Our Hands Are Tied--Let's Cut The Rope.

Many small communities do not progress as they should on account of existing petty jealousies.

Mentone is no exception and the little demon is as prevalent here as elsewhere. Why not resolve to banish it, It is merely a condition of the mind and can be uprooted. Let's adopt a loyal community spirit and wish all of our neighbors and competitors success—throw away the hammer and buy a horn and boost for the entire community and everyone in it. "Cut the Rope" that has tied our hands and let this community take a creditable place in the progress of business and civic affairs.

There is no reason why Mentone and the surrounding territory should not become a veritable "Garden Spot" of the earth. It is situated in one of the finest agricultural districts in the state, has beautiful homes, good roads, churches and schools, and the last report of the Farmer's Bank makes evident the fact that many citizens have a fair chance of wealth.

It only remains for our people to work together in harmony—cooperate—boost for each other and universal good and thereby place ourselves in a front row among the progressive towns in this state. Get the boosting habit. Everything will look brighter and everybody will feel better. Boost the community, boost your neighbors boost your friends even boost your enemies, and then boost some

It Was a Bad Mistake--Let'sTry and Remedy It.

A number of years ago when the Post Office Department established rural mail routes in this part of the state a number of citizens aid ed by their Post Master objected to routes leading out of Mentone and fought the Department so strenuously that the result was only one route leading out of this office where there should be at least three. This compelled people residing within a couple of miles of town to receive their mail from Warsaw, Burket, Glaypool, Akron, Etna Green and Rochester. In fact in almost any direction some other town has a route leading up to our back door, rendering it inconvenient for many people who would prefer getting their mail from a route leading out of Mentone. It is also a handicap to our business men amounting to a real damage.

Nearly everyone with whom we have discussed the subject seems to think this unjust heritage from Mentone's early business men can not be remedied. However we believe that it can be but it will take time and the co-operation of everybody in the community to bring about a change.

The first step to be taken as we have mapped it out is to double the revenue of the Post Office. Now we are not urging you to double your number of letters but we have outlined a plan that will accomplish that part and will not cost anyone the outlay of a penny.

There are about 600 families who get their mail from Mentone Post Office. Almost every family sends small amounts out of the community several times a year. If they will make a practice of paying these small bills—say everything under a dollar—with stamps (which of course should be purchased at the Mentone office) it will be an easy matter to double the revenue of the office.

When this is accomplished Mentone will be of sufficient importance to receive attention at Washington and with aid of our Congressman we believe we could accomplish our aim, for these mail routes could be routed to serve many more people and would cost the Government less.

Doubling the Post Office revenue would entitle Mentone to free delivery service which means a good position for someone.

Little things in the aggregate develop into great ones and if our people really want to see our community progress we believe no other cause would have greater effect than to get our share of the rural mail routes. It won't cost a cent to make a try. Just adopt the slogan "Pay with stamps" bought at Mentone and the rest will be easy.

Advice To Merchants

In a recent radio talk, a well known speaker had the following to say to the merchants of the small towns: "To any merchant who may be listening in—I have a word to advice. Do not GIVE your local newspaper a dollar. Instead—BUY twice as much advertising as you think you can afford for a period of one year, then watch your business grow.

"The newspaper is an accurate mirror of the town in which it is published. If your town is a live town, one that can meet the intense competition of today, the newspaper will be filled each issue with snappy invitations to trade at the various business places of the town. Your newspaper is your weekly contact with the people of your trade territory. Use it liberally and you will be surprised at the results. The merchants in any town where a real newspaper is published could afford to pay the subscription to the paper for every resident within 30 miles—they would get their money back many times over by increased contacts for their advertising message".

"Boost for your newspaper—it is always boosting the community—and the boost you give will pay you big dividends"

FOR PHILIPPINE DEVELOPMENT

By DWIGHT F. DAVIS, Philippine Governor General.

We hope to inaugurate a policy of solid commercial development in the Philippines. The Philippines need vocational training schools that will train their young men for important positions in business and industrial life. Their industries need encouragement and additional capital.

It is hoped, of course, that the industries will be developed as much as possible by Philippine capital, but assistance will have to come from this country. We propose making the conditions of labor and the opportunities for advancement as attractive as possible and believe that the people of the Philippines will take pride in working out the future industrial greatness of their enterprises. The Philippine leaders are in hearty accord with this program.

Can You Afford NOT to Fertilize Your Winter Wheat?

Can you afford to sell wheat for a dollar when it costs you $1.47 to produce it? If, however, you can grow winter wheat for 75c a bushel, there is a profit at a dollar, and a bigger profit in every cent above that price.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in an exhaustive survey on the costs of growing winter wheat, found that the cheapest wheat was produced where the largest amount of plant food was used. For example, when only 57c worth of plant food was used per average acre, the average yield was only ten bushels and the cost of production $1.47 per bushel. But where a larger amount af plant food was applied, valued at $1.10 per acre. the average yield was twentyeight bushels and the cost of production dropped to 74c a bushel. Figure how much you can cut your production cost if you build your acre yield up to thirty or thirty-five bushels.

Cut your cost of growing wheat by using an adequate application of Armour's High Analysis Fertilizer and make a handsome profit on your crop. Farmers who use Armour's High Analysis Fertilizers are assured of economy in growing wheat. We will help you in the selection of the most suitable BIG CROP fertilizer for winter wheat on your particular soil types. Please feel free to consult us.

Alligators grow very slowly and it is estimated that at fifteen years of age they are only two feet long; therefore, a twelve-footer may be reasonably supposed to be seventy-five years of age. The death of her husband, which occured May 6, 1922, apparently marked the beginning of her illness which during the past few months developed into progression paralysis which caused her to sleep quietly and peacefully away.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. A. I. Nelson, Mrs. Wm. Nye, Mrs. Oliver Grove, and two grandchildren, Kathryn Rose and Robert Eddinger Nelson. Also a large number of relatives and friends to mourn her departure.

She was indeed a kind and loving mother. Always thoughtful of others and hospitality was an outstanding characteristic her noble and useful life.

Profits From Waste

For many years there has been a distinct economic trend in industry and agriculture as shown by the increasing use of "waste products." All that this means is that there is less thrown away because, in the final outcome, it is hard to tell what a waste product is. It is merely something for which a use has not yet been found. In the packing industry waste products have solved the profit question in many instances. The former waste of sawmills is now utilized in many ways-even the sawdust being used for fuel or for wood distillates. The fragments of wood-packing cases, lumber ends, shorts, etc.—that formerly littered our cities have become the basis of quite a respectable industry in kindling and light wood. A distinct effort is being made to encourage development of new uses for farm products, now considered waste. They are not actually wasted but not much is realized out of them in the old way. Cornstalks are being utilized for making paper and other pulp products. Government engineers report that paper pulp can be made better and cheaper from cornstalks than from wood or cotton. Rice hulls are being utilized to make vegetable silk and other textiles, artificial leather, floor mops, radio receiver parts, smokeless powder, etc.

Rollyian law holds that all narticlpating in a crime involving murder are equally guilty. But it does not in every case call for the death of all concerned. La Paz reports an interesting case. A bandit and nine followers were caught after a raid on a village in which they killed persons and burned property. The leader is sentenced to death. So is one of the nine followers. The law does not name him. He will be selected by lot and the remaining eight will be compelled to watch the execution. One can imagine the intensity with which the nine will watch the drawing, says the New Orleans Item-Tribune. Death for the winner. Life for the losers. But is it more inhuman than the "game" played in this happy land? Is septence by lot more trying than the uncertainty of last-minute reprieves?

