Committee needs help

The Burket Festival Committee needs your help. Put on your thinking cap, and help come up with a theme for the Burket Day Festival.

A prize of $10.00 will be awarded to the winning entry. The date of the festival has been set for Saturday, August 20, 1988. The theme must be based on the era of the 50's and 60's. The committee is also looking for suggestions for games and events.

Send your theme ideas and suggestions to Burket Day Committee, P.O. Box 31, Burket, IN 46508.

Deadline is Monday, October 26, 1987.

The committee recently met and elected officers for the 1988 year. They are as follows: Ken Stephens, chairman; Audrey Griffiths, in charge of flea markets; and Cheryl Stone, treasurer.

The next meeting will be October 27, at 7:00 p.m. Interested persons are urged to attend.

Marching on to the regionals

The band keeps marching, the corp keeps performing, and they both keep bringing home the rewards.

The Tippecanoe Valley Marching Guard has advanced to the ISSMA Regional competition by receiving a number one rating at the District ISSMA competition held last Saturday at Concord High School, Elkhart. The Valley band received awards for the best auxiliary, best music, best marching, and best general effects in the Class C competition.

The regional competition will be held Saturday, October 18, at Elkhart. Continued To Page 20

Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation is presently working to develop an effective drug education program for all students in grades K-12. In 1986 the United States Congress passed the Drug Free School and Communities Act which made money available to the states. A committee consisting of parents, administrators, and teachers in the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation will be applying to the Indiana Department of Education for this grant.

The committee members will develop and help implement a program that encompasses both drug prevention and intervention. Areas of prevention will include those that develop self-concept, drug awareness, alternatives to drugs, and ways to achieve a drug free environment. Intervention areas would include the development of a drug policy for our corporation and improvement of the school's relationship with agencies in our area who offer counseling for drug problems. Working more closely with area agencies will help in the referral process and also help with the students' reentry into the school community after treatment. Parent involvement and commitment and helping students deal with peer pressure are two methods that would be in both the prevention and intervention programs.

Committee members are examining other Drug Education Programs throughout the area. They are also reviewing curriculum and existing programs currently being used in Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation. Areas of inservice for both parents and teachers, a parent communication network, and other program alternatives are also being considered.

Heading this committee is Brett Boggs, Assistant Principal at Akron School. Other committee members include Victoria Brock, Sandy Carmichael, Oliver England, John and Debbie Gray, Lora Harp, Judy Hively, Pat Hoover, Jane Hunn, Royce and Cathy Lenfesty, Marjorie Sanders and John Waymire. If you would like to become involved with drug education in our community or have any input, please contact a committee member.

Trick-or-treat times set

October 31 has been set as Trick-or-Treat night in Akron as well as Mentone. Children may collect their goodies between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. on that evening.

We need your help..

For the past 10 years the Akron Ambulance Service has been available to serve the people of the Akron community. Now we need the community to help us.

Over the past few months the ambulance service has lost several valuable people, due to numerous reasons. Now the service is in a precarious position of barely having enough people to run day and night crews.

To insure the proper operation of the ambulance service the unit needs volunteers, EMTs, and drivers are needed. There are just enough people to keep the service in operation.

Our concern is if the unit was no longer in Akron the community would face a longer response time after calling for an ambulance. As a local unit our response time is on an average of 5 to 7 minutes. Whereas, if a unit from Rochester were dispatched, the response time would be at least doubled. In those extra minutes many things can happen which could mean life or death to a patient.

So, in closing, your help is needed. No letter can stress the great urgency of this situation. It is up to the people in the community to insure the continuation of the ambulance service.

If you are interested and want more information please call: John Weida, 893-7091; Jim Saner, 893-7270; or Debbie Clark, 893-7048.

Akron Middle School receives fitness award

"Where are the fittest students of all?" At Akron Middle School in Akron, that's where! The school has won the 1987 State Champion Physical Fitness Award, presented annually by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports (PCPFS) and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD.)

The State Champion Award is presented to the school in each of three different enrollment categories in each state that qualifies the highest percentage of eligible students, ages 10-17, for the Presidential Physical Fitness Award. Enrollment categories are: A - 1-100 students; B - 101-500 students; and C-500 or more students.

State Champion Awards are based on school performance for the 1986-87 school year. To qualify for the Presidential Award students must score at or above the 85th percentile on all test items of a national fitness test, either the AAHPERD Youth Fitness Test or the newly revised "President's Challenge," which measure heart, lung, endurance, muscle strength and agility.

Each State Champion school receives an official certificate of recognition and Presidential Award winners in the school receive a State Champion emblem.

Only in Indiana

Only in Indiana! Last week Vanessa Hammond brought lilacs into the NEWS office which was found in Sharon Alger's yard. Vanessa's grandmother, Patty Schultz, remarked that in all of her 58 years she had never seen lilacs bloom in October. And as normal Indiana weather goes, the first flakes of snow fell last week also. (NEWS Photo)

Sharing the Family Car (National Car Care Month)

While recently looking at new cars it suddenly struck me by surprise how a person could take a neat, attractive automobile and allow it to become cluttered by rubble and debris.

Although the car I drive most of the time is far from spotless, it ranks highest among our autos in neatness. True, when time permits, I should dust the inside and sweep it thoroughly but I don't need a trash bag to hold the junk, either!

For some unknown reason, my husband finds it difficult to return coffee cups to the kitchen each evening after work. He, each morning, leaves with a cup of coffee in hand and each evening returns empty-handed. Eventually when no cups can be found in the house I journey into the garage to collect them from the car he drives to work. As I open the door, numerous empty cigarette packages decorate the seats as well as fishing lures which haven't been used all summer and empty sacks and tags. What is worse are the windows. Not being a smoker myself, it seems more noticeable when the windows are blue from smoke.

As our son, Chris, reached the driving age he also drove my husband's car. He also complained of the coffee cups. I finally figured out the reason he wanted the cups removed to make room for the pop cans and styrofoam cups HE leaves behind! Ironic as it may seem, a plastic trash holder hangs empty on the vent knob. Empty tape cases, picture folders and old mail surround the seats as well as speakers sliding from under the front seat, sledge hammers and saws!

As annoying as these things may be, the most aggravating part of driving the other car is a seat that is always too far away from the pedals. My legs are hardly the length of a 6'2" young man and my arms, needless to say, won't reach from a seat laying nearly half way down! As I plop onto the seat, I automatically assume a position that makes me feel as if I'm laying down! The next step, of course, is to adjust the mirrors and change the seat belt - every time! Last, but not least, is to turn the radio volume down. We are lucky we aren't deaf after forgetting this minor detail a few times!

Doug and Chris have nothing to complain about when driving my car. The ashtray has a comb in one side and a pencil in the other. The seat has only a small kleenex box on it and not a coffee cup in sight! The back seat has only one ping pong paddle in case of a disagreeable child and a can of fishing line lubricant. (Doesn't every car have one?) The seat is in the upright position, I have no desire to drive laying down, and the radio station has been carefully set for songs from the 60's.

Rest assured, the only way this person will search the other family car is to have a tetanus shot first!

OCTOBER

Nippy, frosty bracing air,
There is nothing to compare
To October's bright blue weather.
Trees in colors red and gold,
Gives us beauty that's untold,
In October.

There's a flock of geese southward bound,
Their honking is a delightful sound
In October.

There comes the Halloween witches,
Goblins with pranks to put us in stitches
In October.

As editor of the Akron-Mentone NEWS I have spent the past eighteen months trying to improve and upgrade your hometown newspaper. Joining me in this endeavor has been Bonnie Bickel who works with me in the Akron office and Don Towle, the publisher of the paper.

We realize the Akron-Mentone NEWS cannot be a "hot news" reporting paper. What we do try and provide is a weekly repertoire of the good happenings in this rural area. No one is as interested in what is happening in these rural communities than you are - the citizens. Our news may not seem important to some - but to this community, the NEWS serves as a lifeline to neighbors and friends.

To our advertisers, who have so generously supported the NEWS, we say thank you. Without you, there could not be a hometown paper.

As newspapers across this great nation celebrate National Newspaper Week, October 4-10, 1987, we take this opportunity to say thank you to each and everyone of you - the readers and advertisers. We are providing you with this sample issue of the Akron-Mentone NEWS for your enjoyment.

Good reading to everyone.

Mary Fisher, Editor

Your Newspaper: People Serving People

National Newspaper Week each year offers us an opportunity to recognize the unique and significant role newspapers play in helping to foster and preserve the rights and liberties of free citizens in our free society.

It is particularly fitting this year—the 200th anniversary of our Constitution—to reflect on the wisdom of our nation's founding fathers in recognizing the responsibility of a free independent and unrestrained press to provide information that gives free citizens the means to make informed and responsible decisions.

In the words of James Madison, "Nothing could be more irrational than to give the people power, and to withhold from them information."

In the United States each day more than 400,000 newspaper men and women go about their jobs writing, editing, printing and distributing news and information to their fellow citizens: their neighbors, friends, relatives, countrymen.

Simply defined, and I believe in keeping with the spirit of our Constitution, newspapers are basically people serving people; providing not only news and information with which to evaluate significant, local, national and international events, but also facts, opinions, advertisements, schedules, advice and other information to help people plan and conduct their daily lives, to lead better lives, safely and successfully.

Newspaper people, keenly aware of the high degree of responsibility they bear as guardians of the peoples' right to freedom of the press, strive hard to fulfill that responsibility.

And we must continue to give our very best to improve our performance, to produce the best newspaper within our capabilities to provide the information and analysis our readers want and need to make responsible, intelligent and effective decisions.

We who are privileged to work in the newspaper business accept our responsibilities and daily challenges and will continue to strive to improve our performance by upgrading the professional competence of our people: our reporters, editors, managers, production sales and distribution people—and by utilizing the latest technological advances in collecting, storing, printing and distributing accurate and timely information to our readers as efficiently as possible.

"Live Today"

Let today be precious. Yesterday is gone, tomorrow is known only to God.

Never be too busy for a smile, a kind word, a gentle touch. Give of yourself and in so doing, you shall renew yourself.

Live today so that somewhere, sometime, someone will remember your acts and will keep the circle of kindness revolving and growing wider.

Cherish yourself today. Take time for yourself and in so doing you shall renew yourself. Inward kindness will proclaim its worth in your smile and will be reflected in others.

Be strong today. Strength comes one step at a time; take that step and in so doing, you shall renew yourself. Your seeds of strength will spread for and others will be stronger. Live Today!

Economical Operation. The ability of today's high efficiency heat pumps to bring heat into your home for heating and removing heat for cooling is unrivaled by any other heating and cooling method. This translates into substantial year-round savings to you.

Year-round comfort. During the winter months, today's high efficiency heat pump will warm you with a constant flow of 90°-95° air. And during the summer, the system produces cool air for whole house comfort.

Hiring the handicapped

Many employers have discovered that hiring vocationally rehabilitated handicapped people is good business. What was once thought of as compassion, or even charity, is now being seen as a good hard-headed management decision.

This week, October 4 through October 10, is designated as "National Employ the Handicapped Week." Kris Chafin, counselor at the area's vocational rehabilitation office, notes that there are several good reasons for the employers change in attitude.

Vocational Rehabilitation job applicants are ready for work. Unlike regular job applications, vocationally rehabilitated handicapped applicants have been pre-screened to fit employer needs. Vocational Rehabilitation counselors find out what employers want and need, and then use the screening process to find clients who meet those particular job requirements.

One step in the process is vocational evaluation, in which clients' work history and behaviors, education, previous training, interests, aptitudes, and abilities are all clearly identified.

Vocationally rehabilitated handicapped applicants are well aware of the problems of unemployment. They are not only able to work, they are willing to put forth extra effort to ensure continuing employment. Studies indicate that rehabilitated employees have established better than average records for attendance, job performance and safety.

Rehabilitated employees can save money. Because job applicants from Vocational Rehabilitation are pre-screened to match employee skills to employer needs, hiring time and expense, training time, and turnover can all be reduced. Low absenteeism and high safety records reduce the costs of compensation and lost work time. On the job training is frequently available. Also, follow up counseling helps reduce costly work related problems.

For more information, contact Kris Chafin, the counselor for Wabash County.

Winter crop covers

Because of the early harvest this year fall-seeded winter cover crops may be especially attractive. There are several advantages of seeding a rye or wheat crop following soybean and corn harvest.

Perhaps the greatest advantage is for those farmers who are row-cropping the land is highly susceptible to water and wind erosion. These highly susceptible areas mostly occur on soils of 4 percent and greater which are subject to serious water erosion and on the sandy slopes subject to serious wind erosion. Rye or wheat cover will do an excellent job of controlling winter and early spring erosion (both water and wind). And if a conservation tillage system is used to seed corn and beans next spring, the erosion control effectiveness will continue well into next summer.

