Students collecting labels

Students at Akron School are currently conducting a label collection drive that promises to deliver valuable educational materials. As part of a program called Labels for Education, Campbell Soup Company is offering educational materials to schools in exchange for labels from the company's products. Labels are being collected in the drive beginning November 1, 1987 and ending March 1, 1988. A goal of surpassing last year's total of 18,800 labels collected has been set.

Labels from Campbell's Condensed Soups, Campbell's Chunky Soups, Campbell's "Soup for One" Soups, Campbell's Low Sodium Soups, Campbell's Quality Soup and Recipe Mix, Campbell's Beans products, Campbell's Fresh Mushrooms / Tomatoes, Prego, Prego Plus, Prego al Fresco Spaghetti Sauce, Prego Frozen Entrees, Campbell's Tomato Juice, "V8" Vegetable Juice, "V8" Low Sodium Vegetable Juice, JuiceWorks Blends of 100 percent fruit juices, Frasco American products, Swanson Canned and Frozen Food products, Mrs. Paul's Frozen Food products, Vlasic

Pickle products and all Pepperidge Farm products are all redeemable.

Anyone who wishes to contribute labels to the drive may do so by giving their labels to students, or simply drop them off at Akron School. Collection containers will also be placed at the Akron town offices and the Akron Exchange State Bank.

Taxes due!

Just a reminder that Tuesday, November 10, is the deadline to pay the fall installment of real estate taxes at your local county treasurers office.

The Fulton County office which is normally closed on Saturday, will be open this coming Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon.

Toy drive underway

The Tippecanoe Valley Kiwanis members are collecting toys to distribute to needy children during the Christmas season.

If you have any used toys in good condition or if you would like to donate a new toy, please call any of the following individuals or leave your donation at one of the locations listed below.

Mentone: Frank and Jerry's Market, or Millers Hardware. For more information call 353-7571.

Akron: Stephen's Garage or call 893-4211 for more information.

Burket: Powell's Market, or call 491-3272 for more information.

FFA members begin community project

The Tippecanoe Valley Chapter of Future Farmers of America is beginning one of their community projects by selling rodent prevention products in cooperation with Ralston Purina. The sales promotion period runs from October 28th, through November 10th. All of the profits from this project will be used to sponsor FFA judging teams as well as other recreational activities that the Chapter is involved in.

The chapter officers for the 1987-88 year are as follows: President, Tim Doud, son of Jim and Bonnie Doud; Vice President, Scott Shepherd, son of Ellis and Sandy Shepherd; Secretary, Todd Doberstein, son of Daryl and Coni Doberstein; Treasurer, Mike Harsh, son of Jim and Carol Harsh; Reporter, Randy Fields, son of Steve and Betty Hammond; Sentinel, Jenny Doud, daughter of Jim and Bonnie Doud.

The Vocational Agriculture I class recently elected "Greenhand" officers. These "Greenhands" are first year members of the FFA. The Greenhand officers are as follows: President, Thad Leininger, son of Bill and Buni Leininger; Vice President, Tim Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner; Secretary, George VanMeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry VanMeter; Treasurer, Eric Carson, son of Claudia Carson; Reporter, Stan Miller, son of Gene and Carolyn Miller; Sentinel, Bryan Stephen, son of Mike and Joyce Stephen; Student Advisor, Josh Beery, son of Paul and Kathie Beery.

The Greenhand class will be conducting the Greenhand recognition banquet on November 17th. The FFA members and their guests will be invited.

Boosters to meet

The Tippecanoe Valley Football Booster Club will be having a meeting and a Green and Gold 250 Drawing on Tuesday, November 10. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. and will be held in the lecture room at the high school.

All members are urged to attend.

Area license branch to expand business hours

On November 10, 1987, the Rochester License Branch will open its doors as an office of the state under the Bureau of Motor Vehicles Commission, continuing the volunteer effort that began with 10 "pilot" branches in January of this year.

The Rochester Office will be open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Thursday - Closed; and Saturday - 8:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Although the office will remain at its current location at 913 Main Street, Suite 103, renovations have been made to better accommodate motorists. The public is invited to view the changes at a dedication ceremony and an all day open-house of the Rochester Office, on November 20.

To prepare for the conversion, the license branch will be closed on November 9, for inventory and financial audits.

Christmas shopping trip planned

The Mentone Reading Club has put together a fun day to help with your Christmas Shopping. On Saturday, December 5, the club will be sponsoring a trip to Chicago to shop in the Loop area and to visit the Water Tower.

The bus will leave the Mentone Methodist parking lot at 7:00 a.m. and will return at approximately 9:30 p.m. Cost of the transportation is $18.00 per person. Stops will be made in Merrillville for breakfast going to Chicago, and again for supper, when returning.

Also while in Chicago, a tour of the city lights will be enjoyed before returning. Anyone interested should contact a member of the Mentone Reading Club, or call 353-7625 or 353-7569.

Students study first-aid

The sixth grade science class at Akron is currently involved in studying the American Red Cross Basic First Aid course and various medical emergencies. Mrs. Pat Hoover R.N., TVSC school nurse is directing the course with assistance from science teacher, Jeri Good.

The course is designed to provide the knowledge and skills critical to saving lives and minimizing the severity of injuries. The instructional design allows students to progress at their own individual rates and includes periodic instructor led practice sessions. Emphasis is placed on learning and applying proper techniques of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Methods of assisting a choking victim and stopping bleeding is also of importance. Class discussions consist of topics that include general rules for emergency care, recognizing signs and symptoms of stroke, heart attack, diabetic coma and insulin shock.

At the conclusion of the unit students are prepared to face basic emergencies and will react confidently by taking appropriate action when confronted with the emergency until technical assistance arrives on the scene.

American Music Week
Nov. 2-8

Music plays an important role in all our lives in one way or another. Both Doug and myself were in band in school which helped us understand instruments, rhythm and different parts of songs. How amazing it was when all the different parts and instruments were combined into a song!

Music has been referred to in sayings such as "...music to my ears." Yes, music is a pleasing thing. We sing our babies to sleep, we set our clock radios to wake us up, and sometimes go to sleep to music. Kids have taken showers to music, wives have cleaned house to music, boys have washed cars to music and, of course, we drive to music.

Music can bring a touch of nostalgia into our lives reminding us of times long ago. We can have a chuckle as we drive along or wipe a tear - whatever the case. Isn't it amazing how our moods can be changed by music? A relaxing song plays on the car radio as you rush home from work a little late - you slow down and take things as they come; a song with a catchy, uplifting rhythm plays as you vacuum the house - the sweeper wand flies around the room, and a favorite song allows us to get through the drudgery of that job we've been putting off and enjoy it, compliments of music.

Some songs are so good they are released time after time and each time improved. Several of the songs my kids listen to are remakes of ones I bought when I was their age. Some of these songs have been put with commercials for fast food restaurants, and while talking with Doug about this, I noticed him smiling as a moon seated at a grand piano swirled across the TV screen. He clearly was enjoying the commercial each time it was on. They really have captured the attention of the viewers - what they intended, I'm sure! (How about a chorus, Harley?) Other songs of yesteryear are the background to raisins dancing and clapping across the television screen. How many of you have stopped what you're doing to watch? If that commercial doesn't sell raisins, nothin' will. The latest background to television shows are songs from the 50s, 60s, 70s and present. They seem to be better just because of the music. It, once again, sets the mood for the shows and movies. They must be good...they're still around!

Where music is concerned, there is, without a doubt, something for everyone whether it be a ballad for a baby, rhymes for toddlers, country, classical, gospel, big bands, rock and roll, pop, jazz, easy listening, rhythm and blues and theme songs from movies, hit shows and TV shows.

The next time you listen to your radio, keep an ear tuned and a toe tapping, and enjoy the talents of many, many people who have made your enjoyment possible.

WHEN THE SOWS ARE PIGGIN'

When the sows are piggin',
Pa gets little sleep,
No matter if it's summer,
Or if the snow is deep.

The farrowing pens are cleaned out,
Heat lamps are cleaned and hung,
Everything is in readiness for
The sows to bring forth their young.

The pens are nearly wrecked,
As their time draws near.
Keeps Pa on the jump
That is very clear.

On the kitchen register
Reposes there a pig
He makes a lot of noise
Through he isn't very big.

Pa keeps a long weeks vigil,
The household is upset,
When the sows are done "a piggin"
Pa will, "Hit the Hay", I'll bet.

On last Sunday, November 14th, the Mentone Methodist Church was rededicated with proper religious ceremonies. The pastor, Rev. E.E. DeWitt, assisted by Doctor O.T. Martin Dist. Supt., had charge of the entire program of the day and Bishop Edgar Blake, D.D., L.L.D. of Detroit, Michigan preached the rededication sermon in which he stressed the need of a great Spiritual awakening throughout the entire church. The total cost of the Remaking and Beautifying of the church and parsonage is a little over $15,000.00 of which $10,000.00 is provided for in cash. A fine basket dinner was served at the noon hour and in the afternoon a program was given including Baptismal Service, Reception of new members, special music and readings, and a sermon by District Superintendent Martin.

The Senior class is planning to publish a yearbook this year, including pictures of the four high school grades, activities, play casts, last will and testament, snapshots and other things of great interest and importance. The Seniors as a whole are putting forth their greatest ability to accomplish this undertaking. The book will not be expensive and will prove to be worthwhile. The Seniors are proud that they can contribute something in M.H.S. during their last year of school. We hope those outside the school life will be interested in this project as well as those in school.

Annual Christmas display opens

Santa will set up headquarters in Indianapolis again for the 38th consecutive year when the 38th Annual Christmas Gift and Hobby Show opens on Saturday, November 7, 1987 at noon, at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Expo Hall. Adult advance sale tickets are half-price now through November 6, 1987, and can be purchased exclusively at all Hooks Drug Stores statewide.

According to the show's producer, Ed Schoenberger, 70,000 advance sale tickets have been placed with the 335 Hooks Drug Stores in Indiana, offering all Hoosiers the opportunity to save 1/2 price off the show's regular admission price of $4. Based on the show's 37-year track record for attendance, it is the nation's largest attraction of its kind.

Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus will be available for visits with the kids during both weekends of the nine-day show, as well as on Veteran's Day, Wednesday, November 11th. An Indiana Christmas tradition, the Christmas Gift and Hobby Show is "ideal family entertainment," say show producers "because there's virtually something for everyone to see, do and enjoy."

A twenty-five foot Blue Spruce Christmas tree will be the show's centerpiece while hollyherry-red carpeted walkways will usher visitors through the holiday wonderland brimming with the season's special magic. Nearly 200 shops will line the walkways, offering special gifts and gift ideas for everyone - from the "high-tech" minded, to those favoring the whimsy and nostalgia of a country Christmas.

Entertainment, arts and crafts demonstrations and much more will be offered continually from the stage, where Master of Ceremonies, Bill Cronin, will preside daily. These demonstrations are a favorite with hobbyists who prefer to learn new ways to make gifts for everyone on their holiday shopping list.

With plenty of parking available, the shopping extravaganza will be open from noon to 10 p.m. on Saturdays and Friday, noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays, as well as noon to 9 p.m. on Monday - Thursday.

Advance tickets (adults only) are half-price at all Hooks Drug Stores, and all tickets are available through the show office for mail orders: P.O. Box 20189, Indianapolis, IN 46220.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

DRIFTING TEETH

After you've had a tooth extracted, you may think your other teeth will stay right where they are, but that's not likely to happen. As soon as a gap is created in your mouth, the other teeth are prone to drifting, especially the teeth closest to the gap. This can cause some serious dental problems, including eventual loss of teeth.

When you have a missing tooth, there is a natural tendency for the teeth on either side of the gap to drift toward each other. This may happen so slowly and imperceptibly that you don't realize it's happening at first. With the drifting, open contact areas are created where food will collect, causing tooth decay. This can also cause gum infection and bone loss problems.

The drifting also throws your other teeth out of alignment, resulting in malocclusion or improper bite. This will decrease your chewing efficiency and put abnormal strain on your remaining teeth. Sometimes this results in jaw joint pain. If you have a missing tooth, you should ask your dentist what he would recommend to replace it.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121; 114 Mishawaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

Akron Carnegie Library

New books available at the Akron Public Library are:

Fried Green Tomatoes at the Whistle Stop Cafe, by Fannie Flagg - This work by one of America's fairest and funniest ladies, is folksy and fresh, endearing and affecting with humor and drama - and with an ending that would fill with smiling tears the Whistle Stop Lake - if only they had a lake.

Betty White in Person, by Betty White - Gathered here are Betty's wit and wisdom, her observations and intuitions. She looks forward and back, and shares all that she sees. She has learned to take all that life can give, and has found the best in every smallest part.

Help Your Baby Build a Healthy Body, by Tamara Meyer - A new exercise and massage program for the first five formative years.

What Every Woman

Ought to Know About Love & Marriage, by Dr. Joyce Brothers - This is Dr. Brothers' home ground, the subject she knows and writes about better than anyone else - and it remains the one subject every woman wants to know more about. And a lot of men, too!

Facing Death, and the Life After, by Billy Graham - Today we are confronted with so many voices telling us how to live; only those who are prepared to die are really prepared to live. The uncertainty is not the dying, it's the preparation.

The Sewing Book, by Ann Ladbury - A complete practical guide with nearly 2000 illustrations.

The Complete Handbook of Pregnancy, by Dr. George Feldman - A step-by-step guide from preconception to the first weeks following birth.

The Complete Book of Hair Care, by Pat Spire - From quick and simple ideas to help you look your best, to transforming your normal style into a dramatic, colorful creation, this book is the complete A-Z of hair care.

Flowers: Growing, Drying, and Preserving, by Alan Cormack - A book that will encourage the many who have never tried before to learn the simple techniques of flower arranging and flower drying for table and wall decorations.

Loved memories pile up like Autumn leaves. Bright sunset colors for the fading years: For memories are kind when life bereaves. The glory lingers not the doubts and fears.

Like bittersweet along a weathered fence. They glow when frost has killed the frailier bloom: Years cannot dim them; vivid and intense.

They shine like hope in an age shadowed room. The eyes that once saw beauty clear, still hold awareness like the twilight afterglow; and hearts, long steeped in ways of love enfold with tenderness, young spirits as they grow.

Nothing is final; no one ever dies. While memory endures and testifies.

Senior Citizens, a reminder we will be closed Veteran's Day, November 11th. Also all November birthdays will be celebrated November 12. At this date Diana Jones, Fulton County health nurse will be taking blood pressures. Our thanks to Frieda Graham for the place mats, Helen Hartzler for the napkins, Geraldine Hill and Kenneth Bright for the baked goods. As always to all my volunteers for a job well done. The Keen-Agers celebrated Halloween, October 29 at the pitch-in dinner. Kenneth Bright furnished the table decorations, napkins, treats for everyone.

Senior Citizens - if you are 60 years of age or older, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For your meal reservations please call 893-7204 the day before, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. - 12:30.

The Menu for the week of November 9-13 is:

Monday - B.B.Q. sandwich on bun, California blend vegetables, perfection salad, peaches, milk, coffee.

Tuesday - Swedish meat balls, peas, carrot raisin salad, rice, cherry cobbler, bread, milk, grapefruit juice, coffee.

Wednesday - Closed for Veteran's Day.

Thursday - Ham and beans, tossed salad, pineapple, cornbread, chocolate cake, milk, coffee.

Friday - Turkey, dressing, green beans, pumpkin pie, pears, milk, coffee.

4-H NEWS

Kosciusko County 4-H members, parents and leaders will participate in the 1987 4-H Achievement Night on Monday, November 30 at the Justice Building meeting room. Each year, nearly 200 awards are presented to local 4-H club members.

The awards program is sponsored by the Kosciusko County 4-H Council and serves to publicly recognize the achievements of 4-H members throughout the county. This year in addition to the nationally sponsored awards, members will receive special recognition in several categories. The Kay Ferverda Memorial Award for beef, sponsored by the Don Ferverda Family; the Rick Osborn Memorial Award for dairy, sponsored by the Gene Messmore family; and the Roberta Waggoner Memorial Award for rabbits, sponsored by the Ronald Waggoner family will be presented to outstanding 4-H achievers in each of these categories.

4-H Calendar

Nov. 4 - 4-H Adult Leader Meeting, 7:30 p.m., Justice Building Lounge.

10 - Junior Neighbors 4-H Club meeting, 7:00 p.m., REMC.

16 - Junior Leader meeting at 7:30 p.m., Justice Building.

Vikes finish 9-1

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings have been eliminated from sectional football action. Third-ranked Fort Wayne Dwenger stopped the Vikings 35-26 Friday night, scoring three touchdowns after trailing 7-0 and holding on for the victory in Class 3A Sectional 18 action. Valley finished the season with a 9-1 record.

