125 YEARS OF SERVICE to the Henry Township community is represented by these five Community Service volunteers, from the left, Eva Hartman, Mabel Taylor, George Sheetz, Thelma Kuhn and Irene Kuhn.

Community Fund drive has kick-off

The 26th annual appeal for funds by members of the Henry Township Community Service United Fund was launched Monday evening at a kick-off meeting conducted by President Tom Hauptert in the Akron library basement.

Goal of this year's drive is $5,075.

Special recognition was given five 25-year members, Eva Hartman, Mabel Taylor, George Sheetz, Thelma Kuhn and Irene Kuhn. Each told something interesting from his or her experiences, drawing chuckles from other workers attending the meeting.

Lorraine (Mrs. Joe) Whittenberger was honored for twenty years of service and five-year awards were given to Ruth Hileman, Madonna Clemans, Walter Baun, Gordon Groninger, Judy Walgamuth and Joyce Stephen.

It's Too Early. Put The Soap Away

A few instances of premature Halloween pranks have been reported in Akron, and Town Marshal Ed Hauser reminds that he will pick up anyone found Halloweening this early. Trick or treat nights will be designated later. Until then, kids, it's just too early to soap windows, etc.

LORRAINE (MRS. JOE) Whittenberger receives her 20-year award from George Sheetz, a 25-year member of the organization.

Vinegar Bend is GOP rally speaker

Congressman Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell of North Carolina will be the featured speaker at the Fulton County Republicans October 9 election rally.

The rally is set for 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Rochester High School. Catering will be by Seidel's Catering Service of Star City.

Diners may eat anytime between 6:30 and 8 p.m. and then adjourn to the gymnasium where there will be special entertainment until the program begins at 8 p.m.

Also present will be Congressman Elwood (Bud) Hillis, Kokomo, as well as county and state candidates.

Door prizes, including a portable television set, will be given, according to Jay Herold, county chairman.

Congressman Mizell, now in his second term in Congress, entered politics after a colorful career as a major league baseball pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates. He maintains that by the time he quit there were only two batters he had trouble with—right handers and left handers.

Born near Vinegar Bend, Ala. (population 37), he became known as "Vinegar Bend" Mizell during his years as a baseball player. He entered politics in 1966 when he was elected to the Board of Commissioners in Davidson Co., N. C. He was elected to Congress in 1968 and re-

HONORED: Byron (Barney) Nellans, left, who recently retired after almost 28 years' service as Mentone's rural mail carrier, was presented a certificate of recognition Tuesday afternoon by Kenneth Romine, post master, on behalf of the district postmaster. Nellans will be succeeded on the route by Jack Fawley who began his duties Saturday. Chester Smith will continue to be the substitute carrier.

Tippecanoe River will be restocked Monday

The Tippecanoe River will be restocked with fish Monday, October 9, it was announced by Congressman Elwood H. Hillis and State Representative Kermit Burrous.

Restocking will take about three days and will involve transfer of smallmouth bass, rock bass and other similar fish to the river from Bass Lake State Fish Hatchery near Knox and Fawn River State Fish Hatchery near Orland.

The fish will be dumped into the water near Rochester.

Hillis and Burrous will be present to watch the fish restocking Monday. Both men played a major role in getting the river cleaned up this spring after thousands of fish were killed last year from drainage from a Kosciusko Co. chicken farm.

Both the State Department of Natural Resources and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency worked with the two representatives in cleaning up the river and in filing damage charges in the pollution incident.

In the spring Hillis and Burrous joined in a canoe trip down the Tippecanoe River to determine how much pollution remained after initial clean-up efforts. Water samples taken during the float indicated the water was again clean enough to support marine life, and the men urged the State Natural Resources Department to restock the river this fall.

The state expects to be reimbursed for the project from settlement of a claim that it has filed against the alleged polluter.

Who's On Third?

A potpourri of events on the local area and state scene....

R. Wayne Smith, Rochester insurance executive and Past Most Wise Master and trustee of the South Bend Valley Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, has been nominated for the Thirty-Third Degree. The announcement was made at the annual meeting of the Supreme Council, 33° Scottish Rite Freemasonry held in Boston. Mr. Smith is past master of Lincoln Lodge, Macy, and has been a civic and fraternal leader in the area for many years.

"The frost is on the Punkin' and the Fodder's in the Shock," and all roads lead to Salem where fall bargains are in stock. We don't know where Mudder is, but Fodder is going to be on the Salem Square on Friday and Saturday, October 6 and 7, according to word from the Indiana Division of Tourism. Features will include outdoor flea market and antique stands, bake sales, rummage sales, barbecues, food stands and yard sales. Prizes will be given in various categories in the big parade. Lots of other events are in store for those who attend.

Only the Newspaper

"All I know is what I read in the papers." Will Rogers said it. The great humorist penned a bit of wisdom with exag- geration. Everything you know may not come from news- papers, but it's a good place to start. It's the full informa- tion medium.

AN EDITORIAL

SECRECY AND NEWSPAPERS

Secrecy and newspapers are mortal enemies. When government is conducted in secret, the people have no way of obtaining information about what happened.

Freedom requires that the people be fully informed in order to act in their own best interest. Although freedom of the press and the people's right to know are constitutional guarantees, there is no guarantee that government business will always be conducted in the open.

Historically, it has been the role of newspapers to keep a watch on government and public officials by reporting what happens at public meetings and discussions affecting the public interest.

Only when people are fully informed about actions of their public officials can they make sound judgments and cast intelligent votes.

And only in this way can democracy function and people keep themselves free.

Beginning in Sunday's edition of the So. Bend Tribune, Mentone school news will be reported on "The Next Generation" page. Articles on various aspects of student life at Mentone will be written by Gary Meredith, Barb Tibbets and Alan Welch. At the end of the school year, two scholarships will be given, one to the outstanding senior writer and one to the outstanding junior writer.

The Mentonette reports Joyce Dunnuck attended Purdue University's speech and hearing therapy camp July 16-22. She was one of forty participants from over 200 who applied. She observed therapy classes during the morning and enjoyed tours of the campus. Highlight of the camp was when each girl got the experience of being a therapist.

Fulton Co. Clerk Merrill Kendall announced this week that persons moving into a township after September 8 may obtain special registration forms in his office to be eligible to vote for president and vice president in the November election. He said a person need not meet any durational residence requirements to be eligible to vote for president and vice president so long as he is registered. Special forms will be issued, Kendall also reminded residents that Tuesday, October 10, is the last day for all registration for voting this fall.

Charles H. Rauschke, Chairman of the Fulton Co. Savings Bond Committee, has received a report showing that the county's savings bonds sales for August were $7,695 compared with $11,081 for the corresponding period of last year.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Couples applying for marriage licenses at the Fulton Co. clerk's office last week-end included Robert Styles, Osceola, and Marchelle McQueary, R. 1, Tippecanoe; Paul Horine, R. 1, Akron, and Dortha Eviston, R. 3, Wabash.

Rolling the coins from UNICEF cartons is an important step after every Trick or Treat campaign. Halloween collections like this one, add up to millions (last year almost $3,500,000) for the United Nations Children's Fund.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

"Did you pick up the mail I asked Loren as he came into the kitchen.

"No," he muttered. "I completely forgot it."

"What's the matter? Getting old?" I teased as I rushed about preparing the evening meal."

YOUR EDITOR SEES IT LIKE THIS

Did you know that the Henry Township Community Chest, as it was then called, was the smallest in the nation when it was organized 25 years ago? It was featured in Reader's Digest because of this distinction.

As it kicks off its 26th fund drive, we feel congratulations from all of us--and support--are in order.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

REINBECK, IOWA, COURIER: "Ever take a look at the growing list of folks on the Welfare Wagon? Who in heck is gonna pull the wagon when everyone wants to ride?"

CHEROKEE, OKLA., MESSENGER: "The day may come when the Internal Revenue Service simplifies the income tax with a two question form. 1. 'How much did you make' 2. 'Send it in'."

ANNA, ILL., GAZETTE-DEMOCRAT: "One of the lessons of history is that nations are in for trouble when their masses have too much leisure time, without having the cultural background to see it properly."

"How do you know when someone's getting old?" eight-year old Doug asked.

"What's for supper?" fourteen-year old Todd asked as he raided the refrigerator.

"Pancakes and sausage," I answered.

"How do you know when someone is getting old?" Doug asked his father who, eyes glazed, was staring into space with a silly grin on his face. Finally he burst out laughing. We all stared at him.

"Would you mind letting us in on the joke?" I demanded.

"I was just remembering that time you left a pancake on the griddle too long and when you threw it out for the dog it stood up on edge and rolled down the drive like a cartwheel with the dog right behind it."

"Wow Mom! How'd you do that?" the boys asked in unison.

"Just lucky, I guess," I growled as I put the food on the table. "Some people remember the crazy things."

"I'll never forget it," Loren laughed, shaking so hard he spilled his coffee.

"Was that when you were young?" Doug asked.

"Did you remember to get some shoe strings?" Todd asked.

"Forgot 'all about them," I answered, "but one thing I'll never forget is the time your father broke your bed in the middle of the night."

"Was he young?" Doug asked.

"Real young," I replied. "They both were. Todd watched the Flintstones all the time and was always jumping from one thing to another, yelling 'Abba Dabba Do.' Well, anyway, as we went to bed, Todd sat up in his bed and yelled,

'Come kiss me good-night, Daddy.' Your father got a good fast running start, yelled 'Abba Dabba Do' and jumped in bed with Todd. The next thing we knew, your father, Todd and most of the bed were on the floor and Todd was saying, 'Daddy, I just wanted a kiss. You didn't have to break my bed.' Doug, that had to be the funniest thing I ever saw in my life," I said, laughing so hard tears streaked across my face.

"Todd, do you know how to tell when a person is getting old?" Doug asked, obviously hoping to get more attention from his brother than he was from his parents.

"I'm not sure," Todd answered, looking from one of us to the other, "but I think it's when a person can't remember things in the present but can remember perfectly silly things that happened in the past."

60 YEARS AGO

Daniel Leininger informs us that 26 years ago last Tuesday, October 1st, ground was first broken for the foundation and basement of the building he is now preparing for his clothing and other heavy stock. At that time Daniel and his brother Moses were in business together and located on the lot now occupied by this office, then owned by Andrew Strong. The Leininger Bros. broke the ground as noted for the foundation beginning October 1st and by rushing the work they were able to move into their new quarters by eleven o'clock December 31st or 90 days from the day they commenced the work. By a strange turn in business affairs Daniel owns the room again and is preparing it to move a heavier stock into it than they ever carried there.

Mr. C. H. Haldeman expects to start for Nebraska early next week where he will examine and repair bank safe locks for his company for some time. He has been enjoying a short vacation and has been at home with his family. In the meantime he has been preparing for winter that his little family may be warm and comfortably situated.

Mrs. Dick Personett and daughter left four mammoth potatoes in this office late last week that we call jumbos. The four will fill up an old fashioned gallon crock heaping up, and would make a mess for threshers. Evidently, the Personetts planted big seed.

