asking for a hearing and after some hesitation, Miller complied. He said, "I hope these kids have not been used to accomplish a goal--that is something I would never do." Miller askis something I would never do." Miller ask-ed that he be allowed to attend the May 9 hearing and also asked that his reasons for opposing the school published in the NEWS.

He said he had an obligation to the people he asked to sign his petition and he would have to honor that obligation. "I have two committments," he said, one to the kids and one the adults, and I l try to honor them to both as nearly as poss-ible. The kids had had their say and the adults should also have their say and they should get it through this public hearing."

ASK FOR DISCUSSION: Past and present Akron High School students assembled in front of Dr. Charles Miller's home Friday night, seeking discussion concerning his opposition to Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's proposed centralized high school. Miller, in the plaid jacket, fielded qu-estions from the group, later agreeing to drop opposition if shown strong student support for the school.

result in binding legal action wherein nothing can be built."

As matters now stand, it remains for the State Board of Tax Commissioners to decide if a new school is right for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, or if, as the petitioners said, too much money would be spent for a "sports complex." The tax board will hear both sides at public hearing at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 9, in the Mentone gym.

Dr. Charles Miller Lists Reasons For Opposing Proposed TVSC School

(1) The location is inconvenient for every citizen in the school corporation.

(2) The road it is to be located on is a medium duty road, and is no way safe for transportation of students.

(3) Additional buses must be purchased for students now walking to school.

(4) The price of the project is enflated and will take a generation to repay.

(5) Little or no significant expansion of the curriculum is plan-

(6) Municipal sewage treatment facilities are newly operational in Akron, and soon will be in Mentone. To build a third plant in the country is needless cuplication of facilities and expenditures.

(7) Loss of high schools in Akron and Mentone will mean loss of community identity and re-tardation of the con-tinued growth and development of these towns.

(8) The economic orientation of Mentone is opposite to Akron's and union of the two would be an awkward contrivance.

(9) Both Akron Mentone are economically complete communities as to agriculture, bank-ing, trade, and com-merce. The proposed project would disrupt these established patterns.

(10) The majority of the citizens of the corporation are opposed to the project as a previous referendum has indicated. (11) Speaking to the future, with Indiana Department of Commerce Planning Data - Mentone and Kosciusko County in region 2, and Akron and Fulton County are in region 5. Region two is projected to be a area; Region five is expected to remain Non-Metropolitan.

(12) Population of the area is rapidly leveling off as the birth rate declines. The proposed project would result in our being "overbuilt" our being "overbuilt in regards to schools. (13) Renovation o existing facilities would be much more economical and serve our students as well.

(14) In order to seek lighter financial burden the residents of Henry Township of Fulton County would rather join either North Miami or Rochester School Corporation than to continue the proposed new school construction program.

(15) Before we become (15) Before we become indebted to an eight million plus figure, if total costs are considered, let us take the issue to the voters in a referendum. Dr. Charles E. Miller.

The Fawns, themselves the parents of one daughter, literally adopted chil-dren in each of their congregations -- often having open house every week for as many as 40 or 50 youngsters, many of whom with their special encouragement be-came outstanding suc-cesses in their chosen fields.

Memories of life in England, Korea, Japan and a long list of Indiana parsonages are delightedly retold to vis-itors at the Fawns' brick home where children still gather, not only to talk to the couple but to take music lessons, for, in addition to her interest in homemaking, Mrs. Fawns in a professional music teacher. SIXTY YEARS OF CHEV-ROLET by George H. Dammann. HOW TO HOTROD SMALL BLOCK CHEVYS by Bill Fisher and Bob Waar. This covers all smallblock engines 1955 through 1972.

MY STILLNESS by Paul Griffith. Amid the chaos of divorce and paternal dereliction, eight year-old Charlie J. tries to steer his erratic course, to find his "stillness". The son of a successful doctor who has abandoned his quiet wife to marry the exotic Nina Kopestonsky, Charlie J., looking back on his childhood with the understanding of an adult, recalls the innocence and crude realities of the time when, surrounded and protected by women, he was tossed into a situation in which hope was all he could cling to, and ultimate realization was cold.

THE CAMERONS by Robert Crichton. This is the story of Maggie Drum, of Gillon Cameron, of their seven sons and daughters, through 20 years of conflict, vicissitude, and the forging of final loyalties. Their Scotland is brought alive, from the darkness and dangers of the pits to the clear salmon streams beyond, from the poor, dark alleys of Pitmungo to the richness of Lord Fyffe's Brumbie Hall, as in scene after memorable scene, Robert Crichton's narrative genius - his gift for drama charged with feeling - binds the reader to the lives and fates of the Camerons.

THE THREE EMPRESSES
by Philip Longworth.
Three fascinating women ruled Russia in the forty years before Cathererine I, the peasant girl who became Peter the Great's Mistress, wife and successor; Anne, Peter's unhappy niece, widowed within weeks of marriage, suffered years of humiliation, and, once in power, planned elaborate humiliation, for others; and Elizabeth, the beautiful and promiscuous daughter of Peter and Catherine, who seized her throne by coup d'e'tate. Each of these women was corrupted by power, and each unwittingly helped to corrupt the society she ruled. This witty history sets the lives of three unique empresses against the glittering background of the Russian Court and its kaleidoscopic intrigues.

Where we say our school, not the school

Big city schools have little school spirit. Little sense of belonging. Little pride.

School is a job at a very early age.

Out schools are important. We take a special interest in our children, their friends and their teachers.

We keep track of our graduates. We like to share in their successes and like to have them feel they always have a home community. Our community is proud of them. Because they belong to us.

Good school spirit is an important part of good community spirit. It makes everything more worthwhile.

to maintain high standards of sanitation. Managers of such institutions are schooled in sanitary food-handling methods.

But during the summer and in- months, many non pro-fessional food handlers kitchens are put into positions of cooking for the church picnic, the girl scouts campout or a family re-union. And during the warm humid summer months food poisoning bacteria run rampid.

Every homemaker prides herself in her food preparation skills. Many times the individual believes he has the flu when actually he has food poisoning. So the homemaker is unaware that her food handling practices need improve-

To prevent out breaks of food poisoning fol-low these simple rules. ALWAYS wash your hands before preparing food ALWAYS wash your hands before preparing food and following any interruptions during the preparation. Wash utensils especially cutting boards in hot soapy water. Occasionally, use cholorine bleach to disinfect the cutting board. Cook foods thoroughly and serve immed-iately after cooking or refrigerate. Be espec-ially careful of foods containing eggs and may-onaise. When cooking, don't taste the food with don't taste the food with the cooking spoon.

Remember that just because it's a picnic does not mean that anything goes. On the contrary, more precautions must be taken because more people are involved and the conditions for bacteria growth are more prevalent. Why ruin a good time with a bad aftereffect? Make this summer a healthy one em mer a healthy one em-phasizing sanitation in food handling.