The Vikings controlled the first quarter of play after receiving the kick-off and keeping the ball until 3:42 was left in the quarter. Steve Holloway scored the first Valley touchdown. Tim Sparrow kicked the extra point.

Dwenger managed to secure a touchdown and gain the extra point before going into the second quarter. Dwenger added two more touchdowns in the second quarter. Valley took advantage of two Dwenger fumbles to score two touchdowns also in the second quarter, but the attempt for the extra point on the second touchdown failed for Valley ending the first half with Dwenger leading 21-20.

In the second half, Dwenger scored first on a 9-yard run. With 1:04 left in the quarter, Holloway scored for the Vikings on a 13-yard run. The third quarter ended with Dwenger ahead by a score of 28-26.

The Vikings had two drives stopped in the final quarter by pass interceptions. With 3:14 left in the game, Dwenger intercepted the pass in the end zone. Valley got the ball back when Tucker recovered a Dwenger fumble. The Viking drive was stopped by Dwenger intercepting a pass with 2:06 left on the clock. Dwenger held onto the ball until the clock ran down.

The Viking defense was led by Dwayne Leiter with 19 tackle points, Anglin with 13 and Brian Peterson with 10. Holloway led the offense with 107 yards in 25 carries.

Sign-up set for November 9

Persons under the age of 60 who meet income guidelines may begin applying for Project SAFE assistance November 9.

Applications for Emergency SAFE, which assists households whose utility or fuel services has been involuntarily disconnected, also will be accepted beginning November 9.

Applications from heads-of-households who are 59 years of age or younger will be accepted only at Community Action Agencies. Income guidelines for individuals under the age of 60 are based on federal poverty guidelines. They are:

Number in Household	Gross Annual Income
1	$6,875
2	9,250
3	11,625
4	14,000
5	16,375
6	18,750

Applications for Emergency SAFE will also be accepted only at Community Action Agencies. Individuals must first apply for Project SAFE in order to seek assistance from the emergency assistance component of the program.

Project SAFE began accepting applications from persons 60 years of age and older September 21.

Applicants, regardless of age, must present their most recent utility bill and proof of income when they apply for Project SAFE assistance. Heating and electric credits for approved applicants will begin in January, 1988.

Individuals do not receive payments from Project SAFE. The utility or fuel vendor claims a credit against its state retail taxes. Project SAFE funds are then sent to the Indiana State Department of Revenue to pay the credited amount of taxes.

For the 1987-88 heating season, those who rent dwellings can also qualify for Project SAFE assistance. Persons whose fuel and electric services are included in their rent payments must have an affidavit from their landlord stipulating that fact when they apply for Project SAFE assistance.

During the 1986-87 heating season, Project SAFE helped 339,388 people in 143,962 households pay utility and fuel bills. Emergency SAFE aided 40,743 persons in 12,437 households.

It isn't necessary to blow out the other person's light to let your own shine.

The person who knows everything has a lot to learn.

Free financial aid calendar available

Students in need of funding for the current and next academic terms are urged to order a free financial aid planning calendar from the Scholarship Bank. This vital planner includes critical aid deadlines, addresses and phone numbers of aid sources and tips on applying for aid.

According to the director, Steve Danz, over 500 million dollars is available in private aid to college students, and in many cases can cover up to twenty-five percent of a student's annual college costs. These funds are contributed by corporations, trade, civic and non-profit foundations. They are normally awarded on non-traditional basis, such as academic standing, college major, geographic preferences, and even on a student's willingness to undertake a special research project or enter a contest. Parental factors such as union, employer or military affiliation is also considered by some donors.

The Scholarship Bank works with financial aids offices throughout the US to distribute information on the over 5,000 sources. Interested students may receive a computer-generated print-out of up to 65 sources of private financial aid that they appear specifically qualified to receive. According to the director, many sources are renewable annually and have an average value in excess of $1,000.00.

Students interested in receiving the free aid calendar and information on the scholarship programs should send a stamped, business-sized self-addressed envelope to The Scholarship Bank, 4626 N. Grand, Covina, CA 91724.

Adverbs for sale!

Students in Mrs. Marlene's sixth grade reading class at Akron are shown preparing for their "Word Sale" which was held the last week of October. Students are shown making cookie letters which were sold for one cent per letter. The students were divided into noun, pronoun, verb, adverb, adjective, and interjection committees to promote the sale of their "words". Students bought the words and composed sentences before eating the merchandise. Makes fixing dinner sound easy!

A big thank you to Bonnie Bickel for doing all the "extras" so that I could take a few days vacation. Also thanks are extended to those who helped her in anyway to make it easier for her. Thanks, Bonnie, I'll do the same for you!

IN WAR OR PEACE THEY RISK
THEIR LIVES FOR OUR FREEDOM

Technically speaking, we are at peace in the world, or at least not engaged in any officially declared war at the moment. However, soldiers can change from day to day, and in any case the members of our armed services are always on duty around the globe, protecting our national interests, and they are prepared to give their lives for us if necessary. Therefore, when we know that there are soldiers in each of our states, it is the least we can do to thank them for their service as well as possible. We should also remember that during World War II, the United States was not alone in its fight against the Axis powers. The United States was joined by many other nations, and it was the combined effort of all these nations that led to the defeat of the Axis powers. We should also remember that the United States has been a leader in the world since World War II, and it has been the United States that has helped to bring about the end of the Cold War. We should also remember that the United States has been a leader in the world since World War II, and it has been the United States that has helped to bring about the end of the Cold War.

Mentone to try police protection plan with aid of county police

People in and around Mentone will begin to have more police protection beginning January 1, 1988, according to the proposed police protection plan. This was announced at the Monday, November 2, Mentone Town Board meeting. Kosciusko County Sheriff Ron Robinson was on hand to explain the new program developed between the county police department and the town of Mentone.

The proposed plan will include a six consecutive work week followed by two days off for an officer. The salary of the officer will be paid by the town even though the town will be depositing the money into the county's general fund. The proposed plan will cost the town $16,000.

The boundaries for the working officer would be County Rd. 100 South, including the southern half of Harrison Township, to the north; County Rd. 550 West, including all of Franklin and Seward townships, to the south and east which includes the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, and the Kosciusko/Marshall County line to the west. The officer would still be available for emergencies throughout the entire county area.

Two Mentone area county police officers have shown interest in the position available as an additional officer will be hired for the county department.

Mentone's reserve officers, Steve Shand and Ed Rock, will continue their work as usual until the end of the year.

Jim Miller reported to the board that a total of $850 was spent for new scales to measure the amount of chlorine used in the town water. The scales have been installed and are in use.

Looking ahead, Miller also reported that the snow plow has been checked and is mounted on the town truck.

Representatives of Millwood Sanitation and Hoosier Water were on hand to receive specifications for trash pick up in Mentone. Bids for these, and other interested companies not attending the meeting, will be opened at the December meeting.

Fire destroyed the horse arena show barn owned by Helen Terrell of Akron on Tuesday, November 3. The barn was located on St. Rd. 19, approximately one mile north of Akron.

Roger Montague discovered the blaze around 9:00 p.m. with the Henry Township Fire Department receiving the call at 9:04 p.m.

The show arena was used by local 4-H clubs for horse shows as well as for the training of horses by the late Red Terrell. In recent years, the barn was used primarily for storage.

Although a monetary amount has not been established for the loss of the barn and its contents, several pieces of farm machinery were known to have been destroyed in the fire. Among the items destroyed were big tractors with internal and lift roll bars, a Bobcat, a Cub Cadet, two mowers, a hay wagon, and over 3,800 bales of hay. Several other items too numerous to mention were also destroyed by the blaze. Mrs. Terrell stated that several items for an upcoming auction were being stored in the barn. However, firemen were able to pull one tractor from the burning structure.

According to Joe Day of the Henry Township Fire Department, over 20,000 gallons of water was transported to the Terrell farm to fight the fire. The wind was a favorable factor to the firemen as it blew the flames and sparks away from the other nearby structures.

The Rochester Fire Department assisted the local fire department by supplying extra needed water.

Firemen stayed at the sight until 1:00 a.m. Wednesday morning.

The cause of the fire has yet to be determined.

We asked; you responded by Mary Fisher

We asked for your viewpoints in a recent issue of the News and we got them! After a careful review of the Reader Surveys, we at the News would like to share the responses which we received.

Almost all of our readers read the obituaries, local news, school news and sports news. A favorite column seems to be the Years Ago Stories which are taken from the past issues of the Akron and Mentone newspapers. Another favorite item among our readers are the feature stories. Many readers have asked for more of these and we will try harder to provide them for your enjoyment.

Joyce Moore's "A New Beginning" has gained in popularity since our first Reader Survey. Joyce works very hard to prepare these stories. They seemed to be enjoyed by our lady readers. Younger readers have expressed a desire for more school news and more school pictures while older readers would like to see more club news and community news.

One of our favorite surveys requested we not print obituaries; sorry, but death is still a part of life and the obituaries will continue to be a vital part of the Akron-Mentone News.

One survey expressed a desire for better town board meeting coverage. Every effort is made to get the happenings of the meetings, either on a first hand basis or through secretary's reports. In attending these meetings for us and report on them? If so, please call us at 893-4433. Some of the comments given to us on the surveys include: "What do you like best

Students receive evaluations

These I.C.E. students received the highest evaluations from their employers this last nine-week grading period at TVHS. The Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education program offers high school seniors opportunities to get on-the-job training in a variety of work experiences. Top students were (front row, seated) Todd Doberstein, Kenny Irons, and Troy Rudd. Other outstanding students were (standing, second row) Tim Doud, Heidi Fisher, Tony Kron, Jenny Shaffer, Ron Sheetz, Jon Tinkey, and Dena Whitaker. (NEWS Photo)

Republicans sweep Akron elections

Beginning in January of 1988 the town of Akron will have a new town board. The political tables were turned with the November 3 election as the town will now have a complete Republican board with the exception of the town clerk Sara Jane Sutton who ran unopposed for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

A total of 319 of the 510 registered voters cast ballots.

A breakdown for each ward was as follows: Ward 1 - Robert Allen, 175 votes, Richard Drudge, 138; Ward 2 - Charles Sterk, 165; Jack Miller 147; Ward 3 - Rodney Conner 158, Jerry Hudson, 152, Sara Jane Sutton received 249 votes.

Mentone did not have an election because there were no challengers for the positions now held by the town board.

Good job, Vikings!

Dear Editor,

We would like to congratulate the Viking football team and coaches for the great season they had including winning the TRC championship. We are proud of each and every boy who made all this possible.

Also, we would like to give a big thank you to the individuals and businesses of the community and surrounding areas who made our football boosters club a great success.

Above all, we would like to thank Coach Phillips and his staff for their cooperation with our booster club activities. Hopefully, our school district can benefit by the unity that has developed through this organization.

Many of the players and coaches have thanked us for the support, which makes us proud.

Maybe we can learn that cooperation from within can lead to rewarding experiences for all.

Thank you,
Barry Peterson, Pres.

GAME SHOWS VS. SOAP OPERAS

I would imagine if a vote were taken half the people would enjoy soap operas and the other half would prefer game shows. However, this person has only good to say about soaps. The game shows leave a lot to be desired. A LOT!

I have wondered why people continue to tune in to game shows day after day. It's obvious why soaps have a following, they have "cliff hangers" every Friday and you find yourself wishing for Monday just to see who will live or die. In order to keep a following, the writers have to come up with interesting scripts for years. Where else could you tune in and find one lady who has been married five times - each time to someone rich - had 17 operations, 7 children, her home decorated 15 times over the years and clothes that you and I could only wish for? (I love the wives that visit each other in full length mink coats!)

On the other hand, game shows seem to be the same each day. You find the average American housewife or man waiting nervously for his turn at the game. Everyone smiles (a little too much) and claps for the opponent and urges the other person to win. (I'll bet they mutter things under their breath!) These contestants are expected to remain cheerful even after losing all their money. BUT...when they win, they are expected to choose gifts. True, they may purchase something they've always wanted but what about the objects they HAVE to take? How would you like to take a 3' hipopotamus door stop home? Or, how about a unicorn umbrella stand that cost $600? If you think you can resell something like that and get your $600 back - good luck! Wouldn't it be our luck to win the privilege of choosing items from the Jungle Room? I can see it now, a genuine, autographed grapevine from Tarzan's attic for $500! No thanks!

If I could invent a game show of my own, the M.C.'s name would be Burt Teeth, smiling and flashing those lovely caps toward the camera. I would next have three overweight housewives turning letters after which practical gifts would be given away. Some of these gifts would include a range with self cleaning drip pans, no-dust end tables, two years of Cosmopolitan for runners-up and a lifetime supply of Dolly Parton wigs! (Nothing else she wears will fit the average housewife!)

Can it be that some people actually watch the same game show twice a day on different channels? I know two kids that do. One evening I was impressed beyond limits as C.J. answered two puzzles right off the bat with only two letters exposed. Then a shifty look from Chris tipped me off! Don't ask me how they can stand it thru the same show twice, I can barely make it thru once.

Give me the soaps! I can go on vacation or miss several days and when I tune in I haven't missed a thing! As the World Spins or As the Stomach Churns - take your pick, they're all good!

Time for basketball

Tippecanoe Valley is announcing its 1987-88 Boys' Basketball Season ticket plans. All 1986-87 season ticket holders will be receiving a letter within the next week enabling them to purchase the same seats they had last year, by mail.

1986-87 ticket holders who do not want the same seats may pick up tickets at the High School on Dec. 4, from 8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Parents of players, managers, cheerleaders and corporation employees who wish to change seats or did not have tickets last year may purchase tickets at the High School on December 2nd at 8:00 a.m.

Tickets will go on sale to the general public December 7th.

MYTHS OF COUNTRY COOKIN

While busy helpin' hubby,
Replace a broken part
Suddenly I remembered
Dinner I didn't have time to start.
What will we eat the...?
Cold meat and boughten stew,
This myth of country cookin'
If people only knew!

Yesterday I was so busy,
So we ate fish sticks and buns,
It's the planting season,
Hubby keeps me on the run.

Harvest used to mean threshers,
And gooddies and good meals galore.
Now, in the day of the combine,
Food comes prepared from the grocery store.
While on the back forty,
Dinner a cracklin' became,
Next day Hubby was early,
So "rare" was everythings name.

Modern farm wives haven't time,
To cook like grandmother did,
So she buys quick foods at the grocery
And helps hubby farm instead.

We would like to thank those people who sent flowers, cards, food and called at the funeral home. The Home Health Care Service ladies, Jody and Leslie, the nurses at K.C.H., Dr. Wilson, the United Methodist Women who prepared the dinner and to Pastor Les Taylor.

Also the prayers and cards while "Jack" was ill and the King Memorial Home for all they did. Thank you all for everything, for caring and sharing.
Viola and Freeman Gruenewald

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heighway are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born at their home south of Mentone Sunday, November 21. The infant weighed eight pounds.

Recently the school chose a new school song. The tune which was chosen was "Anchors Aweigh" march of the Navy. This was used for the first time at our ballgame with Beaver Dam. The verses are as follows: I. Up! Mentone High, Arise! Girded for fight Always where honor lies There we find the Green and White Loyal and strong are we steadfast and true striving so valiently As now we sing and tribute bring to you. II. To dear old Mentone High Our praise we sing Onward to victory While our voices ring Rah! Rah! Loyal and true are we Steadfast and strong Honoring the Green and White And with our hearts we join with you in song. (Written by Marjorie Long, Jean Burns and Mr. Kelley). We hope that our patrons will bring these words with them to the games and join with the school in singing.

In the last two months we have had three of our Seniors substitute for teachers of the lower grades. Bob Thorne substituted for Mr. Hollar, the sixth grade teacher. Winifred McCutcheon substituted for Mr. Arthur Witham, the fourth grade teacher and Lena Rush substituted for Miss Eileen Mollenhour, the primary teacher.

Friday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Mollenhour were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Norris and daughter Eleanor Rose, Mr. Walter Fenstermaker and Miss Dorothy Decker.

Miss Rosalind Mentzer of Dowagiac, Michigan spent the weekend in Mentone at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.O. Mentzer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cook entertained the following guests at their home in Mentone Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. William Applegate, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crablet and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Albern Swertz and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chambers, all of South Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Friezner and two children of Mentone.

Dr. Taylor has recently installed a new Fisher X-ray machine in his office. The Taylor hospital is now receiving both surgical and medical patients.

Mike Stephen, along with Duane Hackworth set up downtown Akron's Christmas decorations last Saturday. Thanksgiving week, traditionally, is the beginning of the holiday shopping season in the area. Mentone's decorations will go up Saturday, December 3, according to Guy Alsapugh, director of the Mentone Chamber of Commerce.

