AGED LADY DIES

(The following news item was prepared for our last issue but we failed to get it in the issue. Editor)

Mrs. Julia Creakbaum, 90, of Mentone, died at 8 a. m. Tues. (July 22) in the Murphy Medical Center after an illness of the past few years.

Mrs. Creakbaum had resided with her nephew, C. O. Eiler, for 20 years. She had spent the last few months in a Warsaw nursing home prior to entering the hospital.

A lifetime resident of the Mentone area, she was born Nov. 25, 1869, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller. She married John Creakbaum who preceded her in death in 1938. She was a member of the Mentone Baptist Church.

Surviving are a number of nephews and nieces.

Services were held Sunday, July 24 at 3 p. m. in the Johns funeral home in Mentone with Rev. E. Coleman Ralston officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

A fire which started late on Wednesday night of last week destroyed a large barn on the Henry Smith farm three miles north and a half mile east of Akron. The loss to building and contents was estimated at about $20,000 and there was no insurance.

Fire departments were present from Akron, Mentone, Silver Lake and Burket.

It is presumed spontaneous combustion caused the blaze.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

A two-car accident near the Bryan poultry farm, north of here, required the treatment of two persons in the emergency room of the Murphy medical center at Warsaw.

Jennie McGowen, 58, of Tippecanoe, was treated for an injury to her right ankle, and Anna Corwin, 32, of Mentone, was treated for bruises to her legs.

Both were passengers in autos driven by Shannon Corwin, Warsaw, and Erm McGowen, Tippecanoe.

He was attempting to thread a needle on the hay baler when his head became lodged in the rocker arms of the baler and was crushed.

Mr. Gagnon had lived in the Akron and Silver Lake communities for 40 years coming there from Illinois.

He was born April 2, 1911, in Iroquois county, Ill., to Edward and Armin Blois Gagnon. He married Alice Murphy Feb. 11, 1933 at Akron.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

Two ideas have stuck in my mind from our recent vacation in Michigan. I'm thinking specifically of what a small town can do to attain a certain degree of individuality and beauty.

One town had small trees "potted" in large square planters, and placed at regular intervals on the sidewalk along its main street. We stopped for a moment while Timmy and his grandfather "wet their whistles" at the drinking fountain. Just to gaze down this busy street and see an unending parade of small trees, serene and cool, gave one a gentle lift of the spirit.

In another town, the Booster Club of the high school has placed beautiful lavender trash cans (with conventional hinged tops) on all the corners on its main street. One can't fail to see them, and be pleasantly reminded that here is the place to drop that candy wrapper, paper sack, or empty cigarette pack.

Overheard in our sandbox—"Your Mother and our Aunt Jinny used to play house in our grape-arbor."

Our magnolia tree is blooming again. Isn't this rather unusual?

Have had several reports on the wrens from readers. It seems that, in nearly every case, the wrens came back as usual. Have been wondering if there might be some new cats in the neighborhood where the wrens failed to return.

We enjoyed this:

Teacher: "Your theme on 'Our Dog' is identical to that of your brother."

Little Tommy: "Yism, I know—it's the same dog."

NEW SONS

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Riner of Mentone are the parents of a new son born at the Woodlawn hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kralis of R. 5, Warsaw, are the parents of a son born at the Murphy medical center at Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holloway of near Talma are the parents of a son born at the Woodlawn hospital.

MAY START KINDERGARTEN

On Tuesday, August 9, at 7:30 p. m. there will be a public meeting at the school cafeteria for all interested persons of the Mentone school area on organizing a kindergarten.

We have a licensed teacher who will be willing to teach the class. There will be a tuition charge for each child to attend. Bake sales and various other ways to raise money will be held to help lessen the tuition charged, also we are hoping for some extra financial help from the township or state in the future.

Our problem now is where to hold the classes. It would have to be heated sufficiently and also have rest room facilities, much like the P. T. A. in setting up the rules and regulations for the kindergarten. The parents of the children attending will of course be expected to take part in various offices and so on.

An association will be formed to take part in various offices and so on.

KART RACES HELD SUNDAY

Perfect weather and a newly oiled track combined to make a pleasant afternoon for spectators and a fast track for kart enthusiasts at Sunday's Mentone Kart Club races.

Feature winners were Bill Shonk, Tippecanoe, in "A" class, John Woolpert, North Manchester, North Manchester, in "C" ter, in "B" class, and Jim Tholclass. "A" concey winner was Ken Leiter, Mentone, and Jim Townsend, of Peru captured the "B" concey.

Heat winners were Dave Baker, Silver Lake; Bill Shonk, Tippecanoe; John Woolpert, No. Manchester; Mark Surface, Mentone; and Jack Ulery, Wabash.

Jack Ulery escaped injury after his kart flipped at the start of the feature race.

The next race will be held Sunday afternoon, August 7th, with time trials at 1:15 and races getting underway at 2:30.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones celebrated their golden wedding Sunday. Open house was held at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tinkey of near Burket.

LIGHTNING HITS QUINN HOME

The Paul Quinn residence, located about four miles northwest of Mentone, was damaged about four thousand dollars early today, when it was struck by a bolt of lightning.

The Mentone and Etna Green fire departments were able to confine the resulting blaze to the kitchen and bathroom area.

ANNE WARD WEDS JAN METHENY

The Tippecanoe Congregational Christian Church was the scene of an impressive candle-light wedding service at 8 p. m. Saturday, July 23, which united in marriage Miss Martha Anne Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ward to L. Jan Metheny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Metheny, all of near Tippecanoe.

Rev. James H. Gardner, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Nancy Fanning of Tippecanoe, pianist, and David Fanning, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of scalloped Chantilly lace over taffeta styled with a bouffant skirt.

A sweetheart neckline highlighted the bodice which formed a point below the waistline. The graceful long sleeves tapered to bridal points over her hands with tiny self-covered buttons at the wrists. Her finger-tip veil fell gracefully from a headpiece fashioned of organza petals and satin finished blossoms with tiny seed pearls in the centers. She chose a crescent bouquet of white gardenia centered with a purple orchid. Complementing her gown was a diamond pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending Miss Ward as maid of honor was her sister, Marilyn, wearing a ballerina dress of pale pink nylon organza with white flocking and a large bustle bow.

Serving as best man was James Dickey of Tippecanoe. Ushers were Gary Bell, Argos and Allen Metheny, Tippecanoe, cousins of the bridegroom. For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Ward chose an orchid, shiffl embroidered sheath dress with orchid and white accessories. Mrs. Metheny wore a black silk dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

A reception was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony for approximately 200 guests.

A wedding trip was taken to the southern states, and the groom will resume his studies at Tri State College, Angola, in the fall.

Both the bride and groom are 1958 graduates of Tippecanoe high school.

RAT DAMAGE IS COSTLY

Let's get rid of rats—the nuisance that costs people over a billion dollars' damage a year!

On the farm or in the city, rats destroy property, contaminate food, and carry deadly disease germs that kill both humans and animals.

Your crib, barn, or poultry house will become a rat heaven for a horde of these filthy rodents unless you keep them out, says G. C. Oderkirk, animal control biologist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Eliminate rats on your property by using poisoned baits, gassing, or by trapping, Oderkirk suggests.

Warfarin, fumarin, and other anti-blood-clotting poisons are available. They are the most effective and the most widely used rat poisons.

Place baits so rodents can't avoid them. To protect pets, place baits under boxes or behind boards. Self-feeding containers assure a constant supply of bait. Continuous baiting will serve as a check on reinfestation, Oderkirk says.

According to government rat experts, one rat living in a grainery or warehouse during the year may eat upward of 40 pounds of food. Double this amount may be contaminated by their filth.

Don't feed rats and mice for another winter. The time you spend in trying to eliminate this pest will save you a 10-dollar bill per rat!

NOTICE

Kindly refrain from placing corn cobs or shucks in the garbage—place it in with the trash and cans.

MARRIED JULY 23

Pink and white gladioli graced the altar of the North Salem Church of the Brethren for the candlelight wedding of Miss Dolores Ann Mock and Robert R. Holloway. Rev. Howard Kreider read the double-ring service at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, July 23, in the presence of approximately 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mock of R. 1, Milford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holloway of Mentone.

Mrs. Everett Tom, Jr., Leesburg, organist, and Robert Bishop, Leesburg, vocalist, presented the nuptial music.