Soil tilth is also improved by the use of cover crops, regardless of the tillage system used. This is especially important on soils having less than 2½ percent organic matter in the plow layer. A growing crop of rye or wheat also recycles nitrogen and keeps it in the upper part of the soil profile so that it can be used by next year's corn crop and not leach into the ground water. Winter cover crops have been found to suppress weed growth in spring-seeded crops. This weed-suppression effect is particularly evident when crops are no-tilled into winter cover crops.

Cover crops can have a positive or negative effect on crop yield. In drier than normal springs cover crops may reduce soil moisture and adversely affect crop yields while in wet springs this moisture removal can be an advantage. On well drained soils that tend to be droughty, additional surface residue from herbicide-killed cover crops can reduce moisture evaporation in no-tilled corn or beans and increase yields in some years. There are, additional expenses associated with a winter cover such as the seed, and the seeding operation. However, if you are farming land highly subject to erosion, the benefits will more than offset the costs in most instances.

Cover crops need to be seeded within the next 2-3 weeks to allow them to get established before winter sets in. Broadcasting about 2 bushels of rye or seed wheat per acre followed by a light disking or drilling the seed should prove successful. Establishing a winter cover crop following soybeans is the easiest to accomplish and is also the condition most needing cover crops for soil protection.

Area farmers on committee

A Marshall county couple has been chosen to serve on the Indiana Farm Bureau Young Farmer state committee for a two-year term and will take office in December. They are Jeff and Dana Verhaeghe, 11809 18th Road, Argos.

The Young Farmer committee plans special activities for farmers in the 20 to 30 year age group. Included are an award contest based on farming achievement and leadership activities, a discussion meet to help solve farm problems, and a conference for self-improvement. They also share ideas with young farmers and ranchers throughout the country through activities with the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Verhaeghes will represent Fulton, Lake, LaPorte, Marshall, Porter, Pulaski, Starke and St. Joseph counties.

Verhaeghe, 21, farms with a father-in-law in a hog operation and has his own field crop enterprises consisting of 850 acres of corn, soybeans, and hay. The hog project is a farrow 80 sow operation. They also have 50 sheep.

Jeff is active in the Marshall County Pork Producers Association as well as sheep breeders groups and Indiana Young Farmers Association. He was declared an FFA star farmer. Dana is also active with the commodity groups as well as extension homemakers and Indiana Young Farmers Association.

Report Card Blues

Twas the day of report cards and in every class
Not a creature was stirring;
Not even a lass
Pulled out her compact
To powder her nose,
But things sure weren't
In a state of repose.
Worried I scootched
Way down in my seat
I was all a tingle
From my head to my feet,
"Here Robert, Here Mary"
I heard the teacher call.
I was so scared
That I thought I would bawl
If I had just gotten
My lesson each night
I wouldn't have had
This terrible fright.

Smoke detectors can reduce heater fires

Government safety experts warn that half the deaths and one-third of the injuries resulting from portable electric heater fires occur when people use heaters overnight and the family is sleeping. If heaters must be used at night, a properly installed and maintained smoke detector in the same room may provide early warning of danger if a fire should occur.

It has been reported that estimates for 1985 indicate that fire departments responded to 3,700 residential fires involving portable electric heaters. These fires resulted in 160 deaths, 260 injuries and $50.6 million in property loss.

The following precautions are suggested for safe portable heater use:

Use heaters at least three feet away from objects such as bedding, furniture and drapes. Never use heaters to dry clothes or shoes. Do not place heaters where towels or other objects could fall on the heater and start a fire.

Use heaters on the floor. Never place heaters on furniture, since they may fall, dislodge or breaking parts in the heater.

Do not use heaters in wet or moist places such as bathrooms, as parts in the heater may be damaged.

String out cords on top of rugs or floors. Placing anything on top of the cord could cause the cord to overheat.

Do not use an extension cord unless absolutely necessary. Using an extension cord with high wattage appliances can start a fire. If you must use an extension cord, it must be marked #14 or #12 AWG; this tells the thickness or gauge of the wire in the cord. For example, a cord sold as an air conditioner extension cord will have these heavy wires. Do not use a cord marked #16 or #18 AWG. Only use extension cords bearing the label of an independent testing laboratory such as U.L. or E.T.L.

Be sure the plug fits snugly in the outlet. Since a loose plug may overheat, have a qualified repairman replace the worn out plug or outlet. Since heaters draw lots of power, the cord and plug may feel warm. But if the plug feels too hot to touch, unplug the heater and have a qualified repairman check for problems. If the heater and its plug are found to be working properly, have the outlet replaced. Using a heater with a hot cord or plug could start a fire.

If a heater is used on an outlet protected by a ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI) which trips, do not assume the GFCI is broken. Because GFCI's protect locations where leakage currents can cause a severe shock, stop using the heater and have it checked, even if it seems to be working properly.

Payment in cash offered

U.S. Congressman Jim Jontz says that cash payments are now being offered by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) to original holders of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) generic commodity (PIK) certificates.

"The USDA decision will allow many Hoosier farmers to receive cash for expired tickets," Jontz said. "This applies only to original certificate holders."

The USDA's decision now enables original certificate holders to request cash for a percentage of the value of the certificate. Those who have not exchanged certificates by the expiration date for CCC inventory or transferred them to another person can receive 85 percent of the certificate's original face value.

Jontz said he urged farmers holding expired tickets to contact their local ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) office to redeem their certificates, or receive additional information.

Valley site of junior high cross country meet

The Tippecanoe Valley Junior High Cross Country swept the track last Tuesday with a runaway win in the invitational held at Valley. A score of 20 gave Valley the number one position. Second place went to Caston with a score of 43 to be followed by Triton with a score of 62.

In the climax event for Valley, John Minnick placed first for Valley followed by Jason Engle, Jamie Kreuger, and Larry Slone. The fifth position went to Justina Reichart of Triton, sixth position went to Philly Grabbe of Caston, seventh was Andy Dague of Caston, eighth was Tina Albright of Caston, and ninth was Tim Uhrigh both of Caston, and Tracy Engle of Valley placed tenth.

Words hit as hard as a fist.

You're pathetic. You can't do anything.
You disgust me. Just shut up!
Hey stupid! Don't you know how to listen?
Get outta here! I'm sick of looking at you face!
You're more trouble than you're worth.
If you don't change and find some other place to live!
I wish you were never born!
Children believe what their parents tell them. Next time, stop and listen to what I have to say. You might not believe your ears.

Take time out. Don't take it out on your kid.

Valley beats No. 1 ranked Zebras

Tippecanoe Valley stayed unbeaten Friday night with a 7-6 Three Rivers Conference victory over Rochester, ranked number one in Class 2A.

Friday's cold, wet and windy weather kept the expected sellout crowd away and did not offer the best conditions for the high-powered offenses. Valley has been known for its strong defense in the past, and history repeated itself during the showdown game. Valley coach Jeff Phillips has stressed defense to win championships, and that strategy paid off with the Vikings in the clash with the Zebras.

Dion Anglin scored from two yards out and Tim Sparrow kicked the game-winning extra point in the first quarter for the Vikings.

Steve Ruckman caught a 37-yard touchdown pass from Brad McMillan for Rochester's only points of the night. Valley held Rochester to 48 yards rushing and 72 yards passing. Steve Holloway led the Vikings on the ground with 73 yards rushing on 19 carries.

Tippy Valley is now 6-0 overall and 5-0 in the TRC. Valley will play another league game on Friday when the Vikings host North Miami.

Fall color updates available

A 24-hour, full-color hotline, free travelers' packets and a children's writing contest are being offered by the Department of Natural Resources.

Beginning October 1, the DNR started providing leaf-line reports telling travelers where to see the best leaf colors, as well as exciting fall events statewide. Experts from the DNR's Forestry Division collect detailed information from the state parks, forests, reservoirs and fish and wildlife areas, and relay this information to the special phone line in Indianapolis twice a week.

Leaf-line can be heard by calling 317-232-4002. The call is not toll free.

In addition to leaf-line, the DNR is offering free, fall travelers' packets containing the 1987 Recreation Guide, state highway map and a brochure explaining how leaves turn color. Valley girl places third in Quarter Horse Show

A 17-year-old Claypool girl recently placed third in showmanship at the halter class of the 16th Annual American Junior Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show and Convention in Tulsa, Okla.

Leslie Miller, daughter of Robert and Margaret Miller, was among 1,300 young people, age 18 and under, from the United States, Canada and Australia, selected to participate in the show.

A senior at Tippecanoe Valley High School, Miller competed with her registered American Quarter horse "Nitty Investment," a six-year-old sorrel gelding. There were 87 contestants vying for a top-place title in the showmanship class.

Placing in the showmanship class depends more on the way the entrant presents the horse, rather than on the horse itself. It is a harness showing, and consists of no riding.

Miller qualified for the invitational show by ranking first in the state for the showmanship class through her involvement with the AQHA.

In 1986, Miller was named the "All Around Youth of Indiana" of the AQHA. This was won by earning it - most number of points in the state, through various competitions. Miller has been interested in horses for a number of years.

Highlights of the show will be aired in October on the Nashville Network and ESPN.

William Powell, a magician from Rochester, entertained the children with magic tricks. The Librarian showed the children magic books that can be borrowed from the library. The Librarian served refreshments of pudding pops to each one present.

Revolutionary War veteran grave marked

The grave dedication of the Revolutionary War Veteran, John Jacob Whittenberger, who is the great-grandfather of Ella and Ina, was held August 9, 1987 in the St. Luke Cemetery (New Springfield) near New Middletown, Ohio, where the Revolutionary War veteran is buried.

Jacob Whittenberger (Whittenberger), born of German ancestry in Eastern Pennsylvania, about the year of 1759, was one of the "sturdy yeomen" who went forth in the Revolution to battle for those rights so dear to all freemen. Shortly after the war, he was united in marriage to Miss Catharine Engel, in Southeastern Pennsylvania, where they resided until about the year 1803 when they moved and located in Beaver County, in Western Pennsylvania, about fifty miles from Pittsburgh. This gentleman was twice married and was the father of eighteen children, of whom William, the ninth, was born in Bedford County, Pennsylvania. In September 1816 William was united in marriage to Joanna Sippy. William Whittenberger remained in Beaver County, Pennsylvania until 1831 when he moved to Medina County, Ohio, where he resided until 1836, when he moved to Fulton County, Indiana. William and Joanna Whittenberger were the parents of ten sons and one daughter. Of these, Jacob, was the second born in Beaver County, Pennsylvania 1819. In 1840 he was united in marriage to Mary Supinger of Virginia. Soon after their marriage they loaded their effects and moved in a one-horse wagon to Lebanon, Ohio and on to Cincinnati, and finally to Akron, Indiana in August of 1840. Upon arriving Mr. Whittenberger purchased eight acres of land and built himself a cabin. Here he and his wife lived with six children, three of whom lived to reach adult life. Mrs. Whittenberger departed this life in 1855 and in 1865 Jacob Whittenberger was again married to Mrs. Mary Shelt. To this union was born two daughters. Ella married Peter Noyer and were the parents of Donald Noyer, all of Akron.

Ina was born August 15, 1859 and lived her entire life in the same home. She was married to George Brundage. She died October 8, 1948. The home Ina lived in is now owned by Bernice and Wayne Reese at the west edge of Akron known as Century Farm. It was so honored in 1940. Mrs. Brundage will be remembered for writing "The Descriptive History of Akron 1836-1936" which was published in 1936.

The Veterans of the Foreign War Post 2799 gave a history of New Middletown, Ohio and how the Whittenbergs played an important part in that town. Their Chaplain placed a "Poppy" wreath on the grave, presented the colors, placed an American flag in a bronze holder and followed with a Twenty-One gun salute. Helen Whittenberger Ward, fourth great-granddaughter and regent of DAR Calousachatchee Chapter, Fort Myers, Florida gave a brief history of the Whittenberger family and Jane Bain Chapter NSDAR presented the grave ceremony then placed a wreath on the grave. Over forty friends and relatives attended the ceremony. The soldier changed his name from Whittenberger to Whittenberger after the war. Many of his descendants still live in the New Middletown, Ohio area as well as in Fulton County, Indiana.

John Jacob Whittenberger served as a private in Cpt. Phillip Krick's Eighth Company, Fourth Battalion in Berk's County Militia, Pennsylvania, 1777-78.

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

PROTECTING PRIMARY TEETH

You may not be overconcerned about your child's primary teeth because these "baby teeth" will eventually be replaced by permanent teeth. But you should be. The health and care of your child's teeth will have a direct effect on the condition of his permanent teeth when they're ready to make their appearance.

For example, any decay can be hazardous. Left untreated, the affected tooth may break or be lost before its time. This may cause the permanent teeth to become crowded or crooked. Decayed or lost primary teeth may also cause speech difficulties and affect the child's personality and his appetite. He may find cold, hot, or hard foods difficult to eat. Decayed and infected teeth can also cause other health problems when left untreated.

