Construction updates heard by School Board

The Tippecanoe Valley School Board met last Thursday to hear construction updates and for approval of the 1987 budget. The construction work at the Burket and Mentone sites were being held up for approval by the State Board of Health regarding sewer problems. Poppewell reported that official notice had come from the state concerning the Burket sewer and that construction could begin immediately. The board and construction managers are still waiting on a State Board of Health response concerning the Mentone sewer system which is delaying construction work.

The budget for 1987 was adopted at the special meeting. The budget sets a tax rate of $5.0946 per $100 of assessed valuation, compared to the 1986 rate of $4.529. The total budget approved for the 1987 year is $5,880,304 with $2,732,727 to be collected through the district's taxable properties.

The total tax rate will be divided into different funds in the budget with $2,4873 to the general fund raising $1,324,400; a total of $1.0595 in the debt service fund raising $564,159; a cumulative building fund tax of $1 raising $552,465; and .5478 cents in the transportation fund to raise $291,703.

Part of the tax increase was in the cumulative building fund which was increased to $1 to help finance the building projects at Mentone, Burket and Akron schools.

To make final school assignments, the board hired Mike Humphries as the new Mentone principal. He had been serving as vice-principal for the past few years. John Waymire was hired to take over as assistant principal at Mentone.

Other personnel changes include the hiring of Patricia Rutherford as Akron fifth grade teacher and Steve Doerscher as high school pool instructor.

Ann Sheetz Busy with Activities

Keeping busy is more than a motto for Ann Sheetz, of Akron. It is a way of life. Filling every moment of the day with some sort of activity has become a routine for Ann.

She continues to exercise the love of the pen, on a free-lance basis and in much of her volunteer work.

Ann is Co-Editor of her church newsletter and she Wet Behind The Ears", and "Someone Has To Pop The Corn". These two books expose much of Ann's life, yet there is still a part of Ann Sheetz that is buried deep within herself. Hidden deep in the valleys and mountain tops of her life is a quality of life that even Ann does not admit to having.

Ann's love for people is expressed in her writing and in the daily life. She takes the extra time to express her concern for people. "I love people. That is one reason I enjoy my work so much. I can be in the midst of people", explained Ann.

Taking time for herself, Ann finds relaxation working with miniatures. She became interested with miniatures in the 60's and has been intrigued since then. Among her collections are an ice-cream parlor, a collectable gourmet kitchen, and a replica of the Serendipity Inn.

When asked about the most exciting part of her life, Ann quickly displayed a picture of her grandson Nicholas. "He is my excitement", boasted Ann. During their growing years, Todd and Doug, Ann's sons, took priority in her life. Today Doug lives in Ft. Wayne and Todd lives in Mellott with his wife Cindy, and of course, Nicholas.

Ann's Christian faith is the most important role in her personal life. Ann plays an active role in her church. She is also a Lay Speaker for the United Methodist Church. Another interest of Ann's is doing Christian monologues. She has portrayed Mary Magdelene, Hannah and Mary, Mother of Christ. When asked if she preferred doing monologues or public speaking, Ann chose the monologues, explaining that it is, one way she can "let the real Ann hang out".

Ann leads a full and productive life. She stays busy, but does not allow herself to become bound by a schedule. How could anyone have a schedule with a poster that reads "Tomorrow I've got to stop procrastinating". Not Ann Sheetz!

As Assistant Cashier and Mortgage Loan Officer, Ann Sheetz has dedicated much of her busy life to the Akron Exchange State Bank. Adding to the pressure of those positions, are also the tasks of Purchaser and Compliance Officer. One might consider these responsibilities time consuming enough - but not Ann Sheetz.

As one of the former owners of the Akron-Mentone NEWS, Ann has also writes a newsletter for the Michiana Miniature Guild. Once a month, a weekly antique newspaper publishes Ann's column pertaining to miniatures. The column has been appropriately named "It's A Small World".

Writing news columns and newsletters has not been adequately satisfying to Ann. She has gone deeper in her writing and published two books "Born Again - But Still

Children escape injury

The children of Wanda and Dennis Spivey, Akron, escaped serious injury when a large portion of a tree fell on the Spivey car during last Tuesday's storms.

Dennis Spivey and the three children, Jason, Melonie and Debbie were getting into the car when the tree fell. Debbie was in the car and Jason was trying to open the door on the driver's side of the vehicle. While walking along the side of the car, Melonie Spivey was struck by the falling tree. She received a laceration to the back of the head, and bruises to her shoulder.

According to Spivey, the car was totaled in the mishap. Wanda Spivey was working at the time of the storm. The Spivey's live on Co. Rd. 1000 E. south of State Road 114 west of Akron.

A few scattered power outages were caused by the thunderstorms which moved through last Tuesday.

A funnel cloud was reported in the northern part of Cass County earlier in the day, but was not confirmed.

Temperatures cooled drastically after the storm front moved through the area.

Melonie, Jason and Debbie Spivey were getting into the car or were already inside the car when the section of tree fell. (NEWS Photo)

Valley wins opener Valley 18, Rochester 3

The answer to last Friday's Viking victory at Rochester is simple. Valley just outplayed and over-ran the Zebras. Valley's super strength, inside running, led the Vikings to an 18-3 victory.

Valley backs picked up 220 yards running behind a brand new offensive line. The Viking attack kept getting stronger as the game got older, with 134 of the yards in the second half. Valley kept control of the ball for all but five minutes of the second half.

Valley was equally tough on defense. Rochester gained only six total yards in the second half and never recorded a first down.

The Zebras made the first attack of the game by driving 69 yards in 11 plays.

Rochester picked up only one first down the rest of the way and never drove past its own 34.

The key for the Valley defense, said Phillips, was giving up just the RHS field goal. Rochester drove to the Valley six, but picked up only one more yard before Herbst scored.

A vital play in the 62-yard drive came when senior Andrew Wood picked up 23 yards. (NEWS Photo)

Reminiscing with Ruby

Articles Taken From Ruby Dawson's Journals

Find an old apple tree, a low crotch in tree and set there and dream dreams of times to come; while there you'd chew carefully on sour wormy apples you'd found on the ground beneath the tree. Sometimes we'd go through the corn field with the tall corn swaying above our heads calling to each other. Remember those old corncribs and a rat or mouse running when you come close.

Remember the old rooster who ruled the back yard and who chased you and pecked your legs.

Finding eggs in funny places. The new kittens in the hay mow above the barn. I remember when Uncle Chas let me 'drive' the team as it hauled hay to the barn, and how we were permitted to guide the horses when hitched to a contraption that ground the corn as they walked 'round and 'round in a circle. Of course, in either case, no one needed to "drive" them, but I pretended I did.

Remember how close you'd snuggle to grandmother when you set on the porch at night watching hundreds of fireflies in the tall grasses and listening to the screech owls in the woods. And remember we loved to hear the chorus of frog voices from a small pond not far away.

My Kitchen and Remembering Grandmother's Kitchen

I am a modern woman. I'm glad I don't have to build a fire in the cookstove or nag someone to carry out the ashes. Now I can start cooking and cleaning and freezing at a touch.

I can set the timer on my oven and join the family.

I do sometimes recall the days of the big smelly, noisy inconvenient kitchen, short on cupboard space, but those days kitchen was the family room, the heat of the house. We had a "front room", a double doored parlor for company, but you always found your way back to the kitchen for cooking, eating, reading, washing, ironing, playing games and sometimes sleeping. I remember the couch in the corner.

In the kitchen was a big black range. It warmed you, cooked your meals, heated your bath water and flatirons, which you ironed your clothes. The cookstove was almost human, when it's belly was full and it was roaring away so were you and you would sing as you worked. But when the stove smoked, refused to heat the oven, or went out - then you had better look out.

Stoves sometimes lasted for generation. Mother's, I think, was new (the first one square). We would blame it for every cooking failure. It was a small square stove, or second stove.

We got at last a new stove. It had plump, arched feet just looked to refined to set on our old linoleum.

It had a big oven, 2 handsome warming closets, and 2 fancy little shelves to store pans on, we were so proud of the reservoir bulging on the side, when filled with water from the cistern pump, you could dip soft warm water for baths at any time the stove was hot.

The tin chimney pipe curving graceful into the wall. It had a lot of new tools to try out - poker, lidlifter, shovel, and a gadget to shake down the ashes.

We were going to keep the top shining by stove blacking but after a time of spilling and scrubbing we left the blacking off and it took on a comfortable pink.

Our day always started with the stove. Father up and rattle of the shaker, crack of kindling, the click of lids.

Sometimes father laid the fire the night before.

Then all he had to do was give it a dollop of kerosene, toss a match and then boom.

Us kids were hounded out of bed, grabbed our clothes and dashed downstairs to dress.

The teakettle singing, coffee boiling in its chipped granit pot, and the smell of thick bacon or side meat filling the house.

The kitchen range took a large amount of fuel. Close by stood a wood box and a basket with cobs which always seemed to need filling. Someone always carrying something - fuel, water or ashes.

Later an oil stove for summer which gave off a tart smell.

Wicks would sputter and smoke if you forgot to trim the wicks, so we liked the big cook stove best.

No fancy snack bar. A huge table where you ate. Where you looked at books and best smelling the slippery, squealing white bread dough, then after baking, that heavenly smelling loaves, or pies. It seemed room for paper dolls, kites, your treasures of rocks and leaves, also wild flowers, sometimes a sample before supper.

There was always a way to do this to one side in time to set the table. Of course if company came we ate in the dining room and used the good dishes.

The dishpans were on nails.

Who Needs The Farmer

Who needs the Farmer anyhow?
To feed the hogs and milk the cow?
With imitation milk and meat,
They've got the food problem beat.

Who needs cotton and wool,
Synthetics have the market full,
Goodbye to cotton and to sheep,
Synthetics have the Farmer beat.

Who needs to keep a hen to lay,
Imitation eggs are on the way,
With imitation hens to stew,
Who needs Farmers like me and you?

Lord, help me keep this piece of ground
My cows, pigs and old coon hound.
My Paradise will be complete,
With my own milk and meat to eat.

Pike facility toured

One-hundred and thirty members of the International Wood Collectors' Society toured the Pike Lumber Co., Inc. facility in Carbon, Ind., Thursday, Aug. 21. The group represents a worldwide society of people interested in the identification and classification of wood and its uses. The Wood Collectors had representatives from several states and eight foreign countries at their annual meeting, held this year at the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Camp, Marshall, Indiana.

The group was given a history of the company and shown several displays of equipment used in the processing of lumber, as well as displays of company-owned tree farms and hardwood plantations and privately-owned woodlands managed by the company.

Mill personnel guided the group through the plant and explained the process from the arrival of the raw material in the log form, through the sawing operation, to the end product of green lumber. The lumber is then shipped to company headquarters at Akron, Ind., for grading, drying, and finishing.

Pike Lumber Company was founded at Akron, Ind., in 1904 and the Carbon Mill was erected in 1982. They are buyers of timber and timberland, as well as managers of woodlands for private landowners."

Bammerlin hosts club gathering

They found not only large varieties of foods, but many interesting articles for decorations and for sale. They had beautiful homemade quilts, pillows, wall hangings, etc., candies, gifts and nuts, meats for sale, also noodles.

After lunch the club went again to Ruth's home for the business meeting. Marie Nestleroad, president, opened the meeting by reading "Pass It On".

Ruth led the group in singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic". "Happy Birthday" was sung to Marie Berger and Ruth. "Happy Anniversary" was sung to Marie Berger. For her devotions, Neva Robison read an article and used scriptures from Genesis concerning our using temperance in our eating.

Substituting for Sherri Moore, Marie Berger gave a Health lesson, telling how vitamin A keeps our bodies resistant to infections. This carotene is found in the yellow vegetables and in leafy greens. Researchers are seeking causes for cancer. It is believed the lack of vitamin A may be one cause.

Cards signed by all present are being sent to Marjorie Miller. Marie Long and Sherri Moore. Two members volunteered salads for the District Meeting. Lucille Personett dismissed the group with prayer.

Others present were Alice Teel, Marie Coon, Pauline Miller, Emma Burns, Helen Miller, and Aurel Mussel-man.

Registration dates for Deer season announced

Dates have been established to pre-register for hunting the opening weekends of the 1986 deer seasons at six northern Indiana fish and wildlife areas, according to Ed Hansen, director of the Department of Natural Resources' Division of Fish and Wildlife.

Deer hunting for the first two days of the archery season (Oct. 11 and 12), firearms season (Nov. 15 and 16) and late archery and muzzleloader season (Dec. 6 and 7) will be allocated by lottery at LaSalle, Jasper, Pulaski, Winamac and Willow Slough fish and wildlife areas.

Hunting on the first three days of each deer season will be allocated at Kingsbury Fish and Wildlife Area and for the first day of gun season at Pigeon River Fish and Wildlife Area.

Archers may pre-register Sept. 18 through Sept. 28. Pre-registration will be Oct. 23 through Nov. 2 for gun hunters and Nov. 17 through Nov. 23 for late archery and muzzleloader hunters. Hunters should purchase their deer license before attending the pre-registration.

Late archery and muzzle-loading rifle hunters must pre-register from Nov. 17 through Nov. 23. The late archery and muzzle-loader lottery will be held at 1 p.m. on Nov. 24. If all the quotas are not filled, the remaining permits will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis until quotas are filled or until 5 p.m. Dec. 3. No additional permits for the opening days of the late archery and muzzle-loader season will be issued after this date.

All registrations and lotteries will be held at the checking station of the properties involved. All participants will be notified by mail of the results. Attendance at the lottery is encouraged but not mandatory. On all other days of the deer season, permits will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more information on deer hunting pre-registration contact the Division of Fish and Wildlife, 607 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN 46204.

Mentone Nutrition Site

Olive Tucker
Phone 353-7555

The report of our band trip to the State Fair. We did leave around 8:30 a.m. The Senior group from Warsaw's Nutrition Site was already on the lovely Landmark bus from Ft. Wayne. We got all of our instruments and our big Scrambled Egg Band and our railroad sign loaded on. We parked beside the Bremen group with the same kind of bus near the Senior Citizens Building.

They ran behind time, and we didn't get to perform on time, but we sort of surprised the large group that listened to us. We were well accepted even with some "Bravos". Lots of people never heard of Mentone, known as the Egg Basket of the Midwest. Each of us had a bright red and white badge with "The Scrambled Egg Band - Mentone".

