ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

When they were two and eight, supper conversations with the boys usually ranged from, "Doug, get your feet off the table," to "Todd, don't talk with your mouth full."

And when they were eight and fourteen, the range varied from, "Doug, don't reach; we'll pass it, if you'll just wait a minute," to "Todd, don't gulp your food." "One of these times they'll carry on more normal conversations," Loren would console me after they'd rushed off to more exciting pastimes, and I'd sigh; it seemed like the impossible dream.

But there have been changes. For one thing, they're a bit older. Doug is 12, a seventh grader whose sole course of study seems to consist of shop and football, while Todd is a college freshman who actually likes calculus and economics, but more than anything is fascinated by sociology as taught by a Chinese professor.

Our weeks are hectic, what with meetings, printing schedules and football practice, and the three of us who remain seldom have time to say more than, "Hi." But on Friday, everything changes. The paper has been mailed, the bookkeeping done, some of the printing caught up, football practice dismissed early and our freshman comes home.

But Loren and I no longer talk much. The wonder is that we still try at all. But we do.

A typical Friday supper conversation now ranges from, "Well, I got the posting done," to, "I had a bit of trouble printing. The blanket kept rolling up."

"What kind of blanket?"

"Press blanket." "Oh. Not like the ones they use for stretchers when someone gets hurt in football?"

"No."

"Did you know that in China it's considered a delicacy to eat the raw brains straight out of a monkey's head while he's still kicking?"

"Football's fun. Wind sprints aren't, though."

"I thought I'd never get the control to balance."

"I'd have gotten along better if I hadn't had to take time to put the wheels back on the turtle (a large cart used in print shops)."

"He didn't say anything about turtles. He did say that the monkey brains were supposed to make you smart."

"You'd be smarter if you didn't talk about that, while we're eating."

"He also said a lot of people like to dip mice in vinegar and then swallow them live."

"Football doesn't take many lives, but it sure hurts a lot of kids. We've lost one in every game."

And there've been other changes, too. Not only are Loren and I talking less, I'm dreaming more. Like the other night, I had this funny dream about a marinated mouse being swallowed by a football player just before he was carried off the field on a blanket by a monkey whose brains were later eaten by a tired printer who rolled in on an out-of-control turtle.

It must have been something I ate.

"Always do right; this will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The girls are to be there between 8:30 and 9:30 Saturday, and to leave by 2:00 Sunday. Then we ended the meeting with the girl scout friendship circle and song.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK OCT. 3-9 '76

This week, October 3-9, more than 160,000 Hoosier youths are observing National 4-H Week with activities based on the Bicentennial theme: "4-H---Room To Grow." The theme reminds that as 4-H grows, so do the youth who are involved. They grow mentally, physically and spiritually as they set new goals and respond enthusiastically to new opportunities. 4-H is an informal, practical, learning-by-doing educational program for all boys and girls who are 10-18 years old in the current calendar year.

Through 4-H, young people learn to take care of growing things, redecorate their rooms, fix their bikes, take pictures, practice cooking and collect rocks. But...4-H ain't all cows and cook'in. 4-H is leaning to care and relate to other people, sharing ideas, gaining self-confidence and learning to be leaders. Today's youth are tomorrow's leaders.

Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR members hear educational need changes outlined

The Mentone American Legion Hall was the site of the Sept. 28 meeting of the Anthony Nigo Chapter DAR. Hostesses were Mrs. Worley Spittler and Mrs. Paul Shireman.

Mrs. Wayne Smalley's national defense message was titled "No Need for Enemies" and concerned do-nothing American people. "External enemies are not necessary to ruin this country; practically all of our current problems have developed domestically," she said. "Our wounds are self-inflicted."

ed." She reminded members of Edmund Burke's famous statement: "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for enough good men to do nothing."

Another article read by Mrs. Smalley was titled "Schools Must Return to Teaching Basics" and contained statistics indicating average scores on college entrance examinations have declined steadily over the past decade. "More money will not buy what the public wants and expects from its educational system," she said.

"There must be basic changes within the system itself. The first step is renewed emphasis on the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic. This means changes in classroom instruction instead of the constant lip service we get from school administrators," she continued, "Without the ability to read and write, no child is going to make use of the educational opportunity being offered him. Instead of going off on scatterbrained experimental tangents, educators all over the country must devote more classroom time and money to giving students the basic elements they need. No building contractor would think of attempting to build a house without a sound foundation. Educators are not totally responsible for the decline in educational standards; there have been outside pressures. Judges have forced their own ideas on schools, federal bureaucrats have superimposed their ideas without concern for the educational welfare of students. Public insistence is the only force to use to guide the school systems back to the basics. Let's teach our children to read, write and figure first; after that, we can add all the frills."

Delegates elected to attend state conference were Mrs. Ernest Igo, Mrs. Max Smith and Mrs. Thomas Fugate.

Mrs. Igo's program, "Landmarks Our Fathers Have Set," centered on the ancient landmarks--spiritual, moral, social and political--removed, forgotten or abandoned by the American people.

Mrs. James Bitting gave "Blessing of Americanism--Education."

It was announced that Sheila Shewman will represent the chapter as Good Citizen.

Refreshments were served to 19 members and one guest, Mrs. Charles Thomas, of the DAR chapter in Warsaw.

Mrs. Bitting will be hostess for the October 26 meeting.

Flu immunization program set

Fulton Co. residents between the ages of 25 and 65 are urged to participate in a mass A/New Jersey influenza immunization program Sunday, October 24, at the Civic Center in Rochester.

Local nurses and EMTs have volunteered their services for the mass inoculation, which will be conducted from noon until 4 p.m.

Mentone C/F Fund begins

Mentone volunteers will conduct the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's 1976 Breath of Life Campaign during the next two weeks, according to the Rev. E. Robert Heckman, chairman.

He said, "We are asking for contributions to help millions of children across the nation who suffer from lung-damaging diseases. We are raising funds for research to find a cure for the inherited disease, cystic fibrosis, while improving the care and treatment of children suffering from all lung-damaging diseases. Most people don't know that lung diseases kill more children in this nation than any other diseases, except cancer. Cystic fibrosis is the most serious of the lung-damaging diseases. It is inherited and it is incurable."

Researchers hope to find a cure and control for cystic fibrosis. Another goal of the research is developing better methods of treating children with all lung-damaging diseases. Cystic fibrosis affects one out of every 1,500 infants born each year.

Heckman said there will be no door to door campaign. Instead, he asks donations be left at the Farmers State Bank or given to Gail Law at the bank. Donors may also call 353-4495 for someone to pick up their gifts.

Mentone board hears sewer opposition, again

Nearly an hour of the Mentone town board's Monday evening meeting was given to listening to further objections to the proposed sewage treatment plant from three residents, Alonzo Baker, Ron Brown and Kenneth Mollenhour. Board members reiterated their previous stand that the town has been mandated to build a system, a government grant is available that, if not used by September 1977, could be lost with no assurance the town could not later be forced to build a system without governmental assistance.

In routine business, board members voted:

* To extend water service to Howard Horn and two other residences in the south part of town.

* To table the need for increasing tap-on fees until the rate consultant completes his study.

* To accept an agreement with H. J. Umbaugh and Associates for this study.

And also heard a report from park board chairman Bob Whetstone that there is undue littering in the park.

Recuperating

TVSC superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell and business manager Robert Forbes have been dismissed from Kosciusko Community Hospital and Parkview Memorial Hospital and are recuperating at their homes from injuries sustained in a September 22 car-train accident near Akron.

How private is your business?

Right now federal, state and local government officials are legally empowered to require your bank to show them records of your private banking transactions--without first notifying you. Searching through the records of your checking account is like leafing through your personal diary. It can reveal who you know, where you go, what you like, your doctors, your political leanings and what your religious and fraternal affiliations are.

The potential for abuse is obvious, but your bank is caught in the middle between customers' right to privacy and the government's need for specific evidence for law enforcement.

Currently, the American Bankers Association committee on the Rights of Privacy is trying to aid in the resolution of this obvious conflict between the rights of government and those of the individual. Establishing guidelines for the use of confidential information is important. Equally as important is new effective legislation that protects individuals from the potential of government abuse of their privacy.

The banking industry is seeking legislation that would spell out the conditions under which government agencies can have access to your bank records. You should take an active part in supporting this legislation, particularly in an election year. Find out where the candidates stand on the issue and if they don't know already, tell them where you stand.

Sen. Cranston of California introduced SB-1342 which, if passed, would make it illegal for any government, IRS or any other individual or organization to obtain your personal records of banking.

This is a very serious action that involves an enemy of freedom and liberty that is trying to take over our personal and private lives.

