Anyone in the market for a school?!

Actually, Tippecanoe Valley High School is not for sale of course, but many students and travellers on State Road 19 Tuesday were surprised to see the above "For Sale" sign planted in front of the school, evidently the work of some pranksters. The sign eventually disappeared later Tuesday evening.

Reception in Akron to honor Sheetz

On Thursday afternoon, May 10, from 3 to 5 p.m. a Meet the Author Reception will be held in the Akron Carnegie Public Library for Ann Kindig Sheetz who has had the book "Born Again --- But Still Wet Behind the Ears" just published by Christian Herald. Christian Herald is an independent, evangelical and interdenominational press and is dedicated to publishing wholesome, inspirational and religious books.

Books will be available which can be purchased and personally autographed by the author.

The author will be contributing part of the proceeds to the Akron Library.

The book is the story of a Christian under construction.

In episode after episode the author relates some very funny, often hilarious true tales about herself, her husband and two adolescent sons. In between the lines she demonstrates how a woman, a couple, a whole family can tear down the framework of a seemingly adequate Christian faith and build a stronger temple to the Lord. Despite her naturally positive and optimistic outlook the author lapsed into an unexplainable period of depression that resulted ultimately in a rebirth of her faith in a "God who is there".

Everyone is invited to attend this reception and the Akron Woman's Club and the Akron Library are hosting the event.

New books at Akron Library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

THE BOLD AND MAGNIFICENT DREAM by Bruce Catton and William B. Catton. This is the story of America, from Columbus and the Colonial Age through the War of 1812 - told with rare eloquence and power by two eminent historians.

YOUR PERSONALITY AND HOW TO LIVE WITH IT by Gregory G. Young, M.D.

THE CINDER PATH by Catherine Cookson. Here is an exceptionally dramatic story; one that carries the reader from the rural England of Edwardian times to the holocaust of the Western Front in the First World War.

THE PEOPLE'S HOSPITAL BOOK by Ronald Gots, M.D., PHD and Arthur Kauffman, M.D. This book tells you how to increase your comfort and safety; deal with the doctors and obtain the best total care.

YOU ARE SOMEBODY SPECIAL edited by Charlie Shedd. This book is the newest, most innovative approach to date for reaching out to teenagers to guide them in handling the problems and hang-ups of their world.

A WALK WITH THE CROSS by Arthur Blessitt. A walk with the cross is recorded proof of what one man can accomplish in obedience to the leading of the Lord. From solitary communion with God on lonely roads to mass rallies in the world's great cities, Blessitt's determination has borne fruit in many lives.

SILENCE IS MY HOMELAND by Gilean Douglas. Few people have the ways, means, knowledge, or inclination to sacrifice the comforts of urban life for a physically remote backcountry existence, but many dream at times of being able to leave it all behind and take to where the water runs clean and the air tastes sweet. This book is written for them.

Motorists advised to beware on 331

Motorists on SR 331 in St. Joseph and Marshall counties are urged to use caution when traveling in the 16-mile stretch from US 6 to US 20 while resurfacing work is underway there, asks State Highway Commission Executive Director Roger F. Marsh.

Marsh says that the resurfacing began last week and will continue until late May or early June, if all goes as planned. SR 331 will remain open to traffic while work goes on, but there will be occasions when one lane will be closed and traffic routed onto the opposite side lane, Marsh explains. Walsh and Kelly, Inc. of Griffith is the firm doing the resurfacing under a $751,298 contract let in the Highway Commission's November, 1978 bid letting. Robert Bowen of Highway's LaPorte district is supervising the job for the state. LaPorte district engineer is Russell Lain and district construction engineer is Sam Edging.

The wind was from the east, which saved the house from catching fire.

The house on the Lee Kindig farm one half mile east of the Hawn school house burned about 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It is believed that the fire started from a spark on the shingle roof. The family have moved into the Nat Ross house. Mrs. Ross is living in Ohio with her daughter.

Give of Yourself

DEAR EDITOR:

Blood bank, Monday, May 7, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Rochester High School.

Everyone was so great when I needed blood replaced and I am very thankful for friends like this. However have you ever thought that someone just like you had to give the blood ahead of when I needed it. God expects us to give of ourselves. How can we go any further than actually giving part of our body in the form of blood.

Needs friends

DEAR EDITOR:

Will you please print my letter in your newspaper.

My name is Kenneth Smith and I am an inmate at the State Prison near LaGrange, Kentucky. I am 22 years old and am white and I am in good health.

At this time I do not have any family or friends on the outside world and it sure gets lonely in this place when you have no one to write to you.

It would make me very happy to make friends through your newspaper.

If anyone wishes to write to me, I want them to feel free to do so and I will answer all letters.

Did you know?

Ash and hickory are preferred wood species for the manufacture of handle stock, says Extension foresters at Purdue University. These woods are exceedingly strong and shock resistant. Like all wood species, they do not conduct heat rapidly, so on a very hot or cold day, wooden handles are still comfortable to touch and handle.

Family Life

By Renee Norlander

Spring it would seem is finally here. The weather hasn't been great, but I'm sure someone - somewhere - is appreciating the rain. There have been a few beautiful days however, and with the sunshine, comes the urge to "get out".

I remember, not so long ago, when gasoline was 29 cents a gallon, and my friends and I would fill-up my Dad's VW and ride around all afternoon on such lovely spring days.

But now is not then. The price of gasoline of course has skyrocketed, but the emphasis now is not only on price, but the shortage of gas. The controversy over whether the shortage is real or not is important, but when the stations close on weekends, the fact is - we must stop using so much gas.

Rides in the country of course are enjoyable, but I think we must reconsider when the urge hits. There are other ways of getting outside. And the old fad of "cruising" for teenagers is going to have to be changed. I'm not digging at the kids only - we must all stop and re-evaluate our use of gasoline. Or someday - we'll HAVE to ride bikes!

Tulips are favorite sign, but rhubarb means Spring

by Patricia M. Braman

Tulips get the credit as a sure sign of spring. But rhubarb is just as certain an indication. When this pink ribbed plant with the frillaro and the edges is in the market, it's a sure sign of spring.

Rhubarb, often called preplant, is a herbaceous perennial. The edible portion of the plant is the large tender leaf stalk. The leaves of the rhubarb plant contain oxalic acid and therefore are not edible, either raw or cooked.

There's been much confusion in regards to classifying rhubarb as a fruit or vegetable. Actually, rhubarb is a vegetable and is the only vegetable that replaces fruit in our diets. Its primary use is in dishes such as pies and tarts. It is relatively high in calcium and Vitamin A, so nutritionally speaking it's a good buy.

When selecting rhubarb, look for firm, crisp, fairly thick stalks that are either red or pink in color, depending on the variety. Avoid flabby stalks. Fresh rhubarb should be refrigerated and used within 3 to 5 days for optimum quality. When preparing wash and trim discolored ends; cut off and discard any leaves.

For those who want that nippy rhubarb flavor to add to winter months, rhubarb is easily canned or frozen. To can, select young tender stalks. Trim, wash and cut into half inch lengths. Young stalks should not be peeled. The skin gives the bluish pink color that is so appetizing and it holds the pieces in shape so they do not cook down to mush. Add 1/4 cup sugar to each quart of rhubarb and let it stand to draw out the juice. Then bring it to a boil, pack hot, and cover with hot juice. Process pint and quart jars 10 minutes in a boiling-water bath.

To freeze rhubarb, pick young tender stalks that are firm, well-colored with good flavor and few fibers. Wash, trim and cut into one or two inch pieces. Do not peel. Heat rhubarb in boiling water for one minute and cool promptly in cold water helps retain color and flavor. It can be frozen with or without sugar depending on individual preference.

RHUBARB BROWN BETTY

Mix 3/4 - 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Grease a 1 1/2 quart casserole. Put in 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, then 1 cup chopped rhubarb. Sprinkle with 1/4 of the sugar mixture. Repeat a layer of bread crumbs, rhubarb and sugar mixture. Mix 1/4 cup water, juice and grated rind of 1 lemon; pour over layers. Put on remaining crumbs and dot with 3 T. butter. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 and 3/4 hours. Serves 6.

General Telephone plans expansion

General Telephone Company of Indiana plans to spend approximately $12.2 million in its North Central Division for construction and expansion of telephone facilities during 1979, according to a statement from the company's District Service Manager, Ed Knafel.

Knafel said that a considerable portion of the 1979 funds will be directed toward improvements in three major aspects of the telephone system in this area. "Our efforts will be focused on making private-line service available to all our customers whether they live in rural or urban areas, placing additional telephone cable throughout our operating areas to meet rapid business and residential growth, and replacing existing telephone switching equipment with faster, more reliable computer-directed systems," said Knafel.

Funds for the installation of a new computer-controlled "digital" switching system in Burket will comprise the majority of that exchange's $687,000 budget allocation for 1979.

The system, scheduled to go into operation in October 1979, will utilize a new highly sophisticated method of transmitting telephone calls. The equipment will "chop" individual voices into "bits" at a rate of 8,000 times per second, transmit them at an ultra-high rate of speed, and then put them back together so that every word is clear and natural.