National Book week was observed at the Akron Carnegie Public Library from November 14 through November 20 with displays by many local artists. Those entering with "books" included: Rev. and Mrs. Charles Zunkel, former Akron Church of Brethren pastors, Velma Bright and Patty Schultz of the Fulton County Historical Society, Ruel Churchill, James Smith, Rev. Riggle, Dale Oldham, Marie Hand, C.H. Kuhn, and Ethel Barrett, all of Akron. With "record" displays were: Love Trio, The Gospel Sounds with Vicky Manns Whitaker, and Larry Whittenberger with the New Dixie Zing Kings. In the "arts" category were: Marilyn Kruger, Dora Shewman, Terri Furnivall, Patty Schultz, Julie Fairchild, Helen Utter, Virginia York, and Betty McCloughan, and "ceramics" Arlene Lytle and Sheryl Reugner. Crafts of various kinds, including dolls, clothing, etc. were entered by: Frank and Hazel Lukens, Ronald Fenimore, Karen Shoemaker, Joyce Bascom, Jennie Moore, Mary Beasley, Eleanor Hall, Carol Smith, Dorothy Delong, Ruby Dawson, Grace Waechter, Thelma Barnett, Mary Krouse, Eva McHarton and Ruth Bammerlin and "macrame" by Suzanne Caudill. According to Velma Bright, the festival was a big success with many visitors in attendance and local talent was obviously shown all this fine week long display.

The Burket Fire Department met Saturday afternoon, November 26, for ground breaking ceremonies for their new fire station. Construction will hopefully be finished by early spring.

Tippecanoe Valley High Schools football quarterback, Ray Rockhill, has been awarded the state's highest football honor as winner of the Phil Eskew Memorial Award for Mental Attitude on Friday night. Rockhill was chosen for his tremendous performances in the three playoff games for sportsmanship, conduct, character and leadership. He has also been nominated on the Associated Press high school All-State ballot as both quarterback and safety.

Thanksgiving is the one day of the year when families usually get together, and this year is no exception. While the Christmas holiday finds most families observing the event in their own homes, the Thanksgiving holiday is one time when those same families will meet and eat together for old times' sake. Turkey day will be a gala day in Akron for many people. The following homes are just a few of the many who will be blessed with an abundance of food and good cheer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Slaybaugh and family will entertain Mrs. Slaybaugh's four sisters and their families, her brother and his family, and her parents, at dinner on Thanksgiving day. The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ferree and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Swick, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Doine Smoker and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smoker.

D.M. Secor and his three daughters and their families will have their turkey dinner this year at the home of his son, Harley. The guests will be: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zartman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Alspach and family of Macy, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Showalter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Secor, D.M. Secor, and the Harley Secors and their family. Another daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hattery and Mr. Hattery, are in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Rittenhouse will have as their guests Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leininger and son, Harold Leroy; Mr. and Mrs. James Rittenhouse and children, Dixie Ann and James III; and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hammond and family of South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Gast and family are entertaining Mrs. Gast's brothers and sisters this year for Thanksgiving. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leininger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hitchcock of South Bend, Daniel Leininger, Beluah Cook, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boswell. Barbara Gast is home from Newcastle for the vacation and Charles Gast, who is also celebrating his birthday Thursday, is home from Indiana University.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard and daughters, Florence, Evelyn, and Shirley, will spend Thanksgiving day in North Manchester with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ambridge and daughters.

Police Report

A car driven by Toby M. Green, Rt. 1, Mentone, left the north side of County Road 700 North west of County Road 775 East at 10:45 a.m. Saturday, November 7. The car re-crossed the road, rolled over, and came to rest on its wheels in a field. A ditch owned by Sid DeVries, Mentone, was damaged. Green suffered cuts on his back.

A car driven by Terry L. Riggle, Rt. 2, Akron, left County Road 100 North west of County Road 825 East at 12:45 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 7 and went airborne before hitting a fence owned by George Grossman, Rt. 2, Akron.

A car driven by Raymond S. Shoemaker, Rt. 1, Akron, left Fort Wayne Road near County Road 700 East at an unknown time Friday, November 6 and hit a culvert.

Deaton places first

Jayne Deaton, 17-year-old daughter of George and Jean Deaton of Bourbon, placed first out of 66 entries in the five-year-old-and-over gelding halter class at the recent Indiana State Fair. She showed her horse, Tiffs Sunny Dee, a six-year-old gelding. Winning that class made her eligible for the grand and reserve champion class. She then received the grand champion award. Her gelding is a registered Quarter Horse. Mr. and Mrs. George Deaton are former Akron residents.

Aids: What is the medical community doing about it?

(Second of a two part series).

Since the first cases were reported in the United States in 1981, AIDS has been one of the highest priority issues of the medical community. Medical professionals, organizations, and public health officials have joined together to research the AIDS virus, educate and inform the public of AIDS, and treat AIDS victims. The Indiana State Medical Association (ISMA) and its 6,700 physician members are a part of that process.

In the fight against the spread of AIDS, the medical community must focus on three areas: research, education and information, and medical treatment.

Research continues to determine how the AIDS virus affects the body, and what might be done to stop it. Researchers have worked with amazing speed and in five years we know more about AIDS than many diseases that have been studied for much longer periods. Smallpox epidemics for example, were responsible for the deaths of untold numbers of people since the Middle Ages, but a vaccine was not discovered until 1796 and smallpox wasn't eradicated until 1979. The difficult tasks of finding out why the AIDS virus is not destroyed by man's immune system and developing a vaccine against it lie ahead.

Because there is presently no cure for AIDS, health officials seek to stop or curb the spread of AIDS through public education and information. Reports on the rate at which the disease is spreading; the latest treatment discoveries; how AIDS is transmitted; and how to prevent contracting or spreading the disease are the most important education subjects of AIDS. It is vital that people know AIDS is not spread through casual, social contact, but is most often spread through intimate, sexual contact and the sharing of intravenous drug equipment.

Another part of the process is educating health care personnel about the latest discoveries and treatments for AIDS patients. Guidelines for safe procedures to deal with contaminated blood and other contaminated body fluids have been developed and disseminated. Health care personnel are also learning how to safely care for AIDS victims, how to conduct diagnostic testing, and how to best counsel AIDS-infected people. Health care personnel are being made aware of the need for strict confidentiality concerning AIDS victims' health records.

Currently, medical treatment for AIDS is concentrated on keeping the patient as well as possible and free of opportunistic diseases, diseases which are normally controllable but because of AIDS' destruction of the body's immune system, can kill. There are no antiviral drugs available anywhere that have yet been proven to cure AIDS, although the search for such drugs is being pursued vigorously. Some drugs, such as AZT (azidothymidine) have extended the survival of some patients in one study. AZT is an antiviral drug which cannot cure AIDS, but seems to improve the condition of patients who have been diagnosed and recovered from recent bouts with Pneumocystis carinii pneumonia (PCP), a common and often fatal affliction for people with AIDS.

The treatment of AIDS is still a relatively new endeavor, and much is being learned about how to improve treatment and conditions for AIDS victims. Psychological support is of the utmost importance and should be available to any victim of AIDS.

The medical community believes it will beat AIDS, as it beat smallpox and polio.

Hoff entertains students

Children watched with awe and amazement as internationally known author Syd Hoff told stories and transformed letters of the alphabet and numbers into characters and all sorts of pictures.

Mr. Hoff first visited Burket on Thursday, Nov. 5, then traveled on to Mentone to spend the remainder of the day with the students there. On Friday, November 6, Mr. Hoff entertained the students in Akron.

The author is best known for his I CAN READ series which started with the book "Danny the Dinosaur". Many books then followed in the series.

Ann Chubb, media specialist for grades K-8 in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, was the coordinator for the author's visit.

Author Syd Hoff enchanted the children at Mentone, Burket and Akron with his stories and drawings. This picture was taken at the Mentone School. (NEWS Photo)

"Happy Thanksgiving"

In this wonderful land of ours, it is traditional this time of year; To pause and re-count our blessings, for all the things that we hold dear -

For country, for home, for family and friends, for the precious heritage we claim; The patriotism rekindled by the national anthem or by the glow of the olympic flame.

No other people have been as privileged, and it is grateful we should ever be. The "rights" that we take so for granted - many sacrificed that we might be free.

With humble hearts and with gratitude, this Thanksgiving may we express, Our heart-felt thanks to Almighty God for the many ways we are blessed.

A reminder, our pitch-in dinner is Friday, November 20th. Please bring your own table service. Also we will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 26-27 for the

Thanksgiving Holidays. Diane Jones, Fulton County Health Nurse will be taking blood pressures November 12 at the Nutrition Site. PREVENTING ORTHODONTIC PROBLEMS

If your child has an orthodontic problem, you can save time and money if the problem is spotted early. Even better, you may be able to prevent major orthodontic problems from developing if you work closely with your dentist. That means paying special attention to your child's primary or "baby" teeth.

Malocclusion -- a "bad bite" -- results when the upper and lower teeth do not come together as they should. This can have many causes. Harmful oral habits such as thumbsucking and tongue thrusting can cause this. So can overcrowded teeth, missing teeth, or permanent teeth that do not erupt properly.

Through regular dental checkups begun at an early age, often many orthodontic problems can be avoided. At the same time your child can learn good oral hygiene habits. If any problem develops often it can be treated before it comes serious.

If you want your child to have good dental health, with a minimum of problems, regular dental checkups are the ticket.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health.

Beth Barr, Singer; Nancy Riddle, Social Worker at Fulton Co. Welfare; Lee Ann Rock, Elementary Teacher at Mentone School; Barb Merritt and Kathy Prater, Secondary Teachers at TVHS; Paul Beery, Tool & Die Careers at Zimmer, Inc.;

Deb Manges, Travel Agent at ABC Travel; Dr. Kerry Deardorff, Veterinarian at Akron Animal Clinic; Bob Cook, Welding at C&W Fabricating, Inc.; Terrie Snyder, Word Processor at Zimmer, Inc.; Larry Stackhouse, X-Ray Technician at Kosciusko County Hospital.

Career Day 1987 was very successful. The experience and expertise of the speakers was impressive. The students and teachers were impressed with the presentations and there were many very good comments. Student evaluations were very positive and students learned a great deal about various careers.

All of these speakers and companies freely donated their time and expertise with the students at TVHS. The time and effort donated by these speakers was truly appreciated.

Valley to host SADD conference

High school students across northern Indiana are making a difference in reducing drunk driving and substance abuse. Tippecanoe Valley High School will host a Mini-Teen Institute on Saturday, November 21. This is a conference for high school students who are willing to be involved to fight substance abuse. The goals of the Teen Institute are to become aware of the dangers of substance abuse and to have fun while getting to know new people.

Students from area high schools have been invited to participate through their SADD organizations. This event will last from 12:00 noon to 9:30 p.m. A variety of activities including speakers, workshops, ice breakers, open gym and open pool, a pizza dinner, dance and candlelight walk are planned. Students must pre-register and T-shirts will be available. Students or community members who would like to be involved or who would like more information should contact Sandy Carmichael, TVHS SADD sponsor at 353-7031.

4-H NEWS

Four Kosciusko County 4-H volunteer leaders recently attended the 12th North Central Regional Leaders Forum in Manhattan, Kansas, along with over 350 4-H volunteers and staff from 11 North Central States and the Canadian province of Manitoba. Forrest Bouse, Linda Stroup, Jane Demske and Kay Hatfield, all tenured 4-H volunteer leaders, attended the conference.

Keynote speakers for the forum "Opening Minds" were Dr. Jim Boyer and Dr. Ivan Scheier. Dr. Boyer, renowned speaker and educator from Kansas State University stressed the importance of 4-H in developing youth and how adult volunteer leaders can clarify the needs of these youth in working with them.

Dr. Scheier, from New Mexico, a consultant and expert-by-experience pointed out the importance of and suggested ways for developing volunteers, especially those just coming into the 4-H program.

Highlighting the closing banquet was the Honorable Nancy Landon Kassebaum, Senator from Kansas, who gave "A Salute to 4-H Leadership". Senator Kassebaum is a 4-H parent, and strongly supports the efforts of volunteers in the program.

Over 40 mini-sessions were held - from Motivating Yourself and Others, Goal Setting, How Can 4-H Serve Low Income to Gavel Games, Kite Making and Recreation.

Business firms forming drug abuse policies

by Bill Brooks

An interesting survey of American companies has recently appeared and, if indicative of U.S. business and industry, shows that most firms have - or soon will have - a drug abuse policy.

The survey was done by the Council of Communication Management, New York City. The Council has 197 members and 78 responded. Of those responding, 73 were from industry with 67 of these employing more than 3,000, three employing 1,000-3,000 and three between 100 and 1,000. The other five were large consultant firms.

Fifty-two of the 78 said their firms had drug abuse policies and two more said they are developing one. Five firms said their policies were instituted in 1987. Of the 24 firms who do not have a special drug policy, eight said they felt existing personnel policies covered the issue. Fourteen said they had no policy but thought they should.

How many companies have fired employees because of drug abuse? Of the 72 who answered, 36 said they had done so, while nine more said they were not sure. The rest said "no" to the question. No regional patterns emerged; companies in all parts of the U.S. have had drug-related firings.

Perhaps the most difficult aspect of the drug issue is the testing of employees or prospective employees. Of the 72 survey respondents to the question "Does your company require drug testing of employees?" Fifty-one said "no", two said testing plans are being developed and 19 answered

"yes". In analyzing the "yes" answers, it was found that five of the firms say they test only where there is a job safety consideration, and seven test for cause. Only seven firms, barely 10 percent, say they test all employees without qualification.

Following what appears to be the pattern of American business is Motorola, Inc., Schaumburg, Illinois, who started a testing program in April, 1987. In a memo to all employees, the company explained that the program covers all candidates for offers of employment in the U.S.; that drug testing will be administered for cause in the case of current employees.

According to Motorola, "This means in the case of an employee who demonstrates reckless disregard for safety, or whose performance, judgment or physical abilities appear impaired by the possible use of drugs." Motorola also told employees "There is no intention to administer the program to the general employee population."

The Royal Bank of Canada, Montreal, talks of its "Access program" for employee assistance for a broad range of problems and has an excellent main theme: "We care and we are just a phone call away."

The Council's survey showed these things to look for in the future: Higher court decisions on privacy issues and legality of drug testing; innovative ways of communicating regarding these subjects; the growth of drug communication programs in general.

Students attend conference

The following Fulton County students who attended the 1987 HADD Conference are pictured with Chairman Stephen Goldsmith: Gwyn Heyde, Jason Calvert, and Forrest Beard.

The Governor's Task Force to Reduce Drunk Driving held its fourth annual Hoosiers Against Drunk Driving (HADD) Leadership Rally on Saturday, October 24, 1987 at the Indiana Statehouse in downtown Indianapolis.

Over 850 students from across Indiana were in attendance at the one day event. The students were hosted by Stephen Goldsmith, Task Force Chairman and Marion County Prosecutor, and were addressed by Senator Richard Lugar at the opening session.

During the day students observed a graphic simulation of a drunk driving accident involving both death and injuries; participated in workshops featuring many drunk driving prevention projects; and witnessed a Mock Trial over which Indiana Supreme Court Chief Justice Randall T. Shepard presided. Through these activities, the students experienced first hand the tragedy of drunk driving in addition to learning about the trial process and prevention projects which can be adapted for their own school's use.

The day's activities concluded with a balloon launch commemorating teenage drunk driving victims. The balloons were released from the Statehouse steps before the students were transported to the American Legion Mall where they were treated to a Halloween party finale.

When to be wary of the flu

It's flu shot time and for many Americans it's a matter of life and death. Those in the high-risk categories such as those age 65 and over or victims of chronic lung or heart diseases should be especially wary of flu, according to the American Lung Association - the Christmas Seal people.

During the influenza epidemic, the number of excess deaths recorded in America goes up by at least 10,000. And in each of several recent flu epidemics, over 40,000 excess deaths occurred - about 80 to 90 percent of these deaths were in individuals over age 65.

"As many as 80 percent of high-risk Americans are not vaccinated against flu each year," says Norman H. Edelman, M.D., Scientific Affairs Consultant for the American Lung Association. "A high percentage of those individuals who get flu go on to develop pneumonia, which can result in death or extended disability."

Flu and pneumonia combined have ranked as the sixth leading cause of death in the U.S. every year since 1979. In 1985, the 94 million reported episodes of flu were responsible for 348 million restricted activity days and 188.5 million sick bed days.

When to get vaccinated -

The vast majority of flu cases occur during the epidemic season, which in the U.S. starts in the fall (October) and continues into the spring (April). The most likely months, however, for being felled by flu are January through March.

According to the American Lung Association, the best time for vaccination is before mid-November. This allows time for lots of antibodies to build up before the peak flu season.

Last year's vaccination won't protect you this year. Many different flu strains exist and new ones are always appearing. That means each year a new flu vaccine must be produced to fight off the strains currently causing disease around the world.