Nowadays nobody walks—everybody runs. If a man owns a car he finds difficulty in keeping within the speed limit. If he is held up by a red light, he waits impatiently for the change, and then breaks at the flash like a sprinter at the crack of the gun. If he has no automobile he runs for a street car, and piles into the first crowded one, regardless of the fact that there may be an empty one just behind. Everybody seems to be going somewhere in deadly fear that somebody else will get there ahead of him. What is needed is statistics as to what is done in time saved by all this speed, says the Toronto Telegram. And it is a good guess that nine out of ten of the speedsters simply save five minutes in order to tack it onto half an hour of loafing at the end of the trip.

And one of the funniest of all literary curiosities is the man or woman who, on the strength of having a single child, undertakes to tell the world how youngsters ought to be brought up. A parent of nine or ten wouldn't be nearly as cocksure, if he had time to write, which he generally doesn't, being too busy with other things.

"Another thing we must ask our bright young men is why they always prefer to slay people in the headlines instead of killing them."—Ohio State Journal. And we wish that while he is asking questions, the brother would also find out why they always, and eternally, insist upon "hurling a defi."

Woman is now so busily engaged in responsible husiness that it is difficult to understand the heroine of the old-fashioned novel, who was regarded as lacking in delicacy if she did not frequently look terrified and reach for the smelling salts.

King Tut was only a boy when compelled to wear a crown and golden earrings. No real boy of the present era would harbor a wish to exchange his Boy Scout suit even for such magnificent apparel.

When some notable cigarette indorser in baseball gets up this summer and fans, we guess the thing to yell will be, "Take off the bindfold, you bum!"

A list of the popular hosiery colors, just issued, includes such standard ones as Matchwood, Biscuit, Cinulbar, Allure, Vellum, etc., and one exotic tint, viz., Black.

A professional glass-eater gave seventeen public exhibitions in two days, eating at each one a lamp chimney and a razor blade. He is certainly gifted with a sharp appetite!

"PIRATE" SUIT ANSWERS CALL FOR UNIQUE BEACH APPAREL

NOTHING new under the sun."
Nothing new? But have you seen the latest pajama suits, which are injecting such an amusing likewise novel note into beach fashions? Comparing the now and the then of women's fashions the pajama outfits which the mode is parading before the eyes of those who would see and be seen on the beach are amazingly original or new if the word pleases you best.

It would seem that the chief aim of the designers of pujama costumes is to capture ideas from any and every source, re-creating them to tune in with fashion's demand for unique if not eccentric beach attire.

There's overalls, for instance. Who would dream of overalls becoming a style theme for the smart set. Visit leading specialty shops where smart pajama collections abound and what do we behold? Overalls, yes, cunningest overalls ever, of sateen, cretonne and even gingham. Clever for garden wear as well as beach wear.

If, perchance, overalls flavor too much of the domestic and mundane, well then, here's something more thrilling, more fraught with romance —the pirate beach suit. The picture shows it, feminized to suit the purposes of the present-day stylists. Here we see milady in full pirate regimentals—trousers developed in colorful striped pique making a designful play on bias effects, the large picture-b in hat, of course. The wool jersey blouse has a sun-tan back.

For her next inspiration Dame Fashion flits to the Far East, where harem trousers suggest a means at expressing the pajama mode in a sifterent way. The buggy trousers handed about the ankles, are topped with a princess fitted blouse which flares and flares above the knees.

To China the mode next wings its flight seeking "ideas," which brought back to us take form in mandarin chats, gorgeous in color and design, some of formal satin mostly for boudoir wear, others of equally as tascinating motif, done in inexpensive cotton crepes. Then there's the "gub" pajama suit of white cotton gabardine, with laced fastenings, a "gub" hat and everything nautical down to the slightest detail. Oh! it's the ends of the earth our stylists are scouring in behalf of pajama fashions with which to intrigue milady fair.

Let Us Make it a Million Dollar Bank.

Nothing reflects greater credit or discredit upon a community than the local Banking Institution.

A Bank with large assets shows a prosperous community and has a tendency to increase property valuations. On the other hand if the Bank's resources are low the opposite effect is produced. Every property owner should realize the benefits derived from a strong Banking Institution.

This community is blessed with a good strong well managed Bank. The last report of the Farmers State Bank of Mentone showed total resources of $918,299.23 an amount unusual in a rural community. In fact we believe no other community of like size can show as large

There is one factor which we believe has played no little part in the growth and soundness of this Insitution and that is the fact that it is managed by Bankers only who confine all their energies to that line. They are not in the real estate business, do not write insurance nor handle notarial work. Every man connected with the Bank is of sterling character, courteous, attentive to business and willing to spend a few extra hours in the Bank for the accommodation of its patrons. The officers are as liberal with their loans as is consistent with the national laws and good banking principles and are always ready to advise their customers on matters of a financial nature. Now a Bank like this plays no small part in the stability and advancement of the community and we as good loyal community boosters should give them our undivided support.

We believe with the co-operation of the Community Farm News readers the resources of the Bank can be raised to the Million Dollar mark before the close of the year. It would surely be marvelous to point to the fact that we have a Bank running up into the nine figgures. It would increase property values, give our community prestige and advertise us as an exceptionally thrifty people.

So let us all pull together—adopt the slogan "A Million Dollar Bank" and make the Farmers State Bank" the biggest and best little Bank in the state.

CONSERVATION PATRIOTIC DUTY

By CHARLES G. DAWES, U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain.

The conservation movement in the United States today constitutes this country's finest demenstration of pure idealism-of unselfish patriotism. Those who adhere to it solely for the love of the out-of-doors, who comprehend their duty only in terms of planting a tree, purifying a stream, protecting a bird's nest, or otherwise making the out-of-doors a little cleaner, a little more beautiful, and a little more alive with the pulse of nature, have justification enough for their work and reward enough in their accomplishments. On economic grounds alone we may call upon the self-interest of our people and justify all the time and the energy that is pended in a conservative movement.

Second Fire Meeting is a Success.

The questionnaires sent out by the Mentone Fire Department achieved one purpose, namely, it raised the attendance to about forty-five farmers and citizens to the second meeting held at the town hall Tuesday night August 6th in interest of the purchase of a new fire truck. Although nothing very definite was settled at the meeting, it was decided that there was sufficient interest for committies to be appointed to carry on the work of soliciting. K. A. Riner the Mentone Fire Department named the following men as committees to solicit their neighborhood-C. O. Eiler and Oral Welch, Northwest of town; George Long and Orien Deaton, Northeast; C. O. Herendeen and Fred Busenburg, Southwest; and John Goodman and R. E. Riner, Southeast. These men will carry petitions endeavoring to secure pledges of financial support which is so necessary in this undertaking. There will be another meeting later on in which the fruits of their effort will be revealed.

Several farmers in attendance gave very spirited talks in favor of the purchase of a new truck. Clarence Eiler pointed out several logical reasons why the town should have a new truck. Orien Deaton said in his talk that no matter how much insurance is carried there will be a loss by fire and in order to protect property right there should be adequate fire fighting apparatus available.

It was the current opinion of the group that a high speed truck with a combination pumper and chemical would be best adapted for the communities needs, although definite action will not be taken until it is found how much can be raised and what everyone thinks the communities need.

CLERGY CALLED TO ACCOUNT

By REV. DR. KNICKERBOCKER, Minneapolis (Episcopal).