John H. Pyle was over from Rochester Monday selling his clover seed to F. Stoner and Co. John says he made about forty dollars by marketing it here which means a nice day's work for a farmer. But John is not hustling much yet. July 1st he sustained a severe and critical surgical operation in which he came near losing out. The wound has not yet healed and it acts stubborn about it, yet he looks hearty, feels well and is in good spirits and we join his many friends here in hoping that he will soon recover his old time vigor.

Evangelistic Services Are Planned At Burket

Reg Alford

Evangelistic services will be conducted at the Burket United Methodist Church October 8-15 with the Rev. Reg Alford of Elkhart as guest speaker.

After an auto accident several years ago, Rev.

Alford was told he would never walk again. Refusing to give up hope, he began bicycling and has now regained full use of his legs. A few years ago he rode with the Wandering Wheels, a group that dipped its bike wheels in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans before returning home. There is a possibility that he may take anyone with a lot of stamina on a bicycle excursion while he is in this area.

In addition to the daily services, he will lead a youth service on Tuesday and will participate in the Prayer and Share meeting.

Rev. Alford will conduct morning services and will lead the evening services for the next week. Music will be led by Ralph and Ann Bushong of Syracuse.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

The home freezer is a time saver for today's homemaker. The quick preparation of foods for the freezer saves time and energy compared to the long processing of canning.

In preparing food for freezing remember not to put too much food in at one time. Add only the amount of food that can freeze within twenty four hours. Usually that will be about two or three pounds to each cubic foot of freezer capacity. 0°F is recommended for the home storage of frozen foods. Foods stored at 10°F will deteriorate two to three times faster. It is wise to keep a thermometer in the freezer.

Frequently, homemakers ask if fruits need to be sweetened or not when they are prepared for the freezer. Whether to pack fruit in sugar or syrup or to leave the fruit unsweetened depends partly on your preferences and partly on how you intend to use the fruit.

Unsweetened packs are useful especially if you like to use frozen fruits for jams, jellies or in baking. Sweetened fruits are preferred by many when the fruit is to be used for a dessert. To prevent darkening in frozen fruits, such as apples, use ascorbic or citric acid. They can be purchased at the drug store or grocery store.

There seems to be much interest in freezing vegetables without blanching them. It is recommended that vegetables be blanched before freezing. Blanching stops the action of the enzymes that cause ripening. Unblanched vegetables continue ripening which causes the quality to deteriorate over the period of several weeks. You will find that in freezing corn on the cob that the corn will have a better flavor if it is blanched. When freezing corn on the cob, evaluate the use of your freezer space. The corn will take up valuable space that could be used for other items. But it is well worth the extra space to have corn on the cob during the winter months.

For more information on freezing vegetables, contact the Extension Agent, Kosciusko County, at 353-3005.

this was a good way for them to become better acquainted with fellow classmates from other sections in addition to learning more about flight.

It was the day a success! In the tone of the letters received by the Pierces, the Pierces and Mr. Sheetz was an indication, the day was a fabulous success. Children in two of the rooms wrote letters and made posters relating to their afternoon. So observant were they that some included the "Danger" sign that is posted on one of the hangers. Others showed the location of the buildings and nearby farm in addition to the smoke-streaming Stearman piloted by Walt Pierce.

One girl expressed her joy by writing: I cannot believe how you can keep them airplanes so clean and shiny. And I am glad that you invited all the third grade classes. And that was the happiest day that I had since I was in second grade.

A boy wrote: I liked your office and your airplane too. You are a goodman and lady too. One girl expressed a desire to consider aviation as a career when she wrote: Thank you for putting on the air show. I liked the loops and the hammerhead and when you turned upside down. I think it was fun to see you do all those stunts. I liked to hear sandi talk about the airplanes. I really don't know what I want to be when I grow up but you gave me another idea.

All expressed deep appreciation for the day, for Walt's and sandi's bravery, and one girl said she thought her mother would be afraid to stand on a wing. Many sent their love to the Pierces, one boy adding that he heard their daughter was a living doll. Most said they would like to return for other visits with the exception of one girl who evidently had experienced it all, because she wrote: I enjoyed you for inviting all the third grade classes to the airport. If you would not have, then I would never have seen anybody go upside down in an airplane. I would like to come back again but I have been there so that is enough.

Somehow, we doubt she had enough. Everyone who saw the absolute joy reflected in those 90 faces thought the aviation bug had bitten quite a few young pilots that day.

Easily the hero and heroine of the afternoon, Walt and sandi Pierce, answer questions from 90 lively Akron third graders. "What would you do if you crashed?" was one of the most frequently asked questions. Walt and sandi presented each child with an autographed, colored picture of themselves at the conclusion of the question and answer session.

FAITH IS SOMETHING REAL

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help," Psalm 121:1.

"Faith" a noted religious educator has said, "forms the axle of the universe." Certainly we depend upon faith as a principle of daily living. It is not just wishful thinking. We have faith that we will find the necessary food for our bodies when we go to the food store. We have faith that daylight will follow darkness. In other words faith is just as real as anything we can see, hear or feel. Some of us have more faith than others, hence the discovery of America and the electric light. Faith is a great bulwark in time of illness, a valuable asset to the invalid.

The Bible is a text book, or better still a prescription book, of faith. Passages such as the one quoted above show us the way. Attendance at church is another way to supply and to increase our faith. There are times in the lives of most of us when all is not smooth sailing. Learn to draw from these two wells of faith in stormy times. They have supplied others. They will supply you.

Tragedy Underscores Need For Hearing Tests

"The recent tragic story of a seven year old California girl who was diagnosed as mentally retarded for almost two years until a hearing test showed her problem was simply an undetected hearing loss, proves once again the need for conducting hearing tests for all children," according to David Smith, director of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

The crusade stresses the importance of everyone having a hearing test at least once a year.

The girl, Sara Elizabeth Keehan of Mountain View, far from being retarded is now recognized as an intellectually gifted child. Since her problem was properly identified, she attends a special school trying to make up for the wasted years.

Smith pointed out that while this is admittedly an extreme example, there are many youngsters considered slow learners or social problems, simply because they have undetected hearing losses. The girl's mother, Mrs. James Keehan, reinforced Smith's statement, saying, "Unfortunately, Sara is not the only child attending the school who was diagnosed as retarded, but is in fact hard of hearing."

Mrs. Keehan feels part of the reason for this tragic situation is a lack of knowledge concerning hearing problems.

"I think for the layman the most difficult concept to comprehend is that children can suffer from various degrees of hearing losses. During the time we were searching for an answer to Sara's problem I thought children either heard or they were deaf, with no shades in between. I would ask myself, 'does this child hear?' and the answer was affirmative. Sara did in fact hear me when she was close."

"But just because a child can hear an airplane directly overhead, does not mean he can hear a bird chirp. Or he may respond to his father who is nearby, but fail to hear the high-pitched voice of his mother," Mrs. Keehan added.

BIKING THEIR WAY TO MEXICO are these four Lansing, Michigan, boys who stopped off at Oak Ridge campgrounds, Akron, this week. They had left Lansing three days earlier and hoped to reach Mexico in two months. They will spend the winter there working and vacationing. The four, students at Michigan State University, were riding 10-speed bicycles and two of them pulled trailers. They hope to begin averaging 60 miles per day. --Photo by John Savage.

Akron School News

By AHS Students

Rene Rager and Nila Earl of Akron attended the G.A.A. Leadership Camp at Epworth Forest. They spent the time playing various games such as football, kickball, speedaway, and softball. On Saturday afternoon, the girls attended a gymnastics and swimming class. On Saturday evening, they had a demonstration. They all attended church services on Sunday.

The girls are now practicing after school for badminton tournaments.

The Pep Club Council met recently with Mr. Loyd Sancer and Mrs. Juna Graham to decide on sweaters. After deciding upon a particular sweater, they later found that the sweaters of that style weren't being made anymore.

Everyone is working hard to memorize yells, and by November it is hoped that all are learned for the first game.

Tryouts for basketball players started Tuesday. The boys are working hard for a place in this sport.

The Council will have its next meeting on Oct. 4 and will look at more sweaters. Hopes are high in finding just the right thing.

November 3-5 is set for mission week-end by members of the Mentone United Methodist Church for their Lay Witness Mission.

Lay Witness teams from neighboring counties and states are being invited to work with local congregations. ordinated effort. The committee chairmen represent the areas of Mission, Housing, Visitation, Food and Coffee, Attendance, Welcome and Transportation, Prayer, Publicity, Literature, Correspondence, Follow-up, Nursery, Children and Youth.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the Oct. 5, 1938, issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Americans who grouse about the high cost of living, ought to live in Germany awhile. Latest reports from that country show some startlingly high prices for certain foods. A few typical examples are, per pound: beef tenderloin, 68c; hamburger, 33c; chicken 45c; butter 58c; coffee $1.08; sugar 14c; a dozen eggs 60c. These prices are for the German worker whose basic wage is between $17.50 and $26.50 for a 44-hour week.

Among Mentone students who won prizes in the Educational Department of the Kosciusko County Fair last week were Norma Jean Nellans, third grade student, who took second on her composition; Betty Shirey, fifth grade student, who took first on her composition in that class; and Kenneth Hudson, who took second prize on his art poster.

IN MEMORY

IN LOVING MEMORY of our son, husband and brother, Richard Doud, who passed away October 3, 1971.

Some say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss him yet.

God gave us strength to face the grief
And courage to stand the blow
But what it meant to lose him
No one will ever know.

I WOULDN'T DO THAT FOR A $1,000 a Mentone high school boy was heard to say Monday afternoon as Mentone GAA initiates paraded through the downtown area in nightgowns and pajamas, their hair done up in rings of aluminum foil and their faces decorated with unusual make-up. They carried wild posters on their backs and tried to hide when the photographer approached. "Don't put us on the front page," they whispered. How do you like this location, girls?

Family Halloween Party Plans Continue

What will the Family Community Halloween Contest in Akron be like?

The committee organizing this event has a lot of details of the contest, including the prize contests and downtown. Reports also included the friendliness of the people in the crowd and the chances of going home with a live turkey, one of the prizes awarded.

This year's Halloween contest will be a little different than those of the past, say members of the committee, but they hope everyone will attend and have a good time.

School Board re-affirms school decision despite roadblocks

Members of the Tippecanoe Valley school board Monday night unanimously reaffirmed a previous decision to build one new high school on a site located at the corner of Kosciusko Co. Road 800 South and State Road 19.

The decision came in a special called meeting in which Superintendent of Schools Robert Forbes outlined some of the "roadblocks" that had developed.

Forbes said a request for site approval submitted to the State Schoolhouse Planning Division of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction's office had been delayed four weeks until an environmental act went into effect that gave the environmental group authority to designate sewage and water requirements. He said Robert Leach, Chief of Housing and School Section of the State Board of Health, had informed him it would be necessary to get water from Akron and pump sewage to Akron, a distance of almost five miles, in order to get site approval.

Forbes said he estimated it would cost almost $400,000 to pipe the water from Akron and the sewage to Akron. He estimated the cost of a sewage and water system located at the school at approximately $120,000, saying he did not know the exact amount but that this was based on other costs. He had hoped the Akron Town Board would deny permission to hook on to the town's water and sewage lines, thereby permitting the school board an opportunity to appeal the state agency ruling.

