Renovations at KCH

Renovation at Kosciusko Community Hospital for improved patient care has been completed in one area and progress continues for other departments. One-half of the fourth floor of the hospital has been completely remodeled and updated, and patients are now occupying those rooms.

Improvements include thoroughly modern decor, carpeted hallways, changes in lighting, new furniture, new and larger patient televisions, recessed nursing modules (formerly out in the hallways) and increased patient storage.

The surgical patients on fourth floor have been moved into the new rooms, and the remainder of fourth floor will also be remodeled this fall.

Following this, present third floor patient rooms will be moved up to the fourth floor, and third floor rooms will then be renovated.

Director of Plant Operations Tom Traversa says, "We are also past the programming stage and into planning for a new physicians' office building, renovation of the Obstetric department, cafeteria, physical therapy and associated areas."

The KCH administration anticipates more efficient use of staff and facilities which in turn mean improved patient care upon completion of this multi-phase construction project.

Atwood Parents Protest "No Transfer Policy"-A group of parents from the Atwood area who protested the "no transfer" policy of the Tippicanoe Valley School Corporation attempted to enroll their children in the Atwood Grade School Tuesday morning.

The local school board voted last December to grant no more transfers and has begun a building program designed to ease the load the Atwood students will create at the Mentone school. The junior high students from that area will attend school at Talma.

The Atwood group has appealed to the Commission on General Education of the State of Indiana concerning the no transfer decision, and the hearing will be heard on Friday, Sept. 9, according to attorney Samuel Henderson who is representing that group. The group is primarily composed of the parents of children who had previously received transfers to the Warsaw school district.

Farm Fire Results In Heavy Loss-A fire of undetermined origin destroyed two large barns, a garage, scale house, hog house and small shed on the Charles Hoffman farm (tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Huffman and family), south of Talma, Aug. 22. The fire started about 6 p.m. and was brought under control by the Rochester fire department over a two hour battle. Included in the estimated $10,000 loss was 30 tons of hay, eight tons of straw, 35 head of hogs and a young calf. A sanding machine, owned by the state highway department, was also destroyed. Firemen prevented the residence from burning.

Miraculously Escapes As Car Is Demolished-Jack Shinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shinn, managed, by some trick of fate, to escape with only minor cuts and bruises when his car skidded on the wet pavement near No. Manchester Saturday night. The car skidded into a telephone pole, rolled over a number of times and ended up a total wreck.

A belt Jack was wearing, made of hooked spring steel, was entirely ripped in two at the back while the wearer had only a couple of scratches. The car lost the decision on a technical KO.

Mentone Business of the Week

Karen Francis, Office Manager/Customer Representative for Mentone's Lake City Bank Branch, has been with the bank since its opening in Mentone, January, 1984.

Lake City Bank

by Leafy Hudson

A branch of Lake City Bank, headquartered in Warsaw, has served the Mentone community's savings investment and lending needs for over seven years.

Originally a Warsaw institution, Lake City was founded in 1872 by James McMurray. It is the third oldest bank in Indiana.

Charlie Smith, familiar to local football fans as Tippecanoe Valley's former football coach, was the Mentone Branch's first Office Manager when it opened in January, 1984.

Those were exciting days for Mentone people. Aghast at losing their winning football coach, they were also fascinated to think of him as the new banker in town.

Another exciting aspect of the new bank was its location. It was housed on land formerly owned by the North Central Co-op, in an old laundromat building. A thorough renovation and facelift brightened up the Main and Morgan streets corner. But, the "piece de resistance" was Mentone's big egg, which came to them with the building. A curiosity to travelers through town, as well as a source of pride for Mentone residents since its erection many years earlier, bank officials had the egg repainted, superimposing a full egg basket over a map of Indiana, and landscaped attractively. The tender loving care lavished on Mentone's unique egg transformed it into a spot of beauty, commanding even more attention than it had previously.

In 1986, Charlie Smith was transferred to Warsaw, where he now holds the position of Assistant Vice President of Commercial Loans. The new manager was Phil See, also a former coach, who held the job until a year ago, when he returned to coaching.

Upon Coach See's resignation, Karen Francis, who had been with The Mentone Branch since its opening, and had been chosen to manage the new branch opening in Akron, was promoted instead to Office Manager/Customer Service Representative in Mentone. Karen says she was pleased to be able to stay in Mentone. She already had good business relations in the community, and, although she is aware a few customers, especially older men, find it hard to trust a women bank manager, most people have been very accepting of her.

Ever expanding for the past several years, Lake City's Mentone Branch was its seventh. With the nearly completed acquisition of branches in Argos and Bremen, they now have eighteen branches in a seven county area.

Since its opening, Lake City's Mentone Branch has continued to grow. To date they have opened 2,083 deposit accounts here.

Karen attributes the bank's success in part to their friendly employees. They have an in-service program for employees every two weeks to help them become acquainted and to keep them current on new banking regulations.

Lake City Bank and Mentone's Farmer's State Bank are unique in being the only independently owned banks in Kosciusko County. Karen says, "We have branched out into smaller towns because we are locally owned. We have no far away, parent company upon whom we have to depend to make banking decisions for people who would be strangers to them—people we know. Also, our customers don't have to wait long for answers to questions. We don't have to go through a three-day process, through a parent city bank, to retrieve a check if a customer needs it."

