Rude awakening

Akron cleans up after waking up from what some people thought had to be a tornado. Several homes had trees on roof tops and branches from trees were everywhere.

Gold slips for good behavior

These people were "gold slip" winners. They received gold slips for commendable behavior during the past week. Their slips were put into a can and drawn out for the grand prizes. Mrs. Kramer's fifth grade class will be doing this each week.

Notice

The town of Akron will soon be in the middle of the Farm Progress Show scheduled for September 26 thru 28. These visitors will number about 300,000, and many will come through Akron on the way to the activities on the Krom and Weaver Farms. How we look to these visitors could make a difference in our future.

If we appear slovenly to those passing through and our town looks dirty, they will imply that we have no pride in our community. Also, there will be many companies here whose products will be on display. They will also be looking at our town. If we show little, if any, pride in our appearance, they will not consider Akron as a good place in which to live and should future plans call for a location in this area we will have lost our chance.

Akron does have pride and we can show that pride by working during these next three weeks to clean up, spruce up, and show those who come through our town that Akron IS a good place to live. This includes all the homes and businesses in this town. Just because you live on a side street doesn't mean your home won't be seen. If a company representative can see a possible location for an outlet in this area, he will cruise the housing to see what is here and form his judgment on what he sees.

The Town Council (Board) urges all of us to do what and all that we can to clean up our town. Several old buildings have been removed and we have a beautiful new Town Office Firehall Building. The new flagpole made possible by the Tippy Valley Kiwanis and other donors is now in use. We have much to be proud of here and we should let all those who see us know we care about our town.

A new beginning...

Laughing It Off After 21 Years

A real tragedy is not seeing the humor in everyday living.

The masks tell it all. When a situation becomes difficult, try to see the humorous side of it. I'm totally convinced, you need a sense of humor to get along in this world.

The old saying is that opposites attract. But...won't they clash in the long run? After giving this much thought, I've decided, although opposites might attract initially, they will come to a parting of the ways eventually. Whereas, those who have similar basic interests will make it through most anything by helping each other out, and understanding each other.

This may not be the case for everyone, but it seems to be the case for Doug and I. We are different in some respects, but the basics are the same. When asked why I was attracted to Doug, I have answered, "He is dependable, honest, wants basically what I want out of life and above all else, has a sense of humor." The latter being the most attractive of all.

After a time, a person knows just how far the other can be pushed. They know just how much complaining can be done before they have complained too much and how much teasing is enough and not too much. I can't explain how, you just know.

It is much the same with a bad situation. As one person is angered over a mishap, the other can pick up on the vibrations and humor the angered person, lessening the bad time. I guess you could say one acts like a buffer for the other. Doug and I have this down pat by now. It would seem as if one calms the other.

Boredom is nonexistent when someone is humorous. Even the most ordinary day can be special just by the way a person perceives it. If something bad happens, if you can laugh your way through it; the next day things seem much better.

Doug and I have chosen our lifestyle and haven't regretted it thus far. We have managed to work toward the same goals, having fun for the most part, and have enjoyed the quiet country life in a rural community. For example, with Chris' car, Doug's car, my car and Charlie's truck, our driveway becomes congested. While trying to maneuver my way past all the vehicles, my sense of humor was nowhere in sight. Doug came over to the car and said, "Look's like a used car lot, doesn't it?" We both laughed.

When C.J. was a baby cutting teeth, as exhausted as I was, Doug declared a solution to the problem. Dentures! What else could I do but laugh? Another time, as both the boys went different directions leaving us alone, Doug declared our house a "way station." Other times, we decided we should paint the car yellow and stamp the word "Taxi" on the sides for all the running we had been doing. And, who else but Doug would threaten to stake our pet Beagle in the garden to discourage rabbits from eating the vegetables?

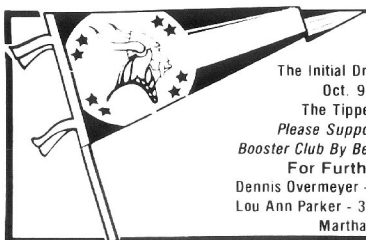

Humor also has its place after a tender moment. Being a sofiee and not really wanting anyone to realize it, Doug has given me encouragement when something hasn't gone quite the way I intended. "Hey, you did your best. Now, show me what a whiz you are in the kitchen; I'm hungry." A little hug from Doug and a grateful look from me and I'm in the kitchen with him calling me Betty Crocker or the Galloping Gourmet. Before long, things are looking better.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Florence E. Whittenberger, who passed away eight years ago today, September 7, 1981.

We cannot stop the hands of time, or live again the past,
But we will always love and think of you, As long as our lives shall last.
Your death is a wound that no one can heal,
But memories are treasures that no one can steal.

In 1988, we announced New Lower Rates with a 9% decrease. We also mailed rebates to our customers. And, as of October 1, 1989, we're lowering them by an additional 4.2%. This affects each of our half-million customers in a positive way. In fact, our rates are now equivalent to 1983 levels. And we're working to keep them stable.

OUR SYSTEM'S NOT PERFECT, BUT IT'S THE BEST THERE IS

Great concern is often expressed about the policies of our public officials at all levels, including the person at the top and the legislators. It is well to remember, however, that one and all are bound by the restraints of our constitution, which even with its flaws will spell out exactly what they may or may not do, and can be changed only by certain prescribed procedures. Men and women come and go, but our laws remain steadfast, and they include the right of the people to replace those individuals who they feel have acted without the best interests of the nation at heart. Learn at your House of Worship that our laws are based on those of God. The word "liberty" is used throughout the Bible, and our laws are the best way to guarantee it for all time.

Church of God has Homecoming

In early 1900, Fletcher Stoner had knowledge of Rev. H. M. Riggles and got him to come in 1912 to hold a revival at the Methodist Church in Akron. Some of the people converted in this revival wanted to start a Church of God. In 1914, Rev. and Mrs. Riggles moved to Akron and were pastors of the first Church of God congregation. At first the congregation was small and met in the Christian Church.

In 1920, Rev. Riggles resigned the pastorate here to go along with his wife to Syria as missionaries. At this time, Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Rowe assumed the Akron pastorate. Both Revs. Riggles and A.T. Rowe wrote several books.

In 1923, the Riggles' again returned to the Akron Church as pastors. Then, in the fall of 1924, the Riggles accepted the call to Oklahoma to pastor a church there. Brothers R. N. Gast and D. L. Slaybaugh supplied the pulpit until the following summer. At that time, Rev. D. L. Slaybaugh was chosen to be pastor of the Akron congregation, which by this time was well established.

In September 1928, Rev. Slaybaugh moved to Elkhart to pastor, and Rev. Dale Oldham came to Akron. While the Oldhams were here, they became the parents of a son, Douglas Reed Oldham, who was born Nov. 30, 1930. (Doug Oldham is a well known gospel singer and recording star today)

In September, 1949, Arlo Newell, his wife, Helen, and daughter Rebecca Sue moved to Akron, where he became associate pastor and youth counselor. In the fall of 1951, another young pastor, Harold Conrad, with his wife, Ann, and daughter Deborah, moved to Akron as associate pastor and youth counselor. A son, Loren, and a daughter, Rebecca Faith, were born while they lived in Akron.

On Sunday, Aug. 16, 1964, Rev.

Slaybaugh was honored at the state camp grounds at Yellow Creek Lake when the new 200-seat auditorium was named and dedicated in honor of his many years of service to the church. It is the D. L. Slaybaugh Auditorium, and since he and his wife's tragic deaths in an automobile accident of February, 15, 1967, it is called the D. L. Slaybaugh Memorial Auditorium.

The church made considerable growth under the pastorate of Rev. Harold Conrad.

Rev. Forest Carlson came in January 1964 as pastor.

On May 12, 1963, the church dedicated a new parsonage that had been built on State Rd. 14 in the Saner Addition.

In February 1967, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Thomason and their family consisting of Wanda, Dale, Marga and Anita, came to Akron as pastors. During his term as pastor, the church bought five adjoining properties, the Beulah Cook, Charles Bickel property, Dr. Hoffman property, Minnie Helvey property and Allen Davis property. For a short time some of these were used as Sunday School rooms and one was used as a home for an associate pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Ray Bradway. This young couple served the church from 1971 until Jan. 1977.

Ken Tippen, a seminary student from Anderson, came in February, 1977 as associate pastor.

In February, 1978, Rev. and Mrs. James Hall came as pastors. Mrs. Hall had a puppet ministry, which was very effective in the children's work. Greg Kendall came to the church as youth counselor and music director. In the summer of 1979, Greg was married and decided to move to Anderson.