Entering with her father, the bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. Iridescent sequins and pearls adorned the scoop neckline of the lace bodice which was styled with tapered sleeves and pointed waistline. The full skirt extended into a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls and crystal. She carried a cluster of pink carnations with her white Bible.

Miss Janie Mock, maid of honor to her sister, was gowned in green water silk over taffeta. Similar dresses in lavender and yellow were worn by the bridesmaids, Mrs. Stephen Bornman and Mrs. Kenneth Ranes of Syracuse.

Max Holloway served his brother as best man. Ushers were Albert Henderson of Fort Wayne and Don Lockwood of North Manchester.

A reception was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony.

The bridegroom, a 1955 graduate of the Mentone high school and a carpenter and specialist fourth class in the U. S. Army, and recently returned from Greenland where he helped build the "city under ice." The bride is a 1958 graduate of the Milford high school.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

We are beginning a new venture at our house. The editor received a copy of "Three Against The Wilderness" as a Christmas gift. The book relates the true experiences of Erie Collier, his wife and son as they went into the wilds of Canada, built their home, and brought a barren wilderness back to life.

The book remained unread until recently. The ten o'clock TV news seemed to stretch on into another feature leaving no time for reading aloud. Then, someone discovered how easy it is to snap off the TV and how pleasant it is to spend an hour reading and listening (My immediate problem is how to keep the editor interested in a scanty two acres, after reading about Erie Collier who had a trapping domain of 150,000 acres.

There seems to be a variety of little wild creatures who visit our town. Hene Bowser called last week to say that she and Mrs. Fitzgerald saw a possum ambling along their street recently.

Had an interesting telephone visit with Fern Rickle, who called in reference to our magnolia blooming for the second time this summer. Her magnolia, a red one like ours, has bloomed three times, which is a record.

The Rickle's have four pair of wrens, which came back unusually late this year. They have many many birds, which they enjoy. Mrs. Rickle asked if anyone else has noticed that doves often go in threes rather than in pairs, and wondered why. (She suggested that one might be the mother-in-law.)

To say that my recent counseling experience was "enlightening" is an understatement of great proportions. A group of nine year old girls, somehow or other makes one think of a covey of quail, and can you imagine keeping track, even for a short time, of a covey of quail?

There were the usual—homesick tears; blisters; mosquito bites; lost swim-suits; ripped hems; nose-bleed; tummy aches; quarrels; letters home (with help in spelling); this, too, is an endless list.

We enjoyed this:
The lawyer asked, "Did you

Farm Income Prospects Better

A Purdue University agricultural economist said tonight Indiana farmers this year would regain some, but not all, of their income decline of 1959. Higher hog and egg prices will offset weaker feed and cattle prices.

Ronald H. Bauman, speaking at the State Farm Management Tour banquet at Honey Creek School, southwest of Terre Haute, asserted that 1961 Indiana farm income would be substantially the same as in 1960. Hog prices next year, the economist added, are expected to average higher, while feed grains and cattle likely will decline slightly from 1960 levels.

"As livestock prices realign themselves with low feed grain prices", said Bauman, "incomes to Indiana farmers may sag a gain in the course of the next two or three years."

"Furthermore, both the cattle and hog number cycles may peak about the same time a couple of years or so hence and, if so, it will result in a critical period for farmers."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Franklin Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana, that the proper legal officers of said municipality at their regular meeting place, on the 30th day of August, 1960, will consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time.

TUITION
Fund B-2
Pay of Teachers	$9100.00
SPECIAL SCHOOL
Fund C-3
Transportation	500.00
Fund C-2
Driver Education	200.00
Fund D-2
Fuel	200.00
Fund E-2
Repair of Building	1000.00
Total Spec. Sch.	$1900.00

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting shall have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriations as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which Board will hold a further hearing within fifteen days at the County Auditor's office of Kosciusko County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing taxpayers objecting to any of such additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

LAWRENCE BUTTS
Trustee of Franklin Twp.
A 3-10

in the year ahead probably will register a normal two percent gain, the economist asserted. Market supplies of cattle and dairy products will be a little larger; hog and egg market supplies will be a little smaller.

Bauman declared that the prospective slightly higher trend in prices received by farmers will be largely offset by an upward trend in prices farmers pay for the things they have to buy.

The parity ratio in the year ahead will average about 80—the same as now, he added. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Bauman emphasized that the forecast was based on the major assumptions that international tensions would remain unchanged, that the level of defense spending would rise only moderately, that there will be no significant change in the demand for food and that any major changes in farm programs would not come early enough to become effective for the 1961 crop year.

Dr. J. B. Peterson, head of Purdue's agronomy department, listed five goals of present soils and crops research at Purdue. Speaking at the banquet, he outlined these aims as:

Development of techniques for study of soil and water conservation.

Development of agricultural crops with new uses, specifically genetic work which led to development of high amylose corn.

Development of ways to increase farming efficiency, such as minimum tillage for planting corn.

Protection of crops against disease and insects through the varietal improvement program.

Special attention to fundamental studies essential from the long-time view, such as the mechanism of root feeding in soils and how water influences movement of nutrients.

DEKALB CROP WEATHER DATA SERVICE

Warmer temperatures and widely scattered rains pushed corn along in late July, but it will still take a long, hot fall to mature much of the nation's corn crop. Considerable of it is ten days to two weeks behind normal. Corn Belt wide, conditions have been generally favorable for corn during July, and the August 1st U. S. D. A. estimate should edge up some what from 1st guess of 4.079 billion bushels.

Russia's many boasts of supremacy hardly extend to corn as the 1959 Russian crop of 425,000 bushels was only one tenth of the U. S. crop of 4.1 billion. The world production of corn was the largest in history. The 1959 Russian crop was actually down about one third due to drought, even though acreage was larger.

Fantastic oats yields continue to be reported from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. 100 bushel yields seem to be common and occasional yields of 120 to 150 bushels have been reported.

The cool, wet weather which has favored oats has also favored weeds. A recent estimate gives prospective weed loss in Indiana at over $15,000,000 a year in any season, and much more this year. New weeds have attracted much attention in central Indiana are Johnson grass, a tough perennial which spreads through its roots and is prevalent all over the South; and Giant Foxtail, well known in eastern Illinois as well as Indiana. These two, if abundant, can cut yields of corn in half, as well as making harvesting much more difficult.

Where is the best corn? Dekalb crop reporters indicate that southern Pennsylvania, most of Ohio, southern Indiana, southwestern Iowa, southeastern Nebraska, northeastern Nebraska, western Kentucky and northwestern Missouri are in the most favored areas.

The poorest corn is reported in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, southeastern Iowa and western Illinois. Northern Minnesota has been adversely affected by drought and in the other areas there is much corn which was planted extremely late.

PICNIC FOR RADIO LISTENERS

Franke Park in Fort Wayne has been selected as the site for the WOWO "Summer Sizzle" Picnic to which the station is inviting all of its area listeners. This is to be a family affair starting at twelve noon on Aug. 13 and extending until 7 p. m. The WOWO personalities will be hosts at the affair which will include games and fun for the old and young, an old-fashioned band concert to be played by a brass band through the courtesy of the A. F. of M. Local 58; Three Lads and Dad, a barber-shop quartette from Muncie, Indiana and other local musical groups. The concert will be held on the picnic area grounds. At 4:30 p. m. a mammoth musical extravaganza will be staged for the picnickers in the Outdoor Theater, one of the finest theaters in the midwest. Appearing on the show will be artists discovered in the WOWO Search for Stars held during the past season.

The station is suggesting that families who come plan to bring their own picnic lunches, a blanket and transistor or portable radios if they have them.

A FAMILIAR LOOK

The publishers of Life Magazine this week sent out a letter with an open cellophane window exposing a miniature copy of Life. The picture attracted the editor's eye as having a familiar look, and upon inspection I found it to be a tiny copy of the first issue of Life published in November, 1925. This first issue of Life contained many pages of life at the Fort Peck dam on the Missouri river in eastern Montana, and the cover was the giant cement abutments for the spillway.

During those years the Columns published a newspaper at Circle, Montana and we literally grew up with the Fort Peck project.

The Chicago Motor Club says that drivers should allow a car pulling a trailer plenty of room since that driver is handicapped by greater stopping distance. Motorists also should remember that it takes greater clearance ahead to pass a car and trailer than it does to pass just a car alone.