Other General Telephone exchanges to receive funds for expansion and construction projects in the Wabash area were Akron, Mentone, Bippus, Atwood, Millwood, Claypool, Sidney, and Silver Lake.

THE DRIVER OF this car found him or herself in a sticky situation last Saturday, when the vehicle became stuck in the mud after a joyride on the lawn. The car is believed to belong to a Warsaw resident.

Extension homemakers to honor their own

Climaxing a busy year the Fulton County Extension Homemaker Clubs in Fulton County will be participating in the celebration of National Homemaker Week May 6-12. At present there are fourteen county clubs with a membership of 226 members.

The county clubs were first organized in the 1920's. The first county president was Mrs. Frank McCarter, Rochester who served from 1933-1938. There have been 23 county presidents since. The oldest county club (55 years) is the Wayne Friendly club in Wayne Twp. There is one charter member, Trella Feidner, being the oldest county E.H. Club member. The newest club, Blend and Mend, was formed April 19 of this year. This is a group of young homemakers from Wayne and Union townships.

The Fulton County Homemakers would like to extend an invitation to all homemakers throughout the county to join or form a club and become a part of our extension program.

Anyone interested in learning about extension homemakers may contact Martha Shireman, Fulton County Home Extension Agent, by telephoning 223-3397, or stopping at the extension office located in the Court House, Rochester.

Mentone - Warsaw chapters of DAR honor their "Good Citizen"

Teel's Restaurant was the site for the combined meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR of Mentone and the Agnes Pryn Chapman Chapter DAR of Warsaw on April 10, 1979. A smorgasboard dinner was enjoyed by the 47 members and guests present.

The regent, Mrs. Wm. Cox welcomed everyone present and conducted the ritual. Pledge was given to the Flag followed by the National Anthem. The response was given by Mrs. Paul Kindle, Warsaw regent.

The President General's Message was given by Mrs. Frank Smith, and expressed an invitation to Continental Congress that stressed the changed by-laws resolutions. The schools are in dire financial need and this educational support should be a concern of all.

Mrs. Alene Collins presented the Warsaw good citizens, George Lambrose of Warsaw and Kay Kirkpatrick of Wawasee and her mother. Mrs. Arthur Brown presented Kevin Deardorff who represented TVHS and his mother.

Mrs. Glenn Clauss read the National Defense on New Social Security Proposals by Phyllis Shafley.

Mrs. Chas. Lane spoke on her impressions of the United States and her homeland of Yugoslavia. There is no freedom of worship as we know it. She has lived in Warsaw for 32 years and definitely knows how for granted the Americans take their freedom.

Men are definitely the head of the household. Women must have strength to fight for their rights. No one is really overweight. Do more walking, cars not used as readily. Their diet is well rounded only smaller portions. Usually eat 5 times a day, breakfast, midmorning, noon tea and supper. They are always 3 course meals.

The only school required is four years of grammar school. They must then work 4 years of apprenticeship for no pay with schooling in the morning. There is no feuding between school and home, the children are there to learn as much as possible.

Everyone repeated the Americans Creed in closing with the remainder of the evening being spent enjoying the music of the jazz band from TVHS.

The next meeting will be on May 8, with dinner in an Amish home near Nappanee at 6:30 and reservations should be made as soon as possible to Mrs. Ernest Igo. Everyone will meet at the Legion Home and leave together.

Don't be overly concerned with brown tips on evergreens

Don't become overly concerned if your broad-leaved and needled evergreens show some brown tips at this time, says Paul Pecknold, Purdue University extension plant pathologist.

Most often this is injury caused by winter desiccation. During winter months evergreens continue to lose water through transpiration and evaporation. And while soils are frozen, evergreen plants are not able to replenish this loss, the specialist explains.

This loss causes evergreen needles and leaves to dry out, brown and become a worry to homeowners. Pine, taxus, hemlock, spruce, holly, and rhododendrons are ornamentals most often involved.

"Most frequently damage is confined to or most severe on that side of the plant directly exposed to the sun and prevailing winds," says Pecknold. "There is little that can be done at this time in the way of control, for the damage has already occurred," he adds.

Pecknold suggests that pruning of these parts be delayed until new growth begins. Often there is no need for pruning, as stem and bud tissue are not injured. Thus, damage is confined to the needle or leaf tissue.

Once growth begins, you can inspect the plant and determine if stem injury has occurred. If there is injury, you can prune out the stem at that time. It would also be wise to prune out small dead twigs at the same time, as these can become sources of canker diseases, the plant pathologist says.

In cases where much or all of your evergreen has turned brown, winter injury may be too severe, and recovery then is unlikely.

To prevent winter desiccation, take precautions in the fall, says the specialist. Deep watering, mulching, windbreaks (burlap, cardboard), and antitranspirant sprayed on foliage in late fall can help prevent winter desiccation.

Salt injury is often difficult to distinguish from winter desiccation, Pecknold adds. White pine, taxus and arborvitae are some plants prone to salt injury. Examine your plants to see if injury is on the side next to the roadway, sidewalk, driveway, or steps where de-icing salt would have been applied.

To leach salts from the soil, water heavily; this will allow a better flush of root and shoot growth. Several water applications may be necessary to remove most of the salt, depending on the original level.

Ambulance log

Wayne Tombaugh, treasurer of the Mentone EMS, reports that the EMTs made nine ambulance runs in April, with total mileage at approximately 300 miles. One run was to Whitley County Hospital in Columbia City; the remainder were to KCH at Warsaw.

Searching for replacement

Mentone Marshall resigns post

by Renee Norlander

In what appeared to be a surprise to members of the Mentone Town Board, Marshal Earl Beattie read aloud his letter of resignation at Monday evenings regular session of the trustees.

Board president Frank Hardesty indicated after the reading that he was not completely surprised by Beattie's action, however, Gerald Romine and Wayne Tombaugh seemed at a loss for words.

In his letter, Beattie stated that he had enjoyed working in Mentone, and appreciated the support of the residents and the Board, but had decided to continue with his college education. He did not say where he would be residing in the future or where he would be going to school. He expressed his appreciation to Deputy Marshal John Hart and reserve officer Jay Secrist, and stated, "I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the citizens and businesses of Mentone for their support of the Police Department...and I would like to extend my thanks for having had the opportunity to serve the Town of Mentone..."

President Hardesty stated that he was reluctantly accepting the resignation, to which Tombaugh stated "so here". Hardesty then told Beattie, "I want to wish you the best of luck".

Beattie's resignation is effective June 1, and the Board will now be accepting applications for a replacement. Anyone interested should see Marshal Beattie or Wayne Tombaugh for an application form.

Clerk-treasurer, Catherine Whetstone, informed the board members that Norman Noe, of the Leary Construction Company, had contacted her in regards to the repair work that is to be done on the water tank. Noe told Whetstone that the new OSHA approved ladder has been put on the tank, and actual repair work should be completed within the month. The Leary Construction Company was contracted to do the work at a special session in March.

In other action:
*Attorney Lee Bazini told the trustees that most of the ordinances he has reviewed from 1968 will still be effective today. However, a few changes will be necessary, and further study is essential before the ordinances are accepted.

He also stated that he received a letter of complaint from a town resident, regarding the board appointments of local BAZ (Board of Zoning Appeals) members. President Hardesty reminded everyone that no appointments have been made at this time, but Town Board members will most likely be three of the seven.

*The Board approved a $3033.33 estimate for a new equipment and storage building to be constructed at the Mentone Cemetery. Park and Cemetery Board president, Bob Whetstone, presented the estimate for approval, and reported that all labor on the construction will be volunteer, with Freeman Gruenwald and Ron Secrist as foremen. Anyone wishing to volunteer their carpentry skills, are asked to con-

Tragic accident claims life of Valley sophomore

A Tippecanoe Valley High School sophomore was killed as a result of injuries she received in an accident on State Road 25 last Saturday evening on the dangerous curves known as the "Devil's Backbone".

Theresa Schoettmer, age 16, of R. 1, Silver Lake, died in Kosciusko Community Hospital several hours after the accident of internal injuries and a skull fracture.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Jeffrey Ferguson, age 17, of R. 2, Silver Lake, when the vehicle, apparently traveling at high rate of speed, crossed the road and traveled along the berm on the left side of the road, then recrossed the road, went through a fence, careened between two trees, and then hit a tree head on.

Two other passengers in the auto, Tammy Hawkins, age 17, R. 2, Akron, and Robert Kline, age 15, R. 1, Silver Lake, were unable to tell what had happened to cause the accident. Mentone Marshal Earl Beattie and Winona Lake Marshal Marlin Rose investigated.

Ferguson was taken to KCH by Multi-Township EMS, and was later transferred to Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne. He was listed in fair condition with lacerations and contusions. Hawkins and Kline were treated and released from KCH for lacerations, contusions and abrasions.

The accident occurred at 11:07 p.m., and Ferguson's 1967 auto was totaled, with damage set at $300. Also damaged was a fence with estimated damage at $75.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Bell Museum, to be constructed in Mentone, were celebrated Monday evening, May 7, with members of the museum committee in attendance. Members of the Board of Directors include: R. J. Hill, chairman; Bill Ettinger, co-chairman; David Cooper, treasurer; Elaine Fugate, secretary; Gerald Romine; Sue Pyle; Lois Miller; and Jerry Hudson. Donald G. Searce, consulting engineer, was unable to attend.

