Area voters split tickets Tuesday

Merrill O. Kendall (R) Fulton Co. Clerk

With the exception of incumbent sheriff Dave Andrews, a Democrat, the Republicans swept all Republicans swept all major offices in Kosci-usko county Tuesday as voters in Fulton county split their tickets to split their tickets to make the strongest assault on the Fulton Co. Council in 50 years. Most other county offices, however, with the exception of incumbent recorder Lois Showley, a Democrat, who was reelected, went Republican. can.

Fulton County, part of the Fifth District, helped elect Elwood Hillis as the district's new Congressman. He will replace Richard L. Roudebush who resigned the position to seek the Senate seat held by Vance Hartke. The results of the Hartke-Roudebush race may not be known for several days as the final tabulation is so close that neither the determined the can be determined the winner.

Kosciusko county voted for Don Newman for Congress, but he was de-feated by incumbent Dem-ocrat John Brademas.

Most of the state offices went Democratic.
Superintendent of Public Instruction Richard Wells was defeated by a large margin by John Laughlin, So. Bend Dem-ocrat, in a race that ocrat, in a race that was followed closely in the area.

Brenda Niles Killed At Mentone

Brenda Kay Niles, 6year old daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Niles, Mentone, and Steve Niles, Brimfield, was killed Tuesday afternoon as she played on a bridge on State Road 19 at the south edge of Mentone.
The Mentone first grader reportedly darted into the fender of a car to the fender of a car driven by 17-year old Ronnie Patrick, R. 2, Claypool, as he swerved to avoid striking the girl's sister.

Patrick was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Armina Patrick, and his

"How to Start a Revolution"

The following treatise was written by Rev. Paul Bretscher, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Val-paraiso, and was printed in the Vidett-Messenger of Valparaiso. Rev. Bretscher was formerly on the teaching Staff at Valparaiso University.

Systematically draw out the emotional sensitivities of students and inflate their egos, until they thorough-ly and uncritically believe that a. They know more than any previous generation, and must therefore be wiser and more mature.

b. They have a right to be free and to resist as oppressive any authority that limits their freedom.

Regardless of personal immorali-es, they love more and are there-re more moral than any previous

Students will readily believe all its, for such compliments are easy swallow.

2. Inen a Marshal the evidences to prove (and there are always enough to make a persuasive case), that all traditional structures, whether political, eco-nomic, educational, or religious, are insensitive to people, selfish, intent on self-perpetuation, oppressive, and brutal toward the helpless.

b. Keep up the barrage of evidence and rhetoric, so that no one asks what the values of the structures have been, or how they came to function as they do, or how they developed out of the very nature of man as he is, or out of the needs of men in society.

or out of the needs of men in society.

c. Get students to imagine that, because they played no "decision- making" role in creating such structures of the students of the stu

d. Polarize society so that the de-sires and fears of the sensitive moral sires and fears of the sensitive moral element are magnified as the complete and eternal truth, and everything else becomes a conspiracy and list Then students will no longer listen to or weigh any argument that originates in the establishment, since they will know in advance that such argument must be hypocritical, selfserving, defensive, blind, and unworthy reasoned reply.

e. Convinced of their superior wisdom, knowledge, maturity, and moral integrity, and predisposed to believe anything that sounds sincerely loving and righteous, students will now be ready to equate the conscience of the revolutionary and their own conscience with the voice of God, and the voice of the establishment with the devil's. Obviously the thing to do with devils is not to, listen to them, but to mock, ridicule, contradict, hate, and shout them down—in the name of morality and love.

3. Masses of students are now ready to be manipulated, so long as the cause is good and moral. They will invest time, energy, money, even life, in the immediate effort to transform immoral society and to save the world.

a. Make it clear that the war is altogether a moral issue, and the only moral thing to do is to stop it right now! The administration is immoral and demonic as long as it continues the war. All godliness is on the side of those who answer reason with tears, anger, accusations, and massive protest against the establishment's "refusal to listen" to the students.

