A graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, she is the daughter of James M. and Linda L. Oden, Rt. 1 Box 9, Mentone.

Akron Scouts selling popcorn

Akron Pack 3245 and Troop 245 are now selling popcorn. This is the Scouts' biggest fund raiser for the year. The money earned from this project helps pay the boys' ways to Scout Summer Camp. For the first 24 boxes or buckets that each boy sells he gets a $15 certificate and 50 cents for every box over that. An additional amount goes into the pack and troop funds to buy the boys awards and help pay for their banquets for the year. If a scout misses calling on you and you would like to order, please call 893-4534 and we will get your order in. Thank you for your support.

Scouting for food

Since last year was such a big success the Scouts will once again have their Scouting for Food Drive. Last November we collected enough food to feed about 53 families for the holidays. It was such a good feeling for the boys to see the smiles on people's faces and the tears in their eyes just knowing that someone had thought of them. November 11 Scouts will hang plastic bags, donated by Sonoco products, on each door in town and will be back to pick them up on November 18. The instructions will be printed on each bag. Please help us to make Scouting for Food another big success in 1989 and thanks for all the support of the community in 1988.

Second grade entertained at library

The Akron second graders and their teachers, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. Good and Mrs. Morgan, were entertained with a puppet show on Wednesday afternoon at the Akron Carnegie Public Library. The children received the special party for having a larger percentage of their members reading in the Summer Reading Club than any other of the grades.

The puppeteers from the Macy Christian Church presented the program. Each child received a box of crackerjack for the refreshments.

Friendship Circle of Akron

The Friendship Circle of the Akron Methodist Church met Tuesday, October 24 at the church. Guests included the Suzanne Wesley Circle and friends.

The program was given by Marcia Meredith Morris of LaPorte, and featured slides and commentary about the history of quilts. A display featuring 32 quilts included 100 year old quilts along with modern designs. Twenty-eight people attended.

The Tippecanoe Valley Drama Club will present
"Dracula" on Thursday, Nov. 2 at 7:30 and Local student to perform in Bluffton College production

Phil King, a graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, has been chosen to play the part of Don Gonzalo in the Bluffton College production of "A Sunny Morning."

King, a senior at Bluffton College, is a math education major and has also participated in football.

He is the son of Darrell and Mary Ann King of Mentone.

"A Sunny Morning" is a one-act play with a cast of four. Two different casts of students will perform, one in English, the other in Spanish, on each night of the production.

Gene Caskey, assistant professor of speech, is working with Victoria Smith, assistant professor of Spanish, to direct the production.

Red Ribbon week celebrated at Akron School

The students and staff at Akron School celebrated National Red Ribbon Week during the week of October 22-29. The Red Ribbon Campaign originated in 1985 when a federal agent was murdered by drug traffickers. The red ribbon became the symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages in Iran.

The theme for this year's campaign is "My Choice...Drug Free." The red ribbon symbolizes "a commitment to a drug-free, healthy lifestyle...no use of any illegal drug and no abuse of a legal drug." The campaign is sponsored by the National Federation of Parents. The goal of the Red Ribbon Campaign is to "present a unified and visible commitment toward the creation of a drug-free America."

During Red Ribbon Week, students in grades K-2 participated in a poster contest using the theme "Say No to Drugs." The theme for students in grades 3-5 was "Being Me and Drug Free" while seventh and eighth grade students created posters with the theme of "My Choice...Drug Free."

On Monday, October 23, all students and staff were given red ribbons to wear during Red Ribbon Week. On Tuesday, October 24, everyone was encouraged to wear red clothing. "My Choice...Drug Free" buttons were distributed to all students and staff on Wednesday, October 25, while the poster contest winners were also announced. Poster contest winners were presented with "My Choice...Drug Free" t-shirts.

Red Ribbon Week served as an excellent opportunity to increase everyone's awareness about the drug problems facing our world today and to support drug-free healthy lifestyles.

"Being Me and Drug Free"

"Being Me and Drug Free" was the theme for our "Give a Hoot Tree" during the week students in our classroom participated in a poster contest, wore red ribbons, held classroom discussions "My Choice to be Drug Free" and colored and made owl puppets.

The Sad Part About Trading Cars

This article will probably hit home with the ladies and not the men. As a matter of fact, the men will probably wonder what is the matter with me. Well, they won't understand, like us women, about trading in an old car for a brand new one and the anguish we go through doing it. Let me explain.

Most of the time, we purchase a car that we like...maybe because it is a special color, maybe it is one we have always wanted, perhaps it had interior we loved, or perhaps it was an economical model that helped us get through the tough times. No matter what the reason, we usually like the cars we buy. Then, over the years, the cars perform in ways that make us feel grateful we chose them. I guess that's why, when it is time to trade them in for a new car, we feel almost guilty.

We bought an '81 Ford Escort in 1981. It was much smaller than the one we traded, but the bucket seats felt just right when you sat in them. It had lots of chrome, lots of extras, but no air conditioning. It also had front wheel drive that we wondered if we would like. The hatchback was convenient for groceries and a rear defroster was something to behold. A nifty little car indeed, and, economical to boot!

As winter approached, our first concern was, "Will it get us to work and back thru the snow?" We didn't need to wonder long. One winter was really something; we were snowed in every weekend four times in a row, but I never got stuck in the Escort. I had a narrow escape at the end of Division Road going home when I no longer could go forward because I was up to my bumper in snow - however, I backed up out of the drift and turned around, enabling me to get to another road and get home. People mentioned how shocked they were to see us driving around in snow like that with no trouble. I wasn't shocked; it was the Escort.

The Escort has been there to help out. When we needed to stretch the gas money, we drove the Escort. When we felt like teaching the kids how to shift using a standard shift, we drove the Escort. When we needed to load something that was too big for the trunk of an average size car, we laid the back seat down, opened the hatch and used the Escort.

Talking about a car giving it's all, the Escort certainly has. Already having accumulated a lot of years, she still made a good first car for our son and will probably be a first car for our second son. That probably is the hardest thing on a car, anyway (I know it's hard on the parents!) Like the old commercial says, "It takes a licking and keeps on ticking."

We have no plans to trade the Escort yet, although we can see the time approaching. However, I dread having a salesperson point out the fact that "this car isn't worth anything anymore." My heart aches to think of no gratitude shown for a car that has truly been through the mill with its one and only owner. But the hardest part will be leaving the lot with another car, knowing our Escort will be made ready for scrap.

If it were possible, I would shine up the car, encase it in glass with the following plaque: "Here lies the Escort. She made it through years and years of faithful service, two kids, bitter weather and the usual brake repairs, adjustments and even one fire! We can honestly say, she's given her all."

Akron-Hi-Times: Shirley Howard and Foster Alspaugh last Sunday night. Say, I thought it was McHatton, Foster. Hold on Shirl.

June Slaybaugh and Charles Hattery of North Manchester College spent Saturday evening at Rochester.

Last Friday the Freshies went through the horrors of horror, initiation. After a trip through the castle of Haggie, Wicked Witch of the West, where they had their arms cut off, walked the plank, and were thrown into the fiery furnace, among other things, they were taken to the gym. Some of the things that happened were: "Fuzzy" Young had to count a pint jar of rice ringing the gong at every tenth grain; Lee Filson and June Hayden wrote love notes back and forth all evening; Earl Rogers combed Jean Kinder's hair (she says he pulled it); Jack Lukens and Betty Niblick ate ten crackers apiece, then whistled the school song and held a marathon around the gym; Mr. Mathiesen judged Leon Bidwell as a hog and gave him the blue ribbon; and Miss Dust composed a History poem and read it. For the benefit of those who weren't there, here it is: History is the subject students like best. Because they have time to talk and time to rest. Then there's outlining - that's a treat. All about Caesar and his fleet, of Course there's Columbus-he's a bore. Especially when you're a lazy sophomore.

OCTOBER 21, 1959
30 YEARS AGO

A son weighing six pounds, seven ounces, was born this week to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Rovenstine of Atwood. The mother is the former Sandra Witham.

Mrs. Maurice Rogers was pleasantly surprised Sunday for her birthday with a carry-in dinner. Guests were Mrs. Bertha Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Alber, Billy and Rickey Rogers and Mrs. Lena Barkman called in the afternoon. Mrs. Rogers received many lovely gifts.

Miss Diane Creakbaum, of Mentone was named historian of the new county unit of the Hairdresser's Association, at the organization meeting held recently at Warsaw.

The Mentone people who were in Wyoming deer hunting last week all bagged their animals. Eleven hunters-eleven deer. (Mrs. Utter and Mrs. Herendeen did not buy licenses or hunt). Mr. and Mrs. Harold Utter drove in their station wagon, and others took a pickup as a means of bringing back the game, while Dr. Wilson and Allen Herendeen used their airplanes. Herendeen left Mentone about an hour before daylight Oct. 10 and was in Ten Sleep, Wyoming that afternoon. Those in the hunting group were Dr. and Mrs. Wilson (and she bagged the first deer), Mr. and Mrs. Harold Utter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Herendeen, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sinclair, all of Mentone, Max Harris and Wilbur Wilson of Huntington, Joe Wolf of Eaton, Ohio, Fred Hathaway of Pierceton, and Norman Drudge of Warsaw.

Mentone shared in the limelight at the 26th annual meeting of the Indiana Restaurant Association last Thursday evening when Don Wentzel represented Indiana with Indiana duck (from Mentone). Mr. Wentzel supplied the duck for the banquet of 300 Indiana restaurant operators at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis. Three other states were likewise represented on the menu: Alaska with King Crabmeat, California with wines, and Hawaii with Papaya slices. If you find duck on the menu at restaurants in Indiana, you can be safe in assuming that the birds have been reared or distributed through Mr. Wentzel's organization.