We performed well and would like to think that we were good ambassadors for Mentone and Area II of Real Services. Norma Roose, our coordinator and a pianist provided lovely organ and piano music.

We stopped in Carmel for dinner on the way home getting back around 9:30 p.m. Everyone was tired but, enjoyed the memorable day. Little did we ever dream that we would play at the State Fair when we started our little band. We've been lots of places and done lots of things already.

We especially want to express our thanks to Joan Harmon, our director, for her time, talent, and patience. Also to Tom and Joe Harmon for their ever faithful helping hands.

On Monday at the Site, there were games. Tuesday was dirty bingo day. Wednesday was band practice and the Rev. Jaques Sallade was the area minister. Games were on Friday.

The Site was closed on Labor Day. Tuesday was games. Band practice on Wednesday. Thursday will be group devotions and will be blood pressure.

yards on a counter. A 15-yard RHS personal foul penalty was tacked on, putting the ball on the Rochester 13. Valley scored three plays later on a six-yard pass from John McDaniel to Shane Picklesimer. McDaniel's kick failed, but Valley had a 6-3 lead with 4:07 left in the first quarter.

Valley kept on the ground on its second possession. Jamie Cullison who led all runners with 108 yards on 21 carries, was the workhorse on the drive. The senior tailback gained 38 of Valley's 41 yards, but junior fullback Sam Manwaring used all of the 255 pounds on his 6-1

With his defense handling the Zebras, Phillips had the Valley offense work on the clock in the second half.

Cullison and John Taylor combined for 60 yards on 10 rushes in Valley's final frame to bull over from a yard out and cap the drive at the 10:22 mark of the second quarter. Cullison's two-point conversion fun failed and Valley eventually took its 12-3 lead into the halftime locker room.

Cullison was followed by Taylor with 59 yards on 14 carries and Manwaring with 31 yards on seven attempts. McDaniel completed four of nine passes for 51 yards, mostly in the first half.

Butcher works in Fulton County

State Senator James R. Butcher, R-Kokomo, Republican candidate for Congress in the 5th District, worked the fourth in a series of 14 jobs around the 5th District at the Clauson Grain Farm in Fulton County today.

At a news conference, Butcher said he is opposed to placing the burden of foreign diplomacy solely on the backs of American farmers. He said after working at the Clauson Grain Farm, he had a better understanding of the problems grain farmers are having to face as a result of the Carter Administration's grain embargo.

"Because of this embargo, grain farmers in the United States have been experiencing a grain surplus and many still have grain stored in facilities needed for this year's harvest," Butcher said. "At this time, Purdue's agriculture statistics office is predicting a record average of 132 bushels per acre (which tops the 126-bushel record average set in 1982), and storage is already limited."

Butcher said not only are farmers faced with the problem of finding storage bins for this year's crop, but will have to continue storing crops of earlier years as well.

"It all goes back to the Carter embargo in 1979, which cancelled contracts for the sale of 17 million metric tons of U.S. grain to the Soviet Union," Butcher said. "This cost American farmers $11 billion in income and is continuing to cost them as they are experiencing lower commodity prices and bulging surpluses as a result."

Butcher said the U.S. has been labeled as an unreliable supplier of agricultural products and this has created a decrease in export market opportunities for American farmers overall.

"I have already pledged my support to the protection of American farmers, and you can bet that I will be a strong voice in Washington in favor of gaining back these export markets and keeping them," Butcher said. "First, it will be important to re-establish our reputation as a dependable grain supplier, and in turn being able to increase the amount of grain we can sell overseas."

Horn serves as Ft. Wayne team captain

Karen Horn, daughter of Eldon and Mary Horn, of Mentone, is the captain of the winning team from Fort Wayne that represented Indiana at the seven state regional competition held here Aug. 21-24.

The team will compete in the national finals of the USTA/Volvo Tennis Tournament at Seabrook Island, S.C. on Sept. 18-21.

The Indiana team beat Michigan 5-0, Wisconsin 4-1, and Ohio (which represented Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky) 4-1. Their only loss was to Illinois, 2-3.

At the national competition, the team will represent the 214 teams that participated in the Women's 4.0 USTA/Volvo Western Tennis League.

Besides Horn, the team's singles players include Chris Cook of Kendallville, Judy Dowen of Wolcottville, and Chris Campbell of Fort Wayne.

Doubles players are Susy Tuthill, Karen Peak, Bonnie Bolin, Sharol Brubaker, Elizabeth Franklin, Pat Miller, Ernestine Stovall and Sheila Rayburn, all of Fort Wayne, and Marcia Shreve of Garrett.

Kantner selected Co-Captain at Ball State

Offensive linemen Craig Kantner and Ed Konopasek along with defensive end Avis Hines have been elected co-captains of the 1986 Ball State University football team by members of the Cardinal squad, according to BSU head coach Paul Schudel.

Kantner, a two-year letterman from Mentone, (Tippecanoe Valley), was a unanimous choice by the Mid-American Conference coaches as the all-league center a year ago. The 6-3, 260 pound senior also received All-America honorable mention from the Associated Press in 1985 after starting all 11 games for the Cardinals. Kantner has been moved to guard for the 1986 campaign after starting nine games and playing in 11 at that position two years ago.

Konopasek, a three-year monogram winner from Griffith, Ind., also served as a captain of last fall's Ball State team. The 6-5, 280-pound senior tackle was chosen to the Academic All-Mid-American Conference first team last fall. He has started every Cardinal contest the past two years and played in every BSU game the past three campaigns, but will miss the start of the 1986 season due to a stress fracture in his right foot.

Hines, a two-year letterman from Louisville, Ky. (Male), started all 11 games for Ball State last season. The 5-11, 185-pound senior ranked fourth on the team in tackles with 89, second in tackles for loss with 12 and first in both quarterback sacks with seven and fumbles recovered with two in 1985. He was nominated for MAC Player of the Week after Ball State's games with Toledo and Eastern Michigan.

I.C.E. Program gets face lift

If there is truth in the saying that "What you see is what you get," then the I.C.E. students at Tippecanoe Valley High School are taking a fresh look at the co-op program that is now underway.

What they see is the enthusiasm of the program's new coordinator, Miss Kay Goshert, who shows determination for giving the program a new face lift. What the students get is a chance to learn new skills from employers who are willing to instruct and educate them in an apprenticeship-type program. The opportunities are unique and individualized toward each I.C.E. student's career goal objective. The forty senior students who will be getting first-hand knowledge and on-the-job training in a variety of business and farm settings are:

In an evening program held Aug. 26, at the high school, students and parents alike, responded positively with a cooperative spirit for which they, the school, and the businesses will work hand-in-hand to generate genuine learning experiences. Miss Goshert outlined new directions that the program will take, applauded the efforts of the business community for their willing participation in the program, and expressed hopes that other businesses would take initiative to get involved in the future. Anyone desiring more information about this growing and innovative program, call 353-7031.

WASH AND GO HAIRSTYLES

Every morning millions of Americans head for the shower for what could be a fast, three-minute shampoo and quick hair-styling routine. Instead, they find themselves surrounded by a sea of products—everything from conditioning treatments to hair-spray, mousse, gel and blow dryers—all requiring lots of extra time and effort.

Susan Bevan, Consumer Researcher for Procter & Gamble's Pert Shampoo, says the less you have to do to your hair the better. With the right shampoo and the right "wash and go" cut for your hair type, you can reduce the need for styling appliances like blow dryers as well as mousse, gel, hairspray and other styling aids that can weigh hair down, leaving a sticky film on the surface. These often damaging steps aren't required as often with easy-care cuts. And Pert Shampoo, designed especially for active people, has a touch-of-conditioning formula so you can just wash and go. "Pert leaves hair manageable," explains Ms. Bevan, "and is great for haircuts that don't need a lot of help from styling tools."

The haircut you get is a major factor in determining how much time you need to spend styling each day. "To find the best easy-care cut for your hair type and texture, work closely with your hairstylist," says top New York City hairstylist Don Wagner, co-owner of Donatuki Salon. If you like the wash and go styles described here, which are based on some of today's most attractive, easy-to-style looks, show these drawings to your hairdresser and discuss which is best for you.

For most women, wash and go hairstyles usually mean some form of light layering, be it around the face to highlight its best features or, this year especially, at the nape of the neck. "The direction for hair now is forward, toward the face which makes hand styling hair into place very simple to do," says Mr. Wagner. Women of all ages can wear a gently layered, forward-moving style by having their stylist adjust the type and number of hair layers to best suit their individual looks.

Short Hair (below right) For those who want the ultimate wash and go styling routine, an ideal combination is a short haircut washed with Pert's one-step, light conditioning formula. The look now for short hair is clean lines and soft undercut layers to lift hair at the crown for height and in back at the nape for balance. Current short styles are compatible with thick or thin hair types. Special note: Women with heavier faces can create an illusion of thinness by keeping hair short or above the shoulders in length. Medium Hair (right) An exciting new look for medium length hair is the classic blunt cut which is perfect for wash and go styling now that the ends are cut differently—the top layers are slightly shorter than the underneath layers. The hair still looks blunt, but because the ends are actually layered, it seems much fuller. This style is suited to all hair types.

Long Hair (left) Long hair, now considered most manageable when it's about shoulder length, can offer wash and go ease when it is cut straight across the back (rather than in the old U-shape). Light, easy layering at the crown and perhaps a few wispy bangs will help highlight the face and lift long hair into shape.

Handy styling steps for wash and go volume:

- Shampoo hair daily with Pert to get rid of surface dirt and oils, leaving hair in just the right gently conditioned state for wash and go styling.

- Rinse hair thoroughly in warm and then icy cold water to help close scalp pores and seal hair cuticle for maximum shine and silkiness.

- Turn your head upside down and towel dry gently until hair is only slightly damp. Then use a wide-toothed comb to smooth away tangles. Avoid heavy brushing, especially on wet hair.

- Aerate your hair by fluffing it with your fingers, running them up and forward through the style, gently shaking air around each strand as you go.

- Always lift hair from underneath and work out and away from the scalp, gently pulling hair near the roots.

- Continuously use hands to place and lift hair until completely dry. Squeeze or "scrunch" small sections of hair to help get rid of excess moisture and add wave or shape according to the look you want.

- To re-set your style during the day, simply wet your hands and run them through the hair again, lifting and gently pulling hair up and into place for volume.

- If you want truly easy-to-manage, shiny, bouncy hair with excellent volume, try getting into the wash and go habit with Pert.

The Prayers that you were always "so" willing and ready to offer for peoples needs and their pain were always "so appalling!"

The kisses and the hugs that you gave to "your Fred" were a picture to behold, truly a love from God!

Yes, Edna, my dear and precious friend - you left us with memories that we'll treasure forever. And the desire to be the sweet Godly lady that you were.

FCHS Museum off to good start

Over 70 volunteers are working for the fund raising campaign for the new Fulton County Museum.

Many of them gathered for the unveiling Aug. 26, of the campaign "thermometer" which is shaped like a log cabin. It was made and donated by Rochester Homes. Deanna Gottschalk designed the log cabin and drew it on the plywood. Kellie Kreighbaum and Melinda Clinger painted it. Bill Willard made a frame to make the log cabin stand up, using lumber donated by Fansler Lumber. The log cabin thermometer is on the courthouse lawn. Each log represents $10,000 pledged, and as the campaign proceeds, logs will be painted brown.

The unveiling ceremony was conducted by Martha Barnhart, honorary chairman, and Ed Bellows, general chairman, and

Shirley Willard, FCHS president. The Rochester High School band played "America."

Nearly 100 balloons were turned loose, five of which had a slip of paper inside. It this paper is brought to the Civic Center Museum, 7th and Pontiac, the bearer wins a free copy of the Quarterly history booklet of his choice.

Free Brochure Answers Questions on New Museum

A free brochure describing the new Fulton County Museum and a Question and Answer brochure are available at the Civic Center Museum, 7th and Pontiac, Rochester. To obtain a free copy, come to the museum, which is open Monday-Friday from 9 to 5 or call 223-4436.

The Q & A brochure addresses such questions as: Why build a museum? Why build a new museum outside Rochester on the by-pass? What about fire protection?

The brochure was prepared by the FCHS board of directors and shows that they have put a lot of thought and analysis and research into the new museum project.

For example, to answer the questions about security at the new museum: The new site will be just as safe from robbery as the old one, perhaps even more safe. Businesses and museums all over the country have been burglarized more than once. The new museum will be equipped with a modern state-of-the-art security alarm which will immediately ring in the county jail. State police patrol the highway and are almost constantly seen in this area. The neighbors have been contacted and will keep a look-out for the new museum. And all display cases will be locked.

What about fire protection? The new museum will be in Richland Township, which shares tax support of the Rochester Fire Department.

According to the fire chief, preventing a fire is the most important part. Once a fire is going, a building can burn down right across the street from the fire department. As soon as FCHS can afford to, a Halon fire suppression system will be installed. This is a clear gas that replaces oxygen and puts out a fire, without the damage a water sprinkler can do to the contents of a museum.

Why do we need a museum? To preserve our heritage. Without the past to learn from, mankind would have to start over with no knowledge every time a baby was born. A person without a past, without roots, is more likely to be unhappy, poorly-adjusted to society, a criminal or psychopath. Man does not live by bread alone, but needs cultural stimulus too.

The pleasure a museum can give a community is as important as the education. Also an active museum can be a tourist attraction, bringing money into the community.

FCHS Plans Work for Trail of Courage

Volunteers are needed to work at the Trail of Courage woods Sept. 6 and 13, beginning at 9 a.m. Bring tools to build booths, cut weeds and wood, rake, etc. Bring a picnic lunch.

All persons interested in helping with the building of a new museum are urged to come to the Civic Center Museum and select five pledge cards of people to tell about the new museum plans.

A video of John Chamberlain and his world-famous sculpturing studio in Sarasota, Florida, was shown at the meeting Aug. 25.

Refreshments were served to 25 people present by Thelma Fites, Maxine Bardsley, Andrew and Mary Alice Kuhn.

Measure your days in the gladness. That you and your loved ones have shared.

Tally the smiles on the faces of friends. Total the times you have cared.

Yes, measure your lifetime in blessings. And you'll always remain in your prime. For youth is a feeling you keep in your heart. Whether seven or seventy-nine.