There exists a widespread loss of faith today. The chief contributing factors in the situation are: The theory of evolution; breakdown between the natural and supernatural; discovery of the relation of the nervous system and consciousness; loss of heaven as a place in which anything is to be done or accomplished, and alienation of a large group of unpriv-

There are a number of causes for the apparent ineffectiveness of our work today. The average clergyman has no schedule of work, he works when and as he likes; he engages in indulgent and careless living and careless thinking. He is satisfied with the externals of his profession. An indulgent laity complains not and he goes on in a slipshod manner, unaware that he is becoming ineffective.

The church today is on trial. Our religion is being challenged in many quarters. We must marshal all our resources if Christianity is to be saved. We must again bring the world to the feet of Christ.

Town Council Meets

Wednesday night the Mentone town council met in their regular monthly session. The budget for the coming year was determined and the tax levy to cover same was approved.

The council has accepted an elec tric fire siren to be installed for thirty day approval. This is a large siren similar to the ones used in the larger towns and cities. It has a three horse power electric motor and makes enough noise to be heard for miles around. Some thing of this kind has been needed for sometime. Although Mentone has not had a fire at night for a considerable period of time, it would be hard to arouse enough volunteer firemen at night without some signal and at the present time Mentone is without this protection. It will be installed in about three weeks, it is thought that they will blow it at the noon hour each day during the thirty day period that the siren is here on approval.

Fire fighting apparatus was also discussed at the meeting. Although they are willing to do all that they can do, they do not feel justified in taking official action about the matter until they see what the farmers can do, how much they can raise, etc. There are certain laws which keep them from taking definite action until they have something definite to work on and at this time they do not have the situation that close at hand.

THE RETURN FROM CAPTIVITY

LESSON FEXT-Jeremiah 29:10-14; Ezra 1:1-6; Ps 126 1-6

GOLDEN TEXT- The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad

PRIMARY TOPIC-A Happy Home Coming

2-Making a Fresh Start.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP--Historic Significance of the Re-

I. The Return Predicted (Jer. 29:10-14).

False prophets were flourishing in Babylon telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land To counteract this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send a letter to the captives in Babylon (vv 8, 9) In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life, and not to be ted astray by the false prophets (vv 6.7)

1. The length of the captivity (v. 10).

Their coming back was to be "after seventy years. From Daniel 9:2 it is clear that seventy years means a definite time. It dates from the time when the first company, among which Daniel was found, was taken captive 2. Recovered by God (vv.10-14)

God's purpose in the Captivity was to cure them of their idolatrous practices. He assured them that when His purpose was accomplished He would visit them and concince them of His good purpose toward them

II. The Predicted Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-6)

1. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv 1-4).

(1) This was not by accident but that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). What God has promised He will do.

(2) By divine initiation (v. 1).

"The Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus." How this was done we do not know. Possibly Daniel brought to his attention the prophecy of Isaiah and Jeremiah (Isa 44:28; Jer 25:12)

(3) The content of the king's proc lamation (vv. 2-4).

(a) "The Lord God of heaven hath charged me to build Him a house in Jerusalem" (v. 2) This makes clear that he had some impression of God's hand upon him.

(b) Appeal to Jewish patriotism (v. 3). He invokes upon such as pos sess the national religious feeling the the old-fashioned iron.

blessing of God, and commands them to go and build the house of the Lord God.

(c) To lend assistance (v. 4).

Many of the Jews were established in business and therefore were not free to go. Many, no doubt, had lost their national spirit and were not anxious to go. All such were to lend friendly assistance with silver gold and beasts.

2. The response to Cyrus' proclamation (vv. 5, 6).

The chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin and the priests and Levites presented themselves as willing to go. The company which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. The royal favor (vv. 7-11) Cyrus returned 5,400 vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem and put into the house of his gods. This was a great encourageto every loyal Jew whose ment had been grieved over the heart profunation of these sacred vessels. III. The Gladness and Rejoicing of the Returning Exiles (Ps. 126:1-6)

1. The procalamation of Cyrus as a dream (v. 1).

They recognized that their going back was through the favor of the Lord.

Their laughter and singing (vv. 2, 3).

They not only recognized the favor of the Lord upon them, but testined thereof in the hearing of the heathen round about them.

3. Their prayer for prosperity in the land (v. 4).

They were not only going back with the consciousness of the good hand of the Lord upon them, but were trusting Him for the fruitfulness of the land.

4. Sowing in tears (vv. 5, 6)

The seeds which they were to sow on the land were so precious that they seemed to have hesitated as to sowing, and yet they recognized that joy would follow their sorrow when they should bring in the sheaves of the harvest.

PROMISING KINDS OF SMALL FRUITS

Latham Red Raspberry and Howard Strawberry Best.

Two of the most promising small fruit varieties included in the varietal trials of the horticultural department of the Colorado Agricultural college experiment station are the Latham red raspberry and the Howard of Premier strawberry.

Definite information concerning the results of these trials of small fruits will be published as soon as it is available.

One of the most important factors in the successful production of small fruits is the proper selection of varieties, Mr. Lott points out. The most desirable variety is naturally one that combines to a greater extent than any other variety, vigor, hardiness, resistance to disease and productiveness of high quality fruit.

The Howard strawberry, usually catalogued as Premier, is an early berry of the type of the Dunlap, a lighter red, more productive, the picking season is longer and the berries are larger. The plants are perfectly flowered and described as being vigorous, healthy, productive and good plant makers. The fruit is early, ripens over a long period, holds up in size, and the berries are large, of good quality and an attractive glossy red, juicy and firm.

The Mastodon is the most popular variety of ever-bearing strawberry now grown. Its popularity is due to its un usual vigor, healthfulness, and high production of large, attractive berries. The plants bear a partial crop during the late summer and fall of the year they are set out, a full crop the following June or July, and a good-sized crop in the fall of the same year.

The Mastodon does not have as high quality as some other ever-bearing sorts but is usually grown on account of its vigor and productiveness, in which respects it is far superior to the other ever-bearing varieties. Anyone desiring a high-quality ever-bearing variety of less size and productiveness should plant the Champion.

The Latham raspberry is a cross between the King and Louden varieties, and has performed excellently from New England to the Pacific coast. An authentic experiment showed following comparative variety the a three-year-old field: vields in Latham, 10,860 pints per acre; Herbert, 7,296; Cuthbert, 7,200, This is nearly 50 per cent more than the Herbert and over 50 per cent more than the Cuthbert.

Latham is described as having hardy plants, unusually vigorous and productive; large, bright red fruit that is very firm, medium juicy, good to very good quality; medium to late season and fruits that ripen over a long

What the Yellow Light Meant

IT WAS in the days when a peepshow was among the attractions of every village fair in England. Standing beside the entrance, the showman was reciting his usual speech explaining the picture being shown within. Among the spectators, all with eyes glued to the tiny apertures outside.

was a small and inquisitive boy.
"You now see before you." nounced the showman in loud and impressive tones, "a picture of the great London Express. This marvelous train makes the phenomenal run from terminal to terminal in only three and a quarter hours. This record breaking run is made with only one brief stop for the taking on of water. The great train then proceeds on her way with out further interruption until her destination is reached. In the picture, if you will look closely, you will see a red light. This red light is a warning light, signifying possible danger If the red light is seen this swift train must slow down to ascertain the peril.'

The small boy's voice interrupted: "But, Mister, what is the yellow light?" it piped. The entertainer tooked at him severely. "There is no yellow light in the picture. There is, as I said, a red light -the danger signal warning the train to stop until the tracks are clear She will then proceed with her phenomenal run and in exactly three and a half hours will reach her destination.

