Airplane Crashes at Beaver Dam

A day of fun over the Labor Day weekend turned Lator Day weekend turned into tragedy at Beaver Dam Lake on Monday. A small airplane piloted by Larry Milam, Kokomo, crashed and burnt after brushing tree limbs on the northwest corner of the lake.

Mr. Milam and his wife, Marie, were enroute to the Mentone Airport where his mother and step-father, Ross and Martha Shores, 3827E St. Rd. 236, Ander-son, who have a mobile home at Beaver Dam Lake. were to pick them up for a day of fun at the lake.

The Milams had made a couple low passes over the lake to signal the Shores to meet them at the Mentone Airport. Witnesses reported to the Kosciusko County Police Department that the Milams did successfully make the passes over the lake. As Mr. Milam tried to raise the plane over the raise the plane over the rees, strong winds caused the plane to brush the nearby limbs. The airplane then spiraled to the ground and burst into flames approximately 200 yards from the location of the plane's contact with the tree limbs.

come to realize that grafting can also be done to families. Here's how.

My parents always said they wanted a family and would have one "by hook or crook". In later years, I realized that was just what they did. After having made a home for two partially grown youngsters, my parents realized their home seemed empty when the youngsters had grown and moved away. Being 39 years old, my parents set about adopting children to make their house a home.

Between the ages of 39 and 41, my parents became the adoptive parents of a seven year old one year, a four year old the next year and then had, at the age of 41, a child of their own. Bill, Tom and myself remember as far back as we can being treated equally, fairly and understood we were all very much wanted. Even the two teenagers who made their home with my parents before us three kids were even thought of, called our home their home. Now comes the confusing, but touching, part of my story.

Bill and Tom are biologically brothers. One day their sister made contact with them. The meeting was to take place at the home of my parents with Bill, Tom and their families as well as myself being included. My parents were excited at the prospect of helping reunite Bill and Tom with their sister. But there's more. We discovered there were six children in Bill and Tom's family, all of which were reunited in future days.

But, that's not all. Last year, Tom asked if I would meet his half sister, Bonita. I had met several of his sisters and was nervous about meeting yet another one. However, I'm so glad I didn't miss the opportunity. As you might imagine, the first meeting between sister and sister is awkward. As they entered our home, Tom introduced us like this: "Joyce, meet my sister, Bonita." "Bonita, meet my sister, Joyce." Bonita's replay: "Now, tell me all about our brother." From that moment on, I knew we would be friends. Before the evening was over Bonita and I launbed and decided we would keep Tom nita and I laughed and decided we would keep and Bill for awhile!

and Bill for awhile!
I can understand the need of adopted people to find their families. They would have a natural curiosity to see what their family looks like or how they act not to mention the necessity of knowing their medical backgrounds. I've been fortunate to share their siblings and have been made to feel just as much their sister as their biological sisters. I can never be a blood relative of Bill and Tom like their brothers and sisters but growing up with the boys gave me something as a sister they never will have. We're both sisters, but in very different ways

As they say, one man's loss is another man's gain. Speaking from experience, my gain has been greater than most because of two generous parents who gave of themselves to make a home for those who had none, not to mention the two brothers who have been "real" brothers to me all my life. Yes, the gain has been great, but the loss must be worse. How fortunate for me, I've only gained more "family" instead of losing them. I can't imagine growing up and being grown without either of them.

Throughout American this week youngsters will retrace their steps to the school room to begin another years study. Some walk, others ride, but none of the riders have a more unique system than the students of North Carolina where a state-operated bus system is handled largely by the students themselves. About 50 per cent of the bus drivers are of school age, and woe to the motorist who considers them lightly. Drivers appoint monitors, fellow bus riders who stop traffic while youngsters cross the street.

Dick and Mary McKee, publishers of the Akron-Mentone News for the past two and half years, and Shopping Guide News for the past twenty-five years, announce the sale of the Fulton County weekly papers. The new owners are Don Towle and Dave Ruff of Bowen Printing, Inc., of Plymouth. Towle was with the Plymouth Pilot News for 27 years. Ruff was associated with the Indiana Press in Plymouth for the past 25 years. The Shopping Guide News was started in 1958 and has been owned and operated since then by the McKees. The Shopping Guide News started out as a "Shopper" with only advertising and has progressed to the only Fulton County "free circulation" newspaper, carrying news, pictures and advertising. The paper is one of the oldest free circulation newspapers in the State of Indiana. The Akron-Mentone News was purchased by the McKees from Richard Lynn in 1981, and is a weekly newspaper now in its 93rd year of publication. In 1942 when Claude Billings was owner and publisher, Dick McKee got his first job as a printer working for Claude. Since then, the paper has had several owners. After Billings it was sold to Loren Sheetz, of Akron, who published it for several years. It was sold to Robert Norlander, who then sold it to Richard Lynn and finally to the McKees. The new owners said things will stay much the same as they have for the last two and half years but they hope to expand the circulation and make improvements on both papers

Educational trip planned

Beth Barr who teaches Speech and English at Tippecanoe Valley High School, is conducting an educational trip to England and France. She will be and France. She will be leading the students as their teacher - counselor along with her husband Larry and sharing with them the learning and fun of travelling.

The trip will leave from Chicago O'Hare Airport on the evening of March 17 or early on March 18, 1989 and will visit London and Paris. There will also be special visits to Stonehenge and Stratford. The combination of organized sightsee-ing, special excursions and free time will enable the students to fully appreciate the art, history and lan-guage, and entertainment of Europe. Mrs. Barr is arranging the trip in conjunction with the American Council of International Studies of Boston, Massachusetts. Each year ACIS helps students from throughout the United States to enjoy educational trips. There are still openings in the group.

An opening meeting for students, parents, and other interested travelers will be held at the high school in Room 121 on Wednesday evening, September 14, at 7:00 p.m.

more further information concerning the trip, contact Mrs. Barr mornings at the school be-9:00 at 353-7031 or evenings at her home at 893-7079.

SOME GRANDPARENTS STAY YOUNG BUT THEY ALL NEED LOVE

Grandparents, as well as other members of the older generation, come in many forms today. The traditional image of Grandma knitting in her rocking chair and Grandpa with a long white beard and a cane may still be in effect, but it's rapidly being replaced by their going to the senior citizen's center for lunch every day, playing bingo, doing aerobics and getting involved in political issues. In any case, our House of Worship reminds us that they deserve our attention and respect. Our children should be taught at an early age to be kind and considerate to all older people whether related to them or not, and to listen to them. Sharing ideas and activities with them is the best way to bridge the generation gap, and it can be a very rewarding experience all around. Love has no age limitation, and this is one of the finest ways of showing it.

Right-to-know seminars

The first of a four series eminar program ing community right-tosponsored by the r Warsaw Area Greater Chamber of Commerce, has met with great success. Just under 25 people, representing 20 area businesses, attended the presentation.