Trail of Courage September 20 - 21

Imagine that the year is 1832 and you have just arrived at the tiny frontier village of Chippeway, Indiana, on the banks of the Tippecanoe River. William Polke, founder of the town and surveyor of the Michigan Road, has invited all the Indians, fur traders, and settlers to a rendezvous or trading fair. The village in the woods will echo with singing, pioneer and Indian dancing, and the aroma of foods cooking over wood fires.

That's what the visitors will experience when attending the eleventh annual Trail of Courage Rendezvous, Sept. 20-21, on the corner of New U.S. 31 and the Tippecanoe River, four miles north of Rochester, Indiana. The town of Chippeway no longer exists on the maps, but it comes alive in the hearts and minds of over 700 participants who gather to re-create life as it was in the 1830's in frontier Indiana.

What's new at the Trail of Courage this year? Voyaguer's Choir, Tippecanoe Ancient Fife and Drum Corps, Tecumseh Lodge drum and singers, Jim Hanson of the Nebraska Fur Trade Museum; a hillside amphitheater for historic talks and demonstrations and more old-time foods.

Also different this year will be the shooting range. The muzzle-loading contest will be held on the Conservation Club's shooting range next to the rendezvous site.

There will be four historic fashion shows, each 20 min. long: military uniform, Indian, colonial, and frontier fashion shows. Instead of prizes, each fashion show participant will be honored with a medallion but only the best four will be asked to take part in each category. The Rochester Sentinel will sponsor the most authentic camp prize this year.

Long time favorites such as Rochester Heymakers, Phyllis Whitmore - the storyteller, the many buckskinners who set up the tepee village, the traders and craftsmen, and of course, the purveyors of those delicious foods cooked over wood fires, will all be there.

For more information, and admission prices, contact the Fulton County Historical Society, 7th and Pontiac, Rochester, Ind. 46975, phone 219-223-4436 weekdays from 9-5.

Store winter bedding in the large plastic or paper bags from the dry cleaner.

Consolidation Reviewed

As a big issue in education reform this year, school district consolidation flopped. The determined push of some reform-minded governors and other state officials to legislate what they considered inefficient small school districts out of existence backfired for many of them. Consolidation quickly became "politically unpalatable," says Joseph Newlin, executive director of the Rural Education Assn., although he is cautious about declaring the issue dead.

In Illinois, a new legislative mandate to require consolidation plans was watered down hastily in this year's session when the requirement heated up the gubernatorial campaign. What's more, the issue spurred small school district officials to gear up for future assaults. A rural education association for the state is being organized, and the state's school boards' association is planning a series of rural school conferences. The North Carolina School Board Assn. replied to a state department study which recommended eliminating 40 districts with its own weapon: a report, "Heavy Meddle," which refuted the department's statistics and countered with its own. Opponents of Nebraska's reform legislation that calls for unified elementary and secondary districts easily garnered enough signatures to put the issue on the ballot in November.

When Arkansas' new reform standards were adopted three years ago, observers predicted at least 40 districts would not be able to comply and would be forced to consolidate. But a funny thing happened along the way, says Altus Supt. Coy Hammons, president of the Arkansas Small Schools Assn. While small school districts increased taxes -- by 100% in one case -- to finance the new requirements, many larger districts have been unable to pass higher millages. In other states, including South Dakota and Iowa, politicians have resorted to offering incentives rather than forcing consolidation.

Politics aside, research has failed to show that consolidation improves student performance, says Paul Natchigal, head of the Rural Education Project at the Mid-continent Regional Education Laboratory. Colorado state officials have reported that rural students scored as well if not better than, metropolitan students on a standardized achievement test. Meanwhile, Herbert Walberg of the U. of Illinois/Chicago in studying test scores in the more than 500 New Jersey school districts found that students in districts of fewer than 2,600 students did better than those in larger districts. The reasons, he says, are "superintendent and central staff awareness of citizen and parent preferences, the absence of bureaucratic layers and administrative complexity, teacher involvement in decision making and close home-school relations." That's a hard gang to break up.

4-H Sale Barbeque set

Next week the Annual 4-H Sale Barbeque will be held on Tuesday, September 9, at 5:30 p.m., in the Women's Building at the Kosciusko County Fairgrounds. The barbeque is hosted by the 4-H livestock members and their parents who sold livestock at the County Fair. This annual event is held for the livestock buyers, and is one way that the 4-Hers can say thanks for the support of area businesses during the livestock sale at the County Fair.

4-Hers who sold livestock during the sale will receive 1 free ticket. Additional tickets are available at the door for $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12.

4-H club members who exhibited at the Indiana State Fair and have not yet picked up their exhibits from the County Extension Office are urged to do so.

NIPSCO'S refund proposal up for grabs

"Accepting NIPSCO's phase-in electric rate proposal, including a Bailly Nuclear One refund of $29 million, is in the best interests of all NIPSCO electric customers, as continued litigation of the refund could result in a smaller or no refund at all," Edmund A. Schroer, NIPSCO chairman and chief executive officer said.

The utility presented its case in a refund hearing before the Public Service Commission of Indiana, responsive to a Jan. 3, 1986, order of the Indiana Supreme Court.

"The company believes that the Supreme Court of Indiana decision, certified to the Public Service Commission on Jan. 6, 1986, does not mandate that refunds be made in this proceeding," Schroer said.

"Two justices clearly voted to permit amortization of all Bailly N1 costs and another justice, in a concurring opinion, would permit the amortization of 'planning, analysis and investigation expenses,'" he said. "In the opinion on rehearing, the majority vote was explicit to permit recovery.

"It should be noted that the Bailly N1 project was less than one percent completed. Obviously, any expenses of a project which hardly gets off the ground will be devoted primarily to planning, analysis and investigation," he said.

"Our position is that the Supreme Court of Indiana opinion requires the amortization of the jurisdictional portion of approximately $60 million in Bailly N1 planning, analysis and investigation expenses," Schroer said.

"NIPSCO is not presently collecting any revenues attributable to the Bailly N1 expense," Schroer added, "and we have not for some time."

"Only during the period between Aug. 4, 1983, and Aug. 9, 1984, were revenues collected which included Bailly N1 expenses," he said. "The facts demonstrate that since the time that the Commission approved the recovery of Bailly N1 expenses, revenues had not been adequate to pay for the Commission-approved costs excluding the Bailly N1 expense."

On Aug. 10, 1984, new rates were implemented to reflect a settlement agreement among NIPSCO, several large industrial customers, the Utility Consumer Council and the Citizens Action Coalition. The agreement, which was not appealed, reduced NIPSCO's electric rates by some $10.4 million annually.

"Even though we believe that a case could be made for no Bailly N1 refund, a $29 million refund is included in our settlement proposal," the NIPSCO chairman said. "Continued litigation of this matter will not improve our customers' present economic difficulties or add any hope for future improvement."

Acceptance by the Commission of the NIPSCO electric rate proposal would make the purpose of this hearing moot, Schroer said.

ODE TO THE ERIE

Akron is a little town
Out here on the plains
And through our very midst it seems
There runs a stream of trains.
Just south of town about a block
We find a string of track.
The trains are late nine times a day
It is a known fact.
The agent is a man named Roe
Who sits upon a chair
Instead of finding out just why
The trains are never there.
The mail train's due at 6 A.M.
But it is always late.
Instead of getting mail on time
We wait, and wait, And wait.
The people's anger turns to wrath
As they so blithly ask,
'Why isn't my morning paper here yet'
Are you shrinking from your task?
But we just smile and say politely,
'Our train is late again'
The Erie runs 'em late you know.
We can't tell for sure just when
We do the best that we possibly can Conditions such as they are
For better, faster service we say
Let's put back on a Winona Car.

-Gallup Pool

(Response to poem one)
by Claude Billings

ERIE - ERIE - ERIE - ALLUS

I've read your lines and pondered well
Each sentence, word and phrase;
And truthfully I'm not inclined
To give them much praise.
Now Akron IS a little town
But not upon the plains.
We've hills, lakes, groves and winding roads -
And reliable ERIE trains.
Of course sometimes the trains run late
But better late than never;
Or do as the Winona did
When from us it did sever.
You crabby folk who sit and wait
"And wait, and wait and wait"
And let your anger turn to wrath
When the mail is somewhat late.
Should trace a sack of mail sometime
From start to destination
And learn the many whys and fors
Before heaping condemnation.
Note too, the EFFICIENT ERIE men
Who handle it with care;
And tho' the trains are sometimes late
Your mail is always there
Now my advice to you is this -
Tis a fact and always remain,
For competent service and safety by far
Better stick to the ERIE trains.

These poems were submitted by Annabell (Tillett) Eitel, Fifield, Wis. They were found in old issues of the NEWS dating back to the early '30's.

New laws effective September 1

A number of new laws go into effect on September 1, even though most will have little impact on the average Hoosier.

Several of the more interesting actions by the 1986 General Assembly still have a long way to go before becoming law.

Although the General Assembly approved a resolution to legalize lotteries this year, it will still require another vote by the General Assembly in 1987 and adoption by the voting public in 1988 before a lottery can be legal.

Among changes in criminal laws are those which make tampering with odometers a Class C felony, which carries a penalty of a two year prison sentence and up to $10,000 in fines.

Public boards and agencies which try to break up projects into smaller units to avoid bidding, will now commit a Class A infraction, which calls for a fine.

If you dismember a body after you kill a person, courts can use that as an aggravating circumstance in sentencing you to death. The law on dismemberment during murder doesn't change.

Prospective child care centers and employees must now sign documents on whether or not they have ever been arrested for a crime involving child sexual abuse.

Some other interesting laws which go into effect include:

One which allows news services as well as newspapers, to publish a retraction to limit their liability in libel actions to actual damages suffered by the plaintiff and to allow a retraction to be made in as conspicuous a place and type as the original false statement, or, in the case of a news service, to be transmitted to each member or subscriber who received the original transmission.

Provides immunity from civil liability for negligent acts by directors of not-for-profit corporations, members of state or local government boards or commissions, members of boards of trade organizations or local commerce organizations, if there is no insurance policy providing coverage.

Vehicles transporting farm commodities are exempted from weight and size laws effective September 1.

Changes in poor relief laws include requiring applicants to agree to disclose information to obtain poor relief and also limits the use of information to poor relief claims.

Allows local police agencies to keep firearms confiscated instead of turning them over to the sheriff.

If your house floats, you should know the Department of Natural Resources can now issue permits for its construction in a floodway under certain circumstances.

Finally, the law most likely to affect everyone, you may now race your kayak without a life jacket. The change in law exempts racing shells, rowing sculls and racing kayaks from the requirement that life preservers be on board.

Lugar attends fund raiser

U.S. Senator Richard Lugar endorsed State Senator Jim Butcher's (R-Kokomo) bid for U.S. Congress during a hog roast held last Friday at the Hartzler farm, west of Akron.

"I've always been very enthusiastic about Jim Butcher, and not only do I endorse him, but more than that, it's a pleasure to campaign for him and to try and raise money for him and try to indicate to people how important his election is to the state of Indiana as well as the 5th District," Lugar said. Lugar stated in his opening remarks he believes there will not be any new farm legislation coming through the Senate.

Commenting on the latest act of terrorism, Lugar noted "anti-terrorism efforts are succeeding despite last week's attack on a Pan Am jet in Pakistan. Cooperation from other nations in fighting terrorism has improved, as has counterintelligence," Lugar said.

"We are going to have incidents of terrorism so long as there are desperate people who want to prey upon folks in this way," he said. "But their opportunities have been limited substantially."

He said he expects Pakistan, a strong U.S. Ally, to cooperate fully in the investigation of the latest incident.

Approximately 350 people attended the fundraiser.

4 Way Ambulance Plea

Your 4-Way Ambulance has served our community faithfully. Now she is in for much needed repairs. If you do not have an active part in this service, we are asking for your financial support by paying for the fall classes that we want to begin in November. Each book cost is $25.00 and each student has a charge of $100.00 for this class. Our funds this year has also been made very low due to the high cost of our insurance. We charge the least of any Ambulance Service in the state. As technicians, we work free. If you can't be a volunteer then can you donate a small amount to pay for our training, a small amount to pay for our lg. insurance premlums, or maybe a small amount to keep our Ambulance in service?

If we all challenge each other, we can all benefit. Sterne once said "I believe the brain stands as much in need of recruiting as the body". Letters are going to be sent to former E.M.T.'s who need recertified. We are asking them to join us in recruiting, we are asking them to serve once again as Technicians so that our schedules might not be as full. As you might suspect, we are running many more calls and many more miles. Last month we had more than 25 runs for a total of 840 miles. This represents many hours of service without pay at the lowest charges per customer than any Ambulance Service.

We are proud to give this community our support but now we are asking the community for it's support. Mail your contributions to either Wayne Tombaugh (Treasurer), 4-Way Ambulance, P.O.B. Mentone, IN 46539 or call Mary Ann King 353-7825 and she will see that someone picks it up. Call us any time night or day, we are happy to serve you.

Your 4-Way Ambulance Medical Team

Motivation and positive attitude keys to good teaching

When parents send their young children off to school to start their education, it is a natural concern of the parent as to whom the teacher will be. For parents sending their kindergarteners to school in Mentone, it is a great privilege to be greeted by Mrs. Gary Nellans.

Mrs. Nellans has been teaching kindergarten for seven years at Mentone. Previously she taught third and fourth grades at the same school. According to Mrs. Nellans, when the kindergarten position was available, she agreed to teach the class "while she was still able to move!" Being active in the class is very important in keeping the child's attention noted Nellans. "I have the nicest teacher's chair on rollers, but I never get to sit in it" joked Marlene Nellans, noting the child's attention span at this tender age is approximately 3-5 minutes. Mrs. Nellans works diligently to make learning fun and enjoyable.

"I become many characters for my students. One for example is Johnny Green, who teaches the students how to make the number five. The last thing Johnny Green puts on is his hat; just as when you make the number five, the last thing you do is put the stroke at the top," explained Mrs. Nellans. And how would Mrs. Nellans teach the children the meaning of "Rolling", she would get down on the floor and roll over!

As anyone can see, Mrs. Nellans loves teaching and loves her students. She feels she has the advantage over other teachers in that when she starts the year, the child has a clean slate. There are no records telling of the child's past educational and behavior history. Having a positive attitude and believing in each child is important to Nellans. She believes in "discovering the child's potential and then go for it!"