Once more the plaintive voice of the youngster broke into his recital;

"But I don't see what the yellow light is for!"

The showman fixed him with a glare. "I have already stated that no yel low light is shown in this picture. have explained that the danger signal. the red light, is placed there to prevent any accident to this magnifi cent fast train in her phenomenal run.

"But I don't understand yet about the yellow light," piped the small voice, seemingly almost in tears.

The Showman was exasperated almost beyond words.

"Will some one remove this boy?" he demanded. "I have repeated that no vellow light appears in the picture.

The small boy was protestingly re moved and the showman petulantly placed his own eye at the aperture whence the diminutive patron had been forcibly removed.

Only for a second did he gaze through the peep-hole. Then, in a terrific voice he shouted wildly:

"My God-the show's on fire!" (C. by the McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

An Industry That is a Credit to Mentone.

On October 22nd, 1922, F. R. Burns started his bakery business in this village. On that day he turned out fifty-five loaves of bread with four hundred loaves for the entire week's output. He produced a first class article of food and our merchants and all of our citizens hailed the enterprise with joy and gave the new bakery their undivided support with the result that today Mentone can boast of as modern and sanitary a bakery as can be found in towns of five times our population in this state.

Today the Burns Bakery produces 10,000 loaves of bread every week and uses about fifty-five barrels of flour. Mr. Burns employs six men regularly and a seventh part time with a weekly pay roll of $200.00 or 10,400.00 per year. He operates three trucks—one in Mentone and two for business in the neighboring towns. His route includes every town within a radius of twenty-five or thirty miles. He has always used the theory "The best that could be made would win and hold the trade" and regardless of weather and road conditions he has never missed serving a customer.

Good business principles have won for him a remarkable increase in his enterprise each year with no limit in sight. It has not always been smooth sailing during these years for Mr. Burns. On several occasions outside bakers -- some of them big ones with national reputations have tried to establish sales agencies in this town. However all attempts were short lived and today nothing but bread baked by Burns is sold in Mentone.

It is with pride that we can point to the fact that our merchants and citizens as a unit have given this institution the support it deserves and by so doing they have helped to build up an industry for Mentone that is worth thousands of dollars annually to this community.

Did Co-operation Help?

Since writing the above the question arises in our mind what part - if any-did co-operation play in the remarkable success of the Burns Bakery. True Mr. Burns is a good business man who made his product the best that could be made. But suppose our merchants had not all stood by him at I the start and handled other bread. Do you think had that been the case we could boast of having this fine modern bakery? We hardly believe so. Has the united support given in this case paid? We say "Yes" While other small towns have been sending hundreds of dollars to cities and outside towns for the staff of life we have been keeping our money at home and Mr. Burns has been bringing thousands of dollars into this community from near by towns. Anyone who will look upon the growth of the Burns Bakery and not see that co-operation pays big dividends is surely blind.

WAGE EARNERS AND MACHINERY

By WILLIAM GREEN, President A. F. of L.

Labor has an interest in increasing production because only out of increased output can come sustained rises in the standard of living. Trade unions are ready to co-operate in promoting economies in production when there are set up agencies that assure them justice and equity.

The American Federation of Labor recognizes that the interests of wage earners are interdependent upon the interests of all other groups, if industry is to maintain production. If prosperity is to continue for the community and for the nation, wage earners and other groups must have sustained purchasing power.

Business expansion and technical advances have placed a heavier burden on management which must be mainly responsible for eliminating waste in production, for assuring steady employment for those employed, for steadily increasing wages as productivity increases and for planning in advance for workers displaced by machinery and technical change.

FUNDAMENTAL-LAW IS SACRIFICE

By DOCTOR HIBBEN, President Princeton University.

N INVETERATE inertia, a native tendency to yield to the luxury of indolence, is that which most seriously militates against the full development of the powers within us. Supreme value  ${\bf I}$ would define as that which we are unwilling to sacrifice in order to gain any other thing, however valuable it may appear to be. If the integrity of our personality is the supreme value, the first consideration in our lives must be the safeguarding of this treasure.

There are two ways by which the wholeness of our being may be impaired-either through structural weakness or through the arresting of the development of our potential powers.

But more virulent a danger than sacrificing the man within us for the animal, is the native tendency to drift with the current of the daily happenings of chance, and to shrink from paying the price of sustained effort.

The sole question of values in life is not merely what you can get out of life that will prove most valuable, but also what is to be the value of life not to yourself alone but to the world of your day and generation, and in this connection, let us not fail to recognize that the characteristic feature of religion is its fundamental law of servitor and of service and of sacrifice for the common good. Ultimately the objective of religion and what you consider the highest good in your life will be identical.

John Harris of Mentone Faces Liquor Charges.

John Harris, well known Mentone insurance man, faces a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and will be tried before Mayor John G. Hansman in Warsaw city court this afternoon or tomorrow: The charge against Harris was filed by John F. Warren, marshal at Mentone. Mr. Warren was in city court this morning ready to testify against Harris if necessary. Prosecutor George Bowser had notified Mr. Harris to report but when Mr. Harris failed to put in an appearance the case was continued.

It is alleged that Mr. Harris got on a "shine" Saturday night and treated members of the family rather roughly. It is also charged that he drove his machine on the streets of Mentone while in an intoxicated condition.—The above was taken from the Warsaw Union of August 14th.

After considerable delay the above case came before the Warsaw city court Monday, and upon motion it was taken to the circuit court for trial.

looked "over the right shoulder" at a "new moon" and wished for dainty lingerie frills and furbelows to come back in fashion. Well, the wish has come true! A visit to any neckweur department will prove just that The displays of lingerie accessories are made up of a bewildering array of novelties ranging from practical collar-and-cuff sets to fantastic slipover cape collars, plaited jabots, bertha effects and all such pretty conceits.

There are two developments in neckwear which are especially significant, namely: the bertha or cape collar, and plaited novelties of every description. The charming summer frock of silk crepe in the picture features a bertha collar and matching cuffs of chartreuse green georgette, the hem-line of which is picoted.

Those charming slipover cape collars which transform the simplest sleeveless frock into a gown of distinction, are now sold as an accessory item. They are available both in georgette types or of elaborate lace. One of the most outstanding models of all georgette is round in front and has two deep points at the back. The plain scalloped georgette cape is also a new popular type.

It lends new fascination to lingerie touches that they have subscribed to the gay color vogue. A black crepe or navy frock flaunts a flattering col lar-and-cuff set of pastel tinted English evelet embroidery. And when we say collar and cuffs we refer more picturesque versions which are wide and flaring sometimes extending diagonally across a surplice opening

Blouse lingerie and other fanciful guimpes are receiving no end of at tention. Perhaps the most popular type is that of wash-satin in either eggshell or flesh tint. Strictly tai lored is the rule for this part although some of them indulge in cunning "dressmaker" bows. With cardigan suits they are just the thing and the best of it is you can either buy 'em or make 'em for all the neck wear departments feature them while at the same time they can be easily fashioned of a remnant of satin

Vestees or blouse-guinnes as they are known this senson are also ex quisitely styled of fine batiste often embroidered, then again plain elab orated with lace trimmings

SEXUALITY FOUND IN STRAWBERRIES

Blossoms of Some Varieties Not Able to Fertilize.

The question of whether this or that variety of strawberry will fruit if planted alone, often comes up in the minds of those selecting varieties of strawberries for their gardens or fields. The chances are few of getting a variety that will not fruit when planted alone, because these imperfect flowered varieties are few, at least very few are offered in nursery cata logues.