Dr. Bill Beranek of the Indianapolis Center for advanced Research gave the three hour long presentation. Dr. Beranek is the Director of the ICFAR Environmental Program. addition, he chairs the Indiana Advisory Committee to State Emergency Response Commission, the Marion Commission, the County Local Hazardous Materials Planning Committee, and the National American Chemical Society Task Force on Chemical Risk Communication.

Dr. Beranek began the program with an overview of the Superfund Amend-ment Reauthorization Act (SARA) Title III. He noted the three focuses of the federal legislation and how local businesses will be af-fected by this ruling, as well as the activities they should undertake in order to meet these federal requirements. This included an explanation of the corporate notifi-cation land reporting requirements mandatory this legislation.

And finally, the seminar concluded with Dr. Beranek suggesting the minimum steps to be taken toward developing a community right-to-know plan. Our county has until October 15 to develop this plan and submit it to the state.

The next seminar, titled SOLID. HAZARDOUS, AND SPECIAL WASTE COMPLIANCE, will be held on September 30, at 8:00 a.m. If your are interested in receiving informaplease contact Chamber office.

Tippy Valley schools

Norman Bridwell, well-known author of the Clifford books, will be presenting programs for two days the Tippecanoe Valley School Corporation.

As a best selling author of more than 32 books, Clifford is very popular with the school age child. The idea for Clifford came from artwork samples that Bridwell was trying to sell. One of the paintings was of a little girl with an enormous dog. Someone suggested that he write a story to go with it, and that's how Clifferd was born. At first Bridwell named the big, red dog. Tiny. But his wife convinced him to change the name to an imaginary playmate's name she had as child. The friend, Emily Elizabeth, is his daughter's name. Clifford is 25 years old this year. He is becoming even more popular, and not only has been starring in books, but also coloring, sticker and activity books, and videos. Bridwell is a native of Kokomo. He now resides in a house with red shutters with his family in Edgar-stown, Martha's Vineyard, Mass. he also has two red Cars. One has a license plate that says "Clifford".

On Thursday, he will be speaking at the Akron School at 8:45, at 11:30, and at 12:45. Friday he will begin the program at Burket School at 8:15. Three sessions will follow at Mentone at 10:00, 12:30 and at 1:45.

Parents are welcome to come an share in the special programs at any of the buildings. Clifford books are available for sale for $1.95. Bridwell will try and autograph a book for a child who has a book at home or the new books. Questions continued to page 4

A Family Event

The Indiana State Fair Fashion Show was held Sunday, August 28, at the Farm Bureau Building, In-dianapolis, Indiana.

Norma Jean Shriver from Norma Jean Shriver from Miami County participated in the Family Outfits category. With her were her grandchildren Jackie, Jenna and Amy Shriver and Karissa Fields.

Competition consisted of winners from counties throughout the entire state. Judging was based on cloconstruction, poise, fashion accessories and the complete look of the model. An Honor Group was selected in each category from which first and second place award winners were recognized with engraved silver trays. This fashion show competition is an an-nual event at the State Fair and is conducted by the Home and Family Arts Building Staff. Each participant must have won at the county level in order to progress to the State Fair competition.

Norma Jean Shriver is shown with her granddaughters Jenna, Amy, Jackie, and Karissa. They are wearing the outfits made by their grandmother.

My kids listen to the radio a lot, just like any other kids. They ask me how I like some of the songs and artists. I give them an honest answer thinking I'm still on the same wave length, that no generation gap has formed. But, every once in a while I ask myself "Who are these strange singers?" I close a while I ask myself "Who are these strange singers?" I close my eyes and a bridge appears before my eyes to bridge a fast approaching generation gap.

Some of the singers names include The Police, A/C D/C, Wham!, Huey Lewis and the News, Pet Shop Boys, (I wonder if they ever worked in a pet shop), L.L. Cool J., Beastie Boys and get this one, A/I B. Sure:

and get this one, Al B. Sure.

I tried to ligure out how these groups and people ended up with such ridiculous names. "Why, in the 50's and 60's, we never had groups that sounded that strange." We had the good groups like The Strawberry Alarm Clock, The Buffalo Springfield, The Beatles, The Grateful Dead, Bread. The Electric Light Orchestra and Canned Heat just to mention a face.

There were also the groups who thought they were good and gave themselves an appropriate name such as The Miracles, The Supremes, Gladys Knight and the Pips; The Commodores made us stand at attention; we were in awe at Stevie Wonder and marvelled at The Marvellettes.

nie Wonder and marvelled at The Marvellettes. We didn't need Sesame Street to count for us, either We The Four Tops, as well as songs like "One is the eliest Number," "Three Times A Lady" and "Seventeen", Satisfied with myself, I began the dishes. As I turned on Loneliest Number one of my tapes, I realized how similar some of the songs were. Many of the songs are remakes which means they were were. Many of the songs are remakes which means they were so good then, they could only be made better now. Some songs by the Beatles were so good they are still around to-day, but for the life of me I can't figure out why Eleanor Rigby's face is in a jar by the door! Nor could I figure out the words to La Bamba in the 50's or the 80's! But hor every song I couldn't understand there was one I could...and what a meaning! "Cherish" was a favorite as well as Lionel Richie's more recent "Penny Lover". Several of the songs of today are still good songs. Besides, the artists are now using their own cames instead of corny names when I was a teenager.

more recent Penny Lover. Several of the solings of Losey as still good songs. Besides, the artists are now using their own names instead of corny names when I was a teenager. When you think there aren't any songs that you like, make an effort to listen to John Cougar Mellencamp, his roots from Indiana impress me; or Lionel Richie with his soft, meaningful rock, Phil Collins who makes a hit even though he hasn't much hair left and to liven things up. The Rolling Stones who show us how limber a man can be in his 40s! Just at that time, Collin brought his radio into the kitchen with a new song I really liked, by a group called....(get his one) Johnny Hates Jazz! Never mind the name, the song was really nice. I agreed his songs weren't too bad, and he agreed that mine weren't as bad as he thought and left. As I finished the last pan "I Heard It Through The Grapevine" was on the radio. The new version made me wish for the old one. I carefully dusted off my plastic dancing raisin on the window ledge, sorted through the tabes in the cabinet and sai back with my Diet Coke to enjoy a fine song showing me that things from the 60s and 80s can be different but still the same. As long as a person understands this, the but still the same. As long as a person understands this, the gap can be bridged.

WHEN A FELLER CAN'T WIN

There are times when a Feller Can't seen to win Like when you're past Forty And old pains begin.

Can't do like you uster Your git up and got Seems to vanished completely And you feel like a sot.

But keep your chin up Dig up a grin, Tomorrow will be better Than yesterday has been.

GO FISHIN'

If you're tired and feelin' blue, Here is what you orta do, Go Fishin'

Find yourself a shady nook, Put a fat worm on a hook An' Go Fishin'

With a bite you loose your woes Get a thrill clear to your toes.