Mrs. Nelson, kindergarten teacher at Mentone Elementary, paused long enough to have a picture taken before greeting her students. (NEWS Photo)

Although teaching is important to Marlene Nellans, it is second to her role as a mother and as a wife. Marlene is married to Gary Nellans and they have two sons, Steve and Mark. Gary teaches fourth grade math in the Eastern Pulaski School Corporation (Winamac) and the boys attend school in Rochester. The Nellans family works very hard to have family life together. They always have breakfast together and they wait until everyone is home in the evening to have their evening meal.

One way the Nellans work together is with wood working crafts. Approximately four years ago, Gary Nellans began this wood cutting art. Marlene soon joined in by making patterns for Gary and by adding the finishing touches to each item. The boys help by sanding the art work and keeping the wood supply coming. "It takes all of us to set up and tear down the displays. I don't think we could continue it all four of us were not available to work," said Nellans. The family displays their art work during the summer festivals and fairs. According to Mrs. Nellans, the wood crafting is a form of relaxation enjoyed by the whole family.

The Nellans family also plays an active role in the Mentone United Methodist Church. They help with Lay Witness Missions throughout the state. Mrs. Nellans also serves as a trustee for the church.

Marlene Nellans loves everyone and especially her students. She is concerned about them as individuals. "I realize these students look up to me", explained Marlene. # Reminiscing with Ruby

Articles Taken From Ruby Dawson's Journals

In the winter rag rugs were put at doorsills to keep out the wind. At night after work was done we sat around kitchen table playing Old Maid, Finch or some other game. Popcorn, and we cracked black walnuts or hickorynuts, sometimes we made a batch of taffy to pull.

We toasted our bread by putting it on a long handled fork and holding it to the coals - then with plenty of homemade butter.

We had no phone, no cars, you walked and if a girl came her brother or father came with her, or someone walked her home.

When parents went someplace, they packed the kids and took them along. They never heard of a babysitter.

Just go back for a day to where they had to chop wood, carry water, build a fire, put their chairs into a snug circle around the kitchen table after supper when the days chores are done and everybody's ready for games, fudge and popcorn. Yes, and hear the old cookstove making its music with the teakettle singing.

Here is Easter Sunday, April 14, 1974. Thinking about the good old fashioned smoked ham and eggs for breakfast. Hunt the colored eggs at home, then to Grandmother Hoffman's and hunt them around the house. Colored with black walnuts and some had been wrapped in onion skins and boiled, some red calico, which would fade.

Things That Happened

One winter when I was in the third or fourth grade Walter Patterson and his brother drown in Town Lake. How bad I felt because we were in the same grade. He had given me a beautiful handmade Valentine that year. I kept it for years until Bev and Gretta got into my box of old cards and postal cards and passed them up and down the street. Oh well.

I had to help take care of Chalmer and he was a good kid and he got so he wanted to follow me everywhere I went.

Next I stayed six weeks with Carl taking care of Carl Jr. They lived in Hammond on the state line. He was a pill and at night we had to rock and rock him, if he woke up in the night, and sing bye-bye over and over.

He could crawl and one day he got to the cupboard shelf by the floor, got into the molasses, then spilled a box of roll oats too. He was having a good time, but oh, what he looked like.

Betty stayed here a month or six weeks while Ruth was having Georgia. If we told her not to do anything she would make a dive for Russell and get in beside him - so he would protect her.

Bev was a doll to us as she was only one month old and so little. We all loved her years later, she hated to sit in a chair, when we made her set there for something she should not do.

Gretta with her long black braids, one day decided to make a wig wam. She made the frame out of sticks then went to orchard and gathered lots of burrs. When the wig wam was done she stuck her head in and the burrs stuck to it. Oh boy, such a time to pick them out. A few I had to cut out.

Well Carl Jr. was first. He was a dear when Carl and Hazelbell moved to Hammond I went and stayed six weeks to help take care of him. Every night we had to rock and sing bye-bye, also when ever he woke up in the night it was over and over.

Next came Bev on the Fourth of July to our house. She was a doll and never cried. How we all loved her that summer.

Next I went to Vances to help take care of Betty. When Georgia was born Betty came to Akron and stayed here. Then I went home with her.

Gretta was 1 1/2 when she spent her first summer with us.

I loved all of you six nieces and two nephews. Wish I could do it all over.

When I was small I wore my hair in curls. Later going to school Mother made braids and crossed them in back and a hair bow on each side by my ears.

I used to go to Aunt Bertha's fathers sister and stay a week. Her mother-in-law lived in part of the house but ate with Aunt Bertha and Uncle U.S. Kroft.

Mrs. Kroft was very old but was a wonderful and smart real old lady. In front was her flower garden. It was just like the pictures you see of old fashioned garden. Every kind of old flowers and paths every where. She kept it nice and clean. I would follow her down the paths and she would tell me all about them. I have never seen a flower garden like it. She was a beautiful writer. Verses and lovely letters. Some went to my grandmother Hoffman's. I wish I could have one now. She would take a large piece of paper and scrolls and birds all around for a border. They were beautiful.

Now don't feel bad if you don't hear from me because I think I had or you get two letters in one day. I can't remember if I wrote so you write anyway because I don't forget that I love you.

Picnic in The Park

Pa said we'd have a picnic,
 We'd go to the park,
 Now for us kids an' Pa,
 This truly was a lark.

'Cause Ma fried a chicken
 An' baked both pie an' cake,
 An' three kinds of salad,
 An' some lemonade did make.

We enjoyed the slides an' swings,
 And' Pa had a game of ball,
 While Ma fixed the picnic dinner,
 She didn't rest at all.

Oh, we had a gorgeous time,
 We really had a lark,
 'Cause Ma done all the work,
 When we picnicked in the park.

Motivation key element to help stop smoking

For more than 20 years, science has proven a definite link between the use of tobacco products and cancers of the lungs, mouth, and throat as well as respiratory ailments, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, and heart disease. Recent scientific evidence has conclusively demonstrated the adverse health effects on developing fetuses, newborn children, and women who smoke and use birth control pills.

So, why do more than 53 million Americans continue to smoke a total of 600 billion cigarettes each year? According to the Indiana State Medical Association (ISMA), one reason is smokers assume they need lots of willpower in order to stop smoking. Actually, willpower plays little, if any, role. The ISMA believes motivation is the key element in quitting. To find an adequate motive to stop smoking, the American Cancer Society suggests making a list of reasons for quitting, then bet a friend you can quit on that date, or ask a friend or spouse to quit with you. Most of all, avoid negative thoughts about how difficult quitting will be.

A second reason smokers

fail to quit their habit, is fear of physical withdrawal. Withdrawal symptoms relate to the chemical addiction of smoking. According to the ISMA, the nicotine in tobacco products is a powerfully addictive drug and is not easy to kick without a struggle. Nicotine addiction is readily identifiable if you have an intense, recurring hunger for cigarettes or tobacco products, and cannot go without smoking them for a few hours.

When you get a craving for cigarettes, make a phone call, or go for a walk. Also, drink six to eight glasses of water between meals. This will help reduce the craving for cigarettes by flushing out the nicotine in your body. Do not, however, drink alcohol, tea, coffee, or cola beverages. Avoiding all sedatives and stimulants will help build up your nervous reserves quickly.

Smokers who are trying to quit may also feel the need to keep their hands busy or to put something in their mouth. Keep plenty of celery and carrot sticks handy or sugarless gum, and try playing a musical instrument or beginning a new hobby.

A third phase of giving up smoking actually involves a grieving period. According to the ISMA, giving up cigarettes is like the loss of a major companion, or self-image or identity in which all stages of grief must be lived through. While anger and depression make this the most uncomfortable phase, the most dangerous to the smoker is the bargaining stage. It is during this time that the ex-smoker begins seriously to believe that he or she can smoke occasionally or at least in moderation, when in fact he or she cannot.

If you have tried to quit smoking, try again, advises the ISMA. See your doctor for additional tips on how to quit smoking and combat the cravings for tobacco. Whether or not you stop smoking on the first or twentieth attempt, the instant health benefits are well worth it.

Deadline for wheat insurance approaching

September 30, 1986 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for wheat in Indiana according to Mr. Harlan Stull, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC). Recently a new crop insurance plan called Actual Production History (APH), became available to farmers for specific crops. It is designed to promote actuarial integrity and fairness on a producer-by-producer basis. "Using your own farm records or other available sources of information, an APH yield is determined for each crop produced. The higher your individual APH yield, the more insurance protection you are offered," explained Mr. Stull, "and the lower your premium rate."

Valley wins again! JV drop Tennis review

The Vikings obtained an impressive victory last Friday over Manchester with a score of 27-0. This was also the Three Rivers Conference opener for both teams.

The Vikings again displayed a strong running attack and added some timely passing plays to keep Manchester underfoot most of the game.

Senior halfback Jamie Cullison was the workhorse for the Viking offense attack, rushing for 204 yards on 36 carries. Fullback Sam Manwaring, a bruising 230-pound junior, led Cullison through the holes on most occasions, and had two big gains carrying the ball himself, plus one touchdown in the fourth quarter. Senior John Taylor spelled Cullison in the fourth quarter, and gained 30 yards in limited action, plus scored once.

After a scoreless first quarter, Manchester had the first scoring opportunity. Quarterback Matt Meyer completed a pair of passes and moved the Squires to the Viking 26-yard line on seven plays. On fourth-and-eight Scott Gidley attempted a 33-yard field goal, but came up short. Then, on the second play following Gidley's miss, Cullison took a pitch from quarterback John McDaniel and raced 74 yards down the west sideline to give Valley the lead. Shane Picklesimer's first of three point-after-touchdown kicks gave the Vikes a 7-0 lead with 9:50 remaining in the half.

After two change of possessions, Meyer had a pass intercepted by Andrew Wood, with the senior returning the ball 63 yards to the Manchester four. Three plays later, with 6:08 left, Cullison scored from two yards out, and Picklesimer's kick sent Tippecanoe Valley into the lockerroom with a 14-0 halftime lead.

Defensive lineman John King set up Valley's third score with a fumble recovery on the Manchester 17-yard line. Two plays later, McDaniel hit Wood for a 11-yard pass completion, and on the next play Taylor scampered in from four yards out for paydirt.

Picklesimer anticipated Manchester's only other serious attempt at scoring and stopped the drive on the eight. Valley then drove 92 yards in eleven plays to add its final score of the evening.

Northfield tops Valley Freshman

Touchdowns in the first and third quarter stood up for Northfield in a 12-8 freshman football victory over Tippecanoe Valley.

The game was the season opener for both clubs.

Valley took its only lead of the game in the second quarter. Ashton Hurst put the Vikings on the scoreboard with a five-yard run, followed by a two-point conversion pass from Sam King to Ken Gamble. Scoring runs of four and one yard by the Norse, however, proved to be too much for the visitors to overcome.

Hurst led the Vikes with 37 yards rushing for the contest, while Goldyn Williams added 31 yards on the ground. On defense, Scott Smith led Valley with a fumble recovery and an interception.

Ben Anderson led the Valley ground game with 82 yards on 25 carries.

Valley wins in Golf action

Three scores of 70 and below keyed the first victory of the season for the Tippecanoe Valley High School girl's golf team. Valley shot 270 on the Peru Municipal Course to Maconaquah's 286.

Laura Riedel led Valley with a round of 58, Jody Yochum added a 62 and Tara Nelson shot a 70. Lorrie Erp carded an 80 and Missy Lewis had Valley's fifth score with an 84.

Tippecanoe Valley shut-down Culver 5-0, in boys tennis action here last week.

The match was the season opener for the Vikings. Tim Sparrow, Hans Heltzel and Jon Howard were winners in singles matches for Valley, while the teams of Jerrod Feldman and Chris Zolman, along with Mark Sauer and Skip Smythe took the doubles matches.

Two of the five events went to three sets. Sparrow was extended by Craig Hopie at No. 1 singles before winning 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, while Feldman and Zolman battled Chris Harris and Eric Scott to a 3-6, 6-0, 7-5 marathon.

In other tennis action, the boys lost to LaVille last Thursday 3-2. Valley picked up its points from the No. 1 and No. 2 singles, with Tim Sparrow and Hans Heltzel. LaVille took both doubles matches, plus the No. 3 singles, to win the match.

The loss drops Valley's record to 1-1 for the season.

Valley won the junior varsity contest, 4-1.

Journalism class to publish articles

A division of production staffs marked the beginning of the journalism classes at Valley this year. The yearbook and the newspaper classes, which had previously been combined, have been divided into two separate one-hour courses. Both classes are now in training and will begin production within the coming month.

Both staffs are currently working on copy writing, layout, and design techniques. The staffs will join forces on Thursday, September 11, in an advertising campaign to raise funds for the publications. The students will travel to Warsaw and Rochester during the school day and will then continue the campaign with the local businesses.

Along with their training, students involved in both publications have been busy with pre-production activities. The Runic Review staff is planning a cooperative venture with the Akron-Mentone News in which student work will be published. The Saga staff has been busy with the distribution of the '85-'86 yearbooks. Distribution will last throughout this week and next.

Mrs. Terri Klotz, advisor of the two publications, feels that the division of the courses is a very positive step toward a quality journalism program. She reported that the students and the publications will receive more directed attention than has been possible in the past. Her goal for the publications this year is professionalism, and she particularly wants to get the students involved in seeing journalism as more than just a high school venture. She has already begun looking into the journalism scholarship and career opportunities available.

Chemistry II Part of Curriculum

By Becky Montague

Tippecanoe Valley has added another class to its science curriculum beginning with the 1986-87 school year. Chemistry II, taught by Miss Deb Day, is offered to those seniors who have successfully completed Chemistry I and who wish to continue in the study of chemistry.

This year, Chemistry II is offering a unique approach to learning. The students are finishing the Chemistry I book and then will spend the remainder of the year in lab. Plans are being made to allow students to perform an extensive quantitative experiment which will last two weeks. Some time will be allowed to study special topics in which the students are interested.

Eleven students are enrolled in this class, which is held third hour in room 115.

TVHS Drama Club

By Joetta Miller

Mrs. Beth Barr, director of the TVHS Drama Club, has decided that the first meeting of the club will be held on September 10 during activity period. At that time, she will announce the play that has been chosen for the fall performance this year. Tryouts will be held on Wednesday, September 10, and Thursday, September 11. Rehearsals will begin September 15, and the performances will be given on November 13 and 15.