The museum committee was appointed in June 1975 for the purpose of constructing a building to house and preserve the Lawrence Bell Collection. Housed in the museum will be historical items relating to the period of Bell's life, including local artifacts and his personal keepsakes. Gerald Romine was chosen as first chairman, and the kick-off program began in April 1976.

The shovel used in Mondays ceremony has been used in previous groundbreaking ceremonies by the Bell Aircraft Corporation. Tentative date for the opening date of the museum is the summer of 1980 which will give the committee time to arrange proper interior designs.

Lawrence Bell Museum building project gets underway

tact Whetstone at 353-7676. Whetstone emphasized that without volunteer labor the project will not be completed.

The old storage shed at the cemetery will be moved to Mentzer Park for further use there.

*The board announced that there will not be an official "Clean-up Day" this spring because it is not financially feasible for the town. However, residents are reminded that trash thrown around, high weeds, etc., are not acceptable by Ordinance number 181.

As the ordinance states:

"An ordinance expressing the will of the board of trustees of the town of Mentone requiring the owners of real estate, or any possessory or rental interest therein, within the town of Mentone, to cut and remove weeds and other rank vegetation growing thereon, and to keep the real estate free from ashes, paper, rags, garbage, rubbish and trash; and to remove any partially demolished and/or torn down structures and improvements; and upon default of such owners to do such work, to cause the same to be done by the town of Mentone and to make the cost thereof a lien upon such real estate; and to provide for the enforcement of such lien and the collection of such cost."

*Marshal Beattie reported that the 70-30 Federal grant that he recently applied for for the purchase of a radar gun has been approved. He stated though that the town must pay the total $1000 for the gun, and will be refunded $700 from the government within 30 days.

*A contract with H.J. Umbaugh and Associates was signed by the trustees for further evaluation at the end of 1979 for a possible increase in water rates.

Representatives from Umbaugh and Associates had advised the Board earlier this year not to ask for an increase at this time, however, an increase may be necessary for 1980.

*Minutes from the April 2 and April 18 meetings were approved as read by Clerk Whetstone, and all claims were paid.

The Board will meet again in regular session on June 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall. This meeting is open to the public.

Let's Talk About

Capital Costs, Energy Supplies and Earnings

What do utility capital costs and earnings have to do with adequate energy supplies? Actually, quite a lot. Let's look at the facts:

Utility Capital Requirements

Electric utilities are more capital-intensive than any other industry, including steel and oil. They require between $3.50 and $4.00 of investment for each dollar of revenue received. Other industries require only about 75 cents of capital investment for each $1.00 of revenue.

As a regulated industry, utilities are only allowed to earn a return on their investment sufficient to pay for their cost of money. This rate of return is a ceiling and not a floor.

About 60 per cent of the money needed to add plant and equipment each year must be obtained from the money market through the sale of securities—stocks, bonds, debentures, etc.

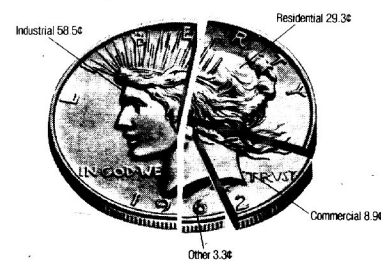

To meet the energy needs of consumers, utilities cannot postpone construction and replacement just because the cost of money is high.

Most of the $1.9 billion NIPSCO has budgeted for new facilities in the next five years will have to be raised in the money market. And NIPSCO must pay whatever the money rates are.

Our success in obtaining this money depends upon earnings since earnings determine our ability to pay our debts.

If a utility's earnings are inadequate in the eyes of the lender, money becomes hard to obtain and interest rates go up. When money is not available to build facilities, the bottom line is an inadequate supply of energy and deteriorating service.

WHERE EACH NIPSCO DOLLAR CAME FROM

"Earnings" or net income—is the amount of money remaining after all the expenses, interest, taxes and other costs have been deducted from the total amount received from the sale of services.

The above charts show where each $1.00 of NIPSCO's revenue came from in 1978 and how each was spent.

Here in the "Workshop of America," where heavy industry produces the jobs for a growing economy, industrial customers provided almost 60 cents of every dollar NIPSCO received in 1978, while residential customers provided 30 cents.

Energy Supplies and Service

Here in northern Indiana, the need for electric energy—both in peak demand and kilowatt-hours—is expected to grow at a rate of about six per cent per year between now and 1985.

To meet present load and this growth, NIPSCO must modernize, replace and build new generating and transmission facilities. Any delay will seriously affect its ability to meet the energy needs of customers.

NIPSCO believes that a shortage of electrical energy in this highly industrialized area would seriously disrupt the economic well-being of all of the people living and working here. To prevent this from happening, we must plan and build now to be ready to serve whenever and wherever required. To do this we must have sufficient earnings to attract the money necessary to enable us to build.

WHERE EACH NIPSCO DOLLAR WENT

As for expenses, fuel and purchased energy take the biggest share of NIPSCO's revenue dollar. The next two largest items of expense are labor and taxes, with other expenditures making up the balance.

From the chart showing "Where Each NIPSCO Dollar Went," you can see why we must rely so heavily upon borrowed money for new plant and equipment.

Last year only two tenths of a cent from each dollar was left for reinvestment in the business.

TO SERVE, WE MUST BUILD; TO BUILD, WE MUST BORROW; TO BORROW, WE MUST HAVE ADEQUATE EARNINGS.

Family Life

By Renee Norlander

Mother's Day is this Sunday, and of course all the children and Daddys of the area are trying to decide what to do for Mom in her honor. At my house, Bob and Robby have been looking through ads and catalogs, and I've heard them plotting. Of course Robby doesn't have much to say about it, but he likes looking at pictures.

What does a mom really want on her day? Flowers, perfume, candy and cards? Those gifts are really nice, but I know what I really want...

- To sleep late on Sunday morning, like I did "before" I was a mommy;
- To have daddy change the diapers and give Robby his bath, like he promised "before" he was a daddy;
- To spend all day reading a terrific novel without jelly fingerprints all over the pages, like "before" December 1977;
- To have daddy help baby eat, so I can eat while the food is still hot; like "before".

It all sounds so wonderful, doesn't it? But in reality, in everyday living, I wouldn't trade being a mom for the whole world. And I'm sure I speak for every mom out there when I say that "before" could never hold a candle to the "now" of being a mother. The rewards are so much greater than sleeping late or eating hot food.

Happy, happy Mothers Day to all of you!!

My congratulations to Ann Sheetz on the publication of her book. I haven't read it yet, but I've read enough of Ann's columns to know it must be great. Hope all you local readers will buy a copy, and get our local author on a "best seller" list. How thrilling it must be.

As you probably know, the ground breaking ceremonies for the new Bell Museum were held Monday evening in Mentone. I think the residents should be grateful for the hard work and dedication of the people who have worked so hard to see this dream come true.

Of course it isn't over, and this new building will be just one of two, so the committee is still hard at work. Anyone wishing to donate money for the completion should contact R. J. Hill, chairman, or Bill Ettinger, co-chairman. We want to see this project completed, now that it's "off the ground"!

The great American pastime...

It's garage sale time again!!

Going to, and giving, garage sales, is one of the favorite pastimes of men and women in the Akron-Mentone area during the summer.

They are also called rummage sales, yard sales, basement sales (when it rains) and occasionally moving sales.

What it all boils down to is this; you clean out all your closets and extra rooms - don't forget the garage - fight your impulse to keep things one more year (just in case), clean it, stick a price on it and put it up for sale.

Many, many people, including lake weekenders, start out early Friday or Saturday morning with their tear-sheet of ads from the paper and spend the entire morning going from sale to sale.

Why? Everyone has a different reason and they couldn't possibly be covered here but here are a few tips for a successful sale.

One of the major problems with having a sale in the rural area is that it is difficult to find people's houses.

If you live on an out-of-the-way road, borrow someone else's garage. Customers won't seek you out if you're too hard to find.

A good idea is to put directions in your ad. For example, "Take Hwy. 191 mile north of Akron, turn left onto Division Road, first road on right, green house."

Another good idea is to include your phone number in the ad. That way, if someone gets lost on the way, you can give directions. Or if someone has seen but not bought something at your sale, she can call back later to see if it's sold. She may have changed her mind.

Just saying "John Smith's house, Akron or Mentone" is not enough. Even if you've lived in this area since 1902 many visitors and many local people do not know where you live so don't assume everyone does.

Two days should be enough for your sale. Many people figure almost everything will be gone after two days and won't bother to come. They're usually right. You'll find the first couple of hours will be extremely busy as all the bargain hunters want to get in on the "goodies" first. Thursday and Friday or Friday and Saturday sales attract crowds of people.

Set up your display the day before the sale. Use picnic tables and benches, folding tables, boards laid across sawhorses. This way, you'll be able to scatter the items so each one will be easily seen, and can be picked up without disturbing other items. Open your doors promptly at the advertised time and don't be surprised if there are 30 people standing there waiting.