From the Bourbon News Mirror, which quoted in part from a bankers' magazine.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Nineteen girls from Troop 221 from Akron attended the Fulton County Camporee at Lake 16 last weekend. We had a great time with arts and crafts, archery, volleyball, and also a baseball game between the Rochester and Akron Girl Scouts, with Akron winning 11-8.

Saturday night we had a marshmallow roast and sang songs around the camp fire.

On Monday at our regular meeting we made Halloween masks for our party Oct. 25. We are also having a hayride Oct. 27 from 6:30 to 9:00, sponsored by the Akron Sorority. We gave the meanings about Laws and the promise. After that we closed the meeting with the song, led by patrol one.

Cystic Fibrosis

Dear Friends:

Our Cystic Fibrosis Fund drive will conclude on Tuesday, October 19. Contributors who unselfishly handed over their hard-earned dollars should know that this money will help provide care and treatment that will add precious years to the lives of lung-damaged children. Donations can still be made at the Mentone bank to Gail Law until Tuesday.

We hope someday children's lung-damaging diseases, which each year kill more children than any other disease except cancer, will be conquered. When that "someday" arrives, our friends in Mentone will have helped make it possible. Sincerely,

E. Robert Heckman

My future

Dear Editor:

So many have called or written about my future. The Lord gave me so much energy that I have always kept about a dozen things going at once. Preaching has always been and always will be paramount. I will be at Main Street at least until the first of June, maybe longer. I was 65, July 25, 1976. So I will plan something until the year 1996.

First, I may go back to school and study to be a medical doctor, then go somewhere where there is a great need. or I might take a year of study and do research on cancer, something I have done for the last 30 years. Or I might go into business to make money so I would have money to help those people who are without. I might go to a large city and open a small place to feed the hungry.

I told my wife I might just take a year to have fun. However my work has always been fun.

My ambition is to preach 20,000 times. That leaves 3,000 to go. I could give my full time as president of a little Bible School.... where we would train the young in Bible, preaching and loving people. I am having a little book printed on A Preacher coming out this month. I have started a book On People, and am starting on my first novel that will take about three years to write.

In the meantime, I have Main Street and Cowan churches. That is great! I still have a heart condition, bad case of diabetes, and legs that never cease to hurt...yet loving God and loving people. Life is good and it is getting better. As long as God lets me have life, it will be fun even deciding what I want to do. I am here and I am glad!

Garrett H. Phillips.

Pesticide certification outlined

Dear Editor:

The County Extension Service recently mailed information on Pesticide Certification to farmers in Fulton Co. The ASCS mailing list was used. Anyone who did not receive the information can request it at 223-3397.

Under new federal and state laws, some (but not all) chemicals will be classified as restricted-use pesticides requiring that a person be certified in order to buy, use or supervise their use. No one knows which pesticides will be classified as restricted use ones, but the EPA will do this classification based on the chemical's potential for harming men, animals and the environment.

One can become certified by participating in four to five hours of training and successfully completing a worksheet (not a test). Upon receiving the worksheet, a record of participation and a $5 check from the applicant, the Indiana State Chemist will send a three-year permit to buy or use restricted-use pesticides after Oct. 21, 1977.

Ten sessions have been scheduled in Fulton Co. between Nov. 15 and Mar. 3 for agriculture producers who plan to become certified. Harold Brown Extension Agent-Agriculture

Hoosier Historical Happenings

From Indiana University

Wendell Willkie's mother and father were prosperous lawyers and landowners of Elwood, Ind.

As a law student at Indiana University, young Wendell was considered something of a campus radical.

As a rising corporation lawyer in the 1930's, he was a member of the Democrat Party. After he became an attorney for the Commonwealth and Southern Utility Company in 1933, he switched his loyalty to the Republican Party.

Willkie challenged the New Deal and the Tennessee Valley Authority using the language and appearance of a rural radical.

"It is an asset in my business to look like an Indiana farmer," he once remarked, according to Indiana University Bicentennial researchers.

This Wall Street lawyer who hailed from the Indiana prairies ran for the Presidency in 1940. He won the largest popular vote that had ever been given a defeated candidate.

"Three Finger" Brown, "Bubbles" Franklin and Donald James Larson are all Hoosier heroes. They all played baseball.

According to Indiana University Bicentennial researchers, baseball was the first modern spectator sport in Indiana. A collegian from the East introduced baseball to Evansville in the 1850's. When baseball entered the schools and colleges in the 1870's, intercollegiate athletics began in a serious way. By 1876, Indianapolis had its first professional team, the Blue Legs.

Indiana has produced scores of historic baseball players including Pete Fox of Evansville and Gil Hodges from Princeton. But one of the most colorful was Mordecai Centennial Brown ("Three Finger" Brown) of Nyesville.

Born in 1876, the year of America's centennial from which he derived his middle name, "Three Finger" pitched 236 winning games for the Chicago Cubs from 1903 to 1916.

It Happened In Mentone

Taken from the Oct. 15, 1947 issue of the Northern Indiana Co-Op News:

Wade Whetstone reports another birthday anniversary for "Dude," his black and tan rat terrier dog. He is going on his 18th year, which is a pretty ripe old age for a dog of this breed.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manwaring returned Saturday from a two weeks visit at Denver, Colo., in the home of the former's sister, Nellie Blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour and sons spent Saturday in Rensselaer.

The Nickle Plate station at Mentone received a new coat of gray paint the past few days. (They did it while Don was away on his vacation and he thought they were trying to fix it so he couldn't find the joint. However, after traveling to and from the place almost every day since 1912, or such a matter, he could get there with his eyes closed.)

Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Paulus returned Sunday evening from a three-day visit with relatives at Glen Ellyn and Chicago Heights. While there they attended the wedding of their niece, Sue Bashore.

Obe Hambaugh and Edna Carey, of Mentone, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel V. Lehman and Mary Beth Hartman, Warsaw, spent Sunday in Albion as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McClanahan.

Iris Anderson was hostess at the business meeting of Beta Epsilon chapter of Psi Iota Xi Thursday evening. Present were Mary Frances Hudson, Edna Nellans, Jeannette Mollenhour, Georgia Nellans, Vadis Ward, Esther Shoemaker, Alice Mollenhour, Pauline Riner, Mary Utter, Viola Weatherbee, Dorothy Nelson and Mrs. Anderson. Initiation services will be Oct. 23 at the home of Emma Clutter.

John Strong delivered the charge to the church, and the Rev. Harlan Palser delivered the charge to the candidate. The Right Hand of Fellowship was given Pastor Chitty, welcoming him into the Baptist ministry.

New books at Akron Carnegie Public Library

New books at Akron Carnegie Public Library include the following:
THE GROWING OF AMERICA, 200 YEARS OF U.S. AGRICULTURE by John Rupnow.

THE WARTIME JOURNALS OF CHARLES A. LINGBERGH. The author emerges in his journals as a man who lives with grace and courage, whose life has not lacked elements of controversy or misunderstanding, but who has nonetheless fulfilled to a high degree his usual creative powers.

A GOOD CONFESSION by Elizabeth Savage. Compassionate, witty, and graceful, this portrait of the joys and sorrows of an Irish-American family is that rare event in contemporary fiction—a genuinely affirmative novel.

THE CENTENARIES OF THE ANDES by David Davies. Far away, in the remote Andean highlands, people live to be 130 years old or more. They may die as the result of an accident, or from a sickness introduced by visitors from the outside, but never from the major killing diseases that afflict the rest of the world, such as heart disease and cancer. Dr. Davies looks at genetic and environmental explanation, concluding that only the environment can provide us with the answer.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HEALTH CARE BEFORE YOU CALL A DOCTOR! by G. Timothy Johnson, M.D.
MY WORLD by Jesse Stuart.

WHEATFIELDS AND VINEYARDS by Ralph W. Seager. This book is a collection of remembered things—initials carved on a school desk and seen forty years later, an abandoned country store, of old loves, of revived passion for living. This book throbs with the heartbeat of real life.

THE HOUR OF THE BELL by Harry Mark Petrakis. Set in 1820 and 1821, this book re-creates the beginnings of the Greek war for independence from the Turkish Empire, when men heady with dreams of honor and glory, power and riches, eagerly sought fulfillment on the battlefield. And the carnation and the rose bloomed in Greek gardens everywhere and they withered.

TVSC teachers protest 'Teacher's Institute' lack

"Regardless of what is said to the contrary, the ISTA is now a union organization," TVSC superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell said Monday evening in replying to teachers who questioned the school board's failure to place the Indiana State Teachers Association Conference on Instruction on the school calendar. "ISTA negotiates. It authorizes strikes. Its meetings are closed to anyone except members. It can only be termed a labor union. We can gain more benefits by using the time and money that would be spent on this program in studying a situation peculiar to our own system, such as the in-service days we have already had."