Although as many as 25 percent of those vaccinated still get the flu, they usually have a much milder case and fewer life-threatening complications.

No one will get flu or any other disease from vaccination and severe reactions are extremely rare. "Most people have no reaction to flu vaccination other than a slight sting during injection," says Dr. Edelman. "In a few patients, some swelling may occur, which quickly disappears." Fever, more common in the past, is now rare. Individuals severely allergic to eggs should not get the vaccination because of the likelihood of an extreme reaction. For those who shouldn't be vaccinated or who don't get a shot in time to ward off the flu, there is another approach - a drug called amantadine.

Amantadine hydrochloride, an antiviral drug, can be used to prevent or treat influenza. However, only some flu strains are susceptible to the action of this drug.

Family names needed

Names of needy families are being sought for the 1987 Christmas Basket Project, according to Bob Gottschalk, President of United Ministries of Rochester. The project is sponsored annually by the United Ministries with assistance of numerous community and church volunteers throughout the area.

Anyone who would like to submit the name of a needy family may fill out the blank below and return it to United Ministries. A screening committee will review each name to make sure of need.

Christmas baskets will be delivered Saturday, December 19. They will contain chicken, canned goods, flour, sugar, boxed desserts, cereals, paper products and other donated items.

Families with infants and/or pregnant women also will receive baby vitamins, powder and baby food.

Wrapped toys for children to open on Christmas Day also will be part of the project.

"It is our hope that all families will have a meal for Christmas and each child will have the joy of opening a gift", Gottschalk said.

Donations of food items, toys and cash to purchase perishable foods, special diet foods and to repair donated toys also are needed.

Cash donations may be sent to United Ministries Christmas Baskets, P.O. Box 531, Rochester, IN 46975. Details on where donated foods and toys will be collected will be announced later.

Last year, 297 baskets were delivered to families who live in Fulton County, including the areas of Argos, Athens, Culver, Delong, Disko, Fulton, Kewanna, Kings Lake, Leiters Ford, Macy, Rochester and Silver Lake.

Leftover money is used to operate the United Ministries Food Pantry, which provides a three-day supply of food to needy families on an emergency basis.

This year, the Food Pantry has served 137 Fulton County families, including over 500 people with over half of them children, with 4,860 meals.

The accompanying blank can be used to recommend basket recipients.

Kindergarteners thinking ahead

The kindergarten class at Burket is shown modeling their T-shirts which state that the students are the future class of the year 2000. It will seem like only yesterday when readers pick up the paper and see the same students pictured as part of the graduating class of TVHS. Members of the class are Jamie Lynn Baker, April Bolen, Brooke Bolling, Kim Claypool, Jason Davis, Jessica Edwards, Chad

Bond rate set at 17.7%

The semi-annual market-based interest rate for United States Savings Bonds, in effect from November 1987 through April 1988, has been set at 7.17 percent. The rate is 85 percent of the average market yield on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the preceding six months, 8.44 percent.

Bonds must be held five years or longer to receive market-based rates. Series E Bonds, Savings Notes, and Series EE Bonds issued through April 30, 1983, begin receiving market-based yields - retroactive five years - as they reach their semi-annual interest dates on and after November 1, 1987. The yield on these Bonds, held through the first five years of the market-based interest program, is 8.75 percent.

Yields at redemption are the average of semi-annual market-based rates during the time held rounded to the nearest quarter percent and compounded semi-annually, or a minimum rate - whichever is greater. The current minimum rate is six percent. EE Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

Savings Bonds semiannual rates are changed each May 1 and November 1 to reflect market activity during the preceding six months. The last semi-annual rate, in effect from May through October 1987, was 5.84 percent.

As of September 30, the value of Savings Bonds held by Americans was $98.5 billion, the most ever.

Readers response

about the News": "School sports", "local coverage is good", "A New Beginning", "school news and menus", "Years Ago Stories", "good news on front page", "feature stories", "Mrs. Adam's poems", and "that I don't have to do it!"

Under "what don't you like" we heard: "too much filler", "too many obituaries", "not enough pictures", "Years Ago Stories" and not enough "New Beginning"; but after investigating, the latter was the point of view of a bias reader!

When asked what readers would like to see more of, a wide variety of answers was given which included: "Alcohol and drug related problem stories", "articles about TVHS seniors", "more feature stories", "more local happenings", and "the results of the survey". (You're reading it).

When asking for general remarks concerning the Akron-Mentone News, the response again varied. Different age groups want different news coverage. Our goal is to provide a paper that has something for everyone. One suggestion was to start a question and answer column between the school administration and the community. We will investigate the possibility of such a column. Others asked for more coverage of news events in the community; again we cannot put news articles in the paper when we are not aware of the event.

To provide updated and interesting local news, the NEWS office needs your cooperation. Let us know when something is going on. If we can not make it to the happening, volunteer to bring us the information. We are willing to work with the community, please cooperate with us. The Tippecanoe Valley area which is served by the Akron-Mentone NEWS is a large area for two people to cover. Your cooperation is essential.

Last, but not least, please patronize our advertisers. The paper depends on the financial support of the advertisers to stay in operation.

Our goal for the coming year is to provide the best local paper in this area. Help us, all of us will benefit.

Book week observed in Akron

National Children's Book Week will be observed at the Akron Carnegie Public Library November 16-22, 1987. The theme is "It's Children's Book Week, Have A Bear-Y Good Time!" This is a good time to visit the Library and find the many services that await you at the Akron Carnegie Public Library. There are books for all ages, magazines, records and videos. Bring the entire family and celebrate in Bear-y high style.

Courage is not the absence of fear, it's the mastery of it.

Akron and Mentone Christmas Open House November 23 and 24 See inside for details

Dedication for schools planned

The building projects in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation have reached the climax point. The school board has set February 7, 1987 as the date for a dedication of all three elementary building projects. The dedication will be held at the Akron building with open houses at Akron as well as Burket and Mentone. The open houses will be held immediately following the dedication service at Akron. A committee has been appointed to plan the dedication service and the open houses. Several of the school students will be included in the dedication service and in the open house activities.

At the Monday, November 9 meeting, the school board heard from Superintendent Baxter Paige concerning the state approval of the tax rates of $5.2195 per $100 of assessed valuation in Kosciusko County and $4.9812 in Fulton County.

The 1987 tax rate in Kosciusko County was $4.9662 and $4.7874 in Fulton County. The difference in the taxes is due to a portion of the Fulton County income taxes being turned over to the schools while none of the monies from income taxes in Kosciusko County is used by the schools.

The tax rate will be up 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation from last year.

Bids will be accepted by the school board for a temporary loan of $1.116 million to be payable June 30, 1988 after taxes have been collected. The board has used this procedure in past years to meet expenses. The bids will be accepted until Dec. 14 at 1:30 p.m. and will be opened that evening

Paging Dr. Paige

A suggestion was made in the recent Reader's Survey conducted by the Akron-Mentone NEWS regarding a question and answer column with the Tippecanoe Valley School Board and Superintendent Paige. Superintendent Paige has agreed to answer any questions the readers may have for the board or himself. According to Dr. Paige, if he does not know the answer, he will make every effort to find out the answer for the reader.

Readers, this is your chance, send your questions to the NEWS office and they will be forwarded to Superintendent Paige. All questions must be signed for the newspaper, but your name will not be given to the superintendent or printed in the paper if you so request.

Superintendent Paige and the school board are most willing to open the communication lines with the general public. Send in your questions this week to: Akron-Mentone NEWS, P.O. Box 277, Akron, IN 46910.

Mr. Sam Rhine

The speaker for the assembly is Mr. Sam Rhine from the Genetic Ed Center in Noblesville, Indiana. He is the geneticist at Noble Centers, the Marion County Association for Retarded Citizens, in Indianapolis. Rhine has presented over 3500 lectures for more than 1,000,000 listeners in lay and professional audiences all over the United States. He is now recognized as one of the top speakers in the country on the subjects of human genetics and prevention of birth defects.

Palestine and Caldwell Lakes to receive repairs

The Department of Natural Resources' Divisions of Water and Fish and Wildlife are planning work at two Kosciusko County lakes in 1988. Water officials intend to repair the dam at Palestine Lake, and biologists will renovate fisheries at both Palestine and Caldwell lakes.

Repairs are scheduled for completion by mid-September.

The two lakes will be restocked with state-reared largemouth bass, bluegill, redear sunfish and channel catfish during the fall of 1988.

Palestine Lake is located southwest of Warsaw and was formed by a mill dam built on Trimble Creek in 1837. About 1945, the mill discontinued using the lake for its water supply. The lake continued to be used for recreation, but maintenance of the dam was neglected. In 1985, the Department of Natural Resources acquired the dam and plans were initiated for its repair.

Palestine's fisheries renovation and the repair of its dam require a lake draw-down. Currently providing poor fishing, the lake's fisheries are dominated by carp and gizzard shad. Caldwell Lake is heavily populated with carp. Palestine and Caldwell lakes are in the same drainage basin and joint fish eradication is needed to prevent undesirable fish species from moving between the two lakes.

Fisheries biologist will treat the lakes with liquid rotenone which is registered by the Environmental Protection Agency for projects of this type. Rotenone affects only fish and other gill-breathing animals.

Construction bids for Palestine Lake's lowering and repair of the dam will be advertised in early 1988.

Special assembly at Valley

A special assembly program entitled 'Most Important Nine Months of Your Life' will be presented at Tippecanoe Valley High School this coming Friday, November 20. The presentation will be for seniors in the morning, and freshmen in the afternoon.

The program is about the causes and prevention of birth defects and mental retardation. The assembly has been presented in over 1700 schools all over the United States.

The program focuses attention on both genetic and environmental causes of handicaps, with particular attention on DATA: Drugs, Alcohol & Tobacco Abuse during pregnancy; and TAP: TeenAge Pregnancy. Speculation is that the use of alcohol alone during pregnancy might be the second leading cause of mental retardation in the country!

Many of the environmental factors increase the possibility of a low birth weight baby. Low birth weight is the number one cause of infant mortality and morbidity in the United States.

The genetic part of the program deals with chromosomes problems, single genes and mistakes in development. Certain special couples who may have an increased chance for certain types of genetic or environmental problems will be identified.

VFW recognizes winners

The November meeting of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Iota Xi was held at the home of Diana Hoyt with Marsha Scott as co-hostess.

Thirteen members were present with seven guests and one very special guest, Sharon White, National Vice President also attending.

Following the business meeting, Sharon White shared with the group about Psi Iota Xi and some of the accomplishments.

The next meeting will be the Christmas Party, December 1st at 6:30 p.m. at Amish Acres, Nappanee.

The chapter has Abbott's caramels at $4.00 a box and Cheeseballs at $3.00 each to help with your holiday planning. Please see one of the members to get yours!

Charged with battery

Scott M. Whiteman, 22, of Burket, is being held in Fulton County Jail on $12,500 bond on a preliminary charge of battery. Police will confer with the prosecutor about filing the charge. Whiteman is accused of using a broken beer bottle to cut the throat of Ricky A. Miller, 35, Rt. 7, Rochester. The two are alleged to have been arguing behind the Main Street Tavern in Rochester, about 12:30 a.m. Sunday, police said.

City police said Miller received a deep cut on the left side of his neck. He was transferred that night to a South Bend Hospital for surgery and is now listed in satisfactory condition at Woodlawn Hospital, a hospital employee said.

Mentone Homemakers

The November meeting of the Mentone Extension Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Pearl Horn on Wednesday, November 11.

Esther Sarber, the Vice President, opened the meeting. Mrs. Blanche Whitmyre led in the pledges to the flags and the singing of the song of the month, "The More We Get Together."

Garden remarks were given by Lois Perry on growing fresh Herbs. Health and Safety remarks were given by Mrs. Esther Sarber on Aspirin. Citizenship and Culture Arts were read by Mrs. Genevieve Warren. The citizenship topic was on Turkey Creek Township. The Culture Art was on James Whitcomb Riley.

The roll call was answered by eight members and four guests. Each lady gave their favorite recipe. Grace Sullivan read the minutes of the last meeting. A note was read from Dessie Cramblet, a former member who lives in Phoenix, Arizona. A Christmas gift was purchased by Genevieve and Pearl for a patient at Merry Manor. An invitation to attend the Thanksgiving dinner at the Center Lake Pavilion on Thanksgiving Day was read.

The International Conference will be held August 31, 1988.

The next Club meeting will be at Teel's Restaurant for the Christmas Party which will be at noon December 10. There will be a $3.00 gift exchange.

Four guests were in attendance. They were Marjorie Huffman, Lucille Surface, Phyllis Steffen and Oretha Stiffler.

PENNY WISE by Wayne Knew

Old Meeker was a frugal soul
About the price he paid,
Whenever he was buying
He always hum'd and hey'd.
He ordered out of catalogs
For all his shoes and sox,
And boasted to his neighbors,
How he saved the rocks.
He didn't care a lick about
The town right next his door,
And said they'd have to sell for less
'Cause he couldn't pay them more.
As time went on and he grew rich
A hoard'n up his kale.
Others looked with envy
And followed up his trail.
They wouldn't buy a single thing
That could be bought at home;
They'd drive their car a half a day
To buy a ten cent comb.
Then local merchants, one by one,
Folded up their shelves
And took their stocks to other points
With profit for themselves.
Old Meeker and his neighbors
Had reaped the seeds they'd sown,
For all their land and property
Is now forty miles from town.

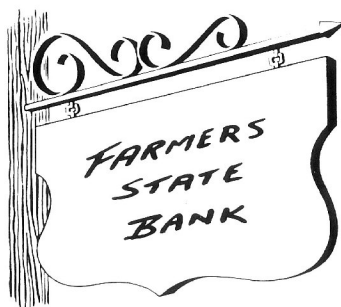

The above poem was taken from the December 1, 1937 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News. Although the poem may be old, the lesson still applies today!

Hobby Happenings Ribbon Craft

More and more hobbyists have become wrapped up in ribbon craft.

Whether used for braiding, package wraps, floral arrangements, fashion accessories or home decor, this popular craft is an easy inexpensive way for anyone to brighten up personal as well as home or gift-giving projects.

Making a bow tie is just one way ribbon can be turned into useful, attractive items.

One of the easiest uses of ribbon is to make a bow tie. Here, the experts at Hobby Industries of America show you how:

1. With right side of ribbon down, bring ends over and cross at center. Fig. A.
2. Place end on left behind left loop. Fig. B.
3. Bring end on right over and behind right loop. Fig. C.
4. Bring the same end (right) up and over front again, threading end of ribbon on left side under end on right. Thread right end through loop created on left. Fig. D. Pull ends tight.

Donald L. Baum, 87, of 609 North Union St., Warsaw, died at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday, November 10, 1987 in Kosciusko Community Hospital.

Born in Warsaw on Nov. 9, 1900 and a lifetime resident of the Warsaw area, he was the son of George W. and Alena (Boggs) Baum. On Nov. 8, 1924, he was married to Theodosia (Polly) Riner, who died on Aug. 7, 1981.

At the age of 16, Baum impulsively took off from Warsaw for Mississippi to join his friends and relatives in the Army. When he arrived at the Army base in Hattiesburg, he was told he was too young to enlist. Not discouraged, he took a job in the base canteen and waited for his 17th birthday. When he finally enlisted on June 22, 1918, he was given a brief training session and told they were "heading overseas."

Baum and his fellow doughboys crossed the English Channel into France on a converted cattle boat, but never saw any combat as the fighting was over when he got there.

An Army veteran of World War I, he was a member of the First Christian Church and an elder of the church. He had been a member of the John C. Peterson Post of the American Legion since it was first organized and was a member of the Legion band, playing French horn and xylophone.

Following Army service, he was employed at Northern Indiana Public Service Co., retiring in 1965.

Survivors include nephews Robert Hankins, Don and Richard Goshert, all of Warsaw, Kent and L.K. Riner, both of Mentone, Jack Riner, New Haven, Ind., and Reed Riner, Flagstaff, Ariz. and a sister-in-law, Pauline Riner, of Mentone. Six brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Services in the Titus Funeral Home were Friday, with the Rev. Michael Bratten, pastor of the First Christian Church officiating. Interment followed in the Mentone cemetery. Grave-side services were conducted by the John C. Peterson, American Legion Post, Warsaw.

JOHN ROBERT SKILLEN

John Robert (Bob) Skillen, 54, Grand Island Nebraska, formerly of Omaha, Nebraska and Akron, Ind., died Saturday, October 31, 1987.

He was born January 4, 1933 in Anderson, Indiana to William B. and Dorothy Skillen. He graduated from Akron High School in 1951 and moved to Nebraska after graduation from High School.

Surviving are two brothers, James W. of Warsaw and W. Dec of Omaha, Nebraska, two sisters, Sue of Galveston, In. and Carol of Omaha, Nebraska.

