State tax board to set hearing date

Remonstrances are filed against school projects

The remonstrances filed by patrons of the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation at both Fulton County and Kosciusko County Auditors' office last week, will cause a slow down on plans for the corporation school board to hold their bond sale in order to get started with the remodeling projects at the Akron-Burket-mentone Schools this fall.

Monday, the Fulton County Auditor's office verified 350 of 429 signatures filed in that office and the Kosciusko - Auditor's office verified 290 of 322 signatures filed at Warsaw. At least 50 signatures from property owners were needed to force a hearing on the issue before the state tax board.

The remonstrance petitions stated that those people object and remonstrate to the execution of lease rental contracts as executed August 4, 1981 between T.V.S.C. as lessee and Tippecanoe Valley Elementary School Building Corporation, as lessor, as execution of said leases are unnecessary and unwise and that the lease rentals are not fair and reasonable. The tax payer cannot bear the burden of an additional $21,600,000 to $25,900,000 long term indebtedness, plus the present debt of $4.5 million, making a possible total debt of $30.4 million.

The state tax board has to schedule a hearing to take place from five to 30 days after it receives the word on certification of the signatures on the petition from the county auditors.

Fred Rakestraw, corporation attorney, said when the state conducts the hearing, they will approve or disapprove the building project. If approved, the school board will set a date for the bond sale. If it is not approved, the building project is automatically dead.

If the state tax board allows the building project, but the bonds cannot be sold at an interest rate acceptable to the school board, the project will automatically be stopped. This would force school officials to go through the bidding procedure again if they try to undertake the construction projects at a later date.

Rakestraw said he was almost certain that the date for the hearing could not be set, the hearing completed, and the bond sale completed before the September 20 deadline when the first increase in the building costs becomes effective.

Adopt 1982 budget

At a special meeting to adopt the budget for 1982 school year, the Tippecanoe Valley School Board unanimously approved the budget as advertised.

The budget calls for a total to be collected of $1,830,492 with a tax rate of $3.83 per $100 assessed valuation. The adopted budget sets a rate of $2.24 for general fund; 67¢ for debt service; 42¢ for transportation and 50¢ for the cumulative building fund.

Superintendent Paige recommended the board adopt the school board policy manual which was offered, saying that all sections pertaining to the teaching personnel of the corporation, and instruction had been discussed with the teachers and had been approved by them. The board took his recommendation.

The board also adopted the school bus driver's manual after discussing the section about a school bus driver putting a passenger off the bus except at his regular station. Paige explained that passage was referring to a discipline problem arising on a bus, however, regular station as referred to, can be interpreted as a station designated by the parent of the student.

Contracts were approved for Terri Knechel for half-time at the high school in the guidance department; Susan Toppin, half-time for high school social studies and Pat Hoover, the school nurse.

A report on the shuttle bus from Akron and Mentone Schools to the high school look as if the cut in the number of buses was working all right, according to a check with bus drivers who said their buses were not overcrowded.

A letter submitted to the board from Principal Dan Kramer at Akron School, asked that they allow a change in the coaching positions at Akron. Jane Hunn to be the girls' volleyball coach and 7th grade basketball coach, due to Jim Gilmer moving into football coaching. The request was granted.

Th board also gave permission for Chris Martens, who attends third grade at the Catholic School in Warsaw, to ride the corporation bus which goes to Cardinal School, to and from Warsaw. His mother had not been able to make arrangements for him otherwise. She is to be responsible for him before he enters the bus and after he leaves the bus both at Warsaw and at the designated drop off point.

The board agreed as long as it creates no additional expense or liability for the corporation and does not inconvenience the bus driver on the route.

Rewarded in Heaven at the age of eleven

It all happened in a short week at one spot in the world where I happened to be. This little golden haired, blue-eyed, sweet, smiling girl, belonged to an old log cabin church, it was called God's Highway for Poor People. (Pentecostal Church).

Her dad and mom belong to the big fine church for the rich. One Sunday morning, it was pouring down rain, so the little girl asked her daddy to drive her to church, a few blocks from home. Dad and mom wouldn't take her, so she walked, got soaked wet, the next Tuesday she became ill. They called the doctor, nothing he could find. They rushed her to the hospital, she became worse and went into a comma. It wasn't long until she smiled and spoke these words, "I see a bright light and his garment." She then went to meet her reward. They held the funeral at the little log cabin church, most people had to stand outside. Together the people sang, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," then the nice old preacher read from the Bible, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course and I have kept the faith." Then the tears came rolling down his cheeks, he said, "I just can't preach this funeral." There was a soldier in the church who took the old boy's place and did a wonderful job. The story is too long for this one writing, so if I hear from a few of you that read this, I will write you again and tell you what happened to dad and mom and tell you the great and last Testimony this little girl gave.

NIPSCO files

Northern Indiana Public Service Company today (Monday, August 24, 1981) petitioned the Public Service Commission of Indiana to reduce a requested increase in purchased gas costs from two of the utility's five pipeline suppliers which was filed with the Commission on July 23, 1981.

The petition will lower the requested increase in gas costs from the two suppliers $24,837,590 -- reducing the total annual increase from $40,394,576 to $15,556,986, beginning in September. The reduction was occasioned by the temporary delay of scheduled LNG deliveries into the systems of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company and Trunkline Gas Company.

NIPSCO said the effect of the new petition would increase the bill for the average NIPSCO residential customer using natural gas for homeheating and other purposes (147,600 cubic feet a year) by about 72 cents a month or $8.68 a year instead of $2.10 a month or $25.20 as previously requested.

The bill for the average NIPSCO residential customer using natural gas for purposes other than homeheating (39,800 cubic feet a year) will increase about 20 cents a month or $2.37 a year beginning in September, instead of 57 cents a month or $6.82 a year as previously requested.

Adjustments in gas rates to NIPSCO customers, usually upward but sometimes downward, have occurred and will continue to occur as rates from NIPSCO's five pipeline suppliers change upon approval of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and the provisions of the National Energy Act of 1978.

The purchased gas adjustment filed today is the ninth filed this year. Five have been increases, while four have been decreases or reductions of previously announced increases.

If the new petition is approved as filed, the annual cost of gas for the average NIPSCO residential customer using natural gas for homeheating and other purposes (147,600 cubic feet a year) will be $578.53 beginning in September, instead of the $595.05 as previously indicated.

The average NIPSCO customer using natural gas for purposes other than spaceheating (39,800 cubic feet a year) will pay annual costs of $183.94 instead of $188.39.

NOTICE

Mentone Town Board will meet Tues., September 8 at 7:00 p.m. in the town hall due to Labor Day falling on the regular meeting day.

SUPPORTS PROGRAM

NEW YORK -- Most Americans strongly support the U.S. space program, but wouldn't want to travel in space themselves, the latest Associated Press-NBC News poll says. Sixty percent of the 1,601 adults polled by telephone said they think the United States is spending not enough or about the right amount of money on the program.

Regardless of what some people say, most of us want to do the right thing, even though we don't do it.

Higher income households to go off food stamps

Eliminating higher income households from the Food Stamp program is the first of many changes to be implemented to reduce food stamp costs in Indiana and nationally.

Effective October 1, households with income above 130 per cent of the poverty level will not be eligible to participate. Latest Bureau of Census statistics established the poverty level for a family of four at $8,410 annually. Annual gross income for a family of four in excess of $10,933 would disqualify the household from participation.

Under present law, household eligibility is based on net income at 100 per cent of the poverty level, or gross income of $13,500 with authorized deductions to arrive at net income of $8,410.

Other changes to follow are: Adjustment in the level of stamps based on cost of living every 12 months instead of every 12 months. Households applying during the second half of the month would receive only one-half of that month's allotment as opposed to the total month's allotment under the present system. Strikers will not be eligible to participate in the program unless participating prior to the strike. Benefits of household members participating will be frozen and cannot be increased during the strike period. Individuals may be disqualified from the program for "intentional misrepresentation." Currently, proof of fraud results in a 3-month disqualification.

Suing Presidents

One of the phases of the new trend toward more and more litigation--everyone suing everyone--is a flurry of law suits against former presidents and Cabinet officers.

Citizens who feel they were wronged, or their civil rights infringed, are turning to the courts. Up to a point this is, of course, the democratic process functioning normally in a free society.

Yet there must be some limit, some restraint, in this trend. When the voters elect a fellow American to be the chief executive officer, he must have some special executive power. He might make mistakes, as everyone does.

If chief executives are to be reasonably free to act, and act quickly and vigorously if the national welfare is involved, they must not be hamstrung by the fear of being endlessly dragged into court after leaving the White House if they make a mistake.

It's a complicated subject and Congress will probably, eventually, have to face it and establish some guideline. But there is a logical, common-sense reason for acceptance of some special distinction in the case of presidents, and perhaps Cabinet officers, in the area of legal accountability and redress.

About Auto Insurance

Car owners who don't shop around for the best insurance rates might be missing a better price. Increasingly, insurance companies are offering discounts. They often offer drivers with no-accident records better rates, and also those over 55.

Some companies offer better rates to drivers of cars that suffer less damage in accidents--lower repair costs. GM's J cars, some Oldsmobiles and some Cadillacs and Chryslers are affected. State Farm--the largest auto insurance company--discounts costs up to fifteen percent on 1980 and 1981 Buick Centurys, LeSabres and Electras, the Cadillac Seville and Chevrolet Malibu, among others.

There's no valid reason a safe driver, with an excellent record, driving a car with a lower repair cost, should pay the same premium as a young buck with a poor record, driving an expensive-to-repair car. Some companies even offer discounts to non-smokers and non-drinkers, also a logical policy in view of the higher accident rates for addicts and imbibers.

IRS To Pay?

A Florida G.O.P. Congressman, Bill McCollum, would change the nature of things in the relationship between the Internal Revenue Service and taxpayers who are forced to defend themselves in court.

If the IRS won its case, the taxpayer would have to bear the burden of his court costs. But if the taxpayer won his case, the government would have to pay court costs of the exonerated taxpayer.

That seems fair. Too often in the past the cost of fighting a case in court dissuaded accused taxpayers. They often gave in. IRS agents know they have this intimidating advantage. Most IRS agents are fine public servants and most of them are careful (and often more than fair) in their findings.

But if a taxpayer is wronged, he should fairly be reimbursed the considerable sum--to lawyers--he has obligated himself to pay, in his defense. That still doesn't compensate the taxpayer for his time and worry and the effort of a court struggle.

LIBRA -- Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--Think about expansion for your business or about going into business for yourself. Ask others for their opinions.

SCORPIO -- Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--Plan to become more active in the church of your choice. A sermon could provide the inspiration you are seeking. You may in turn inspire someone else.

PISCES -- Feb. 19 to March 20--Carelessness can be costly. Let those around you expect fewer errors.

ARIES -- March 21 to April 20--You can change the destiny of someone close to you. Make your decisions based on your convictions of what is absolutely best for the person involved.

TAURUS -- April 21 to May 20--Tasks should be lighter for you now. You seem to have found that organization is the key to greater accomplishments.

GEMINI -- May 21 to June 20--Be gracious with those who don't blend to your every whim. You can't have your way all the time. A pleasant attitude will give you an open door.

LEO -- July 23 to Aug. 22--The investment of time you are now using to improve your mind will pay great dividends later. Follow the rules.

Responsibility

"Who's the responsible man here?" asked the caller. "If you mean the fellow that always gets the blame," answered the office boy, "you're speaking to him now."

That's Life

"Mother," said little John, bursting into the house, "there's going to be trouble at the chemist's. His wife has got a baby girl and he's had a 'Boy Wanted' sign in his window for a week."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Dick McKee:

Have been wanting to write months ago to congratulate and to express my appreciation for your efforts in making so many fine changes and giving your readers a NEWS paper that I look forward to receiving each week. It really keeps me former Akronites much better informed than previously.

Regarding the "Shark story about Tami Ennis," thought you would like to see the story from our local paper. Between the two, it brings the story much closer to home, since I didn't know Tami was a local girl.

While I haven't had the pleasure of meeting you, might mention my parents moved to Akron in 1922 and lived there until their deaths. I graduated from Akron high in 1926, so still know many, even though I was transferred to Cleveland in 1931, we spent many weekends visiting our families.

With best wishes for your continued success, I remain, Sincerely,

Stan Huppert

P. S. Noticed we made the 25 year ago column this week.

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank the concerned friends and neighbors who gave their time and helped to clean up the Bolinger property on the corner of Walnut and Maple Streets.

I feel that just and due credit was not given to the three people most responsible for obtaining the permission from the Fulton County Health Department and the Federal Housing Authority that allowed the work to be done. Marvin and Violet Gannon and Flossie Drudge are the three people whose diligent efforts should be publicly acknowledged.

Three cheers for these three!

Sincerely,

Edith McNeeley

Dear Editor:

Thank you for the $5 check received for the July Tip-of-the-month. It was a pleasant surprise. We're very much enjoying the Mentone/Akron News under your ownership. The paper has a fine appearance and interesting content.

We appreciate your efforts and feel the newspaper will serve the area well.

Win at Whitco

By Jerry Kindig

The scoreboard so far this season has given Coach Charlie Smith the numbers that are needed to be ranked right up with the best in the state.

At the Rochester Jamboree, Valley split with a decisive victory over home team Rochester (14-0) and a disappointing but explainable loss to Caston (0-6). The Viking strategy, unthinkable to our adversaries, was to gain experience that can turn a football player into a finely tuned weapon, on the scale of the whole team instead of just nine starters that already have that element even if it meant a possible loss.

The first test of the Viking throne burst into a classic victory, downing the Whitko Wildcats last Friday night 22-0. Although the victory was by a wide margin, two possible problem areas bobbed to the surface. As in seasons gone by, penalties, twice, gave our opponents a foothold within scoring distance, but both Wildcat drives were killed short of victory. The Viking defense has always been considered a solid brick wall, but some missing bricks have not been repaired after the loss of nine seniors last year. This is typical, though, with all teams, and after experience is gained by the newcomers, the defense will be as unsurmountable as ever.

The Valley offense has been skillfully created into a time-bomb just waiting for a place to explode. A small glimmer of this was seen at the Whitko game, with a few gears a little shaky. "This season will be an outscoring match," commented a loyal fan after the final score.

At home this Friday night, the Vikings will host the Rochester Zebras. Death Valley is not seen as in danger after the wide margin of victory over the Zebras at the Rochester Jamboree.

Most Indiana schools under budgeting

The Indiana State Teachers' Association today asserted all but a few Indiana school systems have sufficient funds to continue last year's educational programs and to meet teachers' reasonable salary proposals.

Bruce Rogers, ISTA director of Collective Bargaining, noted that school corporations have cash balances and revenue receipts typically in excess of budget projections from the previous year to use.

Additionally, budget-makers are permitted to alleviate the burden on the general fund -- the fund used to finance teacher salaries and instructional programs -- by shifting some of its costs to transportation, debt service, and cumulative building funds.

In a letter written by ISTA local affiliates late in May, school superintendents were told that if these measure were not adequate to their budgetary requirements, the superintendents should advertise a local property tax levy which would give them the funding needed.

According to Doyle McAllister, ISTA assistant executive director, "if school officials did not take advantage of the allowance provided by law, school superintendents are, in effect, stating they have enough money to fund a decent level of teacher salaries. Conversely, if these revenues are shunned by superintendents and they later respond to teachers with cries of poverty, then they have willfully created their own lack of funds."

"The early evidence shows the latter to be the case," said Rogers "with 58 school corporations reporting settlements, the average is several percentage points less than the cost of living. While a couple of school corporations have given almost 11 percent raises, many more have imposed raises in the range of only two or three percent."

Between 10 and 15 corporations are estimated to have opted for the additional revenues available through tax levies. A precise number will be known when all budgets are assembled.

Both Rogers and McAllister declared teachers will not be sympathetic with superintendents who have inflicted upon themselves a lack of funds.

Those school officials will have to reprioritize their budgets to meet the fair salary proposals advanced by teachers, they said.

TO END OBLIGATIONS

The United States has transferred more than $2 billion in formerly frozen Iranian assets to Iran and a joint U.S.-Iran claims tribunal, all but wrapping up U.S. obligations under the deal that freed the American hostages. Treasury officials said recently.

PROMISES BROKEN

Seventeen promises President Reagan made in his State of the Union address were broken in the tax and budget program he championed and Congress enacted, Congress Watch, organized by Ralph Nader, a lobbying and research group said recently.

French-Holt wedding

Omitted from the story of the wedding of Miss Suzanne French and Mark Holt which was solemnized on August 15 at the Silver Creek Church of God, were the bride's attendants. We wish to apologize for the omission.

The bride's attendants were Joyce Fisher, of Rochester, maid of honor; bridesmaids were JoEllen Van Cleave, Ann Swihart, Rhonda Smith and Missy French. Flower girls were Cherie and Amy French. The ringbearer was Derek French.

URBAN GROWTH

The traditional American movement to the cities has ground nearly to a halt, with new Census figures showing the smallest urban growth in more than a century and a half. Between 1970 and 1980 it grew from 73.6 to 73.7 percent.

Tax-Free Interest
Available October 1, 1981

Tax-free interest, a benefit depositors have wanted for years, will be available at Akron Exchange State Bank on October 1 through a one-year certificate referred to as the ASC--All Savers Certificate. The ASC yields tax-exempt interest at rates up to 70% of the one-year Treasury Bill rate and will be available for deposits of $500 or more.

Individual purchasers of the ASC will be able to exclude from federal tax--for one year only--up to $1,000 of the interest earned or $2,000 on joint returns.

IF YOU ARE CONSIDERING AN ASC, THERE ARE FIVE IMPORTANT POINTS TO REMEMBER:

1. The rate hinges on the one-year Treasury Bill rate, which is not set by local banks but by the federal government's monthly auction of 52-week T-Bills.

2. Final guidelines for issuing the ASC have not been established. This will be done by a federal committee.

3. Only individuals, partnerships and estates of purchasers may receive the interest tax-free.

4. Interest will become taxable if the ASC is redeemed before maturity or if the holder borrows against it.

5. If your marginal tax rate is less than 30%, you would be better off with an Akron Bank CD.

Keeping these ASC pros and cons in mind, Akron Bank will offer the certificate October 1. In the meantime, you can decide if this is the type of investment that provides you additional savings.

September days are here with touches of golden haze, cool nights, opening of schools, with kids' faces shining, new jeans and shoes, yellow buses coming down the roads, and mothers blinking back a tear, for this is the "little ones" first year.

It is harvest time for many gardens and the Akron Keen-Agers have been busy gathering and canning or freezing vegetables and fruits for the coming winter.

The Akron Keen-Agers and I would like to thank all the volunteers who helped in any way to clean up the abandoned property at the corner of East Walnut and North Maple Streets. It is a much more pleasant view looking across the way while we are enjoying our noon meal.

The Akron Lions Club Site will be closed September 7, for Labor Day. We will be open Tuesday, September 8th. For reservations or information on volunteer work, phone 893-7204 or 893-4668.

The scheduled menus for the week of September 8 - 11 are:
Tuesday - Fried Chicken, Peas, Veg. Jello Salad, Brown Bread, Apple Crisp, Milk, Coffee.

Wednesday - Salisbury Steak, Green Beans, Cranberry Sauce, White Bread, Fruit Cobbler, Milk, Coffee.

Thursday - Fried Fish w/Tartar Sauce, Tossed Salad, Mac, and Cheese, Green Beans, Brown Bread, Jello w/Fruit, Milk, Coffee.

Friday - Chef's Special - come and be surprised!

"Meet your Neighbor"

by Onda Good

Have you met Roy Tucker at the drug store, on the town bench, leaning on a street sign or at the grocery? I'll bet you have seen this quiet, white haired, clean gentleman as he enjoys being with the people of Akron.

Last summer, while living with his brother a few miles out in the country, Roy would walk to town, if transportation wasn't available, and enjoy being a part of the warm friendly town of Akron. Usually someone going in his direction would see that Roy got home in the evening. He had lived with his brother Ernie until Ernie's recent death. At that time it was necessary for Roy to rent an apartment and furnish it. He was on crutches at that time and not too well after his 35 days of hospitalization. In spite of all this,

Roy has a pleasant personality. He enjoys reading the newspaper, watching a ball game on a borrowed TV, especially the St. Louis Cardinals. Ask him about the Cardinals.

Roy is now moving into the Schuler's Northside Apartments. He has need of a few dishes, pans, silverware, perhaps a couch and easy chair, a TV, table lamp or floor lamp or anything to make an apartment a home. If you would like to help in this local project with a household item or perhaps cash, please call Onda Good or the Lions Club Senior Citizens Site. Several members of the local churches are helping in the collection also. Let's give Roy a helping hand over a rough spot in the road. It will make you feel good too!

Local telethon for Muscular Dystrophy

The Rochester JayCees are once again sponsoring the local Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy at their clubhouse, the JayCees Building on West 7th Street. They are once again taking an active part in the telethon by answering the phones for pledges during the midnight "graveyard" shift. Those wishing to phone in a pledge to their favorite JayCee and talk to them may call the pledge number from midnight to 7 a.m. The phone number this year to call in a pledge is 223-8281.

Other events taking place to help the Muscular Dystrophy Association and their patients are the volunteer firemen will again have their "Boot Days" on September 4th and 5th where they will collect money from passing motorists at the main intersections.

Also, Danner's 3-D Department Store will sponsor an Auto Care Fair and Car Wash at their parking lot at the Rochester Plaza. This will take place September 2nd to September 5th. There will also be a bake sale at the same location. All proceeds will go to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

Kathleen Rankin, pledge center and county coordinator, said that volunteers are still needed for the other shifts for various jobs, such as answering the phone, writing receipts, sorting mail, etc. Those wishing to volunteer should call Ms. Rankin at 223-4918 after 5:30 p.m. any day. Those in the Macy, Fulton or Akron areas may call Ms. Pam Moore at 382-4611.

The telethon starts at 8 p.m. Sunday, September 6, and ends at 5:30 p.m. Monday, September 7. It will be broadcast locally on Channel 28, WSVJ-TV from South Bend-Elkhart.

It is hoped that various county people will appear on the TV during the local "cutaways." Details about appearing on the TV may be obtained from Ms. Rankin by calling her at the above number.

Ms. Rankin reminds area people that there are several muscular dystrophy patients in the county, and that money collected here stay in the county for their benefit.

EMT's to hold car wash

During the meeting of the Akron Unit of the Fulton County E.M.S., the members discussed items decided during the county meeting which included: payment of $100 a year allowed to full time EMT's and drivers for reimbursement for clothing and mileage; and $15 per run, based on a three man/woman crew. The money to be deposited in a separate account at Akron, and be split equally between the drivers and EMT's since they all are on call about the same period of time every other week, or the decision could be made to purchase some additional equipment for the ambulance with the money. Cut rates for EMT's or drivers on insurance would only be in effect if the person's insurance does not cover all of the expense.

Crews who will be covering the football games at Tippecanoe Valley were set up and times set for the crew to be at the field.

The Akron EMT's and drivers will have another car wash to raise funds for equipment, on Saturday, September 5, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Akron ambulance garage. Cost for a wash was set at $3.50 and a complete cleaning job, in and out will be $5.50.

The group is checking on the date they can have the Akron Park for their picnic.

Orville Reese has resigned as a day crew driver, but said he would be a back-up if needed. Bill Yeager returned to the group as a night time driver. Since Judy Smith could not represent the group at the county monthly board meeting, Marilyn Craft volunteered for the assignment.

Crystal Weida will be conducting a defensive driving course for the Akron drivers and EMT's at a date to be announced later. Suzi Caudill, the unit's CPR instructor held an in-service for those present.

Akron library receives listening center

Bell biography published

Larry, a biography of Mentone native Lawrence D. Bell, has been published by Nelson-Hall, Inc. of Chicago.

The book's author, Donald J. Norton, spent several days in Mentone a few years ago talking with local residents about the man who was responsible for the country's first helicopter and whose engineers created the first airplane to break the sound barrier.

The book includes frequent mention of Mentone as well as descriptions of America's first air show, Bell's 1938 spy trip to Nazi aircraft factories and the development of America's first jet.

Lawrence D. Bell, the son of Isaac and Harriet Sarber Bell, was born in Mentone on April 5, 1894. He attended school in Mentone until 1907 when he moved to Santa Monica, California, with his family. He later dropped out of school to work as a mechanic for his brother, Grover, and the great stunt pilot, Lincoln Beachey. From this beginning, he rose to become one of the foremost leaders in aviation, but his story has never before been told in a full-scale biography.

Driver injured

A single vehicle accident on State Road 14, West of Akron, on Wednesday afternoon, resulted in injuries to the driver and the loss of the load.

The driver, Daniel Law, of 4792 W. Townsend Road, St. Johns, Michigan, was driving a 1980 International truck belonging to Schwan Sales, of Monticello, loaded with Tony's Pizzas and Sandwiches. Law, traveling west on Rd. 14, said he was forced off the road by another vehicle which did not stop, causing the truck to swerve back across the road and upset. Damage to the rig was estimated at $45,000. Law was taken to Woodlawn Hospital by the Akron E.M.T.'s and received 29 stitches to his head and face, then released. The Akron police investigated.

Tax-Free Interest

Available October 1, 1981

Tax-free interest, a benefit depositors have wanted for years, will be available at Akron Exchange State Bank on October 1 through a one-year certificate referred to as the ASC--All Savers Certificate. The ASC yields tax-exempt interest at rates up to 70% of the one-year Treasury Bill rate and will be available for deposits of $500 or more.

Individual purchasers of the ASC will be able to exclude from federal tax--for one year only--up to $1,000 of the interest earned or $2,000 on joint returns.

IF YOU ARE CONSIDERING AN ASC, THERE ARE FIVE IMPORTANT POINTS TO REMEMBER:

1. The rate hinges on the one-year Treasury Bill rate, which is not set by local banks but by the federal government's monthly auction of 52-week T-Bills.
2. Final guidelines for issuing the ASC have not been established. This will be done by a federal committee.
3. Only individuals, partnerships and estates of purchasers may receive the interest tax-free.
4. Interest will become taxable if the ASC is redeemed before maturity or if the holder borrows against it.
5. If your marginal tax rate is less than 30%, you would be better off with an Akron Bank CD.