For these reasons, Karen believes Lake City Bank will remain in Mentone as an independent bank for years to come. "Most people trust us," she says. Our staff is trained to know our products and to help customers by being able to answer questions."

Karen, active in sports in high school, graduated from Tippecanoe Valley in 1983. She was a member of the tennis team, volleyball manager, football secretary, in Sunshine Society and in OEC.

As a local banker, she had been active in the Mentone Chamber of Commerce, worked with Junior Achievement, Leukemia Society and is currently Southern Communities Leader for Kosciusko County United Way.

She plays on the Lake City Bank Women's Golf Team and coed volleyball team. She and husband, Jerry, keep two horses for pleasure riding.

Karen likes her job very much and says banking has its lighter moments. She laughs about the day, early in her banking career, when she set the time-locks on the vault wrong. "The next day it was impossible to open the vault and Charlie had to go to Warsaw to get money, money orders and cashiers checks to operate the bank. I vowed never to set the locks myself again," she laughs.

About Mentone, Karen says, "The poultry industry has made a big difference in making Mentone and keeping it going. But, we need more industry. There's always room for more growth. And Mentone residents need to patronize the businesses that are here if they expect to keep them here."

Karen adds, "I like working in Mentone. It's a typical friendly home town and we like to keep that type of family relationship with our customers. It's the personal touch that makes a difference."

Scenes Around Town

by Leafy Hudson

Working on the Chamber of Commerce Board has been a satisfying privilege and an enlightening experience I'm truly enjoying.

Rita Price Simpson and I put our heads together the other day and came up with some facts we'd like to share with everyone.

"The Mentone Chamber is different from a city chamber," Rita said. "We're not in a position to solicit business because we can't compete by offering tax rebates, free water or free land. But, we have some excellent commercial buildings available right now, and if any business is interested, we will get information to them and we're willing to help as much as possible."

Fund raising is the main function of Mentone's chamber and all the money raised is then returned to the community.

"Someone in a small community like ours has to provide a focal point to keep the community on the status quo or it will slip into oblivion," Rita said. And she believes the chamber fulfills that role, working as a catalyst between the various philanthropic organizations in town.

Two annual projects of the chamber are the Mentone Community Fair Stand and the Egg Festival. The fair stand gets community people working together successfully to earn money which is used to benefit the whole community. It takes a minimum of 180 people to run all shifts at the fair, not including the Saturday and Sunday before. We've had a tremendous response from people not members of the chamber. Even though fair attendance was down this year, our revenue was up. This was our best year of profit, in excess of $5000.

The Egg Festival, growing every year, not only raises funds, provides fun excitement, and an air of festivity for the populace, but also presents an opportunity for school clubs, church groups and our many other non-profit organizations to raise money for their projects.

Some benefactors of the chamber's money raising efforts in recent years have been: Mentone Firemen, EMT's, Bell Museum and Mentzer Park. The proceeds of the fair stand for the past two years bought $7000 worth of Christmas decorations for Main Street. Since the Kiwanis disbanded, the chamber has assumed their project of buying hams for Helping Hands to distribute to the needy at Christmas and Easter. Each fall the chamber sponsors the Halloween celebration at the school, the Christmas open house and Santa Claus downtown. Later we sponsor, the Mentone-Burket Basketball Game. This year, in conjunction with the Mentone United Methodist Church, we honored Doc and Arleida Wilson with a reception upon their retirement.

Besides the usual donations to community groups this year, chamber members have decided to help with one of the newest proposed projects, the gazebo in the park.

Any non-profit group in the community who has a project under consideration is welcome to make a proposal at our meetings, held on the third Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in Valley Furnishings.

Also, all businesses, as well as private citizens, in town are welcome to join. The dues, though only a small part of our budget (we keep them low so everyone can join), are still important. But, more important is the need for participation from every business and concerned citizen in town.

We need your great, new ideas. Every member is eligible to serve on the board and have a voice in how we raise money and how we spend it. It's our community, a great community, but it will take all of us to keep it that way.

Charlie Mills Takes Helm at TVHS

by Tonia Weller

"I think it would be a little premature to list things I'd like to change. I want to give everything an opportunity to work," says Tippecanoe Valley's new high school principal Charles Mills. "Things were working here before I came, and although I may have some slightly different views on some subjects, I don't want to fix things that aren't broken. Tippecanoe Valley has about 200 more students and some additional programs than Central Noble and I'm looking forward to the challenges!"

Although he has only been with the Valley school system a few weeks, Charlie Mills is not really new to this area. He was raised on a farm near Roann, only about 18 miles from the high school, and his mother, Lucille Mills, still lives there. He attended school in Roann through 11th grade and then graduated, in 1963, from the consolidated Northfield High School.

After graduating from Huntington College in 1967, Mills began teaching summer school biology at Central Noble, near Albion, and remained with that school corporation for 24 years. During that time he taught U.S. History, sociology and other social studies courses including his favorites, government and economics.

In 1972, he became curriculum director in addition to his teaching duties, and about ten years ago was named assistant principal. In 1988, Mills was promoted to principal, but since a new assistant principal was not named, he continued those duties as well as teaching two government classes.

Even though this is the first change in school systems Mills has had in his education career, he has no regrets about leaving Central Noble. "I learned a great deal and the corporation was very good to me," he says. "I still have many friends there, but I felt the time had come for me to make a professional move."

