Christmas in October?

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS frame workers as additional decorations were installed Monday afternoon in downtown Mentone. A Chamber of Commerce decorating committee has chosen several new decorations for use this year and would like to purchase more if enough money can be raised. The Farmers State Bank has offered to match all funds raised during the month of October. The Chamber of Commerce donated $500 to kick off the drive.

Christmas in October? The question was asked frequently this week as Christmas decorations were installed in downtown Mentone.

The answer is no, not really. This is just a sample of some of the decorations the Mentone lighting committee has picked out. Not only are they delighted with the decorations and want to show them now, but they need money to purchase more.

A comment frequently heard last year was that Mentone had no decorations like other area towns, and a C of C committee was appointed to obtain new decorations. The committee felt the community as a whole would like to have a part in the purchase and decided to ask for donations.

Someone with a distorted set of values has been busy stealing American flags. Latest report is from the Beaver Dam United Methodist Church where a flag was stolen sometime Saturday night. What next?

To kick off the fund, the Chamber of Commerce, donated $500 and the Farmers State Bank has announced that it will match all other funds collected during October, including the donations from individuals and organizations.

Wayne Bowser, chairman of the committee, said this week, "Let's get busy and put this drive over the top. If the order is placed by the 15th of October, a discount can be had. Make all contributions payable to the Chamber of Commerce Decoration Committee."

Members of the committee are Wayne Bowser, Jim Miller, Kenneth Romine, Dale Wallace and Hap Utter.

SPEAKING TO THE GROUP were Scott Savage, left, director of the Manitou Training Center, and Don Logue, Woodlawn hospital administrator.

Rick Doud Killed In One-Vehicle Crash

Richard E. (Rick) Doud, 24, R. 5, Rochester, was pronounced dead on arrival at Parkview hospital at Plymouth early Sunday morning following a one-vehicle crash, 2½ miles west of Mentone. The accident occurred at 3:05 a.m.

Doud was alone in a pickup truck that failed to stop at an intersection and hurtled out of control into the lawn of the Frank Nellans residence.

According to Marshall

County Policeman Jess Hartung, the investigating officer, Doud's pickup was traveling north on Fulton County Road 900. Doud failed to stop at the intersection in time, applied his brakes, but it was too late. The truck went through the intersection, struck some shrubbery at the Nellans residence and turned over. The 1964 pickup truck hit another grouping of shrubbery and flipped once again, throwing the victim from the vehicle.

The truck came to rest in an upright position, approximately 200 feet from the intersection.

Doud died of a broken neck, crushed chest, multiple lacerations to the head and body.

Also assisting with the investigation were Kosciusko county officers and Mentone police. The accident actually occurred in three counties, Fulton, Kosciusko and Marshall.

Found Guilty

Richard Dickerhoff, Mentone trucking company operator, was found guilty of possession of a stolen truck in Kosciusko Superior Court Tuesday afternoon.

Dickerhoff said he did not know the truck, a White Freightliner, was stolen. He said he purchased the truck for $2500 and intended to use it for parts to repair other trucks.

Dickerhoff was fined $3,500.

He was arrested on Dec. 18, 1970 and was charged with receiving the stolen truck on Dec. 3. He pleaded not guilty to the charge on Jan. 15 of this year and the jury trial was set.

Mrs. Carson (Luella) McGuire, executive secretary of the Fulton Co. Selective Service board since 1967, has been promoted to the position of area substitute covering 14 counties in northwestern Indiana. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Kenneth (Mary) North, Rochester.

Four Converse boys who stole nearly $17,000 from the home of a retired grocer and his wife in Converse were apprehended Thursday morning in Rochester, 50 minutes after the theft was discovered.

William Reid, pioneer settler in Fulton Co. and a veteran of the War of 1812, will receive posthumous recognition for his military service soon when a U.S. military marker is placed on his grave in the Rochester Citizens cemetery.

Charles H. Rauschke, chairman of the Fulton Co. U.S. Savings Bond Committee, has received a report revealing that the county's savings bond sales for August were $11,081 compared, with $10,878 for the corresponding period of last year.

A 30-minute color film is available for schools and organizations that shows the life and duties of a member of the United States Congress. This film can be obtained by contacting the Kokomo office of Congressman Bud Hillis, 504 Union Bank Building, or by calling 317-457-4411.

The selection of Ronald G. Jensen, Grand Rapids, Mich., as executive director of the Indiana State Teachers Association was announced this week by Dr. Ernest W. Horn, ISTA president. He will replace Robert Wyatt who resigned April 30.

Child Needs Freedom To Fail

Give your child the freedom to fail. He needs to know that growing and learning mean an occasional failure, says Dr. Dama Wilms, Extension human development specialist at Purdue University.

If your child feels that he can try new things without always being successful or doing a great job, he will feel much freer to do creative and attempt new tasks. The child who must always do a perfect job, be better than the rest or always finish everything he starts is handicapped from the beginning.

Your child needs to know he is loved and accepted for himself—not for his grades or ball playing ability. If he learns through threats or parental protection that you don't want him to fail at anything, he will develop some doubts about himself and be more cautious about what he tries. He won't feel he can risk doing anything if there is a possibility of failing.

Encourage him to do things with the understanding that sometimes we all fail to achieve as much as we'd like. He needs to learn that failing is a natural part of life, points out Mrs. Wilms. It does not mean that he is an inferior person. If he doesn't have to prove he is worthwhile with every activity, he will be better able to accept an occasional flop, and go on to try again. The growing child needs the freedom to fail as well as to succeed if he is to explore and discover all his abilities and limitations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Today I received a check from the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation for $25 for preaching the baccalaureate sermon last Spring. My bill was for $66.00, including travel expenses, so they owe me $30. They stated that only once in history had they ever paid a baccalaureate speaker. This is the first time in my ministry I ever asked to be paid.

I wrote about it in the paper and sent a letter to the principal, then to the superintendent of the corporation. First I said that my bill would be the same as the commencement speaker. I was fighting for the ministers that would be preaching the baccalaureate sermons. Then I read where they were to pay a lawyer $5,000 to carry on the trouble for people that did not have good will. I shall use the money to buy food for people that are hungry. A minister has the same amount of training as the medical doctor, usually more than those who run or teach in the school. A national magazine said one of our senators charged one thousand dollars for a speech, and they had him in the corporation.

The embarrassment of preachers in the corporation as they watch outside ministers come in to give the baccalaureate is great. I came back to add to their embarrassment. The young people are wonderful, but a few people feel they can treat a minister anyway and get by with it. I feel that I am right in this. I would like my other $31. This would go to feed the poor.

History Should Be Our Teacher

The Trade Journal of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company poses a timely thought for all American to ponder as we approach our bicentennial year of 1976. It reads:

"The average age of the world's great civilizations has been 200 years. These nations progressed through this sequence: From bondage to spiritual faith—from faith to great courage; From courage to liberty—from liberty to abundance; From abundance to selfishness to complacency; From complacency to apathy—from apathy to dependence; From dependence back again to bondage. In a few years the U.S. will be 200 years old. This cycle is not inevitable—it depends on you."

SIKESTON, MO., STAND-ARD: "The liberals love to give away money-your money. They would say, 'Elect rich humanitarian politicians--elect rich folks who don't have to steal.' Reminds me of the cockroach--it's not what they steal it's what they carry off."

JUST FOR TODAY

Just for today I will live one day only, forgetting yesterday and tomorrow, and not trying to solve the whole problem of life at once.

Just for today I will be unafraid of life and of death; unafraid to enjoy the beautiful and to be happy. Lincoln said that people are as happy as they make up their minds to be.

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to make everything over to suit me. If I cannot have what I like, I will try to like what I have.

Just for today I will be agreeable, cheerful, charitable, do my best, praise people for what they do, not criticize them for what they cannot do; and if I find fault, I will forgive it and forget it. I will not try to improve or regulate anybody except myself.

Just for today I will have a plan. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have one. It will save me from worry, hurry and indecision.

Just for today I will get people off my nerves and not get on theirs. I will appreciate them for what they do and what they are.

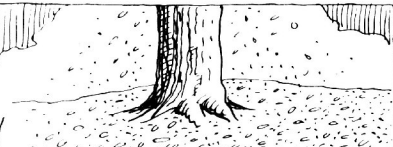

Just for today I will not show it if my feelings are hurt.

Just for today I will find a little time for quiet, to relax, and to realize what life is and can be; time to think about God, and get a better perspective of myself.

Just for today I will look at life with fresh eyes and discover the wonder of it; I will know that as I give to the world so the world will give to me.

Charles Kistler came home from Purdue and spent Sunday with his parents. He is highly pleased with the school and his work, taking a special course in electrical engineering.

One of Charley Merley's sons brought to this office some fine samples of the turnips that they raised this year. The lad seemed pleased to remember us and we appreciate his tokens. They were crisp and sweet and furnished us a nice lunch between meals.

A wise guy in this office the other day was eloquent in his demands that school children should be able to define every word they use in the lesson. We asked him if he could define every word he used and he thought he could. We asked him to define the word "button"—and do you know, he couldn't.

This office is under lasting obligations to Mr. Harry Showalter for services rendered us last week while on press with the paper. Our electrical resistor on the outside of our office burned out and our motor went bump. The press stopped dead in its tracks and in amazement we stood, wondering what had overcome our machine so suddenly. We could not find the difficulty and if we had found it we would not have known how to fix it. We sent for Harry. He got up out of bed and came to this office, smelt around the motor, over the wires and all the other connections and at last scented the trouble in the "resistor" on the outside of the office. He fixed it up in a jiffy and we were soon "going" again, in better humor. Harry is a sprightly electrician and we are glad he lives in our town.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

TREGARON'S DAUGHTER by Madeleine Brent. Here is all the grandeur and excitement of the ageless glory of Venice and the handsome beauty of the English countryside combined in the romantic and suspenseful story of a young girl's confrontation with the past.

THE WHITE DAWN by James Houston. This exciting, beautiful and haunting novel starts with several brief extracts from a New England whaling ship's log. They establish that, on a spring day in 1897, several men in a small boat are missing and presumed lost in the fog enshrouded, icy, white rimmed Arctic sea. After that prologue, the narration shifts and the story opens. Few White men know the Eskimos and their culture as intimately as James Houston. None has written of them more effectively. This outstanding narrative, blending adventure and romance with authenticity and profound meaning makes a singular contribution to our literature.