While Fishin'. Happiness where blues have been You can muster up a grin,

When Fishin' Bit ones maybe got away. But there'll be another day, To Go Fishin'

Engagement announced

Maria Gayle Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey Sr., Rt. 1, Akron, will marry Jeffrey Darren Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cecil Miles, Walkerton, on December 17, 1988.

Miss Bailey is a 1988 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School and is employed at Arter's Rexall Drugs, Akron

Spencer, who lives in Rochester, attended Peru High School and isemployed by Rochester Metal Products.

In Fashion

Colorful, coordinating handbags in smooth and textured leather are important to campus outfits.

Special attention is focused on waistwrappers. Styles are offered in stretch with textured trim and allover textured leather-like pants belts.

Something new found on the school campus is the personalized art-to-wear trend. A new dye is on the market which the students can use to paint or stencil on fabric. Students can create their own art designs on sweatshirts, jeans, shoes and jackets. This should be a fun project.

Deaths, injuries down

In the first six months of the state's safety belt law, there were 28 fewer fatalities and 1, 796 fewer injuries in passenger car accidents on Indiana's roads, according to a Purdue University study released July

"It is important to note that these decreases were seen during a period when the speed limit on rural interstate highways had been increased to 65 mph," said researcher Mike Doherty, of the Automotive Transportation Center at Purdue.

From July to December of 1986, there were 324 fatalities and 25,210 injuries in passenger cars compared to 296 fatalities and 23,414 injuries for the same period in 1987

Ann Chubb, Tippecanoe Valley safety belt coordinator, reminds parents and children to buckle up even when traveling a short distance. "Accidents are the leading killer of children in the USA. They cause more deaths each year than kidnapping, drugs, and disease combined," Chubb states.

Figures are coming in from around the state that continue to show that seat belts do save lives. Fatalities in Hendricks County are down 50%. They also showed that of those involved in traffic accidents, 71% of the drivers involved used safety belts, compared with only 42% the previous year.

Make it a habit to not move the car without seat belts being used. With increased traffic around school areas, everyone needs to be alert.

TODAY

This is the begining of a fresh new day. I greet it with hope.

Today comes only once and never again returns, I must show my love and be kind.

God has given me this 24 hours to use as I will, I shall have a cheerful attitude.

This is my day of opportunity and duty, I expect something good because I am going to help make it happen! When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in it's place something I have traded for it. I order not to forget the price I paid for it, I shall so my best to make it useful, profitable, joyful.

The seeds I plant today determine my harvest in the future, my life will be richer of poorer by the way I use today.

Thank you God for today, I shall not pass this way again, What I must do, I'll do today!

Senior citizens, come join us for a well balance meal and fellowship. For your meal reservation please call 893-7204 between the hours of 9:00 a.m.-12:30 the day before you plan to join us. Thank You.

KNOW THE WEATHER

Experts on the weather know they can often tell the temperature without a thermometer by listening carefully to mother nature.

One study suggests that all insect life becomes quiet when the temperature rise to 105 degrees. Below 32 degrees all insects become dormant. So if you're hearing insects the temperature is between those extremes.

Female katydids sing between 55 and 77 degrees at night. Locusts sing above 84 degrees.

Vikings add third straight victory

Dale Cave's running and the play of defensive back Jerrod Feldman led the Tip-pecanoe Valley Vikings to their third straight victory with a 35-0 win Friday, Sept. 9, of host Southwood.

Cave rushed for 136 yards on 19 carries, scored three touchdowns and ran over on two conversions to account for the first 22 Viking points of the eve-

His first score came on a four yard run to culminate Valley's initial drive of the game. Later in the first peri-od he gained 45 yards for the second touchdown.

In a scoreless second quarter the Vikings held Southwood two yards from the goal. It was one of three times Tippecanoe Valley stopped Southwood inside of 10 yards from paydirt.

Cave was back in action the third quarter with a fiveyard scoring run, which was set up by Feldman's 59yard interception return from the Viking 21 to Southwood's 20.

Following Lynn's 56-yard scoring pass play from Dion Anglin with 1:09 left in the third quarter, Feldman completed the Viking scoring with a 45-yard pass interception yard pass inter return for six points.

The Vikings were paced by Feldman's 23 tackle points, and 24 tackle points from linebacker Larry Hair-

NO MATTER WHOM WE ELECT, WE ARE STILL RULED BY LAWS

Great concern is often shown about religion or other aspects of our national life that differ radically from our own, and this is never more evident than when an election draws near. There may be a candidate whose principals are very close to ours, and yet we fear something else about him that might cause him to over step the bounds of his authority. However, that's why we have laws, and a constitution that spells out those laws and the limitations of power by any level of government. From the lessons at our House of Worship we learn that these laws had their roots in the Bible, and were designed to allow the maximum of freedom while protecting the rights of others. Thank the Lord for these laws, and remember that all of our elected officals must abide them.

Valley Corp. hires Schultz as principal

Robert W. Schultz, 34, of Fort Wayne, has been hired as the new principal for Tippecanoe Valley High School. Schultz will be coming to Tippecanoe Val-ley from the Warsaw Community School Corporation where he has served as assistant principal at the high school since July, 1987.

Prior to his position at /arsaw High School, Warsaw High School, Schultz was the band director at Homestead High School in Fort Wayne from 1984-87 and at Eastbrook High School in Marion from 1976-84.

Mr. Schultz will begin his duties in the near future at Tippecanoe Valley.

A graduate of Northwestern High School,
Springfield, Ohio, Schultz attended Wittenberg Uni-versity and Ball State University. He received his secondary administrative license from Ball State in Other good news was heard at the September 12 Tippecanoe Valley School board meeting. Approval was given by the board for the construction of a new office building at the Mentone School.

An estimate of between $265,00 and $280,000 for the structure was given by architect Blade Houth of the McGuire and Shook Construction Company of Indianapolis.

Final legal will be finished as soon as possible so that bid specifications can be let out by the October meeting of the school

The new building will include offices for the princi-pal, vice principal, secre-taries, and bookkeepers and provide rooms for counseling, testing, work space, storage, conferences, a clinic and student book store. The courtyard be-tween the two present sections will be the building site with a corridor connecting the office building and school building.

Houth explained to the board that large windows at the front of the building would provide adequate natural light. Since the structure will be located between two existing buildings, Houth suggested using a metal roof even though it would not be of a of a design to reduce noise.

Construction of the building could begin by April.

In other matters:

Approval was given by the board for buying three new school buses next spring. Bids will be acnext cepted at the administration office until 1:30 p.m., Oct.

GED certificates were signed for Edna Carol (Layne) Presley and Lily Mae (Yates) Hurd.

Permission was granted for members of two FFA judging teams to participate in national competitions.

The poultry team will be competing in Richmond, Va., Sept. 23-28 and the dairy team will compete in Madison, Wis., Oct. 7-9.

