Manwarings Return From Spain

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring, Mentone, have returned from a 17-day trip to Spain where they attended the World Poultry Congress in Madrid and visited many rural areas, viewing the large poultry and egg processing plants. They also toured an egg breaking plant.

The Manwarings were impressed by the friendliness of the people and the cleanliness of the country. They remarked that the police in Madrid were a force to be admired. They said they felt completely at ease in any section of the city, day or night, and they they never saw an accident or any drunkenness.

They noted, however, that on touring the American embassy, that a large map noted the pick up, arrest, and almost immediate sentencing of persons charged with peddling dope, and that most of the people were Americans.

They remarked, too, that the standard of living appeared high but that prices were reasonable.

They visited the home of Col. Fox, an attache in the Air Corps at Madrid, and an old fighter pilot buddy of Manwaring's brother, Richard.

Explosion Rips Akron House

A bottle gas explosion early Saturday morning caused extensive damage to an unoccupied house in Akron that is owned by Mrs. Wm. (Helen) Miller. No one was in the house at the time of the blast. Obsenity, Pornography Ban Asked

Don M. Newman, Third District Republican Congressional nominee, last week called on his opponent, John Brademas, to join him in denouncing the expected recommendation of the presidential commission on obscenity and pornography that anti-pornography laws be abolished. "It has become clear", said Newman, "that those members of the commission who will call for liberalized obscenity laws are the same people who have always called for liberalized obscenity laws."

"The commission was dominated by members of the American Civil Liberties Union. This is the same group which has urged other reforms upon us resulting in chaos for our society."

"Now they are again telling us that we can legalize the illegal and somehow improve ourselves."

Newman, speaking to the South Bend Rotary Club, noted that the commission was created under the previous administration.

"Only one member," said Newman, "was appointed by President Nixon. It is a commission over which he had no control and whose members he did not appoint."

Q. I have contributed to social security for 10 years. How much will I get when I retire?

A. That depends on your earnings. The amount of your social security checks will be figured at the time you retire on the basis of your average earnings over a period of years. But your contributions over the past 10 years ensure that you have enough work to qualify for retirement benefits and Medicare and that your family is protected in case of your death.

Q. I get VA disability benefits. Can I get disability benefits from social security, too?

A. Yes, if you meet the social security disability requirements. The fact you get VA payments will have no effect on social security benefits. The disability requirements for social security are different than the requirements for the VA benefits however.

Kentland Hosts George Ade Festival

Who the heck is George Ade? The name is familiar, but just who is he? In the early 1900's Indiana newspapers said he was a traitor "to our fair state." This was in response to a remark he made when a lady commented, "Isn't it wonderful how many bright people come from Indiana?" Ade replied, "Yes indeed, and the brighter they are, the sooner they come." When he first started building his famous estate, Hazelden, the local people said he was "puttin' on airs."

S.J. Perelman considered him one of the greatest humorists America had produced. Millions of people, after seeing The College Widow or The County Chairman, said he was in the forefront of America's playwrights.

Ade wrote plays, novels, magazine articles, newspaper columns, and books of non-fiction. He was a humorist in the style of Will Rogers, a contemporary of James Whitcomb Riley and President William H. Taft. In fact from 1904 on, he hosted many of the great and near great at his country home near Brook, Indiana. Franklin Roosevelt's opinion of Newton County's favorite son was that Ade saw more clearly the follies of American life than most people in government positions; and what Ade saw, he recorded on paper.

Now you know a little about this great man in American literature. The residents of Kentland are holding a festival in his honor and in the tradition of Ade's famous parties and entertainments, they have planned a whole weekend of fun.

Mentone GAA Begins Season

Members of the Mentone GAA met on September 21 in a meeting called to order by the vice-president Alma Waddle. After routine business was discussed, Candy Smythe and Rita Marshall were admitted to membership.

Paula Beck was elected student council representative and Deb Davis was elected reporter.

On the suggestion of the advisor, Mrs. Finney, the girls voted to make the reporter also serve as historian.

The girls played kickball and speedway after the meeting adjourned.

The September 28 meeting was called to order by Becka Larrew and a discussion was held concerning a money making project. The girls voted to have a car wash on October 24 to help raise money for the annual awards.

Volleyball was enjoyed after the meeting.

Akron GAA Girls Attend Camp

Four girls from Akron High School attended the District GAA camp held at Epworth Forest, Sept. 19 and 20. They were Debbie Beasley, Joanne Hill, Terry Fisher, Nila Earl, and their sponsor, Alberta Davis.

They participated in many sports with several girls from other schools. The Akron GAA girls were also in charge of the church service on Sunday morning.

The trouble with staying home from work is that you have to drink coffee on your own time.

Parke County Re-Covers Bridges' Bygone Era

On the banks of the Wabash you'll find a remarkable touring attraction--Parke County's Covered Bridges. Today's Chicago Motor Club-AAA tour takes you to the Covered Bridge capital of the world, which also offers some of the Midwest's most spectacular fall landscape.

The 14th annual Parke County Covered Bridge Festival, Oct. 9 through Oct. 18, in Rockville, Ind. on the Wabash River recaptures a bygone era. Parke County boasts 38 covered bridges, more than any other county in the world, and in addition offers three state parks, a 2,000 acre lake and 175 miles of streams and creeks. The result is a fall setting of unmatched beauty.

The bridges have been preserved by residents of the area as a reminder of the past. They were originally built with roofs by Parke County's early settlers in order to protect the bridge floors from the elements.

The festival centers around the county seat, Rockville. Free maps of the four escorted tours can be obtained at the Tourist Information center one block from the Rockville courthouse. The tours are well marked for individual excursions and guided bus tours are available also.

The various routes pass through scenic valleys and, of course, encompass the unique covered bridges. Among other attractions in the tour area are the boyhood home of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, former U.S. Speaker of the House; Sugar Creek Hills; Turkey Run State Park; two 1835 restored log cabins and a grist mill; and an old water-powered mill.

During the festival, a huge tent in Rockville provides cover for a Farmer's Market. Parke County's indigenous crops are on display: gourds, pawpaws, bittersweet, squaw corn, black walnuts, butternuts, pop corn-on-the-cob, maple syrup, apple butter and various persimmon delicacies.

Other features of the 10 day festival include a pit barbecue beef dinner, a pancake breakfast, free slide presentations and lectures about the bridges, and episodes from the over 150 years of Parke County history.

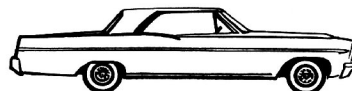

Footprints In The Wind

Steve Schipper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schipper, R. 1, Akron, recently found some balloons that had been released to promote the United Fund drive in Scova Heights, Ill. The balloons had come to rest in a tree near the Schippers' home.

Donald Butts, North Webster, son of Kosciusko County Auditor and Mrs. Lawrence Butts, former Beaver Dam area residents, and husband of the former Laura Curtis of Akron, has been named one of America's Outstanding Young Men of 1970. He was chosen for his many professional and civic endeavors and will be honored in the 1970 volume of Outstanding Young Men of America. His complete biography, containing his many accomplishments, will be featured in the volume.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

At the September President's Council meeting some important issues were discussed, and as some of our Extension Homemaker clubs were not represented, I would like to mention some of these issues.

Many of the clubs expressed an interest in either revising or dropping the Christmas Bazaar. The bazaar committee this year passed a rule that all clubs in the county must participate in the bazaar or be fined. Some clubs feel that they should not be forced into participating and others feel that the bazaar needs complete participation by all the clubs to be worthwhile. What is your feeling? Be sure and express it to your club president so she can represent you at the next council meeting where the issue will be voted upon.

YEAR CHANGE

A recommendation was made by myself and the executive board to change from the calendar year to the fiscal year. It was brought to a vote and it carried. The reason for the change is that Purdue University and your state and national association have changed to the fiscal year. So your county president was in the middle of her term when the new state officers took office. Also, all our administration procedures are handled on the fiscal year basis.

Hopefully, this change will not affect the clubs' program to a great extent, but for administrative purposes, the change will simplify our reporting and record keeping. If you'd like more information, your club president should have it. If not, come into the office for more information.

Art Colony Plans Lessons

The Fulton County Art Colony will conduct weekly art classes for ten weeks beginning the first week in October. Classes will be held at the Historical Society building on Race St., Rochester, and the county room at the Rochester library.

There will be beginner sketching and figure drawing and advanced sketching and figure drawing, taught by C. Lee Jennings, well-known Rochester portrait artist. Mr. Jennings has been Colony president for two years, has taught several figure drawing classes and won a popular award for an oil portrait at Rochester's Carnival of Arts earlier this month.

Beginners oil painting will be taught by Mrs. Doris Hood who has been active in Colony projects since its beginning in 1967. She won top awards in the State Grange Art Contests the last two years. She has studied with Mathilda Smith of Kewanna, Anita Hoehne of Rochester and Betty Moughn of Mishawaka.

Mrs. Anita Hoehne, R. 1, Rochester, will teach intermediate oil painting. She has studied with Opal Lehmus of Logansport and Bertha Duke of Indianapolis. She has previously taught classes in Rochester and has won several awards at the Logansport and the Rochester art shows.

These four classes will be held at the Historical Society building with intermediate oil on Monday evenings, advanced figure drawing on Tuesday evenings, beginner figure drawing and beginners oils on Wednesday evenings. All classes will begin at 7:30.

Children's sketching and oil painting for ages 10 to 13 will be held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. to 12 in the library basement. Mrs. Anita DuBois will teach this class. She has studied with Theodore Good in Warsaw and Anita Hoehne in Rochester and conducted a series of children's classes earlier this year.

Anyone wishing to register for classes may call Mrs. Agnes Henderson, 223-5873 or write her at R. 1, Rochester. Registration deadline is Oct. 3.

Miss Lewis Weds Gary Creviston

The First Baptist Church of Mentone was the scene of the recent candlelight wedding ceremony that united Miss Sharon Kay Lewis and Gary L. Creviston in marriage. Rev. Norman McVey of Mentone and Rev. Donald Messenger, Ft. Wayne, officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Mrs. Lee Kantenwein of Warsaw provided the nuptial music.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Mentone, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Creviston of Fort Wayne.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Janet Besson, Mentone. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Fields, of Huntingburg, Mrs. Steven Lewis, Tucson, Ariz., and Miss LuAnna Sarber, Mentone. Little Miss Carla Fields, Kewanna, was flower girl for her cousin.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother,

Dennis Creviston, Jacksonville, Fla., as best man. Other gentlemen attendants were James Wolfe, Columbia City; Steve Lewis, Tucson, Ariz.; Gary Cook, Cedarville, Ohio; Gary Welborn, Mentone. Dale Rentschler, Fulton, was ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple greeted guests at a reception held in the church social rooms. Attending the serving table were Mrs. Terry Reed, Rantoul, Ill.; Miss Landra Lowrey, Warsaw; Miss Diane Long, Avon, Ohio and Miss Geri Crottey, Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Lloyd Bowerman held the guest book and Miss Becky Hunter and Miss Kathy Tridle were in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Creviston, a graduate of Mentone High School, is a sophomore at Cedarville College. Her husband, a graduate of Elmhurst High School in Ft. Wayne, is a senior at Cedarville College. The newlyweds are at home at Kinsey Village Apartments, Apt. B-10, Xenia, Ohio.

Mrs. Olson Hosts Club

Mrs. Herman Olson was hostess to the Friendly Neighbors Extension Homemakers Club Thursday, Sept. 24, instead of Oct. 1, the regular meeting date.

Mrs. Everett Beeson, the president, opened the meeting with the singing, by the group of "America the Beautiful", the pledge to the flag and repeating the creed.

The history of the song "Dixie" was given by Mrs. Kyle Gibson and those present enjoyed singing it.

A poem, "Friendship," was read by Mrs. C. E. Walburn for meditation and at this time Mrs. Chas. Manwaring gave some of the highlights of her trip to Spain.

Mrs. Oral Welsh told of a hospital in Baltimore that operates without a kitchen. Food comes to the hospital cooked and frozen in small trays. At serving time it is placed in a micro-wave oven and heated in less than a minute. After serving is over, everything, dinner plates, trays, forks, spoons and knives, all get thrown into the incinerator. Another casualty of the disposable age is the kitchen.

For garden remarks, Mrs. M. O. Smith read that planting wild onions with roses protects them from bugs.

"Flower Arrangement" was the subject of Mrs. Kyle Gibson's lesson. She gave several guide lines and rules for the placing of flowers in vases and containers and rules for the preparation of flowers for winter bouquets. She assisted Mrs. Walburn in producing two beautiful arrangements.

After the business session, the president gave a report on the President's Council meeting with dates to remember.

The meeting closed in the usual manner by singing the club prayer song and repeating the collect.

To Be Married

Roy Hackworth, son of Mrs. Glen Powell, Mentone, will be married Friday evening to Pat Pruitt. Mr. Hackworth and Miss Pruitt both live in Kentucky. Mr. Hackworth graduated from high school last year, and the bride-elect will graduate from high school in the spring.

Mrs. Olson Hosts Club

Mrs. Herman Olson was hostess to the Friendly Neighbors Extension Homemakers Club Thursday, Sept. 24, instead of Oct. 1, the regular meeting date.

Mrs. Everett Beeson, the president, opened the meeting with the singing, by the group of "America the Beautiful", the pledge to the flag and repeating the creed.

The history of the song "Dixie" was given by Mrs. Kyle Gibson and those present enjoyed singing it.

A poem, "Friendship," was read by Mrs. C. E. Walburn for meditation and at this time Mrs. Chas. Manwaring gave some of the highlights of her trip to Spain.

Mrs. Oral Welsh told of a hospital in Baltimore that operates without a kitchen. Food comes to the hospital cooked and frozen in small trays. At serving time it is placed in a micro-wave oven and heated in less than a minute. After serving is over, everything, dinner plates, trays, forks, spoons and knives, all get thrown into the incinerator. Another casualty of the disposable age is the kitchen.

For garden remarks, Mrs. M. O. Smith read that planting wild onions with roses protects them from bugs.

"Flower Arrangement" was the subject of Mrs. Kyle Gibson's lesson. She gave several guide lines and rules for the placing of flowers in vases and containers and rules for the preparation of flowers for winter bouquets. She assisted Mrs. Walburn in producing two beautiful arrangements.

After the business session, the president gave a report on the President's Council meeting with dates to remember.

The meeting closed in the usual manner by singing the club prayer song and repeating the collect.

WATCHING FOR FISH TO SURFACE are these spectators. A Conservation Department boat with barrels of Rotenone is in the foreground.

Fish Eradication Program Completed At Silver Lake

Silver Lake, a 100-acre body of water comprised of North and So. Little lakes, is fishless as a result of a fish eradication program conducted Thursday by members of the Indiana State Conservation Department.

The lake was sprayed with Rotenone, 1,000 gallons of it, at the rate of one half gallon per acre (an acre of water considered to be one foot deep), and within thirty minutes of the first application, the fish began surfacing.

Area residents crowded the banks of the lake and many cruised the lake in boats to gather the fish as they surfaced. The fish were considered safe to eat if they were washed thoroughly.

The fish that were not picked up immediately will be taken by a fertilizer company which has placed barrels around the lake for people to deposit the fish.

The eradication program was the result of a study begun in 1965 that showed an overpopulation of small crappies, carp and shad. The overpopulation was not corrected through due process of nature, and it was deemed necessary to kill all of the fish and start fresh by restocking the lake.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

Have You Ever Been Lonesome?

Have you ever been genuinely lonesome? Have you ever been placed under circumstances that you felt yourself utterly alone? One does not, of necessity, have to be in surroundings where there is little life, where trees and vegetation are hard put to exist. Sometimes one can be made to feel absolute loneliness—one hundred percent alone—even though he may be in the city with a million other people.

