Absentee voting now in progress "Scouting for Food" Campaign to begin

Absentee Voting is now in progress in the basement of the Fulton County Courthouse. Anyone who expects to be out of the county on Election Day, November 8, 1988, can vote an absentee ballot between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. weekdays except Friday when the office will be closed until 5:00 p.m. Also, the office will be open on Saturday November 5th between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 12 noon.

Absentee Voting of confined voters will commence on Wednesday, November 2, 1988. Every effort will be made to contact the confined voter the day before the Absentee Voting Team is scheduled to appear so that the voter will be prepared to meet the team at the address designated on their applications. Military, overseas and out-of-county voters absentee applications requesting a mailed ballot must be received by midnight, November 3, 1988.

All persons who are registered to vote and interested in voting absentee are encouraged to apply as soon as possible. Applications will not be accepted after the deadline dates. For more information, please contact the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at 223-2911.

Although most registration and transfers close 29 days before each election, the law does provide for an election day transfer of registration at the polls for those voters that have moved WITHIN THEIR SAME PRECINCT ONLY. Indiana law permits those voters who have changed addresses in the same precinct to vote in that precinct if the voter writes their new complete address on the poll list if the address is different from the "old" address.

Voters who move to a different precinct within the same county within thirty (30) days before an election may transfer their registration at the office of the County Clerk by applying for the transfer no later than Friday, November 4, 1988. The voter must complete a transfer of registration form as any voter transferring an address. The Clerk will make a copy of this affidavit to give to the voter and the voter must give this copy to the precinct election day poll workers when the voter enters the old precinct to vote on election day. This affidavit cannot be used to transfer a voter's registration from a different county or state.

1988 General Election Special President/Vice President Only Voting Procedures: Indiana Code 3-7-4 outlines the procedures for voting in the general election only for the electors for President and Vice President of the United States.

As in the past, voters who had been qualified and registered in Indiana, but who moved out of their precinct of state in the thirty (30) day period right before the general election on No-

Out of the mailbox

To the Editor:

Upon our election ballot this year will be three issues for consideration as constitutional amendments. While Proposition 1 concerning a statewide lottery has attracted virtually all of the attentions among these three issues, I wish to express a few words concerning Proposition 2.

The issue on the ballot will be phrased as "shall Section 4 of Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended so that criminal appeals with sentences of 50 years or less shall follow the same path through the Indiana Court of Appeals to the Indiana Supreme Court as civil appeals". At present all sentences of greater than ten years must be reviewed by our highest court, by-passing our intermediate appellate Courts. It is the uniform desire of our Judges and Bar Associations that this section of the Constitution should be changed. I am aware of no organized opposition to this proposed change.

When this language was first included in the Constitution, sentences of ten years or longer were quite rare and the provision was reasonable. Beginning with the Criminal Code enacted in the mid-1970's, however, sentences in excess of 10 years have become much more commonplace than had previously been the case. At the present time, 90% of the time that the Indiana Supreme Court can spend on cases is involved in reviewing cases that the Indiana Constitution requires them to review, cases often involving routine or repetitive legal questions. This has become a significant misuse of the time of our highest Indiana Court.

The Supreme Court serves two major functions in reviewing cases. They review the work of the trial courts to correct any errors that may have been made in the trial or sentencing, and they determine the law of the State by interpreting statutes and the Constitution and by making common law to deal with those situations in which statutes are either unclear or non-existent. By requiring that they serve in the review function in such a large number of cases, we have significantly reduces their ability to assist in the development of Indiana law. The review process of the initial trial court should be had by our intermediate courts (Court of Appeal) and our highest Court could then be more selective as to the issues to which they may address their efforts. Naturally, should a criminal case involve an issue of special significance or legal novelty, the Supreme Court could always choose to accept transfer of the case.

Upon his being sworn into office, Chief Justice Randall Shepherd said: "We aspire as a Court to dedicate more of our time to the Legal problems which affect the average citizen: child support and custody, landlord tenant disputes, commercial law, negligence, product liability, and the life. We hope to work our way out from under the mountain of repetitive matters and have the time to write fewer opinions and write them better. We hope that lawyers will more often have the chance to argue their cases in person and that the public will more often have the occasion to see us in the Courtroom". Let's help them accept that challenge. I urge the citizens of Indiana to vote YES to Proposition 2 on November 8.

Yours truly,
Douglas B. Morton, Judge
Fulton Circuit Court

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

"...and sow shall we reap"

Or, in my case, "and sew shall I rip"?

How many times have you heard people say how relaxing it is to sew? I cringe at the mere thought of a needle and thread and my palms become clammy when faced with a sewing machine. This is not relaxation in my book!

Let me say how important I feel seamstresses are. They truly are remarkable people. I never realized you had to be bilingual to master reading the patterns, maybe that is where I made my mistake. But first, tell me what language these patterns are in!

You're probably thinking I didn't get started right. You might be right, however, I did have four years of Home Economics and lost several teachers in the meantime!

My mother purchased the necessary items, pleased that I showed an interest in sewing. She made sure I had a good pair of scissors, a thimble, which I never got the knack of using, a seam ripper that she was sure I would never use, (was she ever wrong!) and all the other gadgets to make this endeavor fun.

The fun part came when we had to read the pattern. What a mess! The teacher should have had a double in pay for putting up with a class who couldn't figure the patterns out. Every time one of us would ask for help we were asked, "Can we not read?" There were mutters heard in the background in soft tones saying "If we could read these things, we wouldn't be asking for help, now would we?"

It went downhill from there. What started out as an adventure had become an ongoing nightmare! Not only did I have anxiety attacks with the button holer, I didn't sleep the night before matching the design in my material. The collar in my jumper would have been glued down if I could have only had some at hand but the pièce de résistance was the zipper!!

A pièce de résistance is a most important item in a series. That, without a doubt, describes my zippers. This is where the ripper came in to effect. Three times, not once or twice, but three times I had to remove a zipper. Can you imagine my surprise when I turned my skirt around and found my zipper stitched closed? I did this three times! Not only was my teacher exasperated, my mother was listening in disbelief to my horror stories. She had had a problem with zippers too, but not like this! She asked me what I did about it and I told her, "I ripped it out, then I put it in again, and I ripped it out again, put it in and ripped it out!" She just shook her head and shredded another kleenex with worry.

Somehow I managed to get through sewing. I vowed never to sew again unless I absolutely had to. Thank heaven my mother-in-law can sew. She makes it seem so simple and it looks great when finished. I, myself, have limited my sewing to hemming and repairing broken seams. Doug and the boys know the instant the sewing machine leaves the closet, they must stay their distance until I'm finished.

What does Doug have to say about being married to a woman who doesn't sew after having another who did so much of it? He ventures next to the sewing machine occasionally asking, "How's Betty Ross doing?" Very funny, I was the only person in high school to dull a ripper!

About Antiques

The age-old method of making a chair comfortable is to pad it with thick cushions. In addressing this need, our ancestors came up with some ingenious methods. The early wooden Windsor chair was constructed with a thick wooden seat cut to fit the contours of a seated body. The talented chairmaker managed to curve the chair in the right places ensuring that the seat was comfortable. Early 19th-century designers used curved chair backs and pliable caned seats for comfort. Some chairs had both the backs and seats made of bent wood curved to fit the human anatomy, which continued to be popular with chairmakers.

Some noted chairmakers, such as Michael Thonet, made chairs with thin strips of wood veneer that were steamed, bent and curved. New Yorker John Henry Belter carved them to surround padded seats. This idea of bent strips carried on into the 20th century. By the Roaring Twenties, both wood and metal were curved and shaped to create unusual but comfortable chair shapes. Plastic was also molded into chair shapes with body-hugging curves.

A study of this furniture made with bends is part of a traveling museum display of furniture. If you're interested, be sure to catch it.

Danger, Haynes at bat!

Everyone stood back and took caution when Derrick Haynes tried to break the pumpkin pinata at the Akron United Methodist Nursery School Halloween party. The students took turns trying to break open the paper mache' creature that was cradling the goodies. Apparently Derrick has quite a reputation because everyone was a little cautious when he took his turn. By the way, he did make an impressive indentation on the pumpkin! (News Photo)

Bicycle routes open

The third and final segment of the Wabash Valley Bicycle Route has been opened just in time for fall touring announced Jim Ridenour, Department of Natural Resources director. The new 68-mile bike route, located in east central Indiana, connects all three of the DNR's upper Wabash reservoirs, Mississinewa, Salamonie and Huntington, and Allen County's Fox Island Nature Preserve near Fort Wayne. Wabash Valley Route 1 connects Shades State Park with the commandant's Home Historic Site near Lafayette, and Wabash Valley Route 2 links the Historic Site with Mississinewa Reservoir.

The Wabash Valley route 3 provides excellent bicycle touring and camping opportunities as it connects six different campgrounds in the reservoir properties and nature preserve. The route makes it easy for bicyclists to enjoy touring and camping especially now when they can take advantage of fall foliage and temperatures.

There are almost 800 miles of marked and mapped bike routes in the Hoosier Bikeway System. Each route is on lightly traveled rural roads chosen to provide the best combination of safety, services, scenery and riding surface. A brochure on the Hoosier Bikeway System, including information on ordering bike route guidebooks, is available from the Department of Natural Resources. For more information, contact the Streams and Trails Section, Division of Outdoor Recreation, 605 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN 46204.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. What's the difference in fat content between a serving of bacon and a sausage patty?

A. Little or none. Two medium slices of bacon have about a quarter-ounce fat after cooking. One brown-and-serve sausage patty has about a third of an ounce of fat.

Q. Does cream cheese icing need to be refrigerated?

A. A cake frosted with cream cheese icing may be left at room temperature for up to 12 hours. But for best keeping quality, refrigerate.

Tip of the Week: Self-rising flour makes pie crust mealy and tender rather than flaky and tender. Be sure to omit salt from recipe when using self-rising flour.

Valley Vikings ousted from football play-off

Fort Wayne Dwenger ousted the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings in the second round of football sectional play Friday with a profound win of 27-6 on the Vikings home turf.

Valley's only touchdown came early in the game but was answered by four Dwenger touchdowns to gain the Saints the win.

The Vikings were hampered by three interceptions, a fumble and 55 yards in penalties. Valley was able to penetrate the Dwenger 30-yard line only once in the game.

Dale Cave gained 92 yards on 19 carries but due to several sacks by the Dwenger team, the Vikings were held to a total 44 yards.

The Valley defense was led by Tim Sleeth with 18 tackle points. Stan Miller and Dion Anglin followed with 12 points each.

Valley finished the season with a record of 6-4.

Going To State

As Erica Renold got dressed for school, she thought about her first day in dance class, which was the thing she wanted to do since she could remember. At the age of nine, she still dreamed of being a dancer; now was her chance to start a goal of being the best. Her mother, on the other hand, had disapproved of the class but since Erica was paying for her own classes' her mother had no way of objecting.

Soon Erica and her sister, Alicia, began getting tired of waiting for their bus to pick them up. After a few minutes Alicia said, "So I heard mom's letting you take dance because you're paying. I really got jealous when I heard your teacher say that you had the qualities of a good dancer."

Erica blushed feeling pride within her self. As they walked to different classes, Erica felt sympathy for her sister. Because of Alicia's fall from the bridge, she couldn't walk without having trouble keeping up with the crowd.

Erica had no trouble keeping the step in time with the rest of professional dancers. They had been so surprised that instead of Erica messing up, the other girls messed up!

At the end of the class, Miss Lurline McDaniel asked Erica to stay so she could talk to her.