FASHION CROCHET by Caroline Horne. In this book the beginner is taken by easy stages through all the techniques of crochet - the various stitches, fastening-off, how to decrease and increase, gauge, reading patterns including the make-up of the garments. If you can count lines, you can follow these directions.

THE DWELLING PLACE by Catherine Cookson. Set against the rough class-divided society of Victorian England, this vigorous Gothic narrative portrays a young woman who uses her intelligence and determination of defy the circumstances of her birth and to gain wealth, position and happiness.

VOYAGE BY BUS by Leonard Wibberly. The land yacht had sleeping accommodations for eight and a half, and all were needed when one recent summer, Mr. Wibberly, her wife Hazel, their six children and the family car set out from their Southern California home to voyage through the American West. This was his experiment to savor the immensities and peculiarities of the West, and it's a tasty feast indeed, a warm and satisfying journey with an adventurous spirit, a cultivated mind.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

Play, for a child, is serious work - a time when he learns. Running, pulling, jumping, climbing and throwing teach a child to control his muscles.

Considering play as work of a child, select toys and play equipment carefully. The right kind of play equipment not only amuses but challenges the child, and develops his originality and concentration.

There are several factors to consider when buying toys. Durability is an important consideration. Look for sturdy construction that will withstand a child's treatment. Toys are not cheap, so you want to get your money's worth.

Play things should be adapted to the age, interest, and ability of the child. Everyone has heard the story of the father who buys an electric train because he himself wants to play with it, though the child for whom he buys it cannot understand the mechanism. It is enough to understand and appreciate a toy before giving it to him.

Each child is an individual with his own temperament. Choose toys that compliment his personality. Some children are naturally very active and others enjoy quiet play such as clay, sand, and coloring.

Last but not far from least is it safe? With the holidays just around the corner, we need to be especially careful. There are laws regulating toys but there are so many toys on the market that usually an accident has to occur to locate an unsafe toy. Toys are a child's tool for learning. Choose them with care.

Personnel Workshops Are Planned

Two workshops on "The Training and use of Auxiliary Personnel" will be offered for professionals in the Northern Indiana area. The first workshop will be held in South Bend on Nov. 9 at the YWCA from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. The workshop will be repeated November 10 at Gary, at the Technical Vocational Careers Center from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The workshops are planned to aid professionals in designing programs for auxiliary workers. Better use of training techniques and work plans for the non-professional trainees will be emphasized at the meetings, reports Ann Hancock, extension home economist in Kosciusko county. The end result should be a mutual satisfaction for both trainee and professional, says Mrs. Hancock.

It is hoped to spread the basic philosophy involved in the "new careers" type program versus the "dead end" or "make work" job philosophy so often present in programs employing non-professional aides to professionals.

The workshops have been initiated by the Area X Extension Home Economists of the Cooperative Extension Service, Purdue University. Consulting service and personnel for the workshops is being furnished by Dr. Sidney A. Fine, Upjohn Institute of Employment Research, Washington, D.C., USDA Division of Home Economics and Purdue University.

The workshops are patterned after the National Training workshops sponsored by the American Home Economics Association for its members. Mrs. Lu Stover, Lake Co. Extension Home Economist, attended the AHEA workshop held in 1969.

Mrs. Stover and Mrs. Melba Shilling, Starke Co. Extension Home Economist, are co-chairmen of the workshops. The home economists are extending an invitation to other related agencies to share with them in sponsoring the workshops. For further information, contact the County Extension Office.

Area Girls Attend Leadership Camp

Officers of Girls Athletic Association across the state of Indiana recently attended their annual Fall Leadership Camp at Epworth Forest, North Webster, Indiana. Representing Akron and Mentone High Schools were Lu Walters and Debbie Kelley, Mentone and their sponsors Alberta Davis and Polly Finney.

The primary purpose of the camp was to teach the new officers leadership techniques. The girls were involved in discussions centered around duties of officers, interpretation of the state G.A.A. point system and recording points. Dr. Beth Masho professor of education at Ball State, was the guest speaker on "Your Role in Leadership".

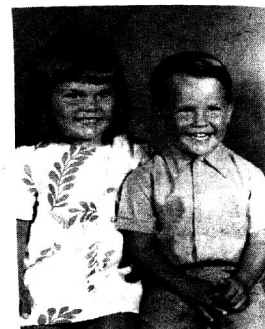

There were not only discussion groups on understanding the roles of the local G.A.A. officers, but also numerous activities and mixers. Saturday afternoon provided the girls and sponsors with sports activities and a tennis demonstration and workshop. The evening program consisted of a campfire and entertainment by Concord G.A.A. Folk Singing Group.

Sunday afternoon the group broke camp and headed home, filled with ideas and enthusiasm for their local G.A.A.

clubs. Many long-remembered friends and the thrill of meeting these new friends again at future G.A.A. activities will remain in the hearts of our girls.

The camp is sponsored annually by the Indiana League of High School Girls' Athletic Association. President of the state-wide organization is Miss Sally Dill of Tuttle Junior High School, Crawfordsville, Ind.

Fish Are Dying By Thousands In Tippecanoe River

The massive kill of fish in the Tippecanoe River from a polluting slug originating from accidental leak of chicken manure from a poultry farm near Mentone is apparently almost over, according to John Winters, stream biologist for the State Board of Health. He said reports Tuesday morning from the vicinity of Leiters Ford, where the slug passed the previous night, said no fish were dying. The slug reportedly was killing an estimated 95 percent of all fish Monday.

Richard Eurit, conservation officer in Fulton county, and other have not identified the source of the pollutant but it has been reported that it came from Tinkey Farms, Inc., located on the Crystal Lake Road northeast of Mentone.

The killing slug originated at the poultry farm when 127,000 gallons of chicken droppings were accidentally leaked from a storage tank into a field some 500 yards from the river. It is thought bulldozing work in the area cracked the foundation of the collecting pit for the manure.

The chicken droppings in the storage tank were highly concentrated and "terrifically potent", according to a conservation spokesman.

The polluting slug is several miles long and takes an estimated two to three hours for the sludge to move through an area. As good water comes down the river behind the slug, there should be a recovery of water purity, the conservation officers said.

Fish were reportedly found Monday gasping for breath and turning "belly up" as they submitted to the pollutant and floated down the river.

Numerous four-pound small-mouth bass were pulled from the plug. The largest fish counted Monday was a 16-pound flatheaded catfish.

Conservation official say, "Fishing is going to be real bad."

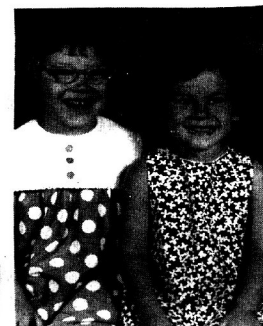

They noted they had seen other instances similar to this when rains washed manure from barnyards into the river but said this was an uncommonly large kill.

Conservation officers are taking a count of the dead fish to set the value of losses in case the state files suit. Eurit said the state has filed several past suits in the case of fish kills.

Drug Abuse Prevention

Acid, uppers, downers, bennies, pot, speed and smack are but a handful of colloquialisms used in the contemporary language of drug users. But what's really involved and where does it all lead? If you don't know, now's the time to learn, during Drug Abuse Prevention Week.

By educating yourself and your children to the hazards of drug abuse, your child will be better prepared to say "No Thanks," when that nice young man offers him a pill that looks like his favorite candy.

If someone in your family is taking drugs, you'll be better able to recognize the symptoms, and in a better position to help.

Check on the drug abuse education programs being conducted in your community through schools, church groups, PTA's and adult education groups.

Standing ready to assist you in this massive education effort are medical societies, business and government agencies, as well as your local Blue Shield Plan which has available booklets and films.

During this Drug Abuse Prevention Week, help your community and your neighbors by becoming a knowledgeable leader in the fight against drug abuse.

A chance to tell your NIPSCO Ombudsman

What's on your mind!

This month all NIPSCO customers will have a chance to communicate directly with their Ombudsman--the local NIPSCO manager and the man who wants to know what you think about your NIPSCO gas and electric service.

In October, NIPSCO is inserting a special card with your service bill which gives you the opportunity to express your opinion about meter reading, telephone courtesy, employee attitude and other NIPSCO customer contact areas.

There is also room on the card to write out any suggestion or comment you may have regarding our service. If, by chance, you have a complaint, tell your Ombudsman about that, too.

Return the card with your payment--either in the handy return envelope or hand it to the cashier in our local office.

Your Ombudsman wants to hear from you, so tell him what's on your mind.

I'm Stan Evans

Your NIPSCO Ombudsman in the Warsaw Area.

I want your every contact with NIPSCO to be as pleasant as possible. You can help by filling out the card which comes in your bill this month and returning it to me.

If you have something about your service which you wish to discuss personally, please call me at 267-8121. I will appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Stanley W. Evans

Akron's new sewage system operating

CHECKING ONE OF THE PUMPS on the lower level of the lift station of the new sewage system are, from the left; Pat Haas, an engineer with Boyd Philips Co., the firm that designed the town's sewage system; Willis Bowen, Akron clerk-treasurer, and Del Dally, an inspector.

Akron's new lagoon sewage system went into operation this week and users may connect with it at any time.

Allen Keirn, R.I., Akron, will operate the lagoons.

Boyd Philips Co. was the engineer and Woodruff Construction Co. did the actual installation.

Members of the town board are Jack Stucker, Ernest Smith and Joe Day. Willis Bowen, the clerk-treasurer, replaced Merrill Kendall, who was clerk when the sewer plans were finalized. Kendall has since been elected clerk of the Fulton Circuit Court.

LOOKING OVER CONTROLS in the pumping station are Allen Keirn, left, who will operate the lagoons, and Garland Sparks, town employee.

FILLING THE LAGOONS began Tuesday afternoon. Shown at the valve are Garland Sparks and Allen Keirn while the inspector, Del Dally, looks on.

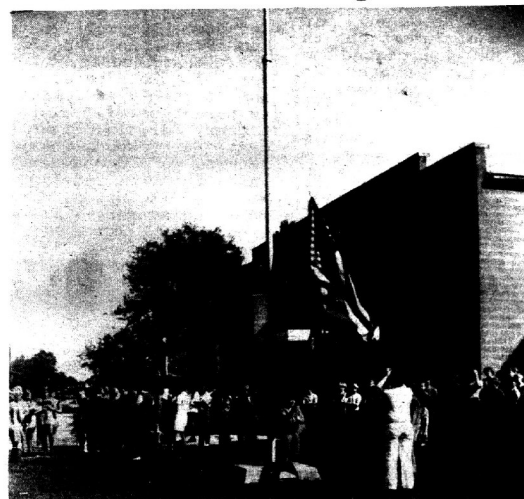

Akron Churches Set UNICEF Drive

Akron's three churches will join forces in a one-night trick or treat for UNICEF on Tuesday, October 26, at 6:30 p.m. Children should meet at their own churches at 6:30. They will return to the Church of the Brethren for refreshments.

