Akron Democrat and Republican candidates make appearance at latest board meeting

The Akron town board meeting, held Tuesday, Oct. 25, was attended by all the candidates running for the positions of board members in the upcoming November elections, with the exception of James Hodges (R · Ward 2). Those candidates who were present were Democrats Richard Drudge, Jack Miller and Jerry Hudson and Republicans Phil Allen and Joe Day.

The first item on Tuesdays agenda also raised the most controversy among current board members. President Ron Fenimore relayed a request to members Vernon "Bud" Waymire and Dr. Charles Smith regarding water meters for a new apartment building (on the corner of S. Cherry and E. Arthur streets) being constructed by Roy Swartz.

According to Pres. Fenimore, Swartz has requested the town install one large meter that will register the water used by occupants in all three apartments. He (Swartz) would then buy three smaller meters and charge his tenants individually according to their usage. Reason behind this request, reported Fenimore, was so Swartz could install a single water softening unit to handle all three apartments instead of installing separate units.

Clerk-Treasurer Ernest Smith questioned whether this would be a practical arrangement, pointing out that similar arrangements in the past had not worked. Waymire agreed, sayung past problems in this area had been too great. He reminded everyone of a situation whereby one landlord had regularly collected water fees from his tenants, but had not paid the money to the town. His failure to do so had resulted in a water shut-off and eventual lawsuits

Dr. Smith merely commented, "On the surface, this sounds all right," but added, "it doesn't always work out that way."

After further discussion, Fenimore called for a motion to grant Swartz's request. Miller moved to do so, with the stipulation that the agreement between Swartz and the board be placed in writing, but Waymire refused to second the motion. The motion was tabled until the matter can be investigated further. The controversy prompted Democrat candidate Drudge to comment, "You've got to worry about the town of Akron and not the individual's interest of how much it costs him to get it (water softener) in."

Clerk Smith reported to the trustees that he'd received two letters from representatives of TeleNational Communications (TNC), the company granted a cable television franchise earlier this year. In a letter dated August 15, Smith received a certificate of insurance for the town for TNC. Shortly thereafter, Smith added, received word from Public Service that they'd been contacted about the possibility of TNC using existing poles for the cables. However, in a letter dated September 20, TNC informed the trustees that problems in organization has put everything on hold for 45 days while they reorganize their plans. At the end of that time, they promised to notify the

Mentone Library sets up genealogy system

"It sounds morbid digging through obituaries, but actually it's very interesting," said Linda Oden, Mentone.

Oden works at the Bell Library in Mentone. She helps genealogists out. Oden has worked the past three years at the library going through old newspaper copies from The Mentone Gazette, which took in Fulton, Kosciusko, and Marshall counties, and is presently digging through old copies of The Northen Indiana Co-Op News.

"The first thing I do is to find the Obituary and find the proper name, age (if given), date of death, town or county death occurred, place of birth, parents, spouses, surviving relatives, cause of death (if given), and where the burial took place," Oden said.

After Oden copies all this in-

After Oden copies all this information from the old newspapers she transfers it to an index card in the genealogy card index, which is located in the back of the reference section at the library.

In just three short years, Oden has worked through Obituaries dating from 1885-1951.

"When I first started doing this, in the first couple of months, I began reading about a scarlet fever epidemic. I would read one Obituary and three weeks later I'd read about the rest of the brothers and sisters dying from scarlet fever.

I left the library sometimes wanting to cry." During this time Oden said that many of the families couldn't have the funeral at their home because of the epidemic and the family couldn't attend the funeral.

"I think the one thing that upsets me the most is in the case of women getting married. She gets lost in the shuffle, and loses her name because she gets married." One example, Mrs. John Doe died Saturday evening

Last Sunday more than five hundred people called at the home of Mrs. Salome Myers in honor of her birthday anniversary. It is marvelous to count one hundred and four birthdays. The years covering a span of time so important in the development of the United States. Of these events Mrs. Myers can give an account home occupied by herself and daughters is a typical replica of pioneer cabins. Many times I have been told by pioneers of the cabin they built in the wilderness, of the white washed ceilings and beams, how clean they were, the comfort enjoyed by the fireside. and the happiness dervied knowing they were preparing the way for better days. The home of Mrs. Myers should impress all visitors with the courage and determination possessed by pioneers and early settlers, the hardships endured to establish and maintain American homes. A visit with Mrs. Myers proves that her vision as a responsible Christian American homekeeper has been nobly fullfilled

Carr reports insurance improvement

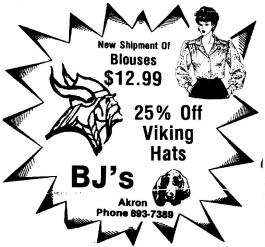

A big improvement in Federal Crop Insurance's Individual Yield Coverage Plan (IYCP) was made in 1983, according to Homer Carr, Akron Field person, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Additional coverage may now be provided to farmers who produce above the county average yield, without extra premium charge. What this means, added Carr, is that farmers may purchase realistic crop insurance coverage at a very reasonable cost.

To be eligible for the additional coverage of the IYCP program, the farmer must have at least the last three years production records for the crop he wishes to insure. These records are verified by an ASCS county office after an application is made with a local crop insurance agent.

Insurance agents offering crop insurance in your area may be determined by calling the toll free number 1-800-447-4700 or by calling a county ASCS office.

The drought this year has dramatically increased the number of inquiries about crop insurance and IYCP, Carr reported. Applications are being accepted for spring crops, and details of the IYCP program are being explained by insurance agents.

Premiums are reduced up to 30% through government subsidies, and the agent's commission and administrative costs are absorbed by the government. The premium paid by the farmer is tax deductible

Mentone Genealogist

Several of Oden's cards are missing the wife's first name, just because it isn't listed in the Obituary, Oden said she has seen several nanges of writing styles. "What changes of writing styles. they wrote back in the 1800's and early 1900's was more eloquent, more flowery. They worked with new vocabulary, and used it in their writing. Now journalists are more to the point. They say what they have to say in as few words as possible."

Oden referred to the graphic details in the older obituaries. She pointed out one during the News interview. A lady in her young twenties committed suicide, and in the obituary it listed how, (graphically), where it had happened and what she had been doing before the act. "This was a little too graphic for me," Oden

But, I do feel that the cause of death is necessary to list. In future generations people may die of the same thing as great-great-grandma did." Oden went on to say, "This could help in future diagnoses."
"I do enjoy what I'm doing. It's very interesting, and I'm not sure, but I think Mentone is about the only library around here that has this system. I make it much ear er for the genealogists.'

Oden began working for the library after she had written a column, "Mentone, Our Home Grows," in The Akron-Mentone News during Mentone's Bi-Cen-tennial celebrations. "I enjoyed digging through those dusty old newspapers and that's how I got started at the library.'

Mrs. Mary Carney daughter Sherri and her two children and a grandson of Lowell were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller.

Akron board of their plans. Smith also read a letter he'd received by certified mail from Ada Bragg, La Fontaine, con-cerning the sidewalks at the downtown intersection at SRs 19 and 114. According to the letter, the pedestrian crossings at all corners of the intersection hazardous and should corrected. On September 10, she asserted, she slipped at crossing in front of Harris Drug Store, spraining both ankles and tearing ligaments. As of the time she sent the letter, Bragg reports whe was still on crutches.

The major problem, she wrote, was that there are no markings on the top step of the curb she fell from Marshal David Kruger informed the board members that Bragg had been to see him toward the end of September and was on crutches. He noted, however, that at that time her husband commented on the fact Mrs. Bragg had recently had cataract surgery.

After discussing the matter, trustees accepted Kruger's offer to stencil the top step in front of Harris' store with the warning Watch Your Step.

In other business, board noted the Indiana Department of Highways has issued a parking re striction on SR 19, just south of of the downtown intersection, in front of the GTE building for a distance of 86 feet. Reason cited for the restriction was that cars parked there create a hazard for other drivers using SR 19. Smith reported he'd received notification from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) concerning a water analysis taken from Stephen's Garage in July this year. (According to EPA regulations. Akron was to have one unannounced water check between Oct. 1, 1982 and Sept. 30, 1985.) Results of the EPA's test showed water in Akron is within acceptable health levels.

Day asked how this test compares to weekly water samples analyzed by the State, and Dr. Miller explained it's much more thorough, and used to determine if long-term use of the constitutes a health hazard.

Smith informed trustees that the State Tax Commissioners approved the proposed 1984 town budget without changes.

Waymire reminded other

Trustees that the Dr. Kenneth E. Hoff and Dr. Virgil C. Miller memorials still need to be permanently set, but Kruger and Allen reported Pike Lumber will set the memorials under the direction of John Weida. Board members agreed Saturday, Nov. 5, would be the best day for the Miller dedication ceremony. Smith read a letter he ceived from Howard Utter, Akron, concerning speed limits on SR 19 by the school and the hazard this presents for children. He requested signs be placed to notify drivers coming into Akron that it is a school zone. Trustees requested Kruger contact the State Highway Engineer from Fort Wayne to assess the situation,

Trustees received the police report for the month tember. It included: 1702 miles patrolled, four accident investi-

funeral escort, six arrests, five motorist assists, six county assists, one state police assist, one fire department assist, and one court appearance.