The first of September 1979, Rev. Myron Kissinger and his wife, Marsha, moved to Akron as associate pastor. In the spring of 1980, Rev. Hall suffered a fatal heart attack. He was 52 years old. His wife returned to their home in Kentucky. Rev. Myron Kissinger carried the work on very well as the church searched for a new pastor. Rev. Earl Osnis and his wife, Rose, a retired minister of the Church of God from Anderson, acted as interim senior pastor until September 1, 1981.

In September 1, 1981, Rev. James Malbone, his wife, Brenda and children Jamie, David and Anita, moved to Akron from Kalamazoo, Michigan, and he assumed the role of senior pastor.

In August 1982, Rev. Myron Kissinger, his wife, Marsha, and son Jacob, who was born while they were in Akron, moved to Denver, Colorado.

In August 1983, Rev. Terry Canfield came to Akron as the associate pastor. He was to work in Christian education and with the youth. On March 30, 1985, he was united in marriage with Ruth Abel, a first grade teacher in the Akron School.

While the Canfields were here, they became the parents of a son, Joshua Michael, who was born November 23, 1987.

In June 1988, Terry, Ruth, and their son Joshua moved to Eaton, Indiana, where Pastor Terry joined the Pastoral staff of the Eaton First Church of God.

In June 1988, Rev. Matthew L. Williams began serving the Akron Church of God as associate pastor. He will serve as Minister of Music with additional responsibilities in youth, Christian Education, and visitation.

The L.T.L. met last Friday night at the Akron Library basement with their leader, Gloria Bowen. During the meeting, Collin Moore served as president; Jamie Reese was secretary and Elaine Howard was flag bearer. The leader gave a Bible lesson, and a film called "For Your Health's Sake." The group went miniature golfing for the recreation, and then had refreshments.

DNR's Division of State Parks to hold public meeting

A public meeting on master plan recommendations for the Tippecanoe River State Park and Bass Lake State Beach will be held Thursday, September 14. The 7:00 p.m. meeting will be held in the Tippecanoe Recreation Hall at Tippecanoe River State Park.

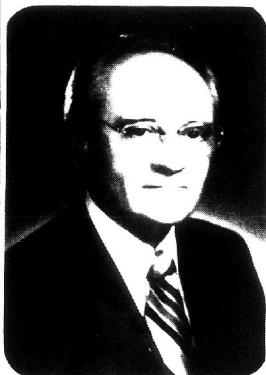

The Director of the Division of State Parks, William C. Walters, says major findings of the plans along with recommendations for future recreational development and resource management will be discussed. Some of the recommendations for Tippecanoe River State Park include a new swimming pool, nature center, family cabins, hiking and horse trails, and an improved campground. There are no major recommendations proposed for Bass Lake State Beach. A draft of each master plan will be at the office in Tippecanoe River State Park for public review one week prior to the meeting.

Comments from those attending the meeting are encouraged.

Those who cannot attend the meeting should send comments by September 30 to: William C. Walters, Division of State Parks, 616 State Office Building, Indianapolis, IN, 46204.

After public meeting review the plan will be presented in October to the Natural Resources Commission for consideration.

Views On Dental Health

H. RAY HAZEN,
D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C.

WHEN A CHILD'S TOOTH IS FRACTURED

You probably expect your child to have minor accidents from time to time. Cuts and bruises are usually easily mended and the child soon forgets them. If he or she should suffer a fractured tooth as the result of an accident, however, there may be need for immediate treatment to save the tooth.

When just a small piece of a tooth has been chipped off and it is not loose or causing pain, you may be able to wait the normal time for an appointment. If a large piece of the tooth has been broken, however, or if you can see that the pink tissue at the center of the tooth has been exposed, emergency treatment may be needed.

In the initial treatment, the dentist will remove the damaged portion of the nerve and then put a protective coating on the tooth. If it's a primary tooth, he will do whatever he can to save it so that the permanent tooth will erupt in its proper position. If it's a permanent tooth, he will restore the tooth, and protect it from further damage.

Prepared as a public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: H. RAY HAZEN, D.D.S., M.S.D., P.C. 1329 Main St., Rochester, Phone 223-3121.

Busy Me

Always thought my name was Ma,

But I guess it must be git.
Git me this and git me that
And then just git, git, git.

Or maybe my name is Jump,

Jump from this job to that.
Some days it's jump so fast,
I almost lose my hat.

To jump and hump around
As busy as a bee,
Keeps me out of mischief
That you will agree.

But when this busy Ma,
Is laid away to rest,
Wonder if the folks will say,
Bless Ma; she done her best.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

The Big Change

Over the past few years, I've had the advantage of writing articles for special reasons. Some might be obvious to you, like when Chris turned 20 years old, not to mention Father's Day and Mother's Day. I've also been able to get my points across about various issues, such as having sons and no daughters and not being disappointed about it. This is another one of those articles, although meant for one special person, might be enjoyed by others.

Collin, more commonly known as C.J. to us, is now a freshman at Tippecanoe Valley High School. I remember when my father would call each of his grandchildren "Big Wheels" and thought to myself how appropriate it would be now. Although I'm sure C.J. doesn't feel like a Big Wheel, he certainly is in the eyes of the underclassmen.

Going into high school has to be intimidating. It was intimidating when I did it and TVHS is much bigger than Akron. But, I had a good time and have told Collin he will, too. It's part of taking on more responsibility and working on being on your own.

Having known Collin all his life, I'm guessing he will make the most of the next four years. During that time, there will be many, many changes in his life and I'm hoping he enjoys each and every one of them.

When the kids go to kindergarten it's a big change. The next year, going to school a whole day without a nap is another change. Adjusting to each year with different children and harder subjects is change as well as going to junior high with locker combinations, a constant change in classrooms and teachers, etc. But isn't it exciting when it goes well?

It doesn't do much good to explain, "Oh, you'll have a good time." Sometimes a person needs to know that everyone has gone through the same thing and survived it all. Besides, there are lots of people who recall the high school days and have lots of laughs over the good times while there.

A word to all the freshmen this year: Just remember, even though you are the new kids on the block, next year you will be the upper classmen to a whole new bunch of freshmen. Relax and enjoy; these will be some of the best times of your lives if you play your cards right.

I'm also in hopes that material things, such as brand new cars, aren't the most important things to these kids. When Chris was in school, not that many years ago, some were fortunate to have new cars while others seemed to have a lot of fun just relieved their cars rolled into the lot. My favorite was the used hearse parked at TVHS! I always admired that kid.

The hairstyles are great nowadays. I have to say, "C.J., you have nice hair. It's okay a little long, but please, please, don't go along with the mohawks if they come in style!"

Thank You

Words cannot express the gratitude that I feel for all the kind acts of food, flowers, visits, and most of all the prayers that you gave to me and my family while I was in the hospital and since my return home.

It is so good to feel the strength from your community when you are away from home. It makes you realize that this is the best caring community that anyone could live in.

May God bless each of you as he has me.

Thank You

Mentone Athletic Department offers family plans for home games

The Mentone Athletic Department is offering Family Plans for home athletic events. There are three different options to choose from. Each of these plans will save Bulldog Families a considerable amount of money. These passes will be good for immediate family members only. (Does not include aunts, uncles, friends and grandparents). Single game prices will be the same as in the past: $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for students.

PLAN A: Boy's Events Athletic pass:

This allows your family to attend all boy's home athletic events. (Football, 7th and 8th grade boy's basketball and 6th grade basketball). This would be a total of 18 home events. The cost of this plan is $35.00, which would be a savings of $23.00 for 2 adults and one student.

PLAN B: Girl's Events Athletic pass:

This allows your family to attend all girl's home athletic events. (Volleyball, 7th and 8th grade girl's basketball, and 6th grade girl's basketball.) This would be a total of 11 different events. The cost of this plan is $21.00, which would be a savings of $14.75 for 2 adults and one student.

PLAN C: All Sports Pass

This allows your family to attend all home Bulldog events, both girls and boys. This would be a total of 29 home events. The cost of this plan is $50.00, which would be a savings of $44.25 for 2 adults and 1 child.

These plans do not include any home games in the Camelot Tourney.

The family plans can be purchased at the Triton football game or from Bill Leininger, Athletic Director at Mentone School.

How many are affected by the rate decrease?

How many are there?

In 1988, we announced New Lower Rates with a 9% decrease. We also mailed rebates to our customers. And, as of October 1, 1989, we're lowering them by an additional 4.2%. This affects each of our half-million customers in a positive way. In fact, our rates are now equivalent to 1983 levels. And we're working to keep them stable.