Roger Nellans, a 16-year old high school student from Beaver Dam, won the reserve grand championship of the junior division with a 1,020 pound Angus at the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City, Mo., last week. He is a member of the Beaver Dam 4-H club.

Seward Home Extension Club met Wednesday, October 11 in the social room of the Burket United Methodist Church. President Mary Rose read the poem "Autumn Quilt" and led the group in pledge to the American and Christian flags and the club creed. Meditation was given by Bonnie Irwin. Eva Eherenman led the singing of the song of the month, "We're Here/ For Fun". Garden remarks were given by Irene Miller; Health and Safety by Elaine Rose; Citizenship by Merdena Bechtol; Cultural Arts by Darlene Arnold.

A lesson on "Scarves and Accessories" was given by Mrs. Arnold.

Roll call "Childhood Memory of Church" was answered by thirteen members. President Mary Rose reported the County Club meeting will be September 20 and Fall luncheon November 1. The group repeated the club collect and Irene Miller conducted an auction. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Rose.

The next meeting will be in the social room of the Burket United Methodist Church November 8 with Elaine Rhodes as hostess.

Anthony Nigo Chapter

A delicious buffet supper preceded the October 10 meeting of Anthony Nigo Chapter, NSDAR at Teel's Restaurant in Mentone. Hostess was the Tippecanoe Chapter of Bourbon. Guests also were the Wythougan Chapter of Plymouth who are in the process of joining the Bourbon Chapter. The tables were beautifully decorated with a fall theme. Thirty-four members and guest introduced themselves.

Mrs. Charlotte Slaybaugh, acting regent from Bourbon, conducted the opening ritual pledge to the flag of our country and the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Florence Filed introduced the program, Mrs. John P. Garland of Peru who is State Vice Regent. She gave a combined talk on National Defense, the preserving of the Constitution, and "Chapter Merging" information on the importance of the merging of chapters instead of the dissolving of a chapter. Daughters are urged to not support the convening of a Constitution Convention, only to the adding of amendments through the standard legal process. Through the years the need for a new constitution has cropped up through different organizations. These organizations stress rule through government not by people.

A balanced budget amendment should be accomplished through regular channels, not at the destruction of the Constitution as its stand today. Keep our Constitution intact, protect and defend if necessary.

Mrs. Garland pointed out that Bourbon and Plymouth will be the first chapters to merge in Indiana. It is better for all concerned. By merging, the history of each chapter will be better preserved.

In closing, the Americans Creed was repeated in unison.

Next meeting for Anthony Nigo Chapter will be at Timbercrest Home on Saturday November 11 at 12:30. Members not already turning in reservations should contact Mrs. Cara Tucker before November 3.

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IN MIRACLES, READ THIS TRUE STORY

A woman, shopping on her lunch hour, noticed that she was running late. At the supermarket, her last stop, she put the groceries in her car, left the shopping cart in the parking lot and drove back to the office. Then she realized that her purse was missing. She ran out to the car. No purse. She raced back to the market, saying every prayer she had ever learned. There were vehicles parked all around where she had left the cart a half hour before. Not only was the cart still there, her purse was still in it; on the top shelf, visible to the world. Nothing, including money, checkbook, insurance card, etc., had been touched. At her House of Worship, she thanked the Lord for forgiving her carelessness and surrounding her property with the most honest (or unobservant) people He could find.

Plastics & You

Here's news to smile about. A thin plastic coating has been developed that can be applied to children's teeth and acts as a sealant to protect niches and grooves from decay. Dental scientists predict it will eventually eliminate tooth decay.

Unmanned balloons made of thin plastic film allow scientists to collect data from as high as 130,000 feet. Scientists report that the plastic helps balloons fly through the coldest part of the earth's atmosphere to study everything from ozone depletion to cosmic particles.

The lightest solar racing car in the world is believed to be the Solectria V. It's made from a lightweight, reinforced plastic, weighs a mere 340 pounds and can travel more than 70 miles an hour!

Burket Sunshine Box

At Burket School not too many chances come along for the whole school to show how much they really care about fellow students and their families. Recently a family with three children attending the school were involved in a car accident. The entire Arthur Yates family was injured, some worse than others. The small school decided that they would make a Sunshine Box filled with food and other products to lessen the burden on the family. The response from students and their families was overwhelming. Pictured above are students showing the collection so far for their Sunshine Box to be delivered to the Yates family.

Nostalgic trains bring Christmas in Indiana

The 40th Annual Original Christmas Gift and Hobby Show opens Saturday, November 11, at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Expo Hall. The theme for this year's show is trains. A very special display is being provided by Watts Tree Farm, and Hooks Drug Stores will decorate their eye-catching tree in a very different way using trains.

Visitors can shop at over 260 booths that offer bargains on gifts and Christmas items from around the world. Exciting gifts from homemade crafts to the latest technology will be available.

On center stage there will be educational seminars and craft demonstrations, including glass etching, painting, shirt decorating, cake decorating, hand-made crafts and many more.

The entertainment is non-stop, too, with the Circle City Sidewalk Stompers Clown Band and many other enjoyable entertainers.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will be there with free gifts for the children and will be available for photographs.

The Christmas trees at the entrances will be decorated by George Thomas Florist and Gifts, and there will be other trees decorated by the Madison Avenue Flower Shop and Wells Flower and Gift House. The center stage will be decorated with animated characters provided by Lanman Flower Shops.

This 40 year tradition continues in grand style with the 1989 show, and more than lives up to its reputation as the World's Largest Pre-Christmas Show and Sale. The famous red carpeting is new this year. Parking is free and lighted and every detail of the show is first-class.

This will be a truly memorable event for all ages.

At Gettysburg, at San Juan Hill,
In Flanders Fields now all is still,
But men still drill and march away,
Like you who made Memorial Day.

In Normandy, and on Bataan,
At Inchon, Khe Sanh, and in Iran,
Selflessly the need you met,
And now we know we must not forget.

Those who fought and those who fell,
To hear the bell of freedom knell,
We crouch beside your graves today;
These wreaths of vernal buds to lay.

And to you who died for freedom's sake,
A pledge to carry on we make,
The torch that you so bravely bore
Shall be our beacon evermore.

We pray that by its guiding light
We'll find our course and hold it right.
We hope it may throughout the years
Bring an end to blood and tears.

For we're a nation proud and free,
And sometimes it is hard to see
Where friendship for our cause abides
And where a foe of freedom hides.

You have found peace while we still weep
And wait for charges we must keep.
There'll be no peace until we find
A way that just for all mankind.

This poem was written by William J. Acker, at the age of 91. Mr. Acker served under Gen. Pershing during W.W.II.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

He's A Meatcutter... Not A Butcher

After Doug and I married, people would ask, "What does your husband do for a living?" I would reply, "He's a meatcutter." Inevitably they would say, "Oh, a butcher."

Believe me there's a difference. After giving serious thought to exactly how we became confused into believing a butcher and a meatcutter were the same, I came up with a logical explanation. (You have to remember, I wouldn't know where to begin carving - somewhere before the tail and after the horns!)

Many years ago, when people would visit the butcher shop for their meat, the person behind the counter would be the butcher and meatcutter. However, as the years have passed, the job has become more divided. The butcher is the person who kills the animal and then prepares it for shipping to stores in halves and quarters for the meatcutters to break down into the cuts of meat sold in packages as we know it. With the exception of locker plants where the butcher also cuts the meat, the two professions are usually separate. Hence, the confusion.

I believe the first thing taught in school to each of the meatcutters-to-be is "You are not a butcher." The first time I made the mistake of introducing Doug as a butcher when we were engaged, he came up for air and promptly explained the difference to me. And, rightly so. I can't say I envy either profession, but I certainly have a lot of respect for them both. Just think about it.

The next time you're driving down the road and you see a cow standing in the pasture grazing, see if you can decide where the T-bone steak would come from. How would you decide what is made up into hamburger? Do you realize in order to have one cut of meat you have to ruin another so sometimes you must make a choice between the two? There also is to be a certain amount of fat left on the meat, but not too much. Do you know the difference? The list goes on and on and on. Like I say, I wouldn't have any idea where to begin, although I figured the horns were where you started and the tail was where you stopped. Some tell me even this isn't the limit!

Meatcutting isn't only limited to beef, it includes hogs, poultry, lamb, etc. An occasional deer has been cut by many a person which would be along the same lines as a beef, I would imagine, but have you noticed the saws and knives in a meat department? There are several steps in getting the meat ready for us to take home and it's amazing to watch these people do their jobs.

Yes, there is a definite advantage to being married to a meatcutter. He knows a good cut of meat so I don't have to worry about choosing my own like most people. He also can make a special cut, if notified ahead of time and takes note of other meat counters if we stop in at another store to pick up an item. Besides, I'm convinced the best meatcutter is a person who enjoys eating meat...they can see the meat they are cutting as the end product being taken from the oven.

One more advantage for the wife...there's never a dull knife in the kitchen!

FOR MEN ONLY - Hey, fellas, did you ever go on a date undecided on what to do and asked the "little woman" what she would enjoy? Your answer was most likely, "I don't care" or "it makes no difference". Then you are left to make up your mind what to do. You do the wrong thing. The "little woman" is bored. You have been "victim of circumstances". Now's your chance to let them do the deciding! Why not have a WPA (woman pay all) week and let them make the dates and take over all gentlemanly etiquette which should be shown on a date? If this plan interests you, we will declare the week of November 6-11 WPA week. Ed wants us to include Rochester too!! SHORE, Ed, glad to. P.S. You "lucky???" guys with "steadies" are included, too. Don't miss the fun!!

A small tornado descended on the Hi Mollenhour farm south of town about 7:00 Friday morning and destroyed four huge barn doors. The doors were run off the tracks and the tracks damaged beyond repair. Mr. and Mrs. Mollenhour suffered a much greater loss by windstorm seven years ago on the 13th of March. At that time the barn and several other buildings near there were destroyed, but the house was untouched.