When class was over Alicia was anxious to leave. Erica told her to go on home that she would be awhile. Erica went back to Miss McDaniel.

"Oh you are so talented Erica! This is only your first class and our as good as my other pupils! Erica, I think your my girl for the state dance contest and your the prettiest one too! Miss McDaniel told Erica as she got more and more excited....

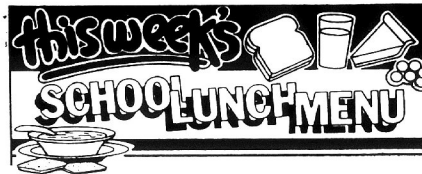

Erica and Miss McDaniel worked as hard as they could on the dance until they could dance no more. On June 28 the contest would be held at the auditorium in Indianapolis High School. It was June 26 and the dance was finally ready to perform. Erica's mom had already made her costume.

As soon as Erica got home, she started packing. They would start from Evansville early in the morning. The Renolds would meet Miss McDaniel at her apartment.

Miss McDaniel was making sure Erica knew her steps and that she could keep her step in her time. Erica would have to do her tap dance first and then, the very last she would perform her best jazz dance.

(An hour later) The judge says, "And the winner is...Erica Renold, congratulations! You will be our new dance teacher and professional dancer!"

Second grade enjoys party

The Akron second graders and their teachers, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Good and Mrs. Lynn attended a party at the Akron Carnegie Public Library on Monday afternoon. The party was given to the second grade for having the largest percentage of readers in the summer reading club sponsored by the Library this summer, than any other grade. Mrs. Phyllis Whitmore, dressed in Indian costume, told Indian stories and showed many articles pertaining to the American Indians. She was available through the Fulton Co. Historical society.

The children were served jello pudding pops by the Librarians.

What'cher gonna do?

What'cher gonna do when your lessons you ain't got, and the teacher asks a question which you can't answer not? you just get embarrassed and get a little red, and stutter something foolish and forever wish you're dead. But when examinations come what'cher gonna do? you're gonna cheat or answer not or what'cher gonna do? You'd better get your lessons and good work always do, or you'll always be a flunker, then what'cher gonna do?

When a feller can't win

There are times when a feller can't seem to win, like when you're past forty and old pains begin.

can't do like you uster, your git up and got seems to vanished completely and you feel like a sot.

But keep your chin up dig up a grin, tomorrow will be better than yesterday has been.

Go fishin'

If you're tired and feelin' blue, here is what you orta do, go fishin' Find yourself a shady nook put a fat worm on a hook, an' go fishin' With a bite you loose your woes get a thrill clear to your toes, while fishin' Happiness where blues have been you can muster up a grin when fishin' Big ones maybe got away, but there'll be another day, to go fishin'.

If I could do

If I could do what I'd like to do, I'd dabble a while an hour or two beside a quiet stream. If I could do what I'd like to do, I'd sit a spell beneath the maple tree listening to the birds song and the drone of the bee, just to sit outside at evening tide and watch the fire flies play and rest at dusk when work is done for the day.

THOSE SIX-YEAR MOLARS

If you have a youngster who's past his sixth birthday, it won't surprise you when he begins to lose his front teeth. But a lot more is happening in his mouth than you realize. For one thing, his six-year molars are beginning to erupt. These are the big back teeth so important for chewing and grinding. Some people may think they are "primary" molars to be replaced later like the child's other "baby" teeth. But they're not. They're permanent teeth, and with proper care, should last a lifetime.

The condition and shape they're in when they erupt are especially important and should be checked carefully. Among other things, these six-year molars help determine the shape of the lower part of his face. They can also have a direct effect on the position and health of his other teeth.

If they come in crooked, for example, this can throw his other teeth out of alignment. This not only affects his chewing efficiency but the shape of his mouth and tendency toward tooth decay.

Coupon Corner

Dear D. in Fork River, N.J.: I contacted the Nabisco Company on behalf in regard to your not receiving your refund. They told me they would check with the clearinghouse and someone would be in touch with you in the next two weeks.

The fact that you kept such a good record is a point I would like to commend you on. I'm sure it will help speed up the response from the company.

Keeping records of the offers you send for is an important part of the refunding hobby. I personally use a looseleaf binder to keep my log in, but many people find a spiral notebook or steno pad better. As most of you know, it takes six to eight weeks for most offers to come back. It's hard to remember all the offers and where you sent for them. The log will eliminate this problem.

Your log should list the date you sent out for the offer, the post office box you sent to, what you expect to receive, and the expiration date of the offer.

You need the date you sent the offer out so you'll know how long you've been waiting. Give the company about three months to send you the refund before writing them to ask about the offer.

The reason you keep a list of the box numbers is because some offers, although similar, use different box numbers and should be considered separate offers. Also, in writing the company, you can be specific about what offer you sent for. You keep track of the expiration date for the same reason.

Listing what you're sending for assures you that you know what to expect. Sometimes, clearinghouses do send out the wrong items or dollar amounts.

If you have any comments or suggestions, write to me at P.O. Box 252, Nedrow, N.Y. 13120.

Here are this week's offers:

SIGNAL $2 REBATE OFFER, P.O. Box 4010, Jefferson City, Mo., 65102 (receive $1 cash and $1 coupon). Send the safety seal (located around the bottle's neck) from a 58, 32 or 24-oz. bottle, OR two safety seals from 18-oz. bottles. Store form required. Expires 2/28/89.

DINO OFFER, P.O. Box 5760, Kankakee, Ill. 60902 (receive a free Dino). Buy two Pebbles cereal boxes. Send the POP from both boxes plus a check or money order for 50 cents. Previous offer kickback flyer form required. Offer good until 1/31/89 or while supplies last.

Propositions 1, 2, and 3 explained for voters

In addition to the election of thousands of public officials November 8, voters will decide the fate of three constitutional amendments.

Attorney General Linley Pearson says Hoosiers should be aware of the three proposed amendments, known as Proposition One, Proposition Two and Proposition Three, before making their decision election day.

Pearson says Proposition One is the best known of the three proposals. It would lift the constitutional ban against lotteries in Indiana. Presently any form of gambling from bingo to horse betting is illegal. There are also several statutory prohibitions against gambling.

Should the voters decide to remove the prohibition against lotteries, the General Assembly would then assume responsibility over whether any form of gambling would be approved, Pearson explains.

Questions often raised about this amendment include whether the General Assembly could approve horse racing, casinos or a statewide lottery. Approval of Proposition One would allow the General Assembly to pass legislation enabling any form of gambling.

Forms of gambling most often mentioned by legislators include a state lottery, bingo, and horse racing, Pearson says.

Proposition Two involves changes in how the criminal justice system operates at the appeal stages in Indiana.

Presently, Pearson explains, a defendant sentenced to 10 years in prison or more may appeal directly to the Indiana Supreme Court. Proposition Two would change that procedure by requiring only those sentenced to 50 years or more, or those who face the death penalty, to appeal directly to the Indiana Supreme Court.

Proponents of the amendment say its approval would lead to faster decisions by the Indiana Supreme Court because cases heard on appeal by the lower court would already be researched. The Supreme Court would be able to decide the case on the merits of the legal arguments much faster.

Opponents of the amendment believe if the State Supreme Court spent less time on criminal appeals it would take a greater interest in civil actions.

Pearson says Proposition Three affects many county office holders and those who support them. It would lift the constitutional ban against holding a county office more than eight years of any twelve year period. Approval of the change means county surveyors, sheriffs, coroners, treasurers, recorders, assessors, auditors and county clerk would be allowed to seek reelection after two consecutive terms.

Pearson says the change would not affect the office of governor, lieutenant governor, state auditor, state treasurer, secretary of state and clerk of the supreme and appellate courts. Those officeholders are also prohibited by the constitution from more than two consecutive terms in the same office.

Pearson says voters would try to familiarize themselves with the pros and cons of these constitutional questions since each raises significant issues which will affect Indiana for many years to come.

LET US PRAY FOR GUIDANCE IN SELECTING GOOD LEADERS

In any free society, the people elect their leaders at regular intervals. It is up to them to decide which of the two or more parties competing for their votes can best solve their problems, improve the quality of their lives and cope with world and national issues. Each candidate claims to have the answers, and engages in televised debates and speeches in an effort to convince the voters of this. We should listen to them as impartially as possible and then cast our ballots, based on facts and unselfish considerations rather than on emotions or any personal prejudices. Let us attend our House of Worship and pray for guidance, so that we will make wise choices among the candidates and issues. Then, whoever the winners are, we should pray for God's help to them in guiding our destiny, for they will surely need it.

Students asking for label donations

Students at Akron School are currently conducting a label collection drive that promises to deliver valuable educational materials. As part of a program called Labels for Education, Campbell Soup Company is offering educational materials to schools in exchange for labels from the company's products. Labels desired include V-8 vegetable juices, Franco-American gravies and pasta products, Swanson frozen dinners/entrees, pot pies, breakfasts, and fried chicken, Prego sauces and frozen entrees, Pepperidge Farm cookies and crackers, bakery products, and frozen foods, Mrs. Paul's frozen foods, Viasic pickle products, Campbell's soups, juices, mushrooms, bean products, and fresh tomatoes.

Labels are being collected in the drive beginning November 1, 1988 and ending March 1, 1989. A goal of surpassing last year's total of 25,750 labels collected has been set.

Anyone who wishes to contribute labels to the drive may do so by giving their labels to students, or simply drop them off at Akron School. Collection containers will also be placed at the Akron town offices and First Bank located in Akron.

Cassey Pontious, Missy Steininger, and Debbie Spivey are shown checking out the local supply of Campbell's soup in preparation for the label collection drive. Students benefit from the learning aids which are obtained with the labels. (News Photo)

Invitation for youth

Dear Friends in the Akron-Mentone Area,

The Youth Group of the First Baptist Church of Mentone would like to invite you to "Under Construction".

This program consists of a series of skits that range from funny commercials to a serious message. It is the only place to meet the "Bible Noid" and our "Bible Junkie". You will also learn why it is so important to tell your friends about Christ.

Won't you please join us in praising the Lord through singing and acting on Sunday, November 13, 1988, at the First Baptist Church, Broadway and Harrison in Mentone.

Love,
Ernie Vuittonet,
Dave Stavedahl, and all the teens

VETERAN'S DAY

Dear Editor,

Seventy years have passed since the 11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month in the year 1918 marked the Armistice which silenced the guns of World War One. Since that historic day the nation pauses each November 11 to pay tribute to its nation's military veterans.

November 11 also marks the 49th anniversary of an Irving Berlin song that has stirred the patriotic conscience of America. On Veteran's Day 1939, during a radio broadcast, Kate Smith sang God Bless America, the last line of which refers to "home, sweet home".

I bring these two events to your attention in the hope that each time you hear God Bless America, you will think of our nation's veterans who have sacrificed to insure that we have remained a "home, sweet home" with democratic principles established under the Constitution of The United States.

Recently America's living veterans and their families were remembered when President Reagan signed the legislation raising the Veterans Administration to a cabinet level office. I stood proudly at Fort McNair in Washington, D.C. to witness that signing. After all it signaled the end of a 20 year struggle by the American Legion to have a cabinet level official representing the 22 million veterans of the United States.

It was a memorable experience to witness such a historical occasion. But the thought crossed my mind, even then amongst the pageantry and flags, and ruffles and flourishes, that we still do not recognize the tremendous contributions veterans have made to our cities, state and nation.

Veterans are involved in their communities across the state, donating their time, effort and money for worthy community projects. In fact, in a one year period the Indiana American Legion invested $1.04 million in education, charitable and youth sports programs for Hoosiers.