Mrs. Barr began the drama program when she came to Tippecanoe Valley in 1976. Up to that time the only performance given was the musical which is traditionally held in the spring.

A large drama club is not expected this year by Mrs. Barr. This is fine with her as she would rather have a small, dedicated club, than a large one that is indifferent. "We're looking for a few good men," she said.

Dues for the club are $10. This covers the club's expenses, administration for the play, and the cost of Greek Night, a banquet held in the spring at which awards are given.

There comes a time when anything can be a nuisance.

It's good that most of us never know what others think of us.

Test scores rated high

Results have just been received by Tippecanoe Valley High School from Purdue University concerning the Algebra I achievement test scores that were a part of the Purdue University High School Testing Program. The news is good, our scores were high. When compared with other schools across the state, our students average scores ranked at the 76.1 percentage rate. This means our students scored better than three-fourths of the students in high schools participating in the test.

Girls Volleyball Underway

The 1986 girls' volleyball team started its season off with the fourth annual Tomahawk Invitational Volleyball Tournament on Saturday, August 30 at North Miami. There were eight teams participating in the tourney: North Miami, Caston, Southwood, Loganport, Rochester, Tippecanoe Valley, Oak Hill, and Peru.

The Valley varsity team consists of Lori Gray, Angie Flenar, Amy Heighway, Darci Jordan, Alisa Zolman, Gaynell Smythe, Chris Bowers, Jenny Doud, Julie Steininger, Leslie VanDeWater, and Chrissy White. The squad is coached by Deb Day, and assisted by Paula Buchanan.

The tournament was won in the 5:45 championship game when Oak Hill ousted North Miami. The Vikings were defeated each game. Player Lori Gray stated that the defeats were not taken too seriously as the team has just begun its practices and it is working under a new coach.

Valley started its regular season on September 4 with a game against Warsaw. The team was defeated by both Lakeland and Warsaw. Coach Day commented that the team is improving as they played quite well in both games.

School at Mentone off to good start

Exciting things are beginning to happen at the Mentone School again this year. The halls are filled with excitement and anticipation as students begin a new year.

There are six new faces in our school this year. At the Junior High level, Mr. Wayne Landis is the new math instructor. Wayne is a graduate of Taylor University and did his student teaching at TVHS. Mr. Dan Hauser is the new science teacher. Dan also graduated from Taylor University and did his student teaching at Missisnawa High School. Mrs. Cullison is teaching 1st grade and Mrs. Law, who taught at Akron last year, is the new third grade teacher. Mr. Holbrook is the new custodian. Finally, we are happy to welcome to our school and to Mentone, the new vice principal, Mr. John Waymire. John and his family are from South Dakota where John was Jr. High and Elementary Principal the last 4 years.

New to the sixth grade curriculum this year is the Quest Program. The Mentone Lion's Club is sponsoring the program that teaches young men and women how to make choices when confronted with difficult decisions. The program is being used by many schools across the nation. Jane Burkett and Lora Harp will be working with the students and parents during the year on this program.

In October the second year of the gifted talented program at the elementary level, will begin. The program introduces students to new thinking skills and helps develop their mental capabilities. The curriculum will include problem solving skills, communication skills, independent research, creativity, and leadership skills.

The goal of the staff is to give the very best education to each child that attends Mentone School. Working cooperatively with the students and their parents, they will strive to develop each student to his/her fullest potential.

The Mentone staff wants the public to feel free to visit the school throughout the school year. If problems should arise concerning your child, contact the school so all may work together to resolve the matter.

Butcher works in TV schools

State Senator James R. Butcher, R-Kokomo, Republican candidate for Congress in the 5th District, worked the sixth in a series of 14 jobs around the 5th District Friday at Burket Middle School in Kosciusko County.

Senator Butcher addressed seniors at Tippecanoe Valley High School earlier in the day before teaching afternoon physical education classes at Burket Middle School.

At a news conference Friday, Butcher said he is a strong advocate of parental involvement in education. He said he is opposed to the bureaucrats in Washington telling us how to run our schools.

"Our nation's greatest national resource is its youth. I think the parents know what's best when it comes to the educational needs of their children. We need an educational system that works and I believe the key to improving education lies with the parents, teachers, and local school board members, not with unsuccessful federal programs," Butcher said.

"We need an educational system that will turn out students on a consistent basis ready to compete in the real world."

Senator Jim Butcher was at TVHS last Friday to talk with and answer questions for the government classes. Butcher was pleased with the students knowledge and concern of our country's government. (NEWS Photo)

TIPS ON TRIPS

HEALTH ON THE ROAD

Tourists visiting foreign countries with warm climates and relatively poor sanitation frequently experience acute diarrhea. This usually results from exposure to certain bacteria in the foreign diet. Anti-diarrheal products may be used for treatment, but a better approach is to avoid this problem to begin with.

The Food and Drug Administration suggests that visitors to areas of questionable sanitation may prevent diarrhea by eating only recently peeled or thoroughly cooked foods and by drinking only boiled or bottled water, carbonated soft drinks or other bottled beverages. Even the small amount of tap water used for brushing teeth or for making ice may be a source of infection.

An English highway boasts the smallest underpass in the world—a tunnel one foot wide constructed to let badgers get to the other side of the road.

Indiana apples ready for harvest

Eve tempted Adam with an apple and for good reason according to Hoosiers who enjoy Indiana's annual autumn treat.

"Not many fruits are as versatile and nutritious as apples and fresh savory Grown-in-Indiana apples are now ready for harvest," said Lt. Governor John Mutz, Indiana's commissioner of agriculture.

Early varieties such as McIntosh, Cortland, Jonathan, Red Delicious, Grimes Golden and Golden Delicious are available during September at many of the state's roadside markets and u-pick farms.

Mutz said that due to spring freezes (when much of the crop was in bloom), this year's Hoosier apple harvest is expected to be 31 million pounds as compared to last year's record setting 75 million. "But," stressed Mutz, "apples still remain Indiana's number one fruit crop. This fruit contributes more than $10 million annually to Indiana's economy and there are over 250 apple orchards in the state ready to sell these crisp, juicy apples."

Apples can be boiled, baked, fried and broiled so any type of dish is possible. Pies, cakes, dumplings, sauces, jellies, juices, salads and wines are just a few of the culinary delights possible with apples. Apples are also an ideal snack or lunch box treat, great tasting and very much in sync with today's diet concerns. One medium size apple contains only 87 calories.

To help Hoosiers locate places to get Grown-in-Indiana apples and cider, the Indiana Department of Commerce, Division of Agriculture, offers a free publication entitled "Directory of Roadside Markets and u-pick farms." The directory contains information on fresh produce available, directions to the markets and farms, hours of operation and phone numbers.

Mammoths, prehistoric ancestors of the elephant, died out about 10,000 years ago. Pictures of them drawn by cave dwellers can still be seen on cave walls in southern France.

We want to thank everyone who remembered us with cards, calls and well wishes on our 40th wedding anniversary. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Date and Edith Sheetz

I wish to express my appreciation to the Rev. Lester Taylor and all my friends who remembered me during my stay at the hospital with prayers, cards and flowers. Thank you so much, your kindness will never be forgotten. God Bless you all.

Martin makes presentation

The Credit Union Development Education Program, sponsored by the National Credit Union Youth Program, CUNA Foundation and the World Council of Credit Unions, was named the winner of the 1986 Education Program Award. The award was presented by the Association of Cooperative Educators (ACE) in June at their summer institute in recognition of achieving pre-set goals and objectives through a planning and program implementation process for a new cooperative education program.

ACE is a professional organization for North American cooperative educators that is headquartered in Saskatchewan, Canada.

The Credit Union Development Program, which began in 1981 with a grant from the U.S. Agency for International Development, seeks to share with U.S. audiences the ways that credit unions help people around the world improve their lives socially, economically and politically.

One hundred volunteer development educators have been trained through the program and have made nearly 1000 presentations to over 60,000 people. In addition, hundreds of articles have been printed about the program and development education in credit union movement publications, and externally as well.

Rick G. Martin, son of Ronald and Dorothy Martin of Akron, Vice-President of Purdue Employees Federal Credit Union joined the Development Education Program in 1984; and has personally made 29 presentations to 575 people. To schedule a development education presentation for your local group, contact Rick at 317-743-9660 or C/O Purdue Employees Federal Credit Union, 540 Northwest Avenue, West Lafayette, IN 47906.

Burket reports second fatality

The Burket area has experienced its second fatality in a two-week time period.

Donald J. Rhineholz died when his car smashed head-on into a tree about one mile south of Burket on County Rd. 600 South, during the Labor Day weekend.

Sheriff C. Alan Rovenstine said the Rhineholz car appeared to have left the roadway while traveling west on the county road "into the direct path to a tree."

The car burst into flames after impact. Rhineholz died of severe burns on his entire body, police said.

County police said Rhineholz left his 5008 Starwood Drive, Ft. Wayne, residence at about 8:45 a.m. Monday. His wife told police Rhineholz said he was leaving to purchase some beer.

She did not know why Rhineholz came to this area, police said. Witnesses to the crash said it appeared Rhineholz was driving around in the area as if to plan the collision with the tree.

No skid marks were found at the scene.

DO IT AND DIET!

Light Orange Marmalade is Jam-Packed With Flavor

1/4 Teaspoon Margarine, butter or cooking oil

To Prepare Fruit

Cut off peel ends from oranges and discard. Cut oranges in quarters. Remove pulp from peel; remove seeds. Chop pulp and set aside. Slice orange peel into matchstick slivers. Combine pulp, peel and 5 cups water in 8- to 8-quart kettle or saucepan. Bring to a quick boil and simmer, uncovered, for 1 hour or until peel is tender. Measure mixture and add water, if necessary, to equal exactly 5 cups.

To Prepare Marmalade:

1. Add the package of pectin to fruit mixture in kettle or saucepan. Stir thoroughly and scrape sides of pan, to make sure all of the pectin dissolves.

2. Place pan over medium-high heat. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly to prevent scorching.

3. Add premeasured sugar and mix well. Continue stirring and bring to a full rolling boil (a boil that cannot be stirred down).

4. Boil hard exactly 1 minute. Add margarine, butter or cooking oil to reduce foaming. Stir constantly to avoid scorching.

5. Remove marmalade from heat. Skim foam and pour into containers.

6. Seal according to package directions.

This pectin is specifically formulated to gel with reduced amounts of sugar, and can be used to make jams and jellies with nearly any type of fruit.

Here's a recipe for light orange marmalade that is also an excellent glaze for ham, omelet filling or addition to barbecue sauce. Other recipes for light jams and jellies are available free of charge by writing MCP Foods, Inc., P.O. Box 3633, Anaheim, CA 92803.

Now Or Never

Don't wait with longing for the day

When better times might come your way

Discard the fears that may depress;

Live now, and garner happiness.

It's such a waste to dwell on gloom

Though you have problems, find the room

For loving when the path is rough;

For laughter when the going's tough.

To fully live means you must face

Whatever comes, with humble grace.

And if you mourn, turn it to praise.

How much to do, how few the days!

VOTE FOR HELEN ENYART
CLERK OF FULTON CIRCUIT COURT

Ad paid for by Helen Enyart

In loving memory of Florence Whittenberger who passed away on September 7, 1981.

Five long years have passed
Since our great sorrow fell.
The grief we received that day
We remember well.
God gave us strength to bear it
And courage to fight the bowl.
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
For the days we do not think
Of you are very hard to find.

Love always,
Don Whittenberger,
Sharon and Dick Johnson,
LaDonna, Sondra and Brian

The oldest known song written in English is a ballad called Judas. A manuscript of this survives from the 13th century.

Penny-pinching people are often dollar losers.

Most people are a little smarter than they seem.

Requirements for attending the camp are: Having reached the rank of black belt, teaching at least 200 class hours, competing in a national tournament, and being able to correctly demonstrate 10 forms, and 35 one steps.

The camp consisted of many work-outs on forms and sparring, classroom lectures and team competitions. A couple of 2:00 a.m. work-outs were added, just to keep things from getting dull.

School Board approves colors for Akron School

Tippecanoe Valley School Board heard a report from Doug Wickstrum of Fanning and Howie Associates of the colors to be used in decorating the Akron School.

Blended colors of blue, maroon and brown will be used in the carpeting through the main corridor of the school. The blended colors would hide the wear and tear on the carpeting. Classrooms then would be alternately decorated in either a blue, maroon or brown and yellow color scheme with darker carpeting and lighter shades for cabinets and desks.

The library will be finished in dark brown carpeting and lighter shades for the wall coverings. Yellow chairs and accents will add color and brightness to the room. A clear veneer finish will enhance the natural look of the oak shelves and doors throughout the school, he said.

In an update on the Mentone and Burket schools, Paige reported that the state approval on the sewage work was received for the Burket site but is still pending for Mentone. More construction plans and blueprints were requested before the state would grant a final approval on the Mentone site.

During the meeting, Superintendent Baxter Paige gave a preliminary attendance report.

There are 2,063 students in the corporation this year compared to 2,035 last year. Breaking that number down, Paige reported there were 134 students at Burket; 612 at Mentone with 362 in elementary school and 250 in junior high school; 665 at Akron with 454 in elementary and 211 in junior high; 630 at the high school. The smallest class is the senior class of 140 students. A final student count will be taken this week to be sent to the state for approval.

In other matters:

* The board approved contracts for Eula Smith and Rick Phillips for the Adult Basic Education classes. The classes are geared for students and adults who dropped out of school at some time, and prepares them for the GED test.

* The board agreed to advertise a notice to bidders for insurance. Some discussion was given

Meredith honored by Lions Club

The Akron Lion's Club recently held their August meeting at Teel's Restaurant. Lion Roy Meredith was honored by the Akron Lions and the International Club for his fifty-five years of service to the organization. Meredith is the only remaining Charter member of the local club. The Akron Lion's Club was organized in 1947. A certificate of recognition was given to Meredith on behalf of the Lion's International.

The wives of the club members were honored also for their help during Akron's 4th of July Celebration.

The Akron Lion's Club is making plans for five fish fries which are tentatively scheduled for October, November, March, April, and May. Other club business included the discussion of firewood sales and the orange sales which are under the direction of Dean Baker and Terry Canfield respectively.

The Akron Unit of Fulton County Emergency Medical Service needs more EMTs and drivers if it is to continue in operation. This seems to be a perennial problem. The ambulance service is back to having barely enough personnel to operate. This means the remaining few have to put in more hours of service to take up the slack and this can continue only to a certain point, then the service in Akron will have to be discontinued.