It's never too early for you to have your child's teeth examined by your dentist. In fact, the earlier the better so any existing problems can be treated and his dental health protected.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121; 114 Mainwaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

Dear
Betty
Crocker

Q. Is it safe to carry a sandwich made with mayonnaise in a bag lunch?

A. Actually, commercial mayonnaise itself doesn't increase risk of food poisoning. Most commercially prepared mayonnaise has lemon juice or another acid flavoring that slows bacteria growth. The salt limits bacteria growth, too.

The greater risk is food that mayonnaise is mixed with, such as ground meat, poultry, fish or eggs. These are the foods most susceptible to bacteria growth. Sandwiches with these ingredients should be refrigerated.

Q. What can I do so my cookies don't bake together?

A. Almost all cookies spread some. Chilling dough before baking and letting the cookie sheet cool between bakings also helps.

Q. Why are muffins moister when I don't use paper baking cups?

A. Without paper baking cups, heat reflects back onto the muffin. That may cause them to brown faster and they remain moister inside. Watch bake time carefully with either variation.

Q. I'd like to know how to make flaky biscuits.

A. Use a pastry blender to cut in the shortening until the mixture resembles fine crumbs. The shortening surrounds particles of flour, creating layers. Then, knead the mixture lightly, ten times, to mix thoroughly.

Do you have a question? Write Dear Betty Crocker, Box 1113, Dept. Betty, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

The life of a dedicated teacher

by Mary Fisher

Often times adults will look back on their high school days and recall fond memories. Among those memories are flashbacks of moments with favorite teachers. Graduates of Akron High School have memories daughter, Christa McKinney of Indianapolis and four step grandchildren.

Grace graduated from Manchester College in 1929 and began her teaching career the same year in Recently she received a letter of thanks from a former student who said "You taught me to think for myself. Thank you for doing a wonderful job of teaching."

Mrs. Waechter strove towards successful futures for each of her students. "I tried to add a personal touch in teaching each student," explained Mrs. Waechter. "I was always taking time to see students, the friends. I remember a kid who was a real trouble maker. He demanded respect from each one of them," she added. And respect she received, not only during those teaching years, but also now in her retirement years. Hearing from her former students is a rewarding experience.

When asked what advice she would give to the students of today, Waechter advised them to live up to their own capacity and do all they can do with what each has been given. And to the parents of today's children, she suggested helping the children to become good citizens. Guide them, be an example to them.

Grace Waechter keeps busy even though she has retired. She is a member of the Akron Methodist Church, Amicus Club, Euchre Club students to think! That is the answer in a nutshell," said Waechter. She believes children today do not have to think for themselves. She also believes children could work out many of their own problems if they were allowed to do so.

Seeing the old Akron High School building coming down this past summer has been a sad experience for Mrs. Waechter. She said she had been to the school many times and it was a great place to go to. It was a place where she had been a student and a teacher. She said she would miss the school, but she will miss the students more.

When asked what advice she would give to the students of today, Waechter advised them to live up to their own capacity and do all they can do with what each has been given. And to the parents of today's children, she suggested helping the children to become good citizens. Guide them, be an example to them.

Grace Waechter keeps busy even though she has retired. She is a member of the Akron Methodist Church, Amicus Club, Euchre Club Joliettes, Marie's, Eastern Women's Club and the Kappa Gamma League Sorority. She spends time reading and always making new friends.

Grace Waechter is celebrating her 88th birthday on October 8, 1987. She is celebrating her long life and family memories.

If you were a high school student, you would use this opportunity. Mrs. Waechter has a very special gift. You may have a very special moment in your life. You will be a part of her life. You will be a part of her life.

As the daughter of a retired school teacher, I can tell you that no gift would mean as much as a card or a note from a former student or fellow teacher. As a child of a dedicated teacher, you soon learn that your family consists of many children and that each one of those children is of equal importance to your parent. You may be the only one who can refer to them as Mom or Dad, but there are many who can say "I love you for loving me".

Beanie and Grace Waechter were very important to the children and teens during Mrs. Waechter's teaching years. This picture was taken close to the year 1970.

of a teacher who devoted 27 years of her 34 teaching years to the students at Akron. Grace Waechter taught math, Latin, and English with a personal touch that left a lasting impression on most of her students.

Living most of her life in the Miami-Fulton County area, Grace Waechter was just one in a family of eight children. Grace is the daughter of Elmer and Glee (Butt).

On November 30, 1933, she married Walter (Beanie) Waechter. Beanie was a well known barber in the town of Akron. Grace has one daughter, Mrs. Dean (Barbara) Rager of Plymouth. She has one grand-Shipshewana. She also taught at Gilead before coming to Akron.

Mrs. Waechter, as all of her students called her, gave more than just a normal eight-hour work day to teaching. She is one among the small minority of teachers who have dedicated their lives to teaching children. She lived teaching from morning until evening during those 34 years of her life. "There were times when my students had to come first; even over my own daughter and husband", said Waechter. "If a student needed me, I was there for him."

Her years of dedication to her students is now reaping the rewards for Waechter.

DISCOVER A NEW WORLD OF HAPPINESS THROUGH YOUR FAITH

The explorers of old, so intrepid and bold
In their quest for some faraway shore,
Inadvertently found that our planet was round,
As a few had suspected before.
Yet this globular earth, for whatever it's worth,
Couldn't promise that they would survive,
So instead, for a guide, they had simply relied
On their faith that would keep them alive.
In our travels we learn that if ever we yearn
For true happiness as our reward,
Let's remember to pray on the next Sabbath day,
And discover the love of the Lord
Gloria Nowak

The greatest obstacle to discovering the shape of the earth... was not ignorance but the illusion of knowledge.

Time to check furnaces

Before fall turns to winter, homeowners should take some time to check their furnaces and winterize their homes.

Homeowners should inspect their windows and doors as well as their furnaces in preparation for the winter season.

It is important that homeowners know the condition of their heating system. Too many times homeowners are the victims of con-men who offer to make furnace inspections, using scare tactics to sell expensive and often unneeded repairs.

A check of the furnace and doors and windows can help homeowners cut down on energy bills while making them aware of any potential problems.

If someone knocks on your door and offers to inspect your furnace, think twice before letting them into your home. Most reputable contractors do not go door to door seeking work. If you think your furnace might need repairs, call several contractors for estimates before making a decision on the type of repairs needed.

Homeowners should watch for repairmen who claim the furnace is dangerous and beyond repair and offer to install a new system right away.

Homeowners also should be wary of mail-order offers for furnace attachments, home energy fuel plans or other devices which are alleged to save on energy bills.

Often times, the advertisements or mail order offers describe their product as having been scientifically tested with a money saving guarantee. Before ordering any products, write to the company and ask for the results of the scientific tests. Check with the Better Business Bureau to determine if other consumers have had problems with the company.

Homeowners should be wary of door to door salesmen who ask to demonstrate new doors and windows. Again, most reputable companies will not try to sell their goods by going door to door.

Some salesmen try on games similar to those used by furnace repairmen, telling homeowners they are losing money on their energy bills because of faulty doors and windows.

Homeowners should call reputable contractors or home remodeling firms before buying any products which are supposed to save on energy bills.

Most utility companies will inspect homes to determine ways to save on energy costs. If that is not possible, homeowners can usually seal drafts coming from doors and windows with caulking.

If you do decide to enter into a contract for repairs to your home.

*Investigate the firm's reputation and reliability by checking with the Better Business Bureau or with the firm's other customers.

*Obtain more than one bid for the job by checking with other firms. Be certain you give each firm the same specifications.

*Ask about warranties and guarantees. If the work is guaranteed, make certain you get that in writing.

*Settle on the price before the contract is signed. Make certain that price includes equipment and labor.

*Don't sign a contract until you have read it and understand it. Contracts are not required by law for work which will cost $150 or more.

*Don't do business with people who use high pressure scare tactics to convince you the repairs are needed right away.

*Be wary of firms which claim their product has been scientifically tested or offers fuel saving features.

Over a century ago, when this community was called Newark, young men and women were taught the qualities of leadership, honesty, and courage. Today, 150 years later, the community now called Akron still follows that same tradition.

A few weeks ago at the new Akron Junior High School, 18 students were chosen by their peers to represent the 1987-88 student body. These young Student Council members, half boys and half girls, were selected from the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades for their ability to promote the goals of the Council. Those goals are to foster a positive school spirit, and encourage excellence, honesty and truthfulness in all school events. These Council members were selected because they possess and demonstrate these qualities in their own lives.

In the year in which this country remembers the leaders who forged our Constitution, it is good to know that this small community of around 1000 Americans is producing its share of fine young leaders. The leaders who will someday guide this community and nation.

Plan for treatment plant adopted by Mentone board

Mentone is on its way to solving the problems with its waste water facilities in the town. During last weeks town board meeting, a resolution adopting the updated facilities plan for the new treatment plant, as presented by the representatives of Bonar and Associates, was signed by the Mentone Town Board.

A hearing on the Department of Commerce grant has been set for October 19, with a public hearing for the Environmental Protection Agency grant scheduled for November 23. Both meetings will begin at 7 p.m.

In other town business, a discussion was held concerning stray dogs in the town of Mentone. According to the reserve police officer Steve Shand, there have been several complaints concerning stray dogs. The town does not have an ordinance pertaining to the issue, thus the officer can not do much to solve the problem. If the officer receives complaints concerning barking dogs, he then can arrest the owner for disturbing the peace after a complaint has been filed with the prosecuting attorney.

The town board also told Officer Shand that expenses for emergency medical training and ammunition used at the state police academy will be covered by the town.

Jim Miller reported the curb work for this year has been completed. In all, the town's half of the curbing project came to $6,446.48, which is about 8,400 feet of curbing. The curbing was offered on a 50-50 basis between the town and those wanting curbs installed.

Also, the board accepted a bid of $2,200 from Boardman Chevrolet, Bourbon, for the sale of the town's 1979 Chevrolet pick-up truck.

November 1 is the deadline which has been set for bids for the 1988 trash removal in the town. The bids will be opened at the November 2 meeting. Those interested in the contract can send their bid to Box 562, Mentone, Indiana 46539, or give it to any board member.

On behalf of the water department, Miller also requested replacement of the scales used by the water department. The scales are used to weigh the amount of chlorine used in the water. The scales are broken and an accurate reading has not been available. Also, Miller was given permission to check into the cost of repair for the float-level operated water tower. The town has been having a problem with the water tower overflowing when the pumps don't shut off.

As a reminder from the boards, trick-or-treating will be from 6-8 p.m. on October 31. Also, residents are prohibited to burn leaves on the blacktop.

Well, hello there!

President Gene E. Sease (middle) of the University of Indianapolis, along with Dean of Students Dave Huffman, greet new U. of I. students at the annual "President's Tea." Greeting the president is Tom Finney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Finney of Akron. He is a 1987 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Blood bank October 22

As the Season of Colors quickly approaches, the American Red Cross reminds Fulton County residents that the seasons may change, but blood needs don't.

Blood has a "shelf life" of only 42 days. The community's supply must be constantly maintained for hospitals to be able to meet any requirements their patients may have.

An urgent plea was released this week for the following blood types: A-, O-, and O+.

Area residents will have the opportunity to help maintain a healthy blood supply on Thursday, October 22, at Akron Church of God. The American Red Cross, Fort Wayne Region, will hold a blood drive there from 12 noon to 5 p.m., with the intention of collecting 75 units of blood.

Since most blood donations are separated into their natural components, potentially 300 to 400 patients can be helped by those 75 donations. Among them are patients at Woodlawn Hospital in Rochester, one of 55 hospitals served by the Fort Wayne Region.

Eligible blood donors are 17 to 65 years old, weighing 110 pounds or more, and healthy. They must never have had hepatitis, and must not have given blood within 56 days of the upcoming bloodmobile.

It only takes an hour to give "the gift of life," less than 10 minutes for the donation itself. Appointments are not necessary, but are recommended. To make yours, please call Judy Day, blood services chairman for Akron, at 893-4623.

Local boy to participate in exposition

Thad Leininger of Burket will participate in the 1987 North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE), and has entered in the sheep division. More than $300,000 in premiums and awards will be offered at the NAILE this year.

The 1987 North American International Livestock Exposition opens Nov. 7 and continues through Nov. 20 in Louisville, Ky. Livestock breeders from across the nation will participate.

Akron community included

When fall arrives one of the familiar events of the season is the annual United Way campaign held in Fulton County and across the nation.

Many people may believe that Rochester is the hub of the benefits for Fulton County, and in some aspects that may be true. According to The Fulton County Vice President for United Way, Ted Waggoner, the benefits go to organizations located in Rochester and everyone in Fulton County can be served by the said organizations. Examples of Mr. Waggoner's statement are Big Brother-Big Sisters, Family Service Center, Manitou Training Center, etc. Although the actual organization is located in Rochester, Henry and Newcastle Township residents receive services from the mentioned organizations.

