All that is gold does not glitter

by Diana Streevey Bucher

You may have been asked recently, by family or friends, to invest in a financial project going around the area called the Circle of Gold. The first time I was approached about this, I was unable to attend the meeting, and I didn't think too much about it. But within two weeks time, I was contacted by four other friends who wanted me to buy into the plan. Curious, I listened to the set-up of how the Circle of Gold operates, and it sounded wonderfully simple. In fact, it sounded too good to be true...

Most of the actually investing is conducted at Circle of Gold meetings. For an outlay of $100, you have an opportunity to receive back an incredible amount of money. $50 of your money goes to the person you buy from. The seller gives you two identical lists with 12 names on them, and your other $50 goes to the first person on the list. If John Doe is the first name on the list, you call him and say, "This is _____ and I have a gift for you." He will understand this means you are sending him $50. You take the money and place it in a greeting card (in front of three witnesses) and mail it to Mr. John Doe.

John Doe has now received $50 profit from you, and his name comes off your list. Your name goes on the number 12 spot, and you once again have a complete list of 12. The theory of the Circle of Gold is that when your name reaches the number 1 spot on a list, you will be the next to receive $50 profit.

To regain your original investment of $100, you sell two sets of your list to two people. You receive $50 for each set of two lists, so your name is at the bottom of four lists just to start and you have recouped your $100.

When you sell your lists, your name automatically advances to number 11, as the new buyer's name takes the number 12 spot. In theory, you could end up with your name number 1 on 8,192 lists if everyone sells just two sets of lists the way they're supposed to. The inherent problem with the Circle of Gold is that an area may run out of people before you get an opportunity to make much profit. After all, though the possibilities for making a profit seem infinite, there are only a finite number of people to deal with.

The Circle of Gold originated in California. A group of lawyers came up with the plan, and one assumes they have all made fortunes off their project. The television program, 60 Minutes has investigated the Circle of Gold, as has the FBI and the IRS.

One of the points everyone has mentioned in trying to sell their lists is that you may make up to $3000 profit tax free. This seemed a trifle unusual, so I called the IRS and spoke to Bob Branson, Public Relations Officer at Indianapolis. He knew about the Circle of Gold and confirmed that the IRS was watching the project. When I inquired about the $3000 tax free profit, he emphatically responded, "This is absolutely untrue! There is no truth to this. The first penny you make is taxable."

Alan Burke, Fulton County Prosecutor, was also aware that the Circle of Gold was spreading in the area, and he said that the postmaster and the FBI have checked into the matter in Rochester. When I asked if the Circle of Gold was operating legally, he stated, "It does not violate Indiana law, but it does violate Federal laws which prohibit using the mails for this type of scheme." When I asked if any action would be taken, he replied, "They will probably not do anything."

Mr. Burke informed me that a professor of math at Notre Dame figured the odds of people making money on the Circle of Gold, and he estimated 2% of the people investing would make money, 48% would break even and 50% would lose all or part of their money. "In this type of scheme," Mr. Burke continued, "only a limited number of people will make money. People don't take time to realize the merry-go-round will come to a stop." The Rochester-Akron-Mentone-No. Manchester-Peru area is not the first area in Indiana to get in on the plan. It is just now filtering down to rural areas from Indiana cities that were glutted by the Circle of Gold.

The Circle of Gold is not a sham, albeit it may not be entirely aboveboard. If you get into it early enough, you may realize a small profit, but remember any money you make is taxable, regardless of anything said to the contrary.

What we should not lose sight of here is that we're not talking about a criminal element or activity. We're talking about decent, honest, ordinary people who have been hit hard by inflation over the last three years and who are merely trying to make a little extra cash. Who can blame them? If there is any blame to be laid at someone's feet, it would be the lawyers in California who started it and have probably made millions by now. Clever fellows.

Park equipment discussed at Mentone Town Board meeting

by Diana Streevey Bucher

Robert Whetstone spoke to Mentone Town Board members about the town park at their regular meeting on Monday.

Mr. Whetstone informed the board that he needs clean fill dirt for the cemetery and park area. He also said he was going to contact someone with a crane to see about setting the new bridge at the park (the county donated and delivered a 53 foot bridge, that had been removed at Milford, to replace the broken bridge at the park).

Mr. Whetstone then reported that the town is in dire need of playground equipment at the park. Since the present equipment was bought 25-30 years ago, nothing has been replaced or added. Clerk-Treasurer Kate Whetstone asked town attorney Lee Bazini if the town could set up a tax appropriation for a park fund, and he explained it could be done by passing an ordinance to that effect.

Mr. Whetstone said he may put in a request for some of the profits from the community eating stand at the Kosciusko County Fair, and he wants to investigate the possibility of receiving matching funds from the state.

President Frank Hardesty recommended Mr. Whetstone contact officers of the Lion's Club and the Chamber of Commerce, along with other service clubs for possible donations.

A Mentone resident was present to object to the recreation den of the Viking Pit pizza parlor. He informed the board that his young daughter got into trouble by starting to smoke cigarettes and meeting older boys. He requested the board set an age limit of 16 years or older to use the downstairs facilities, emphasizing that he had no objection to the restaurant.

President Hardesty told the gentleman there was nothing the board could do, adding, "This is a matter between you and your daughter." Lee Bazini concurred, saying, "If the owner sets an age limit, he could be liable for discrimination."

Board member Jim Miller gave President Hardesty an application for street closing from the Chamber of Commerce so streets may be blocked for the Egg Festival. After examining the document, Hardesty advised the application be entirely filled out before he signs it. The board gave him permission to sign it at his own discretion after it is filled out.

In other business:

*Kate Whetstone informed the board that McMahon-O'Conner requested permission to use city water while they are working on SR 25, stating they will pay for the water. She was instructed to tell them they may use the water, but they must disconnect their hoses from the hydrants each time they use water. They may not leave any hose hooked up, as it could present a problem for the Fire Department.

*The board authorized Russ Hart to buy two tires for the police car so the snow tires will not be worn out.

*Wayne Tombaugh is going to check with the garbage contractor to set a spring clean-up day for sometime in May.

*The board was informed that the mower they bought had been used and is in good condition.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

I am going to be selfish this week and use my column for a personal matter. After all, why have a column if I can't use it to speak my mind?

As most of you know, this Sunday, May 11, is Mother's Day. Mother's Day is always a rather sad occasion for me, as I lost my mother more than 16 years ago. I will never forget the painful feelings I experienced the first Mother's Day after we lost her. What could be more tragic for a child of 11 than to lose one's mother?

Several months after her death, my father remarried. Now, we have all heard the tales of wicked step-mothers, and I confess there were moments during my teens that I subscribed fullheartedly to that school of thought. Usually, however, I was happy with my father's choice of partners; he chose someone who grew to care for us as though we were her own.

So this week I want to pay tribute to you, Janet, for all the sacrifices, love and understanding you have given me over the years. Although possibly I haven't always shown you my appreciation, it is truly heartfelt, and I consider myself extremely lucky to have you in my corner. Thank you, sincerely.

Vikings fall to Redskins

In a doubleheader last Saturday between the TVHS Vikings and the Goshen Redskins, the Redskins emerged unscathed, winning the first game by a score of 7-11 and the second game by a score of 3-9.

The Vikes seemed sluggish in the first inning of game one, as they walked the Redskins Ron Bender and Jeff Hernley and then let them each steal a base. This enabled both Redskins to make it home on a single hit by Dave McCann.

In the next three innings the Vikings seemed to get it together as pitcher Bryan Felts allowed Goshen no runs, but Vikings crossed the plate four times to make the score 2-4.