Next meeting of the board will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the town offices.

Akron Anecdote

At last week's Akron town board meeting, Clerk-treasurer Ernie Smith read a letter re-ceived from resident Howard Utter (President of Pike Lumber Co.) Utter had written an earlier letter to the trustees requesting information about the cost of a water filter for the town's water department.

Dr. Charles Miller and Bud Waymire had sent an estimate of the filter to Howard, informing him the cost of an iron filter was $300,000, while a water softened would cost $750,000.

Howard returned this estimate to Ernie, and across the top was written, "For $300,000 I could drink out of the lagoon.

Tight budget plagues Mentone Town Board

As 1983 approaches its end, Mentone's budget woes are increasing, as evidenced at last Monday's regular board meeting. In addition to the present budget-juggling necessary to meet current expenditures, Clerk Kate Whetstone reported Mentone's assessed evaluation had once again dropped, this time by $22,000.

Whetstone informed trustees she'd met with the State tax commission and had received an adjusted figure of $96,406 for the 1984 general fund, down from the requested $115,000. This information came after an evening of searching through the remaining 1983 funds to find monies to cover bills through the year.

One request for funds came

One request for funds came from Water Superintendent Steve Shand. In gathering estimates for painting stripes on the street and curbs, he'd discovered the town could purchase a striper for little more than they'd pay a contract to work was $400, while a new striper could be purchased for $495.

After thoroughly discussing the matter, Shand was authorized to purchase the striper if he cannot find a used model.

Marshal John Hart was also authorized to purchase two snow tires for the police car after presenting estimates from two local service stations. Trustee Wayne Tombaugh, Frank Hardesty and Jim Miller also approved Hart's request to purchase a rechargable flashlight for the police car. Cost of the flashlight will be taken from a cash gift given to the town for the police department.

Unlike Akron's last board meeting, only one challenging board candidate appeared at the meeting. Ward 3 candidate Will Wagner (R) attended the meeting, as well as incumbents Miller (D, Ward 3) and Tombaugh, (R, Ward 2).

In other business: Wayne Bowser and George Reed request-ed temporary permission to set a mobile classroom on the back lot of the Baptist Church, to be used as a classroom. The trailer wouldn't have water, sewage or gas hook-up, but would have an electrical hook-up.

Board members and attorney Lee Bazini advised them they'd need to go to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance, as the town's policy restricts new mobile structures within city limits. Deputy Russ Hart reported the State also has an ordinance restricting mobile structures.

Jim and Linda Olden informed board members they're still having trouble with drainage at their home. After lengthy discussion about the problem and the steps already taken to correct it, candidate Wagner offered an explanation about air vents and how they should be installed to be effective. Oden said he'd try Wagner's suggestions and report back to the board.

Bob Whetstone requested the trustees pass an ordinance prohibiting burning of leaves on blacktopped surfaces. Pointing out that people were burning leaves all over town on the blacktop, he felt it could only cause eventual damage to the surface.

Board instructed Clerk Whetstone to make a partial payment of $2200 to the firm Umbaugh for their work on water estimates. A total of $4555 is owed the company.

Marshal Hart reported he'd received the new stop signs. They'll be installed near the school.

Bazini informed board members has 14 acres of land adjacent to the cemetery for sale.

Trustees voted to pay Marie Rathbun $50 for her work with park scheduling last summer.

Trustees received the October report from Marshal Hart. The department logged 1,256 miles while answering 31 calls. They received a total of 121 calls for the month and handled four accidents. The report also included: four vandalism complaints, three disturbances, three thefts, two dog complaints, four information calls, one harassment complaint

Annual Fish Fry Still A Very Popular Event..

The Mentone Conservation Club held its annual fish fry at the school building Tuesday evening and every indication was that it was one of the most enjoying ones ever to be held. Well over 200 gathered to partake of the boun-teous repast and if anyone went home still hungry for fish it was his own fault.

The Jonah Club, through the state for its fish-frying ability, did not injure their reputation a bit Tuesday night. The Jonah Club is growing, too, judging by the program put on by Jonah Chief "Skinney" Higgins and his brother Jonahs. Four applicants for membership were given the first degree. ("Skinney" stated that the club's requirements are very rigid and the subsequent degrees increase in intensity.) Raymond Lash was chosen as a candidate because of his fish-cating ability while Hobart Creighton came in a close second. Les Ball was adjudged the noisiest while eating (so noisy, in fact, that second was not chosen), and Lyndes Latimer was selected as the "Man they'd like to be stranded on a fishing trip with. The Jonah Abdominal Inspector took numerous "Depth Soundings," etc. of the applicants to determine not only the evening's comsumption but the potential capacity of each. (He even found a piece of fish in Applicant Ball's pocket which he evidently had hoped to have as a lunch while hunting the next day.) The In spector admonished Raymond Lash, claiming he had "two beers" before coming to the fish

At the regular business session. secretary Paulus gave a financial report and President Mollenhour gave a brief report of the material assets of the club.

Rain, snow, and bad weather have held up the resurfacing of the runway at the Mentone Air-port. The Mentone Chamber of Commerce project for 1967 has been to financially support the improvement of the runway, as the present runway is inadequate for year-round use. The airport has been leased to the Town of Mentone Board of Aviation Com missioners, so that it will be available for public use and so that funds may be raised for its improvement. Many benefits to the community can be foreseen from improvement of the airport and examples of other communities supporting airports as much greater cost can be seen in several neighboring communities.

Work on the resurfacing can be started as late as December 1st However, the number of good weather days until December 1st are numbered. If work is not started by December 1st, it will be postponed until weather permits in the spring.

At a fund raising committee meeting Friday evening, it was reported that over $5,000 has been raised, including the Men-Chamber of $2,000 contribution and proceeds from the Airport Benefit Fish Fry. Mentone students win '83 State Champion Physical Fitness Award

Junior high students at Mentone were recently informed they've been awarded the 1983 State Champion Physical Fitness Award. The award was granted by the President's Council of Physical Fitness and Sports and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

To win the award, Mentone had the highest percentage of students between the ages of 10 and 17 qualify for the Presidential Fitness award. Mentone is one of three chools who received the award in different enrollment categories.

To qualify for the Presidential Award, a student must demonstrate speed, strength, stamina and agility by scoring at or above the 85th percentile on each of the six items of the AAPHERD National Youth Fitness Test. For example, the minimum qualifying performance for a 14-year-old boy would include 50 situps, 9 pullups, 6 feet 11 inches in the standing long jump, 6.5 seconds, for the 50-yard dash, 1:47 for the 600-yard run, and 9.3 seconds for the shuttle run. Towns, however, may have a population of more than 3000.

Who's this Sally Rand? Any girl with a pair of long underwear, for obvious reasons not red, and a couple of ordinary newspapers can be a fan dancer, that will lay Sally completely in the shade of one of her famous (or infamous) fans.

Those two ordinary commodities of every day life, plus, of course, the idea, won for Miss Evelyn Howard of Akron, the first place at a masquerade party at the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, where she is in training. After all, the much publicized Miss Rand, claimed that she really wore tights in her famous dance, and the boys only ima-gined what they thought they w, and there's not much difference between tights and winter underwear. So Evelyn procured the underwear, bent a couple of newspapers in the shape of fans, and demonstrated to the nurses that after all there's not so much to a fan dancer, any way you look at her.

Girls who participate will benefit from physical activities and from their association with the other participants.

Activities will likely be held in the evening after school, perhaps two or three times per nonth. In addition, a "play night" may be held one evening of each month.

Emergency phone number labels community project

Emergency phone number labels are being distributed to the occupied houses in Akron. On the labels are the phone numbers for the Fire Dept., the Akron Emergency Service and the Fulton County Sheriff. These labels should be near your phone. If you have no phone please put the sticker of a card and keep handy to carry with you to a phone.

The exact location is pre-written on your label, telling the caller exact directions to your place of need. When calling STAY ON THE PHONE UNTIL THE OTHER PERSON KNOWS ALL THE HELPFUL INFORMATION. This is so important. Proper calling will do much to save lives and property.

The Akron Police suggested that we call the Sheriff as he can always reach an Akron policeman. Sometimes they are on patrol and could not answer a local call.

One problem is that many Akron houses do not have a visible number. The number of each house should show plainly from the street. The town office can tell your number if you do not know it for sure. And they have a few low cost house numbers left over from some former numbering program.

This project is being carried on through the cooperation of the Akron Fire Department, The Akron Emergency (ambulance) Service and the Akron Lion Club. Funds came from money left over from the Akron Jaycees and from an individual contribution.