New Lower Rates—an idea that's working better than ever.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A concern which has been weighing heavily on your mind will finally be cleared up. Someone is pulling strings for you at work and will prove very helpful. A normally gregarious relative has been acting strangely lately, but don't push. This person needs some time alone to sort things through.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You can sometimes be somewhat impulsive. However, avoid plunging into that home improvement activity you've thought of. Plan it thoroughly first. An extra burst of energy this week will prove fruitful at work. A message from a distant friend will be good news.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Stop digging your heels in on that project and listen to what co-workers are trying to say. Their plans could very well lead to the ultimate success you've all wanted. Vacation plans will take more substantial form as you sort through options.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 22) Timidity and self-questioning should be avoided now. You're more than able to undertake the career opportunity you'll be given, so plunge in and get to work. Careful investigation of a financial matter will prove to be your advantage. The weekend is best spent alone with your special someone. LEO (July 23 to August 22) You can be good at avoiding subjects you'd rather not discuss, but now is the time for some honest communication with a loved one, no matter how painful for you. You will find this week that money and friendships just don't mix. The weekend will bring a happy resolution to the week's concerns.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A troubling matter early in the week at work will be resolved by the weekend. Once this is out of your way, you'll be ready to celebrate. The stars are heavily favored for romance. If single, you just might meet that very special person, while couples enjoy renewed romance.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Those who are in the fields of writing or education will be on a creative roll this week. Others will also have heightened senses of intuition allowing for more success. The weekend is a good time to spend with family. Start planning your vacation.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You will finally have the energy and motivation to tackle that long-neglected domestic chore. By this week's end, you'll be well-rewarded for your efforts and will be quite pleased. The weekend is favored for socializing and fun activities.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your communicative powers are at a high point right now, so utilize this to your advantage. Someone close to you who has been somewhat resistant will finally come around and all misunderstandings will be cleared up. Go out this weekend and buy something to pretty up your home for the coming fall season.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Financial business at the beginning of the week will have to be handled very carefully. Although you won't be able to accomplish all your tasks this week, it will still be very productive for you. Spend the weekend doing something rare for you — relaxing.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Be sure not to generate any misunderstandings in your dealings with others by giving mixed messages. Try to be very clear in what you're saying. This is a week best spent being frugal, so avoid any unnecessary expenses. The weekend is favored for leisure and romance.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Ignoring that dreaded task before you won't make it go away, nor will it get the job done. Pull up your sleeves and get to work. You'll be happy once everything's completed and out of the way. Social activities are in the works for the weekend.

GOD'S LOVE PAINTED THE FLAMING BRILLIANCE OF AUTUMN

The summer's heat is on the wane
And clouds are promising to rain.
The cooler air is filled with haze
From pungent smoke of bonfires' blaze.
And with the season in its prime,
On fields and trees it's harvest time:
While frost produces in the nights
Our most magnificent of sights:
The flaming leaves of red and gold
To mark a year that's growing old.
Before they turn to deepest brown,
So winds can bring them drifting down.
Your House of Worship will convey
The meaning of this bright display,
Which shows the love that God has planned
When brilliant autumn lights the land.

NEW BOOKS AT THE AKRON LIBRARY

NO TEARS FOR MASSA'S DAY, by Michael Humfrey---A novel of the West Indies. The sumptuous beauty of the Caribbean Islands, bitter racial conflict, great wealth, terrible suffering and the flowering of unlikely love are woven together in this powerful new novel.

THE CASE OF THE CURIOUS BRIDE, by Earl Stanley Gardner---A new large-print mystery.

KING OF THE NIGHT, The Life of Johnny Carson, by Laurence Leamer---Based on over seven hundred interviews and two and a half years of research, it is the fascinating tale of an immensely talented young comedian and his rise to a pinnacle of unprecedented success and power.

THE BROKEN CORD, by Michael Dorris---A family's on going struggle with fetal alcohol syndrome. An expert on Native Americans, the author tells the deeply moving story of his adopted son Adam, who suffers from Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, as his biological mother had died of alcohol poisoning. He became one of the first unmarried men in the U. S. to legally adopt a very young child, an affectionate Sioux Indian he named Adam.

TWILIGHT OF THE DAWN, by Elizabeth Dubus---A rich and compelling novel of a powerful Louisiana family caught in the crossfire of the Civil War, featuring Gabriele Cannon, the sheltered daughter of a wealthy landowner.

MAGNIFICENT FOLLY, by Iris Johansen---Could she learn to trust the enigmatic lover who taught her forgiveness and dared to dream of sand castles that never washed away?

PEARL S. BUCK, The Final Chapter---Only Mrs. Drake could write such a book, as she was Miss Buck's executive secretary and was there until the very end of her life.

IN THE GUN-SIGHT OF THE KGB, by Alexander Ushakov---The story of one man's spectacular escape across the most heavily guarded border in the world.

GOD IN THE HARD TIMES, by Dale Evans Rogers---One of the great paradoxes of the Christian faith is that we learn through difficulties and hard times.

EVA'S STORY, by Eva Schloss---The true story of courage, survival and hope against all odds that charts a turbulent journey through war-torn Europe, from the secret hiding places in Dutch homes to the horrific realm of the Nazi concentration camps.

GOING FOR THE CURE, by Dr. Francesca Thompson---Diagnosed with an always fatal form of cancer, the author journeys into the realms of 21st-century medicine--and finds life.

THE STEVEN McDONALD STORY, by Steven McDonald and Patti Ann McDonald---On July 12, 1986, New York City Police Officer Steven McDonald, on routine plain clothes patrol in Central Park, spotted three teen-agers acting suspiciously. When he approached one, the youth responded by pulling a .22 snubnosed pistol and firing three shots into him; rendering him a quadriplegic with no sensation below the neck. He remains today the most severely wounded police officer to survive such an attack.

ON THE ROAD USA, by Readers' Digest---Pleasures and treasures to enjoy--within easy reach of the interstate exits.

TO LIVE LIKE EVERYONE, by Anatoly Marchenko---Driven by a passionate desire to bear witness to the seamy underside of Soviet society, he became a human-rights activist--one of the few with an authentically working-class background--who engaged in an epic battle with the authorities. He died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Chistopol prison in 1986 after spending 20 years in the Soviet penal system.

RUNNING THE AMAZON, by Joe Kane---A firsthand account of the only expedition ever to travel the entire 4,200-mile Amazon River from its source high in the Andes to its union with the Atlantic Ocean.

JOURNEY, by James A. Michener---A new novel about how gold fever infected sane men around the world in 1897. The chance for untold riches sent thousands scurrying to one of the most forbidding areas on the map: the Klondike. For some, riches became reality; for the vast majority, they became no more than a lost hope, and even ended in death.

50 YEARS AGO

Just 40 years ago tonight fire broke out in the Hall and Cline drug store and spread until the entire Vickrey corner was reduced to ashed. The corner is one on which the Exchange Bank is now located. A graphic description is given here, as it appeared in the NEWS just after the fire, and will enlighten several of the newer residents of Akron as to the roster of merchants in 1899. Near the hour of midnight Thursday, August 31st, the cry of fire rang out on the still air and disturbed the peaceful slumbers of our people. It only required a few moments to fill the streets with men, women and children, all armed and prepared to do hard work for the saving and protection of property. The fire originated in Hall and Cline's drug store in the Milo Bright old stand. The owners claim they left their place of business about 10 o'clock and left all safe. Frank Meredith passed the place about an hour later but claims he saw a light extinguished but gave the matter no thought and immediately retired at the livery barn two blocks west. An hour still later and before Frank Meredith had found sleep Earl Leininger coming in from the north, discovered the fire and gave timely warning by racing around several streets. Fran Meredith was the first on the scene, closely followed by Dr. Lamoree. They saw the fire center on the west side of the room, twenty feet or more from the front and immediately burst in the door and removed one cigar stand. This was all that could be removed. The flames spread rapidly, the inflammable material feeding the furious flames like magic. Crowds gathered and saved Andy Teter's barber equipment and one-third of Sam Wilhoit's hardware stock, the other two-thirds going up in flames with five hundred dollars insurance in the Milwaukee Mechanics, which will probably cover his loss. The fervent heat and narrow street soon set fire to the old frame Spera building on the north side of the street and occupied by O. L. Slaybaugh as a meat market. On this building there is about two hundred dollars insurance but Mr. Slaybaugh had none. His damage is considerable to stock and meats. The fire ruined this building. At this very point the crowd became fierce and fought fire like demons with water, axes and hammers. The burning brands were torn loose and in the almost unbearable heat water in large quantities was poured on right under the very tongues of the fire across the street. The brick rooms of S. A. Strong & Co. and Dickerhoff Bros. suffered under the intense heat. The heavy plate glass was melted and run down the surface like water would if thrown on, yet our people endured the heat, using water freely on the cornice, men taking their turns at the helm. No damage to either the Strong stock or the Hoover stock to speak of. Special mention must be made of the heroic work on the Spera frame by Messrs. Lidecker, Will Kreighbaum and Frank Halderman. Had the building burned no telling where the end would be. In the heat of the battle fire brands were carried over the top of the brick block north to the M. E. Church and set fire in the very top of the cupola. No one but Fred Kreighbaum would go to the rescue. But he went, and some one furnished him the water that saved the church and the other fine residences nearby. If we had it we would donate Fred $100. The total loss is estimated at $3000. The drug stock estimated by owners at $2000 carried $1600 insurance.