The senior class granted permission for a trip to Washington, D.C. The trip will either be two days and two nights.

Boosters plan auction

November 7 is the date that has been selected for this year's Band Boosters benefit auction which will be held at the Home and Family Arts Building on the Kosciusko fairgrounds.

Tippecanoe Valley band

boosters are in the process of canvassing the TVSC area for donations. Anyone wishing to donate a good, usable usable item (no clothing) should contact Sue (Larry) Pyle in Mentone or Martha (Rex) Utter in Akron. All proceeds will be going to the Viking Guard.

The plans for the booster auction were discussed at the recent meeting of the boosters held in the TVHS band room. During the same meeting, Mr. Pearson, the Valley band director, gave a report of the marching contest to be held at TVHS on October 22. According to Pearson, several schools throughout Indiana have been notified of the Pearson hopes to have twelve or more bands in the competition.

Dedication to EMS appreciated

Emergency Medical Services are provided by a network of trained professionals in hospitals and ambulance services through Indiana. In recognition of their contributions to health care, Governor Robert D. Orr has proclaimed September 18-24 as "EMS Week".

Kosciusko and Fulton counties are served by dedicated volunteers to the emergency services program. In conjunction with Governor Orr's proclamation, the Akron-Mentone News would like to pay tribute and say "thank you" to the

At Face Value

A friend of mine asked if I'd ever had a facial. After a negative answer, she told me how much fun it was and had convinced me to have one. "Boy, will you be surprised," she said Not surprised." SHOCKED:

First the procedure was done in the middle of a store with people coming and going all the time. After first removing my bangs from my forehead with clips, the instructor explained that she would apply makeup on one side of my face while I did it on the other. They placed me in front of a liny 3" mirror and began. In retrospect, I was in deep trouble when the lady said, "Hum...you certainly don't wear much makeup. We'll fix that!"

while I do it on the other. They practed in all holds of a my mirror and began. In retrospect, I was in deep trouble when the lady said, "Hum... you certainly don't wear much makeup. We'll fix that!"

After three layers of blusher and crams, a customer entered the store and had to wait. I turned to smile at the woman and she had the most astounded expression on her face. She politely tried to smile and turned away, I could see only a small portion of my face in the mirror and was now very curious to see all of it. As the lady left, she glanced in the window and put her hand over her mouth in shock.

Next were the eyes. The instructor added more arch to my brow, black liner and lines at the corner of the eyes extending to the temples with white cream under the eyes. There was no backing out, I was next to do the other eye but of course, another customer. This time it was a man with a list from his wife. I didn't turn to smile this time. Instead, he wandered around and ended up in front of me. He faced my direction and turned pale! I was weary of this facial and wanted to leave. It had been 30 minutes and we weren't done yet.

We finally got to the lips. It's astounding that you can but three layers of color on two lips! She even "hollowed" my or "hollow out" anything when I went in, and was getting anxious.

At last, she "set" my makeup so it would last all day. And brother...did it last, I was turned to a full mirror and asked if I liked the results. All I can say is, I'm glad I had a strong heart! I looked in the mirror and I thought, "who is that?" That was the only time I was thankful for all the layers of makeup. I'm sure I turned pale at my reflexion. Feeling fortunate it was free and politely mumbling something. I left. Next problem, getting to the car as quickly as possible. As I rushed to the street corner the light changed leaving me stranded. I cloked a lot like something after dark, soliciting on a corner in New York City. Besides, with my bangs in clips for 45 minutes. They were standing straight on end. After what seemed an eternity, I dashed for the car. Grateful to be home. I threw down my purse, grabbed the cold cream and headed for the bathroom. Believe it or not. I couldn't emove the makeup. I called Mom. She said. "Til be over, don't worry. It can't be that bad." I remember begging Mom to wear lipstick in school and wondered how she would take this.

A car pulled into the drive. Thank heaven it was Mo

A car pulled into the drive. Thank heaven it was Mom I opened the door and she gasped, grabbing the door frame. She stared at me and said. "I hope I brought enough cream." Removing the makeup was like stripping furniture - one layer at a time. After repeated efforts Mom suggested laurt while I still had skin left. She left shaking her head. It was better, but not quite right, when everyone returned home. Although it was early October, everyone left I had found the formula for a perfect Halloween disguise. Only one thing was missing...the bolts in the neck!

Eugene Galaraga, 24, a native of Luzon in the Phillipines, is staying with the Dorris Harrold family, Rt. 2, Akron, for three weeks. Mr. Galaraga, a representative of IFYE, the International Farm Youth Exchange, has visited in Colorado and on farms near Brownsburg and Salem before coming to the Harrold's Franklin township farm. He will observe local farming methods while visiting the Harrrolds and will spend a week at Purdue at the conclusion of his visit.

Letter to the Editor: As a young boy I learned something about happiness I would like to pass along to you. Happiness is not something you look for in some town, job, or recreation; it is something you create by your attitude towards people. If you generate this feeling of happiness with sincerity it will be reflected back to you many fold. Being the Christian you claim to be, you should know that when your time on this earth has ended, you will pass into a "World" that is free of sickness, pain, wars, riots, hate, mistrust, etc. It will be fulled with love, happiness, trust and respect. In this world it seems that everyone is interested in "taking" but few are interested in "Giving." The Lord said "It's better to give than to receive." It seems strange to me that a Christian could be filled with so much bitterness, hatred, sadness and contempt for a town, for its people, and for its churches. I have found that Christians' hearts and souls are so filled with love -love of God. Love of His word, and Love for thy neighbors (Yes, even your enemies) that there is no ches. I have found that Christians hearts and souts are so filled with five more of God, Love of His word, and Love for thy neighbors (Yes, even your enemies) that there is no room for these feelings of hatred, etc. I have found that any church that teaches the word of God as it is presented in the Bible and that puts its faith in the Lord has no cause for concern-tis needs will be met. It is strange that any person after living here all these years shouldn't be able to find living quarters elsewhere that would be more "tolerable" for all concerned.

Public Service taking SAFE applications

Public Service Indiana customer offices will begin taking applications for Project SAFE on September 20. from disabled customers and customers 60 and older. state-admininstered program offers assistance in paying winter heating bills.

Persons who are age 60-and over or disabled can apply at PSI offices, their heating utility, a Com-munity Action Against Poverty (CAAP) office or an Agency on Aging. All other applicants, age 59 and under, must apply at a Community Action Agency beginning Oct. 18, 1988.

Customers who qualified for Project SAFE funds last year still need to apply this year. Applicants need to bring complete documenta-tion of income for each household member, a copy of their heating and electric lease if they rent rather than own. Renters who live in government-subsidized housing are eligible for Pro-ject SAFE assistance if they meet the income guidelines and are separately metered and billed for their heating or electricity.

At the Rochester PSI office, persons who are disabled or age 60 or older may apply from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday.

Consultant ready to answer questions

As a professional beauty and skin care consultant, Cathy Murphy, Akron, is now available to answer questions concerning indi-vidual needs for a healthier and better looking appearance.