Wednesday, October 27, 6:30 p.m., will be the rain date.

Replace stolen flag

COLUMBUS DAY ACTIVITIES at Talma Jr. High School include a flag dedication program to replace a flag that was stolen two weeks ago. The band under the direction of Kenneth Bush, played several numbers and other students participated in the short program. Also raised with the new American flag was a new Indiana flag. The flag is flown 24 hours a day with spotlights shining on it.

Prill School may be open year-round

Prill School, the one-room Henry township school lovingly restored by Dewey Zolman with the assistance of several volunteers for this summer's Round Farm Festival may become a year-round tourist attraction if plans being formulated by a group interested in its preservation materialize.

The group has met twice—in the school—to discuss ways to keep the school open. Not only does the group use the school, it keeps warm by building a fire in the old wood stove.

The building needs a new roof and new windows to make it suitable for continued use.

The next meeting of the group will be held October 18 at 7 p.m. in the school, located northeast of Athens. An old-fashioned spelling bee will provide entertainment and there will be a cake walk.

On October 23 a real old-fashioned Halloween party will be held at the school at 7 p.m. Everyone is to come masked and prizes will be awarded. There will be special games for children. Also adding to the old-fashioned fun will be bobbing for apples. Cider and doughnuts will be served.

The school and ground are owned by Ned Smith who will lease the premises to the new group.

Our Readers Write

Dear Ann,
Our visit to Akron this summer past has afforded us many wonderful discussions and warm memories. After the crush of city living here in the San Francisco bay area, we were all sensitive to the rural beauty and peace of our small, but SO important town. I didn't realize, however, that it had touched our children so deeply until one evening when we were watching television. A typically overdone commercial came on, unbearably loaded with superlatives. It ended with a gushy announcer's voice oozing, "San Francisco, the most beautiful city." "Humph," said our seven-year old Jame. "They've never SEEN Akron."

Out of the mouths of babes, eh? Just had to share that one with you and let you know that we're all very eagerly awaiting the day when we can settle with a thud and a sigh and enjoy life at Akron's pace for a lovely long time.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Fenimore Kruger

A Modern Red Riding Hood

Once upon a time, in a far-away country, there lived a little girl called Red Riding Hood. One day her mother asked her to take a basket of fruit to her grandmother, who had been ill and lived alone in a cottage in the forest.

It happened that a wolf was lurking in the bushes and overheard the conversation. He decided to take a short-cut to the grandmother's house and get the goodies for himself. The wolf killed the grandmother, then dressed in her nightgown and jumped into bed to await the little girl.

When she arrived, he made several nasty suggestions and then tried to grab her. But by this time, the child was very frightened and ran screaming from the cottage.

A woodcutter, working nearby, heard her cries and rushed to the rescue. He killed the wolf with his ax, thereby saving Red Riding Hood's life. All the townspeople hurried to the scene and proclaimed the woodcutter a hero.

But at the inquest, several facts emerged:

(1) The wolf had never been advised of his rights.
(2) The woodcutter had made no warning swings before striking the fatal blow.

(3) The Civil Liberties Union stressed the point that, although the act of eating Grandma may have been in bad taste, the wolf was only "doing his thing" and thus didn't deserve the death penalty.

(4) The SDS contended that the killing of the grandmother should be considered self-defense since she was over 30 and, therefore, couldn't be taken seriously because the wolf was trying to make love, not war.

On the basis of these considerations, it was decided there was no valid basis for charges against the wolf. Moreover, the woodcutter was indicted for unaggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Several nights later, the woodcutter's cottage was burned to the ground.

One year from the date of "The Incident at Grandma's," her cottage was made a shrine for the wolf who had bled and died there. All the village officials spoke at the dedication, but it was Red Riding Hood who gave the most touching tribute.

She said that, while she had been selfishly grateful for the woodcutter's intervention, she realized in retrospect that he had overreacted. As she knelt and placed a wreath in honor of the brave wolf, there wasn't a dry eye in the whole forest.

ISFAA Financial Aid Meetings Set for TVSC Parents

Area parents with children headed for college or vocational training after high school will have an opportunity to learn about financing higher education in the near future. The guidance departments of Akron and Mentone High Schools are cooperating with the Indiana Student Financial Aid Association, a statewide group of college aid officers, to sponsor a meeting for parents who desire information about scholarships, grants, loans, and part-time employment. Also to be discussed are Social Security, Vocational Rehabilitation, Veteran's Administration benefits, and other governmental assistance programs for students.

The local meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 27 at the multipurpose room in the Akron elementary building.

To Hear About Trimester Overseas

Prospective college students at area high schools will have opportunity to hear about Goshen College's Study-Service Trimester overseas and other programs when Ed Herr, associate director of admissions and dean of freshmen, visits high schools in this area.

He will be at Mentone and Akron high schools Wednesday afternoon, October 20. He will be at Warsaw and Triton high schools Wednesday morning.

The 14-week Study-Service Trimester abroad, emphasizing international education in a developing country like Costa Rica, Honduras, Haiti, Jamaica or South Korea, has been accepted enthusiastically by students at Goshen College. Ten credit hours toward graduation may be earned.

Half the time in the host country is devoted to study of its culture, arts, religions, history and geography. The other half is field work supervised by a national at a rural school, remote clinic, adult literacy program, community development project, agriculture research station or similar post.

Fewer than three percent of the graduating class of 1972 have elected the on-campus alternative to the trimester abroad.

Student Teaching

Among 72 Marycrest College elementary education students doing student teaching in the Quad-City area (Iowa) public and parochial schools is Mrs. James E. Morgan, the former Janet Moriarty of Tipppecanoe. Mrs. Morgan is student teaching third grade in the Washington School in Davenport. She is the daughter-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, Akron.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. high school and college personnel will provide information about financial aid eligibility, how, when, and where to apply for assistance, and advise in the completion of the Parents' Confidential Statement. The latter is a nationally-used form for the determination of a student's need for financial assistance.

One of the main purposes of these financial aid meetings, being held through out the state, is to point out to parents the many potential sources of financial support available to students without the necessary personal resources to go on to college or vocational school. No longer limited to students of exceptional academic ability, financial aid programs make it possible for every high school graduate to continue his education if he so desires.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Steven Hammond and Sharon Bringas, both of R. 1, Akron, applied for a marriage license last week in the Fulton Co. clerk's office.

LICENSE SUSPENSION

The driver's license of Edward R. Matzat, R. 1, Akron, has been suspended for a year, ending Aug. 5, 1972, for drunken driving, according to the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

tomorrow's air & water can be clean

Nature in all its forms—from humblest fox squirrel to a rushing river—does have a chance.

And electric energy will help. By powering sewage and industrial waste treatment plants, air filtering systems, waste recycling processes, and all the other facilities needed for the clean-up.

More electricity, not less, is needed to help solve our pollution problems.

Making sure there will be enough—and producing it in power plants that are good environmental neighbors—is the big challenge facing the electric companies. To meet this challenge, we'll be spending over $600 million to expand our system in the next six years. Some $40 million will go for air and water quality alone.

Our goal is the cleanest power plants possible providing all the electric energy you need.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent

an electric fireplace belongs in the have-your-cake-and-eat-it-too department. Its flickering "flame" draws family and friends close around as it bathes a room in warmth. And it's massive enough to be a room's focal point.

but there is no wood to store—and pay for. No "will it start?" question. No flying sparks to fear. No smoke to cloud the sky. No ashes to sweep and carry out.

doors are open to electric fireplaces that are closed to others. They may go into apartments, mobile homes and rooms where venting is a problem. There are styles to hang on the wall or set on the floor, to fit into a corner or stand in the middle of the room. They go modern in sleek, colorful metal or traditional in brick-like fiberglass.

the heat they give is just as versatile. Flame only can be switched on—now there is a fireplace that's compatible with air conditioning! When the fan-forced heater is used (it's usually hidden behind a grid in the base of the fireplace), a thermostat knob may be turned to select the heat. For bigger heating jobs (say, taking the chill off a garage that has been converted into a party room), models calling for 240-volt installation are available.

you can go electric even if you have a built-in fireplace. Electric logs, with or without heaters, are made to be plugged into 120-volt wall outlets.

if you continue burning wood, check where you store it. If logs rest against a wall, or on the floor, of the house, termites are encouraged to find a way through that wall or floor. A metal rack is safer.

Keynote speaker for the conference was Mrs. Belle Smith Spafford of Utah. Mrs. Spafford is a teacher, writer, editor, executive, spiritual leader, and mother of seven.

Over 3,000 women attended the conference. Indiana received recognition for several accomplishments during the past year. Our state received second place awards for its work in safety and citizenship. Also Indiana was recognized as having the largest state membership in the nation.

Mrs. Hillery attended many interesting sessions and participated in a special interest session on consumers complaints. The Extension Homemakers of Kosciusko County wish to express their thanks to Mrs. Hillery for so ably representing our county in Dallas.

Sorority Is Named Chapter of Month

Akron's Psi Kappa chapter of Kappa Delta Phi national sorority was featured recently as "Chapter of the Month" in the sorority's monthly bulletin. The following is a reprint of the article:

Psi Kappa Chapter, Akron, Indiana, was organized on November 16, 1947 by Gamma Iota, Rochester, Indiana. There are presently 22 active members and seven associates. Kate Jennings is the only active charter member. She will be a 25 year member next year. Psi Kappa considers Kate an outstanding member and what makes her extraordinary is her boundless energy and enthusiasm. Whether it is teaching fourth grade or working in the name of Kappa Delta Phi, she is always willing and dependable. You can imagine what a person of this type means to a chapter! She sets an example--rarely misses a business meeting and gives her wholehearted support to whoever is president. Words she doesn't seem to have in her vocabulary are, "I won't be able to help because....."

