In the summer the form hen may foruge for a supply of animal feed and garner all the available bugs, worms, and green feed needed to repleasish worm-out body tissue and to produce manabundum quantity of eggs. Bug are gone. So has the green feed on many farms and the hen must be fed if she is expected to produce eggs in profitable quantities.

"Eggs are high-priced in the winter and the season, says Dr. B. are knying, at this season, says Dr. B. are knying, says be should, it is possible that she may not have a comfortable house, or that she is not free of parasites, and does not have the right kind of Doctor Kaupan, sates that eggs are low in price during the spring months because everybody's hens are laying then. Eggs always go down in the spring and the furmers' organizations should store eggs at that agood, profit.

The poultry department has prepared extension circulars 185, 156 and 136 which tell how to put the farm feed on a paying basis. These build and feed the birds for winter eggs. It should be remembered, states Doctor Kaupp, that laying hens must have mash before them at all times. The mash must contain crushed grains, minerals, last or mean ment, or the surfected is also needed each day. Water should be constantly before the birds and the grain feed given them twice each day.

Most Poultry Diseases

Can Easily Be Conquered

Can Easily Be Conquered A broom, shovel, scruper and a spray pump with some crude oil or other good spray material will conquer most poultry diseases. The University of Nebrusta lists these remedies as the beat for most poultry diseases. Unfortunately, they also require energy and liftaitive on the part of the flock owar dope in the drinking water after the heas are sick than it is to scald the foundains and clean up the house. Of course, poultry yields to treatment the same as other live stock but why allow sickness to gain a footbold in the first place? Furthermore, the fellow, who pins too nuch faith on bright-colored, atrong-smelling medicines usually forgets to remove the close usually proyes it to be over-crowding, but it is an expensive method. Just plain prevention is all most poultry raisers need to avoid losses.

The amount of dry mash that the dens eat is usually determined by the amount of seratch feed given to the flock. Satisfactory results are obtained by feeding twice as much seratch feed as mash during the winter months, the ratio being reversed during the summer and spring months. It is a good plan to give the heaviest feed late in the afternoon. Succulent feeds like alfalfa, clover, sprouted outs, etc., are rich in vitanines, and have an excellent effect on the Arrival

It has been found that some of the stil takes in Hungary present the peculiarity of a layer of warm, or even hob, salt water between two hodies of colder water. Thus, in the Medoc lake, the surface temperature in summer is about 70 degrees, but at a depth of a little more than four feet the temperature becomes 128 degrees, or the more gagain to 05 degrees at the bectemperature becomes 180 degrees.

The surface water is fresh, but the warm water beneath is latensely asline, and the explanation of the difference of temperature is that, since the injectic heat of salt water. Historic Town

Harper's Ferry is a town in West Virginia at the confusees of the Bhenandon and Potomac and is about 60 miles from Washington. It re-cavired its name from Solvert Harper an English millwright, who obtained the grant of this site in 1488 from Corpe Washington. The origina arrey was made by Washington him-self and it is said that he personally selected the ferry as the site of a national armory. Harper's Ferry is famous in American history as the segae of John Brown's raid.

Poultry Hints

Let the breeding flocks have the range when you shut up the hens for winter eggs.

Watch the water supply. Poultry should never be allowed to drink frozen water.

For hatching eggs breed from the best of the late-laying hens, rather than from the pullets.

Be on surface the first sign of coids or roup in the poultry, and to separate the affilieted from the rest.

It is not well to force heavy egg production through feeding where birds are to be used for breeding pens.

It is a good scheme to plow or spade up the poultry runs each spring in order to get rid of worms that cause games in chickens.

Nature's way of resting her feati-

Nature's way of resting her feathered family is to let them rear a family. Turkeys and chickens are both better for the season of rest.

Turning hens out of the warm heishouse on a chill wintry day, or with a cold wind blowing, or with snow or lee on the ground, opens the way to wheesing roup before midnight.

If you shut up the pullets they may lose their appetite. Coax them along with frequent grain feedings and a moist mash once a day.

Cement makes the best floor for a poultry house. When properly built it is economical, easy to clean, rat proof, durable, and free from dampness.

Crisp crusted corn bread for breakfast or dinner is always liked. To make it you will need the following ingredients:

gredients:

2 cupfuls corn meal 1½ teaspoonfuls

2 tablespoonfuls of butter but sweet or sour milk.

If using sweet milk, mix all the dry ingredients together, including two tea-spoonfuls of baking powder. Then add the milk and well-beaten eggs and at the last stir in the melted butter. If using sour milk, follow the same general method except mix together a scant teaspoonful of soda and a table-spoonful of cold water and add this to the batter just before the melted butter is stirred in. Bake the corn bread in a shallow heavy pan or in muffin pans if preferred.

Quick Bread and Cakes
In making quick breads and cakes allow in general one to one and onehalf teaspoonthis of baking powder for each cupful of flour. Butter cakes that have a great deal of egg white may, however, need less. Popovers and sponge cakes are the exception and require no baking powder at all.

At the age of seven, upon the death of his mother, he was given a home by his uncle, Elisha Boggess, where he lived until at the age of twelve he started to seek his own fortune. He was employed by a farmer near Clunette, Indiana, Mr. Joe Hall, a man for whom he always had the highest regard, and with whom he lived for several years.

As a man, he was always interested in the success of others and championed the cause of the unfortunate or needy, and as a citizen he took a deep interest in civic affairs.

What success in life he attained was acquired by his own personal effort. He was an honest upright man of strong character and convictions, and, though he sever became affiliated with any church organization, he lived true to the idea that "He who serves his fellowman, serves his Master best."

At various times he has opened his home to children who needed a parental care, doubtless remembering the like circumstances of his own childhood. As a result he leaves a host of triends, who will miss his jovial and kindly was.