The local unit discussed this problem and are in the process of making a survey to find out how many people are interested in taking a training course. This course will be held in Rochester and will begin in November. The course will be offered FREE to anyone taking it at Rochester and willing to work in the Emergency Medical Service.

The community is being asked to fill out the blank and return it to indicate your interest or non-interest in the program. This is not a commitment but only an effort to determine the interest or non-interest in the course. Please return your information one way or the other.

The ambulance is a valuable asset to our community. Many lives have been saved in the past nine years. It would be a tragedy if it will take the loss of someone's life after the service is gone to make people realize just how much the service is needed.

Mail your responses to Jim Saner, P. O. Box 143, Akron, IN 46610. If you have any questions call Jim at 893-7270.

Reminiscing with Ruby

Articles Taken From Ruby Dawson's Journals

1962

I should write a few lines. I am now 89 - things have changed a lot. Yes we thought things were expensive in our time. A man could work all day and earn one dollar a day, some fifty to seventy five. A good job, one and a half. Most people in our small town had a large lot - a half dozen chickens, some with two lots had a cow - milk 5¢ a quart - you could get a pint if you wanted. A neighbor was more like one of your farm - you borrowed, traded or give - even your clothes surely would fit someone. We don't set around the table with one small oil lamp in the center. Really our tables are beautiful with our lamp in center, salt and pepper shakers and sugar bowl and toothpick holder are sparkling in the light - you did not have to light a lantern to take a walk the back way. Your basement was a super market. You did not go hungry. Company dining in was no problem. Bins of potatoes, heads of late cabbage in corner, can after can of homemade fruit, jellie, preserves, all of which you was proud of. We never heard of granulated sugar and at first we used it only in sugar bowl on table. We used soft white, it was like our brown today, only white.

No washing machines but all had beautiful white clothes and all those tuffles and pleats starched stiff with homemade starch. Evenings when one family went to another no babysitters. They played cards, the kids played games, chess and nuts, made taffy, popped corn, home to oad, sometimes up by daylight. Homemade cream, rich with whole milk and eggs.

Lots of folks had a milk cow and chickens, a horse, drove cattle and pigs down the center of street, the fancy hitching posts in front of a few homes. Using cornstarch for powder, the old rain barrel side of the house, water used to wash hair and saved in dry weather for wool things.

The soft soap, hard soap and extra white, boughten Ivory up on the shelf to wash the baby with.

You saved all string, most packages were tied with string. Newspapers were saved to put under the carpet. Our high button shoes and a butter knob you hid somewhere and can't find, high topped shoes broke the string just as you were in a hurry to go someplace.

You've missed a lot if you never went frog hunting with a string and stick and fish hook. Skin the hind legs and fryed them on a little buck stove you made yourself.

How about cider time around that big barrel and a good straw. How about walking two and one-half miles to slide down on a new straw stack, then starting home through dusty road with a big piece of bread, fresh out of oven covered with homemade butter and on top of that homemade apple butter. Oh, us kids would always find plenty to do. Yes, we had work to do before play. Blueberries were called huckleberries and were wild in swampy places. You left early in morning. Took your lunch, picked on shares. Sometimes you staped in water or saw a snake. Berries were small but I think had a better flavor then the berries today.

We walked out to Haggins a mile to pick strawberries. Oh, we were out to make money. He gave us one cent a quart for picking them. I for one never got rich. I was a poor picker. Once he gave me the same to help his wife clean, then I think he sold them for 5¢ a quart. Berries were not large like they are today. The boys mowed the Burners lawn on the corner across the way for 25¢. Hand mower trimmed all the weeds and grass around all their plants and flowers. Yes, now you sit and watch TV and wonder what you can do next.

To those of you who have read and enjoyed Ruby's column, we are sorry to inform you that this week and next weeks column will be the last.

Rural Rhymes

By Ester C. Adams

'CAUSE IT'S AUTUMN
Ma's in the kitchen cookin'
An' I know without lookin'
'Tis the Heavenly smell of catsup
An' there'll be no let up
'Cause it's Autumn.

Apple butter Ma'll be makin'
An' little samples I'll be takin'
Spicy, tangy an' delicious.
Ma watches me so suspicious.
'Cause it's Autumn.

Ma cans peaches sweet an' yellow
Pears so tasty an' so mellow.
Soon she'll make pumpkin pie
It's so good to be alive, say I
'Cause it's Autumn.

From palm trees to maples and oaks

The beauty of leaves turning into shades of brilliant oranges and rustic browns is a part of our culture that so many of us take for granted. For Edward Mumford this will be a special occasion this year. Ed and Karen Mumford, with their three daughters, Mylinda 7, Misty 4, and Melanie 2, have recently moved to the Beaver Dam area. Coming from Escondido, California, near San Diego, the Mumford family is experiencing many environmental changes.

Karen and the girls did spend last year in Minnesota with her parents, and it was during this time she realized she did not want to live in a large city. "In California we lived close to the Mexican border. It was not safe to even let the children play outside in the backyard," commented Karen. "I feel safe here," she added.

Mylinda attends Akron Elementary School. She is a second grader in Mrs. Morgans class. Mylinda remarked that Akron School was better than the schools in California and Minnesota. When asked why, she replied, "Here (Akron) I can have more friends, and I'm in a smaller class. The teachers are real nice and friendly too!"

Mr. Mumford is unemployed and is looking for work in the area. Karen, realizing the importance of being with her pre-schoolers, hopes to be able to babysit. She had hoped to be a pre-school teacher's aid allowing her to be with her daughters.

Karen also noted the economical advantages to living in this area. Housing was the Mumfords' biggest expense in California. Renting a two bedroom home was costing them close to $600 a month. Here the family is living in a ranch style home with other farm buildings for about half that amount. Produce is cheaper in the California area. This is because it is grown in that area. Staple products are about the same price in both areas.

The girls are looking forward to the winter season so they can play in the snow and go ice fishing with their grandfather. Mylinda commented she was looking forward to making snowmen and snow angels. "We made angels in the sand, but that's not as much fun!" exclaimed the youngster.

When the snow is blowing, and as the drifts reach for the sky, just remember Mylinda, Misty and Melonie are enjoying every exciting moment of the winter fantasy.

concerning the length of the contracts desired. The board decided to ask for either a one-year or a three-year contract for the insurance on the buildings and contents. Paige told the board members that their current contract was made on a three-year basis, but that some insurance companies refused to offer anything more than a one-year contract.

Board members expressed that it may be better just getting a one-year contract because the building program will be nearly completed, adding to the value of the properties. One change was made in the amount of the replacement value of the administrative building and contents. The board decided to change them from $50,000 for replacement to $80,000 and from $27,000 for content to $40,000.

Bids will be accepted until Oct. 1, from insurance companies with a B plus or better rating and are located within the school district.

In principal reports:

* At Burket there will be a parent-teacher conference on Oct. 8, and an open house on Nov. 19.

* Akron will have a series of open houses during the next three weeks. They were broken up due to the limited parking space available at the school with construction machinery taking up room. Fall athletics are underway with the students having practice at the high school gym until their facility is completed.

* At Mentone there will be an open house on Sept. 16 with the teachers giving a presentation of their classes and expectations for the year.

* Hill reported that the junior magazine sales had reached two-thirds of the goal so far. He also said the SADD chapter would have a special guest speaker appearing on Sept. 30. He is an ex-undercover agent and will be speaking on drugs and alcohol. A second presentation will be given at 7 p.m. that night which parents are invited to attend.

GFWC holds first meeting of new year

The Mentone Reading Club, GFWC, met at the Bell Museum in Mentone for their first meeting of the new year. President Carol Hurst welcomed members, and introduced the night's program with a quote from Lawrence Bell "Small towns are the grass roots of America. It's towns like Mentone that make America great. It's not the big corporation, not the big cities, but small towns and people just like you."

Sue Pyle was in charge of the program about Larry Bell's life and the steps that led to acquiring a museum to house the artifacts the town received. Enough land is available to expand and aircraft from the Smithsonian and Wright Patterson airfield can be displayed if they can be housed. A video was shown on Bell's life and his being inducted posthumously into the Aviation Hall of Fame. He developed the world's first commercially licensed helicopter, which really came into use during the Korean War. Bell was also responsible for the X-1 in which Chuck Yeager first flew faster than sound. His 44 year career in aviation came to an end with his death in 1956. The museum has several videos and another shown was on the 1981 Paris Air Show where the Bell XV-15 tilt rotor was the technical hit of the show. Elaine Fugate concluded the program with a tour through the museum.

After the program, members reconvened at the home of Mary Esther Romine for the business and social portions. Officer and committee reports were given by Mrs. Romine, Pat Gross, and Rosemary Bazini. Cards were signed for ailing members, and the meeting adjourned. A salad bar prepared by Mrs. Romine, Mrs. Hurst and Mary Ann King was served.

The next meeting will be held October 8th at the home of Honey Kuhn.

Merry Mollys meet with Vi McGowen

Vi McGowen welcomed seventeen members and five guests, Eleanor Knoop, Marie Richards, Marguerite Campton, Annabell Marshall and Garnet Latimer.

As the meeting opened cards were signed and sent to Hubert Keirn and Mrs. Philip Lash, who are ill. Following the pledges and Song of the Month, "He's Got the Whole World In His Hands," Virginia Thomas read two selections for meditation, "Tree of Friendship" and "Lord Make me Kind".

During the Citizenship lesson Linda Keirn explained the Pledge of Allegiance, as explained by M. Lassell to a class of students who had become bored by saying the pledge. It came alive after hearing this explanation.

Johanna Peters told the club of a unique way to harvest apples by securing a large piece of material around the tree leaving one corner open to let the apples out when they come down.

Helen Taylor and Fay Whetstone gave the lesson on "Up Dating Your Wardrobe". They explained how to clean out your closet and rearrange clothing, so you can readily see what outfits, and possibilities are presently available. They also told what styles, colors and fabrics are currently in fashion. Pictures were passed, showing the latest in high fashion styles.

Roll Call revealed what each considers a "sight to behold". Answers included a new granddaughter, beauty in nature, sunrises, sunsets, punk hair styles, rainbows, Mt. Rushmore, Bryce Canyon, Grand Canyon and a trick bike rider.

Next meeting will be at Fern Beeson's at 7:30 on October 13.

How to avoid 'wiretaps' in I

We are all busy this time of year in the 69 counties that make up a community we call Public Service, Indiana.

Electricity serves us each day in countless ways. But electricity is also potentially dangerous. Even the slightest "tap" on a power line is all it takes to turn a routine job into a tragedy.

How can you avoid these "wiretaps"? Start by using the first rule of safety, and that's simply to think about what you (and your family, neighbors and friends) are doing. Think before and dur-

My Worry

A little bitty worry, started early in the day; by noon, it seemed my worry, hovered, standing in my way.

The things and thoughts I should have had, got buried in my mind; until my little worry turned, into the horrid kind.

By bedtime, I was frantic - what to do, oh, what to do! and then I couldn't go to sleep, for worrying - fretting, too.

By morning I was almost sick, when suddenly and soon; my worry had been all worked out, before the toll of noon.

Then I looked back and saw my worry, just for what it was - A thing that didn't happen, as a worry seldom does.

Senior citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For your meal reservation, please call 893-7204 the day before you plan to join us.

Clark teaching Remedial Reading at Mentone

by Joette Miller

"Seeing the spark in a pair of eyes when something finally gets through," is the favorite part of the job for Mrs. Carol Clark, the remedial reading teacher for Mentone Elementary School.

Mrs. Clark teaches the first, second, and third grade children. She feels that her biggest challenge in teaching the slower children is trying to get them enthused about learning to read and to see a reason for reading. One of the ways she can do this is to bring a book she is reading and to put it on the table. The kids usually ask about the book, and she tells them the storyline. Often the children are amazed at how many neat things are in books.

Mrs. Clark also has a weekly reading time in which she goes to the classroom and reads a story specially picked to generate interest in reading. The kids' favorite story is about Brer Rabbit and the Tar Baby, because the dialect sounds funny coming from a teacher who usually speaks in proper English.

Mrs. Clark's least favorite part of her job is the fact that she is also responsible for the two aides who teach the intermediate grade levels.

The most frustrating part of her job is needing to go back over and over the same skills. There is also a lack of time this year as Mrs. Clark is teaching back to back classes.

Since Mrs. Clark teaches the slower children, it is not only necessary to catch them up with their classmates, but to prepare them to move on. However, Mrs. Clark stated that "sometimes I can't, I just try to catch them up."

The rewards of this job are not always apparent immediately. Mrs. Clark said, "Even though some of the kids do not achieve a full year's reading growth in one year, I work with them for three to four years, and in that time I can see quite a gain."

This year Mrs. Clark is also working with some students who speak English as a second language. She said that since they do speak and understand a fair amount of English, she is mostly working on phonetics and elementary reading skills. "They are bright, they just have not had to read English". She also said that they are anxious to learn and do not care what they read, they are just glad they can.

Grossnickle close to family

by Gayle Weaver

Mr. Grossnickle was born in Wabash, Indiana and graduated from Wabash High School. After high school, he joined the Navy for four years. Then he went to Ball State for one year. To further his education, he went to Indiana State for three years. And to complete his education, he went to school in Boon, North Carolina for three more years during the summer.

After he finished school, he took a job at Hickory, North Carolina as a teacher and lived there for nine years. Then he took a job at years until he got his current job at Tippecanoe Valley High School. His reasons for coming are that he can be closer to his family that lives in Athens, and he likes the administration because they are so supportive of the teachers as well as the students. He said he's glad to be back in the Midwest where the people don't talk with an accent and they don't eat grits. When asked which he preferred, the Midwest or the mountains, he said he was a flatlander at heart, but he misses the mountains.

Office helpers

by Rick Mikels

The office helpers at Tippecanoe Valley do a variety of jobs. They work mainly for secretary Kay Kindig during the various periods of the day.

"It's not like a study hall at all," says Joette Miller, a second period helper. "I can talk with the teachers while I go around the halls collecting attendance slips." commented Joette. She said the hardest thing was trying to finish her homework, because of the time it takes.

Some of the other jobs performed by the helpers are: calling people from class for a particular reason (phone call, emergency, etc.) collecting attendance, a little errand work and sorting mail.