Forbes reported he met with the Akron Town Board and requested its members to deny the school permission to use its water and sewage facilities. He said when he met with the town board, two members, Dr. Charles Miller and John Zimmerman, said they still favored the "two-school" concept for TVSC and that they would not allow Forbes' request.

Forbes reported that Dr. V. C. Miller, a member of the Fulton Co. Board of Health, was also present. Forbes said town board members told him that since the state health board had forced Akron to get a sewage system, it should be used for the new school. Forbes said he replied by saying it was too far and that the engineer had said it was ridiculous to pump sewage at an estimated cost of $400,000 just to get it to Akron. Forbes said he went into the meeting with one person, Ronald Fenimore, town board president, on his side but felt he left with no one on his side as the board seemed to feel that possibly the school would be built nearer to or in Akron. He noted that the meeting was a pleasant one and also noted that when the board refused to grant his request, he said, "We'll just have to find another route." He said Dr. Charles Miller replied, "And when you take another route you'll find us waiting."

Pierces To Be On TV Friday Night

Area residents will still be able to see Walt and Sandi Pierce on "What's My Line?" The Pierces, summer residents of Mentone, had previously taped the show that was to be televised at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Instead, the show was pre-empted by CBS in favor of a speech by George McGovern.

The NEWS called WSBT-TV Wednesday to learn when the show would be seen in this area. The head of programming said that normally a show that has been pre-empted is returned to the network without being rescheduled but that since this particular show involved local people he would hold it for showing at 6:30 p.m. Friday, October 13.

MENTONE

Plans are being completed by members of the Mentone Lions Club for a community Halloween celebration Saturday, October 28. Prizes will be given in many categories and entrants will meet at the Arco station to walk to the school for unmasking and other special events.

Friday the 13th may have new meaning for local students when they get their report cards for the first grading period. Cards will also be distributed Dec. 1, Jan. 19, March 2, April 13 and May 29.

The home economics department and the future teachers organization of the school will provide and serve refreshments. In addition to the program in the evening, parents are invited to visit classes during the day.

Mr. Morris, an Akron native, has lived in Lafayette the past 17 years, having also lived in New York state since leaving Akron. He and his wife and their 15-year old son will move to Akron eventually, he said, noting that their son is active in various activities connected with school and Scouting.

A formal opening of the store is planned in the next few weeks.

Assisting Mr. Morris in the store is Mrs. Ina Brower.

Indiana Central College will host over 1,000 high school students at its annual High School Day Saturday. The students will be guests of the Admissions Office for lunch and for the Indiana Central-Franklin football game.

Representative Earl F. Landgrebe announced recently that $450,796 would be allocated to Kosciusko Co. units of government if the revenue sharing bill is passed by Congress. The Congressman predicted that the bill should be brought for a vote in the next few weeks. The bill is known as the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 which provides for the distribution of federal funds to state and local governments over a five-year period.

Joe Kovenstine, 74, retired Atwood grocer and former Kosciusko Co. Deputy Sheriff, is reported in serious condition at Lutheran Hospital, Ft. Wayne, where he underwent heart surgery Thursday afternoon. He is, however, reportedly progressing as well as can be expected.

Nancy Luckenbill, R. 1, Akron, received word last week that her painting, "Shawl", was accepted for displaying at the 40th annual exhibit of the Indiana Artist's Club. Only 100 art pieces are selected for exhibition in the Ayres Auditorium, Indianapolis, where the event is held. It will be open to the public October 9-21.

ODDS and ENDS

BY ANN SHEETZ

We debated trading Herkimer, our not-so-brave dog, for a goose when my brother wrote from Singapore that one of their friends had a goose instead of a watch dog.

This thought was repulsive to the boys and it must not have sounded good to Herkimer, either, because he actually barked at someone the next time we were gone. Usually he only barks when we are home; the rest of the time he is any man's best friend.

Since getting rid of the family pet is somewhat akin to saying you will trade one of the boys for a girl, the subject was dropped, but discussion continued to center on law enforcement.

Specifically, it centered on drunken drivers and their punishment. Everyone has something about law enforcement that makes them angry, and the light way in which drunken drivers are let off makes us furious. Our mail is full of lists compiled by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles that record one suspension on top of another. It doesn't do a thing to stop these people as they continue driving regardless of the fact they have taken lives or endangered others.

Loren has long supported the idea that not only should licenses be revoked, but the driver's car should be impounded.

I've never had a theory, except that something more than extending license suspensions was needed.

After a fruitless discussion in which we agreed that something should be done, we received in the mail an excerpt from the Shakspeare, Minn., Valley News that said:

If you think the U.S. is getting tough with drinking drivers, take a look at these countries: AUSTRALIA: The names of drivers are sent to the local newspapers and are printed under the heading, "He's drunk and in jail." MALAYA: The drunk is jailed; if he's married, his wife goes too! SO. AFRICA: The driver is given a ten-year prison sentence, a fine of $2,300 or both. TURKEY: Drunk drivers are taken 20 miles away by police and forced to walk back...under escort. SAN SALVADOR: Drunk drivers are executed by firing squads."

These ideas came in for a lot of discussion at our next after-supper talk fest but we feared nothing more would come of it in Indiana, although Loren was prepared to help with the 20-mile walks.

As if in reply, the very next day's mail contained a news release from the Indiana State Police in which a new plan to protect the Hoosier public was outlined.

At the end of each year, starting October 1, the Trooper who has removed the most drunken drivers, each of whom has tested over the maximum allowed by law, will be recognized by the presentation of the "Life Award" representing the lives saved by his efforts. In short, the Trooper who catches the most drunken drivers will be hero of the year.

It's different. We hope it works. It's not as radical as South Africa or San Salvador, but it is something more than we have had.

Because whether you have children, watchdogs or watch-geese or if you just value your own life and that of your neighbor, life would be better without all those drunken drivers performing executions out there on the highways.

MONTROSE, CALIF., LEADER: "Ignorance of the law is no excuse. And there are now more than two million federal, state and local laws, with more than 100,000 more being enacted. We need only ten basic laws, and Moses helped us with those. And ten federal laws, which stand as the Bill of Rights. If you must be told to keep off the grass, that's your problem."

Keeping Up With Science

Recycled Appliances? Maybe

Dr. Thomas Goodgame, Whirlpool Corporation's director of environmental control, inspects rail car loaded with scrapped appliances. The appliances, which have been compacted to reduce their volume, will be used in a pilot test to study the feasibility of recycling them into reusable steel products.

Now that paper, cans and glass as well as other material is successfully being recycled, industry is interested in determining if appliances can be also. This question is currently being studied by Whirlpool Corporation with the assistance of Inland Steel in a research project which will examine the practical feasibility of recycling scrapped major household appliances.

A pilot test program is being conducted to study various ways of processing worn-out appliances for reusable steel.

According to Dr. Thomas Goodgame, Whirlpool's director of environmental control, the test project will study the "separation and compaction" process.

This process requires the removal of all metals from an appliance which are not desirable in the steel manufacturing process, such as large quantities of copper and brass. With most major household appliances, this would include the motors and compressors.

The appliances will then be compacted and shipped to Inland Steel for "test" melts to determine what steelmaking problems are encountered in the use of prepared appliance scrap.

It is hoped that the scrapped appliances can be reconverted into new steel mill products.

According to reports of the U. S. Council on Environmental Quality, the disposal of appliances is considered to be a minor problem because they only amount to about one per cent of all U. S. solid wastes.

Goodgame stated, however, that "it is never too early to be concerned with problems that may affect our environment in the future."

Mrs. Susan Anderson sprang a surprise upon all Akron and many of her friends Thursday morning of last week by going with Mr. Jacob Stahl of Pierceton and at Rochester appearing before County Clerk Babcock and securing the proper credentials immediately were married, Justice Will A. Ewing performing the ceremony.

Instead of stocking the gravel pit switches west of Akron with empty cars as was done in Roosevelt's last year's administration, in the last year of Taft's administration the C & E railway is double tracking. That's an honest difference in Taft's favor. This evidence of big business is not only local but it is proportionately the same all over the country. With this difference in mind, we ask the bull-moose in all candor to consider.

Miss Faye King is taking a course in book-keeping under instructions of Miss Francis Ridinger at the offices of the Akron Milling Co.

The foundation for the new school building is completed. The brick are being placed on the ground and the mechanics will get busy placing them in the walls very soon. There are some smaller jobs demanding their attention this week. Men of skill as well as ordinary labor can have from three to six jobs at the same time, if they will only take them.

The story comes from one of the local papers in Arkansas about a man that was afraid of a thunder storm and crawled into a hollow log. The thunder rolled, the rain poured down in torrents and the log swelled up until the poor fellow was wedged in so tight that he could not move. All his past sins began to pass before him when he suddenly remembered that he had not paid his newspaper subscription. He said this made him feel so small that he crawled out of the log through a knot hole.

NUNAGA, TEN YEARS OF ESKIMO LIFE by Duncan Pryde. The author speaks with authority of northern native life - the Eskimos' birth, death and marriage rites, their age-old and amazing effective hunting skills, their uncertain future in a fast-changing North. His account becomes all the more valuable as traditional Eskimo society vanished into history, and the Eskimo follows western civilization out of the tundra into the town.

WILLIAM'S MARY by Elizabeth Hamilton. Very little has been written about Mary II as a queen in her own right; her name is almost coupled with that of her husband, William of Orange. Although she was at the very hub of the Catholic-Protestant controversy of her time, and forced by circumstance to become a queen, Mary had "no heart for a kingdom".

Electricity is the clean energy... clean as a light bulb.

"Yeah," say the critics.

"It may be clean where you use it but what about back at the power plant?"

"What about air pollution and heated rivers?"

We have to confess. Turning coal into kilowatts isn't the tidest operation. Yet great cleanup progress has already been made at our power plants.

The most efficient dust collection systems have been installed on all major stations and we're well along on the older, smaller units now.

We're spending money to find feasible ways of taking invisible gases out of the stacks, too.

And multi-million-dollar cooling towers and a 2,800-acre cooling lake are our answers to handling waste heat.

All these things are making electricity the clean energy at both ends of the line.

Fire Prevention Week: A time to visit the Fire Department

By Ann Sheetz

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14, 64 third grade and 66 first grade students from the Mentone school visited the Mentone Fire Station Tuesday.

Accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Jeanne Hurst and Mrs. Jean Branning, first, and Mrs. Susan Kearnard and Mrs. Lynn Caraway, grade three, the students listened attentively as Darrell King, a member of the Mentone Fire Department, explained the uses of the equipment and trucks.

Mr. King showed the students the use of face masks, which prompted a feverish request in a chorus of voices to "Put it on! Put it on!" Explaining that it took two men to put it on, he turned to explaining other pieces of equipment, denying another frequently heard request to "Blow the siren so we can hear it." "Do you know what the most frequent cause of fire is?" he asked the third grade class.

A boy who had evidently heard several lectures at home sighed and said, "I suppose it's playing with matches."

"It's wiring," King replied.

He admonished the students that the best thing they could learn to do was to call the fire department or the operator in case of fire. "And when you call the operator," he warned, "be sure to give her your full name and address. Otherwise, she will have no way to know where to send the fire department or even which one to send."

Both classes asked many questions, including, "What do we do? We have no telephone. We just have a lot of dogs." "What do you do if you can't get out of your room when your house catches on fire?"