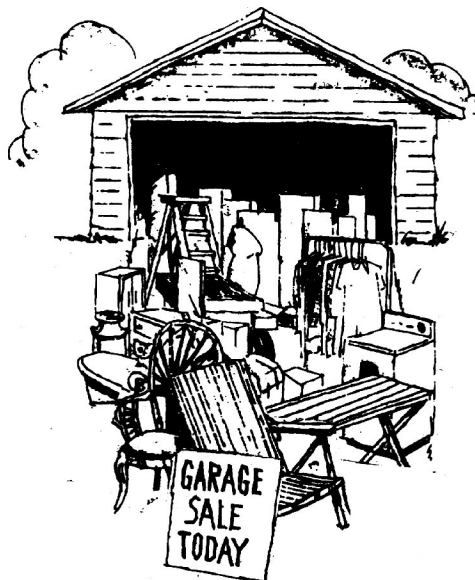

A lot of different items is a key to any successful sale. The more variety, the more interest you will generate among lookers and buyers. Some people will come strictly to buy clothes - or dishes. Others will be attracted to everything you display. You may also have professional buyers from resale shops.

Use psychology. Put toys and children's games close to the floor. Have a basket or box of small items people can rummage through.

To keep from answering a million questions about the cost of each item, tag each item with the price.

duce the price of an item, change it on the tag.

If yours is a two or more family will alert you if you run into a tag-switcher. It does happen.

Don't overprice. To you, many items may be priceless because of sentimental value. But to a buyer it's just another item. If you're in doubt as to what to charge, don't put a price on the item, but fix a price in your head, then let the interested party make an offer.

Some of the most successful sales are put on by several people along a road who put on sales at the same time. This brings more people because they can visit a number of sales in the same area.

If someone asks you to hold an item, do it. But take down the person's name and phone number in case they don't show up to buy the item. If someone else expresses interest in an item you're saving for someone else, take that person's name and number. Tell them you'll call if the first party doesn't show up to claim the item.

When you're down to maybe a third of the items you started with, consider marking everything left half-price. Tell people this when they come. After all, you don't want to cart everything back into the house. You're holding your garage sale to get rid of things. And half price is better than giving it away.

The sales in this area have started already so it's not too soon to start planning.

Lookers will know the cost and will not bother you constantly. In some cases, you may have to haggle over the cost of an item, and it's up to you whether to reduce the price. When an item is sold, take the tag off and put it in a box. Total of the tags and total receipts should balance.

Some items you may not want to tag individually. Have a sign saying, all records 50 cents or jewelry, $1. When a nontagged item is sold, make out a tag with the price on it and put it in your box. If you resale, have different colored tags or marking pencils for each family. This way you'll be able to know who made how much.

If you have the time, it's a good idea to write a short description of the item on the tag, such as 'Green blouse - 75 cents.' This

"When you learn to use energy wisely, it pays off where it counts — your pocketbook."

Greg Griffith, energy advisor

In the battle to keep your electric bills down, using energy wisely is an important weapon.

Turning out the lights is only the beginning. You can use energy wisely this summer by setting your thermostat at the highest comfortable setting and by shading windows to block out the sun. Also, when you're producing moisture during activities such as showering or cooking, be sure a ventilator fan is running to get rid of excess moisture.

We don't promise that these tips will dramatically lower your electricity bill. But they will help.

More tips are offered in our Cost-Counter brochure. Visit your nearest Public Service Indiana office for your free copy and learn how you can get the most for every dollar you spend on energy.

Electricity is costing you more than ever before. Because it's costing us more to produce and deliver it. But it's still a fair value when compared with anything else you can buy today.

Ninety-four years young!

GEORGE McMILLAN OF AKRON, only 94 years young, was the area's entry in the "Oldest Hoosier" contest sponsored by the state recently. George still paddles his trusty three wheeler each day a few miles for exercise, and to eat lunch with his friends at the Akron Lions Den.

Rochester man arrested in Mentone bank theft

A Rochester man was arrested and charged with burglary early Tuesday morning after he allegedly broke into the Farmers State Bank in Mentone around midnight.

According to arresting officer, Marshal Earl Beattie, Donald Raymond Lewis, age 24, of Rochester, allegedly broke a glass door on the west side of the bank building to gain entrance, and then stole an IBM typewriter valued at $800. A witness to the theft alerted Marshal Beattie as to the description of the man and his getaway auto, and Beattie alerted Rochester police to keep a watch for the auto. Lewis was stopped by the Rochester Police and detained until Beattie picked him up. He was then taken to the Kosciusko County Jail and booked for burglary. As of Tuesday morning's report, Lewis was to appear in court for bonding and charges on Tuesday afternoon.

Forrest Miner, president of the Farmers State Bank reported that this was the first breakin in the bank's history.

Manchester merchants sponsor new town promotion

North Manchester merchants have announced May 15th as kick-off day of a new and most exciting promotion. Twenty-three North Manchester merchants have joined forces to provide their customers with what they believe will be an equitable method of saying "thank you, your business is appreciated".

"GET-A-WAY - GIVE-A-WAY" as the promotion will be labeled, was born out of the idea that most all people would enjoy an opportunity to get away from it all and relax for a bit. The merchants of North Manchester are, therefore, going to offer their customers that opportunity - to take a holiday with their compliments by accumulating purchases at the participating stores from May 15 through November 15th. Twenty-five hundred dollars total validated sales receipts accumulated by a single adult (over 18) will give that person his choice of holiday from the following: New Orleans for one person, Las Vegas for one person, Chicago for two people, Lexington for two people, Shanty Creek Ski Resort for a family of two to six members, or a $200 gift certificate to be applied at the Travel Agency toward a vacation of his choice. These holidays must be taken as soon as possible after they are earned and absolutely no later than March 15, 1980.

A promotion where the number of winners is unknown and the types of businesses participating are so varied becomes complex to some degree. Variations in procedure were necessary to accommodate all those involved. Every effort has been extended to make this promotion attainable for our customers while workable and fair to the retailers.

Each customer will be required to register initially at one of the participating stores where details will be explained. Participating merchants will be identified by a bright yellow window poster and will have posted prominently an explanation of what and how purchases will be validated at his store. Sales personnel will be adequately informed and will sincerely strive to make procedures as clear as possible.

The merchants of No. Manchester are proud of their business community and are hoping this promotion, made possible only by their united efforts and cooperation, will remind their customers that they are constantly striving to offer good service, good selections at competitive prices with a little fun and excitement thrown in for good measure.

Participating merchants are Snyder Ford, Western Auto, Hansel & Gretel, Indiana Lawrence Bank & Trust, Hire's Electric & Gifts, Oppenheim's, Wible's Shoes, Lady Bug Boutique, The Print Shoppe, Carpenter's Closet, Manchester Floor Covering, Coast to Coast, Marks Hallmark & Drugs, Maynard's Mens Wear, Manchester Greenhouse, Mr. Dave's, Snyder's Market, Harting Furniture, Lance's Super Dollar, Mode-O-Day, Harvey's, and The Inn.

Fithians ofice on wheels to visit area

Congressman Floyd Fithian's Office on Wheels will visit communities in Kosciusko, Marshall and Wabash counties next week.

Fithian announced that a member of his staff will be available in the mobile office to help individuals facing problems with the federal bureaucracy. Citizens also will be able to convey their views to Fithian's aide on matters facing Congress.

"A congressman must stay in touch with the people he represents," Fithian said, "and the mobile office is one of the best means of doing that. This service gives all citizens equal access to their congressional office, regardless of where they live."

Fithian noted that the 2nd District covers more than 5,000 square miles, including 113 cities and towns in 14 counties.

"The Office on Wheels enables me to bring Washington a bit closer to Indiana," he said.

Next week, the Office on Wheels will make these stops:
MONDAY, MAY 21st
KOSCIUSKO COUNTY
12 to 12:30 p.m., Claypool, Post Office.

TUESDAY, MAY 22nd
KOSCIUSKO COUNTY
9 to 9:25 a.m., Burket, Post Office.

9:30 to 10:15 a.m., Mentone, Town Hall.
MARSHALL COUNTY
10:25 to 10:45 a.m., Tippecanoe, Fire Station.

New books at Carnegie Library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

DOWNWIND FROM NOBODY by Joan Wells. Joan and Mike Wells left San Francisco and moved to Sky Meadow, 160 lonely acres and a cabin in Oregon. Now, seven years later, she writes about it in a book you will savor, then pass on to a friend you know will appreciate it too.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST FIBER AND BRAN BETTER HEALTH COOKBOOK by Cory SerVaas, M. D. Charlotte Furgeon and Frederic Birmingham. Putting back into the diet the missing fiber, but having fun and losing excess weight at the same time, is what this book is all about. Health and happiness is the bonus, along with pleasures of the table which will leave you beaming, and so much to be desired - alive.

YOUR HOME IS MONEY, MANAGING YOUR HOME FOR PROFIT by the editors of Consumer Guide with Jerry C. Davis.

COLD IS THE SEA by Edward L. Beach. This is an exciting novel about submarine warfare. When Cushing is incapacitated, with a suspicious Russian sub lurking in the vicinity, the scene is set for a dramatic novel rich in all the technical detail and submarine lore that have entertained millions of readers of Captain Beach's other novels.