The turning point came in the fifth inning when the Redskins could do no wrong and brought home four runs, despite Coach Glingie's switching pitchers, giving Denny Alderfer a try at the mound. The Redskins returned in the sixth to take two more runs and finished the seventh with a total of 11.

The Vikes also scored three runs in the seventh, but their efforts were too late to make the difference.

In the second game, the Redskins continued their surge of power against Viking Lynn Fuller's pitching skills. The Vikings held their own until the fifth inning, when Goshen took five runs and finally won by 9-3.

These games gave Goshen a season total of 11-2 and the Vikings a season total of 4-10. TVHS next sees action Friday at 4:30 at home against Northfield.

TVHS Junior-Senior Prom

by Daphne Keplinger

On Saturday, May 3, the TVHS Jr.-Sr. prom took place in the high school gymnasium, with the theme "Dreams of Paradise". The gym was decorated accordingly by the juniors and it seemed to be transformed into a tropical paradise.

At 7:30 p.m. the banquet, catered by Penguin Point, was held in the commons area. The meal consisted of chicken, ham, scalloped potatoes, salads, rolls and dessert.

The doors were opened to the gym at 9:00 p.m. to start the formal prom. "Spice" provided the musical entertainment for the evening.

At 10:30, Alma Dozal and Greg Utter were crowned King and Queen of the prom. Jenny Leininger and Ronnie Peters, representing the junior class, were crowned Duke and Duchess.

At 12:30 the after-prom began. Some of the guests watched the movie "Psycho" in the lecture room, while others continued to dance to the music of "Spice" in the gym.

Bell Memorial has "Donahue: My Own Story"

New books received at the Bell Memorial Public Library include the following:

CASHING IN AT THE CHECKOUT by Susan J. Samtur. The new and incredibly easy system for using discounts, coupons, refunds, and labels to cut your supermarket bill by as much as 80 percent!

DONAHUE: MY OWN STORY by Phil Donahue & Co. Daytime TV's hottest talk-show host gives the lowdown - his strict Catholic upbringing...his painful divorce...his relationship with Marlo Thomas...the meteoric rise of his career.

THE DEVIL'S ALTERNATIVE by Frederick Forsyth. It is June, 1982, and World War III is at hand. An economic crisis in Russia has forced the Soviet leaders to consider an invasion of Western Europe. The only alternative is to seek massive economic help from the U.S. and pay the cost in disarmament talks. Only a handful of people know that total war is imminent and only one man has the information needed to prevent the war.

WARWYCK'S CHOICE by Rosalind Laker. A brilliant and romantic tale of the loves and struggles of two powerful families set against the backdrop of late Victorian England.

SARAH WALKED OVER THE MOUNTAIN by Ruth Moore. A story of generations, but primarily of Sarah Scott, late-eighteenth-century pioneer, this novel focuses upon both the nature of evil and its confrontation.

NON-PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

by Thomas A. Gossel, Ph. D. A guide to over-the-counter remedies for pain, headaches, colds, skin problems, stomach upset, and much more.

Sailing Along—With Music!

For those who are addicted to weekends on the high seas, low lakes, or simply by the backyard barbecue, there's a company that builds speakers which make it possible to take our music along with us. That company is Poly-Planar, a division of Electronic Research Associates.

Conventional hi-fi speakers are generally bulky, heavy, and the speaker cones are composed with paper-based materials making them especially susceptible to the elements, moisture in particular. For these reasons none but the most extravagant could afford to take their speakers outside or on their sailing jaunt.

Poly-Planar has a line of hi-fi speakers for marine and outdoor use that seem to be our answer. They are small, ultra-light and compact, easy to install, and practically impervious to the elements. These speakers can be surface or flush-mounted, or they are available free-standing. They can handle up to 25 watts of power quite comfortably with a frequency range from 55 Hz. to 20 kHz.

TVHS students hold nursery school

Two Child Development classes taught by Mrs. Sandra Carmichael at Tippecanoe Valley High School joined together to plan, furnish and prepare a nursery school to close their semester study of Child Care and Child Development.

The students have made many of the toys and equipment used in the nursery school, and have brought toys, books and other items from home. They spent one week making an activity file which helped them to plan appropriate activities for four year old children. A second week was spent gathering equipment and setting up the nursery school.

Fourteen children, all four years of age, were invited to participate in the nursery school. The children attended the school for ninety minutes each morning. The eight day schedule was flexible, but included time for snacks, stories, creative activities and a free time for playing.

The children planted sunflower seeds and watched them grow. They sang and played music on rhythm instruments. Other activities included craft projects, preparation of snacks and riding in and driving a "school bus" made from a cardboard furniture box.

Each TVHS student had a chance to lead or teach various activities. The following young men and women received very practical experience in caring for and guiding young children.

The TVHS students are Laura Bradley, Sandy Brown, Kathy Chilcutt, Melody Clawson, Deb Davis, Joyce Fisher, Anita George, Tina Grass, Darlene Hathaway, Lela Johnston, Daphne Keplinger, Jenny Leininger, Michelle Lowry, Kathy Prater, Paula Ooley, Shirley Porter, Jody Salyer, Lynette Sanner, Melissa Summer, Jeff Tutorow, Darla Weaver, Debbie Yates, Janice Claxton, Laura Cook, Kelly Earl, Deb Floor, Kim Geller, Chris Gross, Shelby Gross, Rhonda Harvey, Laurie Jones, Carol Kantner, Jane Kruger, Kris McDaniel, Chris Ogle, Patsy Rickel, Bev Riley, Dea Robertson, Chris Severns, Eileen Stitts, Tina Utter, Teresa Wallace, Brenda Warren, Maxine Weller and Cheryl Ault.

The four year old children attending the nursery school were Carrie and Caleb Jones, Kris and Kindra Thomas, Heather Wortinger, Catrina Norman, Lisa Beery, Darrell Ooley, Tammie Reese, Brent and Lichelle Paxton, Scot Nellans, Brandy Rickel, Jeffrey Barnes, and Chris Ritter.

"Happy Trails" at Library

New books received at the Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:

HAPPY TRAILS, THE STORY OF ROY ROGERS AND DALE EVANS. This is the deeply personal story of a man and woman whose off-screen lives have been every bit as exciting and interesting as those they have portrayed on movies, radio and television - a couple who has supplied three generations with examples of talent, integrity and faith.

CHRISTIAN MOTHERS REVEAL THEIR JOYS AND SORROWS by Roger Elwood. The author interviews 34 Christian mothers who share their joys and sorrows. With sympathetic application and emotional impact, the author draws from them advice and comfort for other Christian women.

RANLEIGH COURT by Marjorie Shoenberger. A novel of romantic suspense.

A BEND IN THE RIVER by

V. S. Naipaul. This book is the most convincing vision we have yet been given of what "ordinary" life is like in Africa today. Its publication is an important literary event.

THE FARMSTEAD BOOK I by Paul Hammond, ed. Over the past 75 years a great deal of valuable information - often under the name "Farmer's Bulletin" - has been published through the auspices of the government agricultural departments in the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand. The best of these have been taken and the editor has focused on reports that are as relevant today as when they were written, updating information where needed and excluding what has been superceded.

THE BLOOD CARNELIAN by Jean Raynes. Another novel of romantic suspense.

THE CAPRICORN STONE by Madeleine Brent. A fine new novel of romantic suspense, filled with details of life as a vaudeville performer in the Victorian era, and a plot of many satisfying twists and turns that takes the reader from the countryside of nineteenth-century England to the teeming streets of London, to Paris, and on to a sinister chateau where finally the secret begins to reveal itself in all its glittering evil and danger.