The students concluded their visit with a picture taken in front of a fire truck. One boy expressed his job by sighing, "Gee, this is the first time I ever had my picture taken with a fire truck." The rest just laughed and waved.

It was a happy bunch of kids but they learned a lot about fire prevention and fire fighting on their trip to the fire station during Fire Prevention Week.

Mentone Women Attend State DAR Conference

Mrs. Frank D. Smith and Mrs. Ray Linn members of the Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, Mentone, attended the 72nd annual conference of the Indiana Daughters of the American Revolution last Tuesday. They were joined on Wednesday by Mrs. Loren D. Gross, Regent, and Mrs. Earl Davis, delegate.

Welcoming the members to the city were John Walls, Deputy Mayor of Indianapolis; Roland Moss, assistant to Gov. Edgar Whitcomb, and Hans Schmidt, assistant manager of the Marott Hotel.

Mrs. Donald Spicer, Coronado, Calif., the President General of NSDAR, was a special guest and was presented a key to the city.

Meetings, a memorial service for departed members and a banquet filled Tuesday's agenda.

Mrs. Spicer challenged members to continue showing courage in supporting the sometimes unpopular stands of the DAR and to continue to work to maintain local control of schools.

Twins Mary and Ruth Berkebile, Peru, performed for the group, both with piano and violin.

President General Mrs. Spicer presented the Anthony Nigo Chapter a certificate for 100% participation in "A Gift to the Nation."

Now you can call the telephone directory the phone book.

We know—you've always called it the phone book. But, it wasn't. It was a directory of names, addresses and phone numbers. With hardly a phone in it. Notice we said "was." Because now it's truly a phone book. When you get your new one look inside and you'll see phones. Loads of them in full color: feminine Starlite® phones with night lights, modern Styleline® phones with dials in their handsets, Cradlephones styled to match period decor and Chestphones that don't even look like phones until you use them.

And we have phones for businessmen. Multi-line phones. Call Commander phones, Speakerphones and many others to suit any business need.

So if you've been harboring a yen for an unusual new phone, look in your phone book. Then call our business office. Tell us you've read the book, seen the picture and now you want to hear the real thing.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
 Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

We are living in the most fabulous wonderland of foods in history. Giant supermarkets are over crowded with some eight thousand food products - most of which were non-existent ten years ago. Yet in this land of plenty, we are discontent. Homemakers are baffled about the high cost of food. It is increasingly expensive to feed your fam- ily.

It is hard to look at good prices objectively. No matter how much food we buy, it disappears all too quickly. And, we pay for food right out of pocket cash which often leaves a sharper impression than payments for the house, car or furniture. Also in our ideal world we feel that income should constantly rise but prices are expected to remain the same.

Food prices haven't gone up as fast as many other items in the family budget. Housing, transportation, medical care, personal services have all gone up faster.

To see where your food dollar is going, take a good look in your grocery basket. Many of the items included are non-eatable. In the average grocery basket, twenty percent of the items are non-eatable. A chicken dinner used to start with a live chicken, now it starts with a cut-up, cellophane wrapped, weighed and cleaned frier. Television has brought on the age of snacking.

Non-resident nibblers (friends, neighbors, co-workers) are accom- modated with quick to fix snack foods.

Few of us notice the hidden improvements in our foods. Have you noticed that your marshmallows don't get hard nearly as fast as they used to? Foods are packaged and graded for our convenience. And we're all getting bet- ter balanced meals thanks to fortification pro- grams.

According to the U.S. Department of Agricul- ture, in the late 1940s we spent 25% of our disposable income on food. Today we spend 17% of our disposable income on a bigger vari- ety of better foods. Of your food dollar 40c goes to the farmer and 60c to marketing. We do pay more for grocer- ies today than yester- day, but food takes a smaller share of our income than it did a quarter of a century ago.

Precautions Can Avoid Farm Fires, Farmers Reminded

Farm fires are potentially the most dangerous, because the farmer, his family and his property are usually miles away from the nearest fire department or from neighbors who could lend assistance. Never is a farm so isolated than when a fire strikes. Farm families should take all precautions to prevent accidental fires and they should use all methods of fighting fires if they do start, says James B. Jackson, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor in Rochester.

The Farmers Home Administration, in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, offers this list of fire prevention and protection ideas:

1. Make sure every member of your family knows how to call the fire department. Post the fire department number at the telephone. Also make sure your fire department knows the layout of your farm, house and barn and the location of water supplies.

2. Check conditions of heating equipment, including chimneys and flues. Make all repairs necessary for safe operation.

3. Check electric wiring for wear and loads--replace worn and inadequate wiring. Use only 15-ampere fuses unless a circuit has been especially designed for larger loads.

4. Keep fire fighting tools accessible in an emergency.

5. Have ladders ready for escape and for fighting roof fires.

6. Keep fire extinguishers on hand. Check them frequently and recharge them when necessary. Also, protect them from freezing during winter months.

7. Maintain a water supply in cisterns and stock ponds. They may be the only source of water for fighting fires.

Kids never change. First they won't hang up their clothes, then they won't hang up the phone.

Andrews Elected President State Sheriff's Association

SHERIFF DAVID ANDREWS

Kosciusko Co. Sheriff David Andrews was elected president of the Indiana Sheriffs Association at their annual convention in Angola on October 3.

Andrews had previously served as first vice-president of the association. Elected to serve with him were Lee Eades, Marion Co. sheriff, first vice-president; Tom Davis, Franklin Co. sheriff, second vice-president; Herb Beasley, ex-sheriff of Vigo Co., secretary; and Farnk McDonald, ex-sheriff of Vandenberg Co., treasurer.

Every county in the state is a member of the association. Included are 92 sheriffs and several deputies.

As president, Andrews, who is currently serving his second term as Kosciusko Co. sheriff, will be responsible for conducting several meetings of the association throughout the year.

One of the major functions of the organization is to promote effective legislation at the state level for the betterment of all sheriff's departments. The association was instrumental in establishing the merit board system in Indiana and in 1958 it standardized uniforms and patrol cars for sheriff's departments in the state.

Andrews said the convention next year will be in Warsaw during the month of October.

Mentone 4-H Club Wins First Prize For Window Displays

The Mentone Merry 4-H Club won first place in a county-wide contest conducted during National 4-H week. The club received a traveling trophy that they must win three years in order to keep and a $5 cash prize. The Atwood American Girl 4-H Club won second place and the Leesburg Plain Farmerettes won third.

National 4-H week was set up for the millions of 4-H members across the United States to tell others of the benefits youngsters and adults can gain from being in 4-H. Keith A. Carrington, Area Extension Agent for Youth, said, "When we speak of 'millions of 4-H's' we include 4-H members, leaders, parents and even 4-H alumni. All of these people can see some real opportunities for our younger citizens and older citizens to learn more and make new friends as they 'do their 4-H thing.'"

"We all know our world is rapidly changing with new inventions, improved equipment and advanced education. Changes are also occurring in 4-H to keep up with the times while meeting the needs of youth. Some old projects are taking on new faces. For instance, the Electric and Electronics project gives a 4-H'er the opportunity to learn about the basics of electricity his first few years by making circuit boards and determining safety in electricity and equipment. By learning these things, a 4-H'er can move on to more complicated and exciting projects, like radios, wiring a house or making a stereo.

"In livestock the beef and swine projects are changing so that now a 4-H'er may learn more about the carcass of the animal showing the need for the trimmer, meat-ier cattle and hogs.

"There are many new projects also, like model rockets, aquatic sciences, and cat care. Finding in these projects ways to do things at home, 4-H'ers can involve mom, dad and the family to make it more fun.

"Of course, there are many projects and activities that young people both rural and urban can enjoy, like clothing, health careers, personality improvement, entomology, geology, dog obedience and wood craft. Even some of the livestock projects can be done by non-farm youth through the consumer education program.

"Looking at the total picture, 4-H can offer a place for youth interested in doing something whether it be with their hands or their minds. As we attempt to meet the challenges that today's world offers, we realize the need to be prepared 'to make the best better.' Contact the County Extension Office, 267-8971 for information."

FOLEY'S JEWELERS

Eugene & Mary Jane Foley - Owners

In reviewing the various leaders of the area, it would indeed be most incomplete to neglect comment on the career and activities of FOLEY'S JEWELERS, located at 706 Main in Rochester, phone 223-3648. When you purchase jewelry, it is necessary to seek a reliable concern, because once you are pleased with an article and ready to buy it, you do so on the representations of the man who sells it. That makes it vital indeed to know in advance that such representations are dependable.

FOLEY'S JEWELERS, besides carrying the finest lines at reasonable prices, also specializes in excellent JEWELRY AND WATCH REPAIR. In fact, they also do almost all of their own DIAMOND-SETTING here. All their MOTHER'S RINGS are SET

Let us consider diamonds. There are many different cuts and grades, and FOLEY'S JEWELERS carries all of them. The personnel here will be glad to explain the merits of each. HAMMEL CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH

Hal Hammel - Owner

In this day and age when every car maker has such a wide selection of models to choose from, it is really difficult for you to decide where to go for a new car. All the companies advertise that their cars are the best, but who is to say which car really is? Obviously, all the cars on the market today must have their good points, or they wouldn't have survived the ups and downs of the business. We, therefore, can conclude that the real difference in buying a car is the DEALER you buy it from.

The ideal dealer to buy a car from offers a fair price on the new unit, as well as an honest dollar for the car you trade in. However, the most important factor is the service that you receive on your new car year after year. A dealer who has 19 FULL TIME EMPLOYEES, including 7 FULL TIME MECHANICS, is a dealer from who a customer can expect - and get - FULL TIME SERVICE.

The writers of the 1972 Review would like to point out a dealer who considers the most important part of selling a car the quality service he can offer you after the sale. We are talking about HAMMEL CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH, located at 1702 Main in Rochester, phone 223-2711, dealers for the famous CHRYSLER, DODGE, and PLYMOUTH automobiles, and DODGE and GMC TRUCKS. See them today for a new or quality used car, and you'll see why we say "Customer Consideration" is their byword.

A HELPING HAND ACROSS THE YEARS

Social security... pensions... annuities... savings. These concepts — the backbone of security for America's senior citizens — are as alien as Martians to most of the world's elderly.

When the years pile up, the lucky ones in Asia, Africa and Latin America can perhaps expect a little help from relatives, often themselves living on the ragged edge of destitution. But much of the impoverished two-thirds of mankind depends on the generosity of Americans and other more affluent peoples.

For nearly a quarter of a century, retired Americans have joined other donors in contributing to the Catholic Relief Service Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign. They know that, taken to their nearest Catholic church in November, their surplus clothing will be distributed where it is needed.

Mrs. Monroe Romine conducted the meeting and led members in singing "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Mrs. C. E. Walburn presented a lesson on arts and crafts, displaying large flower decorated candles, oval framed pictures that contained flowers that had been treated to retain their natural coloring and life-like freshness, a large gold colored wall plaque made from folded newspapers, a container made from a large cut-down plastic bottle padded and covered with flower trim and studded with gold nail heads to hold hair rollers.

Roll call response was with quotes or news of interest.