According to Cathy, the facial skin is very sensitive to sun, wind, temperature environmental impurities and pollution. Environmental elements, stress and aging can disturb the skin's delicate moisture balance causing the cell renewal process to slow down with the result being those unlines and dreaded wrinkles.

Cathy Murphy

Cathy also notes that clothing and hairstyle trends may change, but that an individuals's complexion must last a lifetime. If you have any questions or if you want to make an appointment for a personal consultation, call Cathy at 893-7288 or write P.O. Box 398, Akron, Indiana 46910.

coming weeks.

The Band Boosters have appreciated the extra efforts put forth by Rex Utter, Russ McAfoose, and Jim Egolf for the many hours they have spent building items for the Boosters and the Guard. Some of their projects include building cabinets for the concession stand, a drum stand, a drum major podium and a hat cabinet.

The next meeting for the Band Boosters will be Tuesday, October 11, in the TVHS bandroom at 7:30 p.m.

School Bus safety week

Hoosier schools are joining in celebration of National School Bus safety Weed during the week of September 18-24, 1988.

In Indiana, school children have traveled enough miles on school buses to make more than 1,500 trips to the moon and back during the last 15 years. This fact may not be all that impressive unless you consider that this distance of 860,000,000 miles was traveled without a fatality inside a school bus.

70% of the total number of all K-12 students are transported on Hoosier school buses. This percentage is very high when compared with many other states.

The safety record of Indiana school bus drivers; is very good and this week provides an opportune time to celebrate the great job bus drivers are doing.

Robert Russell, director of the Division of School Traffic Safety in the Indiana Department of Education has noted that citizens across that state have reason to be proud of the safety record.

According to Russell, a chief complaint of school bus drivers is that other motorist frequently violate the school bus stop law requires motorists to stop for stopped school buses that are displaying flashing red lights and a stop arm." he said. "Occasionally, motorists are not fully alert and pass a stopped school bus. This is an extremely dangerous situation, especially for the younger children who may not carefully watch for crossing cars." First In Performance.

Failure to comply with school bus stop laws is classified as a Class C misdemeanor under current state law. A Class C misdemeanor carries a maximum penalty of up to 60 days in jail and up to a $500 fine.

United in Marriage

Pink and white baby carnations enhanced with white daisies and pink gladiolus decorated the Akron Church of God for the July 29, 1988 wedding of Jill E. Fites, daughter of Tom and Sharon Fites, Rt 2, Akron, and Raymond E. Wood, son of Richard and Mary Wood. Akron.

The double ring ceremony was performed the Rev. Junior Bose. Mrs. Donna Loer provided the vocal music and was accompanied by Vicki Doering playing the piano and Pat Mitterling playing the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown made of romantic chantilly lace with a semi-cathedral train. The bodice had short pouff sleeves, beaded Venice motifs at the scoop neckline and a basque waist. The veil was a braided pearl v-shaped band with a profile of Lily of the Valley and filament edge on the pouff and veiling. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

Miss LuAnn Knoop, Mentone, served as maid of honor and chose a floor length aqua taffeta gown with off the shoulder pouff sleeves, draped bodice and skirt with double pouff bows on the back. She carried a bouquet of baby pink carnations and white daises with baby's breath.

Arthur Norman, Rochester, served as best man. Ushers were Pat Walgamuth, Akron, Paul Fites, brother of the bride, Akron, and Jerry Mikesell, brother-in-law of the groom, Plymouth.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the church fellowship hall. Pink and aqua streamers, pink and pearl balloons decorated the room.

Serving the 3-tier cake decorated with the bride's colors and cherubs were Barbara Zartman, Twelve Mile, and Polly Finney Akron.

A graduate student at IUSB in education, Mrs. Wood is a 1987 graduate of Indiana University with a B.A. degree in chemistry and a 1982 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School. She is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

A 1980 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School, Ray Wood is presently in business with his father at Ray's Service, Akron. He also served three years in the Navy.

The couple now resides at Rt. 1, Akron,

The Metal Monster of Mentone

The Mentone monster that has been seen roaming around the Winona Corporation has moved to the high weeds into safe hiding. Actually, the monster is old duct work that was found by the employees. The resemblance to a "prehistoric creature" has made some interesting conversations in the Mentone community. The "monster" is free to any home as long as the new owner picks it (him or her) up and hauls it away. If interested, contact the Winona Corporation in Mentone. (News Photo)

Senior Issues_____

Dear Mrs. Merritt: During the past several years I have had a number of telephone offers for magazine subscriptions. Some of these have been many dollars less than the advertised subscription prices and I have been tempted to agree to buy the magazines. Is there any way to determine which are legitimate?

Answer: There are many reputable and legitimate telephone solicitations, yet ac-cording to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), some consumers are tricked unscrupulous people into paying hundreds of dollars for multi-year subscriptions. Fraudulent sellers make presentations so slick that many con-sumers are unaware they have purchased magazines until they receive the written agreement. The followinformation from the FTC may help you avoid becoming entangled in a magazine subscription con-tract you do not want and which is difficult to escape.

Listed below are some questionable sales tactics telephone salespeople use.

*They may avoid identifying themselves as magazine subscription salespeople or may fail to magazine of their company. They may imply that they represent major credit card companies or magazines publishers or that their purpose in calling is something other than selling magazine subscriptions.

*They may encourage you to make purchases without giving you total costs. For example, they may offer you magazines for just a few dollars a week. This may sound like a bargain until you realize that you could be paying hundreds of dollars for subscriptions that regularly sell

*They may say you will be purchasing multiple-year subscriptions for a package of magazines, when in fact, many of these subscriptions may be sent to you for a much shorter time.

They may say they are "approved" or "regulated" by the federal, state, or local government; in fact, no governmental body actually approves magazine-selling operations. Listed below are some questions and tips to follow when you receive a telephone sales presentation regarding magazines.

*Ask callers for their name, and the name, address and phone number of the company they represent. Ask whether they are sales persons and what magazines they are selling.

may want to contact the company for verification before you place an order.

*Ask for the total yearly cost of each magazine and for the whole package. Decide if this represents a real bargain over the regular magazine subscription prices you can obtain else-

*Ask to receive a written copy of the sales terms offered over the telephone before you agree to buy any-thing. Then read the sales agreement carefully and make sure you understand what you will be receiving and what it will cost.

*Do not give your credit card number over the phone unless you initiate the call or you are familiar with the company. If you give your credit card number over the phone to an unknown salesperson for "verifica-tion" or "computer pur-poses", that person may use it improperly to charge your account for unwanted magazine subscriptions or other purchases.

BLOOD Facts & Figures

Only five percent of Americans donate blood: Sixty percent are eligible, but only five percent give. There will be even fewer donors in the years to come because there are to come because there are more restrictions on who can give blood. Since 1984, three new tests have been added to make blood safer for recipients than ever before—an AIDS test, a liver function test and tests for hepatitis.