Keeping these ASC pros and cons in mind, Akron Bank will offer the certificate October 1. In the meantime, you can decide if this is the type of investment that provides you additional savings.

Fenix given five-year term

Noting that any lesser sentence would depreciate the seriousness of the crime, Circuit Court Judge Richard Sand sentenced Danny Junior Fenix, 18, of 210 East Center St., Burket, to five years in prison.

Fenix was found guilty of child molesting, a Class C felony, by a jury on Aug. 11. He was also charged with rape and criminal deviate conduct, both Class B felonies, along with child molesting after county police said he forced a 15-year-old Warsaw girl to perform sexual and oral intercourse with him on March 28 by threatening to beat and kill her. The jury elected found him not guilty on those charges.

The Class C felony, of which he was found guilty, carried a possible 2 to 8 year prison terms. Had he been convicted of either Class B felony, he could have faced 6 to 20 years behind bars, as well as up to a $10,000 fine on any of the charges. The jury also had a choice of finding him guilty of a lesser and included offense, battery, a Class A misdemeanor, which carries a prison term up to one year in jail and a fine up to $5,000.

Although the incident occurred when Fenix was 17 years old, the case was venue from the juvenile section of Superior Court to the adult section of Circuit court.

"You are totally unrepentant," the judge told Fenix prior to sentencing. "You think you have the right to shove little girls around as you please, as part of your freedom of choice."

Preserving Marriage

It is very much in the interest of family life, and the social stability of the nation, that Americans preserve the institution of legalized marriage. Yet the judiciary and lawyers are steadily eroding this concept—in their acceptance of more and more permissiveness.

A nationally-syndicated columnist recently charged that the legal profession was threatening the institution of heterosexual marriage by bringing all sorts of cases today which would have been thrown out only ten years ago—in behalf of male homos, lesbians and unmarried couples simply living together.

If clever lawyers succeed in establishing "rights" for these clients, many of the advantages of heterosexual marriage will have largely disappeared, the institution having been undermined. Society will have entered into a more chaotic, permissive and confused moral state.

Things have gone so far that in New York a federal court has held that banks and other institutions offering mortgages must take into account the salaries of both partners in relations where a couple is unmarried but living together! But what protection does this leave the loaning institution—since these relations are less permanent and secure than legal marriage relationships?

The lawyers of this nation have a major responsibility in developing social trends. William Safire, the brilliant columnist and author, is proud to note that twenty-five percent of the nation's lawyers today are fellow Jews. They can do much for their country if they make a major effort to support its heritage and customs and mores—and refuse to support every theoretical, liberal idea, as martyrs and minorities are so often tempted to do.

The same is true about homosexual marriage. Liberals, activists and agitators often champion any rights cause, whatever the long-time consequences. In legitimizing homosexuality and cloaking it with "rights" and responsibility, one is simultaneously undermining heterosexual marriage—on which the future of the nation depends.

The courts should throw out suits seeking to legitimize sleeping partner relationships, infatuation situations and relationships with no established legal basis. If not, the number of the nation's illegitimate children will soar, heterosexual marriage will be discouraged, and more and more people will simply begin a family and solemn obligation by doing nothing but starting to live together—not licensed as a family by any civil or religious authority or magistrate—and free to move on like any hound dog, at the urge of passion or a better bed partner.

Our judges and lawyers will have produced this ruinous state of social and moral decay with their permissiveness, their refusal to defend our traditional moral values and ethics, as a nation of legally-recognized families.

Innocent Losers

In the flood of publicity given the air controllers' strike in recent weeks, the innocent losers, whose fate has not often been acknowledged, are employees of the airlines who have lost their jobs because of the reduced number of flights.

Eastern Airlines recently laid off 3,000. Other airlines have released both flying and ground personnel. These employees didn't violate an oath and didn't break the law—as did striking controllers. They are truly innocent victims.

And their lost jobs, in addition to curtailed air service, are the result of an ill-fated, illegal strike against the nation by controllers, who at least made their own decision to walk off their jobs.

Letter to the Editor

Several dedicated persons have been working real hard to get ready for the Trail of Courage Rendezvous and deserve a special note of thanks.

Vincent Berwanger, Ralph Bryant, Carl Davis, Bill Willard, Bob Kuyoth, Lester Crabbs, and Harold Reese worked getting the woods ready, building benches and booths, hauling away brush, hauling in firewood and tin roofing, mowing. Jeff Schnarel, Neil Easterday, Freddy Brown, Billy Willard, Johnny Hedrick, and Jonny Wooten helped haul brush. Also several SPEDY employees and a boy assigned to community service by the court helped.

Clyde Neff lent his big truck. Glen Miller of the Perryburg sawmill donated firewood. Margaret Nellans and Marilyn Burns donated tin roofing. Vern Hibner donated slab wood for benches. Ralph Bryant donated poles.

Several women sewed frontier shirts for the men to wear during the Trail of Courage Rendezvous: Lois Wagoner, Bertha Waltz, Ruth and Alice Tetzlaff, Shirley Willard, and Lora Ousley.

A bit of excitement was added to the work in the woods because a cow had escaped from the sale barn and was loose there for several weeks. The cow reportedly chased one SPEDY boy but he lived up to the title and got away. Everyone stalked the trails looking for the cow but a glimpse of white running through the brush was all that could be spotted. Once Orland Boone almost got the cow but it rammed into his truck, dented it, and got away again. Finally Boone enticed the cow into a pasture with some other cows and got it to eat and stay there.

Thank you also to the office volunteers who addressed envelopes and folded letters so we could get the word out to over 50 newspapers and all the schools within 60 miles of here.

We are not calling all the members for donations and volunteers like we did other years. Instead, if you can work, please call the FCHS office at 223-4436 and tell us when you can work. The shifts are 9 to 1 and 1 to 5 both Saturday and Sunday.

Plan to attend the sixth annual Trail of Courage Rendezvous Sept. 19-20 in Kern's woods at the corner of Olson Road and New U.S. 31. It's pure fun! And educational too.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

My husband was an invalid for years and as a result, I was confined to our home. Now I am not complaining as I loved my husband and stayed with him because I wished to do so and he was happier when I was with him.

Now my problem is this. He died a year ago and I was left with his estate which was considerable. I have always wished to travel and during the year I have had several lovely and expensive trips. I understand, through the grapevine, that I am being criticized by some of my friends—who would like to travel but who haven't the money to do so. They talk about these "rich" widows who can't wait to get their husbands in the grave so they can spend his money. My children, who are married, are also critical. I suppose they think that there will not be so much for me to leave when I pass on.

What do you think about this?

Widow--Fla.

The man who tried to work all day and night, too, isn't always the fellow who gets the most work done.

Answer:

I shouldn't let what such friends (?) say about my travels worry me if I were in your place. They speak of his money but you earned that money as much as he did by rearing his children and devoting your life to making a happy home for him.

Your children should be glad that you now have the opportunity to enjoy some of the pleasures that you missed in the past, when you were doing what you considered to be a wife's duty.

No matter how well a person lives or conducts her life there will always be some people who find fault, so my advice to you is to continue to enjoy the fruits of you and your late husband's labors and pay no attention to your critics.

Louisa.

Address: Louisa, Box 532, Orangeburg, S. C. 29115

Those who have been waiting for cooler weather will soon get it, and pay for it in the form of heating bills.

The Akron Keen-Agers enjoyed the Grand Opening of the Schuler Northside Apartments last weekend. Some of our people are preparing to move into their new home. It is a busy time for them.

We all enjoyed the three days of Labor Day weekend. Maybe it was a short trip, talking with old friends or just relaxing in the easy chair.

While out driving along the way, have you seen nature's display? The colored zinnias blooming free. Old-fashioned yet with dignity balsam sweet and marigolds? The morning-glory is the flower for September.

Morning and evening adult education classes are now available at the Akron School cafeteria on Tuesday and Thursday, 7 to 9 p.m.; Akron Church of God, Saturday, 9 to 11:30 a.m. You can receive more information by calling Tippecanoe Valley High School at 353-2065 or 893-7221.

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the Northern Indiana Co-Op News, September 3, 1941. 40 YEARS AGO:

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Tucker, daughter Mary Jane and son Robert, of South Bend, Miss Lily Tucker and Miss Betty Doran, returned last Friday from a week's trip in the east. They visited in Washington, D.C., and New York City and report a fine trip.

Dale Kelley, principal of the Mentone schools, announced Tuesday that the enrollment to date was 356, or considerably more than last year.

Jack Shinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shinn, managed, by some trick of fate, to escape with only minor cuts and bruises when his car skidded on the wet pavement near North Manchester Saturday night. The car skidded into a telephone pole, rolled over a number of times and ended up a total wreck.

A belt Jack was wearing, made of hooked spring steel, was entirely ripped in two at the back while the wearer had only a couple of scratches. The car lost the decision on a technical KO.

William J. [Bill] Blue, son of Mrs. Emma Cook and graduate of the Mentone High School with the class of 1933, is now pitching baseball with the Erie (Pa.) Sailors and won his first game 4 to 3. This win placed his team in second place.

Miss Lily Tucker, who has clerked at Hill & Lemlers for a number of years, has accepted a position with the Kroger Store in Akron.

Mrs. Mary Jane Johnson has purchased the Miles Manwaring house and will soon become a resident of Mentone, according to M. O. Mentzer, who made the sale.

Mrs. Myrtle Davis and granddaughter, Debra Davis of Warsaw, attended the Miller-Bemenderfer reunion at the Koecker City Park last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Perry entertained with a square dance at their home Monday night. A "Sadie Hawkins" theme was used throughout in decorations, contests, and evening apparel. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardesty, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell of Clunette, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin of Burket, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffer and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jordan of Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Deed Shirey, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kindig, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williamson of Pierceton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lucht, Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Keifer, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tibbets. Dick Kindig won the wife calling contest, and Mrs. Frank Hardesty won the rolling pin throwing contest.

Humorous prizes were awarded the shortest man, the man married the longest, the man with the largest waist, the girl with the smallest waist, the couple with the brightest eyes, etc.

A daughter, Sandra Jo, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barkman at the McDonald Hospital at Warsaw last Friday morning. The new arrival weighed seven pounds, 11 ounces. Mrs. Barkman and new daughter returned to their home at Mentone on Monday. Mr. Barkman is manager of the Co-Op Oil Station here.

Mrs. Earl Shinn, while working at the Frozen Locker Tuesday evening, was so unfortunate as to get her right hand in a power meat grinder and the tip of one finger was mangled. It is to be hoped that she will not have to have the finger amputated at the first joint but no report has been received that stated definitely one way or the other.

The Shinn family has met with considerable misfortune recently. A daughter, Patricia, underwent an appendicitis operation recently and while recovering from that contracted a kidney infection and the past few days has been suffering terribly. A son, Jack, had his car skid on the wet pavement a few days ago and miraculously escaped with his life but the car was demolished.

Taken from the Northern Indiana Co-Op News, June 6, 1951. 30 YEARS AGO:

Betty, Billy and Bobby Grifffs spent Saturday night with their cousins, Jay and Jane Trowbridge at the Judah Trowbridge home in Bourbon. Sunday evening a delightful birthday supper was given in the Trowbridge home for the 15th birthday of Jane Trowbridge, and Billy Grifffs' 14th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McGowen celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, June 3rd with a family dinner in their home. The celebrants received many beautiful gifts of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker, daughter Linda, Mrs. Emma King and Mr. and Mrs. Don Baker spent Sunday evening in Loganport as guests of Mr. Cassel Masterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox and Louise spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Gustason of West Chicago.

The first free band concert of the 1951 season will be held at Mentone on Saturday evening, June 9. A lot of the old timers are expected to join with the high school band and there's no telling how many participants there will be. Roger Kelly, the new school music instructor, will be on hand to do the directing.

News You May Have Missed

NICKLE-ON-THE-DOLLAR.

How would you like to pick up $19 billion in assets for a meager $820 million? Of course you might not have a spare $820 million around the house, but Midland Bank of London has, and they used it to make a bid for California's fourth-largest bank, Crocker National Corp., including its subsidiary, Crocker Bank, the 12th-largest bank in the United States and the oldest national bank in California. Since 1970, there have been at least 100 foreign acquisitions of American banks. Overseas investors now control more than 15 percent of U.S. banking assets, worth an estimated $230 billion. In California it is even worse. Banks and financial agencies owned outright by foreign entities now control resources exceeding $43 billion, or about 20 percent of all banking assets in the state. If the Midland-Crocker deal goes through, the assets under foreign domination will rise to $63 billion, or nearly 30 percent.

WHERE IT'S GOING. Overseas Social Security payments now amount to about a billion dollars a year. They are going to dead people and for dependents who are only "paper adoptees," says Social Security Commissioner Jack A. Svahn. Says Svahn, "We've got a heck of a problem documenting what's a legal benefit and what's not," citing language and cultural difficulties in addition to distance. Some 330,000 beneficiaries collect the money, mostly in the Philippines, Mexico, Greece and Italy.

CAST YOUR BREAD UPON THE WATERS AND YOU'RE GOING TO GET SOGGY BREAD. A panel of top-level banking experts has warned of growing danger that poor countries plagued by high oil prices will stop making payments on their international debts, a failure that could shake the world's banking system. The International Monetary Fund estimates that by the end of this year, 87 poor countries that do not produce oil will be $418 billion in debt.

ENRICHING WHOM? Soviet-American trade, which has been suffering since Moscow's military intervention in Afghanistan, has received a shot in the arm from an unusual source: the transfer of enriched uranium from the Soviet Union. Some $43.8 million worth of uranium entered the U.S. from the Soviet Union in 1980. That's the first time this has happened, but industry sources say that it could be the beginning of a trend.

RIGHT TO KNOW. California tax rights advocate Harold R. Boylan has appealed a court ruling that television cameras cannot be present when he goes to trial on "failure to file" charges (SPOTLIGHT, July 20). Boylan maintains that he was not required to file under the law and that the IRS has wantonly disregarded very basic American principles in an overzealous approach to collect taxes from many Americans who do not owe income tax. "A public trial would go far to make the public aware of the tactics used by the IRS to which a crescendo of Americans are taking exception," Boylan said. He insists that the refusal to allow TV cameras is an attempt by the Establishment to black out his arguments regarding who is required to file and who is not.

WHEN IN DOUBT, STALL. What should a doctor do when third parties ask to see his medical records? Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Greater New York has been demanding to see and photocopy the medical records of large numbers of Medicare patients. Sometimes a veiled threat comes through that failure to cooperate could result in delayed payments, according to the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons. Three months ago, a Florida physician allowed BC/BS to "review" his records. A month ago they got in touch for the first time and said further review was necessary. They still have his records. Sanford A. Kaplan, MD, writing in "Private Practice" magazine, suggests that if a physician feels a request for review of records is unjustified, the doctor should delay. Ask for a copy of the legal authority being used by the agency which is requesting the review. Dr. Kaplan suggests. Send the request to your congressman and complain about government-sponsored intrusion, he said. Insist that the patient sign a release form before the records are sent and ask the patient to inform his congressman, too. Finally, charge $75 for your time, Dr. Kaplan says. "By then the agency will be so frustrated chances are good that they will drop the matter," he said.

PROBLEM SOLVED. According to the "Wass Journal," the problems associated with the 200-mile-per-gallon Pogue carburetor have been solved by Daniel C. Maltz, publisher of "Better Ideas for America" of Atlanta. The Pogue carburetor was developed in Canada during the mid-1930s, and was documented as getting 200 miles per gallon of fuel. Then, suddenly, it stopped working. Modern gasoline caused the problem, Maltz told "Wass." Maltz said that Tom Ogle, who copied the Pogue design and used naturally processed gasoline achieved 105 miles-per-gallon on a 1970 Ford with a 352 cubic inch engine in tests certified by engineers from Texas A&M.

GOOD NEWS FOR OUR SIDE. The number of Americans paying lower taxes than they should is soaring, says the commissioner of the IRS, Roscoe Egger. When a member of the audience Egger was addressing commented that tax shelter promoters told investors not to fear IRS probing, because that agency was hopelessly bogged down with investigations, the commissioner responded, "Most unfortunately, as of today, there's some truth in what they're saying."

Right On!

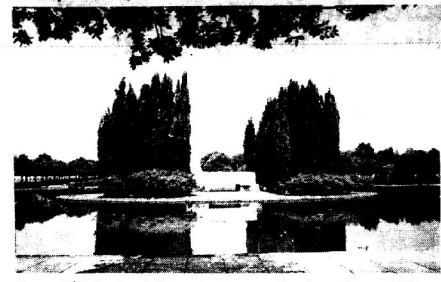

TELEVISION DEPLORABLE. The head of the Coalition for Better Television (CBT) says that the decision of CBS to make a TV drama about the Atlanta youth murders is "absolutely deplorable. CBS sees an opportunity to make a dollar," said Donald E. Wildmon. The Methodist minister said his group will begin their fall monitoring in September.

Killing Hunters

Each year thousands of American hunters are shot by accident, many fatally. Most of the tragedies occur in fall and early winter, many on opening days for deer and other hunting seasons.

Rifles, of course, are deadly at long range. Shotguns are even more dangerous at close range.

The usual accident causes are failure to unload guns, firing at a moving target before careful identification, carelessness in carrying guns and hasty or excited shooting.

A small lake is at the entrance to the American Military Cemetery at Nettuno, near the Anzio beachhead. More than 7,800 Americans who died in the Italian battling from Sicily north to Rome are buried here.

IRS SKEPTICAL

The Internal Revenue Service said it has substantial doubts about the tax consequences of widely advertised investment packages linking short-term interest rates as high as 40 percent with the new "all-savers" certificates.

POST OFFICE & ADS

The U.S. Postal Service, looking for ways to make money, asked for public reaction to the idea of selling advertising on mail trucks, stamp booklets and even the backs of postage stamps.

MISSILE FIRED

A U.S. reconnaissance plane flying in South Korean and international airspace was apparently fired at by a North Korean surface-to-air missile recently but was not hit and landed safely. U.S. officials said.

WHO Speaks for You...the People?

The newspaper. Freedom of speech and freedom of the press are vital to our freedom as a nation. Without the right to be informed and to speak out, democracy could not work. As your newspaper, we speak for you...proudly!

"You cannot have a good town without a good newspaper, and with a genuine up-to-date newspaper a town cannot long remain obscure and uninteresting."

Motorcycle "endorsement" required before Sept. 30

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles would like to remind all Indiana motorcycle riders that September 30, 1981, is the last day to obtain a motorcycle endorsement under the "grandfather clause." If the required endorsement is obtained this month, only a written test and a three dollar ($3) fee is required. This endorsement may be obtained at any local license branch by any individual currently holding a valid driver's license.

Beginning October 1, 1981, the motorcyclist must obtain and hold a motorcycle learner's permit for at least thirty (30) days prior to obtaining the motorcycle endorsement. Enforcement of this law will also begin at this time.

While holding this motorcycle learner's permit, the individual is restricted by law, in operating his motorcycle as follows:

1. The motorcycle may be operated only during daylight hours.
 2. The operator must wear a helmet.
 3. No passengers, other than the driver, may be carried.
- Commissioner Michael M. Packard, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, stated, "To date approximately 95,000 motorcycle endorsement have been issued. We urge all motorcyclists to take advantage of this 'grandfather clause' which was created by state legislators as a convenience for Indiana residents."

Trail of Courage to have music

The sixth annual Trail of Courage Rendezvous will have music by the Preservation Band of Indianapolis on its arena schedule this year. The group of eight musicians play old-time instruments and period music on a grant from the Indiana Arts Commission. In addition, Nancy Eversole, "The Kentucky Woman" from Mishawaka, will play her dulcimer. Joanna Sheetz of Rochester, will play accordion, and Proctor's Artillery will bring its fife and drum corps.

The Trail of Courage Rendezvous will be Sept. 19-20 at Rochester, Indiana. The Rendezvous is a living history festival and is held in a pine woods on the Tippecanoe River north of Rochester on U.S. 31. Open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., the two-day event features tipi village, muzzle loading and tomahawk contests, Indian dances, storyteller, pioneer crafts and foods, and a canoe landing skit depicting the history of early trade between white men and the Potawatomi Indians.

Several special groups will be taking part in the rendezvous. Proctor's Artillery of Chicago area will fire their cannon and march in authentic Revolutionary War drill patterns. Kekionga Long Rifles of Fort Wayne will do the canoe landing skit. Memorize Muzzle Loaders of Marshall County will conduct the shooting contests. County Extension news

Plump, red, juicy and nutritious describes tomatoes to a "T." If you have an overabundance of tomatoes you may consider canning them for future use. Many homemakers are questioning the acidity of their tomato variety and wondering if they should pressure can.

Modern varieties of tomatoes present no greater home canning risks than older varieties. It has been known for several years that the acid content of a tomato is highest when the tomato is ripe and ready to pick. If a tomato is allowed to become overripe and soft, the acid content will be lower and may not be high enough to prevent formation of the botulinum toxin. Overripe tomatoes whose skins have broken or those with soft spots decay, or mold should not be canned. These tomatoes have less acid than firm, just-ripe tomatoes. Also, do not attempt to process tomatoes picked from dead vines, instead, use them fresh in salads or stews.

The USDA still recommends that tomatoes and tomato juice be processed in a boiling water-bath. Good quality tomatoes should be used, and the recommended procedures for canning tomatoes should be followed.

Today's tomatoes are similar in acid content to most older varieties. Several so-called "Low-acid" tomatoes are actually not low in acid, but high in sugar.

which masks the tart, acid flavor of the tomato. Also, yellow tomatoes are processed in the same manner as red tomatoes. The color indicates a different variety only.

Tomatoes that are packed hot into canning jars should be processed for 10 minutes for pints and quarts; packed raw - 35 minutes for pints, 45 minutes for quarts. Tomato juice that is packed hot into jars must also be water-bathed for 10 minutes.

Be sure tomatoes are properly sealed before putting them into storage. Let them cool for 12 hours after they are taken out of the water bath. If tomatoes continue to "work" in the jar after standing for 12 hours, they were not completely processed. During winter storage, check them periodically. Mold may grow on improperly processed tomatoes. The mold can reduce the acidity to the point where botulism can grow. Don't attempt to salvage a moldy product by scraping the mold off the surface. Discard the entire contents of the jar. The botulism bacteria will grow directly beneath the mold where the acidity has been reduced and then diffuse through the entire canned product.

Additional tomato information can be obtained by contacting the Extension Office and requesting the free bulletin on "Canning Tomatoes."

About Generics

Grocery shoppers should probably exercise caution in the rush to buy generic products, according to some experts. A recent report by a national consumer's magazine showed, for example, that generic detergents were often more expensive--when measured by the job done--than name brands.

Another organization found that the quality of paper products sold under a generic label was inferior to name-brand products. On the other hand, several private research organizations and a Department of Agriculture expert were recently quoted as saying that in the area of canned foods, generics are often a better buy--and equal in quality.

In short, the shopper must experiment and investigate--to find which generics are a bargain. They are also a bargain, in some cases, in the field of drugs. And they, along with innovations such as scanners, can work to bring total food and drug bills down.

Progress isn't achieved by following the crowd.

Democratic Women's Club meets

The Fulton Co. Democratic Women's Club met for their Aug. meeting in the Civic Center Cafeteria.

Meeting was called to order by the president followed by the pledge to the flag.

There was no secretary's report since we had no regular meeting in July due to the 4-H Fair that week.

The meeting was then carried on with a discussion of old and new business, after the discussion the president turned the meeting over to the hostesses.

We all enjoyed a game and refreshments were served and the meeting was then dismissed.

Consumer notes...

Beehive hairdos and taifins on automobiles may have been quite stylish, the last time you saw the innards of a textbook. But it's not too late to pick up your education where you left off.

And, you won't be an oddity on campus: more than a third of today's college students are over 25, and better than 40 per cent of all post-secondary enrollments are part-time. And if money is the main obstacle for you, you may be able to get help from Uncle Sam.

According to the U.S. Dept. of Education, the exact same types of aid that you'd normally associate with students coming straight out of high school are available to "non-traditional" scholars like yourself. You can be eligible if you're enrolled at least half-time. Vocational education is covered, too. For details, get a copy of Federal Financial Aid for Men and Women Resuming Their Education. It's free from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 649J, Pueblo, Colorado, 81009.

Most of the federal aid programs are based on a mathematical computation of your "need" essentially, what it will cost to go to the particular school you've chosen, minus what you're able to contribute toward this cost. If you'll need to hire a babysitter or cut back on your hours at work to attend school, it's possible for these items to be figured in. Make your application for need-based programs at the financial aid office of whatever school you're considering.

The backbone of these programs is the Basic Grant, which can range from $132 to $1,670 for the upcoming school year. You don't have to repay it, and you can get other aid on top of it. A Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, which also does not have to be repaid, can vary from $200 to $2,000 per year. And if you're eligible, a National Direct Student Loan will let you borrow money for your education at just 4 per cent interest - up to $12,000 for students going all the way from freshman through a graduate degree.

There are also work-study programs, where your work hours are structured to accommodate your class schedule, and you earn at least the minimum wage.

Even if you don't qualify for any of the need-based programs, you may be able to take advantage of a Guaranteed Student Loan. You can apply for one of these at a private lending institution like a bank or credit union, and also through some schools and agencies of state governments. With this type of loan, your interest rate is only 9 per cent, and the federal government pays the interest for the time you're in school. You can borrow up to $2,500 per year as an undergraduate; $5,000 per year as a graduate student. The booklet provides more complete information.

And, when you order Federal Financial Aid for Men and Women Resuming Their Education (FREE), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration, the Catalog lists about 200 free and low-cost titles of general consumer interest.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT

American investments abroad increased 14.3 percent last year, about the same as in the year before, the government reported recently. The Commerce Department said the United States' direct investment position abroad rose $26.7 billion to $213.5 billion at the end of 1980.

CRITICIZED

Labor, civil rights and women activists assailed the Reagan administration's proposed easing of rules covering affirmative action programs of firms doing business with the government. Even the U.S. Chamber of Commerce criticized the rules changes, saying they don't go far enough to relax such requirements.