The Queen of the Week and also the Queen of the Month for losing the most weight went to Mrs. Donna Loer. She received napkin holders as her gift. Her loss totaled 13 1/2 pounds for the month. A cheer was given by the members.

The pig for the week chose potato chips, cheese twisties and all kinds of crackers as the willpower food for the week. The pig not only was gifted with the 50 pound bag of hog feed, but also a plaque "Fat is Beautiful".

The poster contest was won by Group I consisting of the following people: Donna Loer, Linda Cumberland, Lucile Doering, Pat Hoffman, Marilyn Stafford, Winnifred Summe, Janet Wood, Marvyn Zimmerman, and Thelma Holloway. A total of 82 3/4 pounds was lost by the group throughout the contest. Each member of the winning team received a plaque "Happiness Is Losing Weight".

Mrs. Nancy Duzenberg was honored for losing her second ten pounds. She received her second burlap flower and will soon have a bouquet.

Next week will be an auction. Each lady losing weight that week will be able to bid on the merchandise.

If you listen to the loan company commercials, you'll almost believe you can borrow yourself out of debt.

Mentone School News

By Gary Meredith

One of the many fund-raising events that happens at Mentone High School this year will take place October 14 at 6 p.m. in the gym. The Penny Fair, put together by the combined efforts of the 1973 annual staff and its editor, Theresa Yazel, and co-editor, Mark Brown, will be held on this date.

The Penny Fair is a money making project to help raise the funds needed to put out a yearbook. It has enabled us to make a better annual in the past.

There is something of interest for everyone, young and old. There will be numerous booths with displays and articles for sale. An outstanding attraction is the French Cafe as well as movie, a jail and others.

Prizes for the raffle were donated by Rochester, Warsaw and Mentone merchants.

Our cross-country team is now sporting a fine 15-1 record in meets. We came in third at the Manchester Invitational out of 32 schools, only to be surpassed by Manchester and Wabash. On Tuesday night we had a dull meet with Peru and North Miami only to return home with another victory.

The Student Council is now making plans for the Pep Rally that will be held in November. The traditional bonfire and snake dance are planned as well as the possibility of having a dance in the gym afterwards.

Running uphill and running down people are both bad for the heart.

Did you hear about the computer that refused to work until it was promised at least two circuit breaks a day.

School Board Re-Affirms Decision In Spite Of Roadblocks

had been under pressure from the local group, Forbes outlined a course of action that included getting a written statement from the environmental board as to what digging a well has to do with environment. He also recommended requesting the environmental board to test the effluent from the proposed sewage system that would be used at the school and with the effluent from the Akron sewage system. He said engineers had told him the effluent from the proposed school system would be pure enough to drink. He said he did not believe the Akron system that put raw sewage and storm water into the same lines was legal.

Forbes said the "roadblock" had created some delay but unless he was told otherwise, he planned to continue working to the end that school could be in session in the new building by September of 1974. He said, "Once you start a project, you get a lot of problems, some of them little, some of them big. You should not stop now. There will be roadblocks every time you turn."

Forbes and Dr. Wymond Wilson, a board member, made plans to visit the Kosciusko Co. Board of Health Wednesday afternoon to discuss a local plan of action.

Following the decision to reaffirm the one-school position, the board approved transfers of bus funds, having earlier authorized the purchase of two buses, the chassis from Bahney Chevrolet and the bodies from Imperial Equipment Co. The buses were purchased on the basis of bids submitted in March.

Other school board action included sale of the building trades house at Mentone to George and Constance Mc Alpine for $27,000 and sale of Bus 13 to the Park Forest Church of God for $900.

There will be no regular meeting on October 16 as several members will be unable to attend. It was indicated there will probably be a called meeting prior to the next regular meeting on November 20.

Jr. Rembrandt Series Will Be For Family

"Would you like to increase your visual enjoyment of the world around you and be able to express it in a variety of ways?" asks Mrs. Marilyn Kruger. She is initiating the Junior Rembrandt Series for beginners of all ages.

Mrs. Kruger says the course will build a visual vocabulary in relationships, harmony, contrast, movement and composition.

The course will be offered again next year but after the initial start of classes on October 17, enrollment for this year will be closed.

The lessons are given on a family plan with one rate, outlined in a classified ad in this week's NEWS, applying to the whole family. She says she prefers the younger children, in particular, be accompanied by at least one parent, not only as an indication of parental approval but as a means of better understanding the nature of the work the child is attempting.

Classes will meet in Mrs. Kruger's downtown Akron studio the first and third Tuesday evening of each month from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The studio is located above Hill's Market.

Roberts' property to be auctioned to pay creditors

Clarence Roberts' equity in about 73 acres of Brown County land will be sold at a public auction October 31 to satisfy court judgments against him totaling more than $66,000, according to last week's issue of the Brown Co. Democrat.

The real estate sale, which will be conducted by Sheriff Harry E. Snider, will wind up a battery of court suits that were filed against Roberts after a fire destroyed the garage behind his home nearly two years ago.

Roberts, a former Akron, Claypool and Mentone businessman, has not been seen since the Nov. 18, 1970, fire. His family believes he died in the fire. Some officials are not convinced. The question of whether he is dead or alive is also the key to several other suits involving insurance on his life.

The real estate sale was ordered last month by Brown Co. Circuit Court Judge David T. Woods. Woods set a priority list of where the money paid for the land would go.

Debts in the order they are to be repaid from money received at the real estate sale are:

- $28,068.19 plus interest to the Farmers State Bank of Mentone.
- $11,180.87 plus interest to Irwin Union Bank and Trust Co. in Columbus.
- $2,189.50 plus interest to Koschnick and Co. Inc.
- $12,253.58 plus interest to Northrup King and Co.
- $2,144.82 plus interest to Wabash Wholesale Inc.
- $9,490.45 plus interest to Syler Inc.
- $928.81 more to Wabash Wholesale.

The priority list is based on the chronological sequence of the debts, from the oldest to the newest with the total to be repaid being $66,256.22 plus the interest.

Open House Set At Akron School October 25

The faculty of Akron High School will host an open house Wednesday, October 25, in observance of American Education Week.

Parents of students in grades 7-12 and interested patrons of the community are invited to attend.

The program will begin with a general meeting in the gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. A copy of the student's schedule and teachers will be given parents as they arrive. Following the initial session, parents may circulate throughout the building, visiting rooms and consulting with the faculty as they wish.

Parents may also visit classes during the day.

At the close of the open house visitation, refreshments will be served by the home economics department and the Future Teachers.

UNICEF Drive Set In Mentone Monday

The UNICEF drive in Mentone will be conducted Monday evening, October 23, from 6 to 8 p.m. All children of the community are welcome to participate and will meet at the Methodist church.

In the event the real estate sale raises more than that amount, the excess will be deposited with the court. If the amount raised is less than the amount owed, Judge Woods ruled that the "goods and chattels" of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts will be used for the difference.

The October 31 sale will be the third sheriff's real estate sale of Clarence Roberts' property in recent months. The first was of a house he owned just east of the Wabash Village Apartments in Brown County and the second was of the Roberts home on SR 135 in Brown Co.

Akron Board Limits Leaf Burning

The Akron Town Board has requested that no leaves be burned on any blacktop streets within the city.

Plane Crash Injures Four Near Howe

Four area people were injured Sunday afternoon when a 1966, four-passenger Cessna airplane crashed at Reid-Eash Airport, a mile south of Howe.

The pilot, William M. Hoover, 44, R. 5, Warsaw, suffered bruises and abrasions to his head and neck and back sprains.

His wife, Mary, 40, suffered a severely bruised right arm and bruised legs.

Their daughter, Mrs. Mickey Lynn Engle, 21, R. 1, Mentone, who had unfastened her seat belt, sustained a severe laceration on her eye lid and a fractured nose.

Mrs. Engle's husband, Samuel J., 21, suffered a sprained right ankle.

All were taken to the Lagrange County Hospital where they were treated and released later in the afternoon.

Hoover told Lagrange Co. Sheriff Robert E. Floring and Indiana State Policeman Charles Smith that he had circled the field twice because of changing wind directions, then decided it would be safer to come in from the south. As the plane was about to hit the runway, Hoover said a gust of wind came in from the south. The plane struck the ground, collapsing the front wheel; bounced into the air, and came down on its top.

The plane, owned by the Mentone Flying Club, was badly damaged.

Blood Collection Day Is October 31

Tuesday, October 31, is the date designated as the next blood collection day. The Blood Mobile will be at the St. Joseph Parish Hall in Rochester from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sufficient time has lapsed since the last blood visit that the same people may donate again.

Henry township's quota is 21 pints with Mrs. Lois Spoker in charge of recruitment, and Newcastle township's quota is six pints. The recruiter there is Mrs. Delbert Nutt.

Halloween Curfew Limits Set In Akron

In conjunction with National Education Week, George Welch, principal of Talma Junior High School, has announced open house at the school Tuesday evening, October 24.

Parents are urged to visit the school between 7 and 8:30 p.m. and may talk with their children's teachers.

Coffee, punch and cookies will be served in the cafeteria immediately following the open house.

Singapore Report

By Alan Kindig

Editor's Note: Having convinced by brother Alan that he should occasionally write about the life he and his wife Bev and their two children, Tami and Greg, are living in Singapore, I happily relinquish the space usually occupied by Odds and Ends for his first report. We think you will find it entertaining. AS

It is all too seldom that most American families hold a family meeting but periodically events happen that call for such a meeting. This was the situation in our house along about April when I was asked if I would be interested in going to Singapore to help start up a new General Electric manufacturing facility. Time was at hand for a family meeting to discuss the matter and many questions were asked and much discussion followed. At the close of the meeting, all members were in agreement, we were going to Singapore.

The next three months were busy in preparation for the trip. I worked long hours obtaining and trying out machinery for the new facility in Singapore. We all went through a series of shots and applied for our passports. Bev worked at finding someone to stay in our home in Holland and prepared to leave her job.

Finally, after many good-byes, we were off on the 21st day of July. We traveled with a very fine couple by the name of Ben and Grace Moore who were also helping start the new plant in Singapore.

The trip went fast with one night in San Francisco, three in Honolulu and three in Hong Kong. Suddenly, here we are. One Hoosier farm kid, one Illinois hillbilly and two Hollands, Michigan, kids in Singapore living at the Orchid Inn.

Singapore is a small island off the southern tip of Malaysia located about half-way between Athens and Disko and nearly straight down. It is about 12 miles north to south and 25 miles east to west. It is about 90 miles north of the equator and about as hot and humid as one can ever imagine. It also contains just over two million people.

Singapore has two summers that are very hot and two winters that are very warm. (The sun crosses the equator twice a year). Also, there is no man in the moon. From here, it is a rabbit.

The Orchid Inn is a nice hotel that also contains a few apartments. There are five families of us living here that are involved with this project. It makes it convenient for sharing a ride to work and it gives the ladies companionship.

Our apartment contains a large living room-dining room combination, kitchen, three large bedrooms, three bathrooms, several ants, a few rather large cockroaches and an occasional mouse that is about the size of a rat. We also have a few lizards that come out at night and hang on the wall to eat the bugs. Size-wise it is a toss-up between the lizards and the roaches.

The Inn also has a large swimming pool and the kids enjoy it greatly. It has been a real help to us fellows as a means of relaxing after a hard day at work.