"refusal to listen" to the students. b. Arouse masses of students. Plead for non-violence but predict violence. Under cover and protection of the mass movement, start a building on fire. When the National Guard comes in, throw the first bottle or rock or spike, counting on a few others to follow with more of the same.

follow with more of the same.

c. Make it clear that the students are innocent. See that all the blame for violence, destruction and death, is laid at the door of the establishment. For the students are always wise, the establishment stupid. The students are moral, the establishment immoral. The students have noble ideas, the establishment only suppresses them. The students are mature, the establishment decadent. The students is uphold democracy, the establishment is tyranical, oppressive, brutal. The students are sensitive, the establishment insensitive. The students epitomize love, the establishment hate.

See that it occurs to no one that

See that it occurs to no one that perhaps the man who set fire to the Kent ROTC building, or the man who threw that first rock at the National Guard, was responsible for the deaths of those four students! See that it occurs to no one that the masses of students who fell into the emotional trap of believing they were wise and mature and loving and everybody else devil-possessed, and who could therefore be manipulated into a massive shield and cover for the revolutionary—see that no guilt attaches to them! For in 'their innocent! See rather that the burnings of buildings and the deaths of students become the occasion for more bitterness and hatred of the establishment, for one more act in the morality play!

4. Finally, see that no one prays.

in the morality play!

4. Finally, see that no one prays. See that worship and prayer, searching the Scriptures and hearing God speak is also regarded as a tool of the establishment. Collect all the texts which prove that true faith and Christiamity consists not in hearing God's Word, but in doing all those pious and moral and loving works for humanity in His name! Glorify the revolutionary violence of Jesus!

4. For then no one will think of ask-revolutionary violence of Jesus!

a. For then no one will think of asking what the common sin and folly of fallen man is, which turns every man against his brother. No one will ask what the wrath of God is by which He is crushing and tormenting our society and world with so many insoluble problems. Instead people keep shouting at and accusing one another across the great divide. And that is good! For then everybody can believe in how right he is, and no body has to bear the pain of being wrong. Then nobody has to undergo the humiliation and demoralizing indignity of throwing himself and his nation and world upon the mercies of the very God who is destroying us by ourselves.

b. Keep God out of it, for then every-ourselves.

b. Keep God out of it, for then everybody will keep seeing those poisonous serpents coming out of the ground and everybody will keep clubbing the snakes, and if the snakes are in other people everybody will club the other people! That is good! For then every man will be protecting his own dignity in the name of protecting others, and nobody will think to listen to God who says, "Look at the cross, where my Son died and where all the poison of the snakes and all their power to the snakes and peace. Look to Him —and LIVE!" rgiveness and peace. Look to and LIVE!"

—and LIVE!"

c. Keep God out of it Then when men are in the depths, they will not cry to God or wait for Him, but will rather fashion their own frantic salvations. God says, "Be still! Wait and see what I will do!" But they will call that immoral and insensitive and will wring their hands in tears crying, "What can we do? What can we do? And that is good! Let them cryintat way forever, until their futility and frustration drives them into despair and hell. pair and hell

That's the way of the revolutionary. Try it! It really works!

Take your problems to Church this week-

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man-that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Deaf Man Designs Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially or those persons who can It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low. ly low.

AS WORKMEN CONTINUE the construction of the sewer system in Akron, it is interesting to note some of the methods used. For one thing, laser beams are being used to help maintain the proper grade or fall of the lines. This is the first time the inspector on this job has worked with a company that uses the laser beam. Much of the rest of the work is done with heavy equipment as shown in this picture that was taken when the line past the NEWS office was laid. The crane is shown swinging into place a large concrete manhole.

THE MANHOLE IS seated on a base and the joints are then sealed. $% \left\{ 1,2,\ldots,4\right\}$

THE FINAL STEP is a cap for the manhole. Water in the background is the remains of a flood that resulted when workmen broke an eight inchwater main. NEWS photos.

THAIN SIRELF, Mentone, has changed somewhat since this early picture was snapped. A restaurant and city Meat Market stood where Frank Mfg. Co. is now located, the old town hall is visible and many other buildings have now changed. Also changed is the method of trans; rtation and the street sign and the building that now houses the post office and Teel's Restaurant—the list is endless. Picture countesy Harry Grubbs.