Memorial services were held November 7, 1987 in the Grace United Methodist Church, Omaha, Nebraska.

He was preceded in death by his mother and father and a sister, Jean Mehreng.

WENDELL SAMUEL DUZENBERY

Wendell Samuel Duzenberg, 80, Rt. 5, Rochester, died Monday, November 16, 1987 at 2:55 a.m. in Woodlawn Hospital. He had been in failing health for five years.

He was born Dec. 25, 1906 in Sheldon, Ill., to Frank K. and Mabel B. Clarke Duzenberg. He had lived here since 1925 coming from Wolcott. He was married Nov. 10, 1928 in Rochester to Marjorie F. Kochenderfer, who survives. He was employed several years by the Studebaker Corp., in South Bend. He was employed for 26 years by the Fulton County Highway Department, retiring in 1973.

Surviving with his wife Marjorie are two sons, Richard (Dick), Akron, and Don, Bonita Springs, Fla.; and one daughter Mrs. John (Barbara) Hunter, Roann; 11 grandchildren; five step-grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; a step-great-grandson; four brothers, Leslie and Clark Duzenberg, both of Donavon, Ill.; A.T. Duzenberg, Chicago, and Robert Duzenberg, Seattle, Wash.; a niece and nephews. Preceding in death were a grandson; a sister, and two brothers.

Services were Wednesday (today) at 2 p.m. in the Foster and Good Funeral Home, Rochester, with the Rev. Junior Bose officiating. Burial was to be in the Reichter Cemetery northeast of Rochester. Friends may call on Wednesday from 9 a.m. until services.

Concert to be presented November 22

The Grace Community Orchestra and Warsaw Community Chorus will present their annual combined concert Sunday afternoon, November 22, at 3:00. The program will be performed in the Rodeheaver Auditorium in Winona Lake. There will be no admission charge.

A surprise awaits the audience in one piece by the orchestra as musicians get up and leave by instrument sections. Concertmaster Vernon Stinebaugh will explain the unusual behavior as part of the original plan for Haydn's "Farewell Symphony."

The Warsaw Community Chorus is composed of artists from a number of churches in the county and from Grace College.

The chorus will be accompanied by the orchestra in joyful hymns of praise: "Psalm 150" by Cesar Franck, "Praise Ye the Lord," arranged by Jurey, and "God of Our Fathers," arranged by Maddy.

Pets Lower Human Blood Pressure, Aid Coronary Disease Patients

Following initial research with dogs, scientists have now proven that interaction with all types of pets can lower human blood pressure.

The original study was done using dogs at the University of Pennsylvania. Each participant's blood pressure was first monitored during a relaxed conversation with the researcher. The person's pet dog was then brought in and his blood pressure continued to be monitored during the course of interaction with the animal. After only a few minutes, an average drop of 10 mm in systolic blood pressure took place. This effect is even more pronounced in patients suffering from serious hypertension.

Since the completion of those studies, new evidence shows that interaction with many other kinds of animals has the same therapeutic effect. Interestingly, even playing with a pet produces greater relaxation than simply resting alone.

Another study of coronary disease patients indicates that animal companionship is conducive to a higher survival rate. In a study of patients who had suffered heart attacks, the mortality rate among people with pets was one third that of patients without animal companionship. Further research indicates that having a pet decreases the heart attack mortality rate by about three percent. Since approximately one million people die of heart disease each year, animal companionship may save 30,000 lives annually.

Pets improve our mental and physical well being in many different ways. To receive a free booklet on how animal companionship benefits human health, write to Pet Information Bureau, 1710 Rhode Island Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036 or call 202/452-1525.

Haunted Mesa, by Louis L'Amour - His new novel is a remarkable story of mysterious adventure set in the contemporary American Southwest, concerning the disappearance of a race of cliff dwellers whom the Navajos called the Anasazi.

Search the Shadows, by Barbara Michaels - A strong suspense novel with penetrating human insights; and a compelling problem, the solution of which will never be guessed ahead of time, and a setting that is eerie, haunting and unusual.

Slender is the Thread, by Harry M. Caudill - Tales from a country law office, set in the region of the Cumberland Mountains in Kentucky. In these stories are the rascals and villains, the statesmen and honest, hard-working common people of the Appalachian past.

Call Me Anna, by Patty Duke - For the first time, she tells her story, her journey from child star to award-winning adult actress; from confused and abused teenager to a highly respected, refreshingly honest show business personality.

Family - The Ties That Bind - And Gag! by Erma Bombeck - The wisest of the wits and the wittiest of the wise looks at the great American tradition - the family. Erma finds a mother lode of laughter, compassion, pathos, poignancy and nostalgia in the small and large triumphs of family life in the '80's.

Inside the Palace, The Rise and Fall of Ferdinand & Imelda Marcos, by Beth Day Romulo - Written by the only American journalist to be a part of Imelda Marcos's inner circle, this chronicle details the lifestyle and the truth about who really ruled the Philippines.

"First Thanksgiving"

This is the day the Pilgrims gathered, to give their thanks to God; Their first year of hardship was over, they had planted and reaped from the sod.

Although they were fewer in number, Their faith was much stronger you see; They'd been through hardship together, and now they were really free.

They thanked God for all of his goodness. In bringing them to this new land; For food and shelter and fellowship. They were a hearty little band.

So let all of us stop to remember. As we gather this Thanksgiving Day; Even though we may think it's old-fashioned, Let's remember to take time out to pray.

Senior Citizens, we will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 26-27 for the Thanksgiving Holidays. We will open Monday, November 30 at 9:00 a.m. Happy Thanksgiving to all.

The menu for the week of November 23-25 is:

Monday - Spaghetti and meatballs, tossed salad, garlic bread, pears, milk, coffee.

Tuesday - Beef and noodles, mashed potatoes, green beans, brown bread, pineapple with cheese salad, milk, coffee.

Wednesday - Baked ham, cooked cabbage, macaroni 'n' cheese, rye bread, milk, coffee.

Thursday - Closed. Happy Thanksgiving Day.

Friday - Closed. Thanksgiving Holiday.

Mrs. Grace Waechter entertained her brothers and sisters at Karen's in Rochester for dinner Sunday. The group returned to Grace's house and spent the afternoon visiting.

Those attending were Ruth Bammerlin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fites, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Werick, James Fites, Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schipper.

FATIGUE

DO:

- 1. Eat a high-protein breakfast.
- 2. Exercise each day.
- 3. Take rest periods.
- 4. Walk around in the home and at work.
- 5. Have a relaxing hobby.

DON'T:

- 1. Make decisions when tired.
- 2. Work overly long hours.
- 3. Sit too long in one place.
- 4. Work in a stuffy room.
- 5. Acquire bad eating habits.

Holiday safety tips

During the holiday season, and all year long, safety in the home is important, according to Jim Wilber, District Manager for Public Service Indiana.

Jim offered these suggestions for preventing fires and electrical shock:

Equip your home with an approved fire extinguisher and smoke or heat detector.

Never use water on an electrical fire. Use a suitable fire extinguisher or baking soda.

Fuses and circuit breakers are safety devices. Never by-pass this protection. Find the cause when they "trip" or "blow."

Before making any electrical repairs, pull the main switch in your fuse box or service panel. Never assume a circuit is dead.

Extension cords should only be used on a temporary basis. Do not use them as permanent wiring. Handle cords properly and inspect them periodically for fraying or wear.

Avoid using "octopus" plugs which can overload circuits.

Grasp the plug, not the cord, when disconnecting an appliance or light.

Never remove the grounding prong on a plug.

Be certain all appliances and cords display the UL label.

Use no higher wattage bulb for a fixture than recommended by the manufacturer.

Disconnect appliances before cleaning. Avoid immersing an appliance in water unless it is labeled for such cleaning.

Keep electrical appliances away from water when in use.

Warn children that appliances can hurt them if not properly used.

Keep flammable objects away from heat-producing sources such as portable heaters and range surface units.

Avoid using the range or oven as a source of heat to warm the kitchen.

When buying Christmas lights, look for the UL label. Check each light set for broken or cracked sockets, frayed or bare wires or loose connections. Replace defective sets.

Unplug Christmas lights before making repairs.

Always turn off Christmas lights before going to bed or leaving home. A short circuit can cause a fire.

Be careful not to cut or damage wire insulation when putting up decorative lights.

If you buy an artificial Christmas tree, make sure it has been certified safe (not flammable) by the Underwriters Laboratory.

Check electric heat tapes protecting exposed pipes

Mobile home residents and homeowners using electric heat tapes to protect exposed water and drain pipes from freezing over the winter are being cautioned by government safety experts to check tapes for fire hazards.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that 3,500 home fires involving heat tapes occurred in 1985. These fires resulted in an estimated 30 deaths, 150 injuries, and $27.4 million in property losses.

Heat tapes are commonly used in crawl spaces and in the substructure of mobile homes, beach houses, mountain cabins and other dwellings where exposed water and drain pipes freeze during the winter. Some heat tapes are plugged in year-round and are activated by a thermostat when the outdoor temperature approaches freezing.

According to CPSC, tapes should be checked now for bare wires or cracks in the plastic insulation. Defective tapes should be replaced.

Homeowners or licensed electricians should also check to see that tapes have been installed properly. Some fires have been started by tape lapped over itself instead of being spread around the pipe according to manufacturer's directions.

The agency said consumers buying heat tape should use the proper tape for the proper pipe. Know the pipe material (copper, plastic, etc.), pipe diameter and length to be protected when shopping for new or replacement tape. Tapes are labeled for specific pipes, diameter and length. Follow manufacturer's directions carefully for proper installation since they may vary, depending upon the type of tape used.

Hints For Homemakers

Do Relatives' Visits Make You A Compulsive Cleaner?

Preparing for relatives' holiday visits or a Christmas open house is hard work. The cleaning alone can be quite intimidating, depending on how you approach it.

As you set out to whip your home into shape this season, stop to consider your attitude toward cleaning. According to research conducted by Black & Decker's U.S. Household Group, you'll probably find yourself in one of three categories: the "mess tolerators," "compulsive cleaners" or "cleaning enjoyers." Each "type" approaches cleaning in a different way.

Not surprisingly, you're a mess tolerator if you feel your house doesn't always have to be clean. Mess tolerators go about cleaning with the most angst; they avoid it if at all possible.

The compulsives are at the other end of the spectrum. Their goal is to have their homes antiseptically clean. The compulsive's house is spotless; the cleaning never a fait accompli.

Somewhere in between are the cleaning enjoyers, persons who get their whole family to pitch in and who feel the greatest sense of accomplishment when their chores are finished.

Regardless of where you net out among these groups, you and the other two personalities share a common sentiment. Almost no one looks forward to cleaning, yet everyone feels a positive sense of satisfaction afterwards.

One surefire way to deal with the precleaning blues is to choose tools that are fun to use, yet do a thorough job. Cordless cleaning products have been gaining in popularity for those very reasons during the past eight years. In fact, Black & Decker statistics say that one out of every four homes owns a cordless vacuum.

The company's Dustbuster Power Brush, one of the newer cordless vacuums, is as well suited to the mess tolerator as to the cleaning compulsive.

Mess tolerators will identify with the cordless convenience. The Power Brush is portable—easy to grab and use last-minute, easy to put away fast. Best of all, this member of the Dustbuster family includes a removable power nozzle with a rotating brush that provides powerful suction and deep-cleaning action. Compulsives will adore its results on pet hair, upholstery and carpets.

Compulsive cleaners and "mess tolerators" alike need a partner like Dustbuster Power Brush for quick clean-ups before Christmas guests arrive. The vacuum is cordless, so it's portable and it includes a rotating brush for powerful suction and deep-cleaning action on carpets.

So, whether you're an enjoyer, a tolerator or an antiseptic compulsive, leave behind the negative feelings associated with the start of cleaning. Get a cleaning partner like the Power Brush and put fun and efficiency into your task as you move rapidly to the feeling of satisfaction in a clean home.

Seward Club News

The Seward Home Extension Club met Wednesday, November 11, in the social room of the Burket United Methodist Church. Pres. Esther Nelson led the group in pledge to the American and Christian flags; and the club creed. Meditation was given by Elva Longbrake. Eva Eherenman led in singing song of the month "We Gather Together".

Garden remarks were given by Irene Miller; Citizenship by Merdena Bechtol; and Cultural Arts by Darlene Arnold. A lesson "Learning To Say No" was given by Mary Rose. The roll call, "Your Favorite Holiday Recipe" was answered by ten members. Sec. and Treas. reports were read and approved.

During business session the Pres. reminded the group of Co. Club trip to Berne. Plans were made for Christmas meeting to be held in Mentone at Teels Restaurant on Wednesday, Dec. 9 at 12 noon.

The meeting closed with the Club collect. Refreshments were served by Eva Eherenman.

WCTU

The Akron W.C.T.U. met in the Library at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 11, 1987. The meeting opened with the group sing America The Beautiful. A pledge to the flag was given. Mrs. Orville Ellis gave the devotions, centering her thoughts on Harvesting. A short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ray Doering. Mrs. James Malbone reported on several current issues that concern Christians, then she presented a very interesting program on Thanksgiving and Thanksliving. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Velma Bright. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Kindig and Mrs. John Gerig.

Annual Christmas Gift Lift underway by Mental Health

The Indiana Mental Health Association's annual Christmas Gift Lift project is underway, according to local chairman Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Jr. The Fulton County Mental Health Association and the Indiana Pacers, sponsor of the 1987 Annual Christmas Drive asks that you add an extra name to your Christmas gift list this year in an effort to insure that every person residing in Indiana's state hospitals are not forgotten during the holidays.

Locally, gifts are collected for patients at Logansport State Hospital and for residents of the Canterbury Manor and Rochester Nursing homes who do not have families. The Association needs your help. Your contribution of a gift or gifts, or of monetary donation, promises to make a very special person feel very "special".

Gifts are sorted and wrapped by volunteers. Each person receives one gift of good quality and a smaller gift such as lotion, perfume or a piece of jewelry.

Presents for men are in great demand this year. Mrs. Hunter said. Appropriate gifts include caps with earflaps, pajamas, T-shirts, underwear, socks, tobacco, pipes and shaving cream.

Suggested gifts for women include gloves, slippers, sweaters, cosmetics, dresses, hand lotion, panty hose, soap and toothpaste.

Plastic containers, less likely to break than glass, and are easier to handle - and large sizes of clothing items are preferred.

Cash donations of $1. or more is accepted and greatly appreciated.

The deadline for donations is Dec. 9. That will allow time for sorting and wrapping the gifts. They should be new and not wrapped.

Area collection boxes have been set up at the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Tiosa Brethren Church, and the Talma Bible Church. In Akron, donations may be left at Harvey's Dime Store, the Akron Exchange Bank, and the United Methodist Church.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. How should yeast bread recipes be adjusted for high altitude?

A. Rising time will be shorter. Let dough rise JUST until doubled.

Q. Which cakes turn out best in the microwave oven?

A. Results will be best with richer, heavier cakes, such as chocolate, carrot or pineapple upside-down. There's less chance of overcooking. Dark-colored cakes, such as gingerbread or chocolate cake, microwave well because they don't need browning.

Angel, sponge and chiffon cakes are not recommended for microwaving because they need the hot dry air of a conventional oven.

Students say "thank you"

The following letters were received by Baxter Paige and the Tippecanoe Valley School Board. The third grade students at Mentone wrote the notes to thank the board for the improvements made at the Mentone School.

The board and superintendent Paige decided to share the opinions of the students with the taxpayers.

Dear School Board,

Thank you for black topping the play ground. I like it. You are very nice. The classroom is very nice too.

Carmen Hart

Dear School Board,

I want to personally thank you for the lovely classroom that I have to teach in. It becomes a joy to come to school each morning and be surrounded by such a beautiful environment.

With much appreciation,
Cindy Law

Dear School Board,

Thank you for letting us black top the parking lot and building new classrooms. I think the colors are pretty in the classrooms. I think that the windows are neat and the black top and the classrooms are real beautiful.

We like the blacktop very much. We like are classroom too. We have fun here. Thankyou very much.

Ruby Ann Weaver

Dear School Board,

Thank you for the constructing and classroom. I love you!

Joey Woods

Dear School Board,

I really like my room. It is pretty. The black top I like that too. The thing I like in the room is the computer.

Brandon Justice

Dear School Board,

I would like to thank you for our desks, our add-on, and our black top. It is very nice. I am proud of it you did a very good job of it!

Dustin Pifer

Dear School Board,

Thank you for our new beautiful classrooms. Our fans are very nice looking. It is nice and big in my classroom. I like the blacktop.

Mary Harrell

Dear School Board,

Thank you for the nice new rooms. Thanks for the black top also. Thank the construction workers for me because they did such a nice job of making our school so beautiful.