The family across the street raises chickens in their yard so as we leave for work it is to the refrain of a rooster crowing. This adds a nice touch and helps prevent home sickness.

Homes and apartments are in many ways different from the States. For example, all kitchens and bathrooms are tiled with ceramic tile on the floors and half-way up the wall. They also contain a floor drain in each room to help with the cleaning. These drains allow the rooms to be hosed down and scrubbed clean. The kitchens do not have any overhead cupboards; all storage is below the counter top. In our apartment, all the cooking is done on a two-burner gas plate that is called a "cooker". The bottle gas container sits next to the counter in the kitchen. It is a new trick for Bev to cook for a family of four when she has no oven, two burners and a very small refrigerator. Most all of the furniture is wicker and bamboo and most rooms contain a large, slow-turning ceiling fan. We have the feeling we are living in an old Humphrey Bogart movie. All wall outlets are three-prong receptacles and all are 220 volt. All appliances are 220 volt but not all plugs are three-prong, only two. It is not possible to plug a two-prong plug into a three-hole receptacle without first jabbing a wooden chop stick into the third hole. By all safety standards, this is just not right, but it works and there are a lot of chop sticks around. Singapore has a good record of no electrocutions from misguided chopsticks.

Other than the heat, humidity, roaches and hard work of a new plant start-up, Singapore is a great place to be. As I work along with my coveralls soaked through with perspiration, I wonder if the snowblower will start okay this year.

News Of Interest To Homemakers

By ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

The Federal Trade Commission's Trade Regulation Rule on permanent care labeling went into effect on July 3, 1972. This rule requires that most apparel and home sewing fabrics, both domestic and imported, carry a permanently attached label giving care and maintenance instructions.

The clothing and fabric industry has recognized the need for care information for some time. For many years, the industry has been voluntarily working toward giving this information on removable hangtags. The problem with hangtags has been that consumers do not always save them for future reference.

The new rule states that most textile apparel products and over-the-counter price goods must have appropriate care instructions which are both permanently legible and are affixed to the product for its useful life. Woven or printed labels can be sewn, glued, or fused onto the fabric. For home sewing fabrics, labels will be given to the consumer when she purchases the fabric and are to be sewn in when the garment is finished.

Products which do not require routine cleaning and hats, gloves, and footwear are exempt from the regulation. Also manufacturers may petition the FTC for exemption from the rule. Exemptions are given only for specific articles where the label is unnecessary.

The labels are to be written in clear and positive terms. Machine washable permanent press will carry this label "machine wash warm, tumble dry, remove promptly."

Permanent care labeling is meant to be an informative aid to consumers. Be sure and read all labels before laundering any garment or fabric.

Tippecanoe River Chapter DAR Hosts Anthony Nigo Chapter At Dinner Meeting

Members of Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, were guests of the Tippecanoe River Chapter of Bourbon at Teel's Restaurant last Tuesday evening. The host chaplain, Mrs. Dale Becknell, gave the dinner blessing prior to the salad smorgasbord.

Mrs. Hershel Apple, Bourbon regent, conducted the opening ritual.

Mrs. Charles Joyner, program chairman, introduced Steve Shoemaker from the Warsaw MYF who described his experiences during the past summer when he spent a week at a work camp for Oklahoma Indians. He noted the 28 young people and five adults, traveled in a bus, staying in churches along the way, to Stillwell, Okla., ranked the third poorest county in the nation. Located in the northeast corner of Oklahoma, it is 12 miles from Arkansas and 22 miles from Missouri in the Ozark Mountains. He described the work done there and the side trips into Crookston Hills, a 1763 Indian Village and the home of John Ross, the Cherokee Indian who was educated at Oxford University in England. The group left feeling they had gained much more from their Indian friends than they could have given.

Following the program, the hostess regent conducted the short business meeting, expressing the closeness that has developed between the two chapters during the years they have worked together. She introduced several guests, including Mrs. Robert Nepper, State Chaplain.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Wayne Bessinger. She said October is especially meaningful as it is the anniversary of the DAR's founding, this being the 82nd year.

The words of the first President General were expressed: "We now feel that this society is firmly established and in good condition for continued success. It remains with us all to see that it still lives and grows to greater and better ends. We have within ourselves the only element of destruction; our foes are from within, not without." Mrs. Donald Spicer, the present President General, concluded by quoting again her theme for the year, "Wait upon the Lord: be of good courage." (Psalm 27:4)

The national defense chairman, Mrs. Ralph Mason, gave the lesson, using an article entitled "A Call To Arms."

The regent of Anthony Nigo Chapter thanked Tippecanoe River chapter for the evening and reminded members that the next meeting of the Mentone chapter will be Nov. 14 at her home. Members were also reminded to bring gifts for the DAR schools. These can be for a boy or girl of any age and the value should be quoted. The gifts are not to be wrapped.

Basic Philosophy Hidden

Look at McGovern's Early Record Urged

By KEVIN P. PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON — Since July, George McGovern has twice attacked President Nixon by likening him to Adolf Hitler. But this tactic is not just an ordinary smear. It is also a tipoff to a key facet of McGovern's outlook: how little his politics have changed from the formative years of the late Forties and early Fifties when he, McGovern, was an apologist for Russia, a supporter of Communist-backed 1948 Presidential candidate Henry Wallace, and an opponent of the Marshall Plan and Korea War, and a man who often mimicked Daily Worker rhetoric with his attacks on "fascist-tinged minds" and "Hitler-types."

All of those skeletons in McGovern's ideological closet can be documented by references to South Dakota newspapers and the new biography "McGovern" by Robert S. Anson. I am amazed that the press has not dug more deeply into the record of 1943-55 to understand and peg the George McGovern of 1972. For 20 years, Richard Nixon's early career has been muckraked by every liberal journalist who could grab a typewriter. His life from entering Congress in 1946 through the Vice-Presidential years of the Fifties is an open book; in fact, it is about two dozen open books, a few friendly, more hostile, all revealing. George McGovern's early record, on the other hand, is hidden, and the American press is letting him get away with it.

Sticks By Convictions

Is all of this relevant today? I think so. Although McGovern apparently is trying to hide his basic philosophy for the duration of the 1972 campaign, last year he carelessly told biographer Anson that he stuck by his 1948 convictions:

"I felt then as I do now that U.S. foreign policy was needlessly exacerbating tension with the Soviet Union... I liked what (Henry) Wallace had to say about foreign policy. I still think he was essentially right."

And Anson himself sees the leftist years at Northwestern

as the formative ones still guiding McGovern's thinking:

"Politically, he had fashioned an ideology that would change little if at all during the course of the next two decades."

By and large, McGovern is trying to avoid public discussion of his activities in the late Forties and early Fifties. According to Anson, "McGovern's own feelings about Wallace are one of the few things he does not volunteer readily about his past... McGovern's campaign propaganda conveys the impression that his beliefs have never been anything except the most regular Democratic kind." McGovern was a delegate to the Communist-controlled Progressive Party convention that nominated Henry Wallace for President in 1948, but stories differ on whether he voted for Wallace, or didn't vote. Now that McGovern is trying to play the role of loyal Democrat (after threatening to bolt the party as recently as early July) his 1948 activities ought to be a hot topic in the press. But they aren't.

Investigates Directions

If the American people are to have the same sort of career information about McGovern as they have about President Nixon, here are some investigative directions that the press should develop:

McGovern's background as a religious zealot: At first, he was trained for the ministry, and became an ardent disciple of German Walter Rauschenbusch, a turn-of-the-century Baptist theologian and leftwing "Social Gospel" exponent. During the Nineteen-forties, McGovern sometimes compared elements of Communism (as he now compares his own social philosophy) to the basic thrust of the Sermon on the Mount. Is this religious background a clue to McGovern's radical social policies?

McGovern's leftwing memberships: Richard Nixon's affiliations are a matter of record, but there is no published list of the groups to which McGovern belonged during the forties and fifties.

McGovern's activities against the Korean War: In 1951, while U.S. soldiers were fighting in Korea, McGovern was making speeches opposing the war and calling for a ceasefire. The press ought to relate his position on Korea with his position on Vietnam.

McGovern's election year centrism: Whenever an election year comes round, McGovern changes his voting pattern, and acts the part of a centrist persecuted by false charges of "radicalism." In 1968, when he ran for re-election to the Senate, his ADA rating (a reliable index of liberal sympathy) fell from the mid-nineties to the low forties. Here again, the press has not caught on to his moderations as a long-standing McGovern tactic.

One hopes that as the campaign moves into high gear, Senator McGovern's personal history will get the same careful scrutiny as President Nixon's already has.

Jehovah Witnesses Meet At Wabash

By A Member

An audience of 1909, including many from our area, followed with undivided attention Sunday, as Ruben Cobos, Jr., guest speaker and Bible educator, discussed the subject, "Is This Life All There Is?", at the circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the Honeywell Memorial Center in Wabash.

Local spokesman and returning delegate, Ralph Funk, quoted Mr. Cobos as saying: "Vainness and frustrations of this life lead many to despair or frantic search for meaning. Young and old often question and reject goals for which people have long worked, such as wealth, fame, power and beauty. If this life is all there is, we are not even a drop in the stream of time or a speck on the scales of eternity."

Mr. Funk then described how Cobos took the audience on a visual tour of the Bible. He went from scripture to scripture, allowing time for the audience to follow in their Bibles, showing that what this life has to offer is far short of what God has in store for obedient mankind.

Mr. Cobos concluded this way: "Our life today can be especially meaningful, for we live at a time when persons can escape every dying."

We can enter into endless life. This is because we are living in the conclusion of this system of things. Fulfillment of Bible prophecy proves that that foretold end is near. So the question remains about each of us today, 'Will God find me worthy of preservation into His new order?' If the answer Yes, then this life--in this imperfect, frustrating, dying system of things--is not all there is."

Meetings at the local Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses will resume as usual this week.

One of the fellows downtown said the essence of wisdom is a study of the present in the light of the past for the purposes of the future.

"What Is Success?" Asked At Meeting

The October meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Akron Church of the Brethren was opened by Mrs. Arlene Gearhart as she presented a lesson entitled "What Is Success?" She stressed that success means living a good life, service to others and setting a goal and trying to reach it. The hymn "In the Service of the King" was sung, and Mrs. Gearhart closed with prayer.

Mrs. Cindy Weaver, Mrs. Norma Weaver, Mrs. Vera Holloway, Mrs. Rosella Tinsley and Mrs. Gearhart reported on the theme of the fall fellowship they attended at Marion. The theme was "Brethren Today and Brethren Tomorrow."

Several book reviews were reported. It is hoped each member will read several books this year.

Well-will response was "My winter time project or hobby." The offering was based on one cent for each year of the member's age.

Well-will cards were sent to Mrs. Lucille Fugh, Mrs. Iula Davis and William Bively.

Mrs. Norma Weaver was hostess, serving refreshments to twelve members and several children.

SPECIAL HALLOWEEN TREATS

Your youngsters and their little friends will be thrilled to receive their very own homemade Halloween Candy Baskets. An easy-to-make puffed rice-marshmallow mixture is shaped and decorated like miniature jack-o'-lanterns. Surprise! The "pumpkins" are hollow so they can be filled with the kiddies' favorite candies.—And when the baskets are empty, the children will enjoy eating the tasty butterscotch flavored puffed rice!