Volunteers Needed To Adopt Patients

Mrs. Carolyn Hemmer, Kosciusko Co. chairman of the Adopt-A-Patient Program and Mrs. Nancy Detert, factory chair-man of the Warsaw Nurs-ing Home, are looking for other women like Mrs. Cheryl Zale to volunteer for the Adopt- A -Patient program that is beginning in the county and that is sponsored by the Mental Health Association.

Adopters assume the role of a concerned relative or friend and send greeting cards, remember them on their birthday, at Christmas and other holidays and send friendly notes while they are traveling. Adopters are urged to write regularly, telling about their families, pets, work, hobbies or any other hobbies normal happenings in the family.

Patients included in this program are those who have no relatives who have relatives or unable to visit, or who have special need which can be met by an adopt-er. There is no legal obligation, but the adopter attempts to fill the void in these patients' lives.

Mrs. Hemmer and Mrs. betert hope to have volunteers for all of the nursing homes in the county in the very near future so that every patient who is now forgotten will be included in his own "new family"

LAW DAY was observed in Fulton Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon. State and national flags were presented by members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Anita Thomason, pictured here with Judge Wendell Tombaugh, prompted the gifts when, on a recent visit to the courtroom with the Akron fourth grade, she asked why the court did not have an Indiana flag. It was also noted at that time that the room also did not have a 50-star flag. Participating in Tuesday's Law Day program was Frederick Rakestraw, the speaker, and other members of the Fulton Co. Bar Association. In attendance were members of the state police, sheriff's department officers and members of the Akron and Rochester police departments. Representatives of other organizawas observed in Fulton Circuit Court departments. Representatives of other organiza-tions, including the Lions Club and Manitou Cha-pter DAR were also present. A coffee hour was enjoyed at the conclusion of the program.

Tax Board hears both sides

Herbert C. Holmes and Robert Ferrier, representatives of the State Board of Tax Commissioners, heard arguments from both sides of the Tippecanoe Valley Schoof Corporation's one vs two high school argument Wednesday morning. The Wednesday morning. The special hearing, conducted in the Mentone gym, was called after a petition signed by 73 residents requesting it was presented days short of the deadline for repostrances against the monstrances against the corporation's leaserental contract with the building corporation Other transforms of the many improvements (Tippecanoe Valley School Building Corporation). He said the corporation's assessed valuation was $24 million and charged the 29 es he estimated to 7 million would school cost be 29 per cent of the assessed valuation, more than the limit set by the tax commission. He said this broke down to costing each resident

GOSHERT continued by charging that three board members, Dr. John McKee, Philip Lash and Maurice Coplen, had run on a two-school platform but had broken their word to taxpayers by voting to build one high ol. He said fear the reason they that switched--fear high school would and students would be bused there from Akron.

"This fear is unfounded," he said. "It can't be he said. "It can't be done if Henry township doesn't want it done. They can go to Rochest-er and if they do Newcastle township will go along. This will leave just the three Kosciusko townships -- Harrison, Franklin and Seward--and they can't survive alone." He said it would take less than 100 signatures on a petition to get Henry township to go to Rochester.

Continuing, he said the cost of the site, architect and athletic complex were too expensive and that it would be wiser to take the money now ulative bu in the cumtive building fund build as many as 15 classrooms at each school and stay free of debt and of the need to ask anyone to help financially.

DR. DONALD J. VANGIL-

DER, a former school board member and a res-ident of Harrison town-ship, referring to the lease rental as the "lend lease" plan, said the school. school would cost $8,952, 000 or $13,700 per pu-pil and said this was unwise when only 48 per cent would go for academics, 12 per cent for vocational subjects and five per cent for band. He said the gym and pool were too expensive, meaning a total cost of $708,620 to be paid by taxpayers and cited the high cost of transporting students to the school, of heating it since gas would not be available, the need for security, additional custodians who would be needed, people to care for the pool and the need for teachers with special skills to sup-port the sports pro-grams as reasons why grams school with pool planned swimming and gymnasium should not be built

This concluded remarks from the remonstrators.
PHILLIP RUNKLE, president of the Akron senior class, spoke on be-half of TVSC students, saying that 85.3 percent of the enrollment in grades 9-12 had signed a statement favoring continuation of plans for the new school. He turned in the list that also included students im lower grades. In all, 1994 students had signed the statement. He said students were missing the advantage of having a high school that could offer debate, speech, FFA, vocational agriculture and the activities connected with these offerings. "We just don't have the fa-cilities," he said, describing lack of chemistry equipment. He said the new school would have a graphic arts department that would turn out students qualified to go into the printing business. "Other scho-ols have programs that turn out skilled work-ers. Why can't we?" he asked. He cited lack of computers for business students, lack of reading labs for every-one and reminded that "sports programs are the only identity people are the community have with the school, said the pool would be for everyone, not just for the kids. He asked if Goshert's proposed 15 rooms for each school would get a speech department or anything department or anything more than what they almore than what they already had. "You might wonder what I, a high school senior, have to gain from this," he said. "The answer is gain from this," he said. "The answer is nothing, it's too late for me, but it's not too for me, but it's not too late for the kids who are still in school. And don't say I won't be here to help pay for it. In just five days I'll be out of school

EDDIE CREIGHTON, a member of the holding company and a resident of Harrison township, said young people like Runkle restored his confidence in the youth of today. He said he doubt-ed building the school ed building the school in the country would tear apart the commun-ties and said it would probably make for bettcommunities. no one could give a cost estimate until bonds are sold and that although the pool was controversial, it would benefit all students K-12. He said he had noted a change of attitude towards having a consol-idated high school in the past year and resc most taxpayers were now in favor of it.

BYRON DORAN, a resident Seward township and co-owner of a metal iness in Burket, asked the tax commission to rule against the remonstrators. He said he felt the cost of the school would be reasonable for what taxpayers and students would be getting and well within the ability of residents to pay. He said the last three state school administrators had recommended against adding to the present high schools at Akron and Mentone and moted that 85 per and moted that 85 per cent of the residents approved forming the corporation following the School Reorganization Act of 1959. He said the corporation was formed with the understanding that standing that a centralized school would be built. Reading past correspondence from varized school ious state heads of departments, he also added that a better sports program was needed. He said the bids received were well within estimates, coming in at $3.9 million with $300,000 estimated for fixed fixtures. He said interest could not be determined until the bonds were until the bonds were sold, but estimated total cost of the school would be $4.2 million. He said the $298,000 yearly payment to the building corporation would mean a tax rate of $1.16 per hundred dollar assessed valu-ation. "This would be 34 cents above the pre-sent cumulative build-ing fund," he said.

DORAN presented the commissioners list of names of 1,202 adults who favored continuing plans for the school. "Added to the students' list of 1,041, this makes 2243," he said, edning his remarks by asking the tax com-mission to rule as soon as possible "so we can get going" and by cit-ing rising building and interest rates.