Darren Parker

Dear School Board,

We like the black top and the new desks. The prettiest thing in the room is the carpet. Thank you!

Shonda Marie Brown

Dear School Board,

Thank you for the beautiful classroom and the blacktop too. Thank you for it.

Tony Aaron Smith

Dear School Board,

Thank you for our classroom. The black top is nice too. I like the color of our room. I didn't like all of the noise from the construction. I didn't like the dust either.

Cory Fore

Dear School Board,

I would like to thank you for our new black top and our new classroom. There was a lot of construction, but it was worth it! I would also like to thank you for our new desks. They are beautiful.

Alisha Ryman

Dear School Board,

I kind of like the new classrooms and I kind of like the new black top. I kind of like school, but I would rather go to Burket or Akron. I want to go to Burket.

Jamie McClone

Dear School Board,

I like our new classroom. It is beautiful. I like the rug, computer, books and chairs. I like the blacktop. It is nice. Thank you.

Jamie Sagan

Dear School Board,

My class thanks you for making the black top. The classroom is beautiful. I mostly like the desks. I didn't like the construction.

Emily Erp

Dear School Board,

Thank you for our beautiful new classrooms and our new black top.

P.S. I really think that the cabinets and coatrooms are nice.

Nicole Kuhn

Dear School Board,

I like the new classroom that you built for us. I like the cabinets that you got for us. I like how you made the lights so you can have the lights on one light, or two lights or three lights. I really like the new blacktop so we can play on it if it rains.

THE SILVER AMALGAM FILLING

If you have a cavity in one or more teeth in the back of your mouth, often the dentist will use a silver amalgam filling to protect it from decay. He has good reasons for doing so.

Silver amalgam, an alloy that includes silver, is one of the most common fillings used because of its durability, low cost, and ability to seal off cavities effectively. It is often used in the back of the mouth because of its color. When you open your mouth to speak or smile, the silver amalgam filling is not very noticeable.

It can last for years before it needs to be reinforced or replaced. A lot depends on your oral hygiene habits, how well you are able to keep decay-causing bacteria out of your mouth. A lot depends, too, on where the filling is located. If it's in an area where your heaviest grinding and chewing takes place it will be more subject to wear.

But if you get regular dental checkups, your dentist will be on the lookout to make sure all of your fillings are doing the job they're intended to do: protect your teeth from decay.

Tasty toppings highlight holiday pumpkin pies

For many, pumpkin pie is one of the most delicious elements of a sumptuous Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. No matter how full we all claim to be, there always seems to be room for a slice (or two) of pumpkin pie.

Pumpkin pie, whether served plain, or topped with a dollop of whipped cream, is always popular. This year, though, why not add an extra special touch to this traditional dessert? A myriad of delicious toppings exists which can add fun and spark to your holiday pumpkin pie.

One particularly appetizing garnish for pumpkin pie is Streusel Pecan Topping. This crunchy, sweet mixture combines chopped pecans, cinnamon, ground ginger, sugar and a bit of flour for a lip-smacking "topper" bound to please the most finicky dessert fans.

Those who regard pumpkin pie and whipped cream as an inseparable twosome should appreciate Spiced Whipped Cream Topping.

Flavored with pumpkin pie spice and powdered sugar, this tasty whipped cream also complements a mug of steaming apple cider, hot chocolate or coffee.

Pastry Decorations are another unique topping. From the variety of holiday cookie cutters available, create shapes such as turkeys, fall leaves, Pilgrim's hats, Christmas trees, stars, Santas, elves or specially wrapped gift boxes.

Serve — and enjoy — these uniquely decorated pies as traditional, yet novel, desserts at this year's holiday dinner.

FAMOUS PUMPKIN PIE (Makes one 9-inch pie)

- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 can (16 ounces) LIBBY'S Solid Pack Pumpkin
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground ginger
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- 1½ cups (12-ounce can) undiluted CARNATION Evaporated Milk
- 1 9-inch unbaked homemade pie shell with high fluted edge

Preheat oven to 425° F.
Combine filling ingredients in order given; pour into pie shell. Bake 15 minutes.

Reduce temperature to 350° F. Bake an additional 45 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean.

Decorate with favorite pie topping.

STREUSEL PECAN TOPPING

- ½ cup flour
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon ground ginger
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- 4 tablespoons butter, chilled and cut into small bits
- ¾ cup chopped pecans

Combine flour, sugar, ginger, and cinnamon. Cut butter into flour mixture until crumbly. Stir in pecans. Sprinkle over pumpkin pie during last 20 minutes of baking time.

SPICED WHIPPED CREAM TOPPING

- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- ½ teaspoon pumpkin pie spice

Combine all ingredients and whip at high speed for four minutes or until whipping cream holds its shape. Chill. Spoon over cooled pumpkin pie.

PASTRY DECORATIONS

Roll out leftover pie dough trimmings to approximately ⅛". Cut out shapes using holiday cookie cutters. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Brush tops lightly with milk and sprinkle with sugar.

Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for approximately 10 minutes or until golden brown. Allow to cool completely. Use to decorate the tops of cooled pumpkin pies.

SPRUCE UP YOUR PUMPKIN PIE THIS YEAR with Streusel Pecan Topping, Spiced Whipped Cream Topping or Pastry Decorations in festive holiday shapes.

HOLIDAY HINTS

Batteries Not Included—Holiday's Most Popular Refrain

Gone are the days when a child's big Christmas gift was a flexible flyer sled or just a simple baby doll in a stroller under the tree.

The boom in consumer electronics that made walking and talking dolls so popular last year has brought basic toys with new high-tech twists into vogue this Christmas. From plush talking animals to baby dolls that grow up before your very eyes, battery-powered toys—both new and the modernized classics—will be at the top of every kid's letter to Santa.

Parents should remember, however, that these toys need a lot of energy to keep them running at optimal level. Consumers are expected to spend about $1 billion on batteries during the holiday season alone, according to industry projections from Duracell.

Electronic toys are big battery eaters. The more popular toys require between three and seven batteries each. It's no wonder the average household buys about 40% of their average 32 batteries per year in just the last few months of the year.

The experts at Duracell offer consumers these tips for getting the longest life, and lowest operating cost from the popular high-tech playthings this season:

- Consumers should look for the freshest batteries available on stores' shelves, preferably batteries that have "install by" dates on the packaging so the batteries are guaranteed freshness and long life.
- Check the toy's box for battery requirements. It should tell you the number and size of the batteries needed. Alkaline batteries are the type recommended by many toy manufacturers because of their ability to outlast zinc-carbon batteries by as much as six times or more.

- Make sure the positive(+) and negative(-) terminals are aligned properly. Many high tech toys have complicated battery configurations. The device won't work unless the batteries are inserted exactly as the manufacturer specifies.

Consumers can also get free copies of the "Things To Know About Batteries" tip brochure by writing to: The Ultimate Power Source, 40 W. 57th St., Suite 1900, New York, NY 10019.

Do you have a minute? Probably not, in that busy life of yours that runs from work to dinner, then to a bus, to a meeting or a bowling tournament in which your boss is depending on you, or whatever. Of course, there are all important activities related to your lifestyle, but they leave you little time for anything else. However, if you took half an hour, you could find a few minutes to browse through the Bible, seeing the Lord's alive and learning the reason of your faith, on the common sense of perhaps on your car while waiting for someone. You might even keep a paperback copy of it in the glove compartment. In this case, these are absorbing, pertinent, new, and then can be the most rewarding ones of your life because the principles therein are timeless. Remember that just owning a Bible will do you no good, you must open it and start reading it, whenever you can.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Notice is hereby given that the Board of School Trustees of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, Kosciusko and Fulton Counties, Indiana, will receive sealed bids at the Administration Office of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, SR 19, Mentone, Indiana, on December 14, 1987, at the hour of 1:30 p.m. (EST) for the following described Temporary Warrants, such warrants to be held December 14, 1987, at 7:30 p.m. at the regular meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley Board of School Trustees.

Temporary Loan Warrants in the anticipation of taxes levied and in course of collection for the General Fund up to the amount of $528,000, the Debt Service Fund up to the amount of $288,000, the Cumulative Building Fund up to the amount of $217,000 and the Transportation Fund up to the amount of $85,000, dated as of date of delivery thereof to the purchaser, said warrant or warrants to be in the denomination or denominations requested by the purchaser, to mature on June 30, 1988, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 10% per annum (the exact rate to be determined by bidding), payable at the Bank of the successful bidder.

Bidders for these warrants will be required to name the rate of interest which the warrants are to bear, not to exceed 10% per annum. Such interest rate must be in multiples of 1/100th of 1%, and not more than one interest rate shall be named by each bidder for each fund. The warrants will be awarded to the best responsible bidder or bidders therefor who have submitted the bid in accordance herewith and will be the bidder or bidders who offer the lowest net interest cost to the school corporation to be determined by computing the total interest on each or all of the warrants to their maturity and deducting therefrom the premium bid, if any. The bid shall be subject to the unqualified approval of a recognized bond council obtained at bidder's expense.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularities. Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of one per cent of the bid payable to Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, to guarantee the school corporation against default by such bidder in complying with the terms of this notice and his bid.

Dated this 9th day of November, 1987.

Legal Notice

To the taxpayers of the Town of Burket, Kosciusko County, State of Indiana.

You are hereby notified that on the 24th day of August, 1987, the Town Board of the Town of Burket, Kosciusko County, State of Indiana, pursuant to notice heretofore given, and under and by virtue of I.C. 36-9-15.5, duly adopted a plan whereby a cumulative capital development fund was established to provide for the following:

FOR BUILDING AND CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS ACCORDING TO CODE
The fund will be provided for by a tax levy on all taxable real and personal property in the taxing unit for a period of three (3) years. The tax rate on each one hundred dollars ($100.00) of taxable property will be five cents ($.05) for 1987 taxes payable in 1988, ten cents ($.10) for 1988 taxes payable in 1989, and fifteen cents ($.15) for 1989 taxes payable in 1990.

Fifty (50) or more taxpayers in the taxing unit who will be affected by the tax levy, may file a petition with the County Auditor of Kosciusko County, not later than thirty (30) days after the publication of this notice, setting forth their objections to the proposed levy. Upon filing of the petition, the County Auditor shall immediately certify the same to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which Board will fix a date and conduct a public hearing on the proposed levy before issuing its approval or disapproval thereof.

Tiny didn't count at Beaver Dam

by Ray Gard - South Bend Tribune

Editor's Note: The following story appeared in the Sunday, November 15, 1987 issue of the South Bend Tribune. The author, Ray Gard, and the Tribune have graciously permitted the NEWS to reprint the article.

Small Hoosier high schools began dreaming the impossible dream again Friday night, playing their first basketball games of the season, in the belief that before it's over, they will be state champions.

This goes on all over the state, people screaming Friday nights in gyms, hysteria unleashed, and mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters, believing.

After all, little Milan High School did it in 1954.

Milan lives on in a movie, "Hoosiers", which captures the heart and brings tears to the eyes. The dream of succeeding against impossible odds is the soul of small town Indiana basketball. Milan's coach, Marvin Wood, still teaches basketball," says Dan L. Bucha, a Bendix worker whose intense blue eyes come alive when he talks of Hoosier Hysteria. "He's at Saint Mary's College, here in South Bend."

Nearly everyone knows that. But hardly anyone remembers Beaver Dam High School, not big enough to be on road maps, which had only 40 students in four grades, and twice threatened to take all the marbles.

A tiny high school, near Silver Lake in Kosciusko County, that was Beaver Dam. The school finally disappeared in 1961-62, the victim of school consolidation. Its handful of students became part of the Tippecanoe Valley School District.

But fortune smiled thrice at Beaver Dam - once in 1932 for the sectionals, and again in 1933-34 for the finals - at the height of The Great Depression.

Nearly everyone was broke, hungry or out of a job. But that was no matter.

The David of High School Hoopsville was challenging Goliaths.

"It was a terrible time," says Bucha. "Except for Beaver Dam basketball. Coach Walt Kindy taught them how to play. They had only five guys on the team."

The five had to do chores on the farm first. Milking the cows came ahead of learning dribble and pass. Chopping wood overshadowed free-throw practice in the school's cracker box gym.

Charley "Chip" Kern, 72, who now lives in South Bend; Gene Marshall retired in Akron; Devon Tucker, still living in Kosciusko County; and Shorty Bitelmin and Fred Cumberland, lately deceased - that was the team.

That was all. No subs could be called in for the. That was all. No subs could be called in for the Beavers from Bumpkinville.

But they whipped Warsaw, a powerhouse in the sectionals and Auburn in the regionals, as well as everyone else on their schedule, to get into the finals.

"Listen, I was there," says Paul Cumberland, brother of Fred, who delivered the team in a bus to out-of-town games. "They were the Whiz Kids. They made excitement. I think they could have beaten anybody, because coach Kindy taught them ball control and the fast break."

The school graduated 13 in 1933 and 11 in 1934.

Kindy, the coaching genius, died several years ago.

But he left a legacy. In 1935, he was hired as a math teacher in South Bend's Central High. Lowkey, shy, he left the headaches of coaching to the legendary John Wooden.

Wooden, of course, became famous.

He won championships. Kindy worked in the background, as assistant, and took tickets at games at the door. Eventually, he scouted for Wooden at UCLA.

"He was wonderful at figuring out problems," agrees Kindy's widow, Dorthea, 93, of Goshen, answering the phone. "Yes, I come from Beaver Dam, a crossroads on Indiana 14, and Walter, too. But basketball has left my mind. It was too long ago."

Kindy may be in the Indiana Hall of Fame before long. He played the game like a math problem. He did it before computers.

"They whipped Auburn to get into the 'Sweet 16,'" explains Cumberland, describing the Beavers series of victories. "It was unbelievable. Auburn had a new gym but Beaver Dam had to change in a classroom across the road. After the game, someone locked the door, it was winter, and they nearly froze." The entire team, shivering in shorts, caught cold.

By the weekend, fevers became influenza. At Butler Fieldhouse in Indianapolis, a weakened team took to the floor for the finals.

They lost to Fort Wayne North.

Charley Kern remembers the agony.

"He doesn't want to talk basketball," says his wife, answering the phone at his home in South Bend. "Certainly he played basketball, in that crucial game. But he's up on the roof, cleaning off leaves, and can't come down."

As a talent scout, Kindy encouraged Mike Warren, a Central High School star, to play for Wooden at UCLA. He did, and won national acclaim. Later, he became an outstanding actor on "Hill Street Blues," a TV series.

Proud of family veterans

Todd Bailey and Heather McKain point to the servicemen who are members of their families. The bulletin board was part of a learning experience achieved by Mr. Jackson's seventh grade class at Akron Junior High School. The students talked about the veterans in their own families on Veteran's Day. (NEWS Photo)

Akron Library to offer storyhour

A series of five Story Hours will be held at the Akron Carnegie Public Library. They will be held on Friday mornings at 10 a.m. starting Friday, November 20th. This is for pre-school children. The schedule is as follows:

Nov. 20 - Children bring a toy animal (stuffed or otherwise).

Nov. 27 - Children bring something about Thanksgiving

Dec. 4 - Children bring something associated with winter.

Dec. 11 - Children bring something for show and tell

Dec. 18 - Children bring something associated with Christmas.

There will be stories, crafts, finger plays, etc. All pre-school children are invited to attend.

Class of '78 plans reunion

The 1978 graduating class of TVHS is planning a reunion. Several addresses of fellow classmates are needed. If you know the addresses or whereabouts of the following people, please contact Frances Utter at 893-7179 or Denise Cooper at 353-7868.

Tammy Ennis, Chris Giannone, Mona Haag, Beth Harris, Mary Lester, Angel Miller, Linda Slavens, and David Willard.

Eaton attends symposium

Senator Dan Quayle (R-IN) spoke to over 220 high school seniors from around the state on Monday, November 9, during a luncheon address at the "Symposium on the Future" at the University Conference Center on the campus of IUPUI.

The purpose of the symposium is to help young people develop critical thinking skills and a realistic concept from which to approach the future.

Among the 220 seniors in attendance was Troy Eaton from Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Mentone Chamber Leaders Remaining thankful and strong in rough times

by Mary Fisher

Dispute over paving bill discussed at board meeting

A bill for the construction of the parking lot at the Akron School is being passed back and forth between the Akron Town Board and the Tippecanoe School Board like a hot potato. The town received the bill from Brown Construction Company for the paving of the lot. The town then sent the bill back to the company instructing them to send the bill to the school corporation. According to Brown Construction Company, the school told them the town of Akron was responsible for the bill. At the November 17th meeting of the Akron Town Board, the members voted not to pay the bill.

President Miller also announced at the meeting that the probation of Ron Dittman as acting marshal was up on November 15. The board then voted to change Dittman's status to Marshal.