There are, however, some who are never alone, no matter where circumstances or fate may place them. What is the secret? It is no secret! They have a God that is as real as are any of their surroundings.

How does one acquire the companionship and presence of such a God? The Church is a wonderful asset. Find a church that fits your needs, use it, and the companionship of God will be yours so that you need never be lonesome again.

Awarded $50,000 Judgement

Ernest E. Thompson was awarded a judgment of $50,000 in a damage suit he had filed against Richard and Iris Dickertoff, Mentone. The Rochester man originally asked $85,000 damages for injuries he alleges he suffered while an employee of the Dickertoffs.

Thompson said he was working for the Dickertoffs cleaning semi-trailers and spreading manure on the defendants farm when his clothing became caught in a power takeoff shaft between the tractor and spreader on Oct. 17, 1966.

He said that his clothing wound up on the power shaft and forced a handle on the spreader into his upper left leg and buttocks causing a penetrating wound and severance of the gluteal muscle and partial severance of the sciatic nerve.

He asked the damages for the injuries, medical expenses and loss of income.

The jury of 12 men deliberated approximately two and one-half hours before awarding Thompson the $50,000 judgment.

Sagging Wires Cause Chain Reaction

Sagging wires were to blame for an unusual accident at Hartford City, causing extensive damage to the car owned by Willard Kuhn, Burket, about 6:30 a.m. Monday when a lost driver endeavoring to locate the Chatfield Paper Co. turned at a wrong corner with his semi, striking the sagging wires which were torn down, causing a partially rotted light pole to fall. The pole struck the cab of the semi, causing damage, then bounced off and fell on Mr. Kuhn's car which had been parked in front of a relative's home. Mrs. Kuhn, who had gone to Hartford City to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law, was required to hire transportation to return home. She said the pole had been weakened when the paper company burned a home in the area. She reports three companies are involved in the settlement.

Wells says: Postpone building

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Richard D. Wells has advised the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation that it should wait until next October to make final plans regarding new construction. In a letter to the superintendent of schools, Robert Forbes, Wells made the following statement based on his recent tour of the Talma and Akron school buildings:

"The Talma Junior High School, although not a really desirable facility, seems adequate at the present time. It is important that we gain full use from our existing facilities. I believe the Talma building is usable for at least another five to eight years for some type of student use."

"The Akron School is adequate for continued operation without crowded conditions, with one exception. I am recommending that you prepare a proposal for a small addition to the Industrial Arts area. The addition should not exceed fifteen hundred square feet and should be attached to the existing structure. This addition will give a decent expansion in your most neglected area."

"In view of your enrollment decrease of ninety-two students from last year and on the fact that you are not in seriously crowded conditions in your school facilities this year, I believe you should wait until next October to make final plans regarding new construction. In 1971 you will be able to determine enrollment trends so that construction plans will be based on the latest information available. Apparently, it must be determined whether your corporation is going to have an expansion or decrease in its student population. To make a decision at this time regarding school construction may be a long-range error."

What did Sendak say?

Indiana Attorney General Theodore L. Sendak this week made a ruling concerning Greg Shireman's attempts to go to Rochester High School so he could take German but it wasn't until last evening that the Shiremans knew what the ruling was. One story that had appeared on the wire service said that Sendak had ruled that the school board could not rescind a previous board's action on such a case while an Indianapolis newspaper carried a story that said Sendak had ruled that a board could reverse a previous board's decision.

Sendak ruled that a newly elected school board has no authority to withdraw permission granted by an earlier board for a pupil to transfer to a school outside his district.

Greg Shireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shireman, R. 2, Akron, had wanted to transfer to Rochester High School so he could take German, a course not offered in the Tippecanoe Valley schools and one that he would need to pursue the college course he wanted to take. In March of 1970 the school board granted permission to the Shiremans to transfer their son to Rochester.

However, at the July meeting of the school board, the new board rescinded the previous board's approval of the transfer with board members Ralph Davis, Maurice Coplen, Dr. Donald Van Gilder and Philip Lash voting to rescind the approval and Richard Goshert voting against the motion.

While waiting word from Sendak, Greg Shireman has been attending Rochester High School.

At the same meeting that the Shireman motion was rescinded, an earlier motion to combine Akron and Mentone high schools into one school at Mentone was also rescinded as was a motion on an administrative salary schedule that did not include the salary of a principal at Akron.

Beeson Graduates From Law School

Larry Dean Beeson, of Indianapolis, recently graduated from the Indiana University Indianapolis School of Law with the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence. On September 16th he was sworn into the Indiana State Supreme Court and the Federal Court for the Southern District of Indiana.

He is a 1963 graduate of Mentone High School and received a Bachelor of Science degree from the Indiana University School of Business in 1967. He is a member of the Indiana and American Bar Associations and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Beeson, R. 1, Etna Green. Mr. Beeson and his wife, the former Tana Sue Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. Henderson, Sr., R. 5, Warsaw, reside at 6238 Brookline Drive, Indianapolis.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

A dozen weeks and twenty pounds ago, Loren gave me a bikini. An itty teeny navy blue bikini, small enough to fit in my hand and yet somehow large enough to stretch over the more vital parts of my anatomy--if I stood stock still. Actually, I had never expressed much interest in such a possession, but like most husbands mine is an optimist and he was so delighted with his purchase I hated to let him down by not modeling it.

Blushing to the tips of my hair, I sauntered into the living room and mustering more courage than I felt, modeled the suit, "Great! Looks terrific!" Loren said and feeling emboldened, I tapped twelve-year old Todd on the shoulder and as he turned from his comic book, he gasped, his face turned white and he managed to blurt out, "Oh my gosh! You gotta be kidding!" I hurried back to the bedroom felling extremely dejected and like a ton of lead.

A glance in the mirror assured me that Todd was probably far more honest than his father. Blunt, but honest. Everything stuck out. I pulled up the itty teeny brief to see if my stomach would stick out less and my legs looked like those of a female wrestler. I pushed the brief back to its proper position and the result was beyond description.

Thus launched the diet of the century. The diet chart said that on 1,000 calories a day I could lose two pounds a week. And I did. Not only that, I got a bi-cycle and rode, firming up muscles and feeling better than I had in years. The bikini still didn't look great but it covered more.

One sunny Sunday while sunning myself I began composing an Odds and Ends column: Ten weeks and twenty pounds ago I became the owner of a bikini.....The continuity was interrupted by Todd who shouted from the house, "Get in here Mom! Someone's coming!"

As I dashed into the house he threw a blanket around me and hurried me to my room before his friend could see me. There is nothing more demoralizing than trying to be a groovy-35 when you have an ultra-conservative 12-year old. It felt ridiculous.

I managed to elude my captor long enough to step on the scales and noted with pleasure that I was right on course. Ten pounds lost, ten pounds to go. I tip-toed back to the bedroom and took a nap, being careful to first smear on some stuff that should make me tan without sun.

The nap refreshed, the sun tan came off in the shower and when it came time to eat my cottage cheese and strawberries for supper I couldn't. I made popcorn, a treat for everyone else and poison for me. I ate four bowls full. It only added a pound and I didn't worry, but I should have because now I can say, "Many weeks and twenty pounds ago..." Ten pounds off, ten back on. Twenty pounds. Status quo.

The bikini was banned to the back of a dresser drawer. I found it the other day and wondered aloud: It's too cold now to wear it, but by next July surely those twenty pounds...

Next July you may read a column that begins, "A year and a hundred pounds ago....."

From "Speaking of a Free Press" - a collection of quotations about newspapers and a free press - published by the American Newspaper Publishers Association Foundation.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances. - First Amendment, United States Constitution.

If the press is not free, if speech is not independent and untrammelled, if the mind is shackled or made impotent through fear, it makes no difference under what form of government you live, you are a subject and not a citizen. - U. S. Senator William E. Borah.

A free press can of course be good or bad, but most certainly without freedom it will never be anything but bad... Freedom is nothing else but a chance to be better, whereas enslavement is a certainty of the worse. - Albert Camus.

Mary Aikins, candidate for State Auditor, vigorously campaigned door to door in Kosciusko and Fulton counties last week in an attempt to personally meet and listen to voters. Mrs. Aikins, an enthusiastic Democratic campaigner, undertook the walking visits to the counties to stay "in step with the people", part of a state-wide campaign being conducted by her party.

Everybody does it!

When Johnny was six years old he was with his father when they were caught speeding. His father handed the officers a five dollar bill and his driver's license. "It's OK, son," his father said as they drove off. "Everybody does it."

When he was eight, he was permitted at a family council presided over by Uncle George, which discussed the surest means to shave points off the income tax return. "It's OK, kid," said his uncle. "Everybody does it."

When he was 13 his mother took him to the movies and bought him a half-price ticket, explaining that he was under 12. "It's OK, son," she said. "Everybody does it."

When he was 15, he made right guard on the high school football team. His coach showed him how to block, and at the same time, grab the opposing end by the shirt so the official couldn't see it. "It's OK, kid,"

the manager said. "Everybody does it."

When he was 19, and had entered college, he was approached by an upper classman who offered the test answers for three dollars. "It's OK, kid," he said. "Everybody does it."

Johnny was caught and sent home in disgrace. "How could you do this to your mother and me?" his father said. "You never learned anything like this at home." His aunt and uncle were shocked.

60 YEARS AGO

Last Friday evening, at the residence of Mrs. Cora Whittenberger, occurred the marriage of her eldest and handsome daughter, Mary Belle, and Thomas Benton Webster, of Rustburg, Virginia. Rev. M. H. Krauss officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony, according to the rites of the M. E. church. This wedding is one of priceless value, not only because it is a beautiful ornament, but because it was used at the marriage of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Webster, in the year 1865, and was made from a gold nugget panned from Montana mines by the groom's father.

Last Friday was a disastrous day for the Wideman Bros. and their sister Miss Ida. They were filling their silo with new corn, and Levi Windbigler was running the ensilage machine with his steam engine. Soon after dinner the hay in the mow was discovered to be on fire and in five minutes the entire barn was enveloped in the hottest kind of flames.

About the most encouraging event that has stirred Akron for some time has just happened. The business men and others of Akron have decided that a commercial club will be necessary to guide the destiny of Akron and protect its common general interests. In union there is strength. Clubbed together with a determination to do something results will follow. Nothing will add tone and tenor to Akron's reputation more just now than the fact that it has an active, earnest commercial club.

MINI-SKITS ON MINI-SKIRTS
Now they've come out with new glasses for men who watch mini-skirts. They call them "thigh-focals" ...

The two most difficult tasks these days are for a man to get his salary to cover expenses and for a woman to get her mini-skirt to cover her knees ...
Today a woman is overdressed if she has anything to pull down after she sits down ...
Now we have see-thru blouses to go with see-thru brains ...
In the season of winter slush those mini-skirts seem to need something - perhaps mudguards. A lovely customer of ours started wearing her skirts 4 inches BELOW her knees. We call them many-skirts ...
You'll never find a "Merry" among the "HWI FRIENDLY ONES" at DAY HARDWARE, says Ron Conner. "Whether it be an extension cord for a lamp or plumbing and wiring for a complete house, DAY HARDWARE in Akron is the place to go (WHERE YOU AND YOUR HOME COME FIRST)" ...

A visit to a school playground

By Ann Sheetz

The public relations director from the Akron school called. Could I come take pictures of the new playground equipment? I guessed I could but the thought of trying to take pictures of tetherballs, volley ball courts and assorted games painted on a closed-off street really didn't appeal to me.

By the time I had been there two minutes I was having more fun than the kids were. Have you ever seen a boy run in a circle, dribbling a ball that he then pitched side-handed across a net for a volley ball serve? I have.

Have you ever seen boys wear gloves without being told to? The boys waiting to lunge at the tether balls that line the closed-off street had determined expressions on their faces and most of them wore gloves. That should surprise parents.

A game that was new to me, Four Square, was provided for in several painted areas but two enterprising boys were racing their cars on the lines. Between them and the volley ball courts and the tether balls were girls with jumping ropes and others with hula hoops.

I don't know if a closed-off, re-paved street is the proper playground or not but you'd better believe those kids were having fun.

And so was everyone watching them.

Deaf Man Designs Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of one of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. So we suggest you write for yours now. No obligation whatsoever. Write to: A. J. Wilder, 809 Steuben St., Wausau, Wis. 54401. Adv.

Mrs. Emerson Sheets, Akron, recently returned from a two weeks' vacation in California where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Loren Denney in Castro Valley, Mrs. Ed Ferrey of Los Altos Hills, and her son, RD2 Arnold E. Sheets, who is stationed with the U.S. Navy at Hunter's Point. Mrs. Denny was the former Louise Wilhoit of Akron and Mrs. Ferrey was the former Peg Leininger, daughter of Mrs. Earl Leininger and the late Mr. Leininger.

Most of Mrs. Sheets' time was spent sightseeing and touring various interesting places, such as Lake Tahoe, Nev. and its many fabulous hotels and casinos; Los Hermanos vineyards and the famous underground tunnels of the Beringer Bros. winery, Valley of the Moon (home of Jack London) and the walnut capital of the world.

She also saw Jean Peters' home, Stanford University, Hoover Tower, University of California at Berkeley, downtown San Francisco, Chinatown, Fisherman's Wharf and Alcatraz Island.

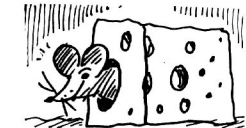

She reported the most tragic sights were the fires in the Berkeley-Oakland Hills where many beautiful homes were destroyed and damaged before World War II dive bombers, fighter bombers, torpedo planes and an 817 bomber crisscrossed the area dropping tons of fire retarding liquid on the out-of-control blaze.

The highlight of her vacation was the flight on the new 747 Astroliner, the plane with five spacious rooms and the diamond head lounge at the top of a spiral staircase. There were 16 stewardesses and a flight director on board. Each passenger was stopped before boarding the jet and, on a special piece of electronic equipment, was searched for any weapons that might be used in high-jacking.

While the plane trip was the highlight of her trip, in talking with Mrs. Sheets, one feels that there was a side grip that made a deep impression on her. Mrs. Ferrey entertained Mrs. Sheets and Mrs. Denny at a luncheon at the Allied Arts Guild, which is on three and one half acres of ground that was part of a land grant from the King of Spain to Don Jose Arguello, Commandant of San Francisco in the early 1800s and was later bought by world travelers Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Merner who continue to use the Spanish theme. The garden are reminiscent of those in Granada and were planned by Mrs. Merner and named in a Spanish manner. Paths are paved with stones from San Francisco Creek and many tiles and objects of art were brought from Spain, Tunis and Morocco.

Craftsmen brought their skills with metal, leather, weaving, pottery and wood to the Allied Arts Guild and it has become a unique landmark.

In 1932 the Merners became interested in the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital and asked the Palo Alto auxiliary to open a lunch room at the Guild, with the proceeds going to the hospital. All the help in the dining room and the shops is volunteer and tips are discouraged but if any are received, they are given to the hospital fund. From a small start, the trusteeship and management was in 1951 turned over to the Woodside Atherton Auxiliary and it is still run by volunteer help and the shops are full of gifts of crafts, silver, antiques and china.

In California, the Allied Arts Guild has the reputation of a beautiful, interesting and historic showplace and is know, above all, for its cause—the participation in the effort to bring health to the children of the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital.

Leadership is the process of helping people to do the worthwhile things they want to do.

The energy wasted in postponing until tomorrow a duty of today will often do the work.

When all else is lost the future still remains.