AND SLEEP IN THE WOODS by Thomas York. This is the joyous account of Tom York's journey into the woods - and into himself - and his return to civilization to found a church and eventually stand trial for draft evasion. Simply and thoughtfully related, Thomas York's memoir is a beautiful story of self-search - of self-discovery - of love.

TIME IN ITS FLIGHT by Susan Fromberg Schaeffer. This is a stirring story of epic proportions about passion, love and a family's will to survive. They and the children raise battle against the ravages of nature and disease and the anguish of seemingly unbearable loss. But through the silent touches of time, their courage and love for each other are resources that allow them not only to endure the burdens of life, but to find their way to contentment in what seems an antagonistic world.

Dale McGowen underwent surgery at St. Vincents Hospital in Indianapolis on Wednesday to repair a severed nerve in his left arm. He returned home Wednesday evening and will be recuperating there. The injury occurred last Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. McGowen were involved in a traffic accident one mile south of Bourbon on St. Rd. 331, where they were apparently hit by another auto, totaling the McGowen auto. Mrs. McGowen received bruises in the mishap.

Plan for ham and bean supper

Charles Coffing, a member of the Reserves, gave a talk on parachutes at the beginning of the May meeting of the Mentone Flying Club, held at the airport. He had with him his main canopy and a reserve one that is worn on the chest in case it is needed. In order to be current he must make a jump every 90 days.

The club has decided to donate the Fokker D7 scaled to 1/5th the size, to the Bell Memorial Museum. This replica was built several years ago by some of the club members.

A Ham and Bean supper is being planned for June at the Mentone Fire House. As this project will fall on a meeting night all members are urged to help and stay for a short business meeting afterwards.

Harrison Crabill is planning a trip for those interested to Kentucky some time this summer.

Don Walls won the free hour.

Newsview

By Renee Norlander

I would imagine that most of the Seniors at TVHS are anxiously awaiting Sundays' ceremonies when they will finally receive their diplomas. After thirteen years, they will finally be free of mandatory schooling. And like all of us, they will now be facing the world on their own.

I don't think they know it now, but the years of their school days will later be remembered as some of their best. At least now when I look back I think of how great school was.

It gave me the opportunity for intellectual and social growth; an unparalleled chance for making friends; and a chance to see just how many different things I could accomplish. Of course, college and working can offer the same opportunities, but never at the level as high school. At least, I don't think so.

I remember when I graduated that I couldn't wait to get out of my home town, away from the same high school crowd, and be on my own. I even skipped my five-year class reunion—it was too soon. I still held old grudges, disliked the same people I disliked in school, and so on. Now it has been ten years, and I can hardly wait to see everyone I graduated with.

I'm anxious to see who married who, and how many kids they have; I'm anxious to see how well everyone has made out (I especially hope that those who we didn't think would make it—DID!); and generally, just to see how everyone is.

Someday, the graduates of this Sunday, May 20, 1979, will look back at their school years and hopefully have very fond memories. (The bad ones do disappear!) And the time will fly much faster than they think.

So, from an old timer of 1969 to the new grads of 1979, "Good Luck"! I hope your new lives will be as exciting and fulfilling as you hope and work for them to be!

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the May 14, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

The Mentone Merchants last week entered into an agreement with another individual to show free movies in Mentone each Saturday night during the summer season.

According to an announcement by Royce Tucker, Harrison Township Trustee, "Abe" Hoogenboom has been employed to teach and coach at the Mentone School next year. Mr. Hoogenboom replaces Lorin Burt who resigned to become principal of the Leesburg school. Mr. Hoogenboom has coached at Atwood for the past two years. He is married and the father of three children. At present they reside at Hoffman Lake.

A large group of friends and school patrons from this and neighboring communities were on hand Saturday evening to enjoy the delicious food offered at the P.T.A. Penny Supper. Dale Kelley was general chairman of the supper. Others on the general planning committee were Mrs. Eldon Horn, Mrs. Noah Tinkey, Mrs. Chas Eaton and Delford Nelson. Floyd Nicodemus who has been in Korea is home on a thirty day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Rea Ward spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Dodson and family, of Evanston, Ill., and became acquainted with their new granddaughter, Debra Lee, who arrived April 29. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowser and family and Miss Phyllis Bowser are enjoying a vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manwaring are home after spending the winter months in Florida.

Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Davison attended the State Dental Meeting at Indianapolis on Monday and Tuesday.

C. O. Mollenhour announced Monday that he assisted in distributing 1200 pheasant chicks to 4-H boys and girls in this area. Each 4-Her who desired was given 25 baby pheasants. When they reach maturity they will be released, and the boys and girls will receive credit as a 4-H project completed.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

(Editors note: The following poem was submitted to us from a former Akron graduate, Marion (Kendall) Stephenson. We thought this year's graduates might enjoy it, along with the grads of 1969.)

The 10th year class reunion

Here we are all color coordinated,
Marching to the songs of graduation.
Pretending friendship and loyalty,
When in fact that is all absurdity.
You never showed any friendship to me,
So I knew I didn't belong with thee.
Then you made me feel like a jerk
By pointing out all my little quirks.
But someday I'll show you who really is tops,
I'll come back to this town as a real hot shot.
Then you'll be sorry for what you did to me,
It will be your turn to practice humility.

How bitter I must sound,
To what glory was I bound?
Those memories of years gone by
Have filled rooms with laughter, not of cries.
Those whom I thought had caused me pain,
All along it was I to blame.
Who cares what I've done or seen,
What counts is what I am to be.
10 years have passed and with it gone
Are my foolish dreams and careless songs.
Now when I feel rejected and hurt,
I do what's best and get to work!

To all of you that graduated
Back in '69 all color coordinated,
I wish you well and much happiness,
After all we're still the best!

by Marion Kendall Stephenson

P.S. CONGRATULATIONS to the class of '79' from the 'old timers' of '69'.

Questions and Bible Answers

■ "Dear Brother May I ask a sincere question? Is it a direct command for us Christians to partake of the Lord's Supper? I know that we will do this, for Jesus said in 1 Cor. 11:26, 'As often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.' But as far as being a command, I don't think it was. Please comment. — G.S.

What constitutes a "direct command"? In instituting the Supper, Jesus told His disciples: "Take, eat; this is my body," and "Drink ye all of it." (Mt. 26:26-27.) Mark and Luke also record this event, saying the same thing, except Luke includes: "This do in remembrance of me." (Lk. 22:19). To me, this constitutes a direct command from the Lord, who later told those men to make disciples, "teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." (Mt. 28:20).

With this background, you can better understand Paul's writing in 1 Cor. 11:23-30. He states that Jesus said, "Take, eat;" and also taught proper observance! It is true that Jesus did not say how often they were to observe it. But apostolic example makes it abundantly clear that they met on the first day of the week for this memorial observance (Acts 20:7). It is because they met to observe the Lord's Supper that they chose to give of their means on this day (1 Cor. 16:1-2). Yes, I believe there is a direct command to "eat and drink" as the Lord commanded!

■ "Dear Sirs: As I understand the Scriptures, the church of our Lord was established in the city of Jerusalem on Pentecost A. D. 33. There are those, however, who contend that it was set up during Christ's personal ministry, and use as proof Mt. 18:17, where we're told 'tell it to the church.' Their question is: if the church was not then in existence, could one 'tell it to the church?' — C.R.S.

"Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he neglect to hear them, tell it to the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican." (Mt. 18:15-17).

This instruction was given by the Lord to His disciples, and he followed by telling them, "Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven" [etc]. This teaching was given in prospect of the relationship to be had in the church, once it was established; and His disciples would bind them in that church to be. Much of the teaching Jesus gave was looking forward to the full proclamation of the gospel.

The church could not have been established at that time for Jesus had not then died. He purchased the church with His blood (Acts 20:28), and He did not use a "credit card," or purchase the church on time! Rather, the law of Moses held sway until it was nailed to the cross with the death of Jesus Christ (Col. 2:14). Christ's will and testament could not be in force until His death (Heb. 9:15-17). The first covenant was first removed, and then the second established (Heb. 10:9-10). If the church had been established during the personal ministry of Jesus, then two sets of priests would have been vying against each other (study Heb. 8:3-7). So, during His ministry on earth, Jesus taught His disciples of those conditions that would hold after they were set in the church as charter members on that Pentecost after His resurrection.

Let's Talk About

Capital Costs, Energy Supplies and Earnings

What do utility capital costs and earnings have to do with adequate energy supplies? Actually, quite a lot. Let's look at the facts:

Utility Capital Requirements

Electric utilities are more capital-intensive than any other industry, including steel and oil. They require between $3.50 and $4.00 of investment for each dollar of revenue received. Other industries require only about 75 cents of capital investment for each $1.00 of revenue.

As a regulated industry, utilities are only allowed to earn a return on their investment sufficient to pay for their cost of money. This rate of return is a ceiling and not a floor.

About 60 per cent of the money needed to add plant and equipment each year must be obtained from the money market through the sale of securities—stocks, bonds, debentures, etc.

To meet the energy needs of consumers, utilities cannot postpone construction and replacement just because the cost of money is high.