Mrs. Smith, wife of the minister of Grace United Methodist Church, using gave devotions gave devotions using the theme for the day which was designated by the United Nations, "Ed-ucation, Key To The Fu-ture". She stressed the thought that if each one would read one chapter of the Gospels a day, of the Gospels a day, it would make a great difference in our lives and one important Key is to give of ourselves in service. Mrs. Walter Burkett sang "My Creed" with Mrs. Robert Shafer as accompanist. Mr. Roy Fassett, manager of Geneva Center, was in-troduced and spoke on the premise of the theme that we live in a world community and our education must be aware of our world community and be an education of life, and it must take place and it must take place in an atmosphere of freedom and it is necessary to answer questions and also be able and alert to ask the "Why" of things, and to grow in education and learn "to live and let live". Farm Income Tax School Set

Keeping up with new Federal and State income Federal and State income tax rules and regulations sometimes poses a problem. The only things certain these days are death and taxes. And even tax rules and regulations for 1970 have been changed. Frank H. Miller, Area Management Agent, says the school is designed for persons who prepare income tax returns for others.

"While the schools will be generally oriented to preparing farm tax returns, there will be information relating to all types of returns," Miller adds.

Instructors for the schools are from the Indianapolis District, Internal Revenue Service and from the Indiana De-partment of Revenue. The instructors have had special training for the farm tax schools.

One high-interest topic for discussion at the Tax School will be 1969 Reform Act changes effect Indiana farmers--including regulations applying to losses, sale of farmland, livestock of different sexes and crop insurance proceeds.

The Indiana state income tax will also be high on the agenda.

the following books:
MAN, HAVE I GOT PROBLEMS by David Wilkerson
The author's parish stretches from coast to coast and into most every country in the world. He talks with college students, parents, ministers, teachers, businessmen. He talks with addicts, alcoholics, prostitutes, bookies and hippies. He knows what people are talking about when they say, Man have I got problems!

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING IMPERFECT by John Robert Clarke. While you enjoy this wise and witty book by a wellknown lecturer, you will learn how to--Increase your joy in life, Reduce your tensions and hostilities, Find new friends and new rewards in the real world around you. FURNACE OF THE LORD by Elisabeth Elliot. In the fall of 1967, the author visited Jerusalem to see for herself if the Israell victory in the Six-Day War had indeed brough about a new Jerusalem, in fulfillment of the Biblical prophecies of the Redemption of the Holy City. What she came away with is an intensely personal account of the city, its monuments and the suffering of its people.

all age groups.
The following new books are available at the Akron Carnegle Public Library.
ONLY ONE YEAR by Svetlana Alliluyeva. The tlana Alliluyeva. The five years that came between the writing of ONLY ONE YEAR and the writing of TWENTY LETTERS TO A FRIEND were, for Svetlana Alliluyeva, years of profound change——a long period of perplexity ended abruptly by an act of will; the decision to construct a totally new existance in totally new circumstances. That year of pain, discovery, turmoil and new hope reached its climac in the decision to break completely with the world of communism, to burn her back on her country, her children and her friends, and face the unknown world. It has the irresistable appeal of one human being's yearning for trutha profoundly touching record, speaking directly to the reader's heart.

MINE EYES HAVE SEEN

THE GLORY by Anita Bry-ant. As one of America's most dynamic members the Now generation, outspoken Anita Bryant insists on telling it like it is. With extraordinary humor and can-dor she tells about events which led her from her schoolgirl televis to the Miss ion shows America Pageant. She writes frankly and with extraordinary tenderness about her life with Ro-bert Einer Green, the tenderness handsome show business personality she married in 1960. Their love story, enhanced by their four "miracle" babies, brings the Anita Bryant story to a dramatic, hard-hitting climax that will stay close to your heart.

REMEMBER WITH ME by Ruth Lyons. This is, in short, an extraordinary book, filled with the spirit, the wit, the sentiment, and the courage that makes Ruth Lyons a truly extraordinary woman.

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF LEWIS AND CLARK by Gerald S. Snyder.

It pays to say nothing, provided you know when and where to say it.