Car Hits Tree

Calvin R. (Rick) Ringler, 22, R. 1, Akron, sustained a cut on his right eye, bruises and abrasions when his car hit a tree in Athens last week. The sheriff's office said Ringle said a car pulled in front of him from an intersection at the east edge of Athens on Ind. 14, and that he braked his 1970 Plymouth and it went into the left lane, recrossed the highway and went off the right side, hitting a tree in the Dewey Zolman yard. Ringle is scheduled to appear Oct. 15 in Abe Caldwell's Akron J.P. Court to answer to a charge of speeding. His car was listed a total loss.

Accident Report

A 1970 Plymouth driven by Donald Caldwell, 39, Akron, struck the rear of a 1966 Lincoln driven by Stephen D. Waggoner, 22, Indianapolis, Saturday morning. The accident occurred on U. S. 31 at County Road 450 North (Indiana Metal Road). Damage was listed at $300 to each of the cars. The sheriff's office said both cars were headed north when the Waggoner car began to turn left onto 450 N and the Caldwell auto struck it.

SUNFLOWER SEEDS ANYONE?
I had an interesting request I would like to share with you. A homemaker called and wanted to know how to salt sunflower seeds. I must say it stumped me for a while. But I asked around and found out that anyone should know that. (That was one thing they overlooked in college). Here's how you do it: Soak the seeds overnight in a salt brine. The amount of salt would depend on individual preference. Remove the seeds from the salt water and place them on a cookie sheet. Bake at 350° for one half hour. Thought you might enjoy trying it!

RECIPE: The recipe this week is from the Chit Chat Extension Homemakers Club. They served the chicken salad at the District Workshop and President Council meeting and everyone thought it was delicious. Home you enjoy it!

HOT BAKED CHICKEN SALAD: 2 cups chicken (chopped), 2 cups celery (chopped), 1/2 cup almonds (chopped), 1 cup salad dressing or mayonaise, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 tsp. onion, minced (opt), 2 T. lemon juice, 1/2 cup cheese (grated), 1 cup potato chips (crushed), 2 hard cooked eggs (chopped). Combine chicken, celery, almonds, salad dressing, salt, lemon juice and onion. Pour into a greased casserole dish. Mix remaining ingredients. Sprinkle over casserole. Bake 450° for 10 minutes. Will make 6 servings.

DATES: October 14, Use of lighting and picture arrangement leader training lesson, 1 and 7 p.m., Women's building. October 22, Nature Craft special interest lesson, 1 p.m. Women's building.

October 27: Rehearsal for Achievement Night Style Show, 7:30 p.m., Women's Building.

Homemakers Tour Bavarian Village

by Mrs. Charles Yeaman

Eighty-two members of various Homemakers Clubs of Kosciusko County went by two chartered buses Wednesday to Frankenmuth, Mich. to spend the day at the Bavarian Village, which is a quaint part of old Germany brought to the United States.

The town was founded in 1845 by a Bavarian missionary society of twelve members and their pastor as the church in the wilderness for the Indiana. The town has one of Michigan's oldest and largest Lutheran congregations, Saint Lorenz Church. The original settlers discouraged contact with the outside world as they wanted to keep their way of life and religion pure. They still do not have a railroad and the town is isolated so far as public transportation is concerned although it is easily reached by car as it is only twenty five miles north of Flint.

The Bavarian Inn, with its balconies and window boxes filled with geraniums, makes one think of his idea of old Bavaria, and one can enjoy their traditional Bavarian recipes.

Highlighting the architecture is the Glockenspiel Tower with a thirty bell carillon that gives daily presentations with a Pied Piper figurine movement. Across the street is a famous restaurant called Zander's of Frankenmuth. It looks very much like a southern mansion and is well-known for its early American cooking.

Frankenmuth has the Christmas spirit 365 days a year for it is here that almost ninety five percent of all holiday displays used by cities, churches, stores and home are made, at Las Donas Club Sees European Slides

Members of the Las Donas Jr. Women's Club enjoyed an interesting European tour through the slides and experiences of Mrs. Walter Waechter, at the club's September social meeting. Mrs. Waechter also had on display many of her souvenirs from Europe and explained where and how she had obtained them.

Four new members, Mrs. Robert Shafer, Mrs. Miles Hoffman, Mrs. E. Y. Turner and Mrs. Fred Haney, Jr. were welcomed into the club.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. John McKee and her co-hostess, Mrs. Larry Horine to Mrs. Waechter, the four new members and Mrs. James Bickel, Mrs. Jerry Bickel, Mrs. Francis Davis, Jr., Mrs. Marvin Gagnon, Mrs. Randall Leininger, Mrs. Fred Ogle, Mrs. Dean Rager, Mrs. Dennis Thompson, Mrs. Richard Tilden, Mrs. David Wallin, Mrs. John Zimmerman and Mrs. Robert Ogle.

though they do have some imports. It is estimated that 35,000 people a month stop to browse in the display rooms.

Members of the Beaver Dam Club enjoying the trip Wednesday were Mesdames Winnifred Summe, Eva Huffer, Richard Whittenberger, Frank Hudson and Charles Yeaman.

They were Marvus Zimmerman, Marge Sausaman, Phyllis Thompson, Peg Horine, Kate Jennens, Anita Stephen, Priscilla Burdge, Bonnie Gearhart, Anne Kendall, Judy Day, Bonnie Holloway, Marilyn Miller and Pam Madeford. NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

ANGEL OF APPALACHIA, by Elizabeth P. Myers. There was little in Martha Berry's upbringing to indicate that she would give up a life of ease and luxury to satisfy the hunger for knowledge of the mountain children of No. Georgia. Unable to turn her back on human need she struggled to establish the new famous Berry Schools founded on her theory that work experience must be an integral part of learning. This is the story of a remarkable woman of extraordinary determination and energy.

TRUMPET AT THE GATES by Jan Wiggery. This is a dramatic historical novel set in England at the end of the 14th century. It is the story of a young man whose private search for vengeance against one of the realm's greatest lords leads him to the discovery of a secret which sweeps him into the maelstrom of violent political action.

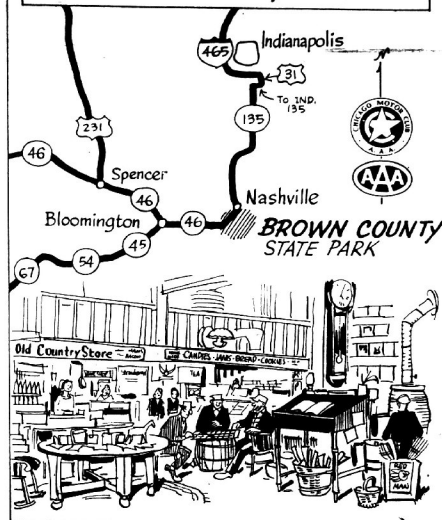

AGNEW, PROFILE IN CONFLICT by Jim C. Lucas. This revealing book traces the life of Spiro T. Agnew from his formative years in Baltimore as the son of a Greek immigrant through his governorship of Maryland and headline-making role as the 37th vice president.

AROUND THE WORLD AND OTHER PLACES by Ilka Chase. A delightful potpourri of exotic sights and sounds, of fascinating people and places—seen through the eyes of a fascinating woman.

YANOAMO, THE NARRATIVE OF A WHITE GIRL KIDNAPED BY AMAZONIAN INDIAN as told to Ettore Biocca.

BEFORE THE EAGLE LANDED. This is the history of aviation told for the first time in the words of the men and women who made that history. In chronological order from Orville Wright to Neil Armstrong the stories of actual flights are unfolded with all the excitement in which they were lived.

Chicago Motor Club-AAA TOUR BROWN COUNTY, INDIANA

South central Indiana's gift to midwestern artists also will reward motorists that embark on today's Chicago Motor Club-AAA tour. Brown County is one of the most picturesque fall-color spectacles in the nation.

Brown County State Park comprises 15,000 acres just south of Nashville, Ind. It is the largest state park in Indiana and at this time of the year it soon will be ablaze with natural color. The scenic hills and wooded landscape have long been a favorite haunt of artists.

The area has spawned at least two local artists groups, which display their work for visitors. The members of the Brown County Art Gallery Association show their work at the Brown County Art Gallery and the Brown County Art Guild hold forth at its own gallery.

Brown County mixes lush fall color scenery with the quiet tranquility of an ideal escape haven. The state park is comprised of hills that are so densely covered with foliage that they appear to be "mountains."

More than 27 miles of paved auto excursion paths wind up and down through this terrain which includes two artificial lakes, a game sanctuary, and a wild life museum. Weed Patch Hill, 1,152 feet high with an 80-foot observation tower, offers a magnificent panorama.

The Abe Martin Lodge in the state park is the center of recreation activities in the area. The lodge is named for a cartoonist, Kin Hubbard, who created Abe Martin and a host of other characters who inhabited this unique Brown County area.

The lodge offers cabins and excellent cuisine. It is the starting place for trail and horseback excursions through the park. A trip through the hills takes one past log cabins built by pioneers. A short distance away are the scenic attractions of Mt. Nebo in Van Buren Twp., Bear Wallow Hill on Greasy Creek and Bean Blossom Overlook.

Recreational activities include a large pool, archery range, and an excellent stable of saddle horses.

On the way home you may want to stop in Nashville, a town of approximately 500 people just north of Brown Co. State Park. It is noted for its artists' colony and native industries of weaving, wood-working, metal craft and dollmaking. A "Shoppers Lane" displays these artifacts and is set in quaint old buildings reminiscent of the original pioneer days of Indiana.

Progress has come to Brown County but the remarkable beauty of its rolling hills has been preserved for all to see.

GAA Girls Attend Camp

Two girls from the Akron GAA attended the state GAA camp at Epworth Forest October 3rd and 4th. They were Janet Sheetz and Julie Harshman. Among the sports played were football, basketball, cageball, volleyball, and field hockey. The girls also attended discussion groups and were in charge of the church services.

Rules For Bicycles Are Listed

Do you know the rules that apply to bicycle riding? Did you know that parents are responsible for what their children do on their bicycles?

The following ordinances pertaining to bicycle riding are published in co-operation with the police department and in the interest of promoting bike safety.

The numbers in parentheses refer to the Burns statute that applies for that particular law.

262. Traffic Laws Apply to Persons Riding Bicycles. Every person riding a bicycle upon a roadway shall be subject to the provisions of this Act applicable to the driver of a vehicle, except as to special regulations of this article, and except as to those provisions of this Act which by their nature can have no application. (47-2102.)

263. Riding on Bicycles. (a) A person propelling a bicycle shall not ride other than upon the permanent and regular seat attached thereto, nor carry any other person upon such bicycle otherwise than upon a firmly attached and regular seat thereon, nor shall any person ride upon a bicycle otherwise than as above stated.

(b) No bicycle shall be used to carry more persons at one time than the number for which it is designed and equipped. (47-2103.)

264. Clinging to Vehicles. Any person upon any bicycle, coaster, roller skates or toy vehicle shall not attach the same or himself to any street car or vehicle upon a roadway. (47-2104.)

265. Riding in a Group. Persons riding bicycles upon a roadway shall not ride more than two abreast except on paths or parts of roadways set aside for the exclusive use of bicycles. (47-2105.)

266. Carrying Articles. No person riding a bicycle shall carry any package, bundle or article which prevents the rider from keeping both hands upon the handle bars. (47-2106.)

267. Audible Signal. No person shall ride a bicycle unless it is equipped with a bell or other device capable of giving a signal audible for a distance of at least one hundred feet, except that no bicycle shall be equipped with, nor shall any person use upon a bicycle any siren or whistle. (47-2107.)

268. Lamps and Brakes. (a) Lamps and Brakes on Bicycles. Every bicycle operated on a public highway from one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise shall be equipped with a lamp on the front exhibiting a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred feet to the front and with a lamp on the rear exhibiting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear; except that a red reflector meeting the requirements of this Act may be used in lieu of a rear light.

Take your problems to Church this week -

What Amuses Today May

Become Commonplace Tomorrow!

Today she's fascinated by the rainbow hues of the soap bubbles. Yesterday she played at keeping house — tomorrow — perhaps some new fangled doll may amuse her.

So it is with all children, throughout all the ages, for they are merely reproducing the history of the human race — ever seeking some new toy — some new release from the humdrum existence of everyday life.

But, when all these things have been tried and found wanting there must be something more soul satisfying to keep alive the desire of being.

The youngster, who at an early age discovers the value of regular Church attendance grows up to realize that when fleeting pleasures are gone there need be no void — but an utterly satisfying and all enduring faith.

WORLD OF TOMORROW: Huge farm factory machines (bottom) which harvest one crop, prepare the soil for another and plant it, all in one trip over the field, will be used on many farms at the turn of the century, Ford Motor Company farm machinery experts predict. The new machines will improve efficiency, make weather less a factor in farming and replace even specialized equipment (top) such as tractors with implements and self-propelled combines now used to handle soil preparation, planting and harvesting separately. The prediction is contained in Ford Tractor Operations' film strip, "Agriculture 2000", available for group showings.

Environmental Workshops Are Established

A unique program to make teachers and administrators acutely aware of current ecological and environmental problems is being carried on by State School Superintendent Richard D. Wells.

Continuous weekend conservation workshops are being held in various state parks, fish and game areas, state forests and 4-H camps across Indiana by Joe Wright, consultant for Conservation and Outdoor Education.

This new approach to education in-service training has been designed to develop favorable attitudes toward the national priority of solutions to environmental pollution.

The weekend group camps give teachers and administrators the opportunity to study various environmental-ecological problems and possible solutions to the problems. The educators then go back and implement suggestions for conservation education in their own schools.

Classes in geology, wildlife, plants, techniques for teaching conservation education, ecology, outdoor laboratories, environmental education and outdoor education are conducted by experts in their particular fields. They provide teachers and administrators with background information needed to develop programs in conservation and outdoor education.

The group camp concept gives the educators and their families an ideal opportunity to live and learn together in a natural setting. Many educators bring trailers or tents and prepare their own meals, rather than stay in workshop cabins. Regardless of which accommodations are chosen, everyone is invited to attend the stimulating classes and discussions.

Upon completion of a week-end workshop, the participants have (a) become acquainted with environmental materials (b) acquired techniques for teaching environmental education (c) gained an appreciation of environmental education in relation to other school subjects; and (d) increased their awareness of environmental educational objectives. All educators attending the in-service training program receive a certificate signed by Wells.

Additional information is 46204, phone 317-633-4507. may be obtained by writing or calling Joe Wright, OSPI Division of Curriculum, Indianapolis-

deCycles Ride Through Area Saturday

by Ann Sheets

Saturday morning is a slow time at our house. We move and that's about all. I guess because we are so slow we think everyone else is too. Not so.

Last Saturday morning a reader called from Akron to report that the deCycles, a bicycle riding group from Hartford City, were having a Kool Aid break at the Akron school and would make an interesting picture. I hurriedly finished breakfast and hurried toward Akron. It's seven miles but knowing how slow I ride I figured there'd be plenty of time to get the camera and get the boys' pictures. To my surprise, I passed them while only half-way to Akron. Driving faster, I scooped up the camera and hurried back north to see if they were in the same spot I'd last seen them. They weren't. I average riding about ten miles an hour. I'd driven more than 20 minutes and they'd beaten me three times.

Finally locating them half-way to Mentone, I stopped and talked to the group's leaders and took pictures of some of the boys.

deCycles, they told me, is a non-profit making organization with its headquarters in Hartford City. Officers are Bob Hardley, Hartford City, president; Keith West, Rochester, vice-president; John Brane, director of bands at Taylor University, is treasurer and Steve Gonser, a teacher at Gas City, is secretary.