3000 buns and 500 lbs of beef were consumed by the mob that filled the streets of Mentone Saturday night to celebrate All Hallows Eve. Festivities began at 8:00 o'clock with the parade of masqueraders which ended at the platform in front of the old hardware building. Prizes were awarded to a group from Mentone high school for the best group of entertainers. Mr. Harvey Elliott and son of Tippecanoe took the prize for best entertainers in a small group. The best character was Mary Ellen Paxton who was masked as a witch. The youngest person masked was Danny Barrett of Tippecanoe and the oldest, Mabel Warren. Prize for the largest family masked went to the Wm. Schooley family. The judges were L. A. Rickel, Babe Snyder and Fred Besson. A set of square dancers went on exhibition immediately after the prizes were awarded and dancing progressed throughout the evening. A large bingo stand was going full force on the inside of the building where the bar-b-q was served. The Mentone Lions Club, assisted by a group of thirty businessmen, business organizations and enterprising individuals in the community were responsible for the fine event.

The following girls enjoyed a weiner roast on the banks of the Tippecanoe River Tuesday night: Betty Lyon, Judy Busenburg, Mary Rush, Frances Marshall, Mary Mollenhour, Bobby Mollenhour, Ann Sierk, Wretha McFaren, Ruth Templin, and Louise Pauls.

Samuel N. Norris, Mentone, has just reported one of the highest corn yields produced in the state of Indiana. Norris' official yield of 116.22 bushels of corn per acre is expected not only to place him high in the county and state, but near the top of the entire nation as well. His crop produced as much corn from 5 acres as the average farmer in the United States harvests from 14 and is one of the largest yields reported to date.

Wrapping your heart in sorrow, A garment too somber to wear!

Faith has a brighter color, Hope has a rainbow hue.

And trust links them both together, In a background of heavenly blue.

It will penetrate every shadow, And shine through the darkest night.

God will take care of tomorrow, With Him each tomorrow must rest,

And we hold this a sure conviction, When we give each today our best!

TO THE VERTERANS WHO HAVE FOUGHT TO DEFEND OUR FREEDOM:

You have "fought a good fight," as the Bible conveys.

When you served in some faraway land;
And for that we extend you the highest of praise.

For your valor in being on hand.
You were putting your lives on the line every day,

Till the time when at last you returned;
And we owe you a debt we can never repay
With the honor and help you have earned.
So we welcomed you home with all gratitude
due,

For your efforts were never in vain;
Giving thanks to the Lord for such heroes as you,

And the freedom you fought to maintain.

BOTTLE DISPLAY at Akron Library

A bottle collection is on display at the Akron Carnegie Public Library. The collection was loaned to the Library by Sharon Floor Ritchie.

This collection features some very old bottles. Some, washed ashore from shipwrecks, are thought to date back to the 1600's. There are some scroll flasks that are from 1800-1870. There is an onion wine bottle which is thought to be before 1600. Among the collection is a medicine bottle from Scott's Drug Store in Akron. Also, included is a very unusual teardrop bottle which was made 1700-1860. Many other interesting bottles are included in the collection which can be seen at the Akron Carnegie Library.

Fulton County Big Brothers and Big Sisters Program

The Fulton County Big Brothers and Big Sisters program is desperately seeking adult volunteers in the Akron area.

The program has much to offer for the adult as well as the child.

Many boys and girls are growing up in the Fulton County area longing for the special kind of friendship, example, and help you can give.

It is not important how much time you spend together or what you do. What is important is just being together on a regular basis, so that the child will know he has a reliable friend who cares about him, and on whom he can depend.

It's easier than you think. The time and activities required are very flexible. Once a week, you and the child spend some mutually convenient time together. You may have dinner, wash a car, go bowling, bake a cake, work with tools, throw a ball around, just talk, or do anything else in which both of you are interested.

It will be end of loneliness and isolation. He/she will have a good friend to trust and rely on. He/she will have a model whose values he/she can emulate.

The agency is available to speak at clubs, meetings, etc. to explain more about the program.

If anyone is interested in being on the Board of Directors, attending a meeting. They would be glad to have you.

The next meeting will be November 28 in 7:00 p.m. in Rochester 344 E. 18th. Right next door to Rochester Nursing Home. If you have any questions call 223-5329 or Frances Utter at 893-7179.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The Henry Township Union Thanksgiving Service will be held this Sunday evening at the Olive Branch Church of God at 7:00 p.m. Rev. O. G. Davis, pastor at the Olive Bethel Church of God, will bring a special Thanksgiving message and Rev. Matthew Williams will direct the singing. Special music will also be provided by local churches.

Participating churches include the Akron Church of The Brethren, Akron Church of God, Akron United Methodist Church, Beaver Dam U.M. Church, Olive Bethel Church of God, Olive Branch Church of God, Omega Church, and Silver Creek Church of God.

The Henry Township Ministerial Association helps to provide assistance to people in need in the Akron area. Funds for this purpose are provided through free-will offerings received at Thanksgiving and Good Friday Services.

The pastors and congregations of this area invite the public to participate in this special Thanksgiving Service.

Mental Health Gift Lift

The Indiana Mental Health Association's annual Christmas Gift Lift project is underway, according to local chairwoman, Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Jr. (Carolyn). The Fulton County Mental Health Association and the Indiana State Teacher Association are the sponsors for the holiday project. They ask that you add an extra name to your Christmas gift list this year in an effort to insure that every person residing in Indiana's state hospitals are not forgotten during the holidays.

Locally, gifts are collected for patients at Logansport State Hospital and for residents of the Canterbury Manor and Rochester Nursing homes who do not have families. The Association needs your help and concern. Your contribution of a gift or gifts, or of monetary donation, promises to make a very special person feel very "special."

Gifts are sorted and wrapped by volunteers. Each person receives one gift of good quality and a smaller gift such as perfume or a piece of jewelry.

Presents for men are in great demand. Appropriate gifts include caps with earflaps, pajamas, T-shirts, underwear, socks, tobacco, pipes and shaving cream.

Suggested gifts for women include gloves, slippers, sweaters, cosmetics, dresses, hand lotion, panty hose, soap and toothpaste.

Plastic containers, are less likely to break than glass, and are easier to handle--and large sizes of clothing items are preferred.

Cash donations of $1 or more is accepted and greatly appreciated.

The deadline for donations is Dec. 9. That will allow time for sorting and wrapping the gifts. They should be new and not wrapped.

Collection boxes have been set up through out the county at the following places: Kroger's, Rochester; Akron United Methodist Church, Akron; Harvey's Dime Store, Akron; First Bank, Akron; Townsend's IGA Market, Rochester; Lynn's Food Center, Rochester (both stores); Hart Schaffner & Marx; Tiosa Brethren Church; Farmers and Merchants Bank, Kewanna; Baxter's Drugs, Rochester; Hook's Drugs, Rochester; Bethlehem Baptist Church and Riverview Community Church.

The Cooks Shine At Thanksgiving

All my memories of Thanksgivings past include the bountiful meals at home and since being married. My mother made Thanksgiving dinner an event, not only with a 25 lb. turkey which she basted periodically in the wee hours of the morning, but with the trimmings and rich, luscious desserts.

I have made Thanksgiving dinner for us a few times but most of the time we are at Doug's mother's. She also has made Thanksgiving dinner special. Her dressing is beyond comparison, as well as the rest of the meal. Although the desserts aren't the most important at Jenny's, her dressing is my dessert! However, she gave me the best recipe for pumpkin pie I've ever tasted. Sharing her recipes has been most appreciated which has prompted me to share some of mine with you.

Date Nut Pudding

1 Cup Granulated Sugar
1 Cup Milk
Dash of Salt
2 Tsp. Baking Powder
1 Cup Dates or Raisins, Cut Fine
1/2 Cup Pecans, Chopped

Mix together the above ingredients and pour into large baking dish.

Sauce for Date Nut Pudding

2 Cups Brown Sugar, packed
4 T. Butter
2 Cups Warm Water

Pour this mixture over the batter already in the baking dish and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Don't let the looks deceive you, this is a rich and tasty dessert served with whipped topping. It was one of my mother's famous Thanksgiving and Christmas desserts.

Mom's Peanut Butter Pie

(This is the original peanut butter pie before it was considered something new a few years ago. This is a little different from the layered recipes now, but is much quicker and just as good.)

Cook one package of butterscotch pie filling per package instructions. While warm, add 2-3 heaping tablespoons peanut butter and stir. Pour into baked pie shell and sprinkle with nuts.

Cool and then enjoy.

Jello Delight

Dissolve 1 pkg. of cherry Jello in 1 cup hot water, cool until syrupy. Prepare 1 pkg. of Dream Whip. Fold into the thickened Jello, then add 1 small can of crushed pineapple (drained) and 1/2 cup chopped pecans. Add 1/4 of a round angel food cake torn into chunks. Put in refrigerator and chill.

(Tired of leftovers and need to watch the budget? Here is a recipe Chris made for Home Ec. class that is a winner and very, very easy.)

Hamburger Casserole

1/2 Lb. Hamburger or Ground Chuck
1/2 Cup Cream of Mushroom Soup
Salt to taste
1/2 Box Macaroni (3-4 Oz. Uncooked)
4-5 Crushed Crackers
Pepper to taste

Brown meat and pour off fat. Cook macaroni and drain. Add hamburger to macaroni, stir in Cream of Mushroom Soup and seasoning and pour into dish sprayed with Pam. Crush crackers and sprinkle atop casserole. Bake 20 minutes at 375 degrees. (May double recipe, it goes fast and is really good).

Thank You

I would like to say thank you to family, friends, nurses, and Dr. Fish for the care and concern shown during my recent stay at Woodlawn Hospital.
Thanks again.