MENTONE

Twelve members of the Mentone Unit 106 of Mothers of World War II met recently at the home of Mrs. Blanche Whitmyre in Roann for the November meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. Plans were made to attend the district convention at Akron on the 12th and on the 18th to meet at the Youth Building to fix Christmas boxes to be sent to the boys in service in and around Mentone who are overseas. A Christmas dinner will be held Dec. 2 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Young. There will be a $1.00 gift exchange.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boggs were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffis and Brad, Mr. and Chris, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Griffis and Mrs. Gilbert Griffis and Marion Boggs and Jo Ellen and Jeff Boggs. Kosciusko Red Cross Offers First Aid Courses

Mrs. Howard Funnell, 2, Warsaw, and Mrs. R. 2, Warsaw, and Mrs. Mack Zellers, Warsaw, First Aid chairman and assistant chairman for the Kosciusko Co. Chap-ter American National Red Cross, have announce ed organization of fall first aid courses.
Mrs. Funnell and Mrs.

Zellers believe that many people when they think of first aid think think of first aid think of splints, bandages, artificial respiration, stretchers and other things suggesting injuries and accidents. All of these are components of first aid, but to the Red Cross, first aid training encompasses much more. compasses much more.
The Red Cross defines first aid as the IMMEDIATE and TEMPORARY care given the victim of an accident, or sudden ill-ness, until the services ness, until the services of a physician can be obtained. This immediate and temporary care begins with reassurance by the victim, to relieve his mind and help his morale. A good Red Cross first aider deals, with the whole situation the person and the in-jury. He knows what to jury. He knows what to do and what not to do. Red Cross first aid training sharpens the desire for safety, focuses the attention on many specific ways to avoid accidents.

November On Monday. On Monday, November 16, the standard course will be offered at the Red Cross headquarters with Rev. Herbert Ed-wards and Maurice McDan-ial of Atwood as in-structors. Interested persons may register for the course and secure text books at the chap-ter headquarters, Warsaw.

standard course is now in progress at the Armstrong Products, Inc. with Mrs. Mark Zellers as instructor.

The Advance Course (16 hours) will be off-ered following comple-tion of the standard course.

Mrs. Funnell and Mrs. Zellers will organize other classes in other communities if eight or more people are interes-ted in taking the free educational course.

"We won't be rushed it, we won't be it, we won't be for schools alinto taxed ready built and we won't a part of a unit in the we do not have al representation," equal equal representation," were some of the reasons used for pulling away from the county unit. The fair sister to the north, Mentone, felt the same way about becoming a part of another county unit. unit, and while everyone still maintained there was no hurry, it was fi-nally agreed that "The people of Henry Township (Akron) are closely re-lated in many religious, social, cultural and economic activities with the people of Franklin and Seward townships townships (Burket-Beaver Dam) and many people in Newcastle township (Talma) have close ties with Harrison township people (Mentone) that a plan invol those schools would provide good, efficient and economical educa-tional systems for our school children and our school patrons will be a homogeneous group." Again there was no hurry as the corporation could not become a reality until another session of the Legislature could provide a law that would permit corporations orm across county lines then no one was in much of a hurry any way.

In the nearly ten years that have lapsed since the formation of the corporation, there has been no hurry. There have been waits for referendums, changes administration, m auministration, more votes, new boards. The other corporations have decided on a solution to their problems and more to their problems and have built accordingly, expanding their curri-culums at the same time.

When the question,
"What are we going to do?" was raised by a board member at Monday night's school board meeting, another member moved, as he has done in the past, that the moved, as he has done in the past, that the superintendent present proposals and estimated needs of the corpora-tion. The only real decision reached by the other board members, however, was "There is no hurry." This has become the theme of the meetings. No hurry.

No hurry when the future of our children is ure of our children is at stake? Second graders when the corporation formed have graduated, realizing little benefit from the re-organization; kindergarteners face the same prospect. No hurry when we still lack room to have remedial program except during the summer? No hurry when we still have no speech therapy? No hurry when we have over-crowed classrooms, gyms that are too small? No hurry when seniors take college entrance examand are faced with material they never heard of or when a college freshman writes her mother, "We have a language lab this week. What do you suppose it is? The rest of the kids seem to know." No hurry when we are still told there is "no hurry" to rush into an area vocational school and when attempts at an area special education school re still treated in a no hurry' manner al-

there are many though could benefit from them. (In our corporation 40% go to college but that other 60% shocollege education.) No not equal when more of the greatest in the world are kids looking to us, we socalled adults, for an education that will en-able them to keep pace in a complex world that is no longer bounded by for an brick schools, church and home but by the wh-ole universe itself.