On this particular bright October Saturday there were 27 boys, all from Rochester, participating in the bike hike. This group ranged in age from five to nine. Another group of boys in the 10-13 age category had ridden the week before and last summer an older group of over-14 year olds had ridden 3100 miles through Pennsylvania, New England, Quebec and back into Michigan and home. Gone four and one-half weeks, they rode 191 miles one day to break the American record for group mileage.

No records were being broken this Saturday.

Each boy has his own locker in the trailer, many of which are visible behind the boys. Bedding and sleeping bags are stored in the lockers.

Hurt Protecting Sister

Steve Norton, 14-year old son of Mentone Town Marshal and Mrs. Gene Norton was treated at the Murphy Medical Center Tuesday morning for a cut mouth and loosened teeth he received while going to the defense of his sister, Mrs. Richard Piper.

Norton was visiting his sister's home when four men believed to be from Warsaw followed his brother-in-law home from work at Warsaw and forced their way into the home. Piper had been in the home only a few minutes when the incident occurred.

Marshal Norton said two of the men, who allegedly were intoxicated, forced Piper out into the yard and took away his glasses and tried to force him into a fight.

During this time, one of the men threatened Mrs. Piper and her brother was hurt going to her defense.

Marshal Norton is working with the prosecuting attorney of Fulton Co., and charges will be filed. Charges of assault and battery and malicious trespass are being considered.

The investigation is being continued by Marshal Norton.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I Was There

Dear Editor:

"I Was There" Four months now in Muncie and it is a great place. We have everything, wealth, education, poverty, afflicted people, uneducated people, it is a city of contrast, but it has a heart. The things that I am already connected with are: First comes Main Street Church Sunday morning and Sunday night, Sunday School and Thursday Noon service. Soon we will have a 6 a.m. Thursday Service also. We have Head Start Program. We feed 50 children at noon in which we must raise the money for. We feed from 20 to 100 for breakfast. This morning a third grader wanted me to read a story to her. She does not have a father and her mother works from 5 a.m. until 5 p.m. and sets the alarm for her to get up. We have an After-School program for children to stay until their mothers get home from work. We have from 30 to 70 Senior Citizens who spend two days a week at the church. I feed many old men who walk in off of the street. We are just beginning with youth of high school age. Two youth were picked up for pushing dope who live just three houses from me. I am Chaplain of the New Horizon Club which is former mental patients who are trying to make it on their own. I go to the Emergency Pantry to feed hungry people. I am on the Delaware County Council of Churches trying to help set up release time for Bible Study, also to help married couples that have problems. I am busy with the Bible School, we give away Testaments to those without. We need to raise the money. A lady was just in from one of the Sunday School Classes, and paid for a family of ten their book rent that cost $69.00. The family does not come to our church. There is a need here. God has raised up people to help. Over forty people volunteer their services here at Main Street without pay. I am here and I am glad.

Sincerely,
Garrett H. Phillips

Phosphate Count

Dear Loren and Ann,

We've been interested in conservation of natural resources for a long time. So when I ran across the little news article concerning Canada's restriction on detergents with high phosphate content, I asked Sarah Dunham for permission to submit it to you. I'm also enclosing a chart of a number of popular detergents and their phosphate content. If you publish this information, I hope many of the area ladies will be encouraged to change to a low-phosphate detergent. Our waterways are worth preserving. Thanks for listening.

Always,
Marie and Lamoin Hand
R. 1
Huntington, Ind.

NOTE: The article to which the Hands referred is published here:

Three cheers for the wise decision of the Canadian government to ban all detergents that contain more than 20% phosphate contents! Recently while shopping at the supermarket, I was offered a free box of Axion and that didn't go over well with me, because those of you who have been following my crusade against detergents with high phosphate content know that Axion is the biggest offender of them all, as it contains 43.7% phosphate! This is twice the amount of phosphate content that is being banned by Canada!

Along with the detrimental effect that high phosphate detergents have on our waterways, it has been proven that the enzymes in such detergents are causing skin irritations to the workers in manufacturing plants where the products are made. Similar irritations occur to housewives who may be unaware of the real cause. A simple solution may work wonders to clear up the skin problems and it definitely will help to clean our polluted waterways.

It may no longer be a matter of choice about buying the detergent brands that promise whiter washes if the United States government follows the wisdom of the Canadians in banning those which contain over 20% phosphate. Why not begin now in buying and using the well known, old reliable brands such as Trend, Ivory Snow, Fels Naptha, Lux and Dialer Pure? As the washer is loaded with water, add one of the above mentioned low phosphate detergent brands. For front loading machines about 1½ cups should be used, while top loaders can take 1-2/3 cups.

In these days of skyrocketing prices, we owe it to our families to save money wherever we can, so we could begin by cutting out the use of high-priced and unnecessarily high phosphate containing detergents. Phosphates are added to make washes appear cleaner, but the same results can be obtained through the use of low phosphate brands and washing soda which costs a lot less and doesn't pollute our vital waterways at all. In hard water areas it is recommended that ¼ cup of washing soda be used for a brighter, cleaner wash. Your efforts will be rewarded in not only obtaining very favorable results with all future laundry, but you will be helping to save our valuable waterways from dreadful phosphate pollution.

Sarah Dunham

Bio Bomb News

By Jack Pearce with cooperation of Citizens Against Water Pollution, Monmouth College, West Long Branch, New Jersey

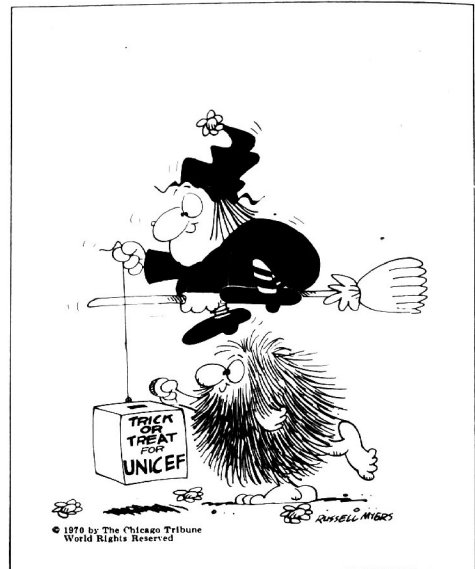

It is well-known that certain chemicals serve as nutrients which result in an overgrowth of aquatic plant life. "Red Tides" and similar phenomena, often result from excess nutrients. Common household detergents are a major source of phosphates, which function as nutrients. Detergents discharged into sewage systems emptying into Lake Erie played a major role in that vast ecosystem, as well as many other streams and smaller lakes. The following list gives the phosphate content of the majority of name-brand detergents. Do the environment and yourself a favor and ask your grocer for the low phosphate brands. You might suggest that he take the others off the shelf. He won't of course, but the word may eventually get back to Procter and Gamble, etc.

APOLLO 11 - THOTS
Thruout life we're taught to "Put our right foot forward," "what, then, are we expected to make of the fact that Neil Armstrong stepped onto the moon by putting his left foot backward?"
Armstrong and Aldrin have proved that even astronauts are sometimes moonlighters.
True, the moon trip cost us several billion dollars but at least it was American Plan and included meals.
People always said the moon was made of green cheese, but I know it was Limburger. Why else would Armstrong and Aldrin be kept in isolation so long?
The Apollo 11 travelers have at least discovered one place to visit where no one yells, "Yankee go home!"
"You've got to give credit where credit is due," says "HWI FRIENDLY ONE" Janice Secor. DAY HARDWARE'S Fall circular is filled with Coupons and Bonus Buys that beat all others. Be sure to bring your circular with you so you don't miss a one of these Wonderful Bargains!"

Ruel W. Steele, chairman of the Indiana State Highway Commission, this week released a status report on the progress for the remaining four laning of US 31 from Indianapolis north to the Indiana-Michigan state line that shows that a 13.6 mile section of the road from the north end of the Peru by-pass to the south edge of Rochester is now in the right-of-way engineering and is estimated to advance to the appraisal section yet this year.

Extending on north from the south edge of Rochester to SR 110, for a distance of 10.4 miles, 54 parcels of land are involved and all have either advanced to the appraisal section or will be yet this month, following which same will proceed to land purchase.

In order to facilitate this construction, the State Highway Commission has lifted out of this project two sets of twin bridges over the Tippecanoe River and the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad west of Rochester which will be let by separate contract, and the department is working to get these two twin structures under contract yet this year. Both of these twin structures will be on the by-pass west of Rochester, and when the by-pass and structures are completed will eliminate the hazardous one lane bridge now in use north of Rochester over the Tippecanoe River which is controlled by a traffic signal.

Steele said it is the goal of Governor Whitcomb and his administration to extend every effort to get under contract the four laning of all remaining mileage of US 31 from north of Indianapolis to the Indiana-Michigan state line and that the Commission feels it is on schedule toward meeting this goal.

Electric Power Demand Hits Record

Public Service Indiana customers used 2,173,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity during the peak hour of 1970—an all time record.

The company, which provides electric service in 69 counties, said that it was able to handle this record demand for power and still have a comfortable reserve.

no sweat

...for you or us. The peak electric power demand of 1970 was not only met but we had a 12.6% power reserve. (That's enough to supply electricity for homes in 6 cities the size of Kokomo!) We know the future is electric... and we'll be ready by building now. By 1972 we will have added enough generating capacity to serve the additional electricity needs of 850,000 homes. Over the next 6 years we'll be building as much new generating capability as we've installed over the past 58 years. There's plenty of electric power in Indiana now—and we're making sure there always will be.

It is so easy to complain when something doesn't suit us. But it is much more difficult to work to improve the situation. We all complain about the war, inflation, and the general shape of our country, but how many of us write to our congressman and tell him what we think.

The same situation holds true in any organization. There is always room for improvement. But someone or some group has worked very hard to get to that level of imperfection. So rather than look for the good points we jump to criticism.

Membership in any organization requires a certain amount of sacrifice on our part. There are meetings to attend and rules to follow. And sometimes the majority over rides our personal ideas and we must obey. But you get as much out of an organization as you put into it. We should look at every experience as a chance to discover something new about people of life. The next time you hear someone complain why not think of something good to say?

CEREALS

Much has been written recently concerning the validity of cereal advertisements. Dr. Frederick Stare, chairman of the Department of Nutrition at Harvard University, has stated that most cereal studies ignored the fact that most breakfast cereals are consumed with milk. If milk is used they do supply proper nutrition. Dr. Stare goes on to say, "What good does it do to have some super food nutritionally speaking if people don't eat it. If cereal advertising can induce more people to eat breakfast, it will be a healthy plus for many children."

20 Years Of International Partnership

Korean laborers unload rock from hand carts at the site of a dike they are building to reclaim land from the sea. Much food used as wages in starting these projects was furnished by CROP, the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service.

For the past 24 years Korea Church World Service has administered programs of compassion which people quickly recognize as the work of relief agencies — feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, and healing the sick.

However, KCWS workers early realized that long-range hope lay in helping the Korean people help themselves, so that one day external assistance would no longer be needed.

Trained personnel went to live in the villages to help implement community development projects, including rice mills, wells, schools, and farm-to-market roads. Improved livestock and seed were provided to farmers, and food-for-work projects along the coast reclaimed thousands of acres of tillable tideland.

Support for KCWS came from the people of the United States through Church World Service, Lutheran World Relief, and CROP, the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service.

By the end of 1970 all KCWS programs will have been transferred to Korean administration, a successful climax to two decades of international partnership.

Valentine Elected Vice President

Leo Valentine, former Mentone area resident, was elected vice-chairman at the recent meeting of the 96 county ambassadors of Albion Production Credit Association.

The stockholders meeting was held in eight sections, one being in each county served by the farm credit institution (Allen, DeKalb, Elkhart, Kosciusko, LaGrange, Noble, Steuben and Whitley.) Each county is also served by six ambassadors and their wives elected for two-year terms. They do not succeed themselves. Three are elected each year and this year Calvin Dodson, Wm. (Bud) Watkins were elected to serve with Valentine, John Stookey and Alton Brown. Watkins was elected chairman in Kosciusko and Valentine vice-chairman. The association representative serves as secretary for the county. The chairman also serves his county as a member of an eight member nominating committee that selects candidates to be voted on for Directors of the Association.

Robert Reed of Wolcottville and Lincoln Booth of Orland were introduced as the successful director candidates for three-year terms. These two men serve with August Kruse, Jr., of Fort Wayne, Don H. Beer of Milford and J. Merlin Hindbaugh of Columbia City to make up the five man board. The association anticipates it will loan nearly 30 million dollars to its 2,500 members this year.

Willard N. Schieler is manager in Kosciusko county and Mrs. Carl (Lottie) Zimmer is office assistant.

Local Counties View Indian Hills

Four counties of Southern Indiana are getting a new lease of life as a result of Lincoln Hills Resource Conservation and Development Project (R.D.&D.). This effort, sponsored by the four soil and water conservation districts (SWCD's) and Rural Area Development Committees of Harrison, Crawford, Perry and Spencer counties, began with the passage of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962. Mitchell Gene Hassler, Project Coordinator, reviewed the project objectives with the SWCD Supervisors and other local leaders of Fulton, Kosciusko, Marshall, Starke, Pulaski, and White counties during a meeting at the Fulton County REMC recently.

These six counties are tied together into a common resource area by the Tippecanoe River. The SWCD's feel that multi-county cooperation is needed to solve many common resource problems.

Several people from these six counties visited the Lincoln Hills area in mid-September to view the results of the project. Clarence Martens, Fulton Co. REMC manager, commented that one of the most significant items he noted was the way people from all walks of life worked together, disregarding county lines, to accomplish activities beneficial to all. He stated there is need for local counties to organize and develop their potential as the Lincoln Hills people have. Bank deposits in the four counties have steadily increased as a result of the project effort.

"The Lincoln Hills project is a terrific development effort," commented Harold Richie, a Pulaski county resident taking part in the tour. "This activity will make the Lincoln Hills a better place to live. It came about only after a lot of hard work by many people."

Mr. Richie further stated the 4 C's are some of the keys to a successful R.C. & D. project. Coordination - between projects; Communications - between all the people; Cooperation - between the town and country folks; and Conservation - the wise use and development of the resources, both human and natural.

"R.C. & D. approach is merely one of the local people planning ahead and then going after the problem areas," Hassler related. He used colored slides to point out many of the problems the Lincoln Hills people are working on. Project they are working on are flood prevention, erosion control, improved employment opportunities and job training, tourist promotion, improved wildlife habitat, beautification, arts and crafts and many others. Local people receive technical help from many sources, including cooperative Extension Service, Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Stabilization Service, Indiana Department of Natural Resources, Soil Conservation Service and local governments.

Delbert Hunter, Fulton County SWCD supervisor, chaired the meeting and asked that each of the counties discuss this cooperative approach further and meet again and decide on future activities.

STATE POLICE OFFICERS demonstrate the fuel transfer system that will be included on all the 1971 patrol cars. It will enable troopers to transfer gasoline directly from their own to other vehicles.

To Come To Aid of Stranded Motorists

Indiana State Police troopers have found a quicker, safer and more efficient way to come to the aid of motorists who run out of gas along Hoosier highways.

State Police Superintendent Robert K. Konkle announced that the Department's 1971 patrol cars will be equipped with a fuel transfer system that will enable troopers to transfer gasoline directly from their own to other vehicles.

Konkle explained that, at the present time, to help drivers who have run out of gasoline, troopers must make a round trip between the scene of the emergency and the nearest service station. The days, he said, are often lengthy. "And," he added, "at night, the motorist and his family face the peril of an accident or possible criminal assault."