The biggest concern right now for the crew at the show is all the rain the area has been plagued with.

This week's sunny forecast should help make the setting up of the tents and buildings a little easier.

The general public is urged to not come to the site at this time because of the heavy equipment and busy people working hard.

The students at Akron School are getting geared up for the three days of the Farm Progress Show. They have decorated some halls at school. Pictured above is Jamie Saner, Shanna Maggart and Chad Dert.

Area businesses are gearing up for the heavy traffic expected to be coming through Akron during the Farm Progress Show. Everyone should pitch in to show these out of towners what a great little town Akron is.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

The Porch Swing

When I was growing up, it seemed as if everyone had a porch swing. Then, a time came when newer homes were built without porches, only patios, and the porch swing seemed to be on its way out.

Over the past several years, I'm happy to say, the porch swing seems to be coming back. Newer homes without porches have added decks with supports for swings as well as enclosed patios with perfect places for swings. Wicker has been another popular item which has incorporated itself into swings. If there is no place, a tree limb or frame in the yard will do. This proves to me that maybe people really do miss the porch swings of yesterday.

Did you have a porch swing when you were growing up? My parents did. I remember sitting with one or both of my brothers when my feet wouldn't touch the cement below and wished they would swing a little faster. I also remember swinging my nephews when they were babies and toddlers when I would babysit. They loved it! My girlfriends and I would have deep dark discussions about the next school dance while sitting in the swing and important decisions of what outfit to wear to the next dance were solved there, too.

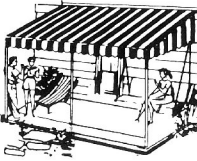

After suppertime, many of us would sit in the swing, which was right outside the kitchen window. The light would be left burning over the kitchen sink, casting a soft shadow on the porch, and that, together with the rhythmic creak and groan of the swing moving back and forth, seemed to ease the problems of the day. The feeling of peace and tranquility seemed to be magical with that porch swing.

That porch swing has seen its share of work. Between all of us kids and our husbands and wives and children using it, it probably was worn out. It's probably what I missed most when my parents moved. We have no swing at our house and I often wish we did. Like I said, it had a magical affect.

When my parents had company in the summertime, many of their friends would end up at the kitchen table or the porch swing. I always thought it was funny to see grown men swinging on the front porch, but, now that I'm an adult, I remember hearing them discuss very serious things and always ending up laughing and feeling better afterward. And, always, when they would leave, someone else would take their place on the swing.

Studying astronomy in science class seemed pointless when I was in grade school, but sitting in the porch swing I spotted the Big Dipper, the North Star, the Little Dipper, etc. And as a teenager, when quiet and calm wasn't so important, the radio was placed on the porch for the Top Ten at Ten and almost each evening I would be in the swing listening for my favorites to be played.

I'm sure everyone could recall events concerning a porch swing. My sisters-in-law have rocked many a child asleep in that swing. Doug and I made marriage plans one fall choosing dates, flowers, etc., and later I spent an afternoon in that swing as he left for his last nine months in the service. My parents also spent endless evenings after working all day and the early part of the evening, just relaxing in their porch swing. It proved without a doubt, the best things in life are the simple pleasures.

In loving memory of our son and brother, Keith Haney, who passed away two years ago, Sept. 22, 1987.

Time wasn't measured
By the years he lived,

But by the deeds
Which he could give.

Each day as it came
He lived to the fullest,

Leaving nothing undone,
That would brighten the life of everyone.

Him to be a happy one,
And to leave an afterglow

Of smiles when his life was done.

The Anthony Nigo Chapter

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, DAR, held their first fall meeting at the Public Service Company office in Rochester. Regent Diane Biting opened the meeting with the DAR ritual, pledge to the flag, American's Creed, and singing of the National Anthem.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Pat Gross, and 13 members answered roll call. Members and two guests, Jean Paulus and Evelyn Neher, were welcomed by the Regent.

Jerry Smith read the message from President General, Mrs. Eldred Yochim. Correspondence was read by the Regent, including a letter from the Street Scene sub-committee relative to the walking trail in Mentzer Park.

Michelle Bormet, Jean Clauss, and Rita Funk were appointed to a budget committee.

A letter from Mrs. Addison Krom, Northern District Director, was read relative to the State conference at the Marriott Inn in Indianapolis on October 1, 2 and 3. The chapter voted to donate towards the reception costs. Credentials were signed for Diane Biting, Regent; Pat Gross, Vice-Regent; Jerry Smith, Delegate; and Jean Clauss, Alternate Delegate.

A delightful program was presented by Mrs. Harold Fisher, librarian of the Bell Memorial Library, on "American Folk Tales". Most folk tales are used as teaching tools or have a moral, and examples were given from the Cherokee Indians, Eskimos, and African folk tales, and one from the English.

National Defense, given by Lena Igo, was an article entitled "Amending the Constitution to Protect the Flag."

Elaine Fugate announced the topic for the American History essay contest this year for 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade students is on "An American Inventor, 1775-1850".

Purdue University plans for Farm Progress Show

Since the 1989 Farm Progress Show site was announced two years ago, Purdue University specialists have been busy planning exhibits for the farm extravaganza.

"We started by looking at soil types and farming practices in the area," said Ellsworth Christmas, Purdue extension agronomist, who helped coordinate the effort. Along with Ben Southard, also a Purdue agronomist, Christmas designed a Purdue exhibit that will feature the latest research and extension information for farmers.

The 1989 Farm Progress Show will be located on the Weaver and Krom farms near Rochester, Indiana. Show dates are September 26 to 28.

While the agronomists have been hard at work planning crop plots, the Purdue exhibit extends beyond just crops. Purdue's Bill Field, farm safety specialist, will be on hand at the Health and Safety Tent. Information there will be centered on the theme of child safety on the farm.

Purdue will be offering on-site, well-water tests for nitrates. Visitors are encouraged to bring water samples to the Purdue Tent. "Ideal water samples are in clean, glass containers about the size of baby food jars," said Christmas. The tests are free of charge.

Brian Miller, extension wildlife specialist in forestry and natural resources at Purdue, will have information on the value of wetlands.

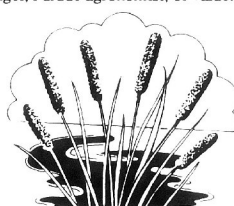

As in past years, the Farm Progress Show has an animal industry area. Kern Hendrix and other Purdue animal scientists will bring live animals to the show. The animals will be used to show care and management as well as results of Purdue research on breeding and nutrition management.

Swine genetics will play a big role in the Purdue display as specialists will explain the effect of hormones on lean growth. The beef demonstrations will show the difference between choice grade and select grade beef in relation to the lean-to-fat ration in cattle.

Purdue's "T by 2000" specialists have designed a small field to show different ways to control erosion. Farmers may participate in the tours and help measure residue levels.

Agricultural engineers Bill Campbell and Sam Parsons will show results from a tractor power study. Equipped with a dynamometer, they will measure tractor power on the show site and explain potential on-farm tractor problems.

Farmers wanting more information on Low Input Sustainable Agriculture (LISA) will find the plots designed by David Mengel, Purdue agronomist, of value.

Booster of measles recommended for all Jr. High children

The American Academy of Pediatrics recently released a statement recommending a booster dose of measles vaccine be given to ALL children at entry to junior high school. This is a result of a substantial increase in the number of measles cases reported in this age group since 1986. They have recommended these children receive the combination measles, mumps, and rubella vaccine, MMR.

Unfortunately, at this time, the state of Indiana cannot provide sufficient vaccine to local health departments to fulfill this recommendation. Therefore, your local health department cannot offer this booster immunization at this time. Parents should contact their children's physician to see if their child is a candidate for a measles booster.