Labels are on hand for the area covered outside of Akron by the Akron Fire Department and the Akron Emergency Service. A plan is needed to give thorough coverage to this out-of-town area. Anyone with questions or suggestions may call 893-4591.

Small Claims provides place for informal grievances

Small Claims Court is informal court in each county in Indiana that settles disputes involving money or personal property. limit is generally $3,000, however it may be less in some counties; check with the court in your county to find out specific jurisdictional amount.

The procedures of the court are very simple so that anyone can file a claim or defend him/herself without an attorney. However, for more complicated cases you can employ an attorney if you wish.

In Small Claims Court, the two parties involved in the dispute go to court at a designated time, and tell their sides of the disagreement to the judge. The judge listens to each side and then makes a decision based on the law governing the facts presented.

No juries are used in Indiana's Small Claims Courts. If you want a jury trial, you should file your case in another type of court.

SMALL CLAIMS COURT MAY BE USED WHEN:

1. First of all a Notice of Claim must be filed. This form can be obtained from the court. If you do not know where the court is located, look up Small Claims Court in the telephone directory The claim must be filed in the county where the dispute place, or where the person being sued lives

You will need to know the exact name, address and telephone number of the party you are suing. If the dispute involves a contract or a lease, take a copy with you.

3. Be sure to take any witness or evidence you have with you on the day you go to court. If you have a witness who does not want to testify, you may have him/her subpoenaed by the court -- if you let the court know in an adequate amount of time beforehand.

4. At the trial, tell your side of the story. There are no formal rules to follow. The judge may make a decision immediately after the trial, or later, and order the losing party to pay the court costs of the action. Important: If you cannot go to court on the date set, ask the court ahead of time for another date, (continuance).

Windbreaks energy aid

Many people have found windbreaks to be effective in reducing home energy bills in the winter, well as providing seclusion, beauty, and wildlife habitat. In planning and planting windbreaks, a few guidelines are worth following.

First, make sure you have adequate space. A windbreak should have a minimum of three rows of trees or two rows of trees and one row of shrubs. Based on the most commonly used tree species, this would require a strip 40-50 feet wide. Also, to prevent snow from drifting into areas to be pro-tected, the windward side of the windbreak should be 100 feet

Second, consider the soil type. The soils in Kosciusko County are extremely variable. Soil characteristics range from sandy types to muck. Tree species differ in their ability to optimumly grow in each soil type. All of Kosciusko County is soil mapped and the information is available at the Soil and Water Conservation District

Third, how many trees do you need? Trees should be spaced 12-16 feet apart in the row and between rows. Shrubs are generally planted 4-6 feet apart and 12 feet from a row of trees. Order 10% additional trees to cover any mortality.

If possible extend the windbreak 100 feet beyond the area to be protected to prevent wind from whipping around the end of the windbreak. Planting the trees too close will not enable the trees to develop adequate branch which will lessen the effectiveness in controlling the wind.

Fourth, site preparation is important. Competing vegetation in the windbreak site must be controlled if the trees are to develop and grow properly and optimumly. Prior to planting, the site can be plowed or herbi-cides can be applied to kill the existing vegetation. After planting, control of competing vegetation can be attained through mowing or herbicides. Be sure to read the herbicide label to know how to apply the chemical and for which weeds it's effective. The

Editor's Note: The following paragraphs were written by Ester R. Silveus, Route 2, Akron, a member of the Lincoln Ladies Aid, in October, 1983.

"The Lincoln Ladies Aid," established before my lifetime in a rural community of Rt. 2. Akron, was for the purpose of all the neighborhood mothers and their daughters coming together in one of the homes of a member. For things like jolly fellowship, workmanship, and domestic interests, with talents of love and Godliness, to share with their friends and needy persons, or berieved ones in the community.

Devotions, were and prayer was always in each and every meeting. Refreshments by the ladies have always been so eligent. But, as time goes, and changes come, the members are such a few.

Time is running out for this work to be done, but around the state and across the miles, are missions, or people, and memories handed down, and Bibles bearing a name inside "Lincoln Ladies Aid."

This is almost a century of work, although soon it will be finalized. But our little good deeds and memories will live on through the years.

"God we might have done better, but I hope you're not to disappointed in We, The Lincoln Ladies Aid."

Editor's Note: The following meeting took place in Ester Silveus' home for their Lincoln Aid Day 12 years ago. In south-western Kosciusko County there is the abandoned Lincoln church on County Road 1200 South.

Members of the Lincoln Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Ester Silveus, for their Lincoln Aid Day. They spent hours in the afternoon reminiscing about when and where they ioined the Aid.

Mrs. Leara Hoffman and Mrs. Daisy Bucher held the record of 51 years of membership, and Mrs. Pearl Engle who what unable to present, is known to hold a record as long or longer than Hoffman or Bucher.

Interesting events were told by each member present, some going back into the horse and buggy days.

The hostess, Ester Silveus, read the devotions and a poem she had written entitled, "Our Lincoln Ladies Aid." The song "He Lives" was sung, and November 1 was set for the annual silent auction to be held at the public library at 7 p.m.

A cake decorated with "Lincoln Ladies Aid" was the auction prize and was awarded to Mrs. Viola Bright. A donation of $5 was given to the Community Service Fund, and the remainer of the afternoon was spent knotting a comforter.

Refreshments of cakes decorated in keeping with the day's theme, ice cream, coffee and punch with Halloween favors were served.

Present were Marie Bright,
Nellie Walters, Bertha Penrod,
Pauline Adams, Emma Doering,
Bertha Silveus, Viola Bright,
Thelma Marrett, Mildred
Leckrone, Leara Hoffman, Daisy
Bucher, Emma Colbert, Minnie Abend, Alta Hudson, and three guests, Eva Landis, Mary Silveus, and little Ryan Teel.

the interest of persons passing by.

Founded as a Methodist Protestant church, the building is thought to have been erected in 1906. In the '40's after the Methodist Protestant and the Methodist Episcopal merger the denomination abandoned the church. Later another denomination conducted services there. Now the structure is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Colbert.

Not everyone has forgotten the Lincoln church, however, for the Lincoln Ladies Aid is still alive. Formed when the church was a Methodist institution, the members hold months meetings and continue activities to raise money for mission work.

FmHa emergency loans available

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by this summer's drought and extremely high temperatures are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHa) offices located in Warsaw and Wabash, FmHA county supervisor Greg Smith said recently.

Kosciusko County is one of 92 in Indiana recently named by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought.

Greg Smith said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses, or the operating loan needed to conin business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders. interest rate on the first $100,000 borrowed is 5 percent; interest rate is 8 percent on the balance borrowed over that amount. For farmers who can obtain commercial credit but choose to borrow FmHA, the interest rate is 13.75 percent.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least 30-percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan, Greg Smith said. Farmers participating in the PIK or federal crop insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining

I hesitated to take the boy to this particular site for his fishing debut. This was no ordinary farm pond. The owner had loyally practiced fish feeding over the years and our approaching the shore had an effect similar to shaking into a guppy bowl. Poundsize bluegill paced nervously in anticipation of an evening meal. This was to be fantasy fishing supreme. There would be challenge here, no opportunity to cultivate patience in a beginner fisherman, no bothersome This would be unfair advantage, top-drawer gluttony, but nevertheless, loads of fun!

Before this day Jacob knew nothing of bobbers or hooks or stringers. He had not experienced the tugging and darting movements of fish firmly hooked. He had never heard line peeling from a reel or hefted slab bluegill onto the shore or admired the color and texture of fresh-caught fish.

As for his mom and dad, we didn't realize the boy's eyes could be so big nor his smile so wide! It was a memorable, enjoyable event, even if it meant a threeyear-old would be royally spoiled. The experience has put the pressure on ole' dad to maintain the quality in future outings.

All of this reminds me of an obligation we have to our children. I could easily compose a list of positive influences that fishing, hunting, and related outdoor sports have on human and social development. Preserving and optimizing opportunities to practice these activities is imperative. Jacob, his younger brother. Lucas, and all members of their generation deserve and require ready access to these educational, life-enriching pastimes.

A three-year-old is too young to understand the factors threaten-ing fish and wildlife or to have instilled a love and deep appreciation for the resource. But he is already capable of finding great pleasure in landing bluegill or ighting a deer or flushing cottontails. These are intuitive pleasures, born in every human, yet we often fail to properly encourage or provide for these pleasures.

Indiana Co-op Extension ganization of the Indiana Cooperative Extension Service was nounced by Extension Director Henry A. Wadsworth. He told members of the Extension staff about the planned changes during their annual meeting at Purdue University.