Zebras visit "Death Valley" and lose 57-0

In an outstanding display of overbearing strength the Valley Vikings defeated the Rochester Zebras by a score that speaks for itself, 57-0.

The Friday night game was the first home game of the season and carried on the Death Valley tradition to 35-1.

Just three minutes into the first quarter, Valley scored its first touchdown making the score 8-0 after the 2 point conversion blasted through to the goal line. The Zebras dug in for a fight but the Vikings soon just overwhelmed their desperate counter-attack and scored a safety, pushing the score up to 10-0.

The whole first half reflected the inability of the Zebras to even slow down the Valley offense. After Jim Anderson kicked a PAT the half ended with a score of 29-0.

Past opponents have complained that if Valley has a team on its knees it will continue to pound away at full strength until they have rubbed their opponent's nose into the dirt. Against Rochester, though, the Vikings shifted down gears, replacing starters with less experienced players, until the major building blocks of the offense were filled by sophomores.

The final quarter of the game gave some unexperienced backfield players a chance to show their possible potential in coming games. Luis Santamaria and sophomore Lee Swihart scored the final two touchdowns of the night. Both touchdowns were topped off by a PAT which finalized the score at 57-0.

Next Friday night Northfield will host the Vikings who will find it hard to reproduce the same margin of victory against a team with a little more experience than Rochester.

Probably one of the most interesting games of the season will be Sept. 25, at home, against Southwood. They defeated their first opponent by 45 points. An impressive route by anyone's standards. This victory will definitely not go ignored by the Valley coaching staff. The battle for the Three Rivers Conference title will assuredly come to a height against Southwood.

Valley hosts football playoff meeting

On Wednesday, Tippecanoe Valley High School hosted a planning meeting for schools in cluster 34 double "A" classification. Principals, athletic directors and coaches from Valley, Northwood, Rochester and Whitko High School attended. The meeting was called to work out schedules for the new football playoff plan to be put into effect in the fall of 1983.

The schools agreed on the following schedule for cluster games:

Week of Schedule	1983
4th	Valley at Whitko and Northwood at Rochester
7th	Valley at Northwood and Rochester at Whitko
9th	Rochester at Valley and Northwood at Whitko

Each year thereafter the schools will play the same corresponding date, but alternating sites.

The remainder of the schedule will have to be with schools outside the cluster. The effect the new playoff plan will have on conference alignment will be major. Most conference will have to consider whether to re-align, or to drop football from conference.

Tippecanoe Valley will host the first meeting of the year for the Three-Rivers Conference on Sept. 14. The effect of the new playoff plan will be one of the agenda items. Schools from the eight team TRC have been assigned to three different clusters. Principal Robert Meyers announced that under the new plan Tippecanoe Valley moves up to the double "A" class. A fourth class has been added in the new plan -- class "AAAA."

Vikes win at cross country

By Jerry Kindig II

The football limelight is giving another sport, Cross Country, some exposure to the public that it deserves. Before the Whitko and Rochester football games, our runners have come out the victors on courses that would make the most experienced marathon runner lose his breath.

The Cross Country team has, through hard work, stacked up a 4-0 record. Downing Whitko gave the Valley a sense of confidence that carried over into a combined success over Peru and North Miami (29-49-50). The scoring system is similar to golf in that the lowest score wins.

Jeff Peters, Rex Laughlin, and David Chaney crossed the finish line first, third, and fourth respectively; against Rochester adding to the dignity that the Cross Country team deserves for the time and effort they put forth. The end result was 27-30.

LESS AGGRESSIVE?

NORTON, MASS. -- People who find cigarette smoking to be relaxing received academic support from a new research study that found nicotine produces less aggressive behavior in smokers. The study was based on a series of experiments with six subjects, ages 18 to 35, who had smoked cigarettes for at least four years.

Prizes given for each route will be: first - a 10-speed bicycle; second - deluxe backpack and third - athletic bag. All riders will receive a Bike-A-Thon head sweat band. If you collect $50, you will receive a Bike-A-Thon visor; you collect $500, you will receive a 12 inch B&W television set; and if you collect $1,000, you will have your choice of a 5 inch auto-portable television or a 35 mm camera.

THE IMPORTANCE OF READING

No matter how obscure the position in life of an individual, if he can read, he may at will put himself in the best of society the world has ever seen. He may sit down with the good and great men of antiquity. He may converse with Franklin and Washington; with all the writers in prose and poetry. He may learn to live, how to avoid the errors of his predecessors, and secure blessings present and future, to himself. He may reside in a desert far away from the habitations of man; in solitude, where no human eye looks upon him with affection or interest; where no human voice cheers him with animating tones, if he has books to read, he can never be alone -- he may choose his company and the subject of conversation, and thus become contented and happy, intelligent, wise and good. He thus elevates his rank in the world, and becomes independent in the best of sense of the term.

Perhaps the shortest speech ever delivered in any legislative hall was that of a member recently, who having spoken this sentence, "Mr. Speaker, in generality of mankind in general are disposed to express oppression on the generality of mankind in general," was pulled down to his seat by a friend, with the remark, -- "You'd better stop; you're coming out at the same hole you went in at."

SAD ACCIDENT

By Which Charley Smith Loses His Life

About 2:30 p.m. yesterday engine No. 151 attached to a caboose and in charge of engineer Barlow and conductor Brown was passing through town at the rate of about 45 miles an hour. When opposite the depot, Charley Smith attempted to cross the track in front of the rapidly moving train, when the engine caught him and threw him about 50 feet. He was picked up and carried to the Central House (Mentone's hotel!) and medical aid summoned, but to no avail, as he lived only about an hour from the time he was struck. From the description given by those who witnessed the accident, it seems to be but another of those unaccountable circumstances of venturing into danger. Mr. Smith was seen running to get across the track but it is supposed he very much miscalculated the rate of speed of the approaching engine, or on account of drifting snow failed to observe its nearness, or he may have imagined that the train was slacking off to stop at the station, as a box-car standing on the side-track cut off his view at the moment of the catastrophe. As it was, he never regained consciousness to give his own explanation.

The deceased had made his home in Chicago for a few years past, but was well known in this vicinity, having formerly lived on a farm north of town and being a man of considerable means, he spent much of his time visiting among his friends and old acquaintances in this vicinity. His only near relatives are a son living near Tiosa, Ind., who arrived last night and a brother and sister who will come from Chicago on the first train. The Coroner arrived this morning and is now holding an inquest on the body at Mr. Samuel Blues, to which residence it was removed last evening.

This occurrence is a very forceful reminder of the necessity of an ordinance to prevent trains from rapid running through town. Such an ordinance might have prevented the shocking death of a worthy and respected man.

BLOODY HANDS

A Family Horribly Butchered in Tippecanoe Township Joseph Prew in Jail Charged with the Crime

On last Wednesday morning a telegram was received at this place addressed to John Dunham, the teacher of the Jennings School southwest of town, stating that his father was dead. Later, particulars explained the case was about as follows: On last Tuesday afternoon a party of hunters on their return to their homes happened to pass the farm residence of Henry Dunham, about 10 miles northeast of Warsaw in Tippecanoe Township, when they came upon his mutilated remains in the lane near his residence. Instantly starting to alarm the neighbors, they did not enter the house until after their arrival. On opening the door they discovered the little two-year-old girl with her throat cut from ear to ear, and Mrs. Dunham nearby alive, so badly cut and injured about the head as to make it impossible to ascertain how he was killed. It is believed that the crime was committed by robbers a few days ago. Dunham sold some wheat and live stock for $250. Only $9 was found in the house. A knife was found near his body. Mrs. Dunham has eight knife wounds. She recovered enough to ask if her husband "was hurt too," and in a few moments after said: "The two men will leave in a few minutes." Her recovery was very doubtful.

Later, Joseph Prew, a former hired hand of the Dunham, was arrested Thursday near Syracuse and is now in jail at Warsaw. Dunham's pocket-book and $80 was found on him. It is said he had trouble in his settlement with Dunham two weeks ago and left promising to "get even with him yet."

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Now that apples are getting plentiful, encourage the family to get its share of them. You get the greatest good by eating apples raw--the skin, too; but here is a delicious apple recipe.

Apple-Raisin Crips

- 5 c peeled, tart apples sliced (5-6 apples)
- 1 8 1/2-oz. can crushed pineapple, drained
- 1/4 c raisins
- 2 T lemon juice
- 1/2 c granulated sugar (brown sugar may be used)
- 2 T melted margarine
- 1/4 t salt
- 1 t cinnamon
- 3 T margarine, softened
- 1/2 c granulated sugar
- 1 T flour
- 1 c 40% bran flakes
- vanilla ice cream

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In large bowl, combine apples, pineapple, raisins, lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, melted butter, salt and cinnamon; pour into 1 1/2-quart shallow baking dish. Cream 3 tablespoons butter; blend in 1/2 cup sugar and flour. Add bran flakes and mix well; spread over apple mixture. Bake, covered, 15 minutes; remove cover and bake 15 minutes longer or until apples are tender. Serve warm, with vanilla ice cream, or a prepared whipped topping. For variety, top with slices of cheese.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

There is a medieval look to parts of Nettuno, about 50 miles south of Rome on the Roman Riviera. The town, a popular resort area with fine restaurants and hotels, is adjacent to Anzio and is reached from Rome by train in one hour.

MAN WANTED

Wanted - A man for hard work and rapid promotion; a man who can find things to do without the help of a manager and three assistants. A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an effort to be the first one out of the building at night.

A man who is neat in appearance.

A man who does not sulk when he is working an hour overtime in emergencies.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible about it.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

SMILES

Wife: "Gosh, I'm getting a double chin!"

Hubby: "No wonder. Too much work for one."

Bigger Figures

It's getting so that school children will soon need an adding machine to do a simple sum in arithmetic.

General Who?

First Private--Why did you salute that truck driver?

Second Rookie--Don't be so dumb! That's no truck driver. That's General Hauling. Didn't you see the sign?

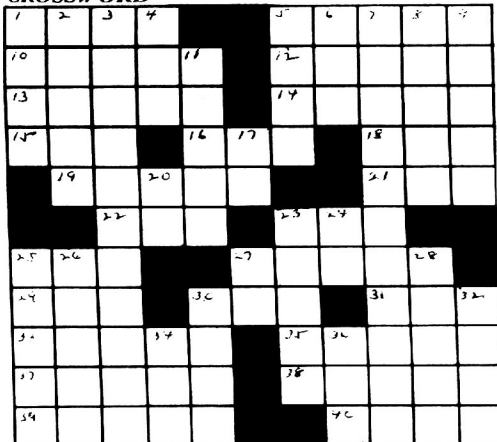

It Winks

"Mother, I just can't thread this needle."

"Why, son?"

"Well, every time I get the thread near the eye, it blinks."

Sheetz elected to Angus Association

Todd Sheetz, Akron, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with some 38,000 active life and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 10 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U. S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U. S. consumption.

Census survey on immunizations

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of September 14 - 18, 1981, to determine the extent to which people have been immunized against selected diseases, Stanley D. Moore, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Chicago, announced today.

The survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year to provide information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps are needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention. These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country. For example, in July the survey indicated that of the 106.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.0 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.0 percent, down from the 7.3 percent which prevailed during most of the January-June period.

Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used to compile statistical totals.

Unemployment claims

Last week's unemployment insurance claims total remained nearly the same as the week before, up by 70 to 59,504, the Indiana Employment Security Division reported.

Holton Hayes, director of the division, said that increases in initial claims were offset by a decline in the number of continued claims. New claims rose primarily because of inventory adjustment layoffs in automotive and related industries, he noted. Continuing claims decreased as recalls occurred in fabricated metals, nonelectrical and electrical machinery, and transportation equipment industries.

It's good to have a slogan, but it is better to perform.

A medallion engraved with the Potawatomi turtle totem and a plaque engraved with a tepee will be awarded. The contest will be part of the Pioneer Fashion Show at 3:30 p.m. in the arena at the rendezvous Sept. 19-20.

Detective Sergeant Don Smith spoke and showed a movie on "Senior Power," how to protect yourself and your property.

Refreshments were served to 31 persons present by hostesses Allene Biddinger, Nettie Crabbs, and Shirley Willard.

It was announced that FCHS will not be calling all the members for donations and volunteers this fall. If you can help at the Trail of Courage Rendezvous, please call the museum office at 223-4436. Reward to volunteer workers is free admission both days if you work one 4-hour shift.

Many prizes have been donated for the shooting contests at the Trail of Courage. The prizes are on display in the Civic Center Museum.

Increase tax on alcoholic beverages

Consumers may be paying slightly more for their liquor, beer, and wine this month. Prices could elevate slightly because of a new increase in the excise tax on alcoholic beverages passed by the last session of the General Assembly.

Passage of House Bill 1007 increased the tax on beer and wine two-cents per gallon, while increasing the tax on distilled spirits six-cents per gallon. It became effective September 1.

It is estimated that the additional revenues will amount to approximately three million dollars annually. These funds will be dedicated to the Addiction Services Agency of the Department of Mental Health. The funds will be used by Alcohol and Drug Abuse Treatment Centers throughout the state. House Bill 1007 is one of the very few tax increase measures that passed the last session of the Legislature.

The Beer Distributors of Indiana, Inc., like most other trade groups in the beverage industry, has been extremely active in education programs dealing with alcoholism and alcohol abuse.

This new kind of taxation is a "user" tax and may be the first step in a series of efforts to generate state revenue to combat the problems of alcohol and drug abuse.

Back To School

To the student, either in high school or college, the end of the summer heralds another nine months of poring over books (or should). It also brings to mind football, school events and social functions.

Young people of today are no worse off than their parents, although life has moved to a faster pace. They are faced with an unstable world and changing society. The fundamental values of life remain the same, although some of our young people (misled by TV and excessive permissiveness) are following a questionable trend. Many remain steadfast to the ideals and traditions which made this country great.

These ideals, in general, include a serious effort to gain knowledge in school, a standard of honor which rules out dishonesty, a personal moral code in dealing with others, strong religious or moral convictions, and a willingness to work hard.

Politeness is a virtue that seems to be on the wane these days.

Hazel Sheetz recognized for service to state

Mrs. Hazel Sheetz of Akron, was honored for her twenty years of dedicated service in the Indiana Department of Revenue on Friday, September 11th, by Mr. Howard L. Johnson, administrator of the Audit Division in Indianapolis. He presented Mrs. Sheetz with a Certificate of Commendation, signed by Governor Robert D. Orr, at the South Bend District Office of the Department of Revenue. Hazel also received a silver 20-year pin from the Indiana Revenue Auditor's Association, presented by her regional supervisor, Mr. Daniel E. Iwema.

Adopt animal ordinance for town of Mentone

During the regular session of the Mentone Town Board, Tuesday, September 8, Trustee Tombaugh made the motion, seconded by Trustee Hardesty, to adopt Ordinance No. 238 for the Town of Mentone. This provides for the control, taxation, immunization, impoundment and destruction of dogs and cats within the corporate limits of the Town of Mentone. This ordinance will be in effect after publication as required by law.

The board decided to sell the old police car at auction and instructed Clerk-Treasurer Kate Whetstone to advertise the car for sale. The auction will be held at the next regular meeting of the board, October 5th at the town hall.

Ken Yost was present to ask if the town would blackout in front of several residences around his home, if the residents put in the curbs. The board agreed because of the town's interest in maintaining the catch basin recently installed in that area.

Mrs. Don Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller were present to discuss surface water problems behind their properties in the south part of town. The board will investigate before giving permission for them to have the ditch dug out.

The board agreed to have Bowen pick up trash in the barrels uptown, and at the park, at a cost of around $25 per month. During other business, the board discussed tabling the purchase of a truck until a later date; the need for a price check on a larger suction pump, and repair on the town truck brakes.

Claims were presented and approved.

Fatal car-train crash near Atwood

A General Telephone Company employee was killed when his van was struck broadside by an Amtrack train traveling at 60 miles per hour.

Pronounced dead at the scene of a crushed chest and skull fracture was Bruce L. Kelsay, 42, Rt. 1, North Manchester. According to county police, Kelsay was crossing the ConRail tracks at Prairie Street when his van was hit on the passenger's side and pushed more than a third of a mile (1,814 feet) down the tracks.

The gas tank of the van exploded and scorched the side of the train, requiring assistance from the Atwood Fire Department to put out the blaze. Warsaw Fire Department JAWS unit removed the victim from the vehicle.

The train's engineer, L. A. Merica, of Decatur, and a witness told police the telephone company truck drove in front of the train and did not attempt to stop, there are no crossing gates or flashing lights at the rail crossing. However, it was marked with a warning sign and cross arms.

Kelsay was the sixth person to die on county roads this year. The last person killed from a highway mishap was Ruby S. Rose, 83, Rt. 2, South Whitley, who died July 25 as a result of internal injuries sustained in a traffic accident two days earlier at the intersection of County Roads 700 East and 800 South.

Investigating the fatal accident were County Coroner Gary Eastlund, State Trooper Lynn Wampler, County Sheriff Alan Roventine, County Police Capt. Ron Robinson, Patrolmen Jeffrey Bronsing and Michael Hobbs, Piercett, Marshal George Alexander and Indiana Conservation Officer Michael Fodor.

New fact book available from IMTA

No other business more directly affects the lives of Indiana residents than does the trucking industry. The clothes we wear, the food we eat, the cars we drive, the things we use in making a living - come all or part of the way to us in a truck. Out of the state's 2,079 communities, 1,438 or 69.2% of them, are completely dependent upon trucks for all their surface transportation needs.

These and other figures compiled in "A Hoosier Lifeline," a biennial fact book published by the Indiana Motor Truck Association, explain the importance of the trucking industry to Indiana.

The facts also show the significance of trucking employment and earning to Indiana's economy. A new section of the current fact book explains where the money collected through highway use taxes paid in the state actually goes.

Other statistics indicate that trucks pay their own way in Indiana. For example, trucks using I-65 in Jackson County pay more in highway use taxes than what the state spends annually on this highway. Five-axle trucks alone pay more than $1.8 million to use this road, while the state spends $1,088,564 on the 21.191 mile section of interstate highway.

Additional copies of "A Hoosier Lifeline" are available from the Indiana Motor Truck Association, 2165 S. High School Rd., Indianapolis, IN 46241.

Abolish Corporation Tax?

At first glance, suggestions that the federal corporation tax be abolished seem conservative propaganda. But a closer look at the proposal shows it has considerable merit.

Corporation taxes amount to about ten percent of Uncle Sam's total revenue. This tax was enacted at a time when it was considered the only way to tax the wealthy--at that time there was no income tax.

There are those today who believe that if the corporation tax is ended, the government will collect more money from individuals receiving dividend checks than it does today from corporations who spend billions to find business expenses, tax shelters and write-offs which avoid the corporation tax.

How much is wasted by corporations in tax deductible schemes, etc., is impossible to estimate. But it's certain that the government would collect at a higher percentage on dividends paid stockholders.

Secondly, a whole army of legal and IRS zealots would be relieved of the vast cat-and-mouse game so long in progress--involving finding ways to dodge taxes on the one hand and federal checking on all these efforts on the others.

Finally, the added profits of corporations would not all be paid out in the form of dividends. Corporations would spend more on expansion and the creation of new jobs. And abolition of the pre-income tax law would answer the old argument of those who claim that if corporations are taxed, then dividends should not be taxed, again.

Children & Discipline

In recent years, much has been heard about the danger in saying "no" to junior, of crushing junior's spirit, of not allowing junior to freely develop and express himself.

A generation or more of mothers and fathers, to a degree, accepted this well-meaning advice--often with practical application.

One result has been that, beginning in the sixties, junior turned out to be disinclined to accept the restraints and "no's" imposed by our society's laws.

This has caused all kinds of problems, for junior (and daughters), and for society. In an over-reaction from the Victorian patriarch, who once maintained discipline in the home, some have abandoned practically all discipline.

Looking back at earlier generations of children, we can see that in spite of discipline, sometimes strong, the system was not bad, and that there is still, today, a very real need for father's or mother's discipline in the home.

This translates positively in later life into business, government and general social behavior--and is a much needed quality today.

Impossible?

The distinguished president of Notre Dame, Theodore Hesburgh, former head of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission and more recently a member of the commission studying immigration, recently called for a change in immigration policy to legally admit more aliens.

The Rev. Hesburgh also called for more aid to poor and developing countries, as a means of lessening the immigrant pressure from those poverty-stricken Latin lands to the south of us (and elsewhere).

Many agree with Hesburgh on his suggestion for tighter controls to keep out illegal immigrants and, perhaps, to then increase the number of legal admissions slightly, though the U.S. is no longer a nation with plentiful jobs and land for all.

But Protestants--still the majority, if a shrinking majority, in this country--have a right to ask how living standards in all those poverty-stricken countries to the south of us are to be raised as long as effective birth control is discouraged by Catholic Church pronouncements from Rome.

It is a legitimate question, and a majority of Americans of the Catholic faith have been shown by polls to agree with American Protestants on this. The hard fact seems to be that unless all these Catholic lands to the south control their population growth, no amount of American dollars sent there to subsidize living standards will be of much help. For years such efforts, from one administration after another, have been, in effect, like throwing a bucket of water on a burning house.

Until there is limitation of population growth to the south, the U.S. taxpayer can't be expected to undertake an aid program which seems to many impossible.

Letter to the Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I'm concerned deeply, for our Country and its people. Our Government can cut spending, taxes, etc. Although, I'm convinced we'll find, this will not solve our many problems because this is not the root cause.

The root cause is turning our back on God. Separation of State from Church, Church from State is right and constitutional; but not the separation of God and His Word from State.

God is Lord over both Church and State. It's unrealistic and impossible for the State to be neutral toward God and His Word. God's Word says, you are either for me or against me. The idea of a neutral government leads inevitably to the religion of secular Humanism, (believing and trusting in the potential of man, not God and His Word), which is becoming much more prominent in our government today. Government and laws were given to many by God. Our system of law was derived from the Ten Commandments. Yet, our present U.S. Supreme Court struck down State laws requiring the posting of the Ten Commandments in public school classrooms. They stated, that it was unconstitutional and served no educational purpose.

Judges, too, are identified with the Scriptures, by our founding fathers. Their black robes symbolize they are ministers of God. The reason they're elevated in the Courtroom is, there's a need to recognize they speak not as men, but as God's ministers. We call them "Your Honor," because it's important that we recognize they speak on behalf of God.

I praise the Lord, for our founding father's acknowledgement that: God is the Highest Power; Government is ordained by God; Rulers are Ministers of God; All to do righteous (Romans 13). This foundation has given man more freedom than man has ever known. Are we honestly willing to abandon this foundation? "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." (Proverbs 1:34).

Last Tuesday morning about 1 o'clock as the night-watchman Harman was making his rounds, he heard the glass of the depot window break. Guessing the cause, he started with all speed to the place. The parties who were attempting to gain entrance, hearing his approach, retreated, but not soon enough to prevent being seen. Mr. Harman saw two persons and sent three bullets whizzing after their retreating forms, but was unable to identify them.

At Bourbon they place yellow flags in front of the buildings where there are cases of Scarlet Fever.

Argos, it seems, has escaped the prevailing epidemic of Scarlet Fever until last week when the REFLECTOR reports four cases in one family. Every town and the whole country in the northern part of the state seemed to be afflicted to a greater or less extent. The late cases in this section are very mild and the disease seems to be disappearing.

THE POST OFFICE now occupies its new quarters, one door east of Kimes Grocery. The new room is of very convenient size, and the new letter case is the most convenient and tasty design. Mr. Clayton is to be congratulated on the cozy arrangement which he has designed in the new building and fixtures, and the people of Mentone can boast of the finest Post Office in the county, if not the best looking Post Master.

SWINDLERS!

Farmers Look Out

Uncle Ralph Hire was the attempt victim of the wire fence swindle a few days ago. A man calling himself an agent of some wire fence company called and wanted a location for a factory and when permission was granted he asked that Mr. Hire sign a contract for the same, a couple of days afterward an "adjuster" put in an appearance and wanted Mr. Hire to settle the tune of $200 which he, being a man of good sense, of course refused to do. The only thing to regret in the matter is that Mr. Hire did not manufacture some material to start a Swindlers Cemetery with.

One day last week a man drove up to the residence of Martin Brown, 1 mile east of town. Representing himself to be an inventor of a woven wire picket fence, he offered to put a fence around his yard for his board in order to introduce his machine. Mr. Brown, not wishing to accept his liberal offer told him so. He then asked him his name and wanted him to write it on a postal card. Mr. Brown told him he could not write. Last Thursday another man came and presented a note calling for $200, claiming that it had been given for a fence machine. We are creditably informed that Mr. Brown objected to paying it, and when the stranger noticed him looking in the direction of the Squire's office they concluded that this was not a good locality for swindlers, and make tracks for better fishing grounds.

The Mentone Gazette, April 2, 1887

A WRECK

On Last Wednesday morning a through freight train composed of ten loaded cars running at a rate of speed variously estimated at from 45 to 60 miles an hour passed through town on the westward down-grade. Several different parties who observed its speed claim to have prophesied that it would leave the track at the curve in the western suburbs of town, and some claim that they kept their eye on it for the special purpose of witnessing the smashup. Just as the engine turned the curve, the coupling between the first and second cars, yielded under the strain and the second car left the track followed by six others while the engine and one car shot forward with lightning speed toward Chicago. It returned however in time to meet a fair percent of the population of Mentone, who had proceeded to view the wreck. The results of the catastrophe may perhaps be better imagined than described. Some of the cars apparently went end over end until the immense force of their inertia was exhausted, or until they were crushed to pieces by their own weight or by other cars landing on top of them. One car, loaded with White's sewing machines, seems to have emptied its contents directly upon the track while the others had no regard for the results in passing over them. As a consequence, the remains of the machines as they were strung over a long distance along the track presented much of the appearance of having been run through a coffee mill. The train was loaded with miscellaneous merchandise, and the promiscuous heaps of conglomerated rubbish consisted of everything imaginable from soap to salt peter and from Waterbury watches to packages of dynamite. Luckily the only person hurt in the affair was one of the section bosses who had the rashness to attempt to follow "Butch" Clark over the barbed wire fence to the intense amusement of all bystanders. The remainder of the week has been occupied in clearing up the debris of the wreck.