In the future, MMR boosters may be offered by the health department, when sufficient vaccine becomes available. Your local immunization clinic continues to be able to provide the fifteen month MMR for babies. It is extremely important to protect your children by having them immunized at the proper times. Immunization clinic hours are 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. every Friday in Century Tower, 100 W. 9th, Rochester. Should you have questions, please contact your own physician or your local health department, 223-5152.

Boy Scouts earn awards

It is the goal of each Boy Scout to earn: skill awards, merit badges, rank awards. This requires the Boy Scout to meet all requirements established by Boy Scouts of America. Each boy spends many hours completing these requirements.

Are your attitudes about mental illness still in the dark ages?

Our notions about mental illness have a long, dark history. Sadly, age-old fears keep us from seeing mental illness for what it really is: a distressing medical disease. A disease that can be treated. For an informative booklet about mental illness, contact the American Mental Health Fund.

Viewing the plots at Farm Progress

Viewing the plots is an important part of visiting the Farm Progress Show for many farmers. They can see how effective herbicides have been, how their hybrids and varieties compare with others, and see how well conservation tillage has performed.

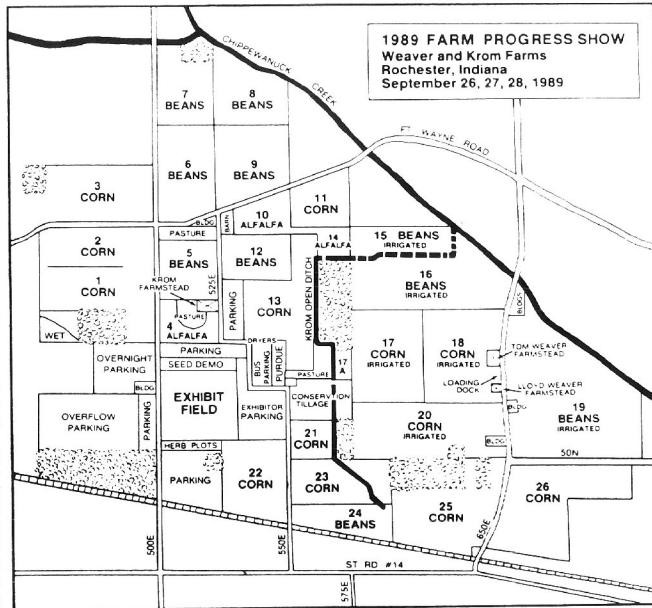

At the 1989 Farm Progress Show (Sept. 26-28) on the Weaver and Krom farms near Rochester, Ind., the seed plots are located on the north side of the exhibit field, the herbicide plots are on the south side, and Purdue University's plots are located northeast of the exhibit field, near the starting point for shuttle buses.

Dave Roepke, manager of the 1989 show, says there are about 6 acres of soybean plots, 7 acres of corn plots, and 8 acres of herbicide plots. The 32 corn companies who helped plant the plots seeded about 325 different hybrids. The 27 seed companies who offer soybean seed planted 215 different varieties including several drilled soybean plots. Another eight seed companies planted 120 rows of grain sorghum and there are 85 alfalfa plots. Both the alfalfa a sorghum plots involve less than 1 acre each.

The 14 herbicide manufacturers who are involved, have applied about 90 different treatments on the corn and soybeans.

Besides being involved in the seed plots, Purdue University's agronomy department has a 7-acre field northwest of the exhibit field where it has ridge-tilled corn and drilled soybeans. Those plots attempt to show how stands are affected when there are planter skips. They also demonstrate growth patterns with different rates of fertilization and the effects of different plant populations.

Hay demonstrations at Farm Progress

Visitors to the 1989 Farm Progress Show who raise hay will be interested in viewing the haying demonstrations scheduled for this year's show.

The demonstrations will be part of the three-day show slated for September 26, 27, and 28 on the Weaver and Krom farms just east of Rochester, Indiana.

Activities connected with the haying demonstrations will be coordinated by farmers with the Arrow Head Country Forage Council, Inc. Stacy Odom, coordinator for the council, explains that the latest designs in haying equipment will be in action at the show.

Current plans call for about 60 acres of forage to be made into hay or haylage on George Krom III's farm. All of the demonstration fields are located within walking distance of the exhibit area. The hay fields are north and east of tent city.

Check the information boards located near the food tents or at information booths to see exactly where the demonstrations will be in progress on the day you visit the show. Fields 4, 10, and 14 will be included in the demonstrations.

"We intend to operate from 9-11:30 a.m. each morning and 1-3:30 p.m. each afternoon, Odom says. "Visitors will get to hear about each piece of equipment and then see it operate."

Mowers, rakes, tedders, big round balers, and small square balers will all be in action, weather permitting. Should weather conditions be less than ideal, officials note that every effort will be made to carry out the demonstrations.

Show management continues to fine-tune the show's format to meet the needs of exhibitors and farmers as technology changes. Fifteen years ago, for example, moldboard plows were the most popular

A person is seated in the tractor's operator's seat. A long, thin tow bar connects the tractor to a carriage below. The carriage is loaded with two horses, one in front and one behind, both facing forward. The horses are depicted in a dynamic, slightly blurred style, suggesting movement. The entire illustration is rendered in a simple, graphic line-art style.

Service at Purdue will have drawings for free corn and swine industry handbooks plus other extension materials.

Food scientists and consumer and family specialists will have information in the Purdue tent. "Our goal is to show how all segments of the food chain are working together to assure safe food," says Jim Chambers, food scientist.

Purdue specialists will feature a variety of displays in at least three other tents.

Bill Field, ag engineer, will have farm safety information. The theme is child safety. He will be located in the Health and Safety Tent located at the corner of Central Avenue and 3rd Street.

"We have overhead power line, PTO, and tractor roll-over demonstrations," Field says. "There will also be health associations with other information at the tent."

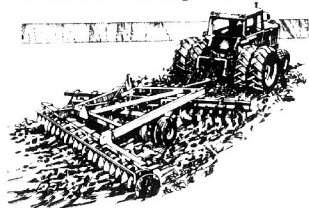

Purdue's "T by 2000" project specialists will be on hand to show erosion control methods. They will be working with the US Soil Conservation Service, Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and the Land Improvement Contractors Association. They will have tours of plots located northeast of the exhibit field.

"The tour will point out factors that affect erosion such as the energy of a rain drop, the effect of residue, and the length and steepness of slopes," says Charles Schoon, T by 2000 specialist.

Ways to reduce erosion will be demonstrated by such things as WASCOSB's (water and sediment control basins), drop structures, and conservation tillage methods.

"We will also show what proper residue levels look like," Schoon says. Farmers will get a chance to measure residue levels. The tour will then show the effect that different tillage methods have on soil structure and residue amounts. The final part of the tour will include demonstrations on different tillage tools including no-till and ridge-till drills and planters.

Brian Miller, wildlife specialist in Purdue's Department of Forestry and Natural Resources, will present demonstrations in the state agencies tent. He and specialists from the US Fish and Wildlife Service and the Indiana Department of Natural Resources will have wetland information available.

Forage crop demonstrations

One new and one expanded event highlight the field demonstrations at this year's Farm Progress Show. Because the host farmers are interested in forage crops, a complete line-up of haymaking demonstrations are planned. In addition, the chisel plow demonstrations have been completely restructured to present an even more informative show.

This is in addition to the regular field demonstrations such as corn and soybean harvesting, grain drying, conventional tillage, conservation tillage, and much more.

In the haying demonstrations, nearly 60 acres of alfalfa and sorghum-sudan grass hay will be mowed and baled during the show. In these demonstrations, farmers will have an opportunity to hear company representatives discuss each piece of equipment before it makes a pass through the field. Haying demonstrations will take place north of the exhibit field in fields 4, 10 and 14.

Equipment demonstrated will include mowers and conditioners, rakes, tedders, balers, forage choppers, and hay handling equipment. In this last category, bale wrappers, baggers, stackers, and bale moving and handling equipment will be operated.

Chisel-type tillage tools have been reclassified for this year's Farm Progress Show. This was done by show management so that farmers would be able to compare tools designed to do similar jobs in side-by-side field demonstrations.

Basically, these tools have been divided into six different classes. They include coulters chisel plows and heavy disks, coulter chisels with deep-till shanks, deep-till rippers, deep till disk rippers, chisels without coulters, and special tools with a tillage depth of greater than 16 inches.