The board discussed the current curfew as set forth in a resolution of 1981. It was deemed wise to follow the state curfew which is, it is a curfew violation for a child 15, 16, or 17 years of age to be in a public place: (1) between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. on Saturday or Sunday.

(2) After 11 p.m. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or on Thursday, (3) Before 5 a.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday.

(4) No child under 15 years to be in a public place after 11 p.m. or before 5 a.m. any day. Exceptions are listed which are: a child accompanied by his parent or guardian, a child participating in, going to or returning from (a) lawful employment, (b) school activity, (c) religious event.

Marshal Dittman reported to the board that no grants are available for traffic safety but he is working with the director of traffic safety for the setting up of crossing guards and he will also check on insurance liability for the same.

The board also heard a report from the water superintendent concerning the installation of a new service line. The board discussed the possibility of replacing more service lines, but work will not begin until warmer weather. Before adjourning the meeting, the board also heard from Gearhart on the repair work done to the fire hydrant at the corner of Walnut and Northwood. After a discussion, the board voted to replace the old hydrant.

TV kids named to TRC teams

Sport participants from Tippecanoe Valley have been named to the first team All-Three Rivers Conference football and volleyball squads.

Named to the football offensive first team were tackle David Koch, Guard Roger Webb, center Dwayne Leiter, and End David Randall.

Honored from Tippecanoe Valley were Leiter at line-backer, roverback Jeff Tucker and tackle Roger Webb for the defensive team.

Named to the second team from Valley were quarter-back Dion Anglin, tailback and halfback Steve Hollaway, kicker Tim Sparrow and linebacker Brian Peterson.

Lorie Gray received honorable mention for her volleyball ability.

Thanksgiving time. This is the time of year that most of us remember the good, as well as the bad, events of the past year and stop to pause and give thanks for all of our blessings. It is only natural to have an "off year" once in a while. A year when maybe it is not as easy to say "thank you, Lord, for the things that have happened over the last year"; and then for a few individuals, it seems as if there has been more than one year of hardship. For them, it is even more difficult to thank God for His goodness.

I first began to know and appreciate the people of this community when I joined the Eastern Star organization in Akron a few years ago. I can remember being greeted by one lady in particular; this lady impressed me with her strong character and business like matter. I knew at that point that Helen Terrell was a lady who was determined. Determined to do things properly, determined to see things through to the end - no matter how rough the road.

Many readers have been following the success of the Jimtown Jimmies and especially of one of their players, Jeff Adams. Jeff has Hodgkin's disease. Jeff is Helen Terrell's grandson and he is as determined to see things through as is his grandmother. This weekend he will be with his team at the Hoosier Dome to fight for the number one position in Class 1A football action.

Having a grandson with cancer is a hard battle. It's hard to say "thank you, Lord" when you are standing in front of a wall built with cancer gloom. But Helen is there, right beside Jeff with their determination and their faith in God to strengthen them.

And this is not the first time for either of them to face this wall. Helen and Jeff stood there first with Jeff's sister Beth Ann. In the summer of 1982 Beth Ann was diagnosed as having Hodgkin's disease. She fought the battle until March of 1985; it was then that she died. That was not the end for Helen, she was determined to stand beside her family. And that she did, but in March of 1985 Helen herself needed the strength of her family to face open heart surgery. When asked if she ever questioned God as to why things were happening the way they were, she replied "no", she thought that someday she would understand.

Things did not get better for Helen and her family, just more things to understand. In August of 1985 her husband "Red" Terrell was diagnosed as having cancer. Again Helen stood strong and was determined to see things through. Surely, this was all the family would be asked to bear. But this was not all. In June of 1986 Jeff Adams was diagnosed as having cancer. According to Helen, it was hard for Red to understand - why Jeff? Couldn't Red, himself take Jeff's place. Red died in December of 1986.

Now Helen has to depend on her strong determination to face the business world and life in general. As she prepared for a farm auction following Red's death, fire destroyed the horse arena barn which held so many of the happy Terrell memories. The fire was on the wedding anniversary date of Helen and Red Terrell. For Helen it was like rubbing salt into an already festered wound.

Why did Helen allow this story to be told? Believe me, the last thing she wants is your pity. She has a message for you. "Be thankful. Be thankful for the small things in life. The things you think are small now are your treasures of tomorrow," said Helen. "Hold on to the little

Several deer killed by area hunters

'Tis the season! Deer season that is. In this community several "great white hunters" have hit the tree tops to watch for the antlers hoping for that really big "rack".

On the opening deer hunting weekend, several hunters got their deer. Included in the list are David Hopkins, Ron Norman, Matt Gast, Jerry Hartzler, Darrel Shewman, Greg Kindig, Brian Stephen, and Steve Petrosky.

Now who ever said deer hunting isn't a family affair? Two father/son kills were also reported to the NEWS office. Mike and Duke Summe shot their bucks in the same woods within five minutes of each other; Duke has reported his deer was the bigger of the two. Bill and Ronnie Cornell bagged their deer on Saturday morning. Mrs. Cornell could not be outdone, she managed to get her deer Saturday evening using her auto as the weapon.

Our
message for you

May you truly be thankful for all the blessings of the year, for the friends you have - both far and near.

May you be thankful for the common things of life, for families, where affection clings to the heart.

May you be thankful for tomorrow and whatever it holds.

EMS thanks Gene Hughes

Letter to the Editor:

Recently, Gene Hughes resigned from our 4-Way Ambulance Service as an EMT after fourteen years of service. We will miss his leadership and experience. He has been "on call" and donated over one thousand hours each of those years. He has helped each new EMT understand the care and compassion needed for all patients. He has been a stabilizing force for our Service and our community.

We wish him the best in the future and ask the readers to thank him for his service the next time they see him, for without him and people like him, our community would not continue to be a better place to live.

Vic Gamble
President, Mentone EMT's

With the most wonderful holiday season of the year fast approaching, it is no surprise that many children are thinking of Santa Claus and "What they want for Christmas."

This year, we at the NEWS office would like to help Santa out.

Because he is a NEWS reader, we think it would be a good idea if we print letters to him in our paper. That way, he can read them all at one time and not lose any.

So, if you are a youngster who wants to be sure Santa sees your letter this year, send it to the NEWS and we'll publish it in the December issues.

We know Santa wants to hear from you, and our other readers would be interested too. Your letter should be sent no later than December 12, and be sure to sign your name and address.

You know what you would like to have; be sure Santa does too.

HAPPY TURKEY DAY!

How many of you are aware Nov. 22-28 is National Family Week? I wasn't surprised since Thanksgiving is also the same week. Thanksgiving and family go together.

As Thanksgivings in the past, we will be sharing the day with Doug's family. And, as always, Jenny will outdo herself with her Thanksgiving dinner and trimmings.

As the day approaches, the meaning of Thanksgiving becomes clearer. It not only is a day to be thankful for the things we have, but the people we have. It becomes a time to reflect back on things that have happened and why we should be thankful.

As the gathering comes closer, I realize how important family can be, especially to those who have none. Good friends, old and new are also those we can be thankful for. Mose and Mary Deeb have been friends of Jenny and Charlie for years and like family to us all, we look forward to seeing them at every family gathering. In years past and probably years to come a neighbor or nearby friend who has no plans for Thanksgiving will join the Moore household for Thanksgiving. There is always room for one more.

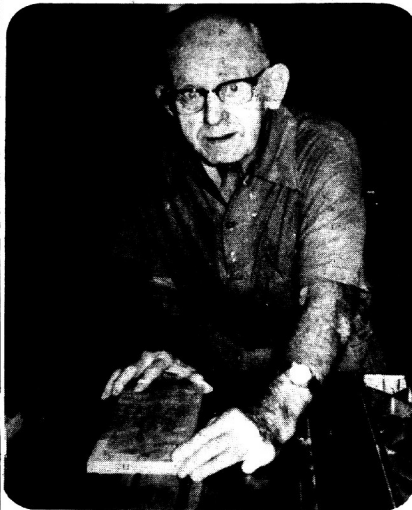

As in Doug's family, my family also had big Thanksgivings with relatives and friends, prospective daughters and sons-in-law present as well as friends of us kids. As I look back, I realize families get bigger and have to be divided during holidays, but the feeling of togetherness doesn't have to be abandoned.

I intend to take an inspection of the kitchen this Thanksgiving. No doubt I will find an overabundance of foods for those who prefer the basic meal instead of the desserts, extra special desserts for those of us who only eat the meal so we can have dessert and delicious wine from Mose and Mary who, each year, toast to friendship and family.

During the time of the upcoming holidays when family and friends mean so much, make an extra effort to include someone who may not be as fortunate as yourself. I've often heard the saying, "Treat friends as family and family as friends." I know Doug and I will be thankful for the family we will be with and also those we cannot share this time with. Be sure and remember those in the service, I'm sure they won't forget you.

As this Thanksgiving comes and goes, remember to be thankful for not only what you have, but WHO you have. Give a second thought to the family you will be with and those you can't be with, but be thankful for them all.

A MEMORY TRIP

Today I took a memory trip,
Back to my childhood days,
I saw again the big yard,
Where as a child I played,
I saw again the horses,
That Dad loved so well,
Monday, Dutch and Friday
And DeVicco and Gullama Tell.
There was Beauty, Bird and Glory
And a driving mare named Bess,
None could out run her,
That I must confess.
I remember the cows in pasture,
Old Em, Blackie, Spot and Red,
And the road where I drove them
Up to be milked in the shed.
I remember the hens in the barnyard,
Barred Rocks, Buff and White,
And the flowers in the garden,
Always such a beautiful sight.
Those glorious carefree days,
As a child on our old farm,
Just to take a "Memory Trip"
I relive again its charm.

Homeowner preferences shift slightly in 1987

The price of a home is the buyer's number one consideration in 1987 according to an annual buyer preference survey. Location, last year's top choice, came in a close second.

What is the buyer's main consideration when buying a home?

Price - 42%; Location - 40%; Neighborhood - 15%; and Size - 3%.

Once again, fireplaces are the most desirable special feature, followed by large kitchens, family rooms, garages, an adequate number of bathrooms, basements and separate dining rooms. In general, large rooms and lots were in great demand as special features in a home. More and more, buyers are looking for larger areas and are often willing to trade the number of rooms for larger room size.

Energy efficiency, a big priority in last year's survey, ranked low as a special feature consideration when buying a home.

Ranch-style homes still dominate the market, with an overwhelming 61 percent of the best selling houses falling into this category. Colonials and two-story/split levels tied, with 14 percent of the members listing these styles as their bestsellers.

The top two exteriors are wood and brick at 38 and 29 percent, respectively. The big surprise was the increased popularity of stucco, which came in at the number three position (16 percent). White is the exterior color of preference. However, the most popular trim color is now brown, not black, as in previous years. Neutral or natural colors are gaining popularity, whether they are used as paint colors, stains, or brick colors.

Expensive habit for the user

by Bill Brooks

Cocaine used to be a rich person's drug. No more. The white powder is now being consumed by college students, blue collar workers and even high school youngsters.

In 1983 the average age of the cocaine user was 31. Not it's 27. In 1983, 52 percent of the users had incomes over $25,000; in 1987, 20 percent did.

Nationally, seven percent of the treatment center patients are adolescents, according to David Garner, Koala Center, Columbus, Indiana, cocaine expert. Fifty-two percent of the users are in the 26-35 age bracket and this group seems to be increasing.

In the black population, 47 percent of the cocaine users are in the 30-36 age bracket. The rest of the black cocaine users are in the 36-40 age group.

The average age for all cocaine patients in treatment, Garner said, is 29.5 years. It's 34 years for black males and 36 for black females.

Young females of both races who use cocaine usually do so to achieve an intimacy they cannot find naturally. They usually come from a dysfunctional family with a poor father role model or no father (divorce, desertion, etc.).

Garner explained that the cocaine user is nearly always the victim of grandiosity, seeing himself as "unique, special." Garner added, "Don't ever use these words around a cocaine patient. He knows it already. The reversal of this sense of uniqueness or specialness is essential in the successful treatment of the cocaine patient."

Seventy-five percent of cocaine patients in treatment do not have alcoholism as a diagnosis and 95 percent of them have one or more parents with a drinking problem. More often, cocaine patients have a diagnosis of alcohol abuse on an intermittent or episodic basis. Adolescents usually have a history of a more consistent problem with drinking than adults in the cocaine-using population.

Garner said that adolescents know nothing of cross-addiction effects and dangers and this makes treating them more difficult. It also makes relapse more of a reality due to their drug shifting.

Urine screen testing is needed after cocaine patients are released, according to Garner, and two aftercare sessions a week are a "must" for them.

Adolescents, in Garner's experience, have less success in post-treatment recovery programs than adults because they look at 12-step recovery meetings as "too much like church."

"Even someone going to five or six recovery program meetings a week and with two sponsors can go back to cocaine fast," Garner said. "Cocaine treatment alumni need about 25 phone numbers for them to call, not just three or four. If one of their recovering friends is not home, they have to dial another at once."

Physical rehabilitation is important. Contact with physicians and exercise are vital. Garner said he would guess that many adult males having a heart attack under age 40 are regular cocaine users.

Peer support groups are a must for adolescents. They listen to people their own age. They lean on each other. These groups help young people begin to realize that they are normal and that addictions are like any other disease.

Who's in danger of being a potential cocaine user? Second and third shift workers. People who work in isolation. People with two jobs. Nursing staffs working nights and surgical personnel. Also, Garner cited high risk occupations such as commodity and stock brokers because of high stress, hyperactivity and image issues.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. What's the best way to thaw a turkey?

A. Leave turkey in its original wrap and place on a tray in refrigerator for about 24 hours for each five pounds of turkey. A faster method (it takes 30 minutes per pound) is to thaw the bird immersed in cold water, changing water frequently. It's unsafe to thaw either on countertop or in a paper bag at room temperature.

Q. How can I prevent meringues from weeping?

A. No need for tears. Meringue is less likely to "weep" or leak moisture, if it is baked on a hot filling. Seal meringue to edge of pie crust. Bake pie at 400° for 10 minutes and cool gradually.

Q. What are the benefits of the oils or fats found in fish?

A. Omega-3 oil, a polyunsaturated oil that's unique to fish, has been associated with lowering the risk of death from heart disease for some people. Seafood varies in levels of omega-3, but fattier fishes such as mackerel and salmon are the richest sources.

Q. What's the secret to chewy cookies?

A. Most cookies have similar basic ingredients, but the proportions of ingredients and the method result in a dizzying array of cookie choices. Cookies that are higher in sugar and especially cookies made with honey and molasses tend to be chewier.

Q. Do frozen baked fruit pies need to be thawed before reheating?

A. Allow unwrapped pies to thaw at room temperature for an hour. Heat in a 375° oven on the lowest rack for 35 to 40 minutes.

Q. What's the best way to wrap cookies for holiday mailing?

A. Start with plain or lightly glazed bars or sturdy drop cookies. Wrap pairs in plastic wrap and arrange in a can, carton or other strong container. Pad the top with crushed paper and pack containers in cartons. Pad the containers from each other and from the side of the carton. Secure carton with strapping tape and wrap with heavy paper.

Being thankful

chats you have with your loved ones. Cherish the blue sky of each day. Thank God for each sunrise and each sunset. Thank God for each phone call of encouragement you might receive. Thank Him for each card that is sent that says "I care". Thank Him for your family. Thank God for each time you can be with your family. Thank Him for His strength to see you through the rough times."

It is not easy to face a new day sometimes. But that is the way Helen Terrell lives her life. She takes one day at a time. She tries not to think about tomorrow or what it might bring. She just thanks God each morning for another chance to help someone; maybe to be an example that there is hope for tomorrow. "Prayer goes a long way. I'm relying on that!" remarked Helen.

Don't try and talk to Helen Friday. She won't be home. She plans to be at the Hoosier Dome with the entire Terrell family. They have a quarterback - defensive back to support - whether on the field or on the sidelines, the Terrell family will be there to support Jeff Adams and the Jimtown Jimmies. What can you do? Be thankful, use this family's story as a lesson.

Find someone who needs your support and help, and then follow through with your determination and strength in your endeavor.

Then remember to give thanks that you were able to help. Have a Happy Thanksgiving.

Jimtown's Adams fighting back

by Curt Rallo

Editor's Note: The following article about Jeff Adams is being reprinted with permission of the South Bend Tribune and the writer, Curt Rallo.

Mention the word cancer and even the strongest of men can shudder with fear.

Jimtown quarterback-defensive back Jeff Adams, refuses to run scared. Instead, he is digging in for a fight.

Adams refuses to let the disease throw him or the Jimmies for a loss.

Jimtown, No. 1 in the state in Class 1-A with Adams triggering the offense, has made it to the state finals and will play in the Hoosier Dome on Friday, November 27.