Unemployment claims lower

Indiana's unemployment insurance claims total fell 1,614 last week to 57,890, the Employment Security Division reported recently. The comparable year-ago amount was 122,748.

Holton Hayes, director, said initial claims registered a small decrease. However, temporary layoffs caused large increases at Division offices in Bedford, Evansville, Lawrenceburg and New Castle.

Continued claims were down at more than half the agency's offices because of scattered recalls and benefit exhaustions.

Committees appointed for Centennial

The Mentone Reading Club met for its first meeting of the calendar year at the lovely country home of Margaret Cullison, Rt. 1, Mentone, on Wednesday, September 9, 1981.

President, Jerry Smith, called on committee chairmen for reports: Legislation, Carol Steele; Budget, Carol Hurst; Program, Kate Whetstone, who presented the interesting programs for the coming year.

Elaine Fugate and Jerry Smith reported on ISC Summer Council Conference they attended in Indianapolis in July.

The First Vice President office vacated by Jo Bush's resignation was filled by volunteer Sue Pyle.

Committees were appointed to work with the Mentone Chamber of Commerce Centennial Group, Jodi Cook and Kate Whetstone agreed to work, Rosemary Bazini and Gerry Clark are to prepare the history of the club.

Elaine Fugate, Count Reading Club president presented a very disturbing program on "Shoplifting." Interesting statistics are that 75 percent of the students between grades 1 through 12 have shoplifted. Over 3 billion dollars worth of merchandise is shoplifted every year. It has grown to an epidemic stage and will not get better until something is done.

This does effect everyone of us as prices inflate whenever shoplifting increases.

The G.F.W.C. is a part of the National Coalition to Prevent Shoplifting along with 25 other organizations.

She gave 4 steps in implementing the program. 1. Educate youth the seriousness of shoplifting, it is stealing; 2. Educate adults, we are paying for it, merchandise does go up in price. 3. Educate merchants for techniques to prevent shoplifting. 4. Promote cooperation of law officers and store owners.

Many points were brought out but most of all we all need to act now to educate our children, grandchildren and we are to watch our own actions.

The hostess served delicious refreshments assisted by Kate Whetstone to 12 members; one associate member Mrs. Marjorie Cooper and one guest, Mrs. Sheldon Grame.

The next meeting will be a dinner prepared by a representative from Tabitha's Garden at the home of Jerry Smith.

USDA extends loans

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today announced that 1980 crop corn and sorghum loans maturing on Aug. 31 may be extended until Sept. 30, 1981.

Block said this action is designed to give producers additional flexibility as they plan this year's marketing strategies. "As we look toward a farm policy that is more market-oriented, it is important that producers are free to plan their marketing activity in a way that will be most beneficial to their individual operations," he said. "I hope that we have helped by temporarily relieving the producers from the weight of these maturing loans."

Producers should contact their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for further information on extending their loans.

Trail of Courage to be held this week

Over 100 groups and families will be participating in the Trail of Courage Rendezvous September 19 - 20. "With this much pre-registration the rendezvous is bound to be much bigger this year," stated Shirley Willard, Fulton County Historical Society president and co-chairman of the event.

The other chairman (or Boosway, in buckskinner language) is Bob Kuyoth of Rochester. Kuyoth has outfitted his whole family in deerskin and taken to the rendezvous circuit, playing the part of Pierre Navarre, early French trader in northern Indiana. He is a regular volunteer at the Historic Fort Wayne, which presents history by first person interpretation.

The Boosways wear a yellow sash, and the "dog soldiers" wear a red sash during the rendezvous, so people know who to ask questions of and who can solve problems. The Menominee Muzzle Loaders of Marshall County, the Kekionga Long Rifles of Fort Wayne, and Proctor's Artillery of Chicago area will each provide two dog soldiers.

Rochester groups that will be contributing or participating include the Rotary, which will pop corn in a big iron kettle; Phyllis Triplett's Girl Scout troop, apple peeling contest; Luther-Anns of St. John Lutheran Church, beef stew; Lois Baldwin, soap making; Joanna Sheetz, nature scenes on wood and old time accordion music; Carol and Ted Davis, quilts and gun racks; Margaret May, beads; Kay Ann Moore, bonnets and stuffed toys.

Also the Rochester Chamber of Commerce is helping to sponsor the Pendragon Puppet Show, and Burger King is donating paper cups and hamburgers for the Saturday night carry in supper.

Several Kewanna folks will be participating: Mary Beeher, quilting; Don Kegarise, painted saws; Lynn McGrath, herb teas and straw weaving; Janel Norris, buckskin clothing and leather belts.

Other Fulton County participants include Phyllis Whitmore, Nyona Lake, storyteller; Orville Thomas, Grass Creek, roast pork and corn pone; Peggy Van Meter, Leiters Ford, donuts and coffee.

Many families have taken colorful names for their trade names. Larry and Lynda Houchin, The Waking I, Lukens Lake, are craftsmen of scrimshaw and Silver, Tom and Dorothy Hugebeck, The American Trading Post, Cambridge, Ohio, sell Indian items such as moccasins, baskets, pottery. Don and Beck Condit, Morning Star Jewelry, Cicero, sell turquoise and silver Indian jewelry and feather hair bobs and hat bands. Steve Miller and Ed Roberts, White River Free Traders, Noblesville, sell leather goods, authentic clothing, knives, blankets, capotes (hooded capes), and tomahawks. Don and Betty Castillo, Fire in the Hol', West Branch, Iowa, cook squaw bread, donuts in a dutch oven, campfire coffee, and sarsaparilla.

A much bigger variety of pioneer foods will be available at the Trail of Courage Rendezvous this year: Debbie and Herb Fields, Lafayette candy made in iron kettle over wood fire; Pat Lasley, Romney, Ind., French pastry and French creams; Sandra Martin, Greendale Wis., Indian fry bread. The Fulton County Historical Society will prepare its usual pioneer menu: Buffalo burgers, ham and beans and cornbread, lemonade, cider, coffee and sassafras tea. Also the afore-mentioned Orville Thomas' roast pork and corn pone, and Castillo's squaw bread, donuts and sarsaparilla.

Blanket traders offer authentic mountainman and Indian trade goods such as blacksmith articles, guns, buckskin clothing, beadwork powder horns, turtle claw necklaces, hair pipe chokers, tobacco, hawks, American Indian games (stick, dice, hoops) and Indian artifacts, and articles made by Indians on reservations.

Pioneer crafts include dulcimer making, carving, weaving, vegetable dyeing and spinning, wooden toys of the pioneer era, muzzle loading gun making, dried apple dolls, pottery of the 18th century, broom making, barrel making, rope making, basketry, cornhusk dolls and crafts, chair seating of rushes and splits, tin lanterns, quilts, scrimshaw - the ancient craft of carving bones and horns.

Many shooters will compete for the prizes donated by gun shops and muzzle loading supply houses all over the United States. The prize for best over-all shooter is a pewter tankard donated by Crane

"57" again??

Fifty-seven is becoming the magic number for the Vikings. In back-to-back games, first against Rochester and then against Northfield, the final score 57-0, has shown the underestimated potential of the 3-0 Valley Vikings.

After three games, the Vikes have accumulated an impressive 136 points and the defensive unit hasn't even given up a single point. Although, out of the nine games, our first three opponents have played this season, they have yet to come out on the victory side. Therefore, the rough and bumpy area of the season is probably still in the future.

Allowing just 54 yards, the defensive unit has truly matured into a force that any team will find almost impenetrable.

One other area the Vikings have truly come of age in, is blocking. As Coach Smith sent out the punt-return team, he could hear giving these few words of comment that best describes what is taking place on this team. "Each game we learn more and we become better in every area of our play." After being sparked by their coach's confidence, the return team formed gaping holes by superb blocking that resembled the work of a professional football team.

In the UPI class A state poll last week, Valley slipped to the number 3 slot behind Lawrenceburg and Hamilton Southeastern. The Associated Press poll, though, re-elected the 57-0 victory over Rochester as the gap closed between Lawrenceburg and the Vikings to a meager 8 votes. Friday's victory against Northfield by the same score should give Valley the needed votes to close the gap even more.

Culver will be the host of the second ranked Vikings this Friday evening coming off a 19-16 loss against LaVelle. The Cavaliers have been known to quote "scrap" for every possible chance and will definitely look forward for a chance to hand the Vikings their first loss but the money will down on Valley to blast through and come out on top.

Whallon resigns

Controversy ended with the announced resignation of Evan Whallon, a former Akron resident, who has been for the last 26 years conductor-director of the Columbus Ohio Symphony Orchestra. Evan resigned as director amid rumors that the symphony's board would force him to quit. His resignation will be effective next year, the 1981-82 season being his last with the symphony.

Evan is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Evan A. Whallon of Akron. He graduated from Akron High School in the Class of 1941. Whallon is also a graduate of the Eastman School of Music and a protege of Howard Hanson. He has considerable experience directing musical theater, including the Opera Under the Stars program in Rochester, N.Y., and at the Chautauqua, N.Y. Institute. He also was musical director for Gian-Carlo Menotti's Opera "The Consul" on Broadway in 1950.

Whallon became director of the Columbus Symphony 26 years ago after leaving a similar post with the Springfield Ohio Symphony.

New publication

The Older Adult Impact Program of the Legal Services Program of Northern Indiana has prepared for distribution a publication entitled "You and Wills." The publication will be distributed to older adults residing in Howard, Fulton, Cass, Wabash, Miami and Tipton counties. The publication provides basic information concerning wills by describing what a will is, how a will is executed, how a will may be changed or canceled, and what happens when an individual dies without executing a will. The publication also explains such practical matters as whether an individual needs a will, where a will should be kept after it is executed, and how an individual may go about obtaining a will.

In addition to providing publications such as "You and Wills," the Older Adult Impact Program also offers educational presentations concerning a variety of topics of interest to older adults. Any person, organization, or agency desiring free copies of the publication "You and Wills" or wishing to schedule a presentation should contact: William Fee, Staff Attorney, Legal Services Program of Northern Indiana, Inc., Armstrong-Landon Building, Suite 208, 105 West Sycamore Street, Kokomo, Indiana 46901, telephone: 1-800-382-8886 or (317) 457-3241. Don't just get a furnace, get a year-round comforter

You could be comfortable all winter by installing a furnace. Or, you could be comfortable year-round, plus save money on your energy bills, by installing an Add-On Heat Pump.

The electric Add-On Heat Pump is a new development. It works like any heat pump by taking the solar heat out of the outside air and pumping it inside. And, because it supplements your existing gas or oil furnace with the energy-saving benefits of a regular heat pump, it's the most efficient heating system around.

And, that means you add-on savings with the Add-On Heat Pump.

That's probably all you care about this time of year, but next summer you'll be glad to know that the Add-On Heat Pump is also a very efficient central air conditioner.

So, if you're thinking of installing a heating system this winter, consider the Add-On Heat Pump. It's a decision you'll be comfortable with year-round, for years to come. Contact:

State Officials Hear Both Sides Of Story

Over 100 people attended the public hearing set by the State Tax Commission at Akron Jr. High School Gymnasium on Wednesday, September 16 for the purpose of hearing remonstrators objecting to the execution of lease rental contracts for building renovations at Akron, Burket and Mentone schools.

The hearing officers, Glendyn Albright, State Board of Tax Commissioner Supervisor and Muriel Dan, State Board of Tax Commissioner hearing officer, listened to representatives of the petitioners objecting to the project: Fred McSherry, James Beeson, Robert Foltz, George Sheetz, Lyman Dawson, Sid DeVries, Pam Turner, Jim Feldman and Hugh Wildermuth.

The people giving information showing the need for the project were Baxter Paige, superintendent of Tippecanoe Valley Schools; Frederick Rakestraw, school board attorney; Meredith Donoho, official of the architectural firm, Daverman Associates; financial consultant, Herschel Umbaugh; J. Fanning of ProMaCon, project management; Dick Mins, Mary Ann Kline, Dr. Strom of Ball State University; Phyllis Gearhart, Dale Pace, Jon Parker and school board members Lee Norris and Vernon Meredith.

Ask Leases Be Denied
Those asking the State Tax Commission to deny the lease rental agreements noted as their reasons: higher tax rates, lower enrollments, high production costs, burden on the farmer in a farming community in a poor production year, the burden to be placed on people living on a fixed income, unemployment rates, cost of bond sale.

Dr. Donald Van Gilder, Mentone, spoke in support of a remonstrance, saying the annual tax levy of $1,440,000 should be disallowed. He charged that overcrowded classrooms in the corporation are non-existent.

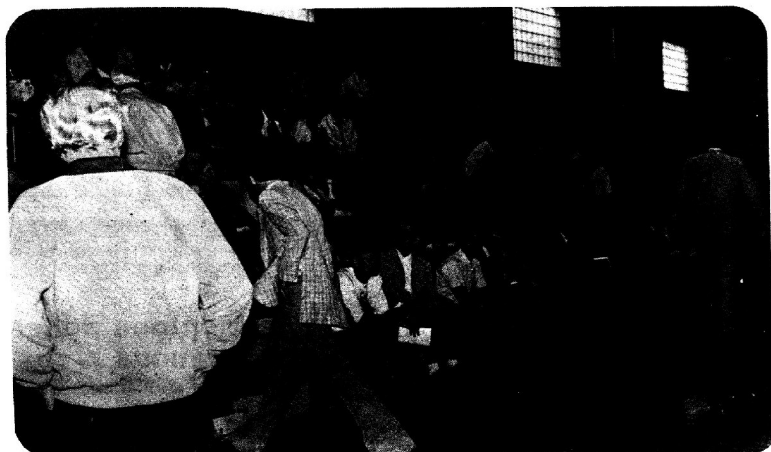

Sheetz stated that the tax base in this corporation rests on the farmer and noted with production costs and taxes, and the drop in farm receipts, it would not be possible to pay the $1.44 million each year for the next 15 years. Lyman Dawson noted that an additional $2.60 to $2.70 on the present tax rate would mean a tax increase in Newcastle Township alone to $6.43.

Jim Feldman questioned how much of the money is being spent on actual education for our children. Hugh Wildermuth noted that we hire good teachers, but could eliminate programs not pertaining to the education of the children.

Review Total Project

Baxter Paige, superintendent of schools, gave the audience a run down on the project beginning with the hiring of professional people in July of 1978 to make a survey showing the need of new construction, this was the beginning of several changes in plans.

He said, "If the Akron-Burket project is done, it would bring our tax rate very close to the estimate of the average school tax rate in Indiana of $5.03, if the present trends continue, this would not be in effect until 1982-83. If the Mentone project were adopted by the board, it would increase the tax rate approximately 95¢. As the assessed valuation in the corporation increases, there is a corresponding decrease in the rate which is estimated at 4-5% annually.

Paige noted the deterioration of the buildings at Akron, wooden and tile floors, wooden doors and stairwells, exposed pipes and electrical conduit, leaks in ceilings, heating system inadequacies, old lockers, inadequate restrooms, locker rooms and shop area, and the lack of energy saving devices. At Mentone: the deficiency in the heating and electrical system in a building housing 600 students, when in 1969 it housed only 480 students; poor locker rooms and shop areas.

He submitted to the hearing officials: building plans, enrollment graphs, financing budgets for both projects; pre-cost projections by construction managers, maintenance expenditures for the years 1975-80, construction costs, summary of hearing sheets, tax rates and assessed valuations for past years, petitions for the project, petitions from Nov. 1980 supporting the remodeling project at Akron-Mentone in the amount of $3 million.

Herschel Umbaugh, financial consultant, stated the Akron-Burket project would require a tax rate of $1.47 on its own; the Mentone project a 95¢ tax rate, totaling $2.42. The intent of the school board is to apply 35¢ of the cumulative building fund, bringing the total down to $2.07. The debt ratio would be approximately 27½% of the assessed valuation of the school corporation.

Akron to get new curfew

As the Akron Town Board met in regular session, Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the town hall, a motion was made by Trustee Bud Waymire, seconded by Ron Fenimore, to adopt a resolution on a curfew for the Town of Akron. The resolution will be set up in compliance with the state curfew laws.

The board, at the same time, set the hours between 7 and 9 p.m., Saturday, October 31, as Akron's Halloween "Trick or Treat" night.

Board President Ron Fenimore, stated that officials of Public Service were to give the town officials their appraisal of the possible solution for street lighting, making it possible for the town to economize on their electric bills before the rate increase becomes effective in November or December. The board discussed their appraisal of the situation. Clerk Ernest Smith stated that over one-quarter of the total tax receipts go toward payment of the town's electric bills. Of the $16,000 appropriated on the 1982 budget for electric, the largest part will go for street lighting. Solutions might be the replacement of the present lighting with sodium vapor lights, or the possibility of some of the lights being scheduled to turn off at certain hours or be disconnected.

Dave Kruger, of the Akron Police Department, appeared to suggest a decision be made about the problem of vandalism at the town water tower last week. Several boys climbed the tower and painted initials on the tank with a can of spray paint. Police suggested the board get estimates from a painter to repaint the defaced area and have the youths or their parents pay for the work. The board accepted the idea and the police were to inform the parents of the boys as to the decision.

Due to Murphy and Kruger entering police academy for their training periods after the first of the year, the board was asked if it would be possible to establish a reserve police force to help during weekends, with traffic during school functions, during Halloween, and to have a back-up person while they are at school. Kruger was instructed to check on reserve police programs in surrounding towns to get ideas for one in Akron.

Discussion of the dog ordinance published last week in the paper, led to Smith stating that the police can do nothing when called on a dog disturbance unless the citizens will file and sign a complaint.

The board received three quotes on tires for the police car, and will decide on the purchase as soon as a check is made on the brands.

During other business, the board gave permission for the World War II Mothers to set up a table on the sidewalk by the post office to sell their poinsettias; discussed the need to repaint or replace many of the speed limit signs, and other signs in town, due to rust; discussed the request for a street light on Rural Street, and decided to investigate the need; discussed delinquent water bills.

Smith said he had received the bill from Phillips in the amount of

New books at Akron library

"JEANNIE C. RILEY FROM HARPER VALLEY TO THE MOUNTAIN TOP" by Jeannie C. Riley -- Jeannie tells the heart wrenching, poignant story of a big dream by a teenager from a small Texas town, how it came true, and how it nearly destroyed the lives of three people.

"THE INDIVISIBLE ADDITIVES" by Linda R. Prim -- Until now, information on environmental contamination of food has been hiding in scientific journals and government studies, inaccessible to the layperson. This book brings the problem out in the open. It provides the reader with solid facts and figures about these "invisible" additives; pesticide and drug residues; poisons naturally present in some foods, etc.

"MICHELLE" by Carolyn E. Phillips -- In 1976 eight year old Michelle Price learned that she had a malignant tumor on her leg. Even with amputation and months of painful chemotherapy treatments, the doctors gave her only a four per cent change of living. This is a remarkable story of a very special young lady, you'll laugh at her antics and cry with her through disappointments; but as you share this portion of her life, you'll surely fall in love with her.

"HOW TO SURVIVE AND GROW RICHER IN THE TOUGH TIMES AHEAD" by Thomas J. Holt.

"BLAIZE" by Anne Melville. This is the story of the Lorimers as fate propels them across Europe: to the trenches where Brinsley and Robert stoically endure ceaseless German shelling; to a Serbian field hospital where Kate struggles to save the injured soldiers, hurl her into the turmoil of the Russian Revolution and a strange love affair. Uniting them all across a war-ravaged continent stands Blaize, the 400 year-old stately home to which the survivors will, one by one, return. It remains the center of life through peace and a second World War. The house which has been the scene of so many memories becomes the stronghold where the Lorimers will fashion the future of their line.

"BATTLESHIP BISMARCK" by Baron Burkard von Mullenheim-Rechberg. The drama of her short life and violent end made Bismarck a household name during the Second World War and the subject of considerable literature thereafter. Not until now has her inside story been told. Baron von Mullenheim-Rechberg, today the only survivor at the time of her sinking, has filled the gap.

Even the smartest individuals have much to learn and the sooner they realize it, the smarter they will be.

The average individual thinks all of his problems could easily be solved if his income increased enough.

Don't just get a furnace, get a year-round comforter

You could be comfortable all winter by installing a furnace. Or you could be comfortable year-round, plus save money on your energy bills, by installing an Add-On Heat Pump.

The electric Add-On Heat Pump is a new development. It works like any heat pump by taking the solar heat out of the outside air and pumping it inside. And, because it supplements your existing gas or oil furnace with the energy-saving benefits of a regular heat pump, it's the most efficient heating system around.

And, that means you add-on savings with the Add-On Heat Pump.

That's probably all you care about this time of year, but next summer you'll be glad to know that the Add-On Heat Pump is also a very efficient central air conditioner.

So, if you're thinking of installing a heating system this winter, consider the Add-On Heat Pump. It's a decision you'll be comfortable with year-round, for years to come. Contact:

Union Leaders & Reagan

What is not clearly recognized by many Americans viewing the recent series of attacks by national union leaders on President Reagan is that the AFL-CIO has embarked on a major campaign backing illegal strikes by government workers.

One naturally sympathizes with controllers who lost their jobs, even if this was their own fault. They had signed a no-strike pledge and, as Mr. Reagan told the carpenters' union in Chicago, the strikers were striking against the people of America, illegally, and after fair and clear warning that this could not be condoned and would cost them their jobs.

AFL-CIO leadership, though reassured repeatedly by Mr. Reagan that the right to strike in the private sector is sacred and unchallenged, are not satisfied. They are using the termination of 11,000 controllers' jobs as an opportunity to accuse Mr. Reagan of being a strike-breaker, an enemy of the working man. More ominous, they are now actively asserting the right of government workers, even those who have signed a no-strike pledge, to violate their pledge and strike illegally.

This is the real power play of national leaders such as Layne Kirkland of the AFL-CIO. They would use public sympathy, and distortion of facts, to build sentiment against Reagan and in favor of the strike weapon for government employees. If they get this power, they can then paralyze the government and country whenever they wish. That, Reagan knows. That's why he took a firm stand to establish and reaffirm the principle federal employees can't strike against the government (or people).

And that's what really angers many leaders of organized labor. The strike weapon in the hands of government workers is what they want; but Reagan is winning the battle among public opinion to clarify the principle that union leaders must not have this awesome power. That's the cause of the frequent public criticism of the president since the controllers' attempted strike.

Union leaders knew all along what Mr. Reagan's attitude was; the fact that he didn't mince his words, acted firmly, and won public support for his performance, showed them clearly they probably can't soon establish strike rights for government employees either. That's the bitter pill for leaders of organized labor. One suspects, however, many rank and file union workers agree with Mr. Reagan, and are not overly worried about the status of federal employees. They currently enjoy more benefits, security and advantages than workers in the private sector.

Media Sheep

When Dwight Eisenhower was president, the popular tune among the media rat pack majority was that he neglected his work, played too much golf, delegated too much authority, and didn't understand the issues.

Some egg-head professors and many sophisticates in the intellectual community, with their special plans to remake the social and economic scene—which Ike wouldn't buy—were condescending. Ike knew the AMERICAN people didn't want radical change and he doubted whether many of the fancy, often expensive, schemes would work, as the theorists envisioned.

And so, for many years during his tenure at the White House, and afterward, the "in" thing to say in modern or progressive circles was that Ike was not one of the more successful or effective presidents. Time and careful analysis of the factual record, however, have convinced most serious historians that Ike was, after all, a very successful chief executive. He did, it turns out, know what was going on and he, not subordinates, made the key decisions—though he often let others take credit or blame.

The same thought process is developing, in the media and elsewhere, concerning Ronald Reagan. One columnist suggests the president doesn't work long enough hours and suddenly a chorus in the media echoes this complaint. Thousands of words are wasted over the question whether he should have been awakened one night. Is he sleeping too much? The next media kick was that Reagan spent too much vacation time in California. But, of course, he took his office with him—to California.

Working media personnel being overwhelmingly liberal, such complaints, often petty, often innocent enough when real news is scarce, are sheep-like when a conservative or moderate is in the White House. The disappointment is that so many in the media jump on the trendy bandwagon, often on the silliest of non-issues. Mr. Reagan may fail as president, or he may succeed; the outcome will turn on much larger considerations than his sleep, working hours, vacations, etc.

Letter to the Editor

FULTON COUNTY RESIDENTS:

There will be a Disaster course conducted by the American Red Cross Saturday, September 26, 1981, at the Civic Center in Rochester. The Civic Center is located at the corners of 7th and Pontiac Streets in Rochester. We feel that there is a definite need in Fulton County to have this program brought to us. During the flooding of the Tippecanoe River in June this year, the damage assessment would have been concluded sooner if we would have had more people trained in this job.

There is no cost for this course, and in time of disaster, by taking this course, we can ask residents of Fulton County, who have taken this course and been certified, to help instead of going to outlying counties. The course will be conducted from 1:00 p.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Due to the flood and the small number of people working on damage assessment for that disaster, it was discussed with the instructor, and agreed upon, to have a class set up.

Dick Mims stated the facilities have not kept up with the times. Repair costs would be too high and favored going ahead and doing something. "It would be a small price to pay for our children's futures," he said.

Mary Ann Kline stated, "We need clean and safe buildings. We need even climate control, adequate lighting, non-crowded conditions, visually pleasant and an interesting environment. We need to improve and repair." The school officials were elected to make the decisions, and she hoped they will make the right ones.

Plyliss Gearhart, 4th grade teacher at Akron, spoke of teachers' concern over students crossing the street between buildings (Rural Street); over lack of fire exits from the third floor of the junior high building, narrow halls and wooden construction of stairs. Noting also the lack of climate control in both buildings.

Dale Pace, choral director at Akron, Mentone and Tippecanoe Valley, noted his concern over the holes in the sub-flooring of the music rooms at Akron due to termites; the falling ceiling plaster narrow stairways, chemicals from the science room above which drips through the pipes onto the floors and chairs. He stated the heat in his room gets above 90 degrees in the winter and some students have fainted because there is no ventilation. He said he could teach in any adverse situation but his concern was for the safety and health of the students and urged drastic measures be taken soon for the protection of the students, besides providing them with a better education.