KEVIN HANEY, a junior at Akron High School, said he had not planned to speak until he had heard some of the argu-ments against the new school. He said he would not enroll a child of his in the present system, saying there was no curriculum to select from and what was offered was often in-complete. He said he was interested in sports but he really thought there was need for improvement there saving baseball games Akron were scheduled late in the season be-cause of the muddy diamonds. He said home track events could not be scheduled because of mud. He said there were no hurdles because there was no place to store them and as a result most of them had been stolen. DR. WYMOND WILSON, a school board member speaking as a taxpayer of Harrison township, denied any underhanded deals by the school board and said only school approximately. school superintendent, Robert Forbes, could say if more buses would be needed and that no one could predict the amount interest until the bonds were sold. He read a list of rooms read a list of included in the new school that are not in school that are not in the athletic department-and a copy of the re-solution, denying any implied threat to remonstrators.

MRS. KENNETH SHOEMAK-ER, a resident of Har-rison township and mother of three, said the school should not be referred to as a sports complex but that those facilities could be called an athletic complex. She said the pool was needed because was about the only thing that everyone could use, saying both boys and girls, ages K-12 could use it as well as adults. She said Goshert and VanGilder had not once mentioned 'student advantages and said she thought it would be well to consider these.

GOSHERT continued by charging that three board members, Dr. John McKee, Philip Lash and Maurice Coplen, had run on a two-school platform but had broken their word to taxpayers by voting to build one high school. He said fear was the reason they was the reason they switched--fear that a new high school would located in Mentone and students would be bused there from Akron. "This fear is unfounded," he said. "It can't be he said. done if Henry township doesn't want it done. They can go to Rochest-er and if they do Newcastle township will go along. This will leave just the three Kosciusko townships -- Harrison, Franklin and Seward--and they can't survive and they alone." He said it would take less than 100 signatures on a petition to get Henry township to go to Rochester.

Continuing, he said
the cost of the site, architect and athletic complex were too expensive and that it would wiser to take the money now in the cum-ulative building fund and build as many as 15 classrooms at each school and stay free of debt and of the need to ask anyone to help financially.

a former school board member and a resident of Harrison township, referring to the lease rental as the "lend lease" plan, said the lease" plan, said the school would cost $8,952, 000 or $13,700 per pu-pil and said this was unwise when only 48 per cent would go for academics, 12 per cent for vocational subjects and five per cent for band. He said the gym and ne said the gym and pool were too expensive, meaning a total cost of $708,620 to be paid by taxpayers and cited the high cost of transporting students to the school, of heating it since gas would not be available, the need for security, additional custodians who would be needed, people to care for the pool and the need for teachers with special skills to support the sports pro-grams as reasons why the school with its planned swimming pool and gymnasium should not be built. This concluded remarks from the remonstrators.

PHILLIP RUNKLE, president of the Akron senior class, spoke on be-half of TVSC students, saying that 85.3 percent of the enrollment in grades 9-12 had signed a statement favoring continuation of plans continuation of plans for the new school. He turned in the list that also included students in lower grades. In all, 1041 students had signed the statement. He said students were missing the advantage of having a high school that could offer debate, speech, FFA, vocational agriculture and the activities corrected. tivities connected with these offerings. "We just don't have the facilities," he said, describing lack of chemistry equipment. He said the new school would have a graphic arts department that would turn out students qualified to go into the printing business. "Other schools have programs that turn out skilled work-ers. Why can't we?" he asked. He cited lack of computers for business students, lack of reading labs for everyone and reminded that 'sports programs are the only identity people in the community have with the school," He said the pool would be for everyone, not just for the kids. He asked if Goshert's proposed 15 rooms for each school would get a speech department or anything or anything more than what they al-ready had. "You might ready had. EDDIE CREIGHTON, member of the holding company and a resident of Harrison township, said young people like Runkle restored his confidence in the youth of today. He said he doubted building the school in the country would tear apart the commun-ities and said it would probably make for bettcommunities. He no one could give a cost estimate until bonds are sold and that although the pool was controversial, it would benefit all students K-12. He said he had noted a change of attitude towards having a consol-idated high school in the past year and felt most taxpayers were now in favor of it.

BYRON DORAN, a resident of Seward township and co-owner of a metal business in Burket, asked tax commission to rule against the remonstrators. He said he felt the cost of the school would be reasonable for what taxpayers and students would be getting and well within the ability of residents to pay. He said the last three state school administrators had recommended against adding to the present high schools at Akron and Mentone and noted that 85 per cent of the residents approved forming the corporation following the School Reorganization Act of 1959. He said the corporation was formed with the understanding that a centralized school would be built. Reading past correspondence from various state heads of departments, he also added that a better sports program was needed. He said the bids received were well within estimates, coming in at $3.9 million with $300,000 estimated for fixed fixtures. He said interest could not be determined until the bonds until the bonds were sold, but estimated tocost of the school would be $4.2 million. He said the $298,000 yearly payment to the building corporation would mean a tax rate would mean a tax rate of $1.16 per hundred dollar assessed valu-ation. "This would be 34 cents above the pre-sent cumulative build-ing fund," he said.

DORAN presented the tax commissioners a list of names of 1,202 adults who favored continuing plans for the school, "Added to the students' list of 1,041, this makes 2243," he said, edning his remarks said, edning his remarks by asking the tax com-mission to rule as soon as possible "so we can get going" and by cit-ing rising building and interest rates.

KEVIN HANEY, a junior t Akron High School, said he had not planned to speak until he had heard some of the arguments against the new school. He said he would not enroll a child of his in the present system, saying there was no curriculum to select from and what was offered was often incomplete. He said he was interested in sports but he really thought there was need for improvement there too, saying baseball games at Akron were scheduled late in the season be-cause of the muddy diamonds. He said home track events could not be scheduled because of mud. He said there were no hurdles because there was no place to store them and as a result most of them had been stolen. He said bask-etball players had to practice until all hours in order to be scheduled into the gym. He said he did not think additional buses would be needed.

Taken from the May 10, 1944 issue of the Nor-thern Indiana Co-Op News . Claude Barkman arrived at the Wade Wheetstone home about 9:30 Monday evening with blood over her face and a definite recollection a definite recollection that she had been attac-ked and struck three times by some unknown assailant. Suspicion soon pointed to the owls and Jimmie Whet-stone and Kenneth Barkpointed man took a flashlight gun and went on an owl hunt. Four or five of the big-eyed chicks with the Hitler appetite yielded to "lead-poison-ing"--and Mrs. Barkman was very much relieved. Old timers claim the old owls won't bother a hu-man being, but it was likely a case of juvenpictures, then considered rare. It began a mania for collecting de-scribed by Hazel Linn, hostess of the Mentone meeting, as the "card meeting, as the "card craze." She notes, however, that the craze died in the 1890's but has seen an upsurge in recent years. In 1945, picture postcard collecting got its official title when Rendell Rhodes, a college professor, coined the word "delti-ology" from the Greek word "Delton" that means a small picture. The word first appeared in dictionaries in 1960 but still cannot be found in all reference works.