The question of one school or two schools is not relevant, although it has been the basis for the whole "don't hurry" attitude. What hurry" attitude. What is relevant are those 2,000 kids, and, unlike our sewer problems, the can't be flushed into stream or a lake until a more appropriate time. They need something now. Ann Sheetz

I don't mean a highly perfected rou-tine that enables me to do all these things well little effort. I should be so lucky. What I have is a routine that includes reading the horoscope columns of many daily papers. (I read the other parts too, but the important things must come first.) favorite horoscope column is the one that tells me what to expect out of a coming day. For instance, yesterday it suggested that today nt suggested that today would be a good day to study philosphy.

I laughed, of course. Day after school board meeting. Busiest day of the year who has meeting. Busiest day of the week. Who has time to study philosotime to study philosophy? I do, that's who. Not only did the day go badly, I now find myself with time on my hands. I am literally stuck. Not stuck by a routine or stuck like a crisis in the winter snow, aggravation in the spring mud or fun in the summer sand. I am stuck in my dress, and I suppose there is nothing to do except wait for Loren work with a pair of pliers with a pair of pliers and get me out of this monstrosity.

Monstrosity.

And since the hour is late, very late, I have time to wonder who invented the zipper and who decided they should be in the backs of dresses. What do bachelor girls do? The irony of my present problem is that mage the dress myself, carefully and neatly stitching the long zipper in the back. I wasn't as neat with the sleeves and I have never liked the dress; yet the thought of cutting it off does not appeal to me. I'm too practical to cut it off, practical to cut it off, too conservative to go to bed with it on and too tired to try the pliers myself. The boys have been asleep too long and I dare not risk waking them for the great adventure of trying to unzip Mama. I may be stuck but I'm not desperate.

It has even given me the opportunity to read to-morrow's horoscope philosophically and in a more serious vein than yesterday's was read. yesterday's was read. The stars say that the day is to be very nega-tive; I should beware of accidents at home and on the road. After being philosophical all day and trying to grin as I sit here all night in a creature of stuck in a creature or my own design, I guess it is fair to suggest that tomorrow might be slightly negative.

The only positive thought I can think of right now is that by hook or crook, I'm going to have to become a creature of a new habit. I'm not philosophical enough to put up with much more of this negative feeling even before the day begins. But if I don't get out of this dress pretty soon...

Mrs. J. W. Swick To Celebrate 92nd Birthday

By Clara Yeamar

An Akron resident, Mrs. J. W. Swick, will observe her 92nd birthday tomorrow.

The daughter of Bartley and Magdalena Summe, she was born in Zweisimmen, Switzerland on November 20, 1878. The family, consisting of the father, mother and eight children (two other children were buried in Switzerland), immigrated to this country in the fall of 1881, leaving Zweisimmen on October 11 on the French steamer. "America." and arriving at Castle Garden, New York City, on October 26. They then came by train to Silver Lake, arriving Nov. 1, 1881. Mrs. Swick was three years old at that time, and her parents told her that she cried all the way. Reaching Silver Lake, they went to the home of Mrs. Wm. Regenos, a sister of Mrs. Swick's father, who had come to America earlier and had married here. Soon the family went to a farm near Beaver Dam and started housekeeping for the first time in America.

first time in America.
After five years, they sold and bought a farm near Germantown, which was near Hill Lake, north of Silver Lake. The children went to a school named Flat Rock and they all attended church at Germantown. The buildings are now gone but there is still evidence of the cemetery. The older children all spoke German when they started to school, but by the time Mrs. Swick was old enough to go to school, she and a younger brother who was born in America, had learned enough English that they progressed faster and were able to obtain their education by the time they finished the prescribed eighth year. With eleven in the family, it was a heavy load when the daily pay was one dollar and a quarter. The children walked to school and when the weather was bad, in lieu of overshoes which they could not afford, they pulled stockings over their shoes.