The Arabian horse, believed to be the first true domesticated breed, developed in Mesopotamia and North Africa.

Local businessman has unusual hobby

by Diana Streevey Bucher

You've heard of people collecting all kinds of things; keys, matchbook covers, credit cards, stamps, buttons. But Kirk Robinson, funeral director at Sheetz Funeral Home in Akron, has a unique hobby; he collects prizes from cereal boxes.

Robinson has been collecting his 337 item assortment for over seven years, though his oldest items are ten years old. He has three small button stickers of the Jackson 5 that have a copyright date of 1970, and he remembers that they came from a box of Honeycomb cereal. When he was 11, he had stuck them on a mirror in his room, but he successfully retrieved them later for his collection.

Most of the items he has haven't been opened, as he believes this will increase their value someday. And Robinson laughingly added that he has eaten most of the cereal himself, although about 15 of the items in his collection were given to him by his brother-in-law, Brian Duzenbery.

Robinson explained that he started his hobby by accident, and he found himself in it almost before he knew what had happened. He and his older brother Jay ate cereal before they went to school, and they were usually pressed for time. They would toss the unopened prizes on the table and rush off to school. Their mother started to put them in his room, and one day Kirk realized he had eight prizes on his desk. He put them in a shoebox, and he distinctly remembers the day he took them out to show his father; by that time there were 23 prizes in the shoebox, so he decided to seriously collect them.

Robinson has written to a couple of cereal companies for information. To date, neither company has heard of anyone else who collects cereal box prizes, and they have not compiled a list of what prizes they have offered over the years. Kirk probably knows better than they, because with few exceptions, he can remember which prizes came from which cereals.

"They don't put as many prizes in cereal now as they used to," Robinson concluded. "Maybe in five or ten years they won't put things in at all. I think it (his collection) will be worth something someday."

I wouldn't be surprised.

Earn-at-home ripoff

Attorney General Theodore L. Sendak warns Hoosiers of ads which promise instant earn-at-home riches. "Our Consumer Protection Division and the U. S. Postal authorities receive complaints about these almost daily," he states.

"The most common ads are aimed at housewives and shut-ins. They usually offer payment in advance for addressing and stuffing envelopes. But when you answer them, instead of receiving money, you often get a pamphlet offering a 'success kit' priced from $5 to $15.

"Those who fall for this pitch either receive nothing or they receive additional copies of that same pamphlet along with instructions on how to work the same trick on others by starting a new mail order business.

"Other earn-at-home ads promise big profits for making costume jewelry, artificial flowers, toys or other items which the company promises to buy. The catch is that the work must meet unspecified company standards, which it seldom does, or the company can't be found when it comes time to buy the product.

"The best way to avoid being taken by these schemes is not to answer their ads. But if you do, and you feel you have been cheated, contact our Consumer Protection Division or the U.S. Postal authorities," Sendak concludes.

Address correspondence to: Consumer Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, Room 219, Indiana State House, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.

To call the Consumer Protection Division, dial 232-6330 from the Indianapolis calling area, or dial 1-800-382-5516, toll free, from elsewhere in Indiana. The office is open from 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Newsview

by Bob Norlander

(Editor's note: this week's Newsview was written by Renee Norlander.)

If you've already read this week's front page of The NEWS, then you know that Bob and I have sold the newspaper. I haven't written a column in quite a while (Diana is doing a splendid job of filling that void) but I had to write one last one before we go.

Many of you may have anticipated our decision to sell with Bob's finding a new job. He accepted the position of Sales Manager at South Bend Range Corp. in South Bend in February, but it was our intention that I would continue to run the paper. However, I have found the job a bit more than I can really handle alone, and the drive to and from Niles is getting quite costly. The demands of being a publisher, wife, and mother to a two year old are just too much. Therefore, we decided to sell. (It was the only role of the three that I was willing to forfeit!)

The time that Bob and I have spent in publishing The NEWS has been mixed with every emotion there is. We've learned and profited from the challenge of having our own business; we've laughed and cried over mistakes, and enjoyed the thrill of "scooping" a story; but most of all felt very good each and every week because "we made it" ...and on time, too! Not a lot of people understand the pressure of deadlines, even in a weekly paper, but I can tell you that it is horrendous and something that never ends. As soon as one paper is out, it's right to work on the next. I must admit - I don't know how Ann and Loren did it for 15 whole years. The pressure can make you crazy! But, all in all, we've enjoyed it immensely.

I want to thank all of you for your support during the last 2½ years. I know there were times when you thought we were crazy or didn't know what we were doing, but I have to say we did the best we could. I personally want to thank Betty Blackburn for carrying on in Mentone and doing a great job; Diana Bucher for being the best darn Editor any weekly paper has every been lucky enough to find - she's worked really hard for us!!; and Sue Greene for her splendid office and typing skills - and for being our backbone on those days we thought nothing would go right. Sue has worked for the paper for ten years now, and I know that we never would have made it without her! A great big "thank-you" from Bob and I to all three of you.

We sincerely hope that you will continue to support Richard Lynn in his endeavor to publish the paper each week with your readership, subscriptions and advertising. We have really tried to make the paper a newspaper that Akron and Mentone can be proud of, and I know Mr. Lynn will continue to keep you informed of the local news. We wish him the best of luck, and thank all of you for making the last two and a half years memorable for us.

It happened in Mentone

Taken from the May 20, 1953 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Ira D. Anderson, formerly of Mentone and a graduate of Indiana University School of Business, has been appointed associate dean and director of the Northwestern University School of Commerce. Mr. Anderson has been professor of marketing since 1949 and head of the marketing department at Northwestern since 1950. Ira is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Anderson of Mentone.

Awards presented Tuesday at graduation were Attendance - presented by War Mothers of World War II - Boyd Blue; Valedictorian - presented by the Psi Iota Xi Sorority - Charles Urschel; Salutatorian - presented by Psi Iota Xi Sorority - Elaine Dunnuck; Honor medal - presented by Mentone American Legion - Ronald Brown; Merit trophy - presented by Brown's Jewelry Store - Elaine Dunnuck; Lord Calvert wrist watch - presented by Bakers Jewelry & Appliance - Ronald Brown; Lady Calvert wrist watch - presented by Baker's Jewelry & Appliance - Carol Rule.

Mrs. Harold Linn stopped in the Co-Op News office to show us their newest pet - a baby fox just a little over a month old. She had taken him to school for the grade children to see and enjoy. A litter of four baby foxes was found on the Everett Long farm. Ernie McGowan and Jack Van Gilder helped Everett "dig them out." Besides the Harold Linn family, Bill Clark and Harold Markley each took a baby fox and the fourth went to a family at Hoffman Lake.

Sound off

"Several kids have been hurt since they put the playground equipment on the asphalt at the Akron Grade School. Does anyone else object, or are they going to keep the equipment there until someone gets seriously hurt?"

"I think it's terrific that kids play ball during their gym hour at the high school, but is it really necessary that they hit the ball towards State Road 19?"

"I won't say 'it's about time', but thank heaven the state road department finally resurfaced State Road 14 west to Rochester. They did a really nice job."

"Why don't the people who gather up papers in the paper drive please print it in the Akron News when they are having a drive. Many of us save our papers just for that!"

Georgiana Grubbs plans Poppy Days

by Eula Romayne Smith

"Would you like to wear a poppy?" Georgiana Grubbs asked with a smile as she held a bouquet of red crepe paper flowers in one hand and a can for donations in the other.