TO PROMOTE SOIL CONSERVATION

An Indiana-wide soil conservation contest "to promote a broader and more active interest and participation in the conservation of soil and water resources," has been announced by Charles C. McKee, extension soil conservationist at Purdue University.

The contest is sponsored by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in cooperation with the Purdue extension service, Soil Conservation Service, State Soil Conservation Committee and Soil Conservation Districts. It will stress the application of better land use, improved land treatment and approved soil conservation practices.

Each soil conservation district served by the Baltimore and Ohio is eligible to enter a farmer in the contest. There are 35 of these in Indiana.

Any farmer who is a cooperator with one of the districts in the three geographical areas into which Indiana has been divided is eligible except 1959 area winners, all former state winners, district supervisors, full-time employees of the USDA and the extension service and vocational agriculture instructors.

Supervisors will select candidates in their districts to compete for the area championships.

McKee said factors which would be considered in the contest include land use, including intensity of rotation, establishment of quality soil and water conservation practices, maintenance of practices applied, contestant's knowledge of and attitude toward conservation, activities in promoting conservation and progress based on resources available. A championship award will be presented by the Baltimore and Ohio to the state winner chosen from the winners of the three areas. Awards also will be made to the first and second place winners in the area contest. A limited number of special awards will be given for outstanding accomplishments in any one phase of the program.

Entries must be sent to McKee by Oct. 1. The contest judging committee will visit the farm of each district winner and determine the area and state champions. Further information may be obtained from Soil Conservation District supervisors throughout Indiana.

RECORD JUNE LIVESTOCK KILL

Liveweight of all livestock commercially slaughtered in Indiana during June was 153,295,000 pounds, report state-federal statisticians at Purdue University.

This total is eight percent below May but 12 percent above June slaughter of all species is the largest for the month in 13 years of record and also marks a new June record high for hog slaughter.

Slaughter of hogs during June amounted to 93,992,000 pounds liveweight—12 percent below May but 10 percent above June 1959.

The 56,000 head of cattle slaughtered had a total live weight of 55,048,000 pounds, one percent below May but 16 percent above June of last year.

Calf slaughter totaled 2,509,000 pounds liveweight, 14 percent above May and 23 percent above June 1959.

Sheep and lamb slaughter amounted to 1,746,000 pounds, 16 percent above May and four percent more than the June 1959 slaughter.

Output of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in the United States totaled 2,241 million pounds in June—nine percent above June 1959. This was approximately the same as May 1960 production.

Open car windows, says the Chicago Motor Club, are an invitation to danger when young children are in the car. Keep an eye on the small fry. Don't let them hang their arms out of the car windows. And be sure to teach children that the car door handle is not a toy.

There is no time for day
dreaming while driving a car,
says the Chicago Motor Club.
Failure to pay complete attention to the job of driving is a serious mistake and an underlying cause of many traffic accidents.

Frequently inspect the lights of your vehicle, says the Chicago Motor Club, especially brake or stoplights, to make certain they are in perfect mechanical condition. Faulty brake or stop-lights are a major cause of rear-end collisions.

present.

Miss Diana Sarber, a member of the Mentone Merry 4-H's gave a demonstration on "Bak-

Fay Whetstone, Jeanne Horn, Lea Hudson and Maxine Hollo-

they will present at the Wo-

Aug. 22, 23 and 24th.

Velma Horn gave us a lesson on "Hazards in the Medicine Cabinet" for the health and safety lesson.

Several contests were enjoyed by all with the prizes going to Fay Whetstone, Jeanne Horn and Diana Sarber.

The door prize was won by Caroline Bennet. Neola McGow-

Cooper and Pat Leiter received secret pal gifts.

Refreshments were served by the co-hostess, Fay Whetstone and Mary Puterbaugh.

There will be a silent auction
at our September meeting.

July 29th 15 members of the club enjoyed "Third Best Sport" at the Wagon Wheel Playhouse in Warsaw.

During rainstorms, says the Chicago Motor Club, traffic often splatters mud on your windshield and headlights. Remember to keep your windshield wi-tion and to wipe off your headlights at frequent intervals.

Reading a road map while driving is a hazardous habit,
says the Chicago Motor Club.
Distractions which harass a driver
at any time are perilous, especially at high speeds on the open road. Pull completely off the street or highway to do your map reading.

STUDY ON PASTURE VALUE

A 10-year Purdue University study of the pasture utilization points up the importance of this method of cutting labor and expense, maintaining and improving soil fertility and giving flexibility to cultivated crop acreage.

Henry Mayo and Kenneth MacDonald, Purdue extension animal scientists, found that Indiana cattle feeders prefer pastures that are from 50 to 80 percent grass and 20 to 50 percent legume. This type pasture provides fiber, starch and dry matter to balance the protein naturally provided by legumes. It also reduces the danger from bloat.

During 1959, 282 cattle, averaging 517 pounds at the beginning of the summer, averaged 271 pounds of gain per head and 411 pounds of gain per acre. These animals received no grain.

The 10-year study of 3,866 cattle receiving no grain showed that:

Commercial fertilizers were applied to pastures according to soil tests. (In no case was a high nitrogen fertilizer used.)

Thin, light weight cattle which gained no more than 1.25 pounds a day during the winter gained faster and cheaper on pasture.

Many farmers who use rotation pastures for fattening cattle leave the fields in pasture two or more years.

Birdfoot trefoil and bluegrass mixture make an excellent permanent pasture.

Clean, fresh water in the pasture is important.

Control of flies and other parasites aids in keeping the cattle quiet and comfortable.

Details of the study are contained in Mimeo AS-279, "Pasture for Growing and Fattening Cattle." Indiana residents can obtain a free copy by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions that going just a few miles per hour over the posted speed limit can be a dangerous practice. Posted speed limits have been established as the maximum speed at which you can drive safely under ideal conditions. Therefore, exceeding these speed limits, even when conditions are perfect, is an invitation to danger.

TRACTOR TALK

From: J. Walter Thompson Co. Michigan.

HOT TIPS ON OVERHEATING

During the remaining summer months, you'll probably be encountering quite a few engines which are suffering from the heat. However, before undertaking any major repairs to correct overheating, engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company advise a thorough check of an overheating engine on your tractor or truck can waste a lot of time. If you encounter this problem, you may be able to diagnose the trouble by checking the following points:

- (1) All drive belts should be properly tensioned.
- (2) Radiator caps must release pressure at specified PSI.
- (3) Engine idle speeds must be set to proper specifications.
- (4) Radiator and hoses must be leak free.
- (5) Check the water flow. When normal engine operating temperatures are attained, carefully remove the radiator cap and observe the coolant in the radiator. If water circulation cannot be seen when the engine is slightly accelerated, check the thermostats for proper operation.
- (6) Check the tightness of the pulley hub on the water pump and the water pump gasket.

Incidentally, a periodic check of each of these points may eliminate the danger of overheating. It's time well spent.

Purdue University dairy scientists recommend inclusion of silage in a dairy feeding program. Silage is a good hay saver during times of high hay prices.

Double the drinking space for layers and broilers whenever the temperature exceeds 80 degrees, advise Purdue University poultry scientists. An abundance of cool water is of prime importance in helping keep chickens cool since they have no sweat glands.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear beloved son, and brother, Curly, who left us five years ago, August 6th.

Dear son, five years have passed away
Since you left for your home on high,
We thank God for the memory of you
Which we know will never die.
But sweeter grow with each passing year
Till we meet again some day
Where our heart aches, tears and loneliness
Will be forgotten and fade away
In the joy of our happy reunion
In God's other room some day.

Vaccinate Hogs Against Cholera

Swine raisers shouldn't drop their guard on hog cholera, because it still ranks as the most potent swine killer.

That's the advice of Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, who points out that the disease could wipe out an unvaccinated herd almost overnight.

"During a lull in the incidence of the disease hog raisers are apt to be hesitant to vaccinate," says Dr. Hall.

"It is natural to attempt to save the cost of vaccination," he goes on, "but that decision might prove to be an expensive one."

There is no present indication that hog cholera is on the up-swing. A start of the disease with relatively few herds immunized could prove disastrous to the swine industry.

Dr. Hall adds that there might not be sufficient serum available at such time to cope with an epidemic of the disease.

Farmers should have all their susceptible hogs vaccinated at once, the veterinarian adds, observing:

"Proper vaccination is the best insurance against a loss due to hog cholera, and a wise swine grower will not let down his guard against the disease."