Psi Kappa has been responsible for beginning two major events that have become traditions in Akron--an Old Grads (1953) and a 4th of July Founders Day celebration (1959). In addition they began sponsoring a Charity Ball in 1959 and this has become an annual event. Other successful projects include: weekly story hour, Great Books Club, monetary contributions to county hospitals, repaired toys for Christmas distribution and ward parties for mental patients and off-grounds picnic in city park for a group of mental patients.

They are a thriving, active chapter now but a few remember when the active chapter roll dwindled to six in 1957 and, at one time, the treasury was down to eight cents, but still did not disband. Congratulations to Psi Kappa for being chosen Chapter of the Month. June Richardson National Vice-President

Take your problems to Church this week -

They Belong Together

When our forefathers were carving homes out of the wilderness a bountiful harvest often meant the difference between existence and near starvation. Yet, as important as a good harvest was to the pioneer and his family, the Holy Bible was just as indispensable; in fact both went hand in hand. With the Holy Bible to lend strength as a rule and guide of faith our forefathers conquered the wilderness and brought forth crops.

With the present modern farm machinery and rapid distribution man has been taking the fruits of the harvest as a matter of course and quite often has disregarded the Bible as being essential to his well-being. But now when dark clouds threaten, when the future seems so uncertain we find the material things offer little help in facing that future.

The Holy Bible will still serve man as it did in the early days of uncertainty and peril and the church is an excellent place to go to get the maximum help from its pages and to learn of the many aids it offers.

Architect's drawing of the outside of the church, following proposed building program.

Proposed lay-out of the Akron Church of God following a suggested building program.

Church of God discusses building plans

The Akron Church of God, in a business session last Thursday evening, approved securing the services of Associated Engineering of Indiana for preliminary, architectural planning for a possible future addition to the church.

William Gunter represented the firm and explained the drawings shown here. The layout involves more facilities for worship, fellowship and education.

Pastor J. D. Thomason states that all planning is in the early stages of development and that further congregational action is required prior to any building.

The trustees of the church are serving as the church building committee.

Be-Abouts Meet At Norris Home

The Be-About Missionary ladies of the First Baptist Church of Mentone met recently at the home of Mrs. Lee Norris.

The meeting opened by singing "How Great Thou Art" and with prayer. Mrs. James Swihart had devotions. A scripture verse on learning was given for roll call response.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read.

A thank you note from the Rev. and Mrs. Russell Ebersole, missionaries in the Philippines, was acknowledged.

The women voted to buy 24 terry cloth aprons for Rev. and Mrs. Robert Munn, missionaries in France.

A missionary cupboard is being planned and a shower to stock this cupboard will be held in October.

Boxes will be sent to the men of the church who are serving in the Armed Forces.

Favors will be made by the group for use in the nursing homes.

Mrs. Marion Acton, who is leaving the community, was presented a going-away gift.

The social time was spent making calendars for Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Ralston, missionaries to the island men of Florida.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

IN MEMORY

In memory of my dear husband Artie A. Carr. Left us as a family Oct. 10, eight years ago. Also my dear sister Aletha Leckrone, Oct. 5, eight years ago. But, sure must think - Our great loss is heaven's gain.

A beautiful memory dearer than gold
Of them whose worth can never be told.
Happy and smiling, always content
Loved and respected, where ever they roamed.
To a beautiful end, comes peaceful rest, Their Death as they lived, every ones friend.

Akron Sets Trick Or Treat Nights

The Akron town board has set Friday and Saturday, October 29 and 30, as trick or treat nights in town. The town marshal has been instructed to pick up anyone found Halloweening before those nights.

Trick or Treat Nights Set At Burket

Friday and Saturday nights, October 29 and 30, have been set as official nights for trick or treat festivities and Halloween celebration in Burket. A 10 p.m. curfew for the month of October has been established. It will be enforced by Town Marshal John Huff.

'His Land' Coming To Mentone Methodist

Next Sunday evening at 7 p.m. "His Land", a filmed musical journey into the soul of Israel from ancient times to modern times in beautiful Eastmancolor produced by Billy Graham Film Association will be shown at the United Methodist Church of Mentone.

Dr. Graham says, "The rebirth of the State of Israel by the United Nations decree on Nov. 29, 1947 is by far the great Biblical event that has taken place during the twentieth century." The film takes the viewer on a journey through space, time and current events in presenting Israel today as a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world. Travel through the wilderness, through the street of Galilee, Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Bethlehem and the Negev become a reality for the viewer and he can see the people of modern Israel as they work, play and build a new "Land of milk and honey" out of the barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect.

Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, sing a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs, some of which were actually composed during the filming in Israel. The viewer travels some of the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets.

The film will give Christians a new and different perspective of the Jew and the nation of Israel and will also be of interest to the Jewish community. "His Land" is a fresh approach to the old story and should reach many who question the Bible's validity.

The public is cordially invited to see this timely and gripping one hour motion picture as it confront the viewer with the challenge, significance and meaning of the events now happening in the Middle East, says the Rev. L. E. Todd, minister of the church.

Mentone Board Asks Marshal To Enforce 10 p.m. Curfew

Mentone town board members instructed Town Marshal Gene Norton to place a curfew of 10 p.m. for the remainder of October and to restrict trick or treaters to two nights of Halloween celebration on Friday, October 29, and Saturday, Oct. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Roberta Bush, clerk-treasurer, announced absentee ballots for the coming town election may be obtained in her office and assistance in completing them can be obtained from the town election board comprised of the clerk-treasurer and appointees Mrs. Jerry Smith and Annabel Mentzer.

"Why no walk?" Board asked

"Why, after almost five years, has no sidewalk been built between the north wing of the Mentone school and the high school?" Gene Hughes, a Mentone parent, asked the Tippecanoe Valley school board at its regular meeting Monday night.

He was told by Superintendent Robert Forbes that there was no sidewalk because (1) It was not necessary (2) There were appropriation limitations (3) It would constitute new construction.

Hughes said it seemed to him the safety of the children should outweigh the cost involved and his wife noted that the children had to either walk in the street or in the wet grass. Maurice Coplen, board president, said the board would investigate the matter and Forbes said the students would be asked to use a different door.

Hughes also asked if a crossing guard could be used at the intersection of state roads 19 and 25 and was directed to ask the Mentone town board. Dr. Donald VanGilder, a board member, said it might also be wise to ask the town board to stress safety, impressing on mothers the need to stop at all stop signs and obey safety rules. He said he had noted streets that were full of children where there were walks.

Sally Leckrone and six other members of the junior class at Akron High School asked the board if some of the policy concerning money raising events could be changed, noting their class had only $50 in its treasury and would need at least $2,000 before graduation, the money to be spent for prom, graduation and the school yearbook. WORK HAS BEGUN on a house being built by students of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation who are enrolled in the building trades program. This year's house, built northeast of Mentone, will be similar in style to the house built at Akron last year except that it will be slightly larger and will have a full basement. Previous houses built by the classes have been all-electric but this year's house will be heated and cooled with natural gas. At the time the picture was taken Wednesday morning, the boys were troweling a load of concrete that had just been delivered.

Herendeen places third

Mentone's Bob Herendeen placed third in national aerobic competition last week at Fort Worth, Texas. Bob, sidelined last year because of an accident in which he sustained a broken leg and the loss of his airplane, recently purchased a new Pitts Special that he flew in last week's six day competition.

Placing first was Gene Soucy, familiar to local residents because of a visit here with Bob a few summers ago in which he performed a series of maneuvers at the air show. Other finalists were Charles Hilliard, second, Art School, fourth, and Tom Poberezny, fifth. The five men will make up the United States team that will participate in world competition next year in France. Also going with the team will be Mary Gaffaney, women's champion.

Bob, who has participated in three previous world events--in Russia, East Germany and England--also received the sportsmanship trophy last week in addition to several other awards.

Bob won the world championship in England and has previously been U.S. champion several times.

Lions Set Fete In Mentone

The Mentone Lions Club is planning a Halloween celebration and fish and chicken fry to be held October 30.

Prizes in many categories will be given to masked entrants.

General Commission has policy hearing

Local interest again centered on Indianapolis Wednesday as the General Commission met to hold a public hearing on a proposed policy that would set a minimum size standard of 500 students in a four-year high school.

Speaking in opposition to the proposal were Dr. Donald VanGilder and Dr. John McKee, members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board.

Final action on the ruling will be taken November 17 and the rules will be promulgated by being signed by the governor, attorney general, secretary of state and other public officials.

John J. Loughlin, superintendent of public instruction, said at the time he made the proposed policy in August that it would meet the minimum standard recommended a few years ago by Dr. James B. Conant in his study of American high schools and would more nearly meet the standards accepted by most professional educators. At that time he also indicated the policy would be more in harmony with the minimum standards for size of a reorganized school corporation in Indiana as established by the State School Reorganization Commission and still carried out by the General Commission.

The policy, if passed, would affect future building programs in the Tippecanoe Valley Schools.

AT THE DROP OF A VEIL by Marianne Alireza. The narrator of this book was an American. It was 1945 and she had been in Arabia one short month with her husband, Ali. Back home she had never been out of the state of California.

Suddenly, she was a member of a rich and prominent Arabian family, veiled and cloaked like a Biblical figure, visiting a king's desert encampment, not only miles but two hundred years from home. This is the story of her twelve years in a harem. One day she learned that her husband and divorced her by one sentence spoken before an official from the Saudi-Arabian Consulate in New York. The book ends on a hair-raising escape with the children over the Swiss border, as carefully planned and as dangerously executed as in the best suspense story.

AROUND OUR HOUSE by Henry and Janice Holt Giles. This is the warm and revealing story of the Giles' daily lives and covers the years from 1954, when they left the farm described in "40 Acres and No Mule", to 1970.

REACH UP by Vonda Kay Dyke. Everywhere she goes, Vonda Kay VanDyke challenges young people to turn their lives over to Christ and let Him guide them in all their decisions and plans—just as she has done. She presents the same challenge in this new book, along with counsel on getting along with people, planning one's education, handling problems and disappointments, advice on men and marriage, living with success and establishing a career.

THE TALL SYCAMORE OF THE WABASH by Leewell H. Carpenter. This is the wonderfully warm and absorbing story of a boy who was born in the wilderness of very poor pioneer parents and who reached national prominence in his lifetime. One will feel that his own life has been genuinely enriched by reading this book.

Ours is a family of collectors. From organized collections of miniatures and local works of art to bits of string and old candy wrappers, we collect.

Loren and I collect articles from magazines, his on flying, farming and printing; mine on local history, article ideas, decorating suggestions. All go into files or notebooks for future reference. Our house is overflowing with stuffed files and lined with catalogued note books.