This scene has been repeated in Mentone each spring for more than thirty years and probably will be again because Georgianna is eagerly planning for Poppy Days, Friday May 16, and Saturday May 17.

Each year American Legion Auxiliary members and other volunteers throughout the United States ask people to wear a poppy to honor the men who died serving our country and to help the living. Part of the donations received goes to the disabled veterans in government hospitals and convalescent workshops who make the flowers by hand. Although the government provides necessities for the residents of Veterans' Hospitals, they gain a sense of independence and self worth by earning some of their spending money. Some enjoy making poppies because it is a break from monotonous hospital routine. Money from the poppy fund is also used locally to help veterans' families in time of need.

In 1946 Georgianna Dillingham married William Elwin Teel, who had returned a short time before from four years service in Europe. As the wife of a veteran she was eligible for membership in the new unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at Mentone, Mentone Unit 425. She joined, and plunged into their activities with enthusiasm that has not diminished. Georgianna has done behind-the-scenes work to sponsor a girl at Girls' State. She has held all of the offices, been president eight years and chaplain fifteen years. For several years she also helped make and pack homemade candy to send to servicemen overseas.

This interest in our country extends to other family members, too. After Elwin Teel's death, Georgianna married Raymond Grubbs who had been in military service in Alaska. Later, her son, Ronnie K. Teel served in Viet Nam. Through the years both of her daughters have helped with Poppy Days, and now both of the granddaughters are enrolled as junior members of the Auxiliary.

Georgianna stressed, however, that she wasn't the only Legion Auxiliary member who had helped several years with Poppy Days at Mentone and Burket. Among the others are Mary Fran Hudson, Bernice Jones, Mary Jones, Opal Nellans, Jean Pritchard, Nell Reed, Lillian Seacor and Mary Wise.

For several years Bernice's Beauty Shop has been a convenient headquarters for the project. Georgianna always encourages the Junior Auxiliary members and other young people to help. This year Betty Smith and Janet McKinney are scheduled to help adults distribute poppies downtown in Mentone and at Frank and Jerry's. Poppies will also be available at Powell's Store in Burket.

Although the American Legion and Auxiliary began in Mentone soon after World War II, the memorial poppy goes back to World War I. Men returning from the battlefields of France and Flanders remembered the wild poppies that bloomed there, and often the poppies were the only thing bright and beautiful to remember from the horrors of war. Soon the poppy became a symbol to remind the living of those who died for their freedom. Nationwide distribution of memorial poppies began in 1921, and now the poppy symbolizes our respect for the men who served in both World Wars, the Korean War and the Viet Nam conflict.

Some deep-sea creatures can live under great pressure because the pressure inside their bodies equals that outside.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

This Sunday, May 18, Tippecanoe Valley High School seniors will have their graduation ceremony at 2:00 p.m. I'm sure I can safely speak for everyone in both Mentone and Akron in congratulating the graduates and wishing them future success.

And while we're wishing people success, Sue, Betty and I want to wish all the best to Bob and Renee. We have enjoyed working with them and will miss Renee's bright smile and Bob's inimitable humor. But we are eager and excited at the prospect of working for the new publisher, Richard Lynn, and we're happy to welcome him to our communities.

CORRECTIONS

I made two faux pas last week in photo cutlines (captions). The third grader who won a first place for his drawing of Syvestor was Gary Wagoner, not Greg. We had a little trouble identifying the artist and I guess I got a little slap-happy.

The other mistake was the cutline under the sports photo of Scott Tilden hitting a triple. I regret that I am not up on all the different sports jargon (and believe me, it's like a different language), and my husband informed me of my mistake. The caption implied, by use of the phrase triple play, that Tilden's hit ended up giving the Vikings three outs. Actually he hit a triple and brought two other Vikings home for 2 runs on the play. I hope this makes sense to someone, because it's all Greek to me.

Officers installed at Women's Club

The members of the Akron Women's Club held their May luncheon last Thursday afternoon in the library basement.

Marie Hand gave prayer before the meal and music during the luncheon was provided by Bernice Bowen and her pupil, Angie Wood. President Elizabeth Gray presided over the business meeting and introduced guests Dottie Linn and Betty Ulrey, and Maxine Conrad gave a memorial for Winnie Summe.

The club will decorate store windows with open Bibles over the July 4th holiday and also will purchase a Blood pressure machine for the Senior Citizen building.

A gift was presented to Elizabeth Gray, president, for her successful leadership this past year. Thelma Kuhn gave a candle lighting installation for new officers. They are: Betty Stutzman, president; Judy Hill, vice-president; Sherri Sheelman, secretary and Edith Sheetz, treasurer.

Hostesses for the day were Lorraine Whittenberger, Grace Waechter, Thelma Kuhn and Miriam Cumberland.

Sam Kingen, 92, formerly from Akron but now a resident of Greenfield, Indiana, is surrounded by members of four generations in his family. They are (l to r) his great-granddaughter, Julie Smith, Wilkinson, IN., granddaughter Charlene Robinson, Greenfield, daughter Ruth Love, Akron, and he is holding his two month-old great-great-grandson, Adam Smith, of Wilkinson.

Las Donas elects officers for 1980-81

Susan Rensberger hosted the May 12 meeting of the Las Donas Club. The main order of business was the election of officers for the 1980-81 year. They are: Devotions chairman - Melea Dittman; Publicity and Cheer chairman - Kim Robinson; Secretary - Vicki Curtis Harrold; Treasurer - Debbie Baumgartner; Marilyn French, this year's President, will be vice-president; Shelly Lewis, this year's Treasurer, will become president. Melea Dittman will also be in charge of scrapbook and photography for the club.

Winner of the Las Donas scholarship is Crystal McConkey. She will be presented with the scholarship at their next meeting, May 27 at 7:30, hosted by Kim Robinson. Officers will be installed at this meeting also.

TVSC School Board Trustees hold two meetings - put building plans on hold

by Diana Streevey Bucher

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board retained the services of a committee of state university placement officials to screen applications for the position of superintendent. Dr. Everett Nicholson, Director of Placement at Purdue University, chairs the four-man committee. Other members are Dr. John Wright of Ball State, Dr. Alex Moody of Indiana State and Dr. Dean Berkley of Indiana University.

Dr. Nicholson explained that his committee provides the screening service for expenses only (gasoline and meals), and they can complete the process in one day. TVSC already has received approximately 20 applications, and he recommended the board extend the deadline for applications to May 31. He anticipated the corporation would receive 40 applications for the job by that time.

The committee will meet at TVHS on June 2 for a luncheon with the School Board, and at that time they will confirm what qualifications the board members require in the new superintendent. In the afternoon they will screen all applications, choosing the five to seven that are most suited to the corporation's needs. Board members will probably begin interviewing these people the same week, and a choice will be made before June 30, the day present superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell resigns.

Extensive design-development plans were presented by Chuck Posthumus and Meredith Donahoe of Davenport Associates architectural firm at the May 15 special meeting. Posthumus has worked with the small building advisory committees (BAC) at each of the three grade schools in the TVSC to develop the plans that were produced. With the aid of slides, Posthumus outlined specifications for the schools, including insulation plans and other energy-saving measures, basic room design, exterior finishes and plumbing and heating layout.

Donahoe said that Davenport tentatively could have working plans by September 30, and that February 1981 was a realistic date for construction to begin.

Individual specifications included razing the old Akron High School, but using some of the brick and the architectural style to finish the old gym and establishing separate entrances at Mentone for junior high and elementary students.