Mrs. Swick, the former Louise Summe, was married to J. W. Swick on Oct. 8, 1898. He died in 1945. They always lived in the vicinity of Akron, finally moving to town. They were blessed with eight children, four boys and four girls, and also raised adaughter of Mr. Swick's by a previous marriage whose mother was a cousin to the new Mrs. Swick. She was as near and dear to her as her own children. She is Mrs. Estil (Ocie) Perry of Traverse City, Mich.

Mrs. Swick's own children are Mrs. Orlan (Faye) Carte, wife of a retired banker, Charleston, W. Va.; Dowe Swick, an ex-mail man, Rosedale, Ind.; Everett, a farmer near Burket; Mrs. Arthur (Lena) Kuhn, a teacher in the Akron school; Jay, a farmer near Akron; Dale, a college teacher at Carbondale, Ill.; Mrs. Lester (Dorothy) White, a farmer's wife who lives near Rochester; and Mrs. Leo (Annabelle) Anglin, a teacher at Milford. Arrest 3 For Radio Theft

Three Silver Lake area youths, aged 16 and 17, were released to the custody of their parents after being booked at the Kosciusko Co. jail late Friday in connection with the theft of a radio and their subsequent escape from the Burket marshal, John Huff, late Wednesday. The three also admitted stealing stereo tage

The three also admitted stealing stereo tape cartriges from several other vehicles in the county. The tapes and the citizen band radio were recovered. The boys were turned over to their parents to await action by juvenile authorities.

Kewanna Wins Over Mentone

By Alan Welch

Mentone dropped to their second loss of the season at the hands of the Kewanna Indians, 80-58. The fast-break attack of the Indians proved to be too much for the slow, deliberate attack of the Indians proved to be too much for the slow, deliberate attack of the Bulldogs.

According to the statistics, the gmae was pretty close. Mentone made 25 out of 57 from the field for 44% while Kewanna hit 29 out of 55 attempts for 53%. Mentone out-rebounded Kewanna, 33-27, but committed 28 errors to 20 for the Indians. Free throws again in this game were the determining factor as the Bulldogs attempted 21 and made only 8 for 38%. Kewanna, however, made 22 out of 30 at a 73% clip.

Mentone again jumped off to an early lead, 6-0, but Kewanna came back and tied it at 7-7. It was a nip and tuck battle from then until the end of the first quarter when the Indians pulled in front for good, 13-12. By half-time, the Kewanna team had pulled out to a comfortable eight point lead, 34-26. The rest of the game was Kewanna's even though the Bulldogs never gave up. In the fourth quarter, the Mentone boys showed a lot of hustle and that kept the final margin from being even greater.

Tim Peffley was the high scorer for Mentone

Tim Peffley was the high scorer for Mentone with 14 points. One bright spot in the Bull-dogs future is their 48% field goal shooting average.

The B-team contest was typical of a Mentone game. The score was tied at half time 14-14 and in the second half the Indians pulled out to what appeared to be a comfortable eight point lead with around two minutes left. Then Mentone came back with a great rally that fell short by two at the final buzzer in a game that got wild at the end. Leading scorer was Gerry Baber of Mentone with 16. Hizer was high for Kewanna with 12.

for Kewanna with 12.
The next game is Friday at Argos.

Akron Sets Sandra Summe Homecoming Game To Speak

Akron High School's annual homecoming game will be Wednesday, Nov. 25, when the Flyers play Kewanna. Alumni of Akron, Beaver Dam and Talma schools are invited to the event. Former athletes and cheerleaders will be admitted to the game by showing their honor jacket, honor sweater or a school letter which they have been awarded. Each high school class will display a float which they have constructed and the homecoming king and queen will be crowned during the evening. The "B" team game will begin at 6:45 p.m. with the varsity game following at 8 pm.

Public-Private Support Strengthens 4-H Programs

Representing the public and private sectors in support of 4-H are Mrs. Shirley Carlson, The Sperry and Hutchinson Company; Dr. E. Dean Vaughan, Extension Service, USDA; J. Roger Lennartson, Westinghouse Electric Corporation, and Norman C. Mindrum, National 4-H Service Committee, the nonprofit educational organization which performs a liaison function performs a liaison function.

Last year about 4-million boys and girls 9 to 19 years of age received technical as well as practical training in 4-H and related programs.

With cooperation and support of business and government, the "learning-by-doing" educational program has expanded and become a vital organization for urban as well as rural youths.