The present 10 Extension areas of Indiana will change over the next 15 months. The new organizational structure will include five districts. Wadsworth stressed that sufficient time will be available to allow a smooth transition to the five district offices by Jan. 1, 1985. He did not cite specific Wadsworth said that the district plan is intended to focus decisionmaking and program planning and development within local county offices. He also noted that improvements in communication technology helped make the reduction of administrative units possible. The Fast Agricultural Communications Terminal System (FACTS), a computer network; the use of the Indiana Higher Education Telecommunication System (IHETS); and greater use of teleconferencing were cited as specific examples.

"Certainly, reducing the number of offices is expected to save money which can be applied to improvement of the delivery of education throughout the state of Indiana. That educational mission is the reason we have a Cooperative Extension Service office in every county in Indiana and every other state in the country,' cording to Wadsworth. "We will continue to provide useful information to agricultural producers and marketers, families and consumers, 4-H members and community development throughout the state." leaders Present area administrative offices are located in Versailles, New Albany, Evansville, Terre Haute, Indianapolis, New Castle, Kokomo, West Lafavette, Westville, and Fort Wayne.

Valley thespians present play

Last weekend, the Tippecanoe Valley High School drama club presented "Pride and Prejudice." comedy that takes place in England.

The set was quite simple, but handsome, the antique furnishings adding quite a nice touch to the play itself. The three-act play took place in the Bennet's living

The lead was played by Angie Wood, as Mrs. Bennet. Ms. Wood was convincing as the pushy mother who only wants to rid herself of her five daughters by finding each of them husbands. By the end of the play she suc-ceeds in marrying off three out of the five.

John Bryant, as Mr. Bennet, well-established in his role and put on several whimsical moments. It was quite obvious that this was not Bryant's first time on stage. He was poised, and he paced himself so perfectly, the little snide about his wife would come precisely at the right moments. The comments were done in a tone of voice loud enough to hear, but only in a whispering voice

Robin Smith (Elizabeth) did an outstanding job. She was graceful, beautiful, and "real." When she hurt, the audience hurt: when she was happy, the audience was happy. Lizzy's love kept us in suspense until the end of the play when she and Mr. Darcy (Matt Brown) triumphed over the pride of one and the prejudice of the other.

Brown also did an excellent job in portraying Darcy, the sinfully proud man. He carried himself with confidence and exhuberance, and Kris Green (Jane) did more than her part to keep up the pace

But the real sparkle in the play is the presence of Pat Morgan (Mr. Collins). Morgan did a wonderful job portraying a pompus, disgusting, little rich man. One of more humorous scenes of the play was when Morgan chased Elizabeth (Robin Smith) around the Bennet's living room trying to propose his undying love. Morgan takes Lizzy's hand to propose several times, but Lizzy does everything in her power to avoid him. The scene is so convincing, it seems as though Lizzy may lose a finger, jerking her hand from the clutches of Mr. Collins.

The play had several comical moments and the costumes were wonderful. All in all 'Pride and Prejudice' accomplished its goal. The costumes and set were orful and went well with the jest of the play, and talent was shown.

Akron Democrats walk away with victories

Mentone voters send word they'll have local control

Mentone voters overwhelmingly cast support on the referendum issue for the town's municipally owned water utility to be taken out of the jurisdiction of the Indiana Public Service Commission for approval of rates and Voters cast 205 votes in support of the issue to 34 against. The referendum issue has been discussed at several meetings by current town board members Frank Hardesty, Wayne Tombaugh and James Miller.

Tombaugh, a Republican, and Miller, a Democrat, were both successful in seeking re-election.

NOTICE

The people in Akron should be very proud to boast of an 85% turn out in last Tuesday's town election.

I would like to thank the Republican candidates and thank those who supported them and at the same time congratulate the victors.

The one thing the new town board and clerk-treasurer will now need is your support, so don't let them down.

> Dick Day Republican Precinct amuliteemaa, Henry #1

Tombaugh defeated Roger Moriarty 144-126, while Miller received 164 votes to Willard Wagner's 113.

In the first ward race Miriam Boardman received 207 votes over Democrat opponent Richard D. Dickerhoff's 64. Boardman is the first woman to serve on a town board post in Mentone.

Republicans have been in control of the Akron town offices for 30 years, but no longer, as the Democrats had a big voter turnout in last Tuesday's election.

In Ward 1, Democrat Richard Drudge received 257 votes to Joseph Day's 112. In Ward 2 Jack Miller had 299 votes to 90 votes for James Hodges Jr., and in Ward 3 Jerry Hudson had 232 votes to Phil Allen's 153.

Sarah Jane Sutton was elected to the clerk-treasurer position. Sutton defeated Ernie Smith, the only Republican incumbent running for re-election, by a 233-155 margin.

Kosciusko Co. Hospice provides care, counseling for terminally-ill patients

by Lee Ann Hart

When a family finds out a loved one has a terminal illness, the first thing they wonder is "Why us?" The terminally-ill person and their stricken family has a hard time accepting the inevitable: the loved one is going to die.

"I guess the hardest thing about knowing my mother was dying was I knew I couldn't do a thing about it," said one of the members of a family that has been helped by Hospice.

"When the doctors first told my family, we went through a denial period. I just couldn't cope with the fact that I was 14-years-old and I was losing my mother.

"They could send people to the moon and they can't find a cure for cancer. After the denial period I soon became angry. I found myself losing faith in God and resenting His decision to take my mother. I was hardly through puberty and I was at a time when I needed my mother the most."

This is when the family found comfort in a program known as Hospice, a program that deals with terminally ill patients and their families. "Hospice" is an old English word meaning "a place for the rest and recuperation of travelers on a long journey." Today Hospice helps the dying and those close to them over the rough places of terminal illness.

The Hospice program was started in Kosciusko County in October, 1982. Since then they have had 41 patients according to Connie Schaefer, coordinator for Kosciusko County Hospice.

"I've had 40 friends die in the last year. The only reason it was 40 instead of 41 was because we had one lady join only 24 hours before she died, and I really didn't get to know her or her family that well," said Schaefer.

lies, is an organization under a larger organization, Home Health Care. The Home Health Care building is located at 827 South Union Street, Warsaw. Along with Hospice, a Well-Baby program is housed there. Well-Baby is an organization for low income families, and does things such as baby checks and free immunizations.

The Hospice program employs five registered nurses, a coordinator, a social worker who works with such things as dealing with the patient's insurance companies, getting hospital equipment and family counseling, and 40-50 volunteers.

"Hospice provides intermit care and have a 24 hour call. A nurse may be called at any hour. We recognize that the dying and their loved ones have special physical, psychological, spiritual, and social needs.

"We provide for people in the home, hospital, or nursing home. A patient remaining at home requiring skilled nursing care must have a primary care giver. "A care giver is a person who is instructed on how to distribute medication, exercise, feeding, etc. The Hospice nurses will instruct the primary care giver on all the necessary facts.

"Volunteer companions are trained in the Hospice concept. They serve as special friends during this time in a person's life, and often reach out to the extended family members." Schaefer went on to say that the volunteers are matched with families that live near by and are based on similar interests and personalities. The major problem is that they don't have enough volunteers, especially men. "We have patients in the Akron/Mentone area and need more volunteers from that area," Schaefer said.

For the third consecutive time Whitney K. Gast has been crowned potato king of Indiana.

The latest coronation took place the Northern Indiana Muck Crops show at Warsaw last week and the crown was a brown derby appropriately decorated.

This year federal inspectors were present at all field checkups and graded the spuds as they were uncovered. So, in awarding the châmpionship for record yield they based their conclusions on U.S. number 1 grade potatoes. Whit's field produced 443.4 bushels of number 1 potatoes from a total of 555 field run per

The Stauffers won so many prizes in the displays that other participants had to be satisfied with only the minor awards. In addition to the covented sweepstakes in potatoes the Stauffers won 13 out of 14 prizes. They won nearly all the onion awards for fine products.

E.L. Mitchell of Rochester proved to the muck crop producers that he raised other produce besides celery. His yield of number 1 potatoes was 437 bushels and he only missed taking the crown by six and a half bushel. His field run was not quite as high as Whit's, as he had a total of but 489 bushels. They graded out unusually well, as will be seen.

In addition to taking high in the 400 bushel club. Mr. Mitchell took fourth place in the 1000 bushel onion group. High yield honors went to Andy Milner of Kimmel, who produced 1157 bushels of onions on one acre of ground. Mr. Mitchell's vield was 691.

High yield for field run potatoes went to William Gehring of North Judson, whose spuds produced 575 bushels per acre. He lost the championship, however, because they graded out so poorly. He only got 329 bushels of U.S. number 1 potatoes out of the 575.

In addition to the prize ribbons, the Stauffers won about seventy five dollars in cash awards for their excellent displays.

NIPSCO pays over $24 million in state, local and county taxes

Marble Hill nuclear site anticipates 2000 layoffs

Public Service Indiana said that the reductions in expenditures at Marble Hill nuclear project announced last week by the com-pany will result in the layoff of approximately 2,500 construction orkers over the next two weeks.