Sue Daine

Thank You

I would like to thank all of my friends for their visits, food, cards and flowers during my illness and especially to my family.
God bless you all.

THE BIBLE IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST BOOK OF INSTRUCTIONS

There are many kinds of instruction books available, designed to teach us how to do practically everything; from cooking and gardening to how to build your own airplane. However, the most valuable book of all is the Bible, because it teaches us how to live a good life. Also, it's timeless, with its basic common sense advice that never has to be revised or updated, because it doesn't change with each passing fad of human behavior. If you prefer a more modern form of language, there are several reliable translations, but find out first which one your House of Worship recommends. This is another good reason for being there, along with hearing interpretations of the Scriptures, the most helpful and fascinating collection of writings, of the word of God, with which our world has ever been blessed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Each year as the leaves drop and the wind shifts from the north, everyone begins to think of Christmas. And each year the Kiwanis Club of Tippecanoe Valley begins its Christmas toy project to help the needy families in the area. Already the toy collection boxes have been placed at fifteen locations in the Akron, Burket, Mentone and Talma communities. Letters have been sent to the schools asking for their help in locating and informing the Kiwanians of needy families in each of the three elementary schools.

This is truly a community effort as teachers, bus drivers, club members work together and individual citizens donate toys to help out those in need. The rewards of such a project are indeed great as club members have the satisfaction of seeing the joy and excitement on the children's faces when the toys are distributed.

This year promises to be even better. Already the town of Burket has donated approximately eight to ten large boxes of brand new toys through their auctions on Friday evenings. Kiwanis Club will be using the Helping Hands located just South of Mentone as the collection and distribution center. Helping Hands also has clothing available for distribution, and the Key Club is collecting food to give food baskets.

Another change being made this year, is that letters will be sent to the needy families inviting them to come to Helping Hands to pick the toys they want their children to receive. They can also decide then to take them home at that time, or have Santa bring the toys at a later date. Transportation will be provided for those families to and from Helping Hands if it is needed.

Project chairman Larry Barr would remind people that Kiwanis Club serves the entire Tippecanoe Valley school district and does not restrict itself to serving just one community. If you have toys to donate just look for the brightly wrapped Christmas boxes; or if you know of a family in need you may drop a note to the Kiwanis Club at P.O. Box 566, Mentone, IN 46539.

Collection boxes are located at the following places:

AKRON - Akron Video, Freezer Fresh, R & B Furnishings and Viking Foods.

BURKET - The Store

MENTONE - Farmer's State Bank, Frank & Jerry's, Lake City Bank, Miller's Hardware, Niff-Tone, Pill Box, Teel's Restaurant and Valley Furnishings.

TALMA - Bait Store and Talma United Methodist Church.

HOOSIER LOTTERY

The Hoosier Lottery will make the holiday season even brighter for 25 lucky players who will be spending a week in sunny Hawaii, Director Jack F. Crawford announced today.

"We at the Lottery are certainly feeling the holiday spirit this year, and we can think of no better way to spread our good cheer than to give our players a special present -- a chance to win a Hoosier Hawaiian Holiday," Crawford said.

Players who have five non-winning Hoosier Holiday Millionaire instant tickets may mail them in for a 'second chance' drawing for a one-week Hawaiian vacation for two. The vacations include roundtrip air fare to Honolulu.

"We'll give away five vacation packages each week for five weeks, and the winners will be the Lottery's guests for a holiday we're sure they will never forget," Crawford said.

The winners will receive a traditional lei greeting when they arrive in Honolulu, then they will be whisked away to the Sheraton Waikiki and its breathtaking view of the famous beaches. They also will be treated to an island tour of Oahu and a Royal Hawaiian Luau on an oceanside lawn before moving on to Maui, where they will spend four nights at Stoufflers Wailea Beach.

The itinerary also includes a helicopter tour of Maui and a trip that will take them to Kahului, where they will view the natural rock formation known as the Needle of the Iao Valley, and to Lahaina, an old whaling town.

Lottery players may enter the vacation drawings by mailing envelopes containing five non-winning Hoosier Holiday Millionaire tickets to: Hoosier Hawaiian Holiday, P.O. Box 6143, Indianapolis, Ind., 46206-6143. That special post office box is for promotional entries only and should not be used for any other communications with the Lottery.

Players may start sending in their entries on November 21. Drawings will be conducted on the "Hoosier Millionaire" TV Show each Saturday from December 2 to December 30. Five envelopes will be randomly selected each week during that period.

HOOSIER LOTTERY

1989 Tax planning for farmers

Tax law changes affect farmers' year-end planning for 1989. "Depreciation is slower for purchases made in 1989 than in previous years. Large year-end purchases of machinery and equipment may give very limited deductions in 1989," says George Patrick, Purdue University agricultural economist. "Deferral of disaster assistance and crop insurance payments from 1988, the possible preferential treatment of capital gains income, and the increased self-employment tax rate in 1990 also affect a farmer's tax planning this year."

A Purdue Cooperative Extension Service telecourse will review recent tax changes and help farmers with their tax planning. The course is Monday, November 20 from 8:00 to 10 P.M. and is distributed on the Indiana Higher Education Telecommunication System (IHETS). In Goshen, the program will be at 7:30 P.M. on November 21st. Sites carrying the program on November 20th include: Crown Point, LaPorte, South Bend, Plymouth, Warsaw, Fort Wayne, Decatur, Kokomo, Frankfort, West Lafayette, Muncie, Richmond, Indianapolis, Tipton, Franklin, Monrovia, Terre Haute, Bloomfield, Bloomington, Columbus, Vincennes, Evansville, Warrick County and Madison. Contact your County Extension Office, 802 Jefferson Street, Rochester or call 223-3397 for specific locations.

This telecourse program will review tax changes and illustrate their effects in tax management. In addition to Patrick, Walt Drees and Stan Scholl, two DeMotte-based tax practitioners will provide helpful year-end tax planning suggestions. Emphasis in the program will be given to the following topics:

- *Changes in depreciation and expensing.
- *Tax after-effects of the 1988 drought.
- *Government program payments and reporting.
- *"Heifer tax" repeal and record keeping.
- *Self-employment and social security tax changes.
- *Capital gains and other pending legislation.
- *Marketing strategies and tax concerns.
- *Changes in tax planning and management strategies.

Each week two students are chosen to read to the principal in his office. The students are asked to choose their own books to read. They must then practice their book in front of the class several times. Upon reading to the principal, each child receives a badge, a certificate, and a special pencil.

Jayne McCalla and Ashley Whitaker are shown reading their books to the principal, Mr. Brett Boggs.

LIVING WILL UPDATE: Many of you have written about the advisability of having a Living Will in place before a crisis strikes that forces family members to deal with crucial decisions such as disconnecting life support systems or refusing surgery for an already terminally ill loved one.

Thank you to those who have sent in suggestions on setting up a Living Will. The following reflects a consensus of your advice:

1. Make sure your state recognizes Living Wills as legal.
2. Have your Living Will witnessed by at least two people.
3. Determine what it is you want done. For example, (if this is what you want) have the documents state clearly that if you are found to be terminally ill, or are in a coma, that you do not want to be put on life support systems.
4. Also state (if this is what you want) that your chart carries a note: "Do Not Resuscitate" if you are in a terminal situation and have lapsed into a coma.
5. Be specific about the type of treatment you do not want the staff to provide, i.e., surgery, tubal feedings, transfusions.

One reader made a very important point: "My cousin's wife learned, to her shock, that despite the living will my cousin signed, and which we thought was foolproof, the hospital refused to withdraw feeding and hydration from him until his wife got a court order. He endured several days of existence — I can't say life — in that time ... (And) I don't want to sound hard hearted, but my cousin's family also had extra expenses as a result of their keeping him alive without any hope of recovery."

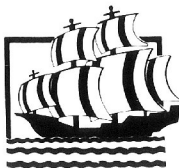

Apropos of this comment, it's a good idea to check with the hospital caring for the patient to determine if, and how much of, the stated intentions in the living will they will honor.

First Lady Barbara Bush kicked off the new "Visit A Nursing Home" campaign sponsored by the American College of Health Care Administrators by visiting a nursing home facility with her very well received companion, First Dog, Millie.

It's a great idea to share your time with those who may not otherwise have visitors. More nursing homes are incorporating community involvement in their programs. Check with a facility in your area to determine what their policies are.

Ms. Millie's reception reminds us that there are programs permitting animal shelters to bring dogs and cats into nursing homes for an always welcome round of holding and cuddling.

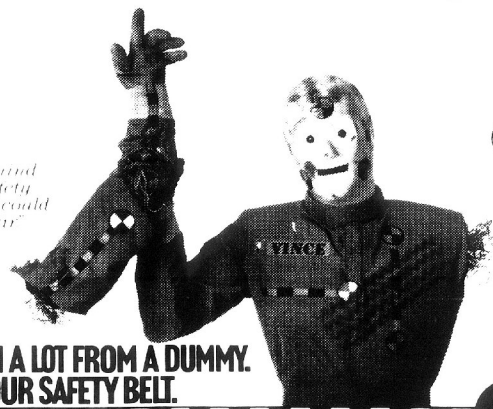

Note for snow shovelers: Pain in the chest, upper abdomen, neck, or arms, or weakness, shortness of breath or nausea, may signal a heart attack. Get medical help immediately.

Helping each other

At Burket School the first and fifth grade students participate in a program called comparative learning. The 5th graders teach the 1st graders about using computers and help them with the reading or spelling lesson that the class might be working on that week. Mrs. Riedel is the 5th grade class teacher and Mrs. Nelson is the 1st grade teacher that participate with their classes.

Names of needy families are being sought for the 1989 Christmas Basket Project according to the United Ministries of Rochester, Inc. The project is sponsored annually by the United Ministries with the assistance of numerous community and church volunteers throughout the area.