Troopers are forbidden from carrying fuel containers in their patrol cars due to the risk of explosion. Fumes might be ignited by the vehicle's mobile radio transmitter.

The fuel transfer system is a simple valve and hose attachment on the fuel line. The trooper attaches the hose to the gas tank of the stranded vehicle and opens the valves. In approximately 80 seconds one gallon of gasoline is transferred. The device will not operate unless the patrol car engine is running.

MINI SPLENDORED—Want to have your mini and wear it two ways? Arpeja of California shows how: wear it as stylish topping for a softly shaped pantsuit of authentic-looking cotton suede. Or, if you're short-sighted, leave off the pants and wear it as a mini tunic dress.

SKIRT THE ISSUE—A coed's way with the midi: choose a style that buttons down the front but leave it unbuttoned halfway to show a flash of legs. In step with fall's layered look, Miss Pat's cotton knit outfit includes a V-necked vest topping a long-sleeved shirt.

LONG ON FASHION—One way to ease into fashion's new longer length: wear gauchos—the mid-calf pants that are a divided skirt and vice versa. White Stag does them in ribless cotton corduroy, with matching button-front vest. A gaucho-inspired hat and black boots complete the look.

FOR FALL 1970

Fashion Lets You Skirt The Issue Of Hemlines

If you want to skirt the issue of hemlines in your fall wardrobe, 1970 fashions allow ample room for fence-straddling.

One great compromise of the season, for example, combines a wide wale cotton corduroy coat in the new longer length with a matching mini-skirted dress.

Another look that encompasses the long and short of it is the pantsuit that melds a mini-length tunic with long flare-legged pants. The mini-inclined can also wear the tunic separately as a dress.

A subtle way to ease into the longer mood of fashion 1970 is via the gaucho. Borrowed from the Argentine cowboy, the mid-calf gauchos are the pants that are a divided skirt . . . and vice versa. Either way you look at it, the gaucho is clearly one of fall's most popular styles.

Still another approach that offers the best of the two fashion looks is the button-front midi-skirt. The young have come up with a way to bridge the polarization in hemlines: they bring the midi and the mini together by simply buttoning their skirts only half-way down . . . thus insuring mini exposure with midi style.

Whether you're an out-and-out advocate of the midi or a diehard for the mini, fall 1970 is the season to experiment with fashion . . . put things together . . . discover what's best for you. More than just a new length, fall offers a look that's soft, easy, and slender.

California designers express the fashion message in soft cotton suedes, buckskins, knits, ribbed and ribless corduroys, and velveteens that take to the supple shaping so vital to the new look.

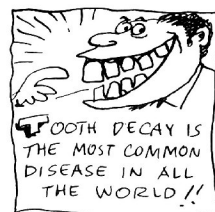

When it comes to planning your own wardrobe for fall, you may not want to be the first in your crowd to come out in a midi . . . but on the other hand, make sure you're not the last to lay the mini aside.

although it had seemed for a time that they could ride faster than I could drive. They had left Rochester at 9:30 a.m. and had stopped in Akron for a Kool-Aid break. Their accompanying truck pulling the trailer that contains their kitchen and individual lockers for each boy had accompanied them, stopping at intervals and waiting for the boys to catch up. They would go on to Mentone for lunch and then would head towards Bremen to spend the night at the United Methodist Church. On Sunday they would return to Rochester by way of Plymouth and Culver.

deCycles, a year-round youth program, also includes canoeing, weekend cave exploring trips and ski trips to northern Michigan.

Blue To Be Guest Speaker

Dr. Royal Blue, a native of Mentone who is presently pastor of No. Valley Baptist Church at Redding, Cal., will begin a five day crusade at the Country Church, located three miles north of Bourbon on Indiana 331.

Dr. Blue has been pastor of North Valley Baptist Church for the past eight years. He was asked to serve as pastor of the church when it was started with only six families. It now has a membership of 1200.

Before going to Redding, Dr. Blue served as minister of youth for eleven years at the First Baptist Church of Van Nuys, Cal., which has a membership of over 8,000. When he left that church, there were over 1,000 young people actively engaged in the youth program there.

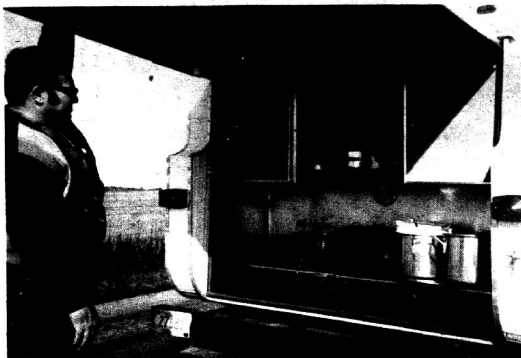

Dr. Blue is a graduate of the Biola Bible College where he was president of his 1954 graduating class. During the past year, he has been very busy in the camping program, gospel outreach, special speaking engagements and helping many smaller churches become more fully established. He is the father of three children, two teenagers and a son who is a dental student at U.C.L.A. Pastor Blue has spoken at youth camps and youth rallies and colleges in Oregon, California and Arizona.

Services at the Country Church will begin at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 a.m. on Sunday morning. Guest musicians and singers are Rev. and Mrs. David Fruth of the Argos Wesleyan Church.

Rev. Robert Klatt is the pastor of the Country Church.

School Board discusses equipment, aid

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board and Superintendent of Schools Robert Forbes Monday night told a parent who complained about the treatment his son received from a bus driver that discipline was the responsibility of the bus drivers and the principals, not the administrators. The question arose during the audience period when a father objected to his son's being put off a bus because of discipline problems.

Dr. Charles Miller,

Akron dentist, appeared to ask permission to conduct another "brush-in" in the schools. After some discussion, a decision was reached allowing Dr. Miller and Dr. Donald VanGilder to conduct this program in the corporation schools. They noted that some second grade students have never held a tooth brush in their hands and that if they can help a small number of the students they feel the project is effective.

Following routine business of approving the claims, payroll, hearing a financial report, buying land for the building trades house and signing an affidavit for the sale of the Beaver Dam ground, the board entered into discussion concerning a contract with Northern Indiana Public Service Company for the purchase of natural gas. The board authorized the contract on a one-year basis to see if a saving in costs could be effected.

At an earlier meeting, several interested Mentone mothers had appeared to ask that playground equipment be provided at that school and Forbes had been authorized to conduct a survey of all the corporation's schools. As a result of the survey,

Loughlin To Speak At Akron School

John Loughlin, Democratic candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will speak at the Akron School Multipurpose Room Monday evening, October 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Loughlin, who is opposing incumbent Richard

Wells in the November election, has taught mathematics in So. Bend schools for 13 years. He is a graduate of Indiana University and holds a master's degree in secondary education. He was elected State Representative in 1968 and served with distinction in the 1969 General Assembly. When the legislature adjourned, he was named the outstanding Democratic freshman representative of the session having served on several important committees and was the chairman of the School Finance and School Distribution Task Force.

Loughlin has said his goal is to "Take politics out of education and keep it out."

A question and answer period will be held at the conclusion of his talk.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Girls Need Gyms, Too

Dear Editor:
Our problem: We, the Akron Girls Athletic Association would like to have the high school gym one night a week, after school, for practice.

We, the Akron G.A.A. girls, are concerned with the treatment we have been receiving from the administration of T.V. S.C. We feel that the use of the gym should be for the entire school system, not just a part of it. The comment was made, "No one ever hears about the G.A.A., but basketball is the leading sport here at Akron, as well as in Indiana." Our answer to that is, "If we had a chance to practice with every member present we would be heard about!" For the most part, the boys have cars or their own transportation to the school for basketball practice later in the evening, where it is hard for freshmen and sophomore girls to get a way to practices. Therefore, it is difficult for the G.A.A. to maintain an active association.

Little cooperation has been received from the superintendent, principal, or coach. They feel that the use of the gym should be reserved for the coaches. We have fifty girls in G.A.A. compared to the thirty boys going out for basketball. If the girls of Akron High School are to have an active G.A.A. we feel parents are going to have to express their feelings of this matter.

Remember....The girl's parents are paying just as much for the gym as the boy's parents!

Dirty Water

Dear Editor:

Last summer during the sewage argument we were told that the town board's plan was intended to help poor widows in the community. We got our water bill plus a sewage disposal we haven't got yet and we don't know when we will get it. In fact, the water is so dirty at times, it isn't fit to use. Even though at times it isn't fit to use, we offered to pay for it but they told us they wouldn't take the money for the water unless we paid the sewage bill for service we haven't got.

Two years ago we were told if we got 50 people to sign a petition to clean up the town parking lot and took it to the town board they would get it cleaned up which they did not do.

Mr. Kendall tells us to pay the sewage bill for which we haven't gotten any service or he will shut our water off.

Now if this is the kind of care the town board wants to give us poor widows, we don't want it. We want to pay our honest debts, and we want clean water but we don't want promises that aren't kept.

one piece of equipment each was purchased at Akron and Burket, and a purchase order for $1000 of equipment at Mentone was discussed at length with an eight-seat swing set being eliminated because it was considered too dangerous and not of benefit to enough children. Equipment to be ordered includes two merry-go-rounds, outdoor musclemen, and three-way ladders. Forbes also reported that tether balls had been provided at the school. He read notes on each of the questionnaires completed by the Mentone teachers that indicated they would like to be relieved of playground duty in order to have more time for lesson preparation. It was the opinion of the board that a playground supervisor was not needed and that the teachers could continue alternating this duty.

Forbes also said he thinks the playground area at Mentone should be blacktopped.

A snow addition for the Akron school involved much discussion but the matter was tabled until after the coming election. State Superintendent of Schools Richard Wells recently said the Akron school could continue operation if a shop addition were built. He suggested 1500 square feet, an area the board felt was not large enough.

Members voted to attend a School Boards Association meeting Nov. 12 at the Notre Dame Athletic and Convocation Center and moved to pay the expense of this meeting.

During a discussion of "other business" it was noted there is no fire alarm in the shop at Akron and permission was given Carolyn Smoker to use a bus on October 31 to take 4-H girls to the ice show in Fort Wayne.

It was also reported by attorney Fred Rakestraw that he had filed a petition to transfer the Leachman case to the Indiana Supreme Court. This is the case of the former TVSC teacher who was dismissed and who has filed a breach of contract suit against the corporation.

Also discussed was the case of Greg Shireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shireman, R.2, Akron, who is attending Rochester High School in order to take German, a subject not offered in the TV corporation. On the advice of Rakestraw, the board agreed to "sit tight and await word from the General Commission." The Attorney General recently ruled that the school board could not rescind permission for Shireman to transfer that had been granted by a previous board.

Attending Monday's board meeting were the superintendent, the attorney and the school board members, Ralph Davis, Maurice Coplen, Richard Goshert, Philip Lash and Dr. Donald Van Gilder.

60 YEARS AGO

Last Friday after dinner, P.M. Kinder, the genial and popular photographer and the Akron News pencil pusher boarded a trolley car for Bear's Crossing, thence to the splendid little farm and home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Gast, a half mile distant. The half mile was made on foot, totting the Kinder snapshot outfit. Our object in going out was to "see" things, and Mr. Kinder's object was to "take things," that is photographs of the beautiful scenery in Mr. Gast's apple orchard, his poultry yard and his fine strawberry field. Saturday morning Mr. Kinder and I loaded up his snapshot tools and fixtures into a livery buggy and struck out east by request of Mr. C. W. Stauffer, east of Rock Lake, who wanted the NEWS man to see his great hemp field and he wanted Kinder to take some photographic views of it.

Fined In Court

Russell Sizemore, 23, and John Holman, 24, both of Warsaw, were fined $86 each and were each given a suspended sentence of 60 days at the Indiana State Farm Wednesday afternoon when they appeared in Fulton Circuit Court to plead guilty to charges of assault and battery and malicious trespass.

Charges against the men were filed after they were involved in an incident at the home of Richard Piper, about five miles south of Mentone in Fulton County last Tuesday.

The men had followed Piper, the son-in-law of Mentone Marshall Gene Norton, home from work from a Warsaw plant and reportedly attempted to start a fight. They forced their way into the home and when Steve Norton, a 14-year old brother of Mrs. Piper, went to her assistance, he was struck in the mouth and received cuts and loosened teeth from the blow.

Marshal Norton said the men came to his office at Mentone Wednesday afternoon and said they were willing to do whatever had to be done to get the matter straightened out. According to Norton, the two men then went to the Fulton County Sheriff's office and gave themselves up. Warrants were served at the sheriff's office and then they went immediately to court.

Ann Mizgalski Tours British Isles

by Clara Yeaman

Mrs. Ann Mizgalski arrived home Sunday evening from a two weeks' vacation in Ireland, England and Scotland. The group making the tour was from St. Louis and the arranger of the trip was Mr. Herb Ware, whose wife is a cousin of Mrs. Mizgalski. She and their daughter, Mrs. Patricia Muenster, who were with the group, had visited in Akron this summer.

Leaving O'Hare field on an Irish International Air Line Boeing 707, due to the time change, they arrived at the Shannon Airport Sunday morning and had their first glimpse of the famous river Shannon.

They were greeted by a pretty Irish maiden, Celia Mullen, who was to be their courier-guide throughout the trip, and the driver of their sightseeing bus was very genial Pat O'Brian. Ireland is very scenic and has several world famous golf courses and the men of the group enjoyed golfing, especially on the Killarney course, which is called the "most majestic golf course ever conceived" for it is set by the side of the famed Lakes of Killarney.

On Tuesday, they traveled to Ireland's second largest city, Cork. This is where you can acquire the "gift of gab" by visiting the Blarney Castle in the village of Blarney in county Cork. The castle is quite old and one climbs a circular staircase of one hundred and ten steps to reach the rail- ed platform where you lie down on your back with head down to touch the Blarney Stone. While Mrs. Mizgalski could not do that, she was given a signed certificate that she had attained the skill of the blarney, for a friend kissed the stone and then kissed her.

In county Clare, a tour of Bunratty Castle was enjoyed. As one starts the tour, he is given a snack of bread and salt. On another floor, they were served wine and crumpets, and at the end of the tour, a complete dinner was served, and the only silver be used was a knife, but with the Irish food, and the music in the background with Irish maidens in colorful costumes dancing, it made a wonderful climax to the tour.

The road to Dublin was very scenic, though not as mountainous as it had been, but the grass was very green, flowers were blooming and white pigs and goats were grazing everywhere.

After being in Ireland for seven days, where sightseeing, shopping and golfing were enjoyed, they said "Good By" to the beautiful country and friendly people and boarded the bus to take them to the airport and they were soon on their way across the Irish Sea to England and the "swinging town" of London. Here they saw many interesting sights, the Tower of London, where they saw the Crown Jewels. Other sights were Windsor Castle, where the English Royal families have lived since the eleventh century, the changing of the guards, Westminster Abbey and the world famous Eton College. After three days in England, they were off again for four days in Scotland, staying in Edinburgh at the Calendonian Hotel. The golfers could play on world famous courses, the Royal and the Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews and also The King's course or the Queen's course. For the non-golfers there were trips through the Scottish Highlands, the lochs to Trossachs and Loch Lomond, also to Scotland's largest city, Glasgow, which was a good place to shop for tweeds and plaids.

On October 16, the jet flight took them from Edinburgh to Shannon International Airport on the bank of the river Shannon, but before leaving for home, there was still some time to do shopping at Shannon's Duty Free shops before boarding the Boeing 707. It was a very tired but extremely happy group that started home, but after being out 1100 miles and just as they finished dinner, the pilot announced that they were turning back to Shannon, but gave no reasons. They returned much faster than they had started and only after everyone was off the jet and all luggage off, they were told that they had received word there was a bomb on the jet. Everyone had to identify their luggage and everything was searched, so after three and a half hours, they were on their way again, only to run into seventy-five mile winds which forced them to land at Gander, Newfoundland, and since their luggage had all passed inspection, they were compelled to leave the jet with just what they were wearing and food and lodging were given them at a Holiday Inn. The trip going over took six hours, but twenty-three hours on the return trip.