Mills and his wife, Sharon, who is a pre-school teacher, have been married 25 years. They have three children. Their 23 year old son, Jeff, recently graduated from Ball State and is now an insurance adjuster in Evansville. Their daughter, Michelle, 21, is a senior at Manchester College and Scott, 19, is a senior at Central Noble High School.

The Millses will continue to live in Albion until their home there is sold. Then they plan to move to the Tippecanoe Valley area, probably in a rural setting. "I guess I'm sort of a private person in some respects. I'm not really interested in having my neighbors on top of me. I'm more of a rural oriented person," Mills says. "I need to be accessible. I expect to be involved and active as far as going to the extracurricular activities as much as possible. I'm very much in touch with the community and people."

In Albion, Mills was an active member of Toastmasters International, working his way up to Competent Toastmaster, and was very involved with the Junior Achievement organization. In 1988, he won a Foellinger Foundation Award and a fellowship to Colorado Springs for excellence in economic education associated with Jr. Achievement. "I'm really very proud of that!" he says. "I really appreciate that I was selected from a very large number of economic teachers in Northern Indiana for this award."

Mills and his family also attend the Marion Christian Chapel. When he's able to find the spare time, Mills enjoys fishing and he keeps a couple of bee hives. "I'm an outdoor oriented person," he explains. Traveling is another pastime he enjoys, especially in the eastern and southern parts of the U.S.

Summing up his philosophy on education, Mills says, "I believe the learning process is a life long activity. I feel we are all students to some degree throughout life and teachers especially should model this philosophy. This thought leads me to the following two personal beliefs: As good as we are, we can always be better. Programs do not improve until people improve."

Mills feels an administrator must serve as a role model. "My goals as a high school principal are to maintain a strong curriculum and teaching staff with high expectations. I want to work with people. I don't want to be 'the boss' although I know I have to do that sometimes. I believe a good administrator must be competent, cooperative, in control, exhibit good communication skills and be caring," he says adding, "I try!"

Tippecanoe Valley High School's new principal Charles Mills is making every effort to attend as many extracurricular activities as possible, in spite of his long daily commute from his home in Albion. "I intend to be involved, when there's a football or volleyball game, I'll be there," he says. Mills is looking forward to getting to know his students and their parents. (News Photo).

The controversy over the building of a combined middle school is a subject Mills can relate to. "I lived through the process of consolidation twice, once as a student when Northfield was formed and again, as a teacher, when Albion and Wolf Lake consolidated into Central Noble. I know the concerns of small communities when they feel a loss of identity. I haven't really been here long enough to hear all the pros and cons of the local situation," Mills says cautiously. But he does feel that in general there are certain advantages to a single middle school.

"At the high school level, there are so many social activities. Certainly, if the students can be brought together before reaching that degree, it will be a more cohesive group (as ninth graders) than it would be otherwise. I think it makes a more efficient operation. I really feel with the proximity of the communities (Akron and Mentone) and the fact that the elementary schools will always be maintained there, I really don't feel they will lose their identity."

Mills approves of Valley's new policy of administering random drug tests to athletes. "Athletes and people involved in other extracurricular activities serve as representatives of the school. Sports are a privilege, not a requirement." He also added, "I wouldn't even have a problem with the staff and administration be involved with the testing, as far as that's concerned."

In order to help their children become better students Mills encourages parents to "take time to communicate with their kids. Ask questions and show an interest. Kids will show an interest in things if their parents are interested. But it has to start at an early age."

Mills is very pleased with the warm welcome he has received and is looking forward to working with the community. "People have been very friendly!" he says. "I feel like we're off to a very good start!"

Thank You

It is so hard to know how to begin a thank you such as this. We will start with our appreciation for all the love and concern that was shown to us during George's eight year battle with manic depression and diabetes. Words can never express how very much your caring has helped us during his illness and death.

Our special thanks for the outpouring of love from the many people with food, calls, prayers, visits and offers of help. Also thanks to the people that waited in line (some 3 hours), to those who couldn't wait and called or sent cards, the memorial given and the beautiful flowers.

May God Bless all of you.

Holcslaw assumes duties, bans short skirts, long hair-Ernest Holcslaw has assumed his duties as principal of the Mentone School after having been principal at the DeMott school for the past two years.

The veteran educator has begun his new assignment by outlining a list of rules and regulations that forbid boys wearing their hair long and limits the length of girls' dresses and skirts to one inch above the knee.

Mr. Holcslaw said that anyone violating the rules will be expelled from school. He said he feels Mentone has a fine school system with good teaching and that it can be kept that way with the co-operation of parents and students.

Included in the list of rules is a rule that says boys' pants with loops should have a belt and should not be too tight. Girls with skirts that are too short will be taken to the home economics room where the home ec teacher will measure the distance from the hem of the girl's skirt to the floor while the girl is in a kneeling position.

Cars will be permitted for students living outside the town of Mentone or students participating in extra-curricular events. As soon as the event taking place is finished, driving privileges also stop.

Students will be dismissed by the teacher, not by the bell, and all students in the hall during class time must have passes.

Other regulations outlined include further driving and parking rules and the stipulation that any student who has been absent must bring an excuse from his parents telling the reason for his absence.

Mr. Holcslaw is currently staying with Mrs. Eve Laird. His family will move here from Monon at the end of October and they will live in the Robert Hoover home north of Mentone.