Harrell's comment came during his reply to Tippecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association president Bernadean Scott who had asked why TVSC isn't observing October 28 and 29 as Teacher's Institute and why professional leave requests had been turned down for all but a few of the teachers who wanted to attend.

"Anyone who wants to attend can use personal leave time to attend union organization meetings," Harrell said.

Mrs. Scott questioned the validity of a system that permits some teachers to attend the sessions with pay but forces others, such as herself, to lose $30 by attending.

Phyllis Gearhart, an Akron elementary school teacher, asked board member Don Snipes to distribute copies of "The Echo," a teacher publication (see excerpt on page 2) that protested the fact local teachers will be unable to attend the Oct. 29 session at Manchester College.

Harrell told teachers he doubted there was enough money to meet all the requests under restrictions placed on him in the policy manual and said the calendar had been adopted in March and could not be changed now without having students go to school the two days following Memorial Day."

Mrs. Scott said all other school corporations in the state were observing Teacher's Institute, but Harrell said, "I doubt that."

After giving teachers time to have their say, board president Fred Kindig chided them for not "going through channels." "This is not a matter for the board," he said, a reply that met with hostility from some of the teachers.

The meeting, a short session that adjourned at 9 p.m., was attended by both Harrell and business manager Robert Forbes, who were injured in a car-train accident shortly after the last meeting. Harrell expressed their gratitude to the central office employees and principals for carrying on in their absence.

MENTONE POWER IMPROVEMENT - Roy Hauth (left) and Jack Culbertson, Northern Indiana Public Service Company linemen, make some final adjustments on the utility's Mentone Substation. The station was recently modified and expanded to provide two 69,000-volt supply lines with automatic change-over, two 69,000 to 12,500-volt power transformers for additional flexibility and three 12,500-volt distribution circuits with automatic reclosing. "Completion of this program will provide both the town and surrounding rural area with a more reliable source of electric service," said Charles A. Heim, NIPSCO Warsaw district manager.

TVSC teachers protest lack

During the brief session, board members:

* Signed a letter to the State Highway Department asking for "stop" and "school zone" signs for the entrances to the high school.

* Heard a report on intended use of Channel 34 educational TV programs. Harrell said audio visual director Ed LaMar would use anticipated Title 4-B money to purchase additional monitors and recorders.

* Granted permission for John Hurst, Mentone principal, to use extra-curricular funds to purchase a cooler for the cafeteria and gave belated permission to the Akron school to buy a dishwasher.

* Granted permission for the Indiana Heart Association to screen fourth graders with cardio-scanning equipment.

* Signed contracts with Peggy Guard as an Akron second grade teacher and Mary Jane Burkett as a Mentone third grade teacher. These positions were created when the controversial split classes were discontinued last month.

* Authorized extra-curricular assignments as follows: Beverly Jump girls' swimming coach, $538; Debra Hull, girls' golf, $269 (Harrell said six or seven girls are interested) and Math and Science Club sponsor, $183, and Dennis Gilbert assistant junior high football coach, $592.

* Changed Billie Gene Ennis' contract to give him credit for time in service.

* Created a girls' gymnastics program and appointed Victoria Gearhart, elementary physical education teacher, to head it for $480. Harrell noted 21 girls have shown interest in the program. Practice will begin in November, and meets will begin in January with about eight schools in easy driving distance having teams.

* Signed contracts for principals that included the same 7½ percent increases teachers received earlier.

In addition to Forbes and Harrell, the meeting was attended by school board members Vernon Meredith, Everett Besson, Don Snipes, Con Shewman and Fred Kindig and secretary Judy Hively in addition to a number of teachers and a handful of spectators.

The next regular meeting will be November 15.

Jean Sullivan is WCTU speaker

Sen. Jean Sullivan of Peru outlined her hopes and intentions of being a good Christian legislator, one able to follow her conscience in dealing with pending legislation, when she spoke at the Akron WCTU Institute Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sullivan also fielded questions from members at the conclusion of her speech, which came at the end of a three-part meeting.

The first session opened at 5:30 with devotions entitled "Our Beautiful Sunset Years" by Anina Clemans and pointers on pending legislation by Velma Bright, who warned members to be on the alert for another attempt to push through a pari-mutual bill and one that would allow 18-year-olds to purchase and use intoxicating beverages. The chairman, Beulah Pratt, gave pointers on ways members can contact legislators, the importance of writing each member of the committees assigned to the bills and the need to follow bills' progress in bulletins, newspapers, radio and television.

Members paused for a 6:30 carry-in supper with Margaret Slaybaugh and Nellie Slusser as hostesses. Autumn centerpieces highlighted the tables. Paul Bowen gave the table blessing.

The meeting re-opened with a solo by the Rev. John Moore, accompanied on the piano by his wife Ruth. Fern Bowen accompanied group singing.

Devotions were by Janice Stubblefield who was to be naturalized the next day. She discussed the rights and privileges that accompany being an American citizen.

Sen. Sullivan's remarks and benediction by Marie Bright concluded the meeting.

Merry Mollys relate pranks

Much excitement was created when the Merry Mollys Home Ec Club members answered roll call by telling about a Hall-oween prank of the past when they met recently at the home of Emma Lou Hiers. Fay Whetstone was co-hostess.

Doris Cooper told members how to secure their homes, especially during vacations. Gardening in October, given by Oretha Stiffler, consisted of bits of information on the care of the fall garden. Lawrence Bell was Mrs. Whetstone's subject for cultural arts.

Melva Smith, a member of two local 4-H clubs, gave a demonstration entitled "Super Berry," that stressed the importance of planning, planning and picking of strawberries. Melva will go to Pennsylvania soon to participate in a national demonstration contest.

Beth Holt, who gave the lesson on plastic money, told members that there are many ways of securing credit. Some are safe to take advantage of, but others need investigating.

Why don't we start caring?

To The TVSC Parents:

Why don't we start caring? I went to the school board meeting Monday night. Did you? Maybe someone else besides Dr. Harrell and Mr. Forbes should start caring (or asking) about the education of our children, because I really don't think these two give a hoot.

They are more interested in receiving their holy paycheck and duely and very cautiously bringing up each item on the agenda in order to get the school board to pass it without any questions! Everything has to go their way.

"We want yes men" should be their motto as these types of individuals are the only ones who seem to make it out there.

Dr. Harrell made up the school calendar and had it passed last year without days off for institute. Teachers were denied requests for going to institute because it is sponsored by the ISTA. Five teachers' requests were granted because their section was supposedly not sponsored by the ISTA. This is a union, Dr. Harrell said. He tried to pass it off on money, but written on their requests for attending was, "request denied as this is sponsored by the ISTA."

Dr. Harrell said that he thought the two teachers' "in-service" days before classes began were very valuable and the money allotted them was used on this. The teachers were not asking to be paid for Teachers Institute on October 28 and 29. They just wanted the two days off for the "institute" to enable the teachers who wanted to go to be able to go.

Anyway, don't you think the teachers would get more out of speakers from all parts of Indiana, giving their new ideas and views than they would from two "in service" days with only our system? These speakers are not speaking only on ISTA. The teachers would have to go to special meetings for that. They are speaking about new horizons in education.

I'm not in favor of unions either, but people like Forbes and Harrell are the ones who have made unions happen. Who are they to say that the teachers cannot attend, especially for this reason? Does Harrell really have the right to say, "I don't like it, so you can't go?" This is a free country, is it not? Shouldn't this be the teachers' choice?

If one teacher learned from this institute, a way to better educate our children, we'd praise her forever. She will influence many lives! ---"But, whatever LoLa (Forbes) wants, LoLa (Harrell) gets---." Why? Are they God? I cannot understand.

I would have joined a union (had there been one for me) when, after a year's work, I was denied vacation pay and holiday pay. If you make waves, you are either ignored or replaced. I learned that Dr. Harrell said at the school board meeting at which I was replaced, that my husband had turned in my resignation, verbally. This was not true. I did not turn in any resignation. I was upset and crying and called my husband when I was told that I could not have holiday and vacation pay and that I was considered part time. He came out to talk to me and we were going to go in to see Harrell and Forbes together. They were out to lunch together and did not return until after my classes had started. My husband went to see Dr. Harrell when he returned. He was told that it would do no good to go to the board, that's just the way things were.

Well, we did go to the board members. Before my husband left he told Dr. Harrell that if it were him, he'd be quitting, but if I was, I would hand in my written resignation by the end of the week.

I did not do this. I went to board members; they talked to Forbes about me. I was told to go through channels and by the time I got to Dr. Harrell's office he told me, "I assumed you were quitting, and I've committed the job to someone else and I don't know how I can get out of it." My husband had asked Dr. Harrell to go and talk to me and he said he had nothing to say to me.