A HISTORY OF MENTONE

By M. O. MENTZER,
Secretary Mentone Chamber of Commerce

Previous to the installing of the water system, each summer would see a number of typhoid fever cases. A number of deaths occurred as a result of this terrible disease. Many open wells and out-door privies were part of the cause of this sickness; however in a short time, after many people had installed bath rooms and discarded the open wells we began to have less of this disease and now a case of typhoid fever is a rare thing and we should all be quite thankful.

About this time Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist, was holding meetings in some of the large cities and was instrumental in bringing a number of people into church fellowship. The smaller towns were also having revivals and a man by the name of Stephens who had been holding such a meeting of the Berrien Springs, Michigan was contacted by the combined officials of the Baptist and Methodist churches here and arrangements were made to hold an evangelistic meeting in Mentone. A tabernacle building was constructed on the lots then vacant west of the Frank Mfg. building, now occupied by Peterson's Restaurant and Griffis recreation. Mr. Stephens had a song leader and a number of personal workers. They were well organized and the meetings were quite successful and over one thousand people were persuaded to walk down the sawdust trail. All churches in the community, although they assumed no responsibility for the success of the meetings, were benefitted. It makes one wonder now almost 50 years later why there isn't more co-operation with church organizations.

We had been taking the dust from gravel streets for years and now began a movement for paving Main street from the west edge of town to the east line. This was about 1916, as near as I can remember. As usual there was controversy on whether or not the benefits would exceed the cost but finally it was decided to pave. Now the question arose should we use cement or brick. This was booted around—first brick would seemingly be the favorite material then it would be cement. Finally it was decided to use cement and the work was started in the summer. Knodle and Miller were the successful bidders and I feel sure they attempted to build according to specifications because when it is necessary to cut thru the pavement now you will find it well constructed. In fact I am told that this contract lost the builders money and they were compelled to quit business.

Before the pavement was constructed Mahlon Jefferies had a sprinkling wagon back of Boganwright's Cafe which furnished plenty of water. This was certainly a big improvement but there were a few short sighted people who would not pay for the sprinklings. The town officials paid for the crossings and the merchants for the frontage. As always those who would not pay only made it necessary for others to pay more than their share. I am sure Mr. Jefferies never was overpaid for his time and investment.

World War I was now in the making—rumblings across the sea were being heard in U. S. Finally the Germans sank a steamship and we were in war. Most of you know the history and the outcome of this and following wars. We have so far been successful in our conflicts; may we always be.

In writing the history of Mentone, as I remember it, I have enjoyed going back in memory. No doubt I have left out some things that some remember quite distinctly and I am sure I have missed some amusing and historical points. I have brought this history up to around 1920 and from this time on many of you know the important things as well or perhaps better than I do.

I would like to call your attention to the copies of the Mentone Gazette and other publications that are on file at the Bell Memorial Library. They contain a wealth of interesting things that have happened over the years.

I wish also to thank Mr. Culum for giving me the opportunity of expressing my observations, and to thank those of you who have expressed by word or letter their appreciation for this condensed history. Now I am going fishing.

M. O. MENTZER.

CLEAN TIMOTHY, CLOVER SEED

Farmers harvesting timothy and red clover for seed should either run the seed over a farm cleaner or take the seed to a cleaner immediately after harvest for removal of green matter, reminds A. S. Carter, director of seed control at Purdue University.

Carter points out that generally there is enough extraneous matter in the seed to cause it to heat. Some farmers have left seed in bags over night only to find the seed ruined the next day by green weed matter.

Timothy seed containing such material should be spread out in a thin layer to dry. It should not be stored in bags or bins where its germination qualities may be destroyed, Carter warns.

And, if the farmer plans to advertise the seed for sale it is subject to the labeling provisions of the Indiana Seed Law and must carry properly filled out analysis tags.

Youth Program At Talma Church

The Talma Bible Church launched their youth fellowship program Sunday evening. The program is under the direction of Oland Summers. Mr. Summers used the theme, "A Birthday Party," to emphasize the beginning of the youth fellowship program and the teenagers' need of a spiritual birthday.

The young people between the ages of 13 and 19 will be meeting each Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. in the church basement.

The programs are designed to encourage Christian fellowship, to develop Christian leadership, to increase the teenager's Bible knowledge and to guide them into effective Christian living. The young people will be taking an active part in the planning and production of these meetings.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

One day this week, when I answered the telephone all I heard was a gentle snapping. Finally a chuckle came through and the editor's voice saying, "Thought I might be of some help snapping beans." The humor was appreciated, even though the offer of help came just as the last of the bushel of green beans was being processed. (Good timing, there.)

Poetry writing is a national pastime in Japan.

We enjoyed this short one, which is written in the poetic form called haiku:

"Up the barley rows, stitching, stitching them together a butterfly goes" (Sara)

And this one:
"The persimmon, lo!
No one can tell till he tastes
it!
Marriage is even so"

(Busoni)

The climax to my counseling (and the most humorous incident) came on Tuesday evening. The young physical ed director unknowingly set the stage for chills and tension when he told a ghost story (complete with white-robed moaning ghosts) at the evening fun spiration just before retiring. At midnight the dormitory was still noisy. By one o'clock quiet was beginning to settle, except for a few scattered whispers and nervous giggles. It could have eased off to a completely uneventful night had not two little insomniacs decided to sneak into the next room, to discuss the early 6:30 swim with their neighbors. Their stealthy, unannounced visit so surprised and frightened the neighbors that they gave forth with a lusty terror-stricken yell.

By the time I had stepped in to my moccasins and reached the door, little girls of all sizes, shapes, and colors were popping out of bedrooms as though snapped from rubber bands. They huddled and clutched each other in breathless terror. It took a great deal of explaining, reasoning, and stern (?) reprimands before they were persuaded to return to their rooms to try to sleep.

I know of two counselors who went to their rooms to stuff pillows in their mouth to keep from "rousing the camp" with near hysterical laughter.

(This is another incident to file away for recall when a good

We enjoyed this:
The little boy approached his father who was standing at the edge of a cliff admiring the scenery. He said, "Mama says it isn't safe here and you're either to come away or give me the picnic basket."

WRESTLING HERE
AUGUST 26

Two championship matches will feature the professional wrestling program to be held Friday night, August 26, in the Mentone Gym under the sponsorship of the Psi Iota Xi Sorority.

The main event will be a tag team match in which the notorious Shire brothers, Roy and Ray will defend their team trophy against the popular Brunetti brothers, Guy and Joe.

Both teams have been seen several times on Fort Wayne and Elkhart television matches. The Shires, in particular, have been enlivening TV action for two years. The bombastic blonds are regarded as two of the rings roughest customers, while the younger Brunettis have relied on clean and fast tactics. They have been close to winning the tag title, but have been thwarted on each occasion.

In the co-feature—the semi-final bout, June Byers, recognized as the women's champion, will defend her championship belt against one of her top rivals, Teresa Theis, who has on several occasions forced the champion to a draw. However, Byers will be the favorite because of the famous "Byers bridge", one of the wrestling's most unusual and punishing holds.

Both of these matches will be best-two-falls-out-of-three, with a one-hour time limit.

In the opener, a one-fall 20 minute match, Guy Brunetti will duel Ray Shire.

The program will get under way at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale in advance from any Sorority member.

DERBY RACES

Eddie Tridle returned from the International Soap Box Derby races at Akron, Ohio, Sunday evening, filled with a lot of enthusiasm and memories that will be with him the rest of his life. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tridle, were no less impressed.

Eddie came home with a 19-jewel wrist watch, helmet and silk jacket, and a souvenir tray with a big derby picture in the center.

All the mothers at the awards banquet Sunday night were presented with garlands of orchids.

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

Recently spent an interesting day and a half in Chicago attending the National Ceramic Show at the Sherman Hotel. Went with my sister who has turned a hobby into a project, and has her own small shop. Her utility room now serves a dual role. Precision built shelves (provided by her interested spouse) house a growing variety of molds and greenware. By sheer determination, I have managed to remain an "over-her-shoulder" participant. If one allows more than a casual interest in this hobby, you are lost. Our son Jon innocently (?) dubbed us "psycho-ceramics" — crack-pots, if you please!!

One evening the editor and I were watching Echo I satellite as it went spinning out there 1,000 miles at the unbelievable speed of 15,000 m.p.h. Our attention was drawn, for a split second, by the brilliant flash of a falling star. This was timely, for one is apt to be over-awed by man's feats and forget that Psalm 3:19 tells us: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens."