B.U.G. at Mentone School

To promote good behavior in hallways, cafeteria, restrooms and places other than the regular classroom, the Mentone Elementary School is implementing a positive behavior program called the B.U.G. program. B.U.G. stands for Being Unusually Good.

In order to be eligible for the prize drawing on Friday, a student must be given a B.U.G. Coupon sometime during the previous week. Every Friday this year, 20 students will receive a small prize as a reward for their good behavior.

The teachers in grades K-5 are all excited and happy to be able to look for students displaying good behavior rather than watching for misbehavior. They hope the B.U.G. program will be fun and exciting for everyone involved.

Scenes Around Town

by Leafy Hudson

Fall is almost here. Some of the birds have already deserted us for warmer climates and we'll soon bid goodbye to our Florida-bound friends. The days are shorter and the kids are back in school, leaving the neighborhood ghostly quiet until they erupt from the schoolhouses with their merry cries of freedom each afternoon.

This year, several of our neighbor kids are being home schooled. A phenomenon just a few years ago, it is a method that has caught on quickly throughout the country. Lots of families believe their children benefit from the quiet atmosphere and individual attention derived from lessons conducted by a parent in their home. They welcome the avoidance of confusion and the discipline problems that naturally accompany the togetherness of many students under the same roof.

Public school officials generally cooperate with the home school concept, sharing school resources with the home schoolers and sometimes including them in special activities.

Parents of home schoolers often band together for shared field trips and other experiences, giving the students a sense of belonging, which they might otherwise miss.

It's always looked to me like a huge responsibility for a parent to assume and I admire anyone willing to tackle it.

As a trained teacher, having studied the advantages and disadvantages of home schooling, I've never decided for sure if I approve or disapprove. The results, for better or worse, must depend for the most part on each individual family involved. But, I remember how surprised I was when discussing home schooling recently with my own third and fourth grade teacher, a retired lady who spent her entire working life in the public schools. Since retirement, she has continued to teach as a volunteer where she sees a need. She feels, from her own observations, that home schooling is perhaps the best way for parents to go.

I'm sure a decisive verdict won't be in for many years yet, but my hat is off to those parents willing to spend so much time and dedicated effort to benefit their children.

BIRTH: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fisher, Claypool, a daughter.
Monday, September 9
ADMISSIONS: Linda C. Hershberger, Claypool.

DISMISSALS: Donna L. Fisher, and son, Claypool; James A. Brazo, Mentone; Linda C. Hershberger, Claypool.

4-H volunteer fall conference and round table

Opportunity is the name of the game this fall for adult volunteer 4-H leaders. Opportunity will come in the form of 4-H leader round tables and an area 4-H leaders' conference.

These opportunities are being made available to volunteer 4-H leaders because of the imperative role that they play in the 4-H program. Adult volunteers are essential to 4-H because they are the vehicle by which 4-H is extended to our youth through local 4-H clubs.

4-H Leader Round Tables are for all 4-H leaders in Kosciusko County. The leader round tables are being designed to allow leaders to gain new educational and recreational ideas for their 4-H clubs, to share their ideas and concerns, to learn more about the important role that they play in our program and to gain new knowledge in working with our youth. The leader round tables will be held on October 8 at the Milford Community Building, October 24 at the Burket United Methodist Church and October 29 at the Piercetown Community Building. Each session will begin at 7:00 p.m. Leaders are encouraged to attend a round table that is convenient for them.

The 1991 Area 10 4-H Leaders' Conference will provide the opportunity for 4-H leaders to gain practical ideas, skills and activities that they can take back and utilize with their 4-H youth. The conference will be on November 22 and 23 at the Holiday Inn and Kesling Jr.

High School in LaPorte. The keynote speaker at the conference will address effective youth programming, communicating with youth and teambuilding. Along with the great ideas gained from the keynote speaker, leaders will have an opportunity to attend three (3) skill sessions and share experiences with other leaders during the conference activities. All leaders interested in attending the conference must register with the Extension Office by Friday, October 11.

Leaders are encouraged to take advantage of these opportunities to learn more about working with other 4-H leaders and to recharge themselves to meet the demands of another great year of 4-H work.

Visitors from England

Rochester, Indiana, has had a special connection with Rochester, England, since 1978 when a group came to perform at the Round Barn Festival, bringing their version of British humor in the form of Western Saddle Club skits.

The group visited from England again in 1981. They asked for a Hoosier group to come to England and perform in their Charles Dickens Festival.

So in 1984 the Rochester Heymakers, a historic dance troupe created by Jean Sandos Clements and Shirley Willard, flew to England and completed the circle by establishing lasting friendship on both sides of the ocean.

This year visitors from England will come to attend the Trail of Courage. Sam and Mavis Irons will be the houseguests of Kathryn Hahnert, Athens. They will arrive Sept. 18 and stay until Oct. 2.

Kathryn and her daughter, Lou, were members of the Rochester Heymakers and stayed in the Irons home in 1984. John Reed, Rochester, was also a Heymaker and stayed in the Irons house.

Sam was in the Royal Marines for 13-1/2 years, then was a postal executive and retired a couple of years ago.

Mavis was a WREN (nurse) in World War II. She later became a medical receptionist.

They have two sons and a daughter, and five grandchildren.

Sam's hobby is lawn bowling. Mavis likes to knit and raise flowers and vegetables.

The Irons live in Chatham, one of the five historic towns that, along with Rochester, make up the modern city of Medway, England.