The boys collect farm magazines and brochures, dirt, stones, shells, leaves—you name it, it is there. I even collect stones but my collection is second hand since it comes out of the washer after I've washed their pants. Our utility room looks like a geologist's nightmare.

In addition, over the years I've amassed a huge collection of rejection slips, those impersonal little notes from editors that say the enclosed article is not just right for their publication, please try another. Sprinkled through the rejections have been friendly letters and occasional sales. The latter are greeted warmly and happily.

I was in the middle of clearing out the latest collection of gum wrappers and string last week when a sample copy of one of my published articles arrived in the mail. What pleasure to see the by-line! It

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

overcame some of the frustration I had felt when I received rejection slips. But the title of the article, "Collect Bird Nests," was something else. Bird Nests! I must have been out of my mind. The first boy who brings a bird nest into this house... I thought meanly. I'd have to deal with him. Still, there it was. I wrote it based on research, not experience. It had my name on it. To show it to the boys or not? A difficult question since they also get a boost when Mom sells something. They were so young when I wrote the article they probably didn't know it existed. A magazine that pays on publication accepted it four or five years ago, offered to pay $100 when they printed it—and, after a two-year wait decided they no longer wanted it. Another magazine sent it to Texas for a professor to read. He kept it five months. It had come within an inch of selling. Taking the advice of all the how to sell what you write articles I had read, I re-submitted it and a check came in the return mail. Now 18 months later, it had been published.

They can't hold the article against me, I thought. They should consider the fact that I didn't know about collections that get out of hand when I wrote that. I had not had the experience I have now.

Finally, pride in the by-line overcame fear of a bird nest collection and I showed them the article. "Wonderful!" they enthused in unison. "How about taking the money you got from it to buy us some cowboy boots?" I explained that the $16 had long since been spent—probably for something for them, and their interest waned. Neither offered to read the article. Whew!

Now that my nerves are steadier, I know that future articles will NOT be about collecting bird nests, at least until I get some of our present collections in better order.

Still, I may start another collection myself. Like homilies, such as "Practice what you preach."

When a marriage breaks up, man discovers how literally she took him at his words "with all my worldly goods I do thee endow"...

A West Coast woman left her husband eleven times and returned in less than a month in every case. It's this sort of thing which is so apt to dishearten the average husband...

Monument to modern farming

A farmer used to have to sell his grain immediately after harvest, regardless of the market price. Maybe he made a decent profit... maybe he didn't.

Today, with rural electricity and modern farming equipment, farmers can harvest their grain—then dry it, store it, and wait for a more profitable marketing situation.

From drying grain to drying clothes, rural electric cooperatives have made quite an impact upon the lives of rural people—a monumental impact, you might say.

Double Services Held For Couple

Double funeral services were conducted in Fremont Monday afternoon for Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ferguson while law enforcement agencies continued to comb the mid-west for the sadistic killers of the couple, shot to death as an aftermath of a $25,000 bank robbery.

It is thought Mrs. Ferguson, sister of Mrs. Wymond Wilson, Mentone, was forced to accompany the robbers to the bank where she had worked 31 years and that on returning to the Ferguson home, the robbers shot both Fergusons.

Mrs. Ferguson's survivors also include another sister, Mrs. Joe Wolf, Edon, Ohio, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henry, R. 4, Angola, who spend their winters in Texas.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

The environmental issue is one that American women can really sink their teeth into. In their expanded roles in society, women are involved in almost every decision that affects the quality of our environment.

As housewives, American women are responsible for determining how more than two-thirds of our consumer dollars are spent. This is a major weapon made even more potent by the influence women exert over the decisions about how the remaining dollars are spent.

As mothers, women shape the attitudes and life styles of the coming generations. Future generations will play the key role in choosing whether we establish a healthy balance in our ecology or bury each other in the wrappings of packaged affluence.

But women are more than just housewives and mothers. They are a major political force as well. In the coming elections women are expected to account for 52% of the vote.

While lawmakers labor to enact programs to control various forms of pollution caused by consumer products, women can bring the problem under control by simply refusing to buy questionable products, whether the fault lies in the product or the packaging. The biggest job for women will be in getting the needed information about problems and control and to realize how powerful women can be in building a healthier environment.

As you start to think "environmentally" in your day to day life, you will certainly come up with hundreds of other sound ideas. In the long run, that is the most important thing of all--thinking environmentally. The good global housekeeping habits that we form now and instill in our children are only basis upon which we can face the future with confidence and hope.

Taken from the Oct. 19, 1938 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:
Mrs. Mary Boggs, assisted by Mrs. Cora Van

WCTU Institute Held at Akron

The Akron W.C.T.U. Institute was held Tuesday, Oct. 12th at the Akron library.

A pre-supper session at 5:30 p.m. opened the activities. It consisted mostly of reports on the various departments: Home Protection, Mrs. Marie Bright, Education: Goldie Burns, Social Service: Mrs. Eva McHatton. Mrs. Thelma Craig gave the secretary's report, and treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Velma Bright. Devotions were given by Mrs. Beulah Pratt and the session dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Minnie Helvey.

Mrs. Margaret Slaybaugh and Mrs. Nellie Slusser were the hostesses for the carry-in supper. They were also responsible for the lovely autumn decorations that graced the tables. Miss Nora Hoffman registered the guests as they appeared. Miss Velma Bright gave the table blessing for the supper.

The evening session came to order at 7:30 p.m. with group singing of "I Am Thine, O Lord," followed with challenging devotions given by Rev. John Moore, of the Akron United Methodist Church.

The special number for the evening was a lovely piano solo by Theresa Mark.

Mimeographed copies taking a stand against some proposed legislation were explained and distributed by Velma Bright.

Mr. William Mollenhour, editor of the Warsaw Times Union, was introduced by the chairman, Mrs. Beulah Pratt, and a most informative discussion of the narcotics problems was conducted. A lively question and answer period ensued.

The president, Mrs. Marie Bright, gave the dismissal prayer.

REACHING A LONG WAY is Jana Empfield as he stretches for the doorbell to Trick or Treat for UNICEF on Halloween. The United Nations Children's Fund reaches out to help children in 112 developing countries with the coins collected by American children including, from the left, Judy and Robbie Kukowski, Jeff Mrozinski and Jana of Alle-Kiski Valley, Pa. Local residents too can give funds for food, medicine and education supplies Tuesday, October 26. The drive in Akron will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the three churches. The Mentone drive will begin at 6 p.m. at the United Methodist Church. Residents of both communities are asked to leave their porch lights on as a sign of welcome to the youthful trick-or-treaters.

Trick or Treat For UNICEF Locally Tuesday

The cries of "Trick or Treat" will be heard in Akron and Mentone Tuesday night as youthful goblins go door to door to collect funds for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

Akron children will meet at their respective churches at 6:30 p.m. for routes and materials. They will return to the Brethren Church for refreshments and parents may pick up their children there at 8 p.m.

Mentone children will meet at the United Methodist Church at 6 p.m. and will later return to the church for refreshments. Their parents also may pick them up at 8 p.m.

Children of all churches in both communities are invited to participate.

Akron rain date is October 27.

Residents should leave their porch lights on as a welcome to the little goblins who will be canvassing for funds for the children of Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. It is estimated that in these countries four out of every five children receive no medical care, either to prevent or cure illness; three out of every four children suffer from malnutrition, and about half the children do not go to school or must leave school before they finish the primary grades.

UNICEF's job is to help countries solve these problems. UNICEF equips schools and clinics, helping families and communities learn about nutrition and health. It aids the training of nurses, teachers and many others who can help children in their own countries. UNICEF's goal is a world of healthy children who have a chance to grow and develop their talents.

Officials say 10¢ buys enough medicine to cure a child of trachoma; 50¢ buys enough BCG vaccine to protect 40 children against tuberculosis; $1 buys 50 cakes of soap for a health center; $5 buys a set of garden tools for a school nutrition program.

If you spend your vacation at home, you can show the neighbors that you are disciplined, creative, home-loving, and broke.

Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, Hears National Defense Program

Anthony Nigo Chapter, NSDAR, Mentone, entertained members of the Tippecanoe River Chapter of Bourbon Tuesday evening at salad smorgasbord at Teel's restaurant with 49 members and guests present.

Mrs. Robert Knepper, state chaplain, gave the dinner grace.

The regent, Mrs. Loren Gross, led the chapters in the ritual opening with the assistance of the chapter chaplain, Mrs. Arthur Brown. Mrs. Gross welcomed everyone with a poem pertaining to the month of October and to the beautiful autumn weather. She thanked the committees, consisting of Mrs. Ernest Igo and Mrs. Wayne Smalley.

Guests introduced by the regent were Mrs. Robert Knepper, state chaplain; Mrs. W.D. Hisson, state chairman of national defense; and Mrs. Charles Joyner, regent of the Tippecanoe River chapter.

The President General message was read by Mrs. Donald Boggs. She stressed the observance of Columbus Day, being celebrated for the first time as a national holiday. October has another special importance as that is the month the American Revolution was ended.

The resolution on the flag of the United States was read by Mrs. Ray Rush. Members were alerted to be aware of useless symbols, codes, and slogans used by superimposing them on the flag by some groups and to uphold the respect the flag deserves and maintain laws for its description.

The chapter chairman of national defense, Mrs. Thomas Fugate, introduced Mrs. Hisson, speaker of the evening and a member of Mary Penrose Wayne Chapter of Ft. Wayne for 33 years.

Mrs. Hisson urged the group to use only material sent from the national headquarters and to get facts not propaganda. The object of the committee is in answer to the question,

"How long can our nation survive?.... Just as long as the issues of our founding fathers remain dominant in our life." It is sad that, our children are not taught more respect and given information about our founding fathers, she said. George Washington had an iron will with no fear of the results from what he considered a just decision. She asked, "Have we kept the principles for which the American Revolution was fought?"

"Our National Defense can only be kept if we challenge our minds and keep spiritual upbringing in our families. These must be recovered and revived to keep our moral resources dominant," she said.

Continuing, she said, "The American way of life can be either freedom or servitude, obtained by whether we are weak or strong. It is up to every loyal American to keep this way of life. Keep well-informed, help others to be well-informed; fly the flag proudly, vote and see that others do, speak your ideas..things each of us can do."

"The nation must turn back to God," Mrs. Hisson urged, "and pray for our country and all for which it stands."