Blood transfusions are essential for the thousands of people who have operations, are involved in serious accidents, or have life-threatening diseases such as aplastic anemia, the often-fatal blood disease that strikes 2,000 Americans a year. Americans a year

Bridwell captures the hearts of TV students

Norman Bridwell, well known author of children's books, spent two days last week in the TVSC fasinating children with his stories and drawings of "Clifford". Clifford is the most famous of Bridwell's story characters and is gaining popularity throughout the United States. Brid-well is shown drawing Clifford as he imagined he would look after spending a few weeks in Hollywood, California.

PSI offers to help farmers

Pulbic Service Indiana announced a plan today which would allow droughtstricken farmers to put off paying their electric bills until after next year's harvest.

PSI told the Indiana Drought Advisory Committee it will seek regulatory approval to let certain farm customers defer payment on part or all of their electric bills, now through Aug. 31, 1989. The unpaid balance would be due, then, either in one payment by Nov. 30, 1989, or three payments due Nov. 30, 1989; Dec. 31, 1989, and Jan. 31, 1990.

Farm customers of PSI who qualify for the federal Emergency Feed Assistance Program, the Emergency Feed Program or the Drought Assistance Prowould be eligible for the deferral plan.

If PSI'S plan is approved by state regulators, a customer would first visit the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office. ASCS offices have detailed information on the federal assistance programs which are available. If the farmer is eligible for an ASCS program, he would them bring the approved ASCS form to nearest Public Service Indiana office.

"To qualify for our plan, the customer must already have good payment record," Thomas said. "Their PSI account must also be in the same name as the name on the ASCS form.

Thomas said the utility has more than $10,000 farm customers, but not all will qualify for the payment deferral program.

"To be eligible under the federal Drought Assistance Program, for example, a farmer must have suffered at least a 35 percent crop loss, compared to his base yield. Our program is in-tended for the farmers most seriously harmed by this year's drought."

Computer classes offered

Two computer continuing education classes are being offered by Manchester Col-lege during October, one in Warsaw, Ind., and the other on the college's North Manchester campus.

The basics of the word program, processing WordPerfect, will highlighted form 6:30-8:30 p.m. October 3, 10, 17, and at Warsaw Freshman gh School, Road 15 High South. An introduction to Lotus 1-2-3 will be offered from 9-11 a.m. October 1, 8, 15, and 22 in the third floor computer room of the administration building at the college.

Booting the system, DOS, formatting, text entry and editing, and file man-agement will be studied as part of the WordPerfect course. Jo DuPont, assistant professor of business and certified professional secre-tary, will conduct the class. Following this course, and advanced WordPerfect class focusing on footnotes, macros, merge, math, and sort functions will be offered October 31, November 7, 14, and 21.

Introduction to Lotus 1-2-3 will look at basic functions, commands, and introductory data base functions.
An advanced Lotus class will be offered October 29, November 5, 12, and 19 and will delve into data base functions, programming, and macro creation. Steve Kuhn, CPA, and Man-chester assistant professor of accounting, will be the instructor.

For registration and further information, contact the office of the Academic Dean, Box 157, or call (219) 982-2141, Ext. 501.

A provision of the Tax Reform Act of 1984 re-quires anyone in a trade or ousiness who receives more than $10,000 in cash, including foreign currency, to report that information to the Internal Revenue Ser-provision designed to aid the IRS and other enforcement agencies in combating the problem laundering. Money launderers convert proceeds from questionable sources, such as narcotics or other illegal activities, into real estate, automobiles, jewerly and other assets that can be converted into money and used without

Form 8300; Report of Cash Payments ove $10,000 Received in over Trade or Business, is used to report the payer's name, address, and taxpayer iden-tification number, the amount received, and the date and the nature of the transaction. A written statement or a copy of the form must also be provided to the payer.

The reporting requirement relates to receiving more than $10,000 in cash in one or more related transactions, over a one-year period. For example, someone engaged in the business of selling automobiles sells a $12,000 car to be paid for in three $4,000 monthly cash installments. If the seller receives payment of each installment in cash, that tradesperson would have to file the form within 15 days of receipt of the third installment. The provides penalties for failure to file a required Form 8300 with the IRS, or failure to furnish the payer with a statement.

Tippecanoe Valley Girls Golf

Records set Tippecanoe Valley girls golf team

Not only did the Tip-pecanoe Valley girls golf team come away with the win on September 12 in a match with LaVille, the girls managed to set a new school record and some in-dividual records besides.

The 194-216 victory raised the Vikings' record to 9-2 which is a school record for the most wins in Lorrie Erp fired a careerbest 46 to the lead the way for the team. That was also the lowest round turned in by a Viking player this sea-

Jana Murphy broke 50 with a round of 48. Tara Nelson was next with a 50 and was followed by Carmen Haney's 50 and Heidi Fugate's 53. Haney set a score record by needing just 13 putts for the nine

In junior varsity action, Missy Lewis had a 54, Mindy Metzger a 65 and Amanda Fellows as 68.

Valley 183 Culver 209

Culver Girl's Academy downed Tippecanoe Valley 183-209 at Mill Creek Golf Course in Rochester Thursday, September 15.

Despite the loss a pair of Viking players turned in good rounds. Freshman Heidi Fugate fired a 46 which set the school record for a freshman. That was also her best round of the season.

Tara Nelson also turned in her best round of the sea-son as she ended the day's play with a 49.

Rounding out the Vikings scoring was Lorrie Erp, who had 53; Jana Murphy had a 61; and Carman Hancy fired a 64.

Best of times for Valley swimmers

Five members of the Tippecanoe Valley girls' swim team set personal-best times in a 111-43 loss to visiting Pioneer on September 12.

Diane Sisk led the Valley effort with first-place fin-ished in the 200-yard indi-vidual medley (2:31.27) and 500-yard freestyle (6:04.44).

Recording personal-best times were Amy Foor in the 100 butterfly (2nd, 1:19.26), Mariellen Goodwin in the 100 backstroke (2nd, 1:23.88), Julie Stump in the 500 freestyle (4th, 8:36.57), Sofia Manznaque in the 100 free (5th, 1:35.68) and Beth Walker in the 50 free (5th, 38.62).

Foor also placed second in the 100 breaststroke (1:25.13) along with Goodwin in the 200 free (2:33.9) and the 200 medley relay team of Cheryl Glover, Foor, Sisk and Stump (2.40.6)

GOD MADE THE BRILLIANT AUTUMN FOR A TIME OF HARVEST

The heat of summer's on the wane, And clouds may form, producing rain. The leaves that turn to red and gold Proclaim a year that's growing old, Before consumed by bonfire flames. It's time for school and football games, When winds of change will cool the scene And kids prepare for Halloween. Our Bible lessons will convey That harvest time is on the way; A time for gathering the yield From orchard and the farmer's field. Our House of Worship now relates That God's great bounty demonstrates His love, that we should all revere When flaming autumn time is here.