Lou Hahnert is a supervisor at Robertson Transformer. Her mother, Kathryn, is retired.

The Irons will be honored at the Fulton County Museum on Friday, Sept. 20, at the same time as Marcia Rudolph, daughter of Elmo Lincoln, the first Tarzan.

There will be a reception from 2 to 5 p.m. and a carry-in supper at 6:30. At 7:30 p.m. a 1920 Tarzan movie starring Elmo Lincoln will be shown. The public is invited.

My Column-Indiana's aluminum drive netted 380,000 pounds of scrap, which was transferred last Tuesday to the U.S. Treasury. The amount collected represents about one pound for every nine persons in the state. It was estimated that 63 big army pursuit planes could be built with the Indiana collection.

My Column-The Club of Immortals-

I wonder if that is a penthouse

On top of Orchestra Hall?

With awnings over French windows

That's where the ghosts of the Masters, Beethoven, Mozart, and Bach,

And Schubert and Wagner are dwelling, (their names are inscribed on the block).

They sit in a spiritual circle, each keeping time with his toe.

They listen with pride and rapture to their music conducted below.

Sometimes when a straining musician's Rendition is just a bit trite,

They sigh longingly for the baton To draw out the cadences right you see, with the noise of the bombing, And all the upheaval of war,

Europe has no heart for music-The beautiful music of yore.

So all of the spirits booked passage On the flying Dutchman's yawl,

And now they are happily living In the penthouse on Orchestra Hall.

Politics, by the Editor-A man who cast his first vote in Akron in 1892 was in town last Saturday looking up acquaintances. Mr. E. H. Trickle of Carlton, Washington, formerly lived southeast of Athens, and took advantage of a visit to Laketon to come over and look the place over where he first voted, forty-nine years ago. He asked about Del Whitcomb, George Rowe and Gilbert Nye, and mentioned the Hartman and Goltry families.

My Column, by the Editors Wife-Add this to your list of jokes, puzzles, quizzes, etc., (this is submitted for our city readers.)

Write down your house number. Double it.

Add five.

Multiply by fifty.

Add your age. (Don't Cheat). Add 365.

Subtract 615.

In the result, you will find that your house number is at the left and your age to the right.

SNWC NEWS, published weekly by the junior class, Mentone High School-Spare Time at the Army Camp-One evening while the boys were in their tents someone came along the outside of the tents yelling, "Turn on your radio. F.D.R. is on the air." Of course, all the boys turned on their radios to hear the President talk.

Edgar Igo, First Lieutenant, turned on the radio in his tent to hear the President's speech.

President Roosevelt said, "There will be no more war, because yesterday afternoon Hitler was killed."

"All of the buck privates will go home in the next week or two, but officers will not get to go home for one or two years. Good night, ladies and gentlemen."

First Lieut. Igo was extremely downcast.

The next morning all of the boys were talking about when they would go home. Some of the boys wrote home telling that Hitler had been killed and the war was over and that they would be home soon.

Then someone told one of the officers that two in Company K had a short-wave sending set. They also told the officer that a boy took the part of F.D.R. on the radio.

When the officer heard this he began to check and he found the radio set in the boy's tent.

So, all over the south they heard that Hitler was killed and the war was over.

Now the boys are spending their time in the guard house.

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE FLAMING COLORS OF AUTUMN

When summer's heat has taken flight,
The frost descending in the night
Will paint the trees with colors bright,
That morning will unfold;
And coming with the cooler days,
In keeping with this yearly phase,
The sight of branches all ablaze
Is awesome to behold.
On countryside or in the town,
Those leaves that later fade to brown
Proclaim, as they come drifting down,
The year is growing old.
Our House of Worship's lessons show
The love of God, that we should know
From autumn's beauty, all aglow
With shades of red and gold.

Who's Who in Mentone

by Leafy Hudson

Frank and Mildred, "Mid," Meredith, retired farmers, have many happy memories of the years they followed their shared love of music, expressed through their own dance band.

Frank, who was born on the Meredith farm, three miles southwest of Mentone, started playing the trumpet at age six. "My mother played the piano and taught music," he says. "She started teaching me and I took up the trumpet really quick."

"I was always in the school orchestra at Talma," Frank remembers. "They always had good orchestras at Talma in those days."

Frank's first teacher, after his mother, was Harry Broshur, of Summit Chapel. "He led a community band in Mentone many years ago. I played in his band two years."

Other jobs followed. When he was sixteen, Frank applied to Charlie Beigh for his Argos Band. Charlie invited him to rehearsal and after hearing him play, immediately hired him.

Then Kenny Bernard of Argos formed a dance band with Frank on trumpet. From there, Frank went to Trib Biddinger's band. "I started out playing for $3.00 a night," he remembers. "When I got up to $10.00, I thought I was rich."

Mildred, a native of Akron, started playing at three years of age. Since her family owned no piano, she would set her music book on the back of a chair and "play" on the chair seat. The neighbors made fun of her, but her mother solved that by simply moving her chair where they couldn't see her. The trustee came to her rescue. When he would hear the jingling bells on her tricycle as she started downtown to see her father at work (which she wasn't supposed to do) he would take her to his home to play his piano.

Before she started to school, Mid's grandparents bought a player piano and she picked up music from that. Finally, when she was nine, her parents got a piano. After that she had a few lessons, but, "I don't think they did much good. I never could read music as fast as I played it." Mid played piano and organ for the Methodist Church for seven years.