The reason why some varieties will not fruit when planted alone is because their blossoms are not capab'e of fertilizing themselves, consequently no fruit will develop, writes B. W. Keith in Michigan Farmer. The parts of the flowers wanting are the stamens, the parts bearing the pollen or male part of the blossom. Varieties having blossoms of this kind are termed "Imperfect" or "Pistilate," and are indicated in catalogues with the abbreviations "Imp," or "P." In order for an imperfect variety such as the Warfield, Haverland, or Sample to set and produce berries, its blossoms must be fertilized by pollen from perfect flowered varieties, set close enough so that bees and other blossom-visiting insects will work from one variety to the other, carrying pollen from the perfect to the imperfect blossoms.

Most of the varieties offered by nurserymen today have perfect blos-soms and are termed as "Perfect" or 'Stamenate" varieties and are abbreviated as "Per." or "S." The perfect blossoms differ from the imperfect in that they have stamens, the flowered parts bearing the pollen or male parts of the blossoms. Pollen consists of small cellular bodies or grains found in the pollen sacs, which will be noticed on little upright stems at the base of the petals or white parts of a strawberry blossom. At a certain stage during the blooming stage, generally when the blossoms are wide open, the pollen sacs burst open down the side and out comes the pollen grains. When these pollen grains come in contact with the moistened or jellylike top of the pistils, they begin to send down pollen tubes to the immature seeds and fertilize them. The berry will then develop into a perfect specimen, providing the fertilized seeds are evenly distributed over the surface of the berry. If they are not, the berry will be ill shapened, because that part of the berry where 'he seeds were not fertilized will not develop.

Missing Grapevines Are Very Easy to Replace

The ordinary method of replacing missing grape canes is to replant the vacant places with one or two year old canes. In too many cases, this results in failure—due to lack of cultivation or by being smothered by strong growing neighboring canes.

It is an easy matter to replace missing canes by saving one of the long canes from a neighboring plant. This cane should be ten or twelve feet long. Cut away all of the side branches on it, then train out on the lower wire. Make a shallow trench where the missing plant stood. Pin down with a forked stick and cover. Draw the end of cane straight up to the trellis above,

If the cane is the strong fruiting kind, it may produce some very fine fruit the first season, after layering. Do not sever the cane from the old plant until it has had two seasons' growth.

One can replace grapevines across the cultivated space between rows, but here it will be necessary to dig a six-inch trench and lay the cane down in it so that it will not interfere with cultivation, or be destroyed by the shovels of the cultivator.

Necessity of Spraying All Foliage and Fruit

Spray injury to both leaves and fruit is of rather common occurrence and appears in many instances at least to be correlated with improper handling of the gun. The spray should not be allowed to strike young leaves or fruits with too much force. Injury often is found on leaves which have been previously injured by fungi and in general is more noticeable on trees which have been sprayed during periods of high temperature and high humidity. Several severe scabs have recently shown even the most skillful growers the necessity of covering every part of the fruit and foliage in a thorough and careful manner at every applica-

Buying Fruit Trees

When you purchase apple trees, or any other varieties of fruit trees, buy them from a good, responsible nursery, and you are sure to get what you buy, as it is a great disappointment to wait several years for a young tree to come into bearing and then find that you have some other kind of apple than what you paid for. It pays in the end to deal with responsible nurseries and to buy the best trees. Scrub trees like scrub animals are not profitable.

Weigh or measure carefully all spraying materials and use them according to directions. If it is desired to experiment, do it in a small way.

Water, lime sulphur, and arsenate of lead is the standard combination for spraying apple, cherry, and plum trees. On a five-gallon basis use a pint of liquid lime sulphur and about three ounces of arsenate of lead

REBUILDING THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT-Ezra 3:10 13,6 14-6; Psalms 84.1-4
GOLDEN TEXT-1 was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the house of the Lord

PRIMARY TOPIC—Rebuilding God's

JUNIOR TOPIC-Rebuilding God's INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-

IC—Building God's House
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT FOPIC—Builders of God's House.

After becoming settled in the towns surrounding Jerusalem, the people were called together for the purpose of establishing the worship of the Lord God The leaders in this move ment were Jeshua and the priests. and Zerrubabel, the governor. In view of the fact that the clearing away of the debris of the old city and temple and the erection of the new temple would take a long time, an altar was erected where sacrifice might be offered at once unto God. Upon this newly erected altar were offered the regular sacrifices com Moses, including those of the Feast of Tabernacles (Ezra 3:1-7).

I. The Foundation of the Temple Laid (3:8-13).

This was an auspicious occasion and was cerebrated with most impres sive ceremonies

1. The priests apparel (v. 10). These garments symbolized their consecra tion to the Lard's service.

2 The priests with trumpets (v. 10). The trumpets were used in call ing together the people.

3. The Levites with cymbals (v 10). This was according to the ar rangement made by David (1 Chron 15:16-21).

4. They same together by course (v. 11) This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is good," the other responded. "For His mercy en dureth forever.

5. Mingled weeping and sighing (vv. 12 13) Some of the older men who had seen the magnificent temple of Solomon which had been destroyed wept much when they saw how far short the present foundation came of the former temple. Others were glad of the favor of God which had brought them back, and that a beginning was made in the new house of worship

II. The Building of the Temple Hindered (ch. 4).

The leading adversaries were the Samaritans a mongret people the offspring of the poor Jews who were left in Palestine and the foreign people who were sent into Palestine after the Jews were taken captive. The three perils which delayed the building of the temple for about fourteen years revealed the persistent methods which the enemy uses to hinder the program of God's people in every age. 1. An unintelligent pessimism (3: 12).

Under the circumstances, a glorious beginning had been made. Many today, because things are not quite what they should be, do not go forward with a constructive program, but even hinder those who have the hopeful outlook In spite of all the evil forces at work to thwart the purpose of God, the Christian church should push forward its program of evangelization.

2 Wordly compromise (4:2, 3)

"Let us build with you, for we seek your God.' This is Satun's most common and effective method. God's children should not seek the world's patronage in building churches and carrying on His work. The leaders should declare with Zerubbabel, "Ye have nothing to do with us to build an house unto our God."

3. Opposition by word (4:4-24)

When refused a part in the work intimidation and political scheming were used by the enemies to defeat the building plan of God's people

III. The Temple Finished (5:16)

Through the ministry of the prophets Haggai and Zechariah. people were encouraged to resume enthusiastically the work of building the temple. When the temple was finished. it was dedicated to God.

IV. The Blessedness of Dwelling in God's House (1's 84:14).

1. The longing of the soul for God's house (vv. 1, 2).

It is refreshing when people long to meet God in His house.

2. The sparrow and swallow find protection in the sacred precincts of God's house (v. 3).

3. Dwelling in God's house (v. 4). Those who have a heari for God find their chief delight in dwelling in His house.

Cutting Out the Frills.

NTO the smelly Bowery lunchroom entered a hungry and impatient person. He took a seat. A shirt-sleeved waiter ranged up along side him.

"Well," demanded the newcomer, "where's the menu?"

"Say," answered the waiter. "where do you think you are, anyhow-the Ritz-Carlton? We ain't got no menus. Just pick out what you want, same as our others customers does, and if we got it I'll bring it to you.

"But how am I going to know what you've got if it ain't wrote out on a card?" said the puzzled patron.

"Why, you just take a look at the spots on the tablecloth and see what other folks have had today," explained the servitor.