The meeting adjourned with members repeating the American's Creed.

The next meeting of Anthony Nigo Chapter will be November 9 at the home of Mrs. Glenn Clauss of Bourbon. Members are reminded to bring Christmas gifts for the DAR schools at this time.

Dean Rager Woman's Club Speaker

The Akron Womens Club met in the library basement with the meeting being opened with the invocation and pledge to the flag.

Guests were introduced with the roll call.

Mrs. J. D. Thomason gave the devotions with a reading from the Bible.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harold Shewman, president, with reports from various committees. A "favorite food auction" will be held at the next meeting as part of the program.

Mrs. Randall Leininger introduced Mrs. Walter Waechter, who in turn, introduced Mr.

Dean Rager, principal of the Akron Elementary School. He gave a very interesting report on education in our schools entitled, "Program Learning". He also explained the various experiments other schools are trying in order to achieve a better education level.

Mrs. Ray Doering won the traveling basket.

Refreshments were served from a fall decorated table with Mrs. Charles Smoker, Mrs. Roy Saner and Mrs. Beecher Weida as the hostesses.

Talma 8th Grade News

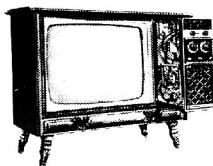

In our classes we are studying many different things. In Math we are learning decimals, negatives and positives. The teachers for math are Mr. Welch and Mr. Davis. In Language Arts we have Mr. Spiegel and are reading in our Literature books and are having some Speech. In Science with Mr. Latier, we are studying matter and energy. In History, we are learning about the discovery of the New World with Mr. Pratt. We have colonized the New World and learning about England's control of North America after the French and Indian War. We are also learning to spell the states and capitals and locating them on a map. As you can see, we're very busy, but we're having a good time in our last year at Talma.

Why No Walk?

suggested the class be allowed to sell advertising for the yearbook and be allowed to actively sell fishfry tickets. She also noted the class was not permitted to open the canteen at noon and that they had one less home game than last year in which to raise money. Forbes said he would investigate the no lunch hour canteen policy and the board promised to discuss at a future date the advisability of ad sales by the annual staff.

Following a financial report showing the corporation had a total of $1,211,456.64 in all funds and approval of claims and payroll, the board discussed at length possible repair projects for all the corporation schools.

No decision on any of the projects was reached and the discussion will continue at a later date.

Board member Philip Lash reported on a meeting on special education he had attended.

It was noted that some students in the senior classes at both Akron and Mentone did not wish to continue having baccalaureate services. Forbes said a poll taken at Mentone indicated 80% of the seniors were in favor of discontinuing the service or combining it with commencement. This matter will need further investigation, the board decided and took no action on the question.

Permission was granted the Akron Lions Club to use two buses to go to Ft. Wayne with members of the Akron fifth grade class and to the Akron Girl Scouts to go to Lagro. Permission to use a bus was denied the Burket Cheerios 4-H club on the basis that a state law allows the buses to be used for students of the corporation or by Boy or Girl Scouts but does not mention 4-H clubs.

Board member Richard Goshert reported a person had contacted him to see if the bus shed at Burket could be purchased. The matter was tabled for further discussion.

Following a forty minute executive session after which no action was taken, the board adjourned and informally made plans for some of the members to visit the Upper Wabash Vocational School next Monday evening.

In the old days when you asked, "Is it a boy or a girl?" you were looking at a baby.

Two hippies grunting— "Where do you bathe, man?" "I bathe in the spring." "I didn't say when. I said where."

Those who say "you can't take it with you" never saw a car packed for a vacation trip.

Akron Season Tickets On Sale

Season Tickets for the 1971-72 Akron High School basketball season will be sold Wednesday, October 27 and Thursday, October 28 beginning at 9:00 a.m. on both days. On Wednesday, tickets will be sold to parents of players and cheerleaders, faculty and students. The general public may purchase tickets on Thursday. Ticket orders by phone will not be taken until after noon Thursday, and all orders taken by phone must be picked up by Tuesday, Nov. 2 or they will be resold. Ticket prices are: reserved adult season tickets $7; non-reserved adult season tickets $5.50; and student ticket $3.00. The seasons tickets will be used only for the seven home games to be played at Akron. The first home game is Friday, Nov. 12 with Oregon-Davis.

Lighting Fund grows

The Mentone Christmas tree lighting fund continues to grow and donations can still be made to members of the committee. The first order for lights has been placed, but the committee would like to be able to purchase additional lighting for the town and urges residents and business people to contribute before the end of October.

All donations made during October will be matched by the Farmers State Bank.

Members of the committee are Wayne Bowser, Jim Miller, Kenneth Romine, Dale Wallace and Hap Utter.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Carroll Blair, R. 1, Mentone, and Ann Leap, R. 4, Rochester, applied for a marriage license in the Fulton County clerk's office Monday.

Fires, robberies plague Akron businesses

Fires gutted the offices of two Akron businesses early Saturday morning, causing thousands of dollars worth of damage as firemen from Akron, Mentone and Rochester fought to save the rest of the businesses.

Clean-up work has continued this week at the Akron Foundry and Thompson's Feed and Grain but both businesses are operating.

It is thought the fires were started by a thief or thieves who broke into the offices and took small amounts of change. However, it appeared at the elevator that the arsonist had intended the fire to spread to the rest of the building as a bag of grain was propped against the door between the office and mill, holding the door open and giving the fire free reign.

The fires were only a block and a half apart and both businesses are located in the southern part of Akron.

The foundry fire was discovered by Walt Benzing, night marshal, as he made his routine rounds. He reported the fire and the Akron department rushed to the scene.

However, Jackie Stuckler, by riding to the fire with her father, Jack, became the heroine of the evening when she noticed the fire at the elevator as they passed it enroute to the foundry. She finally convinced her father to turn around and see for himself, an action that is credited with saving the elevator from destruction. The Mentone and Rochester fire departments were then called to the scene.

The Akron department was called back to the elevator Saturday afternoon after the fire again broke out.

The fire at the foundry was confined to the office area, completely destroying all the office machines, but it did not spread to the rest of the plant.

The elevator offices were gutted and motors of some of the machinery were destroyed. Clean-up work is also in process there. Byron Thompson, owner of the firm, said entry apparently was gained by breaking out a side window. He said a door at the office had also been pried open.

Suspect Held

Whit "Buddy" Howard, 25, Akron, was charged in Fulton circuit court Tuesday with furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor.

Howard has been in Fulton County jail since Saturday morning and is being questioned in connection with the break-ins and fires at the Thompson Feed and Grain Elevator and the Akron

Only one contest in Tuesday's election

Tuesday's town elections will result in new town boards being elected in Akron and Mentone.

In Akron, only the Republicans have a slate with Virginia York seeking the office of clerk-treasurer and Dr. Chas. Miller, John Zimmerman and Ron Fenimore seeking posts on the board. The present board, Jack Stuckler, Ernest Smith and Joe Day, did not seek re-election.

Willis Bowen, who had been appointed to finish the term as clerk-treasurer, replacing Merrill Kendall, also did not run.

A full slate of candidates awaits Mentone voters. Two women, both well-known in the community, seek the office of clerk-treasurer. They are Jeannette Moltenhour, the Republican, and Marie Coleman, the Democrat.

Mentone Republican

town board candidates are William Rathbun, first ward; James Whetstone, second ward, and Kenneth Bush, third ward. All are incumbents.

Democratic candidates for the posts are Gene Hughes, first ward; Rodney Gibley, second ward, and Conda Walburn, third ward.

Tax Board Cuts 25¢ From TVSC Rate

The rate advertised by the school board had been $4.35 and included one hundred thousand dollars for improvement of the

They also authorized work to begin today on running a water line to the new well field in the north part of town. Woodruff Construction Co. will do the digging necessary and Layne-Northern Pump Co. will install the well.

Sidewalks

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to seek the support of the School Board and anyone who shares with me the concern that our children have no sidewalk to walk on from the high school to the north wing (grade school). In order to do this I would like to examine the reasons why Mr. Forbes feels that there should not be a sidewalk put in. He says: 1) It is not necessary 2) There were appropriation limitations 3) It would constitute new construction. Mr. Forbes also stated that the children would be asked to use another door and Dr. Van Gilder added that children walked in the streets even when sidewalks were provided.

I invite you to take a look at any of the modern schools in the area and note that there are sidewalks to ALL doors. The reason is that these schools feel that for the convenience and safety of its students, sidewalks ARE necessary.

As I have stated before, I feel that uppermost in everyone's mind should be the safety of the children. Since the funds are limited, let's take a look at how the cost could be reduced. I'm sure everyone is aware that the biggest expense in any kind of construction is labor. In order to eliminate the labor involved in putting in the sidewalk why not have the Building Trades class do the digging and the setting of forms. This would cut the cost by at least one-half.

I personally don't understand how a sidewalk that should have been put in five years ago can be classes as "new construction".

Is it fair to ask these young children to travel through already crowded halls, climb up and down stairs, and walk among the awesome and sometimes even scary size and speed of the high school students, when there is a door conveniently located at the North End so that these very situations can be avoided?

While there is much merit in Dr. Van Gilder's statement, shouldn't we as mature, responsible adults give these children the right to choose whether or not to use the sidewalk rather than forcing them to walk in the street or the wet grass?

In closing, I would like to stress again that the safety of these young grade school children is the primary concern and it cannot be overlooked by anyone for any reason unless they are prepared to accept full responsibility for any injury, however slight it might be, inflicted upon some innocent child. These children are too young to speak for themselves, so as a representative for a group of concerned parents have spoken for them. Yours for a SAFER School

Society Security Contact Station Is Moved

The Social Security representative will meet with Fulton County residents at a different contact station in Rochester beginning Nov. 2, 1971, according to Don R. Zimmerman, District Manager of the South Bend Social Security Office.

The representative will be at the American Legion, 611 Main St., in Rochester not the City Building, said Mr. Zimmerman. There is no change in dates or time first and, third Tuesdays from 9 a. m. to noon, he said.

He also noted that people should not phone the American Legion. Instead, they should call the So. Bend office at 234-4001 if they have questions.

Teachers Institute

Dear Editor:

Teachers will not be required by the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation to attend teachers institute this year. In the past teachers have been paid for these two days and were expected to either attend the conference on instruction or else go to their building to busy themselves.