Adams, who suffers from Hodgkin's disease, has been playing defense for the Jimmies. He missed eight games last season fighting cancer, which claimed the life of his sister. The disease was thought to be in remission when a tumor was discovered five weeks ago.

"We have a chance to go to state," said Adams. "I played the whole season, I want to finish it."

Adams faces eight months of chemotherapy. He can play as long as his white cell blood count is normal, but it took quite an effort by Adams to convince the doctors at Riley Children's Hospital in Indianapolis.

"I knew I was going to come back," said Adams. "But it took a lot of talking."

"I know him," said Jimtown coach Bill Sharpe. "This won't lick him."

That kid is an inspiration whether he plays or not," said Sharpe. "He's not just an inspiration for the players, but for the whole community."

Adams speaks loudly with his quiet presence.

"In the game of football you get aches and pains," Sharpe said. "Some kids can play with pain. Some can't, and I don't begrudge them that. Some don't have a high tolerance for pain. But this goes way beyond that."

Many people feel sorry for themselves when afflicted by a less serious ailment. Many might not want to go out and face the world if they were diagnosed with cancer.

"It's crossed my mind. Why get up and get going," Adams said. "But this (playing football) is what I want to do at this moment."

Hopefully for Adams, he'll have his moment in the sun in the state championship game and a bright future to follow. But considering the fight he has shown so far, Adams already is a champion.

Deadline for gifts fast approaching

"Christmas Bells Are Ringing" at the Fulton County Mental Health Association. Once again the Association and this year's sponsor, the Indiana Pacers are requesting your help in making the 1987 Annual Christmas Gift Program a rousing success.

Each year the Fulton County Mental Health presents gifts to all mentally ill patients and developmentally disabled residents of Indiana's state hospitals and local nursing homes. Our gifts will be taken to Loganport State Hospital and to our local nursing homes, Canterbury Manor and the Rochester Nursing Home.

According to Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Jr. Chairperson of the Christmas Gift Lift, "many people living in state hospitals would have been forgotten if not for the gifts which you so generously provide and your overwhelming response to our pleas in past years."

Popular gifts for men include: shirts, sweaters, slippers, bathrobes, socks, underwear and toiletries. Women appreciate dresses, slacks, blouses, lingerie, as well as small cosmetic-related items. Gifts that are suggested for both men and women are playing cards, puzzles, or candy and instant coffee - hand soap or toothpaste.

Donations from organizations and clubs, or individuals are greatly accepted and "special gifts" can therefore be purchased.

The deadline for receiving gifts is Dec. 9. This ensures proper distribution among patients at holiday parties which we have scheduled.

Collection boxes have been set up throughout the county at the following places:

Krogers - Rochester; United Methodist Church, Akron; Dime Store, Akron; Akron Bank, Akron; Tiosa Brethren Church; Talma Bible Church; Farmers & Merchants Bank, Kewanna; Baxter's Drugs, Rochester; Hook's Drugs, Rochester; Townsend's IGA Market, Rochester; Wilt's Food Center, Rochester (both stores); 3-D Store, Bethlehem Baptist Church; Hart Schaffner & Marx; Riverview Community Church; and Fulton Grocery, Fulton.

Leiningers plan open house

The family of Marion and Mary Leininger is having an open house for their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, November 29 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Bethlehem Baptist Church located on Rd. 650E, north of Athens.

They were married November 29, 1937 at the Bethlehem Baptist Church after church services that day.

They have two children, Mrs. Edward (Judy) McCartney, Plymouth, and William Leininger, Burket, and eight grandchildren.

They request that all gifts be omitted, just presence of family and friends is desired.

SWEETENING YOUR BREATH

If you're conscious of offensive mouth odor or someone close to you has mentioned it, the odor won't go away by taking "breath sweeteners" to mask it. You should let your dentist help you find out what is causing it and how the problem can be solved.

Some foods can cause strong mouth odors, but this is only temporary. When bad breath persists, however, it is usually because a health problem is involved. Decayed or infected teeth can cause bad breath, and so can infected gums. But more than bad breath is involved. Halitosis is a tell-tale symptom that something may be seriously wrong.

Halitosis or bad breath may be caused by medical conditions, such as infected tonsils or problems with the digestive system or diabetes. Your dentist is not only trained to discover and treat dental problems, he is also trained to be on the alert for other medical problems that may need treatment by physicians.

Whatever the cause of your bad breath, don't succumb to the lure of breath fresheners. Seek the help you need from your dentist.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121; 114 Mishawaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

Physical Fitness in TVSC

The Tippecanoe Valley Elementary schools have just completed taking the president's physical fitness test, under the direction of the elementary physical education teacher, Mr. William Ruppel.

The President's physical fitness test is given to students from the ages of 6 to 17 in schools throughout the United States. The PPFT is part of the Physical Fitness component of physical education, which has 3 objectives.

1. To produce physical fit youth.

2. To educate young people concerning the essential nature of physical activity and its relationship to health, physical fitness, and a dynamic, productive life.

3. To give students the skills, knowledge and motivation to remain fit through their life.

The PPFT is made up of 5 areas: The mile walk and/or run, for cardiorespiratory endurance; curl ups (sit ups), for abdominal strength and endurance; sit and reach, for flexibility of the lower back and thighs; pull ups, for arm and shoulder strength; shuttle run, leg strength, endurance, power, and agility.

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports have set the grading standard for each age group on the PPFT. A student must pass all 5 areas with a score above the 85 percentile in each area. For doing this the student will receive a patch and a certificate signed by the President.

Lady Vikes win one; lose one

Tippecanoe Valley's girls' basketball team opened the season with an impressive 63-40 victory over Caston.

The Vikings wasted little time showing area teams that they have a strong club as they raced out to a 17-7 first quarter lead over the Comets.

That lead stretched to 35-17 at the half and allowed first-year coach Duane Burkhardt to clear his bench much of the second half. Overall, 11 players saw action for the Vikings and eight of the 11 scored.

The Vikings were led by all-state candidate Jody Yochum who pumped in 21 points. That included three 3-pointers, the only ones made in the game by either squad.

Yochum got a lot of offensive support from Lori Gray and Leslie Miller. Gray scored 14 points and Miller chipped in with 12.

The Vikings were able to come through with a very good rebounding game and were also able to cut down the number of turnovers, and both were concerns for Burkhardt going into the game.

The Vikings had just 13 turnovers for the game and only three in the first half. The team outrebounded Caston 40-18 with B.J. Ross leading the way with 12.

The Viking junior varsity also chalked up an easy win as they won a 39-9 game and allowed Caston just one point in the second half.

The Lady Vikings ran into trouble when they met with the Warsaw team on Friday. Despite the fourth quarter effort of the Lady Vikings, the Lady Tigers managed to go home with the 57-51 victory.

For 24 minutes the Tigers dominated the game and enjoyed as much as a 20-point lead early in the fourth quarter. From that time on, the Vikings put on a great comeback and cut the lead to two at 53-51 with 31 seconds to go when Lori Gray hit a rebound basket. The Tigers then took advantage of another bucket and two free throws to assure the Tigers of the win.

During the first half of the game the Warsaw Tigers used a pressing pattern which was responsible for five turnovers committed by the Vikings. In the second quarter, the Vikings tacked on another four turnovers.

In the second half the Vikings solved the pressure and actually got several easy baskets against the press.

Valley's Lori Miller took game scoring honors as she netted 18. Yochum was the only other Viking in double digits as she had 13. Another star for the Vikes was Doud, who had five points and 11 rebounds after she came in off the bench.

JV Vikes Defeat Tigers

Tippecanoe Valley's junior girls' junior varsity team remained undefeated as it got a three-point shot at the buzzer by Chris Bowers to beat the Warsaw Tigers 38-36 Friday.

The Vikings needed the basket to complete a fourth-quarter rally to raise its record to 2-0.

The winners were led by Kris Perry who scored nine points. Bowers added eight and Amy Peterson chipped in with seven.

4-H members interested in the 4-H Beef and Dairy Steer projects in 1988 should mark January 2 on their calendars. All 4-H Beef Steers, Commercial Heifers and Dairy Steers will be nose-printed and eartagged for the 1988 4-H year on that date. The fee for beef identification is $2.00 per head, and members may have a maximum of 10 cattle identified.

4-H members wishing to show a dairy steer will no longer be required to show a dairy heifer, however all dairy steers must be in the member's possession and identified by the 4-H beef committee on January 2.

Specific information about times and the location for 4-H beef identification will be mailed to all 4-H beef and dairy members, and all 4-H club volunteer leaders. Questions pertaining to the 4-H beef and dairy programs may be directed to the Kosciusko County Extension Office.

Shafer places first

On Thursday, November 19, Manchester College held its first ever Speech Competition between the Public Communications classes. Out of approximately 100 students, the top six were chosen to compete head to head. The top three were recognized to place 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. The first place winner was Randall Shafer. Second place went to Joani Robison and Third place went to Scott Sproat.

Shafer and his family, former Akronites, now live in North Manchester.

If I had 50... horses, I would feed them. I would brush and ride them. I would have all colors brown, white, black, and gray. I would ride all of them to school. I'd ride all 50 everywhere.

Rebecca Meredith

If I had 50... brothers I'd go crazy! We would be scratching, pulling hair, kicking, and punching. After we got done we would be bleeding and torn a part. I am glad I only got one brother.

Brandon Bellamy

If I had 50... million dollars - I would not work. I would buy a mansion and a nice car. I would love it!

Miller family elected to Angus Association

Dale Miller and family, Akron, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, according to Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with over 30,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 11 million registered Angus. The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American

Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

Do you have a member? If you have a lot of years that runs from work to dinner, then it's a Real Scout meeting or a bowling tournament in which your boss is depending on you as wherever. Of course, these are all important activities related to your lifestyle, but they leave you little time for anything else. However, if you look hard enough, you can find a few minutes to treasure through the Bible, seeking the joy, advice and learning the origin of your faith on the commonest form of paper in your car while waiting for someone. You might even keep a pocket copy of it in the glove compartment. In any case, these few precious moments now and then can be the most rewarding ones of your life because the principles they contain are timeless. Remember that you are reading a Bible and do you no good, you must open it and start reading it whenever you can.

Obituaries

MERRILL VAN CLEAVE

Merrill Van Cleave, 57, formerly of 1211 South Main St., Warsaw, died at 6 a.m. Friday, November 20, 1987 at the Park Center in Fort Wayne after an extended illness.

Born in Burket, he was the son of John Marvin and Josephine (Garman) Van Cleave.

Van Cleave was a retired music instructor and band director for elementary schools and high schools in northern Indiana. He was an Air Force veteran of the Korean War, and a member of the Warsaw American Legion.

In addition to his mother, Josephine Van Cleave, Muncie, survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Timothy (Susan) Hoffer, Fort Wayne; one son, Mark Allan Van Cleave, Fort Wayne; one grandson; one brother, Richard Van Cleave, Muncie.

Graveside services at Warsaw's Oakwood cemetery were Monday with the Rev. Ronald Poyser officiating.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Notice is hereby given that the Board of School Trustees of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, Kosciusko and Fulton Counties, Indiana, will receive sealed bids at the Administration Office of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, SR 19, Mentone, Indiana, on December 14, 1987, at the hour of 1:30 p.m. (EST) for the following described Temporary Warrants, such warrants to be let December 14, 1987, at 7:30 p.m. at the regular meeting of the Tippecanoe Valley Board of School Trustees.

Temporary Loan Warrants in the anticipation of tax levied and in course of collection for the General Fund up to the amount of $526,000, the Debt Service Fund up to the amount of $288,000, the Cumulative Building Fund up to the amount of $217,000 and the Transportation Fund up to the amount of $85,000, dated as of date of delivery thereof to the purchaser, said warrant or warrants to be in the denomination or denominations requested by the purchaser, to mature on June 30, 1988, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 10% per annum (the exact rate to be determined by bidding), payable at the Bank of the successful bidder.

Bidders for these warrants will be required to name the rate of interest which the warrants are to bear, not to exceed 10% per annum. Such interest rate must be in multiples of 1/100th of 1%, and not more than one interest rate shall be named by each bidder for each fund. The warrants will be awarded to the best responsible bidder or bidders, therefore who have submitted the bid in accordance herewith and will be the bidder or bidders who offer the lowest net interest cost to the school corporation to be determined by computing the total interest on each or all of the warrants to their maturity and deducting therefrom the premium bid, if any. The bid shall be subject to the unqualified approval opinion of a recognized bond council obtained at bidder's expense.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularities. Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of one per cent of the bid payable to Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation, to guarantee the school corporation against default by such bidder in complying with the terms of this notice and his bid.

Dated this 9th day of November, 1987.

Easy 800 Number Answers Questions About Pecan Pie

More and more good cooks are turning to classic American pecan pie as a favorite Thanksgiving dessert. Whether you're making a pecan pie for the first time or just want to try a variation of this old favorite, here's your chance to get help from the experts. From November 2 through 25, Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. EST, dial 1-800-KARO PIE. A representative of Karo corn syrup will come on the line ready with answers to your questions. The Karo test kitchens' favorite pecan pie recipe, below, is as easy to remember as it is to make. Three eggs, one of everything else; it's a recipe you'll never be without.

PECAN PIE

3 eggs	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup Karo light or dark corn syrup	1 cup pecans
1 cup sugar	1 unbaked (9-inch) pastry shell
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

With fork slightly beat eggs. Stir in corn syrup, sugar, butter or margarine, and vanilla until well blended. Stir in pecans. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in 350°F oven 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted halfway between center and edge comes out clean. Cool. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Advisory committee receives grant for drug education plan

The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Local Advisory Committee for the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation has applied and received a grant for a drug education program for all students in grades K-12. As a result of this grant, an inservice was held recently for the Junior High and High School teachers of the corporation. Jean Reed of the Koala Center in Plymouth provided the inservice on the identification and intervention of drug and alcohol abuse. Several committee members have also attended a Substance Abuse Conference sponsored by the Indiana Department of Education and a "Dare to Care" conference sponsored by Indiana Federation of Communities for Drug-Free Youth, Inc.

The committee has also developed a staff survey concerning the programs that are currently being utilized in the Tippecanoe Valley Schools. This survey has been distributed to teachers and results are being compiled. Along with a staff survey, a Student Survey Form is being developed to gain additional information and educational needs of the students regarding drug and alcohol education.

Currently committee members are asking the assistance of parents and interested citizens of the community. If you would be willing to assist in various ways and at various times of the year, please fill out the following form and return it to the school nearest you.

Sue Keirn receives Citizenship Award

Sue Keirn, Senior at Tippecanoe Valley High School, and daughter of Jim Keirn, Rt. 1, Mentone and Sue Keirn, Rt. 5, Warsaw, has received the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award for 1987-88. The annual contest, sponsored by Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR, Mentone, has been approved by the National Association of Secondary Principles and the Association has placed this program on the Advisory List of National Contests and Activities for 1987-88. The contest is open to both boys and girls of the Senior class. The award encompasses Leadership, Dependability, Service, and Patriotism, in school, home and community.

Sue Keirn

Sue Keirn's winning papers consisted of a written essay on "Our American Heritage and My Responsibility To Preserve It". Also a National, Civic and Patriotic test.

The Kosciusko County winner will be announced at a later date and the State Winner will be revealed at the Indiana Good Citizens Luncheon to be held on March 12, 1988, at Marriott Inn in Indianapolis.

Speaking of turkey -

The 240.4 million turkey poultis placed in the U.S. during the period of September 1986 through August 1987 were 16 percent above the placements during the comparable period of a year earlier.

The number of all turkeys slaughtered in the U.S. under Federal Inspection during the period of January through September 1987 totaled 166.2 million head, 19 percent above the 1986 January - September period.

Total pounds of frozen turkeys in U.S. cold storage facilities on September 30, 1987 totaled 640.9 million pounds, up 25 percent from a year earlier.

Students say "thank you"

Angie Backus and Laurel Potter are shown standing in front of the teepee and with the Thanksgiving figures which were made in a third grade class at Akron. While making the figurines, the students discussed things for which they could be thankful, one of which is the contributions made by are businesses to the school. In this case, the figures are made from tubing provided by Sonoco Paper Products. To everyone, Happy Thanksgiving, and remember to count your blessings! (NEWS Photo)

Boy scout office to be rebuilt

At the November meeting of the Sagamore Council Executive Board, the board voted to rebuild the Council Service Center on the same site at 410 N. Main Street, Kokomo.

This decision was based on the recommendation of the office study committee, appointed following the fire which destroyed the previous structure on October 17th.

The factors in the decision were youth population, rebuilding costs, and construction time.

A building committee was appointed chaired by John Hingst, Kokomo and consisting of David Dellinger, Monticello; Wayne Schreckengast, Lafayette; Charles Cameron, Kokomo; Richard Wolf, Logansport; and H.W. Peabody, Staff Advisor.