Read an interesting comment in reference to the idea that a doctor shortage existed. It seems a man, while on a trip, had a car breakdown on Sunday. He had to remain in this town until Monday when the "parts" store opened. The observer said that if he had broken an arm or leg he would have received Sunday care, and wondered if there might not be a shortage of auto mechanics.

This same man suggested, also, that if other workers spent 60 to 80 hours per week as doctors do, they probably would out-earn the doctors, for they would get time-and-a-half, double-time, and "fringe benefits."

We enjoyed this:

An Eastern guest at a dude ranch was fascinated by the cowboy as he rolled his cigarette. Finally she said, "It's wonderful how easily you roll a cigarette with one hand."

"Tain't nothin'," the cowboy drawled. "Gettin' the filter in is the hard part."

NO EGG
SHOW THIS YEAR

Eleven committeemen of the Mentone Egg Show heeded the secretary's call for a special meeting at the Mentone school last Wednesday evening, and they voted to not hold an egg show in 1960.

Due to varied and rapid changes in the poultry industry the past few years, the committee felt that it would be a proper time to evaluate the needs of the day and perhaps institute other programs or means that might be of more value to the industry.

During the course of the years the Mentone show has found itself with an indebtedness at the end of the show; however, at the present time there is a small sum of money which will be retained for any future need for which it may be adequate.

All those who have worked with the egg show in the past wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to all who have helped present the educational and entertaining programs in years past.

Kosciusko county has an aggressive county poultry association which has been putting forth considerable effort for the promotion of the poultry industry here. County men, also, have been and now are serving in official capacities in national organizations and they will continue to work for the benefit of poultrymen and the entire industry.

Harry Bornmann, chairman of the egg show committee, was in charge of the meeting last week. He and the other officials will retain their positions on the egg show committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cox and Louise and Sandra Eckert returned on Wednesday of last week after a five-day trip into Michigan where they viewed the large cross at Indian River, crossed over the new Mackinac bridge. Check Sheep For Parasites

This is the time of year to treat sheep flocks for the control of internal parasites, which reduce sheepmen's profits, reminds Dr. T. M. Curtin, Purdue University extension veterinarian.

Sheep are susceptible to stomach worms, intestinal worms, tape worms and lung worms.

Animals become infested by swallowing parasitic eggs or larvae in pastures upon which infected sheep have grazed.

Since these pastures become "seeded" with eggs, rotational grazing should be practiced, Dr.
Curtin says. Pastures should be allowed to stand idle at least six months so that drying, sunlight and heat can kill eggs and larvae.

Phenothiazine can aid in reducing stomach worms, but is not an absolute cure or preventative. It can be administered one part phenothiazine to nine parts of fine salt. This mixture should be kept before the animals at all times and protected from the sun and rain. Dr. Curtin emphasises that this mixture should be avoided during breeding or gestation periods.

Ewes should be treated individually at least twice yearly.
Whenever lambs appear unthrif-ty they should also be treated.
Unthriftiness is one of the common signs of worms in lambs.

Suggestions and details for the control of worms in sheep are contained in Purdue mimeo AH 175, "Control Internal Parasites for Greater Profits from Sheep."
It is available without charge to Indiana residents by writing the agricultural publications office, Purdue, Lafayette.

New baby in the family? You want to get pictures? Don't get taken in by offers of "free" pictures contests or model-agency promotions. They seem to be cheap ways to get photos; they usually aren't.

For satisfaction:

—Patronize an established local photographer, or a legitimate traveling photographer who can give you references. Ask him for names of satisfied parents.

—Ask to see the license for transient salesmen, if your town or state requires one.

—Call the nearest Better Business Bureau or your local Chamber of Commerce if you have any doubts.

—Don't sign any paper unless you understand it thoroughly. You may find later that you signed a long-term contract or that you ordered an overpriced frame.

When parking your car for a picnic, says the Chicago Motor Club, don't park too close to the edge of an incline or a cliffside scenic view. Your brakes may not hold if your car is bumped by another parker, or if the earth beneath the wheels gives way. Also, avoid swampy areas when parking.

Feeder Cattle Numbers Down

The number of cattle and calves on feed in Indiana July 1 totaled 133,000, report state federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This is 26 percent smaller than a year ago and the seasonal decline from the 182,000 on feed April 1 was sharper than a year earlier.

Cattle on feed three months or longer numbered 100,000, 75 percent of the total. Cattle placed on feed during the April-June quarter were 34,000, compared to 44,000 during the same period of 1959 and the fewest for the quarter since reports began in 1954. Steers and steer calves made up about two thirds of the cattle on feed.

Marketings of fed cattle during the April-June quarter totaled 83,000, compared to 92,000 during the same period last year. Farmers indicate they will market 100,000 in the next three months. Twenty-eight of these will be sold in July, 36 percent in August and 36 percent in September, according to the statisticians.

Rations for heifers to be retained for breeding purposes should consist of forage, according to Purdue University animal scientists. When grain is fed it should make up not more than four pounds per day. After six months of age, heifers do not require grain.

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck...but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-wracking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day . . . make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevis are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

◀ "That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lugging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

BOOKLET ON SMALL GRAINS

Farmers making last minute decisions about what wheat, barley or oats to plant, will want to consult a recent Purdue bulletin—RB 691, "Small Grain Varieties for Indiana."

This bulletin, an annual publication, describes major varieties of oats, wheat, rye and barley, and recommends outstanding varieties for various soil, climatic and disease conditions. A useful table also lists the recommended grain varieties for each region of the state.

Results of performance trials throughout Indiana have indicated that Dual, Knox, LaPorte, Monon and Vermillion winter wheats are highly suitable in all regions of the state. When seeding must be delayed, however, farmers will want to consider planting Vermillion. This variety has displayed special hardiness under delayed seeding conditions.

Information about Norline and Dubois winter oats also appears in the bulletin. These two varieties are recommended for the southern half of Indiana and are considered acceptable for the northern half. With proper management to minimize winter killing, these winter oats will normally outyield spring oats in Indiana by about 50 percent.

For more information about these and other varieties, write for RB 691, "Small Grain Varieties for Indiana." Indiana residents may obtain a free copy from their county agents or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette. Requests should include both the number and the title of the publication.

Production Up In Indiana

Conditions as of August 1, indicate a 1960 apple crop of 1,580,000 bushels, four percent above last year, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

Production of Indiana peaches is estimated at 380,000 bushels, four percent more than last year and three percent above the 10-year average.

Grape crop prospects now indicate a crop of 1,480 tons compared with 1,350 tons produced in 1959.

Cabbage in Indiana is estimated at 300,000 hundredweight, an increase of 33 percent from last year.

Cantaloupe production is estimated at 216,000 hundredweight. This is 13 percent less than last year and 24 percent below average.

This year's production of 210,000 hundredweight, due mainly to increased acreage.

Indiana fresh market tomato production is estimated at 368,000 hundredweight. This is two percent above 1959 and 17 percent above average.

Watermelon acreage is expected to produce 950,000 hundredweight of melons this year. This production is six percent above last year's crop and five percent above average.

Peppermint oil production in Indiana is estimated at 174,000 pounds.

Spearmint oil production in the state is forecast at 156,000 pounds. This is 21 percent larger than last year but below the 10-year average.

TRAIN PULLETS TO LAY IN NESTS

Older hens, like older dogs, have difficulty learning new tricks. Poultrymen who have trouble getting their birds to lay in nests find it easier to train young pullets than to break older birds of the habit of laying on the floor.

By habit, chickens prefer to lay their eggs in the same spot, time after time, says Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman. If the first eggs are laid somewhere other than in a man-made nest, there is a tendency to keep on laying where the pullet wants instead of where her owner wants, Sicer points out.

Nests should be available to the flock several weeks before the first eggs are expected. This permits the pullets to become familiar with the nests before they are actually ready to lay. If pullets are still on range, nests of the same type to be used later in the laying house should be made available on the range. When pullets are in the laying house before production starts, all the nests that eventually are to be used should be in place. Thus, crowding does not occur as additional birds begin to produce. If crowded, the more timid pullets are inclined to lay on the floor.

Nests should be located so that layers need travel only a short distance to find them, preferably in a somewhat darkened area and not too high above the floor. Prompt collection of floor eggs helps discourage the practice.