Regular field demonstrations will include grain harvesting. Nearly 500 acres of corn will be harvested, dried, and stored during the show, weather permitting. In addition, about 300 acres of soybeans will be harvested.

Portable dryers will be used to dry much of the grain harvested during the show. They are located on the south end of field 13, just northeast of the exhibit field. Grain cleaners, augers, and related equipment will also be demonstrated.

In the conservation tillage demonstrations, farmers can see no-till drills, no-till planters, ridge-till planters, and ridge-till cultivators. The conservation tillage demonstration area is about half soybean stubble and half corn stalks. The demonstration area contains both upland soils and drained muck soils which should provide an interesting contrast.

There will be three demonstrations during each work period. Company representatives will run their equipment for about 30 ft., then stop to discuss it. During these go-and-stop demonstrations, show visitors can see the equipment operating but also have a chance to visit with company representatives.

The conservation tillage demonstrations are located just across the road from the Purdue University residue management plots. Conventional, ridge-till, and no-till tillage corn production systems are compared.

All field demonstrations at the Farm Progress Show are supervised by local farmers. Their job is to see the demonstrations are conducted so that visitors and participating companies have the best possible demonstrations. At the same time, they strive to make sure that host farmers' crops are harvested according to their wishes and that the fields are left in satisfactory condition when the demonstrations are completed.

Field work takes place during two time periods each day. The morning sessions are scheduled from 9-11 and the afternoon sessions will run from 1-3. Demonstration schedules are posted on large bulletin boards located at each food tent on the exhibit field and at all information booths. Show visitors are urged to check these boards for up to-date schedule changes.

Purdue University livestock display

Anyone who has an interest in livestock, poultry, or fish should visit Purdue University's livestock display at the Farm Progress Show. Nearly all livestock species will be on display and extension specialists will present live demonstrations, according to Kern Hendrix, Purdue animal scientist.

Live hogs will be involved in a comparison of porcine somatotropin-treated (PST) hogs with non-treated animals. There will also be a comparison of meat-type hogs versus maternal types and their responses to PST. Carcasses will be on display to provide a further comparison of PST-treated versus non-treated animals.

The possibility exists that progeny from a Purdue student's famous "Chicks in Space" research project will be on display in the Purdue livestock tent. Another poultry exhibit will demonstrate how low-cholesterol eggs can be produced.

Live sheep will be on display to demonstrate the difference between wool breeds and meat breeds. Several fleeces will demonstrate types and grades of wool.

Because one of this year's Farm Progress Show hosts (George Krom III) is a Shorthorn producer, some of his animals will be used in the Purdue exhibit. At least one cow-calf pair will be utilized and a couple of the feedlot steers will show differences between choice and select beef grades. The implications of those grades on consumers (leaner beef) and on beef producers, (a better product at lower cost), will be explored.

A fistulated dairy cow will be on display and her rumen contents, (in various stages of digestion) will show how feed changes after it has been consumed.

Finally, a live display of catfish will be exhibited in a tank in the livestock tent. These fish reflect an increased interest in making aquaculture feasible in the Combelt.

Soil conservation activities

Soil conservation will command a prominent spot at the 1989 Farm Progress Show slated for September 26, 27, and 28 just east of Rochester, Ind. The Weaver and Krom farms are hosting the 1989 show.

The soil conservation activities will be ongoing during all three days of the show. Most of the demonstrations and displays will be located just east and north of tent city.

No-till and ridge-till planters, no-till drills, and ridge-till cultivators will operate in typical conservation demonstrations. Company representatives will be on hand to answer questions.

Special wagon tours will let visitors view what's happening in a new conservation activities area without spending a lot of time. The 25 minute tours will run continuously throughout the show.

An operating rainfall simulator will be one of the highlights of the wagon tour. Plus, Don Griffith, Purdue agronomist, will show off his no-till, ridge-till, and conventional tillage plots.

Water and sediment control basins (wascobs) will be under construction on the back side of the tour route. One set, installed earlier, will also be on display.

Samples of soil pulled from the show farms will be displayed in the soil classifiers tent located near the starting point for the tours. A soils pit will also allow visitors to see first-hand what happens after various deep tillage implements pass through the soil.

Groups supporting the show include USDA's Soil Conservation Service, the Fulton County Soil and Water Conservation District, the Indiana Association of Soil and Water Districts, the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service, the Land Improvement Contractor's Association, USDA's ASCS, the Division of soil conservation in Indiana's Department of Natural Resources, Farm Progress Companies, and the 1989 FPS host farmers.

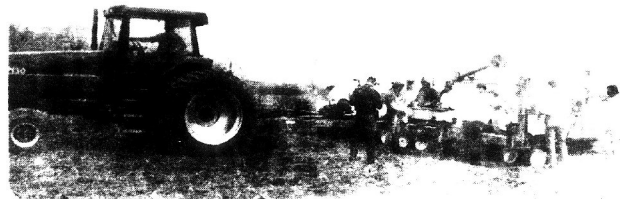

Food tents

Area men who worked on the setting up of the show are Glen Bode, Kewanna; Chad Baxter, Rochester; Henry Smith, Akron; and Jason Powers, Rochester.

Tom Weaver and Dave Roepke look over the fields.

The planting began last May, the results will soon be on display for the public to decide what is the best seeds and spray.

Deb Rude and Chris Riffel are the secretaries for the Farm Progress Show.

50 YEARS AGO

Three old editors of the Akron News were brought to the NEWS office recently, and proved interesting to the present editor. One copy, brought in by Sherman Sippy, was printed Dec. 22, in 1888 and was the property of his father, A. C. Sippy. The paper was known as the Akron Echo, and was in its fifth year under the leadership of L. M. Noyer. Leading advertisers in 1888 were: D. Sibert, Strong Bros., Studebaker's Grocery, Frank Weaver, Graham & Davis, O. F. Beik, and Jacob Whittenberger. Money was available to loan at 7% by H. M. Stephenson and L. M. Noyer, and parties indebted to W. A. and M. L. Patterson, A. A. Gast and W. N. Richter were asked to settle up. A time table published in the paper showed that persons could take the train in Akron at 2:14 p.m. and arrive in Chicago at 9:50 p.m. The market report read: wheat, 96 cents; oats 28 cents; hogs, 4.80; clover seed, 5.00; potatoes, 25 cents. The following paragraph is a sample of the journalistic style popular in those days. "Mentone has a daily paper. Mr. Smith, the Gazette man, thinks he has discovered an opening, and is now engaged in filling it. Brother Smith must be fond of doing work simply for the glory there is in it as we are satisfied the town is not large enough to properly sustain a daily paper even if it is a small one. We like a little glory occasionally, but we want plenty of cash mixed with it. Glory doesn't purchase bread and butter in this market." Frank Pressnall left yesterday for "in yander" where he will pass a week or so with friends. "G. K. Brundige left Hot Springs for home on Tuesday but up to yesterday afternoon had not arrived. He probably came in on the 1 a.m. train last night.

1905 Edition - Mr. Sippy also show us a copy of the January 6, 1906 paper, recording the tragic deaths, by drowning of Dow and Walter Patterson. Other news concerned the markets which were: lard 6 cents; hens 8 cents; oats 29 cents; corn 40 cents; eggs, 23 cents; butter, 15 cents; hogs, 4.10; wheat, 1.10. "W. B. Shewman, mail carrier on route 3, received his new mail car just in time to use it in the January storms. It is an elegant wagon, provided with all the conveniences of a postoffice upon the inside. The other two cars used from this office are no less convenient than Worthy's. But it's their horses that must do the work and endure the storm. Later on Esquimo dogs will be furnished by Uncle Sam and they will skip across the country, eat snow and never tire. "Justin Curtis reports $28.01 cash receipts for milk sold from twelve head of milk cows in two weeks. It is difficult to make $1 a week from one cow in churning the cream at home."

Roy Landis brought us a copy of the December 1916 Akron News which reported the following markets: lard, 15 cents; chickens, 14 cents; oats, 48 cents; corn, 75 cents; eggs, 36 cents; butter, 28 cents; hogs, 9.50; wheat, 1.75; and clover seed, 10.00. And Editor Shelsler tersely remarked, "Boston is predicting $30 shoes. It would be useless to think that ladies would lengthen their dress skirts while shoes are so high." "Miss Katherine Kistler came home to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, remaining until Sunday when she returned to school at Evanston, Illinois. "Max Kuhn is working in Chicago. "Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Arter's baby is reported very sick with scarlet fever, as is also Willodean Stout. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Meredith went to Chicago Thursday to eat turkey with their daughter, Mrs. Bowman and family. "S. R. Thompson is putting in a new electric piano-player that plays any time you may want for 5 cents.