Jon Parker, P.E. teacher at Mentone, carried a letter from Mike Hoyt, industrial arts teacher noting the flooding conditions in the Mentone shop area. He said water stands on the floor of the shop for days after it rains, and even when it dries up, the area under the larger machines stays wet for days afterward. He asked people to consider the safety of the students. He also noted that there is no storage in the shop area and projects must be carried to the second floor for safe keeping, while the water ruins cabinets and power tools.

Parker stated the locker rooms are under the stage with only one exit and entrance and they have no ventilation. Sometimes the heat gets to 95 degrees.

Lee Norris, member of the Tippecanoe Valley School Board, told the audience the board had cut costs on the original project from 14 million to the present 7 million and if they were allowed to get rid of all the state regulations, they could do the project for the $3 million the people want to spend, noting this is impossible. He also said labor costs are high because of regulations eliminating some of the best small contractors. He noted the lack of gym space, saying that there were 5 gymnasiums in the schools in 1947, but only three now, even for all the added programs for girls, also noting the need for extra footage to provide rooms for speech and hearing and special education programs.

He said the actual decline in student numbers was twelve per year and since the center of population in the corporation has been moving north, the board was not proposing to keep the size of buildings at Akron the same, but make more room at Burket, to save in transportation costs, which is one of the highest cost items in the budget.

"The corporation is left with only a 50¢ cumulative building fund, and of that, 15¢ must go to the general fund, leaving 35¢. We have no other source to up-grade buildings except to sell bonds," he said.

Vernon Meredith, member of the school board, also spoke, stating he believed we could spend half a million dollars on each building each year and never catch up on maintenance. We're just pouring good money after bad. Trying to look ahead 10-20 years, some board will have to build, it will cost more. With a negative attitude, we can do nothing, with a positive attitude, we can work and do something. Negative people cost millions.

People were invited to tour the buildings with the hearing officials and administrators after the meeting adjourned.

The decision of the State Tax Commission will be made in the next few days.

In Fall

Each year in fall, as heavy weather sets in, a rash of air disasters occurs. The official explanation is that they're caused by pilot error, mechanical failure, etc.

Landing an aircraft at 150 miles an hour or more in dense fog, when visibility is poor, is a delicate task, even though major airports now have radar approach devices, glide paths, lighting systems, etc.

In good weather, errors in instruments, pilot error or control tower error can be quickly recognized with the eye.

NIPSCO Energy #1 Report

and NIPSCO rates are rising but still among the lowest!

Natural gas costs have gone up. That's no secret. But supplies of natural gas — the largest source of domestically-produced energy and our most efficient and environmentally acceptable fuel — have gone up, too.

A major reason for producing and rebuilding an ample supply of natural gas in this country, and especially here in northern Indiana, is that prices are high enough to encourage exploration and development, yet low enough to keep your natural gas relatively economical.

Another major reason is that you and other customers have been using your energy wisely, as we have been encouraging you to do for several years, thus making more gas available.

Higher costs for producing and transmitting natural gas to this area by our suppliers have been prime factors in the increased gas rates. NIPSCO has had only three general rate increases since 1970, the most recent in 1978. Since 1970, about 90 percent of the increase in your NIPSCO gas bill is the result of higher wholesale supplier costs to us. These costs have been recovered through the Purchased Gas Adjustment (PGA) — a straight pass-through from the suppliers to NIPSCO to you. We do not receive one iota of profit from the PGA.

Even though NIPSCO gas rates have been going up, our gas bills are lower than those in many other parts of the country. In fact, an American Gas Association study of 78

major gas distribution companies in the U.S., places NIPSCO's monthly bill for 200 ccf* (one ccf = 100 cubic feet) of natural gas in the 68th spot. The table at left shows how the average NIPSCO monthly bill sizes up with others.

Even though prices for natural gas will continue to increase, adequate supplies of this clean, efficient fuel will remain available here in northern Indiana for you and your family for years to come.

Athletic performance related to diet

Diet and athletic performance are closely related. Because of an increased interest in fitness, research to study the benefits of nutrition on athletic performance has increased. From the current research there is now a better understanding of the roles various nutrients and diets play in promoting athletic performance.

The basic diet for the athlete is essentially the same as for the normal, healthy, sedentary person. The foods needed are the same, however, the athlete may need a greater overall quantity of a variety of food.

No one special food or food supplement should replace a basic diet consisting of dairy products, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals, and meats or meat substitutes. This variety of food, eaten each day is necessary for the athlete as well as the spectator.

A diet recommended for health as well as for athletic performance is: 15% calories from protein; 30-35% calories from fat; and 50-55% calories from carbohydrate.

Protein needed in large quantities is a common misconception of athletes. In a 3000 kcal. diet 2 eggs, 4 ounces hamburger, 3 cups of milk, and 4 ounces of fish would provide more than sufficient protein. Animal foods provide high quality protein. Vegetarians should carefully plan their diets by combining vegetable sources of protein or combining vegetable proteins with animal foods such as milk products or eggs.

Too much protein in the diet could create extra work for the kidneys and liver. Also a high protein diet may cause a decreased intake of carbohydrate which is a more efficient fuel.

Ascorbic acid is a vitamin frequently thought to be needed in large amounts by the athlete. Some athletes and trainers believe ascorbic acid will increase tissue synthesis and therefore increase performance. Others believe ascorbic acid will prevent colds. However, research does not support these misconceptions.

A normal diet with a good source of ascorbic acid on a daily basis is sufficient. There is potential harm in too much ascorbic acid, kidney stones could result or a person could develop scurvy if his body becomes accustomed to a large daily dose of ascorbic acid then the dose is decreased.

An increased need for B-vitamins, especially thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin, is also a myth. An increase is thought to be needed because of their role in energy metabolism. However, research on people in good condition has shown an increase in B-vitamins causes no change in endurance, recovery time, or strength.

An extra intake of fat soluble vitamins, A, D, E and K, show no clear evidence of increased athletic performance. Taken in massive doses over a period of time may produce toxic effects.

If the diet supplies normal amount of iron, a supplement is generally not needed. Women are more susceptible to iron deficiency than men. However, an iron supplement is not necessary unless a measurable iron deficiency is detected.

Electrolytes, such as sodium and potassium, are not recommended as diet supplements for most people. The kidneys compensate for sodium and potassium losses. An increased food and fluid intake will provide what is needed.

For fitness and health a variety of foods from the four food groups provides a balance of needed nutrients. Up-setting the balance by nutrient supplements or fad diets is not necessary and may be harmful.

Mentone whips No. Miami

The Mentone 7-8 grade football team defeated North Miami's Jr. High team last Wednesday, Sept. 16 in an evening game played at North Miami.

The seventh grade team won 6-0. John King and John McDaniel led the team with defensive tackle points. Shane Picklesimer had the longest run when he carried the ball for 44 yards.

The eighth grade team won over North Miami 8-0. Steve Moore and Randy Paris were selected the top offensive linemen. Chad Bibler and Phil King the offensive backs. Top defensive player was Randy Paris who led the team with 13 tackle points. Victor Duke was second with 8 tackle points; Troy Kistler and Phil King both had 7 tackle points. Chad Bibler scored the only touchdown and also got the extra point. TVHS announces "Homecoming" plans

This week, September 21 - 25, is "Homecoming" week at Tippecanoe Valley High School. The main attraction will be the varsity football game between "Valley" and Three Rivers Conference rival, Southwood. The Vikings will be out to keep their record of never having lost a homecoming game intact in the 7:30 p.m. game on Friday.

On Wednesday afternoon "Homecoming Olympics" will be held at the football field. Teams made up of 4 boys and 4 girls representing clubs and classes will compete for prestige and honor, while the rest of the student body cheer them on.

Also, on Wednesday at 8 p.m., in the commons, the annual "Viking Varieties" will be presented. The "Varieties" is a show made up of acts by individual students and student groups. The show is being directed by Mr. Dale Pace, assisted by Mr. Kim Metcalf and Mr. Ed LaMar. Admission will be $1.

On Friday, a pep rally will be held at the end of the school. At half-time the banners will be paraded and the winners announced. Presentation of the "Homecoming Court" will be made. These are made up of a boy and a girl from the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes. The King and Queen candidates are 3 senior boys and 3 senior girls. The students will vote to select the winners.

After the game, the Student Council is sponsoring a dance in the commons until 11:30 p.m. The "Light and Sound" from Plymouth will provide music. Admission will be $1.50 per person.

Culver scores against Vikes

An expected easy victory over Culver turned into a nerve-twisting experience as the Vikings narrowly slid by the Cavaliers. They held Valley to its lowest margin of victory this season, just seven points. Skidding by an unranked team in the tune of 15-8 will force the Vikings to take a second look at their offensive unit before tragedy strikes.

At the beginning of the conflict it looked as if the Cavaliers were in for a long night but they jumped back in the middle of the second quarter and led the second ranked Vikings by 8-6.

The half didn't end with the Vikings in the dog house as they battled back with just 3:04 left on the clock and settled for a 19-yard field goal by Tod Utter which gave the Valley the lead at half-time by just one point, 9-8, back to the Vikings.

The second half started out uneventful but by the fourth quarter Valley had the Cavaliers in the bag. Almost five minutes had ticked away when James Holloway bounded in for the final touchdown of the game with the Vikings on top 15-8.

Southwood is Valley's next opponent which will undoubtedly be one of Valley's roughest regular season games. Homecoming activities, though, will heighten the Vikings normal spirit, which can make all of the difference in a close match. Southwood showed some of its potential as they defeated fifth ranked Oak Hill, to the tune of 27-14, and will grab at the chance to do the same to the team in the number two slot.

Valley JV Whips Whitko, 48-0

With Lee Swihart scoring three touchdowns and Mike Shoemaker rushing for a pair, Tippecanoe Valley blanked Whitko 48-0 in a junior varsity football game Monday at the Valley field.

It was the second win in as many tries for Valley, which opened last week with a 14-6 win over Plymouth.

Shoemaker rushed for 89 yards on 11 carries and scored touchdowns on runs of 14 and one yards. Swihart, who carried nine times for 81 yards, scored on runs of 14, 33 and 53 yards. Other TDs were scored by Scott Stewart on a 17-yard gallop and Shad McConkey on an 11-yard run.

McConkey also kicked a PAT, ran for a two-point conversion and passed to Derrick Swick for a two-point. Additionally, he booted two kickoffs into the end zone.

Scott Teel and Scott Yeager led the Valley defense, which limited Whitko to 33 yards.

Next game for Valley is next Monday when North Miami visits at 6:30 p.m.

TV Vikings polled second

By Jerry Kindig II

Tippecanoe Valley move within 2 votes of number one, Lawrenceburg, in last weeks Associated Press poll. To flip the coin, though, in the UPI poll, the Vikings dropped to fourth in the state.

The AP reflected the 57-0 trounce over Northfield. But the United Press conducts its poll differently than AP, which is the cause for going up and down during the same week.

UPI polls all the coaches in Indiana and since all of the teams we had played hadn't won a game out of nine, we fell below teams that had beaten tougher opponents. In the AP poll, the record of the other team usually doesn't affect the votes unless a team in the top fifteen is beaten by a wide margin. Then all the teams move up respectively.

Both polling systems aren't perfect but they at least give something to strive towards.

The narrow victory over Culver last weekend will probably result in the drop of Valley by one notch in both polls.

"Old Fashioned Sunday"

They showed up like they said - bib overalls, straw hats, sun-bonnets, long dresses with long aprons and more, for the Akron Methodist Church's "Old Fashioned Sunday," held at the Akron Park. Approximately 110 people congregated for the outdoor services. Rev. Frank Cramer, dressed like a traveling preacher with a long black coat, flat top hat and white shirt and suspenders, gave his sermon, "The Old Time Religion Just Isn't Old Enough," from the bed of a hay wagon. Special music for the outdoor service was provided by Dot Lynn, Marilyn Kruger, and a trio composed of Willis Bowen, John York and Earl Hoffman, offering the song "Church in the Wildwood." After the carry-in meal, at which it was said there was a "half wagon load" of desserts, games were held for the young and old alike. During the afternoon, the people gathered to hear Ruby Dawson, long-time member of the congregation recite some of her favorite poetry, among them the poem, "Methodist Rummage Sale" which is printed here.

"Methodist Rummage Sale"

Old shoes and spats, and last year's hats,
From attics here and yon,
Old cutaways, from better days,
Now sad to look upon;

Leaky boots, and tattered suits,
Thread bare from top to tail,
You buy for cash.

Your neighbor's trash,
at the Methodist's rummage sale.

You'll see what nots, and pans and pots,
and sundries unrelated;
The junk they got ain't worth a lot.

But it's all been donated.
Tho we cart away our share today,
We'll save it, without fail,
Till some day when it's time again
For the Methodist rummage sale.

THANK YOU

A big thank you to the community for supporting our September chicken barbecue and bake sale.

Dental practice changes hands

Dr. Larry Pampel, Rochester dentist, announced this week he has purchased the Charles Miller dental practice in Akron.

Dr. Pampel stated he would be interviewing for the next two weeks, for a receptionist to handle phone calls and emergencies, and hopes to begin practice in his Akron office as soon as arrangements can be made, with a possible opening date of October 1. The hours for the office are undecided.

Dr. Pampel has practiced dentistry in Rochester for the last seven years. Prior to that time, he served for two years in the U. S. Navy, stationed in Long Beach, California.

He received his license to practice dentistry in 1972 from Indiana University's School of Dentistry in Indianapolis. A 1964 graduate of Remington High School, Remington, Indiana, he attended Ball State University, Muncie, graduating in 1968.

Dr. Pampel and his wife, Connie, have two children, Dodie 15 and Eric, 9, who attend Rochester schools. They live at 1316 Rochester Blvd., Rochester, and attend the Grace United Methodist Church.

A member of the Rochester School Board, Vice-president of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Board of Directors of the Kiwanis Club, Dr. Pampel said he hopes to become involved in activities in Akron, as time permits.

Appointments may be made at the Akron office, 893-4925 or Rochester, 223-3121.

County Extension news

School Days are here again and mothers may be packing lunches for their children. If your child is "brown bagging", follow sound nutritional guidelines and food safety tips for packing a safe lunch.

Packable lunches are often too starchy, too dull, and arrive too tired. The noon meal should furnish about one-third of the day's nutritional needs. You can be sure it will provide the essential nutrients if you select one or more sandwiches, fruits and/or vegetables, beverage, and dessert.

Sack lunches can become dull and uninviting, so be sure to add variety each day. Vary food textures that may feature crispy crackers, carrot curls or radish roses. Tuck in surprises like nuts. Alternate between hot and cold food items. Use a variety of breads for sandwiches, like whole wheat, Vienna, Pumpernickel. Include desserts. Be creative with sandwich fillings.

Sandwiches are the mainstay of the typical "brown bag". Try these tips: 1. spread both slices of bread generously with butter or margarine. Avoid mayonnaise and melted table fats as they soak into the bread. 2. If sandwiches cannot be refrigerated until mealtime, prepare the night before then freeze. They will be thawed by lunchtime. 3. Wilted lettuce may be great in salad, but between two slices of bread -- ugh! So carry it in a plastic bag to preserve its crispness. Then slip it into your sandwich at lunchtime.

Precautions must be taken in preparing and handling a sack lunch to assure its safety. Lunches carried to school sit at room temperature for long periods. This gives bacteria an excellent opportunity to grow and multiply if proper precautions aren't taken. Brown bag bacteria can be controlled if hot things are kept hot, cold things cold, and everything kept clean. To keep lunches cold, refrigerate it or use a freezer gel container.

A freezer gel may be made from a plastic margarine container filled with water and frozen. This will keep the lunch cold until mealtime. Keep working area clean when preparing lunches. Wash and rinse vacuum bottles in boiling water after each use. A lunch box instead of a paper bag may be a good idea. Lunch boxes, especially insulated ones, hold the cold much better than paper bags. Plus a box is easy to keep clean and sanitary. If you do use the traditional brown bags, buy them specifically for lunches and use them once. Bags from the store may be contaminated.

By taking a few precautions and following nutrition guidelines, the typical "brown bag" can be a relatively safe way to take a lunch.

CHOCOLATE CAKE CONES

1/2 cup margarine, softened, 1 egg, 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt, 12 cup-style ice cream cones.

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Set cones in muffin pan; fill each cone 3/4 full with batter. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes. Cool; frost with Nut Fluff Frosting: Cream 1/2 cup margarine; blend in 1 tsp. vanilla and dash of salt. Add 3 cups sifted confectioners sugar alternately with 3 T. milk, beating until light and fluffy. Fold in 1 cup miniature marshmallows; sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Bringing reason to chaos

By Thomas J. Donohue

Reams of paper have been employed to map out the intricacies of our nation's tax-collecting system. And armies of people are employed in the tasks of writing, enforcing and deciphering the Tax Code that results.

If we were to awaken one morning and find that the tax laws had been rewritten to require workers simply to pay a reasonable percentage of their income to the federal government, the average citizen would be relieved to find himself faced by a system that is equitable, logical and easy-to-understand. Furthermore, the tax system would become a more viable one because taxpayers could respect it, and respect encourages compliance.

The Citizen's Choice National Commission on Taxes and the IRS, a study group formed for one year to investigate taxpayers' reactions to the IRS and then make recommendations for improvement, heard the testimony of many taxpayers. An overwhelming number of those who testified before the Commission commented on the complexity of the tax system and its adverse effects on compliance. As one witness said, "What people can't understand, they can't respect, and if they don't respect the system, it is difficult to ask them to comply with it."

Understanding the system today is a monumental task. In 1980, the tax code totalled 2,119 pages, which were then translated into more than 10,000 pages of regulations by the bureaucrats of the U. S. Treasury.

Complexity takes on several shapes in the tax code. There are those laws that are vague, leaving the IRS -- a body with no constituency of citizens to which it must answer -- to interpret them. There are instances when the IRS oversteps its bounds, bending legislation to meet its own "policies." An finally, there is a laundry list of economic and social goals that Congress requires the IRS to enforce.

In the past year, independent contractors -- those self-employed individuals who contract with other individuals or companies to deliver goods and services -- have encountered particular problems with the IRS. Congress has established the tax status for these self-employed taxpayers, but has neglected to define exactly what an independent contractor is. This leaves the definition up to the discretion of the IRS.

Then there is former IRS Commissioner Jerome Kurtz, who launched a campaign to make many employee fringe benefits taxable. The IRS for a while hoped to tax such items as on-the-job training, annual medical check-ups, taxi fares for employees coming and going after dark and company picnics and Christmas parties.

Social and economic matters contribute most to the complexity of the tax code. Everything from clarinet lessons to mortgage payments to "quit smoking" classes to charitable contributions to the cost of solar panels can be deducted by taxpayers from their income taxes if Congress believes it will produce such benefits as good health, homeownership, the elimination of poverty and conservation of energy.

Such complications are described by their defenders as fine-tuning. They argue that with a little adjustment here and a slight change there, the tax laws will be perfect and will serve the needs of all Americans. However, these "slight" adjustments can result in thousands of pages of difficult-to-interpret tax rules.

Just who are those people who defend complexity in the tax system? Many of those individuals are the people employed to write, enforce and decipher the tax code. Usually lawyers and accountants, these people depend upon complexity to hold their jobs.

Another group more responsible for the number of pages contained in the tax code and whose jobs depend perhaps even more on the code's thickness is Congress. Congress in an attempt to please one or many interest groups or constituencies writes into law all those adjustments and changes that supposedly fine-tune the system.

The advice of those who benefit from complexity aside, Congress should pass laws that are specific, the IRS should not be allowed to shape policy on its own, and social and economic goals, no matter how laudable, should be controlled through vehicles other than the tax code.

Support for the current complexity in our tax code will remain in Washington for a long time. It is up to individual taxpayers to remind those in the Capitol city that the American people, whom tax laws are designed ultimately to help, can benefit best from simple and equitable tax laws.

Thomas J. Donohue is president of Citizen's Choice, a taxpayer's organization that was responsible for forming the National Commission on Taxes and the IRS. Citizen's Choice welcomes membership from individuals committed to slowing government's growth and control over their lives.

LESS TRAFFIC

Commercial flights likely will be held to about 75 percent their normal pace through most of 1982 as the government rebuilds the air traffic control system with new employees, Federal Aviation Administrator J. Lynn Helms said recently.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

We live in an apartment and both my husband and I work. I have a part time job but I am home in the afternoon when the children come from school.

We are having quite an argument about who should do the work around the house. My husband was brought up in a home where men didn't do the work around the house. My husband was brought up in a home where men didn't do house work. He says he did bring in wood and coal and mow the lawn when he was a boy. So he contends that house work is women's work and that the boys shouldn't be made to do any of that. I think that as we have no outdoor chores everyone should do their share of the work.

What do you think about this problem.

Slave Mother--Tenn.

Answer:

You might begin by asking your husband if his mother had to help make a living by outside work. He should wake up and realize that things have changed during the past twenty years and that men nowadays do not regard it as a demeaning thing to know how to cook or to work appliances in the home.

One couple, I recall, have both held outside jobs for years and when they leave home in the morning, each member has finished his part of the work. Boys can run a vacuum cleaner, clean the bathroom, etc. When the mother gets home in the afternoon after planning the meals, buying the groceries and getting dinner started, the others can help with the cleaning up and using the washing machine.

All children should have some responsibility concerning the home and in making it a comfortable place in which to live and boys should do their part as well as girls.

The more civilized people become the more respect they have for their women. Of course there will always be a few die-hards who continue to live as Victorians and consider their wives and children as chattels.

BEAVER DAM SOUP SUPPER COMING.

The doctor, who had just finished an elderly man's annual check-up, said with a laugh, "Well, old timer, I can't seem to find a thing wrong with you, but I recommend that you give up half your love life."

After a long pause, during which the patient appeared to be in very deep thought, he replied, "Doctor, which half do you recommend I give up, thinking about it--or talking about it?"

A proud parent called up the newspaper and reported the birth of twins. The girl at the desk didn't quite catch the message over the phone. "Will you repeat that?" she asked. "Not if I can help it," was the reply.

"Which way to the post office, boy?" "I don't know." "You don't know much, do you?" "No, but I ain't lost."

The salesman was stranded at a desolate farmhouse during a bad storm. He asked the farmer if he could put him up for the night. The farmer scratched his head. "The only way would be for you to sleep with the red-headed school teacher." The salesman was indignant and replied, "I'll have you understand, I'm a gentleman." The farmer smiled, "So is the school teacher."

Artificial Sweeteners

By U.S. Senator Dan Quayle of Indiana

Any relationship between the 1981 Farm Bill and a free market is more than coincidental—it is imaginary.

As usual, the congress, despite cries for a return to a market-oriented economy, has loaded the hay wagon called the Farm Bill with price supports, acreage allotments, and import quotas. It protects some processors from inclement weather, intractable foreign competition, and incessant price fluctuations.

The Farm Bills as reported by the House and Senate Agriculture Committees contain, among other things, a title which directs the Secretary of Agriculture to support the price of raw sugar at a level not less than 19.6 cents per pound for the 1982 crop with increases in the support price over the next three years.

That 19.6 cents is the official level. In practice interest, storage, marketing, and other administrative costs would likely drive the price of sugar as high as 25 cents per pound. That should be compared to the present price of sugar which is hovering in the 12 to 14 cent range reflecting expectations of a bumper crop this fall.

The sugar market is very volatile. A drop in price of two cents, from 14 to 12, is a 16 percent reduction. However, the amount of sugar consumed in this country is so large, that any change in the price has an enormous effect on total costs. As a rough guide to this phenomenon, every additional penny in the price of sugar equals as much as $300 million in additional costs to the consumer.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that this program could cost consumers $5 billion over the next four years.

A facet of the sugar program which differs markedly from other programs, like feed corn and soybeans, is the direct subsidy in this case goes to the sugar processors, not the farmers.

Sugar farmers sell their crops to the processors at a rate equivalent to 19.6 cents per pound. But it is the processors, not the farmers, which then get the cheap loan money from the government to carry their sugar inventories until prices rise.

Between 1977 and 1980, when support levels ranged from 13.5 to 15 cents per pound, the government loaned almost $1.7 billion to processors. In 1979-80, then interest rates fluctuated between 14 and 21 percent, sugar processors were paying as little as 10 percent on their sugar subsidy loans.

In addition to losing money on the loans, the government was also stuck with 650,000 tons of unsold sugar beets and sugar cane which had to be stored at continuing costs, or sold at a loss.

There are only 22 companies which process all the sugar beets and cane grown in this country. This subsidy program has become part of the industry's profit picture. The USDA indicates that this program might add some $68 million to the income of each sugar processor between 1982 and 1986.

The General Accounting Office, the Congress' auditor, is currently conducting a study of arbitrage and other activities which are carried on by the sugar processors with their low-interest loan money.

If the Congress is serious about cutting the participation of the federal government in the marketplace, this is a fine place to start. When Budget Director David Stockman was a Congressman from Michigan, he spoke out against a similar sugar provision in a 1977 Farm Bill and said "the really central issue here is the fact that this bill is really a blatant, unadulterated, reckless venture into protectionism on behalf of a minor agricultural crop which accounts for about one percent of our cropland and two percent of the gross value of our farm production."

The Congress has gone on record against "special interest" legislation, against unearned "hand-outs", and against federal subsidies.

There is no evidence to suggest that the sugar subsidy is needed, that there will be any economic harm done to the economy by deleting it, or that consumers will face a shortage of sugar without it.

To the contrary, it seems that the sugar subsidy is nothing more than an artificial sweetener designed to aid a handful of companies to the detriment of every consumer.

The Ethical Hunter

By Joe Scheidler

Who is the modern hunter? What's in the mind and heart of the Hoosier sportsman and how does he view his sport? The National Shooting Sports Foundation approached these questions in a recent brochure entitled "The Ethical Hunter."