Direct benefits are received by the Akron Little League and the Nutrition Site. The meals are delivered to the Akron Nutrition Site by the Fulton Co. Council on Aging. The council has been budgeted $4,500 in 1987.

Any non-profit community oriented organization in Fulton County may approach the United Way committee for funds. The committee will then decide if the organization meets the requirements for funds and will also decide how much can be given to the organization.

Mr. Waggoner also added that of the $68,900 approved budget for 1987 only $1,700 of that amount would be used for United Way expenses. Of that $1,700, $1,300 would stay in the immediate area with the other $400 going to the national organization for expenses.

Residents of Henry Township and Newcastle Township will be receiving envelopes in which to mail their donation. Some may have already received this information in the mail. Mr. Waggoner has asked each individual to consider making a generous donation to United Way. Mr. Waggoner added, "We extend our thanks and appreciation for each donation in advance."

Akron industries have been included in the list of donors. They are Sonoco Products, Pike Lumber, Akron Concrete Products, Foster and Good, Wen, and also listed was Talma Fasteners.

Toy drive underway

The Tippecanoe Valley Kiwanis members are collecting toys to distribute to needy children during the Christmas season.

If you have any used toys in good condition or if you would like to donate a new toy, please call any of the following individuals or leave your donation at one of the locations listed below.

Mentone: Frank and Jerry's Market, or Millers Hardware. For more information call 353-7571.

Akron: Stephen's Garage or call 893-4211 for more information.

Burket: Powell's Market, or call 491-3272 for more information.

Trick-or-treat times set

October 31 has been set as Trick-or-Treat night in Akron as well as Mentone. Children may collect their goodies between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. on that evening.

Burket school opens library

Out of the mailbox

Letter to the Editor:

This is an open letter to communities served by Four County Counseling Center. Currently our center is preparing a grant application for funds to support the prevention of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse in High Risk Youth. As part of the application process we must seek and document community support for said service.

As a long time worker in the helping profession, I know that there is a real concern among community agencies and organizations about the extent of substance abuse and the fear that our children will become victims of that abuse or addiction. Therefore the program that we wish to fund will be aimed at raising levels of adaptive functioning and thereby preventing substance abuse problems for high risk youth.

To apply for this grant I will be seeking support from the community in two forms: first I will be contacting schools, agencies and organizations to request letters that indicate agreement with this type of instruction course, willingness to make no cost referral contracts, collaborative efforts and provide community participation.

Second, I will also be requesting written documentation in the form of minutes of meetings, newspaper articles, policy statements, funding allocations or surveys showing our communities' awareness for the need of prevention services to our youth.

This grant application must be in as soon as possible (before 10/30) to increase our chances of providing the program. If you are interested in showing your support you may send letters and other documentations to me. If you wish any other information please call me at (219) 722-5151.

Sincerely,
Donald E. Young, MA CAC

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

Alias Rebecca Boone!

In the four different homes we have lived in, three had fireplaces. The first fireplace was never used. The second fireplace we used a lot...then we finally learned how to build a fire! Small task you say? That's what you think!

While learning how to build the proper fire we experienced frayed nerves and short tempers. It looks so easy on television. All they do is use one match and POOF! a blazing fire in no time! We couldn't get much more than a smolder let alone a blaze for what seemed like weeks. We soon discovered the need for proper kindling, a few newspapers crumpled up or some imitation log for starters and the drafts adjusted just right.

Next, we learned to always use dry wood. Not necessarily wet wood from rain, but seasoned wood. We also found the types of wood make a great difference. It's hard to believe you can have a nice fire and feel little heat, but it is, indeed, possible.

Although we now have an insert in our fireplace, something we wouldn't do without, and we have become successful fire builders, I haven't gotten over the need to stir the fire every once-in-awhile. For this, I have earned the nickname of Rebecca Boone!

Maybe the name fits. I can imagine Daniel Boone arriving home and putting his horse in the barn. After closing the barn door, he enters the house brushing the snow from his jacket and quickly warms his hands by the fire. He later puts his feet next to the fire and relaxes as he whittles his wood and Rebecca pumps water for dishes.

Nothing suits my fancy more than reading a good book in my rocker next to the fireplace when the wind whistles outside. Being near the fireplace is handy when the urge arises to stir the logs. For some reason Doug doesn't have to stir the logs, just sits comfortably at our table with his coffee and makes up names for me! Has he ever heard me address him as Paul Bunyan as he was cutting wood?

As the weather turns cooler, we will be using our expertise in fire building once more. A fire lends a feeling of coziness to a home and we have all decided that it is well worth the effort. With our fireplace located at the end of our table, we have been known to have an extra cup of coffee and enjoy the warmth a bit longer allowing us to relax and enjoy our family, friends and home. As Doug pulls his car into the garage he closes the door behind him. He enters the house brushing the snow from his jacket and quickly warms his hands over the fire. He later puts his feet next to the fire and relaxes as he reads the paper. I hurry to fill the dishwasher so we can enjoy some quiet time together, just us two, Daniel and Rebecca!

Thank you for the cards and get well wishes during my recent illness.

MY GRANDSON

Blue eyed, brown eyed,
Dark hair or fair,
There's nothing to compare
To my grandson.

Joyful and cheerful,
Gives me an earful,
Stories and jokes
Fun he pokes
That's my grandson.

He may be shy,
But he's quite a guy,
Full of life, full of go,
Works hard for his dough,
He's my joy, he's my boy,
My grandson.

When he sprouts a beard
What's to be feared?
He's good and kind,
He has a good mind,
Full of ambition and hope
With life he can cope,
I'm proud of my boy,
My grandson.

My thanks to my friends, family and neighbors for remembering me on my birthday. A special thanks to my daughter and family. I appreciated hearing from my former students. Thanks to Mary Fisher for her feature story so well written.

Alcohol now has 18 million in trouble in this nation

by Bill Brooks

Anyone who believes there are only 10 million alcoholics in this nation can now revise this count.

The Sixth Special Report to the U.S. Congress on Alcohol Health says, "There are now 18 million problem drinkers." In my view, a problem drinker is an alcoholic.

In 1986, there were 97,529 deaths through alcohol use. Adolescents with alcohol problems totaled 4.6 million. In 1986 alcohol was the most widely used drug by youth.

More bad news taken from the report from Dr. Otis Bowen, Secretary of Health and Human Services, states that "nearly half of all accidental deaths, suicides and homicides are alcohol-related. Up to 75 percent of boating accidents and deaths, and 69 percent of drownings are alcohol-related."

The report adds that nearly half of convicted jail inmates were under the influence when they committed their offense. Alcohol was involved in 68 percent of manslaughter cases and 62 percent of assaults. Sixty-three percent of battered women reported husbands as drinking when violent.

Estimated cost of alcohol abuse in the U.S. in 1983 was $117 billion (I've read that last year it was up to $150 billion!)

There is some good news. The report says that alcohol consumption is down, that alcohol-related traffic deaths are down, that liver cirrhosis deaths have dropped, that underage youths are drinking less, that the stigma of alcoholism is diminishing.

Dr. Enoch Gordis, M.D., director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, says we are seeing the beginnings of "change in public understanding and awareness of risks associated with alcohol use" but he also feels that public concern about alcohol-related problems has not reached the point where pressure "to discover causes, develop preventive measures and effective treatment rivals its concern in cancer and heart cases."

Dr. Gordis echoes the puzzlement of the alcoholism field when he emphasizes the need for research because "we still do not know why millions of people cannot stop drinking even though they know they are killing themselves."

How much do we drink? The per capita consumption in 1984 in the U.S., 14 years and older, was estimated to be 2.65 gallons of pure alcohol. This equals the alcohol in 50 gallons of beer, or 20 gallons of wine or four gallons of distilled spirits. This is the lowest since 1977.

Two-thirds of the population drink, BUT just 10 percent of the drinkers consume half of all alcoholic beverages!

A national Gallup poll in 1984 of adolescents found that one-third of those interviewed and more than half of those over 16 said that all or most of their friends were regular drinkers.

Women from 35 to 64 now have more drinkers and more heavier drinkers than in earlier surveys. Women's drinking patterns were strongly associated with the drinking of family and friends.

Despite a high rate of alcohol-related problems, blacks of both sexes have a higher rate of abstainers. Blacks, especially men, have high rates of liver troubles and extremely high incidence of cancer of the esophagus. Cirrhosis mortality rates of blacks are twice as high as for whites.

Every year approximately 100,000 persons die of alcohol-related causes. What a frightful toll for a supposedly civilized nation!

Handicapped parking placards applications available locally

Applications for handicapped parking placards are now available at all motor vehicle license branches and local health departments.

Previously, the applications were available only at vocational rehabilitation offices and certain community-based rehabilitation facilities. The applications are still available at those offices.

Under state law, the Indiana Department of Human Services' Division of Rehabilitation Services issues handicapped parking placards to individuals who:

- *Have a temporary or permanent physical disability that requires the use of a wheelchair, walker, braces, or crutches.

- *Have temporarily or permanently lost the use of one or both legs.

- *Have been certified by an appropriate practitioner to be severely restricted in mobility, either temporarily or permanently, by a pulmonary or cardiovascular disability, arthritic condition, or orthopedic or neurological impairment.

*Have been certified by an optometrist or ophthalmologist licensed to practice in Indiana to be blind or visually impaired.

State law requires that a certain number of parking spaces in public parking facilities be reserved for the use of handicapped persons. The number of reserved spaces depends on the number of parking spaces in a facility, ranging from one reserved space for a facility with 51 to 75 parking spaces to 10 reserved spaces for a facility with more than 1,000 parking spaces.

Reserved parking spaces help persons with disabilities lead independent lives.

Persons with permanent disabilities are required to apply for a new handicapped parking placard every four years. Handicapped parking placards issued to persons with temporary disabilities expire no longer than six months after they are issued.

Health HINTS

Here's good news for the millions of Americans who've survived a heart attack: a new free booklet summarizes up-to-date information on diet, exercise, stress reduction and aspirin therapy—the major therapies in preventing a second attack. Cardiologists believe lifestyle changes can help heart attack victims reverse much of the damage to their hearts and live full, energetic lives.

The booklet is part of a public education effort by the makers of Heurin safety-coated aspirin. The suggestions in "Your Heart, An Owner's Manual" include an exercise routine; a well-balanced low-fat diet; and aspirin therapy.

Now you know

A camel named Golda is outshining cows in milk production. She produces 70 pints of milk each day, compared to the average cow's 32 pints. According to Ranger Rick magazine, milk-producers like Golda could be an important source of food for people living in the dry parts of Africa. Although scientists are only beginning to learn how to breed and raise camels to produce more milk, they have high hopes of producing more champion milkers as good as Golda!

Fire safety studied

Mrs. Rock's Fourth Grade at Mentone School recently completed a unit of study on fire safety and prevention to go along with National Fire Prevention Week. Below are summaries written by some of the students about their activities.

What I learned about Fire - I learned not to play with fire. It is a very bad thing to do. Fire can burn someone very badly. Fire is not what hurts you, it is the smoke. The smoke is bad if you get a lot of it in your lungs. I hope my house doesn't burn down - Nathan Bradley.

We studied fire prevention. We learned what to do if a fire starts. We learned how to get out of a fire safely and what to do once you get out. - Quentin Law.

Fire Prevention Week - I liked fire prevention week because of the fun I had. Like practicing a home fire drill, and the fun work sheets. I love it. Checking the house. I just think it is fun. We even had a play - Heather Banghart.

Fire Prevention Week - I've been studying fire for a few weeks. I learned that fire needs fuel, heat and oxygen. I have watched a lot of fire shows at school. I also learned that fire can spread quickly. - Danny Thompson.

Fire Prevention Week - We have been studying fire about 2 weeks now. We have learned to Stop, Drop, and Roll. Bend down low and crawl over to your door and feel if it is hot or not. If it is hot get out another way. If it is cool stand up and put your shoulder to it and open it slowly. - Jenny Dean.

Fire Prevention Week - For almost two weeks we have been learning about preventing fires. We have been learning to stop drop and roll, how to get out of your house safely, putting out fires and calling the fire department. - Michael Galatcanu.

Fire Prevention Week - Fire Prevention week what I learned. I learned that fire needs oxygen, heat and fuel to burn. It is very good to prevent fire as much as possible. I learned that you should practice fire drill often, and have a smoke alarm. I think fire Prevention Week is great.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

FIRST SIGN OF A FUTURE CAVITY

You want to be able to keep your teeth free of decay and minimize the number of fillings and other restorations, but this problem is difficult to solve without professional help. For example, if you could detect the first sign of a future cavity you'd be ahead of the game.

The first noticeable sign is a white spot on the unbroken surface of a tooth. The outer enamel of a tooth is much denser than the inside, which is composed of a tooth mineral rich in calcium. Once the acid that causes decay breaks the outer barrier, however, and a cavity begins to form, the tooth must be restored and protected with a filling. Even before the white spot appears, considerable mineral within the tooth may have been lost to decay.