The reason advertising pays is because it works along certain well known lines. It attracts attention, interests, craves desire and sells. "Advertising does this by suggesting to the individual how an article may be useful to him, how it is to his advantage to own it. Once this is done the customer will begin to plan for ways and means to make the article or the merchandise advertised his own.

R & B Home Furnishings celebrate Grand Opening

R & B Furnishings will be celebrating their grand opening beginning Wednesday, September 20. The store will feature a drawing for the next four weeks, also extended hours.

The store had brought in several new lines of furniture, bunk beds, small T.V. entertainment centers, rug remnants and lamps. Something new also will be gifts for the home, the perfect idea for weddings and Christmas.

The new owners, Bonnie and Russ Dunbar, have been busy redecorating the store and hope to soon get out and get more involved in the community and even a more perfect time for the people of the community to get to know them is during their grand opening. Stop in and see what is new at the store.

Bonnie, born and raised in North Manchester, and Russ, originally from a small community in New York, have lived in Chicago, both working for a major store there. Russ had been in the furniture business for the last 16 years and Bonnie in retail sales for the last 20 years. They combined their talents and came to the area looking for a small furniture store and a community that had lakes. The family enjoys camping together.

The Dunbars have a 4 1/2 year old son, Ryan, who attends the Akron Nursery School and said his favorite thing about living in Akron is that he lives beside a ice cream store.

Akron Town Council meeting

The regular meeting of the Akron Town Council was opened at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 by reading of the minutes. They were approved as read.

Scout leader Royce Allison expressed a need for public service work his scouts could do on a Saturday working towards badges. It was suggested the renovation of the old ball diamond would be appreciated, as well as raking leaves or washing windows for Akron citizens that are not able to. He stated the Scout Master and assistant had resigned and they need more volunteers desperately. He also stated that the Tippy Valley Kiwanis would donate time toward up-dating the home numbering system if needed, and said it could help the local EMS as well as firemen in emergencies.

The Warranty deed from Mike and Joyce Stephens on the 12' alley has been received. Now the Council needs to approach Marion College about an easement so the town could have direct access to town property.

A Resolution was moved by Rod Conner and seconded by Bob Allen to transfer real estate formerly the EMS building, commonly known as Lot #71 and Lot #134 in the Slaybaugh Addition to the Town of Akron to Terry and Christina Randall.

Patrons have been asking about the fall clean-up this year and the Council feels no, there won't be one because of the expense. It was further noted patrons are not putting 2 tags on trash so from now on, all tickets will be $1.00 each.

Also, a big Thank you to Mark Howard for his time helping haul a lot of brush after the Sept. 1 storm. The Council appreciated his help.

Marshall Lawson reported Tim Fleck went for orientation Sept. 18, 1989 towards Officer status, had 10 a.m. meeting Friday, Sept. 22 with Indiana State Police on Farm Progress Show traffic thru Akron.

A letter was read from Akron Park Board concerning inquiries from Akron Little League. Akron League wants a detailed maintenance program and person or persons who will be doing the work. The town Council members feel the matter needs to be in the hands of administrative or central people outside of the league itself, so money collected and bills to be paid can be accounted for. This, they feel, would make the control and maintenance of the park easier for all.

Road Improvement in Fulton County approved by state

The Indiana Department of Transportation has approved plans for improvements to the bridge on State Road 25 over Mill Creek, just north of State Road 114 in Fulton, according to Indiana State Representative Robert N. Sabatini (D-Logansport).

"Completion of this road improvement project will mean a much improved and much safer roadway for motorists," Sabatini says. "I'm pleased to see the Indiana Department of Transportation responding to the roadway improvement needs and concerns of our area.

"My goal is to continue my efforts to see that appropriate state agencies are made aware of these needs and concerns, whether my constituents are talking about roads, education, or anything else the state is involved in."

The contract for Fulton County improvement work was awarded to Northern Indiana Construction Co. of Mishawaka for a total of $221,448.80. IDOT officials expect work to be completed by October 15, 1990.

TVHS Marching Band goes to Contest

The TVHS Marching Band has begun their 1989 competition season with what proves to be an unusual but promising program. The band hopes this will help them to once again represent Valley as a state finalist in the Hoosier Dome on October 28.

This show, titled Seasonal Jazz, portrays musically and visually the four seasons of the year. The opening song is a driving jazz arrangement of "Summertime" from Gertrude's Porgy and Bess. It is an aggressive, difficult and quick paced tune. Representing Autumn is a ballad of Autumn Leaves that features Senior Barb Burdge in a saxophone solo. For winter the band is playing a strongly electronic and unusual arrangement of the Christmas tune Carol of the Bells. It contains a duet by Junior, Jenny Newhouse on flute and Senior Sam King on synthesizer. This number, recorded originally by Mannheim Steamroller, is a favorite of the students and judges alike.

The light, playful music is aided visually by an umbrella and dance routine and "butterfly" flags in the auxiliary corps.

Perhaps the most striking addition you will see on the field this year will be four 20' by 10' backdrops that will be positioned on the field. These fan-shaped props were planned for two reasons according to director Mike Pearson, the props will help to communicate the show theme even before the first note. Each backdrop will be applied with a different scene to depict one of the four seasons.

The other reason Pearson is using the backdrops is to visually reduce the amount of "stage" space the band must fill up.

"We're down a few members this year and we're a small group. By filling in some of the dead space, we look larger," said Pearson. "As a matter of fact if we make it this year to the state finals, we will be the smallest band ever to make finals since it's been held in the dome. We're going to make history this year."

The backdrops Pearson credits to the outstanding booster group of parents. The structure was designed and built by Russ MacAfoose. Then yards of material were sewed together by Merry Gaerte, Martha Uter and President Cathy Faught. The ladies are now hand appliqueing the designs. "Their work is remarkable," Pearson says. "They're out here every night till late. There's a lot of love for these kids."

Although unusual, this year seems to be a favorite of marching members.

Senior Jennifer Ryan comments, "I love this show! It's not only entertaining for the judges and people who know band, but also for the general public."

Jeanne Steele, Senior, adds, "This is the best show Pearson's ever written; it's so creative and artistic."

Micah Collette and Sam King, both seem to agree. Almost at once they added, "This is more emotion and less show," said King. Collette says, "This is music you can feel and see!"

The TVHS Marching Band opened their '89 competition season at Lawrence Central on September 16. The band finished in second place out of 9 bands, first place went to Maconaquah High School, who was the 1988 3rd place band in State Finals.

On September 23rd, the band traveled to Lebanon High School in the morning and Anderson Highland in the afternoon. At Lebanon the band finished 2nd behind Beech Grove High School with a point difference of only .5 of a point. The Vikings captured the special caption awards for Outstanding General Effect and Best Auxiliary Corps.

At Anderson Highland High School the band also placed 2nd place but behind Yorktown High School and the Vikings received the caption awards for Best Marching and Best Auxiliary Corps.

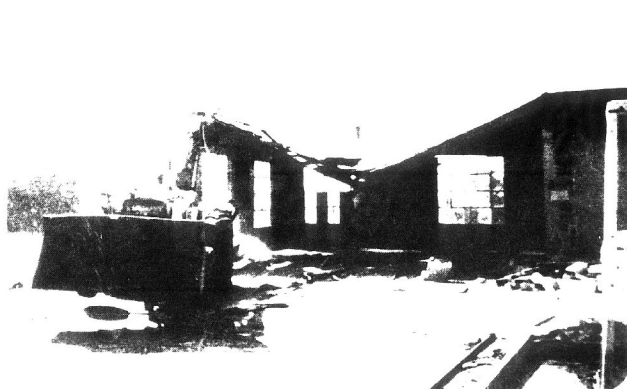

On September 30 the band will be traveling to Penn High School in Mishawaka for the ISSMA District Contest. A first Division rating will qualify the band to advance to Regional competition two weeks later.

A new beginning...

By: J.D. Moore

Make A Note Of That

Friends of my parents made quite an impression on me as a youngster. Their ways of communicating were unique; not only did they discuss things between themselves so all was understood, they left notes.

For years now, Doug has been the first person up at our house, and even though he doesn't know the aforementioned couple, he has nevertheless taken up the same habit of note writing.

For instance....after the kids had skipped a couple weeks of trimming the yard with the weedeater, a note was left, which went something like this: "Boys, be careful today, keep the house picked up, do your dinner dishes and....TRIM, TRIM, TRIM! Love, Dad."