Dr. Harrell told my husband that I was too sensitive. Maybe I am, but after averaging 45 hours a week for a year I didn't like to be called part time.

We all stand by and let the wool be pulled over our eyes. It could be that we are afraid of appearing ignorant or that we think that they must know what they are doing since they're supposed to be educated men...When I was told I couldn't receive holiday and vacation pay because I was considered part time, I told Dr. Harrell that my husband has 150 to 200 people working for him who are hourly and all receive holiday and vacation pay. He replied, "Well, that's a rarity." Maybe they forgot to write about that in his books!

No one wants to hear harsh words or severe criticism of the other guy so we tune it out. Well, maybe it's time we started yelling. "Give'em Hell Harry" is a popular phrase. Did Harry mince words? Did he say the right thing just to keep himself at the top of the public's popularity poll? Maybe we shouldn't either. What's the truth? I don't think you'll get it from Dr. Harrell.

We are in the middle of an educational bureaucracy that is insensitive to the needs of our children. Why not attend the school board meetings? After all, without us, the bureaucrats would have no jobs. It would be nice to be able to blame all of this on our school board, wouldn't it? Why didn't they do something? Before they are able to do anything, we have to speak up. They don't know what we want. We elect them to represent us and the community. They have to know what we want or how can they represent us? We have just sat back and let everything happen. After we're in too deep to do anything about it, everyone is going to say, "What's the matter with those guys on the board. Look what they got us into."

The school board meetings are open to the public. Each one of us can attend. Now is the time to speak up. The schools are ours! THE SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS ARE OUR EMPLOYEES! Sincerely, Diana J. Smith Box 190, R. 1 Mentone, IN 46539

60 YEARS AGO

Indiana Millers are asking the Hoosiers to buy only Indiana flour. And why not? Indiana's production is the best of any from papaws to apples—from tubers to bread and butter. Buy at home, and be counted as a good citizen.

There was quite a pretty event pulled off at the Frank Harman home last Sunday. He was 29 years old Monday, and his family planned and executed a neat party for him, as a birthday celebration. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Harman, his uncle and aunt Jacob Harman and others were invited and were present. It was a happy day for him and the whole family, and when the guests took their departure for home, they all wished Frank and his family many more just such happy events.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Tucker have moved into their new home built this summer by Simon Brown and his force of carpenters. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker's home is a very worthy one and for beauty is among the very attractive homes on Main street. Moses Landis has bought the old Tucker dwelling and is moving it to a lot in the north part of town, putting it in shape for a tenancy. This means more room for more people.

There are a good many Akron people burning leaves. This is a mistake if they have a garden spot. Put them on the garden, cover them up lightly with dirt to hold them there over the winter. They will make excellent nourishment for the soil when rotted.

The Misses Irene Clifton and Mildred Shesler spent Saturday and Sunday southwest of Disko, the guest of Mrs. Orvin Floor, nee Miss Vera Martin.

Several of the local lakes were stocked with fish during the past few days, according to an announcement by Harvey Arter, chairman of the Rock Lake Fish and Game club. More than 10,000 blue gills were placed in the lakes and were delivered here from the state, local and federal hatcheries.

The Sherman-White company has leased the John Arter basement and are now using this additional space for truck storage and for poultry. Mr. Arter has moved his blacksmith equipment to his garage at home and Mr. Hall has moved to Warsaw.

Ted Jontz is driving a 1938 Plymouth sedan. The Akron News came out late this week, due to a delay caused by the failure of some new equipment to arrive.

The carnival which is staged annually at Akron High School on Halloween will be sponsored this year by the senior class. They are arranging for many clever features, including a style show, beauty contest, food stands, etc.

Wayne Morris returned home Tuesday from a short vacation. He visited friends in Chicago, Louisville, and Indianapolis.

25 YEARS AGO

The Akron High School twirlers entered the State Twirling Contest sponsored by the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra and Vocal Association. The contest was held at Auburn. The following girls placed second and received medals: Charlene Dick, Christine Hartman, Shirley Wentzel and Laura Curtis. This year the girls also entered together as an ensemble and they received a first with the highest amount of points that is possible to receive.

The Henry Township Community Chest drive will begin Saturday with a Kick-Off breakfast for leaders and workers to be held at the Methodist Church. The drive will end on the last day of the month and the goal has been set at $3,500 this year. Although this is $500 more than was raised last year, it will be necessary to get this much money in order to carry on the needs of the Chest.

Among those who attended the Dairy Show at Indianapolis last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lamoine Kercher and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Klein and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bahney and children, and Marjorie Kercher.

Licenses for hunting deer in southern Indiana have been issued at the county clerk's office to 11 hunters, including Byron VanDoren, Fred Ogle, and Frienda Miller of Akron.

10 YEARS AGO

Tom Hauptert, chairman of the Henry Township Community Service drive, announced today that $1300 has been collected so far with three sections reporting. He urges everyone help the township reach its $4000 goal.

Members of the Las Donas Jr. Woman's Club enjoyed a Halloween masquerade party Monday at the home of Mrs. Larry Straley. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Randall Leininger, Mrs. Wayne Cumberland, Mrs. Robt. Cumberland, and Mrs. Loren Sheetz.

Larry Conrad - A Governor For A Change

Larry Conrad has plans for Highway 19.
Otis Bowen has none.

From the jammed intersection of SR 19 and Benton St. in Peru to beyond Napanee, a safety hazard exists. Despite the pleas and petitions of local citizens, the present governor's highway commission has no plans for repairs.

LARRY CONRAD will repair SR 19. The safety of the citizens of Miami, Fulton, Kosciusko and Elkhart counties who travel on Highway 19 will be the top priority of Conrad's highway program.

Counties Carry The Burden - The State Is Doing Nothing

Miami County has spent 60 percent of its revenue sharing funds on its highways. Local government is doing its job. The time has come for state government to do its job.

Under Larry Conrad, Highway 19 will be rebuilt

Vaughn, 15, and her sister, Pam, 16. Both sustained bruises and abrasions to the neck and back and were treated by their family doctor.

Police said the bus, driven by Irene O. Hoagland, Warsaw, was eastbound on Fulton Co. Rd. 300 No. when a vehicle driven by Robert H. Duzan, 44, R. 2, Rochester, struck it. Mrs. Hoagland told investigating officers she saw the Duzan vehicle was not going to yield and applied the brakes. The bus skidded 135 feet before being struck and then continued another 146 feet, coming to rest against a light pole.

Duzan, who was charged with failure to yield the right of way, told police he had stopped at the intersection but did not see the bus approaching before it was too late to avoid it. Damage to the Duzan vehicle was estimated at $1,500 and to the bus at $1,200.

Court reverses IEERB ruling in TVSC-teacher case

An October 18 ruling by Gene B. Lee, judge of Kosciusko circuit court, reverses a Sept. 11, 1976 order entered by the Indiana Education Employment Relations Board in connection with a teacher-Tipppecanoe Valley school board dispute regarding five tenure teachers who were not granted the same $500 across-the-board raises their counterparts were in August of 1974.

The suit was filed by the school board against IEERB; Franklin K. DeWald, chairman of IEERB, and Phyllis Gearhart, both individually and as president of the Tipppecanoe Valley Classroom Teachers Association.

Mrs. Gearhart is not now president of TVCTA, but she was serving in that office when she filed an unfair labor practice suit against the board on Aug. 14, 1974. A suit filed on Sept. 5, 1974 alleged the school board had violated Public Law 217 by granting a $500 raise to all teachers except some teachers who were Vaughn, 15, and her sister, Pam, 16. Both sustained bruises and abrasions to the neck and back and were treated by their family doctor.

Police said the bus, driven by Irene O. Hoagland, Warsaw, was eastbound on Fulton Co. Rd. 300 No. when a vehicle driven by Robert H. Duzan, 44, R. 2, Rochester, struck it. Mrs. Hoagland told investigating officers she saw the Duzan vehicle was not going to yield and applied the brakes. The bus skidded 135 feet before being struck and then continued another 146 feet, coming to rest against a light pole.

Duzan, who was charged with failure to yield the right of way, told police he had stopped at the intersection but did not see the bus approaching before it was too late to avoid it.

Damage to the Duzan vehicle was estimated at $1,500 and to the bus at $1,200.

ODDS and ENDS

By Ann Sheetz

Humor is intangible, elusive, often misunderstood and frequently so deadly serious it helps us view universal situations with greater clarity.

As a case in point, consider the following column written by Stuart Crump Jr. for the Princeton, N.J., Packet and judged best column, serious subject, in a recent National Newspaper Association contest:

"...I notice the Princeton Regional Board of Education is pursuing a 'staff retention policy' again this year in the hopes that all teachers who want to remain in the system will have jobs next year.