So the stranger took a look at the spots on the tablecloth and ordered lentil soup, hamburger steak, fried tomatoes, blueberry pie, and a cup of coffee. After he had concluded a somewhat hurried but seemingly satisfactory meal again he hailed the waiter:

Where's the check?" "Still dreamin', huh?" said the other scornfully. "Ain't you got it through your head yet that this ain't no fancy joint? We don't have no checks All you got to do is stop there at the cashier's desk by the door as you go out and she'll tell you how much you 470

"How is she going to know what I had?"

"Trust her-she'll know, all right," So the departing customer, without a word, halted before the cashier. The later, a keen eyed young woman, bent forward over her desk and gave a quick, appraising glance at his shirtfront.

"Lemme see," she murmured. "len til soup, hamburger, fried tomatoes, pie and coffee—ninety cents, mister.

Mentone's Leading Auto Accessory and Gas Station Shows an Increase in Business.

Since the taking over of the auto accessory and filling stations of Carter Bros. by E. J. Carter the business has shown a marked increase in sales, and it is evident that the two stations now owned by Mr. Carter are selling more gas and oil than all other stations in Mentone combined.

This is only another demonstration that it pays to concentrate your efforts and energy on one line of business, giving it your undivided attention, instead of trying to handle several lines, dividing your efforts between them.

With the two filling stations on E. Main St., one on the north and one on the south side of the street, served by courteous and efficient ttendants. Mr. Carter serves nearly all the business coming into town from the west and south, besides he is drawing a goodly portion of the business coming into town from other directions In the accessory line Emmet as adopted the slogan "Quick sales and small profits" and the people are fast learning that when they want anything in this line they will get it at the right price at either of the stations owned by E. J. Carter.

The two stations handle all of the Sinclair products, which cannot be beaten and always give satisfaction. Do not fail to read Carter's Dollar Day advertisement in this issue and be on hand early and get a supply of first-class oil at less than half price.

PERIL MODERN YOUTH FACES

By REV GEORGE W. JOHNSON (Baptist), Detroit.

Despised and criticized for frank disregard of conventionalities, the youth of today is unsurpassed by the youth of any other day. There never was a finer body of youngsters than the boys and girls of our day. They simply are more honest and sincere and less secretive than former generations.

The "youth problem" is not a new one. For proof of this read the Book of Proverbs, written in 1,000 B. C. Concern for youth is well founded, always has been, for the years of adolescence and young manhood determine later character. Young people cannot afford to expose themselves to too much temptation, pay too much for pleasure, refuse all restraint. The years of youth slip by quickly. See to it that even at thirty or thirty-five you are not compelled to despise yourself because of wasted opportunities and a none too good name.

Paul's advice to Timothy was good, for the good opinion of real people is worth having. And the advice meant: "Common respect as a young Christian minister, by your character and ability." No better counsel can be given to all present-day yorth. Command respect of others, and self respect, because of what you are and because of real ability. Follow Christ sincerely and find in Him all needed aid and inspiration.

Ralph Arnsberger, Local Manager of the Sinclair Station a Hustler.

The local distributing station of the Sinclair Oil Co., at this place under the management of Ralph Arnsberger is fast forging to the front. Since taking the management of this station by Mr. Arnsberger the business has shown such a marked increase in sales that the company has added more storage capacity for gas and has constructed quite a good sized building to house the grease and oil busi ness and many other products which they manufacture.

Sinclair gas and oil is handled exclusively in this town at the two Carter oil stations, besides the leading stations in all the surrounding towns handle the product. However that is not enough for Ralph and he is constantly on the alert with the result that every few weeks he adds another customer to the list of stations served.

It is not a difficult matter to determine the reason for the increased sales of the Sinclair products in this territory, besides having a first class article they have a hustler at the head of the agency-one who is not afraid of work, and one who is devoting his entire time to the business. You can get up as early as you like in the morning and you will find Ralph all hooked up and ready to start on the road to serve his customers and when you go home at night you will probably run across him somewhere wrestling oil drums. His slogan "your tank filled almost as soon as you call" he lives up to and this one item to a great degree has been responsible for the growth of the business.

EVILS CHURCH MUST COMBAT

By REV. J. MARONI (Lutheran), Dean of Oslo, Norway.

No man can be blind to the fact that society of today is in an unhealthy condition and confronts us with most difficult problems. There are evils of poverty and unemployment, house shortage, the war, class warfare and mammonism. Men are striving with feverish zeal to find remedies for these ills.

We cannot leave these difficulties to be settled by politicians, for they are the representatives of but one party, and the church must guard against becoming the servant of a single party.

Since prevention is better than cure the church must be always most energetic in the cause of temperance. It must take up the fight against all the pitfalls that are set to catch the feet of the young. It must protect against slackness with regard to the sacredness of marriage. It must attack the selfish code of business and commerce, and stop the brazen, shameless advertisement of sin of every kind. It is the duty of the church not merely to relieve want and suffering but to create a Christian opinion with regard to morality, legislation and social responsibility.

The life of the Christian is the Bible of the world, and is often the only one that is read.

My Favorite Stories

by Irvin J. Cobb

Working While Others Slept

A WELL-KNOWN public lecturer occasionally tells this story on the platform as illustrative of the enterprise and instinctive commercial sa-gacity of the young American. He vouches for it as an actual experience. His version of it runs somewhat as follows:

"Two summers ago I was motoring up in New England. Taking a short cut over a dirt road late one afternocn I ran into a miry place and the car bogged down and stuck fast. Providentially, as it would seem, a farmer boy immediately hove into sight, leading a team of big horses. I entered into negotiations with him and the upshot was that for a dollar he agreed to undertake the job of rescuing me from my predicament. The price seemed reasonable and we closed the bargain.

"He hooked his horses to the axle of the stalled automobile and soon had my car upon high ground. I was struck by the brightness of the lad and the skill he had shown in extricating the heavy machine from the mire. After I had paid him I led him into conversation, taking occasion immediately to compliment him upon his smartness.

"'Well,' he said, 'I've had considera able practice, Mister. Your'n makes the sixth car I've pulled out of this here same mudhole today."

"'Did each one of the owners pay you a dollar? I asked. "Yep, he said. That's my regular price for this job.

Then you've earned six dollars today?

'Yep, that's right, he said. "'l'retty fair wages for a boy your age, I should say,' I commented. Before answering me, the youngster withdrew from my immediate vicinity and mounted one of his horses. "'Well, he said, 'this has been a specially good day. I don't always take in this much; and anyhow, 'tain't as easy as you might think for me to earn this money. All day I've got to be hangin' round waitin' for one of you city fellers to get bogged down and start callin for help. That ain't the worst of it, neither. Except when it rains. I have to be around here a good part of every night.'

"'What do you do here at nights?

"He drew his team off the road and started away through the woods. Then, over his shoulder, as he vanished, he replied:

"'Oh, night-times I have to draw water and fill up this here mudhole so's it'll be all ready for business the next day."

Threshing Ring Meets

The No 1 threshing ring met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Snyder last Wednesday for their annual business meeting and settlement. The same officers were put in for another year. After the business meeting ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Curt Nellans and family, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Keho, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Shunk, Mr. and Mrt. Henry Meddaugh and family Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eizinger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vernette, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Blue and Jerry Wade Ward of South Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swick and family, Castle Whetstone and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boganright and family, Lawrence Bogenright and family and Lonzo Mathews.

Jones-Miller Reunion

On Sunday Aug. 25th, members of the Jones and Miller families to the number of about 160 met at the hame of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith 2 miles south of Mentone for their six annual family reunion

Some from a distance had come a few days ahead of the reunion date and had spent the time visiting among relatives and friends.