One item that was added to the Akron project is a greenhouse - botany court in the center of the remodeled building. This 'art court' would be between the media center and the new gymnasium. (After the meeting, the NEWS approached Mr. Donahoe about the art court. Responding to questions, he informed us that greenhouse was included at the recommendation of the Akron BAC and that the trustees had no prior knowledge of it's inclusion in the design-development plans.)

In other business:

*Mark Striebel, representative from ProMaCon, the building management firm for the project, presented their current estimate for the project. He stressed the fact that this estimate is maximum figure, and that as plans are defined costs will begin to recede. The estimates were: Burket, $1,727,800; Akron, $4,028,500; and Mentone, $4,163,000, for a total projected cost of $9,916,300. These figures include educational and library casework, kitchen equipment and site utilities, but it does not include legal fees, architectural or construction management fees, drapes, overtime work or sprinkler systems in the schools. (The NEWS spoke with Dr. Harrell on May 19, and he quoted maximum costs for some of the above-listed services. Legal fees could reach $115,000, Davenport's fee will be close to $700,000 and ProMaCon's fee cannot exceed $331,000.)

When Mr. Donahoe questioned the board as to the suitability of the plans, Board member Lee Norris restated his belief that the scope of the project had become larger than is necessary for TVSC's needs. Members Everett Besson and Vernon Meredith concurred with his statements, but all agreed they wanted to review the plans more thoroughly and would reserve any decisions until the May 19 regular meeting.

*Richard Long, who won a seat on the board from Harrison township, was introduced by Everett Besson (who had not run for reelection). Mr. Long was given materials to study for when he takes his place on the board on July 1.

*The board approved new math books for the school system. Meredith questioned if it was their responsibility to approve textbooks, adding, "Why take the blame for more than we have to," but other members voted to approve the books.

*Unanimously passed a 10% increase in salary for administrators, a one-year extension of their contracts and disability insurance not to exceed a $4000 premium.

*Accepted Dr. Harrell's recommendations for summer school assignments for bus drivers, teachers and maintenance workers.

*Accepted the resignations of Barbara Smith, home economics teacher for 11 years, and Roger Fleetwood, who resigned to accept a teaching/coaching position at Maconaquah High School.

May 19 meeting

At the regular meeting on Monday, May 19, however, the building plans were put on indefinite hold at the instigation of Vernon Meredith, who was just re-elected as trustee from Harrison township. Stating that he felt it would be wise to hold off on any decisions

Making their dreams come true

Class of 1980 receives diplomas

by Richard Lynn

Tippecanoe Valley High School's Class of 1980 graduated Sunday afternoon with the community's best wishes, as a capacity crowd attended Commencement ceremonies in the school gymnasium.

Honor student David Wayne Rhodes, delivering the student address, reminded his classmates of times gone by. "No matter what else stands out in our high school days, the senior year will be the most memorable," he said.

"All of these memories we have made together, but no longer shall we share in them together, for we shall make new memories with new friends; but no matter how many other memories we have, we will never forget the memories that we - the Class of 1980 - made in Tippecanoe Valley High School. Senior Choir members sang the 1980 Class song, "Making our dreams come true."

Salutatorian Crystal McConkey elaborated on the class motto in her address to the students. "To dream," she said, "is not enough, but in creating a dream, the first step is to set forth toward finding a lifetime of happiness. In the past four years we've all worked to accomplish numerous dreams; some big and small, some already obtained and some yet to be. For most of us here, today is definitely one of life's primary goals. Today is a day of celebration, a day to stand tall and be proud.

"But, as always, we must think of tomorrow - a new day that will come to offer us new and different goals. After today, each of us will need to formulate new dreams and new goals. When that has been done, we must start taking the necessary steps to turn those dreams into reality.

"Step forward and enjoy this day, for it alone is a dream accomplished, a goal which only began as a dream to us a few years ago; but with our determination and effort, we have made this dream become a reality. After our celebrating is ended, tomorrow a new dream is needed. We must follow that dream, until it too, has become a reality.

"Fellow classmates," she concluded, "let's do it our way, and make our dreams come true!"

Valedictorian Christine Rhoades

spoke about the thrill of victory; the agony of defeat. She said, "We hear this theme used to describe sports on television, as we watch the winners in their victorious moments. And the losers - well, how can any of us forget the force of fear and the pain of falling down the slope?"

"However, these words do describe life very well. Our class has experienced the thrill of victory as well as the agony of defeat. We have earned marks according to our character and received high honors. We've yelled and screamed at a basketball sectional, for we've cut down nets and accepted the trophy. And then again, we've kept quiet when our mistakes prevented us from doing so a second time.

"A song comes to my mind whenever I think of problems and trials. It's a very simple song, but it has a very meaningful message. It's about the little flowers and it tells about how the little flowers never worry or never complain even though they are tossed and torn apart during the storm. Why? It's very simple. The flowers know that without the rain they would never grow and become useful.

"This applies to us as individuals too. Even though sunny days and

EDITORIAL

Diana Streevey Jucher

Compromise: a settlement of differences by mutual concessions; an adjustment or concession between conflicting courses, ideas, desires; to adjust or settle by concessions. So says the dictionary, and I think it's time the TVSC School Board of Trustees, the professionals hired by the board, parents, teachers and patrons of the Valley system stop and consider this carefully.

At Monday's meeting of the board, the extensive work and planning for the renovation of the Valley's grade schools came to a shuddering halt. The trustees had studied the design-development program presented by the architects and construction managers on May 15, and they had had time to consider their options. Following an emotionally charged discussion, the board split their vote to put the project on "indefinite hold."

I don't think that's good enough.

In following the building project since early last November, I have watched everyone concerned demanding their positions be followed. The board members all had separate ideas on the scope the project should take; in my opinion, the architects' attitude at times bordered on haughtiness as they made their recommendations; teachers clamored for the optimum improvements and conditions for the schools; and many taxpayers of the system complained that they couldn't bear the load of a new building project. I have heard suggestions ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous; but rarely have I heard anything resembling a compromise.

We need to establish certain facts if anything positive is to be achieved. First we should accept the fact that No One is going to get Everything they want in this matter. Compromise, compromise.

Another basic fact is that the elementary schools are in deplorable condition and need major improvements. I have heard no one dispute this. We need to consider the children here, because if we're not doing this for them, what are we doing it for?

I applaud trustee Lee Norris for his approach to the situation. He has attempted to compromise by suggesting possible ways to tone down the scope of the project (to satisfy the taxpayers) while still maintaining an acceptable margin of improvement to the buildings and school program (to satisfy teachers, parents and students). He has done this in an inobtrusive, rational manner; unfortunately, no one has picked up the gauntlet he has thrown down, and we have now reached an impasse. Let us not forget we have already spent close to $100,000 on the project; is it all for naught?

It's time to forget about politics, fame, glory or profit. It's time to seriously think about the state of the schools and our children's educations, tempering these thoughts with the knowledge that taxpayers already have a heavy burden to carry. It's time to compromise.

The NEWS Asks:

"John Anderson is going to run as an Independent for President, and he has talked about asking Walter Cronkite to be his running mate. What would you think about an Anderson/Cronkite ticket?"

Diana

Linda Backus, Akron: "I don't know. It sounds kind of funny to me. It sounds like he's using Cronkite's good reputation to boost his chances of winning."

Harold Smythe, Mentone: "I don't know. To tell you the truth, I don't follow it that close. I've read quite a bit about Cronkite, but it's hard to make a decision. I think I'll stand neutral on this."

Russell Hart, Mentone: "I do know Walter Cronkite isn't, even if asked, going to run, but I wouldn't vote for him if he did."