That's one reason why regular dental checkups are recommended. Under the professional eyes of your dentist, problems can be discovered in their early stages when they are much easier and much less costly to treat.

Left untreated, dental decay can cause trouble. It can and will only get worse. Dentistry is one area of medicine where a potential problem can be seen before it's out of hand.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C., 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121, 114 Mishawaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

Valley defeats North Miami; heads for league showdown

The Tippecanoe Valley High School football team set up a Three Rivers Conference showdown Friday with a 35-0 home victory over North Miami.

The fifth-ranked Class 3A Vikings are now 7-0 overall and 6-0 in the TRC. Valley plays at Whitko, also 6-0 in the conference, next Friday for the league championship.

After a scoreless first quarter against North Miami, the Vikings scored three touchdowns, complete with extra point, during the second quarter. Ben Anderson ran in from the 5-yard line. Craven Lynn took in a 23-yard Dion Anglin pass, and Troy Busenberg caught another from Anglin.

Two more scoring plays - both by Steve Holloway - ended the rout. Holloway ran 19 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter and two yards to score in the fourth. All extra point kicks were made by Tim Sparrow.

The Vikings held North Miami to 63 yards total offense. Meanwhile, Valley accumulated 414 yards, 255 on the ground. Anderson and Holloway ran for a combined 204 yards in 33 carries.

The Warriors didn't get a passing yard; Valley passed for 159.

Frosh gain victory

Tippecanoe Valley's freshman football team ran past Manchester 37-8 Thursday, Oct. 8, to raise its season record to 5-0-1.

Pat Jamison led the Vikings with 126 yards in just 12 carries. He also accounted for a pair of touchdowns. Dan Tucker also had a good night running as he picked up 103 yards on only three carries. He also had a pair of touchdowns.

Kirt Johnston added a TD and had two conversions and Bruce Huffman rounded out the scoring with a conversion pass from Mike Summers.

Summers completed 4 of 6 passes for 72 yards and a TD.

The Viking defense was led by Kim Lee who had nine tackle points and Matt Taylor who also had nine tackle points.

Better luck next time

Last week was not a winning one for the Tippecanoe Valley volleyball team. On Monday, October 5, the Rochester Zebras defeated the Lady Vikings 15-0, 15-7.

Wednesday's action was with Whitko. The Wildcats defeated Valley 15-5, 15-10.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN WINNERS AND LOSERS

1. A winner says, "Let's find out." A loser says, "Nobody knows."
2. When a winner makes a mistake, he says, "I was wrong"; when a loser makes a mistake, he says, "It wasn't my fault."
3. A winner isn't nearly as afraid of losing, as a loser is secretly afraid of winning.
4. A winner works harder than a loser and has more time; A loser is always "too busy" to do what is necessary.
5. A winner goes through a problem; A loser goes around it, and never gets past it.
6. A winner makes commitments; A loser makes promises.
7. A winner says, "I'm good, but not as good as I ought to be"; A loser says, "I'm not as bad as a lot of other people."
8. A winner listens; A loser just waits until it's his turn to talk.
9. A winner respects those who are superior to him and tries to learn from them; A loser resents those who are superior to him, and tries to find chinks in their armor.
10. A winner explains; A loser explains away.
11. A winner feels responsible for more than his job; A loser says, "I only work here."
12. A winner says, "There ought to be a better way to do it"; A loser says, "That's the way it's always been done here."
13. A winner paces himself; A loser has only two speeds - hysterical and lethargic.

"These could be the most important 3 points I've ever made."

When I'm playing basketball, 3-pointers can make a difference. And as public safety representative for Public Service Indiana, I have "3-pointers" that can save a life.

Point 1.
Overhead power lines are not insulated like home appliance cords.

Point 2.
Overhead power lines carry many thousands of volts of electricity that can injure or kill on contact.

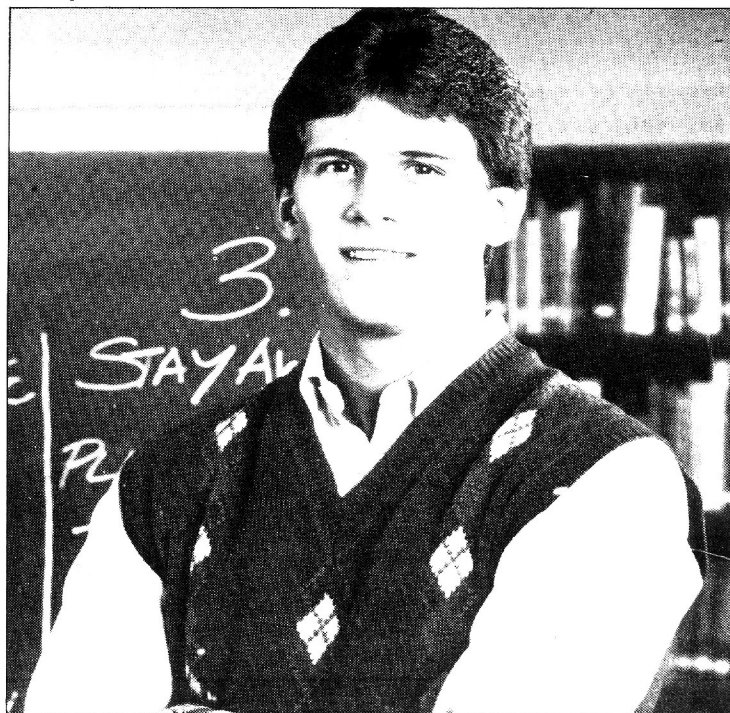

Point 3.
Play it safe by always staying away from power lines.

If you'll remember these "3-pointers," you can help save someone from serious injury or death.

Dear
Betty
Crocker

Q. How do I tell when pancakes are ready to turn?

A. The secret is to turn pancakes as soon as they are puffed and just as the bubbles break.

Q. What's the best way to freeze baked pie shells?

A. Freeze them in the pie plate and they will keep for four months. When it's time to thaw them, unwrap and let stand at room temperature or heat in a 350 degree F oven for about six minutes. Unbaked shells can be frozen, too. They keep up to two months; bake immediately after removing from freezer.

Q. Are all desserts high in cholesterol?

A. No. Desserts that have no animal fat nor egg yolks are low in cholesterol. Angel food cake is a good example.

Q. Which kinds of fish are lowest in fat?

A. The leanest fish is less than five percent fat. Varieties include cod, flounder, haddock and sole.

Q. How will cookies be affected by substituting whole wheat flour for all-purpose flour?

A. For most cookie recipes you can substitute an equal amount of whole wheat flour. For best results though, use recipes tested with whole wheat flour. Don't mold, pressed or refrigerator cookie dough may spread more during baking and have a coarser texture than cookies made with all-purpose flour.

Q. Are red pepper and paprika interchangeable?

A. They are not the same, but are sometimes used together. Ground chili peppers are the basis of red pepper or cayenne pepper making this seasoning very pungent and hot. Paprika is ground from certain varieties of sweet red peppers. Its flavor is sweet and, depending on the variety, may be quite hot.

AARP sets priorities

Preventing spousal impoverishment and providing adequate home care funding are among the priorities agreed to recently by representatives for the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) in Indiana.

AARP's Indiana State Legislative Committee (SLC) decided on these and other legislative priorities at a recent organizational meeting held in preparation for the 1988 session of the Indiana legislature.

SLC Chairman Burhl Ellis said the committee will seek legislation which would prevent spousal impoverishment. "We are urging the legislature to provide a means of preventing the spouse of a nursing home patient from having to impoverish him or herself in order to qualify for Medicaid coverage," said Ellis. "In Indiana, a couple currently may have no more than $504 a month in income and $2,550 in assets to qualify," according to Ellis. "Hardly enough to live on."

The Indiana SLC will also seek legislation to provide adequate funding for home care services such as skilled nursing care, personal care services, as well as special services such as meal preparation, transportation and chore services. "Providing such simple, basic services will allow many more people to stay in their own or a family member's home, rather than enter a nursing home."

Among the organization's other priorities for the coming legislative session will be restraining rate increases for telephone, gas, electric and water utilities, and requiring automobile insurance premium discounts to graduates of state-approved driver improvement courses.

In addition to setting priorities for the next session, the committee also elected new officers. They are Burhl Ellis, chairman, of Columbus; Hubert Clodfelter, vice chairman, of Greencastle; and Murray Smith, secretary, of Rochester. Other new members of the committee are: Blanche Ferguson, of Indianapolis; Dorothy Brown, of New Castle; and Jessie Shackelford, of Gary.

The Indiana State Legislative Committee represents the view of AARP members and all older persons before the legislature. AARP more than 500,000 members in Indiana.

Safety Sense

Halloween may be tricky, but if you make sure your youngsters follow these tips from the Independent Insurance Agents of America Inc., it certainly will be a treat for all.

• Have your youngsters wear light-colored costumes with reflectors if they go out on that traditional night for fright. Carrying flashlights is also a bright idea.

• Tell them to only accept wrapped or packaged candy. Suggest that they show it to you before they eat any.

• Younger children should be accompanied. In this way, you can be sure they don't stray into strange territory or the path of a car.

• Keep children's costumes short enough to prevent tripping. Make sure their masks don't interfere with their vision.

• See that children only Trick or Treat in their own neighborhood.

PARENTLine

By H. DEAN EVANS

Superintendent of Public Instruction

For the last several years, the Indiana Department of Education has sponsored "Indiana Grandparent Week" to encourage schools to bring young students and senior citizens together in classroom settings.

While it has become a priority of my office and the DOE to encourage greater parental involvement in educational matters, it is also important for grandparents, other family members, and the overall community to become actively involved in local schools. The benefits of active senior involvement and participation as volunteers in our schools are significant for those at both ends of the age spectrum.

Americans will be 60 years or older. Given this largely untapped and vast resource of wisdom and experience, I believe we should provide greater interaction between students and their elders. This wellspring of knowledge should be tapped and shared with school children of all ages.

This year's Grandparent Week has been scheduled for October 19-23. Grandparents and seniors will be invited to participate in school tours, have lunch in school cafeterias, and attend special programs. I encourage all schools in Indiana to open their doors to grandparents and seniors to permit them to see firsthand what is happening in today's classrooms. Grandparent Week is an excellent opportunity for schools to develop activities that will continue long after the week has ended. And although we encourage and promote these activities for one week each year, the involvement of grandparents, older adults, family members, and community groups should take place throughout the school year.

There are numerous activities that a child and older adult can share in a classroom; and though seniors would be skilled assistants in helping with the daily lessons, I believe the students would benefit most if these shared activities captured the rich experiences and wisdom of this older generation. Senior adults are wonderful storytellers; and this skill should be shared with younger students in particular. Grandparents and other seniors can tell a child about growing up in a different era, detailing such things as what school was like in the past. Old photographs and books could be used to talk about the old hair styles, fashion trends, cars, and other topics of interest to children. Seniors can help students understand the past by demonstrating pioneer crafts such as weaving, woodcarving, candlemaking, soapmaking, and toy making.

It is important for all Indiana citizens, and particularly its students, to become more aware of the physical, mental, and emotional changes experienced during the aging process.

Formal and structured activities such as Grandparent Week could lead to active senior citizen involvement in our public schools as volunteers. Given the limited resources available for public education, and given the fact that seniors represent the fastest growing segment of our society, senior school volunteers could become an important asset for our public schools. Governor Orr recently called the Hoosiers of all walks of life to volunteer to help in our local schools and I believe that senior citizens can lead the way in this effort.

When the young and old have the opportunity to interact and spend quality time together, the experience leaves a lasting mark on both lives.

Seat belt usage up

Safety belt usage in Indiana has increased 145 percent in 15 months, according to highway researchers. One out of two motorists are now buckling up.

Results of the first post-law observational survey show that 51.6 percent of the motorists observed in 32 Indiana counties in August were wearing safety belts. That figure is almost double the usage rate in a similar study before the July 1 effective date of Indiana's safety belt law. It also is 145 percent greater than the 21.1 percent usage rate in June of 1986, the month of the first survey.

The highest usage rates were found in the metropolitan counties that make up one-third of Indiana's population, while the lowest rates occurred in predominantly rural counties.

1988 schedule released by Beef and Boards

Beef and Boards Dinner Theatre has announced their plans for the 15th season. The northside Indianapolis Dinner Theatre will present a season of six shows, including two recent Broadway hits not before seen on the Beef and Boards stage. Producers Douglas E. Stark and Robert D. Zehr have scheduled a series of shows with their audience in mind.

Opening the 1988 season on February 24, 1988 will be a motion picture classic that was recently brought to the Broadway stage. Singin' in the Rain opened at the Gershwin Theatre on July 2, 1929, but is best known from its Hollywood version that starred Gene Kelly, Fred Astaire, and Debbie Reynolds.