Last year, 318 baskets were delivered to families who live in Fulton County, including the areas of Argos, Athens, Culver, Delong, Disko, Fulton, Kewanna, Kings Lake, Leiters Ford, Macy, Rochester and Silver Lake.

Leftover money is used to operate the United Ministries Food Pantry, which provides a three-day supply of food to families who have an emergency need. This year, the Food Pantry has served 123 Fulton County families, including 418 people with over half of them children, with 3762 meals.

Christmas baskets will be delivered Saturday, December 23. They will contain chicken, canned goods, flour, sugar, boxed desserts, cereals, paper products and other donated items.

Families with infants and/or pregnant women also will receive baby vitamins, and baby food.

Wrapped toys for children to open on Christmas Day will also be part of the project.

It is our hope that all families will have a meal for Christmas and each child will have the joy of opening a gift.

Donations of food items, toys and cash to purchase perishable foods, special diet foods and to repair donated toys also are needed. Cash donations may be sent to United Ministries Christmas Baskets, P.O. Box 531, Rochester, IN 46975. Details on where donated foods and toys will be collected will be announced later.

Anyone who would like to submit the name of a needy family may fill out the accompanying blank and return it to United Ministries. A screening committee will review each name to avoid duplication and confirm the need.

THOMAS FINNEY ELECTED TO U OF I STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Thomas Finney has been selected to serve as a junior class representative to the student government at the University of Indianapolis for the 1989-90 academic year.

Finney, a graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, is majoring in pre-occupational therapy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Finney of Akron.

Third graders in Mrs. Ousley's class are learning about hobbies. Jake and Zack Waddle enjoy collecting baseball cards.

The brothers play baseball during the summer and have several ribbons and trophies for their efforts.

Wednesday, November 22, will be "Secret Pal Day" in Mrs. Ousley's Burket third grade room. They are thankful for friends, their classmates. Students will select a name from the envelope. On that day, each will part a positive, happy note, card, or a picture on the desk of his secret pal. Each may also give a piece of candy, pencil, apple or some other small item to his pal.

At the end of the day, each student will find out who his friend is. This is to encourage friendship, kindness, and thankfulness.

Holiday Hints

Wreath Easy

When you hang your holiday wreath, here are a few thoughts about its past and present. The custom of the Christmas wreath comes to us from Europe. In Sweden, Italy and Spain, floral decorations are more popular than evergreen ones. The wreath is shaped in the ancient sign of eternity. It's believed the idea came into its zenith in the Victorian era when these lacy, beribboned "whimsies" were displayed all through the house all year long.

A wreath and a bell are a beautiful way to symbolize the holiday. This wreath was designed exclusively for M.I. Hummel figures by Lynn Lary McLean, AAF, AIFD.

This year, you can add a new note to your wreath with the M.I. Hummel First Edition annual bell series titled Ride Into Christmas. The motif captures the joy of a child's first sleigh ride.

To receive a beautiful, four-color booklet showing more do-it-yourself gift and decorative ideas using flowers and Hummel figurines send $1. M.I. Hummel Club, Floral Booklet—Department FN905C, Goebel Plaza, P.O. Box 11, Pennington, NJ 08534-0011.

KITCHEN QUIZ

Are you a creative cook? According to gourmet author, Howard Hillman, creative cooking requires love, imagination, art, and science. His newly revised paperback, Kitchen Science answers some often asked questions on cooking, such as:

Q: Can I tell if a raw egg is fresh without breaking it?

A: Yes. Place the suspect egg in at least several inches of water in a bowl or pot. If your egg sinks and lies on its side, you have a fresh egg.

Q: Which will keep food warm longer, a glass or metal serving dish?

A: Assuming that both containers are identical in size, shape and thickness, the glass one will keep food warm longer. Glass is a considerably poorer conductor of heat than is metal and therefore loses heat more slowly.

Q: Does it make a difference to a cook whether the flesh of a fish is fat or lean?

A: Yes. A fat-fleshed fish is better suited for grilling or roasting because of the extra oil it contains.

Published by Houghton Mifflin, Kitchen Science takes the mystery out of cooking so that you can create new dishes and change old ones more freely. You'll know what can and cannot be done—and why—and obtain surefire results every time.

The Renaissance painter Raphael painted more than 300 pictures of the Madonna.

Happy Thanksgiving

WE GIVE THANKS

Another day is set aside for Thanksgiving.

And we in America do have much for which to be thankful. Each day we go about our way of life unmolested by the "ruling class" that is regulating the lives of millions in other parts of our world. God has given each of us 24 hours each day, and in our land of freedom we are privileged to use that time as we may choose. We are free to go and come, speak or write, commend or deplore, and to worship when and where we may desire. No other nation offers as much as America, even though we may at times feel we are being taken advantage of in one way or another.

And as we give thanks to God, and to the ones who have given us this freedom in America, let us determine to do our part in maintaining our freedoms...thwarting the plans of those who would destroy and inspiring those who are constantly working to combat the evils of dishonesty and dishonor among our people, whether that dishonest trend is in a distant city or in our own.

DNR ask hunters to obey regulations

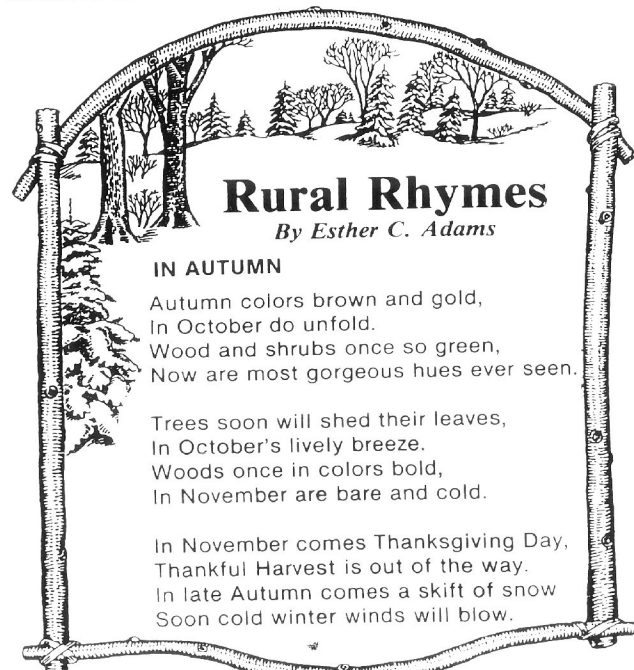

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources is asking Hoosier hunters to exercise caution and obey regulations during deer season. Deer season opened November 11, and already three people have been killed and several people have been hurt in hunting accidents.

"This has been a tragic start to the deer season in Indiana," said Paul Greenwalt, DNR Deputy Director for Law Enforcement and Administration. "All of the accidents investigated by conservation officers this season could have been prevented. Hunters need to obey the laws and just be careful out there."

Since last Saturday hunting accidents have claimed the lives of a four-year-old boy in Posey County, a 21-year-old man in Adams County and a 29-year-old man in Grant County.

The DNR is urging people to make sure they are wearing orange clothing when they hunt. Hunters should also be very cautious when hunting from tree stands. Four of the hunting accidents which have taken place this season involved people hunting in tree stands.

The DNR offers a free hunter education course which covers several topics including the proper handling of firearms. Those wanting more information can contact their local conservation officer or call 317-232-4010. They can also write DNR, Law Enforcement Division, Hunter Education, 606 State Office Building, Indianapolis, In. 46204.

Rural Rhymes

IN AUTUMN

Autumn colors brown and gold,
In October do unfold.
Wood and shrubs once so green,
Now are most gorgeous hues ever seen.

Trees soon will shed their leaves,
In October's lively breeze.
Woods once in colors bold,
In November are bare and cold.

In November comes Thanksgiving Day,
Thankful Harvest is out of the way.
In late Autumn comes a skiff of snow
Soon cold winter winds will blow.

The Things You Remember Most

During discussions with other people, I've been surprised at what people remember from their childhood. I've often wondered what my kids will remember from theirs.

I fear the memories won't be as pleasant as I hope. For instance, always, always when we decorate a real Christmas tree; frenzy is the result. I hope they will forget the frenzy and remember the coziness after it has been completed. Although decorating a real tree when I was at home was just as frantic, I tend to remember the finished product. Not to worry, we have, for many years, had an artificial tree! I guess there's more than one way to skin a cat!

What seems so terrible at the time, sometimes becomes a funny memory later. During one snow storm when I was in the sixth grade, my parents, Tom and I barely made it home from Rochester. Tom had had to push us over the railroad tracks because of the ice and I remember ice hanging from his hair. After arriving home, Mom started a small kerosene space heater that must have been 30 years old and placed it in the bathroom, the only room that was small enough to warm. Tom changed his clothes and curled up in bed to stay warm, my dad snuggled in blankets on the couch for a nap and Mom and I gathered pillows and blankets and decided to stay in the bathroom. Like I said, it was a small room and the only place a person could lie down was on the floor. This wasn't possible because of the space heater, now. We looked at each other, listened to the wind howl outside and decided we both could fit in the bathtub, one at each end and make the best of it.

Needless to say, it wasn't comfortable. Mom was built much the same as myself and when we managed to wrap blankets around ourselves and squeeze into place, we found we couldn't move too well. We just tried to nap a while. The problem arose when we tried to get out! We turned, squeezed, scooted and maneuvered our way around and found ourselves stuck! I'm sure if we hadn't been laughing so hard, it would have been easier to get out...but we had the most fun! We laughed years later about it.

Whether the boys will remember it or not, I certainly will remember the first and only time Doug was snowed out away from home. Collin was little and Chris just eight or so. Doug had called and was staying with a friend in Warsaw, so I wasn't worried about his safety. However, Chris was concerned why his daddy wasn't home. I tried to explain and then decided playing games would help. The Monopoly game was chosen, and we played for most of the evening until bedtime. I remember checking the doors an extra time that night and being very relieved when Doug arrived home the next afternoon.