I've tried to analyze why we continue serving our state and nation, and the obvious answer is that we have invested whole segments of our lives in defense of the United States, and we are merely trying to protect our investment.

On this Veteran's Day I ask every Hoosier to turn out for the observance in their community. We need to remember those veterans, living and dead, who have given so much, so we may all enjoy freedom.

And, finally, we should remember the veteran on not just one day of each year, but throughout the year...for the freedoms we enjoy every day.

Sincerely,
Billie J. Holmes, Commander
American Legion Dept. of Indiana

Santa's Village planned

The Mentone chapter of Psi Iota Xi Sorority met on November 1 in the home of Suzie Wagner. Roll call was answered by 19 members. Debi McFadden, chapter president, conducted the business meeting.

The sorority is currently working on several projects. Caramels are available from the members. Plans are also being made for two holiday projects. Cheeseballs for Thanksgiving or Christmas will be available anytime after November 19.

A very special Santa's Village will be held on Saturday, December 6, at the Mentone School. Children, ages 3 through 15, will be able to do their Christmas shopping early with help from Santa's helpers, while their parents relax and enjoy a hot cup of coffee. Gifts will range in price from 25 cents to $6.00.

For further information about any of these projects call 353-7428 or 353-7804.

Business as Usual

Mr. Robert Schultz continues to "settle in" as the principal of Tippecanoe Valley High School. Looking forward to meeting more parents and residents of Tippecanoe Valley, Mr. Schultz is pleased with his reception to the area.

Mr. Schultz plans to move to the Tippecanoe Valley area from Fort Wayne as soon as possible. Mr. Schultz will be joined by his wife Gena, a registered nurse, and their 2-year old daughter.

"The people are very warm and friendly here", commented Schultz. "I am looking forward to a very successful year at Tippecanoe Valley". (News Photo)

November

November brings the bite of frost and leaves each tree so bare and lost.

The misty haze from cold of night paints rooftops white in morning light.

The squirrel's nuts are quickly stored like riches in a miser's hoard.

Precious little time is left the preparation lends, to gather in the wood as autumn nearly ends.

Senior Citizens, a reminder the Home Health Care Services will be at the Akron Lions Club Nutrition Site every second Wednesday of the month in the late morning hours. If you are 60 years of age or older, blood pressure and blood sugar checks will be taken by the RNs. This is a general health program.

The November pitch-in dinner will be held Friday, November 18, at 11:30 a.m.

The Akron Nutrition Site will be closed Thanksgiving Day and Friday, November 24 and 25.

The Keen-agers enjoyed a Halloween celebration held at the site. The tables were decorated with flowers donated by Trella Bastain and Irene and Wayne Engle. Kenneth Bright donated the Halloween treats. Our thanks also to Margaret and Paul White, Mabel Alderfer, Zella Bain, Mary Krouse, Helen Hartzler, Kenneth Bright, and Hartzler Funeral Home for all their donations to make this program enjoyable for the senior citizens.

November 11 is Veterans Day. Let us remember our hospitalized veterans who did so much for our country.

The menu for the week of November 14 - 18 is:

Monday - Barbecue chicken, potato salad, peaches, white bread, peanut butter cookies, milk or coffee.

Tuesday - Ham slice, parsley potatoes, pineapple/cheese, dinner roll, chocolate pudding, milk or coffee.

Wednesday - Cannelloni, lettuce/tomato salad, creamed peas, French bread, cherry tart, milk or coffee.

Thursday - Swedish meatballs, mixed vegetables, fruit salad, rice, milk or coffee.

Friday - Pitch-in dinner.

Anniversary celebration set

Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) M. Gillespie of Silver Lake will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary November 20, 1988, with a reception at the Conservation Building in Silver Lake from 2 until 5 p.m. The reception is being hosted by their children and grandchildren.

Bill and Selena L. (Rhodes) Gillespie were married November 20, 1938, in Indiana by the late Rev. Hugh Miller. They were attended by Cecil Rhodes and the late Maxine (Gillespie) Kuhn.

Bill retired as an automotive mechanic and Selena retired from Tri State Harvestore as office manager.

The Gillespies have two children, Jay M. Gillespie and his wife Mary Ann and Billie Risner and husband Joe, all of Silver Lake. The couple have three grandchildren, Ginger, Nicole, and Stacey and one great-grandchild, Heather.

The couple requests the presence of friends at the reception and ask that gifts be omitted.

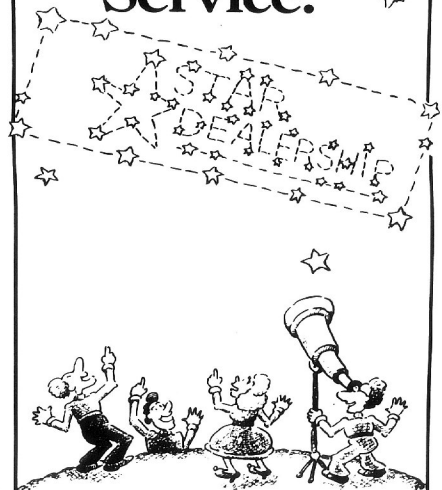

I thank my friends and family for their prayers, plants, cards, flowers, calls and food while I was in the hospital and since returning home. God bless all of you.

STAR stands for Special Training and Recognition. It's a voluntary certification program developed by the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society (RSES). It thoroughly covers important aspects of electric heating and cooling, especially those relating to heat pump technology, installation, diagnosis and repair. Heat pump and air conditioning technicians who pass a rigorous RSES testing program earn STAR status for their dealership. Akron Public Library

New books available at the Akron Carnegie Public Library are:

The Pride of Hannah Wade by Janet Dailey. When in 1876 Captain Jake Cutter's men rescued Hannah Wade at last, she was wrapped in a blanket and buckskin, an infant at her breast. Her long ordeal as the captive wife of a brutal Apache Warrior now ended, she could return to the arms of her husband and the men and women of Ft. Baynard, New Mexico. Though Hannah had endured degradation and torture as death's sole alternative, she was now subjected to unfeeling prejudice, forever tainted by her former ties to an alien race. Hannah would carry on with pride and dignity, nonetheless, as one man better, braver than the rest would one day attest, she would never again fear the loss of love, or face life's perils alone.

The Opalescent Moon by Jane Deringer. Is it a gift or a curse? That's what fashion coordinator Tiffany Blair starts to wonder after her family inherits Blairs Crossing Summer Resort. At first it seems to be the answer to their prayers, but was there really a curse on the grounds.

In the Shadow of Yesterday by Patricia Bird. "I'm not going to last three days here, much less three months", Brenda Westlake thinks upon her arrival at Doch Mansion in northern Canada. At first, the situation had sounded like an ideal way to begin her physical-therapy career, but rumors of her employer being a murderer complicated things.

Listen to the Roses by Betty Dahlin. In one incredible day, Ellen Peterson gets everything she ever wanted: an agent, an acting role, and a fiancé. But then she gets the phone call that leads her back to Stevely, Minn., where she was born. No one in the little town can understand it when she returns there, least of all the father she can barely remember.

The Dark Cliffs by Louise Bergstrom. Many women go to Hawaii looking for love. Reporter J.T. Harding, too, is looking for a man but love is the last thing on her mind. Her next door neighbor, Sue Ellen, has disappeared, and J.T. is determined to find the person responsible.

National Book Week
National Children's Book Week will be observed at the Akron Carnegie Public Library November 14 - 20, 1988. The theme of the week is Reading is Dino-Mite. There will be a special emphasis on visiting and finding something for everyone in the family. Families are urged to visit the library where there are books, videos, magazines, and records available. Large print books are also available.

Storyhour to begin

A series of six story hours for pre-schoolers will be held at the Akron Carnegie Public Library on Friday mornings at 10:00 a.m. The first one will be November 18. There will also be songs and crafts for the children. Any preschooler is welcome to attend. The children are encouraged to bring an item with them each week relating to the theme to show to the group.

November 18 - The children can bring something that they might find on a farm (toy tractor, stuffed animal, picture of a farm or animal, etc.).

November 25 - Bring something that relates to Thanksgiving.

December 2 - Bring a favorite toy.

December 9 - Bring a transportation toy (car, train, bus, tractor, plane, etc.).

December 16 - Bring something used in sports (ball, mitt, hat, etc.).

MAKING TEETH LOOK GOOD AGAIN

Perhaps some years ago you had your dentist perform some gold bridgework but the white facing of the crowns have discolored. Maybe there are areas along the gum line where the gold margins are visible. When you look into your mouth it makes you uncomfortable because your teeth don't look as good as they could, especially when you smile.

Perhaps you have some old fillings that have become tarnished, and this makes you self-conscious, too. The fillings have protected your teeth from decay, and still do, and the bridgework has done its job in taking the place of missing teeth. But you want your teeth to also look as attractive as possible. You don't want other people to be reminded of the restorative work done on your teeth every time you open your mouth.

If you want your mouth to look as natural as possible, ask your dentist what he can do about it. With today's cosmetic dental techniques, such as capping with porcelain, defects can be treated to make your teeth look good again.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St. Rochester. Phone 223-3121.

Ain't no time

Ain't no time to wash the dishes, ain't no time to mop the floor, ain't no time to sweep or dust, have to hurry to the grainary.

Grinding feed is a must, ain't no time to wax the floor, have to hurry to the hog barn to clean the farrowing pens some more.

Have to clean the cow barn out and the tramp's shed needs it too, luckily I got the meat on, supper will be stew.

The hen house needs bedding, there's eggs to clean and case, If I hurry like the dickens I may have time to wash my face.

Just keeps a body busy, cleaning, grinding, doing chores, ain't no time for lavish living, ain't no time to get bored, ain't no time to go visitin' or to make no sick calls, but hope to see you when the works all done next fall.

Creative Writings

The following short stories are a continuation of the articles being submitted by students in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation who are involved in the Creative Writing program. The students benefit by having the opportunity to use the computers purchased with the grant received last summer for the Creative Writing program.

My Friend

My friend and I wanted to explore the old house on the hill. It looked scary. We walked up to the house. We went inside the house. We heard footsteps. Then we heard a voice. It said, "Come closer if you want to die."

Then we came closer. We weren't scared. Suddenly someone jumped in front of my friend and stabbed him in the head. He fell to the floor. He was as dead as a doornail. Then the killer went after me. I was scared. He cut my arm off. I grabbed a knife and stabbed him. He fell to the ground dead.

Jared Beery

The Greedy Rabbit

Once there was a rabbit who was hopping along in his usual way. Suddenly he came upon a large patch of clover. Just as he started nibbling some clover, he noticed another rabbit starting to eat some clover.

He said, "Get out of here, I was here first."

The other rabbit didn't budge. So he chased him away. The rabbit came back. He ate as fast as he could. He didn't want the other rabbit to have any.

When he finished he was very tired. He didn't want to go back to his home. He could barely walk because he was so full. He decided to sleep right where he was.

When he woke there was a lion looming over him. Before he do anything. The lion had eaten him.

Moral: He who is greedy may end up worst of all.

What I Want To Be

When I grow up I want to be an architect. I want to be an architect because you get to draw and design things.

In studying architecture you learn facts about many things. You not only learn how to build, but you also learn about heating, lighting, and zoning laws. As an architect, I would enjoy using angles and curves to end up with a finish product which will last for years.

Bridges and big b buildings, such as skyscrapers, are examples of things designed by architects. Architects may also be involved with space travel by helping to design space stations.