AN APPLE A DAY....

Which apples to buy for your particular purpose—whether it's between-meal munching or baking an extra special pie? That's a real problem, and it can be a real puzzler when you're confronted with all the tempting varieties in your supermarket. Here are a few guidelines to follow.

The following apples are considered all purpose: McIntosh, Jonathan, Winesap, Stayman, Northern Spy, Baldwin, and Wealthy. These can be used for eating or cooking very successfully. Red Delicious and Golden Delicious are considered eating apples and when choosing apples consider their appearance. Eating apples should be free from bruises and be firm and juicy. For baking and cooking, appearance is not so important especially if the apples are peeled and sliced.

When slicing apples for salads remember that they discolor when exposed to the air. Vitamin C will prevent this, lemon juice or the commercial Vit. C concentrate will work fine. A brand name for commercial synthesized Vit. C is "Fruit Fresh" and it can be purchased at most grocery stores. It also prevents discoloration of bananas and peaches.

Remember that one pound of unpared apples yields about 3 cups pared, diced, or sliced.

APPLE-SPICE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup brown sugar (packed), $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups apple slices, canned or cooked, unsweetened, drained, 9 pecan halves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, if desired, 1 layer package yellow cake mix. Preheat oven to 350°F. Melt fat in 9-inch baking pan in oven. Sprinkle brown sugar over fat. Arrange fruit and nuts in sugar; sprinkle with cinnamon, if used. Mix cake according to package directions. Spread evenly over fruit. Bake for 55 minutes or until center surface of cake springs back when touched lightly. Cool in pan 5 minutes. Invert onto serving plate. If preferred, mix a two-layer package of cake mix, use half for cup cakes. Yield: 9 servings.

Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were guests of the Tippecanoe River Chapter at the October dinner meeting held at the Church of Christ in Etna Green. Mrs. Charles Joyner, regent of the hostess chapter, presided over the meeting and program.

Honored guests attending were Mrs. Furel R. Burns, Honorary Vice-President General, No. Manchester; Mrs. Robert Knepper, State Chaplain, Etna Green; and Mrs. Ira M. Smyrl, Northern District Director, LaPorte.

Mrs. Herschel Apple gave the President General's message. Special music was presented by Luke Becknell, a Triton High School student, who sang "Water Boy."

Mrs. Burns, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on "Historical Trees." She noted that trees made famous by historical events, religious beliefs, superstitions or by their sheer beauty, massive size or venerable age, occur in many parts of the world. Trees are the world's oldest living things, the most indispensable natural resource and the one contributing most to the existence of man, beast and bird.

For many years the DAR has located and marked historic trees in this country through its conservation program. Tree planting, another phase of the conservation program, has been encouraged as it is essential for the future of the country, DAR members were told.

Fulton Co. 4-H Rules Changed

The Fulton County 4-H Council has approved a number of rule changes and class changes for the 1971 4-H year. They include:

1. First year 4-H'ers may take any number of projects. 4-H leaders and parents should approve those projects to be taken.
2. The 4-H Horse and Pony will be made a county-wide club on a trial basis for one year. 4-H members enrolling in horse and pony will not enroll in the local, township clubs unless they desire to take other projects.

3. Those 4-H'ers enrolled in a regular 2 of 4 year college course may enroll in fall as well as spring enrolled 4-H work.

4. 4-H Herdsmanship for 1971 will be on a club basis rather than individual and the project superintendents will obtain whoever possible to assist with herdsman's checking.

5. A Crossbred beef class as well as a dairy beef class will be added to the 1971 beef classes.

6. 4-H Club Leaders and sponsoring committee members will check all 4-H animals enrolled for 1971 during June for their respective townships.

7. 4-H members if caught substituting or cheating by substituting in any project will be barred from 4-H in the county.

8. 4-H Electric exhibits will be judged on Monday afternoon as all other exhibits are judged at the fair.

9. 4-H members participating in showmanship must show their own animal (unless the judge requests members to switch animals.)

Any 4-H member or his parents having questions about any of the rule changes should contact the leader. These new rules pertain to Fulton County only.

Creighton Will Head Local Student Travel

Richard McCleary, owner and operator of the Safari and member of the ABC Travel agency staff, both of Warsaw, has announced that David Creighton, Akron science instructor, will represent McCleary's European Safari in Akron and Mentone high schools.

The "Four-Week" European Student Safari will be the third annual for McCleary's group and is promised to be the best yet. Departure will be from O'Hare International Airport with complete air travel by jet. Major European stopovers will include Copenhagen, Denmark; Stockholm, Sweden; Oslo, Norway; Innsbruck, Austria; Arosa, Zermatt (Matterhorn Mt.) Geneva, Switzerland; Monte Carlo, Monaco; and Paris, France. Two weeks in Scandinavia, one week between Austria and Switzerland, and a week split between Monte Carlo and Paris combine to make what McCleary thinks is the finest itinerary ever offered to students of this area.

Any students or parents having questions concerning the 1971 tour or who wish a copy of the new free 1971 brochure should contact David Creighton evenings at 267-4671.

Shorb Brothers To Sing

The Shorb Brothers of Washington, D. C. will present a singing concert at the Silver Creek Church of God at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 30. The local appearance is one of over forty college concerts yearly.

Rev. George Reser, pastor of the church, said the Shorbs and their arrangers, in the spirit of Luther, Wesley and others, go to great pains to avoid the "predictable religious sound" and the clutter of "ecclesiastical cliches." Their aim is to preserve the simple message of the Bible and to present it so that everyone will hear "in their own language."

Since its inception, the Shorb foursome has made no personnel changes. The three brothers, Merlin, Hubert and Wilbert, together with their lanky Canadian bass, Paul Cook, fill over 325 concert dates a year.

After the concert, the Shorbs will sing special songs for the young people of the church. There will also be a hayride for the youth, a campfire for the Senior Youth and a party for the Junior Youth.

The public is invited to the concert and youth activities. The church is located 2½ miles west and 2½ miles south of Silver Lake on County Road 1200.

Omega Group Is Hosted

A number of the ladies of the Omega Missionary Society, Mrs. Gloria Bowen, Mrs. Beulah Pratt, Miss Fern Bowen, Miss Goldie Burns and Bruce Bradway drove to Elkhart to the Fountainview Place Nursing Home recently to visit Mrs. Mary Fultz. On arriving at the home, they learned that Mrs. Fultz had been transferred to the Elkhart General Hospital. When they arrived at the hospital, they found that Mrs. Fultz was in poor condition. Mrs. Fultz helped organize the Missionary Society in the Omega community several years ago.

Church of God Buys Third House

The Akron Church of God, in a special business session on Oct. 15, voted to purchase the Mary Swick property. This is the third house, located nearby to the Sanctuary, that has been purchased, as the congregation looks forward to future expansion and development. Since March 1st, the Church has been engaged in a vigorous program of raising funds, and the response has been most gratifying.

Pastor Thomason announced also that the Trustees have invited Rev. Joe Crane of the National Board of Church Expansion to conduct a Church Growth Study for them. This study will help to point out areas of weakness, as well as strong points, with suggestions for future program and facility development. Visitors are always welcome, with Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and morning worship at 10:25 and the evening Gospel hour at 7:30 p.m.

WCTU Institute Is Held

The Akron WCTU held their institute at the library last Tuesday evening. The first session began at 5:30 p.m. The meeting opened with group singing. Mrs. Ellis Klein gave the devotions. Reports of three departments were given.

At 6:30 p.m. a potluck supper was enjoyed. Mrs. Minnie Helvey offered prayer.

At 7:30 p.m. the second session was held. After group singing, devotions were given by Mrs. John Moore. A piano solo by Teresa Mark was enjoyed. Mrs. B.B. Whitacre, Indiana State president of the WCTU was the speaker of the evening. She also showed a filmstrip. Mrs. Clifford Bright gave the benediction.

Mrs. Beulah Pratt, vice president, was in charge of the institute. Mrs. Lewis Slaybaugh and Mrs. Nellie Slusser were the hostesses.

The Silver Lake Town Board has established Friday and Saturday nights, October 30 and 31, for "Trick or Treat" nights and has proclaimed a curfew of 9 a.m. effective at once.

The board members ask that the parents accompany their children for reasons of safety. With masks and costumes, along with the excitement of the experience, it is difficult for the children to see and no remember the use of safety rules.

The board voted to express its thanks to the last year's sixth grade class of the Silver Lake school for the placing of the trash containers around the business section of town and to the Boy Scouts for repainting the town's fire hydrants. when the door swings open to a restaurant kitchen, light spills out. Restaurant operators know that plenty of light means more efficient, happier workers and fewer mistakes. Homemakers should treat themselves so well!

basic kitchen lighting rules are clear: Shadow free overall illumination and generous local lighting at work areas. How-to is more complex. That's where a Public Service Indiana Electric Living Consultant can come in. She knows what it takes to achieve overall lighting whether you have an 8 by 10 foot corridor work area or a 16 by 25 foot family room-kitchen. She's on to the newest techniques for lighting counters and can tell if your house power is up to the job. Contact her at your area's Public Service Indiana office.

how you color your kitchen plays a lighting role. Stylish dark wood cabinets and spill-concealing dark floors drink up light. More must be poured in than for pastel-tinted rooms.

home kitchens are not just for working. Families eat there, too, and want the table emphasized. In spite of the best planned desk lighting, children continue to study at the kitchen table and need plenty of diffused light on their books but not in their eyes. Parties end up in kitchens which call for a more mellow glow than preparing meals. Dimmer controls, tracks and pullies can vary the mood and location of kitchen light.

upgrading lighting of some kitchens is within the talent of do-it-yourselfers. Slim plug-in units can be screwed under wall cabinets to light work counters. Framing, translucent panels and fluorescent fixtures for dropped illuminated ceilings are available to the skilled who have adequate wiring and can spare 10 to 12 inches of ceiling height.

Akron Trick or Treat Nights Are Set

Friday and Saturday nights, October 30 and 31, have been set as trick or treat nights by the Akron Town Board. Until those nights, the board reminds young Halloweeners that they are not to be out after 9 p.m. and that no "tricks" will be allowed.

November 3. If the house is the mystery house, the child will receive a silver dime. The idea for the mystery house was suggested by Judy Burton, Rochester, state Democratic vice-chairman.

Mystery Houses

There will be two mystery houses in Akron, one in precinct 1 and one in precinct 2. All trick or treaters are to ask, "Is this the mystery house?" and also should ask if the resident will vote on

"Most educational decisions belong to the local community," John Loughlin, democratic candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, told area residents attending a meeting at the Akron school Monday evening. He cited school corporations who are asking to be deconsolidated because they have found consolidation is no Utopia and noted, "It is unfortunate that people think more about economy

KATHLEEN "KATIE" WILLIAMS, Fifth District Democratic candidate for Congress, spent Monday in Fulton county, meeting with voters from Akron, Rochester, Kewanna, Leiters Ford and Fulton. Shown visiting with Mrs. Williams as she toured Akron is William Hively, 90 years young.

"Educational decisions belong in community"

Servicemen's addresses sought

Addresses of area servicemen are needed immediately. They will be published in the NEWS and will also be given to local organizations planning to send boxes to servicemen at Christmas time. With the deadline for overseas mailing near, it is imperative that they be submitted as soon as possible.

Names that have been previously published should be resubmitted as no records are kept of the names and addresses after they have appeared in the paper.

than about education." Continuing, he said, "A community should determine if it has one, two or twenty high schools, as long as those schools meet the state's minimum basic standards."

"There is nothing more important than our children," he said, "and good education is basic to their welfare and to ours."

He suggested the Superintendent of Public Instruction should upgrade the schools with his major concerns being primary and secondary schools and said a good reading and phonics program should receive special attention at the primary level and also stressed the importance of vocational education.

"Discipline has become a big problem," he noted and suggested the formation of a new department in the state office to help schools, teachers and administrators with the problem.

Charging that the present State Superintendent, Richard Wells, had increased his staff from 350 to more than 500 without increasing the amount of services offered, Loughlin said the office could become one of the finest in the country and recommended establishing an open door policy to administrators as a first step in expanding these services.

He said school finance should be taken off the property tax and said there is no relation between a child's needs and where he happens to live. Noting that presently 34.9% of school finance comes from the state, Loughlin said he advocates raising this to at least 50%.

"Moral leadership is nurtured in schools today and it is vital we give this leadership," the 44-year old South Bend teacher told the group.

Loughlin was elected to the General Assembly in 1968 and in 1969 was named outstanding democratic freshman representative. A member of the Ways and Means Committee, he became chairman of the School Finance and School Distribution Task Force and served on both the Agriculture and Corporation Committees. He co-authored the school distribution formula that provided new state aid to schools.

Amendment

One of the Republican state representatives will be at the Fulton County Republican Headquarters Friday evening October 30, at 7:30 to discuss the constitutional amendment to be voted on November 3. There will be a question and answer period with all the candidates participating.

Refreshments will be served.

Mentone Sets Trick or Treat

Trick or treating in Mentone is to be limited to Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 30 and 31, between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., according to the Town Board.

NOT EVEN RAIN stops workmen shown breaking the street in front of the NEWS office in Akron as work on the sewer progresses.

Overseas Christmas mail deadlines are listed

The suggested deadlines for mail to all members of the armed forces overseas are as follows:

Parcels weighing more than five pounds sent by surface postage rates Nov. 6. Greeting cards sent by surface postage rates Nov. 12.

SAM (Parcels up to five pounds in weight and 60 inches in length and girth) Nov. 20 combined (these go by air on a space available basis).

PAL Parcels- regular parcel post rates plus a flat charge of $1 for air service on a space available basis (parcels up to 30 pounds and 60 inches in length and girth combined) Nov. 27

AIR MAIL parcels and air mail greeting cards Dec. 11.

TIME OF MAILING: The importance of mailing Christmas parcels before the designated deadline cannot be emphasized too strongly, says the post office department, adding, "The earlier the better." If mailed by the deadlines indicated the public can be reasonably assured that parcels will reach their destinations before Christmas.

SIZE AND WEIGHT: The

maximum size and weight limits for surface parcel post and air parcel post vary according to Military Post Offices to which the parcels are sent. Customs declaration forms are required for parcels addressed to some Military Post Offices, and some articles are prohibited to certain military post offices. Therefore it is suggested that mailers, before packing parcel post for mailing, make inquiry at the post office as to weight and size limits, customs declaration forms needed and the list of prohibited articles that are applicable to certain military post offices. Matches of all kinds and lighter fluid are prohibited to all military post offices.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We are very happy in the fact a project we had been planning for some time has been pretty well completed. Thanks to our children coming down from Grand Rapids, Mich. two weeks and helping, our porch has been enclosed and we feel certain it will be a help this winter.

Mrs. Dorothea Cullum and Mrs. Paul Cullum and Debbie called Sunday p.m. to see the beautiful flowers Mrs. Fowler made from plastic egg cartons. Mrs. Fowler has a wonderful talent in the use of her hands, sewing, crocheting and many other projects. Her time is spent constructively in doing the worthwhile things and helping others. She does not go from house to house gossiping and downgrading others.

The Rushes were here Sunday. Ann was on her way back to college at No. Manchester. Bill has had his left arm broken twice in his young life, now it is broken bones in his right hand. Rather a misfortune, I would say.