It makes no difference if the word is listed or not, devotees of the hobby--deltiologists--know who they are and what they are doing. What they are doing what they are doing is collecting post cards --often specializing in particular fields such as old Christmas cards, Sunbonnet girl cards, Theological cards are mire-Thanksgiving cards, mir-ror cards (they can be read only by holding up to a mirror, specializ-ed cards such as those with poetry by James Whitcomb Riley or cards by a particular artist such as Ellen Clapsaddle.

Miss Clapsaddle for a time was unable to sign her cards and these can be purchased for $1 and up but her signed cards bring much higher pric-es, the mechanical ones es, the mechanical ones selling from $5 to $15. Favoring children as subjects, she honored the post card era with cards for every holiday, including birthdays, and her cards are highly her cards are highly prized and sought after.

Other collectors specialize in forms of transportation and are de-lighted to find post with pictures of trains, cars or air-planes, the older the better. Still others like cards with pict-ures of moons of bridges or moons of bridg-es or patriotic cards. One woman brought to the Mentone meeting an album of patriotic cards estimated to be valued at $500. Done in bright reds, whites and blues. the cards honored na-tional holidays and the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln.

Other collectors like modern cards, the shiny chromes, and one man said he had 80,000 of these, getting many of said he had 80,000 of these, getting many of them through round robin exchanges and by swapping and trading with other collectors. He houses his cards in filing cabinets, neatly cataloging them as he collects. Others, like the women with the patriotic cards, use plastic-paged photograph albums which permit two to a page and can be viewed easily without being glued to a page-an absolute taboo.

Linen-textured post cards are not especially desired by collectors.

In fact, the lack of In fact, the lack of interest in post card collecting began at a-bout the same time the linens were first manufactured. factured. Prices of some of the linen cards are rising but not as are rising but not as rapidly as the finely detailed old cards or as the sleek modern chromes. And, by the way, the chrome cards aren't really all that new because in the early 1900's there was a shiny surface card publy 1900's there was a shiny surface card published that is known as the gelatin. It lacked the refinements of the later cards, however, and its surface often cracked.

Iodine is one of the few nutrients that produces deficiency symp-toms in humans as a re-sult of a deficiency of iodine in the soil. A deficiency of iodine causes simple goiter.

Thyroxine, a hormone produced in the thyroid gland is necessary in controlling metabolism, controlling growth and controlling growth and development, and needed for a successful pregnancy. Iodine is an essential ingredient in thyroxine. If enough iodine is not present in the diet the thyroid works harder and enlarges causing a goiter.

In 1922, a movement was launched to provide and sell iodized salt as a means of supplying iodine, to goitrous gions such as Indiana. Since that time follow up studies have shown that the incidence of goiter has dropped near-ly fifty percent among children in one area. Iodized salt is manufactured and distribut-ed on a voluntary basis. Unfortunately less than half the salt in the United States is iodized. Iodized salt is the dependable source of this nutrient if used routinely.

Indiana is in a goiter region. Our soil is low in iodine and we do not eat enough sea food to fulfill our need for iodine. In the super-market, the iodized salt is next to uniodized salt. Read the label before purchasing salt to be sure that you get iodized salt. sure that you get iodized salt.
It is such an easy way to protect your family against simple goiter.

Dear Editor:

think our pumpkin grower is a good one. think Dr. Miller has been and will be a contribution to our society. He came home and making our Akron a better place to live.

As for education, Dr.
Lohn Dewey said, "Edu-John Dewey said, "Edu-cation is the recon-struction of our exper-ience." Mr. Spencer said the adjustment to our environment.

I do not think our critics will be around long enough to judge. They give advice and leave. leave. They can't re-construct their exper-ience; they beience; they have none. Local people pay. People are not born stupid: they are born ignorant. become stupid through the wrong kind education.

My pity goes to the Beaver Dam school. No school, just a church. God help us when the church leaves.

Dear Editor:
"Memorial Day" is just around the corner. What do you propose to do a-bout it? Will you go fishing, go to the rac-es, play golf, even for-get to display your flag. There are three hundred and sixty four other days to do any or all of these things but all of these things but only one Memorial Day, set aside to pay honor to those that gave their all for this great country in which we live. Since they gave their lives for us, surely it is not asking much that we give a few hours of our too time to commemorate their heroism.

In Flanders Field the poppies blow between the crosses, row on row, that mark our place; and in the sky the larks, still bravely singing, fly scarce heard amid the guns below. We are the dead. Short days ago we lived, felt dawn, sunset glow, loved were loved and now lie, in Flanders lds. Take up our crel with the foe; and Fields. Fields. Take up quarrel with the foe; To you from failing To you from failing hands we throw the torch, be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die we shall not sleep, though pop-pies grow in Flanders Field.

Historical Society Considers Museum Addition

Members of the Fulton County Historical Society met recently at Rochester to hear progress reports on various pro-jects and learned that the Rochester park com-missioners had voted permission to locate a log cabin in the park grounds near the depot-museum on Race St.

Weldon Sherrard repor-ted it would be feasible to build an addition to the museum at the north if it had a firm foundation. The space is needed to house articles donated or loaned to the museum and the 1907 Lincoln truck givthe museum and the en by Carl Zartman of Deland, Fla., that is now on display at Barkman Motors

Bruce Hess told the group how and where to look for historical information in the court-house and showed a pic-ture and story of the Manitou monster.

Almeda Engle brought a book publish-ed in 1886 that listed Civil War veterans and a scrapbook kept by Fred Stayton of deceased Fulton Co. men of World War II. Also on display were pictures of school children donated by the Elkhart library and printed on glass slides by Richard Bair. The board of directors met after the regu-lar meeting and decided to invest $500 in interest-bearing certificates to be used for the museum addition.

Officers re-elected were Mrs. Shirley Willard, president; Mrs. Ruth Richardson, treas-urer, and Mrs. Bertha Waltz, secretary.

The next quarterly publication will be a large issue containing pictures of Rochest-er architecture and will be priced at $1.

Plans will be made for the Society's participation in the Round Barn Festival next meeting. Ham and beans will be served with corn muffins again.

MARY ANN KING, Men-tone mother of six, said she thought most people were willing to pay more taxes if the quality of education could be upgraded and she feltnew facilities were needed to do this.

ROBERT FORBES, superintendent of the Tipe pecanoe Valley School Corporation, said in his summary that more buses would not be needed and that few more miles would be driven than are now. He said that a coach is a teacher first and a coach second. In refusing second. In refusing the charge that additpersonnel would ional be needed for the ath-letic program, he said where there are now two high school coaches, two assistants, two base-ball coaches, two freshcoaches, two golf coaches, two cross country coaches and two intramural coaches, intramural coaches, strator JAMES GOSHERT there would be one each in the new school. He said part of this would be made up by having to hire football coaches but that it would not amount to the number Goshert charged. Forbes and the corporation! e mployees were used to said the corporation's schools had been overcrowded since the 1968 Beaver Dam fire. He estimated the school could have been paid off in 17 years if the bonds could have been sold April 24 but that it might now take two years longer because of rap-idly rising interest rates. He estimated the delay had cost TVSC taxpayers $600,000 and that a five to ten per cent increase in buildcent increase in build-ing costs could be ex-pected if more delays were met. He said one contractor had already asked to be released from his contract be-cause his prices had risen so sharply. risen so sharply.