LET'S HELP REBUILD THE LIVES THEY WOULD HAVE GIVEN

We send the members of our armed services into battle in unavoidable situations, knowing with sad hearts that many of them will not return home. There are, however, others who will, for although they have risked their lives for us they did manage to survive; even though in some cases with permanent disabilities. Let us never forget what we owe them for what they have done for us. We must give them every possible advantage in the way of job opportunities, housing, education and all the things they will need in order to resume their place in our society. We should also thank the Lord at our House of Worship for their safe return, and pray for their future well-being. It is incumbent upon us to do whatever we can to help them reconstruct their lives, which they were prepared to sacrifice for the preservation of our freedom.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

MISSION: MUNCH

Well, you've done it. You've announced to everyone within hearing distance that you have started your diet. At the time, it seemed like a safe way to keep you honest. If everyone knew you were dieting, you wouldn't dare snack around any of them, nor would you dare eat fattening foods for fear they wouldn't see any results. Sure, it was a good idea then.

Several months have passed. You have seen an improvement in your appearance as well as mental attitude. But still, it is getting harder and harder. Some days it's better than others, and this day seems to be hard.

You have been fighting the urge to munch all day. Even after you ate supper and the dishes were done, your eyes drifted toward the cupboard door where the chips are kept. You've had it! You tear open the door and the kids enter the kitchen asking, "Mom, what are you looking for?"

Well, you got out of that one easily enough. Do you really think they believed you were checking the latch on the door? I hope you didn't have that wistful look in your eyes as they reached past your taking the chips out of the cupboard and to the neighbors to share during a movie.

It's midnight. You are wide awake. Your husband is snoring beside you, the kids have long since gone to bed and the house is dark. Now would be an excellent time to sneak into the kitchen to answer the "call of the Ding Dongs". You toss and turn hoping the "call" will go away.

Well, there you are again, in the kitchen! Can you imagine what people would think if they could see you now? But, go ahead, eat the Ding Dongs if you must. But don't blame me when your skirts don't fit any more. Just then the light comes on and a sleepy husband asks, "What's the matter honey, can't you sleep?"

Great! Did you enjoy the Mylanta you drank trying to convince your husband that you were up with a stomachache? My, what some people will do for Ding Dongs! But you might as well confess, you ate something, didn't you?

This probably sounds as if I'm being hard on this lady. But, you see, we have a help line between houses. We call each other when we have the urge to eat and this lady called me several days ago. I checked in on her later, after the Mylanta stunt was over. At 2 a.m., I entered the house noticing the kitchen light on. As I questioned my friend she stood directly in front of me denying any munching. But, I know she did.

How, you ask. As I left and she stood in the doorway, crumbs were on the lapels of her housecoat, cellophane peaking from her right hand pocket and a big smile revealing chocolate between her front teeth gave me a clue!

Mentone Sewer project progresses despite changes

Bids for the sewer project in Mentone may be opened in mid-December if the town can advertise the project this week.

A change in the design of the laboratory control building needed to be made to make the project eligible for a portion of the grant money. The original design included an attached garage area for storage. However, the town would have been responsible for 40 percent, or $30,000 to $40,000, of the cost of its construction. Therefore, the board decided to redesign the building without the garage. According to project engineer, Mark Harrison of Bonar & Associates, Fort Wayne, the cost of the new plans should be around $2,000 to $3,000.

Harrison also reported to the board it may be necessary for citizens to sign more than one easement. For example, a separate easement would be needed for running a line across a resident's property and one for putting in the septic tank. On vacated land, utility easements are still intact for the town because they were already dedicated.

The railroad has only given the town a permit for use of the easement at a cost of $330 per year and the permit can be withdrawn at any time with 60 days notice.

According to town attorney Lee Bazini, a contract with the railroad will not be signed until both sides can discuss the matter. Bazini told the board the customary way for a town to acquire an easement is to pay one flat fee and the easement may be used forever.

Ground breaking planned in Mentone

The building committee of the Mentone United Methodist Church is pleased to announce the ground-breaking of the addition to their church on Sunday, November 20, 1988, at 9:30 a.m. The upcoming building program, Building On A Solid Foundation, is the result of five years spent in studying the needs of the church, analyzing those needs, and determining what direction to take toward building an addition to the present facility.

New Store opens in Akron

Following a 15 year coaching career, Dave Henson is returning to Akron to open a sporting goods store. With co-owner Terry Foreman of the Macy area, Henson will be opening the store in the near future.

Henson lives in the Macy area with his wife Melinda (Musselman) and their four children; Melanie, 13, Zachary, 10, Joshua, 7, and Elijah, 3.

The sporting goods store will be an extension to a joint business adventure between Henson and Foreman. Dear Editor

Last week, the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Local Advisory Committee brought Tom McKean and his "I'd Rather Have Hugs Than Drugs" program to the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. Tom McKean spoke to over 2,000 students at Akron, Burket, Mentone, and Tippecanoe Valley; shared with a group of 750 parents and students at an evening presentation; and hosted a community-wide dance attended by more than 400 people. Tom McKean shared his experiences of drug and alcohol abuse that led him to prison and eventually to a decision to turn his life around. Tom McKean now takes his message of caring to schools throughout Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio. When he leaves he has assisted the schools in forming a support team of community volunteers who are available to kids who need someone to talk to, someone who cares. Many students throughout the school corporation indicated such a need, and will receive help in the time to come.

Many people put forth a great deal of time and effort in making Tom McKean's visit a success. Among those are support team members Carol Gann, Lisa Fawley, Carolyn Gakstatter, Debbie Gray, Karen Harding, Sue Hart, Susan Hart, William Lawson, Sr., James Malbone, Cheryl Rodenberg, Randy Samuels, Cara Lynn Tucker, Janet Tucker, Susie Wagner, Tanya Wise, and June Yazel; school counselors Sandy Carmichael, Lora Harp, and Cindi Dellett; building principals Robert Shultz, Daniel Kramer and Oliver England; publicity chairperson Pat Hoover; Scott Carmichael and the Tippecanoe Valley graphic arts class; Family Learning Center therapist John Tyl; Julie Kelsey of the Warsaw Times-Union; Kosciusko County Reserve Officers Max Weller and Robert Conley; Superintendent Baxter Paige and the School Board; and all faculty and staff members in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

I would like to thank each and every one of these people for a job well done. Together, we CAN make a difference in the lives of the young people in our schools and communities.

Sincerely,
Brett Boggs, Chairman
Drug-Free Schools and Communities

Business as Usual

Being athletic director for Tippecanoe Valley School took on a new meaning during the fall athletic banquet for Bob DuBois. Not only can Mr. DuBois plan out strategic basketball plays on a chalkboard, he can make some very artistic swipes with a dishcloth during "KP" duty. Good job! (Photo by Biddinger)

The Glass That Was Half Empty

This is a story of an optimist and a pessimist. You know, the person who sees a glass half full of water while another person sees it half empty. Here's the story.

One Thanksgiving, a kindly old man of 80 decided to visit a friend of his he hadn't seen in many years. The day was Thanksgiving and the man, not being able to visit his family, decided to make the best of it and visit others who had no family.

His first stop was at the apartment of his longtime friend, Joe. As he was about to knock, he tried to remember why they hadn't kept in touch the past several years.

As Joe opened the door, he was clearly depressed. The optimist hugged Joe and told him how good it was to see him again. He, at once, told Joe of his plans to visit others and try to cheer them up. Much to Joe's disliking, he agreed to accompany him friend.

The first stop was several blocks away where they visited with a man who had recently lost his wife. The pessimist was quiet but felt the day was going to be a total loss as far as he was concerned. The optimist joined the man in a cup of coffee and played a game of checkers and after a hearty handshake, invited the man over for a visit as they left.

The next stop was at the home of a young lady with three children. The children visited the optimist and would often set on the steps of his apartment building eating apples with him. He enjoyed the visits not only because he was lonely at times but he knew the children's father had been working double shifts to pay expenses and hadn't been around much. As they entered the home, the lady explained that her husband was working the holiday to make extra money and the men were welcome to join them for dinner. This delighted the optimist and didn't seem all that bad to Joe. However, as the men left, the optimist pointed out what a nice family they had and he was sure they would make it through their crisis alright. Joe just complained about how he wished he had had a wife and children, but then it never would have worked out anyway.

After visiting the nearest nursing home, the day ended with the optimist hoping he had cheered someone's day. Joe had considered the day depressing.

Several weeks later, Joe called at the apartment of the optimist. The name tag had been removed and the place seemed vacant. When asked, the landlord replied, "The optimist passed away last night. Didn't you know he wasn't expected to live? That's why he didn't visit his family, he didn't think he could make the trip." She shook her head and closed the door.

Joe not only attended the funeral of the optimist but has taken over the duties of the optimist. While visiting the nursing home, Joe offered a glass of water to a patient. The man deferred saying it was only half empty anyway. Joe proceeded to tell him about the man who would have seen the glass that was half full.

This Thanksgiving, see your glass of water half full and be thankful for the blessings bestowed on each of you, no matter how small they may seem.

Tips For Smart Shoppers: Furniture By Phone

Inspired by the country manors of England, this dining room collection includes a Queen Anne table and chairs, Windsor chair and china buffet, all in solid oak. It can be ordered by phone from the Edgar B catalogue at savings of 40-50%.

One out of every four purchases is now being made by telephone or mail. Why the appeal of armchair shopping? Experts cite better quality merchandise, broader selection, shopping convenience for busy consumers, and, in many instances, substantial savings up to 50% of retail prices.

One of the fastest-growing segments of the shop-at-home phenomenon is furniture. According to Ed Broyhill, president of Edgar B Furniture, the country's largest furniture-discount catalogue, "People are not at all hesitant to furnish their homes with fine-quality furniture they order from a catalogue." Here are some tips from Edgar B on shopping by phone or mail.

• For major purchases such as furniture or rugs, note the dimensions given and carefully measure your existing space.

• If an exact color match is important, ask for color chips or fabric swatches.

• To check the reputation of a mail-order firm, contact the Better Business Bureau.

Talking turkey

It's turkey time again. Turkey is a tradition in most American homes at Thanksgiving and Christmas time and, of course, you want to make the most of your holiday celebrations by preparing the best dinners possible.

To make sure that your holiday meals are pleasantly memorable, you need to take some care. What do you look for in a fresh or frozen turkey? How do you store it? How do you thaw a frozen bird? Is there some sure way to tell when it is thoroughly cooked? What about stuffing? How long can the turkey be left out and still be safe?

If you like to show well in advance of when you'll be serving your meal, then a frozen turkey is your best bet. Frozen turkeys are available pre-basted, and some are pre-stuffed. A whole frozen turkey -- pre-stuffed or unstuffed -- can be stored in your home freezer at Zero degrees F, or below for up to one year without appreciable loss of quality.

Several methods can be used to safely thaw a frozen turkey. One is to simply place the bird in its original wrapping inside the refrigerator for two to five days, depending on the turkey's size. Another is to thaw it in cold water. After making sure there are no breaks in the wrapping, cover the frozen bird with cold water. Change the water regularly for safety. A third method is to use your microwave oven, following the manufacturer's instructions. Once your turkey is thawed, remove the neck and the giblets and wash the inside and outside of the turkey in cold water and drain well.

After your family and guests have showered you will praise on the exquisitely prepared meal, remember that your job is not yet over. Handling cooked turkey incorrectly can result in food-borne illness that can ruin your holiday fun.

Bacteria that cause food poisoning can multiply quickly on perishable food left at room temperature. Therefore, when you take the turkey out of the oven, you have approximately two hours to serve it and refrigerate or freeze the leftovers. Food poisoning bacteria usually cannot be smelled or tasted, and that's what makes them so dangerous. You may not know anything is amiss until symptoms of poisoning begin to set in -- two hours or two days later.