Eradication Older Hoosiers convene

of fishes begins at local lakes

The eradication of fishes from Palestine Lake and connecting waters, includ-ing Caldwell Lake and feed ditches began on Monday, September 19. Monday was the scheduled completion date for dam repairs and when Palestine Lake would start refilling. Biologist's with the Department of Natural Resources are applying the fish toxicant rotenone to the waters to kill all fish starting with Caldwell Lake and the upper ends of tributary ditches. These ditches include: Williamson Ditch, Merrit Ditch, Kuhn Ditch, Sloan ditch, Adams Ditch, Ulsch Ditch, Ring Ditch, Trimble Creek, Ditch, Trimble Creek, Magee Ditch and Robbins Ditch. The project was expected to be completed with the application of rotenone to Palestine Lake proper on September 20.

As explained at the public meeting in April, cleanup of dead fish if needed is the responsibility of the property owners. The Department of Natural Resources will make no effort to pick up dead fish. Rotenone is an organic compound commonly used garden insecticide. It kills fish and other animals in the water that obtain oxygen from the water by using gills. It does not af-fect adult frogs, turtles, ducks, geese, muskrats beaver or other animals. muskrats. Farm livestock will not be

Ron Dittman resigns as Akron town marshal

Ron Dittman has resigned as the Akron town marshall. His resignation will be effective September 30. Dittman turned in his resignation to the town board during the September 20 meeting of the Akron Town Board.

Before resigning, Dittman reported to the board that the Fulton County Prosecutor will be issuing a statement on the fatal accident involving the deputy marsal when all the evidence has been collected. To date, the statement has not been released.

The board discussed the possibility of an increase in the trash removal fees for town customers. The increase would be the next link in the chain of increases. The town has had a 100 percent increase for dumping at the land fill following the sale of the land fill at Chili. Town Clerk Sarah Jane Sutton will be making cost estimates for the October board meeting to be presented for a deci-

In an attempt to make new guidelines for the use of the town police car, officials will be contacting the sherift's department of advisement on the matter.

Superintendent Gearhart presented a bid of $1,200 for a new bed for the town truck. Gearhart was given approval for the truck bed along with permission to purchase four new rear tires before winter. In old business, Gearhart is still working of the process of moving the underground gasoline tank and securing the old wells at the water house.

The board also held the hearing for an additional appropriation as advertised. Since there were no objections, the board approved the appropriation.

Salute given to bus drivers

The week of September 18-24 was National School Bus Safety Week. The students and staff of Akron School honored the 11 bus drivers who transport students to and from Akron School daily. Bus drivers have one of the most important and difficult responsibilities in the school setting. They set the tone for the day as they are the first ones to greet students in the morning. Everyone at Akron School would like to say "Thank You" to the bus drivers.

Homecomings Of Yesteryear

With Homecomings Of Yesteryear

With Homecoming approaching at the high school next week, conversations have drifted to past homecomings. Change is a good thing, but sometimes I wonder if the kids aren't missing something nowadays.

Homecoming isn't just for the Queen and King and their court, it includes all the kids in one way or another, or it should. Gazing through old yearbooks I found pictures of floats assembled by class members the week prior to the celebration. Now, a float may seem meaningless to some, but it had more usefulness than you might think.

In assembling a float, it took not only the Queen and King candidates but members of the class with talent and know-how to design the float, build the platform and frame, mold the chicken wire into shape and construct the ingenious devices to make their float a little better than the next and anyone who could help fold and fan out kleenex to cover the wire. The whole class could be involved if they wanted. There were gatherings each night at a different house to make the kleenex flowers, gatherings that would help unite classmates and show them that by pulling together things could ReALLY happen. Painting the kleenex float was next on the agenda. It took a lot of work, and made a tof fun for everyone. The result: a finished product with everyone being a part, not just a few.

float was next on the agenda. It took a lot of work, and inaue a lot of fun for everyone. The result: a finished product with everyone being a part, not just a few.

I realize schools are much bigger now, but there seems to be something missing. There was a kind of mystery that developed before the Homecoming. For one week, floats were hidden in garages, barns or workshops with windows being covered and doors padlocked from the contenders. Mum was the word! Not a person dared tell someone from another class the type of float that was being made. Class sponsors were seen as ordinary people while helping the kids with the project, proving they were real people after all. This also gave the parents an opportunity to meet classmates of their children. I can't think of a single parent who ever complained of too much noise or commotion while working on the float. And believe me, there was a lot of noise when the gang got together. There never was any trouble while working on the floats. Other than an occasional "peeping Tom" trying to sneak a peek at the opponents float through a window left unguarded, no trouble ever erupted because they were busy helping and pulling together as a team.

At last, the night would arrive. Parents as well as students would wait anxiously for their float to roll onto the floor. Everything went well with the candidates riding on their masterpiece with various music playing and eyecatching devices turning and sparkling in an effort to win over the judges.

devices turning and sparkling in an effort to win over the judges.

When it was all said and done, the classmates were heard to say. "That one is OUR float." The key word was OUR. It truly was a class project from the platform for the float to the pennies collected for the candidates.

Call it old fashioned, but I still miss the floats at Homecoming. Somehow the meaning has changed over the years. I realize the kids don't have anything to compare their Homecoming with, but for those of us who do, we see more advantages than disadvantages.

Kent and Judy French, proprietors of French's Furniture are hosting their official grand opening this Friday and Saturday, September 30 and October 1. The French's joined the Akron business community this spring when they purchased the building which was formerly housed Murphy's Furniture. Although they opened their doors for business on July 1, they've postponed their opening until they were fully established. "When we bought the building, We hadn't decided what type of business we were going to open," French explained. "We finally decided to go with a furniture store, because Akron has had a furniture store for about 20 years, and we thought we should keep one here. Our goal is to have a line of good quality furniture at a price people can afford. "Both my wife and I have lived in this area all our lives, and we really like the town. It's a nice, friendly community, and that's why we wanted to open a business here instead of someplace else." French worked as manager of industrial engineering at General Tire, Wabash, for several years before resigning in 1977 to farm full-time. In addition to the furniture store, the French's operate a 340 acre dairy/hog operation. Members of the Akron Church of God, they have five children: Katrina, a freshman at Anderson College; Andy, Dan and Paul, a senior sophomore and freshman, respectively, at Manchester High School; and should probably have your dentures evaluated by your dentist. Excessive mouth wrinkles are only one sign that your dentures may need to be adjusted or replaced with new ones. Other signs are sunken cheeks and lips, which not only detract from your appearance but can add a lot of years that don't need to be there. If you we been wearing full dentures for five years or more, they may have settled into your gums, causing your face to collapse or sag and forming unncessary and unwanted wrinkles. But with a new denture your facial tissues can be "plumped out or rebuilt, getting rid of the sags and minimizing the wrinkles. No matter how long you've been wearing dentures, they should be checked by your dentist yearly. He can see if they fit properly, and he can check the health of your gums and bone. During the course, dents were taught aircraft maintenance fundamentals to repair and service one and two engine jet aircraft.