By popular request, on May 1, Beef and Boards will bring back the entertaining Best of the West.

On June 1st for the first time off of the summer stage, Beef and Boards will present The Sound of Music, a Rodgers and Hammerstein musical classic.

The musical will be on the Beef and Boards stage. Best Little Whorehouse in Texas was such a musical hit, not only on Broadway, but during its last appearance at Beef and Boards, that producers Stark and Zehr have scheduled it to open on their stage on July 1st.

The musical most requested by Beef and Boards audiences, one of Rodgers and Hammerstein masterpieces, The Sound of Music will be off the fall season in November opening on September 1st.

Including the 15th anniversary season will be another Broadway blockbuster musical. Those dancing feet of 42nd Street will tap their way across the Beef and Boards stage beginning on November 9, 1988. This hit musical will close out the 1988 season with a 10-week run through January of 1989.

For tickets and information concerning the upcoming season or the current production of Mame and Annie scheduled through the remainder of 1987, call the Beef and Boards box office at 317-872-9664.

Most people have applied for a loan of some sort in their lives. Whether it is for a car, boat, home, or vacation many are not sure if they will be approved until they receive the check. Is this feeling of apprehension justified. According to an area banking corporation, the process doesn't have to seem overwhelming. It just takes a little understanding and preparation.

Lenders must evaluate the soundness of each applicant. This way protection is provided for the financial institution and the consumer. Some people may think they are able to take on additional debt, but after all variables are reviewed, they're really not.

When applying for a loan, the first question asked will be regarding the purpose of the loan, the amount needed and the amount to be used as collateral. From here, the two areas reviewed are based on the consumer's willingness and ability to pay.

A person's ability to pay is the most important evaluation a bank makes when reviewing a loan application. Evaluation in this area is made based on a debt-to-income formula. Questions asked: What income is available? Where is it committed already? How long has this person been employed at his or her current employer, and what has his or her employment trend been? (i.e. Is it likely this income will remain stable?).

The second most important criterion is a person's willingness to pay. In this area, an institution checks past credit records to see if a trend has been established. Questions asked: Has the person established credit with another company? What has the payment record been? Have the bills been paid on time? Is it likely the person is willing and able to accept payment responsibility?

Outside factors can also be involved in loan approvals.

The economic climate can affect the consumer's ability to pay. If unemployment rises, loan officers generally become more conservative because job stability is more in question.

Another factor is the liberal interpretation of the bankruptcy law. The number of bankruptcy cases has skyrocketed to almost epidemic proportions. Financial institutions have to review loans even more carefully than before to protect their investments and to make sure they receive their loan money back.

Some common reasons for loan rejections are a lack of credit, poor credit, an inability to pay (based on debt-to-income evaluations), and/or a lack of stability (length of time at a job, length of time at a residence).

Young adults or others who may not meet all the criteria can benefit from planning before applying for a loan. Because credit ratings are so important in loan reviews, obtaining a few credit cards as early as possible to establish a payment record is recommended.

Another option is to obtain a co-signer for the loan, someone who will be able to assume the financial responsibility in case the applicant has a problem making payments. The co-signer must also meet all the criteria.

Consumers also have the right to be choosy about where they obtain a loan. There is no reason for anyone to be intimidated in the loan application process. Look for a financial institution with a high degree of financial strength and a bank with a personal touch where the loan officer understands your reasons for seeking a loan and tries to help you toward your goals.

We need your help..

For the past 10 years the Akron Ambulance Service has been available to serve the people of the Akron community. Now we need the community to help us.

Over the past few months the ambulance service has lost several valuable people, due to numerous reasons. Now the service is in a precarious position of barely having enough people to run day and night crews.

To insure the proper operation of the ambulance service the unit needs volunteers, EMTs, and drivers are needed. There are just enough people to keep the service in operation.

Our concern is if the unit was no longer in Akron the community would face a longer response time after calling for an ambulance. As a local unit our response time is on an average of 5 to 7 minutes. Whereas, if a unit from Rochester were dispatched, the response time would be at least doubled. In those extra minutes many things can happen which could mean life or death to a patient.

So, in closing, your help is needed. No letter can stress the great urgency of this situation. It is up to the people in the community to insure the continuation of the ambulance service.

If you are interested and want more information please call: John Weida, 893-7091; Jim Saner, 893-7270; or Debbie Clark, 893-7048.

10 YEAR HEAT PUMP COMPRESSOR PROTECTION PLAN

Choosing a heating and air conditioning system is a major decision. And the more you know, the more likely you'll be to choose today's high efficiency heat pump for your all-electric home. And Public Service Indiana's 10-Year Compressor Protection Plan is one more reason to add to an already impressive list.

10-Year Compressor Protection Plan. Public Service Indiana will also furnish 10-year compressor protection on high efficiency heat pumps installed on PSI lines by an RSES certified technician.

$400 rebate. Now Public Service Indiana will pay a $400 direct rebate when you have one of today's high efficiency heat pumps installed on PSI lines.

Economical operation. The ability of today's high efficiency heat pumps to bring heat into your home for heating and removing heat for cooling is unrivaled by any other heating and cooling method. This translates into substantial year-round savings to you.

Stable rates. Public Service Indiana customers can look forward to stable rates. PSI has already frozen its rates until 1990, and your rates are likely to remain stable well into the 1990s.

Year-round comfort. During the winter months, today's high efficiency heat pump will warm you with a constant flow of 90°-95° air. And during the summer, the system produces cool air for whole house comfort.

Safety. Today's high efficiency heat pump operates on a system that does not require a flame of any kind to create heat in your home or business. No open flame is simply cleaner and safer.

There you are. Economy, comfort and safety. And the only place you'll find it is in today's high efficiency heat pump. Isn't it time you kissed an old flame good-bye?

Once you know the facts, you'll choose today's heat pump for your home or business.

Author to speak to students

Syd Hoff, internationally known author, will be at the Tippecanoe Valley Schools on Thursday and Friday, November 5th and 6th, to speak to students. Hoff grew up in New York City and now lives with his wife in Miami Beach, Florida. He attended the National Academy of Design in the hope of becoming a fine artist, but a natural comic touch in his work caused his harried instructors to advise him to try something else. He did ... and at eighteen he sold his first cartoon to The New Yorker to which he has contributed over the years.

Syd Hoff

With the publication of his first I CAN READ book, Danny And The Dinosaur, and its many successors, Syd Hoff has tickled the funny-bones of millions of children both here and abroad. "The best humor," he maintains, has to do with events that "people can identify as having happened to them, or something that has been in their subconscious. Humor, for some reason, is basically sad. There's some sort of affinity between the sad and the funny that makes the humor all the funnier."

Nov. 5th the first session, will be held at Burket School beginning at 8:15. The rest of the day will be spent at the Mentone School. Nov. 6th, will be spent at Akron School. Mr. Hoff is not only an author, but also does his own illustrations. He will be drawing during his talks with the students. There will be a limited number of hardback and paperback books by Hoff that students may purchase. Parents are welcome to come and visit those days. A more detailed time schedule will be available at a later date.

Ann Chubb, media specialist for grade K-8, is coordinating the author's visit.

Organizations divide food stand profits

The 4-Way Ambulance Service, Mentone Fire Department, Mentzer Park, and the Street Scene all have received monies from the profit revenue of the Mentone Food Stand located at the Kosciusko County Fair.

A total of $3,518.88 was made during the fair week. The ambulance service received $1,250 for radios; the fire department will use its $250 for new folding chairs; $1,000 will be spent by Mentzer Park for new play equipment, and the Street Scene will be purchasing trash containers and benches with its $1,000.

Support committees formed in TV School Corporation

A parent support group has been formed at Akron School. This was announced by the Akron principal, Dan Kramer, at the Tippecanoe Valley school board meeting held last week. The group was organized to help establish a more positive relationship between parents and teachers at the school. A constitution was temporarily adopted for the group by the school board. The Akron Parent Support Council will be composed of three to six parents.

A decision must be made by June 1, concerning the possible change over of finances for the 1988-89 school year. An extended plan must be established before the school can qualify for capital funds. A committee made up of administrators, board members, parents, teachers, and possibly students will be examining the needs of the school. After the study is completed, a decision will be made as to whether to switch from the present cumulative building funds program to the capital funds project.

The state is phasing out the cumulative building funds (CBF) and replacing it with the proposed capital project funds. Taxes will provide the necessary monies for the fund. This was also true for the cumulative building fund.

Free dental exams will be given to students in the elementary grades through high school in conjunction with a study being done by Indiana-Purdue University. An evaluation of two sugarless chewing gums will be done by the university which will include the free check-ups. Students participating will also receive free x-rays with the results being sent to the parents and local dentist.

Superintendent Baxter Paige reported the construction work at the three elementary schools is almost finished and that the high school roof has been completed.

A discussion was held concerning the junior high football program. The possibility of play football games at the junior high school rather than at the high school was the main topic of the discussion. A decision on the matter was tabled until the principals and coaches would talk over the pros and cons of the matter.

In other business: Jeff Hunn was approved as the new gifted and talented teacher. A former first grade teacher at Rochester, he is a graduate of Manchester College.

Kathy Prater was granted a professional leave to serve on an evaluation team and Lee Ann Rock was granted maternity leave from Nov. 2 until March 4.

Good participation was reported at Mentone and Burket during the recent parent-teacher conferences. Burket had 91 percent participation and Mentone had 78 percent participation.

Notice to absentee voters

Due to a change in election procedure, all absentee voting must be done at the Fulton County Courthouse in Rochester - weekdays 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Voting is set up in the basement so it is accessible to handicapped persons.

All homebound voters should contact the town clerk or Richard Day. A paper will be taken to them which they must sign and return to the County Clerk. Homebound voters will vote October 31.

The Tippecanoe Valley High School is considering taking an "adults only" fan bus to the football sectional game at Lakeland, Friday, October 28.

Plans at press time would include a bus making pick ups at Akron at 5:15 p.m.; the high school at 5:25 p.m.; and a final stop at Mentone at 5:35 p.m. A $1.00 fee would be charged to ride the bus.

Interested adults may contact the Tippecanoe Valley High School at 353-7031 for more information.

Serviceman appreciates mail

Dear Ladies:

The War Mothers are unavailing in assuring my birthdays are not forgotten. There are many times I am sure that we, the servicemen fail to let you know how much we appreciate your support.

In the past eight years, I have run into many types of people. There are those who could literally care less about what we stand for. Since we are in peace time it becomes for those people to forget what we might get called upon to do. However your organization has not forgotten. I thank you very much, I can live up to my country's expectation.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Phillip Smith

Bagging About Bagging

Wednesday afternoon is grocery shopping day for me. Lately, the trend has been the thin, white bags in the grocery stores instead of the brown paper bags of yesteryear. Please...bring back the brown paper bags!

Over the years, slang has changed. We don't gripe or complain anymore...we BAG! This shopper is, indeed, bagging about the recent bagging. Let me have the local grocery stores any day where they bag your groceries as if they were their own.

As I left for the grocery, I was reminded to ask for the brown paper bags so the trash would be easier to empty. With this in mind, I pushed my cart into the check-out lane. With the request on the tip of my tongue, I was sidetracked by the items flying thru the scanner!

I had fully intended to eat a Twinkie enroute to the gas station and was going to ask that it be kept separate...it went flying by as my mouth opened to ask the favor!

A pie went whizzing by and landed next to a fresh loaf of bread! "Would you please..." I started as the pie was quickly placed sideways in the sack. I decided to try one more time... "Would you mind rearranging..." Just then a bag of potato chips was mashed to fit into a bag! (These would really be "chips" at this rate!) I remembered the candy bars for the boys and Doug and a card that might be kept separate. There was no finding them...they were undoubtedly in the bottom of one of the sacks never to be found again.

On my gosh! The sacks! I looked at the sacks and sure enough, they were all white plastic ones!

On the way to the car, I wondered if there was a shortage of these wonder sacks - at least five items weren't even bagged! The boy quickly loaded the groceries into the back seat of the car and was gone. I got into the car and started for the gas station. I glanced at the groceries hoping to find the Twinkie to munch on and found a bag of potatoes on my seat with dirt sifting thru!

At the station, while the man was pumping the gas, I leaned over the seat "bagging" about the bagging. I'm sure the man was delighted with the conversation we were having. "Just look at this, a pie sideways in the bag!"

"Yes, ma'am, it sure is."

"You'd think they would keep a simple thing like a Twinkie separate for a person, wouldn't you?"

"Sure thing, ma'am," he answered as he washed the windows.

"Now just look at this, a card beside the hamburger. What next?" I bagged.

"Never can tell" he said. "Would you like the oil checked?"

"No thanks, but would you mind putting that bag of potatoes on the floor for me?"

"Wouldn't mind at all. Do you know you can get a lot of dirt on the seat from these?" he asked.