Total site employment as of the end of October was approximately 8,000 employees, including about 4,650 manual construction workers. The company estimates that employment at Marble Hill will fall to 4,000 by early 1984.

After an orderly reduction in the construction force, layoffs will begin in the support personnel area. Significant layoffs of Public Service Indiana personnel are not expected to take place until after the first of the year.

Kosciusko County Hospice program

Hospice program was wonderful to Ralph and I.

"When Ralph was sick, the Hospice nurse would come twice a week. Since Ralph's been gone, I have a Hospice companion (one of the volunteers); every couple of weeks she comes to talk with me, and we may go out to lunch or sit and talk about how I feel.

'I can't say enough about the Hospice program and their people. It allowed me to have my Ralph at home a little longer, said Whittenberger.

"The main goal of Hospice is to affirm life and to make this stage in a person's life meaningful and symptom-free as possible. The thing we want to do most is preserve dignity. That person has already lost so much. He/She is a valuable human being. We let them do as much as they can for themselves. It may take them ten times longer but they need to be a little bit independent."

Hospice encourages self-re-seept. When a patient joins Hospice He/She is given "The Dying Person's Bill of Rights:"

1. I have the right to be treated as a living human being until I

2. I have the right to maintain a sense of hopefulness however changing its focus may be.

3. I have the right to be cared for by those who can maintain a sense of hopefulness, however changing this might be.

I have the right to express my feelings and emotions about my approaching death in my own way.

5. I have the right to participate in decisions concerning my

I have the right to expect continuing medical and nursing attention even though "Cure" goals must be changed to "com-ort" goals.

7. I have the right not to die alone.

8. I have the right to be free from pain. 9. I have the right to have my questions answered honestly. 10. I have the right to have help from and for my family in accepting my death.

11. I have the right to die in peace and dignity. 12. I have the right to retain my individuality and not be judged for my decisions, which may be contrary to beliefs of others. 13. I have the right to discuss and enlarge my religious and/or spiritual experiences. whatever these may mean to others.

14. I have the right to expect that the sanctity of the human body will be respected after

15. I have the right to be cared for by caring, sensitive, knowledgeable people who will attempt to understand my needs and be able to gain some satisfaction in helping me face my death.

The family is not the only people who become involved with the patient. The nurses become attached to the patient. nurses are sometimes in daily contact with these people. have the same feelings that the families do," Schaefer said, and continued by telling a story about one of her patients.

"It was just about a year ago. I was with a patient on Thanksgiving Day last year. The patient was bed-ridden and the family busy in the kitchen preparing the Thanksgiving dinner. The mother terribly depressed; she had been a housewife and mother all her life and now she couldn't even help with the dinner preparations.

I (Schaefer) went into the patient's bedroom and got her into a wheelchair and took her into the kitchen. She was weak, and she didn't try to let on that she wasn't. The family gave her some potatoes to start peeling. It took her several minutes before she had finished one small potato. But, when that woman sat down at the Thanksgiving table she felt she had done something, some-thing very little, but still she felt as if she had helped in the preparations.

Hospice nurses work very close with the patient's doctor, and every thing is okayed by him before the Hospice team goes into

Sometimes the Hospice staff has trouble coping, so they have staff team meetings, which may include up to 13 people at one time, the nurses, volunteers, doctors, coordinators, etc. "I guess you would call this our plan of support. It really helps to talk about it with people in the same profession. Another thing that really helps is my faith in God. If it wasn't so strong, I'm not sure I could do what I do," Schaefer.

People get well faster at home It's a proven fact. The U.S. government also believes this, and as of Nov. 1, 1983, the government has passed a law that Medicare will pay for Hospice if you can qualify under the legal stipulations which follow: 1. You must be 65 or older and/or in the stage renal disease. 2. You must be terminal and a diagnoses of six months or less. 3. Live within the area of the Hospice program, and 4. Have a primary care giver.

There is a lot of money involved with the Hospice Program, the nurses' visits, etc. The Hospice funding comes from private donations, vate and church, memorials, and now Medicare.

Hospice continues to visit the of the patient up until year after his/her death. Studies shown that the first six months after the death of a loved one is a very crucial time for spouses and children. It is such an upset in their regular, routine lives. There are several emotions felt, and at times can get very confusing and depressing for many people. Hospice will be there for you when you need them, but the need for volunteers is great.

If you would like to become a volunteer, call Connie Schaefer at the Kosciusko Community Hospice, 267-3683. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Lloyd Jr., 2, and Timothy, 51/2 months, sons of of Lloyd and Cindy Swick, Mentone.

Does Pregnancy Cause Tooth decay?

Once and for all, let's put the myth to rest. Pregnancy does NOT cause tooth decay It is easy to see where certain factors may lead to this erroneous conclusion. During pregnancy, women tend to b busier preparing for the up coming birth. Once the baby arrives, she is even busier Instead of six months, it may be a year or more between visits. Obviously, more dental work will be discovered in a period of one or two years than in a six-month checkup.

Of course, women experience certain hormonal changes during pregnancy. These changes may produce a temporary condition of puffiness or bleeding of the gums. This condition is called "pregnancy gingivitis" and This condition is can be controlled by keeping the mouth "preventive clean" by the proper use of brushing and floss.

Equally false is the notion that baby robs the mother's teeth of calcium. The composition of adult teeth cannot be change once fully formed. Babies may be responsible for stretch marks - but not dental decay.

5. No kissing or hugging.

6. Do not tease people. Do not throw objects such as sticks, rocks, or sand.

9. Walk to and from recess. 10. Do not go in before the whistle blows. Stop playing when the whistle blows.

The committee also broke the rules down into individual categories by each piece of equip-ment and stated several rules for each one. All in all the children believe this will make their playground a more safe place to

TV Board and CTA meet before IEERB factfinder

Last Thursday's fact-finding meeting between representatives of the TVSC Board and the Class Teachers Association (CTA) began badly when teachers and audience members were kept cooling their heels for an hour. Orially scheduled for 6:30 p.m., the Indiana Educational ployees Relationship E Bureau (IEERB) had changed the meeting time to 7:30; however, by som oversight, the CTA wasn't noti-

When representatives of both sides arrived, Sander W. Wirpel. Chicago, IEERB factfinder, presided. Speaking for the School Board members was Superintendent Baxter Paige, while James Claxton, Indiana State Teachers Association (ISTA), represented the CTA.

Paige spoke first, outlining some basic facts about the corporoutlining ation and its current statistics. He then offered the board's position about some of the concessions requested by the teachers union and pointed out alleged discrepconcerning proposed salary schedules.

Tempers flared when Claxton took the floor and asked a series of questions "to clarify" some facts. The two men verbally jousted over the definition of "fair share," what items being negotiwere salary and wage related, and how Paige arrived at many of his figures. Clarton then began a lengthy presentation of the Association's positions, item

A major point stressed by the CTA was a comparison of wages. During 1982 - 83, Superinten-dent Paige earned a salary of $41,385, while the average salary of TVSC teachers was $17,232. Compared to the 294 school corporations statewide, Paige was 115th in earnings, while teach were 238th. Valley ranks 143rd in size of school districts in Indiana.

The latest round of proposals includes a four percent wage increase from the Board, which was countered by a 12 percent increase from the CTA. At four percent, a starting teacher would earn $12.894, while the top of the wage scale (at 17 years experience) would be $21,400. The CTA asking for a starting wage of $14,244 with $23,640 at the top of the scale.

Salary comparisons with other school corporatins shows TVSC educators were lowest on wage scale during the '82-'83 school year of a group consisting of Warsaw Community, Peru Community, MSD Wabash, Maconaquah, Wabash City, Whitko, Rochester Community, Manchester, North Miami and Caston. Of these corporations, six have recently signed new contracts a the following percentages: MSD Wabash, 7.25; Peru, 7; Rochester, 6.2; Wabash City, 4.5; North Miami, 7.75; and Whitko, 6.

Current trustees again agreed about the wisdom allowing contractor Roy Swartz to install a single water meter for a three-apartment building. Fenimore reported Swartz had agreed with every stipulation set forth by the town. Waymire still disapproved of the agreement, prompting citizen Joe Day to say it wasn't fair to restrict one apartment owner if others have the same, one-meter system. Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: Last week The Akron/Mentone News ran a on Kosciusko County Hospice Program. The following letter is from the Coordinator of the Kosciusko County Hospice Pro-Dear Editor

The recent passage of Medicare Hospice benefit law will make possible specialized services to terminally ill Americans and their families. Funding through the program will provide relief the financial burden of terfrom minal illness, and will enhance the quality and the availability of Hospice services. Hospice is a health care delivery system which affirms life and regards dying as a normal process. It neither hastens nor postpones death, but provides services to help dying persons and their families live as fully and comfortably as possible. Our local Hospice and the National Hospice Organization commend the members of Congress and the Administration who, recognizing the special physical, psychological, social and spiritual needs of terminally ill persons, sponsored and passed the Medicare Hospice benefit legislation.

have recently learned, however, that the Office of Management of the Budget, (OMB) is blocking publication of the final regulations governing the care Hospice benefit. OMB officials are reportedly insisting that the reimbursement rate approved by Congress and signed Margaret Heckler, Secretary of Health and Human Services, be reduced by as much as twenty percent. Such as reduction would make it impossible for Hospice programs to provide quality care, thus effectively killing the Mediwho are served by America's Hospices, to speak with, or write your representatives in gress, requesting them to intervene with Secretary Heckler and President Reagan to prevent the OMB from lowering bursement rate.