Francis Nicodemus, Akron: "I don't care for it myself. I think it's time for Walter Cronkite to retire."

Delbert Hunter, Mentone: "Basically I'm a democrat, so I'm for Carter. But I think Anderson would stand a better chance with Cronkite on his ticket than without, because he's been in the news and done a lot of reporting."

Judy Hively, Akron: "I'm not satisfied at all with the present candidates. In my opinion that might not be a bad ticket."

Taken from the May 27, 1953 issue of The Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Mrs. W. F. Hudson Sr. of near Akron, returned home after spending two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law A/C and Mrs. Jerry C. Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y. At the N. Y. State Fair grounds she saw the world's largest ear of corn mounted on a base similar to the largest egg in the world at Mentone.

Visitors at the Artley Cullum home were Mrs. Ervin Swinehart, Mrs. Glen Pearce and son Roger of Exeland, Wisconsin and Mrs. Roy Cullum of Franklin Park, Illinois.

Abc Hoogenboom called home from Washington D.C. while on the Mentone Senior trip and reported that the group was having a good time and enjoying themselves. He reported a slight lag due to lack of sleep, but on the whole they are wide enough awake to enjoy the trip and all the scenic and historical spots. Pauline Borton, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carlie and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan visited Wm. H. Danforth, founder and president of the Ralston Purina Co. They visited the Research Laboratories the mill and the research farm, which is the largest commercial research farm in the world. At this 740 acre farm nestled in the foothills of the Ozarks 40 miles southwest of St. Louis, they saw everything from chinchilla to cows. Also on the trip were Robert Heighway and Robert Sittler.

Service Notes

Pvt. Rodney L. Clark, whose wife, Debbie, lives in Akron, recently completed advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, students received training which qualified them as light-weapons infantrymen and as indirect fire crewman in a rifle or mortar squad.

Instruction included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

Clark's mother, Mrs. Jessie L. Clark, lives in Ogden, Kan. His father, Keith O. Clark, also lives in Ogden.

Jo Ann Schuler plans apartment complex

Akron will be the site of a new apartment complex, Jo Ann and Ned Schuler announced, as they continue plans to develop the complex on property they own northwest of the Akron park.

The Schulers live on SR 114 east of Akron, where Mr. Schuler is a dairy and hog farmer, farming more than 400 acres. Mrs. Schuler has held a dealership for Heckman Modular Homes for ten years, and they also owned and operated Schuler's Decor Shop.

The complex they are planning will be on a two-acre plot that is between the park and school.

Heckman of Indiana is drawing up preliminary plans for the 16-unit modular garden apartments, which will include both single and double bedroom units. Unlike the senior citizen complex presently being planned by Dr. Kenneth Hoff, Mrs. Schuler's apartments will be available to all age groups.

Jo Ann (Fites) Schuler has lived in this area most of her life. She and Ned have two children, Troy, 11, and Jennifer, 7. They hope to begin the complex this year, but if it isn't possible, it will definitely begin next year.

They have a renting survey they would like interested people to fill out so they can better determine the needs of the community. If you send them your name and address (see coupon on page 2) they will send a survey to you, or you can pick one up at the Akron town offices. The surveys can be returned to the town offices or to the Schulers at R. 2, No. Manchester, 46962.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Streevey Bucher

Among this year's Tippecanoe Valley graduating class there was one very special graduate, Irene Hoagland. One reason Irene stands out is because she carried a heavier load than any other single member of the 1980 class. She had six classes, with no study halls, yet she managed to graduate in the top 10% (11th in the class) of some 170 students, and she won an art award for her talents in that field.

Irene's schedule was heavy enough to sink a battleship. She had to get up early each day so she could haul out her bus and help her children get ready for school. Yes, Irene drives bus for TVSC, and she has three school age children (a fourth is already out of school).

It had been 18 years since Irene had left school after her sophomore year. To re-enter school and graduate in one year, she had to have permission from the state of Indiana. She told me it was difficult to get back into studying and the routine of classes, but she stated the kids were terrific and accepted her as just another student.

I asked Irene what she wanted to do when she "grew up," and she laughingly informed me she would like to be a nurse. Although she is going to take next year off from studying, she would like to go to college, possibly the year after next.

Irene is a shining example of what a person can do if they have the will and determination. Her husband and children are living with a very special lady, and my hat's off to her.

Valley takes TRC Golf Match

Coach Jon Parker's Vikings made an impressive showing at Monday's Three Rivers Conference golf meet held at Sycamore Golf Course, N. Manchester, by tying with Oak Hill for first place with a score of 334. Valley golfers were awarded the first place prize when the fifth golfer on Oak Hill's team was disqualified due to an incorrect score card.

Leading the team for Valley was David Rhoades with 79 on the par 72 course, Todd Leckrone with a score of 80, Scott Woods with an 85 and Rick Slone with 90. Fifth Valley golfer Keith Haney was non-scored.

Pool Schedule

The Tippecanoe Valley High School pool will be closed until June for maintenance and repair. Beginning in June the pool will be open Monday through Thursday and on Sunday afternoons. Watch for the schedules in The NEWS.

Flying "Olympics" planned for summer

Harrison Crabill, President of the Mentone Flying Club, has announced that ground school will start on June 17 and continue for 16 weeks. This school will be open to all persons interested in aviation for a fee of $10 that will be refunded if all classes are attended.

Arnold Doering read the rules for the 22 events of the "Olympics" to be held this summer. These events include spot landing, ETA, fuel consumption, and most hours flown, to name a few.

The Club will sponsor a Ham and Bean supper in connection with Mentone Days on June 6 at the Mentone Fire House. Bill Willard is in charge of arrangements.

A film strip on the effects of weather in flying concluded the club meeting, and Ralph Stolte was the recipient of the free hour of flying time.

Ball State offers SAT tips

High school juniors and seniors who want to learn "Test Taking Strategies, or How to Challenge the SAT and Win" can learn how to do it in a three-hour session at Ball State University on Friday, June 6.

They are invited to come, dressed casually with the girls wearing jeans or slacks, and to bring their parents who will be involved in another session on "How to Finance a College Education and Complete Financial Aid Forms." It's all free.

Both sessions begin with registration at 9 a.m. and end at noon. An optional tour of the campus is scheduled in the afternoon.

These sessions will be offered again on Oct. 10, Nov. 14, Jan. 9 and March 20, says Richard Row-ray, director of admissions for Ball State.

"What students will be learning can be applied to any test-taking. What parents will learn is applicable to any college or university, not just to Ball State," Rowray explains.

Two weeks advance registration is required for participation in these programs, since each session will be limited to 50 individuals.

The registration should be mailed to the Campus Visit House, 317 N. College Ave., Ball State University, Muncie, IN, 47306, or telephoned to (317) 285-5683.

Dr. Virgil E. Ruble and Jack Ihle, psychometrists at Ball State, who conduct the "Challenge the SAT and Win" session, say the way to win is to approach the test with muscles relaxed.

"If a person is tense, sufficient blood doesn't get to the brain and he or she doesn't think clearly," Ihle explains. "The high school students will get an abbreviated version of the relaxation training we give to Ball State students who have test anxieties. So far it has had an 80% success rate."

If the price of heating fuel continues to climb, some day it may be cheaper to burn money.

cloudless days are nice, we all know it has to rain sometime. It's just up to us, whether we sit inside waiting for the sun to come out, or whether we soak up the rain and really grow.

"In other words, our mistakes can be stepping stones or stumbling blocks, whichever we choose to make them. I trust our class will (as we have in the past) use the experiences that we have had as stepping stones to help overcome adversity in our future lives."