"No kidding? Thanks a lot for helping." This was truly a man after my heart.

The worst was yet to come. As we unloaded the groceries at home, we formed a line from the car into the kitchen. As we handed the sacks from person to person the handles had stretched twice their length! We wondered if the sacks were extra thin or the groceries extra heavy.

Hats off to the local grocers where you have a choice of sacks, some conversation at the checkout and a chat with the carry-out as they ask where you would like your groceries!

Business As Usual

Kay Kindig was caught by surprise for this picture. Mrs. Kindig can be found spending most of her time at Tippecanoe Valley High School. She is the school secretary. On this particular day, she was celebrating her 35th wedding anniversary. Happy Anniversary, Mrs. Kindig! (NEWS Photo)

GROWIN' OLD AIN'T BAD

Your git up and git
Has got up and got.
You wish you were young,
But you know you are not.

You think you can do,
Much as before.
Then you get aches and pains
Of old age galore.

Time rushes on,
Birthdays come fast,
Soon you're an oldster at last.
Cheer up, Honey
Growin' old ain't bad,
"Think of all the good living" you've had.

Arthritis conference offered

Arthritis affects one in three families in America. With statistics like that, it's hard to deny that coping with arthritis is a "family affair," especially when the family member with arthritis is a child or a teenager. When a family member has arthritis, the whole family is affected.

The key to living with a person with a rheumatic disease is to learn as much as possible about the disease, maintain a positive attitude, and to adjust to new situations and roles within the family.

A day-long conference is being offered to parents, siblings and children with arthritis. The conference, entitled "Families Living with Rheumatic Disease," is designed to bring together families of children with arthritis and other rheumatic diseases to explore common problems by sharing experiences and workable solutions. Participants will be provided with information about rheumatic diseases and the immune system, the outcomes of rheumatic diseases, and the effects of chronic illness on normal growth and development. A panel discussion on "The Parents Perspective" will be presented along with parent discussion groups.

Special activities such as finger painting and making Halloween decorations are planned for the children. Child care will be provided for infants. Both educational seminars and special activities are planned for teenagers.

The conference will be held on Saturday, October 31, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at Indiana University, Purdue University at Indianapolis, School of Nursing Building. Cost is $12 per family; pre-registration is required. For more information call the Arthritis Foundation at 1-800-382-4536.

Living a life of football

Concentrating on his next play, Coach Jeff Phillips walks the sidelines of a recent Valley football game. Keeping his priorities in order may be a little difficult this week with the anticipated opening game with Lakeland in the 1987 Football Sectional Friday evening.

Football ... football ... football. Coach Jeff Phillips lives, eats, and sleeps football. Jeff Phillips is the head coach of the Tippecanoe Valley Vikings and is planning his strategy for the sectional play which begins this weekend at Lakeland.

Football is not a new interest for Coach Phillips. He played football for Lewis Cass during high school. While a student at Franklin College, Phillips was the inside linebacker for the college team.

Although football is important to Phillips, he still places his family at the top of his priorities. "My family knows where I stand," said Phillips. "They know they are more important to me than anything." Tonia, Coach Phillips' wife of eight years, keeps things going at home during the football season for Autumn, who is five and Dylan who is a student at Akron Junior High School. Only other coaches wives would understand what it means to be a "football widow".

Phillips has another family: his football players. "When you work with these kids on a daily basis they become your family," explained the coach. Making good individuals of each player is important to Phillips. He believes each one of his players is a good quality person with much potential. One of the achievements of Phillips is to take the good individuals and make an aggressive football team of them. "There is no place for individuals on a football team. They have to work together or you won't have proper technique," explained Phillips. Knowing there is a job to get done, a victory to gain, Phillips works diligently with his prize individuals to get a team effort.

Football may be number one in the coach's mind this week, but down deep he realizes that the education of each player is more important than any game. According to Phillips, he can teach history and even give a test on the day of a big game and keep his thoughts in perspective.

He also expects his team members to do the same. After all, as Phillips said himself, education comes before the sport.

When viewing his future, Phillips would like to move up the ladder of achievements. Phillips quickly remarked that he is very content at Tippecanoe Valley and wants to stay involved in the Viking program. "Valley has a tremendous football program with great community support," said Phillips. Phillips stated the newly formed Football Booster Club has boosted morale as well as support to the program. The booster club has raised nearly $15,000 for the Tippecanoe Valley athletic programs.

All the time spent talking to coach Phillips, one could sense what was really on his mind - the clash with Lakeland on the 23rd. When asked about the game, Phillips said his Vikings had no limit. "We are capable of playing anyone". Football, Valley Vikings, Coach Jeff Phillips...the Valley Family moving up the ladder all together.

Defeat Whitko 7-0

The mighty Valley Vikings have gained the title of Three Rivers Conference Football Champions for the 1987 season. Last Friday the Vikings defeated Whitko, who up to that evening were also undefeated, by a score of 7-0.

Valley ended the regular season with an 8-0 record. Dion Anglin passed 21 yards for the only score of the game. The touchdown was set by some hard running and a strong defense. Steve Holloway, Sam Manwaring, and Ben Anderson ran the ball hoping for a touchdown but were stopped short of the 5-yard line and turned the ball over to Whitko. Following a Whitko fumble, Holloway recovered.

Anglin then passed his 21 yard throw to Lafferty and Tim Sparrow kicked the extra point.

Even though the second half was a defensive struggle for both teams, Valley reigned superior as Anglin intercepted a pass on the Valley 9-yard line with 49 seconds remaining in the game. The Vikings ran out the clock and the game ended with the ball close to the Valley end zone.

Holloway led the Vikings for the offense with 78 yards on 18 carries. Anderson added up 53 yards on seven attempts.

A new round of competition begins this Friday as the Valley Vikings will take on Lakeland in the first round of the sectional playoffs.

Akron Carnegie Library

New books available at the Akron Public Library are:

Time Flies, by Bill Cosby - Aging is no laughing matter, but "Time Flies" will change all that. Bill, who turned fifty this year, brings his unique warmth, wisdom and wit to a subject that seems to be on everyone's mind these days - time.

The Windhorse, by Elaine Brook - Two friends, one blind, the other an experienced mountaineer, tell of their great adventure in Nepal. The adventure Elaine and Julie planned and undertook together, to trek in winter to the 18,000 foot summit of Kala Patthar, seemed to many, unthinkable.

When the Spotlight Fades, by Susan Marie - When Gwen lands a part in the local play, the worldly director proceeds to turn her life upside down. A new romance novel.

Something Beyond Paradise, by Jan Slepian - Franny Sinone has been a dancer all her life. Now she is confronted with an opportunity beyond her dreams - a scholarship with a dance company in New York, a continent away from her home in Hawaii. A Young Adult novel.

Heaven and Hell, by John Jakes - The conclusion of the "North and South" trilogy. A portrait of individuals in crisis in the aftermath of war. It is, by turns, hard-bitten, romantic, violent, gentle, comic, lyrical, haunting. Its pace is swift, its story irresistible.

The Winds of Autumn, by Janette Oke - The heart-warming sequel to the best-seller, "Once Upon a Summer." It was Josh's remark that he was sure having a time of it trying to sort out all these different ideas and feelings - maybe he should just go fishing!

Incredible Super Trivia, by Fred Worth - A brand-new collection of fascinating facts by the author of the best-selling "Super Trivia Envy," and "More Super Trivia."

The Household Book of Hints and Tips, by Diane Raintree - The indispensable household handbook that takes you into every room of the house for best information on: food buying, stain removal, painting, heating repairs, electrical repairs, plumbing repairs, heating pictures, mending, car maintenance, cooking, and furniture repairs.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

SAVING THE ROOTS

When dentures are needed, anchoring them to the gums can help make them fit more comfortably. This helps whatever tooth roots can be saved. They act just like pilings supporting a building.

Sometimes metal attachments are made for dentures and roots, so they connect together on a miniature shaped metal cover is attached to the root, designed so that it fits into the denture for additional support. Saving the roots helps in other ways. Some people use their "sense of feel" when their teeth are covered because they've lost all of their roots and surrounding nerve fibers. When some roots are retained, they keep this sense of touch when their teeth are in contact.

There is another advantage. It helps prevent further loss of bone by reducing wear on the jawbone itself. Because of the stronger support, the dentures not only fit better, they tend to last longer before they have to be refitted or replaced.

Just as whole teeth, however, the health of the roots must be maintained as long as possible. This means regular checkups even more important for denture wearers whose roots have been saved.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121, 114 Mishawaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

Sorority hosts luncheon

Iris Dickerhoff welcomed guests at the Sunday afternoon luncheon held recently at Teel's Restaurant in Mentone for the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Xi National Sorority. The members entertained about 35 potential members from the Mentone area.

A synopsis of the past 58 years was briefly touched upon by Iris Anderson who had been an active member for 42 years. Pauline Riner, the National 1986 Psi Xi of the Year, gave her remembrances of her time.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Diana Hoyte.

More time to read books

Responding to patron demand, Bell Memorial Public Library in Mentone will initiate its new three-week lending period beginning November 1. A telephone survey conducted earlier this year by Bell's Friends group indicated a desire on the part of area residents for a longer loan time on current publications.

Video tape and "latest issue" periodical lending times will remain the same as in the past.

Also new will be the library's switch to a "Date Due" stamp. Since its beginning, over seventy years ago, the library has used a "Date Loaned" mark.

With widespread reciprocal borrowing in our state, Director Madeleine Fisher feels the time has come for the change and she asks the public to make special note of the new dating system.

Army Capt. Woodrow Bradley Jr., son of Woodrow and Oma J. Bradley of Rural Route 2, Claypool, has graduated from the Army's Combined Arms and Services Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The cornerstone of the Army's officer education system, the nine week course is designed to train officers in the skills needed to be an effective staff member with the force in the field.

The curriculum included preparing a command budget, setting up training programs, mobilizing and deploying mock units and giving staff presentations.

Airman Steven C. Sample, son of Marjorie Miller and stepson of Ron Miller of Rural Route 2, Macy, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force munitions maintenance course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

During the course, students were taught to inspect, assemble and dispose of explosive munitions. They also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Army Reserve Pvt. Dean E. Heckathorn, son of Phillip A. and Shirley M. Heckathorn of Rural Route 2, Macy, has completed a wheeled-vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the course, students were trained to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment.

Airman Jesse A. McGriff, son of Jackie A. Holloway and stepson of David L. Holloway of Rural Route 1, Macy, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force security police specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Air Force Senior Airman Jerry W. Lockwood, son of Ray S. and Ella A. Lockwood of Rural Route 2, Rochester, has arrived for duty with the 81st Aircraft Generation Squadron, England.

State Regent speaks to Mentone ladies

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, were guests of the Tippecanoe River Chapter for their October meeting, held at Teel's Restaurant in Mentone. Mrs. David Becknell returned thanks before the dinner. The decorating committee, Mrs. Floyd Shively and Mrs. Ernest Field, used 'Money Trees' made from money plants dyed red, white, blue and gold which were given to each present as favors.

Mrs. Don Poulson, Tippecanoe River regent, led the combined chapters through the opening ritual, pledge to the flag, the Americans Creed, and singing of the Star Spangled Banner. The President General's message was read by Mrs. Robert Knepper, and Mrs. Ralph Mason gave the report on National Defense.

Mrs. George Slabaugh introduced Mrs. Marion H. Miller, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who was guest speaker. Mrs. Miller gave a report on the recent State Conference, and displayed a scrapbook on the state project, the Grave-Site Beautification of President Benjamin Harrison and President General NSDAR Caroline Scott Harrison at the Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis. She also told of the President General's project, pipes and drums, which will be used to repair plumbing by a $4.00 per member donation. She also showed pictures of an Indiana Seal she will be taking to Washington for the O'Byrne Room renovation.

In an interesting report on National Defense Miller stated she is proud to be an American and a member of this dynamic United States. In spite of the doom and gloom reported by the media, it is not as bad as portrayed, but one should remember the deterioration of a government begins with the decay of its principles. In closing Miller asked "All too soon we will be the ancestors - will our descendants be proud of us?"

Mrs. Glenn Clauss, regent of the Anthony Nigo

Chapter, thanked the hostess chapter.

The next meeting will be a luncheon meeting November 14th at the Timbercrest Home, and members are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Loren Gross by November 5th.

4-H NEWS

4-H is the youth component of Cooperative Extension's nationwide educational network. For millions of youth across America, and nearly 1,000 young people locally, 4-H membership and involvement means individual achievement, a challenging future, and a lifetime of community service.

Since it's humble beginnings in the early 1900's, 4-H has reached an estimated 45 million people throughout this country. Many of our nation's leaders - in business, agriculture, education, politics, research and science - are proud 4-H alumni. Through their 4-H experiences, they honed and developed leadership, problem-solving, and management skills.