Thank you and very respectfully,
The W.E. Fowlers

Wish To Commend

Dear Editor:

We wish to commend the TVSC School Board for the action taken to order much needed play equipment for our Elementary Schools. The children will get needed exercise and be able to study better after the refreshing time they will have outdoors playing on safer equipment.

We would also extend an invitation to any parent who is interested in the elementary school to join us in working for a better school. Call 353-3599 or 353-4972 to be put on our active list. Mentone Elementary Parents United

The Choice for Superintendent

What often is regarded as a minor item on the state ballot, the selection of a state superintendent of public instruction, looms much larger this year.

Richard Wells, who has held the office for two terms, by the way he has conducted the office, has made it a matter of great importance whether he should be allowed to continue.

Wells has brought personal politics to the education office in a manner and scope it had never known before. The "swinging door" changes of department heads, as he waged his battles, have brought unaccustomed turmoil and confusion to the office.

His feud with Ivy Tech, first with the determination to throttle it by shutting off funds and trying to seize control of its board, and now with efforts to set up a competing vocational high school system, has brought both setbacks and delay to effective vocational education.

His moves to try to bring every phase of education to dance to the call of his every whim have led him far afield from the scope of the office which is to lead the elementary and secondary schools of Indiana to practices and standards required or provided for by law.

His interests in suppressing Ivy Tech as a post-high school vocational and technical college; his aspirations as an educational czar to gain control over state universities and higher education; and his usurpation of legislative policy by announcing programs for the state's educational spending without the legislature's consent or provisions to raise money to support it, certainly violate the established prerogatives of the office.

Wells is opposed in this election by a state representative, John Loughlin, of So. Bend, who brings, with solid teaching and educational credentials, experience in the state legislature making the budgets and laws that govern both education in particular and the state in general.

Loughlin has committed himself to Ivy Tech as the post-high school institution of higher education for vocational and technical training, completely independent of the superintendent's office; he has said that the efficient supervision of and service to the state's elementary and secondary schools, and not of higher education, is his sole aim; and that as a man with faith in our legislative process, he believes it is the function of the legislature to make school law and the superintendent to administer it.

Here, then is a clear choice. And the Journal and Courier is persuaded that the welfare of the state lies in the election of Loughlin as superintendent of public instruction.

As much as the rest of the state Republican ticket deserves election, Wells does not, since he does not seem to exemplify the spirit and service they have given or promise. So while recommending the rest, it is necessary to except him.

Thank You

Dear Loren and Ann,

Thank you for printing the list of detergents and their respective % of phosphate content. I had been contemplating to ask you to do just that as Cathy and Russ had such a list on their cabinet door when we visited them in New Hampshire during August. They are very much concerned about pollution, too, so they use a phosphate-free laundry detergent. They live on the banks of beautiful Lake Kezar. Vernon recently suggested to me that we start returning the non-returnable bottles. Perhaps the bottling companies would get the message and use only returnables. This would also help slow down the pollution of our environment.

Sincerely,
Mary Derring

'Sleep On - You Have Everything To Lose!'

Bill Gibbons, Editor of the Gaffney (South Carolina) Ledger burned up the keys on his typewriter recently, going after the so-called "silent American." Wrote he, (in part):

"Sleep on, silent American. Turn your ears away from the clamor of the mob in the street, the thunder of artillery shell in a Cambodian jungle, the wail of a starving child. Sleep on, silent American. If tomorrow's headlines frighten you, just don't look."

"Sleep on, silent American. Don't worry about the student protestors who are commanding administration buildings and bombing banks and exalting false gods."

"Sleep on, silent American. Say nothing, think nothing, do nothing — and the problems of this nation may vanish. Don't be intimidated by your children. Tell your toddler to go to his room and play with his toys, but not bother you. Your eight-year-old had books and games and a color tv in his room. It's not necessary for you to go into his room to hear his prayers. Let him entertain himself."

"Sleep on, silent American. Tell your teenager to go have himself a good time. Throw him the car keys and give him a ten-dollar bill. But don't ask him where he is going. That would be a violation of his privacy and an infringement on his rights. Never ask him who his heroes are. Don't require him to work and earn his own money."

"Sleep on, silent American. Do not bestir yourself to go to the polls on election day. Politics is a mess anyway. Never be seen with your hand over your heart and resist the urge to put an American Flag on your lawn. Applaud nudity in the theatre and pornography on the newsstands; this is the New Morality, haven't you heard?"

"Sleep on, silent American. Go to the golf course on Sunday morning; you've worked hard all week and deserve a little time off to relax. Of course, you might drop the kids off at Sunday School and give them a quarter to drop into the collection plate. Lie back in the hammock of complacency and inhale the amnesia of indifference."

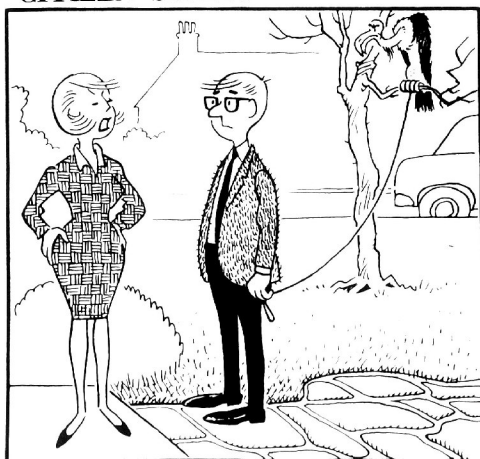

"Sleep on, silent American. You have everything to lose."

Member Of Reforger II Exercise

Army Specialist Four Terry L. Bowers, 24, son of Mrs. Doris J. Lehman So. Bend, and Carl A. Bowers, R. 2, Warsaw, was among the 11,000 troops of the First Infantry Division who left Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 4-10, to be airlifted to Germany to participate in Exercise Reforger II. The Big Red One soldiers departed from Forbes Air Force Base in Topeka, Kan. and landed at one of three West German airfields, Rhein Main, Ramstein or Echtingen.

A few hours later, the troops picked up weapons, tanks and armored personnel carriers that had been prepositioned in Europe and departed to the exercise site near the Czechoslovakian border.

During the five-day training exercise, the division opposed aggressor forces from the Third Infantry Division regularly stationed in Germany and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Reforger II was designed to test U.S. Army deployment from state-side bases in defending Western Europe with NATO forces. A similar exercise, Reforger I, was held in Germany in January 1969.

Members of the First Division are scheduled to return to Ft. Riley in late October and November.

Spec. Bowers is a member of Battery A, 1st Battalion of the division's 5th Artillery.

The specialist's wife Kathryn lives in South Bend.

Ft. Knox, Ky. -Army Private Richard Harrold is assigned to Company E, 15th Battalion, 4th Brigade, here in the Training Center, Armor (USATCA). He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern action army--firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms. Interspersed with the constant emphasis on proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize USATCA's many and varied recreational and religious facilities. Following the completion of Basic Training, Pvt. Harrold, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Harrold, R. 2, Akron, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advance instructions or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

We as consumers need more and better education to intelligently purchase commodities. We need to be aware of the laws regulating manufacturers and the proper channel to take to protect our rights as consumers. A Consumer Workshop sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service has been planned to help consumers answer some of their questions. The workshop entitled Confusion in the Market Place will be held Wednesday, Nov. 18 at the Wedwig Memorial Center in So. Bend. Three speakers will be heard in the morning, one representing the Consumer, another a business and another the federal government. After lunch the Associate Director from the office of Consumer Education will bring "A Message from the White House." Then it is "Your Turn to Talk" with the group dividing into small group discussions headed by college students. It should be an informative program with all those attending going home as less confused consumers.

If you would like more information on the Consumer Workshop, write to Mrs. Ann Hancock, County Extension Office, Courthouse, Warsaw, Ind. 46580.

What They Wore...by PHYLLIS JOYCE

DAWN OF A DECADE

THE DEBUT OF THE NEW DECADE 1970 BRINGS WITH IT SKIRTS IN CRAZY LENGTHS, THE UNI-SEX LOOK AND A TREND TOWARD NUDITY. DECADE DEBUTS OF THE PAST WERE NOT QUITE SO FAR OUT!

THE DAWN OF 1670 FOUND MOST AMERICAN WOMEN DRESSED IN FAIRLY SIMPLE ATTIRE. SINCE THE PARISH CHURCH WAS THE SOCIAL CENTER OF THE COMMUNITY, THE MORE ELABORATE FASHIONS WERE PLAYED DOWN.

IN THE AMERICAN COLONIES OF 1770 FRENCH FASHION WAS BEGINNING TO TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER THE ESTABLISHED ENGLISH WAY OF DRESSING.

THE WINTER OF 1860-70 FOUND THE HOOP-SKIRT GIVING WAY TO DRESS "IMPROVERS" OR BUSTLES. ANY WOMAN WHO CONTINUED TO WEAR A HOOP SKIRT INTO 1870 WAS A DEAD GIVEAWAY TO FASHION OBSERVERS.

TODAY...WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR CHILDREN'S APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL THE SYMBOL OF DECENCY, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

First Aid For Ailing Windows

If neglected windows are what's ailing your decor, there's a new remedy on the market that offers prompt relief.

It's a do-it-yourself shade laminating kit that puts window wizardry at your fingertips. Designed to make it easy to manufacture your own decorative fabric shades, the kit includes adhesive shade cloth, roller, slat, pull, mounting brackets, and screws.

If you can iron, measure, and cut reasonably well, you'll have shades fit to be hung in a few hours' time.

In selecting a fabric to iron onto the adhesive shade cloth, choose a firmly woven cotton for best results. Pick one that matches or contrasts with walls, repeats a chair or couch cover, or supplies a major color point in tone and texture.

To determine yardage needed, add six inches to the height of the window opening and one inch to the width of the shade. Before beginning the laminating process, install mounting brackets at window. Cut roller to size and cap it, then insert into brackets to be sure it fits properly. Set roller aside for later use when trimming shade to exact width.

For a clean-lined look, make "reverse roll" shades—with the roller side facing towards the window. Here's how:

(1.) Square off one end of your fabric so the edge is straight and even. Press with a dry iron to remove any wrinkles or creases, and mark fabric center top and bottom with tailor's chalk. Set aside. Cut adhesive shade cloth 18" longer than your window height and 2" wider than the finished shade. From this cut piece, cut

2" and 8" strips for slat and roller attachments and set aside.

(2.) Now place shade cloth adhesive-side up on a large flat surface like a floor or table. Remove liner paper and save for use as a pressing cloth. Measure down 2" from top of adhesive shade cloth and draw a line across the entire width. Mark center.

(3.) Place squared edge of fabric on this marked line, aligning center marks at top and bottom, and securing corners. Set iron at temperature suited to your fabric, and press fabric onto shade cloth—working from center to edges with a slow, even pressure. Use liner paper as a pressing cloth and check frequently to be sure you're not ironing any wrinkles into the fabric. (If wrinkles do appear, pull the fabric loose and re-iron.) Allow shade to cool to room temperature for a secure bond.

(4.) To trim shade to proper width, center your pre-cut roller at top of shade. Mark a line on the fabric one-fourth of an inch from the inside of each end of metal caps on the roller. (Measurements must be accurate if shade is to roll properly.) Use a yardstick to draw vertical lines down each side of the shade, outlining the width. Be sure vertical lines are the same distance apart at top, center, and bottom of shade. Use sharp scissors to cut along these lines for the finished shade edges.

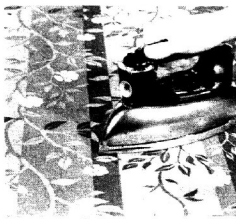

(5.) For the slat pocket, fold a 1½" strip at bottom of shade over to the back. Now lightly press the 2" strip of shade cloth you cut off earlier (adhesive-side down) to the folded back strip. (One inch will extend beyond each side edge and a small margin above hem edge.) Insert slat with its lower edge flush to inside fold of hem and press firmly along upper edge of slat. Allow to cool and then trim.

(6.) Before attaching shade to roller, place 8" strip of shade cloth adhesive-side down on the exposed 2" strip left at top of shade—with lower edge of shade cloth strip meeting top edge of fabric. Press together, holding upper edge of shade cloth strip away from work surface. Allow to cool and trim.

Remeasure top edge of shade cloth to be sure it is straight and parallel with upper edge of fabric.

(7.) Place upper edge of shade cloth strip along blue line on roller and press just enough to anchor this edge to roller. Wind shade over roller surface, constantly pressing to obtain a complete bond. Continue to roll and press until you reach the end of the adhesive. Now your shade is completed and ready to hang.

LAMINATING—To make decorative cotton window shades, iron fabric to Tontine adhesive shade cloth. Work from center to outer edges and use liner paper as pressing cloth. Leave 2-inch strip at top of shade cloth for later use in attaching shade to roller.

TRIMMING—After ironing fabric to shade cloth, mark side edges for cutting. Use shade roller as guide and mark line on fabric ¼" from the inside of metal caps on each end of roller. Draw vertical lines with tailor's chalk down each side of shade to outline width. Cut along these lines for finished edges.

HIGH FASHION SHADES—A new boon to do-it-yourselfers is a shade laminating kit that provides first aid for ailing windows. Here it's used to create cotton fabric shades that match curtains and wallpaper. The kit includes Tontine adhesive shade cloth, roller, slat, pull, mounting brackets and screws.

EYE-CATCHING—A bright floral-printed cotton upholstery fabric provides the color scheme and decorative impact for this contemporary living room. Custom-matching the window shade to the steel-based armchairs is a breeze with Stauffer's Tontine shade cloth. The fabric is ironed on to the adhesive shade cloth for a quick and permanent bonding. A draped swag finishes off the window treatment.

SLAT POCKET—Fold 1½" strip at bottom shade over to the back and press hem edge. Place 2" Tontine strip adhesive-side down on folded edge of hem line and press lightly. Insert slat having lower edge flush with inside fold of hem. Press firmly along upper edge of slat. Allow shade to cool and then trim.

ATTACHING ROLLER—Press lower edge of 8" Tontine strip adhesive-side down on bare strip at top of shade. Let cool and trim. Then lightly press upper edge of strip to blue line on roller. Wind Tontine over roller surface, constantly pressing until you reach end of adhesive. Now your shade is ready to hang.

Questions and Answers

Q. My wife, my two minor children, and I receive social security benefits because of my disability. I also have two minor children from a former marriage. Are they eligible to receive benefits?

A. Yes. They have the same rights to social security benefits as the children from your present marriage. Since your family already receives the maximum benefit based on your earnings, the payments for each dependent would be reduced. This results from the fact that the maximum would be divided among six people, instead of the four now receiving benefits.

Your former wife, or the person legally responsible for the children, should apply for the benefits on their behalf.

Q. My father wants to retire at 62. Will he be able to get social security?

A. Yes, but his monthly checks would be 20 percent less than the amount he'd collect if he retired at 65.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the telephone number and address of the nearest social security office.

Wheat Act Affects County Farmers

Fulton County wheat growers are directly involved in the new Wheat Research and Promotion Act, according to Clem Good, chairman of the Fulton Co. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"Local wheat growers whose share of the export certificate pool amounts to $3 or more will receive notice directly from the county ASCS office telling them what their share of the pool is and explaining the options each grower has," Good said.

A producer may choose to receive his share of the export certificate pool or he may leave it in the pool to finance the research and promotion program.

Wheat growers in Fulton county entitled to receive less than $3.00 will not receive a special notice but they can nevertheless claim their share of export certificates by filing a written request for payment, with the county ASCS office. Each producer's share of the export certificate pool will amount to about $.56 for each $100 of 1968 domestic wheat certificates earned.

Wheat growers will have until December 25 to notify their county ASCS office of their choice.