According to the superintendent's latest memo, four teachers are due to feel the ax because of declining student enrollments. The board could spare those teachers their jobs and also satisfy the critics who say 'Fire 'em and save the money.'

Here's my plan. About a month before D-day

('D' stands for 'decision,' 'dismissal' or 'debacle') the board would hold a secret conference with the four teachers and give them their instructions.

Teacher "A" would pose nude for a magazine centerfold.

Teacher "B" (a black teacher) would announce that he had joined the Black Panthers.

Teacher "C" would write a letter to the local newspaper severely criticizing the superintendent and school board for something trivial.

Teacher "D" would reveal that he or she has 'homosexual tendencies.'

At its next meeting the school board would announce the 'Even though we wanted to keep all of our fine teachers, we were forced--reluctantly--to let four of our best young teachers go.'

Different segments of the public, not knowing anything of the secret plan, would immediately rise up in defense of their favorite teachers, claiming that the firings were based on (A) prudity, (B) racial prejudice, (C) suppression of free speech, or (D) outmoded Victorian morality.

After three weeks of public picketing, nasty phone calls to board members' homes, high pressure editorials and investigations by local advocacy groups, the board would 'with great reluctance' rescind its earlier vote and rehire all four teachers.

The board would be praised for its 'open-mindedness' and 'flexibility.' The teachers would be praised for 'bringing a variety of viewpoints into the classroom.' And the public would feel it had fought 'the system' and won.

Taxes would go up again, but that's the price we all have to pay for liberty."

Dear Uncle Sam, Now It's Your Turn!

Editor's note: As further evidence that humor takes many forms (see Odds and Ends for a more serious example) the NEWS quotes Frank Farrar of the San Rafael, Calif., Independent Journal whose article "Dear Uncle Sam, Now It's Your Turn!" recently was named best column humorous subject in a National Newspaper Association contest:

"Simon Snow, a middle-aged, middle-income taxpayer, was sitting in his study, smoking cigarettes and gnashing his teeth as he filled out his 1974 federal income tax form.

'The heck with this,' he said. 'I'm sick of answering questions. It's about time the government started answering some questions.'

Snow set aside his tax forms, took out his typewriter, grabbed a few sheets of typing paper and wrote:

'Dear Uncle Sam: Here is your income tax justification sheet for 1974.

'If you have spent more than $10 of my money during 1974, please fill out the attached forms and send to me by April 15 (see attached).

'Form 1346--This form must be filled out if the government operated at a deficit during the past fiscal year. (Please round off to the nearest million.) If the deficit was greater than $25 million you must use form 1346-A and itemize deficits. (If the total of lines 14-15 and 16 is greater than the national debt, please explain.)

'Form 1347--You may claim taxes from me if: A. You constructed a new highway in my neighborhood (up to $100); B. You turned back enemy forces within 100 miles of my home (up to $500); C. You increased federal funding for schools in my neighborhood (up to $200); D. You protected me from the SLA ($2.50). E. You helped improve the crop in my vegetable garden ($15). Or F. Abandoned the Selective Service System (up to $500).

'(Note: if the cost of living rose during the year, subtract the percentage of increase from the above amounts.)

'You may not claim taxes from me to pay for: roads that lead to nowhere, household servants for generals, junkets for congressmen, studies on the effect of billboard posters on farm animals, or military invasions.

'You should calculate your tax justification claim from the tax table on page four and enter that amount on line 17, page six. If the dollar has been devaluated, you must reduce your claim by the percentage of the devaluation. (Enter that amount on line 18, page six, and subtract it from line 17).

'Instructions for schedule B--(form 1346): If you submit a claim for taxes to cover the expenses of the Watergate investigations, hearings and trials, you must subject a notarized statement listing the sentences given, times served and fines paid by defendants. (The above claim is nullified if I have been investigated by the FBI during the year.)

'Failure to file your tax justification forms by April 15 will result in a penalty of 5 to 24 percent.'

Snow sent off his letter to Uncle Sam and about a week later Internal Revenue Service agents arrived at his home and took away his typewriter."

Principals did NOT get raises

poration did NOT receive 7½ percent salary increases as was reported in last week's NEWS account of the school board meeting.

Superintendent Dr. Lloyd Harrell called the board's attention to the fact that teachers had preciously received 7½ percent increases but principals had not been given new contracts. "I think we should give them new contracts at the same salaries," he said, and the board voted unanimously to do so. Dr. Harrell's statement was erroneously interpreted by reporters to mean the principals had received the same increases earlier granted teachers when, in fact, the principals received new contracts but did not receive any raises.

The NEWS regrets any embarrassment caused the principals or anyone else by this misinterpretation.

Kewanna School

Dear editor, We have received statewide publicity in the past few years concerning the fight to keep our school in Kewanna. However, a lot of facts have not been presented to the public.

Our school has been thoroughly inspected three times in the past two years. Jan Regnier, head of the state inspection department, has admitted in sworn testimony that we met all deficiencies set forth at that time. The circuit court in Peru has issued an order stating we are a commissioned school and will be until further inspection. In spite of all this, we still have not been issued an official certificate of school commission from the state education department.

Harold Negley, state school superintendent and chairman of the state education commission, in a UPI story has labeled the people in our community as "fanatical" because we dared to stand up for our rights. He is ignoring the wishes of these people for they voted in a referendum last February by a 70% majority to increase our frozen tax levy in order to improve our school. Our only recourse has been through the courts.

We won our case in court and feel confident enough in the American way of justice to believe we can continue to win as long as we are in the right. However, we don't believe this costly time-consuming procedure should be necessary and that all this money and effort could be better spent in improving education.

We think we should be able to sit down with the proper officials, find out what deficiencies we have, if any, and then proceed to correct them. Just the opposite has been true. A year ago, we repeatedly requested assistance from the state department of public instruction. Not only did they refuse, but at a hearing in February, Mr. Regnier admitted their employees were under orders to deny us this assistance.

We keep hoping that sometime the state officials will start to work with us in a constructive way instead of this continual harassment. We are not too optimistic about this, however, judging from past performances. Therefore, we are geared to continue the fight as long as necessary.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Cook

Cherry Coffee Braid

Cherry Coffee Braid is the space-age woman's answer to coffee cake extravaganza. It offers ultra-modern convenience with baked-from-scratch flavor. Frozen bread dough and canned cherry pie filling are the secret.

Bread is the oldest recipe made by man or woman, yet it has not lost its importance in today's living. One of the basic four food groups, bread—either fresh or frozen—supplies a generous combination of the B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin; the minerals, iron and calcium; as well as protein.

Cherry Coffee Braid 2 braids

1 package (2 lb.) frozen, enriched bread dough
1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling

1 package (2½ oz.) slivered almonds, toasted (about ½ cup)
Oil
Streusel Topping

Thaw bread dough according to package directions. Place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85°) until doubled, 2 to 3 hours. Punch down. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Divide in half. Roll each half to a 15 x 13-inch rectangle. For each braid spread half of cherry pie filling in a 2-inch wide strip lengthwise down center of each rectangle. Sprinkle with almonds. Make cuts 2 inches apart on each side of dough just to edge of filling. Fold resulting strips of dough across filling, alternating from side to side and slanting strips downward to give braided appearance. Seal ends well. Brush with oil. Place on greased baking sheets. Sprinkle Streusel Topping over braids. Let rise in warm place until doubled, about 45 minutes. Bake in preheated 350° oven 30 to 40 minutes, or until done.

Streusel Topping:

2 tablespoons enriched flour 1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons sugar

Stir together flour and sugar. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs.

An American's Creed

"I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon. I seek opportunity to develop whatever talents God gave me—not security. I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dilled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed. I refuse to barter incentive for a dole. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence: the thrill of fulfillment to the stale cam of utopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any earthly master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say—'This, with God's help, I have done.' All this is what it means to be an American."

New books at Akron Carnegie Public Library

THE CROWN ESTATE by Evelyn Berckman. History repeats itself in the fate of two girls, Dorinda and the converted Jewess. The archivists search bring them closer and closer to the origin of their garden. But finally it is a king's dying wish that provides the elusive key to the mystery of "The Crown Estate."

THE THOUBLE THEY SEEN: BLACK PEOPLE TELL THE STORY OF RECONSTRUCTION edited by Dorothy Sterling.

DORIS DAY, HER OWN STORY by A. E. Hotchner. In this perceptive book, "the girl next door" turns out to be an inspiring woman of unique courage and strength.

SON RISE by Barry Neil Kaufman. This is the extraordinary journal of Barry and Suzi Kaufman's successful effort to reach their "unreachable" child. It is a sensitive portrayal of people who refused to be daunted, refused to stop loving, but facing the mountain, decided to move it.

TISHA, the story of a young teacher in the Alaska Wilderness as told to Robert Specht.