Principal Loran G. Skinner advised the Class of 1980 to put their abilities, talents, goals and dreams together with hard work and dedication, as they continue to expand their knowledge so that life's successes and opportunities won't pass them by.

"Don't be afraid to stand out by putting your talents to use through participation and achievement," he said. "I congratulate you on achieving the milestone of a high school diploma, and I wish for each of you the best in your future."

Diplomas were presented to the graduates by Dr. Lloyd W. Harrell, Superintendent of Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. Dr. Harrell said, "It has been my honor and privilege to present diplomas to twelve graduating classes. This Class of 1980 is smarter, has more talent, and displays more skills than any of the other eleven. Why? Because their education and opportunities for learning, both in the formal setting and in the informal setting have been much greater."

er. They will be moving into leadership positions in the world of work, in the community; furthering their formal education and assuming their role as citizens in this great state of Indiana and this great nation."

David Rhoades addressing the audience on May 18.

"To the Class of 1980, I will say: Remember that education is the greatest liberating force. I encourage you to give freely of your time and efforts; to be unselfish and give back to education all that you can in whatever way your talents, skills and capabilities permit; making your dreams - and ours - come true."

The TVHS Band played "Pomp and Circumstance" for the introduction to the Commencement, and they concluded the program with their performance of "Cerebral Recessional."

The invocation was given by the Reverent Fred Landolt, minister of Silver Creek Church of God. The benediction was presented by the Reverent Robert Heckman, minister of the Mentone United Methodist Church. Contributors of Bibles were recognized by the Reverent Don Poyser, minister of Burket United Methodist Church. 1980 Senior Class officers are President Rick Sitts, Vice-President Jeff Murphy, Secretary Norma Knoop and Treasurer Christine Rhoades.

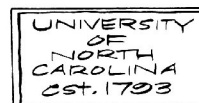

Each graduate received the Class flower, a yellow rose, as they departed from Tippecanoe Valley High School to make their dreams come true.

Trustees put building plans on hold because of the state of the economy and because the corporation will be changing superintendents. He stated there was, "the possibility of destroying a new administrator by dropping him in on a project of this size."

Trustee Lee Norris said possibly it would be best to make the decision before the new superintendent resumes responsibility, so the person could avoid the controversy that would surround any decision the board makes.

He suggested providing the architect with alternate, reduced guidelines, and he had suggestions that he had worked on since last Thursday's meeting. He proposed they could eliminate the new gymnasium at Akron and only add five new classrooms. They have already voted to move students from Akron to Burket, so another five classrooms would be freed, giving Akron an increase of ten classrooms. He also said they could reduce the new square footage from the proposed 35,000 sq. ft. to 27,000 sq. ft. at Mentone. The total cost reduction for just these changes would be over $2,500,000, and other changes could be examined to hold costs down.

Meredith Donahoe said the board should remember Davenport Associates had developed the plans with the BACs and using state requirements as guidelines. He read the minimum state requirements, but it was pointed out that state requirements could be waived slightly if there were existing buildings.

Vern Meredith moved to put the total project on hold indefinitely, and the vote was Norris and Don Snipes, no, Meredith, Everett Besson and Con Shewman, yes.

Meredith then said he felt all contracts concerning the building project should be cancelled. Norris stated there wasn't must to be gained by cancelling the contracts, as they would then be forced to start from scratch if and when they decide to pick it up again. After much discussion, they voted to direct the architects to wait for further instructions, with Meredith and Besson dissenting.

In other business:

*The board unanimously passed a resolution for additional appropriations for the budget that had currently been approved. Dr. Harrell showed proof that the School Board had advertised for additional appropriations for the cumulative building fund.

*Dr. Harrell reported no bids had been received on the building trades house on Jackson street in Mentone. The house has been appraised at $50,000, and by state law cannot be sold for less than 90% of assessed value, or $45,500. Bids will still be accepted.

*Board accepted recommendations of the hearing officer on two disciplinary actions, Vern Meredith casting the only dissenting vote.

*Approved a transportation contract to provide transportation for Dean McFadden, a student confined to a wheelchair. Everett Besson pointed out that his parents have always transported him at their own expense, and the board unanimously agreed on this item.

*The board approved new math books for the school system. Meredith questioned if it was their responsibility.

Winner to go to Miss Indiana Pageant

Nine girls vie for Miss Kosciusko title

One of the highlights of this year's Mentone Egg Festival will be on Friday, June 6, when someone will be named the 1980 Miss Kosciusko Pageant winner. This is the first time the franchise for a Miss Kosciusko has been held in our area, and the winner will go on to compete in the Miss Indiana Pageant in Michigan City at the end of June. There are nine contestants in this year's pageant.

Christine Beck, Warsaw, is 18 years old and just graduated from Warsaw Community High School. She will attend Ball State University in the fall, and she plans to major in journalism and communications. Christine's hobbies are writing, acting, debating and cheerleading. She was voted Most Valuable cheerleader at Warsaw, and she has won several speech and forensic awards. She will present a dramatic monologue from "The Shadow Box" in the talent portion of the pageant.

April L. Hoover, Rochester, graduated from Rochester High School this month and is 18. She hopes to build a career in modeling or to become an airline stewardess. April's hobbies include rollerskating, dancing, swimming, bicycling and rug hooking. While in high school, April was voted 'girl with the prettiest hair,' was a member of the drill team (captain two years), and won the 'best of show' in photography in an art show earlier this year. April will present a dance to "Rocky" for her talent.

Brenda Lynelle Iden, No. Webster, graduated from Wawasee High School this year and is also 18. She has had six years of piano lessons and two years of voice lessons, but she plans to enter ISU this fall to study for a BA in business management. Brenda counts singing, dancing, tennis and acting among her hobbies, and she has participated in district and state band contests, receiving gold in both Jazz Band and solo trumpet. In 1978 she was a candidate in the Miss Indiana National Teen-ager Pageant. For her talent competition, Brenda will present a dramatic reading from "The Bell of Amherst."

Norma Knoop, Mentone, is a 1980 graduate from our own Tippecanoe Valley High School, and she plans to attend IUPUI at Ft. Wayne to become a dental hygienist. Her hobbies include tennis, art, volleyball and basketball. Norma has been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and "Who's Who in Music," she was chosen as TVHS Homecoming Queen and she was an alternate to Girl's State. She will do a musical dance routine for her talent presentation.

Marcia Jo Miller, Claypool, graduated from Warsaw High School in 1978 and is 20 years old. She has attended IUPUI at Ft. Wayne as a part time student, but her future plans include attending Ball State University to get her teaching license in math and physical education. Marcia's hobbies are playing basketball and tennis and bike-riding. She was on the '76 and '78 state basketball championship team, and was a cheerleader and Hoosier Scholar. She presently works for the Whitko School Corporation in the Administration Office. Marcia will present "You Got Trouble" from "The Music Man" for her talent.

Christine Rhoades, Silver Lake, is another 1980 Tippecanoe Valley graduate, and she will be attending Manchester College this fall, majoring in elementary education. Christine has studied piano for nine years, and her other hobbies include tennis, sewing and reading. She was valedictorian of her graduating class, received a first place in the national OEA conference in April of this year, was cheerleader for four years, has been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students," was on the tennis team at TVHS, has won a number of music awards and has held offices in several clubs at school. For the talent competition, Christine will present a piano solo medley which she arranged.