Most of the $1.9 billion NIPSCO has budgeted for new facilities in the next five years will have to be raised in the money market. And NIPSCO must pay whatever the money rates are.

Our success in obtaining this money depends upon earnings since earnings determine our ability to pay our debts.

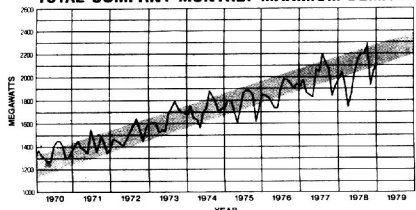

If a utility's earnings are inadequate in the eyes of the lender, money becomes hard to obtain and interest rates go up. When money is not available to build facilities, the bottom line is an inadequate supply of energy and deteriorating service.

Energy Supplies and Service

Here in northern Indiana, the need for electric energy—both in peak demand and kilowatt-hours—is expected to grow at a rate of about six per cent per year between now and 1985.

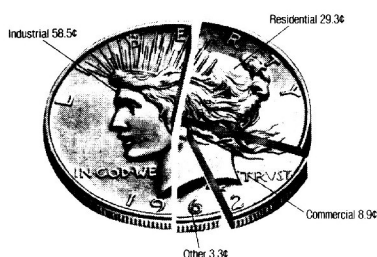

To meet present load and this growth, NIPSCO must modernize, replace and build new generating and transmission facilities. Any delay will seriously affect its ability to meet the energy needs of customers.

TOTAL COMPANY MONTHLY MAXIMUM DEMAND

NIPSCO believes that a shortage of electrical energy in this highly industrialized area would seriously disrupt the economic well-being of all of the people living and working here. To prevent this from happening, we must plan and build now to be ready to serve whenever and wherever required. To do this we must have sufficient earnings to attract the money necessary to enable us to build.

WHERE EACH NIPSCO DOLLAR CAME FROM

"Earnings" or net income—is the amount of money remaining after all the expenses, interest, taxes and other costs have been deducted from the total amount received from the sale of services.

The above charts show where each $1.00 of NIPSCO's revenue came from in 1978 and how each was spent.

Here in the "Workshop of America," where heavy industry produces the jobs for a growing economy, industrial customers provided almost 60 cents of every dollar NIPSCO received in 1978, while residential customers provided 30 cents.

WHERE EACH NIPSCO DOLLAR WENT

As for expenses, fuel and purchased energy take the biggest share of NIPSCO's revenue dollar. The next two largest items of expense are labor and taxes, with other expenditures making up the balance.

From the chart showing "Where Each NIPSCO Dollar Went," you can see why we must rely so heavily upon borrowed money for new plant and equipment.

Last year only two tenths of a cent from each dollar was left for reinvestment in the business.

IN MEMORY

IN MEMORY of Dessie Shireman, who died one year ago, May 4, 1978.

She had been alone that rainy morning. And she closed her eyes one last time that 4th of May. After the 70 years of loving and caring, God called Grandma silently away.

If we'd only known we would have been there. Fully loved her because she was so dear. She loved each of us and always would care. And how we wish at this moment she was here.

We miss those long quiet talks and tender embraces. But God had been waiting at heaven's gate that day. And in our hearts there will always be Grandma's traces. For Grandma who was so wonderful, slipped silently away.

Trustees select new Mentone Marshal

In a decision made by members of the Mentone Town Board, John Hart, present Deputy Marshal of Mentone, was approved as the new town Marshal, to replace present Marshall Earl Beattie who resigned earlier this month.

Trustees Gerald Romine, Wayne Tombaugh, and Frank Hardesty, had interviewed four applicants, including Hart, at an executive session of the board on Wednesday, May 16.

After some discussion of the applicants at a special meeting on Tuesday, May 22, a two-to-one decision in favor of hiring was made.

Hart, age 24, has served as Deputy Marshal under Beattie, and will become Marshal effective June 1. He will work under a probation period of six months, after which time he will attend, at the towns' expense, a two-week training course at the police academy in Indianapolis.

Hart and his wife Becky reside in Mentone, and they have one daughter, Carmine, age 15 months. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hart of Mentone.

In other action:

--The trustees approved a five-year lease with Richard Dickerhoff for ten acres of town-owned land near the cemetery for $400 per year. The board stipulated, however, that any or all of the land would be returned to the town of Mentone at any time if the board finds it necessary to expand the cemetery.

--Cathy Welch and Jim Bazini have been hired at $3.50 per hour each for maintenance of town properties. The board had contracted Bruce Barker for the work, but due to a personal injury, Barker will not be able to work for approximately six months.

The trustees also gave Water and Street Superintendent Harry Sullivan approval of hiring Lyman Mollenhour to aid him with street and water work until Barker can return to work.

--The board advised Marshall Beattie to speak to town residents who have still not cleaned up their properties in accordance with town ordinances. Persons who fail to follow up on these notices will be charged by the town for any work town employees perform on them. The ordinance states mandatory performance or action will be taken by the town to perform the clean-up.

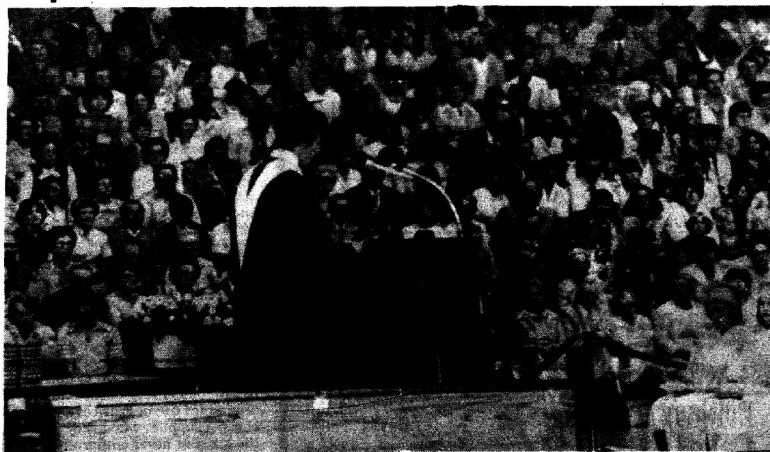

The board will meet in executive session at 7 p.m. on Monday, June 4, with their regular session following at 7:30 p.m. The meetings are held at the town hall.

Akron Jaycees donate to park fund

Akron Jaycee Joe Day, left, presents J.C. Rhodes with a $500 donation on behalf of the Jaycees towards the construction costs of the restroom facilities in the new Akron park pavilion. Rhodes is president of the park board. The fund drive started under Larry Howard when he was Jaycee President:

Valley graduates received diplomas at ceremonies

Kevin Deardorff, Senior at Tippecanoe Valley High School, gave the Student Address last Sunday, during graduation ceremonies at the high school. 159 seniors graduated.

Board members give okay on survey recommendations

by Renee Norlander

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board listened intently Monday evening, as Dr. Lloyd Harrell, Superintendent, recommended his proposals under the "Project Do Something" item on the agenda.

Dr. Harrell explained to trustees Con Shewman, Don Snipes, Everett Besson, Vernon Meredith and Lee Norris that he felt there are three choices in dealing with the structural and facility needs of the school corporation.

Harrell's first recommendation was to follow the survey plans of Doctors Norbert Nelson and Merle Strom, which would include the construction of a new junior high school and extensive renovation at the elementary schools and high school; the second was to omit the new junior high with even more extensive renovations at the existing schools; and the third was to leave things as they are, but as Harrell stated, "the third is really no alternative at all".

Doctor Harrell then presented brochures and pamphlets to the Board that he has collected regarding the construction and/or renovations in a school corporation. He encouraged them to decide quickly on their course of action, as time delay is an important factor, especially where cost is concerned.

A motion was made by trustee Meredith to follow the recommendations of Strom & Nelson, and seconded by Snipes. With unanimous approval the Board elected to begin with the survey recommendations, and Dr. Harrell will now begin contacting architects to begin the plans. All necessary legal steps will be followed, of course.

There was some discussion as to what to do about the heating problems at Mentone School, and the Board directed Dr. Harrell to contact the maintenance supervisor and see what must be done before next falls school opening. If it is necessary to hire a contractor to do the repairs, then they feel the work should be contracted out.

Seven bids from contractors were opened by Board president Shewman for the nine new school buses to be purchased by the school corporation. All were for 1980 models. Shewman addressed the contractors who were present, stating that a decision will be forthcoming within seven to ten days, and the bids were taken under advisement.

Dr. Harrell reported to the board that he had received a letter from the Indiana State High School Athletic Association, stating that all tracks for track and field competition at the high school level must be measured in metric by 1980. According to the letter, this must be done if the track athletes at TVHS wish to compete with other schools.

An additional appropriation for the work will be filed for early this summer, upon the Board approval, and Dr. Harrell estimated that the cost will range between $14,000 and $18,000.

In other Board action:

*The Board approved the TVSC budget of $26,793 for 1979-80 for their share of the five-way funding for the special education Co-op at Warsaw. Dr. Jim Daiker, Director of the Co-op, explained that the TVSC portion is figured on the number of TVSC students enrolled in the program, and by the total number of students in the Tippecanoe Valley Corporation.