Terminally ill Americans and their families need your help to insure the survival of viable Medicare benefits.

Sincerely,

10 percent and remove from production eligible cropland acreage and considered planted to feed equal to 11.11 percent of the land that they plant for harvest in 1984, a percentage identical to the 1983 acreage reduction requirement, according to Steve Roden-berg, director of the Fulton berg, director of the Fulton County ASCS office. Unlike the 1983 program, however, the 1984 program offers no provisions for paid diversion, advance deficiency payments, or payment-in-kind.

"Feed grain products will again be eligible for target price payments on their entire planted acreage by participating in the acreage reduction program," said Rodenberg. The incentive to participate in the program totals $3.03 a bushel for corn, compared to $2.86 in 1983, $2.88 for grain sorghum compared to $2.72, $2.60 for barley and $1.60 a bushel for oats--the same as in 1983.

The national average rates will be slightly lower than those in effect in 1983. For corn the 1984 rate is $2.55 per bushel; grain sorghum, $2.42; $2.08; and oats. $1.31.

As under the 1983 program, two bases will be established, one for corn and sorghum, and the Feed grain producers will be other for barley and oats. The encouraged to reduce plantings by 1984 acreage bases will be the 10 percent and remove from pro-average of the acreage planted grain in 1982 and 1983. Rodensaid offsetting and cross berg compliance will not apply to the 1984 program. Waxy corn will be included in the program, but not popcorn or sweet corn as in the previous program.

"We encourage farmers place their more erosive land into an acreage conservation reserve while continuing to balance supply with demand during 1984, said Rodenberg. Participation in the 1984 program is a way in which farmers can control oversupply situations similar to what they have just faced. He said the program will also provide a de-gree of insurance for farmers gainst price fluctuation and adverse weather conditions.

Program signup will be conducted from January 16 through February 24, the same as for the 1984 wheat program. The ASCS official said contracts signed by program participants will be considered binding and will provide for liquidated damages for failure to comply with program require-

Henry Township has been allotted 54 men in the Civil Works Administration projects which are rapidly getting underway throughout the nation.

These men are to be employed during the next ninety days at the rate of 50 cents an hour and are to receive their money from the federal government every week This is part of the NRA and Val Zimmerman of Rochester is in charge of Fulton County.

The workers are to be allowed 30 hours a week and the money for salaries is to be furnished by the government. All materials used and tools needed, however, are to be supplied by the taxing units in which the work is done.

The town of Akron will have 20 of these men and the other 34 will be employed out in the town-ship. Work on roads and drainage are the main projects before the board right now.

The various projects were out-lined this week and have been taken to Indianapolis for the governor's staff.

More than 23 miles of township roads are slated for improvements and many streets in town are to be worked over.

At first it was reported here that Henry township was to re-ceive but 11 miles of road to be worked over. A meeting of taxpayers was held and a commitsent to Rochester Tuesday morning to see the commissioners and Mr. Zimmerman in regards to this. It was learned that we were to get 23 miles of roads, so the committee approved the projects.

A petition asking the Public Service Commission to delay the telephone rate case scheduled for December 7 will be filed by irate subscribers from several different exchanges.

This move is a result of the meeting of subscribers from several different exchanges of the General Telephone company last community night in the local room. Despite stormy weather nearly 40 persons turned out for the meeting which lasted to plan a course of action against the rate increase proposal.

The meeting was called to order by Howard Utter, who acted as chairman throughout the evening. After some preliminary remarks he introduced subscribers from Atwood, Akron, Valparaiso, Walton, Mentone, Sidney, and North Manchester. A letter had gone out to subscribers in all the 67 exchanges throughout the state in advance of the meeting. Several letters were returned with the message that they could not be present last night, but they were interested in fighting the rate in-

Fred Rakestraw, local attorney, presented and he made a lengthy talk outlining what had been done on other occasions and what would have to be done this time if subscribers hoped to be successful in stopping the rate increase. Stating that since his election to the post as circuit court judge he would be too busy to handle the case for the sub-scribers, he said: "The phone company will take a change venue if they have any trouble in Fulton county after January 1. I haven't done half as much to them as I would like to do."

Attorney Rakestraw, further claimed the Public Service Commission engineers and account-ants did not make a thorough check of the investments of the company and that to get the job done it would be necessary raise money and hire an independent firm.

Mayor Fred Temple from Valparaiso was introduced and he stated that the Porter County Farm Bureau as well as his city administration would fight the increase proposal. He Thousands in our country cannot get a phone and many have waited as long as five years for service. Our equipment seems to be the phones and equipment from the LaPorte change-over to dial system.

Herbert Byrd, manager of the local Sonoco plant, said he had written to Warren Buchanan, chairman of the Public Service Commission, asking that something be done to make the local service better. He stated that people with whom they do business often write and ask why they don't move the factory to some town where they can get a long distance call through to them. He said the letter to Buchanan was turned over to phone company officials and that is the last he has heard about it.

An Atwood subscriber told of their trouble with the phone company and the Public Service commission as did also one from Walton and Sidney.

The meeting adjourned with the idea of sending a petition for a deal until a case can be prepared to fight the rate increase proposed by the phone company.

Carving Holiday Turkey

Let turkey stand for 20 to 30 minutes after roasting, and then try these easy carving methods.

First, remove drumstick and thigh. To remove drumstick and thigh, press leg away from body joint. Connecting leg to backbone will often times snap free or may be severed easily with knife point. Cut dark meat completely from body by following body contour carefully with knife.

Place drumstick and thigh on separate plate and cut through connecting joint. Both pieces may be individually sliced, tilt drumstick to convenient angle, slicing towards plate. To slice thigh meat hold firmly on plate with fork. Cut even slices parallel to the bone.

In preparing breast for easy slicing, place knife parallel and as close to wing as possible. Make deep cut into breast, cutting right to bone. This is your base cut. All breast slices will stop at this vertical cut.

After the base cut, begin to slice breast. Carve downward, ending at base cut. Start each new slice slightly upon breast. Keep slices thin and even.

If you're a little short, you don't need to pay, eat hearty and be on your way. But, if you're holding and would like to spend, money in the box earns a dividend.

We are missing the people that have left for a warmer climate and more will be leaving later.

We will be needing a replacement for the Champion coffee and tea pourer. His lovely wife does a lot of things too. She helps him run the cleaner on Fridays.

Northern Indiana Public Service Company's estimated construction budget for the five-year period 1984-1988 will require an tional investment of nearly $1.1 billion, including outlays of $386.9 million in 1984 and $313.8 million in 1985," Edmund A. Schroer, NIPSCO chairman and chief executive officer said.

"This latest five-year budget is some $257 million below the mated construction expenditures for the previous five-year period (1983-1987)," Schroer said, "reflecting the winding down of our construction program. Primary factors contributing to the reduc-tion are the completion of Unit #17 at our Schahfer Station earlier this year, the one dealy in construction of Unit #18, reduced load growth and the changeover to partial leasing of Company vehicles."

The new budget allocates $94.2 million for environmental facilities, including combined environmental expenditures of $83.9 million in 1984 and 1985. NIPSCO wants Utility Weatherization Program

Northern Indiana Public Service Company, in conjunction with seven other Indiana utilities, filed a petition on November 15, 1983 with the Public Service Commission of Indiana requesting per-mission to establish a Utility Res-idential Weatherization Program (URWP), according to Jack W. Stine, vice president of division operations for the utility.

"Under this program," Stine said, "eligible residential heating customers could borrow up to $1,500 from NIPSCO for a term not to exceed three years at a rate of interest to be determined by the Commission. Eligibility for the interest weatherization loan would be conditioned upon the applicant having received a Resintial Conservation (RCS) audit which has identified weatherization measures which give promise of yielding significonservation of energy by the customer."

Conservation installations which would qualify for the loan include insulation, weatherstripping, caulk, clock thermostats, storm windows and doors and passive solar heating and cooling systems Excluded would be furnace retroincluding vent dampers, heat pumps, and new furnaces.