The hospitable welcome given by Mr. and Mrs. Smith combined with the ideal place for such a gathering and a perfect day made this reunion the best ever.

At the dinner hour we witnessed a battle royal between the groaning tables and proverbial Jones appetites, but one by one the latter were forced to capitulate, leaving the badly wrecked, but triumph and tables still able to carry on.

After a business meeting at which the following officers were elected for anther year: Rollie Jones of Ohio Pres., C. O. Eiler Vice Pres., and Sec'y,. A very snappy program of recitations was rendered which was highly appreciated by all present.

As a special feature of the program the "Talma Sod Busters" Male Quartette rendered several selections which were highly appreciated.

At the close of the program ice cream and cake was served and a good time social exchange greeting was enjoyed by all.

The reunion is to be held next year at Bladensburg, Ohio, on the last Sunday in August.

Thomas Stanford Injured

On Saturday morning a car belonging to Mrs. A. Geiger of Indianapolis collided with Thomas Stanford, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford. Tommie was riding his bycicle on East main street in front of Ketrow's Variety Store when the accident occured. As the auto was going very slowly the injury to Tommie was slight as compared to what it might have been had the car been traveling the high rate of speed that many of our drivers go. This is another case where an accident might have been averted if our public square was a stop street. The Farm News sometime ago recommended that the square-be made a four way stop street and we are still of the same opinion. Since we have an automatic stop and go sign already standing on the square, it should be a comparatively easy matter for the town to secure a mechanic that would be able to fix it and then the possibility of future accidents would be lessened.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

For a change from the ordinary cabbage salad, try this, which is a little unusual:

Cabbage Salad.—Take two cupfuls of finely chopped cabbage, one cupful of chopped pineapple, and one cupful of peanuts rolled and broken like coarse crumbs., Mix well with one-half cupful of boiled dressing and serve on lettuce

Florida Mustard Pickles.-Take one; quart each of cabbage (shredded), onions, green tomatoes and cucumbers, two green peppers, two red peppers. Pour three quarts of boiling water with one cupful of salt over the vegetables. Let stand over night. The next morning press out the water and add one quart of vinegar, one half cupful of good dry mustard mixed with two cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of flour, one tablespoonful of celery seed, one tablespoonful of turmeric and one teaspoonful of mustaro seed. Cook until thick.

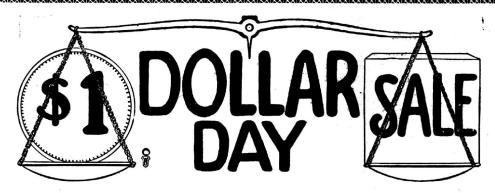

Tomato Marmalade.-To each quart of tomatoes measured after they have been peeled, cut and cooked, add two pounds of sugar, two oranges and one lemon. Remove the pulp of the oranges and lemons and cut into strips. Cook the peel in boiling water until tender. Put all the ingredients together and cook until the strips of transparent-about peel are hours. Seal in glasses.

Crystallized Grapefruit Peel.-Select bright thick peel, wash carefully and rub over a grater lightly to break the oil cells. Cut the peel into quarters and remove the pulp; cut into strips one-half inch in width Weigh then to each quart of peel add three pints of cold water. Boil ten minutes and pour off the water; repeat three times to remove some of the bitter flavor. Dry the peel in cloth. For each pound of peel add one and one-half pounds of sugar and a half cupful of water. Bring the sirup to a boil and when well dissolved add the peel. Cook until all the sirup is absorbed. Roll in sugar. Do not cook after the peel is transparent.

Communities Look to Their Future Highways

The American Nature association calls on the women's clubs and the business organizations to inquire into the question of roadside beautification and thus look to the future on this point the Hudson (New York) Star Says:

"The roadside tree is at last coming into its own. Those that have survived the ravages of modern traffic are being protected and new trees are being planted along shadeless highways.

"Ancient enemies of the roadside tree are the sign and bill poster, the road builder, the lineman and the landowner. For years they took an appalling toll in trees, but all are now on the defensive, if not giving voluntary co-operation in the preservation of trees along the highways.

"There are times when the removal of a tree or a whole row of trees is necessary to eliminate a dangerous curve or to widen a highway. Under the old order of things such trees were removed and forgotten. Today trees thus removed are being replanted in many states.

"No longer do the linemen of telephone, telegraph and electric power companies recklessly hack and saw at highway shade trees because their limbs interfere with the wires. Un scientific trimming by linemen killed countless valuable trees before the government began holding the owners of the wires accountable for the trees damaged by their employees.

"The motor highway of the future will be a broad thoroughfare bordered on both sides by shade-giving trees and with all communication and power transmission lines running free of the trees and concealed by the trees from the roadway."

Town's Aspiration for Ideal Means Progress

There are many ideals for towns, and somewhere there is a town that is striving toward each of them. "For instance," reads an editorial in the Household Magazine:

"The richest town in the state.

- "The cleanest town.
- "The most beautiful town.
- "The busiest town.
- "The most fashionable town.
- "The most homelike town.
- "The most modern town.
- "The most helpful town. "The most religious town.
- "The most co-operative town.
- "The gayest town.
- "The most intellectual town.
- "The most enterprising town,
- "The most public-spirited town,
- "The best town in which to bring up children

"What is your town's ideal?" continues the editorial. "Is it the best ideal for your town?

"Or does your town lack a con-scious ideal? If so, is it not worth while to develop a conscious ideal?"

Community Economy

An interesting example of community economy and efficiency was setforth in a report presented before the North Carolina school of economy. By conveying children in trucks from outlying districts of Cumberland county to six consolidated schools it was found possible to have 886 pupils taught by 30 teachers at an average cost per child of less than $38 for the school year. Another county reported a saving of $24,000 by means of the consolidated schools plan. Through this arrangement the state is able not only to effect substantial savings but also to pay higher salaries to its teachers and to provide better buildings and equipment for its school children.

Surroundings Count

Developers of residential districts are headed for the wall if they do not supply desirable surroundings before putting their property on the market, according to an expert, who gathered his experience in the development of 77 different subdivisions.

"Men know today that no home can be more desirable than the desirability of its surroundings," he said. "Men want those surroundings before they build. They seek a home site with established characteristics which will insure them against any 'guesses' in the future."

Guard Against Fire

The evils of fire-inviting construction have received tremendous publicity of late. Our annual fire loss is estimated at $500,000,000, Builders and owners are coming to realize that all construction should be truly fire resistant, whether built of wood fully protected or of incombustible mate-The superiority of metal lath and plaster protection for wood studs and joints has been recognized for years through general knowledge of the material and successful stopping of fire in many buildings.

Babylon Large City

Many expeditions have been sent out to excavate the ancient city of Babylon—the first in 1784—but it was not until after the real work of Deutsche Orient Gesellschaft, begun in 1899, that the outer wall was traceable. From this time they were able to determine that the city of Babylon covered 12 square miles.

accomplishment by the Auto-oiled Aermotor during the past eight years in pumping water.

Did you ever stop to think how many revolutions the wheel of a windmill makes? If the wheel of an Aermotor should roll along the surface of the ground at the same speet that it makes when pumping water it would encircle the world in 90 days, or would go four times around in a year. It would travel on an average 25 miles per day or about 30 miles per hour for 9 hours each day. An automobile which keeps up that pace day after day needs a thorough oiling at least once a week. In't it marvelous, then, that a windmill has been made which will go 50 times as long as the best automobile with one oiling? The Auto-oiled Aermotor after 8 full years of service in every dhen propen its ability to run and give the most reliable service.