The world is slowly learning that because two men think differently neither may be wicked. Most of us are confident we could move mountains if somebody would clear the foothills out of the way.

Success usually depends on knowing how long it takes to succeed.

Indiana voters to vote on constitutional amendments

(On November 3, Indiana voters will decide the fate of three proposals for amending the State Constitution. The proposals involve important changes in all three branches of State Government. To provide voters with objective information on the amendment questions, the Indiana Forum, Inc. commissioned a study. The study incorporates the thinking of both proponents and opponents, and draws upon the insights of an authority on state government, Leon H. Wallace, dean emeritus of the Indiana University Law School, Bloomington. The Indiana Forum, a non-partisan, non-profit informational organization made the study available to this newspaper. The following article is based on The Forum study.--Editor)

All three branches of State government--legislative, judicial and executive--would be affected by the State constitutional amendment proposals that will face Indiana voters Nov. 3.

The three proposals for changes in the State Constitution--Indiana's basic law--were approved by the Indiana General Assemblies of 1967 and 1969. Now they are subject to approval or rejection by the voters.

In polling places across the State, men and women will vote "yes" or "no" on these questions listed here in simplified form:

General Assembly

1. Shall the General Assembly be permitted to meet every year and to decide the length and frequency of its own sessions?

At present, the Constitution limits the Assembly to sessions of 61 consecutive days every two years. The Governor has power to call special sessions of 40 days each. This power is rarely used. The Assembly relies on a Legislative Council and various committees to bridge the two years between sessions.

Appeals Courts

2. Shall the appeals courts be reorganized to create an appointive Supreme Court, an appointive Court of Appeals, a nonpartisan Judicial Nominating Commission and a nonpartisan system to give voters a voice in the retention or rejection of Supreme and Appeals Judges?

Indiana now has a Supreme Court and an Appellate Court and all judges are elected through the regular partisan process. The proposed amendment would give the Governor power to appoint the judges from nominees submitted by the Judicial Nominating Commission. The proposal also would make other changes in the judicial system but trial court judges would continue to be elected.

Four Year Terms?

3. Shall the terms of office of the Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State be lengthened to four years?

These officers of the executive branch of State government presently serve two year terms.

Pros

The legislative session question has produced a variety of arguments both for and against. Among the main points made by those in favor--

Time To Consider

1. The Assembly needs more time to adequately consider proposed legislation. In 1969, it had 61 days to study 1,800 bills and resolutions.

Attention

2. The press of legislative business under the present system makes it impossible to give sufficient attention to major complex problems such as tax reform.

Hamstringing Efforts

3. Present limitations hamstringing the State's efforts to respond to needs and to meet its obligations under America's federal system.

Cons

Those opposed to the proposed change in part argue--

Professional Legislators

1. Annual sessions or longer sessions would be a move away from citizen legislators and toward professional legislators. Many able citizens would be unable to serve in an Assembly that meets annually or in extended sessions.

Burden Eased

2. The burden of legislation would be eased if the Assembly would grant increased home rule to local communities.

No Guarantee

3. Longer or more frequent sessions don't guarantee better legislation. States with longer or annual sessions experience legislative logjams similar to those characterizing the biennial Indiana sessions.

Chief Argument

The chief argument advanced by those in favor of the judicial amendment is that the non-partisan selection of appeals court judges would encourage additional competent attorneys to accept judicial appointment and that judges of the appeals courts would not be swept into or out of office by the ebb and flow of political tides.

Opponents of the judicial amendment argue that it would deprive the voters of an effective voice in the selection of appeals court judges, that review of a judge's performance would be too infrequent and that the Judicial Nominating Commission might come under undue influence by the Governor or the legal profession.

On the executive term amendment, proponents argue that longer terms would enable the officers to perform more efficiently. Opponents of term extension maintain that it will serve to strengthen offices which ought to be reduced in importance in order to increase executive branch efficiency.

The final decision on all the arguments on all sides of all three amendments will be made with voting machines and paper ballots on election day.

Ike Scholarship Is Established

High school seniors and graduates who have not yet entered college are eligible to compete for a series of scholarships being awarded statewide by the newly-created Eisenhower Memorial Scholarship Foundation, Inc.

Seven $1,000 scholarships are to be awarded to Indiana students.

The scholarships will not be confined to the basis of need. They will go to students chosen by a panel of judges as best exemplifying the ideals and conservative principles of the late President Eisenhower.

The Foundation is nationwide. The Indiana scholarship program is the first of a series of similar scholarship presentations envisioned for each state in the union. The eventual goal is to establish scholarship awards comparable to the Rhodes Scholarship program.

Students already attending college are not eligible but students who have graduated from high school may either secure entry forms at their local school or write directly to the Eisenhower Scholarship Foundation, Inc., P. O. Box 1324, Bloomington, Indiana 46401.

Under procedures of the Eisenhower Scholarship competition, interested candidates will submit essays of about, but not exceeding, 2,000 words on the subject: "The Value of Patriotism and Faith in God to the American Way of Life." Deadline of essays is Dec. 15, 1970.

A committee of judges will select the 15 best manuscripts. The 15 finalists will give a short talk on their paper on Feb. 28, 1971 at the Honeywell Community Center, Wabash. From these presentations and from interviews with entrants, judges will determine the seven scholarship winners. The winners will be announced March 28, 1971, the anniversary of President Eisenhower's death.

Jack Riner Shot At Warsaw

Jack Riner, Warsaw, son of Mrs. Pauline Riner, Mentone, was reported in critical condition Saturday when he was admitted to Murphy Medical Center with gun shot wounds sustained in an altercation with two brothers, Charles Fitzpatrick and Walter C. Fitzpatrick Jr., at the H & H Mobile Village, R 1, Warsaw.

Riner underwent surgery for removal of shot and wadding from his left arm and elbow and his abdomen.

Officers said Riner was shot by Charles Fitzpatrick who is being held on an assault and battery charge. His brother Walter is being held as a material witness.

According to the sheriff's department, the Fitzpatrick brothers had been working on a car belonging to Charles and had driven around inside the trailer court when Riner came out to investigate. He and Walter began to argue and Walter allegedly grabbed an auto jack from his car and swung at Riner. The swing threw him off balance, and he fell down. Riner then picked up the jack, and it was at this point that Charles ran to Walter's trailer and got his 12-gauge shotgun.

The brothers drove off in two cars following the blast and residents of the court called an ambulance and police.

Sheriff Dave Andrews arrested Chas. Fitzpatrick at the home of his parents and Walter Fitzpatrick later surrendered at the jail.

The case is under investigation by Sheriff Andrews, Deputies Al Roventine, Stan Holderman, Ron Robinson and State Police detectives Norman Pierce and Donald Moody.

Riner's condition Monday was listed as serious and he remained in the intensive care unit at Murphy.

WHERE THE LILIES BLOOM by Vera and Bill Cleaver. This is the moving story of one young Appalachian girl's desperate, resourceful, and sometimes very funny attempts to preserve the dignity and independence of her family in the face of frightening odds.

DELLIE by Ruth Bradley. From the opening scene at Dellie's wedding to the closing chapter, this is an inspiring true story of an indomitable woman standing up to the worst that life could offer and emerging victorious.

SINCE SILENT SPRING by Frank Graham, Jr. This is a guide for the embattled citizen. Agency by agency, Mr. Graham outlines the contradictory policies of government. Here are the facts behind the Mississippi fish kills, the fire out program, herbicides in Vietnam, aerial spraying, and the conflicting policies of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Graham shows what the citizen can do now, today, to change the situation and reports the scientific advances which give promise to safer and more practical pest control.

A GREAT FALL by Mildred Savage. The author gives an illuminating and dramatic account of the State against Harry Solberg. It is a story of bitter courtroom clashes, of mounting hostility between opposing counsel, of the chill between factions of the State Police, and of deep conflict over such urgent and rapidly evolving issues as the Miranda decision, the role of the press in judicial matters and rules of evidence - issues whose significance extends far beyond the courtroom to touch upon our most basic beliefs. Yet never once does she allow us to forget that one man is on trial.

INSIDE THE THIRD REICH by Albert Speer. These memoirs provide a suspenseful account of the strategies, victories, and defeats of the Nazis from their swift occupation of Western Europe through the disasters on the Eastern Front. Speer shows Hitler playing out his fantasy role of military genius, and later subsiding into apathy during the days of final debacle. At the end of this book, as at the end of his trial at Nuremberg, Speer asks how all the crimes of the Nazi regime were possible. His answer is that for the first time in history unlimited personal power was combined with the new devices provided by modern technology. It is a conclusion that may still serve as a warning to our time.

WSCS Hears Readings

The WSCS of the Akron United Methodist Church met in the Annex, the evening of Oct. 22 with twenty-three members and guests present. Mrs. Dale Sheetz gave devotions reading from the 8th chapter of Matthew, the 23rd to 27th verses and verse 26 from the 21st Psalm. Prayer followed the reading of an article from the Upper Room written by Margaret Ramsey. The president, Mrs. Ernest Smith, conducted the business session, during which roll was called, the secretary's and treasurer's reports were given, and the society voted to give an additional one hundred dollars to missions this year and voted to give five hundred dollars next year. Mrs. David Wallin was instrumental in getting Sister Bridie O'Sullivan of the Victory Noll Convent Missionary Training Center at Huntington to be the speaker of the evening. The title was "Be A Lighted Torch For The Lord" and she stressed prayer and self denial. During the informal hour she told of her experience in attending the Fort Wayne Mayor's Prayer Breakfast, the week before. It was the first prayer breakfast in the state and many mayors are expecting to follow. Nine hundred and fifty attended and the speaker was Mrs. Davison, who had also started the President's Prayer breakfasts. Sister Mary Rose accompanied the speaker to Akron, and Mrs. Ann Mizgalski was also a guest. Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Guy Bahney, Richard Drudge, and Dennis Thompson.

Shorb Brothers To Sing

The Shorb Brothers of Washington, D. C. will present a singing concert at the Silver Creek Church of God at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 30. The local appearance is one of over forty college concerts yearly.

Rev. George Reser, pastor of the church, said the Shorbs and their arrangers, in the spirit of Luther, Wesley and others, go to great pains to avoid the "predictable religious sound" and the clutter of "ecclesiastical cliches." Their aim is to preserve the simple message of the Bible and to present it so that everyone will hear "in their own language."

Since its inception, the Shorb foursome has made no personnel changes. The three brothers, Merlin, Hubert and Wilbert, together with their lanky Canadian bass, Paul Cook, fill over 325 concert dates a year.

After the concert, the Shorbs will sing special songs for the young people of the church. There will also be a hayride for the youth, a campfire for the Senior Youth and a party for the Junior Youth.

The public is invited to the concert and youth activities. The church is located 2½ miles west and 2½ miles south of Silver Lake on County Road 1200.

Regular Household Workers' Wage Reports Due Oct. 31

Housewives who employ help around the house on a regular basis have two important mailing chores to perform before October 31.

These are the mid-summer and the early fall quarterly reports of wages and the social security contributions paid on those wages. The payments—due by the end of July (for the months of April, May, and June) and by the end of October (for July, August, and September)—cover all household employees who are paid cash wages of $50 or more by one employer in a calendar quarter.

Contributions are based only on cash wages. Cash or tokens given to the worker for car fare count as wages.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Puls were Saturday evening guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Puls. Larry has just returned from a week in Atlanta, Ga. His wife, Pam, spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Parker. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bontrager from Warsaw, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Marshall.

Silver Lake Halloween Contest Set

The Silver Lake Lions Club will sponsor a Halloween masquerade contest at the Silver Lake School Friday evening, October 30, at 7 p.m.

Cash prizes will be awarded for first and second in the following categories: animal, devil, ghost, fairy tale, T.V. or story book character, witch, hobo or bum, cowboy or Indian, family group, miscellaneous, youngest person masked and oldest person masked.

A special prize of $10 will be awarded as the grand prize.

BOND REPORT

Charles H. Rauschke, chairman of the Fulton Co. U.S. Savings Bond Committee, has received a report revealing that the county's savings bonds for September were $11,270 compared with $9,558 for the corresponding period of last year. Forty-seven of Indiana's ninety-two counties reported sales gains for the month when compared with sales of September 1969.

But the room and board allowance for a "live-in" domestic employee does not count.

The worker and the employer each contribute 4.8 percent of the worker's wages to social security. In some cases, the employer may choose to pay the entire 9.6 percent contribution himself. But it is the employer who is responsible under the law for making the reports.

Information about social security for household workers is available from any social security office.

DECORATING MADE EASY

By Richard Butler, A.I.D., Director, Sears Home Fashions Council

The old wives' tale that pictures must be hung at eye level has no basis in fact.

Yet that is how 95 per cent of the pictures are hung in American homes, probably because that is how we usually see pictures displayed in museums.

But a home is not a museum, where people stand in line to gaze at art. Art in a home should not be detached from the rest of the room. You should compose a setting with pictures just as you compose a setting with furnishings.

Let's say you have a painting that you want to hang above a chest in the living room. If you hang it at "eye level," there probably will be a 15-inch gap between the chest and the frame. The painting floats unattached.

Now, lower the painting so that the frame is only two or three inches above the chest. Suddenly its form relates to the chest, becoming part and parcel of the room's decor, much more pleasant to the eye.

One of the best decorating devices for any room is a picture wall displaying a number of paintings, prints and compatible objects (interesting pottery, sculpture or crystal). The secret of a successful picture wall is a balance worked out on paper before the first nail is pounded into the plaster.

Cut a piece of wrapping paper the size of the wall area. Lay it on the floor and arrange your grouping on it. When your eye tells you that you are right, pencil in the outlines of each piece and tape the paper to the wall. If the effect is still right, pencil the hanger spots on the wall and drive in your nails.

If your grouping will go over a straight-line buffet, let both the bottom and the top line be uneven for interest. If the grouping will be hung over a curved line, such as a sofa with a rounded back, then the bottom line should follow the curve and the top line should be straight.

Mentone Lions Hear Sheriff

Sheriff Dave Andrews spoke to members of the Mentone Lions Club at their regular meeting at Teel's Restaurant on October 21. Sheriff Andrews gave an interesting account of the activities of the sheriff's department in Kosciusko county.

District Governor Kenneth Isenberger announced that a special meeting for Lions and their wives would be held at Laville High School in the afternoon of Dec. 6 to explain more about the state projects of the Lions Clubs. The projects include the eye bank, cancer control and leader dog.

Civilization seems to have substituted traffic jams for forest preserves.

Deadline For Christmas Mail Overseas Are Listed

PACKAGING: Boxes for overseas transmission must necessarily be of strong construction on account of the great distance these parcels must be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo. It is absolutely necessary that all articles for overseas delivery be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. Boxes should contain sufficient cushioning material so that the contents will be tightly packed to prevent any rattling or loosening of the articles within the parcels. It is also desirable that all fiberboard boxes be securely wrapped in heavy paper. Each box should be well tied with strong cord.

ADDRESSING: Addresses must be legible and prepared in typewriting or ink. It is preferable that the outside address be hand-printed on the wrappers of the boxes rather than on labels pasted to the wrappers, since experience has shown that the labels frequently fall off when subjected to moisture. It is highly desirable that a slip of paper containing the name and address of the sender and addressee, together with a list of the contents, be enclosed in each parcel so as to provide identification and proper disposition of the mail in the event the address on the outside becomes defaced.

REGISTRY AND INSURANCE Mailers are encouraged to register valuable letters and insure valuable parcels. It is recommended that patrons use postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of the Armed Forces serving outside the continental United States.

GOP Headquarters

The Fulton County Republican headquarters will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. until election day. Mrs.