If you wear full dentures and have noticed lately that you seem to have an excessive amount of wrinkles around your mouth, you should probably have your dentures evaluated by your dentist.

Maintenance management and documentation was also taught to assess aircraft readiness capability.

Graduates of the course earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

In Fashion

One fashion trend noted on the campus is that clothes are very loose.

One of the featured colors for this fall seen in skirts and high top shoes is camel. Even denim comes in camel for pants and jackets. Red blends well with camel.

One designer pairs a short rabbit-hair jacket with nants and ankle boots. The college miss will also dress less casual for events. A hat worn with a doublebreasted coat featuring belted back and scarf under the collar is quite attractive.

LUTCF is conferred upon life underwriters who meet the exacting training, membership, and ethical standards jointly set by the Life Underwriter Training Council (LUTC) and the National Association of Life Underwriters (NALU).

The designation marks an agent's long-term com-mitment to professionalism on behalf of clients, establishes the agent's com-petence and business experience, marks a commit-ment to NALU's code of ethics, and frequently leads to additional professional development.

The National LUTCF Conferment exercise was conducted on September 28 in Dallas, Tex., as part of the LUTC Recognition Pro-gram at the NALU Annual Convention. A local recog-nition event also was held in Fort Wayne where Hel-vey was presented with the official diploma.

Helvey is a member of the Fort Wayne Life Un-derwriters Association, and has been active in the profession for 16 years.

National 4-H Week

The 4-H youth program is one of the oldest and largest non-traditional efforts in public education in the United States. For nearly 80 years, 4-H has existed, in part, to help young people become mature, competent adults. The approximately 900 4-H youth in Kosciusko County are among more than 4.3 million young people across the country who will be observing National 4-H Week, October 2-8.

In celebrating National 4-H Week, it is important to recognize that 4-H is truly a people development pro-gram. 4-H helps young people develop skills that will be useful in the real world. 4-H helps them discover their strengths and weaknesses and exposes them to activities in a variety of career fields. Most importantly, 4-H members learn and have fun doing it.

In Kosciusko County, some 200 adult volunteer leaders work with approxi-mately 900 young people 7 to 19 years old in 32 4-Fl clubs through the Cooperative Extension Service. 4-H members are being en-couraged to wear their 4-H T-shirts and/or buttons to chool during National 4-H Week to promote their organization because 4-H is the Right Choice.

Chance to visit Purdue

The Purdue University Office of Admissions this fall will sponsor a series of Purdue Preview Days to help high-school students and their families get acquainted with Purdue.

The program will be offered on seven days during the fall semester and is designed for high-school sophomores, juniors and seniors who haven't decided on a college, said Patricia Moore, associate director of admissions.

"We have planned the Preview Days to make good use of students' and their families' time," Moore said. "Any student interested in Purdue can get a good overview of our university in a half-day."

Preview Days will be held on these dates:

*September 26; *October 10, 11 and 27; *November 11, 14 and

Each session will begin at 10 a.m. in Fowler Hall of Stewart Center on the Purdue campus. At that time, university officials will present information on admissions, financial aid and residence halls and will field questions on aspects of university life.

After the Fowler Hall presentation, students and their families will be able to meet with representatives from Purdue's individual schools to discuss specific academic programs. A campus tour will follow.

Registration for Purdue Preview Days is not required. For Preview Days information call Moore at 317-494-1776, and for parking or other campus information call the Purdue Visitor Information Center at 317-494-4636.

Literacy conference Reunion

Several hundred Indiana educators, adult literacy students, literacy providers and corrections officials will corrections officials will gather in Indianapolis in November for a hands-on workshop and conference on literacy instruction, officials from the Indiana Adult Literacy Coalition announced today.

The three-day conference, scheduled for Novem-ber 14-16 at the In-dianapolis Marriott, is one dertaken in recent years by the Literacy Coalition, a thirty-five member panel established by Governor Robert Orr in 1983 to spearhead the state's adult literacy efforts.

Among the highlights of the conference will be a one day (Monday) Student Congress in which approximate-ly 200 adult literacy stu-dents will gather in small group discussions and develop recommendations for state policy makers.

Another highlight is a one day (Wednesday) series of workshops concerning prison illiteracy. Various reports and studies indicate illiteracy is a major problem in prisons across the nation.

The Adult Literacy Coalition is administered by the Indiana Department of Education, the State Library, and the Governor's Voluntary Action Program.

"REST"

In Hebrews 1:3 we read how the Lord Jesus Christ, "when He had by Himself purged our sins, SAT DOWN on the right hand of the Majesty on High." The tenth chapter of the same book tells us why He sat down. "Every priest STAND-ETH, daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: But this man [Christ] after He had offered one sacrifice for sins forever, SAT DOWN on the right hand of God...FOR BY ONE OFFERING HE HATH PERFECTED FOR-EVER THEM THAT ARE SANCTIFIED" (Heb.

There were several articles of furniture in the Old Testament tabernacle, but no chair. The priest could not sit down, for the work of redemption was not yet finished. His daily sacrifices only emphasized the fact that "it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should ta sins" (Heb. 10:4). take away

But this Man [Christ Jesus] sat down, because by His death on Calvary—by that one offering—He paid for all our sins and "obtained eternal redemption for us

This is why Paul, by divine inspiration, now in-ists that salvation is "by grace." that "it is the gift of God," received "by faith" and "not of works, lest any man should boast."

God has much for His people to do, but before we can do anything for Him we must learn to trust Him for must learn to trust Him for our salvation, to rest in the finished work of Christ. God is satisfied with Christ's pay-ment for sin and together the Father and the Son are the Father and the Son are depicted as seated in heaven because the work is done. And now God would have us simply trust Him, entering into His rest:
"There remaineth therefore a REST unto the people of God, FOR HE THAT HAS ENTERED INTO HIS GODD'S DEST HE ALSO [GOD'S] REST, HE ALSO HATH CEASED FROM HIS OWN WORKS, AS GOD DID FROM HIS" (Heb. 4:9,

"Unto him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness" (Rom. 4:5).

There's a very good chance that you're already acquainted with the newest bank in Fulton County. Because two of the area's most respected and experienced financial institutions, the First National Bank of Rochester and Akron Exchange State Bank, have joined together to form First Bank.

What this means to you is simple: The highest level of banking performance for our customers and the community.

That includes all the advantages of a large, resourceful financial partner, with the same unparalleled personal service you've come to expect. And the convenience of four full-service locations—Downtown Rochester, South Rochester, Akron and Fulton.

To learn more, just stop by any of our offices, or call 223-5966. After all, at First Bank we put your financial performance where it belongs. First.

First Bank First In Performance.