Many poultrymen experience difficulty in getting hens to lay in wire bottom nests. One way of avoiding this problem, Sicer says, is to use nesting material in the nests until all birds in the flock are in production. The material can be removed gradually. Since the hens will use them even though they find the wire bottoms objectionable, the poultry specialist explains.

LICENSED TO WED

The following have been issued licenses to wed. The licenses were issued at Warsaw.

William Wade Whetstone, 18, of Mentone, chicken farm employee and Susanne Louise Knauer, 19, of Auburn, Indiana, a secretary.

Richard Lee Tombaugh, 22, of Mentone, a student in college and Phyllis Jean Cook, 21, of Bourbon, a food superintendent. They were married Saturday evening at Bourbon.

John Feldman and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stutzman went to Akron, Ohio, for a tour of the General Tire factory, Thursday and Friday. They made the trip with Richard Dickerhoff of the Dickerhoff Trucking Co.

Artley Cullum made a business trip to Winchester Tuesday afternoon. The trip was made by plane.

ART KIMBER TO EUROPE

Arthur C. Kimber, vice president for sales, Kimber Farms, Inc., Fremont, California, recently left for Brussels, Belgium to take charge of the company's European operations. The market potential for foundation breeding stock is so great and the many regulations concerned with international trade are so involved that Art Kimber decided to tackle this difficult job personally. Two other members of the Kimber staff have been carrying on the preliminary negotiations leading to the establishment of numerous European negotiations leading to the establishment of numerous European associate dealerships. Last spring 44,000 parent stock Kimberchiks valued at $58,000 were shipped to Gallina Blanca in Madrid and Barcelona, Spain. This was the largest air shipment ever made by Kimber Farms, the largest ever carried by TWA and KLM and the largest single shipment ever received by an European hatchery.

Kimber Farms, Inc., now has associate hatcheries located in Belgium, France, Switzerland, Spain, Italy and Greece.

Manwaring Leghorn Farms, Inc., Mentone, is the distributor for Kimberchiks in Northern Indiana and Western Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. Wymond Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Artley Cullum flew to Pelston, Michigan Wednesday afternoon where they visited a short while with the Tom Harman and Zanna Hammer families on Burt Lake.

Purdue University agricultural engineers suggest that corn raisers should plan now for corn harvest. If a major shift in methods is planned, such as shell-corn drying or high moisture storage, you'd better get out and talk to someone who's had experience with the system.

The Chicago Motor Club advises you not to overload the trunk of your car when packing for a vacation. Too much weight in the rear of the automobile affects the balance of the car and tends to point the headlights off the road.

August seedings of alfalfa will be more successful if wilt resistant, certified Ranger, Vernal or Buffalo varieties are used, say Purdue University agronomists. Buffalo is only recommended for southern Indiana. Vernal is the best variety of the three because of its superior winter hardiness, quick recovery after grazing and high yields.

WET PAVEMENTS ARE DANGEROUS

Streets and highways are slipperiest during the first part of a summer rain storm, according to Matthew C. Cielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"Rain water is only a part of the 'lubricant' that mixes on roads and makes them slippery during wet weather," he explained. "During dry weather, bits of rubber, loose dirt, and grease and oil drippings collect on the road, and when these are mixed by rain they become almost as slippery as ice."

Sielski added that a long hard rain will wash off the road, and after a half hour or so of a steady downpour driving conditions usually begin to improve.

"The time for a motorist to be especially careful is during the first 15 to 30 minutes of a summer shower," he said. "The best thing to do during a rain storm is to slow down and avoid sudden stops."

Are you one of the dairymen troubled with flies around the dairy barns? Purdue University dairymen say the best place to start eliminating the problem is to remove the breeding places of the flies. A good general clean-up of manure, scrap piles, places where water stands, and weed patches will help control flies.

Indiana Crop Prospects Good

Good crop prospects continued through July as weather conditions were favorable for nearly all crops, report state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University.

Corn prospects held steady, oats yielded better than expected, the record wheat yield of 33 bushels per acre was being realized and record high soybean yields are forecast based on August 1 conditions, say the statisticians.

Corn production is expected to total 345,177,000 bushels—three percent more than last year. An average yield of 63 bushels per acre is in prospect.

Wheat production is estimated at 42,240,000 bushels—29 percent above average. The state average yield of 33 bushels an acre is seven bushels above last year and 7.1 bushels above the 1949-58 average.

Soybeans now promise a yield of 26 bushels an acre, same as last year but 2.6 bushels above average. Total production is forecast at 62,946,000 bushels, nearly five percent above the 1959 crop and nearly three percent above the previous largest crop of 1958.

Oats production is forecast at 43,395,000 bushels, 35 percent above the 1959 crop by 12 percent below the 1-year average. A record yield of 55 bushels per acre is in the offing. Previous high yields were in 1955 and 1958 with averages of 51 bushels per acre.

Barley production at 1,855,000 bushels is 30 percent above last year. Rye production at 1,472,000 bushels exceeds last year's production by 25 percent.

This year's hay crop is placed at 2,197,000 tons. This compares with last year's 2,224,000 tons and the average of 2,658,000 tons.

Milk production during July at 315 million pounds is five percent below June 1960 and three percent below the same month last year.

Egg production during July amounted to 190 million eggs. This compares with 197 million eggs in June and 188 million eggs in July 1959.

Shade should be provided for animals during hot summer months, say veterinarians at Purdue University. Protection from intense heat and sunshine will enable animals to make faster, more economical gains than those that have no shade.

Clean and disinfect the laying house thoroughly before the new pullets are housed, advise poultrymen at Purdue University. This is your best opportunity to rid the house of a possible carry over of infectious disease agents.

Two applications of crabgrass control chemicals seven days apart can free the lawn of crabgrass, say agronomists at Purdue University. Weed killers can be mixed with these. Be sure that the soil is moist and lawn is growing before each application.

SETTING SPARK PLUG GAP

If you do any of your own tractor service work, you probably include cleaning and re-gapping of spark plugs as a 75-100 hour "must". Here are two pointers from engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company with regard to that important spark plug gap adjustment.

First, beware of a plug that requires much bending of the ground electrode for proper gap.
If it's more than .005 inches over specifications and has been used less than 100 hours, the trouble may be excessive electrode erosion due to incorrect heat range or too lean a mixture. (or it could also be due to inaccurate adjustment when the plug was installed.)

If you adjust gaps narrower than specification, you may have a rough idle, uneven power and possibly a more critical carburetor adjustment.

Too wide a gap may cause a miss at higher speed and load.

A final note from Champion—be sure the sparking surfaces of the electrodes are parallel, and have squared corners. A spark will jump the gap better from this type of surface than from a rounded surface.

WE HANDLE REMINGTON
TYPEWRITERS AND ADDING

THIS COULD HAPPEN TO YOU!

Farmer Jones was having trouble with his tractor. It seemed to be losing power and would miss under load. He put in a new set of spark plugs, but it didn't help one bit.

Finally, he checked everything he could think of and he had the engine gone over by his local dealer.

They found the trouble—a ball of lint in the gas tank, restricting the flow of fuel to the carburetor. It seems Farmer Jones used the gas tank as a convenient place to dip his rag when cleaning his oily and greasy hands. Each time a little lint would drop into the tank, and he finally had trouble.

⤴ A word to the wise!

COUNTERPOINT

By the Editor's Wife

We wonder if Dr. McFadden, in his days of training, ever anticipated just how "far beyond the call of duty" his career would go. (This bit of joshing may be lost to those who were not present at last Friday's wrestling matches.)

The editor and I went looking for wild plums during the windstorm Monday noon. Some friends had told us, about a week ago, that they would be ripe soon. It was fortunate that we went when we did, for the wind had brought a number of ripe red puckery plums to the ground.

There is an extra-special flavor to wild plum preserves. (The editor does not share my enthusiasm, however.) I wish that one could locate more of these nearly-extinct trees, and, somehow, encourage new growth.

The small car has had quite an impact on business. The oil, steel and rubber industries are suffering; finance companies, garages, and the used car market, likewise.

On the other hand, because many of these smaller cars use aluminum engines, the aluminum industry is stronger. Too, many families are now joining the "two-car-family" club.

On May 3, in the Indiana primary election, a total of 920,707 people voted. There were 2,290,914 voters registered. If you were one of those voters who stayed home, please do some serious thinking, and don't miss another such valuable opportunity.