This year teachers will not be paid for institute days. These two days are merely treated as vacation days on the school calendar. Until this year these days counted as school days in fulfilling the state requirements of approximately 177 school days; now this has been changed.

Many teachers will still attend these educational sessions because it gives them opportunity for professional growth and an interchange of ideas. Some, of course, will elect to do other things on November 4th and 5th.

What the Classroom Teachers Association wants our community to know is that these days are vacation days and that if you see your child's teacher doing other things those days he or she is not defrauding you, the taxpayer.

Yours for good education
William Darr

Our Views

Trick or treat or trick and treatment?

Which will it be Sunday night as neighborhood ghosts and goblins make their annual Halloween pilgrimage in search of candy and other long anticipated treasure?

For the children it is an evening of great fun and adventure but for some it can turn into a night of tragedy and sorrow.

Each year too many children are injured and killed Halloween Eve by motorists unable to see them as they dart unexpectedly into the street. Still others are badly burned as their costumes are ignited by flames from lighted candles and lanterns. This does not have to be if parents will observe rules of good sense and safety, such as the following suggested by a national insurance company:

Use only bright costumes. A white sheeted ghost is much more easily seen by passing drivers than a black clad witch. But even a brightly clothes child may be hard to distinguish as the evening darkens so a fluorescent strip, which would make him even more visible, is suggested.

Parents should not allow children to carry lighted candles or lanterns. Many have been burned in past years when their costumes, which are often made of extremely light, highly flammable material, have caught on fire. A flashlight would be easier to carry and would also make it safer when crossing streets.

Be sure to chaperone all children who would not normally be allowed outside alone at night. Younger children should not be out only in the early evening hours.

A major problem each Halloween is children who have been poisoned. Be very careful that candy, gum or anything edible is securely wrap-

Community Service drive enters final week

Singing Monks To Be At Mentone

The Singing Monks from the Roman Catholic monastery at Huntington, St. Felix Friary, will be guests of the Mentone United Methodist Church Sunday, October 31, in recognition of the growing ecumenical spirit between Catholics and Protestants. Dressed in their traditional brown robes, the fifteen men will sing and share their faith. They will use guitars and the organ as they sing a mixture of traditional Catholic and Protestant music as well as Negro spirituals and the new contemporary religious folk music.

Sunday is Reformation Day, a day long observed by Protestant churches as the beginning of the Protestant Reformation commemorating the time Martin Luther nailed to the door of the cathedral his differences with the Roman Catholic church.

The Sunday morning services will be held at 10:30 a.m. as the administrative board of the church approved a change for this Sunday only, setting Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and the worship service at 10:30 a.m.

A carry-in dinner will be held at noon.

Asa Barratt of the Hosman Drug Store will depart next Monday on a three days trip to Chicago, at the instance and expense of the Heath & Milligan Paint Co. His railroad fare and all other expenses in the city have been paid.

Mr. Vern Richter, a graduate of the class of 1910, is reported to be getting along well and likes his work very much at Sioux Falls, S. D. After graduating here he took a year of preparatory work at Winona Business College, and is now teaching that subject in the high school at that place. Harley Rogers, a graduate of the class of 1909, is now teaching at the Rochester College and seems to be well liked.

Harry Swihart, who was recently wedded to a handsome young lady of Philadelphia and his bride arrived in Akron last Friday evening, where they were met at the Interurban station by his father and taken to the parental home in the north part of town.

Fred Studebaker presented this office with some large luscious pears, the fruit from a tree in his own garden, and which bore two bushels or more of the same elegant fruit. He had two pears that together they weighed a pound and one half and were really lunkers.

Mrs. E. O. Strong and the Miss Norah Strong and Miss Josephine Shaffer formed an Interurban passenger party and went out to F. A. Days Tuesday evening. On their return trip they burned a box of matches and a bundle of newspapers on the track to flag their car at the Orr crossing. They wanted to be sure of two whistles by the motorman, and it is downright mean to accuse them of flirting the motorman with fire.

Mrs. Delta Hire and little daughter Mary visited her brother N. R. Stoner and family last Sunday at Rochester.

Three radishes, each weighing three pounds, were brought in yesterday by Ben Dolph. One radish measured eight inches long and seven inches in circumference.

Two real estate deals were made in the Olive Bethel community recently. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. White sold their place to Mr. and Mrs. Herald Miller and bought the building and thirty acres of land where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, now live. Mr. and Mrs. Frank White will move to their farm joining the one they sold and which they moved from twenty years ago last Sunday.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

While time seems to get away from all of us too fast, recording the passage of time, especially the hours of the day, has fascinated men for thousands of years and artisans of all ages have sought ways to improve the instruments of time-keeping. From the time the first Strasbourg clock was built in 1352 with its figures of the Three Wise Men, the Virgin Mary and a rooster all carved from wood (the Magi bowing to the Virgin while the rooster flapped his wings and crowed as the clock was chiming), men have sought ways to record time in unusual ways.

The George Craigs recently visited the Billy (pronounced Bee-lee) brothers museum in Spillville, Iowa and saw there many clocks made by the brothers, some copies of older clocks and others of their own design, each intricately hand-carved from black walnut, butternut, hard maple, oak, cherry, mahogany, box wood or white holly. The clocks are housed in a building that was occupied by composer Antonin Dvorak and his family during the summer of 1893 and one room of the museum contains memorabilia of interest to admirers of the composer.

The Craigs brought back a booklet containing pictures of the clocks the Billy brothers have carved with simple, often home-made tools. Their craftsmanship is evident and is so painstaking it often takes them four or five years to complete a clock. They were originally farmers and carpenters and carving was their hobby, one that their father considered a waste of time. They have continued to carve clocks over the past 50 years and have established the museum with the stipulation the exhibit not be broken up after their deaths.

The first clock the brothers built was eight feet high and weighed more than 500 pounds. Cherry and walnut, the design is a series of panels, representing scenes in American history. Indian villages, the Battle of Tippecanoe, frontier settlers on the homestead, Washington being sworn in as president, a pioneer woman weaving and John Alden with Priscilla are some of the representations on the huge clock. American chimes play "America" as the Four Ages of Life parade from the space behind the Mayflower panel.

Each of the other clocks contains intricate movements and many have chimes that play various songs. Such things as the wheel shafts, dial hands and figures are made of wood but, with one exception, the clock works and chimes are factory made. The rest of the work is done by the brothers using veining tools, gouges and chisels. They also use a hat pin and needle for some of the finest work. The brothers have divided the work on the clocks with Joseph, 91, doing the designing, drawing of plans and joining of the woods and Frank, 87, doing nearly all the carving.

Clocks pictured include a Roman Renaissance clock, one depicting the struggle for time, one showing the history of travel, a salute to Lindbergh, a violin clock in memory of Dvorak's visit to Spillville, and many, many other clocks, some with details so minute it seems unbelievable anyone could have carved anything so fine.

Spillville is a century-old community whose residents are mostly of Bohemian stock. The Czech tongue is still spoken there and a feeling of the Old World prevails. It is located near the little Brown Church and with it has become a tourist attraction throughout the midwest because of its unusual salute to the passing of time.

MENTONE

Converted Drug Addict To Speak at Mentone

Tony Mas will be a special speaker at the Mentone United Methodist Church Sunday evening, October 31, at 7 p.m.

Who is Tony Mas? Tony Mas is a man who is lucky to be alive, having been arrested for burglary at 13; a marijuana smoker at 14; on heroin for 20 years, beginning when he was 15; a heroin pusher realizing $200 day profit but who with his own $60-$90 day habit and other expenses was lucky to break even by days end.

Tony Mas was arrested several times and placed on probation. Later he was jailed at New York city's Rikers Island Penitentiary, making New York headlines as the Cat Burglar at 28 in a shoot out with the police in which a bullet creased his neck and caused him to fall five floors. He received no broken bones but spent the next three years in Sing Sing and Danamora State Prison. After his parole, he went back to his old way of life until he came in contact with Teen Challenge and became a convert to Christianity.

He attended TC Institute of Missions Bible School in Rhinebeck, N. Y. and then went to Ft. Wayne Rescue Mission. He has been off heroin for two years. Born in Brooklyn of Puerto Rican-Cuban extraction, he estimates he tried to kick the habit "cold turkey" 15 or 20 times, either by force--in a hospital room or jail cell--or voluntarily at home. He could not do it by himself. Turning to Christ, he says, was the only way to do it and he has been "clean" for the past two years.

The public is invited to hear the testimony of this 37-year old ex-drug addict.

Erwin To Chair Water Pollution Study Meeting

William F. Erwin, Et-na Green, has been named to serve as chairman of a conference of the President's Water Pollution Control Advisory Board meeting October 26-29 in Denver, Colo. The meeting is called to explore ways in which Federal Government Agencies can be helpful to farmers and ranchers in combatting any water quality problems.

The meeting and hearings were arranged by the Environmental Protection Agency to study the effects of livestock raising on water quality. Erwin is a consultant to the EPA and manages a farm enterprise in Kosciusko and Marshall counties.

Erwin recently spoke before the National Association of Farm Broadcasters in Kansas City about the protection of the environment. He described ways in which the broadcasters can help the rural community preserve the environment through proper use of pesticides, wastes and other potential pollutants through communication of knowledge and education.

Next week Erwin will meet with the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture in Miami Beach, Florida.

We can save our rivers and streams

Cleaning up our rivers and streams is an enormous job. Municipalities and industries are adopting new, more efficient methods of waste treatment. Nature, in all its forms, does have a chance.

And electric energy will help by powering new sewage treatment plants for cities and towns and by removing toxic industrial wastes before they can get into streams.

More electricity, not less, is needed to help solve our pollution problems.

Making sure there will be enough--and producing it in power plants that are good environmental neighbors--is the great challenge facing Public Service Indiana. To meet this challenge, we'll be spending over $600 million to expand our system in the next six years.

Some $40 million will go for air and water quality alone.

Our goal is the cleanest power plants possible providing all the electric energy you'll ever need.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

by Ann Hancock, Area Extension Agent
Kosciusko County

The rainy damp days of fall bring many problems to the home. The dampness often causes damage to fabrics, leather, wood, and books in the form of mildew.

Mildew is a thin, often whitish growth produced on many surfaces by molds. Molds are simple plants belonging to the group known as fungi. Though always present in the air, molds that cause mildew need moisture and certain temperatures in order to grow.

Molds that cause mildew grow on anything from which they can get enough food. In homes they develop most often on natural fabrics since many manmade fabrics are resistant to mildew.