Tracey Simpson, Mentone, graduated from Plymouth High School in 1979 and is presently attending IU at Bloomington, although she will attend Grace College this fall. She is majoring in psychology. Tracey's hobbies include reading, singing, piano and jogging. She was a member of the National Honor Society, the Thespian Society, Mu Alpha Theta (math honorary), and she has won several district and state writing and music awards. She will accompany herself on the piano as she sings "If You Walked Into My Life" for her talent entry.

Cindy Thurston, Warsaw, 1978

graduate of Lakeland Christian Academy is a sophomore at Grace College, although she plans to transfer to Ball State University to get a business degree and go into fashion merchandising. Cindy's hobbies are waterskiing, cross country skiing, tennis, and swimming. She was the captain of her cheerleading squad, student body president and vice-president of her class for three years. She models for the Winona School of Professional Photography. For the talent competition, Cindy will present "My Tribute" on the piano.

Linda Waikel, Lake Sharon, is a Warsaw High School graduate of 1979. She is attending IUPUI in South Bend, studying for a BS in architecture. Linda's hobbies are running, swimming and softball, and she was a three year letterman on the swim team and track team, participating in state competition in swimming. Housing project and water tower considered

by Richard Lynn

Plans to build apartments and paint the city water tower were studied May 20 at the monthly meeting of the Akron Town Board, and Joe Boswell inquired regarding availability of town sewage services for his home.

President Ron Fenimore presided over the meeting at the Akron town office. Town Clerk Ernest Smith and Board member Vernon Waymire were present.

Jo Ann and Ned Schuler, R. 2, North Manchester, reported on the garden apartments they will build on a two-acre plot north-west of the Akron Park, between the park and school.

Sixteen unit modular garden apartments will be available to all age groups, beginning next year or sooner. The Schulers are conducting a renting survey to determine the needs of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuler invited the Akron board members to drive around the proposed site in the near future.

Norman Noe of the Leary Construction Company, Greenfield, Indiana advised the town board regarding maintenance of the Akron water tower. Noe said the company has been in business for forty-four years. They have painted water towers in Rochester, Roann, Mentone, Silver Lake and Etna Green.

In the event of an emergency, Noe said the company's repair crew could be in Akron within three hours. He said the inside of the water tower is ten times as important as the outside, and should be painted this year to keep the tower in good condition. According to Noe, the exterior of the tower should be painted every ten years, and the inside should be painted every five years.

Akron's tower was painted on the inside in 1974 by another firm. After work began, the contractor discovered what he termed "additional needed repairs" amounting to $7500. The current board members explained to Noe that they don't want to be caught in that kind of situation this time. Noe assured the board that Leary Construction Company does not operate in such a manner, and there would be no hidden costs if they received the contract to paint Akron's water tower.

Leary's bid is $5295.00 to paint both the exterior and interior, and $3,450.00 to paint the interior of the tower. Their work carries a three year guarantee.

Noe suggests the interior of the tower be painted around Labor Day. The work would require two to three days. Painting the exterior of the tower would require five to seven days. Sway rods would be painted also.

The Board signed a contract to paint the interior and next fall they will make a decision about painting the exterior of the water tower.

Joe Boswell advised the board that he may want to solve his sewage problem by hooking on to the town sewer line. He was told that costs would have to be negotiated, but he would be able to receive benefit of the town sewage system for a reasonable fee.

The next board meeting is scheduled for June 24, at the Akron town office.

Jabberwocky

By Diana Stréevey Bucher

The other day I was skimming over some old Indiana Ordinance books, and I ran across some old statutes that I feel are still useful. There was one public indecency law that anyone over 14 who made an indecent exposure of his person in a public place or used or uttered any obscene or licentious language in the presence or hearing of any female, was guilty of public indecency. The fine: not less than $15 nor more than $100, and possibly up to six months in jail. We could put away 9/10th of the population with that one.

There were two ordinances pertaining to Sabbath breaking that I particularly liked also. The first stated that whoever was found on Sunday rioting, hunting, fishing, quarreling, at common labor or engaged in their usual avocation (except travelers, keepers of toll gates, ferrymen or news-persons) would be fined not more than $10. It was also a misdemeanor to watch or play baseball, football or any other game where a fee is charged or profits gained on Sunday. I think I'll head the drive to reinstate this law, and maybe I'll see Jill on Sundays again.

One other code that really caught my imagination concerned a traffic law. Anyone operating a motor vehicle had to have a suitable bell, horn or other signal and had to, upon approaching anyone, signal with horn or bell. I have met a lot of drivers on the road that I would love to shake a bell at and I'll bet you have too!

Mother-daughter banquet held

The Akron Church of the Brethren held their Mother-Daughter banquet at the church. Arlene Gearhart gave the welcome, and Louise Miller said grace before the meal.

The theme of the evening was centered around depression days. Individual tables each held a kerosene lamp and pages from the 1935 Sears and Wards catalogs were used for placemats. An old fashioned meal was prepared and served by Arlene Gearhart, Paulene Ryman and Gean Neher, hostesses. Each guest wore a bib apron. Edna Mae Shewman won a prize for wearing the oldest apron.

Paulene Ryman read a poem "What's A Mother?" Tributes to mothers and daughters were read by Mrs. Gearhart. Those receiving gifts were: Norma Weaver, mother with most children; Alisha Ryman, youngest daughter; and Vera Holloway, oldest grandmother.

The group sang "When There is Love at Home" and Mrs. Neher displayed and gave a description of several sets of depression glass dishes.

White Ribbon Recruit Service conducted WCTU

The Akron WCTU met in the Akron library on Tuesday evening, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting opened with the group singing "A Mother's Hymn". Mrs. Ellis Klein gave the devotions.

Mrs. Paul Bowen presented a check and a trophy to Teresa Weinick for winning first prize in the State Poster Contest.

A White Ribbon Recruit Service was conducted by Velma Bright and assisted by Mrs. Ray Doering. Mrs. Richard Slaybaugh was soloist and Mrs. Norman Tinkey was at the piano.

The following children were dedicated in this service: Carrie Ann and Kelly Lynn Fisher, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher;

Christopher Edward and Heather Jean Wilcox, children of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wilcox; Brent Frederick Bowser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowser; Michael Aaron Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kline; Marc Robert Ellenwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ellenwood; Eric Michael Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Love; and Tammie Marie and David Daniel Reese, children of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Reese.

Mrs. Garth Irey dismissed the meeting with prayer. A tea was then served from a table decorated in keeping with the spring season. Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Bowen, Mrs. Ray Doering, Mrs. Orville Ellis and Mrs. Garth Irey.

"What do you think the TVHS School Board should do about the building renovation project for the grade schools?"

Beverly Murphy, Akron:
 "My personal opinion is that they definitely need to get into the building project. The longer they put it off, the more it is going to cost. I don't know how the other schools are, but the Akron Junior High building is really bad. I think they should tear it down and add on to the grade school."

LuAnn Lantz, Mentone:
 "I don't think they should do anything. The buildings are still standing and large and in better shape than most grade schools. I think they're good enough."

Susan Hatfield, Burket:
 "I don't know the classroom situation at Akron and Mentone, but we are going to have to have more room, and the only way to do it is to add on. There are more kids coming up and I don't want to see overcrowded classes."

Orville Reese, Akron:
 "Sooner or later it seems we'll have to have a new school anyway, and it seems foolish to feed a lame horse, so to speak. They're going to do what they want anyway, regardless of what we think."

Diana

Linda England, Mentone:
 "We have talked it over and we'd like to keep the schools as they are right now. If they put more money into them and fixed up what needs to be fixed, they'd be alright."

Sadie Miller, Akron:
 "I think they should build a whole new school for the Junior High and renovate the grade schools. The Akron Junior High is a pretty old school and is unsafe."