"This low interest weatherization loan program," the utility vice president said, "would complement our existing efforts to help customers meet their energy bills this winter. Our current program, launched during the 1982-83 heating season, includes liberalized disconnection and reconnection policies, funding for our energy assistance fund, continued participation in Project SAFE, an equal payment

Carr reports wheat insurance pays off in cash

Crop Insurance on wheat can pay off in dollars and cents even for farmers who have a bumper crop, according to Homer Carr, Federal Crop Insurance Fieldperson. One major benefit, the FCIC official notes, is the possibility of obtaining a more favorable interest rate on crop production loans by pledging the insurance policy

Carr points out that many lenders consider insurance to be especially attractive collateral be-cause it provides a guaranteed source of income for loan repay-ment in the event of a crop loss. Any indemnity checks are paid directly to the designated lender. In contrast, other more conven-tional types of collateral such as machinery and land can result in the lender having to liquidate the borrower's productive assets and thereby reduce future earning abi-

In addition to the possibility of interest savings when production loans are secured by insurance, Carr notes that some lenders are willing to be more liberal in their lending to borrowers who insure the loan proceeds against possible loss. In a good crop year, the additional credit can be employed to produce additional profits. In a poor crop year, the insurance pays off the loan.

Federal Crop Insurance policies are sold by independent insurance agents and private insurance companies. The names of agents are available from the County ASCS

"Many producers who have not carried insurance in the past will find the protection a better buy this year because of the opporto purchase protection based on their own yield experience," says Carr. Under an Individual Yield Coverage (IYC) programs policyholders who can document a history of above-average yields for the past three or more years are now being offered additional coverage at no additional

• Keep the faucet turned off when brushing teeth.

• To wash clothes in the sink, fill it first with water and let garments soak. For rinsing, fill a plastic tub with water.

• Use an automatic toilet bowl cleaner, such as Bully, which can keep your bowl clean for a month or more without brushing. It dispenses only the amount of chlorine that's needed with each flush. By eliminating routine brushings and flushings Bully saves water.

Exchange student from Monclova, Mexico discusses differences at Tippecanoe Valley

Victor Monroe Diaz Miron Rodriguez is an exchange student from Monclova, Mexico at Tippecanoe Valley High School this year.

Victor's father works in a steel plant and his mother is a homemaker. He has one brother, Omar, 9, and one sister, Gilda, Monclova is about two hours south of the Texas border, according to Victor, who has been in the United States several times with his family.

Victor said there are some differences between his school in Mexico and Tippecanoe Valley. In Mexico, after attending elementary, you have three years of junior high and three years of high school. Next year Victor will be entering his first year of high school

Another difference that Victor noted was that Tippey is much nicer than the one he attends. "We have no gym, and the rooms have wood ceilings." One thing Victor likes better about his school in Mexico than Tippecanoe Valley is that here the students go from room to room for classes. In Mexico the students stay in the same room for the whole school day (7:30 a.m. - 1:40) and the teachers move from room to room.

At first Victor wanted to return to Mexico but now he is getting more settled in and he is excited about the holidays. Victor's family may be coming to spend Christmas with him.

Victor said his father encouraged him to join the youth exchange fellowship. "My father wants a good future for me. Coming to the United States and speaking English well can get me a good job," Victor said. "Some of my friends get jobs by giving English lessons."

At Tippecanoe Valley, Victor carries a full class load. He takes math, drafting, Spanish, art, English and body conditioning. All in all, Victor said he studies more in Mexico, and feels that school is much easier here. "I call it my one year of rest," said Victor.

Victor feels that sports is greatly stressed here. "In Mexico, we have the same sports, but if you get a bad grade, you don't play sports anymore."

Victor stated that his fellow classmates and teachers are very nice to him. "The people are very friendly." Victor is staying with the Max Cumberland family.

Right now Victor's sights are set on Christmas and a trip to New York with the fellowship in January.

Salmon named to AP All-State

Steve Salmons of Tippecanoe Valley was named for the second straight year to the Associated Press All-State Football team.

Salmons was a first team selection at offensive tackle in Class A and he was again named as an offensive tackle on this year's Class AA first team.

Scott Teel was also honored as an honorable mention selection at guard as was Shad McConkey as a placekicker.

VanLues named Honorary Agriculture Commissioners

Editor's Note:

Arnold and Roma VanLue received a letter from Lt. Governor John Mutz this past week naming them Honorary Commissioners of Agriculture.

The Honorary appointment was in reference to the International Tour group that came to see their farm in late September via the Indiana Department of Commerce. Many of the group found the VanLue's small Indiana farm quite different from international ideas of farms and farmers, as the VanLues have a family farm raising Suffolk sheep. They're also in the auction business.

They've also received letters from some of the Embassys expressing their appreciation.

The Lt. Governor's letter read

The Lt. Governor's letter read as follows:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. VanLue:

I want to personally thank you for being a host for our foreign wisitors on the annual Indiana International Field Days tour. I realize you are very busy with the operation of your farm and I want you to know I appreciate your taking time out from your busy schedule for this event.

I am very proud of Indiana's agricultural industry. I believe your willingness to share insights and suggestions with our guests has helped to foster the outstanding reputation our state enjoys with the agricultural industry throughout the world.

In recognition of your generosity and service. I have named you Honorary Commissioner of Agriculture. Please call on me at any time if I can be of assistance to

Sincerely, John M. Mutz, Lt. Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture

Kevin Deardorff has been named assistant vice president by Akron Exchange State Bank. Deardorff, who joined the bank's staff in June of 1981 and was promoted to assistant cashier in 1982, will head the bank's commercial loan department, according to bank president J. Randall Leininger.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Deardorff, Akron, and a 1979 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, Deardorff received an Associate degree in animal science from Purdue University and is continuing his education at Indiana University-Kokomo. He is married to the former Lori Tilden

Miss Gertrude McClane, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.T. McClane of Mentone, suffered serious injury Tuesday while working at the American Ford & Hoe Company plant in Akron.

Late reports from the Rochester Woodlawn Hospital are that she is showing improvement following an operation Complete details of the accident or the extent of the young woman's injuries have been difficult to secure, but it is reported that she was grinding a pair of shears on a grinding wheel when the scissors, presumably were thrown from contact with the wheel and entered her abdomen. The extent of the internal injuries has not been announced hospital attendants, but an operation was performed. There have been reports of blood transfusions having been given, but this has not been verified.

Miss McClane graduated from the Mentone High School last spring.

Mrs. Latimer stated that there had been but a small fire in the stove, but while cleaning around the home, she placed a cardboard carton in the stove. It is believed sparks from this ignited the roof.

The building was covered with insurance and carpenters have repaired the roof sufficiently to guard against damage from rain or snow.

The Akron milk plant has been ordered to be closed on Dec. 31. by the Borden Farm Products

Notice to this effect was posted at the plant Monday morning in the form of a letter from the company. The statement claims that the move is to be made in the interest of economy and further facts in regards to the shut down are not known.

Mr. Faulkenstein, manager of the plant, has no information other than the notice and mem-bers of the PMA have not received any further explanation.

In an effort to get more of the facts about the matter the NEWS called Mr. H. Grey, production manager of the Chicago office late yesterday afternoon. Although he was quite reticent in answering questions he did say that it was in the interest of economy' he notice had said, and that the plant at Akron is quite a ways out, you know." asked if other Borden plants were also being closed he answered in the affirmative, saying one in Illinois and possibly some in Wisconsin. Nothing definite on these.

Down Memory Lane

No word has come from the PMA directors to the local officers and is believed they are busy with the milk tangle which is being aired in Chicago this week. No doubt the directors will through with those hearings in the next few days and then will devote their attention to matter. Just what can or will be done is wholly a matter of conjecture at this time.

There are at present 267 members of the PMA shipping through the local plant and the combined income of the producers, truckers, and workers at the plant totals between $25,000 and $30,000 per month. The loss of this incom will be a severe blow to this community and needless to say the question is one of grave concern to every citizen

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINT: The na tion was shocked and horrified this week at the assassination of President Kennedy. This is a crime that causes us all to stop and re-evaluate ourselves and our country.

It is worthy, however, to note that the stock market is continuing to rise, reflecting the country's faith and confidence in the new president.

Sen. Goldwater and Gov. Rock efellar have both promised to quit the campaign trail until after the first of the year and to support Johnson and his new administration. Let's all follow their lead. and do the same, while at the same time re-evaluating our own patriotism. This is a good time for the country to unite and work together toward a common goal and purpose: Peace through unity.

The final figures have been compiled by the Henry Township Community Service showing that this year's drive fell short of the $4,000 goal by about $500. A total of $3500 was collected

Vikings, Zebras battle to bitter end

Despite a valiant effort by Rochester to outclass the Vikings last Saturday at Valley, the Zebras played catch up throughthe game only to lose in the final moments.