Even though winter is nasty, it can make some nice memories if we can turn bad times into good. While my folks worried about being snowed in, we kids would play in the snow and go in for hot cocoa. Our boys and Doug have braved snowstorms carrying in wood for a cozy fire, and after the awful job of digging the drive out after a storm, the boys would play in tunnels in the drifts. One thing seems to offset the other, I guess. Before you think the winter is so bad, you might think about what good things you all will remember. You might be surprised. After all, I remember being stuck in the bathtub with my mother!

A very lovely and useful gift was given to Mrs. Hibschan also. We had as our guest Mrs. Russell Simmons from Warsaw. She gave a book review on the book, "A Man Called Peter." This was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The evening ended by the group singing the club prayer song. The anniversary committee for the affair was Mrs. Jerry Hudson, Mrs. Donald Horn and Mrs. Gene Sarber.

IT HAPPENED IN MENTONE
TAKEN FROM THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP NEWS
NOVEMBER 15, 1939
50 YEARS AGO

The Chevrolet coach owned and driven by Estil Smith, left the pavement, and ran into the ditch near the Oral Welch farm on Road 19 north of Mentone Saturday night. The fender and running board were damaged to the extent of thirty dollars. The accident occurred when the driver fell asleep at the wheel.

Miss Geraldine Nellans damaged the rear of their Chevrolet Coach Monday morning, when she backed out of their driveway and into a milk truck. The rear bumper was pushed back into the trunk cover.

Dale Wallace Jr. suffered a deep cut on his forehead while playing basketball Sunday.

Women seem to like to drive faster than men. At least they do in Texas, according to the Chicago Motor Club, which reports that a recent survey taken by the Texas State Highway department of 580 cars revealed that 79 per cent of the women in the Lone Star state drove faster than 45 mile per hour, while only 54 per cent of the male drivers exceeded that speed.

The Misses Anne Sierck and Writtha McLain, first and second grade teachers of Mentone school, visited the new school at Bremen, Ind., Tuesday night. The school held open hours Tuesday and Wednesday and was present to take part in the day's festivities. Bremen now has one of the finest schools in Northern Indiana.

Mrs. Al Plew submitted to an operation for removal of appendix at the McDonald hospital Thursday morning.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR: The "Turkeyturtler," a casing filled with minced turkey, for Thanksgiving supper eaten in a roll, it could be garnished with cranberry sauce, instead of mustard; The "Pet-O-Mat" for dogs and cats whose owners are away from home during feeding hours; it is a germ-proof metal container for the pet's food dish, the lid of which is released by a built-in alarm clock; Plastic hooks, rust proof, for shower curtains; "Lipstick Plus" a new device which has interchangeable cartridges for the various colors that women seem to require, day and night.

THE POST CROWN

If you have a tooth that is so badly broken that it is fractured right down to the gum line, your dentist may recommend root canal therapy (to save the tooth) followed by the post-crown procedure. In this procedure, a post is used to provide added support to the crown. The post he uses is a metal rod with a core at the end of it. After root canal therapy, he will fit the metal post directly into the tooth's canal and cement it into place with the core extended out to receive the crown. This is the first stage. A crown will then be prepared to fit over the core so the tooth will be restored to proper function and appearance. The crown will be shaped to match the natural contours of your teeth and a natural-looking color selected.

Often times a tooth will become so badly damaged and decayed that your first thought might be to have it extracted. Any natural tooth is worth saving because no artificial tooth can fully replace its function and chewing efficiency.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

U.S. Marshals Turn 200

This year marks the bicentennial of the U.S. Marshals Service, the nation's oldest federal law enforcement office. For most Americans, the image of a U.S. marshal is a "wild West" law enforcement officer with a white cowboy hat and a star on his chest. But by the time U.S. marshals were enforcing laws out West, they already had an impressive history. And their legacy of law enforcement is as vital today as ever.

Our first Congress created the position of U.S. marshal with the Judiciary Act of 1789, which established the federal judicial system. The president was authorized to appoint, with the consent of the Senate, a marshal to serve in each of the nation's judicial districts for a four-year, renewable term. George Washington appointed the first U.S. marshals.

The U.S. marshals became the federal authority in those districts, supporting federal courts; carrying out orders issued by judges, Congress and the president; and even taking the census every 10 years until 1870.

The popular image of the U.S. marshal was forged as our nation expanded westward. Although the "wild West" era spanned only about the last quarter of the 19th century, this is the period most closely associated with the U.S. marshals. Men like Deputy Marshal Bat Masterson, sheriff of Dodge City, Kan., and Deputy Marshal Wyatt Earp, a hero of the "Battle of the O.K. Corral," became national figures while enforcing federal laws in the new territories. It was, however, a dangerous time to be a marshal, as more than 100 met their fate at the hands of outlaws.

Today, the major focus of the approximately 2,600 U.S. marshals, 500 sworn deputies and 1,000 special assistants is ensuring the safe conduct of federal court proceedings. They provide security at federal criminal court proceedings and manage the Federal Witness Security Program, which protects witnesses who testify against major criminals such as organized crime figures and drug traffickers. The Marshals Service ensures that the witnesses are given a new identity and are secure in a new life. And reminiscent of its "wild West" image, the Marshals Service also is charged with bringing fugitives from the federal court to justice. Only these days, the fugitives are more likely to be part of a drug ring than a cattle-poaching ring.

To commemorate the bicentennial of the U.S. Marshals Service, a museum exhibit, "America's Star: U.S. Marshals 1789-1989" is touring the country until May 1991. The exhibit schedule includes stops in major cities in Oklahoma, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Washington, Colorado, Louisiana, Missouri, Texas, California and New York, before returning to Washington, D.C. Further information on the exhibit is available through the U.S. Marshals Foundation, McLean, Va. Also, a memorial to the approximately 400 U.S. marshals killed in the line of duty is being constructed in Oklahoma City, Okla.

After 200 years, U.S. marshals still are appointed by the president of the United States. And they still proudly wear on their chests the star that symbolizes their motto: "Justice, Integrity, Service." ld

Art Shell, Head Coach

Congratulations to Art Shell. He has succeeded in becoming the first black head coach in modern National Football League history. I'm very happy for him and very happy that it finally has happened.

Al Davis feels that Art Shell has what it takes to restore his Raiders to their glory years of the 1970s and early 1980s, when Shell was an offensive lineman with the team. Shell won his first ball game as a head coach, and now he has a long road ahead of him. Not because he is black, but because the Raiders just don't have the players to be a winning team.

I hope that Davis gives Shell more of a chance to succeed than he gave the man Shell replaced, Mike Shanahan. Shanahan had proven himself a talented assistant coach with the Denver Broncos, but Davis gave him only a season and four games to prove himself as a head coach. Every NFL head coach deserves more time than that.

Shell was elevated to head coach from his position as the Raiders' offensive line coach. He has spent a total of 22 years with the team as a player and coach, but I'm convinced he won't be there much longer if he can't somehow make the Raiders a winner.

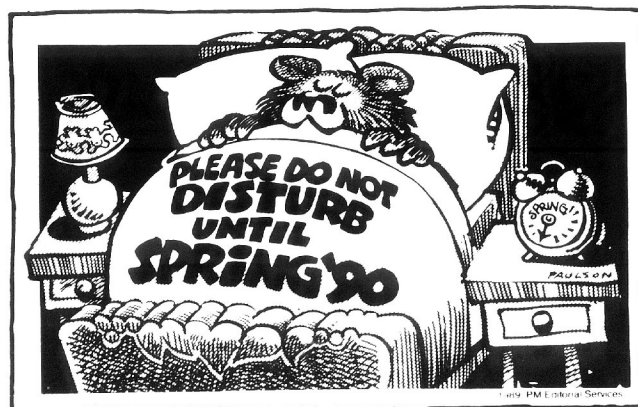

Aside from wondering if Shell can bring success to the Raiders, the big question is why did it take so long for a black man to be offered a head coaching spot? The fact is that there are many black NFL assistant coaches and college head coaches who are even more qualified than Shell to be head coaches. There have been for years, with men like Willie Wood, who was a head coach in the short-lived World Football League. When will their time come? Certainly a qualified black coach deserves as much of a chance to succeed or fail as a qualified white coach does.

Probably the biggest reason it took so long for this to happen in my opinion was the reluctance of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle to address the lack of black head coaches as a real issue. He simply did nothing about it. It's no wonder that Al Davis, a man often at odds with Rozelle over the years, is the one who finally made the move to hire a black head coach.

Frankly, as a well qualified person who tried to make it into the management side of NFL football and got nowhere, I didn't think I would see a black head coach for another 10 or 15 years. I am hopeful this break in the so called "color barrier" will mean everyone who is qualified to be a head coach in the NFL will be considered when the positions become available.

Again, the main problem now for Art Shell is winning football games. If he doesn't, he'll be gone like Mike Shanahan. That's the bottom line, and the bottom line is colorblind. ll

LET US THANK THE LORD FOR THE BLESSINGS WE'VE RECEIVED

For all the good times we have known
And friendships we can call our own,
Which let us know we're not alone
But cherished, come what may;
For illnesses that we've been spared,
And all the memories we've shared
With people who have shown they cared,
Whom we cannot repay;
For all the freedom in our land,
Which our forefathers wisely planned,
That all of us should understand
Far more than we can say;
For all the ways that we've been blessed,
Which make us strive to do our best,
Our gratitude should be expressed;
So thank the Lord this day.

Plastics & You

Here's news to smile about. A thin plastic coating has been developed that can be applied to children's teeth and acts as a sealant to protect niches and grooves from decay. Dental scientists predict it will eventually eliminate tooth decay.