Following graduation from Akron High School, Mid studied music two and a half years at Manchester College. "But then the Depression hit and many public schools eliminated their music teachers, so I left college."

Mid didn't leave music though. She gave piano lessons to as many as 25 students and she formed her own six-piece band. She has two saxes, one trumpet player, one drummer and a singer, with herself on piano or organ.

A friend arranged a blind date for Frank and Mid, and "it came to marriage from that" in 1934. Although, as a married couple, they were busy farmers on Frank's childhood farm home, for three years they continued playing in separate bands.

But, that "got to be too hectic." So, together, they joined Tiny Williams' Band of Wabash. One of the area's most popular band leaders, they recall Tiny, who stood 6'11" and weighed 595 pounds, as a comedian as well as a musician. One night, in the LaFontaine Hotel, someone bet him a dollar he couldn't jump up and kick out an overhead lightbulb. "He won the bet," they laugh.

Frank and Mid played with Tiny Williams' band eight years, until his tragic death. Then, having discovered son Jim, 12 years old, was a natural drummer, they formed "Jimmy Meredith and His Band," a group that would continue playing all over Indiana for 39 years.

"We imitated the big bands," says Frank. "And we saw them all." Jan Garber, Henry Busse, Clyde McCoy, Glenn Miller, Wayne King, Fletcher Henderson, Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway were just a few of their mentor bands.

"Hot Lips" and "Sugar Blues" were two of the songs they remember. Mid says, "'Stardust' was always my favorite." But for the most part, they don't recall the titles. "We just played the songs," Frank says. "I don't know now how we did it. It just came naturally."

It was a real triumph of spirit when daughter Mitzi, who suffered polio at age six, joined the band as a dancer. She and partner, Brook Black (Brook on roller skates) augmented the music with a dancing floor show.

One evening, playing at an Akron Junior-Senior Reception, son Jim met Akron senior Orabelle and the rest, as they say, is history. "After a break we couldn't find Jim," Mid laughs. "He was off in a corner with Orabelle." About a year later they were married and Orabelle joined the band permanently as a singer.

One exciting night the Merediths remember occurred in North Webster. Someone rushed into the hall shouting there had been a murder. A woman's body had been discovered across the street from where they were playing.

"We never had nay trouble getting bookings," Frank remembers. "We could always go back and play again. Everything always went smoothly. We never had a dime's worth of trouble."

As time went on, the Merediths didn't care for the changing trends in popular music. "And we were getting old," Frank says. "It was getting harder to carry the organ up and down stairs." So, booked full for two years ahead, they decided, after fulfilling those commitments, they would quit.

"I was very sad about quitting," Mid remembers. That was fourteen years ago. Since then, Frank no longer plays at all, but Mid says, "I still play here at home. Mitzi had retired from dancing before her marriage and Jim and Orabelle didn't care to continue the band without his parents. So, one of the area's most popular dance bands ever became a part of local history."

Today, Frank and Mid reside on Franklin Street in Mentone, in the same stately brick house his parents retired to when he took over the farm. Jim and Orabelle took over the family farm, and daughter, Mitzi Savage, lives in Rochester. They have five grandchildren.

Only one of their younger generation, Mitzi's daughter, Lisa McMillan, has followed in their footsteps. Lisa, an excellent singer, is a music teacher in the Rochester schools.

Frank and Mid are concerned for the future of Mentone, and have high hopes for the success of the new town board members, yet to be elected.

Meantime, they enjoy reminiscing with their many musical memories of their own dance band in days gone by.

Jim Meredith was just twelve years old when he and his parents formed "Jimmy Meredith and His Band."

The Meredith's daughter, Mitzi, along with roller skating partner Brook Black, added an extra attraction to their band for several years.

The 16th annual Forks of the Wabash Pioneer Festival will be held Sept. 28 and 29 at Hier's Park on the southeast edge of Huntington.

The festival offers lodges and encampments of Native Americans, trappers and traders, as well as Pioneer Village and Olde Towne where authentically garbed demonstrators portray life from the past. A highlight this year will be an 1850s wedding. A local couple has volunteered to be married during the festival, and the bride and groom, attendants, and guests will all wear vintage clothing during the ceremony. A reception under a tree, complete with cake and cider, will follow the ceremony, which takes place at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28.

Other attractions include more than 120 craft booths, displays of antique and classic vehicles, a fiddle contest on Saturday and a banjo contest Sunday, a working gasoline-powered sawmill, old-time children's activities, and plenty of food booths from the past and the present.

Festival hours are from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 29. Before the festival officially opens Sunday, two worship services are scheduled. At 8 a.m., a local pastor will conduct a service in which he portrays evangelist Charles Wesley. An old-time Catholic mass will follow at 9:30 a.m.

Admission is $1 each day, and children under 5 are admitted free. Ample free parking is available in staffed lots adjacent to the park.

Hier's Park is located on Briant Street, just off South Jefferson Street. Signs will direct visitors to the park.

The Forks of the Wabash Pioneer Festival is sponsored by the Huntington North High School Junior Historical Society, Phi Chapter of Psi Iota Xi Sorority, and Friends of the Festival. Proceeds from the event are used for community projects, including upkeep of the historic Chiefs' House in Huntington. The house, built at the Forks of the Wabash and Little Rivers, served as headquarters of the Miami Indians from 1833 to 1847. The river forks marked the end of the Long Portage between the Great Lakes and Mississippi River, and served as a passageway for fur traders, explorers, missionaries, and military troops.