Forests damaged by fire to be replanted

A new project of the National Arbor Day Foundation gives you a chance to help replant America's fire-devastated forests.

Fueled by last summer's under-dry conditions, forest fires burned more than 4.3 million acres of the nation's parks and forests. Millions of new trees must be planted.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit education organization dedicated to tree planting and conservation, will plant 10 trees in a fire-ravaged forest on behalf of each person who joins its membership during November.

"Forest trees play a vital role in the ecosystem," John Rosenow, the foundation's executive director, said.

"They hold soil in place, protect groundwater supplies, and help keep rivers clean. Our forests provide wildlife habitat, recreation opportunities, and timber products for our daily use."

"Growing trees also remove carbon dioxide from the air. By supporting this reforestation project, Americans can help fight global warming caused by the greenhouse effect," Rosenow added.

To support this effort, send your $10 membership contribution to FORREST TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410. Ten trees will be planted on your behalf in a forest destroyed by fire.

Tots To Teens by Sue Ellen Sullivan

Dear Sue: My daughter in law proudly informed me that my granddaughter is riding a two wheel bicycle now. Don't you think that a 4 year old child is too young to ride a two wheeler? Her parents are proud now, but how will they feel when she gets into an accident? Because they live on a quiet street, they think that she is safe riding her bike by herself. I know my opinion is not wanted, but I'm very worried about my granddaughter, Rosemary V.

Dear Rosemary: You can't expect a child to ride a tricycle when she is capable of riding a two wheeler. However, her parents should be with her at all times. Even though her street is quiet, there must be some cars that use it, and a 4 year old has no business dodging cars. Tell your son and daughter in law that even though you're proud of your granddaughter's accomplishment, you would rest easier if they kept her on the sidewalk and always kept a watchful eye on her.

Dear Sue: Our local health club is advertising a new mother and tots exercise program. It sounds very interesting and I'm thinking of joining, but I wondered if children really do get benefits from exercising at an early age. Joannie D.

Dear Joannie: The American Academy of Pediatrics does not recommend these programs. Babies develop at their own rate, and pushing them does more harm than good. Playing with your baby and letting him play with safe toys is enough.

TIME-SAVING TIPS

Morning Strategy for Men in Motion

These six tips may save you time each morning as you prepare for your action-packed day. It all begins with just a few minutes of evening preparation:

- Place your keys, wallet and sunglasses in the same place every evening.
- Quickly select underwear, socks, tie and any other accessories you'll need to get dressed the next day.
- Group together your personal grooming needs such as your shaving paraphernalia, soap, moisturizer, etc.
- Try something new up your sleeve with Shulton's Old Spice® Liquid Stick™. This new product has a breakthrough technology which delivers fast-drying deodorant and anti-perspirant protection.
- Treat yourself to a clock radio. Program it to wake you to soft music or a tape of your choice.
- If you're a coffee drinker, invest in an automatic coffee pot. The smell alone may get you out of bed faster.

With your preparations down to a science and a quick-drying deodorant, you just may have the time to enjoy a second cup of coffee!

Indianapolis zoo offers Christmas displays

The Indianapolis Zoo will celebrate its first Christmas in White River State Park with the return of "Christmas at the Zoo." A Central Indiana holiday tradition at the former zoo facility, the event will return this year in an expanded format.

Opening November 25, the 26-day event will feature holiday activities and entertainment for all ages on grounds decked with garlands, wreaths and 150,000 Christmas lights. In conjunction with the Commission for Downtown holiday activities, a 30-foot tall Christmas tree will officially be lighted at 8 p.m. on opening night, following the 6:00 p.m. lighting of the Circle Tree, the 6:30 p.m. lighting of the Union Station tree and the 7:00 p.m. Claypool Courts lighting. A free shuttle bus will transport zoo visitors to and from the downtown festivities from 5 to 9 p.m. on November 25.

Choirs, carolers—some aboard a horse-drawn streetcar and musicians will live the grounds with the airs of Christmas. Storytellers will share holiday traditions from around the world with riders aboard the zoo train. Train rides and carousel rides will be available for 50 cents each; streetcar rides will be offered free of charge.

Zoo animals will perform nightly in two shows, "Animals of Christmas" and "The Elf Who Overslept," featuring the zoo's reindeer. Monday through Thursday performances are scheduled for 7 and 8 p.m., while weekend shows will be presented at 7 and 9 p.m. The Hasley Pudding Puppet Company and the Boulder Gang will offer weekend performances during "Christmas at the Zoo."

Santa's Igloo, the future Deserts Conservancy, will offer a children's crafts workshop as well as visits with Santa. Photos with Santa will be available for $1.50 each. Santa's Igloo also will feature a maze of brightly decorated Christmas trees and an area where youngsters will be able to decorate their own holiday treats as well as treats to take home to their wild animal friends.

A student art contest between several local schools will provide additional holiday scenery on the zoo grounds.

"Christmas Around the World" is the theme of the competition, in which schools will strive to build the best Yuletide scene. All of the entries will remain on exhibit throughout the holiday season.

Dates and times for Christmas at the Zoo are: Friday and Saturday, November 25-26, 5-10 p.m.; Sunday, November 27, 5-9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, December 2-3, 5-10 p.m.; Sunday, December 4, 5-9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, December 9-10, 5-10 p.m.; Sunday, December 11, 5-9 p.m.; Monday, December 12, through Thursday, December 15, 5-9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, December 16-17, 5-10 p.m.; Sunday, December 18, through Thursday, December 22, 5-9 p.m.; Friday, December 23, 5-10 p.m.; Monday, December 26, through Thursday, December 29, 5-9 p.m.; and, Friday, December 30, 5-10 p.m.

Tickets for Christmas at the Zoo are $3.50 per person. Discount coupons are available for $3 at participating Wendy's. Indianapolis Zoo members will be admitted for $3 upon presentation of their membership cards and valid identification. A 20-percent discount will be offered to groups of 15 or more with advance reservations. Parking for the event is $1.50 per car; zoo members park free.

Senior Issues

Dear Mrs. Merritt: I have been experiencing pain in various joints, which seems to come and go. Friends tell me this could be the beginning arthritis. Do you have some general information about this ailment?

Answer: The Indiana Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation has a toll free number (1-800-382-4536) where you can ask about specific publications concerning arthritis. Some basic facts concerning arthritis include the following:

*Arthritis literally means joint inflammation and refers to more than 100 different diseases.

*Most forms of arthritis are chronic, which means they may last a lifetime. People usually have ups and downs with arthritis, and have times when they feel no symptoms. It is important to receive proper medical help early in the course of the disease and in faithfully staying with the treatment program even during remissions.

*Some warning signs of arthritis include swelling in one or more joints, early morning stiffness, recurring pain or tenderness in any joint, inability to move a joint normally, obvious redness and warmth in a joint, unexplained weight loss, fever, or weakness combined with joint pain.

*Except for a few kinds, such as infectious arthritis, the cause of arthritis is unknown. Because there are so many different types, there are certainly many different causes. Recently, scientists have learned that several human diseases are caused by unusual viruses that may live harmlessly in the body for years before becoming active. They now suspect that a virus or something like it may trigger the inflammatory process in several forms of arthritis.

Some scientists believe that the reason certain people get osteoarthritis (in which joint cartilage breaks down) is that they were born with defective cartilage or with slight defects in the way their joints fit together and move. The results of such defects may not show up until the person is middle-aged or older. Other people may develop osteoarthritis because they have "punished" their joints with many injuries or by overusing injured joints.

The kind of treatment a person with arthritis will receive depends on many things, especially the kind of arthritis, how it affects the person, how severe the disease is, which joints are affected, and the person's age, occupation, and everyday activities. Treatment programs are tailored individually, but most will include some combination of medication, rest, exercise, and methods of protecting the joints.

Many different drugs are used in treating arthritis. These include aspirin, non-steroid anti-inflammatory drugs, cortisone-like drugs, gold salts, penicillamine, an antimalarial drug, and drugs

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. Why is an angel food cake turned upside down after baking?

A. When upside-down, delicate cells of angel food cake are held open and gain stability as cake cools. Baked meringue-type cakes are delicate and will collapse from the pull of gravity otherwise. Cake will support its weight and volume after completely cooled and be light and fluffy.

Q. Do liquid corn oil and solid vegetable shortening need to be refrigerated?

A. Not if used quickly. Vegetable shortening can be stored at room temperature for short periods but should be refrigerated for storage of several months or more. Oils should be tightly capped and stored at room temperature or in refrigerator.

Truck competition begins Saturday

Twelve of the country's automotive giants will roar through the Indiana Hoosier Dome on Saturday, November 19 at 8 p.m. as they compete for top prize money as Dan Young Chevrolet presents the Carquest Monster Truck Nationals and Truck Pull Championships.

Super horsepower and speed will determine the winner in the monster truck competition which features side-by-side, drag racing-style elimination on twin obstacle tracks. Whoop-de-dos (mogels) and crushed cars will set the scene for the timed event which promises to bring cheering fans to their feet, as the monsters prove their position of power.

NITEMARE, winner of the Special Events Season '88 Triple Crown, will face fierce competition from Stomper, King Crunch, Nightlife, Mad Dog, Wild Hair, Playin' For Keeps, Awesome King, No Problem, The Equalizer and Bigfoot, the winner of last year's event as Jim Kramer piloted the beast across the finish line upside down. Another top competitor will be USA-1, the reigning National Champion of the Renegades/TNT Monster Truck Challenge, a 35-event point series which includes this event.

The pulling truck competition will feature a 6200 lb. Super Modified 2-Wheel Drive Truck class and 7200 lb. Dragster Modified Tractor class as part of the Redman All-American Pulling Series. Pure power will determine the winner as these mighty machines drag a 40,000 lb. weight transfer sled with distance being the standard for success.

As a special feature "Fireball Express" will be at the show. This fire-breathing tractor shoots a tower of flames into the air as it roars to life and begins to drag the sled across the track.

Tickets are priced at $14 for adults and $7 for children 12 and under and may be purchased at the Hoosier Dome Box Office and all Ticket Master locations through the day of the show.

Save cash by purchasing tickets in advance at participating Central Indiana Carquest locations.

Greatest Experience

The greatest experience I ever had was when I went to Cedar Point. It was my birthday.

I liked it a lot because I got to ride on every ride. I also like it because it was by birthday and I got presents and cake. I had a fun day that day.

FOR A REAL
EDUCATION, TAKE TIME TO READ YOUR BIBLE

In that busy life of yours, so rigidly apportioned among work, home maintenance, TV, PTA meetings, the bowling league or whatever, try to find time to read your Bible; even if it's only one chapter at a time. It contains a great many elements for our education and well-being. It's history, with the story of the earliest days of the world, faithfully handed down through the generations. It's geography, inviting fascinating comparison between the Middle East and Mediterranean lands, then and now. It's a prescription for better living, with its rules for behavior toward our fellow human beings. It's a great comfort, bringing us guidance and solace in times of trouble or sorrow. All in all, it's the world's most perfect collection of writings, and if we know how interesting and helpful it can be, we will somehow manage to find the time for it.

Jim McFadden has since filled the position of chairman. He, along with members Roger Moriarty, Eldon Horn, Jean Smith, Iris Anderson, Rosemary Bazini, and former Pastor Lester Taylor, has spent many hours surveying the congregation, visiting other church buildings, and meeting with architects. After negotiations between the IDOH, the Office of the Attorney General and the town board, Governor Robert D. Orr signed the deed giving the title to the land to Silver Lake. The deed stipulates the land must be used only for municipal purposes or ownership would revert to the state.