AT THE FOOT OF DRAGON HILL by Florence J. Murray, M.D. The story of a surgeon's two decades in Manchuria and Korea, and the challenges she faced as a woman doctor in a culture so primitive its women were not even considered worthy of having names.

ADVENTURES IN THE BLUE BEAST by Jeannie Morris.

This is the account of the Morris family's year in Europe. It is sometimes hair raising, sometimes touching- and always entertaining experiences.

It's French, It's Fancy—And So Good

Quiche Lorraine Imperial is sheer delight—at the fanciest of luncheons or a simple family supper. Swiss cheese and crisp bacon bits, corn, onion and green pepper rest on the flaky crust; a rich and creamy custard blankets all. For something so elegant it's surprisingly easy, thanks to packaged pie crust mix.

QUICHE LORRAINE IMPERIAL

Makes 8 servings

Crust:		4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
One-half 10-oz. pkg. (1 cup) Pie Crust Mix		1/2 cup canned or cooked frozen whole kernel corn, drained
2 tablespoons cold water		4 eggs
Filling:		1 1/2 cups half and half or light cream
1/4 lb. Swiss cheese, grated		1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion		Dash pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper		1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Heat oven to very hot (450°F.). For pie crust, measure pie crust mix into bowl. Sprinkle cold water over mix; stir lightly with fork until just dampened. Form into ball. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to form a circle 1 1/2 inches larger than inverted 9-inch pie plate. Fit loosely into pie plate. Fold edges under; flute.

Sprinkle cheese on bottom of unbaked pie crust. Sauté onion and green pepper in 1 tablespoon bacon drippings. Combine onion, green pepper, bacon and corn; sprinkle over cheese. Combine eggs, half and half, salt, pepper and nutmeg, beating until well blended. Pour into unbaked pie crust. Bake in preheated oven (450°F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) and bake 30 minutes or until silver knife inserted 1-inch from edge comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 221 had a Halloween party Monday, Oct. 25. Each girl made a mask for the party, which were judged by our leaders with prizes awarded to three winners from each grade. Fourth grade, Gale Brown first, Dawn Trippidi second, Lisa Kindig third; fifth grade Sherri Furnivall first, Lisa Duzenberg second, Juli Rhodes third; sixth grade, Anita Holloway first, Shelly McCloughan second, and Mari Stephen third. We all enjoyed playing games.

Refreshments were served from a beautiful decorated table with the Halloween theme.

The next meeting will be at the Akron park for a weiner roast and a special dedication ceremony for each girl scout. Reporter - Jana Smith

Valley defeats LaVille 49-0

In the wake of Tippecanoe Valley's 49-0 victory over LaVille Friday night, one area paper said the Valley's sensational rushing duo Derek Anglin and Dan Koldyke, should go into the demolition business with the experience they have in that field.

The two have smashed the defenses of seven opponents this season in leading Valley to a 7-2 record, and for the second week, Anglin scored five touchdowns and Koldyke two. Each tallied a two-point conversion for a combined total of 46 points. Jeff Shriver kicked three extra points.

Bill Guerin led the defense with 15 tackles with Ron Shewman getting 12.

Valley will end the season Friday by hosting North Miami.

The Mentone Extension Homemakers Club met at the home of Esther Sarber with Bertha Curless as co-hostess, instead of at the home of Mary Norris with Mary Borton as co-hostess as was reported in last week's paper.

Perry Club has breakfast

Fifteen members of the Perry Improvement Club and one guest, Alice Steininger, met recently at the Snack Shoppe in Akron for breakfast and then went to Mrs. Sam Merley's home for their October meeting.

Devotions were by Betty Keim.

Roll call response was "What I planned to do this fall."

Mrs. Merley gave the citizenship lesson with Pauline Miller answering Bicentennial questions distributed last month. The group also answered questions about Indiana history.

Ruth Bammerlin discussed cultural arts and reported having heard the Marine band in Wabash recently.

Evelyn Shafer gave a health and safety report in which she outlined several things homeowners can do to discourage break-ins.

Bea Fites and Ruth Bammerlin gave a lesson entitled "Cooking For One or Two."

Mrs. Bammerlin received the "lucky lady" gift.

The November meeting will be at Helen Miller's home.

Dr. Matheu joins 5-County Clinic

PSI warns of electrical hazards while winterizing homes

Getting your home ready for winter can increase the possibility of deaths or serious injuries from power line contacts, according to Jim Wilber, Public Service Indiana's local manager.

"Extreme care should always be taken when working near any power lines," he said.

He cautioned homeowners of several hazards relating to working near electric lines. "People should be careful when working near the point on their home where electric service connects," Wilber said. He also warned homeowners to avoid contacting electric lines when cleaning out gutters, replacing aluminum siding, working with TV masts or CB antennas or using metal ladders.

"The most important rule for home handymen to remember is to avoid any contact at all with any power line—even if they're insulated," he concluded.

'Runaway Pappy Program' shifts into high gear

Indiana's Child Support Program, a federal program tagged nationwide as the "Runaway Pappy Program," shifted into full gear October 1, according to Wayne A. Stanton, administrator of the State Department of Public Welfare.

Stanton said the program will provide additional income in the form of support payments to thousands of Indiana children, most of them members of low income and welfare-supported families.

The program is designed to obtain child support payments for Indiana children from absent parents who are legally liable and financially able to provide such support.

Participation in the new program is mandatory for Assistance to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) recipients who are eligible for such assistance because their children are deprived of parental support or care due to divorce, separation or because of desertion by one or both of the parents.

Enrollment in the program for all AFDC recipients has been completed. They became eligible for services under the program on Oct. 1.

Other persons not receiving public assistance also become eligible for participation on that date. Stanton announced that county welfare offices have accepted applications from several persons not receiving AFDC who have chosen to participate in the program. Upon payment of a $20 fee by cashier's check, certified check or money order made payable to the Indiana State Department of Public Welfare, and upon completion of an application form at the County Welfare Department in the county of residence, the applicant becomes eligible for Parent Locator Services and/or Child Support Enforcement Services. The fee can be waived in the event the applicant is indigent. In some instances, explained upon the application, the applicant may be required to pay additional charges.

The Parent Locator Service, which provides location data on the absent non-supporting parent, employs resources available through Indiana's Parent Locator Service and the Federal Parent Locator Service.

Mentone Baptists slate film

A dramatic film, "Like a Mighty Army," the down-to-earth true story of a man in tune with his times, will be shown at First Baptist Church in Mentone on October 31 at 7:30 p.m.

The social revolution among young people today is frightening in many of its aspects. Even the church is being seriously questioned as to its existence and activity. Instead of responding with bewilderment and fear, a handful of people in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., led by their dynamic young minister, the Rev. James Kennedy, committed themselves to the principle of providing life-changing answers for the people of their community.

In nine short years, the Coral Ridge Church has become one of the fastest growing congregations in the world, growing from 17 to more than 2,000 members and needing three Sunday morning services to handle the crowds.

This true story has been made into a film by Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon, Mich. In the starring role of Dr. Kennedy is Chris Robinson, best known for his role as an Air Force sergeant in the television series, "Twelve O'Clock High."

To help them compile a complete list of Fulton County authors and to also have the information for future publication in the Quarterly, the Fulton County Historical Society is asking the public to let us know of local authors. To qualify, the author must have published a book or pamphlet of at least 24 pages.

Included in previous volumes of "Indiana Authors" were these Fulton County authors: Margaret Holmes, Joaquin Miller, Thomas Aylesworth, Mina Frasa Hartz, Jean Tombaugh, Ruth Tracy Richardson, Floyd Gray, Marie Hand, Pauline Oldham, Ethel Barrett, Cecil Kuhn, Ruel Churchill, and John E. Troutman.

We are submitting these Fulton County authors for vol. 3 of "Indiana Authors": James A. Walters, Harold Van Trump, Henry A. Barnhart, Marguerite Miller, Anne Meeker, Arthur Meeker, Eugene DeWeese, Phyllis Onstott Arone, Harry Onstott, Shirley Willard, Mary Shafer, Flossie Enyart Bailey, Clarence Edwin Sprague, W. V. S. Norris, James Perry Johnston, Ina Brudnige, Herbert Riggle, Minnie Riggle, W. Dale Oldham, Doug Oldham, Kendall Hosman, James Shaffer, and James Alan Smith.

Does anyone know of any other authors who lived even a short while in Fulton County? Does anyone know where Anne Meeker and Arthur Meeker lived by Lake Manitou? Does anyone know anything about James Perry Johnston of Tiosa, who published "Twenty years a hus'ling" in 1888?

Thank you for your help. Call 223-4436 or write the museum at 7th and Pontiac, Rochester.