Challenging Goshert's charge that TVSC had a high-priced architect -Everett I. Brown and Associates - Forbes said that Brown was high priced but was also very good and that the board felt it better to have a higher initial cost and get a quality buildand get a quality build-ing. He also said the school could be operat-ed under the tax pack-age recently adopted.

In rebuttal, remon-strator JAMES GOSHERT strator JAMES COSHENI said that only a little over 2,000 people in-cluding school children had signed the statement favoring the school and wondered where the othemployees were used to get the names and that some people were paid some people were paid to pass the statements. This brought a burst of angry denials from members of the audience. He also said he thought only one or two additional subjects would be offered.

PATTY SCHULTZ, Henry township, said she felt only love for everyone there. regardless of there, regardless of which town or community they represented but she was opposed to put-ting them all together in one school. She said she did not favor spectator sports, thinking more emphasis should be placed on developing a child to become a taxchild to become a tax-paying citizen. "Child-ren should be kept at home," she said, adding, nome, she said, adding, "happiness is based on helping other people, not having to be entertained with spectator sports."

DR. VAN GILDER said a letter in May of 1968 from the state superin-tendent of public in-struction had indicated he (the superintendent) would support two scho-ols providing good ac-ademic facilities were provided and said he saw no reason to proceed with building a new school.

TAX BOARD MEMBER HOLM-ES asked what the cost of a sewage disposal system at the new school would be and was told by Forbes that it would run about $100,000 and that Akron had asked to have sewage pumped to its system and water and water pumped to the school site but that this would have cost about $400-500,000. He said the school would have its own well.

Holmes thanked everyone who spoke and said he would give the information to Carlton Phillipi, chairman of the tax board; Taylor residents of the corporation. Morris, majority member,

Poppy Days May 18-19

In the observance of the American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Days, there should be a special should be a special meaning for all patriotic Americans this year. We are all rejoicing over the return of the prisoners of war and we pay tribute to them, for their courage and never ending faith in God and our country. proudly wearing our beautiful red poppy on May 18 and 19, we will not only pay tribute to them but to those comrades who have not returned and those who have so vaiantly defended our freedom thrturned and oughout the history of our great nation.

In every community of our great nation, it is a small red poppy that brings hope and help to many. To many children it is the promise of a it is the promise of a better and brighter tomorrow. To many hos talized veterans, it To many hospithe reassuring promise that Americans do remember and do care when they wear a poppy. It gives your hospital volunteer a helping hand as she works in the hospital, affording her the opportunity of representing each of us in bringing a comfort item Christmas remembrance to a veteran.

By wearing a poppy, we each pay our own tribute and we a give brighter tomorrow many an American family. Georgianna Grubbs Mentone American Legion Auxiliary Unit

Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful men with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination alone are ommipotent. The slogan "Press on!" has solved an always will solve The slogan the problems of the human race.

NEW TURBO MOWER

Operating advantages

- Average consistent performance: 5 to 7 acres per hour
- Delivers a clean, uniform cut in both upright and lodged hay
- No reduction in forward speed regardless of crop condition and density
- Will not clog despite heaviness of hay or undergrowth
- Does not chop or recut hay already mowed
- Leaves a fluffy windrow with butts of hay upright
- Operates free of side drafts at high speeds
- Cutting height adjustable from approximately 1" to 21/2"
- Virtually no maintenance except lubrication of five grease fittings and occasional knife changes
- Operates on tractors from 35 HP on upwards
- Large surface and wear-resistent discs ensure smooth gliding action and avoid field damage
- Inexpensive knife blades can be shifted from one cutting cylinder to another to utilize both knife edges.

Mrs. Blanche Dickey gave devotions by read-ing a poem, "Mother's Recipes" and a quotation by Abraham Lincoln, one is poor that has a godly mother."

Mrs. Mary Bowen gave the garden remarks and suggested that everyone might save by having a garden. She also said that trees are helpful and hide unsightly rubbish.

Mrs. Alta Hudson gave the citizenship lesson. Mrs. Winnifred Summe was in charge of the lesson. The roll call was a good idea for a picnic.

Mrs. Eva Huffer gave a report on the achievement meeting and the club collect was given and prayer. Winnifred Summe and

The semi was being driven south by James L. Schmid, 34, Wabash, when a van being driven north by David L. Burkett, 35, Michigan City, struck it. The entire cab of the semi was dam-aged and the right corof its trailer was also damaged. It was listed a total loss. Schmid told the Fulton Co. sheriff's office and State Trooper Steve Jennings that he pulled to left when a car in front of him slowed to turn right. When Burkett saw the semi partly ett saw the semi partly in his lane, he swerved to his right and lost control of the van he was driving. The van was driving. The van upset on the bridge and the semi crashed into the van, then went thru the bridge railing and quard rail on the east side but stopped short of the roadside ditch. Burkett was charged with driving without a chau-ffeur's license.

Another accident last Tuesday resulted in $350 to the 1972 Plydamage mouth patrol car of the sheriff's d e p artment when it hit a Holstein cow owned by Tom Burkett, R. 1, Akron. The animal, valued at $400, was killed.

THE HOUSE THE BOYS BUILT is almost done. Members of Tippecanoe Val THE HOUSE THE BOYS BUILT is almost done. Members of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation's building trades classes, including boys from both Akron and Mentone high schools, have worked under the direction of Raymond Pontius to build a one-story house northeast of Mentone. Shown adding a stone trim, the boys did most of the work on the house that features a fully modern kitchen, bathroom, utility room, living room, dining area and three bedrooms and that is carpeted throughout. Decorating plans were by Mentone home economics girls who also selected the lights.

No tax decision yet; TVSC gets loan

No word has yet been received from the State Board of Tax Commissioners regarding a hearing conducted in Mentone May 10. People favoring and not favoring the proposed school spoke at that time, and Tax Board members Herbert C. Holmes and Robert Ferrier listened to both, took notes and said they would present the case to the rest of the Tax

"They'll never stop it," TVSC superintend-ent Robert Forbes said Tuesday afternoon, re-ferring to remonstrators whose petition caused the hearing to be call-ed on the basis that they felt it was unwise to burden taxpayers with a heavy debt to pay for "a sports complex."

"The only thing they can accomplish is running up the price and costing taxpayers more interest," Forbes said. Saying the most remonstrators could hope to do was slow action, Forbes said the school, now named Tippecanoe Valley High School, will be built on the site, but that if action is not taken soon, it will be difficult to be ready for occupancy on the September 1, 1974, target date.