There was a time when hunting meant survival. We all know those days are gone, but the modern hunter has an obligation to the game he pursues which is just as important as it was to the original pioneers and the Indians before them. The modern, ethical hunter feels obligated to give his game a fair chase and never takes more than is allowed or will be used. It's a type of reverence that the Indian recognized.

There are also obligations to landowners for the privilege of hunting. It only takes a moment to ask permission to hunt and even less time to close gates behind you and to show thoughtfulness for the rights of the one on whose land you hunt. It's often more in regret than anger that a landowner posts his hunting grounds after picking up trash too many times, chasing livestock that wandered through open gates or examining damage caused by a small minority of hunters. We all know better and need to let our good manners show.

The modern hunter also takes time to learn as much as possible about the game he hunts and is twice rewarded for his efforts. First through a greater awareness of the complex balance in the natural environment, and secondly, with an appreciation of the game he pursues that builds to a respect demanding fair play. The more we learn about the world of wildlife the more pleasure we derive from a day in the field, regardless of how elusive the game may have been.

In addition there's companionship between hunting partners, be they friends or family. There's the responsibility to make every effort to retrieve a downed bird or other game. There are the unwritten laws which say it's wrong to hog all the shots or take a 100-yard shot at a goose. There's the courteous regard for the feelings of non-hunters. And finally, there's respect for the law. Laws are made to preserve the future for hunting and lawbreakers are cheating their fellow hunters and themselves.

Hunters have been the key instruments in maintaining the opportunity to hunt. A small portion of the hunting fraternity misbehaves occasionally, and unfortunately, their actions are the ones the public tends to remember. Let's all make sure we know what's in the mind and heart of a true sportsman.

GAS ECONOMY

Foreign cars once again dominate the list of fuel economy leaders for the 1982 model year, but one American entry, the Chevy Chevette diesel, broke into the top 10, the government said recently. For the fifth straight year, Volkswagen Rabbit with a diesel engine and four-speed manual transmission has the best mileage.

BELL DEFENDS POSITION

Education Secretary T.H. Bell defended his stance on civil rights recently and attacked what he called the "mindless" insistence on "mediocrity and equal treatment for everyone."

State plans for changes in AFDC

Indiana intends to proceed with the implementation of mandatory changes in the administration of Assistance to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), effective October 1, 1981, according to Robert F. Smith, Acting Administrator of the State Welfare Department. These changes represent final congressional approval of the package of welfare reforms proposed by the Reagan Administration and enacted into law under the provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981.

According to Mrs. Marion Steffy, Director of Public Assistance, implementation of these mandatory changes will immediately affect the eligibility of certain categories of recipients currently receiving assistance payments. Children of step-parent and families with earned income will be the first to feel the impact of these welfare reform measures. A step-parent's income will be counted when determining benefits for AFDC. Some of the income will be disregarded to meet the step-parent's own needs and that of dependent persons not eligible to be included under the AFDC program.

Only those families with gross income at or below 150 percent of the State standard of need would be eligible for AFDC. Persons receiving lump sum payments, such as insurance settlements or lump sum social security benefits, which exceed the State standard of need for a particular month would be rendered ineligible for AFDC for that month. Additionally, the remainder of the lump sum would be divided by the State monthly standard of need to determine a prescribed time period the family would remain ineligible for AFDC assistance.

All states will be prohibited from making AFDC payments of less than $10. Such recipients, however, would retain their Medicaid eligibility. Also, families in which the caretaker relative is participating in a strike will not be eligible for AFDC.

Certain income disregards will have more stringent time restraints, and work expenses including child care will have new, lower caps. The largest change in the administration of AFDC is the requirement for all States to use retrospective accounting. This system determines benefits on the basis of the actual income in the previous month and requires recipients to submit monthly income reports for eligibility determination.

County Welfare Departments have been advised of these pending changes and are currently making initial preparation for implementation by identifying cases that must be changed October 1, 1981.

Mrs. Steffy noted that, while these changes will eliminate eligibility for certain recipients, AFDC benefits will continue to be available to the truly needy families in Indiana. Additionally, Mrs. Steffy noted that while the transition period to implement these changes is limited, Indiana's past performance in continually ranking as one of the nation's top States in the administration of AFDC, has adequately prepared the State and County Departments of Public Welfare to ensure a smooth and accurate implementation of these changes.

Taken from the Northern Indiana Co-Op News
40 YEARS AGO

Dr. Urschel, of Mentone, was in attendance at Woodlawn hospital at Rochester last Saturday when triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Snipes, of Tippecanoe. All three were girls. The Snipes family included four boys and a girl and been desired.

The first daughter arrived at 11:20 a.m., the second at 12:22 p.m. and the third ten minutes later. It has been stated that this was the first triplets to be born in Fulton County in 76 years.

Dr. Urschel, in keeping the necessary medical records of the births, was referring to them as "A", "B" and "C" until they were named by the parents. He was somewhat surprised when he learned that the names chosen were Alice, Bernice and Catherine.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Lora Covalt and Mrs. Eunice Bradway, of Warsaw, and Mrs. Ray Linn of Mentone, attended the Antiques Exhibit and sale held in the Rotary Rooms of the Oliver Hotel at South Bend.

The Teel reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Kesler and family of Mentone. Relatives from Michigan City, South Bend, Mishawaka, Fort Wayne, Akron, Wabash, Rochester, Logansport and Tiffin, Ohio attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Whetstone and family spent Sunday in Michigan with relatives.

An 8 pound boy, James Le Roy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feldman last Saturday morning at their home in Mentone. Mother and baby both are doing fine.

In the South Whitley Horse Show Saturday evening, R. G. Reed's horse placed second and Rex Tucker's, fifth, in the Plantation Walking Horse class.

LeRoy Cox, local Chevrolet dealer, announces that the new 1942 model Chevrolet will be on display at the show rooms in Mentone Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Nelson, of Mentone, celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary Sunday when 32 gathered around their table to enjoy the anniversary dinner that had been prepared. Those present were children, grandchildren, great-grand children and other immediate relatives.

TAKEN FROM THE Northern Indiana Co-op News, June 20, 1951.

20 YEARS AGO:

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemier and daughter, Leah Neil, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Martin, of Sidney, Montana, returned last week from a 6400 mile trip in some of the western states.

The party visited Yellowstone National Park, Bryce Canyon, Grand Canyon, Tucson and Old Mexico.

The Erm McGowen home, north west of Mentone, suffered considerable damage in Tuesday evening's lightning storm. There was no fire, but it's hard to believe some of the things the "fire from the sky" did while galloping around inside the house. It was worse than a bunch of neighborhood kids in an old house.

The lightning charge followed every electric or telephone wire and then seemed to jump from one piece of metal to another. It traveled down the metal lathe and threw chunks of plaster here and there. It burned holes in the sides of the metal kitchen cabinets and electric stove, melted the electric fuses into a jumbled mass and did almost everything else to mess up the home. Joe Baker spent most of Wednesday there making repairs and still wasn't through by evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fawley, of Etna Green, are the parents of a daughter, Linda Kay, weighing seven pounds, one ounce, born at 12:30 p.m., last Thursday at the McDonald Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley are the paternal grandparents.

"America's Symbolic Bird - The Bald Eagle."

The American bald eagle projects an air of fearlessness, strength, swiftness and unrelenting determination. The eagle is the symbol of our national sovereignty; the great seal of the United States, the Presidential Seal, as insignia for the military branches, on certain U.S. coins and paper money. Often the eagle is depicted clutching an olive branch (peace). It is most impressive and extraordinarily beautiful bird that is easily recognized. A fully grown adult averages 8 1/2 pounds in weight and has a wing space of six to seven feet. Its body is brownish black, its head and tail are snowy white and its eyes, feet and bill are a bright yellow. From a distance the white head looks like it is bald. Conservationist measures have been taken in recent years to ensure this great American bird. The Akron Keen-Agers are proud to share the Lion's Club building with the Scouts, who proudly display the eagle insignia on their badges. This country stands for the young and old side-by-side. We are all proud to be Americans.

Survey shows an increase

A survey just completed among recovered alcoholics in Alcoholics Anonymous in the U.S. and Canada indicates continuing increases in the numbers of women and of people 30 and under who join A.A.

This is the fifth and largest in a series of surveys begun in 1968: 24,950 A.A. members took part in the sampling.

The results show that 34 percent of those who have joined A.A. since 1977 are women. Further, the percentage of young people in the current sample has risen from 11.3% in 1977 to 14.7% in 1980. One in every four newcomers joining A.A. since 1977 is 30 or under, and one in 25 is 20 or under. The youngest respondent was a 13-year-old girl. The oldest was an 85-year-old man who has been sober since his first A.A. meeting, in 1957.

The results were compiled from questionnaires filled out by approximately 5% of the total of 476,000 recovered alcoholics who are active members of A.A. groups in the U.S. and Canada. The study offers reinforced evidence of the long-term efficacy of the A.A. program. Of those who start, only slightly more than 50% stay more than three months. But members who have remained in the program for between one and five years have an 85% chance of remaining active in A.A. for the next year without drinking. For members with more than five years of sobriety, the likelihood of Doud Orchards announces an open house and grand opening of their new salesroom on Saturday, September 26 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. and Sunday afternoon, September 27, 12 p.m. - 6 p.m. The opening is a culmination of three year's work in moving and reassembling a century-old barn to provide an expanded rustic sales area. Displays of old photographs, antiques, apple varieties, product and recipe tasting and an observation bee hive constitute some of the planned activities for the two days. The orchard is located on State Road 16 and 19, two miles north of Chili.

New salesroom century-old barn

Part of the orchard sales area includes the old Port Royal school house, located on land deeded for that purpose by Lorenzo Doud in 1869. Lorenzo homesteaded the 80 acres of Indian Reserve land in 1843, coming with a group of pioneers from the Rochester, N.Y. area. It is believed that the village of Chili was named by these settlers from Chili Center and Pittsford, N.Y. Lorenzo's children and grandchildren were educated at Port Royal until the Chili High School was completed. Pictures from this era will be on display, including school groups, the Chili community band, fairs and fruit displays, orchard cultural and building changes, friends and neighbors.

The first orchard on this farm was planted about 1894 by Brenson Doud, youngest son of Lorenzo. The single remaining tree from this planting will be on display. The original apple orchard totaled about 10 acres and including such varieties as Tulpehocken, Pewaukee, Rambo, Vandevere Pippin, Early Harvest, and Strawberry.

Lorenzo V. Doud, eldest son of Brenson, expanded the orchard to 20 acres with plantings in 1914, including a few cherries and some peaches. In partnership with younger brother Wilbert, he planted the remainder of the farm to trees in 1932-33. Lorenzo received training in agriculture at Winona College and took several short courses in horticulture at Purdue. He became one of the leading progressive fruit growers in the state and served several terms as president of the Indiana Horticultural Society. He and his wife, Elba, were active in many areas of the surrounding community, especially musical and church groups. The orchard during much of this period benefited from relatively mild climate, adequate local labor, and regional markets which absorbed large crops of packed fruit. Major varieties included: Golden Delicious, Rome, Turley, Jonathan, Grimes, and Summer Rambo.

Lorne J. Doud, son of Lorenzo, assumed management of the orchard in 1967, after managing the other family orchard for two decades. He began an extensive tree replanting program using dwarfing rootstocks from his nursery operation to control tree size. As old trees (40 per acre) were replaced by small young trees (200-400 per acre), many new varieties and strains were added to extend the ripening season and selection for local retail customers. These changes were mandated by less-certain weather trends, labor shortages, and mass-merchandizing of whole-sale fruit from a few large U.S. production areas. This trend continues, with expansion of retail products and facilities to serve customer needs.

Lorne received a B.S. degree in Horticulture from Purdue and has been active in several progressive horticulture groups. He has served as president of both the Indiana Horticultural Society and International Dwarf Fruit Tree Association. He is assisted by his wife, Betty and children, Steven, David, and Diane, all of whom have pursued collegiate horticultural training at Purdue. Steven and Diane have also received graduate degrees from Michigan State and Ohio State, respectively.

Autumn brings thoughts of warm hazy days and cool, crisp nights-perfect conditions for ripening the Hoosier apple harvest. Many orchard visitors recall the home orchards of childhood, "while others may have helped harvest the area crops. Unfortunately, the youngest visitors may associate fresh fruit only with supermarket shelves and have not knowledge of the specialized methods used to produce the crops. At one time within the last 30 years there were perhaps two dozen producing orchards in the surrounding area and an active Miami County Horticulture Society. Due to several recent adverse trends-notably weather, labor, overhead, markets, and energy costs-only 2 or 3 local orchards still exist. It is hoped that area residents will visit these sites to enjoy locally-grown produce and learn more about community heritage.

New food stamp rules effective Oct. 1

New rules were published on September 4th that will change the way food stamp eligibility is determined and how benefits are calculated, starting October 1. According to Mary C. Jarratt, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Food and Consumer Services, the new rules will implement portions of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981 and are aimed at saving $1.3 billion in federal costs for the food stamp program in fiscal year 1982.

Today's regulations set a gross monthly income eligibility limit for all food stamp households except those with elderly or disabled members. Under the present law, eligibility is determined on the basis of a household's net monthly income, a figure derived by subtracting the $85 food stamp "standard deduction" and any other allowable child care, excess shelter, earned income, or medical deductions from the household's gross monthly income.

Starting October 1, eligibility will be calculated using a household's gross monthly income before deductions. Under the new rules, households whose gross incomes exceed 130 percent of the official poverty line will be declared ineligible. This change is expected to save $244 million and will affect approximately four percent of the food stamp caseload, or 875,000 people. The new gross monthly income limit for a family of four is $916, or $11,000 annually.

Other changes in food stamp eligibility requirements alter the definition of a food stamp "household," and ban benefits to boarders and strikers.

Current program rules enable a household that meets the income and assets limits to get food stamps, even if the household's low income is the result of a family member on strike. Now, striker households that apply for stamps will be denied benefits unless they were eligible to receive food stamps before the strike began. These eligible households, however, will not be entitled to increase benefits, under the new rules.

All told, the changes in the eligibility rules are expected to save $355 million next year.

Major cost savings next year will also be achieved through a new rule to pro-rate a household's first month's benefits. Existing rules permit a household joining the food stamp program to get a full month's allotment, regardless of the day of the month that it applies. Beginning October 1, a household will receive benefits from the day that it applies instead of for the whole month.

This change is expected to save $411 million in fiscal year 1982.

Most food stamp recipients will be affected by a rule change that will index the standard and child care/excess shelter deductions less frequently. Presently, the food stamp program grants all households a standard deduction of $85 and permits households with child care and/or unusually high shelter costs a combined deduction of up to $115 for these expenses. Existing rules provide for an annual update of both deductions each January.

Today's regulations will freeze the standard and child care excess shelter deductions at $85 and $115 until July 1983, and base the July increase on consumer price index data for the 15 months ending March 31, 1983.

Savings resulting from this change in FY 1982 are expected to be $128 million.

An additional savings of $385 million is planned when new regulations delay the cost-of-living update of the Thrifty Food Plan, which is normally adjusted annually in January. The new rules will schedule the next adjustments for April 1982, July 1983, October 1984 and every October after that. The Thrifty Food Plan is used to calculate how many food stamps a household may receive. The size of a household's monthly benefit is determined by subtracting 30 percent of the household's net income from the amount of money it would cost to feed a household its size according to the Thrifty Food Plan. A family of four with no income now gets $233.

Households that have earned income will be permitted to deduct 18 percent of their gross earnings, rather than the current 20 percent, to offset work-related expenses under new rules covering the "earnings disregard." This decrease in the amount a household with earnings can deduct for work expenses is expected to save $49 million in fiscal year 1982, and will reduce benefits by at least six dollars to nearly forty percent of working households that receive food stamps. Approximately twenty percent of the food stamp program's eight million households have earned income.

These and other regulatory changes are published in today's Federal Register. Comments on the new rules will be accepted through January 4, 1982, and should be sent to: Alberta Frost, Deputy Administrator for Family Nutrition Programs, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Washington D.C. 20250

Weekly Wrap-up

By State Senator
William F. Justice

A number of new laws passed by the 1981 General Assembly went into effect on September 1, and I thought I would summarize for you some of these laws. The new laws cover virtually all areas—including corrections, drunk driving, violent crime, the judicial system, family law, local government and motor vehicles.

Several of the laws affect the area of family law. Under the provisions of one statute, the courts can order a legal separation decree of up to one year unless a cross petition for dissolution of the marriage is filed. The law also allows for child support, visitation and custody rights under separation. Under another law, grandparents will be allowed to petition the courts for visitation rights in the event they have been separated from the child because of divorce or the death of a parent. Another new family law will permit the courts to assess interest charges of one percent per month against persons who fail to make timely child support payments.

In the area of motor vehicles, stiffer penalties would be imposed for persons convicted of driving a vehicle with a suspended or revoked license or permit, and persons convicted a second time of driving while intoxicated would face a mandatory five day jail sentence. Under the terms of this new law, persons facing the five day jail term would be allowed to serve the time on weekends or at other times.

In correction law, the legislature prohibited state prisoners from conducting a private business on department grounds or using the resources and grounds of the state corrections facility for private business practices.

Under another law, the Department of Corrections would be required to notify the victim of a forcible felony of the pending release, parole, or parole hearing of the person convicted of the crime.

In the area of violent crime, penalties were stiffened for certain criminal offenses involving the use of a deadly weapon. A related law increased penalties for possession of or dealing with sawed-off shotguns. Also stiffened were penalties for arson. Under the new act, persons convicted of intentionally destroying property having a value of $250 but less than $5,000 would be guilty of a Class D Felony.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE CONTROL, TAXATION, IMMUNIZATION, IMPOUNDMENT, AND DESTRUCTION OF DOGS AND CATS WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE TOWN OF MENTONE, INDIANA. WHEREAS, unrestrained dogs and cats have been running at large within the town limits of the Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana; and

WHEREAS, said unrestrained dogs and cats are a nuisance and a threat to the health, safety and well-being of the residents of the Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it ordained by the Board of Town Trustees of the Town of Mentone, Kosciusko County, Indiana, as follows:

ARTICLE I - DOGS

Section 1. The owner or keeper of any dog within the Town is hereby required to restrain such dog from running at large, and it shall be unlawful to suffer or permit any dog to run at large on any of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, public places or public grounds within the limits of the Town.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Town Marshall and his deputies to take into custody any dog found to be roaming the streets and/or alleys, or other public places, unattended by the owner, the owner's agent or custodian, whether such dog shall have the tag required by this article or not, and to place such dog in the Town dog pound.

Section 3. (a) Unlicensed dogs. If a dog is impounded pursuant to Section 2, it shall be released to the owner or keeper of the dog within three (3) days of the date of impounding, unless the owner or keeper of the dog shall not appear to claim the dog within that time, in which case the dog shall be disposed of.

(b) LICENSED DOGS.

If any dog taken into custody pursuant to Section 2 has the requisite license and is wearing a tag as evidence thereof, then the owner shall be notified and upon payment of a boarding fee of One Dollar ($1.00) per day such dog shall be released. If the owner cannot be found within Five (5) days then such dog shall be disposed of.

Section 4. (a) The owner of every dog kept, maintained, or boarded or harbored within the limits of the Town shall pay to the Clerk-Treasurer of the Town an annual tax in the amount of Five Dollars ($5.00) for each dog so kept, maintained, boarded or harbored within the Town limits. (b) The tax shall be due and payable on the first day of February of each year, and such payment shall be made to the Clerk-Treasurer of the Town.

(c) The owner of any dog kept, maintained, boarded or harbored within the limits of the Town who fails or refuses to pay such annual tax on such dog shall be fined in an amount not exceeding Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00).

Section 5. Upon payment of the tax required by Section 4, the Clerk-Treasurer shall issue a suitable tag in evidence of payment and shall have printed thereon suitable wording and lettering to designate the name of the Town, the year and any other lettering or insignia to designate the purpose for which it is issued.

Section 6. The dog tag and payment therefor shall not be issued and the tax accepted until proper evidence is presented to the Clerk-Treasurer showing that the dog to be licensed has had an inoculation against rabies within the year immediately preceding the date of issuance of such tag.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person to harbor any dog which is over the age of Six (6) months and which is not presently immunized against rabies.

Section 8. In the event any person harbors a dog which is over Six (6) months of age and is not immunized against rabies and allows such dog to run loose, with the result that bodily injury is inflicted upon a human being, such person shall be punished by a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment not exceeding Six (6) months, or both.

Section 9. Whenever the Town Board President may apprehend that there is danger of the existence or spread of hydrophobia or other dangerous disease within the Town, he shall issue a proclamation ordering and requiring all persons owning, possessing or harboring any member of the canine family within the limits of the Town to:

(1) Confine or muzzle such animal for a term of not less than Thirty (30) days, nor more than Ninety (90) days following the date of such proclamation.

(2) Cause such unvaccinated animal to be inoculated with antirabies serum by a registered veterinary surgeon;

(3) Cause such animal to be effectively secured and muzzled during the period of such proclamation so as to prevent the animal from biting humans and other animals.

Section 10. Any member of the canine family which may be found in violation of the provisions of the proclamation issued pursuant to Section 9 shall be destroyed by order of the health officer.

ARTICLE II - CATS

Section 1. The owner or keeper of any cat within the Town is hereby required to restrain such cat from running at large, and it shall be unlawful to suffer or permit any cat to run at large on any of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, public places or public grounds within the limits of the Town.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Town Marshall and his deputies to take into custody any cat found to be roaming the streets and/or alleys, or other public places, unattended by the owner or the owner's agent or custodian, whether such cat shall have the tag required by this article or not, and to place such cat in the Town animal pound.

Section 3. (1) Unlicensed cats. If a cat is impounded pursuant to Section 2 it shall be released to the owner or keeper of the cat within three (3) days of the date of impounding, unless the owner or keeper of the cat shall not appear to claim the cat within that time, in which case the cat shall be disposed of.

(b) Licensed cats. If a cat is impounded pursuant to Section 2 it shall be released to the owner or keeper of the cat within three (3) days of the date of impounding, unless the owner or keeper of the cat shall not appear to claim the cat within that time, in which case the cat shall be disposed of.

Section 4. (a) The owner of every cat kept, maintained, or boarded or harbored within the limits of the Town shall pay to the Clerk-Treasurer of the Town an annual tax in the amount of Five Dollars ($5.00) for each cat so kept, maintained, boarded or harbored within the Town limits. (b) The tax shall be due and payable on the first day of February of each year, and such payment shall be made to the Clerk-Treasurer of the Town.

(c) The owner of any cat kept, maintained, boarded or harbored within the limits of the Town who fails or refuses to pay such annual tax on such cat shall be fined in an amount not exceeding Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00).

Section 5. The Clerk-Treasurer of the Town shall refuse to accept payment of the tax provided in Section 4 hereof unless proper evidence is presented to the Clerk-Treasurer showing that the cat has had an inoculation against rabies within the Twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date of issuance of such tag.

Section 6. Upon payment of the tax required by Section 4 and proof of inoculation required by Section 5, the Clerk-Treasurer shall issue a suitable tag in evidence of payment, which tag shall have imprinted thereon suitable wording, insignia and lettering to designate the name of the Town, the year and to designate the purpose for which it is issued.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person to harbor any cat which is over Six (6) months of age and which has not been inoculated for rabies within the immediately preceding Twelve (12) months.

This ordinance supersedes and revokes any other ordinance or part thereof that may be in conflict herewith and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as provided by law. Jeannie and James Steele

Welcome new citizens

By Eula Smith

Most of us are citizens of the United States because we were born here, but Jeannie and James Steele are special. They became citizens September 22, 1981 by naturalization.

Jeannie, a fourth grade student in Pam Smith's room at Mentone School, and James, a third grader in Rosemary Bazini's class, moved here two years ago when their father, Billy Joe Steele, became minister for the Church of Christ.

Government red tape has been a regular part of life in their family for about ten years. In 1973, when Billy was in the Air Force, stationed in the Philippine Islands, he and his wife, Carole, took sixteen month old Jeannie into their home. A few months later they added four month old James. At that time, they were not allowed to adopt the children, so they applied to become legal guardians. After a flood destroyed some of the papers, they repeated the process.

July 4, 1975 was a big day for Jeannie and James. That was the day they arrived in the United States. They landed at Travis Air Force Base, and the parents took care of the necessary paper work there. Because they crossed different time zones, their Fourth of July lasted forty-eight hours that year.

Billy and Carole could adopt the children in the United States, so that was the next step. Although the children were pre-schoolers, it was necessary to obtain Social Security cards for them, and an alien registration card was required each January until this year.

Before a person can petition for naturalization, he (or she) must meet certain requirements. He must enter the country lawfully. He must live in the U.S. a certain number of years, five, three, or two. The number varies with the situation. The petitioner must also live six months or a year in the state where he is applying for naturalization. The Steeles started this step when he was stationed in Michigan, but he was transferred before it was completed.

In 1981 they applied again and moved on to the second step, investigation and interview. Harry, Grace Sullivan went with the family to Fort Wayne in August to vouch for their qualifications. Future citizens must have good moral character and must be able to read, write and speak simple English. Jeannie and James were not tested, but older applicants are expected to know something of the history and government of the United States.

When the Steeles and a few friends went to Fort Wayne for the final step, they joined a group of approximately 150 nervous but happy people. An hour of waiting and paper signing was followed by the highlight of the day, the half-hour naturalization ceremony.

Milton C. Jossey, naturalization examiner of the northern Indiana District, was in charge. He said this group of 77 was the largest group in history to be naturalized in the Fort Wayne area. A ceremony is conducted in April and September each year at Fort Wayne.

Mr. Jossey, encouraged the applicants to assume the responsibilities of citizenship by registering and voting, by serving on the jury when called, and by testifying. He said only 53 percent of eligible voters voted in 1980, and he told of a man arrested for a crime he committed in the presence of several witnesses. However, no one would testify, so the man was released to continue his criminal ways.

In the absence of Judge Jesse Eshbach, Judge Moody served as magistrate of the United States District Court. As in other courts, the audience was asked to rise when the judge entered the room. Mr. Jossey made a motion that the applicants be admitted to citizenship, explaining that they had met all of the requirements. They were asked to stand and raise their right hands while a clerk read an oath in which they renounced all other countries, and to reply "I do."