"This is an excellent example of different government agencies working together to find the best solution to a problem," stated Isenbarger. "Instead of an empty lot maintained by the IDOH, town residents will have a nice public area to use as they wish."

The CIP grants are awarded on a competitive basis each fiscal year.

Guess who's coming to dinner?

These two wild turkeys are guests of Kevin and Lori Deardorff, Akron. The turkeys live in the woods located behind the Deardorff home and spend their time window peaking to see what is for dinner. The birds might panic when they see the roaster come out of storage with Thanksgiving fast approaching. Mrs. Deardorff has reassured the News office that the turkeys are in no danger of being the main course on Thursday. (News Photo)

Akron board meets

In a recent joint meeting of the Akron Town Board and the Akron Town Building Corporation, an agreement was reached to allow Howard Van Scoy to get an estimate for the cost of the remaining work to be done at the new fire station. The town pledged an additional $5,000 to help complete the work of the new offices.

The Akron town board met in regular session on Tuesday, November 14. Superintendent Gearhart reported a new bed has been on the truck. Gearhart also reported the grading and filling of the parking lot of the new fire station has been completed.

The sewer problems at the north end of Akron are being resolved. Jim Lauer, engineer, has recommended separating the storm sewers from the sanitary lines.

Since this is very costly and war weather is required for the work, he said a check valve installed at one of the residences would help for the time being. The town will install the valve.

Acting Marshall Ron Dittman asked the board for and was granted permission to buy an additional weapon for the town.

Proper legal procedures are being investigated for the sale of the old fire station and water building. It is hoped that advertising can be completed so that the bids can be opened during the December meeting.

Did you get your refund?

The Internal Revenue Service has 517 refund checks worth over $500,000 which were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable and are unclaimed by local residents and businesses.

According to Director William Jacobs of the Indianapolis District Office, the taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the IRS. Sometimes the handwriting on the tax return may simply be illegible. According to Jacobs, "The best way to avoid misdirected refund checks is to use the peel-off label found in the tax package."

When a refund is returned by the Postal Service, the IRS attempts to find the taxpayers who are expecting a refund and have moved or changed their names during the year are encouraged to contact the IRS. The number to call to claim a refund is 1-800-424-1040.

Our Thanksgiving message for you

May you truly be thankful for all the blessings of the year, for the friends you have -- both far and near.

May you be thankful for the common things of life, for families, where affection clings to the heart.

May you be thankful for tomorrow and whatever it holds.

Go Ahead....Make Their Day

If you know now or have ever known a serviceman or woman, you know the importance of sending letters. Most seem glad to leave for "bigger and better places" at first, but most have a change of heart deciding later that Indiana really isn't all that bad.

And, surprise! The hometown newspaper takes on a new importance. Yes, the paper they used to say "had nothing to read" is a welcome site and first to be missed if not delivered.

I happen to know two young men who not only enjoy this paper, but, most likely would enjoy cards and letters from Hoosiers. Although I don't have a list of servicemen as Dear Abby had, I do happen to have these two. Both are in the Navy and both are super young men.

The first young man just happens to be my nephew. His nickname is Robbie and he has been in the Navy for six years. He has plans to become a Navy Recruiter hopefully near here in the future. He's 25 and after having spent a lot of time in California, still believes that Indiana girls are the nicest anywhere. Rob has been on board the SS Kittyhawk for a great deal of time in the past and although he enjoys being at sea, will appreciate being on dry land come February. After spending time in places the rest of us only hear about, he still has his Indiana roots. And, especially you Indiana girls, who would like to write or send a card can do so at the address below. (Yes, he's single!)

Thomas R. Hatfield USN
R-Div LST 1187
USS Tuscaloosa
FPO San Francisco, Cal. 96779-1808

Next, is Chuck, who has spent time at our house over the last several years. He graduated in 1988 from Tippecanoe Valley High School and has completed his basic training. There isn't a subject Chuck and I haven't covered and, without a doubt, whatever subject you would choose to write about, Chuck would enjoy. During his last leave, he introduced us to his girlfriend so at the present time he's taken. But, if you have a humorous card or want to write a few lines to someone who is far from home, this is the person. Who knows....he just might return a letter and make your day.

FN Charles Howard

Dear Abby had a good response for servicemen last year who didn't get much mail. Readers would drop a line to let them know they were being thought of. While these boys are getting mail, I'm sure they would appreciate a little more.

So readers, go ahead, write a letter and "make their day".

We want to thank our family and friends for the gifts, flowers and the many many beautiful cards given to us for our 60th wedding anniversary.

God Bless you,
Ralph and Imo Tucker

I wish to thank all my neighbors and friends for all the prayers and cards sent to me and said for me while I was in the hospital. A special thanks to the McNeeleys, Leon and Margaret Kindig, Mrs. Craft and Vivian Spence, Art and Shirley Craig, the Ed Grays, the Bud Grays, the Cleo Daines, Mrs. Adam Stout, Eva Hartman, and a special thanks to Wayne Spence for cleaning my yard and fixing my flowers for winter.

Thanks Again and God Bless You All,
Ron Fenimore

This church serves a thriving rural community including the village of Athens located in the western part of Henry Township. The present membership in the church is 125. The present church was dedicated Nov. 20, 1927. The first United Brethren Church was founded in 1876 and was located one quarter mile east of Athens near the present Mt. Hope Cemetery. The original name of the church was Mt. Hope United Brethren Church. Mrs. Leo Sytreich, who lived in Rochester at that time and later moved to Chicago where she died, donated the lots on which the new church was built and also the house and lot next to the church for a parsonage. The community cherishes the memory of Mrs. Sytreich for her gracious and Christian-like donation. Plans were then made for the erection of a new $22,000 church. From 1927 to the present time the original debt has been reduced from $22,000 to $4,731. The debt has been reduced $17,269 in eleven years. The church is now being served by the capable pastorate of Rev. Floyd W. Hardy. On Nov. 27, the eleventh anniversary of the new church will be observed.

AN ADVERTISEMENT, if it is to accomplish the purpose for which it is intended, must attract attention, inform, create desire, and sell. If it fails in any one of these four essentials it is not the best advertisement. Advertisement writers often expect too much of newspapers. They expect a newspaper to get results from an advertisement that has no salesmanship in it. No newspaper can do it. All the newspaper can do is present to the reader the advertisement as it is written. The newspaper cannot attract attention, it cannot sell if these things are lacking in the advertisement copy. It is up to the advertiser to see that his ad goes over with the public.

FACTS & FIGURES

It takes money to save money, the old saying goes. Not necessarily so. Many city officials have found a way to implement energy conservation programs in government buildings without paying a dime—and those energy savings may mean lower taxes, too. One such program saved Lake County, Indiana nearly $800,000 a year in utility bills without requiring any capital expenditures from the government budget.

Through special financing, a high-efficiency heating, ventilating and air conditioning (HVAC) system was retrofitted into the Lake County Government Center by Johnson Controls, a worldwide leader in automated building controls and energy services with 120 branch offices throughout the nation. Under the ten-year, $2.5 million contract, Johnson Controls gets paid from the energy savings for its ongoing maintenance and energy services, as well as for a new lighting system, chillers and boilers.

A similar energy conservation now underway in Massachusetts is saving the people of that state some $1.15 million each year. Those funds are now free for other projects that are making life better for millions.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. How much arrowroot flour substitutes for all-purpose flour to thicken sauces?

A. Use 1 1/2 teaspoons arrowroot flour instead of 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour.

Q. Does diet margarine substitute directly for regular margarine or butter.

A. No. Diet margarines have greater volume and less fat and will not consistently produce desirable results in recipes designed for regular margarine or butter.

Q. My Sour Whipping Cream Cake falls after it's removed from the oven. Longer cooking makes edges hard and dark. What do you suggest?

A. It is difficult to diagnose. Several possibilities follow. The recipe may have too much liquid that doesn't evaporate during baking or the pan may be overfilled. Generally, fill a cake pan half full. To assure accuracy, determine the volume of pan by how many cups of water it will hold. Add half that much batter to prepared pan. The balance of ingredients may be wrong. For example, too much shortening. Measure carefully with correct utensils.

Q. What's the difference between mayonnaise and commercial salad dressing?

A. Mayonnaise is a mixture of eggs, oil and seasonings and has higher fat content. Salad dressing is made from a starch thickener, vinegar, eggs and sweetener. For sandwich spreads, use the two interchangeable. But in hot or cooked dishes use only mayonnaise, unless recipe was specifically developed for salad dressing.

Q. Is there a way to remove rancidity from pecans?

A. No. Once pecans or other nuts become rancid, they are spoiled and the condition cannot be reversed. Discard them. Store fresh shelled nut meats in refrigerator or freezer in airtight container for 3 months.

Q. How can I make a light, high, spongy, airy cheesecake?

A. Cheesecakes are typically dense, creamy and custard-like. A cheesecake matching your description would be made from a specially developed recipe and not by altering existing traditional cheesecake recipes.

Q. What will prevent coconut macaroons from sticking to baking sheet?

A. Cover cookie sheet with aluminum foil. Cool several minutes before removing.

Q. How can I fill cupcake papers neatly?

A. Use one of these methods: small ice-cream scoop with metal bar to help push batter out. Or soup ladle. Or a small measuring cup, carefully filled by dipping into batter.

TIP OF THE WEEK: Soften powdered sugar by sifting. Press and break remaining lumps with back of spoon.

Red Cross board meets

The Fulton county Red Cross held its board meeting November 2 at the civic Center. The Board was introduced to the new Health & Safety Services chairman, Beth Shambarger. Ms. Shambarger will be responsible for coordinating area first aid, CPR and other health related classes. Anyone interested in taking a class or becoming an instructor is encouraged to contact the Red Cross office at 223-5685.

Judy Day, Akron bloodmobile chairman, gave a detailed report of the success of the October 19th bloodmobile. She credits the combined efforts of the Rochester and Akron communities for such outstanding response. The staff from the district headquarters in Fort Wayne were so impressed by the numbers of the rarer blood types donating that a phone call accompanied the usual report, commending the group on a super job.

Soon a new program will be offered in Rochester. The program will afford the surgery patient and opportunity to donate his or her won blood for use during the operation. Red Cross will provide tow volunteers to assist in the blood collection. The volunteers will help set-up, greet donors, record data, and assist the patient through the canteen rest period. It is currently planned to offer this program one day per week. Red Cross will accept applications at the Civic Center office for interested volunteers.

Oyster Stuffing

(Makes enough to stuff a 12 lb. turkey, or to serve 10)

- 1 c. oysters (12 oz.) drained, reserve 1/4 c. liquid
- 1 c. water
- 1/2 c. margarine
- 1 1/2 c. onion, chopped
- 1 c. celery, chopped
- 8 c. dry bread cubes
- 3/4 c. chicken broth
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

In small saucepan, heat oysters in water until boiling. Reduce heat to low; simmer, covered 5 minutes or until oysters are set. Drain and chop coarsely; set aside. In large skillet, melt margarine; add onion and celery. Cook until tender. In large bowl, combine all ingredients with oysters; mix well. Stuff turkey loosely with stuffing immediately before roasting. Roast turkey as directed on wrapper. Spoon remaining stuffing into greased baking dish. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes or until hot. Refrigerate leftovers.

THORNHOLD, by Mary Stewart--A twentieth-century love story, delicate in its perception of a young woman's falling in love, delightful in its portrayal of the English countryside, and yet there is the element of peril, but also hop and happiness.