Forbes said some bidders had already indicated they wished to withdraw because of the sharp increase in pric-

"Prices and interest are both rising rapid-ly," Forbes said, re-iterating a wish that a decision soon be forthcoming so that bonds can be readvertised and production schedules met.

"We've already spent too much money to stop," he said, pointing out the $64,000 spent for land plus architect's plans total nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Loans to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation totaling $625. 000 were approved May 16 by the Commission on General Education of the State Board of Educa-tion. This total is comprised of $375,000 from the Common School Fund and $250,000 from the Veterans Memorial Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor:

After having taught n the Michigan City chool system, I want school system, I want my children to have the privilege of attending 6. high school in their home community. Now they can walk or ride their bicycles to extra curricular activities.

If a consolidated high school is built in the country it will mean added trips over a it will mean twisting, turning, bumpy 10. road. "Is this trip necessary?" was a World War II motto during my own high school years. The idea is still true today. Unnecessary transportation is expensive and wasteful of natural resources.

The following list of objections, comments and questions were compiled after discussing this problem with my family and friends. We feel and friends. We feel State Road 19 is unsafe:

It is only a medium duty black top road. No berm - very narrow pavement. Very built.

Patched and repat-ched many times. High crown - very dangerous in wet or icy weather.

Along with spring coming, Lake Manitou if opening up as a summer resort. It is a nice place and ought to be an uplift in every way to our county as well as a place of pleasure and rest from the toils of life and the burdens of a busy, rushing world. But along with the opening of the place comes the usual budget of news of brawls, drunken carousals, fights and boozer joints. These demoralizing influences brought into that lake's life is an injury to the place. Good people hear of them, read of them and steer shy of the place. Boozers and immorals, gamblers and toughts, hear of the place, read of it and flock to the place as a haven for their further debauchery and thus leave the bad with the bad, the worse growing worser.

Recently we published a story about a number of owls attacking Mrs. Claude Barkman one evening while she was going to visit friends. A few days later Mrs. Barkman received a letter from a lady in Hicksville, Ohio, who was formerly a Barkman, wanting to know more about the family in an effort to determine relationship, if any. Mr. Barkman states that there is little doubt but that little doubt but that they are related to the lady in Ohio.

Deaf Man Designs Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

sents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of one of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. So we suggest you write for yours now. No obligation whatsoever. Write to A. J. Wilder, 809 Steuben St., Wausau, Wis, 54401. Adv.

Take your problems to Church this week -

"I Do"

The Marriage Vow...to Which We Might All Add a Second Vow...

When man and woman say "I do" they pledge themselves to faith in each other; to love, honor and cherish until death do

In the dimly illuminated aisles of their church they walk, for the first time as one . . . their hopes and dreams for the future united in wedlock. And even as they promise their devotion to each other, they might also promise each other that they will continue to look upon the Church of their faith as the source of their mutual strength and love for all time. Because regular Church attendance, together, will prove the mainstay of their spiritual life and will give them guidance in so many of the trials which time visits upon every couple and family. Take this thought to your own heart... whether you are newly married or look back upon many anniversaries . . . whether you went to Church last month or too long ago! Resume your regular Church attendance and you will renew one of the decrest and most valuable of experiences which husband and wife can share.

School Fund. Funds are expected to be applied to new school construction now contemplated at a site at the corner of Kosciusko Co 800 S and SR 19. Co. Road

The amount granted to school corporations ap-plying for Common School Fund loans is determined by a formula that takes into account the number of classrooms needed by the corporation, the outstanding debts of the corpora-tion and the amount of wealth per child held by the corporation. The greater the classroom need and the outstanding debts, and the smaller the wealth per child, the greater the amount loaned from the fund. Corporations getting the loans receive a portion of the total in bonds with the Commission on General Education having administrative responsibility for the money.

The North Miami Con-

Rule against TVSC remonstrators

According to Tippe-canoe Valley school superintendent Robert Forbes, the State Board of Tax Commissioners of Tax Commissioners has ruled against the 73 remonstrators who signed a petition for a hearing conducted May 9 concerning the proposed lease-rental agreement between TVSC and the holding company, Tippe-canoe Valley School Building Corporation.
The lease rental agreement had been approved by school board members on April 2. According to its terms, the holding company would sched-ule a $3,580,000 bond issue to pay for its share of the $4,761,481, 39 school building and all fees. School board members praviously had members previously had appropriated $1.5 mill-ion from the cumulative building fund and last week received $625,000 state low-interest loans. The latter came from the Common School Fund and the Veterans Memorial School Fund.

Forbes charged that only 41 of the 73 remononly 41 or the 73 remonstrators whose petition delayed the April 24 bond sale were valid and said some of them removed their names. In signing the petition to seek hearing with the Tax Board, the remon-Tax Board, the r the school board with planning a sports complex.
In addition to making the announcement regard ing the tax board's decision, Forbes also charged that some statements made by James Go-shert at the hearing were incorrect. Goshert said that there was Henry township to join the Rochester Community School Corporation and that only 100 signatures would be needed to do so. He said Newcastle township would follow Henry's lead. In denying Goshert's statement, Forbes said that not only did Goshert give false information, there 'aren't 100 people who want to leave TVSC any-how."

The previously sched-uled bond sale has been re-set for 2 p.m. Wed-nesday, June 20, in the superintendent's office Mentone. An advertisement concerning the sale appears in this week's NEWS.

TVSC remedial programs trimmed; salary proposals discussed

Summer teaching contracts totaling $21,441 were approved by members of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation in a special meeting Tuesday night. Of this, $3,365 will be used for remedial math and reading. remainder will be spent for driver training, band, auto mechanand recreation.

Contracts approved were those of Rick Ral-ston, $1,045; Robert Igney, $1,067; Jim west, $3,005; David Spiegle, Pratt, $1,067; Jim Weber, Pratt,

$1,732; Robert DuBois, $3,202; $2,134; Floyd Henson, Oliver England, Sandra Miller, $2,132; Sandra Miller, $1,223; Dale Pace, $1, 724, at $2,524. and Kenneth Bush,

The remedial programs have been cut back to half days at Akron and at Mentone and will last only six weeks as com-pared to the other sub-jects which will be offered eight weeks, according to school superin-tendent Robert Forbes, who said the courses will be offered only to fourth and fifth grade students instead of to the lower grades as has been done in the past few years. He said one of the reasons for the cut-back was that none of the teachers wanted to teach.

Part of the summer programs are federally funded with the remainder coming from the school corporation. Bus transportation receives 100 per cent government funding.