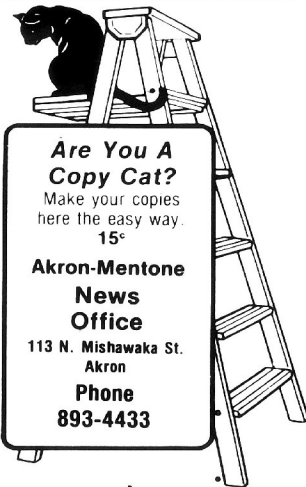

Unmanned balloons made of thin plastic film allow scientists to collect data from as high as 130,000 feet. Scientists report that the plastic helps balloons fly through the coldest part of the earth's atmosphere to study everything from ozone depletion to cosmic particles.

The lightest solar racing car in the world is believed to be the Solectria V. It's made from a lightweight, reinforced plastic, weighs a mere 340 pounds and can travel more than 70 miles an hour!

Diabetes awareness Campaign

November is National Diabetes Month. The American Diabetes Association, Indiana affiliate, has launched a diabetes awareness campaign to warn of seriousness of diabetes and its life-threatening complications.

This new campaign takes the American Diabetes Association into their 50th anniversary year and stresses that diabetes can afflict many people, more than most realize. The American Diabetes Association, Indiana affiliate, hopes to reach over 176,000 Hoosiers who have diabetes and don't know it, and who are at risk of developing serious complications. These people need help immediately.

Helping Hands has grand opening

Have you ever wondered, how you can help out those in need? I don't mean giving handouts, but more, a Helping Hand.

Helping Hands is a newly established clothes and food bank, to help residents in the Tippecanoe Valley School district. The program is designed to help those families who could use some assistance with their clothes and food needs. Toys are also available for the children.

This is a non-profit program, and all items are free, to families who wish to participate. However, donations are accepted. All donations will be used to help restock the shelves.

To keep this program going, your help is needed. If you have clothes you don't wear anymore, toys, household items, or you would like to donate non-perishable food, it can all be used. Helping Hands is located south of Mentone, at the corner of County road 600 S and 1000W. The hours are Tuesday and Thursday, 2:00 to 6:00 p.m.

With the help of local organizations, such as Cub Scouts, Key Club, Kiwanis, and local communities, the shelves are stocked.

With all the donations of food, clothes, toys and household goods, it has been necessary to build a new warehouse. Most of the material for this building was donated to Helping Hands, by Niff-Tome, Niff-Corr, and Plyco Corp.

With the holidays upon us, and all the exciting things going on, Helping Hands would like to invite you to its open house, on Saturday, December 2 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. During this time, you are welcome to stop by and see what's going on. Also at this time, those who would like to pick up needed items are welcome to do so.

During December, Helping Hands will be open, for special holiday hours:

Dec. 9, 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
Dec. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 4:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Dec. 16, 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

During these hours, anyone in need of clothing, food or Christmas toys is welcome to come in and pick up what they need. Many of the toys are brand new, and still in the boxes. Winter coats are also available.

If you would like to donate items to Helping Hands call Mary at 353-7701 or drop them off at Helping Hands.

Fulton County Health Department participates in World Aids Day

The Fulton County Health Department, in conjunction with health officials worldwide, is participating in World AIDS Day, December 1, to provide a local forum for increased discussion, education and awareness of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Aids is a fatal disease caused by HIV, the AIDS virus. People who believe they may be at risk for carrying the AIDS virus should discuss the procedure for confidential AIDS antibody testing with their physician. Anonymous testing sites are located throughout Indiana. Call your health department, 223-5152, for details.

World AIDS Day is observed annually on December 1, by 166 countries. The theme for this year's observation is "Our Lives, Our World: Let's Take Care Of Each Other." Specific events of World AIDS Day this year will focus attention on young people, who may be more likely to engage in high-risk behavior. At the same time, these also are the people who may be least likely to be aware of the risks of infection with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) which causes AIDS.

Young people also can be instrumental in organizing imaginative, effective AIDS education and prevention campaigns.

Ultimately, the goal of all public health institutions and all others working to curb the spread of the AIDS epidemic is to heighten awareness of AIDS as a global problem and to establish a worldwide effort against the disease. World AIDS Day is one way to help accomplish that goal.

For more information on World AIDS Day and other AIDS-related activities in this area, please call the Fulton County Health Department at 223-5152.

TAYLOR UNIVERSITY STUDENT

Aaron L. Norris, Rt. 1, Mentone, played offensive guard on the 1989 Taylor University football team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Norris and is a graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School. He is a freshman whose major is undecided.

The Trojans (8-2 in 1988) had another successful season, going 7-2-1. Although a season-ending loss to national power Hanover eliminated Taylor from both playoff contention and the ICAC football championship, Head Coach Jim Law's team ranked in the NAIA top ten for much of the season.

Taylor University is a 143-year-old Christian liberal arts institution located in Upland, Indiana. The Trojans are members of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and the Indiana Collegiate Athletic Conference.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

And A-Weigh We Go!

With December approaching, we automatically think January and New Year's resolutions. We have just passed Thanksgiving with the dinners and desserts and have decided to make Christmas our last hurrah before resolving to lose some weight. Might I make some suggestions?

I, as a lot of other people, have decided to be smart about becoming organized in my endeavor. Like the lady in the picture, tape measures have been covering more territory lately. In despair, a team effort will take place among several ladies who vow to help each other through the miserable times ahead, thinking that although misery loves company, a team effort might just make it more enjoyable.

I have a feeling one of us will be following a Weight Watcher's plan, another following a diet sheet acquired from her doctor, and others of us cutting down but not necessarily doing without. But the end result should be much the same. I'm wondering in the back of my mind how long it will be before we resemble the two guys in the second picture!

The first thing a person doesn't want to do is make an announcement to everyone that she is on a diet, feel as if she is starving and near death and then drool at the person's food next to her. (I've seen it happen!) It's bad enough when a person decides to eat less of what she likes, but don't bore everyone else to death about it!

I love the dieter who decides to diet just before holidays. This person has a real desire to deprive herself. I also am encouraged by the people who, I'm sure by looking at them, watch their food intake most of the time but never a mention of a diet is heard. As a matter of fact, you aren't really sure they are dieting at all. Being discreet just might be the answer!

My resolution isn't necessarily to lose weight. I've resolved to eat well and make better choices. I've also resolved to believe the scales the first time on them, not to try to lean from side to side to change the numbers or declare that they read differently because of the weather. I have resolved to keep my hands busy with extra activities such as cross stitch, reading, rewriting my recipe cards, etc. so I won't have time to eat when I shouldn't. Exercise isn't on my list; I'm going to do it when I feel like it, not make myself feel pressured into it. Eventually it may become a routine because I want to - not because I have to.

Above all else, I resolve to be realistic. I may not end up looking like the girl in picture number three, but I'll be a little closer than this time last year. We aren't all tall, and we aren't all leggy. However, we can make the most of what we have.

When I think of overdoing and feel starved by not eating enough of the right things, I'm going to look up the picture of the two guys in this article - and resolve never to look like them!

Save some lives, DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE!

To glimpse the beauty a world has to give

Deep emerald grace of a stately pine,
A sunset painted by God Divine.

A sparkle of dew on grass blades at dawn,

The soulful eyes of a tiny fawn,
Soft feathery snow on an evergreen bough.

Good fertile earth as it falls from the plough

Are bits of beauty the world has to give.

Anthony Nigo Chapter

Anthony Nigo Chapter, NSDAR, Mentone met at Timbercrest Home on Saturday, November 11, 1989 for a 12:30 luncheon with Mrs. Helen Spidler as hostess.

Guest were Mrs. Addison Krom, Mrs. Kathryn Brown, Zoe Priser and Rosella Viers.

The regent, Mrs. Diana Bitting, conducted the opening ritual, repeating of the Americans Creed, Pledge to the Flag, and The Star Spangled Banner. She extended a special welcome to Mrs. Krom, the Northern District Director and the other guest.

Reservations are now due for the Continental Congress. At present on one will be able to attend. The Presidents General's message was read by Mrs. Jerry Smith.

National Defense on the Panama Canal's non-treaty by Mrs. Juanita Paulus. It is time to declare the situation a non-treaty. Treasures report was given by Mrs. Jeanie Clauss, who presented the budget for 1990. A decision will be made at the next meeting.

Under new business, Mrs. Clauss asked the Northern Director about the guidelines for program books. The expense is increasing each year. Ways of saving were discussed. Annabel Mentzer suggested changing the November meeting to a week earlier next year so as not to conflict with various church activities. The next meeting will have the Christmas collection taken to send to the schools.

Mrs. Krom gave her program on National Defense, The Dangers of a Constitutional Convention. There have been 32 states ask for a convention, which will re-balance the budget. Only 34 states to call a convention. The Congress cannot limit the agenda and would include things other than the balanced budget amendment. This started under President Gerald Ford. Aim is to change the structure of government and replace it with the European parliamentary system. Would no longer have the checks and balances of the present system. We would no longer have the security that the government would be more easily manipulated.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, December 12 at the home of Mrs. Elaine Fugate. Withdrawing membership were Juanita Boggs and Ladoska Bunker.

National FFA Convention honors young Agri-leaders

The Tippecanoe Valley FFA Chapter recently participated at the 62nd National FFA Convention held at Kansas City, Missouri.

More than 24,000 FFA members, advisors, supporters and guest representing 50 states, Washington D.C., Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands attended the event.

Rick Dittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dittman, Mentone, and Jenny Doud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doud, Akron, represented Tippecanoe Valley and our school district at the 62nd convention.

Keynote speakers scheduled were Secretary of Agriculture, Clayton Yeutter; former Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback, Terry Bradshaw; educator, Mamie McCullough; former astronaut, Charles M. Duke; and motivational speakers of Ty Boyd, Bill Sanders, and Ed Asner.