Molds that cause mildew flourish wherever it is damp, warm, poorly aired, poorly lighted—in cellars, in crawl spaces, in closets, on draperies and rugs in basement recreation rooms and on shower curtains. These molds are also likely to grow in a newly built house because of the moisture in the building materials.

As the molds grow they cause considerable damage. They often leave a musty odor and discolor fabrics often causing rot.

To prevent mildew get rid of dampness. Soil on articles can supply sufficient food for mildew, so clean all clothing and household articles before storing.

Mildew should be removed as soon as it is discovered. The procedure varies with the type of surface covering. For further information, request a copy of "How To Prevent and Remove Mildew" from you local Extension Office.

Come As You Are Theme Highlights Club Meeting

A come as you are theme highlighted the October meeting of the Mentone Extension Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Minnie Busen-burg. She was assisted by Mrs. Sue Ellen Sloan.

The club members repeated the pledge to the flag and creed and joined in singing the song of the month, "Do-Do-Mi," after having sung "America the Beautiful" and hearing a poem read by Mrs. Genevieve Warren. Meditation was given by Mrs. Sloan and health and safety remarks were by Eula Smith on diabetes.

Garden remarks by Mrs. Mildred Fowler were on gathering and storing nuts, and on buying and planting trees. She also made remarks on Christmas cactus. She said it is well to find one location in the house that is good for the plant and leave it there. Guests should be taken to the plant, rather than the plant taken to the guests as moving the plant from one part of the house to another may cause the buds and flowers to fall off.

Mrs. Bertha Curless gave a lesson on poison and noted some berries and flowers are poisonous. She also advised members to keep poisons out of reach of children. Roll call was answered by 16 members and one guest, Mrs. Rodman, and three children. Mrs. Blanche Whitmyre read a letter from Mrs. Gertrude Hill, who winters in Arizona. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ralph Warren.

After driving to Delphi, the group toured Peters Revington, observing the making of tables on an assembly line.

Members enjoying the trip included Mesdames Oliver Burns, Claude Berger, Floyd Campbell, Ralph Fites, John Glasford, Sam Merley, Ernest Miller, Herman Musselman, Harold Norman, Lewis Roberts and Donald Swihart. Guests were Mesdames Clare Reed, Chester Shafer, Don Mitchell, Donald Dolby, Ira Swihart, Don Musselman, Maurice Musselman, Orville Campbell and Miss Reba Shanks.

Take your problems to Church this week -

I Am A Clown - - I Like To Go To Church

I'm always glad to take time away from life's concerns and demands—yes, a clown has them—just to worship in peace and quiet. For me it is good to banish material thoughts and desires and set my mind on spiritual things. I am thankful for the opportunity to worship, meditate and pray. It is good for a clown to pray.

Occasionally I am so situated that I cannot attend church. It is then I realize what an opportunity and privilege it is to be living in a land where one may choose and attend the church of his choice. For the clown, as for anyone else, there can be deep down satisfaction in attending church.

Turning Point - The Story Of An Ex-Addict

VINCENT GUERRA

"The Turning Point", the story of Vincent Guerra's acceptance of Christ as the answer to his personal battle with drugs, will be presented by Mr. Guerra in three appearances in Warsaw this week-end. Mr. Guerra, a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harman of Mentone, will speak at 8 p.m. Saturday, October 30, at the Shrine Building in the County Fairgrounds and again on Sunday at 10 a.m. and at 6:30 p.m. at the Warsaw Church of God.

"The Turning Point" is the story of a ghetto-born-and-reared youth, turned-out and turned-off. Born in New York City, Vince Guerra grew up in a broken home. He went from truancy to stealing, drinking and all the other vices of gang and back-alley life at an early age. Eventually hooked on drugs, his life revolved around getting money to buy drugs to take a trip to nowhere.

His cousin's drug-induced death led Vince to consider his own future. It added up to nothing-until Vince was introduced to Christ. His life transformed, he entered Christina service, pastoring a small church in New York where he spent much time with youths.

Now on the staff of The Turning Point ministry in Miami, Florida, he works with youth in schools, drug users in the streets, prison inmates. His work is both preventive and rehabilitative.

The Harmans, who are working with other persons interested in this work to bring Mr. Guerra to the community, urge everyone to attend this important meeting.

Be-Abouts Elect Officers

The Be-Abouts mission group of the First Baptist Church of Mentone met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Roger Ring.

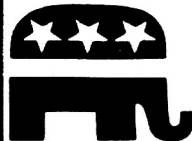

The meeting opened with members joining in singing a song. Mrs. Lee Norris gave devotions. A scripture verse was given for roll call.

During the business session, letters were read from three of the missionaries. Cookies, candy, etc. for servicemen will be taken to the next meeting and a game and towel shower for the Frank Hartwig missionary family in the Philippines will be held.

Officers elected included Mrs. Everett Rathbun, president; Mrs. Roger Ring, vice-president; Mrs. Norman McVey, secretary, and Mrs. Lee Norris, treasurer.

After prayer, the social time was spent making favors for nursing homes.

Roberts Was Not In Fire

A set of X-rays found last month has proven Clarence R. Roberts did not die in a garage fire at his home, State Police Superintendent Robert Konkle said this week.

Roberts, who with his son Forest had once owned elevators in Akron, Mentone and Claypool, has not been seen since a fire destroyed a garage barn on his Nashville, Indiana property last November 18. A body was found at the fire, was believed to be Roberts but was later identified as "John Doe."

Konkle said X-rays of Roberts taken two years before the fire were found in a Bloomington hospital. When compared with the skeleton of the corpse found in the burned garage, there were major differences on nine crucial structural points.

Konkle said, "We feel we need to locate Mr. Roberts and attempt to determine from him the circumstances of his disappearance and attempt to learn the identity of the victim."

He said in addition to the X-rays, blood type, hair and teeth of the corpse did not match Roberts'.

He said a description of Roberts has been circulated in a nationwide attempt to locate him as a "missing person." He said no criminal charge has been filed.

Mrs. Roberts and her four sons have filed suits to recover $1,173, 000 from insurance policies carried by Roberts.

In addition to the local elevators, Roberts was engaged in a variety of business interests that included housing developments. Claims totaling $200,000 were filed against his estate.

"John Doe" died of carbon monoxide poisoning in the intense fire that destroyed the garage at Roberts' home, but the Roberts family later was quoted as saying they had received the bill for the funeral.

Allen D. Bowman, 20, R. 1, Akron, Dean Reed, 18, R. 1, Akron, and Bobby Buzzard, 16, Akron, were injured in a one-car accident early Saturday morning on SR 14, three miles west of Akron.

Bowman, the driver, sustained scalp lacerations; Reed sustained lacerations of the right arm and Buzzard sustained lacerations on his face and right arm. They were treated at Woodlawn hospital but were not admitted. The car was a total loss when it overturned down an embankment after being crowded off the road by an oncoming car.

Burkett, 32, R. 5, Rochester, was treated at Woodlawn hospital Thursday for broken ribs and a chest injury following a two-car accident a mile east of Rochester in which his car was hit on the left side by a car driven by Roy L. Adams, 64, R. 2, Akron. Adams, who was westbound on the Ft. Wayne Road, told the sheriff's office he had stopped for the stop sign but had not seen the Burkett car. Adams was cited into Mrs. Thelma Carr's Rochester justice court on a failure to yield the right-of-way. Officers estimated damage to each car at $1,000.

A cow was killed and an estimated $350 damage was reported to an auto driven by Richard L. Davis, 47, R. 1, Claypool, over the week-end as the auto struck the cow in intense fog that covered the area.

Historical Society Discusses Finances At Meeting

The Fulton County Historical Society completed plans at a recent meeting for a fish fry on December 4 to raise money for the museum.

Robert Peterson, attorney, started the process of incorporating the Society and also reported that financial liability of members does not exceed their yearly dues of $2 even though the Society is in debt $1200 for the museum.

Plans were made to clean the museum and to set up displays during the last two weeks of December. The museum will be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons starting in January. Volunteers will be needed to act as hosts or hostesses while the museum is open.

FCHS president Shirley Willard announced that Ralph Hatfield is writing a history of Newcastle township. The next historical bulletin will be in December or January and will feature histories of Fulton and Liberty townships by Mrs. Kline Reed, Mrs. Merrill Waltz and Mrs. Gordon Zartman.

Mrs. Jack Lybarger, cataloger for the museum, will write a weekly news article about the contributions to the museum.

Mrs. Melvin Wagoner, in the absence of treasurer Ruth Richardson, reported a balance of $35 in the treasury. Yearly expenses include electricity $18, gas heat $195, insurance $160, cards and supplies $10, bulletin $85, postage $15, for a total of $463 per year. Membership dues brought in $287.50 last year.

A drive to get new members will be launched and old members will be encouraged to pay

Who's On Third?

Declaring the time is now for "equality between the sexes," Martha Tiernan Hartke urged support for the Equal Rights Amendment introduced by her husband, Indiana Senator Vance Hartke, at a speech in Gary. She charged there is not only a "money gap" but also a "professional gap" for women. "Despite the fact that 31 million women represent 38% of the American labor force, women are paid less, hired last, promoted least and given the least intellectually demanding work." She said "what women want is equality, nothing more, nothing less."

Carey Landis Is Fireman Of Year

A member of the Mentone volunteer fire department for the past 26 years, Carey Landis, was named Kosciusko Co. Fireman of the Year at the annual County Fireman's Association Fish Fry last week.

The letter of recommendation submitted by the Mentone volunteer fire department on Landis stated:

"The Mentone fire department submits Carey Landis as its choice for Fireman of the Year. Carey has been a member in good standing for 26 years. He has been a faithful attendant of department meetings as well as having one of the best county meeting attendance records.

"Some time ago Carey moved from the Mentone community. He asked if he might remain a Mentone fireman. Now, even though Carey lives some 18 miles away, he still is most faithful not only at meetings, but at fires also. This is why we say Carey is our Fireman of the Year."

Mr. Landis received an engraved desk set with a statue of a fireman and a gold fireman's badge with his name and the words "Fireman of the Year" engraved.

Nearly 200 persons attended the fish fry and meeting, presided over by master of ceremonies Bruce Howe, chief of the Winona Lake fire department.

Firemen's association officers re-elected included Norm Banghart, president; Rex Mast, of Pierceton, vice president; Art Wise, of Burket, secretary, and Frank Hoffer, of Atwood, treasurer.