LONELINESS, by Elisabeth Elliot--As a missionary in the bush country of western Canada and as a foreigner in Ecuador, she found that those wildernesses can be lonely places. She also knows that the most civilized places may also be a wilderness of loneliness, but it can be a pathway to God.

REFINING FELICITY, by Marion Chesney--"If you have a wild, unruly, or undisciplined daughter, two ladies of genteel birth offer to bring out said daughter, and refine what may have seemed unrefinable," was the ad published by Amy & Effy Tribble; but their first assignment turned out to be quite a challenge.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a time to remember the blessings of yesterday, enjoy the blessings of today and cherish God's promises for all our tomorrows.

Thanksgiving is a season of the heart. Some celebrate every day with thanksgiving; some remember to be thankful only on this special day.

To those who have grieving hearts, whether they are mourning the loss of a loved one or suffering some hardship, Thanksgiving seems a paradox. It is a soul-searching holiday and it is difficult to find anything to be thankful for.

But everyone bears a private heartache, whether large or small, and with a few moments of contemplative thought, one finds there are many things to be thankful for.

Thanksgiving is a special time. It is a time of sharing. We share heartaches, we share joys, we share blessings and forever...we share memories.

We pause on bended knee at this Thanksgiving time and we thank God for family and friends, shelter and food, faith and love and joy, and peace in our land.

Have a blessed Thanksgiving.

Senior Citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For your meal reservations place call 893-7204 the day before between the hours of 9:00 A.M. - 12:30.

Christmas shopping forecast looks good

Consumers are expected to spend more while holiday shopping this year, a newly released survey says, but buyers may miss the best selections if they don't shop early.

The Purdue Retail Institute/Indiana Retail Council survey of Indiana retailers shows the hot items this year will be cosmetics and fragrances, compact discs/players, home furnishings and video tapes.

"Christmas can account for 25 percent to 70 percent of retail profits for the year," says Richard Feinberg, director of the Purdue University institute, "and it is also important in that it sets the tone for consumer spending for the rest of the year."

The spending outlook is good, he says, because consumer confidence in Indiana is up from the drop it took right after the stock market crash a year ago.

"Most consumers report that they will spend the same or more than last year at Christmas," Feinberg says. "The state economy is good. Personal income has continued to rise, consumer debt increased a little the last couple of months, unemployment and inflation are low."

Also, he adds, there are two more shopping days this year than there were in 1987, and the two holidays -- Christmas and New Year's -- will be sandwiched by Saturday and Monday, heavy shopping days.

"Our prediction," he says, "is that the Christmas retail season will be good, with sales increases from last year about 5 to 10 percent and profits increasing about the same."

"With inflation being about 4 percent and retail price increases about 5 percent, the real increase from last year will be small but positive, 2 to 4 percent over last year."

Grant Monahan, president of the Indiana Retail Council, says the state's retailers are expecting a "partly sunny holiday season."

"There is always a chance for rain," Monahan says, "which for merchants means unplanned floor markdowns, excess inventories and soft demand. But, generally, most people are not grabbing umbrellas."

Retailers, Feinberg says, are in a good position to profit well this Christmas, even from small sales increases over last year.

"Their experience in the last couple of years has taught them well," he says. "They have cut costs and trimmed inventories. Trimming inventories is important for two reasons:

"First, it costs retailers money to have too much merchandise for too long. By keeping inventories low, they save money."

"Second, from the consumer perspective this may mean that if they wait too long to shop this season, they may find the depth of goods and services to be weak, the longer they wait. Stores may run out of goods more quickly, and consumers who want the full range of choices should shop early."

"Consumers will find good shopping from the standpoint of value," Feinberg says. "Retailers know that consumers want value -- they know its importance, and they will try to give it."

Feinberg also says consumers will see heavy promotional efforts this season: Retailers are not going to take chances, and they will be doing special sales and heavy advertising right at and after Thanksgiving this year.

"Apparel sales, which drive retail sales activity, were slow up until the fall quarter," he says. "They then began to pick up, almost as if consumers had been saving up."

Chris Killian named prize winner

Winning a color television usually is very exciting for a youngsters but Chris Killian (pictured on the right), son of Cheryl Leiter, does not seem to be excited about the grand prize which he won for being the top salesperson in the Mentone School fundraiser campaign. Actually, Chris is excited about the television but he is also recovering from a tonsillectomy so his enthusiasm was down when the picture was taken.

DENTURE SLIPPING?

When your dentures begin to slip a little, that's the time to get some help from your dentist. The slippage may be caused by a number of things. One is bone loss. On the average, most people who wear dentures lose about two millimeters of jawbone every year. That may not sound like much, but this can cause problems, such as slippage. It can be irritating, as well as embarrassing, if your biting into a thick, juicy, tender steak and your dentures start to slip.

The loss of supporting bone is a natural result of wearing dentures. But it can be minimized. Your dentist can show you how to keep your gums healthy. He can check your dentures and adjust them so they fit better and don't put uneven pressure on the jawbone. He may have to reline them to help minimize bone loss and give you a comfortable fit.

Good dentures will not only improve your appearance, they will also help you satisfy your appetite, if they're properly fitted and checked regularly.

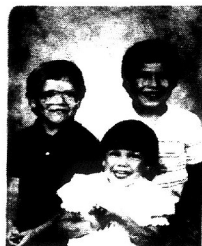

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

The Vikings built a 10-0 lead within the first 4 minutes of play. By the end of the first quarter the Vikings led 17-10 and stretched the lead to 38-18 at the halftime buzzer.

The Comets were forced into 14 turnovers and kept from getting the ball in the hoop in the first half by the Vikings.

Leading the Viking offense were senior Janet Lynch and sophomore Amy Peterson who each scored 10 points. Valley's reserves scored 25 points. Ten of the 12 players managed to score in the game.

The Vikings' junior varsity also were victorious by defeating the Comets 48-12.

Heather Lenfesty, Kerrie Cumberland and Carolee Beeson each had eight points.

DID YOU KNOW?

By Ann C. Grandjean, Ed.D.
Director of The International Center For Sports Nutrition

- Approximately 15 percent of the calories of the average American diet comes from protein. 12% is the recommended allowance level. What may be surprising to some is that proteins are not the most efficient source of energy.

- There's no evidence that extra protein intake enhances athletic performance, supplies extra energy or increases muscle mass.

- While protein is a major component of all body tissue including muscle, unneeded or extra protein is in fact stored as body fat, as are all extra calories consumed.

- If not enough carbohydrates are ingested, the body will convert protein for energy, but carbohydrates are more easily utilized.

- Only proper training increases the size of a muscle. An athlete may need to slightly increase protein intake if he or she is large enough and the training is intense enough to add one pound of pure muscle a week.

The Little Witch

Once upon a time there was a witch. Her name was Mildred. Every Halloween she went out and stole kids candy. On one Halloween she discovered she was late for Halloween, so she rushed out of the door and tried to steal candy, but she couldn't. There were no children to steal from. She went home until next Halloween.

The Witch

A long time ago there was a witch that was very old. It was hard for her to get around. She had only ten spells left. She gave me one. I said thank you. Now she is dead. Now I was sad as can be. It is hard if someone is dead you see.

My Ant City

I have an ant city. First I got a big jar and a spoon. I'm hungry! One morning on the way to school, I saw the morning newspaper. It said the school lunches were missing. I went to find clues. There were footprints in the cafeteria. They led to the refrigerator. The cook was carrying the lunches to her car. I grabbed them and gave them to the principal. Then we had lunch.

My Cat

My cat is playful. She always plays with me. Once she jumped on me. Then she played with a ball. Next she sent to sleep. When she woke up she was playful again. I went to get her play mouse and I could not find it then I went to get her ball. And then I went outside and my cat climbed the screen and I let her out. Then I went to the barn and she ran after me. Then I went back to the house. And she came with me. Then I looked for her mouse. I found it I rolled it to her. She ran after it. Then she played with her ball. She went to get some milk and then went back to sleep.

LET'S THANK THE LORD
FOR THE FACT THAT WE'RE ALIVE
We're gathered here to celebrate,
For what it may be worth,
The simple fact that on this date
We're living here on earth
Let's count the good times we have known,
And evils we've been spared,
Plus friends and loved ones who have shown
The ways in which they cared.
Though fame and fortune pass us by,
No matter how we strive,
The love of God, we can't deny,
Is keeping us alive.
And so, before we start the feast,
Let's all with one accord,
For blessings which have never ceased,
Give thanks unto the Lord.

Santa's Village Planned

A very special Santa's Village will be held on Saturday, December 3, at the Mentone School. Children, ages 3 through 15, will be able to do their Christmas shopping early with help from Santa's helpers, while their parents relax and enjoy a hot cut of coffee. Gifts will range in price from 25 cents to $6.00.

For further information about any of these projects call 353-7428 or 353-7804.

A Matter Of The Heart

Since the United States is "The Melting Pot of Nations" it therefore also becomes the melting pot of many different Christmas customs from many nations. The United States still has its own American-made Christmas traditions, however.

If we were isolated somewhere with no decorations, no carols, no trimmed trees, or no festive meals -- still we could keep Christmas -- because Christmas is a matter of the heart!

Over 90,000 delinquent FmHA borrowers nationwide and approximately 2000 in the state will be receiving notices that could save their farms if they respond within the 45 day deadline.

The first step for farmers to get their rights under this law and save their farms is to open their certified notice, contact local hotline numbers (1-800-548-9321) for assistance, and complete all the forms within the 45 day deadline.

Farmers Legal Action Group's (FLAG's) successful challenge of FmHA's illegal practices stopped most FmHA farm foreclosures since May 1987. Under the new Agricultural Credit Act, FmHA must start notifying borrowers of their new rights including the right to restructure farm debt.

"Your notice is the signal to use or lose your new rights under the law. Finally, in 1988 FmHA is required to restructure farm debt rather than foreclose if it saves the Federal Government money. This saves our family farms, our rural communities and makes common sense," stated Helen Waller, National Save the Family Farm Coalition.

"FmHA has repeatedly sent the message to Congress and the press that most farmers won't make it through the debt restructuring process. FmHA estimates from May are being used to discourage borrowers from applying in November. Farmers worked hard to change the proposed regulations which could change the practices of FmHA offices around the country," stated Benny Bunting, N.C. farmer and Co-Chair of the NSFCC Credit Committee.

Congress passed the Agricultural Credit Act by overwhelming votes in December 1987 to help farmers through the ongoing credit crisis facing rural America. Northern Indiana Farm Task Force, Inc. (NIFTF), a member of the National Save the Family Farm Coalition (NSFFC) in cooperation with groups in 30 states worked to pass these critically needed credit reforms and borrowers' rights in the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987.

"When farmers get these notices the week before Thanksgiving, I'm sure they will ask themselves why the 45 day deadline over the holidays is so important when the FmHA hasn't taken any action against them for years. However, ignoring this notice could cost you your farm," commented Susan Bright, Indiana farmer - Co-Chair, of the NSFFC Credit Committee.

When The Fur Flies Over The Fir Tree

(Choosing "The" Christmas Tree)

Many of you put up your Christmas tree the day after Thanksgiving, others will wait. However, for those of you who still have this chore to look forward to, A New Beginning is going to guide you through choosing the ideal tree, through decorating it, enjoying it and taking the tree down during the month of December. The week of Christmas has been reserved for my Christmas story, but read along and see if any of these articles seem familiar and give you laugh along the way.