This year enrollments are expected to be at the highest point ever as young people every.

ever as young people everywhere find 4H flexible and to their liking.
They meet in groups or clubs, work on self-determined projects and activities, learn through special 4H television series and independent study. And 4H'ers are encouraged to proceed in their educational activities and projects as far and rapidly as they desire.

Over the years the private sector has assisted 4H youths in their quest for knowledge, fun and fellowship. Through the National 4H Service Committee, corporations, foundations and individuals have been encouraged to share their technical expertise, to provide educational materials and visual aids. These donors also have found incentives and recognition useful in motivating young people.

This year nearly 60 donors are providing 4H youths with challenging inspiration and recognition. Awards will include medals

Take your problems to Church this week -

CHILDREN SHOULD KNOW WHAT THE CHURCH MEANT TO THEIR FOREFATHERS

It is laudable to have children of these United States impressed with the history of the Nation by having them take part in plays and pageants such as the Thanksgiving of the Pilgrims depicted above. It is also fitting to have the birthday anniversaries of the nation's great men so celebrated in schools and even kindergartens.

It is important that all children should have impressed upon their minds the heroic part the early settlers played in building America. It is also important that they should know of the role played by the Church and of how it influenced their deeds and actions. They should America and of now it influenced their deeds and actions. They should know that all early settlers braved tremendous hardships to come to America and remain, though many of them succumbed within a short time from the rigors of their new life. By such teaching the children may gain the knowledge and the spiritual experience of the sustaining help attendance at church can mean in their lives and what they owe the Church for their heritage.

Winterize Swine Operations

Ind. For Lafavette. maximum performance and pen-profits, tune up your A tune up your operation before cold weather starts, advises Vernon B. Mayrose, Purdue University extension swine specialist.

Young pigs exposed to roung pigs exposed to cool temperatures, damp floors or wed bedding, and chilling drafts of-ten develop scours and become unthrifty. To provide warmth use heat lamps, pads or hovers and make certain sleepareas are dry and ing aft free.

Growing-finishing hogs pasture, in dry lot open front buildings should have shelter that will protect them from inclement weather and a dry bed of straw, ground corn cobs or shavings. Consider installing ra-diant heaters with th-ermostats in open front buildings if bedding is not used.

Growing-finishing hogs completely closed housing must have proper ventilation to make the best use of available boy heat and to remove moisture laden air.

Water is probably the cheapest and most important nutrient for for vine, and hogs will dr ink about two pounds of water for each pound of feed they eat. Limited water consumption lowers feed efficiency and raises costs. One water cup should be provided for every 20-25 hogs and automat hogs and automat-unds should be supic founds plied heat with a reliable source to prevent freezing.

Self feeders should be in good repair. Make certain they can be ad-justed to prevent feed wastage.

Better performance results when pigs are grouped according to size with a maximum of 25 per 16 percent protein A 16 percent protein ration should be fed pigs weighing from 40 to 75 pounds. From 75 to 125 pounds, they should receive 15 per cent protein and from 125 pounds to market the pounds to market the protein level may be reduced to 12 to 14 per cent. Heavy muscled hogs require more protein than fatter hogs, the specialist explains.

And, finally, Mayrose recommends a daily check of all equipment, such as feeders, waterers and ventilating and heating units, to head off prob-lems before they affect production efficiency.

Some people are like buttons--always popping off at the wrong time.

THE CRUSADERS, a student team from Grace College, Winona Lake, will be presented in a special service Sunday, December 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Mentone United Methodist Church as part of that church's special Advent series. The ten-voice, male ensemble, under the sponsorship of Professor Donald Ogden, will sing sacred selections representing such styles as folk song, spiritual, gospel song and hymm. Many of the selections will be acappella; others will be occompanied by the piano or guitars. Brass instruments will be featured in solos and ensembles. The team is making seventy appearances in a ten-week coast to coast tour. Their presentation includes a "positive plan for the active involvement of every person in a meaningful role in our highly impersonal society." The only formal demonstrations at Grace College this past year have been in support of the American servicemen who are defending the cause of freedom in the world and a week of patriotic emp hasis called "Americans for America" week. The public is cordially invited to attend the local service and to talk personally with these collegians, according to Rev. L. E. Todd, pastor of the church.