Discussion of the summer program followed a presentation by Forbes of his counter-proposal to the teachers who recently asked raises that he said would vary from 5.5 to 8.5 per cent or a total of $55,805. The proposal submitted by Forbes would lower the increase to approximatesix percent for all teachers, clerks, jani-tors and bus drivers. He said that several of the higher paid teachers retired and would be replaced by new teachers at a savings to the corporation.

the money allowed school corporations for addi-tional expense in the recently passed tax pac-kage would be approxi-mately $36 per student mately $36 per student for TVSC's 2100 students. This money plus the money saved by hiring be-ginning teachers to replace master teachers would total approximately $89,000, he said. He estimated his proposal would use approxi-mately $60,000 of the NOTE: article by Clara Yeaman, a former Akron resident, appeared in the Peabody Home news paper and was submitted to the NEWS submitted to the NEWS because of its interest her many friends in this area:

When I was asked to relate some of the high relate some of the high spots of my trip to Florida, my first thomight was the invitation written on my Christmas card to the effect that I could have a trip to Florida and back if I promised to stay at least four weeks and I was to choose whatever to choose whatever kind of transportation I wanted, so on Jan. 9, I left Ft. Wayne by bus I left Ft. Wayne by bus and arrived in St. Petersburg the following afternoon after a very uneventful trip. Having been to Florida many times but always driving my own car, I thought my own car, I thought it would be a thrill to go by bus and it was so nice that my trip home was by bus but by a nice that my tri was by bus but different route.

My cousin, who was the donor of the gift, had been living in Nova Scotia for about fifty and never liking so much cold weather, decided after her husband's demise, that she would return to the USA Florida especially because of the more pl easant weather, and bought an apartment in a condiminium. Her side side neighbors from Lafayette, Ind., and they are very con-cental and very free genial and very free with the back seat of their car, so we went to several large shopping centers and many places of interest, al-tho we spent hours just visiting and reminins-ing as we were both raised in the same town. The large stores, dress shops and Webbs, the largest and most unusudrug store in the world, are always breathtaking to go through.

There were two very outstanding side trips. Friends came from Huntsville, Ala., for a week-end and with them we went to Tampa and tourthe airport, which rated as being the is most modern airport in the world, with all its floors carpeted, sever-al gift shops and a number of waiting rooms, and it is a building "out of this world."

We had our choice of going to Disney World or somewhere else. Several years ago, my cousin and I had driven to Ft. Myers, stopping in Sarasota to drive around the grounds of John and Mable Ringling and going into their art building see their wonderful display. Now the grounds with all the buildings belong to the state of Florida, so we chose to go there and tour the

All this did not include the art buildings and the contents nor the works of art in the house nor the beautiful landscaping, especially Mrs. Ringling's large rose garden. You enter the house from the east into a spacious foyer where a water color portrait of John Ringling is on the south wall with a por-trait of Mrs. Ringling on the north wall. The interior plan has a huge two and a half story a half story roofed court which serves as the main living room with some 30 rooms and 14 bathrooms spread out from it with kitchens, pantries and ser-vants' quarters in a wine quarters in a wing the south. When entering the great hall, one is amazed at the large marble columns of Mexican onyx, the glit-tering chandelier of Bohemian crystal. On the walls hang notable 17th century Flemish and Eng-lish tapestries which serve a double purpose as they conceal the 4000 pipes of the Aeolian orthat can be played electrically or manual-and various writing items and family portraits'.

Before starting the building and also during the building period, many boatloads of wood, marble, even many thousand old red barrel tiles from Barcelona were unloaded at Tampa and Mi-ami; a typical gondola was brought from Venice and placed on a tiny island near the terrace.

Mrs. Ringling had made her mind that she her mind wanted something richly ornate and she was spec fic about the details. all the windows were handmade of Venetian glass tinted in shades of rose, amethyst, purple, green and straw. After being the planner and main designer of all this, it seems too bad she could not live longto have more enjoyment from her efforts.

Perhaps many can re-call the Ringling Bros. traveling circus as John and his six brothers gained wealth and fame in the circus world and established winter quarters in Sarasota for their great Ringling Broghers and Broghers and and Bailey Cir-Barnum and cus in 1927

On my birthday, which came while in Florida, my hometown friends had surprise card shower for me which made me very happy and also realized more than ever how precious friends can become.

This was quite an experience for one, who like myself, had never lived in such luxury and had always wondered how the rich live, but how the rich live, but in the past 20 years, it has been my opportunity to find out more a-bout it, as after my husband's death, I made my mind to see how er people live, so answering an ad. I up ther by answering an ad, I went into Chicago and spent three months as a cook for a wealthy family, then later went to Cleveland to visit my brother and answered an ad and in a few days, I cooking for a very wealthy widow and her maiden daughter. They also had a home at Cape Cod, Mass., where they spent six months of the year while I spent six months in my home, but for eight years I was with them six months out of each year.

After all my trips and these experiences, me thinks I prefer my regular life as it was, for I have found out that money does not always bring true happiness. HAPPINESS is a state of mind, you can think you are happy or think to be unhappy and the greatest part of being happy is to forget self py is to forget so and think of others, a full six weeks after

The husband is said to have made few replies to his wife's angry words, but went out with her after the incident was closed. The scene was witnessed by but few persons, but it is said excitement was thick for some time. The saloon men deny that the mirrow was broken, but eye witnesses talk differently and there is a big calendar hung over the glass in a prominent position.

Keeping Wild Animals As Pets Is Illegal

Persons who pick up young raccoons and other wild animals in wooded areas this spring and plan to keep them for pets are violating state laws, Conservation Officer Larry Morris warned this week.

He said some residents have picked up baby rac-coons in the woods while hunting mushrooms and some have contacted him for permits to keep the animals. He said none can he issued because the season is closed. Morris said the only time a person can be issued a permit to keep a wild animal is during the proper season for hunting the animal.

Sheep Breeders To Host Carcass Show

The Elkhart Co. Sheep Breeders will host their eighth annual Area Lamb and Carcass Show on June 6 and 8, 1973. The show is open to the first 50 lambs entered by sheep producers of northern Indiana.

The on-hoof judging the lambs will take place in the new sheepswine judging arena at the Elkhart Co. fair-grounds on Wednesday evening, June 6, start-ing at 7:30 p.m. The lambs will be judged on their market quality their market quality and shown in two weight classes. The public is invited to attend.

The second phase of the show will be Friday evening, June 8, at Hol-lar's Market at the east edge of Nappanee. Each lamb will have been slaughtered and its carslaughtered and its car-cass evaluated. The Friday evening show will be preceeded by a lamb-burger dinner at 6:30 p.m. Comments on each carcass will be made on the rail in the cooler. The primary purpose of this show will be to provide the area sheep producers the opportunproducers the opportun-ity to observe their own animals on the hoof and as a marketable carcass. This will assist them in selecting breeding stock that will improve the quality of carcass-es produced from their flock.

Trophies will be awarded to the highest scoring carcass in each class. Dr. Kenneth Drew-ery, sheep specialist from Purdue University's Animal Science Depart-ment, will be the offic-ial judge for both shows

Historical Society Lists New Donations By Members

The following donations idents in the late 1800s to the Fulton County His-torical Society Museum have been made in recent months:

Bill Sweet donated bicycle nameplate from the Rochester firm "Ross Machine Works." Does anyone remember when the rm operated?