You don't need fancy molds to make these baskets; ordinary custard cups are all that's needed. Just follow the simple directions in the recipe; our picture shows you how it's done, too.

HALLOWEEN CANDY BASKETS

Makes 8 pumpkins

6 cups puffed rice
¼ cup butter or margarine
5 cups miniature marshmallows

One 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) butterscotch pieces

1 teaspoon vanilla

Candy corn

Black string licorice

Green gumdrops

Heat puffed rice in a shallow baking pan in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes. Pour into a greased large bowl.

Melt butter, marshmallows and butterscotch pieces in the top of a double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Pour marshmallow mixture over puffed rice, stirring until evenly coated.

Reserve 1½ cups puffed rice mixture for tops. With greased hands, press remaining puffed rice mixture firmly to line 8 greased 6-oz. custard cups, leaving centers hollow. Turn custard cups upside down; form tops of pumpkins over greased bottoms of cups. When candy has set, remove from cups by loosening gently with knife.

Decorate using candy corn for eyes, black string licorice for mouths and green gumdrops for stems. Attaching with thick confectioners sugar frosting. To serve, fill centers with candy and replace tops.

ODDS and ENDS

If it hadn't been such an absolutely perfect fall day, there is no way in heaven Halloween would have started at our house on the third of October. As it was, it had been a day with sky so clear visibility was unlimited. Only a poet could describe the blueness of it and the red fingers of an early sunset only added more beauty. It was crisp and cold; the leaves had not yet begun to come down, but the feeling of fall was in the air. It made you feel good just to be alive, and it made me an absolute pushover for an eager eight-year old boy who said, "Hey, Mom, how about getting some pumpkins for Halloween?"

It didn't take long to select two big pumpkins and it didn't take much longer to whittle out two ugly jack-o-lanterns that were complete with leering grins and corn cob pipes. I smiled complacently as the pumpkins were carried to the front porch. But suddenly, instead of seeing pumpkins I was seeing a Christmas tree that was put up on the third of December and that had no needles by the 20th of December. This cannot happen to those jack-o-lanterns, I thought. "Don't light them," I ordered.

"Why not?" A startled face looked into mine. "Because..." I faltered. They couldn't lose needles, could they? "Because they'll shrivel up and won't look good on Halloween," I said. "Besides, who ever heard of jack-o-lanterns a month before Halloween?"

"Lots of kids, I'll bet," the eight-year old muttered.

"Well, it's too early," I replied. "Do something else."

"Heck," he said. But he got busy and within days had constructed two scarecrows that were tied to the front porch. Their gourd heads have shrunk until they appear completely headless and only the jack-o-lanterns grinning haphazardly beside them give indication of heads.

But, oh those heads. I was right, the pumpkins would shrivel, but it wasn't the candles that did it. The rain and snow and sun and fog and all the other weather that followed that one perfect day have taken their toll. The heads are definitely on the flabby side. By Halloween they will be soft enough to use for putty.

This condition has not gone unnoticed by the eight-year old. He has asked repeatedly, "How long until Halloween?"

Finally, after he'd asked 40 times in 30 minutes, I showed him the calendar, told him to keep track of his own time and "go find something else to worry about."

He was silent for hours, so silent I worried about him but on checking found him with a notebook and pencil carefully making notes. "Bless his heart," I sighed. "He's going to be a writer."

Hours later, he sought me out and without even looking at the calendar, presented me with pages and pages of pencilled notes. "Here you are, Mom," he said. "I made out my Christmas list. The things I couldn't write down, I circled in the catalogs. You should find everything there you want to get me."

He went back to check the pumpkins, leaving me holding the list and wondering whatever happened to Thanksgiving and hoping like everything it doesn't snow on the third day of December.

One pound of learning requires ten pounds of common sense to apply it.

The Amendments

The five Indiana Constitutional Amendments that will be voted on November 7 are listed here with a discussion of what happens if you vote yes or no. This is printed as a public service by this newspaper so that readers will have an opportunity to study the amendments prior to voting on them.

BALLOT QUESTION

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

1. Shall the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended to permit the General Assembly to establish the method of selection and tenure of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction?

1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction could be elected or selected by a method other than election. The term of office could be set by law.

GOVERNOR-TWO CONSECUTIVE TERMS

2. Shall the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended to permit the Governor to serve eight (8) out of any twelve (12) years?

2. The Governor would be limited to two (2) consecutive terms (8 out of 12 years).

GOVERNOR-VETO POWER

3. Shall the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended to permit the Governor seven days in which to veto legislation and to clarify certain procedures for handling vetoed legislation?

3. The Governor would have seven days to act upon legislation. A vetoed bill would have to be returned to the General Assembly on the first session day following the veto. If the General Assembly had adjourned, the vetoed bill would be filed with the Secretary of State for presentation on the first day of the next session.

COUNTY OFFICERS TERMS

4. Shall the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended to permit county officers to serve an unlimited number of terms instead of two terms and making the coroner a statutory officer rather than a constitutional officer?

4. County officers could serve an unlimited number of terms. The coroner would be deleted from the constitution, making his office subject to regulation by law.

VACANCIES IN THE LEGISLATURE

5. Shall the Constitution of the State of Indiana be amended to permit the General Assembly to establish by law a method of filling vacancies in the General Assembly?

5. The General Assembly could determine by law a method for filling vacancies in the General Assembly, such as, appointment, special election, etc.

If you vote NO ☒

1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction would continue to be elected for 2-year terms in a partisan election.

2. The Governor would continue to be limited to one term (4 out of 8 years).

LETTERS FROM READERS

Dear Editor:

As I see it, "Disappointment." A highly publicized television special "The Lafayette Escadrille" a World War I combat flying unit consisting of pilots from several countries.

To me it was a complete washout. Why? I was a member of the 94th Combat Aero Squadron, and when the First Pursuit Group was formed at Foul, France, several of the pilots of the very famous Lafayette Escadrille joined the 94th, 95th, 27th combat squadrons. There were also the 91st and 12th squadrons, one called observation and the one called photographic and later the 147th combat squadrons and all under the direct command of the American army.

All there was to the TV version was a silly love affair. I am grieved to learn my commanding officer, Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, was stricken and in a critical condition due to a stroke. He was a great pilot and a fine and wonderful gentleman. I wish the best for his recovery. Billy Fowler

With him are Robert Kindt, left, president of the Warsaw service club, and Gerald Romine of Mentone, who introduced Bodine.

Bodine entered the Indiana House of Representatives in 1963 and was elected Speaker in 1965, the only person in the state's history to be so honored in his second term. He is now minority leader in the House.

He said he wants to re-activate the office of Lieutenant Governor if elected, and to initiate a "people's advocates program," using experienced people in various fields into committees to guide the state government in its legislative program. He also wants to re-write the state tax laws toward property tax relief, giving special exemptions to people over 65 years of age.

He called the Indiana General Assembly "technically one of the finest in the United States," following its renovation which began in 1963.

He said our present state welfare program is "a remnant of the 1930's which badly needs overhauling."

News Of Interest To Homemakers

BY ANN HANCOCK
Area Extension Agent, Kosciusko County

Leather, vinyl, leatherette, and suede are leading in stride with the fashion industry this fall. These fabrics and leathers are available for the homemaker, but often are not accepted because of difficulty when actually working with special fabrics is not as difficult as it might seem.

When working with any special fabric keep these suggestions in mind. Choose a basic design. Avoid patterns with details such as pocket flaps, bound buttonholes and set in sleeves. Always use the "with nap" layout. If the fabric has prominent markings, match these markings as you would a plaid. Make personal alterations on the pattern before you cut and sew. Alterations made directly on the fabric may leave permanent marks.

In working with vinyls, leather or suede, place all pins in the seam allowance use cellophane tape or masking tape to mark darts etc. Don't pin or baste when joining seams. Hold section together with paper clips.

To mark stitching line on clear vinyl use a tracing wheel with teeth and no carbon paper. The stitching line will cover the pin puncture. Tissue paper can be used to keep vinyl from sticking to the feed dog.

Leather skins are two feet by three feet in size. Moose skin that are uniform in color and weight. You may find it necessary to piece garment sections by adding an extra seam or a yoke. Place all pattern pieces in one direction. Place all tops of patterns toward the neck end of suede. Leather will stretch so it must be handled carefully. Seams are glued then pressed open. Glue the seam allowance to the garment. When pressing use a warm dry iron. Never use steam. For the final pressing on the right side, use a warm dry iron over brown paper.

FALL LUNCHEON - Tickets are still available for the Extension Homemakers Fall Luncheon to be held Wednesday, Oct. 25, at the Shrine Building. The speaker will be Heinz Fussle who will give a travelogue.

CLOTHING SERIES - The series "Let's Make A Dress" has been cancelled due to lack of interest.

Henry Township Hospital Auxiliary Report

By Violet Smoker

The Henry Township Hospital Auxiliary has been quite busy during the past year. Our membership drive the first of the year was solicited by Mrs. Donna Hoffman, Mrs. Gloria Bowen, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray, Mrs. Ed Shewman, Mrs. Opal Marsh, Mrs. Alma Haupt and the three officers, Mrs. Edith Sheetz, Mrs. Carolyn Runkle and Mrs. Violet Smoker. We have 83 members.

We had two months for work and hospital favors. In February, hospital favors were made by the Happy Hour Club, Girl Scouts, Church of the Brethren and United Methodist WSCS. Also, two large boxes of mending were done by Mrs. Carolyn Runkle, Mrs. Elmer Kester, Mrs. Dorothy Easterday, Mrs. Selena Gerig and Mrs. Edith Sheetz.

October was our second month for hospital favors and these were made by the Omega Club, Happy Hour Club, Akron Home Ec Club, Pleasant Hill Church and Stringtown Club. We had no mending.

Our work month next year will be June. If your organization would like to make hospital tray favors, let us know.

The county had planned a fish fry but decided to have a bake sale somewhere in Rochester on December 16. Our township will take items for the base sale which will be in the form of Christmas cookies, cake or candies. If you can furnish anything, please let your officers know. We are still selling cutlery, available at Miriam's Beauty Shop, Josephine's Beauty Shop and at the home of Edith Sheetz. These are available in paring knife and steak knife sets.

Harrold-Sommers Vows Are Exchanged

Blue and white bows marked the pews of the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Warsaw for the recent marriage of Miss Sharon Harrold and Dr. Richard Sommers. The Rev. B.C. Mueller officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar graced with baskets of white gladioli and blue-tinted mums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Harrold, Akron, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sommers of Hanna.

Robert Bishop, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Norman Cripe, sang "The Song of Ruth" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Rodney Conner, Akron, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jeannie Gerber, Ft. Wayne, Miss Mary Beth Dysert, Huntington, and Miss Peggy Taylor, Indianapolis.

The best man was Ronald Sommers, Hanna, brother of the bridegroom.

Groomsmen were Dr. Edward Sommers, Bourbon, Ronald Herthes, LaPorte, and Thomas Prancus, of Milwaukee, Wis. Ushers were Richard Harrold, brother of the bride, and J. R. Loer, both of Akron.