SADD organization growing

by Robin Blankenship

The Tippecanoe Valley SADD chapter started in 1984. It had approximately 20 members. The chapter has grown since then and this year there are many more members.

Both Mr. Hill and Mrs. Carmichael, the SADD sponsors, agree that the problem of drinking and driving is a large one and they would like to see the students "keep the awareness of the drinking problem on the front burner" as Mr. Hill stated. They also feel that is has already raised the awareness, but as Mrs. Carmichael pointed out, "as far as prevention, that's hard to measure because fortunately, we haven't had any fatal alcohol related accidents (at Valley), but we may not have had any anyway".

Every year, SADD sponsors convocations throughout the year to help raise awareness of the consequences of drinking and driving. They also designate one week as SADD week. They usually have speakers and slide and film presentations during this week. Two years ago, during SADD week, Bill Essex, appearing in a cowboy hat and boots, he let the student body know not only the effects of drinking and driving, but the danger of drugs as well, in a way that most students didn't feel like they were getting a sermon. On September 30, 1986, Bill Essex will once again be speaking in the gymnasium to the student body of TVHS. At 1:00 p.m. on this date, students will be dismissed to the gymnasium where Bill Essex will speak for two hours. After which, he will return to the high school at 7:00 p.m. to meet personally with students and parents.

Even though SADD has grown quite a bit, there is always room for more. "I would like to see more people involved", Angie Flenar, '88 stated. There are many ways to be involved. Mrs. Carmichael listed some ways. "Anyone can be a part of SADD by attending meetings or helping reach the goals of the club by working with the club, by contracts for life, or they can just be committed. People love their friends and don't want anything to happen to them, so they take the keys if they have to, or call someone to come and get them."

Bill Essex will be speaking to Tippecanoe Valley students and parents about drug and alcohol abuse Sept. 30.

Day promoted to head coach

by Darci Jordan

Miss Day, who was the J.V. volleyball coach last year, has been promoted to the new head coach.

The biggest difference between being J.V. volleyball coach and varsity volleyball coach according to Miss Day, is that it puts a lot more pressure and responsibility on one person. The change of coaches this year is partially due to Mrs. Welch's wanting to take up other interests besides volleyball, but she is still very involved with the team. Mrs. Buchanan took over the job of J.V. coach.

One thing that is different this year is that Day has added an offense and defense to the team's strategy.

Coach Day feels that her team is extremely inexperienced. She also feels that her team improves with every game, even though their record doesn't show it.

Day says that after mid-season, the team should be playing 500 ball.

Buchanan at Valley

by Lori Gray

Recently Tippecanoe Valley has hired a new business teacher and assistant volleyball coach, Miss Paula Buchanan. Buchanan graduated from Indiana State University with a MS degree in Business Education and an endorsement in Vocational Business. She has taught in three different states: Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan, and in seven different schools, for a total of thirteen years.

She moved around so much because of economic cutbacks. She also worked in Dallas, Texas, as a temporary secretary at Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Texas.

Her last teaching job was at LaSalle High School in South Bend.

She says she enjoys teaching here at Valley and has found the students to be cooperative.

Blood donors needed

Patient blood needs cannot be postponed.

Blood donors in the American Red Cross' Fort Wayne Region recently pulled supplies up from emergency levels, but hospital patients use blood every day. Without regular, ongoing blood donations, the American Red Cross would be in a perpetual emergency and could not guarantee that patient needs would be met.

The Akron community has the opportunity to help by giving blood on Monday, September 29, at the Akron Church of God. Bloodmobile hours will be 12:00 to 5:00 p.m.

It takes about an hour to go through the donation procedure - only eight to 10 minutes for the blood draw itself. You'll get the benefit of a mini-physical, some light refreshments and the satisfaction of knowing you've shared your health with hospital patients who need it.

Fulton County participates in the Fort Wayne Region of American Red Cross Blood Services. To meet the needs of 56 hospitals in a 37-county area, the Fort Wayne Region must collect some 2,100 units of blood each week. Akron's September 29 bloodmobile is one of 16 that week across the region.

To be an eligible blood donor, an individual must be 17 to 65 years old, weigh 110

Assessment registration notice

According to Bill Long, State Board of Tax Commissioners, Form #786, Assessment Registration Notice, must be filed by any person who demolishes, structurally modifies or improves real property in the county. This notice must be filed with your office pursuant to I.C. 36-7-8-11. Any person who fails to file this notice commits a Class C infraction which carries a penalty up to $500. This requirement is effective as of Sept. 1, 1986.

Funeral home extends services EMT shares joys and trials of serving local community

Jon Good, managing funeral director of the Foster and Good Funeral Home, Akron, announced today the addition of new services to the Akron Funeral Home operation. Foster and Good Funeral Home has affiliated with Heritage Insurance Group, Inc. of Goodland, IN., according to Paul Gritten, Chief Executive Officer of the group.

Jon Good,
 Life Insurance Agent
 of Foster & Good
 Funeral Home

"The addition of this service will allow Foster and Good to offer a low premium funeral insurance product to the Akron and tri-county community as a means of financing pre-need funeral arrangements," stated Gritten. Through the Heritage programs, according to Gritten, Foster and Good could provide a fully funded $3,000 funeral for a one time cost of $1,180, depending on the clients age and health, which results in a savings of over 60%.

"The prearranged funeral market is currently being flooded with all types of funeral insurance products," states Gritten. "However, many of these products are excessively high priced or have restricted benefits warns Gritten, and do not offer the best dollar value for the pre-need purchaser, particularly in the over 50 age bracket." He continued, "Akron and the tri-county community have the benefit of dealing with Jon Good, who has undergone extensive training in this area. Coupled with his knowledge of pre-arranged funeral experience and the quality of the product line they are offering, assures the tri-county community of receiving the best possible value for their dollar and peace of mind."

"We have committed our firm to offering the Akron area the most reliable products available for pre-need funding," states Mr. Good. "We invite comparison before anyone makes a final decision regarding funeral

What would you do if a member of your family became seriously ill or if you were involved in an accident?

John Weida

First thought to enter your mind might be to call the local ambulance service. The ambulance is serviced by local volunteers who work diligently to serve our communities.

The Akron community has been serviced through the Fulton County EMS program for the past nine years. John Weida of Akron, has served the community all nine years. His first year was as a driver. After seeing the need for emergency medical personnel, John became a certified Emergency Medical Technician (EMT). To become an EMT, John was required to take a training course of approximately 140 classroom hours. Since his training, John not only has served as a medical technician, but also as a classroom instructor.

Nine years ago when the service began, Akron had 25 volunteer EMTs and drivers. Now, that number has been cut by nearly 50%. To provide an efficient Emergency Medical Service, the ambulance is staffed by two trained technicians and one driver for each run. This means the volunteer technicians and drivers must be on-call every other week and every fourth weekend.

John is usually on call during the second shift which means he would respond to an emergency call between 6:00 p.m. - 6:00 a.m. As an EMT it is not unusual for him to work all day, be out on an emergency run during the night, then return to his regular place of work the following day. The same routine applies to the day shift since many of those EMTs work the night shift at their places of employment.

Serving as an EMT pre-empting any family or personal engagements John might have planned. As an EMT John is required to stay within a mile radius of the ambulance. Many times he has not been able to go with his family to school activities or social functions. Does his family understand when he cannot go with them? His wife certainly is compassionate to the situation since she also is a certified EMT employed by Woodlawn Hospital. Although Crystal is not scheduled every other week as a volunteer EMT she does help "cover" for other volunteers. John's children have come to accept the fact that their father may not be able to attend all of their school functions because of the distance from town to the high school.

As an EMT John has encountered some unpleasant situations. "You just get in there and do your job. At the time, you just think about the proper medical procedure. When it's all over,

Citizens voice concerns

The citizens of Akron were ready for last week's Town Board meeting. Approximately thirty citizens were on hand to question the board about the rumors concerning the termination of Florence Katz as billing clerk for the water department. The board reassured the citizens that much of what they had heard were rumors, however, the board assumed Katz would retire on her upcoming 65th birthday. A town board meeting to clear up the misunderstandings has been scheduled for September 30, at 7:00 p.m.

Citizens were also on hand to voice complaints concerning barking dogs, motors being raced, children playing in the streets and children riding bikes on the sidewalks plus not obeying traffic signs. Marshal Smith has been instructed to check out these matters along with other complaints voiced by Akron residents.

Superintendent Gearhart requested permission to

Co. bloodmobile to visit Akron Sept. 29

When a patient needs blood, it can come from only one source - another human being. That's why human beings, and plenty of them, are needed for the upcoming American Red Cross bloodmobile at the Akron Church of God.

Sponsored by the Fulton County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the bloodmobile will take place Monday, September 29, from 12:00 to 5:00 p.m.

"We hope people will understand how important it is for them to come in to give blood," said Jon Good, chapter chairman. "Fulton County is part of the Fort Wayne Region of Red Cross blood services. The region has to collect an average 2,100 donations per week just to keep up with hospital's needs.

"Our bloodmobile will play a major role in meeting the demand for that day," Mr. Good said.

Woodlawn Hospital in Rochester is among the 56 hospitals supplied by the 37-county Fort Wayne Region.

Mr. Good pointed out that it takes only about an hour to give blood, and the donation itself requires just eight to ten minutes. "That's a small price to pay when you think of the good it does for the community," he said. "And you never know when it might be your own family member or neighbor who needs blood."

Under the Red Cross system of "community responsibility," any patient who needs blood can have it, regardless of whether the patient or his family are donors. And there is no need to replace the blood used. But "community responsibility" can work only as long as people continue to voluntarily donate blood on a regular basis.

Eligible donors are between 17 and 65 years of age, weighing at least 110 pounds, and healthy. In addition, they must not have given blood within eight weeks before the upcoming bloodmobile.

Appointments are suggested, but not required. To make yours, please call Judy Day at 893-4623.

Reminiscing with Ruby

Articles Taken From Ruby Dawson's Journals

Not in those days, don't forget to bring in a bucket of water, see the wood box is full of wood and kindlin to start a fire in summer. Oh yes, it's hot. Think nothing of it because we expect it. Anyway theres a bucket on the back porch, don't forget to wash your feet, I don't want the bed dirty.

Going over to slaughter house "Joe" don't forget to save me the heart or liver - heart, liver, tongue and tail were always given away. Now you have to nearly pay for a smell.

The ice house. We had one and so did Ed Arter and later John Eber who sold ice. This was cut in the winter at Akron Town Lake, stored in a building with sawdust. We would run after the ice wagon for small pieces. Oh, that was a treat, we used our ice for the shop. But Ed and John sold there around town.

Your old shoes looked like new when you took them up to Uncle Hi (he was fathers brother who at 17 went and learned to be a cobbler) who put new half soles on and polished them. Yes, they seemed new to us.

A boy in country sometimes was given a new buggy and a horse for a graduating gift. Can you just see him tying that horse at the post by your house - coming to door all dolled up, raps on door and is greeted by his girl. Oh yes, he takes his hat off - now for a ride. He helps you in the buggy, tucks the beautiful lap rob over our knees to keep the dust off our good clothes. Oh boy, you have missed a lot - he will train the horse to go home, tie the lines around the beautiful new buggy whip, and take a nap on the way home. You can't do that with a car.

Oh, I still do lots of things as of old, like why should I buy a pie when I can make one. A big white cake with nuts and coconut. Yes, I go to church without a hat, but I don't like it. Children are still children and I love them all, and I am glad for all the progress that has taken place, yes, I can still set on the floor with a young child and have them show me how to play a new game, kite flying, even it's out of the store. Ours was homemade frame covered with old newspapers pasted together with homemade paste, the ball of string mother had saved all winter, the tail someones old dress or apron torn in strips and tied together. Our mothers scrubbed us good on Sat. night in the tub in kitchen. Now she sends them to the bathroom, hung and wash. Yes, I am glad for the new ways of life.

Once a year at the little corner store they would get some coconuts. Father always bought one. He made a little hole, drained out all the milk, which we divided, then he took the saw, cut of a round piece at top, with a sharp knife he would dig out some pieces for each. It lasted several days. When all was eaten he made two holes close to top and mother had a hanging basket. Oh, nothing went to waste.

Here July and Betty has been here from Michigan. Charlette's daughter and her husband from Sharpville and the biggest surprise Frank Ebers son Robert and wife from Hampton, Conn. What a visit. No, I don't get lonely. Diana and Caleb in every week or talks on telephone. Diana never comes empty handed. Today beans and some nice big onions. Caleb always wants something to take home and wants it in a large paper bag. If it's only a few cookies, the bag must be tied shut and he is happy.

Aug. again - what a week, my birthday everyday. From dinners at Akron to Indianapolis, had a wonderful time, so I guess I am not among the dead, though I'm getting more forgetful and more mixed up in the head. For sometimes I can't remember when I stand at the foot of the stairs, if I was going up or had I just come down. In the mornings when it is dark out I'll stand beside my bed and wondering if I am getting up or just going to bed.

A. Flexible premium payment plans ranging from single premium to a monthly payment plan.

B. Full coverage from day of issue, unlike some plans offering limited coverage for the first two years.

C. Trust plans available which fully protects the policy from Medicaid assessment.

D. Proceeds are totally tax free and allow the insured to preserve their accumulated estate.

E. Legal contracts being used designate to whom the excess funds will be paid.

F. Many plans have increasing death benefits to keep pace with inflation.

G. Our programs may be used even if Foster and Good is not the funeral service provider.

"Our goal is to make the funeral service as easy as possible for the surviving family members," said Good. "By gently guiding folks through the pre-arrangement program, they are pleasantly surprised at the comfort and security they feel knowing that even in their passing, they have taken the time and courage to express their love to those who have benefited from their life."

Story of an EMT

you let your emotions get involved," said John. He did explain that many of the ambulance runs are to transport the ill to the hospital rather than all being accident type runs. The duty of the ambulance crew is to stop the deterioration of an individuals medical problem and transport the individual to a hospital for medical treatment.

"Of course you see things that you'll never forget. The worst thing I have ever had to do was lift a six month old child's limp body off of the road", remembered John. He slowly added, "I'll never forget it." With all of this in one's mind, how can it be worth all the time spent in class and time spent on call plus such memories? John responded the question by adding "when you know you have saved a human beings life, it is worth it. The doctor may never credit you nor the family thank you; but as an EMT you know you did it. When that happens, it's worth it all! Would I quit? Never! It might be my family or even myself that will need the ambulance next."