A member of the Daughters of the American Revolution led the new citizens in the Pledge to the American Flag. Later, members of this organization gave each of them a small flag.

A color guard of Marines presented the flag and retired the flag.

Judge Moody welcomed the new citizens. He said that we are privileged to have fellow American who have chosen to live by the Constitution, and much of America's greatness was achieved by immigrants. The new citizens have the same rights and privileges and the same obligations as others.

The faces in the court room illustrated the idea that America is the melting pot of the world. Some had European ancestors, some had African and some had Asian.

The man who wore a long jacket over white trousers and the woman in a beautiful blue sari seemed to be from India. Perhaps the man in the furry hat was from central Europe. Two women wore

Parents complain of class size at Akron

Several parents of Akron's second grade students attended the Tippecanoe Valley School Board meeting last Monday to protest the size of the two second grade classes, one of which numbers 31 students, the other 33 students. The protest was over concern about individual attention. The parents expressed their belief that grades 1 - 3 are the most critical years in the learning abilities of the children. This was challenged by school board members who told them there were several critical levels besides grades one-three, such as beginning junior high grades.

The parents felt that without individual attention, the students could develop behavior problems or learning disabilities in future years.

Superintendent Paige made a short report to the board on the situation and explained the reason for the cutting of the third room from second grade, citing a drop in enrollment as the cause. An aide who works in the kindergarten room is now helping two hours each day in the second grade rooms and some 13 to 15 of the second grade children work with a special reading teacher.

Mr. Paige stated there is another room available at Akron and the board will be monitoring the situation and plan to study the enrollment figures for that grade level. The parents were invited to observe their children in the class at anytime, to watch the teacher and/or the aides work with the students.

Curt Curtis, Kosciusko County Youth Employment Council was present to request that a 10-day mini-course on employability skills be added to the high school curriculum. The program, already approved by four local school systems, will be included at Tippecanoe Valley if the teachers involved are in agreement and approve the matter. The board gave Mr. Paige the permission to confer with the teachers and make arrangements with Mr. Curtis to begin the course.

The superintendent presented an outside facility assessment for the board's decision on whether or not they wish to pursue insurance coverage on the bleachers, tennis courts, lights, etc. After discussion the board asked for further information and a quotation from the insurance agency. The equipment has been assessed at $250,000 valuation.

During other business, the board renewed a contract with Dr. McFadden to transport his son, Dean, a handicapped senior, to the high school during the 1981-82 school year; granted Adult Basic Education contracts for Rick Phillips, Merdena Bechtol and Rick Ralston; approved a two day professional leave and transportation expenses allowance up to $380 for ABE teacher Rick Ralston to attend a Public Educational Continuing Adult Education Conference in California this fall. Ralston is the State President of the Association in Indiana and the state will pay $500 of the expense of the trip; gave approval for Mr. Paige to participate in a North Central Evaluation team at Kokomo Taylor High School on January 12-15, 1982; agreed to have the corporation attorney file claims in small claims court against patrons with unpaid book rentals which are overdue for over one year or more.

The board also gave approval for the construction of a combination restroom, concession stand and storage facility on the football field area. The building which will be cement block, will be built by the building trades instructor, Ken Murphy, using the building trades class to lay blocks and install the plumbing, or he may contract these services out, at his discretion.

NIPSCO chairman says commitment to serve remains

Northern Indiana Public Service company's commitment to provide reliable gas and electric service to its customers has never been stronger, Edmund A. Schroer, NIPSCO chairman and chief executive officer, told a gathering of area and community business leaders last night.

Schroer said that the Public

Drivers' license renewals

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles would like to remind all Indiana residents that they may renew a driver's license as early as six (6) months prior to the expiration date of their current license and still receive a full four-year credit. This extension is handled on a monthly basis with the month of application for renewal being considered the first month. For example, an individual whose driver's license expires in March, 1982, may apply for renewal as early as October 1, 1981.

Commissioner Michael M. Packard, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, stated, "We, at the Bureau, strongly recommend this service to drivers who, due to employment obligations or extended travel, will be out of the state on their expiration date. Taking advantage of this program will assure that these motorists are driving on a valid license." He added, "Many senior citizens, 75 years of age and older, may also wish to renew early to avoid taking a drive test in inclement weather conditions. We are pleased to offer this early renewal program to these individuals as well."

Service Commission's recent lifting of all restrictions on natural gas sales, coupled with the company's ongoing electric construction program makes northern Indiana an energy abundant area, a prerequisite for industrial growth resulting in increased job opportunities and broadened tax bases.

The utility leader spoke to some 250 business and civic leaders at the Elcona Country Club following a Company board of directors meeting held in the utility's Goshen division earlier in the day.

"Energy sufficiency is vital to increased industrial productivity," Schroer said. "All available technologies, including conservation, will be necessary to meet the energy requirements of all of us both in the near and long-term future."

"The deregulation of natural gas at the wellhead, as mandated by the Natural Gas Policy Act (NGPA) of 1978, resulting in gradually increasing prices, together with conservation by all classes of customers, has made more of this clean, efficient fuel available across the nation," he said.

Schroer said that while the NGDP has achieved one of its objectives—increased supplies, NIPSCO has objected to the incremental pricing provisions of the act, which he said will place an unfair burden on industrial customers and could ultimately result in increased rates for residential and commercial customers.

"For these reasons we and the gas industry are requesting the Administration and congress to repeal the Incremental Pricing provision or to restructure it," the utility chief executive said.

Schroer also said the utility earlier this year announced its opposition to the immediate deregulation of natural gas prices.

"Under the NGPA, the wellhead price of new natural gas (gas discovered after early 1977) is being gradually decontrolled, culminating in total decontrol by 1985," he said. "To accelerate this decontrol would also cause needless hardship for all classes of customers, particularly for residential consumers, and ultimately undermine our rapidly improved and improving gas supply situation.

"Lifting the restrictions on gas sales allows us to intensify our industrial development activities in the communities we serve, assisting them in attracting new industry and expanding businesses already located here," Schroer said.

NIPSCO directors met in Goshen Tuesday as part of management's policy of holding board meetings periodically in a service area community. The regular monthly board meetings are held in the utility's corporate headquarters in Hammond.

NIPSCO Energy #1 Report

and NIPSCO rates are rising but still among the lowest!

Natural gas costs have gone up. That's no secret. But supplies of natural gas—the largest source of domestically-produced energy and our most efficient and environmentally acceptable fuel—have gone up, too.

A major reason we have been able to rebuild an ample supply of natural gas in this country, and especially here in northern Indiana, is that prices are high enough to encourage exploration and development, yet low enough to keep your natural gas relatively economical.

Another major reason is that you and other customers have been using your energy wisely, as we have been encouraging you to do for several years, thus making more gas available.

Higher costs for producing and transmitting natural gas to this area by our suppliers have been prime factors in the increased gas rates. NIPSCO has had only three general rate increases since 1970, the most recent in 1978. Since 1970,

Even though NIPSCO gas rates have been going up, our gas bills are lower than those in many other parts of the country. In fact, an American Gas Association study of 78

Even though prices for natural gas will continue to increase, adequate supplies of this clean, efficient fuel will remain available here in northern Indiana for you and your family for years to come.

The Chicago Fire

On October 8, 1871, in Chicago--near or in Mrs. O'Leary's stable--straw caught fire, perhaps from a lantern Mrs. O'Leary was using while milking. (Mrs. O'Leary always denied the cow story.)

Whatever the cause, conditions were just right for a fire. It was October dry, and a brisk wind was blowing. The fire which began near Mrs. O'Leary's stable burned down 20,000 houses and buildings, left 100,000 people homeless.

Though the city was rebuilt, more beautiful than before, the great fire prompted the nation's insurance companies to ask the president to designate the first week in October as Fire Prevention Week, which he did.

Early October has been the date of fire prevention efforts ever since. This year the week starting October 4 is Fire Prevention Week.

The New Season

To millions of Americans who watch commercial TV (other millions seldom do), the so-called "new season" is a current topic. The news about the 1981-82 season is that it's supposed to sell less crime and violence and stress law and order.

This is a late, grudging, partial bending of producers and sponsors to growing public resentment of the "Broadway" influence in the lives of American families in small town, rural areas, all across America where moral standards are different from those in Hollywood and on Broadway.

In the next few weeks and months, various churches and other organizations which have lately bestirred themselves in an effort to remove the dirt and degradation from commercial TV will be studying and analyzing the new season's programs.

Concerned parents and others should also critically view commercial TV programs. They should support organizations which seek to clean up the industry if they agree that today's American television is too often a negative, immoral influence in the lives of their loved ones.

Lenin said it more than a generation ago--if he could expose the people of Russia to his films, he could control the country. That's exactly what the U.S. commercial TV industry has been doing in recent decades. And while much of the fare has been acceptable, too much uneven presentation of news, too many biased documentaries, etc., allow the industry to mold public opinion according to the views of network executives.

This, plus sterile non-comedy, passed off as humor with taped-in laughter to motivate the weak-minded, is a growing concern.

Smile

Few of us realize the true power of a smile. Many clergymen do, as do many politicians and salesmen. But many who could benefit enormously by a cheerful smile as their outfront personality seldom use it, or practice it.

Some of us are, naturally, shy--in this fast, loud world. Some are, understandably, beat down by problems and worries. Others are under various forms of tension, pressure or emotion. So it's not always easy.

Nevertheless, practice smiling. The results might astonish you, in making new friends, better friends, better business and a better bank balance! People just like pleasant, smiling people.

SCORPIO -- Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--Prices are high, so don't be tempted to buy anything you don't need. Look after your own well-being.

SAGITTARIUS -- Nov. 23 to Dec. 21--Make a list of material things you wish to obtain and accomplishments you wish to attain. Although it may be a time consuming task, you can with good planning achieve your goals.

CAPRICORN -- Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 -- An overly radical stand could bring some unpopularity your way. Be reasonable in your thinking. Think before you make a positive statement.

AQUARIUS -- Jan. 20 to Feb. 18--Demands on your time this week from associates seem unreasonable. To examine your progress in all areas, keep a journal for the next six months.

PISCES -- Feb. 19 to March 20--Even though those around you seem to be talking in circles, listen to them. Exciting developments can be expected in your chosen field.

ARIES -- March 21 to April 20--Your dogged determination seems to have led you to success. Now that you are beginning to realize your goals relax a little.

TAURUS -- April 21 to May 20--A situation arises where you find yourself speechless, which is rather unusual for you. Use your sense of humor to relieve the situation which could be awkward.

GEMINI -- May 21 to June 20--Someone whom you consider an exciting personality reappears on the scene. You can win their approval by supporting the worthy cause they strongly support.

CANCER -- June 21 to July 22--This should be an exceptionally good week for you. You can safely put your trust in those close to you.

LEO -- July 23 to Aug. 22--Whatever you do, eat and drink moderately. Over-indulgence could be a threat to your health. Get plenty of rest.

VIRGO -- Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--Make plans and then carry them through. If you want to be loved, you must learn to give love.

In Fashion

A carefully chosen blazer, in velvet, flannel or corduroy, offers much variety in the fall outfit.

Wool flannel suits with beautifully tailored skirts and jackets are a must for the busy woman.

The best way to get somewhere in life is to know where you are going and get up sufficient steam for the journey.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Thank you for the extensive coverage of the hearing as to the renovation projects for the district schools. My name was listed as being one who talked against the project. Couldn't it as well have been listed with those for? It was for a delay of the letting of the contract for bids before next spring that I spoke, hoping for a better financial interest rate.

I do compliment the board on dropping the size of the projects by about one third. It does seem to me that something needs to be done soon.

Respectfully,
 Hugh Wildermuth

Dear Louisa,

I am thinking of getting a divorce but I haven't made up my mind. My husband is considered a good husband. He's a good provider and is easy to get along with but the truth of the matter is that I am bored to death. He never wants to go anywhere and when he gets home he loves to putter about the yard or read or look at television.

I am not interested in any other man but I might be if I were free to get around and meet other people. Do you think I would be silly to ask for a divorce?

R.M.--Ala.

Answer:

Yes, I think you would be silly to ask for a divorce. There are thousands of women in this world who would be delighted to have a husband who took an interest in the yard--who was not out chasing other women or coming home drunk. But if you are so bored with the pattern of your life why not try to change it by occasionally inviting friends in for an evening. They will probably ask you back in return and that would be a good way to start your husband enjoying the company of other people.

I once knew a man who was a great introvert but after a few years of getting to know others, not in his small circle, he was hard to keep at home.

And remember this--the great number of people, if they were truthful, would know in their hearts that, if they had tried as hard to get along with the first mate as they did with the second, there would have been no divorce.

Louisa.

Local artists and public invited to Bowen Art Show

Bowen Center Volunteer Service Department, in conjunction with the Art Therapy Department, has scheduled the second annual Community Art Show for October 3 - 4, 1981, at the Bowen Center in Warsaw.

The Art Show is a natural extension for the Art Therapy Department and is inviting any local artist to participate. There will be no entry fees involved and artists, young and adult, are asked to display their works.

Hopefully the show will include the works of the following: Clients, Bowen Center staff and local artists.

Art therapy is used therapeutically and diagnostically by trained staff and has come into its own as an equal support system and part of the team effort to restore the client to his community and social relationships.

Art therapy is one of the ongoing programs under the direction of

J.W. McIntosh, Ph.D., Director of Intermediate Care Services. The program itself is conducted by Al Abbott, B.A., Activity Art Therapist. The volunteer working in the department along with Abbott is Marge Fowler of Syracuse.

Art Works will also be brought in from Marshall County Partial Hospital Program to be displayed at the show.

The exhibits will be viewed from 1 - 5 p.m. Saturday, October 3, and Sunday, October 4, at the Bowen Center in Warsaw. There is no fee for exhibiting and any artists from the catchment area are welcome to submit their works. Kosciusko, Whitley, Wabash, Huntington and Marshall counties constitute the catchment area that is served by the Bowen Center.

Admission is free to the show. The committee working on the 2 day affair are Bowen Volunteers: Elaine Bertsch, Virginia

McAllister, Margie Fowler, Sara Wolfe, Susie Baker, all from Kosciusko County, and Vickie Lopshire, from Huntington County.

Mike Yazel, a local sculptor, and other on site demonstrations will be presented. Refreshments are being made possible by the 5 - County Mental Health Associations of the catchment area.

The new directories for residential customers will be distributed again this year on an allotment basis. Customers with one or two telephones will receive one directory and those with three or four phones will receive two Individuals who feel they need additional directories are asked to call the business office listed in the front of the directory and additional directories will be provided at no charge. Through the allotment program, General Telephone is able to reduce the amount of paper products used by approximately 20 percent.

Fall crafts' weekends at Conner Prairie

The crackle of the timbers, the smell of the spices and the faint melodies of the fiddle and dulcimer will fill the air as Conner Prairie Pioneer Settlement holds its "Fall Crafts Weekends" beginning October 3 - 4.

Backdropped in shades of red, burnt oranges and golden yellows, a series of nine special events will continue for eight weekends, ending November 21-22. A variety of crafts, including bobbin lace, pewtering, corn huskery and rug-hooking, will be the center of attention in the new demonstration area. Located in the farmstead, the demonstration area is designed to exhibit the many crafts common in the pre-Civil War era. Present day "pioneers" costumed in period dress will explain the processes of their particular craft.

The Fall Crafts Weekends are an opportunity for visitors to see, feel and smell in array of activities as summer's warm breezes give way to autumn's crisp air and turning foliage. Above all, the demonstration yields a better understanding of the amount of time, skill and hard work necessary to survive in this small community of early Indiana.

Other crafts to be featured on various weekends are: reverse glass painting, flax breaking, spinning, weaving, and natural wool dyeing, making apple butter, quilting, and basketry. Fiddle and dulcimer playing will also be an added attraction.

Conner Prairie is an outdoor historical museum owned and operated by Earlham College. The 55-acre settlement is located six miles north of the I-465 exit of Castleton Square and four miles south of Noblesville at 13400 Allisonville Road. The Fall Crafts Weekends are an addition to the 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. tour that take visitors back into the re-created time of Harrison and Van Buren, open hearth fireplaces, Dutch ovens and muzzle-loading rifles.

For more information on Conner Prairie's Fall Crafts Weekends, call (317) 773-3633.

Fire destroys Silver Lake mobile home

Fire started in a bedroom and quickly spread to other rooms in a rural Silver Lake Mobile Home last Monday morning.

Silver Lake Firefighters were summoned at 10:50 a.m. to the Ellis Bradford residence, which is located along County Rd. 100 West and two miles east of Silver Lake. When they arrived at the scene, the north end of the mobile home was engulfed in flames, according to a fireman.

and smoke, while the other half was heavily damaged only by smoke.

Fire officials believe the blaze started in a bedroom. However, they have not determined the cause of the fire. No one was home when the fire broke out, and there were no injuries.

As a rule, local people know how to settle local problems best.

You know Autumn is beginning when the crickets start chirping, the corn fields start drying, the turn of the season is underway. The days get shorter and the nights cooler. Leaves are changing to brilliant crimson, russet and gold, wild asters, goldenrod and fringed gentians bloom at this time. It's a great time of year to take a walk or drive.

Birds are grouping together in the fields and meadows. Farmers should welcome sparrows at this time of year as they eat millions of weed seeds that could damage the next crop.

It Happened in Mentone

Taken from the Northern Indiana Co-Op News, October 1, 1941. 40 YEARS AGO:

A large number of people of Mentone and vicinity called at the Cox Chevrolet Sales last Friday and Saturday to get their first view of the new 1942 model Chevrolet that was on display.

K. A. Riner, vice president of the Farmers State Bank at Mentone, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Bankers' Association at a meeting held in Fort Wayne last Wednesday evening.

Police to give "Light and License" check

Indiana State Police Superintendent John T. Shettle, reminds Hoosier drivers that Indiana law requires vehicle headlights to be turned on when driving between sunset and sunrise, and at any other time persons or vehicles are not clearly discernible at a distance of 500 feet on the highways.

During the month of October, the Indiana State Police will be launching a 'Light and License Check' to help motorists prepare for winter driving and the increasing use of headlights.

The Light and License Checks will include a check of the driver's license, registration and all of the vehicle's lights, including: headlights, parking lights, turn signals, stop lights, license plate lights, and tail lights. Troopers will also look for other equipment violations.

If a defect is found, enforcement action will be taken, depending upon the severity of the problem.

Keeping your vehicle equipment in top working condition may help you avoid an accident and contribute to saving 100 Hoosier Lives, the ongoing Indiana State Police program to reduce traffic fatalities in 1981 as compared to a five year average.

Each district will organize the Light and License Check to meet the public needs in their area. For more detailed information on the check, contact your local Indiana

State Police Public Information Officer listed below:

License plate reservations

Commissioner Michael M. Packard of the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles announced today that time is running out for any individual wishing to re-reserve a Personalized License Plate for use in 1982. The deadline for re-reserving a plate purchased last year is October 31, 1981. If a plate is not re-reserved by this date, the initial applicant loses the exclusive right to this specialized plate for the upcoming calendar year.

This year, Indiana citizens are being permitted to purchase Personalized License Plates for motorcycles and those trucks up to and including the 11,000 pound classification. Personalized plates purchased for trucks will be allowed the same number of alpha-numeric combinations as have been acceptable in the past (a maximum of six positions and one space) for passenger cars and recreational vehicles. Motorcycle plates, however, will only be permitted a total of six positions (including spaces) due to the smaller size of motorcycle license plates. To comply with this requirement, a customer applying for a personalized license plate must inform the license branch if this plate is to be used on a motorcycle.

Commissioner Packard explained "Those motorists wishing to re-reserve a specialized license plate currently being used on either a passenger car or a recreational vehicle, but wishing to use the same configuration on a different vehicle type in 1982, may do so by advising the license branch at the time the re-reservation is made. However, once a personalized plate has been declared as a specific type plate (either for a passenger car or a truck), this plate can only be used on that specific type vehicle. It may not be transferred from one type of vehicle to another."

The fee for reserving a personalized license plate will remain $40 payable at the local license branch at the time the reservation is made. This fee is in addition to any excise tax and plate fees incurred at the time of registration. Initial reservations for 1982 Personalized License Plates will be accepted at statewide license branches until December 31, 1981.

Crashes, Crime & Films

Every film thin on plot or acting seems to feature car chases and smashups. How many thousands of car chase scenes have we now seen, how many wrecks? Do film audiences never tire of such juvenile fare?

One bad effect is that on the young and impressionable. No wonder so many teen-agers are injured or killed in real-life wrecks. They're simply, in many cases, copying what they saw a film hero do. And since wild, reckless driving is often portrayed as fun on film, naturally they emulate what they've seen--as they also sometimes emulate happy criminals on film.

But what a waste of cars and lives! How difficult this film fare makes it for parents who preach safe driving and law officials! The profiteers are the sponsors of programs which feature sensational and wild driving scenes and crime and producers of the shows. Both should exercise restraint.

Television has grown so rapidly, into such a major influence in our lives, a proper sense of responsibility has not grown commensurately.

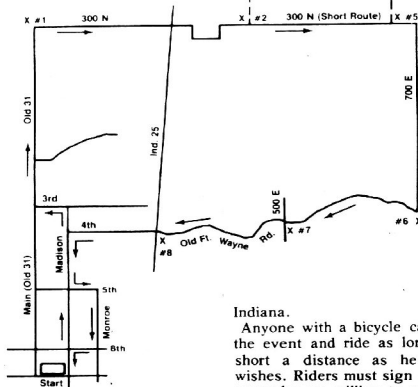

Annual Bike-A-Thon Sunday Oct. 4

Rochester

TOTAL: (Long Route) 22.3 MILES
(Short Route) 16.0 MILES

HOURS:

1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The American Diabetes Association, Indiana Affiliate, and Wendy's Restaurants are co-sponsoring the 8th Annual Bike-A-Thon to beat diabetes.

On Sunday, October 4 (rain date October 11) 1 to 5 p.m., 65 Indiana cities will have one or more bike routes. Chairperson for the Rochester route is Dr. Thomas Troutman, 1403 Washington Street, Rochester.

Diabetes is one of the nation's major health problems. 600,000 people in the U.S. will develop diabetes this year. Money raised will help support ongoing programs of research, education and detection of diabetes and provide camps for diabetic children in Indiana.

Anyone with a bicycle can enter the event and ride as long or as short a distance as he or she wishes. Riders must sign up sponsors who are willing to contribute to the American Diabetes Association. Pledges are based on the number of miles the rider completes multiplied by the amount per mile pledged.

There will be prizes for each route. First prize - 10-speed bicycle. 2nd - Deluxe Backpack and 3rd - Athletic Bag. All riders will receive a Bike-A-Thon Head Sweat Band. If you collect $50, you will receive a Bike-A-Thon Visor. If you collect $500, you will receive a 12-inch black and white television. Entry forms are available at local businesses and all Wendy's Restaurants.

Autumn, 1981, begins this year on the 23rd at 10:05 p.m. EST. At that time the sun crosses the equator on its apparent journey south. Autumn begins in the northern hemisphere and spring in the southern. It will last until December 21, when winter begins--at 5:51 a.m. EST.

Of all the seasons, autumn is the most nostalgic. Spring, with its fresh beauty and new life, is full of romance, hope and nostalgia. Yet it can't produce the sometimes sad and deep, thought-provoking mood inevitable among dying leaves and foliage which flash brilliant color briefly--as they lose to cold winds and winter. Fall heralds the end of warm, sunny days and vacations, and a more severe season.

Smoke from the chimney of a farm house on the horizon of a fall sky, amid fields of corn and red leaves, is one of fall's windy scenes. As days grow shorter, the weather colder, nights longer, there's a mood of hustle, of getting ready.

It's logical for the end of the year is approaching. One inevitably looks back over the years, other summers, other falls, other efforts, trials and joys--and disappointments.

GAS

MENTONE WILL BORE!

Stock Going Rapidly; Only a Few Shares Remaining;
Boring Will Begin Soon

The probability of discovering gas, oil or something else of importance, by boring in the vicinity of Mentone has been under consideration for several weeks resulting favorable to the scheme. Consequently several of our leading citizens called a meeting at Opera Hall for last Monday evening. By way of preliminary organization, A. C. Manwaring was chosen chairman, C. E. Doane, secretary and Mc. M. Forst, Treasurer. The feasibility of the project was discussed with considerable enthusiasm, and arrangements were made for further investigation. The meeting adjourned until Wednesday evening, when the plan of organizing a permanent stock company, with capital of $1,500 (three hundred shares of $5 each) was submitted and agreed upon. Over half of the stock was immediately taken and a committee of six, consisting of Austin Milbern, Allen Bybee, James Webster, J. W. Sellers, A. C. Manwaring and J. B. Middleton, was appointed to solicit subscribers for the remaining stock. The meeting adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening, by which time it is expected that the shares will all be sold, when a permanent organization will be entered into, and a contract for boring immediately made.

No smoking will be allowed at meetings of the company.

A flying report says that Burket has struck gas and we are waiting with bated breath for a confirmation of the report.

What will be the final out-come of all this boring in the bowels of the earth? $500 reward for a satisfactory answer from any source, to the above question.

The Rochester gas borers have lost their drill in the bottom of the well, and Warsaw is still gassing, but Mentone expects to secure a good supply sufficient to pipe to both of these villages before they get their machinery in working order.

Wabash struck a good flow of oil last week, but in attempting to increase it by "shooting," they blew the breech out of the well, or in other words, blew through into a lower stratum containing water, thus destroying the well. They will bore again.

Peru has secured oil in some quantities.

NOTICE

All persons having obstructions, such as old sleds, wagons, wood piles, rocks, manure, or rubbish of any kind in the alleys or streets adjoining their premises in the incorporated town of Mentone, Indiana, are hereby notified to remove the same prior to May 1, 1887 or the same will be removed at the expense of the owner of such premises.