The Vikings repeatedly kept Rochester at bay, although a free throw by Jeff Paulik in the fourth quarter cut the Valley lead to 54-53. That was as close as the Zebras came, however, as Valley ended the contest with a final score of 68-59

Zebra Scott Zent led the scoring with 24 points, but his singlehanded effort couldn't withstand the Viking push of Shawn Cumberland with 18 points, Greg VanDeWater with 14, and Dan Boyer with 12.

Valley's JV team also won their contest with the Zebras by taking a 50-27 victory. Roger Stavedahl and Andy Schwenger led a balanced Valley attack with eight points apiece while Ed Stanley scored 10 points for Rochester.

NIPSCO reports damage to towers

A severe wind storm swept through the Monticello district early Sunday morning. November 20, 1983, toppling 20 transmission towers and severely damaging another, according to Eugene M. Shorb, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Northern Indiana Public Service Company. This major east-west line runs north of U.S. 4b between the communities of Reynolds and Wolcott and serves customers in the White, Jasper, Newton and Benton County area.

The utility's Construction department was mobilized to assess the damages and take those steps deemed necessary to ensure continuity of service. By utilizing in-place backup transmission facilities. Shorb said, no customer outages resulted from this incident. Rebuilding of the line has already begun and should be completed within a month.

With our in-house Construction department, we can put trained personnel and equipment in the field on extremely short notice, the utility chief operating officer said. This ability to respond immediately to emergencies, whether they occur in the dead of the night, on weekends, or holidays, is a responsibility we take seriously and one we intend to maintain. Our customers rely on us and we don't intend to let them down.

safety saw

"There are old linemen and there are careless linemen." So says PSI's safety manager, with a logic that can apply to us all. At an electric power company, safety is a survival skill that we work at every day.

beat from cold

The high-efficiency Heat Pump heats for less by moving heat instead of making it. It can squeeze heat from outside air even during a cold winter. Shivering Hoosiers may find it hard to believe, but theoretically heat is present even at temperatures down to 460 degrees below zero. At 10 degrees above zero, there's enough heat in the outside air to warm an average size home.

taking stock

Some 7,800 different spare parts are stocked at our Cayuga Station in Vermillion County. Keeping track of them, making sure they are in stock and knowing where to find them used to cause headaches. Now the entire parts inventory at this station has been computerized. We know exactly what's on hand, where to find it, when to re-order. Time and cost savings add up to big bucks. Even greater savings will result as all our power plants get computerized inventory control and can pool their parts.

meter cheaters

Stealing electricity is like shoplifting. It adds to the costs paid by the honest consumer. Nationwide, electric companies estimate that theft of electricity has doubled in the past five years to about $3.8 billion. Meter tampering is not only illegal, it's extremely dangerous. A new law in Indiana provides for an arrest when there's evidence of tampering.

"You Gotta Have A Gimmick," said Dot Lynn, second grade teacher at Akron Elementary School, and she does! Mr. and Mrs. Randy Reese and Bernice Reese helped Lynn get the bathtub from an old house they tore down in Akron. Lynn has set the bathtub up as a learning center. Tammie Reese is shown reading in the tub. There are only two rules for using the tub: 1. You must read while you're in the tub and 2. Take off your shoes before entering!

Proper packing averts holiday woes are the best ways to have your parcel delivered through the mail without delay or damage. The U.S. Postal Service offers some guidelines on preparing a package for mailing.

Use containers strong enough, such as heavy fiberboard boxes, reinforced bags, or tubes, to protect the contents during handling. Lightweight gift boxes should not be used.

Cushion and secure the contents to ensure they do not move inside the container, especially important when mailing fragile items. When several items are packed together, be sure each item is individually cushioned. Suitable cushioning materials are shredded or crumpled newspaper, plastic or fiberboard inserts, and plastic or styrofoam chips.

Packages containing breakable items should be "Fragile" in three places: above the address, below the postage, and on the reverse side. Food or other perishable items should be "Perishable." Photo graphs or other items that should be folded should be reinforced with a cardboard insert marked "Do not Bend."

Use filament reinforced tape to seal parcels. Masking tape and cellophane tape do not seal a parcel securely. Avoid tying parcels with twine or string as they tend to get caught in mail processing equipment. Parcels should not be wrapped in gift wrap or brown paper. Any writing on the parcel other than the address should be marked over before the parcel is mailed.

The package should be clearly addressed on one side only with both the sender and addressee's complete address, including ZIP code. Use ink that is not easily smeared or rubbed off. The addresses should be written directly on the package rather than on a slip of paper or a label taped or glued to the surface. Do not cover the address side of the parcel with cellophane tape either under or over the address since postage stamps and other labels will not adhere to that surface The name and address of both the sender and the addressee should be inserted in the parcel. This will allow delivery even if the outside address becomes unreadable.

A parcel can weigh up to 70 pounds and measure up to 108 inches in length and girth (the distance around the thickest part of the package) combined to be The Postal Service offers several ways to mail packages. Express Mail Next Day Service is available to a network of cities when a package must be delivered overnight. Packages weighing over 13 ounces can be sent by Priority Mail and will be delivered anywhere in the continental United States within two or three days. Clearly mark the par-cel "Priority Mail" or affix "Priority Mail" labels available free at your post office. The most economical method of sending packages is Parcel Post. Delivery usually takes from one to ten days de-pending on the distance the package must travel. Third class mail is an inexpensive way to mail packages that weigh under a pound. A package can be sent from any post office and delivery standards are similar to those for parcel post. Those packages mailed to APO or FPO addresses can be expidited by using SAM or PAL services. SAM parcels can weigh up to 15 pounds and go by the surface rate to the APO or FPO. If space is available, it will be flown to its destination; if not, it goes by surface carrier. If sent PAL rates, the parcel will be flown from the post office of mailing to the destination post office. PAL parcels can weigh up to 30 pounds and require a minimal fee in addition to parcel post postage rates. Consult your post office for a schedule of early mailing dates for Christmas delivery of APO/FPO parcels.

primping her neatly cropped hair and dousing herself in the most feminine of colognes. The young woman's eyes shone above powder-puffed cheeks, and the Christmas carol she was humming echoed happiness off the bedroom

Holidays at home were exhilarating, and this one particularly. child, she embraced the season with intensity. Her gifts were always neatly wrapped and her sentiments were expressively crafted. In whatever way she could be "mother's little helper," she did her best. The love was reciprocated throughout family, and Greta was determined to fulfill this holiday spirit when she was married.

But maybe her were too high, or maybe she did not realize the intricacies of being of good wife, devoted mother and faithful employee. The experience was traumatic, and while it was painful to admit and even more painful to resolve, her family placed Greta in the state hospital to treat her erratic behavior and irrational, angry disposition.

Three years ago, Christmas was but another day, holding no special meaning. The doctors cared for Greta, but the festivi-

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mathias and Fern Bowen were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinder of Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowen, David Bowen of Naples, Italy, Mrs. Clifford Bright and Emily Fites. The dinner was in honor of the birthdays of Fern Bowen and Lois Kinder.

Thanksgiving evening dinner guests of Mrs. Clifford Bright and Velma Bright were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hershberger, and Mr. and Mrs Gary Kinder and Jeremy, all of Warsaw and Nora Hoffman

And then coincidental with the onset of spring, Greta blossomed. Progressively, her temperament improved, and by the Christmas next, the ward parties took on therapeutic value. By the next summer, she was home with her husband and kindergarten-age

The Mental Health Association was responsible for the Christmas event and gifts, and for this compassion, Greta was especially thankful. Indeed, this outside influence upon what could have been dismal registered significantly upon her mood transition. And noted the excitement had a similar effect upon the other

Greta was not as meticulous to details as in holidays past, but she could enjoy these days with that much more fervor having known that other persons cared while she was hospitalized.

Take part in this therapy. Respond with at least one item when the Mental Health Association asks you to give the Christmas

The deadline for donating Christmas gifts for hospitalized mental patients is Dec. 12, according to Mrs. Nelson Hunter Jr., chairwoman of the Fulton County Mental Health Association project. The cooperative effort of our Mental Health Association chapter with Hook's Drug stores and its friendly clientele should help us to succeed in providing a Christmas gift for every patient in our state hospitals and other care facilities. This is the first time that Indiana Mental Health has had a corporation acting as State Christmas Chairman for Christmas program.

Gifts will be assembled and assigned to various patients on a selective basis. Gifts should be new, unbreakable, of large sizes and not wrapped. They can range from sweaters and dresses to less expensive items such as metics, hose, toothpaste and hand soap. Items costing less than $1 also are welcome. Donated items will be personalized by volunteers. Because this takes considerable time, the Dec. 12 deadline for donations has been set.

Donations can be left at the following places in Fulton County: Tiosa Brethren Church, Akron Exchange State Bank, Day's Hardware (Akron), Kewanna F&M Bank, Bill's Grocery (Leiter's Ford), Talma Church, Baxter's Bible Drugs, Ribordy's Kroger's, Hook's Drugs, 3-D Store, Berkway Supermarket, Wilt's Supermarkets.