Always without fail, "buckle your seat belt," is attached to Chris' note, and, "be careful on your bike," on the bottom of C.J.'s. Part of learning responsibility is doing what has to be done and this is where the notes come into play. Specific jobs are listed and are intended to be done, and always with a note of fatherhood mixed in.

Notes are not limited to the boys; I have gotten my share. The rule of thumb at our house is, "The person who does the evening dishes makes coffee for the next morning." This seems simple enough; all we do is add water to the pot, grounds in the basket and the person who gets up first only has to plug in the pot without the extra effort. Once in a while I will make my way to the kitchen and see a note leaning up against the coffee pot, saying, "You're Welcome!" He beat me to the punch; obviously, I had forgotten my deed of making coffee and wasn't up early enough to say, "Thank You," so he left his part of the conversation instead.

Another morning I found a note slipped under the edge of a coffee mug saying, "Nice having coffee with you this morning." The mug was full of what was now cold coffee. I had intended to get up early and have coffee with Doug, and, obviously, hadn't made it!

Not all notes are funny. After my spending time with Chris in the hospital and going to work extra early, notes were left saying something like this: "Don't worry about the yard; C.J. and I will get it tonight. Take it easy today and rest up. Love, Doug." Or, "Don't worry about picking the beans, I'll help you when I get home."

I regret not dating the notes over the years and placing them in order in a scrapbook. You could tell what had happened the day before by each note marking an event in our past. Years from now, we would have gotten enjoyment from the book. The usual "Be carefuls" and "Don't forgets" are as any family but what you read between the lines is a father and husband who takes a little time to remind you he cares....and wants the yard trimmed and the coffee made!

It seems as if families don't have much time to talk anymore. We have been fortunate to manage time to have fun conversations (with a few hints here and there about important issues) between us. Several friends of our boys seem to enjoy the humor and bantering that goes on and join in and, as one person put it, "It sure is a crazy household...but I like it!" The humor of our conversations has made it into our notes, and as long as the communication is there, the doors are open. Write a note to someone.

DISCOVERY

Today I smiled, and all at once; Things didn't look so bad.

Today I shared with someone else, A bit of hope I had.

Today I sang a little song, And felt my heart grow light.

And walked a happy little mile, With not a cloud in sight.

Today I worked with what I had, Didn't long for any more,

And what had seemed like only weeds, Were flowers at my door.

Today I loved a little more, Complained a little less,

And in the giving of myself, Forgot my Weariness.

Senior Citizens, come join us for a well balanced meal and fellowship. For your meal reservation please call 893-7204 the day before you plan to join us between the hours of 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Age is 60 years or older unless you are helping a handicapped person 60 years or older.

Akron Boy Scout Troop

Money was donated by the Tippecanoe Valley Kiwanis to purchase troop flag. This flag will identify the Akron troop at summer camp and campouts, and will be displayed at the scout cabin when not being used for this purpose.

We need more adult helpers, so the Akron Boy Scout program can continue. Call Royce Allison at 893-4534 to donate your time to a valuable youth program.

Since the Akron Boy Scouts re-organization in February, several individuals, businesses, and not-for-profit organizations have supported the Scouting program with great enthusiasm. The Akron Boy Scouts would like to thank everyone for their support. The Scouting program would not be possible in the Akron area without these concerned and caring people.

Akron Honors Achievement Study Hall

Akron School recently opened an Honors/Achievement study hall for students in grades seven and eight. The new study hall is located in the open courtyard area between the elementary and junior high buildings.

Students may gain the privilege of using this area in one of two ways:

1. Having achieved honor roll status during the previous six week grading period.
2. Having improved by at least one letter grade in two or more of the academic areas (math, English, social studies, or science) from the previous six week grading period. Students who qualify must have on file with the study hall supervisor forms that show the student and his/her parents know and agree to the guidelines for using the Honors/Achievement study hall.

Students who do not adhere to these guidelines will be denied the privilege of using this area.

Students using this area also have access to a soft drink machine and two new picnic tables with umbrellas recently purchased by the Akron School Parent Support Council.

Eligibility for the Honors/Achievement study hall is for one grading period at a time. Individual eligibility will be reevaluated at the conclusion of each six weeks.

YMCA volunteer program

The Kosciusko Community YMCA invites all interested individuals to become a member of the YMCA volunteer program. This program already includes a wide range of individuals who enrich the YMCA organization while making new friends, learning new skills and developing new interests.

The Ambassador Club, a new concept for the Y, is currently in the formative stage. This program offers the opportunity to become better acquainted with the YMCA while helping others to do the same. Projects for the Club include giving guided tours of the facility, explaining programs, introducing new or prospective members to staff and other Y members, in general, serve as a welcoming committee and information center one on one with people.

"In exchange for this volunteer service," noted Volunteer Coordinator Vivian Kayler, "the YMCA looks forward to providing opportunities for personal growth and satisfaction for Ambassador Club participants." Interested individuals joining at this time can help to formulate just what they would like to do and be in on the planning of a new program. New ideas are welcome.

Contact Vivian Kayler at the Kosciusko Community YMCA at 269-YMCA for further information.

OUR WORK AND PRAYERS HAVE CREATED
THE LIFE WE ENJOY

Religion teaches us to earn our bread
By using hands and brains to get ahead.
In offices and factories we toil,
In cities, or on farms we till the soil.
Because of what we've done in our careers
To earn our livelihood throughout the years,
Our system of free enterprise indeed
Became a model for the world to head.
Our House of Worship's messages explain
That work we do will never be in vain;
And if we've learned the lesson they convey,
Then we can celebrate this Labor Day.

Gonzales and Freedom Sound here this week

Evangelist Frank Gonzales is scheduled to be at Akron Grade School Gymnasium Saturday, September 30 at 6:00 p.m.

Frank Gonzales has been conducting evangelistic crusades for 26 years in North and Central America. He has traveled extensively throughout the world, and has obtained a Masters Degree from Bob Jones University. His life took a dramatic turn from the Hollywood world of entertainment to a dynamic, evangelistic ministry, following a two-year bout with tuberculosis.

Mr. Gonzales had been traveling for the past 18 years with a group of vibrant young people called FREEDOM SOUND. They present the Gospel in churches, prisons, nursing homes, and in plazas. Also, they go into schools with a Drug Abuse Program that has been instrumental in causing many young people to turn from a world of drugs, alcohol, and confusion, to an abundant life in Jesus Christ. Their medium is music coupled with a sharing of personal experiences, some as drug and alcohol users. In addition to church services, school drug assemblies, personal soul-winning on the street, radio and TV programs, the Frank Gonzales Evangelistic Association has built an Orphanage in Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico. There, abandoned children are loved, cared for, and taught, both academically and spiritually.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

Within the last year two important changes have happened in regard to Ambulance service in the Mentone area.

The first change is to have our Ambulance be dispatched by calling 353-7255 which is the same number as the Mentone Police and is answered by the Kosciusko Co. Sheriff's office which dispatches the Ambulance. The reasoning behind this change is to be in the system when the whole county changes to the 911 emergency system in the near future. Also one phone call will bring both an Ambulance and the Police to the scene of any accident regardless of the location. The number is not correct in the new phone book. Go to your new phone book and change the number inside the cover and page 37 to 353-7255.

The second change is that we are encouraged by the Medical staff at Kosciusko Community Hospital and other area medical facilities to call for Paramedic assist in some situations so medications and IV's can be given patients before they reach the hospital. Four-way Ambulance is a basic life support Ambulance manned by volunteers. The Paramedics are the only ones who can give medications, intravenous fluids and other procedures that a basic life support Ambulance like ours cannot provide. Paramedics have more training than basic E.M.T.'s and work as a team with the E.M.T.'s to help give the patient a chance of survival without additional problems. In severe situations of trauma or possibility of shock, the Mentone E. M. T.'s have adopted a policy calling for Paramedic assist. The following are some of the situations involved: rapidly falling blood pressure, severe loss of blood, heart attack, and severe abdominal, chest or head injuries. So when someone you love is ill and the E.M.T.'s call for a Paramedic assist, it just means they are trying to give the patient the best chance to survive a life threatening medical problem or injury.

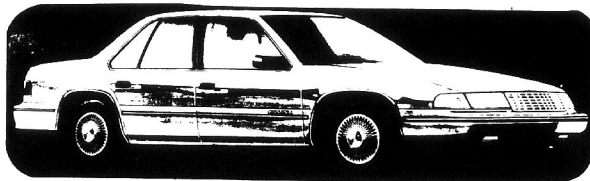

We hope this information helps the community understand that our volunteer E.M.T.'s are trying to help the sick and injured in the best way.