NORMAN BENSON, an employe of General Telephone Company, pauses as he reconstructs a telephone cable that was accidently snapped by workers installing Akron's new sewage system.

COMPLETE LINE OF BUILDING SUPPLIES 14 Mile East on State Road 14 - Rochester, Indiana Thanksgiving Day 1970 so observe Thanksgiving

This is a time when it seems that most human energies are devoted to kicking or complaining. therefore doubly is satisfying to welcome, once again, that good old traditional holiday Thanksgiving. Giving thanks on the fourth Thursday in November always conjures up a picture of the Pilgrims and other early settlers and the legendary hardships they faced in the wild-erness of North America.

It is well to rememb-that North America in the early 1600's was not the United States, and the people who came here then knew only that were in a hostile wilderness. With this same historical experience, our Canadian i g hbors to the north alDay, although their day of thanks is the second Monday in October. At any rate, Thanksgiving is a day when the kickers and complainers should make themselves scare while we take stock once more of the many blessings that are many plessings that are part of living in this great land we now call the United States. We have material blessings in abundance for which we should duly give thanks. But, our greatest blessings are beyond measuring on the scales of monetary value. Some of these are religious and political liberties, the right to our day in court, the sanctity of homes, persons and pro-

Many of the complainers hold these things in low esteem, perhaps occause they take them for granted or are too poor in spirit to app-reciate them. Thanksgiving, however, is a day that helps to en-rich the lives of everyone, and there is no-thing like an old-fash-ioned Thanksgiving turkey to stimulate appreciation of the good things that we are privileged to enjoy.

Mr. Howard Wakely drove over to Roann last Sunday to visit his affiancee Miss Ella Seitner, as has been his custom for some time. During the early part of this visit they made up their minds to get a nuptial knot tied and tied at once and cut out the long tedious trips he had been making. Accordingly, they went to Wabash Monday morning, went to the clerk's office after dinner, secured the proper credentials, called in a Squire and the happy twain were united as one in a minute.

Billie Ditzler is making marked improvements in his saw mill that we hail with delight. He has contracted for two motors from the Winona Interurban company-one 45 horse power with which the new saw will be run and another motor of about fifteen horse power with which he will propel other machinery in the mill. Both motors and the elegant new saw will be installed within a few days. The Winona Company will then furnish the electrical power to run the mill and danger of fire, or boiler expenses cut out.

Speakers for the program included the pres-ident of the Better Bus-iness Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, a representative from th resentative from the Food and Drug Administration, a member of Nadar's Raiders, and the Associate Director of the Office of Consumer Education. I would like to share with you some of the main points of the main points of the speakers.

Doris Sasser from the Office of Consumer Education cautioned us concerning dangerous toys. With Christmas coming up many of us will be pur-chasing toys for our children or those of friends and relatives. We need to be especially careful to check the toys for labels identithe materials us-n the toy and the

Try Duckling This Holiday Season

Calculated to stir the appetites of the male members of your family and your dinner guests during the holiday season is this currant jelly glazed duckling with a stuffing of tart apple wedges and whole prunes.

Reminiscent of the hearty triumphs from Grandmother's day, the fruit stuffing complements the superb flavor of the duckling, making it truly fine fare. The currant jelly glaze adds distinctive flavor and gives the duckling an elegant appearance.

Duckling is easy to prepare and serve. Your guests, savoring every morsel, will mark your dinner party as a truly memorable occasion.

Repair of Leaky Faucets Can Reduce Water Bill

The average homeowner needlessly waster tremendous amount wastes water every day, accord-water every day, according to Akron Water Dept.

Water waste is caused by not turning facets off fully or by small leaks in faulty water valves and faucets. For example, a pinhole opening 1/32 inch in diameter, will cause 170 gallons of water to be wasted in 24 hours with a water pressure of 40 wasted in 24 hours with a water pressure of 40 pounds. A 1/16 inch leak wastes 970 gallons of water in 24 hours and a 1/8 inch leak wastes 3,600 gallons in a 24 hour period.

Even if each leak is so small as to be almost unnoticeable, the total number of leaks in a home can mean a great amount of water being lost.