At present, most of our government office holders are in office by a vote of the minority—not the majority.

Had an interesting visit with Dove Kercher Tuesday afternoon. She called several days ago to invite me to see her "overgrown" Castor Bean plant. We measured the plant and found it towers up there about eight feet. There are two large stems and two smaller ones, bearing countless huge leaves. One would be unable to encircle the large leaves with the arms. It is a very impressive sight.

Dove saved Zinnia seed from last year and broadcast it last spring. She has had a breathtaking display of color all summer, with some Marigolds and Whispy Cosmos here and there for contrast.

We enjoyed this: Two women were gossiping at the check-out counter. One said "I always say give a man enough rope and he'll hang himself."

"Oh, no, I don't agree," said the other. "I gave my husband enough rope and he skipped."

Attending State Fair School

Jeanine Witham, Atwood; Judith Hoffer, Warsaw; and Karen Freed, Silver Lake will be representing Kosciusko County at the State Fair Girls School of Home Economics from August 20 September 7.

The State Fair School is held each year to give young women of rural Indiana an opportunity to receive special training in many phases of home making and community building.

Three girls are elected from each county each year to attend this school. The representatives in this county are selected by a committee who examines the letters, recommendations and records of the candidates. Jeanine and Judith are sponsored by the Kosciusko Home Demonstration Council and Karen Freed by the County Farm Bureau organization.

Miss Ora Kempenich International Farm Youth Exchange student from Israel who has been living with the Gerald Ballengers and Robert Merkles in the County will also be attending the school. The arrangements for the girls are being cared by Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent.

WE REPEAT . . .

Several months ago your editor wrote an editorial expressing his opinion of the dangers our farmer friends expose themselves to when they drive a farm tractor on the highway at night with a white light only at the rear. Last week a young farmer in a neighboring county lost his life merely because he had nothing but a white light glaring rearward, confusing the oncoming motorist. These may not have been the full contributing factors in this case, but I know personally how I once nearly left the highway on the right to meet a supposedly approaching vehicle only to suddenly realize the "approaching vehicle" was a farm tractor going my way on my side of the roadway.

No other vehicle is permitted on our highways with anything else than a red light to the rear, and a farm vehicle should be no exception.

This is not a complaint directed at our farm friends, but is an effort to protect them as well as other people upon the highways.

A tractor in the field has a definite need for a white light to the rear, and if the white light is used on the highway, it should be directed on the piece of trailing equipment and not so it blinds someone approaching from the rear.

For the safety of all on the highway, let there be at least one red light on the rear of the tractor when it is upon the highway after dark.

NEW SIDEWALK AT METHODIST CHURCH

A number of the male members of the Methodist church were plenty busy Tuesday as they constructed a new sidewalk in front of the church.

During the course of years, as Main street has been given additional layers of asphalt, the curb line was getting lower than the street. The sidewalk was raised to again have a curb.

Life Span Of Fence Posts

Years ago fence posts lasted longer than they do now. The reason, according to E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester, is that "old timers" split their rails and posts from old trees which had a high percentage of heartwood (hard, central part of the trunk.)

The durability of posts, Lott says, depends a lot on the percentage of heartwood they contain. The more heartwood, the longer the posts last. Posts made of Osage orange, for example, may last 40 years or more. Black Locust posts often last 30 to 35 years. Red Cedar and Mulberry last from 25 to 30 years and White Cedar, Catalpa and White Oak last from 12 to 20 years.

Heartwood doesn't increase durability, however, when it comes to posts treated with preservatives, according to Lott. In fact, just the opposite is true. Posts and timbers with wide bands of "sapwood" (soft, fast-growing wood) absorb larger quantities of preservatives than those with much heartwood.

Well-seasoned sap pine posts or any native sap woods, with bark removed, are satisfactory, he points out, and can increase durability from 25 to 30 years. Such treatments force chemicals into the wood under pressure.

Cold soaking treatments can increase the life of posts from 15 to 20 years, according to Lott. Posts which are to be cold soaked should be peeled first and properly seasoned.

If additional information is desired, Lott suggests that farmers write to the forestry department at Purdue for extension leaflets 300 "Preserve Your Posts With Penta" and extension bulletin 283 (revised) "How to Select Wooden Fence Posts."

Testing Program Very Successful

Since the enactment of the Brucellosis Eradication Program by the Indiana General Assembly in 1951, 157,000 herd samples representing 1,720,000 cattle have been tested.

Dr. F. A. Hall, extension veterinarian at Purdue University, says the infection rate in 1951 was 20 percent of the herds in Indiana representing six percent of the cattle. This represented a cost to the livestock industry of $2,400,000 annually.

Since 1951 the infection rate has been reduced from six to one percent resulting in an estimated savings to the livestock industry of $2,000,000 per year in Indiana.

Those in charge of the eradication program report only six herds remain to be tested in Indiana today—three herds in Gibson county, one in Hamilton, one in Monroe and one in Scott.

The cost in state, county and federal funds since 1951 for the eradication program has been approximately $5,500,000.

Dr. Hall says a farmer buying a cow at a sale barn in 1951 had one chance in ten of buying an infected cow. Now the chance is one in 20. Sale barn tests alone have taken over 10,000 infected cows out of circulation since 1951. An additional 78,000 infected cows were removed in the area testing program.

In the ring testing program 5,046 herd samples were run disclosing one percent suspicious herds.

Up to date 600,000 calfhood vaccinations have been recorded.

"Best of all," says Dr. Hall, "people suffering from undulant fever (the human form of brucellosis) has declined to almost nothing today as compared with what it was in 1951."

Hints On Picking Pears

Pick pears while the fruit is still very firm and just beginning to turn a yellowish-green color, recommends Jerome Hull Jr., Purdue University extension pomologist. You will obtain better quality by allowing the hard mature fruit to ripen off the tree, he explains.

Fruit permitted to turn yellow on the tree will often contain many grit cells giving the fruit a coarse lumpy texture. Also pears that ripen to the soft stage on the tree are more likely to develop brown core. This brown color that develops inside the fruit indicates the fruit is over ripe.

Pears will ripen and develop their best flavor if stored at 65-75 F. Hard mature pears stored at 32-40 F will keep several weeks. A few days before you plan to use the fruit, remove it from the refrigerator and allow it to ripen at room temperature.

Pears must be used as soon as they are ripe. There is a very short period between ripeness and the point where pears begin to lose quality.

YOUTH DROWNS WHILE FISHING

Funeral services will be conducted at two p. m. Friday at the Olive Bethel Church of God for Larry Kindig, 19, of near Akron, who drowned Tuesday evening.

The boy and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kindig, were fishing on Mud or Barr Lake 4 miles northwest of Akron when the tragedy occurred at 6:20 p. m.

The youth, who was crippled and his parents were fishing in a small rowboat. Mrs. Kindig, who was sitting in the bow of the boat, shifted her weight at the boat to get a different position, causing the boat to capsize.

Mrs. Kindig grabbed onto the boat and Kindig grabbed hold of the boat with one hand and his son, by the tee shirt which the son was wearing, with the other.

Harold Vandoren, B. B. of Akron, and George Smith of the same area, who were fishing nearby rushed to help the family.

As Vandoren reached the scene the father, who was badly exhausted from trying to hold onto the boat and his son, both, was going under the water's surface. Vandoren grabbed frantically and caught hold of the father's hair. At the same instant the father lost his grip on his son.

Vandoren managed to get the struggling father into the boat. Smith in the meantime had taken the mother into his boat.

The two boats carrying the panic-stricken parents went to shore, and Vandoren ran to telephone for help. The youth was found about an hour later and artificial respiration failed to revive him.

Tractor Talk

FUEL MIXTURE TOO RICH OR TOO LEAN CAN CAUSE TROUBLE

If you're one of those farmers who believe that enriching the fuel mixture on your tractor increases power, better change your ways, advise service engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company.

Actual dynamometer tests prove that an excessively rich fuel mixture does not increase power. As a matter of fact, power actually is lost, and in addition to higher fuel bills, the over rich mixture will increase maintenance cost considerably as a result of carbon deposits, gum fouled spark plugs and oil dilution.

Tests also prove that too lean a mixture won't lower fuel bills either, since leaning out the mixture merely results in rapid power loss. Also, the lean mixture probably will result in higher valve temperatures which reduce valve life considerably.