CARE OF PULLETS DECIDES PROFITS

Mash, Grain and Clean Water Should Be Available.

The care of pullets makes a big difference in next year's profits or losses, says L. M. Hurd, of the New York state college of agriculture. After the pullets are twelve weeks of age both mash and grain should be constantly available in separate outdoor hoppers. Fresh clean water should be frequently provided if there is not a natural sunply in the field. Unlimited grass, clover, or alfalfa range ...nd shade, are essential for best growth.

The ability to lay is inherited, and thus depends more on breeding than on feeding; but pullets should be well developed in body before they start to lay. If the pullets seem to mature too rapidly, do not feed them wholly on grain to slow up their inclination to lay; anything that checks laying is also apt to stunt permanently the growth of the birds. Feed a mash along with scratch grain, as it is more complete in protein minerals and vitamines.

For proper fleshing at maturity it is sometimes advisable temporarily to reduce the amount of animal proteinmeat scraps, milk, etc-in the mash, or to limit the amount of mash fed. The former plan is better, as it allows the birds a better chance to obtain more of the minerals and vitamines, which they need. To feed large amounts of scratch grain and mash low in protein for about a month before the pullets normally mature, tends to make them complete their development in better flesh. Experiments at the Cornell university experiment station show that pullets need a substantial reserve of fat when they begin to lay, for satisfactory production later.

Production of Quality Eggs During Summer

Summer is usually hard on the production of good quality eggs. However, there is no reason why good quality eggs cannot be produced and marketed in summer. Commercial poultrymen can do it; owners of farm flocks can, too, if attention is given to a few important points.

All male birds removed from the pens so the eggs that are laid are infertile is the first thing, since infertile eggs will not spoil so quickly as fertile eggs. Clean eggs is the next. It is always a temptation to wash eggs that are dirty so a good appearance will be given. Such eggs. however, are apt to age more readily than unwashed eggs, since there is a more rapid evaporation of the contents of the egg and the air cell becomes enlarged, giving the egg the appearance when candled of an old egg. Production of clean eggs in the first place will help greatly—have plenty of clean nesting material in the nests.

********* Poultry Notes *******

Gather the eggs twice a day.

Crowding at the feed hopper stunts the growth of chicks.

Watch for lice and mites. They multiply fast in hot weather.

Keep poultry supplied with fresh, clean water during hot months.

Green feed in the poultry yard make greenbacks in the pocketbook.

Chicks need fresh air as well as heat. Leave windows open at the top.

Hens need water. It is an essential part of the ration, poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college say. A shortage of water causes a decrease in the number and size of eggs.

Use plenty of feed troughs. Start the chicks by nailing a two-inch strip around a nine-inch planed board and provide such a trough three feet long for every 100 chicks. More troughs are needed as chickens grow.

Of the total cost of producing poultry and eggs on most farms, 50 to 60 per cent is feed cost.

Lice and mites breed fast these hot days. And if you don't swat 'em and keep 'em swatted, they'll sap a lot of the growth and profit out of your

A brooder house on clean ground is profitable investment providing strong, healthy chicks are put into it. Otherwise it is as unprofitable as money in a "closed" bank.

Fresh eggs contain more water than stale eggs. For this reason fresh eggs sink in water when immersed, while stale eggs float.

Rare snots around the henhouse are incubators to breed parasites and dis ease. It pays to cultivate them up and sow to something green.

Lice and mites are poultry pests which can be controlled effectively. Use nicotine sulphate for lice and cree sote or carbolineum for mites. Apply the chemicals on the roosts.

Perfect Female Figure

One compilation of measurements for the perfect female figure is as follows: Neck, 121/2 inches; bust, 35 inches; waist, 26 inches; hip, 34 inches; thigh, 20 inches; knee, 14 inches; calf, 1314 inches; ankle, 8 inches; up-per arm, 1014 inches; forearm, 9 inches; wrist, 6 inches; height, 5 feet 6 inches; weight, 133 pounds.

Study Insecticides in Corn-Borer Plan

Some Chance of Securing Control Measure for Pest.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The likelihood of effective control of the European corn borer on a large scale by direct applications of insecticides is remote; nevertheless, the possibility of such control is worth investigating in the hope that something of value in this direction may develop, says the United States Department of Agriculture, Moreover, there is some chance of securing a control which may be practical for the protection of small plots of corn grown for the production of roasting ears for market or table use. A study of the possibility of the use of insecticides and moth attractants has been a phase of the corn-borer research program almost from the start.

In the 1929 research program for corn-borer control there will be close co-operation between the insecticide division of the bureau of chemistry and soils and the bureau of entomoly ogy, and also with various state workers and the Dominion of Canada. The development of new insecticides for corn-horer control is one of the primary objectives of this division, which has already made many analyses of insecticidal materials and of plants which have been sprayed or dusted with insecticides, to determine the residue left thereon.

The bureau of entomology plans to; make a number of experimental tests with the usual insecticidal materials and the newer ones recommended, in cluding tests of toxicity, adhesiveness, number of applications, plant toleration, compatible combinations, and costs. The method of application of each of these materials and the number of applications with reference to the stage of development of the plant and the insect, and in relation to meteorological conditions, are points of importance.

Glass Substitutes on

Poultry Farms Useful.

The following recommendations; are made by the poultry department of the lowa State College of Agriculture in order to get best results from glass substitutes:

1. Glass substitutes, whenever used, should always be placed in a vertical position.

2. For best results glass substitutes should not be used for openings in roofs or any slanting surface.

3. Glass substitutes used on frames should be securely tacked and firmly braced to prevent whipping.

4. Make all frames removable so they may be stored away from the hot sun and dust during the sum-

5. Glass substitutes admit little, if air · therefore the house must be ventilated properly to obtain the best results.

6. Glass substitutes should be kept free from dirt and dust.

7. When window glass or glass substitutes are used, direct sunlight, should be admitted whenever possible.

Purdue Issues Warning

in Buying Grass Seeds

Farmers and dairymen are warned by the Purdue experiment station to be cautious in buying clover and alfalfa seed. Seeds grown in foreign countries and other inferior seeds are stained different colors to show their origin. Most of these seeds are not adapted to this climate and are subject to serious winter killing. The seed that is stained purple is of Canadian origin and ranks equal to similar classes of native seed. Purity of the seed is another important consideration. Many new weeds have been introduced through low grade and impure seeds, and the Purdue agronomists warn against buying contaminated seed.

Farm Notes

Bridge grafting is the one way to save girdled trees.

Sanitary conditions are necessary to prevent diseases on a farm just as in a hospital.

After each very heavy rain topdress your growing vegetables lightly with some nitrogen fertilizer.

A gasoline engine will relieve the dairyman of many tasks each day at a cost of less than five cents per hour. . . .

Build the out-take flues for your barn ventilation system from the mow floor to the eaves while the mows are empty.

At least one colony of bees should be provided for each acre of your apple orchard to take care of cross-pollination.

Adopt a definite program of sanitation on your farm to reduce the loss of chicks. About half the losses of young chickens occur during the first four weeks. . . .

If the cockerels are separated from the pullets when they are eight to ten weeks old, the pullets will have a better chance for development and the poultryman can force the cockerels for market.

Small Church, Big Organ

Mr. Carnegie's first gift of an organ to a church was made to the little Swedenborgian church in Allegheny (Pa.) of which his mother was a member and which he attended as a boy. When it was installed, the pipes were so tall it was a current joke that the organ that Mr. Carnegie had given was so big that it had blown the roof off.