Along with the activities of the convention, Rick and Jenny also toured interesting places such as the Arch in St. Louis, the Ralston Purina Research Farm, the American Royal Livestock Assmely, Kemper Arena, and the Stockyards of Kansas City.

Six student national officers, which were elected at the 1988 convention lead the activities. They were Dana Soukup, Nebraska; Jeff Johnson, Florida; Brad Chambliss, Kentucky; Warren Boerger, Ohio; Jaye Hamby, Tennessee; and Jeff Isom, Idaho.

The 1990 national theme was introduced at the convention of "FFA-Leading the Challenge." It emphasizes FFA's role in preparing young leaders for the challenges awaiting those entering the exciting world of agricultural careers.

The National FFA Alumni convention and the National Agricultural Career Show were also scheduled in conjunction with the FFA Convention.

FFA was founded in Kansas City, in 1928, at the Baltimore Hotel. Since 1928, the event has expanded from fewer than 50 members to the world's largest annual youth organizational gathering.

The FFA is a national organization of 404,500 students in 7,800 local chapters preparing for careers in the industry of agriculture. FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in production, agribusiness and agriscience by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained through classroom instruction. A major emphasis of the FFA is the development of skills and abilities to prepare young people for leadership roles in agriculture.

A TRUE HOLIDAY SPIRIT TAKES MORE THAN JUST DECORATIONS

With the season of celebration right on the horizon, how is your holiday spirit? You're about to decorate your home with pine cones, wreaths, candles, etc., and hang up either the rainbow lights of Christmas or the blue and white bulbs of Chanukah. However, as festive as all this atmosphere is, it cannot take the place of love and kindness. If you're harboring any resentment against someone, forgive that person. Be more polite and patient with strangers. Give to the poor. Visit anyone who might be sick, or perhaps someone who has just lost a loved one. Above all, attend your House of Worship, and if you apply the lessons of love that you learn there, you will find your holiday season happier and brighter than all the lights and decorations in the world could make it.

Mental Health Christmas Gift Drive deadline

The deadline for the Mental Health Christmas Gift Drive has been set for December 9, 1989. These gifts will go to patients at Logansport State Hospital and the residents of Canterbury Manor and Rochester Nursing Homes who do not have families or are forgotten. The gifts should be new and not wrapped.

Donations from organizations and clubs individuals, or 2-3 joining together are greatly accepted and "special gifts" can therefore be purchased.

Gifts are sorted by volunteers. Each patient receives at least one gift of good quality in addition to a smaller gift. Suggested gifts for women are: blouses, sweaters, gowns, hose, gloves or make-up. Men's gifts could include: belts, underwear, socks, pajamas, hankies, work gloves and after shave lotion. Gifts for both—billfolds, puzzles, books, cards, magazines or games.

Your family will feel good buying one extra Christmas gift for residents of mental and community care facilities. Do show your concern and give.

The Indiana State Teacher's Association, sponsor of the 1989 Statewide Annual Christmas gift lift, and Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Jr. Fulton County Mental Health Gift Chairperson, ask for your contributions and gifts.

IT NEVER FAILS

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Knowing your interest in our environment, I knew you would be interested in an article published by the Indianapolis Star Sunday, November 19.

In this article, they point out the vital importance of trees to the residences in an area and the contribution to increased values.

More than a half century ago, in the depth of the great depression, a family of business people looking for a new location picked out the town of Akron. Their biggest impression, as recorded in their memoirs, was the beautiful trees.

That family happened to be the D. A. Pike family, forebears of our company. Since trees are our business, in operating tree farms, we are extremely interested in what is happening to our trees and our forests.

Unfortunately, today, in our town, there is a continue disregard for and appreciation of and destruction of some of our most beautiful trees. If the leaves are a little bothersome or the location of trees doesn't match 100% the location of a proposed development, trees are the first thing to be destroyed.

It's no secret that real estate values in our town are dead in the water, evidenced by those properties which have had for sale signs on them far too long.

Not all of our people are opposed to trees, as was evidenced here by quite a project by Dr. Charles Miller and Dick Tilden who planted a good many trees and shrubs in town, at no charge whatsoever to those requesting them.

The value of trees to residential construction is clear when you drive through the countryside and see, quite frequently, a woodland taken out of timber production and converted into a residential development.

As it is often with natural resources that are handed to us on a plate, they're taken for granted and fall into discard. Fortunately, a half century or more ago, our forefathers believed that the trees were a benefit and so they were planted to be left in the hands of those who wished to destroy them.

In some fashion or another, we seem to be able to come up with the money for projects in our community, some of which have put us in the highest tax bracket in the county, but we seem to be disinterested in appropriating the necessary part of our financial budget to this natural heritage of the preservation of trees. Hopefully, this can be reversed and, in the next half century, our natural resources restored.

Cordially yours,

Pike Lumber Co., Inc.
Howard M. Utter, President

Dear Editor,

Please make a visit to the old Akron Ball Park just south of the downtown square, and you will see that we have begun a major renovation of the old diamond. This was begun at the request of Jim Saner, President of the Akron Youth League, to the Akron Park Board and Akron Town Board to provide additional facilities for the 250 young people who play ball at the Ball Park during the summer months. These kids, boys and girls alike, include the little T-ballers, Pony Leaguers, Little Leaguers, and even the TVHS Girls' Softball Team.

Total cost of the renovation, plus repair of the Youth League field up at the Akron Park, will run in the neighborhood of $6,000 to $7,000. Substantial contributions of time and money have been made by Marty Gearhart, Sonoco, Pike Lumber Company, and the First Bank, but we will need more help to finish the work by spring. We would also welcome the help of any volunteer handy person who would want to help us with some general repairs and fixing that needs to be done at both parks.

Sincerely,

Akron Park Board

You and Your Car

Ban Winter Willies

Here's how to banish winter driving willies.

Unless you're really lucky, cold climates, most modern cars are pretty much all-weather. But a change in seasons is a good time to check upon.

• Fluids: Renew radiator anti-freeze at least once every other year, to preserve anti-corrosion ability. If low, fill with a 50%-50% mix of water and coolant—more coolant if you drive in severe cold. Also check levels of brake and transmission fluids, and engine oil. Most carmakers recommend oil of SG or SG-CC grade. A good synthetic, like Mobil 1, exceeds these recommendations and flows easily over a wider range of temperatures, easing starting.

• Tires for wear and pressure. Most tires now are all-weather, consider snow tires or chains in extreme conditions.

• Other items include battery condition, spark plugs and connections, lights, windshield wipers. If you're in a snow area, keep a brush and window scraper in your car. If necessary, a bad-weather assortment could ride in your trunk, including battery jumper cables, two strap chains for each drive wheel, traction mats or sand, folding snow shovel, reflector triangles or flares, work gloves, small containers of gas-line antifreeze and window de-icers.

Holiday Hints

by Jim de Merhur

The holidays are only a few short weeks away. With so much to think about it's easy to overlook an essential item at this time of year: your camera.

To ensure capturing all those once-in-a-lifetime shots, I suggest following a few simple rules:

• If you haven't changed your camera batteries within the last year, now's a good time to do so. Also check the battery contact to make sure they're free of corrosion.

• Make sure you have more film than you think you'll need. Most often people tend to over-shoot.

• Take candid as well as posed pictures. Photographing people in the act of being themselves often results in pictures that capture a person's true personality.

• Watch the background. It can enhance or detract from the beauty of a picture.

• For optimum results, you'll need to shoot with a 35mm SLR (Single lens reflex) camera, like the Minolta Maxxum 5000. This autofocus camera accepts more than 30 interchangeable lenses, including wide-angle and telephoto shots. It also has a built-in zoom flash.

For a free brochure on how to improve your photography write to: Minolta Corporation, Customer Relations Dept., 101 Williams Drive, Ramsey, NJ 07446.

NEW BOOKS AT THE AKRON PUBLIC LIBRARY

ULTIMATE PRIZES, by Susan Howatch--In "Glittering Images" Susan Howatch unveiled the elegant, complex, deceptive world behind the dazzling facade of a great English cathedral--in "Camarious Powers" she told the remarkable story of a clergyman whose psychic powers were both a magnificent gift and a dangerous affliction--and now, with "Ultimate Prizes," she gives us the third and most enthralling book yet in her extraordinary new sequence of novels.

MY TURN, The Memoirs of Nancy Reagan, with William Novak--The memoirs of one of the most fascinating, controversial, and enigmatic first ladies in American history. As soon as Ronald Reagan took office in 1981, his wife found herself in the spotlight of criticism. In this strikingly candid memoir, she tells it as she saw it and lived it.

PREVENTING SILENT HEART DISEASE, by Dr. Harold L. Karpman--Detecting and preventing America's number 1 killer, Abigail VanBuren says "This book could save your life."

CARIBBEAN, by James Michener--The lush islands of the Caribbean have always possessed a special allure--as colonial treasurers in days gone by, as vacation retreats today. But here is a magnificent novel of the struggle for empire, and of political, economic and racial currents in one of the most beautiful and hotly contested regions of the globe.

BEIRUT DIARY, by Sis Levin--A husband held hostage and a wife determined to set him free. When Jerry, who was a Cable News Network Beirut bureau chief, was kidnapped, no one knew who did it or why. Sis, his wife, was staggered by the news; what should she do, or what could she do?

HITLER'S UNDERCOVER WAR, by William Breuer--The Nazi espionage invasion of the U.S.A. In the decade leading up to World War 2, there was no single federal agency in charge of fighting subversive operations, so Hitler's spymasters were able to field in the U.S. a formidable array of subversives who penetrated nearly every major defense contractor, military establishment and branch of the federal government. This book was donated in memory of Mildred Harper, by Mr. and Mrs. George Harper.