*A special meeting was scheduled for Wednesday, May 23, to begin at noon, for the purpose of opening bond bids on the buses. The meeting will be held at the high school lecture room.

Memorial services set

The Mentone Post 425 of the American Legion and the Mentone War Mothers will conduct the annual Memorial Day services at the Mentone Cemetery, with a special dedication and unveiling of the bronze markers for two MIA Vietnam War Veterans, Major William Lee Nellans, USAF, and 1st Lieutenant Neil Bernard McKinney, USAF.

Guest speaker will be Jeff Russell, business marketing manager for the United Telephone Company. Russell, who is married to the former Connie Smythe, is a decorated Vietnam Navy veteran, having served aboard the USS Kittyhawk.

The services will begin at 2 p.m. on Sunday, May 27, at the cemetery.

Saving on construction costs

Housing costs are skyrocketing, partly because construction costs are going up and up. If you're building a new home or vacation "get-away", you know these problems first-hand.

But you can save on construction costs with careful planning, design, and selection of materials. For instance, some designs and floor plans are more economical than others. It helps to use standard design sizes and standard materials.

You can cut costs now by leaving some finishing details for later, or you can do some of the simple work yourself. But avoid cheap materials and shoddy workmanship, since they are no bargains in the long run. High maintenance or replacement costs will catch up with you later.

Your first cost-cutting step is careful planning. Select a home site with firm, well-drained soil and convenient access to utilities and sewage disposal. Orient the house for best ventilation and sun exposure to cut energy costs. Maximize southern exposure in colder climates to trap the sun's heat. But avoid sunny exposures in warm weather areas to cut cooling expenses.

Next, look for economies in overall design. Rectangular plans are most economical and two story designs are cheaper because less roof area is required. A single gable roof is least expensive since many peaks and valleys are costly to build and flat roofs are expensive to maintain.

Make sure you get the most living space for your money, too. Keep hallways to a minimum and build closet space only as deep as needed. You can save by making rooms multi-purpose centers; for example kitchens, dining rooms, and family rooms can share the same space. Wide openings between smaller rooms make them seem larger. And finished basements and attics provide extra living space for little added cost.

Take advantage of standard sizes in materials and finishings when designing interior features. Design rooms for standard rug widths and standard window and door sizes.

You can also save money on materials. Buy locally and in quantity to save on delivery costs. Shop around for the best prices and use cheaper supplies when they'll do the job. But never compromise on structural lumber, paint, or mechanical and electrical equipment. Buy the best you can afford on those items that will be difficult or expensive to replace later.

"Look before you install any CB or TV antenna. Your life may depend on it."

Dave Ransdell, energy consultant supervisor

Putting up your own CB or TV antenna can save you money. And the way you install it can save your life.

Clearance is the key to safety. Look in all directions. And be sure your antenna is at least twice its length from the nearest power line. The slightest touch of the antenna or its guy wires could result in instant death.

So play it safe. Keep your ladder, tools, antenna — and yourself — well away from power lines. Your life is an expensive price to pay for one silly mistake.

Call us if you're uncertain about the safety of the installation. We want you to be safe rather than sorry.

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the May 21, 1952 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

We believe this mushroom story is going to be difficult to top. Elmer Rathfon found a large sponge type mushroom Wednesday which measures 10 inches. We are told that even Elmer, though quiet by nature, showed signs of pleasure at this find. Mrs. Arthur Brown brought the specimen in for the Co-Op staff to see and was on her way to locate Roy Cox who was mushroom champion until today.

Howard Horn is now employed at the Valentine Elevator.

Miss Jacqueline Blue and Miss Donnagene Mary Dillman were valedictorian and salutatorian respectively, of the twenty-six graduated from the Mentone High School at commencement exercises held Tuesday evening at the Mentone Baptist Church.

Miss Geneva Whetstone has been selected by the student body to represent Mentone and community in the Queen of the Lakes contest at No. Webster on June 24, at the mermaid festival. Geneva was our queen entry last year and placed fourth in the group. We feel she will do even better this year. She also was the queen chosen from the group of candidates at the Mentone Egg Show last fall.

Those who attend the free movies here Saturday night will see the Bowery Boys in "Spook Busters." The Mentone Merchants are presenting these free movies for the entertainment of their friends. Make a date for Saturday night at Mentone.

Mrs. Dorothy Herendeen, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Law, entertained the Country Neighbors Home Economics Club recently in the formers home.

Arbuckle appointed Akron Bank trainee

Randall Leininger, President of the Akron Exchange State Bank, announces the appointment of Forest Richard Arbuckle to the position of Management Trainee, in the Akron bank, starting June 1, 1979.

Following a training period, Richard (he goes by the name of Rick) will assume the roll of a Bank Loan Officer - working primarily with Agricultural and Commercial lending, and other bank operation and management functions.

Rick Arbuckle was born and raised on a livestock and grain farm in Harrison County, Indiana, near the town of DePauw. He graduated from No. Harrison High School in the class of 1973, and went on to Purdue University, where he obtained a B.S. degree in Agricultural Economics in May, 1977 - majoring in Agricultural Finance and Farm and Business Management.

Since graduation from college, Rick has worked as a full-time research assistant in the Purdue Agricultural Economics Department, concentrating his efforts on supervision of studies of the economics of forage production. He has developed five computer programs to aid swine producers - in analyzing swine production financing alternatives. Rick has also written several economic articles on alfalfa production for Hoard's Dairyman magazine, a nationally recognized dairyman magazine.

While in college, Rick was active with the Agricultural Economics Club; he participated in intramural basketball and baseball; and was a member of the Dover Co-Op House. He graduated from Purdue with an accumulative 5.19 index (6.00 is the highest possible).

Rick is married to Paula Jo Pickett, who is graduating from Purdue in May, 1979, majoring in Nursery School and Kindergarten teaching. Paula grew up in Sheridan.

Rick and Paula have rented property close to Akron, and will be moving to their new location in the very near future.

As Mr. Leininger stated, upon the bank's selection of Mr. Arbuckle, "Rick Arbuckle's coming to the Akron Exchange State Bank will provide the depth of management which will enable the Bank to continue to expand top quality, full banking services to the Akron Community."

Akron senior citizens

Tricia Dilts, a Mental Health Technology student at IU-Purdue at Fort Wayne, is working with the senior citizens in the Akron area this summer for college credit.

She is coordinating a "Friendly Visitor" program for the senior citizen under Area V Council on Aging. This program consists of volunteer service in visiting the community's lonely or shut-in elderly.

Anyone can be a volunteer and the only requirement is that the visits be on a regular basis, at least twice a month. Volunteers in the Friendly Visitor program help to alleviate a great need of the elderly -- that of someone taking a personal interest in them.

For more information contact Tricia Dilts at 893-7204 or 893-4955.

TVSC trustees accept bus bids; approve bond bid for $150,000

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board accepted two bids for nine new school buses at a special meeting of the Board on Wednesday May 23, at the high school.

Sealed bids submitted by seven companies, had been opened at the Monday, May 21, meeting of the Board, but were taken under advisement for consideration.

A bid of $86,435.64 for the bus bodies, submitted by Jack Challie Co., of Indianapolis; and a bid of $96,718.14 for the chassis; submitted by Kerlin Bus Sales & Service, of Silver Lake, were accepted as the lowest bids.

The total cost of $183,153.78 includes the alternates of 52-ounce upholstery, middle section heaters, and a citizens band radio for the athletic bus.

The bids were accepted by attending trustees Don Snipes, Vernon Meredith, Con Shewman, and Everett Besson.

A $150,000 bond issuance and $32,289.55 in the school corporation's bus purchase fund will be used for the purchase of the buses once approval is received from the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

Dr. Harrell, Superintendent of Schools, reported to the Board, that a State Board of Tax Commission field representative, who presided at a local hearing tentatively approved the corporation's $150,000 additional appropriation Wednesday morning. However, as Harrell explained, he was at the meeting when the representative called one of three state tax commissioners and learned that the commissioner would not approve the appropriation until he has studied it.

Bids for the $150,000 bond sale were submitted by the Akron Exchange State Bank, and City Securities of South Bend.

Akron bank officials projected a net interest cost of $23,259.86 with a 5.70794% average interest rate, and City Securities a interest cost of $23,192.25 at 5.70% interest. If approved, the bonds will be retired within three years.

The Board members approved the lower bid of City Securities, however it is subject to the final approval of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

In other Board action:

*The trustees authorized Dr. Harrell to send applications to architectural firms in regards to building renovations and the construction of a new middle school.

The trustees will then review the applications of three firms, and hopefully employ one for the proposed project. Procedures to establish a cumulative building fund will also be initiated.

*Two proposals from the Honeywell Corporation and Johnson Control, both of Fort Wayne, were taken under advisement for further study, and will be discussed at a special session on Monday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. at TVHS.

The two companies both proposed to maintain the thermostat controls for air conditioning, heating, and fan units at the high school.

*A contract for the new assistant high school principal, Kevin Wortinger, 31, of South Haven, Michigan, was signed.

Currently teaching math at South Haven Junior High, Wortinger has served as a coach and has supervised adult education courses.