The ideal Christmas tree has to be the bushiest, tallest and most extravagant tree on the lot. No reasonable five foot tree like your parents had, you will have a seven foot tree or else. The reason your parents had a smaller tree soon becomes apparent as you load this monstrous fir tree in your trunk and have to tie it down because it is too large. That's just the beginning. Upon arrival home and finally lugging it up the steps and through a door that wasn't nearly wide enough, you see the top of the fir, it brushes against the ceiling, obviously needing to be cut. So...you struggle taking the fir out the too narrow doorway once again to saw off the end of the trunk. While freezing in sub-zero weather and trying hard not to break branches, the job is finally accomplished. And...you guessed it...you have to go through that doorway ONE MORE TIME. As your mate holds the tree straight, with the branches stuck in her hair and face, you realize that your 7' tree has become a 6 1/2' tree. Never mind, though, your job isn't done yet.

As you slip the tree stand onto the trunk, you realize the stand is too small. (Your fur is ruffling!) The tree makes one more trip to the outside to have the trunk trimmed to fit the stand. After returning through the narrow doorway and placing the stand on the trunk, you discover the trunk has been trimmed to look like a sharpened pencil and will not stand erect in the tree stand. (Your fur is ruffled again.)

Never fear, a trip to the hardware for a larger tree stand was the answer. Of course, you realize, the end of the tree has to be trimmed again so it will be flat for the new stand. So, out you go for another saw job on the trunk! Once inside with the new tree stand on the trunk, you ask for the last screw to make it secure. You shake the box - no noise. You even tear open the box - no screw! Well, to the hardware again! (At this point the fir as well as the fur is going to fly!)

At last, the tree - now 5 1/2' tall - is placed. You stand back and say something like this, "Hold the tree, dear. I'll adjust the screws. It seems a little crooked." Need I say, the screws being adjusted didn't help. The trunk was shaped like an "S". One last trip with a saw in one hand and a noticeable twitch I'd never seen before, and the tree was sawed off past the crooked part of the trunk. For the last time it was brought through the too narrow doorway.

There it is! Your 4' Christmas tree with broken branches, a bare spot on one side you swore wasn't there when you bought it propped up with a catalog under one leg of the tree stand!

Now the next step - decorating the tree!

Veterans Post by Freddy Groves

Five years ago the American Legion commissioned a New York based husband and wife team to study the effects of combat and non combat on veterans of the Vietnam War.

The study done by Steven Stellman and Jeanne Mager Stellman was released last month and it conclusively proves that the government was wrong when it denied that veterans who saw combat duty suffered deeper and more long lasting health problems than veterans who were either in non combat situations, or who saw limited combat.

Making Your Taxes Less Taxing

Be Prepared by Ken Milani, University of Notre Dame.

November is a month that features a lot of "i-words" (e.g., touchdowns, tip-ins, turkey, and Thanksgiving). Another important topic, TAXES, usually doesn't surface until late in the year or, more likely, in January and February. However, now might be a good time to do something about your 1988 tax return. Here are a few actions you might consider:

Take some time getting prepared. Find and look at last year's return, this can open several areas of thought such as the gain or loss of a dependent or a significant shift of income or deductions.

Accumulate and organize the data you'll need. Information you should be gathering would include income information (e.g., payroll summaries, interest, dividends), expenditure date (e.g., medical payments, property tax receipts, interest paid, charitable contributions) and other documentation that might have tax implications such as property contributions made to a charity or travel involved to receive medical care.

Xamine your life since January, 1988, with a specific view to tax ramifications. For example, did your church sponsor a special fund raiser during 1988? If so what was the nature of your contribution--time, talent and/or "treasure"? Did you redeem U.S. Savings Bonds to pay for an emergency expense or to complete a remodeling project? A look at a calendar or going through your checkbook register can help jog your memory.

Expect to spend more than one session in pulling much of this information together. More often than not, missing information can cost you money when it comes to filing whatever version of the 1040 you use. Investing some time to procure the needed information may lead to a more healthy refund or a smaller check to "Uncle Sam".

Seek out advice and help from reputable and reliable sources. There are several books and manuals available in addition to the help provided by the Internal Revenue Service and/or paid preparers.

*This column is a collaborative effort of the Internal Revenue Service and the University of Notre Dame-St. Mary's College Tax Assistance Program.

A Matter Of The Heart

Since the United States is "The Melting Pot of Nations" it therefore also becomes the melting pot of many different Christmas customs from many nations. The United States still has its own American-made Christmas traditions, however.

If we were isolated somewhere with no decorations, no carols, no trimmed trees, or no festive meals -- still we could keep Christmas -- because Christmas is a matter of the heart!

The Choral Society performs annually in December.

General admission for the concert is $3.

WHATEVER YOUR CREED, IT'S THE TIME OF HOLIDAY JOY

No matter what holiday you observe, December is holiday time. Whether you are of the Christian or Jewish faith, this is the season of joyful celebration, parties, gift-giving and decorating the home. In some years, Christmas and Chanukah coincide, but this year Chanukah comes very early in the month. Whenever your chosen holiday occurs, you should remember that this is the season of love; of developing patience in crowded stores and traffic jams, of mending quarrels and of showing a little more kindness toward everyone you meet. If you attend the services at your House of Worship, you will be reminded of all this. You will learn that at this festive season, as at all other times, the only true happiness comes from the heart; and that it is through your faith that you learn to achieve it.

After many hours of hard work, Terry Foreman and Dave Henson have opened the doors of The Winning Edge for business. The store was open for the Akron Christmas Open House but closed during last week to finish stocking inventory. The store is now ready to serve the Tippecanoe Valley area with all of its sport needs. 4-H NEWS

The American Heritage Dictionary defines a volunteer as "a person who renders aid, performs a service, or assumes an obligation voluntarily." Karen Lowry, 4-H youth agent, views 4-H volunteers as this and a whole lot more. Not only do 4-H volunteers render aid, perform a service, or assume an obligation, but they are the backbone of the 4-H program's youth development activities.

The 4-H volunteers that work year round on youth development activities are the county 4-H leaders.

Volunteer 4-H leaders guide and direct 4-H club work, assist in and organize fair week activities and advise on and plan the development of new 4-H programming. In recognition of the countless hours and resources provided by volunteer 4-H leaders, the Kosciusko County 4-H leaders will be honored at an annual banquet. The 1988 Volunteer 4-H Leaders' Recognition Banquet will be held on Thursday, December 1 at 6:30 p.m. at the Shrine Building. This banquet is a time when our non-salaried staff can be thanked for the tremendous contributions they make to our 4-H program.

Tractor testing clinic planned

Keith Boller, Extension Agent has scheduled The Black Smoke Express, an all-day tractor testing clinic to be held at Fulton Co. Fairgrounds in Rochester on Wednesday, December 7, 1988 from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. The tractor testing clinic is offered to local farmers by the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service. Bill Campbell, Extension Machinery Specialist, will be performing test on locally owned tractors with a PTO dynamometer to uncover methods of improving the efficiency of the tractors. The results of the tests will be compared with the Nebraska Tractor Test report for each model of tractor tested.

The importance of basic maintenance procedures will be stressed during the testing. There will be an opportunity for farmers to bring new air and fuel filters to the test site so their tractor may be retested after filter replacement to show the effects of operating a tractor with clogged filters.

Following the all-day testing clinic, a program summarizing the findings for the clinic and discussing methods of maximizing the efficiency of agricultural tractors and combines will be offered at 7:30 P.M. at 4-

H Community Building, Rochester. Topics including tractor weighting, tire selection, maintenance, shift-up and throttle back for light loads, and the selection of two wheel drive vs. front wheel assist vs. four wheel drive tractors. All area farmers are invited to attend the program to discuss the results of the days testing.

If you are interested in having your tractor tested or would like further information on the program, contact Keith Boller, Fulton County Extension Agent at phone # 223-3397.

Gigantic Christmas Trees

Those gigantic Christmas trees put up in some big cities are not always just one tree but rather several smaller trees put together to make one big tree. How do they decorate those huge trees? One year a 212-foot Douglas fir in Seattle, Washington, towered so high into the sky that the decorations were hung from a platform on a helicopter while way down below the throngs sang Christmas carols to herald the tree of 3,500 lights.

Huge live oak trees have been decorated with thousands of lights and tons of Spanish moss adorning them.

Southern California is not to be outdone; even though snow is lacking, the Joshua tree is strung with colored lights.

Creative Writings

These are stories written by second and first grade students from Akron, Burket and Mentone. There were written using a word processor and Apple Computer.

My Holiday

If I could invent a new holiday, I would choose to celebrate Dinosaur Day. The colors are green, red, and yellow. The Dinosaur Day parade is called the Dinoparde. The symbol is a dinosaur head. I like fierce Tyrannosaurus Rex. I think he is neat. Do you like Tyrannosaurus Rex? I like him. He is very, very bad. We could play pin-the-head on the dinosaur. It would be very, very fun. It is a very, very good game. I would like to play it sometime. If I had a dinosaur it would be a stegosaurus. I would name it Dusty. I think it would be a good name. I like that very, very much. If I had a dinosaur it would be eleven years old by now. I think if I had a dinosaur it would be very, very good for me. A tail would represent my holiday.

Jay Bazini, Mentone

My Holiday

If I could invent a new holiday it would be Dinosaur Day. And I could see dinosaurs. I would have fun. I could climb mountains. I would ride a brontosaurus and fight tyrannosaurus rex. I could invite people. My symbols would be dinosaurs. Dinosaurs are black and brown and green.

Brad Miller, Mentone

My Magic Seed

I planted a magic seed. One day it rained a little then the sun came out. My seed started to grow. Then the next day it turned into a doll.

Amy Jo Holbrook, Mentone

My Magic Seed

I planted a magic seed. I want it to grow black jelly beans. I would eat them. I would let my friends have some. Do you like black jelly beans?

Hope Moser, Mentone

My New Holiday

Once upon a time I made a new holiday. I call my holiday Snow Day. On Snow Day we went outside. We dig in the snow. I loved Snow Day and everyone loved Snow Day. Even the animals came to play with us. The deer, the birds, the cats, the dogs, even the badgers came to play with us. They did not hurt us.

Tiffany Norris,
Mentone

New Holiday

Once upon a time I made a new holiday. It's called Pumpkin Day. Pumpkin Day sounds fun. Pumpkin Day has pumpkins in it. On Pumpkin Day we can roast the pumpkin seeds and we have fun. I had fun there today. On Pumpkin Day we can swim too. But make sure you have floats on before you go in the water. If you knew how to swim you don't have to wear floats.

A Teacher Went Trick Or Treating

One day a teacher went trick or treating. She wanted to be a witch, but she also wanted to soap windows. She knew it was bad to soap so she did not do it. Tonight was HALLOWEEN night so she put her costume on. She went to a haunted house. She went to a haunted house. She said, "Trick or treat, smell my feet. Give me something to eat!" The ghost gave her a Twix, and then he pulled her in and spanked her. The goblins and aliens all laughed at her, and the teacher never wanted to go trick or treating again.

Jill Weaver leads ladies fellowship

The Women's Fellowship of the Church of the Brethren met at the church for the November meeting. Kay Brouette led the devotions. "Overcoming Walls" was her topic, some of the walls she mentioned were economic injustice, prejudice, and selfishness.

Items of business were discussed by Jill Weaver, president. Christine Tinkey will be filling the position of vice president for the coming year. A silent auction of Christmas craft items was held.

Christine Tinkey served as hostess and gave each lady a kit of counted cross stitch and instructed the ladies on how to do the craft. Refreshments were served for the eleven members keeping with the autumn theme.