Hubert Smith donated collection of ladies and girls garments, old silverware, a small box covered with seashells and an autograph book, circa 1882, with a small lock of hair after each person's name. George Schael donated very old ladies' purses, one covered with beads and the other with woven chain.

Almeda Engle gave to the museum the following: two postcards tak-en of local areas in the early 1900's, a collection of Historical Society newspaper clippings beginning with the so-ciety's conception in 1963, an 1886 Fulton 1963, an 1886 Fulton Co. record book recording the widows and or-phans of local veterans served in actions also.

Hugh Barnhart present-Hugh Barnnart presented an 1882 primary election card of Wm. Deniston, who was running for the office of county auditor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Overmyer donated a collection of books and two antique ladies' pins.

Mrs. Steve Shriver ave a collection of gave a collection 19th century ladies and girls clothing.

Don Schultz, owner of the Brasserie (formerly Berghoff Cafe) has given a collection of pictures that were given Chris Ninios, former owner, and his brothers by many of the circus performers and other elebrities who visited there.

Ellen Burge and Tami Melton located and gave a 1949 Indiana license plate.

Wm. A. Smith donated 1923 of engineering materials.

Raymond R. Rogers has donated a duplication newspaper clippings concerning his ancestor, Hugh Bowman, who was one of the few Indiana reswho could claim to be the son of a Revolutionary War veteran.
Remember how hot the inside of the Museum was last summer during the Round Barn Festival? Mrs. James Walton has donated a large air con-ditioner that in addition to providing a cleaner environment for the museum's collection, the museum's collection, should help everyone "keep their cool."

To help get the antique Lincoln truck running, John L. Ross of the F.M.C.Co., division of Link Bell Chair of Indianapolis, has furn-ished a chain drive that matches the broken chain on the truck. If there are any antique car mechanics chanics or retired bl-acksmiths who may have worked on a vehicle of this vintage, feel free to drop by Barkman's Lincoln-Mercury on E. 4th St., Rochester, to de-termine if the truck is in operating condition.

While plans for the log cabin are moving slower than anticipated, progress is being made. One way that anyone in the county can help with the restoration is to bring a rock to the mu-seum. They will be us-ed in the foundation, pathway and fireplace. These may be brought to the museum anytime and deposited along the east slope. Your support, large or small, would be greatly appreciated. Many of the circus pictures that once hung in the Brockhoff war and in the Berghoff were not autographed. They will be on display by the Round Barn Festival so if you remember any of the circus families who once lived in this area, feel welcome to come in and see if their picture in this collection. Also, Don Shultz has requested that the pictures released to released to anyone the picture if they in desire the photo-SO graph.

Anyone interested in donating or lending ar-ticles to the museum may do so on weekends be-tween 2 and 5 p.m. or by calling 223-2352, 2862 or 5089.

Thoughts

Before anything else existed there was Christ, with God. He has always been alive and is himself God. He created everything there is-nothing exists that he didn't make. Eternal life is in him, and this life gives light to all mankind.

God sent John the Baptist as a witness to the fact that Jesus Christ is the true Light. John him-self was not the Light; he was only a witness to identify it. Later on, the one who is the true Light. one who is the true Light arrived to shine everyone coming into the world.

cial interest.
Their first stop was Grace Children's Hospital in the capital city.
This hospital is familiar to many throughout iar to many throughout the Indiana-Ohio-Michiarea as a hospital the treatment of for the treatment of tuberculosis in small children. While tour-ing here, the group saw the new kitchen and gas stoves made by Dwight stoves made by Lwight Bechtol of Burket. The group also visit-ed St. Vincent's School for Handicapped Child-ren, an Episcopalian ren, an Episcopalian work, and delivered orthopedic supplies do-nated by a Warsaw firm. Other points of interest were the Cathedral St. Trinite where the walls are covered with primitive murals done by Haitian artists; Ft. Jacques, a peaceful ru-in of an 18th century in of an 18th century battlement located over 4,500 feet above the a breath-taking view of the city below; Conser-vative Baptist Mission at Fermathe, which is in the area where Church World Service has done extensive work teaching people to terrace the mountainsides for gardens.

One day was spent traveling about 80 miles north of Port-au-Prince to Deschapelles where the women toured the Albert Schweitzer hos-pital. Here they wit-nessed the effects of tetanus in newborn babies as a result of their not being properly cared for at the time of their births in mud huts. On their way to this hospital, they were able to view the city of Duvalierville, a model city built by the late Dr. Francois Duvalier, late president of Haiti. They passed through the fertile Artibonite valland on to St. about 60 miles from Port. is the ancient walled port and the site where 800 Haitians gathered to sail for the US as participants in the American Revolution.

Kyona Beach was a be-autiful spot of white sand beaches where the women spent an afternoon the Caribeean and where fresh lobster and red snapper are served fresh from the sea.

Later in the week group traveled south to Signeau which is a com-plex of six wood buildings housing the termiadult tuberculosis patients. The group took biscuits to the 200 here

Film To Be Shown At Akron Church

"So Long Joey", a film depicting the true story of singer Dave Boyer, will be shown at the Akron Church of God at 7:30 ron Church of God at 7:30 p.m. Sunday evening.

In the film, Dave and his wife June and their daughter and Dave's mother lay bare their soul in sharing the miraculous way in which God transformed according to the control of the cont formed a confused, mixedup entertainer, making him a powerful witness for Christ. making

Filmed on location, "So Long Joey" takes the viewer to actual placed where many of the dramatic events in Dave Boy-er's life are relived. The musical background for Dave's singing was recorded by musicians of the London Symphony Orchestra with Ron Huff conducting. Pastor J. D. Thomason states the story is tastefully presented for the whole family and that it has a message for every adult as well as young people.

Members and friends of the congregation are urged to see the film.

Silver Lake Plans Use of Revenue Sharing Money

The Silver Lake town board proposes to use federal revenue sharing money for the first six months of this year to months of this year to apply on the remaining debt of the fire station and on the new police car, according to Chesteen Chapple, clerktreasurer.

Chapple said the amount expected to be received by the town for the per-iod of Jan. 1 to June 1, 1973 is approximate-19 $6,061. The recip-ients of federal revenue sharing money are required to make periodic reports on its use, the clerk-treasurer saying the total revenue sharing money received by the town will be part of the budget for the coming year when it is prepared.

How would you punctuate this sentence?
"Woman without man is a savage."

A typical male will punctuate it this way: "Woman, without her man, is a savage."

But if you're a typi-cal female, you'll read this way:

Woman -- without her, man is a savage.

Trees

There are different kinds of trees, like oak and maple and some that wave their limbs at me. Trees are pretty in the wind, when they nod their heads and bow and bend. Sish! I like trees.