Landolts report trip to Haiti

By Rev. Fred J. Landolt
Pastor, Silver Creek Church of God

When the Mission Board contacted me to see if I would go as an evangelist and Bible hour leader to Haiti, I had mixed emotions. I wanted to go but felt inadequate to handle such a challenge, but knew God could supply. I wrote to Pastor Reser and asked what would be expected of me. He said they were only asking for one Church of God minister to be sent this year, as before two had gone in December each year. They were trying something different before the beginning of school by having meetings in September. So Sept. 19 through 26 was set for this and we made arrangements to go.

Also, at about this time God called us to be the pastor of the Silver Creek Church, so we were in the process of getting moved, meeting a new congregation, starting a building program here, and here Helen and I were packing for the trip to Haiti. The Silver Creek church paid our plane fare, and on Friday, Sept. 17, we were on our way to Ft. Wayne Airport, along with Lola Kantlehner, a member of the Mt. Carroll Church, who always had a desire to go to one of our Mission fields.

Have you ever been to Haiti? If not, and if you are planning on going sometime, prepare yourself (if possible) for the most unusual, fantastic, exciting experiences of a lifetime. As we arrived at the Port-au-Prince Airport at 3:30 in the afternoon, George, Jane, Stephanie, and Joan were there to meet us.

What excitement with the Haitian taxi-drivers and porters grabbing our luggage from us, and with arms full of medical supplies, etc. we had to almost pinch ourselves to make sure this was real.

You see, there are over five million people on this island. One of the most crowded places in the world. Needs, hunger, beggars, and much poverty everywhere. We packed our things in the Mission car and headed for Port-au-Prince Plaza Hotel where we were welcomed with many hands to grab our luggage. The weather was very hot, and perspiration soon poured from us, so the air-conditioned room in the hotel was a pleasant relief. We ate supper with Joan and family on the Mountain, and on Saturday headed for Borel and the compound. I could hardly believe the great improvement of the road which was almost like a freeway compared to what it was 8 years ago when I was there with a work team. We saw a lot of different religious faiths that were being practiced, and many mission points along the way to Borel. Most of the Haitians are very friendly and enjoy life, although they have very little in material wealth.

After arriving back in Miami, it was almost like coming from rags to riches, for you see both sides in Haiti, the rich and the poor, with 90% being the latter. Transportation there is exciting. We noticed more cars on the road and in Port-au-Prince they still drive mostly with their horns rather than brakes, and mostly on the wrong side of the road. The Cameo's haul large loads of people with their diesel motors, darting through multitudes of people and poverty. Yet in spite of all this Haiti is a very beautiful island.

We arrived at the Mission compound around 5:30 and supper was served to us by Mary Hershey and Lois Habecker. We had a wonderful time of fellowship in the Missionary's homes, eating and talking about different things.

Well, before we hardly realized it, the week was almost over, with the coming of Sunday morning. Bells ringing, Haitians talking and many unusual sounds. Sunday School and Church lasted for over 3 hours, and I was beginning to find out that God did want us there. Over 100 delegates from our Mission Churches came in to stay at the compound for Bible Study and services all week.

The crowds were very good in each service, and Pastor Joseph and Pastor Chaplet did a marvelous job in translating what I was trying to say. Pastor Dusset, an O.M.S. pastor had also been invited to take part in the services. Pastor Dussett was a native of Haiti and has an orphanage in St. Mark. Many responded to each invitation and the people walked away, down many dark roads, each evening to return again the next evening for services.

On Monday and Tuesday it was extremely hot but on Wednesday evening it rained. Usually when it rains, or looks like it is going to, services are dismissed, but not this week. Announcement was made that there would be services each evening, rain or shine, and there were.

On Saturday evening we observed the ordinances of the Church. Some of the mountain people had never seen or taken part in these services, and what a service it was as they gathered in Church and had devotional period then walked in single file across the road to the old Church where we sat in a circle and sang and shared God's blessing together. Many hearts rejoiced in seeing God's people in complete harmony in hugging necks and greeting with a holy kiss. The service of Holy Communion followed with only Christians or Church members taking part. The two Haitian pastors stood by the table and blessed the elements and each one marched to the front where we broke bread and took the cup (grape pop) together, representing the blood of Christ for the remission of sin.

The last Sunday was something else. All Churches dismissed to attend the Borel Church. They came early, in fact, some walked 15 to 20 miles and started as early as 3 a.m. to get there on time. As they arrived they were seated in their groups. The Borel people on one side, because only the visitors were to be fed that day. Would you believe that over 650 people crowded into that service? There was much special singing, with the Borel Church Choir singing "The Hallelujah Chorus". My, what voices!! Pastor Landolt brought the message and the altar was lined with people seeking God's will for their lives.

Following the morning service, dinner was served to over 400, including the Mission staff, and we visitors who ate with them. Mary gave us our tin pan and we shared rice and beans together. Too soon it was time for our departure. We told Mary and Lois, even the goodbye kisses were worth the trip. We shall always remember the good times we shared and the experiences we had while witnessing the many needs in Haiti.

The work looks encouraging.

aging for the new Health Center at Pierre Peyon and shipments are being purchased to send down. Moses said "Who am I, that I should go". That is the way I felt, but I am glad I went and God is blessing our Church because of it.

"Say not ye there are yet four months and then cometh harvest, behold I say unto you, lift up your eyes and look on the fields, for they are white already to harvest."

If I can be of help with slides or program with either Haiti or Mentmore Navajo Mission work, we will try to make ourselves available.

Local church aids deaf couple

Members of the Mentone Church of Christ and other area congregations are aiding a deaf couple in their preparation for the ministry.

Jeff and Barbara Sponseller, both deaf, are members of the Warsaw Church of Christ where Jeff has served as deacon the past three or four years.

Jeff has desired to preach and teach the gospel to the deaf and when he decided to go to school at Chattanooga, Tenn., to better prepare himself for the ministry, the Warsaw church told him its members would take the responsibility of his support. The Mentone church and others in the area have joined in this mission and have been pleased that Jeff is making excellent grades.

UNICEF

Dear Editor:

As I note each year, youngsters in Akron collect funds for UNICEF. I am enclosing an article that appeared in Human Events, June 7, 1975. Would appreciate it if you might print this in your paper for the benefit of those who do give to this cause.

- Thank you, Lester Eber Marion, Indiana

How UNICEF Helped Bankroll Communist Vietnam Takeover

"Last fall, when you gave the kids trick-or-treat money for UNICEF or ordered UNICEF Christmas cards, did it occur that you, and behind you, the U.S. government, were bankrolling the Communist takeover of South Vietnam?

"Well, you were.

"In programs purportedly established to help children in Indochina, the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund gave just short of two-thirds of its collections to North Vietnamese or to the 'Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam,' sometimes confused with the Vietcong.

"The exact numbers, conceded by a UNICEF spokesman, run as follows: UNICEF collected and disbursed a total of $13,649,433 for its Indochina children's programs. While smidges of this came from abroad, the overwhelming amount came out of the pockets of U.S. taxpayers.

"Of this eight-figure sum, $8,975,587 went to Communist recipients: $6,313,130 directly to Hanoi and $1,975,587 more via Haiphong and Hanoi, of course to the Vietcong or PRG, as they are now styling themselves in 'Ho Chi Minh City.'

"While Communists were thus getting 61 per cent of UNICEF's largess, our ally, South Vietnam, got only $5,360,707, or 39 per cent.

"Unlike the South, where UNICEF and other

United Nations benefactions could be monitored, gifts to the Communists who, of course, would permit no observers, went unsupervised as to distribution. In the explanation of its spokesman, 'UNICEF has no way to make sure the supplies to the Communists got to children. They were dropped off at the airports and docks, and we assume they were used as we intended.'

"Beggings the above rather large questions as to Communist reliability and disinterested solicitude toward the helpless-which UNICEF appears to have bought at 100 percent with no discount-it is also interesting to see the kinds of supplies and equipment UNICEF felt were needed by the kids in Vietnam.

"Deliveries to Haiphong, by Third World or Communist shipping, consisted primarily of trucks, bulldozers, heavy engineer construction equipment, and construction tools and materials-all word of honor, earmarked solely to rebuild schools, which, with hospitals, as is well known, constituted the main targets of the U.S. Air Force.

"The Vietcong representing more of a field force, mainly got food, clothing, and lots of hospital supplies and hard-to-get drugs and medicines. Only for VC children, naturally, not battle casualties.

"By contrast with their Communist opponents, whom UNICEF joined Russia in supplying precisely the materials most needed for support of continued war-making, the good people of the U.N. saw to it that South Vietnam got only the softest possible goods, food and medicines.

"In another statistical anomaly, while the Vietcong have not since 1968 been credited with more than 15 per cent, if that, of the population of South Vietnam, UNICEF gave the PRG 36 per cent of what it gave Saigon.