He received his bachelor of science degree in history and business at Union College in Bourbonville, Kentucky, and received a master of science degree at Western Michigan University in education leadership.

Wortinger and his wife Joanne are the parents of two children.

The views expressed in SOUND OFF do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the NEWS.

"How long can we taxpayers afford the expensive habits of our school board? For example, bus chassis bids from Chev. $94,230 - I.H. $94,275 - Ford $96,718.14. Buses were purchased from Ford at extra cost of $2,488.14! Do you remember the $4000 bonus to principals for a good job done, but nothing to the rest of the school personnel for a good job? How was that for good public relations, and unnecessary money spent."

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Akron troop reactivated

DEAR EDITOR:
As you may know, Boy Scout Troop No. 245 has recently been reactivated under the leadership of Tom Chekouras and is inviting boys age 11 and up to join in Scoutings Outdoor Program.

The next scheduled activity is a weekend camp-out coming up on June 16, with various other activities including canoe trips, hikes, and cook-outs scheduled regularly through the remainder of the year.

The troop meets each Monday at 7:00 p.m. at the Scout Cabin and is now ready to sign on new members.

As a side-note, the new leaders believe that there was a fair amount of equipment that belonged to the old troop; however, none of it can be located. If anyone knows the whereabouts of this equipment, we would be most grateful if they would contact either Tom Chekouras at Chamberlin Products or Channing Utter at Pike Lumber, since if the equipment cannot be located, new equipment will have to be purchased.

Hope you can give us some publicity on this new program.

Sincerely,
Channing Utter

Specialist gives tips on lawn mower safety and precautions

A few weeks ago the first crocuses and robins were forecasting that spring was near. Now the hum of power mowers is convincing all of us that spring has arrived.

This leads Bill Field, Purdue University extension safety specialist to remind that last year more than 50 million lawn mowers were in operation in the United States.

Field says it is estimated an additional million mowers will help trim the nation's turf this year... and five million new mowers will be sold!

"With this tremendous number of mowers in operation, accidents are bound to occur, especially where safety is neglected," the safety specialist stresses. "Therefore, a word about safety and power mowers needs to be re-emphasized at the outset of the season," he adds.

Field says that common sense, as well as the following safety reminders, can make mowing "a safe way to keep both dandelions and waistline under control."

--When buying a mower, look for the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI) certificate or seal. This will tell you that the mower has met specific safety standards.

--Before mowing, take time first to rake up wires, cans, rocks, branches and other litter cluttering the lawn. Keep an eye out for children's toys.

--Always turn off the mower and disconnect the spark plug or electric plug before unclogging or adjusting the machine. Even a slight rotation of the blade could start the engine.

--Do not refuel when the engine is hot, and refrain from smoking when near gasoline. Both actions could result in a flash fire.

--Mow across slopes if using a push mower. With a riding mower, drive up and down steep slopes. If areas of the lawn are too steep to mow safely, convert these areas into flower beds, rock gardens, or other uses which do not require mowing.

--Keep children and bystanders out of the area being mowed.

--hand or finger contact with the mower blade when cleaning plugged grass from the discharge chute.

--adjusting riding or push mowers when the blade is still turning.

Family Life

by Renee Norlande

Well, the Egg Festival is just one week away now, and I'm sure everyone is getting anxious. Last year's festival was a first for Bob, Robby, and I, and we enjoyed it all.

I guess the most fun for me was the tractor pull. Being a city girl, I had no idea what it would be, and didn't expect to enjoy it, but I really did! I think I cheered as loud as anyone even though I didn't know who the people were that I was cheering for.

I guess that's the fun of a festival. Just getting into the spirit and enjoying it all. (The food was great too!)

Hope all of you are planning an attending all or most of the events. It's taken a lot of work and planning, so don't let Mentone down. We'll have a complete schedule of events in next weeks paper, so you can schedule ahead.

I really made a BIG goof last week, and I apologize to all of you in Akron. I took pictures at the Akron School Awards Day, but unfortunately I have black negatives. The winners from Mentone are on page 11, and hopefully I'll be able to borrow prints from someone in Akron to be published in the future. I am sorry.

Some people once believed they could stop a rainstorm by throwing burning sticks into the air.

There's no one way right to discipline, but be consistent

Is there one right way to discipline a child? What can you do if your child cries every time you leave for work? How can you make sure your child develops his or her unique abilities? Let's face it, being a parent isn't easy. But there has been a lot of research on child development that can help you as a parent.

Much of this research has been used in putting together a new public television show called "Footsteps." The suggestions on parenting presented in these shows have been expanded into a 44-page book from the U.S. Office of Education. Called Footsteps: A Parenting Guide the book gives suggestions on everything from preparing your child to start school to different styles of discipline for children. For your free copy, write your name and address on a postcard and send it to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 648G, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Here are some of the hints:

First of all, there is no such thing as the "average child." Each child is an individual with unique abilities. But sometimes it's easy to forget this. Don't try to push your child to be exactly like you or someone else. Try not to compare one with another. Avoid comments like: "Why can't you be polite like your sister?" And let children use their energies to be what they really want to be.

Second, the more your child trusts you, the easier it will be to learn how to say goodbye for a little while. Separation is one of the most difficult adjustments for a young child. But separation need not be a nightmare. Prepare your children when you leave. Let them get used to the baby sitter or day care teacher gradually. Provide a routine they can count on, so they'll feel secure about your return. And let your child take something familiar to a new place, like a favorite book or toy.

Finally, when your child misbehaves, remember: there is no one right way to discipline. In the long run, you want your child to learn self-control. But when your child is about to hit a friend over the head with a baseball bat, you can't wait for the long term effects to take place.

Whatever style or discipline you choose, be consistent. You don't have to like or tolerate your child's behavior at all times. But by understanding the cause of each misbehavior, you are more likely to find an effective technique to change it. When you order a copy of Footsteps: A Parenting Guide (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog.

It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

Tranquilizers cause high rate of addiction

OBITUARIES

The term drug addict doesn't usually bring to mind someone taking a legally prescribed medication. And yet abuse of prescription medication is a serious problem for many.

The Food and Drug Administration says this is a more serious problem with women than men. There are approximately one to two million women drug abusers. They are from all walks of life - housewives, business executives, city and country dwellers. All could be among the "junkies" you'd least expect.

sis, and exaggeration of reflexes. Because of this danger, the Drug Enforcement Administration now restricts prescriptions for Valium, Librium, and Miltown to six months and only five refills.

Despite these controls, those dependent on tranquilizers apparently have no great difficulty in buying them. Television "exposes" have revealed how easy it is to get prescriptions from more than one physician. Valium is "borrowed" by employees in business offices as casually as cigarettes. There is growing concern in industry that overuse of tranquilizers not only calms employees' nerves but dulls their senses, interfering with their ability to make judgments.

Why do more women than men use minor tranquilizers? One popular explanation is that women go to the doctor more often, are more open about discussing their feelings and frustrations and report symptoms of physical and emotional discomfort more often than men.

Physicians often prescribe these drugs for stresses that could be considered a part of normal living. And drug companies have been accused by some critics of encouraging over prescription through advertisements directed at physicians. More research is needed, but until then be sure to ask your doctor about side-effects and the danger of becoming dependent on tranquilizers.

Elmer Kester

Elmer Kester, 78, Athens, died at 11:20 p.m. Monday, May 28, 1979, in Woodlawn Hospital.

He was born Oct. 27, 1900 in Coles county, Ill. to John and Flora Williams Kester. He had lived in this area for 30 years. He married Marjorie Pontious Dec. 23, 1933 in Rochester. She survives. He was a farmer and a former employee of Chamberlain Products, Akron, and was a member of the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church.

Surviving with the wife is a son, Eugene, Fort Wayne. Five brothers and two sisters preceded in death.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday, May 31, in the Sheetz Funeral Home, Akron, with the Rev. Terry Shumaker officiating. Burial will be in the Athens Cemetery.

Club finds interesting way for earning

Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Leckrone, Middleton, Wisconsin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mika Jo Leckrone, to John Barton Mitmoen.

The bride-elect is a Learning Disabilities teacher, grades 1-8, at Akron Schools and her fiancé manages Egolf's Superior Salvage, Wabash.

The couple will be married August 19 at the United Methodist Church in North Manchester.

The Henry Willing Workers 4-H Club meeting was held Thursday, May 24 in the home of Christy Coplen.

We discussed how to make money. It was decided to have an egg sale June 11. We will go to a house and ask for an egg then go to the next house and try to sell it.

It was decided to have a garage and bake sale June 23 on the porch beside of the parking lot in Akron.

The next meeting will be June 4 at 7 p.m. in the home of Brenda, Bonita and Becky Arthur.

—Bonita Arthur, Reporter

The hoop in the hoopskirt popular early in the century was known to fly up and break a woman's nose if she sat down too quickly.

The biggest problem is the so-called minor tranquilizer. It's often prescribed to relieve minor tensions and is also valuable in treating alcoholism and epilepsy, as well as painful muscle spasms. But when taken in combination with other drugs - especially alcohol - the result can be deadly. And, overuse can lead to dependency, producing withdrawal symptoms similar to those from barbiturates. Symptoms may include delirium, trembling, psycho-