A reception in the church social room for 250 guests immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride graduated from Ball State University and is employed by Sonoco Products Co., Akron. Her husband is a graduate of Purdue University's School of Veterinary Science and Medicine and is associated with the Silver Lake Veterinary Clinic.

After a honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple is at home in Silver Lake.

One of the best things to have up your sleeve is a funny bone.

Historical Society Plans To Move Cabin And To Promote Books

At the October 16 meeting of the Fulton Co. Historical Society, Bruce Hess and Raymond Bascom were appointed to investigate methods of moving and restoring a log cabin that has been offered by Miller Ault.

Terry Shumaker, teacher and Boy Scout leader from Kewanna, shared his plans and progress of his Scout's drama of the "Trail of Tears." The portrayal of the movement of the Indian population of this area to an area southwest of the Missouri River will be displayed in the museum on completion. The Society members voted to aid the project financially.

Information concerning the Green Oak community is being gathered for publication in a future quarterly.

Insurance of $2000 has been purchased on the items in the museum in addition to property and liability insurance.

A historian from Wayne township is needed so that a future quarterly can be published in that area. Mrs. Bill Willard said it's possible for a college student to receive credit for such work.

Allen Finke, Kewanna photographer, has offered to photograph material for the society in return for photo credits, it was reported.

Bruce Hess said elderly people in various communities will be interviewed and their life memories will be recorded in a book similar to the two volume "Home Folks" written by Marguerite Miller at the turn of the century.

The Rochester Young

Woman's Club has offered a gift of $100 to the museum. Mrs. Willard suggested using the money to purchase a multiplex for the display of old newspapers.

Two books discussed included one by a local author, Mrs. Flossie Enyart Bailey, formerly of Fulton, now a resident of the Miller Nursing Home. It is entitled "Pioneer Days in the Wabash Valley" and was originally published in 1935. It is basically a review of Gene Stratton Porter's life and family in the Hopewell community near Lagro. Mrs. Bailey was an honored guest at the Open House observed in Hopewell during the past summer. The book will be on sale at the museum.

this week-end. The other book, Indiana Canals, is by Paul Fatout, published by Purdue University studies. It is available there.

TALMA 8th GRADE NEWS

By Students

This year the 8th grade class has several teachers in the different class areas. They are Dr. Davis and Mr. Welch for Math, which at the moment, we are studying geometry. Mrs. Janie Hall and Mr. Shoemaker for Science. We have studied light, color and are working on sounds. Mrs. Williams for Art and girl's Phys. Ed. We have Mr. Bush for Music and Band. For Social Studies, we have Mr. Pratt and Mrs. Welch, we have discovered the New World, colonized it, and fought the French and Indian war, making most of North America English. We are now rebelling against English rule. We are following the leadership of Samuel Adams, John Hancock, George Washington and Ben Franklin. We have Mr. Spiegel for English, Spelling and Literature. We have been doing some simple speeches in class and Mr. Spiegel also has the boys in Health and Physical Education.

This year we had several girls go out for cheerleader, but as the tradition goes, only a few could get it. They are: Terri Kindig, captain, Diana Meredith, Tina Hoskins, Diana Peters, Mary Beth Anglin, Connie Norris and Alicia Dickerhoff as the alternate.

Some of our best track boys so far this year have been Kevin Eaton, Derek Anglin, Kevin Anderson, Gary Minix and Jay Woodruff.

Last Thursday, we had our class elections and the winners are: Charlie Jameson, president; Derek Anglin, vice-president; Terri Kindig, secretary; Kevin McSherry, treasurer; Cindy Hively, reporter, and Ted Lewis, class representative at large. Class representatives are: 1-1 Alicia Dickerhoff, 2-2 Danny Jones, 3-3 Jerry Francis and 4-4's Kevin Eaton.

PAC Member Gets Flower

Wednesday evening's meeting of the Pounds Away Club was called to order with each lady telling her loss or gain for the week. In addition, each also told what they had eaten all that day.

Shirley Bickel was recognized for having lost her first ten pounds and also received a button flower.

There was a tie for Queen of the Week with Shirley Bickel and Donna Loer each losing 21 pounds.

The pig chose cakes and pies for the forbidden food for the week.

An auction was held with Crystal Weida buying a dieter's calendar for $2.80. The club members felt this to be an incentive since the pictures were of overweight ladies.

A new contest will be starting this week. The members have to have a perfect attendance and the one with the best weight loss for a total of six weeks will be awarded a prize.

Singapore Report

By Alan Kindig

Some of the newer cycles contain side cars and they are used to haul anything one can imagine, from cars to bread, to fish, pineapples or you name it. The chopper-type motorcycle is not seen here. Most motorcycles are 100 cc and have very narrow handle bars. This allows them to weave in and out among the traffic without getting the handle bars caught. They also pay road tax by the size of the machine which results in the small size.

It is 13 miles from the Inn to the new plant here and for this trip night and morning the company has provided a Mazda bus. A Mazda bus is a small snub-nose van of Japanese descent and has three seats, each wide enough for two large round eyes sitting shoulder to shoulder. We use this bus to get to and from work and occasionally on weekends.

The first few trips to work are the worst and it is a scramble to see who gets to sit in the back. After about a week you get enough nerve to sit up front and after about two weeks you get enough nerve to drive it. It isn't that the Mazda is so difficult to drive, it is just the conditions one has to drive under. I think it could be driven after only one week if it was driven on the soccer field or the Rugby court. The driving problems all begin when you first get behind the wheel. It is on the wrong side of the bus. It also has four on the floor that is shifted with the left hand. Reverse gear is over and down and a little difficult to find. By raising your left leg and placing the knob in a rather uncomfortable position, it is in reverse. After some maneuvering, you are ready to go big time and pull into traffic. This presents the next problem, everyone is driving on the wrong side of the road and it is solid bumper to bumper traffic. So you put it in low gear and stomp on it. The take-off is tremendous. That bus contains 1000 pounds of men and the engine contains 100 cc of power. Finally, you are into the swirl of traffic and headed for work. The newer arrivals are getting slightly bowed in the back and the old-timers are looking straight ahead rather wide eyed. The driver can only look at traffic and the traffic is awesome. It contains lorries (trucks), buses, motorcycles, bicycles and many cars and taxis. There are many army surplus motorcycles here with side-cars. Also, many of the newer cycles contain side cars and they are used to haul anything one can imagine, from cars to bread, to fish, pineapples or you name it. The chopper-type motorcycle is not seen here. Most motorcycles are 100 cc and have very narrow handle bars. This allows them to weave in and out among the traffic without getting the handle bars caught. They also pay road tax by the size of the machine which results in the small size.

Bicycles also contain side cars and are used like the motorcycles. We have seen at different times a bicycle with a side car full of coconuts and a large monkey riding on back. We think the monkey must be the coconut picker. We also saw a man hauling a large hog on the back of his bicycle.

The lorries are used for everything. Morning and evening, they haul people to and from work. During the day they haul freight or gravel and dirt.

All the roads are painted with divider strips. If a road is painted for three lanes, it usually carries at least four lanes with the motorcycles in between. All of this mess moves along at from 20 to 50 miles per hour and is rather breath-taking. If a breakdown occurs, the common distress signal is a broken branch. When the vehicle breaks down the driver breaks a branch off the nearest tree or bush and puts it in on the back bumper of the vehicle.

But as time passes, we have all gotten into the proper method of driving here and drive all over Singapore with some amount of ease. This morning we drove to church and then to the Cold Storage and home again. No problems at all, but it does go better if you look mean.

NEW BOOKS

AKRON CARNEGIE LIBRARY

THE GREAT CAMPAIGNS, REFORM AND WAR IN AMERICA, 1900-1925 by Otis L. Graham, Jr.

HOW NOT TO DIE YOUNG by Dr. Joan Gomez.

CAPTAIN COOK by Alistair MacLean. This is the story of Cook's life which was a resounding success and the story of it is a thrilling exemplification of his own description of himself as a man who had ambition not only to go farther than anyone had done before, but as far as it was possible for man to go.

SONGS AMERICA VOTED BY compiled and edited by Irwin Sibley. It has been a long road and a merry one from John Dickinson's "Liberty Song" in 1786 to the recent "Nixon's The One". With historical perspective, it is easy to see how these appeals to pre-judice and morality, compassion and jingoism and class interest and self-interest reveal the social values of an era. Today's wits often advise a complainer to "set it to music," and judging from the history recorded in Songs America Voted By, it isn't bad advice!

THE TOURNAMENT OF ROSES by Joe Hendrickson. A pictorial history.

THE GYPSIES by Jan Yoors. The author has succeeded in writing a vivid, personal and immensely beautiful book about this race of strangers in our midst.

BREAK OF TIME by Herta and Paul. In 1938, when Adolph Hitler's shadow fell ominously across all Europe, the author's odyssey began. She was a budding actress in her native Vienna on the day the Nazis took it over. This is her story of the war years.

DOVE by Robin Lee Graham. This is the true story of a 19-year old boy who sailed this 20-foot loop around the world to show the world that it was still possible to live.

THE FOREVER HOME by Dorothy Wickham. In an effort to preserve this rapidly disappearing part of our American culture, the author tells us about her home, her cabin building, mountain crafts and foods, planting by the signs, and other affairs of plain living.

Third Grade Entertained At Akron Library

The Akron third grade children and their teachers, Mrs. Gearhart, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Plaster were entertained at the Akron Carnegie Public Library last Tuesday afternoon.

The party was arranged for the children because the third grade had a larger percentage of their members participating in the Summer Reading Club conducted by the public library this past summer than the other grades.

Mrs. Beulah Cook of Warsaw, president of the Kosciusko County Humane Society and instructor of dog obedience classes, brought two of her dogs, Bridget and Pepper and demonstrated dog obedience. She also conducted a question and answer session.

Velma Bright, librarian, showed books about the care and handling of dogs that are available at the library.

Ice cream sandwiches were served to the children and their teachers by the librarians.

Ronald Kuhn Wins Speaking Contest

"In kindergarten I was a little bit different from the other 5-year-olds...I was 14." The laughs that followed that remark and others were the beginning of a long and successful career in public speaking for Ronald Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kuhn, Akron, and a graduate of Akron High School, used his winning speech, entitled "My Icebreaker" to tell a few jokes on himself.

"My first grade class was a 'No. 1' class," he said, "and later on in school I took agriculture and was voted 'the most likely to succeed'." He joked, "I'm not detecting his class." "It seems like yesterday we were married and you all know what a lousy day yesterday was. She was a beautiful bride, really. Her gown was so long it almost covered her combat boots. Some of the happiest days of my life were spent on that honeymoon. Just the two of us--my mother-in-law and I. My wife wanted to go along but someone had to stay home and mind the farm."

His wife believes in "having children real young," Kuhn said. "Who wants old children? You know how kids brighten up a home--those little guys never do turn out the lights."

Kuhn, plantarum director for Northrup High School in Port Wayne, summed the goals of Toastmasters as "giving people a chance to improve their speaking ability and in raise their self image." He said he had gotten a lot of "personal satisfaction and personal friends" since he had joined the organization two years ago. He said in an interview following the contest that he attributes a job promotion to his Toastmastering and that he has considered a speaking career.