"Besides the above direct contributions, which came from specific donors, the Communist cause received an invisible incentive from the whole body of U.S. taxpayers, because UNICEF contributions are tax deductible.

"Depending on how well-off they were, those who gave to UNICEF received anywhere from 14 to 70 percent back in tax exemptions for charitable contributions.

"In other words, John Taxpayer, you unwittingly authorized Uncle Sam to pay out over $3 million in incentive money to induce certain of your fellow citizens (also, to be fair, unwittingly) to put up well over $8 million to give aid and comfort to enemies of the United States in a shooting war.

"Assuming that the UNICEF flame burns more brightly in elitist bosoms of well-heeled suburbia, it would be a fair assumption that the median tax bracket for contributors fell close to the 36 per cent level. If so, the Communist cause received an invisible incentive from the whole body of U.S. taxpayers because UNICEF contributions are tax deductible.

"A trick, you might say, on the American public; a treat for Ho Chi Minh."

And you have it rough

The following set of rules, unbelievable as they sound to us today, actually existed in offices back in the 1870's. We thought you might enjoy reading them just for comparison's sake.

1. Office employees will daily sweep the floors, dust the furniture, shelves, and show-cases.
2. Each day fill lamps, clean chimneys, and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
3. Each clerk will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
4. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste.
5. This office will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. daily, except on the Sabbath, on which day it will remain closed. Each employee is expected to spend the Sabbath by attending Church and contributing liberally to the cause of the Lord.
6. Men employees will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to Church.

8. Every employee should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years, so that he will not become a burden upon the charity of his betters.

9. Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at a barber shop, or frequents pool and public halls, will give me good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

10. The employee who has performed his labors faithfully and without fault for a period of five years in my service, and who has been thrifty and attentive to his religious duties, and is looked upon by his fellowmen as a substantial and law abiding citizen, will be given an increase of five cents per day in his pay, providing a just return in profits from the business permits it.

AKRON/MENTONE NEWS

NEVIS, MINN., INDEPENDENT: "If we may repeat ourself, the country cannot reasonably hope to curtail inflation and get back to normalcy unless and until we all hold the line on wages and prices. But this has to hinge on leadership by-example: by organized labor, by industry. For either faction to consider itself an exception is to aggravate, and there is nothing stable about aggravation."

CARSON CITY, MICH., GAZETTE: "Everybody hates inflation, but loves the things it brings. Working people hate inflation but persuade politicians to vote for a higher minimum wage bill. Housewives want a price rollback for meat, but they don't want the empty meat containers that would result. Taxpayers hate high taxes, but love the government benefits these taxes support. Perhaps it's time we all realize that there is no such thing as free, and that Federal funds really should be labeled People's money. That might do more for the economy than all the freezes and thaws in government."

FLAT RIVER, MO., LEAD BELT NEWS: "Our nation is a mess, there is no mistake. Troubled waters continue to rise, and soon we will know if our beloved nation will sink or swim. For my money, I say She'll stay afloat. America has battled a lot worse winds and higher waters before. Her strength has endured over the years. She will not go under!"

"We believe energy conservation begins at home," says Station Maintenance Mechanic Charlie Buker.

Maintenance Mechanic Charles C. Buker, Coryuga

Steam leaks and malfunctioning equipment at an electric power station waste energy and cost money. So an energy conservation program at all Public Service Indiana power plants is waging war on waste. But energy conservation is everyone's business. You can help in the fight against energy waste at home and on the job. No one benefits when unneeded lights and unwatched TV sets are left on or when poor insulation and uncaulked doors and windows let heat escape. Use energy wisely to help your country. You help yourself in the bargain.

FFA sets community butchering

Members of Tippecanoe Valley High Schools' Future Farmers of America chapter plan to butcher six hogs Saturday, Nov. 13, on the parking lot immediately behind Day Hardware in Akron.

The chapter last year butchered several hogs at Mentone, a day that brought back a lot of memories for those who watched or participated. The event was so successful that this year the boys decided to butcher twice, once in the fall at Akron and again in the spring in Mentone.

Three hogs have already been slated to become sausage and pork chops on Nov. 13, but three more are needed, according to Mike VanCleave, chapter reporter.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting VanCleave at 352-2534 after 4 p.m.

Court reverses IEERB ruling in TVSC-teacher case

members of TVCTA. The two complaints were later consolidated into one that charged the board had "by granting unilateral pay increases to school employees denied that raise to certain members of the Association in an attempt to discriminate against said Association and the members thereof and to discourage membership."

Since Mrs. Gearhart received a raise and is not an aggrieved party individually or as TVCTA president, she is not an aggrieved party, according to Judge Lee. The court concluded the action of IEERB in holding that the school board violated PL 217 is unsupported by substantial evidence, is arbitrary, capricious and contrary to law because:

* The uncontradicted evidence before the hearing examiner and IEERB is that none of the board members or members of the administration knew whether or not the persons who did not receive a $500 raise were or were not TVCTA members.

* Mrs. Gearhart did not know whether or not three of the teachers who did not receive raises were or were not members of TVCTA.

Alan Blue

St. Joseph Hospital, Kokomo.

Wert, who sustained head and internal injuries, is listed in critical condition at Memorial Hospital where he was transferred from Woodlawn. A passenger in the Wert car, Denise Whitman, 19, R.L. Idaville, sustained a broken right leg and was transferred from Woodlawn to White Memorial Hospital.

Cripe was uninjured. Damages were estimated at $50 to Cripe's truck, $1200 to Lewis' 1970 Chevrolet and $2500 to Wert's 1974 Pontiac.

The Fulton Co. Sheriff's office and the county coroner assisted Trooper Jerry Jolly with the investigation.

Alan Eugene Blue was born Nov. 15, 1957 in Rochester, the son of Merl and Thelma Moyer Blue.

A lifetime resident of Mentone, he was employed at Mollenhour Lumber and Manufacturing Co.

Surviving are his parents, Merl Blue, Warsaw, and Thelma Blue, Mentone; a sister, Cheryl, 10; paternal grandmother, Bessie Bowser, Mentone, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moyer, Silver Lake.

Services will be Friday at the King Memorial Home, Mentone, with the Rev. E. Robert Heckman officiating. Burial will be in the Mentone cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. today.

* The school corporation did not deduct dues on behalf of TVCTA and therefore had no way to know who were members.

* Only one of the five was active in TVCTA and his activity in the Association did not become common knowledge until after the school board's decision.

* The IEERB in reviewing the decision of the school board failed to give the board due deference but decided all conflicts against the board and even where no conflicts existed, decided against the board, all of which is contrary to law since the school board's decision was within the special expertise judgment of the board.

The court further ruled that IEERB's action in holding that the school board violated PL 217 by not granting raises to five tenure teachers is unsupported by substantial evidence, is arbitrary, capricious and contrary to law because:

* Evidence exists to support the action of the board since the five tenure teachers not receiving raises were among the lowest rated tenure teachers in the corporation and had been for the past three years.

* The evaluation system or rating system used by the school corporation had been in existence for three or more years and the procedure relating to the rating and evaluation of teachers was the same as had been used for at least three years.

* Three of four teachers placed on tenure beginning with the 1974-75 school year were TVCTA members. A number of new teachers hired for the 1974-75 school year were known to be members of the Indiana State Teachers Association of which TVCTA is an affiliate. Many of the teachers active in TVCTA were rated very high.

* The election to determine the exclusive representative in the school corporation occurred in May 1974, three months before the board action relating to raises.

* The hearing examiner and IEERB found the school corporation, in making certain comments or remarks, had violated sections of PL 217 based on remarks by then Superintendent Robert Forbes in the spring of 1973 prior to the effective date of PL 217, remarks by Forbes in April of 1974, a memorandum sent to all teachers approximately two days prior to the election in response to an inaccurate memo sent to teachers by TVCTA and comments to Forbes to a TVCTA spokesman, Duane Smith, three or four months after the election.

* None of the comments of the corporation or its agents on which the hearing examiner and IEERB reply as indicating a violation of PL 217 contained any threats of reprisal or promises of benefit.

Judge Lee found IEERB actions arbitrary, capricious and contrary to law on four counts:

1. Mrs. Gearhart is not an aggrieved party.

2. Mrs. Gearhart is not the real party in interest and may not bring or pursue this cause of action for the benefit or detriment of the real parties in interest, i.e., the five teachers who did not receive raises.

3. No member of the school board or administration knew whether or not the teachers who did not receive $500 raises were members of TVCTA and evidence presented by the school corporation supported reasons given by the board for denial of the raise to such teachers.

4. Comments made by school corporation are protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and were made prior to the effective date of PL 217 and cannot be the basis of an unfair labor practice under PL 217.

Each party was ordered to bear its own cost.