Locally, 4-H is conducted through the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service, the USDA and Kosciusko County Government. Our programs are open to all youth in Kosciusko County between the ages of 7 and 19.

4-H is unique in it's direct link to the strong research and technology base of the country's land grant universities. In Indiana, Purdue University is this vital link to basic research, and 4-H provides a highly effective educational outreach to Indiana youth.

For more information about 4-H in your community, please contact the Kosciusko County Extension office at 267-4444 or 457-5757. Our office hours are 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. Fridays.

Local students given chance to study abroad

Qualified high school students are being offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or summer holidays in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, Australia, New Zealand or Canada (French or English speaking) as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program.

Students, 15 to 18 years old, qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer host family from Europe, Canada, New Zealand or Australia.

ASSE families abroad are screened to provide a caring environment in which students can learn the language and culture of their host country. Summer exchange students live with a family who speaks English. Year students need not have learned a foreign language as they receive language and cultural instruction as part of the ASSE program. ASSE students attend regular high school classes along with their new overseas teenage friends. ASSE exchange students learn by living the language and culture of their new host country.

The non-profit, public benefit ASSE International Student Exchange Program is affiliated with the national Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and is participating in the President's International Youth Exchange Initiative.

ASSE also provides international opportunities to families to host students from Scandinavia, Germany, France, England, Australia, Spain, USA, Canada, Japan and New Zealand. These select students are 15 to 18 years old, and will attend the local high school for an academic year.

Local students or families who are interested in receiving more information about the ASSE programs can contact: Marjorie & John Barber 11628 E. Welland, Indianapolis, IN 46229, phone 317-894-9770.

Sorority meets with Hudson

The October meeting of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Iota Xi, Mentone, was held at the home of Mary Fran Hudson. Twelve members answered the roll call with a Halloween prank that they did or one that was done to them. The minutes from the September meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read and approved also.

The correspondence received during the past month was read and discussed. It was reported the caramels sold during the holidays will be available soon. It was also decided to make the cheeseballs on Saturday, November 7. The district meeting was held at Amish Acres on Saturday, October 17, with Marsha Scott, Debi McFadden, Doris Ross, Ann Blackburn and Pauline Riner attending.

The membership tea recently held was a success. Several local ladies have expressed a desire to join the club. It was decided by the members to invite those interested to the November meeting.

Dittman checking on grant availability

During a recent town board meeting held in Akron, Marshal Dittman told the board of the possibility of receiving grants for safety education and hazardous waste control to be used in the community. Dittman also reported that he is working to obtain materials for school crossing guards and information pertaining to the necessary procedures.

During the October meeting, the board also discussed the possibility of making a one-way street by the school house. According to school officials much of the congestions problems have been solved since the construction has been completed.

President Miller reported the Chamber of Commerce will be purchasing new street name signs for the ones which have been broken.

According to Superintendent Gearhart, a new shut-off valve has been installed in a main water line. A new fire hydrant on West Rochester Street has also been installed.

The town clerk will be meeting with the State Tax Board on October 29. She also presented a bid to paint the outside of the town office building. The board accepted the bid offered by Larry Bibler.

Marshal Dittman told the board he would be enforcing the curfew laws.

The next Akron Town Board meeting will be November 17.

Keeping Halloween fun

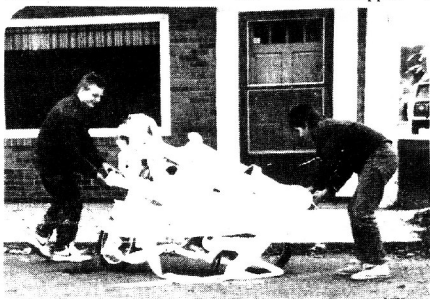

Halloween is almost here and while Linus sits in the pumpkin patch waiting for the Great Pumpkin to appear, most other children will be out trick-or-treating. To children, Halloween is dressing up in a costume and collecting lots of free candy. It's up to parents to heed a few safety precautions to make sure trick-or-treating is fun and safe.

Choose costumes carefully. Costumes should be reflective or as lightly colored as possible to increase your child's visibility to motorists after dark. Long skirts or pants are easy to trip over, and hats, wigs, and masks can obstruct your child's vision. Makeup could be used instead of a mask and is much safer. Children shouldn't carry objects other than a flashlight and a container for their treats.

community designates.

Inspect all food. Never let children eat their Halloween goodies until you've had a chance to inspect them. It's hard for a child to receive lots of goodies and not be able to sample them, so you may want to bring some snacks from home for them to nibble on. Throw away any treats that are unwrapped or

These two boys were caught in the act! Tee-peeing is a popular activity during the Halloween season. It can be done in fun as this example to Will Hodges' mo-ped. Kids, don't do it to be mean or vindictive. (NEWS Photo)

Also, comfortable, well-fitting shoes are important for a long walk.

Travel in groups. Older children should always travel in groups and younger children should be accompanied by an adult. All children should be reminded of basic traffic safety rules: cross the street only at corners or crosswalks; walk on the left-hand side of the street facing the traffic; and, always look both ways before crossing. Instruct your children to be especially watchful of traffic because they may be hard for motorists to see. If you will not be with your children, make sure they have emergency information with them. This should include your name, address, and telephone number.

Stick to safe neighborhoods. Children should trick-or-treat only in familiar areas, where they know the streets, alleys, sidewalks and people. Never go inside a stranger's home to accept candy, and only visit homes that are well lit. Trick-or-treat only on the night your appear to be rewrapped, and break candies, cookies and fruit into small pieces to inspect before eating. Some hospitals will x-ray your treats to check for foreign objects. When in doubt about an item, throw it away.

Halloween at home. If you will be home passing out goodies, this Halloween, make sure the treats you give are wrapped or sealed. If you are giving home-made goodies, include your name and phone number, so parents will know who made them. Many people are now giving out non-edible Halloween treats.

Make your home safe, by removing all obstructions from your steps and sidewalks, and keeping your home well lit. Don't decorate the outside of your home with lighted pumpkins that could catch a child's costume on fire, and keep all pets inside.

When you just take a few precautions, you make your children's Halloween much safer.

Making Your Own Magic

With Halloween approaching, National Magic Week takes on a whole new meaning at our house. This doesn't necessarily imply tricks - just incidents that appear to be "magic".

When Chris drives the car, the gasoline "disappears" from the tank - just like magic!

When Collin straightens his room in 15 minutes when it normally takes 2 1/2 hours for me, it's magic! Things just seem to disappear!

I figured if it would work for the boys, it would work for me. I made my way to the kitchen, spoke "abracadabra" with my fingers pointing toward the dirty dishes and waited. Nothing. I quickly looked at the sink and yelled, "hocus-pocus" to no avail. After reading the dictionary, I discovered the meaning was true, it was a meaningless formula. With this thought in mind, I then decided I would have to conjure up my own magic this Halloween.

I purchased the necessary supplies for roll-out cookies from the store and spent the morning decorating ghosts and witch cookies for that evening. It had been several years since I had taken the time for these. Indeed, the smiles appeared like magic!

With the kids taking care of it, I placed a pair of wax lips on Doug's pillow and then set out to prepare his favorite meal. To keep with the mood of Halloween and yet use candles, a wax ghost candle was placed on the table to be lit during the meal.

For dessert, Doug's favorite cake with decorations appropriate for the holiday.

And...what would Halloween be without a bat? I promptly rushed to the garage and brought the boys' baseball bat inside and placed it beside Doug's chair hoping he would ask why there was a bat in the house. (We have to be clever, now!)

At last, the final touch before Doug arrives...tomato juice for our meal. Not just tomato juice, but fangs to accompany it!

To top off the evening, cards for the men in my life. Before signing the cards with the nickname I have had for years, I decided to look up the meaning. Witch is defined as being someone with supernatural powers - that definitely fits me! I have to have special power to clean C.J.'s room! A witch is also a hag or old crone - I imagine Chris thinks this fits from time to time! And, yes, it also is appropriate for Doug's card. You see, a witch can also be defined as an enchantress. After removing the fangs, having a meal by ghost candlelight and putting the "bat" away, hopefully he will see the connection.

Don't make a "Boo Boo" by letting Halloween slip by without performing your own brand of magic with your family. Whatever you decide, the smiles will appear like "magic" for your efforts!

Given in memory

The book I Never Met An Animal I Didn't Like, by Rory C. Foster, DVM was given to the Akron Carnegie Public Library by Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Smith and family in memory of Keith Haney.

This is the story of a dedicated Veterinarian who set up a center where sick and injured wildlife could be treated and rehabilitated. On June 19, 1982 Rory Foster's dream came true - the official opening of the Northwoods Wildlife Center in Menoqua, Wisconsin.

In late 1984, however, Dr. Foster faced the greatest challenge of his life when he was diagnosed as having Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) more commonly known as Lue Gerig's disease. As the months went by, Dr. Wildlife was forced to relinquish his participation in the Wildlife Clinic and in his own small animal hospital.

Never one to give up the fight, Rory put his time to writing down more of his experiences with both wild-life patients and small pets. Underlying many of his accounts are poignant lessons in everything from abandonment to cruelty.

A total of thirteen teams from five counties competed in the event. The contest was sponsored by the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service, the Soil Conservation Service and the Farm Credit Service.

Contestants judged three sites for slope, surface texture, subsoil texture, natural soil drainage, limiting layer and depth to the limiting layer on four different soil classes. Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

ANALGESIA FOR CHILDREN

Maybe you have a child who keeps saying he doesn't want to go to the dentist because it will hurt. But with modern dental techniques, most of the pain and discomfort have disappeared. What has to be overcome in the case of children, in particular, is the sense of fear, and this can be accomplished with a technique called analgesia (literally - absence of pain).

An analgesic is an anesthetic agent, such as nitrous oxide gas that relaxes the patient without causing loss of consciousness. Analgesia can produce a state of euphoria or well being and tends to lessen a patient's awareness of his surroundings. This can make him much more tolerant to the thought of a discomfort if needed, a local anesthetic can be used to temporarily remove feeling from the area being worked on.

One of the best known is Oxygas. You have nothing to fear but fear itself. Once a child's fear is overcome, he will probably be glad to get the care he needs to protect his dental health.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121, 114 Mishawaka St., Akron, Phone 893-4545.

The Tippecanoe Valley Marching Guard has been bringing home the trophies and awards throughout the marching band season. Yes, that's right, the marching band season. Just as there is a baseball season, football season, cross country season, and basketball season - there is a marching band season.

At the close of every school year in the spring, band directors across the state begin planning the competition marching routine to be performed by the band. Mr. Pearson the director for the Marching Guard, is no exception. And just as football and basketball coaches work with their players during summer vacations, so does Mr. Pearson work with his 60 member band. Hours and hours of marching and memorizing of music are invaluable along with a week of intense band camp work, are combined to make up a routine which is performed at competitions as well as home football games.

As in any extra-curricular activity, funds are needed. Help is needed - manual help. A Parents Band Boosters Organization was organized in 1982 at Tippecanoe Valley to assist the band program. The Band Booster sponsor at Valley is Dr. John Hill.

The Band Boosters provide financial and moral support to the band members and to the director. They purchase uniforms, equipment, pay for transportation and competition entry fees. Boosters also alter the uniforms, prepare meals to take to the competitions, haul instruments and props to contests, and act as chaperones while traveling. The Boosters also host the ISSMA Auxiliary solo and ensemble contest held at Valley.

Besides hard work, the Boosters provide the necessary funds. The budget for the Band Boosters expenses is $13,000. One of the biggest money making projects for the Boosters is the concession stands during football season. Another big project is the Annual Auction which will be held Saturday, Nov. 7, at 10:30 in the Commons area of the high school. Several businesses and organizations have donated items for the auction and donations are still being accepted. A complete sale bill will be published in next weeks issue of the NEWS.

The Marching Guard deserves the support of the community just as the football team, basketball team or any other activity. The members of a band are very talented and work diligently to put their performances together. The Band Boosters work equally as hard to support these kids. They need your help. The Marching Guard is looking toward the State Competition in 1988, don't you want to be a part of the action? Get involved, support the band!

Fathers as well as mothers help in the Band Boosters organization. Here the men are shown unloading the instruments and uniforms for a Saturday contest.

Project Safe pamphlets here

As cold weather arrives, many low-income, elderly, and handicapped individuals will need help in meeting the high cost of winter fuel and utility bills. Applications for Project SAFE, the federally funded energy assistance program, are already being taken for those people age 60 and over. Others will be able to apply after November 9, 1987.

The Legal Services Program of Northern Indiana, Inc. has published a pamphlet outlining the basic provisions and requirements of this year's Project SAFE.

This pamphlet is free and available upon request by either calling 1-800-382-7581 toll free or by writing Legal Services, P.O. Box 1455, Lafayette, Indiana 47902.

These mothers who are part of the Band Boosters help with the bake sales held at the football games. Volunteers also are in charge of the concession stands. (NEWS Photo)