In memory of Ralph Eiler.

God saw you getting weary
He did what He thought best
He put His arm around you

One year ago today
You so gently passed away.

Thank You

Dear Friends,
Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece.
If so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

Our sincere thanks to each one of you.

Our hearts in lasting love,

Until we meet again.

Ruppel runs for House of Representatives

Wabash Dist. 1 County Councilman William "Bill" Ruppel announced that he will be a candidate in the 1992 republican primary for District 22 in the Indiana House of Representatives.

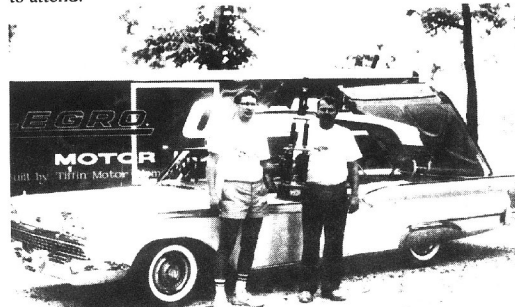

He is now serving in his second term on the Wabash County Council and will be seeking the seat that Kent Adams is leaving vacant when he runs for the State Senate in 1992.

Districts 22 includes most of Wabash County and parts of Kosciusko and Marshall counties.

Dave and Ed each had certain jobs they performed themselves and as a team. After stripping each part and replacing and making parts for the car, the difficult job of putting the car back together.

Akron Business of the Week

Store manager Jancene Clemons and owner Jerry Price will be adding an all-you-can-eat salad bar to the deli area of the Akron Mini Mart in the near future. (News Photo).

Akron Mini Mart

By Tonia Weller

"Fate had a little bit to do with my owning this business," says Jerry Price, owner of the Akron Mini Mart. "I had known the people who ran Tinkey Oil (who originally opened the mini mart, leasing the building from Mike Stephens). They had gotten into some financial difficulties. I grew up (in Warsaw) with one of the gals who managed the place. I was contacted about buying the business and had about 20 minutes to make a decision on saving the company and about 40 some employees' jobs."

At 32, Jerry is now president of Tinkey Oil, a wholesale distributor, and owner of the J.D.P. Corporation, which has convenience stores in Leesburg, South Whitley, Warsaw, Akron and plans to open two more. He employs a total of 45 people. In addition, Jerry is a wholesale distributor for carburetion equipment that converts vehicles to propane. He ships this equipment to seven states.

Concerning the Akron Mini Mart, Jerry says, "I'm a little bit old-fashioned when it comes to running a business. I believe in keeping a very clean place. We've got a lot of good local people working for us. I keep a hands on approach. I'm very involved in all aspects of the convenience store. I've even been known to cook or sweep the floor if need be." Jerry visits each of his stores two or three times every week.

Open 24 hours a day, the Akron Mini Mart offers a large selection of grocery, dairy and household items and features a hot and cold deli with baked goods and a homemade special each day. All the food is prepared in a full kitchen located in the downstairs portion of the building. "We have a good lunch crowd," Jerry says. "Our fish and chicken have been very popular." The delicious, fresh, homemade cinnamon rolls have also gone over very well with the breakfast crowd. Six bright, clean, modern booths are available for those who wish to dine in the mini-mart and all foods can be packaged for carry-out. The store also offers catering to the local factories.

On Sundays the mini mart serves a "more-than-you-can-eat" breakfast buffet, complete with French toast, scrambled eggs and biscuits and gravy. Within the next couple weeks they will be adding an all-you-can-eat salad bar for lunch and dinner.

The service station portion of the business provides a complete line of gasoline and other automotive products such as anti-freeze and oil. While all the gas pumps are self-service, Jerry says his employees are more than happy to pump the gas for customers when necessary, at no extra charge.

The store which employs 12 to 15 people is managed by Jancene Clemons. Jerry has been very impressed with his Akron employees. "Of all my stores, I have the least problems with this one. I have a great group working for me here. Especially the young kids, they are very responsible. Akron seems to be a very close community. The people all know each other and they work together very well."

Since taking over the business on May 13, 1991, Jerry has been trying to become a part of the community. "I'm not one to come into a community and take away," he says. "I also want to give back. I do my banking locally and I frequent the other businesses in town. Hopefully, we can help stir business in Akron, not take away. If another merchant has a strong business in a certain area, say pizza, I'll shy away from that. I want to get along with everyone," he adds.

After living in Wisconsin for several years, Jerry is enjoying being back in Indiana. The only thing he regrets is not getting to spend as much time with his children as he would like. His nine year old daughter and seven year old son still live in Wisconsin, but visit Jerry frequently at his home near Pike Lake in the Warsaw area. "I grew up around here and it's great to see people I knew as a kid!" he says. "But it's hard to be away from my kids." Jerry enjoys dancing, boating and other outdoor activities but says, "It seems like I spend most of my time working."

The term "convenience store" has some connotations which Jerry does not care for. "When people hear 'convenience store' they think two things—convenient and expensive. But our prices are very competitive. The convenience store business is a very tough business. I feel in order to succeed it needs to be run like a 'mom and pop' store. I'm a heavy believer in drawing people with a good product. And if there is something people would like us to carry that we're not, if they let us know, we'll try to get it for them. I also believe that if you treat your employees well, they'll do a good job for you. All the people I've met here have been very friendly. Akron is a very friendly town."