Mentone is in the same situation as Akron. Gene Hughes reports the ambulance service has only ten volunteers at the present time. They too, must be on-call every other week.

Both towns are recruiting new volunteers. Akron residents are reminded of an EMS training class to be held at Rochester. Anyone that is interested may contact Jim Saner. Mentone residents will also be offered an EMS training course in November. Those interested are asked to contact Terri Snyder.

Dr. Urschel, of Mentone, was in attendance at Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester last Saturday when triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Snipes, of Tippecanoe. All three were girls. The first daughter arrived at 11:20 a.m., the second at 12:22 p.m. and the third ten minutes later. It has been stated that this was the first triplets to be born in Fulton County in 76 years. Dr. Urschel in keeping the necessary medical records of the births, was referring to them as "A," "B," and "C," until they were named by their parents. He was somewhat surprised when he learned that the names chosen were Alice, Bernice, and Catherine. Mr. Snipes was aroused from his slumbers about three o'clock Sunday morning, we have been told, by a representative of a milk company that offered to furnish a year's supply of milk for the three girls in exchange for their pictures and the advertising publicity it would bring the firm.

Mrs. Harry Foster of South Whitley spent a few days of last week at the home of Mrs. Lydia Ryeanson. They were old school mates.

Dittman has 'Bloomin' Business'

A popular craft item this year has been the ladies "fannies". These have been displayed in many flower gardens throughout the area.

Melea Dittman of Akron is just one of the local artists making these popular items. She adds a special touch to her pieces of art - she puts bloomers on each of her ladies.

Melea first started making the fannies after her mother received one. Soon after that she realized the growth in popularity of the item. Melea cuts her own patterns and does all the work except for the sawing of the wood. Ron, her husband, cuts out the patterns, then Melea does the painting and adds the final touches. Melea added the bloomers to the figure for "discretion".

Doing craft work has always been a pastime of Melea's. She started painting as a child and continues the craft today. "I paint on anything. Rocks are my favorite objects, but I also paint on wood of any type", Melea explained. Taking a piece of dried moss and painting a kitten on it was Melea's most challenging craft experience. Although Melea has put a craft shop in her home, she does not want her craft to become work. She does her items in the evening or just when she is in the mood. Her shop is not open on a daily basis, but is available when people call and want a gift. Melea explained her best work is done when she is not under pressure. She thinks of her work as a form of relaxation. Making something out of nothing is what makes craft work fun for Melea. The Dittmans have three children: Shannon (10), Travis (8), and Troy who is six. Shannon has shown an interest in her mother's craft work and helps her mother when possible. Gathering grape vines for wreaths is one way in which the children have helped their mother with her crafts. The children have also gathered different types of weeds for the craft items.

Melea loves the simple things of life. She can see a small simple item such as a plain flat rock and imagine what it will look like once she paints a cute little animal on it. While out at the lake, she spotted a piece of fungus and was determined to make something beautiful of it. After painting a kitten on it she displayed it at the county fair and received a blue ribbon. Her children's story-books supply many of her ideas for scenery.

Melea has a special craft idea for Christmas. She plans to use the popular item but change the concept. Be sure and watch the local yards to see what Melea is planning!

WHY BITE ON THE RIBBON?

Did you ever wonder why your dentist asks you to bite on a thin piece of ribbon? Actually it is a very fine strip of paper, or film coated with special marking material. What he is doing is checking your bite. He's looking for any high spots on the surface of your teeth which meet prematurely when the uppers and lowers come into contact.

He'll check your bite from several different directions and from the information he finds from the markings on the ribbon, he'll know just how your bite works and whether it needs any bite correction. It may even indicate that certain teeth need building up to meet their opposing partners.

He can also take study models so that he has a permanent hard plaster model of your teeth. From this simple bite test, he can then adjust your bite so that you have a comfortable fit and, as a bonus, save you the possibility of more serious problems in the future. When your friend the dentist says, "bite down", he's doing you and your mouth a favor. Have you thanked him lately?

Akron Carnegie Library

New books at the Akron Public Library are:

Life's Work, by Jonathan Valin - Billy Parks, all-pro nose guard for the Cougars, has disappeared four weeks before the season's opening. The league has already suspended three of its players for possession of cocaine, so management will do anything to get Parks back. They hire Harry Stoner to track him down.

Cold Spring Harbor, by Richard Yates - A masterly tale about unsettled lives in crisis and in conflict. The time is the first year of the Second World War, the place is a small Long Island town.

Animal Rights, by Edward E. Dolan - Since the mid-1970's, animal rights advocates have been publicizing the harsh, often cruel conditions that animals are subjected to. In a straightforward account of the conditions of animals in our country, Edward Dolan builds a strong case for the more humane treatment of our fellow creatures.

Modeling, by Lois Cantwell - Introducing modeling as a career, discussing the different fields, agencies and schools, and steps for getting started.

A Gift in Secret, by Caroline Light - From London to Paris, New York to Chicago, the glamorous world of turn-of-the-century high society comes alive in this enchanting romance. A tale of a high-spirited beauty who, forced to make her own way in life, finds fulfillment as an independent woman - even as her heart longs for the one man she cannot possess.
The American Cancer Society Cancer Book, by Arthur Holleb - Information on the prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and cure by the Society that knows it best.

Foundation and Earth, by Isaac Asimov - The Foundation series is the most widely read science fiction work of all time. Now in a landmark publishing event, the monumental saga continues with this fifth and most thrilling novel yet.

The New Taxpayers' Counterattack, by Vernon K. Jacobs.

Estate Planning, the New Golden Opportunities, by Robert S. Holzman.

Perry Improvement

by Aurel Musselman

The Perry Home Improvement Club met in Marie Berger's home with Sherri Moore as her co-hostess. Ruth Bammerlin led the group in singing "The More We Get Together" and "Happy Birthday" to Aurel Musselman. President Marie Nestleroad read a thought for the day. For her devotions Ruth Bammerlin read an article and led in prayer.

Marie Long, Citizenship chairman, read a thought provoking article, it told how our lives are improved as we serve others. Our self worth and self respect improve and our abilities increase, thus our family's respect for us grows.

Alice Teel showed a lovely candle glowing in a glass that had been a common glass container. She explained how it had been decouped and coated to new beauty.

Arlene Gearhart brought an excellent lesson on "Enhancing your Vitality".

All life's energy comes from food, air, and sunlight. Each person sends out either positive or negative energy. She named many ways each can ensure hers are positive. We can eat nutritious foods, exercise within your limits, causing better circulation by practicing little exercises regularly, and by deep breathing through the nose, by listening to beautiful music, by playing and singing and by watching good shows. We will be uplifted. Enjoy periods of quiet time, give love to others, simplify your life.

style, hold your peace, learn to say "no", using common sense, and forgive and forget. Thus you create your own happiness.

We shared our Presidents report from the County Council meeting. Papers for future lessons were passed on to various chairmen.

Cards signed by each one present will be sent to Emma Burns and Marjorie Miller.

Pauline Miller was the Lucky Lady.

Refreshments were enjoyed. Other members present were Marie Coon, Neva Robison, Lucille Personett and Aurel Musselman.

HARD WORK HELPS YOU GET AHEAD

Searching for success in business? Perhaps nothing pays off as well as diligence and hard work — getting involved in every aspect of your company and putting in the extra hours.

One example of an American entrepreneur who worked harder than most to make his company a success was Colonel Harland Sanders, founder of the Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant chain. He believed in the importance of every one of his franchisees. If he would get a call at night that some franchisee was out of boxes, for instance, he would see to it that those boxes were on a bus that night to make certain the franchisee could be in operation the next day. He would travel hundreds of miles to help with special grand opening sales at new restaurants. He'd go into the kitchen himself and show the cooks how to make his special gravy the right way.

IN APPRECIATION

We are grateful for the kindnesses - flowers, cards, food and friendship - from all of you on the death of Cloyde Leininger.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Joy M. Tilden who died on September 23, 1985.

Mom made no one a last farewell,
She said goodbye to none,
The heavenly angels gathered near,
And a loving voice said "Come!"
What would we give if we could say,
"Hello Mom" in the same old way.
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
To sit and chat with her awhile,
To those who have a Mother,
Please cherish her with care -
For you'll never know how much you miss her,
Until you find her not there!!

Sadly missed by her children

Farm Safety Week

Accidents can happen to anyone at anytime or any place. Be protected...from the unexpected!

Gov. Robert Orr and Lt. Gov. John Mutz, Indiana's commissioner of agriculture, have proclaimed Sept. 21-27 as Indiana Farm Safety Week.

"Farming is a very hazardous occupation, but one that is vital to our economy. Farm related injuries are costly emotionally, physically, and economically. Special steps need to be taken to promote and maintain a safe and healthy environment on our farms," said Lt. Gov. Mutz.

The theme of this year's Farm Safety Week, "Be protected...From the Unexpected," stresses the need for preventive safety measures. Farm Safety Week is intended to reduce the number of farm-related accidents through on-going safety education.

"Each year hundreds of Hoosier farmers are disabled or killed in farm-related accidents. The number of farm accidents can be reduced by a greater awareness of potential dangers, and careful planning for emergencies," said Mutz.

Many farm-related injuries can be eliminated by:

- not carrying extra or un-

- necessary riders on tractors and other farm machinery
- wearing protective equipment for eyes, ears, hands and feet

- taking precautions when working with dangerous machinery
- removing hazards from buildings and lots
- learning proper first aid treatments

Indiana Farm Safety Week is sponsored by the Indiana Farm Safety Council, of which the Indiana Department of Commerce is a member.

Valley Vikings defeat Northfield

The Tippecanoe Valley Vikings remain unbeaten in high school football action with a 20-0 win over Northfield.

Valley, ranked third in Class 2A, upped its overall record to 4-0, 3-0 in Three Rivers Conference play.

The experienced Valley squad, coming off a 38-7 rout of Southwood, wore down the smaller and less experienced Norsemen with a dominating defense and persistent running attack.

The Vikings, averaging 210 yards on the ground throughout their first three games, didn't hurt their average by piling up 209 yards rushing. Fullback Sam Manwaring led the way with 94 yards on 21 carries while tailback Jamie Cullison added 73 yards, carrying the ball 19 times.

The Vikings capitalized on two Norsemen mistakes to score their first 12 points. On each occasion a Northfield defender was called for interference on third and long. Valley took advantage of the first penalty with four minutes remaining in the first quarter on a 12-yard run by Manwaring. A two-point conversion try failed when a John McDaniel pass fell incomplete.

Cullison scored the Vikings second TD with a one-yard plunge. His scoring run culminated a 63-yard drive kept alive with the interference call and two McDaniel passes to Andrew Wood covering 30 yards. Once again a two-point conversion attempt was unsuccessful, giving Tippecanoe its 12-0 halftime lead. McDaniel scored the only touchdown of the second half on an 11 yard run. Chris Clark took a pitch and went around end to score the two-point conversion, leaving the final score at 20-0.

The Valley defensive squad allowed only 44 yards from scrimmage, and no first downs on plays from scrimmage. The Norsemen managed two first downs, one coming on a penalty and the other on a Viking fumble after an interception. The longest Northfield play from scrimmage was a nine-yard option run by quarterback Mark Deeter.

Manchester and Valley both had leads late in the second and third games before Kathy Young served out the match for Manchester. Young got the last five points in game three, two on aces.

"I Can Cope" series scheduled

The "I Can Cope" program, a free, six-week educational series designed to help cancer patients deal with their disease, begins at Woodlawn Hospital October 7, co-sponsored by the hospital and the American Cancer Society.

"I Can Cope" includes presentations and films on the disease process, daily health problems, nutrition, expressing feelings, living with limitations, and locating resources that can help. Speakers will include a physician, a dietician, nurses, a physical therapist, a pastor, a social worker, and an attorney.

The six sessions will begin each Tuesday, Oct. 7, through Nov. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of Woodlawn Hospital. Participation in the "I Can Cope" program is open to cancer patients and their families.

Rev. Donald Bowman and Georgia Nyland will lead the sessions. According to Rev. Bowman, "I Can Cope" is a proven educational program developed by the American Cancer Society, and has been widely endorsed by health professionals. "I Can Cope" helps people regain control of their lives and offers them hope for the future," said Bowman. "Through an

"Hoosiers" Premiere scheduled

The world premiere of "Hoosiers," the film that was shot entirely in Indiana, will take place Monday, Nov. 10 at Indianapolis' Circle Theatre.

Approximately 5,000 invitations to the event will be mailed. All proceeds from the premiere will benefit an Indiana charity.

"Hoosiers" will open in theatres throughout Indiana Nov. 14.

Gene Hackman stars in "Hoosiers" as the coach who turns a small-town, underdog basketball team into a champion. Hackman's co-stars are Barbara Hershey and Dennis Hopper.

The screenplay was written by Angelo Pizzo, a Bloomington native and Indiana University graduate. Pizzo's college fraternity brother, Decatur native David Anspaugh, directed the film.

The film is a showcase for Indiana talent. All but one of the featured Hickory High School basketball players are Hoosiers. All of the film's extras were cast locally and many members of the crew were hired from the state's talent pool.

The truth about Crack

A new and highly disturbing drug is now making its appearance in increasing numbers of U.S. cities and towns. Its street name is Crack.

Crack appears to be white soap and is, in fact, cocaine. It is smoked and makes a crackling sound when it burns -- thus the name. The most fearsome thing about it is that it's highly addictive, and thus it can ruin young lives (or old) in a short time.

One can buy enough Crack to get high for ten or twenty dollars in many cities and towns for ten or fifteen dollars. The high lasts only for ten or fifteen minutes. Then the sucker-user feels the need for more.

City drug rehabilitation centers are now treating a new wave of addicts -- Crack addicts. One is constantly amazed at the number of fools who risk their happiness, wealth and health by starting to use drugs.

Crack is a fine one to stay away from, as are the others.

EMS Week Sept. 22-28

Gov. Robert D. Orr has proclaimed Sept. 22-28 to be "EMS Week" in the state of Indiana. This is a time for the public to look with pride on the progress and improvement that has been made in the provision of emergency health care and a time to publicly recognize those persons who have given of themselves to provide these services. Emergency Medical Services is a network of professionals at all levels of care from the Emergency Medical Technicians and paramedics who ride the ambulances and fire department squads to the physicians and nurses who work in hospital emergency rooms.