Swine Day Feeding Reports

Purdue University swine nutritionists report that growing pigs fed a 16 percent protein ration gained more than 50 percent faster than those receiving 12 percent protein.

This was one of a half dozen research reports presented at Purdue's 40th annual Swine Day.

One report dealt with feeding two new antibiotics, spiramycin and tylosin. Purdue experiments show that gains were increased 17 percent by spiramycin and 10 percent by tylosin.

Reporting on the protein level experiment, J. H. Conrad, Purdue animal scientist, told the swine raisers that pigs fed a 12 percent protein ration and they weighed 100 pounds and a 16 percent protein ration thereafter gained at the rate of less than a pound a day for the 91 day experimental period.

During the same period pigs fed a 16 percent protein ration, to 100 pounds however, and then a 13 percent protein ration gained 1 1/2 pounds daily, Conrad said. This is a difference of 50 percent in favor of the higher protein ration.

Half of the pigs in the experiment received arsenic acid in their ration, Conrad said, and the addition of the arsenic acid increased gains four percent and resulted in a 3.5 percent improvement in feed efficiency.

Results of the experiment with the two new antibiotics, conducted by W. M. Beeson, head of animal nutrition work at Purdue; D. M. Hendricks and Conrad, showed:

Pigs receiving 40 grams of spiramycin per ton of feed to 100 pounds liveweight and 20 grams thereafter gained 1.63 pounds a day, compared to 1.37 pounds a day for pigs receiving none.

Pigs fed 40 grams of tylosin per ton of feed to 100 pounds liveweight and 20 grams thereafter gained 1.54 pounds a day, compared to 1.37 pounds a day for pigs receiving none.

A 2.5 percent saving in feed resulted. Both treatments resulted in gain.

TEACH SAFETY TO CHILDREN

As thousands of youngsters prepare to attend school for the first time in their young lives, the Chicago Motor Club urges parents to do their part in seeing to it that their youngsters get to and from school safely.

J. J. Cavanagh, president of the motor club, noted that "one of the most important things parents can do to prepare their children for the school year

THESE WOMEN!

By d'Alessio

"Madam, thank you for your views on capital punishment, but this is a simple case of illegal parking!"

to make certain that the youngsters are traveling to and from their destination over the safest route possible."

For properly urged parents to plan their children's school route, and in the case of youngsters starting school for the first time, suggested that a parent walk the child to and from school for the first few weeks.

The motor club also advised parents to emphasize the following safety tips to their youngsters:

When crossing a street, stay within painted crosswalk lines. Never cross in the middle of the block.

—Watch traffic signals at all times. Make certain you have the green light before starting across the street.

—Always obey policemen, School Safety Patrol members, and adult crossing guard.

—Be calm while crossing a street. Walk, don't run.

The Chicago Motor Club urges that motorists respect the cleanliness of our roads and streets by refraining from throwing litter from moving cars. Carelessly thrown litter not only mars the beauty of the countryside, but also adds to the cost of highway maintenance.

TOMBAUGH-COOK NUPTIALS IN BOURBON METHODIST CHURCH

MRS. RICHARD TOMBAUGH

A gown of white silk taffeta and re-embroidered Alencon lace was worn by Miss Phyllis Jean Cook when she became the bride of Richard Lee Tombaugh in a candlelight ceremony at the Bourbon Methodist church Saturday evening, August 20, at half-past seven o'clock. Approximately 250 guests were present. —(Photo by Nelson Cook.)

Rev. Garfield Steedman, of the Union City Methodist church, conducted the rite with the assistance of Rev. G. Edward Alley, pastor of the Bourbon church. Triangular arrangements of white carnations and foliage graced the altar table. Miss Joy Strouse, of Decatur, and Miss Arlene Beihold, of Hoagland, were candlelighters.

Mrs. Jonathan Marshall, of Bourbon, presented a 40 minute organ recital preceding the double ring rites. Miss Cynthia Petty, of West Lafayette, sang two selections, "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Miss Delores Cook, sister of the bride, as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson M. Cook, of Bourbon. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh, of Mentone, are the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. Cook gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was fashioned with an Empire bodice of lace featuring a scalloped scoop neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. A back panel accented the very full taffeta skirt which swept into a chapel train. Her cascade bouquet was composed of white carnations, American Beauty roses, ivy and net.

Miss Delores Cook was maid of honor in an American Beauty rose colored gown of silk faille. The bodice was styled with wide square neckline and surplice pleats. A contoured cummerbund, trimmed with silk roses, topped the bouffant skirt. In her hair she wore a halo of small roses and ferns. She carried a lighted white candle in a nosegay of ribbon loops shading from pink to deep rose.

Peau de soie gowns matching the honor attendant's in color and design were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Jan Lafuze, of Liberty, Ind., a sorority sister of the bride, and Mrs. James Cumberland, of Bourbon. They also carried candles and ribbon nosegays. The flower girl, Miss Sharon Beihold, four-year-old cousin of the bride, appeared in a pink nylon organdy frock with a halo of tiny pink roses. Kim Horn, of Warsaw, was ring bearer.

Jon Cullum, of Indianapolis, served as best man. The ushers included James Siegfried, of Frankfort, David Puterbaugh, of South Bend, and Edward Meleson, of Dayton, Ohio.

Appointments for the reception in the church social rooms were in pink and white. Mrs. Clyde E. Berkeypile and Mrs. E. Stanley Hennon, of Bourbon were assisted by Mrs. Marvin Heckaman, Mrs. Harold Linn and Mrs. Harry E. Lemler. Mrs. John Flory, of Warsaw, Miss Judy Hunt, of South Bend, and Mrs. Larry Haney, of Milford served the guests. Kent Hennon presented marimba music during the reception.

As Mr. Tombaugh and his bride departed for a short southern wedding tour she was wearing a two-piece printed daron dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Both young people received degrees from Purdue University in June. Mr. Tombaugh was affiliated with the Reamer club, Alpha Phi Omega and Kappa Delta Pi. His bride was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, and Kappa Delta Pi and Omicron Nu, honoraries.

Mr. and Mrs. Tombaugh will reside in West Lafayette. He will be a graduate student and member of the Purdue staff.

The wedding party was entertained at a rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at Horn's restaurant by the bridegroom's parents.

The lane straddler, says the Chicago Motor Club, is a major cause of driver annoyance. Lane markings are on the road for a definite purpose and the good driver always uses the right lane except when passing.

Purdue State Fair Exhibit

Purdue University's building at the Indiana State Fair this year will again feature campus-wide exhibits.

Howard Knaus and F. E. Van-Pelt, Purdue visual aid specialists, have announced that 22 different exhibits will be on display, August 31-September 8.

From a booth at the entrance of the Purdue building literature on admissions and enrollment will be distributed. The staff of this booth also will answer questions about the university.

Exhibits include rural health, home economics, horticulture, animal science, poultry, physics, agronomy, entomology, agricultural engineering, soil conservation, forestry, the English department, engineering, dairy, veterinary, botany, turf, agriculture school and the farm cardiac program.

The 4-H exhibit will include demonstrations of tractor safety, foods and crafts.

A landscaped patio will form the center of the Purdue building.

Park benches on which people may rest, will be located throughout the exhibit area.

SCHOOL BUS SAFETY RULES

Now that yellow school buses soon will be rolling over Hoosier highways again, drivers should be thoroughly familiar with regulations covering their conduct, reminds F. R. Willsey, Purdue University safety specialist.

The buses are painted yellow in order that they will be more conspicuous on the thoroughfares.

Willsey points out that special precautions should be taken when there is a chance the school bus will be stopped out of view of the motorist because of a hill, curve, fog or rain.

Motorists are required, except on multiple-lane highways divided by a strip 20 feet or more wide, to come to a full stop at least 10 feet to the front or rear of the bus which is loading or unloading children, depending on the direction the motorist is traveling.

On such multiple-lane highways motorists need not stop if the school bus is halted on the opposite side, but should proceed with caution, Willsey says.

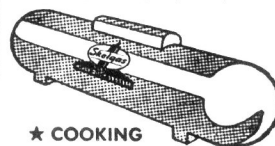

The safety specialist suggests that courtesy on the part of everyone will help prevent emergency situations involving children, school buses and motorists.

Parents can be helpful by having children ready in plenty of time to board the bus. Bus drivers can aid by signaling intention to stop well in advance of the actual halt. And motorists should plan their travel schedules so that a slight delay because of school buses will not make them late.