Jerry says he has no regrets concerning his decision to purchase the mini mart and he is very pleased to be a part of the Akron business community.

Dairy and Nutrition Council, Inc. is providing Akron School with two female albino laboratory rats to conduct a four-week animal feeding demonstration in the classroom.

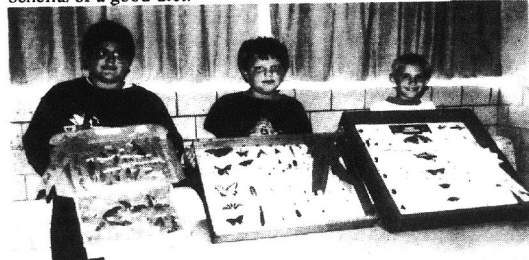

During this four-week period, the rats are fed identical nutritionally balanced diets with the exception of the control rat receiving milk and the experimental rat receiving a sweetened beverage.

Each week the rats are weighed and measured, allowing students to see for themselves how the different diets affect the rats' health and growth.

Students also follow along with a video tape program and various classroom activities.

In addition to the nutrition knowledge gained, the students learn to make growth charts, are introduced to and work with the metric system and accept the responsibility of the rats' care.

Dairy and Nutrition Council's live animal feeding demonstration is designed to help educate and emphasize the benefits of a good diet.

The Tippecanoe Valley FFA Organization has recently been involved in area Soils Judging Contests. Members on the team are Jennifer Lukens, daughter of Lincoln and Cathie Lukens; Josh Parker, son of Lynn and Diana Parker; Ryan Ladson, son of Dale and Lois Ladson; Mike Jones, son of Glen and Chris Jones; Charmae Vogel, daughter of Ned and Charlene Vogel; and Jamie Wallace, son of Jim and Linda Keim.

Soils Judging is the individual evaluation of soil according to "agricultural sites", those used for crop production and "homesites", those used to build homes on. In each category the teenagers determine the slope of the soil, the landform, flood hazard possibilities, colors of the soil, texture of the topsoil and subsoil, and the depth of limiting layers. Then the two different categories break down into further details. The agriculture sites then evaluate tillage systems, whether the area can be used as "prime farm ground", water management practices, chemical and fertility practices, forage management, and forest management. The homesite considers the overall sewer and septic systems, general site improvements, foundation improvements, and septic absorption practices.

For the Tri-County contest held on September 17, the TV team placed 7th of the 13 teams that participated from Kosciusko County alone. Mike Jones was the first place contestant for the TV team and Ryan Ladson placed second.

IT HAPPENED IN MENTONE TAKEN FROM THE NORTHERN INDIANA CO-OP NEWS SEPTEMBER 24, 1941 50 YEARS AGO

Local Doctor Officiates While Triplets Are Born-Dr. Urschel, of Mentone, was in attendance at Woodlawn hospital at Rochester last Saturday when triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Snipes, of Tippecanoe. All three were girls. The Snipes family included four boys and a girl had been desired.

The first daughter arrived at 11:20 a.m., the second at 12:22 p.m. and the third ten minutes later. It has been stated that this was the first triplets to be born in Fulton County in 76 years.

Dr. Urschel, in keeping the necessary medical records of the births, was referring to them as "A", "B" and "C" until they were named by the parents. He was somewhat surprised when he learned that the names chosen were Alice, Bernice and Catherine.

Mr. Snipes was aroused from his slumbers about three o'clock Sunday morning, we have been told, by a representative of a milk company that offered to furnish a year's supply of milk for the three girls in exchange for their pictures and the advertising publicity it would bring his firm.

Scenes Around Town

By Leafy Hudson

I so often think of the poem by 17th Century poet, John Donne, "No Man Is An Island," in connection with today's world.

Everything that happens in our society affects each of us whether we realize it or not.

Every divorce weakens the whole fabric of family life in our community. Every robbery and murder lowers our society just a little more. No one person is immune to the happenings around him.

Therefore, it also follows that every good deed strengthens our society. And there are many of those going on around us.

Linda Carr was talking to me the other day about one worthwhile organization that is probably known about by very few.

Linda's son, Robbie, 14, has multiple sclerosis, a result of a birth injury. Robbie is lovingly cared for by his family in their home and Linda feels he does better because of that.

Robbie lacks trunk control and has to wear a collar for support. In spite of his condition, Robbie exhibits lots of personality. He can say such simple things as "Dad" and (his favorite) "I wanta go."

Through Robbie's situation, Linda has become aware of an organization in Columbia City she would like more people to know about.

It's called "Respite," sponsored by "Passages" at Columbia City. The purpose of the Respite program is to train workers to relieve caregivers such as herself on a temporary basis. They provide the training necessary, and help schedule the trained personnel to be available as clients need them. The temporary care-givers can work on one time bases or can give regular relief to primary care-givers as needed.

Linda is available and eager to speak to groups about the Respite program.

Anyone interested in receiving this information is welcome to call her at 353-7438. Or they can send for information at this address:

Passages
445 South Line
P.O. Box 1005
Columbia City, IN. 46725
219-244-7688

It's a wonderful program designed to relieve people whose lives are given to care for someone else. It's another way to strengthen our community for the ultimate benefit of us all.