The Mentone Gazette, April 30, 1987

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION EFFECTED

NEGOTIATIONS WITH CONTRACTORS IN PROGRESS

The Mentone Gas, Oil and Mineral Company met at Opera Hall, Wednesday evening, April 27, and entered into a permanent organization by adopting a constitution and electing the following officers: A. C. Manwaring, President; Albert Tucker, Vice President; C. E. Doane, Secretary; Mc. M. Forst, Treasurer. The following persons were then elected as executive board: W. B. Doddridge, S. S. Mentzer, Austin Milbern, M. H. Summy, and D. W. Lewis. The Treasurer was ordered to prepare certificates of stock to be ready by the next meeting, and subscribers were instructed to lift their certificates immediately. The meeting adjourned to meet Wednesday evening, May 4th.

At the next meeting it is expected that the stock subscribed will be all paid in, and the number of shares will probably be increased to 400. Endeavors will also be made to have negotiations with contractors completed by that time, in order that the work of boring may begin at once.

A WARNING

Beware of professional gas well sharpers. An Ohio correspondent writes that Perrysburg and Maumee are not satisfied that their gas wells were properly treated. In both cases they think bribery was resorted to -- that the wells were not shot at the proper depth, or that they were in some way "doctored" to prevent the best results. The cases at Perrysburg and Maumee are identical with those at Fort Wayne. Some accuse the Standard Oil Company of collusion in ruining new wells. The first well drilled at Fort Wayne would no doubt be a success but for the fact that so imperfectly was the drilling done, that the incorporators now have a pipe so leaky that it is constantly full of water, and through this column of water the gas forces itself up in a strong stream. The well would be a gusher could the water be cast off, but this is now impossible -- Michigan City Dispatch.

NIPSCO files new electric rates

Northern Indiana Public Service company has filed new electric rates to conform to the rate increase order granted September 16, 1981, by the Public Service Commission of Indiana.

The commission approved the new rates Thursday, September 17, 1981. They became effective that day and electric service has been billed at the new rates from that date.

Under the rate restructuring as ordered by the Commission, rates for residential customers will increase an average of about 13.1 per cent, after updating the base rates for fuel costs. Commercial customers' rates will increase an average of 5.4 percent and industrial customers' rates will increase an average of 4.2 percent, after updating the fuel cost adjustment to current levels.

The Public Service Commission order granted NIPSCO an increase in electric revenues of $43.9 million on an annual basis, an upward adjustment of 6.5 percent. In February, the Company requested an increase of $89.5 million or 13.2 per cent across-the-board on an annual basis.

Edmund A. Schroer, NIPSCO chairman and chief executive officer, stated, "The level of the increase granted by the Commission was clearly inadequate, and would most likely result in the utility seeking future rate increases at earlier points in time and at greater amounts than would have been necessary if timely and adequate rate relief had been granted in this decision."

He said the Company would file again for increased rates sometime in the final quarter of 1981, and this petition would also include costs incurred for the recently terminated Bailly Nuclear One project.

He said, "On both the short and intermediate term, a shortfall in revenue will impose additional costs on ratepayers and disadvantage shareholders who have not had a divided increase since 1977, notwithstanding substantial inflation during that period."

"On the long haul, if inadequate rate relief becomes a pattern, there will inevitably be a diminished service capability which should be unthinkable in our highly job-sensitive, industrialized service area," he said. "The serious impact of inflation, plus increased costs for environmental facilities and fuel to generate power, have driven up our costs dramatically."

The utility chief executive officer explained that the rate case was based on an adjusted test year ending December 31, 1980, and rates in effect prior to the recent increase were based on 1979 costs.

"NIPSCO's final 1980 earnings, based on average common shares outstanding, fell to $1.47 a share from $1.86 a share, a 21 percent decline from the preceding year," Schroer said. "These disappointing results indicate the serious effect inflation and recession had on our economic viability during the test year and demonstrated a very real need for timely and adequate rate relief requested in this case."

"It does not require great expertise to realize that neither a 6-1/2 percent increase in annual revenues and a 7-1/2 percent rate of return on the fair value of the Company's property can be long endured with the prime lending rate at 20 percent and first mortgage bonds selling at 17 percent for telephone utilities whose credit ratings are higher than NIPSCO's," Schroer said. He said it is in the interest of both customers and shareholders alike that NIPSCO be allowed a fair return so that the Company can attract capital funds for its construction program which is necessary to provide the energy needs of customers at lowest possible costs.

"To serve we must build," he said, "and to build we must borrow. Adequate rate relief is the key to borrowing at reasonable rates."

The new rates will increase the monthly electric bill of a residential customer using 500 kilowatt-hours a month about $4.80, after updating the fuel cost adjustment to current levels. Residential customers using 1,000 kilowatt-hours a month would realize an increase of about $8.95 a month.

Darwin

In view of the increased current interest in Charles Darwin, because of a British television series and questions raised in a school curriculum court case in Iowa, readers might wish to consider a recent study of Darwin and his faith.

The study was published in 1980 in the Journal of the History of Biology (235 Science Center, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., 02138) and done by Dov Ospovat—a University of Nebraska historian.

Darwin's theory of evolution shook some of the religious foundations of western civilization, and still shakes them, and he has been widely accepted by many scientists and biologists.

The most satisfying thing in life is to be able to help some deserving person.

House Headlines

From Thames Mauzy
State Representative

(Warsaw) - State Representative Thames L. Mauzy (R-Warsaw) today urged motorcycleists to study now for their written motorcycle safety test and take it before October 1, if they want to save $2 and avoid having restrictions placed upon the use and operation of their motorcycles.

Mauzy explained the test is required under a 1979 law (PL-104). He stressed that the written test requires studying the manuals available at local license branches and veteran cyclist should not assume they can pass it based on their riding experience.

Recent statistics quoted by a spokesman for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles indicates 50 percent of those taking the test have failed it, though it is geared to novice drivers.

Mauzy said the test costs $3 and if the operator passes it, the initials "MC" will be put on his regular operator's license.

If a cyclist waits until after October 1 to take the test, then he or she will have to obtain a learner's permit for $2 by taking and passing the test, and wait 30 days before getting the endorsement for his or her license for a $3 charge. The learner's permit restricts the driver to the daylight hours, carrying no passengers and wearing a helmet.

The Warsaw legislator explained that the law was passed after some concern was registered about motorcycle safety when the helmet law was repealed. Cyclist organizations convinced the General Assembly that the real safety issue should be in education of cyclist, rather than with operator equipment.

Skill tests, originally required under the 1979 act, have been delayed until March. The written test consists of 25 multiple choice questions, and is a paper rather than a machine test. If more than four questions are answered incorrectly the person fails the test.

Vikes defeat old adversary

After Southwood handed the Vikings one of their two losses last season, revenge became a major driving force in the homecoming victory over Southwood, Friday evening, that turned into an explosive example of championship excellence.

Before the conflict began, the Viking fans were entertained with parachute landings by four gentlemen dressed in Valley football uniforms. This unusual event started off the Homecoming events with perfect spirit.

The long-awaited game quickly became the soul property of the third ranked Vikings. After choosing to receive the kickoff, Valley marched down the field spurred on by a 31-yard pass play and scored from three yards out. The extra point was kicked with 6:02 left in the first quarter and placed Valley on top early, 7-0.

Late in the first quarter came the last touchdown of the game. Scott Bibler, aided by superb blocking, sprinted 46 yards for the score that put the Vikings permanently in the victory circle, thirteen to zero. The extra point attempt failed and marked the beginning of a long and bitter struggle of strength that proved scoreless for both teams.

The middle two quarters were defensive victories on both sides. The Southwood Knights weren't even allowed within seeing distance of the goal line. Likewise, though, the Vikings were held at bay by the efforts of Southwood.

In the fourth quarter came Southwood's only two possible scoring drives but both attacks were put down by Valley. Spurred by a 53-yard reverse, the Knights were within the Valley five yard line for four consecutive plays.

During this exchange, a defensive lineman, Bill Hawkins, was rushed to Kosciusko Community Hospital by ambulance with an apparent neck injury. The Viking defense held out at the 3-yard line for the last two of four rushes in his name which marks the existence of true comradery.

Southwood once more came within scoring range and stalled out for the last time. Fourth down on the 12-yard line, quarterback Roger Garrett threw a pass that had "TD" written all over it, but Ray Davis proved ready and batted their only chance out of the sky.

A newcomer to the Three Rivers Conference, Eastern, will come to "Death Valley" as the Vikings next for this Friday evening. Coming off of an unexpected loss to Oak Hill, they are not to be underestimated. Eastern is right on top in the passing category. Therefore, the defensive unit will have to rework its strengths so that they are more effective in a passing situation. If the Vikings are to continue down the victory road.

USDA announces wheat provisions

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block recently outlined the U. S. Department of Agriculture's reduced acreage and conservation plans for the 1982 wheat crop. Block said these decisions are contingent on the U. S. Congress passing a new farm bill which authorizes the actions.

Block said farmer who wish to become eligible for price support loans, target price protection and the farmer-owned reserve program must comply with all reduced-acreage requirements. There will be no payments for reduced plantings, Block said.

Block said participating farmers must reduce their acreage of wheat planted for harvest by at least 15 percent from their established wheat acreage base. The base will be the 1981 planted wheat acreage adjusted in cases where there is a regular crop rotation for wheat.

Secondly, farmers must devote to conservation uses an area equal to 17.65 percent of their 1982 wheat acreage planted for harvest (planted 1982 wheat acreage x 17.65 percent equals acreage devoted to conservation uses).

For example, a farmer with a 1981 planted acreage of 100 acres must plant no more than 85 acres of wheat for 1982 harvest to become eligible for the program. The 15 acres reduced (17.65 percent of 85 acres) must be devoted to a conservation use. If the farmer planted fewer than the allowed 85 of wheat acres, he or she would be permitted to devote fewer acres to a conservation use. For example, if this farmer planted only 50 acres of wheat, he or she could devote only 8.8 acres to conservation uses (17.65 percent of 50 acres).

The land taken from production and devoted to conservation uses must be eligible cropland, must be protected from wind and water erosion and may not be mechanically harvested. However, farmers will be permitted to graze this acreage except during the six principal growing months.

Farmers participating in the reduced acreage program on one farm must assure USDA that they are not exceeding the 1981 wheat base on any other farms they own or operate.

Farmers are not required to participate in the wheat program to qualify for program benefits on other crops grown on the farm, Block said.

State-Wide deer check stations

By Joe Scheidler, District Wildlife Biologist

A new deer hunting regulation will affect all successful deer hunters this fall. The regulation requires that all deer must be registered at an Official Deer Checking Station within 24 hours of being shot.

Prior to this year, a random postcard survey was used to gather information concerning deer harvest. This survey was not the best since results were biased when only the successful, happy hunters responded. Deer checking stations will help eliminate this bias and will give the Division of Fish and Wildlife a much better idea on local numbers of deer harvested in addition to physical condition, productivity and age composition of individual herds. This information will then allow a better distribution of deer harvest in future years through regional bag limits and special any-sex hunts.

Hunting is the most practical method of maintaining Indiana's deer population. In the absence of an annual harvest we would quickly see excessive crop depredation, more automobile accidents involving deer and an increased incidence of disease and starvation. White-tail deer are popular and enjoyed throughout the state, but any animal creates a bad name for itself when populations get too high. We've made conditions unsuitable for natural predators such as wolves and cougars, so it is necessary that hunters be the predators.

The success of mandatory deer checking stations rests on the hunters. We need your full support. It may mean driving a few miles to get to the nearest check point but we're asking you to cooperate. Individuals who hunt their own land are not required to have a license but are obligated, nevertheless, to load up any bagged deer and haul them in to be registered. This year most counties will have at least one check station, but the location and number of check points is subject to change in future years so let your comments be known.

For a complete list of Official Checking Stations and current regulations request a 1981 Indiana Deer Hunting Guide from your local license vendor, or write the Division of Fish and Wildlife, 607 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN 46204.

Extension Notes

Take advantage of the peak season of fresh fruits and vegetables. Following are some helpful hints for cabbage, pears and plums.

Cabbage - Cabbage belongs to one of the oldest and largest of vegetable families and is related to cauliflower, brussels sprouts, kale, and kohlrabi. A raw cabbage contains as much vitamin C as a lemon and is also rich in B vitamins. The best buys in cabbage are reasonably solid heads that are heavy for their size and show no discolored veins, although from a nutritional standpoint cabbage is best served raw in salad or slaw, it can be cooked in a variety of ways. If the odor of cooking cabbage bothers you, drop a whole walnut into the cooking water.

If you've got cabbage galore, try some Freezer Coleslaw: Mix 1 medium shredded cabbage with 1 tsp. salt. Let stand for one hour. Squeeze out excess moisture. Add 1 grated carrot and 1 chopped green pepper. While cabbage is standing, make the following dressing: 1 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup water, 1 tsp. whole mustard seed, 1 tsp. celery seed, 2 cups sugar, combine ingredients, boil 1 minute. Cool to lukewarm, pour over slaw mixture, package and freeze.

Pears - In general, big, plump pears are preferable. When shopping you may notice minor surface blemishes or russeting on the skin. This is natural and characteristic of certain varieties and doesn't affect the fruit's delicate taste.

Pears are picked mature but not ripe (they don't ripen properly on the tree). They reach ideal ripeness with a finer flavor and smoother texture when ripened at home at room temperature. A fruit bowl is perfect for this. If stored in a plastic bag, it should have a few holes for adequate circulation. Pears ripen from the inside out and should not be kept until soft on the outside. When ripe, keep pears cool and humid and use as soon as possible. (For cooking or baking purposes, pears should be firm and slightly underripe.)

Fresh Pear Butter - Combine 5 medium-sized pears, cut into 1/2 inch cubes (about 4 cups), 1/4 cup sugar, and 2 T. water in saucepan. Heat to boiling point over medium heat. Reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Add one cinnamon stick and simmer 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove cinnamon stick. Remove pear mixture from heat. Mash until smooth, stir in 1/4 cup chopped almonds and 2 tsp. lemon juice. Cook over low-medium heat, stirring constantly, until consistency of thick applesauce. Chill. Serve with bread or toast. Makes about 2 cups.

Plums - There are over 2,000 varieties of plums but one general guideline for selection is to look for good color appropriate to the kind you are choosing. All kinds should be fairly firm to slightly soft. Refrigerated plums will keep for about one week and still retain their tart sweetness and high vitamin A content. Besides eating out of hand, stewed plums are excellent or mixed with other fruits.

Pain-Emotions-Diet

Pain Control

Do you suffer from any of these symptoms of pain: headache, low back pain, arthritic pain, muscular and movement pain, cardiovascular disorders, dental problems, post-surgical difficulties? If so, you are probably searching for some type of relief.

On October 7 and 14 from 7 - 9 p.m. Dr. Jerome Meers will present a workshop on Pain Control.

Even though pain is the most common symptom in the field of medicine, it is also the least understood. During an average year more than forty-five percent of America's adults will seek some type of medical treatment to alleviate their discomfort. This treatment is usually a drug of one kind or another. Often these prescribed pain killers may have unwanted side effects, such as drug dependency and tolerance.

During the upcoming two session workshop, Dr. Jerome Meers will address persons who suffer from various forms and intensities of pain to provide a helpful understanding of the nature of pain, pain management, and pain elimination. Dr. Meers has worked successfully with the most common forms of pain such as arthritic pain, low back pain and headaches. He has also worked to reduce or eliminate pain related to cardiovascular disorders, muscular and movement disorders, diabetes, dental problems, and post surgical difficulties.

Emotional Control

All of us have feelings we wish we didn't have. Some of the time you may feel anxious, tense, nervous, sad, angry, or irritated and wish you didn't feel that way.

However, you may not know how to feel more the way you would like. Now you can learn ways to do something about how you are feeling.

On October 8 and for the following four Thursdays, Dr. Laura Meers will present a class on You & Your Emotions - Increasing Personal Happiness by Understanding Your Emotions. The class will meet in the Bowen Center Video Studio in Warsaw from 7:00 until 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Meers has specialized training and certification as a practitioner and teacher of Rational Behavior Therapy. "Rational Behavior Training" teaches you how to Think Better So You Can Feel Better. The advantages of thinking rationally are obvious:

1. You stop feeling bad;
2. You start behaving the way you want;
3. You start getting what you want out of life.

Slim Chance

How many times have you made a promise to yourself to lose weight this time and keep it off forever? And how many times have you lost some of the weight you hope to lose only to see the pounds come creeping back? If you are like most Americans, you are conscious of your weight.

Barb Bontrager, Consultation and Education Specialist at the Bowen Center, will be presenting "Slim Chance", a Behavioral Weight Control Program. The focus will be to help you develop a pattern of gradual weight loss by developing thoughts, feelings, and behavior habits. The class will begin October 6, 1981 and continue for four 1-hour sessions.

An advanced program will be offered as a follow-up, with fee reductions and reward incentives for those persons who achieve their weight loss goals. The class fee is $20 plus $5 for course materials.

Phone customers to get new repair and business office numbers Oct. 3

Customers in 10 north central Indiana communities served by General Telephone should begin using new telephone numbers to reach the company's repair service and business office effective October 3. According to Ed Knafel, district service manager, these customers will be receiving special postcards listing the new numbers.

Residents of Bippus, Akron, North Manchester, Atwood, Bourbon, Burket, Etna Green, Mentone, Millwood and Tippecanoe should begin (October 3) dialing (toll-free) 1-563-8451 to contact repair service. Residential customers calling the General Telephone business office should dial (toll-free) 1-563-4181 and business customers in these cities should dial (toll-free) 1-563-8491. Akron and North Manchester customers will also receive a new directory assistance number October 3. Customers in these two cities should dial 1411.

These numbers conform to new nationwide industry standards are designed to allow General Telephone to more efficiently handle these customer services. The new numbers will be listed in the front of the new directories that customers will receive in October.

This is the time of year to make plans for a record harvest.

CRIMES UP

The number of major crimes in America surged by 9 percent again last year and only one out of five resulted in an arrest, the FBI reported recently. The rise in the 1980 crime rate was the second substantial increase following three years of relative stability.

ON DEBT CEILING

The Senate Finance Committee voted recently to raise the federal government's borrowing authority to $1.079 trillion though the increase has been accepted by the House. This will be the first time the federal debt has ever passed the $1 trillion mark.

King and Queen Keith & Karen TVHS Homecoming

by Jerry Kindig

Everything glowed as the Homecoming King and Queen candidates, along with their court, glided to a royal stop in front of the grandstand during halftime of the Southwood game.

Within seconds, the next royal couple would be named.

The excitement came to a climax as Keith Haney and Karen Wright heard their own names resound over the loud speakers and echo as if nothing else was important in the whole world. Haney resides in Akron and is the son of Mort and Judy Haney. Karen is the daughter of Bill and Nova Wright, Mentone.

Pictures snapped and the glamour slowly began to fade just a little.

As the couples slowly walked out of sight, everything seemed perfect. Awe filled each one of their faces for they had been chosen to represent Tippecanoe Valley prestige and pride, an honor they shall remember for the rest of their lives.

T.V.H.S. sets administrator-parent meetings

Principal Robert Meyers announced that he will be meeting with parents of students throughout the school year in order to improve communications between the school and homes. The meetings will be arranged as "coffee" during the morning hours. Parents will have the opportunity to learn about the school and its programs, to ask questions, to tour the buildings and to be a guest for lunch.

Letters inviting parents to participate will be mailed out about two weeks ahead of the meetings and parents are asked to call or notify the school if they cannot attend so that other parents can be invited. Both mothers and fathers are encouraged to participate when possible.

Mr. Meyers indicated he will involve counselors, teachers, and students in these meetings along with himself and Mr. Keith Wortinger, assistant principal.

Doing MORE...With LESS!

PUTTIN' UP 'MATERS

If you rescue what's left of your green tomatoes before that first frost gets to them, you can extend your garden harvest for a couple of weeks.

The green fruit can be placed on windowsills, counters, and tables ... and will continue to ripen off the vine. On the other hand, you may prefer to wipe the fruits clean, shake off the dirt, and hang the plants upside down indoors. The fruits will then ripen in their own time ... if you're one of the people for whom this trick works well.

Or you can do as several of our readers have suggested and simply uproot whole tomato vines just before frost, shake off the dirt, and hang the plants upside down indoors. The fruits will then ripen in their own time ... if you're one of the people for whom this trick works well.

And if none of those techniques appeal to you, there's yet another possibility: Tomatoes will often grow and produce all year if planted indoors in big pots and judiciously pruned to manageable size. If you're venturesome—and have plenty of space near a large south window—go ahead and give it a try.

Once you've brought in that last-minute crop, you'll probably want to preserve the beauties that are ripe when picked. The boiling-water-bath canning method is the most commonly used process for putting up tomatoes. Unfortunately, some regions seem to have a constant shortage of jars during the canning season.

However, some commercial food products—mayonnaise and other salad dressings, mustard in large quantities, etc.—come in jars that fit one or another of the standard-sized canning lids (regular, wide mouth, or No. 63). These can frequently be used as substitutes for proper storage jars, though many home economists discourage the use of such containers for any canning methods other than the boiling-water bath.

But in some areas, it's lids—not jars—that are really hard to find. Well, good news! Large numbers of commercial glass containers are fitted with self-sealing tops, and both the jar and the lid are reusable.

Any time you come by a jar with a metal twist-off lid, look inside the cover. If you find a built-in plastic ring, you're in luck. That band can be softened by heating, and the top—properly handled—will then reseal its matching container.

At canning time, keep such lids in boiling water until you're ready for them. Then place the tops on the appropriate jars (now filled with hot produce), screw them down firmly (but not too tightly), and process the batch in the usual way. The containers will self-seal as they cool.

Fair warning: Canning with resealable commercial jars and lids is definitely not recommended by experts. All the same, many folks have done it successfully ... and have experienced no more failures than occur with regulation equipment.

After all, "waste not, want not" is an old adage that still applies in these days of high food prices. If you take a little time, you can "waste not" either your last-minute tomatoes, or your supply of glass containers.

For FREE additional information on tomatoes or on THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS' magazine, send your name and address to Doing MORE With LESS!, care of this paper. Ask for Reprint No. 716. "Rubber Tire Tomatoes."

Incident reports

A Warsaw woman told city police she was walking south of Lake Street Monday morning when a man stopped and asked if she would perform a sexual act with him. She ran to the county jail where she told authorities there of the incident. The matter was relayed to city police, who searched for the suspect, but did not find him. The incident occurred at approximately 10:30 a.m.

• Vandals poured paint over the tennis court and bleachers at the home of Joe Prout, Yarnelle Point, Warsaw, recently, according to city police. No estimate of damage was given.

• A van belonging to Rosemary Kenny, 35, Rt. 7, Valley Springs, Warsaw, was taken last Monday afternoon while it was parked at L. M. Berry Company, west Warsaw. The van, valued at $7,500 had been parked at 12:45 p.m. and was missing at 3:10 p.m., authorities said.

• Elwood L. Elbersson, Defiance, Ohio, told county police recently a boat motor with a three-gallon gas tank was taken from his home on Lake Wawasee. The motor had been in a carport at the Runaway Bay Condominiums.

• A 20-inch bicycle, belonging to Ned Irwin, rural North Webster, was taken recently, according to county police. The bicycle was valued at $50.

• Vandals broke out the back window of a vehicle belonging to Mike Bagga, Rt. 9, Warsaw, sometime on Monday, county police said. The car was parked at Da-Lite Screen, State Road 15 North, Warsaw.

• Four cars at Smith Ford, St. Rd. 15 North, Warsaw, were vandalized recently, according to county police. Windshields were broken out on three vehicles, while the paint was scratched on a fourth. All four cars were used vehicles.

• Erick Strohschein, 325 East Main St., Warsaw, told county police that a pump and water tank were taken from the well pit on his farm, located at County Rds. 1200 West and 900 South. Replacement value was estimated at $700.

• A citizen's band radio base, a four horsepower motor, and an electric motor were taken from a home of Albert Thompson at Diamond Lake, county police said. An alert neighbor noticed the home had been broken into and notified police.

• Three Milford juveniles, two 12-year-olds and one 13-year-old, admitted to Milford Marshal David Hobbs their involvement with a break-in early Saturday of the Milford Elementary School. Hobbs reported that vandalism occurred to the teacher's lounge, principal's office, cafeteria and classrooms. Taken were an undetermined amount of cash, four bottles of pop and eight cartons of milk.

Hobbs discovered three sets of footprints where milk had been poured on the floor. He checked local stores and found three boys at Walter's Drug Store, Milford, who were wearing the same style of soles as the footprints at the school. Following questioning, the three juveniles admitted their involvement in the break-in. The case was referred to county juvenile officials. The cost for janitorial service to the school was listed at $36.

Menachem Begin, Prime Minister, Israel:

THE GOOD OLE' U.S.A.

While commenting on the international political mud-slinging these past months, a friend of ours back from occupation duty in Germany thought this story would give us pause to be a bit happier we're in the States despite the victor.

Seems three prisoners in a Russian work camp were talking: The first asked, "Why are you here?" His co-prisoner replied, "I was for Slansky. Why are you here?" The first said, "I was against Slansky." They then turned to the third and asked, "Why are you here?" He confessed, "I'm Slansky."

Mrs. Newlywed: "Norval, my dear, I know something is troubling you; and I want you to tell me what it is. Your worries are our worries now."

Mr. Newlywed: "Well, dear, we've just had a letter from a girl in Boston; and she's suing us for breach of promise."

Missionary: "Why do you look at me so intently?"
Cannibal: "I am the food inspector."

"Sam stopped looking at television ages ago, but he still loves to turn off the commercials."

German Terrorists

If German terrorists continue to bomb and attack U.S. military commanders in that country, they will surely turn German public opinion more and more in favor of U.S. forces and personnel.

One suspects, therefore, the terrorists aim at public opinion in other NATO countries, such as Belgium, Holland, Italy, Denmark and Norway. In all these countries there's widespread uneasiness over current U.S. arms policy, the neutron bomb, etc.

The PR battle in most NATO countries is a closely-fought one, and Russian money and agents have misled and duped many young Europeans in recent years. Using the theme that another war must be avoided at any cost, the peaceniks and terrorists have managed to convince many idealists that to have the best, new defensive weapons is to invite attack. The opposite is true.
